Grains Make Comeback On U. S. Markets

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—A late rally pulled some grains out of their price slump today in a session that held mostly bad news for consumers.

The government reported that the nation's meat-on-the-hoof supply is the lowest since 1939. This news caused a temporary slump in grains. Prices rallied later, however, on trade reports that unfavorable weather was endangering the new wheat crop in the southwest.

The most cheerful note for the housewife's food budget was the weakness in butter prices, both in the wholesale markets and on the Chicago Merchantile exchange. Wholesale butter declined ½ to 1½ cents a pound in Chicago and 1 to 2 cents in New York.

Butter Buying Cautious

On the Chicago exchange, where butter is sold for future delivery, prices broke as much as 2½ cents.

Butter trade sources said favorable weather for pasture growth and lower grain fed prices indicated that butter production is due to spurt soon. As a result, many merchants are accumulating only the supplies they need for immediate requirements. This is depressing wholesale prices.

However, chains in New York City announced that retail butter prices would take a four cent jump tomorrow to 89 cents a pound.

Leading stocks on the New York exchange drifted slightly lower in the slowest session this year. A late rally in cotton moved New York prices from 40 cents to $1 a bale higher.

Wholesale Meat Declines

At the Chicago stockyards, hog prices dipped as much as 25 cents a hundred pounds. Cattle prices were steady to 50 cents a hundredweight higher with lambs a little lower.

Wholesale meat values in New York sagged around $2 a hundred pounds but pork, beef and veal held steady in the Chicago market.

The Associated Press wholesale price index of 35 basic commodities declined a small fraction of a point to 187.03, compared with 204.71 a month ago and 170.99 a year ago.

Livestock Decreases

The department of agriculture reported at Washington that the number of live cattle, hogs, sheep, chickens and turkey in the U. S. declined during 1947. On Jan. 1, the number of animals was 4 per cent below a year earlier and 16 per cent below Jan. 1, 1944.

The decrease of 2,643,000 head of cattle during the year was one of the largest reductions ever

Indictment Against Capone Gang Dropped

Clark To Appear In Hearing On Paroles

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 18—Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) announced today he will call Attorney General Tom Clark as a witness before Hoffman's subcommittee investigating the paroles of four former Capone gangsters.

"We want to ask him on what team he's playing," Hoffman said.

Both the subcommittee chairman and Rep. Busbey (R-Ill) declared at today's hearing that the FBI, a branch of the Department of Justice, "constantly thwarted" efforts of the committee to get the full FBI report on the paroles.

Hoffman said the committee also received today evidence that the gangsters would not have been paroled had not the attorney General's department withdrawn a second indictment against them.

Reporter Testifies

This testimony was given by James Doherty, a Chicago Tribune reporter who for 30 years has written crime news and chronicled the development and collapse of the Scarface Al Capone gang.

Doherty was invited by the committee to tell of his investigation of the paroles of Louis (Little New York) Campagna, Philip D'Andrea, Paul (The Waiter) Ricca and Charles (Cherry Nose) Gioe after having served a third of their ten-year terms.

In Washington, the Justice department said the dismissal of the second indictment followed "long established policy and practice" on indictments "growing out of a common set of facts."

Action Explained

Peyton Ford, assistant to the attorney general, told a reporter that with two indictments returned, one under the anti-racketeering law and the other alleging mail fraud, the government elected to try the anti-racket case first. This, he said, was because that offense carries double the penalty of the mail fraud law—that is, $10,000 fine and 10 years im-

Farmer Dies Of Wreck Injuries

Funeral services for R. E. Williamson, 47, farmer of east of Lubbock, who died about 8 a. m. Wednesday from injuries received when his car collided with an oil tank truck a few hours earlier, will be conducted Friday in Cumberland Presbyterian church, Tenth and Ave. O. Rev. Brown C. Welch, pastor of the church, will officiate.

Williamson suffered head injuries, injury to the left hip and internal injuries in the collision, which occurred about 1.15 a. m. Wednesday 2.4 miles east of Lubbock. He was taken to West Texas hospital where he died a few hours later.

Wreck Is Described

The fatal accident occurred as Williamson, driving a 1942 model light-weight car, collided with the semi-trailer of a Gulf Oil corporation truck driven by Woodrow Wilson Cunningham, 35, of Sweetwater. The truck tank was empty.

Cunningham was driving toward Lubbock. He told investigating officers that he saw the approaching car pulling toward him and he began to go off the highway. The transport truck was about half off the pavement when the collisian occurred and the car had turned at such an angle that he struck almost straight into the side of the semi-trailer, said a highway patrolman.

Two tandem wheels on the left side of the truck were knocked completely out from the semi-trailer. The semi-trailer has four tires on each side. The car bounced back when the collision occurred. The car was described as completely demolished. A Sanders Funeral home ambulance was called from the Kenneth Bozeman home, near where the accident occurred.

Highway patrolmen, piecing together details of the accident and learning that Williamson lived on the Acuff road and had gone about 400 yards past that road, said possibly Williamson planned to turn

Amarillo Police Patrolmen Are Named In Burglary Counts

AMARILLO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Joint complaints filed here today charged Max Lenaburg, 22, and William M. Inglis, 30, with burglary. Until their arrest yesterday they were Amarillo police patrolmen.

One count involves the theft of automobile accessories from a warehouse. The other accuses the men of breaking into a ready-to-wear store where several hundred dollars in cash was taken.

DAVIS NOMINATED

Jester Asked To Drop Civil Rights Stand

AUSTIN, Feb. 18 (AP)—A veterans' group at the University of Texas today urged Gov. Beauford H. Jester to withdraw his opposition to Pres, Truman's civil rights program.

"We know of no occasion when you have received a mandate from the people of Texas to oppose the granting of civil rights to any group," the university chapter of the American Veterans committee said in a letter to the governor.

The letter was signed by Jake Sorrels, jr., of Abilene, chapter chairman.

Pres. Truman's civil rights program calls for federal anti-poll tax, anti-lynching and fair employment practices commission laws and abolition of segregation of minority groups.

De Valera Ousted From Eire Post

By ROBERT HEWETT
Associated Press Staff Writer

DUBLIN, Eire, Feb. 18—Eamon De Valera's strongly nationalist rule of Eire ended today after 16 years.

In his place stepped John A. Costello, 56-year-old Dublin lawyer, who immediately announced the formation of an oddly assorted government of five parties and independents.

New York-born De Valera's Fianna Fail (Soldiers of Destiny) party lost its parliamentary majority in general elections early this month. When the deputies of the 13th Dail (parliament) met today they voted 75 to 70 against his re-election as prime minister. He got only four votes outside his own party.

Unity To Be Urged

The gaunt, bespectacled De Valera thus was forced out of the driver's seat for the first time since 1932.

Silver-haired Costello, who like De Valera has a background in the Irish revolution, then was elected premier 75 to 68.

A leader in the Fine Gael (United Irish) party, second largest in Ireland, he became Eire's third premier and head of its first coalition government.

OUTSIDE INFLUENCE BLAMED

State Board To Retain Head Of Deaf School Despite Protests

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18—The State Board of Control today announced its decision to retain State School for The Deaf Supt. Roger M. Powell, target of recent student uprisings.

In a formal report of its investigations at the school following a student strike demanding Powell's removal last Nov. 24 the board today declared that in its opinion "the removal of the present superintendent at this time would not solve the problem."

The board's report said it had been established that "outside influence" has incited the students in the past in disturbances at the school.

A student petition to the governor complaining of conditions at the school was said to bear "a distinct similarity" to an article in the Southwest Deaf News, a private publication. The board said it was planning to employ an advisor from among the best recognized authorities for the education for the deaf to study conditions at the school when the strike occurred.

"Without complete tranquillity at the school . . . It would be a waste of funds and a futile effort

Mysterious 'Ball Of Fire' Explodes

Brilliant Explosion Is Seen In Six States

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 18—A brilliant explosion high in the air was seen over a six-state area today causing numerous searches for crashed aircraft.

Civil aeronautics officials and astronomers expressed the opinion the explosive flash came from a meteor. It was seen in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, Nebraska and New Mexico.

At Norton, Kas., C. L. Jacoby, newspaper editor, said the explosion rattled windows in a 35-mile area in the northwest part of the state and brought a flood of telephone calls from excited residents. One wanted to know "if we are still at peace."

The Oklahoma highway patrol first reported a plane had crashed near Enid and the CAA control tower in Kansas City said it had received numerous reports of flaming plane crashes. All proved groundless and were attributed to the "ball of fire" that streaked across the sky. Some observers said there was a large white cloud for an hour after the blast. Jacoby placed the time of the explosion at 4:50 p. m. (CST).

Ben Hendricks, manager of the Norton airport, estimated the object was 20,000 feet high when it disintegrated.

Dr. Oliver C. Collins, professor of astronomy at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, said "it might well have been a meteor."

Residents of Norcatur, Kas., said the explosion "was directly overhead."

Ranchers near Higgins, Tex., and Shattuck, Okla., searched the surrounding hills when they saw a fiery body plunge toward the earth. They found no wreckage.

Officials of Chamberlin observatory at the University of Denver said they could offer no explanation for reports of a "ball of fire" seen in the sky tonight.

Airport manager Merlyn Kemph of Buffalo, Okla., launched a five-plane search of the alleged crash

ANTI-COMMUNIST MOVE PLANNED

Truman Asks $570 Million For Economic Aid To China

BY ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—President Truman asked Congress today for $570,000,000 to give the Chinese government a chance to stave off economic collapse.

But only Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government itself, now fighting a civil war against Chinese Communists, can do what must be done to bring recovery, the President said.

No Military Aid

He told Congress in a 1,200-word message:

"Nothing which this country provides by way of assistance can, even in a small measure, be a substitute for the necessary action that can be taken only by the Chinese government."

And although he referred to "continued obstruction and destruction" by Communist forces, he did not propose any military aid for Chiang Kai-Shek.

This was in direct contract to his stand on Greece and Turkey. He told Congress last Monday he would ask more military aid to strengthen both countries against Communism.

Stable China Important

Mr. Truman's new foreign aid move came 24 hours after the Senate Foreign Relations committee formally recommended $5,300,000,000 for the first 12 months of a four-year European recovery program.

The President said in his new message that a stable China was important "to lasting peace in the Pacific and the entire world."

He proposed that the $570,000,000, to last until June 30, 1949, will include:

$510,000,000 in loans and grants for such imports as cereals, cotton, petroleum, fertilizer, tobacco, medical drugs, coal and machinery repair parts.

Body Of Recluse Is Found In Swanky, Junk-Laden Home

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18—Discovery of the body of a once-beautiful woman in her swanky but junk-crammed apartment brought to light today a legend rivaling that of the fabulous Collyer brothers.

The body of Mary Warner Fowler, 52, was found last night on the bathroom floor of her $150-a-month apartment off Riverside drive at 95th street. Police broke into the apartment after being called by neighbors. She had been dead at least a week.

Residents of the building, who remembered Miss Fowler when she was a beautiful young girl, said she went into seclusion 22 years ago at the death of her mother. She had a telephone but no electric lights.

She left her apartment only a few times a year, they said, and would open her door only part way to let delivery boys push packages inside. She was reported to have ordered great quantities of food at a time and sometimes huge amounts of candy, paying for them with crisp, new bills.

Police found a collection of debris in the apartment rivaling the piles in the upper Manhattan home of Homer and Langley Collyer. The brothers were found dead in their house last year.

'National Citation' Is Awarded President Truman By Conference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—President Truman received a "national citation" today which said he holds "moral principle to be above all other considerations."

The award was made by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Robert P. Patterson, former Secretary of War, said in a speech prepared for the White House ceremony that Mr. Truman has qualified on several counts.

By encouraging "causes of religious significance;" by "the forward steps toward brotherhood" in reports from his commissions of civil rights, education and atomic energy; and by upholding "spiritual values" in international councils.

INDICTED IN FIRE

FREDERICKSBURG, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Gillespie county grand jury today indicted William Doyle Biddy of Lampasas, Tex., on a charge of arson in the fire at a dance hall here in which four persons burned to death. The Seipp dance hall burned here Christmas night. Biddy, a seaman, has been held in jail here since shortly after the fire. District Attorney Roscoe Runge said Biddy's trial may be held here next week.

Criminal Aliens Said Entering At Detroit

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Rep. McDowell (R-Pa) said today either the immigration service or Congress will have to "slam the door" against large numbers of Communist, Fascist and criminal aliens slipping into the country at Detroit.

McDowell told reporters more of them are sneaking through the immigration cordon at Detroit than anywhere along the borders.

"I have been hearing for some time," he said, "that they have been coming through thick and fast. I understand that some commies have come through in busloads."

The Pennsylvanian is chairman of a House unAmerican Activities subcommittee on Fascism. Before the subcommittee today as a "friendly witness" was Francis Langthorne, immigration inspector in the tunnel connecting Detroit and Windsor, Ont.

Murray Announces Candidacy For Railroad Commission Position

AUSTIN, Feb. 18 (AP) — William J. (Bill) Murray, railroad Commission member, today announced his candidacy for election to the office in this year's elections.

He was appointed to the post by Gov. Beauford H. Jester as his successor after Jester resigned to become governor.

"I want to be judged on my record as a member of the commission during the past year," Murray said. "Meanwhile, my campaign will be in the hands of my friends."

Higher Crude Allowable Set

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Feb. 18—The Railroad commission today issued a March oil order designed to provide 2,400,923 barrels of crude daily. No change was made in net allowables, except in the East Texas field. The allowable was increased there by raising the field from 20 producing days this month to 22 in March.

The commission set a net allowable of 2,560,985 barrels daily for the state, up 8,817 barrels per day above that of Saturday, Feb. 14.

Pressure Increases

Underproduction for March was estimated at 160,062 barrels to arrive at the expected actual flow of 2,400,923 barrels per day.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of daily market demand for Texas crude next month is 2,400,000 barrels. Production of 313,184 barrels of natural gasoline and distillate will boost total Texas output to 2,614,107 barrels, 314,107 barrels per day more than the bureau of mines estimate.

Impressed by the January gain of 3.02 points per square inch in the weighted average bottomhole pressure of the field last month, producers, purchasers and the commission agreed on 22 days for March.

Some Doubt Felt

Commissioner Olin Culberson said this will increase the flow of East Texas crude 8,817 barrels per day over the present figure of 317,066.

Though the commission unanimously approved the greater number of producing days. Commissioner William J. (Bill) Murray cast his vote with some reservations.

"I do not feel that if 22 days prove too much in March we could rectify the situation in April," he said, adding that the increased production might best be used to "help the heating oil situation—even if we have to drive our cars less next summer."

Production To Be Hiked

"I don't think 8,817 barrels more per day is going to hurt the field," Culberson observed.

"The point is, we don't yet know what February is doing to "bot-

Floods Threaten Southern Areas

(By The Associated Press)

As veteran flood-fighters worked steadily sandbagging levies on the Yazoo River around Greenwood, Miss., waters rose to a dangerous high.

Convict labor and equipment were brought in from other areas to aid local forces.

The situation is becoming increasingly serious with the flood crest moving downstream, the Vicksburg corps of engineers reported late Wednesday.

Other Areas In Danger

The flood crest on the Tombigbee river, which passed Columbus, Miss, Monday night, is surging toward the Alabama line, with Demopolis, Ala. in the path.

The Cumberland river at Carthage, Tenn., is down 2.8 feet but is still above flood stage at Nashville, where it is expected to reach a crest Thursday or Friday.

West Tennessee is expecting a "slight flooding" next week along the Mississippi.

However, U. S. engineers at New Orleans, said only the normal spring rise is expected generally on the rivers of the Mississippi valley this year.

Senate Seeks Budget Slash

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 — The Senate voted today to try to hold federal spending to $37,200,000,000 during the fiscal year starting July 1.

This is $2,500,000,000 less than President Truman recommended. The chief executive has said efforts of Republicans to trim his budget will get exactly no place.

Passage of the resolution to limit spending was by voice vote with fewer than a score of senators in the chamber. Adoption sent it to the House.

The proposed $37,200,000,000 ceiling is only a target to shoot at. It binds neither Congress nor the President.

During the brief debate on the resolution, Senator George (D-Ga) came up with a proposal that the United States finance all its foreign aid programs during the next few years by selling special bonds.

The Georgian suggested that the government issue bonds for "winning the peace as we did for winning the war."

Bonds To Be Tax Exempt

What he has in mind, George told the Senate, is a bond issue amounting to 20 or 25 billion dollars, to mature in 20 or 25 years.

He said the bonds should be tax exempt and pay modest interest.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters his "off-hand" reaction was that it would not be best to finance foreign aid through bonds. But he said George's proposal "ought to be considered" and that "there might be an argument for it."

The budget ceiling resolution says also that a $2,600,000,000 payment on the national debt should be made during the next fiscal year.

Auto Workers Ask 30-Cent Wage Boost

DETROIT, Feb. 18 (AP)—The CIO United Auto workers launched their 1948 wage drive today by formally demanding a flat 30-cent hourly raise and other benefits for 70,000 Chrysler Corp. employes.

The demands were handed Chrysler in a letter requesting reopening of the two-year company-union contract. Although the pact has another year to run, it can be reopened once anytime on economic issues by etiher party.

Chrysler acknowledged receipt of the demands but declined comment at this time.

Reds Claimed Using Group

By MORGAN REYNOLDS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—Stung by Bronx cheers and rebel yells, Democratic national chairman J. Howard McGrath tonight issued a virtual appeal for abandonment of the third party drive headed by Henry A. Wallace.

On the eve of the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner here, meanwhile, a new threat to party harmony arose.

A group of South Carolina Democrats cancelled plans to attend the fund raising festivities because of a "no segregation" policy. Gov. and Mrs. Storm Thurmond and Senator and Mrs. Olin D. Johnston headed the list of scheduled absentees.

McGrath Warns Demos

McGrath made his appeal in a radio address after warning Democratic adherents they must intensify their efforts to get out the Truman vote for the fall showdown. This warning resulted from the victory of a Wallace man in a Bronx, N. Y., congressional race.

This is what the national Democratic chairman said about Wallace:

"I believe that Henry Wallace is sincere when he says he wants peace and prosperity. I believe that some of his followers are sincere in their belief that support of Henry Wallace is the way to realize their ideals in government.

Wallace Followers Scored

"But the fact that the loudest applause for Henry Wallace comes from Communists, Communist fellow travelers and reactionary Republicans causes me to believe that the bulk of Henry Wallace's support is coming from those whose basic allegiance is not to the American way of life.

"I hope that Henry Wallace will realize that unscrupulous forces who look to Moscow for inspiration and guidance see in his candidacy a chance to disrupt the normal activities of our two-party system and bring about the chaos and confusion of splinter parties that has sent so many nations of Europe into governmental collapse.

U. S. Stand On Palestine Set

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The government has just about decided what its next move will be in the United Nations on the hot issue of Palestine, Secretary of State Marshall disclosed today. But he carefully refrained from saying what the move would be.

The statement was made while reports of new violence came from Palestine. Several American members of the United Jewish Appeal delegation, including three women, were fired upon today while entering Haifa in two armored buses.

Statement Planned

The American position on the Palestine issue will be stated in the Security Council next Tuesday. Presumably the views expressed then will deal with the critical question of how to enforce the UN decision to divide Palestine between Arabs and Jews.

Marshall told a news conference that instructions are being prepared for the U. S. delegates.

What the United Nations does, he said, will be of vast importance to its effectiveness as a world peace organization. But he declared he does not think that on this or any other issue UN could be killed off in a single blow.

Special Force Is Issue

The issue of enforcement is up because a special UN commission reported last weekend that security measures are necessary.

The United Nations Assembly last November voted partition of the Holy Land hoping to end the Jewish-Arab dispute over it. No provision was made to back up the decision with police measures.

Plans For Mass Production Of Homes At Lower Costs Offered

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche Staff Writer

Well-built small homes, with great savings in time, labor and costs of construction materials are possible if the full cooperation of manufacturers and dealers in the building industries can be secured.

This theory was advanced last night at Hilton hotel by Lynn Boyd, ex-president of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas, speaking before more than 300 lumber dealers of the association and representatives of the National Retail Dealers association.

Known as the Industry Engineered Homes program of 1948, the plan advocated by Boyd would cut the price of small homes through mass production of standard building parts, preassembled packaged parts, planning of buildings to use standardized parts and coordination of the building industries.

Under the proposed program, architectural plans would be produced in bulk, with the plans drawn in such a way that the house would fit the dimensions of the materials used in construction. This would not only save large amounts of material which ordinarily becomes scrap, but

New Book Tells Story Of Anson Jones, Texas' Last President

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Feb. 18—On Feb. 19, 1846, the Lone Star flag of the Republic of Texas was lowered in front of the capitol in Austin.

The old wooden flagstaff broke and lay in the dust while the Stars and Stripes rose on a new mast. The republic was gone and Texas was the 28th state of the union.

Anson Jones, last president of the republic, sat on the platform during the rest of the ceremonies with his eyes fixed on the broken flagpole.

Misunderstood Man

"The most misunderstood, most enigmatic man in early Texas history," Herbert Gambrell called this man.

Gambrell's book, "Anson Jones, the Last President of Texas," will be released by the publishers tomorrow. The author is professor of history at Southern Methodist university, director of the Dallas Historical society and of the Hall of State and vice-president of the Texas State historical association.

Furthermore, he is a native Texan who felt the call of Texas history down in the grades from that familiar little red book—Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker's History of Texas.

May Jolt Some Readers

Gambrell's book ignores the precepts of sixth grade history. It will jolt quite a few Texans who never went beyond Mrs. Pennybacker. Through the book Sam Houston gets debunked and a lot of other Texas heroes appear without their haloes.

"But Jones didn't like Sam Houston," Gambrell maintained. "He didn't like Mirabeau Lamar; in fact, he didn't like anybody very long. And this book is about Jones."

Briefly outlined, the book begins with Jones' New England birth, his attempt at teaching, his failure as a physician, a merchandising failure in New Orleans and then, in 1833, a new attempt in a new land—Texas.

"I had struggled almost in vain against innumerable obstacles, and finally abandoning myself to a fate which it appeared I could not control or direct, I passively floated as it were upon the tide which bore me to Texas," Gambrell quotes from Jones' diary.

Texas brought success. Jones prospered as a physician in Brazoria, rose to state senator, minister to Washington, Sam Houston's secretary of state and finally president. Then the annexation problem burst in full bloom.

Sought Senate Post

Jones worked toward alternatives—annexation or an independent nation recognized by Mexico, England and France. Annexation came but Jones wasn't the hero.

After that day when the Stars and Stripes rose in Austin, Jones went back to his plantation at Washington-on-the-Brazos. His next hope was election to the United States Senate. He went back to Austin in 1856 and sat, waiting for the legislators to seek him out. But, Gambrell wrote, "to the men of that legislature Dr. Jones was a puttery, puffy-faced old man who belonged to another epoch." John Hemphill was chosen to go to Washington and Jones got not a vote.

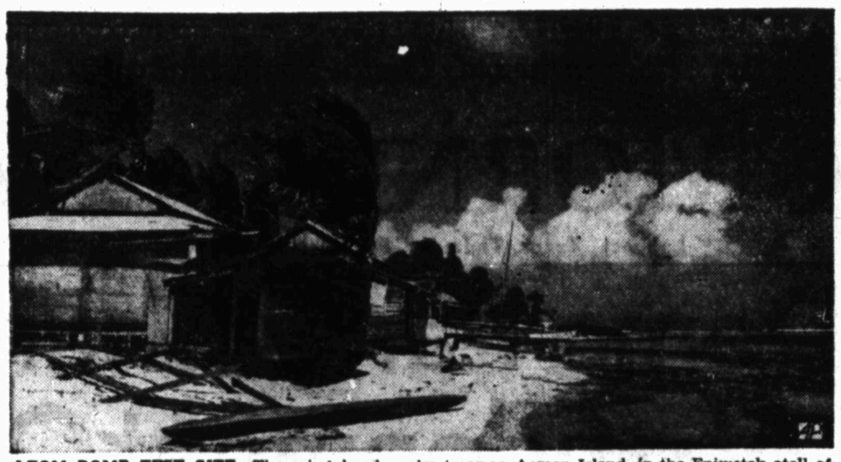

On the fifth day of January, 1858, Jones went to Houston, announced he would begin anew once more, this time as a physician in Galveston. In Houston he went to the old capitol building, now a hotel. That night he was mentally living through a quarter century, Gambrell wrote:

"They found Anson Jones next morning with a bullet through his head."

"Jones isn't a hero," Gambrell said as he sat in his office at the hall of state. "He got to Texas at the right time and rose in the force of circumstances. He was always thrifty, was careful and methodical among the slambang, hoop-de-la Texans of that period.

"In my book I have tried not so much to show what he did as the temperature of the times."

Gambrell is a slow-moving tall Texan with an amiable manner. He was born in Tyler almost 50 years ago, moved to Dallas when he was six, then to Marlin and back to Dallas. He has been teaching history at Southern Methodist university since 1923 and has taught Texas history for 15 years.

Ex-Marine Packs Pistol To Cage Game After KKK Threat

ROSSVILLE, Ga., Feb. 18 (AP)—An ex-Marine, who said he had been threatened by the Ku Klux Klan, packed a pistol in his pocket last night and went about his business as a high school coach.

The most exciting thing that happened was the defeat of Coach Walter Bowland's Lakeview, Ga., basketball team by Rossville high, 75-29.

Even so just about everybody in this small town turned out for the game at the school gym just in case the Klan carried out its reported threat to tar and feather Bowland.

Officers On Job

Had the Klan tried anything, said Bowland, seven or eight of his friends, including policemen, were hanging around outside ready to "start throwing lead—if necessary."

Two weeks ago the 27-year-old Bowland said he received a threat from the hooded order to "leave town or be tarred and feathered."

More recently, he added, he had heard anonymously the Klansmen had set last night "as the night to get me."

A neighbor stood guard with a double-barreled shotgun in Lakeland to protect Mrs. Bowland, who is expecting a baby soon. When the Klan burned a cross at her front door while she was home alone in January, she kicked it over and shouted "yellow cowards" at retreating night riders.

The husky, broad shouldered coach rode home to Lakeview after the game with three armed men while three others with pistols followed in another car.

Bowland said the threats were inspired originally by a fight he had at the Lakeview gymnasium when a former student attempted to interrupt a basketball practice session.

Americans Who Fly To Poland Without Visas Are Assailed

WARSAW, Feb. 18 (AP)—A government spokesman said today Poland is "fed up" with Americans flying into the country without visas.

He said future "trespassers" would face trial and sentences of one year in Polish prisons if convicted.

Five U. S. Army airmen were held for 20 hours after they returned U. S. Ambassador Stanton Griffis to Poland Monday night. They were released yesterday to return to Berlin.

Abernathy Air Field Is Offered For Use

DALLAS, Feb. 18 (U.P.) — Anybody need a good auxiliary airfield?

The War Assets administration said today it had available for transfer of ownership to qualified agencies and priority holders the Abernathy auxiliary airfield No. 1, located near Lubbock.

The agency said proposals for acquisition of the airport property must be submitted from the priorities as well as other prospective purchasers prior to a closing date of Feb. 29.

First priority goes to federal agencies, then states, political subdivisions, municipalities and tax-supported institutions may bid on the property.

Cotton Lint Consumption Dips During Last Six-Month Period

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The census bureau reported today that cotton consumed during January totaled 860,202 bales of lint and 101,832 bales of linters.

This compared with 753,406 bales of lint and 101,645 bales of linters consumed during December of last year, and 949,994 bales of lint and 94,566 bales of linters consumed during January of last year.

Consumption for the six months ending January 31 totaled 4,637,371 bales of lint and 577,806 bales of linters, compared with 5,213,413 and 497,887 for the corresponding period a year ago.

Cotton on hand Jan. 31 included: In consuming establishments 2,222,254 bales of lint and 233,579 bales of linters, compared with 2,270,764 and 190,776 a year ago.

In public storage and at compresses 5,116,954 bales of lint and 73,514 bales of linters, compared with 5,228,327 and 75,832 a year ago.

Nation's Supply Of Cattle, Hogs And Sheep Decline During 1947

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP) — America's meat-on-the-hoof supply has dropped to the lowest level since 1939.

An Agriculture department report today said the number of cattle, hogs and sheep on farms all went down during 1947. So did the number of chickens and turkeys.

These are meat being grown for the market and the breeding animals which must supply the future's meat.

Livestock numbers went up during early years of the war. Prices were rising and farmers wanted to produce all the meat they could. A peak in numbers was reached in 1943.

Needed More Help

Then help got short. Farmers could not take care of so many animals. A decline in numbers began and has continued.

On Jan. 1, the number of animals was four per cent below what it was a year earlier. It was 16 per cent under Jan. 1, 1944.

The department said the continuing decline is due to various causes including:

1. High prices for meat. This encourages farmers to sell cattle and hogs.

2. Reduced feed supplies and high prices of feeds. This discourages farmers from keeping and feeding livestock.

Although numbers were smaller, the farm value of livestock and poultry on Jan. 1 was at a record $13,451,000,000 due to high prices. This value was 12 per cent above last year and 90 per cent above the 1937-46 average.

Federal Reserve Board Reports Increase In Business Loans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—An increase in business loans was reported by the Federal Reserve board today for the first time in three weeks.

The board said that commercial, industrial and agricultural loans by Federal Reserve member banks in the nation's leading cities increased $48,000,000 in the week ended Feb. 11.

Making up part of the $107,000,000 decline of the preceding two weeks, the advance listed the total outstanding to $14,692,000,000 on Feb. 11.

Real estate loans increased $17,000,000 to a new record high of $3,542,000,000.

Photographic Lens Collection From Germany Is Now In U.S.

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J., Feb. 18 (AP)—A million dollar collection of photographic lenses from Germany has put the United States years ahead in the field of optics, the Army Signal corps said today.

The lenses were requisitioned by the American First army from the famous Carl Zeiss plant at Jena, Germany, after the war in Europe. They are under study at the Signal corps center here.

The Zeiss plant now is in the Soviet occupation zone. Russian spokesmen protested some time ago against removal by the U. S. of "a trainload" of lenses from the Zeiss museum. The U. S. explained that the requisitioned lenses will be paid for.

Announcer Drinks 280 Cups Of Coffee During Talkathon

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Feb. 18 (AP)—Radio announcer Art Laboe's 120-hour talkathon was ended today. And the Community Chest, he said, is $2,800 richer.

For five days and nights, Laboe's voice was the only announcer's heard on KCMJ. He gave newscasts, commercials, spun records and just talked. Toward the end, listeners were pledging $100 an hour to keep him going.

Laboe, 22, said his longest catnap was 15 minutes. In the five days, he drank 280 cups of coffee. He finally signed off at 11:25 o'clock last night.

STATION MASTER HELD

LILLE, France, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Police announced today they had arrested Jacques Dufour, station master at Thumeries where 22 persons were killed and more than 50 injured in a head-on train collision yesterday. Police said the wreck was caused by a "moment of inattention" on the part of Dufour.

L. A. Woods To Seek Re-Election To Post

AUSTIN, Feb. 18 (AP)—State Superintendent of Public Instruction L. A. Woods today formally announced for re-election.

He said he would base his candidacy on his record in office and upon the records achieved by Texas schools during his leadership.

Dr. Woods noted that during his tenure, the per capita apportionment has been raised from $16 to $55, a $2,000 minimum teacher salary law passed, rural equalization aid increased from two and one half million dollars to 18 million dollars, and Texas has been made to rank among the first 15 states in financial support of its schools.

ONE DEAD IN CRASH

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Harley A. Sullivan, 51, of Gonzales was fatally injured near here today. Officers said his car and another vehicle collided.

ON HEART DISEASE

OF all the articles we read during National Heart week the most reassuring was from an annual report published by the New York Life Insurance company that set out that while an aroused public is necessary to fight the number 1 killer of Americans, undue apprehension may be caused among certain individuals who are inclined to be nervous about themselves and to magnify their ailments. Unfortunately, according to the report, many people worry too much about having "heart trouble." One reason is that they have read or heard about the marked increase in heart disease without knowing all the facts. Even more important, too many persons believe that having heart trouble can only mean they are about to die and nothing can be done about it. They think the heart must function perfectly or not at all.

The heart is a much tougher and more powerful mechanism than is generally realized. Ordinarily, if some trouble develops, it does not mean immediate failure or death. Thousands of persons with heart trouble in varying degrees are living happy, useful lives.

THE best advice to those who may have any worry about themselves is to see a physician—and not to try self-diagnosis. If the doctor finds nothing wrong, believe him. If he does find something that needs attention, do exactly what he says, as to how many others have wisely done.

Those who enter middle age and old age with sound hearts should take reasonable, commonsense precautions to avoid inviting future trouble. The most important thing to bear in mind is that, after 40, the heart is no longer young; it is getting older just like every other part of the body and should not be subjected to unnecessary stresses.

Physical effort causes the heart to work harder—in middle age it is sensible to take things a little more easily, to plan one's time more intelligently so as to avoid hurry and rush.

USELESS weight puts an added strain on the heart—it is sensible to maintain a balanced weight on a rounded diet recommended by a physician.

If you are the kind of a person who lives and works under high tension—excitable, impatient, always on edge, inclined to worry—you may find it difficult to re-educate your emotions and alter your philosophy of life. But it is certainly common sense to do so.

The gaol to be achieved is moderation in all things in work and play, diet and daily habits, temperament and conduct. This is the surest way to a longer, more useful and happier life.

HOUSE PLANT CARE

IF you are having trouble in keeping your house plants in good condition through the winter months, you are either giving them too much or not enough care, according to Sadie Hatfield, extension specialist in landscape gardening of Texas A. and M. college.

A good potted cyclamen, for instance, will bloom for several months if kept at a temperature of 65 to 68 degrees where it can get morning light. Never allow the soil to dry out completely while it is blooming, but when it starts to lose leaves, let the soil dry then store the plant in a cool, dark damp place to carry it over a second season

Primroses need much light in winter and do best at 65 degrees. Too much watering rots them, but do not allow the soil to dry out. The Jerusalem cherry and ornamental pepper like cool temperatures, too, as well as moist air and plenty of sunshine. Smoke or gas in the room will cause the leaves to drop off.

AZALEAS last much longer if kept in a cool moist air during the day, and thrive best at a temperature of 50 to 60 degrees. A moderate amount of water is necessary. The soil needs to be kept acid and if the leaves start to turn yellowish green, dissolve one teaspoon of alum to a gallon of water, Miss Hatfield says.

African violets need a sunny window during the middle of the winter, but can be put in the shade about the last of February. Let the soil dry before watering, then use water several degrees warmer than room temperature. Miss Hatfield points out, as was the caution given by Mrs. John Powers, that care must be taken in watering African violets to be sure that no water gets on the leaves.

TITLE TACTICS— We heartily concur with the writer who recently bemoaned the tendency of people who select titles for books. to choose abstract phrases or excerpts from irrelevant quotations.

Take a title, for instance, like "Forever Tomorrow," which might have no particular connection with the books itself, and there are dozens of titles so similar there's bound to be confusion.

DAR Chapter, P-TA Unit, Newcomers Club, Business Women Meet Wednesday

Wednesday afternoon meetings were those of a DAR chapter, P-TA unit, Tech Newcomers club and a business women's club.

The romances and love and home life of Revolutionary days heroes were discussed at a Wednesday afternoon meeting of Nancy Anderson chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution held in the home of Mrs. A. B. Conley, 2219 Broadway.

Mrs. Clayton Carter spoke on George Washington, Mrs. James H. Goodman on Thomas Jefferson and Mrs. W. P. Brummett on Alexander Hamilton. The talks were illustrated.

Hostesses with Mrs. Conley were Mesdames W. H. Porter, C. S. Garrison and L. M. Austin.

The DAR state conference to be held in Fort Worth March 15-18 was discussed. Also during the business session which was presided over by Mrs. Robert Allen, vice-regent, Mrs. Edward L. Donelson was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. L. E. Weathers was accepted as a transfer member from the Hobbs, N. M., DAR chapter.

JUDGE BEAN IS SPEAKER

Judge George R. Bean who spoke for Bean Parent-Teacher association Wednesday afternoon stressed the importance of women in government. Forty persons attended the meeting.

Preceding the program, a "Child Development" study course which is being sponsored by the P-TA was opened. Mrs. R. Clayton Carter spoke on "The Social Development of the Child."

The second of the series of eight lessons is planned for Friday from 1:30 until 3 o'cloc' at the school. Guest speaker will be Dr. James T. Hall and his subject is to be "The Health of the Child."

MRS. SEALEY IS HOSTESS

At a Wednesday afternoon meeting of Tech Newcomers club held in the home of Mrs. Jesse Q. Sealey at 2607 Twenty-fifth, Mrs. Stuart Shafter spoke on the life of Tschaikowsky. Following the talk, recordings of the composer's "Nutcracker Suite" were played.

A number of Mr. Sealey's salon prints was shown to the 21 persons attending.

Women who have joined the faculty during the years 1946-1948 or women who have married faculty members during that period are invited to attend meetings of the Newcomers club which are held the third Wednesdays of each month. The March meeting will be announced later.

LUNCHEON IS HELD AT HOTEL

Approximately 65 persons attended the weekly luncheon of Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club Wednesday at Hilton hotel.

Mrs. Lucille Hamilton had charge of the program. The national theme of Business and Professional Women's clubs for this month was announced as "recreation instead of wreck-reation."

Guests present were Miss Helen Hinkle, Miss Regina Moss and Mrs. Clayton Cole.

New members presented were Miss Fern Kelly, who transferred from the Colorado City club, and Mrs. Laura Jackson, who rejoined the club.

Auxiliary Head Will Visit Here

Mrs. Alma Busby of Denison, president of Department Association of Ladies Auxiliary to Patriarch Militant of Texas, who will visit in Lubbock Saturday will be honored at a banquet to be given by the local auxiliary Saturday night at 8 o'clock in Chimayo room of Hilton hotel.

Members of the local organization will present a program.

Guests from Pampa, Amarillo, Muleshoe, Morton, Plainview and Floydada have been invited to attend.

A regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock at IOOF hall. All members are urged to attend.

Lutheran Society Presents Program

A program presented for Daughters of the King Missionary society of Shepherd King Lutheran church Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Eric Anderson was as follows:

Scripture and prayer by the hostess; a talk, "Miriam as an Outstanding Woman of the Bible," Mrs. Ordin Nowell; Bible study by Rev. David Sieberg; and a magazine study, "That Minds Be Not Blinded in Atheism," by Mrs. Werner Teggemann.

Members voted to make layettes for European relief.

Others attending were Mesdames H. L. Voelker, Henry Young, Fred Minssen, Monroe Minssen, John Walter, T. F. Schwarz, Sieberg and Lenro Keeton.

Book-Of-The-Month Club Has Meeting

"The Bishop's Mantle" (Turnbull) was the book reviewed for Book-of-the-Month club Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Ivy Savage.

Mrs. Parker Prouty and Mrs. DeWitt Landis were hostesses to the 14 members meeting in the Prouty home at 3019 Twenty-first.

HOME FROM MISSOURI

Mrs. C. B. Batson has returned to her home at 2203 Twenty-second after taking her son, Jimmy, to Boonville, Mo., where he entered Kemper Military school.

Birthday Of OES Matron Observed

Mrs. D. E. Sellers, worthy matron of Lubbock chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, was honored Tuesday night with a surprise birthday party given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hunt, 1904 Seventeenth. The Hunts and Mr. and Mrs. Burton S. Burks were hosts for the party, which was given following a regular meeting of the OES held at Masonic hall.

Mrs. Sellers was presented an OES compact by the hosts, a gift of silver by OES officers and a white blanket by the drill team.

Presiding at the tea table which was centered with pink carnations and candles was Mrs. L. D. Thomas. Piano numbers were offered by Mrs. Quincy Haney.

At the meeting preceding the party, officers of the organization presented a patriotic program entitled "The Red, White and Blue." Mrs. V. T. McMullen was director. Mrs. A. A. Holmquest who spoke on "What Has My Eastern Star Meant to Me" divided her talk into four parts, cooperation, inspiration, knowledge and fellowship. She stated that "Loving others, sharing and being kind are the deep roots of successful living."

Report On Party

During a business session, announcement was made that the OES cleared $77 at a recent benefit forty-two party and that the money will be used to care for a Chinese war orphan. Members voted to hold a bake sale Feb. 28 at the Walgreen Drug store; those who plan to contribute to the sale are asked to contact Mrs. W. M. Peticolas at 6060.

Seventy-five persons attended the meeting which was hosted by Mesdames Allen O. Hammer, Ed Young, Gerald Sandlin and Cliff Elliott. Guests were from Slaton and Wellington.

OES Study club planned meetings for today from 1 to 3 p. m. in the home of Mrs. L. V. Risinger, sr., 2433 Twentieth and for Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Quincy Haney at 2118 Twenty-ninth.

Sundown Bride Is Honored At Party

To honor Mrs. Otis B. Mallory, the former Miss Camille Fite, a gift tea was given in the Sundown Home Arts Party room Monday afternoon. Miss Laquita Burns registered the 70 guests who called.

The tea table, laid with a white lace cloth, was centered with an arrangement of pink carnations and fern flanked by tall white tapers. Plate favors were miniature rolling pins lettered with "Otis and Camille."

Miss Fauncine Fite, sister of the bride, presided at the silver service and others in the house-party were Mesdames Amber Craddock, George Denton, W. G. Frazier, Elmer Dean, Alton Clark and R. D. Glimp.

Mr. and Mrs. Mallory are living in Abilene where they are attending college.

Juvenile Official Describes Decline Of Delinquency Here

Decline in juvenile delinquency in Lubbock from 1943 until 1947 was pointed out by John Wilson, city juvenile officer, in a talk at the Exchange club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock Wednesday.

Number of juvenile cases declined from 1,136 in 1943 to 240 in 1947 and sending of 24 youths to the reformatory in 1943 to only four sentenced last year, he said. His talk was given in connection with the club's sponsoring of Crime Prevention week here.

Wilson reviewed briefly causes of delinquency and then cited how the city's recreation program, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and the Boys' club had aided in reduction of the situation. He said expansion of all of these programs is necessary to meet the ever-present delinquency problem in Lubbock.

One Case Is Cited

Wilson cited one youth's case and how the leaving of keys in a car by the owner contributed to the youth's career of crime. He took the car because it was so easy to drive it off with the keys in it. After returning from the reform school, he stole another car with the keys in it and a year later entered a number of business places here because lights were not left on. After his third term in the reform school, he was in the clutches of the law again for forgery. In this case, he simply walked into a local business house and cashed a forged check with no questions asked.

"In other words, you as citizens of Lubbock are contributing to the delinquency of youth by leaving keys in cars so that they may be easily stolen, lights not left burning in business establishments and houses unlocked so that they may be entered easily," Wilson said.

Joe Manicapelli was program chairman. Sheriff Grady Harrist, Chief of Police Lewis Kittrell, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr were special guests at the luncheon.

City Building Codes Blamed As Aid To Child Delinquency

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Col. Theodore P. Bank, president of the Athletic Institute, says the major cities of the nation are contributing to their own juvenile delinquency problems. He blames them for their restrictive building codes which hamper the construction of recreational facilities.

Bank objected particularly to the federal system of priorities on building materials which classified athletic facilities with "night clubs and gambling houses."

"We recognize," Banks said, "that present scarcities of building materials make their allocation to the construction of homes most important. At the same time I don't think it is wise to ignore the need for the construction of recreational facilities."

New 1948 Futuramic Oldsmobiles Will Be Displayed In Lubbock Beginning Today

Display of the 1948 series "98" Futuramic Oldsmobile will begin this morning in the showroom of the Western Motor company at 1301 Ave. H.

While the "Futuramic" line embodies the best in design and construction developed by Oldsmobile over five decades it also points the way toward a new "golden era" in automotive travel, in the opinion of Tom Swanson, president of Western Motor company.

Many New Developments

Brand new in styling from bumper to bumper, the Series "98" Futuramic Oldsmobile offers many new noteworthy developments, such as entirely new body design with graceful streamlinings and futuristic lines, increased front and rear vision through curved glass, wider seats, and more luxurious upholstery and interior trim than has ever been available in the Oldsmobile price class before.

The "Futuramic" series is powered by a 115 h. p. eight-clinder engine that out-performs any motor previously built on the production line by this division of General Motors corporation. Equipped with a newly-designed high-compression head, using a ratio of 7 to 1, the engine for the "Futuramic" series has been rated by engineers as the "smoothest" and most powerful "in-line" engine ever offered Oldsmobile customers.

For buyers in the medium, popular price range, Oldsmobile will produce the 'Dynamic" series "60" and "70" in 1948. Seven body styles, including a convertible and station wagon, are being built in the 'Dynamic" series. The customer has a choice of a six-cylinder 100 h. p. engine, or an eight-cylinder 110 h. p. engine in this series.

Hydra-Matic Drive Available

General Motors Hydra-Matic drive, providing fully automatic shifting in all forward speeds, is available as optional equipment, at extra cost, throughout the 1948 line of Oldsmobile cars.

The Hydra-Matic drive is a combination fluid coupling and fully automatic transmission. It completely eliminates the clutch pedal from the car and has conclusively proven itself more convenient, more economical and safer for inexperienced drivers than the conventional type of transmission.

Another item of optional equipment offered at extra cost is hydraulic controls for raising and lowering windows and adjusting position of the front seat in the "Futuramic" series.

Vision Greatly Increased

One of the most important advantages of the new body design of the "Futuramic" series is increased vision all around. The area of the curved windshield on the four-door "Futuramic" Oldsmobile is 30 per cent greater than that in the 1947 series while the area of the curved-glass rear window represents a 58 per cent increase.

The side windows have also been noticeably enlarged and a broader, lower hood assured much fuller vision ahead for the driver.

Among factors contributing to the exceptionally smooth riding and handling qualities of the full line of 1948 Oldsmobiles are resilient coil springs at all four wheels, a rigid X-member reinforced frame double-action hydraulic shock absorbers, proven knee-action front wheel units, tenacious four-way stabilization to prevent side-sway at high speeds, and dual-control center steering.

To further improve a well-cushioned ride, Oldsmobile offers, as optional equipment, air-cushion type tires, carrying extra-low pressures.

Super-hydraulic brakes, of the self-energizing type, provide the utmost safety in the full 1948 Oldsmobile line. In addition, for emergency use, "Dynamic" and "Futuramic" cars are equipped with rear-wheel mechanical brakes.

Offer Wide Choice of Colors

In 1948 Oldsmobiles customers have an unusually wide choice of colors. Ten distinctive and attractive solid colors are offered in closed models of the "Dynamic" and "Futuramic" series, or the customers may select any one of five suggested two-tone combinations, with a single exception. That is the "Futuramic" club sedan. This body style, like that of the convertibles and station wagons, is produced in solid colors only by Oldsmobile.

The 1948 "Futuramic" series "98" Oldsmobile is this G. M. division's "golden anniversary" model. Oldsmobile was founded in August, 1897, and is America's oldest motor car manufacturer.

1 Besides a telephone instrument, we need cables and switchboards to furnish telephone service.

2 Factories are turning out this complex equipment faster and faster.

3 But the need is nation-wide. In the Southwest alone, equipment is needed in 700 cities to serve 235,000 people. There are still shortages and delays, but we are getting our share of what the factories produce and we're putting it in as quickly as we can, in as many places as we can. GOVERNOR ON ANOTHER TRIP

Texans In Washington Planning Big Welcome For Jester Visit

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Texans in Washington are making plans for a big welcome this weekend for Beauford H. Jester when he makes his first visit here since he became governor of Texas.

Jester will testify Monday before the Senate judiciary committee for a bill to give the states unquestioned ownership of submerged lands.

The Texas delegation, headed by Rep. George Mahon of Colorado City, plans to have the governor as honor guest at its weekly luncheon next Wednesday if possible.

Ralph Pittman, president of the Texas State society of Washington, said that the governor will be honor guest at a dance Saturday night "if Jester can make it."

Jester is to be in Laredo Friday, but may be able to fly here in time for the dance, Pittman explained.

House minority leader Sam Rayburn of Bonham, said a visit "certainly could" be arranged for Jester to see President Truman if Jester wants to call on him.

While no one here knew just how long Jester would stay in Washington, the House judiciary committee is scheduled to open hearings on tideland legislation Wednesday.

Other Texans expected to testify in support of the bill are: Price Daniel, Texas attorney general; Robert Lee Bobbitt of San Antonio, chairman of the tidelands committee of the State Bar of Texas; Bascom Giles, Texas Land commissioner; and Attorneys John D. McCall of Dallas, Palmer Hutcheson of Houston and Curtis Morris of Longview.

Atomic Energy Commission Is Concerned Over Public Understanding Of New Power

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 — Across Washington news desks come big brown envelopes with a name in one corner: Atomic Energy commission.

Most of the time the envelopes contain an advance copy of a speech to be delivered by one of the commission's five members.

Often it is a speech by David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the commission.

A check shows that in the last 10 months Lilienthal and the other commissioners have delivered 34 speeches, 13 by Lilienthal.

Public Informaiton Urgent

They turn down a lot so they can get some work done here. They try to pick out the ones where they can do the most good for their ideas.

What ideas? Getting the American public to think about atomic energy, how it can be used for peace and what its use in war means.

Congress didn't write anything into law saying the commission should spend money educating the public.

But Lilienthal seems extremely earnest in his belief that the public should be thinking about atomic energy now and be informed about it.

There seems to be a note of urgency in some of the things Lilienthal says about the need for public information on atomic energy.

War Prevention Basis

For example, he said recently:

"What is in the people's minds today about atomic energy is important. But what may be in their minds next year at this time, or two or three years hence, when tensions may have increased, when steady judgment may be essential, depends upon what we do in the meantime."

Because of national security and the secrecy involved in much atomic work, Lilienthal can't say all he knows nor all he thinks.

But he has said:

"I believe it to be a fact: The only solid hope for preventing the use of atomic energy for destruction on a scale that has not yet been disclosed is for peoples everywhere to come to understand the atomic world; and to understand thereby the opportunities that lie before us to put this knowledge to uses beneficient and human."

Told another way, Lilienthal seemed to be saying: If people everywhere know how really destructive the bomb is they won't want atomic war.

Aleman Praised For Progress

HOUSTON, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—President Aleman of Mexico is "doing a good job" of raising living standards and stabilizing prices, according to J. P. Small, president of the Southern Pacific Railway of Mexico.

Small was in Houston today to attend the quarterly board of directors meeting of the Southern Pacific lines tomorrow.

The railroad executive who has been in Mexico for 40 years pointed to the vast changes that have taken place in the last 15 years.

Improvements Are Noted

"When I went to Guadalajara in 1907, a tourist would have had to sleep in the park," he said. "Only there weren't any tourists. People from the United States were objects of curosity in those days."

Small said some tourists complain about high prices, but he said they forget that money is exchanged at the rate of 4.85 pecos for every United States dollar.

He said modern hotels and restaurants could be found in Hermosilli, Guaymas, Mazatalan, Tepic, Guadalajara, and Culiacan—all places served by the Southern Pacific. He said tourists could see the land "south of the border" at "increasingly modest rates."

Looking at the past, Small recalled that between 1907 and 1927 the railroad gave service under difficulty because of revolutions.

"Sometimes 100 bridges on the line would be burned in just a few days," he said.

He lauded the Aleman administration, and said Mexico has even greater years of progress ahead.

Public Library In Indiana Lending Phonograph Records

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 18 (U.P.)—The Fort Wayne public library has opened a phonograph record department enabling literary patrons to borrow albums and single recordings as well as books.

Three sound-proof albums equipped with record players have been built in the main library building so that borrowers may choose their music before they take it home. An adjoining concert room will be ready soon.

Library officials say some 900 albums from a collection of 3,250 are available to the public for a deposit fee of $5 remitted at the end of borrowing. The remainder of the albums and some 4,200 single records, all valuable and irreplaceable, may be heard at the library only or at private concerts arranged by the library.

Chile Uses Western Hemisphere Pact To Bolster Island Claims

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 18 (AP)—Chile's president moved to establish a military base in disputed antarctic territory today after invoking the western hemisphere defense pact to bolster his nation's claims.

While Britain hinted an appeal to the United Nations and Australia weighed sending a warship to the Falklands, Chilean President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla pushed farther south on his spectacular expedition to set up the base on what Chile calls Bernardo O'Higginsland.

The site is on part of the territory known as Grahamland, which is claimed by Britain. It lies astride the Antarctic circle.

British Protest Move

Dispatches to the Santiago newspaper Mercurio from the president's ship, the transport Presidente Pinto, quoted Gen. Ramon Canas Montalva, Chilean army chief-of-staff, as saying the President's action is a step toward "building up Chile as a South Pacific power."

The British have protested both Chilean and Argentine activities in the Antarctic and have announced they will support British governor Miles Clifford of the Falklands in these issues. The British insist the Falkland administration covers Grahamland, Greenwich and other islands. The British have sent the 8,000-ton cruiser Nigeria into the Antarctic to "show the flag."

A similar mission for Argentina was announced in a broadcast today from an Argentine task force enroute to Antarctica. It said two Argentine cruisers and six destroyers "are going to show the flag in the icy waters of the polar seas."

Aggression Is Charged

The Chilean president landed at Greenwich island yesterday. Addressing Chilean troops there, he declared that any attempt by a foreign power to seize territory claimed by Chile in the Antarctic will be considered an "aggression against all the nations of the Americas."

"The bad habits of antiquated European imperialisms threaten with armed violence to seize these lands of ours from Chile and America," Gonzalez Videla said in an obvious reference to the Western Hemisphere pact approved in Brazil last August and binding the American nations to mutual defense.

Britain claims territory both east and west of the 70th parallel, which Argentina and Chile consider their boundary below the South American continent. Britain says the island groups there are part of the Falklands group, whose main islands are off Argentina's east coast.

Both Argentina and Chile have laid claims in the area, which includes such groups as the south Georgia, the south Orkneys and the south Shetlands.

In London a high British government source said the three-nation dispute may be turned over to the United Nations, although Britain would prefer to see the matter settled privately.

West Coast To Adopt Oysters From Japan In New Experiment

SEATTLE, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—The Washington State department of fisheries has announced it will experiment with a new type of Japanese oyster—the Kumamoto species—found in the province of the same name.

A department director left here for Japan, where he will supervise packing and shipping 30,000 cases to the Pacific Coast.

Smaller than the Pacific oyster, the new species is still nearly twice the size of Washington's state's native Olympia oyster and is reported of excellent flavor.

Shop Proprietor Gives Warning On Women Who Travel In Circle

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—L. W. Dickinson, an upholstery shop proprietor, was annoyed when a young woman circled around him several times as he showed her his samples.

After she had left the shop, Dickinson discovered that $95 was missing from his wallet. He deduced that the girl lifted the wallet, pocketed the money and returned the billfold to his pocket as she paced the room.

Wandering Family Of Eleven Settle Down In California

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 18 (AP)—The wandering Brinks are now tied to the land.

Traveling days appear over for the family which recently arrived back in California from Oklahoma. The Brinks had been returned to Oklahoma by Los Angeles county because of the expense of keeping up relief payments.

Today James Brink, sr., and Mrs. Brink and the nine young Brinks have a lot, also lumber with which to fix bases for two tents in which to live northeast of town.

The lot is a gift from Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Morrow. They told Rev. Nelson E. Hinman, who has looked after the family since it arrived here last month, that if the Brinks would settle down they'd provide the spot to settle.

Father Brink, James Brink, jr., 19, and Richard, 14, are working for a contractor and sometimes make $25 a day.

When children tire of milk as a drink, it should be given to them in cream soups, in rice puddings, in custards or rennet-pudding desserts and in other dishes.

Texans Too Late To Aid English Couple Who Needed Alarm Clock

FORT WORTH, Feb. 18 (AP)—Two Big Spring residents, S. R. and Everett Wilkinson, who wanted to extend a helping hand to a couple in Hastings, England, who needed an alarm clock, are too late.

An Associated Press article, published in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, stated that the couple relied on a locomotive whistle for the time of day.

The Wilkinsons asked the address of the Hastings couple. The request was forwarded to the London bureau of the Associated Press by the Star-Telegram.

The London bureau replied today: "Since the story was printed, the family has been deluged with time pieces—until the Lord Mayor of Hastings issued an international appeal that no more alarm clocks be sent to him or his citizens."

Beanstalks In California Ready For Jack To Climb

DEL MAR, Cal., Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Moses Kauffman, local farmer, says he now is growing beanstalks that reach 12 feet in height and produce 8,000 pounds of beans to the acre.

Kauffman, a native of Russia, came to the United States in 1905 and to California in 1926. He went to Palestine 44 years ago to study the new agricultural development of the Jewish colonies and was impressed by the new bean plant there.

He brought the seeds back to this country and has developed them so that one plant will feed 10 persons from 10 to 12 years. He gets two crops a year from plantings on his Del Mar farm.

Convicts Aid Malaria Fight With Volunteer Work On Test

JOLIET, Ill., Feb. 18 (U.P.) — From behind the gray walls of the state prison has come help for veterans who got malaria while fighting in tropical and Mediterranean areas.

Convicts volunteered themselves as guinea pigs for research by University of Chicago doctor.

A new drug, pentaquine, was tested on the convicts. It proved effective and now is being distributed free by the Illinois Veterans Commission Service.

Commercial Chick Output Drops Nine Percent Below Year Ago

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—This year's incubator chicks have reason to wish for the old-fashioned sitting hen.

The Agriculture department reported today that the modern, mechanical "mothers" aren't doing so well. The fuel oil shortage, you know.

That, coupled with a drop in demand, caused commercial chick output in January to drop nine percent below that of January, 1947, the department said.

Arizona's only battle of the Civil War was fought at Picacho Peak, in the southern part of the state.

District 3-AA In Play-Off To Pick Cage Champions

(By The Associated Press)

Twelve of 16 district champions in the Class AA high school basketball race today were ready to bid for spots in the state championship tournament.

Two bi-district series open Friday and two more start next Tuesday.

A single elimination tournament Friday at Abilene will determine the winner in District 3-AA.

Sandies, Graham Set

Amarillo high's Golden Sandies, winner of District 1-AA, and Graham had completed all plans for opening bi-district play. The teams open the series in Graham Tuesday night, Feb. 24, play in Amarillo Friday night, Feb. 27, and finish in Childress Feb. 28, if a third game is necessary.

Milby and Sam Houston start a playoff Thursday night to settle Houston's 8-AA championship.

Austin of El Paso needs a victory over Bowie (El Paso) Thursday night to cinch the title in 4-AA. A defeat might possibly throw the district into a three-way tie. El Paso then could share in the honors by beating Ysleta.

Robert E. Lee of Baytown and Beaumont are currently deadlocked for the 14-AA leadership.

All eight teams who will participate in the state tournament at Austin the first week in March will have to be determined by the end of next week.

Bonham and Denton, winners of 5 and 6-AA respectively, open their bi-district championship in Commerce Friday.

Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), 15-AA champion, and Harlingen, 16-AA titlist, meet in Harlingen Friday in the first of a three-game series.

Temple (10-AA) and Brownwood (9-AA) open bi-district play in Temple Feb. 24.

Polytechnic High school of Fort Worth won 7-AA Wednesday by defeating Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), 45-35. The Parots and Crozier Tech (Dallas), 8-AA champion, open their bi-district series Feb. 24 in Fort Worth.

Big Spring, San Angelo, Abilene and Odessa will compete in the tournament to decide 3-AA's representative.

El Paso made a remarkable comeback in Dist. 4-AA. After bowing early in the season to both Bowie and Austin, the Tigers handed each decisive lickings in a second meeting.

Should Bowie defeat Austin, a three-way tie looms. Ysleta, remaining El Paso foe, is not expected to upset the Tigers.

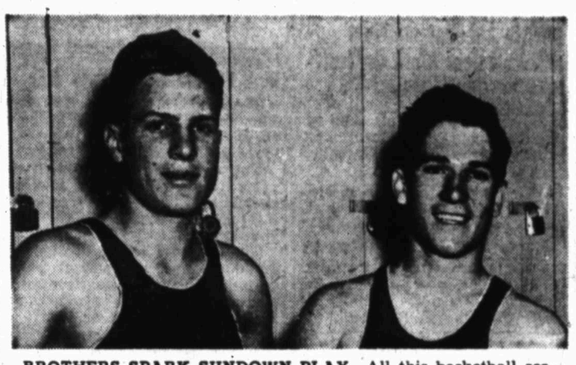

Champions by districts are:
1. Amarillo
2. Graham.
3. (Tournament decides champion Friday).
4. (Undecided. Austin could win Thursday).
5. Bonham
6. Denton
7. Polytechnic
8. Crozier Tech
9. Brownwood
10. Temple.
11. Texarkana
12. Lufkin.
13. Milby-Sam Houston playing series for title. Opens Thursday.
14. Robert E. Lee-Beaumont tied for top spot.
15. Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio)
16. Harlingen.

LaVern Roach Fights In Florida Tonight

LaVern Roach fights in Flamingo park, Miami Beach, Fla., tonight, but Al Thornton, his opponent, is not expected to be nearly so tough as the Frenchman the Plainview boy will meet in Madison Square garden next month.

Roach and Thornton will go 10 rounds tonight before what is expected to be a fair sized crowd.

It is a tuneup for Roach for his bout in the Garden with Marcel Cerdan on March 12.

BROTHERS SPARK SUNDOWN PLAY—All this basketball season these two brothers, Doug Ethridge, left, and John Ethridge, right, have touched off the scoring attacks which have given Sundown High school's Roughnecks a fine District 4-A record afloor. One is usually high point man, the other close behind. Doug is larger, and also wears a larger number, 33, while John's number is 22. Cage fans attending the District 4-A tournament at Abernathy, starting Friday, will see a lot of these boys. Their first appearance will be against Sudan at 3 p. m. Friday. (Avalanche Photo).

All-Star Flavor For District Meet

Levelland-Tahoka To Open 4-A's Tourney

ABERNATHY, Feb. 18. (Spl.)—This South Plains basketball mecca is set for a record breaking influx of cage fans who will pour into the Abernathy High school gym this week for the District 4-A championship tournament.

Each game, the first of which is scheduled for 1:30 p. m. Friday, will have an all star flavor since each team in the meet is a winner in the two-zone title chase.

The four teams, Sudan and Levelland of the north zone, and Tahoka and Sundown of the south zone, will play a double elimination series.

Levelland high's Lobos and the Tahoka high Bulldogs will start the sharpshooting with a 1:30 p. m. Friday engagement.

The Lobos have lost only three games this season, and all were to Sudan which finished the north zone campaign undefeated.

The Bulldogs were beaten only once in south zone title play, losing a 34-32 encounter to the Sundown high Roughnecks.

Sundown, winning second in the south zone by trouncing the Abernathy Antelopes in Tech gym Tuesday night to break a tie for the right to go into the district tourney, will go afloor at 3 p. m. Friday against one of the best basketball teams in the section, the Sudan Hornets.

Friday night's schedule calls for winners of the afternoon games to meet, and losers of those contests to meet losers.

In all probability the Ralls High school Jackrabbits, who only Tuesday night won the District 3-A championship, will make an appearance in the tournament Saturday afternoon in an exhibition capacity. Plans were afoot to match the Jackrabbits and the Abernathy Antelopes to balance the schedule which originally booked but one game for the afternoon session.

The two top teams from this tournament will go to the Region 1-A tourney in Canyon Feb. 27-28.

Ralls is to be accompanied by either Floydada or Spur from District 3-A. By defeating Floydada, 37-36, Tuesday night Spur forced a three game playoff to determine the second place winner in that district.

Both Levelland and Sudan went to the regional tourney last year, Sudan as the district winner, Levellend as the runnerup. Levelland then defeated Sudan in the regional meet.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

By Bob Cone

To the Shirleys and the Pruitts of Brownfield:

Thanks for reading our palaver every day . . . .

You're right . . . . Tom Adam's a good boy, and a good fighter . . . Wish he had remained here in the South Plains in our sphere of influence where we could have publicized him far and wide like we did J. D. Kirkpatrick . . .

We shall in a matter of hours now be able to lay the measuring stick on District 4-A's north and south zone basketball teams for comparison . . . .

Is Coach Jake Jacobs' Tahoka high Bulldogs going to keep up their up-to-now torrid pace against the Levelland high Lobos?

We shall soon see what we shall see . . . .

Because they tangle Friday afternoon at Abernathy in the first game of the annual District 4-A championship tournament . . .

Roy Morris and this keeper upper with South Plains sports will be there, looking 'em over rather sharply . . . .

And only an hour and a half later we'll watch Sudan's championship minded Hornets go against Sundown's Roughnecks . . . The Ethridge brothers—little fellows, but fleet afloor—will, no doubt, put on their usual jamb up goaling exhibition, and be just as good at ball hawking as ever . . .

These mere boys, John and Doug, are the driving power in Sundown's athletic program . . . They play clean . . . They play hard . . . They play to win . . . .

And whenever there's a sports event handy you'll likely find Joe Holmes doing his bit . . . Joe did a lot of work, and kept long hours, throughout the Golden Gloves tournament . . . And Tuesday night when Sundown and Abernathy met in Tech gym, well, there was Joe, operating the score board . . . .

We stumbled onto an item about baseball, and baseballs, which should interest you . . . The Hubbers' bill for baseballs last season was $2,500 . . . Baseballs cost the Hubber management $24.50 per dozen . . . You've seen an ump take a ball in his fingers, eye it critically, then toss it out . . . Well, that cost somebody cash . . .

* * *

We may run into an added attraction at Abernathy, too . . . Fred Miller, the Abernathy superintendent, tells us they're talking of booking an exhibition game for Saturday afternoon between the Ralls high Jackrabbits and Abernathy's Antelopes as a tourney feature . . . .

* * *

Ralls is quite elated, we're sure, because their fine basketball team came through Tuesday night with a win over Matador to give Ralls the District A-3 championship . . . .

That's "bringing home the bacon" to the South Plains, boys . . .

This is a fair warning, and Sudan will back it up . . . Dimmitt, which some of you South Plains teams will meet in the regional tourney at Canyon, is probably one of the best Class A basketball teams in the state . . . Our friend, the ex-Oklahoma cager, Ves Terry of Sudan, says Dimmitt has what it takes to win ball games . . . . Plenty of balance and poise and shooting ability . . .

* * *

James Witt, the young Lubbock light heavy, walked into this office Tuesday night after his scrap in Tahoka with Bob Quizenberry, the Tahoka fighter, and admitted he'd taken quite a pummeling from said Quizenberry . . . They say in Tahoka that James gave out with as much as he got though . . . . 'Twas quite a fight. . . .

Tech Drops To Third As Lobos Win, 50-43

Raiders Moving To Las Cruces For Joust With New Mexico Aggie Five

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 18 (AP)—University of New Mexico's Lobos grabbed an early lead tonight and never allowed Texas Tech to threaten in the second half, as the home forces swept to a 50-43 victory.

The Red Raiders dropped from second place to a tie with West Texas for third place in the Border Conference basketball race. Arizona leads, followed by Arizona State of Tempe.

A charity toss by a Tech player early in the game was the only point at which the visitors led. Seconds later L. C. Cozzens, All-Border Conference forward netted a field goal to hand the Lobos a 2-1 lead and they clung to it.

Tech made one threat in the first half, tying the score at 8-all, but the Lobos went on to build up a lead of 24-15 at the half. After the intermission Tech couldn't stay with the home team, trailing most of the time by at least eight to ten points.

Cozzens grabbed individual scoring honors with 21 points on nine field goals and three free pitches. Center Don Grove led the invaders with 14 on five field goals and four free throws.

Thursday night the Raiders will oppose the New Mexinco A. and M. quintet in another loop tilt at Las Cruces, with the three-day road trip ending in El Paso Friday night against the Texas Mines quintet.

The box score:

TEXAS TECH (43)	fg	ft	pf	NEW MEXICO (50)	fg	ft	pf
Kerr, f	0	0	1	Cozzens, f	9	3	2
Banks	2	1	1	White	1	1	1

Score at half: New Mexico, 24-15.

Rickey Seeking To Square Himself On Negro Player Deal

BROOKLYN, Feb. 18 (AP)—Branch Rickey tried to square himself with the rest of baseball today. The Brooklyn Dodgers president is surprised at the unforeseen interpretations of his Wilberforce university talk Monday when he disclosed major league action in 1946 against signing negro players.

As Rickey put it in a brief news conference after a luncheon meeting, his Wilberforce (Ohio) address has resulted in "interpretations not intended and certainly not foreseen."

Rickey told his Ohio listeners, in an address given Monday at the annual football banquet of the negro school, that the majors voted to oppose signing of negro players. He said they approved a statement reading, in effect, "hiring a negro in professional baseball was jeopardizing the investment of the owners."

Floydada Beats Spur In Play-Off Battle

SPUR, Feb. 18 (Special)—Floydada High's Whirlwinds sirled over the Spur High Bulldogs, 42-33, here tonight to get some revenge for Spur's uprising in Floydada last night which tossed the two fives into a tie for second place in District 3-A.

Floydada hit the floor red hot, and had piled up a 22-9 advantage at the close of the first period. Spur managed to narrow that some during the second period, and the Whirlwinds' lead was down to 27-17 at the half.

Finley of Floydada was high point man with 14. Bingham led the Spur attack with 11.

The two teams tangle in Floydada tomorrow night, and if a third game is necessary they will travel to Matador and a neutral gym.

Spur tripped Floydada, 37-36, to draw abreast of the Whirlwinds.

Ralls won the District 3-A title. First and second place winners will go to the regional tournament at Canyon Feb. 27-28.

Four More Brooklyn Dodgers Sign 1948 Playing Contract

BROOKLYN, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers announced receipt of four more signed contracts today to bring the number of players in the fold to 25.

The four signed are outfielder Al Gionfriddo, Catcher Gil Hodges, Infielder Bob Ramazzotti and Pitcher Ervin Palica.

Freeman Pinions Tough Dory Funk

New faces appeared in Sled Allen's wrestling emporium last night, but the grappling appeared to be the same, with Ace Freeman taking two out of three falls from Dory Funk in the main event.

Freeman and Funk were like a spring breeze, after two other grunt and groan specialists had finished their show. The two men kept their fight relatively clean, shaking hands every time the refree so much as looked harshly. And Freeman went on to take both of his falls in identical fashion, winning the first in 18 minutes with a cradle and body press, then repeating in the third in three minutes.

Funk won the second fall in 16 minutes with a short arm scissors.

Salvador Flores and Karl Gray had a lot of torturing minutes, 29 to be exact, with Flores taking two out of three falls. Gray won the first in 10 minutes on a drop toehold, while Flores came back to win the second in 14 minutes on an abdominal stretch and the third in five minutes on a smother.

Pat O'Dowdy couldn't make the card, so John Carlin subbed and held Leon "The Mad Russian" Kirilenko to a draw in 20 minutes.

Girls District Cage Huddle Set Tonight

Dates and site of the 1948 District 18, or Lubbock district, girls basketball tournament will be set during a meeting in the court house office of County Superintendent Roy Boyd, beginning at 7 o'clock, Thursday evening.

District 18 embraces 13 counties, each of which is permitted to send its two top teams into the district tourney.

Perry Moring, superintendent of Sudan schools, and district chairman, in announcing the conference, said it was important that winners representatives of first and second place in the girls basketball race in each county be present at this meeting.

Counties in the district, in addition to Lubbock, are :Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Hale, Lamb, Lynn, Motley, Terry and Wilbarger.

The 1947 district tourney was held at Abernathy with the Sudan sextet taking top honors and Abernathy winning second.

PROS BECKON TO BILL, J. D.

Henderson Passes Up Chicago Trip; May Sign To Fight Soon

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Bill Henderson of Levelland, state Golden Gloves champion in the featherweight division for the second consecutive year, has notified Texas Golden Gloves Director Flem Hall of Ft. Worth that he will not make the trip to Chicago for the national tournament.

Henderson, whose decision came as a distinct surprise, indicated that he will turn professional within the next few weeks. He told Hall over the telephone that even with all expenses paid by the state, he could see no reason for going.

The Levelland Larruper has beaten every challenger for two years and has not come close to being beaten. There is little point in his making the Chicago trip, even if he should win, when he can help his father on the farm, where he is needed.

He also realizes that by turning professional now, he can get the jump on the other amateurs delaying the move. And the money gained in the pro ring he intends to use toward setting up a livestock farm, a lifelong ambition of his.

Hall tried to remonstrate with Henderson, telling him that he was needed, but the damage had been done. He recommended, in his place, Mandy Leal of Corpus Christi, who fought him in the semi-finals. But Gloves officials have announced that Benard Smith of Port Arthur, whom Henderson beat in the quarter-finals, has been selected.

Soon after this announcement, it was made public last night that Henderson and J. D. Kirkpatrick of Petersburg, the impressive light heavyweight, would turn pro soon.

Negotiations presently are being carried on for Henderson to sign with Lou Viscusi, manager of Featherweight Champion Willie Pep. At the same time, negotiations also are being carried on with Joe Vella, manager of Light Heavyweight Champion Gus Lesnevich, for Kirkpatrick to be signed to his camp.

Viscusi is the man behind the scenes who directed Pep in his upward climb. He will be in Galveston for Pep's fight in March and the Levelland fighter may work out with the champ. If Viscusi is impressed, there is a strong possibility that he will sign the former Texas Tech student..

Vella is impressed by the photographs of Kirkpatrick and his record in the ring. He also is interested in his punching ability and has a mental picture that is favorable. If he becomes convinced that Kirkpatrick is a good prospect, he probably will sign him.

Lesnevich is retiring and Vella wants to sign a promising contender. Kirkpatrick is only 22 years old and, with proper training and experience, might be the possible contender visioned.

Both fighters said, long before the Ft. Worth tourney, that they probably would turn professional. Both men were impressive in their bouts and there was little doubt that Kirkpatrick had his fight with Sgt. Hugh Garland in the bag, when the cut eye halted the goings-on. It also was the opinion of sportswriters covering the tourney that Adams would not have been able to retain his crown in a fight with Kirkpatrick.

Henderson, of course, was the class of his division and gave a consistently fine showing, leaving no doubt that he outstripped any other fighter in the featherweight division. His style was polished and far advanced, while Kirkpatrick's power and ring knowledge made a profound impression on all who saw him.

Golfers Poised To Launch Play In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18 (AP)—The low-scoring touring professionals may find golf an humbling game for a change when they start play tomorrow in the $10,000 New Orleans Open.

New rules and a tough course will put a premium on par.

The Eagles and birdies won't be so easy in this, the first tournament since the Texas blowup which caused the Professional Golfers association to throw out the winter rules and require competitors to play 'em where they lie.

Is Big Test

And the 6,636-yard Metairie country club course is designed to test both muscle and skill. The grass isn't cropped too closely on the flat fairways. Therefore, there isn't much roll to add distance to wood shots.

"The pros will find the par four holes tougher here than they've encountered on any other course during the winter tour," commented the home professional, Fred Haas, sr.

He predicted that the winner won't score lower than 276—eight under par for the 72 holes. In contrast, Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmy Demaret were 15 under par at 269 in tying the first Sunday in the Harlingen, Texas, open.

The last of the four 18-hole rounds will be played Sunday.

Junior Cage Meet To Open On Friday

FRENSHIP, Feb. 18 (Special)—Annual Frenship Junior Basketball tournament play is scheduled to get underway here Friday night, with Frenship battling Cooper in the initial girls' tussle at 6:30 o'clock and Cooper tangling with Roosevelt in the first boys' clash at 7:30.

Other Friday night pairings include Roosevelt girls against Ropesville at 8:10 o'clock, then the Ropesville boys will meet Frenship in the last tilt at 9.

Tournament play will continue Saturday afternoon and night, with a total of eight games carded for the program.

Trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place quints, officials have reported.

Two Cars Are Recovered Here; Suspect Is Held In One Case

Two automobiles which were reported stolen Wednesday were recovered a short time later, according to city police, and a suspect was being held in connection with one of the thefts.

Police arrested a 37-year-old Rio Lende, Calif., man in the 2400 block of Broadway who they said was driving a 1937 heavy sedan owned by E. E. Hyatt, a guest of a local hotel. The arrest was made early Wednesday morning following a police radio broadcast of the theft.

Car Recovered

Another automobile owned by Eck Wheeler, 822 Texas Ave., was recovered early Wednesday afternoon, abandoned in the 2600 block of North Third. Police had been notified of the theft from the 1400 block of Thirteenth about 9 a. m.

In both cases keys had been left in the ignition switches of the automobiles, the police were told.

L. D. Box, of three miles southeast of Lubbock, reported to the sheriff's office late Wednesday that someone had stolen a five-tube Garod phono-radio, a light tan leather coat, and a brown coat and vest from his home earlier in the day. He said that entrance had been gained through the back door of the house.

The sheriff's department said Dep. Sheriff Leonard Lott and City Detective Lee Rice had returned with two negroes from Dallas. Willie Thornton, 22, one of them, will be tried on a misdemeanor theft charge. Clarence Thornton, alias James Thornton, 28, is charged with felony theft, and was named several days ago in a judgement nisi ordering forfeiture of his bond.

Oklahomans Held

A temporary commitment was filed by federal authorities in connection with the jailing here of J. L. Teague, 20, and Raymond Cathern, 30, both of Oklahoma City, and B. J. Wood, 19, of Chickasha, Okla., in connection with an investigation into violation of the national motor theft act, it was announced. Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner of the Lubbock division of the Northern Federal district, directed that each furnish bail of $2,500 for their appearance.

The men were brought here from Plainview by Curtis Perryman, resident FBI agent, and two deputies sheriff of Hale county.

Bond Is Posted

Bond of $1,000 was posted by J. M. Cox, 32, of Shallowater, who was arrested after Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton had sworn out a fugitive complaint alleging that Cox had fled from Oklahoma to Lubbock county after committing the offense of automobile larceny in Oklahoma Jan. 2. The affidavit was made in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace. Cox employed counsel, it was related. He had ported bond of $1,500 Saturday in connection with a charge of burglary filed in Lubbock county, officials said.

Patrolman Jerry Hoover of the police found that the license tag on a 1928 model A that had been abandoned in 1000-block Ave. H had been issued to a 1936 Oldsmobile in Michigan. Police were checking with Michigan state police in an effort to learn more about the car here, serial numbers of which had been buffed out. The body will be "pulled" to determine whether a serial number remains on the chassis.

Car Radio Stolen

A car radio valued at $70 was reported stolen from Jackson Badd of Texas Tech; a ball gum machine owned by the Boys club, from 1210 Ave. J.

A man who had been "killed" early Wednesday on Nineteenth, resulting in alarms to police and the dispatching of two police squad cars and an ambulance to the address, "got up and ran off, together with another man he allegedly had fought with," police said.

A negro woman, Lucille Lee, 20, was charged Tuesday with aggravated assault on April Daniel, negro, who was the complaintant. She was released Wednesday under $500 bond set by Judge Walter Davies.

Odd-Job Man Produces Life's Savings On Demand Of Police

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Police were called to settle a tenant-landlord dispute over $1.50.

"How much cash do you have with you now?" a patrolman asked the tenant, Edgar Martin, 39-year-old handyman.

"About $500," was the reply.

"Let's see," demanded the skeptical cop.

"From the two pairs of pants he was wearing, Martin pulled a billfold, four money bags and assorted cash.

A count revealed nine $50 bills, 31 $20 bills, 126 $10's and hundreds of $1 bills, each folded separately.

The total: $2984—Martin's savings from 20 years of odd-job work.

Veteran Convinced That Wheels Of Government Grind Slowly

SEATTLE, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—An ex-GI is convinced the wheels of government grind slowly.

A newcomer to Seattle, the veteran left Illinois for California 14 months ago and notified the Veterans Administration of his new address.

After a year in California he came to Seattle and told the VA of the change. He has just received a postcard, forwarded from California. It notified him the Chicago office of the Veterans' Administration had received his notification of change of address and that the "request is receiving the closest possible attention."

Color Guard, Military Funeral Groups To Meet At Legion Hall

A weekly meeting of the color guard and military funeral group of the American Legion will be conducted at 8 o'clock Friday at Allen Bros. post home, 910 Texas Ave., it was announced Wednesday night.

Letters have been sent to 35 Lubbock business firms explaining the function of the funeral group and color guard and asking heads of the business to make it possible for the men in the groups to be permitted to attend military funerals occasionally.

The letters will be followed up with personal visits.

Plans are in preparation for a Monday night social meeting for the entire post, for which a special program has been arranged.

Crude Oil Production Attains New Record

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP) — Crude oil production climbed to a new record in the week ended Feb. 15, the American Petroleum Institute reported today.

Gasoline production dropped as refineries turned more to production of fuel oils. But heavy consumption was reflected in decreasing stocks of kerosene, distillate and residual fuel oils.

Daily average gross crude oil production was reported at 5,347,175 barrels, a new high, and 14,600 barrels above last week. A year ago it was 4,757,650 barrels.

Gasoline production was estimated at 15,429,000 barrels, against 15,476,000 the previous week and 13,976,000 a year ago.

Heavy fuel oil production was out at 8,742,000 barrels, compared with 9,154,000 the previous week and 8,386,000 a year ago.

Light fuel oil production was estimated at 7,694,000 barrels, against 7,870,000 the previous week, and 5,253,000 a year ago.

Reports from refineries owning 90 per cent of the estimated daily potential and operating at 92.1 per cent of capacity indicate the industry as a whole ran to stills 5,378,000 barrels of crude oil daily. This compared with 5,348,000 barrels the previous week and 4,738,000 a year ago.

JUDGMENT IS REVERSED

Communist Worker Is Sent To Ellis Island

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Beatrice Johnson, 45, promotion manager for the recently suspended publication, New Masses, was arrested by federal agents today and taken to Ellis island pending deportation proceedings.

Mrs. Johnson, described by the Justice department as long active in the Communist party in this country, is one of a score of alleged alien Communists seized recently for deportation.

A native of Poland, Mrs. Johnson is the mother of a five-year-old daughter.

Demo Leader Speaks

cause whose only real hope is that they can defeat the Democratic party's program of practical liberalism in 1948 and turn the government over to reactionaries and isolationists.

"America's two-party system has made us strong and kept us strong. And I believe intelligent voters will realize that the issues in 1948 are too great to waste a vote on a third party and run the risk of four years of Republican reaction."

McGrath earlier declared "the Democratic party will make a grave mistake if it does not learn a lesson from the results of the special election in the 24th (Bronx) congressional district of New York."

Small Vote Stressed

"It is evident," he added, "that the fight against Communism on the left and Toryism on the right cannot be won unless every Democrat resolves to get out and vote."

McGrath's statement appeared to sum up the party reaction to the election of a Henry Wallace-supported candidate to Congress in New York yesterday. Although Democrats stressed the small vote cast in comparison with previous years, none made light of the fact that Wallace's third party was emerging as a more serious threat to their presidential hopes.

President Truman offered no comment on the developments, but he received two special callers who did.

Second New Deal Urged

Chester Bowles, former OPA chief, discussed the American Labor part's victory in New York. He said he told the President he hoped it "will wake the Democratic party up." What Mr. Truman replied was not disclosed.

Bowles predicted a "very tough fight" for the Democrats this fall and added:

"Too many young people are inclined to say 'a plague on both your houses'. If the Democratic party is going to win those people back it has to get back to the principles of the New Deal and outline a second new deal."

Wilson Wyatt, former New Deal official, called to report on plans for tomorrow night's double-header dinner.

Shakeup Talked

Four former national party chairmen are scheduled to attend the annual fund raising festivities. Two of these have special interests in the New York election, Edward J. Flynn and James A. Farley.

Wallace's victorious raid into Democratic ranks was staged in Flynn's own district. As a result of the setback there is some talk of a shakeup in party leadership in New York with Farley resuming an active role.

Farley took a swing at Wallace's third party last night in a talk at Colgate university. He said it was "formed by one who wouldn't play according to the rules in the Republican or Democratic parties."

Carrol Reece, Republican national chairman, took note of the ALP victory in New York to chide the Democrats. In a statement he said.

"The administration is now beginning to pay the price of its alliances with subversive and radical groups to maintain itself in power at any cost to the nation.

"There is an old saying that 'he who sleeps with dogs will get up with fleas'—and you can accumulate a lot of fleas in 16 years."

tomhole pressure," Murray answered.

March production will be 30,259 barrels more per day than that of January. Murray indicated this might bring a decline in pressure.

H. P. Nichols of the East Texas Oil association approved 22 days for March.

He noted that bottomhole pressure on Feb. 1 a year ago was 1,014.46 pounds per square inch. On Feb. 1 this year it was 1,014.41. This is a drop of five one-hundredths of a pound per square inch over a 12-month period in which approximately 120 million barrels of crude oil were withdrawn from the field.

Nichols termed this "a most unusual performance for a field."

The next statewide oil proration hearing was scheduled for March 17 at the Austin hotel in Austin.

First Annual National Guard Inspection Is In Progress

A first annual Armory federal inspection for the 132nd field artillery battalion of the Texas National Guard is in progress, the first inspection having been made by Fourth Army headquarters officers at Plainview Wednesday night.

Inspections will be conducted tonight for headquarters and headquarters battery at the armory at Lubbock Army Air field. Battery C and the service battery will be inspected Friday night, said Lt. Col. Ross Ayers, commanding officer of the 132nd field artillery.

Battery A was inspected Wednesday night.

The Lubbock group, activated last June and July, now has membership of approximately 100 officers and men.

Officers, in addition ot Col. Ayers, include Maj. Norman K. Snodgrass, executive officer, Capt. Milton R. Cundiff, commander of the headquarters battery; Capt. Arthur A. Kiser, commander of the service battery; Capt. Burt D. Locke, commander of battery C.

De Valera Ousted

to urge the unity of Eire with northern Ireland, the six northern countries which remain a part of the United Kingdom under King George.

One of his first decisions will be whether to go to New York City for a St. Patrick's day celebration next month. De Valera, who planned to visit Washington and Boston also, had accepted the New York invitation provided he was re-elected.

William Norton, deputy prime minister (Labor).

Gen. Richard Mulcahy, education (titular leader of Fine Gael).

Sean Maceoin, justice (Fine Gael).

Daniel Morrissey, industry and commerce (Fine Gael).

R. F. O'Higgins, defense (Fine Gael).

Irish Cause Defended

P. McGolligan, finance (Fine Gael).

Sean MacBride, external affairs (leader of the New Republicans).

Noel Brown, health (New Republicans).

T. Murphy, local government (Labor).

James Dillon, agriculture (Independent).

James Everett, posts and telegraph (National Labor).

P. Blowick, lands and fisheries (Farmers).

As a young barrister, Costello defended many Irishmen after their bloody uprising against the British in 1916. He was attorney general in the government of William Cosgrave, the first government of the Irish Free State. He retired to private law practice when De Valera took over as prime minister.

An Independent deputy, Ben Maguire, said one reason why Eire needed a coalition government was because "we see Europe being prepared as a battle field for the next war by countries outside it."

Low-Cost Homes

would also greatly reduce the time and labor usually needed to cut the lumber and other materials to fit the plans.

With such standardization of plans, joists, beams, flooring, wall boarding and other materials could be cut in the lumber yard with power saws, eliminating a great amount of time and labor ordinarily expended at the scene of construction.

Would Need Co-Operation

Full co-operation of labor would be necessary for the success of such a program, Boyd said. He proposed that lumber dealers and contractors in each community appoint committees to meet with labor representatives and explain the plan in detail. With all facts known, full co-operation of all concerned would not be difficult, he believed.

"No single expenditure is more important to the average person than the buying of a home," he said in conclusion, "and it is up to lumber dealers, contractors, and others in the building trades to build that home with only a reasonable profit."

Other speakers on the program were Joe Sanders, southwestern editor of the American Builder; Gene Ebersole, executive vice president of the Lumberman's Association of Texas; W. B. Henderson, vice president of the Texas Lumberman's association; and George Zimmerman, Waco lumber dealer, and active member in both the state and national organizations.

At the conclusion of the program, a technicolor movie was shown of the 1947 convention in Galveston of the Texas Lumbermen's association.

J. Ben Cole, Lubbock lumber dealer, was acting master of ceremonies for the evening and introduced the various speakers.

Couple Marries In Floydada Ceremony

Miss Floy Jean Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Hale of Floydada, and Raymond Lamar Haines of Amarillo, were married Friday, Feb. 13, in the home of the bride's parents with O. Johnson, Church of Christ minister, performing the ceremony.

Calla lilies and white stock banked the altar which had a greenery and woodwardia background. Tapers in candelabra flanked the kneeling bench. Mrs. J. Morrison Hollums played Liebestraum, Clair de Lune and Mendelssohn's wedding march and Miss Patricia Kirk sang Because.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pink gabardine suit with navy blue and pink accessories. She carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid. Mrs. E. L. Edwards, sister of the bridegroom and matron of honor, wore a brown gabardine suit with brown accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Keith Haines of College Station served as his brother's best man and Bill Hale, brother of the bride, and David Haines, another brother of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A reception followed the ceremony. On the bride's table which was covered with white net over satin were a three-tiered wedding cake, a wedding bell arrangement and tapers. Mesdames R. F. Stovall, D. H. Pitts, J. A. Arwine and Conner Oden assisted with serving.

After a wedding trip to Old Mexico, the couple will be at home in Amarillo. Mrs. Haines was graduated from Texas State College for Women in 1947 and Mr. Haines who served with the Field Artillery during the war was graduated from Texas A&M in 1943.

Officer Installation Led By President

Officers of the Woman's auxiliary to Master Plumbers of Lubbock were installed in a candlelight ceremony held Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. W. A. Lindsay, 2501 Twenty-second. Presiding was Mrs. James Samson, state auxiliary president. The following members took office:

Mrs. O. B. Ray, president; Mrs. M. E. Tew, vice-president; Mrs. Lindsay, secretary; and Mrs. G. H. Brown, treasurer.

Committees appointed by Mrs. Ray include: sanitation, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Tew; visitation, Mrs. Dick Rountree and Mrs. A. J. Richardson; telephone, Mrs. W. J. McQueary; and social, Mesdames Richardson, L. P. McKinley and Wayne Kirk.

Announcement was made that Lubbock will be host to the auxiliary's Panhandle League association March 20 for a district meeting which will open at 3 p. m. at Hilton hotel. The state auxiliary convention is to be held in El Paso May 6-8.

After a brief program, refreshments were served. Members voted to meet on the second Monday rather than the third Tuesday and the next meeting will be March 8 at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. McKinley, 2701 Thirty-fifth.

Lawyer To Speak At P-TA Unit Meeting

A meeting of George M. Hunt Parent-Teacher association will be held this afternoon at 3:40 o'clock at the school rather than at Central Baptist church, the former meeting place.

J. Orville Smith, lawyer, will speak on the subject, "Your Government Is You," and Mrs. R. C. Harvey's fifth grade will present a skit.

(At Norton, Kas., a strange explosion in the sky was described.)

Kemph said that Gage, Okla., had had calls from as far away as Albuquerque, N. M., and Amarillo, Tex., of the "ball of fire."

A search for plane wreckage was still going on, however, with a state patrol party from Woodward, Okla., in charge.

A private flyer from Buffalo, George Gingrich, was quoted by station KSIW as saying he had seen a fiery crash while flying nearly 30 miles away.

TO MEET UNCLE

French Girl On Way To Home In Texas

MARSHALL, Feb. 18 (AP)—Nathan Weis, Marshall tailor, is going to New York to meet a niece he has never seen—a niece who is arriving from Europe this weekend.

She is Denise Damenstein, 18, daughter of a sister Weis never saw.

During the occupation of Paris in 1942 Germans carried away Denise's parents and her younger sister. She saw them no more.

After the war she found in her mother's effects letters Weis had written his sister. She wrote to her uncle and he answered.

He asked her to come to the United States, and it took more than a year to get the necessary entry papers.

Weis said he planned for Denise to make her home in Marshall and go to school again.

He and a brother, now in Argentina, left Poland in 1908. The rest of his family went later to France.

Weis expects Denise to arrive either Saturday or Sunday on the S. S. Washington. He is going to New York by train and should arrive sometime Friday.

Shot Pierces Bus

This means no police agency there after that date unless the United Nations or a member provides it.

That is the picture facing the Security Council.

None was injured in the shooting at Haifa. One shot pierced the first bus and narrowly missed the Jewish driver. Between 30 and 40 bullets smashed into the armor on the second bus. A tire was punctured and the bus almost overturned.

The incident occurred as the busses were entering Haifa through the Arab section of Wadi Rushmiya.

The American group came to Haifa from Tiberius on the shore of Lake Galilee. It is touring Jewish displaced persons camps in Europe and Palestine in connection with the drive to raise $250,000,000 for the United Jewish Appeal fund.

Other violence throughout the Holy Land took the lives of three Jews, two Arabs and an Egyptian. The unofficial toll since the Nov. 29 decision of the United Nations on partition mounted to 1,268.

United Gas Corporation Plans To Add 27,000 New Customers

HOUSTON, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—The United Gas Corp. today announced a $28,000,000 construction and expansion program for this year which will bring natural gas to more than 27,000 new customers.

N. C. McGowen of Shreveport, La., president of the firm, said the program provided $8,500,000 in main transmission lines, and $6,500,000 for acquiring leases, exploratory drilling of gas and oil wells, and recycling operations.

McGowen announced that $3,500,000 had been earmarked for construction of a new gasoline plant at Carthage.

He said the cost of adding each new customer to distribution lines would average $189, the highest per customer cost in the company's history.

Traces Of Ancient Civilization Are Found Near Site Of Babylon

BAGHDAD, Iraq, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Department of Antiquities said today it had discovered traces of perhaps the world's earliest civilization.

The department said the discovery, in southern Iraq near Ur of the Chaldees, is "a civilization older than the Alubeid civilization, which dates more than 4,000 years before Christ."

Ur, the early home of Abraham, was near the Euphrates river 135 miles southeast of Biblical Babylon. The new find was made at Eridu.

News Briefs

No damage was reported when city firemen answered an alarm at 9:25 a. m. Wednesday morning from the Jim Fulton shop, 812 Ave. J. A workman in the shop, exercising precaution, was filling a gasoline tank with water to drive out gaseous fumes before welding the tank. But escaping fumes traveled to a stove, and there was a flash.

A new 220-horsepower, 750-gallons-a-minute Mack pumper was unloaded from a railroad car Wednesday by city firemen. They plan to give the pumper a standard pitot-tube test soon at Buffalo lake, the only convenient place where sufficient water is available to determine whether it will pump as rated. A dredged lake the firemen origionally used four miles northwest of Lubbock has been dry a year and a half.

A regular monthly meeting of the 707th bomb squadron of the Air Corps reserve will be conducted at the district courtroom in the courthouse at 7:30 o'clock tonight, it was announced by Capt. Cecil E. Jennings, of the squadron's operations staff. Major Ralph C. Johnson of Floydada, commander of the unit, is expected to attend.

O. T. Lodal of San Antonio, a 1932 Tech graduate, who is on a business trip visited on the Texas Tech campus Wednesday. Lodal, a partner in the Beavers and Lodal Consultant Engineers firm, is president of the Tech Ex-Student chapter in San Antonio.

Seven members of the U. S. Customs service border patrol, including one immigration inspector, were in Lubbock and the South Plains area Wednesday in connection with the Mexican labor program. Under the program Mexicans were granted temporary permits to work in the state during the cotton harvest. In charge of the group was Assistant Chief Patrol Inspector George W. Harrison from the Alpine office.

Grain Prices Rally

experienced. Hog numbers dropped 2 per cent of the lowest since 1941.

Among reasons for the decline, the department said, were high meat prices last year that encouraged farmers to sell and reduce feed supplies and high feed prices.

Prospects Reported Worse

Because of high prices, however, the farm value of livestock and poultry on Jan. 1 was at a record high of $13,451,000—12 per cent above last year and 90 per cent above the 1937-46 average.

The report gave added weight to predictions that if demand continues high, there will be less meat and at higher prices starting this spring.

Wheat closed 1 1/4 lower at 2 3/4 cents a bushel higher. The May contract was $2.35-$2.35 1/4. Corn was 1 1/4-3 1/4 higher, May $2.10-$2.09 1/2. Oats were 1/8 to 1 1/2 higher, May $1.05 3/8-1/2, and soybeans were 3 to 4 cents lower, March $3.37.

Private reports were received at the Chicago Board of Trade that the ground in southwest Kansas was bare of snow and that the grain was off to a poor start and that it would "have a hard time making a crop."

In Washington, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson predicted that European production of grains this year will be about 26 per cent higher than the previous year.

Red 'Peace-Feelers' Denied By Marshall

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Reports that Russia has been putting out "peace feelers" to the United States have no foundation in fact, Secretary of State Marshall said today.

Marshall also told a news conference:

1. There is no foundation for the Russian charge that this country sought a "separate peace" with Germany in 1943.

3. The American government hopes very much for successful completion of an Austrian independence treaty in talk with Russia, Britain and France opening at London Monday. The U. S. is willing to continue these talks as long as there is any chance of agreement.

The question of "peace feelers" toward ending the "cold war" arose when Marshall was asked about a reported meeting in Berlin several weeks ago between an unidentified Soviet official and Ambassador Robert Murphy, chief American diplomat there. Murphy since then has been conferring with State department officials here.

FORMER CAPONE GANGSTER SAYS HST'S FRIEND PAID

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Louis Campagna, a former Capone gangster paroled after serving three and a half years of a 10-year sentence for extortion, claimed today he paid a friend of President Truman a $10,000 fee to appear in his behalf before the U. S. parole board.

Campagna and his wife told a congressional committee yesterday that they paid Paul Dillon, Missouri attorney and politician, for "professional services" after receiving a bill from him last November.

Dillon has been reported missing from his home at St. Louis for several weeks. A federal grand jury is investigating to determine whether there were irregularities in the paroles of Campagna and three other Capone henchmen. The jury has sought Dillon for questioning in the case.

The federal district attorney here said that efforts to serve a subpena on Dillon have been fruitless. It has been reported that he is in Mexico City.

Campagna said he first learned that he owed Dillon money for interceding in the case when the attorney testified before the congressional committee last September. At that time Dillon was reported to have told the committee his fee would be $7,000.

Dillon said he was a friend of Mr. Truman and that while in Washington he visited the White House and was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Truman. He managed Mr. Truman's campaign for senator in St. Louis.

Students had complained at the board's hearings of having been struck and slapped by Powell. Powell testified that he had administered "spankings" to preserve discipline at the school but that he had never intentionally slapped any student.

Houston Detective Supended After He Stages Hotel Drama

HOUSTON, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Police Chief B. W. Payne today suspended a city detective who used old-time western tactics to frighten customers and employes into leaving a hotel coffee shop.

Detective O. O. Rice, 48, was ordered suspended indefinitely after a shooting fracas at the DeGeorge hotel coffee shop last night. Chief Payne sent a request to the civil service commission that Rice be dismissed.

According to police reports, Rice entered the hotel around 8 p. m. Witnesses said he ordered the patrons to leave. About 20 people were in the coffee shop at the time.

Patron Not Hurried

Worth W. Thompson, 24, said Rice "appeared to be drunk." Thompson said Rice pulled a gun from his holster and said he was going to shoot.

"I told him to start firing," Thompson said, "and as he pointed the gun at me I grabbed for his arm."

Another patron refused to obey the detective's order saying he had paid for his beer and was going to stay and drink it.

A wild shot shattered a light bulb in the place. Rice dropped the pistol in the ensuing struggle which lasted until police arrived.

Son Of Former Corpus Christi Mayor Indicted In Shooting

HOUSTON, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Henry R. Giles, jr., 29-year-old son of a former mayor of Corpus Christi, today was indicted by the Harris county grand jury on a charge of assualt to murder.

Giles was accused of shooting Billie Joe Nelon, 25, last Aug. 26. The alleged shooting took place in the San Jacinto hotel before Giles' estranged wife and Mrs. Florence Elizabeth Mathis, Nelson's fiance.

They said Giles followed them to Houston in a taxi from Corpus Christi and critically wounded the former Corpus Christi man with two pistol shots.

Nelon and Mrs. Mathis were married a month later in St. Joseph's infirmary while he was recovering. They now live in Kenedy.

Giles had accused the couple of influencing his wife against him.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said today he knew Edwin W. Pauley was speculating in commodities when the two were vacationing in Honolulu last summer. He said he gave the former assistant to the Secretary of the Army no inside information.

Funeral Services To Be Held For Father Of Brownfield Man

BROWNFIELD, Feb. 18 (Special)—Funeral services will be conducted in Brownfield's First Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon for William H. Walker, 72, Farley Funeral home announced tonight.

Mr. Walker, a resident of Dexter, died Tuesday in a hospital at Sherman. He had visited a son, M. V. Walker of Brownfield, many times, and his widow is planning to make her home permanently with the son.

Rev. A. A. Brian of the Brownfield church will officiate at funeral services, assisted by Rev. J. E. Moore of Muleshoe.

The funeral home will direct burial in Terry County Memorial cemetery.

Pallbearers will be N. T. House, Levelland, and W. C. Walding, Lynn Nelson, Gay Price, Clark Buchanan, and W. M. Clemments, all of Brownfield.

Mr. Walker is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ida Walker, the son, of Brownfield, and a daughter, Mrs. Thad Brown of Sherman.

Williamson's home is located about two miles south and one-fourth mile east of the Canyon gin.

The Williamson family moved to Lubbock county about six years ago from Russellville, Ark., vicinity.

The body is at Rix Funeral home. Time of the funeral had not been set last night.

Survivors include his wife; six children, Arvie Dee, Hugh, Haise, Selma, George and David, all of the family home; four brothers, George and Joe Williamson of Arkansas, Lewis Williamson of Kansas City, Mo., and Jim Williamson of California, and two sisters, Mrs. Liza McBride and Mrs. Carrie Davis of Kansas City.

Allied Study Of Possible War With Reds In 1940 Justified

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Moscow's charge that Britain and France wanted to start a war against Russia in 1940 is absurd, but the accompanying statement that Allied military men were making plans for war in the Caucasus is probably true.

It should be. Russia was allied with Germany at the time, was contributing to the Nazi war effort, and Foreign Commissar Molotov was making all sorts of inflammatory statements.

The Russians were fighting an aggressive war against Finland and no one knew how it might be extended. Molotov accused the Allies of "embarking on war" against the Soviet Union by aiding Finland. That was the way the totalitarians of those days talked when they were trying to justify some pending outbreak.

"Soviet-German relations were firmly proved in the Polish campaign," Molotov added. He bragged about the growing Red army.

Russia and Germany were working toward an agreement that Russia could take the Dardanelles away from Turkey.

Communist activities in Paris became so blatant that the French government sent the Soviet ambassador packing.

Molotov was saying that there was no hope of better relations with Britain, and that the Soviet-German pact had "assured Germany a calm feeling in the east."

Soviets Sought Territory

Russia was also negotiating with Germany in those days for complete hegemony over a sphere which was to be allotted her, lying between the Japanese sphere in East Asia and the European and African domains which Rome and Berlin had chosen for themselves. The atmosphere produced the statement in Berlin that Russia was ranging herself on the side of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis.

In such an atmosphere, if Allied military men had not been busy contemplating what they would do in case of war with Russia they would have been remiss in their duties.

Joe Stalin himself is reported to have written part of the recent Russia broadside which included these charges. It is noteworthy that he had nothing to say of another time when the Allies were planning to invade Russia — a later time. That was when the British, having already bared their breasts to Rommel in Africa by sending every available piece of armor for the defense of Stalingrad, thought they might have to go into the Caucasus themselves to stop the advancing Nazis.

Texan Is Acquitted Of Murder Charge In Canadian Trial

QUEBEC, Feb. 18 (AP) — James Hazlitt of Palestine, Tex., was acquitted today on a charge of murdering Edouard Doiran at Causapscal Village last August.

The jury returned a verdict after deliberating for only 25 minutes. A crowded courtroom applauded.

Hazlitt, a 35-year-old automobile stunt driver, admitted that he struck Doiron after Mrs. Hazlitt had complained Doiron had insulted her.

He testified he had no intention of killing Doiron, and struck the 26-year-old villager only after the latter made a movement as though reaching for a weapon.

ENROLLMENT SETS HIGH

DENTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—North Texas State college will have a record enrollment for a spring semester. So far 4,321 students have enrolled, 453 more than last spring's record number. This total includes 1,690 veterans, fourteen less than last year.

The 1946 U. S. public debt was 172 per cent of the national income, as compared with 81 per cent in 1940.

Treaty Signed With Hungary

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Feb. 18—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said tonight Russia now has treaties will all nations on its western borders.

Molotov spoke following the signing today of a Russia-Hungarian treaty of friendship and mutual assistance.

The treaty with Hungary, he said, was the final link in a chain of pacts which would form a barrier to the "imperialist states."

Russia, Molotov said, now has "pacts of friendship and mutual assistance with all states on its western frontier—from the Black Sea to the Baltic."

UN Aims Claimed Observed

"We Soviet people see in this an important success in the realization of Prime Minister Stalin's foreign policy, directed towards the strengthening of friendship with all neighboring states and consolidating a general peace," he continued.

Molotov stressed that the treaties were concluded in "conformity with the aims and principles of the United Nations organization."

Lajos Dinnyes, Hungarian premier, replied that for the first time in history "the Hungarian people enjoy the opportunity of cooperating with a great power—the Soviet Union—which disinterestedly and without ulterior motives is helping us to security and independence."

The treaty is similar to those signed recently with Romania and Yugoslavia. Romania yesterday ratified a treaty signed with Hungary.

Observers in Moscow said the treaty signed today precluded possible participation by Hungary in the Marshall plan or a "western European union."

Home Building Permits Soar

City Building Inspector Lloyd Ross reported Wednesday that permits have been issued for 137 residences costing a total of $1,065,715, the amount breaking all previous records for the same period in the city.

Only about half as many residences of about one-third the total value were issued to the same time last year, according to building department records. Seventy dwellings costing $369,666 were authorized during the comparative period in 1947.

Total Over Million

Boosting this year's total beyond the million dollar mark were 16 permits to South Plains Construction Co. for residences costing $6,500 each, a total of $104,000, in the 300-blocks of Avenue T and Temple.

The total for all construction authorized this year was increased to $1,287,456, about twice the 1947 pace. Permits issued to Feb. 15 last year amounted to $656,045 and to March 1 the total was $860,175.

Services Are Held For Dawson Pioneer

LAMESA, Feb. 18 (Special)—Funeral services for Francis Lee Grissom, 72, well-known farmer in the Shumake community and Dawson county resident for 23 years, were held here Tuesday in Higginbotham chapel.

Rev. Charles Mathis officiated for the services, and burial followed in a local cemetery under direction of Higginbotham Funeral home.

Grissom, who died Sunday, was a native of Johnson county, a member of the Baptist church, and had served several years on the county school board.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Minnie Grissom; three brothers, E. F. and Virgil Grisom, both of Fort Worth, and E. W. Grissom, Lamesa; two sisters, Mrs. Allie Clardy, Galveston, and Mrs. Hattie Shaw, River Bank, Calif.; four sons, E. C. Grissom, C. B. Grissom, M. G. Grissom and H. L. Grissom, all of Lamesa; and eight grandchildren.

Pall bearers were W. K. Crawley, Lee Billingsley, H. L. Jeter, Cartis White, I. L. Brandon, W. A. Tennyson, S. D. Dollar and Louis Atterbury.

Famed Pianist Presents Second Program

Large Turnout Again Applauds Templeton

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

Cherubic Alec Templeton walked off the stage on the arm of his manager at Senior High school auditorium last night in true showman style—he left them begging for more.

Before him in the auditorium resounding with applause was an overflow crowd, larger than Tuesday night's opening program of the feature attraction of the Lubbock Symphony orchestra for the 1947 - 48 season. Approximately 200 persons were turned away from last night's concert.

The audience had heard the orchestra, directed by William Harrod, accompany the distinguished composer-pianist in three movements of Grieg's Concerto in A Minor after playing four numbers at the outset of the evening's program.

The orchestra, under Harrod's masterful direction, was an excellent background for presentation of the celebrated blind pianist in his first appearence in Lubbock. The orchestra played Overture from 'Rosamunde' and Symphony No. 8 in B Minor both by Schubert, Smetana's Moldau and selections for brass and Woodwind Choir before Mr. Templeton appeared on the stage, accompanied by his manager, Stanley North.

Templeton, the artist, and Templeton the mimic then gave a combination of the noble elements of great art and purely entertainment values of good fun in the final 30-minutes of the evening's program. It was in these impressions and improvisations that his audience found delight and stimulus in his unique musicianship.

As nimble fingers danced over the keyboard of the massive piano in the center of the stage, the master pianist's movements were graceful and sure, as if compelled by some insistent inner rhythm, yet somehow began to realize that the source of that musicianship lay, not in his dextrous fingers, but in his unusually acute ear.

For, as he called for suggestions from his audience, it seemed that be caught even the faintest of answers from over the auditorium.

And then as he improvised, it was the typical Templeton and his fun which has made the composer-pianist's name a by-word in every town and hamlet that boast radios.

He took bow after bow at the close of the concert, returning for two encores.

Mr. Templeton was on the stage less than an hour during his entire performance, including time out for well-earned applause. During the artist's own presentation in the latter part of the concert, he appeared for only 30 minutes.

He and Mrs. Templeton and North are to leave today for Abilene, where he is scheduled to play a concert Friday night.

In the meantime, Director Harrod and the orchestra will start rehearsing for their fourth concert of the season on March 9, when Philip Williams, violinist, will be featured soloist.

Testimony Completed in Civil Action In 72nd District Court

Testimony was completed about 6 p. m. Wednesday in the civil action of A. B. Heath against W. B. Meeks, Charles Meeks, and Jack Warden, and the case was taken under advisement by Judge Dan Blair of 72nd district court. The case was submitted without argument.

In the action, which was commenced Wednesday morning, Heath asks a partnership accounting and appointment of a receiver for Lubbocg Barber college, in 700 block of Broadway. The college was organized in January of 1947.

Ross Harden, of the Fort Worth law firm of Harden, Bransford and Harden, and Sam Allred of Lubbock are counsel for Heath. Defense counsel is Homer L. Pharr of Lubbock.

Two-Day Church Session To Open

Opening at 10:30 o'clock this morning, a Northwest Texas conference audio-visual work shop will be conducted today and Friday at the First Methodist church, under direction of the conference board of education.

Approximately 75 persons interested in audio-visual education work in various churches of the Northwest Texas conference of the Methodist church are expected to attend, it was announced from the conference board of education office in Lubbock.

Carter To Be Dean

J. T. Carter, executive assistant at the First Methodist church, will be dean of the work shop.

Three visiting representatives of Methodist boards will help conduct the work shop. They are Rev. Harry C. Spencer, representing the general board of missions, of New York; Dr. Harry L. Williams, representing the general board of evangelism, of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. Howard E. Tower, representing the board of education, of Nashville, Tenn.

Purposes of the work shop are to develop the basic ideas for use of audio-visual aids in churches; to develop appreciation of available help in such work, and to develop a program for use of audio and visual aid. Films available are to be reviewed.

Gen. Roger M. Ramey To Address Kiwanis

The commanding general of the Eighth Air Force, Gen. Roger M. Ramey, will address today's noon luncheon of the Lubbock Kiwanis club in Hotel Lubbock, L. E. Davis, club president, announced Wednesday.

Gen. Ramey was scheduled to speak to the club two weeks ago but was prevented from coming here because of inclement weather. He had also planned to come last week, and again was detained by the weather.

Davis said that the general planned to arrive in Lubbock about 10:30 a. m. today.

All members who plan to bring guests are urged to notify the club secretary, W. C. Rylander, early today.

Lubbock Boy Is Missing

A missing 9-year-old boy, Don Richard Pendergrass, was the object of a search here Wednesday after his mother said he had not been home since Monday.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs F. L. Pendergrass of 1504 Ave. C, left home Monday morning. The latest trace his parents found was from a paper boy who said he saw Don Richard selling newspapers near the postoffice about 5:30 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Usually Goes Home

The boy, said his mother, usually goes straight home after he sells copies of the Evening Journal "He has never stayed away from me a night in his life," she said. He sometimes goes to a movie after selling papers, but she knows in advance where he is going, said his mother.

After the boy had been missing overnight, his mother checked with George M. Hunt school, where he is a fourth grade student and made the highest grade in his room the first six weeks of this school year.

She found he had not been in school Monday and had missed school three days last week. Holidays were observed because of a gas shortage the other two days last week.

Description Is Given

The mother said he had told her he had lost a book and feared a spanking from his teacher. She had told him to tell the teacher she would pay for the book. He did not mention the book Monday morning, however, she said.

The boy has gray eyes, brown hair, freckles across his nose, is four feet 10 inches tall, weighs about 75 pounds and when he left home had on blue jeans, a tan wool jacket, short sleeved tan sport shirt and brown shoes.

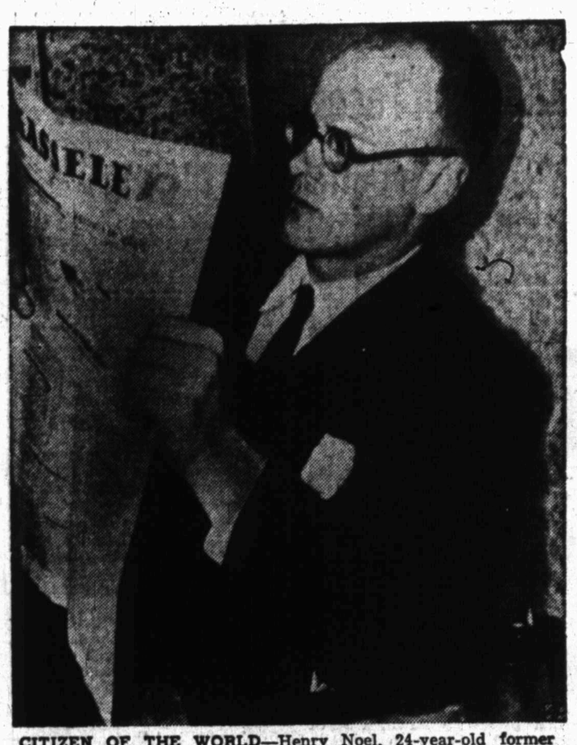

"I can't think anybody would hurt him," said his mother. She said she has considered possibility he may have gone to visit relatives, but believed that the relatives

FELONY CASES SHOW INCREASE

Alarming Figures On Crime In Lubbock County Are Announced

During 1947, a total of 837 persons were in Lubbock county jail on charges serious enough to require fingerprinting, it was brought out in a program in observance of national Crime Prevention week Wednesday at the Rotary club luncheon at Hilton hotel.

The speaker was Waggoner Carr, assistant district attorney, who emphasized that the figures do not include city cases. He said there was a 50 per cent increase in felonies in Lubbock during 1947 as compared with the previous year.

Desertion Leads List

Breaking down the list, Carr said the cases included 11 for murder, 16 for assault with intent to murder, 51 for forgery, 12 for swindling by worthless check over $50, 40 burgarlies, 48 for desertion.

Carr cited FBI records showing that an average of one out of every 23 men, women and children in the United States have at one time committed a crime serious enough to be fingerprinted, and that 50 per cent of all arrests in the nation in 1947 were repeaters. He added that 85 per cent of the occupants of the Texas prison system were considered delinquent during school age.

More Effort Needed

The speaker said much is being done here for youth, but "there is a long way to go yet," because present efforts do not reach many of those worst in need of such work.

Carr was introduced by Harmon Jenkins, program chairman. Club President Rex Webster presided, with invocation by Rev. Wm. F. Blakeslee.

Floyd Lebow was introduced as a new member. Visiting Rotarians included Harry Dean of Sweetwater, Art Cheshe., Vernon Eagan and Floyd Ferrell, all of Littlefield, Y. E. Juge of Fort Worth, A. Steed of Amarillo, George Zimmerman of Waco, and Van Caldwell of Amarillo.

POLITICS SNARL PROBLEM

Anderson Faces Tough Decision On Government Grain Buying

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson is hunting an answer to this grain market puzzler:

When should he start buying wheat again for shipment abroad?

His department got out of the market quickly week before last when prices started tumbling. Anderson instructed government buyers to spurn all offers until prices "stabilized."

Must Resume Buying

They haven't done that yet. And the department must start buying again soon. It needs at least 75,000,000 more bushels by June 30 to meet the government's minimum export goal of 450,000,000 bushels this crop year. President Truman would like to ship 500,000,000 bushels.

What is bothering Anderson is the possibility that whatever he does will cause a holler.

Usually, when the government buys, prices go up. When it drops out, they go down.

When prices go down, wheat growers and other grain owners complain. When they go up, housewives don't like it, because they know it will mean higher food prices.

Taft Makes Claims

Senator Taft of Ohio, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, has said Anderson wants to keep prices high. The Senator says the Democrats then could argue that the Republican Congress failed to grant the administration power to control prices.

On the other hand, Chairman Hope (R-Kas) of the House agriculture committee, has said the department should have bought wheat during the market break to halt the price drops.

Anderson denied Taft's claim. He said he wished the two Republican lawmakers would get together.

The secretary's decision would have been an easy one if the wheat market had kept falling the limit for several more days.

That would have pushed prices down to the point at which the government is required by law to support them. That point is $2.08 a bushel at Chicago and $2.03 at Kansas City.

But prices started fluctuating before they dropped to the support level. If they regain much of the loss before the department reenters the market, Anderson will be on another spot. He will have missed a chance of getting the grain cheaper and thereby saving the government money.

Policeman Given Ticket In Four-Car Collision Here

The usual situation was reversed Wednesday morning when a policeman was given a ticket instead of giving one to someone else.

Two other policemen, investigating a four-car collision at Fourth and Ave. U. gave a ticket to John S. Rucker, 30, of 111 North Uvalde.

But his car was hit by another car, driven by Marion Woodward Strawn, 29, of 302 Ave. W.

Strawn's car bounced off Rucker's and was in collision with a car approaching. The approaching car, driven by Thomas Hendrix Thornhill, 36, of 1010 Ave. Q, was spun around so that its rear struck a parked car, license number of which indicated it had been registered to a Mrs. Cornett of Brownfield.

Strawn was given a ticket charging negligent collision, officials said.

Russians Say U. S. Is Helping To Destroy Indonesian Republic

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 18 (AP)—Russia accused the United States today of shedding "crocodile tears" over the Indonesians while simultaneously helping the Dutch break down the new Indonesian republic.

The Russians alleged also in a blast by Andrei A. Gromyko in the Security Council that the U. S., Britain, Belgium and France were supporting Holland because they have "colonies to which they cling."

There were indications the Americans would fire back at Russia at what they consider the appropriate time.

Iraq In Protest Action

Other UN developments were:

1. Iraq walked out of the trusteeship council in protest against the UN plan to partition Palestine and create an international city of Jerusalem. This council is considering laws for the proposed free city. The Arab countries also walked out of the Assembly when it passed the partition plan last Nov. 29 but since have participated in UN meetings.

2. Arthur Creech-Jones, Birtish colonial secretary, told a news conference the partitioning of Palestine cannot be carried out without the help of an international military force. But he did not disclose Britain's position on the issue of an armed force.

30-YEAR TERM

Convict Fails In Attempt To Flee

DALLAS, Feb. 18 (AP)—Allen Ryle Ross, 30, under a 30-year prison sentence for armed robbery, made an unsuccessful break for liberty while being led from the county jail to Criminal Judge Henry King's courtroom today.

Husky Bob Stewart, court bailiff, frustrated the break but almost ripped the prisoner's trousers off in retaining a hold on his belt. Stewart was taking the prisoner from jail to court.

Arrangements had been made to allow Ross to plead guilty in two additional robbery cases and accept 25-year terms to run concurrent with a like term assessed by a jury two months ago.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

New Mexico Project Opposed By Texans

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 18 (AP)—Texas was sticking to its guns today in opposing the proposed Fort Sumner, New Mexico, irrigation project for the Pecos river.

Charles H. Miller, Pecos river compact commissioner, said here that he has wired Sen. Tom Connally that Texas opposes any further development on the Pecos, pending a final agreement between two states dividing Pecos waters.

Miller said he told Connally that Texas would "in a sense of fair play" withdraw its objections to a pending congressional bill alloting water to New Mexico for the Fort Sumner project, providing:

1. A proviso be written into the bill that the area to be rehabilitated and developed to 23,518 acre-feet per year, and,

2. The authorization of the project and any appropriation therefor becomes effective only when the two states reach a water-division agreement which "in our opinion" will be acceptable to leglisatures of both states.

An engineering advisory committee has completed its findings on the distribution of Pecos waters. Miller said he felt sure that an agreement between the two states, being evolved now by the compact group, could be reached.

Truman Civil Rights Proposal Challenged On Political Grounds

LEXINGTON, Va., Feb. 18 (AP)—A Mississippi publisher has questioned whether President Truman's civil rights program would have been advanced in an election year had the South been an unknown political quantity.

Hodding Carter, Pulitzer prize winner and editor of the Greenville, Miss., Delta Democrat-Times, raised the question in an address last night.

Proposal Justified Morally

Carter said he also wondered whether the President "discovered his interest in civil rights when he was a member of the Pendergast society for the advancement of civil rights in Missouri."

Discussing the proposed anti-lynching bill, Carter said the change needed to reduce lynchings "must come in the hearts of southern jurors and not in the kind of courts in which they sit."

Of the proposed anti-lynching bill he said it has the most moral justification in the program—but the latest justification in fact.

Lynching Has Decreased

"Lynching is the only crime on the calendar which has shown a consistent and striking decrease," he said.

"The South has reduced lynchings to a ten-year average of three, which are too many, but in the single lynching last year the alleged perpetrators were arrested, indicted and tried.

"That they were not convicted was a miscarriage of justice. But the same men who freed them in a state trial would have largely been the same men who would have tried them in federal court.

"The change which will bring about conviction of lynchers, as it has brought about a reduction of lynchings, must come in the hearts of southern jurors and not in the kind of courts in which they sit."

SAYS HIGH PRICE PEAK PASSED—Sen. Charles Tobey (R-NH) points to grocery prices advertised in a Washington paper as he discusses his statement that because of price drops Congress will probably delay indefinitely action on bills to control living costs. (AP Wirephoto).

College Professors Declared Less Absent-Minded Sometimes

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 18 (AP)—Professors are not as absent-minded as their students, according to George L. Donovan, manager of the Student Union at Pennsylvania State College.

Of the $7,000 worth of items found at the Union and returned last year, Donovan said:

LOST 47 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Here is Proof

"When I started taking Barcentrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcentrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcentrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm. I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old.

"Before taking Barcentrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcentrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcentrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcentrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Eula Whitehead, 609 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lubbock Implement Company Receives National Publicity

An 80-foot steel tower supporting an aermotor generator is more or less incidental in operations of the Ford Implement company here, but it has attracted national publicity for the company and Lubbock.

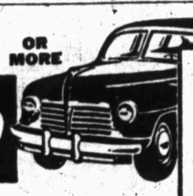

A lengthy article in a recent issue of Farm Implement News, general farm development magazine published at Chicago, is illustrated by pictures showing the tower and different phases of the firm's operation.

With the article is an editor's note setting out that "Lubbock with its mixed farming of cotton, grain sorghums and small grains plus cattle feeding is one of those sections which has gone wholehog for four-row equipment," and continuing to say that "the transition from two-row equipment set up almost as revolutionary a change as that previously from mules to two-row power farming when it took over."

Owned and managed by Vernice Ford, the firm handles John Deere farm equipment, the article sets out. Established by the present owner and his brother, J. O. Ford, in 1928 through purchase of the Myrick Hardware company, the present plant, consisting of two buildings 50 by 200 feet, was built in 1941. The brother withdrew from the firm five years ago due to ill health.

Jewish Shock Troops Doubled In Size During Recent Months

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

JERUSALEM, Feb. 18 — Hagana's shock troop striking force has been doubled in the past two months to at least 10,000 men, a staff officer of the Jewish outfit said today.

Full armored units are being prepared to support attack rather than defense.

Hagana expects Arab attacks on three fronts: against Jewish settlements of Galilee in the north, against the Gaza-Negev area in the south; and against the central coastal stretch in an attempt to separate Tel Aviv and Haifa.

"We are fully aware of the strategic weaknesses of the frontiers of the state established by the United Nations," a staff officer said. "It has therefore been the job of Hagana to examine these frontiers in view of the likely Arab attack and find the weak places and those likely to bear the brunt of a full scale attack.

"Hagana works on the assumption that so far the Arab attacks have been very preliminary—only armed reconnaissance. Our defense of the area so far has been sufficient in relation to what has happened on the Arab side."

Asked whether Jews hope to be able to hold all the territory mapped by the United Nations or believe it may be necessary at first to yield outlying areas, the officer replied:

"It is the general decision that in the present phase and in the immediate foreseeable future, there will be neither any need nor reason to contract our frontiers nor abandon territory.

"Scattered settlements such as those of the north and south are defended not only by Hagana garrisons but by settlers themselves, who are trained militarily All settlers have been trained for years at arms and on plans of defense worked out years ago for each settlement. All have defense systems and training in how to use them."

Affect Of Airline Non-Union Policy On Pilots Pondered

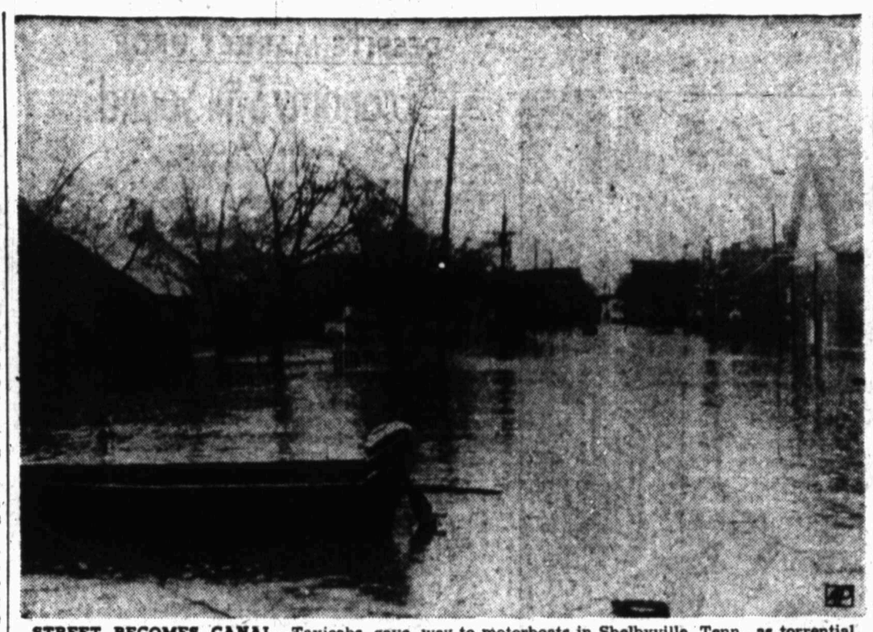

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—The entire airline industry is wondering today how the AFL pilots union will be affected by a non-union experiment being conducted by national airlines.

David L. Behncke, president of the Air Line Pilots association, ordered national's union pilots to leave their jobs two weeks ago. Reasons given were a two-year old grievance case and "concern over air safety" because of a "strike of ground employes."

National's answer was to fire the pilots, advertise for new ones and file notice of intent to sue the union for $5,000,000 in a libel action.

What other airlines are wondering is whether national can make the non-union operation stick. So far national has found enough help to reopen service between Key West and Miami, Fla., New Orleans and Miami, and expects to start New York to Havana flights this week end.

Previous pilots' strikes have generally brought airline operations to a standstill and cost them thousands of dollars.

Story Of Youth's Slaying Near Chicago Is Related As Trial Of Playmate Is Started

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—A jury of 10 women and two men listened today to the story of how 13-year-old Howard Lang slit the throat of his seven-year-old playmate and smashed his head with a piece of concrete.

Assistant State's Attorney Alex Napoli described the slaying of little Lonnie Fellick in his opening statement. The Jurors, most of them parents, shuddered.

Howard Lang, the youngest murder defendant in Chicago's history, bit his lip and slouched in his chair. He gazed at the far corner of the room. His mother, Mrs. Alma Lang, 42, wept.

Story Is Related

Napoli, the prosecutor, began his story of the crime on Oct. 17, the day before it happened, when young Lang stole $10 from his mother. The youth bragged of the theft to a friend, Gerald Michalak, 9, and together they bought ice cream and candy. Lang bought a Boy Scout knife, too.

The next day, Napoli said, little Lonnie Fellick learned of the theft from Michalak. Later, the two younger boys met Lang and they boarded a street car and went to Thatcher woods, a forest preserve which had become a rendezvous for juvenile delinquents.

"There, certain acts of perversion were performed," Napoli said. "They smoked cigarettes and Lonnie talked about the $10 Howard had stolen from his mother.

"This angered Howard. He took out his Boy Scout knife and pretended once to stab Lonnie in the chest with the knife unopened. Then, he really stabbed the boy. When Lonnie started to fall he stabbed him in the back. He stepped on his neck and slit his throat several times.

"But Lonnie was moving, and Howard had Gerald hold his feet, frightening him with threats of murder, too. Lonnie tried to get up, but he was too weak.

"Howard pushed him down, picked up a piece of concrete, and hit him in the chest. Then he hit him on the head, two or three times, and told Gerald to get some leaves to cover Lonnie as he lay there still breathing."

The huge piece of concrete, weighing about 20 pounds, was on display on a table with other exhibits. So was the victim's clothing.

As he entered the courtroom, young Lang looked at the concrete slab and the bundle of clothing and turned away. Then, the undersized, tow-headed boy walked to his seat with an attempt at a swagger.

The bailiff had provided him with a lower chair today, so his feet did not swing in air.

Seated in chairs provided for witnesses were Gerald Michalak, the boy who held little Lonnie's feet, and Anna Mae Evans, 17, young Lang's girl friend, who helped hide Lonnie's clothing after the murder. She wore a red plaid skirt, bobby socks and a cheap fur coat.

Two other boys, Henry Eccles, 15, and Louis Langfield, 17, also were present They helped Anna Mae hide the victim's clothes.

Authorities said all of them would be called as witnesses.

Four Gunmen Rob Banker Of Estimated $30,000 In Home

ABINGTON, Pa., Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Four masked gunmen, wearing gloves, held up the Rydal home of Caleb F. Fox, jr., socialite banker and sportsman, last night and escaped with an estimated $30,000 in valuables.

Fox, his son, Bernard, and daughter-in-law, Hope, were sitting in the drawing room of the palatial home watching a television show when the robbers entered quietly. Two of the bandits guarded the family in the drawing room while the others rounded up four servants in other parts of the house.

Wright Plane To Be Placed In Museum

DAYTON, Ohio, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Wright brothers' plane, the "Kitty Hawk," will be placed in the Smithsonian institution at Washington, executors of Orville Wright's estate announced today.

The craft, first to fly with a man, is now in the science museum at South Kensington, London. Orville Wright sent it there in 1928 in a controversy with Smithsonian officials.

The announcement that the plane, which took to the air at Kitty Hawk, N. C. on Dec. 17, 1903, would be placed in the national museum was made by executors Harold S. Miller of Dayton and Harold W. Steeper of Lawrence, Kas. It complied with directions issued by Orville Wright, who died Jan. 30.

School Lands Near Producing Gas Well May Not Be Sold

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 18 (AP)—Public school lands located within five miles of a producing gas well may not be sold, the Supreme Court held today.

The decision upheld commissioner of the general land office Bascom Giles who had refused a relinquishment of the state's claim on 18.77 arces of public school land in Panola county to C. A. Barber.

The appeal court's decision cited that the 1931 public school land sales act permitted leasing but expressly prohibited selling any surveyed public school lands within a five mile radius of a well producing gas in commercial quantities.

Princess Elizabeth, Husband Bump Taxi Near Royal Palace

LONDON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip escaped unscratched today when their limousine and a taxi bumped near Buckingham palace.

Court sources said the King and Queen were uneasy over the accident. They recalled King George's warning to Philip about his driving after his car crashed, without injury to himself, before the royal wedding last November.

Philip was driving today from Kensington palace to the admiralty, where he has a desk job. Elizabeth, the heiress-presumptive, was to be dropped off at the palace. Traffic was heavy.

Like a common motorist, Philip told a traffic policeman at a congested Hyde Park corner that his car and the taxicab "just bumped and I'm sorry it happened." Court sources said Philip was driving carefully.

TO CORRECT RUMORS

Water Data Needed

EVERY South Plains resident has a selfish interest in informing himself concerning water supplies and prospects of this area as presented to about 50 Lubbock civic leaders Tuesday by W. L. Broadhurst, chief of the ground water division of the U. S. Geological Survey in Texas. If all knew the true facts, it would be easier to correct some of the misinformation circulated recently about this region's water supplies.

It is uncertain how widely these totally false rumors have been spread or how much credence has been placed in them. They apparently have done little harm as yet. But some of them are pretty bad. One is that some South Plains farmers have been forced to abandon their crops or their land for lack of water—a rumor wholly without basis of fact.

Unless something is done to refute such gossip, it might do serious harm eventually. It might affect property values. It might retard growth and development.

NO one knows how the rumors began. Lubbock water shortages of the past three summers may be responsible. People here know those shortages were due to lack of distribution facilities, not to lack of supply. People elsewhere probably would not know that. If they heard of our shortages at all, they might have assumed they were due to lack of supply.

South Plains residents have no reason to fear or hide the facts about their water supplies and prospects. True, they'd like to have more. But they can get along better than all right with what they have.

According to the very best of conservative engineering opinion, there is no foreseeable time when any city or town in this region is likely to run out of water because of failure of well supplies.

Probably there is a limit to the water available for irrigation. But not even engineers pretend to know what the limit might be or when it may be reached. Perhaps it will be just as well to wait until we get a little closer to this particular bridge before worrying about crossing it.

IF a limit is reached, it simply will mean that some farm land can be irrigated and some cannot be. What could be so bad about that? In 1937 with about 100 irrigation wells, compared with some 1,300 now, Lubbock county produced 163,500 bales of cotton— more than any county in Texas. Even without irrigation, this is a great farming country. Irrigation just makes it much better.

Doubtless the future may present its water problems. There is no reason for fear they will not be anticipated and solved. But for the present and for the foreseeable future, there is absolutely no factual basis for fear that this entire area will lack water for all necessary purposes. All rumors to the contrary are plain baloney.

A small town is the place where they generally know how much insurance the deceased carried.

If a man has the long green he seldom turns Red.

Murder At My House

By Rene Ryerson Mart
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Leiphan asks more questions but tells me nothing except that the accident was actually a murder. He wants to know who mixed the drinks at the party. His men search my house. After they leave, I go down to the studio looking for Jeff. Before I find him, Liz Leyden remarks that Avis' death certainly works out nicely for me since it leaves Jeff free. I change my mind about seeing Jeff just then. The police might think we both had a motive for murder.)

XVII

THERE was a double funeral for Avis and Art. From the newspaper descriptions it was the biggest thing of its kind ever held in Hollywood. Traffic was roped off for blocks around the church and the funeral procession that followed the two hearses to Forest Lawn was two miles long.

I sent flowers but I didn't go. I knew I would never be missed in the crush at Avis Vaughn's last public appearance.

I hadn't seen Jeff or heard from him since the night of the accident. But sometime during the two days between then and the morning of the funeral, Bob Leiphan had a talk with him. I didn't know that, however, until later.

It was the afternoon after the funeral that Jeff came over to my place. He looked almost ill. I suppose having to parade as the husband—legal even if estranged — before all those hundreds of curious eyes had been an ordeal.

"I'm sorry, Jeff," I said and took both his hands in mine. It was all there was to say.

He said, "Well, it's over."

I asked him if he'd like to stay and eat with me—I happened to have an extra steak on ice. He looked grateful, said he hadn't had anything all day, and that he didn't feel like going out any place.

I love the kitchen in my house. It's designed like an old New England farmhouse kitchen with a scattering of gay rag rugs on the wide planked floor, potted geraniums in the window recesses, and a square deal table and two long peg-legged benches instead of chairs at the dining end of it. The electric stove sits back in a brick-faced alcove that imitates a fireplace and the ice box is camouflaged to look like an old dish cupboard.

BUT it wasn't as spic and span that day as it might have been. There was a pile of unwashed dishes in the sink, dust on the furniture, and the floor needed mopping. Consuelo, my Mexican cleaning girl, only comes in for a half day twice a week. And she'd spent most of her time on her last visit at the scene where Avis and Art were killed, looking for souvenirs instead of cleaning my house. I apologized a bit to Jeff for the kitchen's appearance and for Consuelo.

He had an idea, "Say, maybe I could get you a full-time maid. Avis had a good one—Marie Maloney, her name is. She's still over at Avis' apartment sorting out her belongings. Want me to see if I can hire her for you?"

"That would be marvelous," I said. "Simply marvelous."

I grilled the steaks and mixed a green salad and set out a bottle of wine (I had driven down to the liquor store that day and replenished my stock of drinks), quipping, "Here's a little 'Suspense'" And that reminded me that we had some suspense of our own to cope with.

I was a little breathless about it. "Jeff, do you know that the police think Avis and Art were murdered—that it wasn't an accident?"

Jeff didn't look at me. He looked down at the table. "Yes," he said. "I know."

Leiphan had suggested that I put my agile mind to work on the why and the how of Avis and Art being killed, and I had been doing just that for the last two days. The only tenable theory I had arrived at was that someone had tinkered with Art's car while it sat there in my driveway. Had done something to the brakes or the motor so that it ran away with Avis and Art when they started down the hill.

INEVITABLY, that line of thinking had linked up with Jimmy Peters skulking around outside that night, watching Avis and Art together in my living room and too jealous to come inside. I had refused to go on from there. The idea of Jimmy Peters with his contagious smile and friendly eyes being the murderer was outrageous But I couldn't quite forget, either, that a lot of boys were coming back from war with some unpredictable kinks in their characters.

But now, talking to Jeff, I remembered something else—something that had happened that fatal night and that I had entirely forgotten. The car lights that had shone along the driveway when I had been down in the kitchen fixing the sandwich tray; and how I had assumed that it was Jeff's car turning in from the street. And how he hadn't come into the house for a good 10 minutes afterward.

All that rushed into my mind, as I looked at Jeff. And I felt as if someone had hit me in the stomach.

The question shaped itself reluctantly but stubbornly. I had to know. "Jeff, what were you doing that night—I mean between the time when you drove into my driveway and the time you came into the house?"

Jeff looked at me then. "I was sitting in my car thinking how nice and simple everything would be if only Avis were dead—and I were free to ask you to marry me." He stated it flatly and unemotionally. A fact to be faced.

"Oh Jeff . . ." I stared at him while my mind spun groggily from the impact of his meaning and things clicked into place and there it was—the mystery solved. And Jeff the murderer!

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IT is a little early to talk about summer when at this present writing the temperature is around Zero and when I was just hit on the head by an icicle.

But you'll be surprised how soon summer will be here again and how, just as we are now complaining about the cold, we will gripe about the heat and the humidity.

(California and Florida papers please disregard the lines about the weather, since in those two states the weather is almost perfect).

With summer will come again what the French call "tourisme,' and what the National Park Service considers a darn nuisance.

BRANDEIS

Because in summer, according to the Service's latest report, American tourist show themselves in their worst light.

"Vandals are ruining the beauty of our national parks," says Newton B. Parker, director of the Service, in his report.

One of the principal nuisances is the carving of names, initials and dates on rock and trees. Trash is thrown promiscuously all over the landscape, in spite of the fact that trash baskets are provided. In the Grand Canyon "a trailside exhibit case and its contents were destroyed; various exhibits were stolen and the station binoculars were badly damaged."

In the Petrified Forrest "initials, dates and pictures were scratched over prehistoric Indian picture writing at Newspaper Rock," and at Crater Lake, Oregon, "bottles, papers, film cartons and camp refuse were scattered with a total disregard of sanitation, cleanliness and consideration of others."

Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug, commenting on the report, said that restrictions upon park visitors would have to be increased because of increasing vandalism.

You know, of course, what will happen when those restrictions are made and enforced.

The not careless and disorderly people will raise the loudest cry about their rights as citizens and about government control.

A lot of people seem to be under the impression that liberty means license.

They seem to forget that rights also impose duties.

IT isn't only your house that is your home.

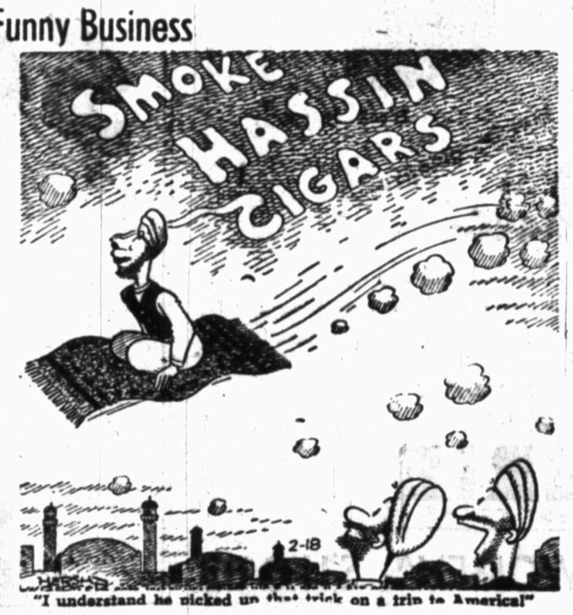

This whole country is your home, and with the prilivege of enjoying every part of it without passport or fee, it also becomes your duty to treat every park, every lake, every mountain, every shore just as you would treat your own house.

And, by the way, in my opinion, only a moron would immortalize his visit to a National Park by scratching his initials on a rock.

Each national park and reservation is a glorious reminder of God's bountiful gifts to our country.

DESPITE MARKET DROP

Economy Still Sound

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Public and private economists here hesitate to assume too dogmatic an attitude toward the present stock and commodity market "scare." But they have a few words of both caution and comfort for a bewildered people, based on their close and comprehensive studies of the situation.

They believe that general conditions are fairly sound. The United States enjoys capacity production, full employment, a good cash balance and extensive backlogs of unfilled orders. Only in a few lines, and mostly unimportant ones, does supply satisfy demand.

TUCKER

Capital expenditures for industrial expansion will amount to $4,100,000,000 for the current quarter, or only $300,000,000 less than the all-time peak for the last three months of 1947. This represents the prevailing confidence of manufacturers in continued demand for their products.

When the Marshall Plan swings into operation, presumably in midsummer, purchases for foreign accounts in the fields of consumer and heavy goods should provide an even stronger support for this high level of production, consumption and employment.

BREAK: The experts believe that the break in prices will be only slight and temporary. With the high rate of domestic and foreign demand, basic food commodities are still short. Inclement weather could be a far more important factor than human contributions to the inflationary trend.

The rush of livestock and grains to market by fearful producers, who anticipated a steadily dropping market for their products, may make meat shortages—and high prices—even more acute later in the year, as will the Marshall Plan's inroads.

PSYCHOLOGICAL: In short, the present decline is regarded as chiefly psychological. As a result of their 1929, 1933, 1937 and wartime experiences, the American people have become more sensitive to pitfalls which they can feel but not see or understand. Nor has their worry been relieved by so many Washington warnings that the present boom is not exactly healthy.

President Truman has boldly used the word "crash" in deploring rising prices and dark prospects. Yet he demoted the government's top banking representative and adviser shortly after he proposed drastic anti-inflation remedies. The White House has also proposed foreign and domestic spending that will probably top $50,000,000,000 in the next fifteen months.

The union's have refused to heed Truman-Baruch warnings against seeking another round of wage increases. Workers who fill such basic needs as fuel, public utilities, food, homes etc. have given notice of their plan to demand more money. While industry may be able to absorb a percentage of boosts, they will be reflected in all price levels.

DEPRESSING: The foreign outlook was never more depressing, especially on the economic side. It cannot fail to contribute to public concern and uneasiness.

Sir Stafford Cripps serve warning that Britain is "broke" again. France has had to devalue the franc—a move that threatens resumption of normal world trade. Russia's recalcitrancy, besides stimulating grave talk of a third World War, forces us to great expense to maintain military and relief units all around the globe.

Even discounting the many unfavorable economic factors, the bleak "new look" of the domestic and international scene tends to make folks panicky.

UNREST: Finally, it is a presidential and Congresional reelection year—always a period of excitement and jitteriness.

It would be against human nature for the Republican opposition not to try to capitalize on these fears and cries of danger ahead. Also to charge that woeful mismanagement at Washington is chiefly responsible for them. Nevertheless, these jeremiads aggravate the pervading unrest.

It may be that we shall fall off the dizzily soaring cloud on which we have been spinning along. But the so-called experts discern no immediate abyss-like descent, while they pray that the Administration, Congress and responsible private forces—business, industry, the financial community, the workers, consumers and agriculture—cooperate to eliminate or soften many of the unhappiest factors.

They do warn, however, that the time is short for stabilizing conditions on a sounder basis—possibly six months at the most.

ABLE: President Truman periodically complains about his inability to persuade, bribe or buy able men to work for the government, in view of the comparatively small pay, the bureaucratic atmosphere and Congressional razzing. His plight in this respect will become even more serious when the time comes to staff the Marshall Plan's organization.

In this connection, the story of Nathaniel Dyke Jr.'s personal experience at Washington may be significant. A prominent Arkansas Democrat, Mr. Dyke journeyed to the Capital in 1942 to obtain priorities for lumber. The war Production Board grabbed him, as it had a habit of doing in the war.

Without pay, he served on WPB, then War Mobilization, then the Smaller War Plants Corporation and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Last August, he shifted to the Home Loan Bank Administration where he had to accept a salary under the law. His colleagues in all these agencies testify to his ability and excellent record.

Few weeks ago, without warning or explanation, Mr. Dyke was notified that his services were no longer wanted.

WINE: "I was surprised to read in your column," says T.F.R. of Brooklyn, "that we are shipping wine to Europe under the Marshall Plan. How come!"

Answer: "We" are shipping wine in the sense that this country is financing the project. None will go direct from the United States, Canada or the whole Western Hemisphere, however. It will be provided by France, Spain, Portugal, Italy and other wine-making countries abroad. American interests may make an attempt to get in on this proposition before final enactment of the measure.

As I wrote recently, although Secretary Marshall and other planners take the view that food and clothing are more important than wine and tobacco, they also believe that "concessions" must be made to "human nature." To many Europeans, of course, wine is a food rather than a luxury, and an essential part of their diet. Or so they think.

The British Labor government was supposed to usher in Utopia overnight, as it were, but to date it has made very little progress towards converting the British Isles into a land flowing with unrationed milk and honey.

"In Argentina a bachelor is taxed 12 days' pay a year to provide a fund to aid newlyweds." It's a small price to pay for liberty.

Believe It Or Not-By Robert Ripley

CHALLENGE TO TAFT GROUP SEEN

Progressive GOPs Also Active

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The confusing and high-flown oratory has died away—myriads of words from thousands of speakers. Once again they tried to re-create a very simple and humble human being by the name of Abraham Lincoln, each after his own philosophy and some after their own images.

Could he have heard he would very likely shake his head tolerantly with that slow, sad smile at how few really understand.

But, out of the oratory this year by various eminent and less eminent leaders of the Republican party that he founded, there emerges one simple fact that is most important for rank and file members of that party, for the nation, and for the world.

The Republican party today is in a struggle within itself, a soul-searching ordeal. It may be compared, perhaps without too great exaggeration, with that within the Whig party out of which was created the original Republican party under Abraham Lincoln's leadership.

Decision Is Important

It is a struggle between those who would compromise the present opportunity by trying to go back to the past and those who would seize the present opportunity as the beginning of advance and progress, both at home and abroad.

The outcome is vital because the Republican party has good prospects of regaining control of the government in the November elections. What sort of party it will be, what sort of leadership it will have, what sort of philosophy it adopts—all of that concerns each of us, for it may concern all of us for a long time to come.

The annual formal observance of Lincoln's birthday this year came closer to this reporter, following it as he did, day after day for a week, up and down the Middle West with newspaper correspondents who trailed along with Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, one of the party's outstanding leaders.

We heard a man who looked backward rather than forward, who spent much of his time in blaming our present troubles on an era of government known as the New Deal and who still makes Franklin D. Roosevelt the issue, who espouses a narrow and restricted role for government in developing our natural and human resources, who advocates a timid role for us in a troubled world. They seemed echoes of speeches, made in self-defense, by Republicans back in 1932.

It was encouraging, therefore, to return and find on the desk a Lincoln Day speech by another Republican, Senator Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut. For it breathed a philosophy of courage, of a big and bold America able to do so much for its own people and distressed people elsewhere. This speech deserves attention because it is the credo of the forward-looking element of the party that seems ready to challenge that headed by Senator Taft.

Nation Faces Challenge

"The future," said Senator Baldwin in his speech delivered at Minneapolis, "is too challenging in this age to waste time or tears on the past. There may be some among us who, embittered by party failure of years gone by, say 'no' to all proposals not their own—and then lack their own. Those who fall into such a position of negativist thinking are allowing their thoughts to be controlled by the political opposition."

And again: "We must be a party of youth. To deserve the support of youth we must be a party led by the ideas of youth—a new party challenging the future, not dreaming of the past. To believe that one day an adoring multitude will fall on its knees to give thanks for our platform of 1932 is to delude ourselves into oblivion."

In contrast to the Taft wing attitude that to protect our freedom we must, in effect, wall ourselves up on this side of the Atlantic, Senator Baldwin says: "We can not see freedom lost in the world and keep our freedom here."

He called for development of our resources "to harness and save more of the potential wealth of our land," for housing, for health and education programs, for "progressive plans and programs—new faces and new goals visualized by the progressive leaders we have in our ranks."

It was a rousing cry for the intra-party battle that may have so great an influence in all our lives.

Damage In Cold Wave Not Great

AUSTIN, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—The damage from last week's bitter cold wave appears to be negligible, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said today.

The wheat crop, in fact, said the department's weekly crop and weather bulletin, stands to benefit from the rains and snow when the weather stays warm long enough to permit growth.

Freeze damage to small grains was not expected by the department's Bureau of Agricultural Economics to be serious, but the full effects of the cold spell cannot be determined yet.

The wintry weather was responsible, however, for losses of newborn lambs in the Edwards plateau, and livestock continued to lose flesh.

Small grain fields were supplying very little grazing, other green feed was short, and hay and roughage supplies were dwindling on many farms.

Snow added moisture in northern and Panhandle countries, but subsoil moisture was still needed in a number of Panhandle counties and over much of the Edwards plateau. Soil moisture was reported to be adequate in other areas of the state.

MARKET TRADING SLOW
NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Stocks virtually stood still today in one of the slowest market sessions of the past year.

The volume of shares traded—610,000—was the smallest 5-hour total since last Sept. 24. It compared with 720,000 yesterday.

Modest improvement of some steels and motors in late dealings enabled the associated press 60-stock composite to finish the day unchanged at 81.2. Of 892 issues appearing, there were 378 declines and 294 advances.

Railroads and some oils were soft spots most of the day, but price changes in all sections of the list generally were limited to fractions.

Commission houses said many customers withheld action in view of uncertainty over third-round wage demands, continued sharp fluctuations of commodities, their effect on business prospects, the final amount of tax revision and extent of foreign aid programs.

The usual $2.25 divided declaration by American Telephone and election of a new president for that corporation left its stock almost unchanged. At 149 7-8 it was down 1-8.

Off fractions were such issues as Southern railway at 35, Rock Island 27 1-4, narrowly higher were General Motors at 53, U. S. Steel 70 1-8, Republic Steel, 25, Consolidated Edison 22, Phelps Dodge 42 ⅛, American Can 77 3-4 and U. S. Rubber, ex-divided, 40 1-4.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP) — Cotton futures declined in moderately active dealings today. Additional setbacks in grain prices caused nervous selling in cotton.

In early dealings the market showed some strength on mill buying and short covering, with new crop deliveries temporarily reaching small gains, but general selling later developed.

The Census Bureau reported January cotton consumption at 860,202 bales against 753,406 bales in December and 949,994 bales in January a year ago. Today's figures were about 10,000 bales lower than trade expectations.

Spots closed nominal at 33.07 up 30.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18 (AP) — Cotton futures declined in the early trading here today but reacted upward later on trade buying and short covering. Closing prices were very steady, 60 cents to $1.40 a bale higher.

	Open	High	Low	Close
March	31.50	31.92	31.49	31.93
May	31.80	32.28	31.72	32.21-23

Oct.	29.31	29.62	29.25	29.55
Dec.	28.98	29.34	28.98	29.22

AVERAGE PRICE
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18. (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was 90 cents a bale higher at 32.12 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 34.06; middling 7-8ths-inch average 29.94.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (AP) — Wheat was mostly lower on the board of trade today, dropping as much as 8 cents at times. In contrast, corn displayed independent firmness. Price changes in oats were small.

A short-lived selling wave hit the pits shortly before noon when the Agriculture department announced livestock on farms on Jan. 1 amounted to the smallest number since 1939. Prices recovered quickly. Cash dealers said corn was not moving off mid-western farms.

Agriculture Secretary Anderson's statement on the wheat situation, coming just before the market closed, attracted attention.

Secretary Anderson said all but 73,000,000 bushels of wheat needed to meet the 450,000,000 bushel export goal had been purchased. This will remain the goal at least until the end of March. Whether an extra 50,000,000 bushels can be exported depends on the rate of wheat feeding to livestock, he added.

Wheat closed with old crop contracts lower and new crop deliveries higher. A late rally developed in 1948 wheat futures on trade reports of a pessimistic crop outlook in Kansas.

Wheat finished 1¼ lower to 2¾ higher, May $2.35-2.35¼, corn was 1¼-3¼ higher, May $2.19-2.09⅞, oats were ⅛-1⅛ higher, May $1.05⅝-½, and soybeans were 3 to 4 cents lower, March $3.37.

Court Test May Be Made On Voting Right At Los Alamos

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Attorneys here today were of the opinion that a court test may be necessary to establish clearly the rights of Los Alamos residents to vote in county, state, and federal elections.

The 1947 New Mexico legislature gave atom city residents the right to vote, but considerable doubt has been placed on the voting privileges of persons living on a federal reservation.

Some attorneys pointed out that a recent decision by District Judge David Carmody held a Los Alamos resident was not entitled to a New Mexico divorce because in his opinion the state has no jurisdiction on a federal reservation.

Hermit Receives Many Proposals For Marriage In Japan

By DUANE HENNESSY
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Feb. 18 (AP)—The bald, 60-year-old hermit of Tokyo is trying to decide which of 2,100 anxious applicants to make his bride.

Ichiro Akimoto, the hermit, said today he is wavering between an eager 55-year-old woman with half a million yen and a 19-year-old geisha.

Other Japanese men seemed puzzled over the hermit's appeal. But they appear to accept his boast that 2,100 women have answered his advertisement for a wife. Akimoto boasts also that he eats two dozen rats a month.

"They taste just like chicken," he told interviewers. I'm not crazy! Why should I pay big prices for food on the black market?"

Akimoto lives in a dingy little house, but makes a handsome profit from his modern, competitive postwar profession: rolling tobacco from cigaret butts into new cigarets.

He said he will settle 20,000 yen on his wife after the wedding, invest 3,000 yen in a business for her, and provide 2,000 yen a month for living expenses. (At official exchange, a yen is worth two cents, U. S., in the black market, far less than that.)

He also said he'd throw in a sewing machine (so she can earn more money) and perhaps a bicycle.

"But I don't know about that bicycle," he reconsidered. "There was a 28-year-old girl nearly drove her mother crazy to let her marry me. I bought her a bicycle. Then we quarreled. She kept the bicycle. . ."

Pampa Man Is Found Dead In Albuquerque Tourist Court

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 18 (AP)—A man identified from papers on his person as A. C. Allen, 44, of Pampa, Tex., was found dead at a tourist court this afternoon.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Harry D. Robins ordered an autopsy.

Police Sgt. A. L. Neete reported there was an odor of gas in Allen's room but a pilot burner and a heater both were found turned off.

The papers indicated Allen was employed by Burke Lines Transportation company of Amarillo, Neete said.

would have notified her if the boy had arrived to visit any of them.

Anyone with a clue to his present whereabouts was asked to notify the mother by calling 5091, a grocery store, and asking that she be called to the telephone.

Mr. and Mrs. Pendergrass have four other children. Pendergrass is employed by the Santa Fe and Mrs. Pendergrass was a nurse's aide at Lubbock Memorial hospital until she resigned recently because of illness.

The Pendergrass were notified last night that Gladys Gilstrap of Ralls had ridden on a bus Monday night from Lubbock with a young boy whose description was similar to that of their son. The boy told her, according to the report, that he was going to Sherman to 'get some things from his kinfolks.' Pendergrass has a sister residing on Route 2 at Sherman.

Pendergrass said last night that he had notified Sherman authorities to investigate the matter there.

STARTED CUSTOM
The Conestoga wagon of pioneer days was the first American vehicle to pass on the right, when meeting another vehicle. Other travelers followed in the tracks and the custom became general.

Mrs. Williams Is Said Resting Satisfactorily At Hospital

The condition of Mrs. Mattie D. Williams, 39, of near Lubbock, who was injured in a collision of two cars on East Canyon hill Tuesday night, was reported last night as satisfactory at Lubbock Memorial hospital. She is suffering a fractured pelvis.

Robert H. Speakman, 34, of Avinger addition, was treated for minor cuts and released from the hospital. Speakman's wife, and R. D. Robnett, 30, of Littlefield, driver of the other car in the accident, were uninjured.

CRASH-LANDER
The sea-going gooney bird makes a crash landing unless stiff headwinds are blowing. It strikes the ground and slides on its breast, or somersaults into the air.
