

Discovery Indicated From Pennsylvania In C-S Kent Sector

General American Oil Company has shown for a new discovery from the Pennsylvania line in Central-Southwest Kent County, about 12 miles southwest of Claremont.

That concern's No. 1 R. L. Spire took a drillstem test in the Pennsylvania line at 6,781-6,863 feet. The tool was open two hours.

Gas surfaced in 25 minutes. No fluid came to the top while the test was open. Recovery was 1,000 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. There were no shows of formation water.

The prospector deepened to 6,924 feet and took a 50-minute drillstem test at 6,884-6,924 feet.

Gas surfaced in three minutes. The drill pipe started flowing mud in 12 minutes and oil in 15 minutes. The oil continued to flow in a steady stream for 35 minutes, at the estimated rate of 20 barrels per hour.

The fluid left in the drill pipe when the test was closed was reversed out. It was 6,424 feet of clean oil and 500 feet of salt water.

Operator is now circulating while waiting on orders. Those orders probably will be to run casing and make production tests.

This prospective new producer is 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 10, block 4, H&GN survey.

It is one and one-half miles northwest of Sunray Oil Corporation and Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 Spire, the discovery well of the Spire-Pennsylvania field.

That development, Sunray and Seaboard No. 1 Spire, was completed for a daily potential of 400 barrels of 42-gravity oil, flowing through a one-half-inch choke, from perforated section at 6,755-71 feet. The pay section had been treated with 1,500 gallons of acid.

It is located 3,300 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 22, block 4, H&GN survey.

Potential Is Slated For Kent Opener

Star Oil Company and associates No. 1 Blanche Young, Southwest Kent County wildcat discovery from the Ellenburger, is preparing to take potential test and complete.

This project had flowed for 10 hours on a production test and during that period it made 600 barrels of clean oil, and no water. That was at the rate of 1,440 barrels of oil per day.

The flow came after the open hole in the top of the Ellenburger, at 7,782-7,822 feet had been washed with 10,000 gallons of mud acid.

The flow was after the load and residue from the treatment had been recovered. Operators were continuing the flow for completion at last report.

This project topped the Ellenburger at 7,782 feet, on an elevation of 2,372 feet. It bottomed at 7,822 feet, after a drillstem test at 7,786-7,822 feet flowed oil in large quantities.

This project is almost on the Garza County line and is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 54, block 5, H&GN survey.

It is five miles northwest of the town of Polar and it is four miles north and slightly west of the two small Ellenburger producers in the Polar field.

Crane Test Indicates Discovery In Connell

A new discovery from the Connell sand of the lower Simpson has been indicated in North-Central Kent County at the Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-L University, a wildcat which is five miles southeast of the closest production from the same formation in the C-Bar multipay field.

Atlantic No. 1-L University found its Connell oil in a drillstem test at 11,472-530 feet. The tool was open 90 minutes.

No fluid came to the surface while the test was open. Recovery was 5,000 feet of clean oil. There was no water. The project is now making hole below 11,551 feet in lower Simpson lime.

It is due to encounter the Ellenburger soon.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure during the drillstem test was between 210 pounds and 750 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 10 minutes was 4,270 pounds.

This prospector is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 6, block 31, University survey. It is 20 miles north and slightly west of the town of Crane.

It is three miles west of the University-Waddell field which produces from the Devonian and from the Ellenburger.

Midland Tex-Harvey Slated For Project

Eighteen miles southeast of the City of Midland and on the north side of the Tex-Harvey field, Tex-Harvey Oil Company will drill its No. 2-10 Mrs. B. W. Floyd and others.

Exact location will be 660 feet (Continued On Page Five)

Truman Flies Back To U. S. From Hawaii

HONOLULU —(P)— President Truman was flying back to the mainland Monday to report on his meeting with General MacArthur on Wake Island while world capitals still puzzled over the significance of that Pacific rendezvous.

The President's plane "Independence" left Hickam Field, Honolulu, for San Francisco at 6:28 a.m. (10:28 a.m., CST), and the "Dewdrop," carrying his top advisers, departed five minutes later. The flight to San Francisco requires about nine hours.

Aides said the President is devoting extraordinary time and care to the major foreign policy address he will make in San Francisco at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday (10:30 p.m. CST). While he will preface his talk with a reference to his conference with General MacArthur on the barren far Pacific island as a move to help the Far East find peace, there has been no indication the President will elaborate greatly on the Wake Island statement.

The statement, signed by the President and initiated by the United Nations supreme command, followed their less than three-hour talk.

No Hint On Decisions. Actually, the most important phase of it was the hour Truman and General MacArthur spent alone in the living room of a guest house before they went into conference (Continued On Page Five)

Kickoff Meeting Tuesday To Open Chest Campaign

A "kickoff" meeting slated at 9 a.m. Tuesday in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer will launch the largest Community Chest finance campaign in Midland's history. The goal is $45,386.

More than 250 division chairmen, team captains, workers and others assisting in the annual drive, volunteers all, are expected to attend the meeting, which will be presided over by Harry Lawson, campaign chairman.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served. And from Tuesday until the end of the campaign, the Red Feather prominently displayed on page one of this issue of The Reporter-Telegram, will be shown in prominent places throughout the city. The Red Feather is the official Community Chest emblem. It will be worn by contributors and workers, and will be seen on flags in advertisements and posters, and at meetings of various kinds.

Every section of the city will be worked by the Chest solicitors and every citizen is urged to "Give One Day's Pay" to the Community Chest.

Israeli Chief Seeks To Form New Cabinet

JERUSALEM —(P)— Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion tried Monday to form a new government in the wake of solving Israel's first cabinet crisis since the birth of the state in May, 1948.

Ben-Gurion resigned Sunday night after three religious bloc members in his outgoing cabinet told him they were withdrawing from the government because they did not like a recent cabinet change proposed in the face of Israel's financial plight.

Later President Chaim Weizmann—asked Ben-Gurion to form a new cabinet for presentation to the Knesset, Israel's parliament. The Knesset reconvened here Monday after a two-month recess.

If the Knesset refuses to accept a new government under Ben-Gurion new elections may be called. The present cabinet continues on a caretaker basis.

Israel's economic situation steadily has been growing worse in recent months. Circulation of currency has been climbing and there has been a wave of price buying.

The Israeli pound, officially worth $2.80, has dropped to as low as 80 cents on the black market.

Final Major Battle Near, Say Experts

TOKYO —(P)— Two Allied spearheads smashed Monday toward the flatland approaches of Pyongyang in an armored race for the Red Korean capital.

The last major battle of the war may be close at hand. There was a growing belief in Tokyo military circles that the war would end in a few weeks. But a long mopping-up period may follow.

Racing for the Red capital were the U. S. First Cavalry Division—the first into Manila in World War II—and the South Korean First Division.

The Americans battled through stubborn resistance Monday in a 16-mile thrust into Sohung, 42 air miles and 60 highway miles southeast of Pyongyang. On a parallel secondary road 20 miles north of Sohung, the South Koreans, paced by American tanks, reached Suan, 40 air miles southeast of the Communist capital.

Both forces were thrusting through North Korea's mountain backbone which shields Pyongyang on the south and east. But it was a torn and dented shield. Field reports indicated the Red remnants were crumbling rapidly. Resistance was fierce in spots, but sporadic.

Toughest Fight. AP Correspondent Jack Macbeth, with the South Koreans, said they "broke into a run" for Pyongyang after charging into Suan.

The U. S. First Cavalry troops ran into their toughest fight, two miles north of Namchonjom, about 10 miles southeast of Snnam and 12 miles north of captured Kumchon.

Although the South Korean column was closest to Pyongyang, it was fighting along a winding mountain road. The First Cavalry was banging up the longer main rail and highway route. Its next main objective is Sariwon, 27 road miles west of Snnam and 35 miles south of Pyongyang.

Two other columns were driving toward Pyongyang from more distant points. The U. S. 24th Division hit from the south and the Republic of Korea (ROK) Third Division from the east. The ROK's moved along a road twisting across the peninsula from Wonsan on the east coast.

It was the first time the 24th Division (Continued On Page Five)

First Registration Of Doctors, Dentists Is Underway Monday

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Defense Department hoped Monday's first medical draft registration will provide a pool of from 5,000 to 10,000 men from which it can induct the 1,533 doctors, dentists and veterinarians it wants by the end of January.

Under the medical draft law passed by Congress, men through 50 can be drafted. Present plans, however, call for induction of only a few in the lower age groups.

Draft boards Monday registered young doctors, dentists and veterinarians who were:

1. Students in the Army Specialist Training or similar Navy V-12 programs during World War II, and who served less than 21 months in one of the services or the Public Health Service after completing their medical education.

2. Those deferred from service in World War II to obtain medical, dental or veterinary degrees.

Others To Sign Later. Other medical men under 51 will register at later dates until January 18, when the registration task is to be completed. No provision yet has been made for the registration of pharmacists, optometrists, osteopaths, X-ray technicians and other medical specialists.

Medical men whom their draft boards find acceptable for military service will be placed in Class 1-A immediately.

A special category—1-A-O—to be drafted right along with the 1-A's, has been set up for conscientious objectors willing to perform non-combat services.

Doctors Register At Draft Board Here

Midland and area doctors who were deferred during World War II or received training at government expense, were registering at Selective Service Board 137 here Monday.

Only two had registered shortly before noon but Selective Service officials said all of them were expected to be registered before the board closed.

 HOLLYWOOD — Behind the

 Ann Sothern's medics still are

 There's a "For Sale" sign on

ON BRIDGE

 By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service

 "We have a bidding problem," writes a Chicago correspondent.
 "My partner and I should have bid three no-trump on this hand but played the hand instead at four spades. Against that contract West took two clubs to begin with and two trump tricks later on. Nine tricks at no-trump would have been of course, an absolute cinch.
 "South said he could not bid no-trump with an uncertain stopper in clubs, particularly when his five-card major suit had been raised.
 My own clubs (I was North) were even weaker, so I certainly couldn't bid no-trump. Is there a logical way of getting to three no-trump on this hand?

 There is indeed a logical way to get to three no-trump. When North raises to two spades, South should wait courteously for East to pass. Then South should open his mouth, should say "Three no-trump," and should close his mouth quietly but firmly. While doing so, he should avoid biting his tongue or swallowing any false teeth.
 Mind you, South is not sure that three no-trump is the best final contract. However, his own hand gives him no reason to suppose that four spades is better than three no-trump. When South bids three no-trump, there is still the possibility that his partner will (with an unbalanced hand) bid four spades.
 But after South has bid four spades there is no longer any possibility of going back to three no-trump. In other words South should not make a final decision when he has no real way of deciding and when he can give his partner a choice.

 All of this, however, is secondary to the main problem. How did South manage to go down at four spades?
 Suppose West begins by taking his "top clubs (the best defense)."
 At the third trick he might lead a heart (as good as anything). South wins and should lead a low trump in order to finesse dummy's jack.
 After dummy wins the trump

So They Say

 I guess every hitter in the league thinks he can hit me, and sometimes they are sure do.

 —Vern Bickford, Boston Braves
 pitcher.

 The more I reflect on your job,
 Mr. Lie, the better I like mine.
 —Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, speaking of the UN secretary general.

 American farmers have done their job of producing abundantly, and they have done it so well that price controls over food and fiber not only are unnecessary now, but unless the emergency becomes much worse, they will not be needed in the future.

 —Clarence J. McCormick, undersecretary of Agriculture.
 This is our chance to prevent world War III. Time is precious. It is running out fast.
 —Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Massachusetts).

 If a man has enough stomach to watch his buddies getting killed, it's strong enough to stand a can of beer a day.
 —An unidentified American general in Korea.

 finesse with the jack, declarer should not dream of cashing the ace of spades at once. South knows that West has the king of spades but he doesn't know where the ten and seven of spades are. His job is to guard against a bad trump break.

 South should get back to his hand with a diamond and lead the eight of spades. If West plays low, dummy plays low, and the eight of spades wins. If West covers with the ten of spades, dummy wins with the ace; and then West can win only one trump trick.

 Naturally, South doesn't know that his eight of spades will win a trick if he lets it ride. However, if East can win the second round of spades with the ten, West will be left with the blank king—which can be taken later by dummy's ace.
 Hence, South will lose only one trump trick even in this case.

Slogan With A Real Meaning

"What You Give Makes the Difference!"

The Community Chest hardly could have picked a better slogan for its 1950 fund appeal. And because the slogan means what it says, you should take it to heart and give enough really to make the difference.

Will unfortunate and needy families receive baskets of food at Christmas time, or must they go hungry on that memorial day when we celebrate the birth of Christ? What you give makes the difference.

Will elderly persons, unable to care for themselves, and others who have met with misfortune find a haven of comfort, or must they struggle along alone, shamefully neglected? What you give makes the difference.

Will the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of our community have sufficient funds to carry on their ever-expanding programs designed to meet the needs of Scout age children in ever-growing Midland, or must they curtail worthwhile activities, failing in many instances to reach hundreds of potential Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts? What you give makes the difference.

Will Midland's Youth Centers continue to function under the direction of full-time directors, providing supervised and wholesome recreation for teenagers, or must the high school youths fend for themselves in so far as entertainment is concerned, providing their own recreation facilities on the streets, highways, downtown corners, out of the way places, or lonely roads? What you give makes the difference.

If you met any of these situations personally, you gladly would give the difference which would turn despair and frustration to hope and joy. You would, at least, give all that you possible could. And you would see at once that what you gave did make a vast difference.

The six agencies dependent on the Midland Community Chest make it their business to help needy and deserving persons and to sponsor worthwhile youth welfare programs. They are the Goodfellows, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Youth Center and Latin American Youth Club.

They are appealing to you, through the Community Chest campaign, to give now during the "six-in-one" drive to enable them to continue their programs.

What you give makes a big difference—an individual personal difference.

And there's one other big, personal difference. It's the feeling of pride and satisfaction which comes to you from generous and unselfish giving.

Volunteer workers will call on you this week. Receive them graciously by responding with a "Gift from the Heart."

Iodine should be wrapped up with every can of sardines taken on a picnic.

Regardless whether you plant radish, beet or lettuce seeds, the same kind of weeds seem to come up.

Living properly, says a pastor, one can live happily ever after. We thought it took two.

What You Give Ma kes The Difference

DREW PEARSON ON

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Have A Laugh

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Unsafe lifeboat gear on seven troopships used by U. S. invite tragedy; President's aversion to whistle-stop tour due to fear he can't repeat his '48 victory in off year; Labor rankled by Truman appointments.

WASHINGTON — Just as the ill-fated hospital ship Benevolence sank recently without lowering a lifeboat, the same thing could happen to seven troopships which still are equipped with cumbersome lifeboat gear, almost useless in an emergency.

These troopships are plying the Atlantic and Pacific today, crammed with G. I.'s going to Korea and Germany, or with dependents coming home. In case of an emergency, they may not be as fortunate as the Benevolence passengers who went down within easy range of San Francisco rescue boats.

These seven troopships carry their lifeboats cradled in Navy triple-bank davits which don't even meet the minimum safety standards of the Coast Guard. It takes ship's power to swing the davits out with any degree of speed. Yet ship's power usually fails in any emergency serious enough to require lifeboats. Though substitute handcranks are attached to the davits, the mechanism is too slow and cumbersome to swing the lifeboats in position within the 10-minute Coast Guard time limit.

The troopships still using triple-bank davits are the Generals W. M. Black, Le Roy Eltinge, W. G. Hann, Stuart Heintzelman, W. C. Lang-litt, M. B. Stewart and S. D. Sturgis. All were inherited from the Army but now are operated by the unified Military Sea Transport Service. As military vessels, these ships do not come under Coast Guard jurisdiction. However, the ship's officers have complained repeatedly about the unsafe lifeboat gear. So far, their warnings have gone ignored.

Navy Explains

A mate who sailed on the SS General Sturgis told this column: "Emergencies likely to be encountered on ships at sea, such as fires, strandings, foundering and collisions, would not only make lifeboats necessary but, on this ship, would make them almost useless."

A Navy spokesman explained that the Military Sea Transport Service has been so hard-pressed for troop ships, since the Korean war began, that there hasn't been time to improve the ships inherited from the Army. The same spokesman denied, however, that a power failure had prevented the Benevolence's lifeboats from being lowered. He insisted the hospital ship was not equipped with triple-bank davits which require ship's power, but with simple gravity davits.

Yet, Capt. Barton Bacon, Jr., commander of the Benevolence, told a Coast Guard inquiry that lack of power had made it impossible to get lifeboats over the side. The frantic crew was able to cut loose only one lifeboat, which immediately capsized.

With illegal, Russian-made mines floating loose in Far Eastern waters, the Navy may be faced with a need for lifeboats unless it installs modern, safe lifeboat equipment in these seven unsafe troopships.

Whistle-Stop Truman?

Before the President decided to visit General MacArthur, Democratic politicians had been begging him on bended knees to make a flat-swinging, whistle-stop tour during the last 10 days of the campaign. Truman, however, has remained, lukewarm.

The inside reason for his coolness is not the official explanation at the White House—that the President is pressed with urgent problems. It is his own fear that he cannot repeat his 1948 victory in an off year.

Presidential secretaries Matt Connelly and John Steelman threw the most cold water on the speech tour, because: "If the boss goes out and does his best and we still lose seats in Congress, he won't be the champ any more. That would hurt in 1952."

Democratic Chairman Bill Boyle and acting chairman director, Senator Clinton Anderson, on the other hand recommend that Truman take the last 10 days before the election to stir up excitement and get voters to the polls. Their reason: confidential and alarming reports that reveal the Democrats will lose key seats unless they get out a big vote.

The surveys show the Democrats must get 55 to 75 per cent of the registered voters at the polls in order to carry such strategic states as New York, Ohio, Illinois, Missouri and California. A smaller vote would lop off Democratic incumbents, and a big turnout would increase the administration strength in Congress.

In most areas, Democrats scout reports that reveal the Democrats will lose key seats unless they get out a big vote.

Truman Rewards GOP

A quiet move in under way by the Army, CIO, and Railway Brotherhoods to bring Truman in the White House and bluntly ask him why Labor has been ignored in favor of Republican big business executives in making recent mobilization appointments.

One Labor official complained to Don Dawson, President Truman's personnel man, "There is only one Labor man in all the new defense setup—El Oliver on Symington's Resources Board."

William Green and Phil Murray also have gripped to sympathetic congressmen. The appointments that particularly rankle them are: William Henry Harrison, former executive of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, as director of the new National Production Authority.

Alan Valentine, ex-president of the University of Rochester and corporation director, as Economic Stabilization director. Valentine was executive director of the Democrats for Wilkie in 1940.

Towering and popular Cy Ching, chief of the Federal Conciliation Service, to be chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board. Ching is a Republican, former vice president of U. S. Rubber.

The United Nations Commission has reported that the South Koreans were just as guilty of war atrocities as the North Koreans—until the U. S. Army found out and put its foot down. Republic of Korea President Syngman Rhee is so busy making political capital out

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Labor Party Has Young Men Backing Up Its Aging Leaders

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

LONDON—A recent public opinion survey in Britain asked the man in the street how many members of the Labor government cabinet he could name. The result was a surprise. Mr. Average Citizen could name not more than these half dozen:

Prime Minister Clement Attlee; Foreign Secretary

Ernest Bevin; Chancellor of the Treasury; Sir Stafford Cripps; Minister of Town and Country Planning Hugh Dalton; Minister of Defense Emanuel Shinwell; Minister of Health Aneurin Bevan. That was about all. It represented only a third of the British cabinet of 18 ministers.

It is doubtful if a similar quiz in the United States on the Truman cabinet would turn up a better average. But in Britain, this bad showing was taken as a sign of weakness in the Labor Party. What would happen when these big six died or retired? Would it be the end, by default, of the Labor government and its socialization and nationalization programs? Or were there some rising young men in the party to carry on?

British political experts, and civil service officials in his majesty's government began looking at the Labor members of Parliament with a new interest.

New, Young Group

Their analysis gave new prominence to a group of smart young leaders, between 35 and 45 years of age, backing up the older leaders like Cripps and Bevin, whose health is not good.

There is a difference between these young men and their better-known superiors. The older men in the Labor Party all came up the hard way, through the ranks of the trades union movement. They had not had what are referred to as "all the advantages."

The younger men are more of the "intellectual" type. They have been well educated. They joined the Labor Party because they believed in its principles and programs, and were fed up with Conservative failures. They are more the type of Sir Oliver Franks, the exceptionally brilliant Oxford professor of philosophy who so ably represents the British in Washington.

The names of these young men who are said by competent British observers to have a real future in the Labor Party are little known in the United States. All are, of course, elected members of Parliament. This is the first requisite for membership in the British sub-cabinet.

There are 17 "ministers not in the cabinet" and 24 "other ministers" which make up this full leadership of the Labor Party government.

Watch These Names

Here are some of these young men going places in British politics, whose names are expected to become better known to Americans in the next few years:

H. T. N. Gaitkell, 44, minister of State for Economic Affairs. He was a first honors man at Oxford, later a professor at University of London. In the recent illness and absence of Sir Stafford Cripps, Hugh Gaitkell has taken over the full load of responsibility.

K. G. Younger, 42, minister of state. The son of a viscount, he was a wartime major in the Intelligence Corps, and later served as an UNRRA official.

J. Harold Wilson, 34, president of the Board of Trade. Another economics professor who served in minor positions in the coalition government war cabinet and as a civil servant.

Hector McNeill, 42, minister for Scotland. A Glasgow-born journalist, he was private secretary to Cabinet Minister P. J. Noel-Baker, as well as a vice president of the UN Assembly in 1947.

P. C. Gordon-Walker, 43, secretary of State for Commonwealth

Relations. A historian and author of "Outline of Man's History," he worked as private secretary to Herbert Morrison, lord president of the Council.

In addition to these five, there is another quintet of younger men on whom the Labor Party relies:

John Dugdale, 46, minister of Colonial Affairs. Son of an Army colonel and a war veteran himself, he served as a secretary to Clement Attlee in 1945.

Alfred Robens, 40, parliamentary secretary for Power. He is a former trade union secretary.

Geoffrey de Freitas, 37, a parliamentary undersecretary of State. Another former Attlee private secretary, he was a Yale student.

A. M. Crawley, 42, parliamentary undersecretary for Air. He remained a staunch defender of Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin for his cooperation with America when that was an unpopular course of action.

R. R. Stokes, 43, minister of Works. He is a manufacturer and a World War I major whose presence in the Labor government has been something of a political puzzle.

But all these younger men sometimes have been classified as "the voices of moderation" in the Labor Party. Not that there is any split seen in the party's ranks or principles. It is just that they are not all-out advocates of reform. And they may play an important part in shaping future Labor government policy.

Garbo Wins Friends But Loses Billboards

VIENNA —(AP)—Greta Garbo has lost to the Russians an East-West war of billboards in Vienna. Garbo's anti-Communist film "Ninotchka" recently was announced as coming to Vienna for the first time to show the Viennese what communism is like.

A Soviet officer marched into Vienna's only billboard firm. He demanded 38 huge advertising spaces. The firm, threatened with reprisals, agreed. Two days later, the spaces displayed Russian announcements of the anti-West film, "The Fall of Berlin."

"Ninotchka's" Western promoters relied on newspaper announcements. Tickets for Garbo, an old favorite of the Viennese, already are sold out for weeks in advance.

HE CAME TO KILL

by ADELIN M'ELFRESH

Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

Miss Maggie's anger died. . . She reached out a scrawny hand. "You don't hate me, child. I can be sure about you."

November rain slanted against the windows and November chill penetrated the bleak old house on Thorne Hill until not even the roaring flames in the fireplace could banish the coldness.

But it was more than physical chill that sent a mental shiver to cavort in Leena Thorne's mind. It was the grim, bitter, frightening knowledge that Miss Maggie had been so terribly right. She shouldn't have come here. No amount of money—not even the magnificent salary Miss Maggie was paying her to act as companion—was worth living in the same house with these Thorne who, though they were her kin, hated her.

One of these days—

Purposefully, Leena blotted out the thought. Let the Thornes squabble; certainly their battles were no concern of hers unless they were directing one of their frequent attacks at old Miss Maggie. Then, and only then, did they pay the slightest attention to Leena. Perhaps that was why they hated her, so Leena told herself. Because she stood between them and the matriarch of the Thorne clan.

Sighing at memory of the most recent set-to, Leena reminded herself that more were to come. When Peter came, for instance.

PETER THORNE was due to arrive in Thorne City on the 4:43 train. Coming from New York on some errand of his own, he had given no information in his terse wire except the time of arrival and "meet me." No "please." No "love." To round out the 10 words, just "meet me."

But that, so Leena gathered, was the way Peter Thorne was. At least that had been the impression she had gotten from Miss Maggie when she had relayed the message, telephoned out from town, to her.

"How like Peter!" the old lady had said in her high, thin voice that sounded eerie no matter how pleasant she tried to look. "I wonder what he wants this time."

So Peter was like the rest of them, Leena had thought then—and now. She supposed he looked like them, too—at least like his brother Jasper, who, though he was short and heavy-set, had a pinched-in face that belonged to a thin, wiry man of early-old age. But Jasper was only 43. . . Or Peter might resemble Agatha, Miss Maggie's "young" sister and Jasper's other aunt.

Miss Aggie, who was 74, laid vehement claim to 61—and managed to look it. She kept her hair up on curlers at night and spent hours each day primping before any mirror that happened to be handy. If she didn't stop using that horrid red-purple lipstick—"Leena!"

MISS MAGGIE'S thin voice rose and fell like bagpipes in a stiff wind. Leena went scurrying up the wide, shining walnut stairs. If Agatha heard Miss Maggie she came too and there would be a scene. Miss Maggie didn't want people feeling sorry for her. Leena paused in the hall outside her employer's door, took a deep breath and went in casually.

"You wanted me, Miss Maggie?"

"Would I have called if I hadn't, young woman?" was the tart reply.

"Of course not," Leena gave her a placating smile. "But it's almost time for me to go to town. Do you still want me to meet Peter?"

"Certainly I want you to meet him! You think I want Jasper running to him with all sorts of lies—or Sonda?"

Leena busied herself about the room. Poor Miss Maggie, with only a few months to live. . . Well, she thought, I'll be nice to her—kind to her. The others were so obviously—just waiting.

Miss Maggie's anger died away as suddenly as it had sprung to life. She smiled and reached out a scrawny hand.

"You don't hate me, child. I can be sure about you."

"Of course you can, Miss Maggie," Leena never called her "aunt" although the old woman was her grandfather's sister; the feeling of kinship just wasn't there.

Then run along and meet Peter. And don't forget to find out if you can—what brought him home." She laughed, her voice cracking with bitterness. "Certainly it isn't love for his old aunt or the decent desire to see her—just once more!"

The 4:43 was late. Leena prowled around the platform, talking with the few villagers whom she knew, watching the expressman maneuver their wagon into place beside the track, anything to keep from thinking how she would ask Peter Thorne, "What are your intentions, old boy?" Golly! What an assignment Miss Maggie had given her this time! It was worse than sending her to the sheriff's office to fingale suppression of the record of Jasper's arrest last month. That hadn't worked at all; she wondered if this would be any more successful.

"Well, if it isn't little Miss Fix-it!"

The voice was laughing, poking fun at recalled embarrassment. Leena felt the first sensation of freezing vanish in a wave of red that swept to the roots of her short-cropped brown hair.

"Good afternoon," she said, turning. She added, "Smart guy," without changing her best conversational tone.

"Meeting someone?"

"Look, Mr. Deputy Sheriff Martin Preston, you made your attitude toward Thorne Hill and everybody there quite plain. So why ask questions now?"

MARTIN PRESTON grinned down at her in the same infuriating manner with which he had refused her—Miss Maggie's, she amended—requested amnesty for Jasper.

"So someone is going to Thorne Hill. Under his own power, I trust?"

"Wouldn't be Peter Thorne, would it?"

"It would," coldly.

"A-ha!"

"Don't be crude!" Leena flung at him. "It's indecent!"

"My dear young woman, so is the way those people feel about Miss Maggie indecent. And so is the way she feels about the non-existent Thorne prestige."

Leena opened her mouth to protest, but a long-drawn-out, piercing whistle announced the approach of Peter's train and she turned away. When she glanced back, Martin Preston was standing in the station doorway, watching her with quizzical brown eyes. A moment later she was being asked if she "by any chance had come from dear-dead Aunt Margaret?"

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

from north and west lines of south-west quarter of section 10, block 37, T-3-S, R-4-E, survey and in Central-East Midland County. Projected depth is 5,000 feet to test the Spraberry pay of the Texas-Harvey field.

Discovery Outpost Is Completed In Union

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Ryburn, one-location north offset to Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Pembroke, discovery well of the Pembroke field in Central-East Upton County, has been completed for a 24-hour potential of 303.75 barrels of 37.5-gravity oil.

Flow was natural through a three-eighths inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 600-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 125 pounds. There was a packer on the casing. No water was present.

This production was from open hole in the Spraberry sand at 6,988-7,106 feet. The sand was topped at 7,039 feet which is on a datum of minus 4,325 feet. Seven-inch casing has been cemented at 6,988 feet.

Magnolia No. 1 Ryburn is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 1, block O, E-4-R survey.

Humble's No. 1 Pembroke was completed through perforations at 7,030-7,101 feet and is now making 30 barrels of oil per day on the pump, plus 12 per cent water. It is also producing from the Spraberry sand.

Deep Exploration Spotted In Pecos

Phillips Petroleum Company has filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas for permission to drill a 14,500-foot wildcat in South Pecos County.

The proposed prospect will be the No. 1 Puck (M. C. Puckett & Son ranch) and will be spudded by October 30.

Location will be 665 feet from north and 661 feet from west lines of section 28, block 101, TCRB survey, and 30 miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

Drillsite will be three miles west of Phillips No. 1 Ada. C. Price, abandoned in 1945 after it had reached a record depth of 15,279 feet. It had shows of oil, but not enough for commercial production.

The No. 1 Puck is to be drilled into the Ellenburger.

Dawson Area Is Set For Five Explorers

James H. Snowden and associates of Fort Worth have staked location for two wildcats in East-Central Dawson County and are making plans to drill three others in that area.

Snowden and others closed a deal with Gulf Oil Corporation which calls for the drilling of the five wildcats to the Pennsylvanian, or 9,000 feet, on the Carrie S. Dean ranch.

Gulf turned a 16,000-acre farm-out to Snowden and others, consisting of five drilling blocks of 3,200 acres each. A Pennsylvanian test must be drilled on each of the blocks, with the first two to be started within the next 30 days.

The first two will be in the northeast corner of section 30, and southeast corner of section 32, block 1, J. Poltevent survey. Locations have not been made for the remaining three.

The location is in section 30, half a mile east of the Gulf No. 1 Dean, abandoned at 10,455 feet in 1944.

Each of the five blocks adjoins the other. Snowden and associates obtained full rights to 400 acres around each of the five Pennsylvanian tests. Gulf retained a half-interest, after expenses are recovered, on Spraberry rights in each of the 3,200-acre blocks.

The Gulf block is only four miles north of the Spraberry pool in Southeast Dawson County.

Four Wildcats Are Slated For Runnels

Four wildcats have been scheduled for immediate drilling in Runnels County. Two by Continental Oil Company and one each by Jay Kirkman and McMurrey and others.

Continental will drill its No. 1 J. W. Ash, 1,900 feet from south and 2,900 feet from east lines of A. B. Huthelton survey 4. Scheduled destination is 5,800 feet with rotary.

Drillsite will be two miles south of Wilmett in Northwest Runnels County.

The other Continental prospect will be the No. 1 Schertz, which will be drilled in Southwest Runnels, 330 feet from north and west lines of the 229-acre H. Schertz lease, Dillard-Cooper survey and two and one-half miles northwest of Rowena. It is slated to go to around 5,000 feet with rotary.

The Jay Kirkman venture will be the No. 3 A. W. Malone, 812 feet from west and 759.5 feet from south lines of tract 38, M. J. Parramore survey 36 and seven and one-half miles northeast of Ballinger. Contract depth is 2,400 feet with rotary.

McMurrey and others will drill their No. 1 Rogers 1,330 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of Jim McMurrey 187-acre lease, E.

Wildcat Is Scheduled For C-N Kent Area

Bert Fields of Dallas will drill his No. 1 Gerard trust as a 7,500-foot wildcat in Central-North Kent County, 12 miles north of Claremont.

Drillsite will be 660 feet from south and west lines of section 44, block 1, H&GN survey and six and one-half miles northeast of the Salt Creek field of Northwest-Central Kent County.

Operators with rotary are to commence immediately.

C-E King To Be Site For Tester

The Ard Drilling Company and others No. 5-W R. B. Masterson will be drilled as a 5,600-foot rotary wildcat in Central-East King County, 15 miles northeast of Guthrie.

Exact location will be 660 feet from south and west lines of section 55, A&B&F survey.

Operations are to begin immediately.

Schleicher Wildcat Gets Water In DST

National Associated Petroleum Company No. 1 Boyd, wildcat in extreme Northeast Schleicher County, is drilling below 5,195 feet in lower Pennsylvanian lime after recovering 1,500 feet of gas-cut salt water in a drillstem test at 4,889-4,908 feet.

With tool open two hours and 10 minutes, there was a blow of air at the surface for most of the period. Total recovery was 75 feet of slightly oil, gas and water-cut mud and the gas-cut salt water.

Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 680 pounds. Shut-in bottomhole pressure after 15 minutes was 1,810 pounds.

This venture recovered 60 feet of free oil, 60 feet of heavily oil and gas - cut drilling mud and 2,500 feet of salt water on a previous test in the Strawn lime at 4,834-44 feet.

Operator will continue to make hole until the projected depth of 5,500 feet is reached, if production is not found at a lesser depth.

Location of the No. 1 Boyd is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 23, block H, GH&SF survey and 28 miles northeast of Eldorado.

Salt Water Found In Tom Green Test

Sun Oil Company, J. J. Perkins, Charles N. Prothro and Howard W. Green No. 4 Claude Linthicum, indicated opener of a second and shallower pay in the Palo Pinto — in the Pulliam — Strawn field four miles west of San Angelo in West-Central Tom Green County, had salt water on a drillstem test at 5,194-5,210 feet.

Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 3,900 feet of salt water. Operators are drilling below 5,350 feet in shale.

No. 4 Linthicum entered the Palo Pinto at 5,075 feet, 3,116 feet below sea level.

On its first drillstem test in that formation from 5,078 feet to 5,105 feet, recovery was 1,120 feet of clean oil, 120 feet of oil and gas cut mud and 868 feet of salt water with a sulphur odor.

Oil flowed to pits for one hour on the next drillstem test at 5,140-61 feet. When the tester was pulled, 930 feet of oil was recovered. There was no water. A barren zone was encountered, then a one-hour drillstem test from 5,168 to 5,183 feet recovered 540 feet of clean oil and 120 feet of oil cut mud, which was 20 per cent oil.

Location of the project is in the southwest corner of section 1, A&B and M survey. It is an east offset to Sun No. 2 Linthicum, a flowing well from the Strawn and a south offset to No. 2 Pulliam, the discovery which is now producing on a pump.

Continental Is First With VOR Equipment

DENVER—Continental Air Lines has established a world first in the regular scheduled air line industry by having its entire system designed for civil airways and air traffic utilizing VOR—visual omni-direction radio range-control, according to O. R. (Ted) Haueter, vice president in charge of operations.

Continental, through the efforts and cooperation of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the Air Transport Association, the Air Force and Navy, began pioneering this first large-scale experimental testing of VOR more than a year ago.

The new omni equipment has been thoroughly proved and procedures have been worked out carefully, Haueter said.

Continental also initiated a year ago a program for training pilots and familiarizing traffic and station personnel in the utilization of these ranges.

Texas' Mild, Fair Weather Continues

By The Associated Press

Texas had another day of mild, generally fair weather Monday.

Temperatures ranged mostly in the 80's, and the only rains sighted were a few isolated showers in West Texas. The Panhandle is due to have somewhat cooler temperatures Tuesday.

For the first time in several days, a little rain fell in the state Sunday. The largest amount reported was 21 inch at Salt Flat.

Britain Curbs Iron Curtain Shipments

LONDON —(P)— Britain has clamped down on shipment to Iron Curtain countries of materials needed for defense.

The Board of Trade announced that hereafter export licenses would be required for the shipment of molybdenum, nickel, spent oxide, sulphur and certain sulphur mixtures.

The order followed disclosure in August that 50 tons of molybdenum—used in the production of high quality steels—had been bought from the United States and then sold to Soviet Russia.

vision had been reported in action since it swept up "Heartbreak Highway" from the old Pusan beachhead to recapture Taejon, in South Korea.

Bay Time With Blood

Units of the 24th Division, flown to Korea from placid occupation duty in Japan, were the first Americans hurled against the Red juggernaut after the June 25 invasion of the South Korean Republic. The 24th fought a series of bitter withdrawals. It fought valuable time with blood.

The 24th Division entered Yonan, just south of Parallel 38 and 50 miles northwest of Seoul, after a brief fight. Either the Reds were confused or sought the safety of imprisonment because they fled south toward certain encirclement.

Elsewhere, the only escape for the North Koreans appeared to be north of Pyongyang, on the west coast, and north of Hungnam, on the east coast. The latter is on the heavily bombed road to Manchuria and Soviet Siberia.

The South Korean Capital Division was moving northward along that east coast route from captured Yonghung, 30 miles north of Wonsan. Yonghung is 30 miles south of Hungnam, big chemical center.

Guerrillas Overwhelmed

In the central sector of the front slanting across the peninsula, the South Korean Eighth Division seized Koksan after an 18-mile thrust in 12 hours. Koksan is 50 air miles southeast of Pyongyang.

South of Parallel 38, ROK troops overwhelmed a large guerrilla force that swooped down from the hills into the east coast port of Samchok. Intelligence officers reported the surviving Reds quit because they had lost confidence in their officers.

The mop-up continued elsewhere in South Korea. General MacArthur's headquarters reported a total of more than 65,000 prisoners.

Low overcast skies limited to only 30 the close support sorties of U. S. Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers. The Air Force summary reported 150 enemy casualties. B-29's flew over the clouds and used radar to hit rail bridges north of Pyongyang and targets at Chongjin.

New Atrocity Reported

A new atrocity report came from a South Korean prisoner who escaped in the Yonghung area. He said the Communists executed 800 South Korean prisoners near Wonsan and fled northward with 100 American prisoners.

The prisoner said he heard Red officers plotting to take the Americans to Manchuria. Of the 800 ROK soldiers killed, the bodies of 300 were burned with gasoline, the prisoner said.

In Tokyo, military circles buzzed with speculation of a possible sledgehammer knockout blow. This talk was touched off by MacArthur's return to the Japanese capital from his Wake Island meeting Sunday with President Truman.

MacArthur said the conference dealt with Orient problems "particularly the Korean, Japanese and Philippine areas." But he gave no details, leaving that to Truman.

Bertie Haigh Speaks At Kiwanis Session

Bertie Haigh, representative of University Lands here, explained the history of Texas-owned land for members of the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon meeting Monday noon in Hotel Scharbauer.

Albert Kelley presided at the session.

Haigh told of the history of the Texas-owned land, dating back to 1839, and of the donation of land to railroads and the trading of 3,000,000 acres for a state capital. He said one out of every 10 sections owned by the state today is earmarked for the University of Texas.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to the annual Kiwanis Minstrel Revue, scheduled October 24-25. Joe Koegler, general chairman of the show, presented team captains who explain progress made so far.

Tickets to the minstrel were given to each Kiwanian for sale. Kelley explained the minstrel has been a sell-out in recent years and urged persons to buy tickets early in order to insure getting seats. The minstrel will be held in the City-County Auditorium.

Daddy Ringtail And Voices Talking

Uncle Bunkum was sitting on a log in the chicken yard where Daddy Ringtail's chickens live. Mugwump Monkey was with him, and they were looking at the rooster with all of his pretty rooster feathers. Yes, and how much fun to grab a handful of rooster feathers away. That's what Uncle Bunkum was thinking. Mugwump was thinking it too.

Suddenly came a mysterious noise of "Bong-g-g-g!" The noise was the getting ready of Uncle Bunkum's conscience to give him a talking to. "Uncle Bunkum!" said the voice of his conscience, "you are a rascal... Oh, you can't see me. Nobody can see a conscience, but I go with you wherever you go. I try to keep you out of mischief. Oh, it is hard, hard work to do it."

"Sorry to keep you so busy, Mister Conscience," Uncle Bunkum said. "Oh," said the conscience, "I like to stay busy. I like to keep you out of mischief when I can, but Uncle Bunkum, you were about to grab away a handful of rooster feathers. Shame on you, Uncle Bunkum!"

And Uncle Bunkum was ashamed. He was all for going away and leaving the rooster alone, but another voice began to talk... It wasn't Mugwump's voice who talked. It was the voice of the Other Mugwump—the one who works as hard to get Uncle Bunkum into mischief as Uncle Bunkum's conscience works to keep him out of mischief.

"Don't do it!" said Uncle Bunkum's conscience. Oh, it was really something to hear the voices without seeing the people talking. Neither Uncle Bunkum nor Mugwump knew which of the voices to listen to. Really now, those rooster feathers are in terrible danger, but tomorrow I'll tell you about the fight between the Other Mugwump and Uncle Bunkum's conscience.

ESCAPE WILD DOGS

WAU, SUDAN —(AP)—A pack of wild dogs chased a lion into a native hut but were scared away by the shouts of an old woman. The lion, authorities reported, sauntered out after the dogs had fled, uninterested in the howling woman.

Gunshot Wounds, Traffic Mishaps Take Lives Of Six Texans

By The Associated Press
Violent death came to at least six persons in Texas during the weekend. Three persons died of gunshot wounds and three in traffic accidents.

Surprisingly, not a fatal traffic accident occurred in Dallas, jammed with the greatest crowd in its history because of the doubleheader football game. For one reason, the traffic jam was so great automobiles moved at a snail's pace in many sections.

Violent deaths reported between midnight Friday and midnight Saturday included:

Robert Whitener, 33, of Corsicana died Monday of injuries suffered Friday night in an automobile collision.

Club Operator Shot
Sylvester J. Cuchla, 32, night club operator and taxi driver, was shot to death in his club Sunday night in Houston. Edward B. Evans, 54, club manager, was charged with murder.

Allan Curry, 22, of Houston died of traffic injuries suffered Sunday in Houston.

Wayne S. Worley, 17, died of a pistol shot Sunday at Fort Worth. A coroner's verdict of suicide was returned.

R. D. Walthall, 46, of Dallas died Sunday after he was shot out of a pecan tree by an 80-year-old hunter two days before. The hunter said he thought he was shooting at a squirrel.

Henry LeRoy Banning, 25, of Gainesville was killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding overturned near Graham.

Suit Involving John Scharbauer Lands Is Moved To Odessa

ODESSA—A suit involving properties of the John Scharbauer Estate in Midland and Ector Counties has been filed in the district court here, transferred on a change of venue from Fort Worth.

Mrs. Annie Zinn Evans, widow of an attorney for the executors of the estate, has been in the courts for several years, seeking settlement of a claim for services made by her husband.

According to a contract filed in the papers of the case, William L. Evans, attorney, was to handle the prosecution and compromise of a suit by the estate executors against several major oil companies.

The sum of $110,000 reportedly was paid by Skelly, Standard of Texas, Tidewater Associated, Cities Service and Phillips in damages. Oil Royalties

The contract also said that aside from the 10 per cent to be paid on the amount obtained in damages, 10 per cent was to be paid on oil royalties obtained from wells drilled as a result of the suit.

It also said that increase in value of the estate's land should pay off 10 per cent to the attorney. Value of the land was set at $20 an acre at the time of the contract, Feb. 1, 1944. The land now is believed to be worth many times $20 an acre.

The widow also asks 10 per cent of the royalties from at least one well she says was drilled and brought in as a result of the suit.

The suit is filed as that of Mrs.

CHIROPRACTORS RETURN FROM STATE CONVENTION

John Raskob Dies At Maryland Home

CENTERTOWN, MD. —(P)—John J. Raskob, behind-the-scenes political figure of the 1930's and a pioneer in the automobile installment-buying plan, died at his estate here Sunday. He was 71.

A requiem mass will be offered at 11 a.m. Wednesday if his widow, Mrs. Helena B. Raskob, arrives by that time from Arizona. If not, the mass probably will be delayed pending her arrival.

As a former chairman of the finance committee of General Motors, and associate of the Du Ponts of Wilmington, Raskob was one of the country's leading industrialists.

But he was most remembered for his political experiences. He dropped out of his business positions in 1928 to back Al Smith in his unsuccessful bid for the presidency.

Despite the setback, he remained a power in the Democratic Party—and one of its chief contributors—until 1932, when factional breaks resulted in his assuming a more minor role.

Midland Oil Man Makes Two Strikes In Mountain Area

DENVER —(P)—Ralph Lowe, a Midland, Texas, oil operator, must think the Rocky Mountain region is the promised land for the wildcat driller.

So far, Lowe has tried just twice in the mountain country. His score: two strikes.

The Texan's first well, in the South Cole Creek region of Converse County, Wyoming, struck oil in the Dakota Sand. Last week, his second well, drilled in partnership with B. A. Goodall and Clark Sergeant in the South Glenrock area of Converse County, began flowing a strong, steady stream of "black gold" from the muddy sand.

Lowe isn't the only wildcat who has been blessed by lady luck in Wyoming. In the last few years, the rate of oil and gas discoveries in that state has been the highest in the nation.

The General Petroleum Corporation is making final tests of an Amber Sand discovery well at Slick Creek in Washakie County, Wyo. Last week, the well flowed 768 barrels of oil in 15 hours.

Two other oil finds and one gas discovery were chalked up in the region.

NEW, MIRACLE! ELECTRONIC EAR HIDES DEAFNESS

CHICAGO, (Special)—An amazing new electronic ear which hides deafness and transmits even whispers with startling clarity, has been revealed by a noted Chicago electronic scientist.

He disclosed that this miraculous new discovery has rendered old-style hearing aids obsolete almost overnight, and brings new hope to the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing.

He reported that this electronic ear enables the deaf to hear without any button showing in the ear and without dangling battery wires.

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this new miracle electronic ear which hides deafness, full details are described in a fascinating booklet, "New Discoveries to Help the Deaf Hear."

It will be sent free in a plain wrapper to anyone who requests it. Address: Electronic Research Director, 1450 West 19th Street, 672C Belmont Building, Chicago 8, Ill. A penny postcard will do.—Adv.

Why did we do it?

(Why did we invest millions of dollars in a new "Cat" cracker?)

Wasn't the Marathon Gasoline we were turning out "good enough"?

It was... then! But, frankly, it wouldn't have been, today.

For, in America, your competitors won't let any product of yours be "good enough" any longer than they can help it.

They have a healthy, selfish interest in making a product better than you do... a better product means more customers.

So they work hard at being better. And we work hard at being better.

Result: You, the customer, wind up with something better for your money. A better gasoline. A better automobile. A better refrigerator.

Oil Progress Week seems like a good time to remember that this idea of trying to do a better job than the other fellow is responsible for most of the good things we enjoy. It will be responsible for most of the good things our children will enjoy.

We ought to be pretty jealous of this made-in-America idea, don't you think?

Pampa, Lamesa Put Records On Line In Top Schoolboy Tilt

By The Associated Press
Pampa, power of the Panhandle, meets Lamesa in the feature game of Texas Class AA schoolboy football this week.

It is the only test matching undefeated, untied teams and is a tough one for a surprising Lamesa eleven that has plugged along practically unnoticed.

Others of the select circle of unbeaten, untied teams face strong foes this week. For instance, Freeport engages Pasadena and Texarkana runs into Tyler.

In addition to Pampa, Lamesa, Texarkana and Freeport, teams undefeated and untied are Breckenridge, Palestine, Cleburne, Port Arthur, Galena Park, Corsicana, McAllen and Midland.

Corsicana is the only unscathed eleven. Breckenridge was in that class until last week when the Buckaroos whipped Crozier Tech of Dallas 47-7.

There are 36 games on the week's schedule with 11 of them conference affairs.

Big Spring Drops One
Conference play is quite heavy in the East and South Texas districts. However, the Pampa-Lamesa game overshadows any of the title tilts. Then there's that annual grudge battle between Amarillo, on the cumb back up after taking the bottom, and Lubbock, which was unbeaten until last week when it fell to Pampa 27-21.

Big Spring was the only undefeated, untied team to tumble. The Steers took it on the chin from San Angelo 32-7.

Four teams that were undefeated but had been tied also were ushered out. Longview lost to Texarkana 7-6, Sweetwater to Midland 21-6, Pasadena to Conroe 20-12 and then there was Lubbock.

Ten of the 12 undefeated, untied teams have games this week. Midland, Port Arthur, rated generally No. 1 in the state, and Breckenridge have open dates.

Monahans Lobos Tag Denver City 21-7

MONAHANS — Apparently playing under wraps while under the stars of rival District 5-A coaches, Monahans rolled over Denver City here Saturday night 21-7.

Teddy Whitmire and Gloyd Walsh did most of the mail-carriering for the Lobos, directed by 130-pound Quarterback Maurice Hodges.

Whitmire scored first for the Lobos on a 20-yard jaunt in the first quarter. Hodges followed with the second marker in the next quarter, carrying over from 12 yards out. Hodges scored the final in the fourth period, scooting six yards.

Bob Moore bucked over for the only Denver City marker.

The Lobos, boasting a perfect 4-0 record in district play and a 5-0 record for the season, continue district wars this week, tangling with Andrews in the Mustangs' back yard.

FORMER BULLDOG — William Frank (Dunny) Goode, one of the top pass receivers in the nation last year with 11 touchdown grabs to his credit as a Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy right halfback, is off to the races again this year. Goode, who played for Midland in 1945-46-47, has latched on to 10 tosses this season for a total of 180 yards in the first four games. Three of the passes were for touchdowns. Goode tallied against Arizona University, running a kickoff back 90 yards.

Class A Schoolboy Unblemished List Is Trimmed Down To 18

By The Associated Press
There are just 18 undefeated, untied football teams left in Class A schoolboy football, and chances are this list will get slimmer every week.

Three perfect teams were tripped last week—Dublin, Mt. Pleasant and Uvalde. One unbeaten but tied team fell, Henrietta.

The favorites in the 32-district division came through with ease, if they played. Some were idle, getting ready for big games this week. There are 106 games on tap this week, most of them district affairs.

Point-A-Minute Team
The two top teams of Class A, defending champion Littlefield and New Braunfels, won one-sided games last week. Littlefield trampled Mulhouse 51-13, and New Braunfels rolled over Luling 50-0 to become a "point a minute" team. The Unicorns have played six games, scored 294 points.

In the "big game" of last week, Mt. Vernon knocked off Mt. Pleasant 29-13. The two had been undefeated and untied.

Ranger kicked Dublin out of the perfect class 34-25. Brady dumped Uvalde 22-12, and Newcastle routed Henrietta 20-0.

The teams with perfect records are Littlefield, Monahans, Kermit, Haskell, Olney, Newcastle, Arlington, Mt. Vernon, Sulphur Springs, Hearne, LaVega, Georgetown, Brenham, Gonzales, LaMarque, Sinton, Mercedes and Pearlsall.

Teams that haven't been beaten, but who have been tied, include Shamrock, Crowell, Pleasant Grove, Terrell, Elgin, New Braunfels, French, Wharton, Donna and Alvin.

Bulldog Booster Club To Meet At 8 P.M. Tuesday
The Bulldog Booster Club will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the junior high school cafeteria.

President Russell Cotton urges all Booster members to attend. "I think it will be a fine way for the football fans and boosters of Midland to show their appreciation to the coaches and boys for the win over Sweetwater," Russell said.

Films of the Bulldog's 21-6 victory over Sweetwater will be shown. Scouts will report on what to expect from Brownwood, the team to host Midland Friday night.

Army, Oklahoma Over Hump; SMU Still Has Bumps

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK—(P)—Army and Oklahoma were over the big humps in their schedules Monday and headed toward new perfect seasons that could provoke a hot dispute over the national football championship.

Southern Methodist, the other member of the college sport's terrific trio, faces a lot of possible lumps in a conference that prides itself on knocking over the favorite.

As a starter, the Mustangs meet the defending Southwest champion, Rice, Saturday night in Houston. The unbeaten, untied Owls, who smothered SMU 41-27 last year, could do it again.

Meanwhile, Army's Black Knights, having mauled Michigan 27-6 with an awesome display of might, should expect no trouble until they run against Stanford November 18 in the next-to-last game of the season.

Pennsylvania comes up November 4 for the West Pointers but the Quakers should offer little resistance for Earl Blaik's powerful, hard-hitting team. Army will meet de-emphasizing Harvard Saturday, Oklahoma, 14-13 last gasp winner over Texas in Dallas' Cotton Bowl, has no other assignment that looks anywhere near as tough.

—KR—
Last week, Midland had won three games, lost none, but no one knew for sure what the Bulldogs had done. They were a "mystery team"—a team that had not proved itself; a team that might be very, very good or very, very disappointing.

But the picture has changed. Midland handed the number seven team in the state a 21-6 beating, and did it in a convincing style. Now everyone is saying: "Tugboat Jones has got it at Midland this year."

—KR—
Therein lies the difference. Whereas last week, teams did not especially point toward the Bulldogs, this week they all will start "laying" for Midland.

And Brownwood will be the team that tries to knock off the Purple eleven this week. Sports writer Bob Penn of Brownwood told us in Sweetwater Lion Coach Abe Houston already has been boosting his charges to knock the Bulldogs off. You can imagine how the tempo will increase now that Midland has proved its worth.

—KR—
Not only Brownwood, but every team Midland will play the remainder of the season will be gunning to beat the Purple. That's a price you pay for being tops, or near the top—every team wants to knock you off.

The way we see it, from now on it will be a matter of personal pride with the Bulldogs. They either will have it or they won't. Last week, without a doubt, they had it. We hope they will keep it.

We think the Bulldogs will agree that a "fired-up" team is capable of many things. They may look back at their own play against Sweetwater to recall that.

Brownwood has but one win and four losses—but all that will be cast aside Friday night. Midland will be favored. And you can bet your bottom dollar Brownwood will be out to upset the apple cart.

Any team can lose, Bulldogs. Any team.

—KR—
DOTS AND DASHES: Dalmon McNair, who has dashed the weekly games in District 5-A for The Reporter-Telegram, says Kermit's Rick Spinks is one of the best backs he has seen in high school football—and that includes Class AA and City Conference—Spinks ran his season scoring total to 102 points in five games, tabbing 14 against Andrews last week. . . Stan Coker, Bob Wood, and Jimmy O'Neal were lauded in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram for brilliant defensive work against Sweetwater. . . the boys did play great ball. . . not only those three, but all the Bulldogs.

Thanks to Doyle Elliott and Sam Irving, radio announcers of KCRS here, who helped us spot and keep statistics at the Midland-Sweetwater classic. . . Irving, by the way, was world's welterweight wrestling champion in 1931-32. . . That was when wrestling meant something, and before the showmen took over.

Lamesa beat Mineral Wells 13-0 this weekend. . . look out, Bulldogs. . . Big Spring lost to San Angelo 7-32 to drop from the unbeaten ranks. . . but they may make it tougher when the Steers play Midland. . . Odessa shocked Abilene 24-7, you'll notice. . . Who says Coleman's Bronchos don't have it this year? . . . Speaking of spirit!—They tell us Midland fans who tuned in on the game via radio made as much noise when Midland scored as did those at the game. . . That's all the rambling down the Row.

'Pop' Keeler, Veteran Golf Writer, Dies
ATLANTA—(P)—O. B. "Pop" Keeler, 68, who spent most of his life doing the things he wanted to do—writing about golf and making friends—is dead.

O. B. died Sunday in an Atlanta hospital from a liver ailment and a nerve condition.

"Pop" was retired by the Atlanta Journal last September 15 after 42 years of newspapering for the Journal, the extinct Atlanta Georgian and the Kansas City Star.

SWC Teams Start Hardwood Practice
By The Associated Press
Six of the seven Southwest Conference schools were scheduled to start basketball practice Monday. The seventh, Arkansas, must wait until November 1.

Arkansas' late start was a penalty imposed on the Razorbacks by the conference for allowing a school team to compete in an amateur tournament.

Texas A&M starts with a new coach, John L. Floyd, formerly of Little Rock, Ark., Junior College and once a member of the staff at Oklahoma A&M. He replaced Marty Karow, who resigned to go to Ohio State as baseball coach.

Bulldogs Rest; Count Injuries

The Midland Bulldogs licked their bumps and bruises Monday afternoon, and turned a wary eye toward Brownwood and this week's clash with the victory-hungry Lions. The Bulldogs will visit Brownwood for a clash with the Lions at 8 p.m. Friday.

Coach Tugboat Jones gave the Bulldogs no rough work Monday. He said before the Sweetwater game the Bulldogs would take it easy Monday—win, lose, or draw. No contact work was slated. Limbering up exercises to work the "kinks" out, passing and punting all were to come under the watchful eye of Coaches Jones, Gill and Rutledge.

But the Purple will be at the rough work again Tuesday. And it will be all-out, non-stop, to get a Brownwood Lion. The Lion's were victims of a 6-0 upset at the hands of Stephenville Friday night, and they will want to bounce back. They are eager to prove they have a better ball club than the record of one win and four losses indicates.

West Texas State Rolls On Unbeaten In Border Conference
PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(P)—Forward passes played the major role in Border Conference football contests last Saturday as West Texas State maintained its lead in the loop with four victories and no defeats.

Most spectacular of the passing feats was that of Quarterback John (Model T) Ford of Hardin-Simmons University. He completed 20 of 25 passes to lead the Cowboys to a 41-14 victory over Arizona State College at Tempe in Abilene.

West Texas State downed New Mexico 45-6 at Amarillo.

Two scoring passes from Gilbert Bartosh to Big John Morton set the pace at Fort Worth for a Texas Christian 19-6 victory over Texas Tech in a non-conference contest.

At Flagstaff, Ariz., the New Mexico Aggies rolled to a 20-14 victory over Arizona State College of Flagstaff.

At El Paso, a place kick spelled victory for Texas Western College over the University of Arizona 14-13. Jim (Automatic) Davis booted the extra point.

This week Hardin-Simmons meets Houston Friday night at Abilene. West Texas State, Arizona Tempe, Texas Western and New Mexico Aggies meet non-conference foes Saturday. The only conference game on tap is that between Texas Western and New Mexico at Albuquerque Saturday night.

Arizona meets Colorado at Boulder, Colo., Texas Tech plays at Baylor, and West Texas meets Sam Houston at Canyon.

Texans Score High In Arizona Shoot
PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(P)—A San Antonio sharpshooter, Mrs. Ann Martin, broke 200 birds with the 12-gauge Sunday, to win the Arizona Open Skeet Championship.

Mrs. Martin scored 492 to take the open high over-all for the three-day shoot. Runnerup was D. W. Conway, Clint, Texas, with 486.

Twelve-year-old Charlie Prentiss, Jr., Fabens, Texas, topped the junior open with 275 out of 300, and the junior all-bore open with 181.

Included in the contestants was George Glass of Midland, Texas.

School Transportation Costs Continue Up

AUSTIN—The number of school children to be transported during the present school term will show an increase over last year due to increased population and better school attendance, the Texas State Teachers Association announced.

Facilities for transportation were expanded during the last school term to take care of the 320,000 students living two or more miles from the school attended. This represented an increase of 25,212 pupils over the number transported during the 1948-49 school term. Although more than $10,000,000 was provided by the state to reimburse the districts for the cost of transporting school children, there is every indication that the amount provided was inadequate in many school districts. L. P. Sturgeon, associate commissioner of education, said the official records show only 23 counties were reimbursed by the state in amounts equal to the actual cost of operation. This means that the remaining counties received less money from the state than it cost them to operate the buses.

Such losses had to be made up by the individual schools from local funds. Sturgeon pointed out that official reports show that the actual cost of transportation in Texas exceeded $12,000,000 during the last school term.

Salesman May Face Murder Charge As Aftermath Of Spree

DETROIT —(P)—Young Ennis Gillum may face a murder charge as the aftermath of a "crazy drunk" spree of slugging and assault.

Stricken with remorse, the 26-year-old tobacco salesman admitted five attacks Sunday, police said. He muttered tearfully: "I hope the people are all right. There's no use saying I'm sorry—it's done—but I am sorry."

Just a few hours later, Mrs. Dorothy Julian, 47, one of the five women and children slugged in the city's northwest section Friday night, died in a hospital.

Police did not tell Gillum about her death immediately. But officers planned to seek a murder warrant. The other four victims are recovering.

Wife Holds Hand
Mrs. Irene Gillum sat quietly beside her husband in his jail cell and held his hand as he tried to throw off a hangover fog and remember the assaults that took him into several homes in the same general area.

"Naturally, I intend to stick by him to the end in this trouble, the young wife said in this trouble.

All Gillum could say was that he went berserk after heavy drinking at a convention of the Michigan Tobacco and Candy Distributors.

"When I drink, I get mean," he said. "If I can get around it, I don't drink, but I was on the entertainment committee at the convention. I don't know how I left or when, and only God knows how I drove home."

Gillum was arrested because 13-year-old Peter Friedman, whose sister, Norma, 10, was another of the victims, remembered the slugging wore a convention badge bearing the words "Tobacco and Candy." Peter also gave an accurate description of the assailant and identified Gillum at police headquarters. Officers said Gillum's weapon was a heavy stapling machine.

On its 142-acre farm laboratory — one of its 8 great research centers — Shell has developed completely new uses of oil molecules to make farming more productive.

Food from thought

Not long ago an underground pest called the nematode threatened Hawaii's great pineapple crop.

To meet this menace, Shell scientists developed from oil, a special nematode-killer called D-D*. A grave threat to a great industry was averted.

Making oil more useful:

Oil contributes in hundreds of ways to the nation's economy, comfort, and protection. It produces more than half of America's power.

The development of D-D is only one of thousands of examples which show how the oil industry, through research, squeezes every ounce of usefulness out of our supply.

And oil companies, to do this, work on three fronts: production, refining, distribution.

Joined to serve you best

Production finds new oil fields, gets the most possible oil from existing wells.

Refining gets more and better products from every gallon of "crude" petroleum.

Distribution anticipates the users' needs, and delivers the product where it is needed at the lowest possible cost. Co-ordinated distribution is the essential link between the oil field and you.

With production, refining, and distribution all joined "under one roof"—teamed to exchange ideas —Shell does its part to assure the most efficient flow of petroleum products to you.

To strengthen America:

Since the end of World War II, our privately managed oil companies have plowed back over 9 billion dollars into new plants and equipment. They have strengthened America by adding: 24% to our known oil reserves, 27% to our refinery capacity, 2½ billion gallons a year to our motor and aviation gasoline.

America's oil companies outproduce the world—with the finest products at the lowest prices.

Researchers Race To Find Cure For Dread Influenza Epidemics

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

The last worldwide epidemic of influenza or "flu" occurred in 1917-1918 at the end of World War I. It caused more than half a million deaths in the United States alone, and millions more in other parts of the world. There was some reason to believe that it might appear again in a similar manner during World War II, but through luck rather than medical skill the world was spared at least for the time being.

Even without a big epidemic, influenza is an important and dangerous disease. Several kinds or strains of the virus responsible for influenza have been discovered. In 1945, a vaccine against the two most common varieties of influenza virus was prepared. This was given to large groups of people who likely were to be exposed to the disease. The results seemed favorable and hope was aroused that here was a method which would protect against influenza.

But this vaccine did not live up to our expectations. The same vaccine was given in 1947 but did not protect the recipients from the disease.

The explanation for the 1947 failure has been studied. Apparently it was caused by the fact that the influenza of 1947 came from a different virus strain than that of which the vaccine was made. Now, new efforts are being made to find a vaccine which will work against other strains of virus likely to produce this dangerous infectious disease.

We're Open To Attack
If a new worldwide epidemic of influenza started today, however, we should be practically helpless to combat it. The disease could be carried everywhere so rapidly by airplane that almost all of those exposed could fall victim to it.

Perhaps before this danger is realized a more effective vaccine will be developed or one of the antibiotic relatives of penicillin will be found to be a useful treatment.

'Life's Photo History Of War II' Published

NEW YORK—"Life's Picture History of World War II" was issued Monday after the largest first printing in the history of book publishing. Arthur Tourtellot, heading up the book's staff, said:

"Life already has sold more than 400,000 copies to subscribers," Tourtellot said. "In addition, copies will be made available by Simon & Schuster through the book trade."

Tourtellot, who also produced the March of Time Peabody-Award "Crusade in Europe" television-motion picture series, had a staff of 18 editors, art and layout specialists, writers and researchers working on the Life-size volume, beginning in March, 1950. Approximately 1,000 pictures are used for complete documentation of World War II, the editors said.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

Matt. 5:43-48; I Cor. 15:3; Gal. 2:11-12

ARE WE CIRCUMSTANCE-DIRECTED?

We come now to the matter of Guidan. If life is to be at its best we must have the sense of instrumentation, of carrying out purposes not our own, of fulfilling a Will that is ultimate. We must "regain the sense of being led," as one pastor urges. Without that sense of being led life hangs at loose ends, lacks goal, and dynamic to move on to that goal. "Anybody got a car going anywhere?" announced someone in a public meeting. No one laughed! But that announcement was revealing—must go somewhere; the direction didn't matter. Much of our life is like that—lacks direction and goal.

If we lose the sense of being led, we become victims of our circumstances. The men of a church were having a supper, and, being unused to managing meals, they gave contradictory orders to the negro caretaker. He became upset over these contradictory orders and objected. Whereupon one man asked, "Well, Henry, if you get upset with us, what do you do when the women are here?" To which he replied, "That's simple. I just throw my mind into neutral and goes where I'm pushed." A great many people simply throw their minds into neutral and go where circumstances push them. They have no sense of being led.

Or they allow other people's actions to determine their conduct. They are circumstance-directed instead of Christ-directed. Jesus warned us against allowing the other man to determine our conduct. "If a man smite you," don't take his weapons; keep your own. The best revenge you can have on an enemy is not to be like him. A bishop said that something I wrote cured him of what he called "a mild species of Episcopal swearing." When he went along the roads at night and dimmed his lights at the approach of another car, if the approaching driver did not respond he would flash his lights into the other man's face to let him know what he thought of him. "Now," he said, "I dim my lights no matter what the other man does, and keep them dimmed. It's safer, and I feel more like a bishop! I don't let the other man determine my conduct."

O Christ, how often we've let circumstances and persons determine our conduct. Help us to be impelled from within, instead of being compelled from without. O Christ, let me submit to Thy direction lest I be the victim of my surroundings. I want to be a person, and not a thing. Amen.

Junior Class To Present Play

"Growing Pains," a comedy depicting the trials and tribulations of adolescence, had a successful run on Broadway about a decade ago. The Junior Class of Midland High School is enacting the play at 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

George McIntyre, a typical teenage boy, is exasperated with his sister, Terry, who cannot understand why she no longer can play baseball with the boys. That problem is soon consumed with another one, however, when a new and beautiful girl moves into the community and engages the attentions of Terry's beau, Brian. The action moves swiftly up to the climax when George is arrested for speeding. Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre are at a complete loss understanding the actions of their children, whom they thought they had raised to be sensible youngsters.

Players Listed

Carrying the leading roles in the play are Tommy Vannaman as George McIntyre; Emily Hamilton as Terry McIntyre; Corky Moss as Mr. McIntyre; Martha Stone as Mrs. McIntyre; Sue Francis as the new girl, Prudence; and John Vann as Brian. Nineteen students carry supporting roles. Gary Throckmorton and James Wallace built the stage setting with the assistance of Curtis Reagan. Student director is Pat Boles, and make-up manager is Joe Barnett. Mrs. Verna Harris, speech instructor, directed the play.

Tickets are being sold by members of the Junior Class and will be on sale at the door before the performance. Proceeds from the play will be retained by the Junior Class for the purpose of junior-senior entertainment.

Rookie Cop Kills Navy Veteran In Fight On Subway

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—While terrified passengers huddled, one end of a car, a rookie policeman shot and killed a 22-year-old Navy veteran during a fight on a subway train.

Samuel S. Ellis, Jr., died Sunday in Hahnemann Hospital about an hour after he was shot by Edward Rouch, 23.

Detective Sgt. Samuel Ricciardi of the homicide squad said Rouch's first shot creased Ellis' left thigh and the second struck him in the lower abdomen, causing his death.

Attacked With Knife

Witnesses told police Ellis attacked Rouch with a knife shortly after two companions left the subway. Police were seeking the two companions for questioning. They quoted witnesses as saying they and Ellis had been fighting and that one of the men was believed to have been stabbed by Ellis.

Rouch came out of the battle with knife wounds of the face, head and left arm, a bruised abdomen where Ellis had kicked him, and a bite wound of the left hand.

He had just finished a tour of duty as part of his police college training when he boarded the subway. Ricciardi said there would be no charges filed against the rookie policeman.
