Tunisian 'Agent' Here To Study Agriculture

Mohammed El Mongi Guizani is a handsome 21-year-old Tunisian who is having his first look at West Texas.

And it reminds him a lot of his home in the central dry farming area of Tunisia, the country in North Africa reaching out toward Sicily and Italy.

Guizani arrived here this week to study farm and ranch life and operations here in Mitchell County.

He is one of 16 young college educated agricultural "agents" being trained and groomed by his native Tunisia to establish an extension for its agricultural families.

Guizani, who arrived in the U. S. at the end of February, has had a quick one-month language course in English at the American University in Washington, D. C., and a brief indoctrination into Texas rural life at Texas A&M.

He'll be a guest in the home of Commissioner and Mrs. Sam Thompson during his several weeks of study in Mitchell County. And a big part of his time, after the first few weeks, will be working and observing with County Agent Jack Burkhalter.

Guizani, whose home is at Cheikat de Saanline, Oussetia, Tunisia, comes from a family that operates a 900 acre farm in his native land. That's no small place in Tunisia, for the average farm is about 200 acres.

His farm is dry land type, similar to Texas, and grows wheat, olive trees, barley, some fruit and provides for livestock.

It is operated with 2 big wheatland International tractors, a large '55 model International, 20-foot disc plows and combines.

But despite the similarity of farm and operations between his country and West Texas, the young Tunisian already is shaking his head, wondering just where our cotton crop will get moisture to survive the summer.

Guizani, who has a surprising command of English despite the fact he never encountered it until 6 weeks ago, at Ecole de Kairouan and the College Technique de Sousse, similar to high school education here, and received his college diploma from Ecole d'Agriculture de Sidi Tabel.

And he was the highest ranking agriculture student at graduation.

The Guizani family live together, most of them in a 14-room house at the home farm. There are 5 brothers and 2 sisters.

Two of the oldest brothers assist with the farming operation as do the husbands of the sisters. Another brother is a high school teacher in Tunisia, the capital.

The youngest will graduate from College this year — and like Mongi — he is at the top of his agriculture class.

Guizani is here as part of a "determined effort" by the Government of Tunisia to raise the national standard of living by increasing agricultural production.

Their plans call for irrigation in the dry land areas, conduct anti-erosion campaigns, education and development.

Emergency Condition Required

County Attorney Frank Ginzel Thursday said no to Commissioners Court action March 29 increasing the county's cash contribution to County Federation Library.

The commissioners approved a $100 increase for the library — matching a boost by the city — provided the action was legal within the statutes governing county expenditures.

And, just to be definite how the ball would bounce, the commissioners asked the county attorney for his written opinion of the matter.

Ginzel's answer to the court was contained in 5 pages of legal language. It did not rule out the right of Commissioners Court to amend the county budget, but specified that the budget could be changed only after certain required procedures and findings of emergency.

At the same time the county attorney advised County Auditor Dwayne Feaster not to counter sign any warrant on the county treasury unless there are findings of an emergency condition in accordance with state statutes.

The advice to the auditor, who is appointed by the district judge and who oversees all county financial matters, was in a separate letter.

Ginzel conferred informally with the State Attorney General's office before writing his opinion. Here's the list of what he wrote commissioners:

1. "A grave public necessity which could not have been foreseen by ordinary diligence" must exist before any valid amendment to the county budget of this current year.
2. Commissioners Court is a constitutional court and therefore, a fact finding body that can determine whether an emergency exists.
3. Finding of an emergency, however, must be based on substantial evidence and the order of amendment must be clear and explicit that the proper emergency exists.
4. There is a definite distinction between "need" and "necessity," according to court rulings.

The Commissioners last month when they approved an increase in county library funds to $250 monthly, subject to the opinion by the county attorney, did not declare any findings of an emergency.

TUESDAY EVENING

Cancer Campaign Set for 3 Hours

Big job in the 1960 Cancer Crusade throughout Mitchell County will be mailed down in 3 hours Tuesday.

That is the plan announced Thursday by H. I. Berman, crusade chairman for the county.

The 3-hour period Tuesday will be the main finance drive for the crusade, which has as its rallying note, "Guard Your Family."

Volunteer solicitors will endeavor to call at every residence within the county Tuesday, beginning at 6 p. m. and continuing to 9 p. m.

The solicitations for funds — which provide the lion's share of money for research in the fight against cancer — will be conducted in the residential areas only, according to the crusade chairman.

Berman emphasized there will be no solicitations among business firms, so all money going to the crusade will be collected primarily in the house-to-house calls.

Final details for the Tuesday solicitations were drafted this week at a meeting of captains, block workers and other persons in the Mobil office of Frank Kelley.

"Guard Your Family" theme for the '60 Crusade is a repeat from last year. And it links the crusade with the life-saving phrase — "Fight Cancer with a Checkup and a Check."

"The combined slogan was effective last year," Berman said. "It helped us alert families of the county to the silent and insidious ways of cancer... and to methods of safeguarding the family against the hazards of this disease."

Insurance Agency in New Location

Thomas & Boney Insurance Agency moved Tuesday into a new location at 279 Elm, across the street west from the new City National Bank building.

The insurance firm formerly was located in the Berman Hotel.

New location of the agency is in a 25 by 70 foot building purchased by Boney from Pat Myers — former motel owner.

Myers completely remodeled the building after purchasing it last year. He had occupied the site with his own Pat's Barber Shop, but moved the barber shop this week next door south, to a larger building which he purchased and remodeled also last year.

Boney said the insurance firm was moving to the newer and larger facilities so as to offer the public more convenient location.

Thomas & Boney offer a complete line of general insurance with capital stock companies — fire, auto, casual.

Injuries Knock Track Chances for Regional

Colorado City High's gully track team looked ahead Thursday for Saturday's regional meet in Odessa, but injuries clouded the view.

Jerry McKay, the soaring high jumper and broad jumper with almost a sure path leading to the state meet in Austin, nursed a crippled leg.

Robert Womack, who surprised many with second place in the District 3-AAA mile run, hobbled on feet cut by barnacles while in swimming last week in the Texas Gulf.

Both are question marks for the regional competition expected to be dominated by Andrews and Snyder. And with their question marks go some of Colorado City's best chances for points in the meet.

Still in good condition for Saturday are Ken Northcutt, the promising sophomore who runs the 440, runs on the 440-yard spring relay and tosses the shotput and discus; John Johnson, 880 runner; Wayne Reed, Gary Lightfoot and Randolph Cupp, members of the 440-yard relay foursome.

But just how strong they will stack up against the tough regional competition mains to be seen.

An indication of the task ahead comes from the fact that Northcutt set a new District 3-AAA record of 52.2 for the 440 in the district meet in Snyder. It broke the record of 52.35 seconds set in 1958 by Colorado City's Don Black.

However, last weekend in Andrews against the type of competition the Wolves will be against Saturday in Odessa, Northcutt didn't qualify for the 440 finals.

McKay, the junior with a leap of 6 feet 2 inches to his credit this spring, set a new record of 6 feet in the District 3-AAA meet and won the broad jump with 20 feet 6 inches.

The jumping star though, broke a blood vessel in his left leg last Thursday. He couldn't do any good at Andrews with his leg swollen and aching.

And all this week he has been doctoring the injured leg, reducing the swelling in hope he will be able to jump at Odessa. If he is able to compete, McKay still will be handicapped both by the injury and the lack of practice.

In top condition, he would be a favorite in both jumping events, according to Coach Sam Christy.

Northcutt's best chance in the regional may be in the shotput—an event he won second in the district with a heave of 43 feet 9 1/2 inches, less than a couple of inches short of the first place throw of 45' 6" by Snyder's Tommy Minton.

Northcutt also won third in the district with a discus toss of 119 feet 10 inches—2 1/2 inches behind the 121' 11" by Lamesa's Tommy Doyle.

Colorado City's foursome of Northcutt, Reed, Lightfoot and Cupp sprinted to second place in the district Snyder's Jesse Crawford, Mike Morris, Jimmy Maroney and John Weaver set a new district mark of 43:3 in winning the event.

But favorite in the regional race Saturday will be Andrews with the flying time of 41.9 to their credit this season—tops for the nation, not just Texas. And Snyder's best time, so far, is about seventh in the state.

3-AAA PLAY STARTS OCT. 21

Early Start: Wolves in Fall Football Opener Here Sept. 3

Colorado City High's football schedule next fall will begin the second day of September—an early start for any team.

The 10-game schedule extends through Nov. 10 with 5 home games and 5 contests out of town.

Opening the Wolves schedule will be the Sept. 2 game here in Colorado City with Brownfield High, an AAA non-district opponent.

For the next 3 weekends the Wolves will be busy, too, with additional non-district opposition—playing Post here Sept. 9 on their home field, traveling to Ballinger Sept. 16 for a tilt there, then playing host on the home field Sept. 23 to Monahans.

Coach Sam Christy's athletes will have an open date Sept. 30 to recuperate from any mishaps and mistakes accumulated in the first 4 weeks of September.

Then, the second half of the schedule will get underway Oct. 7 with a game against Winters High in Winters. Oct. 14 will find the Wolves in Littlefield for a skirmish with the potent AAA club of that city.

District 3-AAA competition will begin Oct. 21 against Lake View on the road. The following weekend, Oct. 28, the Wolves will continue their traveling—fourth out of town game in a row—for a 3-AAA encounter against Snyder High.

The Wolves will be back in Colorado City Nov. 4 to play hosts to Sweetwater High, expected to be the terror of 3-AAA football again next fall.

Final game in district play will be with Lamesa here Nov. 11.

Here's the 1960 football slate in quick order:

Sept. 2—Brownfield in Colorado City (non-district).
Sept. 9—Post in Colorado City (non-district).
Sept. 16—Ballinger in Ballinger (non-district).
Sept. 23—Monahans in Colorado City (non-district).

Oct. 7—Winters in Winters (non-district).
Oct. 14—Littlefield in Littlefield (non-district).
Oct. 21—Lake View in Lake View (District 3-AAA).
Oct. 28—Snyder in Snyder (District 3-AAA).

Nov. 4—Sweetwater in Colorado City (District 3-AAA).
Nov. 11—Lamesa in Colorado City (District 3-AAA).

Candidate comes from a Latin word meaning "white-robed." It was first applied to Roman office-seekers who were required to wear white garments.

Plain Talk Tells Community Needs

Plain talk often times, doesn't hurt a bit. In fact, if in good taste, it usually helps.

Charlie C. Thompson did a little plain talking last week at the Kiwanis luncheon. He traced the rapid trend in urbanization throughout Texas, emphasized the importance of keeping our hometown moving forward by providing industrial and business development, and tied it all to the need for serious, concentrated community action.

Expanding business and industry attract more people and more people create demand for houses, groceries, cars, household furnishings and all the rest, was the way the civic leader expressed it.

Thompson's plain talk was most evident as he told the Kiwanis this community, like many more in Texas, is at the crossroads. We must maintain our economy with new emphasis on business and industry, or be pushed back as other areas develop more rapidly.

Colorado City Industrial Team Inc. and the Chamber of Commerce were mentioned by Thompson as commu-ity cooperation seeking to keep the community in progress, safeguard it against retreat.

Development of Les Fuller Manufacturing Company, the truck cab cooler manufacturing firm, and Tumbleweed Company Inc. were explained matter of factly—showing how the cooler industry was capitalized with 50 per cent of the stock bought by interested local firms and individuals, and stating plainly how the tumbleweed decorations industry was financed entirely by its owner, Harry Snyder of Cincinnati.

Naturally, the Industrial Team Inc. and Chamber of Commerce had a lot to do with the locating of both here within our community. But, as the banker-lawyer said, these organizations are not seeking recognition for themselves, but endeavor to help the community.

It was good plain talk and more of those among us should have heard it—especially, those who like to sit on the sidelines and pick away with criticism, instead of rolling up their sleeves and going to work for the community, too.

Valuable Work at The Grass Roots

While talk of many of our multi-million dollar water conservation projects in Texas never gets far beyond the talking stage, the Soil Conservation Service of the USDA goes quietly on about its business of retarding excessive run-off and erosion from our creeks and tributaries.

Basically, the SCS does its work through and with the cooperation of State-sponsored soil conservation districts like we know here in Mitchell County. There are now 177 of these districts, and they cover 98 per cent of the area of Texas.

It is the chief objective of every soil conservation district to formulate a thoroughly applied conservation plan on every farm and ranch, with every acre of land used within its capacity for production of food and fiber. At the same time, the conservation treatment needed is supplied to make the land continually useful.

Some 200,000 of these carefully worked-out plans are now being applied in Texas, and they cover more than 100,200,000 acres of farm and ranch land. The farmers and ranchers using these principles of soil and water conservation in their day-to-day enterprises are finding them economically sound.

The work of the SCS is directed toward efficient management of water, as it begins on the land where the rain-drops fall, and as it continues down the tributary watersheds of our major streams. This is of fundamental importance to both the present and the future of Texas farming and ranching.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Brainiest Nations Not Always Rich

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek takes a look at the international situation this week, probably from a highly provincial viewpoint.

Dear editor:

I couldn't be expected to know anything reliable about international affairs. Half the time I don't even know what my neighbors out here are doing, but I have come to the conclusion that the biggest or wealthiest nations are not necessarily the brainiest ones.

For example, I read in a newspaper yesterday morning some people think a farmer shouldn't read a newspaper in the day time, only at night when it's too dark to work or maybe during the noon hour. But what people think never has bothered me.

I don't even let what I think bother me, that some of the smaller nations, judged to be hard up by the United States, have been borrowing money from us at 3 per cent interest, then investing some of that money in U. S. government bonds paying 4 1/2 per cent, making a net profit of 1 1/2 per cent on our own money.

These small countries may not have any satellites circling the globe, but you'll have to admit they ain't so dumb.

Or take even England. England's not pearl as big as it used to be since sailing ships no longer are a measure of a country's power. She doesn't have any satellites up and as far as I know doesn't have any plans to, but I noticed in the same newspaper, I was reading yesterday morning that England still has some brains left.

For example, she has given up plans to build her own rockets. The Defense Minister over there announced England was abandoning her two-billion-dollar rocket program, because it was too expensive and besides she had made a deal to buy the things from the United States.

Under the new arrangement, England will buy the rockets from us, after we iron out all the kinks, then attach a nuclear warhead in the ends and be set up in the defense business, at a about a tenth of the regular cost.

I don't know where England will get the money to buy these rockets, but some Englishman will think of something. By George, he'll say, I've got it how about a loan from Washington to buy U. S. rockets with?

Meanwhile, England is sending Princess Margaret to her wedding in a buggy built in 1886.

In these days of inflation and high living expenses, a nation, like a man, has got to tighten down and think ahead, cut corners where he can.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Tax Saving Group Pries into Door Knobs, Terrazzo Floors

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association

First it was $100,000 homes for college presidents. Now it's $36 doorknobs for the State Office Building that have cost-conscious legislators blowing their tops.

Legislature went through an arduous seven-months tax raising session last year to scrape up enough money to keep state services going. Despite all the problems and criticisms they weathered, it wasn't enough. Now they are face to face with the prospect of another deficit next year and the need to raise more taxes.

It is in this not-so-rosy setting that the House Committee on Saving Taxes is checking into how state money has, and is being spent. When they heard that the terrazzo floors in the brand new State Office Building had cracked, committee members decided to investigate further into the $3,792,000 building.

They learned that the air conditioning system vibrated excessively; that the building had 1,000 elaborate door knobs, costing $36 apiece; and that there were telephone booths in the hallways lined with expensive marble. Some offices had no doors.

They noted that the Texas Employment Building, just across the street and to the casual observer equally as handsome, cost only $14.33 per square foot compared to $17.40 for the State Office Building.

Cracked floors now are being removed and replaced by the contractor, at no cost to the state. Efforts are under way to smooth out the knocks in the air conditioning. Legislators are unhappy at the lack of supervision and inspection while the building was under construction.

H. R. Nieman, who became director of the State Building Commission after the building already was built, told the committee he agreed the structure was probably a wasteful in some features. He attributed this to inadequate supervision. Steps are being taken to watch this more closely on future projects, he said.

RAW MATERIALS—Gov. Price Daniel has promised to have two sets of ingredients ready when the State Finance Advisory Council meets May 16 to begin shaping up a long-range fiscal policy for the state.

Daniel will present to the committee: (1) A 10-year projection of budgets of agencies which represent the state's main money needs—schools, highways, hospitals and welfare. (2) Five suggested new tax plans.

He does not intend to make the five tax plans public before the committee meeting, said the governor, because he doesn't want them to get involved in the current political campaigns.

It is certain that the governor's proposed tax plans will not include a general sales tax or income tax, both of which he has long opposed. However, he said he will ask the committee to look down the road and "report honestly whatever you find and let's see how long we can do without sales or income taxes."

State Capital NEWS

HOUSTON AID

Now under consideration is whether the University of Houston should become a fully state-supported college.

Commission on Higher Education will hear a report on its staff findings probably in October and make a recommendation to the Legislature, pro or con, next year.

In making their bid before the Commission, Houstonites said the state would get a $22,000,000 institution with a 275-acre campus, all free of debt. In return, it would need to spend about $4,000,000 a year for operating it.

Increased costs have forced the school to raise its tuition fee to $600 a year and more, with a resulting drop in enrollment. Tuition at state colleges is only $100 a year.

Council of State College Presidents opposes the move on grounds that the state cannot afford to spread its support—any thinner without a disturbing drop in quality.

Houstonites point out that their county has 10 per cent of the state population, pays 20 per cent of state taxes, but has no state college in the area.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Kangaroo Courts Kick at Business

By CLINTON DAVIDSON

Special Correspondent

Any business man caught in the meshes of a government regulatory agency cannot help but be reminded of the infamous proceedings of the so-called kangaroo courts of the past.

He may not be told who his accusers are, or even what he is accused of. He probably will not even know that he has been accused, or suspected of wrongdoing, until a crew of investigators descend upon him.

The department head of the regulatory agency—one of dozens of government boards and commissions with life or death power over business—may start the investigation by sending a crew of men with authority to seize and inspect all of the files and books of a company or corporation.

The agency staff then studies this material, following which it starts questioning under oath officers, directors and even customers of the business. Company officials may be questioned for days without being told why they are being questioned.

The business man being investigated may be warned that it would be improper for him to continue certain business operations which he thought were normal, during the investigation. The effect can be to close down a business, with heavy losses or even failure, while the investigation is underway.

There have been investigations in which the business investigated was not told the purpose of the investigation, but learned later that it was merely a fishing expedition in hopes that something would turn up to justify the arbitrary action of an agency staff member.

The agency staff realizes that the longer the investigation lasts the greater the damage to the business. In some cases the investigation is lengthened unnecessarily, by first questioning all parties informally for several weeks, and then again questioning them under oath for additional weeks. Also, after being questioned a second time, a third interrogation, under oath, may be ordered on the grounds that the agency staff has developed new information.

In one case, the staff told the commission, while asking for permission to investigate, that the investigation would require only a week. After it had run for several months a member of the business asked how much longer the investigators intended to take.

"We don't know," the investigator replied, "maybe three months and maybe six months."

If the business being investigated does get up courage enough to go to the agency, or commission, and say "We have no intention of discussing the case with you, but we wish to complain about the manner in which the investigation is being conducted," the answer is likely to be:

"We have the utmost confidence in our staff. They have learned through experience the best method of handling these situations and we think it would be a mistake to interfere. We suggest you just be patient and after the staff has completed the investigations the matter will come up for decision."

Obviously, the business could pass out of existence while being patient. In one case where the investigation was prolonged for months, the staff member in charge shortly thereafter became an official of a competing company.

Strange to say, now that a majority of the board and commission members have been appointed by a Republican Administration, business men find it harder to get along with them than when the Democrats were in control.

The reason given is that the Republicans are accused everywhere of being friendly to business. The commissioners and board members lean over backward to show they are neither controlled by, nor more friendly to business than are the Democrats. The result is business gets kicked in the shins more often under the Democrats than under the Republicans.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Firm Can Create Location Payoff

By ROY V. FOX

Record Co-Publisher

Advertising has been called the great equalizer of retail location. The number of ideal locations for retail firms are limited in any trade center. Rental rates of such locations are always high. Even if a merchant is willing to pay high rent it may not be possible for him to obtain the best location.

If the merchant in a low rent area did not have a means of offsetting location disadvantage he could not hope to compete with better located retailers. Fortunately for the public and the retailer trade, advertising can eliminate location handicaps. A major chain shoe retailer feels that location disadvantage can be completely eliminated by advertising. "When we are not able to obtain the choicest location, we put savings from rent into additional advertising. It automatically establishes a competitive balance."

"In fact, at times our advertising has drawn so much business to our area that a new center of trade developed around us. Advertising can create a location advantage."

This balance between advertising and location has been recognized by economists who point out that location advantage is really a form of advertising paid for as rent.

Rent is higher in some locations because a greater number of people are attracted to stores in those places. When savings from rent are placed in newspaper advertising a less conspicuous location may attract even more people. For more prospective customers read the advertising in the local newspaper than pass any location during a given period.

BIBLE COMMENT

Personalities of Bible Seen Today

The greatest saints and the most wicked persons, the Marys and the Jeezels, the persecutors and the martyrs, despotic, evil kings, wise rulers, nobility in purple, peasants in the fields, warriors, men of peace—every type of man is found in the Bible.

It is profoundly the book of man even as it is man's book of God.

The universality of the Bible is emphasized in a deeper and more important way in the life and teaching of Jesus.

Truth applies equally to time and place.

This is seen especially in the Parables of Jesus. The woman searching for a lost piece of silver (Luke 15) might be any woman anywhere. The Samaritan helping the victim of thieves on the road of Jericho might be a driver of today stopping to aid the victim of a highway accident, while others like the priest and the Levite, Jesus past.

Jesus is for all the world, because His life and truth were for all the world. He was not a Galilean provincial, but a Teacher and Savior with a world mission sending forth His disciples to make disciples of all the world.

Jubilee Club's First Social Entertains 39

By MRS. C. C. HAMILTON
Record Correspondent

LORAIN — First social event of the newly-organized Golden Jubilee Club attracted 39 persons Monday night.

The entertainment was in the Loraine Lions Building and was combined with a business meeting which named four committees for the club.

Three Jubilee Club members — J. W. King, Lester Webb and Mrs. Elba Mae Beatty — whose birthdays are in April were hosts for the social.

King, president of the club, presided at the business session and appointed the following committees:

Hospitality — Mrs. Lester Webb, chairman; Lester Webb, Mrs. Ida Baird and Mrs. Joe Bennett.

Finance — Wade Preston, chairman; Mrs. Wade Preston, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Butler, Alva Bennett.

Yearbook — Mrs. Alva Bennett, chairman; J. W. King, Mrs. T. C. Wilson.

Program — Mrs. J. D. McDonald, chairman; Mrs. Frank Johnson and Mrs. Josephine Marshall.

Mrs. T. C. Wilson, secretary, read the club's by-laws which were written since the organizational meeting in March. Club members changed the age requirement to open Golden Jubilee membership to any person 45 years of age or older (instead of 60) before adopting the by-laws.

Games of dominoes and 42 were played and T. J. Riden, accompanied by Mrs. Riden, led a sing-song.

Attending were T. R. Bennett, Messrs. and Mrs. J. W. King, Joe Bennett, Frank Brame, Harry Cranfill, Dan Butler, T. C. Wilson, Floyd Richey, Lester Webb, Ted Leffrey; Mrs. Alfred Richey, T. J. Tillison, Vanda Martin, Elba Mae Beatty, Cora Hall, J. A. Shepherd, Ida Baird, Lynn Compton, W. H. Long, Frank Johnson, J. D. McDonald, Josephine Marshall, J. T. Finley, W. M. Teeters.

FOR KIDS' CLOTHES

Students Offer Helping Hands

Students of Colorado City High School will bring their Save The Children Federation Bundle Day Clothing Collection program to a close on Friday.

Responding to the urgent clothing needs of children at home and overseas, faculty and student leaders have asked parents and friends to join with them and Save The Children Federation in this 18th annual nationwide humanitarian project of children helping children.

"The enthusiasm of our students is inspiring," states Susan Rhode, student body president, "and I strongly urge everyone to empty clothing storage areas of good, used garments and, through their supporting cooperation, help bring the total collection to a grand high point."

Donated clothing should be sent to school this week by students, brought to school directly in bags or cartons.

Blankets and sheets, in addition to good, used winter and summer garments for children, babies and adults are especially needed.

Each year thousands of children are enabled to attend school in the Southern Mountains by the distribution of clothing through SCF clothing centers where clothing is made available at very low prices to a poor but proud people who prefer not to accept free clothing. However, to those who cannot afford to pay, clothing is also made available without charge through county welfare and attendance officers.

In addition to its use in the Southern Mountains, clothing is stockpiled for free distribution to victims of disaster at home and overseas. In years past, SCF has rushed clothing to stricken areas in the United States, Algeria, Austria, Finland, Germany, France, Haiti, Israel, Italy, Korea and Mexico.

Family Discussion

A cynical Doris Day listens to the head of the family, David Niven, lay down the law to their four mischievous youngsters in this breakfast scene from "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Palace Theatre.

PLEASE DON'T EAT THE DAISIES

Hilarious Comedy At Palace Sunday

Four lovable but mischievous youngsters — what a parent can't sympathize with the harassed parents in "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," coming Sunday, Monday and Tuesday to the Palace Theatre.

Portraying the harassed parents are Doris Day and David Niven as Kate and Larry Mackay. Their four irrepressible sons, ranging from a 9-year-old (Charles Herbert) to 7-year-old twins (Stanley Livingston and Flip Mark) to a one-and-a-half-year-old baby (Baby Gellert), are very much a part of this story of a happy marriage.

The hijinks that go on in this menage cover almost every facet of life in a typical New York apartment and involve such accessories to the family as the harassed maid (Patsy Kelly), a baby-sitting taxi driver with illusions of becoming a playwright (Jack Weston), and the family mutt, 'Hobo'.

Kate complains of never being able to get dressed without an audience (the boys); the kids throw water bombs out the window; Larry gripes about walking Hobo who doesn't like to walk; Kate's mother (Spring Byington) who runs a pet shop, has her own ideas on how to raise children; there are the problems of starting the kids to school, and the bedlam in-

ECONOMY PROVED IN MOBILGAS RUN!

CORVAIR BY CHEVROLET DRIVE IT! GET OUR DEAL!!!!

A pair of Corvairs recently recorded 27.03 and 26.21 miles per gallon in the 2,061.4-mile Mobilgas Economy Run. That's certified proof that Corvair skimps on gas costs. It saves other ways, too. Corvair is the only U. S. compact car that never needs antifreeze or costly radiator repairs. Come in and drive the compact car that outdoes them all.

Things Corvair gives you that America's other compact cars can't: Practically flat floor . . . oval fuel tank for the man in the middle. Fold-down rear seat gives 17.6 cu. ft. of extra storage space. Four-wheel independent suspension for a smoother, better ride. Four-engine traction . . . that comes with the engine's weight bearing down on the rear wheels. You probably realize already that the mileage figures Corvair recorded in the Mobilgas Run are higher than the average driver can expect. But because the cars met every kind of driving condition — rugged mountain grades, long country straightaways, congested city traffic — those mileage figures prove Corvair's inherent ability to save operating costs take a nose dive the day you take delivery of a Corvair.

Club Told That One Can Live Too Much for Others

"Jesus did not live entirely for others," he thought first about God and only secondly for others," stated Rev. John Brand, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, to members of the Self Culture Club Friday in the home of Mrs. C. P. Gary.

Rev. Brand explained that Jesus was concerned first and foremost with carrying out the Father's design for His own life.

"This means that Jesus thought much about himself, his being a right self-love, a right self-centeredness: he was concerned about using rightly the life God had given him," said Rev. Brand.

The speaker stated that one can hence live too much for others if he forgets that he must learn to live with himself and thus do something with his own life.

In the world of the divine love here alone is the balance achieved between living too much for others or too much for oneself, stated the speaker.

"We can love ourselves for God loves us, accepts us as we are, in spite of our faults, thus we can be good to ourselves," Rev. Brand said.

"Hence the truth of what Jesus says love others, love yourself; but know if you don't love yourself you can't really love others," stated the speaker.

Rev. Brand said that love of self rather than love of neighbor was stressed because we talk too much about loving others.

"Our society today is actually built around the concept of others to such an extent that we neglect the all important side of loving oneself, which means being an individual, living as one, knowing that as one lives with others, he is a distinct person, and, that as a distinct person, he must learn to love this person whom he is," said Brand.

He stated that if one cannot love himself, he cannot endure living with himself.

Opening prayer was presented by Mrs. John Brand, who in turn presented the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. J. L. Strain presided at the business meeting.

Mrs. A. A. Herrington read a letter from Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs concerning Ben Ramsey who is running for the office of lieutenant governor.

Mrs. Gary reported to the club about the redistricting of the new district that was conducted in Stamford Tuesday.

She told the group that the next meeting for the new district would be in Abilene.

Mrs. R. M. Reed, year book chairman, explained to the group how soon the new year book would have to be started.

Mrs. D. H. Davis introduced the speaker for the day.

PTA Slate of Officers

These 3 are the newly elected officers of the Primary Parent Teacher Association, that are planning the routine for the coming new year. They are, left to right, Mrs. Forrest Yancy, treasurer; Mrs. Wayne Worley, second vice president; and Mrs. Steele McKinney, president.

ELECTRICITY

Your thrifty way to cook... only pennies per meal

You cook for pennies when you cook electrically. Most electric surface cooking, at low settings, uses heat thriftily. The electric oven, insulated on all four sides and top and bottom, keeps heat inside where it belongs. And, once the oven reaches the temperature you select, it uses electricity less than half of the cooking time. It costs an average of only about 3c a meal to cook with clean electricity. See your electric range dealer soon. Thrifty electric cooking is another of the many ways in which your dependable, low-cost electric service helps you live better... electrically.

Overweight is Number One Nation Problem, Club Told

Weight reduction was topic of discussion of the Car Home Demonstration Club when it met in the home of Mrs. J. L. Rees Friday afternoon.

Feature speaker for the program was Mrs. Cricket Taylor, county home demonstration agent.

She stressed the importance of the right food and the safe way to lose weight.

"Overweight is the number one national problem," she explained.

She said that the death rate, at a given age is higher among men and women who are over weight than among those of normal weight.

It was pointed out to the group that the basic principle to follow to reduce weight is to eat less food than the body needs to carry out its activities.

Mrs. Taylor stressed the importance of "cutting down" on intake of food but not to cut out food that furnish needed nutrients for the body.

"Fad diets, pills and the wonder diets are not the safe ways to lose weight," she continued, "these are expensive ineffective and some can be harmful," the speaker said.

With the help of a flannel board and food models, low caloric meals were planned for the weight watch that would furnish all the nutrients for good health by the demonstrator.

Mrs. D. G. Rollins announced the Texas Home Demonstrator Association convention would be conducted in Littlefield Thursday. She pointed out that free lunch would be served and everyone is invited to go.

Mrs. Rees led the group in singing and prayer.

Mrs. Tom Jackson, secretary, called the roll and the members attended answered with "Tips for being a good hostess."

The club voted to sponsor a Tumbleweed Queen and a committee was appointed to select a candidate. The committee selected was Mrs. Louis Rees and Mrs. T. A. Rees.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Taylor, Miss Glenda Rees, Miss Ethel Buchanan, Mrs. T. A. Rees, Mrs. Louis Rees, Mrs. Rollins, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. C. C. Buchanan, Mrs. J. L. Rees, Mrs. T. L. McKinney, Mrs. Ruth Althart and Mrs. F. A. Langley.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Rollins May 6 at 2 p. m.

He stated that in motor vehicle accidents, drinking while intoxicated or DWI has been considerable in the last 3 years.

"As an individual you can serve on the jury and under some verdict without being soft hearted give a sentence of 6 months of suspension for a DWI charge," he related to the group.

He stated that there is only 1 patrolman in every 70 miles of paved road and we must rely on individuals to do effective law enforcing by informing authorities of any violators.

"There has been a reduction of 25% of fatalities in Texas this year," he pointed out to the group.

"We can measure the approximate damage in dollars cents and doctor and hospital bills, but how can we measure how much a persons life is worth," said the speaker.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

Recently work had to be discontinued on a ball park in North Colorado City on Chestnut Street because of complaints on the part of some about spending the taxpayer's money to haul fill dirt and do leveling work. It is regrettable that the project should get so near completion and then stop, and it is my feeling that a few folks have been short sighted in this matter.

I have a good friend, in fact he is a member of my church, who was donating the fill dirt and he was glad to do it for such a good cause, but then he feels that his efforts to do a good turn have been thwarted all because some folks have no seeming regard for our youngsters.

There is a great need for a ball park in that area, just especially since the site where it was being built was right in sight of a thickly populated residential area, and the ground was just growing up in weeds and underbrush.

I do not know what can be done about this matter, but I'm grateful for the chance to write down the way I feel, and if you will print this letter perhaps others will come to the forefront with their feelings and air them out. I want to thank you for allowing people to speak their piece in your fine newspaper.

We hear a lot about what ought to be done concerning our youngsters, and most of what we hear has a little wisdom in it, but the tragedy of this hour is folks talking about what ought to be done and never doing anything themselves, and then getting not under the boiler if someone else does do something.

We've got a small playground adjacent to our church and you'd be surprised to know how much bellyaching (pardon that Louisiana word) and grumbling has been done over that, but when I look out there and see a dozen or so youngsters having a good time I'm convinced that it's worthwhile.

A fellow asked me not long ago what I'd do if they broke one of our church windows out while playing ball, and I replied that I'd pay for it because I'd fixed myself, it would be worth that and much more to this out 'a boy could knock the ball that far.

Thank you for allowing me to let off a little steam here. Very truly yours, James W. Citraway Pastor Calvary Baptist Church
