BANKER CORROBORATES TESTIMONY OF CHUDEJ

AUSTIN, Sept. 30 (AP)—Deposits in currency in an Austin bank, the credit of accounts controlled by James E. Ferguson, husband of the governor of Texas, were described today to the Texas senate by W. R. Long, Jr., a book-keeper in the bank.

Long was produced by the steering committee conducting an investigation into the affairs of the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission to corroborate testimony given Tuesday by Frank W. Chudej, former business associate of Ferguson, who said he had banked for Ferguson approximately $22,000 in currency, handed to him at intervals by Ferguson over a period from Jan. 4, 1932 until he quit Ferguson's employ Aug. 19.

Ferguson's friends linked Long's testimony came after Roy Ganderford and Will M. Martin, senators and political friends of Ferguson, challenged the right of its place in the record.

"You have the team and the umpire but with all that you can not win," Ganderford shouted, referring to what he termed as "anti-Ferguson" senators in dominance on the committee and to George C. Purl, Dallas senator.

"On Youth," remarked Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo.

"I believe in upholding Texas sportsmanship; I do not believe in stepping into the ring and hitting below the belt; I always will boo any man who does that. I now boo you in the presence of this body," Ganderford continued.

Small replied that "no one cares" about Ganderford's boos.

"Everyone expects him to boo," said Small.

He challenged Ganderford to "bring Jim Ferguson to the witness chair."

Outlines Deposits

"I challenge them to come in here and disprove what Chudej has testified to," Small shouted.

"If you want to countenance and protect a man who carries money around in his pocket out of the governor's office, all right. I shall not countenance that kind of thing," Small referred to testimony given by Lawrence Westbrook, director of the relief commission, that Ferguson had presided at meetings of the commission. Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson is ex-officio chairman of the commission.

Returning to incidents of Ferguson giving Chudej currency for deposits, Small said he could not "approve of that kind of conduct."

"If it is not true, you ought to be able to show it up and account for every dollar that has come to Jim Ferguson's hands," he said.

Long testified that ledger sheets of his bank revealed that deposits aggregating about $65,500 had been made to the credit of accounts of the Barker-Karpis gang and the Ferguson Forum, concerns controlled by him during a period extending from a few days before Mrs. Ferguson was inaugurated governor in January this year until Sept. 1 last.

Mrs. William Hall of Noletie checked her yesterday afternoon.

Gene Fathree attended the football game in Amarillo yesterday.

PROPOSED NATURAL GAS TAX IS OPPOSED AS EXORBITANT LEVY—HEARING ANNOUNCED

Stripping of Fuel Is Menaced—Bill Is In Committee

PROTESTS against a proposed tax of 2 cents per thousand cubic feet on natural gas were sent to Austin yesterday by the Pampa Board of City Development, the Board of City Development, the Board of City Development, and many oil and gas operators.

A hearing on the proposed levy will be held in Austin before a committee of the house at 7 p. m. Monday.

The bill, house bill, No. 42, is frankly aimed at the gas pipelines and gas companies, who are charged with making "exorbitant" charges but its effect in this case would be chiefly shown in its devastating result to stripping of the natural gas. Casinghead gas plants also would be adversely affected, it is believed. In the case of the plants operating under state stripping permits, the tax would be more than the income from the gas at current gasoline prices. Furthermore, the shortage of outlets for residue gas has reduced the market for this fuel to a point where some producers are willing almost to give the residue away.

Destruction of the gas stripping and casinghead gasoline plants would quickly reduce the supply of residue for carbon black plants, however, and ultimately might result in their removal from the state, it was pointed out. The unreasonableness of the proposed levy in proportion to the producers' income for natural gas is being shown.

Income from the proposed tax would be used to retire the relief bonds to be issued by the state.

Truck Collision Injures 8 Boys

DALLAS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Eight Dallas high school students were injured, three seriously, when an oil truck rammed the rear end of a flat-bottomed truck in which they were riding late today, six miles west of Mineola.

The students were en route to Mineola to attend a football game between North Dallas high school and Mineola high school. There were about 20 boys riding on the flat-bottomed truck, most of them members of the high school band.

The injured were brought to Dallas hospitals in ambulances. The most seriously hurt were:

Jack Lanning, 13, internal injuries.

Max Morrison, 19, fractured leg.

Harold Allen Holbrook, 22, internal injuries.

Others injured were:

Joe de Haro, 19, leg injury.

Roland Cobb, 19, head and back lacerated.

George Cullum, 19, leg and side injured.

J. H. Lambert, shoulder injured.

Charles Parmalee, knee injured.

Police Warning To Motorists Sounded

A final warning to motorists who persist in driving through stop signs and driving with one headlamp or no tail lamp was issued by Chief of Police John V. Andrews yesterday.

Pipes, assessed at $1 in past for most traffic violations, will be raised in the campaign to prevent accidents.

Pedestrians also are warned that the streets are for vehicles and not for skating and playing. And bicycles cannot be ridden on downtown sidewalks without danger of arrest.

ALLOWABLE IS DIMINISHED BY 26 PER CENT

MARGINAL WELLS NOT AFFECTED BY ORDER

AUSTIN, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today ordered that the production from all oil wells in the state except stripper wells, be reduced one and one-third per cent, effective tomorrow.

This action was taken to bring the state's production within the 965,000 barrels daily allotted to Texas by Harold L. Ickes, federal oil administrator. The former allotment to Texas was 975,000 barrels.

R. D. Parker, supervisor of the commission's oil and gas division, pointed out that the order was temporary and that a new production schedule for the various fields might be prepared later.

"We hereby order that all fields and oil wells in Texas except 'marginal wells' as defined by the laws of Texas be reduced in daily allowable production as of September 7 by exactly 26 per cent," the decree read. Production had been cut 25 per cent effective September 8.

"Where there is no limit to production of crude oil set by order of the commission the average daily production for the week ending August 26 shall be the basis upon which the 26 per cent reduction shall be calculated," the order continued. "No exception to the foregoing will be granted under this order for any cause."

NRA Complaint Blanks Are Now Available Here

Forms on which complaints of non-compliance to NRA regulations may be made have been placed in the hands of each member of the local board of compliance, according to C. H. Walker, general chairman.

He desired the names of the person signing a complaint will not be divulged. However, all complaints must be made in writing. They may be made at any time or at the regular or called sessions of the board. Regular meetings will be held each Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the city hall. A called meeting of the board will be convened next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the city hall.

An official ruling just received provides that only violations of the president's blanket code or re-employment agreement may be considered by the board of compliance. Violations of permanent codes will be received by the board but forwarded to Washington for action.

Members of the local board are C. P. Buckler, chairman; Mack Graham, J. J. McColm, Homer Lively, Reno Stinson, Mrs. Lynn Boyd, and W. J. Smith.

Three Killed In Oklahoma Crash

COOPERTON, Okla., Sept. 30 (AP)—An airplane fell in a tailspin near the Baptist church here late today, killing the pilot and his two passengers.

The dead:

Travis Jennings, 30, the pilot of Cooperston.

Burford Casner, 23, of Clearwater, Kansas.

Gail Casner, 18, of Cooperston, his cousin.

Jennings, who had been taking up passengers here during the day, apparently flew into an "air pocket." The plane plunged 500 feet.

Burford Casner, with his mother, Mrs. Roy Casner, had been visiting relatives in Cooperston.

Indian Fighter Sees Action

The troops could not get action on them. He sent word to Lieut. Baldwin to send a couple of scouts over a small flat, to dislodge them. He sent W. F. Schmalsie and myself. We had to crawl about 200 yards in plain sight of the entire skirmish line, to keep out of sight of the Indians. On the left the soldiers did not understand the orders, thought we were Indians crawling away, and commenced firing on us. Lieut. Baldwin saw our plight and tried to stop the firing, but couldn't make them understand. We were between two fires, the troops and the Indians.

I said: "Let's get up and run for it," so we made a dash across the plateau and gained the point. When we got started it did not take us long to put the Indians on the run. After we got back Miles kept moving his troops from one hill to another, keeping it up all day and advanced right along. At one place when the Indians made a stand in front of Baldwin's command, the 18 scouts, I among them, made a charge on the point against Baldwin's orders. Schmalsie was near Baldwin and he stopped him saying, "I'll keep one of you back away." Schmalsie moved away from Baldwin a few feet, and then made a dash up the hill after us. When we got to that point the Indians had gone to another point. But I forgot to stop, and went on to the point where the Indians were. By this time Baldwin's command had come up from the rear and seeing

SCOUT 'FANS' GIVEN AS NEED OF MOVEMENT

Regional Executive Outlines Plan of Support—Breakfast Is Given Here Sat.

Remarkable results of long-time training of Boy Scouts, particularly those who enlist at 12 years of age, were cited by James P. Fitch of Dallas regional executive, in an informal talk to local Scout leaders Saturday at a breakfast at the Schneider hotel.

He said that 90 per cent of all the football captains in high school football in Texas last year were Scouts. Cities with Scouting programs touching young boys and retaining them in the movement for three years or more have no juvenile problems, he said.

Mr. Fitch explained that the current 10-year objective of Scouting is to project the experience of the last 10 years, when 22 per cent of all American boys at some time were Scouts, and to enlist 25 per cent of all boys reaching the age of 12. In this Adair Walls council, about 1,600 boys reach the Scout age each year. It is hoped that at least one-fourth of them may be enlisted for four-year training.

The visitor declared that the chief duty of the executive, C. A. Clark, is to train adult leaders. The greatest need of the council is for more sustaining memberships among adults. Scouting, in other words, needs "fans."

Those at the breakfast included Gilmore N. Nunn, vice-president of the council, who presided; Executive Clark, Dr. C. H. Schulke, R. B. Fisher, Olen E. Hinkle, A. L. Peirick, J. O. Gilliam, Dr. R. M. Belk, Chris Martin, the Rev. John Mullen, Roger McConnell, George Briggs, and the Rev. A. A. Hyde.

Mrs. J. A. Meek, who has been seriously ill, is reported improving.

Meek's Bonnie Rose, W. C. de Cordova, Mary Bennett, and Ruth Sewell visited the fair in Amarillo Friday.

MAYOR BRATTON PROCLAIMS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK HERE—FULL PROGRAM IS PLANNED

War On Indifference In Texas Will Be Waged

FIRE Prevention week in Pampa, October 8 to 14, was set aside by Mayor W. A. Bratton yesterday in a special proclamation.

The importance of the week to Texans is indicated by the fact that in 1932, 403 lives were lost in fires in this state and damage estimated at 20 million dollars resulted.

Lack of interest in fire prevention, the chief obstacle in the way of reducing this huge toll of lives and property, will be combated by full programs and inspections in Pampa and other cities of the state, Mayor Bratton's proclamation follows:

Whereas, The destruction of property by fire in America has steadily increased until the annual loss now is approximately 500 million dollars

Fugitive From Prison Killed In Gun Battle

NASHVILLE, Ind., Sept. 30 (AP)—Joseph Jenkins, one of ten convicts who escaped from Indiana state prison last Tuesday, was shot to death in a gun battle at Beansburg, near here, tonight.

Herbert McDonald, a storekeeper, was shot in the arm by the man, before William Alltop and Benjamin Kantor, residents of the town, fired their shotguns into his body.

The identification of Jenkins was made by Captain Matt Leach of the state police force who rushed here from Indianapolis, 55 miles away. Other state policemen also were sent here to beat the brush and high hills of this famous country in search of other escaped convicts.

Youths Charged In LeFors Raid

Willie Parks and Clarence Olson are named in complaints filed in Justice W. S. Baxter's court as the two youths who held up and robbed the Red & White service station owned at LeFors by W. C. Breining. They will be arraigned Monday.

The hijacking occurred Tuesday night about 10 o'clock, shortly after Mr. Breining had turned out the station lights preparatory to closing. Two young men rushed into the station and ordered the proprietor to get up his hands. While one, alleged to have been Parks, held a pistol, the other took about $250 in cash and a check for $100.

SEVEN TO BE SENTENCED IN URSCHEL CASE

SIX ASSESSED TERMS IN AUGUST LUER ABDUCTION

By The Associated Press.

SWIFTLY, with severity, the law smashed out at the kidnap racket Saturday. Thirteen defendants in two famous cases were convicted.

For the abduction of August Luer, Alton, Ill., banker, a jury in Edwardsville, Ill., convicted five men and a woman and assessed punishments of from five years to life imprisonment.

In Oklahoma City, seven persons—one the notorious Harvey Bailey, another a woman—were found guilty of kidnaping for $200,000 ransom Charles Urschel, oil operator.

To the court was left the length of prison sentences for the Urschel kidnapers. Those convicted were: Bailey, Albert Bates, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shannon and their son, Armon; Barney Berman and Clifford Skelly. Three others were acquitted.

"This is just the first skirmish," warned Joseph B. Keenan, assistant United States attorney general.

Mrs. Lillian Chessen, 50 years old, and two men, Eugene Norvell and Percy Fitzgerald, were given life sentences for the Luer abduction. Others convicted were: Mike Musiala, Christ Nicola Gitchco, and Charles Chessen.

In Pipestone, Minn., a band of robbers held up a bank, robbed $1,600, rounded up three women as hostages, placed them on the running board of their car to prevent police firing and escaped. The women were released outside of town.

Three Acquitted

Seven defendants in the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping conspiracy case were convicted by one swift blow from a federal court jury at Oklahoma City and held to be sentenced next Saturday.

Three others were freed and left joyously for their homes in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Sam Kronick, Sam Kozberg, and Isadore Blumenfeld of the Twin Cities group of defendants were acquitted.

The jury's verdict was reached after only an hour and a half of deliberation last night, but could not be announced until today because of orders of Judge Edgar S. Vaughn.

Judge Vaughn announced he would grant attorneys for the convicted defendants three days to prepare motions for new trials, and lawyers for all but Bates said they would have these motions ready Monday. Bates' attorney, Ben Laska of Denver, was not present.

The Twin Cities men were accused of being "the money changers," the "fringe of the underworld," using shady channels to dispose of part of the ransom.

Kozberg and Kronick were so little involved that Hyde in his final argument suggested that the court might order a verdict in their favor.

On Verge of Tears

The other three, Isadore Blumenfeld, Barney Berman, and Clifford Skelly, were admittedly in the liquor business, but the jury was instructed to disregard this. Blumenfeld was immediately freed, but the jury held that Berman and Skelly had guilty knowledge of the origin of $5,500 they obtained from "Mr. Collins from the south" (presumed by the government to be Bates), and convicted them.

Mrs. Shannon received the verdict, like her husband and step-son, in stolid silence, but later in the county jail she was on the verge of tears as she declared again the family was "forced into this thing with machine guns, the same as Mr. Urschel."

Soviet Balloon Soars 11 Miles In Stratosphere

MOSCOW, Sept. 30 (AP)—Three men in an aluminum ball hooked to a balloon ascended 11.8 miles today, the greatest height ever reached by man, and enjoyed themselves so much that when they landed the first thing they said was they would do it again as soon as they could.

"None of us seems to be any worse from the experience, and we could go up again tomorrow," said Ernest Bimbaum, the leader of the expedition into the stratosphere. He was accompanied on the record-breaking flight by two other air service veterans, Georgi Prokofiev and Konstantin Gudimoff.

Their balloon, the "Statatist," landed near Kolomna, 71 miles from Moscow, after they had been aloft 8 hours, 19 minutes.

The aeronauts started immediately for Moscow, where a welcome of great proportions awaited them.

Instruments carried by the balloon indicated it had reached a height of 19,000 meters, compared with the record of 16,700 meters set by Prof. Auguste Piccard in August, 1932. Piccard's record equaled 10 miles and 117 yards.

An Unreasonable Tax Plan
 Panhandle residents, again "up in arms", are protesting a proposed natural gas tax embodied in house bill No. 42, which is set for a public hearing Monday at 7 p. m. Rep. B. L. Rogers is taking a leading part in the campaign against the measure.

The proposed bill would levy a tax of 2 cents for each 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas which is transported, sold, or delivered for use as light or fuel. Each person or firm subject to the tax would be entitled to deduct, as an exemption, 200 million cubic feet of the total amount of the gross production for each quarter before calculating the amount of the tax due, and gas used for drilling and producing operations would be exempt. Similarly, gas produced by and used by a company in manufacturing in its own plants in this state would be exempt.

The chief danger is to the casinghead gasoline and gas stripping industry and, indirectly, to the carbon black industry, and for this reason the counties of Gray and Hutchinson are particularly affected.

Sponsors of the measure are looking at the retail price of fuel gas and not at the price paid producers and royalty owners at the well. The tax amounts to a levy of from 50 to 200 per cent of the price at the well, which is manifestly unfair and confiscatory. Amended to a reasonable levy, proportionate to other taxes, it might be approved, but as it stands it is sure to be bitterly combated.

That the revenue would be applied to retire the relief bonds does not lessen the unreasonableness of the proposal.

The legislature knows little of the oil and gas business. The average legislature does not realize that under state stripping permits natural gas is being utilized at a profit less, in most cases, than the amount of the proposed levy. He does not realize that this tax would undermine the gasoline industry which he has set up, and under which, incidentally, there is a huge overproduction of residue gas. Considered as a whole, the current and proposed oil gas legislation is contradictory, exorbitant in tax levies, and such as to cause continual uneasiness on the part of oil men. The proposed bill is, in effect, a means of taxing casinghead and stripping plants out of existence. If this is what some legislators have in mind, they should seek a more legitimate means of slaughter and, furthermore, should provide a remedy for the condition which led to the granting of stripping permits.

The tax as proposed should be defeated.

Handling of Guns

Limitation of ownership of small arms and machine guns is being seriously considered in many states. Too long has it been possible for gangsters to obtain sub-machine guns.

But limiting of arms to shotguns and rifles may be an impossible task. There are so many pistols in this country that it would take decades to abolish them except for officers. Americans, long accustomed to meeting natural enemies and to hunting game with small arms, will not willingly give up the privilege.

Arms and ammunition makers tell us, moreover, that they could not exist were it not for the popularity of target shooting. The "skeet" club and rifle club movement, sanctioned by the federal government, is a popular one. Military training presumes that arms will be available for the cadets.

Boy Scouts are taught the fine points of handling firearms, especially with safety in mind. The most prevalent accident in the country is through careless handling of guns. In 1931, 3,158 persons were killed in this country in firearms accidents, of which 20 per cent were children. Scouts are taught not only to point guns away from everyone, but to point them so no ricocheting bullet may do harm. Scouts are told to unload all guns the moment the likelihood of using them is over. When any firearm is picked up, the first operation should be to open the action and prove that it is not loaded. When a gun of any type is passed to another person, it would be passed with the action open, when it is impossible to discharge the weapon. Seldom should the muzzle be pointed toward the ground. When carrying a gun for a long time, changing of positions to rest arms or shoulders often results in dangerous habits. Many persons depend too largely upon the safety devices, which have their uses but are somewhat misnamed. Many fatalities have resulted because some hunter depended upon the safety catch while dragging a gun through a fence or through thickets.

"Trigger finger" alertness seldom is safe without a cool mind. To shoot at the first sign of motion is too hasty. The mind is deceptive in that when you see a thing, many objects look like

COTTON MARKET EVEN
 NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Trading in cotton was only moderate in today's short session. Week-end covering and evening up influenced the course of prices and an early dip was followed by a brisk advance. The close was at the top 3 to 7 points net higher.
 The opening was steady with Liverpool cables coming in about as due and sterling a shade higher. The market firmed up in final trading in sympathy with a sharp advance in the stock market which sent cotton shorts to cover. December advanced to 9.91 and March to 10.16, new highs for the day and 15 to 17 points above the earlier lows. The close was at the top with both December and March showing net gains for the day of 6 points.
 Port receipts 75,598, for season 1,860,655, last season 1,206,489. Exports 28,842, for season 1,319,135, last season 1,120,177. Port stock 3,468,710, last year 3,637,266. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston, and Houston 135,430, last year 122,615. Spot sales at southern markets 50,126, last year 50,103.

STOCKS ARE STRONG
 NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Stocks had good-bye to September and the third quarter with a smart closing rally today, although prior to the late trading prices had declined. Short selling earlier this week, however, appeared to have given the market a backlog of potential support and presumably it was covering by recent sellers that in large measure accounted for the final upswing. Grains ended their day virtually unchanged, while cotton here was a shade higher.
 Several leading shares bogged down noticeably as the market rounded out its first hour. Metal shares received a high polish from speculative buying. Ralls as a group were dull and steady. Sales totaled 1,008,380 shares.

GRAIN IS STEADY
 CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Despite a brisk late rally following material setbacks earlier, the outcome of grain trading today proved to be virtually a draw.
 Varying action of securities had much to do with the course of cereals, but the main factor was uncertainty as to what unforeseen developments might take place regarding national monetary plans. Under such circumstances, few grain speculators were willing to leave any important risks open until Monday.
 Wheat closed nervous, 1-8 lower to 3-8 higher compared with yesterday's finish, corn and oats both unchanged to 3-8 lower, and provisions unchanged to 25 cents down. Week-end evening-up of accounts

Grading of Highway Gives Employment to 187 Local Residents

Work of grading highway 33 in South Pampa last week involved a payroll of $1,556.80 for 187 men, all registered at the relief office.
 The work will continue this week with about 200 men employed. The greater part of the relief problem is met by the relief project, but there are other jobless men not registered who would welcome starting of a contract project; for instance, the topping of highway 152.
 Direct relief to persons unable to work totaled $68.74 for last week. Highway work is directed by the local resident engineer, L. A. White, and his assistants.

No 'Faint Heart' Uses 4-Year Old License to Wed

FORT WORTH, Sept. 30. (AP)—Charley Williams, Smithfield farmer, waited more than four years—but he got the girl.
 Back on March 21, 1929, Williams obtained a license to marry Miss Velma Smith of Everman. Williams then was 23 years old, Miss Smith was 19.
 One day last week Williams came back to the courthouse.
 "Is that marriage license still good?" he asked.
 "Sure," replied the marriage license clerk.
 "But you have to marry the same girl."
 Williams and Miss Smith were married this week at Keller.

Outrageous Fortune

—By PATRICIA WENTWORTH

SYNOPSIS: A dazed man, picked up after the wreck of the Alice Arden, has been taken from the hospital by Nesta Riddell, who says he is her husband, Jimmy Riddell. He is at her brother Tom's house in Lexington, and has been babbling in his sleep of emeralds and such. A few moments after Nesta and the man had left, Caroline Leigh arrives at the hospital, searching for her cousin, Jim Randall. As she is leaving, disappointed, the nurse remembers a scrap of a letter found in the man's pocket, with the signature "Caroline." So Caroline determines to carry on her apparently hopeless search. Meanwhile the man awakens, is told he is Nesta's husband, and declares he does not know her. Next morning he confronts Nesta, but rather weakly, for he cannot remember events earlier than the day before.

Chapter Ten THE EMERALDS

"Yes, I should like to know why I'm here," Jim said. "I wonder whether you'll like it as much when you do know?" "I shall know more about that when you've told me," she nodded. "All at once the tension was less. She said in an easy, ordinary voice: 'Sure you can't remember anything, Jimmy?' 'I've told you I can't.' 'Then why do you talk about the emeralds in your sleep?' 'It was exactly as if Nesta had come towards him with a smile and then thrown a knife. He had seen knives thrown like that—he didn't know where or when, but he'd seen it. All right—he'd teach her to throw knives at him. He looked at her with an effect of wooden surprise. 'Do you mind saying that again, Nesta?' She said it again, louder this time: 'Why did you talk about the emeralds in your sleep?'—but in his mind there was a lighted space where eight square green stones swung from a man's hand—eight square green stones, linked two and two with pearls. 'Like a kid's green beads—' said Nesta with her eyes upon his face.

A pulse hammered in his temples. Where did she get that? Someone had said that before—a voice—his voice? "You talked in your sleep," she said. Then she dropped her voice. "Jimmy, where are they?" He wrenched away from the picture of the square green stones. "Will you tell me what you are talking about?" "Will you tell me you don't know?" "Yes I will. I haven't an idea what you are talking about." Nesta was smiling. When she smiled, she showed sharp uneven teeth, too small, too close, too pointed. "You wouldn't know an emerald if you saw one, I suppose?" Then, with a change of voice, "Jimmy, we've been partners all through—you simply can't go back on me like this. Where have you put them?" He stuck his chin in the air. "What's the good of talking like that? I don't remember anything. You say, where have I put them—and I don't know what you are talking about. How much farther do you think that's going to get us?" "You don't know what I'm talking about?" "No, I don't." "Something hung in the balance. He saw her checked, hesitating, uncertain. Then with an impatient movement she came round the chair. 'You want me to tell you things?' 'If there are things I ought to know.' She laughed then. 'Well, we might as well sit down, then.' 'Thanks—I'd rather stand.' 'And I'd rather sit—and I'm hanged if I'll get a crick in the neck talking up to you.' She dropped into one of the blue and red chairs, and rather unwillingly he took the other. Nesta then threw herself back, lit a cigarette, and smoked for a minute in silence. He was determined not to speak to her. At last she said, with an edge to her voice. 'If you're playing a game with me, you'd better be sorry for it.' He lifted his hand from the arm of the chair and let it fall again. 'If you're not going to explain—' he made as if to rise. 'Oh, I'll explain. I hope you'll

HUBBELL AND CRONIN LEAD IN BALLOTING

WRITERS SELECT ALL-STAR TEAM FOR MAJORS

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Seven players from the American League and five from the National League places on the Associated Press' all star major league team selected on the basis of balloting by sports editors and writers.

To Joe Cronin, youthful manager of the American League champion Washington Senators, goes the honor of polling the heaviest vote. He received 88 of the 89 votes for the shortstop post, Dick Bartell of the Phillies getting the other one. Carl Hubbell, sensational southpaw of the New York Giants, National League titleholders, and Chuck Klein, slugging outfielder of the Phillies, were close behind with 84 and 81 respectively.

The Senators and Giants each placed one other man on the team. Alvin Crowder being awarded one of the three pitching berths and Gus Mancuso one of the two catching places. The Philadelphia Athletics, with Jimmie Fox and Bob Grove, also furnished two players. Bill Dickey was the only New York Yankee representative as Babe Ruth failed of selection for the first time. The all-star lineup, with the votes cast and the latest unofficial batting or pitching records, follows:

Position Player-Team V BM
First base, Fox, Athletics, 61 357
Second base, G'ring, Tigers, 55 327
Shortstop, Cronin, Senators, 88 311
Third base, Traynor, Pirates, 43 302
Left field, Simmons, W. Sox 75 331
Center field, Berger, Braves, 56 312
Right field, Klein, Phillies, 81 372
Catcher, Dickey, Yankees, 43 321
Catcher, Mancuso, Giants, 18 266

Pitching Record.

Hubbell, Giants, 84 23 12
Grove, Athletics, 52 24 8
Crowder, Senators, 32 24 15
Second team with total votes:
First base, Gehrig, Yankees (20).
Second base, Prish, Cardinals (26).
Shortstop, Bartell, Phillies (1). Third base, Martin, Cardinals (22). Left field, Manush, Senators (16). Center field, Averill, Indians (8). Right field, Chapman, Yankees (7). Catchers, Cochrane, Athletics (15), and Davis, Phillies (12). Pitchers, Cantwell, Braves (19), Whitehill, Senators (7), and Dean, Cardinals (8).

SHOW FOLKS MOURN OKLAHOMA CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The show goes on at the state fair today, but behind the scenes the capering clowns and the dainty dancers are most decorous. It's "funeral day" for Willie Kruck, the human cannonball. Two years ago Willie, shot from a big cannon at the fair grounds, missed the net and was killed. Today, as last year, the show folk will visit his grave, attired in the costumes of their acts.

Life collecting emeralds. His nephews got the lot, and he took Packham Hall and gave them to his wife, and she was going to be presented in them and splash about London with the most valuable set of emeralds in the world. She was crazy about them. She stopped, tilted up her chin, blew out a cloud of smoke, and added, "So were you."

FIFTEEN DESTRUCTIVE TROPICAL HURRICANE HATCHED IN 'WOMB OF DESOLATION', SETTING RECORD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The hurricane which devastated Tampico is the climax of the worst year for tropical storms since 1887. The "hurricane season" of 1933 may even prove to be record-breaker, says the U. S. weather bureau, for more storms may come along in October.

Fifteen tropical storms so far this season have roared up out of the Atlantic ocean. Six of them have been severe enough to cause major property damage and loss of life. This year's record of 15 to date is only one less than the 16 storms recorded in 1887. There were 11 such storms in 1922, 10 in 1926, eight in 1931 and 1934. In 1890 only one tropical storm disturbed the calm of summer.

First of this season's serious hurricanes did heavy damage in the West Indies and Florida, then tumbled to Texas. It was first reported by the weather bureau on July 25. On August 18 another storm hove in sight in the eastern Caribbean, and swept the Atlantic seaboard leaving devastation in its wake.

The "thermal equator," which has no connection with the geographic equator, probably is to blame for more hurricanes developing in some years than others, in the belief of the weather officials, but just how it operates is not yet understood. The "thermal equator" is the line which separates the trade winds blowing in the northern and southern hemispheres. In the summer season it shifts to the north of the geographic equator. Hurricanes develop along this line.

They begin, it is believed, when winds start blowing into a region of low atmospheric pressure from high pressure areas round about. North of the geographic equator the effect of the earth's rotation deflects the winds to the right, and starts a spinning motion in an anti-clockwise direction.

The storm center may be as much as 30 miles wide, with winds blowing around this center up to 200 miles an hour. The storm, as a whole, however, moves ahead only about 15 miles an hour. Hurricanes, that start south of the geographic equator spin in a clockwise direction.

Methodists May Close or Merge Six Institutions

FORT WORTH, Sept. 30 (AP)—A joint commission of the five Methodist state conferences in meeting here drafted a recommendation for a unified educational program for Methodist colleges in Texas. The recommendation, drawn up because of the condition of the nine Methodist educational institutions in the state, will be presented to each of the annual conferences for approval.

The commission suggested that if adequate financial support cannot be obtained locally, six of these educational institutions will be closed or merged with other schools. They were Southwestern university at Georgetown, Kidd Key college at Sherman, Wesley college at Greenville, Blinn Memorial college, Westmoorland college at San Antonio, and Weatherford college at Weatherford. Only five of the institutions have any endowment and one has considerable loan funds.

Beside the financial condition of the institutions, a sharp decline in student enrollments in several of them has been noticed. There was said to be a general discouragement in the minds of administration officials and a feeling that it was impossible to continue the schools.

The commission recommended that Southern Methodist university, Dallas, be designated as head of the educational system in the southwest and that support be continued.

Class Ends Party With Shower For Departing Friend

A surprise visit to Mrs. J. E. Roberts, who is leaving to make her home in Fort Worth, was paid by members of First Baptist Dorcas class following their business and social meeting Wednesday. They presented her with a shower of handkerchiefs.

Mrs. John Bell Jr., was hostess at her home, where cut flowers were used in a color harmony of pink and green. A covered dish luncheon was served.

In the business session, members reported 190 visitors, 75 telephone calls, 11 trays, 19 cards, and 22 bouquets sent during the past month. Present were Mesdames G. L. Anderson, Bonnie Rose, Harry Grove, W. R. Bell, P. O. Anderson, V. O. Pruitt, O. L. Beatty, Dee Campbell, S. O. Garner, Winfred Stiekler, J. A. Meek, Roy Wright, W. O. Workman, H. M. Lister.

Musicians Give LeFors Program

Faculty members of Pampa Conservatory were invited to LeFors Thursday evening, to join LeFors musicians in giving a recital before an audience that filled the high school auditorium.

Mrs. Nina McSkimming, Miss Madeline Tarpley, and Samuel Pendleton played piano selections and Roy Tinsley violin solos. Mrs. Philip Wolfe sang, and also presented as a vocal soloist, Jimmie Baldwin of LeFors, her pupil.

Mrs. Harroway and Mrs. Land, LeFors teachers, appeared in piano numbers.

Bobby Statton Has Party To Celebrate His Fifth Birthday

Bobby Statton invited a large group of friends to help celebrate his fifth birthday in one of the gay parties of the past week.

His mother, Mrs. E. W. Statton, was assisted by Mrs. H. E. Schwartz and Mrs. Francis Boyles, directing games and serving delicious refreshments to the boys and girls.

Speech and Gym Classes Interest School Children

Interest of pupils and parents is centering in two classes introduced at Woodrow Wilson school this year, Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal, reports.

Public speaking is being taught to all fourth and fifth grade students, with development of talent as its aim. Miss Viola Cox, who has received special college training in the subject, is teacher.

Physical culture classes are developing some unusual exhibitions of mass gymnastics, with groups of 70 children exercising to music. Hand work is also being featured at the school, as members of its well-known old band work to interest other ward schools of Pampa in organizing bands.

Mrs. and Mrs. Lyman Jackson and children spent yesterday in Amarillo attending the fair.

Mistress of Happy Kitchen

MISS BEULAH MACKEY YATES, home economist and kitchen expert, will pay her first visit to Pampa housewives next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when she will conduct THE NEWS annual school of cookery. Daily sessions will be held at the city hall auditorium, where Miss Yates' "Happy Kitchen" will be arranged on the stage. Women of the entire county are invited to this free school to hear the lectures and see the demonstrations of modern kitchen methods.

Camp Fire Girls Work at Meeting

While some members of the Camp Fire girls continued their handcraft work at their meeting Thursday, another group made fudge to serve at the close of the hour.

The meeting was at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Belle Barrett. Plans were made for an outdoor program next week.

Present were Katherine Ward, Kathleen O'Hara, Betty Jo Anderson, Mary Seeds, Jessie Marie Gilbert, and Catherine Culbertson.

Business Meetings of P-T. A. Need Not Be Tiresome; Parliamentary Study Is Urged for All Officers

As activities of the various local parent-teacher associations together with county and city councils, begin this fall, it is well to take inventory, to see whether or not the business end of the organization is being efficiently managed.

The business meeting is very important, but if it is not conducted in an orderly manner, with fairness to all, the members will cease to be interested in it, and may even become antagonistic. Lack of orderly procedure may result in consuming of too much time for business, with the result that the program suffers by being cut short, or people are kept in too long drawn-out sessions.

Order Shortens Time. If officers and members are informed on the principles of parliamentary procedure, it will be a pleasure to attend the business meeting, as much business can be dispatched in a short time.

A knowledge of parliamentary law should be used only to insure order, to expedite business, and to develop an organization which will cleave to the objects for which it was organized. The parliamentary

Dr. Knapp, To Be Heard Here, Is Noted Speaker

Dr. Bradford Knapp of Texas Technological college, who is to speak here Saturday under auspices of the county teachers and the American Association of University Women, is known as one of the best speakers in West Texas, and has been in wide demand since he became president of the Lubbock college more than a year ago.

He is to speak to the teachers when they hold a countywide meeting Saturday, to feature their program. His subject will be on some phase of education.

His evening address will be given at the city hall, and is open to the public. Arrangements for it have been in charge of the A. A. U. W.

Definite subjects for the two addresses have not been announced, but will be the first of the week.

Officers Named For New Class

A new class was organized for the young people's department of First Baptist church, at a social meeting held at the church recently.

Miss W. D. Benton is to be teacher.

Ellis Faye O'Keefe was elected president, Doris Ballard vice president, Loulene Conklin secretary, Hazel Pierce and Helen Fuller group captains.

Other members present for the organization were Zelma Waikes, Anita Boydston, Gwendolyn Underwood, Leah Lane, Elsie Johnson, Miss Erdene Chon was a guest.

GUEST CHOIR REHEARSAL. A guest rehearsal for the Philharmonic choir, followed by a social period, will be held at First Baptist church Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Members who have copies of Gail's Holy City are requested to bring them.

These customs and rules, known as Parliamentary Law, came originally from England but have been greatly modified by the practice of congress and of state legislatures and especially by the practice of clubs and societies scattered over the United States.

Since Robert's Rules of Order, revised, is the authority accepted by the National Congress, it should be the one accepted by all parent-teacher organizations. A number of authorities have compiled books having uniformity of practice through-

EXPERT WILL SHOW RIGHT WAY IN KITCHEN

ARE THE little "righties" or the gloomy "wrongies" living in your kitchen?

It is easy to find out. If the sauce has that savory tanginess which you try so hard for, you know that the "righties" did it. But if it is insipid, flat, and unsavory; then the gloomy "wrongies" are snoopers around. Those little fellows are very mischievous, and if you don't watch out they will make you think you are right when you are wrong. They make the cake fall flat, they "glue" up the pie crust, and bring gloom to the dining room table.

Nothing but "righties" will attend the Pampa Daily News Cooking School; because Miss Beulah Mackey Yates, who will conduct the three days of lectures and demonstrations, during Oct. 5-7, never entertains the gloomy "wrongies." They can't get into her "Happy Kitchen."

But they would if she didn't watch out. She will tell you too how to keep them away; so come and learn.

Reserve the 3 days for the best time of your life... and certainly one of the most profitable times.

Every session will glow with new ideas. Learn how to do more with less effort, and do it better. Learn how to get out of the kitchen sooner; and then find that you don't want to. Learn how to create, how to experiment, and how to be sure and not guess. There's romance aplenty for you in the kitchen if you but learn how to find it. Miss Yates will teach you how to find "kitchen romance," which will be not only a surprise to you but will bring many surprises to the entire family.

Garden Club's Flower Show In Church Delayed

Wind and sand, not frost, has forced postponement of the Pampa Garden club's annual fall flower show which was to have been held next Friday at the Presbyterian church annex, Mrs. R. S. Dirksen of the show committee announced yesterday. Date for the show has not been decided but will depend upon the weather.

Residents who have been carefully tending flowers for the event found no way to check the inroads of wind and sand, and as a result many blossoms which would have been entered in the display are now withered, torn and blistered. It is hoped that "October's bright blue weather" will give the flowers a chance to bear new blooms.

Chrysanthemums have hardly begun blooming yet, and if good weather prevails the "mum" crop should be brilliant and plentiful, it was said. Many of the best dahlias also bloom in late October.

Young Lines for Women Who Are Not Slender

No woman wants to look her years—or her weight. Nor does she want to look eye in a frock designed for her sub-deb daughter. The answer is a frock designed especially for her age and size, yet youthful and slenderizing in every line.

Here it is—a perfect model for the larger figure because it has wide revers that accent her shoulders, thereby making her waist-line look slim; and diagonal lines that do nice things to her bust and hips. There's no secret about this frock's magic—it's Easy-to-Make.

Sheer wool or the newly-smart bengaline will be excellent fabric choices—and you might choose both, in different colors, and make the same frock twice. For other Easy-to-Make designs for home or business, formal or sports wear, see our new Fall Fashion Book.

Pattern No. 5346 is designed for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 bust.

New Teacher

Mrs. Ethel Wilkins Powell, new faculty member of the Carr School of Music, introduces a new type of musical course here with her class in pre-instrumental music for children 5 to 8 years old. Mrs. Powell is a teacher with eight years of experience in Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Music Course Of New Type Given For Beginners

A music course unique in Pampa is offered by Mrs. Ethel Wilkins Powell, new faculty member of the Carr School of Music, who has started a course in pre-instrumental training for children 5 to 8 years old.

"The child's music ability is reached through his experience," Mrs. Powell says in explaining aims of the course. "As this is limited, direct approach is made through the natural play instinct. He learns to listen attentively and respond quickly, and through his own singing comes to understand the rhythmic, melodic, and dynamic problems of simple music."

A beginner in the study of piano finds difficulties in coordinating mental and physical faculties. The pre-instrumental course aims to develop ability in rhythm and its notations, to make faster progress possible when the study of the instrument is begun.

Another aim is to provide practical training in the fundamentals of music, so that children and their parents may determine their interest and talent for it.

Mrs. Powell holds an advanced teacher's diploma from the normal department of the Progressive Series Teachers college in St. Louis. Two of her teachers were Ernest R. Kroeger and Louis V. Star. She has had eight years of teaching experience in Woodward and Clinton, Okla., Monroe, La., and towns in the vicinity of Monroe.

MUSIC AND TALK BY SUPERINTENDENT ON PROGRAM

MUSIC by the high school band was played while one of the largest crowds in the history of Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association gathered at the school Friday evening for the first meeting of the association year.

Parents registered in the rooms and met the teachers of their children. Principal A. L. Patrick welcomed both parents new to the school and those who have been patrons in other years.

John Sturgeon led a lively singing, then Supt. R. B. Fisher spoke on "Turning the Corner in Education."

Educational Aims. "Our educational system is progressive," as the present is built on the past, so the future will be built on the present," he said. "The American school is not going to retreat."

"The aim of education is to build an effective social unit and not an individual. Too much stress is often placed on egoistic success rather than group success."

"Everything that concerns the American civilization concerns the American public schools. Children need to be taught to think." Mrs. F. E. Leach, talking on NRA, urged each member of the P-T. A. to sign the consumer pledge. An NRA song was learned and sung by the crowd.

Mrs. C. P. Buckler was in charge of the program, and Mrs. Neil McCullough was chairman of the hospitality committee, which served punch and wafers to the crowd numbering about 250.

Baptists of 17 Counties Attend Convention Here

Attended by representatives of almost every Baptist church in the 17 northeast Panhandle counties, a district meeting was conducted at First Baptist church here Thursday.

Although they represent an area which has suffered a drought of almost famine proportions, the delegates planned a continuation of their missionary program as well as a service program in each local church. C. B. Lancaster, district organizer, presided.

Visiting speakers were W. R. White of Fort Worth, W. W. Chancellor of Mineral Wells, and George J. Mason of Dallas.

Mason, from this state executive office, gave a review of the denominational work and the needs of every educational, missionary, and benevolent cause of the church.

REHEARSAL OF PLAY WILL NOT BE HELD TODAY

Players Are Rapidly
Acquiring Talk
Of Thrillers

ON account of the necessary absence of several members of the cast of the Little Theater play, "Gold in the Hills or The Dead Sister," rehearsal will not be held this afternoon as was announced Friday night. Rehearsals will be held Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights of next week.

Most of the players are slowly but accurately shaping their interpretations of the various roles to fit the exaggerated melodramatic style of the 1930 type of "shocker" in which every speech was a sermon, an oration, a malediction, or a eulogy. Some of the players have already cast off and abandoned every characteristic of the modern actor or actress, and have reverted back to the type that their fathers or grandfathers were thrilled to hear and see.

The setting of the second act of the play is a bar-room-on-the-bowery scene. Mike Slattery, Neil Bean, the owner and bartender. Chuck Crumery, Ely Ponville, is the bartender, the callous wretch who lures the uptown swells, Mr. and Mrs. Vandervlop and daughter, Edith, and Mr. Glue into the den of vice which is inhabited by a drunken derelict, Bert Hobson; Old Kate, Miss Peggy Arnold; a bowery dance-and-song girl, Irene Irvine; Bill the Dip, Dr. Wilder, Richard Murgatroyd, alias Handsome Harry Howard, the city slicker, Dick Hughes.

The setting of the first and third acts is the old homestead of Hiram Stanley, father of Barbara, the dead sister and "our little Nell." Incidentally, there is a mortgage on the farm and oil under the farm.

During the play, which will be produced October 23, the audience will see when the villain appears, and otherwise act as an audience would in the "mauve decade." Costumes of the era will be worn.

Antem To Be Sung By Methodist Choir At Morning Service

An anthem sung by Miss Helen Martin, Mrs. R. J. Jones, and the choir will be outstanding on the musical program of the Methodist church today, as arranged by R. B. Fisher, director, and Mrs. May Foreman Carr, accompanist.

The morning service will open with the organ prelude, Andante Cantabile, Widor. For the offertory Mrs. Carr will play Berceuse, Op. 7, Chopin. The offertory will be sung by the choir, as arranged by Mrs. Carr. The offertory will be Berceuse, Dickinson; and Buck's Postlude will be played.

AUXILIARY YEAR ENDS

The American Legion Auxiliary closed its membership books for its national convention, to be held in Chicago, October 2 to 5, with a national enrollment of 354,788 members, according to Mrs. W. C. de Cordova president of Pampa unit of the Auxiliary. This figure is 86.69 per cent of the year's membership goal.

"The fact that more than 350,000 women have paid dues in the American Legion Auxiliary during this year of acute economic distress testifies eloquently to the value of the organization and to their interest in the Auxiliary's civic and patriotic work," said Mrs. de Cordova. "Instead of losing strength during the depression, the Auxiliary has grown. The national enrollment in 1929, the last of the 'boom' years, was approximately 330,000 members."

The Panhandle Refining company, one of the oldest independent oil companies in northwest Texas, built one of the first refining plants, which was placed in operation 18 years ago at Wichita Falls.

It expanded its production and marketing business into the Panhandle and South Plains territory, and feeling in need of a source of supply for its market in northwest Texas and the plains, in March of this year it leased the Dixon Creek plant at Kingsmill, which it at once put into operation.

Considerable improvement has been made in this plant by the company, and it has since beginning operations added additional men and increased the capacity.

Gray county crude is used exclusively in this plant and products manufactured therefrom are supplied throughout the Panhandle and South Plains territory. In addition to 400 E. P. motor gasoline, which is manufactured at this plant, the Panhandle Refining company also markets a high octane gasoline manufactured from North Texas crude at its Wichita Falls plant, known as Noxious gasoline.

Other products manufactured for truck or tank car delivery at the Kingsmill plant are kerosene, distillate, and diesel and fuel oils.

out the country but two other compilations by General Henry M. Robert are very valuable. Any organization observing these things functions admirably while one attempting to function without them, will find pitfalls easily avoided if established rules and customs were observed.

Every organization must have some rules for its government. These rules in parent-teacher associations are called by-laws and should be adopted at the time the organization is formed. These by-laws should be carefully preserved and recorded in the secretary's book. They are only changed by amendment. All incoming officers should carefully study the by-laws of their body and the parliamentary should read them once a year before the entire membership.

Suggested by-laws for every kind of parent-teacher organization have been prepared to meet the needs of small or large, rural or city units by the National Congress. These can be used as a basis for revising existing by-laws or the forming of by-laws for new associations. In the case of districts, county or city officials, the by-laws are approved by the state board. Typical by-laws, approved by Texas state board, are available at the state office, and these may serve as models.

Mrs. H. F. Codeke, the state parliamentarian for the Sherman convention, furnished the data given for this release. She stands ready to offer any help on any specific problems that may arise at any time. She further insists that all local units, whether small or large, have a parliamentarian who will study this important subject, so Texas Congress will be better enabled to serve the childhood with in its bounds.

Allred Files Tax Suits Against Oil Companies in Texas

AUSTIN, Sept. 30. (AP)—James V. Allred, attorney general, today filed suit in Travis county district court against the Magnolia Petroleum company for $103,123, alleging this amount to be due in gross production taxes.

The petition alleged the company deducted 3 per cent from its production and paid taxes only on 98 per cent of the total. Taxes on the 2 per cent were sought over a period of 22 years. The state alleged the 2 per cent deduction was arbitrary.

Similar suits have been filed against the Humble Oil and Refining company and the Texas company.

ANNOUNCEMENT

It has come to our attention that there are persistent rumors in the Pampa Territory that we are going to cease operation of the Kings Mill Refinery.

We wish to announce to our friends and customers that there is absolutely no foundation for such rumors.

The operation of the King's Mill Refinery has been very satisfactory to us and to the Lessor of the Plant. We have at no time had any thought of discontinuing its operation.

We shall continue to supply our West Texas customers with 400 E. P. Motor Gasoline, made from Gray County Crude, from that Plant, and solicit a continuation of your patronage.

SOONER CHAMPS NOSE OUT IMPROVED HARVESTERS 7-6 IN COLORFUL GAME

INDIANS MAKE TOUCHDOWN IN LAST MINUTES

PUNT, PASS AND FIGHT AT GOAL FEATURES PAMPA ATTACK

A FIGHTING, wonderfully improved Harvester grid team, out-weighted 17 pounds to the man, held four different times in the shadow of their own goal before the Capitol Hill Indians of Oklahoma City scored late in the fourth period to tie the game and then kick the extra point to win 7 to 6 here Friday.

The Harvesters scored in the second period on one of the most sensational plays of the game, and there were many.

Elongated "Gomez" Marbaugh took the ball in his huge left "paw" and hurled the pigskin like a baseball to Monroe Owens 30 yards up the field. Owens caught the ball on his finger tips. He fumbled but pushed it into the air as he stumbled. Before the ball could hit the ground, Owens recovered his balance, tucked the ball under his arm, and raced across the goal line a foot ahead of a Capitol Hill player. Hamilton failed to kick the point missing by inches.

The Indians scored near the end of the game when the battered Harvesters could not hold the big Oklahomaans, who had the wind advantage. Crusty Barton carried the ball across and then kicked the extra point for victory.

New Names Heard

Every man on the Harvester team played outstanding football. There were few stars, but praise, much given Owens, Pinnell, Hamilton, Eldridge, Gregory and Dunaway. Owens' taking of the long pass and his deadly tackling were outstanding in brilliant. Pinnell played a great defensive game. Hamilton and Eldridge also did their work defensively, while Gregory's punt of 77 yards to the Capitol Hill 4-yard line was the best seen in several seasons. It was Dunaway who overhauled Stoner at the end of a 55-yard run and brought him to earth on Pampa's 5-yard line.

Barton was the outstanding ground gainer for the Indians, but Stoner, Lamb, and Pulliam were able assistants. Although rough in his play, Captain Wyrick, 205-pounder, was the pick of the Indian linemen.

March Is Halted

Capitol Hill opened the game with a march that was halted on the Harvester 9-yard line. Stover reeled off 15 yards after Pulliam had added 6. Barton crashed through for 10 yards on three plunges. The Harvester line then held and three downs netted Capitol Hill only a few yards. Stevens took the ball and went 9 yards. Hamilton made it a first down but the Indian line held and Gregory booted.

The Indians started another drive on the Harvester 45-yard line and gained 25 yards before being halted again. Gregory again booted and the Indians drove 22 yards this time before losing the ball on downs. Lamb did most of the ball toting for the Indians. The ball was on Pampa's 19 yard line at the quarter.

Gregory then thrilled the audience when he booted the 77 yards. It was the first time the Harvesters had the wind in their backs. Capitol Hill kicked out of danger and Marbaugh made a first down on hard smashes and then passed only to have Stoner intercept the ball on his 14-yard line.

On the next play, Stoner fumbled and Patton recovered the ball in the air. Marbaugh and Hamilton carried it to the Capitol Hill 8-yard line and then lost it on downs. Capitol Hill then punted to the Harvester 49-yard line.

It was on the next play that the grandstand nearly tumbled. Marbaugh dropped back as Owens raced up the field. Marbaugh shot a pass which Owens grabbed on Capitol Hill's 19-yard line. He fumbled, but the ball went into the air, gathered it in and kept on running to cross the goal line with the ball tucked in his arms.

The teams exchanged kicks after the kickoff with Dunaway lifting one over the goal line 70 yards away. Stoner then broke through the Harvester line with four men ahead of him. With a clear field, he raced ahead but Dunaway slowly closed the gap and overhauled him on Pampa's 5-yard line after a run of 55 yards. It was then the Harvesters showed up like champions. They held twice and then pushed the Indians back 10 yards as the ball went over on downs. Dunaway booted 55 yards out of danger and Owens got the ball carrier one-handed in a beautiful tackle at the half side.

The Harvesters had the wind in their backs for the third period but they had apparently given everything in the first half. Marbaugh's kick-off was low and the Indians got the ball on their own 40-yard line. Stover and Pulliam made it a first down and then Pulliam dashed 25 yards on a spinner with beautiful interference to place the ball on Pampa's 16-yard line. Hamilton made the tackle. Stover lost 5 yards when Mackie pulled him and the Harvester line held. Marbaugh tried a pass but it was too long. He then picked 55 yards and the Indians started another drive down wind.

Lines Deadlocked

H. Barton returned the punt after the Harvester line held. Marbaugh then tried another pass and only to have Stoner intercept the ball on his 14-yard line.

Both lines held and punts were exchanged with the ball on Pampa's 40-yard line at the quarter.

The Capitol Hill line held and Dunaway's boot fell only 18 yards. On the next play, Captain "Slat" Wyrick of the Indians roughed a Pampa man and Capitol Hill drew a 15-yard penalty, then punted.

It was then that the Indians make their march to the Harvester goal. Barton crashed through for 7 yards and Pulliam made the same distance. Carmack added four and a pass, Pulliam to Wyrick, was good for 15 yards to place the ball on Pampa's 4-yard line. The first string Harvesters held but on the fourth down Crusty Barton rolled over a heap of players, and across the goal line. He added the extra point for the margin of victory.

Marbaugh went into the game for the Harvesters and tried passing but all his heaves were wild and the game ended with the ball on Pampa's 36-yard line.

The Pampa band and pep squad obeyed a signal from Barton for quiet but the crowd failed in their enthusiasm to see the kick blocked.

Next Saturday the Harvesters go to B's Spring for a non-conference game.

Giants Great, Too
BROOKLYN, Sept. 30. (AP)—The New York Giants gave a demonstration of the kind of baseball that won them the National league championship today as they defeated the Dodgers, 4 to 2.

They got only eight hits off Van Lingle Mungo while Brooklyn nipped Fred Fitzsimmons for nine. But the Giants coupled their blows effectively with Mungo's bursts of wildness while big "Fitz" was untouchable in the pinches.

Catcher Wins It
BOSTON, Sept. 30. (AP)—Virgil Davis, clouting catcher, connected for two homers today to give the Philadelphia Nationals a 2 to 1 victory over the Braves in a ten-inning tilt.

Ben Cantwell, Boston ace, was the victim of both blows, and with them probably went his chance of gaining 21 victories for the season. He limited the Phillies to eight hits, one less than Holley, who was credited with the victory.

The Braves need a victory tomorrow against a defeat for St. Louis to gain the first division and a share of the world series money.

Dean Is Beaten
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30. (AP)—Dizzy Dean got knocked out of the box today as the Chicago Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 12 to 2, to clinch third place in the National league race, but he fanned five to his strike-out total for the season to 202.

Dean and Guy Bush pitched on even terms until the sixth, when the Cubs got to the modest one for four runs, two of them accounted for by a home run by Babe Herman with Billy Herman on base.

GORILLAS HAND WARRIORS 12 TO 6 DEFEAT

BOYS LOOK GOOD AND BAD IN INITIAL GAME

Pampa's future Harvesters, the Gorillas, opened the football season yesterday afternoon by defeating the big Miami Warriors 12 to 6 at Harvester park. The game was transferred here from Miami Friday afternoon.

W. J. Brown scored the first Gorilla touchdown with a 50-yard jaunt across the goal line. Fanning crashed over for the winning score after Brown had made a 30-yard run. The Miami touchdown was made by L. Morrison, substitute fullback.

The Gorillas loomed both good and bad during the game. Spectacular runs were ruined by fumbles or off-sides, and lapses of memory were numerous. However, the team showed much promise and Coach Harry Kelley should have a good eleven before the season is far advanced. The Gorilla line is heavy and the backfield comparatively light, although Fanning, fullback, is a young giant. He came here from Plainview and is ineligible for Harvester football.

The Warriors fielded a heavy team, but inexperienced. Coach Ellis Locke has a world of material and it is fast rounding into shape for a first conference season. His line looks particularly promising.

Brown worked his way for the first Harvester touchdown from an end run. He cut back after passing the line of scrimmage and aided by some nice interference and blocking, crossed the goal line unopposed. Brown got away on the same play for 30 yards in the third period but was overhauled by Morrison on Miami's 30-yard line. Webb, Rose, and Fanning hit the line and round ed the ends for nice gains, with Fanning crashing the last two yards for the touchdown.

Miami scored after the Gorillas had drawn three penalties. A bad pass from center was recovered on the Gorilla 4 yard line and Morrison crashed over.

The lineups:

Pampa—Nix, le; B. Green, lt; Wigginton, lg; Harbour, c; G. Eldridge, rg; Goodwin, rt; Cartwright, re; Roy Webb, Jr., qb; W. J. Brown, lb; Tom Rose, Jr., rb; Fanning, fb; Substitutes—Earl Rice, Wise, E. Woodward, Perkins and Fagan.

LeFors Pirates Show Power In Beating Mobette

The LeFors Pirates continued their march for sectional honors Friday afternoon by downing the inexperienced Mobette team 34 to 0 on Pirate field. Coach Duncan used his entire squad against Mobette and he learned that he has some fine substitute prospects.

Bagwell, big fullback, scored the first two touchdowns. Robinson, Combs, and Walters made a touchdown each. Brown drop-kicked a field goal from about the 20-yard line. The play was meant for a place-kick, but the ball was juggled. Brown picked it up, stepped back a few yards and dropped the ball to ground and toe and sent it between the uprights.

Mobette did not have a team in the conference last year and as a result the team is just in the building. However, the boys showed fight and a desire to play football and should be heard from before the end of the season.

The LeFors starting lineup follows:

Goodwin, le; Woods, (capt.) lt; Fagan, lg; Brown, c; Willis, rg; Moore, rt; Berg, re; Still, qb; Williams, lb; Williams, rb; Bagwell, fb.

Baylor Defeats Tigers 20 to 6

WACO, Sept. 30. (AP)—The Baylor Bears had it easy in their season opener here today against the St. Edwards Tigers, winning 20 to 6.

The only time during the game Baylor was in trouble was in the first part of the last period.

Garrett, fleet St. Edwards back, carried the ball to the Baylor one-yard line, where he was stopped by Parks. Karen hit center for two feet and on the next play carried the ball over for St. Edwards' only touchdown.

Baylor scored just before the close of the first period and Coach Jennings sent in an entirely new team. Before the half ended the Baylor seconds marked up another touchdown. The second string remained in the game during the third period.

Jennings returned his regulars to the game in the fourth period and Baylor was able to go for another seven points.

Six Double Plays
NEW YORK, Sept. 30. (AP)—Washington's Senators outdid their previous displays before New York fans as they combined a brilliant defense with their usual attack to defeat the Yankees 7 to 2 in the final game of the series.

The Senators executed six double plays to equal the major league record held jointly by the Giants, the Phillies, and the Cincinnati Reds. They got some great pitching from Monte Weaver in the six innings he worked on the hill, and they smacked George Uhle and Danny McFayden for nine hits, most of which figured in the scoring.

Babe Ruth's 33rd home run of the season, which he made on Jack Russell's first pitch in the seventh inning, was the big blow for the Yankees.

A's Twice Beaten
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30. (AP)—The Athletics closed the home season today by losing a double header to the Boston Red Sox by the score of 2 to 1 and 12 to 1. The double triumph gave the Sox the season's series with the Mackmen, 14 games to 8.

Bob Weiland held the A's to two hits in the first game, one of them being McNair's seventh home run of the season.

Officials—E. Johnson, Pampa, and Owens, Miami.

Vandy Held To Scoreless Tie By Oklahomans

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 30. (AP)—Oklahoma's Sooners crashed into intersectional gridiron reckoning today in a stirring scoreless tie with the heavier, top-ranking Vanderbilt Commodores.

The product of Coach Lewie Hardage out-measured the team of his teacher, the veteran Dan McGugin, in almost everything but changing a winning score on the board before 18,000 fans that may have been Doubting Thomases when they climbed into the stadium, but became Sooners, enthusiasts before they left.

Twice, in the last period, the Sooners were close enough to try a field goal but twice big Bob Dunlap's toe failed to find the mark from the 30-yard line. Only once were the Commodores near the Oklahoma goal, and then as the result of a Sooner fumble on the 20-yard stripe.

Charles V. Stickley of Canadian was in the city Saturday.

of rookies treated a crowd of 300 fans to some high grade pitching here today as the Detroit Tigers staged an eighth inning rally to defeat the Cleveland Indians, 3 to 0.

Eldon Auker, who came up to Detroit late this season from Beaumont, Tex., made his fourth start for the Tigers, and pitched four-hit ball to register his second victory of the season.

Gordon Lee held the Tigers hitless for seven innings, and then had a bad interim in which he was found for four singles in a row.

Chicago Beats Browns
CHICAGO, Sept. 30. (AP)—Three White Sox hurling veterans combined today to hold the St. Louis Browns to 4 hits and Chicago took a 4 to 1 victory.

Sad Sam Jones was touched for two hits in the first three rounds and "Bull" Durham and Ted Lyons allowed one each in the last six innings.

"Bump" Hadley pitched the first seven rounds against the Hoos.

100,000 STRIKE TO FORCE DEFINITE RECOGNITION OF UNIONS

STEEL PLANT BESEIGED BY MANY PICKETS

MINERS DEMAND FRICK RECOGNIZE UNION IN STATEMENT

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30 (AP)—Tension still was unrelieved in this hot-bed of capital versus labor agitation tonight, and it appeared that only, definitely expressed union recognition for both coal and steel workers would bring any appreciable degree of peace.

Four thousand striking miners besieged the giant Carnegie Steel company's by-products plant at Clairton shortly after midnight, and it appeared that only, definitely expressed union recognition for both coal and steel workers would bring any appreciable degree of peace.

The pickets, members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers, are employees of the Carnegie company.

These men took their places peacefully but firmly at the two entrances to the plant and leaders expressed belief the several thousand workers in the plant would walk out next week.

The coal miners went from Clairton to Centerville, a distance of only a dozen miles to attend a monster mass meeting.

Tonight, they crowded around union speakers and organizers and listened to demands for the strike to continue.

On many sides they shouted: "We will not return to work until Frick recognizes the United Mine Workers of America."

The H. C. Frick company, largest operator of "captive" mines was one of those who signatures was affixed to the coal code agreement with President Roosevelt at Hyde Park last night.

Thomas Moses, president of the company, announced today that Frick pledges itself to co-operate to the fullest extent with the government to promote the National Recovery Act, but made no mention of recognizing the union.

Recovery administration officials in Washington said an extended scrutiny of the situation in West-

WITH THE HARVESTERS

By HARRY E. HOARE

On next Saturday, the Harvesters will be in Big Spring for a game. It will be the first time a Pampa and Big Spring football team has met. The Harvesters are all excited over the trip. The boys go to Shawnee, Okla., Oct. 13 for another game before returning home for one game. The team will leave here Oct. 12 and return the day after the game. Many fans plan to accompany the team.

The reason why Whitey Bacous' name is not appearing on the football roster at S. M. U. this year is because the white-haired boy will play nothing but basketball this year. He is devoting all his time to that sport. Practice has already started, he writes friends here.

Pampa's Harvesters showed marked improvement Saturday when they held the Capitol Hill Indians of Oklahoma City to one touchdown. Line Coach Angus Fox worked wonders with his line last week and the team also showed a nice offense. There were few outstanding stars, every man playing a part that made him rank with his teammate. Blocking was greatly improved over the game last week, when McLean held the Harvester to a 6-4 tie.

Hundreds of fans in the grandstand wondered why Captain Jess Patton stood by and let three Pampa punts drop at his feet instead of catching the ball. The answer is that the Harvesters would have been penalized 15 yards each time. A new rule reads, translated, that a player cannot receive a kick from the toe of his teammate because it hinders the other team from making a free catch. The ruling proved disastrous to the Harvesters. Friday became punted balls lost them 45 yards when the ball rolled back into Pampa territory before being smothered.

TEXAS AGGIES PASS WAY TO 13-6 VICTORY OVER TULANE

Domigue and Couser Score Touchdowns; Green Has Hard Luck.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Texas A. & M. defeated Tulane 13 to 6 today in a game that was a thriller all the way.

The Aggies won and deserved to win but hard luck certainly hovered all over the Green Wave.

The Greenies were trailing and apparently were hopelessly beaten when in the third quarter they unleashed a vicious passing attack and carried the ball within 4 yards of a touchdown but lost it because they failed to make first down by 12 inches.

Then in the last quarter with 3 minutes left to play, Tulane shot the ball over the goal line but the touchdown did not count because the Greenies were off-side. The ball was put in play on the six-yard line and there the Aggies held against three line onslaughts but finally had to yield a touchdown.

A native Louisianan, Clifford Domigue, now of Port Arthur, Texas, one of the Aggies' mainstays, led the attack for the first touchdown, at the opening of the second quarter. Domigue then kicked goal.

In the third quarter, Bill Couser went in at quarter for Domigue and caught Monk Simon's kick-off and ran it back 50 yards along the side lines and was away for a touchdown until Simon stopped him on the 22-yard line. A pass, Fowler to Stringfellow, scored the second touchdown. Stringfellow missed the point after touchdown.

Longhorns Look Ragged In Win Over Muckers

AUSTIN, Sept. 30 (AP)—The University of Texas turned back the Texas College of Mines of El Paso 22 to 6 here today in a ragged exhibition of football that rose above the mediocre only on a few occasions.

Texas again demonstrated that it has a backfield with great possibilities, but failure of the line to function smoothly and keep opposition line men from sifting through cost the Longhorns much yardage.

The Muckers proved no set-up and gave Texas a hard tussle from start to finish. Woodrow Wilson, Mucker backfield, proved to be a big sensation of the game by grabbing a kick-off on his 15-yard line and ambling 85 yards for a touchdown. Wilson ended about five Texas tacklers in his long jaunt.

The running of Bohn Hilliard, Texas' scintillating halfback, and the passing of Ronald Fagan, Steer quarterback, were the high spots of the Texas offense.

The first period ended scoreless. On the first play of the second period, Fagan shot a flat pass out to Hilliard, who squirmed 33 yards through a maze of tacklers for a touchdown. The place-kicker goal.

Texas' second score came near the middle of the third when Fagan passed 20 yards to Arnold who was standing across the goal line. Hilliard again place-kicked goal. The Steers tallied again a few minutes later when Hilliard shot through right tackle for a touchdown. His place-kick was wide.

The average monthly old age pension in 1932 was $19.31 as compared with $18.89 in 1931, says the federal bureau of labor.

In the OIL FIELDS

The Danchiger Oil and Refining company is completing what should be one of the best producers of the year in the Gray county field. The well, No. 3, Wright in the south-west quarter of section 13, block 3, made 1,440 barrels, natural flow, the first 24 hours after pay was topped Thursday afternoon.

The first pay was accompanied by a flow of 12,000,000 cubic feet of gas. The hole is bottomed at 2,800 feet. Deepening will probably be started early this week. The new well is a direct offset to the same company's No. 2 White. The Continental Oil company made a local-ity for a west offset in section 36, block 3, yesterday.

Exkly Oil company will start final tests on its No. 3 Webb in section 61, block 25, eastern Gray county, tomorrow. The test, bottomed at 2,480 feet, made 1,100 barrels in 24 hours. Skelly also made two new locations last week, one east and the other south of their new producer.

The Webb and Huseby leases on the county line are getting a big play now. Six tests are being drilled and it is reported that several more locations will be made immediately.

J. M. Dodson has made a location on the Meers land in section 106, block 3, south of Pampa. The new test will be a direct offset to the Dolomite Production company's test on the Bradford lease in section 111, block 3.

Production in the Panhandle field increased 1,891 barrels last week. The best news received was the like of 10 cents a barrel in crude to set a top of 91 cents. The bad news was the cut in the state allotment by the federal government, which amounted to 10,000 barrels. Members of the state railroad commission went to Austin to ask for a raise but the reaction was the opposite.

Production by counties:

Hutchinson	329	10,433
Moore	20	859

FOIL PLOT TO KIDNAP PHIL F. L'FOLLETTE

EX-GOVERNOR DID NOT RETURN TO SCENE OF AMBUSH

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 30 (AP)—Philip F. LaFollette, 35 year old former governor of Wisconsin and his associates were striving tonight to clear up what LaFollette believed was an attempt to kidnap him or kill him at a secluded cottage on Lake Geneva.

Two unidentified men, who called at the cottage about 10:30 p. m. Friday night, about four hours before LaFollette arrived there to spend the night, were the object of a hunt by private detectives and county officials.

The cottage is owned by former Congressman Thomas R. Amle, of Elkhorn, closely allied with LaFollette in the Wisconsin progressive republican party. Both had come to Kenosha, where LaFollette addressed a meeting Friday night. When they returned to the cottage at 2:30 a. m. they found Mrs. Amle in a state of fright.

About the hour they had intended to return from Kenosha, LaFollette said, the two strangers awakened Mrs. Amle at the cottage and assumed a menacing attitude when she informed them her husband and the former governor were not there. Two hours later they called again and went away only after Mrs. Amle told them she did not expect her husband that night.

As they prowled about outside the house Mrs. Amle thought she observed that the men wore masks. They made no attempt to break in.

"They may have been men who disliked my political philosophy and wanted to get rid of me," LaFollette said.

The former governor, defeated for re-nomination at the 1932 primary election, has recently been attacking the NRA program in speeches.

TEXAN STARS AS ARMY WINS 19-6 VICTORY

CADETS STRAINED TO HOLD CADETS IN LAST PERIOD

Associated Press Sports Writer. BY GAYLE TALBOT.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 30 (AP)—A furious first assault in which Texas Jack' Buckler, 160 pound rick of dynamite from Waco, demoralized his opponents with a series of dazzling runs enabled the Army gridders to unveil their 1933 campaign with a 19 to 6 victory over a scrapping team from Mercer university today.

Except for Buckler's individual feats of brilliance, it would have been nip and tuck for Uncle Sam's cadets. The Waco wonder scored their first touchdown after a 37-yard dash through the entire Mercer team in the opening minutes of play and made the second possible shortly thereafter with a succession of off-tackle smashes that carried the ball to the apron of the invaders' goal line.

From there on, for three full quarters, the boys from Mason, Ga., gave Lieut. Garrison Davidson's charges all the battle they could handle, and in the closing period practically fought the soldiers off their feet, falling short of touchdowns only after two spectacular drives deep into Army territory.

Turkey Eleven Is Swamped By McLean Tigers

McLEAN, Sept. 30.—The McLean Tigers, led by Tolliver, plunging fullback, smothered the Turkey Turks 52-0 in the opening conference game for both aggregations. The game was played on Tiger field before a crowd of 500 fans.

The first counter came early in the first quarter as Tolliver intercepted a Turk pass and ran 20 yards to score. Tolliver made two more counters and Crockett, half, accounted for three. Dowell, half, and Stratton, end, gathered one each.

Ellison, left tackle, kicked four goals from placement and was the defensive star of the game. Ellison, caught the Turkey backs behind their line for repeated losses. He was ably assisted by "Little Metzger" Christian, G. McCarty, and Crockett.

The Tiger backs ripped off long gains through the weaker line and the passing attack functioned with precision. The Bengals made 12 first downs to the Turks' 2, and they were not forced to punt.

The outstanding stars for the Turkey team were D. Yarbrough, Coker, Hanna, and Burnett. The score by periods:

McLean.....12 13 7 20-52

Badgers Win From Goodwell Aggies

GOODWELL, Okla., Sept. 30.—Amarillo scored two touchdowns in the last six minutes of play here today to defeat Oklahoma Panhandle A. & M. college, 13 to 0.

The game was scoreless until near the end when the visitors got away on a long end run for a touchdown. The extra point was added. A few minutes later Amarillo intercepted a pass for the second touchdown.

Tennis Fans To Plan Building Of Several Courts

Officers will be elected and final arrangements for the construction of tennis courts will take place at a meeting of tennis enthusiasts of the Pampa area at a meeting in the chamber of commerce rooms in the city hall at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night. Chris Martin will preside.

Every tennis player, and parents of all high school students who play tennis, are asked to be present at the important meeting. Committees which have been at work for two weeks will make final reports. Estimates for the construction of four courts have been received and several suitable locations have been found.

The price of memberships will be set at the meeting and it is hoped that enough will be present to authorize starting of work immediately so that the "fill" will stand during the winter before placing of topping in the spring.

At an earlier meeting it was decided that persons who would be unable to pay a membership fee but would like to play tennis may work out their membership. The meeting will not be long and everyone is urged to attend.

Jockey Jackie Westhope Will Ride at Meet

FORT WORTH, Sept. 30. (By Special Correspondent)—Jackie Westhope, 90 pounds of riding ability, and America's premier rider, with a record of more than 215 victories this season, will ride at Arlington Downs during the forthcoming Texas Jockey club's meeting, which starts October 19. Westhope is now riding at Rockingham Park and with his owner, C. L. Foster, who is shipping 18 thoroughbreds to the Waggoner meeting, will leave for Texas the day the big meet at Rockingham ends.

Westhope, who hails from Montana, which produced some of the best riders in turf annals, bids fair to set an exceptionally high mark for victories this year. His present record tops that of Gilbert, who booted home 212 winners last year.

Schmidt Watches Arkansas Crush Sooners 42 to 7

FALETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 30 (AP)—Scoring in every period, the Arkansas Razorbacks turned in a one-sided victory over the Oklahoma Baptist university Sooners here today, 42 to 7. The powerful Arkansas offense rushed over two touchdowns early in the first period, scored once each in the second and third periods and twice more in the final.

The first touchdown came after Ralph LaForge, speedy Razorback ball carrier, ripped off 35 yards to place the ball on the Baptists' 15-yard line. From there Murphy, veteran quarterback, passed over the goal line to P. Rucker, ratty and Rees, halfback, scored Arkansas' second touchdown and Biddle, fullback, drove through for the third score.

LaForge tucked a Baptist kick-off under his arm and raced 90 yards up the side line for Arkansas' fourth touchdown. Biddle and C. Jordan scored the other two times.

Stark, outstanding Bison backfielder, led his team's offense all afternoon and scored its lone touchdown with a 35-yard end run in the third period.

The game was scouted by Coach Francis Schmidt of Texas Christian university. Arkansas plays its first Southwest conference game here October 7 against Texas Christian.

'MY WEAKNESS' OPENING TODAY HAS NEW STAR

LILIAN HARVEY IS SEEN
WITH LEW AYRES
AT LA NORA

This marks the opening day of the first American motion picture to feature the Continental's most popular screen idol, Lilian Harvey. She is co-starring with Lew Ayres in "My Weakness," the new Fox production starting a three-day engagement at the La Nora theater.

Miss Harvey, who will be remembered by American audiences for her sterling performance in "Congress Dances," makes her American debut in "My Weakness," a film said to possess every element necessary for the perfect performance of this refreshing star. It has lightness, humor, song, dance, romance, and an indomitably carefree spirit. Miss Harvey is reported as the possessor of great versatility in every department of the dramatic art and her first Fox film is said to give her every opportunity.

The story concerns a plucky young girl who, quite by accident, becomes a much sought-after person. It is more or less in the nature of a wager that she cannot be made attractive, that she is first put on the road to fame for her beauty. She follows a victim with victim, until the very man who made the disparaging wager falls a victim himself.

"My Weakness" has been produced under the supervision of Buddy DeSylva, producer of Janet Gaynor's unforgettable "Sunny Side Up." He brings to his screen efforts an unbroken record of some of the most successful productions of the musical stage. The story of "My Weakness" is of his own authorship and, with Leo Robin and Richard Whiting, also wrote the music and lyrics.

The supporting cast includes Chas. Butterworth, Harry Langdon, Sid Silvers, Irene Bentley, Henry Travers, Adrian Rosley, Mary Howard, and a number of Hollywood's most beautiful girls, among whom are Irene Ware, Barbara Weeks, Susan Fleming, Marcelle Edwards, Marjorie King, Jean Allen, Gladys Blake, and Dixie Frances.

Continental Star In Movie

LILIAN HARVEY in her American screen debut, and Lew Ayres in what is reported as the most attractive role of his career, have the featured roles in "My Weakness," the new production from the studios of Fox. The film opens today at La Nora theater.

MUCH ACTION IN HOLT FILM OF OIL FIELD

OIL TYCOON HAS LOVE
SCENES WITH FAY
WRAY

Film audiences have grown to expect a good picture whenever Jack Holt is starred, and "The Woman I Stole," Columbia's newest film, featuring this popular actor, now playing at the Rex theater, is no exception. There are powerful situations without number, a rapid-fire plot, and a splendid cast.

The strength of the picture lies, not only in the unusual love story, but in the dramatic punches and realistic oil-field atmosphere. The locale is an isolated oil-port on the edge of a desert, and there men struggle bare-handed to achieve personal success. They employ fair means and foul, for the desert wilderness permits only the survival of the fittest.

Jack Holt, as Jim Brader, oil tycoon, who has built up this tremendous industry only to toss it aside as a worn-out plaything, has his usual he-man role, but he portrays it with even more than his customary punch. His love scenes with Fay Wray, a subtle adventurer, who, though married, is willing to destroy her home to gratify her love for Holt, are powerful and effective.

Miss Wray's interpretation of Vida Corew is a welcome change from her previous "horror pictures." She is too splendid an actress to be forever cast in roles which demand only terrified screams. As a woman of the world who seeks merely to gratify her own desires, she offers a characterization which should delight not only her old admirers, but bring her a new following.

Fire Record Is Good Last Month

The Pampa fire department answered only two calls last month, and the total damage was only $20. Half the damage was equipment and the other half building.

One call was to the La Nora Confectionette where an electric motor was on fire. The other call was to one of Sam Thomas' houses on North Ballard street.

Fire prevention week is from Oct. 8 to 14 and an extensive campaign will be launched here. Pampa should have a wonderful fire record this year if no large fires occur.

The danger I was in, ordered a charge. By sheer luck they relieved me. As I recall it, we fought them all day. They finally drew off to a hill about a mile away.

Lieut. Baldwin's command of soldiers and scouts was always near Gen. Miles. The Indians had collected on a hill and seemed to be holding a council. Gen. Miles ordered the artillery to put in a line-pounder (Lieut. J. W. Pope commanded Miles' artillery detachment) and told the gunner to aim to hit the bunch of Indians. I was close and heard the command. It seemed to me a long time before the shell hit. It struck right in the middle of the bunch. That was the last we saw of the Indians that day.

In the evening Miles ordered us to take the back track and we went back to camp. Next morning we took up the main trail and followed them to Tule canyon. As I recall it, Miles took the cavalry and scouts and followed the trail to where it left the canyon and went out on the staked plains. We scouted around there for a while then returned to headquarters on the afternoon of September 6. Gen. Miles asked Lieut. Baldwin to take what men he needed and carry a dispatch to Camp Supply. He selected W. F. Schmaltz, Fred W. and myself. We left Gen. Miles' headquarters about 4 p. m. September 6, and that evening we rode into the camp of Col. Biddle, in command of a supply train, on the Salt fork of Red river (a few miles north of Clarendon, Donkey county).

I needed a remount, as my horse was picked over. I was ordered to the 8th cavalry. I chose a horse of a Canadian breed, one of the best I have ever ridden.

We left Col. Biddle's camp just before dark. We planned to travel by night and hide away during the day. Just at daylight, September 7, we made camp on the head of White Fish creek (near where the Santa Fe crosses it in the southern part of Gray county). Here we had our first encounter with Indians on that memorable ride of September 6-10, 1874. I was the scout on guard that morning when the Indians discovered us. We had traveled all night and of course were all worn out. I was so drowsy I could hardly keep my eyes open. I chewed tobacco at that time and I put tobacco spittle in my eyes to keep awake, and it was well I did or I would not have seen that Indian who was looking for us. I slipped back down the hill and gave the alarm to the others who were just finishing breakfast, and we were ready for them. He had not seen the 8th cavalry. I chose a horse of a Canadian breed, one of the best I have ever ridden.

The four of us held council, which took but a few minutes. Wing said, "We will dig rifle pits, and hold them off." I said, "What will you dig rifle pits with?" He said, "Our butcher knives." I said, "While we are digging a pit half big enough to hide one man, they will kill every one of us. We will have to make a dash, and fight our way through." Lieut. Baldwin and Schmaltz voted with me. We mounted our horses and made a dash up out of the draw four abreast. Into the level right among the Indians who were all of their ponies looking for us. Our dash was such a surprise to them that they tumbled over each other trying to get away from us. On we rode firing as we went. As soon as they could get their ponies they took after us. As our horses were jaded they soon came within shooting distance. Then we stopped,

MANY THRILLS ARE SHOWN IN HISTORY FILM

GRAHAM M'NAMEE TO DESCRIBE CAMERA
EXPLOITS

A great thrill film is at the La Nora today. It is Universal's special, "The World's Greatest Thrills," featuring Graham McNamee, noted radio announcer and the screen's reporter. Now showing at the La Nora theater.

McNamee is the "talking reporter" in the Pampa Daily Newsreel each week.

Breath-taking airplane crashes, spectacular air maneuvers, exciting automobile races in which cars are seen in spine-chilling accidents, are a few of the thrills in this sensational picture. Prepared for the screen by Allyn Butterfield, editor of the Universal newspaper newsreel, "The World's Greatest Thrills," shows history in the making.

The desperate chances taken by cameramen all over the world to photograph the epochal scenes in this production, also are graphically illustrated. They are seen beside burning buildings, their lives endangered by falling walls; standing along the shore while storm-tossed seas whip giant combers against them; leaning out of airplanes, in front-line trenches and midst of hurricanes.

Among the amazing scenes in this remarkable picture are views of a huge battleship turning turtle while members of the crew, thrown into the sea battle to escape death; persons jumping from the tops of burning buildings into life nets and breath-taking airplane maneuvers and crashes.

Graham McNamee, in his tense, dramatic manner, graphically describes the swiftly moving panorama of blood-stirring deeds and events. This is the first time the famous air and screen ace, whose voice is known to millions, and whose name is a household word, has ever been featured by personal appearance on the screen.

Thrill follows thrill in the picture, right from the start. Spectacular fires, hurricanes, exciting auto and motorcycle races with spectacular smash-ups and spills, a head-on locomotive wreck, astounding air feats and the most terrific airplane crashes ever seen on the screen, flash by in quick succession. The production is a veritable document of dangers and disaster, logically assembled and presented with a maximum of sustained interest and suspense.

Montana's principal exports to foreign countries in 1932 were petroleum, petroleum products and phosphate rock.

dismounted and beat them back. We didn't stop to see how many we had killed but we knew we had emptied a number of saddles. This fighting kept up all day. We would dash ahead and they would overtake us, then we would stop and fight them back. We had long-range army guns and were all good marksmen, which accounted for the fact that none of us were wounded. We were corralled three times by Indians and fought our way out each time.

(Editor's note: Lieut. Baldwin's report said 10 Indians were killed in the encounters.)
