President Moves To Curb Labor Unrest

Trouble Shooter Named And Radio Address Is Set For Tuesday Night

By HAROLD W. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—President Truman today moved to curb the postwar strike wave by appointing a trouble shooter and by arranging to broadcast a new wage-price policy to the nation next Tuesday at 9 p. m., central standard time.

Mr. Truman announced at a news conference he had appointed Dr. John R. Steelman as his special assistant, to be used in any capacity he saw fit. Steelman, former head of the U. S. Conciliation service, has been widely regarded as one of the most effective peacemakers on the labor-industry front.

Conference Agenda

The President also made public a proposed agenda for the labor-management conference beginning Nov. 5. The agenda recommends discussion of seven approaches to labor disputes and throws the parley wide open for debate on the causes of strikes.

Further, the President said Reconversion Director John W. Snyder, on whom he must chiefly depend for formulation of a wage-price policy, was not resigning, as had been rumored.

Mr. Truman also said he would talk with all 39 of the participants in the labor-management conference before it opens November 5. Three represent the public and won't vote. There will be 18 voting delegates from the ranks of labor and 18 from management. Included in the labor delegation is John L. Lewis.

Drawn By Committee

The conference agenda was drawn up by a committee representing labor, management and government. It made no provision for machinery to take the place of the War Labor board, which will be liquidated before January 1.

Steelman's apointment led to immediate speculation over Labor Secretary Schwellenbach's future role in attempting settlement of labor disputes. The latter's personal intervention in the oil and coal strikes failed to bring about settlement.

Seven Proposed Topics

The seven topics proposed for discussion were:

1. "Genuine acceptance" by management of collective bargaining where workers want it.

2. "Genuine acceptance" by organized labor of the right and responsibilities of management to direct the operation of an enterprise.

3. Utilization of machinery of the National Labor Relations act and similar state statutes.

4. "Recognized and orderly procedure" in negotiating contracts, with provision for conciliation.

Hallowe'en Near Pranksters Give Early Notice Of 'Coming' Events

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 25 (AP)—Little Rock merchants with those big, tempting windows can't say they weren't warned by the kids.

Pedestrians early this morning spotted the following notice scratched with the customary soap on one of the downtown windows:

"Halloween is coming soon."

Governor Asked To Reopen Case

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 25. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Kovacs of Norwalk today appealed to Governor Raymond E. Baldwin to "reopen the case against Mrs. Imogene Stevens who shot and killed my son, Seaman Albert E. Kovacs."

She asserted that the statement made by Prosecutor Lorin Willis in dropping a manslaughter charge against Mrs. Stevens "hasn't very much to recommend it but its wordiness."

The governor's office acknowledged receipt of the letter but the chief executive declined comment.

Willis also declined comment.

Mistaken For Intruder

In asking the superior court at Bridgeport last week to nolle (dismiss) the charge, he said "all the evidence" tended to support the contention of Mrs. Stevens, 24-year-old wife of a New Canaan paratroop major, that she shot Kovacs, who was 19, in self-defense after she had mistaken him for an intruder in the home of a New Canaan neighbor last June.

The governor also was silent on requests from others including members of Stamford post, Veterans of World War II, that he take a hand in the case. Persons close to him said that he, as head of the executive branch of the state's government, felt it improper for him to interfere in a matter within the province of the judiciary branch.

Slow-Down By Labor Charged

AKRON, O., Oct. 25. (AP)—E. J. Thomas, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., said today that there was a labor slow-down in his plant and asserted it had reached a point where workers were beaten up if they exceeded the union-prescribed production scale.

Thomas told a group of reporters that this sort of thing was rare, but emphasized that "any man who violates the lower-than-possible work rate doesn't enjoy life too much." His firm has been on a six-hour day and 36-hour week since V-J day.

Mostly Of Synthetic

Predicting the tire industry would produce 70,000,000 passenger car tires in 1946 and 1947 if allowed to operate even on a six-hour day, he said 85 per cent of each tire would be made of synthetic rubber.

C. V. Wheeler, president of the Goodyear local of the United Rubber Workers-CIO, told newsmen later there was no slow-down here. He said workers in the Goodyear plants "set a fair pace, and what management is trying to do is put in a speed-up program." He said the pace proposed by management was set by efficiency experts.

Wheeler declared the workers could produce enough tires to meet the demand at the present rate.

Eire Won't Rush Into United Nations Plan

DUBLIN, Oct. 25. (AP)—Prime Minister De Valera told the Dail today that the Eire government wished to "make sure everyone understands to what we are committing ourselves" before applying for membership in the United Nations.

"The government do not propose to apply for membership before the deputies (of the Dail) and the people generally have had an opportunity to consider the significance of the step," he answered an inquiring member.

He added, "before we enter into an organization of this sort, we want to see our way clearly."

Truman Hints Marshall May Stay On Job

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—President Truman said today he needed Gen. George C. Marshall as chief of staff.,

The comment raised a big question mark over the issue whether the general will achieve his known desire to turn in his five-star uniform and retire.

Mr. Truman made his remarks at a news conference. He was commenting on a front page Washington Post editorial suggesting that Marshall, who reached retirement age of 64 last Dec. 31, be placed in charge of the proposed universal military training program.

Started With War 2

Marshall's tenure in that office dates from the beginning of war II, Sept. 1, 1939. When he reached 64 he was retained on active duty, but he is known to have expressed a desire to retire around his 65th birthday or sooner.

The Post editorial said America can not disregard the counsel of Gen. Marshall with reference to military training and added:

"And America can not at this crisis in her destiny, dispense with the services of her wisest and most experienced military leader. Despite General Marshall's desire for retirement, despite the justice of his request to be relieved, he should be placed at the head of the universal military training program he has sponsored.

"His leadership will be a guarantor at once of its effectiveness and of its Americanism.'

Followed Marshall Plan

In his personally delivered message to Congress Tuesday, the President followed closely the civilian training plan advocated by the chief of staff.

In his widely read biennial report recently, Gen. Marshall gave his creed for the future:

"The nation's destiny clearly lies in a sound permanent security policy. In the War department's proposals there are two essentials: (1) Intense scientific research and development; (2) A permanent peace time citizen army. The importance of scientific research is the most obvious to the civilian but the importance of a peacetime citizen army based on universal military training is of greater importance, in my opinion."

Truman Renews 'Full Job' Plea

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—President Truman renewed and emphasized his support for the "full employment" bill today after hearing from two influential congressmen that it would be hard to pass the measure.

He got his report from Chairman Manasco (D-Ala) and Rep. Whittington (D-Miss) of the House Expenditures committee. He had called the two congressmen in to talk over the administration bill, which has been bogged down since the Senate passed it in amended form a month ago.

Anxious For Action

At a news conference later, Mr. Truman told reporters he is very anxious that the measure be brought out of committee and passed as soon as possible. He said he is for it with everything he has.

In response to a query, he said the congressmen hadn't told him it would be difficult.

After visiting the White House Manasco and Whittington told newsmen they had advised the President they will try to speed some type of legislation to help provide jobs.

Plumbing Said Aiding U.S.-German Relations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says that a mutual admiration for plumbing is helping German girls convert American boys into German sympathizers.

She said American servicemen returning from Germany quote the German girls as saying:

"Oh, you don't like the French, They are dirty, decadent and they don't have plumbing. Your country and ours have plumbing."

Mrs. Roosevelt, who made the comment in response to a question from the audience after a speech at Howard university last night.

Search Under Way For Missing Fishermen

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 25 (U.P.)—A widespread search was conducted today for three fishermen who were more than a day overdue from a fishing trip in east bay between Anahuac and Galveston island.

Coast Guard boats and planes headed the search for Albert Perkins, Navy Lt. Louis Johnson and Gilbert Heartfield. Perkins and Johnson are from Port Arthur, Heartfield is from Beaumont.

Passenger Tire Quota Unchanged For Month

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—The number of passenger tires allocated for rationing in November is the same as for this month—2,500,000.

Announcing this, the OPA said the heavy truck tire quota also is unchanged at 250,000.

The November allotment of small truck tires, however, is down to 350,000 casings as compared with 500,000 this month. OPA said this reduction resulted from a heavy demand for tires for new trucks and a smaller production increase than anticipated.

Taggart Recalls Big Change In Jap Captors After End Of War

THE Jap commander of the prison camp at Fukuoka where he was held gave the former American prisoners a dinner after the war was over, Maj. Thomas R. Taggart, who arrived in Lubbock Wednesday night, related. He is with his wife, Mrs. LoRee Kent Taggart, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Kent, 2435 Twenty-second, and is getting acquainted with his daughter, Virginia, who was six weeks old when he saw her last in September, 1941.

Following the dinner by the commander, the Japanese interpreters at the camp also were hosts at another dinner for the prisoners. Following that, Major Taggart and a friend went by train to Beppu, a Jap resort town, "where Japs treated us as if we had been friends all the time."

These events, providing sidelights on Japanese psychology, occurred between the time the war ended and the American liberation party reached the prison camp. But the Jap hospitality was in sharp contrast to miserable days during the three and one-half years Major Taggart spent in prison camps, although "I was fortunate in having fairly human camp commanders," he said.

"The food supply was bad toward the last. I suffered beri-beri and yellow juandice during my internment and at one time dropped to 125 pounds from my normal 180."

Major Taggart was taken prisoner on Bataan, April 9, 1942. He was with the 200th Coast Guard, AAA unit, which was composed

DR. ROBERT LEY

Nazi Bigshot Hangs Self

By GEORGE TUCKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, Germany, Friday, Oct. 26—Dr. Robert Ley, barrel-necked Nazi labor boss, hanged himself last night with a noose fashioned from strips of a GI towel in his Nuernberg jail cell where he awaited trial as a major war criminal.

He was pronounced dead at 8:10 p. m., (1:10 p. m. CST) 25 days before he and 22 other high-ranking Nazi war criminals were to go on trial for their lives.

Ley, who had alternated between tears and black periods of depression since his capture last May, came to a messy and determined end in what was apparently a long and carefully planned suicide.

Stuffs Rags In Throat

He ripped an American Army towel into strips, tied the strips together and soaked the knots in water to keep them from slipping. Then he tied one end to the plumbing, stuffed his throat with bits of his own underwear and after slipping the noose around his neck, sat on the toilet seat and strangled himself to death.

A guard who peeked into Ley's cell every 30 seconds could see only the prisoner's knees as he sat on the toilet. He became suspicious when the Nazi chief did not move after two and a half minutes and entered the cell.

But it was too late. The 55-year-old Ley was cut down and artificial respiration administered by prison doctors who pronounced Ley dead after cardiazol failed to have the desired effect.

Loved Luxurious Living

Ley, a lover of luxurious and vivacious living, died in a bare prison cell amid grim surroundings in sharp contrast to the life he led as chief of Hitler's labor bund whose motto was "strength through joy."

The official announcement of the death was made by prison Commandant Col. B. C. Andrus of Denver, Col. It said:

"The sentinel on the post guarding Ley and three adjacent cells noticed that Ley was on the toilet seat while only his knees could be seen through the cell door.

"Upon completion of four rounds, which made the fifth check on that cell in two and one half minutes, he concluded that the prisoner had been sitting there too long. Coincidentally the corporal of the guard came along checking on the turning in of eyeglasses which were taken from the prisoner at night.'

Found On Toilet Seat

"The sentinel called the prisoner by name and received no answer. They entered the cell and discovered Ley was on the toilet seat. His mouth was stuffed with rags torn from his underdrawers.

"Around his neck was the hemmed edge of a towel fastened to the top of the flush pipe of the toilet. The guard called the prison officer, Lt. Paul H. Graven, Madison, Wis., who cut the prisoner down."

A German prisoner of war doctor and Col. Rene Juhli, chief of the medical service in the prison, tried to revive the one-time Nazi officials b t all efforts failed.

Ultra Violet Light Fails In Dairy Plan

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 25. (AP)—Ultra violet light has been tried and found wanting as a means of sterilization in the dairy industry, says Dr. Otto Rahn, professor of bacteriology at the State College of Agriculture at Cornell.

In a report prepared for delivery today at a postwar dairy industry conference at the University, Rahn said:

"Much hope has been centered on ultra violet light because it has been found so efficient in hospital operating rooms. But in the milk plant there is too much equipment casting shadows, and since ultra-violet light has no penetrating power, bacteria are not hurt even on the shaded side of a dust particle.

"Besides, ultraviolet light does not destroy mold spores easily, it has proved inefficient in a cheese-curing room."

Konoye May Give Up Title

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Friday, Oct. 26—General MacArthur, who urged Japan's premier two weeks ago to break up "rapidly" the multi-million dollar family monopolies, pointedly stated today the Japanese government has not communicated with him on "any phase" of the question.

In an unusual move, headquarters authorized this statement:

"No official communication has been received by supreme headquarters of the Allied powers from the imperial Japanese government on any phase of the Zaibatsu (big families) question. Any statement to the effect that SCAP (Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers) has accepted or rejected any communication on this question is false."

Two Report Moves

High officials of two of the biggest monopolies, Mitsubishi and Mitsui, this week reported voluntary moves toward partial dissolution of their huge, interlinked companies which played major roles in the war.

A Mitsubishi spokesman said the company had not communicated either with the Japanese government or Allied headquarters. But a Mitsui spokesman said American occupation authorities and officials in Washington had been advised fully on the discussions.

MacArthur on Oct. 11 laid down a five-point program to Premier Shidehara, one of which was drastic revision of Zaibatsu.

"I expect you to institute them as rapidly as they can be assimilated," MacArthur said after presenting his recommendations.

Konoye May Quit Title

Prince Fumimaro Konoye was reported today to be planning to relinquish his noble title in an apparent bid for political preference in a Japan newly stripped of her diplomatic tentacles and writhing in confusion uder America occupation.

Postmortems on loss of the war continued, with Konoye said to be extending voluntarily to assume responsibility for a leading role in the period of aggression. The admiral who launched the Pearl Harbor attack contended it had delayed his country's inevitable defeat.

May Reenter Politics

Konoye, the brooding, heavy-lidded mystic who was premier when Jappan attacked China in 1937 and again just before Pearl Harbor, was declared by the Domei agency to be preparing to retire from the imperial court, yield all his titles and prerogatives and start a new political career as a commoner.

The Domei report said that Konoye disclosed his intentions to Marquis Koichi Kido, lord keeper of the privy seal, who persuaded Konoye to postpone the step because he presently was working on a proposed revision of the constitution.

MacArthur's Suggestion

Konoye himself said Sunday that General MacArthur, supreme Allied commander, had suggested that he head a liberal political movement and revamp the constitution. The revision eventually would eliminate the need for such advisers to the throne as Konoye himself, he stated.

While politics thus boiled, MacArthur in an order without precedent in modern history, ordered Japan to transfer all her diplo-

Too Many Parlays!
Only Local Grid Scores Will Be Given On Phone

So many people are playing "football parlays" by means of cards which offer gambling odds on dozens of widely separated teams that The Avalanche-Journal cannot continue to give all football scores by telephone.

Recent Friday and Saturday nights have found telephone queries on football scores so numerous that all six telephone trunk lines have been tied up and the task of getting the paper to press interfered with.

Therefore, The Avalanche-Journal will give telephone scores ONLY on games in which Texas Tech and Lubbock teams participate. NO OTHER SCORES will be given by telephone—not even to the dozens who each week insist they are "personal friends of the management," hence have a "priority" on special treatment.

For the benefit of parley players and other fans who cannot wait until the paper, carrying results, reaches the street, KFYO, The Avalanche-Journal radio station, offers a football scores service. Over-anxious fans may tune in on KFYO at 1340 kilocycles, at 6 o'clock on Saturday nights for a complete roundup of major college scores over the nation. Lubbock High scores are broadcast on Friday nights as they are received.

Bitter Fight Shapes Up On Atom Control

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 — A bristling fight to give Congress the right to say who shall have the secrets of atomic energy shaped up in the House today.

The military committee voted down the idea but the sponsor, Rep. Elston (R-Ohio) asserted he will take his cause to the floor next week.

Elston may have plenty of support. Rep. Thomason (D-Tex), ranking majority leader of the military committee, has declared in favor of a congressional veto.

As the bill before the committee now stands, the proposed atomic energy commission could disseminate any information it chooses to foreign powers unless the President says no.

Elston thinks that isn't enough of a brake. And the vote in the committee against him was reported close.

The committee just about wound up work today on its bill to turn over to a commission strong powers for domestic development and control of atomic energy. Meanwhile, over in the Senate, a joint military-commerce subcommittee neared the end of hearings on a more generalized program for scientific development. The proposal before the Senate group is for a national science foundation to foster all sorts of research.

Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, told the senators that Japan was working on an atomic bomb, but the effort failed because their physicists reached mistaken conclusions and the laboratory was shattered by B-29s.

Compton added that the "most striking thing" the American scientists found in beaten Japan was the "lack of teamwork" between the Nipponese scientists and their armed forces.

One Japanese told him, he testified, that the Army and Navy officers would "rather lose the war than shake hands."

Nationwide Strike Of Ward Workers Approved By Board

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (AP)— The general executive board of the United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employes of America, CIO, voted unanimously today to call a nationwide strike "at the most opportune time" against Montgomery Ward and company, Samuel Wolchok, president of the union, said.

MAY QUIT TITLE — Prince Fuminaro Konoye, vice premier in Jap peace cabinet, shown here during a recent interview with newsmen, indicated Thursday he may relinquish his noble title in an apparent bid for political preference.

Wolchok, who also is chairman of the union's executive board, told a news conference after the meeting of the board that the strike would affect 75,000 employes in 650 retail stores and nine mail order houses of the company.

Wolchok Statement

In a statement he said:

"Our board has met and has decided to call a strike. The vote was unanimous by the 23 members. The time for calling the strike has been placed in my hands. I will call it at the most opportune time for the situation."

"In the public interest," he added, the union would "first exhaust the processes of negotiation and mediation. We are willing and offer to submit all issues to arbitration.

"Failing which, the union will not discourage its members from ceasing work until issues are resolved and the increasing attempts of an industrial tyrant to smash our union are defeated."

Avery Called Tyrant

Wolchok charged that Sewell L. Avery, chairman of the Montgomery Ward board of directors was "an industrial tyrant" and had "directed all of his financial power toward smashing the union."

The union spokesman charged Montgomery Ward had refused to comply with War Labor board directives after the Army relinquished control of the business Oct. 18. The Army took over the Chicago units of the organization last April 26, in consequence of a labor dispute.

"Immediately upon the withdrawal by the War department from the operations of Montgomery Ward, Sewell L. Avery abolished the provisions of the War Labor board directives including arbitration, seniority and maintenance of membership," Wolchok said in the statement.

Unrest Said Provoked

"He flaunted public interest in provoking unrest by discharging five active union members including a veteran honorably discharged from the Navy, and the secretary of local 20 in Chicago.

"The courts have already sustained a finding by the labor relations board that the company has not bargained in good faith," Wolchok added. "Ward's has refused to comply with every War Labor board directive and arbitration award handed down."

Chaplain Tells How Bleeding 'Saint' Turned Back Nazi SS

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25 (AP)—Harold Dittman, assistant chaplain during the occupation of Germany, told today how Germany's "saint," Therese Neumann, peasant girl who claims to suffer wounds of Christ, escaped from Nazi SS troops.

Three times he said he witnessed the bleeding from the head, the tears of blood, and the bleeding from wounds in her hands and feet. "She was as normal as any of the people around her," Dittman said. "When she wasn't in ecstacy she laughed and talked."

He said that when the Nazis began stamping out Chrisianity, they ordered the priest in her hometown of Konnersheuth to have her "done away with."

The priest refused, and German storm troops decided to use their own methods.

"She was in ecstacy when the SS men arrived," Dittman said. "She'd never walked during one of the periods before, but this time she went to open the door for them. The crown wound in her head was bleeding, as were her hands, feet and side.

"Her bleeding outstretched hands greeted the Nazis. They turned and ran. They never came back."

Dittman, 22, recently discharged from the Army, said doctors have examined the girl numerous times in the past 17 years and frankly are puzzled.

U.S., Russia Swap Views

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—Secretary of State Byrnes disclosed tonight that the United States is discussing with Russia the question of creating an Allied Control council for the administration of Japan.

This was the first indication of a possible break in the deadlock between Russia and the United States on the Japanese question, one of the major points at issue between the two great powers. Russia has been insisting on a control council.

Powers Not Clear

It was not clear whether such a council, if finally agreed to, would replace or subordinate Gen. Douglas MacArthur, supreme Allied commander in Tokyo for the period of military occupation thus far.

However, the State department announcement strongly indicated that the United States would not agree with any proposal which did not provide that its policies should prevail in event of a disagreement among the American, Russian, British and Chinese members of a control agency.

Russia, it was strongly indicated, has backed down from her insistence that decisions of the council could only be made by unanimous agreement of the members — a system that has not worked well in Germany. There were some signs that Byrnes and his State department advisors were more favorably disposed to consider the Russian proposition than they had been heretofore.

Indications of Harmony

Thus, some authorities saw indications of more harmony between Russia and the United States.

However, Russia still has not sent word that she will definitely have a representative at the meeting of the Allied Advisory commission on Japan next Tuesday. Byrnes has taken the position that this mission should be set up before a control council is imposed whereas Russia has suggested that the council be created first.

Byrnes was told at his press conference that some question had arisen here as to whether the Russia proposal, made by Foreign Commissar Molotov at London several weeks ago, actually called for a control council over Japan like that set up in Germany.

Black Market In Navy Meat Said Indicated In Pearl Harbor Quiz

WASHINGTON Oct. 25. (AP)—Testimony which Chairman Mead (D-NY) said indicated black market operations in Navy meat at Pearl Harbor was offered today before the Senate War Investigating committee.

The testimony involved clearance of a Navy officer of charges of taking government meat and butter, a pig roasting party at which hula dancers entertained, and protests by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz that there had been a complete "miscarriage of justice."

Mead declared the evidence before his group indicated the entire Navy system of investigating charges against its officers and men needed overhauling.

Might Reach Million

Senator Ferguson (D-Mich), a committee member, estimated that sales of meat and other Navy equipment at Pearl Harbor might amount to as "much as a million dollars."

Senator Mead, however, placed the amount at about $500,000.

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, opening witness at the lengthy hearing, thanked the Senate group for its inquiry and promised full cooperation in additional investigations.

A report by Lt. Col. Iven C. Stickney, a Marine investigator, that he had found 1,441 pounds of meat and 520 pounds of butter in the locker of Commander Laurence Blodgett touched off the present case last February.

The Senate committee was told that Commander Blodgett was exonerated after a series of investigations and a court martial and the Marine colonel was transferred and given a poor efficiency rating by his naval superiors.

Punished Innocent Man

"They punished an innocent man and promoted two men who should have been punished," observed Mead.

The Marine wrote to senators and they took the case up with the Navy department with the result that the whole matter was reviewed by Admiral Nimitz.

Earl M. Schwartz, civilian in charge of naval supplies, testified that the meat and butter were not fit for human consumption, although it later was ordered distributed to messes for officers and Marines.

Navy records showed that while investigations were underway some officers held a native party, known as a Luau, for which Commander Blodgett supplied two pigs.

Lawyers Were Guests

Ferguson asked whether the Navy lawyers who were to pass upon the Blodgett charges were among the guests.

"Yes," said Capt. Ralph S. Wentworth, assistant Navy inspector general.

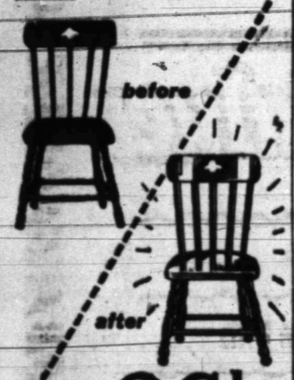

"And they reviewed the case later and found it alright as well as the pig?"

There was no reply.

Mead asked whether the "usual native dances were at this Luau?"

"The records shows there were a few," Captain Wentworth replied with a smile.

Tingley Hurls Charge At Dempsey Over Cops

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 25 (U.P.)—A charge that Gov. John Dempsey was "continually trying to steal" Albuquerque's policemen for the state police force had been hurled here today by City Commission Chairman Clyde Tingley.

Tingley said the governor had already taken "half a dozen" policemen from the city.

He further accused Gov. Dempsey with "having a personal hand" in hiring City Policeman Jack Jones for the state police force yesterday.

Jones, a member of the city police force before joining the Marines, had recently been re-hired at his old job upon his discharge from the armed services.

Summing up the whole situation, Tingley bitterly denounced it as "politics."

U. S. Obtains German Experts To Help In Developing Science

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (U.P.)—The United States obtained the services of Germany's best brains on atomic energy in a series of historic "raids" last spring, Congressional sources revealed today.

Picked teams of the Office of Strategic Services, the so-called "cloak and dagger" organization of World War II, were given major credit for the success of the operations.

German Leaders In Science

During the two weeks before the junction of American and Russian armies at the Elbe river, these sources said, OSS teams descended on German research centers and spirited away leading figures in almost every branch of German science.

The War department announced on Oct. 1 that German scientists and technicians were being brought here "to ensure that we take full advantage of those significant developments which are deemed vital to our national security."

On "Voluntary Basis"

The Germans, the department said, are being brought here "on a voluntary basis."

The congressional sources believed that "most" German atomic experts were now here or in U. S. control, including a man who was described as "the world's leading authority on nuclear fission."

The scientists were believed to include authorities on such other vital subjects as rocket projectiles, jet propulsion, radar and the biological sciences.

The experts, it was said, already are working in American laboratories, including the research centers of the DuPont Co.

Landon Warns On Peace Plan

LAWRENCE, Kas., Oct. 26. (AP) Declaring no international security can be built on "quicksilver of vindictive, ruinous and imperilistic settlements that lack any constructive ideas," Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican Presidential nominee, sharply criticized the administration's foreign policy today.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Kiwanis club the former Kansas governor proposed these six points as the basis for world security:

Financial Mooring

1. Make the U. S. a sound financial mooring post "for the rest of the world to tie to by reversing our present unsound fiscal policies of borrowing and spending unlimited."

2. Put Germany on an economic, self-sustaining basis.

3. All nations abandon extra-territorial practices.

4. Insist on "honest and intelligent, reasonable," application of the principles of the Atlantic charter before we make any gifts.

5. Seriously and thoroughly consider internationalization of the atomic bomb and of the few hitherto key spots in the world.

6. If Russia refuses the "proferred hand of the peace-seeking nations, we must not shrink from the tragic fact that a new aggressor is on the prowl.

TIRE OUTPUT BOOSTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—Output of automotive pneumatic passenger car casings totaled 2,485,634 units in August, the highest month's production since Pearl Harbor and 28.2 per cent over July, the Rubber Manufacturers association reported today.

Tulsa Man Claims He Suffered Ailment In Atomic Plant Work

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 25. (AP)—A $119,034 suit alleging his health was impaired by work in a Richland, Wash., plant where the first atomic bomb was produced was filed today by Robert Rickman, Tulsa, against the E. I. DuPont De Nemours company.

Rickman's district court petition contended that he became partially blind and suffered a lung ailment from breathing what he said were poisonous fumes in an underground chamber.

Mexico City Bugs In For A Rough Time

BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 25 (U.P.)—Mexico City bugs are in for a tough life.

More than two tons of DDT, the miracle bug killer, is enroute to the capital city. Pan American World Airways announced today that it would deliver the shipment to Financiera Minera, S. A., in the Mexican capital.

A special cargo plane will be utilized from the Rio Grande valley international airport here. The shipment, to be handled by air express, is valued at nearly $2,500.

Japs Plan Democratic Election In Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Oct. 25 (AP)—Japanese civilians, segregated in one Shanghai area, are preparing to hold what probably is the first Democratic election by any Nipponese.

The residents of "Little Tokyo" across Soochow creek from downtown Shanghai, tomorrow will choose a secretary-general for a self-governing committee headed by Yakuda Tsuchida, former ambassador to the puppet Nanking regime.

The committee handles the problems of housing and feeding more than 80,000 Japanese under guard in the Chinese Third Army area.

Ration Value Of Butter And Other Fats Goes To Eight Points Sunday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—Butter, margarine, lard, shortening and oils go down to eight points a pound Sunday.

The OPA, announcing this reduction from 12 points, said also today that current ration values will be maintained through December 1 on the better cuts of beef, veal and lamb and on all lean pork.

All meats now ration-free will continue so during November. The only revision of the meat chart is assignment of lower ration values for six fat pork cuts and barbecued pork. These cuts range from two to four points a pound.

Army Releases Butter

The Agriculture department estimates that butter supply will be 12 per cent greater in November. Release of 80,000,000 pounds by the Army is given as the reason.

Among fats and oils, lard supply has improved most. It will be up about 39 per cent in November, the Agriculture department said.

Bowles reported that the overall meat supply next month is expected to be about one half of one per cent less than in October.

Because of foreign requirements, the domestic supply of beef will be down about 13 per cent in November, veal about 19 per cent and lamb and mutton about 12 per cent.

Offsetting these declines, the heavy seasonal run of hogs to market is expected to boost the pork supply by about 41 per cent.

Foreign Commitments

An Agriculture department spokesman said this country's foreign commitments on meat have not been met in full this month, and that this will require heavier shipment in November than had been planned.

The new series of five stamps becoming valid November 1 for meats and fats includes the last four red stamps—W1, X1, and Z1—and one green stamp—N8—in ration book four.

Marshall Orders Men To Be Speeded Home

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP) — Lt. Gen. David T. Sultan, inspector general of the Army, said today he was under orders from Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, in inspect conditions on troopships and to see that returning veterans were brought home as quickly as possible and under the best circumstances.

He said his orders were part of a general War department policy of finding out if the return and discharge of veterans can be speeded.

AAF Drops Points For Some Surplus Officers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (U.P.)—The Army Air Forces today revised its discharge requirements downward to make it possible for surplus air crew members with 44 points and two years' service to obtain their release.

The new order covers only pilots, bombardiers, navigators and certain commissioned air crew members in this country. It does not include ground crew officers, officers who have elected to remain in service, or AAF personnel overseas.

Brig. Gen. Charles F. Born, in charge of separation headquarters of the Continental Air Forces, said lowering points for air crews would not conflict with the Army's regular discharge point plan. Most officers must have 75 points for discharge.

Dentz' Sentence Is Commuted To Life

PARIS, Oct. 25. (AP)—Gen. De Gaulle today commuted the death sentence of Gen. Henri Fernand Dentz, former French high commissioner in Syria, to life imprisonment at hard labor.

Dentz had been convicted of treason because he commanded French resistance to British troops in Syria in 1941. At his trial he declared that he had only followed orders.

UNRRA Officials Say British Control Plan

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—John Beecher, official of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration in Stuttgart, Germany, says he found "UNRRA was largely controlled by British Tories of the most unregenerate stamp."

Beecher said in an oral statement yesterday that he was relieved of duty Aug. 30 by a British superior because of what he described as his refusal to let UNRRA operations be used "as an instrument of British foreign policy."

Six members of his displaced persons team also were dismissed, he said, adding that all dismissals were "without hearing, charges or investigation."

UNRRA headquarters in Washington, however, denied categorically that the British "or any one member government" dominated UNRRA operations in Europe.

Roy F. Hendrickson, UNRRA deputy director general, said Beecher and four associates had been dismissed on a charge of insubordination, but had been reinstated pending results of an investigation of their case.

Mexico's Industrial Census At New High

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25. (U.P.)—A census taken by the ministry of national economy today reported that there are 51,000 industrial establishments in Mexico — an all time high.

Mexican industrial production during 1944 amounted to $930,000,000 and was backed by a capital of more than $105,000,000. The 512,000 persons who worked in Mexican industry last year collected $200,000,000 on wages and salaries.

The Electric and Petroleum industries were not included in the census, but the ministry said these two industries alone produce $200,000,000 annually.

ATOMIC MEMORIAL PLANNED

NAGASAKI, Japan, Oct. 25. (AP)—Nagasaki residents have contributed 350,000 yen ($22,666) to ward construction of "the atomic tower," a memorial to those who died when the city was blasted by an atomic bomb Aug. 9.

Navy To Resume Plan Of Sending Messages

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP) — The Navy announced today it will resume November 15 the peacetime practice of transmitting urgent personal and emergency messages by radio to Navy personnel all over the world.

Such messages at present may be sent only to personnel afloat or ashore in Atlantic ocean areas and to personnel at shore stations in the Pacific.

The Navy still reserves the right, however, to refuse transmission of any message not urgent or of an emergency nature, including any of unusual length.

The only cost will be the telegram charge to or from the Naval radio station which forwards the message to its destination.

He said his orders were part of a general War department policy of finding out if the return and discharge of veterans can be speeded.

HERE'S advice from a columnist on not playing poker with your wife and her friends:

"Most women have the ability to talk about one thing and think about another. That's why they are dynamite in a poker game. They throw you off by talking about hats but all the time they are thinking about poker. Play pinochle, bridge or gin rummy, instead."

HALLOWEEN PARTY

ARE you going to have a party on Halloween night? We think you should, whether there are children in your house or not. Everybody, at least once a year, ought to have the kind of fun that Hallowe'en games make. It's a simple kind of party to arrange, and of course there must be food involved—which can be simple too.

An old-fashioned treasure hunt might be an idea and you may be sure that your guests will get hungry playing a lot of good rousing Halloween games. Sandwiches are the perfect answer and no trouble at all if you let the guests make their own. (Well, of course the condition of the kitchen when they get through likely will cause you to want to hurry out and close the door until the next morning.

HERE'S an idea for a drink which could be called enchanted spiced orange brew from the witches' cauldron:

1 quart boiling water, five teaspoons tea, 1 cup granulated sugar, one and one-half cups corn syrup, two cups hot water, one teaspoon whole allspice, 12 whole cloves, two quarts lemon juice, orange and lemon garnishes.

Steep tea in the boiling water for five minutes. Dissolve sugar and corn syrup in the hot water. Add the spices and boil for about five minutes. Heat, but do not boil, the juices. Add the spiced sugar syrup and heated juices to the strained tea. Serve hot at once. Garnish with orange and lemon slices. Makes 16 cups.

FROM THE MAIL

DEAR Miss Turner:

Sins of omission can be very discouraging. The opportunity you gave in your column for a discussion of "The Equal Rights Amendment for Women" should have called forth for replies. Many of us are guilty of negligence in not informing ourselves as to what are the legal rights of women in our social order which includes the economic as well as the political affairs.

For several years women have been reading articles and hearing talks that would be an aid in an intelligent appraisal of the amendment. Would it not be most gratifying if representatives of various groups, including housewives, could meet to express their opinions? There is no better way to clarify ideas and broaden perspectives than a discussion between informed people. Both our parties last year championed this amendment. The time is ripe for more than lip service. If the amendment is a wise measure, we should work for it; if not, we should know its weaknesses. A thorough understanding should precede action. At present there are five states that have made provision for equal pay for equal work. It should be kept in mind that three-fourths of the state legislatures must ratify an amendment for it to become a part of our constitution.

Cooperatively yours,
Mrs. Isabel Garrison,
Chairman, equal rights for women committee, Alpha Sigma chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma.

• • •

DEAR Mrs. Garrison: Thanks for your letter. You're correct in saying there is nothing more dangerous than a half-enlightened person. The only response we have had, other than yours, was a telephone call in which a woman asked who was against equal rights for women? Who indeed?

AIN'T NO SECRET

RECENTLY the Gallup poll asked Americans a quartet of questions about the atomic bomb. Eighty-three per cent of those answered yes to the query, should we keep the secret of the atomic bomb to ourselves.

Of course it was a silly question, since the scientists are all busy assuring us that the knowledge necessary for the manufacture of atomic bombs is already known in various parts of the world; that in fact we have no secret to keep but merely a couple of years head-start on the process of manufacturing. Therefore, if we intend to use atomic bombs in the immediate future to blow the rest of the world to bits, we do possess that one advantage. Otherwise, we have no advantage whatever; we're all in the same boat.

The alarming thing, as we see it, is not that the question was asked but that 83 per cent of the persons answering it said yes. If the polling was accurate, 83 Americans out of one hundred want us to keep and believe we can, a secret we haven't got. Isn't that dangerous?

Ladies' Hats Go To Othman's Head In Capital Meeting

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—Ladies of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, you've got to admit it: "Every last one of you was wearing a hat straightout of a madman's nightmare.

Yes, you were, ladies. Big hats with little feathers and little hats with big feathers; hats that were all feathers and hats that looked like the duck from whence the feathers came; hats that blinded the left eye and hats that must have been nailed on. Else how could they have defied the law of gravity?

Health Problem In Hats

So you can't blame Dr. Karl Menninger, the gray-haired psychiatrist from Topeka, Kan., who looked over you and your hats and who said the biggest health problem among you club ladies is mental.

"By three to one its the biggest," the doctor said.

How I managed to get mixed up in this (please send all complaints to the doctor, ladies, and not to me) I can't exactly explain. All I know is that the ladies in the hats swirled through the Statler Hotel and I must have got caught in the undertow, because I found myself sitting at the end of the speakers' table. The subject turned out to be the postwar health of the working woman and what to do about it.

Ignore One Another's Hats

I must report that the ladies ignored each other's hats and got immediately to business, Miss Margaret A. Hickey of New York, the national president in a stove pipe hat minus a brim, introduced Mrs. Irma Gene Nevins in a flat purple hat with fuzz on it.

Dr. Nevins, who is Red Cross safety director (and pretty, too), said the nation had been shocked to learn that 33 per cent of the women who volunteered as WACs, WAVES and Lady Marines had been turned down. Reason number one was mental defects, number two was heart trouble and number three was too fat.

Came then E. Menninger, smoking a cigarette in a long amber holder, and looking carefully over the millinery display. He said (and this was a startler) that every second hospital patient was suffering from mental disorder. He said women were no more prone to this than men and that there ought to be more psychiatrists.

A member in a small yellow hat with an oversized brown feather, removed her three bracelets, which had been jangling like temple bells. Several other speakers talked on health problems and I hate to skip them, but I must get to Dr. Esther Phipard, the food expert from the Agriculture department, who said:

"Men are the hardest people to feed properly of anybody."

Won't Eat Their Food

Those silly men won't eat their salads and this is rough on wives, who have their best interests at heart. Dr. Phipard hopes eventually the sex that wears pants will learn what's good for it.

She added that she never ate a vitamin herself, except those she consumed in the natural course of events and that she felt none the worse. She didn't exactly condemn vitamins in capsules, but indicated they were unnecessary.

After some more speeches, which lack of space forces me to ignore, the ladies adjourned for lunch. They were cordial about asking me to stay and I was sorry I had to leave. Dr. Menninger also was sorry he had a date with a man. You know about those men.

When they eat, they remove their hats.

SHIPPERS WANT CARS

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 25. (AP)—Northwestern shippers today demanded that the wandering boxcars of rail lines in this territory be brought back home from the east.

Warning Issued On Souvenir Firearms

Veterans, who may have souvenir firearms, and the public in general were reminded Thursday by the bureau of internal revenue that certain types of firearms must be registered with the federal government.

Firearms which come under the federal registration act are those which fire more than one shot with a single squeeze of the trigger, such as sub machine guns and machine guns.

Further, it is illegal to transfer arms of this type without informing the bureau and filling out proper forms, he said.

Details on the regulation may be secured from the investigator in charge, Alcohol Tax Unit, Box 5566, Dallas.

The eyelids blink from three to six times a minute.

GEO. R. BEAN SCHOOL, situated on Ave. N between Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets, is one of Lubbock's eight ward schools. Constructed in 1939 and opened in January, 1940, with an enrollment of slightly less than 300 pupils, it now has an enrollment of 539. It was named after Geo. R. Bean, pioneer Lubbock lawyer, former school teacher and county judge, who came to Lubbock a half-century ago. He served as trustee of the Lubbock Independent school district several terms and is a former chairman of the board. He resides at 1614 Nineteenth. All of his eight children have attended the Lubbock schools and all graduated from Lubbock High school.

GROWTH of Lubbock since 1940 has almost doubled the size of Geo. R. Bean school in south Lubbock. Originally consisting of nine rooms, it now has 17 rooms.

W. Kary Mathis, principal, and Miss Lucille Collier are the only two teachers remaining of the original faculty. Other teachers in the school are: Mrs. Ernest Mader, Mrs. J. R. Bridges, first year; Miss Lillian Baber, Mrs. Harold Munn, Mrs. Hortense Tanner, second year; Mrs. Bevington Reed, Mrs. Vada Spence, Miss Mary Lou Tucker, third year; Miss Billie Crausbay, Mrs. Juanita Eichelberger, fourth year; Mrs. C. A. Gentry, Mrs. Ahnise Lindsey, fifth year; Mrs. E. F. Dawkins, Miss Thelma Davidson, sixth year; Mrs. Dave Foreman, Spanish; Miss Edith Whitlock, music.

Plan of the school is one of the most excellent in the city system, since it is only one story and has four outside entrances which make it possible to eliminate congestion at any time. The number of exits make it possible to empty the building in about one minute in event of a fire.

The building, however, is practically fireproof.

David Brady, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Brady, who reside on the Slaton highway, recently won first in the fire prevention contest for children of the elementary schools of Lubbock. Mrs. Vada Spence is his teacher.

Mrs. John G. Terry is president of the Geo. R. Bean Parent-Teacher association and presidents through the years have been: Mrs. Russell Hardin, Mrs. H. B. Holbridge, Mrs. Ray West, Mrs. Acle Cope and Mrs. J. D. Lawson, in the order named. The P.-T. A. has not only fulfilled its main function of better relationship between home and school, but has been of great material help by contributing money to buy scores of library books, helping in the purchase of the public address system, and setting up a fund for the purchase of a motion picture projector, Mathis pointed out in a recent visit of a reporter to the school. The great amount of the fund for the machine is now on hand. The P.-T. A. sponsors the annual Hallowe'en carnival and last year contributed $100 to the Lubbock Boys' club as the school has from 35 to 40 boys in the club. The Bean P.-T. A. has 244 members.

Candidates Hurl New Charges In Race For Mayor Of New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—The race for mayor of New York City, top office in the nation to be filled in the November 6 elections, has taken on national and state implications with injection into the campaign of the name of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and the national administration.

Both Sidney Hillman, CIO Political Action Committee chairman, and Oscar R. Ewing, Democratic National Committee vice-chairman, charged that Dewey "hand-picked" general sessions Judge Jonah Goldstein as Republican - Liberal - fusion mayoralty candidate.

Hillman said the governor selected Goldstein in an effort "to make New York City a pawn for his (Dewey's) ambitions" to run for president in 1948. Hillman is supporting William O'Dwyer, former Brooklyn district attorney, who is the Democratic-American Labor Party candidate.

Ewing said the National committee was "intensely interested" in the election.

O'Dwyer has come under the fire of City Council President Newbold Morris, New Deal party designee for mayor backed by incumbent Fiorello H. La Guardia, who decided three terms as mayor were enough. Morris said O'Dwyer "is hanging to the tail of the kite of the national administration."

Goldstein pounced on O'Dwyer with a similar charge, declaring O'Dwyer "finds it much more safe to talk about national and state issues in this campaign."

Majority Of Voters Oppose Plan To Loan Huge Sum To Russians

By GEORGE GALLUP DIRECTOR
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—Stalin has asked the United States for a six billion dollar loan, and if Washington has any plans to grant it, something should be done first to explain to the American people the reasons for the loan and give them a fuller understanding of our role of world banker in the post-war period.

For right now the majority of American voters do not look favorably upon the idea of big loans to foreign nations.

A test by sentiment just completed by the Institute shows a a vote of approximately 2-to-1 against a Russian loan, and a survey reported earlier this month revealed the same attitude toward Britain's request for a loan of five billion dollars.

However, the American people think Russia would be a better credit risk than Britain—that is, would be more likely to repay the loan than Britain.

The Russian loan issue was put up to the nation's voters in the following question, based on Stalin's discussion with Senator Claude Pepper of Florida on a recent trip to Moscow.

"Russia has asked this country for a loan of 6 billion dollars to help Russia get back on its feet. Would you approve or disapprove of the United States making such a loan?"

Approve	27%
Disapprove	60
No Opinion	13

The vote on a five billion dollar loan to Britain showed the same percentage division of opinion, indicating that the public's attitude is fundamentally a matter of opposition to foreign loans rather than of an unfriendly feeling toward Russia.

Ironically, one of the groups most opposed to a loan to Russia is the American "proletariat"—the manual workers. They, and the farmers of the country, show more disapproval of a Russian loan than do the business and professional and white collar groups.

A similar pattern of opinion was found in the case of the British loan. Both Britain and Russia have the largest proportion of supporters on this issue among the professional and business groups and better educated people in the United States.

The vote by occupation and by education follows:

Loan To Russia?

	Approve	Disapprove	No Op.
By Occupation
Prof. and Bus.	36%	55%	9%
White Collar	32	56	12
Farmers	22	65	13
Manual Workers	23	61	16
By Education
College	45	46	9
High School	29	59	12
Gr. School or No School	22	62	16

All voters questioned in the poll were next asked:

"If we lend Russia this money, do you think we will be repaid in part, in full or not at all?"

In part	26%) 49%
In full	23)
Not at all	35
No opinion	16

In the case of the British loan, the number saying Britain would repay in full or in part was 39 per cent, while 41 per cent said she would not repay, and 20 per cent expressed no opinion.

In addition to fears about repayment from the Russians, voters opposed to a loan said that the United States has a big debt now, that we have economic problems here at home that may require money to solve, that Russia has enough resources to help herself, and that we have given Russia sufficient aid already.

Injunction On Survey On Ranch Is Refused

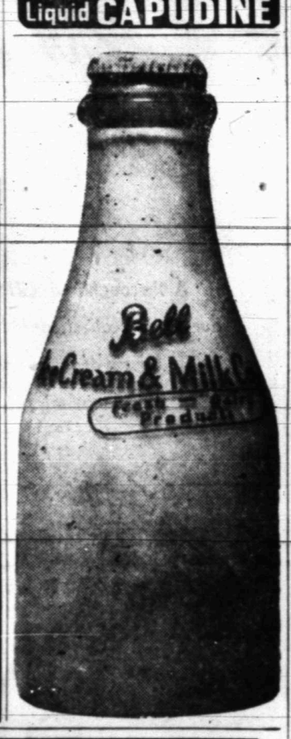

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 25 (AP)—Efforts of a South Texas ranch company to prevent the Nueces River Conservation and Reclamation district from sending engineers and surveyors into its property were denied in the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals here today. Application for an injunction by the Silver Lakes Ranches, Inc., was denied.

The ranch owners have protested that the survey would disturb livestock and cause them to lose weight.

Representatives of the Nueces district desire to survey the 40,000 acre tract on the Nueces river, one mile east of the Dimmitt-LaSalle county line to perfect plans for a $40,000,000 dam-building program, involving construction of six dams on the Nueces, Sabinal, Medina and Frio rivers.

Indonesians Continue To Build Up Complications In Freedom Fight

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25 — Nothing is simple in the Dutch East Indies, and it is getting less so daily.

The equatorial sun is very hot right now, but political tempers seem to have cooled to the extent that the Indonesian leaders trying to wrangle independence for 70,000,000 Indonesians now talk of mediation as desirable.

WHITE

They continue to make frightful noises, however, about the bloodshed which will follow if the Dutch send in any more troops.

In their bid for Allied mediation, the Indonesians say they would welcome the efforts of American, Chinese and Russian officials. There is no indication as to why they omitted mentioning the British. The British are the only Allied troops who have entered Indonesia in force.

Private Admissions

No Dutchman has said so publicly, but privately some Dutch say they think things might have developed differently other-wise. They point out that whereas Mountbatten reoccupied the British Malayan bastion of Singapore with an unmistakable show of force, he sent forces to both French Indo-China and the Dutch East Indies (because the French and the Dutch didn't have the shipping to get their own troops back fast enough) and that these British forces, mostly Indian Gurkhas, were unable to stop outbreaks of native violence against the return of their former masters. These outbreaks had some Japanese support.

Tin and Rubber Market

Ask Dutchmen what the British motive, if any, might be, and they reply only that British tin and rubber from Malaya is likely to get a head start in reopening world markets over Indonesian products.

On Oct. 5 the London Daily Telegraph said:

"It would have been preferable if French and Dutch troops could have been sent to take over their respective territories, but since that was not possible, the duty has had to fall on British troops whose rule is strictly limited to two objectives: First, to accept the surrender of the local Japanese, and secondly, to maintain law and order."

Sinister Scouts Active

". . . Those at home and abroad who make it their business to discover sinister motives in British policy have been as active as usual on those occasions.

". . . Anyone who imagines that Britain enjoys the role of policeman in other people's territories is completely wide of the mark. It is a thankless task."

If the Indonesians really want mediation of their claims against the Dutch they probably will get it. In the meantime it is up to them to control their own forces and create an atmosphere where mediation can work.

A gay, peacetime Halloween is in the offing for Lubbock. Headlining the local observance will be a parade of youngsters and adults, garbed in all manner of costumes, through downtown streets. Cash prizes of $125 will be awarded 38 different individuals for the most unique garb. The parade will start at 7 o'clock Wednesday night in front of the City hall. The event is being arranged by the City Recreation department, which is also helping plan Halloween parties throughout the city.

Elmer The Elk Dies, But His Mate Lives On Without Regret

SAGINAW, Mich., Oct. 24. (AP) —Elmer the Elk, 700-pound pride of the Saginaw zoo, is dead today but his loss was not mourned by his mate, Elsie, the indirect cause of his death.

Elsie stood idly by, munching hay at the other end of the pen, as Elmer suffered a broken neck yesterday in a fatal struggle with a truck driver and four policemen who had come to the rescue of chief zookeeper John H. Pierce.

Spurned by Elsie, who had been brought here to keep him company, Elmer attacked Pierce in his second outburst in recent weeks. The zookeeper was feeding deer in an adjacent pen when the bull elk charged, knocked down a wire fence and began to trample and gore him.

George Arndt, a passing truck driver, leaped into the pen and diverted the berserk animal's attention to himself. Grabbing Elmer by the antlers, he held him until the four officers arrived and helped subdue him.

Pierce suffered severe bruises, a three-inch leg gash and minor facial cuts. A fortnight ago the bellicose elk slammed his five-foot rack of antlers against the wire mesh and the sharp prongs jutted through and injured a passer-by.

During his placid days Elmer stalked his pen in solitary grandeur, gratefully accepting gum drops, carrots and other donations from visitors.

When it became apparent he was lonesome brother Elks of the benevolent and protective order contributed $150 for a mate, and Elsie was brought here two weeks ago from a Catskill, N. Y., game reserve. But her lack of attention made his disposition worse and led to his downfall.

USES officials said records show current principal demands for labor include automobile mechanics, butchers, bricklayers, railroad workers, clerical positions, salespersons, services, compress labor, linemen, carpenters and miscellaneous work.

Westerners Test Undefeated, Untied Bulldogs At Plainview Grid Tonight

Lubbock's hot and cold Westerners will test the undefeated, untied and unscored on Plainview Bulldogs tonight at 8 o'clock in the Plainview stadium.

The Westerners, underdogs in the game, will enter the battle in top shape for the first time in several weeks, and for them, the battle will be a make or break test. Some quarters give the Westerners a chance of upsetting the fine record of the Bulldogs in the first conference start for the Hale county lads.

Other sources point out that it would be a moral victory for the Westerners if they could punch across a score, and drop the Bulldogs from the class of unscored on teams. Coaches and players of the Lubbock club feel confident they can score.

Fine Bulldog Record

The Bulldogs have rolled up 102 points this season. The Westerners are less than a touchdown behind that figure, and there seems little doubt but what the Westerners have demonstrated their scoring punch against tougher foes than the Bulldogs.

The Westerners will have a little advantage in weight, but will not have the versitile attack of the Bulldogs. The Westerners have one of the best running games in the district, but the Bulldogs combine a good running game with perhaps one of the greatest aerial attacks in the state.

Williams Top Passer

Jack Williams, Bulldog pass pitching ace, is perhaps one of the state's greatest passers, and has hit his peak this season. Williams has added other features to his play this year, and is a rated as a pretty fair ball carrier.

Teamed with Williams in the bull carrying is Jack Weldon, an all-district performer last season, and rated as one of the top backs of the district.

The Westerners feature George Brewer, the high kicking youngster who has not been entirely stopped this season. The return of John Lanham to the Westerner backfield, will add punch, while the two little speedsters, Noel "Twinkle Toes" Sikes and Don "Speck" Austin are about as good as the average ball carrier in the district.

The Westerner line has been like the team as a whole, hot and cold, while the Bulldog line is willing to let an uncrossed goal line speak for itself.

A banner crowd is assured for the game tonight, with the "standing room only" sign hanging out in Plainview for several days. E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director of Lubbock schools, said he had a few tickets left, but expected them to be gone before noon today.

Other 1-AA Games

Conference play will take over throughout the district this week, with league play getting down to serious business on three fronts. Featured on the card for this week will be the battle at Amarillo, where the Borger Bulldogs will carry their two game winning streak into the sacred enclosure of Butler field to battle the Sandies.

Borger made an unsteady start this season, but seemed to hit its stride in blasting the Westerners, then followed this with a 39 to 0 victory at Liberal, Kans., last week, which seems to indicate the boys of Coach Tricky Ward may be getting some potent tricks up their sleeves.

Amarillo, however, will be a top heavy favorite to win the game, and be on the rebound from last week's defeat at Odessa, which dropped the Sandies from the state's undefeated, untied elevens.

The Brownfield Cubs move into Pampa tonight to battle Coach Otis Coffey's undefeated, untied Pampa Harvesters in another league battle, and the first for Pampa.

The Harvesters are not expected to encounter too much trouble in maintaining their unbeaten record. But the Cubs have looked good this year in every start but one, and may be primed for an upset.

Coyotes, Scots Battle Featured

(By The Associated Press)

Wichita Falls will find out whether it has a team on the field as well as in the newspapers when it meets Highland Park (Dallas) at Wichita Falls Friday night in the top game of Texas schoolboy football for the week.

Rated with the best ten in Texas and in some quarters shoved to the No. 1 spot, Wichita Falls will clash with the eleven ranked highest generally. The Coyotes looked very good until a couple of weeks ago when they had trouble beating lowly Graham. They did better last week in trimming Electra, but it will take a good showing against Highland Park or out of the top 10 they will go.

Many League Tilts

It is an important week-end with the majority of contests on the 50-game schedule counting in conference races over the state. Fifteen of the sixteen districts have conference tilts.

Also, there are five intersectional games with this state already well ahead in victories over teams from other states. To date Texas has taken 14 decisions and lost seven.

One of the conference games matches unbeaten teams with Milby clashing with San Jacinto for top rung in the Houston district.

Complete Schedule

The week-end schedule:

Friday — Borger at Amarillo, Brownfield at Pampa, Lubbock at Plainview, Vernon at Olney, Graham at Electra, Highland Park (Dallas) at Wichita Falls, Abilene at Midland, San Angelo at Odessa, Lamesa at Sweetwater, Globe, Ariz., at Bowie (El Paso), El Paso High at Phoenix, Ariz., Ysleta at Las Cruces, N. M., Greenville at Denison, McKinney at Gainesville, Paris at Sherman, Denton at Arlington, Paschal (Fort Worth) vs Poly (Fort Worth), Crozier Tech (Dallas) vs Forest (Dallas), Brownwood at Mineral Wells, Ranger at Breckenridge, Weatherford at Cisco, Cleburne at Ennis, Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) at Bryan, Sulphur Springs at Tyler, Waxahachie at Longview, Gladewater at Henderson, Nacogdoches at Kilgore Athens at Livingston, Grapeland at Jacksonville, San Jacinto (Houston) vs Milby (Houston), Reagan (Houston) at Lake Charles, La., Port Arthur at Galveston, Orange at Goose Creek, St Anthony's (Beaumont) vs Beaumont, San Antonio Tech at Austin, Corpus Christi at Kerrville, Texas Military Institute (San Jacinto) at Laredo, Robstown at Brownsville, Weslaco at San Benito, McAllen at Harlingen, Jefferson (San Antonio) at Edinburg.

Saturday — Roswell, N. M., at Austin (El Paco), Big Spring at North Side (Fort Worth), Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) vs Adamson (Dallas), Sunset (Dallas) vs North Dallas, Jeff Davis (Houston) vs Austin (Houston).

Conference Play Feature In Area

Conference play will feature the South Plains Class A grid schedule today without any of the top featured games that have taken the spotlight for the past two week-ends.

Two weeks ago it was the Littlefield and Levelland battle that was featured, and last week, the Denver City and Andrews battle that was being so widely watched. But this week the schedule settles down to "just plain old league battles."

Littlefield At Muleshoe

The Littlefield Wildcats, one of the highest scoring teams in Class A, moves into Muleshoe this afternoon to battle the Mustangs in a scrap that isn't expected to push the Wildcats too much.

The other conference game in this district will pair Olton and Levelland at Levelland in a battle that promises to develop into quite a scrap, but with the Lobos favored to win.

Eight teams face conference play down in District 6-A, with the leading Denver City Mustangs playing at home with the O'Donnell Eagles. The Eagles are not expected to cause Coach Wilson Head's boys too much worry.

District 6-A Card

Andrews, beaten last week by Denver City, will also be at home tonight, playing the Post Antelopes. The veteran Seminole eleven that seemed to have shifted into high gear last week, after a slow start, will roll into Slaton tonight, favored to win. Sundown will be favored tonight when the Roughnecks invade Tahoka, where Coach Prentice Walker's Bulldogs have been shattered, but are still fighting to keep up the sport in that city.

Three conference games are on the schedule in District 4-A, with the defending champions, the Spur Bulldogs, playing at Lockney in the top game of the card. Matador plays at Ralls and Paducah goes to Floydada.

New Deal moves into Petersburg tonight for a game that will offer plenty of fireworks from two strong Class B teams of the area.

Tatum Sparks Dupre To Win Over Spurs

Johnny Tatum sparked the Dupre Dogies to an 18 to 0 victory over the Central Ward Silver Spurs Thursday afternoon in a grade school touch football game at the Dupre field.

Tatum flipped two 15 yard passes to Dick Lowrey for two of the touchdowns, and raced 40 yards for the third counter.

Red Raiders Ready For Saturday Scrap

Coach Dell Morgan will give the Texas Tech Red Raiders one final touch of polish this afternoon, then the club will be ready for the battle Saturday night at Tech stadium with the West Texas State Teachers college Buffaloes. Kickoff is at 8:15 o'clock.

"We'll be as ready as we could be," Morgan said Thursday night.

Team Still Crippled

The team will be crippled for the battle, with the backfield well shot with injuries, but the line in top shape, and ready to go at full speed.

Walt Schlinkman, Tech's All-American hope, will see little, if any, action in the game, Morgan said. Schlinkman was injured in the Tulsa game two weeks ago, and reinjured in the Baylor game last week. The Dumas Dynamiter was somewhat better Thursday, however.

Robinet Takes Over

In his place will be Ed Robinet, who looked good in the Baylor game. Robinet has shown some trouble in holding the ball on his drives into the line, and fumbled twice in the Baylor game, but hopes to have this fault overcome this week.

Jack Hinson and Benny Tidwell, a pair of light, fast youngsters, are slated to get the starting nod at the two halfback positions in the places of Arthur Shahan and Cecil Norris, veteran backs who are both on the sidelines with injuries.

The Red Raiders held their last hard drill of the week Thursday, and will taper off this afternoon and polish up several new plays that have been designed for the game with the traditional foes from Canyon.

Abernathy Defeats Anton Eleven, 20-7

ABERNATHY, Oct. 25. (Special)—The Abernathy Antelopes rolled to a 20 to 7 victory over the Anton club here this afternoon in a District 1-B, north half, game.

Fullback Harold Rhodes circled end for 20 yards and the first Antelope score early in the first quarter, but the try for extra point failed.

In the second period, Rhodes latteraled to Lester Brown who romped 60 yards to score, then Rhodes ran over the extra point and Abernathy led 13-0 at the half.

The third quarter was a free scoring affair. Early in the period, Center Leon Hamilton caught a fumble in the air and ran 20 yards to score again for the Antelopes, and Brown kicked the extra point.

Late in the third period, Walter Hopgood ran 30 yards for the Anton touchdown.

Cowhand Clubs Face Tough Battles Today

Lubbock Cowhand grid teams face a pair of tough foes today, the Blacks playing at home while the Golds take to the road.

Coach Curtis Barrett's Blacks tangle with the Plainview B team this afternoon at Chapman field, the kickoff scheduled for 4 o'clock. Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst will take his Golds to Sudan to battle the Class A Hornets.

The Blacks will be seeking to make it two in a row over the Plainview club, which was beaten earlier in the year by the Golds, 26 to 0.

The game will serve as a warm-up for the Lubbock-Plainview battle tonight at Plainview, and many fans are expected to see both games.

The Golds will be facing the toughest test of the two, however, with the team facing an undefeated, untied eleven at Sudan. The Golds have been beaten only once this year, a 6-0 loss to Abernathy. They have won five games. The Blacks have won two and lost four.

The richest silver-lead deposits in the world are located at the Broken Hill mines in Australia.

Frogs, Oklahoma Aggie Tilt Tops

(By The Associated Press)

Texas Christian's battle against mighty Oklahoma A. and M. tops the Southwest Conference football schedule this week-end despite fact that there are two games counting in the championship race—rice vs Texas at Austin and Baylor vs Texas A. and M. at College Station.

The great Bob Fenimore, averaging better than 200 yards running and passing per game, presents the biggest problem the Horned Frogs have encountered to date. Blond Bob led the Sooner Aggies to top honors in the Southwest last year and climaxed it all with a 34-0 defeat of T. C. U. in the Cotton Bowl.

That bad beating may have a lot to do with the way T. C. U. plays against the Aggies Saturday. Certainly, it is to be expected that the Frog coaching staff has stressed that lop-sided triumph in getting the Frogs ready for the encounter.

Texas is expected to win easily enough over downtrodden Rice but the Baylor-Texas A. and M. game is a toss-up. The loser will fade from the conference race as each team has already dropped one decision.

Otherwise the schedule is intersectional with Southern Methodist playing Tulane at New Orleans and Arkansas meeting Mississippi at Memphis.

Two Sweeps Recorded In Bowling Loop Play

Levine's Scouts and Veterans of Foreign Wars turned in clean sweeps Thursday night in the Civic Club league bowling race at the Lubbock Bowling club.

Levine's Scouts, paced by Welch, toppled the Rotary club fice, while VFW was winning over the Jaycees. Welch toppled 234 pins for the best single game score, and had the best series with 608 pins.

The Optimists won two over the Kiwanis and Lions club won two from the American Legion in the other games.

Sundown Romps Over Cowboy Whites, 20-14

SUNDOWN, Oct. 25 (Special)—The Sundown Juniors outscored the Cowboys White club from Lubbock Junior high here this afternoon, and won a 20 to 14 decision over the visitors.

The Cowboys took the opening kickoff, and marched to a touchdown, with Lindsey plunging over from five yards out, and Wallace added the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

In the second quarter, Sundown began to skirt the ends, and marched to pay dirt, with Barry covering the last three yards for the score.

The Cowboys came right back, with Lindsey passing 25 yards to Jim Wilson, who ran the remaining 20 for a touchdown. Charley Williams ran over the extra point to give the Cowboys a 14-6 lead at the half.

In the third quarter, Anderson plunged over for another Sundown touchdown, and the extra point was added by a pass. In the fourth period, Barry broke through the middle and roamed 70 yards for the winning touchdown.

The Cowboys were on the Sundown five yard line when the game ended.

Zavala-Shans Bout On KFYO Tonight

Anything can happen . . . and probably will . . . when Humberto Zavala, Mexico's leading lightweight (above), meets California's capable Cleo Shans in New York tonight for ten rounds of rapid-fire fisticuffs.

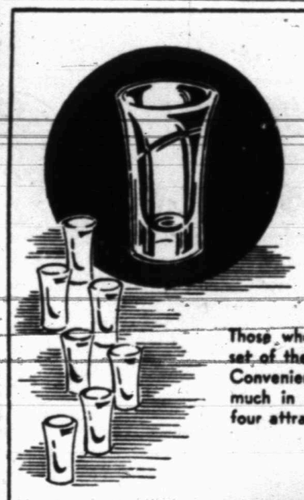

Along Broadway they call Zavala the red-hot tamale for he's full of pepper. Tonight, however, he's up against a tough customer. Aggressive Cleo Shans has won nine out of his last ten matches and is raring to make it ten out of eleven.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and KFYO (1340 on Your Dial) at 9 p. m.

For thoroughly refreshing shaves, soften your beard with Gillette Shaving Cream, lather or brushless. Then skim it off, slick as satin, with today's Gillette Blue Blade in your Gillette Razor. Remember . . . LOOK sharp! FEEL sharp! BE sharp! Use Gillette Blue Blades with the sharpest edges ever honed!

New Model Ford On Display Here

Today is V-8 day in Lubbock when the public will get the first opportunity to view the 1946 Ford in the showroom of Lubbock Auto company, 820 Texas avenue.

Harry Morris, manager of the company, said the company had long planned to be the first in public display of automobiles and it has been hoped that prices of the new cars could be announced at the same time of the public showing, but it doesn't appear as though a price would be received from OPA by that time. Consequently, dealer deliveries to the public apparently will be delayed, Morris said.

Many Changes Made

The cars to be on display here are a super deluxe two-door sedan of Folkstone gray and a 5-passenger coupe.

The new car embodies more changes than in any previous annual model change, Morris pointed out.

New features include a 100 horsepower motor, improved riding, improved steering, added interior finish and new exterior appearance with more chrome than on any previous Ford model.

The company's showrooms will open at 8:30 o'clock this morning and remain open throughout the day and late at night so that the public may view the new model, Morris said. He said the car would also be on display Saturday and subsequently thereafter.

New Fords are being turned out at the rate of 100 a day in the Dallas plant, Morris said. "We should have hundreds available for this area within a few months, and we will continue to seek a price arrangement so persons who want to buy Fords may do so as soon as possible."

The company already has more than 300 purchases on order, he said.

Assisting in the showing of the new Ford today will be Elmer Tarbox, new assistant manager of the company, who was recently discharged from the Army Air Forces after nearly four years in service. Tarbox, former Texas Tech grid star was a major in the AAF in China. Tarbox is replacing John Portwood as assistant manager, Portwood having moved to Brownfield to assume a dealership there.

Levelland Vet Casts Lot In Postwar Army

Taking advantage of the re-enlistment benefits, Ercie L. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cooper, Route 2, Levelland, re-enlisted in the Army Thursday, two months after being separated. He was discharged Aug. 3 from the 111th Medical battalion which was a member of the famed 36th division.

Cooper was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for bravery. While at Oberhaufen, Alsace, he was evacuating wounded to an aid station. Two men were wounded across a quarter mile clearing in a wooded area.

The clearing was under artillery fire and small arms fire from snipers. After giving aid to the wounded men, Cooper and his buddy were carrying them back when suddenly a frightened young German private came running out and surrendered to the medics.

The Purple Heart and an Oak Leaf Cluster was awarded Cooper for injuries received in the Rhone valley and at Oberhaufen. He received five bronze stars to the E.A.M.E campaign ribbon.

Pfc. Cooper returned to the states by air in July and was discharged from the Army at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Among the benefits Cooper received was a 90-day furlough and $250 reenlistment bonus in addition to his mustering out pay of $300.

Employment Drops In Several Industries

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—Employment in 25 manufacturing industries dropped 2.9 per cent in August, the National Industrial conference board reported today, to the lowest level since April, 1941. August employment was 15.5 per cent below that of the same month a year ago.

The board said the average work week declined 1.8 per cent in August to 43.5 hours, lowest since September, 1942, while payrolls dropped 5.1 per cent to a level 17.4 per cent below August, 1944.

Total man-hours worked in the 25 industries fell 4.7 per cent in the month to the lowest level since July, 1941, and were 25.9 per cent under the peak reached in November, 1943.

Average weekly earnings declined 2.2 per cent, although the board noted that nine non-war industries reported higher average weekly earnings in August than in March, 1945, when the peak for the 25 industries combined was reached.

No. 1 Man Of France

DeGaulle Has Difficult Task

ALTHOUGH General Charles deGaulle has been given the Allied cold shoulder so many times that surely by now he is a vegetarian, Sunday's French election showed that the stiff, imperious soldier is still a big man to the French people.

The French, reveling in their first big-time election in nine years, gave robust approval to deGaulle's plan to junk the 1875 constitution and substitute a Fourth Republic. His Popular Republican Movement party ran neck-and-neck with the Communists and Socialists in the voting for members of the assembly which will draw up the new constitution. He, in effect, was given a mandate to remain as provisional president until an election can be held to select an executive for regular tenure.

The almost equal distribution of votes among the three leading parties is not good for France, nor will it make deGaulle's task any easier. Unless he can promote a coalition of two of the parties, deGaulle will have his hands full keeping peace among the assembly delegates.

All the parties operate to the left of center, reading, left to right, Communists, Socialists and the Popular Republican Movement. The Socialites, therefore, would seem to be the key to any "deal."

The French people, struggling out of years of political debauchery, are going to expect miracles from deGaulle. Although they demand now nothing more than necessities—food, shelter and clothing—these come under the head of monumental tasks in the republic which is rising to its knees after the count of nine.

A Salute To The Navy!

IT WAS a long and bloody road from Pearl Harbor to Tokyo Bay. Along the way, the United States emerged as the most powerful fighting nation in the world. It trained a fighting force of almost ten million men and built the greatest navy ever to sail the seven seas. Our democracy and system of free enterprise demonstrated to the world that they could deliver in a pinch.

We learned at a tremendous cost in lives and materiel the lesson in unpreparedness. Now that the victory is won, our problem is to maintain the Peace. Although we should do our utmost to live in harmony with other countries, we must remember that the destiny of nations is in human hands, and that to err is human. Thus, there will always be present the danger of a break in world agreements. We should ever be prepared for that eventuality.

Tomorrow is Navy day. It should be an occasion of tribute and expression of gratitude to the boys in blue for their high achievements. Never before in the history of warfare has a navy been so prominent in the winning of a war. On this day, we should also resolve to keep our navy so strong in ships, men and planes that no nation will ever dare threaten our shores.

Divorce Mills Grind On

THE divorce mills of the country are booming as never before. In many places, divorces are outstripping marriage licenses. The high rate of divorce is general. Lubbock is no exception; broken marriages are winding up in court here at an astonishing clip.

The situation gives a partial explanation of the high incident of juvenile delinquency that has plagued the nation in the last several years. In families where there are children, it is almost axiomatic that delinquency or, at least, the seeds of delinquency, are natural results of separations.

The war, and the big money that it brought to some people of normally conservative income, conditioned a great deal of "high" living. This led to situations which probably can be blamed for disruption of the greater part of "established" marriages.

Louisville Circuit Court Judge Gilbert Burnett may have summed it up when he commented: "It's always liquor or lipstick."

"If you want to know what alcoholic drink does to the lining of your stomach, put a few drops of it in your eye," suggests a prohibitionist. Would putting a few crumbs in one's eye prove that bread is injurious to the lining of the stomach?

"The U. S. Employment Service has set up a department for answering questions by white-collar workers." It would be our guess that a large percentage of the questions submitted will be, "What am I supposed to use for money?"

In the good old days crop control by the government was simple and inexpensive. The Department of Agriculture simply mailed to farmers seeds that wouldn't come up.

One-Minute Sermon

Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal. And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing. MY MARRIAGE DOESN'T TAKE

XIV

I was soon plunged up to my eyebrows in English society, in which I felt like the proverbial fish out of water.

I found out that my husband placed his career above everything else. He had a splendid record from the World war and intended entering the diplomatic or intelligence service, since his left arm had been badly shattered when he was wounded in France. He had had several unsuccessful operations on it which eventually led to his being invalided out of the army. He had many fine qualities, but when I married him, he seemed far older than his 26 years, and his nerves had suffered, like those of many other men who had been in war. He was a stickler of punctuality and decorum, and an excellent officer, but he wanted everything done with military precision, and I don't think he could possibly have found anybody less adaptable than I was to his way of life.

We moved to a beautiful apartment in Buckingham Gate, just in front of the guards' barracks, which Leslie had rented furnished from Lady Mary Burton, a relative of his late mother's.

I used to cross the road from the apartment to the guards' riding school and talk to the old sergeant major about dogs and horses. He was a nice old soul and taught me a lot about horses and their care. I told him about the circus and showed him some tricks I could do on a horse. This got back to my husband and was the cause of one hell of a row, in which he told me I was ruining his career.

• • •

As the weeks went by, I saw less and less of my husband. He was a club man and liked the society of other men. Unfortunately, we had nothing at all in common besides hunting, and it was very dull for me. I missed my work and did not know what to do with myself.

So what with one thing and another, I began to suspect our marriage had been a mistake but tried to put up with it all to the best of my ability. Then one day my old friend, Sergeant Major Carruthers from the guards' barracks, gave me a female bull puppy. To avoid arguments, I told Leslie I had bought the dog.

She was a big awkward creature and not house-broken, which was an unfortunate combination with the pearl-gray carpets of Lady Mary Burton's apartment. The gallant captain (as I sometimes called my husband) simply could not be patient about her shortcomings and hit her brutally several times. We had a nasty row, and I told him that the best way to get on the wrong side of me was to interfere with my dog. He stormed and sulked and that evening got all dressed up in tails and went out somewhere, not returning till after I had been asleep for hours.

The puppy, who was sleeping on my bed, heard him come in, and remembering the blow he had given her, she flew at him and bit him through the wrist. Of course it had to be the one that had been injured and had just come out of the cast. The next morning he said she had to go, and insisted upon knowing where I had bought her—so I told him frankly that she was a present from Sergeant Carrutners and that I had no intention of giving her back. That really started something, for he raved at me for my lack of respect for his position in accepting a present from a sergeant.

That afternoon I took my puppy and my belongings and went to a hotel near mother. This was one of many bad rows, and in the end I had to go back, for both my mother and my father-in-law carried on to such an extent that there was nothing else to do.

• • •

Then we went to a place called Tring, where Lord Rothchild's stag hounds hunted till late in the season. There we stayed with some friends of Leslie's at the hotel for the last meet. My husband intended to follow the hunt from point to point in the friends' car. We were having breakfast in the coffee room with them, when I happened to look out of the window at the stable yard and saw a drunken groom, who was holding a horse by the bridle, close under its mouth, striking the animal again and again with his clenched fist, full on the muzzle—the most sensitive part of a horse. The animal was rearing and bleeding, and this was too much for me. I was out of the door like a shot before any of them knew what was happening, picked up an empty bucket, and whanged the groom over the head with it. The narrow rim of the bucket cut his head open, and he started yelling blue murder.

Everybody ran out of the hotel and stood gaping at me open-mouthed. My husband was horrified, and the groom brought an action for damages for "assault and battery," which of course had to be paid. There was considerable gossip about the petty, stupid affair, and some of my husband's friends said—I quote Leslie—"What can you expect from a gypsy?"

This decided me, for with all the unpleasantness I'd had more than enough and honestly felt I would be doing him a favor to leave him. I told him exactly how I felt about our situation; also that, as a married woman, I was legally of age and therefore intended leaving at once for Buenos Aires to fulfill my contract with Camillo Bonetti.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

THERE is something much more fundamental behind all these strikes and labor troubles than just the desire for a few more dollars or a few hours less work a week.

It is easy enough to write or shout about racketeering labor leaders and the spread of communism and all kinds of other superficial reasons—but that isn't it at all.

In my opinion, there is something altogether wrong about our entire social setup.

BRANDEIS

It isn't only a lack of balance between capital and labor. You find it in the home as well, and in the school.

I remember when I was a boy. My parents' word was law. My teachers were unquestioned authorities. They ordered, we obeyed.

Today it's different. Kids have their parents and their teachers arrested because they slap them a bit around the ears.

Children know more than their fathers, pupils more than their teachers.

• • •

Another modern phenomenon is the deterioration of good manners. It's every man for himself. In restaurants, in theaters, in public conveyances, on the road—push, shove, get ahead of the other guy.

What is it? Who is to blame? What does it all lead to?

I wish I knew the exact answer. I wish I knew the remedy.

During the war we all worked together. We worked in the Army and in the Navy for insignificant pay. We suffered discomfort and privation. We went without many things and stood for many things that would have brought on a strike in twenty-four hours during peacetime.

Why? Because we had a purpose to win.

• • •

WHY can't we have a purpose in peace as well as in war?

Why can't we see the other's viewpoint as well as our own?

Why can't we do more sharing and less grabbing?

Why do we profess to honor Abraham Lincoln when we make a mockery of the very things he advocated?

Why do we hypocritically confess our faith and break every one of its tenets?

Why do we prate about the nobility of the human soul and behave like cats and dogs in an alley fight?

Many years ago George Dorsey wrote a book entitled "Why We Behave Like Human Beings."

I wonder whether it isn't time to write another, "How Not to Behave Like Human Beings"!

Negotiations Stalled In Textile Walkouts

FORT WORTH, Oct. 25. (U.P.)—Negotiations to end strikes at three cotton mills in Mexia, Hillsboro and Itasca have been stalemated by refusal of company executives to attend arbitration conferences, Ted F. Morrow, U. S. conciliation service agent, has reported.

Morrow said he had failed in attempts to bring representatives of management of the three plants to a meeting with union leaders. The plants are operating at reduced capacity while about 650 of some 1,000 employes in the three institutions are striking.

The strikers are members of the United Textile Workers of America. Their leaders say they seek a union contract including a maintenance of membership clause among other things.

Our Future Defenses

Unified Command Is A Problem

WASHINGTON
By Albert Leman
(Ray Tucker Is On Vacation)

THE HYDRA-HEADED problem of future security — bound up in the atomic bomb, peace draft and unification of the armed forces — has been thrust on Congress because our national leaders are convinced that prompt action is necessary.

Advocates of the consolidation of the War and Navy departments hope for favorable legislation now while the Public is still close to war experiences; major military reforms are rarely made in times of peace when Bureaus can lobby effectively.

Even now, insiders say, the merger will probably be blocked if the old-line professionals can put enough pressure on Congress. The solemn advice of General Marshall and the recent support of integration by General MacArthur may not outweigh the arguments and buttonholing by Army and Navy opponents of unification.

• • •

PERIL: Although the Pacific commander appears to back a permanent team of the three fighting branches, he did not always believe in amalgamation.

Rep. Carl Vinson of Georgia has in his possession a letter written by the general when he was Chief of Staff in 1932. At the time MacArthur attacked a bill for a single Department of National Defense in these words:

LEMAN

"No measure proposed in recent years seems to me to be fraught with such potential possibilities of disaster for the United States as this one. The proven agencies which have successfully conducted this country through six wars are now under the apparent dictation of a measure of economy to be launched on an adventure which, under certain conditions, might involve the very life of the nation.

"Not only the military history of this country but of every country gives indisputable proof of the advantages of maintaining in time of war the integral control of the two great branches of national defense — the Army and the Navy . . . Each must be free to perform its mission unhindered by any centralized and ponderous bureaucratic control . . . I know of no responsible soldier or sailor in the whole gamut of history who has advocated such a plan as now proposed."

In discussing the reorganization details, he warned of the "instability, uncertainty, the loss of morale among the combatant forces that would be entailed by acrimonious discussions fraught with peril."

• • •

AUTONOMY: Congressmen hostile to the fusion think that if experts reverse their opinions or take opposite sides — as certain generals and admirals now are doing — the layman can be excused if he counsels delay until the bigwigs can agree.

Critics of the idea see the measure as dumping all three branches into a melting pot with consequent loss of identity to the members of the great services — and turning soldiers, sailors and fliers into nameless "warriors."

Secretary of War Patterson vigorously denies that such a scramble is contemplated. "On the contrary," he insists, "there must be preserved the maximum autonomy, consonant with efficiency and economy, for each of the three coordinate arms—the Air, the Ground and the Naval Forces to include the Marine corps and the Fleet Air arm."

• • •

DUPLICATION: But a single over-all department, he contends, will decide matters of policy, strategy and budgetary allowances.

In war the public will not complain about extravagant duplication — for censorship hides waste and the nation must trust the military. But in peace even vital military installations have been denied or starved by tax-conscious legislators.

On the outskirts of Washington the Army and Navy maintain side by side two depots, two hospitals, two motor transport servicing stations and two airfields. The story of adjoining bases in the war zones and the blind refusal of one branch to cooperate with the other will some day furnish Congress with material for a scandal revelation.

Even within the War department the Army and the Air Forces run separate hospitals although microbes never seem to distinguish between patients. The Navy recently sent to Congress its program for postwar strength without showing General Marshall the plan in advance or telling him it was being delivered.

• • •

DOUBLED: The Navy is secretly afraid that a single security head would cut down the size of the fleet, the one arm, it says, that can keep us ahead of other nations.

Ships are always the targets of the budget blue pencils and the pacifists. Admirals remember what happened in the limitation of armament conferences: Battleships were scrapped which could not be replaced in time to meet the war emergency.

Let an air-minded, big Army zealot gain control of the merged War and Navy departments, they warn, and we drop from first place as a maritime power.

The case for separate services is greatly weakened, in the opinion of former two-branch congressmen, by the advent of the atomic bomb. Defense against it will be extremely expensive. Taxpayers will not complacently watch appropriations doubled to satisfy both the admirals and the generals.

• • •

HEAD: Atomic weapons are the costliest of arms. One of the scientists who developed it seriously advocated that vital war installations be placed underground for protection.

A sea level canal is proposed for Panama by engineers who fear the loss of "summit water" should the Madden Dam or the locks be destroyed by bombs. Studies have been made of a second canal across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec so that a plug in the Big Ditch would not block the route between our Atlantic and Pacific fleets.

Billions of dollars are involved. But even more important to our existence, contend the pro-merger group, is a streamlined policy-making administrative head to integrate all elements of portection in this new atomic era of military science.

TEXAS
By Gordon Shearer

AUSTIN.—There is a great deal of confusion in the minds of some people about authority of the state aeronautics commission, despite wide publicity which was given legislative debate when the agency was created.

The new commission has no regulatory powers over operation of airlines. It does not issue certificates of convenience and necessity as does the Texas Railroad commission for motor bus routes.

Ironical is the fact that at least two legislators have displayed lack of knowledge of the commission's authority through members of the session creating the agency. Both verbally have inquired about the commission issuing feeder airline route permits to constituents.

The commission has two main functions:

1. It may serve as a receiving agency for federal grants to the state, counties or cities for aviation facilities.

2. It may advise with counties and cities on plans for new airport facilities or improving existing ones.

That's all.

• • •

INQUIRIES: But still there are inquiries daily about making application to the commission for airline operations wholly within the state.

One fellow from Dallas wanted permission to operate planes every hour from Dallas to San Antonio, to Houston, and back to Dallas. Another wanted to transport seafood from the coast to North Texas.

In these cases, all the commission does is advise the person to make application to the Civil Aeronautics board, a federal agency.

"Will the world ever be rid of politicians?" asks a discouraged editor. Why, yes, of course — when the earth is inherited by the meek.

Masses Don't Want To Give Up Luxury . . .

Social "Revolution" Under Way

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

CLEVELAND—This country is in the midst of a minor social revolution created by the struggle of hundreds of thousands of war workers to readjust themselves to the lower paid and less exciting task of peace.

STOKES

Experts in human behavior probably would use five or six-syllable words such as psychological or sociological, or even pathological — for it gets down to the sickness of frustration in many cases — to describe what is the No. 1 problem of today.

It is not apparent on the surface. You do not detect it as you walk down the crowded business streets of the nation's big cities. Nor it is seen in the stores, in the hotels and places of entertainment and amusement, all lively with people.

Everything seems about at it was.

• • •

Pay Heaps Problem

It's not observed casually because it's a personal and individual problem, the sort that men and women talk about in the privacy of their homes, or take to their rooms at night. It involves personal pride in many cases, personal ambition usually, in the ways that these traits exhibit themselves in the kind of civilization we have developed.

You can learn plenty about it in the employment offices.

There it comes out in the simple problem, multiplied many times, of the person accustomed to a well-paid job that had the glamor of patriotic service about it. Now he has lost that job and finds in many cases all that is available is by comparison humdrum, routine, and does not pay enough to furnish the things he enjoyed in the exhiliarating days of war, where a family is involved, especially a large family, the pay in many cases is not enough to provide the necessities of living.

• • •

THE over-all problem divides into thousands and thousands of personal problems, no two alike. The result is the waiting around, the milling around, the shopping around for jobs, as the individual analyzes and argues with himself before taking another job.

Since humans are the factor, with all their emotions, it's not something that can be settled mechanically. It can not be brushed aside airily, as some try to discuss it, by asking why people don't just take available jobs and go back to work. There is an added complication, too, in that there are not nearly enough jobs available in many places.

• • •

Taste of Luxury

It's not that easy by any means, as you discovered when you dig into it. It's not that easy, for one thing, because in this country we've built up the dignity and pride and aspirations of the individual for something always a little better. We have given him a hint of such luxury as there is in the contrivances of our machine society. So many people never before have had such a taste of prosperity, such a giddy feeling of lots of money loose in the pockets.

Waking up suddenly carries a shock.

It would be fine if it were as simple as the major back from the wars who walked into the United States Employment Service office at Boston recently and said he wanted a job as a truck driver. That's all he asked.

• • •

FOR everyone of those simple cases, there are many like that of the former doughnut salesman at Columbus, O. During the war he got a job in an airplane plant there. He liked the work. He studied at night and applied himself. Eventually he was head of a crew of 300 workers. When the war ended, he was out of a job. He walked into the employment office to explain his problem. He had acquired a new status during the war.

Must he go back to selling doughnuts? If he does, or if he gets something comparable, undoubtedly he will be a frustrated man.

That's the kind of problem that is duplicated over and over nowadays, to make for a frustration complex that is widespread.

Eliminations Held In Tech Contests

Primary election for Mr. and Miss Texas Tech held this week on the campus eliminated all but three women and three men students who will compete for the tital in final election scheduled Wednesday.

LaNell Doshier of Claude; Louise Ince of Spur; and Audrey Melton of Olton; all seniors, were selected as candidates for Miss Texas Tech. Men selected for Mr. Texas Tech were Troy Caldwell of Seymour, senior; Gene Hardey of Hugoton, Kans., sophomore; and Walter Schlinkman of Dumas, senior.

Cotton Ginnings Show Big Drop For Season

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP) — The census bureau said today 2,690,011 bales of cotton were ginned in the U. S. prior to Oct. 18. This compares with 6,282,816 running bales in 1944 and 7,792,249 in 1943.

The production by states includes: Arkansas 231,223; Louisiana 259,514; Texas 83,129.

Permit Refused New Taxi Firm

Deciding that Gene Sitz, through his attorney, Jimmie Cunningham, failed to show the need for additional taxicab service in Lubbock, members of the City commission rejected his application for a taxicab company after conducting a hearing on the case.

Cunningham presented petitions signed by several score residents of the city, the majority of them in the negro and Mexican residential sections, requesting additional taxi service.

Present Setup Improves

George W. Dupree, local attorney, representing present taxi operators, declared that petition requests should be substantiated with testimony and then proceeded to present testimony by Ray Farmer, owner of City Cab company and Bryant's Taxi company, Ed C. Abbott, owner of Yellow Cab company; Desmond Abbott, owner of Domino Taxi company; and Cliff Cocanougher, manager of City Cab company. Each operator declared his company had been handicapped in the past four years by the war emergency but that their equipment and personnel had been improved in the past few months and that service was now on par with prewar years.

Their testimony revealed that approximately two score cabs in operation and that Farmer planned re-entry into the field of the Bryant Taxi company with the return of a recently discharged serviceman to manage the business.

Otherwise Routine

The taxicab hearing highlighted an otherwise routine four-hour meeting of the commission, in which several ordinances pertaining to zoning areas, establishing of building lines on Ave. A from Sixth to Twenty-fifth and on Fourth from Ave. H to Ave. Q, revision of an ordinance governing side-yard and front-yard requirements in zoning districts and other routine matters were acted on.

The commission also authorized the drawing of an ordinance closing a portion of the alley and street on Ave. J to be exchanged for a 15-foot alley behind property recently purchased by Geo. P. Kuykendall, between Aves. J and Texas.

Ordinance No. 727 was passed at a second reading. It zones certain property recently brought into the city limits, the Phillips addition, and property lying between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-eight streets and Ave. B and East Ave. K.

Traffic Dispersal Plan

Ordinance No. 729, establishing the building lines on Ave. A and Fourth where major arteries of a highway traffic dispersal plan will run, was passed at first reading. The commission also spread a resolution on the minutes publicizing the proposed location of street and highway extensions in areas on which there are no established streets in the northern part of the city where the traffic dispersal routes will connect Ave. Q with the Shallowater and Plainview highways.

Ordinance No. 730, amending ordinance No. 661, changing lots 12 and 12, Caver sub-division, from a "C" district to an "H" district was also approved at first reading.

Ordinances No. 731 and 732, revising Sec. XVI, heading 3, ordinance No. 661, establishing side-yard and front-yard regulations were also passed. In A districts, the limits are 35 feet, B, C, D, F and G areas, 25 feet and E, H, J, K, L, M areas 15 feet. In no case shall the setback of a building line be less than 37½ feet from the center of a street.

No Action On Damage Claim

Claim of Mrs. O. L. James for $825 for injuries received in a fall on a jutting sidewalk and presented by Grady West was not acted on.

In presenting his taxicab application, Sitz proposed to put four cabs into operation with a call station in the 1900-block of Ave. A and a station in the 1300-block of Ave. F.

The commission approved a lease contract for the manager's house at Municipal airport, to be rented to Sidney Greathouse, Essair assistant manager, on a month-to-month basis at $40 a month.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—Cotton futures were quite today as lessened prospects for pending parity legislation clouded the picture.

In early dealings, prices gained 50 cents a bale on mill and outside buying influenced by indications that the farm bloc will make a strong fight for the Pace bill notwithstanding administration opposition to the measure. Towards the close, hedge selling increased and final levels were 10 to 60 cents a bale lower.

The bureau of census report showed a sharp drop in ginnings to October 18 compared with last season which was expected in the trade. Ginnings were of 2,592,805 bales reflecting the smaller crop this season and the lateness in picking operations.

Inclusion of such provisions as these in agreements: (a) Procedure for adjustment of disputes and grievances during the life of a contract and in negotiating a succeeding contract; (b) No-strike, no lockout clauses; (c) When contract renewal negotiations fail, early use of conciliation, mediation and possibly voluntary arbitration; (d) Settlement of grievances at the level where they occur; (e) Responsibility of both parties to live up to agreements; (f) Control of members by unions and of officials and supervisory force by management in conforming with contracts.

6. Should the conciliation service be strengthened and given added support?

7. Lessening jurisdictional and inter-union disputes.

The President made public a letter from the four principals arranging the labor-management conference in which they asserted:

While it is probable that many important decisions will be made by this conference, it must be borne in mind that no conference can possibly completely clean the slate of all present and potential sources of friction in the highly complicated American economy.

"It is equally obvious, however, that the establishment of long-range and agreed-upon policy designed to reduce industrial disagreement, and the provision of predetermined means of dealing with unavoidable disagreements will go far toward bringing about a new era of industrial harmony and progress. This is the long-term objective which we have kept in mind in the preparation and adoption of this agenda."

This Duck Came For Dinner And Now He Is Going To Stay

BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 25 (U.P.)—The Homer Hanna family of Brownsville will have duck dinner on Thanksgiving. But the way they secured the duck is enough to make Hanna, a non-drinker shake his head.

Hanna, who is principal of the Brownsville High school, had recently purchased a home complete with a fine fireplace. They anxiously awaited the arrival of the first cold snap so they could try out the fireplace. This week the norther arrived and they fired up the fireplace.

While they sat admiring the flames, a long, snaky head and neck appeared in the opening, weaved from side to side and disappeared. Moments later it appeared again, looked things over for a second, and suddenly a full duck appeared. The duck scrambled out of the flames, stood on the hearthstone and flapped its wings, sending a shower of soot over the corner of the room and then flew across the room and perched on the piano.

Hanna captured the fowl there while Mrs. Hanna began scouring floors and walls.

They could find no explanation for the appearance of the duck.

matic and consular properties and archives everywhere in the world to the Allied powers, to cease relations with foreign governments, and to recall her diplomatic and consular representatives from abroad.

This order came down from the joint chiefs of staff in Washington.

Differing with various other highranking Japanese who have had their say about the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor and have deplored it as a mistake, Adm. Osami Nagano, the man who gave the actual orders, asserted that it was militarily sound, and "Japan would have been defeated earlier" if it had not been launched.

Nagano, former chief of the naval staff, was for the assault, although many admirals thought it was too dangerous, he disclosed in an interview.

Was "Great Success"

Defending the attack itself as achieving "far greater success than I had expected," he asserted in an exclusive interview with the Associated Press that it was not a military blunder.

"At first," he explained, "we were going to give a one-hour notice (formal declaration of war, before the attack) but the United States was fully prepared and its communications excellent, so it was shortened to 30 minutes' notice."

Emperor Hirohito, the Navy and the foreign office, he asserted, all wanted prior notification; but he significantly omitted the Japanese Army from this grouping. He added that this correspondent could determine by investigation the "unknown reason" for the delay.

Birds Said Cause Of Boost In Pneumonia

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25. (AP)—The medical society of Pennsylvania's committee on pneumonia control blames birds for part of an increase in virus pneumonia.

The committee, reporting at annual society meeting, said:

"... The old fashioned types of pneumonia are becoming less important on account of penicillin and the sulfa drugs. However, virus pneumonia is on the increase and it is undoubtedly due in part to the fact that human beings are contracting the virus from birds, in most cases."

Philadelphia, under authority of a city ordinancce, is conducting a pigeon - extermination program. City officials claim the pigeons are virus carriers.

Buffs Strength For Tilt Here Unknown

CANYON, Oct. 25—West Texas State Teachers will enter the Buffalo-Red Raider football game at Texas Tech Saturday night as a club of unknown strength.

Among those who know little about the Buffs are Coaches Gus Miller and W. W. Nicklaus. Much will depend upon the physical conditions of Fullback Hap Rogers, Quarterback Hoss Bledsoe, and Guard J. D. Lynch. These and several other men were severely pummeled in the hard games with Baylor, Tulsa, University of New Mexico, and Amarillo Army Air Field, all of which the Buffs lost.

Last week the also crippled Red Raiders did no small chore in holding Baylor to a 7-7 tie. The best the Buffs did at Waco was to take a 32-0 defeat at the hands of the Bears. The locals rested last week, theoretically; actually, they worked hard every day although they had no scheduled game.

Scouts report that Texas Tech has now reached peak performance in a potentially powerful squad. With far smaller manpower resources, West Texas State Teachers may or may not be at peak strength Saturday. But regardless of condition, the Buffs will go all out to carry the fight to their natural rivals on the plains.

In previous years, the West Texas State Teachers men have had most of their luck on the basketball court in meetings of the two schools. Hapless in four games, the locals haven't much to lose this week and there isn't anything they would like more than an upset score.

South Carolina Ties Favored Clemson Club

Truman Says Travels Next Month Tentative

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP) — President Truman said today that he has not cancelled a projected southern trip early next month, but that all of his scheduled travels for November must be considered tentative.

The President was asked at his news conference about reports that he might call of contemplated visits to North Carolina and Georgia Nov. 2-4.

Asked if a reported plan to visit Waco, Tex., Dec. 5 also is tentative, he replied that it was but that he was inclined to go.

He said Baylor university at Waco, where he will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree Dec. 5, is a great Baptist college.

Spaatz May Be Urged To Enter Politics

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25 (AP)—Pennsylvania Democrats may try to coax Lt. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, who commanded U. S. Army Air Forces in Europe and later in the Pacific, to enter the 1946 gubernatorial race.

The general was a guest of high party leaders last night at a $100-a-plate dinner.

Following an introduction, someone shouted "the next governor of Pennsylvania." Others joined in the outburst.

Lend-Lease Equipment Puts U. S. Foreign Policy In Tough Spot

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

United States foreign policy is running into embarrassing situations in widely-scattered sections of the world.

The United States is not alone in this regard, of course. Great Britain has her difficulties, too. They are mostly her own responsibility, but in some cases the way to solution is not made easier by her efforts to dovetail her interests with the frequently ill-defined policy of the United States. France and the Netherlands are in hot water in southeast Asia. Only Russia seems comparatively unembarrassed in following a fixed line of policy.

Unfortunate U. S. Position

The United States is in rather an unfortunate position because it is the economic and military giant to which many nations are looking hopefully or skeptically for leadership or for favors. Some confusion in Washington is inevitable, since all parties affected are not likely to be pleased, no matter what the United States does.

Washington's position also has been complicated from a new quarter—the aftermath of lend-lease. Regardless of the universal approval of lend-lease by the Allied world during the fight against a common enemy, those whom lend-lease material may now be turned are bound to be resentful. Their resentment, even though illogically, is apt to turn against the United States.

Current Headaches

Here are some of the current headaches which beset Washington policy-makers:

Palestine—Both the Jews and the Arabs contend that they have been promised American consideration or support. Both sides are dissatisfied by the equivocal position taken in Washington. The British are not too happy either, especially over Washington's Jewish immigration demands, which London is afraid to fulfil lest an Arab explosion result in the Near East.

Indonesia—The United States is disturbed by British and Dutch use of lend-lease equipment to put down the Nationalist revolt. Washington is in the peculiar position of asking its Allies merely to remove U. S. insignia from such equipment, but has not asked that its use be stopped. Regardless of valid reasons for not making the latter request, the United States is certain to incur native resentment.

Japan And Korea

Japan—Russia is asking joint Allied occupation control. The United States insists on running the show, proposing instead a Far Eastern advisory commission, to which Russia has not yet assented.

Korea — Native independence leaders are bitterly opposed to joint occupation of their country by the United States and Russia, which divides Korea at the 38th parallel of latitude. The latest word from the State department is that the division was only a military expediency to last until the Japanese were disarmed. Negotiations are now in progress "among the interested powers" to reunite Korea under the joint trusteeship principle, it was said. It will be fortunate if an agreement can be reached without friction with Russia or further Korean dissatisfaction.

China And Venezuela

China — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has large lend-lease equipment and American-trained troops which were intended only for use against the Japanese, but may now be used in internal warfare against the Chinese Communists.

Venezuela—It has been charged that American lend-lease equipment was used by the revolutionaries there to overthrow the government.

The above problems would seem to be a strong argument for getting the United Nations organization into working order as soon as possible, so that a general solution can be attempted, instead of one, two or three-sided action.

Postwar Farm Plan To Be Put Into Effect

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP) — The Agriculture department has adopted a "gross roots" approach to speed the reconversion of the nation's farmland from war-time production to long-range soil-building and water conservation.

The 1946 program will give more responsibility to farmers, working through AAA county and community committeemen, in recommending conservation practices.

Under the plan outlined today by W. E. Dodd, director of the field service branch of the production and marketing administration, counties will be given allotments of funds to operate their conservation programs.

Past AAA programs have allotted assistance principally on a state-wide basis. The 1946 program will provide about the same amount of assistance as 1945's.

The 1946 program will provide assistance for these types of practices: (1) Application of lime, fertilizer and other materials; (2) Planting of cover crops; (3) Harvesting of legume and grass seed; (4) Erosion control and water conservation; (5) Range and pasture improvement; (6) Forestry; (7 Other practices such as noxious weed control and clearing land for tillage and pasture.

Nation's Capital Said "Liquor-Drinkingest" City In Entire U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP) — A preacher's contention that Washington is the liquor-drinkingest city in the nation was backed today with statistics.

These figures show that Washingtonians drink four times more hard liquor than does the average American citizen.

Dr. W. S. Abernethy, pastor emeritus of Cavalry Baptist church here, told New Jersey Baptists Tuesday at their annual session in Asbury Park:

"Washington is the wettest city and has more liquor per capita than any other city in the nation."

Dr. Clinton N. Howard, superintendent of the International Reform Federation, quoted these statistics to reporters yesterday:

"According to internal revenue records, Washington in 1942 had the highest per capita consumption of spirits of any subdivision of the country, being four times over the national average. The records for 1944 are considerably higher.

"While per capita drinking average in the country for hard liquor was 1.08 gallons in 1942, it was 4.42 gallons in Washington. Consumption of beer for the country was 14.16 gallons, and in Washington, 16.80."

French Score Allies' Plan To Destroy Subs

PARIS, Oct. 25 (AP)—A French foreign office spokesman said today Allied preparations for destroying numerous German submarines were "incomprehensible" in view of France's request for a share of the Nazi fleet. He said France's request had met with no response.

Describing France's bid as "very modest," the spokesman said France had asked specifically for 12 German destroyers, six submarines and five auxiliary vessels, totalling 30,000 tons, as partial replacement of 91 warships lost by her during the war.

Motor Workers Vote Walkout

DETROIT, Oct. 25 (AP)—Wage earners in General Motors Corp. plants throughout the country favor a strike to obtain a 30 per cent wage rate increase but there will be no work stoppage until negotiations now in progress break down completely.

Walter P. Reuther, vice-president of the CIO United Automobile Workers union made this assertion today as the National Labor Relations board announced the result of the first strike referendum taken among the "big three" motorcar manufacturers on the issue of post-war wages.

Chrysler Workers Voting

Today a similar vote was being taken among hourly-rated workers employed in 22 Chrysler Corp. plants throughout the country. The result of this vote, also on the 30 per cent wage increase issue, will be announced tomorrow, and on Nov. 7, the board will poll employes of the Ford Motor Co.

General Motors made no comment. In an earlier statement corporation executives had said the vote undoubtedly would favor a strike because the workers would be under the impression they were "voting themselves a 30 per cent wage increase."

No Strike Called

Reuther described the result of the vote as "a mandate" to the union leadership to carry on the fight for wage increase and as showing that General Motors workers support the union contention "that General Motors can increase wages by at least 30 per cent and maintain 1942 price levels and still make a substantial profit."

"The vote conducted yesterday," Reuther said, "is not authority to strike under the terms of the UAW-CIO constitution. Union strike votes are being conducted by secret ballot in each local union for that purpose. A strike in General Motors plants can be authorized only by the UAW-CIO International executive board. No such authorization has as yet been issued. None will be issued unless and until our attempts to arrive at a peaceable settlement fail completely."

The union and General Motors will resume wage conferences tomorrow. General Motors has promised to give a formal reply to the union's economic argument within 10 days or two weeks following the close of the negotiations. The corporation already has announced its rejection of the union wage demands, asserting there can be no increase without a corresponding rise in the price of 1946 automobiles.

Socialite Obolensky Revealed As Persuader On U. S. Parachute Hop

By JEAN MEEGAN
AP Newspaper Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—One of the last persons you would expect to turn up as a "cloak and dagger boy"—in the wartime Office of Strategic services is cafe socialite Serge Obolensky.

Judging by the society pages, the Russian-born nobleman never seemed any closer to life than a dance floor, but one of his war mission's was to parachute into Sardinia amid 20,000 German and 200,000 Italian troops with instructions from General Eisenhower to "contact the commanding officer of the Italians and persuade him to the side of the Allies."

Fitted Nicely For Job

A natural born handshaker, he was gainfully employed at Vincent Astor's St. Regis hotel for 11 years (part of which time he was wed to Astor's sister Alice) and his breeding and wit fitted him nicely for the job.

Until 1942, when Obolensky was commissioned a major in the United States Army, he was known as Prince Serge Obolensky, although he has been an American citizen since 1924. Now he prefers to be called "Colonel."

His toughest and most spectacular hand-shaking assignment came when he was 53 years old.

"I volunteered for the Sardinia mission at Major General William J. Donovan's headquarters in Algiers and an interpreter and two radio officers volunteered to go with me," he said.

Beautiful Moonlight

"It was a beautiful moonlight night in September. We jumped into the middle of a valley. The idea was to avoid the Germans and contact the Italians. We hit the spot just five hours after the Germans moved out, a very lucky coincidence."

He trained paratroopers and sky troops in England for work in France and then jumped into Eguzon himself to save the power station, which was the largest in all France.

"That time," he says "we landed 20 miles away from our target, and lived in the woods under the parachutes. The German columns rolled by in trucks and we ambushed them with bazookas, mortars, and machine guns."

Sends Out Emissary

He took care of the political business at hand by sending an emissary to Marshal Petain's 1st regiment requesting the commanding officer to visit him. When the Frenchman arrived Obolensky informed him: "I have orders to take and hold Eguzon for France." With some wit, the Vichy Frenchman replied: "I think our intentions are identificial."

Obolensky next called the German officer in charge at Eguzon and gave him 12 hours to get out . . . leaving the transformers intact. Obolensky attributes the success of the operation to the fact that "they didn't know how many we were . . . And paratroopers have a very definite reputation with the Germans."

Out of the Army as a lieutenant colonel, he took a job with the Hilton hotels as publicity and promotion director, his old specialty. As one of the stenographers in his office said "he could charm the birds off the trees."

Here's Recipe For Favorite Cookie Of Admiral Nimitz

AUSTIN, Oct. 25. (AP) — Get your appetite shipshape for the admiral's cookies.

Here is the receipe for "pfeffer nuesse" (pepper-nuts) the favorite confection of Admiral Chester Nimitz, supplied by one of his nearest kin in Fredericksburg, Mrs. Emil H. Riley.

Mrs. Riley says this is the exact way the admiral's grandmother used to bake them when the fleet admiral was a bare-foot boy with cheek of tan robbing the cookie jar:

2 cups of sugar
6 eggs
1 teaspoonsful each of cinnamon, cloves and baking powder.
A good pinch of black pepper.
Flour enough to make a stiff dough (about two cups).

Beat eggs together, gradually add sugar, and all spices and baking powder to one cup of flour, then add additional flour.

Cut in small rounds and bake at 350 degrees about 15 minutes.

These may be rolled out, cut and left on the board until the next morning for baking, says Mrs. Riley.

On his recent trip to Fredericksburg, Nimitz asked "where is the old cookie jar?" as soon as he stepped inside the little white stone house in which he was born.

His gratified aunts were ready.

We think it mighty right of the admiral to fancy a cookie which requires no shortening in this day of red points.

Burma became a British crown colony and was given a constitution of her own in 1937. It had been part of India.

Births Set New High In State During Year

AUSTIN, Oct. 25 (AP)—The stork was a busy bird in Texas last year. He brought to the Lone Star state 164,033 babies, the highest number in its history.

"C'est La Guerre," says the State Health department, in attributing the big bundle of young Texans to the influx of war workers and soldiers. Texas held, during the war, the greatest concentration of soldiers in her camps of any state in the nation.

At the other end of the annual vital statistics report issued today by the health department, standards a death total of 61,239 for 1944, a close tally with the 61,807 for 1943.

Heart disease continued to claim the most lives—taking a toll of 13,328 last year, a rate of 193.8 per 100,000, as compared with 13,115 in 1943, a rate of 188.1.

Cancer was the second cause of death, accounting for 5,626 in 1944 as compared with 5,557 in 1943.

In 1944 there were 5,304 deaths from accidental injuries as compared to a total of 5,555 for 1943.

Apoplexy claimed 4,785 lives last year, a few less than in 1943. Nephritis, a kidney disease took 3,809 lives, a considerable drop under the 4,120 total for 1943.

Now... TELEPHONE EQUIPMENT for Peace!

Telephone factories are getting into the swing of peacetime production.

Thousands of men and women in these factories have turned from making radar and gun directors to the complex job of making telephone equipment once again.

It's a change that pleases everyone. As more and more telephone equipment comes from the factories, it means that telephone people here can make faster and faster progress in caring for the 246,000 waiting for telephone service.

Such a big job takes time. Equipment is complicated. Making switchboards and dial equipment requires thousands of precision parts, thousands of intricate connections. And thousands more are needed to connect them as working parts of the telephone system.

But the good news is that we're on our way. We are working as hard as we can toward the day when anyone who wants a telephone can get it when he wants it.

Devil's Food To Tempt Veteran

A BIG slice of devil's food and a tall glass of cold milk—that's a dream fulfilled for the returned serviceman. Here's a big-time recipe repeated at the request of several wives and mothers.

Preparations—Have shortening at room temperature. Grease two 9x9x2-inch pans, line bottoms with waxed paper, and grease again. Start oven for moderate heat (350 degrees F.). Sift flour once before measuring.

Measure into sifter: 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, ½ cup breakfast cocoa.

Measure into bowl: ½ cup vegetable shortening.

Measure into cup: ½ cup water, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Have ready: 1½ cups brown sugar, firmly packed, 3 eggs, unbeaten, ¾ cup sour milk or buttermilk.

"Mix-Easy" Part: Mix or stir shortening just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add brown sugar. Force through sieve to remove lumps, if necessary. Add water with vanilla and the eggs. Mix until all flour is dampened; then beat 1 minute. Add sour milk, blend, and beat 2 minutes longer. (Count only actual beating time. Or count beating strokes. Allow at least 100 full strokes per minute. Scrape bowl and spoon or beater often.)

Baking: Turn batter into pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Spread almond or vanilla cream filling between square layers and your favorite chocolate frosting on top and sides of cake.

Use cut-up celery tops to flavor stews and soups.

Chicken fat may be used in cooking to replace butter.

PUNKIN' CUP CAKES . . . Hallowe'en party treat to please the kiddies.

Refreshments Sure To Appeal To Kiddies At "Scare" Party

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

EVERY child should either give or attend a party at Hallowe'en. It's one of the best children's holidays and deserving of celebration by everybody.

Have all the traditional games at any children's Hallowe'en party—and all the not-too-scary ghostly rites you can dream up.

The best place to have a good Hallowe'en party is in the cellar, where nothing can be hurt. Then you can serve the food respectably up in the dining room, or on boards over saw-horses in the cellar, whichever you choose.

In my opinion, it's better to have the eating part of the party in the dining room. High spirits may seem to indicate a continuation of hilarious goings-on at the table. This is never really a good idea, from anybody's point of view. If you change the locale of the party, you may also change the mood—not to one of depression, to be sure, but perhaps to a slightly calmer behavior. Serving the food upstairs also lets you decorate the table ahead of time.

Make the party room simple. For young children an afternoon party can be so arranged that refreshments constitute supper. Otherwise, appetites are spoiled. For the slightly older group who may have an early evening party you can confine yourself to just sweets without upsetting any kind of schedule.

Sugarless Pecan Ice Cream

1 can (1⅓ cups) sweetened condensed milk
1 cup water
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups heavy cream
2-3 cup coarsely chopped pecans
2 tablespoons vitaminized margarine

Combine milk, water and vanilla. Turn into freezing tray. When solid around edges to depth of one inch turn into deep cold bowl and beat with rotary beater until smooth. Fold in heavy cream, whipped stiff. Saute pecans lightly in margarine for five minutes, stirring constantly. Fold nuts into mixture and return to freezing tray. Stir once again when partly frozen. Makes a quart and a half.

Punkin' Cup Cakes

1¾ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons sugar
6 tablespoons vitaminized margarine
6 tablespoons light molasses
6 tablespoons corn syrup
2 eggs
2-3 cup cooked, strained, pumpkin
2 tablespoons sour milk

Sift, measure flour and resift with baking powder, soda, spices, salt and sugar. Cream vitaminized margarine with molasses. Beat eggs lightly with syrup. Add creamed mixture to egg mixture. Add pumpkin and flour. Add milk. Stir all together until batter looks creamy. Fill well-greased, fluted, round-buttomed muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderately hot oven (375°) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool. Put cakes together, top to top, with a layer of orange marmalade, jam or mincemeat in between. Put a teaspoon of thin confectioner's sugar frosting on top of each and let it run down over the "punkin." Stick small candle in top of each. This makes 18 cup cakes, or 9 whole pumpkins.

Upside-down cakes require no frosting.

Creamy Smooth

Cut Servings And You Will Reduce Easily

Want to lose weight? Before you embark upon an involved reducing diet which complicates marketing, upsets kitchen routine, and sometimes makes an enemy of the cook, consider a simpler method. Eat less of everything that your normally eat.

By this method you can lose weight safely, and sail through a period of dieting with less unpleasantness than you would on a program of calory-skimping menus.

In calling your own halt on calory intake, make it one slice of bread instead of two, a half instead of a whole pat of butter, a sliver of cake instead of a mountainous slice. Instead of drowning your breakfast cereal, merely sprinkle it with cream. Practice saying 'No" to second helpings.

Savory Stew To Serve As Meal's Main Dish

(Serves 8)

One and one-half pounds lamb neck or shoulder, 2 tablespoons fat, 4 cups water, 2 teaspoons salt, pepper, 1 garlic minced bud, 12 small onions, 12 small potatoes, 3 large quartered carrots, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 1½ cups fresh peas, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ cup water, soda crackers.

Cut meat in 2-inch cubes and brown in fat. Add water, salt, pepper and garlic; cover and cook slowly 1½ hours, or until meat is tender. Add onions, potatoes and carrots; cook 25 minutes. Add remaining vegetables and cook 10 minutes. Add Worcestershire sauce. Remove vegetables and meat and keep hot. Blend flour and ½ cup water, add to liquid of stew and cook until slightly thickened. Add vegetables and meat and serve piping hot with soda crackers.

Crop Outlook Brighter In Texas With Harvest Being Resumed

AUSTIN, Oct. 25. (AP)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture said today clear weather following several weeks of rain had aided growing crops and harvests.

Resumption of field work in practically all crop areas of Texas was reported for the week ended Oct. 22, with activities in general in full swing.

Rains Slow Some Crops

Adequate moisture helped range grasses, and the early seedings of small grains is beginning to furnish some grazing, said USDA. Stock water is plentiful except in a few local areas where rain fell too slowly to replenish tank supplies, and livestock is entering winter in good condition.

Continued cool, damp weather has slowed maturity of late planted grain sorghums on the high plains but late peanuts show some benefit from recent rains.

The pecan harvest was fairly general in southern counties and has spread to a few northern counties.

The rate of cotton harvest has accelerated with picking and pulling in full sway over most of the north and northwest portions of the state. In central and eastern counties, harvest was being completed with available labor mostly adequate and with very poor yields on many farms.

Fall and winter vegetables continued to make good progress in all commercial districts with planting for mid-winter harvest more general in the coastal bend counties.

Muleshoe Man Given Sergeant's Stripes

HQS. TENTH AIR FORCE IN CHINA—The promotion to sergeant of John R. Willett of Muleshoe, Texas has been announced by Brig. Gen. Albert F. Hegenberger, commanding general, Tenth Air force. He is assigned to the Twelfth Air Service group.

The Twelfth Air Service group, formerly a part of the Fourteenth Air force but now assigned to the Tenth to assist in the redeployment of Chinese troops since the Japanese surrender, is known throughout China as the "Service Commandos." The Twelfth Air Service group served units of the Fourteenth for nearly two years operating advanced air bases and providing supply and maintenance for combat organizations. It was the first complete air service group to enter the China theatre.

In 1944, during the Jap drive to split China and establish lines of communication to Indo-China and Burma, the Twelfth was stationed at various advanced air bases in east China which had to be evacuated and destroyed. American bases were heavily bombed at the time. Most recent assignment of the unit in the Fourteenth was in support of the famous Chinese-American Composite Wing.

Sgt. Willett, son of Rev. and Mrs. T. C. Willett, Muleshoe, is a graduate of Lamesa high school, and attended Texas Tech at Lubbock. He enlisted in the Army Air forces in July 1942 and embarked for overseas duty in November, 1943.

World's Deepest Well Is Plugged In Grimes

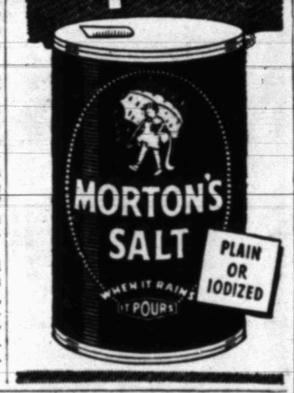

HOUSTON, Oct. 25. (AP) — The world's deepest oil well has been plugged and abandoned as failure.

The well, Phillips Petroleum No. 2 Fanny Schoepps, in the Millican area of Grimes county, Texas, was drilled to a total depth of 16,665 feet. It had some slight shows of oil and gas, but not enough to warrant commercial production. Today the Phillips company asked permisison of the oil and gas division to plug and abandon the hole.

The same fate befell another Phillips well, the No. 1 Ada C. Price 40 miles southwest of Port Stockston in southeast Pecos county. This well was drilled to a total depth of 15,279 feet and plugged and abandoned April 12, 1944, as dry. The temperature at total depth was 238 degrees fahrenheit. At the time it was abandoned it was then the deepest well ever drilled in the world.

Two wells were drilled in coastal Louisiana that held the world record for a while. One was in the Delarge Field, Terrebonne Parish, drilled to a depth of 13,560 feet. The other was in the Big Lake field, Cameron Parish, drilled to a total depth of 13,084 feet.

Man Shortage Now Is Oversupply For Her

BALTIMORE, Oct. 25 (AP)—Girls who have been sweating out the shortage of available males during the war can take a cue of better times ahead from Joan Lilley, brown-haired employe of 3rd Service command, who this week-end will have a blind date with 3,000 men.

It happens because she was selected pinup girl by the officers and men of the Aircraft Carrier Randolph, in Baltimore for Navy day observances. They will be her "date" at a banquet and formal ship's party Saturday and a pinup dance Sunday.

Chinese Forces In Manchuria

CHUNGKING, Friday, Oct. 26. (AP)—Trustworthy reports received here today said seaborne Chinese forces had arrived in Manchuria to replace the Russians, who are withdrawing from that territory in accordance with the Chinese-Russian treaty.

At the same time authoritative Chinese quarters said Russia and China had reached an understanding whereby the Russians would withdraw from inner Mongolia as soon as Chinese troops could reach there to relieve them.

Aiding Central Chinese

Although the Chinese-Russian treaty did not provide for entry of the Russians into inner Mongolia, they entered the provinces of Chahar and Suiyan at the time of the Japanese collapse.

Chinese here regarded the reported understanding as particularly significant on the grounds that it meant Russians were virtually holding inner Mongolia for Chinese Central government forces against threatened domination by the Chinese Communists.

In outer Mongolia an entirely different situation existed. Moscow dispatches saying that the Mongolian people's republic of that region had voted for complete independence from China and that the Chinese Central government was prepared to yield the nominal control she has claimed there.

Pvt. Clifford Jones Given Commendation

WITH THE AMERICAN INFANTRY DIVISION, Yokohama Area, Japan — Pfc. Clifford A. Jones, of Flomot, Texas, is serving as a cavalryman in the 21st Reconnaisance Troop of the American Infantry division, now in Japan. He has just received an official commendation for meritorious service in connection with military operations against the enemy.

The Lone Star stater was commended for his activity during the Cebu fighting in the Philippine Island campaign. As a scout for a reconnaisance patrol, the Texan was sent with one other rifleman for their comrades. On reaching to the crest of a hill as security the crest he was confronted by four armed Japanese at a distance of twenty yards. Despite the enemy's superiority, Pvt. Jones opened fire, demoralizing the enemy and fatally wounding one of them. Although the Nips returned his fire, Jones held his position until relieved by the rest of the patrol.

The official commendation entered upon his service record reads in part; "Pvt Jones' cool courage saved his patrol, from what might have been a disasterous situation. His action reflects great credit upon himself and the Army in which he serves."

Employment Service Completes Digest Of Texas Job Situation

AUSTIN, Oct. 25. (AP)—The U. S. Employment service today completed a digest of employment opportunities in Texas cities for use by counselors.

Some of the agency's observations, by cities, included:

Abilene—Labor supply exceeds demand which is steady and will expand as new materials become available. No serious unemployment expected if workers accept jobs at prevailing wage rates.

Amarillo — Job opportunities through November center on carpenters, electricains, auto mechanics, clerical workers, furnace chargers (zinc), helpers and laborers. Housing extremely tight.

Beaumont Coast Area

Beaumont-Orange - Port Arthur —Prospects good with refining, synthetic rubber and iron and steel industries needing workers. Housing situation tight in Port Arthur and Beaumont. Adequate housing available in Orange.

Big Spring — Good normal demand for labor, especially for unskilled labor, continues.

Borger—Tightest labor market area in Texas with valid demand exceeding supply by 1,400 for the next two months.

Brownsville — Supply adequate for demand of food processing industry which begins late this months.

Brownwood — reactivation of Camp Bowie as large scale separation center creates new demand for 1,050 workers to restaff and enlarge civilian personnel requirements.

Corpus Christi

Corpus Christi — Employment prospects in local industry will be good for the next six months with indications major demands will come from government establishments, non-ferrous metal, chemical, transportation and construction industries. Houses and apartments very scarce.

Corsicana — Jobs going begging. Cotton picking, construction, domestic and service jobs listed.

Denton — Few jobs for skilled craftsmen with principal demand for laborers on two construction projects.

Galveston - Texas City—Immediate opportunities in former war industries confined to male mechanics' helpers and unskilled workers in shipyards. Other prospects uncertain because of incomplete conversion and reconversion plans, complicated by strikes. There are openings in normal peacetime activities.

Longview - Marshall — Supply far exceeds demand with overall employment on a downward trend. A surplus of 2,440 workers anticipated by Dec. 1.

Lubbock — Business expansion and new construction expected to absorb a comparatively small labor surplus. If either or both of two Army air fields are deactivated the surplus will increase.

Lufkin — Best opportunities in paper manufacturing, foundry establishments. Construction will show an increase in the next four months.

McAllen — Shortage of auto mechanics, carpenters, electricians and maintenance mechanics needed on construction work. No difficulty foreseen in meeting seasonal demand for fall fruit and vegetable seasons.

Odessa And Midland

Odessa — Principal opportunities in oil production and construction. Veterans preferred by all major oil firms. Demand for civilian workers continued at Midland Army Air field but lack of housing hinders recruiting.

Palestine—Some road and building construction with employment to last from one to three months. Paltex garment industry expected to reopen when sufficient material is available.

Pampa—Most significant current demand is for construction workers but there are limited openings in carbon black, oil and gas refining and automobile repair. Housing adequate.

Paris—Employers expressing veteran preference. Principal industries are wood and food processings, leather manufacturing, cotton oil millings, railroads and bus lines. Housing conditions improving.

Plainview—Auto mechanics, plumbers and electricians needed. Housing inadequate.

San Angelo—Slight increase in supply of male skilled and semi-skilled workers but no unusual demand expected until postwar construction and business expansion gains more momentum.

Sherman-Denison — Unemployment steadily increasing because of accelerated Army discharges and shutdown of food processing plants. Estimated unemployment of 3,300 at end of four months.

Texarkana—Employment prospects very poor with unemployment swollen by cancellation of war contracts and no prospects of major construction to absorb labor surplus. Major local industries have reached employment saturation.

Tyler and Waco

Tyler—Contingent upon availability of materials, employment prospects good in construction trades for next four months.

Victoria—Labor demands in trades and service industries. Housing situation becoming acute due to increasing number of discharged servicemen returning home.

Waco—Surplus of workers since V-J day but available jobs in wholesale and retail trade, service establishments, finance, food processing, construction and agriculture are going begging while most displaced war workers shop for better paying jobs.

Union Wants Veteran To Join To Hold Job

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 25 (AP) — Outcome of apparent differences between Selective Service regulations and a union contract remained undecided tonight, with the job of a returned war veteran the hub of the matter.

The veteran came back to his truck driver's job for Safeway stores here without joining a labor union formed while he was in the military service.

The truck drivers union (AFL), relying on a closed-shop contract, will insist that the Safeway company abide by the agreement, Gordon L. Shryock, local union business agent, said.

W. E. Williams, district Safeway manager, said that Selective Service officials held the company must rehire the man whether or not he joined the union. He added that the contract closed the job to all except members of the AFL group.

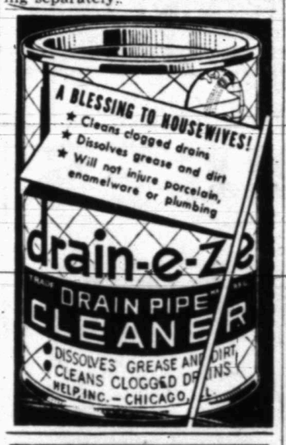

Shryock said similar problems would arise in "all the 48 states."

Hughes Tool Official To Attend Wage Meet

HOUSTON, Oct. Oct. 25. (AP) — Noah Dietrich, an official of the Hughes tool company, said here today he would accept President Truman's invitation to participate in the labor-management conference in Washington in November.

He will be one of 36 delegates representing management. Three will be 36 labor delegates, and three public members.

Resolutions and recommendations of the conference, which opens Nov. 5, can be passed only upon a five-sixths vote of both labor and management groups, voting separately.

Authority For Truman To Place Price Ceilings On Houses Urged

WASHINGTON Oct. 25. (U.P.)—National Housing Administrator John B. Blandford urged Congress today to give President Truman authority to set price ceilings on houses in order to avoid inflated prices and "a buyers' strike."

Blandford testified before a Senate Small Business subcommittee. He said the United States faces a serious housing shortage in 1946.

Would Hold Price Line

"Already in response to shortage pressures," he said, "the prices of existing houses have risen sharply and generally considerably more than the rise in construction costs during the war."

Congress, he said, should authorize the President to establish "reasonable controls over the prices of housing when and where needed to restore a sound market for housing."

This authorization, he said, should continue 'only until supply and demand are more nearly in balance."

Would Prevent Later Drop

Simple controls over prices of existing housing would slow down inflation, Blandford said. He said controls on new housing should assure "a generous margin of profit to builders."

Such measures, he said, would stimulate construction and block a disastrous slump in real estate values later on.

Blandford said the government hopes to salvage about $50,000,000 worth of temporary wartime buildings by remodeling them and selling them to farms and recreational camps

Army Winds Up Building

He predicted that the housing industry could produce about 470,000 new units next year.

Brig. Gen. David N. Hauseman, director of the Army Service Forces' readjustment division, told the committee that the Army is winding up its construction program.

In 1942, he said, the program contemplated $5,600,000,000 worth of construction. By January, 1945, only $490,000,000 worth remained to be built. By V-J day this had dropped to $130,000,000, and for 1946 the program calls for $100,000,000.

The 1946 construction, Hauseman said, will be principally maintenance work

Japs Secretly Supply Chinese Communists

SHANGHAI Oct. 25. (AP)—Japanese have been secretly supplying Communists with ammunition on a large scale, Gen Tang En-Po, Chinese commander of the Third Army group, said today. He predicted there may be some trouble when the Communists Fourth Army moves into areas already under Central government administration.

Tang said there had been no major clashes between Nationalist and Communist troops in the Shanghai-Nanking area and reported the movement of the Communist Fourth Army out of positions south of the Yangtze river had been carried out without serious difficulty

In ancient Greece the theaters were regularly built in hillside hollows, thus avoiding the need for supporting framework for the tiers of seats.

Cuban Sugar Proposal Is Rejected By U. S.

WASHINGTON Oct. 25 (AP)—This country virtually has rejected a Cuban proposal that the United States buy the next three Cuban sugar crops instead of the 1946 crop only it was disclosed today.

Earl B. Wilson, director of the sugar branch of the Agricultural department, told reporters:

"Our intention is to purchase one crop if possible. We have no intention of going beyond that."

Wilson is head of the American delegation negotiating with a Cuban mission

The Cuban delegation already has accepted the price offered by this country—3.675 cents a pound, FOB Cuba.

Wilson said the Cubans were afraid this country might begin to exclude Cuban sugar.

He commented however, that he felt Cuba would receive "equitable treatment" from the United States.

Despite various problems, Wilson expressed confidence that an agreement ultimately would be reached.

Disabled Vet Perfects Artificial Hand As Labor Of Love For Buddies

By ROBERT RICHARDS
United Press Staff Writer

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 25. — Walter Salek worked today at a job that could bring him $1,000,000, but he won't take a cent.

It's a labor of love with this quiet 32-year-old engineer who lost his right hand in a training accident in World War II.

Within two months Salek hopes to have perfected an artificial hand so practical that any military amputee can slip back into normal civilian life without feeling hopelessly hampered.

Directs Ten Engineers

Salek directs 10 engineers at the job in a small modern workshop in East Orange, N. J. The men's salaries are paid and all the bills are footed by one of the country's foremost manufacturers of business machines.

"It may be two, and it may be three months," Salek said today, "but we'll do it.

"I had my right hand blown off while in the Army engineers acting as a demolition instructor. They gave me a GI wood and leather hand to wear which was mighty heavy. I couldn't even make it operate. I figured that I could do a better job."

Four-Finger Movement

Salek's artificial hand weighs only a pound and a half. It has a four-finger movement and looks like a glove.

The engineer started working out his own ideas 18 months ago in the kitchen of his Newark home, with his wife as chief assistant.

"I wrote different companies about what I was trying to do," Salek said, "and many of them sent me rubber and metal materials without charge."

After six months in his kitchen, he moved into a small machine shop in the basement of a neighbor's house. He and the neighbor, William Bauer, continued working on the project when they weren't at their regular jobs.

Refuses To Commercialize

"The thing began to look good," Salek said, "and several large companies made me attractive offers. They want to commercialize my hand, but I said 'nothing doing.'

"I planned this thing to help the fellows who got hurt in the war and, if I can help it, it's not going to cost them anything.

"Then this company that's helping me now came along. One of their executives said, 'Walter, I'm not interested in making any money. I just want to help out disabled people, if I can.' That sounded good to me, so they set me up in this shop in East Orange and started financing the operation."

Non-Profit Manufacture

Salek said that he and the company hope to turn the hand over to some disabled veterans' organization for non-profit manufacture as soon as it is perfected.

"Then I'll go back to by old job as assistant chief engineer at the Allied Process Engineering Co. in Newark," he said.

And he wants nothing for his work—except one of the hands.

Suspect In Robbery Case Held By Police

FORT WORTH, Oct. 25. (AP) — Richard Leon (Buck) Terry, 30, one of four men charged with robbery with firearms at Houston in connection with a service station holdup yesterday, was taken into custody here today by police at a south side tourist court.

Three of four men in the robbery were captured after a running gun fight with deputy sheriffs.

Terry surrendered without resistance and later was given treatment at a hospital for bullet wounds in the right ear and cheek.

Terry was on parole from a 17-year sentence given him in criminal district court here in 1941 for the fatal shooting of Jack Main, a Fort Worth used car dealer.

F. D. Hereford, acting agent in charge of the FBI office at Houston, told The Star-Telegram by phone Terry would be charged in the southern federal district at Houston this afternoon as an accomplice in the theft of $25,000 worth of furniture and antiques from Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Axtell of Fort Worth.

The furniture, shipped by van from California to Fort Worth, disappeared after reaching here three weeks ago. The empty van was later found near Houston, and most of the furniture was recovered from a Houston warehouse.

Dividend On Research On Corn Claimed High

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—The wartime dividend from research on hybrid corn equalled the $2,000,000,000 spent developing the atomic bomb senators were told today.

The nation hit this jackpot, L. J. Stadler of the University of Missouri said, with a $5,000,000 investment.

Stadler told a Military-Commerce subcommittee that during 1942-45 the use of hybrid corn increased production by 1,800,000,000 bushels — worth more than $2,000,000,000.

Use Of Troops Urged To Break Plant Strike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (U.P.)—Rep. Paul Shafer, R., Mich., today called on Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson to "use troops if necessary" to remove $500,000 worth of Army-owned perishable foods from the strikebound General Food Corp. plant in Detroit.

"Officers of the CIO union have tied up these needed rations for our troops and have denied permission to the War department to remove them," Shafer told the House.

"I am told that officers and men of the Quartermaster corps were ordered off the property when they sought to obtain possession," he said.

Shafer said the matter had been referred to Washington by the Chicago Quartermaster's office but "until noon today nothing has been done about it."

"I am further informed that during a discussion of the situation in a union membership meeting later, the adjective 'yellow' was used in reference to the Army's action," Shafer said. "Let's see if the union was right in this description of the Army."

Shafer said the union claimed the foods were not perishable, but "this is not correct."

"A large portion of the contents consisted of crackers, chocolate bars and other items that are definitely perishable," he said.

"It is time to put some of these bulldozing, arrogant, domineering labor leaders in their place and to use troops if necessary," he said.

The treatment calls for injections of strong concentrations of glucose into the human blood stream.

Tax Collector Trying To Refund $500,000

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25. (AP)—The tax collector is trying unsuccessfully to give back $500,000.

It seems that 13,500 taxpayers in the eastern district of Missouri paid the government too much money in the last two years, and then forgot to leave their addresses for a refund.

James P. Finnegan, collector of internal revenue, said some of the persons have been traced to as many as 10 addresses without being located.

Lost Battalion Vets To March In Parade

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 25. (AP) —Veterans of the Lost Battalion to be honored here Sunday and Monday prefer to march in their parade—not ride in it.

Col. Bluchar S. Tharp, commanding officer of the famous Battalion, said it has been "a long, long time since we paraded together."

"It will be a privilege to get behind a band again and keep pace to those drumoreats," he said in Amarillo.

HUNTER DIES IN FALL

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 25 (AP) A. Eugene Christensen, 55, a Salt Lake City contractor, died today of injuries received when the horse he was riding on a deer hunting trip stumbled and fell. His death was the tenth attributed to Utah's deer hunting season, which began last Saturday.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. adv
