ANSWERLINE

Q. I read Thursday where the state of Arkansas had executed two prisoners on the night of May 11. Has Texas ever executed more than one inmate in one night?

A. In the book, The Rope, The Chair, and The Needle, it states that two executions in one night have occurred 22 times, three executions at one time have occurred three times and five executions occurred on the night of February 8, 1924.

Governor attends Wallace Unit opening

An estimated 1700 people attended the dedication ceremonies of the D.W. "80 John" Wallace Unit of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice on Wednesday afternoon. They didn't let a heavy downpour and threatening skies dampen their spirits.

Governor Ann Richards delivered the keynote address and received a tremendous ovation when she stated "this is a great day for Mitchell County and a great day for the fight against crime in the state of Texas!"

She said the Wallace Unit was part of the most ambitious prison building program in the state's history.

Plans are to have one of the largest prison systems in the world with space for 140,000 inmates although crime in Texas has dropped 18.6% in the last two years.

"When I took office, people told me that they were tired of the 'revolving door policy' in the prison system.

"I rolled up my sleeves with the support of the legislature and decided we would not let people out of prison just because there was not space for them," she said.

"We had to put meaning into the phrase 'if you do the crime - you'll do the time'," said Richards.

She said the state was facing a dilemma between building new jails or releasing violent criminals into neighborhoods.

"The choice was easy," she said. " I threw my lot in with the neighborhoods."

Citing programs formulated since she took office, she said there are new substance abuse treatment centers, job training programs and added "the real test of a prison system is what kind of product it is sending back to the streets."

"I know we can't stop the fight against crime until everyone feels safe in their heart and their homes."

Prior to the governor's speech, master of ceremonies Woody Anderson and others recognized the efforts that others had put into obtaining the unit for Mitchell County including Rep. Rob Junell, Sen. Bill Sims, former Sen. Temple Dickson and local and county officials

Colorado City mayor Jim Baum and Mitchell County Judge Ray Mayo also made brief welcoming remarks to the crowd.

The ceremonies, originally scheduled to be held outside, were moved into the unit's gym due to the heavy rains.

Senator Bill Sims, Governor Ann W. Richards and Representative Rob Junell cut the ribbon at the Wallace Unit Wednesday afternoon.

11" recorded in some parts of the county

Lake Champion full

Mitchell County and the entire area was deluged again Thursday night with thunderstorms that continued to add to the rainfall totals of the week.

The southern part of the county has received the most rain as totals are near 11" in some areas to the south.

Of the two lakes, Lake Champion has benefitted the most by the rains as the boat loading ramp was some fifty yards into the lake Thursday morning.

Lake Colorado City had not received much water from the runoff from Morgan Creek as of Friday morning.

Rainfall reports inside the city limits have ranged from 5" to 7".

Other reports include 2.5" near Cuthbert, 5.7" northeast of Westbrook, 4.5" in Loraine and 3.2" near Fairview.

Heavy rains and hail hit Scurry County Thursday evening and a tornado hit the Hobbs Cooperative School in Fisher County around 7:40 p.m.

The damage was apparently light with the exception of a couple of greenhouses that were destroyed. CISD Supt. Don Nimmo said Friday morning that the ten students who attend the school from the district went to class as usual.

The storms caused some apprehension with Governor Ann Richards' security force during the dedication of the Wallace Unit Wednesday afternoon as a funnel cloud was sighted south of the unit during the ceremonies there.

LAKE CHAMPION IS FULL: Lake Champion benefitted greatly from the downpours that have fallen throughout the county this past week. Rainfall measurements totalled almost 11" in the southern part of the county. The county dodged most of the severe weather that plagued surrounding counties during the week. The new boat ramp (shown above) was underwater Friday morning.

Inmates to arrive here Wednesday

Warden Rodney Cooper said Friday that the first load of inmates is expected to be arriving on May 18. He said three buses of 48 inmates each will be coming from Huntsville.

The last chance the general public will have to tour the D. W. "80-John" Wallace Unit - and still be able to go back home - will be Sunday, May 15. Tours will be conducted at the unit beginning at 1:00 and will continue until 5:00 p.m.

Interviews start again

Five finalists for the vacant city manager job for Colorado City will be interviewed again beginning Monday by the Colorado City city council.

Larry Graves from DeSoto and Jack Chaney from Grandfalls have interviews scheduled Monday.

Colorado City residents Perry Noblett and Tom Carlock have interviews scheduled for Tuesday night.

Delta, Colorado resident Steve Shutt will interview Thursday night.

Coach's job open

Colorado ISD is looking for a new girls' basketball coach as present coach Wayne Alexander did not return his contract for the coming year said Supt. Don Nimmo.

Alexander has been coach here for six years - coming from Robert Lee.

Richards speaks of Wallace

In addressing the more than 1700 people who attended the dedication ceremonies of the D. W. "80-John" Wallace Unit Wednesday afternoon, Governor Ann Richards spoke very warmly of the unit's namesake.

"What a rare person he must have been," said Governor Richards. "Can you imagine that time in Texas when the last great Indian Chief Quanah Parker was still making raids - a time when Colorado City was becoming the 'Mother City of West Texas' - and 80-John was one of the first black landowners in the state and one of the earliest settlers in Mitchell County."

"What a remarkable man!"

Richards said the story of Wallace, who was born of slave parents, reflects the best of West Texans - "an individual can work hard and do right by his fellow man and he will succeed."

The granddaughter of Wallace, Elaine McMichael, told the crowd that she and other relatives were proud that the unit was named for "80-John."

"We - the descendents of Daniel Webster Wallace - salute our fellow citizens of Mitchell County and we are here to pay homage to a tall, lanky, raw-boned black cowboy."

McMichael said that while her grandfather did face some prejudice, "men working on the range at that time knew their safety depended upon the men they worked with."

Kennel Clubs to host summer dog shows

Big Spring Kennel Club and Concho Kennel Club will host their summer dog shows July 9 and 10 at San Angelo Coliseum. The conformation and obedience events will be officiated by eleven AKC-licensed judges. About 1200 dogs from across the United States are expected.

Entries for the shows close June 22. Premium lists with entry blanks are available at Big Spring veterinarians' offices or from Carole Owen, BSKC secretary, (915) 263-3404.

The popular Concho Kennel Club Barbecue will be Saturday afternoon, July 9. Tickets are $5.50 before July 6 and may be purchased from Concho Kennel Club, Attention: Barbecue, PO Box 2369, San Angelo, TX 76902.

Special feature of the weekend will be an AKC all-breed match Saturday evening.

"A match is a more informal, low-key competition than a championship show. It's a good place for new exhibitors and young dogs to get ring experience," said Owen. "Puppies as young as three months may be exhibited." For match information, call Mary Sue Gill, (915) 949-5362.

Other upcoming dog shows in West Texas will be June 25 and 26 at Abilene's Taylor County Expo Center. For information, contact Valerie Johnson, Abilene Kennel Club Show chairman, 277 David Fort Road, Argyle, TX 76226 or Nehla Underwood, West Texas Kennel Club Show chairman, HC 75, Box 735, Andrews, TX 79714.

Charles Perry, representing Texas State Hearing Aid Center of Abilene, will be at Eddie's Pharmacy the 3rd Tuesday of each month from 9 a.m. to 12 noon for testing and servicing your hearing aid needs. By appointment only. Call 1-800-527-4112.

The proposed effective date of the proposed tariff is June 10, 1994, or as soon thereafter as permitted by law.

A complete copy of the proposed tariff and TU Electric's application is on file with the Commission and at each of TU Electric's business offices.

Stenholm rep to be in Big Spring

A member of Congressman Charles W. Stenholm's staff will return to Big Spring on Tuesday, May 17 to visit individually with constituents. Jayne Schoonmaker, of Stenholm's San Angelo office, will be at the U.S. Federal Building, 501 Main Street, in the 2nd floor conference room from 10 a.m. until 12 noon.

The purpose of Ms. Schoonmaker's trip is to make the congressman's office more accessible to people in the Big Spring and surrounding areas by offering a one-on-one meeting with citizens.

This is an opportunity for anyone having a problem with a governmental agency such as Social Security Administration, HUD, Department of Veterans Affairs, etc. to seek assistance. It also provides a listening ear for persons who wish to express an opinion on current governmental issues.

Minority business owners sought

A meeting to recruit minority and women-owned businesses that sell products and or services needed by the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) is set for Tuesday, May 17 at 6:30 p.m. in the People for Progress (PPI) auditorium, 301 West Arkansas Street, Sweetwater.

"TxDOT wants to maximize business opportunities for minority and women-owned businesses located throughout the state," said Susan Ashley, director of administration for TxDOT's Abilene district.

"Once businesses are identified, support services are provided free of charge by the Texas Engineering Extension (TEEX) to help them compete for contracts, subcontracts and purchase agreements," Ashley added.

TEEX also provides the following services free of charge for minority and women-owned businesses wanting to sell products and/or services needed by TxDOT: Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) Certification assistance, business management assistance, specialized technical assistance, specifics on contracting opportunities, training and networking seminars and workshops and a monthly informational newsletter.

TxDOT is the third largest state agency in Texas with an annual budget of approximately two billion dollars. More than 600,000 checks to vendors and contractors are processed annually.

"In addition to those already owning a business, those thinking about starting a small business in their community are encouraged to attend," Ashley said.

Representative David Counts and Larry Sanders from Senator Bill Sims' office will be among the guests.

Refreshments will be served before the meeting courtesy of PPI.

For additional information about the meeting call Joe Clark at the Abilene district office of TxDOT at (915) 676-6812.

Our Underground Water Resource Deserves Local Control and Conservation...

Many questions have been posed to the Rolling Plains Underground Water Conservation District and in an attempt to answer these questions and inform the general public about the RPUWCD and what it will provide for your county, we are publishing these questions, answers and information in a medium that we hope will reach all the citizens of Scurry, Borden and Mitchell Counties.

Q - Was the RPUWCD formed by a petition to the Water Commission or by another process?
A - The RPUWCD was not formed by petition. The right to have an election to form or not to form the district was obtained through Legislative Act - House Bill 2820, under Chapter 52.022 as amended which relates to Article 16, Sec. 59 of the Texas Constitution. Membership rolls of the Farm Bureau were not used and cannot be used by the by-laws of the organization. The Farm Bureau does support the effort of the RPUWCD along with the Soil and Water Conservation District and have led in the legislative process, education and promotion of the district.
Q - If passed, what is the maximum tax and can indebtedness raise the amount of monies collected above the maximum tax?
A - The maximum tax by law is $.05 (5 cents) per $100.00 valuation. (regular exemptions do apply). It would take another legislative act and a vote by the people to raise the maximum tax.
Q - If this passes and the taxpayers decided they no longer wish to continue with the water district, what is the procedure to abolish the water district?
A - Basically the same procedure as establishing one; by election. Chapter 52 and amendments give procedures for dissolution.
Q - Do the elected board members receive any compensation for serving on the board? If no plans are for compensation at this time, can compensation be given at a later date?
A - There is no compensation at this time. I do not know what the elected directors will decide in the by-laws. They are limited in the water code to $150 per day, not to exceed $500 per month. Each director has had to take an oath of office and furnish a bond at a cost of $50. The work of the board has been at the expense of each director. Funds have been given to help with finances of the election and promotion of the district. None have been spent at this time.
Q - Who is responsible for paying the cost of holding the election?
A - RPUWCD is responsible for the election expense.
Q - Will the RPUWCD have the authority or power to place meters on existing or new water wells for the purpose of charging landowners for the water they use?
A - The RPUWCD cannot charge landowners for their water. The water is theirs and the RPUWCD protects their right to it.
Q - Can a landowner force the RPUWCD to drill a water well on their land at the county's expense?
A - No. PRUWCD is not in the drilling business.
Q - Can the RPUWCD limit the amount of water a landowner can pump from his well?
A - Limitations can be adopted in the district by-laws. These limits are usually set at amounts to efficiently irrigate a piece of ground. The purpose is to prevent a city or other large entity from buying a small piece of ground and pulling the water from under all the surrounding land.
Q - If there is a limit on how much water a landowner can pump, how will that affect a farmer whose crop requires irrigation?
A - Any limits that may be set will allow farmers to pump adequate water to irrigate their crops.
Q - Can the RPUWCD charge the landowner for running tests on his water?
A - No.
Q - What are the advantages for the landowner for having the RPUWCD?
A - 1. Citizens will have control of their underground water on a local level through elected board members.
2. The district will be independent and not tied to funds from Austin.
3. The district can provide many services:
*Water well testing at no charge.
*Irrigation system testing at no charge.
*Establish base lines for water quality through monitor wells throughout the district.
*Locate sources of polution and help eliminate it.
*Provide education on conservation.
*Provide education on pollution.
*Assist in capping abandoned wells.
*Help mediate problems over water
*Assist in obtaining grant monies.
Q - What are the disadvantages to the landowners for having the RPUWCD?
A - 1. The RPUWCD is a taxing entity in order to have funds with which to operate.
2. Landowners would not be allowed to carelessly or intentionally pollute the underground water.
Q - What is the purpose of the RPUWCD?
A - The purpose of the RPUWCD is to protect, preserve and conserve underground water and protect the landowner's right to it. the district also keeps the control and monies at a local level.
Q - Are there any limits to what the RPUWCD can do?
A - Yes. The RPUWCD cannot take your water, prevent you from pumping or having a well on your land or cure all pollution problems.
Q - What are some specific provisions the RPUWCD can do for landowners?
A - 1. Protect their rights to their water.
2. Regulate spacing so your neighbor can't pump your water out from under your land.
3. Determine source of pollution and party responsible.
4. Carry a very strong voice to Austin because the district represents 30,000 people in 2 legislative districts and 3 senate districts.
5. keep pressure on the Railroad Commission to do their job when need be.
6. Give power and control back to the people.
Q - Will landowners be required to obtain a permit before drilling a water well?
A - Only if the elected board of directors decides to do so. It is usually done so that the district will have information about the well for future references and in most districts this fee is refunded when the well information is brought in.
Q - Is the function of the RPUWCD duplicating the function of the Railroad Commission?
A - The RPUWCD is not a duplication of the Railroad Commission. The Railroad Commission controls oil, gas and freight as well as underground water but for numerous counties. It is difficult for an agent to address all the isues and problems for all the landowners in so many areas in so many counties. The RPUWCD will not be controlled by the political agenda of whoever is in office in Austin at the time or influenced by whoever has the most money.
Q - Will the RPUWCD work with the oil companies in the district and in what manner?
A - Yes. Petroleum production is vital to the economy of this area. We must all work together to protect our water. The district can help the oil companies with plans to prevent pollution. Oil companies are often blamed for pollution that they didn't do and had no control over. The district can help in finding the source and cause of pollutions.
Q - Can city water be tested by the RPUWCD?
A - Yes, if a citizen requests it, however, cities are required to test their water on a regular basis. But water districts can also work with local municipalities and help them with their water problems.
Q - How many employees will the district hire?
A - Two full-time employees for management and testing and one part-time secretary.
Q - Where would the district get the equipment it will use?
A - Equipment would be purchased with budgeted funds through taxation as well as from any grants obtainable from other sources that promote conservation and preservation of ground water such as the Water Development Board and various private foundations.
Q - What is the proposed tax amount by the RPUWCD?
A - The expected tax amount would be $.01 (1 cent) per $100 valuation or less.
Q - Why are there three temporary directors and how many permanent directors will be elected?
A - There are three temporary directors because legislation called for that many. The temporary directors are limited in power and can only call for an election, see that it is carried out and promote the district. Six directors will be elected, two per county represented in the district.

As most area fishermen should probably know by now, Lake Colorado City was recently stocked with a hybrid crappie. Since then I have been inundated with questions about this fish. The hybrid crappie is simply a cross between a black and a white crappie, the result being a little better strain of fish. Contrary to some beliefs, the hybrid is not sterile; it will breed and the result is simply another hybrid mix. Scientific studies have shown that the hybrid will be a slightly hardier fish and should get as big or bigger than regular crappie and possibly live a little longer.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department released 162,000 of the hybrids into the lake and approximately 25% are expected to live to maturity or eight to ten inches long. Predators, especially the black bass, will feed on the majority of the one-inch fingerlings until they can make it to the legal size of ten inches, which should take about eighteen months.

Why stock the lake with a hybrid? According to fisheries/hatcheries scientists, it costs the department the same amount of money to raise and release either the black, white or hybrid crappie, so why not stock with a tougher fish that will probably live longer.

Let's back up a little. What exactly has happened to the crappie population at the lake? The most popular rumor is that the redfish have eaten the crappie. That's all that is— rumor. Redfish do not have an impact on the crappie. According to Bobby Farquhar, chief biologist (fisheries) for Lake Colorado City, the number one reason for the crappie depletion is overfishing. While the notion of over-harvest may be hard to swallow, it has been backed up with numerous studies by fisheries biologists. For years there have not been any length or bag limits on crappie and approximately 100,000 annual fishermen taking all the crappie they want without regard to size can severely deplete the resource. How often (especially in years past) have you seen catch-and-release on crappie? It's common on bass but very rare with crappie. A crappie won't even spawn until it reaches almost two years of age, which is about eight to ten inches in length. How can you keep a lake self-stocked if you keep taking out the young brood fish?

That is exactly why the state had to implement the ten-inch length limit and twenty-five a day bag limit on crappie statewide. This law went into effect about three years ago and, as expected, the results are starting to show. Two weekends ago while specifically checking crappie fishermen at Lake Colorado City, I visited with several anglers who had ten or more legal crappie in their possession. One of these gents even told me (and I may get into hot water for revealing this information) that he had landed over three hundred legal-sized crappie this year at Cooper's Cove Marina.

Biologist Farquhar also believes that there are three other fish in the lake that will have an impact on crappie populations, but not much can be done about it. Black bass and the flathead catfish are the two top predators in the lake and will not hesitate to eat a crappie. An empty stomach is not prejudiced and many times the black bass will eat their own young. The feeding habits of the tilapia population may also put some pressure or stress on a successful crappie spawn.

Simply put, the crappie situation is on the upswing. The Texas Parks & Wildlife Department has done its part with proven regulations and stocking efforts. I hope the angling public will do their part by observing the rules, practicing catch-and-release and having some patience.

The Game Warden free fishing tournament for kids held at Lake Colorado SRA, in conjunction with Cinco de Mayo, was a huge success and a great time was had by all.

There were many different kinds of fish caught by these youngsters, including perch, carp, largemouth bass and crappie. Some very nice prizes were donated by Matlock's, Corky's and Smyler's for this event. For the second year in a row these businesses have shown a sincere interest in getting kids hooked on fishing and other outdoor recreation. Thanks again.

UIL to undergo Texas Performance Review evaluation

State Comptroller John Sharp has announced that the University Interscholastic League (UIL) will be the next state agency to undergo a Texas Performance Review evaluation of its operations and spending.

"The Legislature has asked us to take a close look at what the UIL does, how it is funded, how it spends money and how well it serves its customers: the school children of Texas, their teachers, their coaches and their schools," Sharp said.

The UIL writes and enforces the rules for Texas school athletic competition and oversees student competitions in academics, music, drama, debate, computer skills and other subjects.

The UIL is associated with the University of Texas System. It receives services from UT and funding from membership dues paid by schools, contest entry fees and ticket sales at athletic playoff events.

"The UIL has been around since 1913 and in all that time it has seldom, if ever, been closely examined," Sharp said. "Some of the issues we'll be looking at include the appropriateness of UIL rules, whether UIL actually follows the rules and applies them equally to all school districts, its relationship with school districts, how it sets its fees, how it spends its money and how the UIL compares to similar organizations in other states," Sharp said.

"We are interested in all of this not because somebody got a bad call in a game or because somebody's son or daughter didn't get to compete. We're looking at it strictly from a fiscal responsibility standpoint," said State Senator Kenneth Armbrister of Victoria, the sponsor of legislation directing Comptroller Sharp to conduct a management review of the UIL.

"Funding has been the major issue in public education for the last several years. Since many of our public schools pay money directly to the UIL in the form of dues, contest fees and athletic competition revenues, the Legislature wants to see exactly where this money is coming from, how much it is and what, exactly, the money is being used for," Armbrister said.

UIL Executive Director Bailey Marshall said he welcomes the performance review of his agency.

"If someone can tell me how we can do something better than we're doing it, then I'd love to hear about it," Marshall said.

Members of the Texas Performance Review team will visit Texas communities to talk with students, parents and school officials about the UIL. The public may also call the Comptroller's Office at 1-800-BEAT WASTE to suggest improvements in the UIL.

KTAB WEATHERMAN BILL CHANEY is shown with Nelwyn Strain, administrative secretary at Valley Fair Lodge. He spoke at the lodge about tornados.

KTAB meteorologist presents tornado information session

Bill Chaney, broadcast meteorologist for KTAB TV station in Abilene held a tornado information and safety training session at Valley Fair Lodge on Thursday, May 5 for staff and visitors. Mr. Chaney said that every state in the United States has had a tornado, even Alaska, with the primary month for tornados being May.

He listed five levels of verocity for tornados:

Level 0, causing light damage, wind speed 40-72 mph, ground travel 3/10-1 mile, width average 17 yards; level 1, causing moderate damage, wind speeds 73-110 mph, ground travel 11.2 miles, width average 18-55 yards; level 2, causing considerable damage, wind speed 113-157 mph, ground travel 3.2-9.9 miles, width average 56 yards; level 3, causing severe damage, wind speeds 156-206 mph, ground travel 10-31 miles, width average 176 yards; level 4, causing devastating damage, wind speed 207-260 mph, ground travel 32-99 miles, width average 3/10-1 mile; and level 5, causing incredible damage, wind speeds 261-318 mph, ground travel 100-135 miles, width average 1-1.3 miles.

Level 5s have been known to travel across several states and are so powerful they have blown away concrete slabs of homes.

Mr. Chaney did a personal safety review of Valley Fair and presented information specific to the structure and location of the building on the safest areas.

General information about staying away from mobile homes, cars and windows and seeking low areas such as culverts or ditches (consider flooding) was well taken.

CHS students master TAAS tests

The halls of Colorado High School have been filled with smiling faces lately, not simply because school is almost out, but because of the scores from the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills, or TAAS tests.

Scores for the exit-level exam taken by sophomores showed a marked improvement in reading and math while writing held steady at an impressive 87 percent.

Adding to the pleasant news was the fact that a large number of students went beyond just passing and achieved recognition for mastering all objectives on all tests.

Two sophomores, Crystal Wood and Will Crockett, even went beyond that, receiving Academic Recognition status for their high scores. In order to be awarded Academic Recognition, a student must score 95 or above on all multiple-choice sections of the test while writing a "4," the highest possible score on the writing portion of the test.

Sophomore English teacher Sandra Vlasin called it "justified recognition for a job well done. It just goes to show that hard work and determination pay off," she added. "This is simply a super group of sophomores."

Larry Hartwick of the math department agreed. "I feel the students did a great job," he said. "The scores are not where we want them yet but it was a great improvement from last year's scores. We are making progress to the 90 percent master level."

Hartwick also noticed more than an increase in the passing rate. "I was really excited about the number of questions answered correctly on the test." he said. We had one student get all questions right."

The greatest improvement was in the math scores where the passing percentage improved 15 points, 62 percent passing on the first try, while reading scores improved from 72 percent passing in 1993 to 78 percent in 1994.

"I think the scores are exceptional," commented high school counselor Dewey Shepard. "At least we are continuing to improve. I think we have reason to be proud of these kids."

Besides Wood and Crockett, students mastering all objectives were Jaime Cox, Shelley Galey, Terri Cawthron, Shanna Haggerton, Vanessa Shepard, Haley Griffin, Cade Hammond, Dan Morgan, Frank Espinoza, Zane Graham, Ronny Arispe, Tina Payne and Margo Tammen.

Career opportunities available

Texas senator Bill Sims (Paint Rock) wants his constituents aware of new career opportuities with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. Speaking at the official opening ceremonies of the TDCJ's D.W. (80-John) Wallace Unit, Sims emphasized the demand for personnel to fill approximately 10,000 TDCJ jobs available statewide.

As a result of expanded facilities and new prisons like the 80-John Wallace Unit, there is now a demand for personnel with a wide variety of qualifications. While most of the positions are for correctional officers and supervisors, there are many other types of jobs. Sims added, "In fact, a prison has about 70 job titles other than correctional."

Senator Sims concluded, "The acquisition of the 80-John Wallace Unit is a significant plus to Colorado City and the region's economy. Prison construction has been appreciated by several cities in the 25th District. Though the emphasis in facility expansion is justice, the statewide demand for personnel in the corrections industry will improve our economy and reduce unemployment. I hope qualified individuals will recognize the opportunities Texas has created in this important career area."

WARNING

To SCURRY CO., BORDEN CO. and MITCHELL CO. residents:

The Rolling Plains Underground Water District Election is Probably Unlawful, Absolutely Unnecessary, Unwanted and Untimely.

1. FACT: The creation of this RPUWD is just plain giving the Texas Water Commission Power of Attorney to control all things pertaining to underground WATER.

A. This act prevails over any provision of general law that is in conflict or inconsistent with this ACT.

Reference: Texas Statues HB# 28-20

2. FACT: RPUWD directors will be under complete control of the Texas Water Commission.

A. The rights, powers, privileges, authority, functions and duties of district are SUBJECT to the state, to be EXERCISED by and through the Texas Water Commission.

Reference: HB# 28-20, Sec. 5

3. FACT: The RPUWD could be forced to take up projects that we cannot afford.

A. They could lay distribution water lines to all areas that do not have water.

B. This could involve most of western Mitchell, Scurry and all of Borden Counties.

C. They could vote BONDS up to 50% of $100 total tax values and could carry this up to 50 years payout.

D. If DISTRICT failed, Comm. Court would have to collect the TAX and pay out the BOND.

Reference: Texas Statues # 52.043

4. FACT: The Texas Water Commission could DICTATE projects that we could not afford.

Reference: HB # 28-20 Sec. 5A

5. FACT: Ownership control is better suited in the hands of owners than the Texas Water Commission.

6. FACT: This election is not reversible. There are no provisions to call for a re-vote.

Reference: HB# 28-20 sec. 5 sub. A
This act prevails over any provision of GENERAL LAW that is in conflict or inconsistent with this ACT.

7. EMINENT DOMAIN

A. Mr. Stubblefield stated that this would not be used. This statement is WORTHLESS.

B. If at any time the DIRECTORS are unable to obtain what they want, they would most certainly use EMINENT DOMAIN.

8. FACT: There are no exemptions on TAXES.

9. Questions and Answers as have been requested by a certain number of people.

1. Who is TAXED?
ANSWER: All people who pay property TAXES will be taxed.
2. Who is eligible to VOTE?
ANSWER: EVERYONE WHO HAS A CURRENT VOTER REGISTRATION CARD.
3. Then it makes no difference whether you own land or not.
ANSWER: THAT IS RIGHT. OWNERSHIP OF LAND IS NOT REQUIRED TO VOTE.

10. REMEMBER—ONCE VOTED IN, IT CANNOT BE VOTED OUT UNLESS THE TEXAS LEGISLATURE PLACES IT ON THE BALLOT.

11. REMEMBER—REMEMBER TO VOTE NO ON JUNE 7, 1994.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I would like to say thank you to Ronney Conner and Wesley Elliott and all the Christmas in April workers that helped them work on my house at 749 E. 6th Street.

Thank you all so very much.

Ruby A. Purser

Dear Editor:

Most of you are probably aware of the fact that there will not be a Project Celebration for the graduating seniors this year. Because we feel it is important that this year's seniors have an opportunity to attend an alcohol- and drug-free celebration, we are planning to host a party for them on May 27. This party will be held after graduation at the Youth Center and will be for all high school students. This will not be as elaborate a celebration as those in the past, but we will need money for food, prizes and other expenses.

If you feel as we do—that seniors every year deserve a chance to celebrate drug- and alcohol-free and would like to help support this celebration—we invite you to send your donations to the Coltex Credit Union where we have an account set up.

Please make checks payable to "Senior Celebration" and thank you for helping to provide a safe, fun-filled activity for our youth.

Sincerely,
Veloria Owens
Chairman, Senior Celebration Organizers

Dear Editor:

I firmly believe Jim Baum's CHIEF LONE WOLF column in the RECORD is writing as good as there is. I say this with the full knowledge that Joe Bell was and is an outstanding newsman. I suppose my affection for Jim's prose has to do with our shared interest in Colorado City and Mitchell County's twentieth-century past.

All of his pieces have been good but my favorite without question was the one about the rodeo and other parades during the post-war era. My dad has pictures of those parades that are now amazing to see. It seemed like everyone in town was in the parade yet seemingly hundreds lined the sidewalks. Those were very good days indeed.

I also liked this week's piece about Paris Yarbrough and Holly Howell. Those guys were there to see the dawn of a travel era and in doing so took very good care of a lot of people's cars. By the way, I suggest there is even more fertile ground for columns about the adventures of cross-country motorists as they encountered serious mud in the Iatan Flats.

I'm pleased Jim has seen fit to bring his "community closeup" concept via the written word to those of us who now live elsewhere but continue to love Mitchell County and its people, past and present. In the modern era I doubt anyone has been a more consistent, positive influence on the county than Jim. We are lucky to have him.

Very truly yours,
Clay Strange
