Ministers and Churches of Memphis Are Ready for Back to Church Drive In Nov.

The ministers and churches of Memphis are ready to begin their big drive this month to enlist the citizens in the Back-To-Church movement.

November was designated as "Back-To-Church" Month by the Memphis Ministerial Association. The ministers in this association asked all the other churches and their ministers to join this movement and the request met with full response.

Not only have the ministers enlisted the aid of the local clubs, lodges, etc., but they have sent out an invitation to everyone from the pulpit each Sunday.

Even though all the churches are within walking distance, Elmer's Taxi Company announced this week that their cabs would carry anyone to church free on Sunday, November 5, if they would call them.

Although every church is always striving to increase their membership, the ministers of the Ministerial Association felt that if each church joined forces and worked together for the month of November that all churches would show an increase in attendance.

The president of the Ministerial Association, Rollo Davidson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, said, "I do not talk with anyone but who appreciates the work of the church and feels their need for it.

"We realize that God has wonderfully blessed our nation and in recent years we have prospered in abundance. The history of the race shows that it is in good times that people forget God and backslide.

"I think the 'Back-To-Church' month promoted in a united effort will remind our people of what they already know should do. I feel sure of a warm and enthusiastic cooperation from our people that will greatly empower our churches with the presence of God."

Roy Shahan, minister of the First Baptist Church, said, "November has been designated 'Back-To-Church' month by all the churches in Memphis. September was 'Back-To-School' month.

"We see that our children go to school for mental development. Man's greatest need is spiritual.

"You will find a welcome in each of the churches in Memphis where the services are prayerfully planned for the spiritual development of every member of the family."

C. H. Browning, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, stated, "Let's make November a church going month. We urge you who are not attending church to visit us. A friendly church awaits you."

Bedford W. Smith, First Christian Church minister, said, "We are co-operating with the Memphis 'Go-To-Church' campaign beginning this Sunday. Let's all go to church. Visitors and members always welcome at every service."

The churches of the Ministerial Association are planning to hold a union Thanksgiving service on November 23.

Cotton Survey Show 10,794 Bales Ginned

A survey made this by The Democrat showed that the cotton gins of Hall County have ginned an approximate total of 10,794 bales as of Wednesday night.

The figures released by the gins showed clearly which areas were hailed out and which were not.

The weather is a great factor in estimating the amount of cotton that is out. Some observers think that if the good fall weather holds, the crop is only about one-third out, but if a killing frost is early, the crop will be cut even shorter.

The farmers of this county have battled insects, weather, and controls in an effort to produce this year's crop.

The price of the cotton has been hovering around 40 cents per pound. Some of the cotton has been going higher and some dropping below the mark.

The price of the seed is now $100 per ton.

Hail and excess rain played havoc with the crop in the early part of the season. Following the rains came the insects.

Some farmers spent a big portion of the crop's value in buying poison to fight the worms.

Then after battling the weather and worms, the farmer found that the government had claimed a child labor law on a big portion of his harvest labor.

The law prevents children under the age of 16 from working in the field while school is in session.

Although the farmer has had trials and troubles all this year, a big crop is in sight as the acreage controls have been dropped by the government and farmers are planning to take advantage of this to make up for this year's short crop.

JUNIORS PRESENT TALENT NIGHT IN HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

The Junior class of the Memphis High School is offering the students of Memphis public schools a chance to demonstrate their talent and win cash prizes also.

In a money raising campaign for their Junior-Senior banquet, the Juniors are going to present this big show on Monday night, Nov. 6, in the high school auditorium at 7:30.

There will be $21 in prizes given to the six winners in the three divisions of the judging. The West Ward division, the Junior High division, and the High School division.

The first place winner of each division will get $5 and the second place winner will receive $2.

Max Kennedy, president of the Junior Class, said that the judging of the talent would be done by out-of-town judges.

Lakeview, Memphis Meet Friday Seniors Out Of Cyclone Line-Up

It will be a seniorless line-up that Cyclone coach Chuck York will send against his neighbors from Lakeview tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Cyclone Stadium.

York has removed every senior from his line-up and the fans will get a chance to see next year's Cyclones in action.

The Eagles are not considered a push-over by the Cyclones for the Lakeview eleven always rises to great heights in this annual battle.

The Eagles have had a rather dismal season as they have failed to win a game in district 2-B, but battled Boys Ranch to a 7-7 tie last week in a rough and tumble game.

York will turn the offensive directing over to his freshman defensive sensation, Ronnie Smith. He has looked exceptionally sharp in work-outs this week.

Previous to this week Smith has played a regular defensive post, but on offensive only when some Cyclone was injured, which gave him plenty of offensive experience.

It was his sharp pass defensive work last week that allowed him to intercept and deflect several of L. M. Watson's heaves in McLean's 33 to 19 upset over the Cyclones.

Besides playing a great defensive game Smith caught one pass and ran it 70 yards for a touchdown and kicked one extra point.

Two linemen that will start their first game for the Cyclones tomorrow night will be guard Mackie Allen and tackle Gayle Monzingo.

David Corley, who will start at a halfback spot, has several quarters of experience, but is starting his first game this season.

Only five of York's starters will be puniors, the other six boys have from two to three years of eligibility remaining with the black and gold.

The junior starters are: Charles Messer, Lee Bloxom, Wayne Jenkins, Max Kennedy and Carl Lee.

The Lakeview squad is also made up of juniors, sophomores and freshmen. The Eagles will have the same squad in track next season and should prove to be one of the powers in district 2-B.

Legion Auxiliary To Sell Poppies Armistice Day

The women of the American Legion Auxiliary will sell poppies in down-town Memphis on Armistice Day, November 11.

The poppies are made by disabled American veterans and the money that is received from the sale will go to help pay the cost of rehabilitating the many vets still in hospitals over the country.

The money is also used for helping the families of service men who are in the hospitals.

Every citizen of Memphis should be wearing a poppy on Nov. 11.

Funeral Services Held Tuesday For Milton S. Brown

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Hedley Baptist Church for Milton S. Brown, 41 year old farmer who shot himself at his home Sunday night.

Brown shot himself through the right temple with a .22 caliber gun at approximately 8 p.m. He was brought to a local hospital in a Murphy-Spicer ambulance. He died at 2:05 Monday morning.

No reason was found for his action other than he was low over his crop failure, his wife said. His crop had been hailed out and then insects and excess rain had taken a heavy toll.

The Rev. Roy Shahan, pastor of the Memphis First Baptist Church, conducted the services.

Brown had lived in the Marrs section, four miles northwest of Hedley for the past five years.

Brown was born September 5, 1909, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brown.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lola Brown; one son, Billy James Brown; five step-children, Marvin Mullins, William Earl Mullins, Leonard Mullins, Tinsley Mullins and Peggy Jo Mullins; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brown, Bord, N. M.; two sisters, Mrs. Tom Burnett, Texico, N. M. and Mrs. Wilson Green, Hollis, Okla.; and two brothers, Oliver Brown, Bard, N. M., and Morris Brown, Bethany, Okla.

Murphy-Spicer Funeral Directors had charge of the service arrangements.

Harvest Party In Legion Hall Saturday Night

Ted Myers announced this week that a fall Harvest party and dance will be held in the American Legion hall Saturday night from 7 to 11 o'clock for all Junior High and High School students.

Myers said that the party would be chaperoned by several parents.

The party and dance is western style and everyone should come in their Levis and boots.

Drivers License Check To Be Held Soon in Memphis

Motorists of this area were notified this week that a drivers license check will be held in Memphis within the very near future. Exact date of the check was not announced, according to information released by Patrolmen N. D. Calloway and Herman Moore, members of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Any person caught driving without proper license on his person will have a case filed against him in the proper court," the patrolmen warned.

They announced that a drivers license examiner will be stationed in Memphis every Wednesday in the future. He will give examinations to applicants for drivers licenses.

The drivers license test consists of eye sight check, road rules, road signs, and actual driving tests, the patrolmen stated.

"A handbook covering all points necessary to receive drivers license can be obtained at the county sheriff's office," the patrolmen said. "Or may be picked up at the office of the justice of the peace."

Memphis Men Go To Cattle Drawing In Turkey Tuesday

Two Memphis men were in Turkey Tuesday night to attend the drawing for five short horn heifers that were bought by the Turkey Lions Club and Livestock show.

The two Memphis citizens, Judge M. O. Goodpasture and county agent W. B. Hooser, both made short addresses to the large crowd that was there for the drawing.

Three veteran agriculture class teachers, Vinyard, Helm and Anderson, drew for the vets classes and G. R. Colvin drew for the Turkey Public School's agriculture department.

These men signed an agreement that stated that they would return the first heifer calves born from these animals. By returning the first heifers the program of giving free stock will be self sustaining.

The owners must also feed and care for the animals and show them at the next Turkey livestock show

Election Interest Mounts Here

BEN GUILL
. . . Republican Candidate

WALTER ROGERS
. . . Democrat Candidate

Interest has been mounting in the congressional race of the 18th district between Walter Rogers and Ben Guill. Both men live in Pampa. Rogers is a lawyer and Guill was an insurance man before being elected to Congress in a special election last spring.

Political observers from all parts of the Southwest will be watching the outcome of the congressional race here in the 18th district.

Observers report that this is the first time in some twenty years that a Republican candidate has shown any strength in a race for an office.

Two years ago a Republican candidate ran up a total of only six thousand votes.

Both candidates have stepped up the tempo of their campaigning as the race draws to a close. The voters go to the polls to cast their ballots Tuesday, November 7.

The Democrats are basing hopes on a Pampa lawyer, Walter Rogers, while the opposition forces are led by another Pampa man, Ben Guill, who was elected at a special election in May to fill out the unexpired term of Gene Worley.

ELECTION PARTY

An election party will be held by The Democrat, 617 Main street, Tuesday night. Returns will be given as they are received, the publishers announce.

Leaders of both factions are united in asking a large turnout of voters Tuesday, believing that it is the interest of good government for citizens to take enough interest in affairs to cast their vote. Too, whichever candidate for Congress is winner, a full vote would leave no doubt as to the wishes of the majority.

One spokesman says, "How are our representatives in Washington and governmental leaders in general to know what the people want, if they don't show enough interest to take a little time off from their everyday affairs to cast a vote? When a voter won't take any interest in an election, how can he have the nerve to critize any action of government? Recently, in East Germany, now controlled by the Russians, an election was held only one ticket was given the citizens to vote, and that ticket was the Communist ticket. There was no choice but to vote the ticket straight. Here in America, citizens are free to vote as they choose, but do not think enough of this freedom to take a part as a patrotic people."

"There are other candidates, from the governor down to county and precinct, whose names are on the ticket. These should be given a vote of confidence, or else defeated by a full turnout of voters," the spokesman stated.

4-H Clubs Observe National 4-H Club Week Nov. 4-12

The 465 members of the six 4-H clubs in Hall County will join the nearly 2,000,000 members over the nation in observing National 4-H Achievement Week, Nov. 4-12.

The Hall County 4-H Club program under the direction of county agent W. B. Hooser won the first place award in the state with its county 4-H program.

Three boys from Hall County won first place awards in individual 4-H club work. They are Bruce Gibson, Lloyd West and Jimmy Bownds.

Working towards their 1950 theme, "Better Living for a Better World," 4-H youth have been a busy group during the past year. They have produced and conserved food, worked to make their homes more comfortable and attractive, helped to supply the extra labor needed to produce crops and livestock and furnished "know how" for making their farms more efficient and productive. During National 4-H Achievement Week they will report to the nation on just what they have done. The local volunteer 4-H leaders and the outstanding members will be recognized for the contributions they have made to the welfare of their state and nation.

The officers of the 4-H clubs in Texas, their leaders and extension agents have made plans for achievement banquets, tours, achievement days and other special events for the Week. Exhibits will be placed in show windows and 4-H members will tell several clubs farm organizations, school assemblies and other groups about their work. The winners of state awards will be honored in many counties by their fellow members and leaders.

A glance at the accomplishments of 4-H members throughout the nation reveals that 16,000,000 quarts of food were preserved during the year; 100,000 acres were planted to gardens; they produced 9,000,000 birds in their poultry demonstrations; they own one million head of livestock and the list could be extended to cover just about every job in the home and on the farm. They participated in many worthwhile activities such as farm safety, fire prevention, health work, soil conservation, wildlife conservation, tractor maintenance and a large group of others.

Their work is not limited however to producing and conserving the food and feed they produce for they devote much time to personal improvement programs. They participate in leadership training activities, citizenship work and group discussions that help them to better understand some of the important social and economic factors that are now at work in the world. The study and practice democratic procedures and are doing their part to develop the good-neighbor spirit at home and abroad.

Texas 4-H members are extending an invitation to the public to join with them in their observance of National 4-H Achievement Week.

COMMITTEE FORMED TO STUDY TEXAS BOOKKEEPING POLICIES

A committee has been formed to study the financial bookkeeping policies and procedures of the State of Texas, it was announced this week by John S. Redditt, of Lufkin, state chairman of the Texas Economy Commission.

"The committee is the result of an offer by the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants to cooperate with the State of Texas and the Texas Economy Commission," Redditt said.

"The lack of a central accounting system for the whole operation of the state's affairs will not make this new committee's job easy," Redditt pointed out, "and it is not only possible but highly likely that as a result of our findings the Texas Economy Commission will recommend installation of such a system to insure effective and economical control over expenditure of tax money."

The new committee's timetable was not yet in shape for publication, Redditt said, but it expects it has a job ahead of it lasting "two, three, perhaps four years."

The Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants is contributing "something far more valuable than money" to the economy commission and the state, Redditt observed. "Their offer of assistance is free of charge, but the value of advice and guidance from highly skilled men will be measured in ultimate savings to the Texas taxpayers."

J. R. Jordan, of the accounting firm of Price, Waterhouse, in Houston, heads the group representing the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants on the new committee.

The executive branch of the state government is represented by State Auditor C. H. Cavness. The legislature will be represented by members of the Legislative Council and Legislative Budget Board. These will be appointed by Lieutenant-Governor Wardlow Lane, who heads both legislative agencies.

The Texas Economy Commission is represented for the time being by Redditt, who will appoint a full-time representative of the TEC soon.

Legumes Are Good Soil Builders

Legumes are fine soil building crops if they are properly inoculated and fertilized. Most fields should be planted to a legume crop at least once every three years, to improve the soil fertility and to make crop production more profitable.

For legumes to be effective in building up soil fertility, it is necessary that the seed be inoculated with the right kind of inoculant, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. The label on the inoculant container indicates the kinds of legume seeds on which the inoculant may be used. The inoculation provides bacteria which live in the nodules on the leguminous plant roots and makes possible their utilization of nitrogen from the air.

Miller says that inoculated legumes may well be called nitrogen factories. Other crops such as cotton, corn and grain sorghums cannot utilize nitrogen from the air. They have to get it from the soil and, therefore, are soil depleting crops. To make sure that the plants will have plenty of nodules, many farmers now use a double dose of the inoculant.

The other important step in growing legumes, Miller emphasizes, is fertilizing properly. Good legume fertilizers for the depleted sandy and sandy loam soils in the eastern half of Texas are 3-12-12, 4-12-8, 5-10-5 and 4-12-4 applied at the rate of 300 to 400 pounds per acre. He says that 0-14-7 and 0-12-12 are suitable for use on the newer or better soils.

On the blackland soils in the Gulf Coast Prairie, 200 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate is suitable, but 0-14-7 and 4-12-8 are better for use on the sandy and sandy loam soils of this region.

In the blackland region of north, central, and south Texas and the Grand Prairie region, 200 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate per acre is recommended for the blackland and 200 pounds of 4-12-4 or 0-14-7 for the sandy loam soils in the area.

The application of 200 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate per acre on the better soils of the West Cross Timbers and Rolling Plains areas and the same amount of 0-14-7 on old sandy crop land in those areas is recommended.

Either 100 pounds of 11-48-0 or 200 to 300 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate per acre are suitable for fertilizing legumes growing under irrigation on the High Plains.

Miller recommends using 200 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate on the heavy soils of the Rio Grande Plain and 200 pounds of 4-12-4 on the sandy soils.

He says your local county agricultural agent will be glad to give you the latest information on growing legume crops and suggests that you visit him soon.

Memphis Little Theatre Meets in Regular Session

Guests and members were server sandwiches and coffee at Tarver's Drug following the meeting.

Guests present were Mrs. R. H. Stevenson and Miss Ira Smith and members present were Mmes Ray Childress, Herschel Combs, John Deaver, Joe DeBerry, Claude Ferrel, T. M. Harrison, Thurmond Hunt, D. L. B&PW Club Holds District Conference in Wichita Falls; Memphis Gets 1951 Meet

Memphis was selected for the next District 10, Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Incorporated conference in a closing session of that group at a luncheon in the Sky Room of the Kemp Hotel in Wichita Falls Sunday noon.

The invitation was extended by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and was presented by Roselyn Williams, president of the local B&PW Club.

Other members in addition to Miss Williams attending the conference from the Memphis club were Misses Una Loard, Mary Foreman, Inez Mason, Ethel Hillhouse, and Vera Tops Gilreath.

Elections conducted during the Sunday business session named Modelle Hampton of Vernon as representative of District 10 on the state nominating committee with Dove Carlise of Crowell as alternate.

Helen Givens of Quanah was elected new district director and the report of the resolutions committee was given by Louise Bowers of Childress. This committee included Helen Givens, Louise Bowers, chairman; and Charlotte Chatterton, Wichita Falls.

Presidents reports were given during the luncheon by Ermyntrude McNatt, Bowie; Deola Ritchart of Childress, Cora Carter of Crowell, Regina Chambers of Graham, Roselyn Williams of Memphis, Louise Addington of Nocona, Maxie Smithwick of Olney, Ellis Sills of Quanah, Mary Bell Riedell of Vernon and Beatrice Williams of Wichita Falls.

Sunday Morning's events opened with a devotional program presented by Rev. Earle W. Crawford. Rev. Crawford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, delivered a message based on "growing up" pointing out marks of maturity.

Alyeen Ater of Childress, first vice president of the Texas Federation, conducted a workshop with discussion based around an imaginary club of about 60 members in a town of around 8,000.

In the workshop it was pointed out that the reason clubs lose members is that the programs do not offer enough. Programs should develop leadership, the leader pointed out.

Margaret Brand, legislation chairman, urged that the clubs attempt to "co-ordinate their programs for promotion of one plan a year and promote the business and professional women in your town."

The workshop was followed by the luncheon at the Sky Room of the Kemp Hotel.

A majority of the large lumber and paper companies in the United States have placed their timber resources under the management which will yield a continuous growth of trees.

Dick Fowler Gets Pharmacy License

Most college students go to college for four years, graduate and go to work; not Dick Fowler—he went to college for four years just preparing for a three-day examination.

Dick, the youngest of the Fowlers connected with Foote & Fowler Drug Store, was graduated from Texas University's School of Pharmacy in July and had to wait until September to see if he was going to get his license.

He took the three-day examination in Houston Sept. 11-12-13. The examination is made up of written, oral and compound questions.

In the written and oral questioning, the examiners can ask the student any question pertaining to pharmacy, whether the material was covered in school or not.

In the compound testing the students are given prescriptions and they have to fill them while the examiners watch. It would be too bad if a student couldn't work with someone looking over his shoulder.

Unceasing War on a World of Killers

★ Leeuwenhoek, in 1683, was the first to disturb the privacy of the teeming bustle of the unseen world. The "wretched wee beasties" cavorting innocently under his lens were later indicted and convicted by Koch and Pasteur. Unbeknown to Leeuwenhoek, he had discovered a vicious and unseen world of killers, now known as bacteria, or germs.

The span of time between Leeuwenhoek and Pasteur was almost 200 years. Only an average lifetime has passed since Pasteur's experiments, during which practically all we know about disease and its treatment has been discovered. Our knowledge is expanding at an ever-increasing rate. The pharmacist works with the physician in bringing newer and better medication into the sickroom.

We did nothing in the mountains, but come back home and cleaned machine guns all day.

I received rough news this evening. I'm fighting Anderson again tonight. If you could have seen the other one you would understand why I say rough news. It was matched due to public demand because the last one was so rugged. It will also be the first main event I've ever fought. Keep your fingers crossed, I won't have time to cross mine.

I lay in the dressing room as ...ands were being wrapped and felt ...alone although there were ... of people moving in and out. The fights started and occas...onally the crowd would almost ...ise the roof with noise. I knew ...hey were yelling because some ... was getting hurt. And a few minutes afterward a bloody corpse would be carried in and finally revived. I could see myself in that condition as I lay and fought that fight over and over again.

The fights began to fly by and it seemed only seconds since they started them when someone said, "Okey, Orand, you're on." This was something I hadn't looked forward to. I walked to the ring in the most beautiful trunks and robe I ever wore, but I didn't feel like I fit into them. I could see him coming to the ring from the other side with nothing but his black face showing. I thought about one fight before and didn't feel like I could take the same punishment again.

As I climbed through the ropes I received by far the greatest applause I ever got. The announcer silenced the crowd and said, "And now for the main event of the evening, we have what should prove to be a very exciting contest. These boys fought to a stand still a couple of weeks ago, and due to public demand have been brought back for a rematch tonight." He introduced the Negro first and then said, "And in the blue corner, wearing red trunks, his very worthy opponent . . . " These last two words made me wonder. The first round was a fast one and I'd say about even. I threw my left to the head only for the entire round. He hurt me once with a right to the head and again to the body. I went to the corner heaving but wasn't hurt very bad.

The second round was very much the same until finally something told me it was time for a left to the body. I guess it was time, but I was plenty surprised to see him fold. The bell saved him but he was still out when the third round began. I still don't know how I ever beat him—must have had a little help from above.

Folks, I can't write all night here in the dressing room, I've got a good meal coming at the officer's mess.

With all my love, and luck,
Windell.

Operators Receive Candy; Commander Gets Good Turnout

Operators in the telephone exchange in Memphis received a 4-pound box of Pangburn's chocolate candy Friday morning for giving several minutes of "extra service."

It all came about when Commander T. D. Weatherby of the Simmons-Noel Post, American Legion, received a telephone call from Clarendon notifying him that the national commander, Erle Cocke of Dawson, Ga., would arrive in Memphis 15 minutes earlier than scheduled.

Mrs. Weatherby turned to the operators for help in notifying Legionnaires and other interested persons. The result: a moderate size crowd was on hand to greet the commander.

And the telephone girls were crunching chocolates after hurriedly placing the calls for Mrs. Weatherby, who ordered the candy in behalf of the Legionnaires as soon as Commander Weatherby arrived home.

Frank Hobson Gable, one of the last Hall county service men to be brought back home for reburial. Services were held Sunday in the First Baptist Church.

Pink Bollworms Spreading in Texas

Pink bollworms have been found during the past two weeks in several additional Texas counties. According to L. F. Curl, division leader of the USDA's Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, the spread of this insect during the current crop season is definitely the most serious threat to the future of cotton production experienced since the south-wide spread of the boll weevil.

Curl warns that the pink bollworm is capable of causing severe damage to cotton. The tremendous build-up and localized damage to the 1950 cotton crop in Nueces county is cited as an example. He adds that failure to observe the final date for stalk destruction and the plowing under of shredded or chopped-up residue in 1949 is directly responsible for the infestation in central and north-central Texas at this time.

Prompt destruction of stalks following the harvesting of the cotton crop is essential throughout the pink bollworm infested areas where the crop is picked before killing frosts, says Curl. Each farmer should get his crop picked quickly and then immediately destroy the stalks and plow under the residue. If this is done well ahead of frost, it ought to prevent a full generation of pink bollworms from feeding to maturity and going into hibernation, adds. Curl.

He urges ginners, oil mill operators, agricultural leaders and agency representatives to cooperate with cotton farmers by assisting and backing early stalk destruction programs in the counties. This must be done early enough to prevent the hibernating generation of pink bollworms from being produced.

To the cotton producers, Curl sals, this is your problem but everyone is interested and is anxious to help maintain cotton production in Texas and the South at a profit. The price of cotton, he adds, may not always justify heavy expenditures for insecticides and this is all the more reason every effort should be made to prevent the pink bollworm from getting established in central and north-central Texas.

Tea in Hereford Reveals Engagement Of Miss Burney to Dr. Edwin Goodall

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Coneway of Hereford have announced the engagement of their niece, Barbara Burney, to Dr. Edwin Goodall of Gatesville, son of Mrs. Eula Goodall of Valley Mills.

The announcement was made at a tea given in the Coneway home in Hereford, Tuesday afternoon when approximately 50 guests were resgistered during the calling hours.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of autumn rose and gold were used throughout the house in decorations and members of the house party wore gold feathered mums in corsages.

News of the approching nuptials was revealed at the tea table where a double wedding ring done in flowers centered the arrangement of gold and autumn rose chrysanthemums, central decorations for the table. Autumn rose tapers illuminated the setting marked by silver appointments. Tiny scrolls tied with gold ribbon told guests "It's a Match—Barbara and Edwin, November 19."

Mrs. Coneway and her niece received the guests with the bridegroom-elect mother, Mrs. Eula Goodall, Mrs. Paul Coneway who will serve as honor matron in the wedding, Mrs. E. L. Ross of Crane sister of the bridegroom-elect, and Mrs. O. F. Lang of Friona, Miss Burney's grandmother.

Mrs. John C. A. Lynn of Friona the bride-elect's aunt, presided at the guest book and Miss Genevieve Eberle greeted guests at the door. Mrs. W. J. Stanford and Mrs. Glenn Synder poured and Mrs. W. E. Dunlap and Mrs. Ralph White of Clovis assisted in the dining room.

The wedding will take place in the First Methodist Church with pastor, Rev. Don Davidson, as the officiant.

Miss Burney is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended TSCW, Denton, and the University of Texas. She is sweetheart of the Hereford Lions Club and the romance began at the Lion's district convention held in Childress last year which both attended.

Dr. Goodall graduated from Trinity University and the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston. He served one year in the Navy and is practicing medicine in Gatesville where the couple will make their home. Prior to going to Gatesville, Dr. Goodall was associated with Dr. O. R. Pearls of Wisdom

November is a Gypsy crone,
Tired and drab, and old;
Her hands are folded in her lap,
Her lips are cold.
(Mary Johns Dickinson)

And speaking of Gypsies reminds me of fortune telling which includes the charting of horoscopes. Those people born under the sign of Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) are inclined to be moody and temperamental but, at the same time, possess a positive commanding nature which makes for unusual executive ability. January and July are the fortunate months and Tuesday the lucky day for those borned under this sign. The birth stone for November is a topaz and the flower is the chrysanthemum. And, according to the stars, Ciro's "Danger" perfume is the scent most favorable for young ladies of Scorpio in pursuit of young men borned under any sign.

Fire Destroys Bell's House Sat.

Faulty wiring was given as the cause of a fire that destroyed the household furnishings and most of the clothes of the H. O. Priner family of 217 N. 6th street, Saturday night.

The house belonged to Donald Bell, a painter, who lived in one room at the back of the house.

The Priners lost about 90 percent of their household goods in the fire and what was not lost in the fire was damaged by smoke and water.

The children's school books were one of the first things to be brought from the house.

Mr. Priner said that this was the second time that he had lost his household goods in a fire and that he had insurance this time. He was burned out in 1945.

Whirlwinds Meet Estelline Tonight At Cyclone Field

Coach George Childress and his Memphis Whirlwinds are taking a rest from the junior district race this Thursday, but will take on a big powerful Estelline eleven tonight at 7:30 at Cyclone stadium.

Childress said that he expected his charges to be outweighed, but they had demonstrated the ability to handle weight in the McLean game which the Winds won 20-13 last week.

Childress indicated that there might be a shake-up in his line-up, but that he would not know just what it would be until game time.

He has worked his squad hard in an effort to prepare them for a game with what will probably be the largest team that they will meet this year.

In district play the Whirlwinds have beat Shamrock, Wellington and McLean. They dropped a one point decision to the Lefors squad for their only loss of the season.

In non-district play the little Cyclones have beat Childress and Paducah.

Childress is preparing to use some of his reserve squad that showed up well in last week's game with McLean. Little Don Davis who set up the first Wind score last week will probably see action in the Whirlwind backfield.

Childress hopes to use as many of his reserves as the score will permit.

two weeks ago. By the way, Dan intimates he has a rigid course in college, but hopes to make the grade.

Not long ago, Burl Hayes went fishing at Brookhollow and an owl tried to get his bait when it hit the water. The owl came out second best.

Now comes M. F. Crowder and J.W. McCulloch with another fish story which competes or outdoes that of Hays. These two men were fishing at Lake Childress last week, and a loon saw the choicy minnows as they were cast, made a quick dive for one, caught it and got himself hung on the hook. He, the loony loon, after putting up a hard fight managed to break the line and got away, but with the hook and 10- feet of line still attached. He, the looney loon, from a distance looked loony at the two fisherman as if to say, "Whoever heard of a fisherman fishing for a looney loon?"

Forty-cent cotton isn't stirring up very much interest. Not near as much as that of some 30 years ago. Guess the reason is that all know Mexico, the country joining Texas, is selling theirs for 60 to 75 cents, due to the export ban placed on cotton by the American gevornment. One farmer told me yesterday that he sold some cotton and seed the day before and after paying the ginning costs came out with about $200 a bale clear. While the county has a short crop this year, the high price of cotton and seed make up for a lot of the shortness.

Wheat and feed need rain, cotton needs dry weather, and all need a few weeks more without frost or freeze. A lot of young crops are in the making, and every day frost holds off means that much more production.

Just a reminder: Every qualified voter should take time to go to the polls Tuesday and express his perference by ballot, especially in the congressional race which is the only office being hotly sought by a Democrat and a Republican.

Personally, I remember very distinctly what a bad condition the whole of America was in some 20 years ago under Republican leadership. The price of cotton wasn't 40 cents and wheat wasn't $2 or better. Banks were closing everywhere. GI's were storming Washington seeking relief and the milita was put over the boys. Millions of people who wanted work couldn't find it while today every person wanting a job can get it and at living wages. No, I can't go along with the idea that govtrnmental affairs can be changed up by a protest vote. Certainly, we have drifted too far to the left and need to get back to safe and sane government. This can be done within the party, if candidates who believe these changes should be made will offer for office. I believe Walter Rogers, the Democratic candidate is such a man, but I will not fall out with any one who thinks different. It is still free America, and will continue to be if all citizens will express their wishes through the ballot. There is no other way to bring about a safe and sane governmental policy. That's all I expect to say about the election.

Flying Chimneys Seen At Lakeview

One can always count on Texas to come up with the best in everything. While the rest of the nation is worrying about flying saucers, attempts on the President's life and the sort, Hall County comes up with flying lamp chimneys.

That's right, three flying lamp type, that fly perfect formation.

These three objects were seen by the residents of Lakeview and Lesley last Saturday afternoon between five and six o'clock.

A woman from Lakeview said that the objects were visible in the sky for an hour. They came from the Northwest and disappeared to the Southwest.

Everyone in Lakeview saw the objects during their flight across the sky. Everyone was asking their neighbor if they saw them, just to make sure that no one was just seeing things.

The lady with whom the Democrat reporter talked said that the objects were very bright, but gave off no rays of anykind.

They looked to be about 18 inches in length and were flying in a vertical position about three feet apart. They never changed positions.

In World War II the Armed Forces used a greater tonnage of forest products than of steel.

qualified to administer farm programs in 1951.

Any farmer, with regular voting qualifications, that has an interest in any crop in Hall County is eligible to vote in the PMA election.

The committee men elected are the policy forming group of the county's PMA program. The 18 men elected from the six communities will plan and direct next year's program.

The count ychairman stated, "The coming year can be expected to call for decisions and actions which will demand the most able leadership available. This places the responsibility of electing able committeemen on the shoulders of the farmers in each of the six communities of Hall county.

The men elected will have charge of the $135,000.00 that Hall county received in PMA funds. Hall county received the second largest amount of money alloted in this district.

The state of Texas received $21,970,000 in PMA funds, more than any other state.

Five Are Charged After Liquor Raids; Soldier Arrested

Charges were filed early this week against two Memphis men and three men at Turkey for possession of whiskey for the purpose of sale. These charges followed raids by city officers and State Liquor Control Board investigators in Memphis and county officers at Turkey last week.

One man from Turkey pleaded guilty to the charge Thursday morning in county court, and was fined $250.00 and costs of suit. Trial of the other men on the liquor charge has been set for Nov. 8.

Chief of Police Lake L. Black also said that a young soldier was arrested Tuesday, and placed in the city jail. He apprehended the soldier upon information received from the New Mexico state police and the Texas Department of Public Safety. A telephone call to the provost marshal at Kirtland Air Force Base, Albuquerque, New Mex., verified the fact that the soldier was AWOL. The marshal requested that he be held until further instructions from Army officials.

Chief Black stated tended to work whol carrying out the wish zens of Memphis who ed him to "bear down ing bootlegging in the

Bringing You News About Memphis High School

Meeting of English Teachers Held

Memphis English teachers were hostesses to a group of Hall County English teachers, October 25.

The group met in Mrs. Guthrie's room at the high school, where themes were studied on the opaque lantern.

Mrs. Guthrie remarked, "The meeting was very successful, and we are looking forward to having more of these meetings."

These themes were written by the classes from the 8th through the 12 grade, and all levels from the highest to the failing grades were studied and discussed by all the teachers.

The purpose of these meetings is to understand the problems of our teachers in our different schools.

Mrs. Guthrie was chosen head of the group, and she is planning the next meeting on spelling. The students are co-operating with Mrs. Guthrie in this, by talking with students from different schools about what method their school uses in spelling.

MHS Junior Class Plans Annual Amateur Program

The Junior Class of Memphis High School will sponsor the annual Amateur Program, November 6 at 7:30 o'clock.

There will be four divisions of entry; West Ward, Junior High, High School and Adult. First and second place winners will be chosen from each division. Prizes for the winners are $5.00 first place, and $2.00 for second place.

There is no entry fee and anyone who wishes to enter should contact Freddy Vinson. Admission will be 25c for students and 50c for adults. Max Kennedy will act as master of ceremonies for the entire program. The judges, who have not been chosen, will not be connected with the school system in any way.

The public is invited to attend.

CAST CHOSEN

The cast for the forthcoming play, "The Bashful Bachelor," has been practicing diligently every afternoon after school. The members of the cast were chosen from the members of the Cue and Curtain Club of Memphis High School.

Seniors' Pictures Taken This Week

The Memphis High School Seniors journeyed to Wise Studio one day last week to have their pictures taken for the yearbook. With the boys in their suits and the girls in their best dresses, they really looked nice. Seniors who had their pictures taken were Patsy Adcock, Eudine Gable, Onieta Ables, Beryle Davis, Shirley Foster, Betty Goodall, Pat Goodnight, Barbara Castner, Laura Hull, Margaret Harris, Frances Newbrough, Shirley Hale, Patsy Hays, Ann Spoon, Minnie Jackson, Troy Phillips, Harold Foxhall, Bennie West, Donald Payne, Carroll Foxhall, Troyace Rhudy, Don Rasco, Lee Bloxom, Jack Spry, Scotty Grundy, Cletus Lewis, Billy Cowan, Johnny Freelen, Alvin Bishop, Roddy Stargel, Eddie Welsh, Kenneth Wesson, Patsy Combs, Tommy Messer, Joan Edwards, Allen Pierce, and Patricia Alexander.

Jacky Gilbert '51-'52 Drum Major

Jacky Gilbert, a small brown-eyed, brown-haired boy really made a howl when he entered the world on October 24, 1933. Jacky, now a 5' 10½", 140 pound, 17 year-old junior, lives at South Sixth Street with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Martin.

He has been assistant drum major since his sophomore year. During his leisure time, Jacky fills the hours by twirling. He is really getting prepared for his position of drum major of the Memphis High Band next year.

Jacky, who was an honor student in the eighth grade, and is now Junior Speech Club president, favors "All My Love" in popular music, especially when played over the Hit Parade. Any time you find Mexican food, you may be sure that Jacky will be eating it, and perhaps he will be talking about a tennis game that he played with Mrs. Irons. When asked who his favorite movie stars were, Jacky very quickly replied, "Why, Barbara Stanwyck and John Derek, of course."

Receiving his biggest thrill when Mr. Keyser asked him to be Drum Major of '51-'52, Jacky plans to continue his musical career by majoring in music when he attends Baylor University. He plans to be a high school band director and we can already picture him making a grand success throughout his entire life.

Senior Choral Club Ordered Sweaters

The Choral Club ordered sweaters Tuesday, October 23, from the Baker Company of Lubbock. The representative, Mr. Berryhill showed the group several samples of the types of materials of sweaters available. Three choices of weaves were; wool jersey, tight weave, and loose weave. From these groups Nancy Stanford, John Hart, Betty Goodall and Anita Murphy chose white slip-over sweaters with gold emblems. Choosing black cardigan sweaters were; Minnie Lee Jackson, Ann Spoon, Shirley Hale, Frances Newbrough and Betty Jean Stewart.

All Seniors in the group received letter "M's".

Mr. Berryhill said the sweaters would be delivered around December 10.

FOOTBALL FILMS SEEN

The student body of MHS saw shows one day last week about football. The first show was a review of the Southwest Conference of 1949. They saw the show that was taken of the pep rally which was held down town Thursday afternoon for the Memphis vs Wellington game. Students enjoyed seeing themselves on the screen. Next was the game itself and the band marching. Mr. McCreary, who makes these pictures, is doing a very wonderful job. The coaches use these films for enjoyment and study.

Cyclone Band One Of Best In Midwest Homecoming

Memphis High School Cyclone Band, under the direction of Perry Keyser, took part in the Midwestern University Homecoming activities on October 28.

At 5:30 A. M., the band boarded two chartered buses to begin their day of festivities. Arriving at Wichita Falls at 8:30, the band assembled at the Post Office at 11th and Lamar. From there they moved behind the Jacksboro, Texas, band in line with the other bands and floats. After standing in line two hours, the Cyclone Band began its part in the gigantic parade.

The parade was the longest in the history of Wichita Falls with approximately 60 bands from Oklahoma and Texas participating. Also, there were approximately 60 beautiful floats.

After the parade, the bands were escorted by personal escorts to the Midwestern University for a barbecue. At the University, the band members were shown around the campus.

At 2:15, the bands were guests at the Midwestern University—Abilene Christian College with A. C. C. winning 13 to 0.

At 5:45 the students again boarded the buses to start for home, arriving here at 9:30.

Many compliments were heard about the band. Some were:"—best marching band there—" "—files very straight—" "—twirlers very attractive and precision perfect—" "—mascot drew many favorable comments—." All in all the band was tops!

Mr. Keyser and Mrs. Srygley, the sponsor for one of the buses, commented on the fine behavior and excellent manners of the group.

The band was sponsored by the Wichitex Machinery Company.

Memphis High Has U.N. Day Program

In observance of the 5th anniversary of the United Nations, Memphis High School held a special assembly at 9:15 on October 24. The program started with the singing of several patriotic songs led by Minnie Lee Jackson, 16 year old member of the Senior Class. Patsy Sue Hays, also a Senior, accompanied the group.

On the stage were the American and UN flags, The UN flag, new to most of us, is very appropriate for the message it conveys. A white globe, encircled with the olive branches of peace are set on a blue background, the color of loyalty. The olive branches bring the meaning of peace around the world.

Rev. Bedford Smith, pastor of the First Christian Church, addressed the faculty and student body on the importance of such an organization. In his inspirational talk, Rev. Smith told of the attempt made by President Woodrow Wilson to organize a League of Nations. The campaign for such a group, made by President Wilson, started the U. S. to thinking about what an asset to the world peace this would be. Though President Wilson thought he had failed, on October 24, 1945, the first session of the UN was held. The dreams of many Americans had come true.

The program closed with the group singing our National Anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner." Each person attending this assembly should give thanks that he is an American and that his country is striving for world peace.

Pictures Added To Memphis Library

Miss Ira Hammond, Memphis High's energetic librarian, tells us that this year something new has been added in the form of a picture file. This file contains pictures pertaining to various subjects taught in this school. These pictures will prove to be very valuable in the making of illustrated speeches.

Miss Hammond is also in charge of the many films the students have been privileged to see this year. Two projectors, a 16 mm. and a 35 mm., have been in almost constant use along with the opaque lantern which has a slide attachment. This year the school has been very fortunate in obtaining a wire recorder which has already been used and praised by the Speech, History, Spanish and English Departments. The school also owns an expensive splicing machine to splice broken films. A record player and approximately 40 records are also owned by the Memphis High School.

All these new items are making our school a better institution of higher learning.

Juniors Select Class Rings, Pins

Junior pins, bracelets, necklaces and Senior rings were selected Friday by the Junior class of 1950-'51.

The rings will be of gold with a drop center. The crest will be an a slanting strip of pink gold. The date 1952 and the individual's initials will be on the outside. The necklace matches the crest on the ring, but is inlaid in pearl. The date will be engraved on a miniature pendulum attached to the necklace.

BAND IN MOVIES

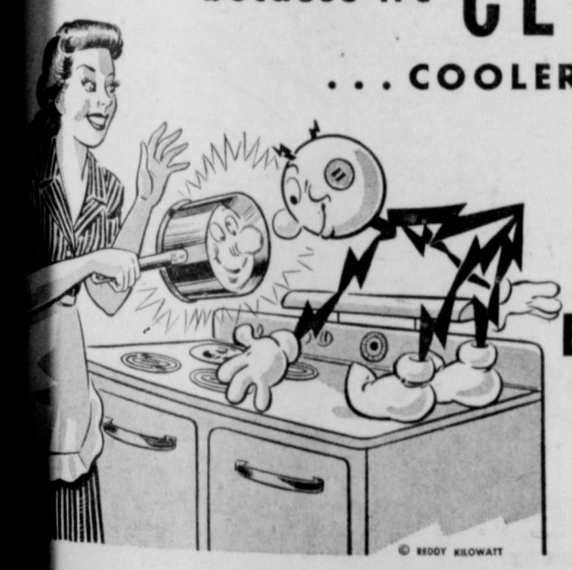

Cyclone Band members enjoyed seeing themselves on the screen last week. Mr. McCreary took the picture with the new moving picture machine of the High School. The band members feel that this is the best picture that he has ever taken.

DO IT YOURSELF

The greatness of America was built by people who believed in doing things for themselves if they wanted it done to their satisfaction.

November 7 is the day that the voters go to the polls to elect important men to big posts in the federal government. These men will form the policy of the American government for the next two years — two years that are certain to be two of the biggest years in the history of the world.

These men who are asking to be sent to Washington as lawmakers are asking for the problems of the world to be dropped squarely on their shoulders. Never in the history of the world has the future of so many people rested on anyone group of men.

The decisions of the United States Congress can plunge the world into war. They can plunge this country into a depression with excess government spending and taxation. They can put millions in or out of work. With the present sway that the U. S. has over the world, the Congress of the United States controls the ways of the world.

The people of Hall County should give the two men that are running for congress some serious thought as to the man who can fill the big job that is going to be handed him. After deciding to your own satisfaction, go to the polls and do the voting to suit your self. By doing your own voting you will know the job is done to your satisfaction.

Watford City, N. D., McKenzie County Farmer: 'Recently we heard a politician deliver himself of an harangue about the 'power' of big business . . . What is this mysterious power? If there is a big bisiness man who is able to force us to buy one brand of orange juice—or automobile, or breakfast cereal, or what have you—to the exclusion of any other, we have not heard of him."

o

THE RECORD

Just what is the matter with American medicine? Judging by those who are directing the hue and cry in favor of compulsory government health insurance — which is a polite term for political domination of the healing arts — medicine has woefully failed in its obligaton to the American people.

In the light of that, it's interesting to record a few facts.

In 1900 each child born had a life expectancy of 49 years. Today his expectancy is more than 68 years — not far from double the former figure.

Fifty years ago typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox and many other diseases were dreded killers. Today deaths from such causes have been virtually eliminated.

In 1900 there were less than 1,000 approved hospitals with 400,000 beds. Now there are 6300 registered hospitals, with 1,500,000 beds.

Fifty years ago the voluntary, low-cost health insurance plans, as we know them now, did not exist. Now they cover millions of families.

These are but a few of the achievements of free medicine, working in the American way. It is obvious to all — especally the medical fraternity — that a great deal more needs to be done in the conquest of disease, and the improvement of medical service. But the big point is that it is being done — steadily and soundly. And it is being done wthout a group of political appointees dominatng the doctors.

American medicine stand on its record.

Press Paragraphs—

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Salute To Our Industries

"We hear a great deal these days about the American way of life, and it is all to the good. It wound be difficult indeed to think of another subject so infinitely varied or so richly rewarding. Yet it is not enough simply to go on talking about it. If the American way is to have any valid meaning, we must live it. Before we can live it, we must understand it."

This was the opening paragraph of an editorial welcoming the arrival of Oil Progress Week. This week is National Automobile Dealer Week, a few weeks ago it was National Newspaper Week.

We sometimes think we are sick of hearing about this week and that week but how often do we step and think that it's for our benefit as well as their own, that the men and women of oil, automobile, and newspaper, and medicine and all the other industries and professions take this opportunity to inform us of their progress. Who but the people in the oil industry are qualified to give us the inside story of what they are doing? Who but the automobile dealers can know the improvements in their industry as compared to the customer's reaction?

Both the oil and automotive industries started less than a century ago. Both have made tremendous progress, and, what is more important, it has been a hand in hand progress for these two industries. They have done so much to transform the existence of yesterday into the luxuries of today.

However, Oil Progress Week and Automobile Dealers Week designated not only to remind us of what these industries have produced, but what has produced them. Their improvements are simply the evidence of a deeper, driving force—the force that has made possible our whole industrial structure. This is the American way—the determination, the initiative, the opportunity to create more and better things for all of our people. This is freedom.

These people are simply reminding the American public of the value of thei rservice. By listening to their stories, we once again realize how the cooperation between the vast industries that make up our economic structure, has fostered our freedom.

Vulnerable Ike

No wonder Ike is irked. They just won't leave him alone in his ivory tower at Columbia. Now the Fashion Foundation of America picks him as "the year's best-dressed man" in the field of education. The 100 custom tailors and clothes merchants on the jury cite Eisenhower for "his splendid selection of ties and hats."

And not one word of commendation for the little lady who probably picks them in the first place! over this country that we want to make educators clothes-conscious? Surely we should be allowed to hold on to one cherished cliche, that of the college prof in his bedraggled and moth-eaten clothes of yesteryear. The cartoonists have a vested interest in it. Imagine having to draw Einstein with a crew haircut!—Christian Science Monitor.

Democratis Party On Way

The Democratic party has various degrees of popularity, but it seems to be on an upward swing at an appropriate time just before the Nov. 7 general election.

When an outstanding GOP leader like Senator Bob Taft of Ohio is predicted to lose, it shows that the party is losing more than ever the common touch with the voters and the people. Taft has been such an outstanding GOP leader, it would seem that he should be able to win time after time.

But national polls show that the rank and file believe the Republican party is against the average citizen. In other words, the Democratic party has become the spokesman for the average citizen.

With this tendency evident nationally, it behooves the 18th congressional district to elect Walter E. Rogers to congress. He will be able to get things done for the district because he will be of the party in charge of congress—and he will have the backing of the administration headed by President Truman, Speaker Sam Rayburn, Senator Tom Connally and others.

It will be only a few days until the election, so let's go to the polls and give a vote of confidence to Gov. Allen Shivers, Ben Ramsey for lieutenant governor, Price Daniel for attorney general, Walter Rogers for congress and other Democrats.

Four Detectors Perfected Against Atomic Radiation

At least four types of radioactive detection instruments and computers are available for measuring radiation particles if and when an atomic bomb is ever exploded over a Texas community.

This encouraging bit of information was revealed by the state's chief health official, Dr. Geo. W. Cox. He is state director of health and emergency medical services part of the Texas civil defenst setup.

Radiation is one of the three principal harmful effects of atomic explosions. Others are blast damage and burns. Using RADIAC instruments, it is possible to know what areas are safe from the tasteless, odorless, colorless radioactive particles.

All RADIAC instruments are designed for use by radiation monitoring squads. Squad members might be soldiers, or they could be civilians trained by the State Health Department's radiological division. In either case they would be trained for immediate action in atomic disasters.

"Planning emergency medical and health services in an atomic disaster has been one big mess of confusion," Dr. Cox admitted. "But we're beginning to see light now. Our radiology division is going to go right to work, now that we have it set up."

Radiac instruments got this official explanation:

Film badges can be pinned onto the lapel, strapped onto the wrist worn in a ring, etc. They consist of a piece of photographis film, and are used to show the amount of radiation to which the monitor has been exposed. Radiation particles affect the film like light. Dozens of "tracks" are visible when the film comes in contact with heavy concentrations of radiation.

Film badges are a permanent record of the exposure which the monitors have been subjected. Dr. Cox says they show whether or not the wearer has received the "maximum allowable lifetime dosage."

Pocket dosimeters, like the film badges are for the protection of the monitors. They look like fountain pens, and gauge on-the-spot amounts of radiation.

Geiger counters and ionization chambers actually count the number of radiation particles—gamma rays, and alpha and beta particles present in an area. So sensitive is the Geiger counter that if it could be wired to a fly his footsteps could be heard distinctly.

Traffic Law Gives Kids Protection

Did you know that you are required to stop your car immediately before passing a school bus which is discharging children, if that bus is on a highway outside of a business or residence district?

After having stopped, you may then proceed at a prudent speed not to exceed 10 miles per hour until you are safely beyond the bus. This is required of you whether you are meeting or overtaking the shool bus. This Law was passed in 1947 by the 50th Texas Legislature as a part of the Uniform Act of Traffic Laws.

Each year a number of accidents occur which usually involve a passing car and one of the children getting off of the bus. These accidents are of the most heart-breaking kind because they usually mean that some young, happy school child has either been killed or possibly maimed for life.

Each driver of an automobile should know and follow the rules concerning motor vehicle traffic around school buses, because these rules were made in an effort to protect the children who ride them. It is often a hardship for some of these children to get ready in time to ride the bus the many long miles into school each day. Certainly if these boys and girls will put forth that much effort, the drivers of automobiles on our streets and highways can exercise enough care to protect their safety on the way to and from school.

Fort Worth To Be Host to Baptist

Fort Worth will gain 2,700 new citizens within the next two weeks, honorary citizens, that is.

That many Texas Baptist pastors are to be made honorary citizens by Mayor Edgar Deen. Every Texas Baptist pastor will receive from Mayor Deen an invitation to the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Nov. 7-9, and a card making him an honorary citizen of Fort Worth.

The honorary citizen idea is designed to get more of the smaller churches of the denomination represented in the convention than ever before.

The convention in Fort Worth will offer, for the first time in a number of years, adequate seating space for a large attendance. Sessions are to be held in the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, which will have seats for more than 10,000.

Billy Graham, the young North Carolina evangelist, who has been attracting thousands at each of his appearances, will be the speaker the final session at a gigantic "youth night rally."

Senator To Speak At Tech Program

U. S. Senator Lyndon Johnson, D, Tex., will deliver the main address at the Silver Anniversary Homecoming of the Texas Technological College in Lubbock on Nov. 11.

The talk by Texas' junior senator will keynote the second phase of the Silver Anniversary program and is scheduled for broadcast over a statewide hookup from 10 to 10:45 A. M.

The occasion marks the dedication of Tech's $4,500,000 building and expansion program. Actual construction is underway and is scheduled to be completed by the end of next year.

The Nov. 11 program also will include a luncheon for former Tech students in the Gymnasium, a homecoming parade and the clash between the Golden Hurricane football team of Tulsa University and the Red Raiders.

Former Techsans will realize the College's tremendous growth when they return to the present landscaper campus with modern buildings providing educational facilities for several thousand students.

L. M. Watson Scores 21 Points As McLean Beats Cyclones 33-19

L. M. Watson, representing the McLean Tigers, booted the Memphis Cyclones out of any chance for the crown of district 2-A as he carried the Tigers to a 33-19 upset in McLean Friday night.

The 170 pound tailback ran with the power of a bull, but could match the humming bird in changing directions. Time and again he simply changed directions and left would be tacklers grabbing for thin air.

The game was only minutes old when it exploded into a scoring match. After driving down to the Memphis 24, Watson passed to J. N. Smith, one of the ofur Smiths in the game, for the touchdown. Just to live up to his press clippings of doing everything, he stepped back and booted the ball through the uprights to put the Tigers ahead 7-0.

On the first play from scrimmage, Tommy Messer pulled his tape up tight and stepped off right tackle on the four yard line and went 96 yards down the west side of the field for a score.

Don Ray Rasco took care of the last two pursuing Tigers on the McLean 30 when he killed two birds with one block.

Ronnie Smith, freshman making good, came in and booted the ball over to tie the score at 7-7.

Early in the second quarter, McLean's Reeves intercepted Stargel's pass on the McLean 40. The drive started on the Memphis 20, with Miller, Messer and Lee carrying the mail.

Watson took the ball on his 40 and on five plays mastermined the score. Smith carried once for five yards and Tindel carried once for 16 yards. From 21 yards out he left four tacklers clutching air and went over for the score. He then booted the extra point for the extra point to put the Tigers ahead 14-7.

The Cyclones came back with the kick-off and drove downfield from their own 42. Tommy Messer had brought Watson's kick-off out from the nine.

The big jump in this drive was on the second play when Stargel hit Don Rasco with a 35 yard heave that put the Cyclones on the Tiger 25.

David Corley, subing for Carl Lee, along with Messer and Miller moved the ball to the Tiger five on three plays. Corley slanted on his own right guard and lunged over for the score.

Ronnie Smith missed his extra point to leave the Memphians behind 13-14.

Tommy Messer played havoc with a Tiger drive minutes later when he intercepted a Watson pass from the 50 on the Cyclone 20.

Memphis could generate no steam after Lee picked up nine and Messer got seven. Two of Stargel's pass fell unwanted and Lee punted from his own 36 to put McLean back on its own 31.

On the last play of the half Watson uncorked a long one from his own 44 dogn to the Memphis 20 where Ronnie Smith intercepted it.

In the second half Memphis took the kick-off and started what looked like another scoring drive from their own 20, but it died when Wayne Smith intercepted a Cyclone pass on the 40.

Tindel and Smith helped Watson on this scoring drive, but Watson lugged the ball across from the 12. He missed the extra point try.

In the fourth period Watson ran 50 yards for a score and kicked the extra point to put his mates ahead 27-13. He passed for another from the five to Blacksure. Watson missed the extra point, but put the Tigers ahead 13-33.

Memphis came back and on the second play from scrimmage Carl Lee passed to Ronnie Smith and the fleet-footed freshman showed the Tigers his heels. The pass and run covered 70 yards.

The Turks came back and scored on a pass from Lee Crews to Barnhill for the score. The try for extra point was no good.

Hammonds, Gardenhire Lead Whirlwinds Beat McLean 20-

The Memphis Whirlwinds outblocked and out-ran the big McLean junior high Kittens for a 20 to 13 junior high district victory here Thursday night.

The Whirlwinds gave away an average of 10 pounds per man, but gave the Kittens nothing in blocking and running.

Dalton Ledbetter, Charles 'Red' Miles, and Jimmy Jenkins supplied most of the running attack for the Winds, but little Don Davis set up Ledbetter's first touchdown when he shook off three tacklers to go eight yards for a first down on the McLean 16 early in the first period.

Jackie Boone kept his passing attack to ends Carol Gardenhire and Jack Montgomery well mixed with his running attack.

Hayes Hammonds, was the big man in the Whirlwinds forward wall, a line that was out weighted at nearly every position. Hammonds was the boy that supplied the blocking to put Ledbetter in the clear on his long scampers.

Memphis took the opening kickoff on their own 34 and on a series of passes and running plays drove for a score without losing control of the ball.

Ledbetter scored from the 16 on a wide sweep to the right. He plunged for the extra point to put Memphis in the lead 7-0.

Ledbetter set up the second Memphis score when he ran from the 30 down to the two where he was knocked out of bounds. On the next play he smashed over from the two.

Jackie Boone passed to his glue fingered end, Carol Gardenhire for the extra point.

The final Wind score was set up when Jimmie Jenkins intercepted a McLean pass on his own 40 and ran it back to the McLean 40.

Boone went into the air and passed to Gardenhire on the 35, Gardenhire lateralled to Ledbetter and then took out back as Ledbetter tance.

Bringing You News About Memphis High School

Katherine Wright Has Good Start In High School

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wright were blessed with a baby girl on January 7, 1937, who was named Katherine Wright. Katherine has become a striking young girl who weighs 117 pounds, and is five feet and four inches tall and has brown hair.

English rates highest among her subjects and her favorite teacher is Coach Wright. Her best liked radio program is "Top Ten." Her top song is "Sentimental Me." June Haver and Dan Dailey are her favorite movie fans.

Katherine plays the piano for pastime. One of her biggest thrills was playing the organ for the Baptist church.

Kay, as she is often known, is the secretary of her class this year and is also president of the Junior Choral Club.

Katherine is going to Baylor University and plans to major in Home Economics as her future ambition is to be a good house wife. Boys, here's your chance!!

School Rates High Around the Campus

A Journalism Staff reporter of Memphis High School has conducted a survey through the school to see if the students liked this year better than last year. The majority of the opinions show that this school year is much better liked than the preceding.

Some of the reports are

Wayland McElreath — Yes, I like it better this year because it is easier.

Robert Breedlove—Yes, because I'm learning more.

Gereta Grimes—No. I don't like it as well because I had rather be at Junior High.

Pauline Hammonds—Yes, I like it better, because there are more activities and I feel more grown since I am in High School.

Patsy Jarrell—I like the noon periods better. I like to play volley ball at noon.

James Aduddell—Yes, because school is more fun, easier, and there are more activities.

Roddy Bice—I like school better this year, because the rules are not as strict.

Gayle Monzingo — There are more activities for having fun.

Carrol Foxhall—I like not having to study so much.

D'Armond Peabody — I would like a longer noon period than 45 minutes.

Troy Phillips—I think the football games are more exciting; but the main reason I like this year better is—I'm a Senior!

Korean Turmoil

by Rita Jo Hale

Attention, people of our nation!
Please try to understand this poem.
This war may not mean the end of time
It's maybe just a warn.

The Lord knows we are not living
In the right way that we should,
And the only way to keep this war from spreading
Is to change from our bad ways to our good.

We are all proud of America,
A place where we can love and learn.
But there's only one way to keep our country
And that is to live upon God's firm.

(This poem was written at the beginning of the war by Rita Jo Hale. Rita is a freshman and is very talented in painting and writing.)

PING PONG TABLES

Students, have you noticed the new ping pong tables that appeared on the campus one day this week? The tables will be moved into the gymnasium after the West Ward Hallowe'en Carnival There will probably be eight tables for the students to enjoy. Everyone seems to like this sport which has been added to our curriculum. If the students keep up this enthusiasm, the school may provide many more activities for the students to take part in.

ANNOUNCEMENTS ORDERED

One of the thrills of being a senior is the ordering of their graduation announcements. Mr. Black from the Starr Engraving Company of Houston showed a group of cards to the officers of the class, and from this group they chose three cards which were presented to the class.

The card is very attractive and different, and the seniors are all looking forward to sending these cards to all their friends.

TEACHERS SAVE WORK

The teachers breathed a sigh of relief this week when the duplicating machine arrived from the repair shop. The machine has been out of order since last year. With a lot of work and loss of temper, occasionally it could be made to work. Now, assignments and tests may be hectographed quickly and easily. Not only does this cut down the teacher's work and save time, but it also takes the place of having students copy several pages of work from the blackboard.

Due to the fact that it saves the students a lot of work, they will be very glad to have the duplicating machine back as much as the teachers.

LIFE OF JACK LONDON

The Methodist Church will show the life of Jack London, November 7, at 8 p.m. in the Church Auditorium. Reports for this show say that it is more interesting than any of Jack London's novel.

The 91-minute movie is being presented for the students, in order to broaden their literary education. Any one who wishes to see the movie is urged to come.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

Memphis high school spirit was high Friday afternoon as the football boys boarded the bus to leave for McLean.

The "ever ready" band played several numbers and the students joined in on several yells.

A snake dance was formed and led through the bus, where the Cyclones were ready to make the trip to challenge the Tigers.

JUNIOR SPEECH CLUB MEETS

The Junior Speech Club met Monday, October 23, at four o'clock in the high school building. The group decided on the new name of Lights and Shadows. They also agreed to admit Sophomores unless Juniors fill the club's 25-member capacity.

Members present were Clinton Jones, Betty Kennon, Gloria Harris, Jo Ann Webster, Margaret Massey Jacky Gilbert, Martha Howard, and Leona Robertson. Mrs. Roy Guthrie, the sponsor, was also present.

President's Speech Recorded

The tape recorder, a gift of the 1950 Senior Class, was used Tuesday by Mr. McCreary in recording President Truman's message to the United Nations General Assembly. Coach Wright's American History and Government students enjoyed this speech during class.

BAND BOOSTS TEAM

The Band journeyed along with the Cyclones to McLean Friday to boost the team to victory. Along with playing in the stands, the Band made a "T" for Tigers and a "C" for Cyclones. The band, immediately after the game, returned home to get ready to leave for Wichita Falls at 530 a.m.

SENIOR SPEECH CLUB

The Senior Speech Club met on October 26, at 7:30 p.m. Scotty Grundy, president, called the meeting to order after which Eudine Gable, secretary, read the minutes. After the business session, the Speech Class gave some charades, which were an unusual presentation for the evening for entertainment.

Mrs. Kedron Ward of Amarillo spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Billy Thompson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. M. Childress visited in the Black home Sunday.

8 reasons not to VOTE

1 — Maybe you think a little more of Comrade Joe than you do of Uncle Sam. Joe licks his chops when you stay away from the polls. In the last Presidential election 45 million qualified voters stayed away.

2 — You think your time is too valuable to wait a few minutes for your turn at the polling place. You have more "important" things to do.

3 — What the heck's the good of "my one little old vote? Let George vote." And George decides to let you vote. So a lot of you's and Georges stay away from the polls—and lose an election.

4 — You forgot to pay your Poll Tax. That's a reason for not voting this election, but, folks, it really won't do to use that excuse a second time!

5 — The wife likes one candidate and the husband likes the other. It's obvious your votes will cancel out each other, but each helps to swell the total of your favorite candidate.

6 — You don't know anything about the issues and the candidates. It's nothing to be really proud of, but it doesn't take long to get up to date.

7 — You think it's all "politics" anyway —and it certainly will be as long as you and folks like you stay home.

8 — Your corn hurts—but remember a lot of freedom-loving Americans get to the polls on crutches and in wheel chairs.

FREEDOM IS EVERYBODY'S JOB!

IT IS YOUR DUTY AS A FREE PATRIOTIC AMERICAN CITIZEN TO VOTE ON Tuesday, Nov. 7th.

In many countries of the world the people do not have the right to vote.
