Missing Wife Of Noah Beery Safe

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Marguerite Beery, wife of Noah Beery, film actor, who was reported missing since September 8 by her husband, returned to Los Angeles tonight and went to the home of friends.

The actor called police and informed them his wife had telephoned his home during his absence. He requested that the police search be launched for her yesterday be discontinued as he believed she would return to his ranch shortly.

Leaves Nevada Alone

Beery also declared he had learned his wife left Las Vegas, Nev., where she was located today, alone and had driven across th desert to Los Angeles by herself.

The actor suggested police continue their investigation of his wife's disappearance, saying "I want the proper authorities to investigate this matter and prosecute any one guilty of enticing or luring Mrs. Beery from her home. If it can be established any person or persons are responsible for her strange absence, I shall lodge charges against them.

"If there was a man involved in the affair I might lose my temper. Mrs. Beery is a sick woman and has been under the care of an allenist for over three years. She is subject to spells of sickness that affect her mind."

Mysterious Companion Injects New Angle

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17. —(AP)— Noah Beery, film actor, who yesterday instituted a police search for his missing wife, Marguerite, late today asked the department of justice to take action, if necessary, as the result of information that Mrs. Beery had been in Las Vegas, Nev., in company with a man.

Beery's action followed information from the Nevada town that a woman cafe operator had cashed two checks this week signed "Marguerite Beery."

Las Vegas investigators learned that the woman identified as Mrs. Beery and her expensive automobile left town yesterday.

The Bank of America, where Mrs. Beery had an account, informed the

Three Nations Recognized by United States

Provisional Governments of Argentina, Bolivia, Peru Recently Established by Revolutions Held Stable

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. — The United States today extended simultaneous recognition to the provisional government of Argentina, Bolivia, and Peru, all three recently established by revolutions.

Secretary Stimson, in announcing this speedy recognition was actuated largely by the "present economic situation," said the action represented no new policy. A study of Latin American relations disclosed, however that not since 1822 has any such blanket recognition been accorded. At that time five Latin American governments were recognized by act of congress.

Action Thought Wise

"I have deemed it wise to act promptly in this matter," Secretary Stimson said, "in order that in the present economic situation our delay may not embarrass the people of those three friendly countries in re-establishing their normal intercourse with the rest of the world."

Recognition of the new Argentine regime came just ten days after revolutionary forces under General Jose Francisco Uriburu deposed the government of Hipolito Irigoyen, which admittedly had lacked cordialty toward the United States. It was less than a month behind the successful coup of Colonel Sanchez Cerro in Peru overthrowing the regime of Augusto Leguia, and a little more than two months after the removal of former President Hernando Siles in Bolivia.

Long Exonerated Of Old Charges

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 17. (AP) —The lower house of the Louisiana legislature, assembled in special session, late today voted a "nolle prosse" of the 1929 impeachment proceedings against Governor Huey P. Long. The action was not without opposition, some members terming it a "whitewash."

The house of representatives by formal resolution called on the state senate to drop indictments against the governor that have been pending in the senate for more than a year.

The resolution formally abandoning impeachment proceedings, was sponsored by Allen J. Ellender of Terrebonne, manager of Governor Long's recent successful campaign for the United States senate.

DISCUSS AIR MAIL

Attitude of Government Told Postal Supervisors

DALLAS, Sept. 17. (AP)—Attitude of the government toward commercial aviation and development of the air mail was discussed by Second Assistant Postmaster General W. Irving Glover at the annual convention of the National Association of Postal Supervisors here today.

The postoffice department is proud of what already has been accomplished for commercial aviation, he said, and particularly proud of the service to South America, which has brought Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, within seven days by mail of New York City. He pointed out there were now 24 contract air mail lines in the United States flying 44,000 miles daily.

Additional Mile on Slaton Road Open to Traffic

The only new slab now closed to traffic is a stretch from the junction point with No. 9 east to near the Burrus switch. This is expected to be opened within a short time.

LaFollette Is Given Victory

Another Member of Political Family Boosted in Saddle as Republican Nomination for Wisconsin Governor

(By The Associated Press)

Wisconsin boosted another La Follette into the saddle Tuesday while Delaware and Massachusetts were bestowing the colors of the wet and dry causes on the senatorial nominees who will come down the home stretch in November.

Ending a drive reminiscent of the stirring political battles of his distinguished father, Phillip F. La Follette was assured of the Wisconsin gubernatorial nomination by more than 100,000 votes over the Republican governor, Walter J. Kohler. The approval of the Republicans assures La Follette's election.

Demos Choose Wets

The Republican senatorial nominees in Delaware and Massachusetts will go into the November campaign under the dry banner. The Democrats in both states chose wets.

The incumbent, Senator Daniel O. Hastings will stand for reelection in Delaware as the Republicans candidate. William M. Butler, former chairman of the Republican national committee, will seek the seat to be vacated by Senator Frederick H. Gillett, of Massachusetts, a Republican.

Former Senator Thomas F. Bayard was selected by Delaware Democrats to oppose Hastings while their brethern in Massachusetts were picking Marcus A. Coolidge to send against Butler.

At the same time, Massachusetts Democrats chose Joseph P. Ely, a modificationist, to contest the gubernatorial seat with Governor Frank G. Allen, the dry renominated by the Republicans.

Eastern and Northern Parts of South Plains Extended Invitation to Attend Fair; Third Goodwill Trip Planned

ELEVEN towns in the eastern and northern part of the South Plains were visited Wednesday by Lubbock's second 1930 friendship caravan to advertise the Panhandle-South Plains fair. The motorcade consisted of about 25 automobiles occupied by approximately 100 persons, including 35 members of the Lubbock high school band.

The fair trippers traveled about 200 miles, stopping in Abernathy, Hale Center, Olton, Plainview, Floydada, Petersburg, Crosbyton, Ralls, Lorenzo and Idalou, in respective order.

Local Men Talk

Lubbock speakers were: J. H. Hankins, B. Sherrod, Rev. G. P. McCollom of Asbury Methodist Episcopal church, and Tom A. White.

G. C. Jenkins of the Lubbock clinic accompanied the trippers as a blackface comedian and helped supply entertainment for the children, who were dismissed from school for the occasion in virtually all towns on the route. Jenkins clowned, sang and played the ukelele.

Novelties and literature advertising the fair, which will be held here September 29 to October 4, were distributed at each stop.

Boosters Behind Schedule

The motorcade left here at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, 30 minutes behind time, and was not on schedule until Crosbyton was reached in the afternoon. Abernathy, Hale Center, Olton and Plainview stops were made in the morning.

Five Plainview ward schools were visited by groups from the friendship caravan. Following the school programs, the trippers ate lunch be-

Perry Awaits Radio Report

Lubbock Realtor and Robert H. Jones Jr., File for Government Permission to Erect Broadcasting Station

Corroborating a report that government permission had been asked for erection of a radio broadcasting station in Lubbock, W. M. Perry, Lubbock realtor, early Wednesday night declined to comment further on the application entered by him and Robert H. Jones, Jr.

Mr. Perry said he was awaiting a report of favorable action on the application and would announce further plans when it was received.

The application was for a 500-watt station using 1,450 kilocycles on unlimited time, according to an Associated Press dispatch received at noon Wednesday from Washington, D. C. Mr. Perry said the application was for a 1000-watt station.

Agitation for a radio broadcasting station has been prevalent here for sometime. The press dispatch Wednesday was the first revelation of definite plans for a broadcasting unit here, however.

Illfated Shamrock V To Try Comeback Today In 4th American Cup Race

(By The Associated Press)

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 17.—The crowning touch to the illfated challenge of Shamrock V. for the America's cup was applied today when her main halyard suddenly parted, the huge mainsail slowly collapsing, and the emerald green sloop was abruptly eliminated from the third race. She was disabled just when she had buoyed the lingering hopes of her backers and given Enterprise a real sail for the first time.

Out into a choppy sea that sparkled in the sunlight, with a good breeze kicking up the white caps, Shamrock had sailed forth with desperate determination. Grimly, the challenger fought for and won the startling advantage from Harold S. Vanderbilt's slim white defender for the first time. Heeling over as her nose smashed into the waves and straining every sail into the wind, Shamrock was making a gallant comeback and a courageous fight before yielding the advantage skillfully won at the outset.

Canvas Tumbles

They had covered approximately five miles on the 15 mile windward beat of today's 30 mile course and were racing bow to bow, no more than 150 yards between them, on the starboard tack, when there was a sudden fluttering movement of sail at the top of the 168 foot mast. Slowly at first, then with a billowing rush that must have been heart breaking to those on board, the huge expanse of canvas tumbled to the deck and water's edge.

It was like the last curtain falling on a stage scene poignant with dramatic tragedy. Shamrock was out of the running and the long quest of Sir Thomas Lipton was all but at an end for 1930, if not for all time.

Rains Bring Aid To Parched Area

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. (AP)—Rains of the past week at least brought to an end the parching months which seared wide agricultural areas between the Rockies and and Appalachian mountains.

Generous rainfall fell throughout most of that territory. It included virtually all of the area from the northern portion of the Ohio valley, northern Missouri and eastern Kansas southward to the Gulf of Mexico.

The average rainfall ranged from 1.5 inches to four inches, with some localities reporting even heavier precipitation.

At the same time, however, it was pointed out by the weather bureaus, parts of Iowa, northern Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio received only local rains, affording but spotty relief.

The northern great plains states and parts of the southeast had generous rains, but northward from Virginia and West Virginia, and in much of the lake region and west-central great plains, the fall was light.

Smith had pleaded he acted in self-defense when he struck Lammons with a shotgun. Lammons neck was broken and he died soon afterward. Arguments in the case were heard during the afternoon.

Police Search For Six Armed Bank Robbers

Lincoln National Bank Looted of $19,531 Cash, Securities; Whereabouts of Bandits Remains Mystery

(By The Associated Press)

LINCOLN, Neb. Sept. 17.— The whereabouts of six armed men who looted the Lincoln National bank of $19,531 cash and a quantity of securities this morning remained a mystery tonight as conflicting reports of their route reached the state sheriff here.

The bandits were reported in Kansas, aloft in an airplane, near Omaha and in northeastern Nebraska headed toward Sioux City.

Iowa vigilantes joined the search and the Missouri river bridges guarded.

Bank Loss Checked

Bank officials, meantime, checked the amount of the loss in securities. They would make no estimate of the total but asserted only a minor portion of the bank's supply had been taken. About a third of the ones stolen, they added, were negotiable.

State Sheriff W. C. Condit, on the theory that the leader of the sextette resembled Frank "Bugs" Moran, Chicago gangster, said tonight he planned to show pictures of the man to witnesses of the robbery.

Woman Spreads Alarm

It was a woman who spread an alarm of the robbery while it was still in progress. Mrs. Ilugh Werner, Lincoln, slipped out of the bank under threat of death from the gangsters and had a nearby merch-

Huge Boulder Dam Launched In Dedication

Spike of Nevada Silver Is Sledged into Railway Tie by Secretary Wilbur to Put Project Under Construction

Name Hoover Dam

Government's $165,000,000 Project Dedicated to President in Short Ceremony; Work Not to Start for Year

(By The Associated Press)

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 17—Sledging a spike of Nevada silver into a railroad tie in a desolate desert section seven miles from here, Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur today officially placed under construction the government's $165,000,000 boulder dam project, dedicating it to President Herbert Hoover.

As the ringing blows of the sledge echoed across the gray mesquite covered wastes, Secretary Wilbur faced assembled representatives of six Colorado river basin states and spoke, perhaps, the briefest dedicatory lines ever before recorded.

Named Hoover Dam

"I have the honor," he said, "to name this dam after a great engineer, who really started this great project of all time—the Hoover dam."

Today's celebration marked the start of construction of the 22-mile Union Pacific branch line, which will run from Boulder Junction, seven miles west of Las Vegas, to the dam site at the mouth of Black canyon. It was the first step in a gigantic construction program which will culminate several years hence with the completion of the 727 foot high barrier of steel and concrete which will be the fountain head of the greatest reclamation project in the world.

Actual work on the dam proper will not start for more than a year.

No Action on Maintenance

State Highway Commissioners Fail to Act on Proposed $1,000,000 Program Aimed to Relieve Unemployment

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 17. — Although in session since Monday the state highway commission today had failed to take any action on the proposed $1,000,000 maintenance program, aimed primarily at relieving financial stress in drouth stricken areas and in reducing unemployment. The commission spent most of today hearing delegations and attending to detail work incidental to the letting of contracts Monday and yesterday.

The maintainance program was submitted to the commission at the request of Governor Dan Moody and the Texas drouth relief committee. Most of the projects will be grading and grubbing and the construction of drainage structures, a type of work that requires mostly manual labor. All the work will be done with local labor wherever possible. The program consists of 55 projects in more than 35 counties. This will be in addition of other allotments made regularly by the commission the special maintenance program merely being the advancing of work to this fall and winter that ordinarily would have been done next spring and summer.

Lingle Slayer Search Comes To Standstill

Two Eye Witnesses to Death of Chicago Reporter Fail to Identify Ted Geisking as Slayer; May Drop Charge

(By The Associated Press)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 17 — Search for the slayer of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, came to a standstill here today when two eye witnesses failed to identify Theodore (Ted) Geisking as the man they saw shoot Lingle in a crowded Chicago subway.

Pat Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office at Chicago, and Charles Rathburn, Tribune attorney, who brought the witnesses to Louisville, declined to say whether they were convinced Geisking had no connection with the slaying. The said they had not determined on their next step.

May Drop Charges

H. A. I. Rosenberg, Geisking's attorney, however, said he was given to understand by authorities that the Lingle murder charge would be dropped. He added that Geisking "in all probability" would return to Indiapolis without extradition to face charges of auto banditry and assisting a felon to escape from jail.

Geisking who was arrested here last Friday as a vagrant under an allas, was questioned this afternoon by Roche and Rathbun. During the day the two witnesses were taken secretly to the jail to look at the prisoner.

Geisking denied any connection with the Ligle slaying, insisting that he was "just a punker," and that Chicago gangsters would not select him for a murder assignment. He admitted having engaged in rum running in Indiana for "easy money."

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 17. —With the naming of Frank B. Gross Income Tax Supported

Oklahoma Democrats Against General Sales, Ad Valorem Taxes; Favor Enforcement of Prohibition Laws

(By The Associated Press)

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 17.—A platform declaring for substitution of a gross income tax for the present ad valorem tax, voicing opposition to a general sales tax and pledging free text books and "strict" enforcement of both state and national prohibition laws, was adopted by the Democratic state convention here tonight.

Approval of the platform, as submitted by the committee headed by Claud C. Hatchett, of Durant, was without a hitch. While the platform made no specific mention of the proposal put forward by Ira Hill, the Republican nominee for governor, for the issuance of $15,000,000 in short term notes to provide highway construction work for relief of unemployment, it declared against bond issues "whenever it is possible to avoid" them.

Student Service, Inc., Organized to Seek Employment for Tech Students

ORGANIZED to enable Texas Technological college students to gain experience in business management and to finance their education, Student Service, Inc., of Lubbock, was chartered Wednesday by the state.

W. A. King and Heber M. Ellsworth, juniors in agriculture, and F. Pratt Hawkes, junior in chemistry, were named as the incorporators.

Student Service, Inc., was chartered without capital stock, the purpose being stated as "to supply employment to worthy students of Texas Technological college."

Gathering and delivery of laundry on a commission basis for a Lubbock laundry is the only activity of the organization at present. Later, the three incorporators and seven other students who also are members of Student Service, Inc., expect to add rooming, periodical, travel and other services.

Three six-cylinder sedan trucks have been purchased for use in the laundry collections and deliveries.

The organization is patterned in part after a similar one which has been in existence about 38 years at Cornell University.

Night Classes Will Be Organized at Tech; Offer Wide Range of Subjects

FALL term night classes will be organized at Texas Technological college, including chemistry, geology, English, history and mathematics for freshmen; business economics and cooperative marketing for business men, and possibly French and German, depending on the number indicating a desire to take the courses in which full college credit will be given.

Responding to a demand for night classes, the college expects to organize them through the extension department. If the demand does not justify organization of a class, the subject, excepting chemistry and geology, may be taken by correspondence.

Offer Wide Rang

The night courses will be scheduled on different nights of the week so that students will have a wider range of choice in subjects. For each subject successfully completed, a full resident college credit toward a degree or a teacher's certificate will be given.

Other subjects may be added to night classes if there is sufficient demand for them. The fee per extension class subject, yielding a three term hour credit, is $10. Four term hour course fees will be more in pro-

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

IT takes a woman who is vitally interested in a thing to think of a solution. In the First Methodist church here there is a young matron's auxiliary to the Women's Missionary society, the Mary Helm society, and members have found that many women will not attend because they have small children and they feel that they cannot pay some one to come into the home each Monday afternoon and care for them. At the same time, it is a hardship on both mother and child to take the latter to the society meeting.

So a nursery has been established at the church to be in operation from 3 until 5 o'clock each Monday afternoon. An experienced woman is in charge and mothers may leave their babies there to play and sleep while they attend the missionary meeting in an adjoining room.

This is not the first time that a nursery has been maintained by this society or by other societies in the town, but for some reason previous nurseries have been abandoned—experienced women have not been available to put in charge or interest has lagged for one cause or another.

Modern young women seek the best care for their children and feel that it is asking too much of a baby to have its regular program of play and sleeping broken into by taking it to a gathering such as a missionary society, but through establishing a nursery where the child's routine may be followed, both mother and child benefit.

THERE'S PATHOS IN THIS

THERE'S a note of pathos in the death of two gold star mothers in France during the later summer, and yet, without knowing anything of the families that might be left in America, I wonder if it is such a tragedy for them to die there where their sons were buried ten years ago. This pilgrimage must have been for them a mingling of the emotions of sorrow and pleasure. It surely is a climatic event in the lives of many and to die there after having made the trip to Verdun where the soldiers were buried seems to erase possibilities for anti-climaxes which might follow in the years to come.

To die might come as the end of all desire for some of these mothers at the close of the pilgrimage.

THEY NEED HELP, TOO

IN OUR eagerness to provide employment for students in Texas Technological college, most of us are inclined to overlook the boys and girls who must help with expenses each winter in order to remain in the public schools. A plea from Miss Nell Parmley, dean of women at the Lubbock High school, this week is a reminder of the needs of these younger boys and girls.

Girls come into Lubbock from Idalou and Levelland, from smaller towns all over this section of the state, to take advantage of the high school as well as the college and many of these need to earn board and room or enough money for incidental expenses. Miss Parmley is seeking the cooperation of Lubbock matrons in finding places for these girls in order that they may continue their educations.

MAKE YOUR OWN GUESS

HOW many women do you suppose are gainfully employed in Lubbock? A check this week of several possible places where such information might have been collected, revealed that statistics or even approximate statistics are not available, although plenty of people were willing to venture first guesses.

These surmises usually started with a few hundred and increased as the theorist thought of additional places for employment. One guess ran as high as 1,500 women, others fell short of that mark. But there is a vast army of employed women in Lubbock doing everything from domestic work into the professions.

While you are making your own estimates you might as well put them down. When census returns are complete, this information will be available concerning Lubbock, according to Dr. I. E. Barr, and then you may check your guess with figures.

From These Tiny Mountain Districts Come Coffees Unlike Any Known Before

Have You Tasted The Rare Central American Coffees That Women Everywhere Are Turning To?

Active volcano near Antigua, Guatemala—heart of the famous region where Folger's rare mountain coffees are grown.

FROM the West Coast of Central America comes a rare flavor in coffee that is captivating the world.

We don't want to tell you how good it is. We want you to try it yourself and see.

It comes from coffees grown in tiny mountain districts that leading experts concede, produce probably the choicest coffees known today. Nature gives them a rare tang and full mellow body that is unlike any other coffee you ever tasted.

Less than one pound of coffee in 20 grown in the world comes from this famous region. That is why you do not get this flavor in ordinary brands.

Introduced by Folger

Years ago Central American coffee was first served in the famous Bohemian restaurants of San Francisco, where it was introduced by Folger. Travelers tasting it there were captivated by its unusual flavor.

Connoisseurs among the European nobility, it is said, even went to Central America to purchase private plantations, first to supply their own tables and later to exploit commercially. Thus the fame of this rare coffee spread around the world.

Accept a Pound to Try

Just go to your grocer and buy a pound of Folger's. Drink it tomorrow morning. Next morning serve the coffee you have been using. The third morning serve Folger's again. Then choose between them.

If for any reason you decide against Folger's, your grocer will refund your money. We'll pay him. That's fair, isn't it?

Carol Getting More in Dutch In His Nation

Foreign Diplomat Declares Former Exiled King Losing Out with Subjects Over Mme. Lupescu

(By The Associated Press)

VIENNA, Sept. 17. — A foreign diplomat stationed in the Rumanian capital, arriving here today en route to Paris, said King Carol's responsibilities growing out of his youthful escapades are now weighing like a ton of lead on his shoulders and are embittering his life.

The trouble arises, the diplomat says, out of the king's difficulties on one hand to shake off Mme. Magda Lupescu—his companion in exile—and on the other by his inability to obtain recognition of her by his subjects.

Would Be Affront

One by one the king's intimate friends are turning from him, the envoy relates, in realization that the enthronement of Mme. Lupescu in place of Queen Helen, the king's divorced wife who refuses to become reconciled despite Carol's proclamation that she is queen, would be an affront to the nation.

In court circles it was asserted the king married Mme. Lupescu while he was living in Paris without royal rights and now is trying to buy her off, sending an intimate friend to conduct the negotiations.

Guards Trebeled

Some even say that Mme. Lupescu now is in the royal summer palace at Sinaia. There is no confirmation of that, but it is known that the guards on the palace were trebeled yesterday.

Political circles discuss the foreign aspects of Carol's problem, pointing out that the British minister in Bucharest avoids meeting the king and has not visited him since Carol flew to Rumania and took over the throne.

The diplomat who related these incidents today said that despite his many difficulties the king no longer was attempting a reconciliation with his divorced royal wife, who feels that her position with the people is steadily growing stronger.

Preacher Takes It All Back

NEWBURG, Mo., Sept. 17. (AP)—Paul Bennett, crusading evangelist here, who accused Miss Olive Warren, high school teacher, of drinking "and acting affectionate and crazy with boys," has taken it all back and soon will leave Newburg, thus avoiding further prosecutions of criminal slander charges brought against him by Miss Warren.

Bennett, attorneys for Bennett and his foes said last night, had signed an apology to Miss Warren. He also agreed to leave Newburg within 30 days from Sept. 8, when he was scheduled to go on trial a second time for allegedly slandering Miss Warren. Bennett obtained a continuance on the reported promise of a written apology and departure from town.

Brownfield-Hobbs Line Bought from Carlsbad Caverns Stages by Pioneer Motor Lines, G. C. Abbott Says

Purchase of the Brownfield-Hobbs line of the Carlsbad Cavern Stages, Inc., by the Pioneer Motor Lines, was announced yesterday by Garnett C. Abbott, president.

"We will take over the line between Brownfield and Hobbs, N. M., next Tuesday," Mr. Abbott said in making announcement of the purchase. "I have not worked out the schedule between Lubbock and Hobbs but there will be good service between these towns."

With the addition of the 75 miles between Brownfield and Hobbs, the Pioneer lines will have approximately 500 miles of operation out of Lubbock as headquarters. Present service include three trips daily to Clovis, two to Roswell and two to Levelland, with two trips daily between Hobbs and Tatum, N. M., by way of Lovington.

Besides the offices here, the company maintains its repair shops.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Though the Lord be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off.

THE CIRCUS, MONEY AND FOOTBALL

WHEN approximately 18,000 Lubbock and South Plains persons attended the two performances of Ringling Brothers & Barnum and Bailey circus here on Tuesday, a few of the local citizenry began thinking.

The result of their cogitations was first, that the pessimism we've been hearing in regard to business conditions has been overdrawn; second, the city and surrounding territory could and would support fast football were Tech college to wedge its way into a high class conference—The Southwest conference, to be exact.

The Ringling crowd was the largest to ever attend a circus showing in Lubbock, in spite of the fact that business has not been as good as it might have been during the past several months. The record-smashing throng which surged through the turnstiles may be attributed to one thing—namely that the Ringling-Barnum circus represents the best in the circus world. People of this section appreciate the best—and will spend their money to see the best in any popular line of amusement and under any conditions.

Were Texas Tech admitted to the Southwest conference and were Tech able—as we all hope it some day will be—to cope with the teams in that conference, there is little doubt that high class football would draw well here.

America has become 'amusement minded,' whether we approve it or not. That condition has permeated the South Plains, as well as every other section of the state and bids fair to continue. The moral of this editorial is, of course, that there always is money to be spent in this country—even for amusements—if the expenditure is justified in popular satisfaction. Tech college athletic and administration officials may well take cognizance of the fact and lay their plans accordingly.

SAVING THE FISH

With the depletion, or almost depletion, of the streams and lakes, productive methods of fish culture have not been developed to compare with the progress made along sane and conservative lines in poultry and stock breeding.

It seems that the public has been impressed that the resources of the water, if not inexhaustible, could be taken care of by the federal government and states and that the planting of millions of small fish would compensate for any number of large ones taken by anglers and even by seiners and giggers. The public has depended on incubator fish until there are no fish worth while in many American waters. The angler has gone the limit by catching the fish that laid the golden egg; so hatcheries all over the country are now vainly searching for brood fish, especially brood bass.

So great are the demands for fish for stocking purposes that it is doubtful whether they will ever be fully met. Government hatcheries, which once filled orders of four or five cans, are now asked to furnish stocking fish in carload and trainload quantities.

But for the work of the government hatcheries some of the most valuable species of fish would now be extinct in the United States. They have not only been saved from extinction but have been propagated in sufficient numbers to provide fairly good fishing in many sections.

EVILS OF BANKRUPTCY

Tremendous losses suffered as a result of the bankruptcy laws might be trimmed down somewhat by improved methods of administration, but they cannot be substantially reduced until the whole system is overhauled. And that is what the federal commission under the direction of Lloyd Garrison, special assistant to the attorney general, is working for.

Previous probes into abuses of bankruptcy have dealt chiefly with its administration. But the personal problem is far more important than the question of administration, which explains why the present inquiry is being centered upon the problem of the individual bankrupt, and why sweeping changes in bankruptcy laws will be recommended.

Among the questions the commission is striving to solve are: To what extent is the federal bankruptcy law a medium through which dishonest persons may swindle their creditors? Is there not some way more equitable than cancellation for settling debts of defunct corporations and individuals? How can individuals who take advantage of the bankruptcy laws by fraud be punished?

The urgency of these questions is seen in the amazing fact that last year's crop of bankrupts paid only 3 per cent of its agregate liabilities, which exceeded a billion dollars.

The man who thinks he cannot be fooled already is.

DEVELOPMENTS IN ILLINOIS POINT TO AN EXCITING RACE IN CAMPAIGN FOR SENATOR

By Charles P. Stewart
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—Recent events in Illinois have put a stiff kick into the wet-and-dry issue as a factor in this autumn's senate campaign.

Ever since prohibition's advent, each time an election has begun to loom some considerable distance ahead, this issue has promised to figure importantly at the polls; just as regularly, it has tended to lose its identity among a number of other issues as the campaign has drawn toward its finish.

This year the controversy looked like holding its own better than usual. Nevertheless, it was beginning to blur when the sucker state fight's latest developments brought it back into sharp outline.

Illinois obviously is a highly strategic spot on the prohibition map.

In the first place, it is large, populous and influential.

Secondly, it is a wet-and-dryly problematic spot. It includes a huge, wet city, but it also includes an extensive dry rural realm. As a state, it has gone wet on a couple of refserendums, but it was when that issue happened to be fairly clean cut; it is not so certain how it would go if the prohibition question and two or three other live questions were stirred together, so as to make it difficult for the voters to sort them out.

Finally, Illinois is right on the edge of the west—a region in which it is vital to the drys to lose no prestige; equally vital to the wets to score an outstanding victory, for the sake of its influence.

The drys possess a negative advantage when an election result is blurred as to the wet-and-dry issue; they can say:

"Well, it is not a wet result, anyway."

If the wets cannot demonstrate that the contrary is the case, then the assumption is that the electorate has not asked for a change—the people are suited with prohibition. It is up to the wets to show affirmatively that a change is demanded. As lawyers put it, the burden of proof is on them.

The Illinois wets believed that an opportunity for an unmistakable showdown was theirs, when they nominated the out-and-out wetly Democratic Colonel James Hamilton Lewis for the senate against the out-and-out dryly Republican Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick.

There was just one fly in the wet's ointment, but a very smelly fly; the wets had to admit that her Republicanism was vastly in Mrs. McCormick's favor.

Judging from the two past referendums, the wets felt tolerably confident of the state's wetness, but it likewise has been powerfully G. O. P.-ish in the last half generation's elections.

The most the wets dared to claim, at the outset, was a "fighting chance" for Colonel Lewis to win.

All they actually expected was that he would cut conspicuously into the Republicans' average majority. Truth to tell, there is not much nourishment in cutting into average majorities. It has its significance to politicians but the man in the street inquires only, "Who got elected?" and refuses even to listen if told that the victor was victorious by the barest skin of his teeth.

Then, all at once—

Mrs. McCormick announced that, should she be sent to the senate, although still a dry, she would not be too dry a senator to vote for a national referendum, provided Illinois "mandated" her to do so. It was enough of a compromise, the wets recognized, to prevent a lot of wet Republicans from reserting her for her wet Democratic rival.

This declaration's immediate effect was to take the keen edge off from the Illinois wet-and-dry fight. It would have stayed off if the state Anti-Saloon league had not presently whetted it back on again by launching Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill's candidacy as an independent dry Republican.

Opposed, solo, to Colonel Lewis, the odds emphatically were on Mrs. McCormick.

Mrs. McCormick freely proclaims that her prospects have been dimmed, seriously. Quite curiously, Colonel Lewis proclaims that his, too, have been dimmed.

A similar problem actually was worked out by the voters in New York in 1926. The answer there would tend to imply that the colonel's prospects have brightened.

In New York all the prophesying favored the re-election of the wet Republican Senator, James W. Wadsworth, over the candidacy of the wet Democratic Judge Robert F. Wagner—until the drys injected a prohibitionist-Republican independent into the situation. Whereupon the G. O. P. vote split, as was to have been anticipated, and Judge Wagner slid into Senator Wadsworth's seat.

New York is not Illinois, and Wadsworth was and is much wetter than Mrs. McCormick—who continues to declare how dry she is. Still, the comparison is interesting.

SCIENCE IS NOW CONVINCED THAT DIPTHERIA IS PREVENTABLE THROUGH IMMUNIZATION

By Dr. Morris Fishbein, Editor Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

With the opening of the schools the hazard of diphtheria increases.

Scientific investigators are convinced that diphtheria is a preventable disease through the use of the Schick test and of toxin-antitoxin. They are convinced that deaths from diphtheria, even when it is acquired through contagion, may be largely prevented if good antitoxin is given early and in sufficient amounts. Nevertheless the disease continues to occur with startling regularity and deaths are reported each year from every state.

Last year in Iowa there were 34 deaths from this cause. "The number 34 does not mean much in itself," says the epidemiologist, "and the one is not very much unless it is your child."

During the first six months of 1930 there were 10 more deaths than for the corresponding period of 1929. Twelve out of every 100 cases were fatal, which was an increase in the fatality rate, since 8.5 cases out of 100 died in 1929. The virulence of diphtheria varies from season to season.

According to the records of the Iowa State Department of Health, about 400,000 children in Iowa have received toxin-antitoxin. However, 42,500 new babies are born each year, and it is necessary that they be immunized promptly if the prevention is to be of service.

The giving of toxin-antitoxin carries little, if any, danger. In New York City more than a million children were immunized without harmful results. The discomfort is slight and the protection well worth while.

Physicians recommended that toxin-antitoxin immunization be performed before the child is one year old. They therefore recommend that not only the school children, but even those of pre-school age be given the benefit of immunization. Diphtheria takes the greatest toll among children who have not yet reached six years of age.

A scientist foresees sunshine condensed and sold in bottles. Why not? Moonshine comes that way.

THE WORLD IS COMPARATIVELY SMOOTHER THAN A BILLIARD BALL

The inequalities of the surface of our globe, its elevations and depressions, dwindle to insignificance when compared to the size of our earth. The reduction of our planet on a corresponding scale would cause the earth to appear superior in smoothness to even a billiard ball.

TOMORROW—THE CHURCH WITH A CROOKED SPIRE

The Hollywood Story

COPYRIGHT 1930 by NEA SERVICE Inc. by ERNEST LYNN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAN ROBIMER, a scenario writer in Hollywood, is in love with ANNE WINTER, who, beginning as an extra is now under contract to one of the largest studios. Anne lives with two other girls, MONA MORRISON, a gay little red head, and EVA HARLEY, a quiet girl who has had a tragic love experience. Eva and Mona are extras, but Mona works only occasionally and Eva very rarely, and this is another reason for her despondency.

PAUL COLLIER, who writes a daily movie column for a string of newspapers, shares Dan's apartapartment with him. Collier accidentally meets Eva on Hollywood Boulevard one day, and they run into a movie actor named FRANK MAURY. Maury, it develops, is the man who has broken Eva's heart. At sight of Eva Maury colors and hurries away and Eva almost faints. Late that night Anne Winter telephones Rorimer to come right over.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVIII

Anne heard him drive up, and she opened the door for him.

"Paul's waiting in the car," he told her, "just in case—"

She nodded, only half hearing him. "Eva tried—tried to take poison," she said, and began to cry.

Dan's arm went around her. "Come now, Anne, bear up. She's all right, isn't she? Did you call a doctor? Where is she?"

Anne pointed to the closed bedroom door, beyond which he could hear a muffled sobbing and another voice, placating and soothing—Mona, trying to quiet Eva.

"The doctor?" Dan repeated, and Anne told him that she had summoned one and he was on his way.

"But when I called you Eva was desperate. She kept struggling with Mona and fighting her off, and I was afraid." Anne was shaking.

He talked to her steadyingly and she became calmer, and he asked her to tell him what had happened; but before she could begin Mona's voice cried out and there was a scuffling noise at the door.

Dan glanced questioningly at Anne and she nodded mutely. "Call Paul in," he said, and he sprang toward the door and opened it. He saw Mona holding on desperately to Eva, who was trying to get out; and he seized the struggling girl by her wrists and forced her gently back to her bed and made her sit down.

"You must be quiet, Eva," he told her, keeping his hold on her wrists. And he said, "You're frightening Mona; can't you see what you're doing to Mona? Please be quiet."

Paul appeared then in the doorway, with Anne close behind him, her face twisted with worry.

"It'll be all right," Dan told them, and he thought that Anne must not stand around like that, she must have something to employ her hands; so he said, "Will you make me some coffee, Anne, please? I think perhaps we'll all need it," and she turned at once and went to the kitchen, with Paul following.

Anne had slipped into a dress before their arrival, and Mona had flung a robe about herself. She did this now for Eva, who continued to struggle feebly against Rorimer's strength, making no sound beyond an occasional gasping intake of breath.

There was no light on in the room, but light came in at the open door, and Eva Harley's face was shocking to see. Mona sat on her other side, with an arm around her, murmuring soothingly in her ear, and while they sat thus the doctor came.

Anne brought him to the room at once. Mona remained with him and Eva, but Dan, relieved of his duty there, joined Anne and Paul in the kitchen.

And he got Anne to tell him what had happened. Mona, who occupied the same bedroom with Eva, had heard Eva get up during the night, had followed her to the bathroom, and there had seen her with a bottle in her hand.

"And the wildest gleam in her eyes, Dan. Mona dashed it from her hand and Eva struggled with her, trying to get it again. And I woke up then and came out, and we managed to get Eva to her room."

But Eva had continued to struggle furiously, to cry out that she was going to kill herself, and both Mona and Anne were desperately frightened.

"So I called you right away, Dan, and then I called the doctor. I'm sorry I caused you so much trouble, but I was so worried I hardly knew what I was doing."

"You did exactly right," Dan said, patting her shoulder. "What are your friends for if you can't call on them? Stop worrying now; Eva will be all right."

He said, smiling, "How about that coffee, Anne? Isn't it ready

ANOTHER RESULT OF EXCESSIVE GUM IN GASOLENE

KOOLMOTOR GASOLENE IS FREE FROM HARMFUL GUM

EXCESSIVE gum in gasolene causes delayed seating and, in some cases, complete sticking of the valves in your engine. Faulty valve action allows unburned gasolene to blow out through the exhaust. Recent tests have shown as much as 20% to 30% gasolene wasted because of improper valve operation.

Koolmotor — the original high test, anti-knock green gas—is free from harmful gum. It keeps your valves clean and free-moving—ready to do their best at all times.

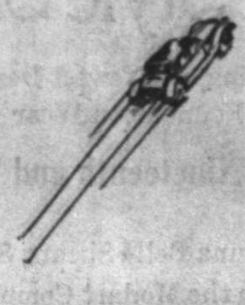

A special process—the Cities Service mini-gum process—has reduced the gum content in Koolmotor Gasolene to a harmless minimum.

Keep your tank full of Koolmotor and protect yourself against this loss of mileage and the expense caused by sticky valves. Fill your tank with this powerful, clean burning motor fuel today!

Horn Talks to Tech Freshmen In Convocation

Retention of Principles Required in High School and Home Urged by President of State Institution Here

Retention by college students of principles acquired in home and high school, as an aid to success after leaving college, was urged by Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, in addressing freshman of the school Wednesday morning in the college gymnasium.

Prescribing "hard and intelligent work" as the way to success, Dr. Horn told the first-year students that "freshman days are the most important ones in college because of adjustments that are necessary in coming from a home where a student has been guarded—now it is up to you."

"The greatest danger which confronts you today," the Technological college president told the freshmen, is "lies in your being placed upon your own responsibility."

Hundreds of students and scores of town people were present at this first meeting of the new term. All new students were asked by college authorities to attend the program where they received an orientation schedule intended to aid them in adjusting to classroom and campus life.

Deans Introduced

Announcements were made by Dean A. H. Leidigh concerning the afternoon's routine and Dr. Horn introduced the five deans of the college and Jack Boyd and Miss Joe Wilder, new Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. secretaries.

E. L. Doheney, registrar, stated that C. C. Lindsey, local theater manager, is giving passes to new students and these will be presented during registration.

The college band played the new song, "Fight Matadors" and later the group sang it, with Mrs. Ethridge Eagan at the piano and W. R. Waghorne leading. A violin number was given by Mrs. Charles Hilburn, with Mrs. J. A. Rix playing accompaniment.

With freshman orientation out of the way, Tech college this morning will begin definite classification of this year students. Friday and Saturday sophomores and upper classmen will register, preparatory to the formal opening of the fall term of the fifth annual session next Wednesday morning at convocation. Classes will begin Monday, September 22.

Lubbock churches will have annual open house Friday night and Saturday night. President Horn's annual reception to all students will be given in the lobby of the administration building.

Robbers Take Cotton, Watch

Twelve Hundred Pounds Taken from Field Near Becton on Tuesday; Stolen Automobile Recovered by Officers

A stolen automobile was recovered and theft of a wrist watch from a hotel was reported here Wednesday as Lubbock county officers remained on the lookout for 1,200 pounds of cotton stolen Tuesday from a field near Becton.

Officers and gin operators thoroughout the South Plains were requested to watch for the cotton, some of which was clean, some dirty and some mixed with green leaves. A wagon containing the cotton, which had been picked during the last three days, was emptied by thieves Tuesday. The cotton belonged to S. H. Burke of Becton.

County officers early Wednesday afternoon found an automobile at Broadway and Texas avenue which had been reported stolen about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning from the 300 block of Broadway. The car a small coupe, owned by M. Simpson of Lubbock, was undamaged, although about five gallon of gasoline was missing from the tank.

A wrist watch was reported stolen Tuesday from a room in the Lidel hotel while the owner was absent.

Farm Price Index Gains After Being Below 1921 Level; September Rising

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. — A three per cent recession of farm prices from July 15 to August 15 was said today by the department of agriculture to have sent the farm price index below the lowest level reached in 1921.

This decline followed a sharp break in the farm price level the preceding month. As of August 15 the index was 108 compared with 111 on July 15, with 123 on June 15 and 143 a year ago.

From August 15 to September 10, however, price advances at primary markets outweighed declines, although cotton and wheat failed to maintain their gains into the first part of September. The gains have been most noticeable in hogs, cattle, potatoes and butter, the department said.

Lubbock Study Plan Praised

Group Method Lauded by Former Superintendent of Public Schools in Chicago in recent "School, Society"

The group and study method used in the Lubbock public schools was praised by William McAndrews, former superintendent of public schools in Chicago, in a recent number of "School and Society."

Three years ago M. H. Duncan, superintendent, introduced the method of instruction in the schools here and recently wrote a booklet on adaptation of the plan to the Lubbock school system.

Has This To Say

Dr. McAndrews has the following to say regarding the method:

"If you have had the good fortune to visit Maguire's school (the Crotona Park Junior High School, New York City), of if you have read his enlightening book, "The Group-Study Plan," you will realize the genius shown by this advanced schoolmaster in that he has put into operation a scheme which of itself enforces the technique of teaching desire. If you try to play by ear, you (the teacher) are inevitably stopped by the plan itself. Whence comes Maguire's belief that the public will not forever suffer the teaching that knows nought of the techniques established during our generation by the researchers. Mr. Maguire says:

"'The public will not forever let teachers go on teaching by ear. A cheap orchestra can be made up of players who can not read a note. They vamp their parts. But a discriminating public won't pay for performers unless they have mastered the techniques. Schools will come to that.'"

There are more than 800,000 insured workers in southeast England; of these only 7 per cent of the men and 5 per cent of the women were unemployed in May.

Circus Is Sued

Man Loses Eye In Cannon Act

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 17 —(AP)—The spectacle of a man being shot from a cannon literally knocked his eye out, Vancel Melka, Enid, alleged in a suit for $20,000 damages filed against Barnum and Bailey and Ringling Brothers circus today.

Melka said the cannon backfired, causing injury which resulted in the loss of sight in one eye while he was attending the performance at Enid September 10.

The City of Tulsa, recently visited by the circus, also filed suit for damages today, asking $25,000 for alleged damage to streets by the heavy circus wagons.

NEGRO SUSPECT HELD

Black Identified as Attacker of White Couple Sunday

AUSTIN, Sept. 17. (AP)—A negro believed to be the one who slugged John Harkey and attempted to attack his wife near Webberville Sunday night, was in the custody of police today, tentively identified by the Harkey's as their assailant.

The couple were walking to their home. Harkey was clubbed over the head, and then the negro dragged Mrs. Harkey through a barbed wire fence by the roadside and tore her clothing from her. The man fled when Harkey, recovering consciousness, came to battle his wife's attackers.

The nengro, the second arrested in the investigation, lived near the scene of the attack and had a bandaged cut on an arm. Mrs. Harkey told of biting her assailant on the arm.

Plainview Boy Killed in Car Crash Tuesday

Tragedy Marks Return of Six Children from Showing of Circus Here; Two Cars Run Together North of Here

Joyous trip of six Plainview children to the circus here was climaxed by tragedy late Tuesday night when a automobile driven by C. L. Smith, father of three of the children, overturned en route to Plainview following a collision with another car and caused the death of Fred McPherson, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McPherson of Plainview.

The fatal accident occurred about nine miles south of Plainview on the newly paved highway when Smith attempted to pass an automobile occupied by J. E. Sheelon, Jr., and Leonard Hobbs, also of Plainview, who likewise had attended the night performance of the circus here.

One machine evidently snagged the other and both overturned. The McPherson boy, who had fallen asleep in the front seat of the Smith car, was taken to Plainview but before a hospital was reached there. Other occupants, including two other of the McPherson children, escaped with minor injuries.

THERE'S a harmony between the natural loveliness of this modern age and the natural, mild goodness of Camels. And if you find them keeping company, don't be surprised.

Camel has given the world the luxury of a naturally mild cigarette —a cigarette that preserves all the refreshing fragrance of the choice, mild tobaccos from which it is made—a cigarette that is delightfully smooth, but never flat, never parched, never tasteless.

Modern smokers are awake to the fact that mere flatness doesn't mean mildness. That's one reason there's such a swing to Camels. Watch it right in your own crowd. Join them in Camels—a smoke that's enjoyable all the way—all the time.

Panthers Go Hitless in 8th But Score Three Runs on Chicks' Errors; Beck Lets Six Cats Hit Safely

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 17. — Fort Worth Panthers, winners of four Dixie series pennant, showed some 7,000 howling fans how to score three runs on no hits and took the first game of the series, 4 to 3, from the champion Chicks of the noon.

The Cats bore the Texas League standard in the inaugural of the tenth Dixie title battle.

Doc Prothro's team, seeking to avenge two previous Dixie pennants won from them by Fort Worth, got everything but runs while the Cats, in the wild eighth, scored three runs on two walks and two errors.

The Chicks took a one run lead in the second, yielded a tie score in the fifth, and went into the lead intheir half of the same inning, 3 to 2. Then came the eighth and gloom for Memphis.

Beck walked Moore and Mallon, first two up. Beck threw Bonowitz's bunt to third when there was no one there and Moore and Mallon secored. Then McDaniel, Chick first baseman, dropped a throw and Bonowitz went first to second, and then across the plate on a sacrifice fly. Both teams went out in short order in the final inning.

Dick McCabe, manager Snyder's first nomination for mound duty, gave up seven hits to Beck's six.

Frnkamen Meet Colorado High Team Friday

Westerners Go Through Hard Scrimmages Preparing for Wolves' Invasion; Announce Probable Starting Lineup

Coach Henry Frnka will send his Lubbock High school Westerners through the final workout this afternoon before the first game of the season here tomorrow. For the past week the Westerners have drilled intensively in preparation for the invasion by the Colorado High Wolves.

Yesterday afternoon saw the Westerners go through one of the toughest workouts of the year, when the Pioneers, second string squadsmen, were pitted against probable starters in tomorrow's game in a stiff scrimmage session. After more than an hour of this, the Westerners scrimmaged each other in a passing, kicking, and running practice. Considerable time was spent with the probable starters on defensive plays, and particularly on pass defense. The Colorado team is known to have a well formed passing attack, and for the past several days the Westerner mentors have worked with their charges in perfecting a defense against the aerial attack that is almost certain to be used against them tomorrow.

Probable Lineup for Friday

Although a definite lineup has not been announced by Coach Frnka, it is probable that the starting backfield will consist of Co-Captain Dub Lawson at quarter, Obie Teal and Co-Captain Mina Watkins at halves, and Johnson at full. These men have shown good form in recent workouts and appear to be the leaders so far. Another group of backfield men may be alternated with the starters early in the game.

Fight For Line Berths

Hard battles for line positions are being fought by candidates for the berths, and it is hard to say just who the Westerner skipper will start in the forward wall tomorrow. Present indications are that Scoggins will start at center, though Pace and Crawford are making strong bids for the pivot position. All three have been making good showings in the middle of the line in the practice season, and it will be hard to pick the leader of this department.

Watson and Martin, Ends

As for the wing positions, it is likely that Watson and Martin will be called on to start as ends, though Spears and Blagg are pretty certain to get in the game. This quartet of ends looks good on the practice field and in scrimmage. Coming to the tackle posts is discovered another quartet of contestants for the positions next the ends. It is probable that Castle and Brawley will start, with Payne and Williams held in reserve. The latter are sure to see service in the opening game.

Grigg and McGehee are due to start at the guard positions, but will not play the entire game. Abbott and Welch will go in probably before the first half is over. All four are looking good on the fied, and any two are likely to get the nod to start the fracas, though Grigg and McGehee appear to have better chances to start.

The team to start against Colorado will be picked by the coaches this afternoon and pitted against their squad mates for a strenuous workout on the eve of the opening game of the season.

The Wolves of Colorado are stronger than usual this year, and Coach Harry Taylor's charges will come to Lubbock rather confident of a victory. They held the upper hand throughout three quarters last Friday in a game with the Abilene High Eagles, and staged a passing attack that all but spelled defeat to the Class A contenders of the Oil Belt district.

MYSTERY UNSOLVED

SASKATOON, Sask., Sept. 17. (AP) —Mystery still enshrouded the disappearance of Swanee Taylor, flier, as the entrants in the 1930 national air tour prepared to hop off today for Edmonton, Alta. It was believed that Taylor, unreported since leaving Grand Forks, N. D., with the tour on Sunday, may have put back for New York.

Seventy-Five Freshmen Report For Texas Tech Picador Gridiron Squad

Coaches Expect 35 Others to Sign Next Week

Picadors—75 of them, entered the Texas Tech football arena yesterday and engaged in the initial supervised workout of the 1930 season. Some 35 more are expected to draw grid regalia and report to Freshman Coach Duchey Smith this week or the early part of next week.

The introduction of the first year men to Texas Tech athletics took the form of scrimmage plays against their older but not bigger brother, the Matadors. Most of the fish, far from small fry, issued uniforms earlier in the week, and were ready to go when the whistle sounded yesterday afternoon. The morning was spent in freshmen orientation exercises, medical examinations, and general lining up as per early college life requirements.

Fish Scrimmage Varsity

After a period of warming up exercises, varsity and freshmen squads were divided into groups and engaged in stiff scrimmage sessions. This work will continue for a few days until the Picador squadsmen are toughened to the life of college athletes. Heavy scrimmage within the varsity squad will start about the first of next week.

Struggle for positions

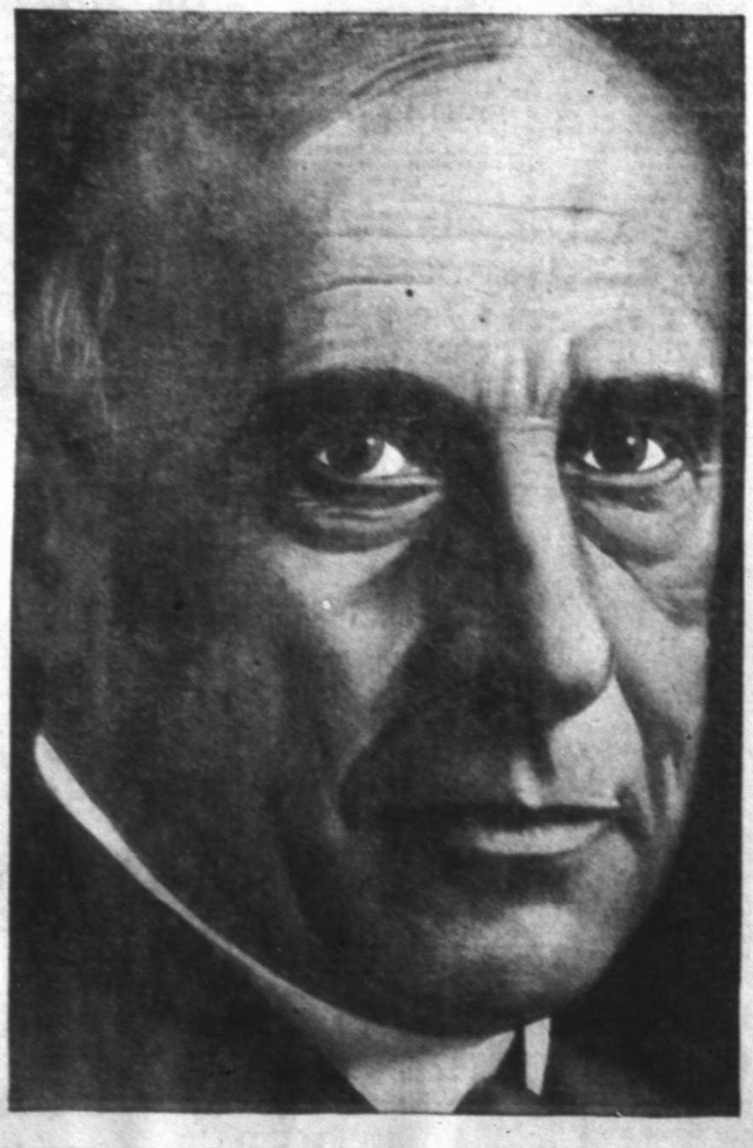

So strenuous has been the practice menu dished out to the Matadors in the past week that a little can be told in regard to the most outstanding candidates for the varsity berths. Lack of seeded material from last year's team will cause a heated race for positions on the first eleven, though ten letter men return for old places.

Likely Backfield Starters

Coming out for backfield positions are a number of gridsters who are potential stars. Coach Cawthon and Coach Golightly have been drilling this department for the last week and among those who seem to show promise of making strong bids for backfield positions are Franz, a 145-pound quarterback coming up from last season's squad; Doose, a half back on last season's fish team; Hodges, letter man on the 1929 varsity and star half back; and Moffett, husky half back recruit from the freshman team; Woolridge, letter man from last year, and Brothers, one of the leading stars of the 1929 team, are back and will stage a strong fight for their old positions.

In the line it appears that strong er competition will be made between letter men, squadsmen, and freshmen of last year. Captain Jack Durham probably will play the center position from the start of the season to the finish, though he will not be without competition. Ray Vinzant is almost a sure starter for right end, and Nixon is pretty certain to start the first game at one of the guard positions. Ayers, Allen and Jones are making strong bids for the other guardian post. It is a tossup between Teal, Tadlock, and Howell for the left end position. Tackle candidates who are looking good at present, and who are due to play the majority of the season's games are George Langford and Simmons.

His complaint brought an answering smile to Anne's lips. The percolator was bubbling and she poured coffee for them, and Dan prevailed upon her to take a cup herself.

Mona came out while they were drinking it, and Dan poured some for her; and some minutes later the physician joined them. He had given Eva an emetic, and an opiate. "She's sleeping now," he said.

Anne offered him coffee, which he declined, and she thought it best to explain the presence of Rorimer and Collier. The doctor noticed and he began to question her at length about Eva Harley.

He got the whole story, except-ing Frank Maury's name. He asked, after some moments of thought, whether Eva had exhibited similar emotional disturbances before this. Mona said, "No, Doctor," and she went on to say that, in her opinion, something like this had been inevitable because of Eva's silent, brooding ways. "I've always been afraid of it."

He questioned her, then, as to Eva's attitude and behavior, and considered her answers gravely. It might be dangerous, he thought, for Eva to be alone; in her present unbalanced state she might be dangerous to others; he did not want Anne or Mona to run unnecessary risks.

His advice was that Eva should be taken to a hospital, where she could be kept under careful observation for a few days.

Mona and Anne were appalled, and Mona made some protest. "But, doctor—"

He interrupted, smilingly but firmly. "Then a nurse, at least," he said; "but I advise the hospital." He glanced at Dan and Paul in turn, and Dan nodded and said: "It's best. If Eva is really—sick, Mona, you'll want her to have the best of care."

The doctor said encouragingly that Eva might be all right in the morning, but Dan understood that he was concerned, and he accompanied him to the telephone, where the doctor called the hospital and made arrangements for an invalid car so that Eva's sleep should not be disturbed.

Dan asked frankly: "Is there any danger of Eva losing her mind? Is that what you're afraid of?"

But the physician shook his head and frowned. "I'm not competent to say; but I don't care to trust a person with a suicidal mania, however temporary, in a house with two girls. I'm going to have a psychiatrist look at her."

He talked to Dan privately for some minutes, and Dan was satisfied that he was entirely right in wanting to relieve Mona and Anne of Eva's care. Dr. Howson remained until the invalid car arrived.

When it departed Anne cried again, and Mona, even, was utterly tearless. The two young men remained for a while with reassuring words, and then they left, and they were thoughtful and silent on the ride home.

Anne had to work the next day, but Mona, who was free, called on Eva at the hospital and found her calmer, though penitent and tearful. Mona called Dan to tell him.

"And there's nothing to worry about. The doctors say it's more nervous shock than anything, and as soon as Eva has rested from it she can come home. I'm sure glad."

Dan said the was, too. But he said bluntly, Mona, don't you really think that it would be best for Eva if she left Hollywood and went back where she came from? I mean, considering her failure to get along in picture work and her—and this thing about Maury. Don't think so? She's terribly unhappy here."

"I know it." There was silence from Mona after that, but in a few moments he heard her voice again and it sounded tearful. She said: "Aw, gee, Dan, you don't know how good Eva's been to me. . . . . but I guess you're right. Only, I'd hate to see her go—she's the best friend I've got."

When Collier came home that afternoon Dan thought he looked like the cat that had swallowed the canary. He sat down at once at his typewriter, but when he had thrust a sheet of paper under the platen, and twirled it, he sat and stared at it, and Dan saw him grin rather foolishly.

"What's the matter?" Dan asked.

"Out with it."

Collier turned a bland gaze on him. "Out with what?"

"There's something on your mind, you big stiff; you can't fool me."

But Collier denied that this was so. "The only thing on my mind is this story—that and the fact that you and I have a date tomorrow night to go to the opening. Anne's still going, by the way, isn't she?"

Dan said she was, and he stood there and looked at Collier suspiciously for some time. "You've been up to something," he said finally, and he turned away and left Paul to his work.

His suspicion proved to be well-founded, but it was not until the next day that he heard the story from Johnny Riddle. Johnny, who sooner or later heard about everything, said that Collier had pulled Frank Maury's nose.

"No!" Dan said.

"I'm telling you," Johnny insisted. "There were witnesses. The story's all over Hollywood now."

The incident lost nothing in Johnny's dramatic version of it. This was substantiatially correct, but a bit colored, Dan learned that evening when he accused Paul Collier as they were dressing for the opening.

"Holding out on me, eh"?

Collier grinned guiltily. "What do you mean?"

"You don't know, eh?"

Paul said, "I ran into him over on the Lawson Brothers' lot, and I asked him how come all the embarrassment the other afternoon. Frank got insulting, so I pulled his nose for him."

Rorimer laughed at the terse narration. "What did he do about it?"

"Nothing." Paul was struggling into a wing collar.

"You knew darn well you'd run into Maury over at Lawson Brothers, didn't you?"

"Nothing of the kind." Paul denied, "I had business over there."

"You're an awful liar," Dan said. "Well—" and he thrust out his hand, and Paul grabbed it and grinned.

"Did it hurt?" Dan asked.

"How do I know?" said Paul. "It wasn't my nose."

Cotton — Cotton Market Is Quiet Wednesday

Grain — Nothing Doing in Export Wheat Mart

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 17. (AP)—The cotton market today was rather quiet with comparatively narrow price fluctuations and an absence of definite trend in prices. Good cables and the statement that the India boycott was waning. Proved responsible for an early advance of 10 points. After the weekly weather and crop summary was issued showing more favorable crop conditions than looked for, prices eased off and the decline was helped by hedge selling values declining 12 to 15 points from the highs.

The market continued to rule quiet all afternoon with prices near the lows and October made a new low 13 points under the earlier high. The close was a little above the lowest, showing net 2 points up to 2 points down.

Liverpool came in to 6 points better than due and first trades here showed gains of 3 points. The market continued to gain after the start on the strength of the cables and covering, October trading up to 11.06 and December to 11.25, or 10 points above the previous close.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 17. (AP)—Early advance on relatively steady Liverpool cables and reports of continued holdings in the South was followed by reactions under realizing or liquidation and a little more Southern selling in the market here today. New December contracts after selling up to 11.24 or 13 points net higher eased off to 11.06 or 5 points net lower and closed at 11.10. The final tone of the market was steady net 1 point lower to 5 points higher.

The opening was steady at an advance of 5 to 10 points on some trade buying and a moderate commission house demand for the later months, which seemed to be promoted by more encouraging reports from the Manchester goods market as well as by relatively small offerings from the South and the steadiness of Liverpool.

Cables advices received here from Manchester said there were persistent rumors there that the Indian boycott against British goods was lifting. Liverpool cables reported Continental and Bombay buying and light hedging in that market. Exports today 38,896, making 824,341 so far this season. Port receipts 49,774. U. S. port stocks 2,185,539.

of sight of her crest-fallen rival and escorted by a few boats outside of the big coast guard patrol, Enterprise completed the remaining 25 miles of the windward leeward to score her third consecutive victory, in hollow style.

All Enterprise now needs is one more triumph to clinch the series and keep the America's cup in the custody of the New York Yacht club for another indefinite span of time.

The fourth, and possibly deciding, race will be sailed tomorrow if the weather holds favorable, for Shamrock came in for repairs and it was announced she would be ready to go out again, without taking any extra time.

Laborious Improvements are Made in Financial Markets; Bonds are Strong

BY JOHN L. COOLEY

NEW YORK, Sept. 17. —The financial markets made laborious improements today. Stock prices averaged less than a point higher in the second smallest turnover of the year, 1,188,580 shares. Grains again rose, but the advances were small. High grade bonds, especially railroad obligations, showed moderate strength.

Shares worked upward in extremely quiet trading until the late dealings when some profit-taking cut into the advances of a point or more in the market leaders. Utilities received the bulk of wheat buying activity there was and the day's best gains developed in that group. Railroad and motion picture shares were heavy. Industrials listlessly followed the upward trend, although U. S. Steel yielded all but an eighth of its extreme gain of more than a point.

One of the most encouraging developments was the appearance of evidence that prices for two of the basic commodities, steel and copper, had reached such low levels that import consumers were changing, or were about to change, their hand to mouth buying policies. Iron and steel reviews, although putting operations about on a parity with recent ratios, reported that large users of steel apparently developed prices had reached bottom and, in the words of "Iron Age," were now willing to "contract ahead."

ant telephone police.

Two officers responded to the call but one of the gunmen on guard outside saw them first. He poked the muzzle of a sub-machine gun inside their car and ordered them to drive on.

They drove back to the police station and returned with reinforcements to find the bandits gone. Clearing a way with a wailing siren, the robbers had dashed in a big black car through Lincoln's business district and headed south.

Just after the bank opened this morning, the robber crew drove up. They took two loungers with them into the bank and commanded everyone to lie on the floor. President W. E. Barkley and Cashier Phill Hall were struck down by blows from revolver butts when they tried to argue. Neither was seriously injured.

The robbers quickly put available currency into two pillow ticks. They failed to get open more than one of the safes inside the vault and walked out of the bank again.

Rail hogs steady; top 10.25; truck top 10.20; packing sows 7.50 and 8.00. Sheep about steady; fleshy feeder lambs at 5.00; bidding 3.75 on some wetters.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 17. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Cattle trade around the eleven market circuit was dull on killing classes with packers enforcing declines of 25-50. Light weight fed steers and yearlings generally showed the full decline. A short load of yearling steers in Kansas City of outstanding quality scored 13.00, but in Chicago best yearlings landed at 12.65. Best heavy steers offered around the loop landed at 11.50. Receipts were estimated at 49,400.

Hog trade was moderately active at values unevenly steady to 25 lower with most points showing declines of 5-15. The day's extreme top of 11.00 was paid at Chicago. Offerings were around 62,000.

The supply of sheep approximated 95,400. Fat lambs were steady to 25 lower as compared with Tuesday's dull close and at some markets losses of 25-50 were taken by aged stock. Chicago had a top of 8.50 on both native lambs and rangers. Fat western lambs at river markets sold up to 8.00.

Missing Wife

Los Angeles sheriff's office that her checks, made out for small amounts had been coming through from Las Vegas for a week.

Beery, appealing to federal authorities to determine if federal laws had been violated, advised the justice agents he had been informed Mrs. Beery was "not alone" in Las Vegas. He said he understood his "wife and companion" were in the Nevada town and might be expected to return here soon.

The Las Vegas investigators said the man with Mrs. Beery had given the name of Wells. Court files here showed one Raymond Wells, Hollywood motion picture promoter, several months ago, sued Beery for $50,000 damages for alleged assault. Wells claimed Beery injured his skull in knocking him to the street. Beery made a denial and the case never was tried, it being understood it was settled out of court.

PLEA IS DENIED

Statement from Carlstrom Not Allowed in Hearings

CHICAGO, Sept. 17. —The senate committee investigating campaign expenditures today denied for the last time a plea of Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom of Illinois that he be allowed to present a statement in defense of Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican nominee for the United States senate.

With this gesture the committee calculated to purge the remaining hearings of everything pertaining to charges of espionage wire tapping and desk rifling and to continue strictly along the lines of its main inquiry. This policy was declared yesterday, thorugh the reason advanced then for not hearing Calstrom was that Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York was not present.

Spain has abandoned its plan for a radio monopoly.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Sept. 17. (AP)—Nothing was doing in export wheat on the Fort Worth cash grain market Wednesday but dealers reported a fair demand for milling grain with mills bidding 93 1-2 to 94 1-2, basis No. 1 hard milling of any protein content. No sales were reported to the close of the market and these prices were called nominal.

Fair demand was reported for corn and oats. Barley was very slow. Trade in grain sorghums was small and scattering.

Estimated receipts: Wheat, 14 cars; corn, 9; oats, 5, and Barley, 3.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered freight paid to Texas common points:

Corn, No. 2 mixed 96-97; No. 2 white 97-98; No. 2 yellow 1.07-1.08.

Oats, No. 2 red 51-51 1-2; No. 3 white delivered Texas group one points 48 1-2-49, to which add one cent for delivery group three points.

Barley, No. 2 nominally, 68-69.

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally 1.93-1.97; No. 2 kaffir 1.65-1.66.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 17. (AP)—Fresh upturns in wheat values today went hand in hand with further sharp curtailment of the harvest movement both in Canada and the United States. Canadian country marketings for 24 hours amounted to but 2,447,000 bushels against 3,834,000 bushels a year ago, with Minneapolis and Duluth receiving only 560 cars against 934 cars at this time last year. Meanwhile, domestic milling centers reported new flour business averaging up to capacity or better, and flour buyers less fortified than usual at this time in regard to purchasing.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1c higher. Corn closed 1-2-1 3-4c up, oats 1-8, 7-8c advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 13c.

Bulkley Asks Prohi Repeal

Democratic Candidate for Ohio Senate Post Advocates Action and Challenges Republican Foes

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17.—Robert J. Bulkley, democratic candidate for United States senator from Ohio, advocated repeal of the eighteenth amendment in an address before the democratic state convention here today, and challenged his Republican foes to meet the prohibition situation "squarely and frankly."

Referring to the address of United States Senator Simeon D. Fess, republican national chairman, before the Ohio Republican convention in which Fess virtually ignored prohibition and declared it was not an issue unless the democrats make it so, Bulkley said it was neither a state nor party issue. United States Senator Roscoe McCulloch, Bulkley's opponent, has declared opposition to repealing the amendment.

Bulkley also discussed economic conditions of the country, refraining from placing full responsibility for the business depression on the shoulders of the Hoover administration, though contending that republicans should accept blame in view of their claims of responsibility for past periods of prosperity. "One would think that they might at least have learned the lesson that economic forces continue to operate without regard to who sits in the White House," he said.

New Freak 'Jake' Compound Turned Up in University

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Editor

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 17. (AP)—A new freak of "Jamaica ginger compound," a mysterious color affinity that affects chickens and men alike, has turned up in research at the University of Cincinnati.

In the medical department the ingredients of this liquor, which caused about 300 cases of paralysis around Cincinnati a few months ago, are under searching analysis.

Negroes Not Hurt Much

It was noted at the time of this Cincinnati outbreak that nearly all the victims were white, negroes constituting less than three per cent. At the same time reports brought to the university, when analysis of samples of the liquor was undertaken, stated that much of the drink had been sold in negro districts.

F. J. Andress, who is conducting the research, tried samples of the drink on monkeys, rabbits and white rats, but all these animals were immune to paralysis. Then he tried it on chickens, the bird family having a well known susceptibility to poison.

He gave it to white chickens and every one developed either paralysis or symptoms of paralysis.

But when he gave it to black chickens not one of them showed a symptom of paralysis.

Scientists who attended the chemical meetings here this week made a guess that the paralysis of ginger jake "is a function of pigmentation" meaning that the coloring matter in pigment, that makes the complexion, may in some manner combine with something in the drink to give the whites a special poison.

Mr. Andress says the experiments are too incomplete to throw any light on these guesses.

Dissenting Vote Filed in Oklahoma Sunday Search Warrant Controversy

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 17. (AP)—Judge Will A. Chappell, Republican member of the state criminal court of appeals, filed a dissenting opinion today to the court's decision which he said held that a search warrant cannot be served on Sunday unless the officers concerned can show in advance that there has been a breach of peace.

If the decision is allowed to stand, Judge Chappell asserted, bootleggers will be permitted to operate virtually unmolested one day a week.

Judge Chappell declared that the laws do not prohibit in any way the serving of a search warrant on Sunday. It is up to the defendant, not the state, he continued, to show there was no breach of the peace.

The decision was made in a Canadian county case in which a farmer was arrested for possession of liquor.

Chappell characterized the case as the "most far reaching to come before the appellate court in years."

The attorney general's office has asked a rehearing.

Those injured in Mukilteo, about one and one half miles from the plant, were struck by falling debris. The town lies at the bottom of a long, sloping hill on which the plant is located. Windows were broken and persons knocked from their chairs in Everett, seven miles north of the powder works.

The missing truck driver is Earl Greenwood, 35, who had been working overtime. The names of the missing night watchmen were not learned.

Communications near the plant were cut off as the blast wrecked telephone wires.

World Credit Is at Stake

Shortage of Gold Blamed in Credit Situation, Senator Pittman of Nevada Says; England After Metal

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17. — Senator Key Pittman, of Nevada, an authority on gold and silver mining, said last night the credit of the world was threatened by a shortage of gold and by "England's desperate attempt to get enough of the yellow metal to stabilize her silver currency.

In the credit situation, Senator Pittman said, was seen the promise of a tremendous boom in gold mining in California, Nevada and other western states.

Production Decreasing

"The production of the world gold supply is decreasing steadily," the senator said. "The finances of the world are based on this metal and there are grounds for uneasiness as to credit voiced by economists, who hold credit is being strained.

"There is a tremendous rivalry between governments to obtain gold. The United States now has nearly half the World supply, while France has about a quarter. England, on the other hand, has but about one-tenth and in her effort to get gold to sustain her gold basis currency in India has been melting up and sacrificing great quantities of silver coin and dumping it on the world market. This has broken the price of silver, which is the only measure of wealth in countries comprising the population of half the world.

"Consequently the value of nearly one-half of the world has been reduced by the reduction of the purchasing power of silver in such countries as China, India, Russia, Mexico, and those of South America."

NEW MEDICINE ENDS SUFFERING OF FIVE YEARS

"I Was About to Give Up Hope Before I Found Konjola," Says This Lady

MRS. ALLENE TIPTON

"For five years I was troubled with neuritis and indigestion," said Mrs. Allene Tipton, 2311 Broadway, San Antonio. "I used many medicines but none of them helped me like Konjola. The neuritis pains in my arms and chest were almost unbearable. After eating I was sure to suffer the cramping pains of indigestion. My stomach bloated with gas and my heart often palpitated wildly.

"I was about to give up in despair before I found Konjola. I had not completed the first bottle before I began to note an improvement and now, after the third bottle, I have greatly improved in every respect. Neuritis pains have gone entirely. I now eat heartily without any discomfort afterward. I gladly endorse this splendid medicine."

Given a real test, in most cases over a six to eight week period, Konjola has done for thousands all that it did for Mrs. Tipton. Why not begin with this great medicine today?

Konjola is sold in Lubbock, Texas, at Bowen's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Texas Cattle Holding Up

Slight Decline Is Noted in Past Month Despite Continued Drouth in State; Ranges Fairly Good

(By Associated Press)

SWEETWATER, Sept. 17. (AP) — continued drouth, livestock held up "remarkably well" during August, the report of the statistical department of the United States department of Agriculture here said. Condition of cattle declined only four points to 78 per cent and sheep condition declined five points to 76 per cent, the report said. There were areas in the state that had an abundance of feed and ranges were reported fairly good in these sections. Most of the central portion of the state, the western edge of the panhandle, the coastal belt, and all of the southern portion have produced a sufficient amount of feed to meet all local demand and a few of these favored localities have produced a surplus, the report said.

The condition in the sheep and goat area was said to be becoming critical. Losses were heavy, and heavier than usual losses from soremouth and screw worms was reported, the prospect was that fewer sheep would be shorn this year.

Ranges were fifteen points below the five year average, cattle seven points below the five year average, sheep 11 points lower and goats 7 points lower.
