FINAL SCHOOL PROGRAM HELD

Seniors Receive Diplomas; Hon. Geo. W. Dupree, Lubbock Speaks To 1929-'30 Class

At the close of the Commencement Exercises held in the high school auditorium on last Thursday evening, diplomas were presented to thirty-two graduates, this being the largest graduating class in the history of the Tahoka schools. Another unusual circumstance relating to this class is the fact that it consisted of an equal number of boys and girls, sixteen of each. The diplomas were presented by Hon. G. H. Nelson on behalf of the school board, now county attorney of this county but formerly superintendent of the Tahoka schools, and most of the members of the graduating class had been his students while he was connected with the schools four years ago.

The address was delivered to the graduates by Hon. George W. Dupree of Lubbock, a former classmate of Superintendent Baze and at the present time a prominent attorney of Lubbock. His address was a thoughtful and carefully prepared one, appealing to the best in each member of the class.

The program for the evening was begun by an invocation pronounced by Rev. O. J. Hull, following which the class sang the newly adopted state song, "Texas, Our Texas." Miss Lola Smith delivered the Salutatory address while Walter Conway was the Valedictorian. A beautiful vocal solo was rendered by Miss Lucille Slaton accompanied by Miss Bessie Mae Binnion at the piano. In fact, Miss Binnion presided at the piano during the entire musical program.

Another unique feature of the program was the Pledge of Allegiance administered to the members of the class by Judge C. H. Cain. This was done in an impressive manner and was a fine feature of the program.

The presentation of the Key of Knowledge by the Senior Class, thru its president, Edgar Edwards, to the Junior Class acting through its president, J. D. Donaldson, Jr., was also an interesting feature. This beautiful little ceremony has become a tradition of the Tahoka High School, the Key of Knowledge being handed down by each Senior class to its successor at the close of each school year. This key was designed and carved out by Everett Nevil, while a high school boy, several years ago.

This marked the close of not only of the 1929-'30 school term but it also marked the close of four years service as superintendent by Mr. Baze. Mr. Baze has done a splendid work here during this period of time. The Tahoka schools have made excellent progress under his supervision, and the Tahoka schools as well as Mr. Baze should feel honored in that in severing his connection with the schools here he becomes connected with the great Texas Technological College at Lubbock. It is to be hoped that he may have a long and fruitful tenure of service in that institution.

LYNN COUNTY FARMERS FIND PROFIT IN POULTRY RAISING

During the past five months 3421 dozen eggs have been produced at a cost of 8.2c per dozen by four Lynn County poultry demonstrators who are working with County Agent Ray Shaver.

The four men have kept an average of 570 hens per month and have made a profit of $187.51 per month. This is an average of 32c per hen per month or the equivalent of $1.60 per hen for the five months. The grain that the hens picked up about the place was not added to the cost of production because no estimate could be made of it. Mr. Young and Mr. Beard have sold some hatching eggs, but all other eggs were sold on the local market at prevailing prices.

All four men have culled closely, fed a laying mash all the time, kept the birds free from insects, worms and disease.

Singing Convention Saturday and Sunday

The semi-annual convention of the Lynn County Singing Convention will be held at New Home Saturday and Sunday, according to M. E. McCord, the secretary.

The convention is scheduled to open at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and will continue through the greater part of the day Sunday. John F. Taylor, president of the Plateau Singing Convention, is expected to be present Saturday. Other good singers from a distance are also expected. Great crowds will doubtless be in attendance Sunday, especially in the afternoon, if the weather is favorable.

H. M. McEachern is president and M. E. McCord is secretary of the association.

REPAIR MANY HOUSE ROOFS

Large Number Were Completely Ruined By Recent Hail And Wind Storm

Many new roofs are being placed on residences and business houses here this week as a result of the terrible hailstorm which we reported last week. New roofs were required on the Harris & Applewhite building, the Ingram building occupied by E. H. Boulton's grocery, and the Cooper building occupied by G. E. Hogan, dry goods and clothing, while the roof on the remaining building in that block, owned and occupied by the Tahoka Drug Company, has been patched up considerably. Repairs, in fact, are being made or are to be made on practically every roof in the business section of the city and on most of the residences in town.

The trees here still show the terrible effects of the storm, the foliage on most of them being scant and ragged.

Nevels Finds Sheep Raising Is Paying

W. D. Nevels is one of the few sheep men of Lynn county, but he is well pleased with his experience in the sheep business here. While prices of wool are rather discouraging at this time, yet Bill says that he knows the price will react in the course of time. He has just clipped 4,180 pounds of wool from his flock consisting of 540 head, most of which are yearling ewes. This figure nearly eight pounds per head, which is very good for young ewes. At the present low prices this wool should yield returns of more than $1,000. Other Lynn county farmers should become interested in the sheep business.

PREACHER AND DOCTOR HAVE GONE FISHING

Tahoka should prepare herself to hear some wild fish tales this week end. Rev. R. T. Breedlove and Dr. R. B. Smith are at this moment sitting on the bank of some stream somewhere down south. They failed to make known their exact destination.

The preacher stated before leaving Monday night that they would return Friday.

TWO INJURED IN CAR WRECK

Little Girl and Woman, Relatives of Local Man Improving From Injuries

Mrs. A. A. Honaker and her little granddaughter, Lorene Gaines, a daughter of S. F. Gaines of the San- arillo Cafe, were the victims of a most unfortunate accident last Thursday when the car which they were driving over turned on the highway fifteen miles north of Tahoka.

The accident occurred at a turn in the road. Mrs. Honaker states that she failed to slow up sufficiently to make the turn and the car tumbled over, pinning the little girl beneath it. Mrs. Honaker was apparently unhurt at the time but she strained every nerve and muscle in an attempt to lift the car off her little companion, and when another car arrived on the scene a few minutes later she was found to be suffering intensely. As soon as little Miss Lorene could be extricated the driver of the other car hurried on to Lubbock with both the patients, where they received treatment in the West Texas Hospital. Mrs. Honaker was found to be suffering from internal injuries and injuries to the spine, and it is feared that she will not be able to walk for many weeks, although she was taken back to her home at Vernon Tuesday. Little Miss Lorene bruises, one cut laying open the face and several inches across the face and neck and exposing to view the walls of the jugular vein. Her escape from death seems to have been by a mere hairsbreadth. She was brought back to her home here Saturday and is making satisfactory improvement.

Receives More Milk From Proper Feeding

"I feed my cows the same but they do not pay me the same" was the conclusion reached by I. M. Draper. Mr. Draper is one of Lynn County's dairy demonstrators and at the end of the first month he and the County Agent checked up on the different individuals in his herd and found that one of his cows, Mildred, has produced 41.4 lbs. of butter fat at a cost of a little less than 10c per pound and made a profit above cost of feed of $10.87 while another cow, Polly, had produced only 15.75 lbs. of fat at a cost of 38c per pound and made only 75c profit and each cow was getting the same amount of feed.

The milk from each cow was weighed and tested and the amount of butter fat computed from the test. The skim milk was valued at 40c per hundred.

Mr. Draper's entire herd made him a profit of $59 and produced fat at a cost of 14.4c per pound.

Lubbock People Lease The St. Clair Hotel

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Barrier, formerly of Barrier Bros. department store, Lubbock, have leased the St. Clair Hotel from Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Bray, owners and operators for the past several years. Mrs. Barrier took charge of the business Saturday, and Mr. Barrier, who is now a traveling salesman, expects to join her in the management at a later date.

Mr. Bray will remain in Tahoka and will give most of his time to the operation of the miniature golf course just completed by her and C. N. Woods.

PIANO AND EXPRESSION RECITAL AT CHURCH TONIGHT

The piano pupils of Mrs. J. K. Applewhite and the Expression pupils of Mrs. Ruby C. Wells will be presented in a recital at the Baptist Church tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock. A splendid program is promised. Everybody cordially invited.

O'DONNELL GIRL MARRIES KANSAS MAN THURSDAY

Warren E. Schaulis of Kansas and Miss Anna Maude McVicker of O'Donnell were married at the Methodist parsonage here last Thursday night. Rev. R. T. Breedlove officiating. We understand that the couple are to leave soon for Kansas, where they will make their home.

MORNING MAIL WILL CONTINUE

Post Office Department Renews Contract For Service Between Post and Tahoka

Tahoka will continue to receive her first class mail from the east early in the morning and will have a late afternoon outlet as the result of the renewal of a contract between the post office department and W. R. Ingram, operator of the Post-Tahoka-Brownfield stage lines. The contract is for four years and pays the carrier $900.00 per year. J. W. Eastham, Fort Worth, chief clerk of the railway mail service, was here Tuesday and completed the deal.

The old contract with Mr. Ingram had expired, and Postmaster Parkhurst was doubtful as to whether or not he would be able to persuade the department to renew the contract, which would have thrown first class mail to come in either a day late or over the stage line from Big Spring several hours later.

As in the past, eastern mail will be brought into Tahoka at 8:30 a. m. and outgoing mail picked up at 6:00 p. m. Mr. Ingram will also carry first class mail to Brownfield in the morning.

G. E. Hogan spent Tuesday in Littlefield. He reports that the rainfall in the vicinity of Littlefield was light, barely enough to germinate field seeds being planted.

Young Orators Of Tahoka In Action

Tahoka has two young orators—very young—who have been doing yeoman service to their country the past week or so.

On last Friday morning a 11 o'clock, our popular county clerk, Truett Smith, smooth of tongue and eloquent in action, made the address to the Seventh Grade pupils of the Wilson public school at the graduating exercises of that institution. Mr. Smith, as always, acquitted himself most creditably and won many compliments in his efforts.

On Thursday night, another Tahoka gentleman smooth of tongue and smooth above the tongue, R. E. Key, delivered the address to the pupils of South Ward at their closing exercises, and on Friday night he rendered a like service at Dixie. Mr. Key is not only inspired but entertained in a most capable manner, and he likewise was the subject of many congratulations upon his performances.

WILL OPERATE MOTOR BOAT ON LAKE SOUTH OF TOWN

Chug! Chug! Toot! Toot! No, there won't be any whistle, for gasoline will be the motive power. But Lynn county is to have a motor boat operating on one of its lakes. Just like they do down on the gulf coast and in the swamps of Louisiana, Jim Wetsel is now busy building the boat. A 22-horse-power Ford engine will be employed to propel the vessel. It will be operated on the lake lying directly across highway No. 9 on the Nance and Cassel farms, seven miles south of Tahoka. The boat will have a run of almost three-quarters of a mile each trip, Jim says, and every man, woman and child in Lynn county, yea as many as will come from elsewhere, will have the opportunity to take just as many boat rides as they desire right out here in the middle of this old desert. The charges will be small and it will be lots of fun, and Jim says he expects to keep it up all summer. Come to Lynn county, Chug! Chug!

REGULAR SERVICES AT METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. R. T. Breedlove asks us to announce that the regular services will be held at the Methodist Church next Sunday. There will be special music both Sunday morning and night. The pastor is away on a short vacation, but will return before Sunday.

Meeting Of Primitive Baptists This Week

There will be services at the Primitive Baptist Church here Saturday and Sunday, according to J. S. Wells, with dinner on the ground Saturday. Services will begin at 11 a. m. Saturday, and in the afternoon, beginning at 2:30, will be a Communion and foot-washing service. There will be a preaching service again at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The general public is cordially invited to all these services.

HIGHWAY MEET IS POSTPONED

Death of Secretary's Father Delays Meeting Scheduled To Have Been Held Here Tuesday

On account of the death of a relative of the secretary of the Arkansas, Texas & New Mexico Highway Association, the meeting which was to have been held here last Tuesday was postponed. The date will be announced later. The above highway is to be an extension of No. 84 eastward, and the promoters reside at Newcastle in Young county, and other important towns in that section of the state.

Another meeting of the Fort Worth-Roswell Airline Highway Association, which promoted the designation and improvement of highway No. 84 eastward from Post, will be held at Post on Friday of this week. It has been announced. The highway committee of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce is expecting to attend.

Boy Scouts Attend Contests At Lubbock

Accompanied by W. S. Anglin and C. C. Williams, 11 boy scouts representing troops 21 and 40 here attended the annual district field meet of Boy Scouts held in Lubbock last Saturday.

The contests, which were very spirited, were staged out at the Texas Technological College. The Tahoka boys did not go with the view to entering the contests so much as to learn about them and to lay the foundations for successful work in them next year.

TAHOKA LOSES GAME TO LITTLEFIELD SUNDAY

Littlefield beat Tahoka Sunday 33 to 19. The game was somewhat erratic. The visitors got 23 hits to the locals 21. Errors on the part of the local team were responsible for so many runs. Squires, Larkin, and Wells did the mound work for the locals. Moore, former West Texas League pitcher, was on the mound for the visitors. Tahoka plays at Ackerly Sunday.

The ladies of Abilene will entertain the wives of officers and directors of the WTCC at an eleven o'clock breakfast at the Wooten Hotel on the first day of the convention May 29th.

COST OF FAIR PARK WILL BE NEGLIGIBLE; BENEFITS MANY

On Saturday, May 31st, the people of Lynn County are to have the privilege of determining whether or not they will in a material way lend their assistance and encouragement to the Agricultural and live stock interests of the county, when they vote on the Lynn County Fair question. This is a question which should have the earnest and thoughtful consideration of every qualified voter in the county.

We all know that this is an agricultural and live stock country. If there is anything to be promoted that will help to build the country it must be something which will build agriculture and live stock interests. There is no means by which these interests may be promoted better than through friendly competition of agricultural and live stock exhibits at the Fairs which have been held for many years, and which

Census Figures Released By Dr. Barr Show Large Increase In County's Population

The population of Lynn County is 12,362 according to official figures furnished the News by Dr. I. E. Barr of Lubbock, Supervisor of this district.

Census figures heretofore released gave the population of Tahoka as 1,619 and O'Donnell 984.

Census figures for the five justice precincts of the county, not including the incorporated towns of Tahoka and O'Donnell, have since been announced as follows:

Justice Precinct No. 1 (outside of Tahoka)—2,355.
Justice Precinct No. 2, including Wilson—2,308.
Justice Precinct No. 3, (Draw-Grassland)—1,548.
Justice Precinct No. 4 (outside of O'Donnell)—1,548.
Justice Precinct No. 5, New Home, —1,910.

While these are the official figures given out by the supervisor at Lubbock, we are advised that precinct No. 4 outside of O'Donnell should show a population of 1,552 instead of 1,548. With this correction the actual population of the county is 12,366.

The population of the county in 1920 was 4,751. There has been a gain in population, therefore, during the past ten years of 7,615, or a little more than 160 per cent.

This official announcement of the supervisor showing the total population of the county to be 12,362 banishes all doubt that might have existed as to whether or not the offices of sheriff and tax collector would be separated as a result of this census. The law provides that these offices shall exist separately in all counties having a population of more than 10,000. Likewise the offices of county and district clerk are to be separated in all counties having a population in excess of 8,000. Lynn county will necessarily have two new offices as a result of this census. This result was anticipated some time ago and candidates for these new offices have been in the field several weeks already.

The census returns released by Dr. Barr also indicate that there are 2,114 farms in Lynn county distributed as follows:

Justice Prec. 1 (Tahoka)—452.
Justice Prec. 2, (Wilson)—544.
Justice Prec. 3 (Draw-Grass.) 334.
Justice Prec. 4 (O'Donnell)—356.
Justice Prec. 5 (New Home)—426.

ADVERTISING, LIKE BUSINESS MUST BE CONTINUOUS

It is superfluous to say that commercial enterprises must be open every business day to be successful. Still many merchants who keep their doors open figuratively close them to a vast group of customers, whose index to buying is the Lynn County News columns, by not advertising weekly.

Without advertising that merchant's business is closed for the day to a multitude of potential buyers. John Wanamaker once said, "continuous advertising, like continuous work, is most effective. If there is any enterprise in the world that a quitter should leave alone it is advertising. Advertising does not jerk it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day, year by year, until it exerts an irresistible power. To discontinue your advertising is the same thing as taking down your sign. If you want to do business, you must let the public know it. I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising."

Though a person may seem to scan the ads weekly he will be indelibly impressed with the ads that are "always in the paper". Selling is almost altogether a mental process. Purchases are often made in the buyer's mind before the actual physical sale. The mental buying is of inestimable value to the professional advertiser when his name is associated with the article. This is the first step toward the sale. The value of being known and keeping it known is of utmost importance.

Grassland

Miss Laura Belle Mathews took her pupils on a picnic to the breaks. The mothers attending were Mesdames Thomason, Thrallkill, Allen and Lawson. After the children had almost tired themselves out roaming a delicious lunch was spread, Miss Matthews furnishing the cold drinks. All declared they had a good time and wished these trips would come more often.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Young are the happy parents of a new girl. Two of Mr. Young's children have pneumonia but are reported better at this writing.

L. I. Reeves children are recovering from measles.

Our old friends, Mr. R. A. Ferguson and family visited their daughter, Mrs. L. I. Reeves last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thomas, Syble Thomas and Lucille McCord have returned from Florida, Alabama, and other points.

Elmer Richey and wife who resides at Tarwell had the misfortune of losing their baby. We extend our heart felt sympathy.

Miss Gladys Fox who has been teaching in Parker County is visiting with her sister, Miss Zoella Fox.

A Miss Moore spent a week with the Matthews girls at the teacherage.

Miss Naomi Lawson is at home in Grassland after teaching the past session in Post.

The Methodist Sunday School was well attended last Sunday.

Rev. Horn filled his regular appointment at Central Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan and daughter from Lubbock visited in the home of W. P. Thomas last Sunday.

Vernon Crawford and wife of Amarillo spent last Sunday with W. L. Thomas and family.

The Lynn County Candidates met at Grassland Tuesday night. It may be a little hard to decide on who to vote for as all made such good impressions.

The Seniors sold pies, cream and cold drinks realizing a very neat sum which goes to buy their diplomas. Judge Grider auctioned off the pies. All had a good time.

The Mothers Day program of the Methodist Church was well rendered and a large crowd was in attendance. Several of the Grassland people attended the Group meeting of the Nazarenes in Lubbock last week.

R. V. Melton and family visited G. C. Watson near Wilson last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Odom's baby is real sick with chicken pox.

We do not like so many sand storms but are willing to endure them if we can make a good crop.

The Home Demonstration Club met at the teacherage, May 16th, Miss Greenwade was present and gave us a lot of helpful hints on buying and on choosing becoming colors. The club voted to send Mrs. Thrallkill to the Short Course. We are very proud of her work in winning second living room contest. We also voted for each member receiving cup towel shower to bring as many pennies as years old this helping to raise our bank account. You that are missing our meetings, especially when our agent is with us are missing quite a lot. Come one and all.—Reporter

NEW CODE FOR MOTION PICTURES IS ADOPTED

A new code governing the making of talking, synchronized, and silent pictures has been formulated by the motion picture industry and was ratified by the board of directors of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., at their annual meeting held in New York on March 31, according to announcement made by Will H. Hays, president of that organization.

The new statement of principles, which sound made necessary, has been adopted not only by every member of the organization headed by Mr. Hays, but has been voluntarily subscribed to by other factors in the industry. This action unites the twenty major motion picture companies of America, supplying a vast majority of the world production of motion pictures, in the observance of a code that not only will determine the character of most pictures exhibited in 22,000 theatres in this country but which serve a world audience of more than 250,000,000 people weekly.

The ratification by the board of directors of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., follows a series of meetings held by Mr. Hays on the coast with the production chiefs of the leading Hollywood studios at which the final details of the code were developed and agreed to and during which Mr. Hays secured the signatures of the leading production heads to the document.

To date, the companies that have subscribed to the new code of principles are:

Art Cinema Corporation (United Artists); Christie Film Company, Inc.; Columbia Picture Corporation; Cecil B. deMille Productions, Inc.; Educational Studios, Inc.; Fox Film Corporation; Gloria Productions, Inc.; Samuel Goldwyn, Inc.; Inspiration Pictures, Inc.; Harold Lloyd Corporation; Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, Inc.; Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation; Pathe Studios, Inc.; RKO Productions, Inc.; Hal Roach Studios, Inc.; Mack Sennett Studio; Tiffany Productions, Inc.; Universal Pictures Corporation; and Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"The adoption of the code," Mr. Hays declared, "marks the latest and greatest step taken by the motion picture industry in the direction of self-government, to the end that the entertainment, educational and informative value of the theatrical screen shall conform not only to the best standards of this art but to the wholesome instincts of life."

The fundamental principles upon which the new code is based, and some of its main provisions, are given as follows in a statement issued by the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc. "The motion picture, as developed for the primary purposes of the theatre, is a universal system of entertainment. Its appeal has broken through all barriers of class distinction. It is patronized by the poor man, the rich man, the old and the young. It is a messenger of democracy, and the motion picture industry is sensible of the great responsibility. It is provided, therefore, That every effort shall be made to reflect in drama and entertainment the better standards of life;

That law, natural or human, shall not be ridiculed;

That sympathy shall not be created for the violation of the law.

"Manykind generally has realized the difference in the entertainment which tends to improve the race, and the entertainment that tends to degrade. Crime, brutality, vice, are among the facts of life, but it is recognized that there is a right way and a wrong way to present such facts on the screen. Thus the new code provides,

That crimes against law shall never be presented in such a way as to throw sympathy with the crime as against law and justice;

That acts of murder or brutality shall be presented only in such a way as will not inspire imitation;

That methods of crime shall not be presented in explicit detail on the screen;

That revenge in modern times shall not be justified as a motive;

That the use of liquor in American life shall be restricted to the actual requirements of characterization or plot.

"The love of man and woman, the social problems that emphasize the need of religious, ethical and moral teachings, are obviously proper plot material for motion picture presentation. Nevertheless, the screen which reflects the art of the multitudes, with its vast popular appeal, owes a definite responsibility to public morals to treat sex relationships with due care and judgment. The code provides, therefore,

That the sanctity of the institution of marriage and the home shall be upheld; That adultery shall not be explicitly treated or justified;

That scenes of passion shall not be introduced when not essential to the plot; Sex perversion or any inference of it is forbidden on the screen;

The subject of white slavery shall not be treated on the screen.

"Good taste and a proper regard for the sensibilities of the audience must regulate the treatment of low, unpleasant, although not necessarily evil, subjects.

"Among other provisions for safe-guarding the standards of motion pictures are the following:

No film or episode may throw ridicule on any religious faith.

Ministers of religion in their character of ministers of religion should not be used as comic characters or as villains. The use of the flag shall be consistently respectful.

The history, institutions, prominent people and citizenry of other nations be represented fairly.

Pointed profanity is forbidden.

Obscenity in word, gesture, reference, song, joke, or by suggestion, is forbidden.

Dances which emphasize indecent movements are to be regarded as obscene.

Indecent or undue exposure is forbidden.

"Such subjects as hangings or electrocutions, third-degree methods, brutality, apparent cruelty to children or animals, must be treated, the code provides, within the careful limits of good taste."

"With the advent of new instrumentalities for recording and reproduction, of new forms of dramatic and musical presentation which sound made possible, of magnificent theatre auditoriums erected by the industry, have come new sources of public appeal and public support. No industry has found a greater measure of public acceptance. Sound and quality have increased the motion audience of the United States by 15,000,000 weekly. This is a great challenge. The industry can leave nothing undone to express its sense of responsibility to the public. On its part, the motion picture industry asks from the public and from public leaders the sympathetic understanding and support which will make for further progress."

The Air Circus on Saturday afternoon of the WTCC convention will bring U. S. Army planes from four government fields including Duncan Field, the West Point of the Air. All varieties of pursuit, bombardment and demonstration ships will participate.

We extend to you a cordial invitation to come.

COYOTES ARE POISONED IN HEMPHILL COUNTY

CANADIAN.—A coyote poisoning campaign staged by 17 Hemphill county ranchers with the aid of the county agent and the United States Biological Survey in April is reported to have been very effective, a preliminary check-up showing as many as 22 dead coyotes on some ranches. Some 5000 poison baits were prepared each of four evenings, iced and distributed early the next day. The total area covered was about 130,000 acres. Ranchers plan to secure a man from the Biological Survey early next winter to poison and trap coyotes for several months to afford protection to the 1931 calf crop.

Of the hundred largest cities in the United States (Census of 1920) Texas has five—San Antonio, Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth and El Paso.

"TRY CARDUI AGAIN"

Mother's Advice to Daughter Was Followed, and She Soon Got Better!

North Little Rock, Ark.—"Shortly after my marriage, my health wasn't very good," writes Mrs. W. E. Burgin, 315 West Second Street, this city. "I had severe cramping spells, and at times I would have to go to bed. This would be very weakening. I took about five bottles of Cardui at this time and my strength came back. I did not have any more trouble for some time."

Several years later, Mrs. Burgin found herself debilitated by heavy home responsibilities, and she explains: "I seemed very slow in getting my strength back. I was too weak to do anything but just lie around. I would get very nervous over my condition."

"My mother told me I ought to try Cardui again. I did, and soon was getting better. When I had taken about four bottles of Cardui, I was able to do my work again, and haven't had to take it any more."

If you are run-down, nervous, or suffer every month, take Cardui, a medicine used by women for over fifty years. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of others who have praised Cardui for the benefits they have felt after taking it. Get a bottle, today.

FRIEND KNIGHT WRITES FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.

The News editor has received a communication from our fellow townsman, W. L. Knight, now visiting his daughters in Washington. Not only did he write interestingly but he sent us a picture of our mutual friend Herbert Hoover, on the back of which friend Knight has made the following notation: "This is the best we can do for a President at this time."

"I write you a few lines to tell you what a great time we are having, and that I have not met Mr. Hoover yet to deliver the many messages brought by me to deliver to him. I think I can meet him some time soon. I think he may call to see us when he finds out we are here."

"We made a visit to the Capitol and called on one of our Texas senators, the Honorable Morris Sheppard. He seemed glad to see us again. You know he and I were reared in the same country in East Texas. He showed us around the Capitol some—carried us into the room where the President sits to sign the bill—had me to sit in the chair just a little while to see what I would look like in case—you know, O Boy! I had to pinch myself to find out who I was for a minute or two—then Sheppard went with us to the Senate Chamber. So we heard some of the senators causing or discussing the bill before them."

"Then we went to the statuary room—the Hall of Fame—where there were some sixty statues standing around—statues of some of the great men of the long ago. I noticed two from Texas, Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin. I think they have two statues from each state."

"We were carried to the room where the Supreme Judges sit to settle the great differences in the U. S. A."

"After this we went out driving looking at all the work Uncle Sam has been doing. We went through the many beautiful parks and drive-ways—the riverside drives and those across the Potomac. In the National Cemetery we saw the many thousands of tombs and monuments, including the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. We saw the old home of Robert E. Lee, then went to Mount Vernon and saw the home and tomb of George and Martha Washington. The home has a very fine view of the Potomac River, being up on a hill and over-looking the river."

"I bet you would be a boy all over again if you were here where we are stopping on the river, kind o' out of the main city. We can fish, boat-ride, go in swimming, just as we like. Sure having a great time. Will see you some time this summer."

NEW LYNN TO PUT ON PLAY FRIDAY NIGHT

The New Lynn Women's 4-H Club is presenting a play entitled "That's One On Bill", Friday night, May 23. Admission is 10c and 20c. Everybody come! Come and see Battling Bennie Bozo trying to buy off from Patricia Niles and see "Mr. Puffy" chasing frog's legs. Then, there is the funny German maid, Rosie, whose little "Choo Henry" rooster was killed by a "lizzie-automobile." The plot moves somewhat like this: Uncle Jimmy (Mr. Barton) has offered Bill, his nephew (George Fererich) several thousand dollars provided he marry Mad Allen (Ruby Levey) within a month. If they do not marry then the money is to go to Battling Bennie Bozo (J. C. McCuin) a prize fighter. Lil Haily (Mae Levey), Bill's sister, hatches a scheme to make Bill fall for Mad and fall hard by telling her old school friend, Pat Niles (Allie Barton) to come visit her and pretend she is a movie star. The plan is accepted and Harry (Mr. Owens), Lil, Mrs. Haily (Mrs. Owens) and Uncle Jimmie set to work on the "frame-up."

Rosie, the German maid (Martha Chancellor) is a funny character and when she and "Mr. Puffy" (Hap Winkler) get started they are very comical.

The scheme works and everybody is happy.

You should see this play for it represents the cream of our home talent and is worthy of your time. Come see it. Bring someone with you. Children, 10c and Adults, 20c. Come and help the 4-H work along.—Contributed.

LANDLORD-TENANT LIVESTOCK LEASE

GROESBECK.—Two-thirds feed, one third cotton, and livestock on a 60-50 basis are the high points in a lease system as worked out by Dan Parker of Limestone county and now in operation with his renters. They jointly own 80 hens, 675 baby chicks, and three milk cows, but will increase the cows after the feed is grown. All feed produced will be fed on the place, and two sets of books kept on each field and class of livestock to furnish a guide for future operations. Three other local landlords have agreed to conduct similar demonstrations with their renters. The movement was inaugurated by bankers and is in cooperation with the county agent.

Texas area devoted to wheat is as big as the entire state of Connecticut. The estimated 1930 acreage is 2,927,000. Exclusive of cotton and wheat Texas has under cultivation acreage equivalent to the entire states of Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

LOVE WINS SWEEPING
VICTORY

Tom Love whipped the state democratic executive committee on every inch of the ground before the state supreme court. The decision of the court was a sweeping affirmation of Love's contention and a stinging rebuke of the committee.

The Court held that Tom Love's name should go on the Democratic ballot in the July primary.

It held that both the resolutions adopted by the committee in February were in violation of the statutes of this state and were void.

The first of these resolutions provided in substance that all candidates for nomination for state office on the Democratic ticket should be required to take a pledge to support
all the nominees in the general election without any reservations of conscience whatsoever. In other words, every candidate was required to agree to support all the nominees
of the party, conscience of no conscience.

The second resolution undertook to bar as candidates for state office on the Democratic ticket all persons who took the required pledges and went into the Democratic conventions and primaries in 1928 and then voted for Republican elections
in the general election, although it invited all such persons to participate in the Democratic primaries
this year as voters.

The court reviewed the legislation
in this state pertaining to the powers possessed by party executive committees and the limitations thereon imposed by law, and held that the resolutions were clearly in violation of the law. "This statute," the court said, "was never meant to authorize the committee by its action to override or change the uniform test prescribed by the state itself in the test pledge statute. The committee is utterly lacking in authority to subtract from or add to the words of the statutory pledge."

Love complies with the statute, the court says, when he offers to take the statutory pledge and to comply with it "to the utmost of conscience and good faith."

The court also holds that the committee has no authority to prescribe one rule for voters and another rule for candidates. Neither has it the authority to differentiate between one class of candidates and another.

This decision is far-reaching in its effect and will doubtless prove to be epochal in party history in this state.

The effect of the decision is to strike down the party boss and to magnify the individual voter.

Listen to this excerpt from the opinion: "The power to pass on the sincerity of the candidate's pledge and to endorse or condemn his party record is to be exercised by the party voters. The statutes jealously guard the voters' power in denying power to the party committees."

The decision says in effect that no party committee has a right to forge party shackles and to fit them on the voter or the candidate;

That to be a good Democrat a man
need not be a party peon;

That no party committee has a right to demand of any member of it that he chloroform his conscience
in order to vote for a party nominee;

That a Democratic voter may scratch a party nominee that he believes to be a grafter or a bootlegger or a deadbeat or a thief or otherwise morally unfit and still be a good Democrat;

That a good Democrat need not subordinate the interests of his country to the interests of his party;
that if he believes that the election of a party nominee would be hurtful to his country he may scratch
the nominee and still be a good Democrat;

That all this nose-holding business when one goes to vote in the general election is unnecessary.

It seems to us that every lawyer who reads the Court's opinion must agree that the Court has correctly interpreted the law; that every patriot who reads it must rejoice that another blow at machine politics
has been struck and another victory for the freedom of the conscience in politics has been won.

Tom Love has won a victory not only for Tom Love but for the people of Texas. He has again whipped the politicians who have been hounding him the past several years because he has stood four-square for a dry America and for a free conscience in politics, and we have the impression that Tom Love stock has risen considerably since the Court gave him such a sweeping vindication.

We understand that all the members of the graduating class
were given an invitation to attend a dance, free of charge, at a putrid public dance hall in Tahoka, on the night of their graduation. Be it said to their credit that they did not attend.

It certainly does occur to us that the verdict of that Dallas jury in the Brady case was a shame and a disgrace to Texas. This idea that the verdict of a jury is a sacred thing not to be criticized is fallacious and absurd. We need a reform of court procedure so as to allow the jury to pass only on the guilt or innocence of the defendant, reserving to the trial judge the authority to fix the penalty and to suspend the sentence. Until that change is made,
we need to constantly cultivate a sentiment for law enforcement in this country. This sickly sentiment that all but turns rehandred murderers loose and sets free so many crooked criminals is one of the chief reasons why our courts have fallen into disrepute and why mob so frequently take the law into their own hands.

Next week we expect to quote
from party leaders, state officials, and the statutes of Northern and Eastern states to show the Democratic party there does not undertake to compel or even to pledge
the candidates or the voters to support all the nominees of the party, regardless of all other considerations. Texas and a few other Southern States are the only states in which Democratic leaders have ever undertaken to enforce such a rule.
Down with the would-be political bosses!

WHAT OTHERS
THINK

THE BRADY SENTENCE

ANOTHER sensational murder trial has ended and once again has been paraded, in all its futility, our once-respected system of trial by jury—as a ghastly, lecherous corpse
of jurisprudence.

After hearing sordid evidence and listening to the impassioned pleas of brilliant counsel, a Dallas jury has returned a verdict of guilty. Twelve men, citizens of a modern Texas metropolis, have ruled that all books will be squared if John Brady spends three years in prison for the fatal stabbing of his youthful paramour.
Get that—and get it straight!
Three years in prison, the jury has ruled, will be a fair exchange for sons beneath the sod—and, in the opinion of the jurors, will make
"even-Stephen," the account of Socieversus John Brady, convicted girlslayer! The decision, ladies and gentlemen, represents an idea of justice in the State of Texas, edition of 1930.

Justice! Justice! Justice!
Don't make us laugh! It's no laughing matter. It is one of the most serious matters facing Texas of today—an ominous warning to beware, for even as the Brady verdict was announced the threatening rumble of mob violence had not died away in the land. Almost within a stone's throw of the Dallas bar were fumbled the blackened ruins of another Texas courthouse, burned
when a mob refused to entrust to court and jury the administration of a criminal case. Failure to exact retribution for crime, through the proper channels, presents a dire problem which threatens the very civilization of a great state!

Today, from the far-flung borders of Texas, people are ridiculing the sentence in the Brady case. From Texline to Beaumont, from Texarkana to El Paso, dazed Texans are rubbing their eyes, their brains
numbed by the stunning conception of justice and of the crime of murder.
Four millions of people are thunder-struck. And four millions of people are asking themselves: "Is murder a felony in Texas—or is it a minor charge, to be taken lightly and dealt with as a mere misdemeanor?"

When a crimson knife loosed the life blood of a defenseless girl to splash beneath her feet, there was committed a murder. When that cruel weapon severed the life cord forever, there was taken a life—
something that cannot be given back, which nothing can restore anywhere this side of Heaven. As that life fled—even if it were, as the testimony showed, a dwarfed, blackened life of a loose woman—the battered body of Lehlia Highsmith was consigned to the sod as long as this world stands in its present state.
Hopes were blasted. Plans to "go straight" were rent asunder. "Finis"
was written to a human life fore-ever. Yet, a jury has ruled John Brady may atone, may square things with society, by spending three years in prison!

If that Dallas jury was not convinced that John Brady committed the murder of Lehlia Highsmith, then John Brady should have been freed, to walk again among his fellows. But if that jury was convinced that Brady did the slaying—and by its verdict it must have been so convinced—then the punishment should have been drafted to fit the crime and should not have been the putrid, weakly, compromise that it was.

Texans had best awake from the lethargy which now threatens to exact a dastardly retribution. Juries had best remember that their first responsibility is to society and to civilization, not to the sniveling, fawning cry of "Mercy"—when mercy won't fill the bill. Those charged with the administrations of our courts should bend to hoist them back to a place of public esteem and members of the bar should move to aid that end by placing a stamp of disapproval upon drama and trick-ery which so often plays a leading role in the trial court.

Respect for law, for court and for justice must be maintained through strict adherence to demands of the statutes. To further tempt fate in Texas is to court disaster and to invite shame.—Lubbock Avalanche.

CULLEN THOMAS

Texas is the only state in the Union that requires of its free citizens
a law enacted pledge to support the nominees of a party before they can vote in a primary.

Cullen Thomas in a recent address delivered before the Dallas County
Women's Democratic Association,
cited noted political and philosophical authorities as against such a pledge, pointed out its dangers and declared that voting for a man or woman's preference should be left to their own consciences. Mr. Thomas however, did not go far enough. A man's or woman's vote should be left to a free moral agency, not to conscience, as it is a dangerous rule of guidance to "let your conscience be your guide" for this may cover a multitude of sins. A man is a free moral agent and in his voting, the highest right of citizenship that can be conferred on him under any government, should not be subject to the whim, caprice or fixed rules of designing men. To put such power into the hands of a few men is dangerous.

As Mr. Thomas points out, "to require (by pledge) servile support of unknown nominees on unknown
platforms under unknown conditions would be undemocratic, unrepubli-can, unpatriotic and un-American."

That such a pledge has no standing in law is maintained by some of the best legal minds in the state.
That it has no standing in right, is admitted by every thinking, reasonable man. That it will not hold in practice, is shown by the fact that Texas went for Hoover in 1928 by a large majority, breaking precedent and tradition of nearly three-quarters standing.

Today, thousands of good loyal men and women, with the highest ideals and love for their state refuse to obey the mandate of state

Democratic executive committee and participate in the coming primaries.

Their vote is needed in these primaries for there are grave questions and problems deeply affecting and concerning the welfare of Texas and its citizens and it is of the highest importance that proper officials should be chosen to administer the affairs of state and solve its problems.

But these men and women resent
the dogmatic, arbitrary restraint imposed on them by such pledge. It is a denial of their being free moral agents to choose right from wrong, as they see it and believe it. To them the moral law is higher than an autocratic, despotic ruling by a few men, and they refuse to surrender their principles.

Now, at the present day, when the passions and prejudices of the last bitter campaign have died down and calmness and reason hold sway, the legislature should repeal this pledge law and banish it from the statute books.

As long as it remains it will engender strife, hatreds and passions.

PRINTING PEDDLER GETS SORE

A printing peddler tried to sell his wares to I. S. Cohen, manager of The Famous, one day this week, and when Mr. Cohen told him he patronized the home printer when he needed printed matter, the peddler
said: "But I can sell printing cheaper than the home man." (This was said in utter ignorance of what the home printer charges.) Mr. Cohen replied that he was not interested in buying printing on price. The peddler then got sore and said that the traveling man had to live. Mr. Cohen told him that the home merchant also has to live, and that keeping money at home is the best way to help the merchant make a living.

Peddlers are getting thick in Mc-Lean. The editor of the News has had the opportunity of turning down shirt, brush and sock peddlers recently.—McLean News.

PIKE'S PEAK
TEST JOLTS
AMERICA'S
MOTOR OIL
OPINIONS

Here's How

Some men prefer one kind of motor oil, some another. The jolt comes when the Pike's Peak Tests prove that most of these opinions may be comfortable, convenient, but not correct. The generally held certain brands are better merely because they come from certain States has been quietly exploded. . . . Thousands buy by a respected color or trade mark, and not a few just don't care, and still buy on price. . . . The time is ripe for real facts. By the Pike's Peak Tests, conducted under the supervision of AAA observers, we are prepared to present dependable facts on CONOCO Germ-Processed Oils.

The outstanding results of these Pike's Peak Tests reveal many points of unusual significance. Under the conditions of the tests, which were comparable to severe service, these points were:

Motor Wear . . . Germ-Processed oil reduced it 76.4% throughout these tests, under that of the other oils used as a group. Cost of Lubrication . . . Germ-Processed oil showed an appreciable saving of 6.1% Oil Economy . . . wins by 3.9% Gasoline Economy
... a gain of 7.2% Loss of Viscosity . . . Germ-Processed oil was in 34% better condition after the tests than were the others! Carbon . . . shows an appreciable decrease after Germ-Processed oil was used. Water Temperature . . . was lower with CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil.

Remember, CONOCO uses Mid-Continent paraffin base crude, then the "germ-essence" is added, which gives this oil that remarkable ability to penetrate metal surfaces. "Penetrative Lubricity."

The Germ-Process is Conoco-owned. And Germ-Process positively will reduce your car-operation expense, and lengthen motor life, by providing Penetrative Lubricity.

We invite you to select any operating conditions, no matter how severe, and we guarantee that CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil will meet them better than the oil you have been using!

THE NEW FREE BOOKLET, "Pike's Peak Tests Confirm CONOCO'S Challenge," is ready. It will give you the detailed story of these tests, with photographs. Address Continental

During the first two months of this year the railroads ordered 179 new locomotives, 22,563 freight cars, 192 passenger-train cars, and a total of 192,065 tons of rail and structural steel. Inquiries were also outstanding March 1st for 220 passenger-train cars, 40 locomotives and over 4,000 freight cars.

NEW LYNN

Our school closed last Friday night. We were sad to see it close, yet we were glad. We miss the daily association of our old school friends and teachers. All our teachers have consented to come back for next term. Friday, the last day of school was a day of memories for most of us. We remembered all the days we have spent working to gether in the school room with the graduating class.

We had two boys to graduate from old New Lynn High, this year, the first to go from our school, but not the last, we hope. The graduates are George Fererich and A. R. (Doc) Everett. We are sad to see them step out of our school life. We will miss them terribly but we are glad they are ready for college.

Friday night we had the closing program and graduation exercises. The diplomas were presented, by the president of the school board. Mr. Miller, the principal, gave a few words of appreciation to the class.

TAHOKA WOMAN IS AUTHOR OF ARTICLE IN MAGAZINE

Mrs. P. Clayton of near Tahoka is the author of "No Sooty Pots To Wash Now", an article published in the May issue of Capper's Farmer, national farm magazine with nearly a million circulation published at Topeka, Kansas, by Senator Arthur Capper. Mrs. Clayton's article follows:

"For years I used a coal burning cook stove. It kept my cooking utensils black and smutty. Cleaning them and getting coal and kindling, carrying ashes and cleaning out soot took a lot of time. A year ago my husband bought a carbide plant and with it a three burner hot plate stove with oven.

I have been cooking on this since it was installed and I can say truthfully it is the greatest helper I have ever had in my kitchen.

I do not have any black utensils to scrub now. With my kitchen cabinet only one step from the stove, I can sit and prepare the greater part of a meal. I have timed myself on my new helper and where it took from 45 minutes to 1 hour and fifteen minutes to cook on my old stove, I can accomplish the same on this stove in 30 to 40 minutes.

This stove is but little more expensive than the old one in actual cost. When labor and worry are counted it is far less expensive. I am much pleased with my little stove. I shall never return to the old way unless they run out of material to make carbide.

The railroads established a new record for the speed of their freight trains in 1929. Comparing the record of last year with that of 1922 it is found that the average freight train moved 266 miles in twenty-four hours in 1922, while in 1929 the average train moved 317 miles in the same period of time, an increase of 51 miles per day.

Despite the efforts of the railroad to eliminate railroad, and highway crossings at grade the number of such crossings increased 1,097 in 1929, according to the Bureau of Public Roads of the Federal Department of Agriculture, the total number being placed at 240,874 on January 1st, 1930. The Department estimates that there is an average of one crossing at grade for every fourteen miles of highway, of all classes, in the United States.

HOW I IMPROVED MY LIVING ROOM

(By Mrs. J. O. Thrallkill)

I had been wondering for some time if there was any way I could arrange my house so I could have a living room. The room I was using was also a bed room containing a dresser and bed and everything in general.

One day our Home Demonstration agent, Miss Thelma Greenwade, stopped at my house and suggested that I join the living room contest. Well I made a few excuses, such as the crop failure of last year, and that we were renters and not able to spend as much as it would take to improve it, but at last I agreed to try it.

The first thing I did was to go and see what I could find in the second hand stores that I could use. Miss Greenwade went with me and offered all assistance possible. I purchased an old Duofold that was in very bad condition as the upholstery was worn and the padding partly gone.

My next proposition was to make room for it. I had no place to put my bed except in a very small room that had been made on the back porch. By taking a clean-up in Georgia Man Tells How He Takes Black-Draught When Bilious.

Valdosta, Ga.—In telling how Theodor's Black-Draught has helped to keep him well, Mr. O. A. Aldrich, of this city, says: "Black-Draught is a good medicine. I began taking it when just a boy, for biliousness and as a laxative."

"When I get bilious, my mouth has a bad taste and I get dizzy, feel light-headed. A few doses of Black-Draught usually make me feel like new. It seems to cleanse my system of impurities, my head gets clearer, and the bad taste is gone from my mouth."

"I am a rather healthy, strong man, taking very little medicine, except for the dizziness I mentioned. It is good to know that there is a good laxative like Black-Draught to take and give quick relief."

Thousands of other men and women find Black-Draught a great help in relieving common ailments due to indigestion, constipation and biliousness.

Theodor's Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality, finely powdered, carefully combined and packaged by automatic machinery.

BLEEDING THE CANDIDATE

Our good friend, Jim Lowry, has written many good things, says the Scurry County Times, but nothing more timely than the following:

"This is election year and the great army of dead-beats are getting ready to bleed the candidates. Only those who have been candidates know how many schemes are laid to 'pull the legs' of those who offer for office. Men who couldn't obtain credit for a pound of coffee at any grocery store make a bee-line to the man who announces for office to borrow a few dollars. Others come with tales of woe and urge the candidates to endorse their notes. Men running for office are usually easy victims of such dead-beats since they are afraid to refuse favors asked lest they lose votes. Such fears are groundless, however, as the dead-beats usually make the rounds, borrowing and promising support, and the candidate who gives them the marble heart is just as liable to receive their support as the one who allows them to pull his leg. Another scheme for fleecing the candidates is to have committees call and urge them to contribute to the building of school houses, churches and other community enterprises. Those who fail to contribute are usually given to understand that their vote will be very light in that precinct. There should be a law prohibiting this form of holding up those who seek official position."

I had an old picture frame about six or eight inches wide. Husband took it apart and made several smaller ones and they look better. I took worn out silk hose and underwear and dyed them in suitable colors and made braided mats. I also used feed sack dyed and made into braided rugs.

For a wastepaper basket I used an old lard bucket, 16 lb. size, cutting off the ears and beating it out good. I painted it green with a black border and then took construction paper of different colors cutting round pieces about two inches in diameter and pasting on, drawing a black line to the bottom of the bucket making them look like small balloons. This was gone over with clear varnish. I have a green Congo rug and a flower stand and magazine rack finished in green. I bought a small mirror and placed it on the wall above my phonograph.

VIRILITY OF THE CHURCH

There are many newspaper writers particularly in the daily press, who relish an opportunity to lament the waning influence of the Church.

It is a peculiar truth that the man who seldom, if ever, attends a Church service, soon becomes obsessed with the notion that Church influence is falling. Readers who have become unduly alarmed by such writing, should devote an hour or two some Friday evening to perusal of the weekly press.

If the Church as a whole is suffering from any form of decadence, certainly it is not in those thriving communities which are the bulwark of American civilization.

It is a notable fact that the "country editor" knows pretty definitely what his subscribers like to read, and it is especially significant that very few stories crowd Church news from the front pages of the country press.

Professional alarmists must find something other than the virility of the Church to worry about if they desire their readers to take them seriously.—Editorial Digest.

BUICK
DEDICATES ITSELF
TO THIS BASIC SERVICE POLICY..

"Satisfy the customer." This has been the service policy of the Buick Motor Company throughout the twenty-seven years of its history. And so faithfully has Buick followed this policy that today the familiar emblem of Authorized Buick Service means prompt, efficient and courteous maintenance to more than 1,500,000 Buick owners. Buick has twice as many owners as any other company selling cars priced above $1200.

Here are a few of the many important points of Buick's Service Policy: More than 4,000 factory-supervised Service Stations assure all Buick owners the same fine standard of skilled Buick service. A written Warranty, covering the first 4,000 miles or the first 90 days of ownership, whichever shall occur first, guarantees every new Buick car to be free from defects in material or workmanship.

Should parts or workmanship prove defective at any time during the Warranty period, Buick dealers will supply the parts and perform the necessary labor free of charge.

In addition to careful pre-delivery tests, the Buick owner receives two major inspections without cost—one after 500 miles and another after 1500 miles of driving. These include a thorough road test of all elements of performance.

The "Tourist" and "Change of Residence" clauses permit the Buick owner to change his residence as frequently as he desires or to tour any part of the U. S. or Canada and still receive the full Warranty benefits from the nearest authorized Buick dealer.

ALL BUICK dealers fulfill these provisions of BUICK'S service policy. All dedicate themselves to the task of serving promptly, efficiently and courteously.

TEXAS EDITORS CONDEMN SHERMAN MOB VIOLENCE

Not one Texas editor lifted his pen in defense of the Sherman mob and practically every editor in the state urges that leaders and members of the mob be convicted and punished. One editor calls attention to the fact that Georgia, since it convicted a mob-leader to life imprisonment some three years ago, has not experienced a single lynching to blacken its record. The artful suggestion has been noted and accepted by many Texas editors.

A rather novel solution of the problem is advanced by one editor and deserves more attention than it has received. While he confessed a constitutional aversion to week-end and Sunday labor, he contends that every identified member of the Sherman mob should spend his Saturday afternoons and Sundays, for at least a year to come, in reconstruction of the property which the mob destroyed.

There may be some legal difficulties to overcome before such punishment could be assessed against mob-members. It is certain, however, that the threat of such punishment would act as a powerful deterrent to incendiary and destructive tendencies of the mob.—The Editorial Digest.

An example of modern farming methods on the south plains is being demonstrated this week on the Burley Brewer farm in the Joe Bailey community. Burley being crippled and unable to carry on his farming operations, his father, George T. Brewer, has had three tractors running the past several days, each pulling a double-row planter. One man with a wagon is kept busy hauling seeds and keeping the planters filled. They expected to finish planting today five hundred acres of cotton. In speaking of the operations, Mr. Brewer stated to the News that these tractors and planters were doing the prettiest work he ever saw, leaving the ground clean and in the finest possible condition. That big cotton crop will be up soon and in a few weeks it will be a beautiful sight to behold.

For the benefit of many of our readers who may not know, an Intertype is a type-setting machine very similar to the Linotype used in the News office.

TERRACES "HIGH, WIDE AND HANDSOME"

ASPERMONT.—The value of high and well-built terraces was demonstrated on the farm of Wade Davis, Stonewall county, during a recent rain in which 7.82 inches of water fell during 30 hours. Investigation revealed that water had spilled out at the ends of the terraces but at no place did it break over the tops. The terraces were built high and wide in 1926 as a demonstration of level terracing, and Mr. Davis has improved them a little each year since. The ends were partially closed last season to permit more of the rainfall to be absorbed.

"LADIES LOVE BRUTES" IS SHOWING AT THE ENGLISH

George Bancroft's newest picture, "Ladies Love Brutes" runs at the English Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week.

In this newest Paramount release, the mighty Bancroft is cast as a rivet-tossing "steel monkey" who becomes such a success in his trade that he sets up a contracting business of his own. He gains a moderate amount of wealth but discovers that he is handicapped by a lack of social position. Accordingly he plans to make a social lion of himself. Mary Astor, a young society matron, falls in love with Bancroft.

Villainy enters the scenes in the person of Stanley Fields, a racketeer labor agitator. The climax comes when Bancroft encounters Fields in a stirring battle of guns and fists.

"Ladies Love Brutes" was directed by Rowland V. Lee, the megaphoner who was responsible for "The Wolf of Wall Street," Bancroft's first all-talking production.

4,785 SKYSCRAPERS IN U. S.

There are 4,785 "skyscrapers" in the United States, counting only buildings of ten stories or more. Of these 384 are more than twenty stories and twelve more than fifty stories. More than half of them are in New York.

Germany has one "skyscraper" of thirteen stories, built several years ago in Cologne by a German who had lived in the United States, and London has one of the same height. Paris does not permit such buildings.

Some impression of the decreased passenger business now handled by the railroads can be had by a comparison of the statistics for 1929 with those for 1920. The trend of business has been downward during the entire decade, with the exception of one year, 1923. Had the volume of business in 1929 been equal to that done in 1920 the railroads would have carried 59 per cent more passengers than they did carry last year and would have received 47 per cent more revenue from their passenger traffic. The aggregate losses since 1920 amounted to $3,041,000,000 passengers and $2,300,000,000 revenue.

The Hon. Carl Williams who represents cotton on the Federal Farm Bureau is coming from Washington to speak on the second day of the WTOC convention. This address and the debate on the Farm Board resolution will be of great interest to the business men of all towns of West Texas who are interested in securing a marketing unit of the Texas Cotton Co-operative Assn. which operates the Federal Farm Board.

Abilene is well equipped to house the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention meeting there on the last three days in May. In addition to 1000 hotel rooms, accommodations in homes for three thousand people and with twenty-three tourist camps, some of them being the most modern in the West, a solid carload of cots has been ordered to take care of the hundreds of band boys who will attend the convention.

"The world stood still for thousands of years industrially because transportation was defective. General industrial conditions in the seventeenth century were very similar to industrial conditions in the first century because transportation facilities in the seventeenth century were similar to those in the first century."—Gus W. Dyer, Professor of Economics, Vanderbilt University.

Business sessions of the WTOC convention will be held in the new Paramount Theatre just complete and equipped at a cost of $400,000. It is seated with 1600 upholstered opera chairs, has perfect acoustics and is provided with the latest devices of regulating temperature.

Governor Dan Moody delivers the principal address on Thursday, the opening day of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention at Abilene, May 29, 30 and 31.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

THESE TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES

No town seems to be alone in the policy of its telephone company trying to get all it can out of the community and return as little as possible. Most companies pay their operators as little wages as possible, and when they have directories printed, some central firm gets the job, with advertising solicited from competing towns in the directory. When The News printed the directories for McLean, advertisers paid only about one-fourth for the same space they are now using and had the satisfaction of knowing that the money was kept at home, with no competing advertising solicited from outside towns. Blackface listing was given all advertisers free of charge and others paid only 50c per year for black-face listing, with as many listings under different headings as wanted. Names were correctly spelled as everyone is known to the local printer and illegible copy could be easily understood, while outside proof readers cannot be exact, allowing many errors to get in. Public service corporations cannot always ignore the wishes of the people who patronize them, as has been demonstrated many times in the past. They must take part in community activities if they are to hold the confidence of the public.—McLean News.

TWO GOOD AMENDMENTS

We have promised ourselves to call attention at regular intervals to the fact that two amendments of special importance at this particular time will come up for a vote in the approaching November elections. The pair, bracketed together, is designed to improve the legislative situation at Austin, an improvement which all will agree is long-overdue. The first and most important of the amendments provides for 120-day terms of the Legislature instead of 60 days as at present, and provides a division of the time so that bills may be introduced in the first 30 days, worked over by committees in the second 30 days and put thru the final mill on the floor in the final 60 days. The purpose of this amendment is no less than the elimination of the special session habit.

an affliction which has become noticeably more grievous in the past three years.

The companion amendment would increase the per diem pay of members of the Legislature from $5 to $10 per day, at the same time reducing from 10 cents to 5 cents the mileage compensation allowed them. The net result would be to make it slightly less expensive for legislators to give up their business and journey to Austin on the business of the State. The State has had a long and sustained example of what it means to pay a lawmaker less for making laws than the ordinarily able citizen is able to earn in private occupation.

Both of the amendments should be adopted unanimously, although each will be voted on separately. The one changing the term of sessions and establishing a time-dividing system especially should be adopted. It is designed not only to eliminate special sessions by increasing the term of the regular session, but also by increasing the efficiency of the regular session. By getting all "regular" bills introduced and "committed" during the first half of the session, leaving the second half entirely for debate on the floor and voting on measures, we ought to get not only prompt action on the whole but better laws.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

I AM THE PRINTING PRESS

I am the printing press, born of the mother earth. My heart is of steel, my limbs are of iron, and my fingers are of brass.

I sing the songs of the world, the oratorios of history, the symphonies of all time.

I am the voice of today, the herald of tomorrow. I weave into the warp the woof of the future. I tell the stories of peace and war alike. I make the human heart beat with passion or tenderness. I stir the pulse of nations, and make brave men do braver deeds, and soldiers die.

I inspire the midnight toiler, weary at his loom, to lift his head again and gaze, with fearlessness, into the vast beyond, seeking the consolation of a hope eternal.

When I speak, a myriad people listen to my voice. The Saxon, the Latin, the Celt, the Hun, the Slav, the Hindu, all comprehend me.

I am the tireless clarion of the news, I cry your joys and sorrows every hour. I fill the dillard's mind with thoughts uplifting. I am light, knowledge, power. I epitomize the conquests of mind over matter.

I am the record of all things mankind has achieved. My offspring comes to you in the candle's glow, amid the dim lamps of poverty, the splendor of riches; at sunrise, at high noon and in the waning evening.

I am the laughter and tears of the world, and I shall never die until all things return to the immutable dust. I am the printing press.—Robert H. Davis.

Fourteen resolutions, having to do with the development of West Texas and of the State, have been submitted for consideration of the Abilene convention of the WTOC. These will be debated on the floor of the convention, voted on by member towns and the result will be the work program of the organization.

COW TESTING INCREASES MILK FLOW TEST SHOWS

SAN ANTONIO—Butter fat production has increased by 5.8 pounds per month during two years of cow testing in Bexar county, recent monthly records of the county herd improvement association show. Better feeding and culling, made possible by accurate records of each cow's performance, is responsible for an increase of two-thirds of a gallon of milk per cow daily during February over the corresponding month two years ago. T. H. Royder, assistant county agent announces.

Building permits in Texas for March showed a 13 per cent gain over the February total and a 4 per cent increase over March, 1929. Building and engineering contracts let in Texas for the first quarter of 1930 totaled $59,068,400, increase of 1 per cent over the same period last year.

Street railways, carrying 15,000,000 passengers on their cars, are operating 10,700 buses, carrying another billion persons annually.

months that he has kept records and has sold 373 dozen eggs that cost him 5.4c a dozen and made a profit of 31c per hen per month or $1.24 per hen for the four months. Total profit of $94.51. Mr. Lindley's hens were White Leghorns and Rhode Island Reds until recently when he sold the Reds.

Clayton Beard has kept records for only the past three months but has sold 1361 dozen eggs from his flock of 307 White Leghorns. His eggs cost him 4.7c per dozen and his profit per hen per month was 32.3c or 97c per hen for the three months. Total profit was $299.31.

LYNN COUNTY FAIR PARK—

lute control of the Grounds and improvements. It has been the plan of the Lynn County Fair Association and of course the Court may do this under what ever circumstances and agreements which they may see fit. The Lynn County Fair Association is an organization with representation from every community in Lynn County, or representation is provided for those two or three communities who have failed to elect their Directors. With the management of the Lynn County Fair under the protection and management of these two representative bodies there is no reason, but that the wishes of the majority will be adhered to. The Lynn County Fair Association is a permanent organization, having adopted a Constitution and By-Laws which provide for a continuance on its Board of Directors who have charge of the active management of the Fair.

Before any citizen of this or any other county votes an extra tax he is interested in knowing the facts of the case to the fullest extent. He should know what the tax will amount to on his property and what is to be purchased with the money. It has been the purpose of the Fair Association that between ten and twenty acres outside the city limits of Tahoka be purchased and equipped with building and equipment necessary to holding the Lynn County Fair without having to erect temporary structures each time a fair is held. It has been suggested that the Exhibit building be built in such a manner that it can be used as a basket ball court. This is to be open for the use of any and all schools in the county, but this is a matter to be decided on.

What Will It Cost Me

The tax rolls of the Tax Assessor of Lynn County shows that the land in this county is valued at from $3 to $10 per acre, but there is a very small acreage of $10 valuation. The average valuation of the county for county and state tax purposes is $6.41 according to the figures of the County Tax Assessor. At these figures it will cost the following on the various valuations of land.

160 acres, valued at $10.00 per acre, total tax at 5c per $100 valuation is 80c.

160 acres, valued at $8.00 per acre, total tax at 5c per $100 valuation is 64c.

160 acres, valued at $6.41 per acre, which is the average valuation of entire county, total tax at 5c per $100 valuation is 51c.

160 acres valued at $3.00 per acre would cost the sum of 24c.

The provision under which the election was called provide that this tax is for the purpose of buying and equipping a Park and there is no reason that the tax should be collected any longer than it takes to purchase the things for which it was voted. In fact there would be no authority to collect it. There is no reason for the tax being collected for more than three, four or five years. Will you help to build the county which is building you?

Konjola Ended Neuritis And Kidney Trouble

Well Known Photographer Enthusiastic About New Medicine: "Wonderful!" He Says

MR. H. O. BRUBAKER

"I suffered for six years with neuritis, kidney trouble and constipation," said Mr. H. O. Brubaker, well known photographer, residing at 623½ Austin avenue, Waco. "My ankles and my limbs above the knees were badly swollen and gave me considerable trouble. It became an effort for me to walk. My kidneys were out of order making night rising necessary and causing me to lose restful sleep. My eye-sight seemed to be failing on account of these conditions."

"Much to my surprise, I began to get immediate results after taking this medicine. The swelling left my ankles and limbs and I became stronger. I can now go about my work without stopping to rest. I have been relieved of constipation and my eyesight has improved since taking this medicine. I have and will continue to recommend Konjola to all who suffer from such ailments as I had. Konjola has proven to me that it is a different and wonderful medicine. It certainly proved its merit in my case."

Konjola was not designed to afford mere temporary relief. Taken systematically, over a period of from six to eight weeks, this medicine will amaze sufferers by the results obtained.

Konjola is sold in Tahoka at Tahoka Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH

Once upon a time a Kansas editor announced that he would try for one week to print the truth. Accordingly, one item in Monday's paper appeared as follows:

"Married, Miss Ophelia Bones to Ephraim Jones, last Sunday evening at the Baptist Church. The bride was an ordinary town girl, who didn't know any more than a rabbit about cooking and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by any means, and has a gait like a duck. The groom is an up-to-date has-been loafer, living off the old folks all his life and don't amount to shucks. They will have a hard life while they live together."

Interviewed at the hospital the next day the editor, through bandages, whispered that he didn't guess the people wanted him to print the truth.
