Construction To Begin On Root Nursing Home

Home Will House Fifty Patients

Construction on a modern nursing home for Colorado City will begin today.

Charles L. Root, owner of Root Memorial Hospital, said Wednesday that preliminary construction, such as grading, would start on his new project "Thursday, weather permitting."

The home, Root said, will be brick veneer, and will be fire-resistant. The building will be of low-roofed, contemporary design, and will have centeral heating and refrigerated air conditioning.

When it is completed it will accommodate 50 persons within its 12,000 square feet. Ten of the rooms will have private baths, Root indicated.

The building will have some unusual features.

There will be, Root said, covered patios, a 16 by 50 foot combination recreation and dining facility, a beauty parlor, and a day-room for television addicts.

A built-in music system will also be incorporated into the home Root added.

The furnishings will be new, and of modern design.

The home is to be located just south of Root Memorial Hospital, in the 1500 block of Chestnut Street. There will be ample parking space to the north of the home, Root indicated. There will also be parking space on the east and south of the building, he added.

He said that the home will be "taylor-made to accommodate the needs of this community.

"It will have accommodations ranging from deluxe to minimum priced."

He added that it "will be a combination convalescent's home and home for the aged. There will be, however, no age limit."

The home will be staffed by registered nurses, Root said. Root's wife, Maxie Lee, herself a registered nurse, will be the administrator and supervisor of nurses.

Root said that there would be an intercommunications system between the home and the hospital.

There will also be a two-way communications system between the nurses and the patients, he added.

Root indicated that meals will be served in bed to those who either desire it, or are unable to go to the dining room, which will be cafeteria style.

Financing, Root said, will be on a local level. "The home is

75 PERCENT OF GOAL

Bypass Sign Pledges Reach $5,000 Mark

Pledges and payments for the Interstate 20 signs reached $5,351.00 Thursday morning, according to R. L. Kendall, Chamber of Commerce manager.

The signs are a project of the retail committee of the chamber, and are intended to draw business to Colorado City.

Kendall said that pledges are still coming in. He said that some 80 pledge cards are still out, but he hoped that the project would be completed by the end of the week.

Jeff Taylor, chairman of the retail committee, said Thursday that the $5,000 plus already pledged represent about 75 percent of the money required to finance the signs. He indicated that some of the "major contributors" have not yet pledged.

Taylor said that he hoped that the pledges and payments would not stop at the $7,000.00 figure — the probable cost of the signs "as unexpected expenses could come up"

He indicated that excess pledges or payments would be used for further projects.

Thursday morning, 85 businesses, organizations, and individuals had either made pledges or payments to the project. they are:

IN THURSDAY MEETING

Industrial Team, Inc. Plans Prospect List

The Colorado City Industrial Team, Inc., met Thursday morning, Charles C. Thompson, president, announced.

The team voted to appoint a committee which would set up an "industrial prospect" list.

R. L. Kendall, executive vice president of the team, explained the proposed approach to industrial development.

He said the committee would using the "Facts Book," — which deliniates the industrial possibilities of Colorado City — and the "individual knowledge of the team members, with possible help from Texas Electric and others, determine which fields of industry we are best suited for."

Then, taking the fields one at a time, teams would be appointed for each field.

They would, Kendall said, make trips to Texas Electric's industrial library for research, visit plants in the various fields and study needed raw material, labor, markets, and transportation.

They would also make studies o fthe cost and availability ies of the cost and availibility of material ,availability of the and nearness of markets, and the availability and cost of transportation to those markets.

After these studies, Kendall said, a re-evaluation would be made to determine the practicality of Colorado City as a site for manufacturing.

Then, if it is determined that Colorado City is suited for such manufacturing, letters would be mailed to managers of firms in the fields studied, explaining the research program and asking permission to show the managers how they can make money in Colorado City.

In other business a report was given on a survey of local "truck-stops." In the survey, the names of various companies sending trucks through Colorado City were obtained. The names of the cities in which the companies are located were also obtained.

Thompson said the team would contact the chambers of commerce in the cities in order to get the names of the companies' chief executives.

He said that letters will be sent to the companies, with a view toward possible branch locations, or stopovers, here.

The team also discussed a proposal that has been presented to an Eastern prospect which has expressed interest in the West Texas area. Thompson said the company is engaged in light manufacture.

The team voted to appoint a sub-committee on development of an industrial park. The sub-committee has not yet been appointed, Thompson said.

SEDIMENT TESTS

Test on Wheat Due for Change

Quality premiums for hard wheat placed under the 1962 price-support program will be based on sedimentation tests this year rather than on protein tests used in previous years, Orrion J. (Jack) Linam, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, announced Wednesday.

The sedimentation test is a part of the agriculture department's effort to increase markets for U. S. wheat and to increase returns to producers on the basis of quality, Linam said.

"While protein tests show the protein content in a specific lot of wheat, the sedimentation test better reveals the quality of wheat gluten, and this factor is more reliable in identifying wheat for production of better flour for commercial bread baking," Linam stated.

The sedimentation tests will be made through the ASCS county office on all farm-stored hard red spring, hard red winter, and hard white wheat which is put under price-support loan from this years crop, according to Linam. He also said that settlement with farmers on 1962 crop farm stored wheat delivered to the Commodity Credit Corporation under the price-support program will also be on the basis of sedimentation value.

Linam stated that premiums under the price-support program are provided on hard wheats with sedimentation values of 40 or above on the quality scale. This is the wheat preferred for commercial bread baking.

He said premiums will be 3 cents per bushel for wheats testing 40, 41, and 42, plus 1 cent per bushel for each additional point of sedimentation value up to a maximum of 25 cents per bushel, which will apply to wheats with a sedimentation test of 64 or above.

The premiums will be added to the basic county or terminal loan rate to determine the specific 1962 support loan rate.

Hard wheat with no test or testing below 40 will be supported at the base rate, with discounts or premiums for other factors, Linam said.

Mitchell County's basic minimum price support rate for Grade 1 wheat is $1.99 per bushel, he said.

Three Stores Broken Into During Week

Some candy was reportedly stolen from the Vardy Service Station Tuesday night, but police said the burglar did not bother the cash register.

Marshall Variety Store filed a report Wednesday, someone had entered the north window of the store, took three Timex watches, candy, cigarettes, a pen and a baseball and then left through the back door of the building.

Forty dollars worth of frozen foods was said to have been stolen from a four foot box at H. & G. Grocery. This burglary was also reported on Wednesday.

their own, many non-English

Teague said that "we have found that through no fault of speaking children have had to spend two years in the first grade before making the advance to second.

Wells' Bond Set At $500

Charles A. Wells entered a plea of "not guilty" Wednesday morning to the charge of "theft" filed against him by L. L. Lewallen of Snyder. Mitchell County Judge, Elmer Martin set bond at $500.

Lewallen reported to officers that he missed his billfold around noon Tuesday while he was working at an oil well site northeast of Colorado City with the B. & H. Well Service Co.

Lewallen said a witness reported seeing Wells around the three gallon bucket where the owner, shortly thereafter, found the lost wallet with $40 missing from it.

Plans For "Fish Day" Are Being Studied

Mrs. Dick Wistrand, Community Center Coordinator, said Thursday that her project for the summer will be "to acquaint the people of Colorado City with our community center."

She said that she would "try to bring to the public's attention the fact that the center has attractions for every age group.

"We hope to have an open house in the latter part of July."

Mrs. Wistrand said that another project, still in the planning stage, is a "fishing rodeo"

She said, "We would like to have an area fishing day, wherein there would be several divisions — "midgets," "juniors," "intermediates," "seniors."

Previously, the fishing day was confined to children 12 years old or under, Mrs. Wistrand said.

There would be prizes, she indicated, if the project reaches the completion stage.

She said the "fishing rodeo" would be an area-wide affair.

"We would like to have people from at least a 100-mile radius — Odessa, Big Spring, Abilene, and so on," she added.

Thursday, Mrs. Wistrand said, the story-hour for preschool children began. The story-hour is held each Thursday from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m. The "hours" will be held for the next six weeks ,she indicated.

In addition to the standard pool, shuffleboard, and table games, various new activities have been added — especially for the children, Mrs. Wistrand added.

New activities in the children's class area include the making of gravel mosaics, Japanese-style wind chimes, yard lanterns, and "stick-structure," which is the making of miniature buildings from, twigs and sticks.

Mrs. Wistrand said that the registration fee for the entire summer is $1.50.

Two Men Injured In Truck Wreck

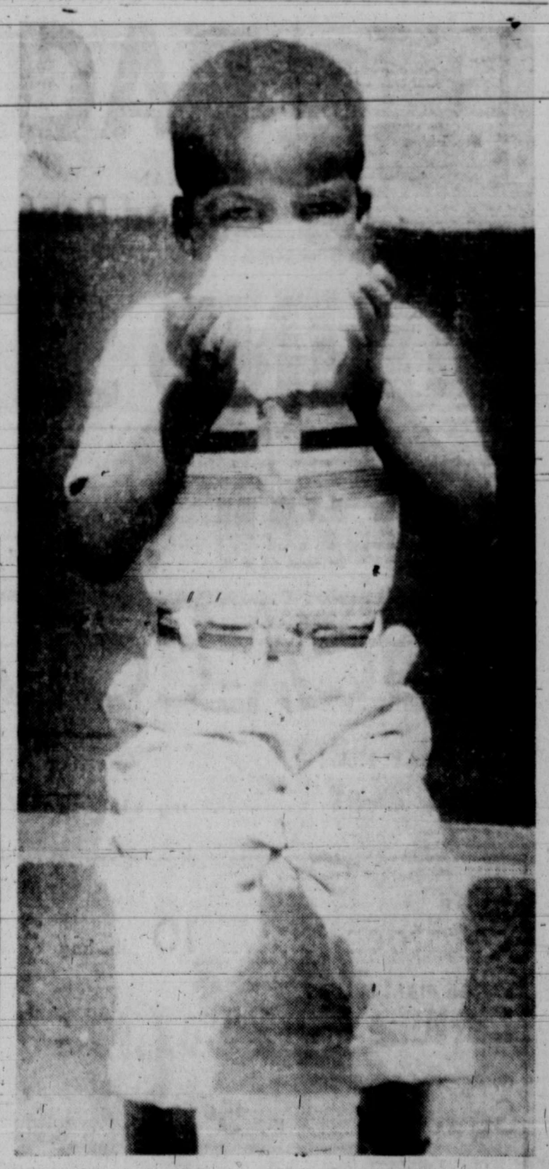

Two men were injured Saturday night when their transport truck ran off the highway, struck a culvert and turned over just one mile west of the Mitchell County line.

The two men from California were in route home after having transported a load of liquid nitrogen to Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene.

Norman Simon, driver of the truck, is being treated at Root Memorial Hospital for a broken shoulder and lacerations on the leg. Marvin Friesel, who was reportedly asleep when the accidnt occurred, was released from the hospital after being treated for bruses.

Jack White, investigating officer from the Big Spring Patrol Unit, said Simon was apparently crowded off the road and had tried to pull back.

Simon reported that he did not see the culvert which turned them over, because no signs indicated it was there. In his explanation he said the choice was between hitting the ditch or the car in front of him.

Talk

By PEGGY BELVIN

FATHER'S DAY, 1962, has come and gone. And many are the Dads who are richer with the shower of presents rained on them by their descent.

This writer's father received a long-promised gift this Fathers' Day . . .

Over 23 years ago, my mother traded my father's most prized possession, a gasoline lantern . . . for a kitchen cabinet . . . with the tossed-off promise that he'd have another on Fathers' Day . . .

* * *

THE DATE IS EVER DRAWING CLOSER when this family's 3 year-old will be 3 no-more. Next month will mark the 4th anniversary of the day when our unsuspecting family became apostles of a round, chubby and pink sweet-smelling bundle of dynamite.

With blonde hair, blue eyes and an angelic smile, not one in the family could resist her, so she was determined ruler of all the family members' hearts . . . until . . . it was discovered that there was a little touch of the mischievious imp in her soul . . . but also the ability to cover it up and appear as only a celestial archangel.

FOR ALMOST 4 YEARS NOW, she has turned into the spoiled but very beloved baby of the family. And she has decided that the event of her 4th birthday must be celebrated with an elaborate ceremony.

And gift selections are coming thick and fast . . . from the supposed honoree. From her vast supply of old catalogs, she picks out hundreds of gifts that would be just right for her.

After a lengthy list of suggestions one day, I asked her in evasperation if there wasn't ANYTHING she didn't want. After a careful search, there was one item that did fit into that category.

"You don't want one of those?" I questioned unbelievably.

"Oh," was her smooth answer," I might TAKE one."

SO, AS PREPARATIONS are made for her to leave behind the fairy-tale land of 3 year-olds and journey to the very grown-up world of 4 year-olds . . . she patiently practices . . . baking herself mud cakes and singing a new song . . . "Happy Birthday To Me" . . .

TELEPHONE TALK

REPAIR SERVICE

The next time you get a bill to cover repairs on some appliance in your home or for replacing parts in your auto, take a long, appreciative look at your telephone.

Considering the amount of usage it gets, the telephone is an amazingly trouble-free mechanism. The majority of our customers seldom need to have their phones repaired. Should trouble develop from normal usage, however, repairs are made quickly and without additional charge.

Good, fast repair service comes about because telephone people genuinely feel their job is important. This "spirit of service" is found all along the line. Kind of old fashioned, but it's there.

This is just another reason why you can count on your telephone when you need it most.

TELEPHONE TEAMWORK

Frequently, in this column, you have heard me mention that telephone service provided by the Bell System is "nationwide" in scope.

It is nationwide. There are Bell companies in every state. But all telephone companies are not Bell companies by any means. As a matter of fact, one-sixth of the telephones in the United States are operated by some 3,200 neighbor companies.

We do not compete with these companies. We connect with them. Their lines are joined to ours to carry Long Distance messages. Thus, those served by companies not a part of the Bell System can still be connected with practically any telephone in the United States.

Day by day teamwork between telephone companies enables practically anyone, anywhere in the country to pick up a telephone and talk to anyone, anywhere else, clearly and quickly. This is a fact of great importance in furnishing our nation the finest communications system in the world.

SUMMER PLANNING

By now most of us have begun thinking about our summer-time plans. Many of us plan to travel. A few more will stay home and get things done. Others will go away to some camp or resort.

But whatever your plans, it's just good sense to use Long Distance to make your summer more pleasant.

For vacation planning as an example, it's smart to call ahead for arrangements and reservations.

For arranging visits with friends, too, a call ahead of time will make your welcome warmer when you stop by.

For keeping in touch with home or office while you're on vacation, or with members of your family while they're away, Long Distance is fast, easy, economical.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

The collision occurred in front of Fisher Foods on East 2nd Street at about 6:30 p. m. Wednesday. The pickup, driven by Cason, was totally demolished, according to Police Chief Leon Yeager.

High-Flown Scores Mark Weeks Little League Play

Little League play this week and last was hectic and the scoring sometimes bordered on the fantastic.

Some of the major league play illustrates the point.

Friday the second place Giants ran all over the league-leading Yankees by 14 to 6. Both teams played errorless ball, however.

The Yankees got only 6 hits — all singles, and six runs, whereas the Giants got 14 hits and 14 runs. The Giant pitcher, Redman, walloped the games' only home run in the second inning with a man on.

The Giants scored in all but the fourth inning. The Yankees did most of their scoring — 5 runs — in the third. Their toher run came in the first. Parkham was the losing pitcher.

* * *

The Indians edged the Tigers 6 to 5 Thursday. The idea seemed to be who got more bases on balls — the Indians did, 8 passes to 7 for the Tigers.

The Indians also out-hit the Tigers 4 to 1. The longest drive of the game was the Indians' first baseman Molena's triple in the third.

The Dodgers and the Pirates, who are in next-to-last and last places respectively, met Friday night.

Campbell and Graves homered for the Dodgers. The Pirates scored on singles — 4 of them — bases on balls and being hit by pitched balls.

* * *

The Tigers out-scored the Giants 13 to 10 Monday (June 18.) The Tigers had 15 hits to the Giants 10. Most hits were singles.

Big blow for the Tigers was a triple by Lujon in the sixth inning, starting a five-run spree.

Key was the winning pitcher.

* * *

The Dodgers got 12 hits to the Yankees' 6 Tuesday, but managed to lose, 9 to 6.

The Yankees were proficient at throwing out Dodger runners, and the Yankee pitching was superior to the Dodger version.

Losing pitcher was Hoyle.

In minor league play, the Missions squeezed by the Texans by 10 to 9, the Cats got 19 runs, mostly via the 4 straight-ball route, to the Eagles 11 runs, in a wild one, and in a return match, the situation was reversed — Eagles 16, Cats 14. The Texans also got revenge — on the Missions — this time by a score of 7 to 2.

In the farm league, the Mets swamped the Colts 17 to 5, and the Blue Socks out-hit the Cubs. The score was 12 to 8. The Lions played "boom-boom" with the Steers, to the tune of 21 to 12 in the only other game.

Every now and then you hear someone knock our town and our spirit . . . indicating "can't do" instead of "will do."

But along comes a community effort like this week—with so many joining together to pledge financing for Interstate 20 billboards—and you can't help but smile for the ability to accomplish worthwhile things.

Naturally, so many deserve applause for the finance drive. But especially so are Charles Freeman, Willie Landau and Dick Kendall, working quietly, efficiently with the planning committee.

Wheat Farms Deadline Set

Farmers who wish to be considered for a "new wheat farm" allotment for 1963 on a farm which does not now have a wheat allotment should get in touch with the ASCS County Office right away, Orrion J. Linam, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said. Such farmers have until June 29 to file applications for such an allotment.

Under the wheat allotment marketing quota program, a "new farm" is a farm on which there is no wheat acreage history, including acreage considered as wheat under the Conservation Reserve or the Great Plains program, for any of the years 1961, or 1962, Linam said.

He stated that formal application for a "new farm" application must be made in writing on a form provided for that purpose, and must be filed at the ASCS County Of-

Seeing Through The Cold War

The cold war has diverse facets.

It is a war of armaments, with both sides piling up offensive and defensive weapons of unimaginable destructive power.

It is a war of trade, with both sides using their resources in an effort to become the world's dominant economic force.

It is a war for men's minds—and this may prove, in the long run, to be the most important facet by far. The Soviets and their satellites are pitted against the United States and the West in a no-holds-barred campaign to convince vast numbers of people, especially in the new and uncommitted nations, that its system is the best.

So, a great many authorities believe that a vital Free World need is to do a better job than in the past in pointing out and emphasizing the failures and oppressions of communism. And one of the better examples, it seems, is communisms newest bastion, Castro's Cuba, which is only 90 miles from our own shores.

U. S. News & World Report, in its issue of June 11, sums up the latest information on the way people now live in Cuba and what Castro and his policies have done. Its an almost incredible story of change for the worse that has taken place in a mere three and a half years.

The magazine says, "Cuba, just before Castro, was enjoying its most prosperous years. . . . Now Cuba, the hard facts show, is an economic shambles—bulging with guns, but bankrupt." Then it cites fact after fact, based on official U. S. sources.

Before Castro, Cubans had a per capita income averaging $344 a year, third highest in Latin America. Now it has dropped to below $200.

The food situation is almost calamitous, with Cubans now eating only about half as well as in the pre-Castro days.

In addition to sharply reducing the take-home pay of Cuban workers, Castro has taken from them many valuable benefits, including overtime, vacations, bonuses, and the right to strike. Taxes, by way of contrast, have gone up.

The Cuban economy, apparently, approaches a state of collapse. Gone is the U. S. market for Cuban sugar, which was the country's main source of income. Now Castro barters sugar with communist nations, receiving in return, goods which often are inferior in quality or not needed.

The Cuban currency reflects conditions. The pre-Castro peso was worth one U. S. dollar. The current Castro peso is valued at five to seven per dollar.

In only one area, it seems, has Castro made "progress"—if that is the right word for it. He has built, with Soviet arms and advice, the strongest military power in Latin American history. He has built also a Soviet-model spy system. These elements, and his almost unbridled use of terror, make it possible for him to keep the nation under control and, so far, to prevent the organization of an effective counter-force. Meanwhile, conditions get worse and worse for the masses of the Cuban people.

U. S. News says at the end: "The world once more is seeing what Communism does to a country."

Modern Buggy Musing

After doing a little homework we wonder how anybody, anywhere in the world, gets enough to eat. Through the weight of sheer numbers—plus their infinite and varied capacities for destruction — the bugs should own the earth.

Scientists estimate (to give some idea of what we are up against) that there are in existence somewhere between two and four million different kinds of insects—of which entomologists have thus-far described about 625,000 species! Some, like the bee and the butterfly and the earthworm, help to provide our food, but the rest of them specialize in taking it away from us, chewing up our forests and giving us diseases. And four million assorted insects may live comfortably on a single acre of ground. People can't do that even in New York!

In the 60 years since the first American company began formulating and producing chemicals for farm use, this country has moved ahead of all others in the battle against the bugs. Rigorous laws control the testing, acceptance and marketing of insecticides and other pesticides. Additional laws and regulations guard us against foreign bugs that would otherwise cross our borders, establish and enforce quality standards for foods entering the market.

As a result, ours is the only nation in the world in which the food shopper is limited only by her taste and her purse, assured, not only of infinite variety, but that fresh fruits and vegetables will not be wormy or blighted. Yet, even so, the damage that insects do to crops, food products, livestock, property and human health here in bug-fighting America is estimated at $2.4 billion a year!

While our success in this fight is spectacular (as every foreign traveller knows) it should also be apparent that we haven't won it yet. And we might also give a thought to what would happen if we should let down our guard—just a little.

Complex as our civilization has become, the bugs would soon have it unmade!

Texas Crime Rate Drops According To FBI Reports

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Texas' crime situation looks a little better.

FBI reports covering the first three months of 1962, based on statistics from the 12 largest cities, show major crimes down 6.7 per cent.

Across the U. S. in cities of comparable size, major crime rates rose one per cent.

Texas' crime rate actually is down in number of crimes reported from 1961, despite a population growth during the year of some 200,000.

Texas Employment Commission reports April unemployment at 4.3 per cent of the labor force as compared to 5.4 per cent a year ago.

Average factory wages rose from $91.21 a week last year to $96.10 this April. Range was wide, however, depending on the industry.

Leatherwork was the lowest paid, an average of $32.13 a week. Oil workers got the most, an average of $152.07 weekly.

Number of Texans working has passed the 3,000,000 marking outside agriculture now. Houston had 19,800 unemployed; Dallas 16,000.

Statewide, 375 persons are working at agriculture. This makes the total working force 3,629,100.

Too Many Colleges? — Dr. Ralph Green of the Texas Commission on Higher Education thinks the Legislature should quit creating four-year, state-supported colleges.

He told a House Committee on Saving Texas that 20 state colleges are about enough.

Legislators have extended state support to four new colleges in the last four years. Biggest of the new ones, the University of Houston, will enter the state system this fall. This will substantially increase the state's higher education bill.

U. of H now ranks second in size to the University of Texas.

Water Supply — Texas enters the summer with its major reservoirs 76 per cent full.

Texas Water Commission reports that May rains couldn't keep up with use and evaporation, so the water supplies shrunk by 291,000 acre feet.

As June opened supplies were 76 per cent of capacity, compared with 83 per cent a year ago.

Firing Resumes — There was only a brief respite from campaigning after Democratic primaries.

John Connally, the Democratic nominee for governor, and Jack Cox, the Republican nominee, both had their chance to talk at the meetings of their respective state executive committees Saturday, convening to canvass the returns.

Campaigns will start in earnest September 18th, when both parties have their state conventions.

But the two young gubernatorial nominees both have state campaign headquarters in operation in Austin. They sound like they plan all out campaigns in the summer and fall.

Sen. John Tower will be a major campaigner for the Republicans. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough will take to the stump for the Democrats.

They are beginning to make this look like a two-party state. Whether the label sticks depends on what the voters say on November 6th.

Wes-Tex Talk

A Look At West Texas Through Editorial Page Excerpts From It's Leading Weekly & Semi-Weekly Newspapers.

Its presentation now is an economy measure.

Post Independent School District trustees are saying that to hold the tax levy line without an increase integration is necessary.

They cannot make the choice themselves. Integration by Texas law cannot come without an approving vote of the district's qualified voters.

So the choice, once the petitions are signed, is up to the voters. The choice is simply integration or a tax increase. The trustees are saying in effect that the voters can have the tax increase, or they can integrate and escape a tax boost at a time when the new White River taxes have made it painful for property owners.

In all fairness to your trustees, remember that they are simply advocating you make the choice, because legally they cannot. They are not saying integrate. But, they are saying they believe they must pass along a tax boost to you this year if you don't.

Operation of the Lincoln colored school for the 1962-63 school year and for the tuition and transportation of colored high school students to the Slaton colored high school calls for the expenditure of $34,923.69 in the proposed new budget.

If you will notice, this $34,923.69 budget allows not a single dollar for any repairs to the Lincoln building, or any improvements. It's strictly a hold-the-line type of budget.

Should repairs or improvements become necessary—as eventually they will—the cost will go higher and the school district will be forced to cut back someplace else to pay the bills.

The postponement of integration from year to year is an expensive proposition. And actually it is nothing but that—a postponement.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Tax House Cats For More Revenue

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek is trying be helpful this week, but he may cause more storm than calm in some quarters. That's his lookout.

Dear editor:

If a man invented an automobile that'd run on water, a rocket ship that'd glide into space without a blast-off, or a device to control the weather, he'd win considerable acclaim, but nothing like the man who invents a new source of tax revenue.

If there's anything this country needs, above everything else, it's some place to get new revenue to run its governments, from town government to county to state to national. Governments today are like the man who's earning twice as much as he did ten years ago and still lacking half enough to get by on, with the exception that it takes more than an act of Congress to increase his debt limit. To do this, you've got to deal with a banker, and Congress is a much easier mark.

Therefore, without seeking anyglory, I've been hunting up new sources of revenue and from time to time may mention them all, but right now the best idea I've had is a tax on cats.

I read just last night that it's not unusual for a city of say a million population to have half a million cats.

All right. There you are. I can't explain this, but anybody with a cat, a claimed cat, a cat he admits is his, would a heap rather part with $5 than the cat. I've never been able to understan this low estimate of money and high estimate of cats, but it's a fact.

Therefore, if a city with 500,000 cats puts a $5 annual tax on cats it has $2,500,000 in new tax revenue the first year, and no telling how much six months later. Why right there in Colorado City there must be at least 3,000 cats, and you can figure up how much tax revenue that'd come to.

I don't know how many cats there are in the United States. I don't guess anybody knows, but there are millions, say 10 million just to be safe. All right. At $5 a cat, that's 50 million dollars a year, and that's only the city and town take. As anybody knows, what a local government can tax, the state and Federal governments can too, or vice versa. This is a democratic country, ain't it?

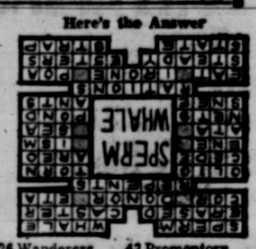

I estimate that if all units of government get in on this new cat tax, the total new revenue will come to around 100 million dollars a year, from now on, because if I know cats, it'll certainly be self-perpetuating. Next week I'll discuss another new tax source I've figured out. Tell Congress not to adjourn yet.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

AMA Tells How to Stop a Nosebleed

(Editor's note: The following was prepared for the Record by the American Medical Association.)

How do you stop a nosebleed? Almost everyone has his own pet remedy. Remember the technique of inserting a wad of paper under the upper lip? And after awhile the bleeding stopped. Of course, the paper probably didn't really help and the bleeding would have stopped anyway.

Some people, particularly children, have frequent nosebleeds even though they have no serious disease. Small blood vessels under the delicate nasal lining may rupture easily, especially during violent exertion. Nosebleeds are common following a blow on the nose.

Exposure to high altitudes can cause nasal bleeding. Some diseases also are credited in nosebleeds. High blood pressure sometimes is to blame.

Loss of blood usually is much less than the victim thinks, and, unless bleeding persists, this loss usually isn't serious.

Several suggestions for treating nosebleeds are offered in the February issue of Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association—

1. Have the victim sit up unless he is faint.

2. Apply large, cold, wet towels over the face, nose and back of the head and neck.

3. Pinch the nostrils together. The bleeding point is usually near the tip of the nose.

4. Keep the victim quiet. He should not cough, blow his nose or walk about during or soon after a nosebleed. Even talking or laughing should be avoided. He should breathe through his mouth.

5. If bleeding is severe or prolonged, call a physician.

Newspapers Alone Reach Evreyone

By MADGE BELL

"Everyone reads the newspaper!"

This statement was made recently by the vice president of a leading television manufacturer. He was supporting his decision to spend the bulk of his budget for promoting color television in newspapers.

The official, Erik Isgrig, added that if someone could show him a person who doesn't read newspapers he would change his mind.

"I know I can't watch all the shows on TV and I don't read all the magazines and neither do our dealers or anyone else.

"When we run an ad in the paper," he said, "we are talking to the dealer as well as to the customer. No other medium ties a company's story as closely to the retail outlet as the newspaper, he stated . . . "because none can offer an effective substitute for the dealer signature ad and the co-op ad."

Mr. Isgrig's attitude is typical of the thinking of many promotion men in the television industry—both in manufacturing and broadcasting. They have not forgotten that it was newspaper advertising which sold the public on the idea of television entertainment a decade ago.

Television broadcasting officials are reminded from day to day that individual programs are made or broken as the result of newspaper publicity. Many broadcasters frankly admit that local newspaper listings and advertising are more effective than any broadcast promotion. Evidence of this attitude can be seen in the amount of television advertising in large city newspapers.

Television certainly can be an effective advertising medium. But the broadcast officials are simply being realistic when they recognize that only in the local newspaper may everyone learn about a particular program.

CONVERSATION CORNER

By RUTH COFFEY

WHAT do you worry with? Not about. With. What you worry about is purely personal, usually. Unless you yourself choose to broadcast the cause of your case of what people used to call "the blues."

What you worry with can be almost anything —a chewed-up pencil eraser . . . a ball point pen rolled back and forth across the fingers . . . a forelock you twist every time you're concentrating on concern . . . a sudden decline into chain smoking . . . Or a self-imposed sentence of hard labor.

• • •

USED TO DO the finest worrying of all with several old household standbys—the iron, the mop, and the broom. Time was when people could tell how worried we were by just looking at the house. If the floors were freshly polished, it meant we had a problem. If the house was all spruced up, standing at attention as if company were coming, it usually got that way while we were working off "the bothers."

• • •

AND if every curtain on the place was freshly laundered, starched, and smelling sweetly of sunlight and fresh air—it always meant we'd hit bottom. And done up the organdy curtains again. Whether they needed it or not. Ironing ruffled curtains used to be wonderful worry therapy.

• • •

SO DID painting. Not canvases. Chairs. And digging in the flower bed. And rearranging the furniture. Worrying used to be a fairly exhausting process at our house. The house may have looked better for it. But we were always looking the worse for wear and tear. Or work and worry.

• • •

AND NOW? Now a New York jeweler has it all figured out! He's put some new "worry beads" on the market.

"Worry beads" aren't exactly new, it seems. In China it's been the custom for thousands of years for men to roll two pieces of jade in their palms to settle anxiety. In the Arab world, a string of beads has long been used to fidget away the fidgets. The fidget beads caught on in Greece during World War II.

• • •

TO BE true worry beads, the strand must have exactly 35 beads. Announcement from the New York jewelry-maker didn't say just why.

He did add that worry beads are called "komboloy" in Greece. The Greeks always have a word for it. In Arabic countries, the fidget strand is called "masbahah."

Here in America they'd probably sell better if they could be bottled and bought at the drug store. They'd be sure to sell like crazy if they were labeled "tranquilizers." Or maybe something like "mood magic."

• • •

SPEAKING of drug stores and moods, the Bill Dosses have both been in gayest mood! They've been having as houseguest their granddaughter Kathy, second daughter of their daughter Willie Grace and her husband Bob Shelton of Tyler . . . The Harvey Cupps were hosts to a grandson, Mike Cupp of San Angelo. He's the son of Mrs. Dathan Cupp.

• • •

SALLIE THARP, tall and attractive Girl-Friday for Frank H. Kelley is leaving us. She moves July 1 to Midland where she's being transferred by Mobil Oil, following her boss Frank's recent retirement.

Likeable Sallie will be missed—particularly by two of C. City's benevolent groups. She's been serving as secretary for both the Cancer Society and the United Fund.

• • •

HERE for a visit with Sallie and other friends last week was the former Carole Byerly, one of C. City's favorite ex-teachers. Carole, who used to share quarters with Sallie when she was a bachelor girl, too, is now Mrs. Richard D. Hull of Houston. With her were her two little girls, Janie and Susie. The trio has been spending two weeks with relatives in Carole's former hometown, Rotan.

• • •

LOCAL SEEN LATELYS: Saw J. Ralph Lee, Bob Reily, and Dub Lied coffee breaking at Corner Drug . . . Ditto Josie Randle (Mrs. J. W.) and Maude McCord (Mrs. E. S.)

Out at Ruddick Park caught a glimpse of George Foster (Maedell) who's visiting her parents the G. D. Fosters. Maedell's studying toward her doctorate in speech at Northwestern, you'll remember. Here at home, she looked to be having a gay old time. Wading on the little low bridge where Lone Wolf Creek spills itself after a rain!

• • •

ALONG ECHO LANE—Dr. H. Jene Steakley was saying his brother Zollie stopped by for a last week-end visit here while enroute to a Midland wedding. Zollie Steakley is Associate Justice of our state's Supreme Court.

And Bonnie Summers (Mrs. Charles E.) was saying what a wonderful place C. City's Recreation Center is for the entertaining of large parties. Bonnie's family had its reunion last Sunday with exactly 69 guests here to help celebrate.

• • •

SUMMER SEEMS the logical time to celebrate. One reunion of two old C. City High School friends is still in progress.

Sue Simons Panek, of Denver, Colorado, was saying how happy she was to arrive by car with her children in time to dress up, jump back in the car, and dash out to the Jim Bodine Golden Wedding reception.

It had been, Sue was saying, exactly 17 years since she and her CCHS friend Cootsie Bodine had seen each other. Cootsie is now Mrs. John E. Dailey of Lancaster, California, and mothers two daughters, Jann and Jill, who are 12 and 9 years old now. The Daileys are still here visiting the Bodine family and Cootsie's little sister Peggy Ratliff (Mrs. Bob).

• • •

SUE PANEK, daughter of Hav and Ed Simmons (Mr. and Mrs. H. H.) came by car with her daughter Teri and sons John and Jack. Husband and father of the Paneks, Emil E. (sometimes still called Joe by people who first met him during his G. I. Joe days) arrived in time for Father's Day. They'll all be here until next Tuesday.

• • •

WHEN those worry beads get to Texas, intend to buy a string and worry about how come the calendar won't let it be summer (officially) until today, June 21?

In C. City, we've all been enjoying summer and smoke—from the cook-out fire—since the day after school was out and our grown-up youngans started the annual trek home.

Not even the longest day of the year (also official) offers hours enough now that we're "Knee-deep in June!"

That's especially true when your kids bring their kids to see you. Ask any fond grandparent you know.

Even people who hate to boast
Will tell you their grandkids are the most!

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH

"What would you say if I told you I had found a way to make milk safe and keep it sweet a long, long time?"

In June, over 100 years ago, Gail Borden invented a process to do just that. And people soon found that his product was always safe . . . safe for babies and for grownups alike. Often considered too fussy about sanitation, Borden knew the importance of cleanliness and he kept insisting on it. He even went out to the farms and showed dairymen how to care for their herds and the milk they produced. He counselled with them on the care and feeding of their cows and how to bring in the milk to his factory. His rigid requirements later became a "Dairyman's Ten Commandments." These formed the basis of health department regulations as we now know them. We, today, take very seriously our responsibility to follow in his footsteps to see that all legal requirements are met and surpassed. That's why everything Borden's makes is better than it has to be.

All Borden's products are better than they have to be!

ASCS To Delay Farm Gaugeing

The county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office made several announcements this week, manager Allen W. Worley said Friday.

The first concerns the 1963 'new grower wheat allotments' Application forms for new grower wheat allotments are available in the county ASCS office, Worley said. Any person interested in a new grower wheat allotment must file an application with the county committee before July 1, 1962. Worley said June 29 will be the last day to file in person at the county office.

Worley said the plots must be "smaller than five acres, minimum diversion, or whole fields. In cases where the farmer designates one or more plots which met these requirements and a smaller amount is needed to meet his stated intentions, one plot per farm may be accepted below this minimum."

The county manager said that Mitchell County's basic minimum diversion, or whole for Grade No. 1 wheat is $1.99 per bushel, plus sedimentation premium.

Worley had this to say about farm measurements: "Present plans are to delay starting full performances until July 2, due to late planting and excessive rains in some areas of the county.

"Two or three ASCS crop reporters will begin measuring farms that are ready within the next few days. Crop reporters will measure cotton, feed grain crops, diverted acres and all soil bank base crops on Conservation Reserve farms.

"We are again requesting that the farm operator or his representative assist our crop reporters in order that more accurate measurements, correct crop classification and diverted acreage designation may be made. If you have new land in cultivation, please call the reporter's attention to this fact."

Worley also said that Farm Storage Facility loans are available to eligible borrowers at four percent interest and are payable over a five year period. He added, "If your present storage space is not adequate to fill your needs for storing price support commodities, you may be eligible."

How much longer will your water heater last?

Replace it now with a modern flameless ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

If your present water heater is operating on "borrowed time", why risk the inconvenience and possible added expense of a "breakdown"? Install a modern, quick recovery, electric water heater now and enjoy all these advantages that only flameless electric water heating can give you:

FAST. New quick recovery electric water heaters with immersed heating elements give you hotter water faster and it stays hot longer. All the heat goes into the water—none is wasted up a flue. And the tank is completely insulated—even on the bottom—to keep heat inside where it belongs.

SAFE. No flames to blow out accidentally. No fuel to leak. No pilot light or flue to worry about. An electric water heater gives you peace of mind.

CLEAN. No by-products of combustion to soil walls or ceiling. No unpleasant fumes. No flue to accumulate soot.

LONG LIFE. The tank bottom is not subjected to the corrosive action of flames. There are no valves to stick, no burner to adjust.

INSTALLS ANYWHERE. Because an electric water heater needs no flue, it can be installed anywhere in the house close to the point of greatest use. This saves long heat-wasting pipe runs.
