Two Panels Wade Into Cuba Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Senate committees today waded into a series of proposals for dealing with the Communist arms buildup in Cuba.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara have been called to testify.

One of the Senate's largest hearing rooms serves as the setting for this joint meeting of the Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees. By Thursday, the groups must decide what proposals—if any—are to be attached to a resolution authorizing President Kennedy to muster 150,000 reserves as he deems necessary.

In winning unanimous passage of the resolution last Thursday, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana agreed that Republican-proposed riders he sent to the committees for separate consideration.

Along with them went Mansfield's own resolution, putting Congress on record as supporting Kennedy in any move—including the use of force if necessary—to prevent the Castro regime from exporting its aggressive purposes.

The show of unity behind Kennedy's request may come unbundled as the committees sift some of the suggestions on how the United States should get tough with Cuba.

A Democrat, Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida, has indicated he will try to tack onto Mansfield's resolution formal recognition of a Cuban government-in-exile.

In advance of the session, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., offered a series of revisions that he said would strengthen the Mansfield resolution and "remove partisan political implications."

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Nine new astronauts, including two civilians, were added to the nation's space team today.

The new group boosted to 16 the number of astronauts who will man the space flights for which President John F. Kennedy has set a goal of reaching the moon in this decade.

Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center, formally presented the new group to the nation at an afternoon press conference at Cullen Auditorium on the campus of the University of Houston.

Gilruth said the nine already have been assigned to a comprehensive training program at the center to prepare them for possible space flights.

In addition to the two civilians, the group includes four Air Force officers and three Navy officers.

All have test pilot experience. The civilians are Neil A. Armstrong, 32, a native of Wapakoneta, Ohio, and currently a test pilot with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., and Elliot M. See Jr., 35, a native of Dallas, Tex., and experienced test pilot for the General Electric Co.

The Air Force men are: Maj. Frank Borman, 34, a native of Chicago, an experimental flight test officer at Edwards AFB.

Capt. James A. McDivitt, 33, a native of Philadelphia, a safety officer for Fighter Squadron 142.

His station was not specified. Lt. Cmdr. James A. Lovell Jr., 34, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, a flight instructor and safety officer at the Naval Air Station at Oceana, Va.

The seven project Mercury astronauts selected in April 1959 included three Navy officers, three Air Force pilots and one Marine pilot.

The average age of the new astronauts is 32.5 years, as compared with 34.5 for the 1959 group at the time of their selection.

Gilruth said selection of the nine test pilots today culminates six months of extensive evaluation of qualifications of 253 volunteers from among military and civilian applicants.

A medical examination and other preliminary tests cut the group of candidates to 31. During July and August, the 31 were given comprehensive medical examinations.

During the week of Aug. 12, the 31 were brought to the spacecraft center here and given a final evaluation through a final series of examinations, tests and interviews.

Gilruth said there were five basic qualifications for final selection. Experience as a jet test pilot preferably presently engaged in flying high-performance aircraft.

Experimental flight test status attained through military service, the aircraft industry, for NASA or possession of a certificate of graduation from a military test pilot school.

Possession of a degree in physical or biological sciences or engineering.

U.S. citizenship, age less than 35 at the time of selection and being 6 feet or less.

Recommendation from the individual's organization.

The new astronauts were born in seven states—two each from Ohio and Texas and one each from California, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Oklahoma.

The Project Mercury astronauts selected in 1959 were born in Colorado, Oklahoma, Ohio, Indiana, New Jersey, New Hampshire and Wisconsin.

Mr. Dean and other friends and relatives went to Mineral Wells early this morning. They reported that Rev. Dean had suffered severe facial cuts, and had received three pints of blood. He is in the Nazareth Hospital in Mineral Wells.

If his condition remains satisfactory, it is planned that Rev. Dean will be returned to Snyder Wednesday.

EL PASO (AP)—The president of the Texas AFL-CIO said today he is optimistic that the Democratic convention will produce a platform favorable to organized labor.

Hank Brown said he talked with gubernatorial nominee John Connally Sunday night and gave him the same set of labor demands that was handed to the Republicans in Fort Worth.

Formal action on the platform, top item on the convention agenda, does not begin until the platform committee meets Tuesday.

However, the document is taking shape rapidly today in private conferences behind closed doors.

"I think we will find improvement in the platform insofar as our views are concerned," Brown said.

Work on the convention's No. 1 item—a platform—remained in the closed door hotel room stage.

The 82-member state executive committee met first, and subcommittees then tackled various preparatory tasks.

The first authoritative hint of things to come in the platform is expected Tuesday morning in the keynote speech by gubernatorial nominee John Connally.

Connally refused to discuss any items he might favor or oppose being included in the platform, the party's official statement of its political philosophy until 1964.

He was among only a few of thousands of Democrats packed into El Paso who was not speculating about what the platform might contain. Some obvious problems could confront the platform committee tomorrow.

Senate Debating Trade Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate begins debate today on the trade expansion bill which would give President Kennedy unprecedented new authority to cut tariffs.

Leaders hope for passage in a few days of the measure aimed at winning mutual trade concessions from other countries.

The President has said the bill would give the nation "a new and bold instrument of American trade policy" and has given it a top priority rating in his legislative program.

Many members of Kennedy's Cabinet and other high administration officials have gone to Capitol Hill during months of congressional hearings to plead for passage of the measure.

The House has passed the bill and the Senate Finance Committee has approved it, sending the bill to the floor Friday after a series of key votes resulting in unbroken administration victories.

However, several senators were ready to vote for amendments to knock out or water down major sections.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he was prepared to run the Senate early and late on the bill. If it is passed quickly, Congress may be able to finish its business by Sept. 29, he said.

On Thursday the House will debate another major item standing in the way of adjournment—the foreign aid appropriations bill.

Senate-House conferees will meet during the week on such important measures as tax revision, federal aid for colleges, farm legislation and self-employed pensions.

The House Friday passed the President's proposal authorizing the United States to buy up to $100 million of a $200-million U.S. bond issue.

There was a chance the Senate would accept House amendments to the U.S. bond bill without sending the measure to a joint conference committee. That could speed it to the President this week.

The trade bill would extend the 35-year-old reciprocal trade law for another five years, authorize a 50 per cent cut in all present tariffs, give the President the right to wipe out duties on products for which the United States and the European Common Market account for 80 per cent of world trade, and make possible a variety of government assistance for companies and workers harmed by imports.

Lines of thunderstorms and thunderstorms, marched southward across Palo Pinto, Stephens, Eastland, Erath and Comanche counties, and light showers fell in Wise and Parker counties.

Before daylight the shower activity appeared to be tapering off in an area bounded by lines linking Fort Worth, Killen, Angelo and Lamesa.

It was the second straight night of threatening weather for parts of Northwest Texas. Up to 5 inches of rain, hail the size of golf balls and a small tornado battered the area the evening before, destroying hundreds of acres of cotton and grain.

Forecasts called for partly cloudy skies with scattered showers and no major temperature changes through Tuesday in all sections of the state.

Sunday's top temperatures varied from 70 degrees at Dalhart and Wichita Falls to 99 at Laredo and Junction.

Readings early Monday ranged from 55 at Dalhart up to 80 at Laredo.

Thousands Get Type I Oral Vaccine

By The Associated Press
Thousands of Texans received Sabin Oral vaccine against Type I polio Sunday. For other thousands the distribution of Type III serum was deferred.

Most county leaders of mass immunization drives were pleased with the number lining up to gulp sugar cubes soaked with the Type I vaccine in view of postponements for issuing the Type III.

The U.S. Public Health Service recommended a temporary halt Saturday in use of Type III vaccine for adults. It reported there was evidence at least some of 11 polio cases among adults resulted from Type III serum—but recommended continued distribution of Types I and II.

State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy said his department expected to decide Monday whether to make a separate recommendation on the matter.

The postponements affected such population centers as Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth, which carried out mass Type I immunization programs earlier.

Lubbock was one center for the thousands who followed suit Sunday and took Type I vaccine there and in 19 other South Plains counties.

Health officials at Lubbock counted 76,337 who showed up for the first phase of the drive. Although there had been hope 85 to 90 per cent of the 134,000 people would be immunized, coordinator Leon Harris said they were "delighted with the outcome in the light of what has happened."

At Plainview, 15,492 of about 25,000 residents turned out. Lamb County, in the same area, saw 1,454 of a potential 2,000 covered at Sudan and 6,788 of about 15,000 at Littlefield. Hockley County took care of 6,732.

Type I vaccine was distributed to 72,538 of about 130,000 people in Wichita County. Dr. Harley Sullivan, chairman of the drive, viewed this as "an expression of public confidence."

Children's clinics administered 2,996 of the 10,000 doses it had prepared. At Vernon about 7,000 took the vaccine. In Clay County, Henrietta clinics issued 4,009 doses, enough for about half its population, and Knox City 1,843 among a potential of 2,000.

Jefferson County officials reported an additional 26,000 taking Type I vaccine at makeup clinics pushed the total to 226,440, or a little more than 90 per cent of the population. They said clinics for other type still were planned in October and December.

Educational TV Station Makes Debut

NEW YORK (AP)—The first educational, noncommercial television station in New York City made its debut Sunday night, and was hit by a strike that the station said would put it off the air until further notice.

Supervisors and other employees of the station, WNDT, took over the work of engineers and stagehands who refused to cross a picket line set up outside the station by a performers' union.

The premiere program was presented as scheduled. Station officials said they did not want to call off the inaugural show so close to airtime.

WNDT, Channel 13, was to begin regularly scheduled weekday programming at 5 p.m. today.

Dr. Samuel B. Gould, president of the Educational Broadcasting Corp., which owns the station, said it would have to close until the union issue is settled.

The six commercial stations in New York aided WNDT's start with a total contribution of $1.5 million. It also has received funds from foundations and individuals.

The pickets were posted by the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA), which demanded that it represent all personnel appearing on WNDT, including teachers.

Station officials countered that they couldn't give the union jurisdiction "over people whom we have never seen."

Crucial Talks On EC Start Today

By ANTHONY WHITE
LONDON (AP)—Commonwealth leaders launch today the final crucial phase of negotiations to decide whether to back Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

Before they make their decision, they will hear a final plea from Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for a mandate to press ahead with negotiations with Commonwealth blessing.

The signs were that Macmillan would get a cautious green light from the majority of the 15 other Commonwealth leaders.

Some sources said that in the face of strong reservations from many Commonwealth heads, Macmillan had persuaded them to agree to a final, compromise, expressing general approval of Britain's efforts to go into Europe.

But Commonwealth sources denied their leaders were climbing down now after voicing strong criticism of the terms of Britain's entry at the opening of the talks last week.

The other prime ministers have spoken out harshly against the terms of agreement because it looked to them that a Britain tied closely, both politically and economically, to Europe would damage their trade, injure their economies and shatter Commonwealth ties.

They have not entirely lost these fears, informants reported. But they may bring some concessions out of the British as the price for their signatures to Macmillan's declaration.

Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India and Pakistan—countries most bothered about their trading future if Britain links with Europe—appear to have persuaded the British that there are points which will have to be negotiated anew.

Edward Heath, Britain's chief negotiator at Brussels, was reported prepared to ask the Commonwealth Market nations of Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg and the Netherlands to agree upon some clauses already agreed upon.

A draft declaration by the British circulated among Commonwealth delegations this weekend stresses Britain's right to join the European Economic Community, acknowledges that Britain had tried to obtain the best possible terms for Commonwealth interests and welcomes the readiness of Commonwealth countries to look into the special problems of Commonwealth trade.

An important unknown factor was whether Prime Minister John Diefenbaker of Canada, one of the most ardent critics of the Commonwealth plan, would return to the attack once Macmillan had spoken.

The battle, fought on Sept. 17, 1862, was the bloodiest of the Civil War, leaving some 22,700 Union and Confederate soldiers dead and wounded. Opening Of U. N. Session Signal For New Conflicts

By A. I. GOLDBERG
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The member countries arriving for the 17th General Assembly of the United Nations are anything but united.

That moment of silent prayer or meditation opening the assembly session Tuesday is really a signal for three months or more of conflict, with no holds barred.

There used to be a comfortable feeling of predictability—the North Atlantic Treaty Organization group stood together, the Communist group stood together, the so-called "neutralists" swung bodily one way or the other.

Now, for various reasons, the splits are showing up and voting as the measuring stick of support for your side—whatever it was—a creaky indicator of either popularity or righteousness.

There are cracks in the NATO countries' front, strains in the British Commonwealth, stresses in the Asian bloc, fissures in the Latin American group, divisions among the African countries, quarrels in the Arab League.

4th Church Is Burned

DAWSON, Ga. (AP)—Another Negro church burned today in the same area where three churches have been razed by fire within recent weeks.

Sheriff Z. T. Matthews said a pre-dawn fire destroyed High Hope Baptist church, located on a dirt road a few miles north of Dawson. Matthews and State Fire Marshal J. C. Wheeler said fumes of kerosene in the room where inflammable oil were in the air at the church ruins.

Eight days ago, two Negro churches near Sasser—a community southeast of Dawson—went up in flames. Several weeks prior to the Sasser burnings, a church in adjoining Lee County was destroyed by fire.

The Lee County church—Sandy Grove Baptist—and Mount Olive Baptist church at Sasser, had been used by an interracial group for voter registration meetings.

Portugal's colonial policies drew Western criticism that created resentment in Lisbon. Condemnation of race laws has made South Africa almost a lone wolf. The British Commonwealth is split over the European Common Market.

Albania seems to vote with the Communist bloc on every issue but appears still to be excluded from its councils. Yugoslavia's show of increased friendliness with the Kremlin does not appear to have put it solidly back in the Communist camp. Polish delegates occasionally show a flash of mildness that does not measure up to the Soviet Union's harsher strictures.

Latin American countries are split on details of how to deal with Cuba. Political troubles at home that beset Brazil and Argentina, among others, make it difficult for them to steer their political course in the debate maze here.

India's feud with Pakistan over Kashmir, its difficulties with Red China over borders, are among the facts of history that complicate its position.

The Arab League shows a common front against another lone wolf, Israel. But the Syrian split from the United Arab Republic, the continued backbiting at league meetings, the shaky position of several governments, the recent U.A.R. walkout from the league—all point up the league's difficulties.

The French Community nations of Africa profess a solidarity against the aims of the Casablanca group led by Kwame Nkrumah's Ghana and Sekou Touré's Guinea.

A fourth girl, Grace Hare, 25, received minor injuries.

The girls were headed toward their homes in El Paso when the car crashed into a power pole and burned.

Segregation Arguments Are Heard

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government asked the courts today to forbid racial discrimination in Prince Georges County, Va., public schools attended by children of federal employees. It argued that when such segregation because morale of federal employees was involved.

The Justice Department announced the filing of the suit in U.S. District Court in Richmond, Va.

The schools get federal aid as an impacted area, but Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy expressed in a statement that no threat to end aid to the schools is involved.

He said the purpose of the suit was "to seek an end to unconstitutional school segregation in an area where such segregation directly affects the armed forces."

From the legal standpoint, the approach is a new one for federal intervention.

The government tried last year to intervene in a school desegregation suit in Prince Georges County, Va., but was denied permission by a federal district judge to join as an interested party with parents of Negro children who had initiated the suit.

In cases where the government has become involved, it has presented its views as a friend of the court but not as a party with a direct interest in the case.

In the case filed today, Kennedy said, the federal government asserts a direct interest in school segregation in Prince Georges County because of the large number of service children in the school population there.

MIGHTY TEMPTING

High Level Flexibility Of Language 'Floors' Writer

BY INEZ ROBB

The beautiful, flexible, high-rolling, ever-growing American language, both before and since Henry L. Mencken, has, in the hands of its practitioners, produced some beautiful results.

Every little facet of our national life has a dialect all its own, sometimes meant to conceal, sometimes meant to reveal what the experts in every field are really getting at.

For some reason I can't quite fathom, I have been fascinated recently by a rolling, sonorous phrase right out of Wall Street and the financial community, to wit: "high-level stagnation," to explain our present economic posture (watch that word "posture"; it's BIG at the moment).

Obviously, "high-level stagnation" means that we have reached a lofty plateau ("plateau" is pretty hep, too) on which the economy is resting with no visible impetus to go forward or, perish forbid, back up. It—"high-level-stagnation"—apparently indicates that our society is affluent, all right, but not jumping. It—the economy—is breathing easily, I infer, but not panting to be up, off and doing.

Very descriptive and picturesque that phrase "high-level stagnation," as the American language so often is. Now, what would be its wordy opposite but still imply pretty much the same meaning?

Argentines Say Plot Is Smashed

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A plot to overthrow the government, blamed on Communists and backers of ex-dictator Juan D. Peron, has been smashed in northeast Argentina, the nation's security forces reported Sunday.

Under arrest were 14 men in the Misiones province bordering on Paraguay. The security forces said the plan was to seize control of the province as a first step to ousting President Jose Maria Guido.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: What is the fastest land animal?

ANSWER: Many studies have been made of the speed of animals by driving alongside in cars or from planes. It is difficult to get an exact speed figure this way, but experts agree that the pronghorn antelope is the fastest native land animal in America. It's been clocked at over 60 miles an hour (compared with 40-45 miles an hour for the fastest racehorse.) B in our drawing is the duck hawk. It is when hawks and falcons dive down through the air on their prey that they attain such terrific speed. There is little doubt that the swifts are the fastest birds. Some authorities say the claim of very high speed is exaggerated, but others say that the swifts of Europe and Asia have been clocked at 200 miles an hour, which would make them the fastest living creatures. The experts do agree that the prize for fastest land animal goes to the cheetah of Africa and Asia. These are cats, but through running they have developed the long legs and deep chests of dogs. They are often trained to hunt. The two fastest fish are, on the left, the sailfin, and on the right, the dangerous barracuda, which will sometimes attack man.

FOR YOU TO DO: The next time you are in a car or bus, watch for some flying birds and see if you can judge their speed.

Reactor Produces Its First Power

BUCHANAN, N.Y. (AP) — The Consolidated Edison Co.'s Indian Point atomic power plant produced its first electricity Sunday — 15,000 kilowatts for use by its customers in Buchanan.

The Indian Point reactor — fourth commercial size atomic power plant to be placed in operation in the nation — has successfully undergone an extensive series of tests since it first achieved a sustained nuclear chain reaction last Aug. 2.

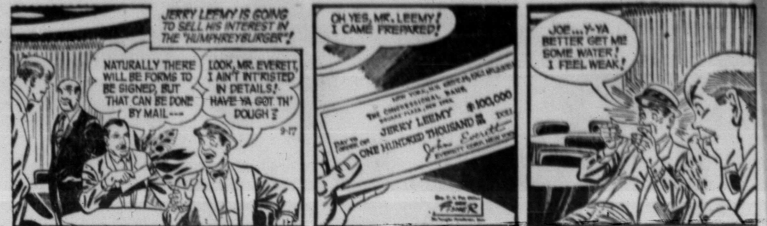

The plant will be brought to its full power of 275,000 kilowatts over the next few weeks, then placed in commercial operation to serve New York City and Westchester County customers.

Conley Stalls Yankees, 4-3

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Gene Conley is a big, baby-faced guy who is the only major-league pitcher who has never been hit by a home run.

He is the property of the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association. This is a recent change. And he is no longer "owned" by the New York Yankees, also a recent change.

The Yankees had beaten the 6-foot-8 Boston right-hander seven times in as many tries over the last two seasons when they took the field in Boston Sunday.

Conley promptly pitched and batted the Red Sox to a 4-3 triumph over the defending world champions, lopping a full game off the Yankees still comfortable American League lead.

Minnesota closed to within three games on the strength of a 4-3 decision over Cleveland, with ace right-hander Camilo Pascual the key figure. Pascual picked up his 19th triumph and drove in the winning run with his third hit of the game.

New York and Minnesota each have 10 games to play.

The third-place Los Angeles Angels were all but eliminated from the race by Detroit. The Tigers came up with a 4-2 verdict, dropping the Angels 3½ games back of Minnesota, 6½ behind the Yankees.

Kansas City bombed Baltimore 12-5 and Chicago beat Washington 7-4 in the others.

In the National League, the leading Los Angeles Dodgers lost to Chicago 5-0 but remained four games ahead of second-place San Francisco, which fell before Pittsburgh 6-4 in 10 innings. The New York Mets beat the third-place Cincinnati Reds 8-2; Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 3-1 and Milwaukee edged Houston 5-4.

Conley, who combines his baseball career with a winter job in professional basketball, was acquired by the New York NBA team in a trade last week.

He declared his independence from the Yanks in impressive fashion Sunday. New York owned four decisions over Conley, including three by 2-1, 1-0 and 5-4 margins going into the game.

The Yanks opened up with every indication of making it five in a row. Bobby Richardson, Tom Tresh, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris ripped successive singles, producing two runs. Conley (14-13) then settled down and held them to a single hit until the ninth.

A Conley single, leading off the eighth, led to the decisive run. He moved up on a sacrifice and scored on Lu Clinton's single. That gave Boston a 4-2 lead, but the Yanks got one back in the ninth when Mantle doubled and the tying Conley gave way to Dick Rada. He gave up a single to Maris, then retired the next three men, Mantle scoring on a sacrifice fly.

Whitey Ford (16-8) was charged with the loss. He pitched 12, lifting his league-leading total to 191, while keeping the Twins in the race with their fourth straight victory.

He drove in the run that broke a 3-3 tie with a single in the eighth. He also had a bunt single and a double.

Harmon Killebrew's 40th home run pulled the Twins into the seventh, pulled the Twins into the tie.

Los Angeles' loss to Detroit was their fifth straight. Pitcher Phil Regan's decisive two-run double in a three-run fifth inning gave the Tigers a 4-0 lead and pinned the loss on Ken McEride (11-3).

Kansas City jammed in six runs in the fifth inning and went on to an easy triumph over Baltimore, despite a home run and three other hits by the Orioles' Brooks Robinson.

Chicago rallied for four runs in the sixth in beating Washington. Ray Herbert allowed 11 hits and 4 walks, but picked up his 17th victory against 13 losses.

AFTER PITT PLASTERED

Mira New 'Fair Haired' Prodigy

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The football season has hardly gotten under way and already the All-America handwagon is rolling with George Mira, University of Miami quarterback, causing all the excitement.

"Possibly the greatest quarterback I've seen in a long, long time," said Coach Johnny Michaels of Pitt.

"The best quarterback I've ever coached," enthused Mira's coach, Andy Gustafson.

Mira, a slick, 175-pound junior was a one-man gang Saturday in leading Miami to a 23-14 victory over Pitt in the first NCAA television game of the week. He connected for 13 of 25 pass attempts, good for 162 yards, and blasted 86 yards in 10 carries—8.6 yards per try.

Mira and his Hurricanes get a day off this Saturday, then take on Texas Christian Sept. 29. The victory was a sweet one for the Hurricanes, who lost the opener to Pitt last year, then went on to win seven of their nine remaining games. They wound up in the Liberty Bowl against Syracuse.

While the Hurricanes are resting, eight of the top 10 teams in the pre-season Associated Press poll, including defending national champion Alabama, get into action Saturday. Two Big Ten teams in the poll—Ohio State, No. 1, and Michigan State, No. 4, open their season a week from Saturday.

Texas, voted No. 2, and the favorite for the Southwest Conference championship, entertains Oregon State in a night game. The Longhorns lost only one game last year and are figured to be at least as powerful this time around.

Alabama, No. 3, dumped out of the top spot because of the graduation of Pat Trammell and the injury of Mike Fracchia, its bone-breaking runner, will test itself against Georgia in another night game, a Southeastern Conference affair.

Louisiana State, fifth-ranked, plays Texas A & M in a night game at home. LSU wound up second in Alabama in the Southeastern Conference race last year and doesn't figure to have any trouble with the so-so Aggies.

Mississippi, No. 6, another pretender to the Southeastern throne, warms up against Memphis State, a high scoring machine that was held to less than two touchdowns only once last year, in a night game in Memphis.

The big one will take place in Seattle, matching Purdue, No. 7, and Washington, No. 10. The Boilermakers have high hopes of upsetting the Ohio State-Michigan State axis in the Big Ten while the Huskies are co-favorites with Southern Cal in the Big Six.

Mentioned frequently as most likely to succeed has been Charlie Coe, the lanky Oklahoma man who has won twice before, and Billy Joe Patton, the North Carolina lumberman who, since turning 40 last spring, has played some of his best golf.

But others rate consideration in the field of 200 that includes six former champions and such "possibles" as Dud Wyngon, who was runnerup to Nicklaus last year; Dick Davies, Californian who holds the British Amateur title; Richard Sikes, winner of the last two National Public Links crowns; and men of the stature of Bill Hyndman, Charlie Smith, Bob Gardner and Dr. Edgar Updegraff.

The men here are survivors of an original entry of 2,000, a record for the 62-year-old amateur. They are playing over a most formidable course. No. 2 of the five at the Pinehurst Country Club. At 7,051 yards, it's the longest to play host to the tournament.

The par 72 course was closed for some four months during the spring and while "refinements" were made. These included tightening the lush fairways and adding bunkers, principally to penalize free-swinging, non-thinking long hitters. The theory is to equalize the course and bring every club in the bag into play during a round.

Horning Back To Old Form

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Horning is as ready as he'll ever be to help the Green Bay Packers defend their National Football League title this year, and that spells M-U-R-D-E-R for six other Western Conference hopefuls.

Horning, who was the NFL's Most Valuable Player and scoring king in 1961 as the Packers won their second straight Western title and the world championship, was almost painstakingly slow in rounding into form this year after being discharged from the Army in late July.

But he was in mid-season form Sunday as the Packers opened defense of their title with a solid 34-7 victory over the Minnesota Vikings, scoring three touchdowns kicking two field goals and adding four conversions for 28 points.

A sellout crowd of 38,609 watched Horning's one-man gang job on the Vikings, part of a record NFL opening day turnout of 341,913 for the seven games.

The day's biggest crowd was at Cleveland where 81,115 saw the rejuvenated Browns defeat the Eastern Conference champion New York Giants 17-7. In other games, St. Louis, with halfback John David Crow leading the way, upset Philadelphia 27-21; Detroit overcame Pittsburgh 45-7; Baltimore came from behind on quarterback Johnny Unitas' passing to upend Los Angeles 30-27; Chicago's Bears upped the San Francisco 49ers 30-14 and Washington and the Dallas Cowboys played a 35-35 tie.

In the American Football League, Boston upset Houston 34-21 and San Diego rolled over New York 40-14 in the only Sunday games scheduled.

Horning, holder of the single season scoring record of 176 points which he set in 1960 in the second of three consecutive scoring crowns, gained 67 yards in 10 carries. But 50 of these resulted in touchdowns runs, and he added field goals of 10 and 45 yards.

The former Notre Dame All-America, who scored a record-making 19 points in the NFL's title game last year, scored his team's first 20 points before Bart Starr hit Ron Kramer with an 18-yard scoring pass. He then added the final eight points.

Fran Tarkenton, manhandled all afternoon by the Packers' equally tough defense, tossed a 17-yard pass to Jerry Reichow in the closing seconds for the Vikings' score.

Jim Ninowski, obtained from Detroit for quarterback Milt Plum hit Rich Kretling with a 17-yard TD pass in the third period to break a 7-7 tie and Lou Groza's 29-yard field goal added the insurance.

Tom Wilson, one of the 15 new faces on the Browns, combined with last year's rushing leader Jimmy Brown for 210 yards, and the alert Brown defense turned three interceptions into scoring strikes and recovered a Giant fumble in their own end zone to avert another score. Alex Webster's one-foot plunge got New York's TD.

Crow, out most of the 1961 season with a broken ankle and sidelined nearly a month during the training season with an ankle sprain, scored three touchdowns for the Cardinals, one on a 2-yard pass from Sam Echeverry, who also hit Sonny Randle on a 68-yard scoring aerial. Crow's 26-yard TD run in the third period put the Cardinals ahead to stay.

Plum held up his end of the Ninowski deal, passing for three Detroit scores—two to Gail Cogdill in a 21-point third period. Pat Studstill set up two of them with 3 decisive kick returns and also scored later on a 9-yard pass from Plum. The Steelers were chained by the Lions' defense, scoring only in the second quarter on Ed Brown's 43-yard pass play to Preston Carpenter.

Unitas, hearing unfamiliar jeers by the Baltimore fans in the second half threw two touchdowns passes in the final five minutes to bail out the Colts. He hit Ray Berry for 21 yards then won it with a 14-yarder to Jimmy Orr, after getting the Colts away to a 1-0 lead on a pair of TD passes to Don Mackey. Dick Bass scored two for the Rams on the ground, the second on a 20-yard sprint for a 27-16 lead.

Roosevelt Taylor's 42-yard run with an intercepted pass shook the Bears on their slump, and Willie Gailimore added the clinchers with scoring runs of 37 and 77 yards in the second half. Chicago, which didn't win any of its five exhibition games, took a 17-0 lead before quarterback John Brodie threw a 35-yard TD pass to Bernie Casey.

The Redskins' Bobby Mitchell, obtained from Cleveland during the off-season, and quarterback Norm Snead engaged in a dog-eat-dog battle with Dallas quarterback Don Meredith and Eddie LeBaron and end Fred Clark. Mitchell scored three times, one on a 92-yard kickoff return and the others on scoring passes of 81 and 6 yards from Snead. Meredith hit Clark with 38 and 55-yard TD tosses and LeBaron threw 11 to him for another. Dallas' Sam Baker missed a 35-yard field goal in the final seconds as the Cowboys tried to pull it out.

Patriots Outduel Houston, Blanda

By The Associated Press

There's a lot of life left in Old Bones yet, and the more, the merrier as far as the Boston Patriots are concerned.

Vito (Babe) Parilli, the old bones of the Patriots, outdid another old clogger Sunday in leading the Boston Patriots to a rebounding 34-21 victory over the American Football League champion Houston Oilers, who were led by quarterback George Blanda's three touchdown passes.

Parilli tossed a pair, then threw the last laugh at the Oilers with a 32-yard scoring gallop that rocked staid old Harvard Stadium to its ivy-covered roots and threw the Eastern Division into a three-way tie for the top spot.

San Diego's Chargers, shuffling off the 30-21 upset by Denver a week ago, evened their record at 1-1 by bombing the New York

Titans 40-14. But San Diego still trails the Broncos, who hold the Western Division lead with a 2-0 record after edging Buffalo 23-20 Saturday night.

Dallas and Oakland were not scheduled.

In the National Football League's first Sunday, champion Green Bay defeated Minnesota 34-7, Cleveland beat the New York Giants 17-7. Detroit walloped Pittsburgh 45-7. Baltimore won over Los Angeles 30-27. Chicago upset San Francisco 30-14 and Washington and Dallas played a 35-35 tie.

Parilli completed touchdown passes of 63 yards to Larry Garon and 5 to Jim Colclough and Ron Burton ran 70 yards for another score as the Patriots held a 24-17 first half lead.

Blanda hit Charlie Hannigan for 70 and 49-yard TD tosses and Bob McLeod with one of 40 yards.

Keith Lincoln, just moved from the defensive platoon to bulwark the shoddy running of the Chargers' attack, ran 103 yards with a kickoff and passed to Lance Alworth for 23 yards on a pass-option play to pace the victory over New York.

Quarterback Jackie Kemp threw a 67-yard TD pass to Alworth, a rookie from the University of Arkansas, and scored on a 1-yard plunge.

Dumas, Denver City Live Up To Ratings

By The Associated Press

Dumas and Denver City are living up to their ratings in early games of the Texas schoolboy football campaign. Wichita Falls and Rotan, the other top-ranked outfits, are only 50-50.

Dumas, defending champion of Class AAA, started the season last week by beating Class AAAA Amarillo Palo Duro 34-0 on Joe Ballard's 14-yard field goal.

Denver City has cleaned up against a couple of Class AAA teams and the favorite's tag in AAA becomes it. Denver City whammed Seminole in the opener and last week took care of Pecos 31-0. This week Denver City goes abroad, meeting Livingston, N.M., at Lovington.

Wichita Falls, defending champion of Class AAAA and a heavy favorite to repeat, wasn't outstanding but did remain unbeaten through 15 games by edging Lubbock 20-14.

But the big noises in Class AAAA were from Spring Branch, which beat Baytown 9-0, and Corpus Christi Ray, which took down highly rated Houston Lamar 20-8. Rotan, rated No. 1 in Class A, fell from grace the very first week when it was beaten by Hamlin 12-10. Subsequent events showed Hamlin, a Class AA team, was pretty strong and Rotan didn't look too badly in losing.

Rotan showed it could go against competition in its own class last week by swamping Paducah 50-6.

Defending Class A champion Albany, loser to Class AA Olney in its opening game, came back last week to trip Merkel 30-12. Albany battles Class AA Anson this week.

Wichita Falls plays Breckenridge Friday and won't have any occasion to show its true strength. Breckenridge doesn't appear of typical top caliber for the Buckaroos. The Brecks took a 22-8 strapping from Sweetwater last week.

Dumas will be at Berger Friday to test its second Class AAAA foe in a new Berger doesn't appear top weak — the Bulldogs trounced San Angelo 18-13 last week.

It might be a stronger test for Dumas than Palo Duro.

Four conference games already have been played. El Paso Jefferson beat El Paso Irving 30-8 in Dist. 1 of Class AAAA. Dallas Kimball defeated Dallas Adamson 15-7. Dallas Hillcrest downed North Dallas 22-6 and Dallas Samuel whipped Dallas Woodrow Wilson 27-7 in Dist. 6 of Class AAAA.

One of the top games this week matches Baytown and Port Arthur. The latter is well ranked and the Baytown clash could show whether it deserves this rating.

San Angelo goes to Corpus Christi to test Ray in another headliner.

Mississippi, No. 6, another pretender to the Southeastern throne, warms up against Memphis State, a high scoring machine that was held to less than two touchdowns only once last year, in a night game in Memphis.

The big one will take place in Seattle, matching Purdue, No. 7, and Washington, No. 10. The Boilermakers have high hopes of upsetting the Ohio State-Michigan State axis in the Big Ten while the Huskies are co-favorites with Southern Cal in the Big Six.

Mentioned frequently as most likely to succeed has been Charlie Coe, the lanky Oklahoma man who has won twice before, and Billy Joe Patton, the North Carolina lumberman who, since turning 40 last spring, has played some of his best golf.

But others rate consideration in the field of 200 that includes six former champions and such "possibles" as Dud Wyngon, who was runnerup to Nicklaus last year; Dick Davies, Californian who holds the British Amateur title; Richard Sikes, winner of the last two National Public Links crowns; and men of the stature of Bill Hyndman, Charlie Smith, Bob Gardner and Dr. Edgar Updegraff.

The men here are survivors of an original entry of 2,000, a record for the 62-year-old amateur. They are playing over a most formidable course. No. 2 of the five at the Pinehurst Country Club. At 7,051 yards, it's the longest to play host to the tournament.

The par 72 course was closed for some four months during the spring and while "refinements" were made. These included tightening the lush fairways and adding bunkers, principally to penalize free-swinging, non-thinking long hitters. The theory is to equalize the course and bring every club in the bag into play during a round.

Coe, Patton Good Bets To Win Amateur

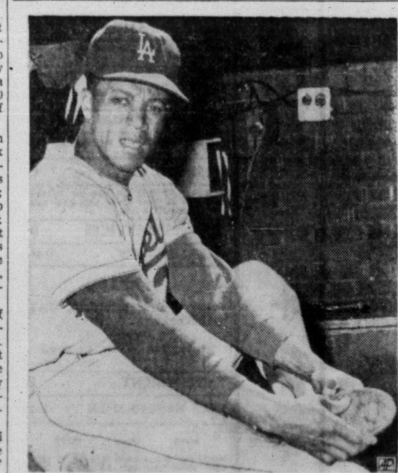

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—The U. S. Amateur Golf Tournament had a definite "open" look today as the week-long, 199-match marathon began to crown a successor to Jack Nicklaus, now a professional of means.

Mentioned frequently as most likely to succeed has been Charlie Coe, the lanky Oklahoma man who has won twice before, and Billy Joe Patton, the North Carolina lumberman who, since turning 40 last spring, has played some of his best golf.

SWIFT-FOOTED BASE STEALER—Maury Wills, king of the steal, cleans cleats on his baseball shoes as he continues his assault on the major league record of 96 base thefts in a season. The Swift Los Angeles Dodger shortstop has 91 stolen bases so far this season. (AP Wirephoto)

TOP TV TONIGHT

By BUD EVANS

6:30 NBC "It's a Man's World" is a full-hour comedy-drama series about four boys who live in a houseboat moored at a dock in an old Ohio River campus town. The houseboat dwellers will be played by Glenn Corbett, Michael Burns, Ted Bessel and Randy Boone. In tonight's opener, a husky young folksinger, fresh from the backwoods, comes into town and finds thirty-two dollars lost by the youngest resident of the houseboat.

Benefactor Of Town Is Closing Shop

ROCK PORT, Mo. (AP)—George Opp, who paid all of this town's taxes two years ago, says he is feeling the whiplash of jealousy among the townspeople.

As a result, he has closed his restaurant and the only hotel in town.

Opp, who is 70, owns several thousand acres of rich cornland. He had operated the 38-room hotel 32 years.

Two years ago, Opp paid the taxes for all Rock Port's 1,350 residents — $19,200. Last year he gave nearly $1,000 to send 4-H club members to Washington.

National publicity resulted, but with it came jealousy, he said. He didn't mind a little criticism, but he felt too many persons weren't supporting him.

"It's kind of a crazy story. It looks like it's awful hard to help a local community where you have been raised," Opp said.

"I'd be glad to go along like I did, but it seems like it's impossible with all that jealousy. They're throwing a lot of bouquets now—but it's just like the cow that kicked over the milk bucket. It's too late."

His publicity brought more than 6,000 letters, he said. "We're still getting them. Most of them now are just begging."

Memorial Program Honors Rayburn

By DAVE TAYLOR
RONHAM (AP)—Portraits of eight presidents under whom Speaker Sam Rayburn served were unveiled Sunday at a memorial program.

About 3,000 persons gathered at the Rayburn Memorial Library here in his home town heard Vice President Lyndon Johnson call Rayburn "a man to remember."

The ceremony marked the issuance of a Sam Rayburn commemorative stamp. Thousands of collectors purchased first-day covers and blocks of the stamp at the onham Post Office or a substitution in the library.

The real strength of a man can be determined by the way his works are carried on beyond his life and the manner in which he leaves his mark.

Rayburn died Nov. 16 of cancer. He was speaker of the House longer than any other man.

The portraits are of Woodrow Wilson, Warren Harding, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover, Franklin Roosevelt, Harry Truman, Dwight Eisenhower and John Kennedy.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., was among a delegation of nearly 30 senators, representatives and government officials attending the ceremony.

"The picture on the stand is beautiful," Yarborough said, "but the picture in Mr. Rayburn's heart and the minds of his neighbors is more beautiful."

Seek Youth In Slaying
JASPER (AP)—An all-points pickup bulletin went out Sunday for James Holt, 17, of Kirbyville, charged with hammering an elderly gas station operator to death.

The body of H. D. Cliffe, 66, was found last Wednesday in his combination service station-grocery store at Call Junction, 5 miles south of here near the Texas-Louisiana border. A bloodstained hammer lay nearby.

Sheriff R. C. Pace filed murder charges Sunday after a Lufkin pawn shop keeper identified a picture of Holt as the person who pawned a radio and television set belonging to the dead man.

Cliffe's abandoned station wagon was found in Lufkin.

Pace said Cliffe had been dead since near Labor Day. He lived in the rear of his small station on an isolated stretch of U.S. 96.

The sheriff said Holt bought a ticket for Billings, Mont., on Sept. 5 at the Lufkin bus depot.

Massachusetts Set For Ballot Tomorrow

By JACK REEL
BOSTON (AP)—Massachusetts voters decide Tuesday whether there are too many Kennedys in public life or if another of the clan should have a crack at high public office.

That seemed the overriding issue today as Edward M. Kennedy, 30, brother of President Kennedy, and Edward J. McCormack, 39, nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack, climaxed a whirlwind campaign for a short-term U.S. Senate nomination.

At stake in November balloting is the remaining two years of the term Kennedy left behind to become president.

Two republicans will fight it out at the polling places for their party's nomination and the opportunity—if Kennedy should win his primary—to take the dynasty issue to the voters for a second round in the general election.

They are George C. Lodge, former assistant secretary of labor, and Rep. Laurence Curtis, 18-year member of Congress whose district was reapportioned out of existence.

Still another entry in this famous family sweepstakes for the U.S. Senate is Harvard Prof. H. Stuart Hughes, a grandson of the late Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes. He is running as an independent and hence does not figure in the primaries.

Millions of words have been poured out by the candidates at state rallies, clamorings and on television about the issues of the campaign.

But the man on the street in Boston, Greenfield or Pittsfield seems considerably more interested in the question of whether Ted Kennedy should have a chance to join his president brother and his attorney general brother in holding major office in Washington.

The first go-around on this matter was decided entirely by Democrats. Young Kennedy demonstrated a way with the party organization by winning its state convention endorsement for the nomination.

But there are 1,200,000 registered independents in Massachusetts. Ordinarily they don't bother about primaries. But this time a substantial number of them seem to be steamed up by the Kennedy-McCormack contest.

President Kennedy will vote in Boston's West End. Speaker McCormack will cast his ballot in Dorchester. Both have kept publicly aloof from the campaign. But their influence obviously has been felt in behalf of their favorites.

McCormack has blasted Kennedy's candidacy as a joke and told his opponent "you've never worked for a living." He wound up the campaign by quoting Prof. Archibald MacLennan that the pressing business of the voters was to "save the President from the damage to his prestige implied in the candidacy of his younger brother."

Where McCormack stressed his qualifications, Kennedy said that in "a new order of politics and public service" emerging in the state he was the "vigorous spokesman" Massachusetts needs.

Kennedy ripped through a day of Sunday base-touching calculated to rally Irish Roman Catholic support. After a visit to an Elks home, he hopped to church and ethnic affairs in East Boston, Waltham and Watertown before returning for a reception where he and his blonde wife, Joan, shared honors with his mother, Rose Kennedy.

McCormack visited East Boston, met with members of a Teamsters Union local and toured the tenement districts of North Boston.

Lodge and Curtis approached the countdown with the former regarded as somewhat of a favorite. Lodge, bidding for his first election, went beyond personalities and state issues to strike out at President Kennedy's handling of international affairs. He said the nation's interests have been "hampered by apathy and vacillation towards Cuba and Berlin and conflicting policies in Laos and Viet Nam."

Curtis, who is 69, banged away that the voters ought to "separate the men from the boys." In shots directed at Kennedy as well as at Lodge, he denounced "dynasty, immaturity and inexperience."

Lodge is the son and the great-grandson of U.S. senators.

Gov. John A. Volpe, elected in 1960 when President Kennedy swept the state, is unopposed for the Republican nomination for a second two-year term.

Indictor Peabody, who counted presidential adviser Arthur Schlesinger Jr. as one of his campaign contributors, is opposing Clement A. Riley, registrar of motor vehicles, for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Some States Quit Type III Vaccine

By The Associated Press
Some states have decided to discontinue use of Sabin Type III polio vaccine, but state and local officials in a number of places have adopted a wait and see policy.

Sabin oral vaccine Types I and II will continue to be used generally, checks across the country indicate.

Reaction was mixed after the U.S. Public Health Service announced in Washington Saturday that it confirmed cases of Type III polio provided sufficient evidence "to indicate that at least some of these cases have been caused by Type III vaccine."

The special advisory committee of the health service said all 11 confirmed cases occurred in adults. The service recommended limiting the use of Type III vaccine to immunization programs for pre-school and school age children. Continued use of Types I and II for everyone was recommended by the health service.

Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze—whose Health, Education and Welfare Department embraces the Public Health Service—said Sunday on the NBC television program "Meet the Press" that the odds are one million to one against an adult who has taken Type III Sabin oral vaccine developing the disease.

Celebrezze said that with these odds, he would be willing to take the vaccine himself.

He said that decisions on the vaccine were made by Surgeon General Luther Terry and other experts and by local health officials.

Final decision on whether Type III should be given to adults in mass immunization programs would be made by local authorities even if there was no question about safety, he said.

Celebrezze said there was no incident involving a child who had taken Type III oral vaccine.

Some Canadian and New York authorities, a newsman noted, had halted Type III vaccine programs, while other communities were going ahead with immunization programs, and he asked Celebrezze to comment on this.

Celebrezze's comment was: "It's a question on which reasonable minds may differ."

Pioneer In Oil Conservation Forced To Take It Easy Now

By TEX KEIRSEY
Of The Amarillo News-Globe
Written for The Associated Press
AMARILLO (AP)—Friends seeking Ernest O. Thompson these days find him at home, quietly trying to regain his health.

The setting affords marked contrast to the arenas where this 30-year veteran on the Railroad Commission gained fame—particularly as the farsighted creator of oil and gas conservation.

The East Texas Field blew in late in 1930. Thompson has been in since spring.

One effect has been to bar the longtime Amarillo mayor, soldier, lawyer and businessman from an active role in coping with the East Texas Field's current slanted oil well scandal.

It was in the huge East Texas Field that Thompson, willing to fight for beliefs which were to prove vitally important, first started achieving the stature of an industry giant. In the process he became an authority of worldwide repute.

Some say three decades in the same post give him the longest tenure of any elective state official in Texas history.

The East Texas Field blew in late in 1930. Within a year it was pouring out more than one million barrels of crude a day, without regard for waste or market needs.

There were no controls on drilling or production. That spelled chaos for the oil industry. The price of crude plunged from $1.10 to 10 cents a barrel, heightening effects of the country's acute business depression.

Gov. Ross Sterling appointed Thompson to a Railroad Commission vacancy in 1932. The assignment, first of all, was to restore some kind of order in the East Texas Field, which has been described as bigger and wilder than all the world's other oil fields rolled into one.

One move by the governor was to declare martial law and station National Guardsmen in the field. The U.S. Supreme Court ordered oil to leave.

As fast as the Railroad Commission issued orders, the courts voided them, holding state law made no authority for enforcement.

Thompson, later to serve numerous turns as commission chairman, induced the legislature before the year was out to enact a market demand law with teeth to make it enforceable. With the same vigor, he helped prevail on Congress to pass the Connally Hot Oil Act—making contraband of oil produced in violation of state law or administrative order.

Armed with the new market demand statute, Rangers went to East Texas to see that Railroad Commission directives were carried out. Legislators adopted a law providing prison terms for anyone who produced oil in defiance of commission orders.

At Thompson's behest, President Roosevelt signed what became known as his "hot oil" proclamation.

In the face of strong opposition and abuse, Thompson and his fellow commissioners gradually established oil proration based on market demand.

These were among the initial steps establishing Thompson as a two-titled battler for states' rights and as a staunch foe of federal control in the petroleum industry.

He became one of the founders of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, and three times was its chairman.

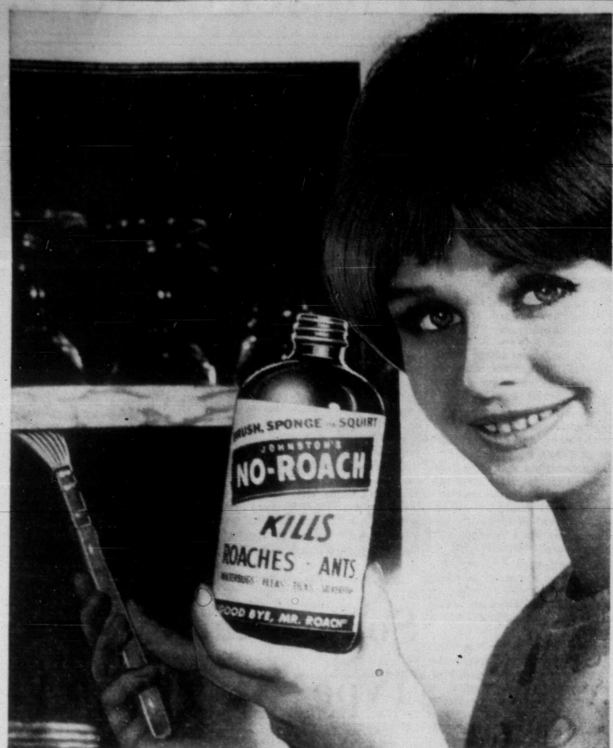

Thompson fought successfully to defeat the Anglo-American International Oil Agreement proposed in 1949, contending it would shake U.S. production and provide a roundabout means for the federal government to take control.

He was one of the first to warn that excessive imports of petroleum could imperil national security by weakening the domestic industry.

In 1957, President Roosevelt sent

Financial Leaders Talk About Dollar

An AP News Analysis
By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Financial leaders of 80 countries gathered here today to talk about the recuperating dollar and the new problems that will arise when the dollar is restored to full health.

The forum for the discussion was the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund, a 17-year-old champion of stable currencies and world trade. This meeting, along with simultaneous sessions of the World Bank and affiliated organizations, will continue through Friday.

In the monetary realm, an increase in the strength of the dollar or any other currency is almost certain to mean that some other currency is weakening. With the dollar showing new strength, Western Europe is increasingly concerned about its own marks, guilders, francs and lire.

Per Jacobsson, managing director of the IMF, predicts the U.S. balance of payments deficit—the cause of dollar weakness in recent years—will be substantially eliminated by the end of 1963. The Kennedy administration is making the same forecast.

Some of the European finance ministers and central bankers attending the IMF meeting aren't so certain. But they are concerned about the fact that the increasing strength of the dollar already has weakened the position of several continental currencies.

As the U.S. payments deficit has declined, from $3.9 billion in 1960 to a current annual rate of $1.3 billion, the surpluses of West Germany, the Netherlands, and Switzerland have disappeared. The Italian surplus has been reduced.

If the U.S. deficit is eliminated on schedule, it will be at the continued expense of other currencies.

The trend of the U.S. payments position—the amount of money leaving the country as compared with the amount coming in—is virtually important to the test of the world because of the dollar's unusual position. Along with Britain's pound sterling, the dollar is a "reserve currency," internationally acceptable as a substitute for gold.

If the steady postwar outflow of dollars from the United States is halted next year, this country no longer will be adding dollars to the monetary reserves of other countries. In that event, year-to-year increases in the total reserves of the non-Communist nations would be limited largely to newly mined gold.

This potential problem would require major adjustments in the international monetary and trade financing system.

Light For Astronaut

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr., who is scheduled to be America's next astronaut, may see a light from the Durban area on the Indian Ocean coast of South Africa on his fifth and sixth orbits around the earth.

A $4-million candlepower light is to be located at Louis Botha Airport, near Durban, and will burn for three minutes during Schirra's final orbital flights.

A U.S. Air Force Globemaster brought the light to Durban. It is filled with xenon—a gas similar to neon. When only partially in operation the light can be seen from a distance of 60 miles.

The purpose of the experiment is to determine whether Schirra can distinguish the light while in orbit.

A diluted chlorine solution will help to remove an odor from a bottle or jar. Swish the solution around in the container and then allow it to stand for a couple of hours. Rinse thoroughly with hot water as a last step.

Young Wife Keeps A Secret 3 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — "You don't know how hard it is for a woman to keep a secret for three years," says a young wife who knew her husband was feeding government information to the Russians while working as an FBI counterespionage agent.

"I'm proud of the job he did," Lois Flink told newsmen Sunday. Then, with a sigh of relief, "and I'm very glad it's over."

Mrs. Flink, 24, said that when her husband-to-be, Richard A. Flink, 27, disclosed his undercover role shortly before their marriage in June 1960, she was "very nervous at first."

But, she said, "he explained the whole thing to me and I agreed to go along with it."

Flink, a Republican candidate for New York State assemblyman, said he was partly motivated in his undercover work by his hatred of Soviet anti-Semitism.

The Justice Department disclosed Flink's undercover adventure Saturday night.

Flink, a Queens, N.Y., lawyer-politician, posed as a Communist spy for a $3,000 payoff while keeping the FBI abreast of information he gave to two Soviet employees of the United Nations, the department said.

Flink's Democratic opponent in the Nov. 6 elections said he was going to communicate with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy about the Justice Department report to see if there is any more to it.

Flink, who never had held elective office, is running against Queens lawyer J. Lewis Fox, who is seeking re-election to the state assembly where he has served 14 years.

Fox, 52, said he was puzzled by some things in the department's report and was trying to figure out why Kennedy, a Democrat like himself, released "it just at this time—two months before the election."

Fox told newsmen he could not understand what type information Flink could supply the Russians on the Republican party that the Russians couldn't have gotten from public records of the party.

"There's something more to it than appears on the surface," Fox said. "I don't know what it is."

Socialist Is Picked By Goulart

BRASILIA (AP) — President Joao Goulart picked a progressive Socialist as prime minister Sunday night. He also signed a bill won in a weekend triumph over Congress that sets a plebiscite on restoring strong presidential powers, the major issue in the current crisis.

Goulart chose ex-Labor Minister Hermes Lima to form what probably will be a caretaker government until a new Congress returns in February.

Lima is a member of Goulart's left-center Brazilian Labor party and once headed the University of Rio de Janeiro's law school.

Prime Minister Francisco Bressane da Rocha resigned Friday in a quarrel with the conservative-controlled Congress over Goulart's demand for a popular referendum on whether full presidential powers should be re-established.

Congress set up a parliamentary system, curbing the president's powers last year before Goulart took over because some military and political leaders feared he was too far to the left.

Presidential aides said the new Cabinet would include a number of officials who held posts under Bressane da Rocha.

"Bills signed by Goulart gave the president the power to set up a new government without congressional approval and provides for a vote next Jan. 4 on the issue of presidential powers."

Seeks Short Work Week

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President David J. McDonald of the United Steel Workers was expected to call today for a shorter work week, tax relief to stimulate consumer buying, and expansion of federal public works program to ease unemployment.

McDonald is the keynote speaker for the opening session of the steel workers biennial convention being attended by about 3,300 delegates.

In a pre-convention report, McDonald and other top officers of the union chided President Kennedy as not taking a vigorous hand in improving the nation's economy.

"Unemployment has remained a persistent problem despite Democratic control of the White House," the report said.
