New Viet Strong Man Ignores De Gaulle Plea

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, South Viet Nam's new military strong man, appealed today for Western support of his country's war against the Communists.

Ignoring French President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Southeast Asia in a pact with Communist China, Khanh told the Saigon diplomatic corps he is confident the Vietnamese people and the rest of the free world would continue material and moral support of the struggle against communism here."

Although repetition of the French proposal at De Gaulle's news conference in Paris Friday drew no official comment, relations between France and South Viet Nam remained seriously strained. Some sources predicted a break.

After the champagne reception, Khanh, 36, told newsmen a decision on his country's relations with Paris would be "extremely difficult."

In a cryptic style reminiscent of De Gaulle himself, the strong man added: "We shall handle our enemies and the friends of our enemies in our own way."

Khanh was far more blunt Friday. About the time De Gaulle made his statement in Paris, Khanh accused the French leader of attempting to impose a brutalizing policy on South Viet Nam and of blatantly interfering in its affairs.

At the reception Khanh exchanged pleasantries with French Charge d'Affaires George Perruche and told him: "You are welcome with us today, but I hope all the world is aware of the North Vietnamese aggression."

South Viet Nam's deposed premier, Nguyen Ngoc Tho, made a surprise appearance at the reception. Khanh said he would keep Tho in office until a new government is formed.

Tho, who has been in government continuously for 30 years, said he expects to return to private life in a week to 10 days.

Khanh said he will retain temporarily all ministers in a caretaker government except the generals arrested during the coup Wednesday for allegedly conspiring with the French to neutralize the country.

Khanh said the new regime will be "a government of national union, but we do not yet know what form it will take. It will be necessary to move slowly but surely in creating a new government."

He made it plain to the diplomats he was in charge. He said he would leave Saigon Monday for a tour of military units in the countryside as the first step in taking personal command of the war effort against the Viet Cong guerrillas.

US Denies Charges Of Aggression

WASHINGTON (AP) — Denying Panama's charges of aggression, the United States told the Organization of American States an investigation would show the Panamanian government was "inciting the people to attack and violence" in the canal dispute.

Mobs "infiltrated and led by extremists, including persons trained in Communist countries" assaulted the U.S. controlled Canal Zone, Ellsworth Bunker, new U.S. ambassador to the OAS, told the hemisphere organization Friday.

U.S. forces "never attempted to enter Panama but acted only to protect the lives and property of its citizens," he said. "No small portion of the Panamanian casualties were caused by the Panamanians themselves."

Panama's charges of aggression by the United States, presented to the OAS by Panamanian Ambassador Miguel Moreno, grew out of the rioting and fighting along the Canal Zone's borders Jan. 9 and 10.

Moreno, speaking before Bunker, said the mob violence was spontaneous, caused by anger at Americans who prevented the flying of Panama's flag in "their nation's territory" and due to inept action by U.S. authorities.

Panama called for Friday's meeting of the OAS council under terms of the Rio de Janeiro treaty which provides that each of the hemisphere's Republics will help another threatened by aggression.

Turkey OKs Peace Plan

By RAYMOND E. PALMER
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP)—Greece and Turkey informed Britain today they have accepted a U.S.-British plan to send an allied peacekeeping force to Cyprus. But the feuding Cypriots continued to hold out against the proposal.

Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys announced the acceptance after receiving Turkish Foreign Minister Feridun Cemal Erkin.

"He came to inform us that the Turkish government has accepted the plan," Sandys said. "The Greeks have already accepted."

As he left, Erkin said "I hope this idea will materialize very soon and that peace and tranquility will return to Cyprus."

Acceptance by the two governments — Atlantic Alliance partners estranged over the Cyprus dispute—helped strengthen Sandys' hand in trying to persuade the Greek and Turkish Cypriots to allow the allied force to police their turbulent east Mediterranean island.

The Turkish government announced its acceptance this morning in Ankara and Erkin's visit apparently was to formalize the decision.

Informed sources in Athens said Greece approved the plan after a four - hour emergency meeting of top cabinet ministers, military leaders and party heads summoned by caretaker Ioannis Paraskevopoulos.

The plan will have to be approved by the Greek Cypriot president, Archbishop Makarios. But Makarios has indicated he will veto it unless the force is answerable to the U.N. Security Council. The Western Allies are not likely to approve such a demand because this would give the Soviet Union a voice in the matter.

Turkish Cypriots at the London peace conference also have objected to the plan, but for different reasons. They claim the proposal would not permit reinforcement of Turkey's 650-man garrison stationed on Cyprus under a treaty.

It appeared the next step would be for Turkey and Greece to join the United States and Britain to present the plan formally to Makarios and Dr. Fazil Kutchuk, the Turkish-Cypriot vice president.

The U.S.-British plan, presented at the London conference Friday, would station a force of not less than 10,000 men from North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) countries on Cyprus. The United States would contribute 2,000 men.

Present Proof Gun Owned By Beckwith

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A sack of spent 30.06 rifle cartridge cases was introduced into the Byron De La Beckwith racial murder trial today over defense objections.

The empty cartridge from a bullet fired by any gun can identify the weapon through various markings on the case, which are as distinctive as a human fingerprint.

A state witness, FBI Special Agent Francis Finley of Memphis told the all-white jury he was given the cartridge cases by a Mississippi farmer who told him they were fired by a high - powered rifle he later swapped to Byron De La Beckwith.

It was the latest development in the state's effort to prove that Beckwith owned the 30.06 Enfield which police say was used to kill Medgar Evers, a Negro civil rights leader.

Beckwith, 43, accused of setting up a sniper ambush for Evers, watched glumly as Dist. Atty. William L. Waller wove his case.

Putting aside any hint of his earlier apologetic air, Waller was vigorously pressing the prosecution. Beckwith no longer wore his usual confident grin.

DON ADAMS

Don Adams Is Candidate For Tax Office

Don Adams has announced that he will be a candidate for the office of county tax assessor-collector subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

Until recently, Adams was the owner of the Lake Thomas Marine Supply. Prior to his opening of the marine supply, Adams was employed for eight and one-half years by the Post Office Department here.

The candidate moved to Snyder when he was less than one year old, and has spent most of his adult life here. He is a veteran of World War II, having seen service with the 36th Division in the European Theatre.

Adams said that if elected to the office of tax assessor - collector, "I will fill the office to the best of my ability under the direction of the commissioners court."

Adams also promised that every courtesy would be shown to every tax-payer, large or small, and that any problem would receive all the help the office could give.

The candidate is married, and has one son, Joe Mark, who attends Central Elementary School. They attend the Eastside Church of Christ.

Voter Total Here 6,600

Last minute poll tax purchases and exemptions pushed the Scurry County total to 6,600 by the time sales ended Friday.

The tax assessor - collector's office reported Saturday that 5,324 poll taxes had been sold and that 1,276 exemptions had been issued.

Voters qualifying through the tax office failed to reach the total of 6,988 which was logged four years ago in the last presidential election year. The highest number of poll taxes and exemptions ever issued in the county was in 1952 when the total was 7,335.

The voting strength of the county will, of course, be somewhat higher than the 6,600 since no exemption certificates are required in the rural boxes.

Also there will be those "non-paid" poll taxes which will be issued later to those who failed to purchase poll taxes. The "non-paid" poll tax holders will be furnished ballots at election time which list only the candidates for national offices.

Third 'Heart Research Day' Is Scheduled Here Tuesday

Dr. Richard W. Ernst, thoracic and cardiovascular surgeon from Fort Worth, will be the principal speaker at the various events of the Scurry County Heart Council's third annual "Heart Research Day" on Tuesday.

Local Heart unit officials pointed out that the highlight of the day for the lay public will be a luncheon at which Dr. Ernst will speak. The luncheon is open to the public and will begin at noon at the Snyder Country Club. Admission is $1.75 per person, which includes tax and tip. Reservations may be made by calling HI-3-3660. Members of the Lions Club are reminded that this luncheon will serve as their regular weekly meeting, and they, as well as the general public are urged to attend.

Dr. Ernst holds B.S. and M.D. degrees from The Nat'l Autonomous University of Mexico in Mexico City. His internship and residency work was done in Peoria, Ill., Kansas City, Mo., and at Baylor and Parkland Hospitals in Dallas. He was Assistant Professor of Surgery, Division of Cardiac and Thoracic Surgery, University of Texas, Southwestern Medical School, in Dallas, from July 1, 1959, to Aug. 1, 1963.

Dr. Ernst is presently engaged in the full-time practice of thoracic and cardiovascular surgery in Fort Worth. He was certified by the American Board of General Surgery in 1958, and the Board of Thoracic Surgery in 1959.

Dr. Ernst has engaged in heart research under grants from the Texas Heart Association. His most recent grant from the THA was for a project titled, "PEDICLE GRAFTING OF THE SINO - AURICULAR NODE TO EITHER VENTRICLE FOR THE TREATMENT OF COMPLETE HEART BLOCK."

The project has been briefly described as follows: "Complete heart block is a severely incapacitating condition by which the normal impulse for the heart beat is blocked. This impulse comes from a center located in the right upper heart chamber. Patients with heart block are invalids because they must not exercise nor exert themselves. The heart cannot respond to a demand more than very restricted sedentary life. Most of these patients utlimately die because of this condition.

"The plan is to explore the possibility of transplanting the impulse center from the upper chamber to the lower, or pumping chambers: which are the important chambers of the heart. If successful, this should cure these patients from their condition.

"In order to carry out this study in a modern cardiac laboratory it is necessary to purchase special equipment and hire laboratory help for which financial support is urgently needed.

"The results obtained so far on this project were presented to a national meeting of cardiac and thoracic surgeons. They demonstrated very enthusiastic response and urged the investigators to continue exploring this avenue of treatment of complete heart block."

Other plans for the day call for Dr. Ernst to speak to an assembly at Snyder High School in the morning, to which Ira, Fluvanna, and Hermleigh students have also been invited, and at a dinner meeting of area doctors at the Snyder Country Club that evening.

The Scurry County Heart Council stated that Dr. Ernst's visit to this area is being sponsored by the local unit as part of its continuing program of professional and public education. The annual Heart Fund drive will be conducted in Snyder and Scurry County in February and will be culminated in a door-to-door drive over "Heart Sunday" week-end, February 21-23. The money collected from the Heart Fund drive, and from memorial gifts received throughout the year, will be used to finance programs for research, education and community service in Scurry County, the state, and the nation.

HISTORICAL GROUP TO MEET MONDAY

Interested citizens have been reminded again of the meeting Monday night which has been called by the county historical survey committee.

Hugh Taylor, chairman of the committee, has said that if enough interest is shown in the committee's work, the committee itself may be enlarged, and the functions expanded.

Such things as the searching out of historical sites in the county, and marking them, and the designating of historical homes which might qualify for the states' medallions are functions of the committee.

Anyone interested in the work of this committee is asked to meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the community room of Snyder Savings and Loan.

Graham Denies Political Aspirations

HOUSTON (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham said Saturday he has no intention of entering politics.

Graham said this to a news conference in reply to published reports that he might accept a presidential draft.

The evangelist said he felt the greatest service he could render his country is to preach the Gospel.

Graham is in Houston to speak to the annual Layman's Leadership Institute.

Call For British Aid Has Saved New African Nations

By DENNIS NEELD

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — By swallowing their nationalist pride and calling for British troops to quell a spate of brushfire army mutinies, three East African leaders have saved their countries from chaos on a Congo scale.

The governments of newly independent Kenya and Uganda, with British military help, cracked down hard and fast on rebellious African soldiers demanding more pay and quicker promotion.

In Tanganyika, President Julius Nyerere hesitated for five days before appealing for British aid. During that time his mutinous army elected its own commanders and held the country at its mercy.

About 5,300 British soldiers, backed by naval and air power, took over responsibility for the security of Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika and their 23 million people. They put down widely scattered mutines with a minimum of bloodletting and maximum speed. The British suffered no casualties. Four American soldiers were killed.

Nyerere called for an immediate conference of all African foreign and defense ministers to discuss the East African crisis. In a message to African heads of state, he called the situation in East Africa critical, and declared that army revolts constitute a grave danger to the whole continent. He suggested a conference at Dar es Salaam, Tanganyika, not later than Wednesday.

The extent of Communist influence in the army revolts is difficult to gauge.

Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home of Britain declared in a television interview that he thought Communists were behind the disturbances.

In Madagascar, President Philibert Tsiranana said on his return from France that he had shown President Charles de Gaulle a file on subversion in East Africa. He asked for more military aid, saying "otherwise you'll be abandoning us to the Russians and Chinese."

A successful Communist-supported revolution in Zanzibar, 25 miles from the African mainland, clearly helped spread the spirit of insurrection, though Nyerere says there is no link between the trouble in Tanganyika and the Zanzibar revolt.

It would be amazing if the security forces of Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika had not been the targets of Communist infiltration. But it is difficult to nail down whether an over-all Communist plan was involved. Tanganyika's Defense Minister Oscar Kambona says his country has launched an investigation to expose any conspiracy connecting the three mutinies.

The Tanganyika government has announced the arrest of at least a score of labor-union leaders, some of whom are sympathetic to communism.

The mutines coincided with a long African tour by Premier Chou En-Lai of Red China, and the East African uprisings now have caused some apparent revisions in Chou's tour schedule at the request of those involved.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: As a journalist, responsible for writing the truth, did you do a competent research job before giving credit to the Houston Police Department for "Ten Easy Rules For Raising A Delinquent?"

Sincerely your,
MINISTER,
PHILLIPSBURG, KANSAS

My dear Reverend: The item in question was sent to me by a Chicago reader, crediting the Houston Police Department with authorship. Believing that people are honest until proved otherwise, I ran it verbatim, including the credit. My primary purpose in using the item was to share it with my readers, not to applaud the author. I have since heard from 22 readers, each ascribing authorship of "The Rules," to a different source. If the Houston Police Department did not originate them, I hope the real author will step forward, make himself known and accept my apologies. And now I am reminded of an appropriate quote (I know not whose): "There is no end to the amount of good people could accomplish in this world if nobody cared who got the credit."

Respectfully yours,
ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a newspaper compositor and your column comes to my attention frequently. I agree with your advice — most of the time. An exception being your reply to the man whose name was erroneously included with the list of employees who, though uninvited to the wedding, gave the boss' daughter a gift. His reasons for not conforming were valid, and his name could have been added purposely either to make him conform; become a conspicuous nonconformist in the eyes of his boss; or live a lie among his associates. Your reply dictates that he should allow himself to be tricked into donating to something he believes to be incorrect or to expose himself to a potentially vindictive superior. I feel he should be defended and commended — let the one who added his name to the list kick in with the five bucks.

TED FARABEE

DEAR MR. FARABEE: I don't know for which newspaper you work, but they are lucky. Although I gave a great deal of thought to my reply, I must admit I missed the boat. Your answer was better, and I thank you.

DEAR ABBY: My brother claims to be a religious man, but when he does his chores (he is a farmer) he beats his animals so unmercifully it would make you sick to watch him. I saw him club a poor old cow so bad one day I actually cried for her. Another time, I saw him kick a newborn calf halfway across the barn for no reason at all. He also kicked a pig in the mouth until it bled just because it wouldn't wait until he had put all the food in the trough. This same brother can quote passages from the Bible as good as any preacher. I go to church, but I don't attend as regularly as he does. He wouldn't miss a service for anything. Now, what kind of religion do you call that?

NO NAME PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: Your brother may be exposed to religion, and even preach it, but he isn't practicing it. It's difficult to believe that a man who is as familiar with the word of the Lord could behave so inhumanly to any of God's creatures. I think he needs to have his head examined.

Sec. Freeman Asks Export Law Change

HOUSTON (AP)—The United States stands a good chance of losing a large share of its export markets for farm products unless a change in policy is made, Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman says.

Freeman spoke at a dinner Friday honoring Rep. Clark W. Thompson, D-Tex., for his help to the Texas rice industry.

Freeman stressed the importance of the export market to the U.S. agriculture and cited its special importance to Texas which produces such crops as cotton, rice and grain which move in the export trade in large quantities.

He said some of the current practices of the European Common Market and some of the proposals made by the six countries which make up this economic unit pose a real threat to American agriculture.

Freeman said Common Market proposals attempt to impose one system of agricultural trade on the whole world.

"We need a plan which can result in the reduction of fixed import duties, in greater access to markets and in the reduction or elimination of discrimination among supplying countries where it is practiced," he said.

Mrs. Walden Says Son 'Difficult'

HOUSTON (AP) — Mrs. William John Walden Jr. has denied from the witness stand that her 15-year-old son, slain by Jack W. Bonds a year ago, was violent or dangerous.

Mrs. Walden's testimony came Friday in the 24-day-long trial—the longest murder trial in Harris County history.

Under cross examination, Mrs. Walden said her son, William John Walden III, had been difficult, had been tried in juvenile court, had been questioned by a probation officer and had been examined by a psychiatrist.

"But my son wasn't violent or dangerous," she testified.

Young Walden was shot to death Jan. 18, 1963, in front of a drive-in grocery in southwest Houston.

Bonds, 42, an elevator mechanic, is on trial charged with his death.

The essence of defense attorney Percy Foreman's evidence has been that Bonds was taunted beyond endurance by threats from Walden and his teen-age pals and their attentions to Beverly Chambers, 16, Bonds' stepdaughter.

'Side Benefits' Accrue From Major City Project

Work has been rolling along on the new fire and police station and Civil Defense Emergency Operating Center, and this is an appropriate time to call attention to another facility that stemmed indirectly from the same project.

The site of the new fire-police-EOC building had to be cleared of an old warehouse the city had been using. Consequently, the city had to make other arrangements for warehouse and maintenance facilities. This was done promptly, and rather inexpensively and the result is an installation that merits pride.

The new city warehouse and maintenance facilities are now in operation on property located on Thirty-seventh Street east of Avenue L. The city already owned a piece of property there and obtained additional land at a very reasonable figure from the RS&P Railroad. The city service center that has evolved probably exceeds expectations of city officials. The facilities are laid out for efficiency and several separate functions have been brought together.

For example, city vehicles are kept there when not in actual use and all repairs and maintenance for city-owned machinery are performed there. Shops for various activities, such as street work, water department work and electrical work are provided.

It is a fine example of "side benefits" which can accrue from a major project and one which should delight taxpayers.

Big D Is Fertile Soil For Analysts And Statisticians

Dallas, or "Big D" if you prefer to live modern, has been the subject of many articles and editorials during the past two months. Analysts and statisticians have had their crystal balls and slide rules working overtime seeking the true character of the metropolis on the Trinity.

Dallas has been pictured as a hotbed of reactionary conservatism, an overstuffed concentration of the mercenary, a colony of social climbers, a conglomeration of snobs, a city of just plain people with minds of their own, etc., etc.

Paradoxes are cited on every hand. It has been pointed out in various journals that, although Dallas generally takes pride in being anti-Federal Government, its leaders are not against government expenditures totalling millions or billions for making the Trinity River navigable from the Gulf to Dallas, they see little if anything wrong with government ownership of the city transit system and they readily yell "retribution" whenever there is talk of moving any Federal installation from the area.

We doubt that any of the crystal balls or slide rules have come up with the right answer. We suspect that Dallas is just like most other American cities — better in some respects, worse in others — but perhaps it is a bit more self-righteous than most others.

MAX CARRIKER

Carriker Pays Filing Fee Here

Max Carriker, Roby Legislator and newly announced candidate for Congress from the 17th District, called on Scurry County Democratic Chairman Frank A. Wilson and paid his filing fee in order to have his name on the ballot here in the Democratic Primary.

Carriker's announcement for the office was made as the climax to a reception given in his honor recently in Abilene. Some 800 friends and supporters from over the 17th district heard Carriker make his formal announcement.

Describing himself as a Democrat and supporter of President Lyndon Johnson, he said his would be a campaign of "progress vs. stagnation," and a campaigning of "the charted course vs. aimless drift."

Carriker, completing his third term as a state legislator for the 6-county 80th district, said his immediate plans include a personal visit to each county chairman to pay his filing fee and visits with old friends and new acquaintances in the process.

The 17th Congressional District includes Callahan, Comanche, Eastland, Erath, Fisher, Hamilton, Jones, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Parker, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens and Taylor Counties.

Smithsonian Institute Head Scholar Of Varied Talents

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — You'd expect the new head of the famous Smithsonian Institution to be a distinguished scholar. He is.

But who would expect him to be a onetime secret agent, or the man who introduced belly-dancing to Yale University?

This man of many parts is Dr. Sidney Dillon Ripley. He is the eighth man to head the 117-year-old Smithsonian, an institution that ranks at the top in Washington's attractions for tourists and dignitaries alike.

Ripley moved into his post Saturday, coming from Yale, where he was director of the Peabody Museum of Natural History, combining administrative work with his pursuit of ornithology

It was at the Peabody, in connection with the exhibition of some treasures from the tomb of King Tutankhamen, that the belly-dancing episode took place

Dr Ripley thought a program of appropriate music at the exhibition would go well. He had a professor who could play authentic Egyptian music on a zither.

"So I called a theatrical agent in New York and asked him to supply an authentic Egyptian folk dancer." Ripley relates.

It wasn't until the shapely young woman started her writhings before 180 trustees and honored guests that it dawned on Ripley that Egypt's authentic folk dance was the belly dance.

"It was a distinct shock to me," he says. "Actually, though it was rather striking. She went over like a house afire."

Ripley played the role of a secret agent—as a civilian with the Office of Strategic Services in World War II.

In one of his last undercover missions, Ripley remembers, he wound up parachuting into a field of mud in Thailand. He denies a published story that he jumped from the plane in full evening dress.

Ripley was born in New York City Sept. 20, 1913 and at the age of 13 went with his family to India. He developed a strong feeling for Asia and its people, and in time became a leading authority on birds of the Far East.

After graduating from Yale in 1936, he sailed on the first of many trips which took him throughout Southeast Asia. He received a Ph. D. degree from Harvard just before getting into the OSS.

In the OSS, part of his work was training men for undercover jobs in enemy territory known to him because of his prewar travels.

Turn Down Amendments

FORT WORTH (AP) — Fort Worth voters decided at the polls Friday that future mayors here would be named by popular vote rather than through choice of the City Council.

The vote was 9,668 for to 5,898 against in a light turnout that saw two amendments, the first in 18 years, approved for the city charter.

Previously the nine-member Fort Worth City Council has chosen the mayor from among the councilmen.

Another amendment approved provides for a merger of the city Park and Recreation departments under one director. This measure was approved 11,170 to 4,394.

Defeated was a third proposed amendment which would have increased the city's present library tax. It was voted down, with 8,422 against and 7,109 for.

Japan Sea Typhoon Surprises Many Ships

LONDON (AP) — Hundreds of ships have been caught by a typhoon in the Japan Sea, Moscow Radio reported today.

The broadcast quoted correspondents who said that winds up to 75 miles an hour accompanied by snow were lashing the sea.

Bulldozers were working nonstop in the streets of Vladivostock clearing snow drifts.

"The winds of the typhoon are spread very wide," said the broadcast. "Breakers of unheard of force are thundering on the shores of Japan, the Soviet maritime province and the Kurile Islands."

Carr Says Inspectors May Cross Borders

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Department of Public Safety can send inspectors out of state to check motor vehicles, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr held Friday.

Carr said in an opinion requested by department director Homer Garrison Jr. that the state, however may not waive the inspection required by law of a motor vehicle registered in Texas.

Carr also held that city and county health officers may issue arrest warrants for removing persons with infectious and contagious tuberculosis to a hospital, and that the Wesleyan Home in Georgetown qualifies as a public charity institution and is exempt from ad valorem taxation.

Tigers Smother Chiefs; Retain District Lead

The Snyder Tigers put on one of the greatest offensive exhibitions seen in Tiger Gym in years Friday night as they smothered the Lake View Chiefs 89-65 in a District 3-AAA contest. The win enabled Snyder to keep its two-game lead with a perfect 6-0 district record.

In other action Friday night Lamesa beat Sweetwater 66-56 and Brownfield edged Colorado City 62-56. These two winners are now tied for second in district play with four wins and two losses each. Lake View was knocked out of a three-way tie for second by the loss to the Tigers.

In the Friday night contest the Tigers continued to play the inspired brand of ball that they have displayed since the district race started. They hit for more than 20 points in each quarter for the highest total for Snyder this year.

Snyder jumped off to a seven-point first quarter lead, and increased it to 19 at the halftime intermission. All ten members of the varsity squad saw action and four of them hit in the double figures.

Although the taller Chiefs outrebounded the Tigers, Snyder managed to widen the gap with accurate shooting, hitting 49 per cent of its shots in the first half and 48 per cent in the second half. The Chiefs, constantly worried by the hustling Tigers, lost the ball 22 times before getting a shot, while Snyder lost it only five times.

Jimmy Wilson carried away high point honors for the game as he hit 8 field goals and 7 of 8 free throws for 23 points. Leslie Brown also garnered 8 field goals and 4 of 5 free throws for 20 points. Joe Hartman led Lake View with 22 points.

Phillip Floyd gathered in 7 rebounds to lead the Tigers in that department, while Wilson was close behind with 6. Billy Stewart and Leslie Anderson had four each.

In a preliminary game Friday night the Snyder B team defeated the Lake View B team 64-36. Reed Robinson led Snyder with 20 points and Steve Crowell had 10. Williams was high pointer for Lake View with 14. The Snyder B team is now 5-1 against the B teams of the district schools, with the only loss being a 40-42 squeaker to Lamesa. The Snyder and Lamesa B teams are now tied for the district lead.

The Tigers, who are now 10-8 for the season, will journey to Lamesa Tuesday night for an important clash with the Tornadoes. The Tigers came out on top in an earlier contest played in Snyder, 51-46.

Lineup Of Stars To Be At Lubbock Indoor Meet

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Eight individuals and three relay teams will defend their titles in the third annual Lubbock Indoor Meet Monday night.

Jim Hewitt of Oklahoma will defend his 60-yard high hurdles title against Ralph Boston, former Tennessee State star, Bobby May of Rice, Fred Knight of New Mexico, Ronnie Biffle of Texas Tech and Jess Tier of Oklahoma State. Hewitt won in 7.4 seconds last year.

Jack Miller of Oklahoma State won the 500-yard dash in 1963 and his competition will come from Jerry Anderson of Texas A&M, Noel Carter of Texas Tech, Earl Young, the former ACC Olympian, and Socrates Bagiakas, former East Texas Texas State star. Miller's time of 59.8 tied the record set by Ted Nelson of Texas A&M in 1962.

John Baker of New Mexico, who won the mile run last year will be competing against Richard Romo of Texas, Larry Thorn of McMurry, Geoff Walker of Houston, George Brose of Oklahoma, Jerry Brock of Texas Tech and Jed Fitzgerald of Sheppard Air Force Base.

Fred Hansen of Rice tied C.K. Yang of UCLA for first place in the pole vault last year and won on fewer misses. He will face his teammate, Warren Brattlof, James Farell of Oklahoma, Preston Holsinger and Mickey Baller of Oklahoma State, Billy Pemelton of ACC and Steve Guyness of Texas. All have been over 15 feet.

Jim Lancaster of Baylor will defend his shot put title against Parry O'Brien, former world record holder, Randy Matson of Texas A&M and Danny Roberts, the SWC champion from A&M. O'Brien threw over 62 feet last year, while Matson is the only Texan to reach the 60-foot mark.

Russ Laverty of Oklahoma State tied for first place in the high jump last year and he'll be facing Boston, who has done 6-9, and Mark Brady, former Oklahoma star who went 7-0 last year. Others in the field are John Nunley of Oklahoma, Fred Rath of Baylor and John Collins of A&M.

The other defending champions are in the women's division. Mary Carl Rose of Lubbock won the 60-yard hurdles last year, and Sue Schexnayder of Odessa won the 60-yard dash.

Oklahoma State won the two-mile relay last year and has three runners while ACC returns two members from its winning mile relay team. The Lubbock track team won the women's four-lap relay and has all four runners back.

The field event finals start at 7 p.m. and the first running final is at 8 p.m. There will be no preliminaries this year.

The shot put and the broad jump appear to be the strongest events.

O'Brien was the winner at the San Francisco and Winnipeg meets this year, while Matson won at Albuquerque last week. Roberts threw over 59 feet last year outdoors.

Boston has been over 27 feet in the broad jump, Tony Watson of Oklahoma, who was fourth in the 1960 olympics, and Bill Miller of McMurry have leaped over 26 feet.

Clarence Robinson and Ken Medley of New Mexico and Jerry Dyes of ACC all have leaped 25 feet or better.

Memorial Is Favored In Swim Meet

AUSTIN (AP)—Spring Branch Memorial qualified swimmers in each of the eight individual events and both of its relay teams to take the favorite role in the ninth annual University of Texas Invitational High School Swimming Meet Saturday.

Memorial also turned in the best qualifying time in four events in Friday's preliminaries which saw two meet records broken and one tied.

Memorial set a record of 1:45.9 in the 200-yard medley relay, erasing the old record of 1:46.1 set in 1963 by San Antonio Alamo Heights.

Carter Shillig of Dallas Highland Park set a record of 49.5 seconds in the 100-yard freestyle. The old record of 50.8 seconds was set by Phil Simpkins of Houston Lamar in 1961 and equalled by Shillig last year.

Houston Bellaire's 200-yard freestyle relay team equalled the record of 1:34.9 set by Spring Branch Memorial in 1963.

Defending champion Dallas Highland Park qualified one in each of six individual events and its freestyle relay team.

Other top contenders were San Antonio Alamo Heights, which qualified one man in each of six individual events; Houston Bellaire, with one man in each of five individual events and both its relay teams; Midland High School with one qualifier in each of five individual events and its freestyle relay team and Wichita Falls High School with one qualifier in each of five individual events and its medley relay team.

OU Swimming Team Sinks Texas Tech

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Oklahoma's swimming team, defending champions of the Big Eight Conference, took 10 first places Friday night to defeat Texas Tech in a dual meet.

Charles Schutte of Oklahoma was high point man with 11½ points. He also set a new pool record of 1:52.5 in the 200-yard freestyle. The old record of 1:53. was set by Phil Simpkins of Tech.

Simpkins was high scorer for the Red Raiders with 8 points.

HAYES REALLY WINS BY A NOSE—Robert Hayes of Florida A&M lunges forward and hits the tape with his nose to escape an upset in the 60-yard dash in the Millrose Games. Sam Perry, second from right, of Fordham, left Hayes at the blocks and Hayes just managed to beat him out. He did it in meet-record equalling time of 6.1. Hayes has several times equalled the American indoor time of 6 seconds flat. Mel Pender of Army, right, finished third and Gerald Ashworth of the Boston A. A., came in fourth. (AP Wirephoto)

Royals Snap Baltimore's Win Streak

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Bullets were enjoying their winning streak so much, Coach Bob Leonard said, that they couldn't wait to get out on the floor.

The Bullets, though, should have stayed in the dressing room Friday night. They wouldn't have run into Oscar Robertson and his Cincinnati teammates.

The Royals, with Robertson scoring 35 points, whipped Baltimore 118-106 halting the Bullets' six-game winning streak in the National Basketball Association.

Boston snapped a two-game losing streak with a 114-97 victory over Philadelphia in the over NBA game.

The Bullets threatened Cincinnati in the third period, cutting the Royals' margin to 68-63. But Robertson and Wayne Embry sparked a Cincinnati spurt that buried the Bullets. Robertson scored 13 of his 35 points in the third quarter while Embry tallied 12 of his 20.

Bill Russell and Tom Heinsohn brought Boston from behind in the second quarter against Philadelphia. Russell's three-point play tied the game 48-48, and Heinsohn helped put the Celtics ahead 53-48 at the half.

Russell was the big man in the third quarter, scoring the Celtics' first seven points as they increased their lead by seven at the end of three. Russell finished with 20 points and Heinsohn 24. Hal Greer tallied 25 for the 76ers.

First baseman Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants made 21 errors last season to finish last in fielding among the National League first sackers.

GLOBETROTTERS—The world famous Harlem Globetrotters will play the San Francisco Golden Gaters in the Ector County Coliseum in Odessa Friday, Feb. 7, at 8 p.m.

Coach Explains Team's Collapse

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Calling Sherlock Holmes and James Bond. Investigate collapse of the Arizona State Sun Devils in college basketball.

The Sun Devils from Tempe won 26 of 29 games a year ago and finished fourth in the final Associated Press poll. With four starters back from this team, ASU was expected to have another tremendous season. Instead the Sun Devils have lost nine of 16 games.

As far as Coach Ned Wulk is concerned, he has no need of the two famed sleuths of fiction.

"The loss of Tony (The Horse) Cerkvenik is a big reason," Wulk says. "He gave last year's team character. This year we lack this. "I'm also at a loss to explain so many floor errors."

Cerkvenik, a star rebounder, now is playing with the AAU Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla.

Despite his woes, Wulk is better off than Ted Lenhardt in his first season as coach at Tulane. The Greenies haven't won a game, the only major team in this category this season.

Tulane dropped its 15th straight Friday night when Mississippi rallied in the second half for an 86-74 victory. In contrast unbeaten UCLA, the nation's No. 1 team in the AP poll, made it 16 in a row with an easy 107-76 triumph over California's Santa Barbara branch.

Donnie Kessinger's 38 points and Ron Davidson's 20 balked Tulane's bid for its first victory. Bob Davidson and Dale Gott combined for 48 points to keep the Greenies in contention until Ole Miss broke a 67-67 tie and pulled away.

Walt Hazzard and Gail Goodrich each got 21 points for UCLA as the Bruins chalked up win No. 300 for Coach Johnny Wooden. Seven - foot Mel Counts flipped in 21 points to lead Oregon State to its 17th victory against three defeats, 85-79 over Seattle.

Oregon, playing at home, upset California 77-63 behind the 26 points secored by sophomore Jim Barrett.

Jr. Highs Advance At San Angelo

SAN ANGELO — Lamar and Travis of Snyder both were in second round games in the San Angelo Junior High Basketball Tournament early Saturday afternoon after disposing of opening round opponents Friday.

Travis faced San Angelo Edison at noon, while Lamar went against Coleman at 1:30 p.m. in second round action in the championship bracket.

In first round games, Snyder Lamar walloped Lake View 9th, 67-45, while Snyder Travis trounced Ballinger 9th, 49-30.

Billy Noel paced Lamar to victory with 18 points. Rob Golden had 14, Robert Jones 13, Mike Tipping and Eldon Woodward 4 each and Rickey Hall and Ronnie Clemmer 2 each.

Randy Feagan was high scorer for Travis with 12 points. Bobby Clardy had 10, Vernon Moore 9, David Cadena 8, Paul Johnson 4, Delbert Bruns 3, Augustine Garcia 2 and David Lester 1.

Edison advanced by overpowering Sweetwater, 59-39, and Coleman moved up by bouncing San Angelo Lee, 39-21.

Losers of the second round games were to meet at 6:30 p.m. Saturday for third place, while the winners were to go in the championship final at 8 p.m.

Sifford Still In Tie - - This Time With Bob Charles

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—If Charlie Sifford couldn't keep his promise, he at least kept his position.

Sifford, tied for the lead after the first and second rounds of the Palm Springs Golf Classic, vowed he'd be alone in first place after the third round of the 90-hole event.

But, for the third consecutive day, Sifford was still tied for the lead today—this time with British Open champion Bob Charles — going into the fourth round of the $50,000 event. Each had an eight-under-par 208.

Sifford, the five-time national Negro champion, played at Bermuda Dunes Country Club Friday and shot his second straight one-under-par 71. Charles, the left-handed swinger from New Zealand, played at the difficult Eldorado course and shot a 69, the second best round achieved there through the first 54 holes of the tournament. The classic is being played on four courses, all par-72.

Bill Casper Jr., came in with a 67 at Indian Wells Friday and, at 209, was only a shot behind the two leaders. There was a four-way tie at 210 among Gene Littler, Bob Adamson, Jimmy Demaret and Randy Glover.

Bob Goalby and Art Wall Jr. were a stroke farther back and Bob Rosburg, Chuck Courtney, Bruce Devlin and Bruce Crampton were tied at 212.

Tommy Jacobs, tied with Sifford after 18 holes, shot a 74 Friday and finished the round a half dozen strokes out of the lead at 214. Doug Sanders, tied with Sifford after the second round, shot a 77 and also came in at 214.

Jack Nicklaus, the defending champion here, was among 11 others at 214. He had a 69 Friday.

Russian Skater Likes Gold Medals

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—An attractive blonde Russian skater, Lidia Skoblikova, is busy collecting gold medals at the ninth winter Olympics.

So far she is the only multiple winner in the Games.

She took the 1,500 meters women's speed skating title Friday in the record Olympic time of 2:22.6.

Lidia, 24 and married, captured the 500 meters gold medal on Wednesday. She set an Olympic record then, too—45 seconds flat.

She adds these medals to an already impressive display of gold and silverware. She became world champion at all four speed-skating distances in Tokyo last year and has two gold medals from the 1960 Olympics for the 1,500 meters and 3,000 meters.

And she entered today's 1,000 meters speed skating the heavy favorite.

In the 1,500 meters, Kaija Mustonen of Finland took the bronze medal in 2:25.5 and Bertha Kolokoltseva of Russia the silver in 2:27.1.

Norway's national hero, 27-year-old ski jumper Toran Engan, was dethroned by 32-year-old Veikko Kankkonen of Finland in the 70 meters ski jump Friday.

Kankkonen won the first gold medal ever awarded at the Olympics for the 70-meter jump. In doing so, he also captured Engan's world title.

Kankkonen had the unnerving ordeal of jumping last of 54 entrants. The Finnish physical training instructor went 259 feet, 2 inches and collected most points for both distance and style with his dramatic last jump.

Kankkonen finished with 229.-90 points. Engan had to be content with a silver medal for 226.30 points, and Torgeir Brandtzaeg, also Norwegian, won the bronze with 222.90 points.

Jumping on the 90-meter jump takes place on the last day of the Games, Feb. 9.

Britain, which has not won a Winter Olympics medal since 1952, made a good start in Friday's two-man bobsled runs. The British pair, Tony Nash and Robin Dixon, had the best total time of 2:10.84.

They were closely followed by the two Italian teams, Sergio Zaedini and Romano Bonagura, and Eugenio Monti and Sergio Siorpaes.

The medals are awarded for the best total time of four runs. The final two runs were slated for today.

Sjoukje Dijkstra, the 22-year-old Dutch ice princess, who won the world title the last two years, took a commanding lead in the women's figure skating after completion of the five compulsory figures.

Miss Djikstra had 9.5 ordinals and 1,113.2 points. Second was Austria's Regine Heitzer with 20 ordinals and 1,074.8 points with Canadian champion Petra Burka third with 27.5 ordinals and 1,050.2 points.

All three American entrants were in the first 10 but still virtually out of contention.

Christine Haigler of Colorado Springs, Colo., was sixth with 53 ordinals and 1,000.9 points; 15-year-old U.S. champion Peggy Fleming of Pasadena, Calif., eighth with 81 and 968.6 and Albertina Noyes of Arlington, Mass., ninth with 88 and 951.3.

The competition will be completed with free skating on Sunday.

BUT HOW DOES HE EXPLAIN STENGELESE?—New York Mets pitcher Larry Bearnarth combines efforts to improve the Mets' image with his off-season work as a school teacher. Here he conducts an English class at a Huntington, N. Y., junior high school. He has banned disparaging remarks about the Mets in the classroom unless they are original. Another problem is answering students' questions about the way his baseball boss, Mets' Manager Casey Stengel speaks in interviews. (AP Wirephoto)

U. S. Wins First Olympic Gold Medal

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The United States won its first medal of the ninth Winter Olympics Saturday — a third-place bronze for Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore., in the women's slalom ski race—but there were anxious moments while a jury deliberated on whether Miss Saubert had missed a gate on her second run.

Finally, the jury said there was no violation, decreeing the medal was Miss Saubert's.

The Russians, meanwhile, boosted their medal production to 12 as the sensational Lidia Skoblikova won her third speed skating title in as many days and Claudia Boyarskikh led a 1-2-3 Soviet sweep in the women's 10-kilometer ski race.

Miss Saubert, 21-year-old Oregon State co-ed, had the third best time for two runs down the flag-dotted Lizum Valley course, finishing behind a pair of French sisters, Christine and Marielle Goitschel.

But gate guards reported the American girl had missed one of the 56 gates on the upper reaches of the course, and this threw a cloud over the Americans' jubilation.

Amos Little, U.S. delegate to the International Ski Federation, demanded a review of the films and, about an hour after the race, he emerged from a meeting of the jury with the report:

"Miss Saubert is definitely in. A review of the control film by the judges definitely proved she passed the gate in proper fashion."

Mrs. Skoblikova, a dimpled 24-year-old Siberian schoolteacher, won her third speed skating championship with a victory in the 1,000 meters. Another teacher, Claudia Boyarskikh, led a 1-2-3 Soviet sweep in the 10-kilometer ski race, giving the Russians a whopping total of 12 medals in all.

The Russians, dominating these Games as no country has in the past, have five gold medals, three silver and four bronze. Finland has four medals including the two gold, for the second best showing. The United States had been blanked until Miss Saubert's fine performance in the women's slalom.

A pair of darkhorse Britons, Tony Nash and Robin Dixon, broke the Italian monopoly in the two-man bobsled races on the icy Igls chute, with the U.S. crews finishing fifth and seventh.

Two pink-cheeked daughters of a French Alpine inn keeper, Christine Goitschel, 19, and Marielle, 18, made Olympic history by sweeping the first two places in the women's slalom—the first time sisters ever finished one-two.

Christine won with two flashing runs down Lizum Valley courses spinning in and out of the 50-odd gates, for a combined time of 1 minute, 29.86 seconds. Marielle followed with 1:30.77.

Miss Saubert's time was 1:31.36.

The Oregon State co-ed went wide on the first run and had a disappointing clocking of 44.78 seconds. She dashed down the hillside hell-bent-for leather on her second try, over the more difficult course, registering 46.-58.

Flipping her yellow goggles to the top of her head, Miss Saubert beamed broadly:

"It felt good," she said. "Was it good enough for a medal?"

Told she had won a bronze, the Oregon girl broke into a wide grin and said: "That's wonderful, wonderful.

High-Stepping Thomas Has Eye On 1964 Olympics

BOSTON (AP) — Olympic-minded John Thomas carries his rejuvenated anti-Soviet air lift into the 75th Boston A. A. Games Saturday night where he will share the spotlight with Bill Crothers, Wendell Mottley, Bob Hayes and Hayes Jones.

Just 8 hours after he captured the Millrose Games high jump at 7-2¼ Thomas will continue his unbeaten indoor campaign at Boston Garden where he holds the meet and floor marks of 7-3.

Thomas, still the world's most prolific jumper at 7 feet and over, was the event's wonder boy until he was upset by the Russians at the 1960 Rome Olympics.

John has returned to top form with his sights set on Tokyo. His latest challengers include a group of three 7-0 jumpers—Stig Pettersen of Sweden and Pacific Coast collegians Gene Johnson and Paul Stuber.

The emphasis has been switched from the pole vault where injury and illness have removed John Pennel and John Uelses. Ailments also have forced Oregon State's NCAA champions Norman Hoffman and Morgan Groth from the 1,-000 and mile.

The 1,000 will be one of the features with Canadian Crothers gunning for the meet record of 2:07.9. Crothers, 22-year old pharmacist from Toronto, lowered the American indoor half-mile record to 1:50.0 at the Millrose Thursday night, just beating Villanova's Noel Carroll.

Crothers will be tested by Carroll, American champion Jim Dupree and Ed Duchini from Georgetown.

Yale captain Mottley from Trinidad shoots for the 11-lap board track mark for the 440.

Hayes is the human jet from Florida A&M who has clicked off 9.1 in the 100 and has equalled the indoor record of 6 seconds flat in the 60-yard dash. He will be tested at 50 yards by Fordham's Sam Perry, Gerry Ashworth of the BAA, Tom Robinson and Pan American titlist Blaine Lindgren.

Hayes Jones of Detroit, an Olympic bronze medalist four years ago, goes after his 50th straight hurdles title.

Says Ruby Will Get Fair Trial

DALLAS (AP) — The president of the Dallas Crime Commission says he believes Jack Ruby can receive a fair trial in Dallas for the slaying of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

But John McKee, speaking Friday at the commission's first meeting since President Kennedy was shot, said the opinion is his as a citizen and is not necessarily the position of the commission.

Attorneys for Ruby have asked Judge Joe B. Brown to transfer the trial to another city on grounds that the night club operator can not get a fair trial in Dallas. A hearing on the motion is scheduled Feb. 10.

"I think Ruby can get a fair trial here," McKee said. "The intelligence of the people of Dallas is as high or higher than anyone in the state."

McKee said the commission will not issue any statements concerning the assassination or the killing of Oswald until after Ruby's murder trial is completed. The trial is now scheduled Feb. 17.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade's office is preparing an affidavit which McKee plans to sign denying that any prejudice exists in Dallas that would prevent Ruby from receiving an impartial trial.

McKee also told the crime commission directors that he doesn't believe that anyone who saw Oswald shot on nation wide television during a jail transfer could say for certain Ruby did it.

"They saw a man run up there and shoot him, but they couldn't see his face, they can't say for sure that Ruby was the killer."

Cubs Sign 3 Players

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs today signed Catcher Merritt Ranew, one of the National League's top pinch-hitters last season, and rookie outfielder Billy Ott and pitcher Dick Scott.

The Cubs now have 31 of their listed 37 players under contract.

Says US Baby Crop To Boom

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid declining birth rates, the United States still has a baby crop of over 4 million a year, say the population experts.

And the future is so potentially fertile they dread to think about it.

The U.S. Public Health Service reported this week that November yielded only 327,000 babies to Americans, the lowest November since 1953.

The Population Reference Bureau says the birth rate has declined some 14 per cent since 1957.

But these figures hardly tell the story.

The postwar baby boom is about to bring its multitude of offspring into the marrying years. A girl born in 1947 is 17 years old this year.

The prospect of what this could mean to the U.S. population in terms of growth is impressive. Even with fewer babies per mother, there will be many more mothers, hence many more babies.

For instance, there were 11 million women in their 20s, the prime reproductive age, in 1960. By 1970, there will be 15 million women in this age group says the Population Reference Bureau. By 1980, 20 million.

If U.S. women have the 3.1 children they currently seem to plan on, it could push the U.S. population to 249 million by 1980, to 344 million by the year 2000, and to over a billion by year 2065.

The longest pass interception that turned into a touchdown in the Big Ten in 1963 was 78 yards. Steve Murphy of Northwestern did it against Miami of Ohio last October.

Colonial Invites Hogan And Nelson

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Colonial National Invitation followed tradition Saturday and extended its first two golf tournament invitations to Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson.

Hogan, inactive the past few years, has appeared in all but the 1963 National Invitation and is the only five-time champion.

Nelson, who never has won here, played in every tournament except the one held in 1947.

Both are Fort Worth natives and members of Golf's Hall of Fame.

Other invitations to the $75,000 event, scheduled May 7-10, were to be distributed during the weekend at Palm Springs, Calif., where the Palm Springs Classic is in progress.

Fans See Low Score But Fancy Shooting

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The fans who attended the semi-finals of the Madison County Basketball Tournament didn't see much action although they saw some fancy shooting.

Sparkman High School made 100 per cent of its field goal attempts Friday night but lost. New Hope made 75 per cent of its shots.

Sparkman employed stalling tactics from the start of the game, waiting more than seven minutes between shots.

The score? New Hope 10, Sparkman 5.

30th Straight Win

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Austin has won its 30th straight basketball victory, a 58-52 decision Friday night over Houston Jones.

Austin, which has a 7-0 mark in Dist. 9 class AAAA basketball, was led by Ken Spain, who pumped in 34 points.

Austin needs to win only one of its remaining three games for a tie for the district title.

Bolin Inks Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bob Bolin, again counted on as a relief workhorse and part-time starting pitcher, signed his 1964 contract, the San Francisco Giants said today.

He was 10-6 last year and had six saves. He struck out 134 men in 137 innings, including 14 in one game.

Heart Fund Golf Tournament Set

A Heart Fund Golf Tournament will get underway this week at the Snyder Country Club Golf Course.

Winners will be determined by 36 holes of medal play. There will be both a ladies' and men's division.

In the ladies' division, all entrants will be required to play a 9-hole qualifying round, preferably as part of the weekly ladies' day play on Tuesday, Feb. 4 or Feb. 11. Lady entrants then will be divided into flights for a final 9 holes of medal play on Tuesday; Feb. 18. The qualifying round score and the final round tally will determine the overall 18-hole score for each contestant. In the event that ladies are unable to play a qualifying round on either Feb. 4 or Feb. 11, such rounds may be played anytime prior to Tuesday, Feb. 18, so long as it is declared as such prior to starting play and an attested scorecard is turned in.

Rules for the men's division are similar, with the provision that a properly declared and attested 18-hole qualifying round be played by dusk Saturday, Feb. 14, with an 18-hole final round being played Sunday, Feb. 16. Final round play will be in flights determined by qualifying round scores, with the overall 36-hole total for each contestant determining his standing.

Entry fee for the tournament has been set at $2.50 in the men's division and $1.50 in the ladies' division. Entry fees do not include green fees where applicable.

Prizes will be awarded in each flight in both divisions.

Charles Bruce, golf professional and manager at the Snyder Country Club, is serving as chairman for the event. Interested golfers may contact him at the club for further details.

"Play in the Heart Fund Golf Tournament and help put heart disease 'out of bounds'" is the slogan the Scurry County Heart Council is using for this year's tournament.

TO BE DEDICATED SUNDAY—Dedication services will be held at 2:30 Sunday afternoon in the new Templo Bautista at Twenty-first Street and Avenue R. Four Baptist Churches in Snyder help support the church which was a project of the City Missions Committee.

NEW PASTOR AT TEMPLO BAUTISTA—The Rev. Moises Padilla, Jr., pastor of the Templo Bautista Mission, poses with Mrs. Padilla and their children, Loretta Gay, Esther Ruth and Sammy Ray. Rev. Padilla came to Snyder from a pastorate in Coleman. He attended Wayland College in Plainview.

MEMBERS OF THE BAPTIST CITY MISSIONS COMMITTEE which was largely responsible for the construction of the new Templo Bautista building are pictured above. Seated are Rev. Allan Cartrite, chairman of the building committee, and Lyman Wren, chairman of the finance committee. Standing are Glen Sehested, committee chairman; Rev. Bobby Phillips, pastor of the Avenue D Baptist Church; and Dr. Jimmie Nelson, pastor of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

Dedication Service Slated For New Templo Bautista

Dedication services for the Templo Bautista (Temple Baptist) Church will be held at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

The new building, just recently completed, is at the corner of Twenty - first Street and Avenue R. Construction of the building was a project of the Baptist City Missions Committee which is made up of members from most of the city's Baptist churches.

The Templo Bautista was formed here in 1936 with the Rev. E. P. Gonzalez as the organizing minister. In 1937 the group was organized as a Baptist Mission.

In December of that year the First Baptist Church gave the new mission church two lots and a church building. Membership then totaled 45.

The church building at Fourteenth Street and Avenue S was built in 1949.

The Rev. E. P. Gonzalez continued as pastor of the church until 1953. At that time the Rev. Simon Natividad was installed as the pastor, followed in 1955 by the Rev. Ignacio Villapando.

Rev. Villapando resigned in 1956, and Rev. Gonzalez returned to the church and served as pastor through 1959.

Ramiro Valdes, a layman, served the church for six months in 1960. Rev. Samuel Delgado accepted the pastorate in October, 1960. He resigned in October, 1963, and the present pastor, the Rev. Moises Padilla, Jr., accepted the pastorate in January.

Rev. Gonzalez will be present and have a part in the dedication ceremonies.

The dedication sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Rudy Hernandez of Dallas, a staff associate with the Division of Evangelism of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Others who will take part in the dedication are the Rev. Bobby Phillips, pastor of the Avenue D Baptist Church; the Rev. Allen Cartrite, pastor of the Green Hill Baptist Church; Dr. Jimmie Nelson, pastor of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church; and the pastor of the church. Miss Alice Cadena is the church musician.

The public is invited to attend the services. The building will be open to the public following the dedication.

Low Prices Don't End Oil Profits

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — Most oil companies report record earnings despite concern over depressed prices.

Most financial statements detail a parade of operations records but pinpoint depressed prices as the most discouraging factor of the record-smashing year.

Major factors behind the healthy reports are record production levels and record sales volumes. The industry produced more crude oil and natural gas and sold more petroleum products, gas and petrochemicals than ever before.

There has been some fear impressive earnings the first nine months of 1963 would be curtailed a bit by a slow October-December fourth quarter.

Texaco, for example, reported a 13.3 per cent increase in 1963 profits but said a 13.4 per cent October - December gain gave the company its best quarter in history.

Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey became the first oil firm to push its profits into the billion-plus bracket. M. J. Rathbone, chairman, was among those crediting sales volume instead of prices.

"Our sales of petroleum products worldwide were more than four per cent higher, although pressures on product prices continued throughout the year," Rathbone said.

Jersey Standard's earnings of $1.015 billion were 21 per cent above the $840.9 million of 1962.

Texaco boosted earnings to $545.6 million. Augustus Long, chairman, said gross production increased 5.4 per cent, refinery runs 6.7 per cent, and product sales 6.8 per cent.

The estimated earnings of $371 million for Gulf Oil Corp. represent a 9 per cent increase. Gulf attributed a major part of the improvement to U.S. production and sales volumes.

Standard Oil Co. of Indiana estimated its profits at $183 million, a 13 per cent increase.

Shell, Sun and Continental also reported record profits.

Continental's earnings of $87.4 million were 18 per cent above 1962.

Escaping Bandit Throws Up Screen

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A bandit used a wall of fire to aid his getaway after robbing a supermarket of $10,000 Friday.

Police said the gunman poured gasoline on a pathway between the store and another building before he entered the store.

Upon leaving with the money, officers said, he dropped a match into the gasoline, then ran down the street.

Store manager Lewis Swan said the flames kept pursuers from following the gunman.

6½ Miles Of Cave Mapped On Spelunkers' Field Trip

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Nine members of the Snyder Speological Grotto and their adult sponsor explored Cotton Wood Cave in Lincoln National Forest, N. M., on Jan. 25. A complete report of the field trip has been prepared by Dennis Kennedy, head photographer for the local Grotto. The report is published below.)

• • •

Cotton Wood Cave is located in the Guadalupe Mountains of the Dark Canyon Region. This canyon was the most impressive thing we ever saw. We arrived at the cave entrance at 4:15 after hiking 3½ miles over impassable roads.

The entrance was estimated at over 30 feet. The width was approximately 45 feet. Several spelunkers in the group remarked that it was almost as big, if not bigger, than the entrance to Carlsbad Caverns.

Pausing at the entrance, we donned our lights and fixed up our carbide lanterns. We proceeded down a fairly steep slope and reached the bottom where we noticed several of the largest dead cave formations we had ever seen. These formations are about 6 to 8 feet in diameter and approximately 35 or 40 feet high. There were several more of these in the entrance room.

This vaulted room was named the "Room of Giant." Leaving this room we continued back into the cave and came upon two twin cave formations about 6 or 7 feet high and about 5 feet in diameter. We passed through these and found ourselves on the brink of a steep rock slide. There was no way down, except by sliding.

After sliding down, we named the slide the "Jumping Off Place." The slide was well over 250 feet down and a very steep 75 degrees.

Once down, we found ourselves in another large room with several large domes. Being unable to think of a name for this room, we called it the "No Name Room." We thought we had reached the end of the cave, but one member found a small crevasse which led to the lower caves.

We entered the crevasse and climbed down some 10 or 12 feet. From there we crawled through a tight passage we called the "Crawl Way." Finally we climbed up about 15 feet into a higher part of the cave. We climbed into a large room we called the "Resting Place." From there we kept going down until we were in the lower cave.

We entered the lower cave by climbing a fairly large breakdown. Once down, we came to a room that looked like a fairyland cave. The room was large, 150 feet or more in length, had a dirt floor and was perfectly smooth. In fact it looked like a lost passage. So we called the room the "Lost Passage Room."

Leaving this room, we came to a long crawl way around 50 to 75 feet long and 2 to 4 feet high. Because of several thousand stalagtite formations called soda straws or needles, we called this crawl way the "Spike Way."

We then entered a room with a crystal clear lake in it. Having no way of telling the depth, we estimated it was over 40 feet deep. Because of the water, we took great pleasure in calling this the "Crystal Lake Room."

After crawling about five feet, we entered the most beautiful room in the entire cave. This room had thousands of beautiful, delicate formations of soda straws. The colors ranged from a very brilliant orange to red, yellow and brown. We named this the "Needle Room."

After leaving this room, we came to another room with some odd, but very beautiful formations. The formations were formed by an underground lake in the shape of tables. They have gray bases and brilliant orange tops. It reminded us of a sidewalk cafe, so we called it the "Table Top Room."

Still the cave kept going down and back. We went farther and came to a room with several hundred formations in the shape of spirals. We all agreed it was the most unusual sight in the cave. We called it the "Room of Spirals."

The mud became so bad in some places that we could go no farther. Failing light finally forced us back to the surface.

After 7½ hours we had not succeeded in reaching the end of the cave. The cave was 350 feet high and over 200 feet wide in the widest part. We did succeed in mapping about 6½ miles of the cave and we plan to return and finish the job.

Making the trip were Gary Massingale, president of the Grotto; Danny Kennedy, vice president; Dennis Kennedy, head photographer; Robert Cuppit, photographer; Glenn Thomas, mapper; John Stewart, explorer; Keith Maddox, secretary - treasurer; Jerry Hazel, explorer; Van Sumruld, explorer, and Robert Cuppit, Sr., sponsor.

Local Stock Is Shown In Ft. Worth

Animals exhibited by Scurry County 4-H Club Members at the Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show did very well according to County Agent Billy Roach.

Three steers and two heifers were shown by Connie Robinson of Knapp, Linda Daugherty and Bob Daugherty of Fluvanna.

Linda's hereford heifer placed second in the Junior Hereford Heifer Class. Bob's Senior Heifer placed third in the Junior Breeding Heifer Class. Linda and Bob had previously shown the Grand Champion and Reserve Champion of the Hereford Division of the Sweetwater Livestock Show.

Connie Robinson of Knapp showed two Angus steers in the Junior Angus Steer Class to the 7th and 22nd place. These two steers were bred on the C. T. McLaughlin Ranch of Scurry County.

Linda's junior Hereford steer, Flashy, placed 12th in his class. Linda's steer and two other steers bred by the Granite Hills Hereford Ranch of Llano, Texas were judged best three steers bred by one breeder.

Several Scurry County residents saw the very fine display of livestock at the Fort Worth Stock Show.

The name of the capital of Honduras, Tegucigalpa, means "silver hill." A large silver mine is operated not far from there.

Allen-Bridges Exchange Vows In Arlington

The Westminster Presbyterian Church of Arlington was the scene at 8 o'clock the evening of January 17 for the wedding of Miss Donna Gene Allen, of 211 East Rogers, Arlington, and Mr Charles Darrell Bridges, Jr.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Allen of Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Bridges of Fort Worth.

Rev. James A. Marrow Jr. officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar setting of palms and branched candelabra holding white tapers.

Rendering traditional wedding music was Mrs. James A. Marrow, Jr., organist.

Honor attendants were Miss Jean Williams of Arlington and Paul B. Widener. Ushers were John Robbins and Bob Sellman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a candlelight brocade suit with a matching pill box hat which featured a short veil. She carried glamelias and stock on a white Bible. Miss Williams was attired in pastel pink brocade satin with matching accessories and a corsage of white.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church when Mrs. Robert Rhea of Arlington presided at the guest book.

The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth over pink and was centered with an arrangement of pink roses flanked by tall white tapers in crystal holders. Other appointments were in crystal.

Assisting in serving were Mmes. Don Hitter, Charles McKinney, Don Hamilton and Randy Galloway.

The couple are at home at 1009 West Abram, Apt. 8.

The bride is a graduate of Stamford High School and is employed at the Arlington Citizen - Journal.

The groom, a graduate of Pascal High School in Fort Worth, formerly served as a sergeant in the U. S. Marine Corps.

White Will Speak To K&F Club

Ask almost anyone you chance to meet where Stockbridge, Georgia is, and you most likely would get an "I don't know" answer, for Stockridge is one of those small towns (near Atlanta) that people might overlook; — that is, all but the folks who work for Rand McNally, the nation's premier map makers.

But more to the point about Stockbridge is the fact that it is the residence of Hubert A. "Baldy" White, one of the South's finest after - dinner humorist - philosophers, and it is this fact which brings him here. He will be the guest speaker of the Knife & Fork Club at its meeting Tuesday evening Feb. 4th at the Country Club

As might be suspected, "Baldy" White deserves his nickname. However, what he lacks in hirsute adornment is made up for in his ability to dispense to his listeners a pleasing kind of talk that is both philosophical and humorous. He has addressed dozens of discerning audiences and, according to the reports from the National organization of which the local club is a member, has literally "rolled them in the aisles." At the same time he has given them something "to chew on." This dual ability is not common among platformists these days, which puts "Baldy" White in the unique position of being eagerly sought.

He is a native of Georgia and so proud of his home state and of the other southern states that on his tours about the nation folks have called him the "Ambassador of the South," a title that is not without truth.

His subject here will be, "Spice Your Livin' With Laughter", — and if advance predictions are met, members of the club should have a fine time.

Exotic Trips

TRAVELER'S TRIO. By Robert Gathorne - Hardy.

Three excursions into rather exotic by ways are described in leisurely fashion in this book.

The first and third essays are concerned with forays into backwater scenes of the Mediterranean. Being primarily a botanist. Hardy is flower chasing in "The Primrose of Palinurus." In "The Discovery of Procida" he catches the amusing contrasts between ancient life and primitive modern life on an island opposite the tourist center of Ischia.

But the longest and best part of Hardy's book is "The Land God Gave to Cain."

It is about a trip to Labrador in 1920, with an older cousin, to look for traces the Norsemen left in their westward explorations toward America. It is written in the mellowed perspective of 40 years after the event.

Hardy describes the stone cairns they saw, and sifts through the legends they heard from the Eskimos and missionaries, about a shadowy race of migrants known locally as the Tunnits. As an amateur archaeologist he offers some speculation on Norse contacts in Labrador.

Fortunately, he has a gift for sizing up, and characterizing, the modern inhabitants of this lonely land, so that there is a travelogue spice in his pages of adventure.

30-Footer Around The World

BEYOND THE WEST HORIZON By Eric C. Hiscock.

Few living men or women have sailed around the world in a small yacht; perhaps not more than two have done it in a 30-footer.

These two, the English couple Eric and Susan Hiscock, seem to have done it so easily and so cheaply (at the rate of about $2,000 a year) that you wonder why the seas aren't full of small boat voyagers.

The truth is that an astonishing variety of long voyages is attemped each year by sailors and would-be sailors bitten with the Slocum bug. The Hiscocks are different from most because their eight-ton craft, Wanderer III, was designed and built especially for the purpose, and because of their wide experience, and good luck and British knack of understatement.

For instance, at one critical point they grounded on a reef off Croker Island in the Pacific, abandoned the ship as a total loss rowed to the largely uninhabited island and walked over abominable terrain to a mission on the other side. And what did Hiscock say to the first people he met? Just this — "I don't wish to seem melodramatic, but my wife and I are shipwrecked."

Actually, Wanderer III was dragged off the reef by the mission people before it suffered major damage.

A printer's error in the book probably has upset Hiscock considerably more than the shipwreck if his personal copy is like mine. Pages 117 to 132 inclusive are omitted — and these are the ones that carry the account of the grounding. That's too many pages to leave out of a $6.75 book.

Vegetable Loaf With Mushrooms

2 large onions, finely chopped (1¾ cups)
2 teaspoons butter or margarine
1 cup each coarsely grated carrots and celery
1 cup finely chopped parsley, loosely packed
1½ cups finely ground pecans
1 cup soft whole-wheat bread crumbs
1 teaspoon each salt and poultry seasoning
2 egg yolks
1 cup undiluted evaporated milk

Brown the onions in the butter. Mix well with remaining ingredients. Pack into a loaf pan (about 8 by 4 by 3 inches) rinsed in cold water; turn out into greased baking pan (11 by 7 by 1½ inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 40 minutes. Serve with mushroom sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Note: You'll find it will be easy to discard stringy portion of celery after grating.

MUSHROOM SAUCE: Slice 2 small onions and cook in 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine until wilted and golden. Drain one 6-ounce can sliced mushrooms and add enough milk to the mushroom liquid to make 1½ cups. Add the drained mushrooms to the onions; stir in 2 tablespoons flour. Add the milk mixture and ½ teaspoon salt. Cook and stir over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly. Stir in 1 tablespoon minced parsley.

Teen-Age Author Is Perceptive

DON'T KNOCK THE CORNERS OFF. By Caroline Glyn.

Young Miss Glyn's novel about an exceptional child is subtly simple, and unusual in more ways than one.

She relates the adventures of Antonia Rutherford, an English schoolgirl, from approximately her 10th to her 15th birthdays.

Mostly is a story of the odd things that happen to Antonia among the young monsters of what we would call a public school, then among the rather bizarre pupils and teachers of a private school for girls, and finally back in a grammar school.

Antonia is no ordinary child. She is bright—except that she gets hopelessly lost in math—and she writes poetry that is good enough to be published in the magazines.

She also does some painting, which is natural, for her father is a painter. Her mother is a breeder of fancy goldfish. The whole loose-jointed family loves to take exotic vacation trips.

There are some obvious parallels between the author and her heroine, for Miss Glyn passed her 15th birthday while working on this manuscript, and has done some poetry and painting herself.

Some American readers may find the early parts of this book a little baffling for its very English atmosphere. But once you get on to that, you begin to be impressed by the vivid portrayal of the young mind. Soon it dawns on you—especially in the episodes at the girl's school—that a deft, mature perception is at work, creating a satirical view of the teachers and the pompous conformity of the school system.

Somehow this teen-age author has caught an insight into the meaningful but mercurial changes through which children go, and at the same time has followed her precocious intuition into an understanding of adult relationships too. Certainly as a craftsman she is akin to those amazing prodigies occasionally erupting in the musical world; for few makers of words can accomplish what she does at 15.

She happens to be the great-granddaughter of Elinor Glyn, who years ago shocked naive Americans with a sexy novel called "Three Weeks."

Caroline Glyn has written a book that is a rare phenomenon.

Hermleigh Church Group Visits Retired Pastor

The WSCS of Hermleigh Methodist Church met Thursday morning in Snyder with a retired and former pastor of Hermleigh, Rev and Mrs. J. R. Plant, 404 Thirtieth Street.

The opening song was "I Am Bound For The Promise Land." Rev. Taylor present pastor read Matt. 6:19-34, followed by singing "Amazing Grace," "When The Roll Is Called Up Yonder," and "Bless Be The Tie That Binds." Mary Laymon gave the closing prayer.

Those present were: Mrs. Irene Taylor, Mrs. Allie Ammons, Mrs. Mary Laymon, Mrs. Ethel Adams, Mrs. Mae Fort and the pastor, Rev. T. H. Taylor.

Mrs. Plant served cake and coffee to the group.

You don't have to be a Hercules to handle modern power tools. As a result, women are performing a lot of the do-it-yourself tasks once considered exclusively in the male domain.

Take the portable electric drill. The new models are light and easy to handle. Women have discovered that, equipped with various types of pads and cloths, the drills are excellent for such chores as polishing and cleaning.

But you have only to talk to the sales people in shops dealing in electric tools to realize that the ladies aren't confining their activities to the smaller machines. Many of them are purchasing such things as jigsaws, bandsaws and tablesaws. Aren't those purchases being made for their husbands? We asked that question of one dealer and got an emphatic NO in reply. He explained that, on the contrary, that was one area where men wanted to make their own choices. He had discovered that, nine times out of 10, when a woman bought one of the electric saws, it was for her own use.

Surely, we persisted, not many women buy and operate a tablesaw? Well, the dealer admitted, not very many. But, he quickly added, some do — and a lot more buy electric jigsaws and sanders for their own use.

In this connection, we remember a survey conducted a few years ago on the do-it-yourself trend. Undertaken by a manufacturer of plywood, the survey showed that 41 per cent of all home projects were undertaken by women. We had an idea that perhaps such things as sewing, knitting and home permanents were included in the survey, so we investigated further. We were wrong. The fix-it, make-it projects which were the subjects of the questioning ranged from painting walls and making shelves to building extra rooms and otherwise expanding family living space.

We're not so skeptical now. Especially since our visit to a neighbor's home recently. The lady of the house showed us a scrapbook in which she kept newspaper clippings on how to fix things. And, she proudly informed us, she had recently stopped a faucet leak by changing the washer according to the directions in one of the articles. It was a lot easier, she explained, than reminding her husband about it every night without result. The husband refused to comment.

QUESTION: The outside of our house is covered with wooden shingles stained with creosote. I now want to paint the shingles white. Will aluminum paint successfully seal in the stain before the finish coat is put on?

ANSWER: Yes, aluminum house paint is good for this purpose. Two points: allow the aluminum paint to dry for at least 48 hours before applying the white paint; and use two coats of the aluminum where the weather has not had much effect on the stain, such as under the eaves.

• • •

QUESTION: I am planning to build a wooden picket fence. How far apart should the pickets be placed?

ANSWER: That's entirely up to you. But if you want to make your job a little easier, separate them by the width of a picket. You can then use one of the pickets as a spacer, assuring you that there will be a uniform distance between them without the necessity of measuring each time.

• • •

QUESTION: To settle an argument, how far from the foundation should the bottom of a stepladder be?

ANSWER: It depends on how long the ladder is. Safety experts say the bottom should be out from the house a distance of one-fourth the ladder's extended height.

Miss Buchanan, Mr. Nance Exchange Vows In Double Ring Home Rites

Miss Judy Adene Buchanan of Snyder became the bride of Mr. Samuel Oscar Nance, Jr. of Sterling City on January 27th at 6 p.m. Rev. Lonnie Voorhies, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, Snyder, read the double ring ceremony, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle N. Buchanan, Lion Oil Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O. Nance, Sr. of Sterling City are parents of the groom.

Yellow roses, the bride's chosen flowers were used in the home decorations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white banlon sleeveless sheath dress, fashioned with low scooped neckline and matching jacket with three - quarter length sleeves. Covered buttons and cord trim enhanced the costume. Her small white satin band hat was graced with a short veil. Accessories were short white gloves and white patent shoes.

She carried a bouquet of white split mums and gardenias atop a white Bible with flowing white satin streamers.

Ann Chapman was maid of honor and wore a blue wool dress with white accessories. She carried a long stem white mum with yellow streamers.

Jimmie Don Everett was best man.

A reception was held in the home. The table was laid with a white linen cloth, centered with an arrangement of white carnations with yellow spray. Crystal and silver were used in appointments.

Betty Buchanan, sister of the bride presided at the three tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom. Fern Buchanan, also a sister of the bride ladeled punch.

For her wedding trip to points in southwest Texas the bride chose a black and grey three-piece suit featuring a sleeveless over-jacket of black and grey stripe. Her accessories were black and she wore the gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Sterling City until May, when they will go to Alpine to continue their education.

The bride is a graduate of Snyder High School and is a first year student at Sul Ross State College as an English major. The groom graduated from Sterling High School and is a third year Agriculture and Soil Conservation major at Sul Ross.

Special guests at the wedding were the parents of the groom from Sterling City and Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Buchanan of Snyder, grandparents of the bride.

Why not aim for a safe driving record in 1964?

Lots of young people are thought to be too hostile on the road, too aggressive for their own good. They rack up speeding tickets, and other traffic violations. Their record becomes accident - blemished. Sometimes it's because they just don't understand automobiles and how they perform.

A true and false examination given to 30,000 students in 210 schools in 29 states and the District of Columbia, in connection with a safe driving program illustrates that a wrong attitude and lack of knowledge about cars does exist among many of the 6½ million licensed teenage drivers in the United States.

One estimate is that there are 60 per cent fewer accidents among those who have taken high school driver education courses.

The national first prize winner in this competition, David C. Rohfling 17, of Lewellen Rural High School, Lewellen, Neb., is now taking a course. He scored 96 on the true and false test to win a $5,500 scholarship.

The 100-question test was prepared by Leo Lieberman, director of Psychological Services at Suffolk University, Boston for a chemical products company (Union Carbide Corp.) who initiated the safety awards.

Here are 15 of the questions. Try your hand, answering true or false:

1. Slippery-surface skids kill and injure more people than do dry-surface skids.

2. Lowering the pressure in your tires improves traction on icy roads.

3. Most calls for assistance in highway breakdowns arise from tire troubles.

4. Doubling your speed doubles your braking distance.

5. When you double a car's speed you increase its kinetic energy three times.

6. The better - than- average driver can eliminate the reaction time in the formula "stopping time equals reaction time plus braking time."

7. Force of impact varies directly with distance it takes a car to stop after it hits something.

8. On crowned curves a car in the outside lane tends to hold the roal better than one in the inside lane.

9. Underinflation of tires in hot weather helps keep the tires cooler and preserve sidewall fabric

10. If the brake pedal when depressed is one inch from the floor, it is a sign of brake trouble.

11. As you drive your automobile over the crest of the hill the only way you can prevent your danger zone from lengthening is to decrease your speed.

12. When I am held back by too many people and things. . . sometimes I want to get behind the wheel of a car and forget everything in the excitement of driving.

13. The time to be most alert is while driving on a straight highway.

14. When other cars are rushing along the road beside me and I feel as if they are trying to push my car off the road. . . I would try to outwit the other driver before they got me.

15. When I see speed limit signs that I consider unreasonable and a nuisance. . .I would use my own judgment about how fast to go.

Here are the correct answers for each question, with the percentage of students who answered incorrectly in the 100-question examination.

(1. No — 70 per cent; 2. No — 66 6 per cent; 3. No — 65.3 percent; 4. No — 59.7 per cent; 5. No — 59.7 per cent; 6. No — 52.5 per cent; 7. No — 52.2 per cent; 8. No — 40.8 per cent; 9. No — 34.5 per cent; 10. Yes — 32.6 per cent; 11. Yes — 24.7 per cent; 12. No — 21.3 per cent; 13. Yes — 16.4 per cent; 14. No — 11.6 per cent; 15. No — 8.4 per cent.)

Ranch Style Valentine Pie

Want to give your favorite man a Valentine that suits his taste to a T? You know that old saying, "the way to a man's heart . . ."

It's still true - and here's the recipe for the best husband-pleasing' Valentine yet: a meat pie full of tasty beans in tangy ranch style beans sauce, topped with biscuit hearts.

This Valentine treat is not only appetizing to the man in your life; you'll love it too for the ease with which it's prepared and its economy. Made with left-over meats or hamburger, left-over vegetables, and canned ranch style beans, it can be mixed in a jiffy and the expense is nominal

Ranch style Valentine pie can be made in individual heart-shaped molds or one large, round pie plate with heart-shaped cut-outs placed on top. Complete the menu with red gelatin salad, again in heart-shaped molds if possible. Add another vegetable, such as corn, if you wish Dinner rolls or biscuits can be served. Top the meal with a simple dessert, such as cherry sundaes (easily made ty topping vanilla ice cream with cherry sauce). For a quick luncheon, the meat pie and salad will be enough to satisfy hearty appetites.

Display your man's Valentine Pie in a party atmosphere by serving it on a table decked in a Valentine tablecloth. The centerpiece may also be in the shape of a Valentine, and matching napkins may be placed at individual place settings. Complete the design with paper cups carrying Valentine designs. If you must aim to please young men (and their sisters too) a candy Valentine favor will be in order at each place.

Ranch Style Valentine Pie

3 cups favorite biscuit recipe

1 small can sliced carrots
1 small can tiny whole onions
1 small can cut green beans
1 small can English peas
1 lb cooked hamburger, ham, or pork cubes

Left - over meats and vegetables may be substituted.

Mix 3 cups of biscuit dough. Roll out 2-3 of the dough and use to line a 9-inch pie plate. Bake the pie shell in a hot oven (400 degrees) for 15 minutes. Roll out the remaining portion of dough and cut out five or six hearts from it, using a heart-shaped cookie cutter.

Mix the meat, vegetables, and ranch style beans together. Place in the pie shell, and put biscuit cut - outs on top. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) until mixture bubbles, about 30 minutes.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Brice And Mr. McKay In Marriage

The First Baptist Church was the setting on January 24th. at 7:30 p.m. for the marriage of Leatha Jeane Brice of Snyder and Jerry Fred McKay of Colorado City.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Brice, Route 3, Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKay, 1405 Eastover, Colorado City.

Rev. George Moser, assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church, Arlington, and cousin of the groom, officiated at the double ring candlelight ceremony.

Two brass candelabras with votive lights, baskets of white gladioli and stock flanked with palms graced the altar. Tall white burning tapers lighted the aisles.

Mrs. Wayne Bethel, organist, accompanied Miss Kathleen Mott who sang "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee", "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a hite silk peau de soie gown with Alencon lace defining a lifted waistline and cameo front applique. At the bodice back a bo and rose topper, a removable tulip shaped chapel train. A cameo pattern of Alencon lace edged her imported Mantilla. She carried a cascade bouquet of lilies of the valley, white roses and stephnotis.

Mary Brice attended her sister as maid of honor and Anna Brice, sister of the bride was junior bridesmaid. Lynda Mize and Judy Huddleston of Snyder, Marta Goldsworthy of Denver Colorado, and Martha Breedlove of Waco were bridesmaids. They wore matching costumes of American Beauty silk peau de soie floor length dresses. The junior bridesmaid carried a cascade bouquet of pink aristocrat roses, while the bridesmaids carried cascades of "Happiness Roses".

Traci Brice, cousin of the bride was flower girl. She wore a pale pink peau de soie full length dress and strewed white rose petals.

Chris Breedlove of Waco was best man. Ushers and groomsmen included Edward Schulz of Snyder, David McKan and Don Vest of Colorado City, and Joe Gerald of Sweetwater.

The Snyder Country Club was the scene of the reception. The bride's table was laid with a floor length white satin cloth, centered with white roses. Appointments were in silver. The grooms table held an ecru cutwork cloth centered with Happiness Roses, and appointments in brass.

The houseparty consisted of Mrs. Leroy Spires, Cindy and Susan Spires, Mrs. Ed Schulz, Mrs. P. W. Cloud, Mrs. Fred Kizer, Mrs. Gene Best, Mrs. Wiley Brice, Mrs. R. L. Stoker, Mrs. O. B. Trulock Jr., and Miss Ann Ballenger. Mr. Joe Williamson's combo furnished music.

For her wedding trip to Dallas the bride chose a black Mam'selle costume suit with white accessories.

The couple will make their home at 1501 South Ninth, Apt. 408, Waco.

The bride is a graduate of Snyder High School and Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri and attended Baylor University. The groom is a junior at Baylor University where he will continue his studies.

Out-of-town guests were from Dallas, Chillicothe, Talpa, Ballenger, Stephenville, Waco, San Angelo, Stratford and Colorado City, Texas, and Roswell, N.M.

Professor Lampoons Centennial

WILL SUCCESS SPOIL JEFF DAVIS? By T. Lawrence Connelly.

The Civil War centennial, with its spate of books, observances and ceremonies, seems to have upset Professor Connelly no end.

He happens to be head of the history department, at Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., and the sometimes zany flood of Civil War memorabilia has goaded him into jeering rebellion and flailing satire against centennial pomposity.

Virtually all of his targets are on the Confederate side. For the sake of balance it might be pointed out that Damn yankees are not wholly immune from nostalgic nonsense, either.

He particularly scorns and lampoons professional Confederates, professional Kentuckians, professional Virginians, climbers of family trees. Minieball ballistics experts, mapsticking tacticians, writers of trivial monographs and souvenir collectors, among others.

He finds ludicrous scenes in the modern round tables, parades and reenactments of supposedly momentous (but often foolish) episodes of the war, and depicts them as foolish horseplay by mentally inept citizens. He also is unhappy about commercialism in Southern recipes and phoney relics.

Connelly is abetted by the imaginative illustrations of Campbell Grant. The book really has a scalding sting.

Art Expert Reveals His Sensitivity

SUNSET AND TWILIGHT. By Bernard Berenson.

The patriarch Berenson was devoted, all his long years, to the proposition that art is "life-enhancing."

This unusual collection from his dairies of 1947 - 1958 (he died in 1959 at the age of 93) is a testimony to the way in which art enhanced his own life.

In his early years Berenson published several volumes on Italian art of the 15th and 16th Centuries, which established him as the foremost expert on this subject. For a time he had a lucrative affiliation with art dealer Lord Duveen. In his late years, the Berenson collection and library at his Italian villa became a mecca for famous personages from all over the world.

The dairy entries are fragmentary, but even so they reveal far more of the inner man than his memior, "Sketch for a Self - Portrait." In that book, he seemed too self - conscious, particularly as he bewailed his notion that he had failed as a writer. Berenson was beset all his life by the idea that he should have been a great writer as well as an art expert.

There is a similar theme in these late dairies, but it is less obtrusive, more relaxed. And paradoxically, Berenson the diarist produces a far more memorable documert that Berenson the essayist. Perhaps without realizing it, he has achieved in the informality of his dairies an artistic standing as a writer that always had escaped him.

Here we have a very old man, dedicated to the sensitivity of the eye, the charm of conversation and the esthetic appreciation of life. He records his reactions to the countless celebrities who visited him, the books never - ending visits to museums, the enjoyment of the Italian countryside. He has his moments of petulance and grudge, but the point is that he knows it.

He looks back and questions the boldness of his expertise in his younger years. He chronicles the disintegration of his body, the frustrating lapses of memory, and despairs "to be so inexpressive when one perceives and enjoys so much."

But the candid self - analysis of the diaries finally reveal him as a real humanist and a real searcher for eternal truths. Hence they are his most vivid contribution to life - enhancing literature.

Girdle Control Sprayed On

AP Newsfeatures

Girdles with control panels that are sprayed on, instead of sewn in, are being shown at the January foundationwear market in New York. They are expected to be in stores by late March.

The control panels are a flocking substance that is sprayed on the basic net fabric in floral designs. The flocking has no definite edge to show through whatever you wear over it, which should especially please stretch pants wearers. There are no bulky seams either.

The manufacturers say the spray-on panels give better control and more comfort.

U Thant Changes Little, But His Daily Life Does

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Two years as U.N. secretary-general have brought many changes in the daily life of U Thant. He himself has changed little.

When the Burmese teacher-journalist - diplomat succeeded the late Dag Hammarskjold on Nov. 3, 1961, he was lauded by friends for his gentleness, serenity and calm. He is still being praised for the same qualities—and for the quiet firmness he quickly displayed.

He seems to thrive on the pressures of the job which former Secretary-General Trygve Lie called "impossible."

His work day cannot be cut to a fixed pattern.

Sometimes, when the General Assembly or the Security Council are meeting, he spends hours listening to the debates. At other times, he gets a chance to catch up on reports, administrative work and on his contacts with U.N. delegates.

Of one thing he can be sure: His days are always long and crowded.

At 55 Thant is trim and fit-looking, although he devotes little time to exercise. In the summer he swims in the pool at his rented home—the villa Bella Vista—in the swank Riverdale section of the Bronx, overlooking the Hudson River. His only other exercise is an occasional hike about the neighborhood on Sunday.

The secretary-general rises at 6:30 a.m.

In accordance with his Buddhist training, he begins the day with 15 to 20 minutes of meditation and prayer.

"In the East," he says, "we put more emphasis on the mind than the body, and the spirit still more than the mind."

It was a little after 8 a.m. when this correspondent drove up the private driveway to the two-story red brick house. The house has 14 spacious rooms and six acres of ground, which include a tennis court, an outdoor pool, a well-kept garden and a servant's house.

The secretary-general was at breakfast in his dining room with its magnificent view of the Hudson. He already had spent an hour reading the morning newspapers and was in the midst of his bacon and fried eggs—his favorite breakfast.

When Thant is at home, he spends much of his time in his study. Across the hall from the dining room is a reception room with a small bar, and this leads into a large drawing room. What little entertaining he does at home is done in these two rooms. The drawing room has a fireplace at one end and is dominated by a huge green rug which is a gift from King Hassan of Morocco.

Thant works at a large desk, facing the fireplace.

On this day, he spent almost an hour in the study working on a report to the Security Council on the Cyprus situation.

It was 9:25 when Thant stepped into his official car to be driven to U.N. headquarters by George Pogue, a U.N. security man assigned to special duty as deputy personal aide to the secretary-general.

Thant's work started in earnest at 10 o'clock when he met with the undersecretaries and other key advisers in one of the periodic sessions he calls to keep everybody abreast of developments.

Thant had kept the rest of the morning free to work at his desk. His first job was to finish drafting his report on the Cyprus situation. He then went over a report from his special representative in the Congo, Max Dorsinville of Haiti.

At 1 p.m. the secretary-general took the elevator down to the main lobby to greet President Antonio Segni of Italy, who was to be his guest at a luncheon in the South Lounge. He escorted Segni back to the 38th floor, where they talked privately for 20 minutes.

The luncheon—attended by 34 delegates and top-level U.N. officials — began at 1:30. The luncheon was purely social except for an exchange of toasts, at 3 o'clock ready for the first of a series of rapid-fire meetings with individual delegates on a wide variety of problems.

Thant wound up his office day in a two-hour meeting with two of his top aides, undersecretaries Ralph Bunche and C. V. Narasimhan.

It was 8:40 when he left his office.

He arrived home at 9:15, almost exactly 12 hours after he had left in the morning.

He likes to be with his family whenever he can in the evenings, but usually Sunday is the only time he can really count his own. Even then he is not sure a crisis won't demand his attention.

His family consists of his wife, Daw Thien Tin; his daughter, Aye-Aye, 23, and her husband, U Tin Myint, an instructor in aeronautics at New York University. His son, Tin Maung, 21, was killed in an accident in Rangoon in 1962.

The secretary-general does go to receptions now and then, but only if they are at U.N. headquarters. He is not much of a drinker, but his favorite is a daiquiri.

He reads a wide variety of newspapers and magazines, including the Times of London, Manchester Guardian, New Statesman, London Observer, New Republic, Nation, New Leader and Saturday Review.

He has little time for reading fiction, but Thomas Hardy is one of his favorites.

He likes television. Whenever he can, he gets home on Friday nights in time to watch boxing. Among his favorite television stars are Danny Kaye and Johnny Carson.

On this evening, it was 9:30 when he sat down to dinner. Sometimes it is 10 before he eats.

After dinner he put in 45 minutes at his desk, then read the evening newspapers and saw the 11 o'clock news on television. He ended the day by watching Johnny Carson for a while.

At 12 o'clock he went to bed.

Ritter Declines Race

AUSTIN (AP) — Jack Ritter Jr., said today he will not run for Congress from the 10th District this year.

Rep. J. J. Pickle, D-Tex., thus was the only announced candidate for a full term to the job formerly held by President Lyndon Johnson.

A roof of Norfolk reeds, the most durable thatching, costs up to $1,120, but it will last 60 to 80 years if maintained properly. Devon reed remains intact for 25 to 40 years, wheat straw 10 to 20.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOAPSTONE

QUESTION: Does the name "soapstone" mean it's used in soap making?

• • •

ANSWER: Although soapstone is largely composed of the mineral talc, and ground talc is often used in soap making, that is not why it is called soapstone. The name comes from the slippery feel of the stone, which Ronny is noticing in our picture. Soapstone and talc are both "metamorphic" rocks —meaning they have been altered by great pressures at one time. They are both unusually soft for rocks; Jenny is actually scratching a bit of talc with her fingernail. There is a scale of hardness and softness for minerals, and talc belongs in the softest group.

Because of its softness soapstone is easily carved and soapstone sculpture was made in ancient times by Chinese, Assyrians and Egyptians. Soapstone resists acids and electricity, so is often used in making laboratory table tops. It is also a good lining for fireless cookers and laundry tubs. Talc in slab form is also used for such purposes and when ground to powder, is used in making crayons and chalk besides being valuable in soap manufacture. Its greatest value, however, is in the making of the toilet preparation called talcum.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Start a rock collection by gathering loose stones from around your home. Mark each one, telling where and when you found it. Include soapstone and talc as examples of soft rocks. Try to get these by swapping, or perhaps you could buy them. 2-1

(Penny Hedgepeth of Charleston, S. C., wins today's grand prize of a 20 volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win a set too.)

AFTER 60 YEARS in the business of barn straightening, Pete Carver says he's "never lost a barn." Behind him leans one of his ailing patients.

He's Born Barn Straightener

MT. JULIET, Tenn. (AP) — Pete Carver is a barn straightener — the best in the business.

Carver, lanky and agile for his 77 years, believes he's the only barn straightener in the world. And it's a good living, too, he says.

"I got started easy," he recalls. "I was real young and there was this small out-building on our farm which began to sway. I fooled around and got it straight and upright. And I was in the business of straightening barns.

"You might say I was a born barn straightener."

Carver estimates he straightens about a dozen barns a year. And he prides himself that he's "never lost a barn," which is to say none has ever collapsed under his style of straightening surgery.

"I work with cables and a winch, and what you got to keep in mind is to be very patient," he says. "You just can't jerk a barn straight. The structure has to be 'inched' into position—and somewhere along the way you got to pause and let it settle.

"And you got to know where to pause or it won't settle correctly."

What's his fee for straightening a sagging barn? It depends.

"I don't try to hold anybody up with a high fee," Carver says. "Folks with crooked barns know that I am not going to crook them with a high price."

The Lady Bird Look

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK — Ask makeup man Eddie Senz why Lady Bird Johnson described him as a miracle worker and he'll blush — with pride.

But he'll deny that the First Lady needs a magical formula to get across a lovely image.

"That was an exaggeration," insists Eddie of the inscription, "To Our Miracle Worker," that Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson wrote on a photograph of herself and daughters, Lynda Bird and Lucy Baines. The color shot taken during the inaugural festivites in 1961 shows Mrs. Johnson in pink, Lynda Bird in white and Lucy Baines in green. It hangs in Senz office.

"She's the most charming, warm, gracious woman," Senz says. "She has all the qualities a woman needs for loveliness. I gave her a little beauty advice and she follows it, that's all."

Any talk about Mrs. Johnson's charm revolves around her mouth and eyes, Senz says.

"She has the most delightful twinkle in her brown eyes and a most expressive mouth, so these two features that key her personality were the ones to accent," he explains.

Senz minimizes makeup, as in the case of her olive skin. But he evolved an inauguration makeup for her that would be compatible on television, and he suggested the hairdo she now wears.

PRESIDENT INTERESTED

He advises Lynda Bird and Lucy Baines and some of their friends, and no one is more appreciative and complimentary about his efforts than President Johnson, who takes a fatherly interest in the grooming of the girls and their friends and telephones Senz to discuss forthcoming appointments.

"He is a warm gracious Southerner. 'Now don't give them everything they want' he will say. 'Give them what you think they should have,' the President has told him.

"He wants them to look well but not theatrical," Senz explains. "He often has said that he likes his women folk to look attractive and stylish, but doesn't want to over do it."

Senz met the Johnson through friends when the President was a senator. He invited the ladies to visit his salon. And they did.

TECHNIQUE BASIC

Senz's makeup technique for the Johnson is a basic one he has used for 35 years, he says. It is a concept of achieving an ideal by studying the structure of the face from every angle, and then shaping the head, brow and mouth in a way that flatters the individual. Through proper shaping of these features, correct makeup techniques and proper cosmetics, the appearance of cheekbones, nose and chin may be heightened or diminished.

"But the means of achieving gratifying results should never be too obvious," Senz points out.

MRS. JOHNSON CASUAL

One of the best-known makeup men in the country, Senz was apprentice to his late father who was makeup director at the Metropolitan Opera for 50 years. He has been adviser to major movie companies, Broadway shows, television. His diversified clientele has included Lady Mendl, Junior Leaguers, wives of government officials as well as stage and screen stars.

Left to her own devices, Mrs. Johnson might be casual about grooming. At one time asked to comment on Jacqueline Kennedy's controversial hairdo, she replied, "I like to think that what is in a person's head is more important than what is outside."

But when she had a hospital room adjacent to the President's during his recovery from a heart attack, she commented later that "Lyndon wanted me around 24 hours a day. He wanted me to laugh a lot and have my lipstick on."

NOW SIZE 10

It has been said that she cut her hair to please Johnson, and that he has set standards for her makeup, weight and dress, and she lives up to them. She ditched low heel shoes for the high heels he prefers, shrunk her size 14 frame to a size 10, and some years ago took a makeup course with Senz.

"I don't want to make too much of the material and frivolous," she has said, "but I decided to learn how to dress and to play along with it without letting it dominate me. So many people who meet you for a few minutes judge you by what they see."

FISH ROLLUPS

6 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
¼ cup each onion and celery
2½ cups seasoned stuffing croutons
½ cup milk
6 fish fillets (about 1¼ pounds) skin removed
½ teaspoon salt and pepper to taste

Cook the onion and celery in 2 tablespoons of the butter until tender but not brown. Off heat, toss the croutons with the vegetables; mix in the milk. Sprinkle fillets with salt and pepper; fit around sides of 6 well - buttered 6-ounce custard cups. Spoon stuffing into centers; spoon remaining 4 tablespoons melted butter over stuffing and fish. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until fish flakes about 25 minutes. To serve, lift from cups and fish should retain shape. The top of the stuffing will be crusty, the bottom soft.

Wondering what to serve for lunch? Hard - cook some eggs and halve or slice; serve on toast with a cheese sauce and garnish with sliced pimiento - stuffed olives.

Drop cookies look attractive when they're decorated before baking. To do so, just press a half of small pecan in the center of each.

101 Birthday Is Noted By Former Texan

Miss Celia Stavely, 2220 Edison Avenue, Fort Myers, Fla. celebrated her 101st birthday on January 19, 1964. She was born in Austin, Texas, Jan. 19, 1863, and is the aunt of Mrs. W. H. Jones of the Fluvanna community.

Hearing that Fort Myers, Fla. was a friendly community, Miss Stavely went there by boat, landing at Punta Rassa in 1911. She purchased her present home in 1922. There she does her own housework, cooking and caring for her yard.

"Once in a while I have a boy to help me in the yard," she said. She shops regularly at local stores, and walked to the courthouse to pay her 1963 taxes recently.

A dressmaker before going to Fort Myers, she found Fort Myers early residents either unable or unwilling to pay the prices she had received from Texans so gave up this business, she said.

She has won many ribbons at the fairs for her jams, jellies and chickens.

Miss Stavely who has her own teeth, said "she guessed she shouldn't smile any more since her top teeth were getting snaggly. "I'm thinking of having an upper plate," she said.

She has been a member of the Fort Myers Chapter 31, Order of the Eastern Star since 1916. She is a member of St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

One of the most exciting birthday cards of all received by Miss Stavely, was one bearing the White House seal. The engraved card, signed by President Lyndon B. Johnson, read, "My sincere congratulations upon your birthday. May good health be yours through many happy years."

It is not known exactly how the President learned of Miss Stavely's birthday but it is believed a niece in Texas may have been responsible, said a friend.

THREE-FOOT-HIGH statue by Augustus F. Bartholdi, which served as a model for his Statue of Liberty, was discovered kicking around their back yard in Southern California by Mr and Mrs. Andrew Lakatosh.

California Couple Have Little Statue Of Liberty

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP) — While that famous outdoor girl, the Statue of Liberty, stands out in freedom's air at the entrance of New York Harbor, her smaller sister remains a shut-in.

The 3-foot-high bronze sister statue, one of two smaller ones, served as original model for the work of sculptor Augustus F. Bartholdi.

Now reposing in a Buena Park bank vault, the statuette is nestled in a carpet-lined box and visited occasionally by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lakatosh.

The Lakatoshes didn't know just who they had in the family until early this year when they removed a coat of battleship gray paint from a "replica" that had been kicking around their back yard for years.

Finding Bartholdi's name engraved on the statue's base, they took it to an art appraiser who told them what they had—a piece now valued for insurance purposes at $200,000.

"It isn't right for a girl that pretty to be shut up away from people." Lakatosh lamented. "But I just haven't decided what to do with her."

Representatives of the Smithsonian Institution have asked several times recently about placing the statue on display in Washington, D.C., Lakatosh said.

"But all my friends are trying to pursuade me to keep her here on the West Coast. The East has its statue ; Liberty Island and the West should have one out here, they feel."

Just how the statuette got from the U.S. Patent Office in 1876 to the Lakatosh back yard in 1948 remains a mystery.

"Perhaps the Patent Office got cluttered and officials auctioned the statue off sometime after Bartholdi gave it to them," the owner theorized.

A similar statue, made later, is in safekeeping in New York, Lakatosh added.

Strange Movements Added To The Concerto

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — American pianist Shura Cherkassky added some movements the composer never dreamed of to a Tchaikovsky concerto.

Cherkassky, who now lives in London, performed both on the piano and under it during a rendering of the concerto in Johannesburg City Hall.

Twice during the third movement of Tchaikovsky's "Piano Concerto No. 2," while the orchestra continued playing, he dived under the piano and fixed a pedal which had worked loose and was not responding to his foot. The audience gasped with surprise as they wondered what the disappearing musician was up to On both occasions he whipped back onto his stool in time for the solo passages.

Chess Sounds A Lot Like Work

THE PERSONALITY OF CHESS. By I. A. Horowitz and P. L. Rothenberg.

Chess, one of the most ancient and widely played games in the world, has became a status symbol in the United States

As the authors of this far-ranging book points out, it awes nonplayers and it pops up in advertisements for products to which it is supposed to lend tone.

"Al" Horowitz, founder and publisher of Chess Review, newspaper columnist and probably the first American actually to make a living from chess, has written other books on the game, but none as comprehensive as this. In fact I know none that covers so much territory.

It touches on such subjects as the origin of chess, its psychiatric overtones, chess in literature and as an art form leading American chess personalities — including Horowitz himself and the controversial young genius Bobby Fischer — chess humor, chess compared with other games, and of course selected problems (Rothenberg's specialty) and classic games.

It tells, among other things, what makes a good chess master — and Horowitz should know, since he was three times U. S. champion and an international tournament player. (I had my own finest hour as a chess player when Horowitz told me he would have to tighten up or lose a game he played with me; of course he tightened up.)

Here's Horotitz' recipe: A fierce will to win, good memory, power of visualization, alertness, calmness under fire and ability to gauge an opponent. Is status worth all this?

Round-The-Clock Specialties

After you have mixed and kneaded the biscuit dough, turn your imagaination loose. Perhaps it's a coffee cake for breakfast that you're after. Roll out the dough to a rectangle and spread it with melted butter or margarine. Then sprinkle or spread with any number of "on hand" foods — honey and grated orange or lemon rind; brown sugar; chopped nuts and cinnamon; chopped dried or well - drained canned fruits; crunchy peanut bjtter and coconut jelly, preserves or jam and chopped nuts.

The simplest shaping method is rolling the dough up jelly-roll fashion and cutting it into pinwheels then arranging in a baking pan. Turn your imagination loose here also, fashioning new shapes. You might also try covering the bottom of the baking pan with sugar and butter to make a sirupy topping when the coffee cake is inverted for serving. Then bake the coffee cake in a hot oven (425 F.) about 25 minutes.
