New Effort To Fire 'Moon' Gets Big Push

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Dec. 7 (AP)—A new effort to fire a baby moon into an orbit, possibly this month, got under way here today on a double-barreled basis.

The renewed program started off in these primary directions;

1. An airline-crash type investigation of every detail of the launching failure Friday which destroyed Vanguard TV-3, the first U. S. satellite-bearing rocket ever fired.

The experts urgently need to know exactly what caused the huge vehicle to lose thrust at the very moment of takeoff and topple back upon its own fiery tail.

2. An expedited effort to "clean up" the fire-damaged launching stand and the concrete-paved pad surrounding it.

The flight equipment necessary for the second Vanguard try already was on hand at the heavily guarded reservation from which missiles are fired down the 5,000-mile testing range into the South Atlantic. It included:

1. A three-stage Vanguard, identical in appearance to the 72-foot monster that consumed itself before thousands of excited beach-watchers Friday.

2. A shiny new 6.4-inch baby satellite to go into the rocket's nose.

The process of getting the rocket set up, of giving the powerful engines static test firings while they are in the launching rig, and then of finally preparing them for an actual launching, cannot start until the stand is ready to receive them.

It is the only stand of perhaps a dozen at the test center that is capable of handling the giant Vanguard.

Elliott Felt, operations manager for Baltimore's Martin Co. which built the launching vehicle, and J. Paul Walsh, deputy director of the project for the Naval Research Laboratory, told a news conference that structural experts have flown here to help with the repair work and with the crash investigation.

Officials declined to estimate how long it would take to set up a new rocket or how soon another launching might be attempted. Some sources felt, however, that with luck there could be another Vanguard firing before the year runs out.

Among them were representatives of Loewy - Hydropess Division of the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Co., builders of the 12-foot-high launching stand.

This stand supports the vehicle and provides the blast tube through which rocket exhaust flames are deflected during static or tied-down, test firings.

The launching stand, anchored deeply into the sand is not to be confused with the gantry crane or mobile derrick which surrounds both the launching stand and the rocket.

The gantry crane is 110 feet high and can lift eight tons. Once the rocket is ready for firing it is rolled back on tracks 100 to 125 feet.

Felt said the crane was undamaged by the ball of fire that swept the launching stand. Neither did the flames and debris reach the concrete blockhouse, 175 feet away, from which as many as 50 persons can observe the firing.

The other support structure affected by the misfiring was the slander disconnect pole or cable tower, standing almost as tall as the Vanguard rocket itself. The tower was linked to the rocket until the final moments by loops of electric wiring.

Officials had not yet assessed the tower damage. From the observation beaches it appeared fire blackened but intact.

The U. S. plans at least two more test launchings of grapefruit-sized satellites before going into its 21-inch fully instrumented space sphere program.

That program is a part of the coordinated worldwide scientific surveys in which all major countries are participating during the International Geophysical Year.

Soviet Russia already has launched two satellites, one with a dog in it. However, while the U.S. Vanguard program is primarily scientific, the Communists have frankly offered theirs as a demonstration of their capability in the field of intercontinental missile warfare.

Walsh said that 24 hours after the launching failure "basically we don't know a great deal more about its cause."

SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

By WACIL McNAIR

What can a man do when his sore corn gets stepped on and his car runs out of gas and has a flat tire, all in the same week.

I thought about taking my troubles to neighbors, but John Conley was the first one I met and a horrible thought replaced the first one.

"He'll want me to place bets now that the Tigers lose all their football games next fall," I thought as I carefully refrained from mentioning my streak of luck.

Then, of course, every football fan in town would want me to wager against his, or her, favorite team before the unlucky week expired.

* * *

Moreover, the Vanguard people might seek me out and demand that I wager that the next attempt to get a satellite off the ground would be unsuccessful.

* * *

Which reminds me that I have a contribution for those satellite people. It has been rumored that considerable difficulty has been encountered in efforts to arrive at appropriate names for our satellites, if we ever get any into space.

Well, there's no doubt about it now. "Sputternik," should fill the bill.

* * *

G. C. Coleman says this is a true story, and who am I to doubt him?

There was a cafe in a small East Texas town where the proprieter put up a sign reading thus at mid-day: "Closed. Gone home to lunch."

* * *

Here's something that should be interesting to cattle raisers. Surveys show that beef sales in Texas have increased this year by 14 per cent over 1956. It marks the third straight year that Texans have hiked their beef consumption.

* * *

Nobody will know until all lists are collected, but names were going on the junior college petitions at a rapid pace by the end of the week. The proposal apparently is getting even better response than the steering committee had hoped.

Hey Kids! The Daily News plans to forward your Santa Claus letters to the North Pole in a package along about Dec. 18, which should give St. Nicholas plenty of time to look them over before he embarks on his annual journey. The letters received by the Daily News will be published in a special section on the announced date. That will give Santa a lot of them to read at a single sitting, and he won't have to open a pile of envelopes to get to them.

Bank Of France Calls In Dollars

PARIS, Dec. 7 (AP)—French banks have been ordered to deposit 30 per cent of their dollar holdings with the Bank of France, the Finance Ministry said today.

Unions Take Dutch Banks

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Dec. 7 (AP) — Communist-run unions took over three big Dutch banks today, and an Indonesian news agency said the military had seized all Dutch property in revolt-minded north Sumatra.

The P.I.A News Agency reported the military commander of north Sumatra, Lt. Col. Djamin Gintings, had seized the enterprises to prevent them from falling into the hands of trade unions. The big island of Sumatra is rich in resources. Many British, French and American firms are in the area.

It was not clear immediately whether Gintings' seizures meant nationalization of the Dutch firms. Earlier reports from Sumatra had said the Indonesian campaign against the Dutch had little effect there. These reports said the Dutch were living under "nearly normal conditions."

Dutch interests in north Sumatra included the control of railways and communications as well as electricity, gas and water supplies. North Sumatra was the scene last December of an unsuccessful revolt led by a former army commander, Col. Jaladin Simbolon. Gintings was sent there to replace him as army leader.

In Jakarta, workers of the Communist-led Sobsi trade unions proclaimed the three major banks the "property of the Republic of Indonesia."

But the Jakarta government, seeking to hold down a wave of wildcat seizures of Dutch property, was reported embarrassed by the workers' seizure.

Responsible Indonesians and Dutchmen expressed apprehension that Indonesian economy would be adversely affected as a result.

Snyder Bands Get Top Contest Marks

WINTERS, Dec. 7 (Spl.) — The Snyder High School band took two Division I ratings and the junior high band one here today in regional band marching contests and inspection.

Also, all Snyder High School twirlers were awarded Division I in individual twirling, and a quintet of twirlers took the top rating. Two junior high twirling ensembles took Division I, while the twirlers had from I to III ratings individually.

The high school band has first division ratings in both the band inspection and the marching contest. This means the band can still compete for "sweepstake" honors. A band becomes a "sweepstake" winner if it takes Division I in all areas of competition, including sight reading and concert playing. Contests in those two areas will be held next April 25-26.

The junior high band was awarded Division I in the inspection and Division II in marching.

Both bands did precision drilling in the contest, as well as the required maneuvers.

The high school band did not participate in the marching contests during the past two years because of conflicts. It has been a "sweepstakes" winner for four years, however. The last two times it participated in the marching contests, it took Division I.

Twirlers for the high school band who were entered were Linda Ramsey, Barbara Taylor, Jo Ann Hamblen, Adaleen Soles, and Camilla Roberts.

Junior high twirlers were Jane Crowder, Claudia Fowler, Rita Hanback, Mary Peebles, Sandra Autry, Susan Richardson, Becky Beaty, and Charlotte Womack.

Melvin Montgomery, high school director, took 105 students to Winters, while Tim Dennis, junior high director, took 117.

Montgomery will take 10 students to Abilene next weekend to try out for all-state band.

Satellite Specs Are Too Complicated

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Dec. 7 (AP)—William P. Lear, manufacturer-inventor in fields of aircraft radio and automatic pilots, today accused the Defense Department of insisting on specifications for satellite rockets that are "too complicated."

GROCER SAYS IN UNION PROBE

No Action After Store Dynamiting

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP) — A Knoxville, Tenn., grocer testified today his store was dynamited during a Teamsters strike last year but no one was ever prosecuted.

The grocer, B. B. Powers, told a Senate committee he supplied the names of two witnesses but he said there were no arrests and no grand jury investigation.

Interviewed by reporters after the hearing, Knoxville Dist. Atty. Hal H. Clements denied there was any "political coverup" for what Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) has described as Teamsters Union "goon squads."

Powers said the blast in his store, which caused $2,000 damages, occurred during a Teamsters strike against one of his soft drink suppliers.

The dynamiting was one of a series of terroristic acts related to the special committee investigating improper activities in the labor-management field. McClellan, the committee chairman, said in opening the hearing Thursday that his investigators had uncovered evidence of organized terrorism by the Teamsters Union in Tennessee and other Southern states.

"Law enforcement officials in certain instances failed to properly investigate those responsible for the violence," McClellan said the.

Today, after hearing Powers' story of no arrests, no grand jury action, McClellan commented: "That is the kind of law enforcement you have down in that community when labor unions are involved."

Powers testified that after his store was blasted he was told by Clements that "two good officers" had been asigned to the case and they would do "a good job on it."

"Is this what you would call a good job of it?" McClellan asked.

"No, I certainly would not," Powers replied.

Powers testified that the day before the dynamiting he was visited by W. J. Reynolds, then president of Teamsters Local 621 in Knoxville.

"'You're looking for trouble,'" he quoted Reynolds as telling him, "'and you're sure going to get it.'"

John C. Chapman, now a Baltimore sheet metal workers, testified he saw W. A. (Hard-hearing) Smith and Robert Belcher, both of Nashville Teamsters Local 327, outside Powers' store shortly before the dynamitings. Another witness, Luther C. Hargis, also placed Smith in the vicinity.

AF Launches Thor Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Dec. 7 (AP)—The Air Force's Thor missile was shot skyward in a beautiful launching today, but the effectiveness of its flight was in doubt.

The Defense Department in Washington first hailed the firing of the 1,500-mile Thor as a success but later said the weapon "landed short of the intended target area."

The long, gleaming white missile left its launching pad, sheathed in fire. Straight skyward it went after its 5:09 p.m. EST firing.

Then it turned into a graceful arc and veered to the southeast over the missile testing range in the Atlantic Ocean.

The Pentagon in Washington said at first the launching was "successfully carried out" but later added that, "The missile landed short of the intended target area." There was no immediate indication of how much short the missile fell.

It was believed the Thor was carrying for the first time a new-type guidance "brain." The Defense Department did not confirm this.

After lurching from its blastoff position, the missile shot out a brilliant orange flame near its front. In the rear, exhaust smoke poured for a few seconds, then stopped.

A rumbling noise like a dull roar of thunder came from the Thor as it made its majestic flight before hundreds of sightseers.

It rose from its launching spot then when it made its turn, pierced heavy cloud formations.

A vapor trail, similar to that following in the wake of jet bombers, drifted behind the Thor.

The brilliantly lighted object stayed in sight for more than two minutes. Sight of it was lost over the thick cloud bank.

Dust Is Stirred By Front

By The Associated Press

A fast-moving cold front swept into Northwest Texas Saturday, whipping up some dust.

The Weather Bureau forecast freezing temperatures in the Panhandle and South Plains but said the front otherwise wasn't expected to have much effect.

Skies generally were clear over the state after scattered rainfall Friday night and early Saturday.

Northerly winds with gusts up to 58 miles per hour whipped up dust in the Lubbock area before subsiding Saturday night. The Weather Bureau said winds fanning out ahead of the dry front were averaging 30-40 miles per hour.

The front was located Saturday night on a line south of Hobart, Okla., to south of Childress and Lubbock, Tex. The Weather Bureau said it would pass over most of the state by Sunday night but no precipitation was indicated.

A low of 25-35 degrees was forecast for early Sunday in the Panhandle and South Plains. Temperatures elsewhere were expected to average between 35 and 45 degrees.

Visibility at Lubbock was cut to 1½ miles for a time by dust Saturday night.

Maximum temperatures Saturday ranged from 73 at Alice to 58 at Lufkin and Sherman.

Rainfall for the 24 hours ending late Saturday included: Palacios .76, Lufkin .55, Galveston .35, Beaumont .31, College Station .09, Cotulla .07, Victoria .05, Laredo .04, Kingsville .03 and San Antonio .02.

Fisher Countian Is Head Of Possemen

FORT WORTH, Dec. 7 (AP)—O.R. Clark of the Fisher County Sheriff's Posse, Rotan, was elected president today of the American Assn. of sheriff posses' and riding clubs during its convention here.

Other officers named were Hap Hoverkamp, Fort Worth, vice president; and Dr. Ted Alexander of Wichita Falls, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Jane Case of Wichita Falls was named queen from among five contestants.

The posses' picked Amarillo as the site of their roundup in early May. The group will meet in Wichita Falls next December for its business meeting.

At a dance tonight, new officers were installed and the queen was crowned.

Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth spoke to delegates today.

Decoration Contest Set

Only one Christmas decoration contest has been scheduled in Snyder so far this year.

Reports were that several organizations might sponsor various kinds of decoration contests, but so far the only commitment is from the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The religious activities committee of the Jaycee organization has scheduled a decoration contest for religious-type decorations.

Dick Roberts, chairman of the committee, said there will be a $25 savings bond award to the top decoration in the contest, but only those of a religious nature will be considered.

The contest is open to any resident in Snyder. Entries can be turned in at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The decoration can be in the window, door, front yard, or anywhere as long as it can be seen from the street, Roberts said. Judging will be done sometime during Christmas week.

South Central and East Texas: Partly cloudy and cool Sunday. Monday generally fair and warmer in the afternoon.

Petitions On Hand At Eight Locations

Petitions have been stationed at eight locations so far for the proposed election to create a junior college district, and others will be stationed later this week.

Ted McAlister, secretary of the Scurry County Committee for a Junior College, said persons desiring to sign petitions may find them now at the Snyder Savings & Loan Association, West Texas State Bank, Texas Electric Service Co., Lone Star Gas Co., Farm Bureau office, Chamber of Commerce, administration building of the Snyder schools, and on the bulletin board in the main hall of the courthouse.

He added that he will also station petitions at the principal's office of each school in the county, including the Snyder schools.

Persons who desire to circulate or station petitions at their places of business may secure them at the Chamber of Commerce office. The petitions will remain out until at least 500 signers are secured, then called in for certification and presentation to the county board of education. They would then go to the state board of education, which could authorize the proposed election after an investigation.

In the election, Scurry Countians would vote on whether to establish a junior college district here and on a list of candidates for the seven-man board of trustees.

NATO Session Expected To Deal Mostly With Military

WASHINGTON Dec. 7 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles apparently has failed to find the bold new political idea which he hoped President Eisenhower could take to the allied summit conference at Paris Dec. 16 to inject new life and unity into the Atlantic alliance.

As a result, the best informed diplomats now expect that the major achievements of the Paris meeting will lie almost entirely in the military field. This will be true unless the United States is compelled to bow to the demands of its European allies to yield some freedom of action in the interest of allied cooperation.

The pressure from European governments for concessions from the United States is growing as the NATO conference approaches. But the basic policy decisions which have now been completed by the Eisenhower administration are reported to rule out radical changes in the political operations of NATO.

They do, however, call for far-reaching — and generally well known — steps to bring Europe's military forces up to the threshhold of the age of pushbutton warfare.

The broad outlines of U.S. policy have been communicated to allied governments in a memorandum presented to NATO ambassadors at Paris by U.S. Representative Randolph Burgess. This is said to contain no surprises.

The American program calls for establishing bases for intermediate range atomic missiles in Western Europe, backing these up with stockpiles of nuclear weapons under American "custody," pooling scientific brainpower to a greater extent than at present, increasing political consultation in the 15-nation alliance, promoting an interlocking association with alliances in the Middle East and Asia, and further splitting up the weapons manufacturing tasks of the West.

When Secretary of State Dulles started his personal crash program of planning for the NATO meeting last month, he wanted some dramatic new concept which would go far to achieve greater interdependence of the anti-Communist allies. He wanted to channel the forces of public excitement, fear and readiness for action into a plan for strengthening the Atlantic alliance and reassuring the Atlantic allies of America's full support.

OIL ROUNDUP

Crude Oil Imports Drop To New Low

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Crude oil imports last week dropped to their lowest point since President Eisenhower ordered a voluntary curtailment program.

Total crude imports for the week averaged 860,000 barrels a day. The record average of 1,269,100 in August was set two weeks after the cutback program order was signed.

Last week's average was the lowest reported by the American Petroleum Institute since the week of Jan. 4, when a low of 794,800 barrels daily was recorded during the Suez Canal emergency.

The new low resulted from a sharp decline in California, where independents last week asked federal officials to place the state under quotas established by the curtailment program. The West Coast currently is exempt from the quotas.

California imports for the week averaged 151,900 barrels a day, compared to a daily average of 306,800 for the weeks ending Nov. 22. Foreign crude receipts in the rest of the country increased slightly to 709,400 barrels a day, compared to a 608,400 average for the four weeks ending Nov. 22, the low point since the end of the Middle East crisis.

Capt. M. V. Carson Jr., administrator of the voluntary program, also indicated this week that early results are encouraging even though three importers have not accepted assigned quotas.

Carson told the Interstate Oil Compact Commission several East Coast refineries now are using domestic crude for the first time in recent years.

He said October imports for the areas included in the cutback order averaged 767,000 barrels a day, a figure that is some 4,400 barrels daily below the recommended level. Carson said imports in September, the first full month after the curtailment efforts got under way, were only 16,100 barrels a day before the desired level.

Allowable Drops 96,000 Barrels

AUSTIN, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Railroad Commission said today the daily oil allowable dropped 96,355 barrels from a week ago in Texas.

The allowable of 2,973,567 barrels compares with 3,069,922 a week ago before the December decrease became effective.

The commission made this report for the week: 346 oil well completions, 46 gas well completions, 124 dry holes, 8 wildcat oil wells, 1 wildcat gas well and 185 wells plugged.

There have been 14,456 oil wells brought in so far this year compared to 15,270 a year ago. Gas wells total 1,843 compared to 1,664.

Both oil and gas wildcatters were behind last year's figures with 483 oil and 99 gas wells this year compared to 541 oil and 129 gas wells a year ago.

McElroy, Sandys Talk Missile Bases

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON, Dec. 7 (AP)—U. S. Defense Secretary Neil McElroy and British Defense Minister Duncan Sandys today talked over an emerging agreement for the establishment of four intermediate-range ballistic missile bases in this country.

Their meeting came as the United States was reported to have offered officially to set up a series of medium-range rocket bases — plus stockpiles of other nuclear weapons — in key centers of the Atlantic Pact area.

McElroy came here today for preliminary talks before the conference of NATO government chiefs in Paris Dec. 16.

On arrival, he told reporters "the odds are quite strong" that President Eisenhower will attend the NATO meeting in Paris.

"It is not yet certain," McElroy said. "He will have to get a final clearance from his doctors, but I would say the odds are quite strong that he will be there."

McElroy will meet with Prime Minister Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd Monday. He will fly to West Germany Tuesday for consultations with American and West German officials before going on to Paris.

Senior diplomats here said the United States—in the offer to set up rocket bases—envisages that the supreme commander of Allied Forces in Europe, Gen. Lauris Norstad, and other NATO military leaders would determine the best locations for the bases. They said no member nation would be pressed against its will to have nuclear weapons based on its territory, but those accepting such agreements would be expected to negotiate direct agreements with the United States. These would settle the terms governing the supply and use of rockets and any other nuclear weapons.

Informants said the British-American agreement, reached in principle at Bermuda last March, would serve as a model for other accords with Allied nations.

Dag Returns From Trip To Middle East

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold returned today from a Middle East peace mission and said he had settled a number of small but important issues.

"I feel that I got what I wanted and accomplished what I wanted to accomplish, but this is only a small step on a long road," the United Nations secretary general told newsmen at Idlewild Airport.

Hammarskjold had gone to the Middle East a week ago to ease tensions between Israel and Jordan. He said a dispute over convoys in the Mt. Scopus area had been settled with agreement between the two countries for full inspection of the area.

Saudi Arabia Denies H-Bombs In Planes

CAIRO, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Saudi Arabian Embassy today denied published reports that U. S. planes operating from air bases in Saudi Arabia carry hydrogen bombs in Middle East flights.

The statement also denied that American planes carry hydrogen bombs in flights between Middle East bases, some of which are in Saudi Arabia.

Tito May Spurn Further U. S. Aid

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Dec. 7 (AP) —Uusually well-informed Yugoslav sources said tonight this country has spurned any further U.S. military aid.

President Tito, these informants said, told U.S. Ambassador James Riddleberger of the decision yesterday, with a statement that the aid was being declined because of frequent "reappraisals" made of it by the United States.

Tito called the reappraisals "humiliating for Yugoslavia," the informants said.

(The State Department in Washington said it had not received a report from Riddleberger on his talk with Tito.)

The Yugoslav informants said Yugoslavia wants to continue friendly economic and political relationships with the United States.

American military aid was first granted to Yugoslavia after it was booted out of the Soviet-led Cominform in 1948. Billions of dollars in military aid have been granted to Yugoslavia since.

After Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union gradually began drawing closer together, the United States began reconsidering its aid policy. Last October, after a break of several months, President Eisenhower decided the aid should be continued. At present, American military aid is again being reappraised.

The Central Committee of Yugoslavia's Communist party approved Yugoslav refusal to sign the main declaration which emerged from the Moscow talks of ruling Communist parties during the celebrations of the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

New Roads To Cut Expenses

TYLER, Dec. 7 (AP)—Highway Commissioner Charles Hawn estimates completion of the state's system of 4-lane highways will save Texans 219 million dollars a year in auto expenses.

Hawn told a luncheon yesterday that in 12 or 13 years "Texas will have approximately 6,000 miles of highway of the 4-lane divided type."

"They will carry 20 per cent of an estimated 150 million travel miles per day," he continued. "At the rate of 2 cents a mile you can see that the saving to motorists will amount to 219 million dollars each year.

"We are constructing these new highways on a pay-as-you-go finance plan and the added federal taxes on gasoline and tires will cost the average motorist a few more dollars each year. But in spite of that the savings will be tremendous."

Poage In Support Of Subsidy Idea

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 7 (AP)—Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex) said last night that only government subsidy will solve cotton's pricing problem.

"We must frankly recognize the necessity of making direct payments to farmers for the difference between the world (free market) price and a pre-determined fair price," he told a Tennessee Agricultural Council dinner.

Cotton presently is under a price support program. Cotton men have argued this is strangling cotton by pricing it out of the market.

Troops Watch Mass Meeting In Honduras

BELIZE, British Honduras, Dec. 7 (AP)—British troops—rushed in from Bermuda—stood watch on this Central American colony today. Nevertheless a political leader accused of plotting for union with Guatemala summoned his followers to a mass outdoor meeting.

The troops were called by British Gov. Colin Hardwick Thornley after a charge was made in the House of Commons that George Price, leader of the People's United party (PUP), had discussed with Guatemalan officials the possibility of joining with that neighboring nation.

Seven hundred troops of the British Worcestershire Regiment boarded a British warship at Hamilton, Bermuda, in darkness Wednesday and set sail in secrecy for Belize. Others were flown in yesterday. British officials in Bermuda said the troops were sent to reinforce the regulars stationed in this British colony.

Guatemala and Mexico, both bordering on the colony, claim to British Honduras. Guatemala has stepped up her campaign for the colony since signs of oil were found in a northern province. The natural outlet from northern Honduras into the Caribbean is through Belize.

British Honduras is a jungle colony with 60,000 residents. They seemed to be taking calmly a sudden surge in a long campaign for independence from Britain.

Skies Mostly Clear In State Saturday

By The Associated Press

Skies were mostly clear over Texas Saturday except for some cloudiness along the Gulf Coast.

Afternoon temperatures ranged from 51 degrees at Texarkana to 71 at Laredo.

The mercury was expected to dip to 25 to 35 degrees in the Panhandle early Sunday and 35 to 45 elsewhere. Fair and cool weather was forecast for Sunday.

Saturday's lows ranged from 25 degrees at Amarillo to 65 at Brownsville.

Ike Gets Report On Vanguard's Failure

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Dec. 7 (AP) —President Eisenhower received by special courier today a short, preliminary report from the Pentagon on why the Vanguard satellite launcher blew up.

The full report the chief executive has demanded is expected next week, after Eisenhower returns to the White House.

Responding to a question, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said he had heard no mention of the word "sabotage."

Hagerty said the initial report on what he termed "the accident of yesterday" contained little more information than was disclosed yesterday. Officials of the Vanguard control center in Washington said then the satellite launching rocket failed because of lack of thrust in the first of its three stages.

The preliminary report, Hagerty said, did contain "one or two things I can't make public" for security reasons. He said they involved "some of the material within the rockets or equipment in the rocket."

Asked whether the President is scheduling any kind of meeting with satellite advisers next week "to see where we go from here," Hagerty told newsmen: "No, right now we are waiting for a full report which we will look at next week."

Hagerty said he will have to wait and see whether this report will be made public.

It was another rainy, drab day in Gettysburg and Eisenhower stuck close to the fireside at his country home.

Ike's Brother Asks Decrease In Alimony

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Dec. 7 (AP) —Mrs. Alida B. Eisenhower testified today that her ex-husband Arthur, elder brother of President Eisenhower, owes her $3,000 back alimony.

Mrs. Eisenhower said the money was the balance remaining on a $20,000 settlement agreed to in 1953, when the court also increased her monthly alimony payments from $250 to $350.

She appeared to contest Eisenhower's motion that the monthly payments be reduced or terminated. He contended, through testimony by his present wife, Mrs. Louise Eisenhower that his income is only $500 a month from retirement annuities and even that has been cut off by a court order as result of the alimony dispute.

Eisenhower, 69, is a retired Kansas City banker.

Circuit Judge John R. James took the case under advisement after testimony by the first Mrs. Eisenhower.

Propping Up World

ROME, Dec. 7 (AP)—A Roman work gang is taking credit for propping up the world. The men are completing a three-year, $120,000 job of shoring up an outer wall of the ancient Colisseum, and they quote the Roman adage: When the Colisseum falls, Rome will fall, and when Rome falls, so will the world.

New Bank In Clute Asked

AUSTIN, Dec. 7 (AP)—A new bank at Clute in Brazoria County was proposed in a charter application filed today with Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton is among the proposed directors. J. P. Bryan has been proposed as chairman and J. T. Suggs as president.

The proposed capital is $100,000, surplus $50,000, reserves $50,000.

Lag Is Blamed On Lack Of Leadership

DALLAS, Dec. 7 (AP)—Rep. Olin Teague of College Station said today the Defense Department's lack of leadership is the primary cause of the nation's missile lag.

"Inter-service rivalry is healthy competition," he said. "It is one good reason why we haven't lagged further behind the Russians.

"The one big reason we are behind the Russians in some phases of our missile program is the wishy-washy, almost complete lack of leadership within the defense department."

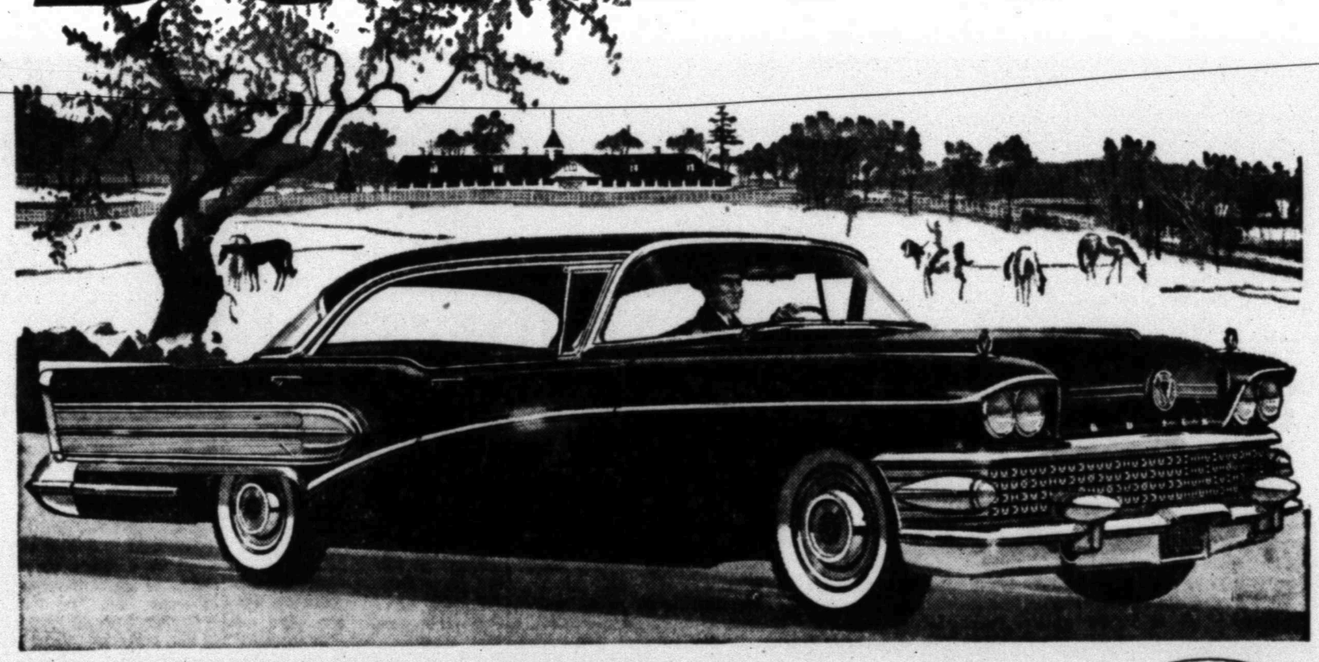
B-58 BUICK



It begins with a greater use of aluminum -and takes off from there

ONE IDEA sparked the creation of this B-58 Buick—and that was to build it with more aviation principles than ever before.

So this one starts with a greater use of airweight aluminum—inside where its special cooling properties can be used—outside where its beauty and protection are needed.

But wait till you see what else is here to make land travel as modern as air travel.

The first automatic transmission to use the infinitely variable pitch stator principle of today's stratocruisers.

The most modern engine it is possible to build for today's fuels.

A Buick-engineered air-suspension ride that literally floats you on four columns of air.

Want to know more? See more? Do more? Drop in on your Buick dealer and guest-pilot an Air Born B-58 Buick—today.

*Buick air ride optional at extra cost on all Series. Flight Pitch Dynaflow standard on LIMITED and ROADMASTER 75, optional at extra cost on other Series. Aluminum Front Brakes standard on all Series except SPECIAL.

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

ALL IN ONE YEAR— ALL IN THIS BIG, BUOYANT BUICK

• Miracle Chassis Plus Buick Air Ride* • Flight Pitch Dynaflow* • B-12000 Engine • Air-Cooled Aluminum Front Brakes* • Sparkling Fresh Styling WITH THE Dynastar Grille • "Velvet Wall" Sound Silencing • Magnificent Changes Through and Through

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

With December 15 being observed as "Bill of Rights Day" throughout the land, many persons are (or should be) thinking about what this important "document" means to them. This column will attempt a brief explana on of its meaning.

The American "Bill of Rights", consisting of the first ten amendments to our federal constitution, all adopted at one time in 1791, specifies in some detail a number of basic civil rights of the individual citizen. Unaltered by subsequent amendments and jealously guarded by our courts, these privileges must still be respected by our governing bodies today.

Among the most familiar of our constitutional guarantees are those relating to freedom of religion, speech, and of the press. The same article protects the rights of peaceable assembly and the privilege of petitioning the government for redress of grievances.

Another amendment secures our persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonalbe searches and seizures, and specifies that no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, and unless supported by oath or affirmation.

The due process of law amendment encompases not one but several guarantees. Every American is secured against being placed twice in legal jeopardy for the same offense; against being compelled to be a witness against himself in a criminal case; and against having his private property taken for public use without just compensation.

He is also secured against being held for trial for a capital (death penalty) or other infamous crime, unless upon a presentment or indictment of a grand jury. And, of course, no person may be deprived of life, liberty or property without orderly court procedures, on due process of law.

The right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury, in the locality where the crime was committed, the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, and the rights to compell attendance of defense witnesses and to have the assistance of defense counsel in all criminal prosecutions are secured by another section of the "Bill or Rights."

Excessive bail and fines, and cruel and unusual punishments, are prohibited in Amendment VIII. Other articles insure the right to bear arms and ban quartering of soldiers in private homes during peace time.

Then, to make quite clear to our governing bodies the underlying intent of the preceding provisions, the Ninth Amendment states: "The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

The Tenth Amendment further emphasizes this basic theory by providing: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Thus, that fundamental philosophy expressed in the Declaration of Independence, that men are endowed with certain unalienable rights, and that "to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed," has been carried forward into the highest law of our land.

AUTO RUNS WILD

A woman and one child were thrown from a car in a wreck here Friday, and then the car ran wild for several minutes with four children still in it.

Mrs. Betty Nesbitt, 28, an Odessa housewife, suffered severe leg lacerations in the accident, while only two others were injured, and their injuries were minor.

Mrs. Nesbitt was driver of a 1955 DeSoto which was headed north on State Highway 208. Another car involved was a 1957 Buick driven by Herbert Helbig, 25, assistant county agent at Littlefield, headed east on U. S. Highway 84.

As Helbig approached the intersection of the two highways on the traffic pattern east of Snyder at about 5:10 p.m. Friday, he saw that the Nesbitt car was not stopping for the stop sign at the intersection.

Helbig applied his brakes and skidded. Mrs. Nesbitt, who apparently did not see the stop sign until just before entering the intersection, hit her brakes, but her car still skidded into the path of Helbig's car.

Helbig's car hit the Nesbitt car in the side. The Nesbitt car kept going after the impact. One small boy was thrown out, and as Mrs. Nesbitt grabbed for him she was also thrown out. The bumper of her car caught her leg and dragged her about 100 yards before she finally dropped free, landing in a barrow ditch.

The car kept going, with four children with ages ranging from 2 to 7 as passengers, and it was travelling in wide circles.

Helbig, who by that time had gotten out of his car, chased the Nesbitt car to try to stop it. He was hindered by a bruised knee.

The Nesbitt car, turning and heading back toward the point where the cars had their original impact, almost hit Mrs. Nesbitt again along the route. It crossed one island and finally stopped about 100 yards south of where the two cars had hit.

Mrs. Nesbitt was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bolger ambulance and admitted for treatment. None of the others were injured seriously enough for hospitalization.

Arthur Dyson, highway patrolman who investigated the accident, said he stepped off the route the Nesbitt car had taken after the collision and said it took 251 steps.

SAC Due To Get Big Slice Of New Funds

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)— The Strategic Air Force appeared likely today to share substantially in a proposed two-billion-dollar increase in defense spending.

While much of the two billion will be earmarked for a speedup in the missiles program, the long-range planes are expected to get a sizable chunk also.

Sen. Robertson (D-Va), a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said the Air Force alone has asked for a two-billion-dollar increase in the next fiscal year over its current budget. However, he forecast in a statement that "it probably will not receive half that amount."

Whatever final budgetary decision is made by President Eisenhower and his aides, the Strategic Air Command (SAC) has won itself some new friends in Congress as a result of the U.S. lag behind Russia in developing Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles.

Members of a Senate preparedness subcommittee which will resume an investigation of the missile and satellie programs next week have been told that until this country gets long range missiles SAC remains the backbone of deterrent power against possible Soviet attack.

The subcommittee, headed by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, is expected to recommend strengthening of SAC through the addition of more planes and dispersal bases.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), chairman of a subcommittee which has studied disarmament questions, said it is his belief that "we must rely for a considerable time on manned aircraft for our basic retaliation force."

Robertson said he is prepared to support increases in defense spending. He complained, however, that there seemed to be no plan for cutting down on conventional arms.

"It does not appear to be logical to prepare at one and the same time for a nuclear war and a conventional type war," he said. "We must give priority somewhere. I also am concerned by reports that of the proposed two billion dollar increase, 450 million dollars will go for increased military salaries but with the same rate of increase given truck drivers as will be given electronic technicians."

Robertson said as an economy advocate he is concerned about reports that the President will ask for $3,900,000,000 in foreign aid.

"I am convinced," he said, "that if we donated the entire receipts of our government to foreign aid, we could not hold our allies if they became convinced that we could not protect them physically from Russia. Whether we can provide such protection may be demonstrated within the next 18 to 24 months."

House Blasted As Negroes Set To Move

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 7 (AP) —A house into which a Negro family was preparing to move was shattered by two dynamite explosions early today. No one was injured.

The blasts, heard over a mile-wide area, virtually wrecked the building. The dynamiting was one of a series since Negroes began moving into the former all-white Fountain Heights section in west Birmingham.

Two other Negro families recently moved into the section without being harmed. Earlier a house bought by a Negro widow was wrecked before she could move into it.

The frame residence had been purchased by Robert Greer, police said. The family had planned to move in earlier but was asked to wait until city officials completed an inspection of the premises as required when new occupants move into a home.

White property owners have formed an association designed to prevent sales of Fountain Heights homes to Negroes, although race isn't mentioned in a statement of policy announced by leaders of the organization.

Davenport Rites Held

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. yesterday for Mrs. Lula Davenport of Westbrook, mother of Mrs. H. L. Stokes of Snyder.

Mrs. Davenport died Thursday night at Root Memorial Hospital on Colorado City at the age of 69. She was born March 29, 1888, at Goldthwaite. In 1904, she was married to Charles F. Davenport in Oklahoma. They moved to Colorado City in 1930, and he died in 1932.

The Rev. Joe McCarthy, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Westbrook, officiated at services, assisted by the Rev. R. L. Bowman of Halfway. Burial was in the Westbrook Cemetery.

Survivors include four sons, Angelo Davenport of Big Spring, Tommy Davenport of Cuthbert, Hugh Davenport of Bell, Cal., and Guy Eugene Davenport of Westbrook; three daughters, Mrs. B. L. Schafer of Carstow, Cal., Mrs. Kenneth Childress of Colorado City, and Mrs. Stokes; three brothers, John Jamar of Gracemont, Okla., Willis Jamar of Houston, and Eugene Jamar of Ada; one sister, Mrs. Mattie Holbrook of Ada; 24 grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren.

Navy Still Needs Men

Lt. R. C. Noll, Officer in Charge of Navy Recruiting for Dallas and Northern Texas, said today that unfounded rumors regarding curtailment of enlistments in the Navy are being circulated contrary to facts.

"The Navy," said Noll, "Still is in urgent need of high type young men who can be trained to the requirements of today's modern navy as it changes to atomic power. The recent defense department manpower cuts have enabled the Navy to release several thousand so-called 'non-trainables' of the lower mental groups to reduce the overall manpower strength of the Navy, but the need for high school graduates and reenlistees to replace normal attrition continues to be high priority."

Applicants for enlistment in the Navy should contact the Navy Recruiter at the Post Office Building in Sweetwater for further details.

Prize Proves To Be A Hoax

HOUSTON Dec. 7 (AP)—The sugary voice on the telephone said: "Congratulations, Mrs. Hawkins. You've won $500 in merchandise. Drop by our store and claim your prizes."

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, 41, quickly bundled her two children and drove downtown, leaving her home unlocked.

The woman caller said the giveaway was part of a new advertising campaing by the store.

Mrs. Hawkins drew blanks at the store and became suspicious.

When she returned home she found missing $120 her children had saved, a $125 watch and her personal papers.

Indonesia Trouble Likely To Worsen

SINGAPORE, Dec. 7 (AP) — Indonesia is in trouble, and the situation is likely to get worse — possibly with bloodshed.

The Dutch, who in 350 years had knitted the Indonesian economy together, are being run out. The economy could collapse, laying the eight-year-old republic open to easy Communist seizure.

Also in the background is the possibility that Indonesia — a nation of 3,000 islands and many cultural groups — will split up into several nations.

Indonesia's latest crisis grow out of its demand for Dutch West New Guinea. The attempt to kill President Sukarno last Saturday added fuel.

Out of the smoke of U.N. rejection of an Indonesian request for negotiations in West New Guinea and the attempt on Sukarno's life came these events:

Seizure of Dutch enterprises by workers — some from Communist unions; banning of the Dutch KLM Airlines from Indonesia; ouster from the country of Dutch nationals.

It all started with a government-sponsored boycott of the Dutch to show Indonesia's displeasure at the U.N. rejection of its New Guinea proposal.

Foreigners are apprehensive, and few know from hour to hour what is going to happen next. The Dutch most definitely are through in Indonesia. The Americans, British, Australians, Chinese and Indians wonder if they are the next.

Dutchmen and other foreigners arriving here say there is likely to be shooting in Indonesia before long. None seems to know which factions will take part, but most guesses are the Masjumi Moslems, Communists or rebel troops, and the army, or maybe all of them.

The Indonesian government has never been too stable, and in the midst of these troubles several ministers are reported shaky. Sukarno has been pretty much out of sight since the attempt on his life, but his aides say he still intends to visit the Vatican and South American in the next month or so.

Area Is Featured In Cowboy Book

Scurry County and Snyder are featured in "The Dream of A Youthful Cowboy," by Frank Courtney Mellard, Marfa, Tex.

This is the second recently published book to feature the history of Snyder and Scurry County.

Mellard, who is now 79 years old and will be 80 in February of 1958, is related to several Scurry Countians and is a friend of many others.

His early cowboy career in Texas to the present are portrayed in the book.

Mellard said his dream of one day writing a book about the experiencess of his cowboy and ranching career came to him while he was riding as a cowboy on the Johnson Ranch northeast of the settlement of Snyder for $15 per month.

"I was riding herd for Will Johnson, who was my uncle, and the grandfather of Weldon Johnson, when I heard that the Fuller ranch paid $25 per month instead of $15, and I went to the Fuller ranch to work as a cowboy," he said.

"That was in 1883 and 1884," he added.

"At that time Snyder was just a square with only a few adobe houses — with a livery stable on the north side of the square and perhaps one false brick front on an adobe house on the southwest corner of the square," he said.

"Even then, although I had been educated in public school only until I was about 12 years old, I dreamed of someday writing a book about my experiences as a cowboy," he said.

Dedication of the book is to Mellard's first wife, the former Miss Helen Buchanan, daughter of the late Judge Charlie Buchanan of Scurry County. Mrs. Mellard died in 1949, after 49 years of marriage to Mellard.

Her father, Judge Buchanan, was a county clerk, and county judge in Scurry County, then represented this district in the Texas Senate, before coming back to Snyder and being county judge again at the time of his death.

Proceeds of the book which sells for $1.75 if purchased from the author, or $2.25 in book stores, will go the Scottish Rite Crippled Children's Hospital in Dallas.

From his ranching and cattle trading activities in the Marfa area in 29 years, Mellard has sold more than $15,000,000 worth of cattle to one man.

Safeway To Quit Selling Under Cost

FORT WORTH, Dec. 7 (AP)—Safeway Stores Inc., agreed in Federal Court today to stop selling food products at prices below cost and to cease operating retail stores below the cost of doing business.

Judge Joe Estes approved the anti-monopoly consent judgment in the government's anti-trust suit against Safeway's nationwide operation of more than 2,000 stores and subsidiaries. The hearing lasted 13 minutes.

If the judgment is violated, Estes can sell or close for a "reasonable length of time" the stores in which the prohibited practices occurred.

The government filed a complaint against Safeway Nov. 1, 1955 charging the food store chain with attempting to monopolize the retail grocery business in Texas and New Mexico in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust act.

Special Edition Helps Scholarships

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Dec. 7 (AP)—The Pearl Harbor Day edition of the Adirondack Daily Enterprise raised $2,005 today toward establishment of science scholarships for high school graduates in Saranac Lake and nearby Lake Placid.

A total of 93 business firms placed that amount of advertising in the 16-page paper, the largest that could be printed on the Enterprise's press. The newspaper turned over $1,740 to the Saranac Lake Board of Education and $265 to the Lake Placid board.

Workers Build 'Eighth Sea'

MASSENA, N.Y., Dec. 7 (AP) — Men are moving water and earth to form what may be known as the nation's new north coast.

Or it may be regarded in a broader sense — as men of imagination already have suggested —as an American Mediterranean or the world's eighth sea.

What these name-coiners are talking about is the end result of the work on the St. Lawrence Seaway and related projects on the Great Lakes.

The on-the-scene supervisor of the U. S. share of the seaway construction, Martin W. Oettershagen, calls the over-all river-and-lakes improvement plan "the most ambitious integrated navigation program ever undertaken on this planet."

Its full eventual cost is reckoned at a billion dollars.

The main purpose is to deepen the water route from the present 14 feet in the shallow sections to 27 feet so bigger ships can carry heavier cargoes through it.

The major work now is being done along both sides of the St. Lawrence River.

"We're ahead of schedule," Oettershagen reported. "We've had a lot of dry fall weather."

Canada and the United States are constructing a total of seven new locks in four new canals to bypass rapids and to get around power structures being built in a simultaneous hydroelectric development.

The locks also will provide a series of steps in the river-lakes system that slopes up from sea level at the Atlantic end to 602 feet above sea level at the Lake Superior end.

The St. Lawrence Seaway development Corp., the U. S. agency, is building two locks, the Eisenhower lock and the Grasse River lock, in the Long Sault Canal that is being dug along a 10-mile line north of Masena.

You can sense the immensity of the work if you stand on the edge of the Eisenhower lock and look down into the man-made, cement-lined canyon. It's 105 feet deep and 800 feet long.

The Grasse River lock — it's also 800 feet long — the Eisenhower lock and the others on the Canadian side are eye-catching features of the work in progress at scattered points along a 182-mile stretch of the St. Lawrence between Lake Ontario and Montreal. Dredging is under way in the Thousand Islands section and several other areas.

All these channel-deepening tasks dovetail with the big power development along the swift, cold river.

In an undertaking that is separate but being carried out at the same time New York State and Ontario Province are building power facilities that will cost an estimated total of 600 million dollars and will have a total capacity of 2,200,000 horsepower.

At peak last summer — 1957 — about 16,000 were employed on the seaway and hydroelectric projects.

The first earth was turned in the U.S. phase of the seaway construction in March 1955.

"The locks on the United States side will be ready July 1, 1958," Oettershagen reported.

The Canadians are building five new locks — the St. Lambert lock and the Cote Ste. Catherine lock near Montreal, two locks in the Beauharnois Canal a little farther upstream in Quebec Province and the Iroquois lock at Iroquois, Ontario.

Gordon Murphy, chief engineer for the Canadian agency — the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority —reported in his Montreal office:

"We'll be ready when the navigation season opens in 1959."

The seaway now is limited to vessels with 14 feet draft — and it will be until the spring of 1959. Canada has been operating six old canals in the rapids sections that can accommodate boats with a 14-foot draft and a 250-foot length. Such boats (they call ships boats on the Great Lakes) can carry about 1,500 tons of general cargo or about 2,500 tons of ore.

With those limitations, Oettershagen said, boats carried about 13 million tons of all kinds of cargo on the river between Lake Ontario and Montreal in 1956.

When the new, deeper seaway is opened in 1959 general cargo ships up to 500 feet in length and ore vessels up to 720 feet long can sail the St. Lawrence.

"Ships probably will carry between 7,500 and 10,000 tons of general cargo and up to 25,000 tons of ore," Oettershagen said. "Thus, they will have at least five times as much general cargo capacity and ten times as much general cargo capacity and ten times as much capacity for bulk commodities."

He estimated that in 1959 about 30 million tons of cargo of all types will move through the seaway between Lake Ontario and Montreal.

The deepening of the St. Lawrence River and the Welland Canal and related improvements in the Great Lakes will, in effect, draw the Atlantic Ocean 800 miles farther west and create a north coast for the United States in the process. In the full picture are two nations, two provinces, eight states and dozens of cities.

He reckoned the eventual costs of the seaway — including the estimated 415 million dollars Canada and the United States are spending in the St. Lawrence River navigation improvements—deepening channels connecting the Great Lakes and work in harbors and ports will add up to one billion dollars.

The Welland Canal, linking Lake Ontario and Lake Erie, is being deepened to 27 feet.

But nobody can say precisely when the plans for improvements on the lakes west of there will be completed.

Oettershagen sized it up this way:

"After the seaway (the St. Lawrence and Lake Ontario and through the Welland Canal into Lake Erie) is opened in the spring of 1959 we will have a depth of 27 feet into Lake Erie.

"But a 27-foot passage to Lakes Huron, Superior and Michigan will await completion of the deepening of connecting channels. The deepening of those channels is scheduled to be finished in 1962.

"Most Great Lakes harbors have 21 feet depth, with approach channels as much as 25. There won't be 27 foot approaches to all harbors until the entrances are deepened. That phase is under study now by the U.S. Engineers Corps.

"And then it is up to the cities to develop their own port facilities."

Reese Rites In San Saba

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at San Saba for Birt Bonner Reese, 78, father of Mrs. Barbara Martin of Snyder.

Mr. Reese, stockfarmer and brother-in-law of Rep. O. C. Fisher died Friday at a Lampasas hospital after an illness of several months.

He was born in Hamilton County and lived in Kimble County, later moving to San Saba County about 20 years ago. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Services were held at Doran Funeral Chapel in San Saba, with burial in the city cemetery.

Survivors include the widow, one son, Raleigh Reese of San Saba; three daughters, Miss Vivian Reese of Brady, Mrs. W. W. Cardwell of Irran, and Mrs. Martin; three sisters, Miss Azilla Reese, Mrs. June Simon, and Mrs. W. K. Fisher, all of Junction, and six grandchildren.

Charles Willson (cq) Peale, noted painter of George Washington, used bed ticking for canvas on which to paint his portraits while in the field. Peale was a first lieutenant at Valley Forge.

Machine Harvest Is On

Cotton crop guessers have just about given up as their revised estimates of the 1957 crop were about to be shattered this weekend.

After the heavy fall moisture and freezes cut down this year's crop, estimates of the crop fell from the 32-34,000 bracket down to about 18,000 in the estimation of some.

It appears now, however, that this year's crop may be in the neighborhood of 25,000 bales.

Ginning was approaching the 18,000 mark in Scurry county this weekend as farmers speeded up machine harvesting.

County-wide, it appears that at least 60 per cent of the harvesting now is being done by machine, although there is still some pulling by labor. In some areas, the machine harvesting has not been that heavy yet.

The nine gins in Scurry County had turned out about 17,519 bales by yesterday afternoon, and cotton was moving to the gins much faster after machine harvesting started.

By communities, ginning reports included 6,795 bales at the three Snyder gins, 1,452 at Ira, 1,183 at Fluvanna, 2,324 at Hermleigh, 2,603 at Inadale, 2,202 at China Grove, and an estimated 960 at Dunn.

Cotton Men Rounding Up Harvest, Eye Next Year

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 7 (AP)—Farmers are in a final effort to harvest what is left in their fields, and looking ahead to the first year in a decade which offers plenty of moisture, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said today.

"After weeks, in some cases months, of delay because of rain and freezing weather they are using every means available to harvest," Director John Hutchison said. "District agents report some crop acreage will be abandoned, and that some acreage of small grain will not be planted due to excessive delay."

The bulk of crops to be harvested are in the South Plains, Panhandle and West Texas. The latest damage to crops is in the Lower Rio Grande Valley where hard frost nipped tender vegetables.

With good pastures and steady improvement in range conditions livestock is entering the winter in good condition.

In the South Plains where the biggest setback has been with cotton and grain sorghum, Agent W. H. Jones said at Lubbock that "Farmers are using all manner of devices to salvage cotton. Sorghum combining is in full swing. The sorghum needs at least another week to 10 days and cotton about 30 days to complete harvest. Gins are running 24 hours a day and are getting behind gradually. High winds earlier which helped dry the surface also caused damage in the Plainview areas as heavy headed sorghum fell."

Farther north in the Panhandle, farmers are making full use of excellent harvest weather. The grain crop is about in and cotton is being harvested about as fast as gins can take care of it. Wheat and cattle are in good condition.

Most of the Rio Grande Valley's tender vegetables were destroyed by low temperature and a hard frost. The harvest of tomatoes, peppers, corn, beans and peas was hard hit. Carrots, broccoli, lettuce, onions, cabbage and cauliflower were spared. New growth on citrus was burned by the frost.

Winds have dried fields some in very wet South Texas, but field work still is at almost a standstill.

Range Conditions Improving In Area

Range conditions have been on the uptrend during the last 10 months in the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District of Scurry and Borden Counties, according to technicians of the local Soil Conservation Service office.

A year of above-average rainfall and complete deferment of thousands of acres has made marked improvement on most ranges, the SCS men said.

Many ranchers, having sold their cattle during the drought, have been waiting for the grass to make the desired recovery before restocking. Moisture conditions of the rangeland made up of deep mixed lands and deep hard lands are fairly good where there is a good turf, but the hard clay rangeland is still in need of much more rainfall, coupled with deferment.

"We need many years of above-average rainfall, and along with this the rangeland needs to be deferred and stocked properly if we expect the better grasses to gain in vigor and to spread over the bare spots," Guy Moore, SCS work unit conservationist, said.

In many instances, Moore said, the revegetation of the bare spots on the ranges will be very slow unless there is much slow rainfall since the absorption rate of those areas will be very low.

Grass Food Is Stored Up During Fall

The first growth grass makes in the spring comes from food stored in the roots the fall before, Guy Moore, work unit conservationist for the Snyder Soil Conservation Service Office, said this weekend.

These stored reserves may produce as much as 10 to 12 per cent of the next year's growth. When the plant exhausts its food reserves from its roots, it depends upon its leaves for food nutrient.

Very little food storage occurs when grass is growing fastest in the spring, so there is a need for enough leaves to manufacture food all during the growing season.

Rest at the beginning of the growing season helps to stimulate plant growth, and rests occasionally by grazing rotations helps when the range cannot be rested at the beginning of the growing period each spring.

Livestock eat the most desirable plants, and continued overgrazing will weaken or destroy the better grasses in succession of their desirability. Grass which survives the heavy grazing is usually the undersirable and least productive kind.

Overgrazing of the better grasses is what conservation-minded ranchers should guard against and avoid through long-range plans.

About half the yearly growth can safely be grazed. In a normal year, the average grazed heights of short grass, such as buffalo, should be one and one-half to two inches, while middle grass like blue grama should be grazed to a minimum height of four inches. Tall grasses, like bluestems, should be grazed to a minimum of seven inches.

When condition and vigor of grasses are low, improvement can be obtained through use of timely rest periods.

Voting Is Urged In Cotton Referendum

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. in Scurry County Tuesday for the annual cotton referendum.

Each gin in the county, plus the county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office, will serve as polling places.

About 2,500 persons in the county are eligible to vote, and ASC officials are urging those eligible to go to the polls. Usually, about 350 persons cast votes in the referendum here.

If at least two-thirds of the votes cast in the national referendum favor marketing quotas, the program will be in effect for next year's crop and price support will be available to growers who comply with farm allotments for the 1958 crop of upland cotton at 75 to 90 per cent of parity. Quota penalties will apply on excess acreages.

If the referendum does not carry by a two-thirds majority, there will be no quota penalties, and price support level to eligible growers would drop to 50 per cent of parity. Acreage allotments however, would still be in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support.

All farmers who were engaged in production of upland cotton this year will be eligible to vote.

Farmers here have been notified of their acreage allotments for next year by the ASC office.

26 INCHES FOR YEAR

November Rainfall Most Since 1923

The Snyder area will have more rainfall during 1957 than at any time during the past 16 years, even if there is no more rainfall by the end of the year.

As November ended, the official rainfall total here was 26 inches for the year. That is already more than any year has had, counting December, since 1941.

In 1941, there was 44.02 inches of rainfall. By the end of November that year there had been 43.11.

This year's 26 inches in 11 months is more than twice as much as last year's 10.39 during the same period. Other 11-month totals include 17.75 in 1955, 10.29 in 1954, 14.10 in 1953, 14.23 in 1952, 10.24 in 1951, and 21.19 in 1950.

November had a total of 2.83 inches of precipitation, which is the third highest figure for the month in 46 years and the most since 1923 for the month. The 1923 rainfall for November was 3.15 inches, while that in 1913, the only other November which exceeded this year's, was 3.79.

Last November there was only .28 of an inch of rain, while the last time November had more than an inch was in 1952, with 1.89. The years 1948 through 1951 had no November rainfall.

November this year saw snow twice, one of those times only a brief flurry of it. There was about four inches of snow on Nov. 21, the most snow prior to Thanksgiving anyone here could remember.

There was precipitation on eight different days during the month, the most 1.17 on Nov. 4.

Cotton farmers, who had prospects for one of their best crops in years, saw the loss of a large number of bales because of freezing, while there was other damage in loss of grade on the cotton because of the heavy fall moisture.

Ag Workers Council Sets Meet Tuesday

Several committee chairmen will be appointed Tuesday at the December meeting of the Agriculture Workers Council of Scurry, Mitchell, Nolan, and Fisher Countries.

Bentley Baize of Snyder, new president of the organization, will make the appointments.

The Tuesday meet will be at 6:45 a.m. at the Bluebonnet Hotel in Sweetwater.

U.S. Farm Bureau To Meet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—The powerful American Farm Bureau Federation meets in annual convention at Chicago next week to debate proposals for leading farmers farther away from government farm aid programs.

The meeting, which opens tomorrow and is scheduled to close Thursday, will set the big farm organization's policies for the year ahead—a year that may see Congress and the Eisenhower administration tangle in a bitter battle over new farm legislation.

The Bureau, as it is generally identified by its members and others, is generally regarded as the most conservative of the national farm groups.

Under the leadership of Edward A. O'Neal, Bureau president for many years and the patriarch of government farm programs, the organization helped push through Congress legislation establishing the parity price standard for farm products and setting up mechanisms for getting such prices for farmers.

The Bureau helped sponsor present rigid cont.. and price support programs. Often in the past it was at the forefront in drives for big congressional appropriations to help farmers.

At those times, there was little basic difference between the Bureau and its present-day arch enemy, the National Farmers Union.

Today, many Bureau leaders are pulling for almost complete withdrawal of the government from farm economic affairs. Others want the government's role reduced. A very small minority favors increasing the government's role.

The Bureau started moving away from government aid programs shortly after World War II. It was one of the first major groups to endorse the idea of flexible price supports—a mechanism the Eisenhower administration adopted in 1954, but which it subsequently has pulled away from.

Prevailing Wage Is Now At $1.75 Here

Prevailing wage for cotton pulling in Scurry County now stands at $1.75 per hundredweight, according to the Bureau of Employment Security.

This is for first and second pulling of dryland cotton, according to the bureau. The prevailing wage finding was effective Dec. 5.

Lack Of Proposals Irritating French

PARIS, Dec. 7 (AP)—The French are irritated because they say they have heard nothing from Washington about U. S. proposals to be laid before the Dec. 16 summit conference of NATO powers.

Some even say they expect nothing of great moment from this meeting called in Paris to bolster the Atlantic alliance against the Soviet menace in a missile age.

There is growing talk of neutralism, not only in France but in other NATO nations.

All these points were touched upon by a French Foreign Ministry spokesman at a news conference yesterday, little more than a week before the heads of NATO governments assemble for a three day session.

The spokesman said normally at such sessions a government with an important proposal sends at least a digest to its allies well in advance so they may take a position before negotiations open.

The spokesman insisted that as of Friday France did not know what the United States has in mind to extend or reinforce cooperation among NATO members.

U. S. Permanent Delegate W. Randolph Burgess was reported to have circulated among NATO members a U. S. proposal covering co-ordination in the manufacture of arms and equipment. But it was understood the report made no suggestions as to how the manufacturing roles should be parceled out.

The Foreign Ministry spokesman said Gaillard was speaking formally for the French government.

The spokesman said many people in France and some NATO governments already are thinking Russian military advances have created a completely new strategic situation, and the whole aspect of the NATO alliance has changed or is changing.

A war between Russia and the United States is in theory possible without touching Europe because the Russians no longer would have to fight their way through Germany and France. They can attack the United States directly with long-range missiles.

These circles, and some governments, continued the spokesman, now are saying to themselves: perhaps we can fall intact either into the hands of the Soviet Union, or remain within the American sphere as we would prefer. But can we not all become, in effect, 'Swiss?'

Box Factory Is Damaged By Fire

HOUSTON Dec. 7 (AP)—Fire early today damaged the Globe Box Co.

Four firemen were treated at the scene for minor injuries received in the 90-minute battle against the stubborn blaze.

Hundreds of bundles of pine stripping fed the flames as 15 fire companies confined the blaze to the warehouse and storage shed of the company.

Farmer Scapegoat, Johnson Asserts

ABILENE, Dec. 7 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) said today there has been a continuing attack that "stems from many sources" on the country's agriculture for the past decade.

"It can be traced partially to an Agriculture Department which has little sympathy for farmers," Johnson asserted.

"The facts are quite different from the representation," he told the Texas Farmers' Union convention.

"We know that the prices paid to the farmers bear little relation to the prices paid by the housewife."

The convention heard Sen. Ralph Yarborough accuse Secretary of Agriculture Benson and others in the Eisenhower administration last night of "systematically killing an American way of life."

Johnson said farmers have been the scapegoat for the past several years and there is a special problem which must be solved as rapidly as possible.

"It seems that the major task of any farm organization should be to break down the barriers of suspicion which have arisen. We must frankly face the facts that until those barriers are broken down necessary legislation will be very difficult to enact," he added.

Johnson also said he attended a conference at the White House early this week when the missile and satellite programs were discussed at length.

The Senate majority leader said: "it is serious (situation) and can be described in no other terms than as a crisis. There can be no doubt that the current situation calls for sacrifice. There is an urgent need for action, even an urgent need for urgency itself."

AMONG SPEAKERS at the first anniversary celebration of the Grace Lutheran Church tomorrow night will be the Rev. James Vorkoper, pastor of the Lutheran Church at Miles, who was instrumental in calling attention to Snyder as a field for Lutherans. He did survey work and canvassing here and conducted the first service. The Rev. Clarence Hagens of Lubbock, who was supply pastor here for a time, will also be a speaker. The anniversary celebration will be at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the West Elementary cafeteria.

Firing Rockets Is Complicated Chore

By JOHN A. BARBOUR
AP Science Reporter

To many Americans, a rocket up to now was something shot off on the Fourth of July.

But there's a lot more to firing one in this space age than lighting a match and stepping back. There are scores, perhaps hundreds, of things which might cause a failure like that in the big Vanguard test at Cape Canaveral Friday.

Project Chief John P. Hagen laid the explosion of the 72-foot rocket to mechanical trouble, not design, and said plans to put several test satellites into the air will go ahead.

A Fourth of July rocket uses oxygen from the air to burn its fuel. But the modern rocket, bigger by far and designed to put a baby moon in an orbit 300 miles above the earth, must carry its own burning elements with it. The reaches of space have no air and little oxygen.

The first stage engine uses a high grade kerosene, and liquid oxygen. The two are just waiting to get together. The rocket engine obliges by introducing them in the combustion chamber. Then through a mechanical system they are ignited.

In the second stage, the two fuel elements need no third party to ignite them. One fuel is called unsymmetrical dimethyl hydrazine. The other is white fuming nitric acid.

A timing device picks the time to fire off the second stage, and without so much as a spark to help, it mixes the two fuels. They ignite by themselves and explode.

The third stage is the most like the Fourth of July rocket. It's fuel is solid, and is ignited by a delay fuse which sends it blasting up to about 18,000 miles per hour.

The first stage burns out in about 2½ minutes. The second stage lasts a little less than two minutes. The third stage takes just about a minute.

In Friday's misfire, just about everything in the first two stages burned together. Their fury was such that the rocket, which barely got off the ground, was all but consumed in its own fire.

For two seconds everything had worked well, and then suddenly it fell back down the two to four feet it had risen. The excess fuel suddenly mixed together provided the funeral pyre.

The ball of flame shot up to 50 feet or more.

Until the final rocket is built and fired, failures may occur anytime. More is learned than is lost from them.

Pro Football, Music Mixed

BEAUMONT, Dec. 7 (AP)—Dudley Meredith, Lamar Tech tackle, has two ambitions — pro football and music.

The Little All-America is good enough at each to follow a remunerative career.

They say at Lamar Tech that Dudley "will be losing money every minute he tries to play pro football."

The 6-4, 235-pound athlete is wanted by pro football enough that the Detroit Lions drafted him and offered him $7,000 a year.

But he picks a guitar exceptionally well and sings better, his teammates tell you, then Elvis or any other current headliner in the bop and popular hillbilly music fields.

Meredith won recognition in football as a junior college All-American at Del Mar in Corpus Christi. Last year he was All-Texas College while playing for Midwestern.

When Midwestern quit football, Meredith came to Lamar to play out his final year of eligibility. It paid off with his selection on the Little All-America.

Bus, Auto In Collision; One Killed

TEXARKANA, Ark., Dec. 7 (AP)—An auto and a Greyhound bus carrying 35 passengers collided headon near here early today, killing the driver of the car and injuring the bus driver and 20 passengers.

None of the injured was believed hurt.

State trooper Leo Wilcox said Ira Jones, 18, freshman at Texarkana junior college, died in the 2:45 a.m. crash 19 miles east of here on Highway 82. He was traveling alone.

Nineteen of the injured were taken to the hospital here. Two others were treated and discharged.

Those most seriously hurt were M. E. Grisham, 35, of Texarkana, the bus driver, and Mrs. Ruth Woodall, 60, of Fort Worth. Both broke ankles.

Wilcox said the impact ripped away the front of the bus, en route to Texarkana, and demolished the car. Jones' body was pried from the wreckage.

Ambulance attendants said that on reaching the scene, near Garland, Ark., they found many passengers "wandering around in a daze and others still inside the bus pinned between the seats."

Most passengers were asleep, said Max Clay of Arlington, Tex. Clay was treated and discharged.

Others in the hospital included Mrs. R. A. Pinson of Greenville, Tex.

Red System 'Frightening'

DALLAS DEC. 7 (AP)—Russia's system of scientific education is Chancellor Umphrey Lee of SMU said tonight.

Dr. Lee's indictment of Communist philosophy was made to the Philosophical Society of Texas. The society was founded during the days of the Texas Republic.

Dr. Lee's theme was that our civilization and culture depends upon education in many fields, for the development of a well-rounded culture and civilization; in contrast to the Russian system of education of scientists with no background of humanistic or social knowledge.

"It is not only that Russia may outstrip the Western nations in scientific knowledge," said Dr. Lee, "but that such a pool of knowledge and skills may be subserviant to any master that comes along."

Critics Active, But Daniel Still Without A Major Foe

By DAVE CHEAAENS

AUSTIN, Dec. 7 (AP)—Mountains of political questions and molehills of firm answers emerged from this year's legislative sessions. Gov. Price Daniel's rating was the biggest unanswered question.

His close associates insist that Daniel's claim of a perfect percentage in the legislative batting averages is valid and that it will convince most voters that he has earned reelection.

His critics insist that while Daniel's legislative record is quantitatively excellent, the quality is below par and that he has antagonized many who helped elect him.

This one fact stands out in the midst of all the speculation: Neither the liberals nor the conservatives have yet found a candidate they think could beat Daniel in a second - term bid.

One of the most interesting developments of the year has been the apparent strengthening of Sen. Ralph Yarborough's political position. He is in a spot now where he can keep all the backstage string pullers guessing: Will he run for the full Senate term, or does he still hanker enough to be governor to try again to beat Daniel?

Yarborough is not saying.

He has taken his smile and handclasp into every section of the state in the interim between sessions of Congress. He has delivered uncounted thousands of words in back home speeches, over the radio and television.

Yarborough doesn't have to say what his plans are for five months, and probably won't.

The current Yarborough "keep-'em-guessing" technique is a reminder of former Gov. Alan Shivers' always - cagey approach to a candidacy, even an obvious one. Shivers kept his enemies and sometimes his friends dangling dangling until what he considered the precisely proper moment of decision came. Uusually his political timing was perfect, and those waiting for him to act had no choice but to pick up the scraps.

Daniel was reminded this week that the time for filing was just a few months hence. A reporter asked the routine question: "Will you run for reelection?"

The governor didn't muff the answer.

He started off with one of his rare laughs and replied that he wanted to get his desk clear before he even thought about it. That reply was good enough in view of the fact that first-term governors usually aim a large part of their activity at the re-election target.

In the first year of his first term as governor, Daniel apparently was determined at any cost to ram through his program water conservation, lobby and influence controls, insurance reorganization, and in the special sessions public school bills aimed at slowing down integration.

This he did, with his legislative tactics sometimes puzzling or even alienating his backers, and enfuriating his opponents. Through it all Daniel made his own decisions, right or wrong, and is building up a reputation for independence in the governor's office.

Daniel alienated many of his one - time South Texas backers by aligning himself with the East Texas segregation bloc. He made many of his conservative backers in such big cities as Houston angry because of his water legislation. He irritated the rural bloc by not submitting a bill to ease farm - water use regulations. The liberals in general were not pleased. Some critics said the lobby bill is worthless. Integrationists said the segregation legislation would not stand up.

But no opponent for Daniel from any camp has appeared yet.

And no opponent for Sen. Yarborough has appeared yet.

Closing Plan Is Rescinded

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Bowing to pressure, the Treasury Department today rescinded a recent order closing 11 of its 44 customs collection districts at the end of the year.

The order was set aside, the Treasury said' in the face of protests from groups in the areas involved that "the anticipated economies would be outweighed by adverse effects which they felt the order would have on existing ports development plans, involving many millions of dollars."

Congress members from the districts also protested, and some had threatened to seek legislation to annul the order.

The economy move, originally announced Nov. 19, called for absorption of the 11 districts into larger neighboring districts.

The closings would have eliminated the appointive jobs of 11 customs collectors, who have an average annual salary of $9,420.

Crewmen Of Sub Missing

NEW LONDON, Conn., Dec. 7 (AP)—Two crewmen of the atomic submarine Seawolf, one a Texan, were sought today after officials reported they were concerned about their safety.

John Munson, 28, of Clyde, Tex., and Robert Griffith, 26, of Harvey, Ill., disappeared Wednesday on a hunting trip in northeast New York.

Police said an auto answering the description of their 1954 model sedan was seen in Blue Mountain Lake, N.Y., Nov. 30. Authorities said both men had good Navy records and were not the type to overstay leave.

The atomic craft put out to sea Thursday.

Nuclear Material Arrives In Spain

MADRID, Spain, Dec. 7 (AP) — American nuclear material for Spain, worth 112 million dollars, arrived today by plane from New York.

The material included 20 kilograms of Uranium 235 and four of Isotope U235 to be used in an atomic reactor nearing completion by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission at Alameda, Calif., which will be moved shortly to the Moncloa plant in Madrid.

Spain is being supplied this material under agreement with the United States for atomic co-

New Nursery In Production

COLLEGE STATION Dec. 7 (AP)—Nearly 25 million pine seedlings are being shipped to East Texas landowners from the Texas Forest Service's new nursery near Magnolia Springs in Jasper County.

"The first seedlings produced in this nursery doubled our production," said Don Young, head of the Service's Forest Management Department.

An estimated 17 million seedlings also were being lifted at the Indian Mound Nursery near Alto to reforest private lands in East Texas.

A recent survey of East Texas commercial forest land indicated 3 million acres are in need of pine tree planting.

County, State Busy On Paving Projects

While the City of Snyder is busy paving several dozen blocks of streets, county and state officials are working on several miles of paving projects, some now in the process of being paved and some to be paved in the near future.

Now in the finishing stages is a paving project of Scurry County Precinct 2, of which Cullen Toombs is commissioner. The project which covers 1.77 miles, is mostly in Snyder. It includes Twenty-first Street from Avenue T to Avenue Z, Avenue Z from Twenty-first Street to Twenty-fifth Street, Twenty-third Street from Avenue Z west to the radio station road, and the radio station road from U. S. Highway 180 north to the KSNY area.

W. W. Greif, engineer for the county on the project, said that paving is almost complete and will be in less than a week. Another layer of asphalt is to be put down before the project is complete. Most of the paved street is 40 to 50 feet wide. The work includes a low-water crossing on Avenue Z near the highway.

A project in Precinct 3, where Pat Moore is commissioner, is almost ready for advertising of bids and should be let about Jan. 15. Right-of-way on the project is cleared.

That will include about four miles of paving on a road which leads west two miles from the Lion Oil Camp and then south to a road in the Knapp area. It will connect with paved roads at both ends.

Now in the planning stage in Precinct 3, with most of the right-of-way secured, is a road to be paved running about a mile south of Ira and then east for about two miles through and oilfield area.

Also being planned in Precinct 3 is a pavement project which would connect two paved roads just west of Snyder. It is the rodeo grounds road, which leads west of El Paso Street at the end of Thirtieth Street, past the rodeo grounds, and intersects the Cottonstalk Road, a distance of about 1.75 miles. Part of the right-of-way for that project has been secured, but the county is having a difficult time getting part of it.

Homer Ray, resident highway engineer here, said there are two area state farm-to-market road projects which are tentatively on the calendar for January letting, although there has not yet been any definite word.

One would be a road in the Lake Thomas area, one in the Polar area.

That in the lake area would connect with FM 1298, which leads almost to the dam at the lake, run south for a total of about seven miles, five of which would be in Scurry County, connecting with State Highway 350 about two miles east of the Mitchell-Howard County line. The road would run parallel to the dam and just below it. The project would include only low-water bridges, but the crossing on the Colorado River bed would be 120 feet long and would take care of most needs.

In the Polar area, there is now pavement from U. S. Highway 84 north to the Scurry-Kent County line. The proposed project would start new pavement there and run it five miles farther north to Polar, which does not now have a paved road, Ray said.

Six Persons Hurt In Two Collisions

LONGVIEW, Dec. 7 (AP)—Two collisions on rain slick Longview area highways left six persons injured last night, two of them seriously.

A 3-car pileup on Farm Road 1845 one mile south of here injured four. The other two suffered injuries in a 2-car collision one mile west on the Judson Road.

In serious conditions were James Hall and A. W. Winniger, both of Greggton. Also injured were Charles Barnard of Greggton, Charles Luman of Tatum, Larenzo Turner and his brother, O. W. Turner.

Reds Report Oil Discovery

HONG KONG, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Chinese Communists say they have made an important new oil strike in Sinkiang Province of northwest China.

The New China news agency reported great quantities of crude oil were tapped in Karamai Oil Field, making it one of China's rich oil discoveries.

Kitchen Knife Not A Lethal Weapon

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 7 (AP) — Mexico's Supreme Court has ruled a kitchen knife is not a lethal weapon if it has a round tip.

Jose Luis Hernandez Escartina was sentenced to six months in prison for carrying a knife with a blade of more than three inches. Police said it was an illegal weapon.

Hernandez appealed. The high court said a round tipped kitchen knife was not illegal and set him free.

THE BIBLE

QUESTION: What was the language of Jesus?

* * *

ANSWER: The Bible is so familiar to us that you may almost feel that Jesus spoke in Biblical English, but of course he did not. He spoke instead a language used in his own country — one that the common people could understand. This is generally considered to be Aramaic, one of a group of languages related to Hebrew and generally spoken throughout the Middle East at that time. And while some of the Bible was written in Greek, the books of Ezra and Daniel were written partly in Aramaic. Since those days, the Bible has been translated into hundreds of languages. The first translations usually were into Latin and Greek. The most widely known English translation is called the King James version because it was translated by a group of scholars while James I was the king of England.

Tigers, Ponies Top All-District Lineup

Sweetwater and Snyder, champion and runnerup respectively, dominate the 1957 All-District 3-AAA team, the two combining for nine spots on the 11-man first team.

The champion Mustangs placed five while the runnerup Tigers landed four on the all-district first team. Colorado City and Lamesa grabbed off the other two places with one each.

The all-district panel was made up of one coach and one sports writer from each member city.

There were only two unanimous choices, fullback James Parker and guard Pat Gerald, both of Sweetwater, being named on every first team ballot.

The other three Sweetwater players named on the first team were end Pat Fraley, tackle Dickie Woods and halfback Glenn Reed.

Snyder's four all-district players are tackle Bill Phillips, center Bill Rinehart, quarterback Richard Mahan and halfback Bud Morgan.

End Bobby Clement of Lamesa and guard Joe Maddox of Colorado City round out the first team.

Four juniors are included on the first team. They are Fraley, Rinehart, Mahan and Parker.

The closest battle for positions came at quarterback where Snyder's Mahan nosed out Colorado City's Richard Compton, 14-12, on the point system. Two points were awarded for a first team vote, one for a second team.

The maximum point total was 18 since one sports scribe did not vote.

Colorado City and Snyder led the second team balloting with three each followed by Sweetwater and Lake View with one each and Lamesa with one.

Participating in selecting the all-water district teams were coaches Floyd Elkins, Lake View; and sports writers Ken Newton, Sweetwood Turner, Sweetwater; John Reporter; Buck Francis, Colorado City Record; and Aurelia Conley, Snyder; Bob Reily, Colo-Ramirez, San Angelo Standard-rado City; O. W. Follis, Lamesa; Times.

U. S. Netmen Are Favored

ADELAIDE, Dec. 7 (AP)—The tip from the beaten tennis men of The Philippines is that the U. S. Davis Cup team will crush the Belgians in the final interzone Davis Cup match next week in Brisbane.

"It will be no contest," said the Filipino champion Raymundo Deyro. "I think we could have given the Belgians a good match. But the Americans? They will kill them."

Felicisimo Ampon, 37-year-old perennial of The Philippines team, was quick to agree.

"The way the Americans played us they will have no trouble at all, he said. "They should not even be pressed, particularly if the courts are fast."

Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., completed a 5-0 rout of The Philippines at the Memorial Drive Courts today with one-sided singles victories which sounded a warning not only to the Belgians but also to the Australians who defend the cup in the challenge round at Melbourne Dec. 26-28.

Hayes Says Team In Terrible Shape

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 7 (AP)—Ohio State's football team is in "terrible shape, terrible." That comes from the coach himself, Woody Hayes.

The Buckeyes went into today's drills with one-third of the alloted 16 practice sessions used up as they prepare to meet Oregon in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1.

Writers Get New Licking From Rice

FORT WORTH, Dec. 7 (AP)—The so-called football experts took another licking when Rice won the Southwest Conference football championship. It was nothing new—they had been doing that for 20 of the 24 years in which TCU conducted its poll.

The 86 writers and sportscasters voting last August selected Baylor to win the title by a narrow margin over Texas A&M. Arkansas was placed third, Rice fourth, Texas fifth, TCU sixth and SMU seventh.

Not a single team came out as predicted. The finish: 1. Rice, 2. Texas, 3. A&M, 4. SMU, 5. TCU and Arkansas tied and 7. Baylor.

One writer called the turn, Dick Moore of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Moore picked Rice, saying "It's about time for Jess Neely to hit again."

The only writer to select Baylor for last was Dick Richmond of Stations KEYS, Corpus Christi.

Only three placed Texas second—Tommy Hart, Big Spring Herald; Clint Fermby, KDAN, Hereford; and O. Shelton, KWFT, Wichita Falls.

Ted Allen of the Kilgore News Herald, had Baylor first, and Rice last, and quipped: "As you say, it's hot and the heat must have affected us. Anyone who tries to predict the outcome of this league is just a bit loco. Just turn my predictions upside down for the probably finish of the race this year."

Robbie Robinson, the Alice Daily Echo's writer, commented, with his choice of Baylor.

"Last year, I picked Texas first; they finished last. This year it's Baylor in a close finish over Texas A&M with Arkansas in contention all the way. If Baylor finishes last in '57, then it's the last time I'm going out on the limb in this cotton-picking poll."

Cotton Bowl Net Tournament Set

DALLAS, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Cotton Bowl junior indoor tennis championships will be held here as a part of the Cotton Bowl Week celebration.

The tournament will be held Dec. 28-31 and open to all comers. An entry list of 250 is expected.

Rosters Set For Blue-Gray Football Tilt

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 7 (AP)—The nation's leading passer and two players who made The Associated Press' Little All-America team are among the 48 college all-stars selected to compete in the annual Blue-Gray game.

Rosters for the Dec. 28 game, were announced today. Each squad has 24 college seniors representing schools North and South of the Mason-Dixon Line. The game will be televised nationally by NBC.

Southern teams have dominated the Blue-Gray series, winning 12 of the 18 previous games. And the Rebels have the edge on their Yankee rivals in big name players this year.

The presence of Hardin-Simmons quarterback Ken Ford and his coach, Slingin' Sammy Baugh, signals a wide open passing game for the Southerners. Ford completed 115 passes in 205 attempts this year for 1,254 yards and the national championship.

Baugh, a great passer in his college days at Texas Christian and a pro star for the Washington Redskins for a decade after that, is one of the three Rebel coaches.

The Confederate squad also has Little All-America end Howard Clark of Chattanooga on its roster.

Northern coaches have a Little All-America performer on their side — Lehigh University's T-formation perfectionist, Dan Nolan, who is expected to offset the Rebels' aerial threat.

The South's coaching staff originally included Johnny Vaught of Mississippi and Darrell Royal of Texas. They withdrew after their teams accepted Sugar Bowl invitations, and Baugh was chosen to replace Royal while Earle Edwards of North Carolina State filled in for Vaught.

The Gray roster includes end Pat Hartsfield, Texas Tech, and Backs Lou Slaughter, SMU, and Don Maynard, Texas Western.

Four All-America Players Rate Bowl Game Spotlight

By MIKE RATHET
The Associated Press

The absence of the nation's only major unbeaten,, untied football teams from the annual post-season bowl games, has thrown four All-America players and two teams with unsettled problems into the spotlight of the major year-end spectaculars.

Rice quarterback King Hill—bonus choice of the Chicago Cardinals in the recent NFL draft—heads the quartet of All-Americas. He'll lead the Southwest Conference champion Owls (7-3) against Navy (8-1-1) in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, New Year's Day.

Others carrying All-America accolades into their final college game are Ohio State guard Aurelius Thomas, guard Bill Krisher of Oklahoma and Texas A&M back John Crow.

Navy, the pride of the East, is one of the teams beset with a problem. The Middie high command is huddling over the question of accepting future bowl appearances. The Texas Aggies (8-2), who meet Tennessee (7-3) in the Dec. 28 Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., also have a headache—shopping for a coach to replace Paul "Bear" Bryant.

The other three major bowls are scheduled for New Year's Day.

Here's how they line up:

Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.—Ohio State (8-1) vs. Oregon (7-3).

Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla.—Oklahoma (9-1) vs. Duke (6-2-2).

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans—Mississippi (8-1-1) vs. Texas (6-3-1).

On the sidelines will be national champion Auburn and Arizona State (Tempe), the only major college teams with unblemished records. Auburn, winner of nine games, is on NCAA probation. Arizona State, also 9-0, is barred by a school ruling from participating in a post-season contest.

Rice carries a perfect 4-0 bowl record into its clash with the Middies, who are paced by quarterback Tom Forrestal and a rugged line anchored by tackle Bob Reifsnyder. Navy is 1-0-1 in post-season competition.

The Rice game may be Navy's last bowl appearance "for a good many years," said Annapolis Director of Athletics Capt. Slade Cutter last week.

Tennessee, the only team to play in a 1957 classic, has appeared in more post-season games than any other college on the 1958 roster. But the Vols have won only three of 10. Texas A&M, top-ranked in the nation for a spell, is 2-2 in bowl play.

Aggie Coach Bryant is leaving A&M on Jan. 1, only four days after the bowl, to take the head coaching job at Alabama.

Ohio State's Big Ten champions, second-ranked in the nation, will be trying to uphold the prestige of the Western Conference against the co-holders of the Pacific Coast Conference title. The Ducks will be looking for the PCC's second victory in 12 games under their tieup with the Big Ten. Oregon is 1-2 in bowl games, Ohio State 2-1.

Oklahoma and Duke meet in the last game of the Big Eight-Atlantic Coast Conference hookup. The Sooners had their 47 game consecutive winning streak snapped this season by Notre Dame, but will be tough for the Blue Devils who have won two, lost two in year-end contests. Oklahoma is 5-2.

Two conference runners-up meet at New Orleans. Mississippi was second to Auburn in the Southeastern and Texas finished behind Rice in the Southwest. The Rebels will be making their fifth bowl appearance. They are 1-3. The Longhorns have a 5-1-1 mark.

Other All-Americas will be taking their bows in the annual all-star games—North-South (Dec. 25 at Miami); Blue-Gray (Dec. 28 at Montgomery, Ala.), and East-West (Dec. 28 at San Francisco).

The Holiday Bowl of the NAIA is the only one matching two undefeateds. Hillsdale, Mich. (9-0) will meet Pittsburgh, Kan. Teachers (10-0) at St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 21.

The Cigar Bowl will be missing from the line-up. Sponsors received permission this year from the NCAA to invite major teams to Tampa, Fla., but there were no takers. After Texas Christian, Mississippi State and Houston had declined offers, the game was canceled.

The post-season scramble gets under way next Saturday when Maryland State and unbeaten Florida A&M clash in the Orange Blossom Bowl at Miami.

Other bowl games:

Dec. 15

Shrimp Bowl at Galveston, Tex.—Bolling AFB vs. San Diego Marines.

Jan. 1

Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex.—Drake vs Louisville.

Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla. — Mississippi Southern vs. East Texas State.

Jan. 5

Hula Bowl at Honolulu—College seniors vs. Hawaiian All-Stars.

Jan. 11

Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala.

'Rat-Race' Recruiting Made Crisler Quit Coaching Field

By DAVE DILES

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 7 (AP)—"Recruiting was becoming nothing more than a rat-race. I saw what was coming. And that's the biggest reason I quit coaching."

Fritz Crisler said it with all the seriousness in the world. And if the veteran Michigan athletic director had his way about it—and he knows he never will—the Big Ten would eliminate recruiting of football players.

Frequently called the toughest football league anywhere, the Big Ten has had its share of troubles with this problem of rounding up healthy, strong young men to play football for million-dollar gate receipts. Crisler, one of the great coaches of all time, has been in on most of the difficulties.

The silver-haired master of Michigan's football fortunes is the kind of a man who takes a definite stand on almost everything. Although he always has been and always will be unalterably opposed to the thing they call recruiting, Crisler has made no attempt to conceal the part he once played in what he calls "football's slave market."

The recruiting of football players began after World War I. There was expansion and development. Many of the nation's larger stadia were built. They had to be paid for, and one pays for stadia by filling them with people.

And how does one go about filling a stadium? By fielding a winning team, of course. And one fields a winning team by getting the best football players. Recruiting was born.

With recruiting came additional pressure on coaches and another reason for alumni to be enthusiastic. The Big Ten had a "no-contract" rule that prevented any member of the school's athletic department from talking to prospective athletes. Alumni work was unorganized and apparently completely clean and healthy. It stayed that way until after World War II.

The Big Ten recently adopted a fundamental principle on aid to athletes. It has four different types of aid permissible:

1. Aid from a student's family or from persons on whom he is dependent.

2. Scholarship aid unrelated in any way to his athletic skill.

3. Scholarship aid which may be permitted to athletes in the upper 25 per cent of their high school graduating class (the athletes must stay in the upper 25 per cent of their college class to retain this scholarship aid).

4. Aid based on need as a result of computation of the family's resources. The maximum aid is the actual cost of board, room, books, tuition and fees.

"We have tried to make sure that no institution is allowed to offer more than another one," Crisler said. "Our new plan (into effect February 1957) brought back the educational tie-up with football. It established that the family has a responsibility toward giving their children a college education."

Dickens Is Likely To Be Reinstated

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Big Ten is expected to reinstate Phil Dickens as Indiana's head football coach and fend off proposed major revision of its new financial aid program at the conference's winter meeting next week.

Dickens, fresh from the University of Wyoming, was suspended July 28 for recruiting in violation of the conference aid plan, adopted just a year ago and made effective this school year:

Irish Routs SMU Ponies, 54-21

Meredith Sets Passing Record

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Dec. 7 (AP)—Notre Dame rode with its smashing Bob Williams and Patrick Doyle to a 54-21 victory over Southern Methodist today to wind up its "comeback season" with a flourish.

The Irish were running up their highest total in the 9-game SMU series and they were participating in one of the roughest games ever seen in the Cotton Bowl. The teams drew nine personal fouls between them. Once they almost came to blows.

Notre Dame, conqueror of mighty Oklahoma this year, ended the season with a 7-3 record—quite different from the 2-8 disaster of 1956.

While Notre Dame dominated the game most of the time, Southern Methodist put up a terrific battle and saw its Don Meredith set a new collegiate record for percentage of pass completions.

Meredith, who threw for two touchdowns today while completing 8 of 15 passes for 136 yards, ran his average for the season to 69.6. This wiped out the 68.6 set by Lee Grosscup, of Utah this year for a minimum of 50 attempts. The record for a minimum of 100 was held by Paul Larson of California, who had 64.1 in 1954.

Williams scored two touchdowns, intercepted a pass to set up another and directed the Notre Dame team expertly. Doyle racked up scores on runs of 45 and 17 yards. Norman Odyniec also made two touchdowns with short plunges, while Charles Lima got the other Irish touchdown with a 3-yard lunge.

Lon Slaughter made two touchdowns for SMU, both on passes from Meredith. Jim Welch got the other Methodist counter on a 1-yard plunge.

The game saw each team assessed 109 yards in penalties with SMU drawing five personal fouls and Notre Dame four, while on two other occasaions personal fouls offset each other.

But most of the penalties were caused by two hard-hitting teams that went all out on this, the final game of the season, and there appeared little evidence of deliberate unethical play.

A crowd of 51,000 watched the Irish, reminiscent of teams of the late Forties at Notre Dame, run and pass for 403 yards in as wild an offensive duel as ever seen in the Cotton Bowl. The Methodists got 312 yards themselves.

The first crack out of the box Meredith lofted a mighty pass to Slaughter that ate up 47 yards, and had SMU a touchdown the first time it got the ball. But the joy of SMU partisans was short-lived. George Izo's passing soon had the Irish the tying touchdown.

Then Dick Lynch intercepted a pass to set up another Notre Dame touchdown. The Irish took advantage of SMU mistakes to pull their lead to 28-14 at the half. An SMU fumble led to one Notre Dame score and a pass interception to the others.

Southern Methodist struck back for a touchdown just before the half ended with the passing of Charley Arnold, subbing for Meredith, and the receiving of Raleigh Harvey, a converted center, getting the Methodists in position for the score.

A pass interception halted the drive but the kickout was short and SMU got the ball on the Notre Dame 30. Meredith passed for 20 and was roughed trying another pass, so the ball was put on the Notre Dame one. Welch rammed over.

Things happened fast in the third period when Notre Dame took a recovered fumble on SMU 23 and pushed to a touchdown in three plays with Doyle making it on a 17-yard run, and SMU coming back to surge 75 yards for a touchdown on Meredith's passing and running. A 15-yard holding penalty against Notre Dame also helped. The payoff was an 8-yard pass from Meredith to Slaughter.

But Jim Crotty ran the kickoff back 70 yards to the SMU 25 and Notre Dame had another touchdown before you could say scat. Williams' running and passing set it up with Ron Toth going over from the four.

Frank Smith intercepted a Notre Dame pass in the end zone early in the fourth period to prevent another Irish score but Notre Dame got one as soon as it had the ball again anyway. Odyniec made it with a 1-yard plunge.

Odyniec also got the final Notre Dame touchdown in the last minute, smashing over from the SMU 2.

Steelers At Home In Mud, Win 21-10

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7 (AP)—Pittsburgh's Steelers proved better mudders than the New York Giants today, wallowing their way to a 21-10 upset victory which handed the Eastern Conference championship of the National Football League to the Cleveland Browns.

Faced with a "must" victory, the Giants, who won the Eastern Conference crown last year, could not get rolling. The fired - up Steelers won their fifth game in 10 starts.

The Giants now with a 7-4 record, had an outside chance to catch the Browns (8-1-1) but the New Yorkers were completely outplayed by Buddy Parker's team which got sweet revenge for the 35-0 licking handed his team in New York early in the season.

The game was played in a driving rain with a national television audience looking on and 19,772 in the stands. The players were unrecognizable a few minutes after the contest started. The field handicapped both quarterbacks and the slippery going made it rough for runners and pass receivers.

The Giants were held to one touchdown and a 12-yard field goal by Ben Agajanian. The touchdown came in the second period, quarterback Chuck Conerly passing to Frank Gifford on a play that carried 40 yards.

The Giant touchdown forged a 7-7 tie as the Steelers had tallied in the first quarter when linebacker John Reger picked up a fumble by Alex Webster and ran 14 yards. The Steelers came right back in the second quarter with quarterback Earl Morrall scoring on a two-yard run around right end to climax a 36-yard drive.

Tar Heels Rolling

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Dec. 7 (AP)—North Carolina's Tar Heels opened defense of their national basketball championship today with an easy 79-55 victory over Clemson, extending their unbeaten string to 33 games.

Abilene Knocks Off Sandstorm By 33-14

AMARILLO, Tex., Dec. 7 (AP)—Abilene's Eagles, driving hard for new records at every turn, exploded for three touchdowns in the second half this afternoon to outclass Amarillo 33-14 in a Class AAAA quarterfinal football playoff game.

It was Abilene's 49th consecutive victory and put the Eagles in their familiar role as favorites to win an unprecedented fourth straight Class AAAA state title.

Second-string Abilene quarterback Freddie Martinez figured in scoring plays the first two times he appeared in the game to share offensive honors with fullback Bill Sides.

Amarillo scored in the first period on a 3-yard pass play from Halfback David Russell to end Joe Ted Davidson. Dickie Polson kicked the first of two extra points for the Sandies.

Sides and Martinez combined on a sensational running-lateral play in the second period to tie up the game. Sides took a handoff on the Amarillo 45 yard line, lateralled to Martinez on a 31-yard marker and the speedy quarterback carried it over for the score. Don Hughes kicked the extra point, the first of two conversions in five attempts.

Fullback John Sudbury scored on a 1-yard plunge with 3:49 left in the first half but Abilene came right back to tie it up.

After returning the kickoff to their own 39, Martinez passed for a touchdown to end Jim Perry on the first play. Perry took the ball on the Amarillo 38 and ran it over, making it 14-14 at the half.

With 6½ minutes left in the third period, Abilene drove 57 yards for a touchdown. Sides scored it on a 1-yard plunge.

Halfback Chuck Colvin climaxed a 78-yard drive in the fourth with a 27-yard dash into the end zone to put Abilene out in front 26-14.

Halfback Stanley Cosby tallied the final Abilene touchdown on a sensational 57-yard scoring run with 3:50 left in the game.

Both teams racked up 17 first downs, but Abilene made 325 yards on the ground to 182 for Amarillo. Abilene also led in passing yardage, 106 to 90. The Eagles connected on 4 of 7 passes and had one intercepted. Amarillo completed 6 of 14 passes and lost one to an interception.

Each team recovered two opponent's fumbles. Amarillo was penalized 5 times for 44 yards while Abilene lost 10 yards on two penalties.

SPORTS

Coyotes Sidelined By Highland Park

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Dec. 7 (AP)—Halfback Jackie Collins staged a sensational offensive display this afternoon in leading Highland Park to a 28-6 Class AAAA football quarterfinal victory over Wichita Falls.

The victory put Highland Park into the Class AAAA semifinals next Saturday against defending champion Abilene.

Collins scored twice, chewed up the Coyotes' defense in racking up 216 yards rushing and kicked four extra points. His touchdowns came on runs of 35 and 90 yards.

Highland Park scored in every period while Wichita Falls' lone touchdown came in the third period.

Collins faded to the right in the first, doubled back to his left behind a swarm of blockers and dashed 35 yards to put the Scotts ahead.

A 39-yard pass from Highland Park quarterback Bobby Reed to end Stinson Jones put Highland Park ahead 14-0 at the half after Collins' conversion.

On the fourth play of the third period, Collins drove over right guard, and scampered 90 yards to score.

Tailback David Allred, the Coyotes' only offensive spark, had a big day himself, racking up 169 yards in 22 carries and scoring the Wichita Falls touchdown on a 1-yard end sweep in the third period.

Reed passed to halfback Reed Johnson for 10 yards for the final Highland Park score. It capped an 86 yard drive that took 10 plays.

The drive was kept alive by Collins' 14-yard run and Johnson's 36-yard dash.

The alert Highland Park defense kept the Coyotes bottled up most of the game. The Scots snatched three Coyote passes.

Broyles Is Named Pilot At Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 7 (AP)—The University of Arkansas announced today Frank Broyles, football coach at the University of Missouri, will succeed Jack Mitchell.

The announcement was made after the university board of trustees voted to hire the Georgia Tech alumnus at a noon executive session.

Broyles, whose first head coaching assignment was at Missouri this season, is a veteran of 10 years experience as player and assistant coach under Tech's Bobby Dodd.

A source close to university athletics confirmed this morning Broyles would be Arkansas' choice. Announcement of board approval was withheld until Broyles could inform Missouri officials of the impending change.

Broyles' Arkansas' contract is for five years at $15,000 annually.

Sugar Queen Named

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7 (AP)—Pattye Joe Haynes of Clinton will reign as queen of the 1958 Sugar Bowl football game between Texas and Mississippi New Year's Day.

Miss Haynes, 19, of Eupora, Miss., is a blue-eyed brownette and student at Louisiana State University. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Haynes.

Longhorns Preparing For Sugar Bowl Date

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 7 (AP)—The Sugar Bowl bound Texas Longhorns go back to work Monday in preparation for their New Year's Day date with Mississippi at New Orleans.

Coach Darrell Royal, who guided Texas to a surprising 6-3-1 record and a runner-up spot in the Southwest Conference race, said both the varsity and freshman squads would report Monday.

The Steers will train for two weeks on their homefield, take a few days off for Christmas and then resume training Dec. 26 at Biloxi, Miss.

Trainer Frank Medina said every member of the squad would be physically fit for the game. The Longhorns survived their rugged 9-7 victory over Texas A&M without an injury.

Miami Upsets Pitt

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 7 (AP)—Phenomenal Fran Curci, the brains and the guts of the Miami drive series," closed out a great sophomore football year tonight by guiding the Hurricanes to a 28-13 victory over the favored Panthers from Pittsburgh.

Pitt's massive linemen were laying for the 142-pound Curci, 19, and the Miami field general twice had a little trouble getting to his feet after being dropped.

Although his own team gives him virtually no protection for his southpaw passes, Curci fought his way free from hordes of tacklers to hurl two touchdown shots to Joe Plevel and one of his tricky pitchouts to Byron Blasko produced a third Miami score.

Curci also scored one of Miami's points after touchdown by running for it, a maneuver that caught Pitt flat-footed.

Boyd SoRelle Dies Saturday

WACO, Dec. 7 (AP) — Boyd SoRelle, 45, Baylor University business manager of athletics and baseball coach, died today after suffering a heart attack at his home.

SoRelle, who captained the 1937 Baylor basketball and baseball teams during his senior year, was signed as a pitcher by the Chicago White Sox shortly after graduating. He played professional baseball for 13 years, mostly with Toledo, Dallas and San Antonio.

After four years in the Navy, he became general manager of Del Rio and Laredo baseball clubs. He returned to Baylor as a member of the athletic staff in EX-CHAMP—Ann Carroll, former Southern Women's wrestling champ, will appear on a mat card here Saturday night. She will meet Gretchen Waldausen of Germany in a two-out-of-three match. Ann has been wrestling for four years under the tutelage of Billy Wolve, the manager of former world champion, Mildred Burke. Ann is married and has a four-year old daughter.

Wrestling Matches Set By Jaycees

Wrestling returns to Snyder next Saturday night when the Jaycees will sponsor a three-bout card.

The matches will be unreeled at the Junior High School Gymnasium.

One of the three bouts scheduled is an all-girl match. Ann Carroll, a former Southern Women's champion, will meet Gretchen Waldausen from Germany in the all-lady bout.

Miguel Aguilar of Old Mexico will meet Bill McCallum of Norman, Okla., in the opening bout of Saturday's card.

The all-girl bout will be second on the program with the final match to pit Buddy Farmer, former Montana Heavyweight champion, and Cowboy Cody of Wyoming.

All three matches will be the best two out of three falls and no time limit.

Tickets are now on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office. Reserved seat tickets at $2, general admission, $1.50; and 75 cents for children.

Seymour Rips McCamey

SEYMOUR, Tex., Dec. 7 (AP) — Seymour romped over McCamey 33-13 today to easily won its quarterfinal game in Class AA of Texas schoolboy football.

Halfbacks R. L. McClung and Larry Martin each scored two touchdowns for Seymour.

McClung scored first on a 3-yard plunge in the first quarter. In the second quarter he intercepted a McCamey pass and ran 52 yards for a touchdown.

Martin went over center from the 2 in the first quarter for one score and then broke off tackle for 38 yards in the third quarter for another.

Quarterback Billy Ryan got the fifth Seymour touchdown, a 43-yard run in the second quarter. Center Bill Moss made the three conversions.

McCamey scored both of its touchdowns in the fourth period. Fullback Jerry Brown plunged over from the one and quarterback Johnny Nicholas passed to end Kenneth Wallace for 38 yards for the other. Nelson Huffman made the one good conversion.

Neeley, Rogers Named Instructors

DALLAS, Dec. 7 (AP)—Coach Jess Neeley of Rice will instruct in football and Coach Bob Rogers of Texas A&M in basketball at the 1958 Texas Coaching School in Houston.

L. W. McConachie, executive vice president of the High School Coaches Assn. said today he was still trying to lineup another football and basketball instructor and a track coach for the school Aug. 4-9.

Junior High Games Slated

Snyder's two Junior High cage teams will play their first home games of the season Monday.

The seventh and eighth grade teams will entertain similar quintets from Big Spring in the Junior High gymnasium. The seventh grade game will start at 6:30 p.m. and the eighth grade game will follow.

Both Snyder junior high aggregations will be seeking their second victory in two starts. In games at Stamford last week the eighth grade copped a 41-31 decision, while the seventh grade nosed out Stamford, 14-13.

Ned Underwood is coach of the Snyder eighth grade team, while Charley Sparks coaches the seventh graders.

Texas, McMurry To Clash In Benefit

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 7 (AP)—The Texas Longhorns clash with McMurry College Tuesday night in a basketball benefit for crippled children.

The Texas Shorthorns meet Wharton Junior College in the opener of the twin bill.

The game normally is conducted in January or February as part of the annual march of dimes drive, but was moved up this season. The addition of Texas Tech to the Southwest Conference schedule left the Steers without any open dates in January or February.

UCLA Mentor Says A&M Approached Him

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7 (AP) — Coach Red Sanders of UCLA said tonight he has been approached regarding the vacancy at Texas A&M.

"Have you made any decision?" Sanders was asked.

"I have none to make. I have a very good job here at UCLA and I am well satisfied with it."

Sanders has six years to go on a 10-year contract.

SWEETWATER, CLEBURNE AMONG 3-A WINNERS

Austin Meets Port Authur, HP Meets Abilene In Semis

By WHITEY SAWYER
The Associated Press

Abilene won the big one Saturday in Texas Schoolboy football, smashing Amarillo 33-14 in a class AAAA quarter-final game and vaulting strongly into the favorite's role for an unprecedented fourth straight state championship.

Abilene won its 49th straight game, a national schoolboy record, in whipping undefeated, untied Amarillo. The Golden Sandies were slight favorites to derail the Abilene express and were generally rated over the Eagles all fall.

Cleburne slapped Garland, defending state AAA champion, down 20-0. Garland started the season poorly but came back strong and was considered a likely finalist in Class AAA.

Dallas Highland Park beat Wichita Falls 28-6 in another Class AAAA quarter-final. The Highland Park Scots have only one loss on their record and they avenged that last week against Dallas Crozier Tech. Highland Park plays Abilene next Saturday at Abilene.

Port Arthur slammed Houston Bellaire 19-0. Austin remained undefeated and untied by beating San Antonio Jefferson 21-13 in other class AAAA quarterfinal games.

Port Arthur and Austin will meet next week to see who goes to the Class AAAA finals against the winner of the Highland Park-Abilene game.

Sweetwater beat Kermit 20-0 to win its way into the Class AAA semifinals against Cleburne. The winner will take on the southern champion, either Nederland or San Antonio Edison.

Nederland is undefeated and untied and whipped Brenham 41-7 Friday. San Antonio Edison crashed into the semifinals with a 35-6 victory over San Benito.

Seymour beat McCamey 33-13 in Class AA.

Mercedes played West Columbia in a Saturday night game to round out the Class AA semi - finals.

Terrell, Class AA favorite, beat Bonham 20-12 Friday. Sundown walloped Ralls 27 - 7 and White Oak thrashed Albany 33 - 0 in Class A Friday. Sundown and White Oak will meet at Breckenridge Dec. 14.

Brady beat Bellville 41 - 27 in Class AA Friday.

In Class A Friday, Mart downed Garrison 47 - 26 to remain undefeated and untied. Jourdanton nipped Pearsall 12 - 6.

Mart will go against Jourdanton in the A semi-finals.

Port Authur Perks Up For 19-0 Win

HOUSTON, Dec. 7 (AP)— Port Arthur awoke in the last half to crush Houston Bellaire 19-0 today in the state Class AAAA quarterfinals.

Quarterback Ron Stanley scored one touchdown and passed for another as Port Arthur won its fifth straight game and snapped Bellaire's six - game winning streak.

A crowd of 4,529 saw the Jackets outplayed in the first half and then go on to win the game in the last half and qualify for their ninth trip to the semifinals since 1929.

Bellaire blew three scoring chances in the scoreless first half. In the first quarter, only one foot from a touchdown, Bellaire fullback Steve Thomas fumbled into the end zone and Port Arthur's Ronald Doty recovered.

Port Arthur will play unbeaten, untied Austin next Saturday in the Class AAAA semifinals.

Stanley, who gained 124 yards in 20 runs, completed one pass, to end David Simmons for a touchdown.

Greg Thompson, one-time defensive hub, was the game's No. 2 ground gainer with 105 yards in 14 carries and scored his first touchdown of the season on a one-foot plunge.

Bellaire, losing one touchdown on a fumble into the end zone and faltering on Port Arthur's 23 and 4 yard lines in other bids, outplayed Port Arthur in the first half.

The Jackets were stymied by Steve Shaver, Vic Samuels, John Stradinger and Jim Hunt in the first half.

Port Arthur and Bellaire both made 17 first downs but Bellaire gained 227 yards compared to Port Arthur's 317.

Bobcats Maul Tigers, 49-32

The Snyder Tiger dropped their second cage game of the season Friday night after winning their curtain raiser the night before.

The San Angelo Bobcats took the Tigers 49-32 in San Angelo Friday, giving the Angeloans their third win in five starts this season.

Walter Rodgers and Mack McCoulskey led the Cats in their win over the Tigers, which was not quite as easy as the final score appears.

The Tigers were hot as the game opened, taking a lead of 5-0. San Angelo got its scoring started two minutes deep in the game. By the end of the first quarter, the Bobcats were leading 15-9.

The Tigers were hot as the game opened, taking a lead of 5-0. San Angelo got its scoring started two minutes deep in the game. By the end of the first quarter, the Bobcats were leading 15-9.

The Tigers stayed close on the heels of San Angelo through three quarters, trailing by only 23-20 at halftime.

During the third period, they got within two points of the Bobcats.

Gary Vice, with nine points, and Leon Rec[illegible], with eight, paced the Tigers in the scoring column during the game.

After the Tigers had taken the quick lead in the first period, Rodgers and McCoulskey went to work to get eight straight points while the Tigers were scoring none.

After the San Angelo five had gained as much as a 17-9 lead early in the second quarter, the Tigers hustled again to close the margin. It was Vice's shot just before the halftime horn that put the Tigers close again.

Even though San Angelo didn't score for two and one-half minutes as the second half opened, the Tigers couldn't get ahead and did not score for almost four minutes.

When Vice, Reed, and Israel Hinojos began to hit in that period, McCoulskey matched every shot and maintained the Bobcat advantage of five points. Score at the end of the third period was 31-26.

The Cats opened up in the fourth quarter to score 18 points to the Tigers' six.

Bill Dubose led the Tiger B in a game which was close all the way. In that game, the Tiger team was leading 10-9 at the end of the first period and 24-21 at the half.

San Angelo got ahead 38-36 at the end of the third. During the final period, it was a close battle. At one time the game was tied 42-42, but Mike King broke the tie with slightly more than five minutes to go and scored the remainder of the points for the San Angelo team.

The B team win gave San Angelo a four-for-four record for the season. It was the second loss in two starts for the Tiger B.

Next games for the two Snyder teams will be at Brownfield Tuesday night.

Sweetwater Ponies Skunk Kermit 20-0

MIDLAND, Tex., Dec. 7 (AP) — Sweetwater unleashed a bruising ground attack sparked by fullback James Parker this afternoon in whipping Kermit 20-0 in a Class AAA football quarterfinal battle.

Parker racked up 207 yards in 23 carries nearly half the 423 yards rushing gained by sweetwater.

Kermit never threatened in the game, advancing past midfield only twice. The booming punts of fullback Charlie Thompson staved off Sweetwater several times. Thompson punted 11 times for a 38.9 yard average.

Sweetwater drove 45 yards in the first period with Eddie Scott sweeping left end for four yards and the touchdown.

Parker gained all but eight yards on this drive and uncorked runs of 20 and 10 yards in sparking an 80 yard march climaxed early in the second period by Halfback Glenn Reed's 1-yard sweep into the end zone.

Parker kicked one of two extra point tries and Scott scored one on a run after the third touchdown. Quarterback John Bryant tallied the latter touchdown on a 75-yard runback of a punt.

Kermit wound up with minus 19 yards rushing, and gained only 23 yards passing. Sweetwater completed one of 10 passes for 10 yards. Kermit connected on two passes in 10 attempts.

Sweetwater advances to the semifinals next week against Cleburne.

Gail Takes Both Titles At Ira Meet

IRA, Dec. 7 (Spl) — Gail took top honors in the Ira Invntational Basketball Tournament here tonight.

Gail won the boys division championship by downing Hermleigh 51-31. The two schools were also in the girls finals, with Gail winning 51-35.

Massingill, with 16 points, and Vaughn, with 15, paced the Gail team to the boys championship, while Roemisch was top scorer for Hermleigh with 21.

In the girls finals, Staggs led the Gail team with 21, while Gannaway was top scorer for Hermleigh with 17.

Divide won the boys consolation championship with a 46-29 win over Fluvanna, with Clayton and Owens leading Divide scoring with 10 points each and Smith topping Fluvanna with 12.

In the girls conoslation, Colorado City edged Divide 45-43, paced by Treadaway with 20. Divide's top scorer was Lewis with 24.

Other Friday night and Saturday scores in girls games were Hobbs 31, Blackwell 19; Gail 52, Divide 37; Colorado City 21, Fluvanna 14; Hermleigh 36, Ira 31; Divide 45, Blackwell 17; Gail 47, Hobbs 25.

In boys games, scores were Hobbs 25, Blackwell 22; Gail 49, Divide 42; Fluvanna 49, Roscoe 25; Hermleigh 29, Ira 25; Divide 49, Blackwell 28; Gail 48, Hobbs 32.

Cleburne Downs Garland

CLEBURNE, Tex., Dec. 7 (AP)—The fine passing of quarterback Jimmy Jones and a rock-ribbed defense gave Cleburne a 20-0 victory over defending champion Garland today in the quarterfinals of Class AAA schoolboy football.

It was the first quarterfinal victory for Cleburne since 1920, the first year of the Interscholastic League.

Jones completed 6 of 12 passes for 105 yards. His passes figures in all of Cleburne's scores.

A 22-yard pass from Jones to end Jim Crosier with 48 seconds left in the first quarter set up the first Cleburne touchdown. Jones plunged over from the 1-yard line and then converted.

In the second period Jones again passed to Crosier for 19 yards and a touchdown. Jones missed the conversion.

Another Jones to Crosier pass for 19 yards midway in the fourth period put Cleburne on Garland's 11-yard line. Charles Doggett and Gene Cleveland carried the rest of the way with Cleveland scoring from the 2. Jones converted.

Garland made its only scoring threat in the fourth period against Cleburne reserves. It recovered a Cleburne fumble on its own 18 and drove to the Cleburne 2 where time ran out.

It was only in this drive that Garland's highly regarded Chock Bailey was able to break loose, making most of the 61 yards he had for the day.

Garland outgained Cleburne in rushing with 187 yards. However Cleburne's 105 yards passing and 162 yards rushing made it dominant throughout the game.

Big 10 Plans Cage Games On Television

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 (AP)—Thirteen Saturday afternoon Big Ten basketball games starting at 4:30 p.m. EST, will be televised this season, Commissioner K.L. "Tug" Wilson announced today.

The telecasts will start Dec. 14 with Texas A&M at Ohio State.

Writers Name Hayes As Coach Of Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—Woody Hayes, coach of Ohio State's Big Ten champion football team, today was winner of the National Football Writers' Assn., designation as the coach of the year. It is the first time the writers' group has named the year's outstanding coach.

Syracuse University's biggest victory over arch-rival Colgate came in 1956 when Jim Brown (now with Cleveland's Browns) led the Orange to a 61-7 triumph.

Aggie List Of Coaches Is Trimmed

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Dec. 7 (AP)—The list of prospects for head football coach of Texas A&M has been trimmed to less than a dozen and these men are now being contacted, Dr. C. H Groneman, chairman of the athletic council, said tonight.

But Dr. Groneman declined to name any of those under consideration and he would not comment on a report that Jim Tatum of North Carolina, Red Sanders of UCLA and Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State were the top men in the picture.

"We compiled a list of more than 30 prospects," Dr. Groneman said. "These included coaches of senior colleges, coaches of high schools and junior colleges and some coaches who are not now in the profession. We hope to select a coach within the coming week or ten days because we would like for him to be able to see the team in practice for the Gator Bowl."

Dr. Groneman indicated they wanted a big name coach of the stature of Paul Bryant, who resigned to go to Alabama with seven years left on his contract.

Daugherty was quoted in New York yesterday as saying he had been contacted by an A&M alumnus but not by any official of the college. He may have been by now, however.

Tatum was Bryant's recommendation as coach at Alabama when he was at first approached about the Alabama job. At that time, however, Bryant had said he was not interested.

Breaks Put Austin Over Jeffs 21-13

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Austin Maroons cashed in on every break offered them to move into the state Class AAAA semifinals with a 21-13 victory over Jefferson of San Antonio here this afternoon.

Bob Nunis, 185-pound halfback who seems destined for college stardom, raced back a punt for 48 yards and the first Austin touchdown and caught a short pass to score on a 21-yard play to put the undefeated Maroons in front 14-0 at halftime.

Jeff came right back with two fast scores in the third period as an on-side kickoff worked and a 53 - yard touchdown march followed. Stuart McBirnie finally bulled his way over from one yard out.

The San Antonio club tallied again just moments later as McBirnie again pushed over from a yard out after Austin had fumbled the ball away on its own 19.

Neither team threatened again until the fading minutes when Austin managed its only real drive of the game — a drive that carried 64 yards. Gary Craig climaxed this final push with a three - yard plunge over tackle.

Don Jester added all three Maroon points.

Jefferson completely dominated statistics, gaining 197 yards rushing compared to 123 for Austin and stacking up 14 first downs compared to 8.

Hix Green, little Jefferson backfield star, electrified the crowd of 9,000 by rushing over tackle and down the sidelines for 85 yards on the first play from scrimmage but a clipping penalty erased this run and dampened the spirits of the local eleven.

Austin goes against Port Arthur next, in the state semifinals.

Cleveland Browns Clinch East Title

The Associated Press

The Cleveland Browns, having clinched their seventh Eastern Conference title in eight years, can lend a helping hand to the Baltimore Colts' championship hopes in the National Football League's Western race today.

While the Colts take their "help themselves" campaign into San Francisco's Kezar Stadium against the challenging 49ers, the Browns are in Detroit to play the Lions—the third club still in contention for the Western title.

For the Browns it's a meaningless game since they were assured of the Eastern crown Saturday when Pittsburgh upset New York's defending champion Giants, 21-10.

Baltimore, riding a four-game winning streak, leads in the West with a 7-3 record, holding a one-game edge over San Francisco and Detroit, both 6-4. Each has two games remaining, including today's schedule.

By winning, the Colts can clinch at least a tie.

The Colts may have trouble defeating the San Francisco 49'ers, but if they do so their hopes of an undisputed championship hinge on a Cleveland victory over Detroit. A Detroit victory would assure Baltimore only a tie if the Colts win.

The contenders in both divisions have been victims of teams snapping out of slumps this season. The Philadelphia Eagles stopped the Browns after losing three straight. Both Detroit and Baltimore were beaten by second-division clubs which had lost three in a row, and the Washington Redskins defeated the Giants and tied the Browns, coming off two-game losing streaks on each occasion. Today's games also include Chicago Bears at Chicago Cardinals, Philadelphia at Washington and Green Bay at Los Angeles.

North Dakota played its first collegiate football game in 1894. The team was coached by Prof. Adolf Bechdolt.

Soldiers Paid Well

Most citizens who were in the military service when a private made $50 a month do not realize the pay of a soldier has been increased to a much higher scale now, says Sfc. James Boone, head of the Army recruitigng office in Snyder.

In 1944, Boone said, a private entering the service received pay of $50 monthly, and he was given about $135 worth of clothing.

Today, the recruiter said, a private starts at $78 per month. His pay is automatically increased to $83.20 when he completes basic training, and at the end of four months after entry he is automatically promoted one grade, with a pay of $85.80. At the end of six months he starts drawing $90.80 monthly.

"To some that may not seem like much, but all of it except about $10 is clear spending money. If we further take into consideration his food, lodging, medical care, 30-day annual leave, and other benefits we find he would have to make at least $350 per month in civilian life to be able to have $80 spending money per month," Boone said.

A man who is married also receives extra money for his dependents, with the amount depending on his rank and number of dependents. If he lives with his family, he also draws from $30 to $77.10 monthly extra.

Boone used as an example a typical non-commissioned officer who has four years of service, is married and has three dependents, and is 23 years old.

Base pay of such a man, Boone said, would be $195, his dependent allowance $96.90, clothing allowance $5.40, and ration allowance $30, for a total of $327.30, on which he would pay no income tax. He would also receive medical care for his dependents and 30 days annual leave. At 39, he could retire with a life income of $155 monthly, plus medical care for the remainder of his life.

In civilian life, the same man would have to make a salary of about $17,000 annually to be able to retire at 39 with all the same benefits, Boone contended.

In the past, overseas pay was 20 percent of a person's pay, but it has now been changed to a fixed amount, according to rank. A private-2 would receive $8 monthly overseas pay, while a master sergeant's overseas pay would be $22 monthly.

Every two years, a man is assured a monthly increase in pay. That during a 20-year period would be about $98.11, or about $4.90 per month increase each year while in service.

Travel pay has also been increased. It was formerly three cents per mile, while it is now six cents and in some cases seven cents. The married man Boone used for a example would receive six cents per mile travel allowance, while his wife would get six cents, and if his other two dependents were over five and under 12 he would receive three cents per mile for each, but a total of 18 cents per mile is the most which can be paid.

On moving, he would also receive an extra $96.90, which is called a dislocation allowance. In addition to that, the government will pack, move, and unpack all his household goods and give him a day's travel time for every 250 miles he must travel to his new station. If he has a housetrailer, the government will pay him a straight 21 cents per mile travel allowance.

If a person stays in the military service 20 years, he will also receive $2,000, in reenlistment bonuses, or a $100 a year bonus.

Christmas Buying May Exceed 1956

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP) — The annual Christmas buying binge got off to a belated start this week. But most merchants were optimistic.

The delayed take-off stemmed from the Thanksgiving holiday which fell one week later than usual. Most people don't start their Christmas shopping until after the turkey day feast.

Despite the shortened shopping season, a U.S. Commerce Department survey found retailers in 23 cities confident of meeting or beating last year's dollar totals. Retailers in eight cities looked for a decline.

It was widely conceded that any gains would be due chiefly to higher prices. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce put it another way: this month, the Chamber said, Americans will buy just about the same amount of merchandise they purchased last December. But they'll pay 600 million dollars more for it.

While merchants wondered how their multi-billion-dollar Yuletide gamble would pan out, government experts were quietly giving the economy a hypo.

Thanks to the manipulations of the Federal Reserve Board's open market committee, commercial banks around the country this week suddenly found they had more money to lend.

The effects were noted immediately in Wall Street. Executives of big New York commercial banks began to talk openly about cutting their interest rates. Bond prices rallied briskly. A barrage of unfavorable reports concerning steel production, freight carloadings and auto sales battered the stock market, and the misfiring of the Navy's Vanguard satellite on Friday didn't help. Even so, the market kept its loss to a minimum.

Sales of 1958 automobiles developed mixed trends this week. Chevrolet dealers said business good; retailers of other big volume makes were less enthusiastic. Ward's automotive reports said disappointing sales have prompted many manufacturers to cut their December production schedules. Total U.S. passenger car production this month will be about 6¾ per cent lower than originally planned.

Steel production ebbed to 72 per cent of capacity this week. Indicated output of 1,843,000 tons was the lowest for any strike-free week in three years. Freight carloadings for the four weeks ended Nov. 30 were down nearly 15 per cent from a year ago. Soft coal production for the latest week was 26 per cent below 1956 levels.

Sales of manufacturing companies in October totaled $29,400,000,000, down three per cent from a year ago, and failed to show the normal seasonal increase. Manufacturers' inventories at the end of the month were valued at 53½ billions, compared with 51½ billions at the same time last year.

Hopes for tax relief next year were dashed by congressional leaders. Individual income taxes are expected to stay at present rates. The 52 per cent rate on corporate earnings is expected to be continued beyond the June 30 expiration date, along with present federal excise taxes on liquor, cigarettes and autos.

Moscow Says Rocket Fell In West U. S.

LONDON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Moscow radio said tonight fragments of the carrier rocket of Sputnik I "fell in the territory of Alaska and the West Coast of America" Sunday.

The radio, as late as Thursday, had been insisting the rocket still was aloft. But now it followed up Nikita Khrushchev's accusation yesterday that a fragment of the rocket hit the United States and that the Americans refused to give it back.

The Moscow broadcast said scientific observations made it possible to establish that the rocket began to come down into the earth's denser atmosphere Saturday.

"Particularly intense descent took place on Dec. 1 along a path running through the area of the town of Irkutsk, the (Siberian) Chukotka Peninsula, and Alaska, and further along the West Coast of America," the broadcast continued.

The U. S. Army at Fairbanks, Alaska, reported a fragment of the rocket was believed to have fallen Sunday 100 miles south of Fairbanks. But nothing was reported found. Washington officials said they have no evidence the fragment hit the United States.

Moscow radio said observations showed the rocket covered 24,230,000 miles from the time it first shot into space Oct. 4 until it blazed out Sunday.

The Smithsonian Astrophyisca' Observatory at Cambridge, Mass. reported its observations indicated the rocket plunged to its death Saturday night, possibly in the South Pacific.

Tidelands Add To Reserves

HOUSTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Tidelands drilling off Louisiana promises a vast expansion of oil reserves, consulting geologist Ralph Davis said yesterday.

He estimated 325 million barrels of oil and three trillion cubic feet of natural gas are being added to known reserves each year at the present rate of drilling.

Davis made the estimates at an institute on the offshore operations sponsored by the University of Texas School of Law.

"If this (Louisiana) offshore discovery rate continues the next 25 years," he said, "the resulting additions to the proved reserves would be 75 trillion feet of gas and 8,125 million barrels of liquid hydrocarbons.

"Adding the estimated known reserves as of Jan. 1, 1956, and past production to the estimated future additions to reserves, results in an estimated ultimate production of 87 trillion cubic feet of gas and 9,125 million barrels of liquid hydrocarbons."

Poulk Youth's Rites Held

Graveside services were held here yesterday afternoon for Charles Lee Poulk, 4, who died from injuries suffered in a Lubbock accident Thursday.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Poulk of Lubbock, formerly of Snyder.

Young Poulk was swinging on the back of a city-operated road grander which was grading the street in front of the Poulk home. When the grader stopped to back, the boy fell, and the grader ran over him before he could move out of the way. He was dead on arrival at Methodist Hospital.

Glen Pace, minister of the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ, officiated at services at Hillside Memorial Gardens. Burial was under direction of Bell Funeral.

Survivors inculde the partents, two brothers, Larry Poulk and Carroll Poulk, both of Lubbock; one sister, Beckie, of Lubbock; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Poulk of Roby; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Turner of Ira; and maternal grandfather, Charlie Miller of Ranger.

A 15-day jail sentence was given in county court yesterday to J. C. Mills.

Mills pleaded guilty to a charge of swindle by worthless check, filed yesterday.

Harilyn Ward Hurt In ACC Lab Mishap

Harilyn Ward, 19-year-old junior at Abilene Christian College from Snyder, is now back in school after suffering serious injury to one hand in a laboratory accident at the school.

Miss Ward is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Ward, 2103 Thirty-seventh Street.

The accident occurred when she twisted a piece of glass in her hand while in laboratory work at the school. She suffered five cut tendons and a cut nerve in her left hand. Her father said this weekend it will be from six to eight weeks before she can use the hand.

Miss Ward is majoring in chemistry at ACC.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 8, NO. 190 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1957 SECTION B

GETTING READY—Helping their mother to get things checked and ready for the Christmas tree are Jimmy Joe, 2½ years, and Sharon, 4½ years. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Martin, 3702 Muriel Drive. Like any little boy, Jimmy prefered the checking of the tree lights, while Sharon holds her cane she has kept since last year.

ATTRACTIVE TREE—One of the most attractive trees will be seen at the Olen Griffith residence, 2309 Sunset Avenue this year. As you can see Mrs. Griffith is shown with daughter Patty, 3, with just a few of the lovely ornaments she has made especially for a little girls Christmas tree. They include prickly balls in an array of colors, ballerina dolls, and shiny porcupine balls are just a few of the things that were being made when the picture was taken.

Preparing For Santa's Visit

Photo's By Lee Watson

CHOOSING GIFTS—Mrs. Homer Godair, 3701 Muriel Drive is shown with her son Greg, 2, who is telling mother what he would like Santa to bring him. Jenifer 6, is commenting on brothers train, but we feel sure she is waiting to tell mother about the beautiful dolls on another page of the book.

NEW PRESIDENT—Steve Melton, president of the Snyder High School Student Council, is shown conversing with Mrs. Dale Clemmer, newly elected High School Parent-Teachers Association president. Mrs. Clemmer is explaining the details of the membership drive now in progress for the advisories at the high school. The student turning in the largest number of new members will be awarded a $3 prize. The drive ends Tuesday, Dec. 10. (Katherine Northcutt photo)

Hermleigh P-TA Holds Meeting

HERMLEIGH (Spl) — The Hermleigh Parent-Teachers Association met in regular session Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. R. C. Young calling the meeting to order. The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Frank Nachlinger and a treasury report was given by Mrs. O. C. Darden.

A report was given by the president, on the State P-TA meeting she attended in Galveston.

A Christmas program was presented by Mrs. Ruby Neel's fifth grade class. Mrs. Mildred Simmons led the Christmas carols.

Suburban Study Club Hears Rev. Donald Hungerford

The Suburban Study Club met Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with Mrs. Mack Peacock as hostess.

Mrs. Bruce Denney presented the Rev. Donald Hungerford, vicar of St. John's Episcopal Church, who spoke to the club on "Religion In Our World."

He asked, "Are we having genuine revival in our times? The fact that people are attending church in larger numbers, giving of their time and talents, is indication of a real revival. Let us look back at the growth of the Sunday-schools and churches and ask 'Why are people turning to the churches? Is it fear of hydrogen bombs or ballistic missals? It is a result of men's dissillusionment. Since all of our scientific knowledge has failed to lift men out of a deprived state. We have guaranteed income and social security, but they do not satisfy. It is not a seeking for a sense of security for the inward man; a spiritual security indicated in this revival."

Rev. Hungerford suggested some ways that churches of various denominations might cooperate; such as speaking out on moral issues, and working together on some community interests?

"Not only are we experiencing a revival in America, but in other countries. In Germany there is noted a great revivalization in religious affairs. Also in Japan, church membership is growing, and since people have been let into Red China, they have found that the churches are flourishing there, even though they are limited to a degree in what they may do."

The speaker quoted one English writer in saying, "Communism will succeed only to the extant that our churches fail." "One hindrance to the acceptance of christianty in foreign lands, since they have been taught by our missionaries to read, are they can pick up a newspaper and read about our shortcomings at home, and that as a nation we fail to completely live up to our Lord's command 'Thou Shalt love they neighbor as thyself.' We must set our own house in order, and step up our missionary efforts to win others to Christ."

The club voted to send $10 to CARE, and also to pack a box of Christmas gifts for patients at the State Hospital in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Bob Foster was also a guest of the club.

AAUW Holds Festive Dinner Friday Night

The American Association of University Women held its annual Christmas dinner at the Martha Ann Woman's Club, Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

The regular business meeting was postponed until the January 9, 1958 meeting. A musical program was presented by Roger Gee, music teacher at the Central Elementary School.

Mr. Gee, accompanied by Miss Betty Stewart, music teacher at West Elementary School, included the following selections in his repertoire: "Through A Long And Sleepless Night," "Make Believe," "Shrimp Boy," and "White Christmas."

Mrs. Glen Holladay was in charge of the program and Mrs. Ruby Lee was the hostess. Guests included Mrs. W. P. King Sr. and Mr. Carter Parkes.

New members not mentioned Here-to-fore are Mrs. J. D. Traugett and Miss Nadine Weiner.

Hermleigh FHA Holds Meeting

The Hermleigh FHA meeting was called to order on Dec. 2 by the president, Sandra Darden.

The girls were asked to each bring two Christmas cards to be sent to the State TB and Mental Hospitals.

Beverly Thomason and Virginia Williams presented each girl with literature and explained the point system which the H.E. No. 2 girls have organized, and to choose two girls to attend the state meeting next spring. It was voted that this plan be adopted. A committee was elected to complete and carry out the point system. The committee will be composed of Mariann Reeves, committee chairman, Mary Ellen Grossman, Judy Spikes and Sandra Darden.

Attentive homemakers concerned about the need that the oldsters in the family have for a mid-afternoon energy-lift serve them each a glass of milk sweetened with liquid Honey. It's refreshing and nourishing.

FOR GOOD EATING

Orange juice and rind give just the right piquancy to the rich filling of double-crust Apricot-Nut Pie You'll find other fruit-filled pies to tempt your autumn taste when you shop at your favorite commercial bakery:

APRICOT-NUT PIE

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
2-3 cup shortening
3 to 5 tablespoons cold water

Apricot-Nut Filling

3 cups mashed cooked apricots
½ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
2-3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons water
½ cup shopped pecans

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on floured board or pastry cloth and press dough together. Cover or wrap in waxed paper while preparing Apricot-Nut Filling. Combine apricots, orange juice, orange rind, sugar and almond extract in saucepan. Heat. Mix cornstarch and water. Stir into apricot mixture and cook about 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Cool. Add pecans. Divide pastry into halves. Roll one half to circle 1-8 inch thick and fit into 9-inch pie pan. Roll remaining half of dough for top crust. Turn filling into bottom crust. Arrange top crust over filling. Trim and flute edge. Prick or slash pastry top to allow steam to escape. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 9-inch pie.

BRIDAL TEA HONORS MISS GILLEAN—A bridal gift tea was held from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jack Wright, 2907 Thirty-sixth Street, in honor of Miss Mickey Gillean, bride-elect of David Willis, Commanche. Pictured above from left are: Mrs. Carl Wharton, Mrs. Rex Robinson, Mrs. John Roberts, Mrs. Bob Littlefield, four of the hostesses who will also be bridal attendants in the Dec. 28 wedding in the Colonial Hill Baptist Church, Miss Gillean, Mrs. B. HOLIDAY HINTS

Big roasts that cook slowly on a wintry day make a homecoming for a hungry family especially happy. While you shop, miles away from home, the built-in meat thermometer on the range will act as a sentinel for you. The minute the roast reaches the desired temperature, the flame is turned off. It does the most accurate job of timing because the variables of size, shape, amount of fat and bone are eliminated. Roasts shrink less and retain more juice when cooked at low temperature and carefully timed.

* * *

Reduce work. Deviate from routine. Create fun. Margaret Spader, a home service editor, suggests these ways to take advantage of the blessings of the Holiday Season. Serve a "fork and finger" supper on a good TV night. Disposable plates and cups are time and work savers and should be used for occasional meals. On week-ends, serve two sit-down meals instead of three. A tray of snack foods, with napkins and plates handy, will permit members of the family to eat while working on a favorite project or relaxing elsewhere in the house.

* * *

Empty a large can of evaporated milk into a saucepan and turn the thermostat-controlled burner to 250 degrees. Add ½ teaspoon of salt and 2 cups of grated cheddar cheese. Stir quickly, until cheese is melted, then turn off the heat. You can't miss — no danger of overcooking or stringiness when the heat is under control. To make it even more tasty, season with a bit of Worcestershire sauce, cayenne or mustard. Let the use determine the seasoning.

* * *

Unflavored gelatin no longer needs to be softened in cold water if more than 1 tablespoon of sugar is used in the recipe. All you have to do is mix the gelatine and sugar in a saucepan, add liquid and stir over low heat until it dissolves.

Try marinating those chunks of beef or lamb for broiling on skewers in a mixture of red wine vinegar, olive oil and plenty of fresh dill.

GIFT WRAPPED FREE!

OWENS SHOE DEPT.

Choose Gift Wrappings That Lend Distinction To Gifts

The nicest gifts at Christmastime are those which give pleasure to the giver as well as to the receiver.

The gift itself, of course, is chosen to fit the one to whom it's going. But it is in gift wrappings that many persons take the greatest pride in showing their creative ability.

In recent holiday seasons the aim for originality in gift wrappings ofentimes has created a friendly spirit of competitiveness among gift-givers. And from this, many distinctive and beautiful wrappings have been created.

Surprisingly enough, some of the finest materials to use may not immediately be thought of as gift wrappings. The popularity of foil as a wrapper is a notable example.

Another of the newer products is colorful shelf and drawer lining materials which also permit great novelty and self-expression. The decorative covering material known as Marvalon is particularly easy to work with because it is strong, pliable and water-resistant.

It fits smoothly on any shape box and, once in place, won't shift or slip. Moreover, Marvalon comes in a variety of solid colors including the traditional Christmas favorites.

To give Yuletide gifts a well-groomed look, however, depends upon a few basic wrapping techniques.

For example, to wrap a large rectangularly shaped box, simply cut the wrapping material large enough so that it will fold around the length of the box with a 2-inch overlap. Cut other ends about one inch longer than half the depth of the box.

Center your package, upside down, on the wrapping. Fold long ends tightly and smoothly around package. Seal overlap with stickers.

Next fold upper part of short end of wrapping securely against box and miter the corners. Fold lower flap up and seal with stickers. Repeat on opposite end.

National 4-H Club Congress Meeting Held In Chicago

CHICAGO, ILL. — Young homemakers of tomorrow will live in a world of gadgets and convenience that defies today's imagination. But conveniences and gadgets never will take over mother's role as planner, comforter, nursemaid and companion to her family.

That was the essence of the talk by Adelaide Hawley (television's "Betty Crocker") to state and national winners of the 4-H Food Preparation Award Program sponsored by General Mills. The group gathered at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago as a highlight of the 36th annual National 4-H Club Congress.

"In the increasingly complex world of the future which piles world responsibility on top of women's traditional work," she said, "the 4-H pledge stands out as the key to homemaking success. It points out these really important needs:

"Every quarter grain of knowledge your HEAD can absorb and keep on absorbing all the days of your life; A strong, HEALTHY body to keep you going efficiently through all your activities; HANDS trained to obey your brain, and a HEART full of faith to sustain you at times when everything seems to fall apart. You will also need imagination to utilize your knowledge and intelligence to help you reach for what is best in life. A passing grade, the average, 'good enough to get by' is not good enough any more."

Taking "A Glimpse Into the Future," television's "Betty Crocker" told her audience about irradiated foods which have indefinite shelf life, push-button food preparation, solar cooking and heating systems and other household electronic marvels.

"Your kitchen might have a monitor television screen through which you can check on the baby or see who's at the front door. A vacuum cleaner will scurry by itself out of its corner and gobble up dust. You might have a serving cart that creeps in from the kitchen with dessert, then returns to the dishwasher bearing soiled dishes. Your clothes will be washed automatically every time the hamper collects an eight-pound load. And, we might even have dry cleaning stations like those minute car-wash places. Walk into a compartment and dirt is removed ultra-sonically from your clothes — even from you! Room colors can be changed by flipping a button which controls illuminated wall panels. And there will be many, many more such innovations. You for example, may be earning a living or contributing to family income by working for industries which today do not exist."

Sputniks shared the emphasis. They were described as "something we can be grateful for. Not only have they brought the exhilarating, expansive world of the space cadets closer, they have made us all think. Your whole world is going to be influenced by, threatened by and protected by science. It will be up to us to keep ahead of the gadgets and keep up with the economy which produced them.

"But no matter how many gadgets science produces, there never will be hot and cold running nursemaids. Someone will always have to bandage junior's knee and sooth his hurt feelings. Someone will have to plan good-tasting meals 365 days a year, buy the food and put it away in the dispensers so that when a button is pushed, something happens. Someone will still have to hear prayers and remember birthdays, discuss family affairs and finances with dad and play gracious hostess even when the feet hurt and the heart is aching. Someone will have to explain tolerance and brotherhood to little Susie. The somebody who does all these things with love and patience, nine times out of 10 will be you."

Mr. And Mrs. A. A. Crumley To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

An open house will be held from 2 to 5 o'clock Sunday Dec. 15 marking the Golden Wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Crumley, 2209 Avenue O.

All the couple's five children and most all of their 10 grandchildren plan to be present to help the Crumleys celebrate.

Married in High, Tex., Lamar County, on Dec. 15, 1907, by the Rev. J. A. Wyatt, the couple came to Scurry County in 1908 and have made their home here all the time since, with the exception of four years which they lived in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Crumley is the former Miss Della Fargason. The couple was married in her home at High, Tex.

Their children who plan to be here for the occassion are Mrs. C. T. Simmons, Lloyd Mountain Community, Horace Crumley, San Marcos, Mrs. Bob Alexander, San Angelo, Fred Crumley, San Antonio and Jerry Crumley, Texarkana.

Mr. and Mrs. Crumley invite all their many friends in this area and over the state to call on them during the open house.

Dress-Up Plants For Holidays

Let your containers for indoor plants go fancy for the holidays by making colorful jackets for them.

With some of the handy covering materials that are available today, it's possible to create a gala setting for greenery in only a few minutes. One covering that is particularly suitable is known as Marvalon adhesive veneer. It is a plactic-coated latex-fiber material which is both water and tear-resistant.

Because the material is pliable its application on any smooth surface is simple. Just cut the material in the size pieces required, peel off the protective backing and firmly press the adhesive veneer to the surface. Water or dirt stains, which are inevitable with potted plants, can quickly be wiped off with a damp cloth.

Adhesive veneer, like its companion coverings, Marvalon shelf and draser linings, is offered in numerous patterns and colors. You will find it in appropriate holiday colors such as solid bright red or one of the new metallic shades such as copper, burnished aluminum and antique gold. Most hardware and houseware stores carry it as well as housewares sections in department stores.

Dallas Judge In Running For Post

DALLAS, Dec. 7 (AP)—Dallas County Judge Lew Sterrett said yesterday he had been approached about possible appointment as state land commissioner if Commissioner Earl Rudder should resign.

Rudder has been mentioned as having been tapped for a high post at Texas A&M.

Sterrett said Gov. Price Daniel "asked me if I was interested and I told him I was happy in my present job. But I also said I would look carefully into any offer made to me."

CREAMED ONIONS AND CELERY WITH BLUE CHEESE

Ingredients: ¼ cup butter or margarine, 4 medium-sized onions (thinly sliced), 1 cup thinly sliced celery crescents, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, salt, white pepper, 3 ounces (½ cup) crumbled blue cheese.

Method: Melt butter over low heat in medium-sized saucepan; add onions and celery; cook gently, stirring often, until vegetables are partly tender but not browned. (Saucepan may be covered for quick cooking.) Stir in flour thoroughly. Add milk all at once; cook and stir constantly until sauce thickens and bubbles. Add salt and pepper to taste. Turn into buttered casserole (1½ quarts) sprinkle with cheese. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until lightly browned — about 20 minutes.

SUPER ORANGE SALAD

Ingredients: 1 quart torn mixed salad greens, 2 large oranges cut into membrane-free sections, 1 cup thin diagonal celery crescents, 1 green pepper (cut into thin strips), ¼ cup thin strips cheddar cheese, ¼ cup coarsely broken walnut meats, 4 slices cripsly cooked drained bacon, olive oil, white wine viengar, prepared Dijon mustard, salt, pepper.

Method: Arrange the salad greens, orange pieces, celery crescents, green pepper strips and cheddar cheese in a salad bowl; cover tightly and refrigerate. At serving time sprinkle with walnuts and crumbled bacon; toss with a dressing made from oil, vinegar, mustard, salt and pepper, using proportions preferred. (Classic proportions are 3 tablespoons of oil to 1 tablespoon of vinegar.) Makes 6 servings.

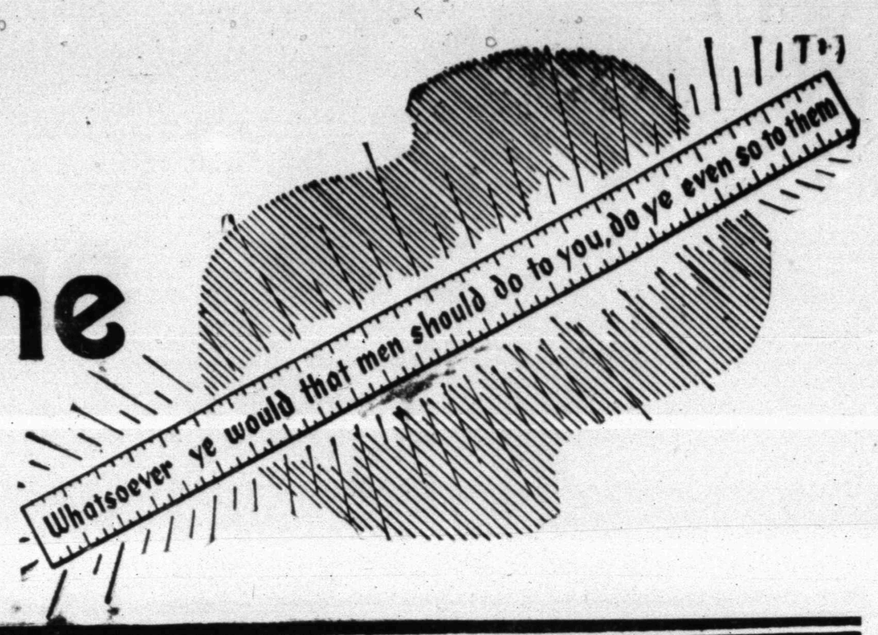
Buying at Home

is much like The Golden Rule



COPYRIGHT 1956 D. E. SCOTT

Everybody Recommends It for Everybody Else

But . . . the sad fact that some folks who preach buying at home don't practice it much, doesn't keep it from being a wise habit. There always will be people who regularly stand in their own light, even when they know better.

Unlike The Golden Rule, the principle of buying at home has few moral aspects. It's just a matter of good hard dollars and cents, and fuller living.

Because somebody else does . . . or doesn't . . . is no good reason to give away what is ours.

Yet that is just what we're doing when we spend our money off somewhere else, with the excuse that our neighbors are doing it.

Let's quit watching them, and examine our own habits, reminding ourselves selfishly that of each dollar we spend, nearly one-third goes to pay for community progress and upkeep.

But it's no soup in our pot, no schools for our kids, no churches for our souls, nor increment for our property, if it is some other community.

It Pays to Buy where You Live

Laurel Through Acting

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Stan Laurel, surviving member of the great comedy team of Laurel and Hardy, said today that he will never act again.

The wry-faced comic, now 67, made the comment at his apartment on the beach at Malibu where he talked freely about his own health, his long partnership with "Babe" Hardy, the state of comedy today and other matters. He showed the effects of a stroke that incapacitated him two years ago, but his face occasionally lighted up with his famous, wide-angle grin.

"The doctors called it a slight stroke," he related, "but I don't see how any stroke can be slight. Even if you get back to normal physically, you're mentally demoralized. I'm afraid even to go down on the beach, for fear I'll fall.

"I'll never be able to go back to work. I just don't have the strength for it."

The stroke paralyzed his side—"the left, fortunately" — but he now is able to walk.

But he limits his activities to occasional shopping trips to Santa Monica. The rest of the time he spends writing letters to friends and fans ("We still get mail; lately a lot has come from Ghana"), watching TV ("I can only get the three San Diego stations and some nights I get nothing) and seeing a few old friends ("Not many come any more — I guess because I can't give them jobs any more").

Babe died last August, his once-rotund body wasted away after a stroke that kept him immobile for almost a year. His passing was a blessing for Babe, Stan said, but it was still a blow to the remaining member of the team.

"It's a strange thing," Stan reflected, "but we really only got to know each other in the last years of his life. When we were making pictures together, we never saw each other off the set. . .

"After we were out of pictures, we did a lot of touring in Europe together, and that's when we got to know each other intimately."

The general state of comedy now is poor, he sighed, because comics are burning themselves out from overexposure. "You can't pour out comedy every week," he said. "You've got to prepare."

AMUSEMENT

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Sun., Dec. 8, 1957 — 7B

Some Could Learn Manners From Teen

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 7 (AP)—Jeff Chandler, admittedly peeved, says some adult movie fans could learn good manners from the teenagers.

Back from a tour, Chandler reports some unpleasant experiences.

"In all fairness," he says, "the offenders are only a minority but they can make it rough on a star —and on the movie patrons who have good manners."

Jeff found in Pittsburgh he couldn't finish a meal.

"A friend of mine finally took me out to a little restaurant at 2 o'clock in the morning for some ham and eggs. He promised me that the place was so dark that no one would even recognize me, let alone bother me.

"I didn't get the first biteful to my mouth until some woman dragged her boy friend over to my table and kept repeating: 'Hey, Jeff, doesn't this guy look like Ralph Bellamy?'

"I couldn't get rid of her even after I said the guy looked like Ralph Bellamy. And I couldn't finish my ham and eggs."

In Cleveland in another restaurant a fellow in a phone booth grabbed him, shoved the receiver to his ear and said: "Hey, Jeff, say hello to my girl friend."

Chandler said hello.

"I had to," he says, "I was stuck. Then this guy says, 'I hope she doesn't tell her husband how she got to talk to Jeff Chandler.' "

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Eddie Fisher, after becoming wealthy as a singer, is now taking singing lessons. He has the same tutor as Mario Lanza.

The reason: He's singing such longhair stuff as "Tosca."

"For 'Dungaree Doll' you don't need lessons. 'Tosca' you do," explains Fisher.

READY FOR FALL TOUR—The McMurry College Band from Abilene will launch its annual fall tour Sunday, beginning with an appearance in Abernathy. Following a performance there Sunday night in the First Methodist Church and another Monday in the High School, the Tribe bandsmen also will appear in Levelland, and Plains High Schools on Monday. Tuesday's schedule calls for appearance in O'Donnell and Lamesa, followed by a final performance Wednesday in Snyder.

McMurry Band Tour To Include Concert Here

ABILENE (Spl) — The 52-piece McMurry College Band, under the direction of Raymond Bynum, will begin its annual fall tour through West Central Texas and the South Plains Sunday.

With their first appearance scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the First Methodist Church in Abernathy, the McMurry bandsmen also have listed performances in the Abernathy High School Monday, plus a Monday engagement in the Levelland High School.

Bynum will put his group through their final performance of the day at 8 p.m. Monday in Plains High School.

A Tuesday appearance in Seminole High School will be followed by a date in O'Donnell High School. Lamesa High School will be host for the final concert for Tuesday.

The Indian bandsmen will return to Abilene following their finale in the Snyder High School building at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Special presentations in the Sunday night performance in the First Methodist Church in Abernathy will include Don Davis, senior from Santa Anna, on the trombone and Don Dennis, senior from Carlsbad, N.M., on the cornet.

Dorothy King, Throckmorton senior, will be featured in a solo hymn, "The Lord's Prayer."

A mixed quartet will include Ernestine Hoffman, Shamrock junior; Sharon Hoke, freshman; Homer Payne, Merkel sophomore, and Don Cook, Pampa senior.

Featured in the school program will be a variety of specialty tunes, and trombone quartets.

A piccolo duet will include Ann Bynum, Abilene junior, and Karen Crooks, Snyder freshman.

Included in the trombone quartet are Don Davis, Reggie Powell, Abernathy junior; Caleb Hildebrand, junior from Abilene, and Jerre Bardin, Abilene freshman.

Lyneve Chapman, Abilene freshman; Dorothy King, John Bailey, junior from Carlsbad, N.M., and J. Weldon Moore, sophomore from May, will be heard in the saxophone quartet.

The first ship-to-shore radio telephone conversation took place in 1917 between the captian of the battleship New Hampshire, off Hampton Roads, Va., and the Secretary of the Navy in Washington.

THE MURDER of Mickey Shaughnessy, center, triggers a waterfront outbreak in "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue," an expose of New York dock warfare. Jan Sterling, cast as the screen wife of Shaughnessy, and Harry Bellaver rush to the side of the fatally wounded stevedore in this scene from the new film. Richard Egan, Dan Dureya, and July Adams also star in the picture.

Verdict Called Tops

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — The verdict of the judge: "Live television at its best."

The judge is Edward A. Scott, for 16 years a municipal judge in the town of Pelham, N.Y., and more recently also a presiding justice on a fascinating television program, The Verdict Is Yours (CBS-TV, weekdays).

This viewer won't appeal Judge Scott's decision on the program in which he appears, except to say it's daytime TV at its best — with the possibility of being equally good nighttime television.

The Verdict Is Yours presents simulated courtroom trials, with each case lasting over a period of several days. A general story line is blocked out. Actual practicing lawyers serve as prosecution and defense attorneys. A jury of 12 willing persons renders an actual verdict.

But the heaviest burden is borne by professional actors. This is because there is no script. The actors — in the witness chair or at the counsel table, often as defendants — match wits with the lawyers just as a defendant or witness might in court.

No one memorizes specific lines; he can only remember the broad situations of the case. The result is fine when the actors are adept ad-libbers. Fortunately, they nearly always are.

The cast call for The Verdict Is Yours is as large as for a Studio One production. The competition is keen, for the program is an excellent showcase for a talented actor.

Judge Scott was saying the other day that he is impressed by rehearsals. At the first rehearsal the story line is discussed and the actors take over. The second rehearsal usually is very unlike the first. And, finally, the actual program is usually unlike both preceding rehearsals.

By then, the attorneys may have discovered some new way to get a point across, or to trap the defendant, and the witness has to come up with an answer off the cuff, and quickly.

"I rule on actual points of law," said Judge Scott, "and I never know in advance what points will be raised. The legal talent of the lawyers is the highest. Naturally there is some dramatization on the part of the actors, but the lawyers are restrained and follow accepted courtroom procedures."

CHRISTMAS PILLOWS—Easy to make and fun to give.

New Easy Stitching Sews Up Attractive Gift List

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

WOMEN WHO SEW are discovering that automatic decorative stitching has opened up a whole new vista of gay Christmas gifts that may be made at home in a fraction of the time they used to take. All kinds of gay and colorful accessories may be turned out on a modern sewing machine, with personalized decorations to give them special meaning for everyone on your gift list.

A festive pair of Christmas pillows, for instance, would delight anybody who lives in a house — or add a holiday note to your own living room. Local sewing center experts tell you how to make them, using either a slant-needle automatic sewing machine or a standard machine with automatic zigzagger attachment.

To make two pillows you will need one piece of white felt measuring 18 by 72 inches, one piece of red felt measuring 8½ by 18 inches, a piece of yellow felt 1 by 2 inches and a piece of black felt 1½ by 6 inches. Also required is one bag of kapok to stuff both pillows.

Lay a strip of white felt flat on floor or long table. Mark two circles side by side, each measuring 16 inches in diameter. Then mark two rectangles measuring 12¾ by 18¾ inches. Use pinking shears to cut out

Use regular scissors to cut two poinsettias and a candle of the red felt, a candleholder of the black felt and a flame of the yellow felt.

To make the round pillow, first mark center of one circle. Then applique red poinsettia to center of circle, using the ball stitch design. Make a cluster of 18 yellow balls of poinsettia center, stitching through the flower and the circles of felt.

Place the two circles together. Set your machine for the solid diamond stitch or any other that you prefer. Stitch one inch in from edge of circle with red thread. Leave a 6-inch opening to stuff in the kapok. After stuffing, close circle with solid diamond stitch.

To make the rectangular pillow, applique candle to pillow top in this order: set machine for satin stitch and use red thread to outline the candle, black thread to outline the holder and yellow thread to outline the flame. Add yellow candle rays in decorative stitching.

Pin rectangles together. Select decorative stitch and stitch together, one inch from edge. Leave 6-inch opening for stuffing and close with same stitch after stuffing is completed.

This is just one suggestion from an almost endless number of possibilities for gay and original gifts that the seamstress can turn out at home.

Have Supply Of Paper Napkins For Holidays

Your table should set off the exciting holiday meal you've planned, so by all means use your most colorful china and appropriate accessories.

The arrangement needn't be costly — and old cloth dyed red and a grouping of rainbow-hued ornaments will lend festivity enough to the Christmas dinner.

This is one gala, informal occasion when it pays to be practical too. And the wise homemaker would do well to furnish a good supply of paper napkins, so that youngsters and even adults can pick up a juicy wing or leg of turkey in their fingers. Because they are of a good size, and more absorbent, the new table napkins available solve the greasy finger problem beautifully. They can be thrown away too, of course, which saves a lot of laundry work later on.

Have you shoes in your closet that don't fit you properly? It's far cheaper to get rid of them than it is to try to wear them and thus ruin your feet.

The satin shirt is back in favor in both white and pastels. Comes with three-quarter cuffed sleeves, French cuffs and fake jeweled cuff links.

Woman Reaches 115

MOSCOW, Dec. 7 (AP) — Kazakhistan Pravda reports it has found a Soviet woman 115 years old — Lukerya Filipovna Pustobaeva—who worked on a state farm until five years ago without ever having been ill or treated by a doctor. Now slightly deaf but otherwise sound, an interviewer reported, she retired to help her 85-year-old daughter keep house.

Good fit is an essential part of looking will-dressed, even on a budget. So never wear a dress if it's too long or the shoulders aren't right or it's too tight through the hips. Alterations take time, patience and money but they're important.

Cotton knit fashions, both in sweaters and full-length dresses, are seen everywhere this winter. They're particularly popular with the young crowd.

VESPER TREE—This arrangement by Mrs. John Reaves is made from coffee cans and vesper candles in ruby glasses. It makes a striking decoration for use in the home or outside. The cans are bolted on plywood, and outside of cans are sprayed gold. Natural tin on inside of cans reflects candlelight. The bottom part of the display is made of a pumpkin and grains sprayed gold, with a large red ribbon bow. (Lee Watson photograph)

FIRST PLACE—This colorful Bible scene a ssembled from family possesions is most oppropriate for this season of the year a nd will be on display at the First Christian Church Sunday in keeping with National B ible Week. This is one of Mrs. John W. Reaves prize winning arrangements. (Le e Watson photograph)

Snyder Woman Nationally Known For Her Creative Art

By KAYE POPE

After a brief visit with Mrs. John Reaves, 2712 Thirty-sixth Street, we feel some people are just overly blessed with a creative talent. While some of us can usually follow some directions, Mrs. Reaves says she has never had any special training or even belonged to a garden club, which usually studies arranging.

Two years ago Mrs. Reaves just had an idea of fixing a cedar bough and sending it into the Household Magazine. She took the bough, emersed it in water, put it in a paper bag containing about a cup of flour and shook it, (she says just like flouring chicken for frying) let it dry and sent it in. The company was very impressed and ask her to be a scout and designer for this years Christmas edition of the magazine.

Last year she sent in 13 displays or arrangements and this year's Christmas issue contains the five first places she was awarded. She laughingly said it was really a money making deal as she was given $15 for the cedar bough she sent in and $50 each for her first place awards.

All the arrangements are made of just everyday things found around the home, "about the only money I was out for them was the ribbon I put on the dfferent arrangements" she said. The Bibie Scene was chosen the favorite of the company, and was very simple to make. A music rack was used as an easel for the Bible. One yard of 36-inch red velveteen she had was arranged around the base, the Bible was opened to the second chapter of St. Luke and fastened with a bookmark of ribbon and a few Christmas balls. The lamp is just an old kerosene lamp with Christmas balls in the base and a six-inch candle lighted inside the chimney.

Mrs. Reaves has had quite a busy week as she has been displaying her arrangements to different clubs in Snyder and went to Lubbock one day recently to decorate the First Christian Church sanctuary there.

Ordinairly Mrs. Reaves has a pretty busy schedule, besides just being a housewife, as she is secretary for her husband John W. Reaves, minister of the First Christian Church here.

Other attractive displays in the home were the entry she designed of a group of choir boys. These were assembled on pop bottles. The appealing singers have wire arms, heads cut from paper dolls, cottas and skirts from white and red muslin. So simple and yet so attractive.

One arrangment that took our eye was on the piano. She had taken the small plastic Christmas trees sold by the Kiwanis Club and gayly decorated them with odds and ends of costume jewelry. Over the trees hung white wreaths made from burned-out florescent lights, a spray of glitter and sequins, gilted baby shoes, and a few colorful Christmas balls. Besides giving festive eye appeal, the display carried sentimental value.

Mrs. Reaves told us the church was going to present the Christmas story on the church lawn for the public on Dec. 23, 24 and 25. With a person like Mrs. Reaves helping with decorations and detail arrangments, we feel this will be one of Snyder's most beautiful pageants.

Ferry service between Manhattan and Brooklyn operated from 1638 until it was discontinued in 1942.

Veterans Land Setup Needs Some Changes

AUSTIN, Dec. 7 (AP)—Land Commissioner Earl Rudder said today the veterans' land program would be dead in 1959 "unless some changes are made."

Rudder said the changes needed were a new constitutional amendment to raise the interest rate on bonds from 3 to 4 per cent, or an improvement in the tight bond market.

"The amendment should be passed anyway," Rudder said.

The 200 million dollar veterans land program has been mired by the current bond market. The board has been unable to sell any of the second 100 million dollars in bonds authorized by the people. The top interest rate allowed is 3 per cent.

Rudder, who completes three years in the land office next month and is expected to quit to take the vice presidency of Texas A&M around Feb. 1, said the first 100 million dollars will be completely spent by 1959.

"The revolving features end then and there won't be a nickel for buying land," he said.

Under the revolving fund, 1,324 veterans have purchased land since Oct. 30, 1955. The total program has seen 17,628 veterans taking part in Texas' bonus-type plan for veterans.

The same program—which is self supporting—was the background for one of Texas' major governmental scandals which broke before Rudder took office. He was appointed by former Gov. Allan Shivers in January, 1955, when Bascom Giles resigned.

Giles was indicted along with 21 others as courts in nine counties returned 377 indictments alleging more than 5 million dollars of fraudulent land sales. Giles is serving a 6 year prison term. Only five others have been tried.

T. J. McLarty of Cuero is the only other defendant in prison. Two other cases were quashed and the Court of Criminal Appeals ordered new trials for the other two.

Does Rudder think there could be a repeat in the land scandals?

"No," he said. "We set up a system with the help of the Legislature which actually gives this program local control. Everyone talks about doing away with centralized government but we have actually done it in the new program."

Rudder said his major problem when appointed was "weeding out those (employes) who couldn't be trusted and get others who could be and had the ability to do the job."

"The crux of the veterans' land program is appraisal. Our appraisers have gone to four special schools to learn better how to do it. We get some kicks from land dealers but only 37 of 1,744 contracts were not fulfilled because of unwillingness of the dealers to take our appraisals."

Rudder said the permanent school and university land programs directed by the land commissioner also have been improved.

"We upped the minimum price on rental and bonus of school lands for the mineral leases," he said. "The board had been charging $2 rental an acre and $5 bonus. We made it $3 rental an acre and $15 an acre bonus."

"If the land isn't worth a $15 an acre, we'll keep it until it is," Rudder said, explaining recent lease sales have been postponed because foreign oil imports have hurt bonus expectations.

Rudder said his record shows: In the six land sales during his term, bonuses and rentals averaged $113.84 an acre. In 31 sales since 1939 prior to Rudder taking office, the average was $31.20 an acre. The overall average is now $41.72 an acre.

Direct supervision of inspections in oil runs on school lands has brought in "a little more money because a few individuals were incorrect." Inspection of tideland drilling has paid off. Past practices of allowing inspectors to rent equipment to drilling companies have been eliminated.

During Rudder's tenure, the permanent school fund went up 34 per cent to a total $94,046,564, while the university fund increased 40 per cent to $84,717,609. The state's largest land sale, $32 million dollars of tidelands in 1953, made up part of the boost.

Swindle Schemes Are Still Possible

AUSTIN, Dec. 7 (AP)—Texas has a thick rule book on insurance operations but any big whirlwind of the industry—if his conscience dictates—can still spin a sinister swindle scheme.

"Hot oil in East Texas in the 1930s couldn't hold a candle to the racketeering possibilities in Texas insurance," a district judge remarked not so long ago.

Some big shots of state government and industry think still more laws are needed.

Others, in both government and business, think enforcement of present laws is the answer.

The industry, second to oil in feeding Texas' pocketbook, has boiled with unrest since 1953 when the first of a long series of firms skidded to disaster.

Dust still hasn't settled on a skirmish during the recent special session when the Senate tried to throw out state Insurance Commissioner William Harrison by refusing to confirm his appointment by the new three-man Insurance Board. The attorney general ruled, upon request, that the senators overreached their jurisdiction—which left Harrison holding the reins of an industry split over the question of whether he should be the board's chief executive officer.

Outside of the jurisdictional squabble, the state Insurance Department is still trying to close the gates that were opened when Texas got the reputation of having the worst insurance laws in the nation.

"They went that away," has been the frequent alarm sounded as company after company joined Texas Mutual Insurance Co., General American Casualty Co., U.S. Trust & Guaranty, and ICT Insurance Co. in bankruptcy.

"Rid the industry of its few remaining rotten apples," Gov. Price Daniel begged, when his clean-sweep vigilantes took office after a rugged legislative fight to reorganize the department.

"We simply cannot say that we still just walk about the apple tree, pluck off the few rotten apples, then throw them away and everything will be sanitary thenceforth," Insurance Board Chairman Penn Jackson said a few weeks later.

Two state insurance examiners testified before a Senate investigation committee recently that in some ways the scandal-riddled Texas insurance trade was in worst shape than ever before.

"There definitely are more bankruptcies to come," one predicted.

Can there be a repeat of the U.S. Trust and the ICT boom-and-busts?

New laws passed in 1955 lowered the boom on such twilight insurance-banking-stock selling empires as U.S. Trust.

However, another ICT could be organized today in the same manner that BenJack Cage used seven years ago. Cage is under 10 years

Clues Sought In Death Of Mrs. Condrin

CORPUS CHRISTI, Dec. 7 (AP)—Sheriff Johnnie Mitchell said today he has no leads in the death of Mrs. Grace Condrin, 47, of San Antonio, whose body was found on a mud bar in an inlet near Corpus Christi Bay yesterday.

"We searched the area where the body was found this morning and talked to people in the area but didn't turn up anything. Apparently we have gone as far as we can without an autopsy report. The pathologist said he would have a report on the cause of death by Monday, but I am going to press him for something before that time," Mitchell said.

Members of the family were questioned for some time yesterday after the body was found but Mitchell said nobody is being held.

Mrs. Condrin had been missing two weeks. She disappeared from the home of her brother, George Guddrn, shortly after she arrived here with her daughter, Cora, Nov. 23.

Her husband, a fleet test driver for Armstrong Tire and Rubber Co. of San Antonio, has been attempting to organize members of his company into a union. He said he feared anti-union people might be responsible for his wife's disappearance.

Henry Holt of San Antonio, assistant business manager for the San Antonio Teamsters local, said he believes there is no connections between the death and union activities.

Epidemic Waning

GENEVA, Dec. 7 (AP)—The World Health Organization reported this weekend the worldwide Asian flu epidemic is waning everywhere but in Japan and northern Sweden.
