Chamber Campaign Meeting Success

Guilty Verdicts in Court 2 More For DWI

A Colorado City man who was in a wreck near Lake Colorado City and an Odessa man have been found guilty of driving while intoxicated.

Mazepa Wayne Craig, who received minor injuries Tuesday morning when his 1965 Dodge sedan went into a ditch, was fined the same day in County Court.

When Craig entered a plea of nolo contendere, Judge Elmer Martin fined him $75 plus $28.50 court costs and probate his 10-day jail sentence for one year.

The defendant was arrested by State Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberger at about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday at the scene of the accident at intersection of Cherry Creek Rd. and Lake Colorado City Park Rd.

Orville C. Blackman of Odessa, appearing before District Judge Austin McCloud on a DWI charge filed last October, pleaded guilty and received an 80-day jail sentence plus a $50 fine.

Blackman, 50, with a record of police arrests dating back to 1937, originally was charged with felony subsequent offense DWI. But the charge was reduced to misdemeanor DWI when adequate court records could not be obtained from Culbertson County on the alleged earlier conviction.

The Odessa man, who had been out on bond, will be allowed credit for 22 days in jail prior to release on bond.

Charged in County Court with DWI offense last Friday is George F. Bunt, of Fort Worth. He was released on $500 bond after filing of the charge on a complaint by Sheriff W. L. Claxton.

Early reports Wednesday from "task force" teams pointed to success in the Chamber of Commerce campaign for addition membership support.

More than 16 teams moved out Tuesday in the concentrated effort and they were still up to the elbows in work late Wednesday.

The volunteer teams are contacting current Chamber members and prospective new members in the campaign.

"We are receiving a splendid response," reported Jeff Taylor, chairman of the project, "and the big majority are increasing their investment in our Chamber of Commerce program."

That's the primary aim of the drive — to obtain increased financial support to assure a vigorous, progressive program of development for the community.

Initial reports from "task force" teams indicated the first contacts in the drive resulted in additional $100 per month pledged to the Chamber's budget, according to Taylor.

This figure is expected to be increased substantially Thursday when first full reports from the teams are compiled in Chamber office. The campaign has been so extensive, according to Taylor, that each "task force" team had approximately a dozen members or prospective members to contact.

"So, the campaign may extend for another day or two although every effort was made to round it all up in two days," said Taylor. Persons who have not been contacted in the campaign — and who desire to help assure adequate support for the new and expanded Chamber — see Chamber Page 3.

Outstanding Gang Of Jaycees

of the month" award winners — Boone Layton, director; Don Banta, Civic House treasurer; O'Neal Bloom, second vice president, and Lacy Boles, secretary.

4-H Contestants Score At State

Two Mitchell County 4-H Club teams scored impressively Wednesday in the Texas 4-H Roundup of district winners on campus of Texas A&M University.

Sharon Byrne and John Hill won second in natural resources, competing against champion teams from the state's 12 districts.

Against similar winners in community improvement, Christy Stubblefield and Steve Hill earned fifth place.

The two teams became eligible to compete in the state competition — one of the nation's oldest statewide 4-H events — by winning championships in District 2 elimination contests May 6 in Lubbock.

On the A&M campus in College Station Wednesday they were among 850 boys and girls from every section of the state who had advanced through district competition.

Sharon and John, who graduated this spring from Lorraine and Colorado High respectively, presented a demonstration for increasing farm-ranch income through wildlife management.

They showed how Mitchell County farmers and ranchers could increase their income through game and fish projects. In their demonstration were charts showing records of 11 Mitchell County operators who took in $14,000 in 1964 in hunting permits and that income from this game development had increased by thousands of dollars in the last two years.

Miss Byrne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Byrne, Lorraine's Route 2, and Hill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hill, China Grove community.

Steve, a brother of John, and Christy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Stubblefield, are students at Colorado High.

Their fifth place demonstration emphasized how community improvement is achieved in a contest sponsored by Texas Extension Service and Electric Power Companies. Their demonstration pointed to objectives of the improvement program which made farm-ranch life more profitable, more enjoyable and lessened the move of rural families to cities.

Accompanying the two Mitchell teams to College Station were County Agent Bobby Lemons and Mrs. Bruce Byrne.

The delegation began their return trip home Wednesday afternoon.

PROPOSED HERE

Traffic Class For Illiterates

State Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberger is wanting to assist persons who cannot read and write to qualify for driver license.

He says there are a large number of adults within the county who drive or need to drive, but have not qualified for license because they cannot write English.

"If enough of these persons show an interest," Hertenberger said, "we can organize instruction for them in an effort to prepare them for a special oral driver license test instead of the usual written exam."

The highway patrolman said special classes like this for persons who cannot read or write English have been successful in several areas and might be valuable here for Mitchell County.

This type of instruction would not be to teach reading and writing, but would be for assisting persons in understanding requirement of our laws, and to instruct them orally in traffic markings and traffic safety, so they might qualify for license.

The instruction, of course, would not guarantee participants they would pass the special oral license exam. It would be planned to help them.

Hertenberger said there are whites, Negroes and Mexicans within the community who need the special instruction.

If these persons can be assisted to qualify for proper licensing, they will be of more value to their families and their employees, the patrolman said.

In addition, it would ease the problem which the community faces with unlicensed drivers.

Hertenberger urged persons who are interested in special instruction — or who have employees who would like to participate in the school — to contact either the state highway patrolman (his office is in the Court-house) sheriff's office or police station.

If the response is adequate, then Hertenberger plans to organize the school with instructors who speak both English and Spanish.

Mrs. Allen's Rites Held

Funeral for Mrs. Ora Allen, 85, was conducted in a Snyder chapel at 4 p.m. Monday with Rev. Don Linn, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Colorado City, and Rev. Shelby Jones, Baptist pastor at Dunn, officiating.

Mrs. Allen, native of West Virginia, died Sunday morning. She is survived by two sons, L. A. Scott of Dunn and Claude Scott of Texarkana; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Lee Gray of Ft. Worth; two stepsons, Roy Allen and Leonard Allen, of China Grove; three stepdaughters, Mrs. Floyd W. Merket and Mrs. Joe Hairston, both of China Grove, and Mrs. Bob Bryant of Snyder; seven grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren; two sisters and one brother.

Burial was in the cemetery at Dunn, directed by Bell-Scate Funeral Home at Snyder.

Dickson Looks Back On Busy, Hectic Session

Legislator's Appraisal

State Rep. Temple Dickson, getting his first deep breath after his busiest session in the Texas Legislature, is pretty well pleased with the work of the 60th Legislature.

The Sweetwater attorney admits he feels "a little badly" about not solving the major issue of finding additional revenue.

"Generally speaking, though," Dickson told The Record, "I feel this Legislature was a hard working and capable one."

Dickson believes the 60th Legislature, which adjourned May 29 at 11:50 p.m. with 10 minutes to spare in the 140 allotted days of its regular session, did meet its most pressing challenges.

This was accomplished, he said, by "substantially raising the salaries of our sorely underpaid state employees," by granting a teacher pay raise schedule "which brings us more closely to that of other states," passing the one year appropriation bill, reapportioning the state's legislative and congressional districts to meet U. S. Supreme Court rulings, by revision of the State Criminal Code and by enactment of a "strict highway safety bill."

"We also passed the state's first industrial safety bill," Dickson observed.

Joe Shannon Jr. of Tarrant County and I were the authors of the Criminal Code revision," he continued, "and I believe we were able to write a law that largely meets the legitimate complaints of law enforcement people."

The legislator for Mitchell, Nolan and Howard Counties authored 13 additional bills — nine of which already have become law or will become law by Sept. 1.

Among these bills, of course, was one authorizing creation of Colorado City Hospital District (if approved by local voters) and Howard County Airport District.

"I actually passed 10 bills through the House," Dickson reports a bit regretful, "but one was killed in the Senate."

The bill knocked out in the Senate would have made governmental units such as the state and cities responsible for injuries carelessly caused by their vehicles.

"This bill was one of the major battles of the session," he said, "and it took a major portion of my time."

Dickson, who has served on special legislative study groups for water pollution, is proud also of passing a bill which he claims will help in West Texas' attempt to curb the salt pollution of its fresh waters.

"This bill makes it unlawful and provides for stiff penalties for unauthorized disposal of salt water and other oil field waste on our roads and private property."

Dickson said the problems of legislation are becoming more complex as the state grows bigger and becomes more industrialized. As an example he cited the 2500 bills and resolutions introduced in the Legislature this session.

Farmer-Business Breakfast

Event to Feature Cotton Research

Another farmer-business breakfast program is scheduled Wednesday, June 14, in Civic House.

Sponsored by Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee, the event will feature a report by Kent Bennett, field representative for National Cotton Council.

W. A. FINDLEY, committee chairman, announced the breakfast program sponsored at $1.50 per person, beginning at 7 a.m. and concluding at 8 a.m. in time for those attending to start their work schedules as usual.

This will be the second breakfast program sponsored by the busy Chamber committee this year. The first in April attracted 72 interested persons for a report by Carl Cox of Vernon member of Texas Cotton Economic Research Committee of Dallas.

BENNETT, WHO will speak next Wednesday, will discuss the progress in research and promotion sponsored by National Cotton Council and the Cotton Producers Institute.

The Cotton Producers Institute, already being referred to as the CPI, is a newly organized agency for developing and conducting an expanded market development and research program. Cotton as authorized under the Cotton Research and Promotion Order.

IT IS IMPLEMENTING the plan approved by cotton growers in a referendum last December providing for uniform assessment of $1 per bale for research and promotion.

Mitchell County cotton growers heavily favored the $1 bale plan in the voting.

"ATTENDANCE AT our first informational breakfast program in April was fine," Findley said, "and we are hopeful an even larger turnout will hear Mr. Bennett's report."

"Our committee believes his report is of particular interest to the agricultural and business interests of Mitchell County — and thus, of prime interest to all of us."

"We certainly invite and urge all business men and farmers to attend."

JUNE 20 AT ASC

Key Date in Drouth Plans

June 20 is a key date for Mitchell County cotton producers, according to Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Service office.

The date figures into the cotton producer's opportunity to earn price support and diverted acre payments even though unable to plant because of drouth and for obtaining planted acreage credit for cotton when replanting to another crop.

Growers unable to plant cotton by June 20 and who are not going to plant any cotton after June 20 can apply for adjustment on acreage due to natural disaster. "At that time the producer must designate eligible land he would have used for cotton production," emphasized Eddie R. Braswell, ASCS office manager.

"Producers who wish to receive planted acreage credit for cotton acreage which is to be replanted to another crop," Braswell continued, must file a written request for acreage credit and receive approval of the ASCS County Committee before the acreage is replanted . . . and producers would be expected to replant cotton (according to conditions) until June 20."

Special consideration for drouth conditions is provided in 1965 Food & Agricultural Act. Acreage on a farm — which because of drouth, is not planted to cotton, feed grain or wheat — can be considered planted for payment purposes under price support and diverted acre payments if such acreage is not later devoted to crops for which there are marketing quotas or voluntary adjustment program.

Braswell emphasized that the ASCS committee doesn't know, at the present time, to what extent the special drouth programs affect farm yield data. However, ASCS personnel are ready to discuss the problem with individual producers.

session with about 800 being enacted into law.

"They ranged," he smiled, "from proposed laws to protect the horned toad and terrapin to revision of Texas regulatory provisions of stock exchanges."

"I personally found my work load increased tremendously," and for a time I was receiving 50 to 60 letters a day relating to pari-mutuel betting and liquor by the drink.

"Answering all this and keeping up with the Legislature with one secretary made things a little difficult."

Dickson said he was able to obtain a one-year appropriation of $10,000 for the Big Spring State Park and expressed opinion that Howard County Junior College and Big Spring State Hospital received fair treatment in the appropriations bill.

The legislator made it plain, too, that he was an adversary to proposed legislation.

"Perhaps," he explained, "the best service a legislator can perform is in the killing of unwise legislation."

"And I took part in the floor fight on several of these. Perhaps, I find more satisfaction in my legislative service in this area than in any other."

Starting the drive off with a mark of success and setting the pace, so to speak, was City National Bank with a major increase in its already No. 1 financial support for the Chamber.

Utilities and other major investors in the Chamber program were joining the parade of increases, also according to Taylor.

"More than 20 firms and individuals approved increases during the initial phase of the drive," Piland said, "and this has been the tone of response all through."

"It is apparent that the business, industrial, professional leaders know the value of a strong Chamber of Commerce program."

SALVATION ARMY'S

Tonn Taking Six Lads To Camp

Six excited Colorado City youngsters are counting the days until Sunday when they'll arrive at The Salvation Army's Camp Hobbitzelle at Midlothian, for a week of outdoor fun.

They'll enjoy swimming, boating, water-skiing, horse-back riding, archery and many other supervised in-door and outdoor activities.

Camp Chairman Dee Tonn said the boys attending will be Maurice Brown, Travis Green, Greg Sanders, Randy Sanders, Joe Toland and Larry Williams. They were selected by the Mitchell County Salvation Army Service Unit Committee.

The 310 Salvation Army Service Units in Texas will send 800 boys to Camp Hobbitzelle during four consecutive weeks in June and July.

The Camp is located seven miles south of Midlothian and eight miles west of Waxahachie on 340 acres of gently rolling woodland. Campers are housed in attractive redwood and brick cabins. Camp counselors direct and supervise activities, and experts prepare nutritious meals to meet the needs of growing youngsters.

Colorado City boys will go to the Camp by car. Transportation will be provided by Mr. Tonn.

Gifts of over 100 Texans provided the funds to make Camp Hobbitzelle possible. A winterizing program is now underway to extend the use of facilities year around. The Salvation Army operates the camp for the benefit of youngsters who would not otherwise have the opportunity to enjoy camp life.

Take a weekend trip with the money you save on Gas Air Conditioning.

Well... maybe your savings on gas air conditioning won't get you to the Sphinx, but they will mount up. Because one of the main advantages of gas air conditioning is economy. It costs you less to use. It costs less in maintenance, too. Gas air conditioners are built better.

They last longer, and there are fewer moving parts to wear out. And Lone Star offers special summer rates for cooling. To get the details on this high quality equipment for your home, call your air conditioning contractor or LONE STAR GAS for a free estimate.

CONVERSATION CORNER

YOU ARE, it has been so often said, what you eat . . . which may explain why some of us are such hams . . . others are good eggs . . . or bad eggs . . . still others are honey, sugar, sweetie-pie and angel-cake.

People have been known to refer to each other, too, as hunk of cheese . . . chicken . . . cold as a clam . . . hot potato . . . tomato . . . nutty . . . a peach . . . corny . . . and picklemuss.

Wonder how you catalogue people who dote on asparagus tips, stuffed celery, salad greens, and sherbet? Does that make 'em just a vegetable?

YOU ARE, some people think, what you read, too. That could make you a mystery . . . a poem . . . a real life drama . . . or you might be novel . . . factual . . . an editorial . . . a love column . . . a comic strip . . . headliner . . . an abbreviated version . . . a recipe collection . . . cartoon . . . a joke . . . or a devotional topic.

How would you go about classifying somebody who reads everything handy, cover to cover . . . crime, weddings, obituaries, Dear Abby, almanac . . . state, national, and international news . . . and bulletins of "wars and rumors of wars?"

Would that make you a first-reader? Or just a reader-bleeder?

ANY WAY you look at it, if you are what you read this week . . . and if you are what you hear from the air waves . . . then you are a worried mind a troubled soul . . . because the news is not good.

Here at home? Still no rain.

Viet Nam . . . and now the Middle East War.

Man, created by God, somehow manages to conquer some evils against great odds . . . on the sea, under the sea, in the air . . . in outer space.

Man fights and sometimes conquers disease . . . man stands hand in hand to conquer the elements, the ravages of storms, natural catastrophes . . . man takes pity on those who hunger, the crippled, the maimed, the blind, the fatherless.

And yet . . . and yet man, created by God, continues to kill himself with wars, he is his own bitterest enemy. So capable of love, so ready with compassion . . . man has never been able to conquer himself, conquer his capacity to hate.

It is the one great pity of the ages. Enough to make one just sit down to "read it and weep."

WEeping never has been and never will be as much fun as laughing. Most of the time most of us do a little of both to keep the balance.

It's just harder and harder, right now, to find something to read that makes you laugh out loud because people are so funny.

Only item I can think of at this minute is the one about that lady in California who is divorcing her husband after 18 years and 15 children . . . on the grounds of incompatibility!

MOST good news in these parts is spoken by word of mouth, anyhow. Like news Perry O. and Laura Barber received from Oak Harbor, Washington, Sunday night, by long distance phone call.

Their second son, Lt. James C. Barber, USN, and his wife Nancy are parents of a baby daughter born June 4, weighing 6 lbs., 8 1/2 oz., and named Allison. Lt. Barber is stationed at Whidbey Island.

Allison Barber is first child for James (graduate lawyer) and is second grandchild for the Perry Barbers, Sr. Their first son Perry O. Barber, Jr. (also an attorney) have a daughter, 3 1/2, named Shelley. Perry Jr. and his family live in Houston.

The Barber daughter, Laura, by the way, is having the time of her life with her new career. She's working in the news office at Trinity University in San Antonio. She holds her B.A. in English from University of Texas.

SEEN LATELY include Hettie Wallace Branch (Mrs. Travis) on an office visit . . . Billy Joe Wood . . . Mrs. Pete Barkeley of Buford community.

A. C. Craig dipped in with a prized possession. Know what? He has a bound copy of the old Youth's Companion magazines for the 71 months in 1872 and 1873!

At that time subscriptions were 50c cash or 75c if charged, per year. Included in the well-kept magazines are stories, puzzles, jokes, advice to the young, and the most priceless advertisements.

Saw Larry Lakey, Assembly of God pastor . . . The Howard Coxes . . . Sims Palmer . . . Roy Warren . . . Blanche Bell (Mrs. Willie A.) . . . Gwen Wistrand (Mrs. Dick) and Carolyn Howell lunching together.

Saw cute little Ann Morrison, wife of Tom, of the L.T. N.S. (Long Time No See) department . . . Joe Earnest . . . Doris Carter (Mrs. Bill F.)

HEAR TELL that Bob and Peggy Ratliff, their son Mike and daughter Kathy, left Wednesday for a vacation trip to California. They will visit Peggy's sister "Cootsie," Mrs. John Dailey and her family in Lancaster, Calif.

Hear, too, that one of our very young married couples, Charles Ray Watlington, his wife Dixie (Hendrix) and their baby boy Ty are now living in Alpine. They'll occupy their mobile home while Charles Ray goes to college at Sul Ross. He finished his freshman year at Angelo State and will continue to major in agriculture at Sul Ross. He is son, of course, of Raymond (Blackie) and Joan (Mann) Watlington.

Jill Richards, daughter of Bea and Lloyd Richards, has enrolled as a summer freshman at Angelo State and has chosen as her major, journalism.

FAMILIAR FACES, here and there places, belonged to two pretty little girls named Elizabeth and Bridget, daughters of Dewey and Vickie Turner of Seven Wells Community.

Saw Esther Gaeher (Mrs. Jay) working in the Pony League concession stand . . . Ed M. Owen on Walnut St. . . Loraine Rogers (Mrs. Nathan) . . . Mrs. Tom Coker whose son Mack is now sales manager for Roundup Rambler at 4001 South Buckner, Dallas.

Mack, North Texas University graduate, left Garland Dodge as salesman to take the new post with Roundup. He is married to the former Lane Marlin (of Gatesville) and is father of a son Thomas L., two years old.

Dec Tonn and the six boys he will sponsor at Salvation Army Camp near Midlothian leave Sunday for a week's fun. This will be our fellow citizen's (Mr. Tonn's) eighth annual trip to Camp Hoblitzelle as counselor for local boys.

Sheriff Lewis Claxton, another Salvation Army commit-teman, took the boys to Midlothian last summer, first summer Tonn had missed the trip since 1958.

On The Go -

A friend with business connections throughout West Texas observed the other day how new residential construction had all but stopped right now in one of our neighboring cities.

It's a community larger than ours and appraised by most of us as "on the go."

I was impressed all the more with the fine new residences which have been constructed here . . . and, which, consistently keep going up now.

All of which, means that we have got a lot "on-the-go" here to . . . much more than we usually realize until we stop and take stock.

WESTBROOK — Miss Rocklyn Erickson of Plano, Ill., and Lt. David E. Taylor of Weatherford were united in marriage Saturday afternoon in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church in Big Spring.

The bride is the daughter of Leslie Erickson of Plano, Ill., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor of Big Spring, formerly of Colorado City, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Taylor of Westbrook.

yellow roses and white carnations. Miss Linda Hawkins of Plano, Ill., served as maid of honor. She wore a blue, formal-length dress and carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Lt. Walter Tausch of Ft. Wolters at Mineral Wells was best man.

For traveling to their home in Weatherford, the bride chose a lime green A-line dress with white accessories and a corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and Officer Candidate School in Fort Knox, Ky. He is now serving as a student pilot at Ft. Wolters Army Helicopter Center.

A small reception was held at the church immediately following the wedding, and a larger reception was held at the Coast Country Club. Those in the receiving line were the bride and bridegroom, her father and his parents.

This is 2 points (1 per cent) below a month ago and 32 points (12 per cent) below a year ago.

This is the lowest it has been since October 1964 when it was at the same level. The livestock and livestock product index and the all crop index showed a decline for the last month and from a year ago. The livestock product index at 315 is 3 points (18 per cent) below the mid-April and 20 points (6 per cent) below mid-May a Wholesale milk at $3.65 per hundred weight was down 5c from mid-April, but up 25c from a year ago. Wool at 41c and mohair at 44c were unchanged from last month. During the month ended

May 15, the index of Prices Received by farmers across the U.S. advanced 6 points (2 per cent) to 252 per cent of its 1910-14 average. Higher prices for hogs and cattle were mainly responsible for the increase. Partially offsetting were price declines for lettuce, tomatoes, cotton, and eggs. The index was 4 percent below May 1966.

The Index of Prices Paid for commodities and services, including interest, taxes, and farm wage rates increased 1 point (1/3 per cent) during the month to 342, a record high. The index was 9 points (3 per cent) above a year earlier. The Preliminary Adjust-

Coming Up For Voters 6 More Constitutional Amendments

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
Six proposed changes in the Texas Constitution were approved by the 60th Legislature for submission to the voters this fall—November 11.

These proposals are as follows:

- SJR 6 authorizing counties to pay medical, doctor and hospital bills of county law enforcement officers injured in line of duty.

- HJR 12 providing for a $74,000,000 parks, development fund bond issue.

- HJR 17 reviving the Veterans' Land Program and authorizing a total of $400,000,000 in bonds.

- HJR 3 allowing counties to put tax money in one general fund.

- HJR 27 permitting state officers and employees to hold other non-elective positions under the state or U.S. governments where there is no conflict of interests and where the state might actually benefit.

- HJR 37 allowing cities and other units within hospital districts to levy taxes for participation in mental health and mental retardation community centers.

FOURTEEN ADDITIONAL amendments were approved by the Legislature for voters consideration on November 5, 1968. These include the following:

- SJR 14 giving the legislature power to authorize cities and counties to issue revenue bonds to build industrial plants for operation by private concerns.

- SJR 3 revising provisions for investment of the state employees retirement system and changing provisions for its administration.

- HJR 60 permitting consolidation of offices and governmental functions in El Paso and Tarrant counties.

- HJR 61 raising legislators' salaries from $4,800 to $8,400 a year and extending per diem expense allowance from 120 to 140 days of the regular session.

SPECIAL SESSION?—Legislators knew their job was little more than half finished when they adjourned at midnight May 29. Governor John Connally cheerfully reminded them that he would "see them in the fall or next year," meaning that that is when the 1969 budget and a balancing tax bill must be written.

Later, Connally told reporters that it is highly unlikely he will call the special finance session before next year. He hinted that next year's tax bill may be less than the predicted $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 and he does not intend to recommend an increase in the general sales tax rate.

COURTS SPEAK—State Supreme Court reversed a 43-year-old rule requiring a property owner to warn employees of a sub-contractor of hidden dangers on the property. Case involved a Nueces County welder injured in an accident. Court said injured worker's own employer and foreman should have warned him of threats to his safety.

In another case, the Supreme Court upheld a decision of the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals that questions of usury and unreasonable collection methods should be considered together. Case dealt with a $12-a-week yardman's suit against Pacific Finance Loans and Bond Finance Company.

Ward County District Court judgement that salinity content of water furnished by a water district caused $16,344 worth of damage to a milo maize crop also was sustained by the higher Court.

FUNDS FOR AGING—A $140,774 program to develop community programs of direct service to the aged in Lubbock, Big Spring, Fort Worth, Mercedes and San Antonio have been approved by the Governor's Committee on Aging.

Contracts went to Texas Tech College, Lubbock ($3,780); Big Spring State Hospital, Volunteer Advisory Council Inc. ($50,122); Tarrant County Community Council ($27,000); Hidalgo County Committee on Aging ($14,946); and Senior Community Services, Inc., San Antonio, ($44,920).

AIRPORT FUNDS—Legislature appropriated $475,000 for building and improving small town airports. Big Bend National Park will get $150,000 plus federal aid for new airport. Lake Whitney State Park $40,000 and $25,000 will go to aviation research at a higher education institution.

Texas Aeronautics Commission Director Charles Murphy estimates that 40 per cent of these applicants for state aid will share in available funds.

Abernathy, Aransas Pass, Atlanta, Bay City, Brady, Brownwood, Bryan, Canton, Center, Cleveland, College Station, Daingerfield, Dimmitt, Dublin, Eagle Pass, Edinburg, Ennis, Fairfield, Teague, Follett, Georgetown, Giddings, Gilmer, Granbury, Graham, Gregg County, Hamilton, Harlingen, Hempstead, Hillsboro, Honey Grove, Karnes County, Kerrville, Knox City, La Porte, Levelland, Littlefield, Livingston, Llano and Lockhart.

Also, Madisonville, McGregor, Marlin, Miami, Morton, Mt. Vernon, Navasota, Overton, Paducah, Pecos, Port Mansfield, Ranger, Rockwall, San Benito, Schulenburg, Sherman, Silsbee, Slaton, Smithville, Stamford, Stanton, Sulphur Springs, Tahoka, Temple, Vega, Wellington, West Columbia, Wharton County, Weslaco and Wills Point.

INTERIM COMMITTEES—A record-breaking list of interim committees, some 70 in all, have been appointed to serve until the next special or regular session of the Legislature begins.

Committees will deal with about everything the Legislature considered during its recent session. In fact, there are more interim committees than there were standing committees during the 60th session. Total then was 44 in the House and 24 in the Senate.

Among the special committees are those dealing with state and local tax policy, law enforcement and crime prevention, state constitution, general investigating, slum problems and clearance causes of poverty renovation and maintenance of Governor's mansion, parking problem around state capitol, state college faculty pay and benefits and unessential state government expenses.

Others relate to the importation and grading of eggs, prices of fruits and vegetables, industrial entertainment promotion, safety regulations for school buses and home improvements contracting.

Also, selection of a state poet laureate, and return of the Alamo flag from Mexico.

SHORT SNORTS—Sen. Ralph H. Hall of Rockwall was selected president pro tempore of the Senate for the interim between legislative sessions.

Texas Highway Commission adopted a $75,600,000 budget for maintaining Texas' highway system during the next fiscal year—up $12,600,000 over present level.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said a county officer of Harris County who is authorized to sell abandoned and unclaimed property may hire a person to conduct an auction in his behalf.

Former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson is head of a new Republican task force on crime and law enforcement.

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, has allocated $340,591 for 13 programs for 1967 grants for Community Service and Continuing Education proposals authorized under the federal higher education act.

English - Or Welfare Crossroads For 2 Million School Kids

By RALPH YARBOROUGH
United States Senator

Could Albert Einstein, who grew up speaking German, have learned physics as a boy if his teacher had made him study it in Greek? Perhaps he could have, but he would first have had to learn a whole new language, and then catch up.

Today in Texas there are hundreds of thousands of children entering the schools with a big handicap; they have little or no background in the English language.

Many of these youngsters are very smart, but they just haven't had the chance at home to learn English. And so they sit in that first-grade classroom, struggling, because they hear nothing in the language they know. They fall behind, and they make bad grades. They lose interest, and soon some of them drop out of school.

A decade or so later we find them on the welfare rolls, unable to hold a good job without an education.

During the past two weeks I've been in Corpus Christi, San Antonio, and Edinburg listening to this sort of story again and again. I have been conducting hearings on a bill I'm sponsoring in the United States Senate to try to change this situation. This is the Bilingual American Education Bill, S. 428.

This bill contains a whole new approach for the traditionally difficult language cases. It provides funds to local areas so they may set up programs which would help children from non-English speaking homes to get started, and at the same time would encourage these children to preserve and take advantage of their rich cultural background.

In our own State of Texas, for example, there are hundreds of thousands of youngsters from Spanish-speaking families who go into public schools not knowing one word of English. There are one million Spanish-speaking children of school age in Texas.

How can that boy or girl be expected to compete academically with youngsters from homes where everyone speaks only English?

According to Doctor Faye

L. Bumpass of the Texas Technological University faculty, there are nearly two million young boys and girls in five south-western states who face a language handicap upon starting school. One million of these youngsters are in Texas.

Doctor Bumpass testified before our committee for this bill calling these boys and girls the forgotten children in American education. Their problem is unique; it's difficult.

My bill provides only $7 million for the first year, not enough to remedy the situation. It will just be a start, a sort of pilot program. But it is a beginning.

We hope that school districts in Texas and other states will take this money and decide the best way to use it to help children in bilingual areas.

In our hearings in Washington and in Texas we have heard from professors, mothers, local teachers, representatives of the Spanish communities—all sides. Two University of Texas experts on bilingual education, Dr. Theodore Anderson and Dr. Herschel Manuel, have been especially helpful.

Doctor Manuel has written a book on the Spanish-speaking children of the Southwest. He says, and I quote from his book: "The initial knowledge of Spanish, which these children have acquired in the home, is an asset to be cultivated rather than neglected."

That is why I am sponsoring the Bilingual American Education Bill. We need to quit wasting this potential. These boys and girls must be given every chance at the kind of education that will enable them to become productive, good citizens.

Sermon Of The Week "Children-- Heritage of The Lord"

By L. K. LAKEY
Pastor, First
Assembly of God
Sunday June 11th will be Children's Day.

Perhaps we do not place as much emphasis on this day as we do Mother's and Father's Day, yet we must agree that the children in our homes, our schools, our churches and our country are one of the greatest blessings which we enjoy.

Psalm 127:3 declares that children are the heritage of the Lord.

With the blessings of children also comes a great responsibility. In Proverbs 22:6 God's word promises that if we train up a child in the way he should go that, when he is old, he will not depart from it. As parents we must remember that little feet are walking in our foot steps.

However, parents are not the only ones who have influence in forming the lives and character of the children of our generation. Our society makes its inevitable mark upon its children.

So often we hear someone say "the younger generation is going to the dogs." Just remember, the younger generation only go where they are led. So, if this is the path you are leading, I challenge you to change directions!

As a citizen of this democratic nation, what kind of books do you allow to be sold to our children on the news stands? What kind of shows do you allow to be put on T.V. and in the theater? Do you make children believe that it is smart to partake of things which you know will harm the body and dull the mind?

I heard the story that once a man was walking in deep snow, he heard a noise behind him. As he looked to see what it was, he saw a little boy jumping, trying to land in everyone's his daddy's foot steps.

We can find a lesson on how children should be treated and cared for in the gospel of Christ. Little children came flocking to Jesus and the disciples tried to get them to go away, but Jesus rebuked them and said, "Forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

I believe that Jesus Christ the Lord of Glory always had time for a child.

May we examine our actions toward children. We are forming their lives.

A graduation I attended several years ago had this slogan written in large letters across the stage: "Today we follow, Tomorrow we lead."

Cong. Burleson: Russians Spur Arab Warfare

By OMAR BURLESON
U. S. Congressman
17th District

THE CONFLICT between the Arab States and Israel should have a sobering effect on our Government's official policy of "building bridges" with the Soviet Union and its Communist satellites in Eastern Europe.

It should put a damper on the support by some of the largest American businesses for the administration's policy of increasing trade with the Russians.

On more than one occasion Ambassador to the United Nations Arthur Goldberg has made it clear that peace in Viet Nam rests with the Soviet Union. According to the statements of Nassar of Egypt, the official line of the Russians is complete support for attacks against the State of Israel.

Not only are the Russians blocking any action in the United Nations, but they are checkmating any possible moves by the Geneva Conference machinery provided in the 1954 Agreements for settlement of the Viet Nam war.

ALL THE TALK about a policy for the United States to make concessions in East-West Trade Agreements has a hollow sound unless the Moscow government declares its efforts for peace in the Middle East and in Viet Nam.

It is strange indeed that our government and American businessmen have started a campaign to break a log-jam in trade with the Soviet Union. Washington is supporting the participation of American companies in a Trade Fair in Moscow at this very time. The exhibition, concentrating particularly on food processing and food packaging equipment, opened May 16.

It should be clear to policy makers that we can not satisfactorily end the war in Viet Nam in a reasonable time or bring about a satisfactory peace by making unilateral concessions to Russia or by blinding ourselves to the realities of world power politics. The world politics in this instance wears the same brand which it has always worn—world Communist domination.

NOW, AFTER feeding Hanoi the supplies to kill our men in South Viet Nam, their long-range strategy in the Middle East is showing itself at a frightening speed.

A glance at the map is enough to show that Russian ambitions in that part of the world include the control of the Red Sea and beyond it. They include the Persian Gulf, source of Western Europe's oil supply, and to control that supply is an invaluable advantage. The complete control would mean a dominant influence on the economic life of Western Europe.

For more than 40 years the secret intent of the Communists has been known. The center of their strategy is to find conditions where strife of any sort or kind can be fomented. It then becomes a vehicle for their use. Although it is presently played down by our officials, the numerous trouble spots around the world do not appear to be accidents.

Their efforts for crisis in Berlin, in Indonesia, in Hong Kong, were unsuccessful. Earlier, they were unsuccessful in Greece and Turkey, in Iran and in Ghana.

At the present time, however, the situation in Greece, Cyprus, the Middle East and, of course, Viet Nam, supported by Soviet intrigue, is a threat to the United States. It is not a matter of our being the policeman of the world, but a matter of meeting aggression which eventually will threaten our own shores.

WHILE WE TALK of "Building Bridges" to Russia via a consular treaty and promises of more trade, the Communists are destroying bridges of stability in every part of the world they can reach.

Not only should we not contribute to the welfare of the Russians by increased trade, whether it be strategic or otherwise, but we should in strangest terms tell our friends of the free world that they are no longer friends if they do so. To do otherwise is to help them through trade and aid to achieve their world aims through armed aggression.

No one feeds a snake to keep it from biting.

The Church For All All For The Church

THREE CHEERS

Here comes the winner! Can he hold that first place position, or will he fall? In the eyes of these youngsters, victory is the most important thing in the world. Everything hinges on the outcome of this contest!

Enthusiasm is part of successful living, stimulating the imagination, and inspiring the mind. It is contagious, too, and can affect co-workers, friends, families. It is essential to organizations as well as to individuals.

Through the centuries a rich spiritual enthusiasm has been handed down by the Church, one of the greatest institutions on earth. Its members, working together, fired by the enthusiasm of faith, can give you renewed inspiration, and strength.

Why not attend church next Sunday? Become a part of this great fellowship of believers! You, too, can be a winner.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
