4-A games uncertain...

Play delay effect feared by coach

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

Snyder Coach Albert Lewis Thursday morning called the postponement of the Class 4A State Baseball Tournament "disappointing" and added that he feared the teams would eventually lose their sharpness if the tournament is not held soon.

Court orders have led to the postponement of the Class 4A State Baseball Tournament, scheduled to begin Thursday in Austin.

Judges in Austin and Waco blocked Class 4A play, and another in Edinburg ordered that play be moved from a field with artificial turf to one with grass.

Prison crowding...

Settlement is turned down

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Department of Corrections has turned down a proposed agreement on prison overcrowding, clearing the way for a June 23 hearing to determine if the state is violating federal court orders.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Speaker Gib Lewis responded to the board action Wednesday by appointing a subcommittee to work with the prison officials.

"We need to identify the cost associated with compliance and the most economical and quickest way to achieve it," Hobby said in a statement.

At the same session Wednesday, the board was told a new financing plan to provide a high security unit that would house 2,250 inmates should be ready in a few days.

Hobby said TDC chairman Al Hughes and Attorney General Jim Mattox had promised their cooperation with the legislators.

After a two-hour executive session, the TDC board voted 4-4 on a motion that would have approved the proposed agreement to the contempt action in which prisoners claim the state is not following court orders against overcrowding. The tie vote killed the motion.

"It's a tremendous crapshoot," said TDC Chairman Al Hughes of the Houston hearing. He favored adopting the compromise with inmates' attorneys.

Hughes said Gov. Mark White also favored the settlement, provided it did not cost the state additional money.

Hughes said the 4-4 vote means a June 23 federal court hearing on the contempt action will proceed as planned in Houston.

"There are members of the House and the Legislature and the leadership who don't want to spend the money we have already committed to do and they think that maybe by going to court we might get some those things reduced," Hughes said.

"I am not hopeful of that," he said.

James Parsons, board member from Palestine, voted against a settlement "because I think our best option is to proceed forward with a vigorous defense and convince the court of our good faith and intents to comply."

Ask Us

Q — How much did Lake Thomas benefit from the recent rains?

A — In all, the lake level rose some 4.2 ft. as a result of some 9,200 acre ft. of water running into it. The lake level is now at 2,221 ft. above sea level. This is approximately where it was this time last year and still some 37 ft. below the spillway.

Sales tax holding plus 11.7

While noting a one month decline of some 11 percent during April, Snyder's cumulative sales tax return for the year to date continues to show a positive 11.7 percent this year compared to last.

The June checks represent taxes collected on sales made in April and reported to the state comptroller's office by May 20.

For the month only, Snyder's return was down the 11 percent, going from $55,370 last year to $48,802 — a drop of approximately $6,500.

For the year-to-date, however, Snyder is still at a plus 11.7 percent with in excess of $443,000 collected this year compared to near $397,000 last year. Exact figures are $443,562 and $396,799 respectively, a difference of almost $47,000.

Statewide, most of the June sales tax returns were down for Texas' major cities. The biggest monthly return, some $8.5 million to Houston, caused that city's year-to-date figure of $73.4 million to equal a minus 4 percent.

Other year-to-date percentages and totals include Dallas, minus 5 percent ($53 million); San Antonio, plus 3 percent ($28.5 million); Austin, minus 3 percent ($21.2 million); Fort Worth, plus 7 percent ($17.7 million); and El Paso, plus 8 percent ($11.2 million).

Area cities of larger size to Snyder also noted mixed sales tax returns. A sampling of these include: Lubbock, plus 1.4 percent ($6.6 million); Abilene, a minus 2.6 percent ($4 million); San Angelo, plus 3.4 percent ($2.7 million); and Big Spring, a minus 0.1 percent ($776,541).

For cities of like or smaller size, the report included: Sweetwater, minus 2.8 percent ($349,806); Colorado City, plus 2.1 percent ($132,868); and Post, plus 12.8 percent ($89,962).

ADMINISTRATORS HERE — Area school administrators gathered at the Willow Park Inn Thursday morning for a two-day conference of the Big Country School Administrators association. Pictured visiting prior to the beginning of activities are (from left) Mike Jordan, school board president; Bill Daugherty, superintendent of schools at Eula; Jack Gorman, assistant superintendent here; and Bob Hawes, local superintendent and this year's president of the association. Career ladder list brings total to 98

The names of 27 new teachers added to the career ladder list this year was released Thursday by Snyder school administrators.

The teachers were to be notified by mail Wednesday of their selection.

They were chosen by a committee comprised of fellow teachers and school administrators. The Snyder school board approved the list Tuesday.

Each teacher chosen will now receive a supplemental pay bonus of $1,500 — a total of $147,000 from the current year's school budget. The district bears all of the expense related to career ladder.

The addition of the 27 was mandated by the state according to the average daily attendance of Snyder schools last year.

Their selection brings the total list of career ladder teachers for Snyder ISD to 98.

Career ladder monies were first distributed last year as part of the sweeping reforms implemented under House Bill 72. Only classroom teachers are eligible for career ladder status.

In Snyder, local teachers under a probationary contract — required the first two years they are employed by the district — are not eligible.

Other criteria used for career ladder placement includes the evaluations of individual teachers completed by campus principals, advanced degrees and college credits earned to include the completion of their masters degree, additional work in their respective fields and the number of years worked with the local system.

Funday replaces jr. rodeo

The Sundowner's Riding Club, which traditionally sponsors a junior rodeo for contestants through age 19, will this year conduct a Funday and Open Team Roping here Friday and Saturday.

Books to enter the event were to be open through Thursday night. These were to close at 10:30 p.m. and individuals may signup by calling 573-2926.

More than 260 young rodeo entrants competed in last year's Sundowners Rodeo.

Performances for this year's event will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday at the Sundowners Arena. The public is invited.

The open team roping will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday.

The Funday will consist of speed and roping events, but will not include "rough stock" events

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "There are more pessimists than optimists because most people see the sun go down, but few ever see it come up."

When we played baseball, there were only nine positions, except for an occasional "pinch runner." A few years ago someome came up with the idea of a designated hitter.

1986 will be known as the summer of the "designated judge." Skirmishes in the courtroom, away from the baseball diamond, have put a cloud of uncertainty over today's scheduled Class 4-A state baseball tournament.

The talk Wednesday moved from pitching and hitting records to legal claims and counterclaims. Through it all, it seems that the kids are the losers.

It all started Tuesday when Waco's Richfield filed suit against the UIL asking for a postponement of the state tournament until Richfield can finish its best of three series with Austin Westlake. Game two of the series was rained out and the UIL declared Westlake the winner based on its opening game victory.

Westlake then called on its "designated judge" in Travis County and received a temporary order against the UIL restraining them from denying Westlake the regional championship, restraining the UIL from requiring Westlake to play more pre-tournament games, and restraining the UIL from holding the Class 4-A championship without Westlake.

Late Wednesday, a third participant headed for the courtroom as Mercedes asked its judge to require the UIL to hold the tournament no earlier than Friday and no later than 8 p.m. June 20. Mercedes also asked that the game be moved from the artificial turf which Mercedes claims would give Westlake an unfair advantage.

Come on folks, be reasonable. Baseball is still a game played for the kids and for the fans. Get it back on the amateur level and out of the courts.

Some Snyder fans were already in Austin and unaware of the legal actions. Others had made careful plans around Thursday and Friday, having to rearrange work schedules and guarantee motel rooms.

The Snyder Tigers, facing a six-hour drive to Austin, were put on hold all day Wednesday. That's an idea...maybe we can file a class action suit on behalf of all Snyder baseball fans—for pain, suffering and mental anquish. Or maybe the whole deal is a smoke screen and no one wants to have to play Snyder. We might also petition to court to force the UIL to declare Snyder state champs—by default.

In Brief

Perjury charge

LIVINGSTON, Texas (AP) — A 25-year-old woman whose change of testimony in her father's murder trial shored up his alibi has been indicted on a perjury charge.

Vannessa Fontenot, who testified during the trial of her father Hurley Fontenot, was indicted June 4 by a Polk County grand jury on a charge of aggravated perjury in connection with her trial testimony.

Leaked data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today it had fired three employees of the Commerce Department following an investigation into improper leaks of sensitive economic data.

Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige said that two of the employees had used the data for personal financial gain while the third individual passed the advance information on to someone else who used it for profit.

Baldrige refused to release the names of the three individuals, who all work for the department's Bureau of Economic Analysis.

Duvalier talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Haitian President Jean-Claude Duvalier, in his first interview since fleeing his Caribbean homeland, denied embezzling millions of dollars from the nation's treasury and said he felt no guilt about his 16-year rule.

"I did the best that I could to try to improve the material conditions of my people," the former president-for-life said from his rented villa in southern France, where he was interviewed Sunday for ABC's "20-20" news magazine.

Baby faces lifetime rejection battle

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — Baby Jesse's transplanted heart is beating normally but pleased hospital officials say he faces a lifelong battle against rejection and they cannot even guess how long that life might be.

The oldest survivor of a baby-to-baby heart transplant is six months old and officials said they don't have enough experience with such transplants to know what to expect.

Eighteen-day-old Baby Jesse, who received his new heart in a flurry of publicity spurred by his initial rejection for transplant consideration, is the fifth infant to receive a transplant at Loma Linda University Medical Center since November.

"Even in that first six months, we've seen on and off rejection crises," said Sandra Nehlsen-Cannarella, an immunologist specializing in tissue-typing. Adults who have survived 10 years with liver and heart transplants continue to have rejection crises, she said Wednesday.

Although Jesse should be able to live a nearly normal life, he will always have to take drugs to keep his immune system from attacking the donor heart.

"It's a lifelong battle," Ms. Nehlsen-Cannarella said.

Jesse Dean Sepulveda showed no signs of rejection in his first full day after the Tuesday night surgery, said Loma Linda spokeswoman Gracie Garner.

Jesse, born with a fatally defective heart, received the heart of a child born brain-dead in Grand Rapids, Mich., the same day Jesse was born, May 25.

"He's being weaned from ventilator support and everyone at the bedside is pleased with his progress," Ms. Garner said. Officially, his condition is listed as critical but stable. She said he was "waking appropriately" from the anesthetic used during the surgery and his vital signs were excellent.

Immediately after the operation, the baby was "soft and pink," said the chief surgeon, Dr. Leonard Bailey.

Chest X-rays taken Wednesday showed that fluid was clearing from Jesse's lungs — another good sign, said Dr. Bruce Branson, chairman of Loma Linda's surgery department.

"To my amazement, he looked far better than I expected, and probably better than anybody expected," said Jesse Sepulveda, the 26-year-old father, who has twice visited his son since surgery.

"I was telling him how much I loved him when he opened his eyes," he said. "It was a real touching moment."

Loma Linda, 65 miles east of Los Angeles, initially rejected Jesse for a transplant on grounds that his young, unwed parents might not be able to care for him properly. The decision, which drew wide publicity, was reversed after grandparents assumed guardianship.

Army gets tough with all smokers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has a new message for its soldiers and civilian employees: if you can stop smoking, do; if you can't, watch out where you light up.

The Army, in the toughest such directive yet promulgated by a military service, said Wednesday it soon will crack down on smoking in its offices and bases and ban smoking inside vehicles or aircraft.

The directive takes effect July 7 and allows local commanders to go even farther in restricting smoking.

Maj. Bruce Bell, an Army spokesman, said Wednesday the general who commands Fort Jackson, S.C., already has used his local authority to ban all smoking by recruits undergoing basic training at the base.

The new policy "essentially reverses our entire orientation," Bell said. "Instead of saying that smoking is allowed except where specifically prohibited, this says smoking is prohibited except for certain exceptions."

The policy change is spelled out in a two-page directive approved by Army Secretary John O. Marsh and Gen. John A. Wickham Jr., the Army's chief of staff.

The goal, the directive says, is to make "non-smoking the normal for Department of Army.

Vocational nursing applications due

Applications are now being accepted for the vocational nursing class which will begin at Western Texas College on Sept. 2.

Persons interested in enrolling for the class are to contact the Admissions Office in the WTC Administration Building. The office is open Monday through Thursday. After completing the admissions forms, the student will arrange to take the pre-entrance examination. Following the test, students will arrange an interview with the instructors, Winnie Poyner and Diane Beard. August 7 will be the final day for interviews for the September class.

Your Birthday

June 13, 1986

You could be very fortunate in the year ahead in revising outmoded things into something more useful and functional. This will result in tidy profits.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Although you and your mate will have a common objective today, you might work at cross purposes. Each could undo the good the other is doing. Career advantages and problems are discussed in your Gemini Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead. Get yours by mailing $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Putting critical tasks off until the last minute is an unwise policy today. You'll discover this for yourself once things begin to pile up.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) An unfettered desire could prove expensive for you today. It may tempt you to buy something that your budget isn't prepared to handle.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) It's not to your benefit to associate with weak, dependent people today. They'll dump their responsibilities on you and tie you down.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Do not be stingy or miserly today to a friend who has always treated you generously. Reciprocate in kind.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today if you are contemplating making an expensive purchase, be sure to examine the merchandise closely. Be certain you get exactly what you pay for.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your objectives will be clearly defined today, and you'll know how they can be achieved. Yet you might find excuses for not taking appropriate action.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Self-doubts and apprehensions could be mistaken for intuitive perceptions today. This could cause you to feel like a loser before you even try.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A source that is usually available whenever you're in need of financial help may be shut off from you today. Better look elsewhere.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) The other party in that joint venture you're involved in is not in harmony with your aims. It won't work unless you pull together.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Someone you're involved with today may not place as high a value on your service as you do. Correct this condition before proceeding.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A situation that you are eager to change can be accomplished if you do it gradually. Don't attempt to alter everything in one day.

The libraries of Hermleigh High School and the elementary school will be open from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday during the summer. Hopefully the community will take advantage of this opportunity.

The Thursday afternoon Canasta Club met at the Hermleigh Community Center June 5 with Irene Hudgins as hostess. Attending were Frances Thomason, Verda Johnson, Dean Wemken, Benn Nachlinger, Rella Young, Faye Robbins, Gaye Stahl, Virginia Townsend, Amy Townsend, Oma Houston and Marlene Richburg. High scores were won by Frances Thomason and Oma Houston.

Stocking tanks and ponds

The Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District will sponsor a second fish sale on Saturday from 8-10 a.m. Delivery will be at the Snyder SCS Field Office in the Snyder Shopping Center.

The district announces the following prices are now in effect per hundred: 4-6 inch channel catfish, $40; 6-8 inch channel catfish, $60; 1-3 inch hybrid bluegill, $40; 2 inch hybrid largemouth bass, $60; and fathead minnows (approximately 425 per pound), $8 per pound.

Suggested stocking rates for small ponds are 100 channel catfish per surface acre. If you plan to supplementally feed the catfish or fertilize the pond, then 500 catfish per surface acre can be stocked.

The channel catfish can be stocked alone or with fathead minnows to serve as forage. The diet of a catfish is largely made up of aquatic insect larva, but minnows are also eaten if available. The larger 6-8 inch catfish fingerlings are recommended if large bass are present in the pond. Fingerlings of this size are generaly fast enough to avoid being eaten by the bass.

In ponds greater than one acre surface area, stocking 100 catfish, 50 bass, 300-400 bluegill and two pounds of fathead minnows provides a balanced stocking program.

The hybrid bluegill can be stocked alone or with bass or catfish. About 10 percent of the bluegill will reproduce and are a good choice for stocking alone in very small ponds.

Plastic bags will be provided for hauling the fish. They can be kept in the bags for up to two hours, but should be placed into ponds as soon as possible.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 573-1268 or by seeing district directors and SCS personnel in the SCS field office located at 3423 Avenue T.

Mother's Nursing Home Is Unlikely Hotbed of Thieves

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My mother is in a nursing home in another state. She is in a wheelchair and requires constant care. She is lucid only part of the time. I am all she has.

My reason for writing: No matter what I send her, it is "lost" — or to be frank, it's stolen — within a week or two. I have been told by the staff that theft is rampant in the best of nursing homes, and they cannot control it. I was shocked when Mother's wedding ring and watch were "lost" the day after she arrived.

Before Mother's Day I was completely frustrated. I am accustomed to sending her lovely nightgowns, robes and slippers, but have been advised to send nothing of value. I want to send her a cassette player. It would be a comfort to her and I could select some "old favorites" on tape for her listening pleasure, but the people in charge have told me not to send it because it would vanish "overnight," and they cannot be responsible for it.

Mother likes the home and has become very attached to some of the staff, but this problem of thievery is one that has us stumped. Have you any practical suggestions? Other nursing homes in the area have acknowledged the same problem.

HELPLESS

DEAR HELPLESS: To accept repeated thievery as "something that cannot be controlled" is outrageous! Of course it can be controlled. Contact the local police and city attorney's office. They are experts at sniffing out thieves. Also notify the city, county and state licensing agencies — all of whose regulations are being violated by the management's unwillingness or inability to handle this problem. Nursing homes have a responsibility to those they serve. And you should not have to forgo the pleasure of giving your mother a cassette player for Mother's Day because the management accepts thievery as an uncontrollable fact of life.

DEAR ABBY: I don't see babies and children as people who are particularly pleasant to be around. And I don't see motherhood as a particularly happy experience.

I am not a mother, nor am I pregnant; I am a very happily married 32-year-old woman. I see parenthood as the end of my happiness, partly due to my own family experiences, and partly due to the fact that 95 percent of the mothers I know complain about the problems of motherhood.

Why did they bother to have children anyway? And perhaps, more to the point, can you give me some good reasons to have children?

PUZZLED OUT EAST

DEAR PUZZLED: I could fill this column with good reasons to have children, but if you can't think of at least one on your own, perhaps you shouldn't have any. Make no apologies; it's a wise woman who knows her limitations. Motherhood is not for everybody.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widower who has been out of the dating game for nearly 40 years, so I could use a little guidance.

What is an appropriate gift to present to a widow in announcing our engagement? She said that there is only one acceptable engagement gift, and that is a diamond ring.

She already has a lovely diamond ring from her first husband. Is she expected never to wear that ring again?

I have a fine diamond in my possession — the one I gave my first wife when we became engaged. I had planned to give it to my grandson to present to his fiancee.

Please guide me.

PLANNING TO WED AGAIN

DEAR PLANNING: Nowhere is it written that a diamond ring is the only acceptable engagement gift. Give nothing unless you give it with all your heart.

Abortion foes will continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The political firestorm surrounding abortion is being fueled, not calmed, by the Supreme Court's latest affirmation of a woman's right to end her pregnancy.

The Reagan administration and other abortion foes are vowing to fight on, finding solace in the deepening rift among the justices over the issue.

The court, by a 5-4 vote Wednesday, struck down Pennsylvania abortion regulations.

The battle "is far from over," said Solicitor General Charles Fried, the administration's leading courtroom lawyer.

"There are no such things as defeats when you're pro-life," said Pennsylvania state legislator Stephen Freind. "There are only temporary setbacks."

The closeness of the Supreme Court's vote underscored a deepening division among the justices.

In 1973 when the court legalized abortion nationwide in a landmark case called Roe vs. Wade, the vote was 7-2. The court split 6-3 three years ago in reaffirming the 1973 ruling.

The latest vote drove home the point that a strategic replacement of one justice by President Reagan could threaten legal abortions. Supreme Court justices are appointed for life, and only a resignation or a death can give Reagan that opportunity.

Five members of the court — including four who voted in the majority Wednesday — are over 77.

"They're all going to outlast President Reagan," predicted Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., a proponent of abortion rights. "If they have tubes coming out of their nostrils, they're going to outlast him."

Reagan's term expires in January 1989 and he is barred by the Constitution from seeking a third term. Reagan could have trouble winning Senate confirmation of a Supreme Court appointment made late in his term.

But abortion foes predicted that the court would eventually change its mind on the issue.

Rep. Chris Smith, R-N.J., co-chairman of the Congressional Pro-Life Caucus, said, "This decision will accelerate the day that Roe vs. Wade is reversed."

Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., alluded to the Bible in criticizing the decision.

"The Lord told Moses, 'Thou shalt not kill,' and today the slimmest possible majority of the Supreme Court has told the American people just the opposite. ... Today's bare majority can and will be overcome."

The anti-abortion forces were heartened by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger's suggestion that the court should reexamine its 1973 ruling.

Dangers of cocaine use

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My husband and many of his friends use cocaine. He says that recreational use of the drug is not harmful. What do you think?

DEAR READER — Recent discoveries have led experts to conclude that cocaine is one of the most dangerous drugs in common use. Until the last couple of years, there was a widespread view that cocaine was a non-addicting, innocuous substance. This is completely untrue, and as larger segments of the population become able to afford cocaine's high price, increasing numbers of healthy Americans will suffer the consequences of this drug. Between 1980 and 1983, there was a 91 percent increase in cocaine-related deaths. Your husband and his friends are asking for health, emotional and career problems if they continue to use cocaine.

DEAR DR. GOTT — An advertisement I saw claimed that a product made from the konjack root is very effective for weight loss. What do you think about this product?

DEAR READER — I receive many questions about herbal medicines. I suspect this happens because many employees of health-food stores try to convince customers that one or another type of herbal medicine is either a substitute for prudent living habits or an alternative to modern prescription drugs. In general, these substances are not effective; most are harmless. Studies have shown that synthetic vitamins are just as effective as the "natural" types. Prescription diuretics are much more useful than the herbal varieties. Exotic roots and plants have not been shown to be superior to commercially manufactured drugs. Herbal weight-loss substances are, to my knowledge, useless. In my opinion, diseases and symptoms are best treated by orthodox methods under the supervison of qualified medical personnel.

For example, to lose weight, your best approach would be to reduce your caloric intake to a level slightly below your caloric requirements. This solution is preferable to using over-the-counter or health-food compounds for this purpose.

Nonetheless, I try to keep an open mind about traditional herbal medicines. Oriental cultures have used such substances for centuries, and I admit that some may be useful in one form or another. Therefore, I am not making a blanket indictment of herbal medicine; rather, I appeal to people to seek medical attention for problems and exercise skepticism and good sense in accepting the advertisements and claims of health-food cures.

I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report, WEIGHT CONTROL THROUGH CALORIE CONTROL. Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 plus their name and address to P.O. Box 2597, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I broke my ankle about 30 years ago, and it caused me no trouble until now. If I sit still for 20 minutes, my heel gets numb and prickly. Should I go to the doctor to have it checked out?

DEAR READER — For reasons that have not yet been completely and scientifically explained, fractures can cause symptoms many years after healing has taken place. Healed fractures can not only produce intermittent pain on exercise, but can cause discomfort during weather and humidity changes. My wife broke her foot as an adolescent, and the recurring pain she experiences is a far more effective indicator of upcoming foul weather than are the TV weather forecasters with their graphs and satellite photos.

Although your ankle symptoms may simply be predicting bad weather, I advise you to seek an orthopedic opinion to make sure that the old injury is not developing into arthritis or some other abnormality that should be treated.

Grand jury indicts three in slashing

NEW YORK (AP) — A grand jury has indicted three men on charges they disfigured the face of former Dallas fashion model Marla Hanson with a razor because she demanded the return of an $850 security deposit on her apartment.

Steven Roth, 28, of Manhattan, was accused Wednesday by the grand jury of hiring Steven Bowman, 27, and Darren Norman, 20, both of Queens, to slash Ms. Hanson, District Attorney Robert Morgenthau said. Bowman held the 24-year-old woman while Norman sliced her face with a razor blade, he said.

All three men were indicted on charges of first-degree assault.

The district attorney discounted reports that there was any romantic involvement or rejection between Roth and the model. He said the motive still appeared to be an $850 security deposit that Ms. Hanson demanded back after she decided to stop renting a co-operative apartment Roth owned.

The men attacked Ms. Hanson on June 4 outside a bar at Dyer Avenue and 34th Street near the Lincoln Tunnel, where Roth had lured her by promising to return the money, Morgenthau said.

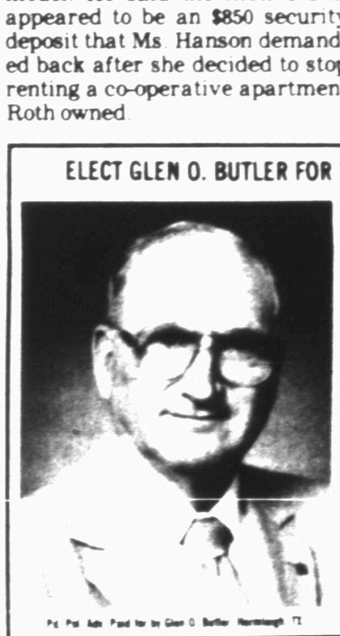

He said Bowman and Norman feigned a robbery against Roth and Ms. Hanson, and then Bowman held the young woman down while Norman dug the razor blade into her face.

The cuts required more than 100 stitches. The plastic surgeon who treated Ms. Hanson said the wounds were worse than those suffered by someone going through a car windshield.

Memorabilia on display

Texas memorabilia, quilts, and jewelry are included in a special Sesquicentennial exhibit currently being featured in the Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College.

The exhibit has been titled "Images of Texas." It is intended to portray images of the state through the use of the works of artists, craftsmen, young and old, Shirley Leftwich, museum director, said.

Included in the exhibit are the Sesquicentennial quilts made in the Senior Center and sold at the May Day auction; a quilt made by Martha Floyd's first grade class at West Elementary and a tapestry made by Donna Farley's Project Excel class; a stained glass piece made by Mike McCormack of Snyder; glass engravings by Abilene artist Boyd Graham, who has had one-man shows in both glass engraving and painting; jewelry from topaz, the state gem, and palmwood, the state stone; stamps, and currency issued by the Republic of Texas.

Hours in the museum are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 1-4 p.m. on Sunday. There is no admission charge.

State baseball in Austin...

4A tourney postponed; others on track

AUSTIN (AP) - Colmesneil, Riviera Kaufer and Victoria Stroman will defend their championships at the University Interscholastic League state baseball tournament starting today, but court orders led to postponement of the Class 4A division.

Orders issued by three different judges Wednesday over who should play in the Class 4A tournament and when and where it should be held threw that division off the ball diamonds and into chaos.

Colmesneil, 26-0 in Class A, has been to the UIL tournament four times since 1979, finishing second that year and winning championships in 1980 and last year.

Riviera in A also has been to the tournament four times since 1979, winning a title that year and in 1985.

Coppell, the team Riviera defeated in the finals last year, 8-1, returns this year in 2A.

Stroman defeated Pasadena Rayburn 3-0 for the 5A championship last year and is matched against Houston Bellaire in the semifinals tonight. Bellaire won titles in 1960, 1962, 1971 and 1978 and was runner-up in 1963 and 1972 but made its last appearance seven years ago.

The other 5A semifinalists are Round Rock Westwood and Arlington, led by 6-foot-6 pitcher Trent Turner.

Turner, a Texas Longhorn baseball recruit, also was Most Valuable Player in basketball in District 7-5A. He has a 14-1 pitching record, with a 1.30 ERA, and leads Arlington in home runs with four, all in the playoffs.

In Class 3A, Brownfield is the only team making a return appearance. Playing in 4A in 1964, the Cubs lost in the championship game to South San Antonio 17-1, which is a scoring record for that division.

Judges in Austin and Waco blocked Class 4A play, and another in Edinburg ordered that play be moved from a field with artificial turf to one with grass.

"Because of two conflicting court orders, one issued in Waco and one in Austin, the Conference 4A state baseball tournament has been postponed until the court cases can be resolved. All other conferences will play at the time and site originally scheduled," the UIL said in a statement.

In Waco, Judge Bill Logue issued a temporary restraining order Wednesday blocking the 4A playoffs until Austin Westlake and Waco Richfield complete a best two-of-three series that was rained out last week with Westlake up 1-0 after edging Richfield 4-3.

However, in Austin, State District Judge Juan Gallardo issued an order blocking the 4A playoffs unless Westlake is allowed to participate.

Then, late Wednesday night, State District Judge Homer Salinas in Edinburg not only ruled that the games could not begin until Friday afternoon but also ordered that the contests be played on grass at Nelson Field rather than on the artificial turf at the University of Texas' Disch-Falk Field.

Before the court intervention, Westlake was scheduled to play Mercedes in one semifinal game, with the winner playing for the 4A championship against the winner of a game between Brenham and Snyder. After the rainout, the last two scheduled games of the Westlake-Richfield series were canceled and Westlake was declared the winner.

Salinas' ruling, on a lawsuit filed by the Mercedes school board, sought to prevent further delays in the Class 4A playoff by ordering that games cannot be played before 1 p.m. Friday but no later than 8 p.m. the following Friday. The order regarding playing fields pertains to Mercedes' contention it would be at an unfair disadvantage playing on artificial turf, which it is unaccustomed to.

Westlake won championships in 1980 and 1984 and was a semifinalist in 1982-83.

Brenham won titles in 1970, 1975 and 1976 and finished second in 1973, but has not been to the tournament in a decade. Snyder has been to the state tournament seven times, winning its lone title in 1983. It was runnerup in 1960.

As of Wednesday night, school officials were still uncertain how the matter would be resolved.

Joe Spaulding, spokesman for the Eanes Independent School District, of which Westlake is a part, said he expects his district will contact the UIL in an attempt to settle the matter.

"We feel we abided by the rules," Spaulding said. "Our coach went into (the first) night's ball game, and he told the youngsters before the game started that it had been raining and it could rain some more.

Four Snyder youths will be competing at the USTU National Junior Olympic Tae Kwon Do Championships, scheduled to begin Friday at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo.

Tammy Halkowitz, Kent Sutton, Jamey Morton and Rusty Radican will make the trip accompanied by instructors Greg and Donna Gafford.

The four qualified for the nationals by placing in the state tournament. All four will be competing in freesparing competition.

Halkowitz and Sutton are a fifth-degree green belts, Morton is a fourth-degree blue belt and Radican, who placed second at the nationals in 1985, is a first-degree black belt.

Competition begins Friday and will be completed Saturday. Winners in selected divisions may be chosen to attend the Olympic Training Center for advanced training.

The tournament, sanctioned by the World TKD Federation, is one of the first steps towards being chosen for the U.S. Olympic Team.

Hotel wants Lloyd to pay

HOUSTON (AP) - Officials of the Stouffer Greenway Plaza Hotel are trying to collect about $50,000 from Houston Rockets guard Lewis Lloyd for a five-month stay, a hotel spokesman said.

But a spokesman for the athlete said Lloyd and hotel officials were trying to determine just how much he owed because the tab included unauthorized charges by other people without Lloyd's knowledge.

"He was taken advantage of," said Rex Graham, an accountant who has worked on Lloyd's financial records. Graham said he is the brother of Lloyd's agent Peggy McCullough who was unavailable for comment Wednesday.

Lloyd, 27, also could not be reached.

Rangers conquer Minnesota 6-2 in 16-inning marathon

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Minnesota Twins pitcher Allan Anderson didn't record a win in his major league debut, but neither he nor Twins manager Ray Miller was displeased.

"I was excited, very excited," Anderson said after the Twins lost to the Texas Rangers 6-2 in a 16-inning game that didn't end until early today.

"I wish we could have gotten the win, but (Rangers' pitcher) Charlie Hough, geez he's tough. For me, I've always had the dream of pitching in the big leagues and now the dream is true. I've got to keep battling."

Miller said Anderson, who held Texas to two runs and eight hits over 10 innings, "was in command of the game. It's a godsend to see a left-hander throwing strikes like that for us."

Combined with Kansas City's loss, the victory padded the Rangers' lead atop the American League West to four games, the biggest lead in franchise history. The victory was Texas' ninth in its past 10 games.

Hough made it through 13 innings before Rangers manager Bobby Valentine brought in Mitch Williams. The pitching change and a three-run homer by Oddibe McDowell helped give Texas the win.

"The way Hough was pitching - only two sliders and 163 knuckleballs - he probably could have pitched all night. He kept saying he felt great," Valentine said, "but I felt old lucky number 13 was enough."

But Hough felt so good that he could have finished. "I'm pretty honest with him (Valentine), when I'm tired," he said. "But tonight my timing was really good. It helps that the weather conditions in here are consistent and the game was going fast."

Roy Lee Jackson, 0-1, the third of five Minnesota pitchers, took the loss.

McDowell's ninth home run, on an 0-2 pitch from Jackson, came after leadoff singles by Gary Ward and Ruben Sierra, snapping a 2-2 tie. Geno Petralli later doubled home an insurance run for the Rangers.

The Rangers took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Scott Fletcher walked and scored on a double by Pete O'Brien.

Fletcher walked again in the third inning and scored on Toby Harrah's triple to give the Rangers a 2-0 lead. Twins left fielder Mickey Hatcher missed on a diving attempt on the fly ball and the ball rolled to the wall. Harrah attempted to stretch the triple to a homer, but was thrown out at the plate.

The Twins scored in the fourth when Tom Brunansky doubled and scored on a double by Gary Gaetti, who has five doubles in his last two games.

Minnesota tied the score 2-2 in the fifth when Greg Gagne singled and scored on Kirby Puckett's third straight hit, a double down the left field line. Puckett was 4-for-6 in the game.

Braves getting ready to stage area tourney

The Braves, champions of the local Little League, will host an area tournament beginning Monday at Logan Field.

The tournament, which features seven area teams, is not to be confused with the Little League All-Stars Area 5 Playoff, which begins July 7 in Jayton.

The local tournament, single-elimination, begins at 6 p.m. with Rotan and Tri County taking the field. Snyder plays Winters at 8. Only one game will be played Tuesday, June 17, and will feature Merkel and Hamlin at 7:30 p.m.

Ballinger has received a bye and will play the Rotan-Tri County winner at 6 p.m. on June 19. The Snyder-Winters victor will play the Merkel-Hamlin winner at 8 p.m. on the 19th.

The tournament championship game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. June 20. The winner will advance to play the champion of an tournament being held simultaneously in Anson. That game will be held at 7:30 p.m. June 21 at Logan Field.

The Area 5 All-Star Playoff, scheduled next month in Jayton, is the beginning of the series which will sends its champions to further competition, including the state playoffs and, eventually, the Little League World Series.

THIMET®...Crop Safety

UNIVERSITY AND PRIVATE TESTS have proven Thimet 20G applied at 2.5 LBS/A to produce stand counts equal or superior to all other systemic insecticide treatments. Texas A&M extension service and private tests in Texas cotton producing areas have shown Thimet 20G to be as safe to young seedlings as any other systemic insecticide treatments. Thrips control has been consistently acceptable in all cotton producing areas since the 1960's. You can't buy a more economical 4 to 6 week thrips control insecticide than Thimet 20G.

EARLY SEASON CONTROL OF THRIPS & APHIDS!

Why pay more than you need to for insect control? THIMET® 20-G Soil and systemic insecticide protects your cotton and saves you about $3 per acre over the cost of Temik.®

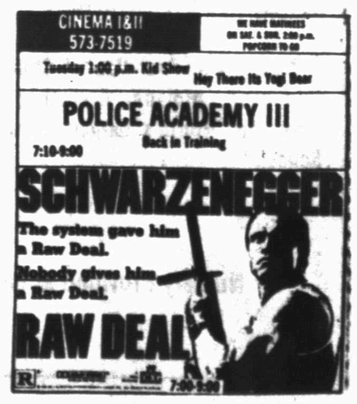

If you're one of the many growers that used THIMET last year, you know it does the job for thrips and aphids when applied at planting. So stick with THIMET for proven protection.

So for the best combination of performance and price, THIMET can't be beat. Ask your farm chemical dealer for THIMET today.

Clemens gets 11th

by The Associated Press

Even a long rain delay and a lack of overpowering stuff couldn't cool off Roger Clemens, the hottest pitcher in baseball.

"He wasn't overpowering. (But) when you're going good, everything falls right for you, and it is for him," Toronto's Dane Iorg said after a 3-2 loss to Clemens and the Boston Red Sox on Wednesday night.

Clemens' victory, fashioned after a rain delay of nearly three hours at the start, raised his record to 11-0. Clemens worked eight innings before Bob Stanley came on in the ninth for his 10th save.

"I got tired, it's one o'clock in the morning, that's all there is to it," Clemens said of his failure to complete the game. "But it was worth the wait."

Elsewhere in the American League, Texas beat Minnesota 6-2 in 16 innings; Baltimore tripped Milwaukee 4-3; California outscored Chicago 12-11; Detroit routed New York 9-3; Cleveland defeated Oakland 7-4 and Seattle turned back Kansas City 12-2.

Orioles 4, Brewer 3

Mike Boddicker and Don Aase combined on an eight-hitter and Cal Ripken extended his hitting streak to seven games with two singles and an RBI to lead Baltimore over Milwaukee.

Angels 12, White Sox 11

Ruppert Jones drove in three runs with a triple and a two-run homer and Brian Downing hit a two-run homer to lead California to a wild triumph over Chicago.

The Angels led 12-6 behind reliever Doug Corbett going into the last of the ninth before Harold Baines hit a two-run homer and Tim Hulett hit a three-run homer. Terry Forster then took over for Corbett and got the last two outs.

The Angels scored three runs in the eighth, capped by Downing's homer, his sixth, off Bill Dawley.

It marked a season-high in runs and hits for the Angels, who amassed 16 hits, including three by Gary Pettis.

Tigers 9, Yankees 3

Lou Whitaker had three hits and drove in two runs while Darnell Coles went 4-for-5 to lead Detroit over the Yankees, only the third triumph in the Tigers' last 12 games.

Ron Guidry, 4-6, absorbing his fifth straight defeat, gave up six runs on nine hits in seven innings. Four of the runs were unearned.

Indians 7, A's 4

Carmen Castillo and Tony Bernazard both hit two-run homers in the fifth inning as Cleveland beat Oakland and sent the A's to their eighth straight loss and 10th straight on the road, matching a club record.

The losing streak is the A's longest since they dropped nine straight in August 1984. With their 10th straight road loss, the A's tied a club record set in May 1981.

Mariners 12, Royals 2

John Moses had three hits and drove in three runs as Seattle piled up a season-high 18 hits in routing the mistake-plagued Royals.

The Mariners, beating the Royals for the eighth time in nine games in Kansas City, chased starter Charlie Leibrandt with seven runs in the second inning and added five in the third.

Stubbs' bat vaults Dodgers past Reds

by The Associated Press

Franklin Stubbs has been hitting his manager and says it helps make him a more rounded player.

The 25-year-old outfielder hit his 11th homer of the season in the fifth inning Wednesday night, then returned in the 11th to single home Mariano Duncan with the winning run in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 5-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The left-handed hitting Stubbs said extra batting practice thrown by manager Tom Lasorda has helped him adjust to his first year of full-time play.

"He has been throwing to me for the the past four or five days," Stubbs said. "I did it to get ready for left-handers. I'm starting to find myself and I'm feeling comfortable out there."

Lasorda said, "We've been working on some things and he's been doing a super job." Stubbs, whose 135 at-bats so far this year have more than doubled his major-league career total, is second on the Dodgers in homers and RBI.

Stubbs' single hung the loss on left-handed reliever John Franco, 0-3. "You try not to hit the ball out of the ballpark in that situation because all you need is a single," Stubbs said.

In other National League games, it was Montreal 4, St. Louis 3 in 10 innings; New York 4, Philadelphia 3; San Diego 11, Houston 7; Atlanta 2, San Francisco 1; and Pittsburgh 5, Chicago 3.

The Dodgers beat the Reds by a run for a third straight night.

Expos 4, Cardinals 3

Jim Wohlford, pinch-hitting, hit a sacrifice fly with one out in the 10th inning that scored Tim Wallach with the decisive run.

Montreal has won four straight, the last three at the expense of the Cardinals.

Mets 5, Phillies 3

Ray Knight hit his eighth home run. He and Gary Carter each drove in two runs. Knight has a 10-game hitting streak.

Ron Darling, 7-2, pitched the first six innings and won his first decision after two losses. Randy Niemann, Roger McDowell and Jesse Orosco finished. Orosco got two outs for his 11th save, pitching for the sixth straight game.

Orosco said the work hasn't been too much. "As a matter of fact, it has felt good all week. I worked a lot in the bullpen and the six games probably covered seven or eight innings. Tonight, Davey told me I can have tomorrow off." The Mets do not play today.

Steve Carlton, 4-6, gave up all five runs on eight hits over 3 1-3 innings, three of the runs in the first inning. He had four strikeouts and a walk.

Padres 11, Astros 7

The Padres broke a 7-7 tie in the eighth with four runs. Garry Templeton's two-run double broke the tie.

The 11 runs gave the Padres their highest total this year.

Braves 2, Giants 1

With two outs in the 10th inning, Ozzie Virgil hit a home run off San Francisco reliever Greg Minton's 3-2 pitch. Starter Scott Garrelts allowed only four hits in nine innings. Minton, 2-4, opened the 10th.

Pirates 5, Cubs 3

The Pirates completed a three-game sweep of Chicago.

Rick Rhoden won his fourth straight decision, helped by his own two-run single in Pittsburgh's three-run fourth inning. Rhoden, 6-3, pitched only 5 1-3 innings and gave up seven hits, with four walks. Three relievers finished, with Don Robinson pitching the ninth inning and getting his first save.

Stacy claims classic title

COLLINS, N.Y (AP) - Cheryl Stacy of Findlay, Ohio defeated Kris Hanson of Granite Falls, Minn. in a five-hole playoff to win the Futures Golf Tour's $12,000 Seven-Up Classic.

Stacey dropped a four-foot par put to claim her second win as a pro and pick up the $1,800 top prize. Hanson, who earned $1,300, missed earlier on an 18-foot putt for par.

SPORTS

Norman tabbed as favorite for this week's U.S. Open

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) - Greg Norman has never won one of golf's major tournaments. Jack Nicklaus, who has won 18, likes Norman's chances this week.

Norman, who is long off the tee but also has a fine touch on the green, says he's ready to try to tame the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club course.

With the 86th U.S. Open getting under way, Nicklaus, the Masters champion who has enjoyed a golfing resurgence at age 46, said Norman has been "striking the ball very well." He tabbed the 31-year-old Australian as the favorite.

"It's a nice feather to have in your cap," Norman, who has won two tournaments in the last six weeks and tied for second in consecutive weeks in April, said of Nicklaus' statement. "I've been playing extremely well."

The 156-player field had to contend with wind. Gusts to 30 mph blew during Wednesday's final practice round. And an already tough course with narrow fairways, heavy rough and a layout lengthened for the tournament, figured to be even tougher.

"I think the winning score is going to be over par," said Tom Watson, winless since 1984 when he captured three events and was the tour's top money-winner. "The rough is extremely penalizing."

Norman is the tour's leading money winner this year with $447,109. He can add $115,000 to that by winning on the 95-year-old course that may be foreign to some players but has a touch of home to Norman.

"We play a lot of wind down in Australia, a lot of small, tight greens, fast greens, so I don't see a lot of difference," he said of the par-70, 6,912-yard spread where an ability to control shots may be more valuable than sheer power

"Anybody that hits the ball strong left to right has got to be a favorite," Norman, who practiced with one such player, Nicklaus, Wednesday, said. "He wants to make this his fifth U.S. Open victory. He's confident.

"I just want to make it my first."

Norman ranks second on the tour in both driving distance and putting. He is sixth in reaching greens in regulation. Calvin Peete, the leader in that category, is among the favorites here because of that ability - to place the ball where he wants.

Seve Ballesteros, Bernhard Langer and Watson, who all have played well on European courses to which Shinnecock has been compared, also are considered contenders.

Sports in summary

FOOTBALL

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) - Quarterback Lynn Dickey is becoming a free agent because he and the Green Bay Packers could not agree on new contract terms, the National Football League club said.

Dickey, 36, has been with the club since the 1970s, serving as starting quarterback most of the time except for frequent bouts with injury. The club said that, because of unsuccessful contract talks, Dickey chose to resign with a settlement of his contract.

SOCCER

MEXICO CITY (AP) - Belgium earned a date with the Soviet Union in the second round of the World Cup, while host Mexico and Paraguay finished 1-2 in Group B on the busiest day of the soccer championships.

By tying Paraguay 2-2 at Toluca, the Belgians assured themselves of one of the four third-place berths awarded for the second round.

REGION CHAMPIONS – Coach Bob Doty poses with the Southwest Region championship women's rodeo team from Western Texas College. The girls, Mistri Davis, Shelly Eldridge and Niki Moist, will be competing in the College National Finals Rodeo which begins Monday at Bozeman, Mont.

Morris to get day in court

MIAMI (AP) - Former Miami Dolphins running back Eugene "Mercury" Morris, awaiting a second trial on cocaine trafficking charges, will get another day in court in an attempt to win his freedom from prison.

Morris, who served three years of a 20-year sentence on cocaine charges before being temporarily released from prison in March after the Florida Supreme Court granted him a new trial, is scheduled to appear in Dade Circuit Court for a hearing today.

Morris played collegiate football at West Texas State University.

The Miami Herald reported Wednesday that Morris would plead no contest to a reduced drug charge in exchange for time served in prison.

Morris, whose phone number was not listed, could not be reached for comment Wednesday. His attorney Joseph Durant could not be reached at his office and his home number is unpublished.

Chief Assistant State Attorney George Yoss, who is handling the case, declined to comment on the case.

A member of the 1972 Dolphins Super Bowl team, Morris was convicted in 1983 on charges of conspiring to traffic in cocaine and two counts of possession of cocaine.

Tulane scandal continues

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - The admitted instigator of a point shaving plot says John "Hot Rod" Williams was a willing participant and helped control the outcome of two Tulane University games near the end of the 1985 college basketball season.

David Rothenberg of Wilton, Conn., was one of three former Tulane students testifying as part of plea bargains Wednesday at Williams' sports bribery trial. The others were Gary Kranz of New Rochelle, N.Y., and Mark Olensky of Fair Lawn, N.J. The three were fraternity brothers at Tulane.

Former players Clyde Eads, Jon Johnson and Bobby Thompson also are expected to be called as prosecution witnesses. Eads and Johnson were granted immunity in return for their testimony, and Thompson made a plea bargain.

Tulane abandoned its men's basketball program last spring in the wake of a scandal that included NCAA violations and point shaving.

Kranz said he made the first contact with the basketball team by supplying Eads and Johnson with cocaine in return for stolen basketball equipment - sneakers, shorts, tank-top jerseys and white warmup suits inscribed "Roll On Wave."

Rothenberg said it was his idea to stage a betting coup by getting the players to shave points - winning by fewer points than the established betting line or losing by more.

Kranz said he didn't want to jeopardize his relationship with Eads and Johnson by broaching the subject, but Rothenberg persisted until he agreed.

Johnson and Eads were cool to the idea to begin with, but warmed to the idea after Thompson was brought into the deal and an agreement was reached to include Williams, the witnesses said.

On Feb. 2, the day of the game against Southern Mississippi, the conspirators - except for Olensky - were convinced they had a deal.

Emergency state declared

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — South Africa today declared a nationwide state of emergency and detained hundreds of anti-apartheid activists prior to Monday's 10th anniversary of the Soweto uprising.

President P.W. Botha's office announced he imposed the state of emergency, which took effect at one minute past midnight (6:01 p.m. EDT Wednesday) and covered the entire country. Botha was to address Parliament late this afternoon.

The new state of emergency was the government's most wide ranging attempt to quell black unrest, which has claimed more than 1,600 lives in anti-apartheid violence since September 1984. A seven-month-long state of emergency lifted March 7 covered less than half the nation. During that state of emergency, 8,000 people were held without charge.

Under the emergency powers, published this afternoon in a government gazette, police can instruct anyone suspected of "endangering public order" to leave an area. If the order is not immediately obeyed, police can used whatever force they consider "necessary under the circumstances."

Police now also have the power the make arrests without warrants, impose curfews, seize property and ban journalists from areas of unrest.

Botha declared the state of emergency after proposals to greatly increase security powers failed to win approval from the tricameral Parliament because of objections by the Indian and mixed-race chambers.

The Azanian People's Organization, a black movement whose officials were detained today, reacted to the state of emergency declaration by urging blacks "not to be intimiated by these totalitarian measures."

The group said blacks should stage strikes to mark the anniversary of the June 16, 1976 riots in the black township of Soweto.

The Soweto uprising set off a chain of violence nationwide that persisted for more than a year and claimed at least 575 lives. The riots are seen by anti-apartheid leaders as a turning point in the struggle to free South African's 24 million voteless blacks from domination by the country's 5 million whites.

First news of the declaration came on a popular music radio station, Radio Highveld, nearly 12 hours after the state of emergency took effect.

Shortly thereafter, police surrounding a church-run building in downtown Johannesburg, Khotso House, told reporters to leave or face arrest.

Also today, South Africa's currency, the rand, plunged to 35.80 cents from 37.10 late Wednesday and hovered just above a record low of 34.80 hit last August. That was when international banks refused to roll over short-term loans.

In today's pre-dawn raids, police seized hundreds of anti-apartheid activists, priests, and student and labor leaders across South Africa, from the tense Eastern Cape through the Orange Free State.

Those arrested were of all races and included leaders of the United Democratic Front, the main anti-apartheid coalition, who with church leaders were determined to defy a government ban on June 16 gatherings to commemorate the Soweto riots.

Lawyers said most people taken into custody were held under an Internal Security Act provision for 14-day detentions. Such detentions often are extended.

Armored troop carriers rolled along the highway in and out of Soweto,

2 incidents said cleared Wednesday

Two recent misdemeanor incidents were reported cleared by police Wednesday.

Investigators said Wednesday afternoon a suspect had been identified in a hit-and-run traffic mishap reported Saturday by Cliff Thomas of 3200 Irving Ave.

Thomas' 1985 Chevrolet had apparently been struck by a vehicle which fled the scene at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

A bike theft reported Tuesday was said cleared when a citizen reported finding the bicycle reported stolen by Jason Bynum of 4119 Jacksboro Ave.

The bike was found in the 4000 Block of Irving Ave. and returned to the owner. No further investigation of the case is expected.

In other action Wednesday, city officers jailed four suspects on misdemeanor charges.

One was jailed for driving while intoxicated and possession of drug paraphernalia and two others for being intoxicated on a premises licensed to sell alcohol.

The fourth subject was arrested on warrants for an unpaid traffic citation issued by the Department of Public Safety.

Flood damage costly

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Taxpayers will have to pay for about $2.7 million in repairs from damage caused to streets, river channels, bridges and buildings during last week's flooding, officials said.

Damage to county roads and buildings has been pegged at $230,000, officials said.

Injuries said treated after 3-vehicle wreck

A Snyder woman and her 7-year-old daughter were said treated for injuries following a three-vehicle traffic accident Wednesday afternoon.

Lila Blakey and her daughter Aleisha sustained minor injuries at 1:18 p.m. when the 1985 Chevrolet driven by the mother was involved in a collision at the intersection of 30th St. and Ave. Z.

Both were taken from the scene to a local physician's office by private vehicle.

Also involved in the mishap were a 1980 Cadillac driven by Eva Nelson of 2706 33rd St. and a 1979 Toyota driven by Robert Cole of 2801 37th St.

Nelson also sustained minor injuries in the mishap but declined medical treatment at the scene.

In addition Wednesday, a minor traffic accident was reported at 9:32 a.m. in the 3600 Block of College Ave.

Involved vehicles were a 1983 Chevrolet driven by Mildred W. McDermett of 4008 Jacksboro Ave. and a 1984 Mercury driven by Mary P. McCown of 4503 El Paso Ave.

No injuries resulted from that mishap.

6 year-old bitten by brown spider

SEGUIN, Texas (AP) — Six-year-old Josh Koenig was just getting ready for school. It was a Monday one month ago, and time for the youngster to head for classes at Lizzie M. Burges Kindergarten.

As the boy reached for a pair of socks from a drawer, he felt a small sting or bite on his hand. At first, it didn't hurt, and the boy went on to school.

Later he visited the school nurse.

"When I went to school, it started stinging a little bit," Josh recalled. "My wrist was going to sleep, and I couldn't hold it up."

Meanwhile, the boy's parents, Jim and Chris Koenig, who manage McQueeney Mill and Grain, remembered an article they had read just a few days earlier in their May issue of Texas Parks and Wildlife Magazine.

Alerted by the fact that the bite hadn't hurt at first, Koenig went to check out the sock drawer.

"Jim went back and pulled out his sock drawer, and right there on top was this brown spider about the size of a quarter," Mrs. Koenig said.

Koenig killed the spider and showed it to county extension agents Gus Person and Eddie Harrison. They confirmed what the parents had recognized from the article. It was a brown recluse spider.

Josh's parents got him to a doctor quickly, and the doctor treated the bite and removed a small plug of skin from the boy's palm to prevent the venom from spreading.

Tourney playoff still in doubt

"Because of two conflicting court orders, one issued in Waco and one in Austin, the Conference 4A state baseball tournament has been postponed until the court cases can be resolved. All other conferences will play at the time and site originally scheduled," the UIL said in a statement.

A UIL spokesman noted that a hearing was scheduled for 2 p.m. Thursday and that further word on the situation may be known by the afternoon.

"To me, it's quite disappointing," said Coach Lewis. "It does no good to have rules and regulations when you don't abide by the rules and regulations. I'm sure it's disappointing to the UIL. It's disarming their authority. Too, our kids are ready to play. We want to settle it on the field, not in the courtrooms."

In Waco, Judge Bill Logue issued a temporary restraining order Wednesday blocking the 4A playoffs until Austin Westlake and Waco Richfield complete a best two-of-three series that was rained out last week with Westlake up 1-0 after edging Richfield 4-3.

However, in Austin, State District Judge Juan Gallardo issued an order blocking the 4A playoffs unless Westlake is allowed to participate.

Then, late Wednesday night, State District Judge Homer Salinas in Edinburg not only ruled that the games could not begin until Friday afternoon but also ordered that the contests be played on grass at Nelson Field rather than on the artificial turf at the University of Texas' Disch-Falk Field.

Salinas' ruling, on a lawsuit filed by the Mercedes school board, sought to prevent further delays in the Class 4A playoff by ordering that games cannot be played before 1 p.m. Friday but no later than 8 p.m. the following Friday. The order regarding playing fields pertains to Mercedes' contention it would be at an unfair disadvantage playing on artificial turf, which it is unaccustomed to.

Lewis said that eventually, the delays would cause the teams to lose their sharpness.

"We've been playing every week and I think beyond Saturday it would take its toll," he said. "After that, you are going to start losing some of their sharpness. Right now, we're making every effort to keep a good mental attitude. We've got to keep it channelled in the right directions."

Bank heist...

'copter robbers are sentenced

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — One of the five men who took part in a daring, daylight, commando-style 1984 robbery of a Leesville bank in which the bandits used a helicopter to vanish into thin air, has been sentenced in U.S. District Court to 10 years in prison.

Russell Ray Kelly, 36, of San Antonio, Texas pleaded guilty in April to federal charges of conspiracy to commit armed robbery and interstate tranportation of stolen money. He was sentenced Wednesday.

In the heist, five heavily-armed men, wearing police SWAT-type uniforms used a jet helicopter stolen the previous day to swoop down on the front lawn of the Merchants and Farmers Bank & Trust Co. of Leesville, and rob it. The men then reboarded the helicopter and flew away.

The robbers made off with $163,000 in the Feb 15, 1984 heist.

The helicopter was later found abandoned in Oklahoma.

All five suspects in the case are in custody.

On Wednesday, Kelly's court-appointed attorney, Walter Sanchez of Lake Charles, told the court that his client participated in the Leesville robbery because he feared for the safety of his family.

Sanchez said Kelly was told accidents could happen to him or his family if he decided to back out of the operation He initially got involved in the robbery after answering an ad in a Houston newspaper seeking ex-Vietnam veterans for mercenary duty.

According to Sanchez, Kelly had problems holding down a regular job because he suffers from the so-called post-traumatic stress disorder that affects many Vietnam veterans.

Sanchez said Kelly later refused to participate in other robberies performed by the group using aircraft as a means of escape.

VA changes announced

Sweeping changes in the VA medical programs have been made by recent legislation, E. H. (Dan) Dever, Jr., Scurry County Veterans Service Officer, said.

Under the new law, the VA is to provide inpatient medical care (hospitalization) to the following veterans:

—with service connected disability.

—discharged or released from military service for a disability incurred or aggravated in line of duty.

—disabled as a result of VA medical treatment or vocational rehabilitation.

—who are former prisoners of war.

—exposed to certain herbicides or ionizing radiation.

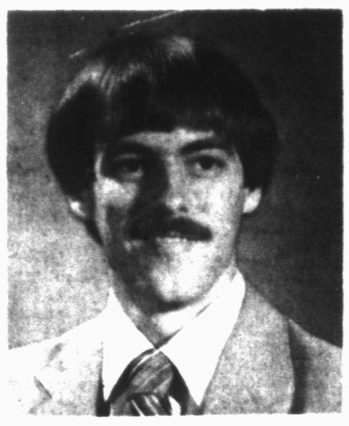

—of the Spanish-American War, Mexican Border Service or World War I.

—Non service-connected veterans with no dependants whose annual income does not exceed $15,000 and veterans with one dependent whose annual income does not exceed $18,000. Income level is increased by $1,000 per year for each additional dependent.

Eligibility for furnishing VA nursing home care or outpatient services remains substantially unchanged. The VA may, within the limits of VA facilities, furnish such care. The provision allowing veterans 65 years of age or older to receive VA hospital care regardless of income is now repealed.

Under the new law, the VA will have the authority to bill private insurance companies for the cost of care. If a private health insurance of a veteran precludes payment to the VA, the VA will not bill the insurance company. However, for all policies issued, renewed or modified after July 1, 1986, the provisions of third party reimbursement will apply.

Veterans who have questions about the new legislation may contact Dever's office in the Western Texas College Administration Building. The office is open Monday through Thursday on the summer schedule and can be reached at 573-8511.

Businessman is slain at hotel

NEW YORK (AP) — A 27-year-old executive from Houston was found dead in his Waldorf-Astoria hotel room, a bullet in the back of his neck.

Gary Ebsworth was discovered lying face down in his $170-a-night room Wednesday morning.

Energy consultant testifies

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An independent oilman from Ada, Okla., is challenging OPEC, futures traders in New York, and federal law to wrestle away a purchaser's ability to set the value of a barrel of crude oil drawn out of the ground in Oklahoma.

Thomas Elwood Kemp is asking the Oklahoma Corporation Commission to set the minimum price of Oklahoma crude at $20 a barrel.

Kemp, owner of the Gloria Corp., and the National Association of Royalty Owners want the three-member commission to dust off a 1915 law granting the regulatory agency the right to set the value of a barrel of oil taken from beneath Oklahoma.

Testimony on his request began Wednesday and will continue Friday.

"We want a fair price for our product," said Kemp, who complained that oil and other U.S. commodities are the only products sold at prices set by the buyer and not the seller.

His arguments for oil price-setting, based on the law written 71 years ago, are being challenged in the case by Phillips Petroleum Co. of Bartlesville and Scurlock Oil Co. of Oklahoma City.

Scurlock attorney Richard Books has asked the commission to dismiss the case. Attorneys for Phillips contend the commission does not have jurisdiction to set prices.

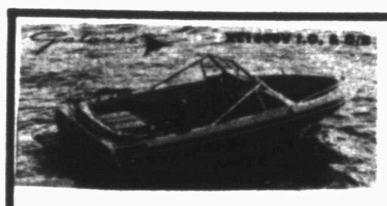

"The whole premise of the act is based on the state's ability to protect the natural resources of the state — the correlative and property rights of mineral owners in the state," said Assistant Attorney General Marc Edwards.

Edwards said the issue hinges on the state's rights versus the burden it would place on interstate commerce, the question of price fixing and whether such a measure would violate antitrust laws.
