Funds For Brownfield Road Virtually Assured

Unexpected Results Are Reported From Trip To Austin

Some early construction can new be expected on the Lamesa-Brownfield road in Dawson county, where approximately sixteen miles of new paved road is virtually assured through county, state and Federal aid. Some of the best news of recent weeks on the project came as a result of a trip this week to Austin. Those who appeared before members of the State Highway Commission were County Judge W. M. Yates, W. W. Beeman, and O. G. Kelly, of the Commissioners' Court, and A. G. Bearden, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Judge Yates acted as spokesman for the delegation and was successful in presenting the county's plans before the Commission, which manifested it's interest with prospective assistance on the project amounting to a sum of befifteen and twenty thousand dollars. Federal funds will be augment this amount considerably and leaders who have been working on the proposed project several months were jubilant over the present prospects of raising some $140.000 for this county's portion of the highway.

J. E. Barron, right of way chairman, and Mr. Yates spent a while Wednesday morning in Lubbock conferring with G. M. Garrett, division engineer, and were informed that it can be expected the State will provide from $15 000 to $20,000 of the money for this project.

Julian Montgomery, state engineer, aided the local delegation a great deal while they were in Austin and was instrumental in assisting them in presenting their plea to other officials.. It was learned traffic has been checked over the route and the commission had already completed a survey of the

Clarinet Quartet Wins National Contest At Abilene

For the first time in history local musicians have won national recognition since the high school clarinet quartet last week was delared National Champions as a result of winning the first division in the clarinet contest in Abilene. Definite report to this effect was released this week by band director Conway E. King, who accompanied the boys to the tournament on Wednesday.

Members of the quartet are Jack Sanders, Russell Clark, Bob Crawley and J. D. Dyer, Jr., all of whom will receive bronze medals signifying their championship title.

Legion Auxiliary Will Raise Funds For War Veterans

Next Saturday, May 28, will be observed as Poppy Day in Lamesa. The annual event is under the sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary of Dawson county, and a committee of this organization will conduct a Poppy Sale on the streets of the city. This observance will be Nation-wide.

The Memorial Poppy is a replica of the poppies which grew on the battlefields of France and Belgium during the World War. It was chosen as the Memorial Flower for those who lost their lives in that conflict. Poppies offered for sale each year are made by disabled war veterans in government hospitals and convalescent work rooms. They are distributed through the Legion Auxiliary throughout the country.

Funds received from this program are used by the Auxiliary for the welfare of disabled veterans; their families and the families of the dead. The poppy campaign each year precedes observance of Memorial Day, and to those who buy and wear a poppy indicate by this action their interest in this worthwhile work by Legion Auxiliary members.

Mrs. T. B. Fulkerson is committee chairman. She reports several young ladies have offered to assist in the sales. Eevery one who is patriotic, or remembers the horrors of the late conflict that has stamped an unerasable mark upon present humanity, is urged to contribute to the cause.

CORRECTION

In another section of this paper the dates are incorrect on the ad for the showing of "Rebecca Of Sunnybrook Farm." The picture is coming to the Palace Theatre Thursday and Friday, June 2 and 3. This film is starring Shirley Temple, who is supported with an outstanding cast.

Spectacular Parade June 3rd Heralds Opening

Plans and arrangements for the rodeo to be staged at Fair Park Friday and Saturday, June 3 and 4th, are rapidly being completed by the committees from the Tornado club, who are working in harmony with rodeo officials. Chutes were being erected at the Fair Grounds and a large arena is due to be erected this coming week.

As announced last week the entertainment is being sponsored by the club to improve the football field and this event is expected to be a huge success, but the cooperation of the entire community is necessary if this is to be accomplished.

Dr. J. M. Harrington, chairman of the horse show and parade, states that a parade will be formed at the Band Hall, one block north of the Plaza hotel, on Houston Street, at 1 p. m. Friday, June 3. He urges all cowgirls and boys, who ride horses to assemble at the hall at one o'clock and especially urges everyone to obtain as colorful shirt as possible. The parade will be led by the Lamesa high school band. First and second prizes will be awarded to the rodeo queen, who is expected to ride in the parade.

Rodeo officials state there will be plenty of action, thrills and prizes. Contestants who enter the roping, riding, bulldogging and cow milking contests, will have the opportunity to compete for attractive awards. Scores are expected to attend the four performances which will be heralded with two parades daily. Highlights of the other entertainment in addition to the rodeo feats will be the crowning of the queen, which will take place inside the arena, and the square dances which follow the performances each night.

Large placards advertising the show have been well distributed in Lamesa, and the committee visited Big Spring, Stanton, Seminole, Brownfield and points between Wednesday when the first advertising tour was conducted. Other towns are to be visited this week and next. It is likely that many from those places will be present at one or more of the performances.

Merchants are cooperating in boosting the rodeo and this will have a tendency to insure it's financial success.

THE REFULAR ARMY AS A CAREER

To all qualified and energetic young men, the Regular Army offers many opportunities. Fabulous wealth is not included among these opportunities but they do include security, training and agreeable work in a pleasant atmosphere and among congenial companions.

The activities of the Regular Army require that they constantly have trained men in the many trades represented, and many of the army posts have the necessary facilities available by which the enlisted men may learn various trades. Many men who show exceptional aptitude in their respective specialities are sent to army service schools. It is only necessary that the men which are included in the Regular Army activities are as follows. Administrative clerks auto and truck drivers, auto mechanics, bakers, carpenters, cooks, photographers, plumbers, power and light electricians, radio operators, radio repairmen, sheet meal workers, stenographers, typists, horseshoers, supply clerks, telephone electricians, teletype operators, telephone repairmen, welders, woodworkers and many others.

A man may enlist with the view of learning a trade or to make the army a career. If he does not have the educational qualifications required of commissioned officers, he may work up in the non-commissioned grades to become a Master Sergeant or perhaps a warrant officer.

Men accepted for enlistment by the army recruiting office located at Sweetwater are sent, at Government expense, to Fort Bliss, Texas, where they are usually vacancies in the Cavalry, Field Artillery, Medical, Veterinary and Quartermaster Corps. Occasionally there are vacancies in the Ordinance Department and Quartermaster Corps. Men are also accepted for assignment to the Medical Department and Quartermaster Corps at William Beaumont General Hospital at El Paso, Texas. At the present time recruiting is closed to all except previous service men reenlisting within 90 days from the time of last discharge. However, this station is taking application for original enlistment.

All enlistments are made in the grade of Private, promotion depending upon the soldier's ability and effort and experience. The grades and pay are as follows: Private $21; Private First Class $30, Corporal $42; Sergeant $54, Staff Sergeant $72, Technical Sergeant $84, and Master Sergeant $126 per month. Privates and Private First Class may be given specialists ratings which pay from $3 to $30 month above their base pay. In addition to the above grades and ratings a man's base pay is increased 5 per cent for each four years service, up to 25 per cent for over 25 years service.

To be eligible for enlistment in the Regular Army the applicant must be an American citizen of good moral character; in good physical condition; between the ages of 18 and 35, if under 21 years of age, consent of parents is required; must have the equivalent of an eighth grade grammar school education; must be unmarried and without dependents; and must be at least 5 feet 4 inches in height with weight in proportion to height.

Summer Class Opens Home Making Work

The summer course in home making was started Tuesday morning with: 40 pupils enrolled. The work is based on home making courses and is carried on with the girls at their homes in the form of projects. A general class meeting is held twice a week for planning reports, demonstration, discussion and field trips

Some typical projects are improving bed-rooms, kitchens, yards, cooking and making summer wardrobes.

Girls are eligible to take the course if they have completed a year in homemaking, and receive one-half affiliated school credit for satisfactory work.

At the first meeting the girls formed a Future Homemakers club which plans to present programs each class meeting and to sponsor the class scials for the year. The girls elected their officers at the first meeting. They are: Billie Louise Standifer, president; Eleanor Simpson, vice-president; Doris Sherman, secretary-treasurer and Geraldine Richardson, reporter.

The class is taught by Misses Gladys Palmer and Eleanor Ragle.

Mrs. S. E. Trailor, who has spent several weeks here visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith, returned to her home in Mt. Pleasant Sunday.

Vegetative Control On Fence Rows

First, a list of some of the frequently mentioned advantages of fence-line burning will be considered. A clean fence line will eliminate drifts. Burning destroys weed seeds and kills brush. Burning kills grasshopper aggs. It makes the place look neat and and saves labor.

Now look at these so-called advantages. The findings will be interesting. It is true that a clean fence line will tend to eliminate drifts, but it is not necessary to burn over ths area to clean it up. By mowing on both sides and as close as possible to the fence, in a few hours time all of the fence lines along roads and drives on most farms can be practically cleared of brush, weeds and grass. To finish the job a man with a scythe could quickly go along the fence cutting out the remaining weeds and brush directly under the fence.

Most weed seed have not only matured but they have been quite generally distributed along the fence lines and into adjoining fields by the time the material in the fence lines dry enough to burn. While a few seeds would undoubtedly be destroyed, the fact remains that the woods should have been cut before the seeds matured. Burning will not destroy the roots of weeds nor brush. In fact, the fire is seldom hot enough to be harmful to the brush in the fence line, but it will kill all small trees.

While a burned fence line may look neat, as well-cut fence lines does not have the barren appearance and looks even neater. If one considers the time required to watch the fence-line fire, to replace burned fence posts, and to put out an occasional fire, as it starts across a meadow or field, the labor saved by burning the fence line would be small indeed.

There are some very definite disadvantages of fence-line fires. In our more intensely farmed areas the fence lines offer protection for wild plant and animal life. One of the great advantages claimed for rural living is the close association with nature. If this is true, then why not use managed conservation of the fence lines for greatest returns? Burning would have no place in this program.

The last point against fence-line burning strikes the pocket book. The heat of grass fires is sufficient to melt the zinc coating from the fencing near the ground, and frequently the grass is heavy enough that even the top wires are relieved of their rust-protective zinc coating. These black wires rust quickly resulting in early fence wire replacements and increase cost of fencing.

Big Response Given In This Section To National Air Week

Favorable reports on National Air Mail Week, are pouring in from virtually every section of West Texas, and throughout the country. Results obtained in test flights by feeder planes in this section are expected to result in establishing a permanent line from Amarillo to San Antonio, and officials are working on this project to serve Lubbock, Amarillo and San Antonio. In the course of time Lamesa and points in between will be served if proper steps are taken.

Observance of Air Mail Week here were somewhat disappointing in that some failed to realize the importance of this test. Some 507 pieces of air mail passed through the local office, and the maximum of 334 pieces was reached on Thursday when the mail was worked into other pickups from neighboring towns.

The pilot flying this route out of Lubbock failed to stop at the new proposed air field five miles north of Lamesa, and it was necessary for Postmaster Taylor to call Big Spring. Ray Baumbardner flying the No. 1 route to Seminole and Andrews made the local stop and the mail was taken on the scheduled flight for immediate distribution.

Big Spring reported several thousand pieces of air mail during the week and 1 207 letters were checked up to Wednesday night with merchants and the Chamber of Commerce cooperating for the maximum air mail poundage on Thursday. From Lubbock came reports all records of any other week in the history of the postoffice there were broken. 5,770 pieces of Lubbock's contribution to the success of the event and 4.5[illegible] of that total were mailed on Thursday when test planes connected with trans-continental lines at Amarillo.

State Certificates May Be Required Of Domestic Servants

Austin, Tex. May 23.—"Servants in the home can be a potent source of disease transmission," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer; "unless they are examined periodically by a physician so they can be rendered non-infectious of the communicable disease should such diseases exist."

"There is a state law requiring food handlers in public places to have health certificates but this law exempts domestics. So the responsibility falls upon the employer.

Persons of all races are employed in Texas as cooks, maids, nurses and laundresses. As such they come in intimate contact with the grown-ups and children in the family. If the servant harbors any communicable disease the health of the employing family is endangered.

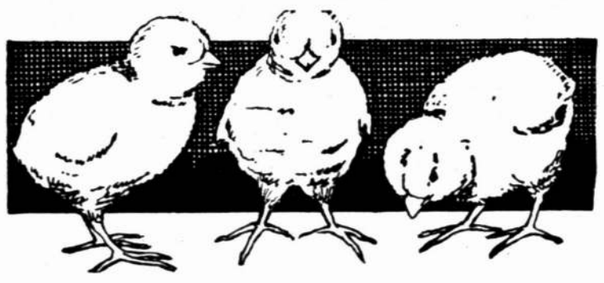

Diseases transmittable in this manner are: tuberculosis, syphilis, typhoid fever, dysentry, diphtheria and other acute contagious diseases. A typhoid carried can easily infect an entire family. A syphilitic cook or nursemaid is able to transmit the venereal disease through contact with food, unsterilized dishes and in playing with children. Tuberculosis is very easy of transmission.

"The Texas State Department of Health recommends that all employers have their family physician examine their house servants from time to time to eliminate any danger of contracting these diseases. Treatment should be instituted promptly when the servants are diseased. The cost is negligiblye when compared to the cost of illness and family death," said Dr. Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaines Davis of Lubbock visited her mother, Mrs. Effie Dean Sunday.

FARM NOTES

By JOE C. WILLIAMS

1938 Farm Program

Soil building practices for earning the soil payment or soil conserving payments.

One acre equals one unit, which means one acre of sudan, peas, soy beans, millett, cane with the crop left on the ground will count as soil conserving acre left on the ground will earn the Soil Conserving payment which is fifty cents per acre, these crops may be turned under.

The following are the units of value. One unit, 200 feet of properly constructed terraces with proper outlet contour ridging of non-crop open pasture land 750 feet. Small grain turned under as green manure crop.

2 acres equal one unit interplanted peas must occupy at least one-third of the land and a good stand and good growth left on the land or plowed under.

Example—30 acres grain sorghum planted two rows grain sorghum and one row peas will classify as 30 acres sorghums and 10 acres peas. and the peas will count at the rate of 2 acres per unit. This does not mean that peas will count as rented acres.

4 acres equal one unit. Contouring or furrowing non-crop land (idle land) Strip cropping other than for protection of summer fallowed acreages. Example—4 rows cotton alternating with 4 rows grain sorghums, cane, sudan or peas or soy beans.

Protecting summer fallowed acreages from wind and water erosion by contour listing or basin listing, or strip cropping. No credit for this practice on light sand soils.

Eight acres equal one unit—Contour listing or basin listing on the acreage of summer fallowed land not covered under the practice listed above.

Ten acres equal one unit—Contour seeding of small grain crops for harvest in 1938.

Example—30 acres of wheat or oats planted on the contour will count as three units.

Basin listing—not on contour. Example—10 acres basin listed (straight rows) will count as one unit.

L. D. Parker of Plainview community reports that his land did not suffer any damage from the recent sand storms that have been blowing over the county. Mr. Parker states that the reason for the crop land not being damaged was on account that the land is being farmed on the contour. He stated that several of the farms near his place had considerable damage as a result of the high winds, and of course the farms were not farmed on the contour or terraced.

Three Lamesa ladies recently made a trip to Lubbock and reported that farms near the highway enroute to Lubbock held the rains that fell on the land, on those farms that were being farmed on the contour and terraced. This lady who made the observation went further to state that she believed that all this county farm land should be at least contoured if not terraced in order to protect the land from wind and water erosion. This person has in the past owned in this county, and said "It looks like any farmer can see the way the rains are held on the land on crop land that is terraced or contoured." I cannot see why any farmer does not see the advantage of holding all rain on the land as well as preventing damage from these sand storms."

GOOD RESPONSE REPORTED FOR STORE OPENING

Several hundred persons visited in the new Dyer Hardware and Auto Parts Store which opened on South First Street last Saturday. Mr. Dyer stated that response to his opening was by far greater than anticipated and attributed the successful opening to the publicity given this event. He stated that many persons said they were unaware of the fact that he was even planning to open a store until they read accounts of it in the papers.

Mr. Dyer does have a very complete stock of hardware, auto parts, and electrical appliances together with countless articles and household needs.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

There will be something doing at the Methodist church all summer. We had a great day last Sunday and we are going to have another next Sunday. Don't ask about what's going on at the Metnodist church, come and see. The "Ninety-and-Nine" next Sunday evening is going to be one of the most interesting of our Sunday night series of services. It will be worth coming to hear your children sings "Wandering Child O Come Home" Three solois s, one of them the youngest, perhaps, ever to appear in this church. The sermon will not be omitted.

"Hen-Pecked Husbands and Foolish Wives" sounds too sensational for some sensitive souls, so for their sakes we will change it to, "The Unhappy Marriage". But reserved seats will still be provided for the hen-pecked husbands. You will not be disappointed in this service. Coming June 5, 8, and 15 p. m.

Next Sunday morning will be the first of a series of sermons on the Apostles Creed, to be given at the morning hour. The first three will be given in the following order.

Next Sunday, 11 a. m. "Conceived of the Holy Ghost and Born of The Virgin Mary". June 5. "The Holy Catholic Church" and June 12, "The Resurrection of The Body." Through the Creation Doctrine we have found that some of the statements in the Creed besides itself. Some believe it to be out of date and should be discarded Come and hear the above statements discussed and explained. We do our best to make every service at the Methodist church worth while.

T. C WILLETT, Pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanson Hurt and children left Sunday for Albuquerque, New Mexico, where they will spend several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tinsley, Mr. and Mrs. Connelly Baldwin and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dyer spent the weekend fishing in Christoval.

Ice Refrigeration Shows Best Results By Proper Handling

Miss Gladys Wright, home management supervisor for the Farm Security dministration. calls attention to housewives to check upon the condition of their refrigerators. She states hat outdoor temperatures of 70 degrees and more make vastly greater he dificulty of keeping refrigerators t or under 45 degrees, according to authorities on refrigeration. Cleanliness and proper placement of food is absolutely essential whether you own n iced or a mechanical refrigerator.

To keep food unspoiled the housevife must keep the refrigerator spotlessly clean. It is not necessary to use hot water in cleaning the inside of the efrigerator, for this means an increase n temperature. Cleaning will be governed by the type of refrigerator you wn. The refrigerator in the modern ome gets no vacation. Although summer is its busiest season. Most households rely upon it the whole year hrough as the only safe place for erishable foods. Due to this fact, too much nannot be put on cleanliness in uarding the safety of the family's food supply.

Now, with the importance of cleanliness well in mind—how does the placing of food and containers effect the efficiency of my refrigerator How is the circulation of the cold air hampered when paper is left around foods?

Each and every refrigerator manufacturer has studied the problems of placing food in the various types he sells. Thereore, if you are interested in getting the best results from your unit with the least expense in operation, follow the chart accompanying your refrigerator. Over crowding is one of the worst faults in the care of the modern refrigerator. If in doubt, look at your own. How important is good circulation within your body? It is equally important for your refrigerator. Refrigerator dishes that fit well into the spaces provided for storage may help to solve the overcrowded problem. When food is left wrapped in heavy wrapping paper it keeps the cold air from the food and increases the operating cost. When foods are placed in heavy crockery an extra amount of electricity or fuel is used before the food in it becomes cold. The new oiled silk covers are a boon to better refrigeration with les current involved.

To save money and less cleaning do not place hot foods in the refrigerator. Opening the refrigerator unnecessarily also plays its part in running up the operation costs.

Ackerly Farm Boy Winner of Small National Prize

7 Texas 4-H Club Boys Listed Among Winners

R. E. Dillard, 4-H club boy of Ackerly was among seven Texas boys to place in the Fourth National Farm Account Contest recently judged in Chicago by a committee of Agricultural Extension Specialists. Dillard was one of five to win $5 for his record orn full year's business on the farm. The prize was comparatively small, but the fact that 549 clubsters in 35 states participated made this a distinct honor.

The club members were required to show all receipts and expenditures, and opening and closing inventory, and suggest means of improving the net farm income.

Ted Kreuz, 18, Corpus Christi, a $25 winner kept his record on a 75-acre farm-home which he believes can be made to yield a higher net income by producing and feeding better balanced rations to livestock and poultry and providing a larger home food supply for the family. Wallace Krueger, 18, of Encinal, won a $10 prize on records he kept on the 200-acre farm-home, and the following won $5 prizes: R. E. Dillard, Ackerly; Robert C. Hawk Shamrock; Jack Hoover, Post; Henry Kveton, Abernathy and Harley Wallace, Post.

The contest was conducted by the State Extension Service and all awards were provided by the International Harvester Company, which is offering 805 prizes totaling $8,500 in the 1938-39 contest now under way.

The National prize of $500 went to Donald Mosher of DeKalb, Illinois, and 541 other boys and girls won prizes amounting to $8,565.

Annual Reunion Staged on Friday Was Well Attended

E. C. Nix Elected Head Of Arrangements Second Time

H. Hayden Barron was master of ceremonies for the Old Settlers' Reunion that was attended by more than a thousand Dawson county old timers and their families last Friday. Local and former residents gathered at the City Park, long before noon and engaged in discussions of earlier days while the luncheon was being prepared. Informality marked the occasion.

During the early part of the day E. C. Nix, president, gave a few remarks and read the list of those who had died since the last reunion. Visitors were welcomed by M. C. Lindsey, former County Judge, who has resided here since 1907. Other speakers were J. E. Garland, J. W. C. Mullins, who came here in 1891, and others.

E. C. Nix was re-elected president; E. R. Yates, vice-president and W. V. P. Baker was named secretary-treasurer.

Registration was in charge of Mesdames W. L. Marr, Dixie Kilgore, Nelson Cope and A. M. Bennett. Many failed to register, but more than 350 filed their names and addresses. Lamesa had 257, who had lived in the county twenty years or more.

Visitors were present from Plains, Tahoka, Hobbs, New Mexico, Dayton, Levelland, Sparenberg, Slaton, Dimmit Big Spring, Lubbock, Los Angeles, Utopia, Renzi, Miss., and Lubbock. Two families were present from California, those being the J. A. Wyatt and R. D. Simpson families.

Chas. T. Hatchett Was Guest Speaker At Rotary Luncheon

Chas. T. Hatchett, teacher of diversified occupations in the high school, was a guest speaker at last Friday's Rotary Luncheon, which was held at the Williams hotel. He gave a detailed address on the class-work, explaining the objectives and purpose of this vocational course and told of the progress that has resulted since the work became a part of the high school curriculum in 1935.

Rotarians from Tahoka, who were present, included Tom Garrad, who is vice-president of the State Board of Education and also a member of the State Board of Vocational Education. He spoke briefly and complimented Lamesa on it's wonderful school system. Wynne Collier, president of the Tahoka club was also present and made a brief statemen. Other visitors included Thomas Hurt of Chapel Hill Tennessee. Mr. Hurt will be in this city for about two months, while his brother Swanson is on vacation.

Recently Joe H. Pierce and Rev. D. J. Murray, who were delegates to the Breckenridge conference, gave reports of the Rotary Convention. It was reported at that time the new district governor is Linton H. Estes, of Whicita Falls.

CAMPAIGN MOST SUCCESSFUL AT BARGAIN RATE

The Courier circulation thus far has met with great success. Additions to our subscription list places our paper in an estimated nine-tenths of the homes in every community, and we believe the most complete coverage of any newspaper anywhere in a city the size of Lamesa. But we are not satisfied the Courier must be placed solid in every home in this community, therefore, we bring you this bargain rate of only fifty cents for renewal or new subscriptions.

One of the factors in our wide spread reader interest is the fact that in some instances the paper is passed from one family to the other, and we thank those who are generous enough with their copies to let the neighbor read them. Now is the time for all subscribe while the half price rate is still effective.

Our paper is going to be better as time goes on. This being election year should be another factor to be considered. There will be much interest in this event alone and you will want the results of the county and state. Those who take the paper find the short cuts to many bargains offered each week through display and classified advertisements. Then, too, your local community happenings are of vital interest to each and everyone. These are contained each and every week with county-wide coverage.

New subscribers and renewals on the honor roll this week include G. W. Bryson, Bonnie Culp, E. L. Wade, W. M. Lankford, J. M. Slover, W. V. Love, N. D. Goodson, Edwin Huse, Jacob Reithmeyer, Alvah Norris, Harry L. Houston, E. L. Waldrip, C. W. Hoskins, E. M. Stafford, E. C. Gibson, H. T. Griffin, Bill Norris, Josie Reed, J. M. Holt, D. S. Day, O. C. Lawler, J. T. Broughton, T. J. Holman, J. W. Strong, Olan Wise Charlie Smith and Dr. B. C. Bain.

MANY PRESENT FOR ADDRESSES ON PENSION LAW

X. Garson, state chairman of the Social Security organization, who is the editor of Human Security, a publication seeking to digest human relations in the light of truth, in company with R. C. Dial, chairman of the organization at Greenville, visited Lamesa on Saturday and Sunday. The two were on an extended trip through West Texas to Lubbock, where Mr. Carson was the principal speaker at the delegate's convention of the 19th Congressional District.

W. R. Randolph, president of the Dawson county organization and other members had requested that some one address this group and on Saturday afternoon Mr. Dial made a talk to a large assembly in the county courtroom. At this time he urged all members to stick together and cooperate with each other and nothing could prevent their success.

Mr. Carson returned here Sunday, when a scheduled meeting was called and a large number heard his address. Mr. Dial again appeared on the program and spoke briefly. Mr. Carson talked of the merits and abuses of the State Old Age Pension Law.

It seems the Social Security organizations were recently formed and are being formed throughout Texas primarily for the purpose of electing state officials who favor the old age pension payments.

WELCH H. D. CLUB REPORT

"It is estimated that 600,000 Texans have had syphilis have it now or will have it," said Mrs. W. T. Meeks to the Welch Home Demonstration club May 18 in the home of Mrs. Bert King.

Further 420,000 Texans 40 years of age or over remain potential syphilis treatment problems. It is one of the deadliest of a killers in the state's history. Syphilis exacted the toll of 629 lives in 1936. Unless something is done to stop the spread of this disease the state of Texas expects 24,000 new cases each year. It does one hundred times as much damage annually as infantile paralysis. A concensus of medical historians shows the dread disease was originally discovered in the West Indies in 1493.

Thirteen members and two visitors, Mrs. Otto Shepherd and Miss Mattie Lou Turner attended this meeting.

FEED WAREHOUSE AND PLANT AT DAWSON COUNTY COTTON OIL MILL IN OPERATION

One of the principal warehouses and manufacturing plants of the Dawson County Cotton Oil Company, which recently collapsed under a strain of 2,500,000 pounds, has been repaired after several weeks and work was resumed in the plant this week. The store house on the north side of the plant was practically re-built and machinery used for the manufacture of cake feed products was re-adjusted after having been forced out of place by the force of the crash.

SPARENBERG BAPTIST CHURCH

Had another banner day last Sunday. Our attendance was fine. A good B'ble study was enjoyed by all. If you were not there you missed a blessing. It makes our good superintendent smile when our attendance goes over the top. Do you like to see him smile? Then be in Sunday school each Sunday in your place. The church bought three lots adjoining our building on west for the purpose of building a parsonage in the near future The price was $75 and the money has been raised to pay cash. This is a step in the right direction for the good church.

The W. M. U. of Sparenberg Baptist church of which Mrs. Burmie Williams is the efficient president, had the ladies of Wilson church over last Monday in their meeting. Mrs. Middleton our associational president from Ackerly discussed the work and problems of our women work. This discussion was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served to the nineteen ladies that were present. All enjoyed the afternoon study and fellowship together.

The attendance Sunday at Wilson Baptist church was good last Sunday. We hope it will continue to grow until every person in Wilson community is a regular attendant in some Sunday school. Let us see to it that our minds and hearts are centered on Christ as a church and determine that nothing shall stop us from doing his bidding. We are not in the Peanut Business. But in business for our King. The business of witnessing to the Loving Grace of our Savior. How can we afford to let petty things hinder us? Let us have only one index finger and that pointing to Lamb of God who is able to save.

The pastor will be away next week to attend the Evangelistic Conference at the Seminary in Fort Worth. You will remember him in your prayers, and please everyone don't forget the prayer service next week, come with your Bibles, there will be either a guest speaker or a good program that will do you good. Psalm 32:11.

The church with a friendly welcome

Mayor W. L. Marr has a bull frog over at the fish pond back of the city hall that he thinks would be good material for Robert Ripley's famous "Believe It Or Not." This frog is comparatively small in size yet it hustles for birds, which it eats occasional. The other day the mayor and a friend Bill Shelton, were chatting in the official's office. Their attention was focused on the pond just outside the office when one or the other noticed the sparrow lite on a little island and almost immediately was caught by the frog that leaped from it's hiding place some eight or ten inches away, and then dived under the water, where it was expected that it devoured the bird.

Both the mayor and Mr. Shelton were amazed. Mr. Marr related that it was noticeable that birds made less frequent trips to the pond within recent weeks. He was of the opinion it must have been catching birds for some time.

The frog was obtained a few months ago when Mr. Marr saw it in the cage with a group of rattlesnakes that a transient was exhibiting in Lamesa His sympathy was aroused to the point he asked the transient if he might have the frog. With his request granted, it was placed in the municipal pond where the official has proudly watched it day after day.

Birds were said to have been fed to the snakes which were caged in the box and it was considered the frog by some instinct of nature acquired it's habit from the company with those reptiles.

4-H club boys and girls of the county really take their club work seriously and as a result from time to time some boy or girl's name appears on the state honor roll for their achievement. A few weeks ago it was announced through the Courier that Arlee Gowan and R. B. Wilkerson were selected in the group of the 100 best club boys in Texas, and were selected to receive the gold star awards, when the annual Farmers' Short Course is opened in the early summer at Texas A. and M. College.

Today we have been informed that R. E. Dillard, 4-H club boy of Ackerly was among the seven Texas members placing in the Fourth National Farm Account Contest, which was judged in Chicago. Dillard won a small prize of $5, but the fact that entries were filed from every section of the country from 549 Clubsters in 35 states, is evident that the Dawson county boy must have had a mighty good record.

While talking to the 4-H club boys' president, R. B. Wilkerson this week we learned that 4-H boys and girls are making plans to attend the Short Course. Several of them will go on judging teams while others are planning to raise a little money in various ways to defray expenses of the trip. The state department will supply the necessary food and shelter during the program and there will not be a great expense for the trip to and from the college.

The club president is also an enthusiastic supporter of the Union School where he is a senior student next year. He was telling us about the new gymnasium that is planned at this school and which is hoped will be completed during the vacation period. This consolidated school was erected a short while back and represents an improvement already of $35,000. It is approximately seventy-five yards long now and the addition is expected to make it almost 100 yards in length.

County Agent Joe C. Williams, this week mailed every farmer in the county a pamphlet which was released through the United States Department of Agriculture. It explains how the AAA Farm Program will operate in 1938. The program is a continuation of the agricultural conservation program of the past two years, with strengthening amendments and new provisions designed to make it more helpful to all farmers and to the Nation.

One can read this pamphlet through time and again, and each time is re-read these is some new explanation brought out that may have been overlooked in the first reading. Many farmers state they will stick to this information for their handbook on the '38 program. Detailed information on all phases of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of the current year is contained.

If you see a Lamesan running madly down the street, or a crowd watching him—don't get excited—it's just another person chasing their straw hat. Both men and women are discovering that the recent high winds are playing havoc with their straw "katies." Walking demuredly down the avenue the women usually find themselves fighting to keep their skirts down. The men engrossed in heavy thinking, concerning their business duties, suddenly find themselves sprinting pell-mell down the street after their newly purchased hats

Uniform Milk Control Program Protects Health

In a recent issue of the State Department of Health Bulletin, M. Pierson of the Department wrote the following lengthy item concerning the uniformity in milk, which should prove of real benefit to Courier readers.

Prior to 1924 milk borne sckness in Texas was appallingly frequent, but things have changed since then. At the present time if a few cases of septic sore throat or one case of typhoid fever should be traced to a public milk supply, there would be a great upheavel in the community. Why? Because the milk consumers in Texas have learned that milk borne sickness is unnecessary. They have come to appreciate the fact that a public milk supply, under the careful supervision of a conscientious health department can be made safe and kept that way. Not only is this true in Texas but at least thirty other states.

Public health milk control today is regarded as a necessity and is an almost universal demand among well informed people. We find the 1931 report of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection this statement:

"The recurring milk-bourne epdemics with their annual total of sickness, deaths and economic loss should be considered in the light of impressive evidence that milk control officials, milk distributors, and dairymen have a tremendous responsibility in securing for the consuming public a clean and safe milk.

Now that we have returned to the ways of our infancy and get our milk from the bottle which is produced and processed at a distance under conditions of which we are ignorant, it becomes imperative that some method of official supervision be exercised for the protection of public health. The only od remaining therefore is what method method would best serve the purpose.

Briefly stated the Standard Milk Ordinance provides a standard which is destined to produce clean milk and to prevent its infection by disease producing organisms during its production and subsequent handling and for labeling according to grade. The standard set is for grade "A" milk with provisions for three lower grades, "B," "C," and "D". The City awards the grades and these are checked periodically by the State Department.

One of the best testimonies of the uselessness of any public health measure is its widespread popularity. The milk ordinance is now a national unified milk sanitation program. In 1932 before the SMO was promulgated, the greatest confusion prevailed in milk control throughout the country.

The daily consumption of market milk (in the 23 cities surveyed) increased 24,000 gallons per day to 40,000 gallons per day, an increase of 67 per cent, only part of which was the population increase.

During this period of time it is estimated that combined population of these 25 cities increased an average of 21 per cent.

Elementray School Pupils Get Diplomas at Commencement

Event Marked Closing Of Successful Term Friday

Graduating exercises at the Lamesa elementary school last Friday afternoon attracted many parents and friends of the eighty-eight students who were promoted to their first year in the high school. This was the largest group to receive their diplomas in the history of the school, and therefore it was considered likely the largest attendance for the program.

Following the processional, which was played by Mrs. Weldon Lindsey, Rev. J. D. Murray gave the invocation. The class song, "The Coming of Spring" was rendered by the class, and this was followed with a reading "Life's Mirror," which was given by Miss Doris Dale Wray. The boys sextette sang, "Kentucky Babe."

Those composing the sextette were Jack Hardesty, Harold Norris, James Boone, L. C. White, Owen Taylor Jr., The class valedictorian, Martha Lou Murray gave a reading, "What I Live For," and the class address was delivered by Rev. T. C. Willett, pastor of the Methodist church.

Rev. Willett selected his subject from the scripture of the twenty-eighth chapter of Acts and verse three. His remarks bore out among several impressive thoughts, this point, "Do Not Warm By a Fire That You Are Not Willing to Help Keep Burning." He stated this is an important principal of life and closed his address with congratulations to the class and extended his best wishes that all might continue through high school together.

G. M. Roberts, principal, spoke briefly before presenting the diplomas. He said they have had a very pleasant year despite the crowded condition. Thirty pupils graduated at mid-term and the present group represented a fairly large crowd. Mr. Roberts reported that twenty-four perfect attendance records were issued for the year to pupils in the entire school system at this school.

Those receiving diplomas were Nora Avant Jimmie J. Baldwin, Lavoy Ballew, Mary Frances Barnard, Ina Ruth Barron, Betty Billingsley, Bobbie Bockman, James Boone, Glenn Boswell, Jr., Mildred Burns, Harold Caldwell, Keith Carson, Velta Childers, J. D. Possibility Seen Gail Pupils Might Enter Local School

According to indirect reports, the citizens of Gail, Borden county, are considering the proposition of sending some or all of their high school grade pupils to Lamesa next year under the State Free High School tuition plan.

It is reported that the number of pupils at Gail is such that many school activities and subjects cannot be made available for their pupils and that the time for travel will be materially shortened with the development of the highway between the two county seats and this work is expected to be underway soon after July 1st, of the current year.

The Gail pupils would be received as are others from nearer districts.

VEHICLE WAS DAMAGED IN FIRE LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

A 1936 Ford Tudor, owned by L. I. Dean, was badly damaged last Friday night when it caught fire. A considerable damage resulted to the upholstery seats, mechanism and top after fire that originated from a cigarette made good head way before the firemen arrived. It was Mr. Dean's opinion that fire resulted from a cigarette which he had been smoking in the car earlier. The fire was a small loss as no insurance was carried.

DAN DAVIS ANNOUNCES STORE CHANGE

Municipal Water Supply Agumented Through Old Well

The city water supply was augmented to a great extent this week when one of the old wells, on the city hall lot, was again put on the pump and the water was due to have been piped into the mains this week. Forty feet of four inch pipe was ordered from Lubbock whereby connection could be made from the well to the near-by pump house west of the City Hall.

While the well was being cleaned out it tested 125 gallons of water per minute which will supply approximately 124,000 gallons of additional water daily.

Since there has been an increase in water consumption the city was faced with a possible water shortage, but since the old well has again been put into service, officials feel there will not be an immediate need for new wells.

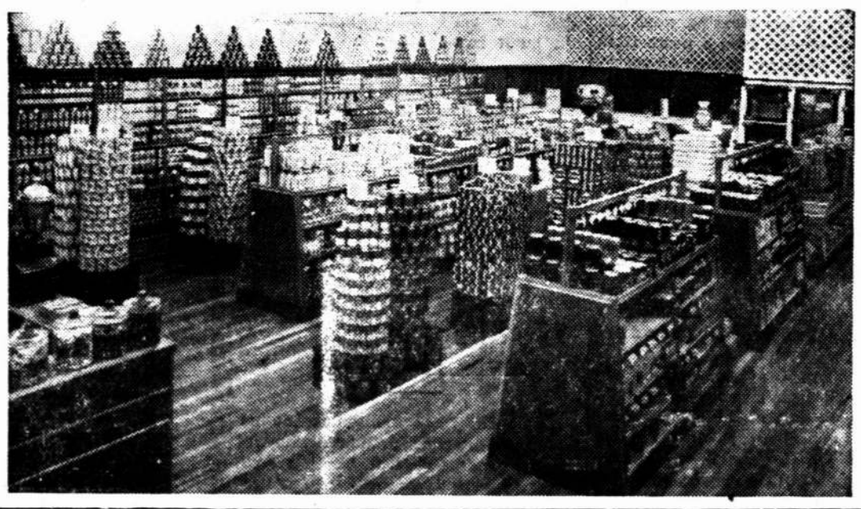

To The People Of Dawson County

In announcing my candidacy for the office of county treasurer for another term, I wish first to express my deepest appreciation and gratitude to you for having given me this office heretofore. It has meant much to me, not only in being the best job I have ever had, but I feel that the friends I have made are worth much more to me. I hope that I shall ever merit your confidence. I have done my best to make an efficient officer and I believe the experience I have had has better fitted me for the office, should I again be your choice. I shall do my best to see each one of you before the coming election; however, I believe most of you understand that it is hard for the office holder to do a great deal of campaigning unless he neglects his work and I will not do that. So should I fail to see you, please do not think that I did so intentionally. I should like to have you consider this a personal solicitation for your vote and influence in the July primary.

Respectfully,

MRS. ANNIE CROW

Junior Delphian Seated Tea Wednesday at Country Club

Affair Is Climax To Seven Years Work Here

Coming as a climax to one of the most interesting and profitable years' work the Junior Delphians held a seated tea at the Country club Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. The club colors of blue and silver were carried out in decorations and the club flowers larkspur helped to further the flower garden motif which was also the theme of the program.

The house party included Mrs. W. P. Avriett, first vice-president of the Federated clubs of the State, Mrs. L. M. Pratt, sponsor of the club, Mesdames Ralph Stuart, E. R. Yates, O. E. Dunlop, past sponsors and Mrs. Russell Clark, president of the senior Delphian club and the entire personnel of the Junior club.

The girls were beautifully gowned in long flowing afternoon dresses and were seated in a semi-circle of lawn chairs, The decorations of greenery over the fire place and mantle formed a back ground that was very effective. When all of the guests had passed down the receiving line and had been served delicious punch sand tarts and minature open faced sandwiches, from the beautifully appointed table carrying out the club colors in the centerpiece and tapers all were seated and Inez Sharp, who has made a very capable president, extended the welcome and paid tribute to the mother club the sponsors, and to all the past presidents; Virginia Lindsey, Jeanette Bennett, Carol Jacobs, Mary Ellen Lambeth, Elmerine Barron and Kathleen Webb.

Around the garden with the Junior Delphians, and original number served to acquaint the audience with the ideals and accomplishments of the club. The word "Junior Delphians" were spelled out, by each girl holding her key letter, silver on blue and made a very pleasing picture in its entireity.

Elizabeth Smith played, "In a Country Garden" in her pleasing way, and Martha Lou Martin read a poem from Jan Isabelle Fortunes garden of verses.

Carol Jacobs and Virginia Lindsey read the verses of "Savey Sue" and the entire club sang the chorus. An abridgement from Fannie Hursts "Humeresque" was read by Ella Katheryne Temple to the delight of her audience.

The lovely program under the direction of Mrs. L. M. Pratt came as the last regular program of the Junior Delphian club, since practically its entire membership graduated this year and most of them will be going away to college.

Many delighted affairs can be associated with these girls and a splendid piece of work has been done by their club. It is expected that on the return from college at various holidays these young ladies will re-assemble for parties and visits together for their associations have been so close through out the years there can be no end to their friendship.
