Russia Affirms Possession Of A-Bomb

Refugee Reveals Locations Of Four Red Atom Projects

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK —(NEA)— Russia is working on atomic energy projects in at least four huge plants, known as "atomic fortresses," according to information given me by an escaped Soviet industrial official.

In these areas are concentrated the efforts of hundreds of captured German scientists, key Russian atomic experts and thousands of forced laborers. Latest information from spies in the United States, Canada and Great Britain, and the findings of Frederic Joliot-Curie, French atomic energy commissioner and high-ranking Communist, are communicated quickly to these centers, according to my informant.

I am able to state from personal knowledge, that United States intelligence authorities have knowledge of the fortress locations. They consist of complicated plants surrounded by hundreds of miles of no-man's land, patrolled by the MVD Security Police.

Blast Site Unknown

Information is lacking as to the location of the atomic blast inside Russia, which was announced by President Truman, but it could have taken place at any one of the following experimental centers:

At Sukhum, in southern Trans-Caucasia, on the Black Sea. (My informant said he worked on the construction of an atomic fortress at Sukhum as far back as September, 1939, at the time of the invasion of Poland.)

In the Central Asian Desert of Kara-Kum, south of Lake Aral, in Turkmenistan, and in the southern zone of the Urals. This fortress is not far from the border of Iran and is surrounded by 700 square kilometers of no-man's land. (My informant said that at the beginning of 1946 thousands of forced laborers were working on extensions of this plant and proving ground. He said many of these prisoners since have been executed on various pretexts and few ever would leave there alive.)

American Machinery

Near Zlatoust, south of Cheliabinsk. The Ural atomic laboratories here are served by high power lines drawn from the most powerful generators in the Urals industrial network. Zlatoust is the site of the oldest arms manufacturing center in Russia, founded by Peter the Great. It is equipped with American machinery. According to credible reports, Prof. Peter Kapitza, the famous British-Russian scientist, is alive and working in this plant. He was detained in Russia while on a visit before the war.

At Tashkent, in Uzbekistan. This is headquarters for the leading Russian atomic physicist, Professor Joffe, who has been conducting experiments in harnessing solar energy. The Soviet Academy of Science was said to have received a secret report that Professor Joffe succeeding in smashing the atom in 1937.

These locations were given me by a former assistant commisar of the Ural tank industry. Once a Commie bigwig in Romania and an intimate friend of Anna Pauker, my informant went to Russia in 1937. During the war he became one of the top managers of the Cheliabinsk Tractor Plant, rising to first assistant to Khesin, commisar of the tractor industry. He escaped to Western Europe in 1947.

W. A. Wilkins Killed In Hunting Accident

Warren Arthur Wilkins, 28, of Midland was shot to death accidentally while dove hunting near Rankin Friday.

Wilkins was hunting with H. B. Melton and C. M. Kyle, also Midland residents, on the Henry Neal Ranch five miles North of Rankin when the fatal accident occurred late Friday afternoon.

Justice of the Peace D. O. McEwen of Rankin conducted an inquest Saturday. He termed the death accidental.

The shotgun blast struck Wilkins in the head. Death was believed to have been instantaneous.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p.m. Monday in the Osborne Funeral Home at Shreveport, La.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Jean Ellis Wilkins; a daughter, Lauren Alice Wilkins, age three and one-half years, both of Midland, and the mother, Mrs. O. C. Chilcote of Casper, Wyo.

Wilkins was a field representative in West Texas for Republic Steel Corporation. He was a veteran of overseas service as an Air Force lieutenant in the Pacific Theater. He was a fighter pilot.

Martin Dies Will Address Area TMA Meet In Midland

Martin Dies of Orange, former chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, will be the principal speaker at the inaugural dinner of the new Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Manufacturers Association at 7 p.m. Tuesday, October 4, in the Midland VFW Hall on West Highway 80, William C. Saffarrans, regional manager of TMA, announced Saturday.

Martin Dies

Invitations this week will be sent to hundreds of interested citizens in the 15 West Texas counties included in the Permian Basin chapter. A capacity attendance is expected.

Reporting "straight from the shoulder," Dies will discuss activities of the Communist Party in the United States.

Saffarrans and Ed Hudson, field representatives, have been working the last several weeks in Midland, Big Spring, Odessa, Monahans, Kermit and other area cities in the interest of the new chapter. Scores of members already have been enrolled in TMA, the sponsors said.

Election Scheduled

The formal organization of the chapter will be completed by a Steering Committee at a meeting scheduled early this week. Officers will be elected and committee chairmen named.

The number one objective of TMA is to "maintain and improve a favorable atmosphere for business in Texas."

Reclamation Bureau Orders Water Survey

ABILENE —(AP)— D. A. Bandeen, West Texas Chamber of Commerce manager, said the U. S. Reclamation Bureau has ordered the most widespread domestic water survey ever made in Texas.

Bandeen said he will outline the survey Monday at a meeting of the WTCC board.

He received official notice Saturday that the survey has been authorized on the Colorado, Brazos and upper tributaries of the Red River.

Professor Dies In Plunge From Stadium

PRINCETON, N. J. —(AP)— Prof. Frank D. Graham of Princeton University plunged from the top of Palmer Stadium to his death Saturday after the end of a football game, police said.

Two Major Strikes Set This Week

By The Associated Press

Crucial decisions affecting America's postwar economy may be made this week.

Strikes involving 1,000,000 steelworkers and 115,000 Ford Motor Company employes are set for this week. The nation will learn whether the strike of 480,000 coal miners can be settled quickly or will drag on with steadily spreading idleness.

More than 600,000 workers already are idle in strikes involving a dozen industries. A steel strike would boost this number to above 1,600,000, the highest level in the postwar period.

Negotiations between the CIO United Steelworkers Unions and the steel industry were in recess over the weekend. They will be resumed Monday.

No Break In Coal

The thrice-postponed steel strike now is set for 12:01 a.m. Saturday, October 1.

The nationwide coal strike went through its first week with no sign of a break. But John L. Lewis is slated to resume contract talks with operators September 29. Some indication of what may happen to the coal strike may become known then.

So far the coal strike has caused the layoff of 31,000 coal-carrying railroad workers but hasn't hit industry generally.

The Ford strike is set for 12:01 a.m. Thursday, but there were high hopes that a settlement can be reached. However, the CIO United Auto Workers Union has termed reports of a near settlement "erroneous and without any foundation in fact." But it said its strike deadline might be delayed if no agreement is reached before Friday.

Joan Edwards Fund Upped To $4,150

J. C. Barnes contributed $25 to the fund Saturday.

El Paso Prisoner Charged In Slaying Of Nebraska Woman

SCOTTSBLUFF, NEB. — (AP) — Agapito Gallegos, 38, of Scottsbluff was accused in first degree murder charges Saturday of strangling his common law wife, Mrs. Genoveva Carrillo, 35.

Her body was found Friday night, buried three feet deep behind an isolated shack northeast of here. Deputy Sheriff Steve Warwick said Gallegos, held by El Paso, Texas, officers, had admitted the slaying in October last year.

Charges were filed Saturday.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

CORPUS CHRISTI —(AP)— Squally weather and torrential rains settled over South Texas late Saturday night as a hurricane, with 100-mile winds at its center, loafed toward the Mexican coast in the Tampico area.

KNOXVILLE, TENN. —(AP)— Merger of the Association of Georgia Klans and Dr. Lycurgus Spinks' recently formed Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, the South's two largest Klan groups, was announced here Saturday night.

NEWPORT, R. I. —(AP)— Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind) Saturday night accused President Truman of being "the first president who has openly espoused a program to change the American form of government."

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—A Vatican source disclosed Saturday that Pope Pius XII is expected to make a major pronouncement September 29 on the church's position concerning important medical problems.

Awning Collapses On Parade Watchers

Hundreds lined the streets of Stanton Friday afternoon to see the parade opening the annual Martin County Fair. Suddenly a frame and sheet-iron awning and part of a brick wall of a business building collapsed under the weight of several children and crashed onto a crowd under it. Five persons were injured, one seriously. An on-the-spot photograph shows men lifting the caved-in awning from the injured. Note jammed crowd of onlookers and sagging decoration bunting. Midland police, helping with the parade, assisted in removing the injured, breaking up the congestion, and directing traffic around the scene.

Western Unity Is Answer To Russian Atomic Threat

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON —(AP)— America's answer to Russia's new atomic weapon, Administration officials made clear Saturday, will be to speed up and reinforce the total military, political and economic unity of the West.

Responsible informants said the Truman Administration is more concerned than ever:

To rebuild this country's rickety atomic partnership with Britain and Canada, and to hold the four-year American edge over Russia in bombs and any other atomic weapons, and speed the creation of a unified defense strategy for America and Western Europe under the North Atlantic Treaty.

Top officials worked on the strategy of getting ready for whatever the Russian development may involve.

Democratic leaders in Congress expressed hope the House would go along with the Senate in approving a $1,000,000,000 first-year arms aid program for European members of the Atlantic Pact. The House voted only $580,495,000.

The Evening News of London said U. S. atomic bombs soon may be stored in England, under American control. This was not confirmed. The paper also forecast a greater sharing of atomic secrets between the United States, Britain and Canada—partners in the original atomic fission project.

Rash Of Reports

A rash of reports said Russia had staged more than one atomic explosions.

But officially, the only word on this point was that given Friday by President Truman: There is evidence that in recent weeks an atomic explosion occurred in Russia.

Highly placed informants said Saturday the explosion which the President reported was the only atomic explosion which has occurred in Russia to date so far as the United States government knows.

The time and place of the incident has been kept secret by the White House, State Department and Defense Establishments for what officials describe as security reasons.

The Vatican's semi-official newspaper, Osservatore Romano, declared news of Russia's accomplishments proves the need for all nations to disarm completely.

Diplomatic sources in Manila said the development stresses the need for a Southeastern Asia non-Communist union.

Jeweler Charged In Blast That Wrecked Canadian Air Liner

QUEBEC—(AP)—A slim, wavy-haired Quebec jeweler, J. Albert Guay, was charged Saturday with murdering his wife, who died with 22 others in an explosion-torn Quebec Airways plane September 9.

He was arraigned less than 24 hours after police announced they had proof explosives had been placed aboard the plane to get rid of a woman.

A key witness is Mrs. Arthur Pitre, 40, described as one of several women friends of Guay. She told police she delivered an express package to the aircraft here under the impression it contained "a statue."

Police Inspector Rene Belec described the accused man as Mrs. Pitre's lover and implied a love triangle was the motive.

Awning Caves At Stanton Injuring Parade Watchers

STANTON—Five persons were injured, one seriously, here Friday afternoon when a frame and sheet-iron awning caved in on a group crowding a sidewalk to watch a parade opening the Martin County Fair.

Mrs. T. W. Eddleman, 78, of Stanton suffered two broken legs and a broken collar bone. Dr. Ernest J. Nelson termed her condition serious Saturday at Martin County Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Dan Renfro received a crushed knee in the accident. Her husband operates a store at the scene of the cave-in. She is a daughter of Mrs. Eddleman.

Mrs. Saunders Injured

Mrs. Dee Saunders was said to have possible internal injuries, Mrs. Curtiss Campbell, injuries about the hips and possible internal injuries, and Carolyn Russell, minor injuries.

The accident occurred when the awning gave way under the weight of several children perched atop it to watch the parade. A portion of a brick wall also came down.

Members of the Midland Police Department, including Police Chief Jack Ellington, Lieut. Rube Hemmingway and Officer Jim Wilkerson, in Stanton to participate in the parade, helped remove the injured from the wreckage. They also aided in directing traffic and dispersing the crowd which gathered.

No Need For World Alarm, Tass Asserts

LONDON—(AP)—Russia said Sunday she has the atom bomb at her disposal but she neither denied nor confirmed President Truman's statement that an atomic explosion had occurred on Soviet soil.

Tass, official Soviet news agency, in a broadcast dispatch recalled the statement by former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov Nov. 6, 1947, that the atom bomb secret "was already long ago non-existent." Tass added:

"This statement signified that the Soviet Union had already discovered the secret of the atomic weapon and that it had it at its disposal this weapon."

Tass referred to President Truman's statement Friday that an atomic explosion had occurred in Russia. Then Tass said:

"In this connection, Tass is empowered to delcare: In the Soviet Union, as is known, building work on a large scale is in progress; the building of hydro-electric stations, mines, canals, roads evokes the necessity of large scale work with the use of the latest technical means.

To Press For Atom Ban

"Insofar as this blasting work has taken place and is taking place pretty frequently in various parts of the country, it is possible this might draw attention beyond the confines of the Soviet Union."

Tass also said that Russia "intends to continue demanding the prohibition of the use of atomic weapons."

The Tass statement concluded: "Scientific circles of the United States of America took this (1947) statement by V. M. Molotov for a bluff, considering that the Russians could not possess an atomic weapon earlier than the year 1952.

"They, however, were mistaken, since the Soviet Union possessed the secret of the atomic weapon already in 1947.

Control Essential

"As for the alarm that is being spread on this account by certain foreign circles, there are not the slightest grounds for alarm.

"It should be pointed out that the Soviet government, despite the existence in its country of an atomic weapon, adopts and intends adopting in the future its former position in favor of the absolute prohibition of the use of the atomic weapon.

"Concerning control of the atomic weapon, it has to be said that control will be essential in order to check up on fulfillment of a decision on the prohibition of production of the atomic weapon."

Water Pact Leader Dies At Barstow

PECOS—Charles H. Miller, 61, Texas member of the Pecos River Compact Commission and long prominent in water conservation circles of the Southwest, died at 6 a.m. Saturday at his ranch home near Barstow. His death was attributed to a heart ailment.

Named to the Compact Commission by Coke Stevenson, Miller was reappointed by the late Gov. Beauford Jester. He had planned to leave late Saturday on a business trip to Fort Worth and Austin.

Miller had been a key figure in bringing Texas and New Mexico into agreement on the division of the Pecos River waters and realized a life-long ambition recently when he and other commissioners met in President Truman's office to witness the signing of the agreement. The two states long had feuded over the waters of the Pecos.

Gov. Allan Shivers expressed regret on learning of the death. He called Miller "a fine public servant."

Funeral Services Set

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p.m. Monday in the First Presbyterian Church in Barstow.

Miller was born in England but came to the United States with his family when he was about five years of age. They lived in Carlsbad, N. M., a short time before moving to Barstow, where he had lived since.

He was a director of the Security State Bank of Pecos and owned and operated ranch and farm interests in this area.

He was instrumental in obtaining the Red Bluff Reservoir for Texas.

Freight Cars Derailed Here

The diesel locomotive was stopped by Midland police at the station. The engineer was not aware the cars were derailed.

Bystanders noticed sparks and fire as the cars left the rails. One freight car was jammed sideways. Trainmen said no one was injured.

Jim Holloway Shows Champion Steers At Martin County Fair

By DICK VENATOR
Reporter-Telegram Staff

The Herefords fed and shown by Holloway were bred by J. C. Sale.

Lloyd Mims showed the blue ribbon pen of three fat hogs, with DeWayne Peterson's porkers placing second. Third place went to those exhibited by Wayne Church.

Phil and Sammy Foreman, brothers, showed the first and second place capons and Bobby Carlile's was third.

The Martin County Boys 4-H Club's educational booth was awarded first prize. Second was the Stanton FFA Chapter and third was Stanton High School.

Parade Winners

Caprock Electric Co-op had the prize-winning float. Second was Martin County 4-H Clubs and third was Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

The annual fair opened Friday and one of the largest attendances of all time was reported.

The Midland High School Band and the Midland County Sheriff's Posse marched in the parade.

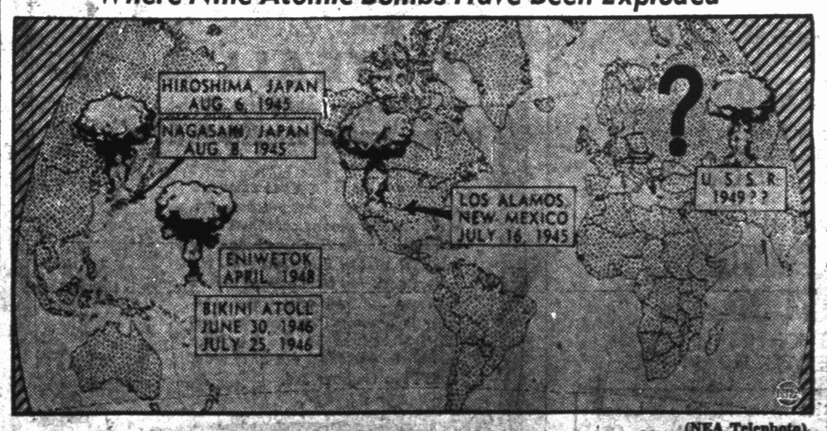

An innovation was the terrapin race with 30 entries. The terrapin entered by Johnny Snead placed first and the entry of the Pecos County Sheriff's posse was second. The circular course was 30 feet.

In the field crops division M. L. Koonce took the blue ribbon for bundle feed, with James Tunnel second and Tom Ed Angel third. Other results in this division were, cushaw, M. C. Gibson, first, and Mrs. Ivan White, second; blue panic grass, A. E. Pittman; grass seed, Dr. Leo Rogers; winter legume seed, Dr. Leo Rogers, and stalk cotton, Mike Anderson, first; W. W. Har-

Where Nine Atomic Bombs Have Been Exploded

(NEA Telephoto)

President Truman's announcement of an atomic blast somewhere in Russia brings the total of such explosions throughout the world to nine. First was set off near Los Alamos, N. M., on July 16, 1945. Next two leveled Hiroshima and Nagasaki on Aug. 6 and 8, 1945. Two test bombs were set off at Bikini Atoll on June 30 and July 25, 1946, and three more at Eniwetok in April and May of 1948. Exact date and location of the latest bomb blast still are undisclosed, but evidence signifies Russia's possession of vital A-bomb data.

New Schedules Slash Flying Time On Continental Flights

New schedules of Continental Air Lines, effective Monday, offer speeded up flying time from Midland to Oklahoma City and Tulsa, it was announced Saturday by James C. Carlson, station manager here. The new schedule will offer the fastest service between Midland-Tulsa of any airline.

A new flight departing at 10:51 a.m. will fly non-stop to Wichita Falls, arriving at 12:28 p.m., and thence to Tulsa arriving there at 2:30 p.m. via intermediate cities of Lawton-Fort Sill and Oklahoma City. This new routing cuts one hour and two minutes off former scheduled time between Midland and Tulsa, Carlson said.

In the recent consolidation of Continental's routes, the Civil Aeronautics Board indicated that faster service is required between Midland and Oklahoma City and Tulsa, and authorized Continental to provide such service. This necessitates the operation of Continental flights non-stop to Wichita Falls, discontinuing service from Midland via Hobbs to Lubbock. Continental has applied to the CAB for permission to operate direct flights from Midland to Lubbock and when this authority is granted, service between the two cities will be restored.

Other flights in the new schedules include a 10:31 a.m. departure from Midland, arriving in Albuquerque at 12:24 p.m., and providing intermediate stops at Hobbs and Roswell; a 7:12 p.m. Convair-Liner flight arriving in Denver at 11:24 p.m. and serving intermediate cities of El Paso, Albuquerque, Pueblo and Colorado Springs; a 7:23 p.m. departure serves Hobbs, Carlsbad, and arrives in El Paso at 8:50 p.m.; a 10:14 p.m. Convair-Liner flight provides service to San Angelo and San Antonio, arriving in San Antonio at 11:56 p.m.; a 5 p.m. departure arrives in San Antonio at 7:32 p.m. and provides intermediate stops at Big Spring and San Angelo.

Highway Panel To Hear Road Requests

AUSTIN —(AP)— Nineteen delegations from 22 Texas counties are scheduled to present road work requests to the State Highway Commission here Tuesday.

Twelve of the delegations have indicated their requests deal with farm-to-market road projects. They include delegations from Collin, Karnes, Montague, Winkler, Andrews, Willacy, Bastrop, Fannin, Jasper, Bexar, Dallam, Atacosa, and Frol Counties.

Other delegations are scheduled to appear from Lubbock, Lamar, Johnson, Hill, Bosque, Briscoe, Nacogdoches, Harris and Oldman Counties.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Four Texans Formerly Congressmen Now Hold Important Judgeships

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—This column has dealt considerably with activities of Texas members of Congress. But what of the staff's ex-congressmen who are still living?

A calling of the roll shows there are 22 of them—one less than the number of seats Texas has in Congress.

No official trace is kept of former members of Congress. The House and Senate sergeants-at-arms, who handle business affairs for them while they are in office, have no official data on those who have left Congress. The pension system for the lawmakers is voluntary and relatively new, so it is not much help.

Four are federal judges, with salaries ranging from $15,000 to $17,500 each;

One is a retired federal judge whose salary continues for life;

One is a registered lobbyist in Washington;

Nine are engaged in private law practice;

Garner Most Prominent

Most prominent among the state's former members of Congress is former Vice President John Nance Garner, who is living in retirement at his home in Uvalde. He served in the House from 1903 to 1933 and was speaker from 1931 to 1933.

The state's list of "exes" includes two former senators:

W. Lee O'Daniel, who left office at the beginning of this year and is living on his ranch just west of Fort Worth; and Earle B. Mayfield, Sr., who served from 1923 to 1929, now practicing law in Tyler and Meridian.

The four federal jurists are: Chief Justice Marvin Jones of the U. S. Court of Claims, formerly of Amarillo and the Panhandle's congressman from 1917 to 1941;

U. S. Tax Court Judges Luther A. Johnson, Corsicana, who served in the House from 1923 to 1946, and Eugene Black, Clarksville, who served as congressman from East Texas from 1915 to 1929;

West Texas District Judge Ewing Thomason of El Paso, who served as a congressman from West Texas from 1931 to 1947.

The retired federal jurist is former North Texas District Judge James C. Wilson of Fort Worth, who served in the House from 1917 to 1919.

The following have retired but still devote some of their time to law practice or other activities:

Now Writing Book

Hatton W. Sumners of Dallas, now writing a book on constitutional government, who served in the House from 1913 to 1947;

Richard Kleberg, part owner of the famous King Ranch in South Texas, who represented the Corpus Christi District from 1931 to 1945;

O. H. Cross of Waco, who served in the House from 1930 to 1937.

Former Fort Worth Rep. Fritz G. Lanham, who served from 1919 to 1947, now represents the Trinity River Improvement Association and other interests in Washington.

Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland, in the House from 1937 to 1941, now is an attorney with the Veterans Administration and travels in Ohio and Michigan.

W. D. McFarlane of Graham, now an attorney in the Justice Department here, served in the House from 1933 to 1939.

Ronald Colman's New Picture Heckles Give-Away Programs

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Hollywood has joined the FCC and Fred Allen in the war on radio give-away shows with the $43,000,000 question:

The whole give-away business is being crucified in a movie, now before the cameras, titled "Champagne for Caesar."

Ronald Colman is the star, playing the role of an adult Quiz Kid who knows the answers to everything but who can't get a job.

So he turns up as a contestant on one of those double-or-nothing shows with a legal loophole—as long as he can answer the questions correctly the sponsor has to go on doubling the money.

By the time Colman gets to the $43,000,000 question, the show's sponsor—a penny-pinching soap tycoon—is ready to blow his brains out.

All I'll tell you is that there's a girl in the plot. Her name is Celeste Holm. And you know how attractive Celeste is.

Who's Caesar?

That's Colman's pet parrot, who loves champagne. Colman found him in a gutter one night and the parrot drinks more in the picture than Ray Milland did in "The Lost Weekend."

As you can see, it's whamsy whimsy.

If a Colman pictures makes money, he makes money. If it lays an egg, he gets the shell.

Need Right Story

I asked him if he and Jack Benny had ever thought of co-starring in a movie, along with Mrs. Colman and Mary, as a result of all the Colman guest appearances on the Benny airshow.

"Many times," he said. "But we haven't been able to find the right story. If we find the right story, we'll do it."

Beards are coming back along with old songs and vaudeville and, as Burl Ives says:

"Every man should try one. They grow on you."

Burl, ballad singer, goat fancier, actor and author, grew a beard two years ago and says he'll never be without one again. For several reasons. It fits his wayfaring character and "it keeps me from being too good-natured."

Like the time four drunks heckled him in a night club. "I just looked through 'em," he said, "but I never could have done it without my beard."

Burl described his beard as a "modified Lord Tennyson frizz." He says he auditioned hundreds of beards, at Max Factor's and in books, before deciding on one that suited his personality.

There was talk that he might have to shave it off for his role in the movie, "Sierra." Burl made it plain that he wouldn't play the part without the beard. The studio said okay.

Full Schedule

He was working in a movie, starring in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" at the Laguna Beach playhouse, singing on the air, working on a television idea, preparing for a 65-city concert tour and writing another book.

The book, he said, is about Greek mythology, goats and present-day California. The title is "Capracorner." "That," he explained, "means it revolves around a corner where a man keeps goats."

Burl is daffy about goats, keeps a herd of 'em, drinks goat milk and has a two-foot shelf of books about goats.

"Really," he said, "goats and humans have just about the same vibration. Did you ever look a goat in the eye?

"It's frightening.

"I'm smart," he said. "They are getting harder to find. So now every time I meet a songwriter I say:

"'Why don't you write me an old American ballad?'

John T. Rice Gets High Masonic Post

EL PASO—John Temple Rice, 33rd degree Scottish Rite Mason and well-known in Masonic circles throughout the United States, will leave El Paso and the Southwest soon as a result of his recent appointment as right eminent grand recorder of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar.

Rice retired as most eminent grand master of Knights Templar after the customary three-year term at the conclave of the grand organization last week in San Francisco. His appointment as recorder, which will take him to the Indianapolis headquarters, followed.

Rice, who had been secretary of El Paso's Masonic Lodge No. 130 since 1923, telegraphed his resignation from San Francisco to Jack C. Roberts, worshipful master.

Other High Offices

Among other Masonic offices he has held, Rice is a past potentate of El Maida Shrine Temple. He held various offices of El Paso Scottish Rite Bodies.

Rice was installed as eminent grand master of Knights Templar, the highest office in that order, in October, 1946.

April 14, 1911, Rice received his Master Mason's degree in Lodge 130. He was grand master of the Blue Lodge in Texas in 1938. He became a Royal Arch Mason Oct. 11, 1911, and was high priest of the local chapter in 1917. After that, he was grand high priest of the State of Texas.

Rice was made a Knight Templar Nov. 29, 1911, was commander of El Paso Commandery in 1921 and later grand commander of Texas. Also, he was grand worthy patron of the Order of Eastern Star of Texas.

Beards In Order As Lamesa Prepares For 'Boom Days' Event

LAMESA — The sale of razor blades has hit rock bottom as far as the male population of Lamesa is concerned. Any man who shaves before October 15 is subject to "fine and horrible punishment," according to a proclamation issued by Mayor Sam Richardson. The whole idea is to celebrate "BOOM DAYS" in Dawson County.

"BOOM DAYS" will be held in conjunction with the Dawson County Fair and Horse Show, October 12-15.

The highlight of the four day fiesta will be a fourteen-scene pageant portraying the history of Dawson County. More than 400 Lamesa residents will be included in the huge cast of this outdoor spectacle.

Three Sentenced To Death In Hungary's 'Conspiracy' Trials

BUDAPEST —(AP)— Former Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk and two former Communist Party officials were sentenced Saturday to death on the gallows for a purported plot to overthrow Hungary's Communist government.

They testified they worked with American and Yugoslavs to put Hungary under the influence of Yugoslav Premier Marshal Tito.

Two other men were sentenced to life imprisonment and one to nine years in this second big Hungarian treason trial of 1949. Appeals were entered for all, though Rajk protested that "I consider the verdict justified."

Two Decisions Delayed

A technicality delayed a decision in the case of the other defendants, Lt. Gen. Gyorgy Paleffy and Col. Bela Korondy. The five-judge people's court ruled it was not competent to deal with them and ordered them held for court martial, thought they had admitted government charges as freely as the rest.

The case attracted the most international attention to Hungary since the treason trial of Josef Cardinal Minszenty last February. The Roman Catholic primate is serving a life term.

It was charged in court that Selden Chapin, former U. S. minister to Hungary who was named this week as ambassador to the Netherlands; Allen W. Dulles, wartime head of the Office of Strategic Services in Europe, and Lt. Col. George Kovach, former member of the U. S. Military Mission in Hungary, were among Americans involved in the case.

Bluebonnet Canvas Will Be Unveiled In Capitol Monday

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A painting entitled "Texas Bluebonnet Time" will be unveiled Monday in the speaker's dining room in the House wing of the Capitol.

A gift to Speaker Rayburn of Texas by Sid Richardson, Fort Worth oil man, the painting is the work of Porfirio Salinas. The artist, painting from scenes near his home city of San Antonio, spent much time the last three years on the work.

It will hang in the speaker's dining room while Rayburn remains presiding officer of the House. When he retires it will be placed in a library and museum which Rayburn is donating to his home town of Bonham, Texas.

Members of the Texas congressional delegation, joined by various Senate and House leaders, are to attend a luncheon at which the painting will be unveiled.

Dulles Pins Red Tag On Lehman In Senate Campaign

NEW YORK —(AP)— Communism has shoved aside other issues so far in New York's Senate election battle between John Foster Dulles and Herbert H. Lehman.

Dulles, 61-year-old Republican nominee and present holder of the Senate seat, charges that Communists have marked him as a man who must be beaten.

He insists Lehman is renouncing Red support in public but is accepting it privately and even counting on it to win November 8.

The American Labor Party, which sometimes polls 500,000 votes in the state, did not name a Senate candidate. Leaders of both major parties say the ALP is Communist-dominated. Dulles charges that most of the ALP votes will go to his opponent.

Lehman, 71-year-old nominee of the Democratic and Liberal Parties, asserts that he never has accepted Communist backing in any of his campaign and is not doing so this time.

What To Do About That Atomic Bomb

By HAL BOYLE

The best possible advice to follow is—don't buy one now on a rising market.

Why have one around the house at all? You can't tune in a baseball program on it like you can on a television set. It's too heavy to throw at a cat and too big to fire at a burgler. And the resale or trade-in value of a used atom bomb is practically zero.

Nope, you might as well turn the whole matter over to the international diplomats of the United Nations, whose theme song is: "You show your stockpile, and I'll show you mine."

I thing the average man will be glad to let it go at that. For he has become bored to death with the atom bomb. He is annoyed at seeing what was to be the century of the common man turned into the century of the big firecracker. And he isn't happy to know that the $64 question of his generation well may be, "Where do we blow from here, boys?"

Scare, Fear, Crisis

The plain truth is that the atomic era to date has been nothing but an affront to the dignity of man. It has been a goose-pimply period ever since the mortal mushroom shadowed Hiroshima. It has been a time of scare, fear and crisis—east and west.

Have the Russians solved the secret of the atom bomb? Well, there is good reason now to believe yes. But what if they have? People weary of fear, and mankind is running out of goose pimples.

Abraham Lincoln is reported once to have been challenged to a duel. Given the choice of weapons, he immediately suggested "shotguns at five paces." His opponent wisely dropped the matter.

Today a duel with atom bombs could be as mutually deadly to nations as shotguns at five paces would be to two individuals.

Atom bombs can be delivered by plane, ship, submarine, or rocket—every way except by parcel post. All nations that took part in any such merry warfare would suffer, and the casualties would be measured by entire cities rather than platoons.

Imagine the communiques:

"A joint force of Allied bombers today attacked and wiped out Minsk, according to plan. Our interceptor fighters engaged an enemy flight over the Eastern Seaboard and shot down 50 planes. Boston is missing."

Much Wise Talk

Four years ago I toured stricken Nagasaki, a black scar in the hills. Room by room I explored a shattered concrete and steel hospital in which every patient had been killed. But the dead had been carted away by then, stacked, doused with gasoline and burned. What impressed me most were the windows—the glass had melted and run like dribbles of candle wax.

There is much wise talk about how to protect yourself in the event of atom warfare. The experts agree that dispersal is fine. But they don't explain how a man who owns a delicatessen store off Broadway can move it to a cow pasture in Wisconsin and still sell enough sandwiches to make his living.

Actually about all the ordinary citizen in any country can do about the atom bomb is to dislike it—and pray that nobody blows a bugle.

Line Pipe Mill To Be Built At Houston

HOUSTON—(AP)— Construction of the nation's second largest mill for manufacture of welded gas and oil transmission pipe is to begin here immediately.

Officials of A. O. Smith Corporation, Milwaukee, Wis., Saturday announced plans for the new plant, to cost more than $5,000,000

Capital stock of the new company will be divided equally between the Milwaukee firm and Sheffield Steel Corporation. The new firm will be known as A. O. Smith Corporation of Texas.

It will manufacture line pipe ranging in diameters from 8 5/8 to 30 inches. Monthly capacity will be from 30,000 to 35,000 tons.

Area Methodist Ministers Assigned

Rev. Charles J. Cooke, pastor First Methodist Church, Palo Pinto, to become associate pastor of the First Church, Vernon.

Rev. Kenneth Ford, former associate pastor at Odessa, to succeed Cooke.

Rev. John A. Rakestraw, student at Texas Tech, named pastor of Halfway-Liberty Churches, Plainview District. The former pastor, Rev. P. T. Haynes, is moving to Oklahoma.

Blue Plate Special With Drink Is Back

CAIRO —(AP)— Found in Egypt: the free lunch which disappeared from the corner bar in Grandpa's day.

Steaks are extra.

Thirteen pieces in a "baker's dozen" originated when King Louis of France warned all bakers who gave under measure that they would be beheaded.

Attlee Asks British People To Stand By Cheapened Currency

LONDON —(AP)— Prime Minister Attlee called on Britain Saturday to stand firmly against inflation under the cheapened pound. He said Britain must meet "the challenge of the times" with new sacrifices; business and industry must hold the line on prices, and the worker must produce more without demanding higher wages.

If they weaken, Attlee warned, higher prices which follow would "defeat the whole object which we have in view"—to sell more to the dollar nations and put Britain on her feet in world trade.

The Labor government chief admitted there would be some increase in the cost of living because of the cut in the pound from $4.03 to $2.80. He said, "There is no occasion for a general price increase."

The prime minister's speech at a political rally in Wales was the big gun signaling a week of decision for the party in power since 1945.

Less than an hour after he spoke, Lord Woolton, a leading Conservative, appealed to the Liberal Party to join Winston Churchill and his Tories in a drive to oust Labor from power.

Showdown Starts Tuesday

The first show of strength will come in Parliament Tuesday on a debate on the government's economic policy. Attlee will demand a vote of confidence Thursday.

With its top-heavy majority in Commons—393 of 640 seats—the government should win. But if the vote shows a serious split in Labor ranks it might drive the government to call for an immediate general election. If it is defeated it would resign.

Danger signals are on all sides. Some slow-down strikes continued on the government railroads. Rail workers were demanding more money.

Businessmen were worrying how they could sell 40 to 50 per cent more goods to earn the same number of dollars in the U. S. and Canadian markets.

Attlee asserted "Old fashioned methods and old customs must be swept away" for Britain to lower costs and improve selling techniques.

Devaluation, he said, spreads the load over the entire nation, should make British goods more competitive in dollar markets and should spare the worker in export trades from unemployment.

He rapped sharply at wildcat strikes, Communists who pretend to be friends of the workers, "Tory newspapers that in effect play the same game," "gamblers in gold shares" and others who "think of nothing but their own selfish profit."

Baptist Institutions Receive Income Of More Than $500,000

DALLAS —(AP)— Twenty-three Baptist institutions received more than a half-million dollars as income on funds handled by the Baptist Foundation of Texas in the fiscal year just ended.

Dr. George J. Mason, executive secretary of the foundation, said the income totaled $559,527.03. The foundation manages endowment and annuity funds for the 23 institutions.

Dr. Mason gave this distribution of income:

Baylor University, Waco, $129,434.39; Baylor University Hospital, Dallas, $20,481.58; Baylor University College of Medicine, Houston, $2,761.71; Buckner Orphans Home, Dallas, $116,879.94; Decatur Baptist College, Decatur, $7,457.33; East Texas Baptist College, Marshall, $4,793.51; Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, $3,911.75; Howard Payne College, Brownwood, $24,642.67; Mary Hardin-Baylor College, Belton, $61,260.66; San Marcos Academy, San Marcos, $10,203.62; Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, $88,797.46; University of Corpus Christi, Corpus Christi, $218.16; Wayland College, Plainview, $8,585.56.

Baptist General Convention of Texas, with headquarters here, $54,626.97; Southern Baptist Convention, Nashville, Tenn., $2,233.87; Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, $19,946.41; Hillcrest Memorial Hospital, Waco, $804.09; Memorial Hospital, Houston, $831.77; Valley Baptist Hospital, Harlingen, $307.45; Bishop College, Marshall, $339.73; First Baptist Church, Belton, $75; First Baptist Church, Big Spring, $471, and First Baptist Church, Dallas, $462.50.

Red Russia's Atomic Knowledge Does Not Increase War Risks

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

President Truman's announcement (concurred in by Britain) that there is evidence of an atomic explosion recently in Russia should cause no surprise. Such a development was a foregone conclusion. It had to come sometime.

Moreover, there is no reason to assume that this news has increased the danger of war between Russia and the Western Powers. In fact, it may give a fillip to peace.

Prof. Otto Hahn, regarded as a discoverer of nuclear fission, declared in Bonn, Germany, "The news that Soviet Russia has the atomic bomb is good news" because "if both the United States and Russia have it there will be no war." U. S. State Department officials generally take the line that the danger of war hasn't been increased or decreased, but that in fact Russia now may be more ready to make a plan for international atomic control.

Was In The Books

Whether that was an inspired estimate of possibilities, the fact remains that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, in addressing the United Nations Assembly at Lake Success, called on the "Big Five" powers to conclude a peace pact among themselves. He didn't mention the atomic explosion, leaving his eager audience to draw its own conclusions.

As remarked, there is nothing strange in the fact that there has been an atomic explosion in Russia. It would have been remarkable if it hadn't occurred, for it was in the books.

A couple of months ago this column reported there was widespread belief among scientific observers that Russia had at least the theoretical knowledge, as distinguished from the industrial knowledge, of how to make the bomb. Britain also had the secret.

However, America was the only nation having the vast and complicated industrial facilities and the industrial know-how to construct a bomb. That's what stymied Germany in the World War. Her scientists claim she had the know-how for the atom bomb, but lacked the industrial set-up.

S&Q Store Joins In Anniversary Event

The S&Q Clothiers of Midland is joining with the Hickey-Freeman Company of Rochester, N. Y., in observing the fiftieth anniversary of the nationally-known men's suit manufacturing concern.

Copies of a large and attractive brochure issued by Hickey-Freeman in connection with the anniversary event are on display at the S&Q store. The book reviews some of the highlights in tailoring methods, fabric reconditioning processes and general suit manufacturing. Dealing with the future rather than the past, the brochure serves as a source of general information for store clerk and customer.

H. C. Jones, manager of S&Q, invites friends and patrons to visit the store to inspect the interesting brochure at their convenience.

Conferences Made Good Start

Britain, Canada and the United States dug into the tough British dollar crisis with commendable energy and spirit. All three profess optimism that the outcome of their Washington conference will be an easing of the strain on Britain's dollar supply.

Basically, the British problem goes far back beyond World War I, when shifts in the world trade pattern began to rob her of her commercial pre-eminence and push America into the lead. Steadily Britain and other European nations saw their trade disadvantage mount.

World War II had a further powerful effect on the British trade position. The war cost the United Kingdom much of its substance. Its valued foreign investments were virtually wiped out. America and other non-European countries moved into its foreign markets.

Thus today Britain's disadvantage is greater than ever. Dependent as always upon foreign purchases of food and raw materials to supplement her own relatively meager resources, she finds herself less able than at any time in her history to pay for the things she needs. Much of her requirements she wants to buy in America. But they have to be paid for in dollars and she can't sell enuogh of her own goods here to earn the necessary dollars.

* * *

The United States now has agreed to certain measures that may ease the immediate financial emergency. And all three conferring nations plan to take steps toward a long term solution.

This country will allow Britain to spend more of her Marshall Plan dollars in other countries, especially Canada. Presumably the British hope to purchase necessities more cheaply from these nations, and therefore to conserve dollars. Britain cannot pay off in her own currency for almost all nations today demand payment in dollars so they, too, can buy in the American market.

America has agreed also to review its "critical materials" stockpiling program, with some prospect that it may increase purchases of tin and rubber from countries within the British currency orbit. Such a move would step up dollar earnings.

The United States likewise has promised to cut red tape in its customs set-up and make further tariff reductions, both to stimulate heavier flow of trade. Britain, on the other hand, is urged to liberalize its trade with other countries with whom she has no "balance of payment" difficulties.

* * *

These are the short-run plans. For the long-range answers, all three nations will explore ways of increasing North American investments to help economic growth in the rest of the world; make detailed studies of the oil and shipping industries in the hope Britain's dollar income from these sources can be raised; and continue consulting so long as the dollar discrepancy exists as a serious problem.

For its own part, Britain has agreed to encourage its exporters to compete more effectively in the U. S. market; has pledged a vigorous attack on high British production costs that only aggravate the competitive problem, and has promised to build up dollar income from tourist and other services.

However helpful the short-term proposals may prove, it throuoghly is apparent that the ultimate solution depends upon the earnestness with which all three countries approach the task of restoring a healthy balance to world trade. Without that, the "dollar crisis," or something like it, will always be with us.

Grandstanding?

Senator Capehart, Indiana Republican, suggests that "co-pilots" be placed on big interstate buses as a safety measure.

The idea was inspired by a recent serious crash in which a bus overturned and burned, killing 15 persons.

This looks like a pretty foolish impulse on Capehart's part. The safety record of the bus lines is hardly so bad as to warrant the addition to all major buses of extra drivers who would have virtually nothing to do except in rare emergencies.

Indeed, the move would open the door immediately to charges that bus drivers as a group were trying to "make work" by "featherbedding," the common term for the practice of carrying extra help not considered really necessary.

Some of Capehart's senatorial colleagues probably would be the first to pop to their feet to decry the practice should it be extended to buses.

One wonders, too, whether Capehart would have gotten the idea at all if the fatal accident had occurred somewhere else than in his home state of Indiana.

The bathing gal of today doesn't look anything like she did five years ago—but the men are looking just the same.

John's Amazing Signal System

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Senate Democrats won't adjourn before action on overcrowded schools; Senator Lucas wins two-year fight for war widows; Steel lobby, at secret breakfast, attempts to save basing-point system.

WASHINGTON — Senate Democratic leaders, meeting behind closed doors last week, decided not to adjourn until someting is done about the nation's overcrowded schools and the undermanned medical profession.

Their decision was reached after personal appeals by Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota for action on his emergency school construction bill, and by Senator Claude Pepper of Florida for passage of his bill to increase medical training facilities.

Humphrey avowed: "No legislation could be more desirable nor more timely than providing the classrooms our children need. Do you realize that nine million more kids will enter school between now and 1958?"

"This is almost rabbitlike," observed Rhode Island's salty, 82-year-old Senator Theodore Green, a bachelor.

Humphrey grinned, said he was willing to go to any extent in order to get the support of bachelors." He also explained that his bill had been blocked by Senator Taft, and urged the Democrats to go over Taft's head.

"I understand," added Humphrey, "that Taft is going to introduce a school-construction bill of his own."

Georgia's Senator Dick Russell, spokesman for the Southern Democrats, suggested an amendment authorizing emergency construction for schools hit by floods, earthquakes or other "acts of God."

But he warned: "One thing we ought to have is a ceiling on appropriations for the bill."

Later Alabama's Senator Lister Hill backed up Pepper's plea for federal aid to expand medical, nursing and dental schools, but also urged an amendment, directing that these schools be built in areas where there is dire need.

"This isn't the united areas of America," Green broke in dryly. "This is the United States of America. Let's do it by states."

"Now, Theodore," chided Hill. "After all, Rhode Island is just two counties when the tide is in and three counties when it's out."

Senator Lucas And Widows

Probably the busiest man on Capitol Hill is Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas. But he has taken out time to wage a two-year fight for a group of war widows who can't even vote for him.

These are women whose husbands were killed during the war while they, themselves, were thrown into enemy prison camps. They couldn't collect the pensions ordinarily paid to war widows, because the law required that they file within one year after their husbands were killed. This was impossible, since these widows were stuck in concentration.

But they will now be able to collect their pensions—as a result of a special bill, pushed through Congress by busy Senator Lucas.

Steel Lobby Breakfasts

A secret breakfast took place in the Carlton Hotel the other day to discuss a problem which worries the steel industry just about as much as the threatened strike.

This is the basing-point system, a monopoly practice whereby steel companies lessen competition between each other by charging the same price whether the steel is made in Pittsburgh, Pa., or Geneva, Utah.

Already, in a test case over cement, the Supreme Court has ruled that the basing-point system violates the anti-trust laws, and the Federal Trade Commission now is cracking down on other big industries which use the basing-point system to regulate prices.

So, while the headlines quietly have been maneuvering to save the basing-point system.

First move was to try jamming through Congress a bill to legalize the system; which, however, was caught and amended by Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Congressman John Carroll of Colorado, two alert Democrats.

Now the steel companies have changed their tactics, are trying to soften the Federal Trade Commission, have sent their best lawyers to work on Trade Commissioner Lowell Mason, usually a friend of business. It was Mason who met the lawyers at a Carlton Hotel breakfast, bringing along, FTC Counsel Lynn Paulson and FTC Examiner Frank Hier, who are helping him on the steel case. The spokesman for the lawyers was Hoyt Moore of Bethlehem Steel, a lifelong friend of Mason's.

At the breakfast, steel attorneys urged a compromise permitting the steel industry to continue using the basing-point system. They wanted the Trade Commission to issue a "cease and desist" order full of fancy words, ordering the steel companies to stop certain minor practices but permitting them to continue systematic freight absorption—the nub of the basing-point system.

Note—Commissioner Mason can count on one other commissioner—Garland Ferguson—to vote with him. Tough Commissioner William Ayres of Kansas will oppose, together with newly confirmed Commissioner John Carson. Commissioner Ewin Davis would oppose, but is sick. This may mean a tie vote.

Senator Cain On Warpath

It's unprecedented for a senator to run for another Senate seat before his own term ends, but that's what Washington's gruff, outspoken Harry Cain secretly plans to do.

Although Senator Cain doesn't come up for reelection until 1952, he confides to friends that he wants to run in 1950 against his liberal colleague, Senator Warren Magnuson. Cain, a diehard Republican, has been a voice-in-the-wilderness crying out against social welfare, while Magnuson a Democrat, has been a dynamic crusader on the other side.

"We just cancel each other out," Cain explained to a close friend. "So I'm going to give the people of Washington a chance to choose between us. They know my record, and they know Magnuson's record. Now let them have their choice."

Cain also hasn't decided yet whether to resign his own seat to take on Magnuson. He knows that if he gives up his Senate seat, GOP Gov. Arthur Langlie could fill the vacancy with another Republican. But Cain is not a wealthy man, needs his Senate salary. Furthermore, many senators have held on to their seats while running for other public offices, such as governor or vice president.

If his scheme goes through, Cain will wage an old-fashioned, mud-slinging campaign. All the back-alley information he has collected for two years is stacked away in a thick file, labeled "Magnuson," and Cain plans to throw it all over the State of Washington.

Cain is a vigorous, rough-and-tumble campaigner. Magnuson, far more popular, both at home and in the Senate, is more easy-going, doesn't indulge in invective. But if Cain does decide to run against him next year, it will be the stormiest campaign in Washington state's history.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Today's lesson hand on bidding was taken from an important tournament held in New York some time ago. It deals with pre-emptive bidding.

There are two schools of thought on the pre-emptive three bid. Many players use the original three bid as a nuisance bid, one by which they try to shut out not only their opponents but their partners as well.

Personally I prefer the definite three bid, one that is made when the hand contains a six-card suit (or more) headed by the ace, king and queen, or a seven-card suit headed by the ace, king and jack, with nothing on the side. If you use this type of bid, do not deviate from it, because your partner will be counting on exactly that holding.

In today's hand we are dealing with the nuisance pre-emptive three bid. South had what a great many players might consider an opening bid of one heart. Few good players will open this type of hand with a three bid, because after all it will not take much in the partner's hand to make a game.

However, South passed and West naturally had to pass. In the tournament from which I took this hand, the player with the North hand elected to use the nuisance pre-emptive three bid. Some players like a little better holding, at least six to the queen or seven to the jack. At least North did tell his partner he was trying to shut him out as well as the opponents.

After the three spade bid East made no bid, as he was anxious to let the opponents get into trouble. Now what should South do? Should he bid four hearts? No. He passed originally and his partner had warned him of the type of hand he had. If South had passed, the hand would have been played at three spades, and it is doubtful if that contract would have been doubled.

The danger with South bidding four hearts is that North will bid four spades, which he did in this case. East was very happy to double the four-spade contract and in the actual play North took only two tricks, going down 1500.

Historic Bell Used By Arizona Indians

PHOENIX — (AP) — A historic church bell that made its way into Arizona in 1860 by way of an overland freight now echoes in Supailand at the bottom of Arizona's Grand Canyon.

The bell, which once served as the fire alarm at the little community of Chloride in Mohave county, hangs in St. Andrew's Episcopal chapel in the Indian settlement. It was taken down the trail into the canyon by pack train.

The chapel in which it hangs, a quonset hut, was lowered into the canyon last spring by helicopter. Stones quarried from the sides of the canyon were used for the sides and front of the chapel.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Intercontinental Jet Bomber Is Planned By Air Force For 1954

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—By its announcement that it will have the B-52 jet bomber "available" in 1954 to take the place of the B-36, the Air Force modestly admits that it has accomplished one of the most astonishing jobs of aircraft development in history.

Existence of the B-52 project was revealed somewhat reluctantly by Air Force officials during the congressional hearings on the B-36. Generally the Air Force doesn't like to talk about such a revolutionary plane so many years before it has actually flown. But now that word of it is out, the Air Force experts admit all of the obvious implications for its expected performance.

The amazing accomplishment logically predicted for the new bomber is its long range. It is classed as a "heavy bomber." According to Air Force specifications that classification means that it must have a minimum range of 5,000 miles. The radius of operation of the best jet bombers flying today is between 800 and 1,200 miles.

But the Air Force actually is committed to build into the B-52 a range of twice the minimum for heavy bombers. The B-36 has been sold to the public and to top defense officials as capable of flying 10,000 pounds of bombs 10,000 miles.

Should Equal B-36

The whole elaborate theory of intercontinental bombing which the Air Force experts have been selling as the newest element in warfare sits on the ability of one airplane to fly 10,000 pounds 10,000 miles. And if the B-52 is going to take the place of the B-36, it presumably is going to be able to do just that.

How the Air Force scientists put that much range into a jet bomber, or even 5,000 miles, is what leaves the outside experts gasping. Range has always been the prohibitive factor in the effectiveness of jets. Their tremendous speed has been at the expense of flying shorter distances. It takes a lot of fuel burning very fast to shove a plane through the air at more than 600 miles per hour. And because the planes have to be so streamlined to go this fast there just isn't much room in them for fuel.

The longest distance a jet bomber has ever flown to date has been 3,600 miles. That was under very special conditions and it was done by the B-49 Flying Wing. The fact that the wing design furnishes a minimum of drag is the reason for this long distance flight. But certain other factors inherent in the wing shape has diverted the Air Force engineers' attention from it for long-range bombers.

Twice The Range

It can be seen from this that the B-52 will have twice the range of today's jets if it is only to meet the minimum standard of a heavy bomber and it will have to have five times the range of them if it is to measure up to the range of the B-36. Progress in the development of bombers has never been that fast before.

It required more than 20 years of intense research and the urgency of two world wars to achieve the range of a B-36. That included going through such steps as the early Curtiss and Martin bombers, through the Liberators and Flying Fortresses to the Superforts and finally reaching the intercontinental goal. In less than one-quarter of that time the Air Force has come the same distance in the brand new field of jet propulsion.

There are several possibilities as to how this point was reached—at least on paper because the B-52 hasn't been built yet. It is possible that they plan to give it its range through refueling in air. That would of course minimize the purely scientific acoomplishment somewhat, and complicate its use as the A-bomb taxi, but all they ask of it is to do the job.

Another possibility is that jet engines have been eveloped that don't make a plane go more than 600 miles per hour but make it go a longer distance. It could be much faster than the B-36 but not as fast as the jet fighters. That compromise also would be acceptable. The final possibilities are the improvement or development of new fuels and the invention of much more efficient jet engines with as much speed as they r w have.

It is known that Air Force scientists have been concentrating on both of these goals. So far they have gone from the use of kerosene to something pretty close to gasoline. Just what the B-52 will have in the way of new engines, observers will have to wait until 1954 to find out. It will be worth waiting for.

Questions and Answers

Q—What causes winds?

A—Cold, dry air is always heavier than warm air, so wherever it may be it builds up a pressure area. This pressure forces air to flow toward low-pressure areas. The flowing air is the "wind."

Second Week Slated For Police School

Five lecture periods are scheduled this week in a police training school being conducted by the Midland Police Department in cooperation with the FBI.

Classes are held daily in the City Court room from 2 to 4 p.m.

Monday's lecture will be by Special Agent Luther Coulter, FBI, San Antonio, on "Accident Investigation." Tuesday's lecture will be by Coulter on "Accident Report Writing." Wednesday, Special Agent D. W. Walters, FBI, Denver, will discuss "Collection and Preservation of Physical Evidence." Thursday there will be a lecture and practical work conducted by Walters with special attention on plaster casts. The school closes Friday with a lecture on "Practical Crime Scene Searches" by Walters.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART

THE STORY: When Tod Duncan's fiancee, Liz Conover, elopes with another man, Tod turns to his old friend Jenny Poleska for comfort. Jenny has always had a crush on Tod but when Tod proposes she is afraid it is "on the rebound." Tod says it is not and Jenny accepts. What Jenny does not know is that Tod has seen a picture of Liz on her return from her honeymoon. Tod plans to get married quickly, and forget Liz, but he finds that Liz's father is calling his home, trying to get Tod to accept a job in his firm. Tod tells his mother he has "other plans," but he does not tell her that he intends to marry Jenny.

* * *

VI

THE three days passed in an exciting whirl for Jenny. The girls at the shop gave her a shower; wonderful accessories to go with the cloud pink suit in which she would be married.

Max gave her a hat, a dream, cloud pink to match the suit. She had protested, knowing the exclusive label and the price. But Max insisted.

"Just promise me one thing, Jenny darling," he said. "Don't quit the shop. You're the best model I've got."

"I'm not quitting. You needn't worry about that," Jenny said, tucking the hat into its crisp tissue paper nest in the new hatbox. "Tod's planning to finish college next winter, and he won't have a scholarship this time. I'll have to keep working."

"Fine!" Max gave her a quick hug. "I hope your Tod goes on and on with his schooling, if it means you'll stay that much longer."

"I'm not that good," Jenny protested, laughing. Everything was wonderful and so exciting.

Tod was to be out on his sales territory in the southern part of the state Tuesday and Wednesday but Thursday morning he would come by for her and they would get their license and go to a justice of the peace. They hadn't had time to talk about the details, but Jenny had expected that Tod would bring his mother with him. She was rather surprised on Thursday morning when Tod turned up alone. He hadn't even told his family.

"But darling," Jenny said, as they drove off. "It's bound to upset your mother this way."

Tod frowned. He did feel guilty for not having told his mother. And the guilt gave rise to irritation as he said, "They'd have raised such a fuss."

"A fuss?"

* * *

"YOU know how they are."

"You mean they wouldn't want you to marry me?"

"It isn't that they don't like you, Jenny." Tod's hands tightened on the wheel.

"Then why should they raise a fuss? Don't they want you to get married?"

"No, it's not that exactly." Real impatience was in his voice now. "It's just—well you know how they felt about my marrying Liz. And Mr. Conover phoned wanting my answer about that job, and I wasn't there, and you know how Ma is; she got all excited, naturally. They all did."

"About what?"

"About the job. Ma got all worked up about Liz again, and got some crazy idea in her head about—" He broke off and glanced at Jenny anxiously. "This is no time to be talking about Liz, or any silly notions Ma has. In a few minutes we'll be married."

"Are you sure, Tod," Jenny faltered.

"You silly kid." He brought the car to a stop in front of the faded red brick building with its dingy "Justice of the Peace" sign hanging above the doorway. "I wouldn't have asked you if I hadn't wanted you, would I?"

"No." She went into his arms for a moment, felt the urgency of his mouth on hers, his hand pressed against her throat. Suddenly all her doubts were dissolved.

* * *

THE ceremony in the shabby garish parlor had neither dignity nor reality. Jenny always remembered the threadbare red carpet, the framed mottoes on the walls, the bouquet of dusty paper roses on the battered upright piano, the limp soiled lace curtains at the windows.

Tod felt a lack too, and when they were back in the car he said, "I'm sorry it wasn't something better, Jenny. We should have gone to a church and done it right."

"It doesn't matter really, Tod," Jenny whispered. "It isn't the ceremony—but the years that come after it that matter anyway. I hope they'll be good years for us both and last the rest of our lives."

"I hope so too," Tod said slowly. He felt a little shaky, wishing all at once that he had never known anyone but Jenny, that he had never been in love with anyone else. "Well," he said rather grimly, "from now on we'll do it right, at least. Bridal suites and champagne and stuff!"

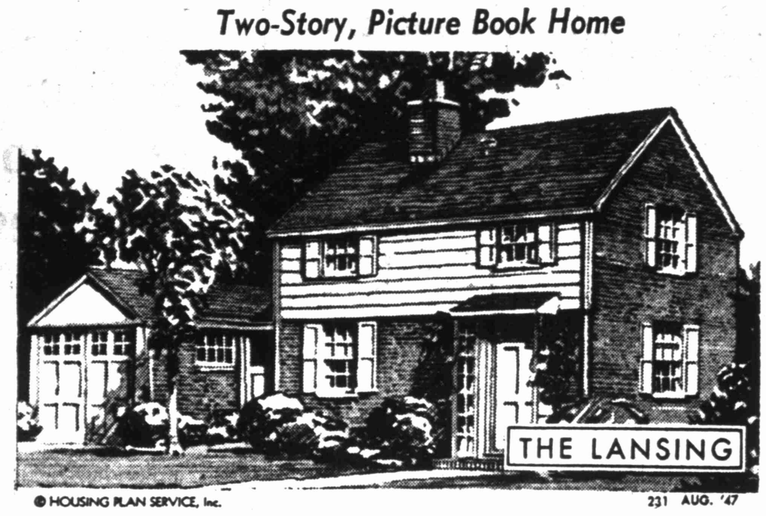

But whatever Tod meant by "champagne and stuff," there was very little luxury on the honeymoon trip.

They had meant to reach Chicago by evening, but something went wrong with the car, and they were stranded in northern Indiana.

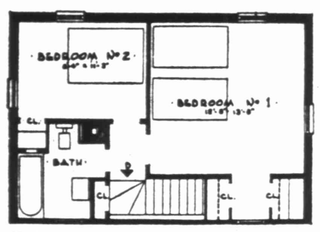

Of their honeymoon Jenny remembered more clearly than anything else the cramped little tourist cottage where they spent that night together; the sleazy blue spread on the chipped white enameled iron bed, the old insurance calendar on the wall, the fly-specked light bulb, the smoky cracked mirror on the dresser; and the smell of frying hamburgers from the all-night truck stop restaurant nearby mingled with the country smells of hay and clover and honeysuckle and dust; the roar of traffic pounding by on the state highway, plus the sound of music from the jukebox in the roadside tavern.

THE LANSING SECOND FLOOR PLAN

THE LANSING FIRST FLOOR PLAN

A tiny house with immense possibilities for gracious living is this two-story, picture book home. Although only 17 feet six inches by 26 feet seven inches, it gives the appearance of a much larger house, especially when built with the attached garage. It is a remarkably attractive house, with well-proportioned, generous rooms. There is not an inch of waste space. The first floor is divided between living room and kitchen, with the kitchen being large enough for a spacious dining alcove. Upstairs are two bedrooms and a bath, with an abundance of closets. Storage space especially is lavish in the master bedroom, which also has three-way ventilation.

Building Methods Help Cut Fire Loss

For each of the first seven months of 1949, U. S. fire losses were less than the corresponding month in 1948 and the total of $398,399,000 for the 1949 seven month period was 8.9 per cent less than the $437,435,000 in the first seven months of 1948, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

A leading reason for this reduction is more fire-resistant construction, such as non-combustible mineral wool insulation in hollow walls, elimination of excessive woodwork, using solid instead of thin-panel doors, better heating equipment and new materials and building methods designed to prevent fire.

Many communities are revising building codes to insure more fire-safe construction. National, state and local authorities have intensified efforts to persuade owners of homes and commercial building to eliminate fire hazards.

Fire-prevention experts are hopeful that these combined efforts will result in a substantial reduction from last year's all-time record fire loss of $711,114,000.

SHAKY FLOORS MEAN SUPPORT IS LACKING

If a floor shakes when walked upon and inspection of the basement ceiling shows that the joists are not cross-braced, installation of bridging at 8-foot intervals between each joist usually will cure the trouble. Bridging can be either short pieces of lumber or metal in an X form.

Hippopotamus means river horse.

Building Permits For Week Are $65,775; Bringing 1949 Year Total To $3,660,099

Midland building permits during the week ended Saturday amounted to $65,775 to bring the year mark to $3,660,099.

Largest permit of the week went to L. F. Mullins to build a brick veneer residence at 307 West Jax Street. Cost will be $7,000 and size will be 36 by 50 feet.

Two permits were issued to United Construction Company to build two frame residences at 503 and 505 South Carver Street. Cost of each will be $3,500, total $7000. Size of each will be 30 by 22 feet.

A permit to build a $6,500 frame residence at 2503 West Elizabeth Street. Size will be 29 by 37 feet.

W. R. Click took a permit for $6,500 to build a frame residence at 2602 Roosevelt Street. Size will be 40 by 32 feet.

W. R. Mitchell received a permit for $6,000 to build a frame residence at 1210 South Baird Street, size 24 by 32 feet.

Three permits for as many frame residences, each $1,600, total $4,800, at 200 South Madison Street, 203 and 211 South Tyler Street went to Harrell Hipps. Size of each will be 24 by 24 feet.

Other permits of the week included:

J. W. House, $4,000, tile and concrete structure at 910 West Kansas Street, 15 by 32 feet; Willie Bustillots, $2,000, frame residence at 509 South Marshall Street, 12 by 24 feet; E. C. Trice, $1,200, frame residence at 404 North Fort Worth Street, 12 by 22 feet; J. G. Rinker, $625, add to frame servants quarters at 1010 West Indiana Street; Harrell Hipps, $550, frame storage and garage at 209 South Big Spring Street, 30 by 12 feet; A. W. Jones, $500, frame garage at 410 West Parker Street, 12 by 26 feet; M. R. Rodriquez, $500, frame structure at 110 South Marshall Street, 14 by 14 feet; M. W. Fuqua, $400, move metal and frame structure to 410 South Main Street, 8 by 12 feet; Elmer Patton, $200, add to frame residence at 507 East Washington Street, 12 by 30 feet.

Aluminum Nails Gain In Favor And Useage

Positive elimination of a familiar and persistent home-owners' bugaboo—unsightly rust stains from common nails used in applying siding and roofing—has been simplified by the use of aluminum nails, according to leading architects and builders.

Nail stain, an obnoxious plague which affects light-painted wooden and composition siding most noticeably, normally can be remedied only by refinishing and repainting. This not only is expensive, but temporary. Aluminum nails, only slightly more expensive than common varieties as an item of original cost, cannot cause stains because they produce no red rust. In addition, the need for countersinking and puttying may be eliminated.

Orientation, the placing of a house on a plot of ground, according to compass directions, should be carefully considered before buying a house or purchasing a plot for a future home site.

The house or site should allow prevailing Summer breezes to sweep through the house and the dwelling should be planned with a minimum of exposure to Winter winds.

In most sections of the United States, prevailing Summer breezes are from a southerly direction and since modern planning strives to bring sunlight into the rooms most lived in, southern exposure of large glass areas usually is preferable. If major glass areas face the south, then sun will light the home most of the day. A wide roof overhanging will provide Summer shade. Because the sun is low in the Winter, the overhanging will not shut out its rays during the cold months.

If large glass areas face east or west, the early morning or late afternoon sun will make an overhang useless and much undesirable Summer sun and light will enter the house. Little or no sun will reach the interior with a northern exposure.

To properly orient a house, living-room, porches, terraces, and as many bedrooms as possible, should be planned for exposure to Summer winds.

A house to be located on the north side of a street may be designed with living-room and bedrooms at the front facing south; on the opposite side of the street, living-room and bedrooms are placed at the rear with windows overlooking a rear garden or yard. The front or north facade of the house is given an architectural design that does not suggest that the kitchen is at the front.

On north-south streets where houses must have east or west exposure because of nearby houses at either side, the architect has a bigger problem. This is one of the reasons that many builders today plan their developments with houses facing on east-west streets and use north-south streets as traffic arteries.

Refreshment Closet Is Provided Easily

A refreshment closet built into living-room, dining-room or even the hall is a convenient and excellent space - saver and keeps everything at hand for entertaining.

Storage shelves built against the wall are essential, and for a work surface bracket a shelf to the inside of the door 36" from the floor. When not in use and the door is closed, this work surface swings beneath a wall shelf. A pull-out slide at comfortable working height can be provided if preferred.

Paint the inside of the refreshment closet a bright color. Enliven plain paint with decalcomanias or free-hand designs. Give the shelves a stain-resistant finish. Light the closet interior with a small fluorescent tube hidden in the closet behind the top of the door frame.

Samedan And Andersons Get Devonian Discovery At C-S Gaines County Wildcat

A new oil field from the Devonian appears to have been discovered in Central-South Gaines County at Samedan Oil Corporation and W. D. and R. S. Anderson of Midland No. 1-E-A Andrews, deep wildcat on the northwest side of the Robertson field.

The development filled up with oil at the rate of 40 barrels per hour, during a three hour drillstem test in the top of the Devonian at 10,062-090 feet. No signs of formation water was shown by the investigation.

The project will be drilled deeper to check the producing ability of the full Devonian section.

Made Three Hour Test

The Devonian was topped at 10,055 feet. After the hole was drilled to 10,090 feet a packer was set at 10,062 feet and the three hour test was run.

The drill pipe had filled up at the end of the three hours and started to flow oil. The tester was immediately shutin and the fluid recovered from the investigation was reversed out.

Total recovery was the 2,000-foot water blanket and 8,000 feet of clean oil.

The new discovery is 15 miles southwest of Seminole and about three miles northwest of the nearest Devonian production which is in the Flanagan field.

Had Higher Shows

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 19, block A-24, psl survey.

The production so far developed in the Robertson field has been from the Glorieta and the Clear Fork zones of the Permian above 7,200 feet.

The Samedan and Anderson wildcat showed for production in both those horizons, but was carried on down to investigate the pre-Permian horizons.

Stanolex Prepares To Test Indicated Mitchell Discovery

Production tests of a possible discovery from the Canyon-Pennsylvanian lime are due to be started by the middle of the week by the Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Dunn, in Northwest Mitchell County.

This prospect, located 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 64, block 20, Lavaca Navigation survey, five miles east of Vincent, and eight miles south of the nearest Canyon production in the Sharon Ridge field in Southwest Scurry County, is preparing to run casing to approximately 7,685 feet, and then test the pay sections above that point through perforations.

Operations have been delayed a week while drilling equipment damaged by fire early last week was replaced and rigged up.

Fire Causes Damage

The machinery was all in condition to operate Saturday and the pipe running was due to be started shortly.

The fire came at the end of a drillstem test on the interval at 7,565-7,685 feet, when oil was unloaded out of the drill pipe and caught the motors on fire. The blaze thereby generated caused a large amount of damage to the drilling equipment.

The drillstem test was for a period of five hours. Gas showed at the surface in five minutes. Drilling mud flowed out in 10 minutes and oil started flowing in 15 minutes.

The oil was flowed to pits for three hours and 45 minutes. No gauge or accurate estimate was made by operator representatives regarding the amount of fluid produced during that period.

The flow was turned to tanks at the end of the fourth hour and during the next 60 minutes the recovery was 60 barrels of fluid—which was 70 per cent, or 42 barrels of oil, and 30 per cent, or 18 barrels of salt water and drilling fluid. The oil was 42 gravity.

Is Getting Water

Most informed sources believe the water is coming from between 7,685 feet, the top of a cement plug set in the well, and the total depth at 8,325 feet in the Ellenburger.

The Ellenburger was entered at 8,305 feet. That zone showed salt water, and no oil and gas on a drillstem test. Operator has never been able to get a satisfactory cement job on the plug back to 7,685 feet, and it is thought that the water is coming up around the cement now in the hole.

It is thought that by setting casing at 7,685 feet, and squeezing all possible cement below that point, that the bottom water probably can be cut off and the pay section between 7,565 feet and 7,685 feet can be tested and commercial production developed.

The story on this wildcat probably will be told during the current week.

Scurry Wildcat Has Oil Stains In Samples

Good possibilities of petroleum production have been indicated for the undeveloped area in Scurry County between the North Snyder and the Kelly fields.

Standard - Fryer Drilling Company No. 1 Wilkinson, about three miles southwest of the southwest side of the North Snyder field, and six miles north of the initial producer in the Kelly field, found the Canyon reef lime, the pay section in both the North Snyder and in the Kelly, at 6,602 feet, on an elevation of 2,375 feet.

The project is drilling ahead into that formation.

May Make Well

According to some geologist the Standard-Fryer wildcat encountered the top of the reef 323 feet above the top of the Canyon water in the Kelly field.

All showings so far developed at this prospector point to it making an oil well.

Sunray Still Hunts Reef At No. 1 Sentell

Sunray Oil Corporation No. 1 Sentell, North-Central Scurry County wildcat, two miles east of the closest completed oil wells on the south side of the North Snyder field, had progressed below 6,957 feet in shale, and was drilling deeper.

Location is 467 feet from north and west lines of tract 2, Dallas Trust & Saving Bank sub-division of the Grimes ranch in block 1, J. P. Smith survey. It is seven miles northeast of the town of Snyder.

Pecos Discovery Now Making Further Hole

Fullerton Oil Company No. 1-D Kone, North Pecos County wildcat discovery for flowing oil from the Ellenburger, was making new hole below 8,163 feet.

This development has shown for good production from the section between 7,969 feet, the top of the Ellenburger, and 8,118 feet.

The section at 8,117-68 feet showed only small amounts of oil during an 11 hour period of swabbing. In the tenth hour of that investigation 2.75 barrels of oil, cut with 3.5 per cent drilling mud was recovered.

In the 11th hour swabbing of the 8,117-68 foot interval put seven inches of fluid in the tanks. It had a shakeout of one per cent drilling fluid. There was no formation water.

The venture is now drilling ahead below 8,178 feet and is to go to approximately 8,218 feet, and make another swabbing test of the lowest 50 feet of hole.

This wildcat is adjacent to the shallow Pecos Valley field. It is 660 feet from the southwest and southeast lines of the east quarter of section 36, block 3, H&TC survey. It is ten miles south of Grandfalls and four miles east of the Santa Rosa-Ellenburger gas and distillate field.

The exploration is to drill until it encounters the Ellenburger water and it will then be completed.

Wolfcamp Extention Gets Sulphur Water

The water table in the Wolfcamp has been established at Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-C J. W. Owens, assured one and one-quarter mile west extension to the Clara Crouch pool in Central-West Crockett County nine miles northeast of Sheffield.

Operator cored from 6,020-6,029 feet. Recovery was four and one-half feet of vuggy porous lime.

That section developed gas in four minutes on a drillstem test. Recovery was 180 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 1,700 feet of sulphur water. Operator is now drilling deeper.

This project has shown for commercial production of gas and distillate from section between 5,714 feet and 6,006 feet.

The zone at 5,965-6,005 feet flowed a total of 77.66 barrels of 55.4-gravity distillate in three hours with a gas volume of 11,470,000 cubic feet per day.

NE Midland Project Temporarily Shutdown

Standard-Fryer Drilling Company No. 1 Fasken, Northeast Midland County exploration, 12 miles east of the city of Midland, and at the center of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 7, block 36, TP survey, T-2-S, has temporarily abondoned efforts to deepen from its old total depth of 5,004 feet in Permian lime.

It is understood that the activity will be resumed in a few weeks.

This project is the old Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Fasken, drilled to 5,004 feet in 1945, and abandoned at that point, after failing to develop any signs of production in the zones drilled through.

Drill Pipe Is Stuck

Standard-Fryer made a deal several months ago to deepen the venture to 8,000 feet—and under certain conditions to drill an Ellenburger prospector on the spread of acreage acquired with the old well.

A rotary rig was moved to the location several weeks ago. It cleaned out the hole to the old total depth, and then started reaming from the top down. Shortly after that work began the drill pipe was stuck.

Operator was unable to recover the pipe, during several days of trying, and as the rig was needed on another job immediately, operations were suspended and the equipment was moved to the other location.

It is understood that plans are to move a rig back to No. 1 Fasken before the end of this year and either fish out the stuck pipe, or start another hole which will be carried to at least 8,000 feet, and possibly considerable deeper.

E-C Midland Venture Gets Larger Rotary

Ted Weiner and associates No.1 L. B. Floyd, East-Central Midland County exploration to 8,000 feet, 14 miles southeast of Midland is bottomed at 4,428 feet in lime, and is rigging up a larger rotary to drill deeper.

This development, located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 15, block 37, TP survey, T-3-S, is a direct east flanker to Tex-Harvey Oil Company No. 1 Floyd, discovery for commercial production from the Spraberry sand of the Lower Permian to open the Tex-Harvey field.

The rig with which the Weiner project was started was not capable of drilling to 8,000 feet and is being replaced with larger and heavier equipment. Drilling will be resumed early in the week.

Pegasus Flanker Drills Below 9,320

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-BB TXL, Northwest flanker to the Pegasus discovery, and 664 feet from south and 660.5 feet from east lines of section 25, block 41, TP survey, T-4-S, just inside the north line of Upton County, had progressed below 9,320 feet in lime and was making more hole.

Magnolia No. 1-36 Glass, southwest outpost to the Pegasus discovery, and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 36, block 41, survey, T-4-S, has penetrated past 12,253 feet in lime and shale, and was making more hole. It is due to enter the Ellenburger during the next few days.

This prospector has also shown for production from the Pennsylvanian, the Devonian and the Silurian.

Magnolia No. 1-B TXL, one-half mile south of the opener of the Jegasus field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 31, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S, had reached 7,175 feet in lime and shale and was boring deeper. It is due to drilling to about 12,800 feet to explore into the Ellenburger.

Magnolia Drills More Midland Ellenburger

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2-30 Glass, Central-South Midland County stepout from the opener of the Pegasus-Ellenburger field across the line in Central-North Upton County, has reached 12,810 feet in the Ellenburger.

It was to dig to 12,828 feet, and run a drillstem test on the section between 12,727 feet and the new bottom.

This project flowed 8.2 barrels of 50.8 gravity oil, in one hour, through a five-eight inch bottom hole choke, by heads from the zone at 12,661-727 feet Gas-oil ratio was 2,735-1.

This exploration entered the Ellenburger at 12,611 feet—78 feet low to the discovery of the Pegasus field. It has already shown for production from the Pennsylvanian, the Devonian and the Fusselman

Devonian Venture To 12,100 Feet Is Started In NE Lea

HOBBS, N. M. — Drilling has been started at a 12,100-foot wildcat in Northeast Lea County which is slated to drill through the Pensylvanian lime, and into the Devonian—if it fails to develop commercial production from the Pennsylvanian.

The project is Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Walker-Federal. It is two miles east of the Betenbaugh field, which has two completed producers from the Pennsylvanian, and it is two mile northwest of the Crossroads field where there is production from both the Pennsylvanian and from the Devonian.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 8-9s-36e. It had started operations and at the end of the week it had reached 2,406 feet in anhydrites and shale and was boring deeper.

Eddy Wildcat Due

Grant Keys No. 1 State is to be a 1,500-foot wildcat in North-Central Eddy County, about two miles northeast of the shallow McMillian field.

It is 1,650 feet from south and 330 feet from north lines of section 23-19s-27e. Cable tools are to be used to drill the project. Operations are to start at once.

McAlester Fuel Company No. 1-A Denton, Central-East Lea County flowing discovery from the Devonian, 12 miles north and east of Lovington, was bottomed at 11,467 feet, and has a string of 5 1/2-inch casing cemented at 11,465 feet.

Operator is now preparing to perforate the casing and make production tests and complete.

This development, at the center of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 11-15s-37e, topped the Devonian at 11,257 feet on an elevation of 3,977 feet.

Shows Gas, Oil

The section between 11,263 and 11,417 feet flowed 49.4 barrels of 44.5 gravity oil during a two hour drillstem test through a five-eighths inch bottom hole choke. Considerable gas was shown along with the oil.

Operator then drilled from 11,417 feet to 11,467 feet. The lower 50 feet was not drillstem tested, but the samples showed good indications of oil.

This wildcat also showed good possibilities of producing from the Wolfcamp of the lower Permian between 9,038 feet and 9,536 feet. Several streaks of lime in that interval developed considerable amounts of free oil.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Rose, stepout to the discovery well of the Knowles-Devonian field, about three miles north of the town of Knowles in Central-East Lea County, and 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 35-16s-38e, was on a bottom of 12,597 feet in the Devonian and it has a string of 5 1/2-inch casing cemented at that point.

Shows For Producer

This exploration showed on a drillstem test at 12,560-597 feet that it would be completed as a commercial petroleum producer.

During a four hour period on that interval the recovery was 8,230 feet of 45.1-gravity clean oil. No water was developed.

There is a possibility that the project will be carried a little deeper, after the plug in the casing is drilled out.

The section between 12,560 feet and 12,597 feet will be perforated and tested, and that zone will be produced, as well as any open hole that may be drilled—when the well is completed.

Amerada No. 1 Eaves, also a flanker to the Knowles field discovery and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 35-16s-38e, had reached 11,285 feet in Mississippian lime and chert and was making more hole. It is to dig to around 12,600 feet to explore into the Devonian.

To Drill To Devonian

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., No. 1 Shell-Waldrip, wildcat in Central-East Lea County, six miles southeast of Hobbs, and at the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 6-20s-39e, which showed for commercial production from the Tubb lime of the Permian, in drillstem tests between 7,060 and 7,110 feet, had reached 7,300 feet in lime and anhydrite and was making more hole. It is to continue to the Devonian.

The development flowed at the estimated rate of approximately 22 barrels per hour from the 7,060-7,110 foot horizon. A little water was recovered from the drill pipe after the tests—but informed observers do not think the water was from the formation which carries the oil.

Lea Prospector Plugged

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-X State, in Northwest Lea County, and at the center of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 31-11s-35e, and 17 miles northwest of the Crossroads field, has been plugged and abandoned on a total depth of 13,228 feet in Devonian.

That formation was barren. The venture was plugged back to 9,450 feet in the Pennsylvanian and the zone above that point was tested. No shows of production were developed and abandonment was ordered.

Humble No. 1 Federal-Wiggs, slated 13,000-foot wildcat in Central-South Eddy County, 15 miles south of Carlsbad, and 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 31-25s-27e, had reached 11,613 feet in lime and was drilling deeper.

Waiting On Orders

Identity of the current horizon has not been disclosed.

Apache Oil Corporation, and associates No. 1 Nobles, Northeast Chaves County wildcat, 40 miles northeast of Roswell, and at the center of the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 18-4s-27e, was on a total depth of 6,392 feet in Pennsylvanian lime and was shutdown for orders.

This venture had tested for about one and one half million cubic feet of gas per day, with a small show of distillate from the section above 6,392 feet. There is a possibility it will be drilled deeper.

Gasoline Plant For Crockett Due To Be Completed By Nov. 1

Completion date has been set for November 1 for the natural gasoline plant being constructed cooperatively by 23 operators in the Deep Todd pool in Crockett County, it was announced Saturday by Continental Oil Company.

Continental was selected as the plant operator by the other 22 participants when work on the cooperative project began a year ago this month.

The completed gas recovery plant will have a daily capacity of 60,000 gallons and will handle all of the gas produced in the pool, which was discovered in April of 1940. On completion, the plant will require an operating crew of 25 men.

Roy Minear Named County Chairman Of Foundation Drive

Roy A. Minear has been appointed by Gov. Allan Shivers as chairman of Midland County's committee to raise funds for the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation. Governor Shivers is general chairman of the statewide campaign committee.

In urging Minear to accept the chairmanship for Midland County, the governor wrote: "Texas needs to provide more facilities at this great treatment center and more money to insure its' operation on a vastly enlarged scale."

Directors of the foundation said they are proud that the state's own Warm Springs Foundation for treatment and re-education of the physically handicapped is a truly Texas institution which was built and has been operated through contributions from every county.

"Big - hearted Texans are not stinting their efforts to provide the best in treatment facilities for our small children and our young men and women who are crippled by poliomyelitis and other diseases," states Ross Boothe, president of the foundation's board of directors.

Filled To Capacity

"We are pleased to have Roy Minear serve as chairman of the Midland County Committee for the foundation campaign," Boothe said. "We know all the volunteer committee workers will join with the governor to make this a highly successful project."

Jack Blackwell, executive secretary to the directors, pointed out that this Summer's epidemic of poliomyelitis has filled to capacity all the foundation units.

"Our greatest regret at present is that we cannot accept all who apply for treatment due to lack of space. Although our Development Committee, headed by Hulon Black of Austin, has increased capacity from 110 beds to 130 beds through emergency measures, we still must turn away a number of children who could be benefitted by the skilled treatment provided at Gonzales Warm Springs," he said.

Changes Are Made In Requirements For Cadet Training

The U. S. Air Force has announced two major changes in eligibility requirements for its cadet pilot and navigator training program, Sgt. Shelby Wheelus, in charge of the Army and Air Force Recruiting Station here, said Saturday.

Effective October 1, applicants for the aviation cadet programs must have a minimum of two years of college education to be accepted, Wheelus explained.

This must include 60 semester hours or 90 quarter hours at an accredited institution. An examination representing the equivalent of two years of college work no longer will be accepted as the educational alternate.

In addition, married applicants will not be accepted for aviation cadet training after October 1.

Age requirements will remain the same, permitting acceptance of cadets 20 to 26 1/2 years of age.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP—

Independents Continue Campaign For Cutbacks In Foreign Oil Imports

HOUSTON—(AP)—Independent oil men have not given up on their fight for cutbacks in foreign crude imports.

The one-vote Senate defeat of a plan to limit imports to five per cent of domestic production was a sharp setback. Late last week, however, the foreign crude opponents were reorganizing.

Most still are at a loss as to just what the next move should be. Two other developments also have confused the issue.

Widespread devaluation of foreign currencies has been accompanied by fears Britain has gained a price advantage in selling oil.

There also is a growing belief among the independents there will be further increases in imports the remainder of the year. The Senate vote, they believe, leaves the way open for continuation of the upward trend.

The next move in the anti-imports campaign may be developed October 3-4 at the annual meeting of the Independent Petroleum Association of America at Fort Worth.

Has Led Fight

IPAA was organized in conjunction with a campaign against imports. Its membership long has led the Washington fight for curtailment.

Immediately after the 40-41 Senate vote on the imports quota amendment to the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, Russell Brown, IPAA general counsel, called upon the Fort Worth Convention to chart a new course.

A Texas independent suggested the solution may be included in the Anglo-American oil treaty, pigeonholed long ago by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Jake L. Hamon, Dallas, member of the National Petroleum Council's Imports Investigation Committee, recommended the treaty be given new consideration.

Without urging them to change their position, Hamon reminded the independents:

To Regulate Production

"The original idea behind this treaty was formation of an international body which would attempt to regulate world production to demand."

He then added:

"If we are to keep healthy we will have to solve this import problem."

Another Texan predicted currency devaluation eventually may force United States firms with foreign holdings to join domestic producers in seeking a restriction on imports.

E. I. Thompson, executive vice president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, said devaluation definitely gives the British a price advantage on things they want to sell here.

"Abroad, it will give the British a 30 per cent edge in building up an industry with EOA dollars," he said.

"There now is even more urgent need for a law restricting crude imports."

WORLD CRUDE

Domestic and foreign crude production averaged 8,890,800 barrels daily in July, the Oil and Gas Journal reported last week.

Bureau of Mines officials initiated a world production survey report. They estimated January's world output of crude at 9,387,000 barrels daily. February was placed at 9,410,000.

Domestic production slumped again last week after a brief rally as Texas increased its allowables.

American Petroleum Institute said production averaged 4,845,300 barrels daily, a decline of 5,250 from the previous week. Production a year earlier was 5,294,350 barrels daily.

Senator Maybank, (D-SC), has announced his Senate Banking Committee wants to find out why recent price increases were made for heating and fuel oils.

Washington Oil —

Staff Report To Senate Banking, Currency Group Criticizes Petroleum Prices

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER

WASHINGTON—Crude, gasoline and fuel oil prices are criticized as too high in the initial draft of a staff report to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

The result of gasoline price hearings in June, the report as drafted, makes these findings, among others:

Crude prices—They remain at present "substantial" levels because of the proration system and obstacles to imports which are "artificial" devices.

Proration—Operations of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission should be reviewed to find out if the IOCC serves as a price-fixing measure, rather than a conservation measure.

Independent refiner—He's been in a tight spot financially. One way to ease his troubles is to make it illegal for a single company to produce, refine and distribute petroleum and products.

Profits—Profits of larger oil companies promise to be higher this year than in 1947, most profitable year in the industry's history, up to then. They may be lower than in 1948, but still are strong.

Public release of the report is weeks off, says the committee staff A rewriting and approval by the committee is needed.

Committee Hearings

The committee held hearings in June into gasoline prices. The chief oil industry spokesman was A. L. Nickerson, executive in charge of domestic marketing of Socony-Vacuum Oil Company. The inquiry lost its steam when the star critic, American Automobile Association, failed to appear.

This week, as fuel oil prices began a slow, seasonal climb, Senator Maybank leaped into the scene with a press release. It said:

"In view of the present economic situation, the adequate supply of oil, and the unusually profitable position of the oil industry, it seems to me the oil industry should lower gasoline prices if they want to reduce the spread in prices between fuel oil and gasoline, not raise fuel oil prices."

He asked his staff "to investigate the recent price increases in heating and fuel oils." Staff members said no hearings have been planned, and no persons assigned specifically to the task.

Gas Bill — Back from Corpus Christi, Rep. John E. Lyle (D-Texas) made it his first business to check up on prospects for the Natural Gas Act amendments. A measure to prevent the Federal Power Commission from taking control over arm's length sales passed the House and awaits action by the Senate.

Lyle's findings: "The Senate will pass the measure, and it will become law this session of Congress."

Everyone interested in oil imports still is reeling from the astonishing support in the Senate for the Thomas measure to set a quota on oil imports.

The measure went down by one vote. The tally: 41 to 40.

The Congressional Record tells part of the strange story as follows:

"The Vice President. The Chair is advised that on this vote, the yeas are 42 and the nays are 41, so the amendment is agreed to.

"Mr. Butler. Mr. President, I call up my amendment dated yesterday, and ask that it be stated.

"The Vice President. The amendment will be stated.

"Mr. Lucas. Mr. President, a parliamentary inquiry.

Error In Counting

"The Vice President. Before the senator from Illinois states his parliamentary inquiry, let the chair say that the secretary advises the chair that in the tabulation of the last vote he made an error, and that the vote was 40 yeas and 41 nays, so that the amendment was rejected."

During this colloquy, Senators Eastland and Frear asked how they had been listed as voting. Informed they had been marked down as voting for the oil quota amendment, each said he wished to be recorded as voting against it.

The amendment of Sen. Elmer Thomas (D - Okla) would have limited oil imports to five per cent of domestic demand. This would be about 300,000 barrels a day, or about half the present level.

Few observers had foreseen such hearty support for the measure. Credit goes to Russell B. Brown, counsel, and the executive committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America. They called on senators, bombarded them with statistics and persuasion.

The size of the vote will have an effect. The State Department may think twice before taking steps to encourage the flow of American and British oil to the U. S. Importing companies are jolted by the vote. The National Petroleum Council's imports committee is giving it attention. And the fight is not ended.

Says Brown: "The first skirmish temporarily was halted. Our efforts, if pursued fearlessly and fairly will succeed." He and the IPAA will plan the next steps at IPAA's Fort Worth meeting October 2-4.

Elsewhere with imports — The State Department has an unpublished report forecasting a rise in imports, perhaps as high as 700,000 barrels a day. So has the House Small Business Committee. A statistical subcommittee on imports of the National Petroleum Council goes over the import situation September 26 and 27 in the New York offices of Howard W. Page, Standard Oil Company (NJ). Imports will be big news at the NPC's quarterly meeting October 18 in Washington. The British-American oil talks at the State Department are mostly talk. Anything done, however, promises to open America to additional oil imports. So does the devaluation of the British pound. Details are under wraps.

Eugene Holman, president, Standard Oil Company (NJ), goes before Senator Joseph O'Mahoney's joint economic committee September 27. He'll tell how to encourage American capital to go abroad for investments.

Sterling First County To Pass USO Quota

AUSTIN—(AP)—Sterling County is the first of 254 counties in Texas to reach its quota in the USO's reactivation drive, Gov. Allan Shivers, general chairman of the drive, announced Saturday.

R. H. Emery, county chairman, reported from Sterling City that his county had gone over the top with a subscription of $105. County quotas, based on population, range from $100 in the sparsely settled areas to Harris County's $64,000.

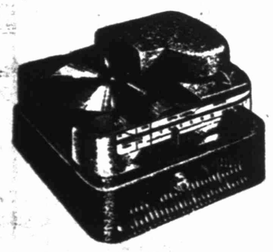

The Texas quota of the $10,100,000 national appeal is $500,000.

New Mexico was the last state admitted to the Union.

Midland Deep Tests Dig Toward 'Burger'

York & Harper, Inc. No. 1-A TXL, Central Midland County wildcat to 13,000 feet to test the Ellenburger was drilling below 10,852 feet in lime and shale.

This project is 12 1/2 miles south of the city of Midland, and 690 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 25, block 39, TP survey, T-3-S.

General American Oil Company No. 1 Mrs. Hal C. Peck, slated 13,900-foot wildcat in Southwest Midland County, to explore into the Ellenburger, had progressed past 5,230 feet in lime and shale and was boring deeper.

Pegasus Extender Is Preparing To Acidize

Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1 Powell, Central-North Upton County wildcat, which has apparently extended the Ellenburger producing area of the Pegasus field two miles to the southeast was swabbing the open hole at 12,945-13,019 feet, and was showing a little gas and some free oil.

Operator had about swabbed to bottom. Plans were being made to treat the open hole section with acid, in an effort to make the Ellenburger pay flow.

This well had a recovery of 910 feet of gas cut mud, 6,643 feet of clean oil, and 1,000 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud, with no formation water, during a 14 1/2 hour drillstem test at 12,945-13,019 feet.

Practically all of the recovered fluid unloaded from the drill pipe while it was being pulled.

Having Circulation Troubles

Republic Natural No. 1 American Republics Corporation fee, three miles south of the Pegasus field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 6, block 40, TP survey, T-5-S, had reached 7,657 feet in shale, and was mixing mud to try to retain circulation of the drilling fluid, while going through the shale zone.

The Spraberry sand section of the Permian is expected shortly. That horizon could carry petroleum. The venture is contracted to 13,000 feet to explore into the Ellenburger.

Upton Prospectors Continue To Deepen

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Ralph Pembrook, Central-East Upton County wildcat six miles north of the Benedum area, took a drillstem test at 12,058-12,137 feet in an unidentified lime.

The tester was open 57 minutes. Recovery was 30 feet of drilling mud with no shows of gas or oil.

Operator is now drilling deeper at this venture located 660 feet from north and 2,247 feet from east lines of Block X, C. C. DeWitt survey. Humble No. 1 J. M. Parrott and others, was coming out of the hole with a core taken from 11,375-396 feet. At the time this report was prepared no information was available as to the contents of the core.

Operator plans to core deeper.

This prospector is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block Y, EL&RR survey, and one-half mile north of Pennsylvanian production in the Benedum area.

Another Upton County wildcat, Humble No. 1 Mrs. Z. Oswalt, four and one-half miles northwest of the Benedum pool, was drilling ahead below 10,383 feet in Pennsylvanian lime and chert.

The drillsite is 2,640 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 12, block B, CCSD&RGNG survey. It is four miles southeast of the operator's No. 1 Pembrook.

Sterling Wildcat At Water Valley Is Set

York & Harper, Inc., and J. P. Gibbins have staked their No. 3 L. C. Clark as a stepout to production in the Water Valley area in Southeast Sterling County.

Location is 2,332 feet from north and 1,756 feet from east lines of section 6, block A, R. R. Wade survey. It is also 660 feet east of the same operator's No. 1 L. C. Clark, completed several weeks ago as a major extension to the shallow Water Valley field.

If production is encountered in the San Andres pay above 1,100 feet the prospector will stop and complete from that zone. However, if that horizon does not produce the venture will likely be carried on to 2,000 feet.

Cable tools will be used to drill this venture and operations will begin in the near future.

Sterling Outpost Is Completed As Pumper

York & Harper, Inc., and J. P. Gibbins No. 2 L. C. Clark, stepout to production from the Water Valley-San Andres area in Southeast Sterling County, has been completed for an initial daily production of 37 barrels of 35.8-gravity oil, plus 39.8 per cent water.

Gas-oil ratio was less than 10-1.

Location is 2,416 feet from east and 2,340 feet from south lines of the lease in section 6, block A, R. R. Wade survey.

Flowing Producer In C-S Borden Finished

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Pan American Oil Company have completed their No. 5 T. J. Good as a new producer from the Pennsylvanian lime in the Good field of Central-South Borden County.

Flowing natural through a 16/64-th inch tubing choke it completed for a daily production of 444.12 barrels of 44.6-gravity oil, with a gas-oil ratio of 780-1. There was no formation water.

The production was from open hole section between the five and one-half inch oil string cemented at 8,107 feet and the total plug back depth at 8,265 feet.

This new well is 660 feet from west and 1,981.4 feet from north lines of section 37, block 33, TP survey.

Three New Operations Are Slated In Scurry

Locations have been staked and drilling is to start in the near future on two new operations in the Kelly field of Central Scurry County, and one new exploration in the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry County. Two of the ventures will drill to 7,000 feet to test the Canyon lime reef and the third will try for that zone at 6,875 feet.

Magnolia No. 2 P. J. Collins will be 660 feet from north and east lines of tract 16, section 16, block 1, Dallas Trust & Savings Bank Sub-Division. It will be in the North Snyder field. Rotary tools will be used.

In the Kelly field Magnolia No. 2 Ray Haney will be a 6,875-foot project and the drillsite will be 660 feet from east and 467 feet from north lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it two miles west of Snyder.

Sherman, Jr., & Stewart Hunt of Dallas, No. 1 Union Baptist Church is to be 85 feet from east and south lines of the southeast quarter of section 248, block 97, H&TC survey and four miles west of Snyder.

Using rotary tools it will drill to 7,000 feet.

Another Diamond-M Project Due By Lion

Lion Oil Company has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill its No. 22 McLaughlin in the Diamond-M field of Southwest Scurry County.

Contracted depth of the venture is 6,800 feet to explore the Canyon lime with rotary tools.

The drillsite will be 665 feet from north and 1,984.30 feet from east lines of section 196, block 97, H&TC survey.

That makes it ten miles southwest of Snyder. Operations are to start in the near future.

Waddell Test Slated In Crane By Jergins

Jergins Oil Company No. 2 M. D. Self-State is to be a stepout to the Tucker field in Southwest Crane County.

It is to test the Waddell sand of the Simpson at about 6,000 feet, using rotary tools.

The project will be 467 feet from south and 165 feet from east and west lines of section 20, block 1, H&TC survey, and 13 miles east of Grandfalls.

Drilling will begin in the near future.

Terry Wildcat Makes No Show In Permian

Tide Water Associated Oil Company and others, No. 1 J. P. Nystel, slated 12,000-foot wildcat 14 miles south of Brownfield and four miles east of the Adair field of extreme Central-South Terry County, took a drillstem test in lower Permian lime at 7,144-7,295 feet.

The tool was open 45 minutes. The recovery was 200 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water. The section tested showed slight oil stains in samples but it was hard and tight.

Operator is continuing to deepen.

Cochran Venture To 12,200 Feet Is Due

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has staked location and is to start drilling soon on another project to explore the Devonian at around 12,200 feet in the Landon-Deep field of Central-South Cochran County.

The venture, Stanolind No. 3 Birtie T. Brown will be a stepout from the southwest side of the field, and will be drilled with rotary tools.

Landon Deep Project Still Trying To Flow

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company continues its efforts to develop flowing production from the Devonian at its No. 2 Holt, one-quarter of a mile north outpost to the discovery for production in that horizon in the Landon-Deep field of Central-South Cochran County.

Up to now the best yield reported from the development was the recovery of 231 barrels of fluid in 17 hours of swabbing on the section at 11,747-794 feet.

That zone had been treated with 500 gallons of mud acid and 2,000 gallons of regular acid prior to that 17-hour test.

The 231 barrels of fluid was cut with from 12 to 20 per cent drilling mud. The remainder was new oil. There was no formation water.

May Complete On Pump

In a subsequent 11-hour period of swabbing on the same section, the recovery was 14 barrels of oil, with a small cut of drilling mud.

It appears that the pay section is pretty well filled up with drilling mud. That condition likely will cause the well to continue to show mud along with the oil it produces, for a considerable time in the future.

Operator has now re-treated the 11,747-794 foot horizon with 5,000 gallons of acid and is swabbing to clean out acid load, then make a production test.

The project will be completed as some sort of commercial oil well in the near future. However there is a possibility that it will have to be finished as a pumper—an oil well that has to get oil from below 11,700 feet by pumping is rather expensive to operate.

Second Stepout Drills Deeper

This development is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block L, psl survey. That makes it one-quarter of a mile north of the same company's No. 2 Edwards, the initial producer from the Devonian in the Landon-Deep field.

Stanolind No. 1 Grollman, another stepout from the Devonian production in the Landon area, and 660 feet from west and 407 feet from south lines of section 4, block L, psl survey, had penetrated to 11,016 feet and was boring ahead. Up to now it has not found any signs of production in any of the horizons it has penetrated below 9,100 feet.

Program For INGAA Annual Meeting In Dallas Announced

Virtually every phase of the natural gas industry's activities will be covered in papers to be presented at the annual meeting of the Independent Natural Gas Association of America to be held in the Baker Hotel, Dallas, on October 31.

The one-day affair will be packed with discussions on topics of interest to royalty owners, producers, transporters, and distributors as well as to members of regulatory agencies and consumers.

Following an address of welcome by the Hon. Wallace Savage, mayor of Dallas, and the report of INGAA President A. B. Harper, of Fort Smith, Ark., president of the Arkansas-Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, there will be discussions concerning Winter supply problems, with S. B. Irelan of Oklahoma City, president of the Cities Service Gas Company, talking on "Winter Supply Problems of Transporters," and G. A. Staples, Corpus Christi, of The Chicago Corporation, offering a paper on "Winter Supply Problems of Producers and Gatherers."

Board Members To Be Elected

After hearing Rex Baker, Houston, of Humble Oil & Refining Company, on "Legal Problems for the Natural Gas Industry," the morning session will close with a motion picture showing the activities of the Oklahoma Natural Gas Company.

During the business luncheon, the nominating committee will submit its recommendations for members to serve on the board of directors for the coming year, and the election of board members will follow.

Also, Wesley E. Disney, of Tulsa, Okla., and Washington, D. C., who is the INGAA counsel, will speak on "A Look into the Legislative Future."

Opening the afternoon session, Maj. B. A. Hardey, independent operator of Shreveport, La., will discuss the "Status and Prospects of Natural Gas from Tidelands," and this will be followed by a paper by Dr. Frank H. Dotterweich of the Texas College of Arts and Industries, on "The Competitive Position of Natural Gas Versus Coal, Fuel Oil, Manufactured Gas and Atomic Energy."

Party To Close Meeting

Charles C. Wine of the Arkansas Public Service Commission will talk on "Overlapping Problems of State and Federal Regulations," and then will follow a round-table discussion on "Methods and Laws Relating to Gas Measurements," with the following attorneys participating: Scott Hughes, of Southern Union Gas Company, Dallas; R. R. McCracken, of Cities Service Gas Company, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Marshall Newcomb of Lone Star Gas Company, Dallas.

After acting on the report of the resolutions committee, there will be an intermission while the new board of directors holds a meeting at which new officers for the coming year will be elected. The day will close with a membership party.

Housing And Food Can Be Obtained In Big Bend Park

Many geologists, and other persons in Midland and other West Texas cities have expressed a desire to visit the Big Bend National Park and spend some time studying various features of the region.

In order to serve those persons, representatives of the West Texas Geological Society have checked on housing accommodations and road conditions in the park and find that cabins with space for 80 persons are available in the Big Bend Park headquarters area in the Chisos Mountains.

A chuck wagon style restaurant serves three meals each day. It is located in the headquarters area and plenty of food is provided at each meal.

Best Route By Marathon

The best highway route to the park is from Alpine to Marathon over paved U. S. Highway No. 90, and then south over State Highway No. 277, which is paved from Marathon to the north edge of the park property.

The road inside the park is graveled in the level sections and is paved in the mountain sector.

The park headquarters can be reached without trouble by automobile.

The cabins are usually filled on weekends, but accommodations for the middle of the week are generally available.

Persons desiring further information about the roads to and in the park, and about the housing and food facilities should contact Alan B. Leeper at Honolulu Oil Corporation in Midland, who has made the investigation for the West Texas Geological Society.

Jones Will Address Geological Society At Tuesday Meet

This will be the first gathering of the organization since the luncheons were suspended at the beginning of the Summer.

All geologists in Midland are invited to attend.

McMillian, Peterson In New Quarters

Offices of McMillian and Peterson, Midland independent oil operators, are now located at 203 East Wall Street. The concern formerly maintained offices in the First National Bank Building.

The move was made to secure more space.

Three Officials Of Conoco Promoted

W. C. MacMillian has been elected executive vice president of Continental Oil Company.

MacMillian, formerly vice president and administrative assistant to the president of Conoco, has been with the company more than 20 years.

Serge B. Jurenev formerly secretary of the concern has been named vice president in charge of coordination and plannings, and Rawleigh Warner, Jr., has been selected to succeed Jurenev as secretary.

Warner was formerly assistant treasurer of Continental.

Oil, Gas Lease Sale Is Planned At Santa Fe

A sale of oil and gas leases will be held by the Commissioner of Public Lands at his office in the Capitol Building at Santa Fe, N. M., October 10.

Sealed bids for oil and gas leases on 38 tracts of land will be received at that office until 10 a.m. on the date of the sale.

Seperate bids must be made on each tract and seperate remittance made on each bid.

Water Short Course To Begin Monday

A short course for water works personnel of Midland and area cities is scheduled to open here Monday. The school will continue through October 7. It is sponsored by the Industrial Extension Service of Texas A&M College in cooperation with the State Department of Public Health.

Two-hour classes will be held nightly in the city water works building on North Fort Worth Street. Instructor will be J. E. Williams of the A&M Industrial Extension Service.

The course is open to all interested persons in the production and distribution of domestic water. Twenty hours credit toward B and C certificates will be awarded to those completing the course.

Enrollees are expected from Stanton, Big Spring, Odessa, Kermit, Wink, Monahans, Andrews, McCamey, Crane, Rankin and other area cities.

Annual Permian Basin Tour For Corrosion Study Set

Approximately 200 persons are expected to participate in the 1949 annual Permian Basin Corrosion Inspection Tour which will start Tuesday morning and continue through Friday.

Reservations for more than 100 persons from outside the Permian Basin, have already been received for the affair.

The tour is sponsored by the Permian Basin Chapter of the National Association of Corrosion Engineers. It will headquarter at Hotel Scharbauer in Midland, and go out from that place each day, and return in the evening.

Evening Sessions

Air-conditioned busses will be used to make the field trips on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

On those tours a large number of examples of effective work in decreasing and preventing damage from corrosion in oil and gas field operations will be inspected and explained.

On the evenings of the first three days of the tour period study sessions will be held at Hotel Scharbauer where specialists on several features of corrosion work will give papers and lead discussions.

The tour will conclude with a barbecue at 5:10 p.m., Friday, at the Officers Club at Midland Airpark, two miles north of the city of Midland.

Not Restricted

A registration desk for the tour will be opened at the hotel at 5 p.m., Monday. It will be operated all day Tuesday to register late comers.

Participation in the tour is not restricted. Any person interested in any phase of corrosion prevention is invited to take part in the affair. Full details can be secured at the registration desk.

A new feature of the annual corrosion study tour in the Permian Basin will be the display of manufacturers and applicators of corrosion equipment and materials which has been set up in the Midland City-County Auditorium at West Missouri Avenue and South Colorado Street.

Approximately 20 separate exhibits will be presented in the auditorium. The displays will be open during each of the three days of the tour.

J. C. Rosser, an oilfield worker, was treated at Western Clinic-Hospital Friday night for a back injury, received while at work on a rig.

New Cotton Weaving Machine Being Built At Lubbock College

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—A new cotton weaving machine which will speed up the manufacturing process 300 per cent, thereby enabling cotton products to compete more effectively with rayon, is being designed at Texas Tech College, Lubbock, President D. M. Wiggins told the college directors at a meeting here Saturday.

Dr. Wiggins discussed the research project in recommending to the board that Dr. Lyle E. Hessler, now with the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, be appointed to an $8,000-a-year job as Texas Tech's research associate with the Texas Cotton Research Committee. The board approved Hessler's appointment.

The committee is a combined operation by Texas Tech, Texas A&M and the University of Texas. Presidents of the three schools are committee members.

An experimental model of the new "tri-knot" weaving machine now is being set up at Lubbock, Wiggins said.

The board awarded to W. G. McMillan, Lubbock, the general contract for construction of two new wings to the College Administration Building, at the low bid price of $498,050.

Suit Filed To Void 1946 Divorce Decree

EL PASO—(AP)—A suit filed in 41st District Court here by Vera Hartt Martin of Dallas seeks to set aside a divorce granted to A. B. Martin of Dallas.

Involved is more than a million dollars in community property. The divorce was granted in 34th District Court here August 16, 1946. Mrs. Martin's suit was filed Friday.

Mrs. Martin, in a hearing before Judge David Mulcahy, testified she did not know the divorce suit was filed in El Paso County until final judgment was made.

Community Chest Has New Directors

Six new directors of the Midland Community Chest—Carroll Thomas, Drew Campbell, the Rev. R. J. Snell, P. F. Bridgewater, W. D. Anderson and Dr. Henry Schlichting, Jr.,—were elected Friday afternoon at a meeting of Chest officials in the office of Mrs. Drue Dunn in the Midland Tower.

They replace Robert I. Dickey, H. Winston Hull, W. I. Pratt, Dave Henderson, Tom Sloan and Mrs. Dunn whose terms have expired. Holdover directors are Don Johnson, P. V. Thorson and Mrs. Iva Noyes.

The election followed a report of the nominating committee which included Johnson, Thorson and Downing.

Officer Election

Officers will be elected at a meeting scheduled Friday afternoon. Budgets of the participating agencies also will be inspected and approved at that time. The budget examining committee includes Campbell, Bridgewater and Anderson.

Agencies should submit their budgets to Campbell at the Midland National Bank or to Downing by Friday, officials said.

The six agencies participating in the 1948-49 Chest were Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Youth Center, Goodfellows, U. S. O. and Salvation Army. Other social and welfare groups who wish to participate in Chest funds are asked to apply for membership before the next meeting.

CITY COUNCIL SLATES TUESDAY NIGHT MEET

Members of the City Council will meet in regular session at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the council chamber in the City Hall.

Lamesa Dedicates Stadium With Win

LAMESA—The Lamesa Tornadoes dedicated their new football stadium with a 26 to 2 victory over the Plainview Bulldogs here Friday night.

Monahans Lobos Top McCamey By 20 To 0

McCAMEY—The McCamey Badgers battled the Monahans Lobos to a standstill most of the first half here Friday night but weakened later to lose to the State Class A Champions by a 20-0 score.

Curtis Elam recovered a McCamey fumble on the Badger 22 to set up the first TD in the second period. Carl Chummey slipped through tackle for the score.

Leonard Perryman, Monahans back, returned the third-quarter kickoff 72 yards for Monahans' second touchdown. Chummey broke through the middle for the extra point.

Mighty Army Beats Davidson 47 To 7

WEST POINT, N. Y.—(AP)—The Army football team, last year's Eastern champion, opened its 1949 season Saturday by hammering out a 47 to 7 victory over Davidson.

Despite ragged play in spots, Army had too many and too big men for the Southern Conference school. Still Coach Earl Blaik had to use his first string offensive and defensive units a large part of the time.

Fullback Gil Stephenson crashed through for two Army touchdowns and Dan Foldberg made two on passes from Arnold Galiffa. C. L. Runyan tallied Davidson's only touchdown.

Bullldogs Lose To Austin

Experience, Polish, Speed Furnish Edge To Panthers

By SHORTY SHELBURNE

The Midland Bulldogs scared the daylights out of the classy Austin High Panthers of El Paso in the first quarter of the season-opener here Friday night but couldn't find a substitute for speed after that. The Panthers, packed with speed and deception and a fine passing game, rolled fast in the last three periods to pile up a 49 to 12 advantage.

The Bulldogs fought every inch of the way but were too inexperienced to match the polished offense of the Austin High charges.

The Bulldogs scored first early in the first period just four plays after they received the opening kickoff. Moving from their own 46-yard line, Midland used a savage ground attack to push forward.

L. C. Thomas picked up four through the middle. Jack Burris ripped off tackle for 16 and a first down on the Austin 36. Thomas hit for four more and Burris picked up five.

Burris Scores

Burris then took a handoff from Cecil Stephens on a reverse and galloped 27 yards for the TD. The try for point failed.

Austin High received the return kickoff and wasted no time getting in gear. After two line plays failed to make yardage, Noel McCormick, Panther fullback, sliced through tackle and went 47 yards for his team's first score. Fred Kriss kicked the first of seven extra points to start a perfect night.

The two teams exchanged punts following the scoring with neither gaining much ground.

Midland took Austin's punt on the Bulldog 36. A beautifully executed pass and lateral play from Jack Burris to Dwane Bush to Harrie Smith moved the ball to the Austin 24. Ground plays picked up only six yards and two passes fell incomplete, forcing the ball to go over to Austin on the Panthers' 19.

Austin High failed to gain and punted. Reed Gilmore was downed on the Austin 49 after a nine-yard return.

Passes Fail

Midland's passing game failed again and Gilmore got off a beautiful punt over the head of Jerry Baker, Austin safety man. Harrie Smith was down the field fast and nailed Baker on the Austin two-foot line.

Austin punted out to its own 30. The Bulldogs moved for short gains through the line. A fourth-down fumble was recovered by Austin on its own 39.

Jimmy O'Neal, who played great defensive ball all night, closed the gate on Austin for three plays. Kriss dropped back and punted deep to the Midland 25 where the receiver was downed immediately. A 15-yard penalty against the Bulldogs moved the ball back to the 10. A fumble in the Midland backfield was downed on the one-yard line.

Reed Gilmore came through again, punting from behind his own goal, to get the Bulldogs out of a bad hole. He booted out on the 38.

Jim Agee, Austin quarterback, picked up 10 through the line. Jackie Mobley broke through to nail Feidner for a loss. Jimmy O'Neal broke up a pass and Al Baze stopped a line play cold.

On fourth down, Agee flipped a five-yard pass to Feidner on the 18. Feidner moved down to the five, was hit and fumbled. Rosas scooped up the ball and moved across for the TD. Kriss converted.

Bulldogs Fumble

Midland fumbled the return kickoff and drew a 15-yard penalty to boot, downing the ball on the Midland five. Gilmore punted to Baker on the 35 and he returned it to the Midland 20.

Robert Burks charged in from linebacker position, hit an Austin ball carrier hard and jarred him loose from the ball, recovering it on the 19. After three line plays, Stephens punted to Baker who was downed on the Midland 44.

Agee passed to Rosas for 27 yards and a first down on the Midland 17. Baker circled end for 10 and a first on the seven. From there it was Agee to Feidner for the touchdown, followed by Kriss' perfect kick. Austin 21, Midland 6.

Ralph Brooks entered the Midland backfield following the return kickoff and loosed a heavy aerial bombardment. He missed badly at first and Gilmore punted.

Austin started passing immediately. Gilmore intercepted one on the Austin 25 but it was nullified by a penalty.

Friday Intercepts

Larry Friday intercepted the next one on the Austin 46 and was downed immediately. The half ended before Midland could move the ball.

The Midland High School Band and the Austin High Band did half-time stunts. The Midland Drill Squad also performed.

The Purple kicked to Austin to open the third quarter.

On the return kick Reed Gilmore made a nice return of 26 yards to the Austin 34. With Brooks passing, three forwards fell incomplete and Gilmore punted out.

Austin failed to gain on the ground, being stopped by Dalton Byerley, and punted out to the 36.

Feidner Scores

Feidner took a pitch-out from Agee and went all the way for the score. Kriss again converted.

The teams battled back and fourth until late in the third period.

Midland had possession on its own 25. Brooks completed a pass to Harrie Smith for 27 yards.

Reed Gilmore went deep behind the Austin defense and took a Brooks forward on the Austin 35. He raced to the Austin one before being pulled in from behind.

L. C. Thomas hit the middle for the touchdown as the quarter ended. The kick was no good.

On the return kickoff, Austin started a march from the Midland 45. Richard Thurmon and George Clark slashed the Bulldog line for first downs on the Midland 29 and 18. From there, Thurmon passed to Clark for a touchdown. Kriss kept his point-after record perfect, making the score 42 to 12.

L. C. Thomas took the kickoff and made a nice return but lost the ball on a fumble on the Midland 30.

A 15-yard penalty set Austin High back and the Bulldog defense stiffened. Jack Mobley, Dalton Byerley, Graham Mackey, Al Baze and Jerry Culp formed a stone wall. The ball went to Midland on downs on the Bulldogs 35.

Brooks hit Harrie Smith with a 25 yard pass but missed on the next three, forcing a fourth-down punt.

Thurmon received the boot and was downed on the Austin 38. From there George Clark went all the way for Austin's final touchdown, And Kriss booted the point again.

Carver Hornets Bop Hobbs Tigers 46-12

HOBBS, N. M.—The Carver High School Hornets of Midland scored a one-sided 46 to 12 victory over the Hobbs Tigers in the opening game of the 1949 negro school football season here Friday night.

SPORTSLANTS

BY SHORTY SHELBURNE

We were tipped off by the ever alert Tommy Hart of Big Spring that Longhorn League Statistician Troy Kegans made a mistake in figuring the final average for the loop batting champion. Tommy was quick to inform us of the mistake because it involved Manager Pat Stasey of Big Spring.

Tommy says by taking the final batting averages to four numbers, Stasey is the winner.

And, so it is. We figured the averages and came out with the same thing the Big Spring writer did:

Pat Stasey ..... .3764
Stu Williams ..... .3755

—SS—

We readily can see why it happened.

Stasey's fourth fraction was less than half so he was left at .376 while Williams' last fraction was over half (counting the remainder after carrying to four numbers). Williams therefore was raised to the next highest full point which is .376.

However, in the official averages it probably will be listed with Stasey the winner.

—SS—

Julian Pressley, Midland's leading hitter all season, kept his average well up all the way. He finished with a .358 after hovering around .365 to .370 all year.

Kenny Jones also came through in fine shape. He hit .343 for the season to climax a banner year for him. He was named to the all-star team and was voted Rookie of the Year on top of playing a great brand of ball for the Indians.

—SS—

His hitting was consistently good and many of his hits were timely enough to win ball games. He has been one of the most valuable men on the team all year.

—SS—

Scooter Hughes hit a streak toward the end of the season which sent his average to .296. He was Midland's leading base stealer with 21, just one ahead of Sliter.

Buck Austin, who shifted to the outfield for a spell after coming here as a pitcher, hit .281 in 50 games.

Lou Dawson, who is just finding his batting eye, jumped his average to a respectable .279 with a stretch-drive spree. He was second only to Julian Pressley in runs batted in for the Indians. Dawson drove in 99 while Pressley drove across 133, good enough for second in the league.

—SS—

The other Indians trailed in hitting like this: Gus Pena, .266 (with most of his hits driving in runs); Bob Rose, .256; Ralph Blair, .244; Ernie Nelson, .221; Glenn Patton, .197; Leon Hayes, .153, and Ed Cox, .135.

Claude Horton, who appeared only a few times while pitching for the Indians, hit .324 for the season. Two of his 12 hits were home runs.

—SS—

Getting down to the pitching records for the season, we want to call attention to the fact many heartbreakers are included in the losses suffered by Midland hurlers.

Ralph Blair, the biggest winner for the season with 18, easily could have won more than Julio Ramos with a little better hitting and fielding support at times. He was the workhorse of the staff. He pitched 277 innings while working in 40 ball games. He lost 16 but was second only to Julio Ramos in strikeouts with 159.

Ernie Nelson, the veteran of the staff, was the second high winner with 15. He lost 12. And 25 of his 27 games saw him go the distance. He hurled 231 innings in 33 ball games.

Lefty Leon Hayes, who came to the Indians in mid-season, has the best percentage of the chunkers with a 12 won and 7 lost record. He has been invaluable since coming here. His fast curve ball whiffed 118 batters.

—SS—

Claude Horton compiled a 7 and 5 record while commuting here from Fort Worth to hurl once a week.

Glenn Patton, bothered by injuries all season, won 7 and lost 9.

Buck Austin won 2 and lost 7 and Julian Pressley was credited with a 1 and 1 record.

—SS—

—SS—

Sam Harshaney of San Angelo did the most "umpiring," Al Monchak of Odessa the most howling and crying, Harold Webb got tossed the most and Umpires Vomaska, Willensky, Rakestraw and Murphy win a new set of glass eyes each with which to start next season.

Spahn Wins No. 20 As Braves Nip New York Giants 6 To 4

NEW YORK — (AP) — Warren Spahn of the Boston Braves became the first National League pitcher to reach the 20-victory mark Saturday when he defeated the New York Giants 6 to 4. Bob Elliott hit three consecutive homers for the winners.

The score:

New York	101 002 010	4	9	0

San Angelo Humbles Fort Worth Poly

SAN ANGELO—Clifford Rowland ran wild here Friday night as the powerful San Angelo Bobcats whipped Polytechnic of Fort Worth 42-6 in a non-conference tilt.

The Bobcats led 14-0 at the half. They scored almost at will in the third and fourth quarters.

SALES OPPORTUNITY!

A well-known Brewery whose product is now sold and favorably accepted in Midland is seeking the services of a man between the ages of 25 and 40. The man we are looking for is possibly employed at present, but for good reasons wishes to make a change that offers an excellent opportunity as well as a subtantial salary and bonus arrangement. He has been calling upon retail dealers who sell beer but whose selling background does not necessarily have to include beer experience—Actual beer experience might be desirable but is not necessarily essential. He can present an outstanding sales performance and we ask that you give us your qualifications and sell us in your letter that you are the man we are seeking.

Broncs Blank Indians 2-0

The Midland Indians and the Big Spring Broncs meet in the fourth game of the final round for the Longhorn League pennant at 4 p.m. Sunday in Indian Park

• • •

Potato Pascual, "rookie" third baseman for the Big Spring Broncs, hit a change-up pitch over the leftfield wall in Indian Park Saturday night to lead the Big Spring Broncs to a 2-0 shutout victory over the Midland Indians.

Lefty Ernie Nelson tossed a beautiful ball game for Midland, giving it all he had. He matched Pancho Perez pitch for pitch except for a couple of lucky bingles by the Broncs. Nelson mowed down the Longhorn League's leading hitter, Pat Stasey, like he owned him.

Peres scattered six hits along the way, never allowing two in one inning. Midland had scoring chances but luck smiled on the Broncs. Hard hit balls took just the right bounces to end up in the mit of some Cuban.

Doubled Him Home

Besides Pascual's homer, Big Spring scored one in the ninth. Felix Gomez beat out a scratch hit to shortstop and Ace Mendez doubled him home. Scooter Hughes injured the thumb on his throwing hand fielding Gomez's blue darter.

The victory gave the Broncs a 3-0 lead er Midland in the four-out-of-seven series.

Texas A&M Mows Down Red Raiders

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— The Texas Aggies broke a long losing streak Saturday night, power driving to a 26 to 7 victory over Texas Tech before 20,000 at neutral stadium.

Speedy sophomores led by Robert Smith of Houston, 192-pound fullback, ran the Tech Red Raiders ragged and gouged the Tech line for 370 yards of pay-off yardage.

A&M winless in 15 games until Saturday night—got Tech on the run early with a touchdown in the first period. The second quarter was scoreless. The Aggies added two touchdowns in the third and Tech's lone tally came in the same period on a 71-yard drive with James Conley of Quanah scoring the touchdown.

TCU Rallies To Tie Oklahoma Aggies In Wild Scoring Spree

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The aerial artillery of Oklahoma A&M and Texas Christian had the same range Saturday night and they battled to a 33-33 tie.

Three times the Cowpokes from Oklahoma A&M passed for touchdowns and three times the Horned Frogs matched the feat.

There was even balance in each club's remaining scores—one each on long, brilliant runs ,one each on line plays.

Oklahoma A&M never trailed, thanks to the uncanny marksmanship of Little Jack Hartman and the sticky fingered receiving of big Don Van Pool. This combination clicked for three touchdowns.

Muff Scoring Chances

Texas Christian stormed from behind for the tie and twice muffed scoring chances. Lindey Berry, who passed for two touchdowns and scored two himself, was the reason TCU gained an even break. The remarkable receiving of Morris Bailey and George Boal helped.

Intereepted Pass

The Hartman-to-Van Pool combination clicked for touchdowns on passes of 44, 9 and 28 yards. Ben Aldridge scored a Cowpoke touchdown on a two-yard plunge and Ed Roof intercepted one of Berry's passes and ran 56 yards for another.

Berry scored on a 10-yard run, a 78-yard punt return, passed to George Boal for 16 yards and 34 yards to Jack Archer. Dan Wilde passed 40 yards to Bailey for the other touchdown.

Hartman kicked three extra points for Oklahoma A&M and Homer Ludiker kicked three for the Horned Frogs.

HOUSTON LEADER DIES

HOUSTON—(AP)— W. A. Paddock, 79, who served under four Texas governors as chairman of the State Prison Board, died early Saturday after an extended illness.

BOSTON —(AP)— Oklahoma's Sugar Bowl champions launched their 1949 grid campaign Saturday night by walloping Boston College 46-0 before a crowd of 32,241 at Braves Field.

The visitors, operating out of the spectacular Split-T behind a line that seemed to explode every time the ball was snapped, played as if they meant to atone for the licking their coach, Bud Wilkinson, took in the Chicago All-Star Game.

If they missed the graduated stars who led them to the Big Seven title last year and a post-season triumph over North Carolina, they didn't show it.

Darrell Royal, a 170-pound jack-of-all trades, ran the club like an expert, teaming with George Thomas, Leon Heath and Lindell Pearson to form a backfield that will score bushels of points this season.

Thomas scored three of the seven Oklahoma touchdowns, one of them on a 95-yard return of the opening kickoff. He gathered in the boot at his five and went all the way.

Tigers Rally To Trim Cleveland 8-5

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Hal Newhouser spotted the Cleveland Indians five runs in the first inning Saturday but the Detroit Tigers came back to win 8-5 for Hal's 18th victory. Pat Mullin and Aaron Robinson hit homers for the winners. It was Cleveland's sixth consecutive defeat.

The score:

Mustangs Rally To Beat Deacons

DALLAS—(AP)—Golden Boy Doak Walker did it again Saturday night—this time carrying Southern Methodist to a 13-7 victory over firece-fighting Wake Forest.

The great Walker passed for both touchdowns as the Methodists opened the season impressively for 51,000 fans in the Cotton Bowl.

One pass was to Zohn Milam for 31 yards and a score. The other was a screen pass to Dick McKissack that ate up 49 yards.

The tough Deacons stopped most everything Southern Methodist tried except Walker's passing. The first half found Wake Forest outplaying the Methodists pretty solidly.

The Deacons' score came late in the opening period and Walker was the goat. Jim Staton, tower of the Wake Forest line and the greatest defensive player on the field, lumbered through to block a Walker punt. Doak fell on the ball but two Wake Forest players fell on him and the oval squirted out of his hands. Ed Karpus dropped the ball on the two-yard line. Bill Gregus powered through left tackle for a touchdown and Bill George kicked the extra point.

Doak Throws Straight

Southern Methodist got its first touchdown late in the second period. In two plays, the Methodists swarmed 72 yards. Walker passed to Milam for 41 yards then pitched over the goal line to Milam for the score. A Wake Forest wave blocked Doak's try for point.

The winning touchdown came in the third period. Walker passed and Wake Forest's Francis Scarton tipped the ball into the hands of SMU's Kyle Rote. He ran to the Wake Forest 49. Walker flipped the ball over the line to McKissick who took it on the 40 and behind a screen of Methodists ran untouched to the score. Walker converted.

Baylor Aerials Beat South Carolina 20-6

WACO —(AP)— Baylor University's Bears defeated the University of South Carolina 20-6 flashing a fine passing attack before 15,000 fans Saturday night.

Passes brought Baylor its three touchdowns, and also paved the way for the South Carolina Game Cocks' single tally in the season opener for both teams.

Rice Owls Shatter Clemson Win Streak

HOUSTON—(AP)—Rice used good running and passing and took advantage of breaks Saturday night to wreck Clemson's fifteen-game winning streak 33 to 7.

Clemson, defending Southern Conference champion, was bothered constantly by fumbles and pass interceptions in the first half and could not make headway against the well manned Rice defense until the final period.

The 12 seasons in which Jimmy Foxx hit 30 or more home runs ranks second only to Babe Ruth's 13 campaigns.

Stanton Buffs Lose To Monument 12-6

STANTON— Stanton's Buffaloes failed to hold off a last quarter rally by Monument, N. M. High School here Friday night and dropped a 12 to 6 decision in a non-conference game.

Stanton led most of the way. R. S. Higgins scored on a line buck from the five-yard line to climax a 60-yard drive.

Rankin Overpowers Garden City 34-7

Zachary scored three times and Yocham added two other touchdowns.

Texas Drubs Temple 54-0

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)— The University of Texas, making its second football appearance in the east, established football history Saturday by drubbing Temple 54-0 a great display of running and passing power. The whipping was the worst ever absorbed by a Temple eleven.

Temple, making its debut under Head Coach Al Kawal, never was in the ball game from the time Randy Clay bucked over from the three-yard line after two minutes and 56 seconds of play for the first of his three touchdowns.

The Longhorns from Texas went 82 yards for their first tally, 75 for their second and then a mere 25 for the third in the first half.

The first tally of the third period came at the end of a 100-yard march and then Texas traveled 94, 79, 65 and 51 in its other trips into the end zone. Some idea of the Texas all-around power is shown by the statistics. The Southwest Conference boys picked up 613 yards on the ground and in the air.

Clay Finishes Trip

After Clay had sent the Texans away in front, the visitors marched to the one-foot line at the end of the first period. Clay completed the journey on the first play of the second quarter. With 55 seconds remaining in the half, the 185-pound Clay completed another long march by going over from the six-yard stripe.

Ray Bosneman, 205-pound fullback, bulled his way from the 12 to start the last-half rout. Then came a series of long runs and passes that left the Temple eleven befuddled. The first was a 45-yard pass from pitcher Paul Campbell to Ben Proctor, a good battery all day, for Texas' fifth tally.

Kermit Swamps Fort Stockton Panthers

FORT STOCKTON—The Kermit Yellowjackets, again led by Rick Spinks, downed the Fort Stockton Panthers 45 to 0 in a District 5-A game here Friday night.

Spinks and Gene Madison scored two touchdowns each in the first half and Paul Hopkins added another when he intercepted a Fort Stockton pass and ran 40 yards to pay dirt.

A host of Kermit linemen pounced on a blocked punt in the Fort Stockton end zone for the final touchdown.

'Pups Tie Odessa 0-0

ODESSA — There was leather a-popping in Odessa Saturday afternoon when the John M. Cowden Junior High seventh Grade Bullpups of Midland and Odessa Junior High battled to a 0-0 stalemate in a football game here.

Outweighed, the Pups certainly were not outfought or out-hustled. They battled the junior Bronchos on more than even terms with no favors asked. As an indication, Odessa gained 20 yards rushing in the last half but lost 32 yards.

Lionel Crisp, Waylon Brown, Tommy Johnson and William Brooks sparked the Midland attack.

Cranes Roll Over Denver City Hosses

CRANE — The Golden Cranes opened their 1949 home football season with a rousing 25 to 6 victory over the Denver City Mustangs Friday night.

Richard Lightfoot scored three times for the Cranes. His first two trips to pay dirt were on long runs and the other was a 55-yard jaunt after he intercepted a pass.

Abilene Fumbles Aid Amarillo's 21-7 Win

AMARILLO—The Amarillo Golden Sandstorm capitalized on two Abilene fumbles to score a 21 to 7 win here Friday night. An intercepted pass gave the Sandies their third counter.

Abilene scored late in the fourth quarter.

STAGG'S PROTEGEES LOSE 59-0 DECISION TO CCNY

NEW YORK —(AP)— City College of New York overwhelmed Susquehanna University 59-0 Saturday to give a dismal start to the 60th season of Susquehanna's famous advisory coach, Amos Alonzo Stagg, Sr. A. A. Stagg, Jr., is Susquehanna's head coach.

Tulane Green Wave Buries Crimson Tide From Alabama 28-14

MOBILE, ALA. —(AP)— Tulane's powerful Greenies rolled to a 28-14 win over a less experienced Alabama eleven Saturday in an impressive debut before 37,500 shirt-sleeved fans.

With all-American candidate Eddie Price and big Bill Svoboda setting the pace, Tulane racked up four touchdowns with its powerful running attack.

Alabama, outcharged by a rugged Tulane line, took desperately to the air in the final quarter. Ed Salem and Butch Avinger electrified the crowd by connecting with two long touchdown passes.

For almost two quarters, the Greenies gathered steam. They finally broke into the scoring column two minutes before the half when George Kinek smashed four yards through tackle for the score after a 50-yard sustained drive.

Midway Of Third

Price hit pay dirt midway of the third quarter with an 11-yard run through the line that culminated in an 86-yard drive.

It was Svoboda, the 212-pound powerhouse, who took up the scoring from there. He ran one yard around end in the fourth period for the score. A few minutes later he took an Alabama kickoff on his 15-yard line and ran through the entire Crimson Tide team for the score.

Late in the fourth quarter, Salem finally connected with a long one to Halfback Bill Abston for a touchdown.

Seminole Redskins Upset Pecos Eagles

PECOS — The Seminole High School Indians scored the biggest upset of the week in West Texas schoolboy football when they thrashed the highly-favored Pecos Eagles 21 to 13 in a District 5-A game.

It was Seminole all the way. The Indians rolled up a yardage advantage of 328 to 71 and made 20 first downs to the Eagles' five.

Pecos led 13 to 7 in the third quarter but couldn't hold the Indians as they went on the warpath.

Pass For TD

Buddy Card passed to Jerry Fairley for a Pecos TD in the third quarter. Card kicked the point.

Seminole set up a sustained drive and marched 75-yards to pay dirt early in the fourth. Richard Lindley went over from the three. Affleck kicked the point.

Champion Michigan Ekes Out 7-3 Win

ANN ARBOR, MICH.—(AP)—Michigan, the nation's mythical football champion last year, kept alive a three-season victory string Saturday by defeating a stubborn Michigan State squad 7-3.

It was the closest squeak since the string was started midway during the 1946 season.

The whole story was told in the first 18 minutes. Michigan State took a 3-0 lead on a field goal by George Smith. Michigan retaliated with an 11-yard touchdown pass from its second-string signal-caller, Bill Putich, to veteran End Irv Wisniewski.

'C' Bulldogs Lose Opener

The Midland 'C' Bulldogs fell 26 to 6 before the slashing, fast Odessa 'C' Bronchos in the season opener at Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon.

Odessa struck three times on the ground and once through the air.

Midland's touchdown was set up by a 40-yard pass from Robert Keisling to Roy Kimsey. Kimsey was dragged down from behind on the two-yard line. He hit the middle for the TD.

GUARDS—Tabor and Cissel.
CENTER—Booth.
BACKS—Spencer, Robbins, Rose, and Patterson.

Arlington Heights Ties Odessa 20-20

FORT WORTH — The Arlington Heights Yellowjackets roared 58 yards to a last-minute touchdown here Friday night to gain a 20-20 tie with the Odessa Bronchos. The extra point that would have given the Big City Champs a victory was no good.

Odessa led 13-7 at the half but Arlington Heights took a 14-13 lead in the third quarter before Dye went over for Odessa's final TD.

Sox Halve Yanks' Lead In 3-0 Win

BOSTON—(AP)—Ellis Kinder, a 35-year-old Tennessee "boy" with an acrobatic curve, halved the New York Yankees' lead Saturday with a six-hit, 3-0 triumph that boosted the steaming Boston Red Sox within one game of first place in the American League race.

Victory No. 23, the last 13 in succession, enabled Kinder to give the Red sox the jump in this vital series that probably will decide the pennant.

Here's the situation going into Sunday's final game at Fenway Park, where Boston has won its last 20 starts:

	W.	L.	gb	tp
New York	93	54		7
Boston	92	55	1	7

It will be Mel Parnell, stylish lefthander with a 24-7 record for Boston in the finale against Allie Reynolds (17-5) for the desperate Yanks.

It was the second shutout loss for the Yanks, who never have been out of first place all season. Another Red Sox win Sunday would send the teams back to Yankee Stadium Monday tied for first.

The score:

		R.	H.	E.

Notre Dame's Might Crushes Indiana's Outmanned Hoosiers

SOUTH BEND, IND. —(AP)— It was the same old juggernaut Notre Dame, plus some frisky new hands, as the Fightin' Irish touched off a bid for a fourth straight unbeaten season with a 49-6 clouting of Indiana's outmanned Hoosiers Saturday.

From a modest 16-6 halftime advantage, the Irish rolled up 20 points in a devastating third period and 13 more in the final quarter for their 29th straight game without defeat.

An inaugural crowd of 53,844 watched the Hoosiers start gamely and then collapse.

Pittsburgh Pirates Nip Cincinnati 6-5

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The Pittsburgh Pirates beat back Cincinnati Saturday 6 to 5. Ralph Kiner failed to make any progress toward a new National League home run record. Kiner barely missed in the third with a triple that hit high on the wall in center field.

The score:

Pennant Fund Grows As Two-Man JayCee Team Launches Drive

The Midland Indian Pennant Fund grew by $50 Saturday as JayCees Red Petty and Jim Redden conducted a solicitation campaign among downtown businesses. At least that much more was pledged and will come in Monday.

The JayCees promised the drive will continue Monday as an all-out effort is made to reach the Pennant Fund mark.

Contributing Saturday were Ralph Lowe and Pete Van Horn, $10; The Western Company, $15; Key Investment Company, $10; Rockwell Brothers Lumber Company, $10, and the downtown Firestone Store, $5.

Last Quarter Rally Gives Andrews Win

ANDREWS — The Andrews Mustangs loosed their power in the fourth quarter here Friday night to overcome a 9-0 Wink lead and score a 13 to 9 victory.

Wink went ahead in the third quarter when Pat Drum ran back a punt 60 yards to set up a touchdown. Donald Hopkins went over. The conversion failed.

Andrews caught fire in the last stanza. Don Floyd, halfback, started end for 35 yards and six points. The conversion was good.

Jack Smith scored the other TD minutes later with a 10-yard jaunt. The statistics favored Andrews all the way.

Record Run Of Beefsteak

The Kansas City, Mo., stockyards handled an estimated 26,000 head of beef cattle in one day—for its biggest day since last October 25, when some 20,000 head were unloaded. The view above shows the yards during the peak cattle run, which might help bring lower prices for beefsteak.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

The unusually heavy rainfall in Midland County in recent weeks evidently did more good than harm to the cotton crop, judging from the number of bales ginned up to the end of the week.

Midland's three gins had processed approximately 700 bales, which is four or five times more than had been ginned at this time last year.

• • •

It is estimated that 1,000 more pickers are needed in the county. The current rate of pay is $1.50 to $1.75 per hundred.

The supply of available pickers is far below the demand, observers say, but this still has not caused producers to bring in braceros from Mexico.

However, one cotton grower has been approved for 50 braceros but will not request them for a while.

• • •

The Texas Employment Commission office has notified all points of the need for pickers here and this is expected to relieve the tight situation somewhat.

• • •

Cotton brought into the gins during the early part of last week was unusually dirty, due to the recent rains but it began to show up whiter during the latter part of the week and again was bringing top price.

• • •

One Midland gin reported 305 bales processed thus far in the season, as compared to 67 last year.

• • •

County Agent Charles Green said Saturday the rains were helpful to the late cotton. Some dusting of the late crop is being continued to kill the bollworms.

The worms do their damage to squares and young bolls. Only after the bolls have become hardened can danger from the worm be declared past, he stated.

• • •

Hawley Allan Van Court, Crane County ranchman, was a Midland visitor one day last week.

• • •

Leonard Proctor, Midland rancher, Friday paid $1,432.50 for 23 bucks at the Fields and Johnson range ram sale in San Angelo. An average of $59 a head was paid for 302 bucks at the sale by 32 buyers.

• • •

Purchase of the 200 square-mile Block Ranch in the Capitan Mountains in New Mexico to A. L. Wasson of Big Spring is one of the largest ranch deals of the year in the Southwest. Wasson also purchased the cattle and horses, approximately 2,000 in number, on the ranch. The transaction, expected to be completed by the end of October, is likely to involve more than $1,000,000.

• • •

Sale of a West Texas ranch, located in the Big Bend sector, was announced several days ago by Henry Clark, Jr., of Mertzon, who said Mr. and Mrs. Paul Heathon of Big Spring had purchased his Presidio County Ranch for $70,000 cash. The livestock was not included in the transaction. The Heathons took possession of the property last week.

Clark also sold his Presidio residence and has purchased a home in San Angelo. He operates ranching interests in Irion County and in Lincoln County, Colorado.

• • •

A Cutting Horse contest, approved by the National Cutting Horse Association, will be held at Amarillo during the Tri-State Fair, October 5-7, sponsors have announced.

• • •

The gathering of sheriffs' posse members here last week attracted numerous horsemen from a wide West Texas area. The event was sponsored by the Midland County Sheriff's Posse. It was termed highly successful and most enjoyable from every standpoint.

• • •

Herding cattle by helicopter put Tony Hazelwood, veteran foreman of the vast Waggoner Ranch near Vernon, in the hospital, but he says the new cowpunching device is OK and will continue to be used by the Waggoners.

Hazelwood, who has rounded up many a herd with a horse, was injured last week when the helicopter in which he was riding plunged to the earth during a cattle drive. It was flying about 50 feet above Mother Earth at the time. The long-time ranch manager, featured last year in a national magazine, received three fractured ribs and facial cuts.

• • •

Arch Benge, Midland and San Angelo rancher, has leased 12 sections of land near Notrees in Ector County from Jim Parker for a five-year term, according to reports circulated here. The tract is adjacent to a 26-section place he already has leased from Parker. Benge is to take possession November 1. The ranch has not been stocked all year.

• • •

Old Settlers Day is to be one of the many features of the Gaines County Fair to be held at Seminole October 6-8. Many old timers who will recall the days when Gaines County was a vast cattle range and Midland was the main shipping point, are expected there on October 8. These visitors will be guest of the fair and a full day's entertainment will be provided for them.

This year Gaines County is looking forward to the greatest harvest in the history of the county. This is due partly to the fact that thousands of acres of virgin soil have been put under irrigation, and mainly to the fact that rains during the growing season have produced an abundant harvest. Old settlers say range conditions in the Seminole sector are far above anything they have seen in the county.

According to the fair catalogue now being distributed, prizes will be offered for community exhibits, individual farm exhibits and all kinds of livestock and poultry. The Women's Department will have a wide variety of textile, canned fruits and vegetables, jellies, preserves, pickles, frozen foods, culinary, flowers, antiques, art and hobbies.

• • •

Cotton is maturing rapidly in the Pecos area and an additional 2,000 cotton pickers will be needed in Reeves County this week, according to Edward D. Vaughn, farm placement representative of the Texas Employment Commission.

Vaughn believes a total of 8,650 braceros will be needed during the season. Approximately 4,000 workers will be requested during October.

• • •

Red Bluff Lake, located north of Pecos, contained 52,000-acre feet of water early last week, and some water still was flowing into it down the Pecos River. Rainfall reportedly fell all the way up the river as far north as Pecos, N. M.

The lake, now about one-sixth full, has more water at this time than for any September since 1945, C. J. Anderson, manager of the Red Bluff Water Power Control District, said.

Hundreds of acres of land along the Pecos River below the lake are irrigated by water from Red Bluff. Farmers in the area and fishermen over West Texas and New Mexico should be delighted at the water announcement.

If you are interested in seeing a tractor parade which is a tractor parade, then we suggest you be on hand in Las Cruces, N. M., October 13. It is reported that more than 500 tractors from the Mesilla Valley of the Rio Grande will take part in an agricultural parade in the New Mexico city that day as a feature of the Las Cruces Centennial, October 9-15.

Many other special events are planned including a Billy the Kid pageant, fair, rodeo and buffalo barbecue.

• • •

Entries from over West Texas and New Mexico are expected to take part in the Kid's Rodeo, which is to be staged at the rodeo grounds at Pecos October 1 and 2 as a feature of the Fifth Annual Fall Fair and Festival, according to Jess Burner, rodeo manager.

"We expect 100 boys and girls to compete for prizes valued at approximately $1,500," Burner asserted. Incidentally, two saddles are to be awarded winners this year.

Entry books are to close Friday night. Performances are to be presented at 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The value of financial reserves in farming and ranching operations will be emphasized in a special effort to sell U. S. Savings Bonds to farmers and ranchers of Texas this Fall, Nathan Adams, Dallas, state Savings Bonds chairman, announced.

The program now is getting started with the cooperation of the major state and federal agricultural agencies, Adams said, and will extend into all of Texas' 254 counties. He said it would continue through October and possibly well into November.

Practically all of the 385,000 farm and ranch families in the state will receive letters and printed literature about Savings Bonds. Adams said the mailing lists of county agricultural agents and county representatives of the Production and Marketing Administration (PMA), the Production Credit Corporation (PCC), and the National Farm Loan Association (NFLA) are being utilized to achieve virtually 100 per cent distribution in rural areas.

"A financial reserve is a powerful aid for proper management of a business," Adams said, "and farmers and ranchers need such a reserve for their business just as much as do the merchant or manufacturer.

"We want the farmer and rancher to become as well acquainted as the city man with the value of Savings Bonds as the means for acquiring financial security."

• • •

Egg production on Texas farms during August was estimated at 207,000,000 eggs or three per cent above the 201,000,000 laid during August a year earlier. The rate of lay at 12.2 per bird was seven per cent above last year and the highest on record for August. The number of layers on farms was down more than three per cent from August, 1948.

• • •

Jim Bob Altizer of Del Rio and Powder Kossman of South Dakota are matched in a 10-calf roping event Sunday in Sonora. The match is a return setto, Kossman having beat Altizer two weeks ago.

• • •

Fifty-two cars of cantaloupe were shipped from Pecos, Texas, and Lovington, N. M., this Summer by the T&P Railway, according to figures released by the railroad.

• • •

T&P officials also reported West Texas sheep ranchers are beginning to order double-decker cars to move stock to market and feed lots. The movement is not expected to be heavy.

• • •

The Texas Weekly Crop and Weather Bulletin for last week reported Fall and Winter range feed and small grain pasture prospects were further improved by rains and scattered showers in all areas except in some central and southern counties. Grass again was greening up in northwestern counties where rains fell a week earlier. Cured grass generally was plentiful in the dry southern counties. Sheep and cattle were in good condition in all areas. Sheep and lamb marketing continued below usual for this season of the year. Calf marketing was increasing but was still light for this season of the year.

D. H. Jefferies, veteran president of the West Texas Fair Association, announced the 1949 fair which opens in Abilene for one week Monday will be an all-out "Blitzkrieg on Boredom."

The fair's five-eighth-mile race track has been put in top shape for a four-day horse race meet and two days of auto races.

The reputation which this regional fair has attained over the years for presenting the best in agriculture and livestock shows will be upheld in this year's show, Jefferies said. Shows will be held for Herefords, Jerseys, sheep and goats, poultry, swine, and Shetland ponies.

Winners In 'Better Methods' Electric Contest Announced

Lela Norwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Norwood of the Cottonflat community, Saturday was named the outstanding contestant and the Midland County winner in the "Better Methods" Electric Contest sponsored in this area by the Texas Electric Service Company.

The purpose of the contest was to discover better methods of doing things on the farm and in the farm home through the use of electricity. The Extension Service of Texas A&M College cooperated in sponsoring the contest.

Scores of Midland County boys and girls participated. The contestants were divided into two age groups.

Winners by divisions were: Senior girls—Miss Norwood first, and Kylene Kindley, second; senior boys—Norman Drake, first, and Leland Howard, second.

Junior Division

In the junior division, Carolyn North won first and Frances Bond second in the sewing project; Lena Marie Price, first, and Jerry Fay Bizzell, second, in the laundry project; Georgia Ann Gately, first, and Essie Raggett, second, in food preservation; and Sarah Lou Segrest, first, in housekeeping.

Miss Norwood, as the county winner, is eligible to compete in the state and national contests in which prizes include an all-expense paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress to be held in Chicago, and a $300 scholarship in accredited colleges.

The Midland winner has been an outstanding member of the Sunshine Makers 4-H Club the last six years and has held various offices in the organization. She also has won trips to the Dallas State Fair for her outstanding work.

"Amazing Response"

Larry Trimble, Texas Electric Service Company representative, expressed appreciation to the contestants and to Mrs. Nettie Messick, county home demonstration agent, and Charles Green, county agent, for their cooperation.

R. L. Miller, district manager of TESCO, said the contest had an "amazing response." Plans now are being formulated for a bigger and better contest next year.

Master Farmer Cultivates 20,000 Acres Of Land In Four West Texas Counties

By WENDELL BEDICHEK
(Written For The Associated Press)

WELLINGTON —(AP)— Farming operations of F. O. Masten are among the largest of any individual in the Southwest.

Masten, of Wellington and Sudan, owns more than 20,000 acres of cultivated land in Collingsworth, Lamb, Bailey and Cochran Counties.

He's a quiet, blue-eyed man who began his career working for $20 a month on a Hardeman County farm in 1909.

He expects to harvest 5,000 to 10,000 bales of cotton this year.

In December, 1946, he bought a 24,000 acre Cochran County ranch as highest bidder in a federal government auction in Dallas, but he doesn't feed one cow." People tell him he can see a cotton stalk farther than an oil derrick. He leases the grass and there are four producing oil wells on the ranch.

Masten was the first farmer on the South Plains to use pneumatic tires on a tractor.

A magazine a few years ago carried a double-page picture of a dozen of Masten's tractors pulling plows without drivers. This was done with a "guide" which he contrived as he "projected" with the plows. He had noticed the "toed-in" plows stayed in furrows easy. He couldn't find efficient drivers. The "guide" was the result. It still is used in flat-breaking and lister bedding. Men are needed only to turn the tractors at the row ends.

Stores Crops

Friends wonder why Masten so often stores large quantities of cotton, sudan and other crops over periods as long as eight years. His explanation is simple.

A firm of auditors in Lubbock informs him when his income reaches a certain tax bracket.

"That's when I quit selling and start storing; that's a substitute bank account," he explained.

Once he threshed sudan grown on 6,000 acres, stored it until the market advanced and controlled the market for a season. It filled almost 100 freight cars.

Masten is co-chairman of the development fund of Abilene Christian College and has contributed heavily to the fund.

Tenant Farmer

Masten worked on that Hardeman County farm two years before he became a tenant farmer near Wellington. In 1916 he bought a small piece of worn-out land and a little later a farm near Wellington and began spreading upon it cotton waste, burrs and manure. He says a contest conducted by The Dallas Morning News started him and his wife toward big scale farming.

He read one morning that The News was offering cash prizes for highest yields of cotton on five-acre tracts in various parts of the state. He began hauling manure from his neighbors' places on two five-acre tracts.

The Mastens entered the contests four years and won prizes two years. One was $500 for the highest yield in West Texas. The other, on land entered in Mrs. Masten's name, was $2,500 for cotton of highest value grown on the five acres.

After the contest one year he had a nine-acre fertilized tract that yielded 27 bales and 172 pounds of lint.

It was in 1929 that he went west of Lubbock and bought land near Sudan. His farm just north of that town is his "hobby." He stays there most of the time with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Frazier. Also living there is his 89-year-old father who is hale and hearty and busies himself everyday on the farm.

Masten's operations really began spreading out in 1932. He began buying and breaking more South Plains land. He also began deep plowing 12 to 16 inches.

He says the deep plowing started when a gas line was laid across some of his land. He noticed that the up-turned sub-soil did not blow.

His farming took another broad stretch in 1937 when he bought 6,000 acres next to the New Mexico border in Cochran County.

In February a dozen tractors and several loads of lumber were moved to the geographical center of the 6,000 acres. Some of the men began building the houses and others started plowing. By May the land had been broken twice and was ready for planting. A good crop of cotton was grown that first season.

Near the warehouses in the center of the 6,000-acre farm is a row of long, queer-looking structures. They are half dug-out affairs built of sheet iron quonset fashion with double-decked bunks inside that will take care of 200 workers.

Masten was chosen a Texas Master Farmer in 1939. He has been president of the Master Farmers of Texas twice and of the Master Farmers of America once.

'Better Methods' Electric Contest Participants

COTTON

NEW YORK —(AP)— The cotton market, while moving within a narrow range, experienced heavy trading Saturday. Final prices were down 10 cents to 20 cents a bale.

October 29.77, December 29.60 and March 29.57.

Crane News

CRANE—O. B. Wagner has been elected captain of the newly-organized Crane Volunteer Fire Department. Other members include: Bud Porter, assistant; A. T. Carroll, first vice captain in charge of hose; Jack Kendrick, second vice president in charge of pumps; A. W. Nelson, third vice captain in charge of nozzles, and Tom Hogan, Jr., secretary.

Mrs. Addie Bell recently visited friends in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hood have returned from a two weeks vacation in Galveston, Houston and New Orleans.

Mrs. Vella Mitchell, Mrs. Sam White and Mrs. Bessie LaPoe recently made a business trip to Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Williams of Brownwood have moved to Crane to make their home with their daughter, Miss Maxine Williams.

Rankin Women Organize Club

RANKIN—Mrs. W. A. Hudson was elected temporary chairman of the group of Rankin women who met in the Upton County Park Building recently to organize a federated study club. The next meeting will be Thursday in the Park Building.

Mrs. R. O. White is temporary secretary of the club and the project committee members are Mrs. R. M. Johnson, Mrs. G. C. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Paul Crandell and Mrs. Roy Priest.

Mrs. Sam Holmes is chairman of the nominating committee and her assistants are Mrs. Hemp Carter and Mrs. Hamilton Still.

Mrs. Joseph Best, president of Eighth District Federated Clubs, and Mrs. J. P. Holle, district publicity chairman, attended the meeting as did Mrs. L. E. Windham, president of the McCamey Study Club and Mrs. J. O. Lusby, president of the Twentieth Century Club of Big Lake. These two clubs will sponsor the Rankin organization, which will be in the Eighth District.

Texas Construction Awards Climb Again

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas construction awards climbed to $10,561,610 this week, totaling almost $2,500,000 more than last week's comparatively low figure of $8,188,902.

Non-residential contracts accounted for $5,675,257; more than half the total, the Texas Contractor, building trade journal, reported.

Lettings for residential buildings which will provide 548 one-family units amounted to $3,860,950. Engineering contracts added another $1,025,403.

Daylight Time Ends In East, Northeast

Daylight Saving Time ended officially at 2 a.m. (EDT) Sunday, at which time it became 1 a.m. (EST).

The fast time, affecting some 50,000,000 Americans, began last April 24 to give working people more daylight recreation time during the Summer months.

It was used extensively in the Northeast and Middle East.

The South and most of the Middle West and Far Western states stuck to Standard Time.

Governor Proclaims October 9-15 Fire Prevention Week

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers Saturday called on Texans to observe fire prevention week in Texas October 9-15 by encouraging adoption and enforcement of fire prevention rules and regulations.

The governor described fire losses in Texas during the last 10 years as "excessive."

The basic U. S. policy appeared to be unchanged: to meet the Russian challenge with the coordinated strength and total economic and political power of the non-Communist Western world.

The Administration was cheered by reports that congressional leaders now may favor loosening up on the so-called "secrets" of the American atomic bomb for Britain and Canada.

The United States, these officials said, should be able to learn much from its wartime atomic partners through their independent research. A full sharing of information has been barred by secrecy restrictions in the Atomic Energy Act, based on the assumption that the United States had an A-bomb monopoly.

Renewed Peace Effort

Diplomats generally discounted speculation over a possible meeting between President Truman and Russia's Premier Stalin. They reasoned the United States would weaken its relations with Britain, France and other cold war Allies if it showed willingness to join in a two-handed game of power politics with Russia.

One possible diplomatic move might be a direct message from Truman to Stalin urging a renewed effort, through the United Nations and in conjunction with other countries, to solve dangerous world problems and work out international atomic control.

Dauntless Dale Crusades Again

HOUSTON —(AP)— Dauntless Dale Richardson, fired with new ammunition, plans to try again Monday to get the Harris County grand jury to investigate marble table gambling.

The La Porte constable swept across Houston's North Side Friday night and picked up 11 more one-ball tables to add to the 70 he had seized in raids September 1-3.

He said the 11 tables had been marked secretly by a 17-year-old La Porte boy and three other players who won money on them.

BUSINESS

Let me show you a business that is showing a profit and that is easy to handle.

A neighborhood grocery for sale or could be leased. Really nice, with living quarters.

How about an apartment house with income of $500 per month? At $12,000 would soon pay out. A good helpy-selfy laundry that you can buy 1/2 interest in.

Thirty business lots all over town. Several with owners willing to build to suit you.

To Wed In El Paso

Elizabeth Smith

Elizabeth Smith Will Marry J. L. Sleeper On October 29

The engagement and approaching marriage of Elizabeth Smith of El Paso and James Lockert Sleeper, Jr., of Midland, was announced recently in El Paso at a luncheon given by the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Laurence Stevens.

Miss Smith is the daughter of Myron A. Smith of Fort Worth and Sleeper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lockert Sleeper of Waco. The wedding will be solemnized October 29 in the Church of St. Clement in El Paso.

The bride-elect has lived in Midland the last year. She was born in Fort Worth and grew up there an in El Paso, where she made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Stevens. She attended Texas Western College and was graduated from the University of Texas. Her sorority is Delta Delta Delta and she is a member of the El Paso Junior League.

Sleeper was graduated from Baylor University and received his masters degree in geology from Texas Technological College in Lubbock. At present he is a geologist for The Texas Company in Midland, and the couple will make their home here.

Miss Smith has been employed with the Texas Gulf Producing Company here until her recent resignation. She is visiting in Midland this weekend.

Business Women's Week Next On Program For B&PW Club

Business Women's Week, observed nationally by Business and Professional Women's Clubs, is the first special event listed for the Midland club in its 1949-50 yearbooks, which were distributed as the year opened with a business session recently.

Date of Business Women's Week is October 9-16, and the club plans the annual emblem breakfast on the first day of the week, a luncheon at which it will be hostess to the Midland Woman's Club on October 15, and a teachers' tea on October 16.

A Christmas party on December 20, the bosses' banquet on April 18, and a stunt night program on May 16 are other special events. The banquet is another annual entertainment for Midland members.

Two Meetings Monthly

Regular meetings include a business session on the first Tuesday of each month and a dinner on the third Tuesday. Programs are presented at the dinners, with chairmen of the various club committees in charge.

On November 15 Olive Walker, health and safety chairman, will be responsible for the program; on January 17, Una Elliott, education and vocation chairman; on February 21, Nettie Johnson, international relations chairman; on March 31, Dick Looby, public affairs chairman.

The annual meeting for election of officers is scheduled on June 6, and the new officers will be installed on June 20 at a dinner. Meetings next Summer will be informal, according to club custom, with a picnic planned in July and a watermelon party in August.

The Midland club has a member who is a state officer this year. Frances Carter is serving as third vice president of the Texas Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Officers And Chairmen

Local officers are Neta Stovall, president; Flossie Vaughn, vice president; Gustava Easley, secretary; Martha Greene, treasurer; and Laura Jesse, parliamentarian. The club chooses its presidents a year in advance, and Thelma Gardner is the president-elect for 1950-51.

Standing committee chairmen, in addition to those who will present club programs, are Grace Wallace, finance; Helen Brasher, membership; Dorothy Thompson, legislation; Ruth Donnell, news service; and Lillie Rose Meissner, radio.

Special committee heads are Maude Prather, telephone; Della Cooper, singing; Faye Carson, piano; Vera McLeroy, magazine report; DeAlva Brewer, reservations; Ann Carpenter, hospitality; and Peggy Woodie, friendship.

Matinee And Coffee Sunday To Close Run Of 'Sister Eileen'

A matinee performance beginning at 2:30 p.m. Sunday will close the run of "My Sister Eileen," comedy which the Midland Community Theater is presenting in the City-County Auditorium. Five night showings already have been given.

After the matinee, coffee will be served in the foyer by members of the Community Theater and of the Yucca Garden Club, joint sponsors of the production. A number of out-of-city visitors usually are present for the Sunday afternoon showings, which started last year in the Community Theater and proved popular.

"My Sister Eileen," the theater's first production since the Summer vacation, is directed by Art Cole and has a cast of 26. Mrs. B. R. Mathews is general chairman of the Yucca Club committees which conducted ticket sales and directed ushers.

The club has been responsible for keeping flower arrangements in the foyer through the run of the play. Mrs. M. S. Dickerson will make the arrangement Sunday afternoon. Florists of the city have supplied those of previous days, Midland Floral on Wednesday, Buddy's Flowers, Thursday, City Floral, Friday and Quincy Belles-Flowers, Saturday.

Area Meeting For Girl Scout Leaders Scheduled Tuesday

Representatives of the Midland Girl Scout Association will go to McCamey Tuesday for the annual meeting of the Permian Basin Area Girl Scouts. They will report plans for observance of Girl Scout Week here beginning October 30, and several in the group will take part on the program.

All adults interested in Girl Scouting are invited to the meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Girl Scout Little House in McCamey, and to a barbecue supper which the Girl Scouts of that city will serve in the park at 6 p.m. Those who plan to go from Midland are asked to notify Mrs. R. E. Morgan, president of the Midland Girl Scout Association.

Detailed Reports

Mrs. J. J. Black of Midland, 1949 director of the area Girl Scout camp in the Davis Mountains; Mrs. Ella McBride of Alpine, camp chairman; and Mrs. J. E. Starley of Pecos, business manager, will make detailed reports of the camp season and J. J. Black will discuss extension of camp facilities.

Mrs. George Remer of McCamey, area training chairman, will present the training schedule for 1949. Oscar Maples of Kermit, area president, will be in charge of the meeting. Standing committee chairmen are to be elected and a budget adopted in the business session.

MIDLAND STUDENTS ARE PLEDGED BY SORORITIES

Sororities at the University of Texas have announced the pledging of the following Midland girls: Kappa Alpha Theta, Mary Martha Stivalls and Emma Sue Cowden; Chi Omega, Bettye Joyce McCain; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Marylee Cowden and Jessica Brooks Turpin, and Pi Beta Phi, Frances Puett.

TO FORT WORTH

Mr. and Mrs. James N. Allison left Saturday on a business trip to Fort Worth and Dallas.

Bridge Played At Luncheon Of Golf Group

Progressive Bridge was played at the luncheon meeting of the Ladies Golf Association Friday in the Midland Country Club, with Mrs. E. E. Reigel and Mrs. A. J. Wilkerson as hostesses.

Mrs. L. H. Anderson won high score at bridge and Mrs. Bob Franklin, second high. Mrs. Charles Crawley won the bingo prize.

There will be no meetings of the group on October 7 and 21, and it was announced the Ladies' Club Tournament will be October 3 through 8 and that mixed Scotch foursomes are scheduled again on October 16.

Out-of-city guests were Mrs. D. C. Collins, Jr., of Triumph, La., and Mrs. Raymond Blurden of Abilene. Other guests were Mrs. Bert Ryan, Sr., Mrs. Bert Ryan, Jr., Mrs. Bob Cox and Mrs. Franklin Giffert.

Members attending were Mrs. H. A. Shanks, Mrs. A. Knickerbocker, Mrs. J. C. Velvin, Mrs. Nelson Puett, Mrs. Ralph Lowe, Mrs. Fred Kotyza, Mrs. W. H. Black, Mrs. L. H. Anderson, Mrs. Leonard Thomas, Mrs. John Dublin, Mrs. Ralph Oberholtzer, Mrs. Warren Anderson, Mrs. B. R. Schabarum, Mrs. Bob Franklin, Mrs. Alton Brown, Mrs. C. W. Crawley, Mrs. Joe Mims, Mrs. F. H. Pannill, Mrs. W. W. Barker and Mrs. Henry Oliver.

Child League Plans Clinic

Beginning plans for a Sick Child Clinic, the Children's Service League devoted most of its business hour Friday to a discussion of the preliminary arrangements which must be made. The league is assured of the cooperation of two pediatricians who will give time each week, and members hope to have plans shaped definitely within a few weeks.

The meeting was in the home of Mrs. Vaughn Maley, after a work period spent in the league clothing room. A second contribution of $40.40 was received from the Midland Business and Professional Women's Club, bringing its total gift to the league this Fall up to $147.60.

A contribution to the milk fund from the Primary Department of the First Presbyterian Church was acknowledged also.

Present were Mrs. C. H. Atchison, Mrs. Coe Mills, Mrs. C. P. Yadon, Mrs. W. A. Waldschmidt, Mrs. T. S. Jones, Mrs. John M. Hills, Mrs. H. L. Beckmann, Mrs. Ralph Fitting, Jr., Mrs. Fred Cassidy and Mrs. C. H. Ervin.

Gamma Phi Beta Unit Has Opening Coffee

The Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae opened its year with a coffee Friday morning in the home of Mrs. Fred Kotyza.

Mrs. R. R. Lemaster was accepted as a new member of the group, which also held a short business meeting. The meeting time was changed to 10 a.m. on the third Wednesday of each month.

Present were Mrs. Roger Northup, Mrs. John D. Richards, Mrs. W. H. Stoltenberg, Mrs. Sol Bunnell, Mrs. John Cornwall and Mrs. D. R. Young.

Family Night Planned By First Methodists

A Christian Family Night program for members of the First Methodist Church is announced for Thursday, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The program will be on the church lawn unless the weather makes necessary a move into the Scharbauer Educational Building.

Motion pictures taken during the Vacation Bible School held in the church early in the Summer will be shown, with short comedy films. Games in which entire families can take part are planned. Members of the Fellowship Class will serve refreshments.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the night includes Mrs. Ben Black, Mrs. Glen Richerson, Mrs. Frank Paup, Gerald Mackey and Bernice Seawright.

New Mexico Artist To Exhibit Works At Palette Club

Paintings by Ben Turner, New Mexico artist who features Southwestern scenes in his landscapes, will be on exhibit in the Palette Club Studio, 604 North Colorado Street, from 2 to 6 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday. The painter and his brother and business manager, Bill Turner, will be in the studio during the exhibit, as will hostesses from the Palette Club and Midland Art Center.

Turner will paint with Midland amateurs in an informal session in the studio Monday, and interested persons are invited to meet him and work with him.

Palette Club officers, issuing the invitation, quoted the advice given in Joseph Alger's book, "Get In There and Paint," to amateurs who work with recognized painters.

"You are hereby warned," the author writes, "that professional artists have no profound respect for amateurs . . . But unless you prove to be the rare exception this will cause you no discomfiture at all. On the contrary . . . you will immediately feel in close brotherhood not only with today's artists but also with all the great painters of the ages . . . (This) does more for your soul than a free trip to Paris."

Style Revue Shows 'Models Of 1950'

Trends leading from Fall to mid-Winter styles were stressed as the Beta Sigma Phi Chapters presented "Models of 1950" in their annual fashion revue, given Saturday afternoon in cooperation with Midland merchants.

Spectators filled the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel and were seated on the mazzanine where the models paraded after making an entry through a decorated door, posing on the ballroom stage and again at the mezzanine entrance.

At those points each model stopped before Mrs. Lloyd Zellner and Lee Ida Pinkston, who held artists' palettes and carried out the style show theme by acting the roles of painters. They supplied placards describing the various costumes. Music for the style revue was by Gene James, organist.

Tea-Bridge Later

After the fashion show, guests were invited to the Private Dining Room for tea, and for bridge games.

Mrs. W. I. Pratt and Mrs. W. H. Sloan, Beta Sigma Phi chapter sponsors, poured punch from crystal bowls at either end of a long table laid with a Madeira cloth and centered with yellow roses, the sorority flower.

Attractive costumes for all occasions were shown from the cooperating stores. They reflected a variety of needs and moods, with smart newness as their only point in common.

From the Charles A. Haynes Company, Mrs. A. A. Jones wore a Jo Copeland costume suit of all wool crepe in beige and toast, the bronze beaded trim of the bodice repeated on pockets and lapels of the short coat. Her rhinestone earrings and necklace were from Hughes Jewelry.

Brown Costume

Mrs. A. R. Aytes modeled a Pat Premo cocktail dress from the Myrna Lynn Shop, with brown velvet bodice, crushed bracelet sleeves of dark brown taffeta and scalloped petal skirt with alternate gores of the taffeta and velvet. Beige gloves complemented the beige wool flowers on a Franklin Benson original hat from Hattie's Millinery Salon, of brown felt, the wide slanted brim faced with brown velvet. Her hair was styled by Mozelle and her rhinestone jewelry was from Appleton's.

A grey imported menswear figurine suit from Colbert's, an Adele Simpson model, was worn by Mrs. Randy Rubin. The short jacket, pointed in front, had make-believe pockets, a Peter Pan velveteen collar and round silver buttons. The skirt was pleated front and back. A black velvet Linda Jane cloche, black velvet Jantzen gloves and black suede opera pumps and bag by I. Miller completed the costume.

Mrs. Noel Cason wore a coffee colored all-wool gabardine coat from the J. C. Penney Company. Cut with swing back, it was trimmed with a squirrel collar. Her matching black suede pumps and bag came from the Bootery and her black felt hat from Dunlap's.

Cocktail Dress

Also from Dunlap's was Reta Beights' cocktail dress of imported Chantilly lace over flesh taffeta, ankle length, with pleated ruffle of marquisette edging the skirt. The fitted bodice had an off-shoulder neckline with a matching ruffle. The Will Steinman picture hat was of starched net and felt, and she

Hazel Lewis Is Wed To Herbert Shields

Hazel Lewis, 303 East Maiden Lane, and Herbert Shields, 2911 West Louisiana Street, were married in an evening ceremony Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Anderson, 303 East Maiden Lane. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lewis of Buckeye, N. M., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Shields of Clarendon.

Mr. Floyd Stanley, minister of the South Side Church of Christ, read the single ring ceremony. Flowers were baskets of white gladiolus and red roses.

Faye Coleman was maid of honor and Cecil O'Neil was best man.

The bride wore a grey-blue satin dress with rolled collar trimmed with gold buttons and a full skirt with deep, slanted pockets. Her corsage was of gardenias and tube-roses.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony and then the couple left for Amarillo and North Texas for a wedding trip. After their return next week they will be at home at 504 West New York Street.

The bride grew up in Cisco and is a graduate of Cisco High School. She attended Cisco Junior College and is at present employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Midland. Shields attended schools in Clarendon and is an employe of The Borden Company here.

Opening Football Game Has Gala Aspects For Women Fans

The first home football game of a season is, for women, more than a sports event. It is a social occasion also, with the opportunity for informal gatherings of friends to go to the game and perhaps to dinner beforehand or supper afterward.

Suits Most Popular

Mrs. Vernon Yearby, in a turquoise suit, carried an extra coat over her arm, anticipating a late-game chill that might become uncomfortable for her or one of her daughters.

A brief red jacket was Mrs. C. C. Keith's protection from the weather. Mrs. Don Johnson wore a long grey boxy coat with a darker grey skirt, and was hatless. A close-fitting green hat topped Mrs. Otis Baggett's costume.

Mrs. D. R. Carter, hurrying in just before the kickoff, was dressed in a kelly green suit. Mrs. Charles Reeder, shivering at the half, thrust her hands into the patch pockets on her long jacket, which was a brown not so dark as her eyes.

A foursome of interested spectators included James and Geraldine Simmons, and the H. H. Reddings. Mrs. Simmons' costume was in shades of brown, from her shoes to her roll-brim hat, and Mrs. Redding wore a full-cut red coat and a grey helmet hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gossett were

At Home After Wedding Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mahaffey are at home at 605 North Big Spring Street after a trip to California which followed their wedding on August 27. They were married in the Little Chapel in the Woods on the campus of the Texas State College for Women at Denton. Mrs. Mahaffey is the former Alma Henson and is the daughter of Robert L. Henson.

Plays Artist

Mrs. Lloyd Zellner was one of the two Beta Sigma Phi members who acted as artists in the sorority's annual Fall Style Show, "Models of 1950," Saturday afternoon. Other members, modeling costumes from Midland stores, posed before Mrs. Zellner and Lee Ida Pinkston, who supplied placards describing the costumes worn in the fashion parade. Mrs. Zellner also served as chairman of housing for the show. She is president of the Xi Theta Chapter of the sorority.

Alathean Class Has Coffee And Installs Officers

Officers of the First Baptist Alathean Class, headed by Mrs. Jack Nobles as president, were installed at a coffee Friday morning in the home of Mrs. George Phillips. "Apples of Gold in Pictures of Silver" was the subject of the installation ceremony conducted by Mrs. J. Howard Hodge.

As each officer was charged with her duties, a tiny golden apple emblem was pinned to her blouse. Mrs. Hodge closed the ceremony with a prayer. The opening devotional talk was by Mrs. W. B. Preston and the prayer by Mrs. Clint Dunagan.

New officers in addition to Mrs. Nobles are Mrs. Grace Wallace, Mrs. Zeb Wilkins, Mrs. Preston and Mrs. Elliott Barron, vice presidents; and Mrs. Lenton Brunson, secretary-treasurer. Group captains are Mrs. M. D. Cox, Mrs. J. E. Hill, Mrs. C. A. Barton and Mrs. Anton Theis. Mrs. Harlan Howell is teacher of the class, with Mrs. R. E. Johnson as assistant.

Gifts Presented

Mrs. Wallace presented silver bonbon dishes, gifts of appreciation from the class, to Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith and Mrs. Cox, retiring president and secretary. Mrs. Goldsmith expressed appreciation to the officers who have served with her.

The new and retiring presidents and secretaries, Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Hodge, were presented corsages of orchid asters.

Mrs. Howell poured coffee at a table decorated with yellow marigolds to blend with the Autumn floral arrangements through the house. Berried pyracantha branches were on the buffet, dahlias and other garden blooms in all the rooms.

Hostesses with Mrs. Phillips were Mrs. J. A. Tuttle, Mrs. M. F. King and Mrs. J. R. Harrison. The class group which has been captained by Mrs. J. O. Nobles, ranking high in the year's record of class work, was honored at the coffee.

Members present in addition to the officers and those on program were Mrs. Tom Bobo, Mrs. Duffy Stephens, Mrs. John C. Dunagan, Mrs. A. W. Wyatt, Mrs. Dot Price, Mrs. M. R. Robing, Mrs. Jack Jones, Mrs. Raymond G. Hall, Mrs. Vernon Yearby, Mrs. Ida Fay Cowden, Mrs. P. V. Thorson and Mrs. Bob Hill.

High School P-TA To Meet Tuesday In New Band Hall

The band hall at the new Midland High School will be the meeting place for the High School Parent-Teacher Association when it starts programs of a new year at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Originally scheduled in the West Elementary School Auditorium, the meeting was changed to the band hall when officers were certain it would be finished in time. All parents of high school students are invited.

"Teamwork Between Home and School," is the program theme, and the talk by Frank Monroe, school superintendent, will be on the subject, "Partners in the Process." Charles F. Mathews, high school principal, will introduce the faculty. Robert Michener, music supervisor, will lead a sing-song.

Mrs. O. L. Stalcup is president of the association this year and will preside for the meeting. The hospitality committee, assisted by senior room mothers, will serve refreshments.

Twentieth Century Program Announced

The first business meeting of the year of the 20th Century Club will be held at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. H. H. Redding, Andrews Highway, with Mrs. Redding and Mrs. Frank Monroe as hostesses.

The subject of the program will be "Egypt and Arabia" with Mrs. L. E. Patterson, Jr., speaking on the "Cradle of Civilization" and Mrs. Harlan Howell on "Meet the Arab." The club year opened earlier this month with a coffee.

Hostess Trio Gives Tea For Newcomer

Introducing Mrs. Herbert Marshall, who recently moved to Midland from Dallas, Mrs. H. E. Chiles, Jr., Mrs. S. P. Hazlip and Mrs. P. J. Yeckel entertained with a tea Friday afternoon in Mrs. Chiles' home, 1212 West Cuthbert Street.

The honoree stood with the hostesses in a receiving line, and guests who called during three hours were presented to her. With Mr. Marshall and their two daughters, Mrs. Marshall is making her home at 611 West Watson Street.

The family moved here when Marshall was appointed vice president and general counsel of the Western Company, which has its headquarters here with Chiles as president.

Six Pour Tea

Tea was served in the dining room. Mrs. P. J. Lea, Jr., and Mrs. J. E. Warren poured for the early callers; Mrs. Paul Davis and Mrs. Fred W. Gaarde during the next hour; Mrs. Charles A. Haynes, Jr., and Mrs. John House for the last group of guests.

Yellow roses and white chrysanthemums were featured in the decor. A tiered silver piece in the center of the table held an arrangement of the flowers, giant mums with the roses on the wide lower tiers, scaled down to tiny button mums at the top. White and yellow chrysanthemums were in the other rooms, and members of the house party wore corsages in the same colors.

Completing the house party were Mrs. F. A. Douglass, Jr., Mrs. Robert L. Wood, Mrs. Leif Olsen, Mrs. J. P. Ruckman, Mrs. Verner P. Neissl, Mrs. Horace Greenstreet, Mrs. J. H. Hazlip, Jr., Mrs. John W. Starr, Mrs. Robert Payne and Mrs. Marvin Chapman of Edinburg.

Guests moved from the dining room to the terrace and patio, where they were seated to enjoy the refreshments, then through the glass-walled living room where organ music was played during the afternoon.

AAUW Group To Hear Panel Discuss Midland

A panel discussion will be the program for the first luncheon meeting of the American Association of University Women at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Scharbauer Hotel.

Subject of the panel will be "What Makes Midland Tick," and Mrs. L. W. Sager will be the moderator. Delbert Downing, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Mayor William B. Neely, Jr., and Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will be the speakers.

Mrs. Francis R. Carroll will be in charge of decorations.

All national, associate and group members of the AAUW are invited to the luncheon. Reservations and cancellations may be made with Mrs. William P. Von Osinski at telephone number 1695-W until Friday noon.

Study To Begin

Study groups of the AAUW will begin meeting in October. This year's subjects are Creative Arts, including ceramics, painting, crafts; International Relations, Contemporary Literature, Piano for Fun, Opera Studies, Conversational Spanish and Creative Writing. Anyone int rested in these subjects is invited to attend the study group meetings and membership in the AAUW is not a requisite for joining them.

Additions to the list of approved colleges and universities of the AAUW have been made this year and among them are bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, bachelor of business administration and bachelor of science degrees in education and home economics from Texas Technological College.

Anyone wishing to check her eligibility for the AAUW may contact Mrs. Ray Seifert at telephone number 1360 or check the list at the Midland County Library.

McCamey WSCS Membership Drive To Begin Monday

McCAMEY — Inaugurating a membership drive, the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will have a birthday celebration at 3 p.m. Monday in the church.

Mrs. C. E. Harris will be in charge of the welcoming committee and Mrs. Bill Ramsey of entertainment. Mrs. C. W. Brown and Mrs. R. F. Costen will act as hostesses and there will be birthday cakes for each month of the year.

Mrs. Leo Plumlee will give the devotional, a quartet composed of Mrs. T. M. Tolle, Denver Burch, Mrs. Bill Ramsey and Mrs. W. L. Barnes will sing and Mrs. George Ramer will give a reading.

McCamey P-TA Plans Membership Drive

McCAMEY — Plans for a membership drive in the Parent-Teacher Association were made at a meeting of room mothers in the cafeteria, called Wednesday by Mrs. James Geddy, Jr., president. Mrs. Lawrence English, membership chairman, outlined the plans and chairmen from each schoolroom were appointed to assist her.

Mrs. Leon Belcher, chairman of the P-TA carnival to be held Hallowe'en night in the Community Building, appointed room chairmen to assist in that event. Approximately 70 room mothers were present.

Adult Airs Assumed By Teen-Agers Make Wrong Impression

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The young girl who strains to look older than she is runs the risk of attracting the wrong kind of dates.

Men who might be attracted to a girl with a know-it-all air and who dresses to look older than she is are often not the best choice of boy friends. If they are much older than she is they'll help her to acquire a worldliness for which she is not yet ready. The teenager who wears the make-up, clothes and airs of an older girl may find herself in a situation which she is not equipped to handle.

There's still another argument against rushing birthdays. Teenagers laugh at parents and friends who warn that they are cheating themselves of their youth, but it's true!

Of course it's human for a teenage girl to want to look older and have adult fun and companionship which make her feel more mature. Straining for this maturity can be bad because it can turn the teenager into a character who may be shunned one day by her "young" friends. Maybe the free-and-easy roughhouse fun or humor is not the teen-age glamor girl's dish. Yet her premature sophistication will not be welcomed in adult circles either.

Training Course On Parliamentary Law Conducted By P-TA

The City Parent-Teacher Council Parliamentary Course was held Thursday with 30 women enrolled. Eighteen completed the course during the day and the others will finish it before Monday.

Mrs. J. Lynn Metcalfe was general chairman of the course and teachers were Mrs. Bert Cole, Jr., Mrs. Waldo Leggett, Mrs. Stanley Erskine and Mrs. O. L. Stalcup. Classes were conducted in the First Baptist Recreation Hall.

Enrolled from South Elementary were Mrs. Edwin Ferrell, Mrs. Lynn Smyres, Mrs. Vinton Newberry, Mrs. J. R. Long, Mrs. J. T. Cox, Mrs. O. O. Reid, Mrs. J. H. DePrang, Mrs. Rubin Williams, Mrs Coren Stephenson, Mrs. Herman Reynolds, Mrs. C. H. Craft, Mrs. E. W. Johnson, and C. D. Johnson. Of this group Mrs. Ferrell, Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Reynolds completed the course.

Others Enrolled

North Elementary members enrolled were Mrs. John P. McKinley, Mrs. Bill Glasscock, Mrs. Erskine, Mrs. John Tice and Mrs. H. T. Brady. All finished the work.

From West Elementary were Mrs. Delbert Downing, Mrs. Malcolm Gibson, Mrs. T. P. Withers, Mrs. James H. Jones and Mrs. Metcalfe. All but Mrs. Metcalfe finished the course.

Mrs. H. C. Rowland and Mrs. Raymond Leggett were enrolled from Junior High School and both completed the work.

From Senior High School, Mrs. McKinley, Mrs. Downing, Mrs. M. B. Arick, Mrs. A. C. Castle and Mrs. Erskine enrolled and completed the course.

The next training course the P-TA will offer will be the Procedure Course which will begin at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the Recreational Building of the First Baptist Church.

Crane B&PW's Party Is 'Come As You Are'

CRANE — A "come as you are" breakfast sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club added $36.93 to the club treasury Tuesday morning. Members "kidnaped" a large group of guests, stipulating that each must come to the breakfast just as he was when approached, or pay a fine for each change in apparel made.

The breakfast was held in the East Room of the Community Hall.

McCamey Group Goes To Methodist Seminar

McCAMEY — Mrs. C. J. Mann was one of the teachers at a recent District Mission Educational Seminar of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church which was held in Ozona.

Purpose of the meeting was to study the study courses which will be given during the year. Divided into Teachers' Workshops, the seminar was for officers of the WSCS.

Facial Habits Advertise Age

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The woman who doesn't want to be thought of as a lady who is getting along in years should watch her facial habits.

Two very familiar ones, symptomatic of age, are: No. 1, drooping the corners of the mouth, a habit which expresses discontent or displeasure; No. 2, allowing an eyelid to droop when talking, a habit which registers distrust.

The only way a woman can know if these habits are betraying her is to check up on the facial expressions she uses while talking in front of a mirror. If she thinks that practice is simply too silly, then she can ask the honest opinion of some member of her family if she has facial habits that need correcting.

There are other habits which one needs to be on guard against. One is that habit of making grimaces. Others are: mugging, pursing lips, squinting. Any one of these habits is an early forerunner of senile expressions.

Even if such facial habits didn't imply a threat of early senility, they would still be something to drop the axe upon. These negative expressions are not useful to a woman; they don't add anything pleasant or pretty to her face. Moreover, each habit cited will speed the sagging movements of muscles and eventually cause lines in the skin.

Don't Need Experts' Advice To Rear Children Properly

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Buck up, parents. It looks as though you can come out of that corner pretty soon, take that dunce cap off your head, look your own child squarely in the eye and say: "Mama (or Poppa, as the case may be) knows best."

I've come across any number of quotes lately from leading authorities on child guidance which indicate the era of assuming that parents know less than anybody else about bringing up their own children is about to end.

The best summary so far of this new, tolerant attitude toward parents is an article in the Woman's Home Companion for September, "Let's Stop Blaming the Parents."

Says one authority quoted in the article: "We have broken parents' confidence in their own adequacy. We must help them realize that they, after all, are the experts."

They've broken our confidence, all right. And done such a thorough job of it that it may take them some time to rebuild it to the place where we can take child-rearing in our stride, confident that we have brains enough to know what to do when Junior sucks his thumb of tells a fib or pinches his new baby sister.

And I suspect if the experts really do give us back our confidence in our own adequacy for the job of parenthood, we'll even like our children better.

It's a cinch we'll enjoy them more, if we can quit regarding them as problems to which only the experts have the answers.

Of course, it may not be such good news for Junior. He's had a field day while the experts have had us buffaloed.

Don't think he hasn't sensed our indecision, our lack of confidence in knowing what to do about him . . . and make the most of our confusion.

A Mama who is serenely confident that she knows how to handle Junior isn't nearly as easy to get around as one who is convinced the job of child-rearing is too much for her.

Many dishes that call for a cream sauce benefit if the sauce is well flavored; such flavoring calls for a little scraped onion, a dash of Worcestershire sauce or prepared mustard. A tablespoon of sweet pickle relish is also good added to the sauce if it is to accompany a fish dish.

Annual Pecos Fair Will Open Thursday

PECOS—Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Fifth Annual Fall Fair and Festival here Thursday, officials announced Saturday. The big event will continue through October 1.

Committees have worked hard in every division and indications are the 1949 Fair will be the "biggest and best" in the series.

Divisions this year include: 4-H and FFA clubs, livestock, a division for women's events, cut flowers, special exhibits, school exhibits, a hobby show, and the kid's rodeo, to be staged Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Parade Scheduled

Entries in all divisions will be received until 9 a.m. Thursday. Livestock entries will be received until noon that day. A parade is slated Saturday morning.

A Thursday night feature will be the selecting of a "Miss Cantaloupe of 1949," Alton Hughes, publicity director, announced. The contest will be staged at 9:30 p.m. at the Fair Grounds.

Climaxing the event will be a Square Dance Festival Saturday night. It will be held in the Livestock Exhibit Building at the fair grounds with Herb Greggerson of El Paso serving as master of ceremonies.

Square dancers from Alpine, Van Horn, Monahans, Odessa, Midland, El Paso, Hobbs and Carlsbad, N. M., are expected to attend.

Hurricane Is Exciting End For Mrs. Mummert's Travels Abroad

By FRANCES HAGAMAN

Spending four days in a hurricane, seeing the Northern lights three times and watching the 15th century pageant of "The Pallo" were only parts of Mrs. F. D. Mummert's European trip from which she returned Thursday.

She left Midland July 2 and sailed from New York on July 7 on the Queen Mary. Her party docked in Southampton and went to London, where the group spent one day and saw the crown jewels, the Tower of London and visited Westminster Abbey and the homes of the members of the royal family.

From London they went to Newcastle on the boat train and there boarded the Stella Polaris for the North Cape Tour. Going across the North Sea, they docked first at Bergen and then spent ten days cruising along the Norwegian coast, stopping at different ports to go ashore for tours.

On these side trips, they saw such things as Greig's home, Trollhaugen, a church built in 1500 by the Vikings, the Seven Sisters Mountains, and the remains of the German battleship Turpitz which still contains several hundred bodies.

On July 18 they crossed the Arctic Circle and were given certificates by "King Neptune," and in succeeding days they passed the North Cape and viewed the midnight sun.

Land Of No Night

Being in the land which has no night at this season of the year, Mrs. Mummert said that they went to bed in broad daylight.

"And," she said, "when the sun would come up it would have moved only a very slight distance from where we saw it set."

Sightseeing in Oslo, they saw the Nobel Institute and several Viking ships. Traveling by train to Sweden the party spent four days in Stockholm where they saw the royal palaces and went to the Salts Jaboden, a smart seaside resort.

Mrs. Mummert then went to Denmark and saw the castles and museums while in Copenhagen for two days. She also visited Kronberg, known as Hamlet's Castle and Rosenberg Castle and saw the Norwegian crown jewels which, she says, "are as beautiful, if not more beautiful, than those of England.

Through Germany

While in Copenhagen, they ate at the internationally known Daredsen's restaurant which employs 200 persons—one for every two customers. The restaurant has 15 dining rooms and offers food from all over the world as well as 184 kinds of hors d'ourves. The waiters wear leather aprons and white skirts.

On their way to Holland, the party spent a day and a night traveling through Germany on a train. While at The Hague they saw the Peace Palace and then went on to Amsterdam, arriving there on Princess Irene's birthday.

"All the orange flags were out," Mrs. Mummert said, "and the people were carrying little orange flags and had orange ribbons in their hair."

They also went to the Island of Marken which has 170 acres and is inhabited by 1400 persons, all of native origin. The people of this island are all descendents of the original families who have married and intermarried, never leaving the island.

Over Three Passes

After going through Belgium and visiting Brussels, the party traveled to Switzerland by train, stopping at Lucerne on August 8. They also visited Interlaken, crossed the Brunig Pass and then went to Como, Italy, changing to a bus which took them through Italy and to Avignon, France. In Como they stayed at the Villa D'Este, famous resort, where they saw many travelers from France and Italy.

On the trip to Como they crossed the Grimsel and Furka passes and had lunch at the Rhone Glacier. Visiting Lake Como, they then went to Milan where they saw Leonardo da Vinci's "Last Supper" on the wall of a cathedral. Mrs. Mummert said that the Germans used the room containing the mural as a stable, destroying some of the painting, but that is had been, for the most part, restored.

To Venice And Florence

After leaving Milan, the party went to Venice, Lido and on to Florence where they stayed five days. They went to the Medici chapel, constructed by the famous Florentine family who in trying to outdo the Pitti family, had the chapel altar inlaid in porcelain and precious stones, and visited the Pitti Museum with gold ceiling and inlaid tables where they saw Michaelangelo's statue of David and Rafael's "Madonna of the Chair."

Driving out from Florence to Siena, they saw "The Pallo," a pageant dating from the 15th century which is performed in costume.

The party then traveled to Rome, where they spent six days and visited the Vatican, had their picture taken in the old Forum and took an extensive tour of St. Peter's Cathedral.

They also saw the Pope's Swiss Guard which includes 90 Swiss men who are unmarried, six feet tall or taller and who serve in the guard for three years. The legend behind the guard is that at one time 90 Swiss farmers defended a Pope against a band of men who were trying to kill him. He then decreed that there would be, at all times, a guard of 90 young Swiss men to defend the Pope.

After seeing Genoa and Columbus' home, they went down the Riviera into France and on to Paris, where they spent ten days. While there, they went out to Versailles, saw Napoleon's tomb and toured the Louvre where they saw the Winged Victory and Venus de Milo. They also ate lunch in the Eiffel Tower and went to Malmaison, the residence of the Empress Josephine.

The party sailed from Le Havre and ran into a hurricane two days out to sea and about 800 miles from any shore. They were in the storm almost four days and during that time two United Fruit boats sent SOS signals to their ship for help because they were able to make only five miles an hour. The Caronia circled the ships but the water was too rough to attempt the transfer of any passengers.

No really serious injuries resulted from the storm although many persons were thrown down and several sustained broken arms or bad cuts and bruises.

The storm delayed the ship a day and the group was late arriving in New York City where Mrs. Mummert was met by her two daughters and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Green, Jr., of Midland and Mrs. Maxwell Wortham of Lufkin. They spent several days in New York before they returned to Midland by train.

Shrine Club Will Sponsor Formation Of DeMolay Chapter

Midland soon may have a chapter of the Order of DeMolay if plans of the Midland Shrine Club, sponsoring organization, are carried to completion as scheduled, J. M. McDonald, club president announced Saturday.

A petition to the Grand Council, Order of DeMolay, for a charter for a Midland Chapter was prepared at a meeting of Shrine Club officials Friday afternoon. The petition is signed by McDonald and Emil Rassman, secretary.

An effort to obtain a minimum of 25 charter members will be made immediately following the receipt of application blanks from the Grand Council.

Boys between the ages of 14 and 21 years are eligible for membership in DeMolay. Meetings will be held in the Masonic Hall.

If the organization is perfected, the Lubbock DeMolay Chapter will put on the first DeMolay degrees here, McDonald said.

Early American Furniture Blends With Modern Homes

Western home owners who have made the modern ranch type house so popular that it is being accepted in other areas throughout the United States, have discovered that Early American furniture invariably harmonizes well with this low, rambling, one-story type of construction.

The charm of the well proportioned Colonial pieces and the warmth of the deep brown or reddish wood finishes combine to fit in perfectly with the informal design of these original Western homes.

The same informal feeling also is imparted by the Early American furniture schools' companion period, French Provincial, also a great favorite among Western home furnishers.

Prominent Display

Both Early American and French Provincial reproductions will be given prominent display in leading furniture stores during Home Fashion Time in Midland, Monday through October 3.

Beauty of this type of traditional furniture is that it has many modern aspects which permit it to fit so well into contemporary living.

With today's tremendous selection of fabrics, for instance, all types of bright Colonial and Provincial patterns are available for upholstery covers, draperies, table cloths, etc.

By the same token, modern design has been adapted to these basically traditional pieces.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Blake, Jr., on the birth Saturday of a daughter, Lois Exene, weighing six pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Deel on the birth Friday of a son, not yet named, weighing eight pounds, four ounces.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are invited to spend a weekend with friends.

WRONG WAY: Don't bother taking a gift to your hostess.

Rocking-Chair Artist—

Untaught Painter Would Give Youth Opportunity For Study

By SUE COLEMAN

Her sister's assurance that she could paint without lessons was received rather dubiously by Mrs. G. H. Butler back in 1924, but it was the incentive that developed an interest which has grown for a quarter-century.

Mrs. Butler, who had rather paint cattle and horses than people and who was called "the Grandma Moses of Midland" by a painter who visited here last year, has been painting ever since. She agrees with England's famous Winston Churchill and New England's famous Grandma Moses that it is a hobby not limited by advancing years.

Her two sisters had had lessons in painting, and it was their enjoyment of the art that caused her to express the wish that she, too, could paint. It was soon after her husband's death, and she felt that such an activity could help relieve her loneliness.

Gives Advice, Materials

The sister who advised her to go ahead and paint bolstered her advice by presenting a supply of brushes, paints and canvas to Mrs. Butler, who started rather timidly by copying a snow scene from a magazine.

"When I finished that picture I felt like a fool," she laughs. "It was the flattest-looking thing you ever saw!"

She continued to paint, however, and gradually learned the technique of perspective and depth in landscapes, her favorite type of painting then and now. For a long time she did not attempt original work, but copied pictures and sometimes traced the outline of a drawing and then painted over it.

Mrs. G. H. Butler At Her Easel

Although she has produced many original pictures, landscapes and still life, she makes no fetish of creativeness; if she sees a pictured scene that pleases her she copies it or a part of it and makes no pretense that it is original.

Back-Porch Studio

A glassed-in porch at the back of her home, 934 North Baird Street, is Mary Butler's "studio." There are her paints, easels, canvases in various stages of completeness and a large chair, well padded and cushioned.

A comfortable chair to work in, Mrs. Butler says, makes painting a pleasure. She has a rocking chair in the Palette Club Studio, where she paints with the other members at their Thursday sessions, and it is reserved for her use.

She insists that a rocking chair is very practical for painting, because she can sit forward in it to work as well as in a straight chair, and when she tires she can relax perfectly by rocking back.

Now Heads Club

Mrs. Butler was a charter member of the Palette Club, which was formed in the late 1920's by a group of women who, like her, painted for their own pleasure and liked to work together occasionally. They met in a room adjoining the garage at one member's home, until they raised enough money to build the present club studio. At first they could not buy any artists' supplies here, and had to order them from Fort Worth or Dallas.

They have shared their building with other groups interested in art, and are finding it too small to meet present needs. Mrs. Butler, who lately was elected president for this season, expresses the club's views when she explains the current building program.

"When the club was organized most of us were middle-aged women, the town was small and the studio was large enough for us. Now there are a lot of youngsters growing up here whose parents are not able to send them away to study art. We want to provide a place where those who are talented can study and work here in Midland, and where there will be room for people to learn and practice crafts as well as painting."

Animals Are Favorites

While she is interested in teachers for young painters, Mrs. Butler confesses that in her own case she agrees with an art authority whose book she read, who said that after a painter has developed his own technique he can seldom change it later. After years of painting without instruction, she studied a short time with a guest teacher here last year, and decided that she cannot change the things she has learned by experience.

Her favorite subjects, as indicated by their frequent appearance in her pictures, are cattle, horses and flowers. She never has been interested in painting portraits and when there is a human figure in her pictures it usually is indicated rather vaguely; when she paints a cowboy on a horse the observer remembers the horse instead of the man.

She likes painting ranch scenes and animals because she knows them best, she says. The blooms in her yard are evidence of the interest in flowers shown by numerous studies of colorful bouquets.

Most of her landscapes are West Texas scenes—peaks in the Davis Mountains, a Mexican jacal in the Rio Grande Valley, a study of a local church and another of a cotton gin, and a view of a blossoming wisteria as seen through her kitchen window.

Painting is not Mrs. Butler's only hobby; she likes to do needlework and since she "took a notion to whittle" she has produced some elaborately carved wood pieces including a what-not shelf that hangs in her living room.

Best-sellers are stacked in her living-room bookshelves to testify to her enjoyment of reading, and she likes to drive her car and visit with friends.

In fact, Mrs. Butler declares that she has no time to think about being bored and she shows, in her conduct and pictures, the same zest for life that is displayed by the noted Grandma Moses who, like Mrs. Butler, began painting when she was no longer young and prefers to work on landscapes.

Mrs. Butler is emphatic in her opinion of surrealistic painting, but unlike most of its critics, she does not condemn it because the painters' meaning is obscure. She just says, "How do they ever think of things like that to paint? I couldn't paint like that because I couldn't imagine that kind of things."

P-TA Membership Week Designated By Texas Governor

AUSTIN—The week of October 17-22 has been officially designated by Gov Allan Shivers as Parent-Teacher Membership Week of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. This has become an annual custom, the time being set to include October 19, the birthday of the Texas Congress.

Mrs. John E. Hayes of Twin Falls, Idaho, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, also has proclaimed October as national Parent-Teacher Enrollment Month.

Mrs. J. H. Moore of Deport, president of the Texas Congress and Thomas D. Rishworth of Austin, national chairman of radio and director of Radio House, University of Texas, will attend the annual Fall meeting of the Board of Managers of the National Congress in Chicago this week.

"The Citizen Child—His Destiny a Free World" will be the administration theme. A national-state P-TA relations workshop will highlight the session.

Midlander Is Serving In Pacific Exercises

SAN FRANCISCO—Bill M. McCarter, fireman apprentice, USN, of 2107 West Wall Street, Midland, Texas, is serving as a crew member aboard the landing ship USS 1110, which is participating this Fall in "Operation Miki," a large-scale amphibious exercise in the Pacific.

The maneuvers, scheduled for late September, October, and November, involve almost 40,000 soldiers, sailors and marines, and are designed to dislodge an imaginary "aggressor" force from the Hawaiian Islands. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commanding general of the Sixth Army, is the overall commander.

The First Task Fleet will conduct the assault on Oahu with complete wartime realism. Secrecy shrouds the probable date of departure from mainland waters and the projected D-Day on the beaches of Oahu. As in wartime island operations, the task fleet will include a full array of Naval vessels ranging from fully loaded tank landing ships to powerful aircraft carriers.

To bake pears cut them in half lengthwise and remove the core. Put the halves in a baking dish, sprinkle them well with brown sugar and a little melted butter or margarine; add a few tablespoons of water to the bottom of the dish and bake them, covered, at a moderate temperature until they are tender.

Eager Beaver

Eyes bright with excitement, this winsome pupil has to wait for teacher and the ten o'clock scholars to arrive. She wanted to be on time for her first roll call in the first grade. For the momentous occasion, she wears a crisp little cotton frock designed by Johnston of Dallas.

Miss Wood Honored With Gift Tea In E. B. Patterson Home

Lorene Wood, who is to be married on October 6 to Earl W. Rucker of Ulysses, Kan., was complimented with a gift tea recently when Mrs. E. B. Patterson, Mrs. Curlee McElhatten, Sylvia Malone and Dorothy Crouch entertained in Mrs. Patterson's home.

Pink asters with white stock and feverfew set the color note of white and pink which was used in floral decorations through the house. An arrangement of the flowers centered the table where Mrs. McElhatten poured punch and Miss Crouch served cake. Mrs. Patterson greeted guests with the honoree, and Miss Malone was at the bride's book.

Guest List

Mrs. W. E. Rucker, mother of the bridegroom-elect, and Mrs. S. M. McElhatten of Westbrook, Mrs Britton of Fort Stockton, Mrs. C. H. Norris of Odessa and Mrs. Jack Newland of Crane.

Girl Scout Training Schedule Set

The training schedule for this Fall for potential Girl Scout workers in the Permian Basin Area has been announced by Mrs. I. A. Searles, area field director, who has completed a basic group leadership course in Midland.

Mrs. Searles and Scout workers in the various cities will be in charge of the training courses.

On Thursday and Friday there will be a workshop in Andrews and October 3 through 7 a basic group leadership course and workshop are slated in Odessa. A group leadership course and workshops will be held in Kermit October 12 through 14 with Wink leaders invited to participate.

Fort Stockton will have a leadership course and workshops on October 17, 18 and 19 an workshops will be held in McCamey October 21 and 22. Pecos and Balmorhea will have workshops November 7 and 8 and a leadership course will be held in Monahans November 9 and 10.

Meetings will be in Alpine November 16 and 17 and the established camp will be November 18 and 19 with Sanderson, Van Horn, Valentine, Fort Davis, Marathon, Presidio, and Fort Stockton residents especially invited.

Workshops and training for Latin Americans will be held in Midland November 28 through December 1 and Van Horn and Valentine will have meetings December 5 through 9.

Delivering Papers Again

Special Perfume For Texas

(NEA Telephoto)

Madame Jeanne Noel, prominent perfumeuse from Grasse, France, exhibits her special new fragarance called "Bonnet Bleu." The new perfume was created especially for the "France Comes to You" travel and trade exposition, now showing in Dallas, and is in honor of the ladies of Texas and their state flower, the bluebonnet. Madame Noel also is exhibiting her Quel-Air lamps, which can be seen in the foreground.

Style Show—

From Franklin's, Mrs. Jimmy Walker modeled a suit of brown menswear with longer-length coat trimmed in brown plastic buttons and a rolled collar, and pencil slim skirt. With it she wore a pale green blouse, pale green hat with brown feather from Hattie's Millinery Salon, and brown kid shoes.

The turquoise blue cord faille dress which Mrs. Clyde Pederson wore was from W. W. Virtue, Inc. It was a Gay Gibson model with gold buttons and belt and a low neckline, pointed in front and framed with a wide collar, and was worn with a short white wool coat.

Mrs. Jack Stackpole appeared in a crepe frock from the Fashion Salon, in avocado green and chartreuse. It was fashioned with a half-cape effect and slightly draped bodice. Her dark green felt hat trimmed with chartreuse wool flowers was from Hattie's, and her cinnamon bag and shoes from Cecil's.

Formal Finery

A formal dress from Grammer-Murphey was modeled by Dell Steel. Of black marquisette over taffeta, it was strapless, the bodice laced to the waist in the back with narrow black velvet ribbon looped to catch tiny coral flowers. The skirt was made in ruffled tiers, and there was a matching stole. Her specially designed corsage was from the City Floral, as were corsages of several other models.

Jewelry from Kruger's and Vosatka's was shown with some of the snow costumes. The other models were Mrs. Bryan Denson, Glenda Ruth Brown, Mrs. Charles Patterson, Mrs. George Woody, Mrs. Jack Doran, Clyde Parmelly, Aileen Maxwell, Mrs. W. S. Kotch, Betty Cooke, Sarah Johnson and Billie Walker.

Carolyn Oates was general chairman of the style show, with Mrs. Denson and Mrs. Aytes as co-chairmen. Models were from the Xi Theta, Beta Delta and Iota Beta Chapters of the sorority.

Funds raised by the annual style shows are used for charity and welfare projects of the Beta Sigma Phi. This year's show was the third for the Midland chapters.

Football Game—

watching the game closely, as were the Hamilton McRaes, Dr. and Mrs. Waldo Leggett, Mr. and Mrs. Don Sivalls.

Sitting in the center section were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Jr. Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Sr., was with her sister, Mrs. Essie Stafford, and a foursome seated high in the stands was composed of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Harper and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Essex, Jr.

Dr. Dorothy Wyvell was with Mr. and Mrs. William Y. Penn and the Clyde Pedersons and Zay Kimberlins made up another quartet. Mr. and Mrs. John Cornwall had their son, Tommy, with them as did Preston Lea who brought his son, Jerry, and the Bob Paines who were accompanied by their son.

Other couples seen were the Percy Bridgewaters, the John Ratliffs, the Watson LaForces, the James Daughertys, and the Fred Turners.

DKG CHAIRMAN NAMED

Local chairman for the year, appointed when the Beta Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma began a new term with a picnic supper here Thursday, are Ruth Pearce, Midland; Gracia Ross, Garden City; Dorothy Davis, Big Spring; Mrs. Ritter, Martin County, and Faye Matthews, Odessa. The chapter includes members from four counties.

Pocahontas married John Rolfe.

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: John L. Lewis called strike despite fact that 99 per cent of operators contributed to welfare fund; Lewis wants higher pension fund than Phil Murray; Truman brought bull into Kansas City hotel.

WASHINGTON—When John L. Lewis sent the strike call down the line—"No Welfare Payments, No Work"—it was one of the biggest hoaxes he has even pulled on both his miners and the American public.

For, actually, the welfare payments were being made. Not a single Northern operator had suspended payments. They were living up to the spirit of the contract even when no contract existed.

And in the South only three or four operators, including the Island Creek and the Pond Creek companies of West Virginia, had stopped the payments.

In other words, Lewis penalized all the operators who were cooperating—which was 99 per cent of them—on the false pretext that the Southern operators were not contributing to the welfare fund.

Real fact, however, is that Lewis wanted an excuse for a general walkout without leaving himself open to possible court action by personally calling a strike. Thus, he made it appear that a great many operators were withholding the royalty payments on coal tonnage.

Lewis Vs. Murray

The real reasons for Lewis's tactics in fomenting the strike at this particular time were:

1. He has always wanted to bargain in the Fall as the cold season sets in rather than in the Spring when demand for coal diminishes.

2. Lewis has spent the welfare portion of his welfare-pension plan so extravagantly that he has to have more money. It has not been the fault of the operators that this fund has been dissipated.

3. Lewis wanted to humiliate and embarrass his old friend and now enemy, CIO Chief Phil Murray.

The President's Fact - Finding Board in the steel dispute already has recommended 10 cents an hour in welfare-pension benefits for steelworkers. This is relatively the same amount as Lewis gets from the coal operators. Therefore if Lewis, by striking now, is able to wangle even two or three cents more royalty out of the coal operators he will be able to preen his feathers at Murray and boast that he is a much better friend of labor.

Meanwhile and to satisfy Lewis's vanity, the entire nation will soon be short of coal despite the fact that all but three or four of the coal operators were continuing to make payments into the miners welfare-pension fund even though they had signed no contracts.

President's Legion Days

When dynamic Clyde Lewis called at the White House the other day, President Truman warmly congratulated him on being the first World War II vet to be elected national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"But," added Truman, with a twinkle in his eye, "you fellows don't have the pep of us World War I boys."

Then he recalled that during an American Legion convention in Kansas City some years back he and a few cronies led a bull into the lobby of the Muehlbach Hotel.

"And do you know what the critter did?" continued the President in mock horror. "He had an accident right on the floor. The spot's still on the hotel rug."

Ladies On Merry-Go-Round

Prodigal Senator Returns

Idaho's repentant Senator Glen Taylor, who broke with the Democrats to run for vice president on the Henry Wallace ticket, came face to face the other day with the man he revolted against — Harry Truman. This was their first meeting since Truman secretly summoned Taylor to the White House in 1948 and begged him to stay true to the Democratic Party.

But the President seemed to hold no grudges. He was standing in front of his desk when Taylor was ushered into the office and gestured as if to welcome back the prodigal son.

After a cordial handshake, the President escorted Taylor over to a globe of the world and gave it a spin to Iran.

"I'm expecting a visit from the shah of Persia," explained Truman. Then he mused, half to himself: "I'll probably have to send my plane for him."

"You'll probably be criticized," warned Taylor.

The President replied that he had been through the same thing before in Missouri where he wasn't supposed to have a chance. But by going to the people with his case, he always won.

When the subject of more recent politics was brought up, Taylor observed: "I have voted with you on every domestic issue, but I still can't agree with your get-tough policy."

Later, as the reoriented rebel from Idaho departed, the President called after him: "See you again."

German Allowance Payment Confused

BERLIN (AP)—In the confusion that reigned in the closing days of the war, Frau Schwarzenauer got a higher family allowance for her soldier husband than she was entitled to.

Recently, she received a letter from the bank through which the government payments were made. It said she had to pay the money back. Her husband, Paul, protested to the bank. But the officials were stubborn.

"Take it up with the German army command," they said. The army command ceased to exist in 1945.

Fair Art Exhibit Will Be Curtailed For Lack Of Space

Because of lack of space, there will be no exhibit of ceramics, china or figurines in the art department of the Midland County Fair October 7 and 8, the Palette Club has announced.

The art exhibit for the fair is under the sponsorship of the club and will include landscapes, still lifes and portraits in any medium. Open to anyone in Midland County, the exhibit is restricted to work which has been painted during the last year. Work must be framed and not larger than 18 by 24 inches. Material to be exhibited must be at the auditorium by 3 p.m. October 6 to be ready for the opening of the Fair October 7.

Separate first, second and third prizes will be given for each of the three types of work and any medium will be acceptable. Further information about the fair exhibit may be obtained from Mrs. F. H. Lanham at No. 2396-W.

During National Art Week in November, there will be an extensive exhibit of ceramics and other types of art sponsored by the club.

Perhaps Schools Should Be Abolished

(An Editorial)

Once upon a time, a long time ago, a young boy struggled to learn. He studied by firelight in a log cabin. This boy, known as Abraham Lincoln, grew to be one of our greatest Presidents. He wasn't forced to study; he wanted to.

In our present day schools there is a lot of "tom-foolery" going on. "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink." Maybe this expression holds true to students, too. Perhaps we should do away with schools and let those, who don't want to swim, sink.

We can't all be Presidents, but we can take advantage of what we have. Let's all get down to work and see what we can make of this school year.

Students Sign Up For MHS Clubs

By CAROL GLAHN

During the home room period Tuesday afternoon, students were given a chance to sign up for the clubs of their choice for this school term.

These always-popular MHS organizations will meet on Mondays and Thursdays. Meetings of the Thursday clubs, divided into two groups, will be held each alternate week.

Of this year's record number of 24 active clubs, five are newly organized. One of these is the Cub Club, sponsored by Mrs. Parr. It is an instruction course for class, home room, and club reporters.

Miss Parmelly's Charm and Personality Club, for girls only, is proving to be a very popular addition to the extra-curricular activities. A total of 76 members have signed up for it.

Believing that you can't start too early, Coach Mashburn has organized a Basketball Club in preparation for this year's "cage campaign." The 46 boys who signed up for this activity will work on rules and plays.

Among the various types of clubs are the National affiliated organizations: National Honor Society, National Thespian Society and the National Forensic League. There are the "future clubs": Future Farmers, Future Homemakers, and Future Teachers. Clubs also are offered for those particularly interested in such hobbies as photography, stamps, and model airplanes.

Sponsors And Enrollment

The total enrollment for each club with the sponsors listed are: Monday—Cub Club, Mrs. Parr, 19; Future Farmers, Mr. Cuffman, 48; Band, Mr. Hoffman, 65; Gold Jackets, Mrs. Blair; Vocal Music, Mr. Michener, 42; Brush 'n Palette, Miss Parker, 33; National Forensic, Miss Harris, 7; Model Airplane, Mr. Blackwell, 17.

Thursday — Group 1: National Thespian, Miss Harris, 20; Future Homemakers, Mrs. Massey, 72; Geology, Midland Geological Society, 58; Junior Classical League, Miss Moore, 7; Future Teachers, Miss Rucker, 34; Business Club, Miss Reeves, 13; Basketball, Mr. Mashburn, 46.

Thursday — Group 2: National Honor Society, Miss Klapproth, 6; Charm and Personality, Miss Parmelly, 76; Science Club, Mr. Bohn and Mr. Bizilo, 63; Las Habladores, Miss Jackson, 58; Stamp Club, Mr. Slight, 11; Slide Rule, Mrs. Magee, 8; Camera Club, Miss Gordon, 72; Bible Club, Mrs. Dunagan, 17.

During the club periods the A, B, and C, squad football boys will meet with their coaches.

Looking Ahead

MONDAY: Pupils will go to club meetings.

TUESDAY: Pupils will remain in home room.

WEDNESDAY: All pupils will report to home room.

THURSDAY: Clubs will meet. C Team plays Big Spring here at 3 p.m.

FRIDAY: Pep meeting at 9:40 a.m. Parade at 3:30 p.m. Football game with Brownwood here at 8 p.m.

SATURDAY: B Team goes to Big Spring.

Equipment Delays Cafeteria Opening

Opening of the high school cafeteria has been delayed because all equipment has not arrived.

Principal Mathews says the cafeteria will open approximately three days after the equipment is received.

Dear Daddy—

Dear Daddy,

I met the most wonderful boy today and I think he really is swell. I am sure you would like him too as he has such admirable qualities of honesty, and friendliness, however, you might find him a pest at times for he yap-yaps as much as I.

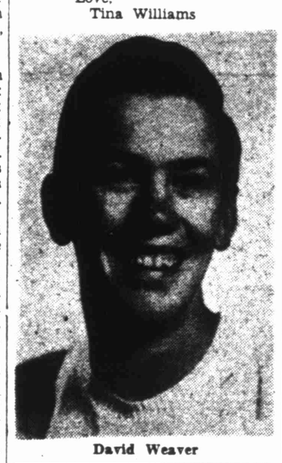

He is about 6 feet tall with blond hair, blue eyes and weighs around 155 pounds. He came to Midland two years ago from Sweetwater.

He told me that he plans to go out for both basketball and track and that basketball is his favorite sport. I suppose I had better make basketball my favorite sport from now on too.

His name is David Weaver but a lot of people call him Rail, Steve, or Dave. He has many friends and he is sergeant-at-arms of his home room.

Well, I guess I will dash over to the Youth Center and try to beat the other girls to a fast game of table tennis with him.

Love,
Tina Williams

Teacher Of The Week—

The sophomores seem to be the lucky ones this year. They have a very attractive teacher who is new to Midland High School. Her name is Mrs. Helen Rucker, and she teaches sophomore English.

Mrs. Rucker's husband is H. J. Rucker, an attorney at law. Before coming to Midland, the Ruckers lived in Lexington, Ky., for three years while he finished school. While there she taught in Lexington Junior High School.

They have decided to settle in Midland and are at present building a home in Loma Linda which should be ready for occupancy about October 15. Mrs. Rucker, a dark-eyed, dark haired graduate of McMurry, may be seen after school supervising the building of her new home.

Other of her favorite pastimes are playing golf, swimming, going to movies, and sewing.

Mrs. Rucker received her BS in speech from McMurry, but she also attended Hardin-Simmons in her hometown of Abilene.

MHS Fire Alarm System Explained

In conjunction with the re-corating of the old junior high ilding—now part of the senior h school—fire alarm boxes have en placed on the second floor and will be connected as soon as glass cases arrive for them.

To report a fire, all a student has to do is break the case with his hand.

In case of a fire, students will quietly and quickly leave their rooms in single file and WALK-not run—through a designated door or fire escape. Doors to the fire escapes are located at the end of all halls on the second floor. No talking will be allowed nor will time be given each student to collect textbooks or personal belongings.

Windows Open

All windows will be left open. After the last student has left, each teacher will close the classroom door. At different intervals during the year practice drills will be held. At one of these practice drills a smudge fire will be lighted and placed in a hall so that students may determine exactly how to act in case of a real fire.

New Students In MHS Number 78

By BET STUDDERT

Along with the new high school building come new faces in the halls. Every class boasts at least one newcomer to Midland. The total enrollment of new pupils in Midland High School is 78.

Texas claims 68 of these new students. Oklahoma is second with three, while two come from California, Washington and Arkansas. One is listed from New Mexico.

By JO ANNE BOYKIN

This is welcome news to all of us. The new gym is to be the most complete in West Texas. Of this, we students are very proud. Due to the fact pupils have been advised to keep away from the gym because of the danger of falling debris, there may be those of you who haven't seen the inside of the building. The following facts, supplied by Jack Ratcliff, superintendent of construction, will help you realize that nothing but pride can be taken in our school.

Cost Is $245,070

The total cost of the building is $245,070.45. Wainscot tile and common bricks are used in the walls surrounding the court. There are 35 small windows and 12 large ones. The dimensions from wall to wall are 100 by 113 1/2 feet. It will have one main court and two practice courts, four retractable basketball goals, which can be folded out of the way for all main games. The 1,800 seats for spectators also are retractable and can be pushed against the wall when more space is needed. The North side will be used for the boys' showers and lockers, with the South side for the girls. There will be accordion doors separating the two, insuring privacy for both boys and girls. Two drinking fountains and four heating units will be in use. Two apparatus rooms will be used for the equipment.

Needless to say, this building will be put to good use by the 713 students who participate in physical education.

Majorettes Are Tricky Twirlers

Austin High Fans 'Storm' Midland

The students of Austin High School of El Paso descended upon Midland 125 strong Friday afternoon. Seven busloads of Panther fans, including the school band, arrived here to support their team in the football game between the Austin High Panthers and the Midland Bulldogs.

Bulldogs To Tackle Lions

The Lions and the Bulldogs both are inexperienced and small. Brownwood's attack is centered around the running of backs Billy Bishop and Don Low.

Midland will play without the services of Bob Woods, who broke his hand in practice. He will be replaced by Stan Coker or Jerry Culp.

MIDLAND

ENDS—Dwane Bush and Harrie Smith.

GUARDS — Dalton Byerly and Jack Mobley.

CENTER—Jimmy O'Neal.

BROWNWOOD

ENDS—Don Friend and James Blake.

GUARDS—Jack Fulton and Bob Durham.

CENTER—Bob Kington.

MHS

Many small fish have become big by keeping their mouth shut at the right time.

Men were born with two eyes and two ears but only one mouth that they might see and hear twice as much as they say.

15 Rahs For Tex And Mike

The student body of MHS would like to thank Tex Carleton and Mike Brumbelow, Bulldog supporters, who issued pencils to us.

Fifteen rahs for The Athletic Supply Company.

Parade, Bonfire Generate Spirit

By KATHERINE LEWIS

A parade and bonfire pep rally got underway Thursday night at 7 p.m. Cars met and formed the parade at the junior high school building and had a police escort down through town and out to Memorial Stadium.

The parade was headed by a car bearing a purple flag with the words: "Midland Bulldogs Beat Austin High." Those responsible for the flag were David Anguish, Earl Chapman, Mrs. Anguish and Mrs. Chapman. June Hazlip designed the flag and it is made so the visiting football team's name can be changed from time to time. It is planned the two temporary co-captains Jack Mobley and Harrie Smith will sign the flag after the Austin High game.

Following the lead car driven by David Anguish was Bet Studdert's jeep with cheerleaders Janis Slough, JoAnn Boykin, Richard Patton, Jean Blackwell, and Toya Chapple. The Austin High dummy had his last ride atop the jeep.

The remaining part of the parade was made up of many cars decorated with the school colors, purple and gold.

Hanging In Effigy

After arriving at Memorial Stadium, the students formed around the huge pile of wood. The Austin High dummy was brought hanging from the gallows to the woodpile where he was placed on the top during yells lead by the cheerleaders.

The first speaker of the evening was Principal Charles Mathews. Yells and cheers followed and the spirit ran to an all time high. Red Roberts, president of the Booster Club was master of ceremonies and introduced Coach Beauchamp who said: "Beat Austin High!" Coach Gill was the next speaker and he stated this occasion was the first time since he had been in Midland that the school spirit had run so high.

Co-captains for the Austin High game, Harrie Smith and Jack Mobley spoke at the rally. Both made statements to the effect the team would miss Bob Woods, out of the lineup due to a hand injury.

The pep band was on hand with march music and opened its part of the rally with the Bulldog fight song and several other snappy tunes. The cheerleaders and band took turns making noise.

Downing Speaks

Delbert Downing, the main speaker of the evening, was introduced by Superintendent Frank Monroe. Downing made the statement that there was more spirit all over the school and the town than there has been in years and years. "If we are bound and determined to win this game, we will!", were the words of Downing.

The bonfire was lighted by the football boys and there were more yells led by cheerleaders. As Austin High was burned in effigy cheers rang from the crowd. A snake dance was formed around the flaming mass and the pep rally then broke up.

The pep rally was recorded and broadcasted 4:30 p.m. Friday.

Thanks go to David and Gloria Anguish, Adele Blackman, Ann Stevens and the FFA boys for helping get the wood out to the stadium.

Comments heard after the rally were: "Best pep rally MHS had in many years." And from our corner comes, "let's do it again!"

Band Notes

Mr. Mathews, Mr. Martin, Mr. Gates, Mr. Hoffman, and Mr. Wesley May attended the electorial meeting of the Region 8 TMEA at McCamey. E. Sonnenberg was elected regional chairman and J. R. Dickason was elected secretary-treasurer.

After the election of officers, bidding started for the Spring Contest site. Midland and Odessa competed and it was voted to call the Choral Contests in Odessa March 22, 1950. Senior High School Band Contests will be held in Midland April 13.

Jerry Hoffman, Midland High Band Director, was appointed Midland chairman of band contests. There will be approximately 20 senior high school bands and 10 junior high school bands competing.

• • •

8:30 a.m.—Marching practice on the football field.

• • •

Band officers will be elected at 9 a.m. Monday. The drum major is Beverly Keisling, who was appointed.

• • •

A Warning To All Freshmen

Wednesday, Tina Williams and Maggie Murphy were left in charge of Miss Boyd's library classes. Time and time again, they warned the freshmen to stop talking, but the talking continued.

When Miss Boyd returned, she was so outraged at the students behavior, she told them to report at 8:15 a.m. the following morning as punishment for not paying attention to the student assistants.

1984

You wake up to a harsh voice saying, "freshmen to seniors, freshmen to seniors! We will now take morning exercises." You immediately jump up before the "thought screen" and make movements on the screen. You realize that if you move slowly or inaccurately she will know it and scream, "Number 72; Bobby Sox, faster, faster, you're getting lazy!" The exercises are soon over and you eat your skimpy morning ration, but there is no getting away from the thought screen.

You hear reports of small children turning their parents over to the thought police. The parents were, of course, hanged in the public square for having such thoughts.

You go to your neighbor's door and see "Big Brother's" poster. Your neighbor is not there. He has "vaporized." You go to your job with dread of the two-minute HATE session. You guard your facial expressions for fear of the "Thought Police." You wonder if humans always have been thus, and there's no one to answer you——.

This weird world of the future was described in the September issue of the Reader's Digest and was enjoyed by many members of the Civics Class. It is a book condensation that you probably will enjoy.

Black And Stalcup New Class Officers

Other sophomore officers are: Jimmy Linebarger, vice president and Camilla Birkhead, secretary-treasurer. Other freshman officers are: Dick Spencer, vice president and Norman Myers, secretary-treasurer.

Another meeting will be held in the near future to determine the remaining officers for the classes.

Silence!

Silence is the order in Home Room 122 now.

If anyone talks out of turn he must pay one penny into the treasury which rapidly is filling.

Money collected in this manner will be used to help pay expenses of a party planned for Tuesday. There will be a program as well as refreshments.

Interest Is High In English Class

In the literature classes students have been discussing short stories. In class Slight has played a recording of Edgar Allen Poe's, "The Cask of the Amontillado" and told the story of "The Fall of the House of Usher," also by Poe.

Slight expects to be through with the short story soon. He will then take up novels, essays, drama, and poetry. The course will be made more interesting by use of visual aid.

Grammar classes are studying outlining, precise writing, summarizing, and sentence elements. The sixth period class is debating symposiums. The rest of the classes are writing themes. Later the instructor plans to take up sentence diagramming.

Who's Who

On the sixteenth day of February in the year of our Lord, 1932, Donald Johnson viewed the, to him, new world from the town of Gladewater. Don has moved about some but for the last four years he has made Midland his home and is this year a senior in MHS.

Aside from his studies, Donald takes part in many extra-curricular activities. He is on the tennis team, sports editor of the Catoico and secretary-treasurer for his home room.

A description of Donald enabling you to recognize him around school or town, would list his hair as black (according to him), green eyes, five feet and 11 inches in height and weight around 130 pounds.

Donald's favorite teacher is Miss Gordon and English is the favorite subject. When asked his opinion of the new high school building Don said, "I think it's a good deal but we need to revolutionize these lunch periods and have them the old way.

Pardon, Our Slip Showed

The "slighted" teachers are as follows: Mr. Slight, sponsor of Room 216 and not 123; Miss Weaver, sponsor of 123; Mr. Rutledge, 122; Mr. Aikin, 121 and Mr. Bass, sponsor of Room 215.

'Earthquake' Pep Rally Conducted

No, it was not an earthquake! The resounding cheers you heard Friday morning was the pep rally held in preparation for the Midland-Austin High game.

The rally was held in front of the high schools with the cheerleaders and speakers using the roof of the building as a stage. Mr. Mathews introduced the speakers Red Roberts, president of the Booster Club and Coach Tugboat Jones.

A rally also was held Tuesday morning in front of the school building. At this meeting, Mathews gave a short talk.

County Heads Named For Baylor Campaign

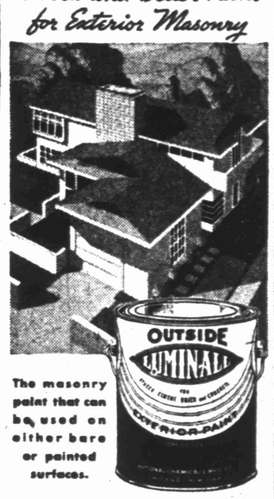

ODESSA—Appointment of six county chairmen for the Baylor Stadium Campaign in this area has been announced by Edd Terril of Odessa, area chairman. Terril said the choices were made after consultation with J. M. Waddell of Kermit regional chief.

Helping to raise a portion of the $1,000,000 statewide goal in financing Baylor University's new $1,500,000 stadium will be these men:

Max Ramsey, Andrews, Andrews County; William D. Cameron, Kermit, Winkler County; Glenn Ratliff, Monahans, Ward County; W. H. Holcomb, Pecos, Reeves County; J. A. Beyers, Crane, Crane County; Mack Rodgers, Big Spring, Howard County; Ramon Stoker, Odessa, Ector County.

Family With Hobbies—

Garage Houses Activities Which Keep Entire Engel Family Busy

By FRANCES HAGAMAN

The busiest garage in Midland is the workshop of a family that believes in hobbies. Belonging to the N. W. Engels, 1803 West Texas Street, it houses a photography studio, kiln, models and clay for ceramics work, and often serves as a stage for the impromptu performances of six-year-old Scotty and the family Beagle hound, Bo.

The photographic equipment is Engel's and includes a screen, lights, a 4x5 Speed Graphic with a studio view and a 16 millimeter movie camera. He develops and prints the pictures himself.

In both black and white and sepia, his pictures have been exhibited in shows over the United States and have won many prizes. These include exhibits by the Photographic Society of America in camera clubs and museums as well as exhibitions in photographic salons and magazines and newspapers.

Some of his pictures are outdoor scenes while others are portraits. An especially interesting one is a character of an old man Engel once met in a park. The old man's hair is white and his long white beard is reminiscent of an almost forgotten time. Wrinkles cover his face but in his eyes are the knowledge, brightness and depth of one who has seen much of the world.

Pictures On Tour

A three-dimensional quality is found in the picture of a farm house set in an expanse of fields. Trees in the foreground form an arch through which the house is seen as though one were looking through a stereopticon.

The ceramic materials are Mrs. Engel's. She has been working with them about six months but has had only 10 lessons. Her works include horses' heads, dolls, boxes and earrings. Many of her moulds are originals which she designs herself, giving her work a creative quality not found in all ceramics.

Finished In Glazes

All of Mrs. Engel's works are finished in glazes which range from the very high ones found on the large, dark bronze heads of horses to the duller glaze on the lace-trimmed figurines.

The heads are heavy and modern and have lighter-colored, curled manes. Also modern are the chartreuse-colored Chinese boys and girls whose coats and water buckets are trimmed in black and gold. A Dresden-like man and woman, complete with powdered wigs, are trimmed with tiny flowers and rows of pleated, dainty lace.

Among the flowers Mrs. Engel uses for earrings are orchids, roses and calla lillies. These she makes by hand, without the use of a mould. She also does cigarette boxes with ash trays to match and fruit plates, such as the one on her dining table which has a large rooster perched on either side.

She now is working on children's plates with matching mugs and heart-shaped boxes trimmed with the same pleated lace as the figurines.

"Oh, these are not my best work. I always give my best things away," she will tell anyone admiring her work.

Has Imagination

The precocious member of the family is Scotty, who just started to West Elementary School, where he is in the first grade. To Scotty, whose full name is Noel Scott, life is a stage on which he can portray the characters of his imagination. His first speaking part was in "The Drunkard" last Summer, but he has been singing and doing imitations since he was a little more than two years old.

One of his favorite characters is Robin Hood and at any time he may dash into the garage or through the living room with his wooden sword brandished and his paper hunter's cap on his head. It is part of his play to always dress in the costume of the character he imitates.

Was Bull Fighter

When given the Little Lord Fauntleroy suit he was to wear in "The Drunkard," Scotty alternately became a bull fighter and one of the Three Musketeers. But by the time the play was presented, he knew not only his part but also that of the hero and several other members of the cast. He still puts on his handlebar mustache and stags gers into the room, crying for brandy and bemoaning the death of his father.

Besides "The Drunkard," Scotty was in Nadyne Griffin's dance recital last May and sang for the Business and Professional Women's Club during the Summer.

He is very proud of the family clown, Bo, the Beagle hound. However, anyone addressing the dog as merely Bo, will be corrected promptly.

"He's Bo Engel," Scotty will say proudly.

Bo Engel is a clown—with his short, squatty legs and broad body, brown, black and white. He forever is running after Scotty and, in general, doing his best to be as interesting as his family.

Came From California

The Engels came to Midland in February from California, Mrs. Engel's home. She grew up in Los Angeles and attended the University of California at Los Angeles. Engel is from Hamilton, Ohio, and is a graduate of the University of Kentucky. He is a geologist for Superior Oil Company. Before they were in California they lived in Evansville, Ind., where Engel was vice president of the museum and president of the Camera Club, and Mrs. Engel did interior decorating. She also sews and makes all of Scotty's clothes and many of her own.

"I've always had a hobby," she says, "I just like to have something to do to keep me busy all the time."

After leaving Evansville, Mrs Engel stayed in California for a time while Engel was in South America. While there, she had several opportunities to put Scotty in the movies, but decided against it, wanting him to grow up normally.

So, believing in hobbies, the Engels practice their belief and the results show clearly their interest and work.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Keeter are at home in McCamey after their recent marriage in Fort Worth. Mrs. Keeter is the former Dorothy St. John, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. St. John of Fort Worth, and Keeter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keeter.

Furniture Stores Sponsor 'Home Fashion Time' Here

Sponsored by Midland furniture dealers, the observance of Home Fashion Time will open here Monday, continuing through October 3, spokesmen announced Saturday.

They said this is the time when retail furniture stores will put their best furniture forward to demonstrate the latest fashions in home furnishings. Already, leading stores of Midland have announced elaborate plans for outstanding window and floor displays and special events to show the public how to "Enjoy Living at Home"—the slogan of Hom Fashion Time. A gala occassion is planned.

Home Building Boom

With Midland and the Permian Basin Empire now in the greatest home building boom in history, and with home-makers showing as much interest in furniture as they do in apparel fashions, Home Fashion Time has been arranged to familiarize the public with furnishings in keeping with modern construction.

Everything in the home furnishings field will be featured.

On display in attractive room settings will be all kinds of furniture—contemporary, 18th Century, Early American, French Provincial, juvenile, chrome, and outdoor—along with lamps, floor coverings, appliances, pictures and other accessories.

Midland furniture stores invite West Texans to make Home Fashion Time the time to be brought up to date on the latest in home furnishings! Firms will welcome the opportunity of discussing furniture and furniture needs with Midland and area residents during the special observance.

If you want to establish good eating habits make sure that you have a well-balanced lunch every day. Soup made with milk, sandwiches of meat or fish, a vegetable or a salad and a fruit dessert makes one of the most nutritious mid-day meals.

Barbecue Entertains Employes, Families

A chicken barbecue in the backyard of the W. T. Taylor home, 704 North Main Street, entertained employes of the S&Q Clothiers and their families Thursday night.

Present for the informal supper were Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Reaves, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Gouchie, and children; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Autry, Mrs. Lou Wolfe, Neva Smith and John Fielder.

The United States flag had 13 stripes from May 1, until April 1, 1918.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Boy Trouble

This story happened long ago. Mugwump Monkey had first come to live at Daddy Ringtail's monkey house. Everyone got into his own bed at bedtime.

They talked a bit and laughed a bit about all the happy things there are, and then they went to sleep.

Everyone was tired and sleepy. Everyone did a fine job of sleeping until way in the middle of the night. Mugwump then fell out of bed. "Kerchuck" was the noise he made when he hit the floor.

Daddy Ringtail heard the noise. He knew what the noise was. He didn't know who had made the noise, because he didn't know who had fallen out of bed. He crawled out of his own good bed to see.

"Oh, Mugwump, it's you," Daddy Ringtail said when he saw who it was.

"Sure," said Mugwump, and he sat up on the floor and laughed.

"What are you going to do with me?" he wanted to know.

Daddy Ringtail "shushed" for Mugwump to be quiet and not to wake up the other folks. Then Daddy Ringtail picked up Mugwump and put him back in the bed. After that, Daddy Ringtail went back to his own bed, and soon he was fast asleep, almost before you could say "Kerchunck."

That is the noise that woke him up again. Again he ran to the boys' room, and there again on the floor was Mugwump who had fallen on thef loor again with some more on the floor again with some more wump had done it for fun this time, all for the fun of Daddy Ringtail picking him up again.

Daddy Ringtail did it, but only after a saying of "Ummm; ummm-ummm'" in a serious voice. "Mugwump," Daddy Ringtail said, "what does your father say when you fall out of bed like this?"

Mugwump smiled and said: "My father tells me to get up and go back to bed before he gets hold of me."

Well, Mugwump didn't want Daddy Ringtail to have to say that, and Daddy Ringtail didn't want to have to say it, and so Mugwump got back in bed and went to sleep and didn't fall out any more.

And what do you think of that? Boys are a lot of trouble, of course, but they are a lot of fun to have. Happy day!

Abandoned Village Is Found In Florida's Everglades Area

FORT LAUDERDALE, FLA. —(AP)—An abandoned village with human bones strewn around has been found deep in the Everglades.

Three men from nearby Davie —Hully Stirling, William Hill and L. P. Harvey—made their way to the ghost village and brought back a report of their find, the Fort Lauderdale Daily News said.

The village, located on a high hummock, once contained about a dozen buildings, including a sugar mill, the men reported.

Bones of humans and animals, broken canoes, bits of pottery, copper caldrons, and "every conceivable kind of debris" were scattered among the rotting buildings, they added.

Stirling, a wartime pilot, first sighted the village from the air. The trio then went as far as possible toward the spot in a flat-bottomed boat equipped with an airplane propeller to skim over the shallow water. Then they hacked their way through thick foliage and jungle growth.

Stirling said the site is about 10 miles from the intersection of U. S. Highway 27 and State Road 84 and 30 miles west of Fort Lauderdale.

They hope to find out what happened to the people who built the village and inhabited it for some time before disaster overtook them.

Judge In Communist Trial Gives Up His Simple Pleasures

WESTHAMPTON, N. Y.—(NEA)—Life for Judge Harold R. Medina is fine. His wife has turned their home into a hotel room for him, and everybody is happy.

When Medina drew down the assignment to sit as judge during the trial of 11 Communist leaders in New York, an associate advised him to move into a hotel room for the duration. "Your own worst enemy," Circuit Court Judge Learned Hand said, "will be your family."

"I made up my mind to try to turn this place into a hotel room," said gray-haired, charming Mrs. Medina at their Summer home here. She became the judge's protector and buffer, insulating him and her own household from friends, social activities and, at times, even family.

Life Is Changed

"The judge's life has been completely revolutionized," a close friend remarked. "From a sociable guy who likes cocktails and theater parties, he has been virtually turned into a recluse, isolated from the world."

Since the trial began last January, the Medinas neither gave nor attended a party. They didn't see a single movie or play. They sold their season opera seats. And they didn't even go to Sunday worship except when "we broke training to attend Easter service," Mrs. Medina says.

"The children (sons, Harold and Standish, and their wives) came over for cocktails," she added, "but we didn't ask them for dinner.

"After his terrific concentration on the trial all week, the mere sustained effort of conversation fatiged Harold. He simply could not spare his energy talking to people."

Drives To Court

During trial days, the judge lived at the Medina's midtown Manhattan apartment. Each morning he drove down to the courthouse, arriving before nine. This gave him an hour and a half to review the testimony of the day before.

After the 4:30 recess, he worked out in a nearby gym, bought newspapers and headed straight home where Harvey Lo, his Chinese houseman, with the family 21 years, was preparing dinner.

The judge never passed up his two pre-dinner cocktails—Martinis which he prepares with great ceremony. In recent years, says Mrs. Medina, the vermouth content has grown slimmer and slimmer until now "there's only a suspicion of vermouth" mixed with the lemon peel and gin.

Troopers Go Along

After some post-dinner reading and a phone call to her in Westhampton, he invariably went to bed by 9:30. Weekends he drove his own convertible out to the Summer home, accompanied by state troopers. But the same early curfew held true.

Each room in the judge's house has a rocking chair, a fact which explains his courtroom habit of rocking back and forth while on the bench. He's just a natural-born rocker, says Mrs. Medina.

One of his few weekend diversions here was shooting rabbits, which devastated the gardens. For the purpose of year-to-year comparisons, he keeps a daily tally. "Harold's middle name is 'System'," his wife observed.

She's worried about the judge's health and feels he clearly shows the strain of the trial. "Holding himself in, as Harold has been doing all these months, is worse than anything else," she said. "It's the worst strain of all."

Firms Observing First Anniversary

The Key Investment Company and Key and Wilson Insurance Agency, 112 West Wall Street, are observing their first anniversary this month.

The firms moved into new and modern headquarters last February and increased office personnel from three to 10 persons.

James C. Wilson is vice president of the Key Investment Company and manager of the auto finance department and the Key and Wilson Insurance Agency.

O. R. Clendenen is secretary-treasurer of the Key Investment Company and manager of the mortgage loan department.

For a vegetable plate supper serve corn pudding, broiled tomatoes, spinach vinaigrette and snap beans or broccoli. A supper menu such as this usually calls for a hearty dessert such as gingerbread and applesauce.

Baptist Revival Slated At Pecos

PECOS—Dr. W. Hershel Ford, pastor of the First Baptist Church of El Paso, will lead the Pecos First Baptist Church in an eight-day meeting, beginning October 16 and continuing through October 23, the Rev. Wilburn Turner, pastor, announced.

Dr. Ford was born in Monroe, Ga., and moved to Atlanta in early boyhood. He is a graduate of Wake Forest College of North Carolina and of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth. The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was bestowed upon him by Carson-Newman College in Tennessee. He had held pastorates in Tennessee, Florida and Georgia before going to El Paso.

Slim Hope Held For Texas Legislature To Escape New Tax Bill Next Year

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers' hope that the January session of the Legislature can get by without passing a new tax bill is admittedly a slim one.

Shivers told a Houston audience recently he had such hope. Later, through Weldon Hart, his press secretary, he added it was just a hope and he didn't think it would be realized.

The governor had based his statement on indications that state revenues were coming in a little faster than had been anticipated.

There has been an increase, all right, but the increase is still behind the estimates of Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, who necessarily must be conservative.

Increased production of crude oil would help. There have been two slight jumps in allowable production, which will boost crude oil tax revenues, but neither will make much dent in the deficit.

What the Legislature must do first is provide operating money for state hospitals and special schools. When the 51st Legislature overspent by 17 and a half million dollars, the late Gov. Beauford H. Jester vetoed second year appropriations for eleemosynary institutions to balance the budget.

If the insane and orphans and other wards of the state are going to have something to eat and to wear, and if the doctors and other attendents are going to be paid after Sept. 1, 1950, the Legislature has to provide funds amounting to something in the vicinity of 17 million dollars.

If there are going to be any substantial improvements in how Texas treats its insane, it will take more money than that.

Most legislators can't see how they can avoid a new tax if income continues at or around the present level, and even if present low standards of maintenance for wards of the state are maintained.

And that doesn't take into account building needs, which have been estimated at anywhere from 21 to 35 million dollars. Several plans are cooking to raise that money if possible without a new tax. Also, Shivers has asked the new State Hospital Board to take another careful look at its budget to see if it can't trim some items of operating expense.

Hard To Erase

He missed it less than 3 per cent in the fiscal year 1949. If his guess for 1950 is as good, that 3 per cent would still be far short of the 17 million needed for the general revenue fund.

Calvert had estimated income at $102,934,871. The state actually took in $105,815,980. The variation in all those millions of dollars was exactly 2.8 per cent.

Crane News

CRANE—E. R. Avent was transported to a Dallas hospital recently in the Fort Stockton ambulance plane. His leg was injured in an oil field accident.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Batson are the parents of a daughter born September 19. The baby weighed seven pounds, one ounce.

Mrs. H. O. True has returned to her home in the Phillips camp after being hospitalized for several days.

Dr. Jack C. Ramsay, Jr., has accepted a call to the First Presbyterian Church of Crane and plans to move here October 1.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Jewell spent last week visiting their son, Vernon, in Abilene. Another son, Marvin, accompanied them.
