High Court Sets Districting Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court plunges deeply today into the thicket of state legislative and congressional apportionments. The tribunal has scheduled arguments in eight appeals that will be debated for more than 17 hours through this week's court sessions and winding up early next week. The central theme in the cases is the allegation that metropolitan area voters are discriminated against by divisions favorng rural areas. Out of the group of cases is expected to come an understanding of what is necessary under the Constitution to provide fair representation to all citizens. DISTRICTING Appeals to be heard this week, in this order, are from New York, Alabama (three cases), Maryland and Virginia. They involve legislative districting. Next week cases involving congressional apportionment in Georgia and New York will be heard. Still another legislative districting case, from Delaware, will be argued Dec. 9.

BRAZIL OPPOSITION

Progress Alliance Action Proposed

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—The Inter-American Economic and Social Council begins work today on proposals to spur the Alliance for Progress into more effective action despite opposition from Brazil. President Joao Goulart of Brazil, in a speech Monday opening the 20-nation ministerial conference, continued to show coolness toward President Kennedy's multibillion-dollar aid program. Goulart suggested that Latin American countries could solve their economic problems by themselves through a united front. He bore down on the perennial Latin American argument that the high cost of industrial imports and low prices for the continent's raw materials exports was a major cause of the area's financial troubles. The Brazilian president referred only once to the Alliance for Progress. He said only that it had to be improved. Goulart did not refer to the United States as the chief supplier of aid to Latin America, including to his own country, nor to foreign investment as a factor in Latin-American development. However, Brazilian Finance Minister Carlos Alberto Carval Pinto in a speech accepting the presidency of the conference, said a joint effort by all the countries—"including those who can give and those who can only receive"—is necessary. Some Latin-American delegates believed Goulart's speech was aimed primarily for home consumption, with an eye particularly on leftist labor unions that are among the president's chief backers. The conference, the second annual ministerial meeting of American countries since the Alliance for Progress was launched in 1961, has two key proposals before it. One would create a seven-nation "Inter-American Committee for the Alliance for Progress" to act as the clearing house for alliance projects. Another would set up a special committee including the United States to formulate policies for advancing Latin-American economies in coming negotiations at Geneva on world trade and development.

Rice, Cotton

Voting Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's rice growers will join cotton farmers in voting Dec. 10 on continuance of federal marketing quotas on next year's crops. The Agriculture Department announced the rice referendum Monday and set planting allotments at 1,818,166 acres, the same as this year. Referenda on upland and extra long staple cotton were announced several weeks ago. Quotas must be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting. Department officials expect quotas to carry by sizeable margins. Despite increasing exports, this year's rice crop will add to surpluses. At the beginning of the 1963 crop marketing year Oct. 1, reserve and surplus supplies of rice totaled 7.7 million hundredweight.

Few Reports Trickle In For United Fund Drive

A few reports from the big gifts and special gifts divisions trickled in Tuesday, raising the level of the United Fund slightly. This was enough, however, to put it past the $97,000 mark, or $97,168.15 to be precise. Once more Jack Y. Smith begged division leaders and workers to make every human effort to work their cards today and Wednesday, and to check them back in Thursday morning at the latest. The official campaign closing has been scheduled for Friday, and the campaign organization has to know which cards have been worked and which have not. Time is short and the $104,800 goal is still a considerable distance away.

Go-Betweens Seeking U.N. Tension Ease

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A go-between mission of smaller nations sought today to avert a U.S.-Soviet break over a Russian proposal for changes in the disarmament resolution before the U.N. General Assembly. The eight-nation team was scheduled to brief U.S. delegates today on the results of a 90-minute huddle Monday with Soviet Ambassador K. V. Nottikov. Nigerian Ambassador S. O. Adebayo, head of the group named by the 46 nations sponsoring the general disarmament resolution, said he hoped to find out whether there was any chance of the two big powers getting together.

UNANIMOUS The 46 sponsors had hoped for unanimous approval of their proposal calling on the Geneva Disarmament Committee to step up efforts toward agreement in limited areas as well as on complete and general disarmament. The sponsors had expected to reach a vote last week after the United States and Britain signified approval. But the Russians circulated a working paper among delegations Friday suggesting (1) elimination of any call for specific measures such as guarding against surprise attack and (2) omission of a provision that the Geneva talks would be based on a set of principles the United States and the Soviet Union agreed on two years ago.

BROADENED The Russians also proposed that the mandate of the Geneva commission be broadened to permit discussion of international tensions, and opening the negotiations to political issues. With the United States and Britain opposed to such changes, the assembly's main political committee suspended its debate on general disarmament to permit private negotiations and switched to consideration of a proposal for a nuclear-free zone in Latin America.

POPULATION The brief was signed by Solicitor General Archibald Cox, who will present the department's views during the arguments this week and next. The brief said any deviation from a population standard is unconstitutional unless the differentiation has a relevant and substantial justification. It added that the high court need not decide now what would be a substantial justification. The appeal to be argued today was filed by radio station WMCA of New York City. WMCA contends legislative apportionment of New York state systematically discriminates against urban voters. The station advocated that apportionment of both houses of the legislature be based on population.

Gas Pricing Review Called

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review a decision striking down Federal Power Commission regulations prohibiting certain price-changing provisions in independent gas producer contracts. The decision was given by the U.S. Circuit Court in Denver in a case affecting Texaco and Pan American Petroleum Corp. It was appealed by the commission and Pan American.

The commission under its rule-making power generally banned price-changing provisions such as those known as spiral escalation clauses and unlimited price-redetermination. The circuit court ruled the commission may establish and carry out its policies in that area only by case-to-case adjudication. "If allowed to stand," the commission appeal said, "the decision would virtually emasculate the commission's power to use its rule-making authority for formulation of general legal and policy standards. "It would require the commission to deal on an individual basis, in literally hundreds of separate rate proceedings, with problems which are industry wide in character and show little, if any, variation from case to case." While the appeal was pending, the U.S. Circuit Court in San Francisco in a case affecting Superior Oil Co. upheld the commission's authority. The commission then urged the Supreme Court to settle the conflict between the circuits. The Supreme Court took only the appeal by the Federal Power Commission. It took no action today on a separate appeal by Pan American.

Three Persons Die In Explosion

BEAUMONT (AP)—A gas explosion and fire killed three members of a family here today. They were Mr. and Mrs. Knobbie Lee Savoy and their son, Donald Ray Fontenot, 3. Firemen said the three apparently were asleep in the back room of their house in the 2500 block of Pine St. when the house exploded.

TEXAS PROMOTER BILLIE SOL ESTES AT SENATE Long-delayed hearing resumes on former financial wizard

Billie Sol Estes Mum To Questions From Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas promoter Billie Sol Estes refused today to answer questions about his dealings with government officials under federal farm programs. The Senate investigation subcommittee, after questioning Estes for an hour behind closed doors, announced he had invoked the Fifth Amendment, pleading that answers to the questions might tend to incriminate him. Estes, from Pecos, Tex., is appealing from conviction in both state and federal courts on fraud charges. His quickly made fortune, based on liquid fertilizer sales and cotton acreage deals, has collapsed in bankruptcy. PUBLIC HEARING The subcommittee ordered a brief recess, before calling Estes back for questioning in a public hearing. Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and subcommittee aides said Estes refused to answer questions including whether Estes had given gifts or gratuities to anyone in the government in connection with some profitable cotton acreage planting allotments that the Agriculture Department claims were illegal. As the closed hearing began Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said he did not believe even Estes' own lawyers knew whether he would talk. SUBJECTS The senators have stuck close to the subjects of Estes' dealings under government farm programs and clothing gifts to officials. It has steered clear of the matter of Estes' huge discount sales of liquid fertilizer, involved in Texas court actions. Estes maintained stony-faced silence as he and a Texas lawyer entered the hearing room. Blinking through dark heavy-rimmed glasses, Estes gave no indication that he even heard reporters who asked whether he would answer questions. "We have no comment," said Estes' companion. The promoter wore a dark suit and white shirt and a rhinestone stickpin sparkled in his necktie. PLAY BY EAR McClellan said developments in the closed session would determine when the hearings will be open to the public. "I have to play everything by ear because I am getting no cooperation from them," the senator said. He explained he wants to close the books on the long and often stormy investigation in which Estes himself never appeared before the inquiry was recessed last year. The long halt was ordered to await the outcome of federal and state trials in which Estes subsequently was convicted of fraud. Estes is appealing both convictions. "Estes ought to be given the opportunity to talk," McClellan said. "If he won't take advantage of the opportunity, he should be asked a few questions at least." The hearings have been dormant since Sept. 22, 1962, when McClellan recessed them to avoid prejudicing Estes' trials in Texas on fraud charges, of which he was found guilty. MORTGAGES The charges dealt with the alleged juggling of mortgages on non-existent fertilizer storage tanks, a subject the subcommittee avoided in its hearings. It dwelt, instead, on allegations that influence had helped the once politically potent Estes to reap large profits from federal farm aid programs. Primary focus was on his acquisition of an additional 3,000 acres of valuable cotton acreage planting allotments in complex land purchases and lease deals the Agriculture Department subsequently called illegal. Estes insisted they were within the law. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, Undersecretary Charles S. Murphy and other top Agriculture Department officials have sworn Estes never got a dime out of their agency through political influence. They acknowledged they had made errors in their own investigations of what Estes was doing, however. N. Battle Hales, an Agriculture Department employee, swore that he believed Estes got favored treatment. Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., and several other Congress members questioned, among other things, why top department officials overrode subordinates' warnings and appointed Estes to the National Cotton Advisory Committee, which gave him entry and a good listening post in the agency. Freeman testified "it was a mistake."

Expert On Soviet Held At Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians announced today the arrest of Prof. Fred C. Barghoorn of Yale University on a charge of spying—the first such case involving an American since the recent cold war thaw. The U.S. Embassy got the news from the Foreign Office, which refused to give any information on where he is being held. The embassy was pressing for details of the charge against him. EMBASSY STAFF The author of several books on the Soviet Union, the 52-year-old professor formerly was on the staff of the U.S. Embassy in Moscow. He arrived in the Soviet Union about Oct. 1 on a month's tourist visa. The Foreign Ministry said he was arrested several days ago. (In Washington the State Department said it had no report on Barghoorn from the embassy in Moscow. (There was no formal comment immediately but one official expressed some surprise that Barghoorn had obtained a Soviet visa in view of his critical assessments of that country.) Barghoorn went to Alma Ata, capital of the Central Asian republic of Kazakhstan at the time of an exhibition of American graphic arts there early in October. SEEN OCT. 12 An embassy official said he last saw Barghoorn Oct. 12 at Tbilisi (Tiflis), capital of the Georgian republic. That is the last time he was reported seen by any Westerner. If the charge follows the usual pattern in cases of foreign tourists accused of espionage, a camera might have gotten Barghoorn in trouble. The usual charge is photographing military installations, and in the Soviet Union that can mean almost anything, such as a bridge. Barghoorn is a resident of New Haven, Conn. He is a brother of Prof. Elso Sterrenberg Barghoorn, a Harvard biologist. POLITICAL SCIENCE He is a professor in the Political Science Department at Yale. He was on the staff of the American Embassy in Moscow from 1942 to 1947, with the State Department in Germany from 1949 to 1951, and has been a lecturer at several universities. In New Haven, Conn., his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Barghoorn, said the professor always was careful on trips behind the Iron Curtain and never carried a camera. "They have it in for him on account of his books," she said. "The books have been very critical." She also thought it possible his arrest was retaliation for arrests of Russians in the United States.

Football Bus Sale Begins

Tickets for chartered buses to Abilene Friday evening for the Big Spring - Abilene football game went on sale Tuesday morning on a first-come, first-served basis. Price of the roundtrip ticket is $3.75. The buses will accommodate between 40 and 50 passengers and will deliver passengers to the stadium gate. Seat receipts may be purchased at the Big Spring Herald, Big Spring Senior High School, Runnels and Goliad Junior High Schools, or at the Continental Trailways terminal in the 300 block of Runnels. The receipts are numbered and will bear the purchaser's name. Fans are urged to make their reservations as promptly as possible because only about 400 seats will be available.

Hoffa Defeated In Court Round

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa, Teamsters' Union president, today lost in an effort to have the Supreme Court block his trial in Nashville, Tenn., on jury tampering charges. The high tribunal rejected a petition by Hoffa asking review of his unsuccessful moves to have the trial transferred to a U.S. District Court other than the one in Nashville.

Home Begins Industry Modernization Quest

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home's new Conservative government embarked today on a crucial struggle for victory in next year's general election with a call for modernization of British industry to get the full productive benefits of the age of automation. The government, in Queen Elizabeth's speech from the throne opening the new session of Parliament, also announced plans for sweeping improvements in social services. The speech, written by Sir Alec's Cabinet, promised to strive for world peace and "to support the freedom of West Berlin." JOINT SESSION The queen's speech was read to a joint session of the House of Lords and the House of Commons by the lord chancellor, Lord Dilhorne. The queen has canceled public appearances because she is expecting her fourth child. As Parliament reopened, political expectancy was higher than at any time since the 1959 general election. A classic contest seemed in the making between Douglas-Home, a 60-year-old Scottish aristocrat who shed an earldom to succeed Harold Macmillan, and the Labor party's rapier-tongued, 47-year-old leader, Harold Wilson. Recent special elections and public opinion polls indicate strongly that if national elections were held today, the Conservatives would suffer a humiliating defeat and Britain would have a Labor government for the first time since 1954. LAVISH PROGRAM Douglas-Home is relying on a lavish program of housing and educational expansion and industrial reform to reverse the anti-Conservative trend Wilson contends the government can't raise the money to make good on its promises. In advance of the throne speech, Education Minister Sir Edward Boyle Monday night announced a four-year expanded program of school construction costing 80 million pounds ($224 million) a year. Boyle said building levels would be increased a third to handle Britain's growing primary and secondary school population and replace worn-out buildings. He said 24 million pounds ($67 million) would be set aside in 1965-66 for technical and industrial schools, and 4 million pounds ($11.2 million) for schools for handicapped children.

New Books To Be Picked In Economics

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas public school boards will have a chance to pick new high school economics textbooks in 1964 for the first time in seven years.

Three new choices were approved Monday by the State Board of Education after two persons protested one of the books was "full of subtle subversion" and portrayed "a nice picture of socialism."

The board failed to adopt any economics texts last year to replace those in use during 1957-63. As a result economics students relied on old or supplemental books this year.

FRESH MATERIAL

The board also shortened the usual six-year contract period to assure continuing fresh material in economics, geography and chemistry texts. Contracts for texts in these subjects were authorized two years ago.

Local boards must appoint five to 15 teachers to local textbook selection committees by Dec. 15 to make local choices by March 1, 1964.

State board chairman W. W. Jackson of San Antonio broke a 9-9 tie vote to reject repeated protests that "Economics for Our Times," one of the three economics volumes recommended by the State Textbook Committee, favors socialism. Three other economics texts had been eliminated by the textbook committee after earlier protests.

DISSERVICE

Board member R. W. Bryan of Austin said approval of the contested book would be a disservice to Texas school children, while board member Ray Holbrook of Texas City said the book is the most stimulating of the three.

Holbrook said the book was the target of "a concentrated campaign of vilification" by extremists.

The board approved an increase in the per capita apportionment from $76 to $77.50. The increase means an additional $3.7 million to public schools from the available school fund.

Oilman Hits U.S. Research Projects

CHICAGO (AP)—An oil executive said today the federal government is spending too much money on research projects that should be financed by private industry.

Harry Ferguson of Houston, said federal agencies are paying for and controlling more than 60 per cent of all research being done in industrial laboratories.

"The apparent aim is to use research, or at least research spending, to assist backward industries and alleviate unemployment in depressed areas," said the executive vice president of the Humble Oil & Refining Co.

UNFAIR SUPPORT

"The danger here is, by design or not, there will be unwarranted and unfair support of some sectors of the economy at the expense of others."

In a speech to the refining section of the American Petroleum Institute, Ferguson questioned the justification of some projects he said federal agencies are sponsoring for the coal industry.

He said petroleum research this year will total $300 million, compared to $20 million for coal.

"One-half of the amount for coal will be government financed," he said. "In contrast, less than 10 per cent of the research in our own industry will be from federal funds."

PILOT PLANT

Ferguson said the objective of one federal pilot plant in West Virginia is to produce gasoline from coal at a cost of 13 cents a gallon.

"This is a price I am sure all of us would be happy to receive for our product at the refinery in these intensely competitive times," he said.

A Chicago utility executive told the oilmen nuclear power costs have been reduced about 50 per cent since 1955.

Murray Jostin, a vice president of the Commonwealth Edison Co., did not forecast spectacular gains but indicated the petroleum industry must expect increased competition from nuclear power.

"Utility companies on the West Coast and in the New England area are proceeding with large scale nuclear plants on the assumption nuclear power will be competitive in these areas where fossil fuel costs are higher," he said.

East dutifully responded with five clubs and South, who felt he had not yet given his all, persisted to five hearts. West had already done his duty, and passed this bid around to his partner. East chose to double for penalties, inasmuch as he had some high card strength and his relative shortness in West's suits indicated that the latter's values would not be entirely duplicated.

West was anxious to obtain a spade ruff but, in order to do so, he must at one and the same time put East in the lead and communicate to partner that he had a void. He decided to play East for the king of clubs, and therefore chose the eight of clubs for his opening lead.

When East's king of clubs held the first trick, he realized that his partner, by underleading the ace, was desperately trying to communicate some message. It did not take him very long to determine that West must be void in spades, for East had his own and dummy's length in the suit to support the inference to be made from the opening lead. A spade was returned for West to ruff, and the latter quickly produced his ace of clubs to score the setting trick.

Had West led the king of diamonds originally, South would have ruffed in his hand, drawn trump and discarded a club on dummy's fourth spade to score an overtrick. Even with the ace of clubs lead and a club continuation, East would be put to a very tough test in deciding whether to try for a spade ruff or attempt to cash the ace of diamonds. If he makes the wrong choice, South will easily run off with the balance of the tricks.

The unusual no trump is one of the more colorful conventions to be devised in recent years. It provides that, where a player has made a no trump overall that cannot possibly have a natural meaning, the no trump bid is to be construed as a take-out double for the minor suits. Partner is expected to respond in either diamonds or clubs for, if the no trump bidder wished to hear a major suit, he would have made a take-out double.

When South opened the bidding with four hearts in the third position, it was West's desire to compete in one of the minor suits, but he wasn't certain which one, so he bid four no trump in order to solicit his partner's opinion. The four no trump bid could hardly be Blackwood after South's opening bid and, since West has bypassed spades to make his call, it is clear that he has both clubs and diamonds and wishes East to take his choice.

From The Bible

After stating that "the Bible is the only safe and sure guide," the leaflet continues: "From this Book — and not from church councils or man-made creeds — Baptists have formulated their beliefs."

Does this mean that Baptists no longer hold to either the "New Hampshire Confession" or the "Philadelphia Confession of Faith," and no longer write or adopt "Church Covenants" (which are in effect congregational creeds)?

Some other churches also claim to follow the Bible and the Bible alone. Yet they differ from the Baptist, and from one another. It is obvious that all cannot be following the Scriptures, for "God is not the author of confusion, but of peace" (1 Cor. 14:33).

It is up to any of us who claim to follow the Bible to substantiate that claim (1 Pet. 3:15). Just as Christ and the apostles were, so we should be willing to discuss our differences with others in the light of Scripture.

Red Tape Snafus U. S. Help For Peru's Poor

LIMA, Peru (AP)—The United States seems to have missed a good chance to help the poorest people of Peru because of red tape, plus what South Americans consider an overdeveloped "banker mentality" in Washington.

The $10-million incident is small by comparison with overall U.S. assistance to Peru, which in the past two years has amounted to about $150 million with more to come. But it is important because the new government of President Fernando Belaunde Terry seems determined to move fast on reform and development programs.

ALSO MOVE

The question is whether the United States can move fast also.

A few weeks ago Belaunde asked the United States for a pick and shovel loan of $10 millions of Indian peasants in the simple hand tools for the millions of Indian peasants in the mountainous interior of the country. He laid out a plan to set up 144 tool lending centers—one in each county seat.

Everyone agrees these simple tools are the things the Indians need most—to dig ditches for water supply, to build roads, to cultivate the land. Most have only primitive wooden digging sticks and short-handled wooden hoes.

MODERN LIFE

U.S. officials here hope Belaunde's goal of raising the living standards of the Indians and integrating them into modern economic life can be realized. The Indians, about half Peru's 10 million population, are illiterate and poverty-stricken.

Belaunde first put his proposal before U.S. aid agency officials. They pointed out that the United States already had approved a limited roadbuilding plan, including a supply of bulldozers and similar heavy machinery, which would serve as a pilot project for an expanded program.

It takes an average of about two years to get approval for a new proposal, and Belaunde was asked to wait and see how the pilot project worked out.

U. S. Tries To Halt 'Bama Grand Jury

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — The Justice Department has notified Dallas County it will seek to block a grand jury investigation into the department's role in furnishing transportation for a Negro integration leader.

The notice, given Monday night in a telegram signed by Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall, drew angry reaction.

Cubs Hike To Camp Grounds

Twenty Cub Scouts of Pack 48 and fathers of 10 of the boys hiked Saturday from the American Legion Hut to the Camporee grounds south of town. A dinner of hot dogs and hot chocolate, the latter donated to the Cubs by Gandy's Creamery, was served at the grounds.

A ghost story program followed the dinner. Participants included Sam Robertson, Cubmaster; Brooks Hogg, Pat Wheeler and David Roberson.

Marshmallows were toasted at fireside, and there was singing.

Awards to winners of a recent candy sale were presented: Mark McCrary, crystal radio set; Sammy Robertson, a flashlight; Mark Sweeney, a knife; Danny Wood, a bracelet; and Gerald Hedricks, a pocket flashlight.

The Pack sold 144 cans of candy in less than two weeks.

Sheriff James Clark termed the action "a bald attempt by the Justice Department to prevent the Dallas County grand jury from making the investigation."

Clark and Gov. George Wallace set off the inquiry here—and a similar one in Montgomery County — with charges that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was driven from Birmingham to Selma for an integration rally Oct. 15 in a car rented by the Justice Department.

The department twice denied the incident before admitting it was true. A Negro lawyer involved resigned from the department.

Marshall's telegram said the department would seek a temporary restraining order against the Dallas County officials in a Mobile federal court today.

A Justice Department spokesman in Washington said an attempt would be made to clarify a state court's right to harass a federal officer in a non-criminal case. He said a principle

Perjury Trial To Begin For Six Integrationists

MACON, Ga. (AP)—Federal prosecution of perjury charges against six integrationists goes into the courtroom today with trial of a New York white woman.

Indicted by a federal grand jury, Joni Rabinowitz, 22, of

New Rochelle, N.Y., is charged with giving false testimony about the boycotting of a white grocer by Negroes in Albany, Ga.

Her attorneys, led by her father, Victor Rabinowitz of New Rochelle, seek FBI files on the investigation.

Argument was set for a government motion to void a defense counsel subpoena served more than a week ago on FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Presiding at the jury trial is U.S. Dist. Judge W. A. Boodle of Macon.

Miss Rabinowitz and five Albany Negro leaders were indicted Aug. 9 on perjury charges. The Macon grand jury also indicted three other integrationists on charges of conspiring to obstruct justice.

The indictments followed grand jury investigation of Negro demonstrations and boycotting of an Albany grocer, Carl Smith, after Smith served on a federal jury which returned a verdict against a Negro in a civil rights damage suit.

Smith said his business was ruined and he sold out after the April boycott and picketing of his store.

Indicted with Miss Rabinowitz on perjury charges were Slater H. King, head of the integrationist Albany Movement; Elza L. Jackson, the recording secretary; and Thomas C. Chatman, Robert Thomas and the Rev. Samuel B. Wells.

All are scheduled for trial at the court session.

In addition to these charges, the grand jury indicted Dr. W. G. Anderson, Luther Woodall Jr. and Robert William Colbert on charges of conspiring to obstruct justice. All are Negroes.

Anderson, former head of the Albany movement and now a Detroit resident, stood trial last month. A mistrial resulted. Colbert, now living in New York State, pleaded guilty and got a probationary sentence. Woodall has not been tried.

started to move, then dropped out of sight." Before they have the hole filled the Bakers have asked a historical museum to investigate what looks like the top "of an old Indian or Spanish well." (AP WIREPHOTO)

Long Strike Ends At Atomic Plants

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—The longest strike in Oak Ridge labor history has ended at two atomic plants operated here for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Strikers at the facilities began returning to their jobs with the Union Carbide Nuclear Co Monday night after voting to accept a 3-per cent wage increase and end a 28-day walkout.

In addition to pay boosts averaging 7 to 10 cents an hour, the strikers, represented by the Atomic Trades and Labor Council, won premium pay for weekend shifts.

The workers will get an additional 15 cents an hour for Saturday work and 25 cents extra for Sunday.

Another clause in the new 18-month contract calls for the company and the council to share the costs of a new hospitalization and medical program.

Hourly wages under the old agreement ranged from $2.42 for laborers to $3.41 for skilled technicians.

The deadlock, which began just after midnight, Oct. 15, was marked by marathon bargaining sessions, supervised by Federal Mediator E. F. Hitchcock.

The union originally sought a 28-cent hourly hike, then scaled its demand down to 22 cents.

The company stuck close to its original offer of 7 cents through out the strike.

Trustees To Receive Audit

Results of an audit of books for the 1962-63 school year will be presented to trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District at a meeting set for 7:30 p.m. today at the administrative building, 100 E. 10th.

George Thorburn, certified public accountant, is handling the audit this year for the district. Also included in the report will be closing out of records of the Gay Hill and Center Point Common School Districts, which were annexed to the local district.

Atmar Atkinson, architect, will visit with board members for consultation on planning of school facilities. This subject is scheduled for discussion, but no action is expected to be taken, according to S. M. Anderson, superintendent.

Trustees will discuss collection of delinquent taxes with John Burgess, attorney for the district in these matters.

If time permits, trustees will be asked to further clarify the board policy on use of school facilities. Since the policy was accepted a few months ago, several requests have required special attention by the board.

Other business includes hiring new employees, tax collector's report and miscellaneous business items and reports.

A Devotional For The Day

Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Isaiah 9:6.)

PRAYER: Our gracious Lord, we pray that the time may be drawing near when we shall lift up our eyes and see the messenger bringing good tidings of peace. The world is weary of living under an armed truce. Help us individually to live in a Christlike manner so that peace may prevail among men. In Jesus' name. Amen.

How About Something To Shut It Off?

One far from rare source of irritation when driving is the sight of the car ahead tooting along block after block—or mile after mile on the highway—with its turn signal blinking. This is not merely irritating, it is also dangerous because it adds a further element of uncertainty to the already uncertain business of hustling a couple of tons of steel along in traffic.

The experience of seeing the driver ahead forget to switch off a turn signal—or of finding that one has forgotten to do this—is common. So common that it prompts the question why automobile manufacturers do not correct the mechanical flaw that is a contributing factor in this safety hazard.

A tiny dashboard light flashes, in most cars, when the turn signal is in operation. In most cars, a ticking sound goes with the flashing light. But the combination fails, all too often, to capture the driver's attention. It would not be much of an engineering feat to devise a better system. Detroit ought to get at it. And while they're at it, how about something which will prevent switching headlights to bright inside cities.

Phony Forensics

Congressmen have solemnly debated for the third time this year the question of raising the national debt ceiling. The House by a vote of 197-172 has approved and sent to the Senate a bill raising the debt ceiling to $315 billion.

In May the roof was raised to $309 billion until Aug. 31. Then in August that ceiling was continued until the end of November, when it would revert to $285 billion. The new extension would lift the ceiling to $315 billion until next June 23 and then drop it to $309 billion until next July 1.

Of all the barren exercises in legislative futility, few can compare with the recurring argument over the debt ceiling. The remarks and the vote are carefully husbanded for use in the next elections. Self-satisfied congressmen then move on to other matters.

It never seems to occur to most congressmen that even the less literate voter can see through this transparent exercise. Not many voters, for instance, are so blind as to overlook the power and responsibility of the House of Representatives to initiate all bills for raising revenues. It is silly to think that only an administration is guilty of fiscal irresponsibility when the purse strings are held firmly by Congress.

If it wishes, Congress can raise old taxes and levy new ones and earmark revenues toward retirement of the national debt. Or it can cut back expenditures to create surpluses which can be applied to the national debt. Or it can set an inflexible ceiling on the national debt.

But Congress does none of these. Instead it debates the merits of raising the debt ceiling, seldom addressing itself to the causes of rising deficits.

Marquis Childs Election Uncertainties

WASHINGTON — All the wishful omens read into last week's election cannot disguise the fact that it was really more of the same. We are seeing the politics of a dead center of doubt and uncertainty.

What we have may not be good enough but what we are likely to get will possibly be worse. The present pause reflects the same narrow division which in 1960 split the popular vote by a precarious headline margin.

MOST OF THE comment has been to the effect that the returns show President Kennedy has a tough job ahead to be re-elected. Far more obvious is that any man who serves in the office of the Presidency after 1964, whether his name is Kennedy, Goldwater, Rockefeller or whatever, will find it difficult, if not impossible to get even a minimum of agreement on what must be done in the nation and the world.

ABOVE ALL, in the racial conflict the pressures for change—change profoundly disruptive of the separate way of life long taken for granted—are part of the shadow of doubt. The Kentucky election is perhaps the sharpest reflection of this fear. The Republican candidate, Louis B. Nunn, attacked the retiring Governor, Bert Combs, for his order desegregating businesses serving the public, and his position was compared to that of Senator Goldwater. The Democratic candidate, Edward T. Breathitt Jr., narrowly squeaked through in a state that normally goes to the Democrats in elections for state office.

ALMOST NO ONE here in this stagnant capital speaks except in a private whisper about the fear of what can happen in the months just ahead. It is the fear that the immovable object, namely Congress, will collide head-on with the irresistible force that is the fierce first wave of the Negro civil rights movement. On this collision course the results are entirely predictable.

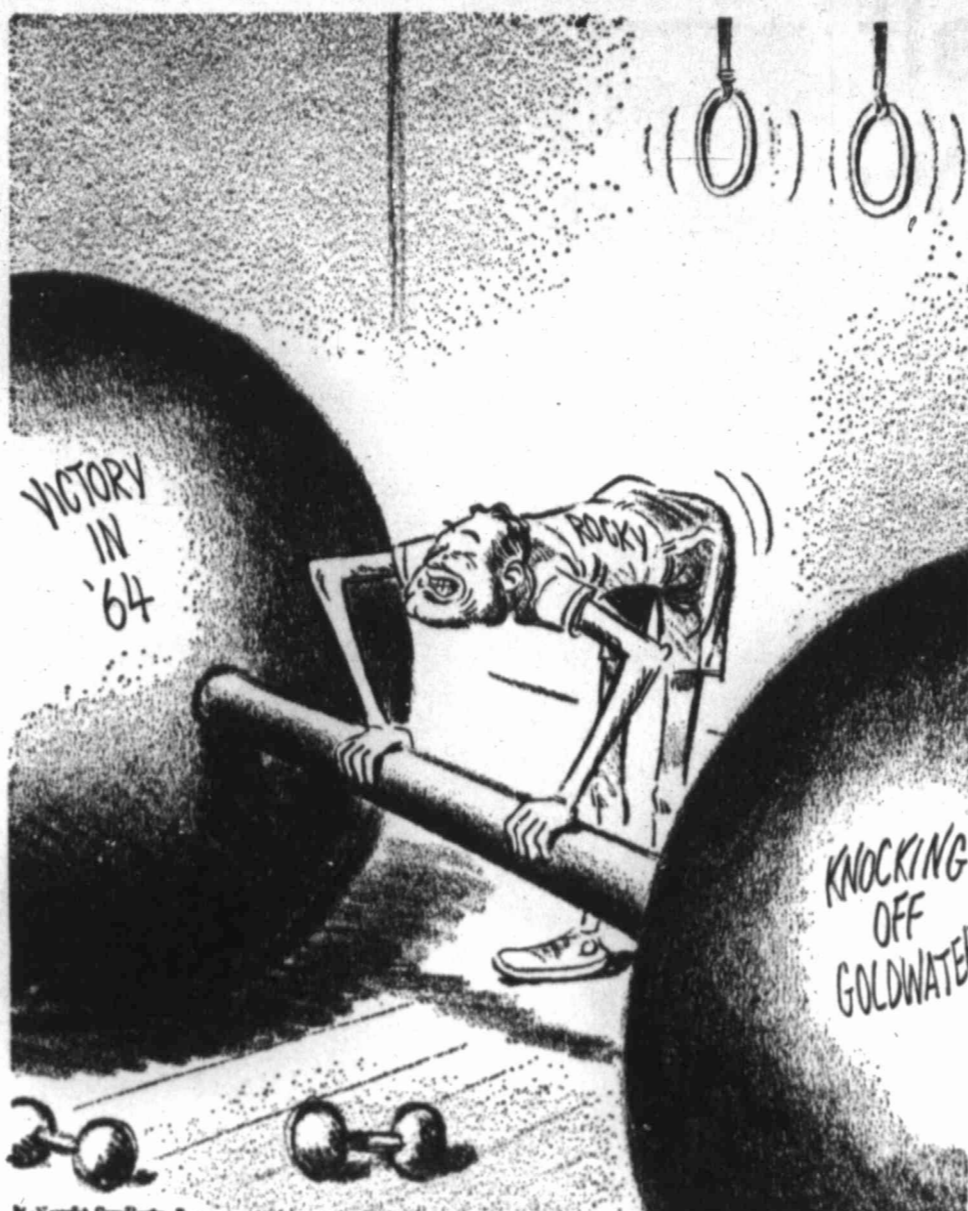

Already an angry muttering can be heard often from sources where it would have been least expected. The top command of the United Auto Workers Union, which has led the way in integration and other "progressive" directions, is getting the word from the grass roots. Phrased in far more blunt and brutal language it is: Don't push this Negro equality

Billy Graham

In the parable of the ten virgins were all ten saved at one time, or were the five foolish ones lost?

Jesus did not say that the five were saved and the other five lost. Read your own Bible. It is found in Matthew 25:1-13. In this Scripture Jesus is merely telling of ten young women who have been selected as bridesmaids for a wedding. When the time slipped by and it appeared that the wedding would not take place until long after dark, five of them were wise enough to put oil in their lamps. All ten of them had gone to sleep when the bridegroom came. According to the parable, only five were ready to go their way to the wedding feast. The other five went out to try and get oil, but were late for the celebration.

Like every other parable, it is a life situation that illustrates a spiritual truth. Jesus was simply illustrating that there are many people who outwardly appear to be Christians, but are not really prepared to meet the Lord because there is something lacking inside. Outward appearances alone do not prepare us to meet Christ in the day of Judgment. It is a change that takes place in the human heart—a change in which God gives a new heart and takes away the old one that makes all the difference. It is only when our motives and our attitudes are changed that we are sure something has really taken place. It is when the Holy Spirit comes into our lives and cleanses us that we are genuinely prepared. That is what Jesus was illustrating.

Nixon Doesn't Eliminate Himself

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has stopped far short of eliminating himself from consideration as the Republican party's choice for the presidential nomination.

He could do it in one, simple, positive sentence: "I am not a candidate for the presidential nomination and I will not accept it if the convention offers it to me or tries to draft me."

Instead, he has limited himself to saying he is not a candidate for the nomination, which can be interpreted as saying he will not actively campaign for it between now and the 1964 convention.

THAT'S A long way from saying he would not accept the nomination or like to have it. Last month in an interview the magazine U.S. News & World Report asked him the question directly: Would he accept the nomination if drafted?

He said: "I shall not be a candidate in '64—and that answers all questions of that type...there can be no draft unless a man stimulates it or encourages it, my statement that I shall not be a candidate means there can be no draft."

It does not necessarily mean any such thing. The fact that he did not actively seek the nomination does not prevent the convention, if deadlocked on others, from seeking a way out by turning to him.

WHILE HE said he is not a candidate, he has been urging Republicans in all sections of the country not to commit themselves yet to any would-be candidates. His reason is said to be: It's too soon to know what will happen.

As of now there are only two candidates in sight: New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater. Rockefeller has already announced his candidacy, Goldwater is expected to in January.

And — both men have said they thought Nixon was acting like a candidate.

'I'm Not Bold,' Says Lucy

NEW YORK (AP) — "I look and sound like a bold person, but I'm not," said Lucille Ball. "But I'm a happy person now."

There are exterior reasons why she should be happy. The famous redhead is a star in her own right, and as president of the $25-million-a-year Desilu Productions, Inc., she is sitting atop one of the biggest gold mines in show business.

"BUT WHAT makes you happy in this business is just being a part of it," she said. "I never have fought over questions of billing or money. My biggest thrill is in being recognized as an accomplished performer."

"Success to me is just a steady, go-to-meeting, workday continuance. I don't feel any different. There are more people to help, but that's no problem. It's a pleasure."

Miss Ball, looking far more fetching in her pajamas than the general run of corporate heads, abandoned her bowl of luncheon rice pudding and laid aside the script she had been reading. She walked to the window of her hotel living room and glanced out into the rain.

SHE RECALLED an incident of her youth, when she was an obscure model here, hoping that somehow, sometime she would be able to land a job as a showgirl.

"I had the usual starving, freezing time here," she said. "I don't look upon that time as the good old days. I was making $25 to $50 a week. I was shy as a kid. I didn't have any dates. I never saw the inside of a night club."

"I didn't mind the fact that success came so gradually," she said, turning away from the window.

"I THOUGHT I was doing fine. I was happy. I had a wonderful apprenticeship. I would have worked for nothing."

To her chief sins in life are ingratitude and self-pity. "The thing that held me back for years was being too willing to see the other guy's side before I did my own," she said. "That way you can wind up being a patsy."

"You have to follow your own convictions if you're going to be successful. You have to be strong enough to follow your own path."

ONE MONTH ago Nixon said he hoped there would be nothing on the record between then and the convention to indicate he favored one candidate over another.

While such reticence would avoid adding splits in the Republican party, it would also avoid making enemies for him among the followers of the candidate in case the convention finally did turn to him.

Monday in Miami editors representing a cross-section of the nation's daily newspapers said they feel Nixon will be the Republican candidate against President Kennedy, but that Kennedy will beat him again as he did in 1960.

FIFTY editors, in Miami for the annual Associated Press managing editors meeting today, were quizzed by the Miami Herald and 26 of them picked Nixon as the Republicans' choice.

Goldwater got 12 votes. The rest went to Rockefeller and Michigan's Gov. George Romney. The editors stressed that their selections were based on judgment and not on their political preference.

Former President Eisenhower, in a Sunday television interview, said Nixon would be one of those definitely considered for the nomination if the convention deadlocks.

To Your Good Health

New Menopause Theory Unproven

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: I recently read a report stating that with proper early precautions the "change of life" can be prevented entirely and that a woman can remain fertile her entire lifetime. I am 28 and wonder if it is too late to begin whatever treatment is necessary, and how do I accomplish it?—B. J. R.

You are too young to remember when an imaginative actor put on such a vivid radio program about Martians invading the earth that he caused near-panic all over the country. People happened to tune in long enough to hear part of the drama, and didn't bother to wait to find out that it was just fiction. They swamped newspapers with frantic telephone calls and it was rather difficult to convince some of them that it was all just a very realistic radio "opery."

Well, the report you cite falls in a similar although hardly identical category.

Here's what really happened. First, we now have the so-called "birth control" pills

They prevent pregnancy because they stop the ovaries from releasing an ovum or egg, which otherwise occurs every four weeks, or thereabouts.

Then a medical researcher—a perfectly sound, reasonable man — began theorizing. Perhaps, he argued, a normal pair of ovaries has just so many ova to release in a lifetime, and perhaps menopause (or "change of life") occurs when the ovaries have used up all the eggs.

If the new anti-pregnancy prevent the eggs from being released, there will be a lot left over, and women might then be able to use these left-over eggs later in life, not have menopause at the usual time, and remain fertile perhaps, all their lives.

But this is not fact. It is theory. Nobody yet knows whether it will prove to be true. I have serious doubts. For just one thing, there are women (however rare they may be) who ovulate at intervals of six months or more, instead of the usual four weeks. If the theory happens to be correct, then they should remain fertile many times longer than most women. But they don't!

There are many similar questions which must also be answered. It will be quite some years before the drugs will have been in use long enough to give any practical evidence of whether the theory has any validity at all.

Dear Dr. Molner: What are the symptoms of venereal disease and how soon will they show up? And what should I do?—B. Y.

Without any symptoms, I guess you must have a guilty conscience, but we'll let that pass. A temporary sore at the point of contact, and/or a discharge afterward are the main early symptoms, but these are not too reliable. So what should you do? Have your doctor give you a blood test, and depending on his verdict, either feel that you got off lucky, or have him give you such treatment as you need.

Around The Rim

When You Leave It, Word It Wisely

I once knew a multimillionaire who set aside a huge sum of money for a foundation he created and which he dedicated to a program of solving some of the problems of the poor dirt farmers of his community.

His father, it seemed, had been such a farmer and had suffered all of the ordeals and heartbreaks that farmers have.

THE FOUNDATION built an impressive laboratory building. It employed a crew of experts and work was initiated on the line laid out by the donor.

About the time the enterprise was getting on its feet, the creator of the foundation died. The foundation was in the hands of trustees and one of the donor's heirs was on the board.

In no time at all, the original purpose of the foundation was shunted to one side and the laboratories were restaffed and rebuilt to do research work in another and entirely different field—the cause of cancer.

THERE IS NO question as to the importance of such research and, for all I or anyone else knows the research in that lab could produce the answer to the control of this killer.

But what puzzled me was how the well planned efforts of the founder, so carefully laid out in his lifetime, were so easily junked once he was no longer on the scene.

I ALSO REMEMBER another man who had every intention of doing his fellowmen a good turn, but who failed. He was a fantastic character, a recluse who lived in a hut amid indescribable filth. He ate scraps and wore rags. He had as little to do with others as he could. We all knew he owned some cheap rental property which he never kept in repair. None of us knew, though, that instead of being a near pauper, he was a rich man.

When he died, investigators found a handwritten will in his shanty. He detailed his holdings, the hiding place for his cash and he set up plans for the disposition of his estate.

HE HAD TWO sisters, he said, who lived in middle Europe but whom he had neither seen nor heard from in more than 50 years. If they could be found, they were to receive a certain part of his estate. If they couldn't be found, then all of the money went into a trust fund. Interest on the fund was "to buy wood and coal" for the needy families of the town.

The sisters could not be found. The money was placed in trust and machinery set up to make the use of the income from the trust as the will had decreed.

THEN AN astonishing thing was revealed. There were no families in the community (or at the best only one or two) who used wood or coal for fuel. Further, these families did not want help.

The trustees took the matter to court in an effort to get the "wood and coal" changed to "fuel." The court said it could not be changed.

That was two or three decades ago. As far as I know the money is still in the trust, still accumulating and bigger. The original trustees are long dead and their successors serve. And still nobody in that town needs wood or coal.

Roundup On Latin America

HOMEWARD BOUND—JFK has the FDR-image in Latin America, but the Profile of Kennedy Courage was badly smudged both at the Bay of Pigs and at the confrontation of Khrushchev in 1962.

LATINOS REACT emotionally and wholly without logic to the U.S. political party system. Democrats are Good Guys who establish good neighbor policies and alliances for progress. Republicans are imperialists like William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and Douglas MacArthur. But the Latinos admire valor, and President Kennedy has lost his white plume. He showed himself afraid to attack Castro in April, 1961, and he showed himself to be very timid about searching Russian ships, forcing an on-site inspection of Cuba and laying down a real blockade in 1962. Even in Panama, where the Canal Zone would have been the prime missile target, the consensus favored war with Cuba.

PAUL J. GUTIERREZ, a very tough cop, came off the Los Angeles County narcotics squad to become an instructor at the Inter-American Police Academy, Fort Davis, in the Canal Zone. He hefted a wicked-looking riot stick and talked of the work which he clearly enjoyed. In the last 18 months the academy has trained 284 policemen from 15 Latin American countries in the tactics of breaking up mobs, gathering intelligence from subversive and criminal groups and waging counter-insurrection warfare in the civilian sector.

GUTIERREZ SAID he and other instructors were trying to teach Latin student-police that riot sticks are more humane than bayonets. The discipline of counter-insurrection warfare requires giving the Communists only a minimum of evidence of "police brutality." The cops are trained to use the least amount of force that is required to bring a given situation under control. Sticks and tear gas come first—shotguns at a last resort. Academy director Ted Brown, former police chief at Eugene, Ore., and Adolph Saenz, the deputy director, out of Las Cruces and Albuquerque, N.M., talked about their work of helping to bring basic law enforcement to Latin America, but the significance of this Police Academy goes beyond cop-training. If the cops can put down Communist terrorists, as they are doing with some success in Venezuela, the Army will be less inclined to impose martial law, and the civilian government will be less at the mercy of military coups.

POSSIBLY THE best investment under the Alliance for Progress is a 50-mile gravel-bed road in Central Panama. By piercing the interior, the road-builders made possible a $275,000 export sale of oranges to Hong Kong, but of even greater significance is the fact that they opened up 250,000 acres of fertile land for settlers. The situation in Brazil and Panama, two countries with population pressures, is that over 90 per cent of the land is unpopulated and uncultivated. All the needy people have to do is get up and go. But Latin lethargy is such that the people will stay put and starve (the meanwhile breeding huge families of both legitimate and illegitimate offspring) unless the North American AID programs are used, almost literally, to pave the way into the wilderness. But, as the Panama project shows, the pioneer spirit can sometimes be induced.

Bring Back Thanksgiving!

Just a year ago I wrote a column asking if anyone cared to work for the preservation of Thanksgiving — "for the safeguarding of Thanksgiving as it used to be — a very special, uniquely American celebration in its own right and not merely a commercial adjunct to the Christmas season."

THAT COLUMN drew a deluge of mail from every part of the nation, letters written by citizens as alarmed as I over the decline—even the disappearance — of Thanksgiving as a wonderful, national celebration of our joy in our country and our deep gratitude to God for His blessings on it.

Well, Thanksgiving a year later is just a little dimmer, a bit farther behind the Holly Curtain than it was in 1962. I have scanned the New York stores and the newspaper advertising in vain for any recognition that Thanksgiving is scarcely two weeks away.

I HAVE NOT seen even a sign in the windows of the neighborhood butcher shops, much less in the newspapers, advising me to reserve a plump, superior turkey for Thanksgiving. Once upon a time, that was SOP, just as once upon a time the turkey was a bird uniquely associated with Thanksgiving, not with Christmas.

The turkey that once symbolized Thanksgiving to every American was one of the sentimental links that bound Americans to that first Thanksgiving feast in 1623 when the piece de resistance was four wild turkeys.

LESS THAN A generation ago, Thanksgiving was still something more than a day when Americans didn't have to go to the office. It was one of the two most important and joyous holidays on the calendar. In the hearts and the homes of America, it was separate but equal with Christmas.

Thanksgiving is ignored as if it never had been and as if the Pilgrim Fathers had never existed. As decor, the pumpkin, once as symbolic of Thanksgiving as the turkey, has now been irrevocably assigned to Halloween. Merchandising establishments, long since decorated for Christmas, cannot be bothered with the all-American holiday.

IN THE THREE-months pre-Christmas selling race, we are in great danger not only of losing Thanksgiving but Christmas as well—unless Christmas is to disintegrate merely into a season of frenetic getting and giving of expensive merchandise.

Thanksgiving has already been sacrificed to make of Christmas something it was never intended to be: a vulgar buying spree that demigrates everything symbolized by Christmas.

PERHAPS IF Americans still care enough about Thanksgiving to rescue it from oblivion, where it is headed, they can also rescue Christmas from the clutches of materialism. They might even save the price, in effort, of one.

Carabao For Corps

HILO, Hawaii (AP) — A brace of carabao—traditional beasts of burden in Pacific and Asian countries—have been sent to the Peace Corps training center on Hawaii Island.

The animals, a 15-year-old bull and a 10-year-old cow, arrived in Hilos by barge from Oahu Island, 200 miles away, and were trucked inland to a rice paddy next to a model Asian village.

Corps volunteers are training in Hawaii under simulated conditions and thought the long-horned beasts would add another touch of realism.

Most corpsmen from the Hilos facility wind up in Asian countries.

Coahomans Make Trips

COAHOMA (SC) — Trips to the Gulf Coast and San Antonio were among the weekend jaunts made by Coahoma residents. Others had visitors in their homes for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allen and sons, Jimmy and Dwayne, visited in Corpus Christi this weekend with their son and family, the Ronnie Allens.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burgess, with their son, Ronnie, are visiting in San Antonio with another son, Gerald, stationed at Randolph Air Force Base.

Mrs. W. P. Phillips and son, Johnny, visited her sister, Mrs. Leslie Bassinger, in Andrews for the weekend.

Jack Love, Odessa, was a Sunday visitor in the home of his brother and family, the Herbert Loves.

Mrs. Travis Greenfield is a patient at Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital.

Recent guests in the Raymond Morrison home, Sand Springs, have been their sons, the Jack Morrissions of Canyon and the Connie Morrissions from Odessa.

Visiting this weekend in the Truman Pherigo home were Mrs. Ollie Beard and Mrs. Oma Bratz of Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. E. Fickling, Big Spring.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Brooks have been his sister and family, the Clarence Hasys of Elsworth Air Force Base, South Dakota. Also visiting the Brooks are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Brooks, Wink.

Woman's Forum Cancels Meeting

The November meeting of the Woman's Forum has been canceled. Because of absences this month, there will be no meeting until December.

FOR MU KAPPAS

Facial Technique Given By Mrs. Collins

Mrs. R. L. Collins gave a facial and spoke on correct make-up application Monday evening to members of Mu Kappa Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, at the home of Mrs. Robert Pritz, 167-A Fairchild.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. Bob Newton, the ways and means committee reported a profit on the recent candy sale.

A letter was read inviting the chapter to the Red and Green ball, sponsored by Alpha Chi Chapter, Dec. 14 at Cosden Country Club. The chapter beauty from each group will be presented at the ball.

An ecru lace cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with a dried arrangement featuring a log covered with flowers in orange and brown tones.

Mrs. Newton, 4011 Dixon, will be hostess for the harvest time social meeting of the sorority Nov. 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Group Plans For Holiday Events

Holiday plans were made and arrangements made to supply Thanksgiving gifts Monday afternoon by Young Homemakers.

Mrs. Roy Deel was hostess for the meeting and fellowship which followed.

A progressive dinner, gift exchange and play will be a combined event for the Christmas holidays. Members brought clothes, food and toys to make up Thanksgiving baskets to be distributed when they meet again, Nov. 25, at the home of Mrs. Nolan Hoelcher.

Miss Molly Hefer served at a table which featured a small rocking chair and a toy cat on top of a world globe, forming a centerpiece based in pyramidalism.

Returns To West Coast After Visit

COAHOMA (SC) — Mrs. Lucille Fletcher, who has been visiting here with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Gilliam, and sister, Mrs. Luke West, has returned to her home in San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. Johnny Wellbourn, a former Coahoma resident, is reported to be recovering satisfactorily after surgery in a Marshall hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Greenfield have returned home after attending the golden wedding celebration for his parents in Colorado City.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swinney and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lattimer have returned from Portales, N.M., where they visited the parents of Joe Swinney, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Swinney.

Mrs. Tom Proctor and daughter, Dianna, were in Woodson for the weekend to attend a reunion of Mrs. Proctor's high school graduating class.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wilson, JR. and their daughter were in Lubbock to see the Tech-Kansas State game Saturday.

It's getting about time for everyone to be making plans for Thanksgiving visits, so if you have someone coming to be your guest give me a ring at AM 3-2542. We like to know who is coming and going... don't you?

Thursday was a red letter day for CHARLES H. WEBB JR. for that's the day he got word he had been cleared by the committee for his Ph.D. in music at the University of Indiana. In addition to working on his Ph.D., which required among many other things eight recitals necessitating about four months work plus his documentation, Charles also served on the music faculty, directed music for a church and continued to serve as editor for all Fred Waring's music and as dean of Waring's summer workshop outside of that Mrs. Webb, the former KENDA MCGIBBON, and their children claim him for a little while.

DR. AND MRS. HENRY FISHERMAN spent the weekend with their parents, MR. AND MRS. SAM FISHERMAN, Dr. Fisherman and his brother, DR. FRANK FISHERMAN, operate a veterinary clinic in Houston. He had come to San Angelo for a regional conference Saturday.

New officers were elected and a holiday party planned by Trainmen Ladies Monday evening at Carpenters' Hall. Mrs. A. J. Cain, who presided, read the poem, "Our Flag," as the patriotic drill was conducted.

A Christmas party was planned for Dec. 8 following the regular meeting. Chairmen for the event were named as Mrs. Albert G. Smith and Mrs. B. N. Ralph. Also, Mrs. T. A. Underhill was named chairman of the sick committee.

Elected officers include Gilbert C. Ragsdale, counselor; Mrs. Cain, president; Mrs. Albert G. Smith, vice president; Mrs. C. W. Keesterson, secretary; Mrs. Frank Powell, treasurer; Mrs. J. H. Eastham, conductress; Mrs. W. C. Moore, warden; Mrs. L. A. Webb, inner guard; Mrs. B. N. Ralph, outer guard; and Mrs. W. C. Bell, chaplain.

Hostesses for the refreshment hour were Mrs. C. L. Lumpkin and Mrs. C. S. Jordan.

Dear Heloise: Remember the good old dressing that grandma used to make for her Waldorf Salad? Well, I found a good substitute that requires no cooking and very little effort. Every time I buy a pint of mayonnaise (not salad dressing) I divide it in half and make a wonderful facsimile of grandma's old-fashioned Waldorf dressing which I use on nearly everything nowadays.

Here it is:
1 cup of mayonnaise
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup vinegar
Mix well and set aside for a few days. The longer the better, because as this dressing ages it gets thicker and thicker. After a few months (if you can keep it that long) it is even better.

This is a sweet and sour dressing and may be used on fruit salads, cabbage slaw, carrot and raisin salad or even poured over head lettuce. Yum, yum... Heloise.

Gather For Observance

Fifty-five were present for the weekend gathering and family dinner held in honor of Mrs. Nancy Dennis and her son, Elbert, observing her 90th birthday and his 75th. Nov. 11. Held at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Bill Davidson, the event was attended by Mrs. Dennis' children, her sisters, a cousin, nieces and nephews and grandchildren.

Among those from out of town were nieces, Mrs. Raymond Lotz of Rankin and Mrs. Gene Wellington of McCamey, with their husbands, Mrs. Essie Amos and Mrs. Bessie Nelson, Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Marvella Shores of Andrews. Herbert Forbes, a nephew from Andrews, was also present.

An after-dinner musicale provided entertainment.

WMS Circles Hold Sessions

Two circles of the Woman's Missionary Society, First Baptist Church, were in session Monday morning. The regular business reports were made and programs presented.

MARY HATCH CIRCLE Mrs. Otis Hatch was hostess to the Mary Hatch Circle at her home, 204 Washington Blvd. Six members attended the meeting which began with a business discussion. Afterward Mrs. R. D. Ulrey presented a program based on Mendelbaum Gate, the WMS book for November. A special prayer for missionaries was offered by the hostess. The next meeting is scheduled for Monday at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. W. E. Douglas, 124 Dallas.

JOHNNIE O'BRIEN CIRCLE Members of the Johnnie O'Brien Circle met in the home of Mrs. J. P. Dodge, 610 Goliad. The prayer calendar, was read by Mrs. T. K. Price. Mrs. Daisy Smythe offered prayer for foreign missionaries.

The community missions chairman, Mrs. Fannie Hazelwood, reported on visits to nursing homes and revealed plans for Mrs. Charlie Sweeney and Mrs. B. T. Faulkner to have two German students from Webb as Sunday luncheon guests. Each chairman was requested to read the Royal Service and to report at the next meeting.

Concluding the meeting Mrs. Sweeney read from the mission book, Mandelbaum Gate. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Hazelwood.

Mrs. Dick Lane will be hostess for the next meeting, Monday at 9:30 a.m.

Wives Will Sell English Desserts

"Try English Cooking in Texas" will be the theme for a bake sale to be held Dec. 2 by the British Wives Club. Plans to hold the sale at the Webb Air Force Base were made Monday evening at the First Federal Savings and Loan Bldg. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Vincent Broadwater and Mrs. Glen Sanborn.

A Christmas party for members and their husbands was set Dec. 21 in the NCO Club at Webb.

English trifle was served to eight members and a guest, Mrs. S. Kathy, by Mrs. Fred Muller and Mrs. Broadwater. Mrs. John Dimmock won the door prize. The next meeting will be Nov. 25 with the place to be announced.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Although I viewed the first part of the Celeste Holm program through a bit and miss maze of bouffant hairdos and heard the dialogue only sketchily when the young ladies were not discussing it, I enjoyed the selections. Especially did I enjoy the takeoff on the modern day singer who covers up with gestures and background which she doesn't have to offer in way of a voice. And that number we could hear. Also delightful were the numbers from "Oklahoma!" with which a number of the audience associate Miss Holm. The staging of the Adams Letters skit was very effective... It's wonderful what a pretty blonde woman, wearing softest blue with just the right lighting, can do to dress up a stage.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK SEARCY, Ponca City, Okla., are here with her parents, MR. AND MRS. C. E. SHIVE. Shive is a surgical patient at Howard County Hospital Foundation.

Here over the weekend visiting friends and relatives were MR. AND MRS. BOB PHILLIPS. Bob has just recently finished training at Golden Gate Seminary in San Francisco. The family came here for a visit prior to going to an assignment in Portland, Ore. He was stationed with the Air Force at Big Spring Bombardier Base and during that time married Miss Hobbs.

MR. AND MRS. W. L. WILSON, JR. and their daughter were in Lubbock to see the Tech-Kansas State game Saturday... also the J. I. BALCHES took in the game to watch his nephew, JERRY DON BALCH, who runs with the Raiders.

It's getting about time for everyone to be making plans for Thanksgiving visits, so if you have someone coming to be your guest give me a ring at AM 3-2542. We like to know who is coming and going... don't you?

Sorority Sets Dance For Holiday

A Christmas dance was scheduled Dec. 7 when the Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Bill McDonald, 2102 Cecelia. Mrs. Bob Wray, social chairman, said the place and time would be announced soon.

Mrs. Wade Choate reported a profit of $34.55 on the rummage sale held Saturday. Tickets will go on sale Dec. 1 for the doll and wardrobe to be given away Dec. 21. Tickets will be sold each Saturday until that time.

Plans were completed to assemble Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets which will be delivered to needy families.

Mrs. Gail Bell and Mrs. Tom Enloe presented the program on jewelry, describing its origin and explaining how to clean jewelry. A collection of jewelry was shown by Mrs. Collin Reese.

A large brass candlestick, holding a green taper, centered the refreshment table which was covered with green linen and an overlay of lace. The candlestick base was encircled with fresh flowers, bunches of artificial grapes and green foliage. A ritual of jewels will be held Nov. 25 at the dinner meeting in the Holiday Inn. A card party will follow.

Snow Hits Southern Arizona

Audience Enjoys Program Despite Hearing Problem

Celeste Holm, aided by Wesley Addy and Willie Roy, fought the battle of acoustics at Municipal Auditorium Monday evening—and darned near lost.

Part of the Concert Association audience had difficulty in hearing, and this put a damper on what otherwise was a quite pleasant evening as Miss Holm raised and answered the question: Has the relationship between man and woman changed?

Miss Holm was delightful enough, and she established an immediate rapport with her audience in her informal prelude. At this point, she was well heard, but when it came to some of the dialogue as the man-woman relationship was explored through authors and composers, some thing happened. The heavier pieces suffered the most, and as a consequence some fans didn't stay after the intermission. That was their loss, however, for the trio doubled the diaphragm pressure, and turned up the amplifiers as well as the tempo in the last portion.

It was in this interlude that Miss Holm did a routine which first rocketed her to fame, that of Ado Annie in "Oklahoma." She was interrupted once with a burst of applause in the midst of "I Just Can't Say No," got another robust round at the end, and ditto for the other half of the Rogers - Hammerstein sequence, "With Me It's All or Nothing." Addy gave good support, and Roy's accompaniment was tasteful and saucy.

Other highlights included an animated narration by Addy of a Max Schulman piece about the raccoon coat, and the excerpt from Howard Lindsay-Russell Crouse classic comedy, "Life With Father." Miss Holm, on the whole, was best loved in her gay passages, particularly where she had a chance to display her singing personality.

She and Addy did well in a dramatic arranged marriage scene. The Abigail-John Adams exchange of letters was effective and beautiful with a tremendous punchline—"God bless America and let the people all say 'Amen!'" However, the program might have ended better on a livelier note, at least that's the way the audience loved Miss Holm most.

Forsan Schools To Issue Permit For Water Line

FORSAN — The Forsan Independent School District will issue a work permit for a two-inch water line from the City of Big Spring's system to the Elbow school some time this week. Supt. Roy Stockstill said the work order would be issued to Bettie-Womack Pipeline Construction Co., Big Spring. "His bid was $7,030.50, and was low of the four submitted," he said. "The job should not take too long, but will be a big help to the Forsan-Elbow Junior High School. We have had a pump and storage tank out there which has supplied the school until this year. Big Spring director of public works Ernest Lillard said the tap for the Elbow school line would be made on the 18-inch O'Barr well line, at the intersection of the old and new Garden City highways, and would require about two and a half miles of line to reach the school.

Youth Breaks Arm In Fall

Michael McClure, 14-year-old son of Maj. and Mrs. Richard McClure, sustained a broken arm in a fall at Webb AFB Monday night. He fell off the steps of a building where Boy Scout Troop 146 was meeting. The youth was admitted to the base hospital and his condition was described Tuesday as "fine." The parents were at the city auditorium when notified of the accident.

Trustees Study Routine Reports

Howard County Junior College trustees had only routine reports to occupy their meeting Monday at the Dora Roberts Student Union Building. The board approved the purchase of an extra set of shelves for the library (two others had been purchased.) They reaffirmed a general policy of not storing materials for individuals or groups unless it is for an educational purpose.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, reported that the auto mechanics school is continuing to hold its enrollees and it now average 15 would finish the one year course in March. The cooking school, which will complete its first term in January, is also off to a good start and prospective students are being assembled for a second class.

Trustees approved the financial statement for October. It showed total receipts of $118,874, making $260,664 so far this fiscal year. Principal receipts for the month were $19,670 reimbursement for vocational courses under the manpower training program, $1,691 state funds for LVN training, $86,064 in current tax collections, $5,612 in tuition, $1,225 in adult education tuition, $1,279 in use fees.

Expenditures for October (with the cumulative total in parenthesis) were: Administrative $3,346 ($6,302); general $2,399 ($5,673); instructional $23,945 ($45,509); organized activities $590 ($500); library $2,015 ($3,176); operation and maintenance of facilities $10,608 ($16,510); auxiliary activities $306 ($406); athletics $450 ($1,419); capital outlay $6,652 ($6,652); contingency fund $1,300 ($1,300); total general fund disbursements $51,713 ($85,580).

During the month interest and sinking fund receipts amounted to $23,911, and disbursements $1,620 for interest. This left the fund with a balance of $107,020, but there is an interest and principal obligation of $64,000.

The student housing revenue fund had receipts of $7,865 during the month, making $45,670 for the year. Expenses for October amounted to $16,496 (including $11,752 in bookstore stock purchases), making $26,297 for the year.

Seven Cases Are Ready

Seven of the 25 civil cases set for trial this week on a civil jury docket in 118th District Court announced ready for trial Tuesday morning.

Case of Walter L. Burns vs. the Texas & Pacific Railway Co., an action for damages, is No. 1 on the list. A jury panel reported to court at 1:30 p.m. It was expected a jury would be seated and the first testimony in the case heard by closing time today.

Other cases announced ready, in the order they will be called for trial if time permits:

Mrs. Ronald Fitzgerald vs. Horace J. Smith, damages; A. G. Cooper vs. Jimmy P. Gray et al, damages; Cecil L. Williams vs. Doreen L. Robertson, damages; Manuel Pineda vs. City of Big Spring, damages; E. C. Gossett vs. City of Big Spring, damages.

The other cases on the docket were passed for the term.

Two Police Officers Quit

Jimmie Lee Wade, city police patrolman since Nov. 24, 1956, resigned his position effective Monday, according to Police Chief Jay Banks. Banks said Wade plans to enter private business.

Walter Johnson, former city patrolman who is on leave of absence, has been named as a replacement for Wade.

Stewart Dickson, police dispatcher, has been named as a replacement for Joe Braun, city patrolman who resigned last Friday.

Chief Banks said Stanley Baljou, a retired Air Force captain, will take over Dickson's old job as police dispatcher.

Church Supper Set Wednesday

The monthly Church Fellowship Supper of the East Fourth Baptist Church is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. More than 125 persons are expected to attend.

The supper is primarily for church members, but each member is invited to bring along guests, according to the Rev. Jack L. Strickland, pastor. Cost is 50 cents a plate.

Various departments of Sunday school take turns sponsoring the supper, preparing food and serving visitors. Handling the chore this week will be Junior I and II workers.

Two Accidents

Police investigated two minor traffic accidents Monday. Locations of accidents and drivers involved: 3603 West 80, William Statham, 1303 Utah, and Ronald Darati, 500 E. 23rd; Twenty-First and Lancaster, Jean Wall, 2906 McAustin, and June Patton, 3211 Drexel.

Panel Points Out Wants Of Youth

What does youth want? Two things, a panel of young people agreed at a discussion group sponsored Monday evening by the Optimist Club at the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

One is a place to "goof off." Another is some sort of forum or organization by or through which young people can counteract bad publicity in creative and constructive undertakings.

Truett Newell moderated the panel composed of student leaders and others from Big Spring High School and Runnels and Goliad Junior High Schools. With them were teachers, YMCA leaders, the president of the pastors association, and other adults to listen to youth speak.

This is part of the Optimist Club's observance of Youth Appreciation Week. Another formal part of the observance comes Wednesday at 7 a.m. when a dozen or more young people will be given a pat on the back for meritorious service.

At the discussion Monday evening, young people made the point that there are times when they want to "goof off," just get together and do nothing in particular, to be free of supervised activity such as they might find at the Y or churches.

They had only praise for the latter institutions, but they said there were times when they just wanted to do nothing. Suggested was a center of some sort which might make this possible.

Realizing that some few get into trouble and make news—bad news, they suggested that there might be created some sort of youth group which could serve as a clearing house for doing something helpful for the community. There are ample opportunities for this in Big Spring if youth only wants to do it, they said.

Out of the discussion, youths hoped that perhaps future meetings with adults might be possible in order to air their problems and to stir interest in the problems of youth.

Dr. Peter Logan Hernal, formerly with the Big Spring State Hospital, today joined the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital as a staff surgeon.

He replaces Dr. Thomas Armstrong, one of three Cuban doctors who fled their native country and came to Big Spring to work at the VA Hospital. Dr. Armstrong has transferred to the Biloxi, Miss., VA Hospital.

Dr. Hernal joined the state hospital staff in September, 1961. The son of a Bureau of Public Schools official at Luzon, northern Philippines, Dr. Hernal completed his education in 1955 at the University of Santo Tomas, Manila. Until May, 1956, he was in general practice in the province of Isabela. At that time he decided to go to the United States for training as a surgeon. He left for the States in June of that year.

Dr. Hernal served one year on internship and two years as a resident surgeon in Cleveland, Ohio, then went to Scott-White in Temple to complete his training. He completed his work there in July, 1961.

The Hernal's live at 2714 Rebecca. They have two children—a girl age five and a 15-month-old son.

Dinner Planned

A Thanksgiving turkey dinner will be served for all members of Barracks 1474, Veterans of World War I, at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at Odd Fellows Hall, West Ninth and Magnolia. All members of the Barracks, and the Auxiliary, are urged to attend.

No Action Taken In Police Brutality Charge

An FBI agent from Abilene has investigated a charge here of police brutality, according to Chief Jay Banks.

The charge stemmed from a complaint by the father of a local 17-year-old youth who was arrested last month following a high speed chase on the Snyder Highway, Banks said.

The agent talked to a U.S. District Attorney who advised him that everything indicates the complaint was unfounded and no action be taken," Banks added. The father of the boy lives in Odessa.

Stanton Due Hunter Visit

STANTON — A group of "hunters," will invade Stanton Wednesday. They will be looking for fire hazards in the downtown and business areas, schools, churches, and other public buildings. The hunters are special agents for property insurance companies from area cities.

When danger spots are located in buildings the inspectors will attach "fix-me" tags along with instructions for making proper corrections.

The "hunters" will be welcomed by Martin County Chamber of Commerce representatives, volunteer firemen and others. A downtown parade will start the day, with the Stanton High School band leading. Firemen, with fire-fighting equipment, and other marching units will be in the parade.

One or more teams will put on demonstrations on stages at the Stanton schools. They will use explosion chambers, vapor chutes, and other paraphernalia to show and explain the dangers of volatile liquids like gasoline, naphtha, and sprays.

Three suspects in the armed robbery of a 7-11 store on Birdwell Lane were released Monday when the manager could not identify them in a lineup, according to police. Officers said three other persons appeared in the lineup with the three suspects.

Police Wednesday morning were checking out other suspects in the robbery. Two bandits took $80 at gunpoint from Dee Ratliff, the manager.

RALNA HENDRICKS Vocalist for Policeman's Ball

Tickets Still Available For First Policeman's Ball

Tickets are still available to the first annual Big Spring Policeman's Ball, to be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday at Cosden Country Club.

"We're expecting a good turnout for the ball," said detective A. P. Hurley, chairman of the arrangements committee. "If the response is good, we plan to make it an annual affair," he added.

Mrs. Jean Brown, secretary to Chief Jay Banks, said some 250 tickets have been sold. Persons interested in purchasing tickets may contact her at the police station. Also, all city policemen have tickets.

The Don Davis Quintet will provide music. The Lubbock musicians will present Ralna Hendricks as vocalist.

Proceeds from the ball will be used for a Christmas party for policemen and their families. Any remaining funds will go to local social and charitable organizations.

The ticket sale drive got off to a good start with most of the tickets being purchased within a week after the drive got under way last month. Sales began again this week, and tickets are still available.

Pony Chased Across Base

A small pony led animal warden Bob Baker and several Webb AFB air policemen on a hectic chase over the base runway Monday before it was captured. Baker said the chase began about 8 a.m. The animal was captured about 10 a.m. and taken to the Roy Chapman Riding Stable.

Demos Elect New Officers

Frank Sabbato is the new president-elect of the Howard County Democratic Club. He was elected at a meeting of the group Monday night in the county courtroom at the courthouse. He will succeed Roscoe Cone.

Other officers elected were A. G. Goodson, vice president; George Thorburn, treasurer; Mrs. L. R. Mundt, secretary; L. R. Mundt, Cecil Riordan and Floyd Young, trustees for two year terms.

The meeting was well attended. Guest speaker was Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College.

Also present as a speaker was Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, who reviewed the problems brought up by the turnout of the voters Saturday of a plan to repeal the poll tax as a voting requisite. She told the club she will go to Austin Wednesday to attend a conference with the attorney general on how the situation is to be handled.

Mom Bitter After Girl's Leg Amputated On Court Order

CLEVELAND (AP) — Blonde Mrs. Lily Simko was confused, brokenhearted, but most of all she was bitter — at everyone. Three floors up in an operating room, surgeons were amputating the right leg of Christine, her 14-year-old daughter.

Seated in a corridor of Metropolitan General Hospital, Mrs. Simko remained unresponsive to the facts. "What kind of life can my daughter have now?" she asked as sobs broke her voice.

TUMOR IN HIP

Christine had a life-or-death question hanging over her. She had a malignant tumor in her right hip. Doctors agreed that only removal of the leg — including the hip — could save the girl's life. Otherwise, life expectancy was reduced to 6-18 months.

Now, Christine has a reasonable chance to be cured over a five-year period. Every week and month brings added hope, doctors say.

Four surgeons completed the operation in five hours Monday. All went smoothly. Christine will be out of bed in a few days. She will walk, first with crutches and then under physical therapy treatment with an artificial limb. Since her hip is gone, the limb will be attached from a strap around the waist.

NOT CONSENTED

Mrs. Simko never consented to the operation. Doctors said they believe she feared Christine would one day blame her for the loss of the leg.

The girl was a ward of juvenile court. She had run away from home several times and was a behavior problem. The mother, who is on state aid-dependent relief, does not work. When doctors couldn't get permission from Mrs. Simko, they asked juvenile court last week to allow the operation. Judge

Walter G. Whitlach gave permission for the operation.

Because "everyone kept bugging me about the operation," the frightened Christine ran away from the hospital in her bedroom gown last Tuesday night. She was found across town in her east Cleveland home the next morning.

FACE FATE

Christine returned to the hospital, saying she was ready to face her fate. But Mrs. Simko still blamed the court, the doctors, social workers and everyone connected with her daughter's case.

"Oh, why did everyone keep the facts from her and from me?" Mrs. Simko asked. "They said she always ran away and got into trouble. The doctors operated on her leg so she won't be able to run anymore. They'll always know where to find her — she'll always be in a chair. Oh, she'll just fret and fret."

During the past week, mail from well-wishers has poured into the hospital from almost every state and some foreign countries. "I know Christine will feel better when she reads the letters," Mrs. Simko said. Mrs. Simko is a divorcee. Christine's father disappeared six years ago.

The blonde woman from Leicester, England, married an GI. She came to America and had two children, a son who now is 15 and Christine.

Bank Inaugural Too Good So Federals Shut It Down

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A new national bank whose business was deemed too good for its own good remained closed—but solvent—today while a federal conservator worked to get it back in business.

William Greenfield of Dallas, named conservator for the Southern Hills National Bank, told newsmen Monday he had decided to defer reopening of the bank for a few days "for further training of necessary personnel."

Greenfield said his decision was approved by the comptroller of the currency, James Saxon, who suspended business of the bank and appointed Greenfield Friday. Saxon said he acted because the press of deposit accounts had overtaxed processing facilities of the bank.

"There is no question of the solvency of the bank," Greenfield said, but he noted that the rush of depositors since the bank opened Aug. 5 had strained the bank's personnel and equipment.

He declined to say how long the bank might remain closed and skirted questions about any possible reorganization.

Southern Hills offered initial depositors checking accounts with no service charge for life. It got 12,000 takers in eight days and now has 25,000 to 30,000 depositors.

"There's never been anything like it in history, so far as I know," Greenfield said.

Navy Rated 2nd On AP Grid Ballot

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — As the only major college team still unbeaten and untied, despite the slender margins of victory, Texas retained its spot as the nation's No. 1 football team this week.

The Longhorns were first on 48 of 53 ballots and took the top spot for the fifth straight week by a comfortable margin.

PLAYERS OF WEEK

Boys Repeating For Laurels

As the 1963 football season enters the home stretch, several boys are repeating for Players of the Week honors awarded by The Daily Herald.

All the boys who have been selected for the distinction automatically become eligible for Player of the Year certificates to be presented by the newspaper at the end of the season.

BIG SPRING

LINEMEN—For the first time this season, two boys shared the honor and both play end. They are Robert Goodlett, who packs a lot of football play into a 5-11, 155-pound frame and Charley West, 163-pound senior. Goodlett was great at blocking from his strong end position and at catching clutch passes. One of his receptions was for a two-point conversion, which provided the exact difference in the final score. Robert also did a splendid job as a defensive halfback. West was Big Spring's leading pass receiver and it was his final completion, good for 53 yards, that set up Big Spring's final TD. He also excelled with his play as defensive halfback. "He kept us alive with his catches," coach Don Robbins said, of West's play.

ROBERT GOODLETT

Jim Spann said, referring to Ted's performance in the game. BACK—Junior Eddie McHugh, a 145-pounder who plays halfback on offense and linebacker on defense, is an old hand at winning the accolade. Coach Spann remarked: "Eddie was our offense against Aspermont and the other half of our defense. Coachspan gained 238 yards and he had better than half of that."

SANDS LINEMAN — Twelve tackles and assists on four others earned the honor for Larry Chapman, 155-pound junior guard. Sands took a 45-0 drubbing from Cooper but Chapman fielded most of the plays that came his way. He played most of the contest.

BACK—Johnny Calvio, 135-pound freshman halfback, did a splendid job on defense for the Mustangs. He made six tackles and assisted on eight others. In the words of his coach, Arlen White, he "covered his men real good."

GARDEN CITY PLAYER OF THE WEEK—Garden City lost to Sterling City last week but Earl Plagens kept the Bearcats in the game with his stellar play. The sophomore quarterback and defensive safety, who weighs 145 pounds and stands 5-10, made some great calls for coach Jack Woodley's team and handled the ball to near perfection. He was also outstanding on pass defense and came up with four tackles.

COAHOMA LINEMAN—Tackle Ted Cearley, 190-pound junior, earned the nod for the second time this year for his performance against Aspermont. "He was 50 per cent of our defense," coach

The panel of sports writers and broadcasters voting in the weekly Associated Press poll also meted out recognition as due to other winners and losers, Navy, Michigan State, Oklahoma and Pitt rose in the rankings while Illinois, Auburn and Ohio State went down.

Texas, winning its eighth straight game, had to go all out to win a squeaker from Baylor 7-0. That was the fourth in a row won by no more than a touchdown. Instead of discounting the Longhorns because of those margins, the experts gave them a whopping total of 326 points on the scoring basis of 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc. That came on 48 firsts, four seconds and one vote for fifth.

Navy moved up from fourth to second with 446 points, replacing Illinois, which skidded far down the list after a 14-8 loss to Michigan. The voters obviously were impressed by the ease with which the Midshipmen massacred Maryland 42-7. Mississippi, an easy 41-0 winner over Tampa, a minor opponent, remained in third. Michigan State climbed from ninth to fourth after trimming Purdue 23-0 and taking the Big Ten lead.

Behind them in the Top Ten came Oklahoma, Pitt, Alabama, Illinois, Auburn and Nebraska. Oklahoma, a 24-14 winner over Iowa State, just nosed out Pitt for fifth in the point scoring, 284-281. Pitt's decisive 27-7 victory over Notre Dame lifted the Panthers from eighth place. Alabama, idle last Saturday, remained in seventh.

Auburn dropped from fifth to ninth after being edged by Mississippi State 13-10. Nebraska, holding its Big Eight lead with a 23-0 decision over Kansas, replaced Ohio State, a 10-7 loser to Penn State, as the ninth team.

The top ten teams with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Texas (48) 526
2. Navy (4) 446
3. Mississippi 361
4. Michigan State (1) 303
5. Oklahoma 284
6. Pittsburgh 281
7. Alabama 253
8. Illinois 133
9. Auburn 84
10. Nebraska 81

Fight Scheduled

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Lightweight champion Emile Griffith and middleweight Rubin (Hurricane) Carter will meet Dec. 20 in a non-title 10-round boxing bout in Pittsburgh.

Big Lift Ready For Trip Home

AUSTIN (AP)—Operation Big Lift was ready to switch directions today and start returning the 2nd Armored Division from Germany to Texas on 87 trans-Atlantic flights.

The first of the big jet troop carriers is scheduled to land at Bergstrom Air Force Base at 8:35 p.m. Ideal weather and favorable winds would bring it here as much as three hours earlier.

Other flights will arrive every two and a half hours. Bergstrom was the focal point of Operation Big Lift Oct. 21-23 when the 2nd Armored Division was flown to Germany in the largest, longest and fastest troop airlift in history.

Fifty-three flights departed for Germany from Bergstrom. Others left from Gray Air Base and Connally Air Force Base.

More than 6,000 soldiers in the 14,000-man division will arrive at Bergstrom. They will go north 70 miles to Ft. Hood near Killeen in motor convoys.

The final 500 "mop up" troops will return to Ft. Hood Dec. 16-18.

Preparing For Runoff Election

With the official results of Saturday's special election yet to be announced, Democrat J. J. (Jake) Pickle reads campaign literature for the mails. Pickle and Republican Jim Dobbs face a runoff to decide who will take the seat in Congress now held by Democrat Rep. Homer Thornberry. Thornberry has refused to accept a federal judgeship, effective Dec. 28. (AP WIREPHOTO)

RHEUMATISM?

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

Neuritis is one of the most painful, nerve-wracking experiences known to man. The pain is boring and stabbing. The victim is unable to get any rest or sleep. Every movement means suffering. There is loss of power and feeling.

A local inflammation of a nerve is called simple neuritis. It is localized in one spot and is usually caused by pressure on a nerve at a point of exit from the spine. Pressure on a nerve near the surface of the body, such as the shoulder or elbow, will result in numbness and tingling. Repeated constriction and pressure may result in inflammation of the affected nerve. The nerve sheath or neurilemma may squeeze the sensitive nerve fibers and form adhesions. This will aggravate the neuritis and develop in a chronic stage. Blows, falls, contusions and long exposure to cold will result in a similar way. The spine should be checked in ALL cases. If you are still suffering from a similar condition or discomfort, have your spine checked at the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic — across from Piggly Wiggly, AM 3-3324, as this woman did:

This woman complained of pains in the left leg (Sciatic nerve), left arm, shoulder and neck. Extremely nervous with headaches in the right temple, gas bloated and constipation complicated by insomnia from her aches and pains. Now, after correction of her spinal nerves, she enjoys freedom from her pains and aches. No. 2173. You can have the same health when your spinal nerves are freed from nerve root irritation.

Frost Hits Panhandle In Cold Front

Tantalizing clouds skirted a rather weak cold front headed southward in Texas and even brought a few lonely showers Tuesday. Thermometers sagged a little below freezing in the Northern Panhandle.

While the cooler air promised to hold temperatures around 10 degrees lower in affected areas, Weather Bureau observers looked for only spotty moisture and no significant amounts.

There was heavy frost at Dalhart, where the mercury sank to 27 degrees at 5:30 a.m.

The front moved into North Texas during the night. Before daylight its leading edge stretched along a line from Southeastern Oklahoma to 30 miles south of Dallas, westward to Abilene and across West Texas to Hobbs, N.M.

An area of scattered light showers about 50 miles in diameter was centered near Kaufman and edging toward the southeast.

Skies were overcast in the Fort Worth-Dallas area and partly cloudy around Wichita Falls, Texarkana, Waco, Longview, Tyler and San Antonio. It was clear elsewhere across the state.

Another night of freezing weather was predicted in the Texas Panhandle, with readings as low as 23 degrees early Wednesday. Forecasts called for generally lower temperatures in most other sections of the state during the night and in parts of South Texas by Wednesday.

Top marks Monday ranged from 85 degrees at Laredo down to 65 at Dalhart.

P-TA To Meet

Gay Hill P-TA will have its monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday with the fifth grade pupils under Mrs. George Archer presenting a brief program. Mrs. Chesley McDonald, Sterling City, will moderate a panel made up of five students. Speaking on the topic, "Is Education Our Affair?" will be Marilee Carr, Randy Foster, Jane Murphy, George Mack Archer and Monte Clendenin. Mrs. Leslie Lloyd, president, will preside at the meeting and at the executive committee session at 7 p.m.

Pierson Jury Trial Begins

AUSTIN (AP) — Selection of jurors begins today in the murder trial of Howard Pierson, accused of killing his parents 28 years ago.

The parents were Texas Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. William Pierson. They were found dead April 24, 1935, near Austin.

Pierson, then a University of Texas student, was adjudged insane six months later and committed to state mental hospitals.

Except for five years as a two-time escapee from the institutions, Pierson was confined until an Austin jury declared him legally sane two months ago.

The trial on the murder indictments then was ordered for Pierson, now 49. He is represented by Austin lawyer Tom Reavley.

An older brother is trustee for a $250,000 fund awaiting Pierson. He is free under $30,000 in bonds.

Dist. Judge Sam Johnson of Hillsboro will hear the case. Pierson first told officers robbers had killed his parents and shot him in the arm. He later said he killed his parents.

Enlistment Rules Are Changed

A major change in enlistment qualifications makes it possible for many prior service Army, Army National Guard and Army Reserves to enlist in the Army. Lt. Col. James W. Dickerson, commanding officer of the U.S. Army Recruiting Main Station, announced today.

Under new rules, mental standard is only one factor to be considered in determining an individual's eligibility for reenlistment. Local recruiters may employ the "whole man concept" which includes mental capability as indicated by his test scores; personal conduct; amenability to discipline, moral standards and attitude; manner of performing assigned duties and physical condition.

These provisions make it possible for some prior service men to re-enlist who have been declined re-enlistment. For more information contact local Army recruiter, Sfc. Raymond J. Woolverton, 207 1/2 W. 4th, Big Spring.

Sewage Treatment Plant Work Delay Is On Agenda

Representatives of Forrest and Cotton, consulting engineers on the city sewer disposal plant, are expected to attend the meeting of the city commission, set for 7 p.m. Tuesday, according to city manager Larry Crow.

The city, acting upon recommendations of the firm, sent a letter last month to Trinity Universal Insurance Company of Dallas, expressing dissatisfaction over the progress of work on the new city sewer disposal plant. The firm is the bonding company for Shiftlet Brothers of Abilene, contractors of the new plant.

A number of items are on the agenda of the meeting including two requests for on-premises consumption of alcoholic beverages permits.

One request, made by W. E. Buckner, is for Boes Restaurant, 301½ N. Gregg. Tommy Hutchison has asked for the other permit for the L&H Grill, 500 NW 3rd.

Emilio Gonzales, operator of a pool hall at 312 NW 4th Street, has appealed a suspension. Police suspended operation of the business following a recent shooting death which allegedly occurred outside the entrance of the pool hall.

Winston Wrinkle, president of a local radio station, has asked $22 compensation from the city for clean up work following damage which occurred when the Professional Building, Seventh and Johnson, was flooded with sewer waste Oct. 3. In his request, Wrinkle stated the blockage occurred between Sixth and Seventh Streets. Sewer waste backed up through the commodes and air conditioner drains, he said.

Wrinkle also is asking that $534.58 be paid to Dr. J. H. Fish for damage to his office and cost of clean up.

Commissioners also will consider a recommendation by the planning and zoning commission for a zone change from IF-1 (one-family residential) to R (retail) for property located at Wasson Road near the City Park entrance. The request was

Two Requests On Agenda

An unusual request will be considered by the zoning board of adjustment when it meets at 4 p.m. Thursday in the City Hall.

Carmen Gonzales, 210 NW 3rd, has requested permission to build a $8,000 tile and concrete residential building in a light industrial zone. The building would be 20 x 23 feet on a 50 x 40 foot lot at 383 N. Gollad in the Tennyson Addition.

An ordinance passed Aug. 28, 1962 gives the zoning board of adjustment authority to permit residential use of property in light and heavy industrial zones.

Jones C. Lamar, 604 Lancaster, has a request pending for a variance to sideline setback requirements. He plans to build an open carport on the side of his house that will be four feet from his side property line. The setback ordinance requires five feet.

Property owners affected by the two requests have been notified of the public hearing.

made by Ike Robb for specific use as a Drive-In theater.

Two new ordinances also will be considered by commissioners. One would declare certain buildings and structures to be nuisances and provide for abatement. The other ordinance would make it a misdemeanor to use public facilities without paying required fees.

The nuisance ordinance grew out of a desire of the city to do something about several vacant and antiquated buildings around town. The fee ordinance is the city's answer to persons who use the city golf course without paying for its use.

Commissioners also will consider the appointment of a committee to secure the construction of a state school for mentally retarded in Big Spring.

Other routine items on the agenda are: (1) Third and final reading of an ordinance permitting on-premises consumption at Mitchell's Cafe, 1009 Lamesa Drive, requested by Huey Mitchell; (2) third and final reading of ordinances changing two three-acre tracts of land west of Birdwell Lane and south of FM 700 from IF-1 (one-family residential) to R (retail), requested by Tom and Garner McAdams.

DEAR ABBY

Let Him Eat Out

DEAR ABBY: My husband is one of those fussy eaters who likes to complain about my cooking, but he never tells me what is wrong with it, or what he would prefer. He just says, "It's lousy!" I have even gone to cooking school to learn nutrition, balanced meals and the art of interesting cooking. People tell me I am a good cook, and I think I am. But what can I do with a husband who keeps telling me the dinner is lousy?

DEAR G.I.: Hang on to your stripes. You've got G.I. fever. If your temperature doesn't return to normal after you get home, write me another letter. In the meantime, let your chaplain mediate.

DEAR ABBY: Happiness is knowing your parents won't almost kill you if you come home a little late. Happiness is having your own bedroom. Happiness is having your parents trust you. Happiness is getting the telephone call you've been praying for. Happiness is getting good grades and making your parents proud of you. Happiness is being included in the popular circle. Happiness is having parents who don't fight. Happiness is knowing you are as well-dressed as anybody. Happiness is something I don't have.

DEAR ABBY: I am a G. I. serving in the Army very far from home. Why is it that I do not need my parents' consent to

DEAR CANT: When your husband comes home for dinner, greet him with, "Don't take your hat off. Honey—we're eating out. And if the food is lousy you can complain to the manager."

DEAR ABBY: I am a G. I. serving in the Army very far from home. Why is it that I do not need my parents' consent to
