Co-op Phone Work May Get Uuderway

High hopes are held by Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Co-operative officials that actual construction work on the proposed system will get underway in the very near future, Sam Allen, the co-op. manager, states.

Final approval from Washington on the construction contract for the first unit is being awaited, and this is expected momentarily. This unit includes the Southland and the four exchanges to be located in Lynn county.

The first shipment of materials for the project, consisting of guy and messenger strands and lashing wire, was received here on Thursday of last week. Other materials are en route.

Work of staking out lines in the Southland exchange area by Cecil M. Hawk and Associates, project engineer, is nearing completion, and Mr. Allen asks that farmers in doing their plowing watch for these stakes. Shortly, they will be setting out stakes in the New Home area.

If stakes should be plowed up accidentally, he requests that the farmer not attempt to replace them but to lay them on the ground as near as possible to the position where they stood and the engineers will reset them. If the farmer replaces them, he could unintentionally put them in the wrong spot and ruin the alignment.

W. R. Greer, 61, Dies Suddenly

W. R. Greer, 61, died suddenly of a heart attack in the field of his Grassland farm at about 7:00 p. m. Monday night. He had been a prominent farmer of the area for twenty-five years.

Mr. Greer had gone to the field late in the evening to see about the water on some land being irrigated. When he didn't return, a brother, Jim Greer, who had been watching the water earlier in the evening, went ot see about him. He found Mr. "Wes" beside the ditch, evidently having fallen over backwards away from the ditch. He probably died instantly. Mr. Greer had been troubled with a heart ailment for some time.

Funeral services were held at Grassland Methodist Church, with O. F. Brightman officiating, and burial followed in Grassland Cemetery under direction of Stanley-Jones Funeral Home.

Wesley Robert Greer was born near Johnson City, Blanco county, October 9, 1890. He moved with his parents to Irion county, west of San Angelo, in 1903. He and his brother Jim went to Voss, Coleman county, in 1910 to work, and there he met and married Miss Nannie Bargeley.

He and his wife moved to Justiceburg in 1915, and on out to their present farm on November 23, 1923, where they have lived since and reared a family of five children. He was a member of the Christadelphia Church. The nearest congregation of this church is at San Angelo, but the Greers were largely instrumental in holding services of the belief in private homes of the Grassland community.

Mr. Greer is survived by his wife and companion; one son, Douglas of Grassland; four daughters, Mrs. Jack (Irene) Ritchey of Slaton, Mrs. John (Opal) Ray of Post, Mrs. Alvin (Billie) White of Dimmitt, and Mrs. J. Fred (Odetta) Bucy of Austin; and ten grandchildren.

He was the first of six brothers and three sisters in the family to die. These are: Jim and C. M. of Grassland, A. W. of Goldthwaite, R. O. and J. O. of Lampasas; Mrs. Beulah Owen of Johnson City, Mrs. A. L. Faubion of Lubbock, and Mrs. Dora Scott of Lampasas.

Burnard Ward Services Today

Last rites for James Burnard Ward, 21, killed in combat in Korea on July 16, 1950, will be held at 3:00 p. m. today, Friday, at the Methodist Church here, and burial will follow in Tahoka Cemetery.

Rev. Jim Sharp, pastor of the local church, assisted by Rev. Aubrey Haymes of Seagraves, will officiate. Tahoka VFW post will furnish the honor guard, and interment will be under direction of Stanley-Jones Funeral Home.

The body arrived in Lubbock at 6:40 p. m. Wednesday from Oakland, California, and was accompanied here by Sgt. Albert S Roth.

Burnard was born in Lynn county on March 5, 1929, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ward, who moved from Tahoka to Seagraves about two years ago. He spent most of his life here, and attended Tahoka High School.

He went into the U. S. Army in August, 1949, and after brief training, he was sent overseas to Japan. He was sent to Korea, and shortly after going up to the firing lines, was killed while fighting the Communists along the Kum River on July 16, 1950.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ward of Seagraves; three brothers, Alvin of Fort Worth, Donald and Charles of Seagraves; and two grand parents, Mrs. Lula Moore of O'Donnell and Mrs. Viola Ward of La Pryor.

Mrs. Odell King, local Auxiliary president, urges all members and those eligible for membership to attend the meeting.

FORMER SUPERINTENDENT VISITS IN TAHOKA

J. B. (Jerry) Pace of Austin, superintendent of the Tahoka schools back in the 1930's, visited the local schools and Supt. Otis Spears Tuesday.

He is Texas representative of the McMillan Publishing Co. He has done exceedingly well financially, and owns a fine home in that city.

Irrigation School Set For Tuesday

Next Tuesday is the day set for the annual Lynn County Irrigation School, which will be held in the district court room from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 3 p. m. The school is being arranged by County Agent Bill Griffin.

John Box of Lubbock Experiment Station will discuss water application on cotton and grain sorghums and give the latest experiment results on effects of watering at different times and stages of growth.

Bob Thurman, Extension Service irrigation specialist, will conduct a discussion on problems of well development and irrigation.

I. C. Mowery, Soil Survey Chief, will discuss the Lynn County soil survey, its importance to the farmer, and give a demonstration on taking of soil samples.

All irrigation farmers and anyone else interested in irrigation may gain some new information of value at this meeting, Mr. Grfifin believes.

Four Charged In Liquor Violations

Charges were filed against four people here late last week for liquor law violations.

Saturday night policemen Bartley and Autry stopped a car for running a red light, and in the car they found 86 pints of whiskey. Charges were filed for illegally transporting liquor against two Lubbock Negroes, Rusley Dobbins and Henry Hughes, in county court. The two were released on bonds pending trial.

Last Friday, Liquor Control Board officers filed liquor charges against two O'Donnell people.

Arneta Smith, Negro woman, was charged with bootlegging. She was fined $100 and costs in county court.

Pete Hernandez, Mexican man, was charged on two counts of illegal sale of beer, and was fined $100 and costs in the first case and $200 and costs in the second.

Draper Will Not Run For Commissioner

To My Friends and the Voters of Precinct No. Four:

I thank you very much for the nice remarks in the recent announcement for one of the most important offices in the county.

I realize this would require more time than I could give such office, if elected; therefore, I ask you to please not consider me as a candidate for Commissioner. The only favor that I ask is, "that you let me live in the house beside the road, and be a friend to man." Again I thank you from the depth of my heart.

—Buel Draper.

Gilbert Steinhauser of Wilson, injured several weeks ago in a car wreck, has had a skin graft on his injured leg. He is reported to be doing nicely at Tahoka Hospital.

Chief E. D. Waldrip Awarded Trophy For Skeet Shooting

Emmett D. Waldrip, aviation chiefy machinist's mate of the U. S. Navy, stationed in Hawaii, recently was one of six men to receive a championship skeet shooting trophy from Rear Admiral T. B. Williamson, USN, Commander Fleet Air Hawaii.

Chief Waldrip is a mechanic with the aircraft inspection department of Air Transport Squadron "1" at the Naval Air Station, Barber's Point, Hawaii. He first enlisted in the Navy in January, 1942.

He was reared at T-Bar in Lynn county, and is the son of Mrs. Beulah M. Waldrip of Tahoka. His wife is the former Miss Eunice J. White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. White of Route 1. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston C. Wharton have been in Austin since Tuesday, where Mrs. Wharton has been attending the fiftieth anniversary reunion of the sorority to which she belonged when a student in the University of Texas. They were to meet her old roommate and husband from Wharton, Texas, and attend the reunion together.

Plan Improvements On Farm-to-Market Roads

Final agreement has been reached between the State Highway Department and the Lynn County Commissioners' Court whereby the State proposes to pave 6.7 miles of new farm-to-market roads in Lynn county and to take over for maintenance about 18.2 miles.

Included in the new paving to be laid during the biennium Sept. 1, 1951, to Aug. 31, 1953, is the long-desired paving to Petty from the present Dixie pavement, and additional paving north of New Home to the Lubbock county line.

State Highway Department engineers have been authorized to prepare plans for construction at an estimated cost of $67,600.00, and to proceed with construction "when right-of-way and funds are available."

This in addition to the proposed paving scheduled this year or next to fill in the gap between New Lynn and Wilson and a little over a mile of new paving east of Grassland, and the taking over of 23 miles of road for maintenance all of which was announced some time ago by the Highway Department.

Following are the minutes forwarded to Judge W. M. Mathis in regard to the paving:

"In Lynn county, the following described roads are hereby designated as Farm-to-Market Road subject to the availibility of funds in the Farm-to-Market Road Fund of the State Highway Department as established by Senate Bill 287, Acts 1949, 51st Legislature and appropriated for improvement of Farm-to-Market roads by the Texas Highway Department during biennium from Sept. 1, 1951, to Aug. 31, 1953, and subject to the further condition that Lynn county will furnish all required right-of-way free of cost to the State:

"From FM 211 at New Home north, west and north to Lubbock county line, a distance of approximately 5.4 miles. (This road is already paved a distance of three miles due north of New Home. The State proposes to pave a dis-

Livestock Show Is Next Week End

Plans are about complete for the annual Lynn County Junior Livestock Show which will be held at the Fair exhibit barns in Tahoka Saturday, March 1, according to Bill Griffin, county agent.

Tahoka Chamber of Commerce and Tahoka Rotary Club are helping sponsor the event again this year, and more livestock are expected to be displayed by 4-H and FFA boys this time than ever before.

Entries should be made Friday, February 29, from 1:00 to 5:00 p. m., and must be made not later than 9:00 a. m. Saturday, March 1. Judging will begin immediately after 9:00.

Ray C. Mowery of Texas Tech will judge the Baby Beef and Fat Lamb divisions, and N. C. Fine, also of Texas Tech, will judge the Fat Barrow division.

George Cluade Wells is again superintendent of the Baby Beef division; Robert Lamb, Ward Eakin, and Robert Taylor of the Fat Barrow division; and B. L. Hatchell of the Fat Lamb division.

Premiums are being offered in all classes of each division.

Lions Club Sets Attendance Mark

Tahoka Lions Club, at its regular meeting on Tuesday night, the Club lacked just one member having one hundred percent attendance, according to John Hurley, the Club reporter.

"Happy" Smith spoke on "Public Relations" at the meeting, and members declare his talk was an excellent one.

The club had planned to hold its Ladies' Night next Tuesday, but has postponed the event because of a conflict with the Grade School pageant set for that night.

Congratulations:

School Show Tuesday Night

Tahoka Grade School will present a pageant, "Time on Parade," Tuesday night at 7:30 p. m., sponsored by the Garden Club, the PTA, and the grade school teachers, and participated in by the children of the school.

The doors will open at 7 p. m., and the show starts at 7:30. Admission is 25 and 50 cents, with proceeds going to the school grounds landscaping program.

Sandwiches, cake, drinks, and other food will be on sale by the Parent-Teacher Association ladies.

Game Contests Friday, March 7

"Bridge, canasta, and '42' players should begin now choosing their partners for the big tournament which will be held at the American Legion hall in Tahoka Friday, March 7, at 8 p. m.," Mrs. Odell King, Legion Auxiliary president, states.

Each entrant will keep the same partner throughout the play in whichever tournament he enters she said. Prizes will be awarded the winners of each division

The tournament is for benefit of the Cancer Research fund.

Mrs. King announces that Mmes. W. V. McElroy, A. C. Weaver, and Meldon Leslie will comprise the game rules of each division.

Glenn Burleson is in charge of radio publicity.

Form Stage Band At Tahoka High

Tahoka High School will have an organized stage band to play at local functions, Mr. Glenn Burleson, director of this band, said this week.

Playing cornets will be Harold Hamilton, Gary Mitchell, and Rollin McCord, Jr. Saxophone players are Margie Curry, Jerry Cain, Sue Williams, and Patricia Inman. John Paul Lawson will play the bass. Trombone players are Paxton Hutchison and Carroll Smith. Jerry King will play the drums and Mary Fenton the piano.

The band purchased a new coke machine which is now in use at the schools.

Slaton Students Present Program

Slaton High School Student Council presented an exchange assembly program in the Tahoka High School auditorium February 14.

"Farmer" Gentry, master of ceremonies, introduced entertainers, consisting of a string band, tap dancers, and vocolists. Everything went at a lively pace and kept the students laughing.

Tahoka's Student Council will return their exchange assembly program at Slaton next Wednesday.

High School students will entertain wth a "Frankie and Johnnie Act," a charleston by Wanda Norman and Tommie Whorton, and many others.

Tahoka's program will be presented here in the high school auditorium February 26 before it is presented in Slaton.

FHA Delegates Will Attend El Paso Meet

Delegates elected to go to the Area II Future Homemakers of America meeting in El Paso next Friday, from Tahoka High School are: Jane Shepherd, Carolyn Henderson, Jo Raindl, and Pat Smith.

The delegates will leave Friday and return March 1. Mr. and Mrs. Geno Jones will accompany them. Mrs. Jones is the local home economics teacher.

Juniors Present Play Tonight

"Meet Corliss Archer," a comedy in three acts, will be presented here tonight at 8:00 o'clock in the high school auditorium by the Tahoka Junior Class.

Tickets went on sale earlier this week and they may still be purchased from any member of the Junior Class. The tickets are twenty-five cents for children and fifty cents for adults.

Corliss Archer is a typical teenage girl, who has her ups and downs like any other young person. When word gets around that Cousin Agnes is about to arrive, things really get in a mess. Mother cracks down and makes Corliss break her date with Dexter Franklin. Corliss gets angry and writes in her dairy that Dexter is a juvenile delinquent who forces vile drinks down her throat.

Characters are as follows: Corliss Archer, a teen-age girl, Frances Flint; Mr. Archer, her father, Carroll Smith; Mrs. Archer, her mother, Shirley Bell; Louise, the maid, Sue Patterson; Mildred, Corliss' best friend, Joan Scott; Dexter Franklin, the boy next door, Harley Schulz; Mr. Franklin, Dexter's father, T. D. Dunlap; Mrs. Franklin, Dexter's mother, Carolyn Henderson; Cousin Agnes, on Mrs. Archer's side, Josephine Raindl; Doctor, from insurance company, Ronald Roberts; Betty, another girl friend, Betty Henry; and a Nurse from the hospital, Patsy Smith.

Five Bulldogs Play Last Home Game, Enter Regional Meet

Tahoka Bulldogs, District 6-AA champions, will be among the eight championship teams competing for the regional title and the right to enter the state finals at the Region I Interscholastic League tournament at Tech Gym Friday of next week. They play either Quanah or Iowa Park, of District 4, at 11 a. m. Friday, February 29.

In the meantime, Coach Jake Jacobs has arranged two warm-up games with a strong Class B team, Coahoma, which is the champion of its district.

Tahoka will play A and B games there Saturday night.

Coahoma Coming Monday

Monday night, Coahoma comes here, with the B game starting at 7:00 p. m. and the A game at 8:00 p. m.

Five Bulldog lettermen will at that time play their last home game for Tahoka High. Graduating lettermen are Wayne Tekell, Lynn Halamicek, Don Brice, and James Foster. Earl Bartley, a junior, will probably not be eligible next year due to the age rule.

Both Class AA and Class A are having their tournaments at Tech at the same time this year, Friday, February 29, and Saturday, March 1. Play will start at 9:30 a. m., followed by afternoon and night sessions. Admission to each session will be 25 cents for students, 50 cents for adults.

If Tahoka wins its first game, it will play at 10:00 a. m. Saturday with the winner of the Levelland-Snyder game. Levelland is champion of District 7-AA, Snyder 5-AA. If Tahoka loses its first game, the season is over for Tahoka.

Bulldogs Swamp Slaton

The Bulldogs closed out their conference season with 7 wins and 1 loss Tuesday night by swamping the Slaton Tigers 52 to 21, with the Tahoka A team playing little more than half the game.

The Tigers put up a game fight, but were clearly outclassed. Tahoka led 13 to 5 at the quarter, 32 to 9 at the half, 42 to 13 at the third.

Lynn In Rain Making Project

Possibly 200 Lynn county farmers met in the district court room here Saturday afternoon and voted unanimously to participate in a seven-county effort to produce more rain in this drouth-stricken area.

Calloway Huffaker and Winston Prichard were named Lynn county representatives to attend a meeting of representatives from other counties in Lamesa Saturday night at 7:30 p. m. to enter negotiations with the Krick Weather Service of Denver.

Sam Allen, principal speaker at the meeting here Saturday, explained the possibilities of the proposed rain-increasing experiments in this area.

He said the Krick firm is a reputable company. Krick does not claim to be a rain-maker, but previous experiments indicate that it is possible to increase the possibility of rainfall through seeding moisture-filled clouds with silver iodide.

Laboratory experiments have been highly successful, but field results are as yet inconclusive. An experiment in northeastern New Mexico is believed to have secured the desired results, while another in southeastern New Mexico have not been too satisfactory.

It is hoped that all seven counties and possibly six or eight more will come into the project. Cost of the project is estimated at $50,000, and would mean an expenditure of possibly 1 to 2 cents per acre to each farmer. Success of the financing project will depend on co-operation of the farmers in helping raise this fund.

Though many farmers here seem skeptical of the project, they declare it will not cost any individual much money and they are willing to give it a trial.

Actually, to give the experiment a thorough test, the project will have to be carried on for possibly two or three years. In addition to the cloud seeding, the Krick firm proposed to furnish farmers of the area with monthly weather forecasts.

MRS. DONALD HALL GIVEN BRIDAL SHOWER

Mrs. Donald Hall, formerly Miss Mildred Phillips, was given a surprise bridal shower by second year home economics girls of Tahoka High School, Monday, Feb. 11, in the home economics department.

She was given an array of kitchen gifts after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. D. W. Haney, 83, of Roscoe, mother of L. C. Haney of this city, who recently fell and broke a hip and who later contracted pneumonia, is now reported to be doing nicely and is on the road to recovery. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Haney recently were at her bedside a few days.

Tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station indicates that spider mites on cotton can be controlled by chemical compounds. Last year's tests evaluated aramite, ovotran, sulphenone, sulphur compound 923, T E P P, parathion, phosphorous compound 4049, EPN and sulphur dust for mite control.

Smith is also national vice chairman for the Southwestern division of the Conference. He has recently received recognition in a national magazine for his efforts to improve Latin American relations through his work with the Texas Council on Human Relations. Governor Shivers is honorary chairman for Texas of the annual Brotherhood Week celebration.

Seismograph Workers Thank People of Tahoka

Our gravity meter party representing Seismograph Service Corporation of Tulsa, Okla., arrived here during the middle part of November, 1951.

For several of us it was our first glimpse of West Texas, and also Tahoka. During the last three months we have all gradually realized the wonderful community spirit that exists in your town, and it would be impossible for us to mention each and every person with whom we have had the privilege of meeting.

Since our pending move from here is now imminent, we take this opportunity of saying that we are extremely grateful for the kindness shown to us, and we wish all the townsfolks of Tahoka the very best of luck for the future.

Farm Bureau Starts Membership Drive

Officers, directors, and a few workers of the Lynn County Farm Bureau held their annual membership drive "kick-off" dinner, heard a thought-provoking talk, and made plans for opening their permanent office Monday night at the American Legion hall.

Workers are now out signing up old members and securing new ones. The organization, the only one designed for the purpose of fighting the farmers' battles, hopes to secure a membership of 500 to 600 this year.

The worker securing the most members will receive a $25.00 prize, President Jay Moore announced, and other leaders will be presented certificates. Elmer Blankenship is the membership chariman.

The organization is opening a temporary office at Tahoka Co-op gin, where a secretary will be maintained to carry on the business of the organization. One of the services offered farmers will be the filling out of gas exemption forms free of charge to all farmers. Another is insurance service.

A delicious chicken dinner was served to the men Monday night prepared by two ladies and arranged by Blankenship and Guy Smith.

Officers and directors of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce were guests, and Charles Verner, president, spoke briefly pledging full cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce to anything the farmers wanted. He said the Tahoka body recognized farming as our one and only means of existence and called attention to the fact that a farmer who works in the Farm Bureau, Hubert Tankersley, had served as president of the Chamber of Commerce, and that another, Fred McGinty, is a present director.

The principal address was by Sam Allen, Dawson County Farm Bureau president and Poka-Lambro co-ordinator.

Mr. Allen told briefly of the rain-increasing project and the progress of the rural telephone co-operative.

He then presented an address in two parts, one he entitled "A Message to City People," and the other "Examine the Sick Patient."

In the first part of his talk he defended the farmer's alleged part in the rising costs of living. The rising costs, he said, are frequently charged to the farmer, which is not true. The farmers compose but 18 percent of our population. He defended support prices, and presented facts and figures to show that the price of farm products is not causing the continued rise in prices generally. As an example, he said in 1947 somebody figured out that a bale of cotton sold by the farmer for $150 produced handerchiefs that retailed for $6,000. Somewhere between the producer and the consumer is the wide spread of increase, he indicated.

In the second part, he made a plea for the people to wake up if they hope to continue the Democratic way of life. He cited efforts of the Executive Branch to put over the Fair Employment practices act, the national health insurance (socialized medicine), the recent refusal to grant access to records of Govrenment men accused of disloyalty, the threat to freedom of speech and of the press by placing a "gag" on department heads.

He criticized the Supreme Court for not permitting Attorney General Price Daniel of Texas to present the treaty under which Texas was admitted to the Union, or to present other documentary evidence, in the Tidelands Case.

He also discussed the Brannan plan for agriculture, which he termed socialistic, the Interior Department's attempt to limit the size of farms in a reclamation project, and the attitude of the Secretary of Labor toward farm labor.

Following the meeting, officers and workers laid their plans for the membership campaign.

LAKEVIEW H. D. CLUB MET WITH MRS. HENRY EDGE

The Lakeview Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Henry Edge Wednesday afternoon, February 13, with twenty members present and three visitors, Mrs. O. K. Briggs, Mrs. P. E. Hall and Mrs. Hillary Smith.

Mrs. T. H. Charters and Mrs. Cecil Yeatts taught a very interesting lesson on making wood-pulp flowers.

The ladies all brought something to be auctioned off and the proceeds put in our treasurery.

The Valentine theme was used in the serving of refreshments with hot spiced punch and heart shaped cookies.

Also there was an exchange of gifts and valentines among the clubs "Secret Pals."

United States popular cigarette brands now cost 40 cents a package in Peru.

NEW HOME LADIES PLAN VISIT TO GIRLSTOWN

The New Home Demonstration Club met February 14 at the Methodist Cuhrch with 14 members and one guest present. Mrs J. H. Kornegay and Mrs. E. R. Blakney were admitted as new members.

During the business session, plans were made for a committee to visit "Girlstown" with the idea of adopting this as our club project for 1952.

The program consisted of "Corsage Making." Mrs. Joe D. Unfred taught other members of the club how to make corsages of nylon and wood fibre.

A Valentine theme was carried out in refreshments and favors. Mrs. J. R. Strain and Mrs. Morris Renfroe were hostesses.

The following members were present: Mesdames W. C. Thompson, N. B. Hancock, A. L. Armontrout, Fred Edwards, Claude James, Virgil Haley, G. B. Mayfield, B. A. Morrow, Morris Renfroe, N. A. Rodgers, J. R. Strain, L. F. Taylor, Joe D. Unfred, and Aubrey Smith. —Reporter.

CARD OF THANKS

This is a delayed and imperson al way of saying "thanks," but so far it has been impossible to see each of you in person to tell you how very, very much we've appreciated every kind deed, prayerful thought, each cheerful message, and all the lovely flowers. Especially do we thank the blood donors and the numerous offers of blood. Words cannot fully express our appreciation. —Mr. and Mrs. Lee Holden and Lee Edward, Meadow, Route 1.

Buick even keeps the Sun in its Place

Of course, this new glass— which reduces glare and incoming sun-heat— is a Buick feature in '52

Wheel Covers standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series

WITH all the new things we've had to talk about in 1952 Buicks, we're just getting around to this one.

It's called "Easy-Eye Glass"†—a new kind of glass with a cool, soft, blue-green tint, which filters the sun's rays entering your car—cuts down their glare and heat.

You'll appreciate the "glare control" at any time—and when you hit your first stretch of hot-weather driving you'll find that this glass does a great job of keeping the heat out of your lap.

We know—because thousands of happy Buick owners already have this new comfort feature. The rest of the automobile industry is just beginning to discover what Buick discovered a year ago. It's a great idea, which costs you very little extra if you order it when you're buying a new car.

But this still leaves the other folks with a lot of catching up to do.

You'll look a long way before you'll find anything that approaches a Buick's million dollar ride.

You'll look a long way before you'll find anything so completely satisfying as Dynaflow Drive.*

You'll find it hard to match the style and beauty and harmonious good taste of a 1952 Buick's interior trim and fabrics.

And when it comes to what you get for what you pay—we'll gladly match price tags with the field.

Have you had a good look at the '52 Buicks? That's something you ought to do soon.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. †Optional at extra cost—available on most models. (Not presently available in Massachusetts.) Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Sure is true for '52

Girl Scout Troop Observe Birthday

Troop I Girl Scouts celebrated the first birthday of the troop at a meeting Tuesday, February 12, at 4:15 p. m. at the American Legion Hall.

The girls of the troop presented a brief program giving a review of their year's work. They enumerated the points already accomplished toward second class rank. In addition, the fact was brought out that the troop has been self-supporting. Through the sale of Girl Scout Cookies, the troop has earned $115.40 for promoting their work.

Some of the mothers and friends of the troop attended the party to help the scouts in their celebration.

The huge birthday cake, which was baked by the co-leaders of the troop, was cut and served to the following scouts and their guests:

Janie Ware, Patricia Williams, Lorraine Binion, Virginia Willhoit, Anita Mowery, Patsy Voyles, Jan Whitaker, Tim Tippit, and Paula Jane Wood.

Mesdames E. Prohl, I. C. Mowery, W. V. McElroy Buel Draper, L. R. Blair, and Oscar Whittaker.

The co-leaders of the troop are Mrs. J. T. Tippit and Mrs. N. E. Wood.

PETTY HANDI-WORK CLUB HAS MEETING

Petty Handi-Work Club met in the home of Mrs. J. R. Turner on Feb. 4. Seven members and three visitors were present.

The hostess gave a demonstration on making door props out of milk bottles. The bottles are dressed up like Aunt Jemima and are very cute.

Refreshments of cookies and cokes were served to Mrs. J. W. Schuknecht, Mrs. W. T. Rogers, Mrs. Roy Blevins, Jackie Smith Mrs. G. H. Isbell, Betty Isbell and the visitors, Mrs. J. W. Edwards and Charlene of New Home and Mrs. Frank Martin of Hamlin.

Monday, Feb. 18, the same club met in the home of Mrs. Blevins with 11 members present, Mrs. J. R. Turner, who was ill, being the only member absent. Mrs. Blevins joined the club, making 13 members.

The club quilts were wroked on, one set together. A pink and blue shower was given Mrs. Bob Miller, and a demonstration on diaper folding was given. "Secret Pal" gifts were exchanged.

Dates and places of the next three meetings were decided. The next meeting, March 3, is with Mrs. Bob Miller, and the program will be stenciling.

Refreshments were served. — Reporter.

In areas of the state where moisture and other conditions are favorable, the vegetable varieties that are cold-hardy can be planted. Broccoli, cabbage, lettuce, onions, peas, Irish potatoes, spinach and turnips can be planted from four to six weeks before the last spring frost. Beets, carrots, chard, mustard, parsnips, and radishes can be planted from two to four weeks before the last spring frost date.

Home Laundry Show Is Next Tuesday

Something new for the modern housewife is the Electric Home Launrdy Show being staged in Tahoka at the American Legion hall next Tuesday, February 26, beginning at 1:30 p. m.

There have been cooking schools, home decorating schools, sewing clinics, flower shows, etc., but this is the first time an Electric Home Laundry Show has ever been staged in this immediate area.

The show is being sponsored by the Southwestern Public Service company through cooperation of Mr. John Reasonover, local manager, and several local dealers in electric home washing machines and other laundry equipment.

Most of the modern electric home laundry machines will be on display and demonstrated at the school.

In charge of the school program itself will be two experienced home economists, both of whom are home service advisors with the Southwestern Public Service company.

Mrs. Eleanor Woodson, the director, is a home economics graduate of Oregon State College, and has had wide experience in the home field. She served for two years as home demonstration agent in Lincoln county, Oregon, and for ten months was women's director with Radio Station KOAC Corvallis, Oregon.

Mrs. Martha McCormick, her assistant, is a graduate of Texas Technological College at Lubbock, and is well acquainted with many people over this area. She, too, is with the power and light company.

During the school, latest laundry methods will be demonstrated and there will be many helpful tips in cleaning, drying, ironing, as well as in the proper use of the machines, their care and upkeep, etc.

It is said there will be a lot of spice, fun, and entertainment in the program as well as helpful instruction. An effort is made to keep the program lively and snappy and enjoyable as well as informational.

The ladies are invited to bring their husbands along too, as they will enjoy the program and maybe they can be enticed into doing some of the washing.

With the modern home laundry machines, the cleaning of clothing in the proper way and making them look fresh and new, as well as clean, is no longer a drudgery. Such a task can be made a pleasure if properly organized, the proper equipment is available and the proper methods are used.

Mr. Reasonover says there will be door prizes which will be given some attendants at the school.

This is not strictly an advertising stunt. There will be no selling on the program. It is simply one of the services offered free by the Southwestern Public Service company and the local dealers in home appliances as an aid to the housewives of the area.

The school directors will also try to answer all questions on home cleaning problems. Every one is invited. There are no admission charges and no other strings attached.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Wess Greer wish to express their deep appreciation to the many friends who sent floral offerings and food during the recent death of our husband and daddy. The sympathy of the hundreds that called, the Grassland Methodist Church and its choir, the pallbearers, and the many friends who showed so much kindness and consideration will always be remembered in our prayers. God bless each one. --Mrs. Wess Greer, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Richey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Greer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ray and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin White and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Bucy and Freddie.

MRS. W. A. S. WILLIAMS SUFFERS ACCIDENT

Mrs. W. A. S. Williams came very near losing the middle finger of her right hand when she got the member caught in a washing machine wringer at her home Thursday of last week.

She was taken to Bronnenberg Clinic, where the Doctor took 20 stitches in the finger.

Style Show Has Fine Turn-Out

The Tahoka Garden Club presented the first Style Show sponsored by local merchants last Monday evening in the school gymnasium.

It was a complete success, and enjoyed by all. People left saying they did not realize such smart clothing could be bought in Tahoka.

A little more than $150.00 was raised from the show for the project.

Mrs. L. C. Haney, assisted by Mesdames Roy Edwards, J. K. Applewhite, and H. W. Carter, planned the beautiful garden setting. The models entered through an arch of greenery and flowers and walked through the garden. Young girls in evening dresses sat at tables in the garden to watch the show, and added color and beauty to the scene.

About 80 garments were modeled including children's, sports and bathing suits, dressy cottons, suits, party clothes, lengerie and evening clothes.

Specialty numbers, which were outstanding, added to the enjoyment of the show. A Boogie tap by Miss Shirley Bell and a swing quartet from Lamesa, played popular music. The quartet was composed of Richard Crawley, Pete Simon, Jack Sanders, and R. D. Shaddix. Mrs. "Pat" Patterson also rendered piano music.

W. V. McIEroy and J. A. Biggerstaff recently spent a couple of days down at Buchanan and Roy Inks lakes fishing, and W. V. reports that they sacked up the fish—all the law would allow. They caught their limits of black and white bass, fishing from the bank.

Beverly Ann Jacobs, 9 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Jacobs, who moved here recently to work for John Witt, was ill last week in Bronnenberg Clinic with pneumonia. She was released Saturday.

People in El Salvador are complaining that bus fares have gone up to four cents.

4-H Club Week will be observed in Texas and the nation from March 1 through March 9, 1952.

The Garden Club expresses its thanks to the following firms who made the show possible:

House of Flowers, Stanley Jones Funeral Home, Fielder Jewelry, Duchess Beauty Shop, and Mrs. C. E. McClellan, for Beauty Counsellor make-up.

The clothing was furnished by: Robinson Ready-to-Wear, Abbie's Fashion Shop, and Ayer Way Cleaners.

The script and narration was by Mrs. A. M. Bray.

All proceeds from the sale of tickets will be used to beautify and landscape the school grounds.

Freeze 'em Now, Eat 'em Later

COLLEGE STATION, —At present prices, it will pay homemakers to freeze and store eggs. The foods and nutrition specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say that thawed eggs may be used the same as fresh eggs for cakes, meringues, omelets, souffles and scrambled as well as in any other recipe calling for eggs.

For freezing, eggs should be cooled to about 32 degrees F. Egg whites and egg yolks may be frozen separately or mixed. Egg whites need no treatment. Mixed whites and yolks or just yolks should have 1 tablespoon light colored corn syrup mixed with 2 cups of the eggs to prevent the yolks forming into a thick curd-like mass during storage. Salt, 1 teaspoon per cup of yolks, may be used instead of corn syrup if the eggs are to be used for making mayonnaise.

The specialists say clean each egg and break into a small dish to be sure there is no stale odor. Pour into a bowl, mix thoroughly and freeze in small containers. Use promptly after thawing.

The following are correct measurements when using thawed eggs:

1 tablespoon yolk equal 1 egg yolk;

2 tablespoons whites equal 1 egg white;

3 tablespoons yolk and whites equal 1 whole egg.

The Texas Food Standard calls for one egg per day for each member of the family. These may be eaten in prepared foods or as whole eggs.

Grain Sorghum Important Feed

COLLEGE STATION, —Grain sorghum by-product feeds—sorghum gluten feed and sorghum gluten meal—may become important in the rations of livestock grown in Texas. These feeds have been available for only three years.

Grain sorghum made up about 30 per cent of the total grain grown in Texas from 1941 to 1950. In 1950 it made up nearly 50 per cent of the total grain produced in the state.

One reason for the increasing importance of grain sorghum in Texas is its expanding industrial use. The grain now is being processed in a manner similar to corn.

Sorghum gluten feed and sorghum gluten meal are by-products obtained when sorghum grain is processed for starch, sugar and oil. These feeds are offered for sale as "milo gluten feed" and "milo gluten meal."

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station conducted a series of feeding trials from 1947 through 1951 to determine the value of these by-products. Beef cattle, dairy cattle, poultry, sheep and swine were fed in the tests.

"Grain Sorghum By-product Feeds for Farm Animals," B-743, a new bulletin released by the Experiment Station, discusses the feeding value of sorghum gluten feed and sorghum gluten meal. This bulletin is available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

Germany and Japan are battling the United States for Ecuador's toy market.

4-H Club Week will be observed in Texas and the nation from March 1 through March 9, 1952.

No Good Found In Common Fly

AUSTIN, —This is a story about flies, told by a man who despises them for the disease they spread.

"Flies are one of the few species of life which does absolutely no good on this earth," State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox charges. "Other insects are annoying, but they earn their existence by pollenizing plants or by feeding on less desirable forms of life. But not flies."

He says the black swarming insects have but one saving grace: their short lives. A fly reaching maturity in the spring won't live to annoy autumn picnickers. One reaching adulthood in the fall might make it through the winter, but by spring he'll be aged and feeble, too old to pester folks out to witness the wonders of the fresh new season.

But during its lifespan, Dr. Cox says, "a fly is extremely prolific. If a single pair begin their family in April, and if all their progeny live, there would be countless millions by fall."

"That's no pipe dream," the doctor said. "It's based on the most accurate entomological evidence."

In case you have ever wondered how far a fly can fly, Dr. Cox has the answer to that one, too. He says entomologists have found an energetic one can cover 15 miles in one day without the aid of wind currents. How did they find out?

They trapped one, fed him radioactive phosphorous and set him loose. Retrapped, experimentors used a Geiger counter to make the identification. He was 15 miles from the starting point.

There's only one answer to the fly problem in Texas, Dr. Cox believes. He says cleanliness, using chemical science as a tool, will keep them under control.

"And start now," he advises. "This weather is ideal for fly breeding."

He doesn't like flies at all.

GEN. R. E. LEE'S PORTRAIT FOR WEST POINT—A feature of the observance of the sesqui-centennial of the U. S. Military Academy will be the unveiling of a new portrait of the Confederate leader when he was commandant of the school just 100 years ago. Robert E. Lee then was 44 years old and held the permanent rank of captain in the Regular Army with the brevet of colonel for distinguished service in the Mexican War. The unveiling ceremony will take place January 19—Gen. Lee's birthday and the 100th anniversary of the day he became superintendent of West Point. The portrait, painted by Sidney E. Dickenson, will be a companion piece to that of Gen. U. S. Grant. A program, circulated to the Association of graduates, said the ceremoney will "stress the national unity that has never been threatened since these two generals were in the field."

Above is an engraving of a portrait of Lee in Army engineer headquarters at Fort Belvoir, Va. It depicts him in his uniform of the period of the Mexican War. (Photo from the National Archives distributed by the Department of De-

History Contest Is Open To All

CANYON, Feb. 19, —The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society this week announced April 15 as the deadline for the Southwestern Historical Writers' Contest fro 1952. Entry into the contest is open to anyone interested in preparing a paper from historical source materials of the Southwestern Plains.

First prize in the contest is $100 and second prize is $50.

Papers may be written upon any historical subject dealing with any phase of the history of West Texas and the Southwest. Reminiscences, diaries, biographies, letters, town and county histories, or the history of institutional developments of any kind will be acceptable.

Emphasis should be placed by a writer upon human interest and general historical value. All research papers should be documented with bibliography attached. Dates and specific locations should be emphasized wherever possible, and any subject undertaken should be fully developed.

Papers must be typewritten on one side only, double spaced and on 8½x11 paper.

Papers should be addressed to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, Canyon, Texas. For further information or consultation write Dr. L. F. Sheffy, Canyon.

THS Athletic Fund Now Out Of Debt

Tahoka High School's athletic fund has paid out of debt as a result of receipts from last fall's football games and through close management, according to J. M. (Maurice) Small, the school district secretary.

At the beginning of the current school year, the fund had a balance of $364.20 in the bank, but it owed a total of $3,487.90 for equipment and supplies bought in previous years, he said. All this debt has been paid off, and the account is "in the black" again with a balance of $163.07.

Athletics in Tahoka School are supported from game receipts, and none of the tax funds are used in these competitive sports.

When this school year began with the large debt, it seemed that the fund could not pay out of debt this year. However, the football team won the district championship, drew good crowds throughout the season, and then got a nice slice of about $1,900.00 from the bi-district game with Anson. Also, the championship basketball team has been drawing better crowds this year than in the past. Such attendance at games has enabled the Athletic Fund to come out of the hole.

Total receipts so far this year have totaled $9,821.61, nearly all from ticket sales at games, while expenditures have totaled $9,658.54.

Expenditures include the old $3,487.90 debt, $1,020.38 in new equipment, game officials, game guarantees, League dues, insurance, hospital and doctors' fees, Federal taxes, bus expenses, meals, laundry, scouting, football letter jackets, etc.

Safe Living Is Prime Objective

COLLEGE STATION. —Safe living should be the objective of every citizen. The frightful toll of human life taken annually by accidents can be reduced only when safe living is actually practiced by every one. Every day during 1952, funeral services may be held somewhere in Texas for a farm accident victim. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee headed by J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, and E. C. Martin, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, strongly believe that Texans will do something about the situation.

The committee met in Waco on January 19 to hear reports and to make additional plans for conducting educational programs that will carry the message of safe living to all Texans. Martin told the group that 15,500 farm people died last year in the United States as a result of accidents. The farm group, as shown by the 1950 census, makes up only 15.6 per cent of the nation's population yet more of them died from accidents than did the group working in other industries.

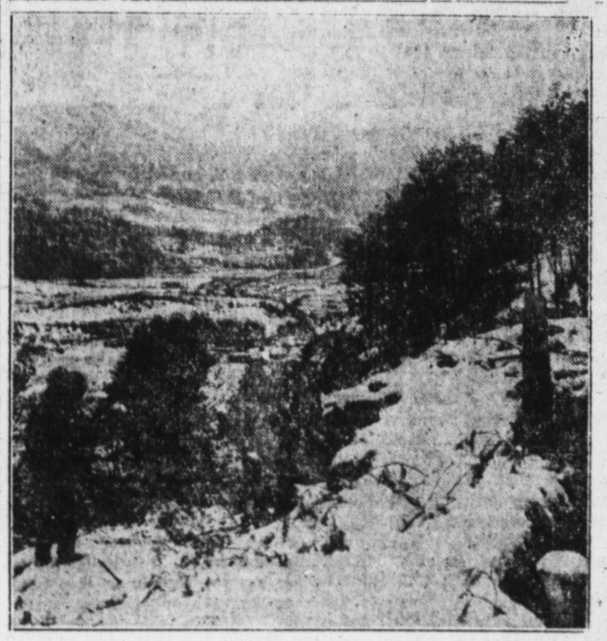

Right now, continued Martin, a great deal of attention is being given to solving the expected labor shortage in agriculture, while little is being done to prevent the accidents that last year caused a loss in man days sufficient to produce and harvest a goodly proportion of some of our major crops. Too little attention is given, he says, by most rural residents to making life safe on the farm.

In order to encourage more participation by individuals and groups, the committee is making plans now to recognize outstanding contributions to farm safety in the state. Agencies and organizations that work with rural people will be asked to expand their programs in safety and to nominate individuals and groups doing the most outstanding work in preventing accidents on the farm or in the home. Awards will be made annually at the State Safety Conference, and will be in the form of certificates citing the winners for their safety achievements.

Youth groups such as the 4-H Clubs, FFA and FHA Chapters are expected to contribute much to the program. Farm and ranch organizations including the home demonstration clubs are also expected to step up their activities in the safety field.

Young and old can do their part in reducing the number of accidents on the highways. Last year more than 35,000 lives were lost from such accidents in the United States. Chances are that several funerals were held during 1951 in your county for traffic accident victims and unless traffic safety rules and regulations are observed here after the next victim may be a member of your family or yourself.

Members of the State Farm and Ranch Safety Committee are convinced that a lot of mighty good teamwork is needed now to whip the problem and they urge every citizen to participate in meetings and demonstrations where safety is discussed. They believe that in this age of mechanization larger attention to safety will make rural living more pleasant and profitable.

LOCAL BOY ACHIEVES RECOGNITION IN BAPTIST CHURCH WORK

The annual Brotherhood Evangelistic Rally of District 9 of the Baptist General Convention of Texas was held at the Frist Baptist Church, Lubbock, Tuesday night. The main speaker of the evening was Dr. John Huss, pastor of Calvery Baptist Church, Spartenburg, South Carolina. Dr. Huss has made the enviable record of maintaining the largest prayer meeting attendance of any church in the Southern Baptist Convention. His Wednesday evening attendance regularly numbers above one thousand and has approached two thousand.

At this Lubbock meeting, some fifty boys were recognized for their work in Royal Ambassadors, a boys' organization of the Baptist Church. Only two boys in the district were recognized as Ambassador Extraordinary. They were Paul Renfro of Littlefield and Larry Ramsour of Tahoka. There is only one rank higher for these boys to achieve, that of Ambassador Plenipotentiary. It will likely take another year for them to complete the work for this rank.

A work shop on home grounds improvement will be held at Tex. as State College for Women, Denton, on March 13-14. Some 500 members of home demonstration clubs adn a limited number of non-members are expected to attend.

"From US 87, 8 miles north of Tahoka, west to end of FM 1317 a distance of 3.5 miles. (In effect the State is taking over for maintenance this 3.5 miles through Dixie community which was built under the Lynn county bond issue of 1946.)

"From FM 212 at Grassland south and west to FM 1054, a distance of approximately 5.6 miles. (Also, paving laid by Lynn county being taken over by the State for maintenance purposes.)

Judge Mathis states that the Highway Department is now engaged in working up right-of-way easements on the New Lynn to Wilson road, and it is his understanding that this will be paved by the State as soon these right-of-ways are completed.

This involves 4.2 miles of proposed paving from existing paving at a point 2.5 miles east of Wilson south of the present paving which goes east to New Lynn and the road which extends south to US 380.

Included in this order, also, are the proposals to take over for maintenance by the State 10.4 miles of existing paving from Wilson east to Garza county line; 6.2 miles from US 84 at Lubbock county line south to this same Wilson-Garza county road; and 2.2 miles from Grassland east to Garza county line.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

Over 90 per cent of the 16,000 doctors of veterinary medicine in the United States spend most of their time vaccinating food-producing stock such as cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry, inspecting meat and milk, and carrying on activities to control such diseases as tuberculosis and brucellosis that can be transmitted from animals to men. Healthy animals are necessary also to supply insulin, liver extract, adrenalin, cortisone, ACTH and other products important to the modern treatment of disease.

Answer to Question No. 2:

It is a disease causing severe muscular spasm and can result in death. When it involves the muscles of the jaw, it is known as "lockjaw." Puncture type wounds made by rusty nails and other such objects are the most frequent portals of entry for the tetanus bacillus which is the direct cause of the disease. The disease may be prevented if tetanus antitoxin is administered promptly.

Answer to Question No. 3:

Glaucoma is a disease of the eye diagnosed by too much fluid in the eyeball and increased tension. The actual cause is unknown. Glaucoma may lead to blindness, but if treated early and persistently, it can be held in check over many years. It is primarily a disease of older people.

Rev. H. Martin Dies Suddenly

Rev. Howard Martin, 44, former pastor at Central Baptist Church east of Tahoka, died suddenly of a heart attack near Lubbock Wednesday morning.

He died while driving the car of his son-in-law, Robert Warren, also formerly of this county. Witnesses saw the car go out of control and finally come to a stop alongside the Santa Fe railroad track and the Brownfield highway a short distance southwest of Lubbock. On investigation, they found Rev. Martin slumped in the seat dead. He was riding in the car alone.

Rev. Martin was born at Caps Taylor county, in April, 1907. He received his college education at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and went into the ministry. In bauot 1945, he served as pastor of the Central Baptist Church near Grassland, and he and his family were well known in the community. At the time of his death, he was residing near Dowd Switch, southwest of Lubbock.

Funeral services are to be held today, Friday, at 2:00 p. m. at the Arnett-Benson Baptist Church in Lubbock, with Rev. Cecil Ray officiating, and burial will be in Tech Memorial Cemetery.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Inez Martin; two sons, Howard Martin Jr. of Amarillo and David Wayne Martin of Lubbock; three daughters, Mrs. Robert L. (Leta) Warren of Rt. 6, Lubbock, Juannell and Sharon Martin of the family home; his mother, Mrs. W. W. Martin of Haskell, five grandchildren, five sisters, and one brother.

central office equipment, through Graybar Electric of Dallas, for the first five exchanges here Wednesday morning. Its bid was $96,000. Only other bid was for $98,000 from Federal Telephone and Radio Corporation.

Due to difference in type of equipment, study by the engineer will be necessary before making a selection, which is expected on Wednesday of next week.

Basanda Construction Company of Oklahoma City has the general contract for construction of lines at a cost of $506.000. Included in this contract is $122,000 in lead-covered cable being furnished by Automatic Electric Company and about $30,000 worth of wire being furnished by Kellog Switchboard and Supply Company.

Another contract for $34,000 is held by Automatic to furnish telephone instruments and the inside wire.

The first units of construction are the exchange areas at Southland, New Home, New Lynn, West Lakes (west of Tahoka), and Fletcher Carter (Grassland, Redwine, and Draw communities).

At the board meeting here on Wednesday, V. R. Osborpe of Levelland was elected president of the board, and James T. Dunn of Lamesa was named a new member of the board to succeed Mr. Allen, who recently was named manager of Poka-Lambro.

The Poka-Lambro Co-operative includes at the present time five counties and parts of four others. They are Lynn, Dawson, Gaines, Terry, and Hockley; and parts of Garza, Borden, Martin and Yoakum.

BILLY LOREN THOMAS VISITS HIS PARENTS

Cpl. Billy Loren Thomas left Saturday to return to Langley Air Force Base in Virginia, after having spent 15 days vsiiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thomas of Grassland.

On Thursday night of last week he was honored by his parents with a party at their home. Thirty-five friends enjoyed games of canasta and "42." Refreshments of Angel food hearts, punch, and sandwiches were served.

Havens led the scoring with 12 points, Tekell had 9, Halamicek 8, Brice 3, Howle 3, Bartley 2, Slover 4, Ables 2, James Foster 4, Brooks 5, John Foster and Max Dodson 0. G. W. Wiley was high man for Slaton with 5.

The B game was much more exciting, with Tahoka winning by a 41-37 score. Tahoka led 9 to 8 at the quarter, 19-17 at the second, and 36-28 at the third. The boys experimented at freezing the ball the last three minutes and Slaton took four points off the eight-point margin.

Dodson led the scoring with 9 points, John Foster had 8, Slover 6, Huddleston 5, Brooks 4, Paris, Ables Sherrod, and Lehman 2 each, Curry 1, and Carter 0. Wiley and Gentry each had 8 points for Slaton.

Girls Play Well

Tahoka girls played their best game of the year for nearly three quarters, and then the Slaton girls got away to pile up a 34 to 14 score.

Tahoka led 6 to 2 at the quarter and 10 to 9 at the half. In the third quarter, however, Slaton took an 18 to 11 lead, and ran away with the game in the fourth. New of Slaton took high point honors with 16, while Deanie Edwards had 10 for Tahoka. Tahoka guards, Jerry LeMond, Jeanette Jenkins, and Loretta Bartley did a good job, especially in the first half.

Cubs Swamp Bulldogs

Last Friday night at Brownfield, the Tahoka Bulldogs could do nothing right, and took a 54 to 28 drubbing at the hands of the Cubs.

This was the Cubs' last game of the year and the last high school game for six Cub seniors, and they ended their season with a blaze of glory.

Auburg of Brownfield was the high point man wth 20 points, while Don Brice and Wayne Tekell, each had 8 points for Tahoka.

Brownfield also won the B game by a narrower margin, 49 to 44. Steve Slover rolled in 20 points for high honors, while Stockton was high for Brownfield with 10.

Tahoka fans are urged to honor the five Bulldogs playing their last home game here with Coahoma Monday night, and to be on hand Friday at 11 a. m., February 29, at the Texas Tech gym in the regional tournament.

BILL SHORT HOPES TO BE HOME SOON

Bill Short, in "boot" training at the San Diego Naval station, writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Short, that he hopes to complete his work there and get leave to come home for a few days about March 21.

On Feb. 15, he was honored when his commander presented him a "Recruit Chief Petty Officer" certificate and put him in charge of drilling 80 other recruits.

Bill also wrote that he greatly enjoys reading The Lynn County News, which his mother is sending him.

Native Of England Is Speaker On Tahoka Rotary Club Program

Mike Tyrrell, a native of England, presented one of the most delightful, entertaining and informational talks of recent weeks when he spoke before Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

Mike has been a resident of Tahoka since last November 11, coming here directly from Canada. He is crew chief for Seismograph Service Corporation of Tulsa. He and his crew of six men expect to move to Rotan in the next few days.

His impressions of and observations on America and its people were refreshing and interesting, as were also those about his own England and its people.

Without attempting in any way to "sell" England in his talk, his wit, humor, and revelations built up considerable good-will for "the old country" among his American cousins who heard him.

"I have learned not to judge a country by one town or a few people," he declared, "but I must say I like you folks out here in West Texas, and I like the carefree attitude of the Americans."

Since coming here, he has been initiated in the "Yellow-Dogs" and the "Cow-Cow," well-known Tahoka "lodges."

Mike Tyrrell was born in Belfast, Ireland, but spent his early years in Johannesburg, South Africa. When he came of school age, his parents moved to England, and he grew up near London and graduated from Sherbourn School.

While attending the World Boy Scout Jamboree in 1938, he came in contact with King George VI, who died a few days ago. He was impressed with the fact that this man, trained all his life for Royalty and the formal way of life, was a "regular fellow" when with the Scouts.

He explained something of the Englishman's traditional revenence toward the Royal family. In contrast to the American way, he said such reverence was a part of the British tradition. Furthermore, he declared, expense of keeping up the Royal family takes little from the British tax dollar, and much less than is required in the United States to run the President's retinue and office.

In school he had studied practically nothing of American history, and had given our country hardly a thought. But, during the war, he served in the Royal Air Force and came in contact with many Americans. Some he came to know and like them, and a desire arose in him to see the New World.

Five years ago, he came to Toronto, Canada. And, he lived in that country until last November, when he got a job with Seismograph Service Corporation of Tulsa and came directly to Tahoka on his first job.

He said he was greatly impressed with the bigness of this country. At home, when he took a trip 300 miles away to North England, his family all went the train to see him off, to kiss him good-by, and to bid him bon voyage. Over here, no one thinks anything at all of dashing off on a 300-mile trip.

Though he didn't say so in so many words, his talk emphasized the fact that peoples over the world are a lot alike in many respects, and if they and their leaders would just "give a little and take a little" and try to understand each other and approach their differences with tolerance, the complex problems now existing between nations on this crowded earth could be settled peaceably.

The speaker was secured for the program by "Happy" Smith.

W. L. KNIGHT CELEBRATES HIS 88th BIRTHDAY

W. L. Knight, former Tahoka business man, now retired, quietly celebratedh his eighty-eight birthday Sunday. He and Mrs. Knight, 87, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nance and children, celebrated the occasion with a dinner at the family home.

Mr. and Mrs. Knight have been married 63 years, Mr. Nance states, who quoted Mr. Knight as saying he "feel like he is 24."

ODDS AND ENDS

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

Here I am, folks, away down here in the City of Mexico, in a strange land, among a strange people, with a strange background and a strange history, having strange customs, speaking a strange language, and doubtless thinking strange thoughts—strange at least to us, if we could read their minds.

However, anything that one might say about one class of people down here would not apply to the other class, or probably I should say to other classes.

But, although you have heard such statements as this all your lives perhaps, you could hardly conceive of the wide distinction that exists between the highest class and the lowest class of people down here unless you should come and see for yourselves.

Parked on the grounds of the custom house on the south side of the Rio Grande at Laredo, we saw a car from New Mexico. Along with the number plate it carried the New Mexico slogan, "New Mexico, the Land of Enchantment."

But the Mexicans on the south side of the Rio Grande describe their land as "The Land of Contrasts." You will see that slogan, or that descriptive phrase, rather, on much of their literature, which is surprisingly meager, however.

If there is any kind of commercial club or chamber of commerce anywhere, we have not yet been able to find it. We have not been able even to find a good map of the country. All the maps we have seen, except one hanging in the private office of this hotel and not accessible to the public, are small maps and show only the principal towns and cities on the highways. And there are practically no signs along the highways to inform the traveler of the distance to the next town or city. What distance markers are to be found give the distances in kilometers, of course, and not in miles. However, the paved roads are excellent as a rule, possibly better than the average in Texas.

* * * * *

That description which the Mexicans have given their land, "The Land of Contrasts," certainly is an accurate and appropriate one; for it is a land of the highest mountains and the deepest gorges to be found anywhere in North America south of Alaska and Western Canada; a land of barren deserts and of highly productive fields; a land of cacti and prickly pears on the one hand and of great orange orchards and fine banana plants on the other; a land of huts and hovels and of million-dollar buildings—I went through the Palace of Arts building here in Mexico City on the second day after arrival, a building which cost fifty million dollars, the guide told us; and I think I never saw another building anywhere that was half so magnificent, built of native marble; and I stood at the base of another building now under construction, with the steel work already completed, that will be forty-four stories high, an Insurance building; but perhaps the greatest contrast of all is to be found in the different classes of people themselves—the proud, wealthy, aristocratic Spaniard on the one hand and the countless millions of Aztec Indians to be found everywhere, who are either working as peons or are swarming over and along the highways like ants, begging alms or selling handmade trinkets to enable them even to live in their barren or filthy huts, that may be seen along the highways, down in the jungles of brush, and even in caves, under cliffs, and on the almost perpendicular sides of towering mountains. Where not otherwise protected, their huts are mostly thatch-covered. Their counterparts are to be found in the shacks or sheds that line the sidewalks of the cities, this city of 3,500,000 people being a striking example.

* * * * *

"Land of Contrasts!" I should say so. This is a land and a city where the old and the new, the glamorous and the filthy, exist side by side; where the sweet odors that come from the perfumes of the beauty parlor and the putrid odors that come from the frying pan and gutted fowls and dirt floors of the low-class restaurants are mingled together every morning, noon, and night, and all in between times, on almost every street in Mexico City. Yes, the existence of the old and the new may be seen almost everywhere, in city and in country; but the new is often ugly and disgusting to the sight and the small, and much of the ancient is still amazing and magnificent. I am going to tell you later about the ancient pyramids which we visited the other day on a side trip out from the highway before we came in sight of the City itself, some thirty miles up the highway and ten miles out from it. Unlike the Egyptian pyramids, they are built of solid masonary and have no tombs in which to bury the dead. They were built nearly two thousand years ago but were discovered and unearthed less than fifty years ago. But I will tell you more about them in a later contribution to this column.

* * * * *

For the present, let's go back to Laredo and tell you something of our trip down.

Laredo, to all intents and purposes, is a Mexican town rather than a Texas town, though it does enjoy many of the conveniences to be found in the States not enjoyed by most of the towns and cities south of the Rio Grande. Probably 30 to 35 percent of its population is of Spanish or of Indian descent. But, in so far as its racial characteristics are concerned, it is more like Mexico than Texas. In spite of that fact one sees a marked difference in the general aspect of the two towns the moment he lands over on the other side of the Rio Grande. Perhaps he has seen a few burros, a few two-wheel carts and other flimsy vehicles, and a few Mexican holes in the walls used as shops or stores, over in Laredo, but when he crosses over the International bridge and lands over in Nuevo Laredo, he sees practically nothing but little old shacks or holes in the walls for stores and shops, burros galore, two-wheel carts or flimsy vehicles everywhere, and we saw a few yoke of steers hitched to old wagons.

The custom house south of the Rio Grande, however, is a hand some and substantial building, but nearly all the people we saw in it were American tourists headed for interior Mexico. Of course the office force consisted solely of high-class Mexicans, representatives of the Mexican Government.

Our passports having been procured with little delay, though it was then about 11:00 a. m., everything about us told us that we were now in old Mexico and were headed south.

There is some brush and some thin rocky soil as one strikes out away from the River, but the soil, for the most part, looks to be fairly good. I am inclined to believe that it would be reasonably productive if placed in cultivation and then really cultivated as our people cultivate their lands in Lynn county. I am sure that much of it could be converted into a veritable "land of milk and honey," as it were, if water for irrigation purposes were available. When the great Falcon Dam across the Rio Grande River 75 miles below Laredo is finished, there will be a large acreage on the Mexican side of the River that will become subject to irrigation. That acreage probably will then become a great fruit and truck raising area like that on this side of the River. I am sure that would be the result if Americans were allowed to develop it. Our road out of Nuevo Laredo ran for fifty miles through a level or gently rolling ranch country I am sure it would become a great dry-farming district if owned and occupied by West Texas farmers.

Odds & Ends

slightly southwest—of Laredo the country had become very hilly, and a range of the great Sierra Madre Mountains was looming up in the west. At first sight, one might have trouble in deciding whether the thing he saw was a massive mountain range or a great storm cloud rising high above the horizon. In our case, the thing that won the decision for the mountains was the fact that the upper edge was topped with numerous peaks that were a little too sharp-pointed to be thunderheads. As we drew nearer we got a clearer picture of the scene that lay out before us—peaks above peaks, peaks beyond peaks, in regular rows, and peaks in promiscuous groups, peaks seemingly innumerable; to me, it was breathtaking.

Somewhere further down the line, as we approached nearer and nearer to the mountains, I noticed a foothill or a spur of one of the parallel ranges protruding down the valley, if so modest a word can be used in speaking of Mexico canyons and chasms. Apparently it was about half as tall as the ranges of the great mountains that lay back of it and beyound it and overshadowed it, but still its outline was clearly distinguishable. Our road was headed toward the south end of this foothill, and soon we were going down a long slope, down, down, down, until it seemed to me that we must be reaching the deepest depths. As our road skirted the south end of it, we veered toward the south, and as I looked back up the valley, there was that "foothill" standing out like a full grown mountain itself. It looked just about like old Guadalupe Mountain out southwest of the Carlsbad Cavern looked to me when we descended from its steep south side and headed toward Van Horn last summer when we went to the Davis Mountains and the Big Bend. Old Guadalupe is the highest mountain in Texas, you know, reaching an elevation of 8,751 feet. Well, those great Sierra Madre ranges that lay back of that foothill were nearly twice as tall as old Guadalupe. They tower so high that their summits were never lost to sight over the top of that "foothill," not even when we were right up at the foot of it. Those Sierra Madre Mountains in fact rise to a height of more than 15,000 feet. We were soon in Monterrey, which is 146 miles south of Laredo, and there we took lunch between two and three o'clock in the afternoon of the first day out.

* * * * *

From Monterrey clear on down to Mexico City, excepting a few intervals, the mountain scenery is simply indescribable. I took a few pictures of the mountains and of the Indian villages along our route but some of the most majestic mountain scenery visible from our highway was so situated with respect to the sun as we passed through those particular areas or with respect to safe parking places along the highway that I had to pass them up, hoping to get other pictures on the return trip.

To me, the most sublime scenery that we saw consisted of those sky-scrapper mountains that were covered with short-leaf pine forests that looked as fresh and clean as if they had just been given a shower bath and decked out in their gayest attire. I did not get a picture of any of those pine-clad mountains.

Distances between important towns were so great and my companion kept driving at such a terrific speed that I had little opportunity in fact to take pictures.

Another one of the most exquisitely beautiful mountain scenes that I had to pass up, so far as picture-taking was concerned, were the mountains near Zimapan, where we spent the last night of our journey on the way to Mexico City. The perfect picture that we saw was hung out far up on the sides of the tallest mountains in this region just following sunrise. The moisture of the warm air rising from the valleys and rushing up the mountain sides, upon reaching a certain elevation, was condensed into fog or clouds as white as any snow you ever saw, lying close against the somber mountains, and whiffs of rising air carried this fog on up through every crease in the mountain sides clear up to their summits, and we down in the valley could occasionally see these clouds leaping up even from the summits of the mountains like silvery flames of fire and then floating away as wisps of cloud as white as swans' wings. I never saw a scene like that before and probably will never see another one, although I have seen clouds enveloping mountain sides and summits on various occasions heretofore, but nothing that could compare in sheer beauty with that picture made of moisture and sunshine and hung out on that Thursday morning on the mountain sides for my companion and me and the native Aztec Indians to enjoy.

* * * * *

I had hoped to have the opportunity while down here—or rather I should say up here—to get a close-up view of old Popocatepetl, highest volcano in North America, rising to a height of 17,794 feet. I am not sure, however, that I will have that opprotunity, for it is many miles out and inaccessible, I am told. While there are lofty mountains all around the City of Mexico, which are visible almost every day old Popocatepetl is visible only when the skies are very clear. A couple of tourists here from South Dakota told me Saturday that they had seen old Popo from the porch or patio extending out from the sixth floor of this hotel on Friday—that was the next day after we arrived here—but I have been out there several times with others since then and none of them has ever been able to point out old Popo definitely. Old Popo is somewhere east of the city and it can rarely ever be seen in the morning. One has to wait until the afternoon sun hits it square in the face from the west; and even then the haze is usually so heavy that the old volcano can scarcely be seen. But I am going out near it some time if I get a half a chance. Old Popocatepetl has a companion named Iztaccihutal, which Aztec legends say was his wife, lying at his feet, but if so she was lying pretty high, for her head rises to an elevation of 16,200 feet. The highest mountain in all Mexico, however, the Spanish name of which is Orizaba but the Aztecs call it Citlalteptal, rises to a height of 18,564 feet. It is situated between the City of Mexico and the fine coast city of Vera Cruz on the shores of the Gulf of Mexico, the extreme southern end of which is listed as the Bay of Campeche. Guess I will not have an opportunity to visit it, however. I may get to go down to another volcano south of the City of Mexico and also down to Acapulco on the Pacific coast directly south of this city. It is only 235 miles down there but there is something there that my friend wants to see again—he has been there once—and he wants me to see it also. Whether we go or not is yet problematical. Mountain scenery most of the way. It is only 235 miles, by the way, over to Vera Cruz on the Gulf coast.

The City of Mexico is situated in a broad valley, the most of its site being formerly a lake. Its elevation is only 7,434 feet. We sleep under lots of cover at night but can go without our coats in the afternoons. I am writing this in my shirt-sleeves but will be donning a coat soon after 5:00 p. m.

* * * * *

Speaking about distances, let me give you a little of the low down on our trip.

It was 487 miles from Tahoka to Laredo, which distance we spanned in one day. We left Tahoka at 8:00 o'clock Monday morning and arrived in Laredo just at dusk that night.

Leaving Nuevo Laredo on the Mexican side of the River at 11:00 o'clock Tuesday morning, the first town of any importance which we hit was Sabina Hidalgo, 79 miles, to be exact, from Nuevo Laredo.

It was 65 miles from there to Monterrey, where we took lunch.

From Monterrey to Linares was 81 miles.

From Linares to Victoria, where we intended to spend the night, was 96 miles. But on that day the Mexicans were celebrating the close of the first year of the governor's incumbancy in office, and every hotel and tourist park in town was full up. We had to go on.

It was 84 miles from Victoria to Monte, the next important town. We made that 84 miles in the night time.

It was 256 miles from Monte to Zimapan, where we spent Wednesday night; as we have already mentioned, and 99 miles from Zimapan to Mexico City.

That was a total distance in Mexico of 760 miles, and a total distance from home of 1247 miles. And so here we are.

For the benefit of any who may wish to send me "duns" or to write me friendly letters, my address, as long as my money holds out, will be:

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN GIVEN COMMISSIONS IN ARMY HOME STUDY

A total of 2,233 enlisted men have been commissioned as second lieutenants in the National Guard during the past 18 months as a result of having successfully completed the Army extension course program, Maj. Gen. Raymond H. Fleming, Chief of the National Guard Bureau, has announced.

GEN. FLEMING

Enrollment in the 10-series Army home-study courses is open to all enlisted guardsmen, regardless of time in service, with approval of unit commanders. Length of time for completion depends on the individual student. However, after successfully completing the courses, candidates must meet the following requirements for appointment and Federal recognition as commissioned officers: be 21 to 28 years of age, at least one year of total service in the Armed Forces, the National Guard, or both, prior to appointment; high school graduate or equivalent; recommendation by an examining board; availability of a vacancy of organization space.

Gen. Fleming also reported that State Officer Candidate Schools, supported by state funds, are expected to prove an increasingly important source of National Guard junior officers. Eventually it is hoped that each state and territory will have at least one school for the direct training of officer candidates.
