BOLIVIA TAKES FORT ON BORDER

DAMAGES GIVEN IN DYER SUIT HUTCHINSON SUIT WON BY STATE

CASE LASTING THREE WEEKS ENDS QUICKLY

Verdict Returned After 3 1/2 Hours on Issues

APPEAL IS FILED
BY DEFENDANTS

Land Title and Nearly Million Dollars
Involved

AUSTIN, Dec. 15. (AP)—Texas won its suit for recovery of 520 acres of Hutchinson county land adjacent to the Hoger oil field in district court here this afternoon. The case had been on trial for three weeks.

In addition to title to the land, the state ultimately will recover about $900,000 as its portion of royalties from about 50 producing oil wells on the tract, according to C. W. Trueheart, assistant attorney general, who handled the case for the state.

The Phillips Petroleum company and other defendants gave notice of appeal from the judgement, which was rendered on special issues submitted to a jury.

Trueheart said the land alone was worth approximately $1,000 an acre. Old state surveys were involved in the litigation.

This was the second trial of the case, the state having been given a judgment previously, but the court ordered a new trial on allegations of the defendants that they desired to present newly discovered evidence.

Gwin to Represent Chamber at Austin Hearing Monday

F. M. Gwin, city manager, left yesterday afternoon to attend a meeting of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission to be held in Austin tomorrow.

Gwin will represent the Chamber of Commerce at a hearing before the commission, when the state of Texas, through its attorney general, Claude Pollard, will ask that rule 37 be modified.

The state is asking that drilling operations be restricted to a distance of not less than 1,000 feet from the cutbank of the Red river in Gray and Wheeler counties. To do so would seriously curtail development of the big pay area of the Pampa field.

Boulder Dam Bill Reaches the House

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (AP)—The senate Boulder Dam bill reached the house today and immediately there began a buzz of committee and cloak-room discussion as to prospects of early house approval.

Some proponents of the measure, passed the house last session, regarded revisions effected by the senate as changing the general support of the measure from the form in which the house approved it. They said it might be possible to obtain house concurrence without sending the measure to conference. Others refused to comment until they had had an opportunity to study the amended measure.

Pampa Welfare Association Not to Hold Financial Drive Now—Budget Committee Will Estimate Expenses

Arrangements will be made by directors of the Pampa Welfare association to continue the work until after the new year without a finance campaign, and the annual drive for funds may not be held until next March, it was decided Friday afternoon by the new officers.

President T. D. Hobart, who heads the work in its second year, was present to take up his duties.

A study is being made by the new directors of the obligations and opportunities for 1929. One suggestion that is being given serious consideration is that of establishing a nursery where children may be cared for while their mothers engage in gainful employment. To determine the financial needs of the organization, a budget committee headed by Scott Barcus is itemizing and estimating probable expenditures for next year.

R. S. Sterling May Attend Meeting of Highway Body

Ross Sterling, chairman of the state highway commission, and Judge J. D. Hamlin of Farwell, a member of the committee of 31 asked by Gov. Dan Moody to draft policies, have been asked to attend a meeting of the Panhandle Highway association in Amarillo January 8. The hour for the meeting has not been set. It will be held at the Amarillo hotel.

At 2 o'clock, January 7, the executive and legislative committees will meet at the Amarillo hotel. Every county in the Panhandle having road problems is urged to have a representative present. All questions will be discussed and put before the meeting the following day.

George W. Briggs, secretary of the association, has sent letters to all members of the association to be present. He met with members of the Amarillo board of city development Friday afternoon and worked out plans for the meeting. All highway questions pertaining to Panhandle development will be taken up and discussed at the meeting, he says.

Among the matters to be discussed will be the rerouting of highway 33 through Gray and Carson counties.

Girls of Central High Are Heard By Lions Club

Lions club entertainment Thursday featured two high school girls, Miss Eleanor Frey, violinist, and Miss Audrey Noel, soprano.

These talented girls will represent Pampa high at the musical contests to be held in Amarillo next spring under the auspices of the Panhandle Music Teachers association.

After a short talk by Judge Newton P. Willis, the club began a mock trial in which it is being "sued" for having allowed a "drive slow" sign to be blown down on the high school campus.

Visitors included Harry Cornelius, J. D. Sugg, E. D. McIver, Siler Faulkner, Miss Dee Breeding, and Miss Louise Miller.

FIFTY PLANES WILL FLY IN AIR CIRCUS

DALLAS, Dec. 15. (AP)—More than 60 airplanes will participate in the Dallas Flying club's air circus here tomorrow commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first real flight by man in a heavier-than-air machine.

In the group of visiting ships are 12 of the latest type army fighting ships which arrived in formation today from Fort Crockett, Galveston.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (AP)—Selection of Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, as republican leader of the senate, appeared assured today with the announcement by Senator Jones of Washington, that he would not contest for the post. The Indianan now is assistant leader.

RED CROSS TO MEET FRIDAY

Pampa Went Over Her
Quota in Roll
Call

All old members of the Pampa Red Cross chapter, and all contributors in the recent Roll Call, will meet next Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium to elect officers for 1929.

Chapter President Tom W. Brabham has issued the call for the meeting.

According to Scott Barcus, chairman of the recent Roll Call, Pampa went "over the top" by taking out 604 memberships. The quota was 600. Final reports from oil field superintendents, who rendered distinguished service during the drive sent the total over the goal.

Production Is Lowered—Gray Is Off 1,445 Barrels

Gray county helped lower the Panhandle's daily production during the last week. The home county slipped 1,445 barrels. Carson and Moore counties followed suit. Hutchinson and Wheeler counties showed small gains.

Practically no new completions were reported in the entire Panhandle. Warm weather was expected to increase production in all counties but failed to. The LeFors Petroleum company brought in its No. 8 in the LeFors townsite, but water encroachment cut production. The United Eight Oil company's E. Bass Clay well in section 177, block B-2, also picked up an increasing show of oil, but was not drilled in.

The daily total during the last week was 60,830 barrels, compared to 62,455 barrels of the previous week.

Production by counties:

Carson: 5,465 barrels, a loss of 368 barrels.

Gray: 22,885 barrels, a loss of 1,445 barrels.

Hutchinson: 28,650 barrels, a gain of 600 barrels.

Moore: 2,955 barrels, a loss of 458 barrels.

Potter: 20 barrels, a loss of 5 barrels.

Wheeler: 815 barrels, a gain of 45 barrels.

Contract Is Let For Six Residences

Mrs. Emmett Duncan and Mrs. Ida Brown Friday afternoon awarded the contract for the construction of six five-room houses to be built on their joint property immediately north of the high school campus. One of the houses will be the property of Mr. and Mrs. Don Duncan.

Each of the houses will provide conveniences and will cost approximately $3,500, Mrs. Duncan said. W. Mullinax received the contract and will start construction immediately, it was said.

EJECTION FROM HOUSE RESULTS IN JUDGMENT

Total of $750 Actual Damages Awarded

Plaintiffs EXEMPLARY IS FIXED AT $1,000

Verdict Is Returned Saturday After
3 1/2 Hours

Judgment for the plaintiffs was returned yesterday morning by a jury in the 84th district court in the suit of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dyer against Farrell Ray and others. Mrs. Dyer was given $500 actual damages and the same amount in exemplary damages. Mr. Dyer received $250 actual damages and $500 exemplary damages.

The plaintiffs asked for $3,000 actual damages and $10,000 exemplary damages, alleging that they had been forcibly ejected from their home on the Ray and Massey lease in the LeFors oil territory. Mr. Dyer claimed that he suffered broken ribs and other injuries and that Mrs. Dyer had also sustained injuries. The plaintiffs also claimed their furniture was thrown from their home.

Charles C. Cooke of Pampa was attorney for the defendants. W. M. LeFors of Pampa and L. V. Lonsdale of LeFors represented Mr. and Mrs. Dyer.

The jury deliberated three and one-half hours. Judge Newton P. Willis recessed court until Monday morning at 9 o'clock, after receiving the jury's verdict.

Managers Will Have Session in Amarillo Jan. 30

Members of the new Panhandle Commercial Secretaries association will meet in Amarillo January 30 to complete their organization. The association was organized December 5 at a meeting held in Amarillo following a meeting of Panhandle-Plains, Inc.

George Briggs, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, is president of the new organization. Guy Hill of Shamrock is vice-president and J. E. Biggs of the Amarillo Board of City Development is secretary.

All secretaries in the Panhandle are eligible to become members.

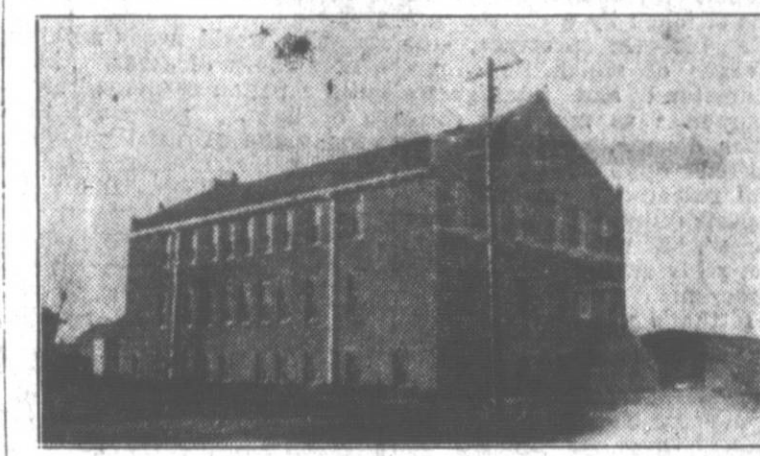

Methodist Bishops Eulogized in Meeting

DALLAS, Dec. 15. (AP)—Eulogies of the late Bishop E. R. Hendrick of Kansas City and the late Bishop James E. Diekey of Atlanta, Ga., both of whom died early this year, were read at the closing business session of the college of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, here today.

A committee of three bishops was named to draw up an Episcopal letter concerning various problems of Methodism which will be considered at an adjourned session of the college at Memphis, Tenn., January 1, 2 and 3. Bishop John M. Moore of Dallas, Bishop H. M. Dwyer of Nashville, Tenn., and Bishop William B. Beauchamp of Atlanta, Ga., were chosen on the committee. The college will hold its spring meeting May 3 at Nashville, Tenn.

THOUSANDS AT DEDICATION
BORGES, Dec. 15. (AP)—Hutchinson county's new $500,000 court house at Slinnville, was dedicated formally today. Thousands of persons inspected the structure. Judge Newton P. Willis of eighty-fourth district court delivered the principal address.

FOUR PERSONS DEAD AND SIX MISSING IN KENTUCKY FIRE

HAZARD, Ky., Dec. 15. (AP)—Four persons met death here tonight when the Hotel Combs was destroyed by fire. Bodies of the four have been recovered and six or more persons are missing, it was reported.

A number of structures on the main street of the city, one of the centers of the eastern Kentucky coal fields, were threatened by the flames.

Two of the bodies were identified as those of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pirtle, and the others as of men named Wooster and Taylor. A bellboy said 10 or more persons were in the hotel when the fire started.

The cause of the fire is undetermined.

Board of City Development to Meet Tomorrow

Directors of the new Board of City Development will meet in the Chamber of Commerce room tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. At the session of officers for the coming year will be elected.

Rules and by-laws will be discussed and a report of the last year's accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce will be made by Manager George Briggs.

The B. C. D. will officially take over the reins of the Chamber of Commerce January 1. An appropriation has been made through a city tax to help support the organization.

The directors chosen by the city commission from a list of 30 names submitted by the present directors are: M. K. Brown, J. M. Dodson, Ivy Duncan, Olin E. Hinkle, Roy McMillen, T. F. Smalling, W. Scott Barcus, F. D. Keim, Clyde Fatheree, T. D. Hobart, C. C. Cook, E. F. Thomas, W. B. Saulsbury, Paul Shepard, and Tom Rose.

King George Low— Prince of Wales Is Acting King

LONDON, Dec. 16. (Sunday). (AP)—King George apparently was holding his own early today in his hard battle for life. It was said at the palace there had been no great change in his condition since the issuance of last night's regular medical bulletin.

LONDON, Dec. 15. (AP)—Because of the illness of King George the Prince of Wales has become acting King of England. He probably will continue in that capacity until his father is able to resume his duties.

LONDON, Dec. 15. (AP)—A prolonged bout with illness in the sick room of King George, in which five physicians took part, caused tension in and about Buckingham Palace late today. When the bulletin was issued at 8:30 p. m. it revealed that the doctors had decided to add treatment by rays to the methods to which they are employing in their attempt to bring the stricken monarch back to health.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES TO BE HELD HERE TONIGHT

Episcopal services will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the C. P. Buckler residence.

The Rev. Hall Pierce of Amarillo, arch deacon of this diocese, will be in Pampa for the last time. He will go to Carlsbad, N. M., as rector immediately after the holiday period.

FLU CAUSES CLOSING

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 15. (AP)—All churches here will be closed tomorrow as a precautionary measure against influenza by order of Dr. R. T. Jennings, chairman of the city board of health.

BLOODY FIGHT REPORTED TO CONGRESSMEN

Demonstration Is Staged
by People After Statement

RELATIONS ARE QUICKLY SEVERED

Arms Consigned to La
Paz Passing Thru
Argentina

LA PAZ, Dec. 15. (AP)—Capture of the Paraguayan Fort Boqueron after severe fighting was announced tonight by the Bolivian minister of war.

No mention was made of casualties in this encounter. In the attack on Fort Vanguardia, which caused the long simmering border dispute to break into open flame, more than 20 Bolivian soldiers, including two officers, were killed and others captured.

This open conflict between armed forces of the two countries resulted in immediate breaking of diplomatic relations by Bolivia, followed shortly by similar action by Paraguay. Angered citizens paraded the streets of La Paz demanding war. President Siles counseled patience but at the same time assured his people that Bolivia would stand firmly for its rights.

Beside the statement of the war minister, an official communique was issued tonight saying:

"After the outrage on our army at Fort Vanguardia, without ever forgetting our international duties and our sworn faith to maintain peace, as we informed the council of the League of Nations, Bolivia has the unescapable duty to exact satisfaction and at the same time prevent a recurrence of clashes which seem possible owing to the concentration by Paraguay of new forces, including its general staff. Our legitimate fears have been realized."

Amid cheers, President Siles and his cabinet announced tonight to congress that Bolivian troops, after a bloody combat, were in possession of the Paraguayan Fort Boqueron. The congressmen cheered the president at the conclusion of the announcement, assuring the nation's leader of their loyalty. The populace of this city, on hearing the news of the capture of the fort, staged an enthusiastic demonstration.

SANTA FE, Argentina, Dec. 15. (AP)—A large quantity of war materials destined for Bolivia passed through this city today by the North Central Argentine railway. Four airplanes of German manufacture, unarmed but suitable for war purposes, were included in the shipment.

La Nacion says it was informed that a German cargo steamer unloaded the materials here today. All were hurriedly placed on fast trains for La Paz. The materials included a large quantity of machine guns and ammunition, and cavalry saddles and small arms. The quantity is not known definitely.

It is believed that the entire contingent is intended for troops supposedly assembling on the Bolivian-Paraguayan frontier. Argentine officials are watching developments most anxiously and it is believed they may take means to prevent any similar shipment.

This news was regarded of the greatest importance, particularly in view of the renewed hostilities as reported by the Bolivian minister of war.

Beery Planned to Stop in Amarillo

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 15. (AP)—After receiving a message telling of a serious illness of his mother, Wallace Beery, film comedian, took off from a local airport this afternoon on a flying trip to Los Angeles, his home. Beery planned to reach Los Angeles by tomorrow night, making a over night stop at Amarillo, Texas. "Slim" Beery, Beery's pilot, was at the controls of the actor's new Travel Air cabin monoplane.

"It's Like This—"

DEADLY GAS, so devastating in its effect that international suicide would be the result of its use in war, has been described as a reality by Dr. Hilton Ira Jones, widely known research chemist.

That such a gas eventually would be developed was inevitable, and while the proof of Dr. Jones' statement has not been presented, it is well known that gases have been constantly improved since their introduction in the last war.

Instead of being alarming, the situation to be realized when all nations have quantities of such gases on hand is likely to result in greater respect for human life. The futility of bloodshed as a method of settling disputes should be very apparent when such wholesale destruction is possible.

UNEMPLOYMENT in the teaching profession has two angles. One is of the ordinary type, due to the practice of using the profession as a stepping stone to matrimony or some other vocation. The other is seasonal, or that of the summer vacation period.

It is unreasonable to insist that teachers work nine months in the year and go to school the other three months. That so many of them have followed this plan is partly owing to their education-by-installment basis.

National organizations of the profession and departments of education are studying means to make the teachers' work more nearly on a par with other professions. It would be better to do this and encourage teachers to save money and take an entire year off to study, instead of attending summer terms.

The teacher is worthy of his hire.

WASHINGTON — Uncle Sam has yielded up his fourth victim to the scouring demon of a disease imprisoned in a little glass vial in the U. S. Public Health Service research laboratory.

Dr. Edward Francis, who has fought the whole world of germs for nearly 30 years in this bureau, has fallen victim to Malta fever, a disease with which he had been working night and day for months. He will not die, for the fever is rarely fatal. But he faces a probable five years of pain on a hospital cot. He has been taken to the Naval Hospital.

Dr. Francis is the fourth U. S. researcher to fall victim to this particular culture, and it was as a pinch-hitter for some colleagues previously stricken with the disease that he incurred it.

Miss Alice Evans, a bacteriologist, was stricken with the indolent or Malta fever in 1920. She has not yet recovered. Dr. G. C. Lake was the next victim, and is not yet cured. B. C. Sockrider, a technician, was stricken by a little test tube next, and is the only one who has really recovered.

Malta fever research is almost at a standstill. Dr. Francis offered to pinch-hit, though his one big interest was tularemia or rabbit fever, known also as Francis' disease, in recognition of his isolation of the germ and his almost perfected serums for its cure.

Today, hectic with the 105 temperature of Malta fever, facing a five-year illness, Dr. Francis only complains that he was stricken by a disease outside his own province, the ravages of which he cannot understand and intelligently appreciate as much as some other disease. He feels it a wasted opportunity, for the real research doctor not only expects disease "as part of the game," but welcomes it if it is along his own peculiar line of research.

If that's what he wants he had his previous privilege, for he was stricken with his own pet tularemia or rabbit fever a few years ago and used his own serums and methods of cure upon himself, finally restoring himself to health, though the mortality rate for this disease is almost as high as that of typhoid fever.

His special grievance in the midst of his present pain from the Malta fever is that he should be stricken at the time of year when rabbit fever is at its height and when his services are most needed and the opportunities for research greatest.

The Indispensable Vision

By Rev. Henry Wade DuBose, D. D.
(Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Spartanburg, S. C.)
"We Would See Jesus"—John 12:21

The enquirers were Greeks. They represented the finest culture that antiquity knew. Yet that culture had failed to save men from moral defeat and social decay.

When Jesus came, the glory that was Greece was a fading glory. Pessimism reigned. The stars of Attica's golden age had set. Their light was a rare and radiant light, but the shadows that encompassed human life were too much for it. Stars were not enough. The world needed a sunrise. Men waited for the Light of the World.

Jesus was stirred with emotion by the request of these Greeks. The rarest culture on earth was confessing its inadequacy, was about to make its supreme discovery. The quest for the true, the beautiful, and the good was leading to a radiant Person, who could say, "I am the way, the truth, and the life."

Whenever men have attained a new vision of Christ, a new and finer culture has come to birth, and a sounder and sweeter human life has been the result. The great revivals of art and morals have followed the revivals of spiritual religion.

The world needs nothing so much just now as it needs a new vision of Jesus. Much of the culture of our day is quite a pagan as the culture of ancient Greece, and not half so brilliant. Too much genius is earthbound. Men are missing the spiritual meaning of life. Our outlook is too horizontal. We have lost sight of the heights. We must recover the indispensable vision.

Cat Now Only Living Creature on Stranded Celtic

COBH, Irish Free State, Dec. 15. (AP)—So far as is known here, the only living creature aboard the liner Celtic tonight was the ship's cat. The animal was sole mistress of the great vessel as heavy seas drove salvage crews and tugs to shelter and battered the liner against the rocks in Cork harbor.

When the weather permits salvage workers to return the cat may be saved, they may find more than one cat.

South American Peace in Prospect

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (AP)—Settlement of the Paraguayan-Bolivian dispute appeared much nearer here today with the impression growing that both countries would accept the offer of good offices extended by the Pan-American conference on arbitration.

While Paraguayan agreement to submit the controversy to mediation appeared assured, some doubt still prevailed, however, whether Bolivia would not interpose such conditions as to embarrass the endeavor of the conference. Minister Diaz de Medina, of Bolivia, in the absence of specific communications from his government, said that personally he believed his country would accept the good offices, provided, however, that some understanding were reached before hand whereby Bolivia would receive some reparation for the recent frontier incident.

Corsicana Woman Charged in Murder

Hoover Hears of South American Trouble Saturday

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 15. (P)—Herbert Hoover, president-elect of the United States, today talked with Eusebio Ayala, former president of Paraguay, who came here recently as chairman of the Paraguayan delegation to the commission which has been seeking a solution of this country's boundary dispute with Bolivia.

Whether they discussed the possibility of mediation by the United States in the situation which arose from fighting on the border last week was not revealed. It was believed, however, that Senator Ayala went over the Paraguayan view of the dispute.

Man and Woman Are Found Dead

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N. Y., Dec. 15. (P)—The bodies of an unidentified man and a well-dressed woman were found in a sand-pit behind the Belmont park race track early today, and authorities began a hunt for killers who shot the pair to death in what police believe was a bootleggers' feud. The sand-pit is a short distance from a lonely and unoccupied bungalow from which the couple was believed to have been fleeing when they were shot. Police said they found barrels of wine and wine presses in the house.

Canyon Pioneers Married 50 Years

CANYON, Dec. 15. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. John T. Wiley of Canyon have just celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. They were married at Ashland, Alabama, in 1878, removed to Texas in 1885, locating in Williamson county.

Later they moved to Quanah, and from 1888 to 1905 Mr. Wiley was a teacher in the public schools of western Texas and Oklahoma. They have lived in Canyon since 1913.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley are Mrs. George W. Walters of Houston, H. M. Wiley of Wheeler, Mrs. K. A. Cato of Plainview, Miss Almada and John T. of Borger.

Water Problem to Be Studied

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15. (P)—Investigation of the cause of encroachment of water in the deep pay area of the Howard-Glasscock oil territory will be undertaken under an agreement reached here today by oil operators and their representatives at a Texas railroad commission hearing.

The hearing, called by R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission, was attended by representatives of a score of operators.

The companies agreed to appointment of a committee composed of representatives of operators, which committee in turn would appoint a subcommittee of petroleum engineers to study the cause of water encroachment. The engineers' committee, after investigation, would report back to the general committee, which then would make its report to the commission.

MANAGER RESIGNS

CORPUS CHRISTI, Dec. 15. (P)—Ralph Bradford, manager of the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce for five years, resigned today to accept a post as assistant manager of the commercial organization department of the United States Chamber of Commerce. The resignation is effective Feb. 1.

Three Important State Bodies to Convene Monday

AUSTIN, Dec. 15. (P)—Three commissions, the state election board, and one committee are scheduled for meetings at the capital Monday.

The highway commission will convene for a two-day session; the textbook commission will meet to let contracts to publishers; the railroad commission will hold two hearings, a committee from Governor's Moody's 31 advisors will present him a report of that body's recommendations for highway legislation, and the election board will begin the canvass of returns from the general election for county, state and district offices.

A "minority report" from the governor's 31 highway legislation advisors also is expected during the day. Leonard Tillotson of Seely is drafting the minority report. Both the majority and minority reports probably will be submitted by the governor to the legislature when it meets January 8. The highway commission will have one of its heaviest meetings for the year, when contracts for construction work aggregating $4,500,000 in 26 counties will be let. Delegations from 11 counties are docketed to appear for aid appropriations, maintenance, and locations and relocations of state highways.

Construction contracts have been advertised to be let for projects in the following counties: Harris, Wilbarger, Wichita, Mitchell, Shackelford, Baylor, Madison, Hardeman, Wilson, Calhoun, Lavaca, Karnes, Johnson, Parker, Freestone, Carson, El Paso, Leon, Henderson, Jackson, Dallas, Throckmorton, Zavalla, Eastland, Sterling and Grayson.

Counties asking aid, maintenance and locations are: Brazoria, Travis, Wise, Throckmorton, Shackelford, Brown, Jones, Ellis, Caldwell, Navarro and Matagorda.

Oklahoma Brothers Bargain With Law to Remain Together

PONCA CITY, Okla., Dec. 15. (P)—The Damon and Pythias story is at hand again this time from the Kay county court at Newkirk.

A. Welliver, 75, and Jim Welliver, 78, brothers, have been arrested several times on liquor law violations. Their latest trial was today.

Before the trial, they bargained with the county attorney. "Brother A" was to face the jury first and if he was found guilty Brother Jim agreed to plead guilty so they would not be separated.

County Attorney Roy Carver agreed for the state to dismiss the charge against Jim if "Brother A" were freed.

The jury found A. Welliver guilty and gave him 30 days and a fine of $50. Jim then arose and entered a plea of guilty to the same charge.

Coal Dealer Is Arrested in Killing

CARBONVILLE, Ill., Dec. 15. (P)—

Victor A. Hundley, 39-year-old coal dealer and son of J. C. Hundley, slain ex-mayor of this city, was arrested late today on a charge of killing his father and step-mother Wednesday night. The arrest was made by Sheriff Flanagan and a deputy three minutes after Hundley returned to his home from the funeral of the slain couple.

Hundley was taken immediately to the Jackson county jail at Murphysboro, Ill., he had been technically under arrest, but was allowed his freedom and remained at his home here with his wife and child.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McJunkin will leave Tuesday to spend two weeks with relatives in Forest City, Ark., and Hilda, Miss.

Branch of Amarillo Furniture Company to Open Monday

The Amarillo Furniture company will open a Pampa branch retail store here tomorrow morning on North Gaylor. R. E. Harris, local man, will be in charge. Mr. Harris has had several years experience in the furniture business and is ready to serve the public with a full line of late furniture and fixtures.

Besides Kroehler furniture other brands of the best furniture on the market will be handled by the new company. The firm has secured the large store building next door to Murfee's Dry Goods store.

The store will be opened tomorrow morning for Christmas business. A formal opening will be held at a later date.

Second Victim of Boiling Oil Dies

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 15. (AP)—A shower of boiling oil which burst from a tower at the Texas company refinery here early Friday claimed its second victim today. C. L. Bundy, 33, died less than 24 hours after he was burned. The first victim, L. H. Medus, 35, died late Friday.

A third victim of the spraying oil, H. D. Forson, may recover. W. K. Holmes, superintendent of the refinery, is conducting an investigation of the accident.

Suit for $750,000 Filed by Tulsa

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 15. (AP)—R. R. Crawford, Tulsa broker, today filed suit for $750,000 damages in Circuit Court here against seven officials of the Manhattan Oil company and two other men connected with the company.

Crawford alleges he entered into an oral agreement with the nine men October 8, 1927, to procure a purchaser for the assets of the Manhattan company to furnish the stock or to procure and exchange of the stock of the Manhattan company for stock in the Independent Oil and Gas company.

In his petition Crawford says he was to be paid the "usual fee," but received nothing.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 15. (AP)—Sameul Nicosa, 46, today shot and killed his wife, Martha and Patrick Elfe, 45, a roomer at the Nicosa home. Nicosa confessed that he did the shooting. He said he became enraged with his wife when she told him she planned to get a divorce.

Many Schools Closing Early to Stop Flu Spread

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (AP)—The close of the week brought additional reports from many parts of the country of more schools and colleges closing earlier than usual for the Christmas recess because of the widespread outbreak of influenza.

In some instances, dispatches said the closing of the institutions had been prompted by a slight increase in the disease while others told of the action being taken as a precautionary move only.

While the United States public health service here has been in close touch with its offices throughout the country, few reports were received today and these failed to disclose any material change in the situation.

Jury in Murder Trial Discharged

BURNET, Dec. 15. (AP)—The jury trying Walter Klein for the murder of William Pape, deputy sheriff of Gillespie county was discharged this afternoon without agreeing on a verdict.

It was the second mistrial of the case, sent here from Gillespie county on a change of venue, after a jury failed to agree there.

Pape was shot to death at a dance near Fredericksburg last spring.

DENVER BEATS HAWAII THROUGH LATERAL PASSES

HONOLULU, Dec. 15. (AP)—The University of Denver defeated the University of Hawaii gridgers here today after the Honolulu squad seemingly was the victor.

Denver won 13 to 12 by the margin of a single conversion in the try for extra point.

Denver gained its victory by the first combination of the lateral and forward pass displayed in Honolulu this season.

Land Owner to Go to Court to Hasten Oil Profit

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 15. (AP)—Goodrich, owner of the land on which the Goodrich gusher was brought in recently, said tonight he and Jack Jenkins, a royalty owner, contemplated court action to force the Marland Oil Refining company to produce oil from the well and market it immediately.

The two men declared they thought a well brought in two weeks ago should be marketing oil by this time. They said they had received no money so far from their royalty interest in the gusher.

Goodrich and Jenkins said they believed the action of the Marland company in shutting in the well had damaged its chances of becoming a record producer. They said they considered themselves damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars.

RADIO AERIAL ACCIDENT

A boy eleven years old, living at Montgomery, Minnesota, in taking down an aerial wire allowed it to come in contact with an electric wire. The boy was severely shocked and his hands badly burned.

Accidents of this kind can be avoided by employing experienced persons to install Radio Aerials.

Be careful and construct your "Aerial" where it cannot possibly come in contact with Electric Wires and avoid accident of this kind.

THE PRIZE WINNERS!

Daily News Subscription Campaign Greatest Success in History of Newspaperdom in Texas
Aggregate of Vote Totals Staggering—Large Number of New Readers Join News
Family—New Record for Subscription Enterprises Is Set

ENDING in a blaze of glory and unleashed excitement after having held the unwavering interests of all Panhandle Texas for a period of more than eight weeks, the last chapter of the Pampa Daily News famous prize campaign was written last night with the final count of the ballots. From 10 p. m. on when the official judges took charge of the locked and sealed ballot box, the count progressed steadily, while hundreds anxiously awaited the result. The winners were announced shortly before midnight.

Not within the history of this section has a newspaper campaign attracted the enthusiastic and wide spread interest that was shown during the race ended last night. The last week was especially notable. Rivalry was intense, but friendly, and the News feels assured that the successful ones merited the prizes for which they so earnestly strived. The number of votes turned in by candidates and their friends was fairly staggering, and when the auditors and judges met to undertake the task of counting them, it would have been discouragingly laborious but the keen interest even they felt in the access of the campaign and the knowledge they had of the popularity of the movement in every section in which this newspaper circulates.

The conduct of the count was methodical and business-like. The selection of the judges proved to be an admirable one, and to them the News extends felicitations and thanks.

Nothing contributed more to the expediency and accuracy of the count than the systematic efforts of Messrs. Finley, Dodson and Brown, who with the use of Burroughs adding machines, reached an early decision.

The aggregate votes of the automobile winners alone reached enormous figures. The winners of all the prizes are well entitled to success, they demonstrated conclusively that energy and persistency are potent factors in any game of life. In distributing $5,000 worth of awards among successful candidates, the News gives value received for efforts in their behalf, yet the intrinsic value of the awards is not the only consideration to contestants. In the persuation of their individual campaign for votes, they have learned much that will be of benefit to them. They have made many new and pleasant acquaintances. Some have formed new ideas along business lines, and most of them have developed a keen sense of observation that will pay them many a future dividend. The competition was a splendid training and valuable experience to all who participated. It taught that courage is necessary to overcome obstacles that beset the never-ending conflict we call "life".

Of course, it is inevitable in a campaign of this kind that all cannot win. Candidates understood that when they entered. Were it possible we would gladly reward every candidate with an automobile. Right or wrong civilization seems to have accepted and applied nature's rule of "the survival of the fittest." To accomplish a given purpose, some effort is necessary, and fortune seems to lavish her gifts upon those who are equipped with energy sufficient to carry out the mandates of ambition.

Yet to the men and women who worked energetically during the campaign, but who failed to win, the News extends genuine regrets. If the thanks of this newspaper can, in a measure, lessen the regret of the losers, let it be theirs. The remarkable fortitude displayed throughout the race at least reflects the belief that those who did not win will be good losers. The News appreciates the kindly feelings and good will of every man and woman who entered, whether they have ten thousand votes or a hundred times ten thousand. There is wholesome satisfaction in the thought that although we try for a goal and miss, yet our efforts were honestly put forth.

To those whose energy has carried them through the campaign to success, the News extends hearty congratulations. We are proud of the men and women who have made this campaign such a remarkable success and we hope that the winners who have taken possession of their prizes by right of conquest will in turn be proud of their reward.

We have dealt with ladies and gentlemen. Our relations have been pleasant throughout. They, in turn have dealt with an institution, which, to the best of its ability, made the campaign one long to be remembered for its wholesome and fair character.

It was a great race and it left in bold relief the possibilities of that greatest of all ventures—"AM-BITION".

Child Study Club Has Lesson on Bird Lore and Its Value

"The Economic and Aesthetic Value of Teaching Children to Know and Love Birds and How to Accomplish it," was the subject of an interesting session of members of the Child Study Club meeting Friday afternoon. Purviance read a paper on the same topic and told how children can be taught to protect birds.

Mrs. C. S. Barrett reviewed the activities of the Audubon and Humane societies in protecting birds and discussed the value of their literature on bird lore. "Birds From a Dooryard" was presented by Mrs. Raymond Harrah. Mrs. Ivy Duncan gave a descriptive sketch on the mockingbird.
Mrs. E. E. Finley presided in a short business session preceding the program. At that time the members voted to hold their next meeting on the second Friday in January, passing over their next regular date, December 28.
Friday's meeting was held in Mrs. C. S.
Barrett's home, with pretty Christmas decorations leading a festive note to the occasion.

Mother or Dad will appreciate furniture from G. C. Malone Furniture company.

Misses Fannie Florence and Nettie Elms, teachers in the local schools, are spending the week-end at their home in Clarendon.

Blue Bonnet Club Members Entertain Husbands Friday

A buffet supper, followed by bridge, was enjoyed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Christy Friday evening, when members of the Blue Bonnet club entertained their husbands. Red candles lighted the dining room and decorations throughout the house suggested the holiday.

Four tables were arranged for the games, with the following players: Mr.
and Mrs. W. M. Jones, Mr. and Mrs.
C. M. Carlock, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mc-Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lutz, Mr. and Mrs.
Christy, and Mrs. J. H. Lavender. Mrs.
Lavender and Mr. Lutz made high scores. Each received an attractive favor as did Mrs. Carlock and Mr. Jones, who made top cuts.

Legion Auxiliary Hostess at Mystic Supper and Dance

The special brand of friendliness peculiar to the Christmas season and the fellowship that prevails at every gathering of those who played a part in the world war combined to create a festive atmosphere as ex-service men, their wives, and sisters, met in the American Legion hall Friday evening.
As the guests of the Legion Auxiliary, Songs of war days were sung, recent activities of the Legion were reviewed, and a fund was raised to provide gifts for disabled veterans in hospitals.

Dinner was served at long tables, to which red candles gave a bright touch.
F. M. Culbertson, post commander, was toastmaster; and among the speakers of the evening were Frank Thomas, Dr. R. A. Webb, W. H. Lang, and Clyde
Otterbach. Mrs. W. E. Taylor, Mrs.
W. H. Lang, Mrs. W. C. de Cordova, and Mrs. R. A. Webb sang two quartets during the evening. Dinner was followed by dancing. The affair was attended by a large number of men and women who are eligible to membership in the Legion or the auxiliary, the invitation having been extended to all in the city.

New Auditorium to Be Opened with Plays Wednesday

The initial performance on the stage of the new gymnasium-auditorium will be given Wednesday evening, when the Dramatic club of Central high school presents three one-act plays and the Glee club, orchestra, and girls' chorus give their first public program.
The beautiful stage sets, which together with the lighting fixtures cost nearly a thousand dollars, will be seen for the first time by the public. These young players and others to come after them will do their acting upon one of the best equipped stages in West Texas.

"Phipps," the first of the plays on the evening's program, is the portrayal of an English domestic quarrel. Charles Thomas as Sir Gerald has the lead. Louise Glover and Bob Mullen play the other two characters. The freshman and sophomore members of the club will play "Not Such a Goose," with Bob Kahl in the role of a baseball hero who dislikes irls but succumbs when the right sweet young thing exercises her wiles. Virginia
Rose, Dorothy Doucette, Francis
Campbell and Howard Houk are other members of the cast. Psychoanalysis furnishes the basis of a cult and the promotion of this cult furnishes the plot for "Suppressed Desires," the third of the plays. Clara Brenner, Melba Graham and Bob Kahl supply the cast.

INTERESTING FEATURES of this new gray tailored coat are the fitted waistline, the notched collar trimmed with astrakhan, the flower on the lapel and the double breasted effect.

Miss DeLoe Reed, public speaking instructor, will direct the plays. Prof.
T. A. Fennell has arranged music to be given before the curtain rises and between acts. Selections which will show the ability of each of the musical organizations will be on the program.

Mrs. N. A. Heistand Entertains Honoring fair at Gay Event

Miss Erdine Dwyer of Chicago, who is the guest of Mr. Alex Schneider, Jr., was named as honoree of a small but delightful party given by Mrs. N. A.
Heistand, on Friday afternoon. Two tables were arranged for bridge, with all appointments featuring the Christmas motif. Baskets of poinsettias and holly wreaths decorated the house.

Mrs. Heistand's guests were the following: Miss Dwyer, honoree; Mrs.
Alex Schneider, Jr., Mrs. G. G. Rainouard, Mrs. W. A. Bratton, Mrs. W. H.
Lang, Mrs. De Lea Vicars, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mrs. Charles Howson of Denver and Mrs. W. A. Gray.

Mrs. Gray held high score at the conclusion of the game and received an attractive favor. Miss Dwyer received low score favor, and Mrs.
Thomas was fortunate in the general
cut. Little potted Christmas trees decorated the refreshment plates and served as mementos of the occasion.

Miss Dee Breeding is visiting friends and relatives in Wheeler today.

W. C. Archer and Brady Cobb returned Friday evening from a business trip through the Rio Grande valley.

EXQUISITE EVENING suppers of dark blue satin are patterned in little silver stars. The strap and trimming are of stripes of gold and silver kid and the heel of silver.

Mrs. Neva Kemp made a business trip to Amarillo Friday, returning home yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. A. L. McDaniel and Mrs. Ed
Mazey spent yesterday in Amarillo.

Members of Just We Bridge Club Guests of Mrs. Williams

Members of the Just We Bridge club spent a pleasant afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. M. Williams, who entertained Friday with two tables. A lighted Christmas tree and other decorations of the season lent a festive note to the meeting.

Mrs. C. M. Carlock and Mrs. Carl Taylor were special guests, and the following members were present: Mrs.
J. J. Cassidy, Mrs. J. H. Lutz, Mrs.
Don Wakeman, Mrs. J. H. Lavender and Mrs. C. E. McHenry. Favors were awarded Mrs. Lutz for high score, and Mrs. Wakeman for low score. Mrs.
Taylor made top cut. Dainty refreshments were then served.

Mrs. Lee Banks and Mrs. George Appleby spent Friday in Amarillo.

Mrs. Emmett Duncan returned Friday evening from Oklahoma City, where she had spent a week at the bedside of her mother.

J. C. Farrington returned home Friday, after spending several weeks in San Pedro, Calif., where he was called by the serious illness of a little granddaughter.

Miss Erdine Dwyer
Mrs. W. A. Duerr is Hostess to Club May-

One of the prettiest pre-holiday parties was given by Mrs. W. A. Duerr, who entertained members of Club Mayfair and other friends at bridge Friday afternoon. Yuletide decorations made a gay setting for five tables. The tally cards were drawn from a grab-bag, and to each was attached a small favor wrapped in Christmas tinsel.

The following club members and special guests were included in the list of players: Mrs. J. W. Cram, Mrs. M. A. Graham, Mrs. Clyde Fatheree, Mrs. H. G. Twiford, Mrs. W. E. Coffey, Mrs. I. B. Hughey, Mrs. H. W. Johns, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Mrs. J. M. Dodson, Mrs. DeWitt Courtney, Mrs. Jack Glatton, Mrs. H. E. Zoller, Mrs. H. H. Hicks, Mrs. L. N. McCullough, Mrs. B. D. Bullock of Skellytown, Miss Mabel Davis and Miss Ruth Anne Mitchell.

The game was beautifully refereed. Mrs. McCullough received a bouffant pillow as high score favor for guests. Miss Mitchell held high score among club members and was presented a party purse. A bottle of talcum, encased in an ornate flower was given for top cut to Miss Davis. A tapestry card case with two decks of cards consoling Mrs. Twiford for low score.

Thy lighted Christmas trees centered the quartet tables at tea hour, when a delicious refreshment course was served.

Miss Esther Shill left this morning for Fayetteville, Ark. She has been ill at the Pampa hospital the last three weeks.

Mrs. H. G. Myers will return today from Oklahoma City.

Mrs. W. S. Paris and daughter, Miss Ella Mae of Miami, were shoppers in Pampa yesterday.

Mrs. Mark Huseby and her daughter, Isabelle of Mobeetie, were among the shoppers in the city yesterday.

Byron Lilly is spending the week-end in Amarillo.

NOTED KANSAS DIES

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 15. (P)—J. T. Botkin, 75, pioneer Kansas ranchman and banker, secretary of state from 1913 to 1919, died here today after long illness. Mr. Botkin is survived by the widow, two sisters, Mrs. E. C. Waldron of Liberal, Kan., and Mrs. P. A. Calhoun of Liberty, Texas, and one brother, Ed Botkin of Liberty, Texas.

LOCALS

MENU FOR DINNER

Halibut steak, baked potatoes, buttered green beans, bread, butter, tomato gelatin salad, lemon pie and coffee.

CHRISTMAS RECIPES

Crufters, Four Dozen
(To serve with cider during the holidays.)

3 eggs, 1-1/2 cups sugar, 1 cup sour or buttermilk, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon mace, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 4-1/2 cups flour.

Beat the eggs and add the sugar. Mix well and let stand for five minutes to dissolve the sugar. Add the rest of the ingredients, mixing just enough to blend the ingredients. Mix into a soft ball of dough. Place it on a floured board and roll out with a rolling pin until the dough is 1-3 inch thick. Cut out with a doughnut cutter and fry in deep hot fat.

The dough may be rolled out and cut in strips, 1-2 inch wide and three inches long and the strips twisted and then deep fried.

Small balls of the dough may be made by cutting it into two-inch squares and rolling in balls in the palms of the hands, and then deep frying. These little balls, when cooled, may be rolled in powdered sugar and are nice for serving for afternoon tea.

Pop Corn Balls, for 12
1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 cup water, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon butter and 1-4 teaspoon soda.

Mix the molasses, sugar, water, vinegar and butter. Cook over a moderate fire without stirring, until a "click ball" forms, when a portion is tested in cold water. Add the soda and stir for one minute. Pour over the popped corn and allow to stand until a little cool. Take up by the handful and press together in the palms of both hands.

Chocolate Fudge
2 cups sugar, 2-3 cup water, 2 squares chocolate, 2 tablespoons butter and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Mix the sugar, water, chocolate and butter. Cook over a moderate fire, stirring frequently, until a soft ball forms, when a portion is slowly poured into a pan of cold water. Set aside for 20 minutes. Add the vanilla and beat until thick and creamy. Pour onto a buttered plate or pan. When "set" cut in squares.

Fenache

(Very creamy and well flavored.)
2 cups dark brown sugar, 1 cup granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 1-2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 2-3 cup black walnuts.

Mix the sugars, butter and milk. Cook over a moderate fire, stirring frequently, until a soft ball forms. When a portion is tested in cold water. Set aside for 20 minutes. Add the vanilla and beat until thick. Add the nuts and shape into balls one inch in diameter. Place on waxed paper or a buttered plate.

RADIO COMMISSION TO BE EXTENDED YEAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (P)—A move has been started in congress to extend the life of the federal radio commission one year. This would be the second extension.

Chairman Watson of the senate interstate commerce committee and Chairman White of the house merchant marine and fisheries committee, which handle radio legislation, today introduced identical rules in their respective houses calling for the prolonging of the commission to March 16, 1930.

NEW SPEED RECORD

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 15. (P)—A new world's record of 49.08 miles per hour for limited class 151 cubic inch hydroplanes gave Dick Loynes, Long Beach driver of Miss California, premier honors for that class for the 1928 race season here today.

Book Reviews

(Gayford of Weare; by Jeffrey Farnol; Little, Brown & Co., Boston $2.50; available at Fatheree Drug stores).

Perukes and small-swords, gypsies and gentlemen of the High Toby run riot through the pages of Jeffrey Farnol's latest volume. Probably no one is as familiar with England of the early 18th century as the author of "The Amateur Gentleman" and "The Broad Highway." Although the story is similar to that of "Our Admirable Betty," it is entirely engrossing to one, even though having read Mr. Farnol's earlier volume. A murder is committed, and Sir Richard, cousin of the murdered man, a dog with a bad name however unmerited, is made to burden himself with the responsibility for the crime. Fixing the blame where it belonged, and a lively love interest are the chief ingredients of the story. The clever and kindly Irish Duchess and her fair niece, Helen D'Arcy, add human interest to the story with their unflagging friendship for the much maligned Sir Richard. The Viscount Brocklehurst represents the worst side of a debauched aristocracy and Titus Oldcroft Bow Street runner is the typical tip-staff of the times. Captain Despard, saturnine fortune-hunter is rather unexpected at times, and is generally a most interesting character. Altogether it is a book of which one will read half and forget to finish.

(The Bridge of San Luis Rey; by Thornton Wilder; Albert and Charles Boni, New York, $2.50; available at Fatheree Drug stores).

Seldom, indeed, it is that we find a volume wherein the characters are drawn in actual human proportion, with the necessary ingredients of good and evil, and eliminating a moving-picture saccharine finish. Too often, even in this day of pseudo-realism, we find the pattern of the smoothly-rounded and polished novel that characterized the nineteenth century, artificial and trivial to such an extent as to be absolutely boring.

Here is something new, in locale and in structure—a violation, perhaps, of the novel structure. It tells three separate and distinct stories of interlocking sets of characters, delineating the main characters with great force and a nice discrimination in the matter of values that shows true artistry in the author. The setting is Peru of the early 18th century, the characters from every walk of life—drawn together by a common tragedy.

Amarillo Girls Win Prizes in Press Contests

BELTON, Dec. 15. (P)—A. R. Lock, student at Allen academy, Bryan, was elected president of the Texas High School Press association at the closing session of the seventh annual convention today.

Other officers named were Lois Faye Gideon, Mineral Wells, vice-president; Bob Davis, Belton, treasurer; Edna Franks, Breckenridge high, San Antonio, recording secretary, and Ruth Herman, Killeen, corresponding secretary.

La Retama, published by Breckenridge high school, San Antonio, was winner of the year book contest in class 1. La Pitahaya placed first in class 2.

The Huisache, Main avenue, San Antonio, weekly publication, won first place in class 1 for school newspapers. The Cotton Ball, Taylor high school, took honors in class 2. The Houston Post-Dispatch loving cup for the best high school newspaper in the state went to Main avenue.

North Dallas high school's "North-er" won the magazine trophy. Adeline White, Amarillo, received a trophy for the best short story written during the year, and the Amarillo "Sandstorm" was adjudged to have had the best newspaper column.

Rebecca Ainsworth, Amarillo, won the Baylor scholarship for the best editorial; Truett Barber took honors for the best news story, and John Davis, Breckenridge, San Antonio, was awarded a trophy for the best sports story.

Monaco's Little Parliament Quits

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, Dec. 15. (P)—This little principality's parliament of twenty-one members resigned today in a body. The crisis arose over the question of whether the management of the gambling casino or the people were going to run the country.

The national council, as parliament is called, has been backed by the management of the gambling establishment. It was forced out of office, however, by and element having for a slogan "Monaco for the Monacans" and who assert that the casino has failed to fulfill its agreement to make certain public improvements because its treasury is low.

Among the most excitable elements of the 22,000 citizens of the realm, there has been some talk of revolution, but heavily armed policemen, who have taken the place of the former miniature army, believe they can keep the peace.

WEST TEXANS WIN

BRECKENRIDGE, Dec. 15. (P)—West Texas triumphed over North Texas in an inter-sectional tilt here today when the Breckenridge Buckaroos filled the air with footballs to score six touchdowns and defeat the Sherman Bearcats, 40 to 14.

Wichita to Drill Few Feet Between Office Buildings

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 15. (P)—An 85-foot steel oil derrick, with regulation drilling apparatus, today was prepared to "spud in" a test between two of this city's principal office buildings, at the intersection of two main arteries of traffic.

Actual drilling through the pavement probably will begin tomorrow, as a spectacular part of Wichita's "gusher day" festivities Tuesday to celebrate the newly discovered oil pools near here.

The drill will be taken down after the celebration is over, the committee in charge explained.

"Hello Uncle" Is Sufficient to Rout Couple of Bandits

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15. (P)—It may take a lot to scare some bandits, but the secret of four-year-old Dorothy Hoffman's scheme is merely two words spoken in glee, "Hello, uncle."

It all happened this way. There were a lot of customers in the grocery store of Frank Smalley when two bearded men entered the building and lined the shoppers and proprietor against a wall facing the threat of two revolvers.

One of the men scooped about $12 from the till and then started to search the customers. A little girl's face popped out of the line, her eyes scanned one bandit's countenance, and she called her greeting. The effect was thorough. Both men turned and fled.

At Dorothy's home her mother admitted a description of the bandit whom her daughter greeted resembled an uncle.

Coed Is Arrested After Finding of Body of Infant

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark. Dec. 15. (P)—Police today arrested a 17-year-old university co-ed and charged her with "concealing a body" after the finding of the body of an infant in a suitcase under a culvert.

The girl admitted, police said, that she had hidden the body, but said that the baby had died at birth. She is a student in the University of Arkansas here. A hearing will be held as soon as her parents can come from their home in Jonesboro, Ark.

CENTRAL HIGH WILL HOLD ALL-PANHANDLE TOURNAMENT

Eastern Football Squad Training for Coming Game

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (AP)—Twenty-two of the leading eastern and middle-western football stars took their initial workout here today in preparation for the east-west gridiron encounter at San Francisco December 29. The team entrained for the Pacific coast tonight but will take several workouts en route.

The squad, chosen and coached by Dick Hanley of Northwestern and Andy Kerr of Washington and Jefferson, went through a light drill consisting of dummy tackling and rudimentary formations.

No intricate formations will be attempted by the eastern eleven. Coaches Hanley and Kerr said they would rely on straight line plays mixed with a passing game.

Rickard Hopes to Stage Fight in South in 1929

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. (AP)—Tex Rickard has decided the South is entitled to a "break" in this matter of fistfuffs.

New York, Chicago and Philadelphia have been Rickard's greatest extravaganzas, so Tex, seeking new worlds to conquer, hopes to stage one of his famous heavyweight "elimination" bouts at Miami Beach, early next year with Young Stribling of Atlanta, Ga., and Jack Sharkey, Boston, sailor man, as parties of the first and second part.

Under tentative plans, Rickard will construct an open-air arena to seat 50,000 or more at Miami Beach. Unless there's a hitch, he hopes to have it all over with by the last week in February or the first in March.

It was in talking over the possible receipts that Rickard became really enthusiastic. Speaking nonchalantly of $45 top prices and of fans by the thousands traveling to Miami Beach by motor and yacht for the bout, Rickard set his "gate" at around $500,000. The Miami Beach Chamber of Commerce is to aid Rickard.

FORT WORTH CENTRAL TO PLAY ON COAST

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15. (AP)—Although the Central high football team of Fort Worth is out of the state title race, the players have a great deal to look forward to. The team will travel to the Pacific coast to play an all-star team from Los Angeles, December 29.

Young Coaches Forge To Front In Lone Star State Football

By HAROLD BANKS
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

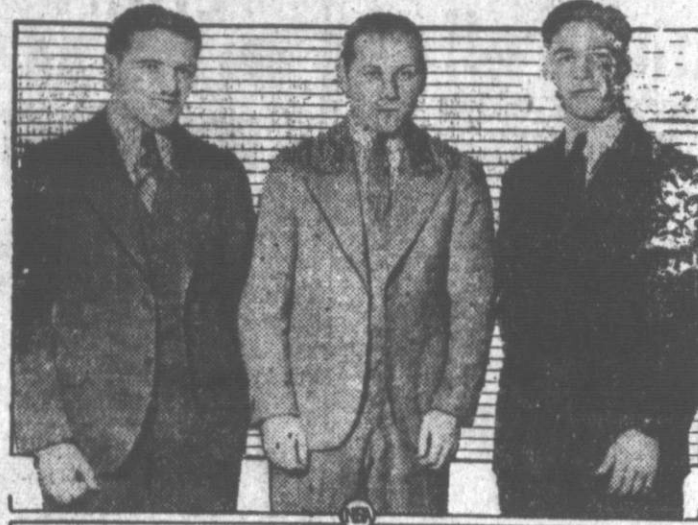

DALLAS, Dec. 15. (AP)—As in every other enterprise, you've had forced ahead in the business of tutoring gridiron teams and in no section of the country this year has the success of coaches, who themselves were the moleculins only a few seasons past, been more aptly demonstrated than the southwest conference.

Michigan may depend on the mellow wisdom of Fielding H. Yost to shape its football fortunes and Dan McGugin at Vanderbilt continues to turn out all-American caliber athletes, yet Texas universities have placed their future in the hands of newcomers to the coaching field with a marked measure of success.

D. K. Bible of the Texas Aggies, a member of the national rules committee, falls into the veteran class, but the remainder, in almost all instances, are but few years older than the men they direct from September until the season's end.

Chief of this latter group is J. R. McIntosh, 23-year-old line coach of Southern Methodist university, whose forward wall has been a bulwark of defense throughout the season. McIntosh is completing his fourth year under Ray Morrison as the developer of the pony line, having been assigned the job at the age of 20 when most

Friends—But Not in Ring

Friends when they are not working, but bitter rivals in their profession, are Joey Ross, Midget Wolgast and Willie Davies, as they appear, left to right, in the above picture. They are contender for the world's flyweight championship, which is disputed by Izzy Schwartz and Frankie Genaro, Genaro having the support of the National Boxing Association. The three little fighters appeared in a tournament recently in Toronto, where the picture was taken.

All-Southwestern Conference Team Shows Mighty Sophs Crowding Old Stars Off List—Hume Easy Choice

U. of Minnesota Coaches to Name Team Captains

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 15. (AP)—To eliminate "politics," selections of all athletic captains at the University of Minnesota hereafter will be made by coaches of the various teams.

The plan, an innovation in the Big Ten, was announced by the student senate committee on intercollegiate athletics at the annual football banquet this week. It came just as secret ballots naming the football captain for 1929 were to be opened and it created a sensation.

BOSTON, Dec. 15. (AP)—President Bob Quinn of the Boston Red Sox, announced tonight that he had traded Buddy Myer, third baseman, to the Washington club of the American league in exchange for Horace Lisenbee and Milton Gaston, pitchers; Bob Reeses and Grant Gillis, infielders, and Ed Bishop, outfielder. Myer came here from Washington in 1927.

Mother or Dad will appreciate furniture from G. C. Malone Furniture other pigskin luminaries are attempting to oust a varsity regular.

Oddly enough, this coach who dispenses the tricks of charging, blocking and tackling never played preparatory school football. In 1921, when Morrison was in charge of the freshman team at S. M. U., McIntosh came out for the squad. The following season he failed to make the first-string eleven, but in the two succeeding years he came into his own and some of his performances still bring words of commendation when Mustang alumni gather.

Gerald Mann, Morrison's assistant and one of the most brilliant backfield luminaries of last season, is 21.

For six years Matty Bell, the old center college end, has been head of the coaching system at Texas Christian university. When Bell took over the job he was 23, but this tender age proved no handicap. Teams which in previous years floundered the frogs have been trounced with regularity.

Marty Karow, former Ohio State star, has been an assistant coach at Texas university for two years and Schultz and Daugherty at Rice also are among the youngsters who promise to step into the shoe of Pop Warner, Bob Zupke and other grand old men of the cleat-scarred turf.

Dallas School Officials Resent League Decision

DALLAS, Dec. 15. (AP)—The Dallas News will say tomorrow that at least two Dallas high school officials are openly incensed at the decision of the state interscholastic league in permitting Cleburne to remain in the title race after the Yellowjackets' stellar fullback, Seaman Squyers, had been declared ineligible.

"The action of the state executive committee in ruling Squyers ineligible but permitting the team to remain in the race demands the attention of every member of the interscholastic league," Coach Howard Allen of Oak Cliff high quoted as having said.

"This ruling establishes a dangerous precedent. It is the first time in the league's history where a team had used an ineligible man in all its district games and still remained in the race without any penalty," Allen was further quoted.

Strangling Goes in French Rugby But Is Denounced

MARMADE, France, Dec. 15. (AP)—Rugby football has become so rough in France that newspapers everywhere have begun a movement to "clean up" the game.

A match between Marmande and Bergerac has brought the movement to a head.

A Marmande player, virtually strangled the Bergerac captain, Beausoleil, during a game while thousands of spectators looked on. Beausoleil was carried off the field unconscious with his tongue hanging out and foam on his lips while Marmande roared howled: "Well done, Kill him!" Police had to be summoned to keep them from attacking the rest of the Bergerac team.

CLARENDON MEMBERSHIPS IN W. T. C. C. OBTAINED

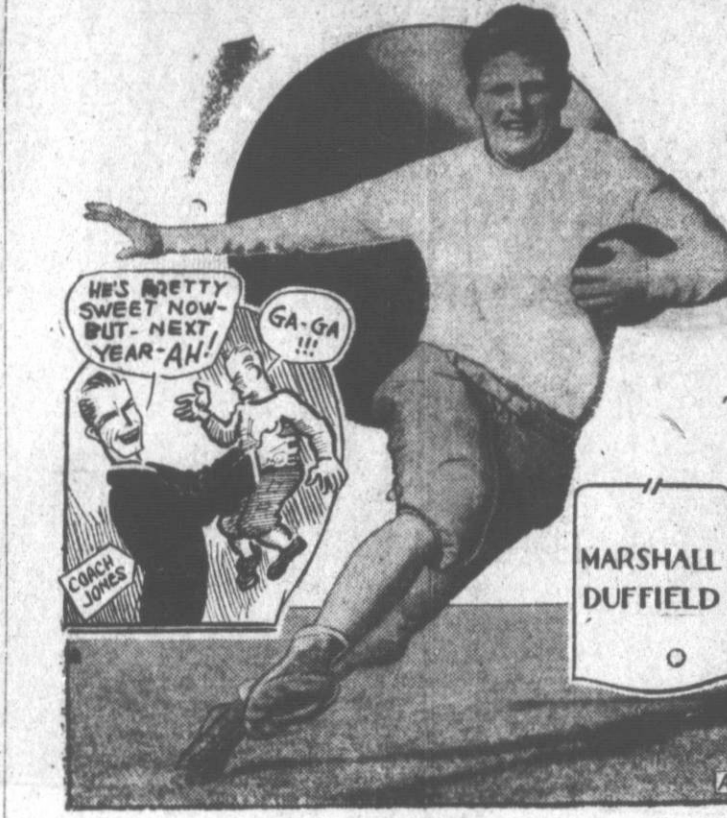

CLARENDON, Dec. 13. (Special).—J. E. Biggs, field representative of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has been here for several days to secure the renewal of memberships held by Clarendon business men in the regional organization. With the assistance of local men the greater part of the town's quota has been secured.

Clarendon's number of memberships in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has steadily risen for the past several years from the minimum of 10 to over 50 at the present time.

Hooks and Slides

There was a time not so many years ago, in what is sometimes referred to as the good old days, when almost all of the big baseball deals were made over the bar in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York. The winter meetings were then very heavy drinking sessions for baseball and to some extent the meetings that followed in the drier period were game attempts to live up to the old standard.

The baseball clans all gathered this year in Toronto for the most widely attended session the minor leagues ever have attended. The minors were all there and the major leagues had their representatives in full force. And Toronto had everything to provide the old amusements.

"But it wasn't a wet session," an American league magnate said on his return. "I didn't see a stew all the time I was there. We had our room stocked with champagne, whiskey and a lot of baseball men and eight New York baseball writers. And you might not believe it, but all that whole bunch drank was a quart of whiskey and a bottle of gin."

SPEND THAT DOUGH, COL.

When Babe Ruth was approaching a new contract with the New York Yankees two years ago the baseball writers were not a bit backward in suggesting that Col. Ruppert should give the big fellow some large dough. No dough is too much for the Babe because so much of it goes right into circulation.

It was suggested that the good colonel should pay the Babe at $100,000 a year and the Colonel playfully remarked: "You fellows certainly like to spend my money for me."

It has become a habit in baseball to spend the good colonel's dough for the reason, perhaps that he has so much it would take a squad to spend it. Every time a minor league club owner wants to inflate the value of his franchise or boost the price of a ball player he announces that he is about to do business with the Yankees.

In recent weeks it has been reported that Col. Ruppert had bought the Syracuse, Nashville, San Antonio, Atlanta, Chambersburg and Asheville ball clubs and that they might organize a new league of eight clubs.

THE ANSWER IS NO

Knute Rockne told the Notre Dame boys that he would be forced to invent a new system for 1929 in which a new and deceptive style of offense would be stressed. And he said also that he was entirely to blame for the loss of the four games that were dropped this year by his Notre Dame team.

The Rock is just about the kind of a fellow to say that about himself, but it is interesting to figure if he would have admitted his guilt if one of the guys on the bench had charged him with it.

Basketball Meet to Be Held in Gymnasium Feb. 2-3

Central high school's magnificent new gymnasium-auditorium will be advertised to the schools of the Panhandle through a basketball tournament to be held February 1-2.

This All-Panhandle event will bring teams from all over the plains. Invitations will be mailed by Coach Odus Mitchell within a short time.

Gold basketballs will be presented to members of the winning team, and also to the all-star team of individual players picked from those participating in the tournament. There will be a loving cup for the runner-up team, and another for the winner of the consolation game.

The new gymnasium has one of the best floors in West Texas and seating capacity large enough to accommodate 500 or more fans comfortably. The tournament will be almost continuous during the two days.

Draft Problem Still Troubles Minor Leagues

CHICAGO, Dec. 16. (AP)—The major leagues have closed their shutters on the baseball draft problem, but it still cast a chill of discontent over the minors this week.

Refusing to budge from the stand they have taken, officials and club owners of the National and American leagues, in joint session Thursday informed the minor leagues that the perplexing question rested solely with them. They rejected an invitation to send representatives to the meeting of minor league clubs at West Baden, Ind., January 10.

If a conciliatory plan is adopted at the West Baden meeting, the major league officials said, they will be glad to hear of it at their next meetings in February.

Rejection of the plan of John Heydler, President of the National league, to have 10 men teams so that a pitcher would not have to bat; decision to open the major league season on April 16, a week later than last season, and to close it on October 6, a week later; several trades and discussion of the "farm" question were high lights of action at the joint meeting of the two major organizations yesterday.

Manager Miller Huggins, however, indicated he hoped to make a swap with the Philadelphia Athletics and the rumors were that it would send third baseman Sammy Hale and pitcher Rube Walberg from the "A's" to the Yankees in exchange for pitcher Myles Thomas and either outfielder Bob Meusel or Benny Paschal.

Borger High Will Send Both Girls' and Boys' Basketball Teams Here Tuesday—Canyon Is Friday Foe

Central high school's basketball season is here for both boys and girls.

The girls' team, coached by L. K. Maxey, left yesterday afternoon to play Miami high girls.

Borger high school's boys and girls of the basketball urge will play here Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The girls likely will play first.

The Canyon high Eagles will be opponents of the Harvesters Friday afternoon at 3:30 and again at 7:30 o'clock at Canyon. The Eagles always have strong teams, and competition with them will indicate speed this season in District 1. Canyon's team will come here for two games on January 11.

Coaches Mitchell and Fox have done little more than send their big squad through a few practices. They started the lettermen in the game with Clarendon college, but soon started rapid fire line-up changes to give all the prospects a chance. That play showed conclusively that the first string will not include more than a dozen or fifteen men.

The Clarendon contest was started with practically no plays, but from now on Coach Mitchell will concentrate on the first string men and will give them fundamental plays and drills. Such rudimentary tactics as short passing, dribbling, pivoting, and under-basket shooting must be drilled into men who but recently were carrying the pigskin. A few weeks of hard practice should result in some flashing team play and development of defensive tactics.

Christian Church Will Move Today to New Building

Pampa's Christian church, 6 years old, today will move to its new building, a well planned educational building in East Pampa.

The congregation will assemble at the old building, have pictures made, and will then proceed to the new building for more pictures and the dedicatory sermon.

The educational plant, of three stories has been so designed by W. R. Kaufman, the architect, that the main auditorium can be added in the near future as an integral part of the whole. The building was constructed by the Hickman Construction company, and electrical work was by the Davis Electric company.

The postponed "open house" will be held Tuesday evening. Members of the church and their friends will gather for a short program and refreshments will be served.

The old building was occupied last Sunday for the last service. At the evening hour, the Rev. James Todd, Jr., minister of the church, reviewed the history of the congregation since the first dedication on April 16, 1911.

Grave of W. H. Woodman, Pioneer Attorney, Discovered Near Washburn

After a search extending over many years, the grave of W. H. Woodman, one of the first judges of the 31st district court, when the entire Panhandle comprised the district, has been located. The grave was found by his son, W. H. Woodman of Artesia, N. M., in an old cemetery near Washburn, situated between Amarillo and Claude. Mr. Woodman died in 1891. His place of burial was not known to the Bar association, which in some way wished to remember him. Also, old timers in the Panhandle wished to remember his burial place.

A letter received by T. D. Hobart, who was a personal friend of Mr. Woodman, yesterday gave particulars necessary for locating the resting place of one of the first lawyers in the Panhandle of Texas. Mr. Woodman began serving his last term as district attorney of the 31st district in 1888, when he defeated Judge B. M. Baker of Canadian. He served for two years and then retired.

Mr. Hobart says that it is the intention of the Bar association to erect a fence around the grave of the veteran lawyer and to erect a monument over his resting place.

Baptists to Hear Radio Address by L. R. Scarborough

Members of the First Baptist church will hear a radio address by Dr. L. R. Scarborough of Fort Worth this evening, through the radio loud speaker installed in the auditorium by Oden Music Shoppe. Dr. Scarborough will speak over station KWKH, Shreveport, La., at 9 o'clock, immediately following the close of the evening service, to Baptist throughout the Southern Baptist Convention.

Baptist throughout the South, nearly 4,000,000 in number, are being asked by the Convention to make a special Christmas offering and thus provide $2,000,000 in cash to be applied on the reduction of the indebtedness of the home and foreign mission boards and the other agencies and institutions fostered by the Convention. This extra Christmas gift is being sought over and above the regular contribution of the churches, and the appeal is made that the members deny themselves some convenience this year in order that they may have the funds with which to participate generously in this offering.

Dr. Scarborough is chairman of the committee of seven promoting the offering and is recognized as one of the outstanding Baptist ministers of the South. He is making the radio address at the request of Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

IS IT A SQUARE DEAL?

For you to neglect the church when you would not live in a community without the church? If the church is the backbone of any community; the center of all our best life, thought and development; the greatest bulwark of private and public conscience; the world's school for a character that will live through adversity; and the giver through its membership of more than 60 per cent. of all charity—is it a square deal for you to let others do all this for you—and carry your kind weight home?

"From a moral, social, and physical point of view, the observance of Sunday is a duty of absolute value."

METHODIST CHURCH

Interest continues to grow in all departments of our church and Sunday School. The programs arranged from time to time by the program committee are attracting wide attention. Our program for Sunday Dec. 16, will be one worth your time.

Sunday school starts promptly at 9:45 o'clock with J. O. Gillham as superintendent.

Preaching service, 10:55 a. m. The pastor, Rev. Tom W. Brabham, will bring the message.

Theme: "A New Christianity." This message will deal directly with people's conception of Christianity today. Every church member in the community should hear the message.

There will be special music by the choir. At the evening hour the choir under the direction of Prof. Thomas Fannell, will render a Christmas program. This program will be a message in song and music, of the coming of the Messiah. At all our services you will hear spiritual singing, great music and gospel preaching, and find a fellowship that you will never forget. The church with a hearty welcome.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Sunday school begins promptly at 10 o'clock, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Preaching service is at 11 a. m. The morning subject will be, "The Lord our Counselor." A business session will follow.

Evening service at 7:30; subject to be discussed, "Carelessness and Indifference."

CAPITOL

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

WASHINGTON.—One of the "babes" of the seventy-first congress is very apt to prove a precocious infant. While he is a newcomer to public life in Washington, or anywhere else, he is a congressional press gallery veteran of more than a quarter century of nightly strenuous political news getting.

If there is any trick of the trade in senate or house Louis Ludlow, democrat, representative-elect from the redoubtable republican stronghold, the Seventh Indiana, does not know, the bystander would be overwhelmingly surprised.

It's easy to sympathize with the feelings of Ralph Updyke, incumbent republican from the Seventh. To be unseated in a very off year for democrats and see his opponent carried into office by a majority of 6,386 votes when the district also gave Hoover a majority of 34,000 must have been a shock. Ludlow was the only democratic newcomer to beat the Hoover landslide except for a contested case in Texas, where normally there are lots of democrats anyhow.

Personal Victory

In the Seventh Indiana, which takes in Indianapolis and 22 towns in Marion county, democrats usually have been few and far between. What put "Louie" across undoubtedly was his own personality, known these many years to the home folks through his news writings from Washington, and the solid support of his newspaper brethren regardless of party preferences.

Incidentally, Ludlow's first elective office was as vice-president of the National Press club in Washington. Having decided he would like the job, he circularized the club membership to that effect, saying he knew of no good reason why he should have it but wanted it, nevertheless. That so tickled his fellows that he went in a-whooping, became president of the club in due order, developed a taste for public speaking and even blossomed like the rose sartorially speaking.

Also, the political office seeking gown having been merely latent in him as it seems to be in most Hoosier staters, he got a yearning for a seat in the house and captured it to the surprise of everybody, including himself.

Born in Log Cabin

Ludlow is a big chap, 6 feet, 3 inches by 238 pounds. He has that political essential of this land of the free—log cabin birth in Indiana some 55 years ago, the cabin, according to Louie,

Under Fire?

General Edgar Jadwin, chief of engineers who is in charge of flood control diversion in south Arkansas and northern Louisiana, soon may be under fire at a senate committee. Chairman Reed declared that an investigation would be made of the war department's progress in carrying out the flood control act, citing charges of extreme economy "instead of trying fully and adequately to protect the inhabitant by proper safety devices."

having had "cracks big enough to admit the lizards from the surrounding country."

He began newspaper work in Indianapolis at 18 and tells with relish how green he was. Sent to inquire as to the health of an ailing priest, Louie rang the bell and asked to see the priest's wife for interview purposes.

Louie's battle caused his Washington press colleagues more agitation than the presidential results. He is by way of being the vicarious representative-elect of this group which talks more and votes less politics than any similar number of citizens anywhere. Representative Updyke thinks there may be ground for charging non-residence in Indiana. Louie has been so long in Washington.

W. H. Brymer of Amarillo was a business visitor in this city Friday afternoon.

James D. Wyman left Friday afternoon for his home in Santa Monica, Calif., after spending several months here attending to business interests.

Guiding Your Child

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

HIS CREATIVE EFFORTS

As a grown man and an artist, Edwin works slowly and painfully. According to his own confession, he is so harassed by doubts and fears of his ability to create the images of his imagination that he accomplishes little. Those few works which he has brought to completion alone bear witness that his difficulty indeed lies, in an inner conflict rather than in the quality of his artistic endowment.

He tells of his story of his early childhood. At the age of four he came to his mother and said: "If you let me have five cents, I will make you something beautiful." With the nickel in his hand he rushed down the block to the stationery store. There he pushed the coin across the counter and received in return a pack of bright colored papers. Eagerly he ran home with them and set to work.

He cut his papers out in different shapes, fitted them neatly together and mounted them in a design which had been burning in his mind ever since he had first seen the papers on display in the shop window. He worked intently for an hour. Then with the finished work in his hand he walked proudly to where his mother sat with her mending basket.

"Look, mother, look. See what I made for you." His mother lifted her eyes from her work, a little annoyed at the interruption.

"Oh," she said in a quiet, chill voice. "Is that all? I thought you said you were going to make me something beautiful."

After 30 years Edwin remembered the incident with pain. How much it colored his creative impulses through life it is impossible to tell. But we may be sure that it takes only a few such experiences, each one re-enforcing the other, to affect a child's whole attitude toward the particular phase of his interests which is involved.

When the child's first creative efforts in color and design or in mechanics and construction meet with a cold reception from the person whose approval is most necessary, he may well become discouraged and leave the work for which he is best fitted. Every creative effort, no matter how crude, should be greeted with warmth and appreciation.

The most notable advance in driving convenience since the self-starter

The Superior Whippet is the first car to offer the new "Finger-Tip Control"—a single button conveniently located in the center of the steering wheel, which controls all functions of starting the motor, operating the lights and sounding the horn.

This ingenious device does away with all troublesome foot fumbling for the starting button, usually located in a somewhat inaccessible position, and obviates a change from the comfortable driving position to reach the light switch on the dash.

While everyone will welcome this new feature, it will appeal particularly to women drivers. Its simple operation is clearly explained by the illustrations above.

Baylor Embezzler Loses Decision

AUSTIN, Dec. 15. (AP)—The supreme court today refused to grant a writ of error to William J. Meyers of Dallas, who had been divested of his home and furnishings there by Baylor university of Waco, under allegations that he was indebted to the university for funds said to have been embezzled while he was a "trusted employee."

The university claimed in its suit that during the 10 years Meyers was a "trusted employee" he had embezzled in excess of $25,000, which moneys he had used to purchase the property, real and personal, it sought to recover.

The district court entered judgment for the university and the court of civil appeals at Dallas affirmed the verdict.

Miss Fannie Florence Sims, head of the history department of Central high school, and her class in American Government visited 84th district court Friday afternoon. The following members of the class were present: Vernon Lawrence, La Fayette Casey, Carl Jannerson, Thelma Purlington, Margarette Pascell, Mary Yoder, Margarette Pittman, Cornelia Barrett, Claudine Pope, Evelyn Zimmerman, and Beth Blythe.

Health Nurse Demand Is Far Beyond Supply Says State Official—Work of Department Shows Great Needs

AUSTIN, Dec. 15. (AP)—The demand for public health nurses far exceeds the supply, with their work in Texas through the bureau of child hygiene far-reaching, Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer, said today in a two-year summary of activities in his department.

Public health nurses should be made available to every county in the state, he said. Some counties at present are paying all the salaries of their nurses, while the state is assisting two county units and 27 field nurses.

"Thousands of physical defects among pre-school children have been found and corrections made and thousands of expectant mothers have received advice from the bureau," Dr. Anderson said.

A reorganization of the bureau of food and drugs was effected and placed in charge of an experienced drug man. Thousands of pounds of meats, vegetables, canned goods and other foods have been condemned; some alarming conditions found at a number of bottling plants; several cases of food poisoning were investigated; some drug stores were found keeping biological products at improper temperatures; oyster shucking houses were surveyed and found wanting in sanitary equipment and operation, and a number of poultry plants were discovered accepting inferior and diseased fowls. Warnings were issued in all these cases.

amination of specimens submitted from all sections of the state, from state institutions, particularly the penitentiary system, and various eleemosynary institutions when requested. State funds for carrying on the work were supplemented by appropriations from the international health board.

Big Consignment of Liquor Seized at LeFors Wed.

No little excitement was caused around the courthouse yesterday when officers unloaded 24 half-gallon jars of corn whisky from a truck and stored it in Sheriff E. S. Graves' private sanctum. The liquor composed a haul made at LeFors Wednesday night by City Marshall J. D. White and Constable J. R. Walls.

One arrest was made. The man is out on bond awaiting action of the grand jury now in session.

AMUSEMENTS

Sunday-Monday
 "West of Zanzibar" starring Lon Chaney, is one of the most unusual pictures of the year. The story is about a man whose wife was stolen from him. He then goes to a remote island far from the scenes of his former happiness and leads a band of merciless savages. You'll see Chaney at his best when he is in the wilds with revenge his sole thought.

Tuesday

Low Oddy and Aileen Pringle certainly work in harmony in "Baby Cyane." Many interesting entanglements add zest to the picture throughout.

Wednesday-Thursday

One of the greatest newspaper stories ever screened will be seen in "Freedom of the Press." Lewis Stone takes the leading part and portrays the eternal tension under which newspapermen often work.

Friday-Saturday

Three acts of big-time vaudeville will be shown on these days. Malcolm McGregor in "Stormy Waters" will be the feature on the screen.

CRESCENT

Sunday-Monday

The Irish blue of Nancy Carroll's eyes and the titian hue of her hair last come into their own on the screen, in the technicolor sequences in Grey's production, "The Water Hole," which will open a two-day engagement at the Crescent theatre Sunday and Monday.

The black and white cameras, while appreciatively registering the pleasing contours of Miss Carroll's face and figure, have balked at capturing the color of her eyes and hair. To a technicolor camera, however, blue eyes are blue, golden red hair is just that and rosy cheeks are rosy cheeks.

That ability to register the true beauty of a lovely woman is one of the outstanding features of color motion pictures, according to film experts.

For the color sequences of "The Water Hole," Miss Carroll has a specially designed wardrobe ranging in modes from those popular in the cave man era to the most modern outfits.

Tuesday

"Head of the family."

Wednesday-Thursday

Chester Conklin in "Taxi 13."

Friday

"Rough Riders Red."

Saturday

The return of a star you have been waiting for—William S. Hart in "Toll Gate," a border romance of hot passions and cold lead, train hold-up, Mexican raiders, fights his betrayer to death and then flings away his freedom to have his enemy's child.

Just a Doll or a Book

It doesn't take much to make the needy, the orphans, or the poor crippled children in our hospitals happy. Many a little girl will get more happiness out of a doll or a book than some of us do out of gifts costing hundreds of dollars. Call 106 and let a Lions Club member call for your used toys or other gifts for the poor kiddies.

Shop at College Builds Trailers

CANYON, Dec. 15. (Special)—Thirteen boys of a shop work class in the West Texas State Teachers college high school are making trailers to use on the farms where they live.

Since they have almost no money available for purchasing materials, the trailers have been made of discarded materials or junk. Two trailers have been made by using the front axle assemblies of old Fords and a third by using the rear axle assembly. The bodies are built of salvaged lumber, and the boys paint them themselves.

A Randall county farmer sent word to the class that he would furnish the materials for two trailers if the boys would build him one. The offer was accepted. The farmer was getting rid of material that was worthless to him and the boys were getting a chance to make something they wanted.

This class is under the direction of T. M. Moore of the Vocational Agricultural department.

Proper Wrapping of Packages Very Important Now

Addressing in a legible manner of all Christmas packages is necessary to expedite delivery service during the Christmas mailing rush now on, according to Postmaster W. A. Crawford. The big rush is under way, the postmaster said and clerks have received implicit instructions not to accept parcels if not properly wrapped and addressed.

The post office will be closed all day Christmas, and only special delivery parcels may be had on that day.

The postmaster sets down some simple instructions to be followed: Shop early and mail early is the first and foremost on the list.

Address all parcels in ink. Place your name and address in the large assortment in stock.

left hand corner of the package. Do not address your parcels except on one side. Do not use Christmas paper to wrap parcels in; use white or brown paper. Parcels should be securely tied with heavy string.

Poses Recapture Escaped Convicts

BLUE RIDGE, Dec. 15. (P)—Three of 15 convicts who escaped the Blue Ridge state prison here Friday night were recaptured today by posses beating the barren lowlands surrounding the farm.

None of the men offered resistance. Residents of this section accustomed to frequent escapes from the state farms, have armed themselves for expected appearance of the convicts, who it is expected, will be driven from their woodland retreats by hunger and cold within the next 12 hours.

have gone to Hedley to stay until after the holidays.

Mrs. Howell and daughter, Frances, were Berger visitors this week.

Members of the Idle-a-While Bridge club were guests at a cleverly planned party given by Mrs. Ira Varnardall. Three interesting games closed, with Mrs. Josephine Sparks holding high score, and Mrs. E. O. Van Winkle, low. Each received a pretty favor, and Mrs. Howard Blake drew high cut favor. All accessories for the game featured Christmas motifs, and the bright color scheme was repeated in the refreshments served at the close of the playing.

The guests, other than those already mentioned, were Mrs. Ralph Ogden, Mrs. L. F. Keough, Mrs. W. R. Combs, Mrs. S. E. Smith, Mrs. Floyd Holler, Miss Birdie Short, Miss Faye Joyce, Miss Marie Copeland and Miss Lucille Stratton.

"I do not understand," she said, "why you wished me to read your most personal correspondence."

ASHTORETH handed the surprising communication back to the remployer. Acutely uncomfortable, she stood rigidly by his desk.

"I do not understand," she said, "why you wished me to read your most personal correspondence."

"Because," he explained, "I wanted to see the effect of a letter like that on a girl like you. A whim, perhaps."

"Mae de Marr worked in this office once. A filing clerk, I believe. I wondered how many girls like her there are out there. I thought, perhaps, you could tell me."

Ashtoresh raised her head.

"I am afraid," she said, "that I cannot help you. I wonder why you thought I could."

"I hope I have not offended you," he apologized. "I assure you there was nothing at all personal in my inquiry. I'm simply interested in this modern girl proposition. I thought, maybe you could help me see the light."

He came then, and stood in front of her.

"My secretary," he informed her surprisingly, "has a perfect passion for cats. A few months ago he suggested that we endow something-or-other for homeless felines. A hospital, I think it was—an asylum for indigent animals. Dogs, too, if I remember correctly. He persuaded me to sign a check for $10,000."

"Well, he hadn't been out of here 10 minutes—with my check in his pocket—when he walks this little De Marr. Crying her eyes out. It was about six o'clock."

"Now—I wonder if I can make myself clear—Mr. Higgins goes in, you see, for dumb animals. Well, here was a dumb woman. And, if a flock of cats is worth $10,000, how much, I asked myself, is a woman worth? If a man can endow a home for animals, to keep them off the streets, how about a girl? How much was it worth to keep her off the streets?"

Mr. Hart paused.

"A purely rhetorical question," he assured her. "I was merely speculating. It's puzzling—the relative value of things. Particularly when a man with a philanthropic bent acquires a great deal of money."

"Can you imagine, Miss Ashe, having so much money that it doesn't make any difference—to me, I mean—whether I spend it on starving cats or foolish girls?"

"You don't really mean that?" she gasped.

"Well," he admitted, "there is more kick, of course, in spending it on girls. Cats are so undemonstrative, don't you know. Anyhow I reckoned it would be more fun squandering a few thousands on the little De Marr. A better return, you might say, on the investment."

"Oh."

Ashtoresh straightened unconsciously in her high-backed chair.

"No," he murmured, "I didn't mean that at all. My word, you are a suspicious young person. My motives, I assure you, were entirely respectable. Only I'd rather incur the gratitude of a pretty girl than the feline caresses of the best dam' Maltese in Boston. An entirely masculine point of view. Perhaps you do not appreciate it, Miss Ashe."

"Oh, yes," she retorted, "I quite understand."

"Mae de Marr," he resumed, "talks a lot about the 'modern girl.' Now I wonder what it is, Miss Ashe, that makes people do that."

He smiled ingratiatingly, and Ashtoresh noticed the humorous little lift of an eyebrow. He was, really, she decided, quite charming.

"You'd think," he complained, "that she was an entirely new species. The newspapers prate of her, and the reformers. And the best sellers are all about her. The general opinion seems to be that this so-called modern girl is a paragon of all the recent virtues. Honest, fearless, clear thinking, independent."

"Personally, I'm beginning to think she's a good deal of a fraud. It seems to me that she's pretty proficient in most of the old-time vices. I might almost say that she practices them exclusively. And this war cry of hers—'Independence and Equal Rights'—is rather a lot of hokum. However, Miss de Marr may be an exception, of course. That's what I'd like you to tell me."

(To Be Continued)

Hollis Hart continues the story of his amazing philanthropy and the attitude of Mae de Marr, the girl of mystery. And Ashtoresh denies her mother's next chapter.

Screen Life in Hollywood

By WADE WERNER

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Importation of foreign players hasn't been altogether halted by the growing popularity of a screen that speaks English, but it is very evident that producers are using more discretion in picking their importations.

One of the most recent arrivals from Germany, the youthful Dita Parlo, surprises those who meet her by conversing fluently in English with scarcely a trace of accent. She knows the language so well, in fact, that she refers to her fluency as being merely an academic proficiency which will have to be rounded out and colored with slangy Americanisms before it will sound really natural. Maurice Chevalier, the French singing star opposite whom she will make her first talking picture appearance, will doubtless help her out there, for he knows more American slang than many Americans.

DEAF AND DUMB TALKIE

Meanwhile, with the excitement over vocal films driving many players to the legitimate stage or to voice teachers to learn how to talk. Young Mickey Bennett has drawn the oddest talking picture assignment yet handed out to a screen juvenile. He must make his talkie debut in the deaf and dumb language. As the lad who plays the title role in "The Dummy" he will have to be convincingly deaf and dumb also, though the picture is to be 100 per cent dialog, and other players in the cast will make plenty of noise. Mickey is hard at work learning how to talk with his fingers.

GASTRONOMIC DRAMA

Picture goes probably look upon eating scenes as the least emotional moments of the movies. On the set during production, however, breakfasts and banquets arouse more genuine emotion than crying scenes.

The emotional reaction of the extra who has been underfed for weeks is naturally one of joy and deep content when, day after day, he is ordered to eat and eat and eat until the director is satisfied that the family reunion dinner, or whatever it happens to be, has been properly filmed from all angles. The property boys, however, to whom falls the task of washing dishes and setting the tables anew after each "take," hate eating scenes with pas-

America's Healthiest

Thelma Svarstad, 17, of Brown county, S. D., and William Tobias, 15, of Saginaw county, Mich., have been chosen the healthiest girl and boy in America, at the seventh annual congress of the 4-H clubs in Chicago. Thelma won a rating of 99 per cent, while William was pronounced 97.4 per cent perfect.

sionate sincerity. Sometimes, if the dish-washing is too long drawn out, they go bolshevik and secretly smash cups and saucers.

WOULD SELL LINES

AUSTIN, Dec. 15. (AP)—The Black Diamond Bus company today applied to the railroad commission for permission to sell some of its lines in the Rio Grande valley to George N. Winsor, trustee.

The lines it is proposed to sell are from Brownsville to Mission, Point Isabel and Raymondville, via San Benito.

SPECIAL OFFICER RETURNS

Abe Davis, special Santa Fe officer stationed here, returned Friday from a week's vacation with friends and relatives in East Texas. Mr. Davis was recalled to duty before his vacation was up because of the illness of a brother officer.

A pie supper and popularity contest, held by the students of the high school Friday evening, brought in $55, to be used for a stage curtain, basketball equipment, and other school supplies. The benefit entertainment was held at the school building, with a good attendance.
