City Manager Urges Action For Downtown

Land Judging Team

Colorado High School's land judging team participated in the State Land Judging contest at Stephenville Friday. They are from left Mike Smith, sophomore, Pat Sadler, junior, Jimmy Trulock and Scott Hudson, freshmen. The CHS Team took first place in the district, fourth in area, and qualified for the State contest for 50 teams at Sweetwater March 29. Vocational Agriculture teacher Frank Brownfield accompanied the team.

Church Areas Get Big Lights

Colorado City's church areas are getting new vapor mercury street lights.

Nine of the new lights will replace the old radio reflector type at strategic points to light church corners.

The high-powered vapor mercury lights are being installed by Texas Electric Service Co. at the alley between Elm and Chestnut Sts., at 3rd St. and at the corner of 3rd and Chestnut where First Baptist Church is located.

New lights are also going up at the alley between Chestnut and Locust Sts., on 3rd St. and between 3rd and 4th on Locust to light the area around All Saints Episcopal Church.

First Christian Church area will get new lights at 4th and Elm Sts. Alley between Elm and Chestnut will have a new light as will the corner of 4th and Chestnut where First United Methodist Church stands.

Corner of 5th and Chestnut will get the ninth light planned to brighten the First Presbyterian Church corner.

The "white way" down Hickory St. is to be extended to Interstate 20 at the Highway 208 intersection at the city limits, said J. A. Sadler, Jr., city manager.

Cotton Vote

To Start May 5th

Cotton growers were reminded Wednesday that the period May 5 through May 9 is the time for voting on whether a cotton farmer may sell or lease his farm's cotton allotment for 1970 and so transfer it for use on another farm outside the county but within the State.

A "yes" vote by at least two-thirds of the county's cotton farmers who vote in the referendum will permit such transfers to be made in 1970 for a period of time agreed on by the parties involved.

To become effective for 1970, transfer requests must be filed at the county office during the period June 1 through December 31, 1969.

Curtis Latimer, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, explains that a grower is eligible to vote in the referendum if he produces upland cotton in the county.

Ballots have been mailed to all known cotton producers, and any cotton producer who has not received one by mail is urged to immediately get in touch with the ASCS county office.

Ballots may be mailed in or brought to the county office at any time within the voting period, but Latimer emphasized that the ballot must be in the county office by the close of business on Friday, May 9, or postmarked by midnight on that date.

Cooley To Head Veterans

Clyde Cooley was elected commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9178 here Thursday night.

Cooley will succeed Felix Martin.

M. F. Bearden was named senior vice-commander with Horace Pace as junior vice-commander.

Other officers chosen are Arthur Millsap, quartermaster, Murry Jordan, adjutant, Fritz Mogford, chaplain, and Jesse Bunch, surgeon.

Board of directors members are Aubrey Kropp, Jim Jones, and Jordan with W. P. Perry as trustee.

Post members voted a change in their meeting time and set their next meeting for Thursday evening at 8:30, May 8.

Enrolling Continues

Pre-registration days at Primary School Tuesday and Wednesday enrolled 100 children who will enter first grade in September, said Bob O'Day, principal.

A total of 130 letters were mailed to parents or guardians of the 1969 autumn first-graders, O'Day said.

Parents or guardians of pupils who have not yet had their names placed on the pre-registration roll are asked to visit the principal's office to complete the spring enrollment details.

City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr. proposed Friday a Community Action Program aimed for remodeling and rejuvenating Colorado City's downtown area.

He called for a community-wide uprising of interest and effort to be coordinated by Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber, civic clubs, ministerial alliance, women's clubs, youth groups, fraternal organizations, government of city and county and schools, should have key roles in the program, he declared.

His proposal - tying in with the community's work surge for new industrial payrolls - was presented before the Lions Club luncheon Friday in Civic House.

Sadler said the Community Action Program proposal was to focus attention upon a critical need of Colorado City.

"Sure, it follows the advice of industrial development experts who conducted our recent Economic Development Clinic... but it should bring into focus a problem all of us have known exists for a long time and which our youth graphically called to our attention again at the same clinic," he said.

"This Community Action Program," Sadler stated, "would deal with buildings, sidewalks, streets, curbs and gutters in the downtown area."

In addition, it can be linked with an all-over face-lifting for our entire community, he said.

The Chamber of Commerce is the prime organization to contact all the groups and organizations and ask them to appoint responsible representatives, he said.

Shoemaker Funeral Set Monday

Funeral services for Clyde Shoemaker, 64, will be conducted here Monday, 4 p. m. in Oak Street Baptist Church.

Shoemaker, a retired farmer, died Friday at 10 a. m. in his home in Clyde after a long illness.

Burial will be in Colorado City Cemetery under direction of Kiker and Son.

He was born Nov. 25, 1904, in Scurry County and moved to Clyde in 1957. He married Gladys Mae Daniel May 10, 1944 in Sweetwater.

Shoemaker is survived by his wife of the home; two sons, Johnny Shoemaker of Houston and Ronnie of Abilene; five daughters - Mrs. Mary Moore of Artesia, N. M., Mrs. Hazel Bradford of Iowa Park, Mrs. Lona Mae Johnson of Anchorage, Alaska, Mrs. Clydene Lassiter of Clyde and Mrs. Betty Mangum of Clyde.

Also, a brother, Kyle Shoemaker of Stanton; three sisters - Mrs. Lona Allen of China Grove Community; Miss Clara Shoemaker of Lordsburg, N. M., and Mrs. Louise Burk of Cheshire, S. C.

Seventeen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren also survive.

Sadler proposed that these representatives "sit down and seriously discuss and appraise our needs and aims."

"Then, they should map effective methods and means for achieving the goals."

"Next, these groups should approach the City Council, because our municipal government does have authority to institute certain legal aspects of this type program."

"When all this thought out in proper planning," the city manager continued, "there would be a town meeting for all citizens to see if we should proceed with the Community Action Program."

Sadler emphasized that the remodeling and rejuvenating can be accomplished only if there is community support.

"We can't succeed without that support."

The city manager, who has been quietly heading up a one-man gang for improvements all his own, reported that the city had begun legal action to cause removal of a building at southeast corner of E. Second and Walnut.

"We are seeking removal of this building due to deterioration of the building structure," he explained, "and are working behind-the-scenes with a civic organization to dismantle the building - with proper agreement of the owner - as a community project."

Sadler reported also that the city had brought about the removal of 12 houses in deteriorating condition within the city, all with cooperation of property owners and without having to resort to legal action.

"Cooperation is a major key for action," he said. "And cooperation results from community interest, community study, community support and community effort."

"We need to emphasize," Sadler said, "that we are not looking to just another short-lived spring season clean-up of weeds, brush and trash."

"We must have a community-wide action program that is geared to reach both immediate, short range and long range objectives."

James H. Harwell of Austin, executive director of Texas Industrial Commission and other members of his staff, told citizens last week at the Economic Development Clinic that Colorado City should institute a thorough clean-up, fix-up campaign.

This campaign, they said, is urgently needed for better community living, for industrial and economic development and to avoid economic tragedy.

They also advised that this campaign should be carried out under a master plan, with community-wide support and with city, schools and county putting their shoulders to the task along with all organizations and citizens.

"If you really want to do the job," they declared, "it will be done."

The industrial consultants cited the downtown area, in particular, as one of the areas which needs drastic attention because it is the heart of the local business community.

HOSPITALIZED Tree Fall Seriously Hurts Boy

Monty Rich is in Root Memorial Hospital with serious injuries after toppling out of a tree.

The 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Rich Jr., 1820 Chestnut, fell Tuesday evening about 8:15 o'clock from a tree house he and his buddies were building.

"He's doing real good today," his mother told The Record at his bedside despite the injuries which include a ruptured kidney, chest and shoulder injuries and a chest laceration.

Monty was with friends in the tree house 18 feet up when the accident happened.

"The kids had just placed a board, but had not nailed it," Mrs. Rich said, "and Monty, not realizing the board was not nailed, leaned against it."

Monty's mother and father were away from the home when he fell. But his 13-year-old brother, Steve, helped him into the house and called his parents.

The boy was hurried minutes later to Root Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Rich reported Saturday that doctors were not certain whether or not surgery will be necessary.

Monty's father is water department superintendent for the City of Colorado City.

FINES DUE Warning For Shooting Guns

Police, touting up the complaints from citizens and costly toll on street lights, Saturday issued a warning against discharging guns in the city.

A city ordinance provides for a fine of up to $100 for any person who is found guilty of the violation.

Police Chief Jesse Browning said police are especially disturbed at the vandalism that has destroyed street and park lighting.

"Destruction of these properties with air rifles is increasing and is resulting in climbing replacement costs," the chief said, "and police are being instructed to strictly enforce the ordinance which definitely prohibits the firing of air rifles, air pistols, pellet guns and other weapons in addition to other guns and pistols."

The problem is also reported in the residential areas, Browning said, and there have been complaints of persons in cars shooting at dogs.

"We are urging parents to be mindful of the problem and to encourage their children to obey the ordinance," the chief said.

School Choirs in Concert Tuesday

Twentieth annual spring concert by the Colorado High School choir will be presented at 8 p. m. Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium, under direction of Curtis Baker.

Girls choir from Colorado Junior High will assist with the program along with two groups made up of members of the high school's concert choir.

"The Soul Singers" group is made up of Lanetta Bracy, Sharon Rose, Loner Russell, Stanley Bracy, and Elroy Devorce.

County To Buy New Fire Pump

City and county officials reached an agreement Tuesday concerning a replacement for the rural fire truck recently wrecked enroute to a grass fire.

An auxiliary pump has been ordered with the county to pay for it. The Berkeley pump, approved by the National Forestry Service, will cost Mitchell County $542.

City Manager J. A. Sadler, Jr. met with county commissioners.

The third will be a two-ton truck for use primarily in Precinct 4.

In other major action this week Commissioners Court appointed Glenn Coon of Loralpe to Mitchell County Library Board.

Coon succeeds Woodrow Pratt, also of Loralpe, who resigned because his business did not allow him to devote enough time to the library board duties.

Pratt's resignation is immediate.

Coon is a retired business man who formerly operated a food store, was partner with Pratt in grain.

"The Dreamers," with Paula Harris as accompanist, are Sharla Acuff, Sally Smith, Don Feaster, and Robert Jones.

All types of choral music will be featured at the spring concert, including early church hymns and anthems of Italian and German composers. Part of a Mass by Mozart, spirituals, and secular music from the Middle Ages until the present time are on the program.

Concert choir will open with Hosanna in excelsis by Palestrina, followed by numbers from

Bach's "Jesus, Priceless Treasure."

In addition to the series of sacred songs, the choir will also sing two current and modern favorites, "Goin' Out Of My Mind," and "Gentle On My Mind," followed by "Love Is Blue," and "Oh My Love."

Among highlights for the Junior High Girls Choir will be their rendition of "When The Saints Go Marching In."

Climaxing the evening will be the concert choir with "Music To Watch The Girls Go By," and "What The World Needs Now."

The CHS concert choir has distinguished itself this school year by receiving a rating of "superior" in this spring's UIL concert contests, and an "excellent" from the invitational meet at San Angelo.

Concert singers and their director, Baker, are scheduled to leave Thursday for the Bucaconer Music Festival at Corpus Christi. Competition at the festival is limited to musical groups meeting high standards.

Proceeds from the Tuesday night concert, with tickets selling at $1 each, will go into the choir's fund for the trip to Corpus Christi.

CONVERSATION CORNER

IMAGINE, if you will, the chagrin of this column over realization that Daylight Saving Time sneaked in this time without benefit of righteous indignation and hearty disapproval printed in this space.

Not until the Thursday Record was published and delivered did it strike old Conversation Corner. She forgot to gripe about DST - Daylight Saving Time, or darn stupid trick.

And griping is one of the few American privileges left free of rules and regulations these days.

DAYLIGHT Saving simply does not work well for everybody.

Last year, there were those of us who spent the whole late spring, summer, and early fall remembering every time the alarm clock sounded off at 6 a. m. that it was really only 5 o'clock in the morning.

Funny thing. When you travel into New Mexico the switch in time zones is downright entertaining and a conversation piece between the grandchildren, both going and coming.

When you're stuck with losing a whole hour until October, it is not amusing.

It takes some adjusting. And some of us don't adjust without protest.

THINGS like eating lunch on workdays at 11 a. m. because the cockeyed clocks all say it's 12 noon do nothing much for the digestion.

Even that is better, though, than reporting at the office when it's really only 8 a. m. because the watch says it's nine o'clock.

DST is probably a blessing to all golfers everywhere... to fishermen who have to work for a living... and maybe to our friends the farmers.

It is murder, no less, for the mothers of little children. Ever try to put a little youngster to bed when the clock grins 9 p. m. and it's still clear daylight - and really, of course, only 8 o'clock in the evening?

NEVER was too much of a rebel - with, or without, a cause.

Postage is sure to go up again. Let it. Surtax is certain to be continued. After one piercing scream, I say let it.

Having to have the picture attached to the driving license may be of real benefit to women. Most of us would rather be late anytime, than get arrested for speeding and have to show that photograph to anybody on earth.

BUT THIS Daylight Saving Time robs honest people of needed rest and proper sleep. It is an invasion of privacy because no woman looks her best at 8 a. m. sitting at a typewriter, even if the bank clock announces 9 o'clock.

AND DST is rank discrimination against anybody who likes to get up as late as possible.

May just move to Arizona, Michigan, or Hawaii, the three states which turned thumbs down on DST... and then move back, come October, when the DST confusion is over.

People who get up early hate
People who like to get up late.
And people who lie late a-bed all scorn
People who welcome each bright early morn.

SOME PEOPLE who live over on East 17th St. won't be bothered about DST until two or three weeks from now.

George Womack left Abilene Monday via plane for three weeks in Portugal, Spain, and Morocco. He will visit Lisbon, Madrid, Granada, Torremolinos and Fez, Casablanca, Marrakech, Rabat, and Tangier.

That occasional wag named Joe Earnest was around wondering if our George will see the Barber of Seville while in Spain.

Across the street neighbors of George and his parents El and Adah, the Reilly family, are enroute to Mexico City. Bob Reilly, his attractive wife Charlene, and their sons Pat and Bill left Thursday by auto for visits in Mexico and a Prudential conference for Bob in Mexico City.

SEEN LATELYS were Cheryl Watson, our CHS prize-winning typist... Clem and Frances Myers... Mary Jo and J. D. Hill... Howard and Elizabeth Cox.

Saw Jill Davis, her little mama Ann Randle Davis, and Ann's mama Josie Randle on the downtown scene.

Auda (Mrs. Henry) Boss was among the office dropins... Don Benson and Oscar Haney, too.

Greeted Ann Fitch, wife of Frank, former Record employee who works in the Sun Oil Co. office here now. Auburn-haired Ann was looking lovely in buttercup yellow.

FAMILIAR FACES, round about places, belonged to John Russell of the Farmers Home Administration... Eddie Braswell of the ASCS... Miss Schell Merrill, retired teacher... Carolyn Clark, CHS senior student... Jesse Browning, COP, that is, Chief of Police.

Curtis Baker, director of vocal music for our schools, stopped by a minute with news of the CHS choir's spring concert.

Mrs. Adolph Wood, office dropin, is one C-Citizen who always has a pleasant word.

Spied Tom Rees at the Colorado Drug lunch counter... Gina and Joe Coldevey... Dell Barber.

HEAR TELL that Charles Walker, 32nd District Court reporter, and his pretty, artistic wife Carolyn, have purchased the Philip Berman home on Chestnut St. and will move in about September the first.

FOR THE YOUNG MAN

'One of the more important decisions facing the young man who has just become engaged' is that of selecting the engagement diamond. This is one purchase that is really "forever", and if done wisely, will be a joy and not a disappointment. Perhaps I can help in this matter by giving a few tips about diamond values and qualities.

Whether you buy your first diamond from me or elsewhere (and we do have a fine selection), there are certain basics to consider. First of all, determine how much you have to spend on a diamond. An amount of approximately one to two months salary is usually suggested.

Second, learn something of the "four C's" which is the basis for diamond pricing. The American Gem Society Diamond Grading Standards lists them as Cutting, Color, Clarity and Carat Weight. Unless the diamond is scientifically cut and properly polished, the stone lacks brilliance and is greatly reduced in beauty. The finest color in a diamond is pure, crystal white. "Blue White" is a term that is not usually used by ethical jewelers, since it is rather misleading.

Clarity is the absence of any internal inclusions which may mar the appearance or the durability of the diamond. A flawless diamond according to FTC regulations, is one that does not show obvious inclusions under ten-power magnification. Minor inclusions may reduce the value of the stone, without harming beauty or durability. All of this is fully explained in some of our free brochures. Stop by soon for further facts.

Area Leaders To Be Guests

Mayor John H. Chinn and Don Benson, president of the Chamber of Commerce here, will be among 35 area civic leaders to fly to Florida as guests of Webb Air Force Base, Monday.

The party will travel aboard
two T-29's from Webb to Elgin
Air Force Base, Fort Walton Beach, Florida. Schedule calls for departure at 10 a. m. Monday with arrival at Elgin AFB at 5 p. m.

Benson, Dr. Chinn, and the other Webb area guests will stay at Howard Johnson Motel and be dinner guests Monday evening of Elgin AFB staff.

Tuesday will be a day of briefings and tours starting at 9 a. m. and lasting through night exercises at Elgin, with both luncheon and dinner at the Elgin Officers Club.

For Wednesday, the agenda calls for the area guests to have a deep sea fishing outing in the Gulf of Mexico in the morning or, if they prefer, golf on the Elgin golf course, with lunch at the motel.

The Webb AFB party will leave Elgin at 2 p. m.
Wednesday.

'No Grazing' Starts May 1

Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office said Friday that the "No Grazing" period for acres diverted under the 1969 wheat and feed grain programs will start May 1, in this county.

The period will continue for the following five months and will be in effect until October 1, said Eddie Braswell, ASCS office manager.

Farmers taking part in the programs agree not to graze the diverted acres during a specific five-month period of the growing season and not to harvest a crop from diverted acres at any time during the year, the statement continued.

The non-grazing period for 48 counties in Texas was set between the dates of May 14 and October 15.

Since the majority of the diverted acres in Mitchell County have more crops to be grazed in October than in May, the date was not changed for Mitchell County.

Mitchell County dates remain the same as last year, May 1 to Oct. 1, Braswell pointed out.

Book Review Marks Study Club Meet

A book review by Mrs. H. Jene Steakley Monday evening highlighted a meeting of the 1949 Study Club in the Steakley home.

The hostess reviewed the book, "Arcturius, The Hunting Hound" by Yuri Kazakof, a Russian author.

The book, a collection of short stories smuggled out of Russia to be printed in America, is about Arcturius, a blind Russian hunting hound, Mrs. Steakley explained.

She told of Arcturius' struggles to survive in a world of sight.

"He was finally befriended by an old Russian doctor who takes him in and names him after the bright star Arcturius.

"His life is changed forever the first time he ventures into the woods. He finds himself surrounded by the most delicate and elusive smells he has ever known."

Arcturius is killed in the forest because of his blindness, Mrs. Steakley said. He runs into a dead branch that proves fatal. When the dog dies his master, the old doctor, seems to lose his will to live also.

Mrs. Steakley was introduced by Mrs. Dell Riley, leader for the evening.

She also read club collect.

Plans for the club's husbands night party were discussed. The party was set for May 19 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKay.

Members attending the monthly session were Mrs. Truman Nix, Mrs. W. A. Findley, Mrs. McKay, Mrs. Bill Holbert, Mrs. Doug Chitsey, Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Joe Weaver, Mrs. Trevlyn Kelley and Mrs. Steakley.

Meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Nolan Fincher. Mrs. Harry Dockrey was devotional leader.

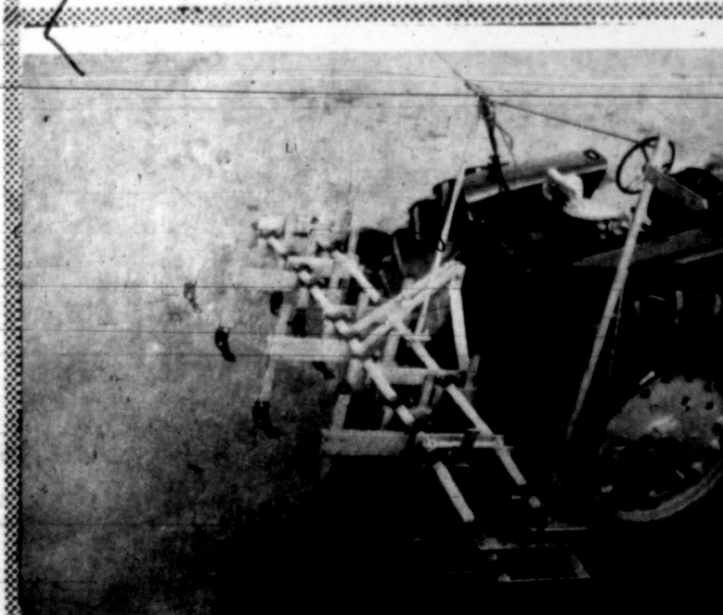

Refreshments of party sandwiches, punch and coffee were served from a table laid with a gold and white print cloth, centered with gold iris.

Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Leonard Long, Mrs. Hank Bryant, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Gene Parker.

Members attending were Mrs. Ross Hargrove, Mrs. Herman Salley, Mrs. Robert Bolin, Mrs. Wright Hock, Mrs. J. R. Erwin, Mrs. Dockrey, Mrs. Boyd and the hostess.

In closing Mrs. Scott commented that party sandwiches are "just the right treat for summer".
