Meads Introducing Bunny Bread Here with Parade

One of the outstanding merchandising promotions held this or any other year in Artesia is underway with introduction of a new bread—Bunny Bread—by Mead's Fine Bread Co.

Mead's is heralding the new bread—a new product by special formula and packaged in a new wrapper—with full-fledged newspaper, radio, and TV promotion.

It has also scheduled a parade in downtown Artesia at 12 noon

Tuesday, when balloons, buttons, and "maybe bunnies" will be handed out as souvenirs.

Meads announced it has spent "several years of work and research to produce a loaf with the best consumer acceptance."

A company vice-president, during a trip to the Midwest, was attracted to a loaf of bread which in his mind had no equal in his experience.

This loaf of bread was preferred by 7 out of 10 bread buyers.

Together with the production and laboratory control department of the American Bakers Cooperative, Teaneck, N. J., many production and laboratory tests were made.

It was found that Bunny Bread was outstanding in every way. From the standpoint of freshness, flavor, texture and eye-appeal it was found tops. Meads says the new loaf tastes better, it's good to the last slice, and it's nourishing for young and old alike.

The wrapper is eye-catching—Bunny appears in blue and yellow against a beautiful yellow background.

Meads also stated that "our introductory campaign is aimed at getting everyone to try Bunny Bread once—after that we know if they like fresh bread they'll love Bunny."

Mrs. Roosevelt To Turn Down Widow's Pension

HYDE PARK, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says she will decline any pension voted by Congress for widows of presidents. The Senate Thursday unanimously approved a bill to give an annual pension of $22,500, an office and clerical help to former presidents—and an annual pension of $10,000 to widows of former chief executives. The House has yet to act on the bill.

Mrs. Roosevelt said pensions were "fine things" for those who really need them but that she had sufficient income to meet her requirements.

Cancer Drive $10 Richer for Broken Glasses

SANTA FE (AP)—This is the story of the truck that did run over the eye glasses and how the cancer fund became enriched by $10.

The spectacles belonged to H. J. Schafly of Mount Vernon, Ill., uncle of David McNeill and a recent Santa Fe visitor.

On one day of his stay, Schafly was on a downtown shopping tour and it was not until he returned to his hotel room that he missed his glasses. He retraced his steps, without any luck.

He theorized that he might have put his glasses on the turtle-back while loading his bundles into the back of the car. And he remembered the man in the pickup truck who had driven right into his parking space after he had vacated it.

Schafly put this note on the pickup's windshield:

"If you found a pair of tortoise shell eye glasses where your truck is parked, return to room 420, La Fonda, and receive reward."

Back at his hotel a short time later, he was called by the desk clerk and handed his glasses and this message:

"If you will leave your reward in the form of a check to the cancer fund, it will be ample reward for me."

It was signed by Howard M. Rosenthal, a Santa Fe attorney. Schafly, delighted, made out a $10 check for the cancer fund before leaving Santa Fe for home.

Woman Is Killed Offering Drink To Stray Dog

LLANO, Tex. (AP)—State Police said last night that Miss Eunice Maud Gray, 70, was struck and killed by a truck as she sought to give a stray dog a drink of water.

She stepped from an automobile of a woman friend, police said, and crossed the road to the dog. As she reached the animal, the truck hit her. Officers said the accident was unavoidable.

Psychology, Not Weather Helps State TB Cases

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—It is psychology, and not New Mexico weather, that helps tubercular patients who come to New Mexico's high, dry climate, a doctor says.

Dr. L. Henry Garland, clinical professor of radiology at Stanford university, told doctors attending the Mountain States Medical Conference that the healthful benefits of New Mexico's climate for tuberculosis patients is a "myth."

But those who do make the trip find help, he said. "The main help is psychological. They exchange their old surrounding for desert scenes, get away from their family, old worries and pressures."

He said the TB patients could be cured "just as well in New

Let's Help Keep It Here

THE state legislature during the last session did some things to try and keep New Mexico business within the state. They were criticized severely about one measure, which they didn't pass that would help drive the business out of the state.

In another case they upped the percentage on merchandise being bought under the bids and authorized a higher price to keep this business at home.

They probably thought they were keeping business at home when they passed senate Bill No. 251 which provides that all cigarettes sold within the state must be stamped with the state tax within New Mexico.

Cigarettes, of course, are always the target along with liquors for higher taxes because they are a luxury. Maybe it is right they should be taxed more. But this senate bill, which goes into effect on July 1, not only prohibits retailers within the state but it also means higher prices because of this fact.

It also will mean those close to the border will go over the state line to purchase their cigarettes because of this law.

Those retailers in cities closer to large wholesalers in other states have bought their cigarettes from these wholesalers. That no longer will be possible under the new law. It also can result in a higher price being charged because New Mexico retailers are now restrained as to where they can buy cigarettes.

One retailer, who has increased his business on cigarettes and helped his other sales because of the prices he could offer, points out that it can and will cost him business.

He also emphasizes the fact that if the measure was passed with the hope or expectation of providing more work and jobs in the state this will prove to be wrong because of the retail sales that will be lost in the state by those near enough to cross the state line to make their purchases.

Many of the retailers are voicing their objections but indications are that little or nothing can be done about the measure now. However, it is just another bit of legislation that drives business out of the state instead of keeping business at home. Cigarettes today retail for $2.40 a carton for regular in New Mexico while they can be bought for $.40 to $.50 per carton less in Texas.

Operator Deepening Old Well, Completion Plugged

Operator is preparing to run tubing on O. H. Randal No. 1 State in NW SW 19-17-28, an old well being drilled deeper. The unit is plugged back to 3,100 feet from total depth of 3,120.

The unit was treated with 10,000 gallons of Sandrac last week to 3,063 feet. Operator swabbed load oil and the unit flowed 325 barrels in 24 hours.

R. J. Jones No. 4 Gates in NW SW 26-18-30 is at total depth of 3,414 feet in limestone. A back plug has been set at 3,085 feet and operator is preparing to swab.

After being treated with 10,000 gallons of Sandrac last week the well yielded one barrel of oil plus one barrel of salt water per hour for eight hours by swabbing. Fifty-six holes were perforated between 3,050-64 and sandrac attempted with 10,000 gallons.

The formation took only 3,000 gallons. It was treated with 350 gallons of mud acid and 10,000 gallons of sandrac in the perforations.

Only completion reported is The Ibox Co. No. 1 Bauerdorf in NW WE 11-26-31, a wildcat unit. It has been plugged and abandoned after McDaniel & Beecher drilled to total depth of 4,282 feet. It was spudded April 11, completed April 30.

Even Mayor, Chief Get Stuck On Paying Parking Tickets

Park at any meter — and city Patrolman Herman "Moose" Mootz will give you a ticket if you don't feed the contraption.

It's the law.

Moose doesn't like to give tickets, "but it's the law and I have to enforce it."

Some folks — a minority by far — get mad at the law and some get mad at Moose. Most folks just utter a mild, tongue-in-cheek, non-sacreligious oath and pay up.

And that brings up another point. Moose says.

"People, mostly ladies, don't like to go into the police station to pay those parking tickets."

Everyone has to pay up. People who catch Moose giving them a ticket usually just grumble a little, admit that it isn't Moose's fault, then go pay off. But a few come up with startling accusations.

"One man accused me of moving a meter from one spot to another right in front of his car."

"He swore it wasn't there when he parked," Moose recalled.

"A lady once accused me of hiding in a trash can until her time ran out — then giving her a ticket."

"She said I wasn't anywhere around when she parked there."

The patrolman said he was "not-guilty" of both charges. He said the meters are buried in concrete and that he's "too big to hide in a trash can."

Artesia motorists — and motorists all over the country — will probably have to contend with the meters until the city has ample off-street parking and no longer needs revenue from that source.

And as long as the meters exist — and as long as the law says you have to feed the things — Moose says he'll have to keep on giving tickets when the flag is up.

He still won't like it. But it's the law.

In Old Artesia—Huge Graduating Class of 29 Prepares for Ritual

Twenty-five years ago From the Files of the Artesia Advocate for May 8, 1930.

Twenty-nine seniors were preparing to receive their diplomas following the annual junior-senior banquet on the roof garden of Hotel Artesia.

The Chamber of Commerce was readying its second annual mountain goodwill tour into the Sacramento. In 1929 Artesia businessmen had made their first trip of this sort "over the new highway west as far as Clouderoff."

Plans were completed for holding the third annual City Beautiful contest. Prizes totaling $75 were to be awarded in the two divisions of the contest. Members of the committee backing the contest were Mmes. J. M. Story, J. J. Clarke, and C. R. Blocker, and Messrs. L. N. Kremer, Fred Brainard, and Dr. R. N. Russell.

An idea for formation of a Pecos Valley Water Assn. was being kicked around in Roswell and Artesia. Its chief purpose was seen as opposition to further diversion of waters "from the eastern watershed" continued diversion of water from this watershed, it was felt, would mean a depleted water supply for the valley.

Dr. O. E. Puckett, county health officer, approved the dairy of Messrs. Hammond and Adkins, 2½ miles southeast of Artesia, for production of grade A raw milk.

Approximately 53 names were added to the population of Artesia as a result of a census re-check, according to Sid Cox. The additional names gave Artesia a total of 2,427, an increase of 1,312 over the 1920 census, which was 1,115. Carlsbad's population was reported as 3,671 at the 1930 census, an increase of 1,466 from the 1920 census, figure of 2,205.

Hobbs was seen as undergoing a major oil boom, with 31 rigs in operation as compared to only 18 just 10 or 12 days before. The town of Hobbs, the Advocate reported, was finding it difficult to make an orderly expansion.

Sanders Breaks Own Record to Set New Pole Vaulting Mark

Artesia Track Team Takes Second in Class A Meet

Artesia's Freddie Sanders, undoubtedly one of the all-time greats in local athletics, Saturday established a new state record in pole vaulting of 12 feet 1 1/2 inches. His teammates captured second place in the state class A track meet, emerging on top of a four-way struggle for the position. In setting the new record in pole vaulting, Sanders broke the state mark he himself had set in 1952 when, as a freshman, he reached 11 feet 8 inches. He was also a member of the 1954 team which captured Artesia's first place in the state meet Saturday on the University of New Mexico campus. Highland of Albuquerque won the class A track title by piling up 25 1/2 points, well ahead of second-place Artesia's 35. But the 35 was a handy lead over Las Cruces with 27, Albuquerque High 27, and Carlsbad 20 1/2. Fort Sumner took the class B title with 70 1/2 points. Artesia's friends at Hagerman took third with 22 1/2 points, just one behind second-place Los Lunas.

To win second place the Bulldogs took second in the 440-yard relay, second by Don Lewis and Sanders in the 120-yard high hurdle, third by Sanders in the 100-yard dash, a second by Lewis in the 180-yard low hurdle, and third in the mile relay. Running with Sanders and Lewis on the relay team were Johnny Riddle and Leo Barker. The relay team was also Artesia's outstanding 1954 football backfield. Sanders was second in scoring in the meet, running up 16 points. Charles Pettes of Las Cruces, was the meet's top man with 10 1/2 points. Highland broke two records in achieving its fourth straight class A crown. Only Albuquerque and Carlsbad have ever won four in a row before. Five class A records were broken, one of them in the preliminary yesterday. Probably the outstanding new records were the two set by Highland. Bohling yesterday heaved the discus 159 feet 4 inches, more than seven feet over the old record. And the Highland mile relay team, composed of Corky Kindsvater, Fred Whiteman, Ron Whiteman and Wayne Stell, sliced four seconds off the old record with a sterling 3:29.7.

Barry Stone of Portales erased the old high jump mark by more than three inches, leaping 6 feet 4 5/8 inches. The other new mark was established in the medley relay by Silver City. Sparked by the brilliant performance of Tim Brancheau, Western came in with 3:46.4, with Brancheau coming from behind. Though he was far down in the list of individual point-getters, Brancheau may have been the outstanding boy in the meet, making a tremendous stretch drive to overtake Highland's Cordova at the wire in the mile, the meet's most exciting event.

Highland, though heavily favored in the meet, had to content itself with picking up lots of seconds, thirds and fourths in taking the victory. The Hornets managed only five first places. Other teams scoring in the class A meet were Silver City Western 18, Lovington 15 3/4, Las Vegas 10, Coburn of Hurley 9, Deming 8, Roswell 7, Portales 7, Clovis 4 3/4, Hobbs 4, Tucuman 3 1/4, Alamogordo 3, New Mexico Military Institute 3, Santa Fe 1.

FRIDAY NIGHT—Artesia Hits First Division Status at Last

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Artesia broke into the first division of the Class C Longhorn league Friday night with a decisive pair of wins from lowly Odessa.

The NuMexers swamped the Eagles 12-5 in the first game and 8-4 in the nightcap. The standings got another juggling as Big Spring fell to a lopsided 15-4 Midland attack. Last-place Hobbs took a 14-9 beating from Carlsbad, and Roswell beat San Angelo 10-8.

Big first innings paced by the home runs of Dan Howard gave Artesia its two victories over Odessa's Eagles Friday night. The NuMexers used an eight-run first inning in the first game and a six-run opening stanza in the second to notch 12-5 and 8-4 victories.

Harry Young was victor in the first game, Al Chester in the second. Jim Akers, first of the three Odessa hurlers in the opener, took that loss while Hank Gonzales was charged for the finale.

NuMexer second baseman Frank Gallardo was sidelined for three to four weeks when his right thumb was broken during the first game as he ducked a pitched ball while at bat.

Unless Ford or General Motors sign up because of their sales battle, I think we'll see real labor trouble in Detroit this year," Daugherty added in a speech before an industrial relations conference.

Artesia Pulp Potashers 24-5

Artesia crushed Carlsbad's Potashers 24-5 Saturday night in one of the wildest slugfests ever staged in NuMexer Park. While Carlsbad pitching helplessly bogged down, Artesia batters slugged almost at will. Artesia's Bob McNeal rationed out only two hits for two runs in eight innings. Reliever Tommy Buford allowed three for three in the one inning—the ninth—he hurled. It was a run-of-the-mill ballgame up to the fifth inning, with Artesia leading 3-0. Then the NuMexers, led by first-up none-on homers by Dan Howard and Bob Herron, crashed over five runs, knocking Carlsbad starter Gene Lindsey from the mound.

It seemed almost a personal scoring duel from then on between Herron and Howard. Howard scored six times, batted four for four, and Herron got five for six. He earned five RBIs to Howard's one, and crossed the plate himself four times.

Third baseman Jim Bawcom contributed to the hit parade with five RBIs. He knocked three hits in five times up, scored twice. Paul Dobkowski got four in seven, four RBIs, and three runs, including his home run.

Artesia's biggest scoring frame was the seventh with nine runs on 10 hits. The inning knocked out Lindsey in favor of Bob Brown. Lindsey, Carlsbad's starter, was charged with the loss, while McNeal, who had a two-hitter going up to the ninth, was credited with the win. Both runs scored off McNeal—both in the seventh—were unearned.

The Potashers return to NuMexer Park again tonight in a Mother's Day feature to which all mothers will be admitted free. Game time is 7:30.

Youngsters wanting to participate may contact Jean Stone of Park school or Coach Bud Wilburn. Wilburn will be chairman of the meet.

Stone said registrations will be taken up to the time the meet starts at 9 a. m. Saturday. Prizes in the form of first, second and third place ribbons will be awarded, they said.

Wee Track Meet By Park School Students Slated
A wee track meet between Park school sixth graders and fifth graders has been scheduled for next Wednesday and Thursday on the high school track.

Jean Stone's sixth grade room will compete against Ralph Thompson's sixth grade room. Mrs. Gertrude McCaw's fifth graders will compete against those of Mrs. Moss Spence's room.

Swaps Sweeps Derby Field By 1 1/2 Lengths

LOUISVILLE, May 7 (P)—Swaps, a chestnut speedball owned by a former Arizona cowpuncher, outfought the favored Nashua today to capture the 81st and richest Kentucky Derby.

A screaming crowd of some 100,000 at Churchill Downs saw Swaps take the lead soon after the start of the mile and one quarter classic for 3-year-olds, then make it stick in a pulsating stretch dash.

He became the second California-bred horse to capture the run for the roses.

The winner, owned by Rex Ellsworth, California's leading thoroughbred owner, and ridden by champion jockey Willie Shoemaker, never gave Nashua an inch as he swept under the finish wire to grab $108,400 from the total swag of $152,500.

Nashua, from the world famous Belair Stud of William Woodward Jr., New York, and ridden by the premier jockey, Eddie Arcaro, gave it a big try. But Swaps legged it across the finish line with a length and a half of daylight between him and Nashua. It was one of the fastest derbies on record.

Mrs. John W. Galbreath's well regarded Summer Tan finished third, 6 1/2 lengths behind Nashua. Four more lengths back was Racing Fool, from the Cain Hay Stable.

The clockers caught Swaps, sleek son of the imported Khaled out of Iron Reward, in a flashy 2 minutes, 1 1/2 seconds, only two-fifths of a second slower than the track and derby record hung up by Whirlaway in 1941. The time ties that of Twenty Grand, 1931 winner, as the fourth fastest derby ever run.

Two Artesians Attend Spring Baptist Retreat

Pat Clark and Jack Robinson of Artesia are among members of the Baptist Student Union at Eastern New Mexico university attending the annual spring retreat this weekend at Glorieta Baptist assembly.

New state BSU officers will be elected and plans, will be made for next year's work. The assembly will run Friday through Sunday morning.

Bulldogs Capture Two Wins Over Portales, 5-3, 11-10

The Artesia Bulldogs took both ends of a twin bill here Saturday afternoon against Portales, 5-3 and 11-10.

Bob Cerny got credit for both victories. In the first game Coach Jack Barron's team notched eight hits for five runs and made only three errors. Portales had four hits for their three.

The Bulldogs had seven hits in the second round for their 11 runs, compared to the six for ten scored by Portales.

Johnson to Meet Mederos Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Harold John meets Cuban heavyweight Julio Mederos in one of those "show must go on" television bouts at the Arena tonight.

Johnson, 26, perennial contender for the light-heavyweight title, was slated for a 10-round bout with Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, but the latter was forced to withdraw because of a training injury. Mederos was brought in as a substitute.

Johnson, winner of 51 and loser of 7 in a 58-fight career, defeated Mederos last Dec. 8 at Miami. Since then, Mederos has lost to Johnny Holman, conqueror of Ezard Charles, and to Bob Baker, in a role as a substitute. He then knocked out Tom Tatum and Rolando LaStarza.

He has a record of 17 victories, 3 defeats and 2 draws.

Cold Front Hits Northeast Part Of New Mexico

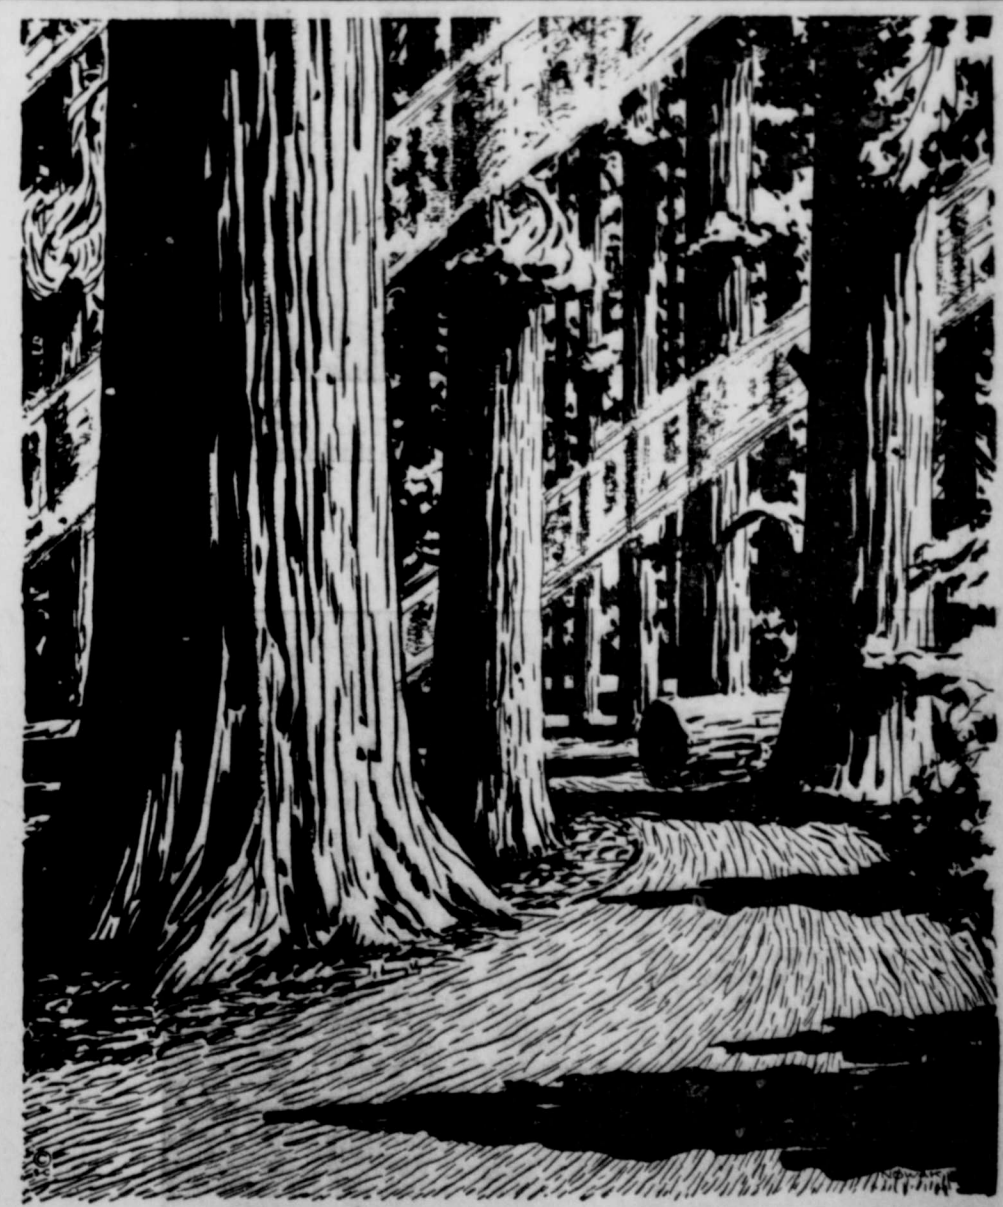

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. A cold front sliding down the eastern slope of the Rockies has brought dust and cooler temperatures to New Mexico's northeast corner.

Clouds formed ahead of the front, making for prospects of rain over the northeast and east Saturday and Sunday.

The district weather bureau said the front was bringing slightly lower temperatures and meant generally cloudy skies throughout the state over the weekend. Temperatures dipped from 10 to 15 degrees lower around Raton and Clayton.

Carlsbad—again—had the day's high temperature, Friday with 93 degrees. Las Vegas and Grants—where it got no warmer than 78—were at the other end of the scale.

Friday night, Gallup reported the lowest temperature with 41 degrees. Zuni had 44 and Carlsbad 65. No precipitation was reported.

The Industries of Artesia...

Woodie Makes Half Million Pies Year

Woodie Pie Company turns out about 584,000 pies a year for its customers in Artesia and 12 neighboring cities in this area. And Owner Roy (Woodie) Wood estimates his annual payroll at "something like $21,000 a year."

The company employs four men to handle the work of making and distributing its products. They are Sam Richman, Zeke Duran, Tom Chavarria, and Lamoin Moore. Moore is the driver and was on delivery when these pictures were taken.

Woodie Pie Company was formed in February of 1946. Woodie said he came to Artesia on a visit and decided to stay. That's the story with many local industries. The plant was located in the Morningside Addition for about a year. Then Woodie found the larger quarters he now occupies at 909 S. Second.

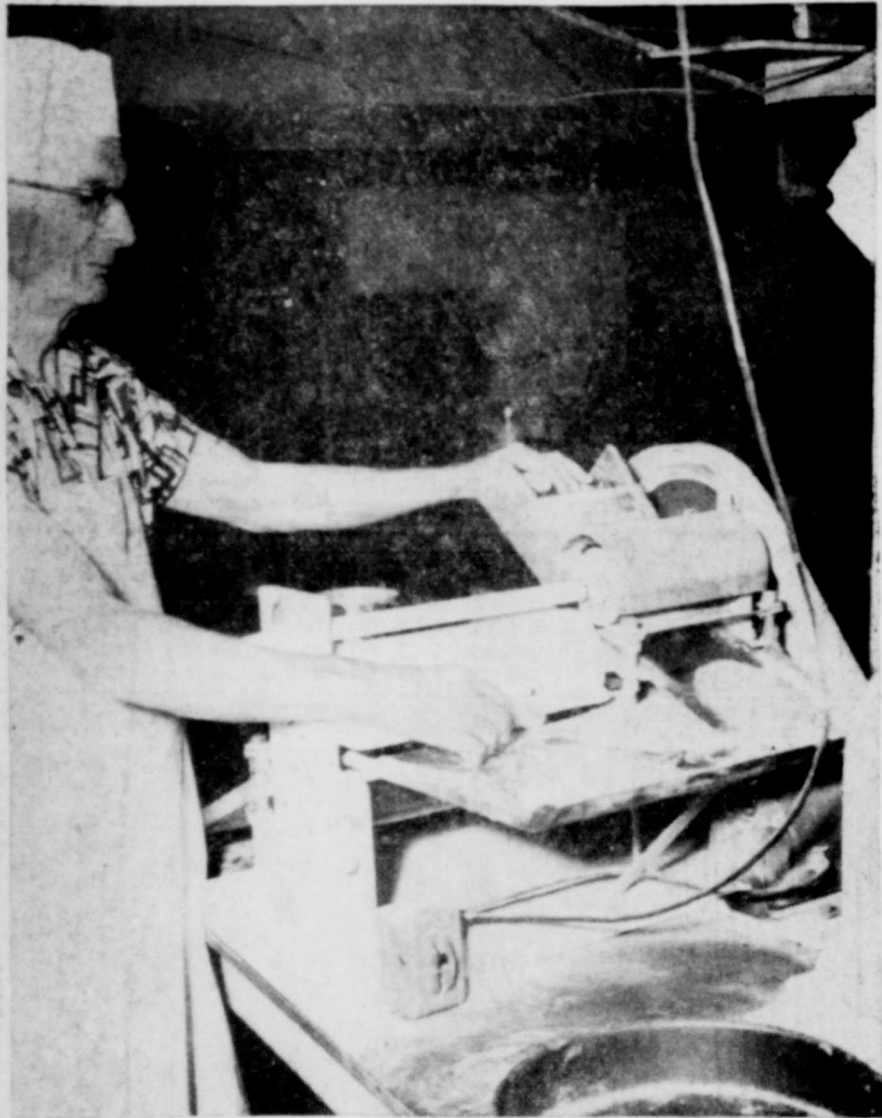

Cities and towns into which the Woodie Pie truck goes daily are Eunice, Hobbs, Lovington, Carlsbad, Roswell, Cloudcroft, Loco Hills, Maljamar, Hagerman, Dexter, and Lake Arthur.

The crew works a seven-day a week schedule, alternating on the various jobs to provide days off for each member. They'll average turning out 1,500 fried pies and 100 eight inch pies daily. They also make a three inch pecan pie and a five inch coconut pie.

(Artesia Advocate Photos)

TOM CHAVARRIA assembles pies for fryer. He puts the dough in position, places the filling on the dough, turns the handle and, presto, a pie!

SAM RICHMAN operates a dough-rolling machine. This equipment turns out uniform pads of pie dough at just the right thickness.

ZEKE DURAN inserts fried pies into bags. Youngest member of the crew, Zeke has been with the company since last September.

TOM CHAVARRIA prepares delicious fruit fillings for both fried and baked pies. Tom has been with the company four years.

THEY'RE HOT! Woodie Wood removes a tray of six hot pies from oven. Each day the pie company turns out about 100 of these eight inch delicacies.

WOODIE WOOD watches his step as he shoulders a tray of cherry pies. This size also comes in apple, pineapple, apricot and pecan.

THIS is where dough is mixed for the pies. The machine turns and twists the dough until it has just the right texture.

ZEKE DURAN lifts pies from the fry-o-lator. With this equipment Woodie Pie Company can turn out 45 fried pies every six minutes.

Five Generations of J. M. Jackson Family Get Together at Last for Family Portrait Here

The five generations of the J. M. Jackson family finally have got together for the first time.

The five-generation group was complete when Mrs. Roy Downs of Kingston, N. M., and her son, Claude Roy, Jr., visited here recently. Mrs. Downs is the daughter of Mrs. Ora Van Winkle, who is a daughter of Mrs. Joe Schoonmaker, a daughter of the Jacksons.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson who live at 608 S. Fourth, were both born in Clinton, Ky., in 1873 and 1875, married Jan. 11, 1894 in Clinton, Ky.

They moved to Melrose, N. M., in 1907 with six children, Luvena (Mrs. Beck), Bessie (Mrs. Van Winkle), Marvin, James, Mattie (Mrs. Gissler), and Ann (Mrs. Walton). They homesteaded at Melrose and while living there another son Ellison (Pete) was born.

The family moved to Artesia in 1907 to the Sharp farm east of town where they lived until 1915, then moved to the Carl Martin farm southeast of town. They were ready to purchase this farm when the Brown well near Dayton was drilled and the price of land went up too high.

Three more girls were born during this time, Mary (Mrs. Dowell), Lilla (Mrs. Folkner), and Nelle (Mrs. Kennedy).

They moved from the Carl Martin farm to the Earl Collins farm. While living here Jackson bought the Artesia Dairy from H. G. Southworth of East Mosley St. They were in the dairy business, located at 310 W. Chisum, from 1919 to 1926. In 1927 Jackson went into the Chevrolet business, then located where the Safeway store is now. He built the building where Wilson's Feed Store is located, and added a partner to the business, known as Jackson-Bolton Chevrolet.

The Jacksons made their home at this time at 612 S. Fourth (The Boyd home, Mrs. C. E. Mann's parents' home.)

Mr. Jackson owns a ranch west of town. He was in the ranching business, and also was deputy sheriff during Joe John's term. He was later city marshal of Artesia and drove a school bus for several years.

The family consists of 10 children, all living but one, Nelle, 25 grandchildren, 29 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandson, making 95 members of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are members of the Methodist church and took an active part in it until health failed them.

Delta Kappa Gamma Honors Pioneer Teachers of Area

Xi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma honored pioneer teachers at the regular meeting and breakfast Saturday morning at Artesia Country club.

The table decorations carried the theme of pioneer teachers. The centerpiece of Shasta daisies was interspersed with miniature slates, and individual place cards were replicas of the pioneer teacher.

Miss Ruth Russell introduced

Mrs. Jim Montgomery, guest speaker on the program honoring pioneer teachers. She told of her experiences at Lakewood, N. M., before statehood. As Miss Emily Hewitt, Mrs. Montgomery came from Des Moines, Iowa, to Lakewood in 1909, and later taught in the early schools of Artesia.

She discussed early building facilities, board of directors, curriculum, teachers' salary, teachers' training, and interesting classroom incidents of early days in the Artesia schools.

Miss Alma Sue Felix conducted the Founder's Day ceremony.

The table for the ceremony was covered with the red and gold ritual cloth crested with the society's Greek letters.

Pictures of the 12 national founders in a gold frame served as the background for an arrangement of red roses surrounded by candles representing the original Delta Kappa Gamma members. Xi chapter members participated in the candlelighting ceremony.

Mrs. Ruth Joss, a retiring teacher in the Artesia Municipal schools and a member of Delta Kappa Gamma was presented a gift from the society by the president of Xi chapter, Miss Nancy Haynes.

Hostesses for the breakfast were Mrs. Margaret Bildstone, Mrs. Richard Swartz and Mrs. C. H. Parker.

Members of the Pioneer Women and Research committee were Mrs. Nina McCarter, Miss Marion Wood, Mrs. Moss Spence, and Miss Ruth Russell.

HAGERMAN NEWS BRIEFS—

Girls Glee Club Gives Annual Spring Concert

By MRS. BYRON OGLESBY
Girls Glee club of Hagerman high school presented their annual spring concert Tuesday evening at the school auditorium.

The group had an exceptionally good program, directed by Albert R. Henry, band and choral director of Hagerman school. The girls in formal attire, stood before a curtain decorated with cut-outs of silhouettes of pianos and girls.

The choral group, comprised of 28 voices, sang old favorites, including "Look for the Silver Lining," "Kentucky Babe," "Charmaine," "The Green Cathedral,"
"The Rosary," "Sour Wood Mountain" and "Who."

They presented renditions of Benson's "Christ Arose," Tandler's "My Dearest Prayer" and Raye's "This Is My Country."

A quarter-Geneva Freeman, Mary Faye Evans, Jodelle Freeman and Jo Ann Williams — proved their exceptional talent when they sang an arrangement of "Little Liza Jane." Their voices harmonized beautifully on the "Anniversary Waltz," "Let the Rest of the World Go By," "Drifting and Dreaming," and "In the Valley of the Moon."

A solo, "Whither Thou Goest I Will Go," was presented by Rebecca Wingo.

Accompanists for the evening were Phyllis Jumper, Jeannie Bob Hart, Gwendolyn Hammons, Mary Evans and Weedon Kelley who alternated at the piano.

Ushers were Ray Turner and Mary Shipman.

Glee club members are Geneva Ackerman, Della Barbosa, Angie Barnett, Priscilla Brown, Mary Evans, Della Finch, Cairene Finch, Dorothy Flores, Jodelle Freeman, Gwen Hammons, Sabra Kelley, Weedon Kelley, Lela Dearman, Katie Langston, Cora Montoya, Gloria Sims, Judy Taylor, Phyllis Jumper, Betty Troublefield, Jeannie Bob Hart, Rebecca Wingo, Elizabeth Kiper, Theola Ridgley, Margarite Huddleston and Jo Ann Williams.

Hagermanites who celebrated their wedding anniversaries jointly were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Freeman and Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson had an anniversary dinner at their home Sunday, with the Free-mans as guests. They also invited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Menoud.

A fried chicken menu was served and climaxed by serving a decorated cake made in the shape of a heart. It had pink icing with white cocoanut. The afternoon was spent in visiting.

Cocteau Stirs Rome Dispute Over Painting

ROME (AP)—Jean Cocteau has stirred up many a row in French literature. Now he has started a lively dispute in Rome over whether he should have turned to painting.

Cocteau held his first showing of 118 canvases here last week in a stab at fame in a new field. The 66-year-old poet is one of the 40 "immortals" of the French Academy, most of them men of letters.

"I have been painting for 50 years but I never before attempted to exhibit," he said.

Japanese Girls Leave for Free Plastic Surgery

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—The night before the choice was announced the girls prayed, the New York physician said.

"We were told they prayed not that they would be the ones picked but that they would not feel anguish at having to leave some of them home."

That is the little story behind the story of 25 Japanese girls, disfigured by the atomic bomb 10 years ago, who were selected for free plastic surgery treatment in the United States.

Dr. William M. Hitzig, who helped to make the selections, told the story as the 25 excited girls prepared for the first and most important airplane trip of their lives. The girls, all in their 20s, leave tomorrow.

They may face up to a dozen operations, and be gone a year.
Yet all are filled with hope and are in unbelievably good spirits, said Hitzig.

They hope that the treatment will remove the scars that were left after the atomic bombing in 1945. The scars have shut them out from normal social activities.

HERE'S HOW:

SOMETIMES IT'S SMART NOT TO DO IT YOURSELF

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The "Do-It-Yourself" theory can be carried too far. There are certain projects that homemakers might do without calling in professionals to remedy mistakes. But one who considers herself a Jill-of-all-trades, might find trouble abrewing.

A recent inquiry from a lady reader asks "how can I take up linoleum that has been cemented to the floor and save the linoleum?"

Anyone who has ever seen linoleum removed knows that it is not a cinch. As a matter of fact it is a fairly ragged proposition without enough smooth pieces left to make buttons for your toy soldiers. One authority says:

"Linoleum is put down with cement. The removal is a huge mess. Besides the fact that it must be ripped up for all practical purposes, the floor must be left, spanking clean. The surface must be scraped and cleaned of every bit of cement before a new surface is put down. A little unre-moved imperfection even the size of a dime can look like a mountain after new linoleum has been put down."

On the other hand, new floor covering may be put down by the home worker, but that too takes a good deal of skill. Floors must be straight and the tiniest imperfections removed beforehand.

LEAKY ROOF GUTTERS

DO . . . determine first whether the water is leaking through the gutter or slopping over the sides of it.

DO . . . if the water is pouring over the sides of the gutter, inspect the channel to see whether debris has collected at some point, if not, then the pitch of the gutter is off.

DO . . . correct the pitch of the gutter by a readjustment of one or more of the brackets holding it to the house.

DO . . . if there is a small leak through a metal gutter, scrape the area with a wire brush, coat it with a special preservative paint and then follow with a coat of asbestos roof cement.

DO . . . if the opening is large, spread a thick layer of asbestos cement over it, push a piece of roofing felt or aluminum foil into the cement over the hole, then add more cement to cover the edges of the felt or foil.

DON'T . . . forget that, hile wire strainers at the ends of the gutters will prevent debris from falling into the downspouts, the strainers themselves need periodic cleaning.

DON'T . . . neglect to coat the insides of wooden gutters with asphaltum paint to lengthen their lives.

DON'T . . . overlook caulking compound to seal cracks and small holes in wooden gutters.

DON'T . . . replace any section of a metal gutter with a section of a different kind of metal, as the resulting chemical reaction will cause corrosion.

DON'T . . . take the proper operation of your gutters for granted; seasonal inspections will reveal small trouble that can be prevented from becoming big trouble.

Use Dry Lumber

When building a new house, it's wise to insist on kiln dried softwood boards for a subfloor. If a subfloor shrinks, it may cause openings to develop between strips of finish hardwood flooring. Contractors can use moisture meters to determine the exact amount of moisture in lumber.

Top Mother Shares Clue For Success

NEW YORK (AP)—A bit of advice to parents everywhere from the American Mother of the year:

"Love your children with all your hearts; love them enough to discipline them before it is too late."

Also, says the 75-year-old Mrs. Lavina Christensen Fugal: "A child should know discipline by the age of 3. Forget little things they do wrong that are not important. Praise them for important things, even if you have to stretch them a bit."

Mrs. Fugal, a hard-working farm widow from Pleasant Grove, Utah, was interviewed yesterday at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel during a series of activities for her that will last through Friday.

Close to tears, she said of her family life:

"I've had more blessings than it seems to me one person can stand. And for this I am indebted to Our Heavenly Father. We've had trials, financial diffi-

TODAY'S BUSINESS—

Near-Level Price Course May Be in for New Test

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The fairly level course of most prices in the last year or so may be in for a new testing period.

High flying copper has taken a jolt in London. And American buyers of the tight metal hope that means they won't have to pay premium prices much longer when they need copper in a hurry.

Steel scrap prices took a tumble in Pittsburgh. Scrap is mixed with iron by the makers of steel. And while the production pace of the steel mills continues near a record high, the collection of steel scrap has improved with the coming of open weather. So some scrap dealers are willing to take $2 less a ton, or $36, for No. 1 heavy melting scrap. Steel scrap had risen about one-third above last summer's price.

The break in copper prices in London followed announcement that the British government would release up to 45,000 tons from its stockpile. American users have been after the U. S. government to let them have copper from our strategic stockpile, but Washington is cool to the idea in spite of a world wide shortage of the metal.

IN London the price had risen to a record high of 46 cents a pound, and here it had climbed six cents recently to 36 cents a pound. The London price break brought it down to 38 cents there.

American producers expect the supply situation to stay tight for some time to come and the present price to hold here. But the pressure for another price hike has lessened and premium prices above the 36 cent list price may be on the way out.

The real testing of the prices of metals is yet to come, however. As long as the makers of cars and appliances keep up a fast production pace, the price they pay for their materials may hold. But if output slackens, metal prices could follow the course of others which have shown tendencies to weakness.

Farm products which the food industry buys are lower than last summer. The cotton, wool and hides which the apparel industry buys are below last summer's level.

Weakness in these commodities has about matched the rise in metal prices, keeping the level for commodities as a whole fairly stable.

BUT because the upturn in industrial activity has affected mostly just the metals in tight supply principally because of previous strikes, many observers are looking for a real test of the whole price structure if a lull develops in industrial output.

Bache & Co., a brokerage firm that deals in commodity futures as well as in stocks, believes that the price outlook for many commodities is on the downside. It cites the large supplies of such things as wheat, corn, cotton, dairy products which the government holds reluctantly in its warehouses under price support programs.

But the brokerage firm thinks coffee may be an exception. It notes that the major coffee producing countries are trying to arrive at a price agreement amongst themselves. If Brazil and Colombia agree to hold enough coffee off the market to support prices, brokers think there's a good chance the price of coffee, which has been downward for months, may start up again.

Our government supports many culties, disasters—our one resource has always been Our Heavenly Father."

Mrs. Fugal, a deeply religious Mormon, is the mother of four sons and four daughters and grandmother of 35.

She will receive her award as American Mother of the Year from the American Mothers Committee at a luncheon Friday.

farm prices, controls the price of sugar and influences metal prices through its stockpiling policy. But even so, the final test on prices will come from consumer demand. And the test could come this summer.

It is fashionable to teach Sunday school these days. Lots of young people look forward to spreading The Word each week. Movie actress Gale Storm finds that "teaching Sunday School can be a very rewarding experience" although Gale confesses that at first she was afraid her young pupils just came to stare at a movie star.

If you do teach young people at these classes, try to make the meeting interesting instead of dutiful. One Sunday school teacher, Christine McLaren of Des Moines Iowa, hit on a wonderful idea which paid off in many rewards to her.

She had been thinking for some time about doing a Biblical map to bring the ancient world out of the Bible in simplified form. Then one day she decided a wall mural would be one way to improve the run down wall of a basement church hall where Bible lessons were given. It would not only improve the wall, she reasoned, but it would fascinate the young people.

The wall had never been painted so Mrs. McLaren really labored with a brush that soaked up her paint on the rough plaster as fast as she put it on. Brushes wore out and sponges took over.

Her idea was so successful that now the Bible map appears in wall-paper form for others to enjoy. There are five panels of the Old Testament, and two of the New Testament, panels being 27 inches wide with a design 60 inches long on 10 foot strips in washable and scrubable wallpaper—enough to enhance a pretty big room.

Many ideas can perk up Sunday school classes while religious messages are sandwiched in.

One suggestion for the occasional after Sunday school social might be to use the new religious paper table napkins. These are printed with Grace-before-meals of various religions as well as other religious reminders.

Just in time for National Sunday School Week (sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee with the theme: "Sunday Schools: The Root-Strength of Our Nation's Youth") are miniature statuettes of Jesus, the 12 apostles, Judas, St. Paul. These are three inches high detailed of plastic resembling exam prizes for the pupils.

Also on the religious beam is "A Treasury of Inspirational Greeting Cards" called "Faith for Today" by the American Artists Group. The 12 different greetings in each box might be used as invitations to parties within the inner circle of your Sunday school group.

Oscar Levant Tries Return From Illnesses

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Oscar Levant, the bad boy of music, is getting ready to go back to his first love—the quiz show.

The sad-eyed pianist is starting to revive his career after nearly three years of virtual inactivity. He recently did a film at MGM, "The Cobweb." Now he has made a sample film of a proposed quiz show for TV. It's called "Tell It to Oscar" and features him as a roving Emcee, pianist and wit. The show is being peddled to sponsors now.

"It's a good show," Levant said candidly. "Not like most of the quiz and panel programs on TV. Most of them are pretty setup affairs."

Levant has led a stormy life the past three years, including tiffs with symphony conductors and musicians' boss James Petrillo. The latter suspended him for failing to appear for Canadian concert dates, but later lifted the suspension.

"Nobody knew how sick I was," said Levant, who has never underestimated his troubles. "I had a heart attack."

"I gave up smoking two and a I had three nervous breakdowns during that period. So I said to hell with it." He now smokes liberally and is back on his fabulous quota of coffee.

Levant was launching in a small Italian cafe near the heart of Hollywood. He ordered a corned beef sandwich, which he nibbled at, and a dish of lasagne, "just to look at." He took one bite and left the rest. "Pretty, isn't it?" he said.

That reminded him of a story: "Gertrude Stein owned 80 picassos, you know. When she arrived in New York one time, reporters asked her what she thought of modern art. Imagine being asked such a complex question! She merely replied: 'I like to look at it.'"
