Sporting Goods to Be Short 'Til Next Year, Demand High

WASHINGTON—(AP)—It'll be next year before supplies of most types of sporting goods measure up to the terrific demand.

A tremendous boom in fishing, hunting, golf, baseball and other sports, together with shortages of materials, has brought about demands that can't be satisfied this year, the commerce department reported today.

There is the commerce department's view of the outlook for buyers.

FISHING EQUIPMENT—Strikes have decreased the supply of steel and brass for fishing tackle, and bamboo from China, only satisfactory source of supply for poles, won't be available until late this year. Dealers will get about 60 per cent of a normal year's supply this year, but the supply may remain short two or three years.

GOLF—Natural rubber balls should be on the market now, but allocations for crude rubber to make them are only a third of the amount required. Synthetic balls are available and are a vast improvement over the wartime rebuilt ball. Production of clubs has been held back by a shortage of skilled labor and steel.

TENNIS—Supplies "almost able" to meet current demand.

SPORTING AMMUNITION—Shells likely to remain "very short" for quite some time owing to scarcity of lead. Manufacturers have had to discontinue production of trap and skeet loads and a .22 caliber cartridge.

BASEBALL—Limited supplies of better-grade gloves and mitts are in stock, but good bats very scarce. More adequate supplies expected by summer's end. Organized leagues are getting their requirements filled.

FOOTBALLS AND BASKETBALLS—Manufacturers are feeling the scarcity of leather heavily. Sufficient football helmets, shoulder and hip pads should be available by fall for "organized players."

San Franciscan To Go to Semi-Finals

WIMBLEDON—(AP)—Tom Brown of San Francisco reached the semi-finals of men's singles in the all-English tennis championships today by defeating Franja Puncer, Yugoslav Davis cup star, 6-2, 8-6, 6-4.

As a result of his victory, the unseeded Californian, who last week sprang into the limelight by upsetting Pancho Segura of Ecuador, will clash either with Dinky Fails of Australia or Yvon Petra of France, in the semi-final match of the upper bracket.

BLUE SOX GET 7 SCATTERED HITS--5 TO 3

By FRANK STALLINGS

The Pampa Oilers broke a losing streak yesterday when they bunched their hits and walks in the fourth inning for a 5-3 win over the league-leading Abilene Blue Sox. Ed Leiker held down the Sox by allowing them only seven scattered hits.

Abilene had their eyes on the Pampa players as they hit three men, none of them seriously, but it allowed two hits, Harriman was hit in the second, Riley in the fourth and Leiker in the seventh. Krage, Abilene center fielder, knocked the second pitched ball over the left field fence to push the Blue Sox into the lead. Krage scored all the Abilene runs.

But the Oilers came back in the last of the second as Polunier doubled to center field, Al Johnston walked and Zigelman singled, scoring Polunier. Then Zigelman got into a chase, and before he was tipped out, Al Johnston scored, bringing the Oilers into the lead. Abilene scored again in the third as Krage hit a ball through Harriman's legs and then, Thomas, third baseman, got hit a double to knock Krage in and tie the score.

In the fourth inning Riley, Richardson and Polunier walked, leading the bases. Setz then got up and was out second to first, but Riley scored. Al Johnston walked, Zigelman singled, scoring Richardson and Polunier.

No more scoring was done until the eighth when Dreaug walked. Greer got to second on Harriman's error and Krage went to third with no outs. Thomas was out third to first, Krage scored.

Zigelman, Pampa catcher gets the credit for batting in three of the Oilers' five runs.

The Oilers infield is playing without the services of third baseman Tony Range who is in Illinois visiting his wife, who is ill. Jack Riley is on the third sack in his place.

The Sunday game was the first in a three-game series with the Blue Sox. The win brought the Oilers up one whole game on the Sox, to make them 4 1/2 games behind first place. Tonight will feature the second game and Tuesday night the third.

The Lamesa Lobos will come to Pampa for a four game series beginning Wednesday night with a double header at 6 p. m. and also a double header Thursday, July 4.

Eighty Runs Are Scored in Hectic Tex. League Play

By The Associated Press

In four scheduled doubleheaders yesterday Texas league batsmen pounded out combined total of 80 runs. There were many doubles and triples and home runs weren't infrequent.

Beaumont, Dallas, and Fort Worth snatched both ends of double bills from Houston, Oklahoma City, and Tulsa, respectively. Shreveport and San Antonio split.

The first-place Cats made it four in a row over the Tulsa Oilers by the counts of 10-9 and 1-0. Mack Stewart of the Oilers pitched a two-hitter in the nightcap. In the opener Fort Worth turned on its home run power in early innings to take a 10-2 lead before the Tulsans made a belated attempt to salvage the game.

The Dallas Rebels jumped on Oklahoma City for 27 hits in two contests, 9-1 and 9-4. In the first game a three-run spurge by Dallas in the second inning proved enough to conquer the Indians.

Beaumont took both ends of a doubleheader from Houston, 6-2, and 5-2. Five unearned runs proved too much for Joe Shroba in the second tilt. Forest Rogers of Beaumont hit a homer in the first, game and James Basso of Houston belted one out of the park in the second.

The Shreveport Sports put on a batting parade in the second game of a doubleheader to split with the San Antonio Missions, 5-3, and 12-2. Manuel Argas who pitched the final game for the Sports hit a double and a home run.

'Dem' Dodgers Out in Front as Season's Half-Way Mark Comes

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

With July Fourth—major league's baseball midway station—only three days off, Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals today was faced with the task of making his pre-season prediction come true.

It was on the eve of the 1946 season inaugural that the St. Louis Cardinal pilot said: "If we can stay within five games of the pace when the Fourth of July rolls around, we will win the National league pennant."

Today those dazzling Dodgers are roosting at the top of the standings, enjoying a five and a half game advantage over Dyer's runner-up Redbirds.

The Brooks gained a game and a half on St. Louis yesterday by whipping the Boston Braves for the fourth straight time 4-1, while the cellar-dwelling Pittsburgh Pirates were dealing the Cards a double defeat, 4-3 and 1-0.

The American league leading Boston Red Sox increased their margin over the second place New York Yankees to eight and a half games when they exchanged several lopsided decisions with the Washington Senators. Led by Catcher Hal Wagner, who banded a pair of homers, the Sox won the opener 15-8. The Nats came back to rip the Sox 9-2 in the afterpiece. Dave "Boo" Ferriss, capped his 12th victory in the opener.

Eddie Bonham, New York Yankee forkball expert, tried out his right arm and discovered to his sorrow that it could not meet the test as the Philadelphia Athletics shelled him to an early shower with a six-run fourth inning to beat the Bronx Bombers 6-3.

Petrol's third-place Tigers improved their position slightly by taking two close games from the St. Louis Browns 1-0 and 3-2. Lefty Hal Newhouse hurled his 14th triumph in the opener with a four-hit shutout and a seven-inning performance.

The Philadelphia Pilots, fighting for a first division berth, were still one game away after diving two games with the New York Giants. After dropping the opener 8-1, the Phils, but to break a regulation nine-inning deadlock and win the game in the 10th when Pitcher Schoolboy Dowe, who earlier had hit a home run, doubled and his pinch runner eventually scored on an outfield fly.

Cincinnati and Chicago divided a twin bill, the Cubs winning the opener 6-5, and the Reds came back to win the second 4-3.

The Chicago White Sox defeated the Cleveland Indians 7-3 and then played a nine-inning 5-5 tie when the second game was called because of darkness.

Swede Will Make Last Appearance In US Tomorrow

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Lacenic Lennart Strand, the little Swede with the big kick, makes his third and last appearance on American tracks tomorrow evening and chances are it will fully confirm his observations on United States runners—that they're good in the dashes but lacking in the distance races.

The Swedish sprinter, the blazing finish, who made a show of beating the best in the nation here Saturday in the national AAU 1500 meters, departed yesterday for New York where he will race Les Mac-Mitchell, whom he bested by 30 yards in the AAU. Tommy Quinn, who fished third, and a number of other crack runners in the mile feature of a special twilight meet at Randalls Island stadium.

Strand said he had found Americans very good in the sprints, jumps and pole vault but that the middle-distance and distance men do not appear up to the Scandinavians. He explained that the tracks are not as good in America as in Sweden. The Americans do not run so much and the weather over there is more favorable to distance races.

Strand was among the little army of athletes leaving here yesterday following the national AAU junior and senior meets which attracted more than 10,000 spectators.

One world record was bettered and two marks in the AAU were set. Bob Fitch, Minnesota university giant, flipped the discus 179 feet 1/8 inch, easily to beat the accepted world record of 174 feet 10 3/4 inches by Adolfo Consolini of Italy in 1941.

Lloyd Labach of the University of Wisconsin set 200 meters around a turn in 21 1/4 in the junior meet, a tenth of a second under the mark set by Ed O'Sullivan in 1947 and tied by Gene Titler of Nebraska in 1939.

In the senior meet, Garrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace college ran the 200-meter hurdles in 23.3—an American record for the hurdles around a turn. J. Lyman Bingham of Chicago, assistant to the president of the AAU explained that this was a record because it was the first time the metric system was adopted by the AAU that 175 hurdles had been run around a turn.

Some lightning bolts are more than five miles in length.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Although tomorrow's streamlined AAU track meet is designed for record-breaking, it isn't likely that any important ones will be busted unless Sweden's Lennart Strand does it all by himself—Strand really showed "em in the last half at San Antonio, and there wasn't an American runner who could come close to him, although his 3:54.5 for 1500 meters was about equivalent to a 4:12 mile—the program doesn't provide a spot for George Pitch to display his discus tossing talent and—off the last couple of national meets—the sprinters will disqualify themselves on false starts before they get around to record-smashing.

MONDAY MATINEE

J. Walter Morris, former player, manager and umpire and now president of the Appalachian baseball league, recently fine-tuned $25 for being too lenient in fining players. "Our league likes to be first in everything," he explained—shooting for the basketball big time, Louisiana State is in the South-eastern conference last season, will play St. Francis in the garden and Canisius in Buffalo next December.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Wonder what the veterans administrator will say when some kid who has been drawing pay for on-the-job training in baseball is handed his unconditional release?—The batting race in the Georgia-Alabama league has devolved into a contest between two former Auburn baseball captains, Opelika's Tommie Thompson and Mavern Morgan of the valley Rebels—Tip: If Tom Scott, new North Carolina basketball coach, brings all the freshmen to Chapel Hill that he had lined up for Central Missouri state, the Tarheels will be one of the tallest and hottest teams of all in a couple of years.

Intermediates of Church Honored With Banquet

Intermediates of the Central Baptist church were honored with a banquet Thursday evening. Mr. Harold E. Williams acted as emcee.

Rev. R. Q. Harvey was the main speaker, and Neva Payne Gower furnished the special music.

The main attraction of the evening was the crowning of the kings and queens. They were crowned by Mr. Lloyd Satterwhite. They received this honor for being present every Sunday for three months and making a 100 per cent. Those crowned were Jewel Beckham, Rosemary Deering, Marilee Conklin, Kenneth Peoples and Jack McPeak.

The tables were decorated in rose and white with a centerpiece of mixed flowers. The meal was served by the W.M.U. women.

Those attending were Rev. and Mrs. R. Q. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Nice, Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kniss, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Barclay-Ridgway Vows Exchanged

In a double ring ceremony performed Saturday evening, June 15, Miss Betatrice Barclay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barclay, became the bride of Ralph Ridgway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ridgway.

The wedding vows were exchanged in the study of the First Baptist church. Rev. Douglas Carver officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ginn attended the couple.

The bride was dressed in a brown gaberdine suit with white accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. Ginn wore a black tuxedo suit with black accessories and corsage of white carnations.

The bride attended Pampa schools and for the past two years has been employed at the Schneider hotel. The bridegroom, a veteran of four years army service of which 26 months were spent overseas, is employed by the Cabot Co. of Guyton, Okla., where the couple will make their home.

Children attending were Judy and Joe Price, Peggy and Diana Kay Mallow, Linda and Marita Isaacs, Paul Clay, Ginger Greenhill, and Leandra Rives of Borger.

Mothers present were Mesdames Duward Price, J. T. Isaacs, and J. D. Mallow.

Noble Experiment

Let's all stand and give a cheer for the Pere Marquette railway, which is launching an experiment to banish tipping in its dining cars as a "tyranny of custom."

Tipping is the bane of the city dweller's existence. It has become degrading to both giver and receiver and a breeder of ill-feeling. No longer is it a gesture of gratitude. It is the price of minimum courtesy and an escape from embarrassment.

The urban dweller finds that he must tip an increasing number of persons—the head waiter as well as the person who serves his food, the hat check girl, the doorman, the cab driver, the barber, the delivery boy, the janitor, the elevator operator, the bartender, and so on and on.

It is no secret by now that in many places waiters get practically no salary from their employers, and are dependent on the customer for their living. Most hat check concessions pay their employees a modest salary, and pocket a small yearly fortune after paying a place of business a big price for the privilege of installing a pretty girl behind the counter and gathering in the customers' quarters and half-dollars.

The whole business is unfair, undemocratic, and a thorough nuisance as well as a considerable expense. We hope the Pere Marquette's experiment assumes epidemic proportions.

Shucks, Henry

Since even Presidents are subject to ordinary human emotions, we can imagine Mr. Truman's feelings when he read that Secretary of Commerce Wallace had told a reporter in New York that "President Truman is going to run for President in 1948, and I am going to support him."

Dollars to doughnuts, the Presidential reaction was something like this: "Shucks, Henry, why did you have to go and give it all away? I wanted to surprise them myself."

In Hollywood So They Say

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Hollywood's most famous English butler—tall, mustache, still elegant Samuel May—cannot get very excited over the postwar spending spree. He watched and helped Hollywood stars and New York socialites spend millions for 50 years.

May is 70 now, and his snappy walk (which once prompted Mrs. Charles Ray to point him out proudly to a friend on Hollywood boulevard, saying, "There goes our butler!") has slowed down to a firm but hesitant step.

Back in the roaring '20s, May was the crown prince of Hollywood's servants. Movie queens like Gloria Swanson and Mary Pickford schemed for his services.

He ruled the pantries of the big pink-stucco palaces in Beverly Hills, bought champagne for the carload, supervised breast-of-pheasant dinners for as many as 850 guests, and spent $24,000 on one order of imported brandy.

A STUDIO COP NOW

Today he wears a blue serge uniform, and a badge of the Samuel Goldwyn studio police force. He answers the set telephones, asks people for their passes, and runs errands for stars like Danny Kaye, Virginia Mayo, and Myrna Loy.

"I got too old for butling," he told us. "I couldn't take it anymore. So I retired. But I still have all my friends, because I always minded my own business."

Sam is an Englishman, who first worked as butler for Hugo Haig, of the Scotch whiskey-making family, in England. He went to New York in 1894, and worked there as a butler for 26 years, serving socialites like Harry Payne Whitney, Peter Dunne, and Robert Collier.

In 1920, Hollywood suddenly became fabulously rich. Sam moved west, with excellent letters of recommendation.

Charles Ray was the first to employ him.

"In fact, Ray was the first star to have an English butler," Sam said with a chuckle. "I guess I was quite a sensation. The photographers even took my picture."

GLORIA'S BATTLE-CRY

When he was Gloria Swanson's butler, Gloria used to say to him before a big party: "Sam, give him 'ell'."

She meant that Sam was to make sure the drinks were doubles.

Everyone I know is living better than we were back home these past years, so we're quite willing to stay a long time.—Mrs. Louise Meadows, American lieutenant colonel's wife in Berlin.

We must be ready to support the United Nations, not only by words but also by deeds.—Fleet Adm. Ernest J. King.

OFFICE CAT

"The secret of success in life is for a man to be ready for his opportunity when it comes."—Disraeli

"Because a fellow has failed once or twice, or a dozen times, you don't want to set him down as a failure till he's dead or loses his courage—and that's the same thing."—George Horace Lorimer.

"Good salesmanship is selling goods that won't come back to customers that will."—Graphica

"Men are seldom, if ever, more innocently employed than when they are honestly making money."—Johnson

Sam once spent $500 for flowers with which to decorate the table. Doug Fairbanks came downstairs, took one look and said: "Sam, what is this—my funeral?"

Sam remembers, too, the atrocious manners of Hollywood's early-day stars who suddenly became rich.

"I worked for one fellow for five years," he said, "and I never saw him use the right fork."

Even after coming to Hollywood, Sam longed for the big New York receptions of the turn of the century.

"They were wonderful," he sighed. "We served cake and ice cream and punch, and everyone had a beautiful time. Look at some of those horrible cocktail parties. Everybody gets drunk, and that is the end."

what am I accused of—what do you mean by 'disgraceful conduct'? I demand an explanation and I mean to have it."

THE door opened and Doctor Hallock entered. Sally looked at him in consternation. So he was in on this, too. How shameful—how humiliating!

"I'll see you later, Doctor," the superintendent said in a mild tone. "You may go now. I'll send for you after I have finished with Miss Maynard."

The young man acted as if he hadn't spoken. He came to stand beside Sally and his voice was coldly hostile.

"I suppose I know what this is all about, Miss Sunderlin. And I want to say just one thing. You have a dangerous female on your nursing staff who will stop at nothing to accomplish her purposes. Per jealousy and vindictiveness have caused her to deliberately poison your mind with lurid tales of Miss Maynard's association with me. I want to say right here that Sally Maynard has never once met me by appointment in the more than a year I have been in Linton's. I admire her more than any girl I have ever known not only because she is a fine nurse, a quiet, well-bred woman and a female who minds her own business, but because she doesn't deal in gossip. She has never once accepted an invitation from me. I doubt if she even likes me although I admire her immensely. There, Miss Sunderlin, is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help me God." He patted Sally's shoulder and turned to leave the room.

WASHINGTON

LIBERAL—Minnesota's young man in a hurry—Harold E. Stassen—has managed to get his political pants torn on both sides of the party's wire fence as the primary day approaches when his presidential prospects may soar higher than ever or fade away completely.

The former governor has presented himself to the voters of his state and the nation as the only liberal on the republican roster of White House seekers, but he has won that reputation largely because of his unflinching support of Truman-Roosevelt foreign policies. Certain laws controlling labor that he sponsored have antagonized workingmen's groups, and hardly a week passes in which he is not assailed in the labor press.

Latest development is a falling off among dyed-in-the-wool liberals in his home state. In speeches, public statements and interviews

NEW YORK—When I'm mad, or depressed or feeling low, there's nothing like a good shopping spree to cheer me up.

So the other day, I spent hours in all the big stores here. Not that I was sad or depressed or feeling low when I started—in fact, I felt simply wonderful.

But I figure an ounce of prevention can be of fun.

Of course, shopping in New York is like living in Los Angeles, where I live. There I can charge things, but here I have to work on George for the cash. Sometimes I start working on him in the morning and by the time he's shelled out I have to run like mad to get to the store before it closes.

But the other day he was easy. I walked right up to him and asked for a hundred dollars, and what do you think happened? He handed me fifty, which was wonderful because all I wanted was twenty-five. So now I have a stunning new hat, which the salesgirl told me would make even the most beautiful girl in the world look more beautiful. She was right, too; it does.

If we fail to get food abroad, and quickly, in really adequate amounts, we shall be throwing away much of what was bought for us so dearly by those who fell in the struggle of liberation.—Dr. Everett Case, president Colgate U.

Sally's knees threatened to let her down.

"WELL!" the superintendent said, the wind completely taken out of her. "That seems to put a different light on the affair. Sit down, Sally, and tell me all about it. You know I have always been fond of you."

"And yet—" The girl stopped and swallowed hard. "Skip it," she said and suddenly felt very tired. She sank into a chair and her hands clenched tightly to still the trembling.

"And yet I was ready to believe evil of you, you were going to say?" the woman asked. "Doctor Richards warned me to ignore this letter of accusation on the grounds that it was unsigned; but I felt it my duty to investigate just the same."

Sally said nothing.

"Doctor Hallock seems to think he knows who the writer of this letter is. Do you, Sally?"

Sally shook her head. Even if she was sure she wouldn't tell.

"I'm sorry, Sally," Miss Sunderlin said, a frown on her smooth forehead. "I'm extremely sorry and I hope this slight misunderstanding won't mar our hitherto cordial relations. I might say that you are a very fortunate girl, my dear."

"Fortunate?" the girl murmured bitterly. "I don't understand."

"Fortunate in having such a loyal friend as Doctor Hallock. He is a fine young man and a splendid surgeon. Would you mind telling me just why you don't like him?"

"But I do—" Sally said impulsively, and bit her lip.

"I see?" The woman smiled understandingly. "But discipline must be maintained. Is that it, my dear? You know, of course, that he is leaving us? So it may not be so difficult for you after that, I'm sure you understand. Try to see my side of it, Sally. After all, I must have discipline. Good-bye for the present."

MACKENZIE'S Column

Regardless of later revelations which may show that any personnel aboard the ships at Bikini would have died and that the instruments which make fighting ships of steel hulks destroyed, first impressions of the atom bomb test will remain strong, and the world-wide feeling that something supernatural has been added to war is likely to be diminished.

As for the extremists who have foreseen the destruction of civilization in a few minutes in event of another war, they seem to be about as far ahead of their time as those, who prior to World War II, had similar visions regarding airpower that turned out to be something terrific, all right, but still not decisive in conjunction with other weapons.

The failure of the fourth atomic bomb explosion to destroy ships wholesale, to "blow Bikini out of the water," to vaporize the ocean or cause earthquakes and tidal waves is no more than was expected by a great many experts who already knew some of the bomb's limitations. Those who have been working desperately for peace may be deprived of an important weapon, although it is not necessarily a corollary that anything done under the aegis of the atomic hysteria which has been sweeping the world would have been the best thing, or even effective at all. A sane realization that weapons of destruction have been developed with ever-increasing speed for many years, that war has become totally unprofitable for winner or loser, that power carried by long range guided missiles is a climax beyond which man dare not venture, may be just as helpful in the long run.

Peter Edson's Column: CLOSED SHOP DOCTORS' UNION

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—The Chicago Medical Association refuses to accept as members any doctors connected with pre-payment health insurance systems, according to charges made in senate hearings on the Wagner-Murray-Dingell national health bill.

A demand that the senate committee on Education and labor investigate these practices of organized medicine is made by Dr. Lawrence Jacques of the Chicago Civic Medical Center and Alton A. Linton of the Chicago Citizens' Committee on Education and labor in the House.

These charges made by Chicago's Civic Medical Center are, in general, similar to those directed at the American Medical Association by the Group Health Association by Washington. In a 1943 Supreme Court decision the A. M. A. was held to be violating the anti-trust law by denying to physicians associated with the Group Health Association the rights to practice in District of Columbia hospitals.

According to the testimony of Dr. Jacques, director of Chicago's Civic Medical Center, the physicians on his staff have been denied membership in the A. M. A.'s Chicago Medical Society. This denial of membership has existed in spite of the fact that all of the Center's doctors have been licensed to practice medicine by the State of Illinois.

EXCLUSION RESTRICTS DOCTORS' PRACTICE

Because the Chicago Medical Society won't take in these Civic Medical Center doctors and give them the equivalent of membership cards in the A. M. A. closed-shop union, they are not permitted to practice in many fields of medical science. They are not permitted to operate or see patients in many hospitals. They can't be admitted to the staff of a medical school, there to teach or conduct research. They can't take care of their share of the charity patients in hospital wards.

payment health insurance plans have been kept on the tables, with the old magazines, in the Center's waiting and reception rooms.

In 1943, two doctors on leave from the Center for service with the army medical corps applied for membership in the Chicago Medical Society, but they were refused on the grounds of their previous connection with the Civic Medical Center. Over the past ten years, however, eight doctors who resigned from the Center staff to go into private practice have applied for membership in the Chicago Medical Society, and all were admitted without question.

If the British and Russian people can march forward side by side in a firm alliance, peace in Europe is assured. If not, the worst might happen and the dark horses in Germany yet achieve their evil dream of world domination.—Hugh Dalton, British chancellor of the Exchequer.

Apathy Prevails in Frankfurt Election

FRANKFURT—(AP)—Apathy prevailed throughout the U. S. zone of Frankfurt concerning today's election, which will give 7,000,000 voters their first chance in 13 years to decide what sort of democratic government they want.

The disinterested attitude was interpreted as a realization by the impoverished middle class that neither party could offer a definite program as long as it remained dependent upon U. S. government policies.

Plenty of Produce Available to Meet Local Food Needs

Gray county residents will offset short supplies of meat, wheat, fats and oils by consuming nearly 13,000,000 pounds of the nation's bumper fresh fruit and vegetable crop to maintain high nutritional standards this year, it was predicted today by a leading food distributor.

"Fresh fruits and vegetables will adequately supplement the limited supplies of many foods now available," said Harvey Baum, head of A. and P. Food Stores' produce buying operations. "Increased use of perishable produce will permit shipment of other foods to those hunger-ridden nations now subsisting on daily diets ranging from 1,000 to 1,500 calories as compared with an average of 3,300 calories for this country."

Part of the fresh fruits and vegetables consumed by Gray residents comes from this county's 683 farms and neighboring growers. Large amounts of perishables are received from other sections to meet the county's year-around needs. The developments of more efficient distribution methods, Baum said, has helped double fresh fruit and vegetable consumption in the past 25 years and makes possible a greater selection of foods necessary for a well-rounded diet and a higher standard of living.

Basing his estimates on preliminary indications of food production and consumption for 1946, Baum said that each person in the country will eat an average of 1,695 pounds of food this year. This represents a 10 percent increase over the 1935-1939 average, with fresh fruits and vegetables accounting for nearly one-third of the food to be consumed, he added.

INFLAMMABLE STREETS

CORVALLIS, Ore.—(AP)—Since board sidewalks disappeared years ago, the fire department was very anxious to receive a report that a street was on fire.

A half block burned before they could put it out.

It seems a subdivision owner had spread sawdust over newly graded dirt streets.

Local OPA

whether or not it will predominate in the future was a question.

Two questions were asked people on the streets of Pampa:

1. Do you approve of the discontinuance of OPA?

2. Do you think we are faced with inflation as a result of this action? (Lapse of OPA.)

Seventeen out of 30 persons contacted approved of the action, and 20 of that number believed that we would have to face inflation in the coming years. However, they were of the opinion that, regardless of OPA, the country would have faced some sort of economic crisis at some time.

Most persons wanted to explain in full his theory. It would read something like this:

"If the people will just use their heads, the discontinuance of the OPA will not bring about a complete change in price and rent controls."

They thought it was up to the people to see to it that we are not beset with inflation.

The managers of two neighborhood groceries reported that their customers were generally pleased with the lapse of OPA.

At the present, said one, "our prices will remain the same—unless wholesalers go up."

The other said some of his commodities would go up. He also said it was his opinion that some of the scarce items would begin to appear on the counters. Recent price increases on meats granted by OPA, he said, will, of course, go into effect at once.

A wholesaler said there were no prices in sight for eight for commodities, but said it was a certainty that some of the scarce items would now go on the market.

Paul Crouch, of the Panhandle Meat Packing company, said it was his personal opinion that pork prices will soar, but that there will at least be pork on the market. He said he did not believe beef prices would go up much here.

It will probably take two weeks, he asserted for a normal supply of meats to come to the consumers' market. Lunch meats will remain the same, he believes.

Summing up he said he felt like a man that had been in jail for four years, and had just gotten out. In other words, he explained, "I'm very glad."

The manager of one of the larger markets here said he had been advised to have prices at the same level in all cases, but that a few of them would be lowered.

Another said he was happy, his customers were happy. He said he thought meat prices might go up. Most persons contacted had adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

Christian Social Union Strongest German Party

FRANKFURT—(AP)—Despite secret campaign tactics prior to Sunday's constitutional assembly elections, left wing political parties failed to rock the conservative, church-backed Christian social union from its position as the strongest party in American occupied Germany, returns showed today.

Voters in Bavaria—larger in population than greater Hesse and Wurttemberg-Baden combined—gave the C. S. U. a two to one victory over its nearest rival, the social democratic party. In industrial greater Hesse, the social democrats won a narrow victory over the C. S. U.

No detailed reports had come in from Wurttemberg-Baden.

OPA Action

exercise "restraint" until national stabilization policies are restored.

AFL President William Green, however, said congress had "burned the only bridge" of return to peaceful postwar production.

For 45 minutes congressional leaders talked with President Truman over the situation created by the end of OPA last midnight after Mr. Truman vetoed an extension bill which he called "impossible."

Barkley told reporters he hoped that the senate could work out a new permanent piece of legislation "that will be acceptable."

Rayburn said he expected the house to pass a resolution restoring price controls for 20 days. Such temporary action, pending permanent legislation, was urged by Mr. Truman in his veto message.

Meanwhile, OPA is dead. Throughout the country, its end was marked by confusion, uncertainty and star political crossfire.

With OPA passed the myriad of regulations that have governed the nation's economy for the last four and a half years.

(Prices on the nation's commodity markets bounded upward as trading began on the first OPA-less day. Steel, motor, copper, rubber and mail order shares rose from $1 to more than $3 a share in early trading on the New York stock exchange.)

Cotton futures jumped more than $2 a bale at New York and rose the limit of $5 at New Orleans. In Chicago and Minneapolis the grain markets responded similarly. Early prices on the Chicago livestock market jumped from $2 to $2.50 a hundred pounds, with many being held for still higher returns.)

Meanwhile, Senator O'Daniel (D-Texas) again blocked an effort by Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.) to introduce a resolution to revive OPA and continue its operations until July 20.

O'Daniel first had blocked introduction Saturday.

Under senate rules, introduction of the continuing resolution now will have to be delayed until tomorrow. Further objections at that time would delay its consideration by a committee until the following day.

"I hope we can work out something acceptable that will extend the OPA for a year," Barkley said. "If we can do it in one bite instead of two, it will be better than to pass one temporary measure and then a more permanent one."

Barkley said today's conference with the President was a "friendly" one.

The immediate question on Capitol Hill, indeed, throughout the land, was:

What will happen to the cost of living?

Forecasts varied hugely, but most seemed agreed that it would be weeks, not days, before the effects could be accurately assessed.

The legislative outlook, meanwhile, appeared none too promising for rapid-fire action on the price control restoration program President Truman asked in his veto message.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the house banking committee voiced confidence the house will approve a 20-day stopgap resurrection of the defunct OPA law to cover the period while congress is working on comprehensive new legislation.

There's another candidate who is covering ground.

Boyce House, aspirant or lieutenant governor, said that in a period of 10 days he had distributed more than 10,000 political cards. A handshake and personal greeting go with each card.

Some take the political pot's boiling with a grain of salt—but some don't.

At Edinburg, Texas, an 80-year-old voter was treated for a knife wound in his chest. An 83-year-old man was placed under $500 bond on a charge of assault.

Officers said the two were arguing whether Negroes should be allowed to vote in the democratic primary.

Pat M. Neff, Jr., candidate for attorney general, is attending the state bar association convention in San Antonio today. He will leave early tomorrow on a campaign swing that will take him to Georgetown, Temple, Gatesville, Goldthwaite, Brownwood and intermediate points during the day. In a San Antonio radio broadcast (WOAI) tonight he plans to stress his platform and experience as an assistant attorney general.

helping to quell riots by pro-Italian residents.

The rioting in Trieste broke out after participants in the around-Italy bicycle race had been attacked, police said, by a group of "Slav communists." More than 20 persons were injured and 25 stores and offices used as Slav communists and socialist centers were wrecked before troops were summoned to help police.

A combination of organizations in the city called a general strike to protest the rioting.

on corn, barley and oats, but retained the five cents a bushel daily limit on fluctuations in grain prices.

The American meat institute, which represents packers generally, said it will take a little time for the industry to get back on its feet and that the speed of recovery depends to a large degree on the supplies of livestock coming to the market.

The O. P. A., whose employees throughout the nation were asked to report for work as usual today, announced that sugar rationing goes on unchanged. Price ceilings on sugar, however, are gone and industry spokesmen said a price rise of one cent a pound was probable.

Authority to ration sugar is derived from the second war powers act, not the price control act and President Truman issued an executive order giving O. P. A. authority to continue rationing operations.

F. Eugene Ackerman, executive director of the American wool council, expressed doubt that clothing prices would be substantially increased. He declared that manufacturers have advised retailers of prices for fall lines "and they would be foolish to kick their customers around by hiking prices now." Retail stores face the possibility of a "buyers strike" if they raise prices, he said.

The national association of retail grocers said it had sent telegrams to all members asking that there be no "radical increase" in food costs. The telegrams said there "ultimately would be increased production XXX and consequently greater supplies at reasonable prices."

John Honeyman, an unsung hero of the American revolution, helped George Washington cross the Delaware.

Texas Tech Allotted 140 Dwelling Units

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Allotment of 140 family dwelling units to Texas Technological college by remodeling surplus barracks at Lubbock army air field was announced today by Marshall W. Amls, regional director of the federal public housing authority.

The City of Brownsville was allotted 50 units, to be developed by remodeling barracks at Brownsville army air field.

Traffic Deaths

They were Jose Cobas, Manuel Molinar and Cruz Molinar of Ackerly, Texas, and Earl Freeman of Knott, Texas. Cruz Molinar was being rushed to Big Spring for medical treatment for knife cuts in an abdomen when the accident occurred.

Camilo Ramirez, 75, burned to death at San Antonio when his small house went up in flames.

ZALE'S PLEDGE

TO THE PUBLIC

OUR PLEDGE

In line with President Truman's request to the business men of our nation, Zale's will continue to sell all merchandise on hand (including electrical appliances, silverware and watches) at our already established low prices.

No Sir . . . prices will not get higher at Zale's . . . we don't want inflation. And we are sure our fellow Americans do not want inflation either! Zale's are pledged to back up our President by fighting against higher prices . . . Your dollars will be safely spent at Zale's.
