BORAH CHARGES ENGLAND SEEKS TO TRICK U. S.

Senator Claims Disarmament Propaganda Being Spread Here by Great Britain.

Poindexter Admits Committee Found Evidence but Wanted Information Kept Secret.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The statement that he had received word that Great Britain was "circulating propaganda" is this country to deter American naval building was made in the senate today by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, during a general debate on disarmament. He understood, he said, that the facts were in possession of the navy department.

Senator Poindexter, republican, Washington, author of the senate naval committee's recent adverse report of Senator Borah's suggestion for a six months' naval holiday, in answer to a question whether the committee's investigation had disclosed any such situation, replied that there had been "some testimony" on the subject, but the committee did not believe it should be made public.

"If this information is in the hands of the navy department," Senator Borah said, "the congress should have it. We are informed that in the archives of the navy department there is proof of the propaganda conducted by Great Britain. At the same time we are told that the British ambassador is on his way here to suggest a disarmament conference."

Borha Urges Reduction.

Senator Borah again urged that an agreement be reached between the naval powers for reduction of building programs and also advocated a careful investigation to determine whether capital ships are tactically obsolete.

"Unless there is an agreement reached between the United States and the powers competing in naval building," he said, "it will lead to war inevitably."

Opinions of American, British, German and other naval experts that capital ships have become obsolete were presented by Senator Borah. He read from a letter by an American rear admiral, retired, who said:

"I would stake my life that in a few years a surface navy alone can go nowhere but to the bottom."

The name of the officer who wrote the letter, Senator Borah said,

In Killing Resolution Adopted by Lower House, Upper Branch Shies From "Expressing Preference."

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 11.—By a vote of 54 to 61 the house this afternoon refused to adopt the senate concurrent resolution inviting Miss Mary MacSwiney of Cork, Ireland, sister of the late Terrence MacSwiney, mayor of Cork, to address the Texas legislature. Miss MacSwiney is expected in Texas soon. The senate adopted the resolution yesterday, but the failure of the house to do so kills the measure. Considerable debate was given the measure before final action was taken.

Members of the opposition took the stand that inviting Miss MacSwiney to address the legislature would be an expression of approval of the cause of the Irish party seeking to divorce their government from England and that the legislature did not want to do this. An amendment was adopted wording the resolution to the effect that it would be establishing no political partisanship to invite Miss MacSwiney, but the resolution failed on the final vote.

Cotton Bill Killed.

The bill by Williams of McLennan proposing to license and regulate cotton buyers in Texas was killed in the house when a amendment by Thompson of Red River to strike out the enacting clause was adopted. The bill proposed to put the administration of the act under the commissioner of agriculture.

By request of Barry Miller of Dallas the house set the two minimum wage bills now pending in the house for special order at 11 o'clock next Tuesday. The bill by Miller proposes to create an industrial commission and administer law by dividing the state into zones. The other by Nott of Walker and others seeks to repeal outright the present law.

The petition stated that the liabilities of Mr. Hannevig and his company were more than $8,000,000 with "free assets of $500,000."

Counsel for the firm said the financial embarrassment of Mr. Hannevig and the company was due to delay in collecting from the United States shipping board for vessels constructed during the war.

Toddler Playing Beneath Auto Is Run Over by Uncle.

Special to The Record News.

HOLLIDAY, Texas, Feb. 11.—C. Eugene Harder, 16 months old, crouched beneath the radiator of his uncle's automobile and played with the crank shaft as if trying to start the engine here this afternoon and was run over and killed.

P. H. Sudberry, his uncle, not seeing the baby, started the car. The radiator knocked him to the side and the wheels passed over his chest, caving in his ribs and injuring him internally. The child screamed. Sudberry choked his engine and the car jerked to a halt on the boy's chest, then rolled off.

Death resulted half an hour later.

Sudberry left his automobile in front of the home of his brother, Frank Hardy, father of the victim and went in to talk with him. The baby was hidden by the radiator from his view when Sudberry returned to the machine and started off.

Mr. Sudberry has been manager of the Wichita Lumber Company's yard at Holliday. Mr. Hardy was employed by that company as a teamster.

INNOCENT MAN HUNG FOR CRIME

Italian Murderer Confesses Old Shooting While On Gallows.

By Associated Press.

MARION, Ills., Feb. 11.—The story of how an innocent man went to his death at the hands of a mob for another man's crime, came to light after Settino DeSantis, an Italian miner, was hanged here today for the murder of Amel Calcaterra and Tony Hemphill, two boys.

Before he was led to the gallows, DeSantis confessed to the murder of Edward Chapman in Johnson City, Illinois, six years ago, for which crime another Italian, Joe Bingo, was lynched by a mob at the time.

Bingo, DeSantis and another Italian, Frank Bianca, had been working together in a coal mine at Johnson City shortly before the Chapman murder and upon being discharged by Ben Schull, the mine foreman, they made a threat to "get him."

Several nights later, a bullet crashed through a window at the Schull home where Schull, his wife and father-in-law, Chapman, were sitting. It missed Schull and killed Chapman. DeSantis and Bianca disappeared the night Bingo was caught by a mob and lynched.

Several months ago, Bianca, who also was implicated in the murders for which DeSantis was hanged today, made a confession in which he charged DeSantis fired the shot that killed Chapman, and a few days later committed suicide in jail while his trial was in progress. DeSantis then confessed to another Italian, Tony Maroin, who was one of the interpreters at his trial, that he had accidentally shot Chapman while trying to kill Schull.

LOVE SPURNED, WOMAN SHOOTS GROOM-TO-BE

Youthful Widow Ends Life of Man She Loved Rather Than See Another Wed Him.

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Tex., Feb. 11.—Ten minutes after he had procured a marriage license to wed Miss Vera Johnson at Odon, a small town near here, just after he had telephoned her to prepare for the ceremony, Floyd Branham, 24, farmer of Palaska, was shot and killed on the street here this afternoon.

Mrs. Burnice Vallance, postmistress of Palaska, was arrested and is being held.

According to friends, Branham received his mail at the Palaska postoffice and during his daily calls, an intimate friendship sprang up between Mrs. Vallance, who is a young widow, and Branham. When the report reached Mrs. Vallance that Branham intended to marry another girl, she is said to have declared Branham had ruined her life and that he should not marry any other girl.

She appeared in this city about noon Friday. Several of her acquaintances met her on the street and she asked them whether they had seen Branham.

A few minutes after noon, she met the young man in front of the Majestic theater and after a few words, he turned away from her to speak to a friend who was sitting in a car parked at the curb. It was then, witnesses say, that Mrs. Vallance shot Branham. Branham ran about two hundred feet and collapsed in the rear of a grocery store. Mrs. Vallance followed and was kneeling

The discovery today is believed to have uncovered one means by which an extensive traffic has been carried on.

UNITED STATES AMPLY GUARDED AGAINST TYPHUS

Tumulty Informs N. Y. Health Commissioner of Precautionary Steps to Stop Spread.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Precautions taken and steps contemplated are believed by federal health authorities to be sufficient to prevent a spread of the European typhus epidemic to the United States, Secretary Tumulty tonight informed Dr. R. S. Copeland, New York city health commissioner.

Secretary Tumulty, in a telegram to Dr. Copeland quoted a report on the typhus situation from the secretary and treasury, who declared there was nothing to warrant the step suggested by the New York health commissioner, in a telegram yesterday to the White House, imposition of a ban on the admission of immigrants from typhus-infested districts. Dr. Copeland's suggestion resulted from the arrival at the port of New York within the last few days of more than 30 cases of typhus.

Surgeon General Cumming in a statement issued during the day said that even should typhus get into the United States "there is no reason to fear that its introduction would be followed by epidemics on the same scale as in Europe."

"At the same time," the surgeon general added "it must be borne in mind that there might be outbreaks in the slum quarters of large cities. The disease spreads only in unsanitary and filthy surroundings, for, as far as known, the disease is spread only by lice."

The situation as presented by the arrival of the typhus cases at New York would be considered at a conference tomorrow between Mr. Cumming and Ewing LaPorte, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of public health. The report of Assistant Surgeon General R. H. Creel, who has been in New York investigating the situation, will be considered at the conference, and it is expected that further measures to safeguard the United States will be determined.

RAILWAYS NOT CONTEMPLATING WAGE CUTTING

Chairman of Rail Chiefs Association Denies That General Reduction Is Planned.

Executives Will Meet Friday to Consider Cuts in Pay of Unskilled Laborers After Conference.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—A general reduction in wages of employes is not being considered by the Association of Railway Executives, which represents 90 percent of the trackage of the country, according to a statement issued tonight by Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the association.

Mr. Cuyler's statements came in response to reports circulated in railroad and union circles that a meeting of the railway executives which he today called for February 18, would discuss plans for a general wage reduction on all roads. Such a proposition never had come before the association or its labor committee, Mr. Cuyler said. The executives will meet February 18 to discuss means of getting the question of a revision of wages of unskilled labor legally before the board, which ruled on February 10 that it could not act on the roads plea for abrogation of the national agreement and a wage scale revision for unskilled labor which was asked because of the financial condition of the railroads.

Mr. Cuyler's statement follows in part:

"This meeting (February 18) has been called to give the executives of the railways opportunity to receive a report from its labor committee regarding developments since the last general meeting of the association was held. The subject of a general reduction of railway wages has not been considered by the association or its labor committee and will not be the subject of consideration at the meeting February 18.

"The railway labor board in its decision February 10, held it could not take any action on the labor committee's suggestion that a reduction to be made at once in the wages of unskilled labor, because conferences had not been held, and a controversy developed between the employes and the railways which would not enable the board legally to take jurisdiction of this subject. It is expected that consideration will be given at the meeting in Chicago, February 18 as to what steps should be taken by individual railways to get the question of a revision of the wages of unskilled labor properly before the board.

"The committee also will report to the association regarding the present status of the proceedings before the labor board concerning the national agreement."

In the meantime, the labor side is preparing to bring before the board cases of all roads which are alleged to have violated rulings of the board by ordering wage reductions for section hands. Among these are the Erie and the St. Louis and San Francisco. A petition is before the board charging the St. Louis Southwestern with violating the rulings of the board, but the road denied that it had cut wages.

CONCESSIONS NECESSARY FOR READJUSTMENT

would be given to the naval committee, if it desired. This officer, he added, also wrote that the United States could never be attacked only by a power or combination of powers overseas.

Defends Naval Program.

Senator Poindexter, in defending the naval committee's report supporting the capital ship building program, declared that if the United States accepted the building postponement plan, it would "become at once a defeated nation, would lose its insular possessions," and its citizens would be able to travel the seas only upon terms laid down by rival nations.

"Before sitting down with these nations at the conference table," he said, "the committee feels we should take precautions not to sit down disarmed. If the six months' suspension was adopted, we would lose, in addition, between $15,000,000 and $25,000,000."

The senator said he would like to know whether Great Britain would reduce its fleet to the present strength of the American navy and if Japan would actually stop naval construction. He asserted that the British main fleet was twice as strong as the American, and that Japan would equal the American strength within the next three or four years.

Senator Smith, democrat, Georgia, suggested that Great Britain give the United States, in payment for its war debt, half of its naval forces, so that the two powers would be equal in strength.

Neighbor's Chicks And Dog Pass Out With Erring Rats

Unofficial warning has been issued by George Thornburn, city clerk, concerning the approaching anti-rat day Feb. 22.

The sudden death of his neighbor's dog, seven prize hens and three rats as a result of a 24-hour intensive campaign at the Thorburn home is the basis for the warning. A poison recommended by a friend was the weapon used.

George is willing to concede that three rats passed off due to the poison, although he admits that many should die daily from old age judging from the number in the neighborhood.

"The poison I used may be all right if you catch the rats and give it to them," commented the city clerk in relating the incident, "but a man sure risks his standing in his neighborhood by using per directions."

Certain city officials were of the opinion that the publication of the fatal result to the neighbor's dog in the Thorburn campaign might detract from the interest in the on-coming city-wide campaign. Others were of the opinion that it would have the opposite effect.

Harding About Ready to Name Cabinet Posts

By Associated Press

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 11.—While President-elect Harding was disposing of another long list of miscellaneous appointments today, it became known that in the very near future he would begin a series of conferences calculated to bring to a head the question of cabinet selections.

The names of three of those expected here within the next few days attracted particular attention. They are Charles Evans Hughes of New York, Charles G. Dawes of Illinois, and J. D. Davis of Pennsylvania, considered for the portfolios of state, treasury and labor, respectively.

Mr. Hughes is generally conceded by those close to Mr. Harding as his choice for secretary of state, and his coming to Florida was accepted as one more indication that he will get the appointment. It is expected that at the conference, which may take place early next week, the two will discuss preliminary diplomatic steps toward formation of an association of nations.

The prospective visit of Mr. Dawes, who recently got into the limelight by a spectacular denunciation of the republican congressional committee's investigation of the conduct of the war, is more of an enigma. It was understood in December that he was foremost in Mr. Harding's mind for the treasury position, but in recent weeks the friends of other aspirants have become so active as to greatly becloud the situation.

It is understood Mr. Harding has heard flattering reports of Mr. Dawes' capability, but desired a closer personal acquaintance before reaching a decision in regard to his appointment.

Mrs. Harding, who has spent three weeks shopping and attending to other personal matters in Washington and New York, arrived tonight.

tal of only 30 measures passed finally by the house, the speaker said, and concluded by saying that it "was high time to get busy."

The senate finally passed the bill byb Senator Hertzberg of Bexar proposing to create an Americanization commission and to teach Americanism in the public schools. It also authorizes the public school authorities to co-operate with the federal government in Americanizing the foreign population of the United States. Senator Hertzberg also introduced a bill providing that the death penalty or confinement for life can be imposed upon any person convicted of kidnaping a child under the age of 17 years. At present the maximum penalty is five years.

Dudley's Bill Amended.

Senator Dudley's bill requiring livestock commission merchants to give bond of $20,000 to $50,000 and providing that all livestock transactions shall be paid for by exchange or cashier's check will be changed considerably when an amendment by Senator Williams of Wise, eliminating the remittance provision, was adopted. Senator Dudley said the amendment struck out the vital issue of the bill and he would not further press its passage and on his request it was laid on the table subject to call.

Attorney General Cureton announced today that he was preparing a bill to be presented to the legislature, giving the state depository board authority to call for state funds deposited in banks of Texas at such time as the board deems wise and proper.

The present law requires that banks which have state funds on deposit and which do not receive awards for the ensuing year must turn over this money to the state on March 1. Fearing that sudden call on many banks of the state for these funds on March 1 would create a financial stringency, Attorney General Cureton said he would draft a law that would give the board power to call for the money at any time.

The awards of state depositories, which are about to be let exclude a number of banks heretofore holding state funds, it is understood.

The attorney general is authorized to investigate certain oil companies of Texas with reference to violation of the Texas anti-trust law, according to a house concurrent resolution by Burkett of Eastland, which was adopted by both branches of the legislature late today. Representative Burkett said the investigation was to be made on account of the "sudden drop" in oil prices over the state.

Farmers Oppose Repeal of Tax On Big Profits

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 11.—Farmers of the country will oppose any attempt to repeal excess profits and income taxes, J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, told delegates to the All-American co-operative congress today.

He said that farmers of the corn belt region, including Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, were ready to donate 50,000,000 bushels of corn to starving people of China and Europe. Railroad brotherhoods, he said, have agreed to transport the grain to the seaboard free, and naval reserves have volunteered to see that the grain was delivered. It is the plan of the American farm bureau to start the movement of this gift from country stations Feb. 22.

C. C. Joins Fight Upon Unsightly Lighting Poles

A movement to request the cooperation of the city council and the Chamber of Commerce in obtaining the removal of electric light poles, reported to have been placed between the new white way system poles was launched at the weekly luncheon of the business council of the Chamber of Commerce held Friday at the Kemp hotel. The motion was carried immediately following an address by Judge A. H. Britain and was supported by Acting Mayor Curlee, A. E. Myles, B. T. Burgess and C. C. Randall.

To confer with city and Chamber of Commerce officials the following committee was appointed by J. C. Mytinger, chairman: Judge A. H. Britain, C. E. McCutcheon, C. C. Randall and J. C. Joplin.

Replying to the suggestion of Mr. Mytinger that a municipal chorus be formed for the purpose of giving concerts on Sunday, brief talks were made by J. W. Bradley, Burton Stayton, and Prof. Frederick Loew, supporting the idea. To investigate the expense incident to such a move and report at the next regular weekly luncheon the following committee was appointed: J. W. Bradley, Burton Stayton and R. E. Shepherd. Professor Loew was named to confer with the committee concerning the possibility of bringing noted singers here.

A suggestion that "A Citizen's Creed," written by Hubert Harrison, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce be adopted as the council slogan and be placed on the walls of banks and other business houses in the city was made by Chairman Mytinger.

Miss Jackson of the Business Women's club recently named as a member of the business council, was introduced by Chairman Mytinger.

Canada is preparing to take care of the meat demand by supplying something which will be in the nature of a novelty on the table. This is cattalo steaks, which are cut from an animal which is a cross between the buffalo and the cow. This meat is very desirable in every way, and the animals are being raised in great numbers in Canada.

SIMPLICITY OF HARDING'S COMING INAUGURATION TO BE MODELED AFTER THAT OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Harding's inauguration is to be modeled after that of President Lincoln in its simplicity, according to advance reports. When he is sworn in as president of the U. S. at noon on March 4th and delivers his inaugural address, it will be at the same stand which Abraham Lincoln used. The stand is now in possession of Watson S. Clark, who is a son of the architect of the Capitol building. It has been used by every president except Taft since the inauguration of Lincoln.

Plans for an elaborate inaugural, including a revival of the gorgeous inaugural ball, were well under way at the capitol when the president-elect requested Chairman Edward B. McLean of the inaugural committee to drop the plans. He explained that he much preferred a simple ceremony at the capitol. The elaborate affair planned would have cost the government over $100,000.

Claims Hoodoo Against Those Who Cop Cars

Claiming to have perfected a plan to prevent the theft of automobiles in the state of Texas, J. S. Marlow, said to be a resident of Gould, Okla., spent several hours Friday in trying to interest police officials in his plan. Late Friday afternoon, being convinced that police officials could not be interested, Marlow prepared a telegram to Governor Neff asking what the state would pay for the plan.

Marlow refused to disclose to the officers the nature of his plan other than to say that it would mean a new law for the state if approved by the governor.

He declared that he had presented the idea to a banker in his home town, who refused help.

He came here, he said, at the suggestion of the sheriff of that county, who told him that he could probably obtain aid.

COURT TO HAVE TWO WAYS OUT OF ROAD DELAY

The county commissioners court at its meeting Monday will have before it, not only the proposal by a Chamber of Commerce to cancel the contract which the firm of Potts and Prentice have with the county for building a system of good roads, but the possibility of using a sinking fund of two or three hundred thousand dollars to buy its own road bonds with and continue the present work.

The state law provides that sinking funds may be reinvested in other county improvements under certain conditions. Fifty thousand dollars of the $500,000 issue of ten-year serial bonds matured October 10, 1919 and may be retired now by the county and the money used for building more roads. Other funds, it is claimed may be used for buying the road bonds and using the money.

The committee aims to speed up the day when the improved road program of Wichita county will be realized. It is composed of J. A. Kemp, J. M. Bland, J. M. McFall, W. W. Anderson and Nat Henderson. The committee recommends cancellation of the contract on the grounds of inability of the county to sell its bonds satisfactorily.

Suspension of the contract brings up several contingencies. The clause covering that, and written into the supplemental contract with Potts and Prentice by Fred Weeks and a citizens' committee which objected last summer to the old contract, reads:

"Article 2. Suspension or discontinuing work. If, during the construction of the roads provided for in said contract, it shall appear to the county that by reason of the inability to secure materials or labor or the inability to secure transportation services, or the inability to sell the bonds at a price satisfactory to the county, it becomes necessary to suspend or permanently discontinue said road construction work, it shall have the right to do so; provided that in the event of such suspension or discontinuance of said work the county shall be bound to pay to the contractors such sums of money on account of expeditures and profits as may be fair and lawful under the original contract and this agreement, and shall either take over the contractor's equipment purchased for this work or make such other arrangements and settlements regarding said equipment as may be found fair and equitable."

The county can get materials, labor and transportation service now, engineers say. As to its inability to sell its bonds at a satisfactory price, it was pointed out that the bonds have not been advertised for sale recently. At least a million dollars of the bonds have not been printed and recorded yet.

The original contract, to which the cancellation clause is a supplement, specified that the contractors must put in at least $125,000 into a plant here for the work. The contractors have put in $128,000 in compliance with this work. Estimates as to their time, reasonable profit and other items would come up in connection with a cancellation agreement.

The contractors have recently moved their plant to the Iowa Park road, built storage bins there, an industrial railroad and other improvements. The government has agreed to pay $175,000 on the cost of this project.

The present contract is made on a sliding scale basis. Potts and Prentice estimated the work would cost $47,000 per mile on the basis asked by the county, when it took over the contracts itself. It made an agreement that if the work cost less (through reduction in materials and labor costs) that the county would get the benefit of it. The contractor gets a percentage of the saving.

The lake road, recently completed, was constructed at a cost to the county of $12,000 per mile less than the $47,000 estimate.

THINKS CITY WILL RETAIN FIRE RATING

Belief that Wichita Falls will retain her key-rate of 12 per cent for good fire record was expressed Thursday night by Fire Chief McClure when the totals for fire insurance premiums and losses for 1920 were completed in his office.

According to the figures, which were obtained from the sixteen companies operating in the city, the total premiums written in Wichita Falls amounted to $442,736.20 and losses against these premiums paid out amounted to $212,154.22. The losses were figured to be 47.47 per cent of the premiums.

The premiums written in 1919 totaled $343,878.15 with paid out losses amounting to $82,124.45, according to the reports.

Chief McClure said that it will probably be a month before information is obtained from the state fire marshall's office concerning the rates that will be set for the current year.

As evidence of the importance that citizens co-operate with fire department officials in increasing the application of fire prevention methods, Fire Chief McClure pointed out that retaining the 12 per cent reduction for good fire records means a saving of over $5,000 to Wichita Falls citizens. The amount of the reduction is set by the fire marshall and is determined from the fire records of the previous year, and increases to a limit of 15 per cent for cities maintaining a good fire record for a sufficient length of time.

ORDER NEGRESS COMMITTED TO VIRGINIA PEN

By Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 11.—Attorney General Palmer has advised that Mrs. Margaret Barrington, a negress, now serving a term in the Dane county jail for using the mails to defraud, be committed to the West Virginia penitentiary. She has been held here because of the refusal of the penitentiary at Jefferson City, Mo., to receive her infant child.

The woman's trouble started last year, when she inserted advertisements in newspapers, representing herself as a "poor young woman, aged 18, an American and Christian," who wanted to get married. She urged prospective husbands to send her money to come to them. When money was received she would tell them she was a negress.

After one suitor had divorced his white wife to marry her, she was tried in superior court for using the mails to defraud and sentenced at Superior to serve three years in prison and to pay a fine of $1,500. Her son, Kenneth, who has kept her from being received in the Missouri prison, will be 1 year old next Monday.

Refiners Here Plan to Hold Oil for Raise

Some independent refiners in this section are making arrangements to stock oil ,according to statements by a number of local oil men Thursday.

Buying for this purpose is not expected to start until it is apparent that the bottom has been reached, they say, but, when this is apparent, a brisk demand from this source is anticipated by some operators. The independents will stock the cheap oil, believing that if such a course is a good thing for the great combinations, it will be a good thing for them.

This will be done on the assumption that the seasonal increase in demand, with the coming of spring and summer, will bring the price of crude to high levels around those attained last summer. It was pointed out that the price of crude last year did not reach its peak levels until it felt the impulse o fthe spring and summer consumption of products .

Entry of the independents into the market is expected to bring a revival in the demand for crude ,and to stiffen the price, since it is the competition of the independents which forces up the market for crude, and it is the absence of their buying, in the slack demand seasons, which enables the larger companies to drop the prices.

Should the expected lowering of prices of oil products fail to materialize quickly, the revival of demand from the independents is expected to be unsually sharp. Present refined product prices, wholesale, give the refiner $3.10 of products per barrel of crude refined, according to figures of one local oil man. The refiner is at an expense of about 60 cents to refine each barrel, giving the independent refiner, for the first time in months, a comfortable margin to work on.

With the big companies, which handle their products from purchase of the crude to the retailing of the same, the present retail gasoline price will give a return of $3.80 on the gasoline alone obtained from refining one barrel of Burkburnett crude, leaving the other profit a clear profit over the cost of the crude.

A number of independent purchasers here have increased their runs since the rule of the pipe line companies of paying for only half of the runs. One local agency reports itself able to dispose of all the oil it can get at the market prices.

One of the reasons for the slacking of the demand for the independents, and the inability of some of the smaller ones to stock in the winter season, and bolster the market, given by a local oil man, is in the premiums these independents were forced to pay for their crude during the busy season, this margin weakening them to the extent that they were not able to stock a considerable quantity of oil when the market needed this buying power most.

COMMITTEE TO CONTROL CITY PARKS

Employment of a city forester, and the turning over of the supervision of the park work for this year to the Chamber of Commerce Parks and Playgrounds Bureau, under the direction of R. O. Harvey, chairman, were decided upon Friday afternoon at a joint meeting of the City Park board and the Chamber of Commerce bureau.

The adoption and carrying out of a comprehensive city beautification plan with the park work, is a part of the program mapped out.

The putting of the park and playground program in the hands of the Chamber of Commerce bureau, who will handle it with a special organization as the street lighting situation was handled, was suggested by M. O. McDowell, city commissioner, under whose jurisdiction this work falls.

A field man will be employed at once to have personal supervision of the work, and the members of the Chamber of Commerce bureau have agreed to devote their time to pushing the work, it was announced at the meeting. This movement, those present explained, was due to the lateness of the season, and the necessity for an intensive campaign with a large number of workers to call on, if the park program is to be carried out this year.

Parts of the city to secure attention, it was indicated in the superficial sketching of plans at this meeting, are the Scotland park, the park at Tenth and Buchanan, and the parking in the middle of the upper part of Ninth street. Scotland park as a piece of ground which should be improved was particularly mentioned by Dr. J. F. Reed, chairman of the city park board, who alone of the board has been giving attention to the work. Recommendation for the appointment of a city forester, which the city council is prepared to do, members of that body present indicate, was made at the instance of Mrs. J. A. Kemp.

"The only way we can ever beautify our city is in working with the advice and under the direction of an official of this kind who really knows his business," she said.

"This is the only way we can get trees and shrubs properly planted have the parks systematically looked after, and effectively fight the pests which endanger the trees and shrubs already planted."

"You might as well make up your minds to this," she added, laughingly. "I am not going to stop until such a man is secured. I have been talking this for a long while, just like I talked about a city plan for ten years until we got it."

If the recommendation of the two boards is approved by the council, as expected, the forester will be appointed right away.

Those present at the afternoon meeting included:

City Park board: Dr. J. F. Reed, chairman; Mrs. J. A. Kemp, John W. Bradley and John Young and George Thorburn, city clerk.

Chamber of Commerce bureau: W. S. Curlee, M. J. Basham, M. O. McDowell, Mrs. Kemp, Mrs. J. E. Sharpe, John W. Bradley, Lee Clark, Hubert Harrison and E. E. Belcher.

LANDIS FLAYS BANKERS FOR SMALL SALARY

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—After pleading guilty to embezzling $96,500 from the National City Bank of Ottawa, Illinois, Francis J. Carey, former receiving teller of the bank today was released on his own recognizance by Federal Judge Landis pending sentence at a later date.

Judge Landis severely criticized officials of the bank for the small salary paid to Carey who said he received but $90 a month.

"You were not getting any more than the elevator operators in the federal building and they are notoriously underpaid," Judge Landis said. "This man handled $25,000 to $30,000 a day. It was a daily invitation to him."

During the war Harry Tiemann, of the forests products laboratory at Madison, Wis., completely revolutionized the lumber-drying process. As a result of his experiments he found a way to dry black walnut in sixty days, oak which ordinarily needed three to five years of seasoning in ninety days, and material for airplanes in from twenty-four to thirty days, instead of a year or more.

REDUCTIONS IN WAGES.

Announcement was recently made by local contractors, following their conference upon the question of possible reduction of wages paid the building trades here, that the local wage scale for such workers "must be readjusted downward." The architects here at the same time estimated that from $750,000 to $1,000,000 of contemplated building is being suspended pending an expected revision of labor costs locally.

The only spokesman for organized labor who gave a statement denied that Wichita Falls living costs have been reduced sufficiently to permit wage reduction now. He added that the contractors, however, would find the building trades ready to confer with them and to listen with reason.

It is highly probable that the question of wage reduction will center around the degree in which rents and necessities of life in this city have been lowered. The contractors insist that this degree is large; labor minimizes its extent. There is no doubt but that living costs have been reduced some. Government quotations as to the nation at large and local instances of a similar nature could be adduced without end to support this statement. But how much?

The nation, state and city have been going through a period of readjustment recently from a war-time day of high prices and dollars that bought less than ever before. Reductions in clothes and food came first. It is almost inevitable that if these reductions are maintained some parallel cuts in labor salaries must follow.

In one case after another wage scale reductions have been made recently. In a number of isolated instances, two here, labor was either the leader or the "inspirer" in such reductions. Associated Press reports bring account daily of a half dozen or more such slices.

Some economists and authoritative business writers agree in the belief that the period of wage reductions is near its end. Others deny it.

In this day of division of industry, the manufacture of pins, for instance, being split up into many specialized operations, labor costs are a specific and large part of the cost of any article of value. Tracing materials from the time they leave the earth in crude form through the multitudinous operations by which they travel before they reach the ultimate consumer in a useful form, labor costs amount to an average of probably eighty to ninety per cent of the entire selling price.

In other words, value is largely measured in terms of labor. If the ultimate value of an article on the market is reduced, then there is less money to divide among the laborers contributing to its final perfection.

Working on this principle, either wage reductions of some kind are inevitable here, as elsewhere, or inquiry will establish that profiteering beyond the cost of the materials plus labor in articles sold has been rampant to an astounding degree.

SCHOOLS AND MOVIES.

In the discussion of the proposed movie censorship ordinance before the council judiciary committee, Attorney T. D. Hurley, chairman of the censorship commission, said that in a recent test of the power of the movies some school children were shown a slide of "The Last Supper." None of the children recognized it. Slides of famous Americans followed. A few children recognized Washington,'s picture.

None recognized Jefferson or Marshall. The riot came when Doug, Mary and Charlie were shown. What is the inference? Is it that the movies, which are primarily for entertainment, are responsible for the education of Chicago school children.

If that is so we are wasting a lot of money on the schools.—Chicago Tribune (Ind. Rep.)

MOTORIZED BABIES.

The child of the fairy tales who was born into the world with a silver spoon in its mouth will have nothing "on" the American baby-to-be, if the baby carriage manufacturers, convening recently in Chicago, have their way. No silver spoons are to be provided by the makers of perambulators and go-carts, but they do propose to inaugurate the "landaulet grand" which, from all accounts will make the silver spoon appear a poor bit of metal, indeed.

The landaulet grand is simply the motorizing of the baby carriage, accompanied by all the accessories and improvements of the six-cylinder limousine. The pressure of a button will drive it, a rod will steer it; there will be another button for raising or lowering the hood, a place for milk bottle, for picture books and other luxuries the infant monarch may demand.

Verily the baby carriage manufacturers are thorough Americans, not only in their obvious confidence that no race suicide is to sap the nation's strength, but in their efforts to so arrange matters that young America will be cradled in an atmosphere of speed and comfort in infancy and be used to automobiling from the time he can say "daddy."

THE LABOR BOARD'S NEW PROBLEM

With the railroad executives' demands for release from their wage agreements and the Union heads' assurance that they will fight any attempt to cut down pay, the Labor Board has a problem before it which the press of the country seems to think may produce another crisis. While a number of writers apparently believe that the drop in the cost of living has been sufficient to justify reduced wages for the railroad men, many think that trouble lies not in too high wages but in the fact as stated by the Railway Age that the railroads "are being compelled to pay employees in the shops many millions of dollars annually for work which is not done." That, whatever be the trouble with transportation, the employees must not be allowed to suffer, is an opinion voiced by at least a few newspapers.

Among these is the Cleveland Plain Dealer (Ind. Dem.) which considers it "doubtful if anything like a general and arbitrary railway wage reduction could be justified at the present time. The railroad men were among the last to receive the wage advances to compensate for the great increase in living cost." The St. Louis Star (Ind.) points out:

"A downward revision cannot safely mean the beating down of wages beyond the level of a good livelihood but should be a readjustment to meet the plainly recognizable change in living costs."

Some relief could be afforded the public in the high rates for freight and passenger traffic, the Memphis News Scimitar (Ind.) believes, "without entailing a reduction in wages" and the New York Globe (Ind.) while it admits that the theory is "in a sense revolutionary," yet "one of the revolutionary measures which prevents revolution," declares:

"To reduce this (wage) rate while prices are still high above the pre-war level, will work as serious a hardship on multitudes of employees as high freight rates and passenger tariff do on shippers and passengers. Solvency for workmen is just as desirable as solvency for railroads or private businesses!"

The San Francisco Chronicle (Ind.) hopes "no wage reduction may be necessary for the present, but if the roads have not the business they must reduce their forces." The Fargo Courier News (Non. Part. League), however, asserts that no "immediate crisis confronts the railroads" but they are simply trying to do away with the Esch-Cummings Labor Board "as a preliminary to a general open shop fight on all railroad labor." While the New York Post (Ind.) makes no such accusations it does go so far as to say that "it is an open question whether conditions are so desperate as to justify the abandonment of the method of inquiry and negotiation for the method of conflict."

There is a general call for "a show down" from supporters of both sides of the controversy. Labor, official organ of the Plumb Plan League, declares that "the people are entitled to know all the facts" which the Interstate Commerce Commission can easily obtain for them. If this is done the Chicago Tribune (Ind. Rep.) believes "the air will quickly clear and wrongs will be righted." The Milwaukee Journal (Ind.) thinks the railroad heads could give the public some information if they would:

"The honest belief of the railroad executives is that the public can't understand their business. But since the executives can't run the business it is time the public began to learn. And the best little trick the managers could take today would be to turn the cards face up."

Some writers feel that the agreements which the railroads have asked to have cancelled have outgrown their practicability. It is not simply a question of wages, the New York Times (Ind. Dem.) explains, but whether "the wage fund is being administered as economically as the rate fund under private management with public fixing of rates" and "the roads are not disputing about the rate of pay, but about the work given for the pay."

After citing as an example how the roads are forced to pay for a minimum number of hours no matter how short a time a job might take the Boston Herald (Ind. Rep.) remarks that "it is not strange that the railroads wish to be released from the 'national agreements' which under changed conditions and individual control would handicap the roads." The Grand Rapids Press (Ind.) considers it "inevitable that the railroads should demand release from these temporary agreements."

And then he asked loudly of the man jammed against him, "Where is dis train goin'?"

Though the William Cullen Bryants

Their removal will reduce the price

It is not announced who will touch the thing off, but probably the job will be awarded to somebody who is paying for something on the installment plan and is not particular about his future. We would advise whoever does it not to stand right up near the rocket and touch a match to it, but to get a long bamboo fishpole for the purpose. After he touched the thing off, with the aid of the fishpole, he can jump on a motorcycle and may get a safe distance away in time to save his eyebrows and part of his hair. We don't know what good it is going to do to slap the moon in the face with a rocket, but we don't know what good a lot of other new-fangled ideas are doing, so let's go ahead and shoot. We have, during the past four or five years, antagonized every nation on earth, and we might as well go ahead and poke at the planets and satellites, just to show them we are the people.

"THE CALL OF THE WILD"

RUSSIA WILL HAVE NOTHING FOR EXPORTS

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Russia has become so demoralized industrially and economically under the Bolsheviki that it would have practically nothing to export even if the nations of the world resumed trade relations with her, A. W. Kliefoth, a state department economist on Russia, declared today before the house foreign affairs committee.

Mr. Kliefoth said there was no surplus of grain, timber, hides, flax, furs or any of the other commodities that normally constitute the bulk of the Russian export trade. He added that the platinum mining industry "under the spoilation of industry" had become almost non-existent and that no stocks were known to exist in Russia.

"The devastation of industry in Russia," Mr. Kliefoth said, "is so terrific, the economic poverty of the country is so complete, the people are so hungry and the demand for commodities so great that at present Russia represents a gigantic economic vacuum with no prospect of alleviation under the present political and economic conditions."

FLOW OF IBEX WELL RAISED TO 580 BBLS.

BY HAMILTON WRIGHT,
Record News Staff Correspondent.

STAMFORD, Texas, Feb. 11.—The flow of the Ibex well on the ranch of William Poindexter, 42 miles southeast of Stamford, which was shot Tuesday afternoon and shot oil 100 feet over the derrick and began to make 400 barrels, had increased to 580 barrels this afternoon, according to a telephone message received by R. V. Colbert, local banker. The country for a block about is sprinkled with oil that was thrown up by the gas pressure.

The well is known as the Ibex. The company owning it paid $30,000 cash, including leases on adjacent Poindexter land, for 4,400 acres.

Immediately after the well was shot and began producing, Mr. Colvert went to the scene and was a beholder of the miracle which gives Shackelford county a real producer.

The advent of this well is stimulating interest in the drilling of the Weart-York well on the Colvert ranch, four miles east of Stamford, which has reached a depth of 2,200 feet. The drilling company is the Texas Venture, owned by Canadian capitalists. One of the owners is driller and the other financing the project. It owns 10,000 acres in leases here. It is the opinion of Mr. Colvert that oil in paying quantities will be found in this well when it reaches the 3,000-foot sand. This well is situated about 40 miles from the Ibex, on a structure similar in shape and appearance. It is understood that the Texas Cushing Proctor No. 1, 22 miles southeast of Stamford, only half way between here and the new Ibex well, is cementing the bore of its well where a shot was administered about two weeks ago and a gas pressure developed. It is believed that this will be a well. It went to a total depth of about 5,000 feet, getting several minor sands.

Stamford today was agog over prospects in its territory with the announcement of the oil discovery in Shackelford county. It has stimulated persons to visit the Weart-York well daily. In about a hundred yards of the latter test a well which was drilled several years ago found oil in commercial quantities at 1,000 feet, but it was ruined because of caving in of a part of the bore unprotected with casing.

R. V. Colvert, one of the best known bankers in the West, expressed his belief that Stamford soon would become the next oil field center. Many Stamford people are visiting the new well in the neighborhood of Albany.

OLYMPIC

In the George Melford Paramount production of "The Jucklins," a picturization of Opie Read's familiar Southern novel of the same title Monte Blue and Mabel Julienne Scott have the leading roles. The picture, said to be one of the most thrilling thus far produced by Mr. Melford, will be shown at the Olympic theater next Monday.

Mr. Blue is a school teacher in the mountains of North Carolina and he falls in love with Guinea Jucklin, the part portrayed by Miss Scott. A dramatic story then develops which is interpreted by Miss Scott. A dramatic story then develops which is interpreted by an excellent coterie of players. The photography by Paul Perry is unusually effective.

A clock that really "tells" the time was invented some time ago by W. Hartman, a New York man. He built this timepiece seven years ago, and he has had it in use ever since to determine the staying qualities of its construction. The clock in question speaks every fifteen minutes, announcing the correct time. The voice record is carried on a band of film, which is perforated in much the same manner as the standard motion picture film. A conventional phonograph reproducer is used to translate the latent sound record into actual sounds. Pressing a button causes the clock to repeat the time, while another button keeps it silent.

COUNTRY STILL ADDS TO HONORS PAID MEMORY OF NATION'S EMANCIPATOR

Above, Abraham Lincoln and monument recently erected to Ann Rutledge, his one-time sweetheart. Below, maple tree at Augusta, Me., planted in his honor the day he died, and wedge used by Lincoln when splitting rails, now in National Museum.

Worshiped from the day he became the nation's chief executive, the country's love for Abraham Lincoln continues to grow and now, fifty-six years after his death, new steps are being taken to further perpetuate his memory. Among the recent interesting additions to the reminders of Lincoln's greatness are a tombstone erected to the memory of his one-time sweetheart, Ann Rutledge, over her grave in Oakland cemetery, south of Petersburg, Ills., and the contribution to the National Museum collection of a wedge used by Lincoln in his rail-splitting days.

Several movements have been made previously to this time to erect a monument to Ann Rutledge. The funds for the erection of the monument were given by members of the families of descendants of the people who were intimately acquainted with the great emancipator. A verse from Edgar Lee Masters' poem, "Ann Rutledge," is inscribed on the monument.

An historic maple tree at Augusta, Maine, has been given a place in the Hall of Fame, for trees. A list of the trees eligible for a place in the Hall of Fame is being compiled by the American Forestry Association. Mrs. Ruben Partridge planted the tree in memory of Abraham Lincoln on the day he died, April 15, 1865.

The relic of the rail-splitting days of Lincoln, presented to the museum is a wedge on which the initials A. L. are carved. The wedge and the initials have been proved authentic by the museum officials and so it has been added to the already valuable Lincoln collection.

ANTI CIGARETTE BILL KILLED IN ARKANSAS

By Associated Press

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 11.—The house this afternoon passed by a vote of 46 to 37 a senate bill repealing the anti-cigarette law of Arkansas. The bill now goes to the governor for his signature.

The repeal measure provides for the sale of cigarettes except to minors and for licensing dealers.

The principal argument advanced for the bill was that the present law, passed several years ago and prohibiting the sale or giving away of cigarettes in the state was not being enforced and that reputable dealers were put in the position of "bootlegging" them.

CLEAN WICHITA SOUGHT BEFORE RODENTS SLAIN

Mayor Cline will be asked to issue a mandate requiring all citizens of Wichita Falls to clean up their premises during the week ending February 19, and block captains and district supervisors to pass out literature will be appointed at a special meeting of the rat extermination central committee to be held Monday afternoon, according to decisions reached at the special meeting of the committee held Thursday afternoon.

A committee, composed of J. C. Hunt, Dr. A. H. Douglass and Dr. M. M. Walker, was authorized to purchase 5,000 rat traps and a quantity of barium carbonate, to be used in fighting the rats. The barium carbonate was recommended by Dr. Douglass as deadly to the rats, and harmless to children. Also, according to Dr. Douglass, chickens, pet dogs and cats suffer no injury from eating the dead rats killed by barium carbonate, as is the case when many other poisons are used.

The traps which the committee ordered purchased are made of a flat piece of wood and a heavy spring trip. The committee estimated that traps should not cost more than 10 to 15 cents each, and plans to sell them to citizen at cost to the Chamber of Commerce in wholesale quantities.

Approximately $1,200 will be required to finance the campaign, according to the estimation of the committee. It was voted to raise the money by popular subscription.

A report of Mr. Chatham, obtained at the Austin conference, showed that citizens in Williamson county had conducted a 30-day campaign, during which 57,200 rats were killed at a total cost of $600.

Among the first steps to be taken in giving due publicity to the campaign, Superintendent Lee Clark announced that he would have special talks given in every school room in the city next Monday. It was also planned to request the aid of Boy Scouts, who already have indicated their willingness to co-operate, and to send representatives to the surrounding towns and communities and effect organizations over the entire county.

To serve on the finance committee and conduct a campaign to raise funds to carry on the fight the following were appointed: J. M. McFall, chairman; P. H. Simmons, T. A. Bergin and William Viner.

Members of the central committee request that representatives of all civic bodies attend the special meeting Monday afternoon, to assist in chosing block and district leaders.

PUGS JOIN PROMOTERS WITH OFFERS OF SHOW-ME BOUTS TO PUT BOXING BILL BY SOLONS

Not only are boxing promoters interested in the passage of the legalized boxing bill before the Texas legislature now, but boxers as well are offering their services to prove to the solons that boxing bouts should be made legal in this state. With the offer of C. A. Jones, a Dallas promotor, to put on a bout between Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, and Harry Greb, a full-fledged light-heavyweight, and the latest offer by Bobby Burns, a bantam, and Mickey Riley, a lightweight, to box a number of rounds before the lawmakers, the situation is becoming laughable.

While the passing of a bill to legalize the game in Texas would do wonders for the entertainment of fans, provided a proper commission was formed to correspond with commissions in other states, it seem ridiculous to believe that the spectacle of a couple of exponents of the art of self-defense could or would influence the solons to cast their votes in the affirmative.

Speaking of Bobby Burns and Mickey Riley, both have a fair record during the war, entertaining and instructing the soldiers who later went overseas. Riley claims to have entertained over 200,000 soldiers during the time of hostilities, while Burns is known to have been a boxing instructor in several of the Southern camps. Burns is a married man and was not called for active service. He was assistant boxing instructor under Johnny Coulan, ex-bantamweight champion at Camp Gordon, and was afterwards promoted to boxing instructor, touring several of the Mexican border camps.

Solons Money "No Good."

The two offer to box before the legislature absolutely gratis, just to show the law makers that boxing is a good clean sport. Boxing is that, and more, as was shown by the records of the army, but it is doubtful whether the state officials will see the intricate problems of promotion by watching a couple of boxers performing for a couple of rounds.

Boiled down, the situation amounts to this:

Boxing is a clean sport if conducted clean by the promoters. Boxers will not be crooked if the promoters are not. All bills that have passed the legislatures of the various states that now have legalized boxing, were aimed at the crooked promoters.

With honest promoters, properly licensed and controlled by a commission appointed by the governor, boxers will be prevented from framing bouts, one of the causes of the game losing its popularity in many states. Most assuredly should Texas have boxing, but the holding of a bout or a series of bouts before the legislature is not going to influence the passage of the bill.

West Texas League Rosy.

All clubs in the West Texas league report they have their players signed and that the outlook for the 1921 season is exceptionally bright. The training season commences March 15 and ends April 1.

The league will be made up of the same teams as in 1921 with the exception of Eastland. San Angelo has asked for the franchise left vacant by the withdrawal of Eastland. This matter will be taken up at the league meeting at Cisco Sunday. The schedule for the coming campaign will also be drawn up at this meeting.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the Mineral Wells club, John E. Robertson was elected president, succeeding I. L. Sabloskey; Gabe Thomas was named vice president, and W. T. Tygrett, secretary and treasurer. The fans and the members of the club regretted the resignation of I. L. Sabloskey, who gave as his reason for stepping down from the presidency of the club, the press of private business matters.

Roy Brashear has been signed as manager of the Mineral Wells team. He comes highly recommended, having managed the Dallas team in the Texas league the latter part of the 1921 season. Brashear will have a good bunch of material to work with this season and ought to bring the team somewhere near the top.

Pick Red Keystone Sacker.

President Herman of the Cincinnati Nationals has set at rest all speculation as to what player will be at second base for the Reds this season by announcing that the job will go to Sam Bohne, who was obtained from the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league for a big wad of money and a couple of players.

Ty Cobb's Rules.

Here is a list of the rules laid down by Ty Cobb, the new manager of the Tigers, to be followed by the players of his team this year.

Spring playing to benefit players—not pocketbooks.

More rope for base runners.

Win today's game.

Less attention to cards and dice.

Thinking baseball off the diamond as well as on it.

Fighting until the last man is out.

Speed—always more speed.

If every club in the country would follow this same set of rules there would be a return of the old rivalry, the old pep and scrap that characterized baseball a decade ago.

Turner Joins Semi-Pros.

Terry Turner, who for 15 seasons [illegible] Cleveland uniform, quitting the team in the middle of the 1919 campaign, intends to play semi-pro ball in Cleveland this summer. Terry has refused offers to manage the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league, the Charleston team of the South Atlantic league and the aggregation representing Ludington in the Central league.

Quit "Selling" Players.

As a warning to all sport writers in minor league towns and cities, the National association issues the following statement:

"Ball players are no longer bought and sold in the minor leagues and up-to-date sport writers will refrain from speaking of such a thing. Hereafter a minor league club will not "sell" a player to another club. Instead it will "assign his contract," which is the correct way of putting it after all, for that is just what a "sale" amounts to. Secretary Farrell in his latest bulletin of minor league contracts, signed, transfers, releases, etc., makes use of the new term and club magnates in refering to deals they expect to make are expected to fall into line."

Secretary Farrell in his bulletin notifies clubs that all players must sign the new form of contract, even though they have signed the old form for 1921. The new style contracts, as was announced a few days ago, have been issued to all minor leagues and the old forms are to be discarded.

Postoffice Five Swamps Junior Hi

Playing a rough but snappy game, the Postoffice basket ball team swamped the Junior High school aggregation by the score of 44 to 13, Friday afternoon on the High School court.

O. Faichney of the P. O. outfit and Ray of the J. H. S., were the scoring stars of the game for their teams, the former caging 12 baskets and the latter 3. Bennett, forward for the mail team, aliped five two-point counters through the net, while his teammate gathered four field goals. Never during the entire game did the Junior High team threaten to forge ahead in the scoring, the postoffice boys dropping baskets almost at will.

The lineup:

J. H. S.	Pos.	P. O.
McKeekney	F	Bennett
Ray	F	Greene
West	C	Faichney
Broshear	G	Neale
Howell	G	Gordon
Hirchi	Sub	Coffee

Field goals: Bennett 5, Faichney 12, Neale 1, Gordon 4, Ray 3, McKickney 1, West 1. Foul goals: Ray 4. Time of halves, 20 minutes. Referee, Glass.

SALT LAKE CLUB OPPOSED TO NEW DRAFT AGREEMENT

Charlie Jamieson.

Charlie Jamieson, one of the members of the world's champion Indians, has just celebrated his twenty-eighth birthday. And the folk who greeted him that day wished him many happy returns of the day. Charles wouldn't mind many happy returns of the whole dinged year just passed. It treated him pretty fairly. In addition to proving a star in left field for the Tribe and helping them win the two flags, he climbed into the .300 batting class for his second consecutive year. This ought to interest Connie Mack. For Jamie's poor hitting was one of the things that caused Mack to send him to Cleveland, along with Gardner in the deal that sent the much-traded Bobby Roth to Philadelphia.

In 1919—his first year with the Tribe—he hit .353 while playing intermittently. Last year he batted .319 while alternating with Joey Evans in the outfield. These two marks gave Charlie a grand average of .259 for his big league career that started in 1915. He was bought by Washington that fall from the Buffalo International league club.

Jamie was born in Paterson, N. J., February 7, 1893. He made his debut as a pitcher with the Buffalo club in 1912. Wallie Schang was the first receiver to catch him. Jamie could hit then and the club bosses decide to convert him into an outfielder.

ADAMS DIVIDES HONORS AT GUN CLUB WITH NABB

J. L. Nabb and Paul Adams tied for high gun both in singlec and doubles at the regular weekly shoot of the Wichita Gun Club Friday afternoon. Both Nabb and Adams broke 45 out of a possible 50 in the singles and 20 out of 25 sprung in the doubles. J. L. Henew, a representative of the Savage Arms Corporation who is a visitor in the city, placed third in the singles, tieing with G. Simons at 43. C. J. Pate, vice-president of the club, finished second, smashing 44.

After the shoot the club held its regular annual meeting to elect officers for 1921 and to map out a campaign for new members. W. Daniels was elected president, C. J. Pate retained his old job as vice president, while J. L. Little received enough votes to be elected secretary. J. I. Nabb was elected field captain for the year.

The club intends to put on a vigorous campaign for new members and with this in view, eleven teams were appointed to canvass all the local nimrods. C. J. Pate will command team No. 1; C. B. Wood, No. 2; R. O. Harvey, No. 3; R. A. Painter, No. 4; W. Daniel, No. 5; W. M. Maer, No. 6; L. H. Little, No. 7; J. L. Nabb, No. 8; Charles Greenberg, No. 9; A. G. Detherage, No. 10 and Bert Koken, No. 11. These teams will endeavor to increase the present membership by one hundred new members.

Scores in Friday's shoot follows:

RUTH FIRST TO SIGN CONTRACT

Although a contract jumper last season, "Babe" Ruth is the first to sign a 1921 contract, Kitchens and Jake Miller have both put their "John Hancocks" along the dotted line, but when they arrive here will have to sign up again owing to the new contracts issued by the National association a few days ago.

Eleven contracts were sent out by J. Will Gray, secretary of the Spudders, Monday morning and Ruth's is the first one to return, signed or unsigned.

ALL KICK.

A Prohibitionist of fame
Gazed, scornful, at a mule—
Quoth he: "We see before us now
A rusty, long-eared fool.
Yet, give him credit, for the beast
Cares not for rum nor ale—
He only cares to browse and drowse
And switch his scrubby tail!"
Just then the mule awoke. He sighed,
Then, faster than a flash,
There came a whizz of hinder heels,
A gurgle, and a crash!
They bore the Prohibitionist
To shelter and a bed,
Where tender nurses, anxiously,
Layed water on his head.
Quoth he; "That mule must go to jail—
For, with fierce, ill intent,
He has a kick round either hip

Some day, an animal trainer will keep a chimpanzee alive for sufficient years to prove just how far these monkeys can advance in education. It is admitted that a two-year-old chimpanzee knows more than a five-year-old child, and that a six-year-old chimpanzee knows more than a twelve year-old boy, but no captive chimpanzee has ever lived long enough to show how much he'd know at the age of 21. If they could only be kept in good health, we might improve things by electing chimpanzees to Congress.

It will be twenty-eight years next month since the two pitchers were set back to the sixty-foot limit, and also compelled to keep on a slab instead of ranging around.

THEY GO TO A PARTY
(A Twin Bed Lecture.)

Mr. and Mrs. Doveleigh go to a party and an enjoyable time is had by all, especially Mr. Doveleigh. In fact Mrs. Doveleigh thinks he had too much fun entirely.

I thought I'd never get you home tonight. Didn't you see me winking at you? But no, I suppose you were too busy looking at the blonde to notice me. Who was she anyway? Did you know her before? It seems to me you were pretty intimate to have met for the first time? No wonder I could hardly get you home. I kept hinting and hinting but you were unconscious except when that blonde spoke to you. Didn't you see me winking at you to start home? I thought you was squinting.

You thought I was squinting, did you? But you didn't think the blonde was squinting did you? Of course not. Anything anybody else does is all right. It's your wife who is all wrong. I suppose you would have had a much better time if you had gone alone. Oh, no, I wouldn't. Oh, yes you would. That's just your hypocrisy speaking. You think you can pull the wool over my eyes but you can't. I'm wise to you. But I should think you'd have more respect for your wife than to take her to a party and then neglect her for the first woman you met there. Oh, don't think I was the only one who noticed it. That last time you picked up her spoon when she dropped it Hrs. Morgan winked at me as much as to say, "See what a flirt your husband is!" I had to be polite.

You did, eh? Since when? I could drop a whole set of dishes here at home and you wouldn't bend your back to help me. When I drop anything around the house it lays there until I pick it up. You have to be polite, eh? Then why not be polite at home. Why save it all up until you go out? Politeness begins at home with your own wife. Remember that. All right, dear.

Don't dear me! After you have made my whole evening miserable by humiliating me before all those people. I should think you'd be ashamed to look me in the eye. And then you say "all right, dear" as if nothing happened. Trying to soft soap me. Why don't you be nice to me when we're out. Did you see the way Mr. Morgan hung around his wife all evening? Did you see how sweet he was to her? He hardly left her all evening, he was so devoted. What did you think of them, eh? I thought they were a couple of NUTS. Oh you did, did you? Just because he treated his wife nicely you thought he was crazy. I didn't say that. What if you didn't? You meant it. Well you are not going to get the chance to neglect me again. Not if I know it. I'm not going to any more parties with you. Good! Did you say: "Good?" Well, just for that I'll go to everyone with you. Good. Huh, you think you're smart, but you're not smart enough to know when you are being made a fool of by some blonde. Don't think I was the only one who noticed, either. Mrs. Mason says to, she says———

Harmony and Brevity Mark League Meet

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 11.—Harmony and brevity marked the annual meeting of the American league here today, all of the clubs being represented except New York.

The club owners voted down the rule recommended by the New National baseball council that 25 per cent of the clubs' shares of receipts in cities sharing in post season series be paid into the league treasury and adopted a rule that 15 per cent go to the funds of the new commission instead of 10 per cent as formerly.

The rule governing sending of first years players to the minor leagues was amended to make the number unlimited. Such first year men, however, cannot be "selected" or drafted players. Formerly the limit was four. The limit also was removed from the number of players to farm out, the previous limit being eight.

Another rule amended permits players who have been in the major leagues for 10 consecutive seasons to demand unconditional release after waivers have been served. Under the former rule a club could claim him within 10 days after the waiver period.

No trades were reported.

FOUR OLD FACES WILL BE ABSENT WHEN CUBS BEGIN TRAINING IN CALIFORNIA

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Four old faces will be missing at the Chicago National League club's training camp in Pasadena, Calif., this spring, when Manager Johnny Evers gathers his athletes around him to prepare them for the 1921 pennant race. The quartette is composed of Charles "Buck" Herzog, Dode Pasket, Fred Merkle and Claude Hendrix. Herzog, Merkle and Hendrix were given unconditional releases, while Pasket went to Cincinnati National via the waiver route.

Manager Evers has a number of promisng youngsters on his roster who are expected to make the veterans hustle to retain their positions, as the new manager is determined to put "pep" into the club.

There will be thirty-nine players in camp besides the manager when the Cubs start training on March 7. The vanguard, consisting of seventeen pitchers and four catchers, are scheduled to arrive in Pasadena about February 27 and will train for a week before the remainder of the club arrives on March 6.

The players who make up the advance squad will be in charge of Manager Evers, and will leave Chicago February 24. Several members of the battery force will join the party enroute.

Oscar L. Fuhr, whose home is in the west, will join the party at Kansas City, with Virgil E. Cheeves.

Five For First

There will be five candidates for the position of first base which formerly was held by Fred Merkle. They are Tom Daly, Tom Whelan, Turner Barbee, Al Young and Ray Grimes. Whelan and Grimes are said by some critics to have the best chance to land the berth.

Most of the members of the Cub's pitching staff are six footers. Jim Vaughn, the southpaw, is the tallest of the lot. He is 6 feet, 4 inches tall. Nick Carter is an inch shorter.

The members of the pitching staff on the Cub roster giving their height and where they played last season follows:

G. C. Alexander, 6-1 (R) Chicago.
James L. Vaughn, 6-4 (L) Chicago
Geo. A. Tyler, 6 (L) Chicago.
Elwood G. Martin, 6 (R) Chicago
A. L. Bailey, 6 (R) Chicago.
Nick Carter, 6-3 (R) Chicago.
Virgil E. Cheeves, 6 (R) Eastland.
Oscar L. Fuhr, 6½ (L) Omaha.
James A. Coble, 6-1 (R) Amateur.
James D. Kenny, 6 (R) Semi-pro.
Joseph Jaeger, 6-1, (R) Army.
James E. York, 5-10 (L) Chattanooga.
Alex V. Freeman, 5-10 (L) Beaumont.
Percy Lee Jones, 5-11 (L) Eastland, Texas.
Earl S. Hanson, 5-11 (R) Peoria.

Five of the pitchers are veterans, while the others joined the club late last season. ½

Dozen For Infield

A dozen candidates are in the field for berths on the infield. Charley Deal, the veteran third baseman, will have to battle with Johnny Kelliher, Don Martin Brown, Earl Marriott and Barney Friberg for the position at the far corner of the diamond. Hollocher and Zeb Terry will probably hold down short stop and second base respectively.

The players from whom the infield will be chosen, follow: Charles Deal, Charles Hollocher, Bernard A. Friberg, William Earl Marriott, joined late in the season last year, Martin A. Bardo, a semi pro, Don aMrtin Brown, purchased from Springfield, Mo., Thomas Whelan, amateur from Lynn, Mass., Alfred J. Young, a semi pro, Zebalon A. Terry, Turner Barber, Oscar Ray Grimes, purchased from Bridgeport, Harold L. Leathers, joined the club last season.

The three veteran outfielders, Max Flack, Davis Robertson and Clarence E. Twombly, will have a trio of promising aspirants trying for their position in George Maisel, who was purchased from Portland; Joseph Letter, who was recalled from Kansas City and John J. St. Angelo a Boston semi-pro.

There are three veterans in the catching department, Will Killifer, topping the list. Robert J. O'Ferrell, who took up the catching job when Killifer was injured last season, is going to try to become a regular. Tom Daly, another veteran catcher, also will try for the catching job or first base. Everett F. Gomes, purchased from the Springfield, Mo., club, is the fourth member of the catching corps.

Ten Pitchers

The pitching staff is composed of ten right handed pitchers, James Kenny, a semi-pro who was recommended to the club by Grover Cleveland Alexander, who pitched against him in France. Alexander had a hard time defeating Kenny, 1 to 0 in a 12-inning pitching duel.

Coble, a right hander, established a reputation as an amateur in Charleston, Ill. Yeayer, another right hander, was at Fort Sheridan, last year.

York is a southpaw, and is said to have made a good record at Chattanooga.

The club will play about twenty-five games on the Pacific coast and will start the journey homeward after playing on April 3 against Oakland and San Francisco. Six games have been listed for the home trip. One at Hutchison, Kans., on April 5, two a Wichita, Kans., two at Kansas City and one at Rock Island, Ill.

The club will arrive in Chicago April 12 and will pry off the National league lid on the next day with St. Louis as the opponent.

REVIVAL OF CITY LEAGUE BALL TO BE URGED AGAIN

Wichita Falls will have another city league this year if efforts of the executive committee to be chosen from the members of the league last year, have anything to say about it. Plans are now being formed to call all the players, managers and others connected with the league's activities during 1920, to meet at the Kemp hotel in the near future to attend a banquet after which the election of officers will take place.

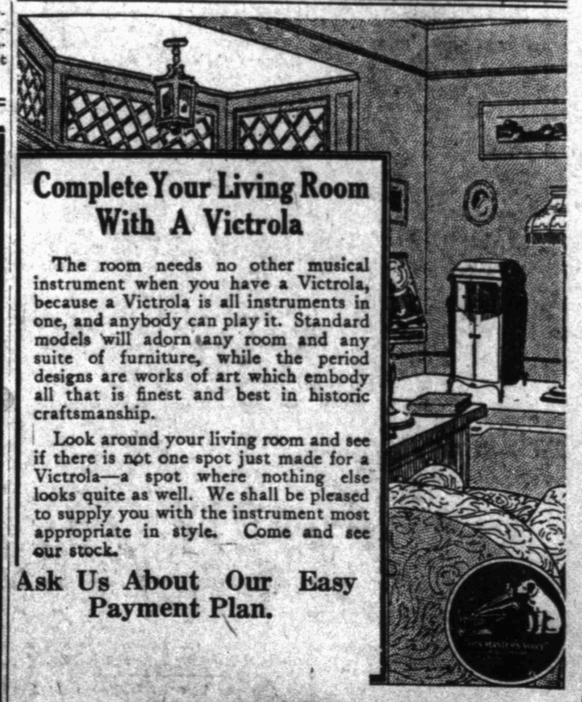

The cup offered for the pennant winners of the 1920 seasop arrived a few days ago and although the Wichita Motors team won it, it is being taken care of by Jack Bristol of the Southern Electric until such time it is formally presented to the former company.

An eight club circuit is expected to be formed this year taking in the following companies: First National Bank, Wichita Motors, Texhoma Oil and Refining company, Gulf Production company, Texas company, the Panhandle Refining company, the City National bank and the American National bank. The Spudders' field and the athletic grounds of the Wichita Motor company will be used for the games.

JUDGE LINDSEY DEFENDS SUNDAY MOVIE THEATERS

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 11.—Judge Ben B. Lindsey, famous juvenile judge, is distinctly in bad with the Denver ministers, following what some of them term an insult to the clergy, in the course of an address in defense of Sunday movies before a session of the Denver Ministers alliance. The remark by one of them that the judge ought to go to jail abruptly terminated the meeting.

The meeting was called for the discussion of movie censorship and the repeal of the Sunday closing law for theaters and other amusements.

"I have been on the bench for twenty-one years—twenty-one years, yes, sir," said Judge Lindsey, "and I am here today to tell you ministers that never have I had a half a dozen boys come before me for delinquency caused, directly or indirectly, from motion pictures. I have had twice that many cases of children who have been attending church and Sunday school just before they committed their offenses. I have known of the most heinous form of offenses to be committed right on the church floor."

Chairman L. C. Hills interrupted to say:

"We have given you the courtesy of the floor, Judge Lindsey, and you have insulted us. You were not invited here to insult the ministry," he said.

Rev. Robert T. Caldwell, pastor of Montview Presbyterian church, rose: "If there is a newspaper reporter present," he said, "I want to go on record as saying that Philip Van Cise, district attorney, was absolutely right when he said Judge Lindsey ought to go to jail." Someone moved to adjourn, and the meeting ended.

In his statement Judge Lindsey said that "It was never my intention to say there was more crime found in the churches than in the movies."

"What I tried to say was that in my twenty years of experience in the juvenile court I did not recall a half dozen cases of crime among children that could be directly traced to the influence of a picture at the movies.

"If the effect of my remarks was to justify a conclusion it was not intended and I apologize to the chairman, if such has been the effect."

Others were unchanged at 6.85. Sugar futures were more active and prices higher after a slight opening decline on covering and buying by trade interests, prompted by the firmer feeling in the spot market. Closing prices were within a point or two of the best and from 11 to 16 points net higher. March 4.52; May 4.70; July 4.89; September 5.02.

RECEIPTS AT FORT WORTH VERY SMALL

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 11.—With only 350 cattle and 50 calves available today, the market was not put to a test. Mixed shipments made up practically the entire supply and quality average was poor. Everything sold to a fairly good demand, prices appearing about steady.

Hog receipts at 800 head were the smallest of the week. Market conditions did not show much change, the general trend of values being steady, although in some spots sales were about 5 cents higher.

The top was $9.10 and most deals ranged from $8 to $8.75. Some choice butcher pigs brought $8.25, but the stocker top was $7.50, the market remaining steady.

Nothing was on sale in the sheep house and the market remained nominally steady.

OPERATIONS IN STOCKS CURTAILED

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Waiving all other adverse or negative factors, the impending double holiday was of itself sufficient to reduce operations in the stock market today to insignificant proportions and trifling price changes.

Reading was the only outstanding exception to the general rule, that stock being under persistent pressure as a result of reports which intimated that the segregation plan may prove unfavorable to common share holders. Interest identified with the company were quoted, however, as declaring that no definite plan had been formulated.

Trading otherwise was made up almost exclusively of the usual leaders in the oil, steel, food and miscellaneous divisions with a sprinkling of utilities, including Peoples Gas, Western Union Telegraph and Twin Cities Rapid Transit.

The bond market was dull to the point of extinction. Liberty issues were an exception, virtually all by the 3½s nding eat gains.

All the leading foreign exchange markets were firm to strong, dealers reporting larger bids for sterling. French and Belgian francs and remittances to Switzerland, the Scandinavian rates registered little change.

SPOT COTTON ADVANCES ON GOOD MARKET

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 11.—Small advances persisted during the greater part of the session in cotton today, moderate buying being stimulated by a somewhat better feeling in the spot department, locally, and at some points in the interior, while highest prices were reached on telegrams from Texas stating that returns to Texas bankers from both Texas and Oklahoma indicated a reduction of 35 per cent in the acreage this spring. At the highest the trading months were 13 to 14 points over the level of yesterday's close. Prices gradually sagged toward the end of the day and closing quotations were at net gains of 2 to 7 points.

The trading of the opening was affected by better cables than due, but after advances of 6 to 8 points offerings increased, evidently coming from traders who expected bearish January American consumption figures, from the census bureau.

Mill takings for the week of 213,000 bales against 288,000 last week seemed to have the effect of lessening the demand in the late trading.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Fb. 11.—The cotton market was irregular today with prices fluctuating within a range of 20 to 25 points. The general market closed steady at a net advance of 2 to 20 points. The market opened steady at an advance of 10 points to a decline of 3 points, generally a shade higher, but turned easier on weakness in Liverpool, the continued unfavorable character of Manchester trade advices and liquidations by recent buyers for a reaction. Business for fresh account was held in check by holiday considerations and closing prices were a few points off from the best under renewed realising. The midday advance was probably promoted by estimates that sales of print cloths in the Fall River market for the week would amount to 120,000 pieces compared with 90,000 for the previous week, but the news feature mostly discussed was the better spot advices from New Orleans. According to private wires, the demand came from American mills chiefly, although some inquiry was also reported from Germany. The local certificated stock of Feb 10 amounted to 93,146 bales, including 4,482 bales, inspected since Feb. 5. Exports today 21,237, making 3,146,543 so far this season. Port receipts 18,482; United States port stocks 1,429,166.

COTTON LESS ACTIVE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The cotton market has been less active during the week. Continued reports of British trade depression and apprehensions of spot liquidation in the south led to further pressure low level of the season. Offerings then became lighter and there were rallies from the lowest on covring and Wall street buying. The demand was not general, however, and business tapered off very materially toward the end of the week, suggesting a tendency to await further developments either in export trade prospects, the action of southern spot markets with the advance of new crop or preparations or acreage prospects. The probability of a reduction in the acreage planted is believed to have strengthened action of prices. There have been further reports of cotton coming here from the south for delivery on March contracts, including shipments from New Orleans, and Liverpool cables report prospects for delivery on March in the market there, owing to the lack of Manchester demand. There has been very little change in the news from the domestic goods trade, but sales of print cloths in the Fall River market for the week were estimated at 120,000 pieces, which indicated an improvement over the previous week and a further increase of domestic consumption for January is scheduled for publication next Tuesday and is expected to show an increase as compared with the December figures. Reports of a better demand for low grades were received from the south toward the end of the week, including an inquiry from Germany, and Mississippi cotton growers are said to be shipping considerable cotton to Germany on the toll system through one of their organizations.

DUNN'S REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Dunn's tomorrow will say:

"The irregularities which still characterize the business situation are a natural accompaniment of the prospects of economic readjustments. With conflicting forecasts in operation, commercial revival has not come in all quarters at the same time and a definite turning point is soon to be reached in some leading trades and industries, unsettlement in prices with the trend continuing downward, remains a cause for hesitation in different lines and such new demand as develops does not indicate that buyers are disposed to commit themselves extensively for the future.

At prices much below the highest basis, there is not the volume of purchases that might be expected, because various markets lack stability and orders are delayed to take advantage of probable further deductions. The number of small lot transactions, however, is increasing in certain directions, suggesting that some new business is beginning to need replenishing, and not a little machinery that was idle has started again, on part time schedules."

PRE-HOLIDAY PROFIT TAKES WHEAT UNDER

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Pre-holiday profit taking by longs had a good deal to do today with bringing about declines in the wheat market. Closing prices were unsettled, 1 to 2¾ cents net lower, with March 1.65 to 1.65½ and May 1.54 to 1.54½. Corn finished unchanged to ¼c higher. Oats ¼ to ½c down, and provisions 10 to 15 points down.

Increased offerings in parts of Kansas, Indiana and Ohio were noted and it was contended on the bear side that American wheat prices were at present the highest in the world.

Small country offerings, together with a little export business tended to keep corn and oats firm.

Provisions were higher at first in line with hogs, but later gave way as a result of selling pressure from large interests.

HUDSPETH ASKS INVESTIGATION OF CONSULATE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Representative Hudspeth of Texas took up with Secretary Colby today the alleged refusal of the American consul at Juares, Mexico, to vise the Swiss passport of the wife and daughter of E. M. Heintz, a German subject resident at El Paso. Mrs. Heintz and her daughter have been traveling in Mexico for six months and wish to return home.

Mr. Hudspeth said Secretary Colby had promised an investigation.

OKLAHOMAN ASKS PERMISSION TO KILL BOOTLEGGER

By B. N. TIMMONS
Record News Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—When Attorney General Cureton of Texas was arguing the Texas-Oklahoma land boundary case here recently, he said that in days agone Captain Sixkiller operating on the north bank of the Red River and Texas Rangers operating on the south bank gave New Mexico troubles of her own, for most of the bootleggers went west.

But Capt. Sixkiller has departed from earth and a Volstead brand of bootlegger is operating in Oklahoma.

But if a citizen on R. F. D. route No. 1 Tarlton, Okla., has his way there won't be any bootleggers in certain parts of Oklahoma at least. Writing to Congressman E. B. Howard of Oklahoma with an earnestness far in excess of his ability to spell, this citizen of R. F. D. route No. 1, Terlton, Okla., said:

"I will write you a few lines to inform you that the U. S. marshal that is in here ain't doing there duty and if you will grant me authority to kill the bootleggers when I tell them to halt the third time, I will take it and I will stop lots of the distills in this state. If they want it dry make it dry. Wright and let me no. I can get good recommendeshing here."

Lone Dog Scalps 103 Rats on Lot

One hundred and three rats were killed Thursday on a vacant lot near the Wichita Ice company, according to a report made to the office of City Sanitary Officer Douglas. All the rats were killed by one dog.

The number killed was the largest that has been reported to the sanitary office.

The lot on which the rats were killed was covered with considerable rubbish, but had no buildings.

COOK BEATS FIRE LADDIE TO HONOR ALL BY LONESOME

Fireman Scott of the Central Fire station claims the honor of making the only run in the records of the Wichita Falls fire department when one man carried the equipment and furnished all the motive power.

When he passed the New Life Cafe, 614 Ninth street Tuesday evening and found fire and excitement prevailing in the kitchen, Scott rushed to the station, grabbed a Babcock chemical and made the "run" single handed only to find that the cook had extinguished the fire with a solution of milk and meal.

TEACHERS TO READ EDUCATIONAL TESTS

A study of psychological tests as educational tests and measurements in classifying and testing public school pupils will be taken up at the regular monthly institute of city teachers to be held Saturday morning at the Senior High school auditorium, it was announced Friday by Superintendent Clark. Specially prepared professional text books dealing with methods of applying these tests, will be studied by the teachers, according to Mr. Clark.

All visiting teachers and citizens interested in educational matters are invited to attend the institute meetings, according to the announcement.

BRICKLAYERS ACCEPT WAGE REDUCTION

The first reduction in the wage scale, prior to the statement made by the contractors, has been made by the Bricklayers Local No. 4 of Texas who have announced that starting March and provided an agreement can be made with the contractors for work over a certain period, a voluntary reduction will be made from the present $14 a day to $12.

This reduction has been considered by the bricklayers for the past six weeks, according to chairman of the board of arbitration, B. O. Howle, and when laid before the meeting Friday night, it was accepted unanimously.

In a statement issued by the board of arbitration Friday night, the following points were made.

"That realising this reduction of $2 per diem is quite a reduction, we hope that living costs will come down in price to equal this reduction, in the near future.

"That professional men should reduce their prices for services rendered in keeping with the downward trend of living costs.

"That contractors be as fair as we have been and supply the necessary work to make up for the reduction."

The bricklayers board of arbitration is composed of B. O. Howle, chairman; R. W. Oakley and J. H. Dippel.

Building Trades Will Oppose Cut In Salary Here

The question of reducing the wage scale, demanded by contractors of Wichita Falls as the one thing standing in the way of further building in this city, will be taken up at a meeting of the union trade council Sunday afternoon, according to Jack Prather, state organizer of the American Federation of Labor.

Several labor leaders have announced their stand on the question and there is little doubt that the trade council will vote against a reduction among the building trades, Prather said, when questioned.

"We feel sure that with the present high prices of all food necessities and rent that it would be suicidal for the working man to vote himself a decrease in wages," the organizer continued. "The contractor may have cheaper material with which to build, but the working man does not live off building material—he must have bread and other staples. However, if contractors want to present their case before the trades council Sunday afternoon, we are perfectly willing to hear them and see whether we can come to some amicable agreement. Until then neither side can do anything."

The recent stand of the contractors that several million dollars' worth of building could be started immediately in Wichita Falls if labor prices were reduced has been received with scorn by many of the labor leaders. "Labor is willing to work, but not for starvation wages," was the phrase used by many of the laboring class in referring to the statements issued by the contractors.

Hobbs Et al to Drill in Young

Henry Hobbs and associates of this city will spud in the first of the week a deep test on the Colcord tract of the South Bend district, Young county. The lease on which the test will be drilled is owned jointly with the C. H. Clark interests.

It is located one-half mile south of the town of South Bend in the section where the North American Refining company and the Panhandle Refining company have struck a sand at 3100 feet. The test will be the first to be drilled in the South Bend district by the Hobbs interests.

Women teachers are no longer employed in French schools for boys. The authorization to employ them, granted during the war, has been withdrawn, because the return to normal life has made men teachers available.

RAT KILLING GENERAL OVER TEXAS FEB. 22

Wichita Falls' movement for the extermination of rats on February 22, will become statewide, with the day proclaimed as a special rat extermination day by a proclamation by the governor, and the movement pushed by the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

This report was brought by J. W. Chatham, Jr., secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, who attended a statewide conference on this subject in Austin during the middle of the week.

Representatives of the federal and state health services, together with representatives of the chief surgeons of a number of the larger railroads, who are keenly interested in the movement, took part in the discussion. All of these agencies promised co-operation with all their forces.

In addition to Governor Neff, and officials of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, one or more representatives of practically every important city in the state attended the conference.

The seriousness of the rat menace over the state, both economically and to the health of the state, were stressed by the representatives of the various health services in attendance, who showed how the rats, which come from the seaboard and travel inland, and which travel all over the state, are sure eventually, if not exterminated, to carry a number of diseases which might prove a veritable scourge to the state.

CONTINUE TRIAL OF LOMA CONN ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Continuance until the next term of criminal district court of the trial of Loma Conn, 19-year-old Iowa Park girl, charged by indictment with the murder of William Penrod, motion picture operator, was announced Friday by District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones in accordance with a request received from her counsel, R. E. Taylor, United States district attorney at Dallas.

It is thought probable that the case will be transferred to the Eighty-ninth district court for trial.

The case was previously set for February 24.

PASTOR TO TELL OF RISKY TRIP

"Continuing the series of travelogues," said Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the First Methodist church, south, Tenth and Lamar streets, to a Record News reporter, "I will give as a first topic next Sunday night a series of amusing and dangerous adventures I had in Naples, Italy, between the wee smae hours of 1 a. m. and 4 a. m. 'Vesuvius' Paris, the Beautiful and Paris the Hell Hole," What Beautiful Bay Covered Pompeii will be some of the sub-topics. You will have to come early to get a seat.

At 9:45 Sunday morning, I lecture to my big men's class on "Escaping Taxation." It is a timely subject both in its literal and figurative meaning.

At 11 o'clock at the church my subject will be "Keeping a Balanced Mind."

At 9:45 o'clock our Sunday school is in the race to beat the Baptists in attendance. We had 788 last Sunday, but will have to go some to beat the First Baptists as they are great folks and have a great plant. It will be the ship versus the railroad and may the best workers win.

Besides other special music, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Huckabee, two of the most melodious and effective singers in the south will give a gospel duet at the night service."

Texan Appeals For Promotion Of Naval Hero

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—A dramatic appeal to the house to reward the heroic war exploit of Lieut. Edward Isaacs, United States navy, who stepped forward in another man's place to become a prisoner aboard a German submarine after his ship, the President Lincoln, had been torpedoed, was made today by Representative Eagle, democrat, Texas. The speaker said Isaacs' record would stand out as one of the daring feats of the world war.

"When the submarine captain demanded an officer-prisoner," said Mr. Eagle, "Isaacs walked forth and announced that his commander, Percy W. Foote, now aide to the secretary of the navy, probably had perished and he was ready to go. For eleven days while a captive of the U-boat he learned facts about the German navy's plan of operations which were of the utmost importance to the allied fleet."

With this in mind, he escaped at the risk of his life, Mr. Eagle continued, and so badly wounded and beaten that now at the age of 29 he is physically unable to stay in the navy.

"Congress should retire him with the rank of captain, not as a lieutent," Mr. Eagle said, "so that when he goes out of the service, it will be on sufficient pay to buy bread and meat for his wife and children."

With an ingenious tuning device arranged in the form of a small book, and using a walking stock as a mast for the antenna wire, a British officer has contrived a radio-receiving set of extreme simplicity and portability, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. By opening the pocket-size book to greater or less degree, and varying the antenna length, reception is adjusted to wave lengths between 300 and 2500 meters. With this equipment, using a regular head telephone, messages have been received from stations more than 50 miles distant.

WHITE WAY TO SET OFF STYLE FETE MARCH 18

Wichita Falls merchants will hold their spring style show, and the downtown portion of the white way street lighting system will be turned on March 18, it was announced Friday by Hubert Harrison, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce, at the business council luncheon.

Elaborate plans are being made for the style show, which, with the events planned in connection with with the Illumination carnival, are expected to draw big crowds to Wichita Falls from all points in Northwest Texas.

Installation of the white way system is practically complete and final work on the system awaits the arrival of transformers ordered by the electric light company and a small amount of cable needed by the construction company. According to officials, the system could be completed within a week following the arrival of the transformers and the material.

The local office of the electric light utility received information Friday that three of the transformers to be used had been shipped by mistake to Dallas. The shipment has been diverted to the local company. The remaining transformers have been shipped from the factory.

The arrival of the cable needed to complete the system is expected daily by the Martin Wright Construction Company. All underground cable has been laid and the 331 standards with electric light bulbs have been erected.

The Least Important Feature of Saving
The least important feature of saving is money.
The most important feature of saving is the habit.
We mean by that, the man with little money who saves consistently is better off than is one with much money who saves not at all.
The amount you save is not important. The habit is what counts.
