Cisco Man Makes Bid For Sheriff's Office

Ronnie (R.B.) White, Rt. 2, Cisco, has authorized this news-paper to announce that he is a candidate for the office of County Sheriff, subject to action of the May Democratic Primary.

Mr. White is an Eastland fireman and formerly a patrolman with the Department of Public Safety. He and his family live on Highway 80 between Cisco and Eastland.

He said in announcing his candidacy that he will issue a formal statement at a later date.

and is a member of the Governor's Energy Council. He is also chairman of Oil and Gas of the Southwest Regional Energy Committee, and is a member of the National Conference of State Legislators, the Interstate Oil Compact Commission and of the Southern Nuclear Commission.

He formerly served as chairman of the Vocational-Technical Education Committee and the Rural Energy Committee, and he received the Distinguished Service Award from Vocational-Technical Agriculture Teachers Association in 1974.

He and his wife, Betty, live at 201 North Harding in Breckenridge.

Rep. Joe Hanna Seeks Re-election

State Rep. Joe C. Hanna announced today he will be a candidate for re-election as state representative of the 54th district, subject to the democratic primary and the general election.

Rep. Hanna will be seeking re-election to his fourth term as a state official. His district covers Eastland, Jack, Montague, Palo Pinto and Stephens Counties and he represents approximately 75,000 persons in the five-county area.

Hanna has lived in Breckenridge since leaving the Naval Air Corp after World War II.

Rep. Hanna is chairman of the State Energy Committee, formally announced. Within the county, the office of judge, 91st District Court, will be voted and it is assumed that incumbent Earl Conner Jr., will announce.

Incumbent Sheriff L.E. (Lefty) Sublett has not announced his intentions and a number of persons are reportedly planning to seek the office.

Only person to file as a candidate for sheriff at this writing is Ronnie (R.B.) White, Eastland fireman and former Highway Patrolman.

Incumbent Danny Woods has announced as a candidate for re-election as Commissioner Precinct One (Eastland).

Incumbent L.T. Owens of Rising Star (Precinct Three) had not filed for re-election at this time.

All Constable offices in the county are up for election and Eastland Constable Bill Hunter is presumed to be a candidate for re-election but has not announced.

In a switch in Democratic party procedure, delegates who want to go to the New York Convention, must get ten signatures and file to have their names placed on the local ballots in the May Primary.

Three delegates are authorized for the 22nd Senatorial District and an Eastlander conceivably could be one of them. If he chooses to seek the delegate responsibility, he would be listed on the ballot as "...a delegate for Lloyd Bentsen". This is part of the special one-time presidential preference primary in Texas.

District Judge Earl Conner has filed for re-election.

Mr. E.M. (Buddy) Turner has filed for Constable Precinct Three, Rising Star.

The office of County Tax Assessor-collector is also to be elected this year.

February 2, is filing deadline for candidates for the Saturday, May 1, primary election.

Political Pot Is Boiling

The political pot is beginning to boil as terms come up for election on many levels this year, up to and including the office of President.

Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen who is seeking Democratic nomination for the First Office of the Land will have his name on the Eastland County ballots in the rare presidential preference primary in May.

A Republican spokesman said Tuesday that party has not made plans yet for a May Primary but will announce plans later.

Offices which come up for re-election this year include that for President; Congress 17th District, for which incumbent Veteran Congressman Omar Burelson will seek re-election; and United States Senate, for which incumbent Lloyd Bentsen is also running and he has both Democratic and Republican opponents for the seat.

State Senator office is up for election and a candidate in Weatherford has reportedly announced as a candidate although incumbent Tom Creighton, presumably to seek re-election, has not formally announced.

State Representative Joe Hanna of Breckenridge has announced as a candidate for re-election.

One State Railroad Commission post is open for election and the office of Chief Justice of the 11th Court of Civil Appeals is up for re-election.

Incumbent Chief Justice Austin McCloud presumably will seek re-election although he has not

There's a great distance between Olden, Texas, and an Indian reservation in Arizona - but faith is a mighty thing, spanning miles, finding wedding rings and many other things.

That's the gist of a strange story. It's a testimony of faith on the part of a recent bride in Eastland County, and the resulting happiness of another bridal couple in far away Arizona.

The tale began on New Year's Eve when Volna Day, who lives in Olden near Int. 20, started into Eastland. It was just about dusk and he spotted a small car parked alongside the highway and a man with a flashlight searching in the weeds and grass in the borrow ditch near his fence.

Thinking to be of help, Volna stopped, and learned that the man was searching for his new wedding ring which he'd lost, swinging his hands trying to dislodge grass burrs. His bride of slightly more than a week was in the car having her own struggle with burrs. They first hit the Texas burrs when they stopped for a driving break and walk.

The New York couple was on their way to Arizona where he had a job waiting and in spite of Volna's insistence that they wait until the next morning when their chances of finding the ring would be better, they insisted because of finances probably, that they had to make Odessa before calling it a day. And away they went, leaving the lost ring to the elements.

Volna went on to tow thinking that maybe he could find it for the young couple later. But he and Mrs. Day didn't have any luck the next day when they went to search the grass.

Giving up and going to their house, Mrs. Day said something like "It's a hopeless task."

Her daughter, Trina, home for the holidays and herself the recent bride of Lewis Stansell, replied quickly, "Nothing's impossible Mother, with God."

Mrs. Day agreed, but she still felt that the ring was lost for ever. Trina was willing to prove her belief. She prayed that she might find the ring that another young bride in love had given to her husband, so that it could be returned to him. And then she went looking.

She and Lewis and her pet dog went to search. The dog had hardly made two jumps around her feet before Trina spied the gold ring.

Returning to the house in joy, she showed her mother the ring, and added, "See, nothing's impossible with God."

And so, the Yankee bridegroom, like all bridegrooms who have a lot to learn, will learn one thing more - that an Olden, Texas, girl cared enough, prayed enough and found his ring.

Lewis and Trina are back in Weatherford, Okla. where he is in his last year in pharmacy school and she is continuing her art studies. The other couple, at work on the Arizona Indian reservation, have a very pleasant surprise in store for them.

The ring will be returned wrapped in Trina's testimony.

Savings Merger Announced

Don McClatchy, president and chief executive officer of Olney Savings Association, and F.P. Brashier, president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Ranger, today jointly announced that the two companies have merged.

The official approval of W. Sale Lewis, savings and loan commissioner of Texas in Austin, was granted as of December 31, 1975. Specific terms of the approved combination have not been disclosed.

According to the plan, corporate operations will be under the name of Olney Savings, while Ranger operations will be under the name of Ranger Savings.

Decorator Tips

By Sandy Reese

The kitchen is where we spend a lot of our time so it seems fitting to devote a little more space to the planning of this room. Since the last column dealt with decorating the kitchen, this time we will discuss primary planning and arrangements. This can apply to the blueprint stage, remodeling projects, or even in some cases an existing kitchen.

A well-designed kitchen provides space and facilities for all the activities involved in meal preparation, arranged in a straight production line with a minimum of overlapping traffic. These activities include food storage and preparation, cooking and serving food, and the washing and storing of dishes and utensils. Each activity is focused around the appropriate major appliance, with enough cabinets and counters nearby to provide work space. Each of these activity points is referred to as a work center. The most efficient arrangement of these centers is determined by the order of their use in preparing meals. The best location for the various activities are:

Refrigerator-Freezer Center

For perishable and non-perishable food storage, preparation and mixing.

Should be located nearest the door where you bring in groceries.

Sink-Dishwasher Center

For readying food requiring water and for washing up after meals.

Should be located adjacent to or between the other two centers since it serves both.

Range-Oven Serving Center

For cooking, baking, broiling, and serving hot food.

Should be located nearest the dining area for ease in serving hot food.

There are four basic floor plans: the U-shape, broken U-shape, L-shape and corridor.

The U-shape is considered the most advantageous arrangement because it offers an

To Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jackson and relatives are hosting a reception honoring his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jackson, on their 50th wedding anniversary at the parents home, 304 S. Ammerman, Eastland, Sunday, January 11, from 2 until 5 p.m.

The former Bernice Earp and Jim Jackson were united in marriage in the home of the bride's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Earp Sr., on January 3, 1926, by the Rev. J.B. Bradford of Abilene, Texas.

Mr. Jackson was born in Arkansas July 7, 1902, and moved to the Carbon Community when he was six years of age. Mrs. Jackson was born December 31, 1907, near Rising Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson moved to Eastland in August 1975 after their retirement from 38 years of farming in the Brownfield area.

They are members of the First Baptist Church.

They are the parents of one son, Kenneth Jackson of 10445 Palomino Drive, El Paso, Texas. They have three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

undisturbed work area, protected from thru-traffic. At the same time all the equipment is within easy reach. Disadvantages, if any, are usually economic in that it required a more expensive countertop and special cabinets to fit the corners.

The broken U-shape is designed to open into other areas of the home and can sometimes more easily be adapted where there are limited remodeling possibilities.

The L-shaped kitchen lets you bring in other activities since the work centers are confined to two walls. It is especially useful in small homes and apartments because it provides a very efficient work triangle and leaves a great deal of floor space free for other activities.

Corridor kitchens are efficient since the distance between work centers are never great. However they are open to thru traffic and there is a danger of not having a corridor wide enough for refrigerator and range door openings.

The storage cabinets and counter space should be a major factor also. The rule of thumb for stocking storage units is to store items at the point of first use. For example store glasses, silverware, plates, etc., nearest the dining area, baking pans near oven and mixing bowls near preparation areas.

There's no need to have elaborate storage facilities unless your decorating budget is unlimited. For instance a total of about eight feet of wall cabinets and fourteen feet of base cabinets, properly placed, is usually ample space (exclusive of dinnerware) for a small household.

There is no set amount of counter space but the following measurements are considered minimum:

15 inches beside refrigerator for loading and unloading.

36 inches for food mixing and preparation—preferably near the refrigerator.

18 inches on both sides of a sink for stacking dishes.

24 inches beside range for hot foods.

A good check list for kitchen planning is:

1. Make certain refrigerator-door swing is correct for loading and unloading.

2. Try to keep cook's work area out of main line of traffic.

3. Locate utensils at main point of use.

Bakker FUNERAL HOME

306 W. PLUMMER • EASTLAND • PH. 629-1726

Dear friends,

In some communities, most people pay their respects by attending the funeral service. In other areas, the majority call at the funeral home. The hour or day of the funeral service may preclude attendance for some. For those, the visitation period offers an opportunity to pay respect and comfort the bereaved.

Respectfully,

Oak O. Bakker

Delayed

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced Friday (Jan. 2) that it is delaying the effective date of its federal brucellosis quarantine on Texas from Jan. 5 until Jan. 9.

According to officials of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), the quarantine is being postponed because of a temporary 10-day restraining order issued Dec. 30 by Judge J.T. Boyd of the state's 64th Judicial District Court in Castro County, Texas. The temporary

Civil Suit Filed Against Oilman

The civil suit filed by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission against Eastland oilman has been settled with the defendant's agreement to a permanent injunction.

Basically the injunction prohibits John R. Shaw, who has a business office in Eastland and residences in Moran and Dallas, from selling unregistered securities.

Shaw, who in 1973 invited publicity about his friend, so-called psychic R.C. (Doc) Anderson, agreed to the injunction without admitting or denying any of the claims made against him.

The SEC alleged Shaw told investors he had psychics who were "100 per cent successful in finding profitable oil and gas wells." Shaw personally represented to investors that Anderson, a former wrestler also known as Tarzan O'Kelly had directed him to a number of successful oil and gas wells through supernatural powers, the suit states.

A 1973 article in the Abilene Reporter-News said Anderson claimed to have the power of finding oil wells through Stigmata, the bleeding of hands.

Shaw related an incident in which Anderson reportedly showed him where to drill a well after walking over a lease which allegedly caused his hands to bleed.

The article quotes Shaw as saying, "Anderson then told me 'this is the spot, drill it.' We did, and we got oil and are continuing to get oil at every location he spots for us."

The SEC suit charged the oilman with sale of unregistered securities and fraud in the purchase and sale of securities.

Oilman

Since Jan. 1, 1971, the suit claims, Shaw directly and indirectly sold more than $3 million worth of fractional undivided working interests in oil and gas leases in Eastland, Jones and Stephens counties.

Shaw's attorney, John Allen Curtis of Dallas, said Monday the amount involved was not $3 million. He did not comment further on the case, but added that he would be meeting with Shaw Tuesday in Dallas.

Curtis said the injunction does not prevent Shaw from continuing in the oil business.

The lawyer confirmed a report by the Dallas Morning News that Shaw was a former Dallas policeman. He also said Shaw has homes in Moran and Dallas.

Thomas Allen Moon, one of the SEC attorneys in Fort Worth who filed the suit, said he could not comment on whether any further action would be sought by the commission.

The SEC charges that Shaw "personally represented to investors that he had become a millionaire as a result of a number of consecutive oil strikes."

It also claims that Shaw took a substantial portion of the investors' proceeds for his own use.

The suit further states that Shaw brought about the formation of Mineral Production Management Corp. Oct. 1, 1974, which sent newsletters to the investors. The SEC alleges the corporation was a means of separating oil and gas production and investor communications from field operations.

The suit also alleges that Shaw made untrue statements that more than 30 consecutive wells had been successfully completed without a dry hole and that he had made substantial personal profits from oil and gas production since 1971.

Besides prohibiting the sale of securities not registered with the SEC, the injunction signed by U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster prohibits Shaw from using any means to defraud investors.

The injunction was signed by Brewster Dec. 29, court records show. The federal suit was originally filed in Fort Worth instead of Abilene because the U.S. Deputy Clerk here was out of the office on vacation.

TEXAS 1876

JANUARY 8-14, 1876

AUSTIN: The AUSTIN STATESMEN has come out against the new constitution because it would provide for the state to give owners of the Texas & Pacific Railroad public lands for the railroad to be built on. This continues to be a big controversy.

FORT WORTH: Down goes the price of meat. Pratt & Knight have succumbed to the pressure of public opinion, and offer a matutinal steak of the festive bovine at the ridiculously low figures of five cents a pound. Now beef steaks do not taste so strong of greenbacks.

GALVESTON: Sotera Pena, the well known restaurateur, has returned from Philadelphia where he has rented a good location for the virtualizing of Texas visitors to the Centennial Exposition.

ELLIS COUNTY: The Ellis County Democratic Convention convened at Waxahachie. All the different precincts were fully represented. A resolution was adopted indorsing (sic) the administration of Governor Coke.

WASHINGTON COUNTY: The Brenham Opera House is nearly completed, and is indeed a fine structure.

HOUSTON: J. A. Finch, shot through the lungs Christmas, has recovered so far as to return home with his mother to Galveston. He was shot several times during the war, and has about got so used to it that he "... don't much care for bullets now."

GALVESTON: The Market for our leading staple (cotton) continues to be dull without any actual decline in prices, but with an unusual disparity between the figures asked by factors and the prices which the latter are willing to concede. Advices have not been encouraging, the New York and the Liverpool markets both showing weakness at the close for spot as well as futures and arrivals.

BEXAR COUNTY: The entire family of Mr. Stephen Leffel, consisting of the wife, six children and the servant girl, are seriously ill of trichina from eating uncooked ham, a sample of which, under the microscope, was found to contain myriads of the parasite.

ADVERTISED IN LEADING TEXAS NEWSPAPERS: Burnett's Cocaine -- How seldom we see a splendid head of hair! From sickness, excessive labor or neglect, thousands find their hair gradually wasting away. Burnett's Cocaine will repair this waste. The Cocaine is a perfect hair dressing, a promoter of the growth of the hair, a preparation free from irritating matter. It has great affinity for the human skin, is rapidly absorbed, and imparts luster and strength.

Thursday, January 8, 1976 LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sirs: In the year 1950 I had the good fortune of being a visitor to your City. This was a business trip to contact representatives of your county government.

While we were meeting, all the sirens, bells and whistles in town were sounded for a period of time, and was quite alarming to me. I was told this was the signal that they had just signed up the 20th entry in the horned toad derby and the whole story was related to me concerning Old Rip, and that this was an annual affair in your City.

I have related this story to people that I am in contact with from day to day and they seem to think I am some kind of a nut. Therefore I am asking you to send me a brochure or any literature you may have relating to Old Rip and your annual Old Rip Day celebration.

Reed, Paul Reed, Cheri DeLos Santos and Nannette DeLos Santos.

Alsobrook Ordained Minister

DAVID ALSOBROOK, son of an ordained Nazarene minister, was deeply involved in the occult and Eastern religion prior to his conversion Nov. 30, 1969 when his life was radically changed because he met Jesus Christ. He received the Baptism in the Holy Spirit on April 7, 1970 at 5:30 a.m. after praying all night.

Shortly afterwards, he was called to preach and has been in fulltime teaching/evangelistic ministry since February, 1972. Many wonderful happenings have occurred in lengthy revival meetings where as many as 350 have repented and been saved. Leukemia, goiter, skin cancer, blindness, deafness, and many other afflictions have been healed by our Lord Jesus Christ. Practicing witches have been delivered from evil spirits and are following the Lord.

Come and Bring you Friends.

Douglas Crabtree and girls of Carrollton visited Mr. and Mrs. Preston Crabtree during the holidays.
