County Wide Red Cross Drive By Local Officials Now Underway

Commissioners Act As Precinct Chairmen In Drive

Dawson County Still $1,000 Short On Emergency War Relief Quota Of $3,200

Taking cognizance of the fact that Dawson County was still approximately $1,000 short of reaching its war emergency quota of $3,200, Mr. Montague, district representative of the American Red Cross, met with local officials Monday afternoon and mapped out a plan for the raising of this balance.

Mr. Montague suggested that the rural sections of the county be divided among the county commissioners, and a quota set for each of the communities in the precincts. This plan was unanimously endorsed both by the Red Cross officers and the County Commissioners and immediate steps were taken to put the plan into operation.

As reported Wednesday afternoon by G. C. Aten, commissioner of Precinct 1, he had appointed the following community chairmen and their quotas, which are to be raised as soon as possible:

Harmony, Mrs. Jesse Lane, $74.
Hancock, Mrs. N. W. Harvick, $76.

Announcement is made this week of the purchase by Mr. and Mrs. Noel E. Boothe from T. E. Milam of the stock and fixtures of the Pierce Variety Store, which Mr. Milam had purchased only the week previous from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pierce.

Mr. and Mrs. Boothe are operators of the Boothe 5c to 1.00 Store in O'Donnell, and they are to carry that name for their business here. They invite the friends and customers of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce to continue their patronage of their store, and promise the same high quality merchandise and courteous service as in the past. Pocket Book Is Found Through The Want Ads

Just before Christmas, W. O. Reeves of north of Lamesa, lost his billfold which contained a ten dollar bill, and other papers.

He immediately came over to the Courier office and inserted a small 25-cent classified ad in the Lost and Found column.

This week, Tuesday to be exact, after he had just about given up ever getting his billfold back, the finder returned it to him with the $10 bill, and all papers intact. The finder had been reading through an old copy of the Courier, noticed the ad and then returned the wallet to its rightful owner.

This is only another instance of the tremendous pulling power of Courier Classifieds. The results obtained by users of these economical little workers has been almost phenomenal. If you have something to buy, sell, trade, or have a house or apartment for rent, have lost or found something, it will pay you to become a regular user of the Courier Classified columns.

New Wildcat Oil Test Scheduled For This County

Magnolia Petroleum Company is set to make another attempt at finding Dawson County production in the area east of Gaines County's Cedar Lake field as location was revealed Tuesday for a new wildcat operation.

The well will be No. 1 Scanlan, staked 660 feet from the south and east lines of the north half of section 113-M-EL&RR. This puts the site two miles northeast of Cedar Lake production and one and a half miles west of the old E. L. Wilson No. 1 Scanlan, a one-time small discovery well.

At Cedar Lake the pay limits were pushed farther toward the Dawson line with completion of Midcontinent Petroleum No. 1 Collett, section 4-C30-PSL, an eastside test, for 485 barrels daily of 31-gravity oil, swabbing from 4,808 feet. Pay topped at 4,725 feet was shot.

WAR FLASHES!!!

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 — The Navy announced today that a 17,000-ton Japanese merchant liner had been sunk by an American submarine.

The vessel was of the fast Yawata class, owned and operated by the NYK lines, and probably convertible into an aircraft carrier.

No other details of the sinking were supplied.

The navy also said in a communique: "The menace of enemy submarines off the east coast of the United States remains substantial."

The navy spokesman said at least one vessel of the Yawata class of three ships, frequent visitors to west coast ports, had been converted into an aircraft carrier, but it was not known whether this was the one sent to the bottom.

The communique, untimed, read: "A 17,000-ton Japanese merchant ship of the Yawata class has been sunk by an American submarine. There is nothing to report from other Pacific areas."

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 — The coast guard station at Quogue, Long Island, said today that survivors of a ship attacked off the Long Island coast were being brought to shore.

Details of the attack were not immediately revealed. It was the second such attack in these waters in two days, the 9,577-ton Panamanian tanker being sunk 60 miles off Long Island yesterday.

WASHINGTON — The U. S. War Department reported that aggressive enemy ground activity continues with attempts at general infiltration all along the line against (Continued On Back Page)

President's Birthday To Be Observed In Lamesa On Tuesday Night February 3

Plans Call For Dance, Domino, 42, And Bridge Parties To Be Held

Tuesday evening, February 3, has been tentatively set as the time for the annual Dawson County celebration of the President's birthday, according to Dan Davis, county chairman for the observance.

Mr. Davis says that the President's ball will be held in the new Municipal Building at the City Park with the G. A. Rogers orchestra of Lubbock furnishing the music.

Plans also call for the holding of a domino and 42 party at the Plaza Hotel and a bridge party at the Dal-Paso Hotel that same evening, with another domino party to be held at the Williams Hotel the night of February 6. The owners of these hotels are in charge of these events.

The Rogers Orchestra is one of the outstanding musical organizations on the South Plains, and Lamesa dancers are indeed fortunate in being able to secure their services for this evening. They are in constant demand for appearances over this entire section of Texas, and Mr. Davis is to be congratulated upon securing this splendid orchestra for the Lamesa celebration.

According to those who have seen it since its completion, the new municipal building at the City Park will be an ideal location for the holding of the President's birthday dance. It is of rock veneer construction, with a floor space of approximately 70 by 35 feet, and will (Continued on Back Page)

Scouts To Gather Waste Paper On Saturday, Jan. 24

To aid in our National Defense, Troop 22 of the Boy Scouts, will make another paper pick-up throughout the city Saturday, Jan. 24th. An effort will be made to cover the entire town on that date.

The cooperation of every home in the city is asked in the saving of all the clean scrap paper, brown corrugated boxes, newspapers, and magazines. The Scouts will highly appreciate this cooperation.

Temporary lack of storage space is the reason for no general pick-up this week end, but if it is not possible for you to hold the paper you have on hand until the 24th, call Scoutmaster Joseph N. Spikes at the First National Bank and members of the troop will call for it.

Persons living in the country are urged to bring their papers, boxes and magazines into town Saturday, January 24, and the Scouts will be on hand to receive them.

District Judge Reed Called To Army Service

District Judge Louis B. Reed received orders from United States Military Authorities last week to report at Fort Sill, Okla., January 12, in uniform. Judge Reed's military rank is that of Lieutenant Colonel, Field Artillery, and it is at that rank and branch of service to which he has reported for duty.

Colonel Reed is a veteran of the World War one. He entered the First Officers training camp in May, 1917, and upon graduation was commissioned as a Lieutenant of Artillery and was assigned to the 90th Division, composed of Texas and Oklahoma men and served with this famous division from its organization until his return to civil life in July, 1919. He served with the division in France and Germany in the Army of Occupation.

Col. Reed was commissioned as a Captain in Field Artillery in the Reserve Officers Corps following his honorable discharge from active service and during the years since, by studies and summer training service, has been advanced to his current rank.

Lt. Col. Reed stated that members of the Reserve Officers Corps have expected a National Emergency and have worked hard to keep informed on modern military problems, and in physical condition, to meet the National Emergency requirements.

His orders were that he report to Field Artillery Replacement Training Center, Fort Sill, Okla.

Texaco Dealers Inaugurate New Tire Service

Retail dealers of Texaco petroleum products in this territory are this week announcing an unusual service to the automobile owners of the area.

This service is the free registration of all automobile tires by the dealers, and the placing of a sticker on the car windshield that the tires are registered. In this way, if the tires are stolen or lost, a record of the tire serial numbers is had, and the chances of their return to the owner is greatly enhanced.

This service has the cooperation of Dawson County law enforcement officials, who only last week were urging tire users to get the numbers of all their tires, so as to aid in their recovery if stolen.

If your tires are registered with one of your local Texaco dealers, all you have to do if they are stolen is report their loss to the dealer, and he will inform the proper authorities.

Mrs. R. E. Simpson, Sr., is the local Texaco distributor, and it was through her efforts that this plan was worked out.

Your attention is called to the large ad carried by the Texaco dealers, in another place in this issue of the Courier.

The publishers of the Courier do not take the credit for this growth and improvement, but contribute it to the loyal and faithful patronage of its advertisers and readers. For

AAA Aids Conservation, Production

Hundreds of thousands of Texas farmers and ranchmen took advantage of the conservation aids available through the AAA program in 1941, thus helping to improve the productivity of their lands and increasing the production of foods needed for defense.

MIDDLE — Rock header dams are used to store up water to supply cattle during dry spells. This tank is on the Vernon McIntyre ranch in Brewster county.

Road Jobs Go On In Spite Of Bad Weather

Representatives of McKown and Son contractors on the 30-mile stretch of Highway 15 across Borden County, reported Wednesday that road work is ahead of schedule, despite bitter winter weather that has prevailed the past few days.

O. B. McKown of the contracting firm states base finish on the East-West road has been finished on the first 11 miles west from the Scurry County line.

Placing of the base on Highway 15 from the Dawson County line eastward toward Gail is also progressing satisfactorily, McKown states.

Plant and equipment of the contractors on the Borden County job are being moved today (Thursday) to the Pearce caliche pit on Gail Mountain.

On the Scurry County Highway 15 front, work was greatly slowed down Wednesday. Thomas & Ratliff contractors on the Scurry County job, from the overpass southeast of Snyder eastward to the Fisher County line, state laying of select caliche base is progressing satisfactorily. — Scurry County Times.

Now Is Time To Terrace And Set Trees On Farm

Now is the time to take advantage of two soil building practices under the 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program.

Farm land may be terraced and trees may be planted without any cash outlay to the farm operator. Within a very short while plans will be completed for farm operators to take advantage of the terracing of their farm. By making application to the AAA offices proper forms may be filled out, the terrace lines run and terraces constructed and the expense paid for out of the soil building allowance money which the farm is entitled to receive for 1942.

Fifteen dollars worth of trees may be planted on any farm that cares to plant adaptable varieties of trees. Those interested in taking advantage of this additional fifteen dollar allowance should make application to the A. A. Office, in order that an early order may be placed for the trees. No cash is required. The trees may be paid for out of the fifteen dollar allowance.

Application should be made to the County Administrative Officer who will issue the proper forms and place orders for the trees through the Forest Nursery Division at Alto, Texas.

CARD OF THANKS
We cannot express the gratitude and appreciation we owe to the many friends, who, by your generous giving, helped to replace the loss we had when our home was destroyed by fire. Farm Security Loan Collections High In Area

For the six-year period ending on December 31, 1941, collections by the Farm Security Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in this region, were 87 per cent of loan maturities.

The impressive record of the FSA broad program of helpful service to low-income farm families, was made public by Henry L. Jeter, a member of the Dawson County Advisory Committee, who, with other local citizens, works with this agency without pay in behalf of needy farm people.

Mr. Jeter said he was making this phenomenal record public "in order that the true value of this agency's work might be more generally known."

Getting closer home, the County Committeeman cited figures, showing the proportion of maturities repaid over the six-year period in Texas was 94 per cent.

He mentioned the fact that all money now being loaned to the low-income farm families by the FSA is borrowed by this agency from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. As farmers repay their loans the money is returned to the United States Treasury, thus this money does not come to the FSA by direct appropriations by the treasury.

"I mention this fact," he said, "because I fear that few taxpayers know that the Farm Security Administration is not a relief agency. Rather, it is a lending program, with low interest rates, for farmers who cannot get help from any other source. Loans are made for a period of from one to five years."

Among the many methods helping needy farm families, the FSA has a program whereby groups of farmers receive the use of expensive farm machinery and breeding stock which they could not afford alone. At the present time 8,571 farmers are receiving benefits from 1,112 co-op facilities and services in this region which were financed with funds borrowed from FSA. Texas has 375 cooperatives with 2,797 low income families participating.

Mr. Jeter said one of the most far-reaching programs for self-help for low income farm families is the Group Medical Care program sponsored in many counties in cooperation with local medical societies. Through this program the people are receiving adequate medical protection. There are 6,779 families in 39 counties in this region receiving benefits from this phase of the FSA plan.

The Farm Security Administration's chief function now, in the opinion of Mr. Jeter, is to help farmers raise the vast amount of food needed to win the war.

"For FSA," he said, "this means concentrating on continuing aid to low-income farmers in every section of this country. These small farmers cannot benefit from high prices as can the big operators and it is a mistake to think they can contribute to winning the war unless they receive help in producing and marketing their products, while at the same time protecting the health of their families."

Mr. Jeter said, in conclusion, that in his opinion the Farm Security Administration is the only branch of the Federal Government which has the machinery already set up to help the low-income and needy farm families to help themselves, and to provide these people a chance to enjoy some of the democracy which they are being called upon to defend.

NEWSMEN IMPRESSED BY REPTILES AT LARGE

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Snakes, of late, have wriggled into the Southern public prints.

There's the home loving reptile over Kinston way. Dr. Ira M. Hardy says that a farmer has this particular pet in a box. We'll, one of his children accidentally opened the box, and as might be expected, out slithered Mr. Snake.

The farmer, fearful that the snake might get a bit too friendly with the children, kept them indoors two days, while he searched in vain. Then passing the box he chanced to glance down, and there as peaceful as you please, was the snake.

Navy Reveals Wake Marines Sank 7 Ships

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP) — The Navy announced late today that additional reports from Wake Island brought the total of Japanese warships lost there to seven.

The total represented an increase of two, a destroyer and a gunboat, over the originally reported cruiser, submarine and three destroyers.

At the same time the department reported the commanding officer of a submarine of the Asiatic fleet in the Far East theater had reported the sinking of an enemy transport. In addition the submarine succeeded in sinking three enemy cargo vessels, each estimated to be of 10,000 tons displacement.

The reports to Marine corps headquarters covering the Wake Island action were sent from Wake Island by a patrol plane.

One, written on Dec. 80, was from Major Paul A. Putnam, commanding the tiny aviation forces on Wake before it fell to overwhelming Japanese forces.

The second report was a day-by-day account of Marine aviation participation in the battle of Wake Island, up to Dec. 20 by Major W. Bayler. The island fell two days after a gallant defense by fewer than 400 Marines, led by Major James Devereux.

While there was no announcement covering the fate of all these men, the Navy said that of the original aviation force of 12 officers and 49 enlisted men, 19 enlisted men and eight officers were still on duty by Dec. 20. Of these, four enlisted men and two officers were wounded by still on duty.

The Navy's communique also announced that President Roosevelt had cited the defense of Wake Island as one which fought "against an overwhelming superiority of enemy air, sea, and land attacks from Dec. 8 to 22, 1941, has been noted with admiration by their fellow countrymen and the civilized world, and will not be forgotten as long as gallantry and heroism are respected and honored."

Every Man Fit To Fight Faces Possibility Of Service Says U. S. Army Officer

CHICAGO, Jan. 8 (AP) — Every man fit to fight, no matter what job he now holds, must face the possibility of eventual service with the armed forces before the Axis is delivered a knockout blow.

This was the picture Lieut. Col. Joseph F. Battley, chief of the liaison division of the office of under-secretary of war, gave draft occupational advisers from 11 states at a conference last night.

"The day is past when employers may compete with the Army for physically fit men. That day ended with the treacherous assault on Pearl Harbor," he declared.

It is the responsibility of employers, aided by the government vocational training program, to fill war industry positions with women and men not acceptable to the Army and Navy, Col. Battley asserted, adding this warning:

"Eventually the only labor supply may be women."

"Replacements must first be trained," he said. "Then should we reach the point where war production levels off and where sufficient time has been had to effect replacements, then class 2AB men (deferred because of employment in war industry) will be scrutinized."

"A registrant's job must be essential to the national health, safety or interest," he went on, "for him to be placed in class 2-A (deferred because of employment in nonessential war industries). And to secure a renewal, the employer has the responsibility of demonstrating that every effort has been made to secure or train a replacement. Investigate every 2-A case and make sure that these requirements are met."

"It is no exaggeration when I tell you that you are to forget every thing you ever knew about selective service and start anew. Don't quote me to the language of a single memorandum issued prior to Dec. 7. They are out. Every last, single one of them is out—gone—forgotten. America is at war."

Alcohol Needed In War Effort

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP) — The government today ordered approximately 60 per cent of the nation's distilleries to turn their available facilities into production of industrial alcohol.

The order, issued by Donald M. Nelson, OPM director of priorities, provided that distilleries with facilities to make industrial alcohol from corn or other grain must use them after January 15 only in producing that type of alcohol.

It was estimated that 60 per cent of the industry's capacity was subject to the order.

At the same time, OPM spokesmen said no shortage in alcoholic beverages was anticipated since there was more than five years normal supply already in storage.

Industrial alcohol — technically 100 proof ethyl alcohol — is essential in a variety of war and industrial operations and is particularly important in the production of smokeless powder.

IMPORTANT!

We want to cooperate with our Customers, our Government and our Factory in the National Defense Program.

Due to the number of lists that have been furnished us the past few weeks by our customers on parts and machines they think they might need in 1942, we feel confident there is some misunderstanding of this program, therefore we want to clarify our position in this matter.

You will please make out your list of machines and parts that you think you are going to need this year, AFTER YOU HAVE COMPLETELY INSPECTED ALL MACHINES THAT YOU EXPECT TO USE, bring the list to us as an order and buy all the parts or machines that we can make delivery on NOW. All that we cannot deliver will be ordered for you and when they arrive you will be advised so that you can come in and get them.

There will be delays in 1942 on both parts and machines, and under some conditions we cannot be expected to furnish parts or machines during the rush seasons promptly, therefore we ask your usual splendid cooperation.

FOLKS, HERE IT IS Our 3rd Big Annual Radio Sale

YES, IN SPITE OF THE RISING PRICES AND THE CLOSER APPROACH OF THE DAY WHEN, JUST AS IN THE AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS, RADIOS WILL NOT BE AVAILABLE, WE ARE OFFERING YOU A REAL FEAST OF BARGAINS IN BRAND NEW 1942 MODELS OF ZENITHS, GENERAL ELECTRIC AND MOTOROLA RADIOS, AND A LARGE NUMBER OF GOOD SERVICEABLE USED RADIOS IN OTHER LEADING MAKES AND MODELS.

OUR REASONS FOR MAKING SACRIFICES UNDER THE PRESENT CONDITIONS:

1. We have a large number of radios, both new and used, on hand. We need the money invested more than we need the radios.
2. So many of our customers and friends have inquired about when we meant to stage our usual RADIO SALE. They have learned that when we say we are putting on a real bargain sale, we mean just that, and we cannot disappoint those who have been waiting for this event.
3. We have had another big Zenith Radio Year. More people are daily receiving their favorite radio broadcasts by Zeniths than by any other fine radio. That the people in this area are going more and more to Zeniths is evidenced by the large number of other well known makes of radios you will see listed below, which have been traded in on Zeniths. WE TRULY APPRECIATE THIS APPROVAL OF THE MERCHANDISE WE HANDLE, AND WE WANT TO EXPRESS OUR APPRECIATION BY GIVING YOU SPECIAL CONCESSIONS AT THIS TIME OF YEAR, WHEN MOST OF US HAVE TO STRETCH OUR DOLLARS AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE, IN THE WAY OF PRICE REDUCTIONS.

REMEMBER: You are not buying a "pig in the bag". It is not our purpose to unload a lot of accumulated JUNK. You must be pleased with your purchase during this sale, just the same as if it were an every day purchase from us. SO BE ASSURED YOU CAN BUY WITH CONFIDENCE!

We list below as many of the large stock we have on hand as time and space will permit. . . . The radios will be tagged and numbered as shown in this list. Pick out the particular number you would like to see and hear and bring your list with you. DON'T WAIT TOO LONG. Each will be checked off the list when sold. . . . Formal Dinner Given For Members Of Delta Kappa Gamma Monday Evening

Gamma Lambda Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, national honor society for women, held its regular meeting January 12, at 7:00 p. m. The Williams Hotel furnished the setting for a very lovely formal dinner with Mrs. Ralph Stuart, Connie Zell Barnes and Bess Shanks as hostesses.

Red, white and blue candles in crystal candelabras, together with red roses carried out the patriotic theme in the table decorations. The programs at each plate carried a small United States flag. The invocation was given by Mrs. Lester Gregg. Musical numbers were given by Mrs. Matt McCall. While pupils of Mrs. Valeria Pratt gave two dance numbers. Appearing in the dance numbers were Dorothy Ross Gibson, Dorothy Nelson and Maurine Sharp.

Mrs. Jack McLaughlin, on behalf of the society, very graciously presented a corsage to Miss Florence Griffith, Delta Kappa Gamma's bride to be.

The highlight of the evening was an address by Carl Rountree upon the subject "Democracy and Its Preservation." Mr. Rountree was introduced by Mrs. Armanda Yates, president.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Delta Kappa Gamma song.

The following members and guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rountree, Mesdames V. Z. Rogers, D. W. Ogletree, Alice Lindsey, T. A. Kellam, Grace Parkinson Wood, of Seminole, Arminia Yates, A. G. Barnard, J. E. Barron N. H. Price, Mildred Gregg, Louise McCall, Ralph Stewart, Jack McLaughlin, Valeria Pratt, and Misses Laveria Estes, Louise Campbell, of Seminole, Florence Griffith, Bess Shanks and Connie Zell Barnes.

The Woman's Study Club of Dawson County, held their first meeting of the New Year at three o'clock, Friday afternoon, January 9th, at the club house. The spring flowers and glowing fire inside bade a hearty welcome to members and guests after their taste of real wintry weather outside.

The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance and the Collect. Roll Call was answered by each one giving interesting facts about their choice of a "Picture Everyone Should Recognize." Mrs. Murr led in the presentation of a fine arts program.

Mrs. Cecil Bryant discussed "Pictures that are good to live with," naming several that would be suitable for living or dining rooms. She particularly stressed a careful selection of pictures for the room of the boys of the family and also for the girls. "Joshua Reynolds' paintings are always children's favorites and boys are partial to pictures of ships and of the sea," said Mrs. Bryant, "while girls love 'The Madonna,' 'Age of Innocence,' and others." Mrs. Bryant suggested that we choose our pictures as we would choose our friends.

Mrs. Toombs, teacher of the second grade in the city schools, spoke of "The Trend in Modern Art." She urged her listeners to take one afternoon a week to develop her own self in a preferred art, stressing the fact that simplicity is the essence of art.

Miss Norma Denson thrilled all present with her interpretation of "Liebestraume," and followed it with a medley of patriotic airs.

After a round table discussion of how each member could best help her country during the war, the club adjourned.

Miss Willie McCutchin of Big Spring spent Tuesday here visiting with friends.

Mrs. J. E. Garland spent Wednesday in Lubbock visiting with Mrs. Ola Tinkler.

Legion Sponsors
Of Passion Play

On next Monday, January 19, the Allen-Houston Post of the American Legion has arranged to show in the school auditorium one of the most unusual talking pictures ever made. The title of the picture is "Golgotha" and it is the first and only talking motion picture ever made of the famous Passion Play. This picture presents the immortal story of the crucifixion of Christ in a spectacular and impressive manner. Critics everywhere have acclaimed it the greatest picture of its kind ever made. This remarkable picture should be seen by every man, woman and child in this community. A complete set of the finest talking picture equipment will be brought to this city for the showing of "Golgotha". This equipment includes a special projector, a complete sound system, and a modern screen. All who attend will be able to see and hear the picture perfectly. "Golgotha" is not an ordinary picture. It is spectacular, thrilling, interesting and entertaining as well as educational. It renders an outstanding moral and religious service to every community in which it is shown. The picture was made in the old country at a cost of $800,000 and all of its speaking parts are in English.

The making of "Golgotha" required a cast of thousands of people. The Film Daily, which is the official publication of motion picture industry, states, "No mob scenes such as these have ever been recorded on film. They are breathtaking and awe-inspiring. Innumerable close-ups are given of dozens of people in the cast, and each close up represents a distinct individual reflecting his or her individual emotions. The mob scenes hold the audience spellbound in their terrific sweep."

This picture will be presented in the elementary school auditorium at one o'clock and the evening showing will be held in the high school auditorium at 7:30. The admission prices are only half of what might be expected for such a picture.

Tornadoes Beat
Odessa 22-19 In Basketball Jan. 13

The Lamesa High School Golden Tornado basketball team knocked the Odessa High School Bronchos off the undefeated list Tuesday night, with a 22-19 victory, racked up in the Odessa gym.

Reports of the game indicate that it was one of the closest and hardest fought games of the season, with neither team being able to take a safe lead throughout the game. Lamesa led at halftime, 15-14, but Odessa was up 18-17, at the end of the third quarter. Lamesa increased its lead to three points with ten seconds to play.

Other games played Tuesday night threw the District 3AA basketball race into a jumble, with six teams tied for the lead with two victories and one loss apiece, and two other teams showing up with three straight losses.

Tuesday night saw Abilene hand Colorado City a 49 to 16 lacing, to retain the Eagles' share of the lead. Big Spring top Midland 35 to 21, to keep the Steers on top, and San Angelo drop Sweetwater from the unbeaten ranks with a 24-19 victory that threw the race into the six-way tie. Lamesa, Abilene, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Big Spring and Odessa now have won two conference games while losing one each, and Colorado City and Midland have lost three straight.

Friday night the Sweetwater Mustangs will visit the Tornado gym in a game that promises to be plenty good. The losing team will automatically drop behind the other in the percentage standings. Game time is 7:30 p. m., and the admission price will be 30c for adults.

Makes Statement
To The Voters

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 106TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT:
I am a candidate for reelection to the office of District Judge. I seek election a second time on the basis of the record I have made, and the manner in which I have tried to conduct the courts of the district. Due to the then recent discovery of oil in the district about the time I became Judge, the dockets were unusually crowded, and since then an unusually large number of suits have been filed. Many of these suits have involved valuable oil properties and have been difficult to try and have required a great deal of time. Practically all of these difficult cases have been disposed of and there are very few cases of any kind upon the dockets of the District ready for trial at present.

I have worked hard and have tried to conduct the courts with honesty, fairness, diligence and courage. I have sought a maximum of efficiency and a minimum of expense to the counties of the District and to the State. I have tried to treat jurors and others having business with the Court with consideration and courtesy that would reduce the unpleasant burden of their services in the Court. In return I have at all times received splendid cooperation from the citizenship who have served upon the petit and grand juries.

Through the help and cooperation of the attorneys of the District we adopted, beginning with the fall terms of Court in 1941, a new form of procedure in our District where, by the terms are continuous. This was authorized by Special Act of the Legislature at my request. This enables much quicker and less expensive trials. This procedure has attracted favorable attention from lawyers and judges of the state, and leaders of the State Bar of Texas are urging that such continuous terms be adopted throughout the state. An instance of such advocacy is presented from The Star-Telegram of Fort Worth, Jan. 10, 1942: "The legislative committee of the State Bar of Texas decided in meeting Saturday that continuous twelve month terms for all District Judges in Texas will be sought at the next session of the Legislature. The committee, working to expedite judicial proceedings in Texas and take the law out of the 'horse and buggy' days of long delays and prolonged litigation, said that in many counties of Texas, judicial service can be had only a few weeks out of the year."

Our Country being at War, we must all make sacrifices. As a Reserve Officer of the U. S. Army, I have been ordered to report at Fort Sill, on Jan. 12, 1942, for duty in the Army. The dockets being light and the law providing for a Special Judge to serve during absence of the regular Judge, I am asking that you permit me to continue as your regular Judge during the time that I am in the Army, and that you elect me a second time. During the time that I am in the Army I will NOT draw pay both as an Army officer and as District Judge, but will draw pay for only one position.

LOUIS B. REED.

Home-Hatched
Mallards Learn
Master's Voice

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 9. (AP) — This is Farmer Ed Warden's duck story and he's sticking to it. Last spring nine wild mallard ducks were hatched from eggs he gathered from a lake near his farm northwest of here. He has seven left — one went south and another got killed.

The seven got together on the ice of a pond and after considerable quacking took off as Warden watched from his house nearby. Afraid the mallards were headed south for the winter, Warden ran out onto the lake and began shouting: "Come back here."

"They started circling around, arguing among themselves and I kept yelling for them to come back," he said. "Pretty soon they landed right at my feet."

The mallards waddled along behind Warden to the hen house and he locked them in.

"I guess I'll have to clip their wings," he concluded.

Military Skill, Fighting Spirit, Ruggedness Are Keys To Victory — Lear

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Staff Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 8 — "Warning his troops that they must expect to fight frequently against an enemy superior in numbers and equipment, Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear told his second army today that military skill, an indomitable fighting spirit and physical ruggedness were the soldier's real keys to victory. Equipment does not fight," he said. "It is an instrument of men. Men are the essence of fighting; the heart, the courage and the blood of soldiers win wars. Man is the master machine in war."

"Equipment is not a substitute for character, spirit, dogged determination, dash, development of tactical skill and the will to close with the enemy and destroy him. There is a tendency in the press, in civilian opinion and among too many of our personnel to believe that equipment is the chief answer to the soldier's problems. That is a grave error of emphasis."

Lear emphasized that there will be times when the enemy will have superior equipment and the American soldier must hold his ground or advance in the face of partial or limited superiority in instruments of warfare. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's stand in the Philippines is a vivid example of what he meant.

Declaring this "will always be true somewhere" in this war, he said,

"that is where the spirit, character, training and the will to win come into play."

Lear offered his admonitions in a letter to the commanding officers of his more than 100,000 men and disclosed to them that the second army would furnish officers and enlisted men as a nucleus for the formation of new Army units in the War department's projected expansion program.

Nazi Setbacks Are Said Worse Than Napoleon's

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP) — The House of Commons, critical and uneasy over Allied setbacks by the Japanese, was told today by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden that the most formidable Axis partner, Germany, was suffering reverses "far more remarkable" than those the Russians inflicted on Napoleon's army in 1812.

Maj. Clement R. Attlee, lord privy seal substituting for Prime Minister Churchill, also pointed to British victories in Africa to soothe a house concerned over Japanese strides toward Singapore.

As for the yielding defense lines in Malaya, Eden said the government assumed full responsibility. But he rejected suggestions that the government had been derelict there.

"If we were wrong," he declared, "it was a deliberate decision, and not one based on neglect."

Cheers greeted Attlee's statement the war clinched its ultimate outcome "without a shadow of a doubt."

But these explanations did not satisfy some members.

"Neither the United States nor ourselves can stem the tide of Japanese victory in the Far East unless we hold Singapore," declared Commander Sir Archibald Southby, a conservative.

"Russia's successes will not save Singapore. Gen. Auchinleck's fine campaign in North Africa does not offset the loss of Guam and other islands."

"It might have been better if the United States had augmented the defense of those vitally important places rather than expend time and material in creation of the bases which we leased them in the West Indies and Newfoundland."

Two members voiced their fears that the British Isles eventually might become merely an American outpost in Europe, that Australia was drawing closer to the United States, and that British seamen would not relish the idea of serving under Admiral Thomas C. Hart, commander of the Allied South Pacific fleet.

Attlee and Eden justified the thinness of the Malayan defenses because of the asserted need for concentrating strong British forces in Africa and the Near East, and the speeding of equipment to Russia.

The dispatch of British troops to Greece last spring, Eden declared, was not a "sentimental" decision. That move, coupled with the uprising in Yugoslavia against Germany, delayed the German attack on Russia for six weeks, he added amid cheers.

Girdle Crisis Leaves The Girls Quite Unshaken

AP Feature Service
Pull yourself together, girls, cause this will make you shake all over. There's a crisis coming in your life, a crisis that will make Valley Forge and the Marne and Singapore look like a Sunday school picnic. You've been talking for years about doing something about your figure, remember?

Well, now is the time to make good on that promise because in a few months you won't be able to get any outside help. There's a shortage of rubber, you know, and to keep the Army's mechanized units rolling on rubber tires, you'll have to sacrifice the girdles that have been controlling your spare tires, etc.

Present stocks of girdles and corsets will be exhausted by the end of this year and from then on, you and your figure will be on your own.

What to do about it? You can diet and whip yourself into shape that way. You can combine the rationing of automobile tires and the eventual shortage of limousine transportation with walking — not only for exercise but to get places and home again.

Or you can throw caution (and your figure) to the winds and go nonchalantly about your business and social life. There was a time back in the turbulent twenties when all the girls tried to be flappers and starved themselves to their respective bones so they could move around uncorseted and unshaken. But their husbands and physicians didn't like that—for different but equally sound reasons, so that approach to our problem is not recommended.

A solution developed in England harks back and quite successfully, too, to the binders you probably swathed your newborn babies in. English women are pulling themselves together with muslin binders they make themselves.

The effect, while not as aesthetically or comfortably successful as the storebought rubber girdles, serves to keep their bodies and souls together. And morale of the civilian populace—and what is more important to feminine morale than a good foundation garment—is proving a major element in this war.

There's no law or priorities regulation to keep you from scouring the attic for the corsets of another year, if not another generation. Those girls who squeezed themselves breathless in hourglass corsets, the ones with hooks and eyes and yards and yards of lacing, only a couple of years ago, may be able to resurrect both the corsets and their

Nazi Leaders Admit Critical Time In Russia

(By The Associated Press)
The German armies in Russia last night plainly were in the gravest position yet to befall and official Nazi accounts showed an extraordinary, cumulative melancholy unparalleled since the beginning of the war.

While new Russian successes at north, south and center were being announced in Moscow, Adolph Hitler's personal press chief, Dr. Otto Dietrich, declared, in a bold, and somber portside published in all Nazi newspapers:

"Germany's military operations have entered an extremely serious and indeed critical phase. But Hitler will know how to overcome this crisis."

The authoritative Berlin commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland which often speaks for the German foreign office, warned the country that Hitler's retreat in Russia was far from ended and that the Nazi forces in the east had been forced to "the unaccustomed task of a stiff defense, withstanding the storming Soviet masses and giving way step by step, while covering preparations made for a winter combat line."

Where this line was to be was of course not indicated, but it was shapes with a little modernization.

You can do what you like, since it's your figure and your audience that will suffer. But it is surprising the large number of women, moved either by the spirit of 1942 or the war, who say they'll gladly do without their girdles—for the duration. "If Uncle Sam needs my girdle," they're saying, "he can have it. What else does he need?"

made plain that it was to the west and beyond any area in which the Germans now are struggling. In this same somber mood, the German high command in its regular communique reported: "In the central and northern sectors of the eastern front bitter (German) defensive fighting continues."

These statements came on the heels of other German statements of recent days which have contained a regularly increasing worried tone, at utter variance with customary Nazi war announcements.

The Russians declared that even airplanes were being used to rush up German reinforcements from the west.

From official Russian reports it appeared that the German army was about to lose his key positions before Leningrad, as he already had lost them before Moscow, and was in growing peril in the Crimea in the far south.

Before Leningrad, the Russians claimed to have substantially lifted the six-months-long siege and to have turned the vast Leningrad garrison into a powerful offensive force which was heavily assaulting the Nazi in cooperation with drives by other Red forces along the Stalin Canal near the city.

In the Crimea, a German army of seven or more divisions—100,000 men or more—was under growing threat of envelopment, for the erstwhile besieged garrison of Sevastopol was strongly on the offensive in aid of other thrusts by Soviet troops landed at a number of points on the peninsula.

On the central front the Russians announced the recapture of Mosalsk, only 30 miles short of the German's new Vyazma-Bryansk defense line.

There's a town named Blue Moon in Kentucky.

Twenty-two American towns are named Buffalo.

YOU CAN'T OUTGUESS THE WEATHER...

But Your Electric Refrigerator Does

Yes, your electric refrigerator outguesses the weather. It automatically maintains the necessary low temperature to keep expensive food from spoiling regardless of the summertime temperature in your kitchen when you are cooking. Then, when the house cools off at night, your refrigerator has practically no work to do and uses very little current.

You can help your refrigerator do a better job of keeping food fresh and wholesome by defrosting the freezing coil regularly, and by placing food and dishes so that circulation of cold air in the refrigerator won't be hindered.

The AAA In 1941 Gets Ready For War Emergency

As the year of 1942 began, Texas farmers were laying their plans for doing their share in the nation's war effort by supplying still more food for America, for her Allies, and for peace.

At the same time, they looked back on a year of progress in which they had taken their greatest steps toward reorganizing their system of farming so they could supply that food. For eight years they had been working toward that goal; in the ninth year the demands of a world at war had speeded up their shift from the old one-crop farming system to a better-balanced system which would fit into the picture of a changed economy.

During the last two months of the year they joined with the rest of the nation's farmers in a campaign to increase the production of food. Although the production of the needed foods had increased in 1941, they pledged still greater increases in 1942 as their share in defense. The day after the campaign ended found the United States actively in the war, but the farmers knew that they were prepared. They felt—and rightly so—that they could meet any demand placed upon them.

Assisting them in this shift to the production of more food was the program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, designed to improve farm prices and to help the nation's farmers in their efforts to produce crops which are needed and to keep supply in line with demand.

In the war emergency, the AAA proved that it was really an adjustment program and could assist in adjusting production upward as well as downward. The farmers of Texas continued to use all phases of the program in their war effort.

Defense Work
Early in July Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard announced the formation of USDA defense boards in every county and every state in the nation to direct Agriculture's defense efforts. Named as chairman of the Texas USDA Defense Board was B. F. Vance, administrative offices in charge of the AAA in Texas. In each county the chairman of the county AAA committee was named chairman of the county board.

The AAA thus assumed the added responsibility of taking the lead in agricultural defense work. In every county it had the machinery with which to contact the farmers "through the 4,000 trained leaders serving as community and county committeemen."

Cotton Stamps
As an emergency measure the AAA, the Surplus Marketing Administration and the Extension Service offered cotton farmers cotton goods stamps if they would reduce their cotton acreage. The program was designed to cut into the tremendous surplus and assist low-income people to use more cotton.

Texas cotton farmers earned several million dollars worth of cotton stamps which were exchanged for finished cotton goods.

More Cooperation
The percent of farmers cooperating with the program continued its steady rise in 1941 with 96 percent of all cotton farmers and 90 percent of all wheat farms cooperating with

Farm Scrap Iron Does Double Duty

AUSTIN, Jan. 12 — Bill Gann, a Travis county farmer, made the scrap iron on his farm do double duty.

In the first place, he helped his country solve its steel shortage by collecting 3,000 pounds of scrap to be made into weapons of war. Then he turned around and helped finance the way by putting part of the money he received for the scrap into defense stamps.

"I'm too deaf to get in the army, but I can do this much," Gann said as he bought the defense stamps. "We can all do this much."

Bill Gann was only one of hundreds of Travis county farmers who delivered the scrap iron off their farms to their local gins during one week of an intensive drive. Altogether, Travis farmers brought in 512,079 pounds of scrap iron that week as part of their share in winning the war.

The county USDA defense board, of which Arthur Swenson is chairman, had worked out arrangements with local junk dealers and sin operators so that farmers could deliver their scrap to nearby gins on certain days. The gin scales were used for the weighing and junk dealer representatives paid for the scrap on the spot.

In the newspapers, in letters to producers and through announcements in schools, the county board urged farmers to gather all their old scrap iron and deliver it to the gins. The results obtained speak for themselves.

Power Over Clocks Is Denied Pres. Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP) — The House, which has voted President Roosevelt vast powers and astronomical sums, shied away today from giving him authority over the nation's clocks.

It passed a daylight saving time bill, 67 to 20, but one which allowed Mr. Roosevelt no discretion. It provided simply that the clocks must be moved ahead one hour on "the twentieth day after the bill's enactment, and stay that way until six months after the war's end."

The bill passed after a debate marked by slim attendance, and a spirited discussion of the habits of animals and children, the laws of nature, and regulations governing duck hunters.

Indications were the measure would be revised in conference committee, because the Senate last Wednesday approved a measure permitting the president to advance clocks as much as two hours whenever and wherever he saw fit.

Auto Tax Stamps Are To Go On Sale January 26

AUSTIN, Jan. 9 (AP) — Postmaster Ray Lee of Austin today received instructions to begin distribution on Jan. 19 of federal automobile use tax stamps which will be placed on sale beginning Jan. 26.

The stamps, covering the portion of the federal government's fiscal year from Feb. 1 through June 30 will cost $2.00 each. The tax is $5 a year and presumably motorists will purchase new ones by next July 1 for a new fiscal year.

Lee said stamps would be sent to Austin and Dallas postoffices, central accounting offices, for redistribution to other North and South Texas offices.

With the purchase of each stamp the buyer will be required to fill in a postcard report which must be mailed to the collector of internal revenue.

Lee added no other instructions had been received but full details would be published for the benefit of postmasters in an early issue of the daily postal bulletin, postal department publication.

Hawks To The Rescue In North Texas Counties

Cotton rats, field mice and other rodents that destroy crops are catching it in the neck these days, especially in Cooke, Montague, Wise, Clay and other North Texas counties. The many species of beneficial hawks and owls are devouring them.

This is the principal migration season, for many hawks, including the big Swainson's hawk, and they are getting plenty to eat in the north country. The moral is: Protect those hawks that are beneficial. If you are not familiar with the beneficial hawks and owls, write the Game Department, Austin, for a descriptive pamphlet.

Fur-bearing animals also are busy feasting on the farm pests. Most of these should be protected too.

Dr. Cox Says:

Outlining the immediate steps being taken in emergency health measures for national defense, Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, who is acting Chairman of Defense Health and Emergency Medical care, today announced that the Offices of Civilian Defense are working in close collaboration with the American Red Cross and have now available, seven types of defense work training courses.

In those lines of work closely allied with emergency medical care, those considered most important and which have therefore been given precedence in organization, are first aid training, nurses' aides training, canteen service, motor corps, home nursing, disaster relief, and home service to assist with the problems of families of the men in uniform.

Since there has been some confusion concerning the proper procedure for enrolling in civilian defense work, Doctor Cox emphasized the fact that County Judges and Mayors throughout the state are acting as defense coordinators and advised all who wish to enroll to communicate with these officials for full information.

Training will be available to all who wish to register. Doctor Cox stated, and workers will be assigned to those duties which they prefer, and for which they are best fitted.

Girl Writes Poem
Called "Hitler
And The Devil"

Below is a tribute paid to Hitler by Miss Lorraine Fugitt, Murfreesboro, Arkansas, 20-year-old niece of Mrs. M. C. Ellis of Bogata. The poem was inspired by the "greatness" of the paperhanger's deeds.

HITLER AND THE DEVIL
Hitler called the Devil up on the telephone one day.
The girl at Central listened to all they had to say.
"Hello," she heard Hitler say, "Is Old Man Satan home?"
"Just tell him it's the dictator who wants him on the phone."The Devil said, "Howdy," and Hitler, "How are you?"
"I'm running Hell here on earth, so tell me what to do."
"What can I do," the Devil said, "dear old pal of mine?"
It seems you don't need any help—you're doing mighty fine.""Yes, I was doing very good until a while ago.
When a man named Roosevelt wired me to go more slow."He said to me, "Dear Hitler, we don't want to be unkind.
But you have raised hell enough, so you'd better change your mind.""I thought his lease lend bill was bluff, and he could never get it through.
But he put me on the spot when he showed what he could do.
Now that's why I called you, Satan, I need advice from you.
For I know that you will tell me just what I ought to do.""My dear Hitler, there is not much left to tell.
For Uncle Sam will make it hotter than I can here in Hell.
I have been a mean old devil, but not half as mean as you,
So the minute that you get here the job is yours to do.""I'll be ready for your coming and I'll keep the fires all bright.
And I'll have your room all ready when Sam begins to fight.
For I can see your days are numbered and there's nothing left to tell.
So hang up your phone, get your hat, and meet me here in Hell."

The Navy Department was established by Act of Congress, April 30, 1798.

General Douglas MacArthur's heroic defenders on Luzon Island. Russian shock troops were reported smashing in a direct frontal assault today against 100,000 Germans massed at Moshaisk, 57 miles west of Moscow, in what appeared to be one of the greatest and perhaps most decisive battles of the war. Moshaisk is the keystone of the dwindling German defense corridor on the Napoleonic road to Moscow.

Secretary of War Stimson announced today the army had started expanding to approximately 3,600,000 officers and men, more than doubling its present strength in ground and air forces.

Stimson said the increase, authorized by President Roosevelt, would be made this year, with the first three new divisions to be organized by March 25.

FRESH VEGETABLES

"We are enjoying five vegetables from our frame garden," remarked Mrs. E. A. Tweed, a member of the Central Home Demonstration Club, when the club met in the home of Mrs. Jack Walls, January 7th.

"These vegetables are radishes, onions, lettuce, carrots, and mustard," she added.

A frame garden consists of a small plot of ground, preferably long and narrow, with a plank frame around it, higher on the north side, and a cover of thin muslin or canvas. The vegetables are protected from the cold, from the wind and sand, and are especially tender and flavorful.

Build a frame garden now, plant it when the ground gets warm, gather the vegetables and prepare them in attractive ways, and you will feel better all year.

CLUB WOMEN WILL HAVE
STRAWBERRIES

"I am planning to set out 100 strawberry plants," remarked Mrs. V. B. Hohn, a member of the O. K. home demonstration club, when it met in the home of Mrs. Norris, January 8. The plants will be set in a frame garden so they will be protected from the cold and the wind and sand. The variety recommended

Strawberries are a good source of vitamin C. It may be preserved by eating the berries fresh or making strawberry juice. It is lost when the fruit is made into preserves. So, add variety to your fruit by having a bed of strawberries.
