Murder trial will stay here

By NOBLE B. YOUNG
SDN Staff Writer

District Judge Gene Dulaney has denied an attempt by defense attorneys to move out of Scurry County what is thought to be the first capital murder trial held here.

Dulaney reached his decision around 3:30 p.m. following a day-long hearing in 132nd District Court.

With his ruling, he turned away defense arguments that the suspect, Dorsie Lee Johnson Jr., 19, of Colorado City, could not receive a fair trail locally.

Johnson is charged with one count of capital murder--an offense which could result in the death penalty--in connection with the March 23 killing of convenience store clerk Jack Huddleston.

The death occurred during the course of an apparent robbery of the Allsup's store on College Ave.

The suspect was arrested and charged with that offense on April 8 following a robbery of a convenience store in Colorado City in which the store owner was shot but not killed.

Arguing for the defense was appointed attorney Frank Conard Jr. of Sweetwater. He first filed his change of venue motion Sept. 8.

Thursday, he attempted to show that news accounts related to the Allsup's shooting and subsequent "word of mouth" retellings of the incident had prejudiced prospective jurors here.

Crews complete water plant repairs

By 9 p.m. Thursday, a major repair project at the Snyder water treatment plant was completed, ending a one-day shutdown of the city water system.

"Produced water," or that which has completed the treatment process through the plant, was being sent to water storage facilities by 11 p.m., said plant superintendent Darrell Callahan.

"Everything went super," he said. "The weather slowed us up about two hours, but other than that it went just as planned."

The city's water supply line from Lake J.B. Thomas was shut off at 4 p.m. Wednesday in anticipation of the work.

Heavy rainfall experienced in the city early Thursday morning slowed the work initially, however.

"It wasn't the rain so much as the lightning," Callahan said, noting that operators of the large crane the job required could not work while lightning bolts were present.

The crane was needed to lift in place a new wooden paddle wheel which stirs the water in the settling basin.

The paddle wheel's old wooden shaft was replaced also with a stainless steel center pivot.

A new shaft was needed after the old one was worn away due to accumulations of mollusk shells in the bottom of the basin.

Also replaced were "baffles" which are used to redirect the swirling water "in a downward motion," Callahan said.

The use of these baffles enhances the settling process for the water, he said, allowing more time for undissolved solids present in the water to settle to the Council runoff Saturday

Snyder city hall will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. Saturday for a special runoff election involving the council seat to represent District 2.

The runoff developed Aug. 30 after neither candidate Ralph Williamson nor John Johnson received a clear majority--considered 50 percent plus 1 vote--in a three-man race for the council seat.

Out of 192 votes cast, Williamson received 70 and Johnson 65.

The district they seek to represent is comprised of the residential areas of west Snyder bordered to the north by 37th St.

It involves also the residential areas which have developed adjacent to both the Western Texas College golf course and Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

City maps will be provided at the polling site for city residents unclear if they reside in District 2.

After a drawing for place, Johnson's name will appear first on Saturday's ballot.

Johnson, 28, is head of the pharmacy department at Cogdell Memorial Hospital. He lives at 3749 Sunset and has been a resident of Snyder just over two years.

Williamson, 37, is supervisor for the local Southwestern Bell Telephone office. He lives at 2807 47th St. and has been a Snyder resident for two years.

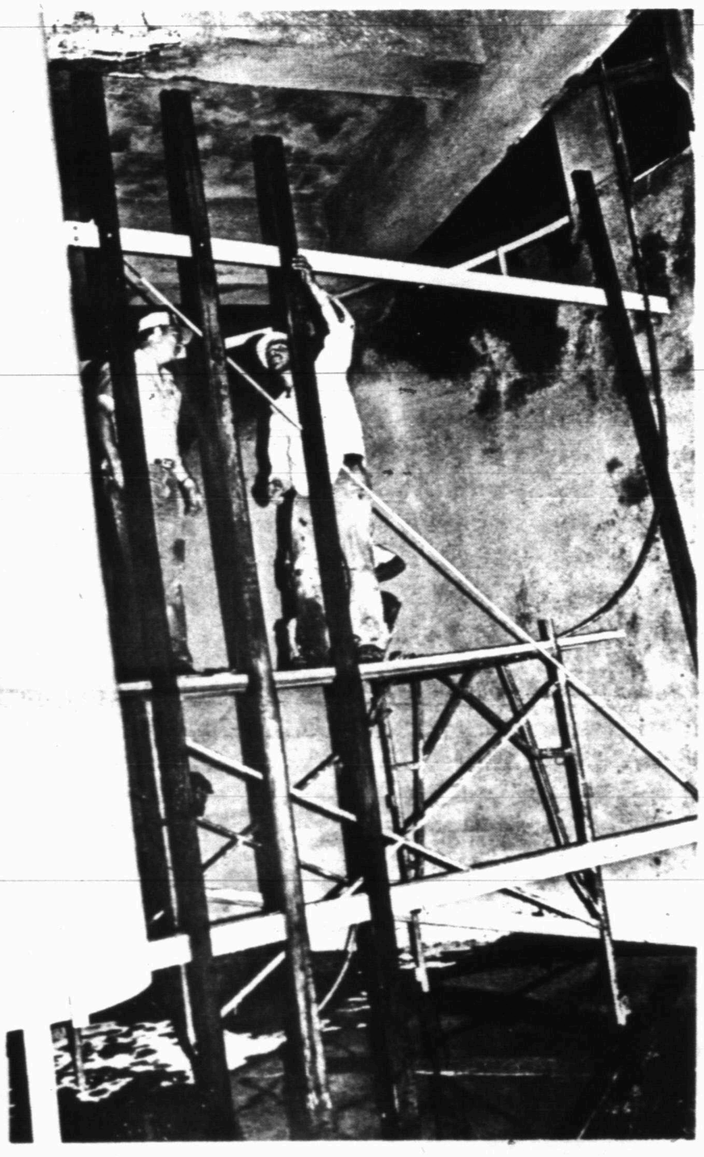

Election judge Friday will be Ollie Peek. Absentee balloting in the runoff ended Tuesday with 35 votes cast.

District 2 was one of four created here following the implementation of single member districts for city council elections.

This plan was agreed to as a settlement of a lawsuit filed by eight local plaintiffs representing the interests of minorities in the city.

In their lawsuit, they claimed that the city's previous method of electing all council members at-large was discriminatory.

Hurricane's remnant produces heavy rain

From Staff, Wire Reports

The remnant of moisture from Hurricane Paine generated thunderstorms in Snyder and other parts of West Texas Thursday, dumping 1.45 inches of rainfall here.

In Andrews some 90 miles to the west, light rain turned into a heavy thunderstorm accompanied by hail and gusty winds that ripped off part of a bowling alley roof and overturned three mobile homes.

No injuries were reported, but another mobile home also lost its roof in the heavy storms that con-

White Buffalo statues...

Unveiling planned with Gala Auction

The first event related to this year's White Buffalo Days celebration--a Gala Auction in the atrium area of the Willow Park Inn--is due Saturday.

The unveiling of the first prototype models for the bronze White Buffalo Day statue will be a highlight of the evening.

Created by Dr. Robert Taylor, the completed statue is expected to stand 7 ft. high at the shoulder. County commissioners have agreed to let Taylor place it at the Scurry County Coliseum.

Smaller versions of the statue will be sold to finance the casting of the larger statue. Saturday at 7:30 p.m., the first edition for both a 9-inch and an 18-inch tall statue will be unveiled and sold for bid.

Money generated from the auction will be used to help offset expenses related to White Buffalo Days.

Saturday's event--with tickets said a virtual sellout as of Friday--will include a social hour and silent auction at 6 p.m., a meal at 7:30 p.m., entertainment and a live auction to conclude the evening at 9 p.m.

Snyder merchants have donated items to be auctioned, again with the proceeds to benefit the White Buffalo Days event--set

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The most optimistic time in a person's life is the first three hours of a new diet."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

George Dolan, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, passed along a story told by Joe Bell, former editor and publisher of the Colorado City Record.

It occurred during a high school football game in West Texas. One team was giving up big chunks of yardage, a long-gaining play, a penalty, then another long-gainer.

A frustrated defensive back screeched, "We just ain't got no defense!"

One of the officials grabbed the player's arm and told him, "Son, that's wrong. That's a double negative. What you should say is, "We have no defense."

The coach on the sidelines waved the official over and asked. "What were you saying to my boy?"

The official explained that he had caught the player making a grammatical error.

"Omigosh," wailed the coach, "How many yards is that going to cost us?"

James Roberts, in the Andrews County News, told about the magician who had a pet parrot.

Whenever the magician was performing, the parrot would sit on his shoulder and squawk out:

"The rabbit is hidden in the top of the hat," or "The ace is hidden in his sleeve."

One day, the magician took a job on an ocean liner. During his act, the ship struck an iceberg and sank.

As fate would have it, there were only two survivors--the magician and the parrot.

They sat in a lifeboat for three days and nights, the parrot at one end of the boat, the magician at the other. The parrot did not take his eye off the magician for all the time.

"Finally, the parrot said, "All right, I give up. What did you do with the ship?"

In Brief

Jobless up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's jobless rate jumped to 7.0 percent last month as manufacturers cut 34,000 jobs. The 0.2 percentage point rise ended three months of falling unemployment.

In all, a Labor Department survey of households said, civilian employment fell by 264,000 jobs.

The largest jobless increase came among men aged 20-24, rising from 10.3 percent in August to 12.0 last month.

Today's reports, based on the household sampling and a separate business payroll survey, amounted to fresh evidence that the long-awaited turnaround in the lagging manufacturing sector has not yet arrived. Indeed, analyst Allen Sinai commented that, "We're still left asking the question: Has manufacturing bottomed out?"

NASA's Moore is reassigned

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Ten months into an "especially difficult year," the space shuttle program boss at the time of the Challenger accident is resigning as director of the Johnson Space Center.

Jesse Moore, 46, will be reassigned at his own request to a job created for him at NASA's headquarters, the space agency said.

Moore said Thursday it "has been an especially difficult year for me and it is beginning to have an adverse effect and take its toll on my family."

In a farewell speech on a closed circuit television system viewed by JSC employees, Moore said he was making the change at his request and had been in Washington working out the details.

"I am pleased with the outcome," he said.

NASA officials said Moore will leave the Johnson Space Center on Oct. 12, to become special assistant to the general manager of NASA headquarters in Washington, a position that previously did not exist. The announcement said Moore is expected to take a sabbatical leave.

Aaron Cohen, 55, a longtime NASA executive, has been named to succeed Moore as director of the Johnson Space Center. Cohen currently is director of research and engineering at JSC.

The announcement gave no reason for Moore's reassignment.

Because of the Challenger tragedy, and other problems, including "the strain imposed on my family," said Moore, "I have asked the NASA administrator to be reassigned in order to apply for a senior executive service sabbatical... I believe it is best for NASA, best for JSC and most importantly best for me to step aside at this time."

At the time of the Challenger accident, Moore was functioning as both director of the space shuttle program, a job he had held for almost two years, and as director of the Johnson Space Center, an assignment he received just five days before the accident. He played a key role in the decision to launch Challenger.

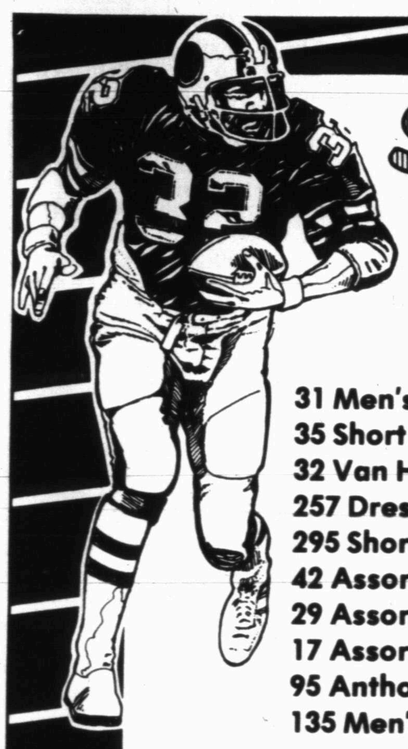

During an investigation of the Challenger accident by Congress and by a presidential commission, Moore testified that he was not aware of details of problems that the space shuttle had experienced on earlier missions with a solid rocket booster design.

The problems were discussed in an Aug. 19, 1985 briefing at NASA in Washington by officials from Morton Thiokol, the booster manufacturer, and by engineers from the Marshall Space Flight Center. The presidential commission said the briefing "was sufficiently detailed to require corrective action prior to the next flight," but none was taken.

Teacher morale down

WICHITA FALLS, Texas (AP) — Teacher morale is down and stess levels are up since the 1984 education reforms mandated by the Legislature, say Midwestern State University professors who conducted a three-year study on Texas teachers.

Since the reforms, more teachers are thinking about leaving their profession, according to the survey by education professors Gene Newton and Emerson Capps and David Martin, a political science professor.

Capps and Martin will present a paper called "Reforming Texas Education Through Legislation: The Experience of Texas Teachers," to the Southern Regional Conference of Educational Admistrators next month in Atlanta.

"Reforms in general didn't make teachers happy. They made them unhappy. Their morale is bad, they feel picked on, they want out and they wouldn't recommend (teaching) as an occupation to their children," Martin said in a recent interview.

Beginning in 1984, the researchers sent 60-question surveys to 2,000 teachers in the state. Between 730 and 833 responded each year over the three-year period. They will send out the survey for the final time this year, Capps said.

In 1984, before reforms went into effect, 53 percent agreed that they would enter teaching again. The number dropped to 47 percent in 1985 and to 33 percent agreement in 1986.

Dear Abby

Husband's Idea of Charity Flunks Test for Fidelity

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: We had been married for 15 beautiful years when a young married woman who works with my husband talked this fine, Christian family man into committing adultery. She is very plain and doesn't look the type, but she kept after him, telling him what a poor lover her husband was, so he felt sorry for her and that's how it happened.

I am sure my husband didn't lust after her; it was more like an act of charity. He told her that he had never broken his marriage vows before and he didn't intend to break them again, so she shouldn't expect it to become a habit.

Abby, would you say it was adultery even though it was done out of charity?

Please don't mention the name of this town. The population is a little under 16,000, and you know how folks talk in a town this size.

SINNED AGAINST

DEAR SINNED AGAINST: Adultery is adultery, regardless of the circumstances. That kind of charity should not only begin at home, it should end there.

DEAR ABBY: I am to be married soon and have a very serious problem to face. My fiance's father is seriously ill. (He's terminal.) The doctors have just given him a period of time to live, which comes very close to our wedding date. We set our wedding date four months ago — before we knew how sick he was.

If he is called by God close to our wedding date, what is the proper etiquette with regard to our wedding? How can we handle the joy of our wedding with the sorrow of his passing, which will be mourned by my fiance's mother and the rest of his family?

Please answer soon as there isn't much time.

HAPPY AND SAD

DEAR HAPPY AND SAD: Should your future father-in-law die on your wedding day, or a few days before, it would cast a sorrowful shadow over the wedding festivities.

Why not change your wedding to an earlier date, so he can have the pleasure of knowing you are married? If this is not possible, then I suggest postponing it until after he answers God's call.

DEAR ABBY: Last year I was widowed, so my daughter and son-in-law took me on a little trip to cheer me up. When I returned, I learned that my neighbor, who had been a dear friend of many years, came to my home and took my old dog to the veterinarian and had him "put out of his misery" — that's the way she put it.

Granted, the dog was on his last legs and he wouldn't have lasted much longer, but I was devastated. She explained that my dog would have to be put to sleep soon anyway and she knew I wouldn't have the heart to do it, and she thought she was doing me a big favor.

I just cannot get over the unmitigated gall of this woman to have taken it upon herself to do such a thing. My daughter thinks I should take legal action against the neighbor for kidnapping my pet and putting him to death, and also the veterinarian who performed the job. What do you think?

STILL IN SHOCK

DEAR STILL: What happened was presumptuous and outrageous. But a legal judgment will not compensate for the pain of your premature loss. Your neighbor undoubtedly meant to do a kindness for a dear friend. Forgive her.

Sterling subsidiary takes over closed Houston bank

HOUSTON (AP) — The same day a Houston bank closed federal officials were able to find a buyer to reopen it today, officials said.

Century National Bank was the 20th failed bank in Texas and the 107th in the nation this year. The state sets a new record for failed banks within a 12-month period each time one closes.

Sterling Bank-Willowbrook, a newly chartered subsidiary of Sterling Bancshares Inc., agreed Thursday to pay $9.77 million for Century, said Bill Olcheski, a Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. spokesman in Washington.

At the time of the closing, the 4-year-old bank had $14.8 million in assets and $13.7 million in deposits in 2,400 accounts, Olcheski said.

The U.S. Office of the Comptroller of the Currency declared the bank insolvent Thursday after its management could not turn the tide of bad loans, the office's spokesman Dale Underwood said.

"It basically ran out of money," said Pat McCarthy, FDIC closing manager. "It doesn't have any money to operate."

The bank had taken poor credit risks since it was chartered in November 1982, Underwood said. Its board of directors and senior management had inadequately monitored the bank's loan portfolio, the spokesman said.

About 35 percent of Century's loans were in the real estate sector, he said.

"Despite changes in management, the bank was unable to remedy its problems, and losses finally exhausted the bank's capital funds," he said.

His office appointed the FDIC as receiver.

Vision needed to set declarer

New York expert Ron Gerard had a tough hand to play in last summer's Life Master Pairs, but he succeeded with a little help from the defense. By the way, East's jump raise to three diamonds was pre-emptive after North's interfering bid.

In four hearts, Ron took the opening trump lead with his ace. When he played the spade queen, West won and continued with a second trump instead of switching to the king or jack of clubs. That was the help declarer needed. Ron now began running his trumps, and West comfortably pitched a club and a diamond on the fourth and fifth hearts. But West was dead in the water when Gerard played another trump.

If West threw a spade, declarer could give up a spade and get to dummy with the club ace for the good spades. If he threw a second diamond, declarer would play a diamond to dummy's king or queen and then ruff out the ace. That left only clubs, so West was forced to discard the club jack. That was no help. Ron played a diamond, winning dummy's queen when West ducked, and now established his 10th trick by playing ace and a club. East could win the queen, but declarer's club 10 became a winner.

Is there a lesson for the defense? Probably. West might have foreseen what was coming and realized that East had to hold the club queen if there was to be any chance of beating the contract. On that basis, it's not too difficult for West to find the lead of the club jack after winning the first spade.

Silver-haired Legislature adjourns

AUSTIN (AP) — The 1987 Legislature should resist any efforts to cut spending for programs for the elderly, the Silver-Haired Legislature has recommended in its top priority.

Texas' first senior legislature, made up of 116 members over the age of 60, Thursday wrapped up its four-day session by approving a list of recommendations for the regular Legislature.

"We have come out with some outstanding resolutions across the board, and I believe they will be worth fighting for in the Legislature and back in our communities," said Raleigh Jackson of LaGrange, presiding officer of the Silver-Haired Legislature.

The top priority included a call for support for community-based services and alternatives for institutional care.

The spending resolution also said "reasonable consideration (should) be given to increasing funds" for programs for the elderly.

"I think they look at this as kind of a demand to the Legislature to maintain funding with the hopes of improving funding in certain areas," Jackson said.

Bob Gibbons of Austin, chairman of the Texas Board on Aging, told the silver-haired delegates, "You have the legislators' attention, all of them."

Iran-Iraq...

Oil prices may go up at end of war

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The end of a war in the Persian Gulf could signal higher oil prices, a former Middle East ambassador says.

James E. Akins, who served as U. S. ambassador to Saudi Arabia from 1973-76, also proposed a $1 gasoline tax and an oil import fee to help the domestic industry and the country's defense.

Akins, speaking Thursday at the 67th annual Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association meeting, said Iran seems to be winning the war with Iraq.

"If the war ends, prices are going to go up, no matter how the war ends," Akins said.

He said both countries have suffered during the border conflict but still are much stronger militarily than any other oil-producing nation in the area.

Akins said that the price of oil is about $15 a barrel and that the victor in the Iran-Iraq war could dictate to other oil-producing countries the price of oil and would probably get it.

He said he was told Iran is preparing to launch a major offensive within a matter of weeks and that Iran winning the war would not be in the best interest of the United States.

Akins said the United States, for national security reasons, needs to take steps to insure it has enough oil.

He praised the efforts to increase oil reserves and said the high tax and tariff would go a long way to protect the domestic industry.

"What this would do, of course, is to re-establish immediately confidence inside the industry. It would guarantee the health and the continued survival of the American domestic industry," Akins said. "I think the security of the United States is in a hazardous situation if we're importing 10 billion barrels of oil a day, two-thirds of our domestic consumption."

Despite pleas from oil- producing states, such as Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, the Reagan administration has said it will not set an oil import fee.

Texas is suffering from the loss in oil revenue and legislators this week passed a temporary sales tax hike and imposed budget cuts to meet the shortfall.

The state, however, still has a projected $900 million deficit.

Richard C. Hudson, chairman of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, said there are fewer delegates to the convention than in past years because of the drop in the price of oil.

"I think this drop surpasses all the others," said Hudson, an independent oil and gas producer and president of Hudson Energy Co. of Houston.

"The oil business has traditionally been chicken and feathers, but I think it's far more serious now than it's been before. We're really having a hard time," Hudson said.

He said, however, that people in the petroleum industry remain optimistic and that they are working together more than ever.

He said that Saudi Arabia is doing its best to get the price of oil back to $20 per barrel.

Akins, the former ambassador, said OPEC, the petroleum cartel, probably will set quotas and price levels soon.

He said the price may go up to $20 by the end of the year and $28 within two years.

He said that no oil-producing countries want to see lower oil prices as perceived by many Americans.

He said, however, there is a potential that some countries — like Nigeria, Abu Dhabi and Libya — would cheat on their production levels, causing another price war.

If that happens, prices would be volatile for the next seven years before another price-production agreement is reached, Akins predicted.

Council cuts own salary

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The city, burdened by deficits and a depressed economy linked to the oil slump, has cut 400 jobs and adopted a four-day work week, making today the last Friday that City Hall will be open for some time.

The City Council, at the urging of Mayor Sidney Barthelemy, on Thursday adopted the cutbacks that also include a 1.5 percent tax on earnings made inside the city.

"We're going to lose a lot," Police Sgt. Paul Fricke said at the council meeting. "But the citizens of the city are going to lose a lot more. The citizens of the city are going to lose their lives."

LAFF-A-DAY

"You'd be upset, too. I just found out my daughter is marrying a chiropractor."

DENNIS THE MENACE

Tonight, 8 o'clock, Tiger Stadium...

SHS tests high-octane Loboes

When 2-4A football fans think of Monahans, they usually think of the Loboe running backs, Charles Thompson and Dana Amos.

But Snyder Coach Dennis Tomlin said this week that the Monahans front line should get just as much credit.

"We think their best players are their center, Nate Petty, and their two offensive tackles, Kevin Lisman and Lonnie Cox," said Coach Tomlin, whose Ragin' Tigers entertain the undefeated Loboes at 8 tonight in Tiger Stadium.

It will be only the second home game of the year for the Tigers, who are still looking for their first victory of the season. Monahans comes in with a 3-0 record, including a 32-6 District 2-4A victory over Pecos.

In other district games scheduled tonight, Lamesa is at Sweetwater, Fort Stockton goes to San Angelo Lake View and Pecos is at Andrews. Big Spring has the weekend off.

"Monahans' center (Petty, a 5-10, 171 senior) is an all-district returning starter," pointed out Coach Tomlin.

So is running back Charles Amos. The 5-6, 188 senior rushed for over 1,300 yards last season and ranks second in the current 2-4A listings only to teammate Charles Thompson. Amos has rushed for 377 yards in three ballgames while Thompson, a 5-6, 145-junior, has managed a whopping 530 yards on just 39 carries. Thompson also leads the district in scoring with 10 touchdowns.

"The statistics on Thompson and Amos take care of themselves," said Tomlin.

The Loboes aren't associated as a passing team - with Thompson and Amos gearing the ground game it hasn't been necessary. But quarterback Jeremy Denman is a capable threat. He has hit 7 of 11 passes for 165 yards and two touchdowns. The top receiver has been Steve Valenzuela, who has caught four touchdowns for 116 steps.

Together, the Loboe offensive unit is averaging a league-leading 478.6 yards a ballgame. Much of the squad's success comes from the big play, as Thompson's 13.6 yards-per-carry, Denman's 23.6 yards-per-pass, and Valenzula's 29 yards-per-catch averages confirm.

"That's how they score, is the big play. It really presents us with a challenge," said Coach Tomlin. "We've got to stop what we've been doing wrong in order to stop what they've been doing good. One of the keys for us will be to keep the ball offensively so they don't get the ball," noted the coach. "We're going to have to move the ball on them and sustain drives to win the ballgame."

Snyder's ground game has been its primary attack. Sophomore runner Michael Riggins leads with 268 yards on 38 carries while Troy Burton has 219 yards.

Netters host Tors, Eagles

Snyder varsity tennis team will entertain Lamesa and Pecos in District 2-4A team action here Saturday.

Snyder plays Lamesa at 8:30 a.m. and Pecos at 3 p.m. Matches will take place at the junior high courts.

Spectators are welcome.

Dusters scrimmage Odessa

Western Texas College's Dusters will entertain defending national champion Odessa in a scrimmage here Saturday at 1 p.m.

The scrimmage will take place in the college gymnasium, and spectators are welcome.

The Dusters have six scrimmages scheduled, including one with Howard College here on Oct. 18, another with McMurry here on Oct. 24, and another with Lubbock Christian College here Oct. 25.

Lady Tigers play Saturday

Snyder volleyball team, looking to regain its composure after suffering three losses in the last two weeks, will entertain Fort Stockton in the high school gym Saturday afternoon.

The match begins the second round of District 2-4A play for both teams. Snyder will try to improve on its 3-5 first-half record. The Tigers are 13-11 overall.

Action begins at 12:30 p.m. with a freshman match. Junior varsity teams take the floor at 2 p.m., followed by the varsities at 3 p.m.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students. Concessions will be available.

Celebrate homecoming...

Bulldogs to battle Cardinals

IRA -- It's homecoming time for the Ira Bulldogs, who greet Hermleigh tonight with a little hoopla, a little barbecue, and - Mitch Lee willing - a lot of offense.

The Bulldogs, who have been beset with injuries off and on this season, should be in good physical shape for the District 4-1A East Zone matchup at 7:30 p.m.

"We've prepared pretty hard for Hermleigh, just like we do with every opponent," said Coach Lee this morning. "I think we're about healed from our injuries and we should be just about 100 percent."

Homecoming activities begin at 5:30 with a brisket supper in the high school cafeteria. Tickets are $3.75 at the door. Fans may plan on eating right up until game time.

A homecoming queen will be presented at halftime, and a dance will be held in the old gym following the game. Tickets for the dance are $3 per person.

"Hopefully, all this won't affect our players too much. I don't think it will," said Coach Lee. "We've had good workouts this week. I think we're prepared. We don't know much about Hermleigh because they've got a new coach and they are doing things a little differently now. We know they run out of the spread sometimes and we'll try to be ready for it. At times in the past we've had trouble with the spread offense and at other times we've done real well against it."

Ira will have Reyez Juarez back at quarterback for the game. Lancer Hughes, a two-way starter who only played offense last week because he was recovering from an injury, will be at full strength as well. However, Coach Lee said he was going to take Hughes off of the defensive unit.

"He runs much better when we can keep him fresh," explained Lee. "He had 208 yards last week against Trent and although we didn't play particularly well as a team, Lancer himself played real well. We're going to try using him just offensively to keep him fresh and see how that works out."

Coach Lee will move Justin Spradling from cornerback to Hughes' linebacker position. Brent Withers will take over at cornerback.

In other East Zone play tonight, undefeated Jayton also holds its homecoming celebration and entertains Blackwell, while Highland welcomes McCaulley. Trent is idle.

Losing streak ended

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - The Diamond Hill-Jarvis Eagles snapped a 41-game losing streak when Vernard Hampton returned an interception 27 yards for a seal a 28-15 victory over the Polytechnic Parrots.

The Eagles' loss record tied Beeville for the third-longest in Texas high school history.

Diamond Hill's last victory was Sept. 17, 1982 against Joshua.

"It's the greatest feeling in the world to break a losing streak you've been watching since middle school," said Hampton.

The linebacker's interception return came with 2:56 left in the fourth quarter.

"It's a new experience for Diamond Hill but it feels great," said defensive end William Cox. "We knew we had it in us all the time but we finally played like we wanted to."

Monahans downs Tiger JV; Cats to contest Dunbar next

MONAHANS -- Monahans' Loboes handed Snyder junior varsity its second defeat of the season here Thursday, 28-14.

"Offensively, we executed well but we were hurt by turnovers and penalties. Overall, though, I was well pleased with our effort," said Coach Rick Howell. "Defensively, we got good play from our 3's and pluggers but we were really hurt by the sweep and their passing game. We have to give Monahans credit because they controlled the football. It was a game in which it seemed like we didn't have the ball as much as we would have liked to have had it."

Monahans opened the scoring on a 75-yard run in the first quarter. The PAT kick was good.

Snyder retaliated on a 75-yard drive in the second quarter which culminated in a four-yard touchdown run by Lee Fletcher on fourth down. The Cats went to tie the game on a David Hunter PAT kick, but the snap was bobbled. Fletcher alertly picked up the ball and ran it in to give Snyder an 8-7 advantage.

Monahans took the lead for good moments later, however, scoring on a two-yard run. The Loboes led 15-8 at the half.

Snyder came out strong in the third quarter and drove the ball well, but fumbled at the Monahans 14. The Loboes responded by pushing 86 yards to score on a four-yard pass. The PAT kick was good.

Undaunted, Snyder put together an 83-yard scoring drive. Kevin Ward broke off a 28-yard run to the 3-yard line, then scored on the next play. Hunter was stopped short on the conversion try.

Monahans put the game out of reach by taking the ensuing kickoff and marching the length of the field. The Loboes scored on a six-yard run.

Snyder had 267 yards rushing a 25 passing but had two passes intercepted and fumbled twice.

Ward led the rushing game with 104 yards on 16 carries. Roy Gutierrez had 39 yards on five carries and Hunter added 46 steps on 11 tries.

Fletcher and Chris Casas were cited for their play as defensive linebackers.

The Cats, now 2-2, will host Lubbock Dunbar at 7 p.m. next Thursday.

Freshmen gridders nipped 7-6 by team from Monahans

Snyder freshmen suffered their first loss of the season here Thursday night, falling 7-6 to Monahans at Travis Field.

The Cats, now 3-1 on the season, are idle next week but will bus to Andrews on Oct. 16.

"It was a real good football game. The kids played real well," said Coach Larry Scott. "They scored first but we came back and scored and kept on fighting until the very last."

Monahans scored on a 15-yard pass with about five minutes to play in the third quarter. The conversion kick was good.

Snyder got its points on a 20-yard run by Tracy Braziel with eight minutes left to play in the ballgame. A two-point conversion attempt came up short.

The Cats eventually got the ball back and drove from their 30 to the Monahans 17 before being stopped on fourth down with 35 seconds left to play.

"We had a real good drive at the last except we stalled on fourth down," mused Coach Scott. "We might have had a better chance at scoring if we had gotten the ball earlier, but we helped them out by getting two 15-yard penalties - both on fourth down plays after we had stopped them."

Monahans had 102 yards rushing and 27 passing. The Loboes were two-of-six with one interception, had six first downs, 60 yards in penalties and lost two fumbles.

Snyder managed 161 yards rushing and seven passing. The Tigers were one-of-three through the air with no interceptions, had 10 first downs, 55 yards in penalties and lost one fumble.

Charles Guynes picked off the Lobo pass while Kevin Murdock and Bill Freeman each recovered a fumble. In other individual accomplishments, Toby Goodwin caught one pass for seven yards while Braziel ran for 87 yards on 14 carries.

Other individual rushing shaped up like this: Guynes, eight carries for 25 yards, Randy Morris 6-21, Tommy Lane 5-19, Goodwin 2-6, Steve Ybarra 1-2, and Robert Talamentez 1-1.

Aggies planning to hold off Tech

by The Associated Press

Texas A&M opens defense of its Southwest Conference football title on Saturday after a less-than-awesome adventure into the non-conference wars.

The Aggies dropped their opener 35-17 to Louisiana State, clipped North Texas State 48-28, and showed few offensive fireworks in defeating Southern Mississippi 16-7 last week.

The Aggies will entertain a Texas Tech team that was ripped 45-14 on homecoming last Saturday in Lubbock by Baylor. The Red Raiders also ran afoul of No. 1 rated Miami three weeks ago.

In other SWC games on Saturday, Baylor hosts Houston on national television (6:45 ESPN); Texas travels to Rice to meet the humiliated Owls at 7 p.m. in Rice Stadium at 7 p.m.; and TCU is at Arkansas at noon in a Raycom regionally televised game.

SMU entertains Boston College in the only non-conference game.

The SWC hasn't done that well intersectionally. The league is 0-4 against Pac 10 teams and 0-3 against clubs in the Top Twenty.

Baylor Coach Grant Teaff said the Bears look for a tough time against Houston.

"Historically, this has been a very exciting and tough football game," Teaff said. "Houston will play flawless football against us Saturday. It seems they always do.

"They could have eight or nine fumbles the week before they play us, but since we are always their first league game they come out of the chutes for us."

Houston Coach Bill Yeoman returned the hype.

After viewing films of Baylor's defense, Yeoman said "I will be leading the cheers after every four-yard gain we make against them."

Arkansas (3-0) will be wary of the Horned Frogs on Saturday.

In 1984, TCU beat the Hogs in Fayetteville 32-31 in Arkansas Coach Ken Hatfield's first season.

Rice was beaten 31-6 by Division 1-AA Southwest Texas State last week. It was the Bobcats' first victory of the season.

Oddsmakers rated Texas A&M, Texas, and Baylor as 20 point favorites in their games. Arkansas was a 15-point choice over Baylor and SMU was a seven-point pick over Boston College.

History says A&M may not have it easy against Tech.

The Aggies haven't beaten the Red Raiders at home since 1980.

Tight end Rod Bernstine says "Nobody on this team has ever beaten Tech at home. There's something about coming to Kyle Field that fires them up and we better be at our best."

A&M has won 10 straight games at Kyle Field.

White injured

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Dallas Cowboys quarterback Danny White was injured during practice Thursday and is questionable for Sunday's game against the Denver Broncos, the Cowboys said.

White suffered a strained right hip flexor - an injury in the area of the hip muscles, said spokesman Doug Todd.

"He's listed as questionable for Sunday's game, which means he has a 50-50 chance of playing," Todd said. "He'll rest, then we'll re-evaluate Saturday."

Todd said it is unclear how the 6-foot-3, 196-pound White was hurt. "Nobody tackled him or anything. Either he tripped or somebody bumped into him," Todd said.

Running back Tony Dorsett did not practice Thursday, except in functional running drills, Todd said. He is improved, and a sprained knee would be re-evaluated Friday, Todd said.

Running back Robert Lavette, listed as questionable with a sprained ankle, practiced and was upgraded to probable for Sunday in Denver.

Fifer leads WTC at Alpine

ALPINE – Robert Fifer held the Western Texas College banner here Thursday night as he scored a 65 to take an early lead in the bareback event at the Sul Ross State University NIRA Rodeo.

The rodeo was to continue with performances tonight and Saturday at 7:30, and Sunday at 1 p.m.

No WTC team members competed Thursday but the college was well represented. In addition to Fifer's effort in the bareback, Tana Whatley clocked a 10.3 to take second place in the goat tying and Heath Sims turned a 8.8 to grab second in the steer wrestling.

Whatley also timed a 13.0 in the breakaway roping while Fifer took no-times in the team roping with Tom Figueroa and Chuck Smith.

The only other WTC student placing in the top 10 after Thursday's action was Jackie Horsfall, who clocked an 18.65 and is in fifth place in the barrels.

Western Texas students had a hard time staying behind the barrier in the calf roping. Clay Cass timed a 20.5 and Figueroa a 22.1. Sims was timed at 23.1.

Western has a number of students out again tonight, including several team members. Mike Carrillo will compete in the bareback, Keith Hudson in the calf roping, steer wrestling and team roping; Joel Marr and Todd Danley in the roping events; Jessie Colburn in the barrels and Mistri Davis in the barrels, breakaway roping and goat tying.

Other performers are scheduled Saturday, including Adam Brewster, Sandy Scott and Steve Roberts.

The top 10 finishers in each event will compete in Sunday's short-go.

Plastic surgery for scarring

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — At 39, my wife had shingles, which left her with dark keloid scars on her thighs. Cortisone injections have made no difference. One plastic surgeon even went so far as to suggest that they are the result of Agent Orange exposure in her native Vietnam. This seems unlikely, since she was a Saigon resident who left in 1966. The doctors warn her that surgery might cause further disfigurement. Aren't there plastic surgeons who can help?

DEAR READER — Shingles frequently leave permanent skin discolorations. Surgery can remove the unwanted pigmentation, but no honest surgeon is going to guarantee a perfect result. Perhaps you and your wife would feel more comfortable seeking an opinion from plastic surgeons at a teaching hospital. The doctors in large medical centers are often more geared to solving difficult problems.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I had surgery for a deviated septum about nine years ago. Recently, my breathing became uncomfortable again. I returned to the same surgeon, who said the tip of my nose was deformed and referred me to a plastic surgeon. I'm reluctant to have surgery again if it won't be a permanent repair. What would you recommend?

DEAR READER — I would go with the plastic surgeon's opinion. However, you couldn't go wrong by seeking a second opinion from another plastic surgeon. If the doctors agree, you might have to consider surgery — or continue to have your breathing problem.

DEAR DR. GOTT — After one of my routine swims in the ocean, I noticed a tiny black, fuzzy spot in my eye. My doctor said everything was normal, but noted "vitreous degeneration" on my chart. What does this mean? The spot is still with me a month later. What should I do now?

DEAR READER — Apparently, a portion of the clear gel that fills your eyeball became cloudy, or a small defect appeared on the membrane surrounding the gel. I suggest that you be examined by a qualified eye specialist. If you have already seen one ophthalmologist, ask for a referral to another for a second opinion.

Dr. Gott's new Health Report on ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE discusses symptoms, management and new studies of this tragic and irreversible disease. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to mention the title.

Astro-Graph

Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Oct. 4, 1986

In the year ahead, you will be in a positive position to make some important changes in your lifestyle that you have been eager to implement. Your actions will create benefits for your loved ones as well.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you hope to get others to do your bidding today, don't be too dictatorial. Try to phrase your directives as suggestions instead of commands. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o the newspaper, PO Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you become unduly angered with someone, ask yourself honestly if it's because of today's actions or something that has happened in the past.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In your dealings with friends today, don't be nice to them just because you're hoping for something nice from them in return. Relationships won't work on this basis.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If someone in authority gives you a specific order today, follow it through to the letter. Don't make it a test of wills between you and him or her.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It's best to keep your opinions to yourself today regarding a matter that does not involve you directly, but which could have an impact on an emotional friend.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you are only looking out for yourself today, you could have problems. In situations involving others, do what's best for the greatest number.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) What is good for you in a career situation today might not be equally favorable for one with whom you are closely affiliated. Don't let the issue create dissension.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be mindful of good work habits today, especially if you have to perform an unpleasant task. Don't try to hammer something into place where gentle techniques are required.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Try not to be too possessive today with someone with whom you're emotionally involved. Restraints create complications and anger.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You can maintain harmony in your household today if you appreciate your mate's point of view on a matter about which he or she feels strongly.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It won't help your image much today if you come down too heavily on a subordinate who isn't in a position to fight back. Release your ire elsewhere.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're an individual who usually tends to be rather cautious in your financial affairs. However, impulses today could urge you to take chances you shouldn't.

Letters to the Editor

To the editor,

It's time for a change, isn't it? After all, we're four games into the football season, and the Snyder Tigers haven't won a game. Something must be wrong, so we need to find out what it is and correct it. Right?

Well, I've followed the Tigers real closely for several years now, and I can tell you where the problem IS NOT!

First of all, the blame can't be placed upon the football players. We have seen some good football this year. I'm not saying we haven't made some costly mistakes at critical times that hurt us...but the boys are giving 100%. They have a slogan of "Loyal to Effort," and I can guarantee you they are putting out their best effort. Some of the mistakes have been made by younger players who have a bright future ahead of them, and they will learn from their mistakes and become better because of them, if we'll not squelch their desire by criticism. Don't blame the football team...they are giving all they've got.

One place we're quick to place the blame is upon the coaches...but again, that is NOT THE PROBLEM. I believe we have assembled here in Snyder one of the finest group of coaches anywhere. They are smart, intelligent, hard-working and dedicated to their task. And they are some of the most frustrated men right now because we haven't won. They have studied and agonized long days and nights trying to "put everything together." Folks, they don't need our criticism right now...they need our encouragement and our support. No one is more aware that we are 0-4 right now than our coaches...and no one wants to win more. Let's build up, not tear down.

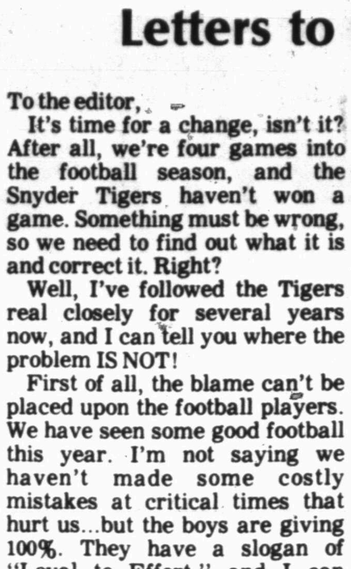

Now, let me summarize why I felt impressed to write this letter to you. I have been a citizen of Snyder for fourteen years now, and I have grown to love this community. I have seen several coaching "regimes" come and go, but never have I seen one quite like this one.

Because of my occupation, I have been closely associated with high school students. I don't have a boy playing for Snyder High School, but I wish I did, just so he could play under these coaches. Because you see, folks, they're being taught a lot more than just football...they're being taught how to be fine young men...with character, high morals, integrity, hard work, and initiative. And I submit to you that these are the things that really make for a "winner."

Let's hang in there and support the Tigers and their coaches. I believe winning games is not far away this year, and I believe next year looks very good, with some of the young athletes coming up.

As I said at the outset, it's time for a change, and maybe WE are the ones who can make the change. Attendance at the out-of-town games thus far has been way below last year. Let's fill the stands each week, watch our boys and our coaches give their "all," and we'll see good football, see some winning games, and perhaps best of all gain a new perspective on what is really important in this game we call life.

Sun dims over much of U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans needn't be alarmed by that gray shadow crossing the sun this afternoon because it's a rare but natural phenomenon — an eclipse.

Such an eclipse occurs when the moon moves between the sun and Earth, cutting off some of the light. The shadow of the moon moves across the face of the sun, starting with a small area and gradually increasing.

Town decides no taxes

GOLDTHWAITE, Texas (AP) — Taxpayers in the Mills County community of Goldthwaite won't have to pay property taxes next year, the City Council decided.

On a vote of 5-0 Thursday night, the council adopted a plan offered by Mayor J.B. Harper to eliminate ad valorem taxes for 1987 and to fund estimated city expenses of $1.5 million solely through the sale of electricity, water and fees charged for sewer and garbage service.

Harper told the San Angelo Standard-Times Goldthwaite will be the only city he knows of that won't be collecting property taxes.

"I've talked to a lot of officials around the state and didn't find one" like Goldthwaite, he said.

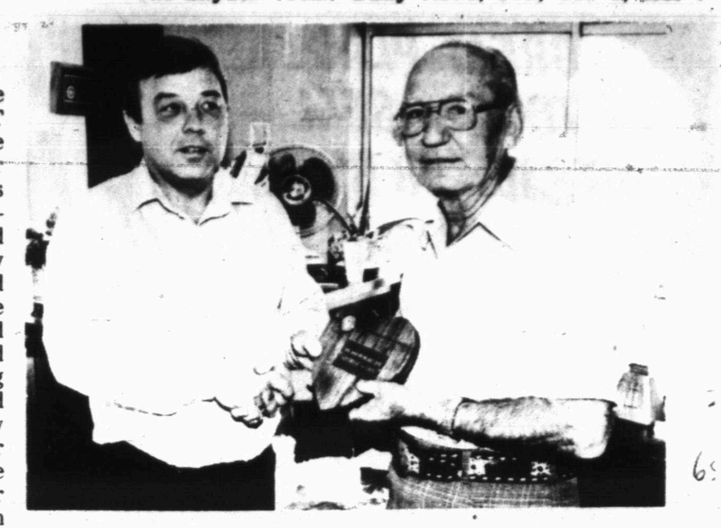

The council also approved a six-tenths of one cent decrease in the rate the city charges for electricity generated by the city-owned power plant, and decided to cancel taxes levied by the water district to pay off an outstanding bond.

"Elimination of the ad valorem tax will mean about $88,000 total savings for property owners" in the community of about 1,700, Harper said after the meeting.

He said the reduced charge for electricity effective Nov. 20 means a savings of about $6,600 per month for 1,060 customers.

Harper said he hoped the city could avoid collecting property taxes in future years, but the vote Thursday is for no taxes in 1987 only.

He said elimination of property taxes, if sustained, could improve economic conditions for the city.

Sealed indictments name 33

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — A five-month investigation which officials say will break up an organized crime ring dealing cocaine in East and North Texas brought warrants for the arrests of 33 suspects.

By Thursday night, officers had arrested about one-third of the suspects named in sealed indictments returned by a Gregg County grand jury earlier Thursday, officials said.

The indictments include 162 counts against the defendants, and all are charged with organized criminal conspiracy, said Longview Police Chief James McLaughlin.

A building boom has created surpluses of office space in many American cities, but construction continues. Of 24 cities surveyed, New York City's Manhattan had the lowest vacancy rate. At the other end of the scale, more than 26 percent of offices in Houston were vacant last summer.

Residents celebrate after fugitive commits suicide

WRIGHT CITY, Mo. (AP) — Residents haunted by the presence of fugitive Michael Wayne Jackson relaxed today after the suspect in a three-state crime spree killed himself when he was cornered by police in an abandoned barn.

"We can finally unload our shotguns," said resident Nelson Paul, 28, as he stood in the rain outside a police command center early today. "It's like having a load of bricks lifted from your shoulder.

Jackson, a 41-year-old former mental patient, shot himself in the head late Thursday with the same shotgun he had used throughout the rampage that began Sept. 22 and left three people dead, said Hal Helterhoff, head of the FBI office in St. Louis.

"We're pleased to bring peace and quiet back to Wright City," Helterhoff said at a news conference today. "You always get very pleased when you can bring a menace to society to final justice."

Jackson, still bearded and wearing the same clothes he had on when last seen, was positively identified through fingerprints, Helterhoff said.

The barn was less than a ¼-mile from where Jackson was last seen after a shootout with police Sept. 22. Jackson was barefoot and apparently had been trying to dry his shoes, indicating he recently had been in the rain, said state Trooper Walt Ryan.

"He hadn't been in there that long," Ryan said early today. "That barn had been checked and rechecked numerous times. ... There were a lot of cars patrolling all the time, so he couldn't stay in one place very long."

The crime spree terrorized Wright City, a town of 1,200 people in eastern Missouri near St. Louis, and residents armed themselves and locked their doors for the first time in years.

"Michael Jackson has had me in jail," Maxine Schell, 54, of rural Wright City said Thursday night.

Local Cinema drops prices

Cinema Theatre manager Tony Hayley has announced that adult ticket prices have dropped from $4 to $3.50. Hayley explained that Noret Theatres made the decision to drop prices due to economic conditions. Children's tickets will remain $2.50 each.

The Snyder Cinema also offers bargain nights on Monday and Tuesday when all tickets are priced at $2. Matinee prices on Saturdays and Sundays are $2.50.

Periodically the Cinema sponsors coupon promotions for concession products.

Hostages plead for efforts for release

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Islamic Jihad today released a videotape from two American hostages who pleaded with the U.S. government to make the same efforts to secure their release — and that of a third fellow captive — as it did for American journalist Nicholas Daniloff.

It was the first time that Terry Anderson, 38, chief Middle East correspondent for The Associated Press, appeared in a videotape made in captivity since he was abducted in Moslem west Beirut on March 16, 1985.

Both Anderson and fellow hostage David Jacobsen, 55, of Huntington Beach, Calif., who was kidnappd May 28, 1985, said that another American, William Buckley, 57, a U.S. diplomat, had been "murdered" in captivity. Buckley's captors previously claimed they killed the U.S. Embassy political officer, and a freed captive also said Buckley had been slain.

In his appeal, Anderson referred by name to a third captive American, Thomas Sutherland, dean of agriculture at the American University of Beirut, saying he, Sutherland and Jacobsen wished to thank "all those in America who are working and praying for our release."

Couple hospitalized after Thursday wreck

Ewell Pike Diggs, of 1001 Ave. E, and his wife Evelyn, were admitted to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for observation following an automobile accident at the intersection of Ave. E and the East Highway just after 3 p.m. Thursday.

Both sustained what were described as cuts and bruises when their 1985 Pontiac was struck by a 1975 International pickup driven by Eulala Davis Melton of 1900 West Dr.

The Diggs vehicle was northbound on Ave. E — crossing the intersection — when the eastbound Melton truck collided into it.

Units of the Snyder Fire Department and the "jaws of life" were summoned to the scene to free Ewell Diggs from the driver's side seat of his vehicle. The tool was not required, however.

Hospital spokesmen reported Friday morning that Evelyn Diggs had been released from the hospital Friday morning.

Ewell Diggs remained in the hospital for further observation Friday.

Youth arrested

Police took a 15-year-old male juvenile into custody Thursday morning for shoplifting.

That arrest came in response to a call from employees of the Lawrence IGA supermarket in the 4100 Block of College Ave.

Congress authorized the establishment of a military academy at West Point, N.Y., in 1802.

Fire truck in minor accident

Four minor traffic accidents were reported in Snyder Thursday including one involving a City of Snyder fire truck.

When the mishap occurred, the 1977 Ford fire truck was enroute to a traffic accident at Ave. E and the East Highway with lights and sirens running.

It was in collision with a driver going with the green light at the intersection of 25th St. and Ave. Q.

Police reported that Opal Eades of Rt. 2, Snyder, was north bound on Ave. Q crossing 25th St. when she was struck by the truck eastbound on 25th. The accident occurred around 3:21 p.m.

Driver of the truck was Walter Banks of 3709 Sunset Dr.

No injuries resulted from the mishap.

The day's first minor accident was reported at 8 a.m. in the 3700 Block of College Ave.

Involved in it were a 1978 Chevrolet driven by Austin Glenn McQueen of Snyder and a 1980 Chevrolet driven by Sylvia LaFon Williams of Hermleigh.

The 3900 Block of Dalton Dr. was the scene of the second accident at 8:32 a.m.

Involved in it was a 1978 Chevrolet driven by Denise Ellen Crawford of 500 29th St. which struck a parked 1978 Chevrolet owned by Don Cheek of 2302 Sunset Dr.

The final mishap reported inside the city occurred at 4:34 p.m. in the 3600 block of College Ave.

Involved in it were a 1982 Pontiac driven by Carla Franks Nunley of 2234 Sunset Dr., a 1985 Dodge driven by Karen Pilgrim of 2108 42nd St., and a 1985 Dodge driven by Neika McCowen of Rt. 2, Snyder.

tinued through Friday.

Ray Pope, manager of the Andrews Bowlarama, said, "A tornado hit it. It blowed part of the roof off and caved part of the ceiling in," said Pope, who was inside the bowling alley with his wife shortly before 5 p.m. when the storm struck.

Although he and his wife, Bertie, were the only ones in the building at the time, Pope said, a tournament had been scheduled for later.

The Andrews County Sheriff's Office reported that four homes had been damaged in a trailer park.

"All the trailers at the time were unoccupied," said Mike Cook, a dispatcher.

The rainfall in Snyder upped the year's total to 22.85 inches.

Other rain totals reported included 3.8 inches at Hermleigh and 2.7 inches at Dunn. Other reports included 1 inch at Ira; .80 of an inch at Fluvanna; and some .20 of at inch at Polar in Kent County.

The Friday night forecast was for a 30 percent chance of thunderstorms, decreasing to 20 percent Saturday.

DPS investigates pair of mishaps

Snyder-based highway patrolmen were called to investigate two minor traffic accident Thursday and Friday morning.

The first was reported at 10:45 a.m. Thursday in Hermleigh at the intersection of U.S. Hwy. 84 and County Road 466.

Involved in it were a 1971 Ford driven by Rose Marie Koski of Hermleigh and a 1981 Volkswagen driven by Darrell R. Edwards of Peoria, Ill.

The second accident occurred at the traffic circle in east Snyder at 8 a.m. Friday.

Involved in it were a 1982 Ford driven by Hollis Fisher of Abilene, which was in collision with a 1985 Chevrolet driven by Robert Cannon of Abilene.

No injuries resulted from either mishap.

bottom of the holding tank.

The new baffles now in place are larger than the old ones, up from 8 ft. square to 10 ft. This change is expected to improve the efficiency of the treatment plant operation, he said.

While Thursday's work was being completed, the city was dependent on its stored reserves for its water supply. These reserves were topped out before the line was shut down, leaving some 3.2 million gallons available.

The project also prompted a request for assistance from local water customers, who were asked to cutback on any unnecessary use of water.

"Anytime we ask for help from the public, we get it," Callahan said, "and we'd like to thank them again for cooperating with us."

He said the plant's lone settling basin will again be drained in the near future to check the equipment newly installed Thursday.

This check will likely be sometime next week, he said. "We'll tighten any loose nuts and bolts and insure that everything is still lined up," he said.

Assisting city crews with the work Thursday were staffers with Triple F Control of Amarillo. In all, 13 workers were involved in the project, eight from the city.

Hearing denies trial site change

In rebuttal, District Attorney Ernie Armstrong presented witnesses testifying that there was no widespread "public passion or excitement" about the case.

In his final argument before the court, Conard argued that the repetition of facts of Johnson's arrest in some 16 news stories in the SDN since March had "implanted the facts (of Johnson's arrest) so firmly in the minds of prospective jurors that they could not make a decision based solely on the evidence presented in court."

Earlier in the day, he had elicited testimony from Donny L. Brown of the Snyder Daily News and Perry Westmoreland of radio station KSNY about news coverage of the murder and subsequent events.

Armstrong, in his rebuttal, argued that the news accounts had been accurate and that the "facts of the case" reported had not speculated on Johnson's guilt or innocence.

"They have reported that Johnson is charged with the murder, and this is exactly the same thing we will tell jurors when they are summoned to hear the case," Armstrong argued.

With Dulaney's ruling Thursday, the way is now clear for the jury selection process for Johnson's trial to begin as scheduled Oct. 13.

After Dulaney's ruling on the change of venue motion, Conard filed another motion to allow him more time to prepare his case. This motion was denied by Dulaney also.

Reagan, Shultz...

Plan to lie to media denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan says he was shocked by a published report that he approved a disinformation program to deceive Libyan leader Moammar Gadhafi and challenges "the veracity of that entire story."

Asked to specify what was inaccurate about the story, published Thursday in The Washington Post, Reagan disputed only an anecdote quoting him as saying during a secret strategy meeting on the plan, "Why not invite Gadhafi to San Francisco, he likes to dress up so much."

"I don't want Gadhafi any place in the United States, and being Californian, it's the last place I'd send him," Reagan said.

But the president insisted in a question-and-answer session with a group of columnists and commentators that there "was not any plan of ours" to influence the Libyan strongman by planting false stories in the American press.

"I challenge the veracity of that entire story that I read this morning with great shock," Reagan said, adding the secret memos quoted by the Post "were not a part of any meeting I've ever attended."

The White House made public excerpts of Reagan's conversation with the invited journalists, as well as comments by a senior administration official who also spoke with the group.

Reagan defended taking steps to "have Mr. Gadhafi go to bed every night wondering what we might do. And I think that's the best position for anyone like that to be in."

But when asked if he thought it was all right to plant false information in the press to make Gadhafi nervous, Reagan replied, "Oh, no. No."

Speaking to reporters in New York, Secretary of State George Shultz defended the use of deception by the government to confuse enemies.

"If I were a private citizen reading about it and I read that my government was trying to confuse somebody who was conducting terrorist acts and murdering Americans, I'd say, 'Gee, I hope it's true,'" he said.

But Shultz said that while he supports the concept of disinformation, it was not applied against Gadhafi.

"I know of no decision to go out and tell lies to the media," he said.

Shultz suggested, however, that the media served the administration's purpose of confusing Gadhafi by reporting on U.S. naval movements close to Libya's shores.

"You people in the news business enjoy not allowing the United States to do anything in secret if you can help it," he said. "If the fleet moves from one place to another, you're bound and determined to report it even though you might want to have it operate secretly.

"So we can absolutely bank on the fact that if the fleet does something or other you'll scream," Shultz continued. "Gadhafi will hear it. And we may or may not be getting ready to do something."
