MERCHANT MARINE CONGRESS

Strength of Japan's Auxiliary Navy, Through Subsidies, is Demonstrated—Hobson Urges Legislation.

Washington.—Japan's auxiliary naval strength through its merchant marine and the advantage which that country might have in a war with the United States and the extension of sales abroad as necessary to keep the American factory running full time were cited in an address at the National Merchant Marine Congress Monday as reasons for the immediate establishment of a merchant marine.

Representative W. F. Humphrey of Washington declared that while war with Japan was not now anticipated the United States was much nearer war over the anti-Japanese crusade in California than most people had realized.

Mr. Hobson said: "It is true that bitter antagonisms have been aroused in the past, but I believe that, broached in the proper spirit, both parties can even yet get together before the end of the present congress and enact the legislation necessary to accomplish this object."

In addition to high-class vessels for naval purposes our merchant marine must have a large tonnage of cargo carriers. In the present state of international competition it will be practically necessary to induce or drive cargoes into American bottoms. To be complete this provision should provide for a reduction of not less than 5 per cent on goods that are dutiable and an assessment of 2 per cent ad valorem on goods on the free list.

"We should drive the cargoes now in indirect trade into American bottoms by discrimination of 5 per cent added upon all goods in the indirect trade. In addition to this inducement I believe we could remit the head-money tax on immigrants brought in American bottoms and could well pay out of the United States treasury the tolls required by the Panama Canal."

"In view of the urgent need of vessels I believe a comprehensive measure should also embrace a provision for free ships when owned entirely by American capital, although of foreign build and only that the coastwise trade and mail contracts should be denied such vessels as now are in existence."

"A measure embracing both cargo carriers and high-class vessels for naval auxiliaries could be drawn to meet the essential requirement of both demerits and republicans and thus take the matter out of politics. There should then be no trouble encountered in having the measure enacted into law."

TEXAS NATIONAL BANK EXCHANGES.

Washington.—The controller of the currency announced Thursday the following changes in the national bank items for the Texas national banks, exclusive of the reserve cities, at the close of business Jan. 7: Individual profits increased from $115,153,679 on Nov. 16 to $116,116,996 on Jan. 7. Loans and discounts decreased from $110,240,731 to $107,268,546; gold coin increased from $2,351,491 to $2,474,440, and lawful money reserve increased from $10,241,671 to $10,368,355. The average reserve was 18.25 per cent Nov. 10, as compared with 18.23 per cent Nov. 19.

Bandits Hold Up Trolley Car.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Yelling like Indian warriors and firing promiscuously from revolvers in both hands, two masked bandits boarded a suburban car on the outskirts of Santa Monica Wednesday and after robbing twenty-two passengers and seriously wounding one of them, were routed and forced to flee by a single shot. The wounded robber was arrested later when he came to the city for medical treatment. He was handcuffed in the cheek. He gave the name of Roy Fox, and said he was 19 years old.

CAVALRY PATROLLING BORDER

Plans of Troop C at Brownsville, Tex., for Preserving the Neutrality Laws.

Brownsville, Tex.—The members of Troop C, Third Cavalry, U. S. A., who have arrived to patrol the Mexican border from the mouth of the Rio Grande to Rio Grande City in order to preserve the neutrality laws existing under the treaty between United States and Mexico, were busy on Saturday arranging their quarters and preparing for their indefinite stay. The old hospital building at Fort Brown has been found to be the best building of the fort grounds for the use of the troop and Captain Harper and Lieutenant Connelley who are in command, have found desirable quarters in the upper rooms of the building.

Captain Harper received by mail a summary of the neutrality laws which his troop is expected to preserve, but beyond this Captain Harper said he had received no news or instructions from headquarters. His original instruction was to patrol the border and he will in a few days send a detachment of twelve men with six days' rations to patrol from here to Rio Grande City and back, and at the same time send a squad of six or seven troopers for the same duty to the mouth of the river and back. On the return of each squad another detachment will be sent out for the same duty and this will be kept up incessantly while the troops remain here.

United States Marshal William Lynton called at the fort and the patrolling will be done in conjunction with the federal, civil and customs officials.

Tabasco Deal Costly.

Washington.—An American firm of importers which made plain American tabasco at New Orleans shipped it abroad, where fancy English labels were pasted on the bottles and then brought it back as "real English tabasco sauce," will have to pay a 40 per cent duty for the experiment. The importers carried the case to the customs court, where it was decided that the tabasco had advanced in value abroad and was dutiable.

Oklahoma City, Ok.—In a signed statement Thursday former Governor Haskell indorsed the idea of a state-built railroad from Woodward County to Hugo, or that vicinity, and says that the project can be easily financed if backed by the state. A GREAT AVIATION STUNT

CURTIS RISES FROM THE WATER IN AEROPLANE.

Soars About and Returns—Of Interest to Navy—Can Start Alongside Warship.

San Diego, Cal.—For the first time in the history of aviation an aeroplane rose from the surface of the water on Thursday, sailed about and returned to the starting point, where it landed on the water as easily as a gull.

The feat was accomplished by Glenn H. Curtiss in his specially equipped aeroplane on San Diego Bay. The machine covered about two miles and the flight was made after almost two weeks of experimenting to devise special apparatus to float the machine and allow it to attain sufficient speed on the surface of the water before lifting.

When the aeroplane was brought out at noon and floating on the shallow water between Coronado and North Islands it was equipped with special planes and a new arrangement of front surfaces. Curtiss climbed into the seat and started the power of the motor. The aeroplane scudded up the bay at a forty-mile clip for a quarter of a mile, then lifted out of the water and rose to a height of fifty feet. After remaining in the air one minute and twenty seconds, flying half a mile, Curtiss alighted and turned about as easily as a motor boat. Putting on full power he again rose, this time to a height of a hundred feet, sailed over the bay a mile from the starting point, circled around near the revenue cutter Bear and the repair ship Iria, and landed lightly on the water in front of the hangar on shore.

"I have succeeded in solving the one problem the secretary of the navy regarded as the most difficult and the one necessary to make the aeroplane of value to the navy," said Curtiss as he stepped ashore. "I can now start an aeroplane from the water alongside a warship, make my trip and return light alongside and be hoisted aboard. This is a feat of great importance to the navy."

Sues for $340,000.

Austin, Tex.—The attorney general's department Wednesday filed suit in the twenty-sixth district court at Austin against the Peavey & North Western Railroad Company for penal ties aggregating $340,000. The petition alleges violation of the railroad commission's order to run trains according to the published schedule in sixty-eight counties between Nov. 15 and Feb. 15, 1910, inclusive. The trains were No. 27, between Amarillo and Lubbock, and train No. 83, between Lubbock and Lamesa.

Farmers are busy preparing for another crop. Have a splendid top season, but need a great deal more rain this winter for wells and stock. Very few oats and wheat planted in this neighborhood, the crops here being mostly corn and cotton.

Appeal to Foreign Countries. Peim.—The government is sending a note to the Chinese ministers abroad inviting them to invite the government to which they are accredited to send experts to the affected districts to study the bubonic plague and means for its extermination. TESTIMONY IN PEONAGE CASE

Tells of Conditions at Stockade and Treatment as He Found Them, Alleging Cruelty.

Austin, Tex.—Ward M. Fuller, a young man of pleasing address, who said he was 19 years old and that he was a native of Illinois, told a story of the "peonage" cases before the federal court Wednesday which caught and held the attention of all who heard it.

Fuller repeatedly told the court and jury that he had been taken into custody just after getting off a train at Somerville, that he had been taken to the Koppe farm, in Burleson County, and there compelled to labor hard for many days, subjected the while to numerous indignities and brutalities. He admitted that he had not paid his fare to ride on the train, but insisted that he had never been given a trial for that offense, and that the treatment accorded him had been brutal in the extreme. Many details were given in his testimony and frequently by his manner as well as words the witness manifested the indignation he still feels because of his experience.

He said that negroes had stripped him and sat on his head and feet while a guard had beaten him with a leather device known as a "bat," that he had been kicked and beaten with the butt end of a pistol.

Although subjected to a merciless examination by Representative J. P. Buchanan of counsel for the defense, the young man stuck to his story and made reply in kind when sarcasm was employed. He admitted that he had filed a $50,000 damage suit in a court at Houston, seeking to recover the $50,000, but that a writ of habeas corpus had been granted, and that this suit had been dismissed.

Bell County Cotton Crop.

Temple, Tex.—The total cotton yield for Bell County for the season of 1909-10 is expected by the county in a position to reach a total in excess of 50,000 bales of an average weight of 50 pounds each, which is about the same as the previous year, although returns to growers have been larger owing to the better prices realized.

The State Legislature

DOINGS IN THE SENATE AND HOUSE

Senate Proceedings.

Austin, Tex.—Among the flood of petitions received in the senate Saturday, was one from Professor Wilbur Peacock of the Peacock Military Academy, his San Antonio indorser, the Coker anticigarette bill and declaring that cigarettes do more harm than all the saloons in Texas combined.

Senator Vincent secured the final passage of his bill authorizing the city of New Braunfels to construct a dam across the Guadalupe River for power purposes.

By invitation, former Senator George W. Savage of Montague County made a few remarks to the senate and was applauded.

The chair ruled that the resolution requiring bills to be printed can not be suspended, though it could be rescinded. He declined to entertain Senator Coker's motion to suspend the resolution, and held that a bill must be printed unless the committee recommended otherwise.

Senator Hudson secured consideration of his bill providing for the eradication of sheep scrap, appointment of inspectors of sheep, etc.

Sensors Greer, Lattimore and Carter offered an amendment cutting out the appropriation from the state for state inspectors and leaving the enforcement of the law to county inspectors.

Senator Hudson vigorously opposed the amendment.

After a great deal of discussion the amendment was killed by a vote of 21 to 6.

At this juncture Senator McNeals attempted to send in the report providing for printing the legislative manual, but Senator Watson objected, and unanimous consent was required and the amendment was adopted.

Sensors Mayfield and McNeals offered an amendment making it the duty of the state inspector to act in counties having less than 2,000 sheep when requested to do so by any sheep owner. Counties with less than 2,000 sheep have no county inspectors. The amendment was adopted.

Senator Murray secured the adoption of an amendment providing that there shall be no state inspectors after two years.

Senator Willacy had an amendment adopted reducing the appropriation from $5,000 to $3,500.

The bill was finally passed after numerous corrective amendments were adopted.

House Proceedings.

Austin, Tex.—The house of representatives Saturday authorized the appointment of an additional elevator inspector to the reading of a concurrent resolution by Mr. Hunt asking congress to prohibit polygamy, and adjourned.

The foregoing is a full and fair report of all the proceedings of the day session of the house, one of the short sessions ever held before that body.

Because of the disposition to adjourn, the fond hopes of Senator McNeals and Representative Williams of Dallas, that they might get the "democratic city election bill" enacted into law vanished. It seems evident, furthermore, that the supporters of the initiative and referendum constitutional amendment may block the passage of the McNeals-Williams bill because of Mr. Williams' opposition to said amendment. Senator McNeals got his bill through the senate, namely by a vote of 27 to 3, pros and cons coming to its support, just as though no difference ever had existed in that body. But that was two days ago, and since then legislative war has developed in the house.

The initiative and referendum people have not despaired of their amendment. They are working like beavers, hoping to get the necessary two-thirds vote when the measure shall come up on third reading. The wires have been kept hot with messages from the representatives, asking them either to oppose or support the initiative and referendum resolution, or to oppose or support the McNeals-Williams election bill. Most of these telegrams came from Dallas, and the impression exists that that city is stirred up and that the telegraph companies are prospering.

The initiative measure to this is the bill by the prohibitionists providing for representation of both sides in elections upon subjects such as constitutional amendments. Senator Sturgeon expects to call this bill up Monday.

Representative Highsmith of Harris County received many telegrams from Houston, asking him to oppose the bill requiring corporations and other employers of labor to pay employer twice a month.

House Bills.

Austin, Tex.—Hills introduced in the house Saturday.

By Mr. Nichols.—To prohibit owners of turkeys, geese, etc., from permitting running at large upon the lands of others between June 15 and Dec. 15 without consent of owners.

By Messrs. Self and Hunt.—Providing that towns and cities operating under the general law may hold elections at a central place, having separate ballot box for each ward.

By Mr. Chapin.—Providing that every claim against a testator or intestate shall present same within twelve months of grant of letters testamentary or administration.

By Mr. Bonner.—Smith County road law.

By Mr. Brookshire.—Williamson County road law.

By Messrs. Stevenson and McKinney.—Providing for a clerk to the board of elections.

True Patriotism

By REV. DAVID F. NYGREN
Pastor of Swedish Baptist Church
Minneapolis, Minn.

TEXT.—As free, and not owing your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.—1 Peter II, 16.

Just as at Christmas and at Easter, we find many persons who revise their allegiance to religion, so we find a strenuous attempt on the part of many to renege their sleeping patriotism, which they express in a great measure by fire and smoke, the heritage of our nation's ancestors.

I would first say that this ought and ought not to be so, all depending on what we mean with patriotism. If patriotism be of the right kind, we would indorse it. If it be patriotic means to be loyal, not to a mere selfish cause, but to a general high and noble cause, then we indorse it. Our dear "U. S. A." though large, is not large enough. We would have the whole world, nay, more, all the worlds; yea, the heavens, too. As servants we would be interested in all the possessions of our Master.

Christianity does not encourage particular patriotism in opposition to general benignity. If it did, it would not be adapted for the world. The duties of the subjects of one state would often be in opposition to those of the subject of another, and men might inflict evil or misery upon neighbor nations in order to further the Christian law.

Christianity is designed to benefit not a community but "the world." The promotion of the interests of one community by injuring another—that is, "patriotism in opposition to general benignity"—Christianity utterly rejects as wrong.

Still would not a doctrine of general patriotism be rational? We would answer in the affirmative. And Christianity does not appear to encourage the doctrine of being a "citizen of the world," and of paying no more regard to our community than to every other. That opposes to the natural and virtuous feelings.

If it were put in practice, it would destroy confined benignity without effecting a counterbalancing amount of universal philanthropy. Who indeed shall support and cherish and protect a child if its parents do not?

That speculative philosophy is vain which would supplant those dictates by doctrines of general philanthropy. It cannot be applicable to human affairs until there is an alteration in the human constitution. Not only religion, therefore, but reason and nature, reject the philosophy which teaches that no man should prefer or aid another because he is his countryman, his neighbor or his child.

This is an idle system of philosophy which sets out with extinguishing those principles of human nature which the Creator has implanted for wise and good ends.

He that shall so far succeed in practicing this philosophy as to look with indifference upon his parent, his wife and his son, will not often be found with much zeal to exercise kindness and benevolence to the world at large.

But to cherish and support our own children rather than others; to do good to our neighbors rather than to strangers; to benefit our own country rather than another nation, does not imply that by so doing we must injure other nations, or strangers, or their children, in order to do good to our own. Here is our point of discrimination which we will enlarge upon presently—a point which vulgar patriotism and vulgar philosophy have alike overlooked.

I dare not stop by saying that the right kind of patriotism would be to do good to my nation, and by doing this, not to do any menace to other nations. That would just simply be changing the Golden Rule to nothing at all. By having this kind of an idea I would say, "Do nothing unto others."

Then a person in order to be a general "patriot" would need do "nothing."

No, our Christian way is better; it is the best. "Do unto others, etc." That makes a man take off his coat, turn up his sleeves and go to work! Not only so good that one does no harm, but so harmless that one must do good! Not only a negative in regard to not doing harm, but so strong a negative that one becomes a positive.

In the second place, I would say, not that it ought, but positively that it ought not to be so, in regard to the way we show our patriotism. As we have mentioned this expresses itself in a great measure by fire and smoke, by noise and a general disturbance; this being the heritage of our warring ancestors.

The spirit of true patriotism does not find its expression in boasting of success in wars which were fought before we were born.

Reason said experience both forbid us," said the father of our country, "to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle."

To be true patriots is to bring the gospel to every creature, beginning in Jerusalem, our own land, and then to the uttermost parts of the earth.

It is curious to note when Columbus on his historic voyage, was approaching the shores of the western world, a flickering light was dimly seen through the darkness by one of his sailors. "It may be," said Columbus, "that the faithful wife of some fisherman is waving a torch to guide him on his homeward way."

It is curious to note when Columbus on his historic voyage, was approaching the shores of the western world, a flickering light was dimly seen through the darkness by one of his sailors. "It may be," said Columbus, "that the faithful wife of some fisherman is waving a torch to guide him on his homeward way."

Reason said experience both forbid us," said the father of our country, "to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle."

To be true patriots is to bring the gospel to every creature, beginning in Jerusalem, our own land, and then to the uttermost parts of the earth.

It is curious to note when Columbus on his historic voyage, was approaching the shores of the western world, a flickering light was dimly seen through the darkness by one of his sailors. "It may be," said Columbus, "that the faithful wife of some fisherman is waving a torch to guide him on his homeward way."

Christ's Most Marvelous Miracle

HOW little faith man has in the unknown! As soon as he is brought near the unheeded of the unknown, his hair begins to rise on end. Instead of taking it for granted that God is in the unknown, and that therefore it is friendly, kind, and helpful, he sees in the unknown a horrible specter, and screams in terror. If John or Peter had seen a flying machine darting across from Gadara to Bethsaida, they would have had the same fear. So should we, a few years ago, they had seen a steamboat plowing its way from Bethlehem to Caesarea, they would have been equally frightened, as we should have been a few decades ago. Who knows what mysteries that now cause our flesh to creep will by next year become commonplace in our lives?

Indeed, was not the air, perhaps as familiar to Christ as the water? Who knows? On those nights which He spent by Himself in prayer among the hills may He not often have mounted to the skies, and thus have withdrawn Himself literally from the frets of earth into the serenity of Heaven? Do you think that the possession of such a power would have separated Him from us? No more than walking on the sea. And we may go both some day; both may be among the "greater things" that are reserved for Christ's disciples. Why limit the subduing of nature to which God commands us? If Peter could walk on the waves, by faith, and as long as his faith endured, could not we also?

Walking With Christ.

And truly, though it may not be our duty or our privilege to walk out on this mystery, there is no reason why we should not ask Christ's permission to walk out toward Him on this or any other domain of the unknown; and if He says "Come," let us not deserve the rebuke He gave to Peter, "O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?" To us the tossing waves of all the unknown shall be as a level floor, if Christ bids us come to Him upon the water.

In one way of looking at it, the greatest of Christ's miracles was not the healing of any disease, however severe, since the sick men had intelligence to which our Lord could appeal, nor was it even the raising of the dead, since there were departed spirits that could be summoned to re-inhabit their old-time tenements. The most wonderful of the miracles, as I think, were those that wayed human nature toward those that mastered the winds and the waves, when He stilled the storm and when He walked on the water.

The walking on the water was a greater marvel than even the staving of the vast air-currents of the world, since it was a commanding of gravity, a force beyond the world, a force that some hold to be the central resultant of all forces, the power that unites all the planets and stars of the universe. Gravity is still after all these centuries of thought and investigation, the one deepest mystery of nature; yet Christ was as easily master of it as of the clay on which He walked or the couch on which He lay down.

Evil Temptations.

It is interesting to note that all of the three wrong things that Christ was tempted to do in the wilderness he did later when they were right, when no tempting of God or yielding to Satan was involved. He did not make bread from stones for Himself, but He made bread from practically nothing for 5,000 persons. He did not do homage to Satan to win all the kingdoms of the world, but He won them by way of the cross. "And I, I will be faithful, and will draw all men unto myself." And He did not defy gravitation for the sake of men's applause, throwing Himself from the parapet of the Temple, but He defied gravitation none the less, walking alone at night over the abysses of the sea. It is thus with many of the Devil's temptations; they are evil only while he is associated with them.

Christ's Witnesses.

Every confessed follower of Christ is daily helping or harming Christ's cause among men. While those who have not accepted Christ are under as much obligation to do his will as those who have accepted him, nevertheless it is to his followers that the world properly looks for evidence in favor of or against Christ's claims. It has been said that "the Christian, very frequently, is the only Bible that the world has to read." Are the pages of our life presenting, or misrepresenting, our Saviour to the world? The world's power to read is strong and keen. "Ye are my witnesses" is for the Christians of today even as for the apostles of old.

All we want in Christ we shall find in Christ. If we want little, we shall find little. If we want much, we shall find much; and if, in inter helplessness, we cast our all on Christ, He will be to us the whole treasury of God.—Bishop Whipple.

If a man has a right to be proud of anything—it is of a good action done as it ought to be, without any base intention lurking at the bottom of it.—Sterne.

Citation By Publication.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Kimble County,
Greeting:—

You are hereby commanded to summon J. M. Dougherty, and the unknown heirs of said J. M. Dougherty and their legal representatives, by making publication of this citation, once each week for eight successive weeks previous to the return date here of in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if there be no newspaper published therein, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the 33d Judicial Court of Kimble County, Texas, to be holden at the Court House thereof in Junction, Texas, on the Sixth Monday after the First Monday in February, 1911, that being the 20th day of March, A. D. 1911, in a suit numbered on the docket of the said court No. 515, wherein C. B. Fleming is plaintiff, and J. M. Dougherty, the unknown heirs of J. M. Dougherty and their legal representatives are the defendants, the residence of all said defendants being unknown to plaintiff. The petition filed in said cause alleging in substance that on the 1st day of January, 1911, plaintiff was, and now is lawfully seized and possessed of and entitled to the possession of a certain tract of land of land described as follows:— Situated in Kimble County, Texas, on the South Fork of the Llano River about 12 m. S. 35 W. from the town of Junction, and known as Survey No. 17, J. M. Dougherty pre-emption, with metes and bounds as follows:— Beginning at an elm "12 in diam. marked X on the bank of the river and 556 varas South and 73 varas East from the West corner of Survey No. 13, in the name of S. A. & M. G. Ry. Co., a corner of Survey No. 15, in the name of G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co., whence an elm "12 in diam. bears S. 54 1-2 W. 5 varas, another "10 in diam. bears N. 40 E. 10 varas; thence S. 70 E. 1.92 varas to a rock mound; thence S. 20 W. 475 varas to a rock mound; thence N. 70 W. 1880 varas to a stone mound on high bluff on river, whence a cedar "8 bears N. 50 E. 3 varas; thence down the river with its meanders as follows:— N. 8 W. 25 varas, N. 10 E. 220 varas, S. 4 W. 260 varas to place of beginning. Plaintiff alleges that on the day and year aforesaid, to wit: Jan. 1, 1911, defendants wrongfully and unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and unlawfully withheld from plaintiff the possession thereof, to his damage $2000. Plaintiff further alleges that he and those under whom he claims have and hold the peaceable, exclusive and adverse possession of the land claimed in said suit, cultivating, using and enjoying the same for a period of more than ten years before the entry of defendants thereon, and for more than ten years before the commencement of this suit. Plaintiff alleges that notwithstanding he has a good title to said property by reason of his continuous and adverse possession that said defendants are claiming some interest therein by reason of the fact that the land was surveyed for and patented to said J. M. Dougherty, but if title ever was vested in defendant it has long since been divested out of them by reason of the facts aforesaid, and that the claim of defendants prevents plaintiff from selling and disposing of his said property, and that it is and casts a cloud upon his title, which title plaintiff is entitled to have cancelled and removed. Plaintiff prays judgment for the land and that the cloud upon his title be forever cancelled and set aside, and for such other and further relief, as in law and equity he may be entitled to.

Herein fail not, but have you then and there before said Court this writ, with your returns thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court in Junction, Texas, this 11th day of January, A. D. 1911.

Resolutions of Respect.

To the Worshipful Master Wardens and Brethren of Junction City Lodge No. 548 A. F. & A. M.

We, your committee appointed to draft Resolutions of Respect and condolence in reference to the death of our esteemed Brother J. B. King, M. D., beg to make the following report:— Whereas our brother J. B. King of Segovia, Kimble County Texas Member in good standing of Junction City Lodge No. 548 A. F. & A. M. departed this life on the 31st day of October, A. D. 1910, we bow in humble submission to the decrees of the all wise Being, whom we reverence and adore, in the loss by death of our esteemed Brother whom we respected and loved. Brother King was made a Master in the town of Gonzales, Texas when he was only 21 years old.

He had reached the age of 62 years the 14th day of October last. Was married the first time in the year 1873, and has 5 children from this marriage. Was married the second time in 1892, and has 2 children from this marriage. He moved to Kimble County in the year 1898 and has lived with us as a townsman, ranchman and a practicing physician ever since. He was a man well posted as to the affairs of life, and whose ability as a physician was recognized by all who knew him. He will be sadly missed by his loved ones, the Masonic fraternity and his many friends all over this section. He was a friend to a little of the world and the people were his friends. We offer to his family our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement and ask to share with them the sorrow which a death brings to all of us. We solemnly bow to the decree of Him who rules on high, and may our trust in Him be increased, and we shall be called to the Great Reunion in the Palace Royal of the Universe. Resolved that this be recorded on a Memorial Page in the Records of the Lodge and a copy furnished each member of the family of the deceased.

Respectfully submitted,

Rev. F. N. Cavin, former pastor of the Christian church at Waco, says: "I was nearly blind from granulated sore eyes and ulcers of my eyelids, had been treated by eight or nine of the best doctors in the United States and they all pronounced my case incurable. Dr. Moore cured my eyes ten years ago and I have done all my own reading and writing since. I know of many other cures of his that are marvelous indeed."

A Brady Ranchman

John Ewing, who has lived in Brady twenty years, says: "Dr. Moore cured my eyes about five years ago, after some of the best specialists in the state had failed."

Blind From Cataract

F. M. Miller, former sheriff and treasurer of McCulloch County, residing at Brady was blind from cataract. Dr. Moore restored his sight by an operation. He says he did not suffer any pain during or after the operation.

Well Known Sabinal Man

D. F. Draper of Sabinal says: "Has it not been for meeting Dr. Moore twelve years ago, I would now be blind. I know of many more wonderful cures he has performed; I will go on his bond for anything he promises."

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured by Great Discovery

Dr. Harvey Moore, the eye, ear, nose and throat specialist of San Antonio, who will be at the St. Charles Hotel in Kerrville Wednesday and Thursday February 8th and 9th, has a positive cure for old chronic granulated sore eyes and furnishes some strong testimonials from prominent people in this vicinity to prove it. Any one suffering from this dreadful disease should call on him. His consultation and examination is free.

Prominent San Antonian

Mr. Chas. Bosshardt, in business corner Houston and Losoya Streets, San Antonio, was cross-eyed since childhood. He had consulted some of the best oculists in Texas. They told him he would have to stay in a dark room three weeks after a severe operation. Dr. Moore straightened his eyes without pain, and he did not lose any time from his business.

Attacks Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budhan of Tracy, Calif., "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c at J. A. Haynana.

Citation by Publication.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,

To the Sheriff or any constable of Kimble County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in the County of Kimble, if there be one published in said county, (but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published), for eight weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon the unknown heirs of Ruben Ranner and of Eugene Reed and Edwin Reed whose residences are unknown, to be and appear before the Honorable District Court of Kimble County at the next regular term thereof to be holden in the County of Kimble, at the Courthouse thereof in Junction, Texas, on the 20th day of March, 1911, File Number being 514, then and there to answer the petition of W. W. Buck, filed in said court on the 8th day of December, 1910, against the unknown heirs of the said Ruben Ranner, Eugene Reed and Edwin Reed, and alleging in substance as follows, to wit:

That he is the owner and in actual possession of that part of Survey No. 372, (except 100 acres conveyed to R. S. Price, May 13, 1905) No 372, Section No. 9, described by metes and bounds as follows:

Beginning at the upper corner Survey No. 372, R. S. Beard, and lower corner of Survey 373, William Berry on the S. bank of the S. fork of the Llano River; thence S. 55.40 vrs. to a stone mound under pasture fence; thence E. 95.0 vrs. to a stone mound; thence N. 45.91 vrs. to a stone mound, the S. E. cor. of a 100-acre tract out of said Survey No. 372 in name of R. S. Beard, from which stone mound a cedar 5 in. bears N. 10 W. 19 vrs. clump of Spanish Oaks, N. 51 W. 27 vrs.; thence S. 77 W. with S. line of said 100-acre tract 617 vrs. to stone mound, its S. W. corner from which a double elm 3 and 4 in. bears S. 24 E. 102 5 vrs.; a S. P. O. 6 in. bears S. 64 W. 13 vrs.; thence N. 87.0 vrs. to a stone mound on S. bank of river from which a pecan 15 in. bears S. 24 W. 9 vrs.; another 18 in N. 19 E. 17 15 vrs.; thence up the river with its meanders to the place of beginning.

Also 345-acres, the East half of the Edwin Quinby 492-acre survey No. 374, Sec. 5, Cert. No. 672, patent No. 178, Vol. 2, and being same land conveyed to Mary A. Thomas by Luis May McDowell and A. A. McDowell, Sept. 29, 1897, by deed recorded in Bk. 7, page 492 of Kimble Co. deed records.

Plaintiff alleges that he and those whose estate he has, claiming under deeds duly registered, has had peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of the land and tenements herein claimed, cultivating, using or enjoying the same, and paying all taxes thereon for a period of more than five years before the commencement of this suit, and this he is ready to verify.

Plaintiff alleges that he and those whose estate he has, claiming to have good and perfect right and title to the lands herein claimed has had and held peaceable said lands and adverse possession of same cultivating, using or enjoying the same for a period of more than ten years before the commencement of this suit, and this he is ready to verify.

Plaintiff alleges that the defendants the unknown heirs of Ruben Ranner, are setting up some character of claim to the first tract of land herein described, but that the claims set up by the defendants are spurious, fraudulent and unjust, but that the said claims of the defendant cast a cloud upon plaintiff title to said lands, seriously depreciating the value thereof.

Herein fail not, but have you then and there before said court this writ with your return there on showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of office, this 22d day of December, 1910.

A. O. LAWLER, Clerk District Court Kimble Co. Texas.
