It is 661 feet from south and west lines of section 3, block A-40, psl survey. Drilling is to start by October 5. Projected destination is 10,600 feet.

The development is 10 miles southeast of Eunice, N. M., the nearest town.

SW Martin Wildcat Swabbing New Zone

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E-B George W. Glass, Southwest Martin County wildcat, 18 miles west of Stanton and 12 miles north of Midland, is swabbing to test on perforated section at 10,635-655 feet, in the Pennsylvanian.

The perforations are in a five inch liner which is cemented at 10,821 feet. Drilled out depth is at 10,787 feet.

This prospector drilled to a total depth of 12,915 feet in the Ellenburger and made water in that formation.

It has been plugging back and testing since then in various sections up the hole which indicated possibilities of petroleum.

Up to now no sort of oil well has been developed.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 13, block 39, T&P survey, T-1-N.

Stepout To Block-31 Is Staked In Crane

The venture will be spudded 330 feet from south and east lines of section 15, block 31, University survey.

The venture will be drilled to 4,400 feet wth rotary equipment. Work is slated to start on the outpost in the immediate future.

Sulphur Water Found In Ector Ellenburger

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Carlinville National Bank, confirmed extension one-half mile south of Ellenburger production in the Yarbrough & Allen field in Southwest Ector County, recovered 5,330 feet of sulphur water and gas cut drilling mud in a drillstem test of the Ellenburger.

The test was taken over an interval from 10,727 to 10,750 feet. Tool was open 45 minutes. Total recovery on the test was the 1,600-foot water blanket, 1,920 feet of oil cut mud plus the sulphur water and drilling mud.

The outpost first found petroleum in the Ellenburger on a drillstem test in the top of that formation at 10,384-10,480 feet. Recovery was 2,290 feet of clean oil and 450 feet of oil-cut drilling mud which was estimated to be at least 40 per cent oil.

On another drillstem test of the Ellenburger, which lasted for six hours, developed a flow of 45.21 barrels of 41.5-gravity oil in four hours. This test was at 10,480-10,565 feeet.

A third drillstem test at 10,564-10,653 feet, with tool open four hours, flowed 328.44 barrels of 41.7-gravity plus two per cent mud in three hours and 35 minutes.

The last drillstem test which developed flowing production was from 10,652-10,727 feet.

A flow of 277.22 barrels of 42-gravity oil was gauged in four hours. Shakeout was two-tenths of one per cent mud, gas volume 1,210,000 cubic feet daily and gas-oil ratio was 728-1.

On the above test, tool was open four hours and 35 minutes. Oil surfaced in 30 minutes.

The No. 1 Carlinville National Bank previously had flowed as a discovery from the Simpson on a drillstem test at 10,070-10,170 feet.

In seven hours the prospector flowed 170.75 barrels of 42.2-gravity oil to tanks.

Top of the Ellenburger pay is 10,384 feet. The bottom of the pay is at 10,727 feet. Pay in this interval has been proven for 353 feet.

Location of the No. 1 Carlinville Bank is 2,635 feet from east and 3,270 feet from south lines of section 18, block 46, Gunther and Munson survey, seven miles southwest of Judkins.

Better War News Drives Wholesale Food Prices Lower

By The Associated Press

Many wholesale food prices responded to the favorable turn in the Korean war news and tipped downward this week.

The declines were not large, and are unlikely to have much effect on overall retail food prices unless the downtrend continues for some weeks. But they constituted the first appreciable setback in food costs in almost three months.

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index sagged six cents in the largest weekly decline so far this year. This index compiled by the business reporting agency represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use. At $6.61 this week it compared with $5.96 in the week just before the Korean war broke out, and with $5.61 a year ago.

Retail food prices, however, usually lag behind wholesale changes by a few weeks. The Commerce Department indicated this week that because wholesale levels were "appreciably higher" in late August and early September, housewives probably could expect more mark-ups. Many retailers contend their prices still have not reflected fully the advances in their own costs.

Chickens were two to four cents a pound cheaper in many competitive stores this week. Changes in other meats were mostly minor and irregular.

Large Grade A eggs pushed two cents a dozen higher in some plac-

Oswald Ryan, Civil Aeronautics Board Member, Is Visitor

Oswald Ryan of Washington, D. C., acting chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, is a Midland visitor this week, having arrived here by plane late Wednesday for a visit in the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Montgomery, and children, 202 West Cowden Street. He plans to remain here several days.

"I am just here to visit and rest for a few days," Ryan said. He came here from College Station, where he inspected aeronautical facilities at Texas A&M College. Ryan was enthusiastic in his comments concerning the development of a special agricultural plane for crop-dusting purposes.

The CAB official said he was pleased at the recent action of the Civil Aeronautics Board in permitting American Airlines to continue serving Midland and in extending the certificate of Pioneer Air Lines to serve Midland and other Texas points.

"I had an active part in the case and am glad that commercial airline service here was not interrupted."

He also expressed delight at the

Woman, Indicted For Murder, Takes Poison

ROCKWALL, TEXAS. — (AP) — Sheriff W. J. Price said Thursday a Rockwall woman, indicted on murder charges in the death of her husband, took poison Wednesday night when confronted with the indictment.

The woman, Mrs. Meddie Bowles, 48, was in critical condition Thursday in a Dallas hospital.

A Rockwall County grand jury indicted Mrs. Bowles Wednesday in the death of her husband, Luther (Mike) Bowles, about 70, in December, 1949.

Lovett Is Named Aide To Marshall

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Former Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett was picked by President Truman Thursday to be deputy secretary of Defense.

He succeeds Stephen T. Early, who is leaving the defense post Saturday to return to private business.

Lovett is a close friend of Secretary of Defense Marshall, under whom he served as undersecretary of State. He now is in the investment banking business.

Truman telephoned Lovett at his home at Locust Valley, N. Y., offered him the appointment and got a prompt acceptance.

It had been expected from the time Truman named General Marshall as defense secretary, after the resignation of Louis A. Johnson, that Marshall would call upon Lovett to serve under him.

Native Texan

Since Congress is not in session, Lovett will be given a recess appointment. The appointment later will be subject to Senate confirmation.

Lovett, a 55-year old native of Huntsville, Texas, served as special assistant to the secretary of War in 1940 and 1941. He later became assistant secretary of War for Air, a post he held until December, 1945.

He was undersecretary of State from July, 1947, until January, 1949.

Midlander Dies At Residence In City

J. C. Yoakum, a resident of Midland for several years, was found dead early Thursday in his home at 505 West Indiana Street.

Justice of the Peace Joseph A. Seymour, who investigated, said death was due to natural causes. Yoakum reportedly had been in ill health for about two years. His body was found by neighbors.

Officials of Newnie W. Ellis Funeral Chapel said funeral arrangements were incomplete, pending arrival of a son, J. C. Yoakum, Jr., who resides in Odessa. Yoakum lived alone at his home here.

Communist Riots Recur In Vienna

VIENNA —(AP)— Scattered Communist disturbances broke out for the third day in Vienna Thursday as Russian-organized Red workers continued to harass the Austrian government.

Communists seized control of two Danube River bridges connecting suburbs in the Russian sector of the four-power city with the central part of the town.

One railroad station on the line from Vienna to Bratislava, in Czechoslovakia, also was occupied by Communist demonstrators—but the Austrian government diverted trains by another route.

The Danube bridges — one of which bears the name of the "Bridge of the Red Army"—were blocked by automobiles and Communists sitting astride the road.

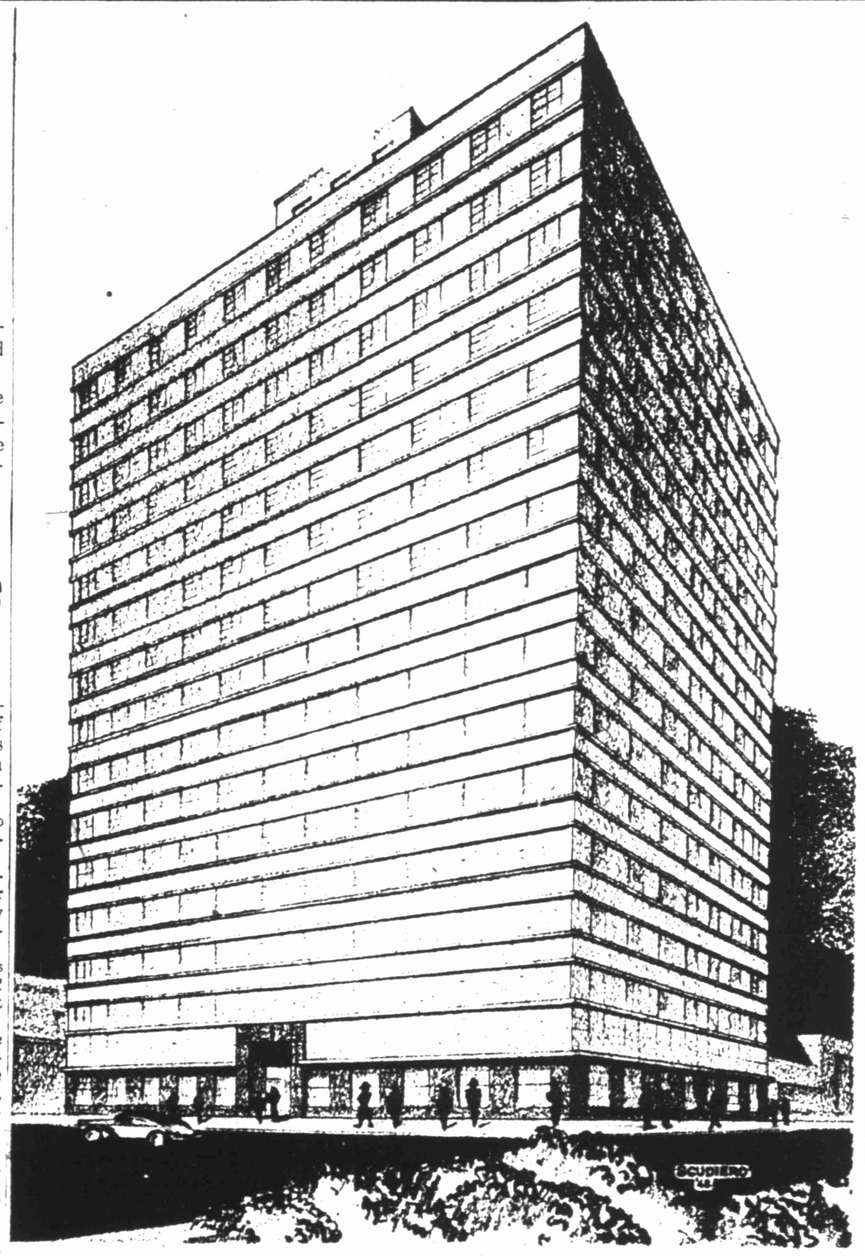

In another Russian sector Reds held up street car traffic for several hours.

Judge Moss Here For Criminal Court

District Judge Paul Moss of Odessa was to begin a criminal court session at 2 p.m. Thursday in 70th District Court here, court officials announced.

Martelle McDonald, district attorney, also was to be present for the session. Officials said several pleas of guilty were to be heard.

Judge Moss Wednesday heard several civil suits, granting four divorces.

ANOTHER SKYSCRAPER—Work started Thursday on the addition of three floors to the six-story McClintic Building in downtown Midland. The project is the initial step in a plan to increase the height of the structure to its originally-designed 15 floors, as pictured. Gene Brewer has the general construction contract. Ralph Geisler is the building manager.

Building Permits Break All-Time Record In City

Two building permits issued Wednesday broke the 1948 all-time record for the City of Midland, with more than $1,000,000 to spare, and established a new single-day record.

One of the permits was issued to Jack Wilkinson in the amount of $1,000,000 for construction of a 14-story office building at 112 North Big Spring Street, and the other, $200,000, was issued to Wyatt C. Hedrick for a three-story addition to the six-story McClintic Building. Permits also were issued for a number of new dwellings.

Although all permits issued this week had not been tabulated Thursday, officials said they doubtless will amount to $2,000,000 by Friday.

The two office building permits skyrocketed the total thus far this year to $8,424,221.

The 1948 record was $7,272,990.

Cotton Men May Get 'Sky's Limit' Signal Next Year

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Cotton growers may get a "sky's the limit" signal next year.

Agriculture Department officials have decided there will be no marketing quotas on the 1951 crop and they lean heavily toward grower proposals that acreage planting allotments also be dropped.

Lifting of restrictions was seen as a move to refill almost empty warehouses. Formal announcement of next year's program may be made in a day or so.

Top-ranking Agriculture Department officials, including Secretary Brannan, have been said to oppose allotments. It is said they believe it would be diffficult to justify such limits no matter how high they might be set, in the face of the short supply and the possible need for more cotton under the defense program.

Contract To Add Three Stories To Building Awarded

A contract for erecting three additional floors on the six-story McClintic Building at the corner of Texas and Colorado Streets has been awarded to Gene Brewer, Midland building contractor, Ralph Geisler, manager of the McClintic and Petroleum Buildings, announced Thursday.

Geisler also announced plans for adding three floors at a time to the McClintic Building until its originally planned height of 15 stories is reached. The floors will be added as the office space demand is indicated, Geisler stated.

Work on the current project will be started immediately, Brewer said, and the three floors will be completed and ready for occupancy in April of next year. Some materials already are on hand and the remainder is on a definite delivery schedule. Materials for future ex-

Shivers Designates Oil Progress Week

AUSTIN —(AP)— Gov. Allan Shivers Thursday designated October 15-21 as Texas Oil Progress Week, declaring the state's progress has been in direct proportion to the development of its petroleum resources by private enterprise.

"The petroleum industry is the largest contributor to the economy of Texas and to the support of its public institutions and government," Shivers observed in an official memorandum.

Isolated Units Of Once-Potent Body Face Annihilation

TOKYO—(AP)—The Red invader army as a whole has been defeated, the Allied command in Korea said Thursday, and is reduced to cut-up pockets of dwindling resistance and headlong retreat.

This was the appraisal of Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, U. S. Eighth Army commander, as the Allied armored vise tightened in and around Seoul, the capital.

American forces to the south recaptured three more cities—Taejon, Namwon and Hadong.

"The North Korean Army is in complete rout and no longer exists as an organized force," Walker told war correspondents at his headquarters in Korea.

He said all Red troops south of the Pusan-Taejon-Seoul highway, winding diagonally from the old beachhead in the southeast to the new one at Inchon, will be annihilated.

Of the once-powerful Red force of an estimated 150,000 men, more than three-fourths have been or will be wiped out, Walker said.

Thus, in just over three months, the Reds ruthlessly overrun most of the Asiatic peninsula, raised the wrath of the non-Communist world and now are feeling the heavy consequences of stark defeat.

Three Month To Day

It was three months to the day—Thursday—since the tank-led North Korean columns rumbled into Seoul, after plunging across the 38th parallel in 11 places June 25.

General Walker cautioned that hard fighting against scattered Red pockets may continue. But he said United Nations forces are wiping out many Communists before they can scamper over mountain trails to the 38th—which divides the Russian-sponsored North and the UN-sponsored republic in the south.

The Reds were trapped by General MacArthur's counter-offensive strategy. It began unfolding September 15 with the Inchon landings on the west coast and the coordinated drives from the old Pusan perimeter in the southeast—to put the Reds in the middle and crush them.

To chase those who escape the giant trap, MacArthur is reported to have authority to send troops across parallel 38. Walker commented that he expected to get his instructions soon on this point.

In New York, the United Nations General Assembly is to consider a British plan for the political future of Korea Friday. Unity of the old Soviet-indoctrinated Red north with the republic is the keynote.

Moscow Dies Hard

In Moscow, the Literary Gazette said deadpan that the Korean Reds are holding "every foot of land" in Seoul. But a Red radio broadcast

Seven-Day Battle For Seoul Ends

By DON WHITEHEAD

SEOUL, KOREA —(AP)— The battle for Seoul has ended.

Col. Lewis (Chesty) Puller of Saluda, Va., commanding the First U. S. Marine Regiment, fixed the hour of final Allied victory in this capital at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

That was the time, he said, when the last Korean Reds pulled back north and east, giving the Americans complete mastery of every part of Seoul.

The people have come out of dark holes into the sunlight Thursday in their horribly ravaged but now peaceful city.

Marines and Army infantry, completely relaxed, wandered Thursday through the streets where a few hours ago they were fighting a savage battle.

The siege of Seoul lasted seven days, but it will be years before the scars of battle are erased. Almost every block in the city has been smashed, at least in part.

Yet, immediately after the end of the fighting, the Koreans have begun the task of clearing the debris and salvaging from the ruins whatever they can for a new start.

Midland, Area Cities Housing Boost Shown

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The number of dwelling units in Texas increased from 1,804,884 in 1940 to 2,398,125 as of April 1, 1950, the Census Bureau reported Thursday.

The 1950 figure is preliminary and may be revised before the official 1950 census figures are approved, Director Roy V. Peel of the Census Bureau said.

Virtually every city and county in Texas showed an increase in housing in the decade. The report, listing 1950 figures first and then 1940, includes:

Midland County 7,954 and 3,576, Midland 6,794 and 2,862; Ector County 13,214 and 4,677, Odessa 9,461 and 3,030; El Paso County 51,076 and 33,808, El Paso 35,687 and 26,645; Howard County 8,274 and 5,392, Big Spring 5,593 and 3,692; Lubbock County 31,430 and 14,888, Lubbock 21,749 and 9,111; Potter County 23,769 and 15,650, Amarillo 24,195 and 14,981; Scurry County 7,594 and 3,313, Snyder 3,972 and 1,150; Taylor County 19,993 and 12,477, Abilene 14,503 and 7,879; Tom Green County 18,120 and 11,283, San Angelo 16,321 and 9,522; Wichita County 27,201 and 20,577, Wichita Falls 18,473 and 13,408.

Once Too Thin For Stage Role, Shelley's Now A Glamor Queen

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Shelley Winters, a movie queen whom some Hollywoodites think should have been born a few centuries earlier (say, in the days of Ann Boleyn, Mary of Scotland and the headsman's axe), is about to evolve into a quiet, non-explosive celluloid queen.

There'll be no more "Look here, bub" tactics that have gotten her grilled over the hot charcoal as the door-slammingest, foot-stampingest, trouble - formentingest Catherine of Rushes in moviedom.

"Some people," Shelley told me, "can give a look and get what they want."

'It's known how," said one of the press agents flanking her at a table in the UI commissary.

"She's learning," added the other.

Shelley patted her skin - tight leotards and explained that she was now on to the power of the gently-descending eyelid, the lower lip caught under capped teeth in a "You'll never do this to me, sir" attitude and fingers pressed in half-threat to the cranial region where migraine dwells.

If the Joans and Greers can do it and get Good Conduct Medals, that's for Shelley.

"I couldn't do it a year ago," she wailed. "But maybe now."

'Sure thing," said press agent No. 1.

"Right," chimed in press agent No. 2.

"Don't make me sound sexy," she said. "Make me sound real intelligent."

"That's a good lead," winked one of the press agents.

Shelley yoo-hooed across the room at a producer. "I've got a good story I've saved for you."

Cry Of The Wolf

The producer emitted a wolf yelp and Shelley looked down at her net stockings and ruffles.

"It's for pin-up pictures for the boys in Korea," she explained. "You look right into the camera and make with the legs. I don't mind pin-up pictures. Not me. As long as my figure holds up, I'll do pin-up pictures for the boys."

"Wow," said one or the press agents.

"I haven't anything against the sex department or being typed 'sexy,'" Shelley went on. "They discovered I had sex in 'A Double Life' but what they don't know is that I was giving out with mental sex, not physical sex, in that picture.

"Look, I was a gangling comedienne, not a sex-appeal actress, on Broadway. Real skinny. I tried out for Irwin Shaw and Harold Clurman in a play called 'Retreat to Pleasure.' It was a sexy part, so I got me a bathing suit, a couple of other items of equipment—erumphh—and they took one look at me and said they were sorry.

"When I was under contract to Columbia they never gave me anything sexy to do. It would have been their last thought. Then Rufus LeMaire tested me at Fox. Still no sex appeal.

"Now, I'm Miss Sex and I'm trying to unfill in a couple of places. Success makes anybody fill out. They keep saying I'm like Jean Harlow. I think she was tremendous. But I'm no more like Jean Harlow than . . . "

Shelly suddenly asked what time it was. "I've got an appointment to talk to Diana Lynn about a play I want to direct. Did I tell you about the postcard Farley Granger sent me? I've got a good story about Paulette Goddard. We were doing Summer stock at the same time this year and we kept running into one another. But you can't print the story."

First Fall Play To Open Thursday

A special performance of "Whistling in the Dark" was presented by the Community Theater Wednesday night in the City-County Auditorium. The performance was a benefit for negroes, with proceeds going to the negro youth program.

The play will open its regular three-night run at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

"Whistling in the Dark," a comedy thriller in three acts, was written by Laurence Gross and Edward Childs Carpenter. It first was produced in New York in 1932 at the Ethel Barrymore Theater.

Comedy mixed with thrills and chills made the play a success here Wednesday night.

"Here's to crime!" And with a glass raised in the air and the utterance of this simple toast, Wallace Porter, crime novelist, played by Charles Dixon, found himself surrounded by desperate gunmen. They demanded his life and that of his fiancee, played by Virginia Dunagan, unless he could think up a way to murder the crime commissioner without leaving a clue of any kind. Does he do it. The play opens at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

Others in the cast are LaMoyne Tabor, as Hilda; Martin Cleveland, Joe Salvatore; Wally Jackson, Steve Scanlon; Bill Adam, Herman Lefkowitz; Robert A. Philcrantz, Charlie Shaw; Art Cole, Jack Dillon; Waring Bradley, the Cossack; Russell Ford, Benny; Roger Sidwell, Cap O'Rourke, and Gene Brusenhan, the police sergeant.

Ballots listing 30 favorite plays will be received with the programs at each performance. These ballots are to be marked and turned in at each performance this week.

The Community Theater's annual minstrel revue, produced in partnership with the Kiwanis Club, will be staged October 24-28 "Stop, Laugh and Listen" will spotlight the fabulous era from 1900 to 1950.

"Arms and the Man," George Bernard Shaw's classic, will be staged in the round by the Community Theater, December 6-9. It will conclude the theater's fifth season.

Absolute Proof Hadacol Helps Folks Suffering Stomach Disturbances

when due to lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin in the system!

Mrs. John W. Geary, attractive and charming woman of 840 Ursuline St., New Orleans, Louisiana: "I'd been sick quite some time and the doctors told me it was a nervous stomach. I couldn't eat regularly and lots of times I was unable to hold the food on my stomach. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the first few bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now my stomach doesn't trouble me at all. I eat anything I want, and my nerves are fine." (Give HADACOL a chance to help you.)

Mrs. Hilton Shuff, a loving mother of Rt. 1, Box 42, Ville Platte, Louisiana: "My son Mark Wendell has been sick for some time. A lot of the time he couldn't hold anything on his stomach. He was very weak and pale. Then I started giving him HADACOL, and he improved in just a short time. He's gained weight and has more energy than a dozen wild Indians." (HADACOL is great for puny, nervous kiddies with easily upset stomachs due to lack of important Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin.

Mrs. Alma Kincaid, 2125 E. Adelaide, St. Louis, Missouri: "I've been taking HADACOL for over a year. Before taking it, I had stomach distress for some time. Nothing seemed to help me. Then I took my husband's advice and took HADACOL. A good friend of his told him of the wonderful results he had from HADACOL. Now that I'm taking HADACOL I eat anything. I recommend HADACOL to all my friends." (A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.)

WHY CONTINUE TO DOUBT

These are just a few of thousands upon thousands of letters that constantly pour in telling of the wonderful results the great new HADACOL is giving. It's only a very foolish person who would continue to 'doubt' HADACOL'S effectiveness and continue to suffer in view of such overwhelming evidence.

Relieves the Cause of Stomach Distress Due to Such Deficiencies

So if you are suffering from stomach disturbance (gas pains, indigestion, heartburn), if the food you eat disagrees with you because your system is lacking Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin—don't delay—start taking HADACOL today. HADACOL is not a quick-acting antiacid which gives symptomatic relief—instead, HADACOL actually relieves the REAL CAUSE of such stomach misery due to such deficiencies. And continued use helps prevent such painful distress from coming back.

Hundreds of Doctors Recommend It

Hundreds upon hundreds of doctors recommend HADACOL. It not only supplies weak, deficient systems with extra quantities of important Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin but also beneficial amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese—elements so vital to help maintain glorious health and guard against such deficiency ailments. And so inexpensive. Costs only a small amount a day. Trial-size bottle, $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.

Dewey's Decision

A politician's "no" never seems quite final, even when he says it is. Witness the entry of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey into the New York governorship race, less than three months after announcing his retirement from the political scene.

Appraising motives in a reversal of this kind isn't always easy. A candidate's public statements may or may not touch the basic truth.

There's no doubt Dewey was subjected to a genuine draft demand from within the GOP, both in and out of New York state. His hand-picked successor for the governorship, Lt. Gov. Joe Hanley, isn't viewed with confidence as a ticket leader.

Having Dewey at the head of the list assures the Republicans the governor's demonstrated power at the polls. It also makes available a candidate for Senate—none other than Hanley himself. That this was part of the strategy is clear from Dewey's insistence that Hanley run for that office.

Thus at one stroke the New York Republicans put the Democrats on the defensive in the governorship contest, and gave themselves a better than fighting chance to beat Senator Herbert H. Lehman, who will be the Democratic choice to succeed himself. The GOP will expect Dewey's strength to spill over and add votes to the Hanley column.

Furthermore, should Dewey win in November, Republicans will control the state administration until 1954. That's important to their 1952 presidential ambitions, for they'd be sorely handicapped with the country's largest state in rival hands.

Quite evidently, too, control of the state GOP organization would give Dewey far more bargaining power for his liberal viewpoint at national Republican council tables than he'd have as a retired former party great.

Of course, the governor knew many of these things when he said on June 17 he was quitting for reasons of health. And it probably took more than pressure from his party to compel a change of mind. Plainly, the Korean war is the other big influence.

Announcing his re-entry, Dewey made much of Korea. He assailed Democrats in his own state and in Washington for not being aware of our national danger. He said we wouldn't survive without a strong and constructive opposition party to force correction of errors and incompetence in the national administration.

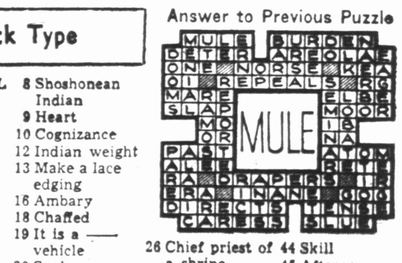

He would not be a candidate today if he did not believe his own role in this corrective task is large. Whether such a role would give new play to his unquestionably still healthy presidential aspirations is naturally impossible to tell. But however that may be, there seems no need to doubt his sincerity in desiring national Republicanism to be a constructive force for the country.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Truman tells Cabinet to quit wire-tapping; Senator Wherry objects to taking the rap for Taft; "Two-Cadillac" Halleck faces tough opposition.

WASHINGTON — The story now can be told of the last Cabinet meeting attended by Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson. It was not a happy one.

Nothing much was said about Johnson's forthcoming departure, but President Truman, looking straight at Louey, said:

"There's a little item I want to take up with all of you. It's the matter of wire-tapping. J. Edgar Hoover has been doing a lot of wire-tapping . . ."

At this point, Attorney General Howard McGrath interrupted.

"Mr. President," he said, "I know all about Mr. Hoover's wire-tapping. I know every tap he is making. He only taps with my approval in cases involving sabotage, espionage and kidnaping. He has less than 200 taps out. I review every one of them every month."

"That's not the point I was trying to make," continued Truman. "I just wanted to tell you folks that Hoover tells me he isn't the only one in Washington who's tapping wires. He tells me that many of you are. I just want you to know that I don't like it a bit. I don't think much of wire-tapping and of anybody who taps wires. I think the habit of having someone on the telephone all the time when you are talking to someone else is bad. It violates the freedom and dignity of the individual. I want you all to cut it out."

Note — The most notorious wire-tapper in government was Secretary Johnson's close friend, Senator Brewster of Maine.

"No-Sparkle" Stassen

Senators were whiling away the hours during Senator George Malone's slot-machine filibuster, and gossiped over the rumor that Harold Stassen would become secretary of the Navy or get some other big government job.

"Do you know what Stassen reminds me of?" remarked Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois. "A pitcher of ginger ale which has been left standing for a day."

Senate Ghost-Writers

Ken Wherry, the irrepressible and delightful Republican Senate whip, privately is burned up at the way colleagues, particularly Bob Taft, inveigled him into taking the rap for them.

A few days ago, this column told how Wherry at one time put Albion Beverage, "the ghost senator," on the payroll of his Senate-Small Business Committee. Later Beverage wrote the below-the-belt speech by Indiana's Senator Jenner, calling Gen. George Marshall a "living lie" and "a front for traitors."

Following this speech Wherry confided to a colleague in the Senate cloakroom, "I met Beverage at a small dinner party Bob Taft gave for a few of us. Beverage had just come back from trying to run for senator against Margaret Smith in Maine. Bob asked me to find a place for him. Now, I catch the heat."

The merry mortician from Nebraska also told how pressure was put on him to make the speech which was ghost-written by Alfred Kohlberg, the China lobbyist, attacking the National Farmers' Union.

"But," said Wherry, "I was too smart for that. I let Styles Bridges make that speech."

Note — Alfred Kohlberg, a leader of the Chiang Kai-shek lobby, contributed $1,000 to the New Hampshire reelection campaign fund of Senator Bridges. He also contributed to the recent campaign fund of Bridges' secretary, Wesley Powell.

Two-Cadillac Charlie

A homespun Hoosier farmer from the village of Young America, Indiana, is scaring the daylights out of Congressman Charlie Halleck, one of the real GOP powers in the House of Representatives. The farmer, Dale Beck, is leaning over back fences in what is considered a sure-fire Republican district and drawling: "It's time this district was represented by one of us, instead of Two-Cadillac Charlie."

A private poll taken a short time ago actually shows Halleck, who was GOP majority leader in the 80th Congress, falling behind Democrat Beck. Halleck was so worried he tore away from important hearings of the House Lobby Committee to return to the hustings.

In previous campaigns, it hardly was necessary for Halleck to campaign in what was carved out as an unbeatable Republican area. Only one Democrat has represented the Second Indiana District in Congress in the last 20 years.

Another tip-off on Halleck's concern is that he has ditched one of his sporty Cadillacs—it stays in Washington—and now drives a middle-class car in Indiana.

His opponent, State Senator Beck, is a hearty 52-year-old farmer who, with three Marine veteran sons, manages 475 acres in this rich, flat country. He has a "howdy folks" approach.

Behind the scenes, Beck is getting encouragement from certain Republican leaders incensed at the way Halleck dumped Hobart Creighton, the party's 1948 nominee for governor, in a bitter scrap for district GOP chairman last Spring.

Republican dirt farmers also are asking why Halleck went on the floor of the House to defend an ex-convict, Edward A. Rumley, who runs a lobby financed by Du Pont and other big Eastern industrialists. Though none of them live in this district, Halleck tried to get the House not to cite Rumley for refusing to divulge the names of the big business contributors to his lobby.

But the main gripe against Halleck is the fact that he went to Congress a man of modest means and now sports two Cadillacs and an upstage manner. A danger sign was the drop in Halleck's majority from 26,000 in 1946 to 14,000 in 1948.

Dewey and Russians — Secretary Acheson was burned up at Governor Dewey for insulting the Russians at the official dinner sponsored by the City of New York last week. He considered it poor taste for Dewey to talk as he did when Foreign Minister Vishinsky and other Russian delegates had attended the dinner with the understanding it was strictly a social affair.

Acheson agrees with Dewey that the Russians are practicing slave labor, but thinks official American criticism of Russia should be confined to business meetings of the United Nations. Remarks like Dewey's, he fears, merely play into the hands of Moscow propagandists.

Russian uranium — American officials report that Russian production of uranium has fallen off drastically in Eastern Germany and Czechoslovakia. It's learned that the Russians have worn out most of their expensive drills and mining equipment and are trying frantically to buy replacements in Switzerland. U. S. Ambassador John Carter Vincent in Switzerland has warned the Swiss, who have been selling to everybody, that for their own sakes they had better not sell such material to the Russians.

A friend dropped into a business man's office, looked around and asked, "Where is that 'Do It Now' sign you had on the wall the last time I was here?"

The business man said, "It worked too well. My secretary read it and eloped; the office boy read it and resigned to go to Hollywood to try to get into the movies and the cashier read it and skipped out to Canada with $40,000. Yes, that sign worked too well."

Of an impecunious musician, a friend asked, "Have you ever felt the subtle touch of his genius?"

"No," said another, "but I have felt the subtle genius of his touch."

"Don't you know enough to take your tricks when they're offered to you," declarer asked disgustedly.

"Sorry," said Larceny Lou abjectly. "My cards were stuck, and I couldn't find that queen of spades to save my life."

Of course the cards became unstuck very quickly a few moments later when Larceny Lou really needed that queen of spades.

Lou, holding the West cards, opened the jack of diamonds. Declarer put up dummy's queen, East covered with the king, and South won with the ace.

Now declarer was in some difficulty. He realized that he might have to lose two trump tricks and therefore could not afford to lose two diamonds. Instead of relying completely on a successful finesse for the queen of trumps, South decided to lead out his three top clubs in the hope of discarding a diamond from dummy. This plan would work if each opponent had three clubs and it would cost nothing important if the spade finesse should succeed.

When South led his third top club, Lou did a little fast thinking. It was evident that South had started the hand with five clubs and four spades. His eagerness to get rid of a diamond from dummy made it clear that he had three diamonds in his own hand as well as in dummy. Therefore South could have only one heart.

Lou could see that his side could win nothing in hearts or clubs and therefore needed four tricks in spades and diamonds combined. If he trumped with the queen, dummy would surely discard a diamond. The defense would then be able to take only one diamond, and East could hardly be expected to take two trump tricks in addition to Lou's queen.

Lou therefore ruffed with the eight of spades instead of with the queen!

Dummy over - ruffed with the nine, and now declarer was back where he had started. He still had to lose two diamond tricks and had to play the trumps so as to lose only one trump trick. He led a small trump from dummy, East played low, and South misguessed by finessing the jack.

Lou pounced on this trick with the queen of spades and cashed his two diamonds. Later on, of course, East took the ace of spades for the setting trick.

Army's Information Program Helps Prepare GI's For Combat

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A big "Troop Information and Education" program is being rushed into expansion by the Army to whip up some enthusiasm among the men for the fight in Korea, and for the mobilization against Red aggression.

Like a lot of the Army's modernization programs this one had lagged seriously until Korea. An Army spokesman admits that this lag was responsible for the famous quote from a young lieutenant about the Korean fighting being a "damned useless war" at the start of the conflict.

But, they say, the T. I. and E. program is wiping out that kind of thinking in Korea already. And further, they hope, it quickly will change the attitude of the draftees and men being called back to active duty, who have expressed various stages of bitterness at being put in uniform while the rest of the country enjoys life as usual.

The most important function of T. I. and E. in the peacetime Army is the "E," education. Its goals are to give every man at least a fifth-grade education, non-coms a seventh-grade certificate and officers at least the equivalent of two years of college. In times of emergency the emphasis is shifted to preparing the men for combat and keeping up the morale of the men who are doing the fighting. That's what is being done now.

Main tools of the program are the Armed Forces Radio Network, various publications like Stars and Stripes, recordings and the "Armed Forces Talk."

"Talk" From High Level

The "Talk" is the most important thing. It is prepared in the office of the secretary of Defense and lays down policy and high level thinking on special subjects for the information of the troops. They are prepared in pamphlets of a dozen pages with instructions to the officers on how best to get the message across to the troops. This line or policy is the basis for discussion periods, speeches over the radio network, editorials in Stars and Stripes, and for much of the indoctrination courses given the troops just before they get into combat.

The Korean action caught the program flatfooted. There was no information or policy available on Korea less than four years old. But they quickly whipped up talk No. 334, called "Our Stand in Korea," which answered some of the questions the troops were asking. Anticipating other Korean-type actions they quickly published talks on Formosa, the Philippines, Yugoslavia, Indo-China and Iran. And then they got back to Korea with No. 340, called "The Issues at Stake in Korea." Here's a typical example of the information it contains:

" 'Why am I fighting in Korea?' The answer: 'You are fighting in Korea on behalf of the United Nations and for the security of the United States and the free world. You are fighting in Korea because it was there that world communism, which has the destruction of democracy as its most important single goal, started rushing forward with real tanks shooting hot lead.' "

How Effective Is Program?

It remains to be seen how effective this kind of message is among the fighting men. Officers working on the program are trying to make it more "down to earth" for the men. One has just returned from taking a poll of front line troops to find out what the most important questions are that need official answering. The full list he brought back is classified but here are a few for which they are now trying to produce answers:

"Where are troops from the other United Nations countries?"

"Do we stop at the 38th parallel—if we ever get there?"

"Why haven't we used the atomic bomb?"

The responsibility of passing prepared answers to these questions along to the troops rests with individual commanders. Reports are that there is some enthusiasm for the program in Korea. Officers whose special task is mimeographing some of this information for the front line troops are on the job. They also conduct the discussion periods among the men. And Stars and Stripes and the radio network also are reaching the front line men.

Approximately 11 per cent of the time of the radio network in Japan and Korea now is occupied putting out T. I. and E. material. The big fraction of its time, 43 per cent, is devoted to airing straight entertainment. Religious programs get about 1.7 per cent of the time.

When the troops leave the U. S. they are given a four-hour pre-combat orientation course consisting of talks, movies of Korean fighting and recorded instructions. Just before they go into combat they get a more intense briefing. They say that the difference between the attitude of the men who first went into combat in Korea, without the briefings, and those sent in later, who got them, proves their value.

The FORMER MISS FREY

By Edwin Rutt

Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Edith Flood, the former Ede Frey, under terms of her father's will, heads Frey & Company, an advertising agency. The firm's most valuable account, Morn-Glo soap, is shaky and a new campaign has been prepared but on the eve of its presentation to Lewis Northcott, advertising manager of Morn-Glo, Jeff, Ede's brother, is found in an alcoholic stupor, so Ede and Dan Reagan, one of her executives, must present the campaign.

AT precisely 10 o'clock Ede Frey and Dan Reagan walked into Lewis Northcott's huge office. Reagan carried a large parcel, done up in brown wrapping paper, under his arm.

Northcott was still gray and formidable looking. He gazed at them from behind his gold-rimmed glasses, his eyes inscrutable.

"I understand that I'm to see something very fine this morning," he said.

"You certainly are," replied Ede boldly, as Reagan unwrapped the package.

There was practically no expression on Northcott's face as he looked at every layout, read every word of every piece of copy. When he finished he stared at Ede and Reagan so long that Ede grew apprehensive. To cover her nervousness she lit a cigaret and tried to make her eyes as inscrutable as Northcott's. At last Northcott spoke.

"These," he said, pointing at the advertisements, "confirm an opinion that I've had for some time."

"Yes?" Ede was afraid that she babbled the word.

"Which is," Northcott said dispassionately, "that Frey & Company is the best advertising agency in New York."

With difficulty Ede restrained an impulse to shout. She was conscious of Reagan's big body relaxing in the chair beside her.

"Does that mean, Mr. Northcott," she asked, "that you like this campaign?"

He looked straight at her, "I'll buy it," he said. "Just as it stands."

BACK at the agency they found a pale and haggard Jeffrey. Ede had expected him to remain at home and make good her spurious explanation to Reagan, that Jeff had had a wretched attack of indigestion in the night. Now, however, here was Jeff, a ghost of himself, with dark circles under his eyes and his fingers twitching.

But if Reagan guessed the truth, he gave no sign.

"It's in the bag, Jeff," he said.

"Thank goodness," Jeff sighed. "Sorry, though, that I couldn't pull my weight in the boat. You two must have done a swell selling job."

"We didn't have to," Reagan told him. "The stuff sold itself."

"That's great," said Jeff. "But I hope Northcott doesn't change his mind. He's funny like that, you know."

It seemed almost like an abortive attempt to pour cold water over their little triumph. She looked at him irritably and decided, then, that he was more nervous and distraught than even the robust hangover he had acquired seemed to warrant. For the thousandth time she wondered what it was that had upset Jeff and Myron so terribly on the previous night.

But she forbore to inquire again, and they settled down to a period of comparative peace both at home and at the agency. During it a phenomenon occurred. Jennifer not only joined the family at dinner one night—she remained home all evening.

Ede lifted her eyebrows, but said nothing. When the phenomenon persisted through successive nights, however, she remarked upon it, "You're getting to be quite the home girl," she said.

Jenn looked at her queerly. "Aren't I?"

"What's the matter? All the boys watching television?"

"Wouldn't you like to know," Jenn said, and left the room.

Ede smiled to herself. She did know one thing positively. Tommy Melbourne was giving Jenn the absent treatment, in a most comprehensive way.

A few days later, she read in the social notes that Mr. Hamilton Grieve had rented Wendover House, Bermuda.

Nothing could have delighted Ede more. And yet, for some reason, the news item seemed incomplete. She thought about it, off and on, for half a day before the explanation came. Wendover House was Gil Summerfield's place.

SHE called Gil immediately, saying that she needed a lunch companion. He jumped at the chance to remedy this situation.

"Now then, Gilbert," she said, when she met him. "Let's go into the workings of your fine Italian hand."

"Eh?" He was elaborately careless.

"Don't stall! I mean about Ham Grieve and your little hideaway in Bermuda, of course."

"Oh, that?" Gil smiled. "Well, it seems Ham and I belong to the same club. I happened to meet him there the other day and I bought him a drink. Which isn't hard to do, incidentally. Well, we got to talking about . . . about the Frey family. And I said that it was too bad, wasn't it?"

"What was too bad?"

His eyes were innocent. "Why, about Jenn. This business of her not coming into her money till she's 30 and having to depend on an allowance from you in the meantime."

Ede stared at him. "Gil Summerfield! Did you tell him that?"

"I certainly did."

"And he actually believed you?"

Gil grinned with relish. "Why wouldn't he? He knows that I've always known you people pretty well."

Abilene Officer, Captured By Reds, Tells Story of Questioning By Russian Officers

NEW YORK —(AP)— The New York Times Thursday quoted a U. S. Army officer—fresh from capture—as saying he had been questioned by Russian officers in North Korean uniforms.

All the Russians' questions were political, said the American officer.

The Times told how the officer and a fellow prisoner were taken on a 200-mile exhibition tour as proof the Reds were winning the war.

Times War Correspondent Charles Grutzner reported that Lt. Billy McGarver of Abilene, Texas, and Platoon Sgt. Ollie Chapman of Lawton, Okla., rejoined their unit Wednesday after running manacled toward U. S. troops.

Grutzner's dispatch was from Yongdong, Korea.

At Abilene, McGarver's wife told of receiving a wire from Grutzner—relayed by The Times—who passed along the "good word" at the request of McGarver.

Psychological Torture

McGarver related that the North Korean soldiers treated Chapman and him "wonderfully" at the front, but mistreated them during the marching tour of many villages and camps.

While on tour, McGarver said, he and Chapman were wakened by a guard kicking their ribs or stamping on their insteps.

The worst torture, McGarver said, was psychological—repeated questioning.

The prisoners were told by their captors they would be treated properly under the Geneva Convention but would be executed for "any impropriety or impoliteness."

He said the uncertainty about what constituted impropriety or impoliteness was "awful."

The primary questions, McGarver said, were "right out of 101-5 and 101-10 (Army Tables of Organizations and Equipment)."

"You knew they knew the answers, like how many men in a company, so you gave them the right answers," he said. "When they got you telling the truth they would try you out with questions on the wrong side of the tracks. They remind you, 'The truth or we execute you.'

Told Identical Lies

"Lucky for us, they did not separate the sergeant and me, so we told them the same lies."

McGarver said he swore his outfit was smaller than it really was. They told the North Koreans their company had been shot to pieces and had almost no survivors.

The lieutenant said that on September 26 they were in the hills near Yongdong when United Nations forces captured the city. The guards became alarmed when American planes made strikes for further advances, he said.

"They wanted to shoot us so they could take to the hills and tell the officer they had lost us," McGarver said. "While they were discussing it and prodding us with rifles there was a near-by hit. We hit the ditch in a cornfield.

"The guards kept running. We crawled up a ridge and saw trucks on the road. We had no idea we were so near the United States lines. The guards started coming back.

"We saw a Sherman tank and ran toward it. The guards took off into the hills."

McGarver and Chapman were captured by the North Koreans September 12 in the Pohang area.

Enlistments In Coast Guard Are Extended

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Coast Guard enlistments due to expire before next July 9 have been extended 12 months.

Other military manpower developments:

The President signed a bill to permit the states to organize home guards.

The Army announced it is calling up 130 physicians of the organized reserve to meet "emergency needs."

New Henry J Models Go On Display Friday In Midland

Low inital cost plus great operating economy and exceptional performance are the 1-2-3 features of the all-new Henry J. sedan models which go on display Friday at the Boyce K-F Motor Sales on West Highway 80 here.

Buyers will have a choice of the four-cylinder Henry J. and the Henry J Deluxe, six-cylinder model offering greater styling refinements. Both engines are new high-compression "Kaiser Supersonic" L-head types.

Official prices, to be disclosed Friday, will be the lowest in America for a full size sedan, thus making the first full scale new competition in the low priced auto market in almost a quarter-century.

Basically, it is the car that Henry J. Kaiser envisioned when Kaiser-Frazer was formed in 1945, officials said. Developed on the basis of post war engineering advances, the Henry J. models profited from prior years of experimentation with 50 prototypes built under Kaiser's personal direction.

Quick Get-Away

The company reported that in the most extensive pre-marketing tests ever given a new automobile, the Henry J demonstrated its ability to leap from zero to 50 miles an hour in 10 seconds, and to 60 in 14 seconds.

An impartial report on remarkable operating economy was furnished earlier this month when the six-cylinder model delivered 34 miles to the gallon in gasoline milage tests conducted by the American Automobile Association.

The 174 1/4-inch overall length of the Henry J, together with an overall width of 70 inches, provides spacious seating room for five adult passengers with ample head room and leg room for six-footers.

A Story Illustrated

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

New Use For Old Windmills

I drove past Larson's farm last week and saw him perched on top of his 75-year-old windmill. "Still planning on tearing it down?" I shouted up to him.

"Not on your life," says Curly as he climbs down. "I'm getting myself a television set from Buzz Ellis' and he says this windmill is going to come in mighty handy."

"You see," Curly went on, "I'm going to put my TV antenna right on top of it. Since the windmill is higher than the house, I'll get the best reception around here—but if it wasn't for Buzz and his advice, I'd have scrapped it."

From where I sit, Curly's success as a farmer and his popularity in town is due, in a large part, to his open-mindedness and his willingness to listen to people and their opinions. He'll listen to Buzz Ellis over a malted milk or he and I can talk politics—each with a glass of temperate beer. Yes, Curly's as modern as television itself!

Texas Cites 'Grievous' Error Of Historic Fact To Aid Tidelands Claim

By MAX B. SKELTON

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas hopes history will aid in winning its fight to retain control of its Tidelands.

The Supreme Court next month is to rule on Texas' petition for a rehearing on a June 5 decision recognizing the federal government's "paramount rights" to the submerged lands off the Texas Gulf Coast.

Texas contends the 4 to 3 majority opinion was based on "a grievous error of fact and history."

The decision, Texas claims, is contrary to an 1845 annexation agreement between the United States and the Republic of Texas.

It contends at least part of the court's decision was based on a United States Congress annexation resolution clause that never was submitted to the Republic of Texas.

Texas Attorney General Price Daniel and his assistants have spent months studying century-old documents.

Search Is Extensive

Daniel says their search has included 88 libraries, 15,000 books, the early files of 32 newspapers and personal files of 62 men connected with the early history and annexation.

These documents, Daniel says, "clearly show the parties intended exactly what they said—that Texas was to retain all 'lands lying within its limits, including the tidelands."

The basic points of Texas' defense can be boiled down to two documents:

1. The December 19, 1836, Boundary Act of the First Congress of the Republic of Texas.

2. The joint resolution for annexing Texas, as approved by the United States Congress, March 1, 1845.

The republics boundary act portion relating to the Gulf of Mexico reads:

"Beginning at the mouth of the Sabine River, and running west along the Gulf of Mexico three leagues (nine marine miles or 10 1/2 statute miles) from land, to the mouth of the Rio Grande . . ."

Proposals Defeated

The U.S. Congress, prior to approving the 1845 annexation resolution, spent much time arguing about the Republic of Texas' $10,000,000 public debt. Proposals that the United States take over Texas' public lands and then pay the young republic's debts were defeated.

In its final form, the resolution had three sections. The first two provided Texas should pay its own debts "but shall retain all the vacant and unappropriated lands lying within its limits . . ."

The third section provided that if the President of the United States deemed it advisable he might negotiate with the Republic of Texas for the cession of Texas' lands to the United States and admission on an "equal footing" instead of keeping its public lands and paying its debts.

Texas' rehearing petition claims that President Tyler, on March 3, 1845, sent the first two sections of the resolution, but not the third or alternate section, to the Texas charge d'affaires for presentation to the Texas government.

Seven days later, Tyler's successor, President Polk, is said to have taken similar action, saying he had decided "it would be inexpedient to reverse the decision of his predecessor."

Resolution Approved

Texas' brief also contends the Texas Congress, on June 23, 1845, received and approved the annexation resolution, but without the third section.

The brief also says the United States Congress' action of December 19, 1845, in which final approval was given to Texas annexation makes mention of the first two sections of the resolution but makes no mention to the third section.

Texas, therefore, contends the June 5 majority opinion was inerror when it said:

"We are of the view that 'equal footing' clause of the joint resolution annexing Texas to the union disposes of the present phase of this controversy."

Daniels claims the majority opinion is based "on an error of history and fact which is beyond dispute. There was no 'equal footing' clause submitted to Texas and none contained in the annexation agreement."

A memorandum attached to the petition, signed by 10 international authorities, including former Harverd Law Dean Roscoe Pound, says:

"x x x on the basis of these documents it would appear Texas retained the lands and mineral in question by the specific agreement and approval of the United States Congress."

Texas has received $8,571,862 from leases of its 2,607,000 acres of submerged lands. Little oil has been discovered off the Texas coast but geologists are optimistic.

Republican Solon Calls For Prompt Action On Controls

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Ives (R-NY) declared Thursday the price situation is getting out of hand and called on President Truman to set up control machinery speedily.

"I hate to see price control come," Ives said, "but I think it must if there has been no marked improvement in the present picture by the first of the year. And no appreciable improvement appears likely."

Ives told a reporter he figures it will take the government until at least January 1 to organize a price control agency which could operate on a big scale.

A report from the Federal Reserve Board, meanwhile, made it plain the nation's current standard of living is due for a lowering.

The report pointed to the heart of the growing economic problem with a showing that:

1. Although barely beginning to feel the impact of expanded defense orders, the nation's industrial machine is pouring out goods and materials at a rate not far from that achieved at the height of World War II.

2. Even so, it hasn't managed to keep up with soaring business and consumer demand, much less fill that demand with a left-over capacity for defense goods production.

Already, the excess of demand over supply has produced "additional sharp rises in prices," the board said.

Its report implied that satisfying defense needs still to come will mean reducing civilian supplies available, regardless of prices.

Ps. 37:7, 9; 62:5; Isa. 40:31; Lam. 3:23—26

SETTLING DOWN IN GOD

We have seen that you must not try to get merely a foothold in life by techniques of relaxation, but a foothold in the nature of Reality. Only then can you be unshakably calm and poised. Unless you can trust and surrender to the nature of Reality and believe in it through thick and thin, you have no secret of victory. "How did you like the airplane ride?" was asked of a nervous man who went up for the first time. "Very well," he replied, "but I never did put my whole weight down". There can be no enjoyment of an airplane ride, or of this larger journey through life, unless you learn to put your whole weight down. Obviously there is nothing, absolutely nothing, upon which you can put your whole weight down, except God.

Those who refuse to do as the Quakers suggest—"settle down in God," or " center down in God"—but keep their troubles and disappointments in their own hands, are frustrated. The most frustrated, disrupted woman I know is a woman who believes that if she should let go and turn over these frustrations to God her universe would go to pieces. She has to hold it together, and is intensely and the most nervous and frustrated men I know is a man who feels that if he did not worry about the matter of his wife's business affairs they would go to pieces. His wife is poised and able and more businesslike than he is; but it satifies his self-respect to think he is holding their world together by his worrying. The fact is that his worrying nervousness is self-defeating and is making him a problem, instead of solving any. He says that his "pet aversion is that faith is optimism." He doesn't see that faith as pessimism is producing a person who is a problem to himself—and to others. All the attention given to the nerves of these two people will be in vain unless at the center the let go and let God—unless they surrender in complete confidence to the will of God, and live and work as joyous children in line that will.

O God, how can I be assured and relaxed unless I am sure that I am completely and utterly committed to Thy goodness and Thy power? Forgive my little antics of self-dependence—how invariably they let me down! Let me live on God-dependence, working out purposes not my own. Then shall I live, for I shall live in Thee. In Jesus' name Amen.

THEY DON'T COME BACK—

Ez Charles Mauls Once-Great Louis

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK—Joe Louis knows now they never come back.

Ezzard Charles, a vastly underrated heavyweight champion, buried the ghost of Louis Wednesday night at Yankee Stadium in 15 cruel rounds. It was the same sad story Jack Dempsey and Jim Jeffries learned years ago. You can't beat Father Time.

Puffed to 218 and shaky in his timing, Louis absorbed a bloody beating in his unfortunate bid to become the first heavyweight champion ever to recapture his title. He missed by plenty.

The 29-year-old Charles did everything but knockout the bewildered Joe Louis of 1950, a 36-year-old man whose iron fists had rusted away. Joe groped blindly toward the top rope in the fourteenth to save himself. He probably wouldn't have lasted many more rounds.

"I just didn't have it," he said in his dressing room, swabbing his swollen-shut left eye with an ice pack.

Unanimous Decision

"I just didn't have it in any department."

He didn't have to say so. It was obvious. Only in the tenth round, when he hurt Charles with a flash of the Louis of old, did he excite the crowd of 22,357 that paid a gross. $205,370. Some 25,000,000 more watched on television.

Charles fought a brilliant fight to earn the unanimous vote of all three officials. Referee Mark Conn gave him a 10-5 edge, Judge Joe Agnello 12-3 and Joe Frank Forbes 13-2. The AP card had it 12-2 with one even.

Louis was the popular favorite as well as the 5 to 8 1/2 betting choice Wednesday night. But at the end, everybody had new respect for Charles.

Hooking to the body, throwing a right hand to the head, Ezzy completely outboxed Louis. Joe plodded straight ahead in his usual style but when he caught Charles he couldn't put over the old equalizer.

In 40 football games between Michigan and Minnesota, Michigan has won 25 and lost 13, with two ties.

Lamesa held a 2-1 lead going into the last of the ninth.

San Antonio, the Texas League playoff winner, Wednesday night hung a 10-5 licking on the Southern Association titlist.

The teams resume the best-four-or-seven series here Friday night.

Hal Hudson held Nashville to seven hits, while his mates banged 11 and took advantage of eight Vol errors.

San Antonio broke loose in the sixth inning for four runs and that started the Missions to a one-sided win.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Yankees, Phillies Flub Chances To Sew Up Pennants

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Both the Philadelphia Phillies in the National and the New York Yankees in the American are within two victories of a World Series meeting but the road is strewn with glass.

The Yanks and the Phils have a chance to end it all Thursday but the task is not as easy as it appears on paper.

New York can clinch with the help of the St. Louis Browns. The Yanks will have to beat the Philadelphia Athletics and the Browns must cooperate by downig the Detroit Tigers in order to assure New York of its seventeenth pennant.

The Phils can nail down their first flag since 1915 by taking a doubleheader from the tough New York Giants. The Phillies also can win if they split with the Giants while the Brooklyn Dodgers divide with Boston or if the Dodgers lose a doubleheader to the Braves.

Here's the picture in both leagues:

American	W	L	Behind	Left
New York	96	55	-----	3
Detroit	93	57	2 1/2	4

National	W	L	Behind	Left
Philadelphia	90	60	-----	4
Brooklyn	85	63	4	6

Both the Yanks and Phils missed opportunities Wednesday to take charge. The Yanks fumbled a chance to assure themselves of no worse than a tie by dropping an 8-7 decision to the Athletics while the Tigers nosed out St. Louis 5-4.

The Phils boshed an opportunity to clinch the pennant by dropping a doubleheader to the Giants, 8-7 in 10 innings and 5-0. The Dodgers divided with the Braves, winning the opener 9-6 but losing the nightcap 4-2. A Philly sweep and the flag would have been in the bag.

Chapman Sinks Yanks

Sam Chapman doomed the Yanks by banging a two-run homer off Whitey Ford in the ninth inning to win the game. The loss was Ford's first compared to nine victories.

The A's rolled up a 5-1 lead during the first six innings for sore-armed Joe Coleman. The roof fell in on Coleman in the seventh when the Yanks scored six runs to take a 7-5 lead. Yogi Berra knocked in three runs with his twenty-seventh homer and second of the game. Johnny Mize completed the uprising with his twenty-fifth homer. The A's got one back in their half to set the stage for Chapman's game-winning clout.

The Tigers scored four runs in the sixth inning, three on a homer by Pat Mullin, to take a 4-1 lead against St. Louis but Art Houtteman, seeking his twentieth victory couldn't hold it. Houtteman was knocked out in the ninth when the Browns squared matters. The Tigers came back to win in the last half when Hoot Evers flied out with the bases loaded to score Johnny Groth.

Phils Drop Two

The Giants piled up a 7-2 lead over the Phils but the Whiz Kids tied it up with five runs in the eighth only to lose in the tenth when Al Dark singled home Monte Irvin from second base. Jim Hearn shut out the Phils on seven hits in the finale to win his eleventh game and ninth without a loss over Philadelphia in his career.

The Dodgers pulled the opener out over Boston with a four-run, eighth-inning rally that Gil Hodges featured with a three-run homer. The Braves won the nightcap when Bob Elliott cracked a grand slam homer in the sixth off Erv Palica.

Washington eliminated the third-place Boston Red Sox by sweeping a doubleheader at Fenway Park 2-0 and 6-3 behind Con Marrero and Gene Bearden.

In other games, Bob Feller shut-out the Chicago White Sox 7 to 0 for Cleveland; Pittsburgh trounced the Chicago Cubs 7-4, and the St. Louis Cardinals blanked Cincinnati 1-0 on Harry Brecheen's three-hitter.

Corpus Aces Win Little Dixie Series

CORPUS CHRISTI—(AP)—Corpus Christi can claim the first "Little Dixie Series" title.

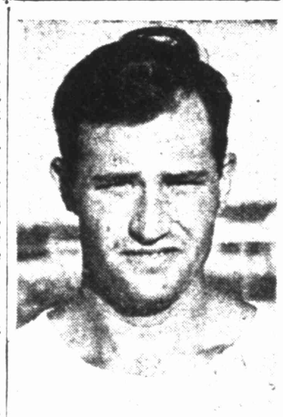

The Aces Wednesday night beat Jacksonville 15-7 to win the meeting between the champions of the Rio Grande League and Gulf Coast League, four games to three.

A five-run outburst in the first inning started Corpus Christi, Rio Grande League winner, off to the easy win.

Bob Upton homered for Jacksonville and Kenny Peacock and Louis Colella homered for Corpus Christi.

Optimists, JayCees Stymie In Donkey Baseball Game Here

You can pack that mitt in mothballs until next Spring. Baseball came to Midland for the last time this season Wednesday night, when the Midland JayCees and Midland Optimist Club tangled at Indian Park, in a donkey baseball game.

After some time of fun and frolickin', the game ended in a 2-2 tie.

Tuesday night, the JayCees had taken the Odessa JayCee nine into camp by a 3-2 count. Both games were filled with laughter and novelty.

The Optimist Club, with Ted Wemple, Pete Van Horn, Bill Aiken, and Jene Purvis leading the way, rolled to a 2-0 lead early in the tilt.

In Late Stages

Midland's JayCees came back to tie the game at 2-2 in the late stages—and both the players and the donkeys were tired and willing to settle for a tie.

King pins in the JayCee attack were Johnny Rhoden, C. E. Christie, Dwight Fleming, Bob Surrey and Carl Nance. Proceeds for the games went to a JayCee fund to help out in the sports program for Midland.

Carver High Plays Odessa Thursday In Memorial Stadium

The Carver High School Hornets of Midland meet the Odessa Steers in a negro conference football game at 8 p.m. Thursday in Memorial Stadium here.

All the rivalry of Midland and Odessa is wrapped up for this contest. The stinging Hornets usually explode with plenty against Odessa.

The public is invited to the Thursday night encounter.

Marketing Indicates Lower Meat Prices

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Government promises of larger supplies and lower prices of meat Thursday showed signs of fulfillment.

As the Agriculture Department predicted several weeks ago, the movement of cattle and hogs from farms to slaughter market is beginning to increase. Likewise, slaughterers are beginning to cut their buying prices. These price cuts soon should be reflected in retail price levels.

Bulldogs Steam Up For Forest High; Leave For Dallas To Show Lions How

By LARRY KING

It was quiet in the warm fieldhouse at Memorial Stadium Wednesday afternoon. The only sound was the dripping of water in the shower room, and the noise made by Coach Tugboat Jones' cleated feet as he walked slowly across the room.

He stopped, stood in the front of the room and looked at 36 Bulldog hopefuls. Behind him on the blackboard was a chalk written challenge: "Beat Forest." Above this, and to the right, was a sign lettered in Purple, on a Gold background. It reads: "The bigger a boy's head becomes, the easier it is to fill his shoes."

Jones glanced at the sign, looked back again at the Bulldogs and spoke:

Coach Is Worried

"I'm worried."

"I'm much more worried over this week's game than I was about the Ysleta game," the Bulldog head mentor said.

Jones referred to the Bulldog joust with Forest Avenue High School of Dallas. The tilt is carded for Dallas' Dal-Hi Stadium at 8 p.m. Friday.

"Last week," Jones went on, "I told the scouts I didn't care what Ysleta had. I felt we would beat them—because you boys were ready."

"I don't know," he said, "if you are ready or not this week. We looked ragged yesterday. Worse than we have all season."

Don't Forget

Jones paused. "Don't forget the purpose of the trip to Dallas," he cautioned. "We are going down there to enjoy the association with each other, sure. But we are going, first, to win a ball game."

"I've seen teams lose ball games they should have won easily," the Bulldog head mentor went on, "because they lost sight of the purpose. Be smart. Be ready. Be good Bulldogs."

And they left the fieldhouse to go to work.

The Bulldogs ran through brief warming-up exercises, and Jones walked to the center of the group. He took a clipping from his jacket pocket, unfolded it, and told the Bulldogs: "I have here a clipping from the Dallas Times-Herald. Here's what they think of you boys in Dallas."

Dallas Paper Says

He read:

"Forest should break into the win column against Midland this week. Midland may be tough, but not nearly so tough as Forest's past opponents—Tyler and Lamar of Houston. Forest has a chance to break into the win column handily."

Jones stopped reading. He looked at the tight clutter of Bulldogs about him.

"Look," Tug said. He thrust the clipping toward the Bulldogs. "That's what they think of us in Dallas—that's what they think of us in the whole state. What are we going to do about it?"

The Bulldogs growled. They took their offensive charging formation and as Jones yelled "hike" they charged.

And as they charged they roared: "Let's show Dallas what we can do . . . Get a Lion . . . Come on gang, let's get 'em . . . Surprise the Lions . . . Show 'em we can beat 'em.

"Hike." And they charged and roared.

"Hike." And they charged and yelled.

The Purple worked on defense against Forest punts. Audrey Gill and Red Rutledge had the Purple linemen boring in to block punts—and they responded in fine style. The kids blocked seven punts in 15 attempts.

Offense Stressed

The Bulldog offense received a thorough going over before the long afternoon was over. The boys realized it would be the last good workout before the trip to Dallas.

The trip to Dallas to prove themselves!

The trip to Dallas to win a ball game!

Thursday morning at 7:30, the Bulldogs and Coaches departed for Dallas by bus. They were to arrive in Cisco for lunch, and then continue to Dallas. The team was scheduled to arrive at the Melrose Hotel, Dallas, at 3 p.m.

Tugboat said the Purple will run through a light drill at Dal-Hi Stadium from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and return to the hotel. After dinner, the boys will take in a show and be in bed by 10 p.m.

Strictly Business

The attitude and purpose of the squad is shown by the words on the official time program printed for the boys: "Friday night, 8-10 p.m.: STRICTLY BUSINESS."

The probable starting line-ups:

MIDLAND

ENDS—Bush and Mackey
TACKLES—Wood and Coker.
GUARDS—Culp and Byerley.

Midland Grid Elevens To See Much Weekend Action

Midland football teams see action on three fronts this weekend, in addition to the Bulldog-Forest game at Dallas Friday night.

Top billing goes to the Bulldog "B"-Grandfalls clash there. Gametime is 8 p.m. Friday.

Little is known of the strength of the Grandfalls team. The Cowboys turned out powerful teams in this country a few years ago, but during World War II dropped into six-man competition. This marks the school's first year in eleven-man football since that time.

"We don't know what sort of team they have, or even the formation they use," Coach John Higdon said Wednesday.

The Bulldog "B" team lost to the strong Reagan County Owls of Big Lake by a 25-13 score last week. Coaches Higdon and Bobo were pleased with the "B" team showing, and hope to break into the win column Friday night.

Indications are the "B" lads will start the following lineup.

ENDS—Paden and Erskine.
TACKLES—Rone and Curry.
GUARDS—Blake and Ruple.
CENTER—Hedricks.
BACKS — Robbins, Strickland, Rose and Spencer.

"C" Meets Odessa

The Bulldog "C" team faces Odessa Bowie Junior High in a game here at 10 a.m. Saturday. It will be unreeled in Memorial Stadium.

Coach Bernard Pattersons' "C" squad dropped a game last week to Crockett Junior High of Odessa by a 34-14 count. Patterson said his boys have shown considerable improvement in workouts this week, and has high hopes of crashing to its first victory.

A crushing ground attack features the "C" offense.

Probable starters are:

ENDS—Crowley and Mims.
TACKLES—Noble and Davis.
GUARDS—Lavelle and Edrington.
CENTER—Crites.
BACKS—Parmley, Jones, Spivey and Rutledge.

Pups Play Stanton

Also Saturday morning, the Junior High Bullpup seventh grade team will vie with Stanton. Stanton will field a team composed of both seventh and eighth grade gridders.

Neither team has seen action to date. Coach Don Powers of the Bullpup team is pretty much in the dark as to what to expect. This game will also be played at 10 a.m., on the field behind Midland High School.

Powers expects to call on these lads to answer the whistle for the kickoff:

ENDS—Parmley and Vandenpool.
TACKLES—Hudson and Whitney.
GUARDS—Paschal and Sanchez.
CENTER—Mills.
BACKS — Chancellor, Phillips, Midkiff, and Sapp.

'Babe' Favored To Win Women's Open; Bauer Sisters Play

WICHITA FALLS —(AP)— Amateur Champion Beverly Hanson appeared the chief threat to the "Big Four" in the fifth annual Women's Open Golf Tournament starting Thursday.

Miss Hanson, a Fargo, N. D., girl now playing out of Indio, Calif., is the new National Amateur title holder.

The "Big Four" are winners of the previous opens — Patty Berg, Minneapolis, 1946; Betty Jameson, Dallas, 1947; Babe Didrikson Zaharias, Denver, Colo., and Prairie View, Ill., 1948, and Louise Suggs, Carrollton, Ga., 1949.

The 72-hole meet is being played over the 6,203-yard Rolling Hills Country Club course. Par for women is 75.

Mrs. Zaharias was the favorite to cop first money—$1,250—in the $5,000 payoff, mainly because she already has won $12,500 of the $50,000 available in women's tournaments this year. Miss Suggs and Miss Berg each have pursed better than $6,000.

Other threats for the championship, a medal play events ending Sunday, are: Helen Faye Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay; the Bauer sisters, Marlene and Alice, of Midland, Texas, and Betsy Rawls of Austin, Texas.

Hoople Gives You Upsets Unless Constellations He Reads Have Gone Cockeyed

The Old Boy Himself

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Peerless Upset Specialist

Egad! My zillions of new readers probably will be aghast when they read of the tremendous upsets I am picking for this sunny weekend!

But my old readers, faithful standbys for the last 39 years, smile wisely and nod affirmatively when I say that Ohio State, the Rose Bowl champions, will be beaten by Southern Methodist 20-14.

My word! After that one the Monday morning quarterbacks will have a field day in Columbus—heh-heh!

Another amazing upset is in store. Alabama will knock off the last year's champion of the Southeastern Conference, mighty Tulane, by a score of 20-13—har-rumph!

I have chosen two other juicy upsets as rather more than likely to happen, unless the constellations which I read daily have gone very cock-eyed. These are Maryland to beat Navy 12-7, and Purdue to trim the touted Texans 14-13.

Now you may proceed and peruse the rest of my sterling forecast:

Claassen Thinks Baseball But Names Grid Winners

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK —(AP)— How can you concentrate on football when it is the Yankees and Phillies you are thinking about. However, here are this week's supposed winners:

Notre Dame over North Carolina: The Irish lost Leon Hart and the North Carolinians Charley Justice since their 1949 meeting. But the Notre Damers have the most left.

Army over Colgate: No question about this one.

Michigan over Michigan State: Chuck Ortmann and his Wolverine mates have a thin edge.

Oklahoma over Boston College: The Boston sophomores were disappointing in last week's 7 to 7 deadlock with Wake Forest.

Maryland over Navy: The Marylanders learned last week, in their 27 to 7 loss to Georgia, that once the season is started one must earn his press clippings.

Killer Kyle To Lose

Ohio State over Southern Methodist: There's enough of the Rose Bowl machine to apply the brakes to Kyle Rote and his Mustang playmates from the Southwest.

Texas over Purdue: Texas backs are supposed to be only so-so. But there is nothing wrong with the Longhorn's line.

Finishing the others in a hurry: Midwest: Texas Christian over Oklahoma A&M.

Southwest: Arkansas over North Texas State, Baylor over Houston, Hardin-Simmons over Trinity, Santa Clara over Rice, Texas A&M over Texas Tech, Texas Western over Loyola of Los Angeles.

King's Row

Coach Bernard (Pat) Patterson of the Bulldog "C" team, tells us Odessa used two "hide-out" plays against his lads last week. The Odessa Crockett eleven cashed in on one for a touchdown and set up another with the other. Odessa won 34-14

"We were tied 14-14 until they broke us with the 'hide-out' play." Patterson said. "I know the rule books call 'hide-outs' unsportsmanlike conduct, but Crockett was not penalized. The plays were allowed to stand—and that's what beat us."

Patterson is not making excuses for his team, either. They did battle the Crockett team tooth and nail until the "illegal" passes beat them. The "C" Bulldogs marched the second-half kickoff back 99 yards in a sustained drive to tie up the score. They play Odessa Bowie Junior High here at 10 a.m. Saturday, in the next go.

—KR—

Coach T. L. (Tugboat) Jones told the Bulldog Booster Club Tuesday night he had received his first (and last) penalty for going on the field during a game.

Tug went on the field to protest a decision by the Ysleta game officials—and returned to the bench a loser by 15 yards.

"I think I've learned my lesson," Tug grinned.

"It helped the boys' morale to know you were behind them," said Booster John Scrogin.

"Yeah, but I can't do that anymore," replied Tug. "I guess I was just keyed too high."

"I even heard calls of 'Webb' when I went on the field," Jones related.

—KR—

By the way, we carried the Bulldog yards lost by penalty as 65 yards last week—and we found out later we were short by 15.

Fact is, we think it was the 15 yards Tug lost on "his play." Anyway, that will make Bulldog yards lost by infractions of the rules 80 instead of 65.

—KR—

It's all over in the Longhorn League. That is, all except the bartering, trading, and tub-thumping for the 1951 race. Odessa proved its all-season superiority by taking Pat Stasey and his Big Spring Broncs in the playoffs, four games to three.

The most remarkable thing we saw all season was Big Spring's push back up the ladder after falling to fifth place. And the most disappointing was the fall of the Midland Indians.—But it will be different here next year. Henry Donahoo and Harold Webb say. They are saying that in Brooklyn, too—and we hope they are right in both places.

—KR—

Joe Louis, the one-time dark destroyer, couldn't turn the tide against Ezzard Charles. But the big man described by many as the "champion of champions," wasn't disgraced.

When you consider the length of time Louis has been around, it is amazing he even was able to go 15 rounds against the best opposition that could be found today. It's been quite a while since a young heavyweight from Detroit caused fans to sit up and take notice by KO'ing Max Baer. It's been 15 years, in fact.

They had to wait until Joe was old to really beat him. Of course, Max Schmeling turned the trick in 1936, but paid the price later.

At that you can say only two men really beat Louis. The men who really beat him don't have their names in the record books. But they are there. Over-Confidence (1936) and Father Time (1950).

—KR—

DOTS AND DASHES: Horns were blowing aplenty to give the Bulldogs a good send-off Thursday morning when they departed for Dallas . . . Dell Morgan told Quarterback Club members at Lubbock that "Texas A&M is vastly improved. We must be as fired up as we were against Texas to even come close" . . . Odessa and San Angelo have played 11 games since 1939, on the gridiron . . Odessa has nine wins, Angelo has two . . . largest scores were in 1944 when Angelo won by 47-0, and in 1946 when Odessa crushed the Bobcats by 64-0 . . . It will be Pecos' passing against Kermit running this week, in the top 5-A clash . . both are unbeaten . . That's the end of the Row for now.

Top Diplomats Deny Reds Seeking Peace

By The Associated Press

Top diplomats at the UN and in several capitals continued Thursday to deny any knowledge of rumored peace feelers by the North Koreans.

The report circulating in New York Wednesday that the Korean Communists had offered, through Indian UN representatives, to stop fighting and accept a UN settlement was discounted by authoritative sources.

High foreign ministry officials in New Delhi said Thursday, "No such proposals have reached us," and they had no information to support the rumors.

A British Foreign Office spokesman in London also denied any knowledge of such reported peace feelers, either in the United Nations of through an intermediary power.

Sir Benegal N. Rau, India's chief delegate to the UN, denied his delegation had been chosen as the "go-between" in any North Korean peace negotiations.

American officials, both at the UN and at the State Department in Washington, said they knew nothing about the rumors. UN Secretary General Trygve Lie also disclaimed knowledge of the report.

Russia's delegate, Jacob A. Malik, when shown the dispatches sent by two news agencies which had attributed the report to authoritative sources in the UN, merely shrugged his shoulders and said he knew nothing about the report.

Walker—

from Pyongyang, the Korean Communist capital, said their newscaster had to call up a Red general in Seoul to find out the score.

The actual score was that Allied forces throughout South Korea were running the Reds ragged, with a few notable exceptions.

U. S. 24th Division armor entered Taejon, 90 miles south of Seoul, after a stiff fight east of that railway and highway hub. There was little opposition inside the city, which the outgunned and outmanned 24th was forced bitterly to yield two months ago.

More Atrocities Revealed

The triumphal return to Taejon by the 24th was marred by reports of two wounded U. S. soldiers who said more than 40 of their fellow American prisoners were tied up and shot by the fleeing Reds at West Taejon Police Station in the last three days.

The two wounded soldiers had been left for dead.

Another report of Red atrocities was given by a First Cavalry Division spokesman: 18 Americans killed and burned and 787 South Korean soldiers and civilians massacred at Chongju. He said details were not available.

Red prisoners of war said 187 of the South Korean prisoners were blown to bits by dynamite thrown into the prison stockade by the Communists; 600 others were shot there, the Reds reported.

A happier report came from AP Correspondent Stan Swinton who said the U. S. 25th Division liberated 91 American prisoners — 80 after entering Namwon, 70 road miles northwest of Chinju, and 11 more at Hadong, some 22 miles southwest of Chinju. Ten at Hadong were litter cases.

The 25th's twin-pronged advance in deep Southern Korea was virtually unopposed. Swinton said South Korean civilians cheered and waved Korean flags as the armored column passed. The columns linked up at Namwon, 65 air miles south of Taejon, and then swung west.

The two columns passed abandoned Russian-made trucks, artillery pieces and stacks of ammunition. Korean peasants, in the wake of the advance, were back in the paddies harvesting rice.

Allied fighter-bombers raked Red columns retreating from Seoul, between the South Korean capital and Uijongbu to the northeast, the only escape route remaining. B-29's hammered ahead of the fleeing Reds.

MacArthur's spokesman said 1,700 Reds were killed, 750 captured and 11 tanks hit in that area.

South of the capital, between Suwon and Osan, fighter planes bombed and strafed about 2,000 trapped Communists. AP Correspondent Jack Macbeth said the Reds were between the Seventh and First Cavalry Divisions.

An infantry attack was poised to follow the air attack.

IS IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Henry Baker of 802 South Canal Street is a medical patient in Western Clinic-Hospital.

Re-Arrest Ordered For Eight Members Of 'Bra Brigade'

MIAMI, FLA. —(AP)— Orders went out Thursday to re-arrest eight members of Miami's "Brassiere Brigade" and authorities moved to recover some of the estimated $100,000 loot.

The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company signed complaints against six women and husbands of two of them. County Solicitor Robert R. Taylor ordered their re-arrest.

Those named in the re-arrest order were:

Marie Orr, 21; her mother, Mrs. Gladys Orr, 47; Mrs. Bonnie Jean Hebert, 22; her husband, Lawrence, 23; Mrs. Betty Corrigan, 23; her husband, William Edward, 24; Mrs. Billy Ruth McNabb, 27, and Mrs. Rita Orr, 18.

Circuit Judge George E. Holt signed an order impounding all money, automobiles and other property of 11 persons allegedly involved in the case, including $10,000 now in the hands of the court.

The tieup of property included the eight named in the criminal action together with Michael Orr, 21, husband of Rita; Cecelia Hay, 20, and William Matthew Albert, 21, who, police said, was engaged to marry Marie Orr.

UCV Chief Holds One-Man Reunion

BILOXI, MISS. —(AP)— A one-man reunion of the United Confederate Veterans was in full swing here Thursday with business sessions of various Confederate organizations, memorial services, a luncheon and a plantation party.

The lone Confederate veteran attending is Gen. James W. Moore, 98, of Selma, Ala., commander of the UCV.

Undaunted by the failure of his comrades in grey to attend, he said he expected another reunion to be held in Norfolk, Va., in 1951.

pansion also are on order. A barricade was being placed around the building Thursday.

Largest Building

A total of 31,500 square feet of rentable area will be provided in the three floors, bringing to 101,500 square feet the total amount of space in the structure. When completed as a 15-story structure, it will have approximately 165,000 square feet of rentable space and will be the largest building between Fort Worth and Los Angeles. The McClintic and 12-story Petroleum Buildings eventually will provide 225,000 square feet of rentable space.

The present McClintic Building, completed in January, 1949, already is Midland's largest from a space standpoint. It is a 101 by 140-foot structure. The building houses numerous oil companies and professional firms.

Geisler said the expansion provisions made in the present building will aid in the completion of the additional floors by April 1.

The new floors will duplicate the present structure, Geisler said. Rubber tile floors, fluorescent lighting and air conditioning will be installed.

Food Prices—

es but medium and small eggs were beginning to ease back. This is a normal seasonal trend.

For the first time in many weeks, more fresh produce items went up than declined. Higher in most places were snap beans, lima beans, tomatoes, cucumbers and canteloupes. Lower were abundant apples and peaches.

The Agriculture Department termed stewing hens the most plentiful food for market promotion this week. These are abundant at this time of year when farmers send them to market as their egg output declines. The culled birds usually are plump and meaty.

Poultry also is the Agriculture Department's meat headliner for the coming month.

Other headliners on the Department's October list of plentifuls for the whole nation: cabbage, onions, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, cranberries, eggs, cheese, butter, dry beans, peanut butter and honey.

Truman's Pick For Top Level Positions Puzzles Politicos

WASHINGTON —(AP)— In political circles around Washington, a lot of people were puzzled Thursday by the way President Truman has been filling top level government jobs.

One thing appears true on the record. The victors have not been getting all the spoils, and the President has denied key jobs to some of his most effective money raisers in the 1948 campaign.

The newest appointment to occasion such surprise is that of Walter S. Gifford, former head of American Telephone and Telegraph Company, as ambassador to London. It was announced Wednesday.

Far from being a good Democrat, Gifford was found to be down in administration political reference books as a good republican. And he was not given just any diplomatic post; in terms of prestige, he got the best. Traditionally, the assignment to the Court St. James often has been a prize political plum.

Persons familiar with the president's views say he picked Gifford for the London post because he considered him the best qualified man for the job. He wanted some one with a knowledge of government operation, sound judgment, administrative ability and personal wealth.

Also the fact that he is a Republican is regarded at the White House as strengthening bi-partisan foreign policy.

Girl Scout Leader Is Rotary Speaker

The activities, goals and benefits of youth organizations from world to local levels were described by Mrs. J. J. Black, prominent Midland Girl Scout leader, at the regular meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday noon in Hotel Scharbauer.

Mrs. Black was introduced by L. E. (Pat) Patternson, chairman of the club's Youth Service Committee, who arranged the program. It was based on a Rotary International theme, "For All the World's Children."

Mrs. Black told of the growth of youth organizations throughout the world in recent years, stating that busy young people are happy and keep out of trouble.

On the local level, Mrs. Black discussed Girl Scouting in Midland, stating that Midland now has 600 Girl Scouts in 56 troops. There also are 200 adult leaders here, she stated. One-hundred twenty-three Midland Girl Scouts and Brownies attended the Mitre Peak Girl Scout Camp near Alpine last Summer. Mrs. Black is supervisor of the camp.

Girl Scout activities from Brownie to Senior units were mentioned by the speaker. She told how funds contributed to the Girl Scout organization are spent.

A group of professional Boy Scout workers from area cities attended the meeting as special guests.

Flies Get Used To Gamaxene, Navy Says

CAIRO —(AP)— Flies get used to gamaxene, too. That's the verdict of U. S. Navy medical researchers working in Cairo.

Gamaxene is a new fly killer heralded as more effective than DDT. The weakness discovered in DDT was that flies developed an immunity to it. Gamaxene, the experts believed, did not have this flaw.

Capt. James J. Sapero, who heads the Navy program here, now says that's not true. Experiments here with ganaxene on successive generations of flies, he said, showed a steady decrease in effectiveness. The flies get used to it. Sapero's research unit now is looking for a more efficient fly killer.

Vermiculite, a mineral of the mica family, when used as a building material not only is unburnable, but will actually hold back the heat of a flame.

Hopes For Safety Of Missing General Given New Boost

WITH U. S. FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, KOREA —(AP)— American counter - intelligence officers said Thursday South Korean informers reported they recently overheard Communist Army officers planning to move Maj. Gen. William F. Dean from Chongju's stockade to Seoul. General Dean has been missing since the July retreat from Taejon.

General Dean was commander of the U. S. 24th Division.

Three South Koreans who escaped from the Chongju stockade told American officers they heard North Korean officers discussing General Dean on Saturday.

This was in connection with the reported plan for his removal to Seoul.

The Americans did not say whether the South Korean informers actually had seen the general before they escaped from the stockade.

Texas Weather Map Shows Mixed Pattern

By The Associated Press

Most of Texas was cloudy Thursday, except in the extreme West and the Davis Mountain area.

Occasional light rains were expected in West Texas Thursday night and Friday, the Weather Bureau reported.

Heavy fog lay in the Dallas-to-Houston area at mid-morning but it did not endanger highway travel, the bureau said.

Temperatures fell to 51 at Salt Flat for the low overnight minimum, and 76 at Galveston for the high minimum. High maximum Wednesday was 95 at Alice and Laredo, the low maximum 77 at Texarkana.

Tropical Garden Is Discovered In Canada

MINNEDOSA, MANITOBA—(AP)—The village of Newdale, 20 miles west of here, boasts a woman with an unusual hobby.

Mrs. Morris Lavery is a gardener —of citrus fruits. Her tropical indoor garden consists of a four-foot orange tree which has so far produced two ripe, rich oranges, and a lemon tree which last year bore a gigantic lemon 11 inches in circumference.

recent appointment and confirmation of Delos W. Rentzel of Houston as chairman of the CAB, succeeding J. J. O'Connell, resigned.

Well-Qualified

"Rentzel's ability, experience and personality qualify him for the position, and I look forward to working with him," Ryan said.

Ryan has been serving as acting chairman of the CAB since O'Connell's resignation. He is vice chairman of the board and is its only original member, having served since its organization in 1938. He formerly was a member of the Federal Power Commission, under appointment of President Hoover.

It is Ryan's first visit here since January, 1949, when he addressed the Midland Chamber of Commerce at its annual membership meeting and banquet. He complimented Midland on its fast growth and development since that time.

The well flowed 24 hours through a 24/64th-inch choke and made 252 barrels of 39.6-gravity oil. One per cent of the total fluid recovered was water. Gas-oil ratio was 360-1.

The pay was topped at 7,000 feet. Bottom of the hole is at 7,335 feet. Seven-inch casing was cemented at 3,875 feet.

Pay section was shot with 739 quarts of nitro glycerin.

Drilling with rotary tools will begin at once.

Deep Test Planned For Central Nolan

A deep wildcat has been staked in Central Nolan County, as Rowan & Hope of San Antonio No. 1 City of Sweetwater.

It is located eight miles south of Sweetwater and 467 feet from south and east lines of section 92, block 22, T&P survey.

Projected depth is 7,200 feet to test the Ellenburger. Rotary tools will be used in drilling this wildcat. Operations will begin in the near future.

NE Stonewall Gets Discovery Outpost

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr. and Cox & Hamon of Dallas have staked a 6,500-foot semi-wildcat in Northeast Stonewall County.

It is No. 1-A Carrie McFarland, 660 feet from northwest and northeast lines of the J. C. Jones survey and about 12 miles northeast of Aspermont.

Rotary tools will be used to drill this prospector. Operations will begin at once.

It is a 3,500-foot southeast outpost to Norsworthy's No. 1 C. D. Wiley, Bend discovery in the East Aspermont pool of Northeast Stonewall County.

No. 1 Wiley was potentialed for 30⅝ barrels of 39.6-gravity oil in 24 hours. Production was from open hole from 6,001 feet to 6,010 feet. Casing was cemented at 5,990 feet.

Location For Pecos Wildcat Corrected

Location for Gulf Oil Corporation and others No. 1 Theo Winfield, scheduled 12,000-foot wildcat in Central Pecos County, will be 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 3, block 132, T&STL survey, instead of in block 12 as previously reported.

Cabot Carbon Company, La-Gloria Corporation and Bryce McCandless and P. N. Gregory are associated with Golf in the Ellenburger exploration.

Drillsite will be nine miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

Application Filed For Dawson Twin

Seaboard Oil Corporation has filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas for permission to drill a 7,000-foot twin to its No. 2-A Robison, San Andres producer in the Spraberry-Deep field of Central-South Dawson County.

The proposed project is slated for drilling to test the Spraberry.

C-W Hale Wildcat Shutin For Orders

R. A. Mason and D. E. Walsh of Lubbock No 1 G. A. Harral, Central-West Hale County wildcat, eight miles northwest of Hale Center is shutdown for orders at total depth of 9,505 feet in lower Mississippian lime.

The rotary drilling rig which was used to deepen the project from 7,009 feet to the current bottom had been moved off by Westlund Drilling Company, contractor on the deepening project.

The wildcat failed to develop any shows of oil or gas in the new section of hole. It took a drillstem test at 9,389-9,490 feet.

The tool was open two hours. Recovery was 600 feet of salty drilling mud.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 7, block 0, D&SE survey.

This prospector was originally drilled by Tobe Foster of Lubbock to a total depth of 7,009 feet in the lower Permian and it was abandoned at that point as a failure in November, 1949.

Mason and Walsh and associates re-entered the old hole in August of this year to deepen it to 9,500 feet in the hope it would find the Ellenburger and get petroleum in that formation.

Drilling was abandoned to the depth contract was completed.

Some of the interested landowners in the area adjacent to the wildcat are reported to be trying to work out a deal to finance the moving in of a portable unit to make a production test on the zone above 6,200 feet. No definite arrangements for that activity had been completed at last report.

The interval above 6,200 feet is reported to have logged some slight oil and gas shows. Informed sources reveal that there is only a small chance that testing there would develop any sort of commercial production.

Two Sites Staked In Kelley-Snyder

Skelly Oil Company staked location for No. 5-A Head in the Kelley-Snyder field of Scurry County.

It is located 1,667 feet from east and 467 feet from south lines of section 290, block 97, H&TC survey and eight miles northwest of Snyder.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 7,100 feet. Operations will begin at once.

Also in the Kelley-Snyder field and about six miles northwest of Snyder, Byrd-Frost, Inc., spotted its No. 2 Arnett.

It is 467 feet from north and west lines of section 291, block 97, H&TC survey.

Projected depth is 7,000 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin in the near future.

SW Scurry Venture Quits In Ellenburger

Seventeen miles southwest of Snyder in Southwest Scurry County, W. C. McBride, Inc. No. 1 E. M. Conrad has been quit as a dry hole in the Ellenburger at total depth of 8,235 feet.

The failure is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 73, block 25, H&TC survey.

Last operation on the No. 1 Conrad was a drillstem test taken in the top of the Ellenburger at 8,217-8,235 feet. Recovery was 400 feet of sulphur water with no shows of oil or gas.

That formation was topped at 8,217 feet, elevation 2,219 feet.

HERE'S A SCARCE ARTICLE!

Yes, it's a scarce type, an established suburban place, planned for bountiful living in a beautiful setting. Two and a half of the best-arranged acres we've ever seen! A lovely 2-bedroom brick home, carpeted wall to wall, air conditioned. Circle drive. Lots of trees surround the house, and a mixed orchard in back. Plenty of outbuildings, including milk house and small barn. 2 wells with electric pumps. Soft water. Restricted area, consisting of very nice masonry homes. And the price is less than you think. Cause Of Vexing Hemorrhoids Has Not Been Determined

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Among the most common complaints today are piles or hemorrhoids. This condition gets its name from the hemorrhoidal veins which lie around the outlet of the intestinal tract. When these veins become enlarged or dilated, they produce the uncomfortable symptoms known as piles.

The presence of blood around the intestinal waste is one of the first symptoms. Pain and itching are also common. At first these symptoms may be present only occasionally, but they tend to get worse as time goes on. In some cases clots form inside these enlarged veins, and this can be very painful indeed. Once in a while the bleeding can be so severe and long continued that it will result in a true anemia.

It is not entirely clear why so many people are troubled with hemorrhoids. Chronic constipation is almost certainly responsible in some cases. Possibly the sitting posture which is involved in so many occupations today also plays a part. Childbirth, and heavy physical strains such as lifting certainly are not good for the person who has piles, and may have something to do with their development.

Hemorrhoids do not usually disappear of themselves. They may get better for a while, and then come back again. It is important to avoid constipation. Some of the suppositories especially recommended for piles bring a certain amount of relief, but rarely cure the condition.

In serious cases an operation offers the best means of treatment. Unfortunately, however, an operation removes only those hemorrhoidal veins which are already enlarged, and new ones may develop unless the causes which brought on the original difficulty are also corrected.

Doctor Must Decide

Sometimes instead of cutting out and removing the piles, they are injected with a solution which causes them to close by forming scar tissue. This is suitable for only some cases and the decision as to whether it is desirable must be left in the hands of the physician in charge of the case.

Hemorrhoids may be either internal or external or both. When they are internal alone, bleeding is likely to be the only symptom. However, this is not to be ignored any more than the obvious external piles.

It should be pointed out that hemorrhoids often produce more than just local symptoms. Anemia has been mentioned; piles can also cause a run-down feeling or fatigue which is not always easy to trace to the true source of difficulty.

PECOS — Plans for carrying out an extensive improvement program for Fairview Cemetery were discussed at a meeting of the cemetery association here recently.

Construction of a new fence around the south and east sides of the cemetery will be one of the primary projects, Sammie Carolinie, association president, said. A well now is being drilled on the west side of the property and trees and shrubs will be set out soon, he said.

S. M. Perwit is to serve as chairman of the board of directors for the association, with other board members to be Floyd Brownlee, Sr., Mrs. H. T. Collier, Mrs. R. G. Middleton, Mrs. John Lilley, W. K. Campbell, Mrs. J. F. Ross and Mrs. Viola Moorhead. Other officers of the association also will serve as directors.

J. H. Wallace, association treasurer, told association members donations to the improvement project were being received almost daily.

Membership Automatic

Membership in the association is automatic with the purchase of a cemetery lot, although persons not members are invited to make suggestions or meet with the group.

Three Reeves County 4-H Club members will have entries in the livestock exhibit at the State Fair of Texas, according to County Agent Jimmy Taylor.

Exhibitors will be Maxine Oliver of Toyahvale showing a 1,100 pound short horn steer, Joe Caldwell of Toyah showing two cross - bred lambs and Dick Ethridge of Pecos showing two cross-bred and two fine wool lambs.

Eunice Prien, Girl Scout director for Region Nine, was the guest speaker for the Girl Scout association meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Federation Parlor.

This was the first association meeting of the season and was open to all parents of Scouts or Scout age girls as well as association members and troop leaders.

Is Executive Director

Miss Prien was accompanied by Mrs. J. E. Starley of Pecos, executive director of the area.

County Judge Richard C. Slack and County Commissioner W. K. Campbell have completed a survey of county hospital facilities in surrounding areas for a report to the county commissioners' court.

A petition asking $125,000 in bonds for the construction of a county hospital now is before the court. The county does not now have a hospital, but uses the facilities of a local privately owned hospital.

Youth Center Chatter

By JOY HOWELL

Attention Mr. and Mrs. North and South America, etc., etc., etc. It now is time for the weekly edition of the Youth Center Chatter, news about the teeners of Midland.

The big topic of conversation this week has been the football game between Midland and Ysleta last Friday night. As all of our readers know by now we won the game 14-7. This was the opening game of the season and the stands were crowded. Last year Ysleta beat Midland, and the Bulldogs were out for revenge. The band and drill squad worked hard also to get in shape for their first public performance of this school year.

In the afternoon, a big parade was held, climaxed by a pep rally in the lobby of the Hotel Scharbauer. The teeners really were pepped up for the game and they yelled until many of them had sore throats. Winning the first game of the season really was wonderful and we hope we will win the rest of the games like we won this first one. After the game, a dance was held in the Youth Center. Of course, the Center was so very crowded that it was difficult to dance, but almost everyone was so busy talking about the game they didn't seem to mind.

Cookies and punch were served to those attending the dance. Football games seem to make everyone exceptionally hungry and thirsty and in no time at all several dozen cookies and more than 15 bowls of punch disappeared. The juke box supplied the music for this dance and everyone had a wonderful time.

On To Dallas

The football boys play in Dallas Friday night and already many teeners have left so as to be there in plenty of time for this big game. We just hope the score will be as good as the one last Friday.

The Youth Center had a lot of visitors last weekend. Students from Ysleta attending the Midland-Ysleta Game and students from Abilene Christian and Sul Ross Colleges attending the game Saturday night were seen at the Center. In addition to these visitors, many of the ex-Midland High School teeners were home.

Not only does the Youth Center have an ice-cold water fountain, it has a musical fountain which supplies all comers with a free shower. A new attachment for the fountain has been ordered, but until then, we will continue to get free showers and concerts with each and every drink from our fountain. We'll miss the delightful music and refreshing shower when the fountain is fixed.

Excellent Reading

We noticed Jerry Webb reading to Shirley Harrison from a very interesting book the other night. He was following the words with his finger as he read to her. Naturally, we were interested in this book which seemed to provide such delightful reading, so we asked the name. The name?—The Midland Telephone Directory!

Notice to all pencil hoarders! Please, when signing the register, don't forget to return the pencil. More good pencils disappear and the register often goes unsigned because one can not find a pencil with which to register. The register is a most important item at the Center. Not only does it provide a check on the number attending the Center, it also makes it much easier to check on the various people who have been in during the afternoon or evening.

We met another out-of-city visitor this week. She is Jo Ann Deaton who lives in Ozona. Jo Ann visited Midland several times this Summer and is a welcome visitor at our Center. She spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Louie R. Ellie. Jo Ann is a junior in Ozona High. She said she may move to Midland. Jane Beakey and Betty Pitzer introduced us to this visitor. We certainly hope you do get to move to Midland, Jo Ann, but, until then, we will be looking forward to the next time you come to Midland for a visit.

Bulldog News

The Center is a popular place for journalism students who are collecting information for the Bulldog, the high school paper which is published each Sunday in The Reporter-Telegram. This week Mary Ann McRae was asking everyone what they thought would make an interesting question for the Wandering Reporter column. She had collected a lot of clever answers, but we just wonder how many she will be able to use.

Betty Sivalls found a most entertaining gadget to play with. The Silent Butler, which opens and closes quickly makes a lot of noise and also perfumes the air with the odor of stale cigarette smoke. Betty likes this little toy because it reminds her of a hungry alligator opening and closing its mouth!

Attention, all adult readers! Information concerning ex-Midland teeners or college students who have received honors at school or have been accepted by fraternities or sororities gladly is accepted. It is difficult to keep track of teeners who are away from home, and we certainly do appreciate it when parents or relatives give us news items. If you will phone No. 1619, we will be glad to take the information. This column, by the way, has to be in by Tuesday afternoon.

The Balcony

Many magazines have been contributed to the Youth Center lately and our reading room, or rather, our reading balcony, rapidly is becoming more popular. Now that the weather is cooler, the teeners often are found up in the balcony, reading a book or a magazine. This is an ideal place to study—for those who are extra ambitious. It also provides a good view of the entire Center.

The eclipse of the moon Monday night attracted quite a crowd outside the Youth Center. We watched and watched, but we missed seeing the total eclipse.

Mary Ann McRae and Dianna Anderson are two truly brave girls. They were attempting to get their homework done at the Center Monday night—between the flying ping-pong balls, the juke box going full blast, and the yells of the players at the pool table.

Twins? No, just twin shirts! Jim O'Neal and Graham Mackey had on shirts which looked like leopard skin a few nights ago.

Tommy Johnson and Barbara Whitson were making a stab at dancing to "Cincinnati's Dancing Pig" recently. Tommy combined waltzing, jitter-bugging and a few other steps, and Barbara followed along as best she could as they went whizzing and whirling around the floor. The chairs and tables made the dance into more of an obstacle race than anything else.

Wrestling To Music

Some people enjoy dancing to music, but Jimmy Chauncey and Thomas Smith found an even better way of enjoying music. Have you tried wrestling to "Are You Lonesome Tonight"? You must try it some time. The boys finally adjourned to the front yard where they had a few more rounds. We never did find out who won.

The news girls' pool table really is quite a source of amusement at the Center. Between exclamations of "Which one do I hit next?" "Why can't I move that other ball out of the way?" "Oh, I hit one—even tho' it was the wrong ball," "the balls must be alergic to going in the holes" and "My, but this is a difficult game to play" the girls play what they consider to be pool. Pat Boles, Diana Daugherty, Margie Cramer and a few others are getting to be regular sharks—they occasionally hit the right ball.

The boys always are more than willing to instruct the girls or to take their shots.

That's about all for this week. Tune in again next Thursday, same time, same newspaper for more up-to-date commentary on the doings around the Midland Youth Center.

Test Results Cited By Val-Sweet Makers

SAN FRANCISCO — California Grape Colony, makers of Val-Sweet Grape Nectar, have announced that a series of test conducted by the corporation show that more than three pounds of vintage California grapes go into each 46 ounces (one, quart, 14 ounce) can of the product. The tests revealed that the actual weight of grapes contained in every economy-size can usually found on the grocers' shelves—is 3.3 pounds.

Val-Sweet is a delightfully palatable grape nectar, a combination of eleven varieties of table and wine grapes, skilfully blended into an all-weather, all-purpose beverage, according to the makers.

California Grape Colony is composer of 70 vinyardists who have taken over a famous old winery at Lodi, Calif. where Val-Sweet is made under ultra-modern, sanitary conditions. Plans call for crushing 10,000 to 12,500 tons of vintage grapes this season.

Red Threat Hurts India's Commerce

NEW DELHI —(AP)— The Communist threat to Tibet has hit trade with India, informed sources say.

India's trade with Tibet, and through Tibet to southwest China, formerly amounted to $4,000,000 a year. Trade with West China has completely stopped and trade with Tibet has fallen sharply.

In view of the uncertain political conditions in Tibet, Lhasa merchants are selling hoarded stocks, sources said. Some are reported to have moved to the Indian district of Darjeeling.

Kermit Newlyweds Witness 'Friendly City' In Action

By Maud Green
Special Correspondent

KERMIT — A Kermit newlywed couple always will remember the Panhandle town of Paducah, and the bride and gridegroom are quite convinced the town lives up to its slogan, "The Friendliest Town in Texas."

Last week Frank Kruse and his bride, the former Sue Ann Lawrence, who had been married the day previous in Vernon, stopped in Paducah to eat lunch. They didn't know anybody in Paducah. Their car had been gaily decorated with the usual "just married" signs, and their names, "Frank" and "Sue" were painted on the windows. While they were eating lunch in the coffee shop, a stranger approached and asked if they were "Frank and Sue." They then were asked to join the meeting of the Paducah Lions Club.

When Frank started to pay the luncheon check, he was told it already had been paid. The couple then was ushered into the Lions meeting, seated on a piano bench, and quizzed as to what they were and when they were married. They also were asked to tell something of their love story, including how Sue had gone off and forgotten her wedding dress that morning in their room in Crowell.

Frank was asked if he had read the highway sign as they entered the town. He had and could repeat it, word for word. "Paducah, The Friendliest Town in Texas." The Lions were pleased and decided the couple would see that the town really lives up to that sign.

Gifts Pour In

An on the spot collection, after the club members had agreed all newlyweds need cash, resulted in $26.05 for their first gift. Various merchants present began calling out different items they wanted to give the couple. The club secretary recorded these and the list was given to Frank and Sue who later, still amazed and delighted, collected their presents. They found some extra ones in the car when they returned, and still have some to collect. The list was as long and varied as the business firms in Paducah.

The bride is the daughter of Vernon Lawrence of Kermit, who is with the Natural Gasoline Division of Cabot Carbon Company. They formerly lived in Pampa. The bridegroom is the son of former Kermit City Commissioner and Mrs. Levi Kruse, who now live in Snyder. Frank is a graduate of Kermit High School and a former Yellow Jacket football star.

Frank is enlisting in the Air Force and expects to be in service early next month. Mrs. Kruse will continue her high school education. In the meantime, they will make their home in Snyder.

When Frank completes his military duty and they are ready to settle down, both of them probably will want to live in Paducah where he can be an active member of the Lions Club in "The Friendliest Town in Texas."

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Drip! Drip! Drip!

The late of night had come to the Great Forest. Everyone there in the monkey house was fast asleep in bed, high in the top of the very tall tree.

Everyone was asleep, I mean, but little Mugwump Monkey. He should have been asleep, but he wasn't. No, but the night was cool and almost cold. Mugwump Monkey was covered up to his ears almost, while one eye was out of the cover to look through the window at the night outside.

How friendly was the night. How cool was the wind that blew at his ears. How pleasant was the rustle of the leaves outside. The stars, too, were friendly, although they seemed very far away. Thin wisps of cloud were blowing across a pale moon. Then the wind stirred and seemed to become alive. It tossed the tree and the monkey house with it. A door slammed where the wind slammed it. Far away a lion roared out in the night. Farther away another lion roared out an answer.

Mugwump heard these things. He heard Daddy Ringtail walking from bed to bed to see if each of the children had enough cover. He stopped by the window, and stood there silent in the darkness. He seemed to be wondering if maybe he shouldn't close the window to keep out the rain if the rain came.

The lightning flashed. It rumbled and grumbled across the sky. The wind now was gone, but the rain was pittering and pattering down on the roof. It dripped through the tree.

"It sure sounds pretty," Mugwump whispered.

Daddy Ringtail whispered back that the drip of the rain sounded pretty indeed. Then he sat down on the edge of Mugwump's bed so that they could listen to the drip together. Drip! Drip! Drip! What a happy sound it was. Drip! Drip! Drip

At last Daddy Ringtail held out his hand to the window to see if the rain was dripping in. It was dripping in, so he closed the window gently. Oh, but Mugwump didn't hear it. He was fast asleep now from the happy sound of the drip! drip! drip! What a happy sound it is. Happy day! Happy letting the rain sing you to sleep the next night it rains at your house and you are all cozy in your bed.

Chicken Makes A Fine Feast

STEWED CHICKEN with rich gravy and baking powder biscuits—here is an easy-on-the-budget feast.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Plump hens are coming to market now because they are no longer efficient egg-layers. They offer an economical source of protein.

Chicken fricassee, or call it stewed chicken with gravy, is a favorite American recipe. The Poultry and Egg National Board's recipe, presented below, has been carefully tested.

Stewed Chicken

To stew: Leave chicken whole or disjoint and cut into serving pieces. Place in a large kettle with a tight fitting cover. Add 1/2 cup water and 1/2 teaspoon salt for each pound of chicken including giblets and neck. For additional flavor add carrot, onion, celery, a clove and two or three peppercorns. For a slight pinkish color and more flavor, add a quartered ripe tomato. Bring water to boil, remove any foam. Reduce heat to simmering. Simmer, covered, until tender, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 hours. A fork should pierce the meat easily to the bone when chicken is done. When done, remove chicken and strain the broth.

To prepare gravy with broth: Remove chicken when tender. Skim most of the fat from the broth. Set aside for other cooking purposes. Strain and measure broth. For each cup of broth for gravy mix 1 1/2 tablespoons flour and 1 1/2 tablespoons water until smooth. Pour slowly, stirring constantly, into simmering broth. Continue cooking and stirring until gravy is thickened. Cover and simmer five to ten minutes longer to thoroughly cook the flour. Serve with chicken. Allow 1/2 cup gravy for each serving. Water or milk may be added to broth to make desired amount.

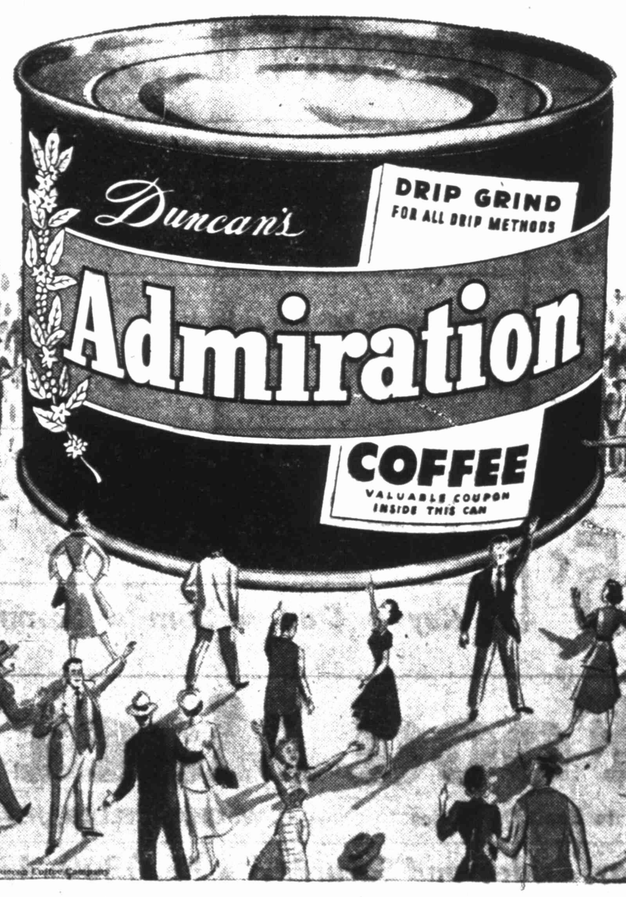

Our favorite gravy is made with chicken fat and flour. Remove chicken from broth and chill the broth quickly. The rich yellow fat will rise to the top.

Use the chicken fat and flour in equal amounts for a smooth gravy. One tablespoon of each to one cup of chicken stock makes a thin gravy. Blend fat and flour in cooking pan and stir in stock slowly. Stir to avoid lumping. Cook over very low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Add salt and other seasonings to taste.

Here's A Protein-Packed Meal

BIG ONIONS stuffed with meat and rolled oats and seasonings are a big economy treat for the family.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Look, budgeteers, here's another good one! Big round onions (lots of them in the markets now) stuffed with a savory mixture that carries a load of low cost protein.

The meat protein in this recipe is extended by the equally good but inexpensive protein of rolled oats and cheese.

Stuffed Onions
(Makes 6 Servings)

Six large onions, 1 pound ground beef, 1/3 cup catsup, 1/3 cup water, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup quick rolled oats, uncooked, grated sharp cheese, bread crumbs.

Cook the onions in salted water 30 minutes. Brown ground beef in frying pan. Add catsup, water, salt, pepper and rolled oats. Gently push center out of each onion. Place shells in muffin cups or custard cups. Chop enough of the cooked onion (centers) to make 1/4 cup. Mix with the meat. Fill onion shells with meat mixture. Sprinkle top of each onion with grated cheese and bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

Here is a new twist to croquettes. The rolled oats extend the meat protein, putting this recipe in the economy group.

Meat Croquettes
(Makes 8 Servings)

One cup quick rolled oats, uncooked, 1 1/2 cups boiling water, 1 pound ground beef, 2 tablespoons shortening, 1/4 cup finely chopped onion, 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Stir rolled oats into boiling water and cook slowly for five minutes, stirring frequently. Brown meat in shortening. Combine cooked oatmeal, meat, onion, green pepper and seasonings. Chill; then shape into 8 croquettes. Roll croquettes in dry bread crumbs, then dip in beaten egg to which 2 tablespoons of milk have been added. Roll again in crumbs. Place in wire basket and fry in hot deep fat (375 degree F.) until a golden brown. Serve hot with mushroom sauce. Note: To make the sauce, blend 3 tablespoons flour into 2 tablespoons melted butter. Add gradually 1 cup milk, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Stir in 1/2 cup canned mushrooms, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon pepper.

Cheese souffle tastes particularly good served with buttered spinach and pan-fried pineapple rings or apple slices.

Wide lamp shades spread light well. A white-lined shade is more efficient and provides more light than any other type.

To make a white sauce a beautiful pale yellow color, add a very little turmeric. This is good with seafood or vegetables.
