After the breakfast, a rapid-fire campaign to raise the county's quota of $1,600 for the party's national war chest will be started.

'We Owe It To Party'

"The only way we Texas Democrats can help in the national campaign is by our contributions, since we feel sure that the state will go Democratic by a large majority," said Vickers. "We owe it to our party to aid with our funds."

"What we need to realize," said Doctor Jackson, "is that if the Democrats don't win, Texas loses, too. It isn't a question of Texas' going Democratic. If it were left only to the doubtful areas to raise funds,

Maybe He'll Be Back After The Holiday Ends

CHICAGO, Oct. 12. (AP)—Somebody told James Concanson, a prisoner in the Bridewell, that this was Columbus day—a holiday.

So he went out to the main gate, pointed to the line of officials' cars in the yard and announced he had been assigned to park them in the street.

The substitute guard on duty nodded. Concanson entered a matron's machine, stepped on the gas and sped away.

He was last seen going south.

Hearings Are Begun Monday On Tax Bill

Senate State Affairs Group Considers Omnibus Levy Measure With Session At Its Halfway Mark

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 12.—The senate state affairs committee began hearings on the omnibus tax bill proposed by the house as the special session of the legislature reached the halfway mark today.

Committeemen expressed hope they could conclude hearings tomorrow so floor consideration of the bill might start within a few days.

The constitution provides that revenue-raising measures must originate in the house, and the lower branch so far had sent the senate only the omnibus proposal. Representatives were at work, however, on a separate bill to increase the oil tax.

Action Not Final

The house voted 60 to 59 to boost the oil levy from two to five cents a barrel. The action was not final, as the figure would be subject to further revision tomorrow. When reported by committee, the proposal called for a raise of only three-fourth cent a barrel, the same as in the omnibus proposal.

Before adopting the five-cent amendment, the house rejected a six-cent amendment, 58 to 54.

Would Tax Bookmakers

Without a record vote, the house state affairs committee gave a favorable report to a bill by Rep. Pat Dwyer of San Antonio to tax bookmakers. Dwyer would make each bookie shop pay a license fee of $5,000 a year.

The house committee on municipal and private corporations recommended a bill to levy a 5 per cent

Lemke Takes Rap At Farm Program

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 12. (AP)—Representative William Lemke, union party presidential candidate, said tonight a "real and lasting prosperity" could never be restored to the nation "until we all follow the Union party slogan which is 'Eat, drink, wear and buy American made products.'"

The North Dakotan denounced the administration's farm program and trade policies as "disastrous to the entire nation." He termed crop reduction "vandalism."

His address was prepared for a rally of National Union for Social Justice clubs.

Mrs. Reable Childs And Her Lover Named In $20,000 Suit

CENTER, Oct. 12. (AP)—Attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Jim Childs, parents of Marlee Childs, filed suit here today asking $20,000 damages from Mrs. Reable Childs, widow of Marlie Childs, and Terrance Bramlett.

Mrs. Reable Childs and Bramlett, her admitted 21-year-old lover, recently were sentenced to prison terms in connection with the slaying of Childs, former Shelby county treasurer.

Judge T. O. Davis ruled recently against Auvy Childs, brother of the slain man, as administrator of the estate on the grounds the widow needed no administrator.

Solons Seek More Probes Of University

Rep. A. B. Tarwater, Plainview, Asks Inquiry Into Activities Of Dr. A. B. Cox And J. Evetts Haley

New Deal Foes

Both Men Are Bitter Foes Of Administration; Funds Of Grants Would Be Put Under Inquiry

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 12.—Demands for additional investigations at the University of Texas rang in the house of representatives today.

Rep. A. B. Tarwater of Plainview asked an inquiry into activities of Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the school's bureau of business research, and J. Evetts Haley, former member of the research history department, while Rep. Herman Jones of Decatur sought an investigation of faculty censorship over The Daily Texan, student newspaper.

Decision Tuesday

A decision on the proposals, under which the latest investigations would be conducted by a committee already authorized to examine reports that Communism was taught in state-supported institutions, went over until tomorrow.

Cox has severely criticized the New Deal cotton program, and Haley, at present chairman of the Jeffersonian Democrats of Texas, has denounced national Democratic policies in general.

Would Probe Grants

Tarwater's resolution would empower an inquiry into all grants of money to the university used in work directed by Dr. Cox and Haley, as well as other activities of the men, that the legislature "can fairly determine whether a request for their dismossal would be justified."

The Mayor's car proved to be in perfect condition.

Now No Time To Change, Cudahy Says

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP) — Asserting that "all Europe prepares for war," John Cudahy, United States ambassador to Poland said tonight "this is no time for a change of administration."

"Only a miracle can avert a general conflict during the next four years," he said. "And the American people are about to choose a single man into whose hands will be committed the destiny of this republic during the approaching storm.

"I submit that Governor Landon is without training for this tremendous responsibility.

"We must stand by President Roosevelt in a mad world when civilization itself is challenged and only the democracy of America remains the hope and salvation of mankind."

Wood Funeral Not Complete; Two Are Held

C. E. Fugitt Of Idalou Is Said Driver Of Truck Described As Causing Death Of Lubbock Woman

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Louise Wood, wife of Captain Otis Wood of Lubbock and who was killed in an automobile collision 15 miles west of Fort Sumner, N. M., late Sunday, had not been completed late Monday night, said the Associated Press from Albuquerque, N. M.

In the meantime, a preliminary hearing which had been scheduled tentatively for Monday night at Fort Sumner for C. E. Fugitt of Idalou and H. C. Grace of Amherst was being delayed until probably today, said the Associated Press.

Coroner's Verdict Returned

Mrs. Wood was killed and her husband, commander of the Lubbock Civilian Conservation crops district, was injured seriously when their machine was in collision with a truck.

Fugitt and Grace were taken into custody late Sunday night, and Sheriff L. C. Barnhart said they were held for preliminary hearing after a coroner's jury verdict that Mrs. Wood came to her death in an automobile accident "due to a car driven by Fugitt."

The sheriff said Fugitt and his companion had been drinking before the crash and that the district attorney had instructed him to withhold manslaughter charges until after the hearing.

Fugitt was quoted as saying he

New Deal Is "A Disgrace," Landon Says

Republicans' Presidential Candidate Terms Present Administration "National Scandal" In Talk At Cleveland

Promises Relief

"Liberal" Relief Program Of Federal Cash Grants And State Administration Is His Proposal

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 12.—A "liberal" relief program built on federal cash grants and state administration was proposed by Gov. Alf M. Landon tonight to replace the New Deal rule which he termed a "national scandal" and "disgrace."

He said the Roosevelt administration had diverted relief money to building "a shameless political machine."

"Record Of Miserable Failure"

Even worse, the governor said, was its "record of miserable failure" in the duties of administering relief "so wisely so sympathetically that human values will not be destroyed" and "of doing everything in our power to assist real recovery —that means to get real jobs for the unemployed."

Standing in the big public auditorium where the Republican convention nominated him for the presidency four months ago, the Kansas governor presented his personal elaboration of the relief plank in that convention's platform.

"We Have A Solution"

"The first thing is to get rid of waste, extravagance and politics in the administration of relief," Landon said. "We must have a common sense, workable solution. . . .

"The first step in building an intelligent system for handling relief is to find out the facts. That the Republican party proposes to do. . . .

"The Republican party as a major reform proposes to return the administration of relief to the states. It will then be possible for the communities themselves to determine just what form relief should take. They will determine what, if any, work relief projects will be started or continued. . . .

Must Continue Aid

"At the same time the federal government must continue to give financial aid, through the states. We intend to establish a system of federal grants-in-aid to the states. We shall ask that the states qualify by complying with certain reasonable conditions.

"The first . . . is that a fair proportion of the total relief burden

Why Al's Sore Is Told By Robinson

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12. (AP) — U. S. Senator Joseph T. Robinson said tonight Alfred E. Smith "has the right 'to take a walk'," but "all I complain of is that he grows resentful when his old associates refuse to follow or accompany him in his wanderings."

The Arkansas senator, in an address prepared for a Democratic rally, said the former New York governor had the right "to take a walk even though the way be devious and lead among darkened paths overhung with cypress boughs."

Robinson was Smith's running mate on the national Democratic ticket in 1928.

"We part company reluctantly with such men and leaders as Alfred E. Smith," Robinson stated.

"But we are compensated for the loss of their support by the help of independent voters, outnumbering disaffected Democrats one hundred to one."

Reports On Churches Given In Methodist Session Here

Virtually 100 per cent payment of salaries and benevolences for the 28 churches of the Lubbock district of the Methodist church, was assured for the conference year which closes November 4, at a district-wide meeting in the First church here last night. There were nearly 900 men in attendance, including about 20 pastors, the rest being laymen.

Joseph R. Griggs, district lay leader, presided. The meal was served by ladies of the church. No ministers took part in the program. Coleman Cowan, Idalou, led the singing and the invocation was given by L. H. Moore, Lakeview charge on the Meadow circuit.

Principal address was by Ray H. Nichols, Vernon, editor of the Vernon Daily Record and lay leader of the Northwest Texas conference.

Which Lady Did Gov. Landon Kiss?

Did Gov. Alf M. Landon kiss his first nurse, Aunt Molly Baird, or another woman whom he mistook for Mrs. Baird? That's the question that has West Middlesex, Pa., the governor's birthplace, in a turmoil. The G.O.P. nominee is shown here as he bestowed the kiss on the occasion of his visit to the old home town in August, to start his campaign. The home-town Democrats claim he kissed the wrong woman. The G.O.P. adherents deny this as a canard. And the argument waxes hotter every day, as election nears.

Gold Standard Of New Type Appears

Enrollment At Tech Smashed

Former Fall Semester Mark Of 2,441 Students Eclipsed By Total Of 2,700 Established Monday Afternoon

A student pleased officials considerably at Texas Technological college when he paid his fees about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

His fees did not raise the college finances to any great extent, but they pushed registration to the 2,700 mark, and further shattered the former fall registration record of 2,441 students.

The total for both the fall and spring semesters last year was 2,748 students. The former record for one semester was set last fall.

President Bradford Knapp announced registration by divisions as follows: agricultural, 328; engineering, 574; home economics, 306; arts and sciences, 1,502.

Registration for the fall semester began Sept. 15. Most students have been attending classes several weeks, but students who found late registration unavoidable are being allowed to enroll.

Passengers Snug In Their Berths And Trains Snug In Mother Ships! Travel Easy

LONDON, Oct. 12. (AP)—For the first time in history, sea-going travelers slept their way in luxury tonight across the English channel from Paris to London.

The new $5,000,000 system, eliminating the necessity of being awakened at unearthly nocturnal hours for the transfer from train to ship at channel terminal ports, was inaugurated tonight when the first sea-going train left the Nord Station, Paris, at 11:30 p. m. en route to Victoria station, London, where it arrives tomorrow morning.

Three new ocean ferries, each 2,840 tons, capable of holding 12 sleeping cars or 40 freight cars, will rush the Paris-London trains across the channel, with passengers snug in their berths and trains snug in their mother ships.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 12. (AP)—Utah's important metal mining industry came to a virtual halt today as workers in every major district joined a strike for higher wages and more strict hour regulations.

Union officials said they demand 50 cents a day increase and an eight-hour "portal to portal" shift.

There was no disorder.

Free Gold Exchange From Stabilization Funds Provided

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — Secretary Morgenthau today announced the establishment of 'a new type of gold standard" by the United States, Great Britain and France, providing for the free exchange of gold between the stabilization funds of the three nations.

The tri-power agreement, effective tomorrow, does not establish fixed ratios for currencies of the three countries, and gold transactions will not be permitted by individuals.

Termed "Second Step"

Morgenthau characterized the new standard as a "second step" toward international currency stabilization, directly resulting from the "gentlemen's agreement" on monetary policy concluded by the three nations September 26.

The chief effect of the new arrangements, he said, would be to take the power to trade gold out of the hands of "irresponsible speculators" and put it in the hands of the government. He said the arrangement might be revoked by any of the three nations on 24 hours notice.

To Protect Business

The primary purpose of the agreement, Morgenthau said, is to protect American business against violent fluctuations of the exchanges. He asserted it would have no effect whatever on the internal value of the dollar.

Under the tri-partite understanding, sales of gold will be made, beginning tomorrow, through the Federal Reserve bank of New York, as fiscal agent of the United States, at a price of $35 per fine ounce, plus a 1-4 per cent handling charge.

Mrs. Link had lived in Lubbock approximately five years, and formerly had lived at Norman. Funeral rites will be read at the home of a niece at Norman, said Rix Funeral home. Mrs. Link belonged to the Methodist church.

Other survivors are the husband, and a son at Philadelphia.

Republicans "Two-Faced" FDR Declares

Opposition's Leadership Is Compared To Janus In Talk At Denver Monday, At Tip Of His 5000-Mile Trip

To Visit Kansas

Home State Of Landon Is To Be Visited Today; Pledges To Preserve "Constitutional Government"

(By The Associated Press)

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN enroute to Wichita, Kans., Oct. 12.—At the tip of his 5,000-mile western stumping tour, President Roosevelt today compared Republican leadership to the "two-faced" god, Janus, charged that it "lacked consistency," and at the same time pledged the New Deal to preserve a "constitutional, representative form of government."

He said Republican leaders had made a "pitiful spectacle" in calling the works program waste and extravagance," that under his own administration, the nation had gone "around the corner" and that "our monetary system is the soundest in the world today."

Spoke From Colorado Capitol

The president spoke in Denver from a platform on the west terrace of the gold-domed Colorado capitol.

Mr. Roosevelt touched several times on questions of particular interest in the West.

He brought applause when he spoke of conserving every gallon of water in western rivers, said the soundness of the stock raising industry "shall be preserved," claimed that federal policies had helped the sugar beet industry, and asserted that dollar revaluation and government purchases of gold and silver had helped to bring a "revival of mining."

Janus Reference Draws Laughs

But he got the biggest hand and a series of laughs, when he injected, the reference to Janus into his address.

Standing bareheaded on the flag-shrouded platform, banging his fist and shaking his head in emphasis,

WICHITA PREPARING

WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 12. (AP)—State Democratic leaders were putting the finishing touches today to plans for the visit and address here tomorrow of President Roosevelt.

Walter Blake, secretary of the Democratic headquarters here, said it had not been decided definitely whether the president would speak to the crowd inside the city's municipal baseball park or whether a platform would be constructed so that his listeners could assemble in a larger area outside and partially surrounding the park.

Court Stands Pat On Wages Ruling

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—In its first business session of the term, the Supreme court today stood pat on its invalidation of the New York minimum wage law for women and agreed to review an appeal from a decision holding a similar statute in the state of Washington was constitutional.

The appeal on the Washington law was made by opponents of the statute, and so the court's action was what they wanted. But at the same time it will grant advocates of such legislation another chance to convince the high tribunal of its constitutionality.

In all, the court acted on 295 appeals today, consenting to review six disputes involving New Deal legislation and declining to pass on three others. In addition, it not only refused to rehear the New York case, but also declined to reconsider its five to four ruling last May holding unconstitutional the federal municipal bankruptcy law to help cities reduce their indebtedness.

Demo Chairman Predicts FDR Easily Will Carry New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 12. (AP)—On the basis of the large increase in registration in New York City, Democratic Chariman James A. Farley today predicted President Roosevelt would carry the city by 1,000,000 to 1,100,000 votes in November.

CIVIC MUSIC ASSOCIATION

OFFICERS of the South Plains Civic Music Association are busy appointing committees to assist them in attaining an over the top membership list for the initial drive. caused me intense suffering and each day it continually grew worse until my entire system seemed filled with poisons. My stomach was in such an acid condition, gas formed after every meal I ate, bloated so badly I would have to loosen my clothes to get my breath and often felt as if I would smother. I was sluggish and tired out all the time, lacked the energy to do my work and was in a general worn-out condition, a health "wreck" until a friend convinced me Gly-Cas was the medicine I should take—and it was wonderful."

"Gly-Cas gave me good results from the very first," he continued, "My bowels were regulated and the poisons removed from my system in a most natural way. Those attacks of indigestion have gone, gas or bloating no longer bother me and the pains throughout my body have disappeared. I now enjoy a full nights sleep, feel full of energy and pep and ready for my days work. Gly-Cas is one medicine sufferers need not hesitate in trying for it gives new health even when all else had failed completely."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

"EXTRAVAGANT!" SAID OUR RELATIVES "A SAVING!"

WE SAID—AND WE PROVED IT COSTS LESS TO BUY GOOD COFFEE.

AN ACTUAL TRUE LIFE EXPERIENCE

"Kept A 30-Day Record And Proved FOLGER'S Cost Less"
SAYS MRS. CLEVENSTON

"I kept account of how long a can of Folger's lasted, and compared the cost, over a 30-day period, with my sister-in-law. I proved to her that she spent more money than I, and she served a poorer coffee," says Mrs. R. D. Clevenston, of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Clevenston is only one of the many women who have discovered that it costs no more to serve Folger's, and have coffee that everyone raves about.

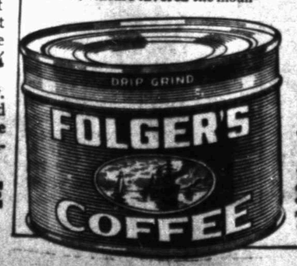

Unlike ordinary coffees, Folger's gets its rare, rich flavor from the mountains of Central America, the coffee paradise of the world. This flavor is not only different from other coffees, and more delicious, but it is actually so extra rich that you use less coffee. Housewives tell us they use ¼ less!

Order Folger's from your grocer now. Serve it for tomorrow's breakfast, and you'll say, too, "There's no coffee like Folger's."—Folger Coffee Company, Kansas City—San Francisco.

FOLGER'S COFFEE Vacuum PACKED

WHY MOUNTAIN COFFEE IS "DIFFERENT"

Everybody knows that certain foods grow better in some localities than others. Thus, the Rio Grande Valley of Texas produces the finest and juiciest grapefruit. Idaho is noted for its baking potatoes. And when it comes to coffee, Nature favored the mountains of Central America. Here, the climate and soil produce a rare coffee unlike that grown anywhere else. And that is where Folger's gets its distinctive flavor—its wine-y tang.

SPECIAL DRIP GRIND

If you want to make a hit as a coffee maker, try preparing your coffee by the drip method. And be sure to use Folger's Drip Grind—designed especially for dripmakers, Silex and other glass coffee makers. Never crushed, or mashed, but cut by scientific processes to assure perfect results.

THRILLS and ROMANCE

Tune in JUDY AND JANE—on the air at 1:45 P. M. daily except Saturday and Sunday. Presented by Folger's Coffee on Stations WKY-WFAA.

Civic Music Plan Started

Plans For Membership Drive To Be Made In Meeting At Hotel Lubbock Tonight; To Bring Musicians Here

Officers of the recently formed South Plains Civic Music Association are meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Hotel Lubbock to formulate plans for a membership drive which will be conducted in Lubbock next week.

Miss Muri Springsted, field director and representative of the Civic Concert Service, Inc., subsidiary of the National Broadcasting Company artist department, arrived here Monday to assist in the campaign.

Enables Concerts Presentation

The Civic Music Plan, which is financially sound, eliminating the necessity of guarantors and the possibility of a deficit, enables American cities to present concerts on a permanent and economical basis.

Membership enrollment is open for one week each year, adult memberships at $5 and full time public school and college students at $2.50. Only members may attend the concerts and no tickets are sold to single concerts.

Committee Selects Artists

This plan has been recognized as the most popular of having outstanding artists visit a city, the local talent committee of the association selecting musicians who will appear on the series.

Texas cities affiliated with the national organization are Dallas, Tyler, Texarkana, Wichita Falls, Longview, Waco, Galveston, Harlingen, Laredo, Fort Worth, Paris and Corpus Christi.

Miss Springsted came here from Fort Worth where she assisted in the sixth annual membership campaign. That city has an enrollment of 1,500.

Local officers are: President, the Rev. W. R. Vivrett; vice-presidents, Dr. Jack M. Lewis, W. W. Rix, Mrs. H. F. Godeke, Mrs. Lillian Butler of Slaton; secretary, Miss Mary Dunn and treasurer, R. H. Hester.

Upton Sinclair Denies He Is Supporting Norman Thomas

PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 12. (AP)—Upton Sinclair denied today he is endorsing Norman Thomas for president, as he understood socialist headquarters in New York had announced.

Sinclair, the former socialist who lost a Democratic race for governor of California in 1934, said he is for President Roosevelt. He attributed the New York report to a vote-swapping proposal he made recently in efforts to aid the president in doubtful states.

"I have repeatedly explained my position—that I believe it is necessary to support President Roosevelt for reelection, even while expressing dissatisfaction with some of the measures he has taken so far," Sinclair said.

McAdoo Schoolman Hurt In Accident

When O. L. Smith, McAdoo schools superintendent, addresses his students in the future he probably will dodge he singleness of purpose line of talk so often employed in the school room.

The fact Smith and another motorist thought the same way in an emergency Monday afternoon brought disaster to both.

Smith was driving his automobile five miles north of Spur when he said he believed the road was clear for him to pass a vehicle occupied by negro cotton pickers. Another machine was approaching, however, and, in an effort to avoid collision, he and the other driver elected to dodge the same direction.

The two cars smashed in a ditch. Smith said the other driver, who was not injured, assisted him to Spur and had both machines looked after.

Surgeons at Lubbock sanitarium said Smith suffered a fractured left knee cap which, broken in five places, will require an open reduction this morning.

It would be necessary to build 240,000 additional homes in London, if every family were to be provided with a separate abode.

Twenty-Two 'Drunks' Charged Here Over Week-End; Reports Of Small Thefts Are Listed

Dunkenness predominated over week-end misdemeanors, 22 persons being docketed for that offense. All except one had entered pleas and had been fined.

Santiago Garcia, charged with theft, was fined $1 and costs when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. T. Trigg.

Police had several reports of small thefts during the week-end.

Suit Is Stolen

A suit of clothing which he had bought that day was stolen Saturday night from J. W. Garner. He said the clothing was taken from his automobile, parked near Texas avenue and Thirteenth street.

Mrs. O. C. Arthur of Spur said that a fur coat was stolen from her automobile parked in 1200-block on Broadway.

Errol Foote, 1961 Texas avenue, said a bicycle was taken from him at Eighteenth street and Avenue H, Sunday night.

Residence Burglarized

A negro residence, in The Flats, was burglarized, a purse containing 50 cents, and a shovel being taken. The shovel was recovered.

Two additional arrests were made as a result of seven charges alleging liquor law violation filed Saturday.

John Klantchnek, charged with sale of whisky, pleaded not guilty and posted $500 bond set by County Judge J. J. Dillard. Dott Mann, facing a similar charge, also was arrested. She had not been arraigned that afternoon.

A Lubbock cafe operator, who will be charged with liquor law violation, posted $500 bond, it was said at the sheriff's department.

State Rests Case In Tahoka Trial

TAHOKA, Oct. 12. (Special) — State rested its case at 6 o'clock this afternoon in murder proceedings against Mose Caro, negro indicted for murdering a Mexican, "One Carusto," said 106th District Attorney Truett Smith.

Caro had pleaded not guilty.

A jury was completed at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, from a special venire of 75 men. Defense examination of prospective jurors indicated self-defense might be pleaded by Tom Garrard and B. P. Maddox, counsel appointed by Judge Gordon B. McGuire to represent the negro.

County Attorney C. H. Cain is assisting the district attorney.

Carusto's badly decomposing body was found in a east Lynn county cottonfield last spring. He and Caro had shared the same cabin in January, said District Attorney Smith.

Westerners Start Work For Powerful Capitol Hill Indians Of Oklahoma City

Strong Sooner Eleven Coming To City Friday

Defensive Work Featured In Drill Monday; Oklahomans, 27-0 Victors Over Pampa, To Offer Much Strength

Individual practice at blocking and tackling constituted most of yesterday's workout for the Lubbock High Westerners, back in the high school football sun now after walloping the Cleburne Yellow Jackets last Friday night and still unbeaten in this year's practice routine.

All hands except Co-Captain Wilburn Piercy, guard, and Arvie Lee Oden, end, were taking part in the vigorous workout. Piercy and Oden sustained injuries Friday night that may keep them out of this week's game with the powerful Indians of Capitol Hill High school, Oklahoma City. Oden, less severely hurt, may be able to play, but Coach Chapman held little hope for Piercy. It is thought probable that H. L. Gantz, end who was treated for possible blood poisoning last week and held out of the Cleburne game, will be ready this week.

Defensive Work Featured

Defensive work was featured in yesterday's individual drills, Coaches Chapman, Keyes and Ayres closely supervising defensive blocking and stressing deadly tackling. Lubbock's defense was not its outstanding qualification in the Cleburne game.

Spirit was much better in yesterdays' workout than it has been since the season opened, and the enthusiasm will get a better chance to show itself today and tomorrow when the Westerners open up with offensive sessions and a bit of scrimmage.

Tickets On Sale

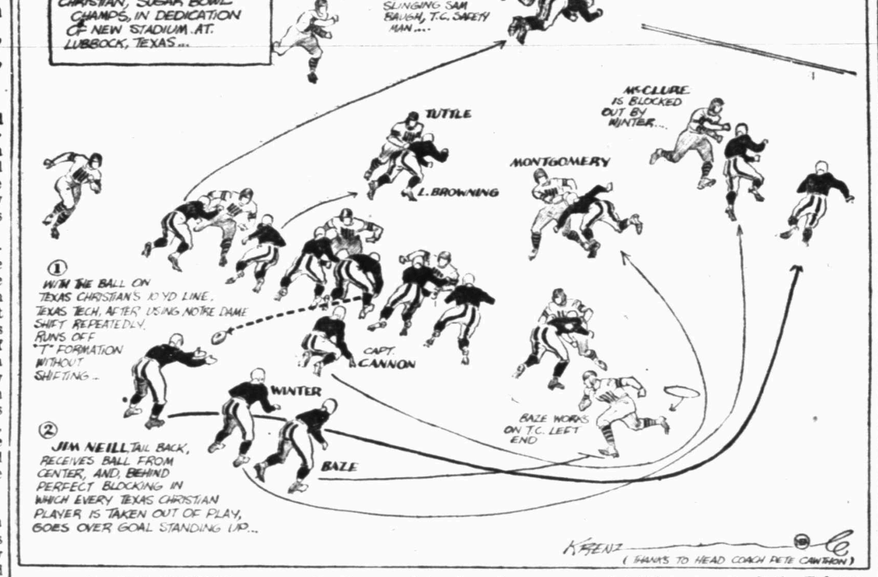

Tickets for the game Friday night at Tech Field, outstanding football attraction of the South Plains, are available at the Hub Clothiers. Reserved seat tickets will be sold until noon Friday.

The Capitol Hill team defeated Pampa's Harvesters, Lubbock's October 23 opponents, 27 to 0 last weekend, and the considered strong favorites over the Westerners. Reports from Oklahoma City indicate that a special train will bring a large portion of the Capitol Hill student body, the 100-piece band and the girls pep club.

Coach Walker Nichols' Lubbock High Cowhands, losers in their last two games, will play a matinee performance Friday afternoon at the Westerner field. They meet Olton, Class B team of District 5, in a scheduled game here, second home game for the sub-Westerners.

Here' Scoring Play Tech Used Against Christians

Expected To Shift, Tech Didn't And Scored Upset Over T.C.U.

By ART KRENTZ
NEA Service Sports Artist

The element of surprise probably scores more touchdowns in football than any other factor involved in a play.

This was strikingly brought out in Texas Tech's recent 7-0 upset victory over Texas Christian University, Sugar Bowl champions of 1935, in the dedication of Tech's new stadium in Lubbock.

The above diagram shows how the play was run, and Coach Pete Cawthon explains how it was executed:

"Tech was on T.C.U.'s 10-yard line, and had been using the Notre Dame shift all day.

"On this play, however, instead of shifting, we ran off the T formation without shifting, catching Texas Christian flat-footed.

"Jim Neill, 197-pound Tech tail back, ran behind perfect blocking for the score, every T.C.U. man being blocked out of play. Neill went over standing up.

"Jim is Tech's candidate for All-America honors, and he showed up the great Sammy Baugh in kicking, passing, and running."

The sketch shows how skillfully the play was executed.

TECH GETS PUBLICITY

The accompanying article is appearing on sports pages in several hundred leading newspapers throughout the United States and gives Texas Technological college's football team national publicity. Each week, NEA Service sports artist Art Krentz selects winning plays in games played over the nation.

"Bloody Monday" at Tech Turns Out To Be Kindergarten For Gridders As Red Raiders Resume Work After Defeat

What was scheduled and anticipated as the first "bloody Monday" of the Texas Tech football season looked more like a gridiron kindergarten to the few sideline spectators yesterday as the Red Raiders resumed their home work after the unsuccessful raid into Kansas.

So far as the players were concerned, it was pretty bloody at that; they were called upon to hit the ball hard, and when the thuds of body against body did not assume cannon-like proportions, the players were informed they were loafing.

Lesson With Trimmings

The workouts, however, consisted of a lesson, with trimmings, in football fundamentals — blocking and tackling.

"We're starting all over," Cawthon explained patiently to questioners, more vigorously to his charges, "We're forgetting that licking at Wichita. We're forgetting we ever won a game or that we ever lost a game. We're thinking only of the next six games on the schedule, and we're taking them up one at a time. We're going to forget we can be defeated, or that we can win a game. We're starting from scratch, and that means we're going right back to the principles of football—blocking, hard blocking and lots of it and tackling."

Cawthon's Attitude Surprising

Cawthon's spirit and attitude yesterday was strangely unlike him when Tech has lost a ball game, and those close to him were more pleased than surprised. While not exactly jolly about it, he was able to muster a grin and stay out of a tantrum. He was not hard and cold-blooded on the field, any more than if Tech had scraped through to a victory, and he was pleased with the celerity with which his hands got back on the practice field and with the spirit they demonstrated.

At least two of the top stringers were ailing from injuries sustained in Friday night's game with Wichita; four or five others were not at their best because of lime burns sustained in the game.

Wiginton, Winters Injured

Tox Wiginton, regular center, and George Winters, regular fullback, came home with more or less unsteady underpinings, each suffering slight knee injuries. They are due to be ready for Centenary, and as good as ever, on October 24.

Jesse Browning, regular tackle, was the more severely burned when thrown into the lime paths. Another who came in contact with the wet lime markers was Line Captain Louis Jones, regular guard. Two or three others sustained minor burns which will handicap them in practice for a few days but which were treated soon enough to preclude permanent damage.

Brill Made Threats Good

Coaches and players had no particular alibis to make for their defeat, other than to agree that "we just weren't ready, mentally and spiritually, for the game. Wichita out played us, and they had a fellow named Brill who just about made good his previous threats and promises against us."

The Red Raiders realize they're up against the wall, and that they must strike out from taw if they expect to overcome the setbacks of defeat. So from now until Saturday night, Oct. 24, they'll have nothing to do but get ready for the Gentlemen from Centenary.

Tickets for the game are on sale now at the official downtown agency, Walton's men's shop.

Coach Cawthon was the most fatigued man on the field yesterday, having covered several hundred miles extra travel in addition to the jaunt to and from Wichita. He left the team on the return trip at Amarillo, caught a transcontinental plane there Saturday night, watched along with 60,000 others, Sunday's game between the Loyola university Lions and the St. Mary's Gaels at Memorial Coliseum, Los Angeles, grabbed another plane and finally arrived home yesterday at noon.

Bogus Tickets To Rice-Texas Game Found At Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 12. (AP) — More than 300 counterfeit tickets to the Rice-Texas football game here October 24 have appeared on the streets of Houston, Dr. Gaylord Johnson, business manager of athletics at Rice, reported today.

"We believe we are on the track of the counterfeiters," he said, "but we want to warn football fans not to buy tickets from anybody unless they know them well."

It also was learned that around 300 counterfeit tickets were presented at the gates for the Rice-Aggie game last Saturday.

"We permitted those who held the counterfeit tickets to enter the stadium, because we had not had the opportunity to warn the public," Johnson said, "however, we can't possibly accept any of the counterfeit tickets for the Rice-Texas game, as it looks as if it is certain to be a sell-out."

"I've Had A Headache Since Saturday," Homer Norton Says

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 12. (AP) —The Texas Aggies, winners of their two grid battles this season by three points, began preparations today for their game Saturday with Texas Christian university.

That Coach Homer Norton expects plenty of trouble from Sammy Baugh and his mates was indicated as he sent his charges through stiff pass defensive drills. He had aerials shooting in virtually every play studied.

In fact, Coach Norton himself smilingly said he expected trouble from Baugh.

"I've had a headache since Saturday," Norton laughed "trying to figure out how to stop Sammy Baugh's passing when we play T. C. U. this week."

Co-Captain Of Paris Dragons Must Stay In Dallas Hospital

DALLAS, Oct. 12. (AP)—Dr. O. T. Woods said today Co-Captain Bob Prichard of the Paris Dragons, injured Friday in a football game with the North Texas Aggies at Arlington, must remain hospitalized here for between ten days and three weeks.

Dr. Woods said the player suffered a "severe brain concussion."

"I do not like to say it will be impossible for him to play again this season," said the physician, "but it does look now as if it would be very unwise."

Prichard was brought to a hospital shortly after he was injured.

Trolinger Is New Champion

C. I. (Stony) Wall Defeated Sunday In Final Of Annual Lubbock Country Club Golf Championship

Ralph Trolinger copped the 1936 Lubbock Country club golf championship Sunday by defeating C. I. (Stony) Wall, 4 up and 3 to go, in a great display of grass greens shot making.

Trolinger, one down at the 9-hole turn—they trimmed the final match to an 8-hole battle—won the next four holes in a row, halved the 14th with a bogey, and put down a birdie on the 15th for the win and the championship.

Wall took the third, fourth and fifth holes to go one up after Trolinger won the first two. Trolinger won the sixth to go even, they halved 7 and 8, and Wall took no. 9 for a lead.

Wall Shoots 38

Trolinger had a 39 on the front side, Wall a 38. Trolinger was even par through the back nine to finish with a 75.

In the semi-finals, Trolinger defeated Ted Tipps, 3 and 1, while Wall won from Clyde Williams.

Bob Harvey defeated W. F. Helwig, 3 and 2, for consolation honors.

The new champion eliminated two former title holders in his rush for the title, Tipps and Dr. Hooper Stiles. The bout with Stiles, scheduled for 18 holes, was ended on the 29th.

Kentucky Halfback Leads All Scorers

NEW YORK, Oct. 12. (AP)—Unless Kentucky's gridiron rivals get together and do something about stopping Bob Davis, the halfback flash threatens to run away not only with the Southern conference scoring title, but with national honors as well.

Davis has made a race track of the football field, scoring nine touchdowns for a total of 54 points, setting the pace all over the country.

EXENDINE ACCEPTS POST

ANADARKO, Okla., Oct. 12. (AP)—Albert Exendine, former head football coach at Oklahoma A. and M. college, said today he will accept a temporary appointment as football coach and boys' advisor at Riverside Indian school here.

Texas Conference Enters Its Third Week With Two Tilts On Docket; Others To Be Non-Conference Games

(By The Associated Press)

GEORGETOWN, Oct. 12.—The Texas conference, stepping smartly into the third week of the conference activity, sends Howard Payne into an important game with Austin college, opens the schedule for Abilene Christian and keeps the other four members busy with non-conference engagements.

Critics look for the Howard Payne-Austin college game to throw some light on the comparative strength of the two undefeated contenders—Daniel Baker and Howard Payne. Daniel Baker smothered Austin, 15-0, last week.

ACC Meets Trinity

Abilene Christian, trounced by Sul Ross, St. Mary's and North Texas Teachers, will open their circuit schedule against Trinity.

Howard Payne trimmed Texas Wesleyan, 21-0, and indications are that Daniel Baker will turn the trick as easily. The Hillbillies, with potent running and overhead game, are strong pennant contenders.

McMurry rated a good-sized nod over Westmoorland at San Antonio after defeating a stubborn Trinity team, 6-0, while Westmoreland was taking a sound beating from Sul Ross.

Saints Upset Pirates

St. Edward's staged a mild upset by blanking "Lefty" Edens' Southwestern Pirattes, 6-0, and will engage the Schreiner institute Mountaineers this week. Coach Bill Pierce uncovered a real kicker in Douglass Jackson to trim the favored Pirates.

Southwestern will meet an old and bitter foe, the Southwest Texas Teachers, at San Marcos in a non-conference tilt. The Pirates, working without Coach Edens, abed with a fever, will get their instruction from Assistant Morland Chapman.

Temple Owls Win Over Boston, 14-0

BOSTON, Oct. 12. (AP)—The Temple Owls forward passed themselves into a 14-0 victory over Boston college before 25,000 today at Fenway park. Two aerials that wiped out 45 yards enabled Gordon Smith to score from the four-yard line in the second period and late in the final quarter a 49 yard heave, Gus Macali to Vic Lewis, another backfield replacement, put the ball in position for Macali to drive over from Boston's three-yard line.

Grid Pathway Strewn With Sharp Thorns

Most Of Football Goliaths, Who Have Escaped Blemish On Records, Facing Tough Tilts Rest Of Season

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—The pathway to an undefeated season and possible selection as a Rose Bowl competitor is strewn with thorns for most of the gridiron Goliaths, who so far have escaped with unblemished records.

More than a score of the nation's major college football teams now can point to unbeaten records, but the list will be reduced by at least three Saturday, when the paths of six of them cross in a trio of the country's most important games.

Yale Faces Navy

In the East, Yale, with one of the most powerful attacks since the days of Albie Booth, takes on the well-balanced Navy outfit. The South will see Duke's Blue Devils in action against surprisingly strong Georgia Tech while out on the West coast Washington State risks its unbeaten record against Southern California, back from a successful invasion of the Big Ten.

The remainder of the undefeated teams either take on breathers or encounter teams that have been beaten before swinging into their "make or break" schedules.

Fordham Has Rough Road

Fordham, successfully past the Southern Methodist invasion, rests this week against little Waynesburg but then on successive weekends clashes with St. Mary's, Pittsburgh and Purdue, all of which have clean records so far this season.

Pittsburgh also faces what figures to be an easy test against Duquesne Saturday before going into action against Notre Dame, another undefeated eleven, and Fordham. The Panthers wind up their "suicide" schedule against Penn State, Nebraska and Carnegie Tech.

Few Setups Presented

Princeton, and Army, also among the undefeated eastern schools, face no such schedule as do Pitt and Fordham, but their remaining games present few setups.

Minnesota's Gophers, winner of 19 straight games, open their Western conference schedule against Michigan Saturday, and then clash with two powerful unbeaten teams in Purdue and Northwestern before taking on Iowa, Texas and Wisconsin. Northwestern faces and equally tough schedule, winding up with Notre Dame, while the Irish must take on Wisconsin this Saturday and then tangle with Pitt, Ohio State, Navy, Army, and Southern California.

We Pick Marquette

Either Michigan State or Marquette will be eliminated from the undefeated when they clash at Milwaukee, Oct. 24.

Althought beaten by Fordham, Southern Methodist remains undefeated in the Southwest conference along with Texas and Texas A. and M. They'll settle their own argument, however, meeting each other before the season ends.

The South lists, in addition to Duke and Georgia Tech, North Carolina and Louisiana State among the unbeaten. Louisiana State has been tied by Texas, but plays a schedule that includes Mississippi, Arkansas, Vanderbilt, Mississippi State, Auburn and Tulane. After playing New York University at New York State, North Carolina meets Tulane, North Carolina State, Davidson, Duke, South Carolina and Virginia.

Washington's powerful Huskies bowed to Minnesota but still rate as one of the Pacific coast's best teams along with the undefeated trio of Washington State, St. Mary's and Southern California.

Meeting To Give Ruling On Game

PECOS, Oct. 12. (AP)—A meeting of the executive committee of district 7, region 2, Texas Interscholastic league class B football, will be held tomorrow afternoon at Odessa to attempt to reach a decision on the winner of the Pecos-Midland game October 2 which ended in a 7-7 tie.

Pecos High school officials announced they had not filed a protest but were asking an interpretation of the situation concerning 20-yard penetrations during the game, stating that if their point is ruled correct Pecos will get credit for a victory.

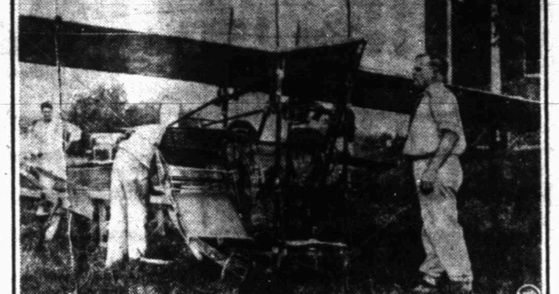

The point, Pecos officials said, is whether Pecos penetrated the Midland 20-yard line when Midland was backed against their goal line and punted, the ball failing to go past their 20-yard line and giving Pecos the ball on the 9-yard line, or whether Pecos made the penetration on the next play.

No decision has ever been handed down on this question in the Interscholastic league, according to officials of that organization.

Should Pecos win the game the locals will top the list with Wink in the district, Pecos getting the game by three penetrations to two.

Crash Of Clever Idea

J. Carl Bauer of Washington, D. C., stands ruefully beside his wrecked pedal plane, after an unsuccessful attempt to get it into the air by furious pedaling and the assistance of a 60-foot runway. Since it uses neither motor nor gasoline, Bauer insists his plan would put aviation within reach of the poor man—if it would work.

Professional Football Is Said In Its Most Successful Season

Joe F. Carr, President Of Pro Grid League, Cites Larger Crowds, Better Teams And More Interest In Games

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 12.—Professional football, president Joe F. Carr of the National league said today, is enjoying its greatest season.

Carr, head of the loop since he organized it in 1921, said attendance figures were higher than ever, the nine teams more evenly matched, and the fans more interested.

Chicago Bears On Top

Almost a complete turnover in the league standings this season has caused the heavy interest and attendance, the prexy said. He cited that the Chicago Bears, who won six, lost four and tied two to finish last in the western division last season, are now riding the crest with four straight wins.

In the eastern division Pittsburgh is on top with three victories in four starts. The Pirates wound up in third place in the eastern section a year ago with four wins in 12 starts.

Lions Win Both Starts

The champion Detroit Lions have won both their starts this season.

The prexy said several professional rules, differing from the intercollegiate regulations, add interest to the pro games. He said the fans like the rule permitting forward passes from any spot behind the scrimmage line, instead of forcing the passer to be five yards back.

The rule putting the goal posts back on the goal line, instead of 10 yards behind it, has helped open up the game, and has put the "foot back in football," Carr said. Last year, in 53 league games, 43 field goals were made. The flying block and flying tackle, outlawed under collegiate rules, are permitted in the professional game.

Lubbock Wins In Motorcycle Polo

Lubbock championship motorcycle polo team put on a great show for the fans Sunday afternoon when they shut out the Amarillo Rough Riders, 8 to 0, before a large crowd at the local ball park.

With ten roaring motorcycles of heavy design ripping around on a 300 by 200 feet field, super-control is necessary, and there were no serious pileups.

Amarillo put a well-dressed, courageous team on the field, but the yellow-shirted, well-mounted Rough Riders were unable to crack Lubbock's well practiced defense for a goal, and were unable to score on free kicks.

Race Mechanic Is Killed In Crash

HONDO, Oct. 12. (AP)—Arthur Partain of San Antonio was killed instantly here yesterday afternoon in a smashup in a stock car auto race at the fairgrounds track.

Partain, riding as Eddie Byers' mechanic, was killed when Byers failed to make the upper turn properly, running off the roadway and crashing into the fence along the track.

Byers, 1933 winner of the Laredo-Monterrey international road race, and veteran stock car pilot of Texas dirt tracks, also suffered injuries as his car turned over on him, crushing his hand. He was able to extricate himself from the wreckage and walked down the track to the judges stand to report Partain's death.

The death of Mechanic Partain was the first to be put on the records of South Texas dirt track racing in two years.

Italian Wins Easy Victory On Racetrack

Tazio Nuvolari, "Madman Of Modena," Takes First Place In George Vanderbilt Cup Race On Long Island Track

By PAUL MICKELSON

ROOSEVELT RACEWAY, Long Island, N. Y., Oct. 12. (AP)—Over and around Hell's Hairpin roared Tazio Nuvolari, the "Madman of Modena," to sweep to a brilliant but easy victory today in the 300-mile George Vanderbilt cup race before 60,000 wind blown spectators.

The spectacular 47-year-old Italian streaked his 12-cylinder Alfa Romeo car into the lead before the first of 75 laps was traversed over the dangerous Roosevelt speedway, a track that required 1,200 turns and twists.

Averages 65.998 Miles

Nuvolari's time for the distance was four hours, 32 minutes and 44.04 seconds, an average speed of 65.998 miles per hour. That gave him a total elapsed time lead of 1 minutes and 57 seconds over Jean Wimille of France, who finished second.

Third, the victim of a heart-breaking, sputtering, red hot motor with second money all but clinched, came Count Antonio Brivio of Italy. Raymond Sommer of France and Freddy McAvoy, Australia, finished fourth and fifth, with Maurie Rose of Columbus, Ohio, leading the badly outclassed Americans in sixth position.

Bringing up the rear in the prize money division came Wild Bill Cummings of Indianapolis, Philip; Etancelin of France, Deason Litz of Dubois, Pa., and Chuck Tabor, Orange, N. J., in 7th, 3th, 9th and 10th places, respectively.

Nuvolari, who has won 86 victories in 144 auto races in Europe and America, captured 36 out of 37 lap prizes, running his cash earnings for the victory to $23,600, of which $20,000 was for winning the race.

Bert Marshall Is Evidently "Especially Desirable" As A Student At Vanderbilt U.

DALLAS, Oct. 12. (AP)—Bert Marshall, formerly of Greenville High school, regarded as one of the flashiest football players Texas high scholastic record, has received the Texas Curry Memorial scholarship award of Vanderbilt university for this year. He is the first beneficiary off the endowment.

The scholarship is supported by contributions from Vanderbilt men in Texas as their part of the Vanderbilt foundation plan to attract especially desirable students to the university and to assist those unable to finance their education.

An endowment of $10,000 has been raised by Texas alumni. The scholarship honors the memory of Irby Rice "Rabbit" Curry of Marlin, one of Vanderbilt's football heroes, who was killed on the Marne during the World war.

Wrestling Card Offers Variety

By extending the time limit for one and changing the billing, Promoter Sied Allen could advertise a double main event for his weekly grappling card that should pack the place. He has the fighters lined up, four real hotshots, and it would be not at all surprising should the semi-final steal the show.

Dale Haddock, the fierce Detroiter, is to meet Herb Parks, clean, clever Vancouver fighter who just about rules the roost hereabouts, having felled, in order, Sailor Tex Watkins, Dory Detton and Gene La Belle, three of the toughest and best before Haddock came back last week. Dale looked double tough in his prelim last week, meaner and rougher than he was in his previous hey-day here.

Bauer Faces Cummings

"Jittery" Joe Bauer, the solemn funny man is due to have plenty of trouble with Cummings, up and coming youngster from Frisco, in the pre-lim. Cummings has been improving rapidly since his stay in these parts and should provide Bauer with 20 minutes of rugged grappling.

An ideal match is predicted in the final, with "Gentleman" Danny McShain, matching all his eye gouging, biting and other such illegal tactics against the smooth wrestling of the likable Dory Detton. Dory has been looking good in his recent appearances here and there will be plenty of fans exhorting the former Utah footballer to commit mayhem on the handsome McShain.

Women Golfers Are Reminded Of "Ladies Day" Wednesday

Women golfers of Lubbock Country club are reminded to observe "ladies day" at the club Wednesday.

There'll be a luncheon at the clubhouse, with Mrs. W. F. Heliwg the hostess. Golf activity includes official qualifying for the "ringer" tournament which starts Thursday. All players are required to shoot 18 holes Wednesday and turn in the medal scores. The scores shall serve as a qualifying basis for the tournament, which is to be conducted on the order of previous "ladder" tournaments.

Ralph Rawlings Leads Southwest

DALLAS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Little Ralph Rawlings, fleet Arkansas reserve halfback, marched ahead of his field in the Southwest conference scoring race by carrying across one touchdown in the Porker-Baylor game Saturday. His 30 points topped Bob Finley of Southern Methodist by 12.

Hale Pioneer Buried Sunday

J. E. Cox, Who Had Lived On Plains For Fifty Years, Is Buried At Hale Center; Saw Progress Of Territory

(Special To The Avalanche)

HALE CENTER, Oct. 12. — Last rites were said here Sunday afternoon for James E. Cox, aged 65, who died at his farm home four miles north of this city Saturday shortly before noon. His death, attributed to heart failure, was unexpected.

Services were held in his beautiful town home here in Hale Center, and interment in the local cemetery. The Rev. J. Pat Horton, Plainview Baptist pastor, directed the services.

Cox had been a resident of the Plains 50 years, coming here as a lad of 15 with his parents from Grayson county. In half a century, he saw this region change from a sparsely settled ranch land to a rich farming country. He saw the railway and paved highways, like spiderwebs, link what were once scattered small communities, and which are now prosperous cities and towns. He saw the antelope in herds, and grass grow knee deep over thousand of acres of virgin land, and watched the changes come as the grass was turned under and row crops spread in its place.

Stone Corrals Still Stand

Cox's parents first settled a few miles south of Floydada, at the head of Blanco canyon where they erected stone corrals to prevent cattle from wandering in blizzards. The corrals still stand, serving as landmarks in that section.

The family moved to Plainview to give their son advantage of a school and after four years residence there, they moved to the present Cox farm, four miles north of here, where they operated a ranch of several sections. Cox farmed this land for several years after the death of his father. He retired recently, and with his wife erected a beautiful brick dwelling in town.

For a number of years Cox made trips by wagon and horseback to Colorado Texas for supplies, then to Amarillo when the railroad reached that point. On many of his trips in moving cattle to market, Mrs. Cox and their children would accompany him on the several days' excursion, attending the duties of the camp and chuck wagon while the men cared for the herds. Cox always operated his own outfit, running for the first years of his married life the S2 cattlebrand, the brand which his father ran in the early days of their residence on the Plains. Cox later used the Swinging E brand.

Attended First School

In 1898 he wed Miss Viola Wilmeth Winn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Winn, a pioneer family residing in Hale Center. Cox attended the first school taught in Plainview, conducted by D. C. Lowe, Lockney, whom Mr. Cox saw for the first time in many years at the last Pioneer Round-up in Plainview.

Although not in perfect health for several months, Cox was feeling unusually well a few hours before his death, friends said. He went for his noon mail at the box near his home, came inside and sat down to read newspapers. He was dead when found by his mother. Mrs. Madora Ann Cox, 87, who makes her home with the Cox family.

Cox was widely known over the Panhandle, having many acquaintances among early settlers of counties in this territory. He and his wife could draw from memory dozens of cattle brands they once were familiar with when this was a ranching country.

Three months ago, Mr. and Mrs. Cox entertained near 30 early-day residents when former pupils of Hale Center's first school, back in the years before the turn of the century, gathered for their third annual reunion in the Cox town home.

Besides his wife and mother, Cox is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Elgar Winn, Plainview, two sons, Gus and J. W., this city, one grandchild, Jim Burgess Winn.

Handy Thing About Black-Draught So Many Folks Like

When it comes to the proper size dose of a laxative medicine, different persons and different ages naturally need different doses. Proper size doses thoroughly do the work expected without harsh purging.

Black-Draught laxative is prepared in a dry powder so the size of the dose easily can be adjusted to the needs of the person taking it. Not too much, but just enough thoroughly to relieve constipation.

Black-Draught is credited with leaving the digestive tract more able to continue elimination, regularly every day. Be sure to try it!

Here's Good "Insurance"

LUBBOCK, today, is "chock full of people"—and more will be trooping in within the next two weeks in the annual fall trek to this bustling business and cotton capital of the Plains region.

The city, of course, welcomes newcomers who are self-sustaining and newcomers who are honest. But history—and the record books—prove to us that all of our autumnal visitors are neither self-sustaining nor honest, which means that crime increases with the increased seasonal population.

As Mayor Ross Edwards remarked the other day, "We've been mighty lucky this year so far—and also during the last several years." He pointed out that since the inauguration of the identifications bureau of the police department some knotty cases have been solved, largely through the knowledge and efforts of Officer Sam Fort, "and that fact no doubt has kept other petty criminals as well as some major thugs from coming here." We agree with His Honor, and we hope our luck holds out.

The Morning Avalanche feels, however, that sooner or later our luck will break and a smart individual or group of individuals will "get away" with a series of burglaries, safe "knob knockings", or hijackings.

There are two methods of moving against such probabilities and we think both methods should be immediately followed. In the first place, we think office and store keepers should improve the protection of their property by better and more careful locking and through keeping night lights burning. In the second place, we think it would be a good investment, in "insurance", if you please, were the already undermanned police department given several more good, capable men.

If citizens will first help themselves and if the municipal authorities will give a little added protection, especially in the form of a larger, more widespread night patrol, the chances are Lubbock will get through the "crime season" a good deal cheaper than otherwise.

At any rate, the proposition is worth thinking about.

TECH AND THE CONFERENCE

Just why do the "powers that be" in the Southwest conference persist in overlooking what everyone else knows, namely: Texas Technological college has a right to be included in the conference; belongs in the conference; would strengthen the conference and, at the same time, its addition to the conference would give thousands of West Texas football fans a chance annually to see more "big time" football?

Editor Charles E. Green, of the Austin American, did some pertinent remarking along that line in his edition of October 8. Said The American, under the caption "Should Admit Tech":

"Texas Tech again is knocking at the door of the Southwest conference. Tech has met the original requirements of developing a large student body and a substantial football team.

"The conference ought to be out at Lubbock, urging the Matadors in.

"Schools of relatively small student bodies, such as Rice; denominational schools such as Baylor and T.C.U. have produced teams outstanding in the entire country. There is no reason why the young giant of the Plains should not furnish football well up toward the best in the Southwest conference.

"Another conference game would hurt none of the teams. Spectators would be spared some of the quite meaningless preconference "warmers" that fail to draw cash customers or to interest those who attend."

There must be some reason for our being "segregated"—being "forced to live away from the white folks".

And it is time for Dr. Penick and the rest of the rulers of the Southwest conference to say "Why".

WITH OUR CONTEMPORARIES

"It is to be hoped that they'll collect enough dough on those newly installed parking meters in Lubbock to be able to increase the size of the light bulbs in their traffic signs," Old Johnnie Price gripes in the Littlefield County-Wide News. "The question in a driver's mind over there, is not whether a light is red, not whether it is green, but whether there is a light in it and if there is, why don't they light it?"

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

PRAYER WHEEL TO BOULDER DAM

Prayer wheels are mechanical contrivances used by Buddhist lamas for the rapid repetition of the prayer formula Om Mani Padme Hum, which represents a long fervid supplication to God. These wheels are driven by hand or wind. The gigantic wheels at Soonum are driven by water power. The huge cylinders bearing an endless repetition of prayers are attached to horizontal paddles, on which the water dashes causing a circular motion. Each revolution constitutes a prayer of such power as to equal the combined devotional powers of all the earth's inhabitants, in the belief of the lamas. The water driven prayer wheels have inspired one of mankind's greatest inventions, the mechanical utilization of water power in modern industry.

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KAY DUNN, Pretty airplane stewardess, falls in love with TED GRAHAM, veteran pilot who flies the trans-Pacific route.

Ted has two interests in life — his job and DICKIE, his adopted son, 7 years old. When Ted asks Kay to marry him, she fears it is merely to make a home for Dickie, but she agrees.

She does not agree, though, with Ted's theories that marriage, to be successful, must be planned scientifically, just as a plane flight. She is rebellious because he insists her housekeeping must be carried on in the same way, with charts and budgets.

Kay gives a party one night and Ted, tired and weary, instead of remaining with the guests, goes to his room. To punish him, Kay impulsively decides to take the morning plane to Honolulu.

Once on board, she begins to regret her impulsiveness. In Honolulu, Kay learns there is an outbreak of spinal meningitis at Midway and that Ted is piloting a plane bringing serum.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXII

The Mariner reached Pearl Harbor at Honolulu toward noon, circling over the throngs that had gathered to witness its arrival. All day in newspapers they had read little else but the hourly log of this race against death. On the Midway Islands two more victims had gone down with spinal meningitis.

Ted looked tired when he came down the gangplank, for he had not slept much on the flight from the mainland. Under his orders, refueling began at once. He was to fly on to Midway, and hoped to reach there before midnight with the needed serum.

He did not try to find Kay, or ask for news of her. He was so concerned with the flight to Midway that he seemed to have forgotten her presence in Hawaii. There was not a minute to lose, with men facing death on the coral atoll in the sweltering tropic night.

But Kay was not at the port when the Mariner arrived. She had spent the morning following up clews concerning the activities of Illah and the two men who might be her accomplices in a plot to steal the secrets of Teds gyropilot.

Kay had caught sight of Illah only once. The dancer was hurrying from the city office of the Trans-Pacific Airways to a taxi. In another car Kay followed the taxi to the airport, where the Mariner now lay, its silver wings glinting in the midday sun.

Illah left the taxi, heavily veiled, and disappeared in the throng about the docks. Kay lost her then, in the mob that milled back and forth.

Meanwhile the Mariner was tuned up rapidly for the night flight. After less than an hour in port the great flying boat headed out again over the Pacific.

* * *

Thirty minutes out Ted had the gyropilot working perfectly. The four 800 horespower engines zoomed. The ship was being controlled and flown without the aid of a human hand.

The delicate instrument had succeeded in all the tests to which it had been subjected on this run. Ted's dream seemed realized.

He came out of the chart room, his eyes beaming with pride. He wanted to tell the passengers about it.

But suddenly he stopped short, and looked searchingly at the face he saw in one of the passenger compartments. It was Illah, who was sv athed in white and turbaned as usual. At the last minute she had engaged passage to Manila.

"You are surprised to see me, no?" she said. Her face was a mask.

Ted laughed. "There are no more surprises in my life," he said. He looked at the other passengers, his eyes roving over each of them.

He had been in the cockpit when they came on, and had not seen them before. There was the English explorer, who carried a small hooded falcon on his wrist. There were the wives of two army officers stationed i Manila. There was a Chinese merchant in silk whom Ted knew. He smiled with extreme courtesy when his eyes met Ted's.

There was a young man in sports clothes whom Ted recognized as a polo player, bound for an international match in Shanghai. There was a woman heavily veiled in black. There was the naval surgeon on the way to Midway with the meningitis serum. A missionary in clerical collar and an American traveling salesman were talking about the plumbing on the island of Guam.

Illah's white hand slipped out from the folds of her gown and detained Ted He stood at her side in the aisle.

"Do you think there will be any danger," she asked with her modulated accent, "of the passengers taking this dreadful spinal men—?" She struggled with the word.

"Meningitis," Ted supplied, smiling. "No, there's no danger. We'll land in the lagoon. A launch will come out for the serum and the surgeon, and then we'll go on to Wake Island. You won't even touch Midway."

"I am glad," she said. But why are you not flying the plane? Who has the controls?"

"No one has the controls now," Ted said proudly. "The gyropilot is flying the ship."

"I know not these machines," she said quaintly. "You will show them to me on the voyage?" she said.

Ted laughed. "Not on your life! It's a deep, dark secret."

Illah seemed hurt, surprised "They are a secret? A government secret, perhaps?"

* * *

Ted smiled. "Oh there's really nothing to see. You wouldn't understand the instrument. I will be glad to show it to all of you—but one at a time! You can stand in the chart room and see it through the glass."

Illah got up and followed him down the aisle.

For a long time she peered through the glass at the delicate mechanism of the gyropilot.

"But I see nothing!" she said. "Can't I go into the cockpit? I would see how she works, what makes her fly without the human hand."

Ted hesitated, then turned to her, frowning. "It's against rules for passengers to go on the bridge," he said. "I'm sorry."

Illah pouted. "On an ocean liner it is the same! Nobody can go on the bridge except—" she smiled up at him in her languid manner—"the captain's friends!"

The navigation officer close by laughed. "A flying boat isn't dark enough for that!" he said.

Illah turned on him with disdainful regard. She stared coldly for a minute, and then walked slowly out of the chart room.

"Very well," she said. "Illah is bored. Illah will sleep."

She lay back in her chair and closed her eyes. Over that Oriental face came the look of utter repose. It was a grand, ineffable calm.

They were flying above the clouds now, and only occasionally did the passengers catch a fleeting glimpse of the ocean. Toward night, however, they passed over French Frigate Shoals. All the passengers roused long enough to see the surf, beating against the loneliest shore in the world—uninhabited, barren reefs in plain ocean.

* * *

Far down they could make out the outline of the Mariner that had been forced down. It lay, safely moored inside the lagoon, and after further repairs would take to air again.

Ted came back to the passengers long enough to explain that one Mariner, in a test, had got off the water in 20 second in a un of less than 2000 feet, carrying a useful load of 25,000 pounds. "A forced sea landing is only an incident," he said.

The sister ships exchanged radio greetings, and this flying boat passed on toward the Midway group several hours further to the west.

Illah lay back in her chair and slept. The hooded falcon on the explorer's wrist uttered a few shrill cries, and dug his murderous talons deeper into the glove. The missionary dozed off and snored. The army wives were having tea. The polo player stirred restlessly; his legs were too long for the seat. The traveling salesman had taken off his collar, and had his feet out in the aisle. The woman in the heavy black veils kept her face turned to the glass.

Then they flew out of the sunset into inky darkness. The ocean and sky above were blotted out.

Ted had been expecting this atmospheric disturbance. He had known before leaving Hawaii that a low pressure area existed beyond French Frigate Shoals. But he hadn't expected a storm of such sudden and violent intensity.

They were flying above the clouds thunder and lightning all about them. There were strong beam and head winds which cut the speed of the Mariner to less than 90 miles an hour. Navigation became difficult; there was immediately the problem of changing drifts.

All six men of the crew were on duty now. The gyropilot was relieved from duty and Ted stayed

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ira Bennett

BEFORE leaving Washington for his first out-and-out political trip President Roosevelt went over the situation analytically with his field marshals and captains. He scanned the speeches prepared by Cabinet members, discussed major points to be handled by himself, sized up the situations in each pivotal state, and departed in optimistic mood—but with an anxious eye on the "silent voter."

Shifting of Republicans back to their party beclouds the New Deal horizon. To check this drift Mr. Roosevelt soft-pedals his Democratic partisanship and emphasizes his appeal to all voters, regardless of previous affiliations.

This is done at risk of driving old-line Democrats over to the other side. But conclusions of the high command are that it is more important to cultivate the independent Republican voter than to cater to Jeffersonian Democrats.

* * *

SILENT: New Dealers count heavily upon the effect of better business conditions in swaying wavering voters to their side. Their idea is that the average man struggling for recovery is less concerned with future tax burdens than he is with immediate betterment of his condition. Hasn't business improved? Hasn't it improved under the Roosevelt administration? Very well, then: don't rock the boat.

President Roosevelt's latest speeches all feature this argument directly or indirectly. He seems to be convinced that it is safe now to meet the debt deficit and big spending issues boldly by saying in effect: "Yes, we've spent money lavishly, but we've koncked out the depression, and it was worth the cost."

What the anti-New Dealers want to know it, what does the President intend to do if reelected? On this subject he is silent.

* * *

HIDDEN: Mr. Roosevelt has been wonderfully sucessful in keeping his plans dark until he was ready to spring them on Congress and the country. Astounding innovations were introduced without advance notice and rushed through Congress "without reading."

What does he have in mind now? What brain trusters are shaping up legislation for him? The G.O.P. would give a great deal to find out. Roosevelt isn't telling 'em. The Democratic platform reveals nothing.

And yet it is universally believed in Washington that Mr. Roosevelt has in mind "social reforms" even more far-reaching than anything he has yet proposed.

* * *

PROJECTS: One new addition to federal activities on an enormous scale is clearly in sight. That is flood control, with "public power" trimmings, reaching into every section of the country.

Congress made a start in this direction by declaring a new policy and authorizing project whose estimated cost is $320,000,000. In all of these flood control projects authority is given to initiate power development wherever the President may find such action expedient. All of the major river systems of the country are included.

Prospective members of Congress are losing no time in preparing to press their particular projects. The flood control appropriation bill as it finally emerges into law probably will carry not less than $1,000,000,000 for the first year's operations.

* * *

FARMERS: Looming even bigger than flood control is the crystallizing program for crop insurance. This involves the constitutional question of crop control. At present the administration is exerting partial control through so-called voluntary cooperation of farmers in the soil erosion substitute for AAA. But something more drastic will have to be embodied in law if the government is to guarantee farmers against loss in the production of major crops.

How to prevent over-production by law is the problem. Law implies penalty for violation—and the Supreme court has held repeatedly that the federal government has no authority to regulate agriculture.

Therefore students of the farm problem are wondering whether Mr. Roosevelt intends, if reelected, to bring about a constitutional change that will give the government power to regulate farmers by penal law.

* * *

LABOR: Sooner or later the question of regulating industry's relations wit hlabor will come up also. The Wagner labor relations act appears doomed. Organized labor expects the law to be invalidated.

What has Mr. Roosevelt in mind as a successor to the Wagner act? He doesn't say. He can't say anything without presupposing that a law now on the books is invalid.

Various labor leaders are working for reenactment of the N.R.A. in some form or another. Their strong support of Mr. Roosevelt indicates their firm expectation that he will champion their cause if reelected. Here again constitutional questions are involved. Manufacturing, as well as agriculture, is outside the pale of federal regulatory power.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

ELECTION odds in New York climbed from 8 to 5 on Roosevelt to as high as 11 or 12 to 5 last week. Sentiment in financial circles has turned bearish on Republicans chances for the third time.

Before the G.O.P. Cleveland convention, New York anti-New Deal chiefs were steeped in defeatism. Republican stock took a quick upward rush when Landon was nominated and the party appeared to be united and full of pep. Then came a gradual decline in optimism as flagrant weakness in the G.O.P machine became apparent. Confidence revived as Landon began to "get his teeth into the campaign."

And now—due partly to internal friction in the New York State Republican organization, partly to the indications of a trend towards Roosevelt in recently reported polls, partly to an innate lack of enthusiasm for the national ticket that all the eagerness to beat Roosevelt cannot quite overcome—financial toprankers are once again privately counting Landon out.

* * *

COLD: A prominent right wing Democrat who is not among the Smith-Reed walker-outers recently told New York friends in vigorous terms that there was absolutely no reason why they should worry about Roosevelt's probable reelection. He pointed out that the popular vote would likely be close—even if the electral count is not. This would imply large gains by Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats in the House of Representatives, thus enhancing the power of Congressional brakes to check leftish legislative proposals from the White House.

He also emphasized that the Democratic majority in the Senate—already containing a large proportion of New Deal critics—would be less tractable than ever because the more timid members would no longer feel it politically necessary to ride the President's coat-tails.

"Even if Roosevelt were inclined to run wild in his second term, which is unlikely," added this Democratic chieftain, "I can practically guarantee that Congress would stop him cold. So why lose any sleep about him?"

* * *

SERENITY: Most financial big-timers privately agree with this analysis on their own account. Consequently they are facing the election with increasing calm, confident that all will be well no matter how it turns out.

This is fine for their nervous system but not so good for the Republican war chest—which thrives best when wealthy conservatives are alarmed. Said war chest in sadly depleted at the moment—and earnest party workers in the Wall Street area are straining every sinew to overcome the handicap of mounting disbelief that "the American system" is really at stake.

This past week, for the first time since the campaign began to warm up, a tendency to pessimism about G.O.P. prospects did not induce a sympathetic weakness in the stock market. Such serenity at this stage of the game is highly significant.

Two Californians Lose Their Pleas For Rehearing In Case

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. (AP) — Gavin W. Craig, for 25 years a California state court judge, and Joseph Weinblatt, both of Los Angeles, lost today in the Supreme court their plea for a rehearing of their protest against one-year jail sentences and fines of $1,000 ordered for an alleged attempt to "corruptly obstruct . . . justice."

The government had charged that Craig and Weinblatt "conspired" with persons indicted for mail fraud, agreeing to try to quash the cases through political connections in Washington if $125,000 were raised for "Senator Shortridge's campaign fund."

ALMOST AN INVALID FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE --- S. L. K. BRINGS IMMEDIATE RELIEF

"The Pain Is All Gone Now, I Sleep Well, Appetite Is Improving and I Feel Fine," Says Mrs. G. M. McMillan, a Sweetwater Housewife

WHEN kidneys do not function properly the system becomes laden with poisons. You might just as well be taking poison in daily doses as far as results are concerned. Other organs of the body, striving to combat this situation, are overtaxed and other disorders often develop. Finally, if the condition is not corrected you may reach the stage of actual invalidism. Mrs. G. M. McMillan of Sweetwater, Texas, writes as follows about her experience:

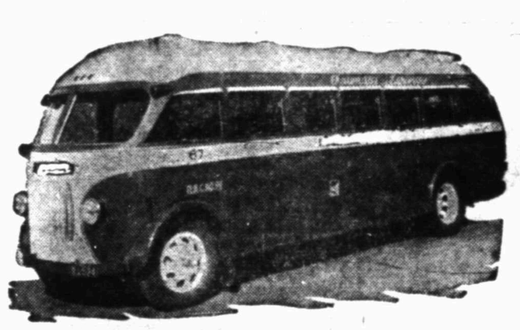

"I had been troubled with kidney disorders and backaches for the last two years, being almost an invalid for a year until I learned of Williams S.L.K. Formula. After taking it only a short time, the pain has all disappeared. I now sleep and rest well and my appetite has improved. I feel so much better that I cannot praise S.L.K too highly."

Williams S.L.K. Formula, the private prescription of a famous World War doctor and used for years in his private practice is now available to all sufferers. Thousands have found quick relief from sluggish kidneys, stomach, liver and bowels. Get a bottle of this wonderful preparation today at the John Halsey Drug, 1118 Broadway and if you are not fully satisfied with the results it gives, your money will be refunded instantly.

TARZAN AND THE LEOPARD MEN, No. 68

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

While Tarzan swung northward to penetrate the veil of mystery which masked his enemies, Orando, accompanied by The Kid, set out to enlist the war party which was to be placed at the Jungle Lord's disposal to do battle against the dreadful Leopard Men.

Orando was not sure he would succeed. In his own village he was suspected of being a member of the secret clan; and he was doubtful of finding many men elsewhere with sufficient courage and hardihood to face the beast-men who wielded the Talons of Death. . . .

. . . Meanwhile, Old Timer, pressing on through the trackless forest, came suddenly upon a clearing, across lay a strongly palisaded village. He was undisturbed by its forbidding aspect, for here he believed he would find food and safe shelter for the night.

Within, a sentry hurried to the hut of one who was called Bobolo, and reported: "A lone white man approaches." Bobolo grinned. "Let him come in. The children of the Leopard God are hungry." For this indeed was the military stronghold of the Leopard Clan!

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF LUBBOCK, TEXAS;

SECTION I

The word "vehicle" as used herein shall mean any device upon or by which any person or property is or may be transported upon a highway except those operated under rails or tracks.

The word "park" or "parking" when used herein shall mean the standing of a vehicle, whether occupied or not, otherwise than temporarily for the purpose of and while actually engaged in loading or unloading passengers or merchandise.

The word "loading zone" when used herein shall mean a space or section of the curb set aside for the exclusive use of loading and unloading persons, supplies, or merchandise.

SECTION II

That the part of streets and avenues in the City of Lubbock, Texas described in Section XIII of this Ordinance is established as a parking meter zone, and in said zone and such other parking meter zones as may be hereafter created by ordinances of the City of Lubbock, the City is authorized to have installed parking meters and is authorized to cause parking meter space to be designated in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

When signs are erected or curbs are painted, giving notice thereof, or parking meters are installed in each block, no vehicle shall remain parked for a longer period of time than sixty (60) minutes at any time between the hours of 8:00 A. M. and 6:00 P. M. of any day except Sundays and holidays officially set by the City Council within the district or upon any of the streets and avenues described in Section XIII of this Ordinance. In this connection the following days of the year are hereby declared to be legal holidays: January 1st, July 4th, November 11th, December 25th, and all days appointed by the President of the United States or by the Governor of Texas as days of fasting and thanksgiving.

SECTION III

The City Manager, or such other officers or employees of the City of Lubbock as he may select, are hereby authorized to install or place parking meters in such parking meter zone hereby created or to be created by other ordinances of the City of Lubbock. Such parking meters shall be placed upon the curb along side of or next to individual parking places to be designated, as hereinafter provided. Each said parking meter shall be so set as to show or display a signal that the parking space along side of same is or is not in use.

The City Manager, or such officers or employees above referred to, shall provide for the installation, regulation, control, operation, and use of the parking meters provided for in this Ordinance, and shall maintain said meters in good workable condition; each said parking meter shall be so set as to display a signal showing legal parking upon the deposit of a 5c coin of the United States therein for a period of time conforming to the parking limits now or hereinafter provided by the Ordinances of the City of Lubbock for the part of the street upon which said meter is placed, and each meter shall, by its device, clearly set out and continue in operation from the time of depositing such coin until the expiration of time fixed by said Ordinance as the parking limit for the part of the street upon which said meter is placed; each said meter shall also be so arranged that upon the expiration of said parking limit it will indicate, by a mechanical operation and the appearance of proper signal, that the lawful parking period as fixed by the ordinances of the City of Lubbock has expired.

SECTION IV

When any vehicle shall be parked in any place along side of or next to which there is located, under this Ordinance, a parking meter, the owner, operator, manager, or driver of said vehicle shall, upon entering the said parking space, immediately deposit a 5c coin of the United States in the parking meter along side of or next to said parking space, and the said parking space may then be used by such vehicle during the parking limit provided by the ordinances of the City of Lubbock for the part of the street in which said parking space is located. If said vehicle shall remain parked in any such parking space beyond the parking limit fixed by the ordinances of the City of Lubbock for such parking space, the parking meter shall display a sign showing illegal parking and in that event such vehicle shall be considered as parked overtime and beyond the period of time fixed by the ordinances of the City of Lubbock and the parking of a vehicle overtime or beyond the time fixed now or hereafter by the ordinances of the City of Lubbock in any such part of the street where any such meter is located shall be a violation of this Ordinance and punished as hereinafter set out. It shall be unlawful for any person to cause, allow, permit, or suffer any such vehicle registered in his or another's name or under his control to be parked overtime or beyond the lawful period of time as above described.

SECTION V

It shall be unlawful and an offense for any person to permit a vehicle under his control to remain or be placed in any parking space along side of or next to which any parking meter is placed while said meter is displaying a signal showing that such vehicle shall have been already parked beyond the period of time fixed by the ordinances of the City of Lubbock for such parking space.

That the displaying of a sign showing illegal parking by any parking meter while a vehicle is parked in a parking space adjoining said parking meter shall be a prima facie evidence that said vehicle has been parked overtime and beyond the period of time fixed by the ordinance of the City of Lubbock.

SECTION VI

It shall be the duty of each police officer or traffic patrolman to take the number of any meter by which any vehicle is overparked, as provided in this Ordinance, the state vehicle license number of such vehicle, the time and date of such overparking, and the make of such vehicle and issue in writing, on a form provided by the City, a notice to the owner, operator, or person in charge of such vehicle to answer to a charge of overparking within five days thereafter during the hours and at the place specified in such notice, and to file a complaint for any such violation in the Corporation Court of said City.

SECTION VII

The City Manager, or such officers or employees of the City of Lubbock as he may select, shall place lines or marks on the curb and, or the street about or along side of each parking meter to designate the parking space for which said meter is to be used, and each vehicle parked along side of or next to any parking meter shall park within the lines or markings so established. All vehicles shall be parked at an angle of 45 degrees to said parking meter and the front of said parked vehicle shall point towards said parking meter.

The use of meter spaces for loading or unloading merchandise, as defined above, will be permitted before the hour of 10 o'clock A. M. without the depositing of a coin in the parking meter of such space, except that the vehicle must load or unload centered as nearly as possible in a single metered space and in the manner above described.

SECTION IX

It shall be unlawful and an offense to deposit or cause to be deposited in any parking meter any slug, device, or substitute for a 5c coin of the United States.

SECTION XII

It shall be the duty of the City Manager to designate some employee or employees of the City of Lubbock to make regular collections of money deposited in said meters. In this connection it shall be the duty of such persons so designated to pick up the sealed cylinders containing the coins as deposited in the meters and deliver such cylinders with the seals unbroken to the City Manager. SECTION XV

This Ordinance shall be and is hereby declared to be cumulative of all other ordinances of the City of Lubbock effecting traffic and the parking of vehicles and shall not operate to repeal or effect any such ordinance or ordinances except insofar as the provisions of such ordinance or ordinances are inconsistent or in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance, in which instance or instances those provisions shall be and they are hereby repealed.

String Quartet's Program Pleasing

Four accomplished musicians were surprised at the warm receptions they received from Lubbock audiences Monday afternoon and night.

The Manhattan string quartet was warned after its arrival here that a Lubbock audience is likely "to walk out" if it doesn't like a program, Oliver Edel, cellist with a quartet, said after the night had ended.

The audience at the night performance demanded encores after each of the three parts of the program and was appreciative of each selection presented. Several members of the afternoon audience asker if they might return to the night program on their matinee tickets.

The quartet was presented under auspices of the Texas Technological college artist course. Monday's programs were the first presented by the artist course for the 1936-37 college session.

Members of the quartet are Rachmael Weinstock, first violin; Harris Danziger, second violin; Julius Shaier, viola; and Edel.

About 1,200 persons attended the two programs, a small percentage of whom attended the matinee.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Stocker and feeder classes comprised around 65 per cent of the cattle receipts, estimated at 20,000. Although Kansas continued to contribute the major portion of the supply, there was an increased movement from Colorado and New Mexico. Western slaughter steers moved slowly at steady to 15 lower rate, packers encountering only a limited amount of competition from feeder buyers on two-way kind. Grass fat she stock moved slowly at weak to 25 lower rate, the supply of grass fat and short fed heifers materially short of a week ago, but fat cows arriving in fairly liberal numbers. Bulk of common to medium western steers ranged from 5.15@7.50, a few good fed grassers, upward to 8.25. Common to medium grass heifers bulked at 4.25@5.75, one load of good Cloorado heifers noted at 6.10. A short load of good heavy Colorado cows made 6.25 with bulk of grass fat cows going at 4.25@5.50. Low cutter and cutter cows were little changed at 3.00@4.00. Killing calves were steady to weak at last week's sharp decline, a few good heavy calves at 6.00@6.50, but majority of grass fat offerings downward from 5.50. Stocker and feeder classes held about steady with last week's slow close, possibly a little strength on the better grades. Medium to choice stocker and feeder steers sold mostly from 4.75@7.00, a few loads of choice Colorado stockers and light feeders at 7.25@7.35.

Hogs found a slow outlet at weak to 15 lower rates. Shippers stopped at 10.00 on choice mediumweight butchers.

In the sheep market, fat lambs were strong to 25 higher, and other classes steady to strong. Choice range lambs sold upward to 8.65, while best native realized 8.35. Choice range ewes cleared up to 3.85.

FORT WORTH, Oct 12. (AP)—(USDA)—Hogs 900: top 9.90 paid by shippers; packer top 9.80; bulk good to choice 175 to 300-lb. averages 9.70@9.90; good underweights averaging 150 to 170-lb 8.75@9.65; packing sows steady, 8.75@9.00.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. (AP)—The maritime commission said today it was not considering a trip to San Francisco to aid in trying to avert a threatened shipping tie-up.

Moreover, it added it held "an optimistic view" of prospects for a peaceful settlement of the labor dispute.

Members of the commission declined to comment directly on the request of Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady, that they come to San Francisco immediately.

A spokesman said the commission was holding "almost daily conferences with representatives of labor, shipowners and civic groups, and that "little more could be accomplished" by a visit to the west coast.

Ryan Charges Priest Again

Coughlin Misquoting Writings From Vatican City, Monsignor John A. Ryan Of Washington Says In Statement

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. — A charge by Monsignor John A. Ryan that Father Charles E. Coughlin is misleading Catholic voters by misquoting papal writings was hurled today into the controversy between the two clergymen.

Renewing his defense of Roosevelt measures against the attack of the Detroit radio priest, Father Ryan, a professor at Catholic university, took to the air last night to point out what he termed misquotations of an encyclical of Pope Pius XI.

Father Ryan said the Detroit priest "misused" one of the Pope's encyclicals which touches on money and credit.

"The Holy Father," the Washington priest declared, "does not say that the private control of money and credit exists everywhere and at all times. He says when it exists it is extremely bad and is practically irresistable.

"The pope is talking of a condition that sometimes obtains. He does not say that it obtains always and everywhere or that it exists in the United States.

"As a matter of fact it does not obtain in the United Saes."

For several months the name of Twentieth Century-Fox Films, an American company, had figured in reports of negotiations looking to acquisition of control of the British concern.

Intensive Campaign To Gain Members Planned By Museum

Program Of Lectures, Exhibits Is Arranged For 1936-37 Season; First Meeting To Be Held In November

An intensive campaign to increase membership in the Texas Technological College Art Museum to 500 persons by Nov. 1 is being waged, said F. A. Kleinschmidt, director of the organization, which has as its purpose the promotion of art education.

A program of lectures and exhibits which will be of benefit to public school and college students, as well as members of the organization and others, has been mapped for the 1936-37 season, which corresponds with the college session. The first meeting of the organization for the season will be conducted the first week in November.

Exhibit To Be Shown

The Quatemala Textile exhibit has been obtained for Dec. 1-22 and will be shown in the new museum building to be completed on the campus the first week in December.

Members of the membership committee are Ray F. Hinchey, chairman, Mrs. C. E. Hooper, Mrs. J. C. Allensworth, Mrs. O. D. Hargis, and Mrs. S. J. McFarland, treasurer.

Ninety members have been added since the membership campaign was opened several months ago and the organization now has approximately 275 members. Kleinschmidt, said. Efforts will be made to secure 10 life members by Nov. 1. Fee for life membership is $100. Present life members are Spencer Wells, Mrs. J. T. Hutchinson and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson.

Dues for associate membership are $1.50 yearly; active membership, $2.50; sustaining membership, $10; contributing membership, $25; patrons or donors, $1,000 or more.

The following program has been tentatively scheduled and is to be secured if membership of 500 is obtained:

Lecture by Prof. Oscar B. Jacobson of the University of Oklahoma faculty.

Lecture by George Biddle, president of the Society of Mural Painters in America. His subject likely will be "Art Tendencies in America Today and During th Past Twenty Years." The lecture is expected to be of particular interest because of the plans for placing murals in the Memorial hall proposed for the completed museum structure. The hall is not to be placed in the $25,000 building being constructed now.

Lecture by Forbes Watson, former art critic for the New York Evening Post and how art critic for the New York World and advisor for the Treasury Department Art Projects, Washington, D. C. His subject is to be "The People and Their Art."

Lecture by E. Barnard Lintot, noted water color painter and lecturer, and exhibit of some of his work. His subject is to be "Art of Water Color Painting."

Lecture by Miss Elizabeth Hawley, Tech art instructor, on early American silverware.

Lecture, arrangments for which have not been completed, by John F. Helm, professor at Kansas State Agricultural college. The lecture would be given at the annual meeting in May.

Exhibits: The Trend of Easel Painting, John Stewart Curry, Jan. 4-23; exhibition from the Southern States Art League; One-Man Show of Birger Sandzen's Oil Paintings; International Print show; The Quatemala textile exhibit.

Days will be set aside for public school students, club women, college students and perhaps other groups during the exhibit in the museum. Movies and lectures are to be given in connection with the exhibit.

The Art Museum has no direct connection with the museum being constructed on the campus. The museum was constructed with money allocated by the centennial commission board of control and is under control of the West Texas Museum association. The Art Museum will cooperate with the museum, however, in its promotion of art education.
