Midland Man Dies Of Burns In Oil Mishap

A 19-year-old Midland youth was burned fatally and another Midland man received minor burns in an explosion-fire about 7 p.m. Friday at the Liedkte No. 1 well, located eight miles southeast of Midkiff in the Spraberry area.

The youth, Lonnie Odell Wolverton, 106 South Pecos Street, died at 7:15 a.m. Saturday in Midland Memorial Hospital, where he was rushed shortly after the accident in a Newnie W. Ellis ambulance.

Both men were employed by Fryer & Hanson Drilling Company.

The explosion-fire occurred while oil was being unloaded from trucks into the pits. Cause had not been determined.

The Midland Fire Department answered the alarm and extinguished the blaze with slight damage to the drilling rig, Fryer & Hanson Drilling Company officials said.

Clothing Ignited

Fellow workers said that young Wolverton's clothes became ignited as result of the explosion-fire which originated under one of the trucks. The youth started running with the resulting breeze fanning the flames. Efforts to catch the youth by foot were unsuccessful, and an automobile finally was used to stop him. He was admitted to the hospital with third degree burns covering about 98 per cent of his body.

The youth, who had survived critical injuries in an automobile accident a year ago, was working his first day as a roughneck for the drilling company.

Born August 13, 1933 at Kempner, he attended Killeen Public Schools prior to volunteering for the U. S. Navy in March 1951.

Injured In Crash

While enroute back to the naval base a year ago after a weekend liberty, Wolverton suffered critical injuries in an automobile accident. He was released from the Navy in August of this year. After visiting Killeen relatives several days, he came to Midland three weeks ago to be employed in the oil fields.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Monday at the Chancellor & Young Chapel at Killeen. Interment will be in the Killeen Cemetery. Newnie W. Ellis Chapel will forward the body to Killeen for services.

Survivors include the father, Herbert of Slaton; his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Fred James of Killeen; a sister, Joyce Marie, and a brother, Curtiss E., both of Killeen.

Fiery Conoco Well Put Under Control

M. M. Kinley of Houston, Texas, an oil well fire specialist, brought the huge torch under control late Saturday afternoon and said it would burn itself out within a few hours.

Continental Oil Company's Anderson Ranch Unit No. 1 blew in at 12,000 feet last Saturday. A spark from a rock blown out by high pressure ignited the gas Tuesday morning, and the well has been blazing ever since.

About 40 million cubic feet of natural gas and 800 barrels of oil have gone up in smoke each day, flaming 100 feet in the air.

Kinley choked off most of the flame with a special gadget he had rigged by a local machine shop. Water under high pressure then was forced into the drill pipe. That was followed by drilling mud to smother the blaze.

Within 30 minutes the pillar of flame had shrunk to a tame blaze, and Kinley said it would burn itself out in a few hours.

Two Women Burned As Explosion Jars Highway 80 Motel

Two Latin Americans were injured Friday night in an explosion which shook 10 cabins of the Corral Motel on East Highway 80.

Treated at Western Clinic-Hospital were Delia Gonzales, 23, and Lydia Gonzales, 15, both of San Angelo.

Suffering from burns, their condition was not believed to be critical.

City Fire Marshall Bill Klatt said that the two women, who were not related, apparently were lying in the bed in the cabin where the explosion originated.

"Leaking butane gas apparently was the cause of the explosion," he said.

The cabin occupied by the two was wrecked by the explosion, although there was no accompanying fire. Nine other cabins, ranging on each side, also were damaged by the force of the blast.

Richard Harrell, operator of the motel, estimated damage would run between $5,000 and $7,500.

Autumn Plays Role In Convincing Style

By The Associated Press

Brown, curled leaves floated to earth over much of Texas Saturday but their falling wasn't the only way you could tell early Autumn was here.

Although a bright sun shining through clear skies later boosted thermometers generally to the 80-degree levels in the afternoon, it got mighty chilly at many places before morning.

Folks out at Salt Flat in West Texas stepped onto a cold floor upon awaking to 45-degree morning air. Mt. Pleasant in Northeast Texas had a pre-dawn low of 46.

But by afternoon you didn't need the light jackets or sweaters. The highest reported afternoon reading was 93 at Laredo and Alice.

No rain was reported anywhere in the state Saturday and the weatherman forecast the same kind of weather for Sunday.

Revised Protestant Bible Will Be Published Tuesday

NEW YORK—(AP)—American Protestants have a new Bible.

A million copies—described as the biggest first edition in book publishing history—will be issued next Tuesday.

"This will be one of the most important religious events of the century," said Dr. Philip C. Landers, administrative secretary of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

Advance copies were released Saturday.

The council is sponsoring publication of the new Bible, called the "revised standard version"—the first revision in 51 years.

Thirty-two biblical scholars have been at work on it since 1937 under supervision of Dr Luther A. Weigle, dean emeritus of Yale University Divinity School.

New Catholic Version

Catholic scholars still are at work on a new Bible translation—the first eight books of which will be published Monday in a special volume. It is the first translation undertaken by the American Catholic clergy.

Hundreds of Protestant churches will begin using their completed, revised Bible in services and Sunday schools within a few weeks.

It aims to correct old errors and clarify obscure usages, without losing the dignity of the King James language. It contains numerous general changes.

The "est" and "eth" suffixes on verbs have been eliminated. Obsolete pronouns such as "thee" and "thou" have been converted to "you," except in prayers addressed to God.

Modern substitutes have replaced archaic usages such as "would fain" and "aforetime" and "unto." In Genesis, all those "begat" phrases have been changed to "became the father of" phrases.

The creation story speaks of "the great sea monsters" that were put in the ancient seas instead of "the great whales."

In Psalms 8:5, the famous verse, as revised, reads that man was made a "little less than God," instead of the old way, "a little lower than the angels."

About the only change in the 23rd Psalm is the use of "my cup overflows" for "my cup runneth over" and the starting of the phrase "yea, though I walk . . ." with "Even though I walk . . ."

The widely quoted Ecclesiastes 1:9 which in the old form reads, "There is no new thing under the sun," is converted to the popular expression, "There is nothing new under the sun."

In the new book, John 14:2 says, "In my father's house are many rooms," instead of "many mansions." Much of the lofty old language is reduced to schoolboy simplicity, as in Second Timothy 2:5, which is changed from this:

"And if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully."

To this: "An athlete is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules."

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman Saturday night called on all Americans to support the 1952 Red Feather campaign because "this is the finest and most important thing that ever happened in America."

MUNSAN —(AP)— Allied and Communist truce negotiators resumed their talks Sunday at the end of their eighth straight weekly recess but there was no indication the long deadlock on prisoner exchange was any closer to solution.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman boarded his campaign train Saturday night for a 15-day, 8,500-mile whistle stop tour as intensive as any he made in his own behalf four years ago.

RINGS POLITICAL BELL—

Hopeful General Swings To West

NEW YORK—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is reportedly convinced he rang the political bell on a 12-state campaign tour into the Midwest and South by pounding on the issue of "a change in Washington."

Ready for a quick dip into Dixie to speak at Charleston, S. C., Tuesday and then a long train trip to the West, the Republican nominee was pictured by aides as confident he has taken the right campaign track.

His advisers said this probably means Eisenhower will continue the serious-minded but relatively unsensational indictment of the Truman Administration's works at home and abroad.

Many of the general's aides are convinced secretly that it doesn't matter too much just what he says so long as he expresses and exemplifies what they believe is a deep undercurrent flowing in the direction of a change in administrations.

Unrest Over War

Helping this along, they contend, is anger at revelations of corruption among federal officials, unrest over the Korean War and a widespread feeling that somehow there is a way to find a secure world peace.

Eisenhower is being presented as the man who can accomplish these objectives.

Whether he is convincing the people he is the man to do the job is a matter for political debate.

But a reporter, in 12 days of trailing the nominee across 5,000 campaign miles and listening to 80-odd speeches is struck by the fact that everywhere — including the South—there is good will for the man. There are practically no "boo's" and yells for his opponent are mostly perfunctory.

They Wave Back

People smile when they see him approaching in a motorcade. He grins, waves his arms, and they wave back. Women especially are responsive, turning excitedly to say to a friend, "Oh, he waved at me," or "Oh, did you see, he smiled at me."

Nobody in the Eisenhower camp can quite explain this Sinatra-like appeal. But you can bet your nickels they are capitalizing on it.

The late Wendell L. Willkie had

List Includes Illinois Men Taking Gifts

And the Democratic presidential nominee said his financial showdown with the Republicans will go further—he will make public his income tax returns for the last 10 years after he returns to Springfield, Ill., Sunday.

Senator John J. Sparkman of Alabama, his vice presidential running mate, has promised to do the same thing, Stevenson said.

Stevenson said there was no fund specially raised to "mitigate financial hardships" of his key state officials. And he said the gifts "did not come from a fund specially created for the purpose."

The money came from a balance left over from his 1948 campaign for governor, he said. Giving details on this, he released a list of 1,000 persons who contributed to the original campaign fund—which originally totaled $172,840.10.

Stevenson at first refused to name names. Illinois, he explained, has no provision for making political contributions public. Saturday night, he said, he was revealing all contributions and payments after canvassing "a number" of the donors and all the officials who received the gifts.

'To Improve Quality'

He said "the single object of these gifts was to improve the quality of public administration in Illinois."

Stevenson said the appointees "joined the state service without any promise or expectation of extra compensation, and when I made the gifts to them there was no intimation that such gifts would be repeated.

"In some cases," he added, "they have rejected offers in private employment of more than double their present compensation.

"When other plans were found impracticable, I adopted the practice of making gifts, usually around Christmas time, to a small number of key executives who were making sacrifices to stay in the state government."

Press Agent Named

Stevenson's list showed the largest single gift went to William I. Flanagan, his press secretary and the superintendent of the State Reports department, who received eight payments totaling $7,900.

A harder-hitting campaign in the future by Senator Richard Nixon, Republican vice presidential candidate, was predicted Saturday by Robert Stripling, Midland, after a conference Friday between the two men.

Stripling, former chief investigator for the House Un-American Activities Committee and co-worker with Senator Nixon, said the Republican vice presidential candidate "seemed quite confident of victory."

Stripling met the senator's plane at Amarillo and attended his address at the Tri-State Fairgrounds. Since the senator's plane was late in arriving, the two old friends exchanged only brief remarks prior to going to the broadcast site. After a press conference following Nixon's address, the two men had a leisurely chat.

Stripling, who made front pages last week when he struck out violently at persons making an issue of the $18,000 donation fund, said the matter was not discussed with Nixon and that newsmen did not refer to it.

Stripling, who is now an independent oil operator here, said that Nixon was very grateful for his reception at Amarillo and was looking forward to his speaking itenitary in the state.

"Despite the fact that Nixon's Amarillo address was his seventh of the day, he seemed full of vim and vigor," Stripling said.

"It was quite an occasion for both of us," Stripling said in reference to the meeting.

Adlai Labels GOP Campaign 'Ugly Demagogic Distortion'

LOUISVILLE, KY.—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson ripped into Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on foreign policy Saturday night and accused the Republicans of laying down a barrage of "ugly, twisted demagogic distortion."

Addressing a capacity crowd of 2,400 persons in the Memorial Auditorium, the Democratic presidential nominee declared there is a danger the opposition party, once in power, would pursue a foreign policy of "weakness leading to the rubble and chaos of a third world war."

The Illinois governor said the general, the GOP candidate for the White House, has been trying to make a "vote-getting issue of our ordeal" in Korea.

Stevenson was introduced by Vice President Alben W. Barkley, who told the crowd that if the Democrats can present their "unmatched record" to the public as it is, and "not as our enemies misrepresent it, we will win in November."

Barkley's Pitcher

"Pour it on," someone in the audience yelled as the 74-year-old "Veep" lashed at the Republicans.

"I can pour it on, but my pitcher is running out," Barkley shouted back. The crowd roared with laughter.

When Stevenson walked to the speaker's platform, he got a standing ovation that lasted half a minute.

He received another big round of applause when he said he would not be criticizing Eisenhower if the general had not "pointed the accusing finger."

"Better we refrain from competing in denouncing each other in a scramble for votes, admit our common mistakes—and get on with our business," the governor added.

The governor was cheered, too, when he said Eisenhower has reversed the advice of Theodor Roosevelt to "speak softly and to carry a big stick."

The new GOP advice, Stevenson added, is to "talk tough and carry a twig."

Peace, said the Democratic nominee, is far more important than who wins the election. And that brought applause.

Stevenson said the Democratic party has been "consistently the party of strength in foreign affairs" and the party of peace.

Community Chest Chairmen Named For Campaign In City

Chairmen of the five major divisions of Midland's 1952 Community Chest finance campaign were named Saturday by Joe T. Dickerson, general campaign chairman.

H. Eddie Chiles, Jr., heads the Advanced Gifts Division, which already has launched its program of solicitation. Other division heads are Roy Minear, Special Gifts; John Perkins, Employe; J. P. (Kit) Carson, Jr., Commercial, and Raymond Howard, General.

H. EDDIE CHILES, JR.

The appointment of Vic Chancellor as publicity chairman also was announced. W. A. (Bill) Hutcheson is the campaign treasurer.

Campaign headquarters have been established in Room 201, Petroleum Building. The telephone number is 4-6686.

Dickerson said plans for staging the campaign are progressing on schedule and that scores of volunteer workers are being enlisted to conduct the community-wide effort.

Participating agencies and their budget totals are: Boy Scouts $10,-128.67; Girl Scouts $14,000; Youth Center $10,750; Latin American Youth Center $8,605; Goodfellows $800; Colored Day Nursery $2,527.90; Salvation Army $3,000; U. S. O. $3,-500. Campaign expenses and chest operating costs for the year total $9,831.33.

Costa Rican Leader Resigns Presidency

Ulate said troublemakers had "created incidents with the public forces" and brought on "an atmosphere of agitation."

Upton County Voters Defeat Bond Issue

RANKIN—Upton County voters Saturday, by a vote of 93 for and 209 against, overwhelmingly defeated a proposed $85,000 bond issue for the purpose of buying land and constructing park facilities for use of negroes in the county.

Mrs. Ralph Daugherty, county clerk, said that voting was light in the county's six precinct boxes.

U. S. Calls French Jet Bases Unusable

PARIS—(AP)—U. S. jet planes have been unable to use three French-built airbases in France because of defective runways, American officials in Paris said Saturday.

The bases are in Chaumont, in Eastern France, at Toul-Rosiere, also in Eastern France, and at Laon-Couvron, 80 miles northeast of Paris.

The three fields were built under plans of the five-nation Brussels Pact powers, an alliance that preceded the 14-nation North Atlantic Pact. The U. S. officials said the French are inclined to regard the faults that have developed to be expected and easily corrected.

Groundhog Day, February 2, is also known as Candlemas Day.

Cover Crop Demonstration Set Tuesday At O'Neal Farm

Tuesday will be a big day at the B. E. (Slim) O'Neal farm, three and one-half miles south of Midland on the Rankin highway.

That is the date set for the field day demonstration of equipment used and methods of planting cover crops as an aid to reducing wind erosion and as fertility improvement for the land.

The demonstration is scheduled to get underway at 1:30 p.m., with all farmers, ranchers and other interested persons of the area invited and urged to attend.

The field day is sponsored by the Agriculture-Livestock Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, Midland County agent, Soil Conservation Service, the Producing and Marketing Association, and eight equipment and seed dealers.

Participating Dealers

The dealers participating in the demonstration include Midland Tractor Company, Wes-Tex Equipment Company, Tractor Equipment & Supply, Williams Feed & Supply Company, Birkhead Feed Store, Farmers Co-Op Gin, and Midland Co-Op Marketing Association, all of Midland, and the Hancock Manufacturing Company of Lubbock.

The decision to stage the field day this week came as a result of recent rains which facilitated the planting of cover crops in the area.

Sponsors said 14 plots will be seeded with rye, vetch, peas and barley.

Rita Says Divorce Can Wait, But Aly Gets Comeuppance

PARIS—(AP)—Rita Hayworth and Price Aly Kahn said Saturday their divorce is off indefinitely.

Rita, glamorous U. S. screen actress, disclosed this as she and Aly posed for photographers at Aly's mansion, where Rita is living since her arrival Wednesday.

She said she did not intend to press through the preliminary divorce papers she has filed at Reno, Nev.

Later, after lunch together in a suburban restaurant, Prince Aly said, "As far as I am concerned we have no intention of breaking up."

Rita, apparently angry at Aly for making her wait while he stopped to talk to reporters, sailed out of the restaurant into Aly's black Cadillac convertible and drove off alone.

Soil Conservation Unit States Annual Supervisor Election

A supervisor for Zone 4 of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District will be elected at a meeting scheduled at 8 p.m., October 7, at Valley View, Warren Skaggs, present supervisor, announced.

D. W. McDonald will serve as temporary chairman at the election meeting. Anyone owning land in Midland County, south of U. S. 80 Highway and the Garden City Highway is eligible to vote in the election.

A program arranged by the Midland County Mobilization Committee will be presented at the session. A movie, "Friends of the Land," will be shown and talks on current agriculture affairs heard. Speakers will include the county agent and representatives of the Soil Conservation Service and the Production and Marketing Administration.

The Midland High School FFA Band will furnish special music as an entertainment feature.

Republican Coffee Pot Gets Reprieve From Terrific Job

OKLAHOMA CITY —(AP)— Mrs. Harry J. Schafer almost got into the coffee business in a big way.

She invited 12 members of her district Republican Finance Committee to her home for coffee.

Some of the members misunderstood the invitation and thought it was to be a "progressive coffee."

At a progressive coffee, each person invites eight more persons, those invite six, those invite six and these invite two.

Mrs. Shafer thought it odd Friday when she started receiving letters of regret from people not on the committee.

Checking up, she was astounded to learn that 7,800 Republicans could have shown up to help her drink 12 cups of coffee. Luckily, she got word around that it was only a committee meeting, but even so 36 showed up.

It's Your Freedom!

It is too bad that more Midlanders did not hear Dr. W. W. Kemmerer's "Citizenship Week" address before the Midland Lions Club. The message was one which should be heard by every Midlander, every Texan and every American.

The University of Houston president really gave his listeners here something to think about in pointing up the grave dangers which threaten this nation's freedoms.

"Freedom—Our Greatest Asset" was his subject, and he handled it in a masterful manner, challenging his listeners to face the fact that big government, independent government agencies and a super-tax system are threatening to destroy the very same freedom which made this nation great.

It was a message which doubtless startled those who have not paid too much attention to the dangers entailed in the current trend toward big and centralized government. But Dr. Kemmerer did not intend to scare anyone. His purpose was to place the facts before his listeners in the hope that they, as individuals, will start doing something about it.

The story as told by Dr. Kemmerer is one which must be told and retold until citizens are aroused sufficiently to demand that government continue as the slave rather than becoming the master.

Yet, time is short and, as Dr. Kemmerer stated, the forthcoming election may be the last in which Americans can vote for freedom. It is just that serious. It is just that urgent.

• • •

The speaker did not declare his political preference, in fact he was critical of both parties for failure to include in their platforms planks calling for a definite reduction in public spending and a curtailment of independent government agencies and big government in general.

The citizens, through their representatives in Congress, must take care of that situation.

It is an individual responsibility—a responsibility too long shunned by many, many citizens of our community, our state and our nation.

Yet, individuals—free individuals—made this country great. And when individuals lose their freedoms, they have lost everything which makes life worthwhile.

• • •

Why, therefore, do we as individuals stand idly by while big and powerful government, with its myriads of bureaucratic agencies which operate independently of civil courts, destroys the very framework of our cherished freedoms? That is the question.

The awakening of citizens as to the constant threats to their freedoms and as to their individual responsibilities as citizens in combatting these threats, is the general purpose of "Citizenship Week." It is hoped the observance will produce the desired results.

Remember, it is your freedom which is threatened.

"C'mon, C'mon—Don't Take All Day"

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: AFL leaders vetoed Ike because of crowd around him; GOP organizes doctors; Taft Republicans begin to like Ike.

WASHINGTON — Top leaders of the AF of L had several discussions over the question of breaking a 71-year precedent and endorsing a particular candidate.

Those who led in urging the endorsement of Governor Stevenson included such right-wing union men as Charley McGowan, head of the Iron and Shipbuilders Workers, and Harry C. Bates, head of the Building Trades Union. Other leaders, such as David Dubinsky of the International Ladies Garment Workers and George Meany, secretary of the AFL, long had been expected to be in Stevenson's corner; but the position of AFL old-timers came as more of a surprise.

McGowan, who comes from Kansas, Eisenhower's home state, previously had expressed his views to Eisenhower direct.

"I told the general," McGowan reported to AFL colleagues, "that we had nothing against him personally. We thought he was a fine man. However, it was the company he kept that we couldn't stomach.

"Your heart is going to be broken in the first month if you're elected," McGowan had told Eisenhower, "because these old-guard senators have you cornered.

"You think you can change their votes. But you can't. You can't change Jenner's vote, or Capehart's vote or Dirksen's vote.

"These senators are elected by special interest groups and they'll never desert those groups. You will never get your legislation passed, and you will find yourself taking orders from them instead of you giving orders yourself."

Note — After Nixon's "expense" fund came to light, AFL sentiment deepened. Nixon has had just as reactionary a voting record as Capehart and Jenner, and AFL leaders figure that it proves their contention that a senator votes the way his big money backers want him to vote.

Judging from reactions along the route of the Eisenhower train, his new alliance with Taft is going to help—especially in Ohio.

In other states it may hurt, but in Ohio, which still seems to be an impregnable Taft political fortress, Republicans watched the Taft-Eisenhower peace meeting through narrow eyes—at first.

When Taft returned from New York, for instance, he was asked to pose with a big Ike button, but refused, snorting: "I won't pose for any gag shot." This story got no national circulation, but it was whispered around Ohio and helped dampen Republican ardor for Eisenhower. One reaction of the Ohio Republicans was that they would give Charlie Taft a big vote for governor as a gesture to brother Bob.

But now that Taft has warmed up to Eisenhower sufficiently to ride on the train with him and make rear-platform appearances with him, the Ohio GOP is limbering up and starting to roll.

Organizing The Doctors

It's supposed to be a campaign secret, but the Republican National Committee has mailed a confidential, 50-page booklet to all GOP state chairmen, telling them how to organize the nation's medical profession against the Democrats.

The advice is chiefly a blueprint of how the doctors were organized in New York and Pennsylvania during the last election. Not only the doctors, but the dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors and druggists were rallied behind the GOP banner. The booklet reveals some amazing statistics, showing how the medics propagandized their patients.

The secret Republican program shows that 2,042,823 letters were mailed out in New York alone, chiefly from doctors to their patients, urging them to vote against Senator Herbert Lehman. In addition, the doctors made 19,914 political phone calls and more than 2,000 political visits to their patients. Altogether 10,771 doctors, 2,981 dentists, 3,513 nurses, 1,402 druggists and 69 hospitals joined actively in the campaign.

In New York City, the booklet boasts, "Medical doctors were called on a battery of 30 telephones from the Roosevelt Hotel and asked to participate in the campaign by mailing letters to patients and friends. Five thousand metropolitan doctors were enlisted by this method."

Despite this, Lehman was elected, and the Republicans propose increased efforts in this election.

"Our experiences in New York State showed that there are several classifications that are not fully developed but which would represent a tremendous influence in the election of any candidate where this socialized medicine campaign may be conducted," notes the confidential booklet. "Those classifications or groups are as follows: Nurses, hospitals (both state and private), medical and dental auxiliaries, insurance agencies and brokers and those who are engaged in the selling of both Blue Cross and Blue Shield policies and other accident and health insurance policies . . ."

This campaign made some headway, particularly in up-state New York, but in other places, the campaign boomeranged and patients told their doctors to stick to medicine.

The Democrats privately concede that they lost Senator Elbert Thomas in Utah, Congressman Eugene O'Sullivan in Nebraska and Congressman Andy Biemiller in Wisconsin, largely as a result of the doctor-to-patient propaganda.

This year, the doctors were quick to jump on the Taft bandwagon, and organized a doctors-for-Taft movement long before the GOP convention. But Taft even was supplied the name of each delegate's family doctor. But since General Eisenhower's nomination, the doctors have been slow to organize in most areas. This is the reason for mailing out the confidential, 50-page booklet.

Along with a step-by-step plan on how to recruit the doctors, the booklet includes some sample letters from MD's to patients. For example, Dr. Robert C. Eliot of Brewster, N. Y., sent a hand-scribbled prescription to his patients, urging: "My prescription to my patients for an effective cure against socialized medicine is to vote for John Foster Dulles for senator on election day. Preserve our medical standards, the best in the world."

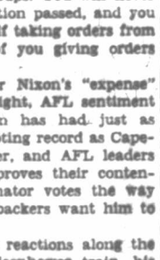

Dr. Thomas J. Runfola, Jr., began his letter to his patients: "This letter is not political, but does concern you." Then he proceeded to write a political letter, urging his patients to "support John Foster Dulles for United States senator" and to "please inform your family and friends."

These were offered as examples of how the doctors can campaign for Republican candidates in the 1952 election.

Washington Pipe Line

Vice President Barkley is staging a partial sit-down speech strike at Paducah. Barkley has been asked repeatedly to speak for Stevenson, but so far, has accepted no invitations unless he's given television time. And with the Democrats scratching the money barrel, there isn't enough TV time for Stevenson . . . Senate Secretary Les Biffle soon will put on his overalls and tour the country as a chicken salesman to find out what the voters are thinking . . . Next month the Army will unveil the most revolutionary new artillery piece of modern times. It can outshoot any gun of its type in existence—also can fire atomic artillery.

• JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand shows the most startling bid made in the entire national tournament conducted by the American Contract Bridge League a few weeks ago in Cincinnati. Bill Hanna, of Los Angeles, bid a suit for the first time at the grand slam level—with only a singleton in that suit!

North's opening bid of three no-trump was unusual, but not startling. Most experts use such an opening bid to show a balanced hand of tremendous power, but a few experts use the opening bid of three no-trump to show a solid suit with perhaps some slight hope of winning a trick elsewhere. In other words, the bid is largely gambling and preemptive in nature.

Opening lead—♣ 3

Bill Hanna, holding the South hand, decided to add one gamble to another. His partner could probably win seven tricks with his solid suit. The South hand was good for five tricks in spades or diamonds. Hence there would probably be a good play for twelve tricks if the opening lead happened to be favorable, so Hanna took a shot at six no-trump.

This was more than East could stand. He was going to be on lead against six no-trump, and he could see the ace and king of hearts nestling in his hand. So he doubled with great firmness and even greater speed.

Incidentally, this was one of the most unnecessary doubles ever recorded. The opponents were obviously in an unsound contract. East would surely get a fine score for beating six-no-trump even if he failed to double. What could he gain by doubling? Maybe he didn't see what he could lose, but he soon found out.

Hanna looked at the South hand and reflected about that double. It certainly sounded ominous and positive. Evidently East was ready to take the first two tricks against six no-trump. The only hope was that West wouldn't guess the right opening lead.

So South bid seven clubs!

Why did he choose clubs? North's opening bid showed a solid suit, almost undoubtedly a minor suit. It had to be clubs. And, of course, it was.

West would have been a hero if he had led a heart, but he happened to choose a low spade instead. And Hanna rolled thirteen tricks home with great calm, as though he bid grand slams that way every day of the week!

CARD Sense

Q—With neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Diamond	1 Heart	?

You, South, hold: Spades K-8-5, Hearts K-Q-9-5, Diamonds 7-3, Clubs K-J-4-2. What do you do?

A—Double. If North is a fine player he will treat your double as a co-operative effort. That is, he will let the double stand if he can help in the defense against hearts; but he will tend to bid again if he has a singleton heart (or none at all).

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-5, Hearts 8-4, Diamonds Q-7-3-2, Clubs K-J-8-4-2. What do you do?

California Throws Hard Block At U. S. 160-Acre Water Law

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—California now has presented the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation with the most serious challenge that yet has arisen against the controversial "160-acre law."

This 1926 law provides that irrigation water from government dams may be supplied to no more than 160 acres of land under single ownership, unless there is a recordable contract providing for the sale of land over the 160-acre limit.

Purpose of this law was to promote the growth of family-sized farms, instead of big land holdings. The owners of more than 160 acres therefore have fought the law all over the West. The law does not say anyone cannot own more than 160 acres. It merely says he can't have government irrigation water on more than 160 acres.

Although this law was passed by a Republican Congress in the Coolidge administration, it now more often is identified as a Democratic device. This is because the F. D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman administrations have used it more than their predecessors.

The law is even a major issue, in the 17 Western states, in the present presidential election campaign. Republican and Democratic platforms state conflicting views on U. S. water policy.

Sued To Upset Law

The specific California case which brings this issue to a head involves Courtney McCracken of Visalia, Calif. He owns 190 acres of land in what is known as the Ivanhoe Irrigation District, in the San Joaquin Valley south of Fresno.

Ivanhoe is a relatively small irrigation district of about 11,000 acres. Several years ago this district made a contract with the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation for the supply of Central Valley water. This contract contained the usual stipulation limiting the supply of irrigation water to 160 acres of land per owner.

McCracken, owning only 30 acres more than this limit, filed suit to upset the 160-acre law limitation when the contract was brought before the court for validation.

Actually the case has been handled by James H. McBride as counsel for the Ivanhoe Irrigation District. He has had the backing of the Irrigation Districts Association, made up of 140-odd water districts in the state.

Associated Farmers, Farm Bureau Federation, California State Chamber of Commerce and other groups interested in upsetting the 160-acre limitation also have given their support.

The U. S. government, not being able to sue in a state court, could not enter the case directly. But Leland D. Graham and Ralph Brody, Bureau of Reclamation counsel, did enter the case as friends of the court.

Suit Not Against U. S.

Officially, the U. S. government had no legal interest in the case, because Bureau of Reclamation's contract was with the Ivanhoe Irrigation District and not with the ultimate water users. Farmer McCracken was suing Ivanhoe to furnish water to all his 190 acres.

After the case was two and a half years in litigation, California Superior Judge Benjamin C. Jones recently handed down a memorandum decision for McCracken. The court held that a California irrigation district could not enter into a contract for water with the Bureau of Reclamation when the 160-acre limitation was included.

This decision upsets seven previous cases in which Bureau of Reclamation water contracts, including the 160-acre limitation, have been validated by California courts. It creates an almost hopeless impasse between federal reclamation laws and California water laws. And the state court now says California law must prevail.

Bureau of Reclamation can't and probably wouldn't want to shut off water to the Ivanhoe Irrigation District farms. But if the Bureau starts supplying water to one owner of more than 160 acres, it's in trouble.

The case can and may be appealed to California District Court of Appeals and the state Supreme Court. Ultimately, the case might get to the U. S. Supreme Court and become as famous as the Tidelands case.

Q & A

Q—What famous composer's life was saved by a button?

A—George Frederick Handel and another musician fought with swords after an argument. Handel's life was saved because his opponent's sword struck a button on his coat.

• • •

Q—Who made the formal motion for independence in the Continental Congress?

A—On June 7, 1776, Richard Henry Lee, of Virginia, moved in the Continental Congress that "These United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states."

• • •

Q—What is the name of the fish that has no bones?

A—The dogfish. They have no bones, their entire skelton being made of cartilage.

• • •

Q—Does the size of a dog have any bearing on the number of bones in its body?

A—All dogs have the same number of bones in their bodies.

I BACKED away from her and she closed the door firmly in my face. I ran quickly down to the sidewalk, and in the light of a corner street lamp, made a beckoning gesture. I saw the three of them hurrying toward me.

"Ginny's not here," I said. "She's down at the depot."

"That's bad," said Governor Warburton. "We'll have to work fast, John, what time does that train get in?"

"What train?"

"I don't know what train, except Clyde McDonald will be on it, coming here from Mississippi."

"I see," John Mills said. "I guess it would be the 12:02." He looked at his watch. "It's one minute to midnight now."

"Then let's go," the Governor said, and moved along the walk to the cottage. He knocked hard at the door.

A voice inside said, "I said goodnight, Mr. Mason."

"Miss Hattie, this isn't Mr. Mason," the Governor said. "Get out your peachtree switch. This is Willie Warburton."

There was silence, then the Governor went on, "You always used to listen to my side of the story, Miss Hattie. I hope you'll listen now."

Slowly the door was opened and we saw Miss Hattie's pale eyes, opened very wide. "So it's you, Willie," she said.

"I made a long trip here to talk to you," the Governor said. "Miss Hattie, it's like the old days. Here I am in trouble again, and nobody's fault but my own." His smile was rueful, and all the frank Warburton charm was in it. "May I come in?"

"I'm surprised at myself," Miss Hattie said. "But, yes, I'll let you come in. Come in, Willie."

"This is my secretary, Miss Strawn," the Governor said. "And my assistant, Mr. Mason."

"I know Mr. Mason," Miss Hattie said.

"Miss Hattie," the Governor's gentle voice said, "I came to ask you to listen to my speech in Hydetown Wednesday." He held up his hand. "Now wait a minute. First, I want you to know what I'm going to say in that speech. I want you up on that platform with me when I say, 'Ladies and gentlemen, this is my old school teacher, Miss Hattie Perkins. I guess I was the worst boy in her class. My marks were as bad as anybody's and I was a lazy, shiftless kid before Miss Hattie got hold of me.'"

"Willie, you weren't as bad as that," Miss Hattie said. "I've had worse boys than you."

"I was bad enough," the Governor said. "And let me tell you this, old dear, Mr. Mason put that paragraph in his book without consulting me. I never read the book. I never knew what he said. Bad as I was as a boy, Miss Hattie, I think you'll believe me when I say I wouldn't have made any false claims for myself."

"That's true," Miss Hattie conceded.

• • •

"I HOPE I never will," the Governor went on. "Miss Hattie, it hurt me deep when I heard you weren't turning out on Wednesday. I couldn't understand it then, because I hadn't read that book. But when I get up on that platform I'll tell the facts, and if you say so, I'll tell the story of that sheepskin coat."

"What sheepskin coat?" Miss Hattie asked. Then she nodded. "Oh, you mean—"

"Yes," the Governor said. "I mean the horse race at the Hyde County Fair. The time I was short in the school funds."

"No, Willie," said Miss Hattie. "I wouldn't want you to do anything so foolish as that."

"Is it foolish?" The Governor gave his head a thoughtful shake. "I wonder. Because if I tell that story I can tell how much you did for me, Miss Hattie. I can tell how much your kindness and fair treatment meant to me."

"Thank you, Willie," Miss Hattie said, and I saw moisture in her eyes. "To tell you the truth, I was real hurt when I read that book of Mr. Mason's."

"I don't blame you," the Governor said. "You had a right to be." He moved nearer to her, put his hand on the back of her chair. "Miss Hattie, I hope you're going to change your mind. I hope you're coming to the big meeting Wednesday and sit there on my right hand, the way Johnny Mills and I had planned it."

Miss Hattie sighed. "All right, Willie," she said. "I'll be there."

• • •

JOHN MILLS spoke for the first time. "It was Melvin Fisher had the highest marks," he said.

Miss Hattie chuckled. "I never set great store by high marks myself."

"Miss Hattie, there's one thing more." Governor Warburton reached down and took her plump hand. "I wouldn't want it known that I dropped in on you here in the middle of the night. I wouldn't want Mr. McDonald to know that."

"Yes," Miss Hattie said. "I understand, Willie."

"And of course you know why he's here," the Governor said.

Miss Hattie looked up at him. "Why, Mel Fisher asked me to put him up."

"So he could get the story from you," the Governor said. "The story of the horse race and the Halloween fund. You're not going to tell him that story, are you, Miss Hattie?"

Her eyes opened wide. "My goodness, no," she said. "I wouldn't mention that to anyone, Willie."

I could not help grinning. There had been no real danger. But suddenly I knew there was a danger. I had noticed a beam of light outside on the street, and had paid no attention, but all at once a car had stopped at the curb. I looked through the pane and saw three figures on the walk, almost at the door.

"Outside, Governor!" I cried. "Out the back way!"

Midland Builders Show Light Week

Hill Miller, addition to residence, 203 South Madison Street, $2,500. J. C. Blackwood, garage and storage, 703 North Ainslee Street, $1,000.

Martin Munoz, one story house, 1105 East Davis Street, $900. M. L. Marshall, addition to house and garage, 311 East Golf Course Road, for Mr. Six, $1,500. Joel Adcock, convert garage to bedroom, 2105 West Kentucky Street, $1,000. Gus O. Teinert, grocery store, 1411-13 North Lamesa Road, $22,000.

H. L. Davenport, commercial building, 2406 West Ohio Street, $5,000. Four Square Church, three rooms and two baths, 735 West Indiana, $3,000. V. L. Reid, alterations, 510 West Eugene Street, $1,500. Leland C. Ellis, one family residence, 2008 West Michigan Street, $14,000. Troy Foster, one family residence, 104 South Carver Street, $500.

C. W. Law, one family residence, 1314 Dakota Street, $2,250. Frank True, one family residence, 1604 English Drive, $8,000. Frank True, one family residence, 1602 English Drive, $8,000. Tru-Built Homes, one family residence, 1600 English Drive, $7,000. Tru-Built Homes, one family residence, 1606 English Drive, $7,000. Mrs. Ella Simpson, residence and office for trailer court, 505 South Fort Worth Street, $1,500. Basin Construction Company, one family residence, 2304 Mariana Street, $6,500. Joan Lomell, one family residence, 504 North Lee Street, $3,000. A. E. Patterson, garage, 401 West Parker Street, $400. Johnny Jones, two family residence, 301 South Carver Street, $3,000. Edward Kits, Jr., one family residence, 421 Dorman Street, $4,000.

Richardson Rape Sentence Appealed On Prejudice Claim

PALESTINE—(AP)—A newly-employed defense attorney gave notice Saturday of appeal to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals from the death sentence given Jimmy Richardson, 30, Palestine negro.

Richardson was convicted by an all-white Anderson County jury of raping a 15-year-old Palestine white girl. He was defended by two court-appointed Palestine lawyers.

Despair Engulfs Midlander Held As POW By Japanese

After almost two years in a North Korean prisoner-of-war camp, Cpl. Lee E. Merworth of Midland is getting pretty discouraged.

"I sure would like to see you all," said Corporal Merworth last week in a letter to his 17-year-old brother, Gene.

"Sometimes it seems as if I just ain't going to get out.

"It is impossible to break out of here but some day we will be home, I hope."

Corporal Merworth, son of H. H. Merworth, 2102 West New Jersey Street, was captured at the Yalu River about three months after the Korean War broke out.

He had joined the army before hostilities began and went into action with the Second Division.

Although in good health, he said he gets pretty lonesome some times and would like to get some letters from home.

His address is:

Martin County Seeks Added Improvement To Farm Roads

STANTON—Martin County officials met with the State Highway Commission at Austin Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, seeking improvemets to some of the roads in the county.

Conferring with the commission were County Judge James McMorries and Commissioners Oliver Vaughn, Irvin Welch, Ed Bloomer and Joe Froman.

The officials asked for a northeast extension of State Highway 349, a distance of 2.2 miles, from Farm Road 87 to a point where it would connect these two roads with a previously designated project.

Farm Road 87 is the Big Spring-Andrews Highway and State Highway 349, which makes a junction with FM 87 in the western part of the county, is more familiarly known to county residents as the Midland road. At present the Midland road doesn't extend north of FM 87.

The Martin Countians also asked to extend the Stanton section of U. S. Highway 80 for a distance of one-half mile beyond the present city limits to order to facilitate a prospective expansion.

The officials asked the commissioner to take over the maintenance of paved roads in the county.

On October 18, citizens will vote on a proposed $250,000 bond issue to finance purchase of right-of-way for widening of U. S. Highway 80 through the county, a distance of more than 13 miles.

Funds from the issue would be also used for buying right-of-way for improving farm-to-marke roads totaling 33 miles, and for right of way on an 18 mile stretch of a state highway in the northwest part of the county.

When tax rolls for the county were completed recently, an increase was revealed of $300,000—making a total tax roll of $4,968,000. With the tax levy of 90 cents levied on the 1952 bond issue being assumed this year by the Bond Assumption Act, and with increased valuations, Judge McMorries said he believed it was possible to vote the $250,000 bond issue without increasing the assessment or the present tax rate of $1.80 on the $100 valuation.

Bitter Skirmishes For Korean Hills Mark War Action

SEOUL, KOREA —(AP)— Aggressive U. S. Second Division raiders clashed hand-to-hand with Chinese Communists before dawn Sunday on a Red-held Western hill before withdrawing.

The small but bitter two-hour action in the Old Baldy sector, west of Chorwon, coincided with another fight near Kelly Hill, seven miles south of Chorwon, where the Reds pushed a seven-hour night attack on an Allied position. The Reds seized Kelly Hill last week and have fought off all Allied attempts to regain it.

The U. S. Eighth Army said U. S. Third Division troops stood their ground and beat off the Chinese assault in heavy fighting.

MIDLANDER GREETS SENATOR IN AMARILLO—

Nixon Praises Stripling For Campaign On Reds

AMARILLO—Two of the nation's top leaders in the fight against Communism held a brief but cordial reunion here Friday as Robert E. Stripling and Sen. Richard Nixon exchanged greetings.

Nixon, here for a major speech as Republican candidate for vice-president, was on the move every minute. His plane was 30 minutes late and there was no time for more than a friendly greeting.

Both had words of praise for each other to make up for the shortage of words between themselves.

"A man who has done as much as any single American toward exposing the Communist conspiracy in America." These were the words Nixon used to describe Stripling in his dramatic speech at the Tri-State Fair Grounds. The crowd roared agreement.

Nixon pointed out that Stripling "fought the Communists year after year when it wasn't popular to fight them."

He continued, "there were nights when I would turn off the radio in our home at night so my wife and children wouldn't hear the things that were being said about us by the fellow travelers.

"I am surce that Stripling wanted to do the same thing. I don't know if he did, but I know that he kept fighting," Nixon said.

The GOP candidate said that he and Stripling were together when they saw a press release from the Department of Justice which announced that the government was prepared to drop the case against Hiss.

"We went to the Justice Department and asked for the records," Nixon said.

He related that it was this evidence that led to the downfall of Hiss.

It was Nixon and Stripling who made the trips to the Westminister, Md., farm of Chambers, where the positive proof—the now famous pumpkin papers—were found.

It was shortly after Truman had issued his "Red Herring" statement that Stripling came back to Texas, after serving for ten years on the House Un-American Activities Committee as chief investigator.

"I had served a democratic congress, and the 80th Congress, which was Republican. I considered myself a loyal American, and when the President of the United States refused to back us up, I gagged," Stripling said.

"When the Republican switch came in Congress, I doubted that I could serve with the committee. After all, a Texas Democrat didn't have much affinity for Republicans. But, when they assured me that the committee work was not to be influenced by politics. I kept on with the job.

"I'd still be a Democrat if I had not been insulted—and heard my men insulted—by Truman, the man who was titular head of my party.

"I tell you," and here Stripling, who seems a mild-mannered man, was speaking in anger, "when we went before the Department of Justice, and other administration groups, you would have thought that we were the traitors to our country.

"We were treated as the criminals and the men on whom we had gathered proof of espionage were the heroes," he declared.

Stripling didn't exactly name his politics, but, Democrat or Republican, he is going to cast a strong vote for his friend Nixon.

"On the day Nixon was accused of accepting money from California businessmen, before he had said a word in his own defense, I made a statement that if Nixon was a crook, then Hiss was a great American."

Baptist Services Continue At Ritz

Members of the First Baptist Church, the doors of their auditorium nailed shut by a city ordinance, will continue to hold Sunday morning services at the Ritz Theater.

The Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the church, said it had been decided to use the theater on Sunday mornings while evening services will be held in the church Recreation Building, behind the old auditorium.

Gridiron 'Pupils' Grow Up In Stunning Poly Defeat

By COPE BOUIE

The Bulldogs of Midland High School, who were innocent little gridiron pupils only a week ago, established themselves Friday night as the old professors of the fine points of the great American game of football.

Playing the game just like the book says, they made their debut in Class AAAA competition by piling up a fantastic 61-19 score over the unfortunate Polytechnic High School of Fort Worth.

Six times they struck on the ground for touchdowns from more than 50 yards out and once they zoomed 61-yards through the air to score.

And when the lesson was over, the 6,000 fans in Memorial Stadium had seen Coach Tugboat Jones' Bulldogs pile up a staggering offensive total of 657 yards—an average of 16.4 yards every time they launched a play from scrimmage.

There was glory enough for every one.

It rubbed off on little Jesse Hatfield, the 140-pound terror, who scampered 62 yards and 69 yards for touchdowns in the opening minute and a half of play and then pinpointed a 21-yard scoring toss to Bill Mims.

It covered the shoulders of Dick Spencer, who tips the scales at 150 pounds but who chugged his way to 18 points with touchdown runs of 11, 60 and 72 yards.

Friday Sparkles

It sparkled from the toe of Larry Friday, the quarterback, who came off the injury bench to boot seven out of nine attempts at points after touchdown.

And there was plenty left over for Roy Kimsey, the left-handed sharpshooter who had a perfect night, including a 61-yard touchdown pass to sterling Robert Kiesling; Clinton Noble, who sailed through a hole in right tackle and galloped 53 yards to paydirt, and Russell Rutledge, who went 58 yards to score through a similar opening.

Even the Poly Parrots joined in the king-size fun by contributing a 72-yard pass play from aerial-minded Harry Taylor to hard-working Richard Hoyler, who went on to add the other two Fort Worth scores with short punches through the line.

But the drama of the evening was mainly built around the machine precision of the whole Midland team, which carried out about every play just like its designer intended.

When the boys with the ball reached the line the hole usually was there. When they reached the secondary the blocker was there, carrying out his intended job.

Pass Defense Weak

In fact, about the only glaring weakness was the Bulldogs' pass defense although Taylor connected for only 11 out of his 24 attempts for a total aerial gain of 213 yards.

It was a different team from the one which inaugurated its 1952 season a week previously against the Lamesa High School Golden Tornadoes.

The lesson was a tough one but the Bulldogs learned quickly and by the final gun had picked up so many fine points of the game they boasted of a 35-13 victory.

Friday night, they had polished those points almost to perfection and they showed it from the start.

After the opening kickoff, the blond-haired Hatfield with the crazy little legs squirmed 18 yards to a first down.

On the next play, he slipped around right end, cut back sharply to the left, squirmed through a trio of secondary defenders and loped on to the goal line 62 yards away.

The Poly Parrots tried to bounce back but after three punches at the line, they booted the ball downfield and Hatfield returned it 12 yards to his 27 yard line. Kimsey gained another four yards to set the stage for Hatfield again.

Almost exact duplication of his performance of a minute earlier, Hatfield galloped around end, cut back through the secondary and, with the help of a couple of key blocks, went untouched the 69 yards to the goal line.

Poly Strikes Back

Then Fort Worth struck.

On their first play from scrimmage, Taylor faded back from his 28-yard line, looped one down to Hoyler on the Midland 40 and the Poly Parrot halfback zipped on down to the goal line, the nearest Midlander five yards behind him.

The Bulldogs, a bit chagrined, nevertheless went right on with their lesson.

The drove back down from the kickoff with a 52-yard touchdown drive which featured a 10-yard pass from Kimsey to Hatfield and opened the way for Spencer to slash 11 yards right through the middle for a touchdown.

The Midland fans practically stared in awe as the quarter ended and their Bulldogs boasted a 21-6 lead.

They hadn't seen anything yet, though.

On the second play after the opening of the period, Kimsey, backed up almost to his own goal line, tossed a 25-yard pass to Mims, who carried on down to the Midland 40.

At that point, Spencer grabbed a pass from center, slipped neatly inside his left tackle and raced the 60 yards to another Midland touchdown.

Spencer was the fair-haired boy now.

The next time he got his hands on the ball—two minutes later—he bucked the line for only one yard. But he called for the ball again and this time, swept around left end and maneuvered his way to the goal line 72 yards away.

It was fantastic.

Poly tried again but had to punt after one six-yard run and an incomplete pass. Midland took over on their 39.

Kimsey Takes Over

Now it was Kimsey's turn.

Dodging a trio of Fort Worth lads rushing him, he calmly took his time and lofted one down to Keisling, who took it on the Poly 40 and went over on the play which netted 61 yards.

Again Poly bucked the line once, passed once and then had the ball knocked from Taylor's hands by Bill Mims, who recovered on the Fort Worth 21.

On the very next play, Mims dashed into the end zone and grabbed a pass from Hatfield for another touchdown.

And that's the way the half ended—Midland 48, Poly 6.

Poly finally struck again in the third quarter after recovering a Midland fumble on their own 40-yard line. Hoyler got away on a long run which placed the ball on the Midland five-yard line and three plays later, bucked it over from the two-yard line.

The Bulldogs growled and came back with two more touchdowns in quick succession, Noble running 53 yards for one and Rutledge 58 yards for the other.

Third-quarter score—Midland 61, Poly 12.

The visitors were left the final quarter to add their last tally and it came midway in the period with Hoyler climaxing a 44-yard Poly drive by going over from the one-yard line.

SIXTY-TWO YARDS TO PAY DIRT—Little Jesse Hatfield, Midland halfback, completes his sweep around right end and cuts inside Umpire Julian Pressley to head for the goal line 62 yards away. Ready to give him help are Bulldogs Terry Fuglaar (51) and Melton Jones (74), far right. It was the first of the Bulldogs' parade of touchdowns.

ANOTHER BULLDOG TOUCHDOWN—Tommy Myall (71) and Robert Purnell (43) of Fort Worth's Polytechnic High tag helplessly along as Midland's Dick Spencer romps across the goal line after an 11-yard dash. Nearby are a trio of Midlanders—Wendell King (74), Jesse Hatfield (10) and Robert Keisling (58) at far right.

Rookie Belts Three Homers For Record

BROOKLYN—(AP)—Rookie Third Baseman Ed Mathews belted three home runs Saturday as the Boston Braves spoiled Joe Black's World Series tuneup by thrashing the National League's pennant-winning Brooklyn Dodgers, 11-3. Mathews struck out in the first, homered in the third, sixth and eighth innings and grounded out in the ninth.

Mathew is the first rookie in the history of the league to sock three home runs in one game.

Only other players to hit three homers in one game this season are Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs and Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians.

Black was solved for five runs and as many hits in the first five innings.

He was jolted for four in the third on two-run homers by Jack Dittmer and Mathews. Ben Wade was tagged for Boston's remaining six tallies in four innings.

Virgil Jester went all the way for the Braves scattering eight hits including Duke Snider's twenty-first home run.

Chicago Sox Clinch Third

CHICAGO —(AP)— The Chicago White Sox Saturday clinched third place in the American League by defeating St. Louis, 8-4.

Minnine Minoso stole three bases to tie Jim Rivera, also of the White Sox, for the league lead at 21.

Joe Dobson went to the rescue of starter Marx Grissom in the eighth when the first three St. Louis batters singled. Jim Dyck clouted Dobson for a double to score two runs but Dobson got the next three hitters out.

Phils Snap Giant Four-Game Streak

NEW YORK —(AP)— The Philadelphia Phillies snapped New York's four-game winning streak Saturday as Paul Stuffel and Kent Peterson teamed up and pitched the Quakers to a five-hit, 7-3 triumph over the Giants.

Home runs by Del Ennis and Bill Nicholson featured the Phils' attack. Ennis whacked his with one on in the fifth and Nicholson banged his with the bases empty in the ninth.

Ralph Caballero drove in the remaining runs.

Rush Records 17th Win For Chicago

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Stan Musial had one hit and Frankie Baumholtz went hitless in their battle for the National League batting crown Saturday night as big Bob Rush turned in his 17th victory for the Chicago Cubs, beating the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-1.

Fire Eats Through Texarkana Stadium

TEXARKANA —(AP)— An early morning fire ate through a section of Texarkana, Texas, high school stadium Saturday just a few hours after a major football game.

An estimated 2,000 of the stadium's 6,000 seats were destroyed.

Native Dancer Wins $107,545 Futurity

NEW YORK —(AP)— Native Dancer took charge in the final eighth of a mile Saturday and won the $107,545 Futurity stakes at Belmont Park going away, equalling the world's record of 1:14 3-5 for the six and one half furlongs.

Top '52 Players Named By News

ST. LOUIS, —(AP)— Hank Sauer and Robin Roberts of the National League and Luke Easter and Bobby Shantz of the American Saturday were named by the Sporting News as the outstanding players and pitchers of the 1952 major league season.

The weekly sports newspaper, self-styled Bible of baseball, initiated its dual selection method in 1946 as "the fairest method of naming top stars."

Houston U. Trips Hogs

FAYETTEVILLE —(AP)— Houston University's sharply honed Cougars Saturday afternoon registered their first football victory over a Southwest Conference team—a rightly deserved 17-7 upset of the Arkansas Razorbacks.

The Cougars came to this Ozark mountain town ready both physically and mentally. They outcharged and outsmarted sluggish Arkansas all the way.

A shoulder injury put all-Southwest Conference Quarterback Lamar McHan on the sidelines in the first four minutes, and Arkansas never was able to gain consistently. The Razorbacks got their lone touchdown on a lightning 61-yard pass from Bob St. Pierre, the left handed sophomore who subbed for McHan, to Fullback Lewis Carpenter.

S. M. Meeks, a slippery 160-pound sophomore, led a crew of knifing Cougar backs who ripped the Arkansas line for consistent gains. He carried 18 times for 92 yards and one touchdown.

Meeks had plenty of help in the rushing department and quarterback Bobby Clatterbucks' passes were true in the clutch.

Yanks Brush A's, 3 To 0

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— A pair of veterans, Ray Scarborough and big Johnny Mize, combined talents Saturday to help the American League champion New York Yankees brush off the Philadelphia Athletics 3-0 in the next to last game of the season for both teams.

Scarborough limited the A's to five scattered hits, and Mize contributed a homer and single, good for two New York runs.

The Yankees took a 1-0 lead in the third inning as Mickey Mantle slammed a double to score Scarborough who had singled.

In the fourth, Mize clouted the first pitch of the inning over the right field wall to give New York a 2-0 margin.

Cleveland Romps Overs Tigs, 11-6

DETROIT —(AP)— With the championship pressure off, the Cleveland Indians romped to victory over the Detroit Tigers, 11 to 6, Saturday in the first of a two-game series which will draw the curtain on the league season for the two clubs.

A crowd of 7,875 saw the two teams roll up a total of 33 hits 19 for the Indians and 14 for the Tigers, off seven pitchers.

The Indians crowded 10 of their runs into the first two innings. The contest was marked by home runs off the bats of Joe Tipton, Joe Ginsberg and Walt Dropo.

Sens 3, Red Sox 2

BOSTON—(AP)—The Washington Senators defeated the Boston Red Sox 3 to 2 Saturday, after squelching a ninth inning rally that left the bases loaded.

The victory gave the Senators a one-game lead in a battle for fifth place. Bob Porterfield went the distance for his thirteenth win of the season.

The score:

		R	H	E
Washington	030 000 000	3	8	1
Boston	000 000 011	2	11	0

Betsy Rawls Shoots Sub-Par Golf To Lead Jameson Open

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Betsy Rawls of Austin, the leading money winner among the women golfers, shot a brilliant three under par 34-35-69 Saturday to take the lead in the Betty Jameson Open Golf Tournament with a 36-hole total of 141.

Miss Berg shot her second straight 71, 37-34, for a 142 aggregate, while Miss Suggs, the first round leader was adding a 36-37-73 to her opening round 69.

Tied for fourth position are Amateur Mary Lena Faulk from Carrollton, Ga., and Betty Dodd, San Antonio, with 145. Miss Faulk had a second round 36-38-74 Saturday while Miss Dodd scored 39-33-72.

The 33 Miss Dodd shot on the back nine was equalled by Beverly Hanson, Indio, Calif., who is tied with Mrs. George Zaharias of Tampa, Fla., for sixth place at 148.

Free-Wheeling Spart Backs Sink Michigan

ANN ARBOR, MICH.—(AP)—Michigan State's rampaging Spartans, stunned by under-rated Michigan, turned loose their eight free-wheeling backs and boomed from behind to a 27-13 victory before a sell-out crowd of 97, 239 fans Saturday.

But Michigan State, top ranked in the Associated Press pre-season poll, stepped to its 16th straight victory with the help of only a pass interception and a fumble that set up Spartan scores, and a penalty that crushed a Michigan drive.

UCLA Bruins Turn Back Texas Christian, 14 To 0

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The UCLA Bruins, displaying one burst of offense in the third quarter and an alert ball-snatching defense by Lineman Terry DeBay, handed Texas Christian University its second straight shutout in a row Saturday.

The score was 14-0 for the Pacific Coast Conference team in the rubber game of its series with the Horned Frogs dating back to 1939. TCU bowed 13-0 to Kansas last week.

Not since 1947 have the passing Texans from Fort Worth been blanked twice in a single season.

The game, played before 34,156 fans under cool and cloudy skies, showed the coast team with a better all-around running and passing attack against TCU's offense, which was effective only in the air.

Midway in the third period the Bruins broke up a scoreless battle. Safety man Pete Dailey ran a punt back 18 yards to the Frogs' 36. A pass and running plays carried UCLA to the 3. From the 3 Fullback Cappy Smith dove over the center of the tiring TCU line. Dailey booted the extra point, his first of two for the day.

Late in the third period came another UCLA feat. Ray McKown faded back to pitch from the 23-yard line, stumbled and threw while falling. Guard DeBay deflected the ball and caught it when it came down and ran to the two yard line. On the fourth play, little Ted Narleski, Cameron's alternate, shot through for the second touchdown.

Mighty Oklahoma Tied By Colorado

BOULDER, COLO.—(AP)—Mighty Oklahoma's five-year string of 26 victories in Big Seven football crumbled Saturday in a 21-21 tie with an inspired Colorado team led by Zack Jordan, a passing, kicking and running star bright as any who ever played here.

Oklahoma last was tied in the conference, 13-13, by Kansas in 1947.

Georgia Tech Beats Florida On Field Goal

ATLANTA—(AP)—Frank Rodgers—a hot-footed kid called "Pepper"—reenacted one of southern football's most famous plays Saturday to kick a late fourth quarter field goal and give Georgia Tech a tingling 17-14 victory over Florida.

The squeeze through to victory Tech had was far from what the nationally third-rated Georgians expected. Had Rodgers not duplicated his famous game winning field goal of the 1952 Orange Bowl which sat down Baylor by an identical 17-14 score, Tech would have been a tied team and one which didn't look at all like the Dixie king.

Tech Stays Put

Like all champions, however, Tech had the staying power, the will to come back and the delivery punch. Four times Florida's clawing, furious defensive line—which completely out-performed its more famed Tech counterpart—slammed Tech ball carriers so hard they fumbled away great potential scoring chances.

Each time Florida recovered. And twice Florida followed up that magnificent defensive work with touchdowns. The first time put Florida ahead 7-0. Tech turned to passing and evened the score.

The second time Florida went ahead 14-7 and again Tech went to passing. A stumbling, turning, falling catch by Jeff Knox in the end zone on the catch of a pass from Bill Brigman evened the score again.

Then, as the game was gone but for six minutes, little Pepper, an Atlanta kid who is no great success as a quarterback, banged away to give Tech another victory.

The last time Tech lost was in November, 1950. Since then 16 games have passed without a Tech beating.

Riverside Blanks Big Spring, 20-0

BIG SPRING—A deadly passing attack enabled Amon Carter Riverside of Fort Worth to overpower the Big Spring Steers, 20-0, here Friday night.

In the first half, Burdette Warner, Eagle quarterback, pitched his team to a couple of touchdowns. A Big Spring offensive thrust in the third quarter was stiffled by the Eagles.

Big Spring's best offensive effort came in the third quarter when the Steers rolled up four successive first downs before they were stalled on the Eagle 18.

Mighty Texas Goes By North Carolina

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. — (AP) — Mighty Texas booted hapless North Carolina around pretty much at will today, winning 28-7 in a game played in perfect weather before a crowd of 40,000.

Fullback Richard Ochoa led a devastating Texas attack that scored twice in the first half and 15 points in the final period to turn the game into a near rout.

The Tar Heels opened like a house afire but were quickly brought under control. Halfback Bob White took the opening kickoff and raced 54 yards to the Texas 34. A clipping penalty, however, set the Tar Heels back.

Texas, showing a dazzling mixture of deception and speed, began rolling midway in the first period. The Longhorns stormed from their 28 to North Carolina's eight where Jones smashed over left tackle for the score. A 41-yard pass play from Jones to Halfback Gib Dawson highlighted the drive. Hub Ingraham's placekick was blocked.

Texas was knocking on the goal again as the quarter ended. Raley scampered 39 yards returning a punt to the North Carolina 36. Two plays later after the start of the second quarter, Cameron took a pitchout from Jones and scored from the three. Dawson's placekick was good.

Mid-Stream Change Paid Off For Indian President Flynt

Marion Flynt changed horses in the middle of the stream and proved that it pays.

The Indian baseball president rode out the stormy waters stirred by the shift to reach the shore marked the Longhorn League championship.

It was a day late July that Flynt announced Jay Haney was coming over from Abilene to take the reins as manager of the Midland club, succeeding one-time big league Stan Zeke Bonura. Waves in the middle of the stream crested. Some of them grew angry.

But the storm calmed over the weeks which followed. And today Flynt relaxes from the peaceful shore overlooking settled waters.

Flynt saw the storm brewing. Financial status of the Midland club had reached the danger point. It takes approximately $75,000 a year to operate the Indians. That's a barrel of money when it comes in a 60-cent admission. The club realizes 60 cents from each ticket after deduction of taxes and the league's share

Time was short. There had to be greater assurance that the Indians would make the playoffs. Haney came through. What has happened since the switching of horses in midstream is a household story in Midland. Like nursey rhymes, it has been repeated again and again. Victory is a sweet morsel.

Behind the manager and players of a title-holding baseball team stands the club president, his directors and the general manager. Flynt knows the value of General Manager Horace Busby, a tireless worker, fine organizer and a top all-round asset.

Few club presidents, even those with a financial interest, devote the time that Flynt does to the Indians. It isn't too high to estimate that Flynt spent 80 per cent of his time in carrying out chores for the baseball organization. He paid his own expenses to league sessions; he footed the bill on journeys as far away as Columbus, Ohio, in the interest of the Indians. Flynt admits he neglected his oil and ranching interests.

The game was never over for

Marion Flynt

Flynt. Fans called his home long after the last out. He had to appease irate fans, accept their suggestions on personnel changes and absorb some abuse.

Flynt talked over personnel problems with young members of the club. He left the usual line of duties as Indian president to solve them.

Flynt played semi-pro baseball as a youth at Ballinger where his father served more than a decade as sheriff, and later as a game warden. He described himself as an average fan before a group of Midland enthusiasts purchased the franchise from Harold Webb.

"Civic pride and community interest seemed the paramount reason for accepting the presidency," Flynt said. "I wanted to help Midland produce a winner in baseball just as it has produced winners in other fields." He had served as president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Flynt's interest in the national pastime took deeper roots with his official capacity. Baseball has become a major interest with him. To say the least, it takes by far the major portion of his time.

Now Flynt talks of next year. There is no off season for him. He plays the game 12 months in the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Flynt and Manager and Mrs. Jay Haney will leave Sunday afternoon by plane for New York to see the World Series. They'll stop overnight in Dallas to visit with Haney's mother. The Midlanders are to arrive in New York City late Monday afternoon.

Lamesa Whips TJ

LAMESA—The Golden Tornadoes from Lamesa blew Thomas Jefferson of El Paso right off the playing field here Friday night in a nine-touchdown rampage that ended 60-7.

Jefferson's third quarter tally was the first scored by them against the Golden Tornadoes in three years. Left halfback Robert Samaniego went 64 yards for the score. J. Rodrigues made the conversion.

The game was a bitter struggle. Lamesa's Carl Todd was banished in the third quarter on a personal foul.

The Golden Tornadoes gathered in 356 yards on offense. Jefferson made only four first downs to 14 for Lamesa.

Dixie Series Opens In Memphis Sunday

MOBILE, ALA. —(AP)— Memphis power broke loose in the late innings Friday to give the Chicks a 6-3 win over the Mobile Bears and the Southern Association play-off championship.

The win sent them to the Dixie Series with Shrevepor, La., the Texas League winner. The series opens Sunday in Memphis.

Penn's Hard-Hitting Quakers Deadlock Notre Dame, 7-7

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Penn's bruising Quakers roundly outplayed a below-par Notre Dame team for the final three periods at Franklin Field Saturday but were forced to settle for a 7-7 tie when the Irish defenses refused to fold under heavy pressure.

The green clads from South Bend set off the scoring early in the contest and for a few moments threatened to make a runaway. But they subsided as quickly and for the remainder of the rugged duel a capacity crowd of almost 75,000 was treated to the rare spectacle of a Notre Dame eleven fighting desperately to fend off defeat at the hands of an Ivy League team.

Not until the very closing minutes did the Irish recover the fire and poise which enabled them to drill 89 yards down the field for their touchdown in the opening quarter. Then, with the minute hand running out on the big clock, they put on last-gasp passing attack which carried well into Quaker ground. But the brave effort came to naught when their fine halfback, Johnny Lattner, fumbled after snagging a pass on the Penn 25.

In between the big Penn team held almost complete sway. Not only did the Quakers swoop to the tying touchdown on the wings of a 65-yard pass play early in the second half, but they kept the ball in Notre Dame territory almost continuously and threatened to score time and again.

Denver City Wins, 53-7

DENVER CITY—The Denver City Mustangs handed Andrews their third defeat of the season here Friday night. Paced by Fullback Ed Lenamond's three tallies, the Mustangs blasted Andrews, 53-7.

Lenamond scored on runs of 23 and 10 yards plus a line plunge. He set the stage for a fourth touchdown on a 57 yard jaunt, which was the longest run of the contest.

Other Denver City scorers included Halfback Charles Ward, and Eli Casey, and Quarterback David Brooks. Ward plunged for one TD, and made five out of eight extra point tries. Casey tallied twice on passes gathered in from Brooks. Richard Souter made one on a line plunge, and Brooks racked up a TD on a keeper play.

Denver City guard Clarence Reed enjoyed the hospitality of the Andrews backfield, as he spent most of his time in the game in Andrews territory busily getting credit for 23 tackles.

The triumph gives Denver City a season record of two wins and one defeat, all against AA elevens. The Mustangs are an A team.

Moccasins Repulse ACC Invasion, 28-0

Ledyard passed for two touchdowns and tossed a 32-yarder that set up the third Moc tally. His scoring pitches were for 17 and 15 yards.

Fremo Ross relieved Leyard in the third and fired a 37-yard heave for the other touchdown. Abilene threatened only once—that after recovering a Chattanooga fumble on the Moc seven. But the therat died on the four-yard line.

Rankin Red Devils Smother Clint Gridders By 50 To 7

RANKIN—The injury - riddled Rankin Red Devils smothered the Clint Lions here Friday night in an unequal contest that ended 50-7. The game was a 6-B conference tilt.

The first Rankin TD was set up when the Red Devils recovered a Lion fumble on the Clint 10-yard line. Wallace Gary scored on the third play, and quarterback Jimmy Yocham ran it across for the extra point.

Yocham raced 55 yards on a quarterback sneak for the second Rankin TD. Rankin added another tally on a keeper play from the 18-yard line by Yocham. The point after was good.

The speedy Yocham kept at his work. Intercepting a Lion pass he went 37 yards for another Red Devil tally. The conversion failed.

A Clint kick was blocked and recovered in the end zone by Joe Loftin to add another Rankin marker. Yocham passed 40 yards to McCain for another tally, ending the half with the Red Devils leading 38-0.

Yocham drove over in the second half from the 5 on fourth down for another Red Devil score. It was started by another pass interception period. A drive from the Clint 35 moved to the four-yard line on a jump pass from Chandler to Tommy Hudson. Goodwin bulled over for the marker. The extra point failed, and Rankin led 50-0.

Clint annexed their lone touchdown on a pass from the three-yard line. Armando Ruedo passed to Leonardo Lopes for the score. Ruedo ran the extra point across.

Princeton Sends Win Row To 23

NEW YORK—(AP)—Princeton ran its football victory string to 23 straight games Saturday by defeating Columbia, 14-0, on two short touchdown passes by Robert Unger and William Tryon.

Frank McPhee, the big Princeton end playing both offense and defense, led his team in a smooth exhibition, nationally televised as the game of the week.

Princeton's last defeat was Oct. 22, 1949, when Cornell won, 14-12. The Tigers now have the longest winning streak among major teams.

Columbia, with Quarterback Mitchell Price doing all of the passing and most of the running, thrice threatened but each time Princeton held inside its own five-yard line.

Princeton scored at the very start after a 73-yard march when Unger passed seven yards to Richard Yaffa in the end zone. In the fourth period, when Columbia's undermanned team tired badly, the Tigers scored again, this time going 46 yards with Ralph Willis counting on Tryon's pass from five yards out.

Princeton, Eastern champions two years running, lacked the sparkle it had when All-America Dick Kazmaier was in the backfield, but it appeared to be a team of considerable promise. Kazmaier graduated last June.

Columbia put up a brave show built chiefly around Price, aided by little Bob Mercier.

In the second period, Columbia punched to Princeton's two and at the start of the second half went just inside the 50. At the very end of the game Columbia reached the Princeton five again but Princeton's big line was too much for the smaller Columbia team.

McPhee was outstanding in victory. The towering end rushed Price mercilessly and on offense caught several passes at critical moments. The longest run of the day was made by Mercier, who went 49 yards in Columbia's fourth quarter drive, to put the ball on Princeton's 31.

Fort Stockton Wins Another

FORT STOCKTON—The Panthers from Fort Stockton captured their third straight win here Friday night by chewing up the Sanderson Eagles by a margin of 37-12.

Sutton Allison capped a 76-yard drive in the initial quarter for the first Panther TD. He plunged over the one yard line. The extra point try failed.

In the second quarter George Gonsales climaxed a 56-yard march of Fort Stockton by going over right tackle for the tally. Jim Huckaby topped a 42-yard thrust in the same period by going over left guard from the two for another score. The point after was blocked. Huckaby added another TD from the 8 on a 39-yard drive. The point after was good.

Sanderson scored their first touchdown just before the half on a 23-yard pass from Juan Olivares to Ramon Zepeda. The point after was no go, and the Panthers led 25-6 at halftime.

In the third quarter, Parr added another TD for the Panthers on a 19-yard scamper, ending an 80 yard drive. The extra point attempt was thwarted. Olivares raced 26 yards for the second Sanderson TD in the same period.

Parr went across from the two-yard line for the final Fort Stockton score in the fourth quarter.

Coahoma's Bulldogs Hold Off Stanton, Take 14-0 Victory

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs endured a scoreless first half here Friday night, grabbed off two quick touchdowns in the third period, then held off the Stanton Buffaloes in the fourth quarter to win 14-0.

The Buffaloes threatened in the fourth stanza, marching to the Coahoma 35, only to be forced to punt. Later, they recovered a fumble on the Coahoma 15, but a pass interception by the Bulldogs on the 10 stopped them. The game ended there.

Coahoma intercepted a Buffalo pass in the third quarter on the Stanton 25-yard line. From there they went to the 8, and after a stubborn goal line stand by Stanton, pushed over from the 6-inch line on a third try. The extra point was good, and the Bulldogs went out in front 7-0.

For the second TD, in the same period, the Bulldogs started from mid-field and pushed to the 20. An 18-yard run carried to the two, and the second play from there went over. The point after was made.

Iraan Scalps Sonora Team By 28 To 7

SONORA — The Iraan Braves went on the warpath here Friday night to scalp the Sonora Broncs, 28-7, in a non-conference affair.

The victory was the third this season for the Braves, having dropped O'Donnell, 33-14; and Ozona, 35-12, in previous games.

A lad by the name of Donny Belcher figured in three of the Braves touchdowns, while Bill Madden's educated toe was good for all the conversion attempts.

Belcher shot a 25 yard pass to Lloyd Hale for the first tally in the initial quarter. Again in the same quarter, Belcher bucked the line 15 yards for paydirt.

In the second quarter, Belcher connected another heave for 10 yards to Hale for a touchdown. Righthalf Bobby Locker went over from the two yard line in the third for the other Iraan score.

Wright, a Sonora back, galloped 15 yards for the Broncs' tally in the last quarter.

Coach Max Jones' Braves will entertain Big Lake next Friday night in the opening District 5-A game of the season.

Crane Takes Ozona By 6 To 0 Margin

OZONA—The Golden Cranes pulled one but of the fire here Friday night, dropping the Ozona Lions by a 6-0 margin.

Crane, which suffered a crushing defeat at the hands of the Seminole Indians the week before, was sparked by Charles Lively, who piled up 95 yards on the ground and grabbed the winning tally.

Lively alternated with Darrel Vines in frequent invasions of the Ozona secondary. The pair kept the Lions on edge with numerous pass deceptions.

Howard Hunter and Bobby Jack Russell starred on defense for Crane throwing many Ozona plays for losses. Ted Fields also was outstanding on defense for Crane.

Unbeaten Ranks Thin In Schoolboy Football

By The Associated Press

The ranks of unbeaten-untied teams in the Texas schoolboy football realms began to thin out like dandelions in a hail storm Saturday.

Ten schools in Classes AAAA and AAA alone tumbled by the wayside Friday night as the full-running 1952 season brought the inevitable clashes among the behemoths.

The top game of the night saw surging AAAA Highland Park collide with defending AAAA Champion Lubbock. When the South Plains dust cleared, Lubbock had a 33-20 victory which knocked Highland Park off the unbeaten-untied list.

Down in Central Texas, meanwhile, AAA Temple—making a habit of trouncing AAAA teams—defeated previously unbeaten Waco, 27-19. And mighty Baytown did the same to Jefferson of San Antonio, 34-7.

Others Jostled

Others jostled from the unbeaten-untied ranks included Borger, Poly Fort Worth, Austin, Nacogdoches, Galena Park, New Braunfels and Brownsville.

Borger's 34-0 downfall came at the hands of a strong Wichita Falls team. Midland blasted Poly, 61-19; Tyler defeated Austin, 21-14; Bryan flattened Nacogdoches, 21-6; Lamar (Houston) ran over Galena Park, 26-14; San Marcos topped New Braunfels, 21-6, and Pasadena knocked off Brownsville, 21-18.

Meanwhile interesting things were going on in the Class AA and A fight.

Pecos showed itself all the more to be reckoned with in AA by trouncing favored Class A Wink, 35-7. But defending AA champion Arlington lost no time defeating an AAA team, Irving, 13-6.

San Angelo Beaten

In other top games defending AAA Champion Breckenridge handily smashed San Angelo, 27-0; powerful Ray (Corpus Christi) downed Houston's Reagan, 18-0; and Brownwood edged Austin of El Paso, 14-13.

Brownwood's win probably did little to relieve Breckenridge's concern over retaining the AAA crown. Brownwood may be the team to knock Breckenridge out of the race because they're in the same district.

High School Cage Teams Number 1,103

AUSTIN—(AP)—A record smashing total of 1,103 teams makes up the Texas Interscholastic League boys basketball program this year.

The largest number of schools to roll in history was reported Saturday by the league. Last year there were 1,098.

Changes noted under the tentative list are:

Midland advanced from AAA to AAAA; Denison, Sherman, Texarkana and Harlingen dropped to AAA. Sam Houston, Houston, was lost when the school was discontinued. There will be 48 in Class AAAA—a decrease of four.

AAA added Denison, Sherman, Texarkanan and Harlingen and also added Snyder and Seguin from Class AA. Lost Midland to AAA, Henderson, Stephenville and Graham to AA. There will be 53 teams—two more than last year.

AA added Henderson, Graham and Stephenville from AAA; added Merkel, Angleton from A; added White Settlement Fort Worth and South Oak Cliff Dallas with formation of new schools. Lost Snyder and Seguin to AAA. Lost Iowa Park, Ralls, Morton, Dublin, Eastland, Grand Saline, Mineola, Van, Wills Point and Madisonville to A. Lost Hot Wells when it became a grade school. There will be 159 teams—six less than last year.

High-Flying Eagles Crush Wink, 35-7

PECOS—The high-flying Pecos Eagles of District 8-AA made it three victories in a row here Friday night by crushing the flashy Wink Wildcats of District 5-A, 35-7. They had trounced Brownfield and McCamey in earlier encounters.

Before a record crowd of spectators, the Eagles drew first blood when the game was only one minute, 35 seconds old. The fast-stepping Pecos halfback, Johnny Cook, raced 41 yards to pay dirt. Fullback Thomas (Son) Langham, an all-state contender himself, converted.

The Wardbirds scored again in the first frame when Quarterback Orlando Gutierres, who completed three of seven passes for 38 yards, flipped one from the Wink 36 to Halfback Steve King, who went the distance. Langham again converted.

Score at half-time was 14-0. Neither team made a serious scoring threat in the second quarter.

Early in the third period, 190-pound Langham, showing more speed and quicker change of pace than ever, romped 25 yards to score. The twice all-district fullback again kicked the extra point.

Cook Slips Away

The Eagles shocked the highly-touted Wildcats in the third quarter as Johnny Cook slipped away for a 64-yard jaunt to score. Langham converted, making the score 28-0. Wink's lone tally came late in the third period when the Wildcats began a march from their own 40. Quarterback Ken Vinson flipped a 22-yard pass to End Jerry Kile. Vinson picked up 10 around end and the Eagles drew a 15-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness in the otherwise clean-fought game.

Vinson circled end from the Eagle 14 to score. Lineman Dale Dodd converted.

It was little Johnny Cook again who raced 28 yards for his third touchdown of the evening and his eighth score in three games this season. Langham again kicked the extra point for a perfect performance and a final score of 35-7. There were 32 seconds remaining when Cook tallied.

The statistics:

Pecos		Wink
13	First down	14
326	Yds. rushing	155
38	Yds passing	98
7	Passes att.	20
3	Passes comp.	9
2	Passes int.	0
9 for 55	Penalties	10 for 60

Ysleta Comes Back To Win In Plainview

PLAINVIEW—The Ysleta Indians rallied from a first half deficit to come back in the second stanza and scalp the Plainview Bulldogs here Friday night with a 25-7 win.

The spunky Indians, who go up against Midland next week, trailed in the first half by virtue of a 79-yard Plainview drive in the first quarter. Bulldog Fullback Koy Benefield led the attack and put over the score. Left end Lester Ramsey converted for Plainview, and the Bulldogs led 7-0.

Quarterback Henry Dutchover led the Ysleta rally in the second half, personally accounting for three of the four Indian touchdowns. The first TD came 30 seconds after the kickoff when the 155-pound Dutchover crossed the double stripe. The conversion was missed and Ysleta still was behind one point.

Bunsen Rams Over

But not for long. A second Indian TD followed when Fullback Rodney Bunsen powered over from the Plainview one-yard line for Ysleta. Spidel gained the point after on that one, and Ysleta was ahead for the first time in the game. A third Indian tally came on a pass from Paul Harlis, back, to Dutchover for 41 yards.

The conversion was missed on the third TD. The final Indian marker came in the fourth quarter on a 35-yard drive led by Dutchover. Again the point after was missed, and Ysleta won 25-7.

Ysleta outgained Plainview 148 yards to 71. They also led in first downs 15 to 10. The Indians recovered two Bulldog fumbles and lost one of their own.

Plainview's passing attack showed a marked improvement, but fumbles were a costly factor in their loss to Ysleta.

Barstow High Opens Home Grid Campaign With 31-13 Victory

BARSTOW—Barstow High School opened its home season schedule here Friday night as the Barstow backs shook loose for some long runs to bury the Blackwell Junior High eleven from Marfa 31-13.

Blackwell had a short-lived lead as Hernandez started the scoring with a 20-yard gallop for a TD. The extra point try failed.

Isabel Flores made it a new game for Barstow in the second quarter on a long ramble from his own 35 that went the distance for a tally. The missed extra point made it an even 6-6.

In the third period, Flores started the destruction of the Blackwell eleven with a spectacular pick-up of a fumble on his own two-yard line. He raced 98 yards to score. Another conversion attempt failed. Dudley Rogers added to the massacre in the same period with 12 more points on short thrusts. Both extra points failed.

Don Collins added the final Barstow score in the fourth quarter on a short drive. Rogers connected on an extra point to make it 31-6.

Blackwell scored again with only four minutes left in the contest. They made good on their conversion to make the final record 31-13 in favor of the Barstow eleven.

Dodgers Beat Also Rans To Win National Pennant

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Short of pitching all the way along the route, the Dodgers used the old John J. McGraw formula to win the National League pennant.

The Brooks beat the bejabbers out of the poor relations. They took 19 and 17 of 22 from the Pirates and Reds, respectively. Going into their final set with the Braves the score stood 17 and 2.

But the Superbas came through like the champions they now are the two times they were asked the question by the classier opposition. This is the principal reason for their matchless supporters' pre-World Series optimism.

The Cardinals were hotter than a sealed telephone booth when the Brooklyn club last visited Sportsman's Park for four games against corking pitching, Aug. 24-26. The Dodgers ruined the Red Birds' late and sustained bid by sweeping the set.

The Giants could have climbed to one game behind by mopping up a five-game series at the Polo Grounds, Sept. 6-8, and it looked like the old champions might do it as they captured the first two. The Dodgers made even the Giants like them by taking two of the last three. They had the old college try and fight, too.

Checked By Pitching

New York at least retained its title against Brooklyn, the final count being 14 and 8. Going into their concluding three-game series at Ebbets Field, the Phillies led the Dodgers, 10 and 9. The Cardinals broke even.

The Dodgers clinched a tie for the flag without having played .500 ball against the four clubs behind them, the figures with the Cubs being no better than 13 to 9 in their favor.

The Dodgers have not played better than .500 ball since July 23.

With only one left-hand batter in their order—Duke Snider—the Dodgers have been checked by superior right-hand pitching all the way along the line.

It is for this reason that not a few learned baseball men contended the Indians—with Garcia, Lemon, Wynn, and Gromeck—would be more formidable than the Yankees against Charley Dressen's men. Overpowering Mike Garcia would be a lock against them, they insisted. Bob Lemon and Early Wynn easily could prove too cute, and Steve Gromek's sidearming is what they like least.

Dodgers Greet Southpaws

Cleveland was much deeper in right-hand pitchers than the New York Americans. The Indians had more pitching period.

While not as thin as the Dodgers the Yankees were shy of class pitching, too. After Reynolds, Raschi and Lopat, Casey Stengel had to dip down for Sain and those kind.

Practically everybody thought Stengel was crazy, when for the final two outs of last Fall's World Series the manager brought in the left-handed Kusava to pitch to the Giants' foremost right hand batters, Irvin and Thomson.

That worked, but it might not against the Dodgers. If memory serves, the Superbas four times shaded Warren Spahn by one run. Curt Simmons had little luck against them. Howie Pollet turned in a couple of good games, but wasn't around at the finish.

The Dodgers so rarely saw and are so pleased to meet a left-hand pitcher that they might greet even Eddie Lopat a mite too enthusiastically.

Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, former ace southpaw hurler for the Yankees, claims that Sal Maglie is the best pitcher in the big leagues in the last 15 years.

Buck Leads Longhorn Bats

Charley Buck, Sweetwater outfielder, turned in the top batting average of the 1952 Longhorn League, final unofficial statistics showed Saturday.

Buck had an average of .382 in overtaking Big Joe Bauman or Artesia, who paced the Longhorn batters most of the regular play. Bauman finished with a .375, connecting for 50 home runs.

Manny Temes, Cuban second baseman, posted a .362 to become the leading Midland hitter. He was sixth in the league records, tying with Rudy Briner, Artesia catcher.

KEITH NICOLLS
. . . Best hurler in the Longhorn

The following statistics include ALL regular games of the 1952 season, and records of players (batters 50 times or more at bat, pitchers with at least one victory) who were active in the closing weeks of the campaign.

Lamar Elementary Defeats D Zavala

Displaying a sparkling attack as well as a superb defense, the Lamar Elementary Longhorn gored De-Zavala Elementary School, 30 to 0, Friday afternoon at Lamar Field.

Early in the second quarter, Left End Larry Stanley took the ball on a hand off and went 18 yards to make the score 18 to 0. Later in the same period, Right End Fred Hollman went 20 yards for a TD.

In the last quarter, the Longhorn fullback fumbled on the snap but an alert teammate recovered across the double stripes.

The Longhorns will see action again at 2:30 p.m. Friday, when they tangle with Terminal.

Pecos Golf Tourney Qualifying Begins

PECOS — Qualifying rounds were to continue Sunday in the City Championship Golf Tournament, it was announced by E. H. Garrett, professional at the Municipal Golf Course.

Although rains fell earlier in the week, Garrett said the course would be in top shape.

Thirty-five Pecos golfers already have turned in qualifying scores.

Pairings and first rounds of matched play will begin October 4.

Monahans Retains Winning Ways By Beating McCamey

It was the third straight win of the season for the Lobos with no defeats to mar their record.

McCamey had a brief lead in the first quarter when Jack Bryant pushed over the lone Badger TD.

But the Lobos came raging back in the same period on a long ramble good for 60 yards and a tally by fullback Douglas Creamer. The extra point try failed and the score was all tied up 6-6.

But it didn't stay that way long. In the second quarter, left halfback Donnie Conder of the Lobos tallied on a short plunge. Kenneth Reamy converted, and it was Monahans 13-7 at the half.

There was no action in the third quarter, but Arlon Nelms, the Monahans quarterback scored again in the fourth quarter for the Lobos. He made it on a keeper play through the line. The extra point try was missed. A 20-yard pass from Nelms to Yates was good in the same period for the last Lobo TD. Reamy kicked the extra point.

And that was the ball game as the Monahans Lobos walked off the field with a 26-7 victory under their belts.

South Elementary Blanks Terminal

South kicked off and recovered a Terminal fumble and scored three plays later. Henry Hardaway ran an end to pick up 25 yards and Don Boyce rammed 12 yards through the middle for the first six points.

Hardaway scored the second TD by running a quick-opener for 15 yards. A pass from Hardaway to Abbott netted 49 yards and the third TD.

Twenty-six players saw action for South in the second half. The game rocked on without any scoring until the last minute of the game when Boyce drove up the middle for three yards and the final touchdown.

Outstanding players also included Brumley, Steelman, and Medart.

Dallas Texans Meet Giants In Inaugural

DALLAS—(AP)—The Dallas Texans, this state's first major professional football team, open the National League season here Sunday, meeting the club that's favored to win the American Conference championship—the mighty New York Giants.

A look at the Giants' roster might indicate that the club was not aptly named—it has almost as many Texans as the Texans' roster. Among them are a couple of Southern Methodist immortals, the great Kyle Rote and that passin' man of Southwest Conference history, Freddie Benners.

A crowd of 25,000 to 35,000 is expected.

George Barney Poole of Mississippi and Art Weiner of North Carolina share the record of 52 pass receptions in one season. Poole caught his record total in 1947 Weiner two years later.

Bossenberry Proves Best Longhorn League Fielder

Earl Bossenberry led the Indians in fielding during the 1952 season with a .996 average which was the highest in the Longhorn League.

Statistics released Saturday by the league offices at Abilene showed Bossenberry played in only 89 games, joining the Tribe after completing regular college work in June.

• • • • •

Gahlen Dinkle, hustling centerfielder, registered a fielding average of .963 for second fielding honors among the Indian regulars. He was sixth in the list of outfielders for the league.

Bill Brown had a .928 average and Glenn Selbo .916.

• • • • •

Shortstop Scooter Hughes posted a season fielding average of .917; Julio de la Torre, .900; Manny Temes, .948; Woody Pennington, .941 as a second baseman and .867 at shortstop; Gordon Tanner, .984; Bill Brown (as catcher), .981; and Carl Barbour, .960; Israel Ten, 1.000; Keith Nicolls, .971; and Eddie Jacome, .959.

Crockett Wallops West Elementary In Kickball Game

Crockett walloped West Elementary School, 26 to 7, in a girl's kickball affair Friday afternoon, while West Elementary downed Crockett, 12 to 0, in a boy's football game.

In the football game, West Elementary had difficulty getting their defense to clicking in the first quarter, but hit their stride in the second quarter.

Douglas Cooper pushed across both the touchdowns for West Elementary, scoring in the second and third quarters.

It was the season opener for both teams.

Duke Forward Passes Beat SMU

DALLAS—(AP)—Perhaps the teams in other sections don't use the forward pass like the Southwest Conference but if Duke is a criterion they use it better. The Blue Devils threw only six here Friday night but two of them were for touchdowns and they beat Southern Methodist, 14-7.

The sum total of yards gained in the air by Duke was 34 while SMU, a foremost exponent of the forward pass, got 130 yards on seven completions in 17 attempts. But Duke could stop the Methodist throwing when the time came while Southern Methodist was pitifully weak on pass defense. Both of the Duke touchdown throws were to men in the end zone standing all alone.

Duke just cashed in on its scoring opportunity while Southern Methodist failed time and again.

Leader of the smashing ground game that set up the Duke touchdowns was a huge fellow named Jack Kistler. He crashed and roamed to 123 yards and on the winning drive of the Blue Devils he accounted for 48 of 80 yards. Duke scored its last touchdown with only five seconds remaining in the game, the surge coming after SMU had foozled away a chance to take the lead by being stopped on the Duke three-yard line. On fourth down, Sammy Stolenwerck tried for a field goal from the Duke 16 and it was wide.

Then Duke took over on its 20, saw there was less than four minutes to play, and roared virtually unhindered to the touchdown that broke the hearts of SMU and a crowd of 28,000 in the Cotton Bowl.

Southern Methodist got to the Duke eight in the first period but couldn't budge any more, and to the 28 in the third period but a penalty rubbed out a run by Jerry Norton to the Blue Devil seven. In the second period the Methodists pushed to the Duke 35 on a 12-yard pass from Mal Bowers to Norton only to have the play called back for SMU backfield in motion.

Duke rolled to the SMU 24 in the second period but lost the ball when Worth Lutz fumbled and Jack Gunlock recovered for the Methodists. Early in the fourth period the Blue Devils swept to the SMU 31 but this time the Mustangs dug in and showed a real flash of defensive ability.

The other two times Duke had a chance to score it took them—both touchdowns counting on passes from Lutz to Howard Pitt, a tall wingman. The first one, coming as time ran out in the half, was a nine-yard throw. The payoff was a four-yard pass.

Southern Methodist scored its touchdown with a 74-yard drive early in the fourth period. Norton led the surge with his passing and running but the score was set up by an 11-yard dash by Sophomore Duane Nutt that placed the ball on the Duke five. Norton smashed to the six-inch line in two tries then Sophomore Frank Eidom dived over tackle for the touchdown. Stollenwerck kicked the extra point.

Bill Keziah, giant Duke end, was the man of the moment for the Blue Devils. Not only did he intercept a Bowers pass in the second period to set up the first Duke touchdown but his catch of a Lutz throw was a vital point in the 31-yard drive the Blue Devils put on to get the score. He also played a grand defensive game all around and kicked both of the points after touchdown.

Red Raiders Falter, 34-7, Before Owls

HOUSTON—(AP)—Penalties, passing and pounding Kosse Johnson Saturday night gave Rice a lopsided 34-7 victory over Texas Tech.

The penalties seemingly came on every other play and slowed action to a crawl, but when the ball was moving it was Rice doing the rolling to two touchdowns in the first and second quarters and one in the third.

A vicious, burly Rice line doomed defense for the West Texans and Johnson batted it even further, loosening it for lightning darts by Billy Ed Daniels and Dickie Bob Haddox.

Drake Directs

Directing the carving was Dan Drake, passing when he wasn't calling Johnson in the middle or Daniels on the outside.

The only really sustained drive Tech put on came late in the fourth period, when mostly against third and fourth stringers, it moved 86 yards in 12 plays with Jerry Johnson going the final one and Jack Kirkpatrick adding the extra point.

But this Tech drive was refreshing to what remained of a crowd of 37,000. It came after five Rice tallies, four extra points by LeRoy Fenstemaker and two Owl touchdowns that were rubbed out by penalties, one a 72-yard run by Norton Nesrsta.

Distance Devoured

Rick Spinks' 32-yard run and the bullish short plunges of Jim Turner ate up the distance in the Red Raider march.

A total of 256 yards was called in penalties, 96 against Rice and 160 against Texas Tech. Half again as many penalties were declined.

Johnson, who packs only 176 pounds on his six foot frame, capped a brilliant performance with a 77-yard run on the first play of the third period.

Wholesale Index Continues Decline

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Sizable drops in prices of steers, lambs, corn, oats, eggs and some fresh fruits and vegetables during the seven days ending September 23 pulled government-measured wholesale prices down for the fifth straight week.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said Friday that despite increased prices for hogs and cows, the price decreases among the other items were enough to lower the overall price level by two-tenths of one per cent.

Cuero Farmer Dies In Truck Accident

VICTORIA —(AP)— A 44-year-old Cuero farmer, Carl Blank, was killed Friday when his pickup and semi-trailer transport truck collided near Yorktown on State Highway 72.

State Highway Patrolman R. F. Wallace said the semi-trailer, driven by Jack Foster, 24, Victoria, struck a culvert, blew four tires and collided with Blank's pick-up.

Texas Aggies Grind Out 14 To 7 Win

DALLAS —(AP)— Texas A&M ground out a grudging 14-7 victory Saturday night over rough, tough Oklahoma A&M, scoring the winning touchdown with less than four minutes to go.

The Texans cashed in on a pass interception to drive 55 weary, battering yards for their victory as a sparse but enthusiastic crowd of 18,000 roared in the Cotton Bowl.

The Cadets had virtually camped in Oklahoma Aggie territory the entire last half but couldn't puncture the Cowpoke defense until that break came as the game was nearing its end. Oklahoma A&M had driven up to their 47 and Don Babers tried a long pass to John Weigle. But Texas A&M Aggie Joe Boring batted the ball and Herb Scott plucked it out of the air to run from the 22 up to the Texas A&M 45.

Kachtik Rams Over

Then the Aggies waded to their touchdown with Don Kachtik, a battering ram of a fullback, making the last five yards in three bull-like plunges. He dived over from the two-foot line.

Both teams scored in the first period. The Texas Aggies took the opening kickoff and roared to their touchdown. Don Ellis ran the kick-off back 35 yards to the Oklahoma Aggie 46 and with Ellis, Ray Graves, Ray Hads and Connie Magourik, alternating at carrying the ball, slammed the 54 yards easily enough. Magourik scored the touchdown with a 11-yard blast through center. It came on a second try. Ellis had circled end for the score from the six but the Texas Aggies were penalized for offside. Then Magourik made his lunge. Darrow Hooper converted.

Aggies Bounce Back

Oklahoma A&M came right back to take the kickoff and roll 73 yards to its touchdown. A pass interference penalty helped the Oklahoma Aggie cause along. The passing of Babers and the running of Bill Bredde and Elmer Stout sent the Cowpokes on their surge. Stout scored the touchdown from the one-foot line. Bennie Davis converted.

From then on it was a great defensive game although the Texas Aggies threatened repeatedly. Until the last minutes, however, the Texas Aggies found the Oklahoma Aggie five-yard line tough to dent.

League Holds Fall Session

ODESSA—(AP)—The annual Fall meeting of the Longhorn League is scheduled here Sunday with disposition of the lagging Sweetwater franchise expected to be the chief order of business.

Arturo Gonzales, Sweetwater owner, is expected to make known his 1953 plans Sunday.

Gonzales reportedly wishes to sell the club to Sweetwater interests, but if that proves impossible, he might move to either Del Rio, Ballinger-Winters or Hobbs, N. M., and continue operation. He says he lost about $15,000 in Sweetwater this year.

Longhorn League President Hal Sayles stopped in Midland Saturday night en route to Odessa. Horace Busby, general manager of the Midland Indians, will represent the club at Sunday's meeting.

Garden City Beats Blackwell Hornets In Six-Man Game

GARDEN CITY — The Garden City Bearcats took the sting out of the Blackwell Hornets here Friday night in a six-man football game that gave the Barcats a 52-12 triumph.

Bob Frizzell tallied for Garden City on a 55-yard ramble in the first quarter. Jimmy McCorqudale made the conversion.

Wilburn made the second Bearcat TD on a lateral from Frizzell in the second period. The try for point failed. In the same period, Tommy Rich scored again for Garden City on a lateral from Bednar that was good for 25 yards and a tally. McCorqudale converted.

In the third quarter Harris ran a fumble from his own 1-yard line for another TD. McCorqudale again converted.

Burl Bartree racked up a marker for Blackwell in the same period on a pitchout from Ray Johnson. The conversion was no good.

Darrell White caught a long pass from Frizzell in the fourth quarter for another Bearcat tally. McCorqudale converted. Frizzell scored the last Garden City marker on a 65-yard gallop.

Blackwell made their final touchdown on a Johnson to Barnes lateral good for 65 yards. Again the extra point try failed.

Kermit Tags First Victory

WINTERS—Breaking into the win column in their third try, the Kermit Yellow Jackets of District 8-AA defeated the Winters Blizzards of District 5-AA, 19-6, here Friday night.

The Yellow Jackets' first touchdown came toward the close of the opening quarter. Scampering Don Hanlin returned a Winters' punt 24 yards to a spot 30 yards from the goal line. Bob Almond passed nine yards to Jack Barnett, an end, and one play later Kermit had a first down on the Winters 26. Max Brumlow plowed through the Winters left tackle for 9 1/2 yards. A few plays later Almond connected with Barnett for eight yards and the touchdown.

Kermit made it 13-0 in the third period with Bob Yost going over from the two.

Kiner, Sauer Tie For Homer Honors

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Ralph Kiner moved into a tie with Hank Sauer for the National League home run leadership Saturday as the Pittsburgh Pirates rallied from five runs behind to beat the Cincinnati Reds, 9-6.

Kiner's thirty - seventh homer came in the seventh when he, Joe Garagiola and Gus Bell hit successive circuit blows.

Southwest Texas Beats Texas A&I

KINGSVILLE —(AP)— Southwest Texas State swept to a 41-12 victory over Texas A&I Saturday night by scoring three times in the last quarter.

Quarterback Pence Dacus figured in three of the Southwest Texas scoring plays and was the spark-plug of the offense.

Wife To Fight For Husband, Convicted By Court Martial

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Chiarello said Saturday that she will fight for "complete clearance" of her 25-year-old Marine sergeant husband—reported sentenced to 10 years for leaving weapons behind after he was ordered to abandon his fighting position in Korea.

Mrs. Chiarello said she and her brother-in-law, Louis Chiarello, of Trenton, N. J., would continue to fight for her husband's exoneration. "I don't want clemency," she declared. "I want complete clearance."

Earlier, Louis, brother of Sgt. Ralph Chiarello, claimed the Marine had been sentenced to a dishonorable discharge as well as the prison term. He said Ralph is en route from Mare Island, Calif., to Norfolk, Va.

Louis said he was informed the Marines are "detaining" Ralph, but that he understands Ralph is under arrest to await review of his sentence by a Naval board in Washington.

Louis said he first heard of the court martial in a letter from Ralph. In the letter, Ralph explained he was sentenced on a charge of leaving behind two mortars and 300 rounds of ammunition after an order to abandon his position during an attack last April 19.

Ralph's letter said that if he had sent his men back after the equipment, "half or more would have been killed. I thought a life was worth more than a piece of gear." The equipment was recovered the next day when Marines regained the position, Ralph wrote.

He related that his commanding officer cited him for "excellent performance of duty under fire" during the court martial. He said his service record shows he had been wounded while on patrol and was commended for removing ammunition from the area of a burning bunker "without regard to his personal safety."

Chiarello was found guilty July 6 but was returned to action. He remained in the front lines until his battalion was withdrawn from the sector, Louis said.

Officials Of Prison Indicted For Cruelty

TALLAHASSEE, FLA.—(AP)—Four Florida prison road camp employes charged with floggings and other mistreatment of convicts have been indicted by a federal grand jury.

The grand jury's special report Friday called prison camp conditions deplorable and said punishment of prisoners "was not humane and was excessive in high degree."

In some instances, the report said, punishment resulted in severe physical injury, disfigurement and permanent disability."

Indicted were Capt. Leamon L. Larrish, commander of the Alachua County Camp near Gainesville; Capt. James S. Walker, commander of the Citrus County Camp near Floral City; Guards Albert R. Bellot of the Taylor County Camp at Perry, and O. Clyde Markham of the Levy County Camp near Bronson.

Methodists To Dedicate New Buildings At Home In Waco

WACO—(AP)—Seven new buildings will be dedicated and ground will be broken for two more at what is described as "the biggest day in the history of the Methodist Home" Thursday on the home campus here, Supt. Hubert Johnson said Saturday.

Preliminary to the ceremony, the Texas Methodist Planning Commission will meet Wednesday. A hundred leaders of the church from the five annual conferences will play the Methodist calendar for the coming year.

Ground breaking for two buildings will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. followed by lunch, and at 2 p.m. the seven new residences will be dedicated on the lawn of the home chapel with Bishop Paul Martin, Little Rock, guest speaker. Open house in the new homes will follow.

The two buildings to be begun are an administration building given by J. S. Bridwell and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Perkins, Wichita Falls, and a $400,000 student center made possible by the home's "thousand dollar club" and bequests from the wills of the late Mrs. Rosa B. Lampkin, Hunteville, and Mrs. Ida Stephenson, San Antonio.

Donors of residences include Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Deshong and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Deshong, Paris; Mrs. Phil Scharbauer, Midland, and Mrs. E. R. Thomas, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Youngblood, Waco.

Truman Sends Envoy To Romania Embassy

President Truman named veteran foreign service officer Harold Shantz 56, to be minister to Bucharest, a post which had been left vacant since the reassignment of Rudolf E. Schoenfeld to Guatemala 18 months ago.

Shantz has had several tours of duty as a diplomat in Eastern European capitals, including Moscow. He was described at the State Department as a competent man handpicked for the tough job of being chief American representative and observer of the trend of events in an Iron Curtain country officially hostile to Americans.

This Plush Buggy Has More Than Just A Fringe On Top

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— A lavishly equipped $30,000 hot rod—it has a bathroom, barbecue pit and washing machine—pulled into town Saturday to complete a 6,000-mile trip across the country and back which its passengers claim was made nonstop.

The owner Louis Mattar, 41, San Diego garage owner, and two companions, Ernie Bashara of nearby Anaheim and Joe Mitchell of San Diego, left from National City, Calif., a week ago.

"The wheels never stopped turning the whole trip," Mattar told newsmen. He said the car had a motorcycle escort through many towns. A 250-gallon gas tank in a trailer provided fuel for the trip. A water tank, also in the trailer, provided water for the engine, washing machine and shower.

Mattar claims the car, a 1947 Cadillac, is the most lavishly equipped anyhere. It has hot and cold running water, a 110-volt generator for lighting and shaving, a refrigerator, radio telephone, bar, table, shower, drinking fountain, public address system and an air pump for inflating tires while underway. It is serviced while moving by a hydaulically adjusted catwalk.

Russia Turns Down Parley To Discuss Treaty For Austria

LONDON —(AP)— Russia has rejected the latest Western bid for a Big Four meeting to draw up a treaty to restore independence to occupied Austria, Moscow radio announced early Sunday.

The U. S., Britain and France submitted to Russia September 5 proposals for an Austrian inedependence treaty which they said met previous Soviet objections to the long-delayed pact.

The three Western powers asked for four-power talks in London beginning Monday to draft the treaty.

To meet Russian objections, the Western Allies said they would agree reluctantly to limit Austria's future armed forces. They said they would be willing to demand that an independent Austria guarantee free elections, basic freedoms and anti-Nazi measures.

Hurwitz, Houston Civic Leader, Dies

Hurwitz was president of the Westheimer Transfer and Storage Company, Inc., the Westheimer-Hudson Furniture Company, Inc., and chairman of the board of the Westheimer Rigging and Heavy Hauling Company.

OPERA STAR TO APPEAR AT HARDIN-SIMMONS

The American soprano, hailed as modern Cinderella of music, will present a six-group program. At the age of 24, she became the first American in 30 years to be contracted for the Rome Opera House.

Kermit Abolishes Administrative Post

KERMIT — Kermit's four-year old city ordinance providing for a city business administrator was abolished last week at the regular meeting of the City Council. Three of the five councilmen, W. L. Etheredge, W. L. Rasure and L. L. Deaton, voted to throw out the ordinance immediately. Harvey Mitchell and C. M. Chastain did not vote.

Fred Pearson, who has held the position of city administrator since the position was created in 1948, was voted a two-weeks paid vacation, along with a letter of recommendation and words of praise for his work during the years he has been city administrator.

The Council then voted that business administrative duties be given City Secretary Jim Tuggle along with his other work as city secretary. Direct supervision of various departments was divided among the councilmen as follows: Mitchell, parks, playgrounds and cemetery; Etheredge, police department; Deaton, water and sewer department; Rasure, health and sanitation department; Chastain, streets and alleys; and Mayor Williams, administration and City Hall.

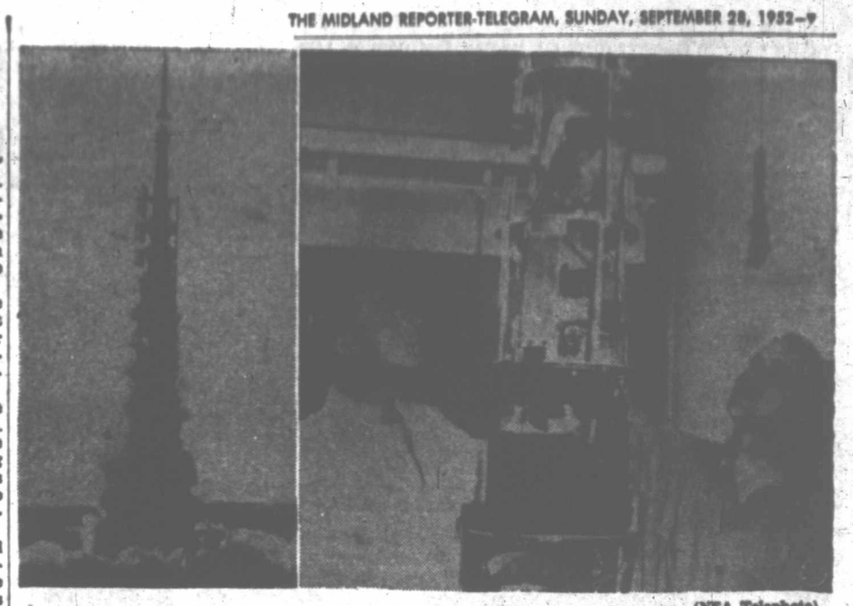

Shivers To Honor Handicapped Texan With Special Award

AUSTIN —(AP)— A triple amputee, Ernest S. Tupin, Comanche, will be named "the handicapped person of the year in Texas" Sunday.

Governor Shivers will present him with the title and a distinguished service award at a meeting of the Texas Committee for the Employment of the Physically Handicapped. Tupin, 49, is a watch repairman. He has trained 18 handicapped civilians and 41 veterans of World War II. Many of them now have their own watch repair shops.

Despite his handicap, Tupin drives his own automobile, walks with the aid of a cane and two artificial legs and operates the watch repair shop in connection with his jewelry store in Comanche.

Ag Platform Of Demo, GOP Parties Compared By WTCC

ABILENE—Comparison of statements in the national platforms of the two major political parties pertaining to spending for agriculture have been compared by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce public information department.

Without comment or interpretation, the statements in the platforms on this subject are, briefly, as follows:

Democratic platform:

Promises to: (1) continue a mandatory price support program "at not less than 90 per cent of parity"; (2) "practical methods of extending price supports to other storables and to producers of perishable commodities"; (3) "continue to assist farmers in providing abundant and stable supplies of agricultural commodities for the consumers at reasonable prices" and to "assure farmers the opportunity to earn a fair return."

Crop Insurance

The party pledges to continue agricultural adjustment and crop insurance programs and to extend soil conservation, flood control and agricultural research program. It declares it will provide adequate storage facilities for farm products.

Republican platform:

Promises: (1) a farm program "aimed at full parity prices for all farm products in the market place"; (2) a program of commodity loans on all non-perishable products without restricting the farmer's ability to produce; (3) expanded soil conservation and flood control programs "under local control"; (4) expanded agricultural research and education; (5) extension of rural electrification and communications (telephones).

The platform also promises to "make more efficient the operation of the Department of Agriculture."

Bradley Believes Chance For Peace In Europe Grows

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley thinks the chance of Russia making war by 1954 is lessened but that the possibility "is so great we can't afford to slow down" the defense buildup, as Britain is doing.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said so in talking with reporters Saturday about his recent inspection trip to Europe. He presumably gave a similar although more detailed account to President Truman.

In answer to newsmen's questions, he also expressed these other thoughts:

1. Although there is no idea of telling the secrets of atomic bomb manufacture, won't the top military leaders of the other NATO countries need to have some idea how many atomic weapons they can count on as part of the Western European defense plan?

2. With the military organization now a going concern of commands and forces in being and emphasis turning more toward overall administration of the international structure, where do the member nations look henceforth for leadership? To the secretary general of NATO's permanent council, a post now held by Lord Ismay of England? Or should the military commander, Gen. Matthew Ridgway, be continued for a time as the central figure who makes decisions and does negotiating?

3. There is no split among military leaders over strategy for the defense of Western Europe against a Russian attack. "The people over there are studying two or three or maybe more methods" for stopping a Russian strike into the free areas of Europe.

When reporters asked the general if he thought the possibility of war with Russia was less than a year ago, he thought for a moment and then replied slowly:

"Yes, I think so."

FATE SMILES ON BATAVIAN

After all, his third child, a son, was born and it was his fourth wedding anniversary. Besides, it was his wife's twenty-second birthday.

So he went to a harness race track and bet $10 on a long shot combination in the daily double—Hildreth Hanover in the first and Merry Time in the second.

Both won, paying $60.90 for $2. He collected $304.50.

Poage To Support Stevenson Despite Tidelands Opinion

WACO —(AP)— Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage (D-Texas) said Saturday he would support the Democratic presidential nominee, Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

Poage has been on a visit to the Korean battlefront. He issued a statement from his Waco home saying he had been asked about his position since Stevenson has said he favors federal ownership of submerged lands.

Poage said in his statement he believes that Texas owns her Tidelands by virtue of her annexation agreement with the U. S. but she needs friends in Congress. He said he believed he could be most useful to Texas by working with the Democratic Party.

His statement in part:

"I believe in the principles of the Democratic Party. I have accepted many honors at the hands of my party. In turn I have always supported its nominees from President to constable. I expect to do so this year.

"I do not know anyone with whom I agree on everything. Particularly, I definitely disagree with Mr. Stevenson on his position with regard to the ownership of the submerged lands. Texas owns her Tidelands by virtue of a solemn agreement between two sovereign countries. I do not believe that the U. S. can afford to repudiate its international agreement."

Stevenson—

officials who got gifts were not reported in the Stevenson statement.

Stevenson said $18,744.96 was left over out of his campaign fund after he was elected governor. This balance, he said was turned over to him by the Stevenson-for-Governor Committee "for such purposes connected with the office of the governor as Mr. Stevenson shall determine."

In promising income tax disclosures from himself and Sparkman, Stevenson said:

Largest of the contributions listed in the 1948 campaign fund was $7,100 from Marshall Field, Jr., a top executive of the Chicago Sun-Times. They ranged down to $1.

Stevenson also released a smaller list of $2,900 in contributions received "from certain Chicago businessmen" after his election as governor.

Largest of these donations was $2,000 from Kenneth F. Burgess, who was not otherwise identified.

CIO Pays, Too

Mrs. Frank Knox, Coral Gables, Fla., $20.

E. R. Stettinius, Jr., New York, $100.

The CIO United Auto Workers and the CIO United Steel Workers were credited with $2,500 each.

General—

some of the same sort of appeal. He got the crowds, as Eisenhower is doing today. And even if he didn't win, Willkie got more votes than any other Republican has been able to rack up.

Big Crowds Gather

The Eisenhower crowds—and there have been some big ones—must mean something, but nobody knows just what.

One version is that Eisenhower is a national hero everyone wants to see. The general's backers admit that they aren't sure whether the crowds come merely out of curiosity. Of course, they would rather believe the turnouts represent abiding interest in what Eisenhower calls his "crusade."

Whatever their purpose, the citizens who stand to see him ride by or sit to hear him speak appear to be more interested in the man than what he is saying. They are figuratively, if not literally, almost open-mouthed as they look.

When ordinary Americans will stand, held back by police, for two hours in a hotel lobby as they were in Baltimore, merely to get a glimpse of a man, then he must have something.

Midlanders Plan To Attend Music Meet In Monahans

Four Midland school officials will go to Monahans Sunday for a 2 p.m. Region 8 music meeting.

Supt. Frank Monroe will preside as temporary chairman. Others from Midland to attend the session in the Monahans school include High School Principal Don Mitchell; Band Director Ralph Mills and R. C. Michener, music supervisor in the public schools here.

West Texans Leave Rodeo Traditions For UN Festival

Maybe that seems out of character. The natural question is—how come Texans, especially in a little place like this, want to give up their rodeo to act neighborly toward foreign countries?

Sudan is a town of 1,500 northwest of Lubbock in the South Plains. Nobody has anything against cowboys, but they're old stuff around here. People see them every day. They've seen a lot of rodeos.

Besides, Sudan calls itself "the friendly city," and there's nothing very friendly about a Braham bull stomping on a cowboy who's just became a fall guy.

So merchants and other citizens started thinking about a different theme for this year's Fall festival. The best idea that came up—the idea that's paying off today—was to honor the UN and so some serious thinking about peace.

Instead of a parade of flashy cowboys and drug store deputies, there's a pageant with Sudan people playing the parts of citizens of all the UN's member nations.

Instead of raucous yells splitting the prairie air, there's a concert by the 42-voice international choir from Wayland College at Plainview. The choir members are all foreign students. They sing in five foreign languages.

You can't see a trick rider balancing on her pretty head while her palomino lopes across the arena. But Saturday night Miss Texas of 1952, Connie Hopping of Littlefield, crowned another pretty head, that of the Fall festival queen.

The Sudan Fall festival committee will award a $100 prize for the best 150 word formula for world peace.

Postman Convicted Of Destroying Mail

DALLAS—(AP)—F. Benton Talbott, whom U. S. Attorney Frank B. Potter says has a 22-year-old son in Korea, has been placed on probation after conviction on charges he illegally destroyed some third class mail.

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson withheld sentence on the Bridgeport, Wise County, postman Friday after Talbott pleaded guilty.

Potter said the defendant had cooperated with authorities on the case and that the mail disposed of was advertising matter that had no value to Talbott.

Philosopher Santayana, 88, Famed Writer, Dies In Rome

ROME—(AP)—George Santayana, 88, world renowned philosopher and writer of the best-selling novel "The Last Puritan," died Friday night in a Catholic convent in which he had lived in solitude for 25 years.

Ranked as one of the 20th Century's greatest thinkers, Santayana, a Spaniard by birth, was known and loved by thousands of Americans, many of whom were his students when he was a professor of philosophy at Harvard University from 1889 to 1911.

His philosopher's mind stayed sharp and alert to the end, although age had enfeebled and shriveled him. His final book, "Dominations and Powers," a philosophical summation, was completed and published only last year.

Surrounded by the books he loved, Santayana died in his tiny room at the clinic of the Little Company of Mary, a British order of nuns known as the "blue sisters" because of the pale blue habits they wear.

The famed philosopher was born in Madrid, Dec. 16, 1863. Although a Spanish subject to the end, he was considered by many to be an American since he lived in the United States from the time he was nine until 1911.

Santayana was probably the only philosopher to write a best-selling novel. He did that in 1935 when he turned out "The Last Puritan." It was perhaps this book, about life in New England, rather than his many poems and philosophical works, that brought his name to the mass of American readers.

Wounded GI Tells How Dying Men Prayed In Bunker After Reds Captured Old Baldy

TOKYO—(AP)—"The human body can stand just so much punishment," the lieutenant said.

"I think the four of us reached our limit."

He paused a moment, grimacing from the shattering pain of 10 serious wounds, and then said softly:

"At the last, we had run out of hope and were living on prayer alone."

From his bed in an Army hospital, Lt. Edgar A. Peterson, Geneva on-the-Lake, Ohio, told for the first time how he and three other wounded Americans survived 84 hours of agony and thirst in a bunker when Chinese forces captured Old Baldy Hill, on the Korean Western Front, 11 days ago. U. S. Second Division troops recaptured it four days later.

In Acute Pain

Peterson told his story over a period of 48 hours, broken by periods of acute suffering and dangerous shortness of breath. An Army doctor said, however, that the officer would recover, despite multiple wounds from rifle, sub-machine gun, mortar and hand grenade fire.

"Old Baldy isn't much, but it has been through the war," Peterson began. During the day of September 17, the Chinese threw mortar and artillery at us. Everything from soup to nuts. About 800 rounds. At 7 p.m., on the nose, a big enemy barrage broke loose.

"Our guns opened up, but it was too late to stop the attack.

"My company commander yelled: 'Here they come—they're all over the hill.'

"Everywhere you looked, the Chinks were swarming. One ran up behind me and grabbed my carbine. I swung around and pulled the trigger. He caught it in the chest and dropped dead.

"I was framed in the doorway (of the bunker). One of my own men, inside the bunker, shot me through the left shoulder with a rifle, thinking I was a Chink.

"There were wounded and unwounded men inside the bunker. The fragments got a lot of us, including me. When a Chink stepped in the doorway with a burp gun and sprayed the whole bunker. I caught several bursts in the chest and hips and right leg. One shot broke my upper right forearm.

Two of the wounded died that night. That made three dead men in the bunker. Five of us were alive—a master sergeant, a corporal, a private, a medic and me.

"All of us were pretty bad off. Except for the medic, a negro boy, we couldn't move around.

Crazy For Water

"We went crazy for water. We never found anything more to drink except the juice off corned beef hash, which made us very sick.

"That night we flashed an SOS signal to our lines. Later, I learned the signal was caught. All that night we could hear Chinks moving and digging around outside the bunker. We kept quiet.

"Next day I could hear the private praying out loud most of the day. Artillery kept bashing away. I did not see how the bunker could take much more. We dressed our own wounds, with some help from the medic. We ran out of dressing. I stuffed a shirt into my chest wounds, which were bothering me most.

"That night and the next day, Saturday, (Sept. 20) were awful. We were burning with fever. We were sort of delirious and plotted that we might crawl down the slopes to our lines.

"Of course this was impossible, since none of us except the medic could move.

Head Blown Off

"Early Sunday morning an artillery shell landed the doorway. It blew the medic's head off. That was a hell of a thing to happen.

"He had been mighty good to us.

"About an hour later an American voice outside the bunker shouted: 'Anybody in there?' We were all to weak to make much noise but we called 'Help! GI! GI!'

"Then the American voice replied: 'We can't help you. You're probably booby-trapped.' By this he meant the Chinese practice of puttin mines under the bodies of Americans seriously wounded or dead. When the bodies are moved, the mines explode.

"We thought we had been abandond. But four hours later, just after daylight, there were more American voices outside the bunker. The private began calling and begging: 'Water! Water! Water!' Then the soldiers came in and rescued us. When they walked in, all of us began crying. It was the answer to our prayers."

Bartha, Former County Dem Chairman, To Vote For Ike

By LORRAINE HOSKINS

"It is with regret," said Louis A. Bartha of Midland Saturday, "that for the first time during the life of my voting age, I feel that I cannot vote for the Democratic nominees for President and vice president of these United States."

Bartha, who served as chairman of the Midland County Democratic Executive Committee from July, 1948, until January, 1952, when he resigned, further stated, "I cannot vote for the Democratic candidates because I believe in government 'for the people and by the people.' And, in view of the snowballing trend of concentration of power taken over by the present Administration in Washington, I feel that I must vote for Dwight Eisenhower and Richard Nixon, who as President and vice president of the United States, would, I believe, respect the rights of the states and the rights of the individual."

When questioned as to what influenced his firm choice of Eisenhower, Bartha again emphasized the importance of halting the encroachment of federal government on rights of the states.

In this connection Bartha pointed out with respect to the Texas Tidelands controversy that "every Texan must remember that the State of Texas became a part of these United States under a treaty. In this treaty there were certain provisions among which the Tidelands was outlined. I have alway felt that a treaty was the highest form of law —and the present Administration in Washington advocates violating that Texas treaty"

Respect For General

In reflecting upon the qualifications of General Eisenhower to serve the people of the United States as President, Bartha called to attention that Eisenhower's vast experience and background as a great military leader would command the respect of the entire world.

He further pointed out that it seems that the present Administration which for the last 10 years has continued to evoke upon the American people a series of "emergency" conditions, does not know how to cope adequately with the Russian situation.

Bartha suggested that a militant nation such as Russia may regard with respect a strong leader of our country with as impressive and sound a military ability as General Eisenhower.

However, he indicated firm belief that in spite of his military background, Eisenhower is a man who will respect civilian rights.

Casting a glance across his desk to a picture of his wife, Ruth, and young son, Gregory, Bartha remarked with pride, "My wife, Ruth, is an Oklahoma and Texas girl who has always voted Democratic . . . but she's going to vote Eisenhower-Nixon this time!" Bartha emphatically added, however, that both he and Mrs. Bartha were definitely "Texas Democrats"—not "Truman Democrats."

HE'LL RELAX IN DUE TIME

Dallas—(AP)—Marvin Mitchell listened quietly Friday while a physician advised him to avoid all excitement and take a long rest in bed.

Mitchell, 32, of Pine Bluff, Ark., had just collapsed in Methodist Hospital's lobby of a heart seizure.

But he refused the doctor's advice, saying he had to get back to his job.

Parsons Murder Trial Due To Begin In Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS —(AP)— A murder trial opens here Monday for a pretty young Oklahoma heiress who told officers she shot her husband of one month after an argument over help from her parents.

The defendant is Mrs. Mary Jean Parsons, 21, slender, blue-eyed blonde, socially prominent in Tulsa, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Fleeger, live. Fleeger is a manufacturer of oil field equipment.

Lt. Richard O. Parsons, 24, Pleasantville, N. Y., was shot to death as he lay in bed in the couple's apartment in El Paso February 16.

Attorneys for Mrs. Parsons asked for a sanity trial and it was held in El Paso the last of May.

Defense Attorney O. B. Fisher, Paris, Texas, said Mrs. Parsons was insane when she put the .22 target pistol inches from her husband's head and pulled the trigger twice.

But on May 27, a jury declared she was sane then and sane at the time of the sanity trial and must stand trial for murder.

Soon after the shooting, the Fleegers had taken their daughter to Dallas to Timberlawn, a private sanitarium for mental patients. There she was kept in quiet seclusion.

Timberlawn attendants refused to say Saturday whether she still was there, but Fleeger said from Tulsa that his daughter was at Timberlawn.

The case was transferred to Wichita Falls by order of the district judge in El Paso the day after the sanity hearing ended.

Associated Press Executive Will Address Midland Lions

Frank King of Dallas, general executive of The Associated Press in the Southwest, will address the Midland Lions Club at its regular meeting at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Cowden Junior High School Cafeteria.

His appearance here will be in connection with the observance of National Newspaper Week, which opens Wednesday, W. Earl Chapman, program chairman, announced. He said the Midland Lions Club is joining with other civic, service and fraternal organizations throughout the nation in presenting special programs honoring the press during Newspaper Week.

King, one of the nation's best known newspapermen, has been with The Associated Press more than 30 years. He was chief of the AP's London Bureau 11 years before returning to the States to accept the Dallas assignment several years ago. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri's School of Journalism.

Early last year King spent several months in Japan, Korea and Formosa as a special representative of the AP's general offices in New York City. While in the East he visited the Korean battlefields and obtained interviews with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and other military and diplomatic leaders.

L. V. Bassham, Lions Club president, urged a large attendance of club members and guests at the Wednesday evening meeting.

Sul Ross Alumni Set Meeting Date

Next meeting of the Sul Ross Permian Basin Ex-Student Club will be held November 17 in the American Legion Hall at Midland.

At a September 22 session in Odessa, new officers were named as follows: Frankie Cochran, Odessa, president; Pat Connor, Midland, vice president; Willie Cerboskas, Midland, executive secretary; Roland Davis, Midland, treasurer; Jo Nell Pope, McCamey, reporter; and Miss Norma Smith, McCamey, correspondence secretary.

Dr. Bryan Wildenthal, president of Sul Ross, was the principal speaker.

Plans were made for the homecoming parade and other activities October 4.

True Or False, Post Office Returns Items Patrons Lose

And most of the finders operate on the theory of "finder's keepers," says Postmaster N. O. Oates.

However, the Post Office was able to return the falsies lost by the unfortunate Midland woman. The sack containing the items were accompanied by a sales check from a local department store. A clerk was contacted at the store and she recalled making the sale, and an embarrassed woman claimed her property.

"Men leave very few items and these are mostly fountain pins," he said.

The post office keeps items turned in by finders for a period of 30 days. If the item is unclaimed during that time, it is given to the finder.

While more fountain pins are lost than any other item, few are turned in by the finders, Oates said. "People seem to think nothing of taking a fountain pin, while they will report finding much more valuable items."

In past years one of the most frequently lost items was a glove—usually, the right, which had been removed to facilitate addressing a letter. But a glove has not been reported lost at the post office in more than a year, the postmaster said.

"I don't know if women have stopped wearing gloves, or if they have just learned how to address letters without removing them," he said.

If an item is found and turned in to the post office, and not claimed after the first day, a notice is placed on the bulletin board. This frequently results in the owner seeing the notice and recovering their property, Oates said.

"We hate to see the sad and disappointed look on a person's face when they lose a valuable item at the post office and learn that it wasn't turned in," he said.

You do not have to have an appointment with us, to find out where our listings are. Just phone. The best buys, right now, are GI equities, for you get a 4 per cent loan and do not have to be a GI. You see what you are buying and know exactly what the cost is, and how much the payments are. Homes cost more, now, to build than one or two years ago. You get copper plumbing, extras, built up yards and most of them are on the pavement. Also close to schools.

KEY, WILSON & MAXSON'S REAL ESTATE Bulletin Board

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

I'VE STUDIED GREEK and they DON'T have a word for this one. Let me, then, put it into a paragraph. On the east are the two lovely bedrooms, and on the west, the attached garage. In the center is the expandable living and dining room arrangement, and to the rear is the huge tile bath and the kitchen. The kitchen is arranged with YOUNGSTOWN metal cabinets, Vent-A-Hood, washer connection, and bar. Central heating, built-in bookshelves and nick-nack affair, and closets that will make you nod in assent. Beautiful lawns and tropical looking, magnificent rear yard. The Greeks failed me, so I'll speak in down-right English: It's priced at $10,500 (in American money). Excellent financing.

WE BUST THE SEAMS of your disillusionment if house-hunting has saddened you. To lighten your heart and make you fall in love with him (or her) all over again, we offer: This new and luxurious 2-bedroom and paneled den (or three bedroom) home on West Louisiana. Two tile baths, spacious living room and dining off-set, natural-finished pine kitchen cabinets with rustic hardware. Nicely finished attached garage with utility space and storage. Large rear patio with modernistic trellis. Central heating, of course, and loads of closets. And we smashed the price to $17,950.

LOVELY TO LOOK AT, delightful to own . . . and heaven, too. Composed of 2 airy bedrooms and magnificently large den (12x26) paneled in California Redwood. Tile bath and tile wainscoating in the kitchen. It's further orchestrated with a 17x21 living room. Some other notes are the washer connection, furnace heating, and air-conditioner. Something as an encore: newly constructed tile storage house (12x16). All of these harmoniously blended on an absolutely beautiful front and rear lawn, and surrounded by a tile fence. I make apologies to songwriters, but not for this home nor the price of $11,750. You'll hum when you see it.

CLEAN AND UNCLUTTERED, just like an etching by Gustave Dore. Wrapped up in the sweeping, clean lines of white Roman brick, the builder scooped out 3 well-arranged bedrooms, wonderfully large living room, kitchen replete with cabinets, and TWO tile baths. Behind the 2-car attached garage is drawn the 12-foot utility room. Sand-toned carpeting thru-out for the soft touch, and for your summer and winter comfort, there is central heating and air-conditioning. The western sunset can be viewed from the 34-foot covered porch. This masterpiece is priced far below what a Van Gogh would command. ONLY $23,000.

OFFICE SPACE AVAILABLE. Ideally located in the heart of Midland's financial section. Space ranges from one room at $35 per month to 3,000 square feet.

THE KIDDIES ARE IN SCHOOL and time is on your hands. Let's spend it wisely by having us show you a home where your younger generation can make lots of good friends their own age. Located in TOWN NORTH, where Midland's biggest park will soon be established, it has 2 attractive bedrooms, large living room, conveniently arranged kitchen, and attached carport. Panelray heating, large storage closet, washer connection. Solidly constructed of Haydite brick, it has about 925 square feet of floor space. Nice lawn, paved street, and FHA financing. ONLY $1,966 down. Full price is $8,730.

THE HOUSE THAT WILL BUILD YOUR JACK account. With a little bit of paint, a few nails and a hammer, you can repair the apartment attached to the 2-car garage and rent it out for $50 per month. If you have a little glucose left over, you can convert the garage into another large apartment (all utilities in already). This will rent for $90 per month. Stay with me and you'll be wearing diamonds. Then the main house: Constructed of JOHNS-MANSVILLE asbestos, it has 2 bedrooms and den, living room, dining room. The yard is fenced (and has a doll house on it). Extra lot thrown in for future rental homes. It is only 4 years old, priced at a SPECTACULARLY LOW $12,500, and can be purchased for $2,000 down. But let me tell you more about it: It is

HAVE YOU STUBBED YOUR TOE on one of your own children or the cat because your home is so cramped for space? Don't you REALLY think that it's time for a BETTER AND BIGGER change? What about an almost new 3 large bedroom and den home located in the Northwest section? Two beautiful ceramic tile baths, utility room, garden tool room, and two-car attached garage. The magnificent den is paneled and highlights an Austin Stone fireplace. The banquet-size living room also has a wood-burning fireplace. The kitchen is superlatively designed and outstanding. The rest you'll have to see. Under $35,000.

FOR BETTER OR FOR WORSE. Rental or home-ownership? With $1,750 down, you could make the better. And this one has two bedrooms, cozy living room, 20 feet of delightful kitchen, and attached garage, CULLIGAN water softener, oak floors, and furnace heating. It's on a Kentucky corner. Full price is only $9,750.

YOUR BEST FOOT FORWARD. No, we don't sell shoes. But we do fit you to even more: your richer personality, your living comfort, your savings. We are home fitters. Just for size, try this exquisitely attractive home on Parker. Two large bedrooms, spacious living room, and a most inviting kitchen. Attached carport which can easily be enclosed as a den. It's been worn only 2 years. Paved street. Low down payment and $53 per month thereafter. Priced at $10,390.

WE HAVE NOTHING ON ADLAI or Ike, but we do have something terrific on Illinois. I'll whisper it to you because I know that the whole town will be wanting to know about it:

First, let me tell you that this story is about a year old, and it's covered with cream velour brick. It's got 3 lovely bedrooms, a private study, and 2 baths. (Come closer—the baths are REAL CERAMIC TILE!!) But that's not all. It's got a huge covered porch which is pine paneled, 2 carports, lots of closets, and storage space. The kitchen will be discussed for a long time, it's so spectacular. Central heating and air-conditioning. And you know what else they got? A lawn that's like a carpet—and a high tile fence! But I know you—You'll tell all your friends about this. I might as well finish it: It's priced at $28,500. Now you know it all.

IT'S WHITE'S WHITE HOUSE and it's on Big Spring. Constructed of Johns-Mansville asbestos siding, it has two sprightly decorated bedrooms, den (or third bedroom), nice living room with picture window, and family-size kitchen. Behind the carport is an 8x12 utility and storage room with a water well and pump. Tile fence in front and back. ONLY $9,500.

AND THE REASON FOR IT is that a furnished rental unit in back is income without working. But that isn't all. The main home is in immaculate condition thru-out, and has two lovely bedrooms, liveable living room, and a large kitchen where you'll spend a lot of your warmer hours in winter. Detached garage with storage, furnace heating. And as I said, the rental unit is completely furnished. Only 4 years old, and priced at an amazingly low $10,500.

MADE MUCH LARGER just to accommodate your larger family. For ONLY $2,500 down, with pride you may step into this attractive 2-bedroom and huge den home. Located in TOWN WEST, it has furnace heating for the winds of Midland's winter, luxurious carpeting in the living room and hallway. Interior recently re-decorated. Fenced yard. Can assume GI 4% loan and your payments will be only $54 per month. Priced at $9,900.

Wildcat In Midland Flows 20 BOPH From Strawn Zone

Plymouth Oil Company apparently has a flowing discovery from the Strawn lime 14 miles west of the city of Midland at No. 1 H. S. (Sherwood) Foster.

The project, 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 11, block 41, T-2-S, T&P survey and in Central-West Midland County, flowed oil at the rate of 20 barrels hourly on a drillstem test from 10,559 to 10,640 feet.

Tool was open one hour and 45 minutes. Gas surfaced in 15 minutes at the estimated volume of from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 cubic feet daily. Water blanket started flowing in one hour and 20 minutes and oil surfaced in one hour and 30 minutes. It flowed 15 minutes at the estimated rate of 20 barrels of 43.7-gravity oil hourly through 5/8-inch choke.

After tool was closed oil continued to unload from the drillpipe for one hour. Tool was shutin over night and then pulled. Recovery was 1,080 feet of clean oil, 225 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud, estimated to be 50 per cent oil and 15 feet of salty water. Operator says the water is not from the formation.

Open flowing bottomhole pressure was from 485 to 1,545 pounds. Shutin pressure after 15 minutes was 4,585 pounds.

The Strawn was topped at 10,559 feet, elevation 2,894 feet.

Brennand Deal

No. 1 Foster is on acreage secured by Robert S. Brennand, Jr., of Midland from H. S. Foster, the fee owner of the property.

Brennand turned a checkerboard spread of leases to Plymouth to drill the well. Brennand did not retain any interest in the indicated flowing discovery, nor did he keep any interest on the leases turned to Plymouth when the deal was made.

Brennand is reported to have paid Foster in excess of $80 per acre cash for the lease on 2,522 acres of the Foster Ranch.

Oil Executives Are Slated To Talk At Annual AAODC Meet

Evidence that drilling contractors are working closely with producing companies is reflected by the appearance of various oil executives on American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors' Twelfth Annual Meeting program to be held in Oklahoma City Monday and Tuesday.

W. C. Whaley, President of Sunray Oil Corporation, Tulsa, will be the principal banquet speaker Tuesday night. Advance information on his address indicates he will stress the necessity for the drilling industry to drill more and more efficiently.

Whaley is expected to compare the services rendered thirty years ago with the superior service offered by the drilling industry today, and to place further emphasis on the need for extended educational work all along the line.

Frank A. Morgan, Vice President of Richfield Oil Corporation, Los Angeles, will talk Tuesday morning on "Drilling Wells for Production."

Morgan will state that in his opinion the greatest single tool of the exploration geologists of the future will be access to a more liberal use of the drill for the development of geological information to build up the science of subsurface geology, which with sufficient data in the past has been responsible for the finding of many oil fields.

William F. Bates, Shell Oil Company, Los Angeles, has prepared an exhaustive paper on "The Use of Tubing and Casing as Drill Pipe."

This paper gives the outcome of his company's experience with lighter tubular goods used as conventional drill pipe. He further states that in many cases it has been possible to effect marked savings from these lighter drill strings.

Engineer At North Cowden Attending Special School

W. L. Richards, junior petroleum engineer at Stanolind Oil and Gas Company's North Cowden Gasoline Plant is attending a three-week school in advanced process engineering at the company's Tulsa general office.

Together with 13 other engineers from Stanolind operated gasoline plants and refineries, Richards will cover such subjects as "Heat and Material Balances for Process Equipment," "Phase Characteristics of Hydrocarbons," " Principles of Fractionation," "Principles of Absorption and Distillation," and "Process Vessel Rating."

AIME Will Hear Whiteford, Levy At Annual Session

Two outstanding men of the oil industry will address a group of some 1,200 of the nation's top petroleum engineers on matters of domestic and international interest at the Annual Fall Meeting of the Petroleum Branch, American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, in Houston, Wednesday through Friday.

W. K. Whiteford, executive vice president of Gulf Oil Corporation, Pittsburgh, Pa., will speak to the engineers Wednesday, on the "Engineer's Stake in the Percentage Depletion Controversy." Whiteford will be keynote speaker at the Petroleum Branch, AIME, welcoming luncheon in the Rice Hotel.

On Friday morning, Walter Levy, renowned economic advisor and petroleum consultant from New York City, will discuss "Perils to the Free World's Essential Oil Supply." Levy spent several years in government service during and after World War II on matters concerning United States and foreign oil production.

In addition to the two outstanding speakers, some 40 papers authored by outstanding petroleum engineers and scientists will be presented in 11 sessions during the three-day meeting, October 1-3.

Registration for the meeting will begin on the mezzanine floor of the Rice Hotel in Houston. The first formal session will get underway at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Drilling Activity Rises To 157 Wells

There were 157 completions compared with 146 the week before, but completions were still barely over last year's levels to date.

The total so far this year was 8,143 compared with 8,138 last year in the same period.

Six Wildcats Are Staked In West Texas Permian Basin

Six wildcat explorations have been staked in widely scattered areas at the south and east sides of the Permian Basin of West Texas.

Hewgley Drilling Company of Midland will dig No. 1 Arthur T. Steward as a 5,500-foot Ellenburger test in Southeast Sutton County, 21 miles southeast of Sonora.

Drillsite is at the center of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 60, block 7, TW&NG survey. It is five miles northeast of the Shell-Wilson gas field.

This wildcat is being drilled as a result of a deal worked up by James E. Logan, independent operator and Gibson, Leeper & Cole, consulting geologists of Midland.

They took farmouts on approximately 1,200 acres of checkerboarded leases in the area surrounding the drillsite of the wildcat from Stanolind Oil & Gas Company, Shell Oil Company and The Pure Oil Company and turned the deal to Hewgley to drill.

Cities Service Oil Company and others staked No. 1-B Hobbs as a 7,500-foot wildcat to test the Ellenburger in West Crockett County. It will be drilled one mile west of the Clara Couch (Wolfcamp) field. Site is 2,068 feet from north and 668 feet from west lines of section 7, block GG, GC&SF survey.

West Runnels

Thomas B. Humphrey of Dallas staked a 5,300-foot Caddo wildcat in West Runnels County, one and three-quarters miles southwest of Norton and four and one-half miles northeast of the recently opened Humphrey-Lee Caddo Field. It will be drilled as No. 1 Roy Roper, 2,208 feet from north and 2,188 feet from east lines of section 7, H&GN survey, abstract 273.

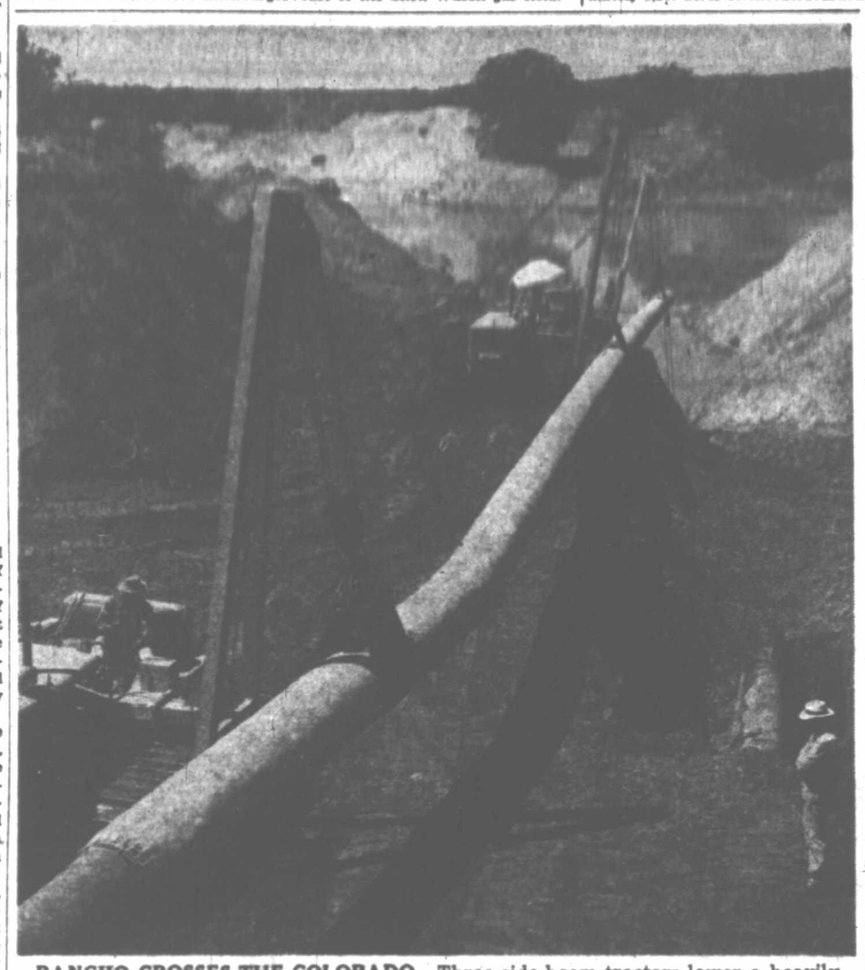

Hanco Oil & Gas Company, Ltd., of Dallas will drill a 7,300-foot wildcat in Northwest Tom Green County. It is No. 1 W. F. Williams, 660 feet from southeast and southwest lines of the north 173.25 acres in block 224-B, Carl Feller survey, abstract 189. It is 10 miles northwest of the Pulliam field.

SE Upton

Cities Service and Continental Oil Company will dig No. 1-AR University as a 12,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Southeast Upton County, three miles northeast of Rankin and three and one-half miles west and slightly north of the Flat Rock field.

Payne-Johnson and others of Tyler will drill No. 1 Jessie Little as a 5,400-foot wildcat in Northeast Nolan County. It is one and three-quarter miles northwest of the one-well McLeod Strawn field and 1,750 feet from south and 660 feet from most easterly east lines of section 26, block 20, T&P survey.

RANCHO CROSSES THE COLORADO—Three side-boom tractors lower a heavily insulated section of 24-inch pipe into the Colorado River during construction of the 455-mile-long Rancho Pipeline from McCamey, in West Texas, to Houston. The river at this spot (40 miles southeast of Austin) is approximately 1,300 feet wide and a ditch 55 feet deep had to cut into its bank to accommodate the pipe. Visible in right foreground is end of the line coming from Houston. When the Rancho is completed sometime in the early part of 1953, it will carry some 210,000 barrels of crude daily from the prolific fields of West Texas to Texas Gulf Coast refining centers.

Union Slates West Offset In W-C Gaines

Union Oil Company of California will drill No. 3-BB Jones as a 3,200-foot project one location west of a recently completed Clear Fork discovery in West-Central Gaines County.

NW Runnels Test Indicates Opener From Goens Lime

Mar-Tex Realization Corporation of Dallas and W. Edward Lee of San Angelo No. 1 E. F. Bryan, wildcat in Northwest Runnels County, has been indicated as a discovery from the Goens lime.

The prospect flowed at the rate of 20 barrels of oil per hour on a 51-minute drillstem test between 4,121 feet and 4,127 feet in the Goens. That formation was topped at 4,121 feet on elevation of 1,879 feet.

There was no water on the test. Gas surfaced in four minutes, oil in approximately 20 minutes. The flow was through a 5/8-inch top choke.

Has Set Pipe

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 350-700 pounds and shutin pressure after 30 minutes was 1,500 feet.

Operator has set 7-inch casing at 4121 feet and is preparing to drill plugs and test for completion as a discovery.

No. 1 Bryan is two and five-eighths miles north northeast of Norton, five and three-eight miles southwest of the Poe (Goens and Canyon) field and three an done-half miles south

Permian Basin Oil Show To Be World's Largest During Progress Week

West Texas and New Mexico will boast the world's largest event during National Oil Progress Week in the presentation of thePermian Basin Oil Show in Odessa October 16 through 19.

Anticipated crowds of 75,000 to 100,000 persons are expected to inspect the 350 exhibits of 200 exhibitors representing more than 500 manufacturers.

All phases of the show—the acres of outside exhibits and five show buildings—will be free except for entertainment.

Top Names

Top names from the movies and radio, including Blondie and Dagwood Bumstead will be featured in daily variety shows designed for family groups. Four nightly dances, with music by Will Osborne, Leo Pieper and two local bands, will be on the schedule along with a giant Chuck Wagon Gang barbecue for more than 15,000 persons, Saturday, October 18.

Ticket books, priced at $2.00 and including tickets for each of the dances, a performance of the Arthur (Dagwood) Lake Show and the barbecue, are being sold throughout the Permian Basin. W. D. Lane, Plymouth Oil Company, Midland, is ticket chairman and John Ed Cooper, the Western Company, Midland, is co-chairman.

Cotton Clover, general manager, announced this week that the handful of remaining inside and outside exhibit spaces were going at a rate to indicate closing out of the exhibitor list by Monday.

Biggest Parade

Entries of floats, bands, oilfield rolling stock and mounted units indicate the kickoff parade at 10 a.m. October 16, will be the biggest in West Texas history.

The opening day will be Education Day with special invitations to local and area schools to send science and physics classes and any other interested students along with bandsmen and faculty members. Keeping the Progress theme, the Oil Show will present free movies in a theater and lounge set up by the Oil Industry Information Committee, sponsor of Oil Progress Week.

Other Exhibits

Other non-commercial exhibits will include Odessa College, the National Safety Council and Texas Department of Public Safety.

Hotel reservations have been requested for a crew of newsreel cameramen who will cover the show from the opening parade to the Saturday barbecue.

Featured in the variety show will be the Dagwood and Blondie of the movies and radio, their two children and Daisy and the Five Pups, along with Buck Bradley and Susie, rope specialists, Preston Foster and Sheila D'Arcy, Dean and Donna Rowe, roller skaters, and the Dawnaires Quartet, comedy song group.

Fulton Lewis, Jr., one of America's leading commentators, will be present for the oil and gas show and will give his national broadcast from Odessa October 16. He will speak at a $12.50 per plate stag dinner that evening.

William A. Adent
... Has New Job

Adent Is To Be With Cabeen & Associates; Concern To Expand

William Ross Cabeen & Associates, consulting geologists and petroleum engineering firm with home office in North Hollywood, Calif., is planning to intensify its exploration activities in the Permian Basin for its several clients, chief of whom is the Macmillan Petroleum Corporation of Los Angeles.

William A. Adent, formerly district geologist in Midland for Bankline Oil Company will be with Cabeen & Associates, according to an announcement by Charles W. Allen, coordinator for the concern's offices in Oklahoma City, North Hollywood and Midland.

Crews Is To Relieve Gardner On Sinclair Crude Marketing Job

S. H. (Cap) Crews of Tyler is to relieve Frank D. Gardner on the job as crude oil representative in the Permian Basin for the crude marketing division of Sinclair Oil & Gas Company.

Gardner is to leave Midland Wednesday to go to Washington where he will be chief of the crude oil and natural gas section of the petroleum branch of the Office of Price Stabilization of the United States government.

Gardner To Be On Loan

Gardner is taking the federal position on loan from Sinclair and when he finishes that service he plans to return to his regular work in Midland.

Crews is a veteran East Texas oil man. His regular job is crude oil representative in East Texas for Sinclair.

He is well know to many members of the oil fraternity in the Permian Basin who were in East Texas during the boom period of the development in that region.

Was Captain Of The Guards

Crews was a captain of a Texas National Guard company in the days of the 10 cent per barrel oil in East Texas.

His company was on duty during the time martial law was in effect in the East Texas field when general conditions were unsettled.

Nissley To Do Lease Work For Wilcox Oil In Permian Basin

J. T. Nissley is a new Midland oil man. He is representing the land and lease department of Wilcox Oil Company in the Permian Basin.

Wilcox has not heretofore been represented in the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico region.

Nissley says the concern plans to acquire leases and drilling blocks and will be interested in all sort of offerings on those items.

He says his company will drill any properties which look interesting to their officials. They want to develop some production in this region he asserts.

Nissley has been interested in various phases of the oil industry for many years.

Lyons, Brown Scheduled Speakers At IPAA Meet

Charlton H. Lyons, of Shreveport, La., president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America and Russell B. Brown, of Washington, D. C., general counsel for the organization will be featured speakers at the Permian Basin regional meeting of the IPAA to be held Monday at the Midland Country Club.

Alden S. Donnelly, IPAA Permian Basin vice president, has announced that Lyons will speak on future plans and activities of the association and that the title of Brown's talk will be "Effect of Foreign Imports on United States Domestic Production." Both men, Donnelly said, probably also will discuss such subjects as decontrol of prices and material shortages as related to the oil industry.

Lyons, an independent oil man, has long been active in the IPAA and was vice president for Louisiana and a member of the executive committee before becoming president. He was recently appointed chairman of the association's Western Hemisphere Oil Study Committee. Lyons also has been active in other industry groups and served as vice president of the Louisiana-Arkansas Division of Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Brown started with the IPAA as executive manager in 1930 and later became its general counsel. He has been active in various forms of industry work and organized the campaign for a tariff on imported crude oil and refined products. He served as secretary to the Emergency National Committee made up of representatives of all independent petroleum organizations and was compliance director of the Planning and Coordination Committee of the same group.

The meeting in Midland Monday will start with registration at 8:30 p.m. and will be followed by dinner at 6:30 p.m. Because of limited facilities, the meeting will be for members and guests only.

Mud Schools To Start Monday In Midland At Hughes Tool Warehouse

The first of two University of Texas extension service mud control schools will get underway in Midland Monday.

The schools will be held under the sponsorship of the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, and will be held in the Hughes Tool Company warehouse at the corner of Southwest Front Street and Avenue G

Two classes will be held each day, with the same material discussed in each of the daily classes. The first will start at 9:00 a.m. and the other at 7:00 p.m. Each will last approximately two hours.

The first school will extend from Monday through Friday.

A second school will be from October 13 through 17.

The second school will be held primarily for oil field workers with the Anglo-Arabian Oil Company, however, interested persons in the Permian Basin area are invited to attend the second school.

A laboratory fee of $10 will be charged. It will include cost of textbooks and laboratory breakage. The fee generally is refunded to those taking the course.

Phillip C. Blackburn of the university extension service will conduct both sessions of the daily classes. A Hughes Tool representative will talk on care and use of bits as associated with the use of different types of mud.

More than 6,500 men have attended the mud school courses conducted by the University of Texas in 19 oil producting states and the province of Alberta, Canada, since their inception in 1946.

Midland Directory Of Landmen Issued

The first edition of the Midland Landmen's Directory will be ready for distribution early in the week.

It lists the names of all landmen, assistant landmen, title men and other key personnel in the land departments of the major and independent oil companies in Midland.

It is published by the Midland Directory Service. Copies are $1.00 each, postpaid. They may be ordered from P. O. Box 1434, Midland.

Cities Service, Skelly Set Glasscock Test

Cities Service Oil Company and Skelly Oil Company will drill No. 1 H. G. Cross as an Ellenburger wildcat in Northeast Glasscock County, nine miles southeast of Stanton and 14 miles northwest of Garden City.

Contracted to 11,500 feet, it will be drilled at the center of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 17, block 35, T-2-S, T&P survey.

It is four and one-half miles southwest of Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 G. T. Hall, active wildcat now drilling below 10,917 feet in dolomite and chert.

Drillsite is 24 miles east of the city of Midland.

GET PROMOTIONS—Promotion of Herbert Davis, left, to district manager of Cummins Sales and Service, Inc., and E. H. Smith, right, to service manager and shop foreman in Odessa has been announced. Davis was serving as district service manager at Wichita Falls before his transfer to Odessa. Smith was acting as shop foreman and field service mechanic at Odessa at the time of his promotion.

RALPH NELSON 18 NOW WITH MANZEL

Ralph Nelson of Midland is now West Texas and New Mexico representative for Manzel. That concern manufacturers force fee lubricators and chemical lubricators.

Standard Schedules Shallow Wildcat In Mitchell Sector

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1-2 Chester L. Jones is to be a 9,200-foot wildcat in extreme Northwest Mitchell County. It is approximately one-half of a mile east of the Howard County line and about three miles south of the Scurry County line. It is approximately 20 miles northwest of Colorado City.

That makes it one and one-quarter miles east and one-quarter of a mile north of the nearest completed producer in the Coronet 9,900 field in Northeast Howard County.

That field was opened a few weeks ago by Coronet Oil Company No. 1 Brokhage. The production is from an upper Permian lime called San Andres by some geologists and San Angelo by others.

The Mitchell County wildcat is projected to 3,200 feet unless it finds and tests the Coronet pay before reaching that depth. Combination tools will be used.

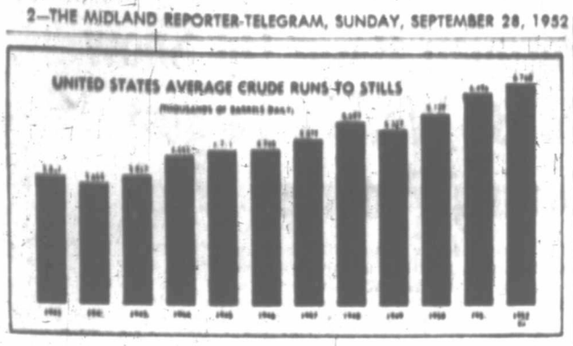

Drilling is to start at once.

New Mexico Sale Of Oil And Gas Leases Set For October 10

The regular monthly auction sale of oil and gas leases on state owned lands in New Mexico will be held on October 10 in Santa Fe.

Leases on 29 tracts will be offered to the highest bidders in an oral sale and leases on six tracts will be sold on a sealed bid auction.

Full details of the sale, together with a description of all tracts to be offered may be secured from Guy Shepard, commissioner of public lands, State of New Mexico, Santa Fe.

Refining Industry Spends More Than One Billion To Meet Added Demands

The U. S. petroleum refining industry is spending more than $1,000,000,000 during 1952 and must increase this amount in 1953 to keep pace with demand.

These figures are advanced by the Market Data Book, a service of the Petroleum Refiner, which bases its conclusions upon a projection of postwar demand for oils.

Civilian and military needs combined to increase the 1952 domestic demand for more than five per cent, with the result that the petroleum refining industry is spending approximately $1,077,000,000 on new plant construction and operation. Even allowing for no increase in costs, the normal swelling of demand will force an estimated expenditure during 1953 of $1,085,000,000.

"The daily average demand for all U. S. oils in 1952 hit an all-time high of 7,850,000 barrels," the Data Book pointed out. "This is twice the demand for 1940. This rapid expansion of demand is the background against which refiners must adjust their plans for 1953 and the years beyond."

Oil Progress Week Shows, Ceremonies Slated Over Nation

TULSA —(AP)— America's oil industry will usher in "Oil Progress Week" October 12-18 with the perennial theme, "your progress and oil progress go hand in hand."

The proclamation was issued Wednesday from this self-styled oil capital of the world by Mayor C. M. Warren.

Events observing the week are slated for almost every major city in the U. S. One of the most colorful is to be held at Tarentum, Pa.

There, Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman will speak at a monument dedication honoring the memory of "Uncle Billy" Smith, the Tarentum blacksmith who helped in the drilling of Col. Edwin L. Drake's famous Titusville well in 1859.

Typical will be Odessa's "largest OPW parade in the nation" to be held October 16-19 in conjunction with the Permian Basin Oil Show. Continuous movies will be shown.

Prominent oil leaders across the nation will plug the industry and its accomplishments.

McCarthy Inks Pact For Bolivian Mines

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA —(AP)— The Bolivian mining Bank and Glenn McCarthy signed a contract Friday under which the Texas oil man will invest three million dollars to develop sulphur mining in Southwestern Bolivia.

Under terms of the contract McCarthy will pay the Bolivian government, represented by the bank, eight per cent royalty in gross exports of sulphur.

The sulphur mining concession granted McCarthy is in the Potosi Department on the Chilean border. Work is to begin within six months.

Manuel Barrau, bank manager, said that the specified investment may be increased if necessary. Government sources said they are pleased with the contract. They said it indicates the confidence of foreign investors in the present government led by the Nationalist Revolutionary (MNR) Party.

Goodall Warehouse Opened In Odessa

Goodall Rubber Company of Texas has opened a warehouse in Odessa to serve supply stores in the West Texas area.

Goodall will move complete stocks of rotary hose, pump suction and vibrator hose into the new location.

A. O. (Pappy) Wells, West Texas oil equipment salesman, has been named representative for the concern. Joun Garrait is in charge of the West Texas territory.

Spraberry Field In C-E Upton Is Given New Tester

Slick-Urschel will drill No. 1-S-B-13 University as a 7,600-foot Spraberry project in the Benedum (multipay) field of Central-East Upton County.

Drillsite has been staked 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 13, block 58, University Lands survey and 12 miles northeast of Rankin.

Fuel From Shales Called Less Costly Than Offshore Oil

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The nation may turn to coal and oil shale for gasoline long before there is wide-scale development of offshore oil areas, says the top government expert on synthetic fuels.

Dr. W. C. Schroeder, assistant director of the Bureau of Mines, expressed that view Saturday, explaining:

"No one disputes the fact that there are enormous reserves of oil in the offshore areas. But the cost of production is high. And the greater the depth of the water, the greater the cost."

Just how that cost would run is still largely a matter of guess. The National Petroleum Council (NPC) has appointed a committee, headed by President Lee S. Wescoat of the Pure Oil Company, Chicago, to make a study of the costs.

Senate Testimony

About the best information now available is the testimony of a group of offshore operators before a Senate Committee studying a long-range national fuels policy early in 1951.

Although that was a year and a half ago, there has been little change in the picture since. The state-federal lands, sometimes called Tidelands, has brought exploration in such areas to a virtual standstill. This testimony showed that:

1. Of a total of 235 tests drilled on leases in the Gulf of Mexico, 91 produced oil, 36 gas, and 110 were dry holes.

2. Total production from the successful wells, drilled over a period of several years and located from one mile to 27 miles from shore, amounted to nine and one-half million barrels. Most of the oil came from off Louisiana, where daily production amounted to about 20,000 barels.

Offshore Cost High

3. Total cost of the offshore Gulf drilling amounted to more than 234 million dollars, while revenues from production amounted to only $6,300,000.

Offshore reserves are estimated at approximately 15 billion barrels (worth almost 40 billion dollars on today's market), with the deposits heavier beyond the three-mile limit claimed by the states.

Texas claims ten and one-half miles because of conditions under which she joined the union. The Gulf Continental shelf extends about 90 miles from shore, at which point it has gradually sloped to a depth of some 600 feet, then abruptly drops to a depth of 9,000 feet or more.

James V. Brown, NPC spokesman, agrees that drilling in deep water is an expensive proposition, but says:

Inland Reserves

"The cost of gasoline from crude oil produced inland is cheaper than from coal or shale, and there's a lot of inland reserves yet to be developed."

Some offshore wells cost up to a million dollars, he said, and the transportation problem always is expensive to solve.

Dr. Schroeder explained that he had in mind wells drilled in deep water—300 feet or more—in making his prediction that synthetic fuels would come into use ahead of wide-scale offshore production.

A witness before the Senate committee, headed by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), testified along the same line. A. Jacobsen, president of the Amerada Petroleum Corporation and then chairman of the National Oil Policy Committee of the American Petroleum Institute, said in response to questions:

"Oil from shale and coal would come in long ahead of the fantastically expensive cost of drilling in 600 feet of water."

Warren Of PAD Is On Speaking Tour

WASHINGTON—J. Ed Warren of Midland, deputy administrator of the Petroleum Administration for Defense, is in the midst of a whirlwind speaking tour which will take him into Mississippi this week and to New Orleans next month.

He spoke in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., at a meeting of the executive committee of the American Petroleum Association and in Clarksburg, W. Va., before a meeting of the West Virginia Oil and Gas Association, last week.

He will attend a meeting of executives of the IPAA in Oklahoma City early this week before going to Biloxi, Miss., to address a meeting of the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Then on October 16, Warren goes to New Orleans to address the Chamber of Commerce in observance of Oil Progress Week.

Six Wildcats—

Location is 467 feet from south and east lines of the west 68.5 acres out of 106.7-acre lease in block 599, Burnett County School Land survey.

Three Counties In WT Area Report Wildcat Failures

Three West Texas counties have reported the plugging and abandoning of dry wildcats.

Buffalo Oil Company of Dallas quit its No. 1-A University, wildcat in Central Andrews County, on total depth of 9,014 feet in San Andres showing sulphur water.

Location was 660 feet from south and west lines of section 3, block 1, University survey and six and one-half miles east of the Fuhrman-Mascho field.

Location Given

In South-Central Tom Green County, Cities Service Oil Company has abandoned its No. 1-C Washington County School Land fee, 660 feet from south and 3,308 feet from east lines of section 106, Washington County School Land survey.

The project was drilled to a total depth of 6,777 feet in lime. The failure topped the Strawn reef by samples at 5,430 feet, minus datum point of 3,495 feet.

The test did not find the Ellenburger, according to operator representatives.

Showed Water

Three miles southwest of the Grayson pool in Reagan County, Continental Oil Company No. 1-A-7 University has been plugged at total depth of 9,382 feet in Ellenburger showing water.

Operator took a drillstem test in that formation from 9,233 to 9,383 feet. Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 456 feet of slightly gas and sulphur cut mud and 5,115 feet of sulphur water.

It was 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 16, block 7, University survey.

Chaves Wildcat Drilling After DST In Pennsylvanian

Vincent & Welch, Inc., of Midland and Lake Charles, La., was drilling below 8,168 feet in lower Pennsylvanian lime at No. 1 Cassidy-Federal, wildcat in Central-South Chaves County, after a drillstem test from 7,700 to 8,140 feet showed gas.

Tool was open four and one-half hours. Gas surfaced in one hour and 55 minutes. No fluid surfaced. Recovery was 450 feet of gas-cut mud with no shows of oil or water.

A subsequent drillstem test, from 8,016 to 8,146 feet developed only 30 feet of drilling mud.

Pure Has Plugged Ellenburger Test In NW Schleicher

The Pure Oil Company has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 R. S. Williams, Ellenburger duster in Northwest Schleicher County.

This prospector drilled to a bottom of 8,005 feet in the Ellenburger. Top of that formation is at 7,470 feet. Elevation is 2,440 feet.

Made Salt Water

It made some oil and a large amount of salt water. In the last ten hours of testing before the hole was plugged it flowed 14 barrels of oil and 134 barrels of salt water through a one-half inch tubing choke. That fluid came from perforated section at 7,470-73 feet.

Flowing tubing pressure was 50 pounds. Gas volume was at the rate of 106,000 cubic feet per day.

Set Cement Plug

A cement plug has been put in the bottom of the hole and operator is now preparing to salvage the 5 1/2 inch casing which is set at 7,499 feet. After that has been done the hole will be abandoned.

Location was 660 feet from south and east lines of section 32, block TT, TCRR survey. It is 14 miles northwest of Eldorado.

Foster Prepares To Test Open Hole In Andrews Project

Tobe Foster of Lubbock was preparing to test open hole zone in the San Andres at No. 1 University-Cities Service Oil Company, deepening operation one and one-quarter miles north of the East Shafer Lake field of North-Central Andres County.

Section to be tested is from 4,503 to 4,532 feet.

That section showed oil and gas on a drillstem test. Recovery on that test was 700 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 300 feet of free oil.

Standard Completes Another Oiler In Schleicher Field

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 2-A (formerly 2-2) Mrs. Viola McWhorter, has been completed in the south side of the Huildale (Strawn) field of North-Central Schleicher County.

It was finaled for a daily flowing potential of 207 barrels of 41.2-gravity oil through a 20/64-inch tubing choke and from open hole at 8,746-8,796 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 810-1.

Pay section was treated with 500 gallons of mud acid.

WASHINGTON OIL—

More Steel For More Wells For More Production Is Major Aim Of J. Ed Warren

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent

WASHINGTON—More steel to drill more oil wells!

He now foresees 46,000 new oil wells this year in America, a record, but below the 50,000 expected before the steel strike.

Next year, Warren wants 55,000 new oil wells, and he says the key to it is steel. The figure comes from PAD's 1953 program put forth some months ago.

1. Warren has his top notch materials director, Richard M. Morrison, spending 100 per cent of his time on the task.

When Morrison returns to Texaco in New York about October 1, Harris Bateman of Cities Service Oil Company, Bartlesville, Okla., his successor, will be given the same assignment.

2. Warren is urging foreign mills to almost double production from about 250,000 tons this year. Morrison is just back from an on the spot survey of foreign plants.

3. Steps to force this, by curbing Europe-to-America traffic in steel shapes and forms are under study. One would be to limit imports of shapes, the other to prevent American mills from finishing them.

If the basic forms come to America, says Warren, they leave idle mill capacity abroad. Some say both European and American mills stand to make more money by the traffic, pointing to some oil well steel prices of $300 a ton, more than twice the regular price.

Conference Planned

4. Warren may call in steel executives for a second meeting in the near future.

5. Warren is pressing steel mills to go ahead with expansion plans. Thus, three new plants—Republic, Lone Star, and Colorado Fuel and Iron—are to get going on oil well steel next year.

While the effort is bound to coax forth more steel—perhaps 20 per cent more next year— it won't be enough to throw off government distribution controls.

As Morrison sees it, the controls over oil country tubular goods will be needed at least through next year. He expects the controlled materials plan to die out by the middle of the year, and some sort of halfway controls to continue for six months afterwards.

As for figures, they are available galore, for what they are worth.

Higher And Higher Estimates

Thus, American mills turned out 1,400,000 tons of oil country tubular goods during 1949; about 1,700,000 tons in 1950; about 1,900,000 tons in 1951; and, due to the steel strike, only 1,500,000 tons this year. Next year's estimate, more than 2,000,000 tons.

As Warren sees it:

"Today the capacity is some 50,000 tons a quarter above what it was when first PAD began its allocations to tubular goods.

"We look for further expansion in the months ahead. In fact, the figures run like this: We expect capacity for regular production in the fourth quarter of 1952 to be 465,000 tons. In the first quarter of 1953, that capacity should be up 7,500 tons to 472,500. In the second quarter it should be up another 15,000 tons to 487,500. Third-quarter regular production should be 525,000 tons, an increase of 37,500 tons over the second quarter, and fourth-quarter production should be 540,000 tons, still another increase of 16,000 tons."

Aside from oil well steel and aviation gasoline, they are starting to smile at the PAD, after months of gloom.

The oil strike, then the steel strike were troubles epough. Then, it appeared a heating oil shortage was shaping up for the East Coast this Winter.

1. Stepping up the supply of aviation gasoline and other military fuels.

2. Breaking the bottleneck on oil country tubular goods.

3. Getting materials for the "pretty high rate" of natural gas industry expansion programmed for next year.

4. Action, if necessary, to obtain adequate supplies of heating oil this Winter.

Now, if you ask Warren, he'll say things are touch-and-go. From PAD, that's optimistic.

Point by point, here's how PAD sees the near future:

Aviation gasoline, jet fuel, Navy special oil are big problems, rivaling oil well steel for first place, but a bit more time, three months or six, may bring us over the hump.

Heating oil may be tight this Winter, but the chances of a shortage get less. A coal-to-oil shift is on again with new higher coal prices, but refiners are breaking all records.

Pipe lines are going ahead faster than anyone expected, and in coming months, the supply of pipe may be a minor rather than major problem.

Refineries are being built right on schedule, despite the steel strike, with 740,000 barrels daily of new capacity to get operating in the two-year period ending July, 1953.

At PAD, no one is ready to pack his bag and go home. Any predictions are hedged with ifs, about the weather, military demand and the like. But aside from steel for oil wells, and avgas, the PAD is feeling pretty good.

If you ask Warren, he'll say, in general, "The outlook ahead is brighter than it has been for many months."

Illinois Man To Be National Chairman Of OIC For 1952

CHICAGO—Stanton K. Smith, president of Smith Oil & Refining Company, Rockford, Ill., will be the national chairman of the Oil Industry Information Committee in 1953.

Smith, who will succeed Charles Z. Hardwick, vice president of The Ohio Oil Co., Findlay, O., was elected to the chairmanship at a meeting of the committee in Chicago. He will take office January 1.

Vice Chairman Listed

Philip C. Humphrey, manager of public relations, The Texas Company, New York, and William N. Finnegan, Jr., assistant to the president, Humble Oil & Refining Company, Houston, were re-elected vice chairmen.

Two new vice chairmen named were W. J. Loufman, president of Fleet Wing Corporation, Cleveland, O., and C. Haines Finnell, director of public relations and advertising, Union Oil Company of California, Los Angeles.

Smith has been active in the work of the Oil Industry Information Committee since its inception. He was the first state chairman in Illinois, and was appointed to the national committee in 1947. He has served two terms as a vice chairman.

The Tool Pusher

Post Office Has Last Say In Naming Oil 'Offspring'

Oil and Gas Journal carried the following story on one of the communities which sprung into existence during peak activity in the Spraberry Trend.

"Government and corruption may be synonymous to some folks when they meditate on the mink coats, deep freezes, and fast-change work in the internal-revenue department. But down in the grass roots it is still, sometimes, synonymous with dignity.

"Out in West Texas, in the Spraberry area, dignity has triumphed, and at the prodding of the federal government.

"Hadacol Corner, lusty and growing offspring of the oil industry, no longer exists. Midkiff has taken its place. The change came about when the Post Office Department decided to open a fourth-class office in the town but balked at the idea of entering Hadacol Corner in the Postal Guide.

"Something more dignified, please, it asked. And the townsmen complied by honoring a well-known ranching family and an oil-field discovered by a wildcat on the Midkiff Ranch.

"The oil industry promotes progress, but it has no monopoly on it. It sometimes has to share it—occasionally with the federal government."

Tourists Transform Old Mine's Business

CRIPPLE CREEK, COLO.—(AP)—The renowned Molly Kathleen Mine has hit the jackpot in two ways—in high-grade gold ore and in tourist business.

Supt. Lee Brown said gold production is steady but doesn't interfere with visits by tourists. Last year 15,500 visited the mine and this year the sightseers are keeping eight guides busy.

The visitors are taken 1,000 feet down in a shaft car, then guided about 1,800 feet into the workings.

Wilks Estate Value Set At $94,965,229

NEW YORK—(AP)—The estate of Mrs. Hetty Sylvia Howland Green Wilks totaled $94,965,229 gross and $90,845,301 net, according to an estate tax appraisal filed Friday.

Mrs. Wilks, daughter of the late financier Hetty Green, died Feb. 5, 1951.

Sierra De Cristo Rey Rites Set In El Paso October 26

EL PASO—(AP)—Thousands of Pilgrims are expected to gather on October 26 at the foot of the rugged, barren, rock-strewn slopes of Sierra de Cristo Rey near El Paso.

On this day Catholics throughout the world will celebrate the Feast of Christ the King.

Atop Sierra de Cristo Rey—Mountain of Christ the King—is a 12-foot stone figure of Christ on the Cross. It towers over the city of El Paso.

The pilgrims will gather at the foot of the mountain in the morning and afternoon will start their slow way up the four-mile trail to the peak.

At the head of the procession will be the Catholic clergymen of this area, the various orders of nuns, a choir of Franciscan Fathers in their brown robes, and an honor guard of the Knights of Columbus.

The Pilgrims will follow—some on burros, some bare-footed, some even on hands and knees.

Stops will be made at each of 14 small crosses, representing the way of the Cross, along the trail.

It takes the procession about two hours to reach the top. There the Bishop of the El Paso Dioceses, assisted by other Bishops, will conduct the services.

Daily Crude Production In Non-Communist World Falls

Production of crude oil through the non-Communist world declined 204,000 barrels daily, or almost two per cent, during July, the Oil and Gas Journal reported.

Production fell in almost all the principal producing areas of the world with the exception of Canada and Kuwait. United States output was down about 107,000 barrels daily. In the foreign areas, Venezuela showed a decrease of 21,100 barrels daily, Saudi Arabia, 48,500 barrels daily, and Iraq, almost 32,000 barrels daily.

The Journal commented that the drops in production were due to both operational and market demand reasons. In the case of Venezuela, the weak market for heavy fuel oil on the East Coast was mainly responsible for the second consecutive monthly decrease.

Canadian production rose to another new record with a daily average of 192,500 barrels daily. Crude-oil production in Canada is expected to continue at a high level until ice halts shipping on the Great Lakes where the pipe line from Alberta terminates.

Kuwait's production also represented a new record. The daily average of 810,200 barrels daily was 26,200 barrels daily over the previous high established last March.

Total Free World production, excluding the Communist areas, averaged 11,110,700 barrels daily. Aggregate world production, including Russia and its satellite areas, averaged 13,196,800 barrels daily. As compared with July, 1951, total world production was up by 4.4 per cent.

Stanton Man Named On Conservation Unit

They were: Senator John J. Bell, Cuero; J. M. Crews, Childress; Nelson D. Griswold, Freeport; Dick Eastland, Kerrville; W. O. Fortenberry, Lubbock; Cover C. Porter, Lufkin; R. R. Coreth, New Braunfels; James McMorries, Stanton, and J. E. Wilkins, Mission.

Pecos Gets Ready For Annual Fair, Rodeo, Carnival

PECOS—Although the annual Fall Fair won't open officially until 1 p.m. next Thursday, area residents will have access to facilities of a full-fledged carnival all next week, beginning Monday night, announced Alton Hughes, fair secretary.

First official event of the fair will be a big parade at 10 a.m. Thursday, when a brigade of bicycles, tricycles and commercial entries will march in downtown Pecos behind the High School band.

At a meeting of Bill Turpin's parade committee, Hughes was named to write letters of invitation to Pecos business firms to enter the parade.

Appointed parade marshal was Davewood Boseman, Jr., who along with M. C. Nobles and Ray McPherson, is a member of Turpin's group.

At 10 a.m. Saturday, the Kid's Rodeo parade will march. At 8 p.m. the same day, high school bands from Pecos and neighboring towns will stage a downtown parade prior to a band contest.

First performance of the Kid's Rodeo, designed as a sidelight attraction for the Fall Fair, is slated at 2 p.m. Saturday. Similar performances are scheduled at 8 p.m. Saturday and at 2 p.m. next Sunday.

31 Sets Of Brothers Serve On Princeton

TOKYO —(AP)— There are more brothers serving aboard the USS Princeton than on any other Naval vessel, sailors aboard the big aircraft carrier claimed Saturday.

The 31 sets of brothers include three from Texas: Joe and John Kalenda, Rt. 4, Temple; D. E. and J. W. Batterton, Houston, and D. R. and R. L. Hatter, San Antonio.

Two More Speakers Named For Mid-Co Fort Worth Meet

Oil shale and control of money have been added to the list of topics for addresses at the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association's 33rd Annual Meeting in Fort Worth, October 14-15, Charles E. Simons, association executive vice president, announced.

Dr. Raymond Rodgers

Reese H. Taylor

Additions to the list of speakers for the meeting in the Texas Hotel were Reese H. Taylor, president of the Union Oil Company of California, Los Angeles, and Dr. Raymond Rodgers, professor of banking, New York University.

Taylor will address the meeting on "Oil Shale" at the second-day business session, while Rodgers will speak the first day on "Who Shall Control Our Money?"

Hines H. Baker, president of the Humble Oil & Refining Company, earlier accepted an invitation to address the Texas Mid-Continent meeting.

Taylor, a West Coast business and civic leader, became associated with the petroleum industry in 1938, assuming his present post with Union Oil Company. Formerly a steel executive, Taylor was only 11 years out of college when he became president of Consolidated Steel Corporation in 1933. Taylor also served a period as chief of the Iron and Steel Branch of the War Production Board during World War II.

Rodgers has held the title of Professor of Banking in New York University's Graduate school of Business Administration since 1937. A frequent speaker before banking groups, he also contributes to national publications in the field of finance and has co-authored several authoritative texts in the field of banking. Rodgers acts as consulting economists for several corporations.

Old-Age Pensioners To Get Bigger Checks From Now On

By SIGRID ARNE

WASHINGTON —(AP)— That old fellow who worked in your office until he retired a few years ago when he turned 65—

If his job was covered by the social security system he is due for a little increase this coming week in the check he gets each month from the government.

Congress raised payments to retired workers because the dollar was buying so much less than it was when the pension system was set up.

Your old friend is a widower with no children under 18 and earned $3,000 or more a year for some time before he retired, he has been getting a check of $68.50 a month. His October check will be $77.10.

If his wife still is living and is also over 65, they have been getting $102.80 a month. Now they will get $115.70.

Blanket Increase

Raises in pension checks will be $5 or two and one-half percent, whichever is bigger, but with a maximum of $8.60 a month.

The increases apply all along the line. Take a retired widower who has been getting the minimum check, $20 a month. He will now get $25. A man and wife in the minimum pension group have been getting $30, will now get $37.50.

If the worker his died and there are survivors, their checks also will increase. Survivors under the law include widow, children under 18 and—in the absence of widow and children—aged parents.

Their checks are based on how much the worker earned and the number of years he worked on jobs covered by the pension system.

Minimum Check

For example, a widow who has been getting the minimum check of $15 a month will now get $18.80. Maximum survivors' checks, paid if there is a widow and three children, will go up from $150 a month to $168.50.

People retiring after having worked at least 18 months since Jan. 1, 1951, get checks slightly higher than those who retired earlier.

The law was changed in 1951 so that workers are taxed on the first $3,600 of their annual earnings. Previously they had been taxed on the first $3,000.

Pension checks are increased for those who have worked, and have paid the higher tax, for at least 18 months.

The Pay Scale

Here is the way those differences will work out in the October checks for those who have been taxed on $3,000 and $3,600.

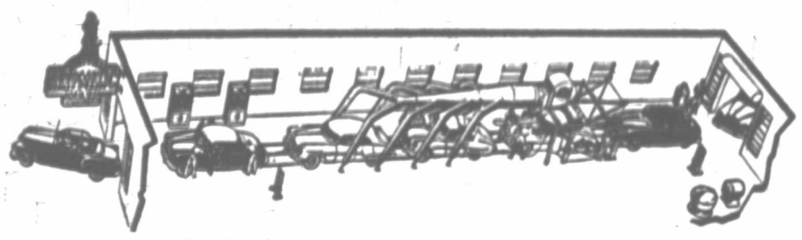

A retired widower who paid the lower tax will get $77.10 a month. The widower who has paid the higher tax for at least 18 months will get $85 a month.

A retired worker and wife under the old tax will get $115.70 a month. Under the new tax a couple will get $127.50.

If the worker in the higher pension group has died, his dependents will get higher checks. Widows, children—or aged parents if there are no other survivors—will receive from $13.80 to $63.80, depending on how much the dead worker earned or for how long he worked on an insured job. The old range was from $15 to $51.40.

Manganese, a metal used in hardening steel, is known to exist on the bottom of all oceans and, in the dioxide form, it coats ocean objects.

Harold Webb Shows Corsicana Champion

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Glad to see that smile on your face, Pardner!

The rains which came to West Texas last week really helped, didn't they? The moisture fell just right, too, for the dry farm and ranch lands to get full benefit from it. It's no wonder farmers, ranchers and folks in general are smiling as they hope for a wet Fall.

Whether the welcome rain was a drouth-breaker, we wouldn't know, but we do know the moisture, although heavier in some spots than others, was much appreciated by everyone.

Better keep that slicker handy, Pardner.

• • •

It even rained in the long-dry Goldsmith country. Harvey Conger says he got an inch and maybe more over most of his Goldsmith ranch country.

• • •

The rains, too, spurred interest in planting Winter cover and soil-building crops, according to seed dealers and agricultural workers. It now appears that such planting is feasible on most of the 66,000 acres of dryland fields as well as the 3,000 acres of irrigated croplands in Midland County. Some farmers are said to be planting primarily for Winter grazing, while others are concerned mainly with cover and soil-building. There is a lively demand for seed and for the soil conservation district's grain-fertilizer drills.

• • •

Don't forget the cover crop demonstration scheduled Tuesday afternoon at Slim O'Neal's place south of Midland. Make your plans now to attend.

• • •

Soil Conservation District notes: Hunter Midkiff, who ranches southeast of Midland, has alfalfa and barley up to a good stand on part of his irrigated land, and plans to seed the remainder as soon as possible.

F. D. Reven, who farms 15 acres originally a part of the Elmer Biszell stock farm south of Midland, has ordered rye and vetch seed to plant five acres. He has signed a working agreement with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, planning a complete conservation program on his land.

F. F. Elkin and Jack Leonard are seeding a permanent pasture mixture on 20 acres of irrigated land east of Midland. The mixture includes oats, perennial reygrass, orchard grass, Harding-grass, Kentucky 31 fescue, alfalfa and Madrid clover. Leonard also plans to drill oats and fertilizer on 40 acres south of the highway.

Members of the Reeves County 4-H Club are feeding a total of 47 lambs, most of which will be shown at the Pecos Fall Fair next month, County Agent Jimmy Taylor said.

Among those from whom the 4-H members purchased lambs are Jim Espy, Fort Davis; Johnny Bryan, Fort Stockton; Tom Elrod, Sheffield; the San Pedro Ranch, Fort Stockton; Sidney Cowan, Sierra Blanca; Maxine Oliver, Tayahvale; and W. C. Kountz, Fort Davis.

All except the Southdown lambs are to be shown at the Pecos fair. Southdowns will not be eligible at Pecos, Taylor said, but are to be shown at Fort Worth and El Paso.

Steers To Be Shown

Also, the young livestock raisers are to show about 18 steers at the fair. Four boys, Don Weinacht, Charles Weinacht, George Boyd and Otis Henson, are due to show calves at the state fair.

• • •

The following paragraph appeared in Paul Crume's "Big D" column in The Dallas Morning News just before the rains came to West Texas:

"The drouth is really getting bad in West Texas. Guy we know has been getting letters from out there with the stamps paper-clipped on."

It's different now, Paul. We again can lick 'em.

• • •

"Sure we make shady deals and we're a shade better to deal with too."

The annual Gaines County Fair and Old Settlers Reunion will be held October 10-11 in Seminole, with a well-rounded program of events scheduled.

Rodeo performances, sponsored by the Gaines County Sheriff's Posse, will be staged at 3 p.m. Friday and 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. Saturday.

Saturday will be old Settlers Day, with a big barbecue set for noon.

Officers of the Gaines County Fair Association are W. J. McMurry, president; James Phillips, Claude Hearne and A. J. Jones, vice presidents; L. G. Daugherty, secretary-treasurer, and H. C. Kyle, manager. County Agent L. H. McElroy is the general superintendent of the fair.

• • •

Houston Smith, Presidio County agent the last nine years, is another West Texan scheduled to receive a distinguished service award from the National Association of County Agents. Smith, a native of San Angelo, formerly was the agricultural agent of Coke County.

Maurine Hearn, state home demonstration leader for the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M College since 1944, left Wednesday for one year's service under the Point IV Program in South America. Her headquarters will be at La Paz, Bolivia. She is on leave from the Extension Service.

Miss Hearn will assist in training personnel in organization and developing the extension program which has been operating in Bolivia the last three years. She will have a month's briefing in Washington before flying to Bolivia.

• • •

There are a lot of mighty good reasons why farmers and livestock producers should plant supplemental pastures now. E. M. Trew, associate agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, lists some of them.

Because of the drouth, he says, perennial pastures have taken a terrific beating and livestock should not be permitted to graze them until the pastures have had a chance to come back. The plants that come back, after the rains, will be in very poor condition and if grazed off immediately, the desirable pasture plants may be lost. Then too, livestock no doubt will go into the Winter in poor condition and the cost of wintering will be much greater per animal if supplemental grazing is not provided.

Stockmen, points out Trew, who use supplemental pastures for late Fall, Winter and Spring grazing know their value not only from the standpoint of what is done for the cattle but also, for soil improvement.

The American Farmer Degree, the highest given by Future Farmers of America, will be awarded to 38 Texas FFA boys at the national convention of the organization October 14 in Kansas City, Mo.

A greater number of boys from Texas was chosen for this honor than from any other state.

The degree is limited to FFA members who have been out of high school at least one year and who are showing evidence of becoming successfully established in farming.

The Texans who will be awarded the degree are: Thomas Aaron, Quail; Cecil W. Bradshaw and Jimmy Sandlin of Cooper school in Lubbock County; Raymond Kamp, Sudan; Richard Atterbury and Keith Vandivere, Lamesa; Eddie Bingham, Meadow; G. W. Brantley, Plains; Robert Hackfeld, Roscoe; Coleman W. Cox, Jr., Alpine; Leo J. Janda, Joel R. Rosenberg and Victor Zoch, La Grange; Billy Tom McDaniel, Rockdale; Bobby Ray Holloway and Gene Smith, Henrietta; Cecil Mercer, Abilene; Bobby Joe Zirkle, Coleman.

Still More Winners

Lawrence Downe, Justin; Herbert Anderson and G. W. Gibbins, Jr., Sulphur Springs; Dudley Althaus, Elroy Behrends, both of Fredericksburg; Ralph Beshmajer, Taylor; Dick Broeding, San Marcos; Harley G. Davidson, Grainger; Bobby Dan Sorrell, Eden; W. D. Barnes and Billy Chiett, Whitney; Carroll Henry Hering, Mart; Raymond Lammert, Jr., Clifton; Jerry K. Johnson, Nacogdoches; Victor Boehl and Weldon Ray Goebel, Cuero; and Clyde R. Fischer, Victoria.

• • •

Three Plains area Future Farmers of America boys also have been named winners of the Santa Fe Railway educational awards for 1952 by Vanney Stewart, consultant, Agricultural Education, Texas Education Agency, Austin.

The winners are: A. J. Kitten of Cooper, 1951 FFA Star Lone Star Farmer of Texas; Donnie E. Stroup, Canyon, state vice president of Texas FFA Area I; and Joe N. Stephens, Lamesa, state vice president of Texas FFA Area II, and Area II public speaking winner.

The winner will receive checks from the railway sufficient to take care of all their expenses to attend the National FFA convention at Kansas City, October 13-16.

It will be the Junior Livestock Show and not the Boys' Livestock Show at the 1953 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth, January 30-February 8—in other words, girls and boys will take part in the same competition.

Previously, the only way a girl's livestock entry could compete was in the open classes, which (as the name implies) are open to the world and therefore the girl's entry was showing against the entries of adult contestants.

Extension Service Approves

The stock show directors, in changing the Boys' Show to the Junior Show, feel it is only fair that a girl who raises an animal under exactly the same conditions that a boy does should be allowed to show the animal in junior competition, said President-Manager W. R. Watt. The change meets with the approval of the officials of the State Extension Service.

The Junior Show is open to any Texas FFA or 4-H Club member and applies to steers, lambs, pigs and dairy calves. Junior exhibitors from other states will continue to compete in the open show.

A shining array of 16 silver trophies and plaques worth more than $1,000 will be awarded to top exhibitors of the National Angus Show which will be held in conjunction with the Tulsa, Okla., State Fair October 3-9.

All but two of the trophies, which were donated by the Angus Journal, have been given by Tulsa business firms. The American Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' Association and the Tulsa Fair Corporation are offering $10,000 in premiums.

Wholesale Prices, Grading Of Mutton Due OPS Relaxation

WASHINGTON —(AP)— An Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) spokesman said Saturday the agency probably will announce "some time next week" the suspension of wholesale price ceilings and removal of mandatory grading requirements on yearling mutton and mutton.

Retail prices for both varieties of meat will be covered by a 53-cents-a-pound ceiling, with slight variations in acres outside the basic (Denver) zone.

The prediction was made by Morris Chandross, assistant to the director for price operations and a member of the OPS Clearance Committee. He told a newsman he already has signed the revision but could not say whether other members of the committee had done so.

The revision, which leaves unchanged the requirements for mandatory grading and price controls on lamb, represents a compromise with producers who have sought decontrol and elimination of compulsory grading on all three meats.

Natural Gas Service is Dependable

Daddy Ringtail Thumb In A Bottle

Mugwump, Monkey, the monkey boy, was walking along the Elephant Path. He had opened a bottle of soda pop to drink.

Ss--s-s-s! Fiz-z-z-s!" said the soda pop. Little bubbles came bubbling and spewing up to the top. Mugwump had liked to hear the noise. He shook the bottle to hear it some more.

"Ss-s-s-s! Fiz-z-z-s!" What fun!

But wait. Sshhh! Don't make the noise any more. Someone was coming up the Elephant Path. The someone was Huffy Tuffy, the monkey boy. Huffy Tuffy is the huffiest—and the tuffiest—somebody in the whole forest. He says it himself.

Mugwump stepped behind a tree where Huffy Tuffy wouldn't see. Uh-oh, because Huffy Tuffy now was stopping in front of the tree to listen. Ss-s-s-s! Fiz-z-z!" This was the noise of the soda pop bubbles.

"Who's dere?" asked Huffy Tuffy. He had never learned to talk very well. He had never been to school.

"There's nobody here but us chickens," answered Mugwump. Huffy Tuffy wasn't very smart. Mugwump hoped to fool him.

"Whose chickens are you?" Huffy Tuffy asked.

"We are wild chickens who don't belong to anybody," Mugwump answered.

"Oh, I didn't know that," said Huffy Tuffy. He started to walk away, but the soda pop bubbles were bubbling again.

"Chickens don't make a noise of ss-s-s-s! fiz-z-z-z!" said Huffy Tuffy.

Quickly Mugwump struck his thumb in the bottle so it wouldn't make a noise of "Ss-s-s-! Fiz-z-z-!" any more.

Too late!

Huffy Tuffy peeped around the tree to see him. "Aha!" said Huffy Tuffy. "Soda pop!"

He reached to take the bottle away from Mugwump and to drink the soda pop up, but uh-oh, Mugwump's thumb was stuck in the bottle. It wouldn't come out. He pulled and tugged, but the thumb would not come out. The bottle would not come off.

Huffy Tuffy had to give up. He walked away with Chagrin who happened to come along just then. Mugwump had saved his soda pop all right, all right, but now how was he going to get his thumb out? Ah me, and he didn't get it out at all that day, and this is the story I'll tell you Monday. Happy day!

at the

B. E. (Slim) O'NEAL FARM

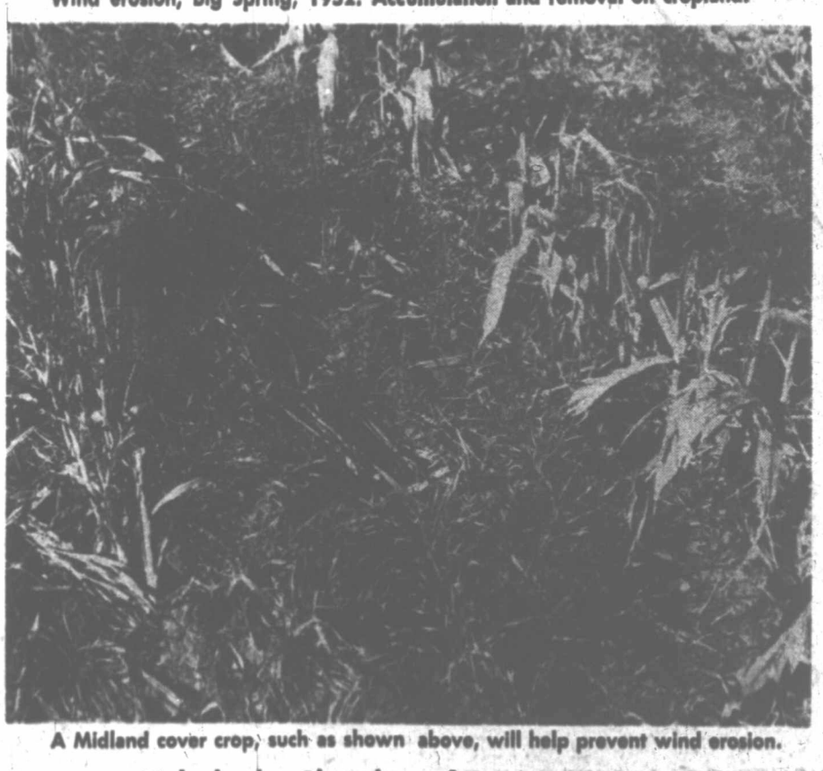

3½ miles south of Midland on Rankin Highway

A field day for the purpose of demonstrating equipment and methods of planting cover crops will be held Tuesday, Sept. 30th. This field day occurs as a result of the recent rains which facilitated planting of cover crops as an aid to reducing wind erosion and as fertility improvement of the land!

Crops to be planted include vetch, peas, rye and barley. They will be planted in the middle of cotton and sorghum still standing on irrigated and dry land, and drilled on prepared seed beds.

UNCOMPLICATED PLAN — Compact and without complicated structural detailing, this plan is intended for the moderate-income family that wants a cleanly-styled modern house with three bedrooms. The rectangular shape contains an abundance of storage and closet space. For the sake of economy, standard materials are used throughout. The house covers an area of 1,000 square feet. Location of the carport can be changed to conform to the width of the lot.

Child's Room Decorating Needs Ample Imagination

Children love colors and have well-formed ideas on what colors they prefer. It is advisable to let a child help select the colors for his or her room. The decorative scheme will not suffer, for children have natural good taste.

Letting the child participate in decorating the room increases his pride in the room. His room will be kept neater and the child's sense of responsibility developed.

Avoid Conventional

For a child's room with individuality, avoid the conventional pink or baby blue. In an infant's room, create a delicate color scheme with subtle tints like shell, sea green, peach, tan, carnation or primrose yellow. Change the colors as the child matures.

Boys like strong, clear colors. Spruce green walls, flame red chairs, bookshelves and lamps; a blue spruce bedspread and gray rug will give a boy's room both cheer and rugged character.

A wide color selection is needed in a child's room and at the same time the materials must clean easily and wear well. Decorators and architects are using washable colorizer paints made in 1,322 colors, because these are especially well adapted for use in a youngster's room.

Subtle shades give feminine charm and individuality to a girl's room. Here, lighter, more delicate colors are called for. Shades like grayed rose for walls, Wedgewood blue for ceiling, and beige or pink for floorcovering and upholstery are appropriate.

Imaginative extra touches of gaiety can be added to a child's room at little expense. Cut a panel of plywood in the form of a flower, bird, or animal; paint it in gay colors and use it as a headboard for the bed. Decorate an old chest with left-over wallpaper, or by painting it and sprinkling it with stencils.

YULE TREES

Greatest Christmas tree demand has been for balsam fir and Douglas fir. Other popular Christmas trees, in order of their production, are black spruce, red cedar, white spruce, Scotch pine and southern pine, red spruce, Virginia pine, white fir and Norway spruce.

CANARY "RADAR"

Canaries are raised primarily for their beautiful singing voices, but they have been used to detect dangerous gases in coal mines, as well as poison gases on the battlefield.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—How can cracks be caulked to keep the caulking material from falling out after it hardens?

A—Use the prepared caulking compound made for that purpose. It never hardens completely but stays plastic enough to move with the wood or other surrounding material as it expands and contracts. Caulking compound can be applied with a putty knife or a caulking gun. It can be painted.

Q—What are the new pastel roofing colors, and are pastel shingles suitable for all kinds of houses?

A—Pastel shingles are new members of an already wide and accepted family of roof colors. They are soft, neutral blends that are slightly grayed. Red, green, and blue are popular. Aside from the color, asphalt singles are not different from others and can be used anywhere that other shingles can. Personal preference should decide.

Q—What causes fireplaces to smoke?

A—Poor construction is one reason, of course. Another reason is that the flue is clogged, perhaps because the throat damper is closed. Like any other chimney, the chimney to a fireplace should be kept clean.

Q. Is varnish that is used for woodwork and doors suitable for application on oak floors?

A. If you are referring to so-called all-purpose varnish, the answer is no. Varnish used on floors should be a type made especially for that use. Other types of varnish are not tough enough to withstand the wear they receive from floor traffic.

Large Open-Room Design Will Reduce Home Building Cost

In the homes being built today, building cost is cut and greater spaciousness provided by omitting wall partition and combining living, dining and kitchen space in one roomy area. Often a playroom or utility room also is included. This open design is so compatible with today's living habits that removal of walls between rooms to form large ones is often one of the major alterations when modernizing older houses.

To make the space look larger than it is, the entire area should be given the same color treatment, the same style of furnishings, floor and window treatment.

Nature's colors, high in this year's color preferences, suggest a pleasing plan: walls of white or pale robin's-egg blue; ceiling deeper robin's-egg blue; floor covered with Cenos green asphalt tile—blue-green with white marble veining—with one inch white strips marking it off in large squares.

To carry the theme of nature's coloring still further, furnishings might be of rush, wicker, reed or wrought-iron. Slabs of marble on metal-pipe legs make handsome coffee tables and lamp tables. A flush plywood door on metal-pipe legs make a dining-table.

Growing Plants Used

Large containers sunk in the floor in a corner will hold decorative tall green growing plants. Or plants in ordinary pots grouped on the floor make a dramatic focal point of interest in the room.

Another space-making color scheme: carmel walls, cream ceiling, mauve-gray woodwork, floor of Greek Skyros marbelised beige tile; with blond wood furniture, Toledo red and leaf-green printed draperies. Kentile is a superb choice as floor covering in this large open-design room for several reasons. In new construction or a modernized house, it goes down easily over any smooth subflooring. Its smooth surface and light marbelised coloring give a sweeping flowing look and tie the sections of the room together harmoniously. Its resistance to moisture and alkalis is especially desirable where indoor gardens and plants are part of the room decoration.

'X-Ray Dwelling' Gives Inside View Of Construction

To show prospective buyers the high quality construction in a group of 318 homes erected in a Los Angeles, Calif., suburb recently, a West Coast building company opened for inspection an "X-ray house" which reveals cut-away portions of walls, floors and ceilings.

Visitors are given the opportunity to study details of construction and workmanship typical of the houses offered for sale. They they can see exactly what they would get for their money.

Officials of Milton Kauffman, Inc., the builder, say the enthusiastic public response to the idea has convinced them that home buyers today are becoming increasingly selective.

Among the quality construction features shown in the "X-ray house," are treated lumber for mud-sills and girders, termite shields of 200-gauge metal and oak floors over subflooring. A modern glass partition separates the dining area from the living room proper.

Old Dwellings Change Hands At High Rate

About 850,000 old houses were transferred from one owner to another during the first six months of 1952, according to the Federal Reserve Board.

Transfers were "somewhat more numerous than in either half of 1951 and about the same as in the near-record second half of 1950," the board said.

This statement was issued after the board had noted reports from other sources to the effect that properties are selling more slowly now than in previous months and that prices of all houses have declined.

Turning its attention to new construction, the board said it expects sales of new homes to continue at a high level or increase. It pointed out that credit regulations have been eased while personal incomes remain high.

Larger Mortgages

The board also reported that mortgages are growing bigger. The average loan, for both old and new houses, was said to have risen considerably even though the volume of mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration has declined.

For reconditioning old homes, two basic building materials — lumber and asphalt shingles — are in good supply. The Federal Reserve Board said stocks of lumber reached a post-war high at the beginning of 1952 and have not changed much since that time.

Asphalt roofing supply and demand has built up to the point where this one type of material supplies close to 90 per cent of all the roofing required annually in the United States. For older homes, asphalt shingles are suited to economical reroofing work, adding new color and fire-resistance as well as waterproofing.

PIONEER OF THE POLISHED PATES —

Humans To Become Hairless Women, Too, Lose Tresses;

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(AP)— Ladies, never smirk at a bald man. He'll have the last laugh yet.

For women—Ha, Ha, Ha!—slowly are going bald themselves.

"There is an evolutionary tendency in the human race to grow less hair—women as well as men," says Dr. H. Behrman, a leading dermatologist.

"In 200 years—perhaps more—it may be high fashion among both sexes to have no head hair."

As a man who ever year looks more like a cue ball in a billiard game, I can hardly wait. It is tough being a pioneer.

Dr. Behrman, author of a 500-page medical textbook on the scalp, has a fine cranial roof thatch himself but is all in favor of the hairless trend.

Just Vestical

"Hair is only a vestigil ornament that no longer serves a real purpose," he observed. "It used to have a protective function. But once we moved out of the trees, we no longer needed it.

"The eventual human being, man and woman, will have no hair, a longer head, large abdomen and short arms and legs.

"It's what you'd expect as a man becomes more of an indoor thinking animal, sitting on his rear more and spending more time pushing buttons."

The increasing baldness among women today he sees as a long-time evolutionary change possibly aggravated by lack of proper hair care.

"They don't brush it as vigorously or wash it as frequently as they did in the old days.

"Now they dye it, set it, wave it, bleach it—and let it fall into a set pattern. They are afraid to disturb it until their next trip to the beauty parlor.

Hair Vs. Hormones

"Women who have a tendency to baldness often find it is increased after childbirth because of a temporary lack of female hormones. Treatment with female hormones may bring back the hair, but not necessarily so."

Those dratted sex hormones seem to hold the key to the whole problem. Female hormones grow scalp hair, hinder body hair. Male hormones work just the opposite. They are responsible for the growth of body hair and the loss of head hair, which may explain why so many bald men are sued in divorce court as wandering boudoir Tarzans.

His solution for normal male baldness, which is a product of heredity, growing older and hormone secretions, is:

Bricklayers To Get First Pension Fund

NEW YORK—(AP)—The first pension fund for bricklayers in the United States has been established in New York City with a fund of $1,635,937 contributed by employers over a period of a year and a half.

More than 8,000 AFL union bricklayers are covered when they reach 65. Approximately 1,150 contractors contribute to the fund.

Benefits range from $20 a month for bricklayers 65 or more, who retire now, up to $100 monthly for those who work for 40 years. The pension is in addition to government social security. It was announced by the Building Trades Employers Association along with a new two-year agreement with the bricklayers calling for $3.55 per hour in wages.

Casualties in Korea

WASHINGTON—The Department of Defense Saturday night announced the following Texas casualties in the Korean area:

Killed in action, Army: Cpl. Joe E. Barnes, Comyn.

Wounded, Army: Pvt. Bobby G. Muse, Cleburne.

Wounded, Marine Corps: Second Lt. Lewis B. Bell, Houston; Pfc. Alberto S. Cadena, San Antonio; Pfc. Anthony Logan, Beaumont; Pfc. Charles A. Loven, Harlingen; Pfc. Charles A. Paradise, Irving.

Draft Board In Midland Gets Fewer Appeal Cases

Only two-tenths of one per cent of the men registered with the Midland draft board have appealed for deferments. This compares with a Texas-wide record of one-half of one per cent in appeals.

Mrs. Neil L. Roberts of the draft board here revealed the figures Saturday. Out of 2,480 registrants from Midland, Sterling, and Glasscock Counties, she has had five appeal cases.

Three of the requests for deferment were turned down by the state board. One case was granted a deferment, and the other case is still awaiting a decision.

The official record for Texas since June, 1948, shows that only 3,657 men appealed from local board decisions out of a total of 665,041 men classified.

From the 3,657 appeals, 2,033 men were retained subject to military service. The balance was placed in deferred classes.

Only 44 cases have gone as far as the President of the United States in the four years of draft board operation. The local boards were upheld in 21 of the cases.

Any registrant may appeal the decision of a local board if he does so within 10 days after his classification decision has been mailed to him. Split decisions by the state appeal board go to the President.

"The small number of appeals is a tribute to the justness and wisdom of local board decisions," said Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state draft director.

Lieutenant Schwartz praised the appeal system by saying, "We in Selective Service are proud of the appeal structure as another safeguard to individual liberty."

Unsanitary Water Source Disclosed

AUCKLAND, NEW ZEALAND —(AP)—Some of the people of the small New Zealand mining town of Ohai have been drinking their own bath water, diluted, and are none the worse for it.

Water for the miners' hostel and 16 houses was being drawn from a stream into which, higher up, flowed water from the miners' bath houses.

Midland Schools To Start Radio Programs October 2

Midland Schools On the Air will begin its third year Thursday, October 2, at 10:15 a.m. over Radio Station KJBC.

The programs originate in various schools of Midland, and, according to listener reports, have been well received by radio audiences in this area and even in Mexico.

Purpose of the project is to acquaint the public with the school program and to provide a meaningful and developmental experience for the boys and girls who take part, as well as their classmates who "tune in," Supt. Frank Monroe pointed out Saturday.

Last year's programs included a variety of subjects from fairy tales to classical music. One program featured singing by the entire West Elementary student body; another reviewed the history of South Elementary.

Each school will broadcast twice during the year. The schedule for the first half of the school year as announced by R. C. Michener, music director, follows:

October 2—Senior High Band.
October 9—Physical Education—High School.
October 16—Cowden Junior High Band.
October 23—High School A Cappella choir.
October 30—Lamar Elementary School.
November 6—High School Speech Department.
November 13—West Elementary.
November 20—Sam Houston.
November 27—(Thanksgiving Program) South Elementary.
December 4—David Crockett Elementary.
December 18—(Christmas Program) High School A Cappella Choir.
January 8—Cowden Junior High Choir.
January 15—Terminal Elementary.
January 22— North Elementary.
January 29—Carver High School.
February 5—De Zavala.
February 12—San Jacinto Band.

Texas' 120-Year-Old School Closes For Want Of Pupils

SAN FELIPE—(AP)—San Felipe, where the first English school in Texas was believed to have opened some 120 years ago, doesn't have a school this year.

New laws closed its doors.

The school simply did not have a high enough daily average attendance to keep operating under the new Gilmer-Aikin public school laws.

So the San Felipe children are going this year to Sealy to school.

Time was when San Felipe was one of the most important towns in Texas—the Texas of Indians and struggling colonists. Stephen F. Austin laid out San Felipe on the Brazos River, down in what is now Southeast Texas, as the capital of his colony in the 1820's.

It is believed that Thomas J. Pilgrim founded the state's first English school there in 1829 or thereabouts.

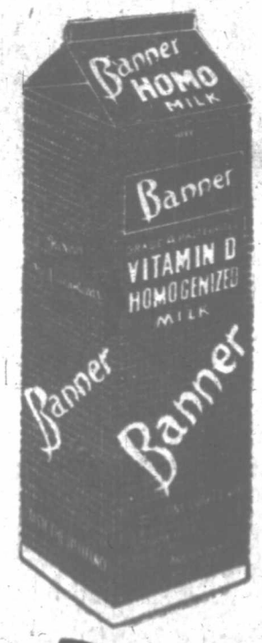

San Felipe has about 300 population now. Average daily attendance at school last year was 14.82. The Gilmer-Aikin bill requires an average of 15.

But the San Felipe school district still exists. It's the understanding here that if the scholastic population increases enough within the next two years to meet requirements, San Felipe once again will have a school.

Midland B&PW Launches National Business Women's Week

CHAIRMEN—Much of the success of Business Women's Week will depend on the committee chairmen. Shown, left to right, are Cordelia Taylor, Mrs. J. B. McCoy, Ruth Donnell, T. K. White, Annebelle Anderson, Mildred Brown, Maureen White and Mrs. O. M. Luton. Other chairmen are Mrs. Roy Gardner, Mrs. J. C. Atkinson and Mary Elder. Helen G. Irwin is president of the National Federation.

SIGNING PROCLAMATION—Mayor Perry Pickett makes it official by signing the proclamation of Business Women's Week. Looking on are Mrs. J. B. McCoy, left, chairman of public affairs, and Cordelia Taylor, president. The B&PW theme of the year will be "The Ramparts We Build." The National Federation of Business and Professional Women numbers 160,000 in 2,700 clubs located in every state and in Hawaii, Alaska and the District of Columbia.

Midland Camera Club Studies Mechanics

Plans were made for the members and their families to take a photographic field trip October 12 to Big Spring State Park. Mrs. Joe V. Birdwell reported on the San Angelo art center's annual exhibit, adding that camera clubs are invited to submit pictures in the competition.

The group elected A. V. Reid club representative to the Guadalupe Youth Center meeting Saturday. Mrs. George Gibson became a new member. Following the program members showed colored vacation slides taken in Cuba, Jamaica, Mexico, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Oregon, Minnesota and Washington, D. C. It was announced next week's program will be on indoor portraiture.

Others attending were Betty Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Reid, G. G. McNary, A. J. Six, Larry Hecht, E. E. Reigle and guests, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. MacDonald of Wichita, Kan.

Double Ring Vows Unite Midland Couple

Vows were solemnized Saturday in the First Methodist Church for Tillie King and Owen William Fauntleroy, Jr., both of Midland. The Rev. James B. Sharp, pastor of the St. Mark's Methodist Church, performed the double ring ceremony

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. William F. Sneed of Fort Worth. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Fauntleroy, Sr., of Artesia, N. M.

Ruth Ann Farrer, organist, and Mrs. Wayne Carlton of Tucumcari, N. M., soloist, furnished a program of nuptial music including "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Candelabra, baskets of white chrysanthemums and green woodwardia fern adorned the altar. Individual candles were placed on the altar rail which was entwined with white flowers and fern.

Given In Marriage By Uncle

Nell Peel Is Maid Of Honor

Her nosegay consisted of a white orchid nesting in stephanotis and satin streamers tied in sweetheart knots. For something borrowed, she wore the wedding gown of her aunt, Mrs. Joe Salman of Midland and for something new, a string of baby pearls. The traditional something blue was a garter and something old, a gold coin dated 1824.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Joe Salman of Midland and Mrs. Henry G. Phillips of Lubbock. They wore dresses in tones of mint green and yellow. The three attendants carried bouquets of American beauty roses in a shade which matched their rosy linen opera pumps.

The flower girl was Becky Fauntleroy of Artesia, N. M., niece of the bridegroom, who wore a diminutive copy of the bridal gown. She wore white satin ballet slippers and carried a tiny basket of red rose petals.

Jack Fauntleroy of Artesia served as his brother's best man. Candlelighters were A. M. Derrick of Midland and John Goodrich of Healdton, Okla., and ushers were Goodrich; A. K. Bergstrom of Fort Worth; Ben Kamprath of Lafayette, La., Melton Brown of Odessa, and Connie Mac Hood, Jim Watson and Derrick of Midland.

Chooses Black Lace

After October 15 the couple will be at home at 404 West Hicks Street.

The United Council of Church Women will meet at 3 p.m. Monday in the First Methodist Church. A program will follow the business meeting. A nursery will be provided.

Campers should never start fires with kerosene or gasoline. They flare up too easily. If these fuels must be kept in a camping area, store them in galvanized steel fuel cans. These have air-tight covers to prevent explosive fumes from circulating near camp fires.

Alma Faye Cowden

Alma Faye Cowden, Wales H. Madden, Jr. To Read Vows

The engagement and approaching marriage of Alma Faye Cowden to Wales Hendrix Madden, Jr., son of Mrs. Wales Hendrix Madden of Amarillo, has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cowden.

The event was announced Thursday at a tea in the home of Mrs. Dopald Oliver. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Ida Fay Cowden and Mrs. Wright Cowden.

The couple plan to be married November 8.

Decorations Described

Covering the tea table was a cloth of white satin and Nylon net with tiny daisies and dewdrops accenting the ruffles. The centerpiece was fashioned of white stock, smilax and phalanoepsis orchids highlighted by tiny bisque cherubs.

Chrysanthemums were used throughout the rest of the entertaining rooms. The piano held an arrangement of crimson pocket chrysanthemums and the den was decorated with white spider chrysanthemums. An arrangement of large yellow chrysanthemums was placed on the guest table.

Members of the receiving line were Mrs. Wales Madden, mother of the prospective bridegroom; Mrs. Clyde Cowden, mother of the bride-elect; the honoree, and the hostesses.

Others Listed

Others in the houseparty were Mary Lee Cowden, Barbara York, Norma Jean Hubbard, Mrs. Hugh Corrigan, III, Mrs. Frank Cowden, Jr., Mrs. Frank Cowden, Sr., Mrs. O. J. Hubbard, Mrs. Guy Cowden, Mrs. M. C. Ulmer, Mrs. Ruth Scharbauer, Mrs. Essie Stafford, Mrs. George McEntire, Mrs. J. O. Nobles, Mrs. Al Cowden, Mrs. R. B. Cowden, Mrs. Clarence Hale, Mrs. F. A. Nelson, Mrs. Ben Black, Mrs. Evans Dunn, Mrs. Edwin Magruder, Mrs. Marion Flynt.

Mrs. H. T. Wolcott, Mrs. George Glass, Mrs. J. W. Starr, Mrs. Kirk Johnson, Mrs. Mackey Gibbs of San Angelo, Mrs. H. J. Phillips, Mrs. Bert Conly, Mrs. Roy Parks, Mrs. B. H. Blakeney, Mrs. Harvey Conger and Mrs. T. L. Roach, Mrs. M. T. Johnson and Mrs. Julian Bivins, all of Amarillo.

400 Stradivarian Violins In Nation

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—There are 30 Stradivari violins in Los Angeles County, according to the latest tabulation by musicologists.

Of the 550 known Strads, 400 of them are in the United States. The heavy concentration in the Los Angeles area is the result of lucrative motion picture work which has drawn many top violinists.

Most famous Strad owner here is Jascha Heifetz, who owns the instrument once belonging to Ferdinand David, 19th Century violin expert. Others include Sascha Jacobson, ex-concertmaster, and David Frisina, present concertmaster of the Los Angeles Philharmonic; Eudice Shapiro, RKO studio orchestra; Israel Baker, Los Angeles Chamber Symphony, and Toscha Seidel, Paramount studio concertmaster.

The maker of these instruments was Antinio Stradivari, best known of the Cremona, Italy, violin-making family. A Stradivari violin today is worth $20,000 to $75,000.

Hydrogen peroxide is a good bleach for light scorch stains. The action of the peroxide is quicker if a few drops of ammonia water are added just before use. Apply the solution to the stain with a medicine dropper or sponge the stain with it, then sponge carefully or rinse with water.

Order Of Rainbow Installs Officers In Public Ceremony

Choir Installed

Serving as installing officers were Mrs. Faye Gwyn, installing officer; Mrs. Zora Hambleton, installing chaplain; Mrs. Keith Mikeworth, installing recorder; Mrs. Dewey Pope, installing marshall; and Mrs. Vera McLeRoy, installing musician.

Sue Talkington

After the installation, Miss Talkington announced that her theme is "Faith, Love and Service." Her colors are blue and silver, her flower is the blue carnation, and her motto is "Our Faith is Our Citadel."

The Rev. Clarence M. Collins spoke on "Faith, Love and Service," and Miss Greathouse sang "There Is No Secret What God Can Do." Accompanist for the solo was Miss Burnside.

Awards Made

Service bars were presented by Mrs. W. N. Keisling and Miss Talkington presented gifts to her installing officers. She introduced her parents and presented them with blue carnations.

The meeting was opened with a choir number and a drill by outgoing officers, who formed a rainbow with colored pompoms and sang "My Rainbow." Wesley Pittman, DeMolay members, presented the flag at the altar and Mrs. N. W. Talkington, mother of the new worthy advisor, attended the altar.

Closing number was a solo, "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," by Miss Greathouse.

LOST 33 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour into a pint bottle. Add 12 ounces of grapefruit juice. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. No starvation diet the Barcentrate way.

LOST 33 POUNDS

"I cannot praise Barcentrate enough," writes Mrs. Lela Butler, 816 Washington Ave., Waco, Texas. "It has done wonders for me. I don't have that tired, worn-out feeling any more. I weighed 170 pounds when I started to take Barcentrate. I now weigh 137."

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

A boy is pretty much the same the world over—even if he happens to be a king.

So . . . two of the prized possessions of 17-year-old Feisal, King of Iraq, going back with him on the Queen Elizabeth to his homeland are a portable radio and a rifle.

Why would the young king, who has been traveling in America, be intrigued with an American rifle when he can take his choice of elephant guns? The answer is simple to an American boy — he admires the small bore of the rifle.

This and other interesting news about the king is passed to us by Clifford McCall, Jr., who as a member of the U. S. State Department, traveled with the king on his trip around America. McCall, who is in his twenties and can well understand the whims of a 17-year-old, comments on his "King and I" role:

Has Variety Of Interests

"It is amazing to see the wonderful poise and the variety of interests that King Feisal displays. Everything he saw in America fascinated him. He enjoys mechanical things—such as farm machinery and cars—and he was intrigued with the Ford assembly line, particularly in the riddle of how hoods and bodies are slapped together with the colors always coming out even."

More than anything, perhaps, the king enjoys his portable radio. He loves Latin music in particular, and dances the Samba and the Mamba. He's mad about American jazz and Louis Armstrong is his favorite, McCall says.

On the other hand he is a fan of Western movies and loves cowboys. His antique gun collection, which has been added to in this country, now includes a Kentucky hunting rifle and a .45 frontier pistol, which to him is symbolic of the West.

Another hobby which the king and American boys have in common is photography. He took hundreds of pictures on tour, says McCall, and varied the interest by using black and white and color film, and movie cameras. At the Giants-Dodgers baseball game he showed unusual skill in clicking the shutter at just the right peak action each time.

He is not without a sense of humor, and at one point, confronted with a battery of photographers and reporters, he turned the tables on them by asking them to "hold it" while he snapped his own pictures.

Feisal makes it plain that being a king is serious business, but he doesn't let the fact that he is a direct descendant of Mohammed interfere with his fun. Says McCall:

"The king manages to play and enjoy taste treats like any young boy—he drinks the favorite American cola drink at the drop of a hat, loves our steaks and was particularly fond of abalone, a shell-fish food he ate in San Francisco. He also is fascinated with Chinese foods."

Plays Ping Pong

McCall enjoyed playing table tennis with the king, although he found it slightly embarrassing to beat him. Feisal's favorite sport is cricket, which he learned to play while attending Harrow in England. Hunting is another exciting pastime for him and he enjoys swimming.

And if you envy a king's life—keep in mind that his role is no royal bed of roses. He must spend his life being groomed as a king and watched over like a king, but fortunately for him, enjoys the role.

He enjoyed meeting American teen-agers, and thinks most young people are interesting wherever one meets them. He believes that young Americans should spend their youth exploring politics and not "making up their minds about candidates" until they have analyzed the subject thoroughly.

Feisal's favorite subject is history and he was well acquainted with the history of America—wars, heros and culture. One thing on his trip he didn't accomplish and sadly regrets is not having seen an American football game.

But practice scrimmages and exhibition games being played around the country at this season were just missed by a hair in each city.

Jean McMillian

Jean McMillian, Joseph Pluta Plan Wedding In November

The announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Jean McMillian to Joseph S. Pluta was made at a tea Saturday in the home of the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. J. Guy McMillian.

Miss McMillian, in a gown of frosty pink net with a maroon cumberbund, received guests with her mother and Mrs. Joseph Pluta, of Kirkland Lake, Canada, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

The couple is planning an evening wedding November 14 in the Trinity Episcopal Church. The Rev. R. J. Snell, rector, will officiate.

PLAN WEDNESDAY MEET

The Ladies Golf Association of the Midland Country Club will hold a special meeting at 9 a.m. Wednesday in the clubhouse. Officers are urging that all members be present.

Miss McDade Is Honoree For Gift Tea

Mrs. David R. Holster and Mrs. Jack R. Walton were hostesses for a gift tea Saturday afternoon in the Walton home, 1308 West Michigan Street, honoring Mary Katherine McDade, bride-elect of Harry W. Bryson.

Miss McDade and Bryson, both of Midland, will be married sometime in October. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. J. R. McDowell of Elkhart and parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bryson of Houston.

Assisting in the houseparty for the Saturday tea were Reta Beights, Lunelle Zeck, Ruth Slatton, Mrs. R. L. Maddox, Jr., and Mrs. Gilliam Abbott.

Green and white, chosen colors of the honoree, were featured in decorations. Centering the refreshment table was a large, white wedding-bell cake, adorned with a white satin bow and inscribed with the names "Mary and Harry" in green letters. Individual cakes in green surrounded the large cake. A Chinese linen cloth and silver and crystal appointments completed the setting.

Sixty-five were included on the guest list for the occasion.

Baptists Observe Week Of Prayer

The Calvary Baptist Church held a series of meetings last week in observance of the Mary Hill Davis Week of Prayer.

The general theme was "The Western States." The Baptist Brotherhood launched the meetings with a program Sunday night on the topic, "Westward Ho."

The Tuesday program, "Ho, Everyone," was led by Mrs. H. A. Wells. Wednesday Mrs. B. L. Mason conducted the program on "Channels of Blessings." Members of the Gene Newton Circle took part on the program.

The respective topics for the Thursday and Friday programs were "Give Me This Water" and "New Way, New Walk, New Wonder." Mrs. Claude St. John, assisted by the Katie and Alvin Hatton Circle members of the Letha Saunders Circle led the latter.

Approximately 26 members attended the series.

Mrs. Charles S. Hunter

Barcus-Hunter Vows Read In Fort Worth

Mary Barcus of Fort Worth and Charles Shepherd Hunter of Midland exchanged vows at 8 p.m. Saturday in the St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Fort Worth. The Rev. Lewis F. Martin officiated.

Dr. and Mrs. William Shelton Barcus of Fort Worth are the parents of the bride. Hunter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hunter, 1608 West Tennessee Street.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin and imported magdalene lace, fashioned with a deep oval yoke. The self-scalloped pointed bertha formed tiny cap sleeves and made a deep V in the back. A French lace design at the hipline of the dress extended into a wide panel of lace which covered the formal train She wore lace, opera length gauntlets.

Her full length veil of illusion was caught to a pearl encrusted heirloom lace cap which had been worn by the bride's mother. She carried a bouquet of gardenias centered with green orchids.

Attendants Named

Natalee McGee of Fort Worth and Mrs. W. R. Thompson, III, were the maid and matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. W. J. Harriss of Fort Worth, cousin of the bride; Mrs. M. E. Laswell of San Antonio, also the bride's cousin; June Abbey of San Antonio, and Grace De Long of Reading, Pa.

They were attired identically in gowns of emerald green velveteen fashioned with wide, rounded necklines and short sleeves. The formal length skirts were extremely full. They wore half hats of matching velvet leaves and carried cascade bouquets of gardenias.

J. D. Hunter served as his son's best man. Groomsmen were John Hunter, brother of the bridegroom; Gilbert Sevier, Bill Kerr, Bob Hyatt and Richard Berry, all of Midland. Ushers were Jack Warren, David Georgina, Jr., and Bill Price, all of Midland; Jack Hensley of Lubbock and James Du Bose of Fort Worth, cousin of the bride.

Reception In Rivercrest Country Club

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Rivercrest Country Club. A wedding cake centered the polished table. At one end stood an epergne filled with white carnations and at the other a nine-branched candelabra entwined with smilax.

The bride attended Sweet Briar College in Virginia and later was graduated from the University of Texas where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi Sorority.

A graduate of Texas Technological College, Hunter also attended New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, N. M.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will establish a residence in Denver City.

Out-of-city guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Wait and Mrs. Bernice Russ of Carlsbad, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. William Kerr and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McKague of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. White and Elizabeth White of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. White, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. White, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. White and Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Wulff of Brady; Mrs. W. F. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Willoughby of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. John M. Barcus and family of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Du Bose of Longview; Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith of Dallas, and A. E. Russ, Jr., of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Book Review Tea To Be Held By Council Of Church Women

Mrs. William P. Slard of Midland, formerly of Duncan, Okla., will give a book review when the Midland Council of Church Women meets at 3 p.m. Monday in the First Methodist Church.

She is to review "Miracle at Carville" by Betty Martin. Mrs. S. P. Hall is to introduce the speaker, and after the review, Mrs. R. B. Lamberson, who spent two years in the interior of South America, will give the real story of Pete, the Pig.

Mrs. E. B. VanSaun will preside for the meeting and Mrs. R. Luther Kirk will give the opening prayer. A silver tea will follow the program.

Ushers for the afternoon are to be Mrs. J. M. Prothro, First Methodist Church; Mrs. N. G. Willington, St. Andrews Presbyterian; Mrs. J. P. Carlson, Jr., Asbury Methodist; Mrs. Albert Kelly, Catholic; Mrs. J. P. Ruckman, Trinity Episcopal; and Mrs. Bill Matthews, St. Mark's Methodist.

Churches affiliated with the Council are the First Methodist, Asbury Methodist, St. Mark's Methodist, First Presbyterian, St. Andrews Presbyterian, First Christian and Trinity Episcopal.

Boone Class Officers Meet

Mrs. Ray Seifert, 1302 Sparks Street, entertained officers, group captains and co-captains of the Boone Bible Class, First Methodist Church with a coffee Friday morning.

The devotional was led by Mrs. George Vannaman, president, and yearbooks were distributed by Mrs. Seifert. During the business session, plans were discussed for a get-acquainted project for the class.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with pyracantha and marigolds in a large brandy snifter.

Attending were Mrs. Joe Birdwell, Mrs. H. L. Landua, Mrs. J. C. Mayes, Mrs. Glenn Shoemaker, Mrs. Vannaman, Mrs. J. C. Wilson, Mrs. W. C. Old Objects Of Art Scanned By Experts

CARBONDALE, Ill. —(AP)— Experts are trying to crack the mystery of weird carvings and paintings on walls of caves and rock shelters in South Illinois.

Figures represent mythological characters, the sun, the swastika and animal life. Irvin Feithman, curator of archaeology at Southern Illinois University, says there is no tradition among living Indians to explain Southern Illinois' earliest art works. The explanation may come from digging into prehistoric villages.

New Directory Limns City Populace, Facts, Features

Winter, but not any Summer. Also three Forests, but Trees are missing. And a Moon without any Sky.

But what kind of a story is this? Hudspeth's Midland City Directory for 1952 has come off the press, and it is full of the names of Midlanders.

The alphabetical list of names of residents and business and professional concerns located near the front of the 921 page reference book is full of information on Midlanders.

The Smiths outnumber the Jones. There are more than 200 names listed under Smith, with slightly more than 150 Jones carried on the roster. Also referred to are other Smiths that spell their names Smyth, Schmid, Schmidt and Schmitt. Add the wives and children that go with the names, and there would be more than 500 Midland Smiths.

The Whites outnumber the Blacks, since there are in excess of 50 Whites, and only a few more than 25 Blacks. There is one Miser, and seven Savages. Also two Lights, but only one Dark. And a lone Jonas.

Versatile Smiths

The Smith people are a versatile group. Their occupations run from roughneck to geophysicist. And the Jones class is well represented. They can boast almost anything from a janitor to a vice president.

(This may be so the girls can track down that boy friend who claims to be single and find out the whole truth. And then, if he has claimed to be a wealthy oil man or cattle rancher, the young women can also look up his occupation in the book. Could be he is only a dishwasher at the corner restaurant.)

The long list in the alphabetical section covers more than 280 pages, and it ranges from the "A-1 Bit and Tool Company" to "Zwetbel, George H., Jr." at the end.

Numerical Phones

There is a handy section in the reference book that lists telephone numbers in numerical order. If you forgot a friend's name, but remember the telephone number, you can look it up. The telephone guide shows numbers from 21000 to 72256. There are more than 15,000 telephones in Midland.

The classified business directory at the end of the book has a variety of occupations, ranging from "abstracters" in the beginning to "yarn-retail" at the end.

There is a directory of householders that makes it easier to find a Midland resident if you know his address or to determine who lives where.

Vital Statistics

According to the volume, there are three airlines, two radio stations, and one newspaper, The Reporter-Telegram. There also are two banks and two hospitals. There are five hotels with 555 rooms, and 25 churches representing 20 denominations. And we have the headquarters or branch offices of more than 400 Permian Basin oil companies.

The book lists the main occupations of Midland as oil, cattle and agriculture. The city has an area of 13 square miles, and it is 2,780 feet above sea level.

For those interested in education, we have eight school buildings and a public library that houses 25,000 books.

And if you are inclined to think of Midland in the terms of the oil industry, remember that it serves a trade area in a radius of 75 miles with a population of 120,000.

Also the area produces approximately 50,000 Hereford feeder calves each year.

The city is located as being halfway between Fort Worth and El Paso, and it is served by five bus lines.

Apparently Midlanders believe in joining organizations. There are Elks, Eagles, Lions, Kiwanian, Rotarians, and an infinite variety of other social and business groups. Listed under organizations, you can find almost any organization represented from Alcoholics Anonymous to the League of Women Voters.

SHELLS AND BELLS

Sea shells take the place of church bells in Kyoto, Japan, where Shinto priests call the people to worship by blowing into giant conchs, which produce a sound similar to that of a foghorn.

EVANGELINE'S GRAVE

Concert Observes Edison Anniversary

NEW YORK—(AP)—A recent noonday concert in Manhattan's Bryant Park of oldtime Edison cylinders celebrated the seventy-fifth anniversary of the day when Edison got the ideas that lead to the phonograph.

The cylinders were played on a machine valued at $30 about 40 years ago. The horn, concealed in a cabinet, gave out music that was picked up by microphone and transmitted to 200 listeners in the park. The program was sponsored by the New York Public Library and a savings bank.

If you feel you must have a snack before you go to bed, milk or fruit is ideal. Anything heavier may cause insomnia.

First Christian Pastor To Speak At Special Service Tuesday

The Rev. Clyde Lindsley, pastor of the First Christian Church, will be guest speaker Tuesday at the special service planned in observance of the publication of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

The service will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church. Sponsor organization will be the Midland Ministerial Association. Mr. Lindsley's topic will be "The Word of Life in Living Language."

This revised version represents 15 years of work by 32 outstanding Biblical scholars who revised the entire text of the Bible and put it into modern language.

The new version is the official publication of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States.

Complimentary copies of the new edition are to presented by the Ministerial Association to the following: Mary Jane Miller, representing the Youth Council of Midland; Perry Pickett, mayor; Frank Monroe, superintendent of schools; Mrs. Matthew Lynn, representing a Christian home, and Noel Oates, representing Church School.

The Rev. Lewis Waterstreet, pastor of the St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, will be in charge of the service.

Women's Auxiliary Hears Reports Of Committee Chairmen

The group met in the Nurses Home. Mrs. Milton J. Loring, general chairman for the recent style show, reported on the event. The group voted to contribute part of the proceeds toward the purchase of an air-conditioned oxygen tent for cardiac patients.

Mrs. Harry Murphy, social chairman, reported on entertainment for the nurses and asked that anyone having extra tickets for civic or cultural events telephone the director of nurses who will distribute them among the nurses.

Mrs. Harry J. Russell reported that plans are being made to organize a new class to train Ladies in Yellow. A report on the sewing room was given by Mrs. Kate Black and Mrs. R. C. Maxson discussed the auxiliary library project. Mrs. Maxson announced new books and magazines for the hospital patients.

A talk on the Fall plans of the hospital was given by Burton Sears, hospital administrator.

Guests and new members attending were Mrs. Joe Peoples, Ola Boles, Mrs. Harry Krist, Mrs. E. VanDen Bark, Mrs. Eugene Bell, Mrs. A. W. Allen, Mrs. W. B. Hamilton and Mrs. Charles Langdon.

LIONS CLUB SPONSORED—

'Irby Weaver Night' Event Set Monday In Cafeteria

"Irby Weaver Night" is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the high school cafeteria, under the sponsorship of the Midland Lions Club. Dr. Norman Maberry is in charge of the event.

An old-fashion box-supper will be the highlight of the occasion, with other special entertainment also scheduled.

Irby Weaver is the blind operator of the news-cigar stand in the Post Office lobby, and proceeds from the Monday night event will help in paying Irby's expenses to a school where he will train with a seeing-eye dog which is being purchased for him.

Sponsors said all Lions and their ladies and other interested persons are invited and urged to attend.

Band To Play

The Lions Club International Convention Band will present a concert as a special entertainment feature.

Weaver came to Midland several years ago from El Paso, and the Lions Club, in line with its major objective of sight conservation and blind work, assisted him in opening his news-cigar stand. He has never had a seeing-eye dog.

The regular meeting of the Lions Club will be held Wednesday night in the Cowden Junior High School Cafeteria.

Service League Fetes Provisional Members

Members of the Midland Service League were introduced to new provisional members at a coffee Friday morning in the home of Mrs. Lynn Durham, 1707 West Holloway Street, honoring the provisional group.

New provisional members are Mrs. Paul Anderson, Mrs. Walter Walne, Mrs. James R. Sharp, Mrs. Gilbert Tompson, Mrs. Kirk Johnson, Mrs. Alvin Bauman, Mrs. George Bush, Mrs. Irby Dyer, Mrs. Flake Tompkins, Jean McMillian, Mrs. Thomas Marinis, Mrs. Frank Paup, Mrs. W. C. Tillett, Mrs. James R. Scurlock and Mrs. Kenneth A. Swanson.

The coffee preceded a two-month training period, when provisional members will be instructed on the background and activities of Midland. They will also learn ways in which the league serves Midland and the duties and obligations of league members.

Heading the receiving line at Friday's coffee were Mrs. Murry Fasken, league president, and Mrs. William C. Liedtke, Jr., supervisor of the provisional group. Also assisting in receiving guests was Mrs. Durham.

Mrs. J. W. Starr and Mrs. A. E. Pettit presided at the refreshment table, assisted by Mrs. Frank Cowden, Jr., and Mrs. Harvey Herd.

The refreshment table, which was laid with a white linen cloth and silver appointments, was centered with an arrangement of saracaena and bronze chrysanthemums.

Serving on the hostess committee were Mrs. Cowden, Mrs. Herd and Mrs. Durham.

Approximately 60 league members attended.

Midland Firemen Answer Two Calls

Midland firemen answered an alarm at 2:45 p.m. Friday to 3114 West Illinois Street, where a Phillips Petroleum Company house had become ignited. G. S. Knox was the tenant.

Firemen said a child evidently was playing with matches and ignited a curtain. The fire was out on arrival of firemen.

Another run was made at 5:16 p.m. to Golf Course Road to extinguish at pick-up truck fire. Slight damage was reported.

PUNCTURE WOUND

THE BULLDOG

TEXAS HIGH SCHOOL PRESS ASSOCIATION FOUNDED 1923

BULLDOG EDITORIAL

Confidence, ability, success—and the greatest of these is confidence! Ability can do nothing without confidence. Success is sometimes short-lived, while confidence can give us the will power to "try, try again."

As this new year starts, each and every one of us will have a job to do—a statue to build. It may be large, it may be small; but without confidence, this school life would be incomplete.

In doing our part we first need to have confidence ourselves; and then we need to share it with our fellow students in order to form a combination of school spirit and cooperation; for we cannot stand as one body without that combination!

Although this year may not be the best one we have ever seen—by having confidence at the head of the list while doing our job, and putting ability and success secondary, this year can certainly prepare us for the future!

Thespians Learn Cues For 'Drahma' Show In Assembly

By BILL ROBITSEK

If you happen to see any girls walking around being fishes or teapots, or any boys who look as if they are sneaking home at night, don't worry. It isn't contagious.

It's just members of the third period dramatics class practicing up for their assembly next Wednesday.

The assembly last Wednesday got everyone in the mood for 'Howdy, You All Week." A Western theme dominated the numbers on the program which was "emceed" by John McGuigan.

Ann Shelton sang "Life Gets Tedious, Don't It?" accompanied on the piano by Janice Hill. Anne was dressed in tattered overalls, an ancient straw hat, and sported a huge red bandana.

"Along the Navajo Trail" and "High Noon" were the two songs sung by Sally Breeze, accompanied on the organ by Gerry Geisler.

A student from junior high, Margie Wise, sang and yodled "I Want to Be A Cowboy's Sweetheart" and "Kisses On Paper."

Four numbers were played by Eddie Tekell and George Brown on the steel guitar and drums, "Steel Guitar Rag," "Boogie Woogie," "Roadside Rag," and "Panhandle Rag." They also accompanied the last number, a duet by Lanetta Early and Shirley Henderson, "Down the Trail of Aching Hearts," followed by an encore, "Detour."

A speader, Mr. Dan C. Pitt, was introduced. He talked on "Hi-Y," and "Tri-Hi-Y," two clubs which will be introduced into the school this year. The clubs are affiliated with the nationally-known YMCA, and are dedicated to four ideals; clean speech, clean scholarship, clean athletics, and clean living. Both clubs are non-sectarian.

Mr. Pitt expressed the hope that many Midland students will be seen at the "Hi-Y" conference to be held in Big Spring on October 4.

Try-Outs Are Due For Juniors' Play

"Seven Sisters" is the title of the comedy chosen by Miss Harris for the junior play, which is to be given late October or early November. The plot revolves around a mother who wants to marry off her seven daughters. There is a case of mistaken identity, and a million laughs. The story leaps from one hilarious situation to another.

The cast as well as the audience will have a treat this year, as the setting is in Hungary, and there is great opportunity for working with costumes.

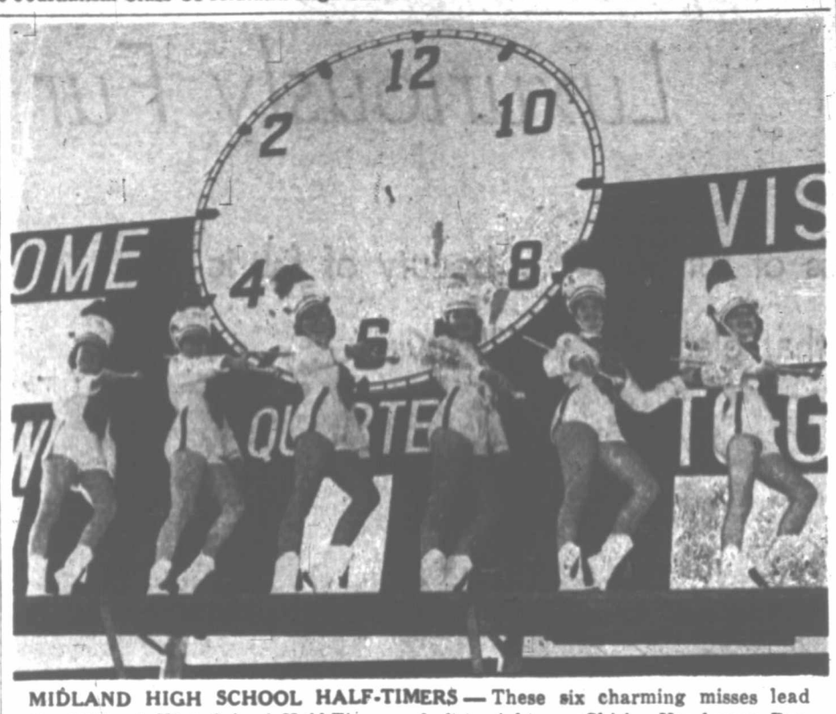

Tryouts for the play will be open to all juniors. They will begin on Monday and carry through until everyone who is interested has been given a chance to try for a part.

MONDAY—Clubs.
TUESDAY—Advisory.
WEDNESDAY—Assembly.
THURSDAY—Advisory.
FRIDAY—Pep Rally, Ysleta game.

The Question Of The Week

This week we polled some of the more brilliant students and faculty of dear old MHS to find out what their subconscious desire is and these are some of the smart answers we got:

Coach Rutledge — I don't rightly know.

Dona Ingham—Go to Tallahassee, Fla.

Harriette Guy—Go to New York and live in a penthouse.

Patsy Yeager—To be buried with my boots on.

Mrs. Blair—To have this semester pass so I'll only see Nell Curran one hour a day.

Vernon Carpenter—Me too.
Joe Eakin—Me too.

Randall Gibson—To go to sleep.

Ray Miles—To go with all the women in high school.

John Putman—To make my pipes louder.

Roy Thomas—To pass second year algebra.

Jessie Pierce—to go to Mars.

Sara Comeron—Go to Bartlesville, Okla.

Benny Bedford—Swim the English channel.

Half-Timers Provide Color For Bulldog Football Games

As the strains of "St. Louis Blues" floated across the field, the MHS Half-Timers did a catchy dance and flag routine. It was the half-time of the Midland-Poly Tech game, and the Half-Timers, accompanied by the MHS band were performing again.

In preparation for the few minutes they are on the field each week, the Half-Timers practice many hours to perfect their routines.

Mrs. Eugenia Wilson, sponsor, stated that any girl is eligible for membership if she maintains a "C" average, and remains in good standing with the faculty and student body.

Majorettes are chosen every year by the members, and the only requirment is that they must have been in the organization the year before.

Memory Lane

One year ago, Jimmy Linebarger was the Bulldog of the week; the Bulldog was a perfect paper, judging from the lack of letters in the mailbox. Seems like everyone was just too busy to write. The candy machine really was popular with all the students; in fact it was so popular someone broke into the machine and made off with all the candy. Everyone was suffering from writer's cramp as a result of signing Howdy Week Books. The class pictures were taken, and many of the girls were pretty as their picture.

Two years ago, all the Spanish students were speaking Spanish like natives—native Americans, that is. Various clubs were explained in assembly. Most of the students believed in clubs, especially where kindness failed. The student body was in good shape after talks on "Body Care" were presented. "Nervous in the Service" might have been the theme of one teacher at MHS after he was sent to Korea.

Three years ago many students who had a slight interest in English received bad marks and felt they had been slighted by Mr. Slight who taught English here in MHS. The big bonfire which opened the football season's conference game was a sure-fire proposition. Everyone attending had a hot time in the old town that night. Fifi Pryor, one of our new cheerleaders, was head cheerleader at Cowden Junior High three years ago. Looks like a repeat performance. As usual MHS led a dog's life—Bulldog that it.

Banner Year Seen For Choir Members

The A Cappella Choir should be the best choir in West Texas this year, as many new voices are added and they already have buckled down to business.

The director is R. C. Michener and the officers are Charles Whitmire, President, Ruth Ann Rhodes, Secretary, Barbara Wilson and David Breith, Librarian. The accompanist will be Glenda Feril.

The choir consists of 62 members. Of these, 32 are boys and 30 are girls. Mr. Michener said they would participate in many activities this year. The first performance will be the annual operetta which will be presented November 7.

The choir also will participate in the Interscholastic League Contest in the Spring and various civic organizations, radio programs and concerts.

CHUCK WAGON BILL OF FARE

Seniors Sell Bangles For Poly Tech Game

The people that helped were Mary Jane Miller, Anna Bess Doyle, Benny Bedford, M. A. Rose, Carla Mae Lea, Harvey Deimer, Bill Leonard, Farrar Hedges, Jimmy Counts, Don Frits, Jerry Ball, Bill Crenshaw, John Casner, and Lanetta Early.

THEIR CHRISTMAS

Residents of Rodanthe, a small village on wind-swept Hatteras Island, off the North Carolina coast, still celebrate Christmas on January 6, the ages-old Twelfth Night.

Sideline Sidelights

By JACK PENNINGTON

The Bulldogs will have their ninth encounter with the Ysleta Indians here Friday. Midland will be out to make it three in a row over the Indians having won the past two years. Up until last year, the two teams had been taking turns, each winning every other game. Last year's game was a hard fought battle from start to finish. It was the first victory for the Bulldogs in Ysleta's home field. Ralph Brooks led an outstanding air and ground attack. In games won and lost Midland holds the edge five-three. The two teams have never tied a ball game. Following is the scores of all games played with the Indians beginning with 1940.

1941	6	13
1946	26	0
1947	7	13
1948	21	20
1949	0	40

This is not the place for an editorial, but since the subject is sports, here goes: The lack of response and cooperation shown the cheerleaders at the game with Lamesa makes us wonder if the students have lost all feeling of school spirit. The only cheering done by the Midland students came at the time of scoring plays.

The small crowd of Lamesans made more noise during the game than the entire Midland student body. Response to the Lamesa cheerleaders was instantaneous even when the Tornadoes were behind.

We must remember that the boys can't, and won't play their best unless they are backed by the student body. Let's all go to the game Friday and show the Bulldogs that we are behind them 100 per cent.

Bouquets to Robert Keisling, Jesse Hatfield, Bill Leonard and Roy Kimsey for outstanding performances in the Lamesa game.

The Midland B team opened their football season Thursday in Big Lake. The "Bees" had a fine season last year. The team is coached by Keith Bobo and B. M. Patterson.

Annual Staff Helps In Shooting Photos Of All MHS Students

"Smile! . . . Hold it! . . . (click).

"One more, now! (click),

"And it's all over. Next."

So it went all last week. School photography is monotonous work. Each day Mr. Roberts of Roberts Studio in Lubbock came to the auditorium of Midland High School where he has set up his equipment. The students went to have their pictures taken for the annual during their English period.

Mr. Roberts, who did last year's photographs, said there will be no charge for the annual pictures, but extras may be obtained for twelve for a dollar.

Bulldog Mailbox Open For Business

Most criticism could be avoided by saying nothing, doing nothing, and being nothing, but since that won't work in our case, we of the Bulldog have decided if we can't avoid criticism, accept it.

So if you have any complaints or suggestions concerning the Bulldog, we would appreciate it if you would drop us a line. We have a mailbox in the principal's office for any letters you wish to send. Just come by and drop them in.

We of the Bulldog staff will be happy to read them. People who do as they please, never please, and we certainly don't want to be like that. It's your paper and we aim to please!

'Projection Room' Has Movie Library

This year a special room, 120, has been set off and converted into a "projection room." In it various films, opaque projections, recordings, and film strips will be shown throughout the year.

The school now has a library of about 170 films ranging in subjects from baby sitting to immigration problems! As can be seen, we all have a great "movie career" ahead of us this year and know we'll be looking forward to it.

Via The Grapevine

By NELL CURRAN and BETTY BOLTON

Well, it seems that "Howdy-You-All-Week" went off with a big bang, and we surely hope you have made a lot of new friends. Everyone thought that the Western idea was a whole lot of fun and we are glad that you enjoyed it.

If you see the students holding something behind their backs—it's only their class pictures that were taken last week. Really kids, they're not that bad, are they?

It seems that some of the students are not quite accustomed to being back in school after the Summer vacation, we hear that Joe Pittman went to sleep in Mrs. Kimbrough's fifth period English class; and one of the students was kind enough to hang a "Do Not Disturb" sign on him.

James Johnson and Charles Whitmire have begun a series of programs every Saturday at 6:30 p.m. over KJBC. They tell some of the things that have happened during the past week at school and play records. It is a 30-minute program and if you would like a request played for you or someone else, tell James or Charles or drop a line to KJBC and they will be glad to play it for you.

Kathleen Blount went to a thrilling football game between Kermit and Wink Saturday night in Kermit. We understand Kermit, her ex-alma, lost by a heartbreaking margin of 13-12.

Last Friday when they had the football parade there were about four blocks of cars following the band and Half Timers. This was extra good and showed a lot of school spirit but when we got down to the courthouse lawn wha' hoppen? Where did everyone go? The school officials have said that if there aren't more people at the downtown pep rallies there won't be any more parades.

So how about it, kids? Let's get out there next Friday afternoon and show the whole town we're behind the Bulldogs 100 per cent. If you are worried about parking your car, that's no excuse either, because the police department is going to rope off some of the street in front of the post office.

If you have seen some of the speech students walking around the halls acting like fish or other equally odd things, it's just their pantomimes that they are acting out. We understand that Nona Lynn and Linda Davis had an extra special one named "Who Stole the Spittoon from the Corner Saloon?"

Jimmy Adams and Jerry Lands, Texas Tech students, came home Friday, a week ago to see us beat Lamesa, 35-13.

Peggy Timmons tells us she is leaving soon to go to Houston to a private school. Also Julie Owens is moving to Dallas soon and Phil and Tiene Miller moved to Odessa during the Summer.

We are looking forward to Jo Ann Bassham's return to school from her appendectomy and hope she feels better soon.

We were very sorry to hear that Miss Powell, MHS teacher, broke her arm in a fall down the stairs last week.

We hope you all had a real good time Friday night at the football game. Remember that if you have done anything or know of anyone who has done anything that should go in this column, please turn it in to either Betty Bolton or Nell Curran before school is out every Tuesday afternoon.

Horace Greenstreet Leads Bulldog Band

Horace Greenstreet, a senior, will be leading the MHS Band in many activities this year He was selected September 15, but due to a delay in the uniform shipment, he will not make his appearance as drum major until the Ysleta game.

Horace is serving his second term as a lieutenant and plays first chair tenor saxophone. He has played in band for five years, three of these in Midland band.

After graduation, it's Rice University to major in science engineering. To prepare for this, Horace is taking band, physics, solid geometry, second year algebra, mechanical drawing, and English.

Ralph Mills, director, selected Horace after several days of tryouts. Ronald Pope was selected as assistant drum major and has been temporarily performing in Horace's place.

New Student Says City Most Friendly

Carol moved to Midland four weeks ago, and says she likes it very well. High on her list of "likes" are dancing, steak, and the color green, while her pet peeve is "sarcasm." Carol says that she likes sports and enjoys watching the Bulldogs in action.

Another new student is Mary Jo Hannon, from Bradford, Pennsylvania, who moved to Midland in the middle of the Summer.

Mary Jo is a five-foot-five senior, with brown hair and hazel eyes. She especially likes dancing, swimming, football and spaghetti. Mary Jo has a brother, Joe, who is a sophomore.

Welcome to these and all other newcomers to MHS.

MHS Library Gets Larger Selections; Students Help Out

Many new books of all types have been ordered for the library this year and Mrs. May Anderson, our librarian, stated that about 62 new fiction books would be on the shelves by the end of the week.

Remember, all books, including the new ones, will have a five-cent-a-day fine put upon them when they are overdue!

Have you been wondering who all the hard working library assistants are who have been helping Mrs. Anderson during the different periods of the day?

Operetta, Comedy Slated November 7

The annual operetta for the A Cappella Choir has arrived. This year it will be "Down in the Valley." Tryouts were held last Thursday and the results will be known Monday. It is to be presented November 7 in the High School Auditorium.

Miss Harris' speech class will present a short one-act comedy entitled "Cox and Box" along with the operetta.

By SHERRY PAGE

Italian spaghetti, bullfights, Stratford-on-Avon, and an Olympic team are only a few of the things that Virginia Kroenlein saw during her recent nine week trip to Europe. Virginia, an MHS junior, her mother and her sister, Sylvia, toured England, France, Scotland, Germany, Holland, and several other countries last Summer. To describe the things she did and saw, here are some notes from her "log."

Later—Landed at La Harve, France. Took a boat train to Paris where we almost starved because no one could speak English.

Later—Arrived in Madrid, Spain. Saw a bullfight in which Litre, one of the most famous bullfighters performed. Exciting! Very odd eating hours here. Breakfast at seven o'clock, lunch at two o'clock and supper at nine thirty.

Later—Took train to Barcelona to Nice, France. This is the French Riviera and it's all very tourist-y. We just missed "Texas Week," where they honor all visiting Texans and treat them like kings. Too bad.

Later—Arrived in Genoa, Italy, where Columbus was born. Our hotel is very nice but the whole city is badly bombed.

Later—Went on boat to Island of Capri. Saw Blue Grotto. We had to enter at low tide. Four of us went in a rowboat and were pulled through a little hole into a cave where the water was very blue and clear.

Later—Nothing but water and gondolas. We're in Venice and there is an American warship here. Nice to see some Americans.

Later—In Switzerland now. The Swiss language is Swiss-German, but most of them speak some English. Bought Swiss watches here.

Later—Germany—Met my German pen pal that I've been writing to. Germany is like a big army camp and almost everyone speaks English.

Later—We're in Holland now. Went to Volandam and Marken where they always dress in Old World costumes. The people are very nice. Met Dutch Olympic rowing team on bus.

Later—Cophenhagen, Denmark—Saw Elsinore, Hamlet's Castle. Went to Tivoli, which is a sort of clean Coney Island, with concerts, bands and rides.

Later — Edinburgh, Scotland — These are the first people we've seen who have spoken English entirely, even though it's hard to understand because of their brogue.

Later — London, England—Saw Shakespear's home in Stratford-on-Avon. Also Anne Hathaway's house and Oxford University. Saw Ben Johnson's play "Valpone" and also "South Pacific" with Mary Martin. Watched the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace and caught a glimpse of Prince Charles watching it. Saw the First American flag of the whole trip flying over Sulgraves Manor, the home of George Washington's ancestors.

August 9—Back in New York after a wonderful trip. Hope I can go back soon.
