County Receives Two Good Rains This Week

Plenty Moisture Falls To Inure County Planting

Dawson county on Wednesday night, again received beneficial rains ranging upward to .65 of an inch and together with 1.65 inches that fell in Lamesa on Monday night it was considered likely that all portions of the county received sufficient planting moisture, although there were parts of the county that failed to receive half the rain which fell in the city.

A little hail accompanied the rain in this city Wednesday night, but no damages were reported. For the most part the precipitation was reported to have been just right, with a limited number of reports contrary to this effect. Parts of the county will have to be re-planted, as cotton fields in some instances were said to have been washed out. Otherwise growing crops were aided to a great extent, and those who were fortunate enough to receive proper amounts of rain were very happy over their present prospects. The entire county is due to be planted by the latter part of this week, and it is expected that only a few weeks will be required until all the fields will have growing crops. Farmers expressed optimistic views for a good harvest again this fall. It was generally expected that those counties failing to receive beneficial rains on the first night, did receive the much needed moisture on the second occasion.

Reports on Monday night's rain as recorded by the Soil Conservation Service gauges throughout the county indicated an area surrounding the city for an eight to ten mile radius were as follows: L. B. Stuart farm, ten miles 76 inches; R. E. Echols farm, ten miles northeast, 1.15 inches; John Webster, fourteen miles southwest, .70; Jess McWhorter farm, eight miles north, .30.

The rains were lighter at Ackerly and in the Smeake community. Points southwest and northeast reported good rain fall.

Sparenberg Road Completed During Week; Now Open

Lamesa-Stanton Road Well Under Way In This County

Sam Leal, Jr., who was awarded the contract for improvements on the Sparenberg road, February 21, reported this week, the project has been completed and he is preparing to move the camp, which has been located near the construction, into Lamb county, where he has contract for a similar project.

A distance of 5.2 miles was paved with asphalt and rock over caliche base. Work was begun almost sixty days ago and links the distance from the highway 9 intersection to Sparenberg with one of the best farm-to-market roads in the county. Contract for this construction was awarded for $12,519.37 by the State Highway Department.

South of town the county's project on the Stanton road is showing good progress and the remaining distance to be topped should be finished within the near future. Only four or five miles of the distance has not been surfaced.

Martin county citizens will vote Saturday on a large road bond issue to determine whether that county will meet the paving at their north line. Tentative survey and other details were reported to have been completed.

After this project is assured it will then be only a matter of time until the project to the north of Lamesa will be pushed to Terry county's line where citizens there will complete the route through their county seat.

Citizens have not been idle on the latter project, and neither has the State Department, despite the fact there has been very little publicity given the project within recent months.

AUTO PARKING RULES MAY BE ADOPTED HERE

The City Commission has under consideration a method which may be adopted and put into enforcement at their next meeting this coming Tuesday. It has been suggested that rules and regulations should be put into effect as follows:

1. No triple parking.
2. No double parking, over five minutes.
3. No turning to right on red lights without first making a complete stop.

This has been found to be a dangerous action inasmuch as more pedestrians are crossing on the opposite corners at this time.

It has also been suggested as a help to merchants that they park their own automobiles either at the back of their stores or over at the courthouse, or at convenient places other than directly in front of their places of business.

Should it be voted, or adopted by the Commissioners, violation will carry fines, which will be set at the next session.

Here she will preside at the state board meeting, which has been called to make plans for the annual convention to be held at College Station on July 2.

Bargain Campaign Continues To Bring In New Subscribers

Interest is still increasing in the Courier's spring circulation campaign. New names are being added each week as a result of the half-price campaign which will be in effect for a short while. Many are talking this to their neighbors, while others, who are delinquent are renewing their subscriptions while this saving can be made.

As a result of the wide-spread circulation on the Courier, merchants are finding this the best medium of advertising their prices, and bargains to the citizens of this trade section. In a small way the power of the Courier's advertising columns was tested last week when Bryant-Lank Co., carried a quarter page announcement of the appearance in Lamesa on Monday of Robert Wadlow. The advertisement was carried exclusively in the Courier, and the response was by far greater than the officials had anticipated.

The eight foot, eight and one-half inch giant's father stated that it was the second largest crowd they have encountered since leaving on the present tour from their home in Alton, Illinois. The crowd was evidence enough that it pays to advertise.

The Courier's some twenty-five rural correspondents supply all county-wide news and each week the paper is read by all members of the family.

This week extensive improvements are being made on the Courier office and a pleasant surprise will greet those who visit this office the latter part of next week. The mechanical department has been arranged all together and especially prepared for faster assembly of the paper. The front will compare favorably in modern structural glass and stucco with the few Lamesa stores that have this style fronts.

Miss Lorraine Carroll left Thursday for a week's visit in Houston with friends and relatives.

Tornado Club To Sponsor Big Rodeo Program June 3-4

Four Performances By Best Entertainers Available

At a meeting this week called by Durwin Echols, publicity chairman of the Tornado club, plans and arrangements were made to stage a big rodeo at the local Fair Park, June 3 and 4. Four outstanding performances will be given by some of the southwest's best rodeo entertainers.

Plans for the rodeo were first mentioned by A. G. Bearden, Chamber of Commerce secretary sometime ago when the second meeting of the newly formed club was held. At that time it was brought out that the purpose of this organization, composed of business and professional men, were to lend it's support toward activities in which the Golden Tornadoes will need the support of the entire community. All proceeds from the show, which will be obtained by the Club, will go toward making some needed improvements on the high school field.

The rodeo company secured, in reality needs no publicity, as their reputable name for having one of the biggest outfits in West Texas, is well established. From 75 to 100 head of stock stock are to be used in putting on the show, and many of the contestants, who will take part in the rodeo, have won nation-wide fame.

A committee headed by Dr. J. M. Harrington was appointed to contact the company, and it was possible to secure them in advance of the big season ahead in the Rocky Mountain States. Therefore, the entertainers will perform in Lamesa before going into their annual schedule. Wild Brahma steers, for the show were obtained from South Texas ranches. One of those steers is the largest ever to be seen in rodeo.

One spectacular feature will be that of the acrobatic mule walking a single plank ten feet in the air. This act will feature a clown of state-wide fame who will furnish much of the comedy for the show. This event alone should prove a big attraction.

A special cowgirl contest is being

School Exercises Attract Many To Events This Week

A large overflow crowd appeared for the sermon to graduates last Sunday night at the First Methodist church. The sermon was delivered by Rev. D. J. Murray, who spoke on service. Other ministers having parts on the program were Rev. T. C. Willett, Rev. E. P. Cole and J. C. Foster.

The senior play "Adorable Spendthrift" was given on Tuesday night before a capacity audience. The play was well received.

The elementary school ceremonies will be held at 3:30 Friday afternoon in that school building. About 100 pupils are to receive promotion certificates to the first year in high school. Rev. T. C. Willett will address the class members.

Commencement exercises for the seniors has been set for 8:15 Friday night in the high school auditorium.

Barbecue Prepared For Old Settler's Reunion

WANT ADS GET RESULTS

DuBose Brothers, local representatives for F. Z. Bishop, who has contract to colonize 25,000 acres of the Slaughter land of Martin county, were more than pleased with the response last week to their ad in the Courier Want Ad Column. Mr. DuBose reported that he placed the ad in the paper more or less for the purpose of letting the public know they were the Lamesa agents and hardly expected more than passing interest, as they were not quite ready to start the actual sales due to delay in getting maps of the property. More than a dozen interested persons responded to the ad, however, and several deals were expected to result this week solely from this little classified advertisement. The prospects came from Martin, Dawson, Howard and Lynn counties.

Courier want ads reach the quickest market in Dawson and adjoining counties. Want ad Headquarters, Phone 162-M.

Farm Couple Will Tell Radio World Their Experience

College Station, May 17.—The National Farm and Home Hour of June 1, will feature Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schuelke, whole farm demonstrators of the Rogers ranch community of Caldwell county, who will tell how they and their six children moved from a rented Land Bank farm at the end of 1936, sold some livestock to get $225 for a down payment on a 100 acre farm, and now, a little over a year later, they are off to a successful start.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuelke will broadcast from Chicago over a national hook-up which is estimated to reach more than 10 million listeners. They will be accompanied on their trip by Miss Gene Thames, home demonstration agent, and L. E. Ellwood, county agricultural agent.

The whole farm demonstration plan, which was started by the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1937, is being adopted by a number of other states.

The Schuelkes were selected to represent the 363 whole farm demonstrations set up early in 1937. More than a thousand demonstrators have been enrolled so far in 1938, according to Miss Mildred Horton and Jack Shelton vice-director and state agents of the Extension Service.

Whole farm demonstrations require a long time plan for improvements and for the development of available resources. Goals are set up for improvements, for income, and for debt retirement. The entire family, the home and the whole farm "from the front gate to the back fields" is included. Such plans are designed not only to help individual families, but to demonstrate the effects of a coordinated program to the community.

With the help of Miss Thames and Ellwood, the Schuelkes set up their plans, which included 4-H club work for the older boys and girls and income and improvement goals for 1937 and for succeeding years.

In the list of improvements for 1937 were included a self-priming water pump, a ratproof smokehouse, a ventilated pantry, underpinning for the house, a washing machine, electric lights, shelter for milk cows sheep and hogs terraces for 15 acres of land, worn out land to be retired from cultivation and put in permanent pasture, a trench silo, an earthen water tank for stock, a complete inventory of resources, and a farm and home account record.

With the exception of the ventilated pantry, all improvement goals for 1937 were met, in some cases bettered. Light for the house is furnished by a generator on the gasoline washing machine, which, with a storage battery, also furnishes electricity for a one strand fence which allows pasture rotation for the cows and the sheep and hogs kept by the 4-H club boys.

A net family income of $1,000 was set up for 1937, but the records show the income was actually $2,047. Of this cotton furnished $278, sales from dairy products $517, and poultry $332.

The family realizes that every dollar's worth of food produced on the place releases a cash dollar to be spent for improvements or debt retirement. The first thing that they did was to fence off a garden. The farm contributed $603 to the family living, and only $107.94 was spent for groceries in 1937.

They produced on the farm and used for food such items as 700 gallons of milk, 1,500 pounds of fresh vegetable, 700 dozen eggs, 1,100 pounds of fresh and cured meats, 780 pounds of corn meal, 30 gallons of lard, 150 pounds of bacon and 104 pounds of butter.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Daniels, who have been visiting in Houston for the past three weeks returned home Friday night.

S. C. S. Notes

Value of Water Conservation

Farming in the wind erosion area of the Southern Great Plains, except on the very sandy soils, is more profitable if farmed on the contour, regardless of whether the land slope is steep or slight farmers are finding from experience.

In areas of steeper slopes, farmers are finding it much easier to pull their equipment around the hill sides on the contour or level rather than up and down the hills. Experience shows that in areas of steep slopes contour farming results in lower fuel costs, less strain on the equipment, and that repair bills are lower, the Soil Conservation Service officials point out.

In the more level areas farmers have found that contour farming costs slightly more than straight-row methods. In such areas, the slight slopes have little bearing on fuel costs, while the increased number of machinery turns and the working out of corners and point rows take slightly more fuel and time.

However, the experience of many farmers have proved that this slight increase in farming costs is far more than offset by increased yields resulting from conservation of soil and moisture. Experimental data show that a one-third increase in crop production ordinarily may be expected as a result of contour farming.

The greatest immediate values from contour farming come from the conservation of moisture and lessening of soil movement by wind. Rows on the contour retain a large per cent of the rainfall, thereby reducing the soil losses from water runoff, and the crooked row or contour method of farming helps to eliminate surface erosion by the wind.

It is difficult to estimate the full value of contour farming over straight-row methods in the plains area, but experience shows that in this section gattle are grazing on the contour in the Texas Panhandle this spring because they are finding the grass is much greener and thicker along the thousands of miles of furrows that wind around the rangeland slopes on the level.

Contour furrowing of pastures is one of the basic principles of the Soil Conservation Service soil and moisture conservation program for range improvement. Demonstrations of the value of this practice are being made on areas at Channing, Hereford, Lamesa, Littlefield, Dalhart, Stratford, Perryton, Vega and Memphis. Hundreds of farmers outside these areas have learned the value of contour furrowing and now are treating their own range land, the Soil Conservation Service reports.

Contour furrows, plowed at regular intervals depending upon the type of soil and degree of slope, retain most of the water where it falls and allow the moisture to soak into the ground where it is available for grass growth. Farmers observed this spring that the first green grass appeared along the furrows where additional moisture had been available. Where this practice was in use last year, the farmers also observed that the grass growth was much heavier along the furrows and that it remained green longer than that on untreated areas.

Miss Ann Allen attended the Kappa Gamma Sorority Dance in Lubbock Monday night as guest of Miss Mary Cooper.

W. K. Crawley is in Fort Worth attending a bankers conference.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wyatt of Los Angeles, Calif., are here visiting with friends and relatives for several weeks.

Low rainfall, conserved moisture often means the difference between a profitable crop and a complete failure.

FORMAL OPENING OF DYER HDW. & AUTO SUPPLY

In opening a Hardware and Auto Supply Store, it is my hope to build up such a business as will serve a need in the community. It would be very presumptuous and an exaggeration for me to say that I have a full line of all articles usually found in a combined store of this type. I do have a moderate stock of quality merchandise and will add more as I learn what the buying public demands. Among my hardware stock will be found "Our Very Best", "True Value", "Stand By" general lines, and some of the other nationally known special lines, such as Stanley tools, Diston saws, Westolox clocks and watches, Ppex, etc. We ask that you visit us and our opening Saturday, May 21, whether you want to buy anything or not. A very useful little gift is reserved for housewives only.

Tom Connally Led Senate Fight For Benefit Payments

Early payment of the 1937 cotton bounty of two cents per pound has been approved by the Senate in adopting the amendment of Senator Tom Connally, of Texas, to the agricultural appropriation bill. When the bill is finally enacted into law the department will start immediate preparations to make payment upon proper proof of compliance, Senator Connally has been advised.

The benefit payments to cotton farmers are made possible by the Connally-Jones amendment to the agricultural act of 1935. This amendment, which was sponsored in the Senate by Senator Connally provided that a per cent age of the revenue from customs duties should be used by the Secretary of Agriculture to pay bounties to farmers and otherwise aid in the increase of agricultural exports.

Last August Senator Connally offered a resolution in the Senate making provision for benefit payments to cotton farmers on their 1937 crop under the terms of the Connally-Jones plan. It was finally put into effect but provided that payments should be only to farmers who cooperated in the 1938 program. The Comptroller General ruled that such payments could not be made until the end of the 1938 crop year and officials of the Department of Agriculture said it would be December before farmers would get their checks. Senator Connally then introduced his amendment providing that the payments should be made just as soon as a farmer shows he is complying with the 1938 program.

Approximately $130,000,000 will go to cotton farmers as benefit payments under the provisions of this amendment.

Mrs. D. S. Day visited her daughter, Miss Gertrude Day in Lubbock last week.

Texas Tech Offers Sanitation Course During The Summer

Austin, Texas, May 17.—Announcement was made this week in Austin by Doctor Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, of the inclusion in the Texas Tech College curriculum of a public health course in sanitation to be offered this summer from June 9 to August 25.

This public health course is the first ever to be offered by any Texas college or university and is made possible at Texas Tech College in cooperation with the State Department of Health and the League of Texas Municipalities.

The course is designed for water works operators, sewage plant operators, and sanitation in the smaller Texas cities who have for some time now demanded Texas public health courses offered within the State by men familiar with Texas problems. For the public health personnel of larger cities, the course will offer an opportunity to broaden their knowledge of public health and its trends.

The public health course will consist of training in plumbing, water works and sewage problems, garbage disposal, rodent control, mosquito control, swimming pool operation, proper handling of milk for distribution, and general sanitation with the inclusion of some field survey work and laboratory exercises.

"We feel that the inclusion of this series of public health courses in the curriculum of Texas Tech College is a step forward in public health work in this state, because it makes accessible to so many more men an opportunity for study of these problems than if they were forced to go out of the State for these courses. We should like to call attention to this series of courses to the smaller cities particularly, so that plumbing inspectors, water plant, superintendents food and drug inspectors and sanitary inspectors may be given a chance to attend these courses this summer with resultant bettered operation and maintenance of the municipal health program.

AAA Committee Sets Cotton Allotments For Many Counties

College Station, Cotton acreage allotments have been set for all cotton farms in 133 Texas counties, according to Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the AAA committee, who pointed out that the State AAA office at Texas A and M College was releasing the allotments at the rate of 8 to 10 counties a day.

Meanwhile the bulk of the payments under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program have been completed. The state office has certified 160,218 applications for payments totaling $27,012,603.66. The state committee expects that approximately two hundred thousand applications will be received, and that total payments will be in the neighborhood of 35 million dollars.

Payments in many counties have been held up pending the approval of deduction factors for administrative expenses within the county. This factor must be determined before any payments can be made. Slaughter said that the deduction factor had been approved for all except 7 counties in the state.

(Welch Charge)

Sunday school was well attended Sunday. Teachers all present and seemed to be at their best. Next Sunday will be an Aldersgate celebration. Pastor preaches at 11 o'clock on subject, "Witness of the Spirit." The entire evening hour will be taken by the Sunday school. A very fine program is being arranged. The subject for thought is, "Father of Our Fathers." Several appropriate comments will be made by well informed speakers, and then the Faith of our Fathers" illustrated by a group of young people. The cast is several candles properly arranged and candle lighters coming forward each lighting his designated candle with appropriate words, and taking his stand before the altar. Here another candle to be lighted which represents the dedication of this group and any others who may desire, to the Faith of our Fathers, and pledging to be light bearers for Jesus.
The pastor will preach fifth Sunday at 11 o'clock and Rev. Willett of Lamesa at 3 p. m. Come to hear Rev. Willett anyway.

Much time has been lost by pastor being sick, but stay with us on this last run, and trust in the Lord. He can bring it to pass. —J. G. Walker, pastor.

sponsored and the winner of the contest will be crowned Queen of the Rodeo.

It is hoped that all ladies in this section who ride horses will enter this contest. Prizes will be announced next week, when detailed information will be available also. Guy Weekes is in charge of the cowgirl event and prospective entries should contact him for further information.

A special horse show is being planned for Friday night, June 3, preceding the regular show. Competition will be in two divisions, one saddle horses and another for kid ponies. Dr. Harrington is chairman of the horse show and will take entries for this event.

Old-time square dances will be held after the rodeo performances on both nights. A special platform will be erected for the dance, and a sound system will be installed. All who can square dance are invited to take part.

The publicity committee plans wide spread publicity, and everyone has been urged to share a part in making the event successful. A few merchants are boosting the event in their advertisements this week, and it has been suggested as a worthy step that will be repeated throughout the intervening dates preceding the rodeo date. The event should attract a large number of people as there will be lots of entertainment.

Modern Way Grocery Makes Improvement With Market Front

B. W. Fields, owner and operator of the Modern Way Grocery, situated at the east end of North First Street, this week finished installation of a new type fruit and vegetable stand in the front of his building. Those products will be effectively displayed in that portion of the building, while the remainder of the space will be devoted mostly to his produce and poultry business. The building will be air-conditioned.

Mr. Fields states the improvement was patterned along the lines of fruit and vegetable stores in neighboring oil towns. It is the first of this type in Lamesa. He plans to push his poultry business that he has devoted the last ten years in establishing routes through out west Texas, and has selected Forrest Mitchell, well-known resident, as the store manager.

The management will stress the conveniences offered for a one-stop food store. With the modern improvements they believe their business will continue to serve farmers as a place for poultry and cream. There they will have the opportunity of purchasing the best grade of fruit and vegetables imported from as far away points as old Mexico. Frequent trips to points there supply fresh products at all times.

The front will be stuccoed, and the management announces they have one of the most unique fruit and vegetable markets in West Texas. They are buying around 15 cases of eggs each Saturday from as many farm families, a large quantity of cream, and poultry

Fire Marshal Warns Public Hazards Of Chasing To Fires

Jack Phinzy, local fire marshal, together with other city officials are constantly warning the public against such practices as was demonstrated here last Friday. A practice fire drill brought out practically 50 persons, many of whom followed the truck at break-neck speed. They are reminded by officials that this habit of jumping into cars and chasing the fire truck must be stopped.

Cars that are on the streets when the alarm is sounded must stop immediately and pull into the curb. As everyone knows the city has a new fire truck, which is much faster, and it will be absolutely necessary for everyone to get off the streets as quickly as possible after the alarm. Then, too, the other truck will be following close behind, and the lives of those who are on the streets are endangered.

At a recent fire, it was necessary for both trucks to come almost to a stop to keep from running over some excited person who was trying to see which way the truck was going. On another occasion by the time the truck reached the scene of the fire, and strung hose back to the fire plug, the fire

This Year's Grand Champion 4-H Club Steer

In the above Vernon and Weldon (Happy) Bratcher, 4-H club boys of the Woody community, are shown with their grand champion steer, which was judged the best out of six demonstrations by other 4-H club members. Their club sponsor, Joe C. Williams, announces that interest in 4-H club work is on the increase since the recent show when those participating made a little money from their efforts.

fans had parked their cars all around the plug to the extent that it required several minutes for firemen to clear them away and make the connection. The conditions must be remedied, according to the marshal, otherwise the offenders will be fined. Several times the hose has been run over by cars, and as a result $60 worth of hose was split and ruined, when it was driven over. The public is warned there is no place at the fires for curious. The firemen are all that are needed and their efforts are even hampered by those who flock to the scenes. Below are some of the regulations which must be observed:

State Pension Law Will Be Discussed By Noted Speaker

W. R. Randolph, president of the newly formed Dawson County Social Security organization, which already has some 600 members, reports there will be a convention of the delegates from twenty-five counties in the nineteenth Congressional District on May 21 and 22. The convention will be held in Lubbock.

Hon. X. Carson, editor of the Human Security, Dallas, will be in this district at the convention time and will make a series of talks in the interest of the old Age Pension. It is announced that he will make a local address also. The time has been set for 2 p. m. Sunday May 22, at the courthouse when he will discuss the merits and abuses of the Old Age Pension Law of Texas.

Mr. Randolph believes the address will be most helpful and beneficial to both ladies and gentlemen of the community and particularly urges the aged ones to hear this address from one who is familiar with the law.

FAIRVIEW H. D. CLUB MET MAY 3

"Adolescence is the period of growing up that comes between childhood and adult hood," said Mrs. O. G. Kelly to Fairview Home Demonstration club members when they met in the home of Mrs. Dick Kelly, May 3.

During early childhood, boys and girls must learn to read and write, to be polite, and to control their tempers and impulse to cry over every injury.

The method of handling problems depends on the type of individual concerned.

Parental attitudes and early experiences may make an individual who takes advantages of opportunities and gets something out of life, or may warp his point of view on life and cause him to be what the world considers a failure.

Wise parents plan for the child's greatest satisfaction and happiness, rather than for the fulfillment of parental ambition.

Mrs. Dick Kelly was elected delegate to go to Short Course, if this club sends one.

Eleven members and one new member, Mrs. Herman Kelly were present.

Mrs. Doyle Shillingburg, Mrs. Blaine Wiggins and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Peterson and son, Durwood, spent the weekend visiting with Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Peterson at Lubbock.

Many Stock Dams Have Been Built By SCS Engineers

Since the establishment of the Lamesa Soil Conservation Service, they have rebuilt five large stock dams in his county, constructed two large storage dams, and completed during the past year 540 temporary check dams for control of gully erosion, and to help prevent silting of stock dams and tanks.
 Dams are an aid to good farming. Big dams for reservoirs and stock ponds. Thousands of little dams across gully channels reduce the cutting power of runoff and permit the growth of protective vegetation.
 Dams used in the Soil Conservation Service program range in size from simple sod bags placed across gully channels to large rock masonry structures. Plans and specifications are drawn by Service engineers, but most of the construction is done by CCC enrollees or by farmers cooperating in the erosion control program.
 More than 2,800,000 farm and rangeland dams have been built under the supervision of Soil Conservation technicians in the past three years. About 3,500 of the larger dams provide 80,000 acre-feet of storage space—enough to hold about 26 million gallons of water.

FAIRMAN NOTES

There still seems to be confusion among some of the producers in that the general idea of the additional land, being broken out for crops for the first time this year and added to the old crop land as to what is to be planted on the new land.

According to a letter from the State office in regard to new land being added to the old crop land, this land will have to go to a soil conserving crop or a like amount some place else on the farm. For example, a farm of 100 acres of crop land would receive the approximate acreages to the following crops. 35 acres cotton, 38 acres feed and corn and 27 acres to soil conserving crops. This farm is having 25 acres additional sod land broken out in 1938. That means that the farm case it is to comply with the farm program, will need to plant a total of 52 acres of soil conserving crops. Or the sod land to the amount of 25 acres will need to go to soil conserving crops or a like amount some place else on the farm in addition to the 27 acres required for soil conserving crops.

Treating Grain Sorghum For Smut
The proper treatment of milo, hegari, kafir, sudan and care for smut is copper carbonate powder, applied at the rate of two ounces per bushel or cersan according to directions on the container. The application of the copper carbonate to the seed should be handled with care, we would suggest that an old lard can, or some other vessel that can be closed, fill about half full of the seed to be treated and roll about or stir the seed so that every grain will have some of the dust on it. In using this method it is suggested that the user have a handkerchief or cloth tied over the mouth and nose to prevent burning the throat with the dust. Be sure that livestock do not eat any of the treated grain as the result would probably prove fatal.

Weed Killers
A number of farmers have made injury about killing weeds and Johnson grass. There is on the market a commercial weed killer called sodium and calcium chlorate mixtures that will kill the weeds and grass. This should be applied at the rate of one pound to the gallon of water in the form of a spray. Some of the mixtures are poisonous to livestock and some are not. The materials mentioned above may be had or ordered from your local druggist.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION ANNOUNCED

NOTICE TO McCARTY SCHOOL PARENTS

I am sorry that I did not receive notice in time to place my ad in the Tee-Pee News. The delay was caused by sending my letter to Lamesa instead of O'Donnell.

HIDDEN MISSIONS

Denton, Tex. May 17.—Although no traces are left, almost as many Indian missions were established in East Texas as in the central part of the state where they now form the tourists mecca. Built of wood rather than of adobe and stone as are those around San Antonio, they were soon lost through decay. It is believed that one was at Nacogdoches, one at San Augustine, two others in this vicinity and another across the Sabine in Louisiana.

Larger Attendance Expected To Attend Big Cowboy Reunion

Stamford, May 17.—Replacement of the old No. 1 grandstand with a larger and more comfortable structure which increases the seating capacity at the rodeo arena by 2,000 is the largest item in the $7,000 improvement program new under way at the Texas Cowboy Reunion grounds just outside the Stamford city limits. The enlargement will give a total grandstand capacity of 10,000 besides the 3,000 bleacher seats.

The new grandstand, as well as the other improvements, will be completed in advance of the opening of the ninth annual Reunion, which will be held on July 4, 5, and 6. The floor of the rodeo arena is being re-graded to give a better take-off for roping contestants as they dash into the arena.

The bucking chutes, pens, judges' stand and directing official's platform also are being built. A new two-story rodeo office is replacing the smaller structure used for that purpose. As during the past two years, the rodeo arena will be practically dust-free, the ground being treated with a special preparation for that purpose.

Five registering turnstiles of the type used at the Texas Centennial Exposition will be installed at the main entrance to the rodeo arena and a new fence will be built on that side of the show area.

This year's improvements, along with the superior lighting system installed last season, gives the Cowboy Reunion probably the finest outdoor arena in the United States.

In the chuck wagon area, a steel-towered Dempster windmill will lend ranch atmosphere. The mill will be near the east shore of the lake which has been filled with sparkling, clear water by abundant rains this spring.

Joe C. Williams and D. L. Adcock made a business trip to College Station the first of the week.

Lamesa Legion Commander Acts on Dist. Committee

G. E. Esmond, commander of the Allen-Houston Post No. 330, of the American Legion, in Lamesa, has been appointed on the reception committee to serve at the 19th District convention of the Legion and Auxiliary to which Allen Bros. Post of Lubbock will be host Saturday and Sunday, May 21 and 22. The announcement was made by J. A. Raley, Jr., chairman of the reception group. Mr. Esmond has been requested to name additional members from the local Post on the committee.

Big features of the convention will be an address by Daniel J. Doherty of Massachusetts, National Commander of the Legion at Allen Bros. Hall at 8:30 Saturday night. That meeting will be public and A. C. Jackson, commander of the Lubbock Post, has extended an invitation to every citizen of the area to attend.

Also planning to be here for the event are Department commander, W. J. Danforth, Department Adjutant Fred Young, District Commander Jim Wilson, of Floydada and delegation from New Mexico and adjoining districts in Texas. The convention originally was scheduled at Post, but was transferred to Lubbock after learning of the National Commander's planned visit.

His appearance on the program will not only insure a large attendance from Lamesa, but from every town in the district.
