Farmers Need To Check ASCS Guidelines

Wind Damages County Cotton

Hot dry winds which hit the area in mid-week and continued through Friday afternoon caused considerable damage to fledgling cotton crops in the county.

Delmar McDaniel, crop appraiser for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) who works from the county Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service office here, said that more than 1,000 acres and maybe even as many as 3,000 acres of cotton were damaged by the high winds.

Some crop acres were burned by the hot wind alone and others suffered from blowing sand even though sandfighters were in use.

Perhaps the hardest hit area, McDaniel said, was the Valley View area in the northeastern portion of the county, "but I haven't heard from all parts of the county yet and there could be considerable damage in the southern part and around Westbrook."

"I've seen as many as 40 farms in the Buford area east that have from 15 to 17 acres in a block that have been hurt," he said, "but some of the farmers are waiting to plow out the blanks and see if a few days of good weather will help it to recover."

Both McDaniel and ASCS executive director Don Stewart emphasized that damaged cotton should not be plowed up until it has been inspected by McDaniel.

"Before a farmer plows up any damaged cotton, he should sign a 574 form in the ASCS office which will make him eligible for disaster payments on a farm. The appraiser must inspect the acreage before it is plowed up," Stewart said.

Stewart also explained further provisions of ASCS regulations governing planting an additional crop on the damaged cotton acres which are plowed up.

"If any acres of feed grain are planted on failed cotton acres the number of acres will come off the disaster allotment down to the cotton allotment acres," he said.

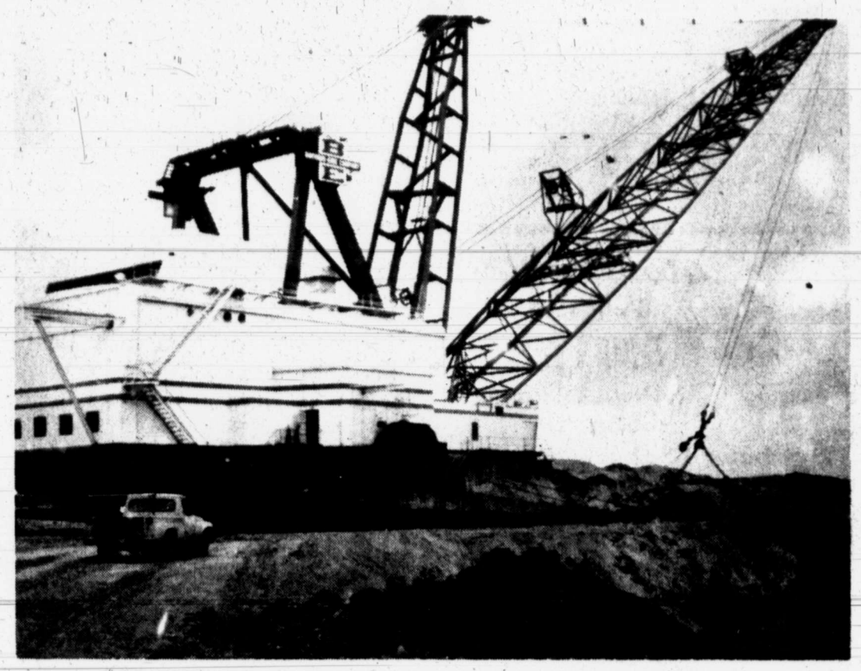

"For example, if a farm has 100 acres of cotton and 100 acres of feed grain and the farmer planted the total 200 acres to cotton and it failed, if he then plants 200 acres of feed grain he will be eligible for disaster payment only on the 100 acres of cotton allotment."

This provision is only for feed grain and any other crop deemed by the USDA to be "non-conserving," he said, and would not include sudan or haygrazer, for instance.

Farmers have fifteen days from the date of damage to fill out the 574 form, but both McDaniel and Stewart said they recognize that farmers wanting to plant will be in a hurry to get the appraisal and do something with their acres and McDaniel has so far been able to make all inspections immediately.

"There have been a few requests in the office already and I've already made the inspections," McDaniel said, "but I'm expecting more requests to come in this week and I'll try to complete the appraisal as soon as possible."

No additional personnel are available from other areas because of crop damage from hail and wind in places on the plains like Dawson and Gaines counties which recently had over 200,000 acres wiped out by hail and the Rotan area which saw 12,000 acres or more destroyed by hail and high winds.

Paving Contract Awarded

Contract for paving the area connecting the new high school road with existing roads has been awarded by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

A contract was awarded to J. H. Strain & Sons Inc. of Tye. Low bid was $189,104.75.

The contract is for grading, flexible base, hot mix asphaltice concrete pavement and concrete curb and gutter on 17th Street from High School Road, eastward to State Highway 208; on High School Road from Snyder Road, northward to 17th Street and on Snyder Road from State Highway 208, westward to High School Road, a distance of 0.9 mile.

The project, which will require an estimated 100 working days, will be under department engineer Ben R. Wilkinson of Colorado City.

The work will be supervised by district engineer Roger G. Welsch.

Summer Job Opportunities

Within ten days some word on the summer jobs programs should reach the county.

According to County Judge Bill Carter the funds that President Ford signed into action last Monday should become part of the summer program for the county.

James Swain of the Council of Government (COG) explained that the funds will be sent from Washington to the Department of Labor in Dallas. Then they will go to Austin where they will be divided and sent to the various COG offices in the state.

Applications were taken before school was dismissed and the applicants are still waiting for replies. The program director will be Claude Woolsey, Colorado High School Counselor, the same as last year.

The jobs should pay the minimum wage of $2.10 per hour. Those employed must be between 14 and 21 years of age and have a family income under $5,050 a year. The jobs will last from nine to 12 weeks.

Another summer work program, on the city scale, is the High School Work Pool.

This program is not funded by anyone and yet has found employment for 35 high school students. The director of the program, Mike Farda, Athletic director for CISD, said that anyone who wanted to work could. Family income doesn't matter.

Fifteen of the students are working fulltime. The other 20 are part time. The program had its beginning this summer and was aimed strictly at athletes, but at this time employs two girls.

Farda explained it this way. He acts as a job agent trying to find jobs for the students. They apply just before school's out, he then enlists help from local employers. The people that hire pay the students themselves.

The jobs range from outdoor work, mainly yard work, to working in the Iron Star Pottery works. The girls have jobs at the Texaco Wholesale house and as a scorekeeper/announcer for the Pony League here.

Asked if the D.E. students here take the jobs that would otherwise be taken by the summer people the answer was no.

"There's not enough of them (the DE people)," commented Farda.

Another type of job available is labled the Man-Power program. Here in the county it employs six people and soon seven. Two persons are employed in each precinct. Where the city is concerned the program employs three adults. One is the Animal Warden, another is working at the water department and the third is at the Civic Center.

Inspection Tour

Ten Mitchell County residents last Sunday and Monday accompanied Texas Electric Service Co. officials on a tour to East Texas to see the Big Brown Lignite plant in Fairfield. On the trip were County Judge Bill Carter, county commissioners Paul Hunter, Marc Vest, Johnny Shackelford and Robert Bruce, Colorado City councilman J. O. Dockrey Jr., Loraine council members Faye Hamilton and Leslie Eason, Record publisher Mac McKinnon and TESCO manager B. B. Hardee. The trip featured an excursion to mining areas where large drag lines, nicknamed "Sarge," remove 120 cubic yards of dirt in one shovel full from on top of layers of lignite, a low grade coal which is used to power electric power plants. TESCO, along with two other utility companies, is currently developing four lignite power plants in East Texas in order to avoid dependency on natural gas, which is in short supply for powering electric plants.

Rangers Take Lead

The Rangers now appear to have cinched a first place victory in the second half of Little League competition as they defeated the previously undefeated Giants Friday night in what many spectators called the best game of the season.

The final score was 6-4 as the Rangers came from one run behind in the sixth inning to take a three run lead and then held on to win.

Saturday morning, in a game that ended in a tie last week, the Giants suffered another loss at the hands of the Yankees 12-10.

Now the Rangers are undefeated and two games ahead of four contenders, the Giants, Indians, Dodgers and Yankees for the second half championship. There is only one more week of competition and the Rangers have only two more games to play and will have to win only one of those games to have sole ownership of the second half championship.

The first half was by the Indians and Dodgers and those two teams will have to play a game to break the tie and see who meets the second half winner for the season championship.

In other games this week, the Pirates edged out the Tigers Thursday and the Dodgers downed the Yankees 13-4. In the first game Friday, the Indians won over the Astros 18-7.

Farm League teams played Saturday.

In the Junior Teenage League Thursday, the White Sox won over the Braves 12-8 with Danny Torrez pitching. Ruben Garcia pitched the Colts to a 13-9 victory over the Lions.

In church league softball action Thursday and Friday, Loraine A won over Loraine B, Oak Street downed First Baptist A 8-5, First Baptist B won over First Methodist A 18-9, Oak Street won over Calvary 22-6, First Methodist B won over First Baptist B 14-6, St. Ann's won over Calvary 13-3 and First Methodist A won over Loraine B 22-8.

In Little League action next week, Pirates play Dodgers and Yankees play Tigers Monday, Indians vs. Rangers and Giants vs. Astros Tuesday.

In the Junior Teenage League, Colts play White Sox and Lions face Braves Monday.

In the church league, Monday night, Church of Christ plays First Baptist A and Baptist Mission plays First Methodist B.

Tuesday night, Oak Street plays St. Ann's and First Baptist B plays Loraine A.

Absentee Voting Begins

Absentee voting in the special election for or against permitting sale of alcoholic beverages in Precinct Two began Tuesday and will continue through July 3.

Absentee ballots are requested at Mitchell County courthouse in the clerk's office on the first floor. They may be cast in person or requested by mail.

So far, one vote has been cast in the clerk's office and two more ballots have been mailed out, according to a clerk in the office.

The clerk's office is open Monday through Friday and closes at 5 p.m.

Daylong 75th Celebration Set By Loraine Methodists

An all-day celebration has been planned today in Loraine for members and former members and guests of Loraine United Methodist Church.

Occasion for the celebration is the 75th anniversary of the church's founding.

Starting with the morning service at 10:30 a.m. directed by Dr. Duane Bruce and the Rev. Cletus Beights, events set for celebration include a noon luncheon, afternoon social and singing.

Dr. Bruce and the Rev. Beights are both former members of the Loraine church. Dr. Bruce is now executive secretary of the South Central Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church, with offices in Oklahoma City. The Rev. Beights is serving as minister of Outreach at Spring Valley United Methodist Church in Richardson.

Also, some of the former pastors of the church will be on hand to participate in the anniversary celebration. They include the Rev. Homer Salley, currently pastor at Westbrook and Coahoma; the Rev. Hamilton Wright, 90 years of age and living in Abilene; the Rev. Gene Greer, now pastor at Wesley in Big Spring; the Rev. Ray Copeland, retired and living at Groom; the Rev. Cecil Tune of Rotan; the Rev. Marvin Fisher of Lubbock and now retired and the Rev. Wilton Lynn, retired and now living in Lubbock.

Mrs. James Watkins, chairman of the celebration, said that widows of former pastors, Mrs. J. E. Shewbert and Mrs. Harold Morris, will also attend.

A history of the church has been prepared by Mrs. Harold Martin and will be included in the morning's bulletin.

State Representative Elmer Martin of Colorado City will be on hand to present a special certificate of recognition on behalf of Governor Dolph Briscoe.

Special music during the morning service will be presented by the choir and Mr. and Mrs. Royce Mahon.

Music for the afternoon singing will be presented by Josephine Palmer Crutchfield of Abilene, Bryan Mahon of San Angelo and Arnold Marshall of Big Spring. Instrumental music will be under the direction of Mrs. Kirk Taylor and Mrs. J. M. Templeton, both of Loraine. Mrs. Taylor has been playing piano for church services for the past 60 years, starting when she was 12 years old.

Founded in 1900 with 12 members, the church has grown to its present membership of 160. The Sunday School was begun five years later, sharing the public school building with the Baptist Church, one meeting in the morning and one in the afternoon.

The first church building was completed in 1906 at the present location and the present building dedicated in services conducted by Bishop William C. Martin June 18, 1950.

There was no indebtedness on the church at its dedication or on the new parsonage at its dedication Oct. 13, 1968.

Thirty-six pastors have served the church since its founding and the first parsonage was bought in 1911. Until then, the pastor came over from Roscoe.

The Methodist Tabernacle was built on the church lot in 1925, providing more room for the home church and also used by the other churches in town for summer revivals. Singings and civic meetings were also held there until its use was discontinued.

Everyone in the community is invited to attend the anniversary celebration events, Mrs. Watkins said.

To Discuss Hospital Changes

A talk about hospital changes is on tap for Thursday's evening meeting of the Mitchell County Historical Survey Committee, to be presented by Charles Root, administrator of Root Memorial Hospital.

The public is invited to attend the 7 p.m. meeting in Mitchell County Library, says Tom Jay Goss II, chairman of the committee.

Root will tell about the simple problems early-day hospitals were faced with as compared with the complexities of running a modern-day hospital. He has been closely associated with Root Hospital since its opening in 1927 when it was built by his father, Dr. C. L. Root.

Root is also expected to give a run-down of other city hospitals which preceeded Root Hospital. Goss has invited anyone who might have knowledge of sanitariums in early Colorado to attend the meeting and share information with the historical group.

The Historical Survey Committee plans to tape all of the interviews, making them available to researchers.

Elected were:

--Kent Gentry, fire chief.

--Dale Mathis, second assistant chief.

--Mel Palmer, secretary-treasurer.

--Lon Robertson, chaplain.

During the meeting, John Morgan and Dwain McGuire presented a program, including a film, on the proper handling of downed electrical wires and fighting electrical fires.

Come and Hear

David Alsobrook

Christian Temple

June 22 - June 24

7:30 p.m.

David Alsobrook is the son of an ordained Nazarene pastor. The old saying about preacher's kids seemed to hold true with him. He fell away from the Church's teachings and used drugs in his early teens and became deeply involved in the occult and eastern religions. He was booked with the police and practiced Karate and other martial arts.

David finally was led, through a series of happenings to a genuine, born-again experience. Next, Jesus baptized him in the Holy Ghost and called him to preach and to proclaim the mighty Word of God with signs following to confirm the Word.

Youth turn to God in meetings and burn their articles of witchcraft and worldliness; as many as five bonfires in one revival meeting that last four weeks. David has been in full-time evangelistic teaching ministry since February of 1972.

Many wonderful happenings have occurred in lengthy revival meetings where as many as 350 have repented and been saved. Leukemia, goiter, skin cancer, blindness, deafness, and many other afflictions have been healed by our Lord Jesus Christ.

Dear Editor:

There is something that I feel I must say about the upcoming liquor election in Precinct 2.

Perhaps there are those who think that this is of no concern to those who do not live in Precinct 2, but having lived in Post when liquor sales was voted on in one precinct, I know that it concerns everyone in Mitchell County.

When this precinct in Post went "wet," the whole town was affected. More law enforcement officers were needed because such things as public drunkenness, D.W.I.'s, prostitution, auto accidents, etc. increased greatly. Anything good that might have come as a result of this election was far outweighed by the bad things.

I appeal to our friends and neighbors in Precinct 2 to think about this and go to the polls on July 8 and vote against this proposition.

Mrs. A. W. Bratcher

Crown Of Righteousness

Bob Grayson

Pastor

Calvary Baptist Church

Colorado City

Paul tells us in II Timothy 4:8 that there is a crown of righteousness awaiting all those who love Christ's appearing or second coming to this earth. I John 3:3 says that everyone who has the hope of Christ's appearing will purify himself, in other words to live in light of the soon return of Christ to this earth will motivate us to live a holy life and to resist the temptation to sin.

In some classes at school a teacher will explain to the students at the beginning of the year what projects must be done and the date each is due. The vast majority of the students will wait until the due date is very near before they start working on the project. Similarly many students don't start to study until the night before the test. These are clear illustrations of how our conduct is effected by the nearness of the day of testing or day of accounting.

The Christian has always been exhorted to live as though Christ could return at any moment. To live in expectancy of this event is very healthy in the Christian life.

Good advise that I have heard from several men is to live as though Christ could return at any moment and plan as though you have a life time. This advise keeps the return of Christ in proper perspective.

I just can't keep from feeling that the events and signs of the world at this time indicate that the return of Christ not only could happen but will happen soon. There are many, many other individuals who are saying the same thing today.

I don't have space to go into the details of events that are taking place around the world that indicate the return of Christ is near. Because of these events and conditions, today more Christians are looking for the soon return of Christ than at any other time in the history of the world.

But the crucial question we need to consider is how do we feel about such an event taking place in our lives. A lot of us have made provision for financial security at the age of retirement--if it is possible. It may take several thousand dollars each month for a couple to live by the time I reach 65. Doesn't it seem a bit unwise or short sighted to plan for several years in the future and be caught completely unprepared for eternity?

Are you so wrapped up in this world that you would be disappointed if Christ returned tomorrow, or are you looking for, longing for, and loving His coming? That is a sobering question that we all need to answer. The truth of the matter is that those who are living with an eye on heaven are most able to live a life of joy on this earth.

C. S. Lewis, one of the outstanding Christian writers of history and especially during this century, said in his book, "Christian Behavior," "If you read history you will find that the Christians who did most for the present world were just those who thought most of the next. It is since Christians have largely ceased to think of the other world that they have become so ineffective in this. Aim at heaven and you will get earth thrown in. Aim at earth and you will get neither." It is the person who lives in hope of life after death and the return of Christ to this world to make wrongs right, to make injustices just, that is able to live above circumstances and make a real contribution.

We all recognize that one of the characteristics of a young child is that he lives totally in the present and has great difficulty looking to the future. Tommorrow or later seems forever to him. Contrastly the mark of a mature, wise adult is to plan for the future and live today in light of those plans. Are you acting wisely or foolishly, maturely or childishly? Those who delight themselves in the Lord aren't disappointed.

Levesque Reports On 3-Day Meeting

A series of over one hundred conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses is scheduled this summer in the United States and Canada.

Ed Levesque, presiding minister of the Colorado City congregation, said 40 delegates will represent this area at sessions set for the Civic Center in Amarillo.

Levesque said 4,000 persons are expected for the four-day meeting beginning July 3.

"It is clear," Levesque said, "that the earthly system is a closewoven fabric. Whether we like it or not, the nations are all interdependent. Yet this fact has not brought them into cooperation, even though they see the desperate need for this."

"Why is it that the nations cannot work out their problems by cooperation? In particular, because they are divided in so many ways," he said.

"They have different political ideologies, economic systems, social arrangements and religious beliefs. And people, as a result, often have deep-seated prejudices against those who hold views different from t[illegible]r own."

Discussing the convention program, Levesque said it will explore all the problems confronting mankind today and systematically review the ultimate solution.

Levesque said sessions are scheduled daily from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 3 to 5:30 p.m. The program will feature four Bible drams, lectures and general discussion periods.
