THREE TESTIFY IN STRICKEL'S MURDER TRIAL

TESTIMONY OF FIVE OTHERS READ HERE

COCHRAN RANCHER IS CHARGED IN DEATH OF MEXICAN

Three state witnesses took the stand and testimony of five other state witnesses at a previous trial was read this morning in the first half-day of the retrial of W. T. Strickel, a rancher, for the murder of Francisco Carasco in Cochran county, in 72nd district court before Judge Homer L. Pharr. Court was adjourned at noon until 1 p. m.

J. C. Montgomery, Cochran county sheriff when the homicide occurred and now a resident of Morton, was the last to sit in the witness chair. He told of finding Carasco's body and identified a knife as that found in the extended right hand of the corpse. Carasco was shot through the head and his body, face downward with the left hand folded under, was found slightly more than a mile from Strickel's ranch headquarters, Montgomery testified.

Others Testify

Other witnesses appearing in court were Bruma Griego and her husband, Felix. Testimony in Strickel's first trial, in Cochran county, by Juan Chavarria; Manuel Chaves; his son, Raymond Chaves; Walter Moreman, sheriff of Yoakum county at the time of the shooting, and Dr. John Norris, who examined the body, was read by District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley.

Mexicans who testified or whose previous testimony was presented this morning said Carasco's death followed a dispute in which he refused to drive sheep into a pen as ordered by Strickel, saying that was not a part of the job. The rancher fired a rifle toward the group of Mexicans several times, they testified, and they packed to leave as Strickel left on horseback, saying he was going to return Carasco and Chavarria.

A jury of nine farmers, a barber, a hotel engineer and a teamster was selected Monday to try Strickel.

Judge Pharr recessed court at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon when the

BRIBE CHARGE FACES PROBE AT WICHITA

WITNESS TELLS ABOUT PAYING DRY AGENTS FOR PROTECTION

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 17.—The federal district attorney's office was under orders today to conduct a thorough investigation of developments which cropped out at a hearing on a temporary injunction padlocking the Kelly Hunt home.

Out of the hearing came charges that two prohibition officers accepted bribes and that liquor was taken from the United States deputy marshal's office.

Payments Claimed

Hunt testified yesterday he paid W. R. King, a prohibition agent, approximately $50 a month for freedom from raids or interference with bootlegging activities during the past 18 months. Hunt declared he had made eight or ten payments.

The defendant also said R. D. Heaton, Dallas prohibition officer, contracted to deliver to him for $5.00 four pint bottles of liquor seized in a raid on the Hunt home July 24, 1931. Hunt said the bottles and their contents constituted evidence against him.

He testified Heaton accepted $100 in payment for taking the bottles to Hunt's home with the expectation of receiving another $400.

J. T. Bentley, United States deputy marshal, testified his office and the whisky vault at the court house were forcibly entered between Sept. 12 and Sept. 14 and the liquor confiscated in the Hunt raid had been stolen.

Heaton denied he took the bottles from the vault or received money from Hunt.

Hunt went with officers to his home and returned to the courtroom with the bottles.

FREIGHT TRAIN CRUSHES YOUTH

BAIRD, Nov. 17 (AP) — John Giofrida, about 21, of Rochester, N. Y., was killed, apparently instantly in the Texas and Pacific railroad yards here last night when he fell beneath the wheels of a freight train.

The body, held at a local undertaking parlor pending word from relatives, was identified by H. M. Bollenger, of Lawndale, Calif., companion of Giofrida, who, riding farther ahead on the train, was advised of his pal's demise and returned to find the body along the tracks.

Beer Industry Is Hit By Depression

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 17 (AP)—The economic situation has made heavy inroads into beer profits in Mexico and thousands will be thrown out of work in the brewing industry unless some remedy can be found, a joint petition of employers and workers to the department of industry declared today.

A petition said 1,200 workers had been laid off in four large Mexico City breweries recently and that the rest were working only three days weekly on account of the reduced consumption of beer, which in spite of efforts to popularize it, remains a "luxury" in Mexico, and is one of the first things eliminated when depression comes.

Counter Proposals Are Made By China

DEMANDS THAT JAPS LEAVE TERRITORY

GENERAL MAH STANDS HIS GROUND; AIR RAID REPORTED

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 17.—General Mah Chan-Shan, the Chinese commander in Manchuria, has submitted a set of counter proposals to the Japanese General Honjo, dispatches from Mukden said today, but is standing his ground south of Anganchi with no indication that he intends to withdraw.

Dispatches from Harbin earlier in the day indicated General Mah had accepted the Japanese demand that he withdraw, but the Mukden report of the counter proposals said he would fall back only if the Japanese evacuated the Nonni river sector and gave guarantees that General Chang Hai-Peng shall not be permitted to use the Taonan-Anganchi railway.

Guard Against Bandits

General Mah also repeated his assertion that he can not withdraw all his forces north of the Chinese eastern railway because of the presence of bandits in the south.

Meanwhile, it was said military authorities here had decided to ask the cabinet that reinforcements be sent to Manchuria quickly because of the increasingly threatening situation there.

It appeared unlikely that the cabinet would approve ordering out fresh troops although reports from two Japanese sources in Manchuria said negotiations with General Mah Chan-Shan had broken down.

The Japanese feeling is that the new Chinese terms, although they are outwardly reasonable, are "excuses" for Mah's forces to remain in their present position.

CITY EVACUATED AS BOMBS DROPPED

TAX INCREASE IS CERTAIN

ADMINISTRATION WILL ASK CONGRESS FOR MORE REVENUE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—It is now a practical certainty that the individual taxpayer must dig deeper next year for his contribution to the upkeep of government.

Just which section of the population shall bear the brunt of the increase, in what form it shall be raised and how much it will total have become commanding questions on Capitol Hill.

The administration is going to ask congress to raise more revenue. Reluctantly, the Republican leaders on the hill have resigned themselves to the unpleasant task of boosting levies on the eve of a presidential campaign. The Democrats, uncommitted as yet, are expected to sanction some form of new revenue.

With another billion dollar deficit to balance off, Secretary Mellon has nearly finished drafting the plan President Hoover will send to congress in his annual budget message.

Higher rates on the big-money incomes and on the large inheritances appear certain.

Considerable favor is evident in congress also for the imposition of some excise levies, applying on luxuries. The treasury has been considering this recommendation in the form of a selective sales taxes. There is no chance for a general sales tax.

Warning Given On Traffic Violations

Calling attention to reports that Lubbock motorists were failing to observe traffic directions of school boy patrol leaders aiding in the dismissal of schools, John Lemond, chief of police, said today that violators would be prosecuted.

The school boy patrolmen are stationed at street crossings near the schools and aid in directing children across the streets. They are identified by white belts and badges. The patrolmen were organized in the schools by Jack Douglas, president of the South Plains Automobile club, in cooperation with school officials.

FATE OF EIGHT IN BOAT HID BY FOGS

FIVE STUDENTS AND THREE TEACHERS ARE MISSING

(By The Associated Press)

BIVALVE, N. J., Nov. 17 — One of the heaviest fogs to settle on Delaware bay in years overshadowed the fate of eight persons today as search continued for the 26-foot motor launch in which five Millville High school youths and three teachers went on an outing Sunday.

FOUND SAFE

CAPE MAY, N. J., Nov. 17 (AP)—The three high school teachers and five young men missing since Sunday in a motor launch have been found safe in a lighthouse in Delaware bay.

Eleven coast guard vessels searched the bay all night, making slow progress in the fog, while yesterday their force was augmented by privately-owned launches and other vessels. A seaplane, which was forced back after a start yesterday, was held in readiness to take off as soon as a rift appeared in the fog.

Harper Chance, 16, whose father built the motor launch, was skipper of the missing craft. With him were Isabelle McCaughey, 25, of Philadelphia, an English teacher; Alma Moyer, 26, Kulpmont, Pa., teacher of French; Hannah Ewan, 21, of Millville; Irwin Ewan, 18, her brother, and Marshall Roe, 18, and his brothers Kenneth, 15, and Harwood, jr., 17, of Dorchester.

Bank Robbers Fail To Obtain Entrance

FERRIS, Tex., Nov. 17 (AP)—Bank robbers failed in an attempt to loot the vault of the Farmers' and Merchants' State bank of Ferris early today.

Four men captured Bob Cunningham, night watchman, while he was making his rounds and took him to the bank. They used an acetylene torch in their efforts to open the vault door but were unable to gain entry. They managed to cut a hole in it, however.

Cunningham was held captive for an hour while the men worked on the vault door. Finally they gave up the attempt and escaped. Cunningham was released uninjured.

Business Revival Is Seen By Insull

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)—Martin J. Insull, president of the Middle West Utilities system, said today authentic evidence of business revival was being found at a much earlier stage of the upswing of the business cycle than was possible in final stages of earlier depressions.

"As a result of our investigations, we have established that in most areas served by our system, small-unit industries are using more electric energy than last year," President Insull said.

Dreiser Case May Offer Test Of Kentucky's Law

WRITER AND MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE INDICTED FOR SYNDICALISM; WILL FIGHT EXTRADITION

(By The Associated Press)

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., Nov. 17.—If Bell county officials are successful in extraditing Theodore Dreiser and members of his committee which investigated conditions in the eastern Kentucky coal fields, a test of Kentucky's criminal syndicalism statute is in prospect.

Dreiser's committee while here asked authorities why several men they previously had charged with criminal syndicalism were released on promises to leave the state. Commonwealth's Attorney W. A. Brock replied that if any returned they would be tried. Sampel Ornitz, a member of the committee, said "that's just what we want you to do," adding that it would afford an opportunity for a court test of the law.

Dreiser and Ornitz are among the members of the committee indicted here yesterday on criminal syndicalism charges.

The indictments charge the group with "aiding and counseling crime, physical violence, arson, destruction of property, intimidation, terrorism and other unlawful acts," and advising and suggesting "disorder and resistance" to the state and federal governments.

The group announced last night at New York they would resist extradtion. They said the charges were an attempt to "becloud" the committee's findings.

DETAILED STUDY OF STATE TAX LAWS AND METHODS OF EVASION ORDERED BY LEGISLATIVE TAX SURVEY COMMITTEE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 17—A detailed study of the state's tax laws and the methods in which they are evaded was ordered today by the legislative tax survey committee to be made under the direction of Moore Lynn, state auditor.

Lynn was before the committee two hours explaining tax laws now on the statute books and pointing out some of the loop holes. A closer study had not been made because of lack of time, Lynn said.

He was ordered to prepare recommendations as to the best method of tightening up the present laws to make them enforceable.

Lynn recommended that tax laws not enforceable be removed from the books immediately. One of the jokers in the occupation tax law, Lynn said, was a provision whereby no penalties could be levied against offenders if they paid the tax any time before judgment was entered against them. Lynn stated this caused numerous persons to hold off paying their occupation taxes until they were caught since there was no penalty for non-payment.

The committee indicated it would conclude its work shortly after the first of the year.

The fairest method of taxing corporations is by a combination of the net income and ad valorem tax, Dr. E. P. Schoch, professor of economic engineering at the University of Texas, told the committee. He advised against using one or the other exclusively. All taxes should be levied on the same basis, Dr. Schoch said, condemning the present practice of taking one commodity on a production basis and another on a value basis.

ONCE AGAIN THE WOMAN HAS HAD THE LAST WORD

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)—Once again the woman has had the last word.

The female prerogative was brought into prominence yesterday when a stopwatch was used to record the length of time each member of the board of county commissioners talked during a one hour session at routine committee members.

And three of the four women members outtalked their ten male associates, 3 to 2.

The test was made at the suggestion of a male commissioner who begged that his name be withheld from publication for obvious reasons.

The three leading women contributed 3,162 seconds against 2,085 for the ten men. The fourth woman, however, talked but 57 seconds and was just ahead of the last man on the list. He talked for 15 seconds, his remarks including one in which he asked if he could "get a word in."

Captain And Crew Face Booze Charge

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17. (AP)—Captain John Iverson and 26 members of his crew aboard the coastwise freighter Commercial Quaker were under bond today charged with having landed a $70,000 liquor cargo at Chester, Pa., last Wednesday.

Federal agents made the arrests last night in a raid on the steamer at its pier. With the exception of the second mate, Eugent Currot, who was not implicated, the entire crew admitted their guilt, authorities said.

Three Suspects In Kidnaping Arrested

CHICAGO, Nov. 17. (AP)—Three men, suspected of having a part in the kidnaping of John J. Lynch, millionaire turf man at Lake Geneva, Wis., were arrested last night.

They are Michael Trant, Michael and Frank Sullivan.

The trio was believed by Pat Roche, investigator for the state's attorney, to be part of a gang of kidnapers which operated in Rockford, Peoria and other Illinois cities.

Mexican Tourists Regulation Changed

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 17. (AP)—Tourists coming to Mexico in the future will not have to have their entrance papers examined at the border, the immigration department announced today. This work will be handled at the Mexican consulates issuing tourists cards.

It also announced that an old law forbidding tourists from bringing cameras into Mexico had been annulled.

EFFORT BEING MADE TO OBTAIN MORE TICKETS FOR AMARILLO-LUBBOCK TILT

"We're making every effort to get as many tickets as possible for Lubbock people," M. H. Duncan, superintendent of schools, said this morning when questioned about tickets for the Amarillo-Lubbock game at Amarillo Thanksgiving day.

"We ordered 4,000 tickets and only got 1,500," Mr. Duncan said. "I talked with Superintendent McIntosh of Amarillo last night and he informed me 'that they did mighty well' to send us that many. We got in touch with the business manager of athletics and he said 2,000 more tickets were being sent down to us Wednesday."

"It appears that Amarillo is saving the best for themselves," Mr. Duncan said. "We always have made it a practice to divide the grandstand with Amarillo fans but the tickets sent down here were only for the east side of the field."

Of the 1,500 sent down here Monday, more than 600 were student tickets, it was stated.

Mr. Duncan said they were building more seats on the Amarillo field and probably would be enough room for between 16,000 and 20,000 people.

A number of people this morning were discussing the advisability of sending a delegation to Amarillo to see that Lubbock fans obtained an ample number of tickets for the game. Several local firms had purchased large blocks of tickets for their employes, it was said.

PROBLEMS ARE TO COME UP AT CONFAB

DISARMAMENT ISSUE FACES HOOVER AND ITALIAN ENVOY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—Dino Grandi approached his conference with President Hoover this afternoon with a statement that it was "high time" that the world sought a practical solution of the disarmament problem.

In a conference with newspapermen in Secretary Stimson's office a few hours before he was to begin his discussions with the president, the Italian foreign minister called disarmament the most important question "existing in the relations between countries."

"It is high time that everybody seeks a practical result in the disarmaments," he said.

Expresses Hope

Responding to a question regarding the possibility of a Franco-Italian naval settlement, the minister expressed "hope" such an agreement could be reached.

"Italy feels such an agreement would be good and it would be welcomed by everybody in Italy."

The only question which he did not respond to directly was one as to whether he would specifically discuss with President Hoover and Secretary Stimson Italy's stand for Versailles treaty revision.

"Don't put that difficult question to me," he said smiling.

He said the purpose of his visit to President Hoover was to bring peaceful cooperation of all nations and to contribute to their economy recovery.

HEARING IS NOT SET FOR YOUTHS

CROSBYTON, Nov. 17—(Special)—At noon today, three white youths held in Crosby county jail for the murder of a negro cotton-picker had not asked for a hearing and an examinging trial had not been scheduled, Sheriff Elmer Reed said.

District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley of Lubbock and Crosby county authorities last night indicated they possibly would oppose fixing of bond for the three teenage boys who held up four negroes in a dice game and subsequently fatally wounded one negro with charges from two shotguns.

Unless the youths demanded a hearing, District Attorney Bradley said last night, their cases would be investigated by a 72nd district court grand jury in January. Murder charges were filed in Peace Justice A. A. Hatchell's court here yesterday against the three—J. D. Boswell, 18; Earlie Dyess, 19, and Onnie Graham, not yet 17. The fatal shooting occurred Saturday night about five miles northwest of here. T. C. Jackson, a negro, was wounded fatally.

No Verdict Given In Heart Balm Suit

ABILENE, Nov. 17 (AP)—The jury deliberating the heart balm suit of Miss Madge Roberts against J. Louis Keen of New Mexico in district court here, had not reported to the court at noon today, and officials saw indications of a second deadlocked jury and mistrial. The case was given to the body yesterday afternoon. A previous trial of the case, in which Miss Roberts seeks $50,000 ended in a hung jury last July.

Partial Victory Is Accorded Powers

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 17 (AP)—Harry F. Powers, held as the quintuple slayer of Quiet Dell, today won a partial victory in his fight for a change of venue.

Judge John C. Southern set Saturday to hear testimony in support of a petition by defense counsel asking that Powers' trial, scheduled for this city December 7, be removed to another county.

BATTLE LINES BEING DRAWN FOR FIGHT

PROHIBITION ISSUE IS EXPECTED TO RENEW TROUBLE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Anticipating renewed hostilities this session, citizens organizations for and against prohibition are piling up ammunition for their campaigns in congress.

Anti-prohibition attacks are foreseen in three directions: Modification moves, constitutional convention proposals and efforts to defeat enforcement appropriations.

Drys Are Ready

Edwin C. Dinwiddie, executive secretary of the national prohibition board of strategy announced today his forces were ready.

In the same building with the prohibitionists—the National Press building—the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment is gathering figures to promote repeal. It has adopted submission to constitutional conventions as the stepping stone to the goal and expects to work for it in this session of congress as well as in both Democratic and Republican conventions.

Modifications likewise are prepared to plead their cause through publicity while exercising the prerogative of keeping congress informed directly of the organized sentiment they represent.

Conference Called

Dinwiddie has issued a preliminary call for the yearly national conference of organizations supporting the Eighteenth amendment—about 33 of them in all. This gathering early next month will outline a legislative program.

Defense of existing laws is No. 1 on the board's plans for using the $100,000 or more it expects to collect in dimes at the end of this month.

MANY TRAPPED BY STORMS

AMERICAN NORTHWEST HELD IN GRIP OF WINTRY BLAST

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—A storm which trapped dozens of persons in the snow-covered mountains of California, among them Noah Beery, screen actor, held much of the American northwest and the Pacific slope in its cold grip today.

Mountain roads, especially those leading over the Sierra Nevada from California to points east, were closed, due to the heavy snowfall. Dozens of motorists were rescued after having been forced to abandon their automobiles.

With but six exceptions, all those marooned were reported safe last night, including Beery and two companions, who struck out Sunday morning into the snow-clad San Grabriel mountains near Palmdale, Calif., to search for Robert Elliott and Llano, Calif., who was reported lost.

Found By Indian

Elliott was found by an Indian and brought to safety but Beery, O. G. Norris, his ranch foreman, and A. L. Hendricks, a real estate man, were themselves lost.

Caught in a terrific windstorm which followed a heavy snowfall, the three braved the elements for 36 hours. They found shelter in a deserted cabin Sunday night.

Early yesterday they started the Body Of Slaying Victim Is Found

HOUSTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—The body of H. L. Bennett, 72, who had been slain with a shotgun, was found today in a small cottage on his chicken ranch near here.

Justice Campbell Overstreet's inquest verdict was "death due to gunshot wounds at the hands of an unknown party or parties."

Neighbors said Bennett had been living about a year on a ranch. The body was discovered by Fred Blackwell, a negro employe.

Authorities were undetermined as to the motive for the murder but thought the slaying probably the work of a tramp.

Needy Families Of Ex-Service Men To Receive Christmas Aid From Auxiliary

Box Supper Is To Be Fostered Locally By Auxiliary; Social Hour Is Enjoyed

Continuing with their care of needy families of ex-service men, members of the American Legion auxiliary Monday evening made an offering of canned foods and planned to finance a Christmas party.

The food collected Monday evening will be distributed through the rehabilitation chairman, Mrs. E. Paul Carter, and the child welfare chairman, Mrs. Will N. Morgan.

In order to finance the Christmas program for needy, the auxiliary planned a box supper to be held early in December. All ex-service men and their wives are to attend. A definite date is to be announced for this party but it probably will be during the second week in December.

Three Are Hostesses

A social hour was enjoyed by the auxiliary members who attended Monday's party. Hostesses were Mesdames A. C. Jackson, L. A. Howard and J. H. Hackfield. Games were played.

During the evening, Mrs. W. M. Peticolas, who recently retired as president, was presented with a gift.

Rhythm Dance Will Be Program Theme

Rhythm dances of different countries will be presented by pupils of Miss Margaret Huff in the fourth of a series of cultural recitals Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church.

Those who will play numbers include Madge Malone, Nannie Margaret and Ruth Overton, Elizabeth Ann Price, Elva Mae Hunt, Marian Rogers, Jeanne Shepard, Ferrelline Tucker, Gladys Hall, Dorothy Wright, Ophelia Mae Beall, Juliette Merrill, Barbara Ann Read, Annie Claire Huie, Ruth Leberstein, Betty Lee Lindsey, Jane Robison, Louise Burrus, Grace Halsell, Olive Huff, Billie Martin, Lottie Margaret Atkinson, Jacque Lewis, Dorothy Sue Standefer, Carol Ann Krueger, Eunice Klett and Elizabeth Ann and Bobbie Lee McCelvey.

Thanksgiving Theme Used In Program

Talks on the Thanksgiving theme were heard by members of the South Side Baptist Women's Missionary society Monday afternoon in a meeting at the church. Mrs. W. T. Ferguson presided and Mrs. J. C. Cox led the devotional. Talks were made by Miss Lula Pearl Blake and Mrs. Ran Smith.

Others attending were Mesdames Harvey Downing, J. T. Henslar, W. B. Wages, Memory Smith, C. A. Lovett and the church pastor, Rev. J. D. Welch.

Home Mission Study Is Illustrated

Under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Leidigh, a home missions pageant was presented before the First Presbyterian Women's auxiliary Monday afternoon in a meeting at the church. Others who had parts in the pageant were Mesdames H. A. Davidson, B. Burns, George Simmons, G. W. McCleary and Seth Cummings. Mrs. Jack M. Lewis led the devotional and members of Circle 2 were hostesses during a social hour.

Cardui Had Helped Her During Girlhood

"I WAS tired all the time—had misery in my back and sides that kept me feeling bad," writes Mrs. H. H. Penn, 839 Front St., Portsmouth, Ohio. "I was in a nervous and weakening condition. I lost in weight.

"During girlhood, mother had given me Cardui, and it had helped me so much then that I decided to take it again. I took several bottles and my strength began to return and I gained in weight. I soon lost that tired and weary feeling.

"Cardui has done me a great deal of good since then. I have taken Cardui several times . . . and have been benefited. It does me lots of good, and I am always ready to recommend it."

FEEDING PROGRAM

Mrs. Megs and her husband, long before their first child was born, often talked together about the habits they were going to cultivate in themselves and the child from the first day of its life; and they discussed in detail the ways by which they would proceed. Knowing that the chances for the baby to live and grow up would be far greater if breast-fed, the expectant mother planned so to feed the child, until the age of about nine months.

Mr. Megs agreed that he would not be near when the infant was being fed, lest its food habits should be impaired. From what the happy Megs had read both concluded it would be well to give the child a limited time to nurse at each feeding, to be recommended by the physician. The Megs had spent considerable thought on the selection of a doctor to guide them in the physical care of the child to be born. Also they had carefully chosen a doctor who was to deliver the child at the hospital. To him Mrs. Megs had been going once each month for a careful physical check and for guidance of her own diet and health habits.

At last the baby came and they called her Millie—Millie Megs. After a few months the parents learned that they were able to carry out most of the things that they had planned, and found considerable satisfaction in discovering the accuracy of their foresight. Long before Millie was nine months old she had learned to drink water and orange juice from a cup, and enjoyed taking cod liver oil from a spoon. She actually smacked her lips with satisfaction. The oil had always been kept in a cool place, purchased in small quantities, and the bottle top each time was carefully wiped, so it would not become rancid. Millie also gradually learned to drink milk and vegetable juice from a cup and soon learned to relish such vegetable mash as that of carrots, beets or spinach; also cereal gruel, as advised by the doctor.

When Millie's mother fed her the first vegetable, she gave the child an amount no bigger than a pea. No other food was in sight at the time. It was several days before Millie was given as much at a meal as a teaspoonful. Mrs. Megs soon added new vegetables, as many as the doctor permitted, and she varied constantly among them, from meal to meal. No toys were near while Millie ate, nor any other person. Mrs. Megs was careful not to give Millie at any meal, quite so much as she wanted of any food.

At the slightest sign of the child's having had enough, the food was immediately removed. There was never more than one kind of food before the child at a time.

The child was fed in these early months by Mrs. Megs' hand. Her tongue was not at all employed. She said nothing during the feeding, but performed the process as if she were a mere machine. She wanted Millie to learn to attend only to eating then.

When Millie Megs was about 11 months old, a vegetable mash on a platter with a spoon beside it was placed before her. The mother walked away. Millie handled the spoon, dropped it, and began to put the food into her month with her hands: some food, of course, got into Millie's ears and hair and over her face, and a little fell to the floor. After a few days Millie learned to use the spoon, and the whole activity proved to her very fascinating. Six months later Millie was able to get semi-liquid foods to her mouth with the spoon. One day when Millie decided that she did not want her carrots Mrs. Megs silently removed them, put the baby down. Millie cried and begged for something else to eat, but her mother acted deaf and blind. At the next meal there was no such trouble. Millie now is three. She eats everything set before her and she eats with the family at the table.

Texas Tech Band To Give Free Concert At High School Auditorium Tonight

The first concert of the academic year will be presented by the Texas Technological college band (shown above) in the high school auditorium this evening beginning at 8:15. The concert will be free to the public.

Marches and overtures will be presented along with popular numbers, Harry LeMaire, director, announces. Forty students make up the organization. A feature number will be a cornet trio by H. K. Godike, Ronnie Sheppard and Robert Kornegay. Culver Hill will present a baritone solo.

The band will make two out-of-town appearances next week, one in Abilene at the Tech-Simmons game Thanksgiving Day and the other in sessions of the Texas State Teachers association convention in Amarillo.

Asbury Youngsters In WMS Program

Songs, readings and a play were participated in by children of the Asbury Methodist congregation on Monday afternoon when a program was presented before the Women's Missionary society. This meeting was at the church.

Mrs. J. E. Schornick was leader of the devotional lesson and Mrs. Louie Shropshire talked on the life of David. There were 25 members and three visitors at the meeting. These latter were Mesdames Bill Atkins, Nathan Johnson and Ed Corcorran.

Those who gave songs and readings were Nathalie Johnson, Virginia Sue and Martha Lou Smith, Dean Corcorran, Cherre Caroline Lane and Louise Click. Mrs. Collier Smith was in charge of their numbers.

Jane Brownfield gave a report on the recent meeting of seventh district, Texas Federation of Music clubs, Monday evening at a meeting of the Harmony Music club in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, 2201 Broadway.

The club met in Juvenile and Junior units for a program on "Triads."

Those having parts on the Juvenile program, which was led by Darline Abbott, were Marjorie Ann May, James Nislar, Carey May, Dee Brownfield, Shirley Ann Parsons, Watson Carlock, Virginia Elliott, Virginia Cook, Grace Anna Fletcher, Etoile McLeod, Jean Clapp, Willalouise Humphries, Chalones Whitacre and Mary Pickett.

Those who participated in the Junior program were Sammy Bass, Arline Harris, Helen Brown and Fred Fairley.

Foods Class To Open On Wednesday

A foods extension class that was to have been opened Monday evening will not start until Wednesday evening, according to an announcement made this morning.

This class, which is to be in 12 lessons, is to be taught by Miss Elda Mae Lyle under the general direction of Miss Johnie McCrery, head of the foods department at Texas Technological college. The class will be at the college at 7:30 o'clock on Monday and Wednesday evenings. There are a few vacancies and reservations may be made in the office of Miss Margaret Weeks, dean of the college home economics school.

When a new $250,000 hospital was opened recently at Sutton, England, it was announced that the institution had the unique distinction of being entirely free from debt.

Report On Gathering Of Church Given

A report on the Baptist convention in Waco featured a meeting of the First Baptist Women's Missionary society Monday afternoon at the church. Mrs. J. E. Hamilton gave the report.

Others having parts on a general program were Mesdames R. C. Campbell, W. F. Fry, Susie Dalton and Garnet Reeves. The lesson and devotional were led by Mrs. Campbell.

43 Women Gather For Aid Program

Forty-three women in the First Christian church met Monday afternoon for a program and business hour at the church Mrs. R. A. Mills, president of the General Aid society, presided and Mrs. D. W. Robertson led the devotional. A chapter from the book, "On Being Towed In," was reviewed by Mrs. E. L. Pitts.

The opening prayer was led by Mrs. J. D. Walker and Mrs. David S. Martin played a piano solo. During the business meeting, plans were made for a one-day convention at the church Friday.

Women in Circle 3 were hostesses during a social hour.

Episcopalians Sign A Peace Petition

Members of the Episcopal auxiliary, in a meeting Monday afternoon with Mrs. R. D. Prophet, signed a petition addressed to President Hoover and asking his support of the anti-war Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact. The petition was mailed to Washington.

At this same meeting, contributions were collected to be sent to the Student Center at Canyon.

BODY IS FOUND

LONGVIEW, Nov. 17 (AP)—The shot riddled body of J. J. Garner, oil field worker was found beside the Longview-Gladewater highway late Monday. A man with whom he was seen in Gladewater was sought for questioning in the killing.

What made him get ahead so fast?

You've seen men like "Mac." Always stepping to bigger jobs. With the energy and good health to realize his ambitions.

So often a promising career is handicapped by constipation. This ailment frequently brings headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Ambition is dulled.

Avoid constipation. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This delicious cereal supplies "bulk," Vitamin B and iron.

"Bulk" gently cleanses the intestines. Vitamin B tones them up. Both promote regularity. How much better than pills and drugs.

Enjoy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN as a cereal. Have your wife use it in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

TAX PAYMENTS ON INCREASE

OCTOBER THIS YEAR SHOWS BIG BOOST OVER LAST YEAR

Nearly three times as much was paid in city and school taxes here last month as in October of 1930, statements of R. A. Holland, city tax collector and assessor, and A. C. Jackson, business manager and tax collector of the Lubbock independent school district, indicate.

The greatest increase was shown in returns for school purposes, where the collections increased from $6,415.32 in October, last year, to $37,108.54 — a difference of more than $30,000.

City Collections

City collections last month were $12,161.60, as compared with $10,300.30 the same month one year ago, Mr. Holland said. Of the 1931 collections by the city, $8,062.67 was for current taxes, and $4,098.93 for delinquent taxes. Returns for October, 1930, were divided as follows: Current, $3,420.29; delinquent, $6,880.01.

Combined city and school totals are: October, 1931, a total of $49,270.14; October, last year, $16,715.62.

Only 42 people used the installment plan of payment for school taxes last month, Jackson said; and of this number the average payment was less than $50. Many of the installments were less than $10 and some less than $2. The two payment plan was not in effect last October.

Two Payments

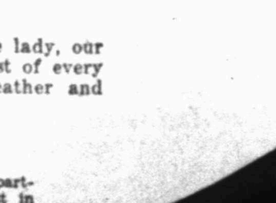

Under the plan, made a law by the 42nd legislature, the tax payments may be made in two equal payments, providing the first is made by Nov. 30 and the second by June 30. It does not apply to city collections.

According to figures released by the city, the city school officials and County Collector A. J. Clark, total collections of taxes in October, this year, amounted to $73,938.90, compared with $28,986.94 in the same month of 1930.

SOAP and hard water make scum. The hardness in the water combines with the soap. The scum collects dirt. There is a dirty ring around the dishpan, the washtubs, the bathtub. But soften hard water with Mel'o and no scum forms.

Water softened with Mel'o is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It makes the soap much more effective, too, saving from ¼ to ½ the amount ordinarily used. Mel'o costs only 10 cents a can. You can afford to buy 3 cans and keep one in the kitchen, one in the laundry, and one in the bathroom. Get it at your grocer's.

TECH-NEW MEXICO GAME WILL FEATURE HOMECOMING PROGRAM

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER DARNIS

The football games of wide variation as to the size and calibre of the players but none the less interesting are on tap here this week. Tomorrow afternoon at Tech field, starting promptly at 3 o'clock, the Littlefield High Wildcats will meet the Floydada High Whirlwinds in a Class B game for the championship of the northern half of District 2.

Friday afternoon will find the Tech Matadors in their last home stand of the season before a hoped-for large Homecoming Day crowd of students, ex-students, alumni and fellow citizens. The University of New Mexico is to furnish the opposition, and Pete Cawthon and Dutchey Smith, Tech's football professors, tell us that it will be a game what is a game. They saw the Loboes whip Arizona Saturday, though the final score was 7-7, and they say the New Mex boys can go.

And now to answer the charges brought against this department in a letter published herein yesterday. Old Timer, you and the others who think we've been slighting the Texas Tech Matadors and showing favor toward the Westerners, take notice. With one fell swoop we shall blast out the supposition that Lubbock High has received more so-called publicity than Texas Tech. This is an easy one. We did not even have to check the files to tell this, but we did look over and measure according to inches the stories relating of the football activities of both teams. The result was that considerably more, much more space had been given to Tech than to the high school, and a new hat awaits the man, woman or child who can make an accurate check and disclose figures telling otherwise.

As a matter of fact, we were surprised at our own figures, which showed the Matadors so far in the lead in the matter of column inches. If Old Timer or any other skeptical soul will visit this office he may have access to the files and make his own comparison.

Another big topic of Old Timer's letter was finance; in fact, that was the subject. As to our criticism of Tech students for not coming out to the games in big numbers, we shall continue to berate them for non-support of the team. The mere fact that we do gripe about this should be enough to show where we stand. As for the ten smacks that some Tech students pay for a coupon which admits them to athletic games on the campus, we suggest that the price is extraordinarily low. At the same time it is not compulsory. No student has to pay it, and he who does should feel like he's getting a mighty big bargain. When Tech makes it compulsory for every student to buy one of the blanket taxes, you'll see a big change in Tech athletics bigger and better attendance at games, an increased student spirit and a BETTER FOOTBALL TEAM.

Where this laborer went to school and we worked our way through, Mr. Old Timer, the blanket tax was but $10 per year, but $9 per term. And there were three terms and it was a rule not to be evaded that each student must purchase a blanket tax coupon each term. (The price has been doubled since we left school.) And at that school a greater percentage of students work their way through than at Tech, and the school has a reputation for having campus spirit and how! You don't pay high tuition fees there.

We doubt very seriously that if Tech students did not have to pay one cent to see games there the attendance would not increase enough to tell the difference. Those who do have season tickets are the ones who would pay twice as much, if necessary, and nothing could bar them from the games. If they all had to buy the tickets they'd all go. Understand, please, that we are not crying nor campaigning for an increase in the price of blanket taxes; though the Lord knows Tech needs the money) we're just stating facts picked up from observation. Being an embryo sports writer at college, we never used a tag out of a coupon book, yet we saw every game at home and abroad while we were there. But we had to pay 'em anyway.

As for Lubbock fans being dissatisfied with the way in which we "covered" the Tech-New Mexico A. & M. game at Las Cruces, may we remind you that we were at this same desk on that day, as far away from Las Cruces as Lubbock can be, and it was hinted that we should attend the game. The coverage was adequate, we admit, but through no fault of ours.

Tech may break into this Southwest Conference one of these days—we sincerely hope so—and until they do and afterward it shall be the policy of this paper and this department to give the Matadors all they have coming to them, and more. Check up on it, Old Timer. And thanks for the pansies.

LITTLEFIELD WILL MEET FLOYDADA

TILT WILL BE LAST CLASH AT HOME

ALUMNI EXPECTED TO BE HERE FRIDAY TO ATTEND CONTEST

Tech's last home football game on the 1931 schedule is to be played Friday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock, with the University of New Mexico Loboes as the visiting team. The game will be the main event on Tech's annual Homecoming Day program, and hundreds of alumni and ex-students are expected to be on hand for the occasion.

There was a workout at Tech Field yesterday and there is to be another today, though the gridsters may do most of the working out without the aid of coaches. It was learned here this morning that Coaches Cawthon and Smith, who departed for Abilene late yesterday to scout the Simmons-Austin college game, had become stranded somewhere on a muddy road. So far as could be learned this morning, they were still stranded.

Gridders In Shape

In a statement yesterday, Head Coach Pete Cawthon pronounced his charges as physically fit for some hard work and a good game. While they lost last week at El Paso to the Texas College of Mines in a class game, 14 to 12, the Matadors were not "bunged up" as a result of the melee. "It was one of the 'softest' games we have played all season," remarked Coach Cawthon. Except for several minor bruises and wounds sustained in previous games which were aggravated by the Miners, the local collegians pulled through in good condition.

Athletic Business Manager and Assistant Coach Dutchey Smith announced the time of game as final; that there would be no change, no matter how many phone calls came to his office. It is thought that the visiting ex-students can be more conveniently entertained if the game is played in the afternoon.

Coaches See Loboes

Cawthon and Smith witnessed the Loboes play the University of Arizona eleven to a 7-7 tie Saturday at Albuquerque and came away with the feeling that it will require about all the Matadors have if they win the game here Friday and keep the home record for the season unblemished by a single defeat. According to their story, the New Mexicans should have won the game by a touchdown. A Lobo ball toter went across the goal line for a touchdown and feet to spare, but he was pushed back and the referee "rested" the ball on the 6-inch line, where it went over to Arizona.

The Loboes have been defeated only once this season and in that game they roundly outplayed their opponents except at the goal line. The New Mexico Aggies, whom Tech defeated by a lone touchdown, won a decision over the Loboes, making only 6 first downs to the University's 21, and being outplayed in all departments of the game.

NICKNAMES TO BE OPPOSED

AMATEUR UNION HAS ANNUAL MEET AT KANSAS CITY

BY CHARLES A. GRUMICH

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 17 (AP)—The amateur athletic union plodded through arrangements for its 1932 sports events, sharply criticized the use of nicknames to describe women athletes and wound up an otherwise harmonious session of the 43rd annual convention yesterday in a heated squabble over redistricting.

The track and field and swimming committees of the American Olympic association, also meeting here, virtually completed the recommendations they will submit to the United States Olympic executive committee at New York November 29.

Final trials for membership on the American decathlon team in the olympic games at Los Angeles next year would be held in Chicago June 24 and 25. Under the recommendation of the track and field committee, which already has recommended allotment of other preliminary events.

Sam Jacobs of New York, acting upon a suggestion of Mrs. Ada Taylor Sackett of Atlantic City, voiced from the floor disapproval of nicknames in promotional material, particularly for the Olympic games, and Avery Brundage, of Chicago, president of the A. A. U., echoed the sentiment.

"We should avoid the use of such names," Brundage said. "They are undignified and they are prohibited by the rules." Brundage thought the rule providing athletes must not compete under assumed names ap-

SCHMELING PLANS EXHIBITION TOUR

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Max Schmeling has arranged another exhibition tour of the country to put himself in condition for his expected heavyweight title defense against Mickey Walker in Los Angeles Feb. 22.

The German slugger will open his tour at Boston Dec. 14 and wind up Jan. 16 at Oakland, Calif. He will carry two sparring partners with him on the trip and will box two rounds against each man in 23 cities.

The Schmeling-Walker bout still is up in the air but Schmeling's manager, Joe Jacobs, already has suggested to William F. Carey of Madison Square Garden that the Garden join forces with California interests to promote the match.

SIMMONS AND DENTON WIN

COWBOYS, TEACHERS STILL UNDEFEATED IN CONFERENCES

(By The Associated Press)

Two Texas conference football machines had negotiated another difficult stretch today in their 1931 campaigns and neared the finish undefeated and untied in conference play.

Simmons university maintained its lead in the Texas conference by defeating Austin college 20 to 0.

The North Texas Teachers triumphed 19 to 0 over Sam Houston, defending champion, and remained tied at the top with Texas A. & I. in the eastern division of the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association. A. & I. finished its schedule last week undefeated.

Hickey Will Face Opposition Today

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)—President Thomas J. Hickey of the American association, today faced what seemed to be an annual campaign to unseat him but apparently with the advantage on his side.

Club owners of the association were here for the annual meeting and the big item on the business schedule concerned Hickey's tenure of office. The Hickey forces claimed four votes as certain, which would be sufficient to keep him in the office he has held for 18 years. His principal opposition was expected to come from backers of George Belden, president of the Minneapolis club.

It was hinted that Hickey, if ousted from his present position, might become a candidate for the national association of minor leagues.

GRID FANS WRANGLE OVER TICKETS FOR TURKEY CLASSIC

While eager friends and supporters are wrangling over tickets the Lubbock High school Westerners are wrangling over a football at the Fair Park practice field this week as the last stretch of preparation for the most important game of the season comes around.

A hard workout yesterday will be followed by a harder one today, with Coaches Chapman and Huffman stressing fundamentals of play and rock-bottom ideas to be used in what looms as the hardest contest of the year in Amarillo a week from Thursday. The Golden Sandies of Amarillo High will be hosts; a Lubbock victory would mean the district championship; a tied score should mean the title; an Amarillo victory would throw the district race into a three-way tie among Pampa, Amarillo and Lubbock.

Scramble For Tickets

And as game time approaches there is a wild scramble for tickets. An additional allotment of 2,000 adult tickets was expected today, after 600 adult, 678 student and 320 box seat tickets, placed on sale Monday morning, were sold by noon yesterday. Tickets, which are on sale at the Hilton Drug store, went like wildfire while they lasted and not one was available last night.

There has been some dissatisfaction because the tickets are for seats on the east side of the stadium, which is the bleacher section, and because they are not on the 50-yard line. Those who have been at the stadium believe the bleacher seats are better since they are closer to the sidelines. Others can't see it that way and the wrangling continues. Superintendent M. H. Duncan wants it made clear that it is through no fault of the local authorities that the tickets are not the best "in the house" for the game.

Can Demand Half

The Amarillo stadium seats 12,000 people and local school officials can demand one-half of the tickets to be placed on sale here, according to interscholastic league ruling. When the additional supply is exhausted, another allotment will be sought by local officials. Duncan said Monday night that every Lubbock resident would be assured of a ticket to the game if he wanted it.

To Scrimmage Some

No less than three hard scrimmage sessions are in store for the Westerners before they go to Amarillo. If they beat Amarillo the local school boys must rely on main strength and brain-power of the first eleven or twelve men. If they lost it will be due, perhaps, to the lack of reserves, for the Westerner camp is not overflowing with strong substitutes for every position. Amarillo is better fixed, having enough reserve power to roll over nearly everything that has crossed its path.

Yesterday's workout brought out the appearance of two of Chapman's best backs, Bill Davidson and Cecil Merrill, who have been on the casualty list recently. Bill's sore knee was almost recovered and Cecil's elbow was much improved.

Gene Barnett, the ace of the backfield, the safety man, the spinner, the passer, the big boy and the fullback, is still on crutches waiting for a broken foot to heal. He may be in the Amarillo game but he will not have had much preparation. If he is out of the lineup, the tide of favor swings more and more toward Amarillo. It has been due on Barnett's fine work that the team has functioned so thoroughly in earlier games.

SEVEN MEMBERS OF HOWARD COLLEGE FRESHMEN GRID TEAM ARE INELIGIBLE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 17 (AP)—Seven members of the freshman football team of Howard college, Birmingham, Ala., were held ineligible for further athletic competition this year in the Dixie conference under a ruling announced last night by W. O. Swan, vice president and eligibility officer of the conference.

Four of the players, Ralph Parker, Clifford Johnston, W. Smith and Norman Chevalier, were barred on the ground they had participated in athletic activities in other colleges before coming to Howard. The others, Tom Everett, J. Lynds and Harrison Price, were ruled out on the finding that they did not have the required number of units for entrance into a conference recognized institution.

The issuance of the order followed an investigation conducted by Mr. Swan, Gilbert Mead, dean of Birmingham-Southern college and president of the Dixie conference.

Howard college also is a member of the S. I. A. A. A ruling from that organization is expected within a few days.

The debarment order said the investigation showed that Parker played at Wichita Falls college and Wayland junior college in Texas; Johnston attended Mount St. Charles college; Chevalier entered Mount St. Charles and Notre Dame and Smith attended Texas Technological college at Lubbock. Johnston and Chevalier were from Helena, Mont. The homes of Smith and Parker are in Texas.

Dr. Swan said the other three could not produce the required number of credits to enter a recognized institution. Everett and Lynds are from Helena, Mont. Price is from Abilene, Texas.

CLASS B TILT CARDED HERE TOMORROW

CONTEST WILL DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP OF HALF OF DIST.

The Littlefield and Floydada High school grid teams will meet on the Texas Tech field tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in a game to decide the championship of the northern half of District 2, Class B. Announcement of the game was made yesterday by Superintendent Boles of Littlefield.

Floydada defeated Lockney last Wednesday for the championship of its sub-district. Littlefield had previously won its section. The winner of the game here tomorrow will play Lamesa in the district championship game on or about Thanksgiving Day.

FLOYDADA COMING IN BODY FOR GAME

Floydada will move over to Lubbock in a body Wednesday for the football game between the local Whirlwind squad and Littlefield High, at Tech College Stadium, which will decide the championship of the north half of District 2.

Not since 1924 and '26 has there been as much football enthusiasm witnessed here. The Whirlwinds won district title for those years, but lost bi-district to Amarillo and Clarendon, respectively.

Coach Barksdale has a team this year, possibly stronger than either the '24 or '26 teams. The backfield, composed of "Little" Murray, quarter, Bridges, full, Welch and Heald, halves, is one of the best running combinations ever developed here, and the line, made up of Golightly and De Cordova, ends; Johnson and McLaughlin, tackles; "Big" Murray and Jackson, guards, and Dorrell at center, has stood the onslaughts of some of the best teams in this section this season, and proven almost impregnable.

The Whirlwinds have not been defeated in Class B competition this season. The only game lost was the first scrimmage contest with the Lubbock Westerners, Class A team, and the Westerners goal line was crossed in this game.

A hard game is anticipated with Littlefield, though the locals defeated them earlier in the season in a non-conference game, 7 to 6. The winner of this game will meet Lamesa, the south half winner, on Turkey Day for the championship of District 2.

Bears Prepare For Battle With Frogs

MUSTANGS SHIFTED IN PREPARATION FOR NAVY CONTEST

(By The Associated Press)

Encouraged by their showing Saturday against Southern Methodist, the Baylor Bears started bearing down yesterday in preparation for their game Saturday against Texas Christian.

The Bears have high hopes of defeating the Frogs and climbing in the conference race although they have no chance to win the title. Alford and Runnells received slight injuries in the Southern Methodist game but will be ready to play. The Bears spent yesterday drilling offensive plays.

At Fort Worth, Texas Christian, realizing they must beat Baylor and Southern Methodist to even finish in a tie for the conference championship, snapped into a long practice with their spirits high and their determination bolstered by confidence. The Frogs know they face a hard game and are preparing for the test by polishing their offensive. Quicker starting of the backs featured yesterday's practice.

Seeking better blocking in his backfield Morrison switched his Southern Methodist lineup yesterday. He moved Marion Hammon and Captain Alford Neeley into the backfield. Both played the backfield in their high school and prep days. Haskell Ross and John Burleson, first string reserves were moved into the line. Bob Gilbert, out for several weeks with an infected instep, reported for practice and may play against Navy Saturday at Annapolis.

Routine practice sessions were held at Arkansas, Rice and the University of Texas. Arkansas and Rice battle Saturday at Houston. It will be Arkansas' final conference game this season. Arkansas has lost three conference games without a victory. Rice is the favorite Saturday.

The University of Texas plays Centenray Friday at Shreveport.

BIG SIX WILL END SEASON

MISSOURI-KANSAS AND NEBRASKA-IOWA ST. GAMES SLATED

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Big Six conference winds up its football season next Saturday with the title at stake between Nebraska and Iowa State at Lincoln, while Kansas and Missouri meet in their traditional tilt at Lawrence.

Coaches at Nebraska and Iowa State set out yesterday to perfect their teams in an attempt to finish the Big Six schedule undefeated. Both have been victorious in all conference starts.

Missouri's gridmen, jubilant in their victory over Oklahoma, returned to work with Head Coach Gwynn Henry still confined to a hospital.

The Kansas Jayhawkers, who have not won a conference game this season, concentrated on offensive tactics.

Comiskey Prepares To Trade Players

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)—Louis Comiskey, heir to the White Sox fortunes, is getting ready for the baseball trading season by taking health treatments in a Chicago hospital.

Excessive weight is the White Sox chief's ailment as he tips the scales well over 240 pounds. He expects to join the new White Sox manager, Louis Fonseca, for the major league meeting here in December.

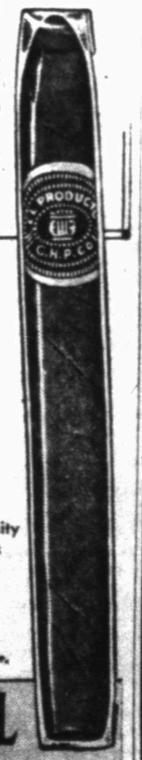

Week-end cruises on U. S. destroyers is a part of the navy training course of the University of California.

On Being A Father

American fathers are beginning to take their responsibilities seriously, according to a bulletin recently issued by the American Child Health Association.

That is, they are actually studying the job of being a father just as they would study any other job, and are trying to find out things about it by visiting their sons' schools, reading books and organizing study groups. Evidently Dad wants to make sure that he gives little Willie the best kind of break possible, and he is doing everything he can to bring that to pass.

All of this is more than passingly interesting, for to be the father of a small boy is to occupy one of the most ticklish positions that any human being can step into.

The small boy, you see, dwells in a world apart, and in his world the greatest of men is Dad. To be sure, the rest of the world may look on Dad as a weak and ineffectual sort of citizen, a bluffer or a faker or a plain dumbell; but to the small boy Dad is a being without a flaw—a completely wise and admirable person who can fix broken toys, settle difficult arguments, answer all kinds of questions and, on the whole, be and do everything that a growing youngster could ever wish to be and do himself.

Dad himself, of course, almost invariably know better. Among the illusions that die quickly is the average human male's belief in his own greatness. So Dad, presently, finds himself with an impossible ideal to live up to. He discovers that little Willie is copying his mannerisms of speech and action, his way of walking and sitting, his attitudes and his foibles. And such adoration, while gratifying, is a trifle dismaying.

For it brings Dad — of he ever thinks at all—face to face with the contrast between what he is and what he ought to be. That contrast, for most of us, is not pleasant thing to look at; and Dad, until little Willie gets old enough to know better, has to look at it rather frequently.

So it is hardly surprising if fathers in various parts of the country are doing what they can to make themselves more efficient in the job of fatherhood. The father-and-son relationship can be a marvelous influence in a boy's life—and it can also do Dad himself a lot of good.

World Of Cats

Lovers of animal pets throughout the country will be interested to learn of the organization in New York City of the International Cat Society, which demands that all vagrant cats be either properly licensed or exterminated.

The society points out that every large city has thousands of homeless cats which do much damage in the parks and yards by preying on birds and squirrels. It adds, furthermore, that these cats lead a rather bleak existence and that in many cases it would be a kindness to chloroform them. So it urges — let them be cared for properly or put out of existence.

In a world wherein little or nothing is certain, it is a cinch that this proposition will at least cause a great deal of argument. The ordinary mortal is either very fond of cats or very antipathetic toward them. In the wordy war which is sure to come there will be almost no neutrals.

At least nowadays your business man can't be spoofing the missus about working overtime on big orders at the office.

WHILE browsing about El Paso recently The Plainsman perceived a plan being worked with huge success there and believes the same plan could be worked just as well right here in Lubbock, if those with the power to act can be persuaded to look into the matter.

See what you think about it.

It so happens that many of El Paso's schools are edged by boulevards. It so happens that accidents in the past made it necessary to do something to safeguard kiddies during school months, so here's what El Paso is doing:

At the beginning of each block of thoroughfare surrounding a school there has been set in the pavement a small hole, probably two inches in diameter and somewhere between a foot and six inches deep. While school is in session there is inserted in each small hole a metal sign on an iron pipe, reading: "Warning! School In Session! Speed limit 10 miles per hour!" These signs stay in position—stuck up in the middle of the street so traffic in both directions moves smoothly by—from 30 minutes prior to school opening to 30 minutes after school closes each day. At other times they are taken down by each school's safety patrol, like we have in Lubbock, and stored in each school building.

UNDER the El Paso system there are eight such signs surrounding each school, in this manner, using our senior high as an example:

One sign on 19th and T where 19th reaches the Avenue T intersection; another on the same intersection where Avenue T reaches 19th from the south. One on 19th and U where 19th reaches the Avenue intersection; another on the same intersection where Avenue U reaches the south line of 19th.

One on 18th, where that street reaches Avenue U's west line; another on Avenue U where Avenue U reaches the north line of 18th street. One on Avenue T's north intersection with 18th, and another on 18th where it reached the east side of its intersection with Avenue T.

This may south like Greek, but if you'll draw a square as the high school campus, intersects the streets of 18th, 19th, U and T and mark the signs according to the above, you'll understand it readily enough. You'll find that before a driver can enter the school block from any direction he is faced with a yellow and black sign, about two feet by three feet and windshield high, calling his attention to where he is.

EL PASO newspapermen say the scheme works like a charm and that the 10-mile per hour law is enforced. Incidentally, there hasn't been an accident since the system was put to work last year sometime.

That may look like a lot of red tape to Lubbock people but if it saves one life every 10 years—and we know it will—it's worth it.

The driver can't overlook that he's in the school zone.

He knows he's going to get 'stuck' and get 'stuck' plenty, if he violates the rule of safety and common sense.

* * *

Of course, we don't need as many signs in Lubbock. But they can be well instituted at some busy intersections in the neighborhood of the various school buildings.

Now is the time to try out the theory that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" before and not after an accident.

THE trouble with this country is that too many guys are competing with each other on things they needn't compete on.

Take for instance the new wrinkle which produces a substitute for leather, made from the raw wool from a sheep. That hurts the cowman and doesn't do the sheepman such a whale of a lot of good—he could sell the wool for other uses.

Here cowhides are selling so cheap that most West Texas cattlemen are "leavin' 'em lay" and some monkey is making leather out of wool!

That's economics for you, with the accent on the "comics".

"Yeah, I know," said the unimpressed Iowan, "we have that kind of trains up here, too!"

Taxicabs Are Helping Solve Unemployment In Capital; Tom Heflin Is Expected To Speak Again In The Senate

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—Taxicabs appear to have done more than anything toward solving the capital's unemployment problems.

DUTCHER

No figures are available, but virtually every unemployed Washingtonian who had an automobile with a back seat seems to have converted it into a taxi. Streets and avenues swarm with them and they soon became so plentiful that they drove the prevailing rate of fare down to 20 cents for almost any place in the District of Columbia that you care to go.

A friend and admirer of Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes saw him alight from his car the other day, assisted across the sidewalk and up the steps of his home by two other persons—one on each side. Greatly worried, he made extensive inquiries to learn whether the veteran jurist's health was poorer than commonly supposed. Finally he telephones the residence and got Holmes himself on the wire.

Holmes laughed. He said he had been out riding. The weather was cold and his legs had become stiff for that reason and no other. Hence the assistance.

"You know, young man," he said, "I'm 91 years old and I'm not as spry as I used to be."

• • •

Charles Pergler, the American-born professor of law here who used to be a Czechoslovak statesman and would be leading the National League faction in the Parliament of Prague if the Benes administration hadn't jarred him from his seat, thinks President Hoover gets off lightly when his critics merely accuse him of "abysmal ignorance." Although virtually exiled, Pergler and his ticket were overwhelmingly elected in the Prague municipal elections recently despite the ruling that Pergler was an American and not a Czech citizen. He displays a copy of Pritomnost, a national weekly friendly to Foreign Minister Benes, which attacks him at length and concludes:

"We wish him everything evil and a miserably just end."

As if the next Congress were not sure to be chaotic enough in any event, this capital is now considering the possibility that it will once more hear Tom Heflin of Alabama on the floor of the Senate. The complicating factor is that Tom is no longer a senator. He was defeated by John H. Bankhead, who will take the Alabama seat when Congress meets, although Heflin is contesting the election. Meanwhile, Tom, as a former senator, will have the privilege of the Senate floor. That means he can sit in the chamber, taking any seat not occupied at the moment. He is going to take advantage of the privilege, too, while the contest is being decided. Under the rules, he cannot be recognized by the chair and is not entitled to speak above a whisper. But everybody here knows Tom. And that's why so many of us fear that this irrepressible orator, once on the floor, is likely to cause great parliamentary consternation by rising to spout as used to be his constant wont. No one, in fact, is betting that Tom will be able to stand the terrific strain and remain silent.

Diet and Health

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 3 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1473 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Bath," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

BAD POSTURE

EDUCATORS generally are agreed that the posture of school children today is their worst physical fault.

Dr. Clendening

This fault increases right up through youth and adult life, so that today we have a race distinguished by the worst bodily posture of many generations. Perhaps the worst bodily posture since the beginning of history.

Why this should be true is not easy to determine. Probably it is not due to any one cause. An ingenious theory has been advanced to the effect that by modern methods of hygiene we are saving more of the children of the slender droopy type and as these are the most prolific we are nourishing a generation doomed to bad postures.

Undoubtedly also the comforts and improvements of modern life have tended to increase poor posture habits. The average boy or girl of today does not have to do so much physical work as did their grandparents at the same age. There is little wood chopping for fires. There is even little shoveling of coal in to furnaces. Fewer errands to run: the delivery system of stores has modified that.

The change from horse transportation to automobiles is quite as suggestive as a cause. You can't slouch when you ride a horse or drive a buggy. The very lines and build of modern automobiles tend to emphasize a drooping, round-shouldered posture. And the long tours that the automobile lends itself to, the stretches of time that are spent in this drooping posture, add to the tendency to fix the round-shouldered sitting posture permanently.

It will be seen from this discussion that there are two factors in the causation of poor posture. One is bodily form and the other is habit.

While any kind of a body can assume a bad position, the thin "linear" type is most likely to do so. This is partly because the muscles are long and thin and hence weak. They are under more strain to maintain a good posture than shorter, thicker muscles. Although it is also true that there are plenty of examples of bad posture—round shoulders and protuberant abdomens—among the stocky "lateral" type.

So far as habit is concerned, the most important feature to emphasize is that deliberate training can produce a good posture. Conscientious effort to maintain the improvement that training has produced.

Scientists Are To Make Own Weather

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)—Scientists at the University of Illinois research and educational hospital are going to make their own weather.

Three rooms at the hospital are to be used to produce synthetic weather conditions. A person can be made as cold as he or she would be at the north pole or as hot as he or she would be at the equator. The purpose is to study how the body reacts to changes in climate. The scientists want to know why pneumonia flourishes in the winter while typhoid, for example, does so much damage in the summer.

PRETTY LONG HOPS

WASHINGTON. — The average distance flown by passengers on American air lines has been increasing since January, 1930, the U. S. Department of Commerce reports. In the last 18 months American air lines have carried 600,000 persons for an average hop of 250 miles, the report shows.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Soothsayers have disappeared from the air!

Nor are they likely to return. Whether their role be that of the astrologist, the numerologist or the handwriting expert; whether they forecast your present, past or future, the broadcasting stations have dropped them.

Almost everyone who ever turned a dial recalls that last winter found the ether filled with mythical ladies who were willing to chart the heavens; or ready to send a horoscope pamphlet if you would but mail in a coupon, or something, and tell your age and the date of your birth.

Then, quite without notice, everyone from Evangeline Adams to the most unimportant psychic "went away for the summer" and didn't come back.

The first reason for this was that the air had become so cluttered with soothsayers that there was no longer any novelty.

But outside the "inner circle" you'll hear that many criticisms had been coming in; that there was a considerable section of the population that complained about superstitious appeals; that there were certain religious groups expressing annoyance; that scientific groups stepped in and that professional groups of magicians and suchlike had begun to take national action against mind readers who were using their talents for anything save entertainment.

You may recall that all star gazers, number readers and the like asked listeners to send names, addresses and dates. The presumption was that a sponsor would see to it that a "fortune," horoscope or "reading" was sent free. But the tale persists that such a list of names became valuable to certain persons as a "follow up", that it was used to solicit further business at additional fees, that, in fact, it still has a value.

Whatever the circumstances spokesmen for one station tell me that there is not likely to be any more planet searching, number reading or kindred penetration of the future.

At the moment, the "contest" stunt is causing the big broadcast stations a bit of thought. Everything from cash to autos and back have been offered for a slogan an essay, a song, a puzzle or some other stunt. Announcement of contest rules takes up more time than the usual stereotyped advertising speech.

In "inside circles" it has become known that there have been a number of "contest sharks." A certain Detroit family fairly cluttered up the old homestead with prizes, and made about $3000 a year in addition.

A most amusing tale came out of New York's Harlem, where it developed that the old "number lottery" had been superseded by a gambling game based on the Kate Smith program. Kate, you may recall, announced a "memory song" and used the date of its publication. The lottery was based upon the numbers in this date and thousands bought chances daily.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymites were quite surprised when, suddenly, they realized the pretty little fairy could do anything she wished. Wee Clowny whispered to the rest, "With magic powers she's surely blest. Strange things will always happen when her little wand is swished."

"'Tis best we treat her very kind, or I am sure that she will find a way to turn us into something we won't like so well. In order that we start no fuss let's ask her if she'll play with us. If we are nice she may not try her wand tricks. Who can tell?"

The fairy heard him and she smiled and said, "You are a real fine child. Don't worry 'bout what I will do. I have no tricks in store. I only use my wand in fun on things that will please everyone. How would you like to see a sight you've never before?"

"You bet!" cried Scouty. "Go ahead!" The little fairy promptly said, "Now watch the end of my fine wand. I'll make some stars appear." She waved the wand and, sure enough, there came a very brilliant puff. Then stars went shooting from the wand and every one was clear.

"Oh my! But that's a pretty sight," cried Coppy. "Everything seems bright. Now do another stunt for us. We'll all be very still." "All right," replied the fairy. "You will soon see something that is new. And it will be so different it will bring you all a thrill."

She waved her magic wand again, real slowly through the air and then the Tinies saw an archway which was labeled BOW-WOW LAND. "For goodness sakes," one Tiny cried. "I hope that we can go inside." The fairy answered, "Sure you can! The sight you'll see is grand."

RAINS DRENCH WIDE AREA

NO KILLING FROST IS YET REPORTED FOR THIS WINTER

Although the South Plains received rains varying from less than a quarter-inch to an estimated two inches early Monday night and belated winter appeared on its way, the temperature here never dropped below about 44 degrees and no killing frost was reported in the Lubbock vicinity.

Accompanied by heavy wind which turned over several outhouses south of Lubbock, rain struck this city shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday evening. The precipitation totaled .38 of an inch, Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment farm, reported.

Several outhouses at the Ben Dickinson and Richard McCrummen dairies, in south Lubbock, were reported blown over by the wind. No one was reported injured.

Wind At Lamesa

A windstorm also was reported at Lamesa. Lighter rains were reported at Levelland, Muleshoe, Litchfield and Floydada, west, northwest and northeast of Lubbock. Good rains fell at Olton, Plainview, Tulia, Brownfield, Tahoka, Lamesa and Crosbyton.

A record of 20 years for the latest date of a killing frost for Lubbock and the South Plains has been broken, Mr. Jones reported yesterday. Records kept by him show that since the state experiment station was established in 1911, October 19 was the earliest date of a first killing frost and November 13 the latest date for a killing frost. Although there have been several reports of frost this fall, the visits have not been sufficient to kill all vegetation.

Minimum Is 50

A minimum temperature of 50 degrees, registered early Monday and again late last night, was registered. The maximum was 65 degrees here. The forecast calls for warmer weather today.

Rain reports Monday night were: Brownfield—a heavy rain swept this city from the south and west about 6 o'clock this evening. Rain fell for an hour and a half, the precipitation being estimated at two inches. There was no wind.

Littlefield—About one-third of an inch of rain fell here early tonight.

Tahoka — Between three-quarters and an inch of rain fell here this evening, accompanied by little wind.

Lamesa—a heavy rain fell here early Monday evening and late tonight skies still were cloudy. The rain was driven by an unusually heavy wind, but no damage was reported. The precipitation was estimated at between one and two inches.

Levelland—A light shower fell at 6 o'clock Monday evening. It is somewhat cooler tonight.

Muleshoe—Approximately a half-inch of rain fell about 9 o'clock tonight. Ponds are reported very muddy.

Olton—Clouds cleared away here late tonight, after about a three-quarter inch rain at 6 o'clock.

Plainview—A good rain fell here beginning at 6 o'clock. It was estimated at about a half inch.

Floydada—Accompanied by a stiff wind, a light shower fell here at 7 p. m. Monday. Clouds cleared away late tonight.

Tulia—Approximately a half-inch fell here tonight. Skies were clear at 10 o'clock.

Crosbyton—Heavy rain fell in the Crosbyton area Monday night.

San Angelo—Heavy rain started falling here about 10 o'clock tonight after scattered showers had covered the area throughout the day. Big rains fell in the Sterling City and Big Lake country and west of here as far as Rankin and McCamey.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 1 to 2 points in response to steadier Liverpool cables coupled with trade buying and covering. January sold up to 6.41 on the call.

There was some southern selling and liquidation but offerings were generally light and January advanced to 6.47 during the early trading while May sold up to 6.81, or 5 to 6 points net higher. Reports of rains in the western belt which seemed to be headed eastward may have been a contributing factor on the advance, but reports of reactions following an opening advance in the stock market seemed to bring in a little more selling and the market was 2 or 3 points off from the best at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables said foreign buying and trade calling with an absence of selling pressure was responsible for the steadiness in this market but that the decline in silver was checking business in cotton cloths.

The market stiffened up later in the morning on continued buying by houses with New Orleans connections, while there was some local buying or covering which may have been promoted by reports of renewed steadiness in the stock market. January sold up to 6.52, and May to 6.85, making net advances of 10 to 12 points, but this bulge seemed to meet a little more selling from scattering sources and the midday market was quiet and there were reactions of 2 or 3 points from the best.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17 (AP) — The cotton market had a quiet but steady opening today. Liverpool cables were better than due and first trades here showed gains of 2 to 3 points, although prices eased off 2 points right after the start on some hedge selling, they soon rallied again on an improvement in silver, December trading up to 6.34, January to 6.46 and March to 6.63, or 3 to 4 points above yesterday's close. Near the end of the first hour the market was steady and at the highs with the undertone bulky.

The market was quiet all morning but prices gradually improved with trade buying induced by firmer stocks and wheat and somewhat higher silver. December advanced to 6.39, January to 6.51 and March to 6.68, or 8 to 9 points above the early lows and the same gain over yesterday's close.

Near noon prices eased off 3 to 5 points on some realizing but trading continued quiet.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17 (AP) — Cotton futures opened steady today: Dec. 6.33; Jan. 6.44; March 6.59; May 6.77; July 6.97; Oct. 7.18.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today. Dec. 6.27; Jan. 6.40; March 6.58; May 6.77; July 6.95; Oct. 7.20.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)— Brisk early upturns today in grain prices here accompanied Liverpool wheat quotations higher than expected, together with reports that Russian wheat supplies were declining. It was asserted that since July the Soviet government's grain collections had decreased 62 per cent. Opening at 3-8 to 1 1-8 cents gain, Chicago wheat futures afterward rose further. Corn started 1-4 to 7-8 higher and continued to point upward.

tatives, met privately at the Quai D'Orsay shortly before noon.

The impression gained ground that Ambassador Charles G. Dawes and the United States government are not inclined to cooperate closely with the league in its efforts to settle the controversy, and a report was received from a high authority that Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, had filed a protest at Tokyo regarding Japanese army movements in the region of the Chinese eastern railway which is in the Russian sphere of influence in Manchuria.

hard trek back. They returned to Hollywood near exhaustion late last night.

Search was under way for two men believed to be near Bloods, an outpost in the high Sierra east of Angeles camp. The two, Alexander and Fred Lombardi, father and son, were rounding up cattle when the storm broke.

Four Sacramento men, marooned in a cabin at Echo lake, were awaiting favorable weather conditions to make a try for the outside. They had food and fuel for a week's sojourn.

Montana, Wyoming and Idaho had snow ranging in depth from a few inches to over a foot. In Washington and Oregon, some snow fell, followed by heavy rains. Nevada had its share of rain and snow, also, as did northern Utah.

Employes Will Be On The Sidelines

The Westerners can count on employes of the West Texas Gas company and the South Plains Pipe Line company being right on the sidelines when they battle the Sandies in Amarillo Thanksgiving day.

Clarence R. Miner, vice president and general manager of the pipe line company, made reservations for seven boxes, 112 seats for the game. The general offices of both companies will be closed during the day.

Although a majority of them are former Amarillo residents, the group will be "pulling for the Westerners to win", Mr. Miner said today.

Call For Bids On Lubbock Paving Job

Call for bids for the paving with a triple asphalt surface treatment on a caliche base on Highway No. 7 northwest of Lubbock to the Hockley county line has been issued by the state highway department.

Bids are to be opened by the department at Austin November 30, at 9 a. m.

The road is from Lubbock to a point .156 of a mile west of the Hockley county line, a total distance of 17.189 miles.

Copies of the plans and specifications are to be had at the office of Guy R. Johnston, resident engineer, room 260 New Exchange building, Lubbock, or from Austin.

Seventy-Four Cars Of Grain Received

Seventy-four cars of grain were received in Lubbock last week for inspection by the Lubbock Grain Inspection bureau, R. R. Stuard, inspector in charge, said yesterday.

The week showeed a total of 151 cars received for inspection in November, compared to 130 1-2 for the same month last year.

Receipts included: wheat, five cars; milo, 21 cars; kafir, 37 cars; cane, one car and sudan, 10 cars.

NEGRO SENTENCED

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 17 (AP)—Wiley Haywood, 35-year-old negro, was given the legal limit of seven years in the penitentiary when he pleaded guilty Monday before District Judge W. W. McCrory, to two indictments growing out of the death on October 10 of Arthur Presseti, 9. The indictments charged the negro with driving while drunk and failing to stop and render aid.

STRICKEL TRIAL

last juror was accepted, and testimony began at 9 a. m. today.

33 Are Questioned

Defense and prosecution Monday night said testimony likely would be completed today and arguments by Wednesday noon, giving the case to the jury Wednesday afternoon.

Thirty-three veniremen were questioned before the jury was selected. The state used nine prempotory challenges, the defense four and eight were excused for cause.

Jurors are: F. E. Knox, Shallowater; E. R. Davis, Acuff; M. T. Alexander, Slide; M. M. Styles, C. R. Ashcraft, sr., George C. Cooper, P. J. Jobe, B. D. McCandless, all of Lubbock; and W. H. Baker of Idalou, all farmers; W. H. Hall, hotel engineer; A. B. Cockerham, teamster, and C. D. Shaw, barber, all of Lubbock.

The state planned to use six or seven witnesses and the defense three, in addition to about ten character witnesses. The defendant will take the stand. In a previous trial, he pleaded self-defense.

Carasco was killed in Cochran county July 18, 1929. The case was transferred to Hockley county and trial there resulted in conviction and a four-year term. The conviction was appealed and was reversed and remanded. Vickers and Campbell are defense counsel.

Officers Probing Robbery At Olton

OLTON, Tex., Nov. 17 (Special)—Officers are busily engaged here today in a continued investigation of the burglary of the Koen Drug store, which was discovered early Monday. Sometime between closing Sunday and opening Monday thieves entered the establishment, forced open the cash register and took silver and currency estimated between $135 and $150.

Added to the local officers investigating the robbery is a fingerprint expert.

Owners of radio sets in Portugal are to be taxed $2.25 a year.

CROSS COUNTRY STAR DETHRONED

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Dan Dean of Pennsylvania has dethroned Clark Chamberlain, Michigan State ace, as intercollegiate A. A. A. A. cross country champion but only by breaking the course record.

Dean shaved 42 seconds off the old mark for the six-mile course in Van Cortland park yesterday to beat Chamberlain by 25 yards with George Barker of New York university third, Bill McKniff of Penn fourth and Joe McCluskey of Fordham fifth.

Dean was timed in 29:33 2-5 as compared with the record of 30:06 set jointly by Francis Lindsey and Harry Richardson of Maine two years ago.

Harvard carried off team honors with the excellent low total of 44 points, placing five men in the first thirteen. Pennsylvania was second.

Feet Which Won't Behave Is Problem

ADA, O., Nov. 17 (AP)—What to do with feet that won't behave when a dance band moans the blues is a problem at Ohio Northern university.

Right now, there isn't anything to do but await action of the board of trustees on 13 petitions from approximately 800 students to have annulled a 33-year-old ban against dancing on the campus.

The trustees recently annulled a decree against card playing, also put into effect 33 years ago when the university became the property of the Ohio conference, Methodist Episcopal church.

EXPECT SANCTION FOR WOMAN MATCH

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—International team competition between women players of the United States and Great Britain probably will receive official sanction by the executive committee of the United States Golf association at its meeting on Thursday.

Present plans call for a bi-annual competition along the lines of the Walker cup matches except that the women's teams possibly will be limited to six players. Walker cup teams consist of eight players and two alternates.

Glenna Collett led a team of American women against a British squad at Formby last year in an informal test designed to prove to U. S. G. A. officials that such competition would not be lacking in interest. Indications are that golf's rulers were convinced.

If sanction is forthcoming, the first official series probably will be played in England next spring with the second in the United States in 1934.

Smuggling Ring Is Believed Broken

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)—A claim that they had broken up a well-established smuggling ring was made today by federal agents who have listed about 250 aliens for deportation along with Tony Volpe, James Belcastro and Lawrence Mangano, reputed head of the organization.

Most of these aliens are menials in the service of Al Capone's liquor industry, the agents said, adding that smuggling of aliens appeared to be a subsidiary of the Capone syndicate.

Demos, Republicans Girding For Fight

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 17 (AP)—Democrats and Republicans were girding themselves today for a sharp, short campaign in the fourteenth congressional district for the seat left vacant by the death of Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach. Prominent Republicans came here today for a caucus to indorse a candidate. Two were in the field. There were five Democratic candidates.

GOES ON TRIAL

GUYMAN, Okla., Nov. 17 (AP)—Bob Brady, charged with participation in the $6,000 robbery of the Texhoma bank September 15, went on trial here today. Clarence Adams recently was sentenced to 25 years in the penitentiary for the robbery. Walter Philpot will be tried later.

GIVEN LIFE TERMS

DETROIT, Nov. 17 (AP) — Ray Bernstein, Harry Keywell and Irving Milberg were sentenced today to live imprisonment in the Michigan branch prison at Marquette for the slaying of three men in a Collingwood avenue apartment house Sept. 16.

FATALLY INJURED

SUGARLAND, Nov. 17 (AP)—Captan J. H. Belew, about 45, assistant to Manager Buck Flanagan of central state prison farm near here, was injured fatally early today when his car ran into a concrete culvert on the highway near the prison farm.

PIONEER DIES

COLORADO, Nov. 17 (AP)—F. E. McKenzie, pioneer cattleman died at his home Monday. Funeral services were set for today.

FOR HIGH FLYERS

PARIS.—France has completed its new Farman plane for flights into the stratosphere. It will be some time before the ship is ready for flights into the ten-mile zone, however, because there are many devices to be installed for scientific recordings. The plane will be equipped with an oxygen generator to supply air to the pilot and passengers.

Wide Section Is Covered By Snow

POCATELLO, Idaho, Nov. 17 (AP)—Snow blanketed southern Idaho, parts of Montana and mountainous regions of other western states today, inflicting hazards of winter on autumnal travelers.

An outing party of ten men was trapped in a storm which laid a three-foot mantle of snow at the summit of the Sierra mountains of California yesterday. Four of the group faced isolation for a week or more in a cabin. Their six companions made five miles bucking soft snow with a motor car yesterday and expected to reach Placerville today or tomorrow. Both parties have access to food.

Trains and busses were delayed. Mail planes were grounded.

To Talk Charity At Next ABC Luncheon

Members of the American Business club will discuss the nature of the club's annual charity affair and possibly determine just what it will be at luncheon Friday at the Hilton hotel.

Luther Bynum and B. G. Williamson will be in charge of the program, W. M. Peticolas, chairman of the program committee of the club, announces.

One of the matters of business to come up is the question of a club project. A motion to sponsor a charity bridge-dance, the proceeds to be used for the club's charity work at Christmas, was tabled last Friday for action this week. It was brought out in the discussion that some members favored a football game the same as last year.

Instead of being driven, more than 6,000,000 aluminum alloy rivets have been squeezed into the framework of the United States Navy's newest dirigible.

Relatives Return After Final Rites

Following funeral services at Dublin for G. F. Cole, who lived in northwest Lubbock and who died at Roscoe, his widow; a daughter, Mrs. Charles C. Galbreath, 1506 Avenue W, and a son, William B. Cole, returned to Lubbock last Sunday.

The elder Cole had lived here several years. He was visiting a son, Charles U. Cole, when he died Armistice day. His home formerly was at Dublin.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Galbreath and the two sons mentioned above, he is survived by two other sons, Floyd F. and John P. of Roscoe.

TURKEYS HERE PROFITABLE

MORE THAN $60,000 BROUGHT FARMERS OF TERRITORY

More than 400,000 pounds of turkeys bought by three wholesale poultry houses here and shipped to eastern markets brought farmers in the Lubbock territory a total exceeding $60,000, an inquiry at the produce houses showed.

The last car was sent east last night, making 20 cars from this territory. Of these, 12 were from Lubbock proper and the remainder from other points.

It was estimated that the cars averaged between 18,000 and 19,000 pounds of dressed turkeys. "That figure is net," one man said. "It represents the actual number of pounds of dressed turkeys to the car."

Several Centers

The Lubbock Poultry and Egg company shipped from Lamesa, Floydada, Amarillo, Clovis and Memphis as well as Lubbock. The Titman Egg corporation shipped only from Lubbock, all its birds being brought here for dressing while Swift and Co., shipped also from Plainview.

Purchases were made in nearly every station operated by the three concerns and were shipped to concentration points.

An average of 15 cents a pound was paid to farmers, it was said, for No. 1 birds.

The weight of birds in most instances was slightly better than last year. Quality was about the same. It was somewhat disappointing to several buyers who said that the continued warm weather had had a serious effect on the quality of the meat.

Smiths Have It In Directory

The Smiths have it. They outstrip the Joneses and Browns in numbers in Hudspeth's 1932 directory of Lubbock. The book is being distributed this week. It lists more than 130 Smiths, 100 Joneses, and 75 Browns.

The directory contains 252 pages of names, in addition to advertising, a street directory, a miscellaneous directory, a preface by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and a business and organization directory. William H. Abbitt, 2207 Seventeenth street, Texas Technological instructor, has the lead position in the directory and the name of Richard Zumwalt, 1408 Avenue X, a stenographer, is last.

Asbury Church To Present Carnival

The nursery department of Asbury Methodist Episcopal church will be furnished with receipts from a carnival which will be given in the department Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Fifteen attractions, typical of the carnival, are promised by those in charge.
