Wolves kick-off 1995 season

New era to begin in Wolf football

A new era in Wolf football begins Friday night at Wolf Stadium as new head coach and athletic director Bill Grissom leads the Wolves into their 1995 season opener against the Coahoma Bulldogs.

Coach Grissom, who coached last year at Stanton, was hired in January to take over the football program here that had posted only five wins the past four years.

The Wolves return 20 lettermen from last year and 15 are expected to start.

"This will be a big game for our program," Grissom said Tuesday. "If we can get some early success this year, I think we'll do real well."

"We've had five weeks of practice and the kids have worked real hard—we've come a long way," Grissom said.

A new coaching staff was assembled this year with four new coaches coming in to join four coaches from last year's staff.

Gerald James was hired as defensive coordinator and first assistant. James comes to Colorado

City from Ft. Worth Halton.

Coming from Floydada to coach the secondary is Hayden Merket. Merket will also coach the boys' varsity basketball team.

Also joining the staff is Phillip Ritchey, who will coach the offensive backfield and be a secondary coach. Ritchey came from Carrizo Springs.

Doug Boone also joined the staff this year coming from Mart, Texas. Boone will coach the receivers.

Coaches returning from last year's coaching staff include Jerrold Epperson, Larry Hartwick, Kyle Baker and Yardy Powell.

"I'm real pleased with the coaching staff. I think we've hired

Airport receives resurfacing grant

The Colorado City Airport will receive $360,000 to improve paved surfaces, officials at the Department of Transportation announced last week.

Colorado City is one of five area airports to receive grants that are intended to spur new economic development, said Linda Howard, director of planning and programming for the aviation department of the DOT.

The capital improvement plan spans five years. To receive the grant, the city is required to contribute 10 percent of the project costs.

Airports in Cisco, Comanche

County, Munday and Sweetwater will also receive portions of the $2 million in grants awarded by the state transportation department.

"This project is primarily to preserve existing facilities by rehabilitating runways and repaving taxiways."

TDCJ Appreciation Day planned

A TDCJ Appreciation Day In The Park will be held Saturday from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. at Ruddick Park.

"This is our way of showing our appreciation for the community involvement by the employees at the Wallace Unit," said Chamber of Commerce Director Dori Shutt. "The prison has created job security for the people of Mitchell County and we want to show our appreciation for their involvement."

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, at least 400 people are expected to attend the day at the park.

Planned activities include a tug-of-war over Wolf Creek, volleyball, a play area for children, bingo, volleyball, ice cream judging, hay wagon rides, kiddie train rides and a fishing tournament.

The swimming pool will be open for guests. A lunch will be served with entertainment provided by the CHS Band and the Leyenda Dance Club.

A supervised play area will be provided for children between the ages of two and seven.

Corporation may be answer to housing shortage

Board of Economic Development Director Nancy Sullivan reported to the county commissioners last week that she was working on a project designed to alleviate some of Colorado City's housing shortage problems.

Sullivan told commissioners she was checking into the formation of a housing corporation to make it easier for developers to obtain financing to build multi-family dwellings.

"Housing is a critical need," she said. Rental duplexes or apartments in the $400 per month range were especially needed, she said.

The involvement of local banks in the project would be another essential feature of the project, she said. The county would be involved in setting up the corporation which is estimated to cost between $2,500 and $5,000.

In efforts to attract developers to build in Colorado City, Sullivan said the developers have been more interested in building in metropolitan areas, like Dallas, where the cash flow is better, there's a larger market and they can

No marriage licenses for deadbeat dads!!

Planning on getting a marriage license? The process became a little more complicated last week.

A new state law that went into effect September 1 requires you to sign an affidavit swearing that you're not behind on child support payments before you'll be issued a license.

"Everybody will have to fill out the statement," said Mitchell County Clerk Debby Carlock.

According to Carlock, the Statement Regarding Payment of Child Support may be picked up at the County Clerk's office in the courthouse.

"The statement can be signed before a notary with two witnesses present and brought back to the county clerk's office when they're ready to apply for a marriage license," she said.

House Bill 1863 amended the family code regarding marriage license applications, making it a felony to state that your child

Carnival tickets now on sale

Fair is September 27-30

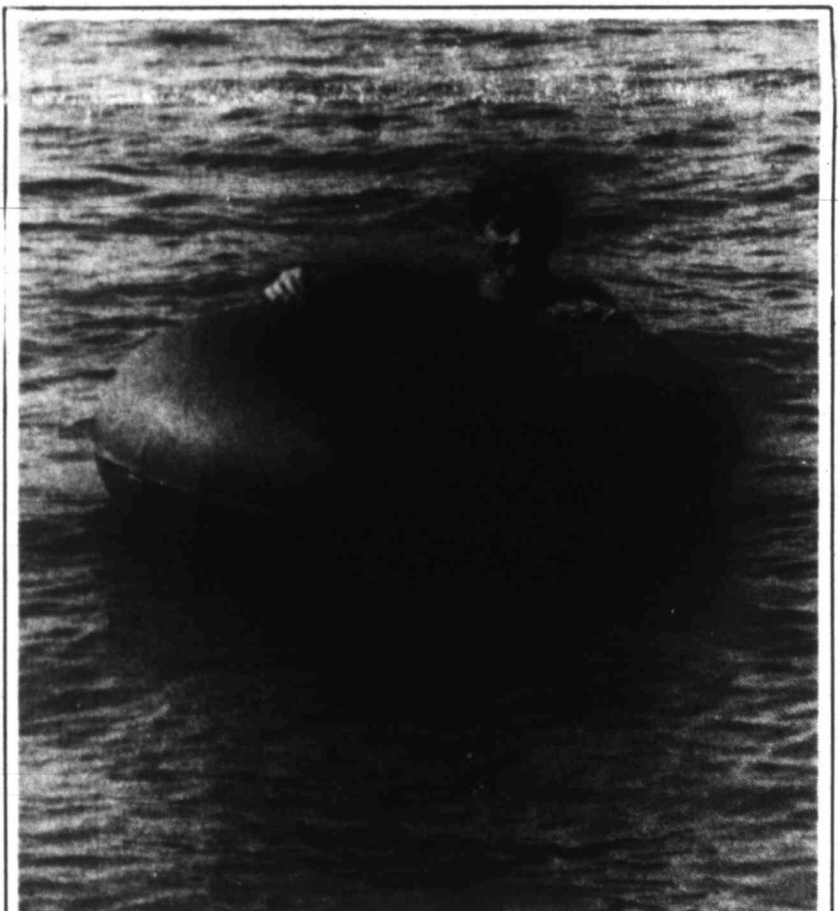

Plans for the Mitchell County Fair September 27-30 are underway. This year there'll be at least 20 carnival rides—more than ever before.

Advanced tickets for the carnival at the Mitchell County Fair are now available from the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce.

Tickets are 75 cents each and come in sheets of 10 tickets per sheet for a total of $7.50 per sheet. Carnival-goers will save money and get more rides for their money by purchasing advanced tickets, said Dori Shutt, chamber director.

With the advanced tickets, each ride will cost one ticket. While the tickets will still be 75 cents each at the fair, rides will cost two or three tickets then, depending on the ride, Shutt explained.

Wesley Cook, of Odessa, and his dog, Jet, have just come back to shore after a ride on an inner tube around Lake Colorado City Monday afternoon. They enjoyed Labor Day weekend at the lake.

Good holiday weather draws crowds to lake

"A problem free weekend" was the way Lake Colorado City State Park Director Mark Fambro described the Labor Day holiday.

A bigger crowd than normal took advantage of the sun and fun at the local lake with a total of 11,036 people registered at the park from Friday to Monday. Records show that 1,318 of those were over-night campers.

"The weather was perfect for water activities. Although there was no wind there was a little more humidity than normal," he said.

Having few major problems this weekend was consistent with the general trend of the summer. No big problems. No drowning fatalities.

The summer of 1995 was noteworthy as the year the longhorn steers, who belong to the Official State Longhorn herd, were brought to the park. Fambro foresees the longhorns developing into a major tourist attraction over the years.

In addition, more access to the lake was gained when the inmates from the Wallace Unit prison cleared brush from around the lake. With 260,000 park visitors this year, attendance was down, which Fambro attributed to bad weather Memorial Day weekend, threatening rain conditions the first few weekends in June and threatening rain one weekend in August.

The lake level is 10 feet lower than normal but there still was plenty of water for people to use and enjoy, Fambro said.

The park director said he saw a big increase in the number of personal water crafts on the lake this year, like water bikes and jet skis.

Lakeside homeowners haven't been happy with the greater numbers of jet skis and water bikes but Fambro points out that only a small percentage of people have caused problems.

"Most of those who get into trouble with them aren't aware of laws on the responsibility that goes along with operating them."

"Sometimes fun overrides common sense," he said.

THIS 'n THAT

By SHEILA PLAGENS

Tony Scott, owner of the local Subway Sandwich Shop, got a little time to go fishing the other day at Lake Thomas. He almost broke a 32-year-old record held on the lake. He caught an 11 lb., 4 oz. bass, the record being 12 pounds. That is pretty close! He was quite proud of the fish; he is having it mounted. I would, too!

Linda Baum had a little trouble with her washing machine the other day. She found out real quick that dry cat food doesn't do well in water. She had stored her cat food in the washing machine and forgot about it. Yeah, that's right—in went the clothes and here comes the water. The last I heard, the plumber was on his way. The machine would drain...but the smell was awful!

It's that time again! The annual Kiwanis Club Kid's Day Parade is set for September 23rd. Just wanted to let all the parents know a little ahead of time so you could be working on costumes, etc. See details later in the Record.

Don't be surprised if you call the Record office sometime and a very young voice answers. Don't hang up! It's Tyler, our son. He has decided to get a jump on his career in the newspaper business. After an enlightening conversation with the Sprint operator, he has decided to be Sylvia's right hand man. Ask if it is the newspaper office and he will cheerfully tell you "Yes." Unfortunately, he can't transfer calls yet; however, it's a great way to handle long distance service telemarketers.

Anna Staats called and said she had forgotten one very important contributor to the American Cancer Society night golf tournament. Myers Auto Parts has always donated the light sticks for the tourney and she wanted everyone to know they are appreciated.

There was a birthday party downtown recently. Glenda Stinson of Heartfelt Treasures, Inc. celebrated a birthday and friends stopped by to wish her a "Happy Day."

St. Ann's Festival is this weekend. Volunteers for various activities and more auction items are still needed.

There is always lots of good food to eat—so go out and enjoy yourself.

The queen will be crowned Saturday at 7:30 p.m. The candidates are Sarah Flores and Lori Davila.

First football game of the season is Friday. That means Kiwanis Club barbeque. It's being held at Kiwanis Club Park downtown from 5:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m. Friday before the game. Plates are available to go.

The B&P Club will sponsor the annual Bake-Off during the Mitchell County Fair again this year. They are planning some changes. Start digging out those recipes and enter this year!

COOK'S CORNER

Julie Bullard

Julie Bullard, the wife of Game Warden Randy Bullard, has chosen to share some wild game recipes with us since dove hunting season has started. Although she has always enjoyed hunting and fishing, she started cooking game after she married Randy.

In fact, Julie is such a hunter that Randy now makes her clean the game she kills herself. One day last year Randy was out of town and she decided she wanted to go deer hunting. She did just that, shot a doe, loaded it in the truck and brought it home. She asked a neighbor to help her hang it, then she skinned and gutted it herself. That was it, she has to do all that herself now!

Julie does enjoy cooking sweets also—when she doesn't burn them. It doesn't happen all the time, but Randy says she has tried to burn down the house a time or two. One incident in particular is the time she was making a lemon meringue pie to take to a game warden gathering. Julie had put the pie in the oven to brown the meringue and got busy doing something else. She started smelling smoke, went to the kitchen and opened the oven. Smoke billowed out and she panicked. Randy came running and somehow got the pie and flames out of the oven and put it in the sink. After all the smoke and flames were taken care of, all that was left was a little pile of ashes in a pie plate. Needless to say, Julie bought a pie to take to the party.

Julie and Randy have one daughter, Megan, who is 17 months old. Another child is expected in November. She is sharing four recipes with us today.

Sweetwater Reporter to sponsor cooking show

Sweetwater will once again play host to the very popular Today's Lifestyle Cooking Show on October 2. More than a thousand people attended the event when it was held in 1993.

Last week organizers said the number of door prizes had risen to 105 and continues to grow.

One of the reasons for the show's popularity, besides the entertainment, is the good chance of winning one of the great door prizes, said Shellie Glass, chairman of this year's show.

"Where else can you find a show that offers approximately one in ten odds of winning a nice door prize," Glass said. "When you couple those odds of winning with the great night of entertainment we have planned, all for the price of a $3 ticket, it is no wonder that tickets are selling at such a rapid rate."

Among the door prizes to be won are: $500 cash from Texas National Bank; five $100 cash prizes from the Sweetwater Reporter.

Every person who purchases a ticket this year will receive a gift bag filled with delightful surprises from area merchants, said Glass.

Advance tickets went on sale August 15, with advance tickets costing just $3. Tickets will cost $4 at the door.

Only 1,400 tickets will be sold for this year's show. "This is to guarantee that each person who purchases a ticket will have a seat," said Glass.

The show will be held at the Sweetwater High School auditorium, with doors opening at 6:30 p.m. and the show starting at 7 p.m.

Door prizes will be awarded all during the evening.

Gary Stricklin, KTXC-TV sports anchor, will be the master of ceremonies.

Sharon Barrett, home economist with Homemakers Schools of Middleton, Wis., will be the 1995 cooking show demonstrator.

The Sweetwater Reporter is sponsoring the cooking show.

Ticket outlets for the cooking show are: Wood's Boots, Sweetwater Reporter, and locations throughout Sweetwater.

PRISON MINISTRY DIRECTOR Johnny Moffitt leads members of the Christian Motorcycle Association into the Wallace Unit. The group held a three day revival inside the prison last weekend.

Bikers talk Bible with Wallace inmates

Packing Bibles in their saddlebags, around 15 bikers roared their engines and then rode through the back gate of the Wallace Unit prison straight towards the inmate recreation yard early Saturday morning.

The bikers were with a group of Christians, under the direction of Johnny Moffitt, founder of Worldwide Voice In The Wilderness, who held a three day revival at the prison Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Some were members of the Christian Motorcycle Association. Some were once outlaw bikers—a former member of the Hell's Angels and a former vice-president of the Bandidos. Five of the group were former offenders themselves who had first-hand knowledge of the streets and prison life.

Some had life stories filled with tragedy, abuse, violence, drink, and drugs that would rival the backgrounds of some of the inmates they would visit.

And some were simply men and women who are dedicating their lives to prison ministry. They regularly visit inmates at county jails and at prison units around the state.

This particular group used motorcycles to attract the inmates into attending the worship services and hearing their message.

"The bikes represent freedom for many of them," said a biker, Emmett Salomon of Huntsville. "With the bikes we can reach them on an emotional level."

Spanish worship services, attended by 107 inmates Friday evening, were held in the completely packed room of the prison chapel.

One hundred sixty inmates, some carrying their own Bibles, attended Friday night's services in English held in the gymnasium.

Saturday morning the bikers brought their bikes into the prison yard so inmates could look over the bikes and talk to the bikers.

Admiring the bikes, some of the inmates said it had been a long time since they had seen a motorcycle.

Anthony Pena, 25, who said he was in the Wallace Unit for a parole violation, said he was glad he had gone to the worship services.

"The service was touching and well performed. As they said, you can take it in or not," said Pena.

A second offender, Albert Ramos, 32, who said he was serving a two year sentence for burglary, said hearing the stories of people who had changed their lives meant a lot to him. He said he really wanted to change his life now that he had a son. "I couldn't change in the free world. I tried to before but now I know I can," he said. "I believe I was brought here [to the Wallace Unit] so I could change and I'm going to do it for my son's sake."

After giving inmates an opportunity to see the bikes, the men in the ministry group ate lunch with the prisoners while the women dined with the correctional officers. Then the bikers visited, counseled and prayed with the inmates in their cells before the Saturday services. They handed out Bibles to any who wanted one.

"If they can change, I can too," said Raymundo Castillo, 37, serving an 18 year sentence for delivery of cocaine.

Loraine native dies in auto accident Friday

A native of Loraine, Shane Vallery, 28, died in a two-car accident east of Colorado City when the pickup in which Vallery was a passenger was struck by a vehicle driven by a Colorado City man Friday afternoon.

The accident occurred on FM 1230 around 3 p.m. when the 1991 Ford pickup, driven by Vallery's brother, Kenny Vallery, 20, of Roscoe was struck broadside on the passenger's side by a 1972 Ford pickup driven by Kerry Bradbury, 30, of Colorado City, according to a spokesman for the Department of Public Safety, Sparky Dean.

Bradbury was driving west on the north access road of Interstate 20. The Vallerys were headed north on the farm to market road.

Bradbury was treated and released from Rolling Plains Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater. A spokesman for Rolling Plains said Kenny Vallery was listed in stable condition in the intensive care unit after undergoing surgery for abdominal injuries Friday.

Services for Shane Vallery were held Sunday. He is survived by his wife, Rhonda, and two daughters, Amanda and Linsey.

LISD reduces property tax rate

Loraine ISD Board of Trustees reduced the tax rate by 11 cents at a called meeting last week to officially set the $1.50 per $100 valuation operating tax rate.

The decrease from last year's $1.61 tax rate was due to the district paying off the bond debt last year.

In other business, the board considered construction bids on a portable facility to be used as an instructional center and decided to award the bid within 30 days. The architect, Ron Goebel, presented plans for the on-site building which includes handicap ramps.

Chamber, Extension Service announce farm tour plans

By Joe Raff, CEA-AG

The 1995 Farm Tour will be on September 20 and is sponsored by the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, Natural Resource Conservation Service, Consolidated Farm Service Agency and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

All participants will meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 8:30 a.m. for registration. The cost of the tour will be $7.50 per person to defray the cost of the meal. The tour buses will leave for the first stop at 9 a.m.

The first stop will be Carl Guelker's farm (off I-20) at a planting pattern demonstration plot.

The second stop will be the neighboring field of Russell Erwin's where onlookers can evaluate his paper pellet demonstration.

The tour will then travel across the county to the Loraine ag farm for a watermelon break sponsored by Turner and Son. At the watermelon stop Tommy Runyan of Zeneca will speak to the participants about the Harvest Aid test plot that will be conducted on the Turner Farm this fall.

The next stop will be at Zane Richburg's farm south of Loraine. Zane will discuss his successes with crop rotation of cotton and wheat. Monte Richburg's farm will be next on the tour (north of Loraine). Monte will explain his conservation tillage practices and how they have worked on his farm. The final stop will be at Brooks Wallis farm. Brooks planted a 14 variety test plot this year for everyone to evaluate.

After the last stop the tour will head back to the chamber for lunch. At the conclusion of the meal each participant will earn four CEUs toward his or her pesticide license.

On behalf of all the sponsors, we hope to see you at the 1995 Mitchell County Ranch Tour.

County extends program

Mitchell County Commissioners unanimously approved an extension of last year's DARE program at a called meeting Tuesday morning.

The program, which was initially funded here in 1989 by the Texas Commission of Alcohol and Drug Abuse, is now under the Office of the Governor, Criminal Justice Division (CJD).

The DARE program was approved by the CJD for four months (September 1995 through December 31, 1995) "to give everybody enough time to get the paperwork in and for CJD to review it," said DARE Officer Tommy Dill.

Dill was notified by phone of approval from Austin for the extension period.

He requested $15,693 for the program and is expecting to receive the paperwork from the state office next week.

The county will have to reapply after December 31 for continued funding.

PRISON MINISTRY DIRECTOR Johnny Moffitt leads members of the Christian Motorcycle Association into the Wallace Unit. The group held a three day revival inside the prison last weekend.

Bikers talk Bible with Wallace inmates

Packing Bibles in their saddlebags, around 15 bikers roared their engines and then rode through the back gate of the Wallace Unit prison straight towards the inmate recreation yard early Saturday morning.

The bikers were with a group of Christians, under the direction of Johnny Moffitt, founder of Worldwide Voice In The Wilderness, who held a three day revival at the prison Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Some were members of the Christian Motorcycle Association. Some were once outlaw bikers—a former member of the Hell's Angels and a former vice-president of the Bandidos. Five of the group were former offenders themselves who had first-hand knowledge of the streets and prison life.

Some had life stories filled with tragedy, abuse, violence, drink, and drugs that would rival the backgrounds of some of the inmates they would visit.

And some were simply men and women who are dedicating their lives to prison ministry. They regularly visit inmates at county jails and at prison units around the state.

This particular group used motorcycles to attract the inmates into attending the worship services and hearing their message.

"The bikes represent freedom for many of them," said a biker, Emmett Salomon of Huntsville. "With the bikes we can reach them on an emotional level."

Spanish worship services, attended by 107 inmates Friday evening, were held in the completely packed room of the prison chapel.

One hundred sixty inmates, some carrying their own Bibles, attended Friday night's services in English held in the gymnasium.

Saturday morning the bikers brought their bikes into the prison yard so inmates could look over the bikes and talk to the bikers.

Admiring the bikes, some of the inmates said it had been a long time since they had seen a motorcycle.

Anthony Pena, 25, who said he was in the Wallace Unit for a parole violation, said he was glad he had gone to the worship services.

"The service was touching and well performed. As they said, you can take it in or not," said Pena.

A second offender, Albert Ramos, 32, who said he was serving a two year sentence for burglary, said hearing the stories of people who had changed their lives meant a lot to him. He said he really wanted to change his life now that he had a son. "I couldn't change in the free world. I tried to before but now I know I can," he said. "I believe I was brought here [to the Wallace Unit] so I could change and I'm going to do it for my son's sake."

After giving inmates an opportunity to see the bikes, the men in the ministry group ate lunch with the prisoners while the women dined with the correctional officers. Then the bikers visited, counseled and prayed with the inmates in their cells before the Saturday services. They handed out Bibles to any who wanted one.

"If they can change, I can too," said Raymundo Castillo, 37, serving an 18 year sentence for delivery of cocaine.

Loraine native dies in auto accident Friday

A native of Loraine, Shane Vallery, 28, died in a two-car accident east of Colorado City when the pickup in which Vallery was a passenger was struck by a vehicle driven by a Colorado City man Friday afternoon.

The accident occurred on FM 1230 around 3 p.m. when the 1991 Ford pickup, driven by Vallery's brother, Kenny Vallery, 20, of Roscoe was struck broadside on the passenger's side by a 1972 Ford pickup driven by Kerry Bradbury, 30, of Colorado City, according to a spokesman for the Department of Public Safety, Sparky Dean.

Bradbury was driving west on the north access road of Interstate 20. The Vallerys were headed north on the farm to market road.

Bradbury was treated and released from Rolling Plains Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater. A spokesman for Rolling Plains said Kenny Vallery was listed in stable condition in the intensive care unit after undergoing surgery for abdominal injuries Friday.

Services for Shane Vallery were held Sunday. He is survived by his wife, Rhonda, and two daughters, Amanda and Lindsey.

LISD reduces property tax rate

Loraine ISD Board of Trustees reduced the tax rate by 11 cents at a called meeting last week to officially set the $1.50 per $100 valuation operating tax rate.

The decrease from last year's $1.61 tax rate was due to the district paying off the bond debt last year.

In other business, the board considered construction bids on a portable facility to be used as an instructional center and decided to award the bid within 30 days. The architect, Ron Goebel, presented plans for the on-site building which includes handicap ramps.

Chamber, Extension Service announce farm tour plans

By Joe Raff, CEA-AG

The 1995 Farm Tour will be on September 20 and is sponsored by the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, Natural Resource Conservation Service, Consolidated Farm Service Agency and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

All participants will meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 8:30 a.m. for registration. The cost of the tour will be $7.50 per person to defray the cost of the meal. The tour buses will leave for the first stop at 9 a.m.

The first stop will be Carl Guelker's farm (off I-20) at a planting pattern demonstration plot.

The second stop will be the neighboring field of Russel Erwin's where onlookers can evaluate his paper pellet demonstration.

The tour will then travel across the county to the Loraine ag farm for a watermelon break sponsored by Turner and Son. At the watermelon stop Tommy Runyan of Zeneca will speak to the participants about the Harvest Aid test plot that will be conducted on the Turner Farm this fall.

The next stop will be at Zane Richburg's farm south of Loraine. Zane will discuss his successes with crop rotation of cotton and wheat. Monte Richburg's farm will be next on the tour (north of Loraine). Monte will explain his conservation tillage practices and how they have worked on his farm. The final stop will be at Brooks Wallis farm. Brooks planted a 14 variety test plot this year for everyone to evaluate.

After the last stop the tour will head back to the chamber for lunch. At the conclusion of the meal each participant will earn four CEUs toward his or her pesticide license.

On behalf of all the sponsors, we hope to see you at the 1995 Mitchell County Ranch Tour.

County extends program

Mitchell County Commissioners unanimously approved an extension of last year's DARE program at a called meeting Tuesday morning.

The program, which was initially funded here in 1989 by the Texas Commission of Alcohol and Drug Abuse, is now under the Office of the Governor, Criminal Justice Division (CJD).

The DARE program was approved by the CJD for four months (September 1995 through December 31, 1995) "to give everybody enough time to get the paperwork in and for CJD to review it," said DARE Officer Tommy Dill.

Dill was notified by phone of approval from Austin for the extension period.

He requested $15,693 for the program and is expecting to receive the paperwork from the state office next week.

The county will have to reapply after December 31 for continued funding.

Loraine News

By RESSIE ANN VAUGHN

Greetings from Loraine. Did you have a nice holiday weekend?

Some of us had to labor, others reclined and watched the Cowboys win—way to go!

The First Lady went to China, the Simpson jurors went a little stir-crazy, Republicans and Democrats alike went politicking.

Some West Texas crop dusters went worm spraying.

Kids went home from school. The latest Texas Lottery winner went a little crazy with joy.

The president went to a golf course.

Some senior citizens went to the Loraine Center for lunch—a good lunch!

Been there...done that!

Now get back to work!

Theodore Parker tells us "The lottery of honest labor, drawn by time, is the only one whose prizes are worth taking up and carrying home."

Dorothy Johnson is still recuperating at home, not comfortably, but getting well after an injury sustained about two weeks ago.

She wishes to thank all her friends for thinking of her with cards, calls, flowers and food. These acts of kindness and concern are very comforting to her.

Bro. James Merrell, pastor of Loraine Methodist Church, is still not feeling too chipper after some medical problems but he is now out of the hospital and at home.

Last Sunday, Bro. Merrell's son, Mark Merrell, presented a wonderful message to the congregation in his father's absence.

Iva Armstrong is sad after losing a beige-colored umbrella. For a few seconds she left it open on her front porch while she went inside, and when she returned it was gone.

The wind could have carried it away!

Iva would dearly love to have the umbrella back for sentimental reasons. If you find it, call her. It could very well rain again someday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hall and sons Justin and Chase spent this past weekend visiting Mom and Grandmom Chrystene Hall.

While here the family celebrated Justin's ninth birthday.

The entire Chris Hall family went dove hunting also while here, and had a great time.

This week, Jimmy Hall is here visiting Chrystene and he plans on getting in a little dove hunting as well.

Hope they all had good luck hunting!

I tried my best to move Wayne and Nell Oliver to Colorado City when I wrote about their golden wedding anniversary, when in fact they still live north of Loraine at the same address.

Oops, sorry! We really don't want you to move!

Jesse Barrera and his younger brother were working hard last week painting the interior walls at the Loraine Post Office. Everything looks nice and neat there, indoors and outdoors as well.

While you're standing inside checking out America's Most Wanted posters, notice how nice everything looks.

Annie Belle Jones has moved into a lovely home in Loraine on School Street, the former residence of Mattie Neely.

Helping her make the move and getting her house in order were Sue and Jim Hobbs from Midland; Sherri Fuller, Colorado City; Bill and Barbara Long, Savannah, Ga.; Jean Hale of Dallas and Irene Kidd of Loraine.

Congratulations to Annie Belle.

Audrey Beights had as guests over last weekend her sisters Hasseltine Compton and her son, Wayne Reddin from Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Harris from Sacramento, Calif. were here lately visiting their mom, Millie Rose.

While here in Texas they went to Ft. Worth and Austin to visit other family members Sherry Rose, her daughter Angela and a son, Charles Morgan.

Lanthus and Jean Brame, Don Brame and Ray Brame, along with Eugene Hall and son Zachery, Henry Allen and Jay Brame all came to hunt dove last week. Lanthus' mother, Margaret Brame, still resides on the farm place, as most of you know.

Several people from Loraine attended the funeral of Shane Vallerie in Roscoe. Edgar and Glenda Haltom, Dorothy Haltom, Donnell Sosa and Louise Liles were a few, among many, attending the service.

The brother of the deceased, Kenny, is still recuperating in intensive care at Rolling Plains Hospital, Sweetwater.

Our sympathy goes out to the family.

Eddie Galvan and a group of friends from Austin, plus a nephew from Page, Texas, Hol Galvan, have taken a week's hunting and hiking vacation in the Colorado mountains.

They are assisted by high expectations and a burro pack train.

The group is to hunt elk. Good luck and have fun!

Meanwhile, here at home Nora Galvan is enjoying the company of her sister, Frances Vera and grandchildren Cindy and Michael and Carmen Evans from Roscoe.

I was just given the very sad news that Willard Pratt was shot and killed by a drive-by assailant in Dallas.

Willard had been out walking his dog before bedtime when the act occurred.

He was a former Lorainian, being born here and going through all the grades before going on to Hardin-Simmons in Abilene.

Our sympathy to the family and friends of Willard Pratt.

This week at the senior center, dominoes, "42," hand and foot (a distant cousin to canasta), jigsaw puzzles and bingo are still going strong.

It is a boon for seniors to have a place to congregate, socialize, play table games if they choose, then have a hot nutritious meal waiting for them at 12 noon.

Last Wednesday on birthday party day, 94 people ate turkey and dressing with us. Several meals were also sent out to our homebound as well.

Recent guests at the center have been Trula Palmer from Odessa, Muriel Sweatt and Trula Richardson from Colorado City. It was nice to meet them and we hope they will come again.

Visitors also include Sharon Sadler, Jack Compton, Thomas Lewis and Lavern McKeehan as well.

Elsie LeCroy told me she would be on an extended visit with her children, David and Rhonda LeCroy, who live in Denton.

Dude Hantche was talking about a trip last week. I will get her news when she returns home.

Lucille Cox came back to the center recently to have lunch and visit friends and relatives. Her son, Dr. Frank Paloma, came with her. It was nice to see her again.

Jesse and Lahoma Mullins have been traveling some and absent from the center for a good while. It was great to see them again as well.

We are sorry to hear that Burdett Lee fell while in Snyder and banged himself up good and proper.

Get better soon, B.B.

The staff at Loraine Manor told me they had two new residents move in this week.

Maureen Oaks comes to us from Colorado City and Agnes Hogue from Sweetwater. I know the other residents and the staff will make them feel welcome.

Please do a rain dance of your choice. It couldn't hurt!

Take care and see you about town.

OIL & GAS NEWS

Drill site has been staked for the No. 2 Williams, a 7,500-ft. developmental well in the S.T.M. Field, Mitchell County. The operation will be located 9.5 miles southwest of Ira in an 80-acre unit in the Lavaca Navigation Survey.

The operator is Chisholm Exploration Inc. of Abilene.

Parker and Parsley Development of Midland has revealed plans to drill a total of four wells in Mitchell County's East Itan Howard Field about nine miles southwest of Westbrook.

They carry permit for 3,235, 3,200, 3,180 and 3,185-ft. tests.

The wells will be known as the Nos. 341, 344, 345 and 346 Mary Foster.

Locations are in a 3,840-acre lease in the T&PRR Co. Survey.

Operating out of Dallas, Merit Energy Corp. is preparing to conduct a plugback four miles north of Silver in Mitchell County's North Jameson Field.

The well is designated as the No. 18 V.T. McCabe and currently bottoms at a depth of 7,090 feet.

It was originally completed in 1994, pumping 22 barrels of oil per day plus 29,000 CF gas and 77 barrels of water from Odom perforations at 6,816 to 6,825 feet.

The well is in a 322-acre lease in the H&TCRR Co. Survey.

"Saddlemaker" video being distributed

A video featuring the talents of a Colorado City saddle maker is currently being distributed in schools and libraries throughout the Dallas area.

Frank Conard, who owns a saddle shop at Fort Wood, is the subject of "The Saddlemaker" video, one in a series of videos on pioneer skills made by Historic American Productions of Addison, Tx.

The series is described on the back of the cover as "an educational tool to enhance the teaching of American history and to promote the skills that were instrumental in establishing the United States".

Conard, who made his first saddle at the age of 65, is known as "The Saddlemaker for the Lord". He combines saddlemaking with his ministry, blessing each saddle with a prayer before it leaves his shop.

1995 PROPERTY TAX RATES IN COLORADO ISD

On August 14, Travis County District Judge Scott McCown ruled in favor of the plaintiff in Round Rock Independent School District v. The State of Texas. This lawsuit concerned the calculation of the school district rollback tax rate as required by Section 26.08, Property Tax Code, as amended by H.B. 2610. The language passed by the 74th Texas Legislature describes two school district rollback rates. Section 26.08(a) establishes a rate that triggers the rollback election, and Section 26.08(c) describes the highest rate a school district could adopt after a successful rollback election. Under a strict reading of the new law, the trigger rate could be lower than the rate adopted after an election.

Judge McCown declared that the Legislature intended for the term "effective maintenance rate" [used to describe the trigger rate in Section 26.08(a)] to include an enrollment adjustment and a tax rate necessary to offset the district's loss in total revenue. The rate established by Section 26.08(c) includes the effective maintenance rate plus an enrollment adjustment, plus $.08, plus the current debt rate, plus a rate to offset a district's loss in total revenue certified by the Commissioner of Education. The court stated that Section 26.08 does not require a rollback election unless the tax rate adopted by a school district exceeds the rate defined in Section 26.08(c). The judge's ruling means that a school district has one rollback tax rate, instead of two.

THIS NOTICE CONCERNS 1995 PROPERTY TAX RATES FOR COLORADO ISD. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the school district used to determine property taxes last year. This year's EFFECTIVE tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's ROLLBACK tax rate is the highest tax rate the school district can set before it must hold a rollback election. In each case, these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:

GED classes to begin Monday

Mitchell County residents won't have to miss out on job opportunities, such as at the local TDCJ units, just because they don't have a high school diploma.

GED classes begin at the Wallace Center Monday. Prospective students can register at the beginning of class.

The classes will be held from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. each Monday evening. There is no charge for classes or materials.

The informal classes allow students to work at their own pace while receiving individualized instruction from instructors Orphie Conner and Bob Reily.

Smoking prohibited at all school activities

Smoking won't be allowed at football games from now on. Complying with a new state law that prohibits smoking at school related activities, the CISD board of trustees approved the new policy recently.

The policy complies with a state mandate from Senate Bill 1 prohibiting smoking or using tobacco products at a school-related activity, on or off school property.

In addition, the bill requires trustees in school districts throughout the state to prohibit students from possessing tobacco products at school-related activities, on or off school property, and to ensure that school personnel enforce the policies on school property.

"This means there are no designated smoking areas at Wolf Stadium," said CISD Superintendent Russell Merket. "If a person wants to smoke, they need to go outside the stadium. A smoking area, such as behind the press box, will not be provided. Everyone's voluntary cooperation will be needed and appreciated."

Loraine to kick off season

The Loraine Bulldogs wrapped up their pre-season with a scrimmage against Blanket last Saturday evening in Loraine.

According to Head Coach Rick Cooper, the Bulldogs have improved since last week.

Cooper is still concerned with the offense and defense but hopes to have the problems worked out before the opening game of the season this Friday.

The Bulldogs scored four touchdowns, rolling up 291 yards of total offense while limiting Blanket to two touchdowns and 190 yards of total offense. Senior tailback Corey Wooddell scored three of the 'Dogs' touchdowns and junior fullback Bear Cooper scored the other.

The Loraine defense expects to be tested in Klondike when they face pre-season all-state quarterback Tanner Etheridge. Etheridge was all-conference and honorable mention all-state quarterback last year as a junior.

This week's game is scheduled to kick off at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Klondike.

the type of coaches we need to turn the football program around here," Grissom said.

Grissom installed the veer offense this year hoping to capitalize on speed in the backfield.

Senior quarterback Frank Espinoza will run the veer with sophomore runningbacks Aerian Emerson and Junior Tony Walthall in the backfield.

As a varsity freshman last year, Emerson rushed for over 700 yards and Walthall rushed for over 1,700 yards on the junior varsity.

A big offensive line is lead by 1994 All-District honorees junior Ty Henderson, 6'3", 225 lbs; senior tight end Lynn Boyd, 6', 220 lbs. and junior Zack Love, 6'2", 255 lbs. They will be joined by junior Guard Marcus Sanchez, 6', 300 lbs. and senior Phillip Garcia, 5'11", 170 lbs.

Rounding out the starting lineup is junior wide out Jamie Gutierrez, 5'10", 155 lbs. Chris Ramirez will handle all place kicking duties while Tim Edwards will do the punting.

Defensively the Wolves will start junior Brad Anderson and senior Tony Coronado at the corner back slots, while senior Ryan Costabile will start at safety. Costabile also received honorable mention honors last year.

Starting at defensive halfback will be juniors Jamie Gutierrez and Lance Dockrey.

Anchoring the defensive line will be ends Lynn Boyd and Brandon Atkins, while Ty Henderson and Zack Love will fill the tackle slots. Henderson suffered a knee injury in last Thursday's scrimmage in Winters, but is expected to start Friday night.

John Erwin and Chris Fambro will start at linebacker.

Joe Ross Jameson is hampered with knee problems and will miss Friday night's game but may be back in the lineup the following week against Merkel. Jameson received honorable mention honors at linebacker last year.

A good crowd is expected to be on hand for Friday night's opener. Game time is 8 p.m.

Wolves JV season opener Thursday at Coahoma

The Colorado City Wolves JV will tangle with the Coahoma Bulldogs Thursday at 7:30 in Coahoma. This is the season opener for both teams.

The starting backfield for the Wolves will have Roland Nelson and Chuck Lee at the halfback positions and Justin Sparkman running the offense at quarterback.

The offensive line will have Cody Kemp at center, Jeff Anzaldua and Javier Quintero at the guard slots and Tim Garrett and Jerry Melendez starting in the tackle positions.

Freshman football game cancelled

The freshman game that was scheduled for Thursday in Coahoma was cancelled Tuesday. Coahoma officials cancelled the game because of the small turnout in football at the freshman level. Coaches were hoping to schedule a game with someone else but as of late Tuesday were unable to do so. The freshman team will probably be combined with the JV this week.

Adam Wood is the tight end, Ray Martin the split end and the flanker back will be Brian Arocha.

Defensively the Wolves will line up with Tim Garrett and Jerry Melendez as the defensive tackles and Josh Bell and Adam Wood anchoring the defensive line.

Starting at linebacker will be Jeff Anzaldua and Javier Quintero.

The defensive backfield starters will have Justin Sparkman and Ray Martin as defensive backs with Jesse Rios the safety.

Rounding out the defensive starting lineup will be Micah Brannan and Chuck Lee.

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR GERALD JAMES (l) is directing the JV defense as preparations are underway for Thursday's opening JV game in Coahoma. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Texas economy overtakes Russia

State Comptroller John Sharp has announced that the Texas economy has overtaken Russia's and is closing in on China's, placing the state among the principal players in the growing global marketplace.

"If Texas were a sovereign nation, our economy would be the 11th largest on earth," Sharp said. "Texas is now a financial powerhouse on the international stage, and we are playing an increasingly important role in the markets of the world."

Sharp said that the total value of goods and services produced in Texas was more than $443 billion in 1993, the most current year for which complete data from all leading nations is available. When compared to the gross national products of the world's richest countries, Texas ranks 11th if included among the top 20 economies in the world.

"This places us ahead of the huge Russian Federation, whose gross national product is $348.5 billion, and not far behind China, whose massive economic output totals $581 billion," Sharp said.

Sharp said that the Texas economy has diversified in recent years, especially in the area of exports to other nations, including Canada, Great Britain, Japan and Taiwan. Mexico remains Texas' largest trading partner.

In a separate report, Sharp recently wrote that the devaluation of the Mexican peso last December has allowed Texas exports to that country during the first two quarters of 1995. However, Texas exports to other nations have surged and the state's overall export performance has held steady with last year's brisk pace.

Sharp also noted that the Texas petrochemical industry has fueled much of the growth of the state's economy this year and that sales of computers and other electronic equipment have helped bridge the gap that could have followed the collapse of the Mexican peso.

"The Texas economy is increasingly tied to the economies of other countries around the world," Sharp noted. "That's why it's such good news to see that we rank among the strongest 'nations' in the world."

The United States, with a gross national product totaling $6.4 trillion, has the world's largest economy. Other leading nations are Japan ($3.9 trillion); Germany ($1.9 trillion); the United Kingdom ($1.1 trillion); Canada ($574 billion); and Brazil ($471 billion).

World economies that rank behind Texas include Korea ($338 billion); Mexico ($325 billion); the Netherlands ($316 billion); Australia ($310 billion); India ($262 billion); and Argentina ($244 billion).

Sharp's report is drawn from figures compiled by his staff, as well as by the World Bank and the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis. His look at the state's world-wide ranking will be included in the forthcoming issue of Texas

Economic Quarterly, a regular publication of the Comptroller's Office. That issue is scheduled to be released in September.

Texas ranks 39th in immunization survey

A federal survey listing all 50 states' rates of immunization for children between 19 months and 35 months of age shows that Texas now ranks 39th.

The survey, conducted from April through December of 1994, revealed that some 17 percent of Texas children in the survey age group had received all their required immunizations. The rate for the nation, as a whole, is 75 percent. Informal estimates as recently as 1993 had placed Texas last among the states for adequate childhood immunizations.

Results of the first National Immunization Survey, conducted by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), will be released in CDC's August 25 issue of the "Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report." The survey showed the percentage of the target group that had received four DTP, three polio and one MMR immunization, including boosters.

"The new [CDC] ranking, while still lower than we prefer, shows dramatic progress in our state's goal of immunizing all young Texans by age two," Dr. David R. Smith, Texas Commissioner of Health, said. The improved ranking qualifies Texas to receive an added $1.5 million in CDC funding for continued improvements in childhood immunizations.

The health commissioner said that because of the Texas Department of Health (TDH)'s innovative program, "Shots Across Texas," which enlists the cooperation of other state and local agencies, private industry and other organizations, as well as doctors, nurses and volunteers, children's immunization since 1993 has received high priority as a fundamental health issue in Texas. The "Shots Across Texas" initiative began two years ago.

The CDC survey results support the findings of a statewide immunization survey conducted by TDH in 1994 among a younger age group (three months-2 years). The TDH survey found that 55 percent of children in that younger group were adequately immunized.

"We knew after we finished our own survey in 1994 that 'Shots Across Texas' already had made a measurable difference," Dr. Smith said. "Now CDC's survey further substantiates our progress, helping us to secure more funding for our effort. In the next year, TDH can devote these new resources to an aggressive new campaign to immunize the children of hard-to-reach populations."

CHIEF LONE WOLF

The late Toby Dearen arrived at Pearl Harbor almost four years after the Japanese had delivered their knockout blow. Now it was 1945 and Dearen and others on the ship with him were headed to Guam. A rare South Pacific storm had caused their vessel to be rerouted to Pearl.

Dearen recalled in a 1981 interview the U.S. wreckage still covered the harbor. "We couldn't tell that anything had been moved," he stated.

Later, arriving on Guam, the American troops found nothing but coconut trees...and Japanese. "When we hit there, we didn't have any barracks. We didn't have a mess hall. We didn't have anything." Hidden back in the hills of the island were Japanese soldiers.

Dearen says supplies for the U.S. troops were stockpiled on the beach. Guards were posted around the clock. Occasionally a shot from an enemy sniper would be fired.

That's now been more than 50 years ago. The anniversary of V-J Day would bring to life some of the memories Mitchell County men have shared with us after they took part in the war against the Japanese Empire.

Jasper (Jap) Doyle of Loraine knows a thing or two about enemy snipers. While stationed with the Marines on the Russell Islands, not far from Guadalcanal, he said he was lucky.

"I only had one shot fired at me. And it missed," Doyle told us. He and two other Marines were walking single file along a trail when suddenly a shot rang out.

"The man right in front of me fell," Doyle related. "Caught him right in the back. [The shot] went right over my shoulder and hit him." Doyle says the Marine "was dead before he hit the ground."

The two remaining Americans looked back in time to see a puff of smoke wafting from near the top of a coconut tree. "We had those 16 shot rifles and me and the other boy emptied our rifles in that tree."

A Japanese sniper, "groceries and everything else fell out of the tree," Doyle continued. The enemy soldier had made a virtual home for himself in the top of the tree. Jap Doyle came within inches of never seeing V-J Day, let alone the 50th anniversary of the victory over Japan.

Gwan Strange of Westbrook is another Mitchell County man who got a close-up look at the war while stationed on Saipan. However, one of his most vivid memories is not what he saw, but rather what he heard.

Specifically, Tokyo Rose. She became famous with U.S. servicemen for radio broadcasts which were designed to demoralize troops through the use of American music and Japanese propaganda.

"She knew when anyone above the rank of captain came to Saipan," Strange remembered. He said Air Corps personnel could hear Tokyo Rose's broadcasts when they would go up in their planes "and turn on a receiver to her particular channel."

One of her favorite tactics was to taunt Americans. Strange said that didn't really make him angry. "Not particularly. [She would] say 'the Americans are losing the war and you shouldn't really be out here in the Pacific.' We didn't listen to her too much. It was mostly propaganda. What we wanted to hear more than anything else was the music [she played]."

Colorado City's D.M. Smith concurs. He heard Tokyo Rose while stationed in the Philippines. "She had the best western music," he recalls.

"We enjoyed Tokyo Rose very much. Several different times she called the names of people in our outfit who she claimed had been killed. We would get a big laugh out of it because we knew they hadn't."

Smith says he doesn't know what G.I.s in the Philippines would have done for radio entertainment without Tokyo Rose. "We could pick her up better than we could our own stations," he added.

For the most part, Smith continued, the American servicemen found the broadcasts amusing, but there was a downside. "We were afraid a lot of people were believing her propaganda."

Of course, not all of the information aired by her was erroneous. "Tokyo Rose was all the time telling where our troops were, call names, the names of the troops. I don't know where in the world they got all that information, but they did. They had it," Smith declared.

Mostly he says he and his buddies enjoyed hearing music from "back home." And, to be honest, Rose had a very alluring voice.

"Oh yeah. She'd play that soft music and talk so sweet. She was always asking U.S. soldiers what they thought their girlfriends and wives were doing back in the States."

When the war ended, Tokyo Rose was eventually located. Surprisingly, she was a graduate of UCLA and had majored in zoology. Her real name was Iva Ikuko Toguri and she had been visiting an aunt in Japan when the war erupted. Given a choice between working in a munitions factory or broadcasting propaganda for $6.60 a month, she took the latter.

Smith concedes she had "a pretty good line." But it wasn't good enough. After the war she was tried and sentenced to 10 years in prison.

To many G.I.s, that was the sweetest music to their ears.

Senior citizen award nominations sought

This award is a joint effort of the Mitchell County Home Economics Committee, the Mitchell County Extension Program Council and the Old Timers Reunion Committee. It will be presented at the Old Timers Reunion September 16.

The award will recognize a county senior citizen for outstanding contributions and volunteer efforts in the community. Last year's award recipient was L.B. Elliott of Colorado City.

Nomination forms are available at the Mitchell County Extension office located in the Mitchell County Annex building just north of the courthouse or from Mary McMullen, 728-3111.

The deadline for nominations is Thursday, September 7 by 5 p.m.
