Feeling Tense As Election Row Grows In Bitterness

Hectic Battle Again Reaches Supreme Court

Mrs. Ferguson Files Action Seeking Mandamus To Force Secretary Of State To Put Her Name On Ballot

Hearing Saturday

Restraining Order Is Granted Early Thursday Pending The Outcome Of Contest Suit Of Governor Sterling

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—The hectic and bitter contest for the Texas Democratic gubernatorial nomination reached the state supreme court for the second time within a month today when Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson asked the court's permission to file a petition in which she sought to mandamus Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, to certify her name for placement on the ballot in the general election.

Argument on the motion for leave to file the mandamus petition was set for 2 p. m. Saturday.

Situation Complicated

Action of Mrs. Ferguson's attorneys in seeking to file the mandamus further complicated the situation involving the Democratic nomination.

Mrs. McCallum had been restrained early today by District Judge W. F. Robertson from certifying Mrs. Ferguson as the nominee pending determination of the suit filed by Governor R. S. Sterling contesting the August 27 Democratic primary election.

Trial of the suit has been set to start Monday before Judge Robertson.

Allege Election Illegal

The governor alleged Mrs. Ferguson was elected by illegally cast ballots; stated he was the legal nominee and asked the court to certify his name instead of Mrs Ferguson's to the county clerks to be placed on the ballot in the general election.

Mrs. Ferguson's first appearance in the current fight for the nomination came a few days before the Democratic state convention at Lubbock. At that time she sought leave to file application for a mandamus to require the state executive committee to certify her as the nominee. The court refused

Rio Grande Is Again On Rise

Border River And Tributaries Swelled By Recent Rains In Area; Highways Are Closed After Downpours

(By The Associated Press)

DEL RIO, Sept. 29. — The Rio Grande and its tributaries in this section of Southwest Texas were rising today as a result of heavy rains, which interfered with highway and rail traffic.

The border stream had reached a stage of 14 feet at Del Rio and was estimated to be rising about two feet an hour. Devils river was up eight feet. At Langtry the Rio Grande was 15 feet above normal.

Highways Closed

Highways east of Brackettville and west of Del Rio were closed by continuous downpours. Automobile traffic to San Antonio was routed by way of Eagle Pass because of a rise in the Nueces river, caused by steady rains in the Uvalde section.

The eastbound passenger train scheduled to arrive at Del Rio at 10:20 a. m. was delayed and was not expected to reach its destination until tonight. It was reported that a temporary bridge spanning a dry creek bed east of Sanderson washed out last night, severing railroad traffic for the third time in a month.

Farley Says Less Than Five States To Go To Republicans

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—There are "less than five states," Democratic Chairman James A. Farley said tonight, in which a Roosevelt-Garner victory is not already assured.

He did not name the states he listed as "doubtful."

"I remember," he added, at his press conference since returning from the west, "I do not consider one single state to the Repub-

Local Mechanic Has Message For Would-Be Assassin And Is In A Humor For Compromise

"Tell That Fellow If It Is Mistaken Identity I'd Like To Know About It—If He Has Grudge Tell Him To Leave His Gun At Home, Come Down And We'll Compromise"

CHAS. B. BURKETT, 1912-A Fifteenth street, has a message for the would-be assailant who attempted to shoot him through an unshaded window Wednesday night.

"Tell that fellow," Burkett, 30, told The Morning Avalanche last night, "that if it is mistaken identity I would like to know about it, and if he has a grudge against me, leave his gun at home, come down and we'll compromise."

The unidentified sniper's marksmanship failed by about four inches to send a bullet into the brain of Burkett, a mechanic. Burkett, was sitting in a rocking chair about 7:35 o'clock "enjoying life." Shades were up on the two windows in the room, and it was through one of the openings that the leaden slug was hurtled.

"I haven't an enemy I know about," Burkett said last night.

The window catch saved his life, the mechanic, who has a shop at 907 Tenth street, said. The bullet glanced upward when it grazed the metal.

"If a fellow was trying to kill me he could have a thousand chances a day," Burkett said, and then added, "except today."

The mechanic, who has been married six years, has lived in Lubbock since 1930. The Burketts have no children.

H. W. Browning, a grocery company executive here, said he saw an automobile stop in front of Burkett's residence and saw a flash of gunfire from the car, in which he saw only one person. The motor of the automobile was left idling, after

Missing Oklahoma Banker Returns To Home; Faces Charge Of Embezzlement

(By The Associated Press)

BURLINGTON, Okla., Sept. 29.—Returning as mysteriously as he disappeared two weeks ago, Henry C. Doherty, Burlington banker charged with embezzlement was sick at his home tonight. His physician said he was "unable to answer questions."

"He came home alone late Wednesday night," his brother, J. M. Doherty, Wichita, Kas., said.

J. M. Doherty said he could not tell where his brother had been, that he was ill and was under a doctor's care.

Sheriff W. A. Carlisle of Cherokee county said if Doherty was unable to go to Cherokee, the county seat, he would serve the embezzlement warrant at the banker's home.

The sheriff said he understood bond of $2,500 already had been prepared for the banker and that he would accept it when he placed Doherty under arrest.

Embezzlement charges were filed Tuesday against Doherty who disappeared Sept. 16 on a trip to Dumas, Tex., ostensibly to attempt to collect notes due the bank, which was forced to close shortly afterward.

Receiver For Price Estate Is Appointed

Vast Interests Of Panhandle's Largest Wheat Grower Go To Receivers With Filing Of A Suit In Swisher

Grant Injunction

Dallas Man Is Named And Put Under $10,000 Bond; Firm At Plainview Files Suit On Debt Of $600

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, Sept. 29.—A receiver has been appointed in district court here for Hickman Price, largest wheat grower in the Panhandle, and his creditors have been enjoined from seizing any portion of the Price estate by attachment or other legal processes. Mike H. Thomas of Dallas qualified as receiver under $10,000 bond.

The receivership and injunction were granted on application of the Dowden Hardware company of Plainview, which alleged that Price owed a $600 note and that the action was necessary to protect small creditors and junior lien and debt holders.

Filed In Swisher County

The suit was filed in Swisher county. The petition alleged that Price owns 18,800 acres in Swisher and Deaf Smith counties "reasonably worth $406,000," and various tools and implements used in farming his vast wheat acreage, and that his indebtedness was approximately $225,000, of which $85,000 was unsecured indebtedness.

On July 22, after a short crop had been harvested on the Price farms, Price called his creditors together at his headquarters at Kress and turned his properties over to them.

At End Of Resources

"I am at the end of my resources," Price told them.

The creditors appointed a committee of five to work out a plan of handling the estate, and the committee then called on those who had filed suit to withdraw their petitions until some method of operation could be decided upon. They sought to avoid the expense of a receivership.

Price came to be called the world's largest individual wheat farmer in 1931 when he produced 500,000 bushels of wheat on 22,000 acres. He applied big business methods to farming. He operated his power implements day and night, maintained his own machine shops for repairs, and produced vegetables, meats and fruits to feed his employes.

"I am convinced that my plan of industrial farming is sound and practical," Price told his creditors in July. "But these are abnormal times, and I don't know of any new industry that has succeeded."

Price declined an offer to manage the farms for his creditors.

Series Of Earthquakes In Greece Continue Thursday

ATHENS, Sept. 29 (AP)—The series of earthquakes that have caused death and destruction in many parts of Greece during the last few days continued today when five violent shocks caused considerable damage at Salonika.

Dispatches from the Chalcidice peninsula in Macedonia said conditions there constituted a "hell on earth," with roads almost impassable because of wide cracks in many places and with such strange phenomena as the drying up of Lake Arania.

Amarillo Man Is Appointed To Agriculture Credit Body

FORT WORTH, Sept. 29. (AP)—C. E. Weymouth, Amarillo, has been added to the board of directors of the tenth district agricultural credit corporation, it was announced today by corporation officials here. He will replace W. L. Pier, Fort Worth, who declined the appointment.

Abernathy Man Seriously Injured In Shooting Affray; Another Is Arrested

Joe Ramsey Brought Here; Attacker In Plainview Jail

JOE RAMSEY, about 50, a well-known plumber of Abernathy, was in a serious condition at the Lubbock sanitarium last night while his alleged assailant, a prominent Abernathy resident, was being held in the Hale county jail at Plainview, following a shooting affray on the main street of Abernathy in front of the Beaton Pharmacy about 6:15 o'clock last night.

Entering the left breast, a bullet from a 38 calibre pistol, went through the man's body, ranged downward after it entered and came out in the back.

Charge To Be Filed

A charge, probably that of assault with intent to murder, is to be filed in Plainview this morning, Sheriff Nath Burkett told the Morning Avalanche at 9 o'clock last night. County Attorney Royse Oxford was out of the city, having gone to San Antonio, while Meade F. Griffin, district attorney, had gone to Kansas City, Mo., on business.

Little was known of the causes leading up to the shooting, the Avalanche was told by Abernathy business men. The two men were said to have had trouble before.

According to reports the pair met about 6 o'clock in front of the drug store, next to the postoffice. Whether there was a wordy discussion was not known. No one could be located who would state how many witnesses there were, if any, to the shooting.

One Bullet In Body

One bullet entered Ramsey's body. Sheriff Nath Burkett of Hale county was called and with Deputy Kelly Hooper drove to Abernathy

Roosevelt Launches Out Fresh Onslaught On Tariff Policies

Promises Iowans That Demos Will Put Tariff Duties As Low As Possible; Favors A Competitive Tariff

(By The Associated Press)

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 29. — In a fresh onslaught upon Republican tariff policies, Franklin D. Roosevelt tonight told thousands of Iowans who packed into the grandstand of the baseball park here that the Democratic party would put tariff duties "as low as the preservation of the prosperity of American industry will permit."

The Democratic presidential nominee said the platform of his party favored a competitive tariff which would put American producers on a market equality with foreign competitors.

Would Lower Duties

He proposed that the duties be lowered through international negotiation "by consenting to reduce to some extent some of our duties in order to a lowering of foreign walls that a larger measure of our surplus may be admitted abroad."

"Next", he said, "the Democrats propose to accomplish the necessary reduction through the agency of the tariff commission."

The New York governor also called attention to a bill he said had been vetoed by President Hoover which would have provided for the action by congress upon reports from the tariff commission without throwing the whole rate structure open to revision.

Adopt Reasonable Rates

"I am confident in the belief that under such a system rates would be adopted generally so reasonable that there would be little opportunity for criticism or even cavilling with them," he said.

"Another feature of the bill to which reference has been made, designed to obviate tariff log rolling, contemplated the appointment of a public counsel who should be heard on all applications for changes in rates before the commission—on

Secretary Hurley Charges Democrats Plant "Stool Pigeons" At Gatherings

(By The Associated Press)

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 29.—Secretary of War Hurley charged in an interview here today that Democrats are planting "stool pigeons" at Republican campaign meetings to heckle speakers.

He referred specifically to a meeting at Johnson City, Tenn., last night where he was booed several times.

"There was just a handful of them sprinkled through the audience," he said, "the crowd was with me.

"After the speaking, a man by the name of Wuthering came up to me and said he had been paid $2 to ask me a list of questions. He said 'I took th money because I needed it but I like you, Colonel, and that's why I wouldn't ask you the questions.' I said to him, 'that's allright buddy. Take all the money you can get from them.'"

Hurley here to attend a reunion of the world war Thirtieth division was the central figure in a mile long parade of the veterans and other military units. He will address the reunion.

Judge Denies Motion For A Venue Change

Special Venire Of 39 Men Is Almost Exhausted Thursday; Additional Talesmen Are To Be Called Today

Delay Scheduled

Absence Of Two Witnesses For Defense Will Bring Motion For Continuance; Death Is Likely To Be Asked

AFTER nearly exhausting a special venire of 39 qualified men on the selection of four jurors Thursday afternoon, Judge Clark M. Mullican is to order an additional venire of fifty talesmen today for the trial of Hugh Walker, charged with murder in 99th district court, in connection with the slaying of F. V. "Leather Hat" Brown, pioneer county stockman.

Only five men of the first venire had not been examined last night. After questioning them this morning and exhausting the venire, Judge Mullican will order the additional list of jurors, he announced last night. The additional veniremen will report on Monday, trial of the case to be postponed until that date.

Selection Starts Thursday

Selection of Walker's jury got under way Thursday afternoon after Judge Mullican had overruled a motion for change of venue. Hearings of the motion was concluded just before noon, the court denying his plea temporarily until veniremen had been examined. The case was ordered to trial at 1:30.

Judge Mullican had previously overruled a motion for continuance and is expected to be presented with another one this morning by defense counsel. Absence of two defense witnesses, Clyde Blakely and J. E. Davis, will be the basis for the motion, W. F. Schenck, one of the defense attorneys, said.

Jurors Are Chosen

The four jurors selected were: M. L. Gardner, a trucker residing at 1312 Sixth street; Arnold O'Neal, Grovesville farmer; M. E. Horton, Lubbock barber; and R. E. Jackson, farmer living near Abernathy.

The first juror was chosen after six veniremen had been challenged, the second after eight more had been questioned, the third after three more were examined, the last man being the thirty-fourth to face questioning. Of the thirty-four examined, only five had fixed opinions on the case, bearing out the court's denial of a change of venue.

Six challenges were used up by each counsel in the questioning Thursday. One man was excused due to illness in his family, six were dismissed after defense had objected to their names being misspelled in the venire list and six had conscientious scruples against assessment of the death penalty.

Walker, third defendant to be tried for Brown's slaying, conferred with his attorneys after nearly every man was questioned. Behind him sat his wife and near her was his aged father, John Walker of Rogers. The defendant smoked cigarets almost incessantly during the proceedings.

Indicative that the state would

Mud Stops Ely On Visit Here

Judge W. R. Ely, Abilene, chairman of the state highway commission, was unable to negotiate state highway No. 7 between Post and Lubbock Thursday afternoon and a scheduled meeting of Panhandle-Plains highway chiefs here was necessarily postponed, due to heavy roads caused by rains that have fallen the past ten days.

The judge, however, has a rainbow in his sky. Arrangements have been made to pave the highway from Slaton to Roscoe when the right-of-way is secured. By early next spring this should make it possible for Panhandle-Plains citizens to drive over pavement to all of the principal cities as well as the chairman from his Abilene home to Lubbock, over concrete highways.

High praise for the Lubbock Municipal airport was given last night by Captain H. K. Ramey, U. S. A., commander of the air fleet from Fort Sill, Okla., which landed at the port yesterday.

"The two best ports from the standpoint of hospitality and efficiency that stand out in my experience are the Lubbock port and the one at Pine Bluff, Ark."

Captain Ramey has 23 men in 21 ships. Next Friday he plans to be back here with another crew of students and fliers.

Thirty Attend District Study Institute At First Methodist Church

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

UNLESS you mark a place and measure from there, progress is sometimes hard to detect. There is a general notion that women have been doing more things in the last few years than they did prior to that time. However, unless some definite signs of progress are pointed out, we can't very well judge what has been done.

A sign of this progress is seen in the amount of space accorded to women by the latest encyclopedia makers. Women's activities—in the home, in business, in the arts and in education—have grown so enormously in the past 20 years that the newest encyclopedia makers have been compelled to quadruple the proportion of space hitherto given to them. That is the statement of Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and he should know. He has spent two years as editor-in-chief of a new encyclopedia.

And, as another evidence of the attention women demand because of what they have done, a special staff of eminent women was appointed to edit all information regarding women's activities, particularly in relation to the home, children and family. The men in charge decided that they knew too little about these subjects and about the women who were leaders in the field.

* * *

Mr. Suzzallo has a word to say on the subject, too. "Former encyclopedias were reference works mainly on masculine subjects. Such reference works are now obsolete, for women's affairs occupy a position of predominance today. If an encyclopedia is properly prepared, it will be consulted far more often in the home by the woman of the house than by the men. Women want authentic information on vitamins and the nutritional value of foods, on medical subjects, on women's sports, women's organizations, women's activities in business, art, science and politics, on motor cars and the mechanical devices used in the home," he states.

There is evidence that women's activities are gaining recognition. You are going to find some more next year at the World Fair when 100 years of women's progress is shown.

The amount of growth can be determined by choosing a definite time and measuring from there.

MORE BUSINESS GIRLS

IN Sunday's Avalanche-Journal there is to be an account of some work done by Lubbock county girls in 4-H clubs that you should read.

There are a lot of us who sit at desks and peck typewriters and believe that we are business women. We sometimes fail to class 4-H club girls as business girls, but they are that. And, what is more, they probably know more about balancing their incomes and expenditures than a lot of us who consider that we know a lot.

You may not be planning to move to the farm to raise gardens and chickens, but read what these girls are doing in their work. Then cheer them along.

SO far, there haven't been any women fans standing around in the rain listening to broadcasts of the world series. Some woman who is afraid the men are going to get ahead on something should come down.

REAL BEAUTY

IF you want to achieve that "expensive simplicity" look that is so much sought by the woman who is really chic, you must co-ordinate clothes, figure, hair and make-up. Now the beauty expert and the hair dresser are invading the dressing salon, we are told, to see that woman purchases the right dress for her hair and color and figure or that she purchases the right make-up to look well in the clothes she buys.

Of course there are a lot of us who buy one shade of powder and wear it with every dress. However, the woman who has time and who wants to be very smart varies her powders according to the color of the frock she is wearing. Her hair is long or short, according to her figure and the shape of her face and she matches her hair and hat because the two become one when the hat is worn.

This beauty business is becoming more complicated but it is getting to a point that almost anyone can be beautiful if she has the time and money, and an artistic sense.

Expect Record Crowd At Tech-SMU Battle Saturday

Yankees Take Second Straight Win Over Cubs In World Series, 5 To 2

Tickets Going Fast; Bleacher Seats Limited

Coach Ray Morrison To Bring Famous Mustangs Here Early Tomorrow For Saturday Night Game

Southern Methodist's mighty Mustangs, champions of the Southwest Conference, will arrive in Lubbock early tomorrow morning to go through a light workout on Matador Field and retire until tomorrow night when they are scheduled to meet the Texas Tech Matadors.

The game, opening the big time football season in Lubbock as well as the night football season, will begin at 8 o'clock.

DALLAS CROWD COMING

Official information from Dallas, home of the Southern Methodist University Mustangs who play the Texas Tech Matadors here Saturday night, is to the effect that more than 200 S. M. U. students and Dallas fans will accompany the team here Saturday in special cars attached to the regular train.

The train bearing the team, the students, town rooters and the 50-piece Peruna band, official musical organization of S. M. U., will arrive in Lubbock at 8:20 o'clock Saturday morning. Arrangements are being made to extend a welcome to the visitors on their arrival. The Tech band, students and fans will meet the train.

With tickets going fast officials expect a sell out by tonight of all grandstand seats. Nearly 3,000 adult tickets have been sold in advance. With the capacity of the grandstand shortly above 4,000, a complete sell out was in prospect last night.

Shortage of Bleachers

Bleacher seats will be sold only at the gate. There will be approximately 1,000 of these, priced at $1.10, including federal tax. Bleacher seats probably will be sold immediately after the gates open around 7 o'clock. Grand stand tickets sell for $1.65, including tax.

Arrangements will be made tomorrow to install extra bleachers if advance ticket sales warrant such action, officials advised. A capacity crowd is expected, perhaps one of the biggest gates ever to see a college game played in Lubbock.

The Matadors worked out in the cold drizzle yesterday and looked as full of spirit and enthusiasm as ever. Most of the squad was sent out to Fair Park to scrimmage Coach Del Morgan's freshman gridsters, but Cawthon and Smith retained a couple of teams out at Matador Field and sent them through the paces against one another. Pass defense, punting practice and signal drill took up most of the afternoon.

Three Records Set

The coming of the Mustangs to Lubbock automatically sets three precedents for Lubbock and the Matadors. It will mark the first time a Tech team has faced the famous Mustangs of S. M. U. The game will be the second game of the season against a Southwest Conference team. In former years Tech has met one Southwest Conference team each season, but never have two appeared on the same schedule. The coming of Baylor university's Bears will mark the third Southwest Conference team to face the Matadors this year. A third mark will be hoisted when Tech meets a defending championship team. Champions of the conference, S. M. U. will make a staunch effort to win Saturday night's game and win favor among the other clubs as a possible repeater.

British Champion Eliminated From Femme Tourney

PEABODY, Mass., Sept. 29. (AP)—A golfing tornado struck the Women's National with terrific force today, sweeping away Enid Wilson, the British champion; Maureen Orcutt, one of the best of the Americans, and just missing the great Glenna Collett Vare, who has won five of the last ten titles.

The upheaval that ruined Miss Wilson's logical hopes of taking away the last of America's amateur crowns, was supplied by 22-year old Charlotte Glutting, who has been playing the game only three years. This long-hitter from Short Hills, N. J., is having her first try at national play.

She matched the Briton's famous long drives, putted as well as she did, and on the inward nine, chipped away Enid's ambitious plans to duplicate the grand slam made by Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd back in 1909, before that former champion left England for Philadelphia.

Miss Wilson was beaten by one up, a poor approach shot robbing her of a par four on the home hole [illegible] would have squared the [illegible]. Miss Glutting was two [illegible] at the turn, going out in 44 [illegible] Miss Wilson's 41, but she [illegible] back in 39, matching par for [illegible] most difficult half of the Sa[illegible] Country club's 6301-yard course.

Maureen Orcutt, co-medalist in the qualifying play was beaten 2 and 1 by Ada Mackenzie, Toronto, after holding the former Canadian champion even for 13 holes.

Mrs. Vare found herself three down to Peggy Wattles when that Buffalo girl matched the 38 par out but Glenna overcame it by winning six of the next eight holes for a 2 and 1 victory which put her in the semi-finals against the Canadian veteran.

Brings His Ponies To Lubbock

Here's a closeup of Ray Morrison, dean of Southwest Conference coaches and recognized afar and wide as perhaps the outstanding "pass" coach of all time. His Mustangs of S.M.U. are known over the country as the aerial circus of the Southwest. They come here tomorrow morning, supported by the Peruna band of S.M.U. and about 200 Dallas and university fans. The game with the Texas Tech Matadors starts at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Lubbock Westerners Leave To Battle Snyder Tigers Today

Coach Chapman Takes 25 Men To Scurry County; Injuries Cause Switch In Lineup As Team Meets Tough Enemy

Contrary to the usual method of starting the season, the Lubbock High school Westerners open their 1932 football campaign this afternoon by taking on something of a tartar in the Snyder High Tigers, strong Class B unit.

The game will be played at Snyder this afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock. Coach Weldon Chapman plans to take about 25 men to Scurry county.

Information from Snyder is to the effect that the Tigers are expecting a victory over Lubbock today. Having heard that the Westerners are not as strong as usual, the Tigers have pointed toward the game as a good way of getting off on another successful season.

Month Of Practice

The Westerners have been practicing daily for almost four weeks without having played a game, other than inter-squad scrimmages. One such scrimmage was put on before the public this week, but it failed to show anything startling about the Westerners. A green team, most of the members having had little or no previous experience, the Westerners hope to build up for the District 1 race by tackling hard customers before the race starts. Next week they meet the Sweetwater High school Mustangs, champions of District 3, and on the following weekend the Abilene Eagles, champions of the state, come to Lubbock.

Chapman's probable lineup, shifted somewhat due to temporary illness and injury of some of the players, may read like this:

Richard Godeke, regular halfback; Joe Nelson, alternate quarter and fullback, and Hugh Newton, regular guard, are out with injuries this week.

TEXANS BEING HELD

PORTALES, Sept. 29—(Special)—Two men, giving their names as Lorie Rice and Herschel Crawford and their home town as Slaton, Texas, were held to the district court to await action of the grand jury. They were charged before Justice F. T. Burke with the theft of a car belonging to Rev. Claude A. Lortz.

The Peace of Westphalia was the treaty which closed the Thirty Years War in 1648 and gave a new adjustment to the religio-political affairs of Europe.

L. S. U. Team Prepares To Invade Rice Owl's Field

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 29 (AP)—Cheered by ardent good luck wishes of supporters, 34 well-conditioned Louisiana State university football squadmen started tonight for Houston, hopeful of plucking a few feathers from the Rice Owls Saturday afternoon.

Coach "Biff" Jones picked three complete teams to take along to Texas, the two teams he used in tying Texas Christian University 3-3 last Saturday night, plus 12 reserves.

The squad is scheduled to arrive in Houston early tomorrow morning.

Lefty Gomez Outpitches Lon Warneke And Big Yank Guns Chatter A Line Of Single Base Hits As New York Takes Heavy Lead

Yankees Conserve Power But Manage To Take Advantage Of All Hits To Count Runs In Second Straight Win

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Sept. 29—Successfully pursuing their policy of base hit economy and making the most of the opportunities, the New York Yankees captured their second straight game from the Chicago Cubs today, 5 to 2, and moved rapidly toward their goal of a fourth world baseball championship.

In a rapid fire game that was as swift and sparkling by comparison with the drab opener as the weather was brighter and snappier, Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, slim Spanish southpaw, subdued the National League champions while his youthful right hand rival, Lonnie Warneke, failed in a gallant attempt to check the rush of the Yankees.

Nothing But Singles

The Yankees collected nothing but singles today. The nearest they came to finding the outer ramparts was when Babe Ruth pumped a one base blow off the right field bleachers. But they made their ten blows count, while also taking advantage of Warneke's early wildness.

Larruping Lou Gehrig, whose home run started the American League champions toward their opening victory, led this economical Yankee attack with three solid singles that made life hazardous for the Cubs' star second sacker, Billy Herman.

These blows figured in each of the three Yankee scoring drives, in the first, third and fifth innings, but the blow that proved the big heartbreaker for Warneke was a booming single to right field by Ben Chapman with the bases full in the third frame.

Ben Hits Loaded Sacks

With two out in the third, Bill Dickey, slugging Yankee backstopper was purposely passed to fill the bases on the theory that the fleet Chapman would be a less difficult individual to handle. Ben responded by smacking the first pitched ball over Herman's head, scoring Ruth and Gehrig with what proved to be the deciding runs.

The second successive victory for the Yankees, their tenth in a row over a stretch of three world championship battles, sent them on to Chicago tonight with an advantage that looked as solid as the rock of Gibraltar. The American League champions left for the west, where the series will be resumed with the third game Saturday, confident they will add to baseball history with another clean sweep over National League rivals.

Two more victories will clinch the title and the big end of the money.

Three At Chicago

The Cubs, their two best pitching bets, Guy Bush, and Warneke, beaten and their defense somewhat riddled, must make a great stand at home if they are to prolong the series beyond the fifth game. Three games are scheduled in Chicago. The way the Yankees looked today there will be no more occasion for baseball on their home grounds this year.

Gomez, fast and resourceful, was hit a bit briskly, but proved just as baffling as Red Ruffing when it came to checking the most threatening Cub gestures. The slim southpaw was touched for nine safe blows including two doubles and a triple, by Kiki Cuyler, but he collected eight strikeout victims with a bewildering assortment of stuff.

This made a total of 18 Cub strikeouts in two games. The Cubs of 1929 set the record for whiffing, with 50 victims in five games, so the current Bruins are setting almost as dubious a pace at the place.

Warneke Goes Route

Warneke went the route, getting better as the game sped along but his early nervousness and over anxiety in pitching to the big guns of the Yankee artillery proved his undoing, just as it had for Bush the day before.

The Cub freshman right hander passed Earle Combs and Joe Sewell at the very start of the game and this wildness led to the first pair of Yankee runs. The great Ruth struck out, missing a slow curve for the third strike, but Gehrig's first single brought Combs across and Bill Dickey's blow down the first base line tallied Sewell.

A pass to Ruth at the start of the third, after he had worked carefully and at length on the big slugger, again put Warneke in a hole, with one out. Gehrig's smash almost knocked Herman down as it went for a hit. Lazerri's infield out advanced both runners. Dickey then was purposely passed, but Chapman's single spoiled this strategy, scoring two more runs.

Pitching Gets Light

The clouting combination of Gehrig and Dickey, helped by Lazzeri's infield out, produced the fifth inning. Thereafter Warneke allowed only two safe blows in three innings.

The Cubs saved Warneke and cut down Yankee scoring chances

Levelland Meets Ralls Today At Fair Park Field

Football fans from Levelland and Ralls should crowd Fair Park this afternoon, as the Levelland gridsters tangle with the Ralls Jackrabbits in the Panhandle-South Plains Fair entertainment feature. The game is scheduled to begin between 3:30 and 4 o'clock.

Coach Hendrix is reputed to have a strong Jackrabbit aggregation at Ralls High school this season, and the game this afternoon, the first of the season played under Texas Interscholastic league regulations, should be interesting.

Yesterday's game at the Fair, one of the best of the week, resulted in a 14 to 0 victory for the Texas Tech varsity reserves over Coach Del Morgan's freshmen.

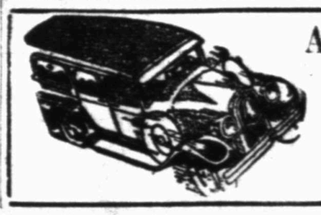

A touchdown by D. M. McElroy, sophomore backfield flash from Dallas, in the first quarter, a safety when Bob Crawford, big center from Lubbock High, tackled a Fish behind the line after the reserves had blocked a punt, and another touchdown by Johnny Walker proved the margin of victory. The Picador line held tightly near its goal line and time after time the strong reserves were baffled in touchdown attempts in the shadow of the goal.

A steady drizzle of rain prevented a large crowd from staying for the finish.

An Independent Democratic newspaper supporting in its editorial columns the principles which it believes to be right and opposing those questions which it believes to be wrong, regardless of party politics; publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times.

An Economical Move

It appears that Uncle Sam, at last catching the spirit of the time, is learning to say to the panhandlers, "Sorry, I'm just out of change." In accord with the Democratic economy program there is a marked curtailment of free distribution of Government documents.

The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce recently issued a statement in making material reduction in its "free list" that it would be understood, of course, "that copies of printed publications are available at nominal costs." It is one of the most favorable signs of the times that here and there plain common sense is being consulted in dispensing government services.

The information furnished by the Department of Commerce is of a kind to be of direct benefit only to certain individuals and concerns in their private business interest. Distributing such material gratuitously and often without request was sheer waste of the people's money. If the whole business were stopped of permitting members of Congress to frank out documents printed at government expense to constituents merely because the congressman hopes thereby to gain a little political advantage, millions of tax money would be saved and the business interests of the country would suffer no deterioration.

It must cost the government at least $25 per year to send scores of pieces of perfectly useless mail to The Avalanche-Journal alone and we have noticed of late that there's a great deal of political propaganda being sent out under the guise of news reports and statements of governmental bureaus.

It will be entirely all right with us if we're removed from the mailing list and the cost to the taxpayers thus sayed. We don't use any of it and doubt if any newspaper in the country does.

THOUGHT FOR THE BOY

This is a good time to take thought for the boy. Welfare workers, juvenile court authorities, educators and scout leaders are calling attention to the fact that large numbers of boys are down in their luck these days. They are told that the jobs are for men with dependents. They are first to be let out and last to be given employment. For this reason an urgent appeal is being made to local communities and organizations to maintain at greatest possible efficiency the boys' clubs and other like associations serving to hold boys anchored in home areas and in friendly surroundings.

In certain districts of Pittsburgh records of the Juvenile court showed that in 1923 one out of every eight boys had been brought before the court on charges of delinquency. A boys' club was established in the neighborhood and recent records show that only one lad in 23 has had to be checked up by the court. And the club interested itself particularly in those boys who did get into trouble. Over a period of five years it succeeded in having 172 of these delinquent youngsters paroled to the club's care, and only seven of the number got into trouble again.

The boys' club movement is not confined to Pittsburgh. Good work is being done in many other large cities. It is a benevolence that deserves special support when boys are put to severest tests. The development of the boys of today determines the character of the men of the future.

A NUISANCE TAX

In the careful scrutiny which congress is bound to give the nation's revenue laws, some tax should be given careful consideration as much to determine its indirect effects as its practical yield for the support of government. That is the tax upon bank checks.

A correspondent to the American Banker says this tax will not yield the $78,000,000 expected of it. Other sources of revenue have been overestimated. And yet perhaps is not to be expected that this form of taxation would be popular with the bankers.

But there are serious objections to the check tax that should have been foreseen by its makers. In theory it was apparent that such a tax would discourage the use of bank checks by people of limited means. Experience of the somewhat more than two months during which the tax has been in operation proves the theory correct.

Large numbers of small accounts have been discontinued, and the number of checks drawn upon accounts that remain shows marked decrease. This means that many people have ceased to pay by check, a business practice which has been encouraged with great benefit.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

They that trust in the Lord shall be as Mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever.—Psalm 125:1.

Urges Joint Sacrifices

(Charles P. Stewart, noted Washington correspondent, is touring the nation to ascertain political and economic trends.)

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 29.—"The restoration of agriculture to a dividend paying basis", says James F. Toy, head of the Toy National Bank and the Farmers' Loan and Trust company of Sioux City, "will involve sacrifices both by the farmers, who have overworked their credit, and by the capitalists, who have over-extended credit to them.

"The farmer whose policy has been a conservative one throughout the period of inflation, is not now seriously situated. Prices of his products are low, but not to a point where he cannot make ends meet if he is not deeply in debt.

Chas. P. Stewart

"It is true that there were many who borrowed so heavily that it is impossible for them to meet their obligations except with a better market for their crops than there is any prospect of within the indefinite future, assuming a continuance of normal conditions. But, putting it in another way, there are many concerns which made farm loans on an assumption of land values far beyond those likely to be attained again, for all one can foresee at present.

"These losses must be taken by borrower and lender alike."

"I CAN NOT set down as an invariable rule," proceeded the old banker, a veteran of 40 years' experience of financiering in the corn belt, "that, wherever debts are most burdensome, the mortgagee does not desire to foreclose.

"He does not want it because, if he must take land, it will not sell for the amount of his investment in it. Neither does he desire to hold it, to operate under the tenancy system, which is unprofitable.

"In his own interest, it is a certainty that he will extend every consideration possible to the debtor.

"Every mortgage foreclosed during the depression means two losses—a loss to the farmer of his land and a loss to the mortgagee of a part of his investment. It cannot even be said that, in some cases, the foreclosure will be profitable to the mortgagee in the long run; for if the land is not encumbered beyond any possibility of such a final outcome, mortgagor and mortgagee will contrive to avoid a foreclosure.

"THE FACT IS," added the banker, reflecting, "that the loss really is exclusively the mortgagee's.

"That is to say, if the land is mortgaged to its full value, the mortgagor, in effect, has sold it, and the mortgagee has bought it and bought it at what, for the existing situation, anyway, is a bad bargain from his own standpoint, having obtained, for all it is worth or more, something he does not desire.

"Of course the farmer, meanwhile, presumably has lost in speculation the price which he obtained, on his side.

"He is a loser, indeed; he has lost his land. And doubtlessly he believes that he has lost it to the mortgagee. Actually, however, he has lost it in some other fashion—or perhaps spent it by degrees, by an increase in expenses beyond what he could afford."

"THE FARMER, his land gone," agreed Banker Toy, "unfortunately has no option except to begin again which is hard—and yet no harder than the lot of the city business man who, having erred, has run on the rocks and been forced to get off as best he could and make a fresh start.

"This is a commoner mishap in urban trade. Consequently we do not think of it as so irretrievable a disaster, but essentially it is the same thing.

"The dispossessed farmer will be at the advantage, moreover, of making his new beginning at a favorable juncture.

"Inasmuch as foreclosures inevitably will be numerous and inasmuch, further, as the new owners will be desirous to dispose of their holdings as speedily as possible, much land will be available for purchase upon exceedingly easy terms — terms under which agriculture can re-establish itself profitably.

"There is no other final solution of the agrarian problem."

THE MID-WESTERN farmers' last prolonged depression was in the first half of the 1890's.

How do the 1930's compare with that?

"Oh, the present depression is much less severe," said Banker Toy.

"In the 1890's there simply was no money in the country, and no certainty when it would be available again. Today the money merely is locked up. It is necessary only to find the key. In the 1890's no key would have been helpful. There was nothing there."

ON PARADE

Give Americans half a chance to indulge a carnival delight in the spectacular and they are happy. They love to parade, to see and be seen; to rub elbows with each other and sometimes mudguards.

Such is the spirit of us. There was a time when it found a lively expression on New Year's eve. Stern suppression robbed us of that perennial joy. The automobile came to wean people from the promenade, but even so the old zest for parading is anything but dead.

The opportunity to parade and promenade need not knock more than once to get a response. The turn-outs for Easter Sunday, Hallowe'en, Fourth of July, convention days, lodge gatherings and any pleasant Sunday afternoon leave no doubt of that.

What does it get us? Doubtless there are those who look upon the whole thing as a silly performance, evidencing the immaturity of the public mind. Perhaps some will see in the promenading and parading merely a primitive instinct to dress up in gay feathers and smear on the war paint.

There may not be in them a great intellectual stimulus. But there is a spiritual and community advantage to be gained from light hearts and merry moods. Not even the largest cities become too sophisticated to go on parade on every occasion that offers itself.

Our material standard of living has, except for temporary setbacks, constantly risen higher and higher until there has come not only a realization that we can but a determination that we shall have democracy in prosperity as well as democracy in politics and education.—Walter S. Gifford, president American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE SMALLEST AMERICAN CHECK:

In order to qualify as the drawer of the smallest check in America, Mr. Harry S. Badger, Atlanta, Georgia, procured an old American copper coin of the face value of 1-2 cent. The check was actually tendered in payment. If checks were as readily negotiated in India as they are in America, a Hindu could easily beat Mr. Badger's record by tendering a check for 1 dam, equal in value to 1-48 of a cent.

Reader Waxes Poetic In Discussing Livestock Law

If laws forbid you keep your cow,
Your chickens, horse, or old red sow,
Your nanny goat and duckies brown,
There's naught to do but leave the town.

These things, a menance to the health
Of Lubbock, Texas' commonwealth,
We only keep as ornaments,
Their usefullness amounts to cents.

But long live Lubbocks' cats and dogs,
They're worth all of our cows and hogs.
They give us milk and eggs each day,
Great dividends each month they pay.

If this law, foolish as it is wrong,
Does not stay where it belongs,
We'll take our chickens, cows, and hogs,
And leave Lubbock to the cats and dogs.

City Tax Rolls Approved By Lubbock Commissioners

Tax rolls for the city of Lubbock have been approved by the city commission and R. A. Holland, collector, is all ready to receive the money of those taxpayers who desire to get the matter off their minds this early in the taxpaying period.

For 1932 the tax roll is expected to yield $120,685.99 from a valuation of $20,114,321. Last year the rolls were $24,873,944 and the return, had every payment been made, should have yielded $236,302.87.

Reduction in valuation was $4,759,623 or .193 per cent of the 1931 roll.

Payments should be $115,616.88 less than those of 1931 or slightly under 49 per cent less.

Difference in the expected receipts this year from those of last, is being met by the income from the water and power utilities.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengué (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "deaden" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengué (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic baumes, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

"—my skin became clear..."

—and you don't know what a happy day that was in my life." Then why not pause a moment and reason in a common-sense way the cause of many skin troubles. Such common ailments often result because of a lowered resistance below the skin surface—frequently due to lowered blood vitality.

Increase the red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin content and more of the life giving oxygen is carried to every part of the body—even to the skin. "Step up" the ability of the resisting cells to devour infectious pimple germs. Then you will have laid the foundation for a sounder physical condition.

It is time-tested... tens of thousands of unsolicited letters of gratitude over several generations evidence its merit. by pulling off no fewer than four double plays, in which the defensive work of Gabby Hartnett and Bill Herman featured.

Fifty Thousand On Hand

Before a much bigger crowd than attended the opener, estimated at more than fifty thousand as the cash customers took advantage of the good weather as well as a last minute decision to sell single game reserved seats, Gomez turned in an artistic exhibition of pitching against a team that was fighting every inch of the way.

The Cubs realized they had to win to have more than a mathematical chance to stay in the championship fight. They never stopped trying from start to finish, but they succeeded only twice in breaking through the defense of Gomez and the Yankees.

As a matter of fact, but for an error by Shortstop Frankie Crosetti and some erratic fielding by none other than Babe Ruth, Gomez might have registered a shutout in his appearance in the World Series.

Herman's double to start the game, led to the Cubs first run. Crosetti fumbled Cuyler's sharp grounder, moving Herman to third, from whence he trotted home on Stephenson's short fly to Combs.

With two out in the third, Stephenson's sharp hit to right bounced past the ponderous Ruth for a lucky double. "Stevie" then came home standing up on Frank Demaree's hit to the same territory, which the Babe juggled and then followed with a wild throw toward the plate.

Demaree was making his debut in the series, replacing Johnny Moore as the Cubs centerfielder to give the team more starboard hitting strength against Gomez.

The Cubs made threatening gestures in four of the last six innings without getting anywhere.

Grimm Starts With Hit

Manager Grimm started the fourth with his second straight hit but he was forced out by Jurges, in addition to which Hartnett and Warneke fanned. Cuyler's triple to deep right field, with two out in the fifth also was wasted when Stephenson grounded out.

English and Stephenson rapped out singles in the eighth, with one out, but the best Demaree and Grimm could do was bounce into force-out plays as Gomez bore down. Big Gabby Hartnett pounded a hit against the distant left field boxes at the start of the ninth but was caught easily by Chapman's relay in trying to stretch it to a double.

Babe Ruth contributed to the Cubs' most unusual defensive exhibition, when he bounced to Warneke in the fourth inning after Combs and Sewell had singled. Combs was trapped on the base line as Warneke threw to Hartnett. The Cub backstop chased Combs back to third, tagged him out as he overslid the bag and turned to find Sewell retreating from an attempt to occupy the same base. The Yankee third baseman finally was tagged out by Jurges.

Frankie Crosetti, the youthful Yankee shortstop who steadied down after missing his first two chances of the series in the field, was the victim of the fielding gem of the day. He lashed a long drive to deep left center in the sixth that was labelled a three bagger until Demaree caught the ball over his shoulder on the dead run, away out on the edge of the cinder path.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Spte. 29. (AP)—After ruling comparatively quiet during the early trading, cotton turned easy today on rather general long liquidation induced by better weather in the belt and a weaker stock market and prices broke more than $2 a bale. The close was called steady at net declines for the day of 42 to 46 points.

Manchester cabled the large cloth inquiry was being maintained and there were fair sales of Egyptian yarns to Germany.

The market turned decidedly easier with considerable long liquidation due mainly to the better weather in the belt. There was also considerable hedging by the trade and the cooperatives and it was reported that the demand for export was less active. Lower stocks and commodities generally helped the decline and numerous stop loss orders were uncovered on the scale down. After some minor rallies, December dropped to 6.87 and January to 6.90 on 48 to 49 points below the previous close. There was a recovery of 3 to 5 points at the end, December closing at 6.89, down 46 points net for the day and January closed at 6.93, down 44 points net.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 17 to 18 penny points down.

Port receipts 29,199, for week 213,780, for season 1,355,603, last season 1,351,080. Exports 22,470, for week 117,063, for season 1,068,540, last season 868,975. Port stock 3,584,161, last year 3,192,885. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 130,748, last year 55,383. Spot sales at southern markets 35,584, last year 84,142.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Cotton broke more than $2 a bale today under southern combined with liquidation and local offerings on apprehensions that the present better weather in the south would be followed by increased hedging.

December dipped to 6.85 or 46 points net lower and 87 points below the best price of last week's rally, closing at the lowest. The general market finished at net declines of 44 to 47 points.

The opening was 8 to 10 points lower in response to easy Liverpool cables and reports of favorable weather in the belt. Declines in the stock market were also accompanied by some Wall street pressure against cotton during the afternoon and the lowest levels of the day were reached at the close when October sold at 6.83 and March to 7.00. October closed within 5 points of December compared with a difference of 7 points yesterday.

Liverpool cables attributed the decline there to hedging together with local and Manchester liquidation but said the increased inquiry for cotton cloths was maintained. A private crop report of 11,362,000 bales was without apparent effect on the market. Exports today 28,973 making 1,063,493 so far this season. U. S. port stocks 3,608,929.

the car came to a standstill, Browning said. The grocerman had just emerged from a house across the street from the duplex in which the mechanic and his wife live. Browning had been visiting a sister.

Police Chief Wiley L. Metcalfe last night supplemented the investigation by John Croft, a motorcycle patrolman, George Eubank, police identification officer, and Deputy Sheriff Will Earnest continued an investigation. No arrest had been made in the case the police chief said.

Shades of the Burkett residence were up when the shooting occurred, and Burkett could be seen from the middle of the street, police said. A bullet went through the crosspiece on a front window-screen, went through both sills in the window, and ranged upward, lodging in the ceiling. Investigators were unable to determine whether it was a steel-jacketed bullet and whether it was fired from a rifle or pistol. Consensus seemed to be that the bullet had no steel jacket, and that it had been discharged by a high powered rifle.

Burkett told police that when the bullet struck, he slid from his chair, went to his bedroom and obtained a pistol went out a rear door to the east side of the house and to the front of his automobile. Burkett was believed to have been outside when the mysterious automobile whirred away. The mechanic's wife, who was the only person in the house with him, persuaded him to return to the house, he said. She was in the kitchen when the bullet was fired.

Burkett said he and his wife had lived in the duplex more than a year. He would have been struck in the chest had he stood up the instant the gun was fired. Investigators expressed an opinion, however, that a bead was drawn on him as he sat in the chair, visible from the street. Burkett, officers said, seemed undisturbed.

Stocks Find A Soft Footing Thursday And Prices Relapse After An Advance

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Soggy commodity markets provided too soft a footing for stocks today and prices relapsed after a feeble advance in the first half hour.

With trading largely professional, some brokers estimated 75 per cent of the transactions represented operations of floor traders—the day's movement suggested that the bull faction had become discouraged over absence of a larger following of the strength of recent advances and had decided to step aside pending developments. A sharp break in coffee, cotton's reaction of more than $2 a bale and fractional easiness in Chicago wheat were doubtless somewhat discomforting to the cause of higher share prices.

The early rally carried several leaders up a point, but it lacked enthusiasm. Railway equipment issues provided a small flurry, based on prospects of larger orders through reconditioning of locomotives and cars, with and without reconstruction finance corporation aid. Steel equities, however, did little, and sagged with the general letdown in values.

Farm implement issues lost courage at the sight of lower wheat prices. Rails were quiet. Coppers eased on news of a lower foreign price. Sales reached 1,336,430 shares.

Election Row

the application on the ground it was prematurely brought. She later was declared the party nominee.

Injunction Refused

Today's application also sought to enjoin Mrs. McCallum from certifying a partial list of the nominees. The court refused to grant the application for injunction but asked Attorney General James V. Allred to advise Mrs. McCallum that the court had taken jurisdiction and "suggested" that she take no further action until the motion had been passed upon.

Mrs. McCallum was signing certificates of nomination for other candidates for transmittal to county clerks when the application of Mrs. Ferguson was presented to the supreme court. She indicated she would abide by the supreme court's suggestion and withheld certification of all of the nominees pending further developments.

Anything May Happen

Should Mrs. McCallum be enjoined from making a partial certification of the nominees, it might result in tying up all the election machinery in Texas until after the governor's court suit had been decided. If the supreme court should entertain and then grant the mandamus action all the nominees could be certified at once.

Speedy action was anticipated on the part of the supreme court because of the short time remaining for certification. Under the statutes certification must be made to the county clerks at least thirty days before the election, set this year for November 8.

Legality Is Cited

The application for mandamus stated Mrs. Ferguson was legally qualified to hold the office; that she had been legally elected; that she had been certified by the state convention as the party nominee, and was entitled to be certified to the county clerks as such.

It stated that Mrs. McCallum had refused and would continue to refuse to certify Mrs. Ferguson unless compelled to do so by the court.

Mrs. McCallum is an appointee of Governor Sterling and has long been a vigorous foe of the Fergusons.

Formal request was made on Mrs. McCallum today by Ocie Speer, one of Mrs. Ferguson's attorneys for a written statement of her intention concerning certification of Mrs. Ferguson's name. Mrs. McCallum answered the request after she had been served with the injunction restraining her from certifying Mrs. Ferguson. No date was set for the hearing on the injunction.

"I have just been served with a writ of injunction restraining me from certifying the name of Mrs. Miriam A Ferguson as a Democratic candidate for the office of governor . . . and you are further informed that acting in accordance with the order of the court, I will not certify Mrs. Ferguson's name as such nominee," Mrs. McCallum replied to Speer.

There was a division of opinion among lawyers as to whether the supreme court could assume jurisdiction and issue the mandamus in view of the contest suit pending in the lower court and the injunction granted by Judge Robertson.

Possibility was seen that unless there was some development that would insure placing a nominee on the ticket, the Democratic party might enter the November election minus a Democratic gubernatorial candidate. This would lead to a vigorous "write-in" campaign on the part of both contenders for the nomination.

Trial of the suit in district court was expected to consume at least three weeks. The nominee, as determined by the suit, then would be certified by the trial judge to the county clerks. It was possible the suit might not get under way Monday and also possible that it would require more than three weeks to conclude it.

Judge Robertson conferred briefly today with attorneys for both parties concerning a method of procedure. No suggestions were made, attorneys for Governor Sterling asking for additional time to draft a plan whereby trial would be expedited. They hoped to have the plan outlined in time to present it to the court at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

The governor's attorneys were of the opinion the case could be tried within three weeks and said the possibility of there not being a Democratic nominee on the ballot was slight.

Luther Nickels of Dallas, another of Mrs. Ferguson's attorneys stated he wanted it understood that their presence at the hearing was not to be considered as an appearance in the case proper. His attitude was not taken as an indication that the Fergusons would not enter an appearance. Nickels said the defense virtually had completed its answer.

Judge Robertson expressed doubt the trial could start Monday and that he called the conference to speed it as much as possible. The case is one needing speedy action and no delays will be tolerated, Judge Robertson told the attorneys.

The situation tonight was tense owing to the strong feelings of partisans of both the Fergusons and Governor Sterling. The possibility of not having a nominee in the general election also was causing some worry among Democrats.

A special meeting of the Democratic state executive committee has been called for Austin Saturday. There were recurrent rumors the committee might take it upon itself to certify the nominees direct to the county clerks. The complexion of the committee is decidedly pro-Ferguson. It was doubtful, however, if the committee had authority to make direct certification.

Governor Sterling said he still was confident that he ultimately would be the nominee. James E. Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Ferguson and himself a former governor was vehement in his denunciation of his opponents and asserted he would fight them to the last ditch.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Spt. 29. (AP)—With receipts at eleven markets reduced to 21,100 as compared with 110,700 Monday, 38,100 Tuesday and 33,900 Wednesday, trading on beef steers settled down to a steady basis. Chicago duplicated the 10.35 top of yesterday on 1259 lb steers and a few loads of better grade yearlings and steers cleared at 9.00-10.00. Fed natives at 6.50-8.25 while fed grassers and western steers of common to medium quality cleared at 3.00 to 6.00. Steady prices prevailed on the few offered, most replacement steers selling at 3.75-5.75. Arrivals for the week at eleven markets totaled 206,200, as compared with 221,900 last week and 215,531 a year ago.

Chicago recorded a practical hog top of 4.30.

Most desirable native and ranger lambs were in a spread of 4.50 to 5.25 and a few closely sorted kinds at 5.50. Chicago reported that sales of killing classes have dropped to the lowest point of the season. Feeding lambs sold largely at weak to 25 lower levels, most of them bringing 4.00 to 5.00.

the one hand for increases sought by producers, often greedy, of for decreases asked by importers, equally often actuated by purely selfish motives, or by other seeking such reductions.

"I hope some such change may speedily be enacted. It will have my cordial approval."

Error Pointed Out

Mr. Roosevelt said that in "the course of his 1928 campaign, the present Republican candidate for president with great boldness laid down the propositions that high tariffs interfere only slightly if at all with our export or our import trade, that they are necessary to the success of agriculture and afford essential farm relief; that they do not interfere with the payments of debts to us, and that they are absolutely necessary to the economic formula which he proposed as the road to the abolition of poverty."

"I must pause here," he added, "to observe that the experience of the last four years has unhappily demonstrated the error of every single one of these propositions; that every one of them has been one of the effective causes of the present depression; and finally that no substantial progress toward recovery from the depression—either here or abroad can be had without forthright recognition of these errors.

Accusation Hurled

"I accuse the present administration of being the greatest spending administration in peace times in all our history—one which has piled bureau on bureau, commission on commission, and has failed to anticipate the dire needs of reduced earning power of the people. Bureaus and bureaucrats have been retained at the expense of the taxpayer.

"I read that the president is at work on a plan to consolidate and simplify the federal bureaucracy, four long years ago, in the campaign of 1928, he as a candidate proposed to do this. Today, once more a candidate, he is still proposing. I leave you to draw your own inferences."

local group and all of these will attend.

"We also expect a number of our people here from surrounding towns," Mr. Pearl said. "The attendance from out of town will depend upon road conditions."

Stores Will Close

Most of the Jewish owned stores here will be closed all day Saturday, it was announced. Some may open after 6 p. m. Saturday while others will remain closed.

This year marks the beginning of the year 5,693. Rosh Hashanah is a festival of prime importance in the Jewish faith, in that it is the first of a series of holidays lasting nearly a month. One of its principal features is the blowing of the Shofar or ram's horn.

Apart from its joyful and festive nature Rosh Hashanah has a rich moral import and significance. The fact that it is the beginning of a new year lends special sacredness. It is the time of higher resolves, the turning point of the year. It is a gentle reminder of the brevity of human existence, but it optimistically stresses the doctrine that man, far from being a plaything in the hands of fate, can realize his life's work if he but takes advantage of the swiftly fleeting moments.

Rosh Hashanah is the traditional day for the exchange of greetings and good wishes and for the pardoning of grievances between individuals.

Brother Of William McAdoo Dies In Baltimore Hospital

BALTIMORE, Sept. 29 (AP)—Malcolm Ross McAdoo, younger brother of William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and a candidate for the United States senate in California, died today at the university hospital of an acute kidney ailment.

Local Fair

North Plains city lauded the local fair and the policy of its management in holding the exposition, 'rain or shine'. They said their fair last week was successful even though badgered by weather 'as rotten as you have run into here'.

Thursday's attendance totaled 6,583, as compared to 8,883 for the fourth day of the 1931 display, Business Manager A. B. Davis said. Monday's attendance fell short by a small amount, in comparison with other days, but Tuesday and Wednesday saw greater crowds than for the corresponding days of the previous year.

The midway closed early last night, and a few spectators slopped through the grounds. Exhibit barns also were closed early. Fair officials have equipment in readiness to prepare the grounds today for visitors again.

Final awards were made yesterday in dairy cattle, swine, and in the Boy Scout department.

Band concerts, free vaudeville acts, a horse show, and fireworks are slated for today. The program will be arranged as follows for the afternoon and night.

Afternoon: 2 o'clock, band concerts; 3:30, vaudeville and football; 4:45, vaudeville acts; 8, Landue Duo of trapeze artists; 8:10, horse show; 8:40, Stellar quartet of tight wire walkers; 8:50, Captain LaValley in his fire dive, and 9 o'clock, Gordon's free fireworks.

Walker Trial

ask the death penalty in this case as it did in the first trial, all prospective jurors were questioned on their scruples against the death penalty. The defense only questioned a few on the defense of alibi in spite of the fact that this was a question propounded to every man in selection of Jess Covington's jury.

Covington, first defendant to be tried, was given an eight-year term after an eight-day trial. B. L. "Barber John" Richardson, second man, was assessed a twenty-year sentence by a jury after he had entered a plea of guilty and counsel had agreed on his penalty.

Questioning of the five remaining men in the first venire is expected to take only a short while morning after which the court will be recessed until Monday. Muddy roads will prevent subpoenaeing the second venire today.

Judge Mullican announced last night that all regular jurors for the week of October 3 are not to report at 1:30 Monday as scheduled and that they are finally excused for the week due to the Walker hearing.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Sept. 29 (AP)—Gov. James R. Beverley tonight announced Tuesday's hurricane killed 212 persons, injured 2,000 and left 245,000 homeless.

Oh Boy! What Joy

LIFT CORNS RIGHT OUT

The English Way

Right from England comes the new, better, joyful way to take out corns—root and all.

Callouses go also and you can rub off that hard skin on heels and toes with your hand—the magic treatment.

Ask Mark Halsey Drug or any leading druggist for a package of Radox—45c and 85c—put a tablespoonful in a gallon of hot water—do this for 3 or 4 nights in succession—then lift out the corns.

This joyful exhilarating foot bath is simply great—you'll enjoy every minute of it and your burning, sore, tired, aching feet will feel better than they have for years—ask for Radox and foot comfort will be yours. Adv.

Sold by Your Druggist

PI-RO-DRAM CO.
1512 10th St.,
Lubbock, Texas.

Dear Sirs: I want to thank you for calling my attention to your PI-RO-DRAM Remedy for pyorrhea, for it has certainly proved a blessing to me. I suffered for years with this terrible disease and supposed I was condemned to suffer the rest of my life, or that I would have all my teeth pulled as the dentists and doctors all agreed that such was my only hope, and I can thankfully say that I feel like a new person with a clean set of teeth and gums after using one bottle of your remedy.

PI-RO-DRAM COMPANY
Lubbock, Texas.

Gentlemen: This is to advise you that I was a sufferer with pyorrhea in my gums and had been for several years.

I had tried several other treatments for this disease, but they did not seem to accomplish any good.

After using about four bottles of your PI-RO-DRAM on my gums, I wish to advise you that my gums are healed, soreness all gone and are not quicky and touchy anymore, and the disease apparently has been overcome, as the gums have their natural pink healthy color again.

I never expect to be without PI-RO-DRAM as I use it occasionally on my gums as a preventative of Pyorrhea ever returning again. I am,

Yours very respectfully,
ROBERT BOST.

Army Planes Are Delayed By Heavy Weather And Remain Here Thursday

Delayed by reports of bad flying weather, a group of United States army air corps students and officers, who arrived here Thursday morning in 21 observation planes, remained in Lubbock overnight. They intended to begin taking off at Lubbock municipal airport as soon after daylight today as possible. The principal officers were taken to a hotel suite, and the students were quartered at the National Guard armory. They are on a training flight from Kelly field at San Antonio.

Six of the ships flew here from Dallas. The others came from Fort Sill. Capt H. K. Ramey, commanding officer; Lieutenants C. A. Arnett and H. F. Muenter, and Cadets M. H. Shedd, M. C. Glascow, and W. W. Amorous were those flying from Dallas. Those coming from Fort Sill were Lieutenants G. A. McHenry, A. P. Shea, and A. Boyd, of the supervisory staff, and the following students:

Lieutenants R. H. Wise, J. R. Skeldon, R. A. Stunkard, C. F. Damberg, J. E. Smart, R. E. L. Eaton, J. A. Feagin, J. P. Carroll, C. W. Carlmark, and M. C. Young, and Cadets C. W. Stouff, W. L. Combest and D. N. Wackwitz.

Captain Schneider also was an officer here.

Mechanics participating were Ted Thompson, Wilson L. Minick, and Alexander I. Murin.

The 13 ships making the full flight left Kelly field Wednesday for Fort Sill, by way of San Angelo, and are scheduled to go to Fort Bliss at El Paso by way of Lubbock and Carlsbad, N. M. They will fly from Fort Bliss to Kelly field by way of Marfa and Dryden.

Lieut. R. C. Yuinn and C. C Wan, Chinese students, rode as passengers with two of the students. Lieut. Shea, who preceded the army aircade here from Fort Sill, arrived at 8:40 a. m. All 21 ships were here soon after 10 a. m. They were serviced.

Capt. Ramey said the ceiling in this region Thursday morning exceeded 2,000 feet, despite dreary weather. It was another condition conducive to flying on the Plains, he indicated.

Interesting Bits Of News And Comment From Austin

BY R. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, Spet. 29 (AP)—Those opposed to the election of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson to the Texas governorship are split three ways. The Republicans are not solidly behind their man, Orville Bullington. The disgruntled Democrats are divided between George W. Armstrong of Fort Worth, independent, and Bullington, or someone not yet named who might be launched by that faction.

It would seem to the side-line spectator that should Mrs. Ferguson's name go on the general election ballots as the Democratic nominee, she would win easily with the ranks of her opposition so scattered. It is a cinch that the Ferguson partisans will go to the polls in solid front.

Many of those who voted for Governor R. S. Sterling in the primary have bowed to defeat, although bitter for some, and intend to be Democrats in November.

There was no stronger advocate of Governor Sterling's renomination than Representative Harry N. Graves, of Georgetown. Yet, on the floor of the house of representatives he told legislators that he did not have any sympathy for the court contest instituted by the Sterling faction.

Take the case of R. J. Boyle of San Antonio, long-time power in Texas politics. He had made up his mind to stay aloof from the partisan gubernatorial fight and to forego politics entirely for a season.

But when the nomination of Mrs. Ferguson was challenged, he put on his Democratic fighting clothes and went to the Lubbock state convention to see that the "will of the people" was not subverted, as he put it. There were many others there of Boyle's attitude.

It seems it always will be difficult to turn down a Democratic nominee after those of that political faith settle their controversies at the ballot box.

Of course, things could change easily, should Governor Sterling's contest case get started in time and reveal things that may be, as yet, beneath the surface. But Democrats in Texas will be Democrats, it seems, unless sculduggery crops out. A contest of a Democratic nomination to state office in Texas never has stood up.

West Texan Gains Recognition For Literary Success

SANTA ANNA, Tex., Sept. 29 (AP) Literary success has come with whirlwind rapidity to Leola Christie Barnes of Santa Anna. Until two years ago, after her four children were in school, Mrs. Barnes had kept her desire to write subdued, because of home duties.

Although she has written short stories, it was her poetry that brought her international recognition.

Two volumes of verse, "Crimson Dawning" and "Purple Petals," were written in 1932, and she now is engaged on a new one—"Spurs and Siestas," which will be filled with early Texas subjects.

Some of the first poems received recognition in London last summer when they were chosen for reading before a prominent literary club. A letter congratulating Texas was forwarded to the house of representatives at Austin.

Her poem, "A Cotton Picker," was voted unanimously by the senate to be included in its journal.

Among her verse receiving prizes and honorable mention, are "Reflection" and "Unlaureled Glory," which have been widely published in England and France.

The West Texas woman's name and poems are included in such European publications as "Who's Who Abroad," "Some Personalities of Today," "Poets and Poetry," and "Books and Periodicals."

Mrs. Barnes was reared in West Texas, her early youth being spent in Glasscock county.

EVERY WOMAN faces this question

"How do I look to other people?" If you have a lovely skin, attractive eyes, and plenty of enthusiasm, you need not worry.

So many women, though, risk their beauty by neglect of constipation. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skins, dull eyes, pimples.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This cereal provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B which tones the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Special cooking processes make it finer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Surely this is safer than abusing the system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
