Small Powers Lose Bitter Veto Scrap; Big Five Holds Control

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13—The longest and perhaps bitterest battle of the United Nations conference ended today in defeat for small powers and the sealing of Big Five veto control over peace-enforcement mechanism of a new world league.

Little countries, with Australia in the van, fought hard to keep Britain, Russia, China, France and the United States from having a veto over peaceful settlement of disputes. But they lost. Many conceded in advance they would.

Take It Or Leave It

The big powers had put it squarely up to them to accept a complete veto or run the risk that the great nations wouldn't ratify the charter for a new United Nations organization.

On the final showdown in conference committee, the opposition mustered a skimpy two votes against the veto-voting formula worked out at a Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting at Yalta this spring.

But 15 nations abstained from voting.

Not all the delay on the veto question was caused by small-power opposition. When they asked for an interpretation of how the vote would work, Russia was at odds with the United States, Britain, France and China, and got in line only after the United States appealed to Premier Stalin.

Big Five Unanimity

The voting formula will require unanimity among the Big Five on all ballots in the league's security council on action to preserve peace. The veto would be inapplicable only to peaceful settlement of a dispute to which one of the great powers was a party and hence would be barred from voting.

The formula applying to the 11-member council says:

1. Each member should have one vote.

2. Decisions on procedural matters such as discussion of a dispute should be made by an affirmative vote of any seven members.

3. Decision on "all other matters" should be made by an affirmative vote of seven members, including the concurring votes of all the Big Five, providing that on peaceful settlement a party to a dispute should abstain from voting.

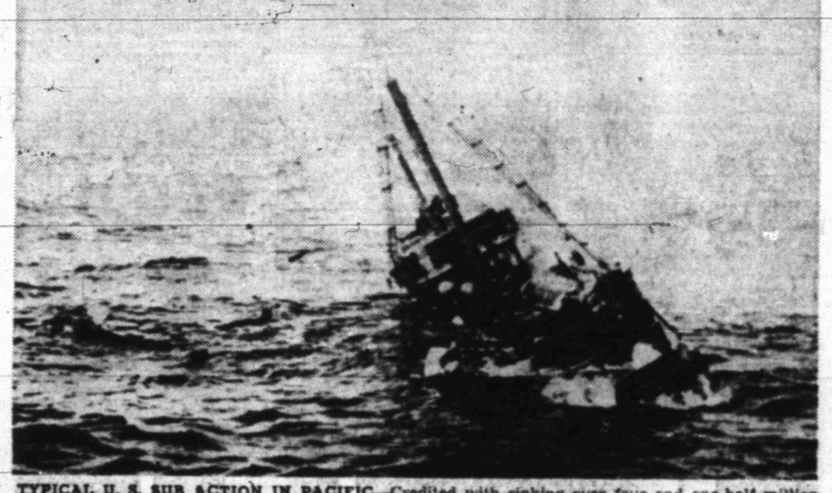

Russia Stirs Commotion

Delegates reported the first division was approved unanimously, that Cuba alone voted against the second, and the the ballot on the third was 30 for, 15 abstaining, 3 absent, and Cuba and Colombia voting in the negative.

Russia set a commotion going in another committee by suddenly shifting her stand on a charter provision to let members of the world league withdraw. Previously the Soviets had opposed a withdrawal clause. Today Russia changed over and, delegates reported, asked for a broad one that would let any nation pull out

TYPICAL U. S. SUB ACTION IN PACIFIC—Credited with sinking over four and one-half million tons of Jap shipping since the war started, Navy submarines until recently have been kept under a blanket of strict censorship. Picture, top, portrays a typical incident in submarine warfare. Survivors from a Jap ship sunk by gunfire of the surfaced U. S. S. Escarpment Flanks On Okinawa Turned

3,500 Japs Are Slain On Peninsula; Nips Kill Own Wounded In Hospital

By LEIF ERICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

GUAM, Thursday, June 14—The Sixth Marine division smashed the Japanese Oroku peninsula pocket on Okinawa yesterday after a fierce nine-day battle while the First Marine and Seventh Infantry divisions pressed back both flanks of the precipitous Yaeju escarpment.

Maj. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd jr.'s Sixth division killed 3,500 Japanese on the peninsula, raising to more than 70,000 the number of enemy troops killed on Okinawa in the 75-day old campaign.

Japs Slay Own Wounded

Shepherd's Marines overran an enemy hospital on Oroku and found 150 Japanese dead inside. The bodies presumably were those of wounded who were killed by the Japanese before they withdrew from the area.

JAPS FADING OUT

WITH U. S. 10TH ARMY, Okinawa, June 13 (AP)—Yelling and screaming 300 Japanese attacked a company of the Seventh Infantry division before dawn today in a wild attempt to retake Hill 95. All were killed.

The attack, described as well coordinated despite the blood-curdling cries, came even as other troops of the Tenth Army tightened their grip on the outer rim of the Yaeju-Dake plateau, last defense position for Japanese remnants on southern Okinawa.

It is a matter of policy for Japanese not to permit wounded to fall into American hands.

Maj. Gen. Archibald V. Arnold's Seventh division doughboys advanced up to 400 yards on the east flank of the Yaeju line to gain control of most of the escarpment rim in their area.

With control of that rim, the division is in a position to develop a pincer arm around the eastern side of the escarpment. There are some roads and draws in this area and some small villages through which tanks and self-propelled guns can be brought up.

On the western end, Maj. Gen. Pedro A. Del Valle's First Marine division strengthened its hold on vital Kunishi ridge. No mention was made, however, of any move toward another elevation to the south necessary to completely turn the escarpment line at that end.

In the center of the escarpment line, Maj. Gen. James T. Bradley's 96th Infantry division pushed forward 400 yards and reached the outskirts of Ozato town.

Big Three Meeting Set And Polish Settlement Expected

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—President Truman jubilantly disclosed today the definite setting of an early Big Three meeting and said there are prospects for a complete settlement of the Polish issue.

Obviously elated over confidential reports from Harry Hopkins and Joseph E. Davies, his special emissaries, the President announced to a new conference:

1. While he cannot divulge the time or place, upon which all have agreed, he will meet soon with Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill to iron out any remaining difference among the Big Three.

Missions Satisfactory

2. The results of the Hopkins and Davies missions have been completely "satisfactory and gratifying" and very pleasant yielding by Russia on some points has clarified three power relationships substantially.

3. He has every hope a free and democratic election among the Polish people will grow out of a conference June 15 to seek a compromise basis for the reorganization of the provisional Polish government.

4. James F. Byrnes former war mobilization director, will accompany him to the Big Three meeting along with Secretary of State Stettinius; Hopkins; Davies; Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, presidential chief of staff, and Charles G. Ross.

Copenhagen Reports

Meanwhile the British radio said it was reported from Copenhagen without confirmation that the Danish capital would be the site of the Big Three meeting. There was no White House comment.

Asserting the Polish problem which long has disturbed relations among the Big Three is on the road to a settlement, the President pleaded that nothing be done on this side of the Atlantic to muddy the waters by raising questions as to final acquiescence by present members of the London Polish government.

The Russians, the President said pointedly, are just as anxious to get along with the Americans as the Americans are to get along with them.

He said that he could say categorically that Hopkins in one of his four conferences with Premier Stalin, was instrumental in Russia's decision to recede from its

Allotment For Sugar Revamped

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—The War Food administration today ordered quotas set up for all primary sugar distributors. The action is designed to limit sugar use to quantities allocated by the government.

A war food order, aimed also at stretching as far as possible this year the shortest sugar supply since the war began, provides for control of distribution by sugar cane refiners, beet sugar processors, importers and mainland sugar cane producers.

Distribution Quotas

"Under the order, the director of marketing service is authorized to fix distribution quotas for all primary distributors of sugar as assurance that the distribution of sugar will be consistent with the allocations made by the War Food administration to all claimants against the U. S. sugar supply," the WFA announcement stated.

"Such quotas will control the release of sugar by primary distributors. Sugar allocated for civilian use will continue to be distributed through the rationing regulations of the Office of Price administration."

April to September

The director of marketing services immediately issued an order establishing primary distributor quotas for the period April 1 to September 30. Under this order, the total quantity of sugar available for distribution in the United States is divided and each distributor is given separate quotas covering sales to the WFA, to other government agencies, to "authorized" purchasers such as government food contractors and commercial exporters and to civilians.

Testimony recently before the House food investigating committee showed that during 1944 and early this year there has been dis-

Toll In Storms Mounts To Four

(By The Associated Press)

The death toll of the current series of Texas storms mounted to four Wednesday when Mrs. Nannie Davis, Athens, died of exposure and shock suffered during a twister.

Mrs. Davis had been bedridden. The twister, which struck early yesterday, destroyed her home in the Walton community. She died in an Athens hospital.

L. T. Byron, a grandson, was knocked unconscious by falling timbers. He suffered three fractured ribs.

Soldier Among Dead

Other deaths included a soldier killed at Brady, a railroad employe killed while attempting to flag a train to warn of a weakened track near Farmersville, and a negro killed when struck by lightning near Bonham.

The storms, which began in the northern part of the state during the week-end, moved south.

A six-inch rain was reported at Galveston. Streets were flooded, putting 80 per cent of the city buses out of service yesterday. Winds Tuesday night reached 40 miles an hour.

Rain fell in the drouth-stricken lower Rio Grande valley. However, it was not heavy enough to end water problems there. At Brownsville .91 inches fell. Precipitation decreased further up the Rio Grande. Del Rio received .32 inches.

Heavy at Houston

Blinding rainfall struck Houston. Total was 3.32 inches in the 24-hour period ending yesterday morning. Streets were flooded and the Preston avenue underpass was under water. Traffic was detoured. The Polk avenue underpass also was flooded and electric company

Eight Killed, Many Hurt In Windstorm

BROWNSVILLE, June 13. (AP)—A windstorm which cut a two-mile swath as it blew toward the Gulf coast killed at least eight persons and injured 28 as it struck last night ten miles south of Matamoros, in the Mexican state of Tamaulipas.

Police Chief Manuel Cepeda of Matamoros said ten small Mexican ranching communities were wiped out. The dead and injured were brought to Matomoros, across the Rio Grande from Brownsville. Survivors from the storm area were still arriving at Matamoros today.

Reports from Matamoros said the Zaramora ranch had been wiped out completely; that no trace of cattle, stock, or persons had yet been found, and that 19 survivors from Galaneno and Los Barriales ranches were being hospitalized at Matamoros.

U. S. Loses 1,554 Cargo Ships, 6,066 Merchant Seamen In War; Allied Ship Losses Total 4,770

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—The war has cost the United States 1,554 merchant ships and 6,066 merchant seamen dead, missing or captured, the Maritime commission reported tonight.

Together, the United Nations, and neutral countries expended a vast fleet of 4,770 ships of 21,140,000 gross tons between the outbreak of warfare in Europe on September 1, 1939, and May 8, 1945.

At the same time the Army disclosed that 3,604 American soldiers were lost in the sinking or damage of troopships in the 41 months of war against Germany and Italy — a loss of four men for each 10,000 embarked. The Army said the loss rate for World war one was 7.2 per 10,000 or nearly twice as large.

Loss Causes Classified

Bulk of the American merchant tonnage destroyed—570 ships of 5,431,456 tons by deadweight measurment — was sent to the bottom by mines, submarines and air attack.

The other 984 American flag vessels, mostly small ships and totaling only 845,621 tons deadweight, were lost in marine accidents resulting from convoy operations, blackouts, reduced navigation aids and other wartime hazards.

In tonnage, the U. S. losses represent less than one third the deadweight production of American shipyards in the single fiscal year of 1944.

"An overwhelming percentage of the merchant vessels were destroyed by German or Italian submarines, air attacks and mines with 68 lost in Japanese areas," said the special report by Vice Admiral Emory S. Land, maritime chairman.

"The most extensive destrucion was in the North Atlantic where wolfpacks of U-boats prowled against convoys to the British Isles and north Russia until curbed by fast-expanding Allied naval and air power, including the use of escort carriers."

The dark days of 1942 saw the height of the German-Italian effort to block the gathering of troops and munitions in England for the forthcoming invasion.

"In the five months from March through July, 204 American merchant ships were sunk, an average of more than one a day," Land disclosed.

June, 1942 Highest

"In June of 1942, the highest point of losses of the war was reached, the enemy sending 49 U. S. vessels to the bottom in 30 days."

"Up to the end of last year, 219 American merchant ships were sunk (in the North Atlantic), 141 in the northwest area and 78 in the northeast Atlantic, in addition to the 27 sunk off Normandy. Next, the Caribbean sea was the most thoroughly exploited area for enemy submarine operations with 122 vessels lost.

In the Pacific, American has lost 44 ships; in the South Atlantic 42; in the Mediterranean and Black seas, 39; in the Gulf of Mexico; 25; in the Red Sea and Indian ocean, 27; in the approaches to the Mediterreanean, 18; and in undetermined areas, 7.

Pattern Of Japanese Resignations Cited

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Tokyo's Suzuki government has grabbed more power than any other cabinet in Japanese history, but Washington observers would not be surprised to see it resign when Okinawa falls.

That is the Japanese pattern. Tojo quit when Saipan fell, and Koiso stepped down after the loss of Iwo Jima.

But officials here charged with watching Japanese developments cautioned today that regardless of whether the cabinet of Premier Admiral Kantaro Suzuki resigns to satisfy Japanese custom or not, it now has unprecedented power to rule by decree.

These officials, asking anonymity, threw down harder than ever rumors that the Suzuki cabinet—or its successor—might make a definite peace bid within the predictable future.

Aussies On Borneo Seize Brunei Airfield And Fall Of Port City Without Fight Seen

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Thursday, June 14.—Australian forces seized 3,600-foot Brunei airfield, two miles north of the British North Borneo capital, and the capture of another field, on Labaun island, off Brunei bay, is imminent, headquarters announced today.

Fall of the port city of Brunei, perhaps without a fight, may come at any time.

The landings Sunday in Brunei bay, a spokesman said, caught the Japanest by surprise. It is evident the enemy expected an Allied landing at Jesselton, 60 miles to the northwest.

14-Mile Advance

Digger columns advanced 14 miles from Brooketon in 48 hours to seize the Brunei airfield. Only a few disorganized Nipponese were encountered.

The occupation gives the Allied forces not only command of the strip but also some of the finest rubber plantations in Borneo, within the immediate vicinity.

On Labaun island, off Brunei bay, Australian Cavalry commandos — mechanized forces — who landed at Point Hamilton, moved over easy rolling coconut and rubber plantation country to within two miles of Tambalai airstrip — the third airfield of importance in the invaded area.

The first captured airfield, on Labaun island, was overrun within a few hours of the Australian Ninth division's landing.

Japanese demolition teams working in frantic haste in advance of the swiftly advancing Allied forces, put the torch to the great Seria and Miri oil fields to the southwest of Brunei and presumably dynamited the wells.

In addition to the prize-package seizure of Brunei airfield; the Australian Ninth made a successful daylight landing two miles east of Brunei town without opposition.

Japanese forces apparently pulled south and intend to relinquish the river, port and capital city of Brunei without a fight. Sixty-one Japanese dead were counted the first day of the invasion. Australian casualties for the first three days have been "practically nil" an Australian spokesman said.

Tri-State Transit Strike Is Settled

DALLAS, June 13. (AP) — The strike on the Tri-State Transit company's bus lines has been settled.

A settlement termed "very satisfactory" by a union spokesman was reached here late today.

Men are to return to work immediately.

Company officials have estimated that the strike, which began in Jackson, Miss., Saturday night, has made idle approximately 250 buses and 400 drivers on the company's lines in Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Alabama, Tennessee, Arkansas, Kentucky and Missouri.

Clifford Potter, disputes director of the Eighth Regional War Labor board, effected the signing of a joint stipulation designed to end the work stoppage immediately during a recess of today's hearing.

Air Attacks Go Into Sixth Day

GUAM, Thursday, June 14 (AP)—Carrying the air attacks on Japan through the sixth straight day, Okinawa-based planes attacked Kanoya and Kushira air bases on Kyushu Tuesday, a fleet communique reported today. Bombs and rockets were fired.

The Kanoya naval base was a target recently of carrier planes from Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey's Third Fleet.

The Tuesday raiders dove through intense anti-aircraft fire to accomplish their mission.

Round-The-Clock Blows

The virtual around-the-clock raids on Japan have been maintained by B-29s, Navy and Army fighters.

Kyushu has air bases from which enemy suicide planes have been taking off to strike at American shipping off Okinawa.

Today's communique reported no enemy air activity at Okinawa Tuesday.

Okinawa-based planes also ranged south to hit the enemy-held Sakishima group in the Ryukyus, destroying two grounded planes.

Liberators and Privateers of Fleet Airwing 18, based at Okinawa, maintained the shipping blockade around Nippon's main island of Honshu Wednesday. They sank a small cargo ship and damaged smaller craft.

Sis Gets Party But Big Brother Absent

MACON, Ga., June 13. (U.P.) — For two years, Frances Newman had dreamed of this day.

Just before her big brother packed up and went to the wars, he kissed her and said:

"Look, sugar. I'll be home this time next year and help you celebrate your 17th birthday. But the year after that, we'll really have fun. I'll buy you an orchid, and the best evening gown the Marines can afford. We'll go dancing."

The sergeant didn't make it for that first party. But tonight he kept his promise to sis—by proxy. It happend this way:

When Frances got the bad news that her brother, Sgt. James R. Newman, of Lumpkin, Ga., had been killed while fighting with the Fourth Marines on Iwo Jima she wrote Maj. Gen. Clifton B. Gates, telling the whole story. About the orchids and the gown and about her birthday today.

"I'm going dancing anyway, general," she wrote. "Just like Jim and I planned."

The general was touched. He showed the letter to Jim's buddies. In jig time the boys had chipped in $100 for the evening gown Frances will wear tonight. The orchids she wanted are a present from the general.

So Frances went dancing tonight at a party at the Dempsey hotel here. Her escort was Sgt. William P. Angelos, jr., Denver, of the Marines. For a few hours he was Jim come back to fill his promise.

Jap Loss Of Life To B-29s Is Staggering

By RICHARD O'MALLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

TINIAN, June 13.—Col. Alfred F. Klaberer, veteran of 20 B-29 missions over Japan, estimated today that 500,000 Japanese—"perhaps 1,500,000"—have been killed in Tokyo alone by Superfort bombings.

Klaberg, commander of the 58th Bombardment Wing group of the 21st Bomber command, had 2,000 combat hours with the "Hell Birds" outfit, veterans of the India-China theater recently transferred to the Marianas. He piloted the first Superfort ever attacked by Japanese fighters. Previously, he led the first strike at Romania's Ploesti oil fields.

"The Japanese should be convinced in three months of the uselessness of continuing the war," he said. "If we cannot convince them by that time, we will have to put them through our meat grinder.

"I believe we have killed 500,000 Japanese in Tokyo alone," he said. "The figure may reach 1,500,000.

"Look at Yokohama. One minute it is there and the next it has disappeared. I believe we killed 250,000 there.

"One of our doctors says the death rate must be enormous, since burns such as are caused by our incendiaries require the care of two or three people and the Japanese do not have the personnel to spare for that sort of attention."

The Woman's Angle

Sometimes when you jump to a conclusion you have an unhappy landing.

We know a man who says you can improve a pinch of salt immeasurably by dropping it into a large glass of cold beer.

OH HINDUSTHAN!

HOWARD HUNT, who as manager of the classified advertising department, has somewhat of a triple threat existence in that he manages to keep his department, made up of women workers, happily and busily engaged; to placate customers who cannot understand whatever it is that e.a. customers cannot seem to understand and to solicit and write ads himself, has never asked advice of us. So far as that goes we've never asked Mr. Hunt for suggestions on putting out a bigger and better woman's page.

So far neither has needed advice on how to use space since news print shortage makes us both wary of longwinded ads and stories. But now we find ourself thinking of a future day when the problem of finding ads may raise its ugly head. The idea, if executed, would brighten our page and keep general news away. If such occasion comes we have a suggestion and how!

WEDNESDAY in browsing through some clippings sent by a service man stationed in India we came across several matrimonial advertisements that appeared in the "Hindusthan Standard." Ah, Hindusthan, that city that inspired a song likely also inspires romances. Consider this little gem:

'Wanted an educated groom well-established in business or service for a respectable, Kayastha, beautiful, healthy bride of dark complexion, expert in household work. Suitable dowries will be given."

In peaceful days, if the prospects for bride grooms is as gloomy as some forecasts would have us believe perhaps Mr. Hunt might be asked to run such an ad as this:

"Wanted an educated groom, well established in business or son of means for a respectable, attractive, healthy bride of carrot hair, thin skin bearing large yellow freckles, who knows little about housework but who plays a fair hand of bridge and is a whiz at opening a can."

FROM the Hindusthan Standard we note there is "Wanted: An educated earning groom of any caste for a beautiful bride expert in vocal and instrumental music. Suitable dowry will be given."

Again, if Mr. Hunt decided to help with the problem of lonely hearts, we might note such an insert as: Wanted: An educated earning groom for a beautiful bride who, while not expert in household duties, can park despite Lubbock traffic, who is not of a suspicious nature and who wouldn't think of wearing sandals downtown that let her toes play peek-a-boo through open sandals."

Silly, isn't it? But if the ads brought no response, we have a hunch they would inspire what we learned in journalism was "reader interest."

Roaring Welcome Extended Group Of Vets, Including 13 Generals

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN ANTONIO, June 13—San Antonio, military heart of the Southwest, took its hair down today and extended a roaring welcome to thirteen generals and 45 other officers and enlisted men from battlefields of Europe.

Howell Jones, assistant manager of the chamber of commerce, estimated the crowd at 250,000.

Even the roofs of downtown buildings were jammed as Lt. Gen. Ira Eaker, chief of air staff, and his companions rode in open command cars through streets lined with cheering, flower-throwing humanity.

Murphy One Of Group

And in one of the flower filled cars was a smiling, freckled-faced kid from Farmersville, Tex., Lt. Audie Murphy, who won every decoration in the book.

Murphy, who got the Congressional Medal of Honor for singlehandedly stopping an attack of six Nazi tanks and 200 enemy infantrymen, was greatly abashed by the welcome.

He went along the reception line at Alamo airport, never giving his name to anyone, and when he was recognized from published pictures he looked startled, then scared.

Asked if he would pose for a picture with General Eaker, he replied: "I sure wouldn't want to ask the general to pose for any picture with me."

General Well Pleased

Someone else asked the general and Eaker appeared delighted. Murphy saluted smartly and then the grinning, square-jawed Eaker, a Texan himself, grabbed the little lieutenant's hand and shook it vigorously.

"This is a real pleasure," the general said warmly.

Eaker, who commanded the Mediterranean Allied air forces, said there has been no change in his plans to fly to San Angelo tomorrow to participate in a bond rally. And he will go back to his home in Eden, Tex., for a visit.

"I've been waiting three and a half years to get back to Texas," the general said.

Three Other Generals

There were three other generals from Texas, Lt. Gen. Lucian Truscott, jr., commander of the Fifth Army, who was born in Chatfeld, Tex.; Brig. Gen. Harold L. Clark, 52nd Troop Carrier wing, Ninth Troop Carrier command, of San Antonio, and Brig Gen. C. P. Cabell, director of operations and intelligence for the Mediterranean Allied air forces, Dallas.

The war heroes came from Houston where they spent last night.

For the visitors it was a crowded day with the street parade, a gondola parade down the San Antonio river, a press conference, a reception and a banquet.

The 20-year-old Murphy plans to fly to Farmersville tomorrow to visit his sister, Mrs. Corinne Burns, and other relatives. Informed that Farmersville was preparing a big reception for him, he said: "Well, I'm scared to death."

Wants To See Girl Friend

Murphy said he is "looking forward very much" to seeing Miss Mary Lee of Floyd, Tex., who is attending the East Texas Teachers college at Commerce, Tex.

The list of generals today included Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, commander of the Seventh Army.

Other officers and enlisted men included the following Texans:

Lt. Col. John M. Green, 132nd Field Artillery battalion, Abilene; Lt. Col. James M. Minor, 142nd Infantry, 36th Infantry division, Brownwood; S/Sgt. Michael D. Harkin, Ninth Air force, Belton; Pfc. Arthur J. Coffman, 45th division, San Angelo.

FLIER CONVICTED

SAN ANTONIO, June 13. (AP)—Flight Officer James A. Hewitt, Randolph Field pilot, convicted on charges of low flying near Medina Lake, has been ordered by a military court at Randolph Field to pay a fine of $450 and remain restricted to the post for three months.

Survey On Dwelling Units In Lubbock And Slaton Planned

A survey of dwelling units in Lubbock and Slaton will begin on June 14 by the Bureau of Census, Department of Commerce, at the request of the National Housing agency.

According to Frank E. Kimble, who will supervise the survey, it will determine the proportions of occupied and unoccupied dwellings in the cities; the percentage of available rental vacancies, their condition, number of rooms, and monthly rentals, and other information needed by the housing agency such as the tenure and monthly rental of units, the extent of over-crowding, and the effectiveness of space utilization.

Due to the urgent need for the information, it will not be possible to visit every dwelling, officials stated. An adequate sample has been carefully selected to give true proportionate representation of residential structures in every section throughout the city, and for all practical purposes the results obtained from the sample survey will be as accurate as complete coverage. The information will be gathered by experienced enumerators who will make personal calls at all of the dwelling units selected for the survey.

The field work should be completed within two weeks, officials said, and a compilation of the figures obtained here will be made in Washington. This report may be obtained later on written request to the Bureau of Census there.

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Representatives Thomas and Thomason were the two Texas members of the House who voted yesterday for outlawing the poll tax payment as a prerequisite to voting in any election for federal office. The measure was passed by the House 118-86 and sent to the Senate.

Eighteen Texas representatives voted against the measure.

They were: Beckworth, Combs, Fisher, Gossett, Luther A. Johnson, Lyndon B. Johnson, Kilday, Lanham, Lyle, Mahon, Mansfield, Patman, Pickett, Poage, Russell, Sumners and Worley.

Hogg Foundation Head Is Speaker

Dr. Robert L. Sutherland, director of the Hogg Foundation of Texas, speaking before the weekly luncheon of Lubbock Rotary club Monday at the Hilton hotel, expressed himself as lacking in finding one subject to cover every business or profession but expressed as significant to all the human element and relations in all work.

Dr. Sutherland, introduced by Dean J. M. Gordon of Texas Tech college, brought out the relationship between business and education and cited every employer and adult as a person who should devote some of his time to the teaching of younger and less experienced men.

Men 'Go To Pieces'

In seeking various types of persons found in nearly every field of business Dr. Sutherland named men who seek advancement through favoritism and not performance, have an indirect way of getting ahead without doing any definite creditable work, go to "pieces" under stress or heavy responsibility, shift blame of mistakes, conceal facts when they are at fault, and those who do well on the job but who are poor managers of their personal affairs.

Elaborating on these points Sutherland pointed out that many men can work well alone, but are very poor committeemen and coordinators. He said that many have nervous reactions whereby they try to impress others, are poor organizers, and some can not share responsibility or teach their surbordinates how to take responsibility.

Seeking an answer to failure of business to meet these problems Dr. Sutherland said that "we are living in a funny world" where a complex economy causes human relations to be constant and more noticeable, and that a changed way of business has not met the proper preparation.

Educators Are Praised

Dr. Sutherland said that "we are just beginning to learn."

Sutherland closed his talk with a word of praise for the educators of today and gave responsibility of teaching the young to every adult who should develop all beneficial traits. The noted educator urged proper compensation for teachers, recreational leaders and police, and said each community should demand the highest of skills from each of these.

Visitors for the day included the Rotary's junior league baseball team, Lt. Neil Wright, jr. recently returned from a German war prison camp; Capt. W. E. Hawkins, Petty Officer Wayne Prather, L. E. Davis, Ens. David Kilpatrick, George Gregory, R. E. Gabin, Capt. G. A. Simmons, jr., Durwood Bradley and Capt. James Milam.

SAN ANTONIO, June 13. (U.P.)—A special officer, Joe J. Trevino, today was being held by San Antonio police and military authorities while an investigation into the fatal shooting of a Brooke General hospital wounded war veteran was being made.

Trevino was held in connection with the death of Pvt. Willard E. Twitchell, 24, of Des Moines, Ia., who died of a bullet wound over the left eye. The fatal shooting occurred, witnesses said, when Trevino was called to a local restaurant to stop a threatened fight between two soldiers. A free for all followed, and Trevino tried to eject Twitchell from the restaurant. During the altercation two shots were fired. Then Trevino telephoned police and surrendered himself.

Da's na fijn, zunne!... Have a Coca-Cola
(SAY, THAT'S GREAT!)

... an American custom lands in Brussels

In Flemish, it's vriendelijkheid. In American, it's the plain, everyday word friendliness. Everywhere your Yankee doughboy goes, it comes from his heart in a good old home-town phrase, Have a Coke. Friendliness is bred in his bone and it bubbles out—like the bubbling goodness of Coca-Cola itself. Yes, the pause that refreshes with ice-cold Coke becomes an ambassador of good will... the old home spirit carried across the seas.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Buses are overburdened as never before. A crisis is near. With more men, tires and gas going to war, present service can barely be maintained. Each day brings greater loads. When you must travel locally, let this be your creed:

1. Do Not Ride in Rush Hours, except to and from your job.
2. Have Exact Fare Ready, saves time and fuss.
3. Move Back When Driver Asks, speeds your ride.

This simple creed will work wonders.

Cattle Theft Charges Filed

In Lubbock county jail Wednesday afternoon were two youths, one a juvenile, held in connection with formal complaints of cattle theft.

They, it was alleged, roped a heifer owned by Oscar McKinley, a negro of Lubbock, and sold her to a trader at a livestock commission company here.

Bond Of $1,000 Set

Charged in the court of D. W Robertson, justice of peace, was Odell Ivey, 17. The juvenile, 15, was named in a petition to be heard in juvenile court of County Judge Walter Davies. Bond of $1,000 binding him over to grand jury investigation was set for Ivey.

Both youths live in the Sawyer drive section of East Broadway, said Ranger Norvell Redwine who made the arrests and signed the complaint.

Man Approached Them

The youths told District Attorney Burton S. Burks and Redwine that a 55-year-old man had approached them and asked if they would rope the heifer, which, they said, he claimed was his. They said the man, who was being held in jail this afternoon for questioning to determine whether a charge would be filed against him, represented he was ill and couldn't walk well; that he needed the money and that he would appreciate their selling the animal for him.

They said they received a check payable to the younger boy, who endorsed it at a bank, but that the man was not where he had said he would be to receive the money, which was not paid to him.

The negro, hunting his heifer, found her at a cattle ring and asked rangers to investigate. The arrests were quickly made.

Fair Treatment Of German POW Cited

WASHINGTON, June 13. (U.P.)—The House military affairs committee reported today that the Army's strict adherence to rules of the Geneva convention on the treatment of prisoners of war, sped victory in Europe.

Making its second report on treatment of war prisoners, the committee said the fair treatment of Nazi prisoners in United States camps was "a great factor in breakking down the morale of German troops and making them willing, even eager, to surrender."

The report said that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had "millions" of leaflets promising safe conduct and good treatment dropped behind enemy lines, and added:

"Had these promises not been true, and believed, victory would have been slower and harder and a far greater number of Americans killed."

Livestock, Building Measures Are Signed

AUSTIN, June 13 (AP) — Gov. Coke Stevenson today signed bills making an appropriation of $10,000 for enforcement of livestock sanitary regulations, and providing for construction of two new state office buildings south of the state capitol.

The $10,000 appropriation was made specifically to tighten up tick control measures in a tier of counties along the Rio Grande in southwest Texas.

The office building bill provides also for possible acquisition of the Tribune tower for state office purposes at a price not to exceed $812,300.

Who's Guilty? All Germans ...or only Nazi Leaders?

"All Germans!"—Wm. L. Shirer (Radio commentator)

"Nazi Leaders!"—Dr. G. N. Shuster (Pres. Hunter College)

Were the German people the unwilling pawns of a band of sadistic Nazi fanatics? Or have they twice voluntarily stood behind leaders bent on world conquest? Where we fix the blame can determine whether Germany becomes a peace-loving nation or starts preparing for World War III. Four noted authorities tackle this exciting issue tonight. William L. Shirer and Stanley High (author) demand that the German people be held responsible, while Dr. George N. Shuster and Gerhart Seiger (former member of the Reichstag) disagree. Hear both sides tonight on America's Town Meeting, sponsored by the Reader's Digest, 7:30, KFYO.

Organized Landlords Appeal For Increase In Ceiling On Rents

By NED BROOKS
Scripps Howard Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 13—Government price controls were straining at another seam today, this time on residential rents.

The Office of Price Administration moved to combat demands of organized landlords for higher ceilings on rents in the 479 urban areas now under OPA "freeze" orders.

Asks 15 Per Cent

The National Apartment House Owners Assn. has appealed to the House banking committee to write a general 15 per cent rent increase into the pending bill extending the life of OPA.

Joining in the request, the National Association of Real Estate boards has suggested to the committee a "reasonable" increase without specifying an exact percentage.

The latter organization is issuing an appeal to its 741 local affiliates to bring pressure on Congress to approve the increase.

Both organizations contend that other price levels have placed home and apartment owners in a disadvantageous position and that present rents will not support the new construction counted on to produce postwar employment.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles and Rent Administrator Ivan D. Carson are to appear before the House committee later this week in opposiion to the demands. They plan also to oppose hotel owners' appeals for a 15 per cent boost in room rate ceilings.

Rents of between 14,000,000 and 15,000,000 tenants are now protected by "freeze" orders. With a single exception, controls are now in operation in every urban area of 50,000 or more population. More than 70 per cent of the urban population is included in the 479 control areas.

Increases Estimated

A 15 per cent increase, it is estimated, would add in excess of $60,000,000 a month to the nation's rent bill if applied to all units under OPA control.

Opposition to a general increase appeared to predominate in the House committee and some members viewed the demands as bargaining grounds for other concessions being sought by the owners' organizations.

The real estate boards are seeking legalization of the present advisory committee on rent control, liberalization of the act's previous governing "hardship" cases, recognition of deferred maintenance and accelerated depreciation in computing operating costs and leeway for the equalization of rents in an apartment building.

The boards withheld their demand while the OPA bill was before the Senate banking committee, explaining that they did not wish to disturb controls after V-E day. OPA, said President James C. Downs of Chicago, has "ignored the purpose" of eight liberalizing amendments written into the price act last year.

The Apartment House Owners Assn. justified its proposal for a general 15 per cent increase on the grounds that rents have lagged behind the economic trend. While building prices have advanced more than 30 per cent, rents have eased only 3 per cent since 1939 and are actually under their 1942 level, the association asserted.

Since 1939, the association added, food has advanced 45 per cent, clothing 41 percent, house furnishings 39 per cent and weekly earnings 75 per cent.

The organization told the committee that OPA has resorted to "half-truth propoganda" in quoting net operating figures to support its claim that "the vast majority of landlords have prospered under rent control."

Lt. Carroll G. Keeling of Pampa, husband of Mrs. Beatrice Keeling of 2323 Ninth, died at Cherbourg, France, May 24 as a result of injuries suffered in a jeep accident, according to information received by his wife. Mrs. Keeling, who is employed in a doctor's office at West Texas hospital, left this week for Pampa to be with Lt. Keeling's parents. The news came as a shock to Mrs. Keeling because she recently received a letter from her husband which was written from a hospital in France May 23. He said he was writing while sitting in a wheel chair and hoped to be sent to England soon for further treatment.

County commissioners will sit Thursday as a board of equalization, and approximately 150 persons had been cited by publication and by postal cards to appear and show cause why property valuation for tax purposes should not be changed. However, said H. B. Bryan, county tax assessor-collector, before going to Austin this week to a statewide business meeting of an association of tax officials, many of those cited already had appeared in his office and suggested their willingness to accept changed valuations. Usually there are two days for the board of equalization's sitting—one for resident, one for non-resident property owners. That, like last year, will be dispensed with this year, since so few were cited.

SPAAF Receives Veterans Group

South Plains Army Air field has received an advance party of overseas veterans it was revealed Wednesday morning.

It also was announced that the veterans being assigned to the field are men whose homes are in this territory. "The people selected to come are as closely in proximity of their homes as they can possibly get," an officer of the field said. He added that they are in "this territory"—not necessarily in Texas, but possibly of eastern New Mexico, for instance.

The advance party, made up of enlisted men who were accompanied here by officers, is making preparations for the arrival of the other groups. The next contingent is due to arrive Saturday. The men here are "getting organized under supervision of the base commander," it was said.

The men will be engaged in work in connection with storage and maintenance of aircraft.

Assignment of the group here means that the base will be remilitarized, the officer said. For several months, the staff has included officers, and no enlisted men except for a group from Tinker field at Oklahoma City which was at the field 28 days.

The field was inactivated Feb. 15 after training of glider pilots had been halted. The base later was designated as a storage depot for B-17's.

An "emergency appeal" had been made by the Red Cross Tuesday for gifts of furnishings for a day room at the field. One woman has offered to return furnishings which were taken back to her after the day room formerly used was cleared of equipment, upon orders that civilian equipment be cleared from the field when it was inactivated. Lounge chairs, sofas, desks, lamps, and books are being requested. Persons wishing to give furnishings may telephone the Red Cross, 8534.

Opinion Given On Delinquent Taxes

AUSTIN, June 13 (AP)—It is the duty of tax collector-assessors to accept payment of delinquent personal or real property taxes without requiring payment of delinquent poll taxes, according to an opinion from the attorney general's department, which was sought by Perry Jones, Travis county attorney.

L. P. Lollar, assistant attorney general, said that while there is provision for collection of delinquent poll taxes, it does not encompass the exacting of such payments in connection with collection of other past-due taxes.

Lions Hand Optimists First Defeat, Craig Leads Attack

Young James Craig, Lanky Lions club first baseman, batted his twice defeated teammates to a 16-11 victory, and at the same time played a major role in knocking the undefeated Optimist club nine from the unbeaten ranks of the American League junior baseball race Wednesday afternoon at the Lubbock Boys club diamond.

The Optimists scored three runs in the first inning, but the lead was short lived, as the Lions bounded back for four runs in their half of the inning, and added three more in the second for a lead that was never overcome.

Craig's First Blow

The Optimists matched this with three runs in the fourth to draw back to 10-8. Presley, Martin and Bennett filled the bases for the Lions on a walk, an error and another walk. Craig then hit the fourth ball pitched him by Jackie Cook against the lumber yard fence deep in left field, and reached third base standing up. Fullerton again sent Craig home with a neat single.

Cook Delivers Blow

The Optimists staged one more rally in the fifth. Burlsmith led off with a clean home run, the only one of the game. Pickle, Thomas and James then filled the bases, and pitcher Jackie Cook aided along his own cause with a long double into centerfield. The rally was immediately quelched by good Lions defensive play.

John Potts hurled the win for the Lions, with Norman Bantz catching. Jackie Cook was credited with the loss for the Optimists with Joe Scales doing the catching.

One game is on today's schedule at the Boys club field. The Rotary club nine, with two wins and a loss in three starts, meets the Kiwanis team, which has one win and two losses in three matches.

Greenberg Due Out Of Army This Week

FORT DIX, N. J., June 13. (AP)—Capt. Hank Greenberg, former first baseman for the Detroit American League baseball team, reported at the separation center here yesterday and may be out of the Army by Friday night, an Army spokesman said today.

In Detroit, officials of the Tigers had received no word from the 34-year-old Greenberg regarding the possibility of his rejoining the club, although on previous visits here he had expressed hope that he might resume his diamond career.

"You bet we're anxious to talk contract with Greenberg," General Manager Jack Zeller declared. "Could we use some of those extra-base hits!"

SWC Looks Over Returning Vets

(By The Associated Press)

Spring football has ended at Southwest Conference schools and summer practice is under way at Texas A. and M., thus furnishing the first tangible idea as to what the 1945 season has in store.

It's subject to change because of the draft and Navy Transfers but at this time Texas, Southern Methodist, Texas A. and M. and Arkansas boast the most veteran material.

Texas Packs Power

Texas comes up with eight lettermen, ten squadmen and the expectation of several top performers being transferred from Texas Christian including Ransom Jackson and Monroe Harrelson, backfielders.

Southern Methodist boasts twelve lettermen and a half-dozen squad members while Texas A. and M. already has eight lettermen in camp with five more expected. Arkansas has seven lettermen and five 1944 squadmen.

Defending champion Texas Christian shows seven lettermen from 1944 and one from 1942 in addition to a couple of fellows who had football experience at other colleges.

Rice has only five lettermen and three squadmen and Baylor will return to intercollegiate football with six experienced men, none in a senior college but two of them with service football behind them.

All in all there will be much more veteran material in the conference than this time last year with prospects of stronger football.

Bechtol Due Back

Lettermen slated to return to the various schools are:

Texas—Jack Halfpenny, Maxie Bell, Leroy Anderson and Tom Milik, backs; Frank Gerling, guard; Harlan Wetz and Jimmy Plyler, tackles; Hubert Bechtol, end.

Southern Methodist—Gene Wilson, end; Tom Dean, Earl Cook, Pete Kotlaric, Jack Elliott and Dave McCoy, tackles; James Meletio, guard; Leon Schultz, center; Gene McClintock, Cecil Miles, John McFarland and Bill Squires, backs.

Texas A. and M.—Bob Butchofsky and Stubby Matthews, backs; Grant Darnell, Bill Geer, Scooter Yeargain and Norton Higgins, ends; Sleepy League, guard; Monte Moncrief, tackle. Other lettermen due to return are Hub Ellis, center; Tom Daniel, quarterback; Morton Shefts, tackle; Oscar White, end; Bullet Gray, guard.

Arkansas—Alton Baldwin, Calvin Lane and Frank Schumchyk, backs; Henry Ford, guard; Charles Johnson, tackle; Earl Wheeler, center; Mike Schumchyk, end.

Texas Christian — Jesse Mason and Norman Cox, backs; James Cooper, center; Henry Rose, tackle; Bob Buschman, Berle Gibson and Harry Mullins, ends. J. C. O'Neal, 1942 lettermen, also returned to school after receiving a medical discharge from the Marines.

Rice—Jess Mason and Bob Nemir, backs; Bruce Bradbeer, end; Bob Zelsman and Milam Towns, tackles.

Baylor—No letterman but the following experienced men: Homer Carmichael and Ray Comer, backs, and C. H. Sempsey, center, junior college; Richard Johnson, guard, freshman experience at Baylor in 1942; James Parker, tackle, two years Army football; Jack Price, back, one year service football in the Navy.

Baylor appears to be doing well in getting top-flight high school graduates including Sammy Pierce, great Vernon back; Woody Gatewood, Waco High school center, and Joe Joiner, Sherman end.

An Indian settlement was located on the site of Tucson, Ariz., as early as 1699.

Military Police Ten Romps Over Civilians

In a game cut to four innings by the league's one-hour rule, the Lubbock Army Air field MPs won a 12 to 0 decision over the LAAF Civilians in a softball league game Wednesday afternoon.

Thomas was the big noise in the MP attack, getting a home run in the first inning with one on, and another in the second with two on. Smith, pitching most of the game for the MPs, struck out ten men and limited the Civilians to one hit.

McCloud started on the hill for the MPs, but after facing three men, he was banished from the hill by the umpire for alleged illegal pitching.

Dodgers Nip Giants To Tie For Second

BROOKLYN, June 13. (AP) — Brooklyn climbed into a second place tie with Pittsburgh, only one half game out of first place, by nosing out the New York Giants tonight, 3-2, behind Hal Gregg's 5-hit pitching.

A crowd of 31,673 paying fans, largest night turnout of the season at Ebbetts Field, watched the Dodgers score all their runs off starter Harry Feldman. The first tally came in the second inning on Howie Schultz' double and Eddie Basinski's single and two more romped home in the fifth on Billy Jurges' error, a double by Basinki and a single by Goody Rosen who hit safely in his 12th consecutive game.

Three walks in succession behind Joe Medwick's single broke Gregg's shutout in the seventh and the Giants fell one run short of a tie when Medwick singled, Danny Gardella doubled off the right field wall and Jurges flied to right field in the ninth.

Shallowater opened its National League junior baseball campaign Wednesday afternoon at Chapman field by handing the Hunt Oilers their second straight loss, winning a loosely played 16-6 decision.

PLAY ONE TODAY

PHILADELPHIA, June 13. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics and Boston Red Sox, their game tonight postponed because of rain, will play a single game tomorrow afternoon.

Women Golfers Take Spotlight In Meet

PHILADELPHIA, June 13. (AP)—Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Didrikson Zaharias of Los Angeles, and her partner, Lt. Patty Berg of the U. S. Marine Corps, nosed out Dorothy Germain and Helen Sigel, both of Philadelphia, one up today in a best-ball exhibition match.

Played through alternate downpours and bright sunshine, the match served as a curtain raiser for the second annual Philadelphia Inquirer war bond tournament which opens at the Llanerch Country club tomorrow.

Featured among the 135 competitors will be Sammy Snead, Byron Nelson, Jug McSpaden, U. S. Open Champion Craig Wood, Sam Byrd, Gene Sarazen, Henry Picard and crooner - actor Bing Crosby.

The hard hitting Babe shot a 75 from the back tees that served as the best-ball score for the winning team.

At the 13th, the Western star was stymied by casual water on the green and took a sand wedge from her bag to jump the ball into the cup for a birdie three that evened the match.

From that point on the rivals played on even terms, with Patty and the Babe both on the last green in regulation and down in two putts for par fours. Miss Sigel was trapped on her second, pitched close on her third, and missed the tying putt by an inch.

Helen Sigel's tee shot on the second was heading straight for the cup, but stopped 18 inches short. She missed the try for a birdie.

He was chosen as the outstanding young player by Eddie Dyer, former Cardinal official; Johnny Keane, former minor league star infielder, and Jess Neely, athletic director and baseball coach of the Rice Owls, after the youths had worked out a week, and wound up with a junior all-star game in Buff stadium.

Small Powers Lose Veto Fight

of the world organization at any time and for any reason.

The first American reaction was that the Russian proposal was too unlimited. Debate brought no decision. The committee adjourned to permit further consultations on the point among various delegations.

Expulsion Clause

Russia has been calling for a provision by which the league could expel unruly members, and some delegates thought she might be plunking now for a withdrawal clause in order to get support for expulsion.

Small nations which lost the veto fight today now are going to concentrate on trying to make it easy to amend the charter in the future.

The turning point in the veto battle was reached last night when the committee rejected by a 20 to 10 vote an Australian amendment to cancel a veto over efforts to end international quarrels peacefully. Australian Foreign Minister Herbert V. Evatt fought hard for it but lost.

Stassen's Appeal

Commander Harold E. Stassen of the American delegation declared in a long speech that abstention of one of the Big Five from voting on peaceful adjustment of a dispute to which it was a party would not constitute an indirect veto—that seven affirmative votes would have to come from the other four big powers and three smaller countries.

Victor Andres Belaunde of Peru called Stassen's speech "most conciliatory and instructive."

The former Minnesota governor declared the charter coming into being at the Golden Gate isn't perfect. But he said it has a better chance of maintaining peace than any other document that could be devised.

Stassen saluted Evatt and others who had voiced opposition to the veto. Evatt thanked him and said he wanted to make it clear there need be no doubt of Australia's loyalty to the world organization when it is set up.

Interpretation of Plan

Stassen had reviewed in detail the Big Five interpretation of how the veto would operate. He pointed out that no country could prevent the hearing of a dispute or its discussion in the security council. There would be no veto, either, he said, to prevent the council from inviting a non-member of the council to submit its views on a controversy.

Canada brought up, but didn't press, an amendment which would require the security council to make decisions by a two-thirds vote.

Other committees tried to fill in remaining gaps in the charter, and a commission session was set for tonight to approve a section which will fit such regional security systems at the Pan-American into the mechanism of a world organization.

Probable Windup Date

In Washington, Senate officials reported that President Truman assumed the conference would wind up by June 20 and planned to submit the charter to the Senate by June 25 with a request for ratification by July 15.

Secretary of State Stettinius has told the American delegation here that Mr. Truman will review the charter as soon as it is signed and send it to the Senate immediately. In view of Senate recess plans, some delegates thought prompt consideration questionable.

Besides, it looked today as if the conference might last beyond June 20. Some delegations now are talking about June 23 or June 25, because the mere mechanics of fitting the charter together out of segments approved piece-meal, then putting it into legal, final language in five tongues, will take time.

Texas Storm Toll

buses and other traffic had to be rerouted.

However, rain continued to fall over much of Texas.

Both East and West Texas reported showers. Athens received another heavy rain Tuesday night, and slight wind damage was reported.

Rail and highway traffic continued to be blocked by flood waters in some sections.

Damage Unestimated.

Property and crop damage was heavy but still unestimated. A wind storm at Mexia, however, is reported to have caused damage estimated at $500,000.

Trains traveling north and east out of Dallas were rerouted because of high water, officials of two lines said yesterday. Since Tuesday afternoon the Texas Special and the Bluebonnet, both Missouri-Kansas-Texas trains, have taken the Texas and Pacific tracks to Forth Worth and then to Denison. Normally they go directly to Denison by way of Greenville. T & P trains to Memphis have been rerouted over the Cotton Belt tracks. Normal schedules are expected to be resumed today.

News Briefs

Graveside services for the one-day-old infant son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Kirk of Brownfield, which died Wednesday morning in Lubbock General hospital, will be conducted at 11 o'clock this morning at the Memorial Park cemetery, Rev. Charles Lutrick, pastor of the Overton Chapel, will officiate, Rix Funeral home reported.

Condition of Majel Bynum, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bynum of 1905 Twenty-second, still was considered critical late Wednesday night. Hospital attendants also reported that a definite diagnosis of the youth's illness had not been made.

Police sought Wednesday to determine whether a 30-year-old man, arrested for drunkenness, was an escapee from an insane hospital, as he said, or a war veteran recently discharged from a hospital, as his friends claimed. The man said that he had escaped from a Danville, Ill., hospital.

The sheriff's department said Wednesday night that Bill Runkels, about 30, had not paid a fine of $30 and costs assessed against him yesterday in county court on a plea of guilty to a charge of aggravated assault on his wife, Mrs. Eura Mae Runkels. They live north of Lubbock in a trailer camp.

The police traffic detail was kept on the jump Wednesday and last night investigating a rash of automobile accidents which did not result in known injuries to anyone. Seven accidents were reported.

Police announced recovery Wednesday night of a Studebaker pickup which M. R. Marlowe, 1517 Nineteenth, reported stolen Tuesday night.

Commander Dan Henry, officer in charge of the Dallas district of U. S. Navy recruiting, is to inspect the local office today.

John Troy Lawson, 41, suffered injuries in the accident early Sunday at Twenty-third and Ave. H which took the life of Mrs. Edna Fitzgerald, 50, of Lubbock, an examination by Dr. W. L. Baugh, county health officer, disclosed Thursday. Lawson, held in county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond on a charge of murder while driving an automobile on a public highway while intoxicated, was examined after he complained that his ribs hurt. Dr. Baugh said Lawson received "quite a lick" on the right side of the back just over the kidney, and a rib either fractured or dislocated, and a lung definitely bruised." Mrs. Fitzgerald was believed crushed by the rear wheels of the truck Lawson was driving, presumably after she fell from the cab when the vehicle was turned on the highway.

Mrs. R. H. Tudor of 1402 Ave. U, who underwent an appendectomy Tuesday morning at West Texas hospital, was recovering satisfactorily last night, according to hospital attendants.

Sheep Are Lost In Freakish Weather

SPRINGER, N. M., June 13. (AP)—A freak hail storm and cold weather accompanying a drouth-breaking rain in northeastern New Mexico Monday caused the loss of from 2,500 to 3,000 sheep, producers reported today.

The firm of Hawes and Thompson reported the loss of more than 2,500 recently sheared wethers. They said part of the loss was from exposure, part from stampeding into a creek and drowning and part by the animals piling up and smothering. The firm reportedly runs about 7,500 head.

M. N. Mikesell of the farmers development company, reported the loss of 300 ewes in the same storm and expected to count further losses of unweaned lambs. The firm reportedly runs 10,000 head.

Canning Sugar Quota Slashed

tribution of sugar in excess of allocations.

At the some time the WFA announced it had reduced civilian sugar allotments for the next three months 10,000 tons below the current quarter.

Quarter Sharply Cut

The civilian allocation was placed at 1,380,000 tons for July, August and September — 453,000 tons below the same period last year. Normally the third quarter is the time of highest seasonal use.

The allotment for civilians is in accord with recommendations of a conference of officials of the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom which met here in April. These officials urged uniform per capita consumption at an annual rate of 71 pounds for all three countries during the last nine months of this year.

WFA asserted the civilian allocation includes sugar for home canning and that used by commercial processors and other industrial users for civilian consumption.

Tight World Situation

"A very tight world situation with available sugar far short of total needs is reflected in the lower United States supply for current allocation," WFA said.

It attributed the shortage to drouth in Cuba last year, distribution of sugar in excess of allocations and needs of liberated nations for sugar imports. More than one-half of next quarter's allocation is imported.

CUBAN SUGAR SOUGHT FOR RELIEF IN TEXAS

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—Negotiations were underway here today to bring more sugar from Cuba to relieve a shortage in Texas.

Office of Price administration officials informed Sen. Connally's aides efforts were being made to charter a ship specifically for importation of refined sugar which would be distributed as equitably as possible over the entire state for both household and industrial users.

It was not known how large a vessel could be located nor whether it would be able to go directly into a Texas port or to New Orleans and moved by rail into Texas.

Solution By Weekend

OPA and War Shipping administration officials hoped to solve the problem before the weekend.

While Connally's aides said they had received numerous complaints of state sugar shortages, OPA authorities described the situation as "tight." Later they said that sugar from Cuba via New Orleans probably would be distributed largely in the eastern half of the state. This would permit deliveries from the Sugarland, Tex., refinery, now processing raw Cuban sugar, to be more extensive to other sections.

Should it arrive at Galveston or Houston it probably would be delivered more or less evenly to all areas.

Speer Says Hitler Took His Own Life

FLENSBURG, Germany, June 13 (AP)—A British intelligence officer said today that Prof. Albert Speer, former Nazi minister of production arrested here, had given a statement to supreme Allied headquarters expressing his belief that Hitler committed suicide in Berlin by taking poison.

The officer reported "Speer said he had been with Hitler a few days prior to the fall of Berlin and that Hitler was a beaten and mentally ill man. Speer is convinced he poisoned himself. Hitler told him that was his intention."

Four Liberty Ships Return 1,300 Vets

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—Four Liberty ships with approximately 1,300 soldiers, most of them liberated prisoners of war, arrived today from the European theater shortly after a cargo ship from the Orient docked here with 416 soldiers and sailors.

Included among the troops from Europe were several hundred aviators of the Eighth, Ninth and 15th Air forces. There also were a number of infantrymen from the 28th and 106th divisions. The ships which brought them home were the John Lawson, the James B. Richardson, the William Pepperell and the Eugene Hale.

Army To Inactivate Base Near Las Vegas

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Camp Luna, Army Air Transport command field near Las Vegas, N. Mex., will be temporarily inactivated June 30, the War department said today.

The field will be held for possible future requirements. A spokesman said this probably means that a skeleton force will maintain training facilities there for future use, if needed.

Big Three Session

previously firm stand at San Francisco

The Russians, until after Hopkins had talked with the Soviet leader, had insisted upon the right of any of the big powers to veto a discussion of international disputes.

Asked what would happen if the invited British Poles (who include former members of the exiled government) refused to participate in setting up the new government, the President said: They are going, don't you worry about that; those are matters that have to await developments. He added, however, that present members of the London government were not invited.

Poles Still Divided

This was in answer to a reporter's assertion that some of the members of the present Polish government had shown no disposition to participate.

In one of his few comments today on domestic affairs, the President asked the Senate to restore a $17,000,000 House cut in appropriations for the Office of War Information.

Another domestic issue popped up when a reporter asked about the refusal of the House rules committee to report for floor action a bill setting up a permanent Fair Employment Practice committee.

The President said he was sincerely hopeful the rules committee would give members of the House a chance to vote on the continuation of the FEPC.

EXILE REGIME WON'T RECOGNIZE AUTHORITY

LONDON, June 13 (AP)—Poland's government-in-exile here refused today to recognize the authority of the three major powers to supervise the formation of a new Polish national unity administration at a conference set to open Friday in Moscow.

London's Poles assailed the proposed meeting as an outright concession to Russia and clung tenaciously to the hope that the Moscow negotiations would break down.

Troubled Atmosphere

In a tense and troubled atmosphere they planned tentatively to hold an emergency cabinet session to place before the world — and particularly before American Poles—a formal protest against the latest development in their relations with Russia.

"Never, never will our people recognize this agreement," said a spokesman for the group. "Never, never will they recognize a so-called government formed in this manner."

And never, he emphasized, has the exiled government acceded to the Crimea conference agreement for a broader-based provisional government.

It was learned in responsible quarters that Julian Zakowski, 48-year-old architect and one of three London Poles not connected with the exile government who were invited to the Moscow parley, had decided to turn down the bid on the grounds that he never had been connected with politics.

Selected By Warsaw

Regarded as a liberal socialist, Zakowski was understood to have been nominated to attend the conference by the Russian-backed Warsaw provisional government.

The Moscow radio said tonight the representatives of the provisional Polish government at Warsaw had arrived in Moscow for the conference.

The delegation, headed by President Boleslaw Beirut, was met at the airport by Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov and other Soviet leaders.

The exiled Poles obviously were indignant over the fact that they were not consulted about the proposed meeting. One of them suggested, privately, that the government here had been deserted outright by Britain and the U. S., in return for Russia's relaxation of her veto demand at San Francisco.

Loans To Veterans At Dallas Announced

DALLAS, June 13 (U.P.)—R. F. Andrews, Veterans administration loans officer, reported today that a total of 565 home loans, 26 farm loans and 51 business loans have been made to returning Dallas veterans of this war as of June 9. In addition, Andrews reported, some 2,000 loan applications presently are awaiting consideration.

Since Jan. 21, Andrews said, a total of 69 requests for loans have been denied.

PENICILLIN ARRIVES

MEXICO CITY, June 13. (U.P.)—First big shipment of penicillin from the U. S. to Mexico has arrived by plane from Kalamazoo, Mich. The shipment totalled 30,000 ampoules containing 100,000 units each. Free sale of penicillin with only a doctor's prescription needed was initiated in Mexica this month.

TROUBLES BRUIN—When 1200 pounds of hungry polar bear broke from its cage in a baggage car near Boone, Iowa, its first thought was the inner bear, which it proceeded to fortify with rabbits, a few dozen eggs and a couple of fruit cakes. Then Kenneth Sonderleiter, Des Moines zoo director, arrived to help rebox the animal, which was en route to the Salt Lake City zoo.

Chinese Drive Japs Rapidly Northward

CHUNGKING, June 13 (AP)—Chinese troops forced the broad Feiyun river barrier and reoccupied the small port of Juian on China's east coast today in a fast-moving drive on Wenchow, only 14 miles north, the Chinese high command reported.

Closely supported by armed Chinese guerrillas emerging from coastal hills, Chinese regulars poured into Juian after a 10-mile advance from captured Pingyang, 24 miles south of the big former treaty port which lies 440 miles west of Okinawa.

The Japanese were falling back on Wenchow, with its population of 80,000, with the Chinese close on their heels and battling to clear the entire invasion-threatened Chinese coastline northwest of the Japanese island of Formosa.

There were signs that the Japanese were going to pull out of Wenchow with the same lack of resistance that marked their abandonment of Foochow, 160 miles southwest, three weeks ago.

Expert Marksman Has Plenty Of Targets

SAN ANTONIO, June 13. (U.P.)—Camilla Evans, an expert marksman, found plenty of targets today when 20 rattlesnakes and a chicken snake were found under some concrete on her ranch.

The nest was discovered after a huge rattler killed a hen which had fought it trying to save her brood, 13 out of 15 of which were lost.

One by one, Miss Evans picked off the rattlers with her rifle, then she shot the chicken snake, which she reported was full of chicken.

Iowa law requires the three-day wait.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES

ALBUQUERQUE, June 13. (U.P.)—Mrs. Eddie Ross Cobb, daughter of Edmund D. Ross, territorial governor, died at Albuquerque yesterday at the age of 83. A resident of Albuquerque since 1891, Mrs. Cobb was born in Leavenworth, Kan., in 1862. She came to New Mexico in 1891 to be a secretary to her father.

EVACUATION CONTINUES

DAMASCUS, June 13 (AP)—The French evacuation of Syria continued uneventfully today as the ministry of home security announced casualties at Palmyra from shelling several weeks ago totalled 47 killed and 84 wounded. The ministry said 57 buildings in the town were destroyed.

"Axis Sally" Now In Italy; Not Charged

STAMFORD, Conn., June 13. (U.P.)—An attorney for the family of Rita Louisa Zucca, the "Axis Sally" who broadcast propaganda for Germany, said today that no U. S. government charges had been made against Miss Zucca, now an Italian subject.

Max Spelke, Washington and Stamford lawyer, said that the Zucca family had received information from Italy that their daughter may actually have helped American prisoners in several instances.

Spelke said he had learned from the justice department that Miss Zucca has not been charged with treason or any other crime against the United States.

Louis Zucca, a prominent New York restauranteur, told Spelke that his daughter had been away from the United States for six years. She was interned in Turin, Italy, by Americans on June 7.

State Of Siege Is Declared In Bogota

BOGOTA, June 13 (AP)—A government decree yesterday declared a state of siege in Bogota, Colombian capital, because the "public order has been disturbed."

Other decrees banned meetings and demonstrations until further orders, unless previously authorized by the governor of the department, and established censorship by national police.

Motorcycle Didn't Solve This Problem

KANSAS CITY, June 13. (U.P.)—The transportation situation being what it is, 61-year-old James R. Biddle decided to motorcycle was the most practical way of getting himself back and forth to work in a Kansas City war plant.

There were two hitches, lack of a machine and the fact he never had ridden one. Purchase of a 1933 model solved the first problem and yesterday he set out to master the second.

Expense Allotments Signed Into Law

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—President Truman's signature made law today a $50,994,481 legislative appropriation bill carrying a $2,500 expense allotment for each member of the House.

The funds finance operations of the legislative establishment for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The expense allowance is not applicable to members of the Senate, which declined to vote a similar allotment for its members.

Tax For Hospital Maintenance Legal

AUSTIN, June 13 (U.P.)—A ruling of the attorney general's department today informed County Attorney D. F. Witherspoon, Eagle Pass, that the Maverick county commissioners may levy and collect a tax for county hospital maintenance.

The tax must not push the total for county purposes above 80 cents.

by elements of the Ninth up the warm Brunei river gave the Aussies a dominating position overlooking the river's waterfront area.

Associated Press correspondent James Hutcheson, from the vantage point of a leaping PT boat's deck, found the night sky aflame in the Seria sector. At Seria the wells extend into the sea and it is presumed these were flooded by the Japanese.

The intrepid PT boat skipper pushed near the flaming shores and strafed Japanese installations illuminated by the glare of the blazing wells.

Beaufighters and Kittyhawks (P-40s), operating in suoport of the ground forces, destroyed bridges and attacked a narrow gauge railway between Jesselton and the western areas north of Labuan.

Planes Pound Japs

At Tarakan, where Aussies landed more than a month ago, 40 Royal Australian Air force Liberators pounded an enemy concentration on Hill 105 as the Diggers advanced slowly up its slope.

Don Starr, war correspondent reporting for the combined American press, said Gen. Douglas MacArthur made his second landing in the invasion area Monday, wading through oil coated swamps on the heels of Aussie ground troops as American planes bombed along the front lines in the Brunel sector. The general went four miles through the jungles. Earlier he had looked over the wrecked town of Brooketon, the mainland invasion point. He said "rarely is such a great strategic surprise at such a low cost of life."

"Indiscriminate enemy bombings of the Japanese homeland have destroyed many of our important libraries in Tokyo and other places, causing an enormous loss to the culture of Japan."

The enemy broadcast said the 1,100,000 books of the Ueno imperial library are being split up and moved, part of them into the country.

The Emperor Is Upset

War Goes Badly For Hirohito!

IT'S upsetting to learn how concerned Tokyo radio commentators are over the fact that the war has interfered with Emperor Hirohito's equestrian activities. The famous white horse is getting fat in the stable because "his myopic majesty" is busy with other things to give him his accustomed exercise.

"Practically every day," said a Tokyo broadcast, "his majesty summons the premier and other ministers to the palace, patiently listens to their reports on the war and graciously asks questions. It is rare now for the emperor to find leisure for horseback riding."

It's certainly a sad state of affairs and the Tokyo radio is really bloodthirsty about the price to be exacted because of it. The only thing to do, according to the broadcast, is "totally to annihilate the enemy." The Tokyo radio does not explain how to annihilate a foe less than totally.

Most Americans aren't quite so extreme as that. Most Americans wouldn't advocate "total annihilation" of the enemy—unless the Japanese themselves invite such a fate by refusal to surrender in a hopeless struggle. Most Americans wouldn't even oppose letting the emperor continue his horseback riding.

They probably would be inclined to give him one final canter—to a date with his ancestors. And anyway, Admiral Halsey wants to ride the white horse in the victory parade.

More Oil In The Offing

EARLY next year America will begin to have relief from the tremendous strain on its petroleum resources when the Gulf Oil corporation begins marketing oil from Kuwait concession on the Persian Gulf. This corporation shares ownership of the concession with a British oil company.

The Kuwait concession is known as one of the richest petroleum fields in the world. Several wells have been completed, and proved reserves total approximately 4,000,000,000 barrels. Further exploration may increase this.

Standard of California and the Texas company have other concessions in Saudi Arabia and a pipeline is to be laid across Arabia to the Mediterranean. This will serve Kuwait also.

It is doubtful if this Asian oil will be brought to the United States. But it can be used to provide petroleum for the United States export markets. Before the war considerable oil was exported from the United States. After the war the American people may need all this petroleum.

For many months the United States was providing virtually all the oil for the Allies. At the earliest opportunity American reserves should be conserved in favor of American oil developed in other parts of the world.

Searching Out Our Enemies

IT isn't necessarily the diseases which kill the most people that have most money spent on them in the research laboratories.

Approximately three times as many persons die of heart and artery diseases as die of cancer, the second greatest killer, and yet foundation grants for the last year for which statistics are available for research into heart and artery diseases amounted only to 17 cents for each death from these causes compared to $2.18 for each death from cancer.

These figures are from an announcement by M. Albert Linten, chairman of the joint Medical Research committee of the American Life Convention and the Life Insurance association of America. His announcement dealt with plans for establishing a $500,000 annual fund for medical research mainly in the field of heart and artery diseases. Two hundred insurance companies are represented in the convention and the association.

It has been said previously that research into cardio-vascular diseases lags behind research into other maladies as far as funds allotted for the purpose are concerned. It is to the credit of the groups here mentioned that they plan to do something about the discrepancy.

TURN-ABOUT
XXX

Bruce Temple, big, but with all the hardness melted away, sat in his Cogswell.

"But grave-robbing!" Brenda said.

"That was Eric's idea," Temple answered her. "You may remember that Phineas Hudson's casket had already been selected by him and was stored in the house at Louisburg Square. Well, Phineas had said in both Eric's and my presence that, if he ever got his hands on the Ostermann diamonds, he would either see that they were returned to the rightful owners or take them to the grave with him. Eric thought they might be concealed in the lining of the coffin."

"What had you and Phineas Hudson to do with the Ostermann diamonds?" Brenda asked.

"That," Temple said, "goes a long way back. In 1930 Eric Woolf made Phineas Hudson what seemed like an innocent proposition. Remember this was before the war.

"Eric had formed the Atlantic Distributing company. They dealt in German optical goods and marketed large quantities at incredibly low prices. Eric admitted suavely that American prejudice against infiltration of German goods would be more easily overcome by the presence of Phineas Hudson's name on the letterhead as chairman of the board. The money was good; Phineas Hudson's fortune was gone. He accepted.

"When he found out that it was a front for Nazi activities, it was too late to pull out."

"But, father," Brenda said, "how did you come in on this?"

"Quite by accident," replied Temple. "I had been approached by Peter Xavier to aid in the disposition of the Ostermann collection. The idea was that if the stones were marketed into the private collections of men of means, they would bring a higher price. Xavier's title seemed clear. I accepted the commission.

"I was to receive the gems from Calavestri. But Phineas, through Eric, got wind of a plot of the Gestapo to lift the stones. He told me of it and I started at once for Lisbon to intercept Calavestri, naming Phineas as authorized agent to accept delivery in my absence if I should fail."

"But Calavestri didn't go to Lisbon," I said.

"No." Temple drew thoughtfully on his cigar. "She went to Africa, got passage somehow from Dakar to Natal, and came here from South America."

"Where did Booker come in?" I asked.

"Xavier hired him to watch Calavestri," replied Temple. "He lost her trail when she went to Africa but picked it up again in Boston."

"How about me?"

"Booker had been informed of the substitution of Hudson for me. He thought he had a good contact in you to grab the stones and dispose of them to his own profit. Then things got badly fouled up. Booker lifted the stones after Calavestri's death."

"Did he kill her?"

"No." Temple shook his head. "She was killed by Nazi agents who mistakenly thought she was carrying the stones with her when she tried to contact you."

"But why did she do that?"

"Panic," Temple said. "She wanted to pull out of the deal. Booker had been after her to abscond with the stones. You looked honest."

"And credulous," I said. "What was Booker doing at The Ledges?"

"Hiding out," Temple said. "He pushed his nuisance value so hard with Phineas that Phineas gave him asylum. Then Phineas had to try to beat you down here when Pat told him where you were headed."

"It was Booker then who hit me in the cellar."

"Yes," Temple answered, "and who took a shot at you in your room. But he got into the wrong room. He was looking for Phineas."

"Did father set fire to The Ledges?" Pat asked.

Bruce Temple looked thoughtful. He said:

"Booker."

"How do you know?"

"How do I know he didn't," Temple said. "Phineas framed that little message in Nicholas's mirror; then after he had got you all out, he went back and took the stones from Booker at the point of a pistol. He was hard pressed so he cached the stones in the cemetery, and some time after that Eric got him."

Brenda's lovely eyes were on her father. She said:

"I still don't see how that explains your presence in the Sandy Point graveyard with a shovel."

Bruce Temple looked quizzically at his daughter.

"Wasn't it a good thing for you and Nick that I was?" he asked.

"Yes, father," she said.

"Remember I was still the best bet for disposing of the stones. Frim the time Phineas and I faked that motor trouble at The Ledges it was all-out war between two decadent old gentlemen and a prowling wolf?"

"Nick," Pat said.

"Yes?"

"Charley will take me home." I looked up.

"You don't mind?" asked Charley.

"No," I said.

"You're sure?" asked Charley.

"Sure, I'm sure," I said.

"Well—" Charley said.

Pat and Brenda laughed.

"What's funny?" I asked.

"We're tired," Brenda said, "and we feel silly. Don't worry about Nick; I'll take care of him."

"Will you," I said.

Brenda's cheeks were agreeably flushed. She said:

"Yes I will. And don't you think I can't."

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

ONE of the unshakable beliefs among wives is that every husband who goes to his office in the morning has, at his beck and call, a beautiful blonde secretary who immediately on arrival jumps on his lap and takes her dictation.

BRANDEIS

According to this belief several times during the day this beautiful blonde throws her arms around her boss's neck, kisses him and tells him what a great, big, wonderful boy he is.

And, if the husband should be forced to work overtime and stay in the office until ten or eleven, the wife takes it for granted that he is out carousing with his secretary whose one ambition in life is to alienate her employer's affections.

The cartoonists and the movies certainly have done their share to confirm the suspicions of every wife whose husband has a swivel-chair job, and I am afraid there isn't much that can be done about it.

Nevertheless I'd like to give you a little of my own experience and that of many executives and department heads who have or have had secretaries.

I know from personal experience that the great majority of secretaries thoroughly detest their bosses and consider them inconsiderate slave-drivers with whom they wouldn't be seen in public.

Furthermore, only about one in every hundred secretaries is sufficiently good-looking to rate even mild attention.

With American business being what it is, there are very few executives who have any opportunity for romance in their offices, even if they are so minded.

Any man who earns enough money to have a secretary is busy making a living. There are callers and telephones and meetings—and work to be done.

A lot of women call their husbands' secretaries "office wives" and thus express their suspicion in what they think is very descriptive.

WELL, how much in-the-lap-sitting and arm-around-the-neck-throwing and going-on-parties is there among husbands and their "home wives?" Don't most women complain that their husbands aren't attentive enough, lack romance and don't take them out enough?

Don't they wish sometimes that there were more glamour and more dash in their married lives?

Well, why should bookkeeping and accounting and manufacturing and selling be any more provocative of romance than keeping house?

Why should any woman who is sure of herself and feels that she is entitled to the affection and love of her husband be afraid of his secretary?

I don't say that men are angels or exemplars of proper behavior. But let the wives remember that a man who spends his days in making or selling plumbing equipment or washtubs is no swashbuckling knight to his secretary nor are typewriting and shorthand sufficiently romantic occupations to produce an army of Cleopatras.

The only secretary who ever jumped into my lap was scared by a mouse.

The National Whirligig

House And Senate Near Break

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE parliamentary politeness which House and Senate normally extend to each other will be rudely smashed if members of the upper chamber persist in their holier-than-thou attitude toward colleagues' determination to obtain a nontaxable expense allowance of $2,500 or thereabouts. It is doubtful whether personal and legislative relations between the two bodies were ever more strained than at the present moment.

Should the Senate block the next attempt at a raise, the House Appropriations committee will authorize a full-dress investigation into the hitherto private financial affairs of the Congressional household. Its aim will be to depict its uppity associates as snooty and selfish members of a "rich man's club."

In the same bill carrying the $2,500 boost for House members, the senators sneaked in numerous benefits for themselves. They increased the "fund for contingent expenses" by more than $100,000. Although this money is supposed to pay for extraordinary expenditures in line of duty, the House snoopers will show that it often finances a senator's vacation along Broadway or a week's rest at home.

TUCKER

The senators enjoy free service in the ritziest barber shop this side of Paris, whereas lesser legislators pay for their haircuts, shaves and massages. The objectors to the $2,500 tip run up government-paid phone bills amounting to almost $2,000 annually, while the House boys have to pay for their own calls, cannot charge them off at income tax time and must also give Henry's Morgenthau, jr. his 20 per cent levy.

The senators rate free "beverages," and it is understood that Scotch and bourbon, as well as fancy soda water, have been purchased on this account. They somehow get steaks and chops in their private restaurant, where, so House members aver, official losses frequently cover such things as failure of the diners to pay bills totaling hundreds and sometimes thousands of dollars.

Last, the $2,500 bloc complains bitterly about the difference between the two groups' allowances for secretarial help. Senators from the most sparsely populated states get at least $17,500 a year. Chairman of important committees, as well as their Republican opposites, are given an even larger sum. But House men are held to a maximum of $9,000, even though many have more people in their districts than there are in the bailiwicks of half a dozen senators from the Far West. It is also hinted that portions of these amounts find their way into senatorial bank accounts.

MORGENTHAU: A backstage picture of the controversy over the money measure reveals that hypocrisy and demagoguery characterized its inception and the attempted execution from start to finish.

Congressmen charge that Secretary Morgenthau is partially at fault. They say that he has been more strict in disallowing expense deductions than any of his predecessors. He fears, according to the lawmakers, that he may be suspected of going light on them in order to get favorable legislation for the Treasury. Privately, they admire his stand, but it penalizes them.

Originally, it was planned by House leaders that the Ways and Means committee would visit Mr. Morgenthau in a body and try to persuade him to make more liberal Internal Revenue regulations on this score. But the Doughton group reneged lest its members be criticized for trying to feather their own nests.

FIGHT: Next, the Republican and Democratic bosses organized a joint movement to get the extra $2,500 through a mere appropriation. Speaker Sam Rayburn and Minority Leader Joe Martin canvassed both sides of the aisle and turned up an overwhelming majority. The two Steering committees voted almost unanimously for the scheme.

One active promoter was John Taber, New York Republican, who heads the GOP representation on the House Appropriations committee. He advised on the framing of the proposed law. But when Appropriations came to its final executive session decision, he flabbergasted his colleagues by voting "No."

Although Chairman Clarence Cannon had previously answered "Yes," he switched to the negative for fear Republican Taber would try to make political capital from the deal. Their subsequent fist fight followed Cannon's charge that Taber had "double-crossed" the proponents.

But both sides reserve their fullest measure of scorn for the members who beat their noble breasts and denounced the bill when it reached the floor for debate and action.

The first philippic was delivered by a North Carolinian of moderate wealth who still draws a World War I pension for a nonservice-connected disability. The second attack came from a Pennsylvanian manufacturer whose firm has more than $6,000,000 of government war contracts.

Still another was uttered by a rich Mississippi planter who once had received about $80,000 annually from the AAA for not growing cotton. He led the opposition when the House demanded that maximum payment to nonproducers should not exceed $10,000 a year. A Kansas farmer whose annual AAA benefit payments had totaled around $40,000 a year also deprecated his fellows' attempt to make both ends meet.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

AMERICAN-TRAINED and equipped Chinese warriors last week chased the Japs from Liuchow, General Chennault's old air base.

At first glance there may seem to be little connection between this "side show" and our invasion of Nippon. Yet there is.

LEMAN

A routed enemy on the continent must draw fresh guns and ammunition from the blitz-weakened factories at home. If cut to ribbons it cannot reinforce troops that will some day confront American landing parties. Once Hirohito's grip on Chinese coastal ports is loosened, supplies will pour in to strengthen Chiang Kai-shek.

We have two major objectives in this war: 1. To defeat Japan. 2. To remove the threat of danger from Asia for our generation.

The help that we are giving China is based primarily on the second. We do not want a hostile power or a coalition inimical to North American security to fill the vacuum left by Japan.

We are supporting the generalissimo because we think that he is the one most likely to build a strong country friendly to the U. S. A. Our long-range aim is the safety of Alaska, Washington, Oregon and California, say, 25 years hence.

DIFFICULTIES: Officials in New York back from Chungking speak highly of the progress made by the new Chinese army.

Thousands of officers are studying tactics in a valley which our teachers call the "Rose Bowl." Students are even taught crap shooting. To overcome language difficulties quickly, American-born Chinese serve as drill instructors.

To show appreciation, Chiang's Foreign Affairs bureau has tried to add to the comfort of the Americans. Knowing the desire of the GIs for warm barracks, the Chinese set aside a coal mine 50 miles from Chungking solely for the Yanks. Carriers brought water cans from springs three miles distant so that our boys could have their daily baths.

An invasion achieved anywhere along the 5,000 miles of Chinese coast would give General MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz a large base for assembling a cast amphibious expedition for the attack on Japan. But it would also bolster Chiang in his struggle with the remaining Japanese and with any group in China disputing his control.

If he is to rule successfully and carry out his promise of greater democracy, his country must be strong industrially after the war.

"Charlie And Bob," A Study In Contrasts

Taft Brothers Mirror GOP Split

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—It seems there are two brothers, surname of Taft.

Robert A. and Charles P. — "Bob" and "Charlie."

Their father was President and Chief Justice.

Robert A., who is in the Senate, was barely nosed out for the Republican presidential nomination in 1940 by the late Wendell L. Willkie. Charles P., who has been active in Cincinnati's politics, but never on a national scale, is now with the State Department. He is director of the Office of Transport and Communications policy.

STOKES

Both are Republicans—but with what a difference!

The difference between the two brothers on current vital issues symbolizes the differences within the Republican party itself, today. The Republican party, with its Conservative and Progressive wings, is almost as much a house divided against itself as the Democratic party, with is schism between Conservatives and Progressives.

Views In Sharp Conflict

On the current Reciprocal Tariff issue, now pending before the Senate, the Taft brothers are in a dramatic conflict of view. The senator, Robert A., is fighting the Truman administration proposal to permit another 50 per cent reduction in duties in bargaining with other nations for tariff cuts. Charles P. is campaigning for the administration program.

To this onlooker, it appears that the younger brother, Charles P., is taking on the tariff—as on other issues—a broad national and international viewpoint, while the senator is taking the narrow, backward glance of the stand-pat GOP, based in localism and economic isolationism.

* * *

THE views of Charles Taft certainly are those of many rank-and-file Republicans of today, as well as of some outstanding party leaders of today and the immediate past, including the last three Republican presidential candidates—Alf F. Landon, Wendell Willkie and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Senator Taft's viewpoint, however, prevails in Congress where the party must make its record.

Which way is the party headed—in the Bob Taft or the Charlie Taft direction?

This is an important decision, not only for the party, but for the country. The Republican party has a serious responsibility. As far as the party is concerned, it might be pointed out that in the last three national elections, the people have looked behind the party platform and the candidate's pronouncements to the party's record in Congress, which was different in many respects. Those elections did not go to republicans.

But, should the party win in a sort of process of default, in a natural reaction against another party long in power and against war restrictions, what sort of leadership would it exert? Will a presidential candidate's declarations for international co-operation on the economic front be nullified by his party in Congress? That's where party responsibility to the nation is involved.

Broad Policy Traced

Charles Taft does not think the opposition to the administration's Reciprocal Tariff program by his party in Congress, which includes his brother, represents the party or the traditional party position. He cites chapter and verse. He goes back far beyond his own father, who was a champion of reciprocity when President 30 years ago, back to Republican Secretary of State James G. Blaine who asked for a reciprocity provision in the Tariff act of 1890.

He traces the lines through Presidents McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, his father, down to the first form of the present Reciprocal Tariff policy adopted by Republicans in the '20s which was expanded and broadened by Secretary of State Hull.

OPPOSITION to the administration's program, which includes also some Senate Democrats, he labels as "irresponsible opposition."

"Time," he said, "is waiting for no man these days. Without prompt action to stabilize currencies, to finance reconstruction, and to stop the threat of spiralling tariffs, and preferences, quotas and trade barriers abroad, the chances for expansion of private trade to supply the needs and raise the standards of living in the world are slim indeed."

Is it to be the Bob Taft or the Charlie Taft way?

Missing Sought At Rate Of 20 Daily

AUSTIN, June 13 (AP)—Public Safety Director Homer Garrison, jr., reports that Texas officers are being called upon to search for missing persons (many of them runaway girls at the rate of 20 per day.

The total of such cases to date is 1,796, double last year, said Garrison.

He attributes this, as well as the marked increase in general juvenile delinquent cases, to the "uncertainties of our times."

In the department's quarterly statistical report the arrest of 5,472 minors in the first quarter of this year was listed as compared to 5,343 juvenile arrests in the same period last year.

THANKS FARMERS
IN BEHALF of our boys in the armed forces, we wish to thank you for the way you responded to our plea for large clean grade A eggs. Because of your patriotic cooperation we have been able to get their eggs to them much faster than could have been possible otherwise. We still have many more war department orders to fill, and the government is looking to you to help us meet our increased quotas.
If you haven't heard of the way that you can make more money, and still be helping our soldier boys, ask your neighbor, or we will give you the information. Your large clean grade A eggs are still desperately needed. Thanks again.

AIRCRAFTS PACE GAINS

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—Late buying changed mixed tendencies of today's stock market into a general recovery paced by gains of more than 3 points in aircrafts and fair-sized advances in utilities, specialties and steels.

Aviations received the most attention throughout the session and several touched new 1945 highs as investors figured business would be brisk for planes in the Pacific war theater and also in the post-war period.

The list was liberally sprinkled with other yearly peaks, including Public Service, United Corp., Missouri-Kansas-Texas preferred and Colorado Fuel and Iron. Transactions totaled 1,590,000 shares against 1,320,000 Tuesday. The Associated Press 60-share composite rose .2 of a point to 66.1.

Aircrafts at new tops for 1945 or longer were Boeing, Douglas, Grumman, Bell and Republic.

Scattered losers were made up of Western Union "A," Kennecott, American Can and Johns-Manville.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP) — Persistent commission house profit taking featured a reactionary trend in the cotton futures market today which closed 5 cents a bale higher to 15 cents lower. The selling was influenced by uncertainty injected into the price control situation by senate adoption of the Wherry amendment to guarantee reasonable profits to farmers.

Traders feared this might upset the present parity system for maintaining farm prices. Mills were good buyers of the near months against textile orders while some new commission house buying developed on the decline. The government weekly weather report indicated the crops made fairly good progress during the week but it was not as favorable as the previous week.

Futures closed 15 cents a bale lower to 5 cents higher.

Revival Services On At Broadway Church Here

Paul Southern, minister of the North Side Church of Christ at Abilene, will deliver messages daily at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. for the June campaign being held at the Broadway Church of Christ, according to Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister.

Two other visiting evangelists, Otis Gatewood of Los Angeles and Richard Rivers of New York City, will be present at all meetings. Gatewood has delivered several messages and Rivers will direct congregational singing.

Each meeting is preceded by a Christian Training class, composed of 75 members, directed by Gatewood. More than 275 persons are enrolled for the vacation Bible school which opened Sunday, when the campaign was begun.

The revival, which will close June 27, is being sponsored by and held at the Broadway Church of Christ, through the cooperative efforts of all Lubbock Churches of Christ, Dr. Young said.

Florida Anti-Closed Shop Law Is Upheld; AFL Said Planning Appeal

By FRED W. PERKINS
Scripps Howard Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 13. — After a series of victories in the U. S. Supreme court, which has invalidated various state laws directed against unions, organized labor faces today the most serious threat to date in this field — Florida's constitutional amendment barring a closed shop.

A three-judge federal court in Tampa held unanimously Monday that the state amendment did not violate the federal constitution, and was an appropriate use of the state's police power.

Court To Recess

Herbert S. Thatcher, associated with Joseph A. Padway, general counsel of the American Federation of Labor, said today that the decision will immediately be appealed to the Supreme court. But no action can be expected before next fall because the court is about to recess for the summer.

Mr. Thatcher said this is the first time the closed-shop issue has come up for final determination, and "the closed shop is the main objective of any labor union." He described the cast as the most vital to organized labor since guarantees of free speech were upheld. Victories so far won, he said, involved less sweeping questions.

Another factor heightening the importance of this case is that it involves an amendment to a state constitution, regularly adopted by Florida voters last fall. Most of the instances in which the Supreme court has knocked down anti-union laws have involved acts by state legislatures, which are not regarded as having the force of amendments passed on by the electorate.

The Florida amendment provides that no man must belong to a labor union for the right to work, and it prohibits employers from making union affiliation, or the lack of it, a condition of employment.

Similar Laws Proposed

Similar laws have been proposed in other states, but an anti-closed shop statute is on the books only in South Dakota. There, according to Mr. Thatcher, no effort has been made to enforce it.

Labor spokesmen contend however, that the Florida law may encourage similar efforts in other states, especially if the Tampa court should be upheld by the Supreme court.

Federal administrators have shied away from this dynamite-laden question, although the late President Roosevelt once said the government would never force a man to join a labor organization. However, federal policies have encouraged rather than retarded the closed shop. The War Labor board has sidestepped the issue by granting maintenance of membership to unions during the emergency. Under this system union members must continue to pay dues during the life of a labor contract unless they take advantage of a brief "escape period" at its inception.

The Florida case was argued by Messrs. Padway and Thatcher. The CIO filed a supporting brief.

The AFL lawyers argued that the closed shop is necessary for protection of union security against discrimination, for achievement of bargaining equality with employers, for maintenance of working standards and protection of benefits won through collective bargaining, for promotion of labor-management co-operation, for increase of union responsibility, and for elimination of jurisdictional strife with other unions.

Tass Says American Evacuation Awaited

MOSCOW, June 13 (U.P.)—Russia still is waiting for American forces to evacuate the Soviet occupation zone in Germany, the official Soviet news agency Tass said today.

Tass denied a London News-Chronicle dispatch reporting that the American withdrawal already had begun and could be completed within a few days if the Russians had sufficient troops to take over the territory.

"Tass has also been authorized to state that there will be no delay in occupation by Soviet troops of the area from which Allied forces will be withdrawn," Tass said.

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 25¢.

WHAT . . .
NO BLOW-OUT?

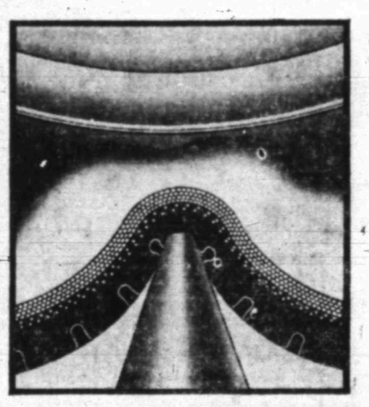

"SPIKE TEST" RIVERSIDES' PROVES 12% STRONGER PLIES GIVE GREATER BLOW-OUT PROTECTION

TESTS LIKE THIS ONE . . .
made in the test-laboratory of the huge factory that builds Wards Tires, prove Riversides' higher quality. Pictured here is the "rupture-resistance" test.

RIVERSIDES CAN "TAKE IT"!
A huge spike is "shot" like a projectile, into the spinning Riverside Tire. This big steel spike actually "buries" itself deep-in . . . as the tire rolls over it!

WHAT HAPPENS INSIDE?
This X-ray view shows the spike "in" the tire. The tire has shaped itself around the spike! Yet . . . there's no blow-out, not the slightest damage to the tire!

Laboratory and road tests, alike, prove that Riversides are now even stronger than pre-war first-quality Riversides! Every ply is stronger, because each cord is stronger to begin with; then chemically-strengthened to stay stronger longer! But that only half-explains Riversides' greater strength! The cords are next immersed in a "bonding" solution that "welds" them together! In the final operation, the cords are cushioned between two layers of rubber. The result:—a STRONGER ply, which is further strengthened when it is cemented to other plies of similar-strength to make a safe "tire-body." In Riversides, every precaution is taken to provide protection against separation and blowouts!

THAT'S WHY WE SAY MORE MILES-OF-SAFETY ON "RIVERSIDES"
