Laundry fire...

Travelers files petition, places funds in escrow

The insurance company for a business destroyed by fire last December has filed an interpleader's petition in 132nd District Court and has placed proceeds of the claim in escrow with the court.

The Travelers Lloyds Insurance has named West Texas State Bank, Snyder Laundry, Dry Cleaning and Linen Supply Inc., David Wickline and J. Edwin Price in the petition filed May 29.

The business, owned 100 percent by David Wickline, burned on Dec. 5, destroying both the building and its contents.

The petition said that West Texas State Bank has a security interest in the business and contents due to loans made by the bank, and WTSB was named as a mortgagee on the policy.

The insurance company petition said questions have been raised as to whether the fire was intentionally set. As a result, Travelers said it began an investigation that is yet to be completed.

The insurance company has set the actual cash loss to the building at $296,908. Travelers said it initially made a $50,000 payment before the arson issue was raised. Prior payment would leave a net figure of $246,908.

In addition, Travelers has set the value of contents at $334,750. Travelers said it attempted to pay the proceeds to the bank, but that Wickline and his attorney, J. Edwin Price of Lubbock, objected.

The insurance company, seeking to protect itself from multiple liability from conflicting claims against the insurance proceeds, filed the petition and deposited $581,658 with the court clerk.

In a separate suit filed April 23, Wickline is seeking $1.2 million from Travelers. The Snyder business has since ceased its Snyder operation with Wickline blaming the insurance company's refusal to pay claims as the reason for the closing.

Storm settles over Lake Thomas

Lightning is blamed for several electrical outages, oil field fires

A thunderstorm that rolled into Scurry County this morning played havoc with area electrical equipment but was dropping some much-needed rain over Lake J.B. Thomas.

Colorado River Municipal Water District officials did not have elevation statistics available this morning but did say that the drought-ravaged lake had received 2.4 inches. Most of that, CRMWD officials said, was directly over the lake, and little runoff was expected. However, it was still raining there at 10:15 a.m.

Areas of Scurry County reported as much as 1.8 inches of rainfall by mid-morning. On the other hand, lightning produced by the storm was blamed on at least three tank battery fires and several minor electrical outages.

An alarm at the Hermleigh Allsup's store sounded at the Law Enforcement Center around 4 a.m. as a result of TU Electric losing power. The power was restored there around 6:30 a.m.

Midwest Electric Co-Op had lightning hit its Union sub-station around 4:20 a.m. and power was restored around 5:30 a.m.

At 4:31 a.m., TU Electric workers responded to a report of sparks coming from a transformer in the 3700 block of Dalton.

Snyder Fire Department responded to a fire at 5:30 a.m. four miles west of Ira on the C.M. Russell Oil Producers Lindsey A lease. Lightning struck a storage tank and the department extinguished the blaze.

At 7:05 a.m., the department responded to a tank battery fire four miles south of Union on the BTA Oil Producer's White Buffalo lease. Lightning had hit a water tank and it exploded.

The fire department was responding to yet another tank battery fire near Vincent at mid-morning today.

Rain reports from across the area included 1.8 inches at Camp Springs, 1.5 just east of Snyder, 1.4 at Hermleigh, 1.5 at Dunn, 2.2 at Ira and 1.25 west of Snyder. Rainfall was more scattered along the northern edge of the county. Polar reported just .15 of an inch.

The City of Snyder reported .67 of an inch at 7 o'clock this morning and another 3 tenths by 10:30 — a total of just under one inch. That would bring rainfall for the year to more than 13.6 inches. Snyder had received just 3.12 inches last year through June 6.

More rain is possible. The forecast calls for a 30 percent chance tonight and Saturday.

Otherwise, partly to mostly cloudy skies are expected with highs Saturday mostly in the 80s and 90s across West Texas. Lows tonight will be mainly in the 50s and 60s.

Counterfeit bill passed Thursday

Snyder Police Sgt. Jerry Parker said a bogus $100 bill was passed at Lawrence IGA at 30th and College Avenue sometime Thursday morning.

"It's definitely a counterfeit bill," said Parker.

Store manager C.R. Perez said the bill was identified by their scanning equipment as they prepared to make the day's deposits.

Perez said the bill was the new variety with a large picture of Benjamin Franklin on it.

"I feel others might turn up," said Parker. "I urge all store owners to be aware of the possibility of more of them in town."

No description was available on the person that passed the bill, other than being a white male, about 6-2 in height.

Steve Barker, resident agent with the U.S. Secret Service in Lubbock, said this morning that the bills are showing up between Dallas and Lubbock.

Barker said the bills do not have the watermark of Franklin on the right side of the bill, nor do they have the security thread on the left side of the bill.

"The counterfeit bill will have lots of little dots on it as a result of being printed on a jet ink printer," said Barker.

The serial number on the bills have all been the same: AK80224151A.

Officers take another subject to jail on drug-related charges

Local peace officers made another drug-related arrest Thursday, the fourth this week.

Following the execution of a search warrant shortly after 2 p.m. Thursday, Snyder police officers arrested James Franklin Simmons at his residence at 212 25th St. for felony possession of marijuana.

Franklin, 32, was placed in the Scurry County Jail, where he was still being held this morning on $5,000 bond.

Sgt. Jerry Parker said the arrest was the result of an investigation by the police department, sheriff's office and the West Central Texas Interlocal Task Force.

Officers arrested three other individuals on drug-related charges Tuesday following their indictments by the Scurry County grand jury a day earlier.

Daniel Morin, 35, of 1200 Ave. L, was arrested Tuesday morning at 1166 N. Ave. L. Morin was taken into custody on two indictments — delivery of cocaine of less than one gram and delivery of cocaine of more than one gram.

Bond was set at $5,000 on the first charge and $15,000 on the second. Morin remained in jail this morning.

Gregario Guerra, 27, of 1601 Ave. L was arrested at noon Tuesday at a location near Highway 208 and FM 1611. He is charged with delivery of cocaine of less than one gram.

Guerra was freed on $5,000 bond. However, he had been on probation for felony driving while intoxicated and a warrant was issued for his arrest to revoke probation.

Guerra turned himself in at the jail at 6 p.m. Thursday.

Also arrested on a sealed indictment Tuesday was Larry Lorenzo Carrisalez, 35, of 605 19th St. Carrisalez was taken into custody on an indictment for delivery of less than one ounce of cocaine. He remained in custody this morning.

More arrests are expected. The grand jury issued eight sealed indictments and four remain sealed, pending arrests.

THE SDN COLUMN

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The best way to get rid of noise in the back of the car is to leave the kids at home."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

The Colorado City Record reports that the city is still awaiting the return of its disputed cannon.

The Oklahoma City bombing, Ruby Ridge, stolen military equipment and the '60 Minutes' television show are all said to be factors delaying the return of the cannon to C-City, according to the chief of the U.S. Army's RE-USE department.

Current events involving militant groups, negative national publicity on the use of old military equipment and a large demand for the equipment for display have led the Secretary of the Army to put a halt to distribution of unused, demilitarized equipment.

Meanwhile, C-City's cannon remains in limbo, in front of the VFW Post in Sweetwater after a small group of veterans in that city hauled off the cannon last February after receiving okay from the U.S. Army.

The army attempted to resolve the dispute by giving the Sweetwater post a replacement cannon located at Fort Hood. It can't be moved, however, until the indefinite moratorium is lifted.

Sweetwater post members have so far refused to return the cannon until a replacement is received.

The Post Dispatch has been awarded a $350,000 disaster relief grant for the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs.

The money will be used to locate an alternative water source due to the depletion of water in White River Lake.

The Rotan Advance reports that the city of Rotan has the highest water rates of 25 area towns surveyed. The basic cost for 10,000 gallons is $37.50 — $8.50 for the first 2,000 gallons and $3.25 for each additional gallon.

In the survey, Snyder, from who Rotan purchases its water, is listed as ninth at $29.45 for 10,000 gallons.

Other towns higher than Snyder are Ballinger, Hamlin, Stanton, Rising Star, Anson, Aspermont and Merkel.

For 10,000 gallons, Post has the lowest rate at $17. Others lower than Snyder are Roby, Haskell, Stamford, Crowell, Munday, Spur, Albany, Seymour, Robert Lee, Crosbyton, Bronte, Paducah, Lorenzo, Miles and Sweetwater.

It's interesting. Post has the lowest rate, but is needing to develop a new source for water.

Boy who was beaten set to leave hospital

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A boy beaten to the brink of death was grinning, twisting his head to see strangers and soaking up praise Thursday as doctors announced the 2-year-old's imminent departure from the hospital.

Oz Decator is headed in a few days to the pediatric rehabilitation unit of Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas. He has spent the past two months at St. John Medical Center recovering from severe head injuries.

Doctors said the progress was miraculous for a boy who initially wasn't expected to survive having been beaten and left in near-freezing weather under an abandoned home.

"He's just wonderful, bright-eyed, a flirt," said grandmother Mary Watson.

The Monroe, La., woman could not contain her glee and thanks for the nurses, pediatricians and neurosurgeon who operated on her grandson. Ms. Watson said she intends to take Oz to the zoo and on picnics.

"I'm going to make sure this baby enjoys life," she said.

The boy's mother, 23-year-old Monica Denise Decator, was found stabbed and beaten to death in their burning home in April. Her boyfriend, Shelton Jackson, was arrested near McAlester on a bus bound for Houston.

Police said Jackson, 24, drew them a map showing where they could find Oz — under a nearby house, beneath a dirty carpet

Jackson reportedly told police he had held Oz by the neck and bashed his head repeatedly against a wall. One officer said a screwdriver also had been stuck into the child's mouth.

Jackson faces charges in Ms. Decator's death and Oz's beating, which attracted worldwide attention. The hospital received toys, cards and donations from hundreds of well-wishers who heard of the boy's ordeal.

On Thursday, Oz was strapped into a stroller and rolled into a news conference. His big dark eyes blinked; his fingers toyed with a bib that said "Special ... getting lots of attention."

He formed little "o" shapes with his mouth and at one point made a content humming sound. His grandmother held his hand.

"Just like his momma," Ms. Watson said. "She's looking at me through his eyes."

Dr. Terence Carey said Oz can see, hear and sit up with a little assistance. He cannot speak or walk because of the brain damage, the attending physician said.

Former Klansman executed

ATMORE, Ala. (AP) — A former Ku Klux Klansman convicted of killing a black teenager had tears in his eyes and words of love for his victim's family before he was executed today in Alabama's electric chair.

Henry Francis Hays, 42, was pronounced dead at 12:18 a.m. It was Alabama's first execution for a white-on-black crime in 84 years.

Hays was convicted of the 1981 murder of Michael Donald, who was beaten, slashed and strangled with a rope after being abducted at random from a street in Mobile. His body was hanged from a tree.

Seated in the electric chair, a frightened, tearful Hays gave a thumbs up sign to witnesses. He then turned to his brother, Ray, and Donald's brother, Stanley, and mouthed, "I love you."

Stanley Donald later called Hays a "nut," and said the execution brought no satisfaction. "What I just witnessed was a sad sight to see a young man let his life go like that," he said.

Morin Muffler grand opening set Saturday

Grand opening for Morin Muffler and Tire will be held Saturday at the new business' location on the Lamesa Highway.

Owners Val and Pat Morin invite everyone for free hot dogs, hamburgers and soft drinks from 2-5 p.m. There will be balloons for the kids.

In addition, those stopping by will receive free 10 percent-off coupons.

"We'd like to invite the whole town," said Pat. "We'd like to get to know everyone. Snyder seems like a great place."

The shop will be open from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturdays.

They sell and service all types of exhaust systems, and feature a complete line of tires and batteries at competitive prices.

Pat will be at the receptionist's desk to greet everyone, a plus, she feels, because women sometimes feel intimidated by auto shops.

"Maybe this will make them feel a little more comfortable," she said.

The Morins are from Rotan and have four children.

Official opening of the business will be Monday. The location is 3202 Lamesa Highway. The phone number is 573-4255.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A misunderstanding you had with an old friend can only be resolved if it is brought out into the open. Silence serves to keep the issue smoldering.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you can't say something nice about one friend to another, it's best to say nothing today. Any biting comments you make will be exposed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A cooperative associate might forsake this role if you fail to give him or her proper acknowledgement. Do not take credit for another's handiwork.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today it might be too easy for you to blame others for your mistakes. Keep you ego out of the picture and confess to your own shortcomings.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You might have to contend with a person today with whom you innately feel uncomfortable. Do not bend over backward patronizing him or her.

Public gains access to more data from assassination saga

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty years ago, the country was startled by a New Orleans district attorney's announcement that John Kennedy's assassination had been the result of a conspiracy, after all, and one of the conspirators was local businessman Clay Shaw.

A five-week trial with 66 witnesses cleared Shaw two years later. Now, historians, researchers and anyone else curious about the accused man will have a chance to go through Shaw's papers — six boxes of them, including his diary, correspondence, business records, passports and photographs.

They promise to shed a bit more light on what became a bizarre footnote to the assassination saga.

The Assassination Records Review Board, an agency created by Congress to gather all available records of the 1963 murder of the president, announced Thursday it has acquired the papers Shaw left behind. Donated by a Shaw friend who preferred anonymity, the papers will be open to all at the National Archives in a few months, the board said.

New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison refused to accept the conclusion of a commission chaired by Chief Justice Earl Warren that a "perpetually discontented" Lee Harvey Oswald was the sole player in the killing of Kennedy in Dallas. Garrison conducted his own investigation and ordered the arrest of Shaw, director of the International Trade Mart in New Orleans.

In 1969, he charged in court that the murder had been planned by Shaw and others, including Oswald and David W. Ferrie, a former pilot.

The district attorney also said that Kennedy and his co-passenger, Texas Gov. John Connally, had been hit by "gunshots fired by different guns at different locations" — contradicting the Warren Commission findings.

Shaw, who died in 1974, was acquitted after the long trial. From the witness stand, lawyer Dean A. Andrews Jr. admitted that the story he had told the Warren Commission about overhearing Oswald and Shaw plotting an assassination had been a figment of his imagination — "huffing and puffing" as he put it.

One of Shaw's writings that will be made public includes a diary entry on March 1, 1967, that details a pre-arrest interview with one of Garrison's assistants, Andrew "Moo Moo" Sciambra. In the entry, Shaw told about the commotion Oswald had stirred up by distributing Fair Play for Cuba Committee pamphlets in front of the trade mart. He wrote that he had been on the phone and missed Oswald's demonstration.

"I explained to Sciambra that I had not at any time had an opportunity to see Oswald and had never met him under any other circumstances and added what turned out to be a very ironic remark — that it was perhaps unfortunate that I did not 'cause then I might possibly have had a tiny footnote in history."

"The Shaw papers will surely add another dimension to this particular chapter of the assassination story," said board Chairman John R. Tunheim, a federal judge in Minnesota.

Woman's fear of kissing puts fiance in a funk

DEAR ABBY: We are 83 and 86, and engaged to be married. This is my problem: I haven't had a "real" kiss for some time.

My fiancee, Emma, had a sore throat several months ago, so she stopped kissing me on the lips. Recently she told me she had seen on television that there was an outbreak of the "kissing disease." Now she has become completely paranoid about it.

Emma says she loves me and is always very attentive when we're together. However, when I try to kiss her, I have to settle for a kiss on the cheek.

Am I being unreasonable to want a kiss on the lips?

TIRED OF TURNING
THE OTHER CHEEK

DEAR TIRED: In view of the fact that you and Emma are engaged to be married, you are not being unreasonable in wanting to be kissed in a romantic fashion.

Ask Emma to be frank with you. She may be reluctant to tell you that you have a halitosis problem. If that's not it, schedule a visit with a physician who can explain to Emma how the "kissing disease" (infectious mononucleosis) is transmitted, and screen you for it. If neither of you has it, you won't get it from each other — and she can kiss you till the cows come home with perfect peace of mind.

DEAR ABBY: You published a poem years ago that I clipped and enjoyed very much. It was a poem that compared the behavior of man and the apes, and was quite humorous. I think the title was "The Monkey's Disgrace." Would you put it in your column again, please?

CHESAPEAKE, VA.

DEAR CHESAPEAKE: With pleasure. That poem last appeared in my column in 1987. It's one of my favorites.

THE MONKEY'S DISGRACE

Three monkeys sat in a coconut tree
Discussing things as they are said to be
Said one to the others, "Now listen, you two,
"There's a rumor around that can't be true
"That man descended from our noble race
"The very idea is a great disgrace.

"No monkey has ever deserted his wife
"Starved her babies and ruined her life
"And you've never known a mother monk
"To leave her babies with others to bunk
"Or pass from one on to another
"Till they scarcely knew who is their mother.

"Here's another thing a monkey won't do
"Go out at night and get on a stew
"Or use a gun or club or knife
"To take some other monkey's life
"Yes, man descended, the ornery cuss
"But, brother, he didn't descend from us."

BUILD THE FUTURE WITH ACTION AND VISION

1996 - 97 Rotary International Theme

Happy 50th Anniversary Snyder Rotary Club!

History of the Rotary Club of Snyder, Texas

Writing a history of the Rotary Club of Snyder is somewhat difficult because complete records are not available and much of the data was furnished by the memories of "old timers."

Some information is based on data given by field representatives and district governors and furnished to the writer by the secretariat of Rotary International, Evanston, Ill., USA.

Also, some of the activities and events that happened during its first 27 years of existence and some of the projects sponsored by this club may have been overlooked and omitted. Rotary International may not have been informed about some projects and events because of the club's modesty, but their importance to the club, however, is not diminished.

The club's beginning dates back to 1936 when various field representatives of surrounding areas and neighboring clubs were surveying Snyder with the purpose of establishing a Rotary club to serve the community. The population however was only 3,008, and it was the general consensus of some of the leading citizens that the city could not support two service clubs.

Snyder already had a Lions club with a total membership of 43 members; therefore, the organization of the Rotary Club of Snyder was postponed.

A few years later another survey was conducted by the Rotary clubs of the cities of Midland, Abilene and Sweetwater and their field representatives observed our city's growth with keen interest and finally, on May 20, 1947, the club was organized with 20 charter members.

The charter membership represented a true cross section of the community's business and professional services. The charter was presented by District Governor J.F. "Jim" McCulloch in the presence of more than 300 persons, amongst whom were Rotarians from neighboring cities and their wives.

The Rotary Club of Snyder was born and its territorial limits were listed by Rotary International as Scurry County, Texas.

Jazz hope home court will help

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Most visiting teams already have lost when the cheering starts at the Delta Center, perhaps the NBA's loudest arena.

Most teams are so intimidated that they can't concentrate on the game, and the Jazz take full advantage. That's why Utah is 46-3 at home this season, including 8-0 in the playoffs, and has won 21 consecutive games here.

The Chicago Bulls aren't most teams.

"We love the road. The road is a fun place," Chicago's Ron Harper said Thursday, anticipating tonight's NBA Finals Game 3. "We've got 17,000 fans that hate us. They have a very loud crowd. It's going to be a fun game."

Winning, of course, would be the most fun for the Bulls because that would all but guarantee their fifth championship in seven years. They would lead the series 3-0, and no team ever has come back from such a deficit.

As it is, the odds are heavily stacked against the Jazz, who also play host to Game 4 Sunday and, if necessary, Game 5 next Wednesday.

The Bulls won their first nine best-of-7 series in which they took 2-0 leads; the Jazz are 0-for-5 when falling behind 0-2.

The Bulls won Game 3 on the road in each of their three previous series this postseason.

Alabama nips Miami, 8-6

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — G.W. Keller hit a three-run homer in the fifth inning as top-seeded Alabama defeated Miami 8-6, forcing a second playoff between the teams at the College World Series.

Keller's homer, his 21st, put the Crimson Tide ahead 7-0 after five innings. Heath Henderson (13-2) won despite allowing six runs and eight hits in five-plus innings. Jarrod Kingrey made his third relief appearance of the CWS, pitched four innings for his fourth save.

The winner of Friday's game between Miami (51-17) and Alabama (55-13) will play defending champion LSU (56-13) in the championship Saturday.

Inside park HR helps Texas win

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Damon Buford picked the same night to hit an inside-the-park-homer and make perhaps the best catch of his career

Buford was 2-for-5 with two key RBIs as the Texas Rangers defeated the Royals 6-3 in 11 innings Thursday night.

The inside-the-park homer came in the eighth when Kansas City left fielder Bip Roberts tried to make the play on a line drive that went off the left-field fence and deflected into left-center.

"I thought it was down the line," Buford said. "I put it into an extra gear between second and third."

Then Buford had a part in a strange play in the bottom of the eighth when reliever John Wetteland entered the game with one out, runners on first and third and the Rangers clinging to a 3-2 lead.

Pinch-hitter Chili Davis lined a ball into left-center that appeared to be over Buford's head.

"I never had an angle on it," Buford said. "I was playing him on the other side. I angled across, but it was over my head. I just put my glove up and it went in."

Buford said that it was the best running catch of his career.

Jeff King scored from third after the catch, tying the score. Johnny Damon, who started on first, was almost to third on the play, but the throw from Buford to second baseman Domingo Cedeno to first baseman Will Clark forced him out and ended the inning.

Although double plays usually negate a score, King's run was allowed. "He (home plate umpire Joe Brinkman) said it was a book rule," Texas manager Johnny Oates said. "The run counts because he scored before the out was recorded at first."

Rusty Greer and Juan Gonzalez led off the 11th with consecutive singles off Hipolito Pichardo (1-2). After Clark popped up, Dean Palmer drove in the go-ahead run. Warren Newsome walked to load the bases, Buford hit an RBI single and Benji Gil hit a sacrifice fly.

Wetteland has established himself as one of the top relief pitchers in baseball.

He had 43 saves with the New York Yankees last year to lead the league and won the Rolaids Relief Man Award in the AL.

Astros in, out of first

CINCINNATI (AP) — In less than 18 hours, the Houston Astros went from second place to first and back down again. Their reaction? A shrug.

That's the way it's gone all season in the NL Central division, where no one feels out of it — not even the last-place Cincinnati Reds — and no one can stay on top for very long.

The Reds knocked the Astros out of first place Thursday as backups Lenny Harris and Pokey Reese had three hits apiece in a 6-5 win. Houston fell below .500 once again at 29-30 and fell a half-game behind Pittsburgh.

Disappointing? Not really.

"We're hanging in there," said Shane Reynolds (4-6), who matched his career high by losing his fourth consecutive decision. "We know we haven't played as well has we could have played. I'm definitely not pitching up to my capabilities.

"But it's still early. We've still got a good clubhouse atmosphere."

Asked if he was surprised by the topsy-turvy division, Jeff Bagwell said, "Nope. It's the same as last year. We had almost the exact same records last year at this time."

The Astros were exactly the same at 29-30, in first place by a half-game.

More demand

AUSTIN (AP) — Grape production in the Texas wine industry is falling behind demand for the product, wine experts say.

"We essentially have to double the number or acres we have to just meet the demand of the years 2001 and 2002," vineyardist Paul Bonarrigo told the Austin American-Statesman for a story Friday.

Barriers to that needed increase include weather and inexperienced growers, Bonarrigo, co-owner of Messina Hof Wine Cellars in Bryan, said.

Veto of 'disaster' promised

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Clinton today accused Republicans of choosing the "path of partisanship and confrontation" as he promised to veto an $8.6 billion emergency spending bill. Republicans charged Clinton is playing politics.

The promised veto sets the stage for what could be the most acrimonious showdown since the budget dispute that led to the government shutdown two winters ago. "Because congressional leaders chose to attach unacceptable political items to vital disaster relief legislation, I have no choice but to veto that measure," the president said.

The veto pledge came as Congress approved the final outline of the historic balanced-budget agreement reached between Clinton and Republican leaders.

The House approved the emergency spending measure 220-201 Thursday, minutes after the Senate passed the bill by a 67-31 margin. It could get to the president's desk as early as today.

"Unfortunately, the Republican leaders of Congress have chosen the path of partisanship and confrontation in their actions on the disaster relief bill," Clinton said.

He urged Republicans to send him a new bill without "political provisions ... cutting critical investments in education and the environment ... and that they know I will not accept."

There is wide bipartisan support for the basic spending bill, which would provide $5.5 billion for disaster relief in 35 states, $1.9 billion for peacekeeping in Bosnia and the Mideast and nearly $1 billion for veterans' benefits.

Republicans insisted on using the bill as a vehicle for two measures that the White House vehemently opposes: One would institute a procedure for eliminating the possibility of a shutdown such as those that paralyzed the government in 1995 and 1996. The other would prevent the Census Bureau from using a sampling method in the 2000 census that could boost the number of urban Americans recorded.

The White House says the shutdown measure would result in programs getting less money than agreed upon in the balanced-budget accord.

Two men get prison time

Two Snyder men have been ordered to serve terms in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice following action in 132nd District Court.

Brian Keith Glasco, 27, of 414 30th St. pleaded guilty to two felony counts and was ordered by District Judge Ernie Armstrong to serve concurrent six-year prison sentences.

Glasco pleaded guilty to a June 4 offense of possession of a prohibited weapon, a short-barrel shotgun. While free on bond on the weapons charge, Glasco jumped bond and failed to make a court appearance on Jan. 9. Glasco also entered a guilty plea to the bail jumping charge.

Tommy Ray Hull of Snyder and San Angelo, who was serving a five-year probated sentence for felony driving while intoxicated, will now serve five years in the TDCJ after his probation was revoked by Senior District Judge Gene Dulaney.

The motion to revoke the probation was based on Hull's violation of terms of his probation. He was charged with discharging a firearm toward a home in Mitchell County and also charged with DWI. The defendant also failed to report to his probation officer or to pay fines and court costs.
