Four Known Dead In Gulf Oil Rig Explosion

PREPARING FOR A BIG "FOURTH"—This group shaped up final plans last night for the big community Fourth of July celebration scheduled for Saturday in Towle Memorial Park. Gathering for the final planning session in the Chamber of Commerce office were, from left, Paul Sizemore, general co-chairman; Gordon Dysart, parade co-chairman; Jay Ramsey, county park superintendent; Bentley Baize, general co-chairman, and Bill Seale, parade co-chairman. A variety of activities have been planned for the celebration, with special events scheduled from 8 a.m. until after-dark hours when the big day will be climaxed with a spectacular fireworks display.

Rig Plunges Into Depths

By LOUIS MILLINER

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP) — An explosion and fire roared through a floating oil rig in pre - dawn darkness today, plunging the multi-million dollar apparatus into the depths of the Gulf of Mexico. At least four persons were killed.

Another 13 persons or more were missing.

Twenty-five survivors were brought to Lakewood Hospital here. Some were burned but a hospital spokesman said all were in satisfactory condition.

The dead were not immediately identified.

Helicopters ferried the survivors to this coastal fishing town about 70 air miles west of New Orleans.

The rig sank in 180 feet of water, about 15 minutes after the explosion and wind-whipped flames blanketed the vessel.

Some of the first survivors to arrive at Lakewood Hospital here were unconscious. Others were able to walk away from the rescue helicopters.

At least 42 men were aboard the twin-hulled rig, which was operating 78 miles southwest of Morgan City in the area known as Block 273 of Eugene Island.

The 260-foot long rig—actually a drilling ship—is owned by Reading & Bates of Morgan City. It had moved to the explosion site only Monday.

Half the men on the rig, the C. P. Baker, were asleep when the explosion occurred about 3:30 a.m.

The first survivors to reach here said the on-duty crew hit a shallow high pressure pocket of gas while drilling in the Gulf of Mexico at 640 feet. The gas began seeping up into the rig.

"The floor began to buckle and we knew it was time to get off," said one survivor.

Some had gotten on the Delta Service, a workboat alongside, when sparks on the rig touched off the explosion.

Those on board were trapped momentarily by flames. Wind whipped the flames away from one side of the rig and some of the men were able to jump into the water.

Sea Searched For Missing US Airmen

By BERNARD BROWN

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — U. S. boats and planes were searching off Bermuda's south coast today for 12 American airmen missing after the collision of two Air Force planes during a space training mission.

The planes plunged into the Atlantic Monday as parachuting airmen were running a test rescue operation for the two-man Gemini space project.

There were 24 men in the two planes. Seven were rescued. Five bodies had been recovered Monday night.

The survivors were reported in good condition.

The two planes, each carrying 12 men, brushed wings as Air Force photographers in small boats below were shooting a para-rescue training film. A Gemini capsule was in the water below, and the planes were dropping men to stimulate its recovery.

A spokesman at Kindley Air Force Base, four miles from the scene, said there were indications that all seven survivors had jumped before the crash as part of the scheduled test - rescue operation.

The planes were flying at about 1,500 feet on the same course when they touched, a witness said.

LBJ Offers Atomic Info In New Pact

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson notified Congress today that he has approved a new agreement to extend the types of atomic information the United States may give to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and its member nations.

The new agreement supersedes an earlier one, under which NATO and its members have been receiving some atomic information for the past several years.

In notifying Congress of the new agreement, Johnson said the expanded area of information is needed to make effective use of nuclear delivery systems being provided by this country under bilateral procedures and agreements that followed creation of NATO atomic stockpiles in 1957.

Also, Johnson said, the new agreement will permit NATO member countries to share in information that this country has been exchanging only with the NATO organization itself, under a 1955 agreement.

He said the new agreement "represents a logical and useful step in our continuing and varied efforts to ensure wider allied participation in NATO nuclear defenses."

Furthermore, Johnson said, "such wider participation is necessary on both military and political grounds. It is needed to enhance the effectiveness of NATO defenses. On political grounds, it is needed to reinforce NATO cohesion in meeting our allies' legitimate desire to make a constructive contribution to nuclear defense."

Under the Atomic Energy Act the Joint House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee must have 30 days' notice before the agreement can go into effect.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, had recommended that the President approve the broadening agreement.

In a memorandum to Johnson, they stressed that the new agreement makes clear that there will be no transfer of atomic weapons or atomic weapons systems involving restricted data.

Pilotless Jet Kills Two

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP) — A silent and pilotless jet fighter slashed into a sleeping neighborhood early today, brushing half a dozen homes and a dozen cars before exploding into a house at the end of the street, killing two children.

Todd Gifford, 10, and his sister, Pamela, 8, perished when they were trapped in their one-story ranch house and burned to death.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Gifford, escaped practically unhurt.

The pilot of the Massachusetts Air National Guard F86, Capt. D. F. Sullivan of Boston, ejected from the crippled jet and parachuted into the nearby Merrimack River.

He was rescued by a Coast Guard helicopter.

The crash started a three-alarm fire that damaged several other homes.

Payment For Equipment Authorized

The Snyder City Council last night authorized payment for the new Dempster Dumpmaster garbage collection system which is now in service here.

The action was taken at a special meeting of the council in City Hall. The equipment involved required expenditure of $42,284. Upon recommendation of City Manager George Patterson, the council elected to pay off the full amount, a procedure which was accomplished by transferring some $30,000 to the sanitation department from the city's water meter deposit fund. Patterson said he believed that it would be to the city's advantage to "borrow the money from itself" than to go into a time payment plan on the garbage collection system or borrow the money from outside sources.

The council gave the Country Cousins Square Dance Club permission to rope off the street on the east side of the square July 13 for a square dance between the hours of 7:30 p.m. and 11 p.m.

The council studied proposals for landscaping grounds at the new police station but delayed action until the regular meeting scheduled for July 6.

Also discussed was the possibility of acquiring a radar unit for the police department. More studies will be made with a view toward including such a unit in the budget for the fiscal year beginning next Oct. 1.

FALLS IN ATLANTIC

Centaur Rocket Fails To Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Premature shut-down of the second-stage engine prevented a high energy Atlas-Centaur space rocket from hurling its second stage into orbit today.

The failure could further delay development of Atlas - Centaur — problem child of U.S. rocketry.

The rocket is being developed to launch unmanned project surveyor spacecraft to the moon next year to make measurements and to scout possible astronaut landing areas. The failure was the second in three test launchings for the vehicle.

But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration claimed some measure of success for today's mission when two major objectives were achieved.

These were ejection of second-stage insulation panels and the restart of the Centaur-Space engine boost pump.

The 112-foot tall Atlas Centaur blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 9:04 a.m. and performed flawlessly during the first-stage Atlas flight.

The second stage ignited on schedule. It was to have burned for 6 minutes 17 seconds but radio data showed a shut-down after about 4 minutes. This prevented the 8,200-pound stage from reaching intended orbital speed of 16,000 miles an hour.

Tracking instruments indicated the Centaur stage plunged into the Atlantic Ocean several hundred miles west of the Cape Verdi Islands, which are off the West African coast.

Copter Crash In Viet Kills 2 Americans

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas shot down a U.S. Army helicopter in South Viet Nam's northern mountains today killing an American pilot and his U.S. gunner.

It was the third American helicopter crash in the past five days with a total loss of eight Americans.

The crash brought the toll of U.S. dead in Viet Nam up to 244—148 of these killed in action against Communists.

An American spokesman said the helicopter was hit 35 miles south of Da Nang while on a supply mission.

A U.S. officer and an enlisted man were wounded. Their condition was described as good.

Two U.S. aviators were killed Friday when they were shot down in flames in the southern Mekong River delta. Two crewmen were wounded.

Four Americans aboard a helicopter were killed Monday when it crashed while leaving Cao Lan airfield in Kien Phuong Province about 60 miles southwest of Saigon. This crash was apparently not due to ground fire, a spokesman said.

Sister Says Fidel Sold Out People

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Fidel Castro's sister Juanita has defected, charging that the Cuban prime minister betrayed his revolution and sold out Cuba to the Soviet Union.

"The people of Cuba are nailed to a cross of torment imposed by international communism," Juanita Castro Ruz said Monday night in an emotion-charged statement to Mexican television commentator Guillermo Vela.

With tears in her eyes and her voice breaking, the 41-year-old woman read a six-page denouncement of the Cuban regime headed by her brothers Fidel and Raul.

Miss Castro, one of seven Castro brothers and sisters, refused to say how she came to Mexico from Cuba. Her sister Emma has lived in Mexico City since her marriage three years ago to a Mexican engineer.

Miss Castro said she had supported her brother's revolution against dictator Fulgencio Batista by collecting money, arms and medicine in Cuba and abroad. After his victory she dedicated herself to building schools and hospitals, she said, but she soon realized Castro had abandoned the ideals of his revolution and "we were being deceived."

She said there are now 75,000 political prisoners in Cuba and the island is "an enormous prison surrounded by water."

Deteriorating conditions in the last few months finally forced her to flee, she said.

She reported the Cuban people lack food, clothing and other essentials and wonder what happened to the $63 million in medicines which Castro received in exchange for prisoners captured in the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion.

95 MILE WINDS

Manila Hit By Typhoon

By HENRY HARTZENBUSCH

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Winnie paralyzed this city of two million today. At least 10 persons were reported drowned and scores more were injured.

The storm's winds of up to 95 miles an hour tore through populous central Luzon Island before dawn, demolished thousands of shanty homes and left Manila without power, light, newspapers and public transportation.

Unofficial reports said ten persons drowned in swirling flood waters in the Manila area. The communications blackout delayed word of casualties and damage in the provinces.

Rains continued but winds had subsided by late Tuesday morning as Winnie moved over the South China Sea toward the China mainland.

The Weather Bureau said the eye of the storm passed directly over Manila. The winds tore off roofing, knocked down stone and brick walls and uprooted huge trees.

Hundreds of cars and buses were stalled in flooded streets.

Telephone poles were knocked down and news services blacked out. Radio stations were silenced when their transmitting towers were blown down.

Manila International Airport's control tower was unusable, grounding all international and domestic flights.

The typhoon passed 35 miles southwest of the big U.S. Clark Air Force Base north of Manila, but no damage was reported there. A spokesman said aircraft were placed in emergency shelters.

Negroes Stage March In Chicago

By SEYMOUR HERSH

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 300 Negroes paraded on the South Side early today, jeering and taunting police, and daring them to arrest the marchers.

It was the second successive early morning civil rights demonstration. Leaders of the march promised frequent similar parades during the summer.

Today's march was called to rally support for picketing of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania who will speak in downtown Chicago today. Civil rights leaders said 1,000 Negroes will picket Scranton, who is seeking the Republican nomination for president.

Before the Negroes paraded, they met in the open air at 47th Street and South Parkway to hear leaders of ACT, a nationwide group of civil rights organizations.

Seven of the leaders were arrested and charged with conducting a public meeting without a police permit. The arrested included Jesse Gray, 40, coordinator of Harlem's Council on Housing and a leader of New York City's rent strike, and Lawrence Landry, national organizer of ACT.

VA Approves Speculative Building

The Veterans Administration has advised local construction and real estate interests that it will approve some speculative homebuilding here for the first time in two years.

The action by VA was taken following a request for a survey here. The survey request was made by builders, realtors, public officials and Chamber of Commerce officials.

W. Prentis Bass of Bassridge Development Co., who submitted the petition for the survey, received a letter from VA today advising that speculative building up to two units per builder would be approved in the $14,000 and up bracket.

Builders and realtors expect the action to stimulate the building and home sales industry here because it will enable builders to provide "something to show" prospective buyers seeking new homes. For the past two years VA has approved only firm contracts, with all speculative building ruled out for this area.

A similar request for a survey was made to FHA and a reply from that agency is expected soon.

Johnson Speeds Search For Trio

By MICHAEL SMITH

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — The Navy sent 400 sailors today into the broadening search for three civil rights workers who vanished in this red-clay hill country nine days ago.

The sailors and a dozen officers were dispatched into this east-central Mississippi area from the naval auxiliary air station north of Meridian. In past days, only 100 sailors participated in the search.

The orders to send more sailors came from the White House.

The White House announced Monday that the search was being expanded and intensified.

Searchers today spilled over into Newton County, which adjoins Neshoba County on the west.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol also made it clear it was in this red-clay hill country of east central Mississippi to stay until authorities find out what happened to the missing trio.

Rita Schwerner, 22, wife of Michael Schwerner of Brooklyn, one of the missing men, asked the President Monday to send 5,000 men to Mississippi to join in the search.

Mrs. Schwerner, after meeting with the President at the White House, told newsmen Johnson advised her he couldn't send so many.

Schwerner, 24; Andrew Goodman, 20, another white New Yorker; and James Chaney, 22, a Negro from nearby Meridian, were last seen June 21 when they were freed from jail here after posting a $20 bond in a traffic case.

Before Mrs. Schwerner visited the White House, press secretary George Reedy told reporters that efforts to find the trio

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I always thought mental telepathy was a lot of bunk, because of my own experience I am now convinced that there is something to it.

I live in Glendale, California, and my boy friend lives in Buffalo, New York. As you know, it is three hours earlier in California than it is in New York. Well, lately I have been waking up at exactly 4 o'clock every morning, just as though an alarm clock had gone off. It's the craziest thing! I wake up, and when I look at the clock, it's always 4 A. M. sharp. My boy friend says he gets up at 7 A.M. every morning, and the first thing he thinks of when he opens his eyes is me. I KNOW that is what is waking me up. His thought waves are just that powerful. When I tell people this, they look at me like I'm nuts. I KNOW I am right. How can I sleep through his thought waves?

IN LOVE IN GLENDALE

DEAR IN LOVE: Don't fight it. Either move into his time zone until you can marry the guy, or ask him not to think of you until 10 A. M., Eastern Standard Time.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Is it wrong to suggest "money" when relatives ask us what my husband wants for graduation? We are a struggling young couple who have scrimped to put my husband through law school. A number of relatives have asked us what they can give us, and I have simply explained that if they gave us the money, we could put it toward a TV set. We need so many things for our apartment. Our families are now furious with us because they say we sound money hungry. Most of our relatives would spend around $20 or $25 on a gift anyway. Do you think we committed a breach of etiquette?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: No. Those who ask what they may give are genuinely interested in giving something practical. Only a hypocrite would ask for a suggestion, and then be offended by an honest answer.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I received an invitation to the graduation of a person I would not know if I saw him on the street. I am certain that he would not know me, either. I know his parents only slightly so I cannot for the life of me understand why I received this invitation. Am I expected to send a gift? Not knowing the person, it would be difficult to select an appropriate gift. I don't want to appear cheap and ignore the invitation. Have you any suggestions?

BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: Under the circumstances, a message of congratulations is sufficient.

Lodge Assures Solons On Viet Nam War Progress

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge took time out today from politicking to assure senators that the South Viet Nam war is "on the track."

But Lodge's assessment of conditions in Saigon, where he served as U.S. ambassador before resigning to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton try to win the GOP presidential nomination, seemed likely to encounter bipartisan criticism in an appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees. He returned to Washington Monday.

And his contention that U.S. policy in the Vietnamese war could not become a campaign issue was widely disputed by Republicans.

Lodge said in answer to a series of questions submitted by Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, that "I don't see how it gets votes" for the Republicans.

"I have not said that it (South Viet Nam) should not be an issue,' Lodge said. "I have said I don't see how it could be. I don't see how it gets votes—how you can make it a good issue.

"If you have a disaster in foreign relations, then that becomes an issue whether the politicians make it one or not. Happily I see no prospect of disaster."

A majority of the five Republican members of the Foreign Relations group seemed likely to side with a GOP House task force which Monday accused the Johnson administration of following a "Why win?" policy in Viet Nam and proposed a more active U.S. role in combatting Communist guerrillas.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon has been flailing away at the administration's course in Southeast Asia, demanding the withdrawal of U.S. troops.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, front runner in the GOP nomination battle gave his "full endorsement" to the task force's findings — which were critical of South Viet Nam developments in which Lodge had played a part.

Goldwater said in a statement that the report set forth "reasons why this administration's diplomatic and military blunders are a basic issue in the 1964 election campaign."

had been stepped up and expanded.

Mrs. Schwerner said the President assured her that the federal government is "doing everything in its power."

The President, Mrs. Schwerner added, said if he "considered it useful to send more men, then he would send more."

Federal and state authorities, joined by 100 sailors from the Navy airfield at Meridian, continued their search in the hills and snake-infested swamps of Neshoba County.

State game wardens, using radio-equipped skiffs, dragged the muddy Pearl River and other bodies of water in the area.

"We've covered 55 miles of the Pearl itself and haven't found even a net," said Dewitt Hutton of the State Game and Fish Commission.

The FBI ordered several thousand circulars of the three youths distributed in a five-state area. The circulars asked anyone with information to call FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover or the nearest FBI office.

The circulars went to Alabama, Tennessee, Louisiana, and Arkansas as well as Mississippi.

The only clue to the baffling disappearance was the finding last Tuesday of the charred hulk of the station wagon driven by the three youths.

McNamara Calms Doubts On US Military Strength

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the third time this presidential election year, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has replied to allegations raising doubts about U.S. military strength.

He rushed out a three - page statement Monday denouncing as a "partisan attack" a report by a Republican congressional task force.

That task force "On American Strategy and Strength" accused the Democratic administration of allowing U.S. military superiority to be blunted, of putting too much dependence on "unproven missile systems" and weakening the bomber force, creating a "research and development gap" in defense, and planning no new strategic weapons for the 1970s.

These GOP allegations paralleled attacks by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, leading candidate for the Republican presidential nomination and a McNamara critic.

Not so, McNamara declared in challenging the GOP task force. He spoke of a "tremendous increase of strength" since the Democrats took power in 1961, and reeled off a long list of statistics.

Among other things, McNamara claimed that the U.S. arsenal of intercontinental ballistic missiles and Polaris submarine - launched missiles has risen from less than 100 to more than 1,000 since 1960.

"Today the intercontinental ballistic missile force of the United States is more than four times that of the Soviet Union," McNamara said.

He also claimed a 150 per cent increase in the number of nuclear weapons available in the strategic alert forces of bombers and missiles, a 75 per cent increase in air lift, a 45 per cent increase in the number of combat-ready divisions, an 800 per cent increase in antiguerrilla special forces, plus other gains.

As for research and development, McNamara listed a 50 per cent increase per year in research and development funds over the last four years of the Eisenhower administration and an addition of 208 major new weapons and other new projects.

The defense secretary made no mention of the task force's attack on U.S. policy in South Viet Nam—an attack which suggested the United States was ready to settle for less than victory.

Asked about this, a Pentagon official said this was a foreign policy question.

Child Dies In Ferris Wheel Mishap

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP)—A ferris wheel accident has taken the life of a 2-year-old girl.

The child, Deborah Shaw, died Monday nearly 24 hours after plunging 60 feet to asphalt pavement. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw of Commack, N.Y., who fell into another seat on the wheel, were in serious condition.

Police said the Shaws' seat apparently tipped over when it jammed and did not swing freely.

Dr. King Charged With Contributing To Delinquincy

By DON NORTH

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — The racial controversy in St. Augustine took a new turn when a juvenile counselor charged Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and other leaders of the integration movement with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Warrants signed by Fred Brinkhoff Monday named King; Dr. R. B. Hayling, a Negro dentist; the Rev. John Gibson, and J. S. Jackson.

The four were charged with using minors who were wards of the juvenile court in integration marches through the city.

U.S. Dist. Judge Bryan Simpson in Jacksonville was ready to rule today in a suit by integrationists to overturn a governor's ban on night marches.

Among the issues before Simpson was a charge of contempt action against Gov. Farris Bryant resulting from his executive order in the face of an earlier federal ruling revoking a police ban on night demonstrations.

The integrationists claimed progress in their battle against race discrimination Monday when the state put into effect new and tougher measures to control violence.

For the first time in the month-long series of demonstrations, officers pushed aside angry white segregationists to allow integrationists freedom to demonstrate.

The integrationists — a few whites among them — romped in the surf at St. Augustine beach, protected by more than 200 officers.

Officers stood shoulder to shoulder in City Square Monday night to provide a protective corridor for integrationists engaged in the customary night march to the old slave market.

As usual, there was a shouting taunting crowd of whites waiting in the square, but no violence. Previously, officers stood by until trouble started.

Snyder Boy Struck By Car; Hospitalized

Robert G. Early, six-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Early 418 Thirty - second Street, was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital Monday afternoon after he was struck by a pickup truck at Thirty - second and Avenue E. He was admitted to the hospital with injuries not believed to be serious.

The driver of the pickup, Joe Brown, stated that he had slowed down because some city employes were working in the center of the street at that point. He said that the child darted out in front of him and he was unable to stop completely before hitting the boy. Snyder police investigated the accident.

Milk-Truck Stowaway Rescued By Father

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Milk truck driver Vern Terry was startled when a motorist frantically flagged him to pull over.

Terry stopped, got out, and watched as the motorist ran to the back of the truck and lifted a 4-year-old girl from her perch on the bumper.

Cheryl Neel was none the worse for her 10-mile stowaway trip Monday. The rescuer was Cheryl's father, who had been combing suburban streets since the tot disappeared after a stop by the milk truck at the Neel home.

Two Texans Cited By Hero Fund

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission cited two Texans Monday for courageous acts last year. Both are schoolteachers.

One was Carlos Rojo, 36, of Groves who disarmed a schoolboy who was shooting at teachers, and Ronnie D. Upton, 27, of Amarillo who saved two boys from death by drowning.

The recommendation for Rojo includes a bronze medal and disablement benefits of $1,000 and benefits of $100 a month for up to two years.

Rojo became a hero Dec. 18 when a 15-year-old pupil entered a school and shot at a teacher who had reprimanded him, and at another teacher and the principal on the school grounds.

Rojo, an insurance underwriter and substitute teacher, herded a number of pupils out of range of the shotgun. He then entered the school and was surprised by the teen-ager with the gun who had returned to the building.

When the teen-ager was four feet away, Rojo lunged for the weapon for fear the pupil would shoot others in the vicinity.

The gun discharged as they struggled and pellets struck the teacher in the abdomen, left hand and right arm. The youth ran. Rojo has only restricted use of his arm now.

Upton saved the children, Arturo and Abel DeLeon, from death at Olton July 22.

The children stepped onto a concrete slab which collapsed, dropping them into a cesspool.

Upton arrived and plunged into the pool, finding Arturo nine feet below the surface. He brought him up, and then found Abel nine feet down. Both boys were unconscious but were revived.

The recommendation calls for the award of a bronze medal and $750 to Upton.

FLAG LOLLIPOPS can be concocted at home for July 4th fun.

Flag Lollipops Will Spark July 4

BY FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

WHEN FLAG lollipops appeared at our house, some young visitors got a big bang out of them.

How did they happen? A friend of ours, giving a group of Cadet Girl Scouts some cooking lessons, asked the youngsters whether they would enjoy learning to make hard candy.

"Do you really mean you know how to make lollipops?" the Scouts chorused.

Our friend forthwith gave the lesson with great success. When we told her we thought it would be fun to make the lollipops in flag shape, she worked out the following ingenious directions.

FLAG LOLLIPOPS

2 cups sugar
¾ cup light corn syrup
½ cup water
¼ teaspoon oil of cinnamon or 1½ teaspoons of peppermint extract
½ teaspoon red food coloring
18 Flag Lollipop Molds

In a 2-quart saucepan, stir together the sugar, corn syrup and water. Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until sugar is completely dissolved. Boil without stirring to 300 degrees on candy thermometer, or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into hard and brittle threads. Remove from heat and cool a few minutes. Add oil of cinnamon or peppermint extract and red food coloring; stir just enough to blend. Immediately pour the mixture into the 18 molds to ¼inch thickness, holding stick in place with one hand. (If mixture hardens before all lollipops are poured, stir over low heat just until mixture is melted.) When lollipops are hard, peel off foil. Pipe six white strips and a blue field onto each lollipop using white and blue-tinted Flag Frosting.

Clean-Up Trick: To remove any candy stuck to inside of saucepan, fill pan with water and heat to boiling; the boiling water will melt the syrup. Put thermometer and candy coated spoons, too, in boiling water.

FLAG FROSTING

Mix 1 tablespoon water into 1 cup confectioners sugar until smooth. If needed, add extra water, drop by drop, to make consistency to put through decorating tube. Use to pipe stripes onto Flag Lollipops. Make additional or use leftover frosting and tint pale blue; use to pipe a blue field onto each Flag Lollipop.

FLAG LOLLIPOP MOLDS

12-inch roll heavy duty aliminum foil
Butter or margarine
Diamond - shaped cookie cutter, 3½ inches measured the long way
Lollipop sticks: ⅛ - inch thick dowel cut into 6- or 7-inch lengths

Cut a small piece of foil 1 inch wider than the width and 1 inch longer than the length of the cutter. (For the 3½-inch cutter used in these directions the foil piece will be 4½ by 3 inches.) Grease foil lightly with butter. Place cutter on greased surface; turn up sides of foil around cutter to make a neat diamond shape; carefully slip foil off cutter so you have a diamond-shaped foil mold. Make 17 more molds. (To use foil economically, tear each length off when it is 4½ inches wide, and divide length into four equal pieces.) With a skewer, make a hole in each foil mold for inserting lollipop stick. The hole should be made close to the bottom of the mold and just slightly to one side of one of the points. For a high-flying flag, make hole next to an end point; for a lowflying flag, make hole next to a side point. Insert stick into mold so it is parallel to one side of the diamond, to form the flagstaff.

New Light On Teen Attitudes

In March 1960, 440,000 high school students throughout the country took a two-day aptitude and achievement test, and answered questions on personal background and interests. A series of followup studies was scheduled to see how students fare after graduation.

It has taken three years and thousands of man hours to get the data fed into computers, digested and analyzed. The first report of results, "The American High School," was published last year. The next major report to be released later this summer, deals with "The American High School Student." One of its findings is that, as a group, high school boys and girls have rather traditional views of the male and female roles? The 20 occupations girls like most include only one of the boys' preferences: rancher — the 20th choice for freshman girls.

High school boys gave top billing to careers in aviation, professional athletics, the armed forces, engineering and technology. They showed little interest in scientific, professional or cultural pursuits. The top 20 choices by seniors include lawyer and archtect but not scientist, doctor, minister, teacher, or even President of the U. S. "President of a large company," on the other hand, rises from 13th place for high school freshmen to 3rd place for seniors.

Now for the girls. At every age group, the top two places go to housewife and air line hostess. By the time girls reach their senior year clerical jobs account for one - fifth of the preferred occupations. Writing and newspaper work (totally absent from the boy's preferred list) take high honors among girls. Other top - rated occuapations: decorator, social worker, designer, elementary school teacher, beautician, guidance counselor, nurse, actress.

In regard to activities, the boys' and girls' lists of preferences do have some areas of overlap. Regardless of sex or grade, "saving money" is in either first or second place, and "become a millionaire" and "work for myself" are close to the top. So is swimming.

As a group, high school girls give high rank to activities that involve helping others ("teach children," "help the poor," "care for family.") Boys, instead, prefer adventurous or competitive activities and teamsport.

Girls tend to shy away from things mechanical. Eight of their 10 least - liked activities involve using tools or machines. The other two — "fortune telling" and "fire a person" — also appear a tthe bottom of the boys' lists (along with "write themes," "art galleries," "poetry," "practice music all day" . . . and "fill out tax returns.").

When it comes to attitudes about money, girls are anything but scatterbrained; asked about how they expect to pay for things after they're started earning a living, girls tended even more than boys toward paying in cash rather than buying on the installment plan.

Satellite 'Shindig'

A good party consists of the right guests, the right food, and the right setting. But, sometimes an extra spark helps to start and maintain a lively level of interest.

One choice for a timely theme is Outer Space.

With this kind of party, the centerpiece sets the scene. You might start with a large glass ball or a styrofoam ball. Girdle it with a paper ring, on which you can set a smaller ball or a multi-pointed Christmas tree ornament as a satellite. Make a contrasting ring, set at angles to the paper one, of rocket-red carnations and nestle the ball in lycopidum foliage.

You might time the party to track the actual orbit of an earth satellite or a manned orbital shot. You can have a current events quiz with pertinent questions gathered from newspapers and news magazines or you might play charades with topics limited to the field of outer space.

The fun prize might be an especially made ticket to the Moon or a lifetime Martin Visitors' Visa.

In any case, the Outer Space Party is a winning ticket to timely fun.

SHAKESPEARE CREST PLANTED

STRATFORD, Ont. (AP) —A floral tribute in honor of Shakespeare's 400th birthday is part of the Stratford Festival program.

The Shakespeare heraldic crest is reproduced in a 20-foot-square flower bed in front of the theater's main entrance. Among the 3,600 plants providing the requisite colors are basil, santolina and alternanthera.

Hang Pictures Properly

Glorious, Florious Fourth

Nothing could be more American on the Fourth of July than a parade in the morning, a picnic in the afternoon, a fireworks display at night, and traditional flowers to match the celebration.

But the day needn't be a hectic one for the homemaker, if she plans her late afternoon backyard picnic — for friends or just her family — so she can enjoy some independence, too. Her ally this day can be paper — in tablecloth, napkins, cups,a nd plates. And her floral decorations can be as attention-getting as a firecracker without causing a lot of trouble.

Try groupings of red carnations and Majestic daisies for a theme-setting floral design. The flowers may be arranged in a blue vase, or, better yet, in a home-made "Uncle Sam" hat. It can be constructed of cardboard and painted with red and white stripes, with a band of blue with white stars on it.

A blue paper tablecloth and red, white, and blue designed paper plates, cups, and napkins also will carry out the patriotic color scheme. To preclude wayward winds from scattering paper accessories, anchor the paper cloth to the table with cellophane tape, thumb eack each person's plate in position, and place a few pebbles between folds of each napkin to secure them.

To really lend an after-dark surprise, tuck a half dozen "safe and sane" sparklers securely in the "Uncle Sam" hat and light them. The sparkling light and flowers will be a fitting prelude to the shooting off of firecrackers. If you're entertaining friends and their children, their firecrackers can be pooled with yours for a very effective and enjoyable backyard fireworks display.

Lodge Still Has Time To Warm Up To GOP Battle

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge came home from Viet Nam to try to stop Sen. Barry Goldwater but from what he said, or rather refused to say, you might get the impression he wasn't exactly belligerent. But you never can tell.

Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, who is trying to beat Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination, started off on a no-name basis, too. It took him a while to get steamed up.

Lodge quit his job as U.S. ambassador to help Scranton's fight, arrived here Monday, made a farewell report to President Johnson at the White House, and then held a news conference.

He said the Republicans must not nominate "an imprudent man, an impulsive man." But he wouldn't criticize Goldwater by name. Asked if he regarded the senator as impulsive, Lodge said "people can draw their own conclusions."

When Scranton announced June 12 he was going to campaign for the nomination, making it a clear stop-Goldwater move, he sent the Arizonan a telegram, telling Goldwater how much he respected him, and adding:

"I will say nothing in the weeks ahead to diminish that respect. On the issues, I will be vigorous with all the power at my command. On personalities I will be silent."

But almost at the moment he disclosed this telegram he was calling Goldwater's ideas — without mentioning him by name — a "weird parody" of traditional Republican principles.

He attacked what he referred to as the "shoot from the hip, rather than think from the head foreign policy," again without naming names. As he warmed up he threw out phrases against "radical reactionaries."

Goldwater responded with "I welcome Bill Scranton into the race as one of the outstanding governors of the nation."

Then the senator said that on Dec. 18, 1963 — a couple of weeks before he officially announced his candidacy — he received the following letter from Scranton who is now trying to block him from the nomination:

"I read in the newspapers that you are reappraising your own situation to decide whether to be a candidate for the presidential nomination. I hope you decide to run, and I would like the opportunity, albeit impertinent, to discuss this with you."

Goldwater said they later discussed it. Scranton, asked about this letter after he started running himself, said he had sent a similar letter to two other persons whom he refused to name.

For some days after starting out in pursuit of Goldwater, Scranton didn't mention the senator by name.

But he attacked the "dime store feudalism" of "radicals of the right" and said this is not the time to join "extreme reactionaries who are anything but conservative."

But he warned some of his volunteer workers: "I don't want anybody in the least way getting personal; we need every vote we can get." One of Goldwater's supporters, Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire, spoke up shortly afterward.

He must have been having the same thoughts as Scranton for he said if the govenor continued to attack the senator and took opposing sides on issues, he might make himself unacceptable to Goldwater's supporters, even if he succeeded in stopping the Arizonan at the Republican convention this month.

But by last weekend Scranton was criticizing Goldwater by name and, in making one of his sharpest attacks on him, said he lacks the qualities required of a president.

Meanwhile, he had said repeatedly he would support Goldwater if he gets the nomination and runs for the presidency. Since the convention is still two weeks away, Lodge has time to get heated up enough to mention Goldwater by name.

Jumping To Conclusions With Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions: Bowlegged girls have less trouble getting dates than girls who are knock-kneed.

The dogs that are the most fun to own are poodles, fox terriers and dachshunds. Bloodhounds always look like they have just lost their last and only friend.

The lonesomest sound in the world is a clarinet played late at night all alone by a fellow who knows one end of the thing from the other.

Half the people who take gum from an airline stewardess never bother to chew it.

One thing I have never met, and don't expect to, is a U.S. senator with an inferiority complex.

What this country needs is a longer football season and a shorter baseball season. A lot of people who are tired of professional baseball hesitate to say so for fear that it sounds unpatriotic.

People who habitually send clever greeting cards get a reputation for wittiness they don't deserve. In most cases they are too shiftless mentally to sit down and write a warm and readable letter.

Junior Editors Quiz on GUNS

QUESTION: Who invented the gun?

• • •

ANSWER: When primitive man found he could propel a stone fast and far by whirling it around on a bit of sinew and then letting it go, he created one of the first projectile weapons. Invention of gunpowder, which would shoot a projectile through a barrel much faster than it could be thrown, was the next step. The ancient Chinese are often thought to have invented gunpowder, which is a mixture of saltpeter, sulphur and charcoal. In 1242 Roger Bacon of Oxford University in England wrote a book giving directions for making gunpowder. The first guns, made in the early 1300's, were cannons, which often used large round stones as cannonballs. Later, large cannons were cast of bronze, such as the monster we show, which fired a projectile weighing 700 pounds.

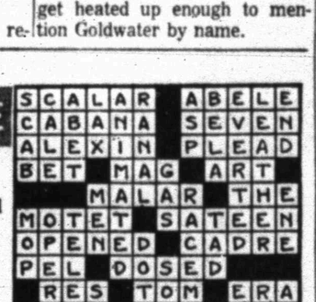

Although "gun" is often used to mean all firearms, the armed forces only use it to refer to artillery cannon or pieces on solid foundations or wheels. A soldier would say John is aiming his rifle, not his gun.

FBI Will Probe Release Of Lee Oswald's Diary

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disturbed by publication of a major item of evidence in its investigation of President John F. Kennedy's assassination, the Warren Commission has asked a full FBI investigation of how parts of Lee Harvey Oswald's diary got into print.

It wants to find out how the diary of the sharpshooter accused of assassinating Kennedy in Dallas last November "was obtained and whom it was obtained from" before it was quoted over the weekend in copyright stories in the Dallas Morning News.

The probe was announced Monday night by J. Lee Rankin, chief counsel of the presidential commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren. Rankin hinted strongly that the commission suspects the journal of Oswald's two years in the Soviet Union got into print through the Dallas police department.

Rankin also told reporters that the commission's report—which the investigators had hoped to have ready for President Johnson by today—would not be issued until after July 18 at the earliest.

Following Rankin's announcement of the probe, Jack B. Kreuger, managing editor of the Dallas Morning News, said:

"The Warren Commission has every right to make this request of the FBI. The FBI has a right to ask us what it will, under the proper conditions.

"There are other rights involved. The American people have a right to know, particularly any facet of an assassination of a president of the United States. The American press, large and small, has an obligation to tell them. This obligation and right is enunciated in the First Amendment to the Constitution.

"The Dallas News is going to report every piece of important news to its readers to the limit of its ability."

The stories in the News contained quotations from the Oswald diary which expressed the wrath of the Marxist ex-Marine at having been denied Soviet citizenship. Rankin said the commission was seriously concerned over the breach of secrecy on materials under its control, partly because of fear that a piecemeal disclosure of the evidence might be misleading to the public.

Famous Matador To Visit Nuevo Laredo

NUEVO LAREDO, Mexico (AP)—One of the world's famed bullfighters, Manuel Benitez of Spain, will appear here Sunday.

Benitez, called the successor to the late great Manolette, will appear with veteran Rafael Rodriguez of Aguascalientes and newcomer Fernando de la Pena of Monterrey.

Benitez, known as El Cordobes, was gored in a Madrid bullring last month but has already appeared in two bullfights. He has cut eight ears and two tails.

The corrida starts Saturday with Antonio Valazquez of Leon, Alfredo Leal of Mexico City and Pepe Caceres of Colombia doing the honors.

Impressario Lauro Longoria said he expected capacity crowds for both days.

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Today, bretheren, we are studying a treatise entitled SOLITUDE, Who Can Take It And Who Can't. So if all you people who hate your neighbors and your wife's relatives will come up to the front row we will begin the discussion.

The fellow who wrote this article apparently talked it up with a few psychologists and doctors before sitting down to the mill but he neglected to get any opinions from Dr. Speedy Gonzalez.

And as a result, he missed out on some valuable observations which I feel would have given more of a scientific aspect to his article.

This author writes that being alone, really alone, can produce a sense of disembodiment and a lust for stimulus.

Dr. Speedy scoffs at this theory and I am afraid I will have to go along with him.

One of my ancestors, man named Daniel Boon (actually he wasn't; I'm just saying this to give strength to my argument,) used to lone wolf it out in the woods. And when he would see smoke from the stack of a log cabin maybe 10 miles away he would mutter, "Things are gettin' fairly crowded around here so I reckon I'll moved on a ways."

Mr. Boon would have made a wonderful astronaut in the opinion of Dr. Speedy, if they could have ever gotten him to come back home. He says one of the problems is that everybody likes to run in herds today instead of doing things alone and something original.

Personally, I would pay a huge sum of money (as much as $3.25) for SOLITUDE. This is not the kind like in a compression chamber with scientists spying on you through portholes or pushing buttons to take your blood pressure, such as the curious author writes of.

I refer to the solitude of a nice, deserted beach way down in the tropics. Nothing but the sun and the sea and a scatter of moon at nights across the feather duster coconut palms.

And I will take my astronaut tests in a hammock after putting away a few pounds of redsnapper broiled in banana leaves on a bed of coals. Top it off with the cool juice of a decapitated coconut (I can swing a machete as good as any other Indian).

Did you ever get out on a beach and run near the water where the sand is wet and firm? Try it sometime. Mexico is loaded with these beaches and nobody around. Run for about a mile up the beach. Then walk out beyond the surf and swim back.

I've done it a lot of times where there was nobody within a million miles. And I intend doing it some more.

The stars are a little closer to the earth at nights. And brighter. Or maybe you drift up a little closer to the stars away from things.

This is solitude.

Now. This fellow who wrote the article asks, "What causes hallucinations?" And then he says some psychiatrists guess that hallucinations are caused not so much by a lack of sensory stimulation as by a lack of any meaning in the stimulation. (Whatever that means.)

It is Dr. Speedy Gonzalez' considered opinion that psychiatrists are the ones who cause hallucinations these days.

And as far as these solitude tests, which are conducted in chambers of various types, are concerned Dr. Speedy has a question: What's the fun of being alone if you have to be surrounded by a bunch of scientists trying to prove whether or not you like it?

Bill Hayes Coming Here

Bill Hayes of Temple, Republican candidate for Congressman-at-large, is scheduled to bring his campaign to Snyder tomorrow.

Hayes will appear at a breakfast session at 7:30 a.m. at the Snyder Country Club. Local Republicans have extended an invitation to all persons interested to attend the "Dutch treat" breakfast.

Hayes is seeking the congressional post held by Democrat Joe Pool of Dallas. Pool won renomination in his party primary, while Hayes was the choice of Republicans in their primary.

Face's Flame Seems To Be Flickering

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The flame in Elroy Face's fork ball appears to be flickering. As a result, he's not putting out fires the way he once did.

Face, not long ago one of the top relief pitchers in the majors, was rocked again Monday night in Pittsburgh's 7-6 loss to the ninth-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

The 36-year-old Pirate right-hander entered the game in the seventh inning just after a four-run rally had tied the Dodgers 5-5. He retired the first batter, but before retiring the side, he walked three batters and gave up two singles, allowing the Dodgers to score two runs, which they needed for the victory.

For his brief appearance, Face suffered his third loss in five decisions and had his earned run average soar to 5.23 for 22 games.

Face's showing followed a painful pattern that has developed for the man who won 17 straight games in relief in 1959 and who has averaged 61 appearances a season for the past eight years.

He was called upon June 21 to keep the Pirates close in a game Chicago led 2-0. However, the Cubs lashed him for two runs and three hits in two-thirds of an inning.

On June 12 he replaced starter Bob Veale in the sixth inning after the Cubs had scored two runs and had two more runners on base with two out. Face put another on before Joe Amalfitano belted a grand slam homer.

In other National League games Monday, New York edged San Francisco 4-3, Houston trounced Philadelphia 6-1, Milwaukee downed St. Louis, 7-4 and Cincinnati whipped Chicago 6-1.

In the American League, Baltimore defeated Minnesota 6-3, Chicago knocked off Cleveland 5-1 in 10 innings, Boston nipped Kansas City 4-3 and Washington beat Detroit 5-3.

Frank Howard drove in three runs for the Dodgers, including the winning one with his second sacrifice fly. He also homered. The Pirates, down 5-1, had rallied for a tie on two errors by third baseman Derrell Griffith, two wild pitches by Bob Miller, a walk and singles by Donn Clendenon, Bill Mazeroski, Bob Bailey and Manny Mota.

Jesse Gonder's two-run homer in the ninth off Bob Bolin lifted the Mets to their fifth victory in 10 games with the league-leading Giants. The blow followed a one-out walk to Larry Elliot. Jim Hart belted four hits, including a fourth-inning homer, for the Giants.

Bob Aspromonte's hitting and Bob Bruce's pitching led Houston over Philadelphia. Aspromonte climaxed a five-run first inning with his second grand slam homer of the season. Bruce allowed seven hits, two after the fourth inning, and didn't walk anyone in winning his eighth game against four defeats. He retired 16 consecutive batters at one stretch.

Ed Mathews walked in his first four appearances, then homered in the ninth inning, tying the Cardinals 4-4. The Braves went on to score three more runs in the inning. Gene Oliver singled home Denis Menke with the deciding run. Mathews scored two earlier runs on singles by Lee Maye.

The Reds whipped the Cubs behind the hitting of Steve Boros and Leo Cardenas. Boros drove home two runs with a triple in the second inning while Cardenas doubled home three runs in the third. Dick Bertell homered off Jim O'Toole, who recorded his seventh triumph in 11 decisions.

Sports Car Races Set In Galveston

GALVESTON (AP) — A field of 100, including possibly A. J. Foyt of Houston, the Indianapolis 500 winner, will compete in the annual division championships of the Sports Car Races of America here next weekend.

Foyt said he had virtually cleared the way toward participating in the races in which four heats will be held Saturday and five finals will be Sunday. Awards are trophies only.

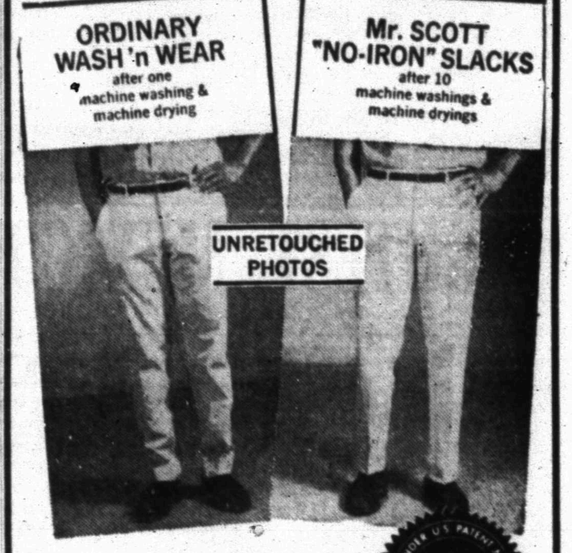

Foyt will drive a Lotus 19.

Giants, Indians Gain Victories

The National Little League race tightened considerably Monday night as the Giants edged the front - running Cubs 4-2. In the American, the Indians knocked over the leading Athletics 8-6.

The Cubs now have won 7 and lost 5, just half a game ahead of the Cardinals and the Braves who have identical 6-5 records. These two teams meet tonight and the winner will share the loop lead with the Cubs.

The Athletics, who have already cinched the title, substituted freely, playing 15 boys. The Indians had one big inning, the 2nd, in which they scored 7 runs. The Athletics managed 8 hits including doubles by David Elledge, Brad Morgan, Randy Keller and James Hood.

Bill Bowden of the Giants gave up only one hit, a 6th inning single to Scott Morgan. Bobby Thompson doubled for the Giants.

Panel Opens Brazos River Hearings

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Water Commission opens hearings today on five reservoir projects in the Brazos River watershed.

The Brazos River Authority is seeking commission permits for impoundment and storage of water.

A March 23 hearing was postponed after representatives of three downstream water users said they were near agreement with the river authority on water supply and storage contracts.

The reservoirs are Proctor on the Leon River in Comanche County; Still House Hollow, Lampasas River, Bell County; Somerville, Yegua Creek, Washington County; Decordova Bend, Brazos River, Hood County, and Belton Reservoir, Leon River, Bell County.

The authority was applied to store about one million acre feet of storm and flood waters in the reservoirs for use by municipalities, industries and agriculture during times of low water flow in the Brazos and in areas near the reservoirs. An acre foot is 325,851 gallons.

KC Rehires Lopat

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ed Lopat has been rehired for a newly created job as vice president in charge of player personnel at a salary hike under a new contract, three weeks after he was fired as manager of the Kansas City Athletics.

"He's a tremendous fellow with geat experience as an outstanding pitcher, scout and manager," said owner Charles O. Finley Monday.

Lopat's contract as manager extended through the 1965 season at a salary of between $25,000 and $30,000 a year. His new contract is a higher salary and extends through the 1966 season.

Athletics, Cubs Win In Farm League

The Athletics romped past the Indians 25-8 and the Cubs bounced the Giants 18-11 in Farm League activity Monday night. The Athletics now lead the league with a 10-2 record. The Cubs are now 3rd place in the National Farm League standings with a 5-7 record.

Practically every one on the Athletics roster got into the act. They pounded out 27 hits, including a large number of extra-base blows. Donald Phariss pitched for the Athletics.

The Cubs had their biggest inning in the 4th when 11 runs came across the plate. Jerry Littlejohn tripled for the Giants.

Ex Football Great Vaughan Blake Dies

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—J. Vaughan Blake, who carried on a family tradition of being a Vanderbilt University football captain, died at his home here Monday. He was 76.

For three years, 1906 through 1908, Blake and his brothers Dan and Bob captained the Vanderbilt teams which compiled 20 victories, four losses and two ties.

Gentile To Miss All-Star Game

BOSTON (AP) — Kansas City slugger Jim Gentile is not expected to return to action until after the All-Star game, the club announced Monday night.

Gentile pulled a cartilage from a rib on his left side June 25 and was sent home for examination and treatment.

Dodgers, Buffs Win PL Games

The Dodgers won over the Sports 9-6 and the Buffs edged the Rebels 4-2 in a Pony League double header Monday night. The win for the Dodgers keeps them well out in front with an 8-1 mark. The Buffs are in 2nd place with a 6-4 record.

The Buffs came from behind in the 7th frame with 3 runs to beat the Rebels. Robert Hobbs, the winning pitcher, gave up just 3 singles and one double to Larry Wadzeck.

The Dodgers scored in every inning except the 1st and last. Frankie Grimmett and Steve Holder combined to hold the Sports to only 3 safeties. Foree doubled for the Sports.

2 Aces Scored

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Two holes in one were scored Monday at Twin Hills Country Club here. The aces were the first for each of the golfers.

William Hoskinson got his on the 147-yard No. 11. Jay Buxton holed his tee shot on the 150-yard No. 4.

Buxton is 12 years old, Hoskinson is 84.

The youngster has been playing two years. Hoskinson took up the game 34 years ago when he was 50.

"This just proves that if you live long enough and keep trying, anything is possible," Hoskinson said.

Shuffle Due In Congo As Troops Leave

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Cyrille Adoula resigned today as the Congo marked the fourth anniversary of its independence and the last U.N. troops left the country.

President Joseph Kasavubu announced he had accepted Adoula's resignation. He said a new government would be formed in a few days.

There was widespread expectation that the new government would be headed by Moise Tshombe, the secessionist whose defiance of Adoula's government was ended by the U.N. Congo force early in 1963.

Tshombe returned last week from self-imposed exile in Europe and embarked on a reconciliation mission to bring together the still turbulent African country's feuding politicians.

The former president of Katanga Province announced Monday night that Antoine Gizenga, Communist - supported breakaway government, will be freed soon from the island prison where he has been held for 2½ years.

With Gizenga's return, all surviving political leaders at the outset of the Congo's independence will be back in the political arena.

Gizenga claimed to be Patrice Lumumba's successor when he set up his regime in the northeast Congo after Lumumba, the Congo's first premier, was murdered in Katanga.

Also back in the picture is Albert Kalonji, self-styled god-emperor of South Kasai Province, who came out of exile the day after Tshombe returned to the Congo.

Kalonji said he was willing to reconcile with all leaders except Joseph Ngalmula, who supplanted him in South Kasai.

Tshombe said he also has been promised support by Andre Lubaya, former provincial president of Kasai. Lubaya was sent across the Congo River from Brazzaville by exiled extremist politicians who call themselves the "National Liberation Committee" and have been trying to overthrow the Leopoldville regime of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Tshombe said Lubaya told him the Brazzaville committee was "prepared to back all my actions, without putting forward conditions."

If Tshombe succeeds in his peace-making role, he is given a good chance to succeed Adoula whose regime had been doomed by his failure to stem the rising tide of tribal war and rebellion in the eastern and southwest Congo.

A national referendum is under way on a new constitution that probably will result in a new central government.

The U.N. ended its military role in the former Belgian colony today for lack of money. There were no parades or ceremonies to mark either the departure of the U.N. troops or the independence anniversary.

A Canadian air force transport took off with 58 members of a Canadian army signal unit. A few minutes later a chartered DC8 left with 85 men of the Nigerian army's 1st Battalion.

The last man aboard was the U.N. force's last commander, Maj. Gen. J. Aguiyi-Ironsi of Nigeria.

Ft. Worth Stages Mr. President

FORT WORTH (AP) — The first staging anywhere outside of Broadway for 'Mr. President" with lyrics updated by Irving Berlin himself for this election year, was premiered at Casa Manana Theater here Monday night.

Local Republicans bought out the first-night house of the two-week run, and laughed at topical insertions about Texas GOP figures while applauding a cast headed by Art Lund, Peggy King and Natalie di Silvio.

Elston Brooks, amusements editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, wrote: "You can keep Johnson, and you can have Goldwater. Our man is Art Lund, and you don't need an IBM computer to know 'Mr. President' is in by a landslide."

Brooks added "Director Michael Pollock has solved the problem of JFK mentions by eliminating the musical prologue that Broadway had. This is, in fact, the first staging of 'Mr. President' since the November tragedy, and it's inoffensive all the way."

Silver dollars have not been coined in the United States since 1935.

Economic Optimism Apt To Last Through Year's End

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — More money in the hands of more people—even if on a quick in-and-out trip—is how the majority now sees the rest of this year.

Consumers are counting on it—witness their present spending and borrowing rates and their confident plans for the near future, all based on belief there will be more jobs, higher incomes, less tax erosion, more of a helping hand from government in now backward sectors of the economy.

Business is counting on it—witness its rush of new orders, rising production schedules, larger payrolls, plans for expanding activities and plants.

Government is counting on it—witness its revised estimates of more revenues from lower rates on larger corporate earnings and personal incomes.

Even the economists, often a dour lot, are counting on it—citing the momentum of an upswing that so far has revised the old laws of economic gravity, and the absence of excesses and weaknesses that have tolled the kneel in past cycles.

Records set in the first half of the year have fed this confidence. Still rising at midyear are industrial output, personal incomes, profits, dividends, stock prices, retail sales, employment.

Predictions for the fall are for continued economic growth. Almost the only reservations concern its rate. Will business activity expand at the fast pace of the first half of the year or at a slightly more sedate one?

Auto makers, having set a first half record, now predict output and sales will top the previous high of 1955.

Steelmen talk of 1964 being a 118-million-ton year, against the record 117 million of 1955.

The total national output of goods and services, estimated to have been at an annual rate of $620 billion in the second quarter, is believed by some to be moving toward a $645-billion pace in the fourth quarter, against $600.1 billion at the end of 1963.

All of this has been done without inflation.

So the horizon looks more than usually bright for the rest of the year. But this doesn't mean there aren't some clouds. There always are.

At midyear the clouds are:

1. The growing numbers of untrained youths and of older workers with skills made obsolete by automation who don't fit into tomorrow's economy as projected today;

2. The possibility, however faint just now, that business and consumers will toss aside caution and go on a spree of expansion and spending that could trigger a boom—and then a bust;

3. Stirrings in industrial prices that might widen into general increases if the moderating influence of surpluses of production capacity and available labor should be used up;

4. Labor negotiations just ahead that might raise production costs enough to start another whirl on the wage - price spiral.

Farm Products Are Reported At New Low Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm product prices may show up in a government report today to be at the lowest level since the present administration took office in 1961.

An Agriculture Department farm price report was expected to show a sharp decline in wheat between mid-May and mid-June. That's because markets have been adjusting to the 1964 wheat support level of $1.30 a bushel, down 52 cents from last year.

In mid-May, prices received by farmers for crops and livestock were reported at 1235 per cent of the 1910-14 base average. This compares with a high of 246 per cent—in March 1962—during the present administration. A record high of 313 per cent in February of 1951 and the previous recent low —233— in January 1960, under the Eisenhower administration.

The indicated decline in wheat between mid-May and mid-June would reduce this prices received index measurement standard to 231, assuming, of course, the loss in wheat prices is not offset in whole or in part by increases in some other products during the month.

If there are no offsetting price increases for other commodities, the parity yardstick could drop to the lowest since well before World War I. Parity is a standard declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices paid by them for goods and services used in production and family living.

In mid-May, farm prices were down to 75 per cent of the parity goal. The lowest under the Eisenhower administration was 77 per cent of parity in December, 1959.

But department officials emphasize that today's price report will not be a very accruate indicator of the economic well being of farmers. In the case of wheat, for example, market prices are much lower, but returns of farmers who cooperated with a new administration stabilization program by cutting plantings will be augmented by payments.

The payments are not taken into consideration in measuring farm prices received nor the parity level.

For example, in 1963, farm prices averaged 78 per cent of parity. But when the payments made to farmers were included the parity level was 81 per cent.

Firm Studies Reentry Of Spaceship Parts

HOUSTON (AP) — A California firm has been awarded a $212,519 contract to determine the probability of spaceship parts re - entering the atmoshere and killing or injuring someone.

The Manned Spacecraft Center gave the contract to the TRW Space Technology Laboratories, Redondo Beach.

The study is to include spaceship equipment from the Gemini and Apollo missions.

Much of the metal on the spaceships can withstand high temperatures and will re-enter without burning up.

The study is to be finished in December 1965.

Native Of Texas Is Killed In Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) —James Petty, 51, a native of Mart, Tex., working for the Alaska Highways Department, was killed Friday when his gravel - filled dump truck overturned.

Survivors include the widow and a son, Craig, of Bakersfield, Calif.

Trio Pleads Innocent Of Smuggling

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — Former Police Chief Roy Avila of Alamo, Tex., and two other men pleaded innocent in federal court Monday to charges of narcotics violations.

Avila, 39, and the other two men were indicted Friday by a federal grand jury at Corpus Christi on a total of 24 counts of Marijuana violations.

Avila, chief of police at Alamo until the city council requested his resignation last month, was charged with four counts of smuggling marijuana, four counts of selling marijuana and four counts of failure to pay the federal tax on marijuana.

Gilberto Avila, 32, of Donna, the ex-policeman's Cousin, was charged on three counts and Felipe Ramirez Alvarado, 37, of El Potosi, Mexico, was charged on nine counts.

Roy Avila and Ramirez were arrested May 2 in Alamo when U. S. Customs agents said they delivered 55 pounds of marijuana for sale to an undercover U. S. customs agent. Gilberto Avila surendered May 3.

Judge Raynaldo G. Garza continued $25,000 bond for Roy Avila and $15,000 bond for Gilberto Avila until their Sept. 8 trial. Ramirez, unable to make bond, has been in jail since his arrest.

Guilty Plea Heard In District Court

Robert Beauchamp pleaded guilty in district court Monday morning to a charge of forgery. He was given a two-year sentence which was probated.

PROMOTED — Gene Bruton, formerly of Snyder, has been appointed vice president in charge of the credit department of Security National Bank in Roswell, N. M. A native of Lubbock, Bruton graduated from Snyder High School in 1957 and began his banking career with Snyder National Bank before going into military service in 1958. On returning, he was associated with First National Bank of Grants, N. M. and in November of 1961 moved to the Roswell bank as head bookkeeper. He is married to the former Betty Richardson of Snyder and they have a son and a daughter.

Confusion Abounds In War-Talk

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is less Red China war talk inside the administration than there is outside.

This is causing a certain public confusion because the warnings of possible major conflict in the Far East are not supported by information on when, where and under what circumstances the conflict might begin.

There is a greater danger than home-front misunderstanding, however, because the Communist leaders in China and North Viet Nam may themselves misread the warnings which President Johnson and his associates are trying to send them. For them particularly, the central question is whether they believe what they are being told.

The administration is dealing with a fine line between bluntness and bluster in its efforts to get its message through to the Red Chinese leaders whose actions in the months ahead could very well bring on the war.

The difficulty with which Johnson and his associates are handicapped is that in this summer of presidential politics there is a potential, if not already existing, conflict between Johnson's foreign policy needs and his domestic political concerns, as seen by people close to him.

The major foreign policy issue for Johnson in the forthcoming campaign in his opinion is "peace." By this the President and his advisers mean the issues involved and the results obtained in the gradual lowering of temperatures between the Soviet Union and the United States or, more broadly, the Western allies and the Soviet bloc.

The results on which he relies for evidence of achievement by his peace policy and that of the late President John F. Kennedy include the year-old treaty putting a limited ban on nuclear weapons tests, the Washington - Moscow hot line, the nearly completed removal of Soviet troops from Cuba and the new U.S.-Soviet consular convention.

In Southeast Asia, however, there is no peace and in fact the Chinese faction of the Communist movement is on the march.

Groesbeck Airman Killed In Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Airman 1. C. Tommy Hodge, U.S. Air Force military policeman from Groesbeck, Tex., was killed Sunday night at Torrejon Air Base near Madrid, U.S. officials said today.

Preliminary investigation indicated Hodge was shot by accident by another MP while both were on sentry duty.

Hodge, 21, a member of the 817th Combat Defense Squadron at Pease Air Force Base in New Hampshire, was on temporary duty at Torrejon. He was the son of Reuben Hodge of Groesbeck.
