Army Promotes Campbell To Full Colonel

Promotion of Lieut. Col. Daniel S. Campbell, Pampa army air field commanding officer, to the rank of full colonel was announced today by the war department. At 32, Colonel Campbell thus becomes one of the youngest officers in the army to hold such a high rank. As a lieutenant colonel, he came here in September, 1942, to command the twin-engine advanced flying school.

Colonel Campbell, a native of Booneville, Ind., was graduated from West Point with a bachelor of science degree in 1932, receiving a second lieutenant's commission. He immediately applied for flight training and was sent to Randolph field, San Antonio, where he completed his primary and basic training. He completed his advanced training at Kelly in 1933 and received his silver pilot's wings. His first assignment took him to Wheeler field, Hawaii, where he was stationed with the 19th pursuit squadron.

He was promoted to first lieutenant in 1935 and returned to Kelly field in 1937 to become an instructor in pursuit flying. He was made a captain shortly thereafter. In 1940, he was transferred to Brooks field and in 1941 was sent to the Lubbock army flying school as director of training, having been promoted to major just before the latter move.

Preacher Happens Along Just in Time

SPOKANE, Wash., March 22 (AP)—Claude Clowell of Amarillo, Texas, had the marriage license and the girl. All he needed was a Baptist minister. Hurrying from the army air port to meet the girl, Marjorie Miller of San Bernardino, Calif., Clowell was picked up by a motorist. To make conversation, he explained his plans. "Maybe I can help," the driver said. "I'm Rev. Paul Olesbee of the Tabernacle Baptist church." He got the job.

Debate Opens On Thursday In House

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—Democratic leaders began today a formal canvass of the party's house membership designed to head off a potential coalition of segments of Democrats with Republicans that might spell passage of the Ruml plan to skip an entire tax year in putting income taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Representative Rameck, of Georgia, the Democratic whip, said many Democrats still have "an open mind" on the tax issue and some are confused by the controversy over the Ruml plan and the administration tax collection bill, drawn by a majority of the house ways and means committee.

The tax debate begins Thursday. Representative Knutson (R-Minn.) predicted 30 Democrats would join the Republicans to pass the skip-a-year proposal.

Representative Disney (D-Okla.) said "We will have more Republicans voting against the Ruml plan than Democrats for it."

The house has 209 Republicans and 222 Democrats.

A Republican minority of the ways and means committee filed a report charging the Democratic majority's tax collection bill would put small taxpayers in a "strait-jacket" and called for enactment of the Ruml plan.

The majority previously had exonerated the skip-a-year proposal as "like robbing Peter to pay a bonus to Paul."

In the midst of the charges and counter charges—warmups for the free-for-all tax battle on the floor—Representative Forand (D-R.I.) ways and means member, wrote all house members he would offer a compromise to abate the greater part, but not all, of 1942 income tax obligations, and put virtually all taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis.

This plan originally was presented by Representative Robertson (D-Va.) and voted down in committee along with the Ruml plan.

The Republican minority's report referred to provisions of the majority's bill as "stupid, misguided and unenlightened," and declared "the hybrid measure which the majority has finally concocted after many weeks of indecision is not even a substantial gesture toward the adoption of a pay-as-you-earn tax system."

The committee bill provides that a taxpayer at his own option may continue to remit his taxes as at present on the basis of the previous year's income, or may pay off the previous year in full and go on a current basis. A discount ranging up to six per cent in 1943 and to four per cent in subsequent years is provided for whole or part advance payment of tax liabilities on current year income.

ALLIES DRIVE GERMANS TOWARD THE SEA

Churchill Sketches Program For Post-War World Peace Councils

Hitler Admits Germany Now Is 'War Zone'

LONDON, March 22 (AP)—Adolf Hitler emerged yesterday from a 133-day silence which had given rise to rumors of his illness or death to tell the German people in a radio broadcast the crisis on the Russian front had been surmounted. He assured them their losses in the dead were relatively small, and yet admit that many parts of Germany had become "war zones" as a result of incessant Allied bombings.

Veteran broadcast listeners, who have heard many of Hitler's speeches before, listened particularly intently to be sure it was he speaking and said they were convinced it was his voice they heard.

In one of the shortest and most subdued speeches he has ever delivered the führer told a German war-dead memorial day gathering at the Zeughaus (military museum) in Berlin, the fourth such assembly since the war began, that 542,000 German soldiers had been killed since the start of the conflict.

Premier Josef Stalin has set the total of German dead on the eastern front at 4,000,000, and Germany's own admissions of losses in their entrapment and defeat at Stalingrad would appear to make Hitler's total figure for two years of war unduly low.

Hitler told his people the army, despite its losses, was being rapidly strengthened by additional classes of service men and the return of wounded men who had recovered.

While again picturing Germany as the bulwark of Europe against an incursion from "inner Asia," he failed to repeat specific assurances of the smashing of the Russian armies, and produced nothing to match his declaration of March 16, 1941, that "England will fall."

Pope Reported Slightly Ill

By The Associated Press. Pope Pius XII was reported today by the Berlin radio to be suffering from a severe cold and confined to bed with a high fever, but the British radio, in a broadcast recorded by CBS, quoted a Rome announcement that he was only slightly indisposed and that his doctors "say there is no cause for anxiety."

MacArthur's Air Attacks Widened In Pacific Zone

(By The Associated Press.) Australian Army Minister Francis Forde declared today that Japan was more determined to attack Australia than ever before as the range of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's bombing attacks emphasized the growing concentration of enemy power in the islands on the fringe of the continent.

"The Allied victories in the Solomons, New Guinea and Bismarck sea merely intensified Japan's determination to invade Australia," Forde said.

MacArthur's bombing attacks, growing more numerous northwest of Australia, centered on Cape Vandenbosch off Dutch New Guinea where bombs were dropped around two cargo vessels and a destroyer in convoy off Cape Namaripi. Dutch New Guinea, where three small merchant ships and some barges were bombed and strafed. At Langroer in the Kai Islands machinegun posts were silenced and two luggers damaged.

In the area northeast of Australia a Japanese destroyer was sent limping as a result of two bomb hits from an attack in the Solomon sea. Other raids were made on Gasmata and Cape Gloucester, New Britain, and Madang and Pinschhafen, New Guinea. Another enemy ship was left in sinking condition at Borgen Bay.

In Burma Allied bombers continued their "milk runs" over Donbaik on the Mayu peninsula north of Akyab, Rathedaung in the same area, the air field near Toungou in central Burma, and other targets, including a railway line in a gorge in the Katha district, but there was no change in the ground positions.

Patton, Montgomery Squeeze Rommel Into Small Coastal Strip

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, March 22 (AP)—American armor drove a wedge into Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's last defense barring the way to the Gulf of Gabes with the capture of about 1,400 Italian prisoners and Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery pressed a full-scale attack on the Mareth line today.

Field reports said an American column was within sight of Maknassy, a strong German position on the Gafsa-Mahares railway some 50 miles west of the port of Mahares.

The battle of Tunisia, which Prime Minister Churchill announced last night was under way and going well, found Rommel's southern forces squeezed into a coastal strip of barely 70 miles separating the correlated drives of Montgomery and U. S. Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., from the south and the west respectively.

In the north, Col. Gen. Jürgen von Arnim's troops drove a British First army detachment from Nefusa station, which lies 47 miles southwest of Bizerte and about two miles northwest of the Djebel Aïad, but the dominating heights of the Djebel Ablad were covered by a new British line.

This was a mere sideshow to the mammoth Allied ground and air offensive which threatens to encircle Rommel in the south.

(A British radio broadcast, recorded by CBS, said the powerful aerial action with which the British Eighth army opened its attack on the Mareth positions "was very much like the beginning of the battle of El Alamein," dust storms and rain clouds which had hampered operations for days vanished.)

Battle For Russian Rail Line Grows

MOSCOW, March 22 (AP)—The Red army has captured the railway town of Barov, 57 miles east of Smolensk on the main line from Moscow, and the Russian column driving southward toward the rail line from Bely has made new progress, the Russians announced today.

The battle for the Donets river line south of east of Khar'kov grew in intensity. Durovo was occupied by the same Russian force which broke through the German defenses at Vyznamo to crack the Nazi salient so long pointed threateningly at Moscow.

The advance was made in the face of repeated German counterattacks that cost the Germans heavily in men and material, the mid-day communique said.

The Russians on the march south of Bely seized two strongly fortified German positions, the communique said, and in one place moved in over the bodies of 275 Germans.

After conceding the loss of Belgorod, 50 miles north of Khar'kov, last night, the Russians reported today they were holding stubbornly east and southeast of the city in the area of Chuguev. The Germans have tried repeatedly to cross the Donets river and continue their advance, but each time they have been thrown back by the Red army defenders, it was said.

A Pravda dispatch reported that several settlements in the Chuguev region were continuously changing hands as the Red army stiffened its resistance and the fighting increased in ferocity. Soviet artillery, Pravda said, has forced the Germans to change their tank tactics.

Swollen Rivers Threaten U. S.

(By The Associated Press.) Rain-forged rivers slowly crept toward dangerous crests today in several southeastern states, forced hundreds to evacuate their homes in the low-lying areas, and threatened heavy property damage.

The wide-spread flood threats in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi came as a downward revision of expected crests eased fears along the Ohio river.

Hundreds of residents of lowlands north of Hattiesburg, Miss., were evacuated from their homes under Red Cross supervision last night as the Boule river swept from its banks.

Soldiers and Mississippi Highway department workers lost a sandbag fight to keep open the highway north of Hattiesburg to Meridian, Miss. Muddy waters swept away sandbags placed along highway edges through the Boule and Leaf river lowlands.

Rescue parties near Bogalusa, La., sought the body of Boyd Knight 26, believed drowned when his boat capsized while he and a companion were rounding up cattle in low swamps.

Extensive flood damage threatened in Alabama as the Coosa, Alabama, Warrior, Tombigbee, Cahaba and Conecuh rivers rose steadily above flood stage.

BULLETIN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, March 22 (AP)—Military dispatches said today the British Eighth army attacked the Mareth line on a six-mile front between the sea and the main road from Medenine to the village of Mareth and encountered strong opposition.

Saturday, it said, and the all-out onslaught was launched in clear weather.

A column of General Patton's forces thrust due east from El Guetar mopped up Bou Hamran, eight miles nearer the coast, and captured about 1,400 Italian prisoners. Heavy shell fire by American batteries forced some of them to surrender.

American troops are now at grips with the last Axis defenses guarding communication routes on the coastal plain.

(Both Italian and German communications broadcasts from Berlin and Rome and recorded by the Associated Press, said violent air and ground battles were in progress. The German bulletin was phrased to imply that Nazi troops were not under fire, saying "strong British."

Whirlwind Bombers Attack Brittany

LONDON, March 22—British Whirlwind bombers damaged the important railway viaduct at Morlaix, in Brittany, scoring several hits and starting a fire as the RAF continued its attack on German communications in France over the weekend, the air ministry announced yesterday.

All the Allied planes returned. The Berlin radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, said last night the two recent heavy Allied bombings of the Nazi submarine base at Saint Nazaire had demolished 60 per cent of the houses in the French port town and left another 20 per cent uninhabitable.

Stockholm sources reported the huge Allied bombing blow at Berlin March 1 had left 30,000 Berliners homeless and declared that a direct bomb hit had been scored on the sprawling stone building which houses Field Marshal Goering's air ministry.

Great Mullet, Soft Shell Crab Industry in Texas Lies Dormant

By DAVE CHEAVENS Associated Press Staff For that vacant meat-spot on your menu and the consequent all gone feeling under your belt, why not try mullet or the flesh of the soft shell crab? "The answer, you can't get 'em. Why? Because nobody has taken the trouble to exploit these sources of meat that could furnish 70,000,000 pounds annually. That's about 10 pounds per Texan per year. The mullet is a lowly and abundant fish. Those small fish in countless shoals that swarm the water bays from Boca, Chica to Sabine, easy to take in nets, are mullet. Texans for some reason have always regarded them highly only as tarpon or redfish bait, but they are good eating. In Florida, this same type of mullet is one of the favorite market fishes, and from 40 to 60 million pounds a year are consumed. The bait-robbing crab that pesters fishermen along the Texas coast is equally neglected for what it is worth. The state Game, Fish and Oyster commission is plugging for commercial development of the crab as well as the mullet and joint rationing of meats may prove to be the necessary stimulus. Crab meat consumed in the United States has always come principally from Japan and the waters adjacent to Chesapeake Bay. Pearl Harbor shut off one of these sources, and a scarcity of crabs along the Maryland shores has trimmed the others. Chesapeake once furnished 60 million pounds annually. Experts of the game department believe Texas waters could furnish that much crab meat, plus an estimated 10 million pounds of mullet to add to the present marketable sea food supply. "In view of these facts," says Texas Game and Fish, the official publication of the commission, "it seems that there is an excellent opportunity for a new business in Texas, where crabbing has been on a ridiculously small scale to date.

Rival Union Warfare Slows Down Kaiser Shipyards on West Coast

BY PETER EDSON Copyright, 1943, NEA Service, Inc. WASHINGTON, March 22—Production in the Henry J. Kaiser shipyards on the Pacific coast has dropped 10 per cent in efficiency, the company says, solely because of labor turmoil which continues as the result of a secret agreement entered into between the C.I.O. and A.F. of L. representatives, first revealed in these dispatches yesterday. This unpublicized clause agreed to in connection with the peace and unity pact announced by the A.F. of L. and C.I.O. last Dec. 2 is to the effect that nothing in the peace agreement "will conflict with either party's legal rights," and this permits continued union organization activities within the Kaiser plants under the rights granted by the Wagner Act, despite the fact that these shipyards have A. F. of L. contracts.

Revise Wagner Act?

If this section is interpreted to mean that labor unions shall have the right to raid each other for members, instead of stabilizing labor conditions, the net effect will be to guarantee continued disruption and leave employers with no assurance whatever that when they sign a contract with one union it will continue in force for the period specified or be worth the paper on which it is written.

Three-Way Split

"Today the 'company union' has been virtually wiped out, but instead of one dominant A.F. of L. there are now two major groups, with the C.I.O. fighting A.F. of L. for supremacy. And since the organization of the C.I.O.—which was originally composed of 10 industrial unions under the leadership of John L. Lewis, and expelled from the A.F. of L.—C.I.O. itself was split in 1941 by the withdrawal of Lewis.

Protest to FBI

When the executive council of the A.F. of L. met in Miami, Fla., in mid-January, it ratified the unity agreement of Dec. 2, which had already been ratified by the C.I.O. executive council. But to make the agreement mean what the A.F. of L. peacemakers thought it was to mean, the A.F. of L. executive council was forced to instruct its peace committee to seek a new agreement with C.I.O. preventing "raiding" of established unions.

When the Wagner Act was passed in 1935, there was only one major labor organization, the American Federation of Labor. The act sought to protect laboring men in their rights to organize in unions of their own choosing. Emphasis was placed on the unfair labor practices of employers, chief of which was then considered the "company union."

Before the United Nations can start their big push against the axis there must be cleaned up "little" jobs which actually involve major campaigns. Map shows why completion of these tasks is necessary before we can strike at the hearts of Germany and Japan in the European and Asiatic theaters of war.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE—"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Puerto Rican Governor President Roosevelt's recommendation that Puerto Rico be permitted to elect her own governor is a fine gesture.

To set our Caribbean territory free at such a time as this, severing the bonds that tie to her a subsidization averaging $25,000,000 a year, would be heartless cruelty and shirking of a long-ignored American responsibility.

The fibaro — the Puerto Rican peasant — has neither the developed intellect, the education nor the awakened alertness and seasoned judgment necessary to make the democracy function under stress.

He has been guided, herded, protected and simultaneously exploited. He never has shifted for himself. He is a fall guy for any demagog with a good line.

He is utterly unfit for independence. He is equally unfit for the responsibility of carrying on without a governor in position to apply at least negative (veto) control over his childishness.

Moreover, so far as Senator Tydings' proposal is concerned, we need Puerto Rico for the defense of the Western Hemisphere. It is aptly called the Pearl Harbor of the Atlantic.

In selfishness and in charity we must keep Puerto Rico, must retain control until in course of years we can educate the peasantry to some capacity for self-government, must relieve the intense and almost general misery of the fibaro.

Is that democracy? At least it is humane and Christian.

THE GREATEST COMMANDMENT CONTEST This column recently announced six prizes for the best explanation of the first and greatest commandment.

It was called the first commandment because, when a lawyer asked Jesus which was the greatest commandment (the chief commandment, Weymouth and Moffatt translations), He replied that "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment."

The purpose of the contest is to arouse interest in this commandment and get people to better understand how they must live and what actions they must take in order to comply with this commandment.

To review the terms of the contest for those who missed the first announcement: there will be two separate sets of judges of three each. One set will be judges from what might be called the orthodox or revealed religion school.

The first prize awarded by each set of judges will be $40; the second, $20; the third, $10. Contributors should limit their articles to 600 or 700 words.

It is my opinion that if people complied with this commandment, they would not only have the Kingdom of Heaven within but they would have both spiritual and moral blessing.

It is because our people have acted more like the people of Sodom and Gomorrah and have not understood or discarded this commandment that we have had the worst and longest depression in our history.

Food Becomes War Industry

BY PETER EDSON Pampa News' Washington Correspondent

With food rated as one of the principal weapons of war, a wholesale conversion of industries to food processing and production is now in progress.

When the war production effort first got going, all manner of manufacturers got into new lines of business. Soapmakers took contracts to mixed foundations pop bottlers went into shell loading and rubber companies took contracts to make airplanes.

INGENUOUS CONVERSIONS When War Production Board orders stopped the production of canned dog food because of the shortage of tin plate, this industry converted almost 100 per cent to the packaging of food for human consumption.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press Writer

Britain's prime minister gave us the official news we had been anxiously awaiting and in the Churchills drama into the Tunisian crisis last evening with his impressively measured announcement:

"I have just received a message from General Montgomery that the Eighth army is on the move, and he is satisfied with the progress."

Confidence is one of the British commander's outstanding characteristics. He has unlimited faith in himself, and that inspires in his troops the moral which has carried them to their sensational victories.

At the week-end I ran across some notes I made in Cairo after Montgomery smashed Rommel's line at El Alamein and started the historic Axis route which finally wound up in Tunisia.

These are modern tactics. They were used first by the Germans against the Poles, and again in France.

Cattlemen Of Southwest To Air Problems

Southwestern farmers, cattlemen, dairymen, sheep and goat raisers, will gather in the Baker hotel, Dallas, Monday, March 29, to meet with agricultural commissioners and representatives of state and national government for an all-day discussion of problems confronting food producers in the present all-out war effort. The meeting has been called over the signatures of a half dozen state commissioners of agriculture, farmers and live stock growers in behalf of the National Farm committee, a Texas corporation operating upon a nationwide program.

Signing the call are Commissioners J. E. McDonald, Texas; Tom Linder, Atlanta, Ga.; E. H. Eversen, Pierre, S. D.; Nathan Mayo, Tallahassee, Fla.; L. M. Walker, Richmond, Va.; and numerous farmers and stockmen in Texas and other states.

The meeting, according to J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner, will bring outstanding United States senators, governors and congressmen to Dallas. These men will address the meeting, but considerable time will be given over to farmers and stockmen who will make their wants known to the representatives of state and national government.

"Agriculture, which includes livestock production and dairying, is a vital industry second only to the manufacture of munitions," McDonald said. "Farmers, ranchmen and dairymen realize their responsibility and are doing everything possible to produce the food and fiber necessary to whip the Axis and feed the starving million in foreign lands. However, in order that the maximum of food and fiber are produced, it is imperative that there be cooperation, confidence and unity of action on the part of all. The meeting is being called in order that agricultural leaders, farmers and ranchmen may develop a definite and constructive program and to help outline those government restrictions which are handicaps to the producers in their production efforts."

It is also the aim of the meeting to decide whether or not new national legislation or other government assistance is needed in helping achieve production goals. Farmers are opposed to government subsidies. They want parity prices—prices for their production which will enable them to pay a wage which will keep farm labor on the farm, McDonald said.

Not only those interested in agriculture but all citizens are urged to attend the meeting to express their opinion and to help outline a program for maximum production.

United States bombers and fighter planes, continuing their attacks against the Japanese in northern Burma while the British are pounding them in the south, blasted enemy installations and left great fires burning at Mogaung, a United States communique said today.

Mogaung is about 225 miles northeast of Mandalay and 75 miles from the China border.

Other fighters and bombers on offensive reconnaissance in the Myitkya area, 25 or 30 miles northeast of Mogaung, strafed and burned enemy motor vehicles and strafed two river steamers which were believed to have been sunk, the communique added.

These operations were carried out without the loss of an American plane.

Liberators Bomb Naples Harbor

CAIRO, March 22 (AP)—Liberator bombers of the Ninth United States air force attacked Naples harbor Saturday night, an American communique said today, and scored hits on railway yards and the Vittorio Emanuele Mole and left a ship burning.

All the raiders returned safely, the war bulletin said.

The January 1 estimate includes members of the armed forces all over the world in the continental population. The figure is 3,934,000 greater than the total counted in April, 1940, census.

Fighter Pilots Escape From Nazi Patrols

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, March 22 (AP)—Two American fighter pilots are back with their squadron after making a forced landing inside enemy lines in Tunisia within range of a German anti-tank gun.

No sooner had they landed than the gun opened fire on them. Both taxied over rough terrain and one managed to take off, but the other plane was hit by a shell while still on the ground. As it burst into flames the pilot leaped from the plane and ran for cover.

The other pilot in the air saw what happened and went for the anti-tank gun. He knocked it out, temporarily at least, and then landed to pick up his comrade who crammed himself into the plane.

A tank and machinegun came to get them, but after a long search during which the pilots lying in the cactus heard the voices of the tank crew and cyclist—gave up the job.

The fliers hiked overland and were picked up by a British patrol.

London observers expressed belief that difficult communication and supply problems would hold back the pace of the American advance eastward in central Tunisia from Gafsa. Cautioning against over optimism, one said there was still the job of clearing the enemy from numerous hills in the vicinity of Maknassy. Speculation on the Mareth line operations were discouraged in British military quarters, which said the offensive would take some time to unfold.

Fierce fighting was developed by the plunge of General Montgomery's men against the fortified positions of Marshal Rommel, but "operations are continuing satisfactorily," the bulletin said.

The ground action was accompanied by powerful aerial blows against the Mareth line and Axis air fields.

Yesterday in the Gafsa sector American forces continued to press toward Maknassy, a pocket of Gafsa, taking over 1,000 prisoners in several successful actions," the communique said.

Of the northern sector operations west of Sedjenane, the bulletin reported "there was slight enemy activity and our troops are again in contact. Fighting continues."

Heavy, medium and light bombers of the northwest African air force contributed to the pounding of the air fields upon which Rommel depends for both aerial support and many of his supplies.

The entire Louisiana congressional delegation opposed the nomination on the grounds it would give Texas two seats on the circuit court and Louisiana none. Other Allred opponents argued that Louisiana should have representation on the court because of that state's peculiar Napoleonic code of civil law and because Allred was named to fill a vacancy created by the death of Judge Rufus Foster of New Orleans.

Overton and Ellender had recommended Louisiana Supreme Justice Archie T. Higgins for the post. Attorney General Biddle, testifying before a subcommittee, said he had asked Monte Lemann, New Orleans attorney, if he would accept the post and that Lemann had declined.

The attorney general said equal geographical representation on the bench was important, but that of all the candidates for the post Allred was the best qualified.

Morgenthau estimated that by the end of 1944 the national debt will amount to about $210,000,000 and will involve interest payments of $4,000,000,000 a year.

Players Are Swapped At Own Request

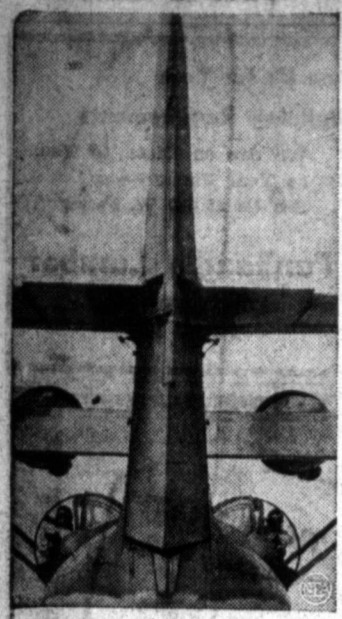

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—War-time baseball, which already has brought the substitution of child-born for sunburn and snowmen for bathing beauties in the training camp life of the athletes, also has produced the I-don't-want-to-play-for-your-society among the players.

Bob Johnson, slugging outfielder for Connie Mack's Philadelphia A's in recent years, is the latest to be issued his card in the new organization.

Mack sent him to Washington last night in exchange for shortstop Jimmy Pofahl and infielder-outfielder Bobby Estalella.

He is one of at least seven major leaguers since late last fall who have announced a preference for a different job or baseball uniform—and have been traded by owners seeking to conserve their meager

Pair Decorated In Australia

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, March 22 (AP)—Two American soldiers, one of whom led a charge on a Japanese machinegun nest armed only with a pistol, today were awarded silver stars for gallantry in action by Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of U. S. troops in New Guinea.

They were Private First Class Julius Aschenbrenner, of Pinckney, Mich., and Technician Floyd J. Nichols, 381 Aracadia Place, San Antonio, Tex.

Aschenbrenner's award resulted from an action near Buna Nov. 21, and the citation said: "With utter disregard of his own personal safety Aschenbrenner, having discovered an enemy machinegun voluntarily advanced with several riflemen under heavy fire in an attempt to put the gun out of action. Being a member of a light machinegun section, Aschenbrenner's only weapon was a .45-caliber pistol. He was of great assistance to the riflemen in completing their mission of destroying the emplacement."

Nichols won his award in action in the Tappan area of New Guinea Oct. 29 during a heavy bombing by the Japanese. He was called on to administer first aid to three severely wounded soldiers lying on cots in a tent when the enemy planes returned to attack again.

"With utter disregard for his personal safety Nichols placed the patients in a slit trench," the citation said. "After the raid was over he returned them to the cots and continued first aid treatment."

Children's Appeal Not to Kill Animals Answered by State

ABILENE, March 22 (AP)—Four lions and two bears, feature attractions at Abilene's zoo, won't die today as scheduled.

The state park board stepped in at the last minute and offered to take over the zoo, "lock, stock and barrel," giving the larger animals, sentenced to death as an economy move by the city parks board, a new lease on life.

Mayor Wendell Mayes of Brownwood, a member of the state parks board, last night advised G. B. Sandifer of Abilene that the board is willing to transfer the stock to Lake Abilene state park and make it "one of the best little zoos in this section of the country."

The state park is 21 miles southwest of Abilene.

Earlier yesterday, the army came to the rescue of the condemned lions and bears. Officers at the Abilene army air base asked city officials to call off the executions.

"We'll furnish scrap meat, bones, bread. We'll do anything we possibly can to keep the animals for the children of Abilene," Base Commander Col. Edmund C. Gaines said.

For days, letters from children have been pouring into the reporter-news offices, asking that the bears and lions be spared.

Mayes said the state board would ask also for the cages at the city zoo and said the board would send an engineer to investigate the situation.

The zoo, which has been in operation more than 10 years, includes half a dozen monkeys, a bobcat, coyote, a raccoon and an eagle.

CHALLENGE CHAPTER XIX

THE free barbecue dinner held the crowd at Sky Harbor until 9 p. m., also held Jimmy Carr and his passenger there. But the reception committee had thoughtfully arranged no night program. This would give the flyers a chance to rest.

As soon as he could manage it, Jimmy slipped away from the bigwigs and celebrities and went to speak with Loraine. Ed Bryan had stayed near her, on guard.

"I can tell you are furious, Loraine," Jimmy began, earnestly. "But I want to talk to you. I can explain everything."

"Somebody'd better!" she gritted out.

"I wouldn't say much without thinking, Miss Stuart," Ed Bryan said, in definite warning again.

"Now or any other time. There's plumb strict laws about flashing around guns and fake Army orders. So long, Captain. I'll be seeing you at the hotel tonight."

When he had gone, Jimmy drove straight to the point.

"This had to happen," he told the girl. "You must see it in the right way, Loraine. You simply must!"

"That—that Bryan—he pulled me out of the sailplane, and—"

"I know he did. And I know he brought Patricia Friday out here. In fact I ordered him to, Loraine. I wanted Pat put back as the passenger. You remember now I kept you hidden at the take-off in Chicago? Wouldn't let news photographers on the field? That was done on purpose."

"But why?"

"Because it had to be! There's too much at stake. Colonel Friday, the Army—they're banking on this sailplane trip! Coast to coast. Mountains of publicity. It's a real chance to sell soaring to the U. S. A. And we can't afford to let any kind of mixup spoil it. We want it to go off smoothly. And by George it will! Do you understand?"

She didn't answer him. Her lips were taut.

"Loraine, I know you got a dirty break. But if you couldn't be ready at the start there in Elmira, then I just had to run in a substitute. It'll only be a few days more. Now you're mad, and I understand it, so I'll let you alone. But you go to that hotel and meet us for breakfast, all sugar and smiles. Okay, sweetie!"

Sweetie still didn't answer. Jimmy squeezed her elbow in genuine feeling, said, "Please, Loraine," and went away again.

Whatever surged in Loraine's mind that night, only she knew. But she took no drastic action.

Perhaps Ed Bryan's warning and Jimmy's plea both helped her to control herself. She was already in the hotel dining room next morning when Jimmy and Pat and Ed came in.

"Good morning, Loraine," Pat said, as cordially as she could. Both men spoke heartily, too. They all drew up chairs to her table, uninvited. And the waiters began to serve them there.

Loraine was cooler now. "Hello," she managed, flat tone.

Pat said, "Loraine, we—we shan't do any bluffing. Not among us four. I can tell you that I was as astonished as you were, but—"

"Right," Ed Bryan nodded. "—but I understand why Ed and Jimmy felt they had to do what they did. You must believe us when we say this is not personal. At least no more than—"

Practical Ed Bryan stopped in again. "No more than you were treated in Chicago, Miss Friday. Not as much, in fact. You're the goal in all this, if anybody asks me!"

"Yes," Jimmy nodded. "It's regrettable, all around. But let's all forget it. Please, kids! All of us. Intentions everywhere were good. I'm sure. Certainly this whole deal was impromptu. A part of our Army task. And, hang it all, it's been scads of fun! Aside from this—this little back-stage misunderstanding."

Ed Bryan stepped in again. "What she says is crazy!" he declared. "Talking about a train of these kites she flew here in! We need common sense. I resent this whole proposition. It's just a crazy publicity stunt!"

"What she says is crazy!" he declared. "Talking about a train of these kites she flew here in! We need common sense. I resent this whole proposition. It's just a crazy publicity stunt!"

Pat's face first astonished; and then suddenly she was mad. "Mr. Chairman!" she called. "He—this is not a stunt at all! He hasn't offered any sort of argument. He has merely thrown cold water on a grand idea!"

The farmer laughed disdainfully. "You and this Captain Carr figure you can prove what you have to say?"

"You betcha!" Pat Friday snapped, fire in her eyes.

allowed to stand. The public still thought cute little Pat Friday was named Loraine.

Jimmy had agreed to meet flight technicians for an engineering powwow, but Pat went to the convention hall. The committee had arranged a radio forum, with 12 microphones.

"This three-day glider and sailplane exhibition," the master of ceremonies told the radio audience and the people here in the hall, "has already proved to be a much bigger event than any of us anticipated. This, we know, is because Phoenix is the center of a vast irrigated farming empire. Soaring, my friends, is a means of transportation, and if we can somehow work but a way to deliver fresh farm produce to urban markets—"

He had an excellent speech and he impressed his audience. And then it was Pat's turn to "say something."

So many times, Pat realized, public talks of this sort are the sheers, driven, pointless, bore-some to all. She had resolved on this trip to be a little more than just gracious, and so she set in now to tell these people how important soaring could really be.

She talked barely 10 minutes, and "let, concluding—"Therefore, gentlemen of Arizona, if you and all other farming communities will only prepare for it, your strawberries, your lettuce, your tomatoes, all your perishables as well as your mail and your express and a good deal of your other freight, can soon be shipped across the nation in glider trains. One big motor plane could tow 10 gliders loaded heavily with vegetables, dropping the glider off at each city passed. It could make money for everybody concerned!"

The applause ended when an indignant farmer challenged Pat from the end microphone.

"What she says is crazy!" he declared. "Talking about a train of these kites she flew here in! We need common sense. I resent this whole proposition. It's just a crazy publicity stunt!"

Army, Navy Cooks Also Salvage Fats, Greases for War Effort

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
AUSTIN, March 22 (AP)—Many housewives are asking if army and navy cooks, like themselves, are salvaging fats and greases.
The answer is yes.
So many inquiries were received that George E. Butler, executive secretary of the Texas Salvage Commission, obtained official permission from the Office of War Information to release some facts:
Butler speaking:
"We are advised that enough waste fats are being salvaged each month by the army and navy to make glycerine explosives that would blast an area of five square blocks if dropped on Berlin or Tokyo."
"Through the efforts of the salvage branch of the War Production board cooperating with the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, we have seen to it that each one of these armed units has a market for the fats and greases from its kitchens. The office of the quartermaster general states that enough glycerine to manufacture 2,000,000 pounds of dynamite is being salvaged from the army. The navy reported that it is salvaging 900,000 pounds a month. We know that in each camp in Texas the quartermaster's department has instructed all mess sergeants to see that the fats and greases from the kitchen are salvaged and to be sure that none of the grease goes down the kitchen sink. The army has grease traps in its kitchens."

Workers to Live With Army for Three Days

DETROIT, March 22 (AP)—Nearly 250 leaders of United Automobile Workers (CIO) war plant unions, accepting a War department invitation, leave tomorrow to join military units at Camp Aterbury, Indiana, for a three-day taste of the life of a soldier.
Until Wednesday, the war workers will be under military discipline, living and working with army men, toughened by months of intensive training, seeing at first hand how the army makes use of the weapons produced in the plants from which the union men come.
Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson described their visit as "an unparalleled opportunity to learn what the army is like and what the army needs."

MRS. OBELE McALLISTER, attractive bride of the Fort Worth representative, briefly addressed the house and told of a letter she had received from him in an air base and when asked for a pass or other identification she offered the letter.
"Splendid, this is sufficient," she quoted the words of the officer in charge.
Later she went to see a banker and he asked if she had a letter of credit. Again she submitted the letter and again the answer was "splendid, that'll do perfectly."
That night she had dinner with friends and when she showed them the letter they said "Oh, look, it's a proposal."
Mrs. McAllister, the former Ione Buckner of Fort Worth, told the house she felt it a great honor to be able to serve as "even a limited influence on one member" of the lawmaking body.

Navy Gun Crew Downs Eight German Planes

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—The navy gun crew aboard the Liberty ship William Moutrie shot down eight German planes, damaged twelve others, drove away a submarine and scored a direct hit on a torpedo, causing it to explode, during a recent voyage to an Allied port, the navy reported today.
The Moutrie, due to the gallant fighting, made the trip unharmed. She was one of a convoy which was under almost uninterrupted attack from the air and from under the sea for a week.
Ensign Jeremiah T. Mahoney, 25, New York City, was awarded the Silver Star medal for his leadership of the crew and all 24 members of his outfit received letters of commendation from the Navy department.

Today on the Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Nearly every kind of job, service or merchandise becomes essential at some level if you're cutting down to "bedrock" in civilian life, government planners say.
You can't do away entirely with restaurants, laundries, barber shops or recreation facilities, they agree, without affecting morale—some where you've got to draw the line.
Stated badly, the question is this: What's to be gained—or lost—if everybody has to cut his own hair, make all his own clothes, do all his laundering himself, live entirely without electric light, or kill mice by slugging them with a rolling pin?
Well, the planners agree that in a war of total manpower and total resources, the average individual probably could get along all right with fewer haircuts, fewer changes of clothes, doing at least the ironing (except maybe men's shirts) at home, using light bulbs a little more sparingly, cutting down the need for mousetraps by more careful housekeeping (or perhaps keeping a cat).
But what's the "bedrock" point in each item?
That's what the government experts are trying to figure out. That's the story behind the so-called "bedrock economy report" which government experts have drawn up and are studying.
The war production board emphasizes that the bedrock report is tentative, that it isn't a recommendation that cuts be made to the estimated bedrock levels, but that it provides a starting point for study. Generally speaking, the report is based on percentages of 1939 consumption.

To illustrate: The tentative bedrock economy would provide no vacuum cleaners, flatirons, other electrical appliances; but 30 per cent of 1939 consumption of extension cords and attachments.
It would provide for no new radio receivers, phonographs or record players; but 50 per cent of 1939 purchases of phonograph needles and replacement tubes, 10 per cent of records.
The experts say they don't expect these things to drop to these "minimum" levels this year; they do expect a cut to 23 per cent above these levels (on the average—not necessarily in specific items).
And production of most metal articles for civilian use probably is at or near bedrock right now, they add.

Turn About Should Be Fair Play

GOSHEN, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Three months ago Melbourne Warren, 35, and his wife, Ruth, 36, of Middletown, were arrested on charges of stealing foodstuffs.
They have just been released from the Orange county jail, and they don't like what happened while they were away.
It seems, the indignant Warrens told police, somebody broke into their home and made off with their groceries.
"Australia has strengthened her defense by the construction of a 600 mile road. It was built in the record time of 87 days."

IF IN YOUR attic or stored elsewhere among forgotten things you have a picture of William Ward, Stephen Crosby or R. M. Ball you will win the thanks of Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.
Giles needs a picture of each of the three gentlemen to complete a gallery of former land commissioners, a historic office in Texas. Ward was the second land commissioner under the republic and the first under the state. Crosby served in 1852-58 and Hall in 1887-91. Hall, incidentally, was O'Henry's boss when the man who was to become America's master of the short story was a state employe.
SPEAKING IN SUPPORT of a bill against which much opposition developed Rep. W. R. Chambers of May philosophized:
"There are two methods of attacking a bill. One is to appear so profound that nobody can understand you. The other is to appear so ignorant that the bill appears ridiculous."
ONE OF THE most treasured mementoes of the general session for Speaker Price Daniel of Liberty is a cablegram from Gen. Douglas MacArthur.
The house cabled MacArthur in gratitude for his South Pacific victories.
MacArthur replied: "Little by little we even the score."
The cable was ordered printed in the House Journal—after Daniel insisted that the original copy be returned to him from the printer.

City of Flint Is Sunk in Atlantic

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—The City of Flint, an American steamship which was the center of a sharp pre-war controversy in 1939 when it was seized by the Germans, has been torpedoed and sunk in the Atlantic.
The navy told today, in one of its usual announcements, of the sinking of "a small United States merchant ship" in the mid-Atlantic in late January, and later deviated from its policy to permit disclosure of its name—in this case the famous City of Flint.
Seventeen of the crew of 65 were lost.

NOT JUST A BOLT OF YARD GOODS...

it's lovely dresses... smart pajamas... new clothes for the kids...

NOT just a bolt of Yard Goods, it's much more than that! It's a new dress for Mrs. Miller—Play Suits for the Fletcher kids—Pajamas for Mother and Dad—a Bedspread for Aunt Martha! It's the hundreds of clever and useful and pretty things into which the nimble wits and shuffling fingers of women can transform it. In a sense this simple bolt of Yard Goods is the crest and hallmark of a great American business—The J. C. Penney Company.

THE FIRST PENNEY STORE, OPENED 41 YEARS AGO IN KEMMERER, WYOMING, SET A NEW PATTERN OF NEIGHBORLY, LOW COST, RETAIL STORE SERVICE.

Yard Goods were a major part of the stock in trade of Mr. J. C. Penney's first little store—opened 41 years ago this month in Kemmerer, Wyoming.
From the outside it looked far from impressive. Inside, though, people discovered it was different. For this store was dedicated to a new kind of store-keeping—to a neighborly idea—an idea as typically American as ride-sharing and quilting bees! Mr. Penney didn't think "How much can I take?" but "How much can I give?" He cut out useless frills, charge accounts and deliveries; pared prices to the bone; preferred many sales at small profit to a few at large profit.

THE PENNEY IDEA SPREAD, AND GREW, UNTIL TODAY PENNEY STORES DOT THE ENTIRE MAP OF THE UNITED STATES

Kemmerer took to the first Penney store as buffalo take to pasture!
So did Moscow, Idaho later on. And Salt Lake City, Utah. And San Antonio, Texas. And today there are over 1600 Penney stores in all 48 states, and Penney's is truly an American institution.
For every hundred dollars worth of sheets, or blankets, or shoes, or Yard goods the Penney store sells in Peoria, Illinois or Scranton, Pennsylvania, or Savannah, Georgia, it pays back honest and substantial savings.
For every hundred dresses, or shirts, or overalls it sells in Waltham, Massachusetts, or Stockton, California, or Chillicothe, Ohio, it pays back rich dividends in local salaries, rent and taxes.
Today Penney stores from Coast to Coast are making a tremendous contribution to the nation's wartime program of Thrift and Savings. Today Penney stores, in neighborhood fashion, are helping to balance the household budgets of millions of Americans. Today Mr. Penney's 41 year old idea of success through giving, rather than taking, is still the Penney way.

PENNEY'S
A SET OF HOBNAIL GLASS—BUT MUCH MORE THAN THAT!
