Charles 'Tex' Watson Convicted Of Seven Counts Of Tate Murder

COPEVILLE, Tex. (AP)—It's about 1,500 miles from this Red River Country town to the neon-glutted boulevards of Hollywood.

But, for Charles "Tex" Watson, the road has been considerably longer and a good deal more drama - packed than the one taken by most folks.

Watson was convicted Tuesday night at Los Angeles of seven counts of murder in the Sharon Tate killings — one of the bloodiest and most sensational cases in American crime annals.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Watson, are respected grocers in this small community north of Dallas.

"I have no comment to make," Mrs. Watson said, just minutes after learning of her son's conviction. "We have no plans to go out there (Los Angeles) right now."

According to friends and relatives, Charles Watson was the sort of boy any father would be proud of — Godfearing, clean, congenial, a good pupil in his school. Sound.

He went to high school at Farmersville—home town of the late Audie Murphy, America's most decoarted GI of World War II.

But, when he returned home briefly after having drifted to California, they said he'd changed. He was shaggy, distant, at odds with himself.

He was no longer the clear-eyed country boy.

A Los Angeles jury ruled Tuesday night that young Watson was the one—the one that led two young women to the home of movie star Sharon Tate where he used a knife and a gun to gouge and shoot his way into a bloody, unenviable form of historical significance.

His defense clamed the young Texan was a victim of drugs and the sinister direction of Charles Manson, a man who has already been sentenced to California's gas chamber.

At the time, his father said: "I don't think he done it. I've raised a good bunch of boys. My sons've never been in any trouble."

Sheriff Tom Montgomery, Watson's cousin, said: "This boy was raised in the church house. Why, his mother and dad are the finest people you'll ever meet. It's awfully hard for people around here to think he could ever have done the stuff he's accused of doing."

Watson's parents have operated their general store here since the mid-1930s. They sell the necessary things in life — groceries, gas, farm and garden implements, cough syrup, safety pins—the necessary things.

But that world is a far cry from what young Watson found in his travels to the gray world he found in Southern California —drugs, indiscriminate sex, other drifting young people. Confusion.

It was, indeed, a long, long way from the Red River Country.

"I'll tell you one thing," the eder Watson said, "You can go all over this country out here and talk about that boy, and they'll tell you he's a good kid.

"What our government needs is more pruning and less grafting."

NO SURPRISE

Nixon's Moscow Visit Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's announcement that he will attend a summit conference in Moscow next May should have come as no surprise, say U.S. officials and foreign diplomats.

"It is a logical extension of the growing improvement in American-Russian dealings since Nixon took office," one diplomat said. "The only surprise is that so few people were talking about the possibility."

One of those who did talk in advance about such a trip was Soviet Communist party Chairman Leonid Brezhnev, who U.S. sources say had been discussing a Nixon visit with several people for several weeks.

But whether it should have been a surprise, the fact is that Nixon did catch many people off balance when he appeared unexpectedly at the routine Tuesday morning news briefing and said:

"The leaders of the United States and the Soviet Union in their exchanges during the past year, have agreed that a meeting between them would be desirable once sufficient progress had been made in negotiations at lower levels.

"In light of the recent advances in bilateral and multilateral negotiations involving the two countries, it has been agreed that such a meeting will take place in Moscow in the latter part of May 1972."

Following reading of that announcement, released at the same time in Moscow, the President told questioning newsmen he had agreed to the Moscow summit because of "a possibility of making significant progress."

Although he declined to detail what areas will be discussed with the Soviet leaders, Nixon indicated the talks will cover arms control, the Mideast, a European security conference and a balanced, mutual troop cut in Central Europe.

Nixon was specific in outlining the areas of progress he said led to the summit talk agreement.

"We have had a treaty with regard to the seabeds. We have had one with regard to biological weapons.

POW Reunited With Parents In Michigan Home

AURORA, Colo. (AP) — S. Sgt. John C. Sexton Jr., who walked to freedom Friday near the Cambodia-Vietnam border after being a prisoner of war for two years, was reunited with his parents today.

"He looks just great," beamed his father, John C. Sexton Sr., Warren, Mich. His parents spent 15 minutes with him aboard the military medical evaucation jet that brought him back to the United States.

The 23-yeaer-old soldier smiled asd waved to newsmen from a stretcher as he was carried to a waiting ambulance for a trip to Fitzsimons General Hospital.

The soldier, said by doctors to be weak from his 26-month ordeal and the long flight to the United States Tuesday and today, was expected to be kept at the Army hospital for some time while he recuperates from wounds received before his capture and illness incurred while a POW.

Sexton is the 22nd U.S. prisoner released by the Viet Cong in 10 years.

Only a few days before his release, Sexton's parents learned their son possibly was a prisoner.

They received through the Army a letter from him dated 26 months ago and written one week after his capture. The letter said the soldier was being treated well by his captors.

"I actually believe this letter bogged down in Vietnam somewhere," his father said. "I was pretty angry at first. We thought he was unaccounted for and probably dead for two years, and here they had a letter all along—so I asked them about it."

The Army told him they had been checking on the letter's authenticity and its possible use as propaganda, Sexton said.

Court Makes Major Decision On Convicts

Texas Inmates Before '67 May Gain Freedom

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today opened a possible avenue of freedom for prison inmates who were convicted before 1967 without the benefit of accomplish testimony.

In a landmark 4-0 decision, the court ruled that a 1967 U.S. Supreme Court decision on the right to subpoena witnesses applies retroactively.

The Supreme Court decision struck down a Texas law prohibiting alleged accomplices from testifying on each other's behalf.

The decision applied the 6th amendment to the U.S. Constitution, guaranteeing defendants the right to subpoena witnesses in their favor, to trial in state courts.

Odis Odell Pennington, sentenced in 1962 to 30 years imprisonment on a robbery charge, was the victor in today's decision.

In his trial, Pennington attempted to subpoena a man who had been convicted in the same robbery. He claimed George Huffman would have testified Pennington had been drinking and was asleep or "passed out drunk" in a car and knew nothing of the robbery.

But under the old Texas law, Pennington was denied this right.

The appeals court, as recently as 1968, turned down an appeal from Pennington.

Presiding Judge John F. Onion Jr. wrote the court's decision in Pennington's favor:

"We cannot reach any other satisfactory conclusion except that the right of an accused to have compulsory process for obtaining a witness in his favor as guaranteed by the 6th amendment, which includes the right to use a physically and mentally capable witness whose testimony is material and relevant to the defendant, is so fundamental and essential to a fair trial that it stands on a par with those cases which have been given full retroactive application by the United States Supreme Court."

The court set aside Penningtons conviction and remanded him to San Patricio County authorities for a new trial if they choose to prosecute.

Female Candidate To U.S. High Court Also Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says at least two women, in addition to Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., are among those being considered for nomihation to the Supreme Court.

At a news conference Tuesday, Nixon mentioned the possibility of naming a woman and confirmed reports that Byrd "is definitely on the list."

"I don't rule out Sen. Byrd and I certainly don't rule out a woman," Nixon added.

$44,000

One of life's least likely paradoxes is literally true in the case of a former Pampan who is not only seeing more clearly what Red Cross does to help but is seeing more clearly because of what Red Cross has done to help him specifically.

For Ronald B. Willingham, 912 Alta Vista, Amarillo, the world was an oasis in the lee of the caprock, half Sherwood shores and half Greenbelt Lake on the morning of April 18, 1970. His world included his wife, a weekend mobile home, good fishing prospects and the American Red Cross was nowhere to be seen.

On the morning of April 19, Willingham's world was a splintered thing. A grinding tornadic wind wrecked mobile homes. He was a quarter of a mile away with hundreds of cuts on his body and an eyeball resting on his cheek. . . . and a faint recollection of being in the air before darkness shrouded his world. His wife was a few miles away in the hospital at McLean awaiting identification.

Red Cross reached across the threshold of his world that was Northwest Texas Hospital at Amarillo with an offer of help — which he declined. Upon learning his eye would require much treatment he changed his mind and became one of hundreds in a world less severe because of the help Red Cross was extending.

Willingham still faces surgery for retina repair; still awaits knowledge whether he will regain his vision. Red Cross is still assisting. And Red Cross is one of the agencies aided by the Pampa United Fund.

Drug Task Force To Be Organized At Oct. 19 Meet

An organizational meeting of a Community Task Force to coordinate a drug information program in Pampa has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 19, in First Presbyterian Church.

The task force idea first was introduced at a meeting last April when several persons were invited to attend a presentation by Pampa public schools on plans for a drug education program.

In June this year the Pampa City Commission authorized formation of a community task force.

Tentative items to be included on the agenda at the Oct. 19 meeting will be to establish functions of the task force, stimulate filling of gaps in the education - treatment-rehabilitation cycle with needed facilities, to act as a clearing house for educational efforts and dissemination of information, recommend steps to avoid duplication in educational efforts, provide reliable continuity study of the drug problem and to provide evaluation of program results.

The meeting to organize the task force was announced by Don J. Losher, president of the Pampa Suicide Prevention-Crisis Information group.

OF CHANGING TIMES

C-C Officers Urged To Meet Challenge

Admonished to "meet the challenge of change," three new executive officers and ten new directors were inducted last night at a Pampa Chamber of Commerce directors banquet in Coronado Inn.

"The only constant thing in the world today is change itself," Larry Milner, Amarillo, told the new officials who will assume leadership at the Chamber's annual membership banquet Nov. 2.

Executive officers installed by Milner were Roy Sparkman, president; Jerald Sims, vice president, and Newt Secrest, finance director.

Directors installed for three-year terms were Gene Barrett, John Fritsch, Dr. Royce Laycock, Rex McAnelly, Foster Whaley, R.D. Wilkerson and C.D. Zlomke.

Appointed by president Sparkman to serve one-year terms on the board were Fred Neslage, Gene Hanks and Delmar Watkins.

"The people of Pampa are going to expect you not to be among the timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat, but who will meet the challenge of change," Milner told them.

Last night's meeting was presided over by Kay Fancher, outgoing president, who with Mrs. Fancher were hosts at a reception in the Inn's Crown & Shield Room prior to the 8 o'clock banquet in the Terrace Room.

Awards were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Fancher, Al Bassett, James McCoy and Jerald Sims and to June Sweetland and Marguerite McLeod, members of the chamber's office staff.

The chamber's annual banquet, when the new officers and directors will take over, is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 2, in Robert E. Lee Junior High Cafeteria.

Mix Disputes Review Set By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — New school desegregation disputes head a list of 21 cases granted review by the Supreme Court.

Despite two vacancies, the court handed down more than 400 orders Tuesday, the first round of decisions of the 1971-72 term.

Swept aside were appeals challenging the constitutionality of U.S. military action in Southeast Asa and the government's "Philadelphia plan" for giving minority groups construction jobs.

The war test, brought by civil liberties lawyers, was rejected, 5 to 2. The court has consistently spurned suits that contend soldiers cannot be sent to Vietnam without a congressional declaration of war.

Acheson, Diplomatic Strategist, Dies In Maryland At Age Of 78

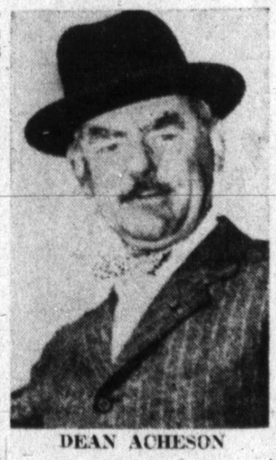

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson died Tuesday night, 18 years after leaving the post he used to establish policies that still serve as the foundation for much of America's diplomatic strategy.

Acheson, 78, was found slumped over his desk about 6 p.m. at the Sandy Spring, Md., farm he used as a refuge from the pressures o fa public carrer encompassing some of the nation's monumental crises.

The family doctor said the death, apparently resulted from a heart attack.

Although he served as an important U.S. negotiator in the monetary reforms conference of the early 1930s, it was as secretary of state during the last four years of the Harry S Truman administration that Acheson made his mark on American destiny.

During the period from 1949 to 1953, Acheson was the major factor in formulating the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, signing the peace treaty with Japan, outlining the political strategy of the Korean war, determining U.S. attitudes toward the Communist government of China and resisting the domestic onslaught of the so-called McCarthy era.

DEAN ACHESON

While attitudes toward China and Moscow are now relaxing, many of these policies remain in effect today under the administration of a Republican President who was one of Acheson's major critics during the Truman years—Richard Nixon.

And it was Nixon who led the tributes to Acheson after his death.

"He was a man not only of great achievement," the President said in a statement, "but also of rare intellect, of rigorous conscience and of profound devotion to his country."

Former President Truman, described by Acheson as one the greatest Americans, did not have an immediate comment but Mrs. Truman said "I know he'll be very disturbed."

It was another part of President Nixon's statement that the importance of Acheson to today's world was underlined.

"Of those who stand for a time in places of power many are quickly forgotten," Nixon said. "It is a measure of Dean Acheson's stature as man and statesman that almost 20 years after his service as secretary of state he continued to be recognized as one of the towering figures of his time."

In a time when presidents make most of their own foreign policy, it is instructive to look back on the Acheson years when President Truman gave his secretary of state a near

PIANIST VAN CLIBURN

Noted Pianist Van Cliburn To Appear In Pampa In May

Van Cliburn, internationally-known pianist, has been signed by the Pampa Fine Arts Association to appear in Pampa Tuesday May 9, it was announced today by Mrs. Robert A. Johnson, association president, and Mrs. William C. Charlton, chairman of the musical arts committees.

Contacted by phone by Dr. James Malone, a personal friend of the Cliburn family, Cliburn expressed an interest in coming to Pampa to appear in the new M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium.

The concert will be the first to be presented in the new 1600 seat capacity auditorium scheduled for completion in early April.

The Association has undertaken to supply the nine-foot Steinway concert grand specified by Cliburn's contract. The executive board voted unanimously to purchase the piano to be first played by Cliburn and to remain permanently in the new auditorium. Proceeds from ticket sales will go toward the purchase.

The contract has been awarded by the piano selection committee, composed of Mrs. William Charlton, Mrs. George B. Cree, Jr., Bill Haley, and Curt B. Beck.

Equal Rights Bill Okayed By House

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Advocates of equal rights for women, including the right to be drafted, have capped a half-century fight by winning a major House victory. But prospects for quick Senate approval are doubtful.

By a 354-23 vote, the House approved Tuesday and sent to the Senate a constitutional amendment extending specifically to women the "equal protection of the law" guaranteed under the 14th Amendment.

The vote on the equal-rights resolution came on the day of another victory for women's rights advocates: President Nixon confirmed that two women are among the handful being considered for two vacancies in the Supreme Court.

"The big vote gives added impetus and momentum to the equal-rights movement," said Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich.

A WEEK IN MADRID CHURCHES

Fourteen Baptists Depart For Spain

Fourteen people, 12 from Pampa and two from Borger, left at 5 a.m. today for Madrid, Spain. The Rev. Dan Cameron, pastor, First Baptist Church and Rev. Joe Dee Ray, pastor, First Baptist Church, Borger, head the group participating in an evangelistic program termed a "New Life Crusade for Spain."

This was the last morning they will have to rise so early until their return because they just do not keep such hours in Spain.

Rev. Cameron will work with Don Jose Nunez, pastor, LaIglesia del Buen Pastor — Church of the Good Shepherd — one of the Spanish capital's Baptist congregations.

Team members working with him will be Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Robert Allen, Mr. and Mrs. D.B. Jameson, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Webster, Miss Vada Waldron and Mrs. Jack White.

According to Pastor Juan Rodrigo, chairman of the evangelism committee of the Spanish Baptist Union, Good Shepherd Church is aptly named because of its pastor. During a time of much persecution throughout the Iberian peninsula, churches were locked and sealed to keep numerous groups from using them. Pastor Nunez was arrested and charged with breaking the seal on his church door. After house arrest of one and a half years and two public trials he was sentenced to a jail term and a fine.

Miraculously, neither were ever enforced and today he ministers to a congregation of some 100 members erecting a building with limited funds. At present a sanctuary is all they have.

Rev. Ray will conduct a revival at the Vallecas Baptist Church in another sector of Madrid. Team members assisting him will be Mrs. Ray, Miss Clauda Everly, Miss Nova Mayo, Lee Miller and three Mayo, Lee Miller and three others from another part of Texas.

The group will fly from Lubbock to Dallas to New York to Madrid. They will return Oct. 27. There will be teams in 13 other Spanish cities, all under the auspices of the World Evangelism Foundation, Abilene, Texas.

In a special service Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church, Justice of the Peace E.L. Anderson officially made Rev. Cameron the emissary between Pampa Mayor Milo Carlson and the mayor of Madrid.

State legislator Phil Cates, acting for the governor, presented the team credentials making them official ambassadors between the Lone Star state and the people of Iberia.

Acheson...

free hand in diplomatic affairs.

It was with this freedom that Acheson, a Connecticut-born aristocrat with a sharp tongue and haughty manner, established the basic U.S. Cold War strategy.

Starting with the premise that the Soviet Union was a major threat to world security, Acheson implemented a series of alliances designed to surround Russia with enough military and economic might to deter any thought of aggression.

At the same time, Acheson pushed hard for the Marshall Plan aimed at rebuilding war-torn Western Europe.

He also promoted a flexible foreign policy that could encompass the maverick Communist Yugoslavian government as well as the start of West German self-government and rearmament.

At the same time, Acheson had to deal with the takeover of China by the Mao Tse-tung-led Communist regime. Although he was doubtful of the viability of the rival Nationalists, Acheson nonetheless promoted a policy of not accepting the Mao government.

Acheson policies regarding the Soviet Union, China and international Communism generally came under attack during his years as secretary of state and the criticism continued to his death, but from opposing sides of political ideology.

While in office was a major target of Sen. Joseph McCarthy, the Wisconsin Republican who made a name by alleging the State Department was dominated by Communists or their sympathizers.

Yet, it was his tough stand on Communism that led to the latest criticism of his role as policymaker.

Under the leadership of a new school of american historians, critics charge Acheson set back the chances of eased relations with China and the Soviet Union by a misunderstanding and hysterical view of their policies and capabilities.

Acheson also stood by the Vietnam policies of former President Lyndon B. Johnson. And while he later recanted some of his hawkish views, charging he had been misled about the real situation in Indochina, Acheson supported Nixon's Vietnam policies.

Acheson practiced law in Washington after leaving the government, but he still spent much time as a presidential adviser and even this rolt brought controversy.

Labor Leaders Agree To Serve On Wage Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nations top labor leaders agreed Tuesday to serve on President Nixon's wage board to control inflation after he promised there would be no veto of the board's decisions.

"We are telling the President we are going to serve on this board and try to make it work," AFL-CIO President George Meany said.

The presidents of the nation's two largest independent unions, Frank Fitzsimmons of the Teamsters and Leonard Woodcock of the United Auto Workers, said they too would serve on the board if asked by Nixon.

The decision was announced after a summit meeting of the labor leaders received a pledge initialed by Nixon that the 15-man Labor-Industry-Public Pay Board would be autonomous.

The COLC (Cost of Living Council) will not approve, disapprove or serve as an appeal level for case decisions made by the Pay Board and Price Commission and it will not approve, revise, veto, or revoke specific standards or criteria developed by the Pay Board and Price Commission," said the Nixon memo marked "O.K." in the President's handwriting.

The memo, dated Monday, was delivered to Meany this morning before the labor meeting by director George Shultz of the White House Office of Management and Budget and Secretary of Labor John D. Hodgson.

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — Brucene Smith, a brown haired, green-eyed Texan, will represent the United States at the Miss World contest in London next month.

Brucene, 20, won the Miss World-USA contest here Saturday night. The Miss Texas entry in the pageant, she stands 5 feet 7, weighs 125 pounds, and holds credentials of 36-25-36.

'Drugs and Drug Abuse' Subject At Church Meet

The second of two public information programs designed to educate the public on suicide intent and drug abuse is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the First Presbyterian Church, 525 N. Gray.

Topic of Thursday's session will be "Drugs and Drug Abuse," dealing with social and anti-social behavior, with a special focus on the local drug scene.

Presenting the program will be John Ryzman, detective on the Pampa police force; David Siddens, special education teacher at Pampa Junior High and an associate psychologist; and Rev. Martin Hager Presbyterian minister and director of volunteer training for Suicide Prevention-Crisis Information of Pampa, Inc.

The program will be of special interest to school teachers, physicians, clergyman, lawyers, law enforcement officers and personnel people, Rev. Hager said.

About 30 persons were on hand Tuesday night for the first session on suicidal intent, behavior and therapy, he stated.

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — Montgomery County residents soon will have the opportunity to buy back the leaves that fall from their trees, under a recently approved agreement with a Virginia recycling firm.

J. C. Kordella, county public works director, said his department will collect an estimated 350,00 cubic yards of fallen leaves and turn them over to the Leaf Co., where they will be converted to garden mulch, bagged and sold to retail outlets such as nurseries and supermarkets.

Previously, the county reduced the leaves to about 90,000 cubic yards and shipped them to a landfill operation.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dorothy Malone, the Oscar-winning actress, has married Charles Huston Bell, a Dallas motel chain executive.

Miss Malone, 45, perhaps best known for her four years in the television series "Peyton Place," married Bell on Saturday.

A resident of Dallas most of her life, Miss Malone won her Oscar in 1956 for her performance in "Written on the Wind."

Officers Check Reported Fight At Restaurant

Pampa city police and the Gray County sheriff's department investigated a call for an ambulance and reports of a fight at the Black Gold Restaurant about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday night.

Donald Edward Clark, Odessa, was taken to the emergency room of Highland General Hospital. The police report stated he lost some teeth, had some cuts and was bleeding profusely.

Clark's account, according to the police record, stated that he was sitting at a table at the restaurant when a man walked in, pulled out a chair as though he was going to sit at the table and started hitting Clark.

This story is born out by an account by witnesses to the police according to their record of the incident.

According to the Sheriff's department which has jurisdiction, there had been no charges filed in the matter at presstime.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I urge you to run for the office of President of the United States.

You have everything a good President needs. Intelligence, common sense, courage, and a real understanding of people's problems. Furthermore, you're uncorrupted and fair-minded.

I feel certain that with Abigail Van Buren as our President, we would have peace and friendly relations with our foreign neighbors.

If you would become a candidate, I can promise you the support of millions. And campaign funds would be the least of your worries. How about it?

"ABBY FOR PRESIDENT"

DEAR "ABBY FOR": Thanks, but no thanks. Not that I'm reluctant to serve my country. But I'm not so sure how my husband would feel about being "First Lady."

DEAR ABBY: I am 46 years old. I was a widow for 5 years before I married this man who had been divorced for two years. This man is a perfect husband in every way — except one.

He has two children by his first wife, 6 and 11, and they live with their mother, but they spend weekends with us very often and I love having them. Now my problem:

My husband refuses to tell his wife and children that he is married to me. This hurts me deeply. They think I am just the lady he lives with. This makes me feel so cheap.

When his children come to spend weekends with us they like it so much they hate to go home.

Abby, why does my husband wantto keep our marriage a secret from his children? I just can't look those kids in the face anymore.

MARRIED BUT HIDDEN

DEAR MARRIED: Something doesn't add up here. Tell your husband to quit playing games — that you are not going to permit him to make a less than honest woman of you. Insist that he introduce you as his wife. And make it retroactive!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have arranged to adopt a child which will be born in three months. The natural mother is young and unwed and she lives in another city. I have never met her and I do not ever want to meet her. She is distantly related to my husband, but he's never met her either. This will be a private adoption — not thru an agency.

My husband and I were invited to a family wedding in the city where this unwed mother-to-be lives, and we were told that she will be at the wedding. Abby, I can't explain why, but I simply do not want to ever meet or know this girl. After declining the invitation (I gave no reason), I received a telephone call from my husband's cousin, begging us to come.

My husband says he'll do whatever I wish, but he can't understand my reasoning. Can you? I'll do whatever you say.

BETTER STRANGERS

DEAR BETTER: I can understand your reasoning. Feeling as you do, stay home.

Miss James Named Lefors Sweetheart

LEFORS (Special) — The Lefors Pirate Football team presented its 1971-72 sweetheart during a pre-game ceremony recently.

The band, led by Larry Gilbreath, drum major, made a stage formation on the field and the pep squad formed a pathway to the reviewing stand. The football team lined up on the home sideline.

Miss Guyla James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.W. James, the team sweetheart, and her two attendants, Miss Sheila Taylor, ahd Miss Cheryl Sims, were escorted to centerfield by co-captains Ronnie Sims, Mike Robbins and David Wihte.

Pep Squad officers, Misses Carla Emerson, Rhonda Howard, Doris Carlton and Connie Eudy, presented the coronation gifts. Miss James received an arm bouquet of long-stemmed roses, a sweetheart necklace and a decorated helmet. Her attendants were given single long stemmed roses.

Miss Taylor is the daughter of Mrs. Maudie Taylor and Miss Sims is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sims.

First Baptist WMU Has Luncheon, Royal Service Missionary Program

After a covered-dish luncheon, the W.M.U. of First Baptist Church held its monthly Royal Service Program, recently. Mrs. George Henderson presided. After the welcoming of guests, Mrs. Sam Condo read the minutes and Mrs. Paul Turner gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Win Cates led the Call to Prayer, using Acts 3:1-10 as the scripture.

A poster, illustrating the theme "Through missionaires eyes, we learn to really see," was used as the names of the 16 missionairies, whose birthdays were October 6, were read. Mrs. Cates announced that Nov. 1, is the date set for the Baptist Women's Day of Prayer, to be held in the church from 10 a.m. until 11 p.m. All Baptist women are invited.

It was voted to give Miss Vada Waldrop $100 toward her trip in the Spanish Crusade and to have only one day of prayer for the Lottie Moon Christmas offering. This will be Dec. 1, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. with a covered-dish luncheon.

Mrs. Cecil Collum announced the need of a lawn mower and cookies for the Tulip House. Miss Clauda Everly stressed the importance of writing our servicemen and of helping her keep addresses current.

Mrs. George Smith read a letter of thanks from the Harvest House in San Francisco for copies of "Good News for Modern Man." She also announced that the new mission book, "New Drums Over Africa," will be taught at the church Nov. 11. Members are to bring a covered-dish and plan to attend from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

The Thursday Night Group has decided to aid Rose Marie Castro, a student at Wayland College, as announced by Miss Clauda Everly. Mrs. Irene Crawford reported that the Christmas-in-August Box, valued at $30, had been sent to Oklahoma.

Mrs. Bill Greer showed slides from Clinton Indian Mission where the WMU has sent boxes.

Mrs. George Smith led the study on missionairies who are now serving in Korea. She stressesd the great need for preacher and nurses.

Members Honored By Skellytown Club

SKELLYTOWN (Special) — The Skellytown Home Makers Club met recently in the home of Mrs. John Simmons, north of town. The meeting opened with the Lord's prayer in unison.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Gertrude Huckins, and the game prize was won by Mrs. Floyd Burditt.

Mmes. Floyd Burditt, Ethel Hunt, Carolyn Rutherford and Don Easley were all honored with a birthday party and each received personal gifts from the members.

Mrs. Bob Heaton was honored with a surprise "Granny Shower," in honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. David Heaton of Amarillo, who was unable to attend.

Next meeting will be October 19, in the home of Mrs. Gertrude Huckins.

Attending were Mmes. Earl Looper, Ethel Hunt, Floyd McCoy, Floyd Burditt, Ralph Fox Sr., Jim Ruth, Don Easley, Miles Pearston, W.S. Berry, Gertrude Huckins, Oscar Gould, CArolyn Rutherford, and John Simmons.

Your Horoscope

By JEANE DIXON

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14

Your birthday today: Events this year make you more of a leader among your associates, probably increase your earnings and responsibilities. Today's natives tend to candid expression, detailed knowledge of narrow fields of personal interest, great charm.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): This is your day to show off and display the qualities you are specifically noted for. After your regular work is completed, something is added to spice the evening program.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Self-confidence is great but don't confuse it with taking current affairs for granted. An easier rival outreaches himself if are serene. Think what you're doing.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): At worst you'll find yourself left out of a social arrangement. No harm done and a good chance to learn by reflecting on what has been going on.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Firm, persistent approaches pay. Unfinished business must be resolved along with an urgent need for opening a new venture.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Instead of breaking or trying to change the rules, try letting well enough alone for the moment. Let others take the initiative.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Teamwork makes all the difference for you. Accept help and give in kind when it's your turn. Top off the day witha merry "thank you" party.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Dissension is easy to drift into, difficult to correct. Younger people shouldn't be drawn into any differences if you are to prevail.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Being unreasonable is a common fashion for a moment — means nothing, unless you take it up too. Get your work done.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Miracles come small today, but come they do. Exciting news is accompanied by interminable talk. Keep busy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): If you've done your homework and know precisely what you have and what you can do, you may cash in on the current situation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Getting personal is the last thing to do now. Give a topnotch performance in diplomacy. Avoid detailed negotiations.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): The comforts of life are to be used fully, but share them readily. Other people have delays, inconvenience to cope with and may use your resources gratefully.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Terry's sex problem is universal. In fact, that's one reason why both King David and Solomon kept picking additional wives and concubines! For they needed more "more cheesecake" in the boudoir. Fat wives, sleepy and unenthusiastic, rate low in "cheesecake." So insure a happy marriage with the booklet below!

CASE R-587: Terry R., aged 38, is typical of a million other young executives in America.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I married a beautiful girl 15 years ago. And we have 3 fine children. But for the past couple of years, I have found it more and more difficult to grow erotic in our bedroom. My wife has put on a lot of weight since our wedding day, so she now tips the scales at 155, though then she was only 122. Maybe she thus doesn't offer as much seductive allure a when we were first married. But I wonder if maybe I am not slipping in my sexual ardor, too. So what can I do to avpid being permanently platonic in the boudoir?"

SEX SECRETS

The sex glands in a husband are organs of production as well as reproduction.

Many an executive thus uses up much of his sexual energy due to the tensions of making decisions and competing in the gough modern economic combat of our zestful "free enterprise" system.

But this is natural, even in the athletic realm.

For college football players are driven so hard on the gridiron that they also use up much of their erotic energy.

At the end of a grueling football season it is thus common for such rugged athletes to complain of excessive nocturnal omissions.

But when a man like Terry grows alarmed, that very fear can throw him into total impotence sometimes in just one night.

For worry is a mental process, as is mere conversation.

So you can't "cerebrate" and also "emote" simultaneously, for these are opposing processes.

If you girls are ever threatened with sexual assault, just keep plying your expected attacker with questions!

For if you can start him answering questions, you can thus make his brain function and thereby dissipate his ability to commit rape!

Girls, that's an axiom of medical psychology so memorize it!

Another reason why husbands like Terry grow platonic is the fact their wives have become reduced in sexual stimulating value, due to obesity, lack of perfume and a stodgy, sleepy attitude when their husbands approach them with erotic intent.

"Oh, Terry, act you age," his weary wife will exclaim, "so roll over and go to sleep!"

But men in Terry's fearful state need far more enthusiastc cooperation.

Wives, the sirens who wean your mates away from you don't do it with tastier roast beef in the dining room!

No, indeed! It's their superior "cheesecake" in the boudoir!

But when I employ the euphemism "cheesecake" I mean you must regain a slender figure, for fat women seldom excite men's sexual ardor.

And an already scared husband who is halfway platonic, is likely to be thrown into the complete panic of impotence by an obese mate.

Then, in desperation, he may test himself with a sylph-like paramour.

If she can make him function, he may go so emotionally berserk that he even flaunts his faithlessness before his wife and children, as well as the neighbors.

Yet he isn't in love with the paramour! No; he's merely in love with love!

Wives, stop your husbands from straying by sending for the booklet "How to Prevent Platonic Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pampa Daily News, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Court Holds Hearing On Obscene Films

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government was granted a hearing by the Supreme Court on the federal law that prohibits the interstate transportation of obscene material.

The law was declared unconstitutional last October by Federal Judge Myron L. Gordon of Milwaukee in a case involving a local man, George J. Orito.

The government tried to prosecute Orito on charges of transporting by airplane from San Francisco to Milwaukee 82 reels of obscene films.

Judge Gordon said the law was invalid because it prohibited the transportaton of obscene materials without discriminating as to whether the materials are "pandered," exposed to children or imposed on unwilling adults. He dismissed the indictment against Orito, 30.

The court will hear the case this winter.

Nixon To Participate In Meeting In Moscow After Peking Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon announced he will take part in a summit meeting in Moscow in the latter part of May after his China trip because there is a climate now for making some progress on mutual problems.

The announcement was made jointly here and in Moscow, Nixon said.

Nixon said the aim was for "better relations" between the United States and the Soviet Union. Any speculation that this visit and the one to China were planned to affect each other in any way "would be entirely inaccurate," he said.

The summit meeting was set for May, Nixon said at a White House news conference, because it was agreed with Soviet leaders that there was a basis for an agenda in which there was a possibility "of making significant progress" by a meeting and by discussions "at the highest level."

An announcement carried by Tass in Moscow said:

"The leaders of the Soviet Union and the United States agreed during an exchange of opinions in the course of last year that a meeting would be desirable between them about achievement of sufficient progress in talks at a lower level. In the light of the progress made recently in bilateral and multilateral talks involving both sides, agreement was reached that such a meeting is to be held in Moscow in the second half of May 1972.

"The leaders of the Soviet Union and President Nixon will examine all the principal questions with a view to further improving bilateral relations between their countries and strengthening the prospects of universal peace." The Tass dispatch carried no elaboration.

In Wahington, Nixon said he expects to meet with Soviet Chairman Leonid Brezhnev and also with other Soviet leaders, including Premier Alexsei Kosygin and President Nikoli Podgorny.

Nixon said Secretary of State William P. Rogers and national security affairs adviser Henry A. Kissinger would accompany him on the trip.

Asked about forthcoming troop withdrawals, Nixon said he expects to have an announcement on Vietnam in November.

But he added, "The American presence will be maintained to meet the objectives I have spelled out," including the release of American prisoners of war.

Nixon said the move to a summit primarily was made possible by the recent agreement with the Soviet Union on Berlin which he said "had historic significance." He said the Berlin agreement "led us to believe now was the time for a summit meeting."

He said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko personally extended an invitation for the summit meeting when he came to the White House last week fro the United Nations session.

Nixon would not speculate on the exact agenda for the talks, but he said it would include the Middle East, and any "unfinished business."

He said the current strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) "may be behind us at that point." He said both governments are working toward that end.

Ban On Federal Workers' Strike Upheld By Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — A ban on strikes by federal workers was upheld by the Supreme Court.

In an appeal filed last June the United Federation of Postal Clerks contended the government should at least have to prove a worker is essential before prohibiting him from striking.

But the court, in a brief order, refused to hear the appeal and affirmed 6 to 1 a ruling by a federal district court here last April that no federal worker has a right to strike.

Justice William O. Douglas dissented.

The union represents some 305,000 postal employes. Overall, there are some 2,639,000 federal workers and another 10,366,000 state and local employes. These represent about 18 per cent of the total work force in the nation.

IF NEGOTIATIONS FAIL

U.S. Will Take Step Against Textile Exporting Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said Tuesday the United States will move against Japan and other textile exporting nations if no agreement is reached or significant progress made by Friday toward limiting exports.

He made the comment at a news conference announcing his summit meeting with leaders of the Soviet Union.

Nixon did not specify what action the United States might take. He simply said the United States "will move unilaterally."

However, reports by officials of Japan, Korea, Taiwan and Hong Kong all have said that the United States has threatened to impose quotas on non-cotton textile imports under authority held by the President.

In Tokyo the Japanese cabinet announced it has decided to reopen negotiations on textiles with the United States. But a compromise is being sought whereby the U.S. would lift the 10 per cent surcharge on imports if Japan agrees to restrict its non-cotton textiles over a three-year period.

South Korea has offered a compromise proposal to the United States on textile restraints and Hong Kong has a delegation here discussing the same matter. Nationalist China is reported ready to talk.

BOSTON (AP) — Walter J. Hickel, former secretary of the interior, says the press must be an adversary against special-interest groups which might exploit the nation's resources for their own purposes.

Hickel, in an interview appearing in today's edition of the Christian Science Monitor, said the press must not shy away from its adversary role.

"Now is no time for the press to get gun shy because of high level criticism," he said. "That's the worst thing that could happen."

State Board Urged To Speed Up Work On Remapping Redistricting

AUSTIN (AP) — Taking a swipe at Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Gov. Preston Smith told the five-man Legislative Redistricting Board it would be "irresponsible" if it failed to devote its full time to reapportioning the House and Senate.

Smith issued a written statement urging the board, which faces an Oct. 23 deadline, to complete its work quickly.

"Just last Wednesday, at a meeting of the board, essential decisions on redistricting could not be made and had to be deferred because of the absence of a member, who is obligated by the Constitution to help the board reach determinations about legislative district lines for the coming election," the governor said.

He referred to Barnes' skipping a board meeting to give speech and confer with various individuals in San Antonio last Wednesday. Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong told newsmen after the meeting that he would have moved to proceed with a single-member district plan for the House if Barnes had been present.

"There will be enough time for politics and campaigning for higher office after the board completes its redistricting chores," Smith said.

Barnes has announced as a candidate for governor. Smith has not disclosed whether he will run for re-election.

"Each member of the board should now consider redistricting his principal responsibility. Further delays will only demonstrate that members of the board are inconsiderate of the voters of Texas, the democratic process and those whose careers in public service depend upon the board's decisions," Smith said.

Nixon To Nominate 2 Candidates To Supreme Court Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Nixon said Tuesday he will announce his selections for two Supreme Court vacancies next week. He said Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., and at least two women are among those now under consideration.

Responding to a question at an impromptu news conference, Nixon said Byrd, a conservative West Virginia Democrat, "is definitely on the list" he is considering.

"I don't rule out Sen. Byrd and I certainly don't rule out a woman," Nixon said as he disclosed "I will make the nominations next week."

The President noted that there had been stories during the weekend that he had settled on Byrd as his first choice for the court, and still other stories later that Byrd was unlikely to get the nomination. "Both are wrong," Nixon said of what he called these "dope stories."

He said several of Byrd's colleagues recommended him and he is being considered. Then he volunteered: "At least two women are under consideration at this time."

Earlier White House sources said Nixon has about a dozen individuals under "active consideration" for nomination to the Supreme Court.

Governor Smith Appoints Fourteen To Commission

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Preston Smith appointed 14 persons Tuesday to the Commission on Physical Fitness, including the wife of astronaut Alan Bean and Dr. Rhea Williams of Austin, director of the University Interscholastic League.

Named to six-year terms were Dr. Kenneth Cooper of Dallas, who wrote the popular book on exercise — "Aerobics" — Dr. Stanley Burnham of Austin, Delbert Cox of Refugio and Jay Sanford of Dallas.

Appointed to four-year terms were Leon English of Prairie View, Boyce Gatewood of Cleburne, Mrs. Alan L. Bean of Houston and Irma Caton and Rollin Singer, both of Denton.

Chosen for two-year terms were Charles Moser of Abilene, John Hall of El Paso, Dr. Martin Juel of San Marcos, Alred Coleman of Lubbock and Williams.

Secretary Connally Says He Has No Desire To Run For President

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury John Connally said today he expects the wage-price control agencies will begin to loosen the reins somewhat because the country's economy, he declared, cannot be kept in a permanent freeze.

Connally said he hopes that the pay control board and price commission started "working themselves out of a job from the day they took office."

The secretary, a Democrat, former Texas governor and former secretary of the Navy, again declared that he has no ambition to be president.

Connally told a news conference that the wage-price control agencies will continue to function until the economy is stable. He said he could not predict when that will be.

Connally was in Dallas to address the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Connally said the government assumed that the production of energy for the nation is a responsibility of the private sector of the economy. He referred to a possible future energy crisis. The oil and gas industry, he said, plans to gasify naphtha and coal and produce gas from other sources of energy besides importing liquefied gas.

The secretary said the deepening energy situation was inevitable in the United States because some fundamental problems dealing with energy had not been recognized. He did not specify what he meant by "problems."

Questioned about running for president on the Democratic ticket, Connally repied, "I don't even get into this kind of discussion. I have no ambitions, no desires whatsoever. I was quite happy practicing law at Houston, Tex., when I left to be Secretary of the Treasury. I am happy doing that, and have no ambitions beyond that."

He added, referring to his serving in a Republican Cabinet, "It is not in my mind to switch political parties. I don't even think about it. I don't have time for politics. I have too many problems."

Asked whether he expects to play any part in selecting a new Texas Democratic chairman to succeed Dr. Elmer Baum, who announced his resignation Monday, Connally said, "None."

Cates Schedules Open House Oct. 21

State Rep. Phil Cates of Lefors announced today he will hold an open house Thursday, Oct. 21, at his new district office, 113 E. Foster, in Pampa.

Cates said the exact time and other information would be released later.

Prison Author May Get Freedom

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edgar H. Smith Jr., the prison author who has spent 14 years on Death Row in New Jersey, cleared a major hurdle in the way of his freedom Tuesday when the Supreme Court declined to review a reversal of his murder conviction.

Unanimously and without comment, the seven-man high court turned down a petition by Atty. Gen. George F. Kugler Jr., of New Jersey for a hearing on the Aug. 2 decision by a panel of three federal judges in Philadelphia. The panel ruled Smith was to go free within 60 days unless the state chose to retry him.

Smith was sentenced to death in 1957 for the bludgeon-slaying of a 15-year-old girl in Mahwah, N.J.

Last May U.S. Judge John J. Gibbons ordered the murder conviction overturned on the grounds that Smith's unsigned confession was unconstitutional because it has been coerced. The three federal judges of the U.S. circuit court in Philadelphia agreed with him.

Smith's 14 years on death row in the state prison in Trenton was the longest ever served by a condemned man. While there, he wrote a best-seller, "Brief Against Death," in which he protested his innocence.

In 14 years on Death Row, Smith was twice within a day of execution. While there he also wrote numerous magazine articles and published a murder novel.

Muscular Dystrophy Makes Special Target Of Boys

Editor's Note: Muscular Dystrophy makes a special target of boys. The following article, detailing efforts to alleviate the disease, is the second of a five-part series on "The Great Cripplers.

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A scientific henhouse in Manhattan may hold the key to the riddle of muscular dystrophy, the muscle-wasting scourge of the Little League age group.

Amond mankind's great cripplers, muscular dystrophy makes a special target of boys and afflicts males five to six times more frequently than females.

Muscular dystrophy, actually a group of 30 diseases, is marked by progressive weakening and wasting of voluntary muscles, the skeletal muscles near the body's surface.

At least 250,000 Americans suffer from MD, and there is no proven cure nor preventive or even controlling treatment for the mostly hereditary affliction. About 50,000 are disaled, completely confined for life to wheel chair and bed. The national medical bill is $125 million annually.

But at New York's Institute for Muscle Research, there's cautious hope that experiments with 1,000 caged chickens may reduce this human and economic toll.

About half are a special New Hampshire breed afflicted by a hereditary disease that closely resembles muscular dystrophy.

Dr. Ade Milhorat, director of the institute sponsored by the Muscular Dystronphy Association of America, stresses there's no guarantee that treatment applicable to MD victims will come from the experiments and cautions against undue optimism among MD sufferers and their families.

Researchers have found that chemicals derived from vegetable oils, including oil from the yellow safflower plant, have been able to reverse with some degree of consistency the processes in chickens that parallels MD. This constitutes the first such demonstration in any living creature.

Testing in humans must await further tests with the chickens, Dr. Milhorat says.

At the 11-story, $5-million research institute, doctors work with a small humber of research patients, some of whom suffer from Duchenne muscular dystrophy, the most prevalent and severe form of the disease.

Named for the French doctor who first discovered its symptoms, Duchenne MD strikes boys between the ages of 2 to 6. By 11 years victims mostly are confined to wheel chairs.

Most die before adulthood because weakening of their muscles makes it difficult for them to caugh—sometimes resulting in suffocation—or the heart muscle becomes lethally weak.

Another form of MD, "facioscapulo-humeral type," slowly affects the face shoulders and arms. Face muscles are hit first and a victim often is eventually powerless to smile or sip through a straw.

Like Duchenne MD, it is an hereditary form of muscular dystrophy, but the facial type strikes teen-agers and adults of both sexes.

A third major form of MD is the limb-girdle type, also hereditary and affecting both sexes. It first strikes in childhood or adolescene and first affects use of arms and legs. The disease develops slowly and victims may reach middle age.

Other, less common mixed forms of MD also exist. Not inherited, they can strike anyone between the ages of 30 to 50, according to the National Health Education Committee.

"The course of the disease is rapid, often causing death in from five to 10 years," the voluntary health agency says.

To aid the study of the metabolism of MD victims, patients at the research institute eat a specially measured, meat-free diet.

"The reason we keep meat out of the diet is that most meat consists of muscle, and we'd rather not have it in the bodily waste products of these research patients, since we're trying to assess the condition of their own muscles, 'a researcher explains.

No medicines of proven value are available yet to alter the course of MD, but the research patients undertake gentle exercises designed to keep muscles stretched to full length and delay the onest of a condition called shortened joints.

Elsewhere in the nation, a few doctors have reported promising results with a few patients in tendon-cutting and other surgical techniques aimed at delaying disability from MD. But such methods still are controversial.

Some researchers see genetic counseling as a means of preventing Duchenhe MD, an inherited disease related to a defective chromosome carried by some women.

A woman who has one son afflicted with Duchenne MD has a one-in-two chance of having another, says Dr. Carl Pearson of the Muscle Disorder Clinic of the University of California at Los Angeles Medical Center.

But Dr. Pearson says recent advances in using a certain enzyme and other tests make it possible to detect up to 90 per cent of female carriers who themselves rarely show any symptoms of MD.

This new ability to detect most carriers "provides a great opportunity for genetic counseling and for encouraging such women not to have children because of the risk," Dr. Pearson says.

Four alternative possibilities are being explored as a basic cause of MD, he says. They are based on theories that the disase may stem from a defect in the muscle cell membrane, the energy supply system to muscles, the protein that normally makes muscles contract or in some primary defect in the central nervous system or branching nerves.

Until recently, Dr. Pearson says, MD was considered to be purely a muscle disease with no neurological basis, but now there's growing evidence to the contrary.

SDEC Asked To Select Successor To Dr. Buam

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (AP) — Dr. James R. Gill of Waxahachie, chairman of the nominating committee for the State Democratic Executive Committee, said Tuesday his committee will select the successor to Dr. Elmer Baum, as SDEC chairman, and the field is open to any qualified person.

Dr. Gill said gov. Preston Smit had turned selection of a new chairman over to the committee and would set a date for it to meet, possibly early next week.

Baum resigned Monday, saying he needed to devote more time to his professional and personal affairs. He had been under fire for a joint stock deal with the governor in which both made a quick profit in National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock.

Gill said the governor's decision places responsibility squarely on the committee, "without political pressure," to come up with a person for Baum's job. He said it also relieved the governor of making a selection which might be held to reflect partially.

Gill said he started getting calls from all over the state early Monday. Most of them favoring two candidates, he said, but he declined to name them.

So far Bill Williams, Harris has declared as a candidate, while the name of DeSoto Insuranceman Roy Orr also has been mentioned.

Gill said that by opening the chairmanship of the committee to any qualified person, his own position and that of the committee is made "more comfortable."

Members of the nominating committee are: Mrs. Leonard McDonald and Robert W. Smith of Dallas, Edward W. Sampson Mullen III of Fort Worth, Mrs. Robert W. Herren of Haskell, Earl W. Smith of San Angelo, Ralph Brock of Lubbock, and Mrs. Jack Welch of Marlin.

Foreign Reaction To Nixon's Policy On U.S. Economy

LONDON (AP) — Some foreign newspapers reacted skeptically last week to President Nixon's latest efforts to bolster the U.S. economy. One said "staglation" has become a permanent feature on the American scene.

In Britain, The Guardian wrote: "If the American unions do defy, and defy successfully, the attempt to subject pay to state control, the President's authority will have been gravely undermined."

London's Financial Times said neither Britain nor the United States has found "an effective way" of coping with the "monopoly bargaining power" of unions. It added that although Phase 1 of Nixon's economic program "has worked better than previously expected," Phase 2 "will be eroded by events" if British experience is anything to go by.

In Germany, the Frankfurther Allegemeine Zeitung commented: "The economic dilemma in which Nixon finds himself has ground to a stalemate. Six million unemployed with continuing price increases give the President no chance to come up with economic successes: an additional import tax will not change that. America's export trade is too insignificant, to noticeably influence domestic business.

In Japan, Asahi Shimbun said: "We hope Mr. Nixon's newly announced incomes policy will prove effective in combating America's inflation-ridden enonomy.

"But when we examine the content . . . we cannot help but entertain certain doubts as to whether the Nixon administration, despite its public avowal, can succeed in holding the annual rtte of the U.S. inflation spiral down to two to three percent by the end of this year.

"It apparently failed to give sufficient thought to the structure of and basic countermeasures against the situation of 'stagflation' which now has become a fixture in the American economy."

Official Explains U.S. Stand In Her Trade With Canada

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a "certain confusion in the public thinking" of Canadians in their criticism of the U.S. surcharge on imports, according to a high U.S. Commerce Department official.

Harold B. Scott, assistant secretary of commerce, made the statement during an interview as he attempted to counter statements by Canadian officials that an exception to the surcharge should be made for Canada.

Canada, it has been argued, has a special relationship with the United States and had already demonstrated its willingness to help the American dollar by floating her currency.

"True," said Scott, "but given the market forces at work, it is a question of whether they could have held their dollar. They were motivated partly by the desire to help, partly by market forces."

Canadians, he said, "have cause to claim a special relationship with the United States, and they have been successful in giving credence to this by being exempt from interest equalization taxes and other measures."

On the other hand, he continued, "Canada has developed an intense self-absorption, a preoccupation with the Canadian image as independent and distinct."

Scott carefully laid down Commerce Department thinking in regard to special exemptions for any nation from the surcharge, which the U.S. government claims is a temporary device to force permanent corrections in what it feels is an unfair trade relationship.

"If we are not going to point the finger at anyone," he said, "we had to apply the surcharge to all with recognition that it would be unfair to some and more unfair to some than to others."

"Too many countries have been building the U.S. market into their own economy," he said. "We have too many houseguests."

"Canada has been building an economy dependent on the U.S. market. They are sharing in our market. It is a conscious decision," Scott said.

To support his contention, Scott said that while U.S. exports to Canada make up 25 per cent of all U.S. exports, they constitute only one per cent of the natioh's NGP. Canada's $11 billion of exports to the United States, by contrast, amount to 15 per cent of her GNP.

Scott also claimed, "It is just not true that, as Canadians say, the United States is indifferent to Canada. I will publicly say the facts belie this."

How can the United States be indifferent, he asked, to its biggest trading partner, its biggest foreign outlet for investment funds, and "presently and in the future most secure source of raw materials?"

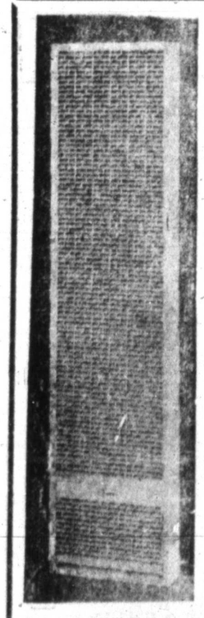

While a common market with Canada is not being sought, he said, the two countries certainly can plan for mutual development of resources and industries.

'BEST ALIGNER IN TOWN!' — That's what Darrell Cochran thinks and he can make a believer of you with one "go" at your wheels at Utility Tire Co. Darrell feels good machinery actually makes a good job less expensive to perform. Drive straight to 447 W. Brown — If not "straight" make it quick.

Alignment Featured At Utility Tire Co.

Does your car shake, lurch, pull to one side? Or, do your tires wear unevenly or more quickly than they normally would?

Your froht end is out of alignment.

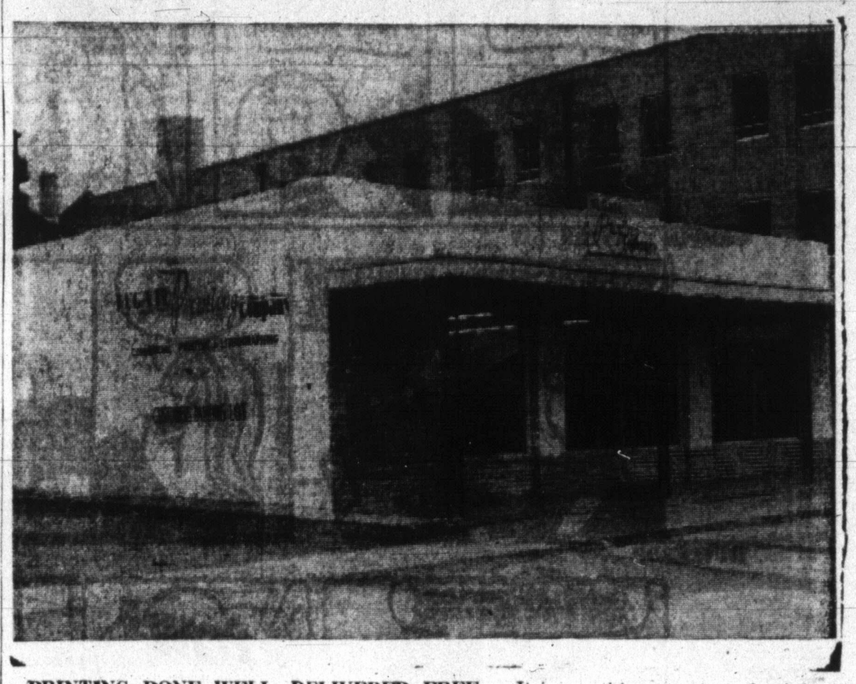

This can be a costly problem to be corrected if not repaired properly. If the work is done with an older model aligner it may be of just enough to allow the problem to return, or continue to give you problems.

Utility Tire, 447 W. Brown according to Darrell Cocharan, "The best front end aligner on the market. Most of the older model aligners use the light to screen method which can make mistakes." Cochran noted, as he went on to say, "Minor mistakes can cause your problem to simply be stayed temporarily. With the pit style aligner at Utility Tire, which aligns wheel to wheel we can indicate misalignment down to minute measures."

The people at Utility Tire are the kind with which customers like to deal. They are freindly and proud. Their pride is shown in the fine work they do and products they offer. Another display of pride is the cleanliness of their building as Cochran said "We really try to keep things as clean as possible. We clean up every night before we go home."

Utility Tire Co. has in use some of the most up-to-date equipment in the area. One employee commented, "When you have new equipment, that is in good shpae it is easier do a good job."

The main product, B.F. Goodrich tires, are sold and guarenteed at Utility Tire, along with other parts such as shocks, batteries and windshield wipers.

PRINTING DONE WELL, DELIVERED FREE — It is one thing to get good printing at low cost and quite another to get it delivered saving you pickup time but both are their thing at Fugate Printing, 210 N. Ward.

L and P Interiors Offer Home Decor

Persons in the Pampa area desiring a new mode of decor in their homes, should consider the service offer of L and P Interiors, 110 S. Cuyler.

The shop offers the ultimate in design in the interior decorating field with trained personnel retained to offer suggestions and service to the decriminating client.

The shop stocks a full line of the best fabrics for drapery and upholstery needs. Selections can be made from Herculon, Olefin, cut velvet, crushed velvet and laminated materials.

Furniture is completely rejuvenated when submitted to L and P. The frame is bared in the process, and repaired inside out. Charlie Martinez, in charge of this department, is supported by eight years experience in custom upholstering.

Consider the additional service of free estimate and fabric selection from your home to fully realize the complete interior decorating service provided.

Custom draperies are essential to a professional decorating project. Laminated shades, cornices, swags and other window decorating items compliment drapery selections. Wallpaper, carpets, bedspreads and many other items of accessory are stocked at L and P in order to aid the shopper.

Kirsch rodding and accessories are stocked here to complete the job.

"Do-it-yourself" buffs will find a complete line of decorating supplies.

Clients, and prospective clients, are invited to drop by any weekday or Saturday between 8 a.m. and 5 pm. Present your problem or idea to the staff and L and P Interiors guarantee satisfaction in the resulting interior

Reputation of Fugate Printing Displays Pride In Their Work

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

An increasing amount of pollution-free electric power produced from steam heat generated in the earth's interior is being used in factories and homes around the world. The World Almanac notes that early this year the Geothermal Steam Act opened 1.35 million acres of government land in the western United States to exploration and leasing for new geothermal power projects.

Texas Picked Over Arkansas By AP

NEW YORK (AP) — And now it's Colorado's turn to try and slow down the yardage-hungry Oklahoma Sooners.

"The home field might give Oklahoma a slight edge," says Nebraska's Bob Devaney of Saturday's battle of Big Eight unbeatens, the nationally second-ranked Sooners and the sixth-rated Buffaloes.

"An absolutely awesome offense," said Darrell Royal after Oklahoma trimmed his Texas team 48-27 Saturday, rushing for 435 yards.

"The most dynamic offense in college football," says Colorado's Eddie Crowder, mentioning the entire backfield of quarterback Jack Mildren, halfbacks Greg Pruitt and Joe Wylie, fullback Leon Crosswhite and Roy Bell, who subbed for the injured Wylie (ankle sprain) against Texas.

"Those are the guys," said Crowder. "I'm not afraid of the other 62,000 who'll be there. Pruitt looks to me like the best back in the conference since Gale Sayers and he's doing it more consistently."

Consistently enough to gain 205 yards against Southern Cal and 216 against Texas and be named national Back of the Week twice running by The Associated Press.

"There's going to be a lot of electricity down here," says Oklahoma's Chuck Fairbanks. That being the case, we'll go with Franklin's team (split end Willie, that is). OKLAHOMA.

Kansas at Nebraska—"If the ball bounced right for us, we have a chance to win the game," says Don Fambrough of Kansas. "But we're not fooling ourselves. We have to play a great game. I can't see a weakness in their team."

In the immortal words of Duffy Dagherty when one of his Michigan State players complained that it seemed as though George Gipp were reaching up from below and directing the ball in a game with Notre Dame: "You mean Gipp is reaching down from above. Don't be sacreligious." NEBRASKA.

Texas vs. Arkansas at Little Rock—Texas won 15-14 two years ago in Shootout No. 1. Texas won 42-7 last season in Shootout No. 2. Texas is pretty well shot up and crippled for this nationally televised game. Until last week, Texas hadn't lost to Oklahoma since 1966. Texas hasn't lost to Arkansas since 1966. Coincidences aside ... TEXAS.

Tennessee vs. Alabama at Birmingham—Bear Bryant doesn't like to lose to anyone, especially one of his former players. Tennessee' Bill Battle nailed him 24-0 a year ago. Bear bites Bill Battle back. 'BAMA.

Auburn at Georgia Tech—Auburn seemed ripe to be taken last week but got by Southern Mississippi unimpressively. Tech's season has gone lose-win-lose-win-lose ... and ... AUBURN.

Penn State at Syracuse—The preseason experts said this would be for the Eastern championship and the Lambert Trophy. Penn State is unbeaten and ranked first in the East but Syracuse is only 2-1-1 and ranked sixth after a tumbling start. PENN STATE.

Arizona State vs. Oregon State at Portland—Sun Devils' 21-game winning streak is second longest in the country. But it's getting close to Halloween. Upset Special of the Week gives one timid vote to Dee Andros, the Great Pumpkin of ... OREGON STATE.

Stanford at Southern California—Despite a disappointing 2-3 record, the feeling exists that the Trojans can put it all together when they want to. The personnel is there and Stanford started their downfall a year ago. SOUTHERN CAL.

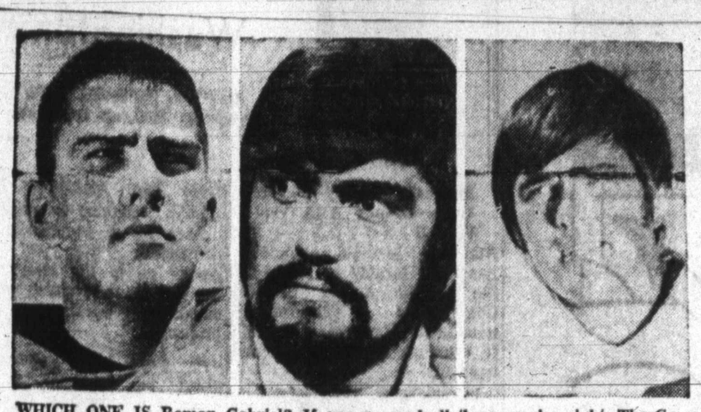

Western Michigan at Toledo—The nation's longest winning streak comes to ... 29 games. TOLEDO.

Washington at Oregon—The football may never come down with Sonny Sixkiller pitching for Washington and either Dan Fouts or Harvey Winn for ... OREGON.

Purdue at Northwestern—It's Purdue's Gary Danielson against Northwestern's renowned secondary. Just a hunch ... PURDUE.

Southern Mississippi at Mississippi—USM did t last years sissippi—USM did it last year 30-14. Ole Miss, glad to be through with Alabama and Georgia. MISSISSIPPI.

Army at Air Force—Falcons are tough in the Colorado altitude. Army could surprise, but ... AIR FORCE.

WHICH ONE IS Roman Gabriel? If you guessed all three, you're right. The Gabriel at left is a North Carolina State senior in 1961, the one in the center is bearded during the off season and the most recent one, at right, is ready to start his 10th season with the Los Angeles Rams.

World Series Heros Are Made Of Men Like Blass

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Forget the common image of baseball heroes—unflappable types exuding strength and confidence.

Meet Steve Blass of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"I get very nervous before a big game," said the soft-spoken right-hander after pitching a clutch 5-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday in the third game of the World Series.

Being nervous is only part of the Blass life-style. He professed to childish exuberance after his three-hitter against the slugging Orioles, claiming he's still a kid at heart.

"Being in a World Series—wow! It's been the greatest thing that's ever happened to me," said Blass, his eyes glittering with unabashed pleasure. "And this World Series has been everything I ever thought it would be."

Another slice of the Blass makeup is his intellectual approach to life. He reads a lot, which he says is good. But he also thinks too much, which he says is bad.

"I can't sleep when I think about what I have to do in a World Series," he said. "Before I pitched Tuesday, I tried to go to sleep for three hours—and it was eight o'clock before I knew it, and time to get up and get ready for the ballgame."

Blass wasn't counting sheep, he said. "I was counting people ... Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson, Boog Powell ..."

He also blew a $3.60 breakfast.

"I couldn't eat," he said. "I just couldn't get the food down."

What did he have? "A slice of toast, medium rare and a few pulmonary wheezes," he quipped.

But despite the butterflies and mental torment, Blass managed to put most of the Orioles to sleep Tuesday. He gave up only a home run and single to Frank Robinson and a single to Brooks.

Was it the best-pitched game of the season for the trim right-hander? "How about (the best game) of my life?" he shot back to a room jammed with reporters.

Blass, a 15-game winner, set down Baltimore with a crackling fast ball which he threw "80 per cent of the time."

Texas-Oklahoma Game Referred To As Civil War On 50 Yard Line

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association is on sort of a year of good behavior.

District Judge Robert Simms, who admits he is a football fan, Tuesday continued a contempt citation against the NCAA until three days after the next annual Oklahoma-Texas football game in Dallas.

It was his ruling on the contempt citiation which followed an injunction last week prohibiting the NCAA from trying to prevent the showing of the Oklahoma-Texas game on TV in Tulsa. The NCAA had previously restricted the Tulsa area to closed-circuit TV broadcast and that decision was not changed.

After his injunction was issued, Simms took exception to what he considered efforts by the NCAA to threaten sanctions against the two universities if they permitted Tulsa to show the game on TV.

While ruling out a fine or other punishment against the NCAA, Simms announced in court:

"Let the word be carried back to them—the NCAA and its television committee—that the Oklahoma-Texas game is a minor civil war skirmish with the 50-yard line at the Cotton Bowl the battle line.

"The taxpayers are entitled to view it, otherwise it is discrimination."

Simms said that "many people of moderate means, and that includes the court, are unable to view on television the performance of the Sooners in that game." The game is held each year at Dallas which, he pointed out, is not a home-and-home arrangement.

"The NCAA must become aware of public interest ...," he said. "The Texas-Oklahoma game is a strange phenomenon."

He accepted an apology from the NCAA, then added:

"I feel the NCAA has come to the realization that the constitution provides three branches of government. They did not contemplate that the NCAA would be the fourth branch of government."

He agreed with the purposes of the NCAA to protect all schools—small as well as big—and said:

"But each situtton, like each lawsuit, may lead to an exception to the rule."

Booing Bad Business In Lubbock Or Pampa

By STEVE BOHLANDER
Sports Editor

A lesson bit hard into the hearts of Texas Tech fans after a recent press conference by Red Raider coach Jim Carlen when he was quoted, "I'm sick of Lubbock."

The sickness came after a short exposure of booing during the Texas Tech-Texas A&M clash last week. Carlen said, "It wouldn't have bothered me if they had been booing me instead of Napper. Charlie sure didn't know that's how it was."

Carlen told luncheon guests how he went into the dressing room after the 28-8 victory "and everybody was elated and happy, everybody except this one kid who sat alone in the corner crying. That same youngster, who give everything he's got was the one I told last year against SMU that he had to try and get back into the game after he came out bleeding and hurting and his head groggy.

"That same kid you were booing today, and, if you're proud of it, you were sick."

The switchboards of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal has been lit up with calls from fans agreeing or disagreeing with Carlen's remark. Almost all, however, condemned the booing.

On the local level fan reaction to a coach's, player's or referee's decision should be kept under control. The referee was hired under agreement of both football coaches, the coaches were hired by the fans, and the fans are the parents of the players. When you boo, you are admitting your own failures. Let's keep Pampa on top—both on and off the field, no matter the sport.

Oklahoma's Halfback Captures MVP Award

By RON JENKINS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Greg "Corvette" Pruitt, Oklahoma's comet halfback, is an unusual guy who does unusual things both on and off the football field.

Pruitt gets his nickname from the sports car he owns although he says he prefers to ride a bicycle to his classes at the University of Oklahoma—and from his uncanny speed on the girdiron.

That speed was evident last Saturday when the 5-foot-9, 176-pound scatback scored three touchdowns and ripped off 219 yards rushing as the Sooners toppled previously unbeaten Texas, 48-27.

Pruitt earned a rare honor—he was named Wednesday as The Associated Press national college Back of the Week for the second straight week.

Pruitt, a junior from Houston, is known as a complex individual—a confident sort whose exuberance might be mistaken for cockiness at times. To his teammates, he's a "good guy," team player who not only runs but blocks like crazy.

Pruitt showed his exuberance in the dressing room two weeks ago after the Sooners had crushed Southern California, 33-20. Pruitt dashed for 205 yards and scored three TDs in that game to win designation as back of the week for the first time. He said, "Texas is going to catch a lot of hell down there next week."

Pruitt also received a little award from his offensive coach, Barry Switzer, at practice Monday. He got a shirt which summed up his play all year. On the front it reads: "Hello," and on the back, "Goodby."

Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks said he has never before seen a player put together back-to-back weeks like Pruitt.

SCALPERS ARRESTED

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Six World Series ticket scalpers were rounded up by a police posse outside Three Rivers Stadium Tuesday.

Ticket scalping violates a city ordinance and the maximum fine is $100.

Hunt Announces Tennis Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—Lamar Hunt, director of World Championship Tennis, Inc., announced Tuesday that the 1971 World Championship of Tennis Singles finals will be held in Dallas Nov. 26 with television exposure.

Memorial Auditorium will be the site of the championship match.

Rod Laver currently leads in point standings on the WCT tour and the winner of the event will receive $50,000 and the runner-up $20,000.

Hunt said he realized he was bucking professional football by holding the event in Dallas in November but said "the date was locked in because of the television interest. It's scheduled to be shown to most of the country and Great Britain."

Dallas is the home base of WCT.

$3,150 FINE

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Guard George Lehman has made amends with the Carolina Cougars and has been reinstated after paying a $3,150 fine to the American Basketball Association teaem.

Lehmann was suspended and fined for every day of missed practice after he failed to show up for an exhibition game Sept. 26. He said then he wanted to be traded because he didn't think he was getting to play enough.

Team officials said Lehmann has apologized to the team and Coach Tom Meschery.

Jim Beam—making news for six generations

Generation gap? We never heard of it.

CLERMONT, BEAM, KY.—Six generations ago Jacob Beam started distilling Beam Bourbon here in Kentucky. It is still being distilled here today. And still by the Beams.

The quality of the Jim Beam Bourbon of today owes much to the careful preservation and adherence to the original formula. But it owes even more to the fact that today, as for over 176 years, it's the Beam family who distills Jim Beam.

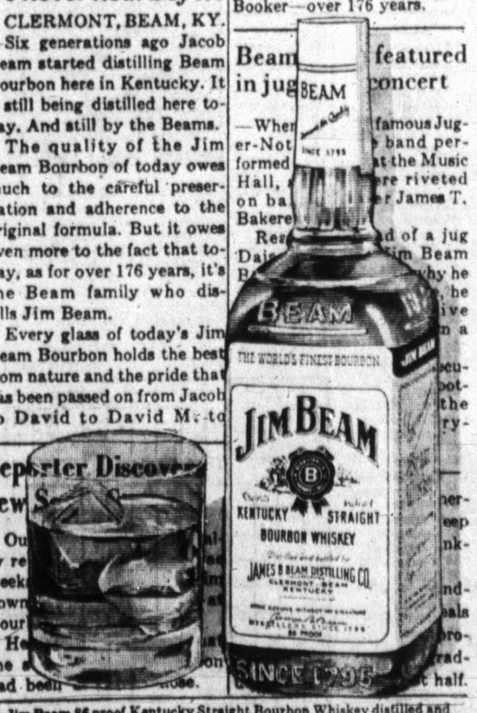

Every glass of today's Jim Beam Bourbon holds the best from nature and the pride that has been passed on from Jacob to David to David M[illegible]to Colonel James to T. Jeremiah to Carl to David, Baker and Booker—over 176 years.

The New 'Mother'?

Apple pie apparently retains its patriotic popularity, but what returning World War II soldier would ever have believed that motherhood would fall onto such hard times?

One of the fundamental ideological props of the women's liberation movement is the conviction that motherhood is a stultifying, degrading form of enslavement, and any woman who doesn't believe it has been brainwashed by the male chauvinists.

Thus one of the goals of te movement is the establishment of day care centers, preferably free(that is, taxsupported), so that any woman who wants to can drop the kids off while she works or otherwise fulfills herself.

Early this year a student-faculty research team from The Claremont Colleges in Claremont, Calif., issued a ringing call for a national child care program, claiming that the substandard care of children has become a "national disgrace."

They have a lot of impressive figures to back up the charge. For example, there are nearly 12 million working mothers in the United States. These working mothers have about four million children under the age of six.

There are approximately 13,600 licensed child-care services in the United States, with a total capacity of 518,000 children. Simple arithmetic would indicate that no more than one-eighth of the children of working mothers are cared for in licensed facilities.

It is certainly a legitimate question to ask: Who takes care of the other 3½ million preschool children of working mothers?

It is when it dips into philosophical arguments that the team's report, "Child Care Crisis," becomes controversial.

It notes that "from birth until the time they enter the doors of the local schoolhouse, children are left to an undirected and possibly passive educational and experiential existence, even though many experts believe the first years of life to be the most critical in developing potential."

In effect, childhood is too important to be left to the children—or even the family, for no family, the report claims, is equipped to give a child the rich and challenging social and intellectual environment it deserves.

Throughout the report, society, which can only mean the government, is explicitly charged with the primary responsibility for a child's development while the role of the family or the full-time mother is implicitly downgraded.

"Can a society which believes itself to be civilized and moral maintain its integrity if it brings a child into its world only to provide him with care that is substantially inferior to the best it has to offer?" it asks.

A national child-care program is needed not only for the good of the children. "Due to the changing role of women and the changing nature of family life in our society," says the report, "a parent has the right to work and to pursue personal interests and be certain that her children are entitled to this care, whether they are infants or school-age children who need supervision after regular school hours."

After all, she didn't bring them into the world. Society did. But institutional child care is the coming thing, and not just because of those millions of mothers who must work whether they want to or not.

Both Senate and House have passed bills which would, for the first time, make federally sponsored day care available to children from middle- and upper-income families as well as from low-income families.

Their authors have failed to grasp the new philosophy fully, however. The Senate bill would require families earning more than $6,900 a year to pay a fee for this service, scaled according to ability to pay. The House version puts the cut-off point at $4,320.

It's almost as if they were saying, "Ask not what your country can do for you . . ."

How old-fashioned can you get?

And we've been told that the talk of taking the country back to the Constitution is the talk of taking it back to the days of McKinley. Well, I for one, don't think that's a bad idea! Under McKinley, we freed Cuba. — Ronald Reagan

Truth Squad 1971

You can talk of 3-ring circuses, various innovations in cinema, play acting, rodeos etc., but when you get right down to where the power is, nothing has yet excelled the spoken word by a competent orator.

With the schoolyear begun, the New Left, the Old Left, and the Tired Left are sending its half-truth artists out to the college campuses in droves.

But we are happy to report, they will not go unanswered this year. A Washington group including Fulton Lewis III has put together a team of young, hard-hitting, articulate pro-America spokesmen. From the Congress they include Sen. William Brock of Tennessee, Rep. Philip Cran of Illinois and Rep:. Guy Vander Jagt of Michigan.

Also in the battery will be William Rusher, TV star and National Review publisher; Jay Parker, a youthful Negro on the national staff of Young Americans for Freedom; Charles Stevens, United Student Alliance; Neil Salonen, Christian Political Union; Bruce Kessler, Vietnam Veterans for a Just Peace, and Czechoslovakian citizen Monika Flidr.

These comprise the Committee for Responsible Dialogue. Rep. Crane, by the way, is the brother of Dr. Stuart Crane who is widely known locally because of speaking appearances in Southern California, most recently at Central Baptist Church in Anaheim.

The pro-America speakers expect to be largely able to earn their own way from lecture fees. Correspondence to the committee should be addressed to its national secretary, Mrs Mary Nemec Doremus, 627 National Press Building, Washington, D.C. 20004. In case you hear of radilibs at your campus who need answering, find out what financial terms they were given, and mail the information to the committee.

If experience is any indication, left-leaning intellectual types will probably try to put roadblocks in the way. But even if they succeed in some cases, that will be the acid test that they dare not face truth in a free and open encounter. Truth never loses, it is only abandoned.

One out of every eight Americans, presently employed, is working for some government. That means they are unproductive of wealth. They may be doing essential work, but they are not producing anything. They are, instead, being supported by producers. — Marysville (Calif.) Appeal-Democrat

Crossroads Report

Dear Editor:

The criminal-coddlers are weeping and foaming at the mouth about the poor Attica prison inmates who got themselves and some guards killed by holding an uprising beef. My realismal neighbor says the error society made in this case was going chicken and storing away these social hazards instead of doing its duty and purging the commonwealth of them when they were first identified. He says people who squeam about executing murderers and violent thugs are as guilty as the killers they let live to slaughter more useful people.

I see where a gaggle of college psychology professors researched and found that the use of marijuana by students increases their creativity. Of course, it has been widely known for some time that alcohol increases creativity. Drunk drivers, for example, create vast amounts of business for doctors, lawyers, grave diggers, etc. But it may be that what the pot-propelled brain create mostly is theories like this one that pot-heads have better ideas.

My mail addict neighbor says for many years our old political type post office system could be depended on like the rising sun to deliver letters and parcels overnight between places 300 or 400 miles apart. Then came the improved non-political, Zipped and computerized post office program which delivers in three to ten days over the same distance. He says one or two more streamlinings, pay-and-postage-raisings and 3-day holiday breaks per week and our grandchildren will be getting all of our mail, and their great-grandchildren will get theirs.

I see where the people-mixers are now planning to outlaw all-white suburban communities which are causing so much need to shift kids around to keep the schools integrated. Apparently it will not be necessary to pass any new laws on this subject; the Supreme Court can just find whatever law it thinks proper by a little more examination of the Constitution. Men who wrote the Constitution, like those who wrote the Bible under Divine inspiration, would be vastly surprised if they could come back and see what we have found that they really meant when they wrote down something else.

Some supercourts are now saying that it is Unconstitutional for one school district to be richer than another because school teachers teach according to how much wages they get. It might be said that this finding legalizes the Robin Hood social axiom, which calls for robbing the Haves and giving a tithe of the loot to the Have Nots. My poker addict neighbor says maybe the totally fair and equal social order will also discover that it is Unconstitutional for anybody to draw a better poker hand than he does.

STRAIGHT TALK:

Price Controls 'Old Hat'

By TOM ANDERSON

Price controls are as old as recorded history, and have never stopped inflation anywhere, anytime. They have, however, always increased crime, shortages, maldistribution and government. Invariably, the people who call for price and wage controls are the same ones who caused the inflation in the first place.

President Truman served eight years, had five surpluses and three deficits, with a total deficit of $1.6 billion. President Eisenhower: eight years, 3 surpluses, five deficits; total deficit, $15.7 billion. President Kennedy: three years, no surpluses, three deficits; total deficit, $17.8 billion. President Johnson: five years, one surplus, four deficits; total deficit, $36.1 billion. President Nixon: three years, no surpluses, three deficits; total deficit, $47 billion.

Continuous deficits are dishonest. We are devouring our great-great-grandchildren's seed corn. I am for a Constitutional amendment making it mandatory that every administration — except in time of declared war — operate in the black in each fiscal year. Penalty for failure to do so: impeachment proceedings against the President.

U.S. News and World Report says that a Soviet list of "nations on the non-capitlaist path" includes Algeria, Burma, Congo, Egypt, Syria, Sudan and Tanzania.

But what about the United States of America? Where has capitalism lost more ground in the past 30 years, ten years, or in the past year?

Every person who desires to be informed on President Nixon's domestic policies and doing the op- our role in world affairs should study his pronouncements carefulq. And then count on him posite of what he promised on at least two-thirds of the issues.

Richard Nixon is the only President since the invention of the revolving door who can enter it behind you and come out of it ahead of you.

Main reason for the conspiracy to merge our outer-space efforts with those of Russia: If we can merge in the stratosphere, why not on earth? (Part of the softening-up process to bring about the merger of the two major powers, as the first giant step toward one-world government. One nation, one citizenship, one currency, one debt, one firing squad.)

"Opportunity finally at hand for a generation of Peace," says headline of a recent "peace" of fiction written by ultra-leftist columnist Joseph Kraft.

Sure. Peace, communist style. The peace of the graveyard. The peace after the firing squad has fired. The peace of complete surrender to the Communists.

A conference of prominent U.S. and Soviet scientists has concluded that "intelligent" life in outer space may exist and that an international effort in outer space may exist and that an international effort should be made to find out.

The meeting was held in Moscow. A scientist may leave Moscow headed for the moon or Mars or some planet many light years away. But a Russian citizen may not leave Moscow to go to Kiev, without permission.

The Communists want to explore the universe with their American "partners" but these same Communists are holding in captivity 900 million people who can't even leave their own country, much less their planet.

The Communists yearn to know about and communicate with intelligent life in outer space, but these same Communists have murdered an estimated forty to fifty million of their own intelligent citizens who rebelled against enslavement.

American partnership with the Soviets to communicate with outer space is not "intelligent." It is treason.

Congressman James A. Haley of Florida reports: "In view of resumption of negotiations between the United States and the Republic of Panama on a new Panama Canal treaty, two important developments will be of interest . . . The first of these is that the State Department has assured me that while the Unied States is prepared to make some important concessions to Panama, this government has no intention of yielding control and defense of the Canal under Panamanian threats.

"To the contrary, the State Department has informed me that primary U.S. objectives in the treaty negotiations are continued U.S. control and defense of the existing canal and that rights to expand the existing canal or to build a sea-level canal are essential prerequisites to U.S. agreement to a new treaty . . ."

Hugging The Monster

President Richard Nixon, in announcing his planned pilgrimage to Communist China, is engineering the final betrayal of the Chinese people. The first stab in the back came from the Truman Administration which disarmed the anti-communist forces of Chiang Kai-shek and thereby allowed the criminal gang led by Mao Tse-tung to enslave the Chinese people.

The creature Truman helped bring to power, and Nixon will now bow down to, is possibly the worst criminal in all history. As Representative John Schmitz said, quote: "The magnitude of Mao Tse-tung's crimes are so appalling, the scope of his campaign to pulverize the Chinese people so great, that even with the irrefutable evidence before us it is difficult to comprehend. Hitler appears almost humanitarian when compared to this man, who managed to outdo even his mentor Stalin in sheer numbers of terror victims. Total, all-pervasive power was, and is, the single governing principle."

The magnitude of the crimes of the monster Mr. Nixon now intends to embrace are beyond human comprehension. Can you picture 60 million corpses? That is the death toll of the animal Mao Tse-tung and his executioners. It is important to note that 90 per cent of these Communist victims were killed after the Communists seized the government.

It is hard to believe that the president of the United States would stoop so low as to embrace these monsters and would propose recognition of their regime which would guarantee the continued enslavement of the Chinese people.

Medical Academy Support Gains Despite AMA Veto

WASHINGTON — The American Medical Association has itself largely to blame for the House Armed Services Committee's extraordinary unanimous approval of the bill to establish a military medical academy.

In opposing this legislation, AMA spokesmen were dogmatic, unimaginative, self-contradictory and decidedly unimpressive. Their effect on the committee was clearly negative instead of positive, with the result that the AMA's adverse stand was flatly rejected by Republicans as well as Democrats.

The AMA simply did not play its cards well.

Sponsor of the legislation is Committee Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D.-La.) who has been battling for its enactment for more than 20 years. A one-time New Orleans ace newsman and 32-year Congressional veteran, he is one of the most astute, highly regarded and popular members of the House.

Scrupulously fair and unfailingly considerate, his committee, regardless of party lines, is particularly devoted to him. Bucking such a highly personal situation, AMA officials ineptly played the wrong cards at the wrong time.

Hebert is firmly confident the full House will pass his bill when it's considered later this month. But what happens thereafter is conjectural.

The Senate has never deliberated this legislation. The Senate Armed Services Committee, which will take it up first, is stormily at odds on virtually every issue — and very likely will be on this one.

Whatever the committee does, it won't be unanimous. In known memory, it has never been unanimous on anything.

Another certainty is that the legislation won't reach the Senate this year.

The Armed Services Committee is too deeply bogged down with pressing military measures to get around to Hebert's bill. The best he can hope for is that it will be taken up early next year.

The AMA can be expected to make the most of this situation. How it does so and how effective it is remains to be seen.

HARSH WORDS

In the Senate, time may be favoring the medical association, but it has run out of it in the House.

The AMA lost the game in the Armed Services Committee's hearings by its inept presentation and irritation of committee members by contradictory and seemingly obstinate pronouncements. Following are illustrative highlights:

Dr. Bland Cannon, Memphis, member of the AMA's Council of Medical Education, testified that one serious objection to setting a military medical academy was doubt about the maintenance of high teachihg and other professional standards. This drew sharp fire from Rep. Alexander Pirnie (N.Y.), a ranking Republican.

"Are we to understand," he demanded, "that you have doubts as to the integrity of our purpose to establish medical standards worthy of the profession?"

"I don't have any doubts about the integrity of this committee," replied Dr Cannon.

"I'm not talking about this committee," snapped Pirnie. "I'm talking about the capability of establishing an institution that would be of high professional competence."

"I have no doubt about that," said Gannon. "I have no question about it."

"If we were to do that," continued Pirnie, "would it have your support?"

"No, it wouldn't" replied Cannon, "for the same reason I have testified here."

"I don't think you have given any reason why it shouldn't have your support," retorted Pirnie. "Clearly, even if we did have excellence in this institution, you still wouldn't approve it. As I understand it, that's what it all gets down to."

From another angle, Dr. Cannon was sharply grilled on this same basic issue.

Rep. Melvin Price (Ill.), second-ranking Democarat, wanted to know if he thought a graduate of the proposed academy "would come out with the same skills as a doctor in civil life."

"I didn't say he wouldn't come out the same," argued Cannon "I think it is unlikely."

"Why would it be unlikely?" demanded Price. "At the Bethesda Naval Hospital, at the Walter Reed Army Hospital, the foremost doctors and surgeons in the world are anxious to practice in these institutions. These experts are in consultation daily. Why do you think they wouldn't come to a military medical academy?"

"As I said, that is our opinion," insisted Cannon.

"Well, I don't think much of it," snorted Pirce.

Rep. Alton Lennon (D.-Fla.) asked, "How many medical schools would be open today if it wasn't for Federal funds and other assistance?"

Dr. C.H.W. Ruhe, head of the AMA's Division of Medical Education, admitted, "I suspect they would all close."

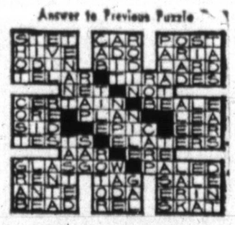

"Exactly," said Lennon. "If that is the case, then why is the AMA opposed to the establishment of a medical school by the government for the express purpose of supplying the armed services with doctors which admittedly they desperately need."

Rep. Charles Whalen (R.-Ohio) argued with Dr. Cannon over his contention that the money spent to establish a military medical academy might better be used to expand civilian medical training centers.

People In The News

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jane Fonda says she wants to take her antiwar theater group to South Vietnam this Christmas but she doesn't think President Nixon will let her.

The actress told a news conference Monday that Bob Hope is permitted to entertain United States troops in Vietnam "because he is prowar, promilitary" and "apparently makes a lot of money off the war."

A spokesman for Hope said the veteran actor loses money os his Christmas tour of U.S. military bases and "never has been prowar."

Miss Fonda said she would leave Nov. 28 to entertain troops with what she called "political vaudeville" on or off base in Hawaii, the Philippines, Japan and Okinawa.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) Former Gov. A. B "Happy" Chandler doesn't figure he needs to spend much on his

"I don't need a lot of advertising because the people all know me, don't you see?" he explained.

The Kentucky Registry of Election Finance reported Monday that the 73-year-old independent gubernatorial candidate had received $115 in contributions through Oct. 4 and had spent $161.

Chandler said his only expenses have been for food and gasolne.

GARBAGE COLLECTOR SAYS

'You Can Tell A Lot About A Person From His Garbage'

NEW YORK (AP) — "Let's go on a garbage hunt tonight—at David Rockefeller's. Maybe we'll find some used money," suggested Alan J. Weberman, 26-year-old selfstyled garbage analyst.

"You can tell a lot about a person from their garbage—their politics, their standard of living," says Weberman. A Yippie with a Groucho Marx sense of humor, he is best known for his study and criticism of poet-singer Eob Dylan.

Weberman prepares for the garbage raid with the dignity of a surgeon, as he paces around his immaculate Bowery apartment. He puts on a clean white shirt. He pulls his halo of red curls back into the semblance of a Paul Revere pony tail and adjusts his gold-rimmed glasses. He folds a fresh plastic garbage bag and pockets a scribbled address and $50 in cash for emergencies.

Uptown, the street is dark and deserted. It is 1 a.m. Weberman calmlyapproaches the berman calmly approaches the home of David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank and brother of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. No lights are on. He looks around for a policeman.

"Keep watch," he says, slipping past the iron fence and lifting the lid of the garbage bin. He extracts a small brown paper bag, spotted with grease, and holds it up, grinning.

Once away from the scene, he paws through the remains, spread on the plastic sheet.

But the Rockefeller take is disappointing—a few gnawed chicken bones and a half-finished jar of pickled beets.

"Garbage hunting is an unobtrusive method of sociological research. People have done worse things for science,' he says.

Weberman does it for curiousity—and money. He says he received $900 for a recent magazine story about garbage.

His interest in garbage sprung from his obsession with Bob Dylan. Calling himself a Dylanologist, he spent several years organizing a two-volume companion book to Dylan's poetry and collecting rare Dylan tapes.

Still hungry for more scraps of information, Weberman strolled past the Dylan house last fall.

"I reached in the garbage can and pulled out a half-finished letter to Johnny Cash. I said, 'This is no garbage can, it's a gold mine!'

"After two weeks, Dylan got wise. He began to censor his garbage."

Weberman has worked his way into the garbage pails—if not always the hearts—of boxer muhamma Ali, playwright Neil Simon and Yippie leader Abbie Hoffman.

Now, Weberman is gunning for powerful, establishment types.

He plans a book called "You Are What You Throw Away," describing garbage contents belonging to famous people.
