Answerline

(Q) Under normal circumstances and on a monthly average, how many gallons of water is consumed by a household in Colorado City and Loraine? What is the capacity of the water tank in Colorado City and Loraine?

(A) City officials in Loraine say the average household there uses about 10,000 gallons a month and city officials in Colorado City say the average is about 7,000 gallons a month. They note, however, that many households use much less than that amount and that other customers use much more, especially in the summer when they are watering their lawns.

Colorado City's overhead storage capacity is one million gallons and there is another million-gallon reservoir at the water treatment plant, giving the city a total of 20 million gallons in storage.

Loraine's overhead storage capacity is 55,000 gallons and the city has two concrete ground storage facilities, one holding 100,000 gallons and the other 55,000 gallons.

Farm head urges conservation

S. M. True Jr., president of the Texas Farm Bureau, told a gathering at the Mitchell County farm meeting Thursday that soil conservation is one of man's highest callings.

True, from Plainview, was the featured speaker at the event. The annual farm tour was canceled this year because of the severe drought conditions.

Thursday's meeting at the Colorado City Civic Center was kicked off with a watermelon and visit followed by a program on late season weed control presented by Dr. Willis Gass, area agronomist from San Angelo. Dr. Tom Fuchs, area entomologist, discussed drip irrigation on cotton and members of the Pest Management Steering Committee gave an update on upcoming cotton referendum.

"I'm very glad to be asked to take part in your annual activities," said True. "Anything that is jointly sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the extension service, the ASCS and the Soil Conservation Service has to be good."

"It is also good to come here because of the Mitchell County Farm Bureau—with more than a thousand member families and headed by President Alton Raschke—is one of the more county Farm Bureaus. We salute the work they are doing."

"Conserving the soil is one of man's highest callings," True said. "It's too bad the farm tour had to be canceled. I know the more than 6,000 miles of terraces in this county, the sub-surface drainage and other practices being carried on are proof that sound soil conservation practices do work."

True explained that the Farm Bureau's policies recognize the importance of a productive soil resource which can be accomplished by:

—Voluntary programs using cost-sharing and tax incentives;

—Properly funded educational and research programs;

—Emphasis directed at the most critical erosion problems;

—By urging farmers to keep their soil losses within acceptable limits;

—By making use of present agency personnel to provide technical assistance;

—By having programs directed locally by elected soil conservationists, and;

—By committing a greater portion of government expenditures to on-farm conservation efforts.

"If we are to reduce soil erosion, we need to know what we're doing right and where we're lax," said True. "The last National Resources Inventory completed two years ago gives us a good benchmark. The report showed that soil erosion affected fewer acres than years earlier and also that conservation practices protected more acres from erosion in 1982 than the same five years earlier."

True said that aerial photos of 40 to 45 years in Mitchell County

REX MCKENNEY, left, was presented a certificate at the farm meeting by D. M. Smith recognizing McKenney's participation on the Steering Committee of the Pest Management Program for Mitchell County.

Referendum passage urged

Mitchell County cotton grower D. M. Smith says the current cotton situation is a perfect example of why local producers need to approve a cotton referendum to fund a county-wide insect pest survey to be made each year.

"We don't have very many acres of cotton in the county and we have one of the worst boll worm problems we've ever had,"

I understand, north of Loraine in that irrigated cotton," he said.

If approved on Friday, the referendum would authorize a maximum $1 assessment of each bale of cotton to fund the survey.

"The entomologist is needed more than we've ever needed one before for what few that has the cotton," said Smith.

"The main thing about the survey is to have some help if we need it," he said. He noted that the plains area is experiencing a boll worm problem this year, and "they're short of entomologists up there."

"We're not asking everybody to poison," said Smith, "we just need to try to be ready and have somebody to catch the situation if we do get in trouble."

'Miracle' marathoner gives all credit to God

Capt. Jim Letherer

A 3,100-mile trek across the United States would be grueling for anyone, but a one-legged man on crutches accomplishing the task can only be something short of a miracle.

Capt. Jim Letherer, 50, was in Colorado City Wednesday as part of his "Miracle Marathon" from Raleigh, N.C. to San Diego. Letherer left Raleigh May 5 on his journey to promote cancer research and raise the spirits of other disabled people.

Letherer, who says he has trained hard for his journey and uses a special pair of shock-absorbing crutches, gives all the credit to God.

"I started with nothing but God's blessing and grace and I know I'll get there," he said while relaxing at the Villa Inn.

Letherer lost a leg to cancer at age 10. A stroke in 1955 paralyzed half his body and after he fought that off, a bus accident put him in a wheelchair in 1976. The injuries didn't stop him from sailing to Ceylon or hitchhiking long distances to attend football games.

Letherer tries to average 26 miles a day in his marathon, but lately has been going 18-22 miles a day, "depending on how it goes and my mood."

"I'm not sure how much money I can raise for cancer research," he said, "but I know that when I can bring a smile to one kid in a wheelchair, it'll be reward enough for all the pain, misery, hurt and loneliness I go through on this marathon."

The Michigan native said he chose the 3,100-mile goal of reaching Jack Murphy Stadium in San Diego to leave intact the record of Canadian cancer victim Terry Fox, who crossed most of Canada running on an artificial limb in 1980 before succumbing to cancer.

"He was a track star who lost a leg to cancer," Letherer said. "I lost a leg to cancer and became a track star."

The story of Letherer's marathon and crutches has its origins in the national spotlight that fell on North Carolina State University as the Wolfpack climbed to the 1983 NCAA basketball championship.

As the Pack coaches traveled to playoffs in Oregon, Utah and finally Albuquerque, N.M., they got to know a red-capped fan who'd turn up at each game in a wheelchair.

He told the coaches of a dream he had to run cross-country on crutches to raise interest and money for cancer research. Two weeks after the April 4 championship game in Albuquerque in 1983, "Captain Jim" turned up at the NCSU campus in Raleigh ready to train.

Over the next year, athletic trainers and strength coaches put Letherer through a program focusing on weight work to build his upper body strength.

The student chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers came up with the design for the crutches Letherer describes as "super, super."

The Texas heat is taking its toll on Letherer whose day

Budget, tax rate OK'd

The Colorado Independent School District board of trustees Friday formally adopted the 1984-85 budget and set the tax rate for the coming year.

The tax rate approved by the trustees is 82 cents per $100 valuation, which is the effective rate. The 82-cent rate will bring in the same amount the current 75-cent rate generated before the school district lost some $18 million in valuations.

"Even though we're still going to be receiving the same amount from the rate, some people are going to see an increase in their tax bill because we have shifted some of the burden from the oil companies to the local people," explained Supt. Charlie Uselton.

The new budget reflects an estimated $6,916,329 in revenues and $15,819,195 in expenses which should leave the school district with a balance of about $1 million at the end of the year.

Uselton said "we have had to cut the budget back as much as possible" in areas of capital projects, maintenance and utilities.

He explained that increases in teacher salaries and changes due to implementation of House Bill 72 had to be included in the budget.

"We do realize the economic situation and we really did cut back as much as possible," said Uselton.

Arson suspected

Arson is suspected in an early morning blaze Friday that caused extensive smoke and fire damage to a mobile home at Concho and Riverside Streets.

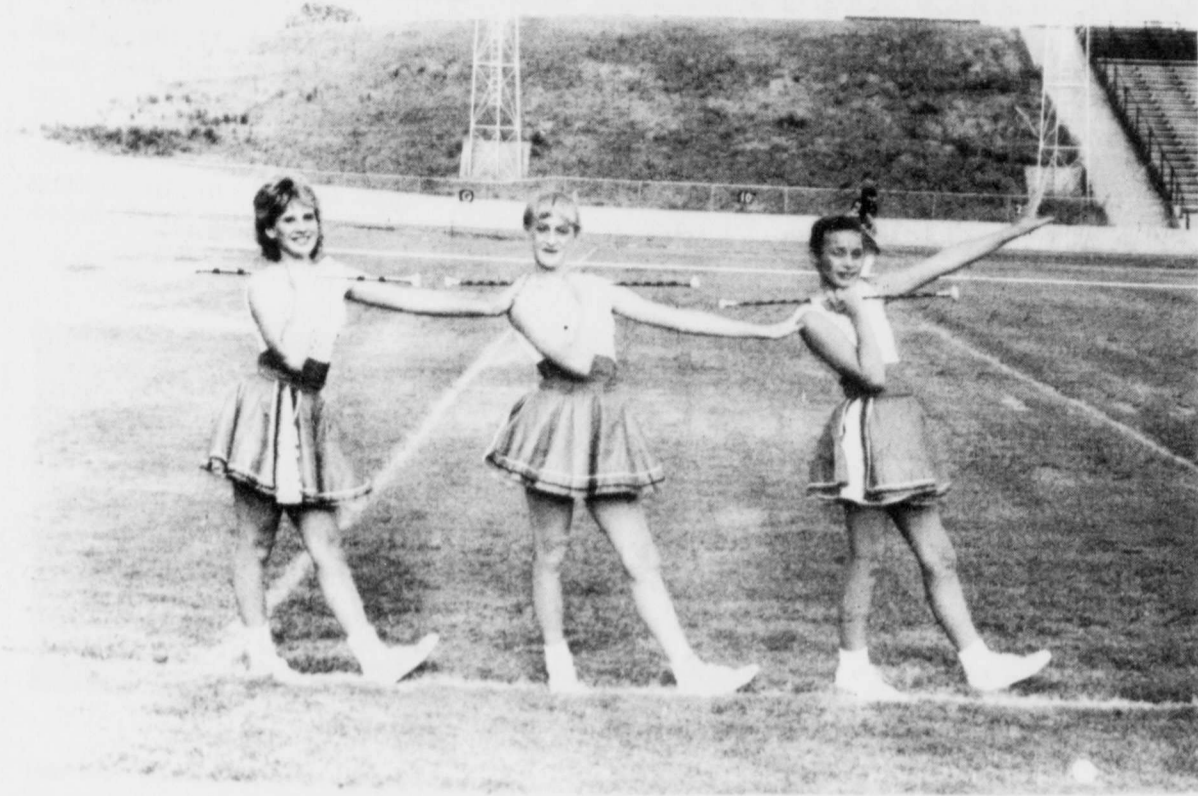

According to the Colorado City Police Department, the call was received at 1:32 a.m. Friday. The mobile home, owned by George Davenport, was unoccupied at the time.

Don Pennington, criminal investigator for the Colorado City Police Department, and Billy Ray Williamson, arson investigator for the fire department, are investigating.

Sanders addresses citizens on school issues

The Loraine Business and Professional Women's Club held its regular monthly meeting at the Loraine Lions Club building, Monday night. Billie Ruth Tartt, president, presided.

She introduced Glen Sanders, guest speaker. He spoke on the new legislation passed this summer and how it will affect our school. He also talked about the new curriculum. The changes in our school are very definite and almost drastic, he reported and asked the cooperation of everyone in our school district, especially parents of students, in learning these changes and working with the school.

Requirements for graduation will be different. Students will be required to do more homework. Extra tutoring will be provided for those who need it, he stated.

A short business session followed the social time at which hostesses served refreshments.

Reed graduates from LVN

Paula Reed graduated Aug. 9 from Navarro LVN School, Corsicana, Tex. She will take her State Board examinations in October. She is currently employed at Corsicana Nursing Home.

Mrs. Reed is a 1978 graduate of Colorado High School and is the daughter of Bill and Sandra Thompson of Colorado City.

Hedging seminar Tuesday

A Hedging Seminar, sponsored by the Farm Bureau will take place Tuesday, Sept. 4 at 7 p.m. at the C. C. Thompson Room of the City National Bank.

Conducted by Mike Williams, associate director of Texas Farm Bureau, commodity department, the workshop is designed to give individuals a better understanding of what Commodity Futures are and how they work.

The program is not designed to prepare a producer to go out and start trading contracts or commodities, but to present information which can facilitate production, storage, and marketing decisions, and to show what information can be obtained from following the Commodity Futures Market.

The workshop is designed for a two-hour classroom setting for a group of 15 to 30 persons. For more information, call Carl Guelder at 728-5476 or the local Farm Bureau office.

Col-Tex Credit Union merger explained

The Col-Tex branch of the Big Spring Education Employees Federal Credit Union, located in the Frontier TV Cable Co. building on East Highway 80, is open weekdays 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m., according to Mrs. Georgia Tarver, manager.

Mrs. Tarver explained that because of the recent merger of Col-Tex Federal Credit Union with the Big Spring Education Employees Federal Credit Union at Big Spring, many people thought the local office has closed, but that is not the case.

"All members may continue to make their payments and local teachers may continue to do business with us," she said.

The merger, which became effective July 1, was done at the request of the National Credit Union Administration.

Membership in the local credit union is open to all residents of Mitchell County. The credit union offers loans, savings, certificates, share draft (checking) accounts, and IRA accounts.

Parents invited to meetings

The faculty of the Colorado Middle School invites all parents of the CMS students to a meeting designed to acquaint parents with their child's teachers and be introduced to some of the new legislative changes for the 1984-85 school year.

This will also be a good opportunity for the parents to ask questions about the rules of the school, individual teachers, and organizations.

A different night has been scheduled for each grade. Parents of the sixth grade students will meet Monday, Sept. 10, at 7 p.m.; parents of the seventh grade students will meet Tuesday, Sept. 11 at 7 p.m.; and parents of the eighth grade students will meet Thursday, Sept. 13, at 7 p.m. All meetings will be held in the Middle School Cafeteria.

CHS Volleyball Teams win across the board against Merkel Badgers

By TONY FRANCO
Strong spiking and even stronger serving powered the Colorado High School volleyball team to an easy 15-3, 15-4 triumph at Merkel last Tuesday night.

After senior setter Traci Blackwell gave Colorado City a 1-0 lead, the Wolves then raced to a 10-1 lead behind the serving of junior Sherry Fite and the spiking of junior Denise "Spud" Jackson.

With Fite serving, Jackson gave the Wolves their second and third points with two strong kills. Fite, the high point server in the strong serving performance by the whole Colorado City team, then went on to serve for six more points to give the Wolves a 9-0 lead.

Following a Merkel score, junior Jody Huff then served to give the Wolves a 10-1 lead. Colorado City then increased its lead over the Badgers to 13-2 with one service point by Jackson and two by Rebecca Erwin. That set the stage for more of Fite, who then served for two points to cap the 15-3 first game victory.

Merkel scored first in the second game but then the Wolves jumped out to a 6-1 lead behind service points by Yvonne Lujan, Diane Gregory, Jody Mann, aces by Janie DeLoera and Erwin and a spike by Sherri Morris. The Badgers then closed out their scoring with three consecutive points to pull within two points at 6-4.

From there Colorado City then mixed in spikes by Morris and dinks by Blackwell with three service points each by Blackwell, Fite and Erwin to take the game and match 15-4.

Fite, who also served one ace, finished with 13 points with Blackwell scoring six and Erwin four. As a team, the Wolves were good on 38 of 42 serves for a 90 percent showing. Leading in sets were Blackwell with 12 and Lujan with nine. Jackson and Morris finished with five and four spikes respectively to lead that category.

With the win, in which every member of the squad played, Colorado City now stands at 1-1 for the season.

The victory completed a sweep as the junior varsity and freshmen teams also posted victories over the Badgers.

The junior varsity defeated Merkel 15-7, 15-5 behind a balanced serving attack.

Lynda Walker served to give the Wolves a quick 4-0 lead which Sandra Williams then increased to 7-0. After Merkel scored two points of its own to make the score 7-2, Walker again served for a 9-2 Colorado City lead.

Merkel's junior varsity then answered with five straight points to close out its scoring. From there the Wolves used spikes by Shana Lowery, four service points by Williams and two from Holly Tarter to take the game 15-7.

In the second game it was Carmen Reyes who showed the way as the Wolves almost blanketed Merkel—racing to a 14-0 lead enroute to a 15-5 victory.

Reyes served to give the Wolves a 5-0 lead. From there, Colorado City go two service points from Robin Edwards including an ace, three from Andra McKinney and one from Tammy Ashford. Those scores gave the Wolves a 12-0 lead then Reyes scored two more to make it 14-0. Merkel then spoiled the Wolves bid for a skunk with five straight points before Daphne Fowler scored the game winning serve.

As a team, the junior varsity made 35 of 41 serves for an 85 percent clip.

In the freshmen game, early jitters cost Colorado City a 15-11 loss in the first game, then the Wolves settled down to take the next two games and the match 15-10, 15-6.

Jennifer Monroe, the leading spiker with four, also served two aces and tied Michelle Casey for high point honors with nine points.

Other results for the ninth grade Wolves were Debra Luera, eight points, Naomi Franco, seven points and two spikes, Misty Strain, six points and three aces and Christy Mitchell, two points.

The freshmen were good on 44 of 51 serves for an 86 percent showing and showed "much better movement" according to Colorado City coaches.

ARIES (3-21/4-19) Good news should reach you via telephone sometime soon, so don't stray too far from home. Begin putting things in order so you'll be free to take off on a moment's notice.

TAURUS (4-20/5-20) Take care of domestic chores this week, answer long overdue correspondence, balance the checkbook, and be ready to face an exciting challenge free of cares.

GEMINI (5-21/6-20) Buy a lottery ticket, don't walk under ladders, toss a coin, but avoid black cats. The stars point to fabulous days ahead if you don't push your luck.

CANCER (6-21/7-22) The green-eyed monster could get the best of you if you don't beware. Remember, jealousy is a self-inflicting emotion. Don't give in, or you will surely lose that which you treasure.

LEO (7-23/8-22) Now is the time to make a phone call to a long neglected friend. Friendly instincts will lead you to say the right words to atone for your long silence.

VIRGO (8-23/9-22) Pack the kids off to camp or grandma's, and take a nice long weekend with your mate. It will be good for the tots, and better for you. Your marriage needs a shot in the arm.

LIBRA (9-23/10-22) Don't assume your loved one will understand your actions. This is a time for words, lots of them. After all, few of us are mind-readers. We need some clues.

SCORPIO (10-23/11-21) Keep business and pleasure strictly separated or you could wind up in a messy emotional situation. Good intentions are not enough. You must be explicit with a fellow employee.

SAGITTARIUS (11-22/12-21) Leave your credit cards at home when you take that big trip. It will offer enough fun and excitement without putting financial temptation in your way.

CAPRICORN (12-22/1-19) Everything has come up roses for you this year so you've earned the right to take a short respite. Save some strength for the challenge of the coming months.

AQUARIUS (1-20/2-18) Life in the fast lane will always attract you, but don't expect everyone to keep your pace. If you want company, drop back to cruising speed and let them catch up with you.

PISCES (2-19/3-20) A loved family member is taking up too much of your time, and you resent it. Explain your needs to that person as kindly as possible and ask for some breathing space.

The clues and quiz are hidden in the grid — up, down, across, backward or diagonally. First circle the clue words (we've found the first word for you). You may find the same letter in more than one word, so circle each letter clearly. Next, circle the quiz words, the first letter and number of letters are given for each. When you have circled all the clue and quiz words, the remaining uncircled letters will spell out the answer to this week's WORD CAGE.

LET US BACK OUR ELECTED HOSPITAL BOARD

The members of the Hospital Board have been duely elected and volunteered to serve without pay. They have spent months studying the problem with Dr. Noonan, and know more of the facts than anyone else. Why should those who are not fully informed attempt to change the decision of the board? Instead, we should stand by their decision and them to do the same. A petition with 337 signatures to date has been presented to the board as evidence of our support.

Hopefully, in a few months, the board can supply our community with other doctors who will not boycott the sick, But who will appreciate the use of the million dollar facilities available to them at no charge.

Letters to the Editor

To the editor:

There are two things I would like to point out that somehow failed to get mentioned in the RECORD's account of Tuesday night's Hospital Board meeting. They are: 1. On Ray Mason's visit with Medicare in Austin, Friday, August 24, 1984, he was told by Medicare, (not representatives of Stenholm's office,) that the suspension of Dr. Noonan was a very positive action since the Board of Directors was reprimanded for their failure to take action against the doctor's not signing their charts. Also, Jane McCarty was told by Medicare in Lubbock that the action of the D.O.'s would have no bearing on the hospital getting recertified by Medicare.

2. A petition was submitted to the Board requesting the Board of Directors to uphold their decision to suspend staff privileges of Dr. Thomas Noonan and was signed by citizens of Mitchell County. (not neighboring counties).

I felt that the RECORD's account of the meeting was somewhat onesided, since these two issues were not mentioned.

Valerie Redwine

offense this last week. To our knowledge, this is the first DWI jury trial in this county in at least five years.

We wish to commend the twelve citizens who served the public by sitting as a jury. The guilty verdict and sentence they brought forth should warn others that driving while intoxicated will not be condoned by all citizens in this county. Their verdict was an important step in making our streets and highways safer for all.

We also wish to make mention of the cogent manner in which the County Attorney prosecuted the case and appeal to his office to prosecute ALL DWI offenses committed in Mitchell County with the same fervor and intensity demonstrated in the courtroom on THIS case.

To the editor:

To Those Who Care:
As the wife of Ray Dillard and as the past Administrative Secretary at the Root Memorial Hospital, I can keep still no longer. The only thing Ray is guilty of is perhaps caring too much for people's feelings and maybe being too lax in enforcing some rules and regulations. Contrary to belief he did not start the Chicago fire, nor is he responsible for the drought and the farmer's bad luck. There are two sides to every story and Ray is taking the fall for it all. With all due respect to Stenholm's office, they have not lived this nightmare and are not fully aware of all the problems facing our hospital, for things are not always as they seem.

Can anyone honestly believe all the propaganda being banded about? Some say Ray is guilty because he resigned under fire. Ray resigned for several reasons: He was hurt and felt betrayed and was angry, 2. Because of his great concern for the welfare of the hospital, he felt that maybe with him out of the picture, the situation would be less "HOT", and 3. Most important of all, he loves his family and could not stand to see the pain and suffering they were enduring any longer.

There has to be trust in working with fellow employees. Ray is not a pharmacist. The hospital pharmacist is paid $50,000 a year ($6,000 more than the administrator) to see that standards are met, and the administrator trustingly felt the pharmacy was covered. WRONG! As for medical records—that is the physician's responsibility to see their work is done. As to Mrs. Bassham's worry list-Ray was hung with no trial even though his name was never mentioned. I have been the administrative secretary at the hospital for eight years and I have never typed minutes for meetings not held, nor have I ever changed minutes already approved. Also, it was my responsibility to mail all notifications of meetings to board members, and this was always done. As for the tapes, the present Hospital Administrator and Controller state the tapes are all in tact. But, that doesn't matter anyway, you see the only reason for the tapes was to jog the controller's memory in being able to dictate more accurate minutes. All minutes have been dictated and transcribed, so it doesn't really matter if they were erased. The tapes were used for no other purpose and have only been used recently. In the past, all minutes were dictated from notes and memory.

My grandfather built the Root Memorial Hospital and died of a coronary due to overwork and pressure. Dr. Root was loved by everyone and greatly admired and respected. My father inherited the hospital at the age of 23 and had to learn how to do everything. For 43 years he served as administrator of the hospital. He also has severe coronary problems relating from pressure of running a hospital. You see, it is much more than that, he loves the people in this community enough to want the best. He grieves more than anyone over the present situation.

Ray has a Master's Degree and a Certificate in Health Care Administration from Trinity University. He is a licensed paramedic and for five years he worked hard at learning all he could about hospital administration. Ray carried a great burden of having to follow in the footsteps of both Dr. Root and Charles Root. He was a home town boy whom everyone knew. Therefore, it was harder for him to prove he could make the grade. One does not have a position in authority without making enemies. As a result, Ray's enemies as well as my father's have all jumped on the band wagon for varied reasons not necessarily relating to the present situation.

He has made mistakes, he never denied that he didn't. But, the dog is dead, so why continue to kick it? All we ask is to be left at peace so that we can help our children live over this trauma. They are the ones who have been hurt the most.

Even though betrayed by some, Ray still has faith and trust in mankind. So if we want to find him guilty of being too trusting and perhaps caring a little too much for the people he worked with and being a little overprotective, then go ahead Colorado City crucify him because of this he is truly guilty.

Proud To Be The Wife of Ray Dillard and, The Daughter of Charles Root.

Anna Lee (Root) Dillard

Garrett to appeal DWI sentence

A Colorado City man received a probated sentence this past week after being found guilty by a district court jury of a misdemeanor driving while intoxicated offense.

Charles Milton Garrett, 36, was sentenced to 18 months, probated for two years. He was fined $1,000 plus court costs and will be required to attend an alcohol abuse education program.

Garrett said he plans to appeal the verdict, "because I am not guilty of the charge. I do not feel I have truly 'had my day in court' for several reasons."

Garrett cited conflicting testimony by prosecution witnesses and said outside pressures influenced the proceedings. He said he felt the jury was not presented with all the "facts and evidence pertinent to the case."

County Attorney Pat Barber, who prosecuted the case, said he felt the jury reached a fair decision.

"I feel like justice was done and I hope the defendant learned his lesson," said Barber.

News from

Kristi Lee Manor

By MAYE EHRET

We had five residents with birthdays this month and we honored them with a party Aug. 17 at 2 p.m. Cake and punch were served to residents and guests by ladies from the Church of Christ. Velma Lindsey played the piano and sang for us. We appreciate each one for their part in making this a special day.

On Friday, Aug. 27, the family of Mrs. Essie Phillips invited all the residents to join them in celebrating her 80th birthday. Popcorn, punch and cake (provided by the VFW Ladies Auxiliary) was served. Mrs. Dorothy Clark made the cake. Mrs. Peggy Faulkenberry played the piano.

We would like to say thank you to everyone that came and helped us.

We have movies every other week and the residents really enjoyed the one on the Boston Tea Party this week.

Next Friday, Sept. 7, we will have a small celebration for "Grandparent Day." There will

Former resident honored

Tucson attorney Dale Haralson has been named Trial Lawyer of the Year for his work in winning a $2.6 million judgement from the U.S. government for 10 cancer victims affected by nuclear fallout in the 1950s and '60s.

Haralson is the son of Delmar (Dagwood) and Adah (Barber) Haralson who lived at Loraine from the time Dale was in kindergarten until he graduated. He is the nephew of Dell Barber and a grandson of Mrs. Bertha (Conaway) Barber, who was reared in this county.

The national award is given annually by the Citizens Legal Clinic, sponsor of the Trial Lawyers for Public Justice, to the attorney who takes on and wins a case "that has had and will have a significant impact for the public good." The Trial Lawyers organization consists of about 400 attorneys nationwide who handle costly cases that could have long-term effects on the public.

Haralson, 46, was diagnosed as having cancer in 1981 as he prepared for the trial. The three-month trial ended with a decision by U.S. District Judge Bruce Jenkins in Salt Lake City. Haralson has been free of cancer for the last two years.

The Texas native began his battle with the government in 1978 when he filed suit in behalf of 24 cancer victims who charged that their conditions were due to nuclear fallout in areas of Nevada, Utah and Arizona resulting from nuclear bombs tests in the 1950s and 1960s.

Haralson made his closing argument in December 1982 before Jenkins, who handed down a 489-page decision May 10 in favor of the plaintiffs. The government has not filed an appeal, but still has time to do so.

Haralson said the honor also was deserved by the rest of the team of attorneys who worked on the case: Ralph Hunsaker and Stewart Udall of Phoenix, and David Bell and McArthur Wright of St. George, Utah.

Haralson and his law partner, Carter Morey, are currently working on a similar case against Kerr-McGee Corp. over a uranium spill near Gallup, N.M., that has allegedly affected Navajo Indians in the area.

Haralson is also representing workers at a Nevada test site and families in Moab, Utah, with children who have been stricken with leukemia.

be coffee and donuts and everyone is welcome to come.

Also on Friday, the 7th at 7 p.m., there will be a musical held in the dining room. Everyone is welcome to come and join us.

Cook's Corner

Variety: the spice of a good cook

Kids say the darndest things. Well, we've all seen that and it applies to everyone who has small children.

This case applied to Billie Parks when her son informed her that he was glad school was starting, because then he wouldn't have to eat her cooking.

That saying is no reflection on Mrs. Parks, however, because now her son takes his lunch to school.

She learned to cook when she was at home. Her mother taught her some things and then she took Home Ec in school.

When Mrs. Parks was growing up, she and her sisters would all pitch-in in the kitchen.

She did know how to cook when she married and now with three boys, she has to kind of hide the taste of certain vegetables.

"My boys are picky eaters. I don't like to fix the same thing over so I add cheese and substitute other spices when I cook so they will eat them."

Mrs. Parks follows a recipe and she also likes to try new recipes out.

She also likes to fix sweets.

"My family likes just plain desserts, but every once in a while, I like to make different kinds."

Mrs. Parks enjoys cooking, especially when she has time.

She is married to Bill Parks and they have three sons, Thomas, Charles and Marcus.

Today Mrs. Parks is sharing three of her recipes with RECORD Readers.

Dove season opens in County

Dove hunting season opens Saturday, September 1 and all hunters need to be aware of all rules and regulations. Hunting is permitted only from 30 minutes prior to sunrise to 30 minutes prior to sundown with a limit of 12 per day and a possession limit of 24. In Mitchell County, the hunting season is divided into two by Interstate 20. The closing date for all areas north of I-20 is November 9. For areas south of I-20 the closing date is October 30. The south (central zone) will enjoy a second season from January 5-14, 1985. All hunters have to have permission from land owners and a hunting license is required for those hunting outside their county of residence. It is against the law to hunt from a public road or vehicle. Any questions can be directed to game warden Ronnie Aston.

New regulations affect pep rallies

In trying to obey the new regulations, Colorado High School will be changing the time of the pep rallies. The homecoming and senior pep rallies will be held during class time with an adjusted time schedule for classes. The starting time for those two pep rallies will be 9:10 a.m. in the high school auditorium.

in Austin this summer, Colorado High School will have several different regulations and policies this year. One of the most important policies affects the disruption of class time. Games that are played at home in Wolf Stadium, (other than homecoming and senior pep rally) will be held at Wolf Stadium at approximately 7:15 p.m. in the stands. Those games that are played away, the pep rallies will be held at 7:45 a.m. at the high school. All interested persons are urged to participate in the pep rallies with the students to make the pep rallies a community affair.

Earphones are causing hearing loss

By DEBBIE CHRISTIAN
New electronic devices that make our life easier and more comfortable are flooding today's market. Yet, those same electronic gadgets that make it possible to jog while listening to your favorite music or make a phone call from your backyard, could be hazardous to your hearing.

The New England Journal of Medicine reports that physicians have become concerned about the hearing losses they believe are being caused by lightweight earphone radio and cassette players.

Government regulations prohibit noise exposure to workers ranging from 90-115 decibels. But these radios and players are near or above the 115 decibel limit when the volume is set at 60 or greater.

Since any hearing loss suffered from such exposure is permanent, the medical experts recommend that volumes be set no higher than four and probably lower.

For similar reasons, cordless telephones have been the subject of a recent Consumer Product Safety Commission alert. The CPSC cautions users always to place the phone in the talk positions before moving the telephone to their ear. Otherwise, they may be exposed to a loud and perhaps painful ring. The Commission has received several complaints, some claiming that a loss of hearing has resulted from the loudness of the ring.

Proper use of this and other sound-producing electronic equipment will insure a life time of happy listening.

Mrs. Pritchett was honored at a retirement dinner party at Mac-Michael's Friday night sponsored by the doctors and employees of Doctors' Clinic. Mrs. Pritchett's nursing experience included formal nurse's training followed by employment at Root Memorial Hospital. Subsequently, she worked for Dr. Bill Rhode and after his retirement worked with Dr. Lindsey until her retirement.

Taken to the emergency room were Swann, and Lisa Rivera and Brannon Rivera, both passengers in the Swann car.
