Homecoming underway as Tigers host Wylie

The Tigers will be trying to improve their record to three wins and one loss following last week's loss in triple overtime to Frenship.

A highlight of this evening's festivities will be the crowning of the homecoming queen.

The queen will be announced at half-time.

The Snyder High School rodeo club roped in first place and the high school choir's float was second.

Third place went to the forensic's club.

Receiving honorable mention were FFA, French Club, FHA and the Spanish Club.

Following the parade, a short pep rally was held on the courthouse square.

United officials break ground, pledge to help build community

Vowing to be a partner in building the community, United Supermarket officials this morning unveiled drawings of its store prior to a symbolic gold-shovel groundbreaking.

A delegation of United officials — headed by Robert Snell, board chairman and grandson of the store's founder, was introduced — including Rusty Carter, the Snyder store manager.

Kent Moore, United CEO, introduced company officials which included Matt Bumstead, a company director and fourth-generation family member of the grocery chain now in its 82nd year.

Bumstead presented a $5,00 check to Carolyn House, repre senting the City of Snyder's beau tification committee. The fund will be used to construct a cit limits welcome sign on the Bi Spring highway.

Dr. Ed Barkowsky and Zol Schlegel accepted a $2,500 contri bution for Scurry County Unite Way from United's chief opera ing officer.

Moore was also presented chamber of commerce membe ship plaque by chamber manage Donna Fowler after the company paid its $300 annual dues.

The 40,000-square foot store located on College Avenue, Moore said, will contain conventional grocery departments as well as a bakery, fresh seafood and deli shop, floral department and the company's first drive-through pharmacy.

Moore said the company will also have a fuel center located near the south entrance to the College Ave. property.

At Our Lady of Guadalupe Church...

Fiesta '98 set for this weekend

Months of planning will culminate this weekend at Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church as members will present "Fiesta '98."

The two-day event, known world-wide as Dieciseis de Septiembre, marks the end of Spanish rule over Mexico.

Every year on Sept. 16 in Dolores, Mexico, the people gather at midnight to begin celebrations with the famous Grito de Dolores, Viva Mexico!

In Snyder, the event will be celebrated beginning Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the church as the booths will open on the church grounds and the annual volleyball tournament gets underway.

At 11 a.m., the festive parade will begin to make its way from the 3100 block of College Avenue and on around the square.

The queen will be formally crowned in ceremonies beginning at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Early Saturday afternoon will be open for fiesta-goers to enjoy all the festivities on the grounds of the church before Maria Gonzalez performs at 5 p.m.

An outdoor mass will be held at 6 p.m., followed by the annual flag ceremony.

Following the queen coronation, the Folklorico Dancers will perform at 8 o'clock.

A dance will end Saturday's activities as Gabriel Castillo y Cyntmynto will play beginning at 9 o'clock.

The fiesta continues Sunday morning as booths open at 10 o'clock.

The impressive parade of queens will be at noon followed by the talent show at 3 o'clock and the Mariachi band at 5 p.m.

The Folklorico dancers will perform at 6 p.m. followed by the Sweet City Band at 7 o'clcok.

The event will close with a dance beginning at 8:30 p.m. as Gabriel Castillo will again take the stage.

History, culture and tradition all explain why the Dieciseis de Septiembre is a special day for the Mexican people and for Americans of Mexican descent.

For the Mexican Nationals in the United States, it is a national holiday away from home, and to the Mexican American, the 16th of September is a time to reflect on Mexican history, pass on the Mexican culture and tradition and enjoy in the celebration of freedom.

Like the Fourth of July, the 16th of September is an independence day.

A proclamation was signed this week in Snyder's city council chambers proclaiming Sept. 14-40 as "Hispanic Week" in Snyder.

Everyone is invited to the celebration at Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church located at 1311 Ave. K.

THE SDN COLUMN

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A secret is something that is told to one person at a time."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Last month's death of folksy Jerry Clower resulted in several of the comedian's stories being repeated.

Danny Andrews, in the Plainview Daily Herald, recalled when Clower was in town as the speaker for the chamber banquet.

One day, Jerry was eating at the home of his cousins after a hard day's work.

All of 'em were there - Ardell, Burnell, Raynell, W.L., Lanell, Oell, Eudell, Marcelle, Claude, Newgene and Clovis.

Newgene looked out in the front yard and hollered, "Awwwhhh, there's a lion in the yard, there's a lion in the yard and he's gon' eat us up."

Turn out it was a "big collie dog and, because it was the hot summertime, somebody had sheared all the hair off that dog except for a ring around his neck and a patch on his tail."

Uncle Versy Ledbetter slapped Newgene down in the middle of the floor, stood straddle of him and told him to "go out yonder in the side room and get down on yore knees and beg God to forgive you of the sin of lyin."

In a little while Newgene came back and told Papa that while he was praying "the Lord talked directly back to me."

Blubbering and cautioning his offspring, "Newgene, son, don't lie about God." Uncle Versey asked him if he'd mind sharing with us what the Lord had told him.

"Naw, I don't mind tellin' you," said Newgene. "The Lord told me the first time he saw that dog, he thought it was a lion, too."

Clower also told about a poor man in the community who stole a pair of mules to help make a crop to feed his family.

The man was later arrested and tried in Liberty, Miss. The sympathetic jury ruled, "We find this man innocent and he can give the mules back."

"The judge thow'd a fit," Clower declared. "This is the most stupid thing I've heard in my life." The judge insisted the jurors "get back in there and bring out a verdict commensurate with the testimony. "We've got to have justice!"

The jurors deliberated about 15 minutes more and returned with this verdict:

SJHS hamburger supper tonight

Snyder Junior High School will host its fifth annual hamburger supper tonight. Serving in the high school cafeteria and student center, will be from 5 to 7, prior to homecoming.

"This year four serving lines will be used to quickly feed attendees to allow them to get to Snyder's homecoming game," Marci Dennis, choir director, said.

The Tigers take on Wylie at 7:30 p.m.

Supper tickets are $5 each and are available from junior high choir students or at the door.

Money generated by previous hamburger suppers were used to purchase risers, chairs, uniforms and vertical blinds for the choir room.

"We always purchase something of lasting value that can be enjoyed by all students now and in the future," Dennis said.

CDC: More than half of high schoolers abstaining from sex

ATLANTA (AP) — Teen sex isn't what it used to be. Federal officials say more than half the high-school students they asked are abstaining — and most of the ones who are having sex are using condoms.

It is the first time this decade that more than half of America's high school students are saying no to sex, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention said Thursday. And high schoolers who are sexually active are using condoms at the highest rate recorded in the 1990s.

Dr. Lloyd Kolbe, director of the CDC's Division of Adolescent and School Health, and others said the findings show that teaching teen-agers about safe sex hasn't resulted in more promiscuity.

"I've never believed giving a kid access to a condom is going to promote sexual activity. Now we have evidence that this is correct," said Daniel Zingale, executive director of AIDS Action, a Washington-based advocacy group.

Kolbe also said the findings show that teens who are virgins shouldn't feel like outcasts.

"It's an important milestone because students who have not engaged in intercourse can say that they're in the majority," he said.

The 1997 survey of 16,262 students nationwide showed that a lower proportion of high schoolers are engaging in risky sexual behavior than in 1991, when the CDC began giving teen-agers anonymous questionnaires every two years about their sex lives.

Asked if they had ever had sexual intercourse, 52 percent of those surveyed last year said no, compared with 46 percent in 1991. Asked if they used a condom the last time they had sex, 57 percent of students said yes, compared with 46 percent in 1991.

Sixteen percent of students said they had had sex with four or more partners, down from 19 percent in 1991.

The trend toward abstinence in the 1990s is in sharp contrast to the 1970s and '80s, when sexual activity ballooned among teen-agers, Kolbe said. Sexual activity among girls 15 to 19, for example, jumped from 29 percent in 1970 to 57 percent in 1988, according to previous studies.

Man who revealed Hyde's affair says he wanted to expose hypocrisy

WESTON, Fla. (AP) — A retired salesman who said he was tired of hypocrisy divulged a secret that gives House Judiciary Chairman Henry Hyde and President Clinton something in common: an extramarital affair.

Norm Sommer, who went to the Internet magazine Salon with news of a 1960s affair between the then-married Hyde and the former wife of Sommer's tennis buddy Fred Snodgrass, insisted the White House was not behind the story, as some Republicans have alleged.

"Let me make very clear that nobody ... has been in contact with me from the White House," Sommer said Thursday from his home in nearby Aventura. "I tried to call the White House to offer support but they never called me back. I tried to call 57 people in the media. Salon was the last on my list."

Of Hyde, who is leading the House impeachment review of Clinton's sexual relationship with Monica Lewinsky, Sommer said: "He is the height of hypocrisy."

Republicans blamed the story on the White House — an allegation hotly denied by the Clinton administration and Salon. Sommer said he initiated the call to the online magazine because he "doesn't want to see a president railroaded out of office."

The story forced Hyde, R-Ill., to admit to what he called "youthful indiscretions." Sommer, 72, said he learned of the affair during a tennis match with Snodgrass about six years ago.

Sommer's comments came on the same day that Republicans demanded an FBI inquiry into an alleged "systematic attempt to intimidate" Hyde and others.

Hyde was a 41-year-old state legislator and the father of four sons when the affair began in 1965 with 29-year-old Cherie Snodgrass, who had a son and two daughters between the ages of 7 and 9 at the time. The relationship lasted until 1969.

Snodgrass, 76, a retired furniture salesman living in this Fort Lauderdale suburb, said the affair ruined his life, and that recounting it threatens to destroy an already fragile relationship with his eldest child, a daughter who told him not to give reporters her name or give her whereabouts.

Cherie Soskin, 62, the former Mrs. Snodgrass who now lives in San Antonio, said her former husband was publicizing her affair with the now 74-year-old Hyde out of revenge.

"My God, this was 37 years ago. It's crazy," she said.

Tigers' defense looking for another strong performance against Wylie

The Tiger defense has turned in three dominating performances this season.

It might need another one tonight.

Snyder carries its 2-1 mark into Tiger Stadium at 7:30 tonight to host the 1-2 Abilene Wylie Bulldogs.

The Tigers enter the contest on the heels of a triple-overtime loss to Frenship last week, while Wylie is riding the crest of its upset of ninth-ranked Graham.

But Snyder's defense will be looking to bring the Bulldogs back to reality.

"Wylie does the same thing they always do," Snyder Head Coach David Baugh said. "They have a great passing game and do a good job of keeping teams off balance with screens and things. A big key for us will be to put pressure on the quarterback."

Snyder's defense has been up to the task thus far this season, surrendering an average of only 141 yards per contest and only 32 total points through three games.

The Tigers will face multiple sets from the Bulldog offense, including formations featuring three and four wide receivers.

When the Tigers have the ball, the focus could be up front where the game could hinge on the battle in the trenches.

Wylie continually slants and stunts its defensive linemen and linebackers, which could pose problems for Snyder.

"They really like to slant and loop with their interior guys," Baugh stated. "They're very good at it and can make it hard to move the ball effectively. We'll try to run some traps and keep them off balance a little. We want to try and open some things up in the middle."

The Tiger offensive line has held its own through the opening three games. Snyder has rushed for 717 yards and is averaging 277 yards of total offense.

A bright spot of last week's contest was the Tiger passing game, which had completed just three passes going into the battle with Frenship.

Snyder completed 50 percent of its passes for 99 yards on the night and might look for a repeat performance tonight.

"The most vulnerable part of their defense is their secondary," Baugh remarked. "They've had a hard time bringing guys down in the open field. If we can get the ball to some players in the open field we have the chance to make some big plays."

The Bulldogs will be a good test for the Tigers who open district play Oct. 9.

"They're the best team we've faced so far," Baugh said. "They do some things similar to Lake View so it will be a good test for us defensively."

Following action with the Bulldogs, the Tigers wrap up their non-district schedule next Friday at Seminole, before traveling to Andrews for the 5-4A opener.

Eighth grade ties two games with Bulldogs

Both Tiger eighth grade squads battled the Bulldogs to a stalemate, with Snyder Black playing to a 6-6 tie and Snyder Gold finishing in a scoreless deadlock, 0-0.

For Snyder Black, Danny Hoyle broke loose on a 40-yard scoring run for its lone TD. Isaac Flores intercepted an errant Wylie pass to help hold off the Bulldogs.

In the Gold game, Snyder came up just short of the goal line on two different occasions in the final quarter.

The Tigers owned a first-and-goal situation at the Wylie 1-yard line before turning the ball over with about three minutes remaining in the contest.

Then, time expired in the contest with Snyder on the Wylie 5-yard line, after Josh Gutierrez hauled in a 40-yard pass from Logan Hill.

Mario Saenz rushed for 45 yards on the night, with Caleb Durham running for another 38.

Josh Green picked off two passes and Brady Reed snared another one. Josh Montoya recovered a fumble for the Tigers.

Snyder Gold will be in action again Thursday at 5:30 at Seminole, while Snyder Black travels to Sweetwater on Oct. 1.

Westerners ride well in season's first rodeo

PORTALES, N.M. — It's been five months since the Western Texas College rodeo squad has been in the arena as a team, but the Westerners show no signs of rust.

WTC has two competitors sitting atop the standings and two more in second place, following first-day action of the season's first rodeo in Portales, N.M.

Kyle Bowers rode his way to 73 in bareback riding to place him on top of the leaderboard, while Chad Williams and Cody Lawrence also held the lead in team roping after posting a time of 7.3 seconds.

Lawrence and Shelley York nabbed the third spot in team roping after one round, while Eric Greer and Quint Rasberry were fifth.

WTC newcomer Casey Baize of Wall, held on for a score of 79 in the bull riding event to give him second slot, heading into tonight's action.

Cal Lewis registered a 75 to grab the third spot in the event, with Layne McCasland sitting seventh.

Leland Wood held down third place in steer wrestling with a time of 7.0 seconds.

In calf roping, Ryon Swink's time of 12.7 was good enough for third early on, with teammate Dusty Arrott in fifth at 14.1 seconds.

For the Lady Westerners, freshman Jill Childers led the way after grabbing second place in the goat tying standings with a time of 8.9 Lauren Middleton was sitting fifth after the first round.

York lassoed seventh place in breakaway roping, after registering a time of 5.5 seconds.

Martin hopes to tee off on Gators

By RICHARD ROSENBLATT
AP Football Writer

It's just that in the heat of the pass rush, especially the one No. 2 Florida expects to generate, the Volunteers' quarterback won't hesitate to take off.

He did it against Syracuse two weeks ago, running nine times for 80 yards and a touchdown in the Vols' 34-33 win. On Saturday, he'll do just about anything to lead No. 6 Tennessee to its first win over the Gators after five straight losses.

"I'm not going to try to outrun them," Martin said, "I'm going to try to get rid of the ball before they get me."

Not even the beloved Peyton Manning was able to deliver a win over the Gators, who last year took a quick 14-point lead and coasted to a 33-20 win at Florida Field.

Slocum leery of Aggies' visit to Southern Miss

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — Taking his No. 17 Texas A&M squad to Southern Mississippi wasn't coach R.C. Slocum's decision. He knows the possible downfalls.

But the Aggies (1-1) play Saturday in Hattiesburg, where few Top 25 teams have ventured before, against a Southern Miss team that has anxiously waited two weeks for another chance.

The Golden Eagles (0-1), who have won two straight Conference USA titles, were a preseason Top 25 team for the first time in school history. But they lost their Sept. 5 opener 34-6 at No. 8 Penn State and dropped out of the poll from No. 21.

"You're really put yourself in a precarious situation to go over and play a game like this," said Slocum, the 10th-year Aggies coach. "It's a tough deal for us."

M.M. Roberts Stadium, which seats only 33,000 on the USM campus, will likely be sold out for only the fifth time since being renovated in 1976. It is the one of the most anticipated home openers ever for the Eagles.

Slocum said the game is part of a "3-for-1" contract agreed upon "some time ago" in which Southern Miss plays at College Station three times for the Aggies lone trip Saturday to Hattiesburg. USM lost 41-17 at A&M two years ago.

Texas A&M may be one of the nation's winningest teams in the 1990s (76 victories), but there have been some notable road losses to unheralded opponents. The Aggies lost at Tulsa in 1991 and two years ago at Southwestern Louisiana, which had never beaten a Top 25 beforehand.

Slocum has to convince his players that Southern Miss is better than its game at Penn State.

"The game on the field was a lot closer than that score," Slocum said. "Watching the tapes, their offense made some plays and their defense gave Penn State some problems."

Southern Miss has won 15 of 16 home games, and eight in a row, since a 24-14 loss to then-No. 21 Virginia Tech in 1994.

7th graders split games

Snyder's seventh grade football teams saw both end of the rainbow Thursday night.

Snyder Black posted its first victory of the season, a 7-0 decision over Abilene Wylie, while Snyder Gold was edged by the Bulldogs, 12-6.

Mario Rivera registered the game's only points for Snyder Black on a 10-yard scamper. Chad Thompson led the Tiger offensive effort with 115 yards on only six carries, while Victor Terrazas intercepted a Wylie pass to help preserve the victory.

In the Gold game, Snyder was knotted with the Bulldogs, 6-6, thanks to a Marcus Villarreal 50-yard scoring jaunt, before the Bulldogs struck with a halfback pass with three minutes remaining to decide the outcome.

Villarreal paced the Tiger ground game with 61 yards on eight carries, while Boicy Martinez toted the ball nine times for 56 yards.

Snyder Gold will be in action again Thursday at 7 p.m. at Seminole.

IRA — Eric Dickerhoff intercepted two passes, and Ira's defense held Paint Creek to only 53 yards of total offense as the Bulldogs slipped past the Pirates, 7-6, Thursday night in junior high grid action.

Locked in a defensive battle after a scoreless first half, Paint Creek posted the game's first touchdown with just under three minutes remaining in the third quarter. The conversion failed for a 6-0 tally.

Ira answered midway through the final period when Jeremy Brady broke loose on a 20-yard scoring run, then plunged across on the conversion for the 7-6 final score.

Dickerhoff's second interception of the night came on the game's final play to seal the victory.

Brady led the Bulldogs with 57 yards on nine carries, while Dickerhoff was two of six for 11 yards in the passing department.

Lady Tigers get fresh start with District 5-4A opener

With non-district action now finished, Snyder High School's volleyball squad can wipe the slate clean to begin 5-4A play.

After an up-and-down month in which Snyder led a majority of its matches only to post a 6-12 mark, the Lady Tigers host Andrews (12-8) at 2 p.m. Saturday in the district opener for both teams.

"Our girls are ready to start district," said Snyder coach Patty Grimmett. "It's easier to get up for district games and we finally get to play at home."

The Lady Tigers completed a 16-match road trip against stiff competition on Tuesday and return to the SHS gym on Saturday for the first time since. Aug. 22.

"I think playing at home will give us a boost," Grimmett said. "It's hard to get pumped up when you're always playing at your opponent's school. The girls said it would be nice for a change to have some people cheering for them instead of against them."

Despite the 6-12 mark, Snyder enters league play with the third best record among district teams. San Angelo Lake View at 13-3 on the season and 1-0 in 5-4A play sits atop the standings, followed by Andrews and Snyder.

Having won the first game of many of their matches before dropping the final two, the Lady Tigers' record could be much better and finishing off an opponent is an aspect Snyder has been focusing on.

"I was talking with the girls after our last match," Grimmett remarked, "and the girls all said that it felt like after we won the first game, the other team came out with more intensity in the next two games and we didn't.

"That's one of the things we've been talking about the most. We just want to stay focused on scoring when we have the serve and forcing sideouts when the opponent have it."

One area Grimmett doesn't want to change is her squad's defensive agressiveness.

"I think our defense has been fabulous," she stated. "The girls have done a tremendous job of keeping the ball in play."

Snyder's defense will be without the services of Ashley Delce. The sophomore middle blocker will miss Saturday's action and Tuesday's match against Sweetwater due to an injured elbow. Playing in Delce's place will be junior Courtney Rinehart.

The Lady Tigers' date with Sweetwater will also be at the SHS gym, as Snyder hosts its first four district matches before hitting the road for five in a row. Ft. Stockton visits Snyder to complete league play.

With the first four matches at home, getting off to a good start could be key for Snyder.

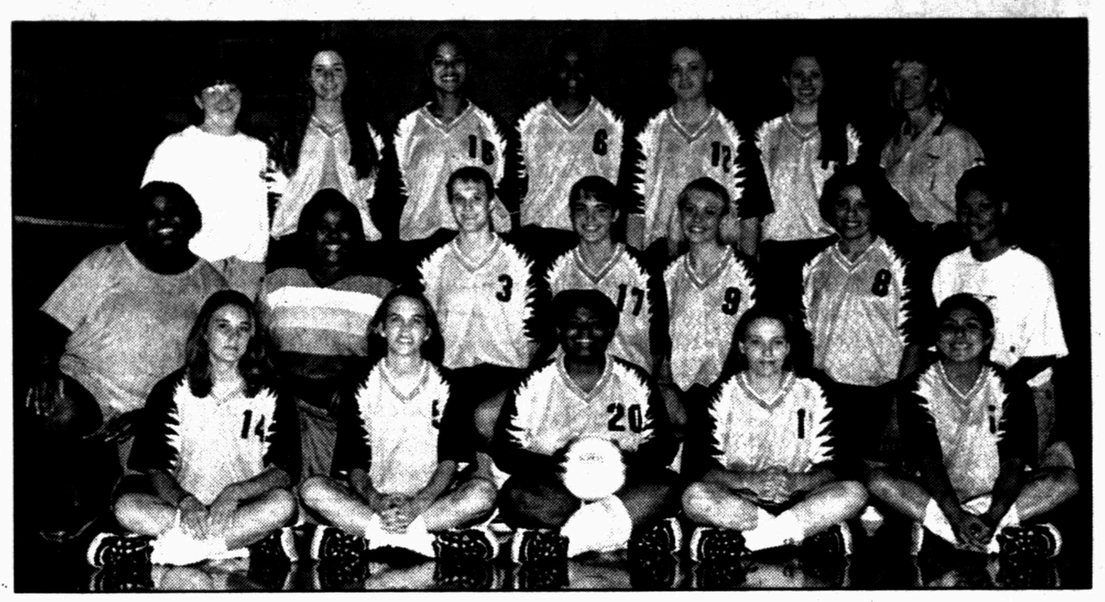

"I think it's important to get off to a good start, but also anything can happen in district play," Grimmett said. "Right now, all the pressure is on Lake View and Andrews. They're all everybody is talking about. We don't have anything to lose, but they have all the pressure on them."

Sosa gets home run ball returned safe and sound

SAN DIEGO (AP) — With four kisses, the man who caught Sammy Sosa's 63rd home run gave it to the Chicago star with heart-felt exuberance.

Fabian Perez Mercado of Tijuana, Mexico, held up the ball, kissed it and had his wife and two young children do the same. He gave the ball to his 2-year-old son, Carlos Fabian Perez, to hand to the Dominican hero.

"Viva Dominican Republic! Viva Mexico! Viva baseball!" Perez Mercado said Thursday.

Sosa had launched the ball into the second deck of Qualcomm Stadium on a dramatic tiebreaking grand slam with two outs in the eighth inning Wednesday night, pulling back into a tie with Mark McGwire.

"It's a real honor, especially to be here with all his family, and this is something that really, really breaks my heart," Sosa said. "I mean, I have to say that this man right here, it is amazing he comes to me with all his family and gives me the ball and also make everybody kiss the ball first. That's something unbelievable."

"Sincerely, we wish to give this ball to Mr. Sammy," Perez Mercado said. "Sammy Sosa is No. 1, Mark McGwire is No. 1 and baseball is the No. 1 American game."

Quinn takes over back-up role

IRVING (AP) — If you watched the Pittsburgh Steelers demolish the Baltimore Ravens 37-0 on Nov. 9, 1997, you might remember Mike Quinn.

And if you didn't blink during the two passes he threw, you'd have seen the entire breadth of his NFL experience.

One completion for 10 yards.

The Troy Aikman void — the heart of Dallas' offense will miss at least four games with a broken collarbone — has made the former Stephen F. Austin and Houston prep standout next in line behind Jason Garrett.

"I've been in this situation before, but the stakes are higher now," Quinn said Thursday.

Quinn has one advantage: the new Cowboys offense installed by coach Chan Gailey is old news for him. Quinn learned it in Pittsburgh while Gailey was the Steelers' offensive coordinator.

"It's very similar and I feel very confident," Quinn said. "I've been with the system for two years now."

And Gailey shows absolute confidence in Quinn's familiarity with the offensive scheme.

"Does he know the system? I know he does," Gailey said.

But Quinn hasn't had much practice with his new team. Consider that when Aikman was healthy, Garrett had taken only about 15 snaps in practice since training camp, Gailey said.

As for whether Quinn has improved his skills since last season, Gailey was noncommittal.

"I haven't seen enough of him to tell you fairly," he said.

Very few in the NFL outside of Pittsburgh have seen much of Quinn.

Quinn signed with Pittsburgh as a rookie free agent last year, playing in only the Baltimore game and sitting out the rest.

In the offseason, he started for the Rhein Fire of NFL Europe and finished the year as the league's best passer. His 133-of-264 passes for 1,997 yards earned him a spot on the All-League team.

But his NFL return wasn't so successful. Pittsburgh cut him at the end of training camp, and Quinn ended up in Indianapolis the following day as a waiver pickup.

Rangers stand alone atop AL West

ARLINGTON (AP) — The Texas Rangers are alone in first place in the AL West for the first time in more than a month.

Tom Goodwin doubled in pinch-runner Milt Cuyler in the eighth inning, completing a 7-6 comeback victory Thursday night that put the Rangers atop the AL West for the first time since Aug. 13.

The Angels, who had led the division since Aug. 14 and were up by four games on Aug. 26, finished their road trip 1-6. They have lost seven of their last nine, reviving memories of their 1995 collapse when they led Seattle by 13 games on Aug. 9 only to see the Mariners win the division in a one-game playoff.

Both teams have 10 games remaining. The Angels will be home for six, including three against the Rangers from Monday through Wednesday. Texas' final three home games are this weekend against Oakland.

Anaheim led 4-0 after a half inning, let Texas tie it, then went up 6-4 in the second only to have the Rangers get solo homers from Todd Zeile in the third and Juan Gonzalez in the fourth to tie it again.

The Rangers loaded the bases later in the inning, but Rusty Greer grounded into a double play to end the threat.

Rehnquist wrote book on impeachment

By RICHARD CARELLI
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only one president, Andrew Johnson; was impeached and forced to stand trial in the Senate. One American who knows much about that 1868 proceeding is Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist, who would preside over a Senate trial for President Clinton.

In his 1992 book "Grand Inquests," Rehnquist detailed the House impeachment and Senate trial of Johnson and those conducted in 1804 for Supreme Court Justice Samuel Chase.

"He probably knows more about impeachment than anyone else," Washington lawyer John Roberts says.

The House Judiciary Committee must decide whether Independent Counsel Kenneth Starr's report suggesting impeachable conduct by Clinton requires impeachment hearings. If such a full inquiry led to articles of impeachment, the full House would have to vote whether to impeach — the political equivalent of an indictment.

Selected House members then would serve as prosecutors, and the 100 senators as a jury.

The book tracks two historic Senate trials that ended in acquittals, not ouster from office. Rehnquist suggests that in each the Senate put aside partisan politics to reach results that best aided the nation and the integrity of the process.

"There were undoubtedly political partisans on both sides of the aisle in each case, but each time enough members of the majority party balked at the demands for party unity to acquit both Chase and Johnson," he wrote.

A two-thirds vote of those senators participating is needed for conviction and ouster by the Senate.

Noting that the Supreme Court's 1998-99 term beginning Oct. 5 could yield the fewest decisions of any term in decades, Roberts says, "If the chief justice finds he has additional obligations this year, he should be able to attend to them."

At the nation's highest court, Rehnquist has the well-earned reputation of running a tight ship. He zealously keeps oral argument proceedings on schedule, sometimes cutting off attorneys in mid-sentence. His eight colleagues suggest in private that he runs the court's closed-door deliberations in much the same manner.

Such instincts might have to be suppressed in a Senate trial, however. In Johnson's trial last century, most of the procedural disputes were resolved by the Senate itself and not presiding Chief Justice Salmon Chase.

The Johnson trial took nearly two months, but those who know Rehnquist well say it might have been much shorter had the current chief justice been on the scene.

A lifelong Republican, Rehnquist was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1972 by President Richard Nixon, and was elevated to the chief justice's job in 1986 by President Ronald Reagan.

In the early 1980s, Rehnquist often told acquaintances he could not picture himself still working at age 70. But his promotion and his wife's death in 1991 changed his retirement time-schedule.

He will be 74 in two weeks, but no one expects Rehnquist to retire before the presidential election in 2000.

Unruly rock fan prompts unscheduled jet landing

DENVER (AP) — A passenger jet en route from New York to Los Angeles made an unscheduled stop to ditch an apparently drunk fan seeking autographs and advice from the band Hootie and the Blowfish.

The pilot of American Airlines Flight 133 decided to land in Denver about 6 p.m. Thursday to get rid of Amit Singh, 39. Band members say he showed up in first-class with a book of poetry, sat on the floor and then asked for autographs and how he could cut a record deal.

He allegedly attacked the band's bodyguard and several flight attendants before he was restrained with seat belts, police said. No one was hurt.

"Just kind of being a pest," Detective David Metzler said. "Because he was intoxicated they might have felt pretty uncomfortable, not knowing who he was or what he was going to do."

The plane with about 100 passengers was delayed about an hour. When it landed in Los Angeles, band members recounted the experience.

"He got pretty unruly and then he went out of control," said drummer Jim Sonefeld. Lead singer Darius Rucker said he slept through the events.

"They were taking somebody out. I went back to sleep. I just really wasn't worried about it," Rucker told television reporters.

Police, who found Singh crying in his seat at the rear of the Boeing 767, said he appeared to be "extremely intoxicated."

He was taken to Denver Health Medical Center, where he underwent an evaluation, hospital spokeswoman Stephanie Denning said. He was to be released today.

Toddler trapped

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — A toddler's leg was amputated after her mother apparently collapsed on her and died, trapping the girl in a bathtub for at least a day.

The child, 3-year-old Leslie Laureano, was in stable condition Thursday at Cooper Hospital-University Medical Center. One day earlier, she underwent surgery to remove her leg just below the right knee.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

Man's Territorial Imperative Takes Place in His Front Yard

DEAR ABBY: My husband of many years urinates in the front yard of our home. He usually does this after dark, but has on occasion moved to the side yard to urinate during daylight hours. When we were first married I thought it was because he was drunk — but he's been sober for more than 10 years.

I've told him I believe his behavior to be a form of perversion, illegal and disgusting. Years ago, he promised to stop since it upsets me so much, but when I interrupted his front-yard ritual a few moments ago he said he "forgot" how strongly I felt about it. He promised not to do it anymore and reassured me that all men do it. He doesn't think it is wrong at all.

Abby, we live in a nice neighborhood, my husband has a college degree, is a successful businessman and is over 50. I am so afraid my neighbors have seen him I can't even think about it. I've seen him do it even when the toilet would be closer. Is this a normal male ritual?

THE "WHIZ-ZARD'S" WIFE

DEAR WIFE: This is not a subject that's often discussed, but I suspect the practice is not unusual. Dogs and cats urinate to mark their territory. Your husband may be doing it for the same reason. For pets, the problem can be resolved by neutering; however, I wouldn't recommend that for your husband. The Los Angeles Police Department informs me that it's "not illegal as long as it is not in public view." Check with the police in your city to be sure there are no ordinances against it.

DEAR ABBY: Why do so many mothers dress their little girls like adults? When my granddaughter, age 7, showed me her new bathing suit, I was appalled. It was a two-piece bikini that barely covered her bottom, and the top was no better. I didn't say anything other than to ask her who had chosen it. My granddaughter told me her mother did.

I don't know if I should say anything about this to my daughter-in-law. I don't want to lose her friendship, but the world doesn't need 7-year-old sexpots, and I believe that, aware of it or not, my daughter-in-law is encouraging this attitude in her child.

I have noticed that in her family all the women tend to dress provocatively. I want my grandchildren to learn better values than this. However, since they don't live nearby, I don't have much opportunity to influence them.

I don't want to run their lives or make enemies, but if the elders of our generation do not teach their young people about life and values, who will? I'm not afraid to be unpopular by standing up for what I believe; neither do I want to cause trouble. I'm not saying I'm better than my daughter-in-law, but I think my values are. What should I do?

TROUBLED GRANDMA

DEAR TROUBLED GRANDMA: Any attempt on your part to "correct" your daughter-in-law's child-rearing methods could cause more harm than good. Because you are deeply troubled, approach your son privately with your opinion of the swimsuit and your values.

Keep in mind that although you do not live nearby, as your grandchildren mature, you will have many opportunities to share your values when they visit you or you visit them.

UNITED GROUNDBREAKING — Snyder chamber officials and gold coaters joined United Supermarket officials for a groundbreaking ceremony this morning. Committee OKs releasing videotape of Clinton's grand jury testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee today decided to release the videotape of President Clinton's grand jury testimony and an additional 2,800 pages of Independent Counsel Kenneth Starr's evidence, a Republican member of the panel said.

The timing of the release was left unclear but Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Fla., said that all the material would be released at one time.

Judiciary Committee Chairman Henry Hyde, R-Ill., said the sessions were civil and said that bipartisanship "doesn't include surrender to everything the Democrats want." He said the committee agreed to 120 redactions, which would delete material deemed sensitive or offensive.

Rep. Barney Frank, D-Mass., immediately denounced the committee's action as "an effort to discredit the president." He said, "Virtually every vote was a party line vote."

"This phase of our complicated and burdensome hearings is over," Hyde added.

Other officials said it was unlikely that any material would be released before Monday.

Obituaries

Barbara Johnson

1932-1998

DALLAS — Barbara Anne Johnson, the mother of former Snyder resident John Johnson, died Wednesday, Sept. 16, in a Dallas hospital.

Graveside service for Mrs. Johnson, 65, was set for 3 p.m. today at Post Cemetery in Ft. Sill, Okla.

Born Sept. 29, 1932 in Tucson, she married Jerry Johnson on March 23, 1950 in California. He died in 1995.

Survivors include three sons and two daughters-in-law, John and Julie Johnson of Lubbock, Peter and Mary Johnson of Shawnee, Okla., and Tim Johnson of Dallas; and five grandchildren.

Frances Fagin

1908-1998

DALLAS — Frances Margaret Fagin, the cousin of John Fagin of Snyder, died Wednesday, Sept. 16.

Funeral service for Mrs. Fagin, 89, is set for 10 a.m. Saturday in the White Rock United Methodist Church with the Revs. Michael Jackson and Jim Palmer officiating. Burial will follow in the Sparkman Hillcrest Cemetery.

Born Nov. 7, 1908 in Chicago, she was married to Kyle Marshall Fagin, a petroleum engineer. Residents of Dallas since 1935, she and her husband founded White Rock United Methodist Church in 1938. She was active in numerous civic affairs.

ties, said the store is scheduled for a June or July opening.

District Manager Tony Crumpton of Lubbock introduced he designated store manager. Carter is a native of Wolfforth and a graduate of Frenship High School.

Carter, currently store manager in Childress, said he expects to move to Snyder about three months prior to the store's opening. He said that his family, however, may move sooner to get settled in.

Carter's wife, Darla, is a registered nurse. They have a seven-year-old daughter, Shelby, and a son, Colin, 3.

Carter is a 15-year veteran with United and has also worked in Lubbock, Quanah and Wichita Falls.

The property for the Snyder store was purchased from the Ohio Teachers Retirement System in 1995 after Kmart closed its store in Snyder.

Snell said Friday that the construction delay will actually result in a much better store for Snyder residents. "We've learned a lot about what customers want to be included in a new store."

Snyder's store will be the Lubbock-based grocery chain's 39th store and Snyder will become the 21st Texas city in which a United will be located. The Snyder store is expected to create approximately 100 new jobs.

Preventing pressure sores

DEAR DR. GOTT: My wife is a semi-invalid with multiple sclerosis. Her biggest problem is a burning sensation over her buttocks. There is constant friction sliding from bed to wheelchair or commode.

DEAR READER: Multiple sclerosis is a nerve disease of unknown cause that produces numbness in certain parts of the body, visual difficulties, loss of muscle control, and weakness. As the disease progresses, increasing disabilities result.

In your wife's case, the burning of the skin over her buttocks may be due to friction and the constant pressure of lying and sitting on that area. She needs scrupulous attention to her skin.

Frequent turning, application of creams and lotions to reduce irritation and the use of a fluffy sheepskin pad (or an oscillating air mattress) on which to sit or lie are useful to prevent burning, breakdown of skin and eventual pressure sores. Her doctor or visiting nurse can advise you.

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Multiple Sclerosis." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I want to share my experience with breast reduction surgery.

At 59, after 40 years of carrying pendulous breasts (and at least 15 years of resulting back trouble, neck pain, frozen shoulders, and fungus infections under the breasts), I sought out a plastic surgeon. This decision was a last resort. The operation was difficult, but I was thrilled to go from a 36EE to a 36B, and all my symptoms disappeared. Despite the pain, inconvenience and cost, I now wish I'd had the operation years ago.

DEAR READER: Plastic surgery can be of enormous benefit to women whose breasts are too large and who experience physical discomfort from the condition. Thank you for sharing your story.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 10-year-old son helps my husband and me feed 400 calves. Pitching hay isn't so hard, but he also fills 5-gallon buckets of corn from the back of the pickup and lifts them out of the truck bed. Will this hurt his back? He loves to help and is as cheerful as can be.

DEAR READER: I do not believe that the amount of hard farm work and lifting that your son performs is dangerous or unhealthy. If he is accustomed to his chores, willingly pitches in and doesn't complain of back pain, he is not harming himself; in fact, he is probably improving his level of physical fitness, while contributing valuable service to the family. You must be proud of him.

First, to the barber

By Phillip Alder

To end the week, two coups. To give you a hint toward the first, P.G. Wodehouse pointed out that there is only one cure for gray hair — which is what?

After a competitive auction, you have been pushed into five spades. West leads the heart five, which is surely a singleton. Where would you go from there?

West's two-no-trump overcall — the Unusual No-trump — showed at least 5-5 in the minors. As regular readers know, I don't like the bid because far more often than not, the opponents, who usually hold the majors, win the auction. Then, the overcall helps the declarer to place all the cards — as it did here. Still, if only East, with a big fit in both minors, had had the courage — despite the prevailing vulnerability — to sacrifice in six diamonds, West's bid would have worked well. Six diamonds doubled costs only 200 (unless South finds a low heart lead and North returns a club).

If South had won the first trick and led a trump, West would have grabbed the trick with his ace and switched to the diamond jack. East would have overtaken with the ace and, if in mid-season form, returned a heart for West to ruff: one down.

Foreseeing this, South won the first trick in the dummy and asked for the club king. When East played low, South discarded his singleton diamond. Now the contract was safe.

This play, discarding a loser on a loser to keep a specific opponent off the lead, is called the Scissors Coup.

P.G. Wodehouse wrote, "There is only one cure for gray hair. It was invented by a Frenchman. It is called the guillotine."
