Pirates Defeat Aransas Pass

By Dan T. Oliver

The Rockport-Fulton High School Fighting Pirates hosted the Aransas Pass Panthers last Friday night, here at Pigate Stadium, to officially open the 1968 season.

The game opened with the Panthers kicking off to the Pirates. The Pirates started the first quarter with good running drives, but was later forced to punt. The Pirates' defense held the Panthers quite well from moving down the field, to end the first quarter.

A few minutes within the second quarter the Pirates intercepted a Panther Pass to give them good scoring position. A pass was attempted for the Pirates but was incomplete. A few plays later, Junior halfback Ruford Huff ran 18 yards up the middle of a slick, muddy field to light up the score board for the Rockport-Fulton Pirates. The attempted conversion failed.

The Pirate defense held the Panther offense to end the half with the score, Panthers 0, Pirates 6.

In the third quarter the Pirates kicked to the Panthers. This quarter saw much exchanging of the ball, but ended scoreless.

The fourth quarter, considered as the highlight portion of the game, forced the Panthers to punt with the ball dropping deep in the Pirates' own territory. The Pirates' determining to move down the field, fumbled the ball on their own 30 yard line. It was recovered by the Panthers with 64 seconds on the clock.

HIGHWAYS ARE FOR PEOPLE

Nationally Highway Week, the last full week in September, is the one time each year when attention in Texas focuses on highways and the men who build them.

These men are busy building and maintaining our highways every week of the year. Highway Week is an appropriate time to check back over the last year and see what's been happening along what many say is the best highway system in the world.

First of all, that system grew by almost one thousand miles of designated highways from 68,057 miles to 68,985 miles. The lion's share, 545 miles, was added when the Texas Highway Commission approved the 1968 Farm to Market Road Program bringing that system to a total of 39,405 miles. A year ago, the system had 38,662 designated miles. More than 37 thousand of those miles are open to traffic and another 630 are under construction.

Two-thirds of the Texas portion of the Interstate Highway system are now open to traffic. According to the June, 1968, quarterly report, 2005 miles are "under rubber" and another 462 miles are under construction on the State's designated 3027-mile Interstate system.

Construction under contracts totaling $685 million is in progress on Texas highways at the present time. During the past year, ending August 31, almost $396 million worth of work was completed.

Maintenance costs during the past fiscal year totaled $101.5 million, protecting the $5.5 billion investment of the people of Texas in their highway system.

Texans drove more miles during the past year—58 billion—in more vehicles—6.7 million—than ever before. Yet the fatality rate dropped from 6.2 deaths per hundred million vehicle miles driven in 1966 to 5.8 in 1967.

Yet even one fatality is a tragedy, and the Texas Highway Department continues to spend more than $1 million every year on research to make highways safer. The Highway Commission also has approved a $60.6 million program for highway betterment and farm to market road improvements during the coming year. This accelerated program to increase highway safety involves 1,177 projects in 224 counties.

Safety devices developed through Highway Department-sponsored research are being incorporated into the highway systems. The breakaway sign support, which yield when struck by a vehicle, is being installed on Texas highways as well as on others throughout the nation. Developed by Texas Highway Department researchers in cooperation with those at Texas Transportation Institute at Texas A&M, the breakaway support received national recognition in December, 1967. The Federal Highway Administrator then directed the installation of the breakaway support for signs and light standards on all federal aid highway projects.

Future Teachers Work on Head Start

Three members of the Future Teachers of America gave up part of their summer vacation to work as volunteers at the Head Start Program. Susan Ballard, senior, and Melinda Mills and Ellen McEIL-veen, both sophomores, agreed that just being able to help underprivileged children in the slightest way, gave them a feeling of great success. They also gained experience which will be valuable in their future careers.

As the Dee Mitchell Chapter of the Future Teachers of America continues to grow, we hope that more of its members will be as enthusiastic as these three girls and take advantage of this opportunity to gain experience in the teaching profession.

New Voters Must Apply for Ballots

County Clerk W. E. Beasley has issued a reminder that new residents of Texas who wish to vote in the presidential election this year must apply for a ballot at the county clerk's office by 5 o'clock next Friday, Sept. 20.

The reminder is for voters who will have lived in Texas more than 60 days but less than a year on next Nov. 5, general election day. This is the first time that residents of less than a year will be able to vote in a Texas presidential election. A law passed in 1967 allows a new resident to vote if he will have lived in Texas for at least 60 days on election day, possesses all qualifications required for voting in Texas election except the normal residence requirements, and was either a qualified voter in another state immediately prior to his removal to Texas or would have been eligible to vote in the presidential election if he had remained there and complied with the state's legal requirements for voting.

Beasley said that if the voter was registered in the state of his former residence and has a voter registration certificate or other document to prove his registration, he should have the document with him when he applies at the clerk's office. Otherwise, it will be necessary for the clerk to contact the appropriate election official in the state of the voter's former residence to verify whether he would have been eligible to vote in that state if he had not changed his residence.

New residents whose applications are accepted will be notified of that fact and will return to the clerk's office between Oct. 21 and Nov. 1 to cast their ballots. They will not be permitted to vote on anything except President and Vice President. Persons voting under this law are not required to register with the county tax assessor-collector.

Voters who will have lived in Texas more than a year on election day must be registered with the tax assessor-collector in order to vote, Beasley said. Persons who became residents of Texas on or before Oct. 1, 1967, had to register by last Jan. 31, the regular registration deadline, but those who became residents after Oct. 1, 1967, may register at any time up to 31 days before the election. The deadline to register for the general election will be next Oct. 5.

If a registered voter will have lived in the state more than a year and in the county more than six months on election day, he will vote a full ballot in the ordinary manner on election day at the polling place for the voting precinct in which he lives. If he will have lived in the county less than six months, he will be able to vote on statewide offices and issues, including President and Vice President, but not local offices and issues, by applying to the county clerk for a ballot during the period from Oct. 16 through Nov. 1.

Beneficiaries Send Notices To Social Security

Social security beneficiaries who need to report changes of address or other events that affect the payment of their monthly benefits may now do so through the social security office at 1802 South Staples Street in Corpus Christi, H. M. Cleveland, district manager says. Reports may be made by mail, telephone, or personal visit.

Until now, beneficiaries were encouraged to notify the Social Security Administration about the occurrence of these events on postcard forms preaddressed to one of six social security record centers throughout the country. Beneficiaries received the postcard forms when they initially applied for monthly benefits.

The change in reporting methods is designed to reduce the time needed to change addresses and process other information having an effect on payment of monthly benefit, Cleveland explained. The change is prompted by the increased capacity of social security district offices to transmit the information over high speed communications circuits to record offices.

In addition to address changes, other events that affect receipt of monthly social security checks include employment, marriage or remarriage in some instances, divorce and death.

Pirates Travel To Tulo-Midway

By Dan T. Oliver

The Rockport-Fulton Fighting Pirates will travel to Tulo-Midway Friday night, Sept. 20 to meet the Warriors.

The Warriors will be tough to play, as they have more weight, drive and speed than the Aransas Pass Panthers.

The Pirates did well last week considering the wet field. The coaches are hoping the weather will be good, because it could affect the team this Friday night.

The Pirates, coaches and all at Rockport-Fulton High High would like to thank all the fans for their strong support last week, in spite of the rain. We are looking forward to this support, this week in Tulo-Midway game.

CITY COUNCIL BUDGET

The City Council will hold a special meeting Thursday night to set the budget for the year 1948-49.

The assessed property valuation for taxation was raised by the Equalization Board from $1,117,000 to $1,257,000, a $140,000 increase over the 1947 valuation.

The tax rate, set at $1.50 per $100 valuation, would bring the city $18,850 collectible in current taxes. Since the city can only figure on an 85 per cent collection, the figure is reduced to $16,000 for budgeting purposes. An estimated $1,800 should be collected for delinquent taxes which gives the city approximately $17,800 on which to base the budget.

M/Sgt. Walter Bell arrived from Harmon Field, Newfoundland, to be with his mother, Mrs. Annie Bell, and his sisters. He was unable to arrive in time to attend funeral services for his father.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

SUNDAY STROLLING

On a sunny, pleasant Sunday afternoon in Greece it is a common sight to see boys and girls out for a stroll. The boys are bunched together and the girls are in a group by themselves for this is the custom. Sunday strolling is a favorite pastime and a pleasant one, too.

A fellow remarked the other day that he believes strolling on a Sunday afternoon is increasing in popularity in this country. He said he had seen, from Sunday to Sunday, small groups of boys and girls, and grown-ups too, strolling along leisurely.

Time was when strolling on Sunday was a regular event in most families and especially among the young folks. After the big Sunday dinner, the folks just had to get out and walk off the food, and to get away from home for a while. They just got out and walked around, maybe stopping for a few minutes to see folks and visit with them on the front porches.

On the farm, it was especially common. Dad liked to walk around the farm to see his crops and the children tagged along for Sunday was a day when he had time to talk to them and maybe a few minutes to pause in the plum thicket down the way to gather some plums and maybe throw some rocks and kick up some dust.

Then along came the automobile and the Sunday stroll lost some of its popularity. Everyone went for a Sunday ride. Today, though, the highways are so crowded that driving it is a chore and so the fellow may be right; Sunday strolling could be coming back.

Another thing that's been noticed. The parks are once more crowded with Sunday visitors. People sit around on the benches, carrying on small conversations with one another. The swings have children in them, and the flowers in the beds attract the women folks. The automobile took its toll of the park visitors on Sunday, too, and for a while it looked as if city parks were just an expense to the taxpayers.

A walk in the park, a stroll in the park, isn't too bad a way to spend a lazy Sunday afternoon and for a family it's a humdrum of a way, especially if a picnic basket is brought along for dinner on the ground.

RECREATION IN OUR LIVES

Never before have so many people had so much free time as in America today. This is a dream of leisure come true—but for many Americans it is a nightmare.

The man who is forced to retire may bitterly resent the free time that now is his. The worker who now enjoys a five-day week and an annual vacation may face frustration and boredom when his work grows shorter and his annual vacation grows longer. The teenager with nothing to do may do harm to himself and others in pursuit of thrills. The child with no place may turn to destruction because he has no other outlet for his energy. The ill and the handicapped, kept alive by modern medicine, may be condemned to free time that signifies only stagnation.

Yet free time can provide for every one of these human beings opportunities for recreation that truly recreates—that makes for satisfying, invigorating, useful living.

The challenge is to each one of us—to work together to help the nation mobilize its resources effectively so that we may make the most, rather than the worst, of the free time, one of the greatest potential human resources.—Summerville (Ga.) News.

INTERNATIONAL KIDNAPING

A year or so ago, Cambodia captured several Americans and held them for quite a few days. Then an offer was made to free them, with some strings attached. The U. S. would have to send them a bulldozer.

This was done.

The story doesn't end there, just as the tale doesn't end with the first payment of blackmail money to blackmailers; they always come back for more and more.

Just recently Prince Uorodom Sihanouk said Cambodia had captured 12 more Americans on a U. S. river barge that strayed into Cambodian waters.

He asked not for one American bulldozer, but 12 of them, one for each American, and he said if the U. S. didn't pay off, the 12 men would be sent to jail for six months.

Besides being an example of how blackmailers work it is a good example of the way the little countries of the world are talking back to big, powerful Uncle Sam.

Next time they may go out after 25 Americans and demand 25 bulldozers.

For them it is nice work if they can get it, and don't bet they don't.

FARM ALARM

The farmers of Castroville, Calif., have tried flooding their artichoke fields in a vain effort to destroy a horde of field mice which is threatening a $6 million crop.

Now the farmers plan a "kill-a-mouse" day during which they will set out poison oats to tempt the hungry rodents. If that doesn't work, officials will have to try an old remedy: Send for the Pied Piper.—Dallas Times Herald.

ACTION ON PUEBLO

Who says we aren't doing anything for the members of the U. S. spy ship, Pueblo, seized by North Korea way back on Jan. 23?

We certainly are.

The House armed services subcommittee has just approved a bill to pay each member of the crew an extra $65 a month in hostile fire pay.

Big deal.

P-TA Meets

The Rockport-Fulton PTA met Sept. 16 in the Junior High cafeteria for its first meeting of the new school year.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Melvin Moore, president, who led the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. Rev. Cecil Lang of the First Presbyterian Church gave the invocation.

The executive board met and approved the appointment of Mrs. Jean Hutchins for third vice president.

It was reported that a district workshop would be held Oct. 15 in Tuloso-Midway.

J. D. Gray, superintendent of schools, gave a report on the legislation and the teachers. He then introduced E. J. Randow, director of Instructions, and the principals, Pat Smith of the Junior High, and Chester Barre of the High School. Each principal introduced the teachers in his school.

Mrs. Moore introduced the District president, Mrs. W. F. Abney, who gave a most interesting talk on the importance of the PTA.

Rev. Lang introduced County Judge John D. Wendell who spoke on Juvenile Delinquency in Aransas County, after which he answered questions from the audience. Following the program, refreshments were served from a table decorated with a beautiful centerpiece from Flowers by Gayna.

The "horned toad" of the Southwest is not a toad. It is a lizard.

With the coming of the football season there is another season that you are beginning to hear about around the bait and tackle shops and along the piers. The magic word is redfish. This fish creates more controversy than any other fish that I can think of this time of year.

The redfish is the most highly sought after fish in the bays during the fall and winter months. Fishermen will go to no ends to lure this fish onto a hook. There is almost as many ways to fish for redfish as there are fishermen. The anglers use live shrimp, dead shrimp, mullet, spoons, plugs, jigs, and even plastic strips on trotlines. You name it, its probably been tried, and more than likely successful. Redfish are the most elusive fish in these parts, yet they are (or at least seem to be) rather stupid in certain cases, for instance, red and yellow plastic strips on a trotline. These are deadly baits for reds. But even though they will hit plastic, try wade fishing for them and make a little noise and see how fast they will take off.

The most popular method of fishing for redfish is slough-fishing. This is done by using dead shrimp with a popping cork. Cast the bait close to the reeds along the edge of the slough and let the current carry your bait down the shore. The redfish being a slow feeder, will pick up the shrimp and mouth it. This will stop your cork from drifting downstream. Let the fish hold the shrimp for approximately 10 to 15 seconds and then set the hook very hard, and hold on! There are many nice flounder caught by using this same method.

Fishing this week was extremely fine. A few of the many fine catches off the Capano Causeway this week were: Dan Burow of Nordheim, landed 33 specks. Dick Harris of Whitney and Robert Janak of Yoakum duplicated their catches of 35 trout each.

A fine welcome to a fine new family that recently moved to Rockport, congratulations to Tommy DeSha, son of Highway Patrolman Eddie DeSha, who landed 12 nice specks. Another proud Rockport youngster, Clyde Forshee, five years old, caught 15 nice golden croakers.

SAVE ON YOUR INCOME TAX. THIS FAMILY SAVED 24%

The interest on your home loan and property taxes are deductible from federal income tax. This reduces income taxes when you make payments on your own home. Here's an example of a 24% tax saving: A typical family of four with annual income of $7,500, having other deductions (medical expenses, donations, other interest and taxes) of 10% saved $216 the first year by deducting interest and average property taxes on loan of $14,000. If they had been renting, their income tax would have been $902. After getting tax deductions for interest and property taxes paid on their home, their tax was $686. You can save more or less depending on income, amount of loan, and other factors.

Advertising Seeks 1,436 Workers

Texas' burgeoning advertising industry has 1,436 jobs going begging today and expects to have 4,696 job openings available five years from now. Based on information developed by advertising students in Texas Tech's School of Business Administration, 18,876 people now are employed in advertising in Texas, compared with 13,974 five years ago and with a promised 24.88 per cent increase by 1973. The largest number of unfilled jobs is in sales, the research report stated. There are 436 unfilled jobs in this field, followed by 225 vacancies in production-service jobs. Newspapers and periodicals hire the greatest number of personnel in advertising, the students said, and currently have 463 openings. Radio, the second largest employer, has 343 openings, and advertising agencies are third with 228 openings. The report, "The Texas Advertising Job Market," was prepared under the direction of Advertising Prof. Billy I. Ross. Working on the study were Ronnie B. Hanby, Kelly Parker and Steven R. Voelzke. Although most of those responding to the researchers' inquiries stated that they previously sought personnel from "other companies or media within the industry," colleges and universities are fast gaining on this employee source. Seven groups of advertising employers were studied. These included newspapers and periodicals, radio, retail stores, companies and industries, television, outdoor and advertising agencies. "With the exception of the classification of companies and industries," the report said, "all of the other groups found 'other companies or media within the industry' to be the main source for new advertising employees five years ago and currently. "The groups foresee an increased emphasis to 'college and university' sources five years from now. Four of the seven groups definitely show the 'college and university' as the main source at that time (1973), while in each of the other three the collegiate source is increasing in importance." Job opportunities were indicated by these figures from the report: In newspapers and periodicals, sales with 203 vacancies; in radio, sales, 153 vacancies; retail stores, copy and copy-art, 31 vacancies each; companies and industry, production-service, 20 vacancies; television, production-service, 28 vacancies, and sales, 22 vacancies; outdoor, 13 vacancies in "miscellaneous work" and 11 in sales; and agencies, sales, research and copy with 59 vacancies listed for copy alone. Exempt License Not a Bargain

Austin—The exempt hunting license for residents who want to hunt on their own land is not necessarily a bargain, says J. B. Phillips, law enforcement coordinator for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. This exempt license may be obtained from a license deputy for 25 cents. Phillips says problems usually occur when a landowner with an exempt license gets an invitation to hunt on someone else's land. The exempt license is good only on the land for which it was bought. Since it would be unlawful to buy another license, the landowner must wait until his exempt license expires before he can buy another one and legally hunt on someone else's land. Phillips says the exempt license is good only if the person resides on the property. He may not live off the property and legally hunt with an exempt license.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th St., Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your question. Q—I have a physical defect which I think will disqualify me for service. Can I find out without having to take a pre-induction examination? A—Possibly. When you complete your draft questionnaire, or at any other time, you may furnish a medical statement from a physician which substantiates your claim. Your local board could classify you in either I-Y or IV-F on the basis of this statement. It might want to send you its own local medical advisor. If the board could not concur in the diagnosis of either of these physicians, it would send you for the pre-induction examination. Q—My cousin speaks and understands very little English. He is to register with the draft board soon. Will someone be able to help him? A—Yes. When it is necessary, the board chairman may appoint an interpreter. The board probably already has one. Q—I'm registered in Texas and work in England. Yesterday I got a new classification and want to appeal. How much time do I have? A—Sixty days. Look on the reverse side of the Notice of Classification (SSS Form 110) you got. It tells you that you have 60 days instead of 30 if you're located in a foreign country other than Canada, Cuba, or Mexico. Your appeal from classification from your board may be taken by filing written notice within the 60-day period after the date of mailing of your notice. This date is stamped on the notice. ## Deer Important In Medina County

By W. Jay Williams, Wildlife Biologist
Texas Parks and Wildlife Department

San Antonio—Deer hunting is an important activity in Medina County. Hunters have achieved an annual harvest of more than 7,000 deer since 1958.

Since 1955, when the county was placed under regulatory responsibility of the Parks and Wildlife Department by the State Legislature, annual deer surveys have been made.

Recommendations for harvest of antlerless deer where deer were over populated in relation to their food supply have resulted in the harvest of an average of more than 2,700 antlerless deer each season since 1958.

The harvest of both sexes of deer is necessary to help hold deer within their available food supply. Large die-offs can occur where deer and domestic livestock exceed the carrying capacity of their range.

The buck-doe ratio of a herd is an important management indicator and is always of much concern to the landowner and hunter. According to wildlife managers, the ideal buck-doe ratio is around 2.5 does per buck. This ratio allows for herd increases while permitting good buck kills and an increased hunting opportunity for both sexes.

In Medina County, by allowing the harvesting of both sexes, the buck-doe ratio was raised from one buck to 9.17 does in 1955 to one buck to 2.84 does in 1967.

The harvest of spike bucks is also important in deer management. Research has shown that by the time he reaches maturity at about 18 months of age, the white-tailed buck on good range will normally develop medium sized antlers with four to eight points.

The genetic or hereditary factor probably has some effect on antler size, but to what degree is not known. To put it simply, when feed is lacking in quality and quantity, body size, weight and antler development are restricted. Since antler growth is influenced by nutrition it may be assumed that a deer with spikes is in poorer than average condition. His body growth may have been stunted to the point where he will never be a quality deer. To help maintain the quality of the deer herd it is desirable to remove these deer from the herd.

Shooting preserve records show that the acreage leased to hunters has increased from 164,322 acres in 1958 to 453,378 acres in 1967. A heavy deer population and the use of antlerless deer permits have given landowners additional income from hunting leases. Additional income has also been realized by the merchants in the cities and towns of Medina County through the sale of sporting goods, food, gasoline, ammunition and countless other items purchased by deer hunters.

Deer census figures show that the deer in Medina County are doing well. They have had an exceptionally good spring and summer with an abundance of quality food being available. Hunters and landowners can surely expect another good deer season in Medina County this fall.

Miss Casterline, Jay Doegey Wed

Miss Florence Casterline and Jay Brooke Doegey were married Sept. 5 in the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Cecil Lang performed the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli and asters. The family pews were marked with white satin streamers.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. R. T. Beason of Fulton and the late Cecil Casterline. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Doegey of Rockport.

Given in marriage by her step father, R. T. Beason, the bride chose a street-length dress of white lace with long sleeves and a portrait collar of white lace with long sleeves of white linen. Her shoulder-length illusion veil was attached to a rosette, and she carried a white Bible, topped with an orchid and yellow pom pom mums.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Phil Howard of Belton, was matron of honor, and Miss Connie Rinche of Rockport was bridesmaid. They wore moss green satin dresses with elbow-length bell sleeves of lace. Their headpieces were illusion circles attached to matching rosettes. They each carried a long stemmed yellow rose with yellow satin streamers.

Attending the groom as best man was Phil Howard. Bill Kelsay, cousin of the bride was groomsman. Ushers were Larry Iles and Mike Jeffers. Organist was Eldon Mackey.

Internal Revenue Service News

Austin—Director of Internal Revenue R. L. Phinney said today that household employers in the Austin District will receive through the mail on or about Oct. 1, pre-addressed Forms 942, "Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return for Household Employees, for use in reporting Social Security taxes for the calendar quarter ending Sept. 30, 1968.

Phinney pointed out that the use of these pre-addressed forms, which also carry the correct employer identification number, will insure the prompt and proper credit to taxpayer accounts when these quarterly returns are processed through the ADP systems at the regional service center.

Phinney said further that blank forms are available in the District and local offices for new filers and urged that those employers who have been assigned identification numbers make sure the number entered on the tax form is correct.

The deadline for filing Forms 942 for the third quarter is Oct. 31, 1968, Phinney said.

Altar Society Holds Meeting

The Sacred Heart Altar Society held its regular monthly meeting on Sept. 17 with Rosary at the church and business meeting at the Parish Hall. Mrs. George Bragg and Miss Mabel Bracht were appointed for altar care for October.

The following members were present: Mrs. Elva Mullinax, Mrs. Dudley Bracht, Mrs. Travis Johnson, Mrs. W. F. Close, Mrs. Virginia Shivers, Mrs. Annie Moses, Miss Veronica Klaeser, Misses Vivian and Velma Picton, Misses Mabel and Genevieve Bracht and Mrs. W. N. Johnson, Jr.

CUBAN PHYSICIANS NOW PRACTICING IN GOLIAD

Drs. Jaime Puente and Gustavo Diaz, who smuggled their diplomas out of Cuba and gave up everything except their medical documents to get out after Castro took over are now practicing in Goliad, in the former Chilton Clinic across from the Goliad County Hospital and have picked up the threads of a partnership disrupted by governmental interference in Cuba in 1962.

Both are general practitioners. Puente is also a surgeon, and Diaz is experienced in internal medicine.

The doctor's wives assist in operating the new practice, which took off with a boom and continues to grow.

Through the aid of officials of a certain embassy they were able to get their medical diplomas and certificates out of the country.

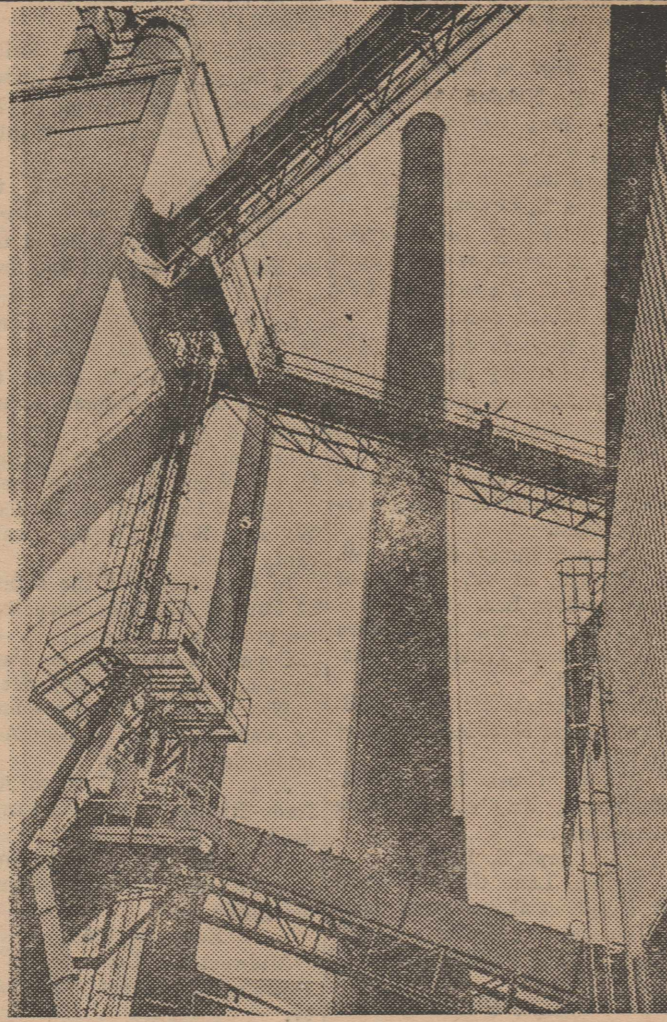

Successful passage of federal examinations given to foreign doctors permitted them to a limited practice in certain hospitals in this country.

Diaz became a ward physician in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Waco. Puente became a senior house physician in Flower Hospital in Toledo, Ohio, where he interned after graduating from medical school. Diaz interned in a Havana Hospital.

Then Diaz took state board examinations in Maryland, and was licensed in January of this year. Puente took similar examinations in New Hampshire early this year and was licensed there. Through a system known as "reciprocity" between states, both doctors were licensed to practice in Texas.

It was only after passing state examinations that either could be permitted a private practice.

Then came the call from Goliad which gave them the chance to practice again in partnership.

220,692 Whitewings Bagged in '68

Edinburg — Dove hunters bagged 220,692 whitewing doves in the Lower Rio Grande Valley during the 1968 hunts—a 22 per cent drop from the 282,134 taken during the record year of 1967, according to Phil Evans, whitewing project leader for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Even with the decrease in the number of birds killed, Department authorities classified the hunt as fair overall. Average hunter success was reported at six whitewings on the first day, 4.75 on the second day, 3.87 on the third and 2.05 on the final day. Mourning dove kills averaged just under two birds per hunter per day for both years.

Evans also said that 45,020 hunters participated in the four days of hunting this year compared to the 38,022 during the 1967 hunts. With the increase in the number of hunters and decrease in the number of birds killed, the hunter success ratio dropped from an average of 7.83 in 1967 to just under five whitewings per hunter this year.

These statistics were compiled from aerial vehicle counts and 24 unmanned check stations in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and gave as accurate a picture as is possible for the hunts, Evans said.

The total kill, which includes those in the bag as well as crippled and lost, was reported at 302,429 this year and 356,325 last year.

Whitewing censusing before the second hunt showed Santa Ana Refuge had some 305,000 birds—an increase of 45,000 over the same period a week earlier. Madero brush in Hidalgo County also showed a substantial increase of 170,000 more birds than the 122,000 reported a week earlier, while the Grulla Tract, Starr County, and Bentsen, Hidalgo County, both showed substantial decreases in whitewing population.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The chairman announced a rummage sale by Oct. 5 to be held in the Fellowship Hall.

Several members volunteered to help with this.

Rosemary's Babies Rattle and Crawl

San Antonio — Rosemary's babies are alive and doing well in the San Antonio Zoo. "Rosemary" is the name given to a five-foot, six-inch canebrake rattlesnake captured in Wharton County by Joe Riggs, game management officer for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

After being in captivity for a week, the snake gave birth to 24 baby rattlers, each about nine inches long and each with the beginning of a rattle on the tip of its tail.

Rosemary is now part of the Department's Wildlife Exhibit and will be on exhibition at the Dallas Fair in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Smith spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smith and children in Houston. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith as Tom Smith has been ill in the hospital and is now at home.

The small daughter of a famous doctor, when asked her name, always said, "I'm Dr. Baker's daughter."

Her mother told her that it was snobbish to do so. "Just say I'm Mary Baker," she told her daughter.

Several days later a friend of her father asked, "Aren't you Dr. Baker's little girl?" "I always thought so," the little girl replied, "but mother says I'm not."—Brooks (Alta.) Bulletin.

"What is your position in the choir?" asked the new church member.

"Absolutely neutral," replied the mild tenor. "I don't side with either faction."—Regina (Sask.) Commonwealth.

We're off the gold standard and from the looks of women we're about to get off the cloth standard.

Average size of a sheep or cattle ranch in Wyoming is 3900 acres.

Highways are for People—

Department last year completed installation of the first 150-foot light tower in the nation, to light the interchange of IH 30 and US Highways 59 and 71 on the Texas-Arkansas State line. Four additional 100-foot light towers, two in each State, insure daytime visibility for night traffic at the important interchange.

The latest safety installation involves the field testing of a vehicle impact attenuator (VIA) at a Houston interchange. The VIA is constructed of steel barrels welded together and placed in front of a roadside obstacle such as a bridge abutment or supporting column. This device cushions the impact of a colliding vehicle.

Motorists long have been pleased with the numerous roadside parks along the Texas highways—another safety feature. A glance at the Official Texas Highway Map, with its small green dots representing roadside parks, is sufficient to assure any motorist that he is never far from a place to pause and relax. In fact, one of every seven roadside parks in the entire nation is in Texas.

Making their debut on the 1968 map are small green squares, representing safety rest areas on the Interstate system complete with rest room facilities, drinking water, covered picnic arbors, fireplaces, and travel information displays—all in pleasant, well landscaped parks. There are now twelve pairs of comfort stations—safety rest areas (at each location there is a complete facility on each side of the divided Interstate route) and four more pairs are under construction.

When the Interstate system is complete, there will be a safety rest area on each side of the highway on an average of every 37 miles, and rest room facilities will be included wherever water is available.

Many of the vehicles parked at safety rest areas in 1967 bore out-of-state licenses. The Department's Texas Visitor Industry Report showed 1967 as the second billion-dollar travel industry year for Texas. More than 15 million visitors came to Texas by automobile last year, and they spent $808 million. The average travel party spent six days in the State and drove more than one thousand miles over Texas highways.

Travel counselors at two Highway Department Tourist Bureaus in Amarillo on Interstate Highway 40 and in Laredo on IH 35, joined those at seven older bureaus on major highway gateways to the State to welcome tourists and assist them on their journey. Highway Department travel counselors in San Antonio also welcomed visitors to HemisFair, from their station in the Institute of Texan Cultures. The Department also maintains an information center in the State Capitol at Austin.

Another tourist attraction, the Judge Roy Bean Museum and Information Center at Langtry on US 90, will be open to travelers this fall. Managed by the Highway Department and staffed by trained travel counselors, the restored site of the "Law West of the Pecos" will attract visitors nationwide.

The theme for National Highway Week this year is "Highways Are for People." Nowhere is this more true than in Texas, where 2,600 communities are served by no other means of transportation.

Some six million motorists will drive approximately seven million vehicles an estimated 60 billion miles on Texas highways in 1968—to work, to shop, to school, to bring farm products to the city, to seek recreation away from the city's bustle. So, it is perhaps more appropriate for Texans to paraphrase the Highway Week slogan: "Highways are VITAL for People."

You say people are afraid to get involved?

Many telephone people have made it their business to get involved in other people's problems. They've saved hundreds of lives in the process, often risking their own safety.
 Over the years, 240 Southwestern Bell employees have been awarded the Vail Medal, an award recognizing acts which exemplify the company's highest traditions of service.
 Among our Vail Medal winners are employees who... pulled a mother and her son from the rushing waters of a turbulent river... carried a baby from a blazing trailer home... dragged a man and woman from a burning car.
 The list goes on and on.
 And we're proud of them all. They're the kind of people you can count on to get involved.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q—I'm a recent law school graduate, but haven't taken the bar exam. Can my induction be postponed to take this?

A—Yes. If you're ordered to report for induction before you've had the opportunity to take the first bar exam held since your graduation in this state, your draft board must, upon your request, postpone your induction until the day after the last day of the bar examination.

Q—I've been visiting relatives overseas and had planned to stay a little while longer. I've just received an "Order to Report for Armed Forces Physical Examination." Must I return to the U. S. for this physical?

A—Not necessarily. The army provides facilities in some overseas commands for accomplishing the armed forces physical examinations of men who are temporarily residing overseas. Write your local board immediately and request this in lieu of returning to the States for the purpose.

Q—After I registered for Selective Service and filled out my classification questionnaire I applied for and received a classification as a conscientious objector. Since that time, both my religious convictions and philosophy have changed. Can this classification be changed?

A—Yes. Your withdrawal of the claim of conscientious objection must, however, be of your own volition, and this withdrawal must be in writing to your local board.

Sign Language

When Ed's car was stolen from a repair shop, he demanded damages for the loss. In a court hearing, he accused the management of negligence for leaving the car in a vacant lot, unattended, with the key in the ignition. But the company replied:

"We have a sign on our wall reading 'Not Responsible for Theft.' That means exactly what it says."

Nevertheless, in spite of the sign, the court upheld Ed's claim. The judge said that, as a matter of public policy, the law usually will not let a garage escape liability for its own carelessness.

In other words, the law does not always accept signs at face value. Other factors may be taken into account in deciding on a sign's legal efficacy.

Thus, not only public policy but also the legibility and the position of a sign may affect its value. In one case the manufacturer of a powerful cleaning fluid was held liable for a customer's injury because the warning on the label was so small, and so obscure, that it was easily overlooked.

But that doesn't mean the public can disregard signs with impunity. For the most part, signs do serve an important purpose by putting people "on notice"—and are indeed entitled to be obeyed. Certainly if you disregard the "Wet Paint" sign on the park bench, you do so at your own peril.

In fact, it is possible that you might have to obey a sign that you cannot even see. A motorist drove through a stop street, colliding with an oncoming car. His excuse was that the stop sign was lying in a ditch, out of sight.

Yet, the motorist admitted he knew the neighborhood, and knew it was a stop street. Under these circumstances, even with the sign missing, the court said he should have observed its command.

Nor does a sign need elegance of phrasing to be effective. What counts is counts is whether it gets its message across. Once a farmer, pestered by trespassers, posted this sign as a warning: NOTIS

Trespassers will be persecuted to the full extent of 2 mean mungrel dogs wich and never ben overly soshibil with strangers.
No doubt any court would hold that farmer's sign made its point abundantly clear.
