POMERENE WOULD PAY COLOMBIA.

Ohio Senator Leads Fight for Ratification of Treaty and Payment of $28,000,000.00

Borah Attacks Pact, Characterizing It Would Put Brand of Shame on Roosevelt.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Payment to Colombia of $28,000,000 as provided in the Colombian treaty was advocated in the senate today as a measure of justice and moral obligation, and attacked as without justification.

Senator Pomerene of Ohio, opening the fight for ratification from the democratic side, declared justice demanded that Colombia be compensated for the loss of Panama through a course of events in which the participation by the United States, he asserted, could not be defended "either in the sight of God or of man."

Ratification of the pact was urged by Senator Knox, republican, Pennsylvania, on the other hand, because the United States was "morally bound to compensate Colombia not for what she lost, but for what we gained." Taking issue with Senator Pomerene, the Pennsylvania senator asserted that the course of the United States in the events attending the revolt of Panama "squared to our rights and duties and to the governing rules and principles of international law."

Declaring ratfication of the pact would put "the brand of shame" on Theodore Roosevelt, Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, in concluding the debate for the day said "The moving force" behind Panama's revolt from Colombia "was not Theodore Roosevelt, John Hay, or the United States government, but the people of Panama," who, he said despite a Colombian dictatorship, were striving to exercise the independence they declared in 1861.

Entire Section Is To Join in Giving Welcome to Graham

People residing in the places between Wichita Falls and Graham will gladly embrace the opportunity of joining hands with the business men of this city in extending a "glad hand" to Graham on the occasion of the opening of direct rail connection to the latter place from this territory, and will join the excursion to be run April 22, in considerable numbers en route.

The people of Graham are planning an extensive and complete program for the entertainment of their visitors, and expect to "turn the town over to them while they were there.

These two important pieces of information were obtained from members of the Chamber of Commerce subcommittee, which visited Graham and the places en route Thursday to co-ordinate plans for the big excursion on their return Thursday night.

R. E. Penick, George W. Gutzman and J. W. Chatham Jr., secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, were the members of the committee.

Welcome Opportunity.

"I find that the business men of Archer City, Olney and Newcastle, visited in the order named, are very glad of the opportunity of participating in the welcome of Graham into our circle, Mr. Chatham said Thursday night.

"From present prospects I expect that there will be at least 125 people join the excursion at those points and continue on to Graham.

"The plans for the entertainment of the visitors at Graham are very complete and elaborate, we found on reaching Graham and conferring with the members of the arrangements committee, which numbers about 15 of the leading business men among their number.

Program at Graham.

"On the arrival of the excursion at Graham, the people of that place will meet the train, headed by a band, and the entire crew will parade to the center of the business section. Here the visitors will be welcomed by Mayor M. K. Graham and a barbecue and buffet luncheon will be served on the square.

"Following the luncheon, they promise that the town will be turned over to the visitors—including the moving picture shows and amusement houses—and automobiles will be on hand to allow visitors to see the principal places of interest.

"A baseball game, between the Graham team and a local team to be selected, will also be a feature of the program."

WOMAN IS ROBBED ON INDIANA

Stifling Cries, Highwayman Drags Woman Into Doorway and Robs Her

N. White of Ardmore of $25, according to her report to the police.

Mrs. White said that the bandit overlooked a ticket to Henrietta, which she was carrying in a small purse in her handbag.

According to her report the robbery occurred at about 11 oclock. She said that the bandit slapped her face several times and told her that if she did not turn loose her purse and keep quiet he would kill her.

Mrs. White told Mrs. S. B. Crozier, Y. W. C. A. secretary at the Union Station, that she had come to Wichita Falls to meet her husband, and that unable to find him she had started to Henrietta.

Senator Says "Americanism" Is Needed Now

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, April 14.—The need of a patriotic propaganda for Americanism, realization they the United States is inseparably connected with the rest of the world and the necessity that the nation keep free of entangling alliance, were cited today by Senator Seldon P. Spencer of Missouri as among the lessons learned by Germany as a result of the war. The senator was a luncheon guest of the Boston chamber of Commerce.

The pistol shot in June, 1914, that killed Archduke of Austria, he said, taught the nation "to keep ourselves absolutely free from any premature agreements of leagues that might so brand us as in honor to compel us to act in the future in violation of our judgment and conscience at the time, or to protect boundary lines in Europe; the righteousness of which we seriously doubted. Not by premature and entangling agreements, but by the right as we see it at the time, will the conduct of the nation be wisely guided."

LINE UP ON FORDNEY BILL IS CHANGED

Texas Delegation Shows a Split Again, Garner Leading Faction Opposed to Legislation.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Several changes in the lineup in the house on emergency tariff legislation since the Fordney measure was vetoed by the president, were revealed today during general debate on the Young emergency bill which includes anti-dumping and foreign exchange provisions. The debate will be continued tomorrow and a vote is expected by night.

For five and a half hours, the debate proceeded and was marked by a dramatic contribution on the part of the Bourke Cockran, democrat, New York, a veteran of other years. Asserting that danger lies ahead in a policy of attempting to cure all the country's ills, by legislation, Mr. Cockran predicted "long lines of famishing men and women in front of soup houses 'ere present conditions pass."

"I apprehend," Mr. Cockran said, "that when those lines do form, as they surely will, they will not stand in silent submission as they have done before. I apprehend something more menacing, more dangerous to civilization, to our government and to us."

Mr. Cockran's speech followed pleas of Chairman Fordney, Representative Young of North Dakota and other republicans for a united stand by their party in support of the measure.

The Texas delegation showed a split again, notwithstanding the binding resolution of the democratic caucus yesterday. Representative Garner, although he voted for the bill last season, was in charge of the opposition today, criticising it only to the extent that hides were not included. Mr. Hudspeth also assailed provisions of the Underwood tariff act, which he declared had made sheep sell on the streets of El Paso, Texas, at fifty-five cents a head and wool at four cents a pound.

Tax questions entered into the discussion several times, and Representative Frear, republican, Wisconsin, vigorously attacked the proposed sales tax.

PRESIDENT PINS MEDAL ON GUNNER

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Robert Edward Cox of Belmont, Pennsylvania, a chief gunner of the navy, enjoyed today the unique distinction of having the president of the United States personally pin on his breast the nations highest award for valor—the congressional medal of honor.

The ceremony took place on the 17th anniversary of the day on which Gunner Cox saved the battleship Missouri from destruction by flooding her magazines, after an explosion in a turret had set fire to powder in the adjoining handling room. Two other men M. Mons and S. C. Schepke then gunners mates, but now commissioned officers, previously had received medals of honor for their heroic work in assisting Cox in removing injured men from the burning room. Thirty men were killed in the accident.

Cox, at that time, held the rank of warrant officer and was debarred from receiving the medal of honor by the law providing for its award only to enlisted men. Not until last February, a year after the history of the event, was laid before congress, was special legislation enacted permitting exception to be made in the Cox case.

MINERS AND OWNERS TRY FOR PEACE

Effort Being Made to Reopen Negotiations for Settlement Coal Strike

By Associated Press

LONDON, April 14.—Determined efforts are being made to reopen negotiations between the miners and mine owners for a settlement of the coal strike. A deputation from the house of commons visited Premier Lloyd George, after Frank Hodges, secretary of the miners union had addressed members of the house and explained the miners point.

The mine owners have also decided to invite the miners leaders to continue the discussion.

Evan Williams, president of the mining association, announced at a late hour that the mine owners would extend another invitation to representatives of the miners to deliberate both nationally and in the various districts, with the object of ascertaining what was feasible to improve the lot of the lower paid miners. The owners then again visited Downing street in response to a summons from the prime minister.

New Hopes Held

New hopes of a resumption of negotiations have arisen through this offer of the mine owners to meet the miners leaders around a new conference table and also the offer made by Mr. Hodges in his speech to a meeting of the members of parliament. In this the secretary of the miners union said:

"We are prepared to consider the question of wages provided they are not regardable as permanently on a district basis, but only of a temporary character."

Regarding his offer, the press association said that it is not without promise of a peaceful agreement and will be conveyed to the premier.

Representatives from twelve lines participated in the conference, and it was stated all were in accord on the proposition.

It was explained the deliberations of the conference were withheld "as a matter of courtesy" to the brotherhoods; that as the request for action had come from the unions, the railroad heads believed their answer should be held confidential unless the labor leaders were disposed to give it publicity.

Arctic Bergs Force Traffic To New Routes

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, April 14.—Icy battalions from the Polar Seas have moved south to latitude in the North Atlantic that corresponded with this city and have forced the moving of trans-Atlantic steamship tracks 180 miles south of the usual lanes at this season.

Radio reports today from the coast guard cutter Seneca which is on ice patrol told of ice fields that were traced as far south as 44 degrees latitude, with the limits still undetermined. Bergs were grouped in a latitude 42:49 and longitude 47:52 and large bergs and growlers in other southerly positions.

As a result of this unusual southerly ice movement, the trans-Atlantic steamship conference directed vessels to change immediately to new steamer tracks, crossing longitude 47 in latitude 41 when west bound and latitude 40 when east bound.

H. C. L. CAUSES NO SLUMPS IN MARRIAGES

CHICAGO, April 14.—Christmas is the most popular season for popping the question and the period between Easter and July the most fashionable for weddings. This is the conclusion of jewelers based on statistics relating to the sale of engagement and wedding rings.

The reason seems as clear as that of any problem involving the psychology of the well-known human race. Christmas, for instance, is a time of sentiment and cold weather, which prompt to tenderness and the instinct for snuggling. The Spring, on the other hand, is the time of mating and home-building, bedecked by nature with flowers and greenery ... for nuptials.

RAILWAY PACTS ABROGATED BY LABOR BOARD

All Officers and System Organization Ordered to Pick Delegates to Confer.

Sixteen Principles Laid Down to Serve as Foundation for Any New Rules Agreed Upon.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 14. — National agreements defining working conditions for employes on all American railroads formerly under the federal railroad administration, were today ordered abrogated, effective July 1, 1921, by the United States railroad labor board.

The board called upon the officers and system organizations of employes of each road to select representatives "to confer and to decide," as much of the rules controversy as possible. "Such conferences shall begin at the earliest possible date," the decision said.

The decision affected all railroad employes except those on train service who are under separate agreements between individual railroads and the four big brotherhoods.

In connection with the conference negotiations, the board laid down a set to 16 principles which are to serve as a foundation for any rules which may be agreed to in the conference. The present general rules hearing before the labor board, which has been in progress since Jan. 10, will continue until both sides have completed their testimony, following which the board "will promulgate such rules as it determines just and reasonable as soon after July 1, 1921, as is reasonably possible and will make them effective as of July 1, 1921."

Sixteen Principles.

The 16 principles outlined by the board were drawn up by Henry T. Hunt of the public group and upheld the right of the employes to organize for lawful purposes, the right of employes to negotiate through representatives of their own choosing, the right of seniority and the principles of the eight hour day. It was specified that "eight hours work must be given for eight hours' pay espionage should not be practiced by either side, the decision said.

The 16 principles outlined were as follows:

"1. An obligation rests upon management, upon each organization of employes and upon each employe to render honest, efficient and economical service to the carrier serving the public.

"2. The spirit of co-operation between management and employes being essential to efficient operation, both parties should so conduct themselves as to promote this spirit.

Management Responsible.

"3. Management having the responsibility for safe, efficient and economical operation, the rules will not be subversive of necessary discipline.

"4. The right of railway employes to organize for lawful objects shall not be denied, interfered with or obstructed.

"5. The right of such lawful organization to act toward lawful objects through representatives of its own choice, whether employes of a particular carrier or otherwise, shall be agreed to by management.

"6. No discrimination shall be practiced by management as between members and non-members of organizations, nor shall members of organizations discriminate against non-members or use other methods than lawful persuasion to secure their membership. Espionage by carriers of the legitimate activities of labor organizations or by labor organizations on the legitimate activities of carriers should not be practiced.

"7. The right of employes to be consulted prior to a decision of management adversely affecting their wages or working conditions shall be agreed to by management. This right of participation shall be deemed adequately complied with, if and when, the representatives of a majority of the employes of each of the several classes directly affected shall have conferred with the management.

"8. No employe should be disciplined without a fair hearing by a designated officer of the carrier. Suspension in proper cases pending a hearing which shall be prompt, shall not be deemed a violation of this principle at a reasonable time prior to the hearing he is entitled to be appraised of the precise charge against him. He shall have a reasonable opportunity to secure the presence of necessary witnesses and shall have the right to be represented by a counsel of his choosing. If the judgment shall be in his favor, he shall be com-

CLINE WILL BE SPEAKER CLUB LUNCH

Fulfilling the promised "remainder" of a speech he started and did not finish, in which something is expected that the hearers may remember and think about, Mayor Walter D. Cline will be the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club Tuesday at the Kemp hotel.

Shelby Owens of the Owens Lumber company, is announced for the "silent boost."

The nature of this feature is not divulged, and the secretary insists that it will be well worth the hat to be given as the attendance prize by Harry Baum.

pensated for the wage loss, if any, suffered by him.

"9. Proper classification of employes and a reasonable definition of the work to be done by each class for which just and reasonable wages are to be paid is necessary, but shall not unduly impose uneconomical conditions upon the carriers.

"10. Regularity of hours or days during which the employe is to serve or hold himself in readiness to serve is desirable.

"11. The principles of seniority long applied to the railroad service is sound and should be adhered to. It should be so applied as not to cause impairment of the service.

"12. The board approves the principles of the eight hour day, but believes it should be limited to work requiring practically continuous application during eight hours. For eight hours pay, eight hours work should be performed by all railroad employes except engine and train service employes, regulated by the Adamson act who are paid generally on a mileage basis as well as one hourly basis.

"13. The health and safety of employes should be reasonably protected.

"14. The carriers and the several crafts and classes of railroad employes should be reasonably protected.

"14. The carriers and the several crafts and classes of railroad employes have a substantial interest in the competency of apprentice or persons under training. Opportunity to learn any craft or occupation shall not be unduly restricted.

"15. The majority of any craft or class of employes shall have the right to determine what organization shall represent members of such craft or class. Such organization shall have the right to make an agreement which shall apply to all employes in such craft or class. No such agreement shall infringe, however, upon the right of employes not members of the organization representing the majority to present grievances either in person or by representatives of their own choice.

"16. Employes called or required to report for work and reporting but not used should be paid reasonable compensation therefor."

Neither labor nor railroad representatives would make formal statements tonight on the railroad labor board decision abrogating the national agreements, each side desiring time in which to study the text of the decision.

Leader Sees Victory

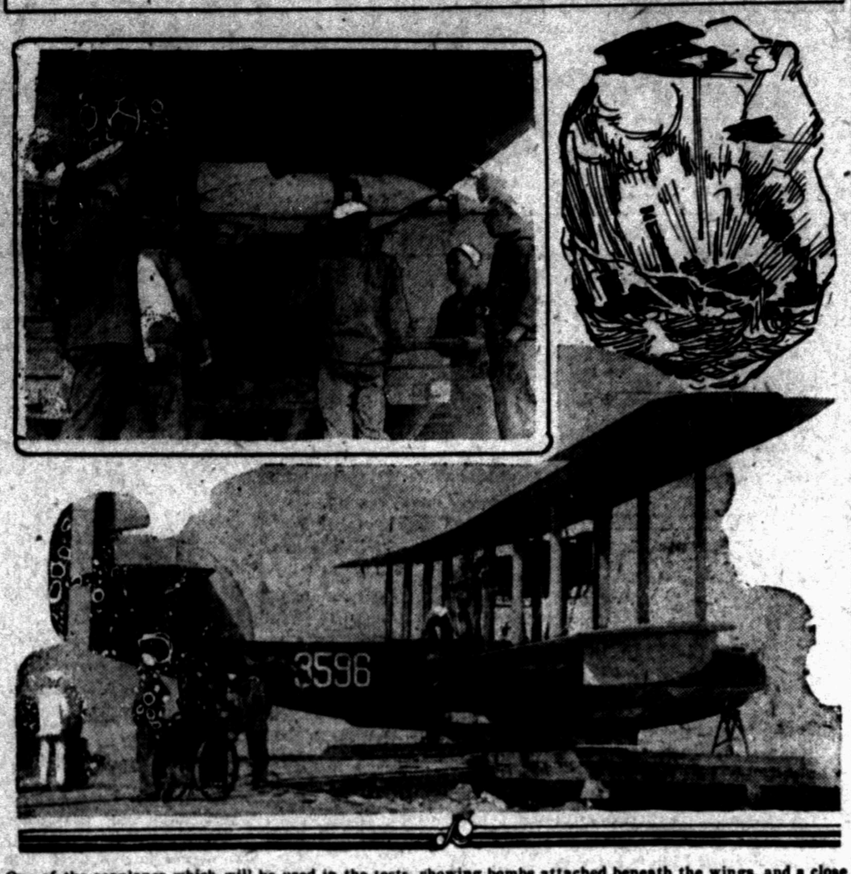

One national labor leader, however said that "on its face, the decision appeared to be a great victory for labor, inasmuch as it was the first time any code of principles had been laid down by a federal body for the guidance of labor."

A railroad president who, declined to have his name used said:

"As far as I can see, the decision is not clear as to whether a national conference is to be held or individual conferences between each road and its employes. The roads have always opposed and now oppose a national conference. Individual conference would be a victory for us."

E. T. Whiter, chairman of the association of railway executives conference committee, said he would call a meeting of his committee tomorrow to discuss the decision.

NAVAL AVIATORS PREPARE FOR SHIP-PLANE BOMBING TESTS

One of the seaplanes which will be used in the tests, showing bombs attached beneath the wings, and a close up of sailors fastening bombs to one of the planes.

Naval officials in charge of the water and air craft are preparing for the tests to be held next June to determine the value of the old battleship type of naval defense against the modern air craft in warfare. The relative merits of seaplanes and giant sea-going ships have been under discussion since army aviation officials, in fighting a slashing of the aviation appropriation, charged that the battleship was obsolete and worthless against air fleets. The tests to be made will determine what damage aerial bombs will do to battleships and how effective is the marksmanship from a plane. The plane shown above is one of the 5-F-L type of seaplane which proved serviceable in the flight from San Diego to the Canal Zone a few weeks ago.

MYSTERY AND ROMANCE INTERWOVEN IN DEAD FLYER'S OFFICIAL REPORT OF FLIGHTS

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

WASHINGTON, April —The strange beauties and the well-nigh incalculable hazards encountered in flying at night were never more strikingly illustrated than in the posthumous official report of Lieutenant W. D. Coney, the daring transcontinental pilot, just made public by the Army Air Service.

GEORGE R. HOLMES

Lieutenant Coney made a record from California to Florida with but two stops, each being necessitated by accidents to his plane. He crashed and was killed on his return trip. The report which is now made public was written by Lieutenant Coney upon his arrival at Jacksonville.

Had it been written thirty years ago—twenty years ago—it would have been put down as an excellent piece of impaginative writing, and the action it chronicles wholly impossible of accomplishment. Into the stiff, stilted form of an official army report Coney managed to weave some of the beauties of those moonlit wastes that lay miles above the earth, and also some of the dangers—such as coming out of a cloud thousands of feet up and finding a snow-capped mountain peak only a hundred feet below.

Pall of Clouds Marred Start.

Scores of pilots have been killed in just such a way—running full tilt into a mountain peak shrouded perhaps in mist while hurtling through the air anywhere from 100 to 150 miles an hour.

The report reveals that Coney's start on his ill-fated trip was not auspicious.

"It was raining and very stormy," he wrote, "the clouds black and very low. The last minute adjustments and a rechecking in a downpour of rain. It was decided that as soon as the clouds broke to the west I would take off and climb through the hole and then turn on my course.

Full Moon Above Rain Clouds.

"Shortly before 7 o'clock a hole became visible in the west and I took the air. The ship was a little loggy and tail heavy from excess weight, but handled fairly well. I circled once over the crowd on the field, picking up their location by the numerous automobile lights, then began picking my way through the rain clouds. At 7:35 I had climbed above the clouds and was greeted by a bright full moon. The coast range of mountains was directly below, although entirely invisible from my position.

Plane Rushed in Arguat Rays.

"The weather from Yuma east looked very bad, the clouds extending from the mountains up to at least 14,000 feet. Flying at 8,000 feet, I started to climb, as I had to have at least 12,000 feet to clear the mountain range northwest of Tucson, Ariz. The motor was working beautifully at 1,800 revolutions a minute; the oil was steady at 30 pounds. The clouds were all around me, the ground being visible only in small patches through the clouds. The moon rays touched by plane only at intervals. I believed that 1,500 more feet would put me above the clouds and I continued a slow climb to reach the top.

"Small lights began to appear through the broken clouds. Those I took to be towns along the Southern Pacific. I was flying now at 15,000 feet and the air was getting very rough and the clouds were thicker and heavier.

Sandwiched in the Clouds.

"At 16,000 feet I ran into a heavy snowstorm. Hoping to fly through it in a short time I continued on my course rather than lose time trying to go around. Shortly after 11:30 my compass began to act queerly. It inclined to the left (I corrected on my controls without result), then it made a number of revolutions, became quiet and remained inclined to the left.

"The air was very rough and on account of the extra weight I found it difficult to keep my balance. In fact, I did make two complete turns before I realized it.

"A few minutes later I put the plane in a glide toward the southeast, as I remembered seeing thin white clouds in that direction prior to entering the snowstorm. Soon I was out of the snow but sandwiched between clouds at 10,000 feet.

Landscape Sheet of Snow.

"The mountains ahead on my course were almost touching the upper layer of clouds, while their base was enveloped in clouds that appeared to contain rain. Just before reaching the ridge I flew into a down current of air and lost 700 or 800 feet altitude. Shoving my throttle full on I tried to regain my altitude, but could not. Turning sharply off my course, I headed north for ten minutes and found a hole in the clouds below me. A few minutes later I was below the clouds at an altitude of 6,000 feet. All charted landmarks had been wiped out, as my flying above and through the snow had made it useless for me to check the country as I passed over.

Soloing Through a Canyon.

"Getting under the clouds, near the ground, I felt more comfortable. Picking the largest pass or canyon in sight, I started through toward the east. Here I ran into a heavy rainstorm and was forced to throttle my motor to 1,380 revolutions a minute to save the blades of the propeller.

(Pelting rain will quickly knock a wooden propeller to pieces if revolving very rapidly. Raindrops will make dents in the hardest wood.)

Barriers of the Path.

"Going between the mountains was not so bad, but it did keep me worried as I did not know at what turn I would find a mountain stopping up the exit to the pass.

Guiding Stellar Light.

"Shortly after midnight I had flown out of the rain and mountains and was passing over fairly good country, hilly, but no mountains; the moon was shining through the clouds, adding greatly to my comfort. I opened my motor wide again and climbed back to 10,000 feet altitude. The clouds by now were bunched in heavy banks and from their position I judged my compass course to be the same as Yuma, with the addition of one point to take care of magnetic deviation.

Fringes Mountain Top.

"Flying under or over or around the clouds, through them only when I felt sure they were light and small, I proceeded on. Once while banking to avoid a heavy cloud centre I noticed a snow-capped peak less than 100 feet below and touching the cloud I was flying through.

"From 1 to 4 a. m. I flew a zigzag course, checked by the plane's clock and during this time I passed over several snow-covered ranges, through one small snowstorm and skirted innumerable cloud banks. At 4:30 I saw the first streak of the oncoming day. It looked more like a reflection of the moon on the clouds than the rising sun. I was flying at 11,000 feet with the motor running 1,500. The country below was falling away into barren foothills and looked most friendly after viewing the rugged peaks so long."

Continuing his report, Lieutenant Coney details how he was forced down at Bronte, Texas, and again at Dallas, before reaching Jacksonville.

Historic Log Invaluable.

The log of his historic trip reveals that the total flying time elapsed between San Diego and Jacksonville was twenty-two hours and 27 minutes. The average speed was 97 miles an hour, and the maximum altitude attained 16,000 feet (about three miles above the earth.) A total of 450 gallons of gasoline was used, about 20 gallons an hour, and 25 gallons of oil, about a gallon an hour.

The report of the dead lieutenant will be invaluable in instructing future army flyers in cross country and trans-continental piloting. The wealth of experience obtained by the trip which could not be incorporated in the official report has, of course, been irrevocably lost by his death.

The attack broke down completely before the Greek counter attacks.

Students Must Retain Books or Pay for Them

School children in the future must retain their "Answer Books" or pay 15 cents each when the books are returned at the end of year.

Information to this effect was received Thursday from Ginn and Company by Burl Bryant, county superintendent of schools. In the future the communication stated, one Answer Book will be issued with each text book and if these are not returned with book the pupil will be charged at the rate of 15 cents per copy. It is expected that the new rule will result in a large saving to the state school-book fund.

School districts in sending in books to be exchanged for the new texts that have been adopted in certain studies are requested to send by freight where possible.

In the past the parcel post has been used and, according to the publishers, a great saving will result to the state school-book fund if they are sent by freight. Where feasible it is suggested that districts combine in sending in their books.

TESTED RECIPES.

Tapioca Delight — Dissolve three-quarters cup sugar and one-half teaspoon salt in four cups of hot coffee which has been strained. Add one scant cup minute tapioca. Cook over hot water until the tapioca is perfectly transparent. Add one-half cup chopped nut meats and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Chill and serve with cream.

Waffles—Beat one-half pound of butter until creamy with one-fourth pound sugar, add yolks of three eggs, one-half pound of flour, one pint of warm milk and the egg whites, beaten stiff. Bake in a waffle iron and dust each with powdered sugar when serving with jam or preserves. This amount makes about twelve waffles.

Pepper Cabbage Salad—One quart new chopped cabbage, one cup of finely chopped green peppers; season and mix with one cup of cream dressing. Serve on lettuce leaf.

Pepper cabbage dressing: One teaspoon dry mustard, one tablespoon sugar, salt and paprika to taste, one tablespoon of flour, one egg, two tablespoons of olive oil or butter, one-half cup of rich milk.

Put dry ingredients in a bowl, add the yolk of egg and vinegar, mix well and set over hot water; bring to a boil, stirring all the while. When thick, add oil (or butter) and milk; bring to a boil, remove from fire, add the white of egg, well beaten, and one-half cup of cream well whipped.

This is good for many salads.

Club Sandwich—Toast two slices of bread, on one side only, cut into triangles. For the filling spread each slice of bread with anchovy paste mixed with salad dressing, then add to each slice a lettuce leaf. In between put a layer of tunny fish, two slices of bacon and two thin rounds of fresh tomato spread with salad dressing.

SUGGESTIONS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

For Red Ants—Little red ants can be trapped by means of sponges soaked in sweetened water. When the ants collect on the sponge, it should be dropped into boiling water.

If Cold Baked Potatoes are dipped for a moment into hot water and placed in a moderate oven until warmed thru, they are as good as freshly baked ones.

To Remove Paint or Varnish—Before refinishing furniture to remove the old varnish or paint, put two tablespoons of a good brand of potash in one pint of water (put in glass or stone jar, as it would be hard on tin). Wrap a cloth around the end of a stick, tie it on, dip in the lye and go all over the paint, being careful not to get it on your hands, as it is strong.

Let it stand a little while, then take a scrubbing brush and pail of soapy water and scrub off the old varnish. It will come off readily, leaving a clean surface. There may be places that require a little more lye.

Rinse with clear water and dry thoroughly before refinishing.

FRECKLE-FACE

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face?

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength, from your druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds of March have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more Othine is sold in this month. Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

Reading from "Damaged Goods," Mrs. Ben G. Oneal.

Y. W. C. A. Observes Third Year Opening With April Meeting

Marking the opening of the third year of the Wichita Falls Young Women's Christian association, the April meeting of the executive board was turned into a get together luncheon for all the standing committee members, the trustees and building committee and other friends of the association.

This luncheon, held Thursday at the noon hour in the board rooms of the association, and served under direction of Mrs. C. J. Coyne of the cafeteria combined most pleasantly the social phase and the business side and was the first opportunity for the various divisions of the executive and administrative to be together, and to hear the reports of each division.

Mrs. W. W. Silk, the president, the board members, Mrs. E. M. Evans, acting chairman of the educational committee conducted the devotionals, which preceded the meal. The four-course luncheon, embodying fried chicken and all the other spring delicacies, was enjoyed, and then the program opened.

Field Secretary Guest.

Miss Frances Bothwell, field secretary from Dallas, was an honored guest on this occasion, and following her introduction by Mrs. Silk, reviewed her acquaintance with the Wichita Falls board and trustees for the two years of the local organization's existence.

She spoke of the pleasure and pride which a visit to Wichita Falls always gave, when she remembered the early start in the face of considerable difficulties, and the speedy growth in every way of the association.

The fine spirit of loyalty and willingness that was manifested from the beginning, which made the association a possibility with the early difficulties, Miss Bothwell declared, was always an inspiration.

Each visit with the board, she concluded, seemed to find the Wichita Falls organization marking an epoch of progress in its work.

Miss Du Bose, the executive secretary was introduced, Mrs. Silk remarking that this month saw the conclusion of Miss Du Bose's first year with the Wichita Falls Y.

A brief talk on the functioning of the association, in its various branches was made by Miss Du Bose.

The staff was introduced, Miss Hood, the girls' work and recreation secretary; Miss Mann, the rooms registry and employment secretary; Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Crozier, the travelers' aids; Mrs. Coyne, the cafeteria director, and Miss Stoecker, the director of Charlotte Kemp hall.

Building Committee Reports.

Mrs. C. W. Snider, the chairman of the building committee, was called on for an introduction of her committee, and she made a short talk on the progress that has been made towards the Y. W. C. A. home, the center of ambitions and hopes for some time, but which is still in the future because of the unsettled building conditions.

Mrs. Snider then asked E. Stanley Field, the architect, to describe the planned building. Mr. Field told of the plans as they have been practically approved, showing how the plans take care of the future growth of the association.

The introduction of the board members and their committees followed. Each chairman made a brief report of the work of her committee. Mrs. T. A. Hicks, chairman of girl's work, made her report on the work among the school girls; Mrs. E. M. Evans, acting chairman of the educational committee, told of the plans for a reading library, of magazines and books, to be established immediately in the association's living rooms. She also detailed the classes that have been conducted under the auspices of the educational committee during the year.

Mrs. C. W. Beavers, industrial chairman, told of the work that has been started by her committee, and a supplementary report was given by Mrs. John W. Naylor, one of the committee members.

Mrs. Stonewall Brown made the report from the recreation committee, mentioning the Y. W. C. A. summer camp, and stating that details of the camp plan will be announced later.

The report from the religious committee, Mrs. E. S. Goodner, chairman, was read by Mrs. R. E. Shepherd, Mrs. Goodner being absent.

Mrs. Everett Jones, finance chairman and her committee were introduced, but no financial report was made.

Mrs. E. E. Fuller gave the report from the membership committee, of which Mrs. J. W. Culbertson, is out of the city, and the acting chairman, Mrs. D. G. Whitney was also unable to be present.

Over 600 Members

This report showed more than 600 members of the local association, the majority of these memberships secured through the 1921 Membership Drive, staged by the committee earlier in the spring.

The work of the Travelers Aid department of the Y. W. C. A. was sketched in an interesting manner by the two secretaries of this department, Mrs. W. O. Davidson and Mrs. S. B. Crozier. The detailed monthly report was made by Mrs. E. W. Nicholson, the chairman. Miss Florence Jackson made the report from the Business Girls club, the largest branch organization of the Association.

Interesting details as to the co-operation of the employers of the city with the employment and rooms registry department were given by Mrs. C. R. Hartsook, the chairman.

Mrs. Charles Pogenpohl, chairman of the cafeteria, made the routine report, showing a total of more than 8,000 meals served by the cafeteria during the past month. She introduced the cafeteria director, Mrs. C. J. Coyne.

Mrs. J. A. Richolt, headquarters chairman, and Mrs. John W. Naylor, publicity chairman, introduced their committee members, this concluding the program.

Those present included: Mayor W. D. Cline, who is a member of the Finance committee. Mrs. J. A. Kemp and J. W. Culbertson, members of the board of trustees; Mrs. C. W. Snider, chairman and Mrs. Martin Rowe, Mrs. J. A. Richolt, and Messrs. Field and Reese of the building committee; Mrs. W. W. Silk, president, Miss Pauline Richolt, secretary, Misses DuBose, Stoecker, Hood, Mann and Mesdames Coyne, Davidson and Crozier of the staff and Mesdames Pogenpohl, J. A. Richolt, G. Clint Wood, Stonewall Brown, T. A. Hicks, Everett Jones, C. W. Beavers, E. W. Nicholson, C. R. Hartsook, John W. Naylor, E. M. Evans, Misses Kerr, Jackson and Rainey of the executive board and the following committee members and visitors:

Mesdames C. J. Barnard, Charles F. Carter, P. F. Brine of Boston, H. F. Weldon, W. P. Bolding, M. J. Bashara, Pruitt of Nashville, Tenn., Frank Kell, R. A. Lyle, E. E. Fuller, F. T. Datson, Vanden Brock, G. D. Anderson, —J. Cohen, Carl Waelder, A. W. Culp, A. O. Scharff, J. G. Fain, T. P. Adams, E. C. Huckabee, C. C. Randle, M. M. Gaffney, R. E. Shepherd; Misses Lillian Fain, Goodwin, Irene Davidson, John Arnold, Emily Coffied, Mary Watson, Geneva Wisdom and Vera Louise Dodge; Messrs. C. W. Snider, W. W. Silk, Little and W. M. McGregor.

The service of the luncheon was accomplished by members of the Business Women's club and the High School Girls club.

With the Women of Today

The activities of the W. C. T. U. are by no means curtailed because of national prohibition. Instead, they are increased. The national association has made Americanization work its next objective and with this as its aim has started Americanization centers in some of the larger cities. It is the idea of the W. C. T. U. in their work to make a special effort to reach the women who are not able to leave their homes because of children and household cares.

Mrs. Culla J. Vayhinger, who is the director and the moving spirit in a new center which was founded during the past winter in a densely populated section of Chicago, is working as the head of the department of Americanization of the union.

"The home keeping women of the foreign born are suffering under the handicap of not being able to enjoy the same privileges which come to the men in shop or factory and to the children in the public schools. We want to bring to these women lessons in English, rudiments of citizenship, which are, as a general thing, presented in classes and community centers," explained Mrs. Vahinger recently in a talk before a group of workers.

"Classes and meetings of various kinds are held in the centers and women who are trained in Americanization work go into the homes of the foreign born women where they teach English and anything which can be taught to these newcomers to America."

NOT GETTING ANYWHERE.

The French, British, and Belgian troops have advanced East of the Rhine—and all's well. Barring a bit of sassiness by the German police in Dusseldorf the Germans appear to be very happy. So are the invading soldiers. Their pay is by no means regal, but they have some money to spend, and Fritz is willing to take it. Their very presence means business for the shopkeepers. The cabarets continue to jazz the night away, and the general atmosphere seems to be like that of Brussels on the eve of Waterloo as described by one Byron. War's visage is, for the moment, most inviting.

But what are the Allies getting out of it?

They themselves are beginning to wonder. Invading Germany has been easy; it would be just as easy to proceed farther. But the measures adopted are not having the desired effect of making the Germans accede to the reparations which the Allies demanded. The Germans are not resisting; Dr. Simons even makes conciliatory speeches, admitting that there is much to be said on the Allies' side; but none of this yields a cent of the money the Allies are anxious to have paid.

It is beginning to look as if the best thing that can happen to a nation at war is to be defeated. It is easier for the loser to dodge payment of an indemnity than it is for the victors to force it. During the war we were admonished continuously to give till it hurt; the great problem now is to receive without being hurt.

A way out must be found. Germany must pay in some form for the destruction she wrought. She deserves no pity or symapthy; these are rather to be bestowed on the nations that are trying to collect from her. It looks, though, as if the Germans were in a position to exact concessions before they sign on the dotted line and make a start for settling humanity's claim against them.—New Bedford (Mass.) Standard. (Rep.)

SAME OLD SENATE.

The senate has confirmed the long list of army promotions on which it refused to act when the list was sent to the senate by former President Wilson. President Harding sent the list to the senate, "without change," a dispatch from Washington says. Favorable action was taken at once.

What happened to make such speedy response to President Harding's request? The list of army officers just confirmed was the same list which Woodrow Wilson submitted to the senate. Conditions affecting this list were in no wise different on last Monday than they were on the day Mr. Wilson submitted it. It was same old senate which took this favorable action a few days ago, which refused to take the action when President Wilson asked for it. In fact, there was absolutely no change in the situation as between the two occasions when the army list was submitted. The only difference was that Woodrow Wilson wasn't president of the United States last Monday.—Dayton (O.) News. (Dem.)

HUGHES AND GERMAN HOPES.

Opinion on the Hughes note to Germany ranges all the way from comment by those who agree with the New York World (Dem.) to the effect that the memorandum "can be nothing more than the expression of a pious hope," to statements like that of the Boston Transcript (Ind. Rep.) that it is "a document of cardinal importance" and "its effects should be proportionately far-reaching." To some, like the Brooklyn Eagle (Ind. Dem.) the note contains little "to discourage the German government in its present obstinate and uncompromising attitude," while others, echoing the sentiment of the Boston Herald (Ind. Rep.), think Secretary Hughes has announced to Berlin that "the United States has not the slightest intention of standing between Germany and the penalty of her sins."

The suggestion that perhaps the message presages helpful American intervention which will result in new reparations negotiations is harbored by some writers and many feel that it has prepared the way to a successful acceptance of the Knox resolution, though this view is not accepted by those who have opposed a "separate peace."

Says the Newark News (Ind.):

"Secretary Hughes' memorandum, informing Germany that the United States stands with the Allies on the reparations question, is a sort of 'where do we go from here' document. Standing by itself it is nothing but a pious wish. Its worth depends entirely upon what we do next."

This feeling that it does not outline "any specific program" is voiced also by the Springfield Republican (Ind.) which finds it "difficult to read into this any indorsement of the Paris terms." The New York Evening World (Dem.) makes the criticism that "Secretary Hughes gives no indication of how far this government is to stand with the governments of the Allies beyond holding Germany responsible for the war." Yet, it asserts, "in that beyond are all the really important questions of peace." The Richmond Times Dispatch (Dem.) holds a similar opinion: "The note of Secretary Hughes," it says, "simply restates the terms of the treaty as meeting American approval, without indicating what course the Washington government will pursue with respect to aiding their enforcement, * * * the note does little to clarify the unknown attitude of the Harding administration with respect to the part the United States is to play in settlement of the issues growing out of the war."

Firmly worded the Norfolk Ledger Dispatch (Ind. Dem.) grants the note to be, "and good enough as far as it goes" but, it adds, "it doesn't go very far" for it is only a "gesture" and the Indianapolis News (Ind.) feels that "it throws no light on the future." To the Houston Chronicle (Ind.) which sees the document as a more positive instrument, it is not satisfactory for:

"The upshot of the situation seems to be," it concludes, "that our government intends to disassociate himself from the Allies with a smile and a platitude, while gruffly shaking hands with Berlin."

In itself, the state department communication can be read "only with satisfaction" by the American people, the New York Post (Ind.) declares but, taken in conjunction with the proposed Knox resolution it results in a "yea-and-nay policy" which may "confirm Germany in the belief that, as far as we are concerned, she may go as far as she likes."

Quite the opposite view is taken by a number of writers who agree with the St. Louis Star (Ind.) that the Hughes letter makes it possible to pass the Knox resolution "without a sting." The Pittsburgh Gazette Times (Rep.) remarks:

"This official though informal correspondence backs up the assurance which have been given to Envoy Viviani and which have removed all fears which were previously entertained with regard to the Knox resolution of peace with Germany."

DINNER STORIES

Mr. Stud had bought a horse, but after closing the deal he was not exactly satisfied with his purchase.

He hem'ed and haw'ed for a few minutes, then turned to the dealer.

"There is just one thing I don't like about this horse," he said. "She won't hold her head up."

The dealer looked admiringly at the animal, then sorrowfully upon the purchaser.

"That'll be all right, sir," he said, "it's only her bloomin' pride. She will hold her head up when she's paid for."

The telephone bell rang and the bookkeeper answered it.

"Yes, madam, this is Wilkin's market.

"This is Mrs. Blank. I want you to know that the liver you sent me is most unsatisfactory. It is not calf's liver at all; calf liver is tender and——"

"What is it?" Wilkins asked.

The bookkeeper surrendered the telephone.

"Mrs. Blank," he said. "Liver complaint."

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

ANOTHER FLIV.

The other day the sun
Was shining brightly
And the birds were singing
And the little boys were Having their fights in
The street and the ladies
Were setting their plants
Out on the window sill and
The iceman came around in
His shirt sleeves and everybody
Said: "Spring has come."
And so we gathered together
All the spring poetry.
That had been sent in
And all the gags about
Spring fever and the farmer
Driving into town in
His spring wagon and we put
Them all in this column
For the next day and—
The next day there blew up
A cold rain and sleet and
The temperature fell to Almost nothing and instead
Of thinking of spring,
People were trying to dodge
Pneumonia and rheumatism
And we got several letters
Saying: "What's the matter,
You poor nut, are you
Trying to kid us?" and
Everybody in the office
Looked at us, shook their
Heads sadly and murmured:
"Bug house soon for him."
That's the curse of
A column conductor's life.
What we need in this country
Is more climate and less weather.

IGNORANT ESSAYS'

By J. P. McEVOY

There are many kinds of letters, each deserving a separate essay and many of them separate maintenance.

There are love letters, business letters, collection letters, father-to-son letters, son-to-father letters, letters of credit, and dead letters which include most letters mailed during Burleson's administration.

Love breaks out into many curious rashes, but letters are the most curious and the rashest. A man who is in love may not be insane, but any jury in the world would convict him on the letters he writes when in that condition:

Darling Little Dumplings:

How is my precious little turtle dove? Oh, how I miss my little bitsie toodle oodles. Last night I sat and looked at the full moon and I thought of you. I, too, was full, full of love and thoughts of you. How will I live until tonight, when I shall see you once more:

As Laura Wheeler Fairfax says: Ah, what is love? and if what, what?
Or if not what, then if so which
Or if which when . . .
Ah yes, e'en so, my love
E'en so,
Millions and millions and millions of kisses.

Your sweetest sweet—
JOHNNY BOY.

But after they're married he writes like this:

Dear Wife:

Yours of the 12th inst, rec'd and contents noted. Will say in reply that I have been very busy and miss you very much. I was very busy yesterday and I was busy all day today. I expect to be busy tomorrow. How are you? I hope well. I am feeling all right. Hoping you are the same, I remain

Your husband,
JOHN.

The father-to-son letter is the vim, vigor and vitality epistle,—the nothing-succeeds-like-success—honesty-is-the-best-policy — people-who-live-in-stone-houses-should-not throw glasses kind. But the son-to-father variety has usually the advantages of a college education and in consequence exudes culture and refinement from every pore. As for example:

Dear Gov:

Rec'd your check for 25 bones. Thanks. Wonder if you couldn't spare 25 more. How's mother and the folks. You ask how the world goes with me. Round and round, dad. That isn't bad is it? Don't forget the other $25.

As Ever,
TOM.

P. S. Make it $50.

Some other day I shall write an essay on collection letters. By that time I shall have more material to draw upon than I have now, if such a thing could be possible. Meanwhile let me remind you (as I have often reminded the earnest, but misguided authors of collection letters) that Voltaire said, "only women and d—n fools write letters."

Shivering Shad 'Uster' Eat Out Of Salm's Dish

"Walter Saim and me uster eat outer the same butter dish," said the Shivering Shad to the Winsome Waitress.

"Yeah, is that so?" and she languidly brushed back the hair over the left ear. She had left a small portion of same exposed.

"He did me wrong, though," said the Shad. "Here's how I stand. Look em over, closely and with malice aforethought and afterthought, I give him the tip that brung Ruth here, I piped him to Philpot—he didn't have enough sense to use it, and I told him all the way round that he's got to get pitchers."

"Me and you at a dance! Forget it, lovely maid. Did you see what the Maid of Iowa did to her lover—got off scot free, too, but that's kinder stale. They aint so very free in Scotland, take the time I was in Glasgow," (pronounced Glesga), according to the Shad.

"Well, this woman beaned the cull without no excuse atall, hed just bounced an iron rod offen her head and they sloughed her, give her 10 years. Herd instinct, domination of the opposing sex, and a stiflin' in the press that's what we're a coming to.

QUARANTINE LAW RULING PUZZLING TO LOCAL MEDICOS

Sanitary and health officers were at a loss Thursday to understand in Associated Press dispatches Thursday morning to the effect that chicken pox is not a quarantinable disease and that health officers were not authorized by general laws to examine pupils against their will or order the school closed in case chicken pox is discovered in the school.

According to rule 15 of the sanitary code in possession of local city and health officers, the disease of chicken pox is placed in the same class as measles, whooping cough, mumps and German measles and definite powers are given officers in the handling of these diseases.

Persons having these diseases can be barred from school for 21 days at the discretion of the health officer from date of taking the disease with such additions to the time as may be deemed necessary.

It has been the general interpretation of the rule here that the city health officer had full authority to control the disease and to use certain prescribed methods in preventing its spread if deemed necessary.

Ill Smelling Gas Invades High School

"It smelled worse than the distilled spirits of garlic and iodoform and it just simply soaked its way into every room and hallway in the building" was one fair Senior High school student's description of a "gas attack" which caused a few of the girls to spend a part of the day at their homes Thursday.

According to the report the "attack" was perpetrated by some mischievous boys and is the second occurrence of the same nature during the week.

A mass meeting of boys was held by direction of Principal Rider, shortly after the gas cloud had become so well established that a number of girls packed their books and went to their homes.

High school teachers declare that they have taken steps that will discourage other boys from considering it a joke to let loose evil smelling gases in the building.

In the preliminary hearing Thursday afternoon, two of the witnesses testified that a tool found outside the door that was broken over Tuesday night at the Hill store had been in the tool box of the defendant at the time the first arrest was made.

FEMALE ARMY OF POLAND WILL DISBAND

WARSAW, April 14.—Poland's Women's Battalion, of which the world heard so much in the last few years, is being demobilized. The majority of its 3,000 members are returning to domestic pursuits after more than two years of military service. A small percentage will remain in Government service as instructors of military education for women in schools which are being set up for them in Warsaw, Cracow and Posen.

Colonel Alexandria Zagorska, the commander-in-chief of the battalion, is supervising the demobilization from the cavalry barracks in Warsaw. She is a physician of Cracow who formed the battalion after losing her only son in the war at Lemberg. Her husband, also a physician, is a professor in Cracow University.

Colonel Zagorska's office is a plain room, the walls of which are decorated with a colored print of Kosciuszko and one of Pilsudski. She is a pretty, mild-mannered woman of thirty-five who wears a khaki uniform of American cloth with a skirt resembling a riding habit and has three decorations on her breast. An orderly stands guard outside her door, and although there are none but women soldiers on duty there is an atmosphere of soldierly discipline about the place.

Suffered 100 Casualties.

"Our casualties," the colonel said with the matter of factness of the experienced soldier, "have been little more than 100. We lost 40 killed at Lemberg and about 50 at Vilna. Now that peace prospects are bright for Poland our task is done and most of my soldiers will go home, those that have them, to be good wives and mothers, as women should.

"All of the 3,000 women soldiers are being demobilized except one battalion, which is still doing duty at Vilna."

The Colonel estimated that fifty women soldiers had married while in the service. If they married soldiers they continued in the battalion in preference to returning home while their husbands were also in the army.

While she was talking a company of women soldiers, trim, pretty girls not more than twenty years, were going through drill in the barrack grounds. They all carried rifles and side-arms and went through their manual of arms with the snap of veterans. "They are our best," she said with evident pride. "Most of those soldiers were recruited two years ago in Lemberg. They don't want to leave the service.

Rigid Disciplinary Code.

"Our discipline is just as severe as in the men's regiments, in fact, it has been the army's experience that women take a soldier's life more seriously than do the men and are more punctual and have a greater sense of fidelity than the men."

In reference to the Governmental scheme for educating women as officers, Colonel Zagorska said: "The Government has been so impressed with the value of women in war that it has decided to establish these schools for the military training of women in Warsaw, Cracow and Posen. We have already received 250 applications for admission to the schools from the battalion members living in Lemberg, where the legion was formed, and more are coming in from other parts of Poland. It shows the splendid spirit of the Polish women, who, more than the men, are responsible for keeping burning the fire of patriotism in the hearts of the Polish youth through all our years of oppression under other governments.

"These schools will provide the necessary military training for women as officers in the sanitary corps, the telegraph, telephone and educational branches of the army. In other words, an effort will be made to fill all those branches of the service with women so that in the event of war more men can be spared for the fighting line.

Not All in Firing Line.

"The popular impression seems to be that all of the members of the Women's Battalion were on the actual firing line in the last two years of Poland's troubles. Only a small percentage of the women were placed in the line. Organized originally for the defense of Lemberg against the attacking Ukrainian army the legion grew fast. Its members took their place in the line at Lemberg and later at Vilna, which accounts for the comparatively large number of casualties we had at those two places. But the majority have been occupied with post duty, guarding magazines and American Red Cross warehouses in Warsaw, Vilna, Lemberg and smaller places back at the front. Incidentally the Americans have helped us considerably with such things as clothing and boots and we feel very grateful.

"Under the new training in the schools, women will enlist for three years and are liable to be called to the colors at any time within that period should the peace of Poland be endangered. One interesting proviso is that women with one or more children under seven can be exempted from military duty.

Educational Standard.

"The schools will take the best educated of the battalion members now being demobilized which includes all classes. We have 500 young women who were governesses in the best families of Poland who are already enlisted in the new training scheme. The age limit is thirty-five years."

Colonel Zagorska said that the spirit of the Women's Battalion will be perpetuated through the schools which will get the pick of the original 3,000 members. "Poland," she concludes, "is counting on us to do our duty in peace as well as in war, and just like the women of America or other countries we will not be found wanting when the call comes again."

HARDING HAS WELCOME FOR ALL VISITORS

By FRANK A. STETSON.

WASHINGTON, April 14. — The Harding "How are you?" bids fair to outrival even the famous Roosevelt-tian "Dee-lighted," both in point of service and heartiness of utterance.

FRANK A STETSON

During the first weeks of the new administration it has been conservatively estimated at the White House executive offices that more that 6,000 people have grasped President Harding's hand in response to this greeting. This estimate applies only to numbers received by the president during the half-hour that he devotes daily three times a week to a "public reception" and takes no account of the hundreds that have seen Mr. Harding by scheduled appointment.

The public receptions are arranged for 12:30 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. President Harding, however, has not yet learned the knack of keeping his engagements up ot their schedule, and rarely does the line start moving toward his office before 1:30. The people begin to arrive at the executive offices about 11 o'clock and it is not an unusual sight to see a line of well-wishers massed from the doors of the offices nearly out to Pennsylvania avenue waiting patiently for hours to grasp the hands of the new chief executive.

Secret Service on Job.

Once the line gets started it is handled with "neatness and dispatch." Mr. Harding stands near the center of his circular and handsomely appointed office and the crowds are kept closed up and moving by the secret service men and Patrick E. McKenna, the efficient veteran doorkeeper. Once in a while the progress of the crowd is halted by the president himself as he recognizes a personal friend or stoops to pick up a child. After shaking the president's hand each person continues on and through another door out of the building.

The people are loud in their praise of this phase of the Harding return to "normalcy." Such ejaculations as these are always heard as the crowds file into the White House grounds after one of these receptions:

"Wasn't it wonderful?"

"He looks like a real president."

"It was certainly worth waiting for."

Imposed On by Some.

Old times at the White House say Mr. Harding allows people to impose upon him because of his unfailing courtesy and readiness to respond. They say many engagements are made for the President with people who say they only wish to pay their respects. The president after receiving such callers invariably asks them to be seated. White House etiquette requires that the caller excuse himself on the plea that he should not be taking up the president's time, but it has been so long since a president has given himself so completely to the people that this rule has evidently been forgotten and consequently Mr. Harding daily gives up more time to people than he has planned and has to do considerable night work to keep up to his schedule.

Todays The Day!

Wichita Falls fans went to bed last night eager and expectant for the coming of this morning hoping against hope that for once the weather man would deem it a duty to send the "City that Faith Built," a real baseball day and a real baseball game to usher in the fifteenth opening of the Texas league season and the second opening day in Wichita Falls.

Weather Looks Good.

The weather man was good for the signs early this morning point to not only a perfect clear day but to hot sunshiny baseball weather and it is expected that at least 6,000 fans will troop out to Athletic Park for their first look at the Spudders and Dallas Marines in action in a real league contest this year.

Plans for the largest parade ever held in Wichita Falls have been completed and all that remains is for 2 p. m. to roll around and for those who are to enter the procession to hie themselves to the City Hall and fall into line. Every one, men, women and children are expected to join the parade and are expected to be the possessor of a piece of cardboard entitling them to one first class admission into a real ball park this afternoon.

Out To the Park

After parading through the streets under the direction of the Kiwanis club committee, those who have not seats are expected to jam their way to the ball park and purchase same while those who are fortunate enough to have bought reserved seats, boxes or a place to lay down a cushion may have a few minutes to get a cold drink, supply themselves with enough cigarettes, peanuts, etc., to last them through the game.

"Kop the Kup."

The Kiwanis Club have taken hold with a vengeance to help their brother member, Walter Salm, bring the Attendance Cup to Wichita Falls and it is up to every one else in the city whether they belong to the newly formed organization or not to get out at the park this afternoon. No one in the city is permitted to be absent and no excuse will be accepted. How will you feel when "—if our city is beaten out by a few numbers and you realize that perhaps if you were there Wichita Falls would have "Kopped the Kup?" Think it over and GET OUT THERE. The game starts at 4 oclock.

Pop Bellamy of Sweetwater should be credited up another in city. He would had it was about time for the middle of sport writing season, also him.

WITH VAN

Remember at 2 p. m. the big parade starts at the City hall, wending from there through the main streets and then down to the ball park. The Kiwanis Club committee, in charge of arrangements, have issued the call for all loyal Spudder boosters to be on the scene in time to join the procession. The loyal boosters have but to answer by forming in line at the appointed place.

"For the good of the future generation," is the way George Tebeau of the newly organized Denver Broncbos of the Mid-West league puts it, when he announced that all school boys in Denver were cordially invited to the ball park to learn the fine points of the game. Boss Tebeau has promised that he will allow his pitchers to teach the kids how to throw curves, etc., the catchers to teach the art of catching the said curves and the fielders to show the youngsters how to play the various bags and the out gardens. Go to it George, that's the proper spirit.

Eddie Rickenbacker, former automobile race driver, American Ace in the late war and hero of many air battles in France, has announced his plans to fly to Indianapolis to referee the auto races in that city May 30. The former captain thinks it will take him about two days to fly from Oakland, Calif. where he is now, to the Indiana city, making one stop at Omaha, Neb., the home of the Lincoln built planes.

Bill Brennan tells the world that Carpentier will hear the birdies twitter about the fourth round, when the Frenchman and Dempsey meet next July. "Carpentier may last the first three rounds with his speed, but just one good punch from the Utah Mauler and Dee Champs will be counting the loser's end of the purse.

The attendance out arrived in this city today, but not for keeps. Each city in the Texas league will be allowed to have it on display for a period of five days until the announcement of all opening day attendance figures have been made. With the Spudders drawing the cup for the five days while Dallas is here, let's hope it will be a good omen. However, don't forget it takes more than omens to win it. Attendance is the only thing that counts.

AD GLANCIN ROUND SPTS MUST

The Wichita Falls Gun club are not only gun lovers but baseball lovers and will hold their weekly shoot this morning instead of the afternoon so as to be present at the ball game. L. H. Little, secretary of the club, has notified the members of the organization that they are expected to be at the ball park this afternoon and behind the ball park this morning. The club will go in a body to the game if possible and will be among the chief rooters unless Little misses his guess by a couple of miles.

Decision Doesn't Worry Champ In Coming Tilt

CHICAGO, April 14.—Jack Dempsey, champion heavyweight fighter, dodged a crowd of 1,000 admirers today by climbing on his train from the wrong side and left for New York to begin training for his titular match with Georges Carpentier July 2.

Dempsey announced his weight as 200 pounds stripped—11 pounds over the figure at which he expects to fight Carpentier. He appeared in perfect health.

Dempsey conferred with Floyd Fitzsimmons, Benton Harbor, Mich., promoter, and suggested that Fitzsimmons stage a match between Bill Brennan and Tommy Gibbons at Benton Harbor, July 4, the winner to meet Dempsey there on Labor day.

"I'm not worrying about the fact that decisions cannot be given in New Jersey," said Dempsey. "There will be a decision in this fight, without question. Twelve rounds will be more than are needed."

GOLFER KILLS BIRD IN FREAK GOLF SHOT

ROANOKE, Va., April 14.—Robert F. Stone, University of Virginia student, became a claimant for the 1921 freak golf shot yesterday when he made a literal "birdie" with a drive and brought down a dove flying high in the air. The ball broke the bird's wing, but was hardly slowed by the impact, and Stone made a par on the hole.

THE SPORTING LIFE

THE RUBAIYAT OF SPRING.

Back come the ball clubs from their southern stay,
Ready to start once more the scheduled fray,
While the glib Managers assure the Fans,
"The Pennant? It's a cinch—a walkaway!"

The fans, with eager ears, absorb the bull,
And, like iron filings to a magnet's pull,
Rush to buy tickets for the opening game—
One cinch, right now—the stands will all be full!

The golfer, grinning, hears the clangs and clinks
Of his old clubs, and hurries to the links,
Loud-bragging how he'll navigate the course
In less than bogey, and destroy his jinx!

The jockey grimly starts in making weight—
The tout prepares to praise each worthless skate—
And the soft public, yearning to be gypped,
Hunts through the papers for each racing date!

Yes—Spring has come—and every kind of sport
Holds, joyously, its individual fort—
Except the Football Player—he is chased,
And shelved far past the boundaries of the Court!

—Roy and Earl Mack, sons of the famous Connie, will both manage ball clubs this season. They have one cinch to start with; no matter how flinty their luck may prove, they can't possibly reach a lower standing than that which Father has been holding in his own league the last six years!

"RACE HATRED" HAS SEVERAL MEANINGS. ONE KIND IS THE SORT YOU FEEL WHEN YOU'VE BEEN GYPPED OUT OF THE OLD FAMILY BANKROLL AT THE TRACK.

IN TEXAS.

The Dusky Native: "Not a chance, suh. De Mahshal am awful strict, suh. But Ah can show yo' wheah yo' can get a little gin, suh!"

Judge Landis has all the ballplayers discounted one way, anyhow; he has been drawing $50,000 for sitting on two benches.

ORDINANCE ON SIGNS TO BE TAKEN UP

Formal consideration of the proposed city ordinance, to regulate the electric signs of the city will be taken up at the regular meeting of the business council of the Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon, according to a communication sent out Thursday by the ordinance committee.

Except for temporary cloth signs, advertising civic club gatherings carnivals, festivals and other such periodic entertainments, no signs will be permitted in the city, which projects from the building line for a distance greater than six inches, according to a copy of the proposed ordinance drafted by the committee.

The ordinance specifies that all signs must be constructed of metal, be absolutely water proof and that they shall not be supported by poles, but must be suspended from the building and supported by strong brackets and specifies that the supporting bracket, in cross section, must have a tensile strength, capable of supporting at least four times the amount of the stress on that bracket.

In addition to the brackets, the ordinance provides that where the signs are deeper than two feet that cables, making and angle of not more than 45 degrees shall be used as further supports.

Coverngs for sockets, switches, cutouts, commutating devices and other electrical appliances, necessary for operation of the signs, are required to be well covered with glass or metal and so protected that snow, sleet or rain cannot reach them to cause a short circuit in the sign.

A payment of a $2 fee is required for the erection of each sign. The money to be used for paying the salary of an inspector. The ordinance provides the inspector make daily inspection of all signs and that he report all poorly supported signs of the city council with his recommendation, and further provides that should the owner fail to repair any defects in his sign, that it be removed by city authorities.

The proposed ordinance provides for a maximum fine of $100 for any failure to comply with any of its requirements. If approved by the business council, the enactment of the ordinance will be urged on the city council.

AMATEUR LEAGUE

Replete with many errors and long hits, but a close and interesting contest, the Morgan Seeders and Pond Laundry played a seven-inning tie yesterday afternoon. Failure of the scorer to provide the batteries or a box score was due to the fact that he forgot his score book.

Score by innings.

		R.	H.	E.
Morgan Seeders	430 000—	7	10	5
Pond Laundry	232 000—	7	11	7

The Methodists lived up to their reputations by defeating the Northsiders yesterday afternoon in a hard fought, but interesting game, the final score being 4 to 3 in favor of the former. The two rivals played on a neutral diamond using the one owned by the Pond laundry.

Two hits in the seventh inning, a triple by Lloyd Taylor and a double by Lloyd Brooks scored the winning run for the church goers.

The score by innings:

Methodists	120 000 1—	4	7	5
Northside	012 000 0—	3	6	3

Summer merchandise and particularly vacation clothes, are being bought by Mrs. Salm at this time, and new shipments of pretty things are commencing to arrive from New York, the store reports.

A five-passenger Buick automobile belonging to H. H. Karrenbrock, which was stolen Wednesday night, was recovered Thursday night where it had been abandoned in front of 1515 Kemp boulevard. Outside of a flat tire and a depleted gasoline tank, no damage was reported to the car.

WINNERS OF FREE TICKETS IN BASEBALL CONTEST

From among the hundreds of answers sent in it was extremely difficult for the judge and the manager of the Record News Baseball Contest to select the 21 best answers. In the process of elimination the following rules or points for guidance were put into effect:

Answers to puzzle pictures must be correct in every detail.

Answers to the question "Which is the best ad and why" must stay within the 25-word limit.

Other things considered in the grading were neatness and the merit of the 25-word ad criticism.

After carefully considering the individual merits of the many correct answers, the first prize of five grand stand tickets was awarded Mr. Charles Wilson as having submitted the best set of answers to the puzzles and the best 25-word ad criticism.

July closed at $4.33 bid, with the general market closing net unchanged to 4 points lower. Closing bids May $4.83; July $4.25; September $4.05; October $3.80; December $709; January $7.17; March $7.24.

Spot coffee was reported quiet at 6 7-8c for Rio's 7's and 9¼ to 9¾ for

NEW YORK SUGAR.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The raw sugar market was unchanged at 4½c for 96 degrees test and freight, equal to $5.77 for centrifugal as quoted by the committee, while uncontrolled sugars are offered in increasing volume at 1c below or $5.64 for centrifugal. There were no sales of Cubas with interest in the uncontrolled sugars owing to the lower prices prevailing with sales of 6,500 bags of San Domingos and 2,000 bags for Colombian reported to local refiners.

Refined list prices were unchanged at 6c for fine granulated and 5.90c for more active sugars, owing to the exception of April offerings in the spot market. Prices were 7 points higher for April on the opening call and advanced 4 points further on covering by trade interests, but subsequentially all positions weakened under scattered selling by commission houses and closing prices were unchanged on April and 7 to 17 points lower.

Final bids, May $4.58; July $4.68; September $4.62.

MAY COTTON DECLINES TO 11.23 PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, April 14.—Declines ruled in the cotton market today from opening to close with the weakest period in the last hour of the day with trading mostly 31 to 35 points under the close of yesterday and May down to 11.40.

Last prices were 20 to 30 points with May at 11.23. The unfavorable situation in Great Britain was the main influence working against values.

From Texas there were continued accounts of planting held up by wet soil and in some important sections of the state it was said that planting probably could not be resumed for a week or ten days.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The cotton market held comparatively steady during today's early trading, but failure of late English news to show any improvement in labor conditions was an unsettling feature and prices broke under increased offerings toward the close. July sold off from $12.55 to 12.32 with the general market closing barely steady, at a net decline of 28 to 40 points.

Liverpool cables were weak but the market here opened steady at a decline of 1 to 8 points. Reports that the war finance corporation had approved applications for a loan to finance exports of 30,000 bales to various foreign countries, including Germany had a sustaining influence.

Selling became a little more active toward the close, when southern hedging was more in evidence than earlier in the week and there was considerable pressure from Wall street sources. May broke to 11.76 and October to 12.77 and last prices were the lowest of the day on nearly all positions. The census report showing 437,933 bales consumed in this country for the month of March against 576,789 last year was not considered an important influence on the day's market. Private cables from Liverpool said that Manchester trade prospects were favorable but that the spot demand was less active. The gossip is that the 30,000 bales of cotton mentioned in connection with the war finance corporation financing are to be shipped by one of the southern co-operative marketing organizations. Exports today 7,267 bales, making 3,904,013 so far this season. Port receipts 14,199. United States port stocks 1,420,482.

LIVERPOOL SPOTS.

LIVERPOOL, April 14.—Cotton spot fair inquiry; prices lower. Good middling 08.49; fully middling $7.94; middling $7.29, low middling $6.24; good ordinary $4.89; ordinary $4.24. Sales 4,000 bales, including 1,500 American. Receipts 12,000 bales, all American. Futures closed quiet and steady. April $7.11; May 7.86; July $8.08; October $8.31; December $8.42; January $8.46; March $8.53.

STOCK MART REACTIONARY SHOWING WEAK

NEW YORK, April 14.—The stock market resumed its reactionary course today, rails, steels and affiliated issues again displaying pronounced weakness at net recessions of 1 to 4½ points. Commodity markets, especially grains, also were unsettled. Factors which have served more particularly in the last week to depress general economic conditions were again effective. The British labor conflict and the urgent financial requirements of various railroads and other concerns assumed graver aspects.

Conspicuous features of the broader reversal embraced a number of high grade transportations, especially Canadian Pacific, Delaware and Hudson and Louisville and Nashville. Among the weaker industrials and specialties were crucibles Close Sheffield and U. S. Steels, pressed steel car, Pullman and General Electric.

Sugars, tobaccos, utilities and finally the oils and motors also gave way. Lowest quotations of the session were made in the last hour. Supporting orders then were negible at best, a nervous tone prevailing at the close. Sales amounted to 575,000 shares.

Never the money market no freight exchange figured to any perceptible extent in the day's operations. Call and time funds were unaltered," but international remittances were firmer, the Italian rate making a further market advance. Conforming to the heaviness of stocks, numerous railway bonds tended downward, especially convertible issues. Liberty bonds were mainly lower, but internationals were inclined to further improvement. Total sales, par value were $8,775,000.

BUYING POWER BROADENS IN GRAIN MART

CHICAGO, April 14.—For the first time in quite a while, buying power in the grain markets broadened somewhat today and liquidation gave evidence of having spent its force. All deliveries of wheat and corn after touching new low record prices for the season, rallied to above yesterday's finish. Wheat, however, failed to hold the advance, and closed weak, 1 to 1⅜c net lower with May $1.21¾ to $1.21⅝ and July $1.05¾ to $1.06. Corn gained ¼ to ⅝ net and oats a shade to ¼@⅜; provisions lost 17 to 35 cents.

Corn and oats were relatively firm and from the outset, responding to an improved sah inquiry.

Declines in the hog market weakened provisions.

LAMAR SCHOOL TO BE BUILT IMMEDIATELY

Decision to proceed immediately with the construction of the Lamar school building, to serve the district centered around the junction of Kentucky and Jalonic streets, is expected at the next regular meeting of the school board, scheduled for early next week, it was learned Thursday.

The new school building will have eight rooms, will be of brick, and will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. It will serve a section of the city recently developing, which is not very well served by existing facilities.

Members of the board have finished inspecting the various sites under consideration and it is understood that they have unofficially agreed that the Kentucky and Jalonic site is the most feasible location now available.

No site for the Washington school building for negroes has yet been selected, according to members, but several locations are now under consideration.

It is expected that members of the board will reach an agreement on a location for this building during the next ten days.

HEAVY VAGRANCY FINE IS IMPOSED BY POLICE COURT

The highest vagrancy fine possible in the city police court was assessed Friday, when Otto Umberger was fined $200.

Umberger set forth that he had an income of approximately $1,000 from oil properties and did not need to work for a living and that his time was occupied with his private business affairs.

The case was appealed.

Rotarians To Attend Opener At Park Today

Rotarians will be present en masse at todays opening game, it was indicated by the enthusiastic affirmative shouts coming in answer to just that question at their Thursday luncheon —a demonstration closely following a spirited rendition by the entire club of the old favorite, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," under the leadership of R. E. Shepherd and B. Frank Johnson.

Spirited and optimistic talks by visiting Rotarians were an added feature of the meeting, two coming from Mississippi Rotarians, Jim Lowe, banker, president of the Greenwood Mississippi club, and Ran Schlater, insurance man, a member of the same club, with the third by John C. Bowie of the San Jacinto club, who spoke briefly on "God's Chosen Garden Spot—the Rio Grande Valley."

A committe is to be named by President Roberts to carry into execution a plan advanced by Tom Bergin for the utilization of downtown vacant lots for the parking of autos, and relief of congestion on the streets, it was decided. In making the suggestion Mr. Bergin did so with the idea that the Boy Scouts could clean up and keep in order the lots, and by charging a nominal fee for the parking privilege, secure a source of revenue for the support of their work.

A list of 12 members nominated for the board of directors of the club, was announced by H. H. Bray, chairman of the nominating committee, from which six members of the board will be chosen, the other six, being from the old board which holds over.

The nominations follow: C. C. Riddle, P. A. Rogers, E. S. Goodner, C. Kirby, J. W. Naylor, Frank Keim, Julian Montgomery, M. Glover, John Bilyou, G. D. Fox, A. Bebb and Al Biedenhorn.

DETECTIVES COMING TO HUNT HAVERLY

Chicago detectives on their way here in search of Paul J. B. Haverly, whom they thought was under arrest were turned back at Des Moines, Iowa by officials here.

Haverly was keeper of the seal and records of the Knights of Pythias lodge and is wanted, according to officers, in connection with the disappearance of $52,000 from the treasury of the lodge, two years ago.

GRAND JURY RETURNS 32 INDICTMENTS

After being in session for three and half days, the federal grand jury made a final report to Judge James C. Wilson Thursday noon returning 32 true bills indicting 50 people. Following the report made by W. W. Gardner, as foreman, the jury was dismissed by Judge Wilson.

No surprises were sprung in the report of the grand jury a majority of those against whom indictments were returned having been arrested and either confined to the county jail or out on bond. Arrests in connection with a few of the indictments are expected within a few days.

Although no cases have as yet been set, it is expected that several will be tried during the coming week. Law cases have also been set for the coming week, but it is planned to also try a few of the criminal cases with the remainder to be completed the following week if possible. FAMOUS SURGEON QUITS PRACTICE TO AID BAHAISM

Dr. Florien Krug.

Dr. F. Krug, famous New York surgeon, has given up his practice and will abandon his home next autumn to move to Palestine to devote himself to the Baha movement. He and his wife will live in Haifa, Palestine, the home of Abdul Baha, who, they believe, fulfils the phophecy of the New Testament and has come upon the earth to lead mankind to the truth. If Baha tours the world Krug hopes to accompany him.

BORDER TRAFFIC IN SCOTCH, GIN AND BRANDY GROWING IN FACE OF STRICT PATROL

NEWPORT, Vt., April 14.—Defying death, injury and arrest, a host of rum runners along the New England-Canada line are using all sorts of cunning tricks to make quick and easy fortunes.

More than $5,000,000 worth of liquor finds its way from Canada to the United States monthly, the authorities say.

Perhaps the most picturesque features of the border liquor traffic are the "line houses." The barroom built on the international boundary has long been a favorite setting for novelists and scenario writers. Many of these exist. Bars are mounted on wheels. When Canadian officers raid, bar is moved to the United States side of the room. When United States officers arrive bar is wheeled into Canada. Patrons enter door on United States territory, cross the room and buy in Canada. Officials, unless they co-operate and raid simultaneously, are helpless to make arrests.

Plan Airplane Patrol.

Crossing the line in airplanes laden with liquor was the first and most obvious method of nullifying the prohibition laws which presented itself to bootleggers. Moreover, to date it has perhaps been the most successful. This method of rum running is said to have been used continuously since prohibition went into effect, despite the expense of its operation. To checkmate this form of traffic the Canadian authorities are said to be planning an airplane patrol of the border of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine.

Fast motor boats loaded with liquor leave Canadian shore of Lake Memphramagog, preceded by speedy pilot boat innocent of contraband. If Federal officers are in evidence, pilot boat flashes warning to rum runners who are far enough out in lake to make their escape in spite of pursuit. If there is no danger the contraband is landed.

Two high-powered automobiles cross the line from Canada into Maine, the first carrying camouflage whiskey cases, the second loaded with genuine liquor. Government officials hold up the first machine. Its drivers turn out from the road and the search proceeds. While officers are thus engaged, the real whiskey runners in the second auto speed past at sixty miles an hour and escape.

Spigot Is Exhaust Pipe.

Automobile seized at Worchester, Mass., and found to have a false body—a hollow shell capable of carrying large quantity of liquor. Automobile said to have cost $11,000 to construct. Believed to have been used for months in liquor traffic between the United States and Canada. Liquor poured into body by hidden opening near top of tonneau, and extracted from small tap at bottom.

Hundreds of varieties of the false gas tanks discovered on automobiles and motor boats running between Canadian and American points. False bottoms, small interior banks, to be completely surrounded by gasoline and similar devices are common. One variety is divided into two compartments and turns on a pivot. One side is filled with alchohol and the tank is then revolved, bringing the gasoline compartment to the top.

Naughty Rum Smugglers.

Coasting schooners from Canada heave too off small islands near the Maine coast and consignments of bonded liquor are landed and carefully concealed. The liquor is brought off a little at a time by fishermen, who load their dories with a case or two of whisky and cover the contraband with fresh caught cod fish.

Motor boats running between Canadian ports and towns along the upper Maine coast have been found to have hollow keels in which many gallons of whiskey have been brought into Castine, Sackett's Harbor, Machias, towns on Eggemoggin Beach and Deed Isle. Liquor is shipped to Boston and other markets in cases labelled "lobsters" and containing a shallow layer of shell fish, in cars supposed to contain potatoes.

Scotch, Gin and Brandy Pour In.

Ten gallons of whiskey seized in tonneaus of two automobiles shipped in a box car over the Canadian line. Liquor found in boxes labelled "No. 1 and No. 2 Phonograph Records. Handle with care."

Shipment of wires, in bales; pulpwood and honeycomba, packed and marked according to these classifications and addressed to reputable firms in the United States found at border to consist of rare Scotch, gin and brandy. Broken bottles in freight cars and resulting aroma aroused suspicion of authorities. Doubtless hundreds of such shipments go through undetected.

Crews of liners sailing from European countries have smuggled huge amounts of liquor to their friends in the United States. Whole cases of booze are thrown overboard outside the three-mile limit, and marked with a buoy. Smugglers in rowboats go after them under cover of darkness and bring the booty ashore. Nothing can be done to stop this unless the Federal agents are fortunate enough to nab the smugglers in the act of landing the contraband.

Porters on international train runs are in a position to smuggle liquor with ease. Hiding places are found for liquor on the trains. The liquor is dropped off to confederates at stated places.

WOMAN WAS SORRY AN INDUSTRY RESULTED

NEW YORK, April 14.—A woman's compassion for her suffering countrymen gave rise to one of the most important industries in Ireland.

Irish lace, desired by women in all parts of the civilized world, is the result of a young nun's effort to alleviate suffering in the famine of 1847.

The nun picked to pieces a sample of Italian lace and learned how it was made. She taught the process to a number of young girls who were enabled to earn money in this fashion. There is a school of lacemaking at her convent today.

E. M. Newman, travel lecturer, tells of this in his article, "Ireland Today" in the April issue of The Mentor Magazine.

AMERICAN FLIVVER IS OUSTING JAUNTING CAR

NEW YORK, April 14. — The American flivver has invaded Ireland and bids fair to supplant the picturesque peasant cart and jaunting car.

E. M. Newman, travel lecturer, who recently returned from Ireland where he gathered material for an article published in the April issue of The Mentor Magazine, says that the Irish farmer, prosperous for the first time in years, is buying so many of the little cars, that an assembling plant is now being built at Cork.

PUPILS WILL ATTEND OLNEY SCHOOL MEET

By eliminating chapel period and the lunch hour and cutting the class periods to 45 minutes each, officials of the Wichita Falls schools announced Saturday that they will complete the regular class work and dismiss their classes at 1 o'clock to permit all who desire to go to Olney to attend the District Interscholastic contests.

Miss Juanita Kinsey, head of the department of expression and public speaking, announced that the debaters and speakers will all leave at 7 o'clock Friday morning. The entrants in the athletic events will leave at 9 o'clock, according to Coach Danheim.

As a means of adding further interest to the events a baseball game has been scheduled between Wichita Falls and Graham high schools.

The game is not a part of the interscholastic events of the day.

The literary events will begin Friday morning.

In order that two events may be held at the same time, arrangements have been made to use two churches, for the literary events and should it appear that the schedule will be crowded, athletic events also will be staged while the literary contests are being conducted.

Local school teachers declare that they are confidently expecting several of the Wichita Falls students to first place and believe that they have representatives who will be able to win the statewide contest, should they be selected.

On the eve of departure, members of the track team were reported in the pink of condition.

They expect to leave about 9 o'clock Friday morning. They will be given a good rest and with a light workout, will be sent to bed early Friday night, according to High school coaches, and prepared to enter the contests Saturday afternoon with all their freshness and vigor.

Those who will attend the meet are announced as follows:

Tennis preliminaries: Girls' singles, Jewel Williams; girls' doubles, Frankie Adickes and Dorothy Nolen. Boys' singles, William Powers; boys' doubles, William Powers and Clifton Haynes.

Literary events: High school declamation—Junior girls, Dorthy Reid; junior boys, Sam Basham; senior girls, Marguerite Fisher; senior boys, Pierce Langford.

Track and field events for both classes will be held on Saturday from 10:30 in the morning until 4:30 in the afternoon, with an hour and a half off at noon. Local contestants in these events will be Luke Wilson, Richard Kenley, Philip Pink, Donovan Weldon, George Seibert, Harold MacKenzie, Leo Baldwin and Tom Beatty.

LETTING FARMS GO TO SEED IS PROFITABLE

NEW YORK, April 14.—The United States is now the seed garden of the world.

According to a writer in The Mentor Magazine for April, more seed is being grown in this country than in Europe. A single company in California sows more than 3000 acres to seed plants. One sweet pea bed is 300 acres broad. There is a seed market in Toledo, Ohio, where brokers speculate in clover seed "futures" as wheat is gambled on in the Chicago pit.

Millions of flowers are grown in the seed industry but never plucked.

FUNNIEST RAILROAD IS ON IRISH WEST COAST

NEW YORK, April 14.—The funniest railroad in the world is located on the west coast of Ireland says a writer in the April issue of The Mentor Magazine.

Twin cars, balanced on a single rail three feet above the ground, travel the 13 miles between Ballybunnion and Listowel at the magnificent speed of four miles an hour.

There are no crossings on this railroad. When a farmer wants an outlet through the railroad, he cuts and hinges a section of the rail. Frequently this gate is left open and the engineer is forced to stop and whistle until someone appears and closes the gap in the track.
