LABOR FAVORS JOHNSON BILL ON IMMIGRANTS

American Federation Plans Extensive Fight on Dillingham Measure in Congress.

Executive Committee Plans Publicity Campaign to Fight "Open Shop" Agitation.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Organized labor will endeavor to prevent enactment of the pending Dillingham bill, restricting immigration to 3 per cent of the number of aliens of each nationality in the country in 1910, as the first move under the new legislative program adopted here by representatives of the national and international unions affiliated in the American Federation of Labor.

Federation headquarters announced today that legislative representatives of the organization would attempt to obtain substitution of the Johnson bill, virtually prohibiting immigration for one year, for the Dillingham proposal. The latter was passed by the senate, and a conference agreement on it is pending in the house.

Legislative representatives also have been instructed to endeavor to obtain a congressional investigation into conditions in the strike area in West Virginia.

Whether labor will attempt at the extra session of congress to bring about repeal of the Sherman anti-trust act will depend, according to information today, upon what action is taken to exempt labor organizations from liability under that law.

Counsel for the United Mine Workers and other interested organizations were said to have begun preparation of final details of a bill to be introduced in the extra session that would legalize union organization work in all lines of industry, despite any individual contracts made between employer and employe not to join a trades union.

Plans for the federation's new publicity campaign were being completed today while the executive council discussed means for raising money necessary for the movement.

G. O. P. SENATORS DEFEAT EFFORT ON CONFIRMATIONS

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Senate republicans today defeated another effort by democrats to get action on presidential nominations for promotion of army officers of high rank. The refusal was a strict party vote of 36 to 34 on a motion of Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, and the senate proceed with executive business for confirmation of army promotions. The vote was taken after absent members had been hurriedly summoned by Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, making a point of no quorum.

Later the senate in open session confirmed the nominations of three general officers who served during the war with Germany, to the rank of brigadier general in the reserve corps. They were Richard C. Marshall, Jr., Brice P. Disque and John H. Sherburne.

TAYLOR NOT PEEVED AT DEPARTMENT

U. S. District Attorney Explains Resignation to Harding.

By B. N. TIMMONS

Record News Staff Bureau.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—The Department of Justice today made public a telegram from District Attorney R. E. Taylor of the northern district of Texas in which Taylor eclared that he had been misquoted in newspaper accounts of his resignation.

According to a press service report, Taylor resigned directly to President-elect Harding. The unusual procedure of a federal official resigning to a man who is still a private citizen, amazed the Department of Justice and Taylor was called on for an explanation.

According to the Department of Justice, Taylor replied that he had simply given notice as soon after March 4, as his republican successor could be chosen by Mr. Harding, he wished to retire.

Taylor also denied that he had said that he was in disagreement with the department over proceedings against alleged profiteers under the Lever act.

Arrest Ten For Shooting In Arkansas

By Associated Press.

DEWITT, Ark., Feb. 25.—Ten persons, including Marshal T. M. Jones, are under arrest here in connection with the shooting yesterday morning, in which the marshal's son, P. G. Jones, was killed; Clarence LaCotts was dangerously wounded, and the marshal's index finger was shot off, and as the result of which Mrs. Cordelia Brockhart died of shock.

One of the men, Elmer Vanadore, is charged with firing the shot which killed young Jones. The others held, with the exception of Marshal Jones, were said by officers to have been occupants of the rooming house in which the shooting occurred. Marshal Jones is charged in a warrant with assault with intent to kill.

The cause of the trouble has not been cleared up, but Marshal Jones stated that he and his son, who was a deputy, went to the rooming house to investigate a report of a shooting and that as they appeared the occupants of the house opened fire on them.

Reports from Little Rock today contained information that LaCotts, who is in a hospital there, may recover, despite early belief that he was fatally wounded.

GOVERNOR'S REMARKS ON BILL SCORED

Crumpton Answers Recent Criticism of Legislature in Killing Amendment to Dean Prohibition Law.

House Thrown Into Hottest Chapter of Present Session by Speech of Bowie Representative.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Feb. 25.—The stirring address in the house today by Sid Crumpton of Bowie answering Governor Neff's recent criticism of the action of the house in killing the Morris bill amending the Dean law, was the cause of one of the hottest sessions of the present legislature. The house recently killed the bill by Morris of Medina amending the Dean prohibition law so as to allow convictions on the unsupported testimony of an accomplice or the purchaser of the liquor. This bill was suggested by Governor Neff and after the house had killed it he gave out a statement deploring the action.

A motion to print Mr. Crumpton's address in the journal was made by West of Bexar. After furious debate, the motion was carried by a vote of 82 to 30. Satterwhite of Carson then moved that the governor's statement as printed in the papers be printed in the journal. This motion carried by a vote of 110 to 8.

On Point of Privilege.

Mr. Crumpton made his remarks on a point of personal privilege and although he did not mention the governor nor his criticism, he said that he and 60 other members of the house had been classed as standing in the way of legislation of this state. There were 61 affirmative votes to striking out the enacting clause of the Morris bill.

"Permit me to say," he continued, "that as a criminal lawyer I have defended a few charged with the violation of the local option law. In my vote the other day I voted to oppose the principles of the organic law of the land; I voted to maintain the statutory law of a constitutional body and in doing so I was prompted by the spirit only of maintaining the old landmarks that should guide courts and juries in dealing with the life, liberty and property of their fellow men."

Mr. Crumpton called attention of the house to the constitution regarding the equal rights of men and their privileges.

"I voted my convictions and I have no apologies to make," he said. "I voted to maintain and uphold and support the rules of the law which guarantees to men their life, liberty and property."

Barry Miller of Dallas, Curtis of Tarrant, Darroch of Mills and West of Bexar, spoke in behalf of the motion, while Thompson of Red River and Morris of Medina opposed the motion to print in the journal.

Called Sparring Match.

Mr. Morris referred to it as a "sparring match" and said that it should be decided in the newspapers and kept out of the journal.

Various members of the house construed the action of the house as tending toward a break between the governor and the legislature.

When asked for a statement concerning the matter, Governor Neff said that "I stand on the correctness of my statement and I have no apologies to make." He refused to the statement deploring the action of the house.

HOTELKEEPER SUES AMERICA FOR DAMAGES

Frenchman Claims Hob-Nailed Shoes Ruined His Floors.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Hob-nailed shoes of 200 doughboy guards posted at the Hotel Crillon, where the American peace commission had its headquarters in Paris caused virtually the damage for which the owners charged the commission $125,870.82, the manager of the hotel, Henri Dequis, said here today. It was this item of damages in the expenses of the delegation over which considerable protest was voiced recently in the house of representatives, and which, among other expenses, President Wilson was asked to itemize in a resolution adopted by the house.

The 200 American soldiers who guarded the commission in Paris damaged the Hotel Crillon to the extent of about $625 each," said M. Dequis, quickly adding that it was not the fault of themselves, but the shoes they wore.

"They were neither impolite nor boisterous, but they had to tramp in and out and all about the hotel, all the time wearing hob-nailed shoes over the polished floors and expensive rugs. It cost the hotel 650,000 francs to replace the carpets and $500,000 to put the hotel in order, he declared.

M. Dequis thought the boots of the French soldiers would have had the same effect and said he understood the British did even more damage to the Hotel Majestic.

"It is very sad," he sighed, "but C'Est la guerre."

Bodenstab as representative from the Fifth Wisconsin district, adopting instead a declaration that he had not received a plurality of the votes cast at a special election in December, 1919. His opponent, Victor L. Berger, received a larger vote, but was declared ineligible by the house because of his conviction under the espionage act.

ALLIES WILL REPAY DEBTS LAMONT SAYS

Representative of America at Peace Conference Asserts This Country Will Get Back Loans.

Declares President Wilson and Advisers Opposed Any Other Plan During Paris Negotiations.

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.—All the allies will pay their war debts to the United States, Thomas Y. Lamont, partner in J. P. Morgan and Company who was one of the United States treasury representatives on the American commission to negotiate peace, declared tonight before the Philadelphia Public Ledger forum on the peace conference.

T. LAMONT

"I note a constant reference to some alleged sesecret understanding arrived at in Paris," said the financier, "between President Wilson and his advisers on one hand and the French and British representatives on the other, to the effect that the allied indebtedness to the United States should, in whole or part, be cancelled or forgiven.

Wilson Favors Repayment

"There's aint no such thing.' From start to finish of the peace conference, President Wilson and his advisers, without exception, opposed vigorously and finally, any such suggestion or proposition of cancellation. There was no commitment, expressed or inferred, near or remote, moral or otherwise, as to the handling of the allied indebtedness to the United States government. All the main facts in the suggested arrangements for the substitution of German for Belgium bonds were made public at the time.

"The whole question of international debts is a most important one. The American people must, in the last analysis, determine it upon the principle of what course is best calculated to benefit the world as a whole, including America."

Depreciating America's lack of representation on the permanent reparations commission, Mr. Lamont said:

Delay In Fixing Indemnity

"The commission, in my judgment, has been, in a considerable measure, responsible for the lamentable delay that has occurred in fixing the amount of German indemnity.

"Our failure to name a demand for the commission has not been merely a great disappointment to our former associates in the war, but has, I believe, been largely responsible for the continued economic unsettlement in Europe with its unfortunate reflex upon our own industrial and international business.

Mr. Lamont dealt extensively with the dicussions at Paris and the reasons for the decision to establish a permanent reparations commission. He questioned the wisdom of Lloyd George and Clemenceau in insisting

FINDING MONEY GONE, BURGLARS BURN POSTOFFICE

By Associated Press.

YOUTHFUL BANK CLERK ABSCONDS

Second "Underpaid" Employe Takes Huge Sum From Employer.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The police of the nation tonight were on the outlook for William Dalton, 17 years old, $65 a month bank clerk, whose alleged theft of $772,000 worth of liberty bonds yesterday from the Great Northern Trust company was made known by bank officials today.

Although convinced that Dalton was hiding somewhere in the city, the police department telegraphed a description of the boy all over the country, with information that $1,000 would be paid for his arrest and $25,000 for recovery of the bonds.

Dalton is believed to have secreted the bonds—all in large denominations—about his person when he went out to lunch yesterday. He had been sorting them in a cage.

The theft was the second in this district recently, in which a youthful bank clerk figured. The other was at Ottawa, Ill., when a 19-year-old clerk named Cary, who received $90 a month, attempted to steal nearly $200,000, but was caught and the money recovered. This case started an attack by Senator Dial of South Carolina on Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, the senator taking exception to a statement the judge made from the bench that bank officials were partly responsible for the theft because they underpaid clerks who were in responsible positions.

SEAMEN PLAN GENERAL STRIKE ON MAY FIRST

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Possibility of a nation-wide strike May 1 of officers and seamen on American ships upon expiration of existing working agreements between owners and deep sea unions loomed here today.

The American Steamship Owners' Association, representing virtually all American owned tonnage, advised Rear Admiral Benson, chairman of the shipping board, that it was "averse to entering into a general conference with the unions at this time." Admiral Benson had been requested by the unions to call such a conference.

The disposition of the ship owners, according to one of the association members, was to eliminate from the cost of ship operations some of the expense which they claim is making successful competition with foreign flag vessels impossible. The existing wage scale, the owners believe, is too high.

No official statements have as yet been issued by union representatives.

The agreement with the deck hands and engine room forces expires May 1 and that with the deck officers, August 1.

Thousands of Reservists Offer Selves for Military Service Against Invaders.

By Associated Press.

PANAMA, Feb. 25.—Thousands of Panamanians presented themselves today for military service against Costa Rica, as a result of the appeal, issued last night by President Belisario Porras, following the receipt of official confirmation that Costa Rican troops had occupied the disputed territory of Coto, bordering on the Pacific frontier of the two republics.

On learning today that Charge d'Affaires LeFevre at Washington had asked the good offices of the United States in order to prevent bloodshed, the president authorized a statement that the Panaman government had not asked for mediation and that the request, if made by the charge, was unauthorized.

Details of occupation of Coto, received here, say that Colonel Zuniga Mors arrived at Coto Monday evening on board ship with 100 troops. He commanded Manuel Pinzon, the Panamanian police inspector at Coto, to surrender. Pinzon refused to comply, but offered no resistance and transmitted the news to the town of David, capital of Chiriqui province, whence it was relayed to Panama. It is stated that every male in Chiriqui immediately volunteered for service.

EYE WITNESS SAYS WINTER KILLED GIRL

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 25.—Howard Winter, companion of Miss Florence Barton, a local society girl shot to death on a lonely road near here last October, testifying late today at the preliminary hearing of Densel Chester, identified Chester as the man who fired the shots which caused the young woman's death.

Winter's testimony created a sensation in the courtroom, which was crowded with persons who had successfully fought their way past hundreds of others who tried to gain admission.

Winter, Miss Parton's fiance, was the last of several witnesses examined. When he had concluded the hearing was adjourned until tomorrow afternoon.

Chester, who entered the courtroom on crutches, gave no indication that he heard what Winter said.

The case has attracted wide attention because of the prominence of the Barton family and because of a sensational escape Chester made from a moving train near Broken Bow, Neb., while being returned to Kansas City from Great Falls, Mont., where he was arrested. The prisoner was captured after a search of several days. He made two efforts to commit suicide while in jail at Broken Bow, Neb., and after being brought here was confined in a hospital because of his injuries.

TEXAS RATES INCREASED BY COMMISSION

States' Rights Given Another Jolt in Ruling of I. C. C. on Intra-State Traffic.

Lone Star Officials Put Up Hard Fight to Prevent Higher Tariffs but to No Avail.

By B. N. TIMMONS

Record News Staff Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—States rights got another jolt today when the Interstate Commerce Commission overruled the Texas Railroad Commission and ordered railroads to put into effect, rates, fares and surcharges on persons or passengers traveling wholly within the state of Texas, which shall correspond with similar changes on interstate passenger and freight traffic.

Texas was the nineteenth state to attack the right of the Interstate Commerce Commission's authority to fix freight and passenger rates for interstate commerce. The decision handed down today differed little in detail from the decision in the other eighteen cases.

The decision was expected and at the time the case was argued here on February 3, Texas officials had little if any hope of winning and the argument really was for the purpose of record in the Wisconsin case, which will be argued in the Supreme court Monday and in which Texas and seventeen other states will support the Wisconsin contention that the Interstate Commerce Commission has exceeded its authority in fixing fares and freight rates on shipments wholly within a state.

The case in which the decision was handed down today, was argued for the state of Texas here on February 3, by Attorney General Cureton, S. C. Rowe and Sam H. Cowan of Fort Worth. The record shows that the decision of the commission really was made on February 12, so that only nine days was occupied in reaching the decision. Commissioner Eastman dissented from the majority report and upheld the Texas contention.

The commission in its decision said that for the year ending July 31, 1920, the operation of Texas railroads were conducted at a loss of more than $10,000,000 and this tremendous loss was the reason why the commission ordered the increase in rates and fares. Even with the increased rates the commission thinks the roads will continue to lose money.

The commission cited a number of instances to prove its contention that the rates which the Texas commission decided were equitable would be unduly preferential to freight and passenger traffic, within the state and unduly prejudicial to interstate traffic.

HOUSE VOTES TO ADJOURN ON MARCH 12

Miller Offers Joint Resolution Closing Sixty-Day Regular Session Sine Die on That Date.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Feb. 25.—The house is in favor of adjourning sine die on March 12, the close of the regular sixty days session according to a resolution adopted late today. Harry Miller of Dallas in a house joint resolution proposed adjournment on that day and the house adopted it by a vote of 75 to 44.

The house also passed to engrossment the senate joint resolution by Senator Page of Bastrop amending the constitution to increase the salaries of the governor and attorney general to $8,000 per year and those of the secretary of state, comptroller and state treasurer to $5,000 per year. Before engrossment, however, the house added amendments proposing to increase the salaries of the legislators to $10 for regular sessions of 120 days and $5 per day thereafter; also $10 per day for all extra sessions. The present regular session is sixty days and the present salary $5 per day for the sixty days and $2 per day thereafter. The amendment is to be submitted to the people on August 21, 1921.

Powers of the state board of control are reduced in a bill introduced in the house by Satterwhite of Carson. The bill provides the board shall submit the budgets of the departments and institutions to the legislature without recommendations.

Burkett of Eastland introduced a bill in the house amending the Dean prohibition law so that the purchaser of liquor is not guilty under the law of a felony, thus leaving such purchaser free to testify against the violator of the law. Mr. Burkett said that he hoped the bill would meet the approval of the governor who recently made a statement deploring the action of the house in killing the Morris bill.

The senate operated on a bare quorum today, a number of the members being absent. A number of minor bills were passed to engrossment but no roll calls were had and no bills finally passed.

Representative Pope of Nueces announced in the house that when the anti-alien land ownership bill by Senator Dudley came up in the house he would propose an amendment making the provisions of the bill more stringent and excluding any alien from acquiring land who has not obtained citizenship papers. This bill is intended to restrict Japanese from acquiring land in Texas and has been passed by the senate.

The house adopted a resolution by Miller of Dallas to be submitted to the president together with similar resolutions adopted by the legislatures of Arkansas and Louisiana, calling upon the president to set aside a week in March to be known as "Rice Week."

ALLIES WILL REPAY DEBTS, LAMONT SAYS

upon such high figures from Germany maintaining that the popularity of each was so great at the time that they could have outridden, or even profited by, the political storm which would have resulted in their two countries had they been willing to agree to a smaller figure, which Germany could have paid, and which would have gone far toward settling the world's economic condition.

Should Include Pensions

He told how General Smuts finally convinced President Wilson that pensions should be included in the reparation bill. Some of the experts, he said, gathered in the president's library and explained to him that they could not find a single lawyer in the American delegation who would give an opinion in favor of including pensions, and that all logic was against it.

"Logic, logic," Mr. Lamont said the president exclaimed. "I don't give a damn for logic. I am going to include pensions."

"There was not one of us in the room whose heart did not beat with a like feeling," said Mr. Lamont.

"I am going to take this opportunity," he continued, "to say a word, in general, as to President Wilson's attitude at the peace conference. He is accused of having been unwilling to consult this colleagues. I never saw a man more ready and anxious to consult than he. He has been accused of having been desirous to gain credit for himself and to ignore others. I never saw a man more considerate of those of his coadjutors who were working immediately under him, nor a man more ready to give them credit with the other chiefs of state.

Wilson Disarmed Opponents

"President Wilson undoubtedly had his disabilities. If it came to a horse trade, Lloyd George could undoubtedly have 'out-jockeyed' him; but it seldom reached such a situation, because President Wilson, by his manifest sincerity and open candor, always saying precisely what he thought, would early disarm his opponents in argument.

"President Wilson did not have a well organized secretariat staff. He did far too much of the work himself. In execution, we all have a blind spot in some part of our eyes. President Wilson's was his inability to use men; an inability, mind you, not a refusal. On the contrary, when any of us volunteered or insisted upon taking responsibility off his shoulders, he was delighted."

NATIONAL WOMAN'S PARTY DISBANDS, THEN REORGANIZES

Left to right: Mrs. Izetta Jewel Brown, W. Va., state chairman of the Woman's Party; Mrs. Abby Scott Baker, Washington, D. C., political chairman; Miss Margaret Wilson; Mrs. Howard Kriet, Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. J. A. H. Hopkins, Newark, N. J., state chairman.

The National Woman's party, organized eight years ago to aid in winning equal suffrage, disbanded officially at the closing session of the convention and a new National Woman's party was immediately formed. This new organization has as its object "the removal of the legal disabilities of women." It will also work for equal suffrage in other countries and "any association of nations that may be established." The photograph shows some of the prominent women in the organization. Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of Pres. Wilson, is one of them.

Goodman No. 7 Well Settles Down To 7000-Barrel Production Daily

"The principal development in connection with the completion of our big well is the injection of the sporting element into the development in the Breckenridge field," said J. J. Perkins, half owner of the Perkins and Walker No. 7 Goodman Breckenridge sensation, in commenting on the well following his return to Wichita Falls Friday morning.

"This well, which is in a territory surrounded with small production, is the biggest well which has been completed in Breckenridge," Mr. Perkins continued.

"It will show operators that there is always a chance of their striking a big production, notwithstanding the size of the first completions—the chances of striking a gusher remaining until the lease has been drilled up.

Small Producers Offset

"This well of ours is offset in all directions by small producers. The offset to the west is a 200-barrel well, the one to the east 300 barrels, a diagonal offset to the southeast is making 800, diagonal offset to the offset to the southwest is making 500, and the offset to the south is still drilling. The offset on the north was a junked hole, the rig being skidded and the test now being down about half way."

The well, according to Mr. Perkins, came in with an initial capacity of around 15,000 barrels for the first 24 hours, settling to 10,000 in the following similar period, and has now settled down to about 7,000 per day—giving rise, by its size, to many rumors crediting it with being a great deal larger.

The well has been on the sand for nearly a month, completion being delayed until pipe line connections could be secured.

Produces Millions In Oil

Nine wells have been drilled in the Perkins and Walker lease, all producers, and three more are yet to be drilled, to complete the development.

The lease was originally 183 acres, 40 acres having been sold following the completion of the first well, also an extraordinarily large producer, the remainder being still under the ownership of Messrs. Perkins and Walker. The number of wells drilled will give the lease an average of a little better than 10 acres for each well.

Following the completion of the first producer, which came in with an initial production of around 10,000 barrels, the well and the surrounding 40 acres were sold to the Bass Petroleum Company, at a consideration of about a million and a half. The first well alone has already produced more than a million dolars worth of oil.

Indians Will Serve Buffalo On Round-Up

The slaughter of a bull buffalo by Comanche Indians, who will barbecue the meat after the fashion of their forefathers, and a frontier day pageant, with Comanche Indians in full war paint, will feature this year's round-up, which will be given at the Athletic park, the trade for the use of this site being closed with officials of the baseball club Friday.

The round-up, as formerly announced, will be staged during the first road trip of the local baseball club, the probable dates being April 28, 29 and 30. As on former occasions, the round-up at Wichita Falls will draw many of the headline performers in frontier day exhibition, the Wichita Falls show having become the starting point for the performers who make the "big circuit" of the more famous exhibitions.

Tom Burnett, who successfully staged last year's show, is the promoter for this year, having been requested to do this by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, at the instance of J. B. Marlow, who also assisted last year.

Among the riders who will be here this year, and who are now familiar to Wichitans, are: Bryan Roach, famous trick rider, who won the championship at the Grant park round-up at Chicago last season, and who won the second capital prize, with a number of event prizes, at Calgary, the season before; Ruth Roach, his wife, and a rider of note; Tommy Kirnan, Slim Caskey, local boy, a daredevil rider and a champion bull dogger of steers; Lucile Mullhall Burnett, and a number of other famous riders.

T. B. Noble is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee having charge of arrangements, with Jerome Stone and W. E. Norton as the other members of the committee.

PACT COUNCIL GIVES TIME TO DISARMAMENT

League Lays Aside Question of Mandates to Discuss International Naval Reduction.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Feb. 25.—The council of the League of Nations, laying aside the subject of the Polish-Lithuanian controversy, the American mandate note and the question how to satisfy the league assembly's wish for greater publicity in its proceedings, took up the question of disarmament today.

The council will ask the powers which signed at St. Germain, at the same time that the Austrian treaty was signed, the convention relation to control of traffic in arms and munitions, to ratify this convention, declaring that until this is done no progress can be made in this direction. It was decided to nominate a temporary commission to consider a reduction in armaments. This body will be composed of prominent public men, together with technical experts and representatives of labor and of industries and some members of military and economic commissioners.

M. Viviani, former premier of France, has been asked to accept the chairmanship of this commission.

A recommendation by the assembly of the League of Nations that an organization be set up to verify military information supplied by its members as provided for in the League of Nations cannot be carried out without an amendment to the covenant of the league. The council has decided to leave a permanent commission the task of investigating this subject further.

The council is still guarding as a close secret its deliberations on the American note concerning mandates.

MERE MAN, SIT DOWN; WOMEN BRAVEST SEX

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The right of choice of a mate should belong to women, said Sir John Cockburn, in a lecture to the Women's Freedom League.

"The female always selects her mate except in the case of man," he said. "The reason why in the human race it is the man who throws the handkerchief is because the man has had almost the monopoly of bread-winning.

"With the lower animals the males are the beautiful creatures, and from them the female takes her choice.

"We look on men as more courageous than women. That is absolute nonsense. Women have more courage than men and more endurance. The one great difference is that man is wasteful and woman is not. Economy would always be the order of the day if it rested with women. Girls are born in favorable seasons. In time of war, famine and adversity male births prepondinate. That is why in wealthy families there are so many cases of there being no heirs and plenty of heiresses, and so many of these families die out as a result."

CLERGY ASSIST RENT HOG WAR IN WINDY CITY

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Even the clergy are taking a wallop at the "rent hogs" here.

Chicago's tenant-landlord war is on with thousands of members of the Chicago Tennants' Protective leagues, allied with city, country and state authorities engaged in fighting the members of the Chicago real estate board. The latter have raised a $200,000 fund to combat pending bills before the state legislature in Springfield which would make rent profiteering a felony with a penitentiary sentence.

The churches were drawn into the fight Sunday when scores of ministers characterized the rent hog as the modern protoype of the money changers Christ drove out of the temple, using as their text Matthew xxi and Mark xi.

"The time for soft words and pleas of peace have gone by."

With the prices of other commodities, including wages, dropping 20 to 40 per cent here, according to Russell J. Pool, secretary of the city council's high cost of living commission, landlords are raising rents this spring from 40 to 50 per cent.

AMBASSADOR FROM ITALY IS FRIENDLY

The Corriere D'Italia of Rome publishes a highly significant interview with Signor Rolando Ricci, designated as Ambassador to the United States, in which he tells his plans for promoting friendship between the two nations. The interviewer writes:

SENATOR RICCI

"Rolando Ricci, a man who has always kept away from political struggles, goes to America to carry out a task of an essentially economic nature.

"Our relations with the United States are so good that in reality he said to me before leaving, 'there is no diplomatic task to carry out. Italy and America have the same mind, the same love for their country, the same love of liberty and justice, the same reverence for religion and family. They need, however, to know each other better from an industrial and commercial point of view so that the United States may know where to invest her capital in Italy, and so that Italy may know what advantages she would have in increasing her own exports. And when I say exports I mean the word in its widest sense: exports of merchandise, works of art, and works of intelligence.'

Rolando Ricci continued: "We must remember that America is the only continent where wealth is to be found today. Why should not we with a little skill attract it to Italy?"

"But this would gradually tend to reduce the exchange!"

"Of course, and that is what I propose to do."

"By what special means?"

"I have told you, by many ways and means. First of all we must direct means for attracting American capital to Italy. We have great natural resources but we have no money to exploit them. Think, for instance, of our hydraulic power. Our water falling from the summits of the Alps and the Appennines into the sea, represents 5 or 6 horsepower for every litre which flows to the exact second. Why should not the American banks and industries together with ours, find it to their advantage to help in this work of utilising completely our hydraulic power? I will do all in my power so that this may happen with the least possible difficulties. And if I can induce a number of American financial and industrial men to spend a few months in Italy to study closely our great banking institutions, our weaving and spinning of silk, cotton, wool, jute, linen, our automobile and mechanical factories, etc., I shall have done no small service to my country.

"Another means of attracting gold to Italy," he continued, "is to reanimate exportation. We need to be quite sure that we must educate the American mentality, meaning by that that we must find the means of making those things acceptable to the Americans which we are able to send them. But reasoning like this means losing one's customers. It is rather our mentality that we must cultivate. Is it likely that the customers are going to let themselves be subjected to the caprices of our tradesmen? To export seriously we must be able to produce the article required.

I asked the new ambassador if he was going to interest merchants in works of art, the trade which is at present in the hands of horrible speculators. And Rolando Ricci, who is a literary as well as an artistic man, said:

"Certainly, I am going to interest myself in art through the exchange. It is a new and not bad way of earning which can be derived from it. Remember we shall be working on already cultivated ground. Few or none of the Americans know anything of our agriculture and industries; but they know our art very well. It is only our art that is well known to foreigners."

"Then what sort of exhibition would you organize?"

"I am going to see what can be done. I think that an art exhibition with a section for decorative and sacred art ought to have an economic success. A section for sacred art ought to be successful in the United States because there are many rich Catholics who like to give objects of good taste to their church."

Going on to discuss the decorative section, he said:

"In America there is a great reverence for the home and there are many new-rich who can buy for it. The decorative art ought to be very successful. We could export for it furniture, beaten iron, china, glass, lace, etc.

"Then there is," continued my illustrious speaker, "the problem of the emigrants. The emigrants have always provided the country with gold by continually sending money to their families. But now, on the contrary, they are only sending small sums. This is all the more extraordinary because of the exange which gives the dollar six times its value, so that they should have every interest in increasing their sendings. Why is this? There is no other explanation than that they have no confidence in their government. The emigrant is a simple, uncultivated person who only knows about Italy through those who have interest in giving him a false impression, so he believes that the revolution is at the gates. They need to be told the truth, they need to be told that Italy is stronger than ever and that the state is the surest banker. If we succeed in restoring their confidence what floods of gold will flow to us from this source. Moreover I am going to do propaganda work myself. I am going to tell the workmen myself what is true: 'All my fortune is invested in Italian government bonds. You can verify it by a simple telegram sent to Rome.'"

"This is the way to convince the people."

NEW GIANT "SEA SERPENT" PUZZLING SCIENTISTS

Captain Moller and "fragment" of monster's skull, weighing three tons.

Hungry sharks devoured the body of a huge sea monster after it was found off the coast of Florida by Captain Charles Moller of Astoria, Queens, New York, and Elmer E. Garretson of Miami, Florida. Captain Moller, who is shown here with a fragment of the monster's skull, which weighs three tons, towed it to Miami. Garretson said the "serpent," which appeared to be a huge squid or devilfish, was fully 80 feet in length. The "sea serpent" is puzzling scientists.

GIANT RODENT ENTERED FOR CITY TROPHY

A little competition and pride in securing the largest trophy of the chase in the anti-rat campaign is being encouraged by the committee in charge.

So far, the record rat reported was caught in a trap set by John A. Beard, 2608 Filmore street, and weighed one and one-half pounds.

Another man reports catching seventeen rats in a tub of water, the surface of which was disguised by a layer of cotton seed.

Other reports from the "firing line" in the preliminary campaign for the destruction of the rat pests in this city are declared very gratifying and showing that the people are waking up to the situation.

More than 1,000 traps have been furnished to residents by the Chamber of Commerce and it is hoped that the campaign, which officially opens March 2, will continue indefinitely and as long as there remain any of the destructive rodents in this city.

Dr. Douglass, city sanitary officer, reports the work of dividing the city into zones and districts for the better systematizing of the campaign has been accomplished and all that remains to be done is the apportioning of rat poison and strenuous and intelligent activity on the part of every citizen—man, woman and child.

Those who desire to secure poison may do so by seeing Dr. Douglass at the city hall. Barium carbonate has been selected as the best poison for the rats on account of its relative cheapness and its adaptability. Circulars containing information relative to the use of this poison as a means of extermination to the number of 5,000 have been distributed through the school children, and a very extensive educational campaign is being waged.

Some difficulty in securing results has been expressed by those setting traps for the rats. The fact that the springs in these traps are extra strong and do not discharge the trap very easily in many cases have permitted the rats to eat the food without molestation. This trouble can be remedied, Dr. Douglass says, by filing off the contact points of the trap mechanism to make the trap very sensitive and easily discharged, also by tying the food on to the trap with a string so it cannot be eaten off without effort. If these rules are followed, Dr. Douglass says, the traps will operate 100 per cent efficiently.

In order to show how rats have taken hold where there is a lack of campaign against them, Dr. W. F. Williams, official veterinarian with the Fort Worth fat stock show, who was in the city Friday, told how the rats in South Texas were living on the range miles from towns. He said ranchmen in some parts of South Texas have stopped killing the coyotes on account of the fact that that animal is said to be an enemy of the rat.

LENTEN RECIPES

Savory Eggs—Mince a small onion cook in dripping until yellow. Beat as many eggs as desired (using one to a person), add one tablespoon of milk to an egg. Have pan hot, pour in egg mixture. Keep lifting with a fork until cooked.

Browned Potatoes—A very palatable way of preparing potatoes is first to boil them with or without the skins. When tender brush all over with melted margarine which has been seasoned with salt and pepper, and bake in a hot oven for a few moments until light brown. These potatoes are crisp on the outside and deliciously soft and creamy within.

Fish Remoulade—Remove bones and skin from one pound of cold boiled fish. Keep the fish meat in as large flakes as possible. Place in bowl and cover with the following dressing: Four tablespoons of mayonnaise, one tablespoon grated onion, tiny bit of garlic, two pimentoes (chopped fine), one tablespoon vinegar. Blend well before pouring over the prepared fish. Toss gently to blend and then form into round flat cakes. Spread liberally with suitable sauce and then cover with finely chopped parsley.

Salmon Timbales—Take one cup flaked salmon, one-half cup bread crumbs, one tablespoon butter, two eggs, one tablespoon cream, one teaspoon lemon juice, and salt and pepper.

The fish should be in small flages. Mix salmon and bread crumbs. Add butter softened, cream and wolks of eggs, mixing well with a fork. Add lemon juice, salt and pepper. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry and fold into mixture. Turn into well-buttered timbale molds, set in pan filled to half their depth with boiling water, and bake in a moderate oven for twenty-five or thirty minutes. Unmold and serve with hollandaise sauce.

Brussels Sprouts—Remove the outer yellow leaves, cut the stock off near the head and soak in cold water for an hour. Drain and drop in boiling salt water. Boil quickly about twenty minutes or less, watching if tender, then place in a colander and let cold water run through them.

They may be served hot or cold in several ways. If hot, pour a cream sauce over them, sprinkling the top with finely grated cheese. Or they may be lightly sauted in butter over a hot fire. Cook only about five minutes, lightly browning the outer leaves.

If desired as a salad, set aside to get cold and serve with a sprinkling of finely chopped hard-boiled egg and a French dressing.

MARRIAGE SPEED LAW.

That phase of matrimony in which the party of the first part says: "Pleased to meet you. Let's get married this afternoon," and the party of the second part replies: "All right. Just wait till I powder my nose," has eloquent advocates at Olympia. When a bill came up in the state senate the other day providing for a 15-day period between the application for a marriage license and the granting of the license the friends of marriage on the spur of the moment were quick to denounce the plan as a blight on true love.

"Are you trying," demanded Senator Rockwell, "to prevent a couple of strong, healthy, red-blooded young people from marrying?"—to which Senator Morthland replied, in effect, that strength, health and predominance of the red corpuscles over the white ought to make it possible for the hypothetical couple to endure the 15-day period of probation.

If was not so easy, however, for the friends of the bill to dispose of the objection offered by the well-known sociologist, Senator Guy Groff of Spokane. Had the senators thought, Senator Groff inquired, how the new law would be used by jewelers and furniture dealers to sell their goods to prospective married pairs? To this devastating criticism there was no answer.

It is said that for a moment the fate of the bill hung wavering in the balance. Many senators hesitated. It would be a good thing to discourage hasty marriages, true enough; but Senator Groff says that affianced folk would be solicited to buy furniture and wedding rings. Think how awful that would be! It was very nearly a case of another good law gone wrong.

The bill passed, but the senate can never say that Mr. Groff did not warn them. Whatever evils may result from the 15-day probation period the senator from Spokane has no blot on his 'scutcheon. — Spokane Spokesman Review (Ind. Rep.)

ITEMIZING THE COST OF UTOPIA.

It can, of course, be contended that the American people had but one function in the peace conference, and that was to sign a blank check. That notion has, indeed, found important support. But the further the events of 1919 retreat into their proper perspective the less general enthusiasm for this blind attitude of adoration exists. The late election showed a desire to scrutinize the achievements of the Hotel Crillon with the greatest care; and congress is only obeying a general and highly proper demand when it tackles the financial expenditures of that interesting period and asks "What for?" and "Why"

As a matter of fact, Mr. Wilson should be the first to recognize the propriety of these queries and should welcome the opportunity to produce an itemized analysis of the vaguely described expenditures as called for by Representative Gould's resolution. "The president's confidential expenses in Paris" is an entry utterly unbefitting diplomacy on behalf of a republic in this day and generation. One does not need to cite the president's "open covenants openly arrived at" to fix the inappropriateness of this $17,000 charge. The $125,000 "damage to property at Hotel Crillon" is less important, but equally mysterious.

It is too late to go back and repair the blunder of the president's illfated trip to Paris, a blunder which even his best friends are coming to admit. It is not too late for a full and complete accounting of the results of that trip. Touching the treaty and covenants, the evidence is in and a verdict has already been reached. The financial aspects of the venture, as yet unrevealed, have a peculiar interest for the taxpayer and a moral and lesson for future American executives. There cannot be too much light on the whole scene. — New York Tribune (Rep.)

AN INDISCREET CHANCELLOR.

Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, has not been credited with his father's talent for indiscretions, blazing or otherwise. Yet his blurting out of the fact that the British government had approached our own with a proposal to cancel war debts all around is a pretty bad error for a public man to make. There could hardly have been a formal, official offer to Washington. The thing did not in all probability go beyond a quiet sounding out of the administration; and the British agent far from being encouraged to proceed, was plainly told that it would be idle to go on with the project.

Now, when a government makes a tentative suggestion of this kind and gets a distinct diplomatic rebuff, it usually keeps still about it. It does not care to advertise its misstep. But Mr. Chamberlain saw fit, for purposes not yet clear, to tear away the veil that hid a blunder of his own government. This was doubly tactless, for it must have offended Englishmen to be put in the position of wishing to compound their debts. DEMOCRACY'S FALSE START.

The "threat" to Chairman White of the democratic national committee to call a meeting of that body for the implied purpose of ousting him from office is not the kind of "reorganization" the democrats want, if most of the party organs can be accepted as authority. The majority of democratic editors call for "principles instead of personalities," and denounce the attempt to create "factionalism." Support for "Cox and his friends" is about balanced by protests against Mr. White among those who comment upon the question of a new chairman. For the most part, the remarks of the republican press might be described as "silent cheers."

The Louisville Courier Journal (democrat) stresses the need of "performance" and describes the "democratic folly" in terms echoed by many other papers of similar political faith:

"The wrangle," it says, "over the question of reorganization of the democratic national committee and the democratic party betrays the usual shortsightedness of the usual hack politician."

Similarly the Indianapolis News (independent) expresses the belief that "the democrats will do themselves and the country a disservice if they fall out among themselves and begin a contest for the control of party machinery," and the New Orleans Times Picayune (independent democrat) doubts that four years of factional wrangling will "pave the way to constructive patriotic action and righteous victory," nor is it "convinced" that the "democratic rank and file want to begin the political battle of 1924 in the spring of 1921." While the Newark News (independent) remarks that "this jockeying for position between the McAdoo and Cox forces is indication enough that the party still is a pretty live corpse," it adds that "it would be a little more to the point for the democrats in congress to show that * * * democrats stand for the principles worthy of support on their merits."

It is upon the conduct of their congressmen, rather than the "premature" choice of leaders, many writers feel, that success depends. "The minority season that lies ahead," says the Norfolk Virginian Pilot (democrat) can be "converted into an exceedingly fruitful season," and the Richmond Times Dispatch (democrat) quotes Representative Flood's remarks to the effect that "that the winning issues in the next campaign will be made by the democrats in the senate and the house in next four years."

Urging that "successful reorganization must come not from the leaders but from the rank and file," the Baltimore Sun (independent democrat) declares that not until the sentiment of the voters crystallizes" can leaders be definitely chosen. That the "present undertaking" to prepare for the future is "based on the wrong vision" is the opinion of the New Haven Journal Courier (independent) for this contest is merely "a fight between men of ambition" and not "a fight between opposing principles." Without suggesting that either faction be "squelched," the Chattanooga News (democrat) declares that "reorganization should not be attempted" in the "interest" of any person or persons, but rather for the people as a whole. Indeed, the real job of the committee, declares the Birmingham News (democrat) is "rehabilitating the machinery of the party" without consideration "of any one man or group of men." "Party chiefs should unite on time-honored democratic principles," the Memphis Commercial Appeal (democrat) concludes, allowing "future leadership to take care of itself."

IGNORANT ESSAYS

WRESTLING

Wrestling was originally defined as a game in which two opponents endeavored to throw each other to the ground. These days the ones who get thrown the oftenest and the hardest are not the wrestlers but the public.

Some people will tell you that wrestling is always on the square. They are the same birds who said the country would never go dry. No, sir! Not a chance! Why they couldn't put it over in a million years! But they did it in one.

Wrestling is an old, old game. The first match on record is that in which Jacob and the Angel wrestled at catch-weights, no holds barred. So far as we know, that one was on the level. Maybe because there was no purse up.

Later the Greeks took up wrestling. Homer writes of a match between Ajax and Odysseus. It's rather a decent report, too, considering Homer had no experience as a sport reporter. The fact that he wasn't at the ringside, but wrote the story in the office may account for its excellence. There is nothing that hampers a reporter's imagination so much as facts.

It is comparatively easy to become a wrestler. First you need an eye trained to count the house between falls. Then you must have an India rubber neck, a gutta-percha spine, an ivory or a good ivory substitute head, furnished or unfurnished—preferably the latter, and a knowledge of all the holds, such as the scissors, the choker, the gouger, the hammerlock, the half and full Nelsons. The bar-arm is out of date. It was used mostly during the off seasons in the old days on the free lunch.

There will always be wrestlers because there will always be fortunate individuals born with a strong back and a weak mind. And there will always be wrestling fans, because you can fool some of the people some of the time and there's one of 'em born every minute of which every other one is twins. And there will always be wrestling promoters because while there's only one sucker born every minute, there are two born to take him.

Last week a mule kicked a man on the head and broke his (the mule's) leg. I suspect he was a wrestler.

LEGION BILLS SUPPORTED IN LEGISLATURE

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 25.—Most of the American legion bills now before the Texas legislature are gaining wide support in both houses and will undoubtedly be passed at this session, according to Dr. Guy O. Shirey, state commander of the American legion, and chairman of the legion's legislative committee.

A resume of the present status of the bills which are being backed by the legion and their salient features follows:

The recreation bill, providing for the operation of public recreation centers, in which chess, checkers, billiards, bowling, boxing, basketball, handball and wrestling may be played, and for the creation of commissioner of public recreation in cities and towns, has been reported out favorably by the senate committee and its passage seems assured.

The armistice day bill, making November 11 a legal holiday throughout the state, has been introduced and no opposition has developed.

The resolution providing for the submission to the people of an amendment to the constitution providing that only fully naturalized citizens may vote will, in all likelihood, be adopted by both houses.

A boxing bill has been submitted, providing for the legalizing of boxing exhibitions under the direction and control of local posts of the legion.

The Japanese exclusion bill, providing that Japanese and other non-assimilable races shall not acquire title to land in Texas, has been reported out favorably by both senate and house committees.

The loan fund bill, providing for the creation of an American legion memorial loan fund, which would enable veterans of the great war and their children to complete their education, has been introduced.

A bill providing for the erection of a $2,000,000 memorial building in Austin, in honor of Texans who sacrificed their lives in the war, has been introduced. The legion executive committee has decided not to push this bill until the success of the tubercular hospital for ex-service men is assured.

The tubercular hospital bill for Texas ex-service men, 1,740 of whom are now without adequate care and attention, has passed both houses and is now awaiting the governor's signature. This bill provides for the appropriation of $1,500,000 for the construction of a sanitorium for former service men and the transfer of the present American legion hospital at Kerrville to the state of Texas.

Knickbocker Lays Aside His Fighting Togs

"I've laid off my fighting clothes on other lines for a season," said Dr. Knickerbocker to a Record News reporter, "and am out to help my great Sunday school beat the First Baptist Sunday school in a great attendance contest. They are foemen worthy of our steel. We beat them the first Sunday and they beat us the second. I am publishing today in The Record News the biggest Sunday school ad ever published in the city. Turn to it and read it. It's a warm one. We haven't anything like the equipment that our opponents have, but we are going to see what Methodist 'fire' can do against Baptist 'water.'

"If the Baptists beat us next Sunday, my live and enthusiastic Sunday school superintendent, W. B. SCHOOL BOARD WILL LOOK INTO BUILDING SITE

Decision was reached by the school board at a meeting Friday to investigate possible sites for the location of the proposed $1,000,000 high school, and a committee was appointed for this purpose.

It is understood the committee has several locations under consideration and they are prepared to purchase a desirable site at a reasonable price.

The question of price is expected to figure to a large extent in the consideration, and the members of the committee said they were proceeding with great caution so as to get the full value and great care is being exercised so as not to be forced to pay an exorbitant price for a location.

It is planned to secure at least fifteen acres, in order to furnish the school with adequate grounds for athletic activities, playgrounds and the like. It is not the board's intention to "skimp" for room in the new location, according to expressions of members.

Although the bonds for the building of the new building have not been floated, it is the opinion of the members of the board that the right time to purchase the location is now, before property values have advanced any further.

Accompanying the members of the board on the tour of inspection Friday were C. H. Clark, W. M. Priddy, W. S. Curlee and Mayor Cline.

The school board has abandoned the idea of securing the Bellevue park on Ninth street for the site, since the opposition expressed by George Kessler, whose plans for city planning probably will be adopted by Wichita Falls. Members of the city administration concurred in Kessler's objections.

Mr. Seeman, who assumes the management, brings for the initial offering Rube Hooper and his overseas soldier show "Oh, You Wildcat," which was presented in France for the Eighty-first division. It is claimed that this is the only show of its kind in America. Sixteen people are carried, with their own orchestra. A quartet that would do justice to the big circuits is another feature. Doors will open at 2 o'clock for the matinee; vaudeville at 3:30; nights, 7 o'clock; pictures till 8:30; vaudeville, 8:45. Numerous high-class feature pictures have been booked to be shown in conjunction with the vaudeville and musical comedy programs each week. Legislature To Pay Visit To This City

Wichita Falls will be host to the entire legislative body of Texas from 3 to 6:30 o'clock on a Sunday afternoon in the near future, according to an announcement made Thursday at Austin by Representative Lee Satterwhite.

The visit to Wichita Falls will form a part of the tour of West Texas, scheduled to be made by the legislatore near the end of the present session, according to the announcement.

According to a tentative schedule announced, the body will leave Austin Thursday night on a special train, arriving in Ranger Friday morning for breakfast and a brief inspection of the city. With a short stop at Abilene during the day, the law makers expect to reach Lubbock early in the evening and spend the night in that city. From Lubbock the special will go to Amarillo and after side trips to Canyon and other cities, return to Amarillo to spend the night. They are scheduled to leave Amarillo early Sunday morning and with a short stop at Goodnight reach here at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon for a visit of three and a half hours.

Fail to Reach Agreement on Soldier Bonus

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The senate finance committee failed to reach an agreement today on the soldier bonus bill, but republican leaders predicted that the house bill, shorn of taxation provisions, would be reported tomorrow to the senate. Doubt was expressed, however, that the legislation could be passed before adjournment of congress next week.

Though failing to agree on the bonus bill, the finance committee acted favorably today on the Watson bill, another measure for the benefit of former service men. This bill, which has been passed by the house, would extend privileges of war risk insurance and compensation benefits.

The bonus bill caused a long controversy today in the committee. Opposition to the cash bonus was led by Senators Smoot, republican, Utah, and Thomas, democrat, Colorado, both of whom called attention to the depleted condition of the treasury. Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, presented figures to show that a cash bonus would entail a minimum cost of $1,400,000,000. The increased insurance plan, Senator McCumber estimated, would cost considerably more. Advocates of the cash bonus, however, argued that the funds necessary under that plan would not be payable for two years, and that by that time economies would be effected which would relieve the strain on the treasury.

While the committee was considering the legislation, a flood of telegrams from American legion posts all over the country advocating the legislation reached senators' offices.

RECOVER FORD ONE HOUR AFTER THEFT REPORTED

One hour after the theft of a Ford automobile belonging to the Fisher Brothers Contracting company had been reported to the police Friday morning, the machine had been found where the thieves had abandoned it, at Third street and Bluff avenue, by Motorcycle Officers Eyerly and Peters.

The policemen declared that it was their belief that the car had been taken for a joy ride by youths, and the engine stalled by overheating. The owners of the car did not know what time the car was stolen.

MARRIAGE CEREMONY PERFORMED IN ROAD

CADIZ, Ohio, Feb. 24.—A marriage in a roadway took place near here.

As a result, Mrs. Edna Shissler of Deersville, became the bride of James B. Gallagher, a Tippecanoe rural free delivery carrier.

County Commissioner Septer used his car to take the bridegroom to Deersville, where they were joined by Mrs. Shissler. After getting Rev. Mr. Firth of the Presbyterian church they drove here and obtained the marriage license.

En route home the couple decided to commence their wedded life immediately.

The car stopped in front of the Harrison County Children's Home, the minister read the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher rode home.

Harding Favors Continuation of Naval Building

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—The influence of President-elect Harding today was thrown behind the big navy program of the senate naval affairs committee majority and against the stand of the house for decreased appropriations for the naval establishment.

The views of the president-elect were set forth in a letter received by a prominent senate republican and quickly reached the party rank and file in both senate and house. Party leaders promptly predicted that Mr. Harding's letter would have potent influence in the forthcoming senate contest over naval appropriations which were increased $100,000,000 by the senate naval committee and in difference with the house in case the appropriation bill passed the senate with its augmented total.

The president-elect, in his letter, it was said, authoritatively expressed himself as desiring a continuation of the present naval building program without substantial reduction.

No reference was made by Mr. Harding in his letter, it was stated, to the disarmament proposal of Senator Borah, republican, Idaho.

AMERICAN DROWNED IN MEXICO

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—American Consul Marsh at Progreso, Mex., today informed the state department he was convinced that D. Clarence Gibboney, Philadelphia attorney, was drowned in Mexico late in December, despite recent reports to the contrary, Mr. Marsh added that while information he had was circumstantial, he regarded it as conclusive.

Roland Markley, a relative of John R. Markley and his son, Lawrence Markley, who, with Frank W. Shriver were reported to have been drowned with Gibboney, was said by Consul Marsh to have set out for the spot where the bodies of the four men were buried.

Mr. Markley, the consul's report said, had been given authority to disinter the bodies. The Mexican foreign office, it was said, also had started an inquiry into the matter.

The statement that Gibboney was drowned as reported was contained in a letter received by Chairman Kahn of the house military affairs committee, which recently conducted a preliminary investigation into the escape to Germany of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy Philadelphia draft evader. Gibboney was Bergdoll's attorney.

City Awards New Sanitary Sewer Contract

Disregarding a threat of legal controversy filed by C. R. Nichols, building contractor, who has done most of the building of the sanitary sewer, a contract was awarded Friday afternoon at a special session of the city council, to L. E. Whitman & Co. for building a north and south sewer outlet to the Wichita river, on a bid of $17,000.

Only two bids for the job were filed, the other being $17,100 by the Plains Paving company. Mr. Whitman announced that he will begin work immediately.

Mr. Nichols was represented before the council by Judge W. H. Harris of Dallas, who declared that his client will sue for a 10 per cent profit on the date of completion, in the case contract was awarded to some other contractor.

The final formalities on a previous contract awarded the Bithulithic Paving company for paving on Ohio street, completed the business of the call session of the council.

HOUSTON GOLF FINALS TO BE PLAYED TODAY

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Feb. 25.—George Rotan of Houston, three times winner of the invitation tournament championship, and Charles Dexter of Dallas will meet Saturday in the finals for the championship.

Rotan, after a sensational exhibition of golf during which he established a record for the revamped course at the Houston Country club by shooting a 68, won from W. C. Hunt also of Houston in the semi-final match 6 up and 4 to play. Rotan rounded the outside 9 holes in 33, three below par. The match ended at the 14th hole, but was played out. But for a bit of bad work on holes 12 and 13 Rotan might have established a record for the local course for all time. These holes, par fours were made in 5. Rotan bettered par on 6 holes.

Dexter went into the finals when he defeated Robert Kampman of San Antonio 4 up and 3 to play. Dexter shot a 37 on the first 9 holes. Saturday's clash will be the first time in several years that the Dallas and Houston experts have met.

The second flight winners:

J. G. Blaffer of Houston by defeating J. G. Jester of Dallas 5 and 4 and D. F. Beaman of Houston, who defeated N. C. Hoyt of Houston one up, won their way to the finals in the second flight consolation.

In the third flight H. G. Safford of Houston defeated J. T. Dreyfus of Shreveport 1 up in 21 holes. Fred Austin of Houston won from Dr. H. L. Kirkham of Houston 3 and 2; H. B. Jackson of Houston won from R. W. Knox of Houston and C. J. Robertson of Houston defeated H. L. Edwards of Dallas.

In the first flight consolation matches H. L. Edwards of Dallas won from E. L. Brown of Dallas; John Greer of Houston defeated Coman Shear of Waco; J. G. Bryant of Houston was one up on Tom Cochran of Wichita Falls; A. A. Green of Shreveport won by default.

PLAYERS IN WEST TEXAS LEAGUE TO TROD CHALK LINE

CISCO, Tex., Feb. 25.—Rules intended to keep the players straight will be strict in the West Texas League this year. The club owners reached an agreement under which every day will be a "blue Sunday" for the athletes. No craps, poker or any sort of gambling will be allowed and the player who can not subscribe to and keep the rules laid down is not wanted in the league. This was one of the interesting actions of the league meeting, called to decide on the season's plans.

It was decided to play a schedule of 139 games, opening April 20 and closing Labor Day. The opening games were booked as follows: Mineral Wells at Sweetwater, Ranger at San Angelo and Cisco at Abilene.

Decision to split the season was unanimous. The first half will end June 30, the second starting July 1. In the event a playoff is necessary, the two pennant contesting teams will meet in a seven-game series under rules of past world's series. The player limit remains at 16, but the salary limit is to be $2,000.

The transfer of Eastland's franchise to San Angelo was ratified by the league magnates.

PALMERO ONLY ABSENTEE FROM BROWNS' CAMP

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 25.—Pitcher Emilio Palmero, the Cuban left-hander, is the only absentee of the St. Louis Americans, according to a dispatch from Bogalusa, La., where Manager Lee Fohl has his batterymen in training. Palmero is expected at any time, however.

Catcher "Josh" Billings is the latest arrival, putting in his appearance yesterday. The rest of the club leaves here Sunday and will start practice today.

Art Riviere, the pitcher from Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college, who has signed with the local Nations, reported at Orange, Texas, yesterday, where several of the Cardinals are working out prior to the arrival of the main squad, which leaves here tomorrow night.

SOUTHWORTH TURNS DOWN BRAVE OFFER

By Associated Press.

ARDMORE, Okla., Feb. 25.—William H. ("Billy") Southworth, former Pittsburgh National outfielder, who was recently traded to the Boston Natonals, has returned his contract with the latter team, unsigned, he said here today. He declared the salary offered was not sufficient.

LATE SPORTS

Late Sport News Will Be Found on Classified Page

SPORT FANS HAVE HAD THRILLS BETWEEN BASEBALL SEASONS

Josef Guillemot, left, and Joie Ray, at the start of their race, above, and William M. Johnston, left, and William T. Tilden II, arriving at San Francisco.

The noted baseball family, Major, Minor, Bush and Sandlot, is about ready to step forth before the footlights and hog the whole durned sporting stage. But, as vaudeville patrons say, "They've got a rattling good act to beat." For the departing off season has furnished the public with plenty of thrills.

Big Bill Brennan gave Jack Dempsey, heavyweight king, the battle of his life—took all the champ had and gave him considerable for twelve rounds.

Josephus Lynch "lifted" the bantamweight crown from the idle head of Pete Herman.

Edward McGowan flashed onto the scene as the new professional skating star.

The United States tennis team, including the great and only William Tilden II, annihilated the Australian tennis team and won the Davis cup matches by making a clean sweep of the series.

Europe sent several of its famous athletes over to show us their wares. The latest of these, Josef Guillemot, French soldier and distance runner, is now in this country. He showed the gameness typical of his countrymen by entering a 3,000-meter race against Joie Ray, American star, a few days after arrival, despite the fact he had a strained ligament in one foot.

While it could not be classed as an athletic event, the appointment of Judge Landis as supreme arbiter of baseball was another big sensation in the sporting world during the winter.

Verily, sportdom has had plenty of thrills between the world's series and the approaching departure of the baseball teams.

TEXAS LOOP WILL LIVE UP TO CLASS "A" RATING THIS SEASON, SPUDDER BOSS SAYS

Although some thirty or more youngsters will assemble for the initial spring practice Monday a week, there is little chance for Walt Salm to get more than one or two that will be able to stick as a member of the Spudders during the league season, according to Walt, himself, Friday afternoon. "There is always the chance," the veteran manager went on, "that several of the boys will show up as real players, but you must remember that the Texas league is now Class "A" and there are few semi-pros good enough to land a regular berth on a team that is already fairly well fixed with a classy batch of veterans." "Babe" Ruth, the pitcher was the only one of all the recruits last year, that the Spudders kept.

Salm believes that the league will be a great deal faster than in the past and that the fans around the Texas circuit will see a better brand of baseball than they have in former years. While giving no specific reason for this declaration, he hinted that as the Texas League in its higher classification would be able to secure a better and more experienced brand of ball players, a better grade of ball would be played.

The Texas League has had the reputation for the last few years of playing a brand of baseball that was as good if not better than the majority of Class "A" league and in one case, better than a certain Class "AA" league, although the Texas circuit was then rated only as class "B." With nearly every team in the league declaring big things for the coming season, it looks as if a hot battle will be staged down here in the Southwest.

Three Double Holidays

Baseball fans have three double holidays again this year, as Memorial Day and Fourth of July come on Mondays and Labor Day is on Monday, of course. Last year, Memorial Day and the Fourth of July fell on Sunday and were celebrated on Monday. In cities where they have a holiday on Saturdays it means three days with nothing to do. However, it did not prove a good thing for baseball last year. With three days off, lots of people took trips to the country instead of staying in town for the baseball games.

Wichita Falls does not have a home game on any of these three dates, playing in Beaumont, May 30; Fort Worth, July 4 and in Dallas September 5.

Dan Gross Signs

Dan Gross, infielder, who was secured from the Eastland team of the Oil Belt League by the Wichita Falls team last fall, signed a 1921 Spudder contract, Friday morning, according to Walter Salm, manager of the local club. Gross was considered a sensation while with the Eastland outfit and Salm expects the youngster to show well with his Class "A" club.

Exporters Are Troubled

According to Sam Greene, sporting writer on the Beaumont Enterprise, Joe Mathes and the Exporter's management have something to worry about in the refusal of Walter (Biff) Schaller, outfielder, purchased from the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League to sign a Beaumont contract for 1921. The Exporters counted heavily on the services of the efficient "Biffer" in the out garden this year but the veteran pastimer appears to figure that they reckoned without considering his wishes. Schaller writes from his home Oakland, Calif., that he planned to retire after last season and take up some life work that will bring him in an income 12 months out of the year instead of just during the baseball season.

May Be a Good Bet

Bill Hartgroves sounds like a baseball name and if the advance notices of the possessor of that cognomen can be used as a criterion, Bill ought to be some classy ball tosser. Which prelude brings us to the point that a young second baseman and shortstop, answering to the above moniker is waiting quietly around this city with the hope that he will decide definitely within the next ten days whether he will ask for a tryout with the Spudders or not. Hartgroves batted for an average of .310 the last two years, playing semi-pro ball in the oil fields, but as he has an offer of better money outside of the national pastime, he is undecided whether or not to try professional ball.

MACK WILL USE SKULL CAPS TO GUARD BATSMEN

By Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.—Manager Mack of the Philadelphia American league baseball club is considering the use of skull caps by his players to protect them from pitched balls, it was announced today in a dispatch from the spring training camp at Lake Charles, La. The cap, a sort of helmet, made of several layers of cork and lined with felt, has been tried out by several of the players and it was stated that Mack was seriously considering its adoption.

Labor Reports Improvement In Conditions

All members of the miscellaneous crafts and the majority of building trades are employed and labor conditions in this city are getting better, according to reports made by delegates from the various labor union locals at a meeting of the Wichita Falls Trade and Labor council, held at the Labor Temple, Friday night.

The election of John Simmons, W. B. McNeilly and Jack Richards as delegates to the state convention of the American Federation of Labor at Galveston, in May, and the election of Jack Richards as a delegate to the national convention to be held in Denver next June, was perhaps the action of principal local interest performed at the meeting.

The usual business took up the majority of the evening.

A resolution was passed that notices to the press would only be considered official when given out either by the president or secretary of the Central Trades and Labor council.

JUDGE CONSIDERS EVIDENCE BEFORE MAKING DECISION

Judge Guy Rogers of the county court of law took the case of F. M. Medlin against H. B. Hines under advisement Friday afternoon after the conclusion of evidence and arguments. Decision will probably be announced this morning. The case involved three bales of cotton alleged to have been sold by the plaintiff to the defendant.

Newfoundalds, Britain's oldest colony, is considering the granting of the parliamentary franchise to women.

Carl Weilman

Among the well known faces which will be missing when the big league teams fire their opening volleys in April, will be the smiling one of Carl Weilman, elongated pitcher of the St. Louis Browns for many seasons.

Weilman has written the Brown officials that in view of his poor health, he believes it would be unwise to go through another summer campaign on the mound.

When Weilman was right he deserved the title of one of the best southpaws in the big show. He broke into the game with the Richmond, Ky., club in the old Blue Grass League back in 1909. The next season found nim with the Charleston club and in 1911 he played with Flint in the South Michigan league. He broke away from the league game the following season, playing with an independent outfit. It was while he was hurling for Maysville, Ky., in 1912 that Scout Charles Barrett looked him over and decided he had big league stuff. The Brown owners acted on Barrett's opinion and Weilman became a member of the St. Louis club.

Despite the fact that he served his entire career with a second-rate club which was constantly flirting with the cellar Weilman became a real star. In 1914, for instance, he hung up eighteen victories and fourteen defeats and allowed a little bit better than two earned runs per contest—which is stepping right along for a southpaw.

In the last campaign he started with a victory over the White Sox, but was unable to hurl many contests.

Weilman is now in business in his home town of Hamilton, O., and intends to remain there if his health permits.

Tommy Sheenan, veteran infielder of many minor league teams is managing a team in the Panama Canal Zone League. The Canal league compares favorably with the Western Association and leagues of that classification.

John McGraw is willing to dispose of a catcher or two. He has five booked to report at San Antonio next week—Smith, Snyder, Gonzales, Gaston and Henline.

REPORTING ORDERS FIND REDS IN 17 STATES AND CUBA

The way baseball draws 'em into its fold is indicated by the postoffice addresses of the Cincinnati Reds slated to report to Cisco, Texas, for training. The club has listed 29 players, to whom orders go out to report to Pat Moran, and the letters from the club office go to 17 states and to Cuba. Only four of the 29 hail from the "home" state of Ohio.

New York is tied with Ohio as being the wintering spot of the most Reds. Heinie Groh, Larry Kopf, George Paskert and Pat Duncan will flit southward from Ohio. Rube Marquard, Fred Coumbe, Charley See and C. A. Schmehl, the latter a young infielder from Portchester, N. Y., will go south from the Empire state.

California will send on Sam Bohne, Lynn Brenton and Louis Fonseca. West Virginia will contribute Tom Conway, and Pennsylvania will deliver Jake Daubert, Sam Crane and Rube Bressler. From Illinois will come Hod Eller and Leo Seiffert.

Others will come from states as follows: Eddy Roush from either Florida, where he is wintering, or his home in Indiana; Virginia, Eppa Rixey; Michigan, Earl Brooks; Massachusetts, Pat Moran; Texas, Buddy Napier; Oregon, Denny Williams; Vermont, Ray Fisher; Colorado, Maynard Felix; Washington, Gale Staley; Minnesota, Bubbles Hargrave, and Georgia, Ivy Wingo.

Adolfo Luque comes from Cuba.

Even that listing does not tell it all, for baseball has caused change in home addresses of several of the Cincinnati players, for instance, Heinie Groh, now classed as a Cincinnati resident, though Groh's original habitat was New York state. Neither is Larry Kopf an Ohio native, but because of his connection with the Reds he now claims Cincinnati as his home.

CARDIFF HAS NO MARKETS FOR ITS COAL

By EARL C. REEVES

LONDON, Feb. 25—Cardiff, normally the greatest coal shipping port in the world, has been stricken by American and German competition until more than 50 ships lie idle alongside her docks while the situation grows daily worse.

EARL C. REEVES

Cardiff is being cited in England as the telling example of what labor must do; how to decreases in wages, if there is to be a revival of industries in Britain.

Briefly, its situation is this: A few months ago the continent, particularly France and Italy, were crying for coal. Then when strike threatened exports were cut to increase local stocks. When the strike came, exports were stopped. When the national stoppage ended. Cardiff awakened to find that on the one hand German deliveries to France under the treaty had been in great volume and on the other that America had stepped in and supplied both France and Italy with almost complete stocks for their needs.

Cardiff Loses Market

Cardiff was virtually without a market. Coal could not be sold abroad at the quotations set for export coal. Far-off America could figuratively "carry coals to Newcastle," or undersell the greatest coal port in the world practically on her own doorstep.

During the same time America, due to the slashing of prices, and in some degree to lessening of wage charges, virtually stole the Canadian tinplate market from the Welsh plants.

And Belgium, which was the first of the European nations to start in earnest to reconstruct its industries, came apace in the field of iron and steel. Belgium can deliver steels bars in Swansea at, roughly, $52 a ton, against an English manufacturing cost of $88. Cardiff's hinterland manufactures tinplate and steel product, and produces coal. For none of these can it find a foreign market.

Striking figures are being given also as to shipping costs. It is estimated that the daily cost of operation of a 6,000-ton tramp in 1905 was $66, in 1913 was $100 and today is $540. Cardiff has a million tons of shipping, which cannot be operated at a profit, and a vast amount of it cannot be operated at all, for there is nothing to be carried.

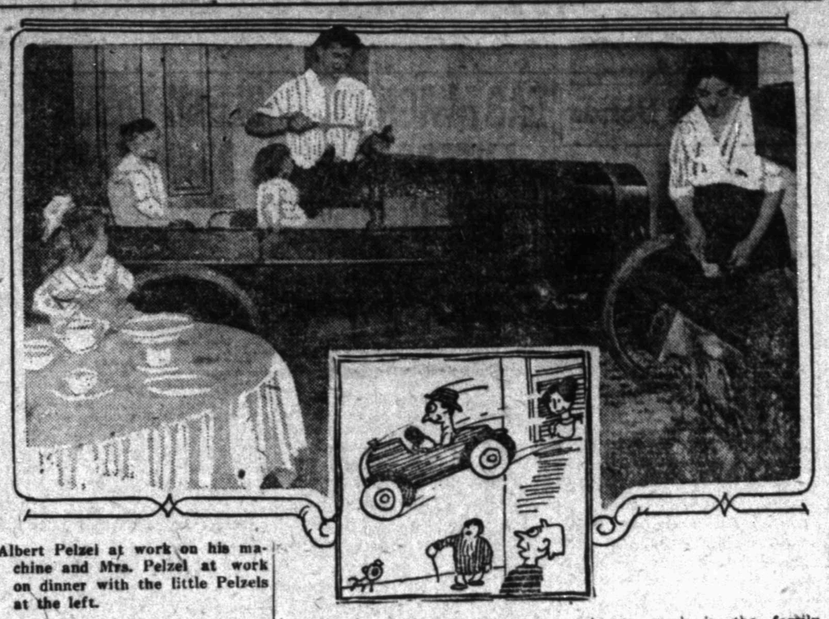

Labor War Coming

Cardiff sees no way out except lower production costs, which must come through lower wages. Labor throughout not only Wales but the whole of the British Isles is cut for a fight to a finish against general wage reductions.

Labor argues that industrial rehabilitation will come through raising the standard of living, through increase of workers' opportunities to buy.

There is a deadlock of industrial theories. It probably will continue for months. Meanwhile Cardiff takes on the appearance of Pittsburgh in a panic year.

INTRODUCING 1921 "PELZEL" STREAMLINE MADE IN KITCHEN

Albert Pelzel at work on his machine and Mrs. Pelzel at work on dinner with the little Pelzels at the left.

When Albert Pelzel of Cincinnati, auto mechanic, found himself laid off from his regular job on account of slack work, he did not idle away his time but set to work at once building himself an automobile in which to take his wife and family of three children auto riding during the coming summer. The fact that he lived in an upstairs flat and had no place to build it did not discourage him in the least. He set right to work in the family kitchen and dining room combined and while his wife prepared the meals he worked busily for five weeks on constructing the automobile. Here it is in the completed state.

TOKIO, Feb. 25.—When Senator Warren G. Harding becomes President Harding in March, his inauguration and its attendant activities will be watched with deepest interest by the leaders in the Japanese empire. Of interest to all of the powers, the inauguration of President-elect Harding, the announcement of his cabinet and the general outline of new policy will have a more than ordinary interest to Japan.

A political leader in Tokio recently commenting on what might be expected from the Republican administration by Japan and the Japanese said: "Contrary to the usual belief the leaders of Japan are not so regretful over the success of the Republicans. We are sure of one thing under the Republicans. We will at least know what their policy is, strong though it is likely to be. Frequently in formulating our ideas here about certain things, we would take the course of the United States into consideration. And, frankly, we have had reason more than once to be completely at a loss to know just what may be expected under the Wilson administration."

The tales of Harding connections with the Soviet, emphasized by the reports of the Vanderlip leases in Kamchatka, have not been taken for their full value in Tokio. It was pointed out, here recently that with the country Vanderlip tells about frozen up a great part of the year, it would be folly to believe that business interests in the United States had backed the Soviet enterprise to such an unlimited extent.

Disturbed Over Ambassador

The Tokio government has been well pleased by the Wilson choice of ambassador to Japan, and perhaps its great concern at the opening of the new administration is regarding the successor of Mr. Roland S. Morris as the representative of the United States in Tokio. Tokio openly favors Mr. Vanderlip, who, it is stated by some, feels that the position of Japan has been improperly presented to the American people in some places. And the appointment of Mr. Vanderlip as ambassador would be one of the first acts by which the Harding administration might prove its good will toward Japan.

Then there is a group, most noticeable among the publicists in general and Mr. Nakano of the Tokio Jiron, Eastern Review, in particular, who call the Republicans meddlers, laying at the door of this great American political party many, many faults of which no party would be proud. Mr. Nakano, fortunately, is not looked upon any too seriously by his own people.

Traffic Club Members Have First Meeting

Expression of representative shippers and railroad men present that a closer feeling of co-operation would result from the meeting around the table of common understanding and sympathy featured the christening of the newly organized Traffic Club at its first meeting at a dinner at the Kemp hotel Friday evening.

Some of the reasons for the founding of the club were explained by the president, A. A. Spencer, traffic manager of the Lone Star Refining Company to be closer relationship between shippers and railroad men, co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce in matters for the common good of the city and lastly the social feature of meeting over the banquet table as man to man.

E. S. Goodner, president of the Goodner Wholesale Grocer Co., expressed the hope that the new club would surpass all of the expectations for the fostering of good fellowship and understanding. As one of the things on the program for the club to take up in connection with its work he suggested an effort be made to revive the old trade excursion idea.

Some reminiscences of the trying days in 1919 were brought back by Hubert Harrison who referred to those days as "a nightmare." He congratulated the organizers of the club on founding such an organization and predicted it would do a great work.

P. A. Rodgers expressed the belief that the club would prove a boon both to shippers and railroad authorities.

A general discussion of the aims and future activity of the club, concluded the session. Members of the club expressed the opinion that a campaign for new members should be made and the goal was set at 100.

It was announced that the club will meet the last Friday evening of each month for a dinner and general discussion.

Both Win but Each Loses in District Court

Both had won and both had lost with no loss or gain to either.

That was the unique conclusion forced upon principals and their attorneys in a case that ended Friday morning in the 80th District court before Judge P. A. Martin. The suit in the local court was brought by J. W. Ryan of Tarrant county against E. E. Roos of Hale county.

Just before noon Friday Judge Martin awarded the plaintiff $1,000 damages representing the value of an automobile in the possession of the defendant, but which the plaintiff claimed to belong to him. Shortly after the announcement of the award while friends were consoling the defendant and congratulating the plaintiff, the former was informed that the district court at Plainview had awarded him $1,000 damages against the plaintiff in a case involving substantially the same facts.

Roos was aware of the case at Plainview, but did not know until the verdict was given against him that he was a party in the successful suit at Plainview.

The case originated at Plainview, where, according to the evidence introduced here, the plaintiff had taken a Buick automobile from the wife of Roos in payment of some oil stock. The defendant Roos was in France at the time serving in the army. The oil company drilled a dry hole.

Evidenced was introduced tending to show that later the plaintiff agreed to turn over an automobile to the defendant Roos, which would represent the value of the worthless stock sold the defendant's wife, if the defendant in turn would stop a suit then pending by other stockholders against the plaintiff.

The remaining facts were complicated, but evidence introduced tended to show that both parties endeavored to carry out their agreement. Attorneys agreed, following the decision here, that neither had succeeded. As the case now stands, according to one attorney, the seller of the oil stock has judgment for the value of the oil stock and the seller of the automobile has judgment for the value of an automobile exchanged for the oil stock.

DOWNWARD MOVEMENT CONTINUED

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25.—The downward movement in cotton was almost as pronounced as ever today and prices made new low levels for the season. Unfavorable financial reports from Europe and claims of heavier offerings of spot in interior markets were responsible for most of the selling pressure. At the lowest levels prices were 38 to 44 points under the close of yesterday and last prices were 37 to 44 points under.

Selling started after noon and became heaviest in the late trading following the posting of the week end statistics, which counted mill takings for the week at only 156,000 bales, against 284,000 this week last year and 130,000 two years ago.

A very unfavorable impression was made by the report that a lot of 2,000 bales of spot was on its way from Liverpool to New York to be tendered against March contracts, and by claims from Liverpool that cotton was to be bought more cheaply in Italy from merchants and spinners who were reselling, than it could be bought in America.

NEW YORK COTTON.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Cotton showed renewed weakness today, with all active months making new low records for the session under a continuation of yesterday's selling movement. The fear of spot liquidation seemed to be intensified by reports of increased Southern hedge selling here on very moderate rallies, while the depression of British trade conditions was again emphasized by reports that small lots of cotton were being shipped back here for delivery on contract. Closing prices were at very nearly the lowest, the market being barely steady at a net decline of 37 to 45 points.

There was a good deal of covering, also some trade buying on the decline, and the market steadied during the middle of the day, working back to within 5 or 6 points of last night's closing figures. Active months generally showed net losses of 39 to 45 points. A late rally in Liverpool helped to steady the midday market here, but was attributed to American buying, and the same interests were said to be selling in New York toward the close. According to private cables, 2,000 bales of cotton were shipped from Liverpool to New Yor kon Saturday. Further March notices, amounting to about 1,500 bales, were reported in the market today. Port receipts were 14,776. United States port stocks, 1,448,691. Exports, 9,950, making 3,299,286 so far this season.

LIVERPOOL SPOT.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 25.—Cotton, spot, dull; prices weak. Good middling 8.21; fully middling 7.61; middling 6.76; low middling 5.51; good ordinary 4.11; ordinary 3.31. Sales 5,000 bales, including 4,850 American. Receipts 2,000, no American. Futures closed steady: Feb. 7.35; March 7.32; May 7.64; JJuly 7.99; Oct 8.12 December 8.19.

WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The cotton market has been weak and unsettled with both futures and spot quotations making new low records for the season. May contracts here, for instance, have sold well below the 12 1-2 cent level, or more than 4 cents per pound under the high price touched on the advance of early last month, while today's quotation of 6.76'd for middling cotton in the Liverpool market was figured as equivalent to about 10.85 cents at the prevailing rate of exchange. According to local brokers, the influences chiefly responsible for the decline have been the continued degression of ofreign trade as reflected in the news from Liverpool and Manchester and fears of increased old crop offerings in the south before new crop preparations are completed.

Private cable advices stated that some small lots of American cotton were being shipped back from Liverpool to New York for delivery on contract. These were taken as confirming pessimistic reports of British trade conditions. Some buying by continental and Japanese trade interests has been reported in the declines, but otherwise the support has been attributed chiefly to covering or buyers for reaction. Notices issued against March contracts on the first notice day represented in the neighborhood of 75,000 bales and were stopped by firms who were credited with selling later months against the cotton. Further notices are anticipated before the final maturity of the contract. Reports that sales of fertilizer are falling far below normal have attracted considerable attention and there were reports late today that a preliminary trade canvass pointed to an average reduction of approximately 30 per cent in the acreage of Texas and Oklahoma.

DUN'S REVIEW

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

Continuance of the business readjustment is indicated by developments in different markets and general and progressive improvement in conditions is yet to be witnessed. After months of restricted demand revival still is delayed in various basic industries, as in steel and iron, and such recovery as has occurred elsewhere is lacking in uniformity. As a whole however, the situation is rather more encouraging than when the year opened and the gradual relaxation of the monetary tension that has followed the liquidation in securities and commodities is a favorable augury. While the persistent disinclination to operate freely for the future tends to retard progress, moderate sized orders are being placed more frequently in some quarters as stocks of goods undergo reduction and the approach of Easter is stimulating trade in retail channels. Weekly bank clearings $5,043,789,585.

WHEAT RALLIES AFTER FALLING TO LOW PRICE

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Export business, together with some investment buying rallied wheat today after fresh declines. The close was strong at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 1-4c higher, with March 1.67 1-2 to 1.67 3-4 and May 1.57 3-8 to 1.58. Corn gained 1-4@3-8 to 1c; oats 1-2 to 3-4 and provisions 17 to 40c.

Wheat bulls obtained the advantage in the last half hour of the session. Previously the market had been depressed by continued selling that was mainly ascribed to bearish aspects of the industrial outlook. On the downward swing European demand revived and it was estimated 1,400,000 bushels had been purchased for export. A quick upturn followed and there was lively buying at the last. Corn and oats rallied with wheat. Higher quotations on hogs lifted provisions.

Big Assortment Of Merchandise Shown by "Law"

Percolators, trunks, an electric iron, ladies shoes, men's suits and a varied assortment of clothing articles were displayed Friday afternoon in the city detective office when City Detective W. A. Boyd returned from Denver, Colo., with Mrs. Jennie Morrison, charged in Justice Gwynne's court with swindling of over $50.

According to charges set forth in the complaint, under which Mrs. Morrison was apprehended and returned to Wichita Falls, the articles on display were obtained from local dealers on bogus checks.

The value of the goods involved in the case was estimated to be approximately $800, according to officers, and includes complaints from seven different stores.

At the burial of an English judge recently, a man whom he had sentenced to imprisonment placed a floral tribute on the grave.

STOCKS SHOW IMPROVEMENT ON EXCHANGE

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Conditions in the stock market today denoted moderate improvement in the sense that offerings of representative shares diminished visibly. This was neutralized, however, by renewed pressure against many of the volatile or speculative issues.

Stocks manifested every disposition to improve in the last hour on call moneys decline to six percent, but the list became unsettled just before the close.

Dealings in bonds were larger than at any previous session of the week, but the increased activity was mainly at the expense of values. Liberty issues were irregular, though mostly lower, as were also local transactions and the international group. Sales, par value, $15,275,000.

EAST WICHITA ENTERS SUIT FOR HOLDINGS

The cancelling of the original contract and the assignment of two fifty-acre leases are asked in the suit brought Friday in the Eighty-ninth district court by the East Wichita Oil company against C. A. Williams and D. P. Taylor.

The petition alleges that the defendant Williams has failed to carry out the terms of the contract which the trustees of the company, T. A. Albritton and Joe Zaludek, made with him on January 8 for the drilling of the test.

According to the petition, at the time the contract was made the defendant Williams agreed to take over the test at a 2,394-foot depth and drill it ito a depth of 2,750 feet, unless oil or gas was found in commercial quantities at a shallower depth.

The petition states that on January 26 the driller Williams reported that he had struck oil and that, according to the terms of the contract, he should have completed it to the point of placing the well on the pump.

The petition stated that the plaintiffs were under no obligation to turn over two fifty-acre leases near the test until he had drilled to the 2,750-foot depth or had brought in a commercial producer at a shallower depth.

It stated, however, that the leases were turned over to Williams as soon as he reported that he had struck on oil sand on his statement that he needed funds to complete the test.

According to the petition, Williams has refused since that time to drill in the test. He is said to have promised officials that he would drill in on Monday, February 21, and to have personally stated to W. P. Honaker on the 20th that he would drill in on the following day. According to the petition, Williams left the city on that date, and has not as yet returned.

The petition further states that the defendant Taylor is making some claim to the two fifty-acre leases turned over to Williams, but his claim is without valid consideration in law. The firm of Nicholson & Felder represent the plaintiffs. The former is secretary of the plaintiff company.

Famous Green-Priddy Suit Compromised

Settlement of the issue in the famous Clois Green et al vs. W. M. Priddy suit, involving a 20-acre lease within a quarter of a mile of the famous Burk Waggoner well, property valued at more than a million dollars, between W. M. Priddy and Hill & Roberts, intervenors, was announced here Friday.

The settlement does not affect the main issue, which is still pending in the court of civil appeals. The settlement is reported to have involved nearly a quarter of a million dollars, nearly all in cash.

The suit, which has attracted a great deal of local attention, was first brought by Clois L. Greene, R. M. Waggoner, C. E. McCutcheon, K. N. Hapgood, A. C. Parks and others nearly two years ago, involving the title to the lease, which had formerly been part of the Godley holdings, and which was purchased by Mr. Priddy from P. F. Lesh.

An instructed verdict was returned for the plaintiffs, which was reversed on appeal.

A second trial last summer resulted in a verdict for Mr. Priddy.

Hill & Roberts intervened in this suit, setting up a claim to 10 acres of the original lease, under a conveyance which was declared to antedate the conveyance of the title to Mr. Priddy, although involving a larger consideration.

This 10 acres was later sold for a very large price, by agreement between Hill & Roberts, and the money deposited in escrow in a local bank pending settlement of the suit. This was the issue affected in the announced settlement.

WEAVER GETS ASSIGNMENT WITH RANGERS

C. M. Weaver, who has been deputy sheriff under Sheriff Smith for the last several months, is now a member of the state ranger force, and has been stationed at Ranger, Texas, according to information received here Friday. With the appointment of Weaver it also became known from reliable sources that W. W. Belcher, also a deputy sheriff, would be appointed a state ranger within a few days.

The appointment of Belcher will be the third to be made to the state ranger force from the office of Sheriff Smith within the last week. The first appointment was that of J. M. McCormick, who received his commission last week.

Officials at the court house Friday spoke highly of the tribute that had been paid to the personnel of Sheriff Smith's office in the appointment of two, and probably three, deputy sheriffs to the state's leading police force within a short period. It was pointed out that the ranger force, which is limited by law to approximately 100 members, has on file at all times numerous applications from all parts of the state.

Both Sheriff Smith and County Attorney Davenport spoke highly Friday of the men appointed. McCormick served a temporary enlistment on the ranger force last fall.

Weaver has only a short experience as a peace officer, but his work as a deputy sheriff has been highly praised by county officials. Belcher has served in various capacities as a peace officer.

It is expected that McCormick will be stationed here with Ranger Gonzalus. It is expected that Weaver and Belcher will be appointed to other places.

Another of the red fox's accomplishments is his ability to climb certain trees, where the inclination of the trunk and the accessibility of the lower limbs admit of it, says the American Forestry Magazine. His being able to perform this feat often saves his life, as does also his knowing how to swim.

MRS. W. F. BAKER, of Milwaukee, Oregon, who says she has been restored to perfect health by Tanlac after having suffered for twenty years. Her statement is remarkable.

"For the last twenty years I have suffered from stomach trouble in its worst form. I was in misery all the time. If I took a drink of coffee or milk or even water, it would cause belching and gas. In fact, absolutely nothing would digest in my stomach I always had an awful burning sensation in the pit of my stomach. I believe I have taken almost a wagon load of soda for stomach trouble. I would have to take it night and day. Gas would bloat me up so badly I couldn't fasten my clothes. At times my heart would palpitate and flutter so badly I would nearly smother and I would have to gasp for breath. In fact, I thought I had heart trouble.

"I was very fond of cheese and the least bite would throw me right into spasms. I was also very fond of onions, but they would upset me terribly.

"My whole system was out of shape and I was also bothered with rheumatism and neuritis. Pains in my arms and other joints were almost unbearable. I had to carry one of my arms in a sling and couldn't raise it up to my head. My hands would swell up and for a long time I was in just an awful condition.

"I told my husband I guessed I would have to give up and die as the doctors' medicines and other things I took didn't do me any good. Then he got me some Tanlac and said I had to take it. Well, before I finished one bottle, I found the things I would eat did not bother me so much. I kept gradually getting better and finally after taking five bottles, my trouble was entirely relieved. I can now eat onions, cheese or anything I want. In fact, I am in perfect health in every way. My neuritis and rheumatism have also left me. I know that five dollars' worth of Tanlac has done me more good than a hundred dollars' worth of other medicines. I will sing the praise of Tanlac as long as I live."

The above remarkable statement was made by Mrs. W. F. Baker, whose address is Milwaukee, Oregon, R. F. No. 2.

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Store, in Electra by Tarlton Drug Store and by all leading druggists

Marten Warrant Cancelled When "Red" Deported

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The department of labor has cancelled its warrant of arrest and deportation against Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, recently deported "ambassador of the Russian soviet government," his counsel, Charles Recht, announced today. This gives Martens a "clean slate" and makes him free to return immediately to America, he asserted.

Gregory Weinstein, Marten's deported secretary, also was cleared, according to Mr. Recht, who said he received a telegram from the department of labor announcing that the two men "having been deported and having arrived in Russia the warrant and deportation order against them has been canceled."

Mr. Recht said that it had not been his intention to make known this action until he had consulted the department of labor, but explained that in "some mysterious manner" the blue penciling of the formal charges against Martens and Weinstein had leaked out and had been published in a foreign language newspaper here.

"Martens and Weinstein are given a clean slate and are free to return to the United States at any time," he added. "Of course, another warrant of arrest and deportation order could be issued against them after their arrival."

C. W. Campbell, division engineer of the Katy, has returned from a motor car inspection of the Northwestern to Altus.

C. S. Stead, auto inspection supervisor of the Katy, is back from an inspection tour on the company's lines.

There has been a small increase in the past ten days of merchandise shipments into this city over the Katy lines, it was announced from the offices of that road Friday. This includes what is known as "L. C. L." (less than car lots) business. Carload business has remained about the same for some time.

J. Hardy, chief clerk for Superintendent Grace of the Katy, is back on the job, following an operation which was performed some time ago. Mr. Hardy is much improved in health, and hits the grind at the office in the same old fashion, his associates say.

L. J. Anderson, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Western Pacific railroads, was in the city Friday soliciting business.

A body of Fort Worth & Denver officials, including F. C. Clarity, vice president and general manager; W. O. Hamilton, treasurer, and A. B. Weldon, purchasing agent, were in Wichita Falls on business Friday.

CHILDRESS GETS COSTLY THEATER

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Tex., Feb. 25.—A new $100,000 theater building will be constructed in this city within a short time. Plans have been made by Phipps and Layton, who now own the Monogram and LaGrande theaters, for the construction of a building 50x100 feet and two stories high on lots purchased on the east side of Main street.

MUSICIANS TO FORM MUNICIPAL CHORUS SOON

Formation of a municipal chorus is already in progress, and will be consummated by the Musicians Club, J. W. Bradley, chairman of a Chamber of Commerce committee investigating the sentiment in favor of such an organization reported to the Chamber of Commerce business council at their weekly luncheon at the Kemp Friday. On Mr. Bradley's recommendation, the council will leave the initiative in the matter with the club, co-operating in every way with the formation of this organization, previously characterized by the body as a highly desirable asset.

Sentiment is strongly in favor of the move, Mr. Bradley reported, giving the result of the committee's sounding out of local organizations and of local church choirs.

Other Features

Other items of interest developed at the Friday session was the recording of the sentiment of the business council, representative of all lines of business in favor of the regulation of electric signs and the removal of poles supporting them, with other unsightly poles in the downtown district, and the reading of a paper by T. Andrew Bradley, urging a movement to make use of the full name Wichita Falls in all correspondence and advertising leaving the city, with the city in this way realizing the benefit from the national advertising of some of its products, some of which is lost through popular confusion of the place with Wichita, Kansas.

Mr. Bradley was present as a representative of the Ad Club, a paper on this subject having recently been delivered before that body by Mr. Bradley, which requested him to again read his paper before the business council.

Culbertson Scores

The principal honors of the day were grabbed off by Jack Culbertson in the discussion following the reading of Mr. Bradley's paper—Mr. Culbertson, president of the Wichita Motors Company, and manufacturer of the Wichita Truck being called on by Chairman Mytinger, general manager of the Wichita Mill & Elevator Company, and maker of Belle of Wichita flour, for an expression on the subject.

"It would cost us $10,000 to change our trade mark registries in some 80-odd foreign countries, to say nothing of the thousands of dollars we have spent in national advertising," declared Mr. Culbertson.

"I believe that it would be cheaper to change the name of Wichita, Kansas," he concluded, amid the laughter of the assembly.

In connection with the discussion of removal of poles from the downtown district, which is to be recommended to the council, it was decided to obtain expressions from all merchants who will be affected to lay before the city council.

To Sound Merchants

The decision to sound the opinion of merchants was made by the council after a series of discussions favoring the move by various business men, who have such poles in use at the present time.

Hubert Harrison, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce, explained that the move was not being fostered as an opposition to the use of electric signs since every one recognized their effectiveness, but as a means of regulating and preparing for the installation of signs that will be an attractive asset as well as of advertising value. In this connection, Mr. Harrison declared that under the present method of building signs, each man tries to build one just a little farther across the street than his neighbor and this would soon lead to making a complete arch over the street, and the destruction of all attractiveness and advertising value of the signs.

Among representatives of Wichita Falls business houses, who spoke in favor of the move were: Burton Stayton, Jack Barnard, J. W. Bradley, W. W. Anderson, E. F. Riley and C. C. Randle.

Reports of E. C. Dosch, of the street lighting celebration committee and W. W. Anderson of the Style and Auto Show committee, were that plans for those events are practically complete.

JOHNSON HAS BILL CHANGING TAX PAYMENTS

Changes in poll tax legislation, providing authority for a husband and wife to pay the poll tax of either party without any written request and for other individuals to act as agent in payment of poll taxes, on presentation of written authority, are included in a bill being presented to the Texas legislature by B. F. Johnson, state representative from this district.

A requirement that when the poll tax is paid by a duly authorized agent, in the case of persons who left their precincts before the first day of October and do not expect to return until after the last day of February, the receipt be held by the county collector for personal delivery to the taxpayer, or mailed directly to him, is embodied in the bill.

Under the firearms act, which came into force in England recently, it is made illegal to pawn firearms.

Some Things That Saving Implies.

Saving may mean self-denial, but it doesn't mean skimping. It doesn't mean not spending; it means spending wisely, and spending less than you earn. It means putting money aside for the time of need; it means letting your money earn more for you; it means forming a habit that is worth more than the money involved.
