PLANE HOPS OFF FOR HONOLULU

HEAVY VOLUME OF MAIL HERE IS INCREASING

NEW BUILDING COMING NONE TOO SOON, IN VAUGHAN'S OPINION

The new postoffice for Lubbock is not coming any too soon according to John L. Vaughan, postmaster, who stated this morning that the volume of mail is heavier now than it has ever been in the history of the city.

"The increase in the total receipts is greater now than at any time in the past," Mr. Vaughan said, "even greater than in the 'boom days' of 1925 when they outclassed all previous years. This year bids fair to be the greatest in the history of the office."

Mr. Vaughan predicted that the receipts would total more than $400,000 during 1928.

Not Much Delay Seen

That the new office is assured for the city, there won't have to be much delay now in starting the preliminary work for its construction, Mr. Vaughan said. Action is likely to be forthcoming from the office for the construction of the building within a short time, he said and predicted that the location of the new office would probably be made in June or the first part of July.

The $50,000 available on July 1 for starting the building is a sufficient amount to open the contract for the construction of the building, Mr. Vaughan said. He expects an increase of about twice as much in the cost of the building he said. This would place the cost at over $400,000, he said, allowing plenty of room for the federal court and postoffice.

Mrs. Dees has refused to make any statement.

Lunch Room Gutted By Fire Here Today

A leaky oil stove caused a blaze which completely gutted the lunch room belonging to E. F. Bangs at 1312 Main Street shortly after 11 o'clock today. The fire spread rapidly but quick work of the fire department saved the building.

The loss, considered total, was placed at more than $100. Mr. Bangs had just purchased the place yesterday, it was said.

IN ARSON CASE

The beauty that won for Mrs. Vivian McDowell Page the title of "Miss Mobile" and sent her to the Atlantic City beauty pageant in 1926 is heavily veiled here as she goes to trial in Media, Pa., on a charge of arson. When the management of an apartment house held her trunks for charges, she is alleged to have set fire to the building.

DAVENPORT IS REFUSED PLEA

MUST DIE FRIDAY BUT FLORES AND SMITH STAYS GRANTED

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 31. — Governor Moody today declined to reprieve Lawrence Davenport, sentenced to go to death in the chair early Friday, but granted Juan Flores, scheduled to die at the same time, a sixty day stay.

Davenport was convicted in Harris county of killing Oscar Foster, who, testimony indicated, sought to protect a young woman companion, and Flores was sentenced for the slaying of Manuel Fernandez, 15, in the robbery of a small San Antonio store belonging to Fernandez's mother.

Flores, already reprieved three times, was allowed additional time because a woman state witness again has repudiated her trial testimony. Once before, she did so, then later declared she originally had testified the truth.

Bill Smith Found Sane

The governor revealed that he does not intend to intervene further in behalf of Bill Smith, who yesterday was saved from electrocution by a reprieve. Mr. Moody was informed shortly after he had granted clemency, issued that physicians might examine the convict's mentality, that Smith apparently was "acting" and is of sound mind.

Smith was found guilty of participation in the fatal shooting of a Fisher county sheriff and his deputy.

SEVEN HELD IN $100,000 ROBBERY

RAID ON DANCE HALL NETS BIG SUM TO SEXTET

MONEY, JEWELRY, AND VALUABLES TO TOTAL OVER $100,000

(By Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 —Seven men were under arrest today as suspects in the robbery of 200 guests at the Broadmoore Country Club last night in which loot valued at more than $100,000 was taken. One of the men was said by police to have been identified by a victim of the robbers.

The arrests followed a thrilling chase of a large sedan by a police emergency squad. The sedan was overtaken at the outskirts of Lebannon, Ind., nearly 30 miles from Indianapolis.

Several of the city's most prominent business men were among the victims. The dinner dance was held in connection with the annual 500-mile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday and many out-of-town guests were present.

As the dance was in full progress, four men rushed in the main door and forced A. S. Lubell, club manager, to hold up his hands. Two men with sawed off shotguns went into the ballroom and with several companions guarded the entrances and forced all the dancers and other guests to line up against the wall. The guests were then ordered to toss their jewelry, watches, bill folds and all their pocket money into a large canvas bag. Ernest Fisher, a guest, was struck on the head when he did not comply with the bandits' order quickly.

Several Shots Fired

Several shots were fired into the ballroom over the heads of the guests when some became unruly and women became frightened.

After about 30 minutes in the club house the bandits made their exit in an orderly manner and sped away toward Indianapolis.

One hundred men and boys of Lubbock will leave here July 7 for Camp Palacios-by-the-Sea to spend two weeks in the annual summer encampment of the Texas National guard. The group will comprise the two units here, the service battery and battery C.

According to Capt. H. H. Griffith, who is in charge of the group, the camp affords an ideal two weeks vacation for the summer. Plenty of time is allowed during the stay there for fishing, hunting, swimming, boating and other forms of recreation. Various games, headed by polo, will be played between teams of the various units, he said.

The membership of the two batteries is not complete, Captain Griffith said, there still being a few vacancies for those who care to enlist. He will be available at all times in recruiting additional men, he said.

Mrs. Fields Not To Seek Presidency

SAN ANTONIO, May 31 (AP)—Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell, Texas, deposed chairman of the nineteenth biennial General Federation of Women's clubs convention here, put her foot on rumors that she planned to run as a dark horse candidate for president.

Rumors during the last few days have said that she would enter the race because of the friction which occurred when Mrs. Henry Brought of San Antonio was placed at the head of the various Texas committees making arrangements for the biennial.

Mrs. Fields declared today that she had no intention of running for office and that she warmly admired Mrs. Edward Franklin White of Indianapolis and Mrs. John F. Stippel of Baltimore, the two announced candidates.

This five-legged specimen is perfectly healthy and now weighs two and one-half pounds.

LINDY ARRIVES AT LONG BEACH ABATING FEARS

MUCH UNEASINESS FELT FOR NOTED FLIER IN BELATED ARRIVAL

(By Associated Press)

LONG BEACH, Calif., May 31—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed his big monoplane at the municipal airport here at 2:10 a. m. today completing a cross-country flight from New York.

Arrival of the famous aviator allayed fears for the safety of Lindbergh and his two passengers, Major Thomas Lanphier and Col. Henry Breckenridge. The plane was estimated to be several hours overdue on its flight from Grand Canyon, Arizona, the last stop on the trans-continental route Lindbergh is blazing between New York and Los Angeles.

The party of three immediately left for a hotel here and instructed the clerk to tell callers that they were tired and not to be disturbed.

Flier Lost Due To Lack of Beacon

LOS ANGELES, May 31 (AP) — A dispatch from Long Beach to the Times says Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who gave his friends several uneasy hours last night when he was reported overdue on a flight from Grand Canyon, Arizona, was lost and cruising about helplessly for nearly two hours above the hills surrounding the Standard Oil company beacon near Merced, Calif.

The dispatch says the famous pilot, finally seeing the beacon nearly crashed trying to land land there.

Beacons Not Lighted

He did not land in Los Angeles, it was learned, because none of the airports here displayed the beacon he expected to find.

That he was able to land at Long Beach shortly afterward was due to the thoughtfulness of a member of the police there who heard the roar of the motor and telephoned the the custodian of the field. The custodian imediately switched on the beacon and a few minutes later Lindbergh landed.

HOPPE PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN GIRL'S SLAYING

CONFESSES TO CRIME AND INSANITY TO BE PLEA, INDICATION

(By Associated Press)

TOLEDO, Ohio, May 31. —Charles J. Hoppe, 26, confessed kidnapper and slayer of 7-year-old Dorothy Sielagowski, pleaded not guilty to a charge of first degree murder when arraigned before Judge Homer Ramey in municipal court today.

The prisoner waived preliminary examination and was held to the county grand jury without bond.

The courtroom was taxed with the greatest crowd of spectators it ever held. As a precautionary measure special details of police were stationed around the railing. After the arraignment Hoppe was taken to the county jail.

Insanity Defense Seen

An insanity defense for Hoppe was forecast today as the county grand jury took over the case.

Hoppe's confession came late yesterday after questioning that began with his arrest Tuesday night. Police said he admitted that while under the influence of liquor he obtained at a wedding celebration, he drove to the Sielagowski home, forced an entrance, kidnaped Dorothy from her bed and strangled her to death after a criminal attack.

Blood-Stained Clothes Found

Hoppe was suspected because he had roomed at the Sielagowski home. A cast of his teeth fitted exactly with impressions in the flesh of the dead girl, and yesterday police found buried in his backyard the blood-stained dark suit which he wore at the time the crime was committed.

That Hoppe will endeavor to escape the threat of a death sentence or a life term by pleading insanity appeared likely today in view of the statement of Coroner Kreft that the man is mentally incompetent.

LOCAL DELEGATION ATTENDS MEET AT TURKEY TO AID IN MAPPING OUT PLANS FOR BIG DENVER CELEBRATION

B. Sherrod, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, Spencer Wells, former president, A. B. Davis, manager and Garnet Reeves, publicity manager, left here this morning for Turkey where they are to confer with officials of the various towns along the new Fort Worth and Denver line regarding the gigantic celebration planned when the first train rolls over the line.

Included in the meeting will be representatives of every town along the line, officials of the Fort Worth and Denver and officials of the Wichita Falls, Childress, Memphis, Amarillo, Clarendon, Dallas and Fort Worth Chambers of Commerce. The meeting will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Decision as to the nature of the celebration, the date, the place and details of other phases will be made in the meeting.

The first plan presented several months ago was to have a celebration in each town as the train arrived but in that way it would take several days to complete the festivities. The plan now is to hold one gigantic celebration at some point along the line.

Lubbock will have as big a part in the celebration as any town along the line, the officials said this morning as they started for Turkey.

Visiting Flier Stresses Need Of Airport In City

WEST TEXAS AIR LINE OFFERS CHANCE FOR OFFICES HERE

An adequate municipal landing field for aircraft is as important to a city today as was the coming of a railroad in the old frontier days, according to Charles E. Cutter, jr., world war flier, who is in Lubbock making arrangements for the coming aerial service of the American Air Transport company.

"A city is known today for the type, extent and general equipment of its landing field," Mr. Cutter said. "The thousands of air-minded people flying in private and public planes are kept well informed of the characteristics of all fields in the country.

"With the great speed of the airplane daily hops across several states are not uncommon and pilots have to know in advance just where they can land for supplies of gas and oil and where they can obtain protection for their ships at night."

Mr. Cutter pointed out that it was those cities with modern airports which are today receiving the increasing patronage of aerial tourists.

City Has Opportunity

Commercial airplane companies cannot be expected to make stops at a city where there is no regular airport, he said. The plans of his company at Dallas have reached a point where passenger and express service will be started in the middle of July, great five-seated monoplanes to fly a regular schedule from Dallas to various West Texas points. Lubbock is on the route and not only stops will be made at this city but an office will be maintained here, providing, he announced.

HIKE SEEN IN WINKLER BAN

SITUATION OVER CRUDE EXPLAINED TODAY IN FORT WORTH MEET

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, May 31.—Probability of a recommendation for raising the limit of production placed on the Hendrick pool in Winkler county under the Texas railroad commission order, and a proposal for a different basis of pro-ration for the new Leck area to the north developed at the commission's pro-ration hearing here today.

The hearing was attended by the full commission, and by R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division of the commission. It was also attended by one or more representatives of all producers and operators in Winkler county, and by several royalty owners.

Necessity explained

Necessity for an upward revision of the limiting figure was brought out by J. D. Collett, chairman of the advisory committee for Winkler county. Collett pointed out that with a different weight being given acreage and potential production that a limit of 150,000 barrels, which is the market outlet has resulted in actual production of only 136,000 to 138,000 barrels per day. This "lost motion is due to the fact that certain of the older tracts on their acreage win an allowance of production above what they can actually produce. In order to allow for this, and permit the full use of the 150,000 barrel outlet, a higher figure will have to be given and 175,000 barrels or even 200,000 barrels per day. This will result in an actual production, however, of only roundly the 150,000 barrels which it was intended to produce, it was pointed out.

QUARTET MANS GIANT SHIP ON PACIFIC JAUNT

AUSTRALIA IS ULTIMATE GOAL OF CREW, FROM OAKLAND AIRPORT

(By Associated Press)

OAKLAND, Calif., May 31.—The Southern Cross hopped off from the municipal airport here at 8:51 A. M., today on a 2,400-mile nonstop flight to Honolulu, enroute to Australia.

The big ship bounced and careened down the runway at the takeoff picking up speed every second until 4,000 feet from the start Captain Kingsford-Smith gave it the stick and the Southern Cross rose about a foot from the ground.

Speed Insufficient

The speed however, was not sufficient and the plane settled back to the runway. More gasoline was fed to the motors and attaining a speed of 75 miles and hour the ship soared into the air near the end of the mile and a quarter track.

Once in the air it rose steadily over the housetops. It reached an altitude of about 100 feet over the city and continued to rise as the pilot headed toward San Francisco Bay and flew out over the water toward the Golden Gate.

The tri-motored Fokker monoplane carried a crew of two Australians and two Americans. They were Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, commander; Captain C. T. P. Ulm, co-pilot; James Warner, radio operator and Lieut Harry Lyon, navigator. Warner and Lyon are Americans.

First Leg of Long Trip

An early morning haze made for poor visibility but the ship pointed its nose into the west without difficulty. The flight is the first leg of a 7,788 mile flight to Australia.

It was announced before the hop-off that Warner and Lieut. Lyon, both former navy operators, would go all the way to Sydney.

Lyon is a son of Rear Admiral Henry W. Lyon, who was commandant of the Mare Island navy yard in 1906 and 1907, and now is on the inactive list, residing at Paris Hill, Maine.

Lyon, jr., was lieutenant commander in command of the transport Westerner and first lieutenant on the cruiser at St. Louis during the world war.

You're Probably Not Going On An Ocean Voyage But Here's What They're Wearing

By HENRI BENDEL
For NEA Service

NEW YORK, May 31.—"Bon voyage" always has a sweeter sound to the woman who knows she has the right kind of clothes packed away neatly in her steamer wardrobe and her small luggage.

For now, with everyone's friends going abroad, the trip becomes as social as a house party and makes the same demands upon one's costuming.

I always advise planning a skeleton wardrobe around which the entire wardrobe can be fitted. Of course there must be a top coat. The ocean's breezes would be entirely too cold without it. The selection of that can be left to Milady's taste. But even it should repeat or in some way harmonize with the other clothes.

Silk or Wool Ensembles

This season one should have a practical ensemble for travel abroad. Silk ensembles are desirable and one or two will be more than welcome if one goes by train into Italy, Austria or farther east. But the light weight woolen ensemble is the one that will stand up under hard wear and still look chic at the end of the journey.

There fore I should suggest a woolen ensemble as the first purchase for the trip abroad. Let it be light in color also. Greys are beautiful and correct this season. But if grey is not becoming, choose one of the sandy or rose beige costumes. These two, tans and greys, are the best for hard wear because they allow more variety of color in accessories and thereby allow more change.

I show today a suit that one can wear with distinction when she goes down to the sea in ships. It is of grey basket weave worsted, simply and rather graceful revers to soften the lines. It has the popular three quarters coat that on occasion can be pressed into service as an extra wrap with grey, orchied, blue or pink dresses.

A polky dotted blouse, with tie ends, gives an added note of chic to this costume. There can be other blouses, a soft grey georgette, an orchid sports blouse or even a flesh crepe de chine. Each would give a different aspect to the suit.

For ocean travel I always suggest a felt hat, as the one with this suit. A simple roll brim has a style all its own and the simplest of grey bandings is enough trim for a cut so chic as this.

Second to go into the ocean clothese budget should be the day-time frocks for deck wear. I suggest a Vionnet green frock which has a coat of its own to make it quite the thing for cool days or a more formal time than a frock would satisfy.

Distinctive in Cut

The neckline is so distinctive that the whole frock benefits by it. Hand faggoting trims this frock and its cut and sheen are all the richness it needs for style. A collapsible hat in green tones is the perfect accompaniment to it.

The problem of looking one's best for dinner and the evening without having enough gowns to change each day can be solved by choosing a distinctive gown of effective cut and dark color. I suggest raspberry or lilac, as both are new shades and both highly satisfactory. And I suggest chiffon for really one should make the most of summer evenings abroad boat and nothing is so charmingly feminine as chiffon.

The raspberry chiffon shown today is a Chanel model, with its circular skirt caught by a huge bow of the same material at the right side. The line of this gown has infinite grace and smartness. Flowers of soft changeable tints in rose and raspberry give a decorative touch to one shoulder. Slippers dyed a deeper or the same tone are good with this color. And of course a huge chiffon handkerchief would be desirable as the last word.

MARYE and "MOM" Their Letters

My dear Marye:

You are a constant surprise to me, Marye; sometimes you talk and act exactly like a child, and then again yo ucome out with mature ideas that sound as if you actually used your pretty head for thinking purposes.

I don't think you missed romance in your girlhood—I think you had a very pleasant and happy life. You associated with boys and girls of your own type and your own environment.

Perhaps you did not receive many sonnets, but you always went to all the dances and parties and you were always escorted by a respectable young man who respected you, and I seem to remember that you hungered less for poetry and romance than you did for jazz and excitement.

You seem to assume, just because Alan is a business man, who goes every day to his office, and works hard to support you, that he has no desire or no appreciation of the more aestpetic pleasures of life.

I am sure you do him an injustice. Perhaps he does not have the time you do, to think about himself, and to wonder just what he is missing, but I cannot feel that there is the gulf between your minds that you insist.

You are really too smart a girl Marye, to have so much time on your hands, and to be obliged to make so little effort. I wish you would forget about Pede, studio parties, romantic memories, and give more of your time and attention to Alan. You two must not grow apart.

Try to be just as charming and as interested in romance with him as you do with these new friends of yours. See if you don't find that you have underestimated his "soul."

Florence is home, but I have not seen her yet. All my love,

MOM.

NEXT: Romanticism fails.

It's Never Too Late To Sart A Career

It's never too late to change your career, according to Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche, mother of two sons and a best seller.

Mrs. Roche

"When I gave up the stage for matrimony I thought I was through with careers," Mrs. Roche admitted. "I expected to be just the wife of Mr. Roche, the novelist, and nothing else.

"But after I had listened to my husband's advice to young authors for four or five years, I decided to take a crack at the literary biz myself, in spite of my alleged domestic chains. Steady, daily work turned the trick. With my first novel off my mind, I m now at work on number two.

"Any housewife can write a book. All you have to do is to sit down and write. Put two men and one woman in a roof; figure out what they will do. That is a novel. Use two women and one man if you prefer. But stick to the triangular arrangement.

"Set aside a regular period each day for writing down what the chosen characters are doing in that room. Before you know it you will be a novelist. And maybe you'll make so much money you won't have to do the housework."

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

Most everyone should know this fact:

SECONDS—in merchandise means IMPERFECTION—merchandise that cannot pass inspection—naturally imperfect merchandise is SOLD at a LOWER price than the PERFECT of the same product. That accounts for most all differences in prices!

For us—we never buy IMPERFECT merchandise. What we buy is PERFECT—bearing the inspection tests—the difference is a little more but we consider it worth more.

An imperfect silk weave in Hose accounts many times for "runners" coming entirely too quick. Perfect Hose, too, have runners, but they are not as apt to—and certainly they wear and look better.

Keep in mind while you shop, the difference in urice—too little in most instances for you to accept SECONDS—or imperfections!

HUBBERS OPEN NINE DAY HOME STAND, WITH COLEMAN FIRST

ONE DOUBLE IS SCHEDULED IN BEARCAT PLAY

SNAPPERS AND PIPERS FOLLOW IN ORDER AFTER BEARCATS

The West Texas league leaders, Bonnie Brownlow's hustling and battling Hubbers return to their home lot here today and meet the Coleman Bearcats in a four game road billed for three days. A double header, caused by a postponed game due to a sand storm will be made up in their three day stop at Lubbock. It is likely, however, the twin bill will be played here Saturday afternoon, although officials of the Lubbock Baseball association have made no definite announcements.

Games are scheduled with San Angelo and Hamlin, three games each following the series with the Bearcats.

Clyde Bunt, youngster of the pitching twirling staff, will probably work this afternoon's game with the Bearcats.

Hubbers, Split In Snappers' Double

SAN ANGELO, May 31—The Hubbers split with the league leading Snappers in a Memorial day twin bill, the South Plainsmen taking the first game and the Angels scoring a win in the nightcap. Will Knight, rangy right hander for the Hubbers, was tight in the pinches and won a 6 to 4 game over Earl Snapp's sharpers. In the final game of the series "Big Boy" Eudy allowed as many runs in the initial innings as he might over the entire route but the rest of the second game was all his.

The Abilene Aces appear here for a three game series while the Hubbers will be back at their home lot, a nine day period meeting Hamlin and San Angelo.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON

RALPH KRESS
St. Louis Browns

....IS FURNISHING THE BIG PUNCH IN THE ATTACK OF THE BROWNS....

It was an unusual sight through the first month of the campaign to see an unknown rookie holding a first place in major league batting with an average approaching the .500 mark. The St. Louis Browns presented such a young man this year in Ralph "Red" Kress, a rookie from the Tulsa Western League farm of the Browns. "He can't last. The pitchers will wise up to him," the fans muttered, but the ball players differ. They all say he will not bat .500 for the season, but that he'll hit plenty because he's a natural hitter. Kress, who is also a fine fielder, is all the more unusual because he is only in his second year of professional baseball. He is a long, rangy fellow and, as they say of all stars, "he has a great pair of hands."

SPUDS REOPEN DRIVE FOR TOP IN TEXAS RACE

TAKE DOUBLE VICTORY AS BUFFS WIN ONE FROM PANTHERS

(By Associated Press)

The Wichita Falls Spudders have started a drive to regain some of the ground they lost in the battle for supremacy in the Texas League. Cheered by the plaudits of a bargain-day crowd Wednesday, they took two games from the Beaumont Exporters by scores of 4 to 3 and 9 to 0. And made their record in the series three victories and one defeat.

Win First By Rally

They won the first game by virtue of a great ninth-inning rally that netted three runs after Beaumont apparently had put the contest on ice by scoring three times in the eighth and ninth. In the second tilt, they continued the onslaught on opposing battery men, and aided by the great hurling of Cvengros cinched the game quickly.

The Houston Buffs clung to first place by defeating the Fort Worth Panthers, 9 to 8, in the first game and tying the second, 6 to 6. Both games were featured by the hard hitting of both Cats and Buffs with Fort Worth having a decided edge in this respect in the first and Houston the advantage by a big margin the second.

Sports Take Double

Heaving also featured the double header at Shreveport between the Sports and the Waco Cubs which was swept by the former, 13 to 5 and 11 to 1.

At Dallas, the Steers and the San Antonio Bears divided a double bill with the Steers copping the first game, 6 to 5, and the Bears the short one, 8 to 3. In the first encounter, Dallas outhit San Antonio, fifteen to ten, while in the second San Antonio showed the way in slugging twelve to seven.

YOUTH DRIVES TO VICTORY BY STEADY GRIND

EMERGES WITH $35,000 AFTER COMING FROM BEHIND IN RACE

(By Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31.—Jumping from obscurity to fame overnight, Louis Meyer, boyish looking Los Angeles youth today found himself acclaimed the newest hero of the automobile racing world.

This 23 year old driver thrilled a crowd of more than 140,000 spectators by coming from behind in the last 30 miles of the race to win the 500-mile classic at the Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday. He piloted his car to victory in the most dramatic finish ever enacted in the classic. He rode the entire distance without relief and made only one stop. His time was 5:01:-33.75, an average of 99.482 miles an hour.

Gives Credit to Elliott

Meyer gave credit for his driving skill to Frank Elliott, a famous racing star of other years.

"Elliott taught me all I know about race driving," Meyer said. "You know I worked for him for two years as a mechanic.

"I thought I would win after 160 laps. I had worked pretty well into the race then, although I had only faint hopes of overtaking Jimmy Gleason and Tony Gullota. I just sat tight and let the old wagon buzz along, and hoped for the best."

Meyer's victory was achieved after only sixty laps of previous racing experience on the Indianapolis course. He relieved Wilbur Shaw in the race last year for that length of time. His previous racing experience was gained on the Ascott speedway in California. His present home is in Los Angeles.

$35,000 Richer Today

Meyer found himself $35,000 richer today as a result of his victory. He was happy to get his fists on that roll of money ,for it was only just a week ago that he had managed to scrape up enough money to enable him to buy the car in which he rode to triumph.

Only four of the 29 drivers shared in the lap prizes which were offered to the driver leading the field in each of the first 144 laps. Jimmy Gleason, the revised records showed today, captured the lion's share of the prizes, winning $6,700 for having led in 67 laps. Leon Duray led the race for the first 53 laps and later by five additional and took $,000. The sum of $1,900 went to Babe Stapp and $500 to Tony Gullota.

Souders is Challenger

George Souders, the one time Purdue university student, winner of race a year ago gave Meyer a dangerous challenge and was a close up third yesterday. Louis Moore's car finishing second. Moore's tiny racer with Louis Schneider at the wheel as a relief driver was 2 1-2 miles behind Meyer at the finish, with Souders about 5 miles behind.

Ray Keech of Philadelphia, holder of the world's straightway record for a mile was fourth with Norman batten fifth. Eighteen of the original 29 cars finished.

This is how the first twelve leaders finished, together with their time and miles per hour average:

MAJORS READY FOR SHIFT IN BATTLE SCENE

SIX TEAMS WIN DUAL GAMES WEDNESDAY ON BARGAIN DAY

(By Associated Press)

Twelve major league teams were on edge Thursday for get-away skirmishes to clear the decks for the season's second siege of intersectional warfare, scheduled to begin at some points along the baseball front as early as Friday. The Reds and the Cubs already were on their way east, while the Giants and the Robins lay idle, awaiting a brief resumption of their intra-city strife at the Polo grounds tomorrow.

Six Teams Win Doubles

Six teams won twice yesterday. The Reds nicked the Cubs twice only by showing the greatest competitive spirit. There was a 6 to 0 victory over Charlie Root in the morning behind the fine pitching of the veteran Eppa Jeptha Rixey. In the afternoon Ford's single in the teenth provided the winning margin in a 2 to 1 victory and sent the Reds east with a lead of three full games.

The crippled Pirates sagged lower into the second division after the Cardinals scored victories, 10 to 1 and 4 to 3.

The Boston Braves walloped the Phillies 5 to 3 and 11 to 5. Hornsby had two homers.

Giants Trounce Robins

The Giants rolled the Robins over by 9 to 1 in the morning. The score was tied at 2 to 2 in the afternoon when ot rained.

Washington defeated the Yankees 5 to 0. Garland Braxton, a Yankee castoff, held the Hugmen to three hits, while the Senators made merry with Young Al Shealy. Bobby Reeves made a home run in the sixth after Rice had singled. In the afternon the Yanks started to make amends by pounding Horace Lisenbee for seven runs in less than two innings, but rain ended the contest.

By defeating the Red Sox 3 to 1, and 9 to 2, the Athletics gained one and one half games on the Yankees, but remained seven games to the rear.

Tigers Down Indians Twice

Detroit cleaned up two games on the faltering Indians, the afternoon engagement in twelve innings. The scores were 4 to 3, and 6 to 5.

The Browns won both ends of an afternoon double-header from the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 1, and 5 to 2. The veteran Red Faber pitched a good game in the opener, but lost to Ogden.

LAVENDER LEADS WEST TEXAS GOLF TOURNEY FINALS

(By Associated Press)

MINERAL WELLS, May 31.—Dennis Lavender of Abilene was three up on Bob Scott, veteran tournament golfer at the end of the first fifteen holes of their 36-hole championship flight here Thursday in the finals of the 1928 West Texas Golf association tournament.

Lavender got away to a poor start, having trouble with his wood shots, but the Abilene youngster found himself on the sixth hole and was one up at the end of nine holes. He shot a birdie 3 on number 11 to go 2 up, got a birdie 4 on the next hole to go 3 up, and his par 3 on 13 put him 4 up. Lavender missed a short putt on 14 and halved 15 to stand 3 up.

Lavender's approach was sensational. Scott, who is from Colorado, was not approaching in his usual form but his putting was marvelous.

Weather Man Plays No Ring Favorites

NEW YORK, May 31. (AP)—New York weather has no favorites among boxing promoters. Tex Rickard was forced by rain into numerous postponements in his first attempt of the season to stage a championship fight outdoors and now his metropolitan rival, Humbert J. Fugazy has suffered the same fate. As a result of a downpour the light heavyweight championship bout between Tommy Loughran and Pete Latzo, originally scheduled last night will take place tomorrow, weather permitting.

DEALS OF SHADY NATURE RAPPED BY DIAMOND CZAR

CHICAGO, May 31.—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis has shaken his big stick at "under cover" trades and sales of baseball players.

Condemning the sale of Catcher Ray Thompson by the Milwaukee club of the American Association to the St. Louis Browns, who planned to release him o noption to the Tulsa club of the Western League, Commissioner Landis ordered Thompson to report to Louisville of the American Association and warned all organized club owners that future "cover up" trades or sales would be punished by a $500 fine and surrender of the involved player's contract to the protesting club.

Early in the present season, Milwaukee asked for waivers on Thompson. Louisville requested his services, but Milwaukee offered him for only one season. Commissioner Landis said in a long review of evidence: Louisville refused. Then the Browns bought him from Milwaukee for the regulation $3,000 waiver price after its Tulsa club complained it was in great need for a catcher. Commissioner Landis said the sale was given the aspect of a promotion to the majors when it reality it was only a move from the American Association to the Western League, thus depriving Louisville of the waiver right.

Angelo Catcher Is Recovering Injury

COLEMAN, May 31—Elmer Francis, San Angelo catcher, who fractured his left leg in the series with Coleman last week was discharged fro mthe Overall Memorial Hospital here Tuesday and was removed to San Angelo for further recuperation.

The large bone in the left leg was fractured between the knee and ankle when Francis slid into third base which he had stolen. Doubt that the gritty catcher will return to the diamond this season was expressed at the hospital.

Superstition Has Effect On Change

SAN ANTONIO, May 31 (AP)—An ancient superstition anent Friday the thirteenth and the bad luck it brings is one of the jinxes which is retarding efforts to simplify the calender.

Frederick Keough of New York, who addressed the General Federation of Women's clubs here yesterday on calender simplification as the personal representative of George Eastman, camera manufacturer, said today that the biggest opposition to the proposed simplification is the fact that in the new calender the thirteenth of eefery month would fall on Friday.

"The Blindfold test convinced me OLD GOLD did not even have a runner-up," says MILTON SILLS

MILTON SILLS, popular First National star, whose recent releases are "Burning Daylight", "Valley of the Giants" and "The Hawk's Nest".

"It's like deciding a beauty contest in the dark", I said when they told me about the blindfold cigarette test. But the experiment convinced me. The beauty of a cigarette is all inside, and I didn't have to see the label to know that Old Gold didn't even have a runner-up. I picked it out readily from the other brands as the smoothest and best cigarette. Now it's always Old Gold with me.

Milton Sills

Made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant

MR. SILLS made the blindfold test just after some strenuous work in the First National Studio at Hollywood. He smoked the four leading brands and promptly chose Old Gold.

Heart-Leaves . . . are the heart of the matter!

Heart-Leaves are the answer to Old Gold's superiority, the reason for their honey-like smoothness, and for the fact that there is "not a cough in a carload." Only the golden-ripe heart-leaves of the tobacco plant are used in this better cigarette. The heavy, coarse top leaves that irritate the throat, the withered ground leaves that coursen the taste are never used. That is why you can pick Old Golds even in the dark.

TWO MORE HELD HERE TODAY ON INSANITY PLEAS

Two more men said to be in deranged conditions mentally were placed in the city jail this morning by officers, making the fourth and fifth insanity cases to come up in Lubbock during the past three days.

Three men, one of them asking to be sent to the hospital and two more who were found insane in examinations and trials yesterday, were carried to the State Insane Hospital at Wichita Falls this morning.

Upon the advice of a local physician another man was placed in custody of the officers last night thought to be insane while a call came to police headquarters early this morning from a residence on 17th street asking that a man who was going from house to house out there and believed to be unbalanced, be arrested.

Both men were to be placed under strict examination by officials today. The man found wandering on 17th street admitted to officers that he was a "little off" at times due to an injury, the scar of which could be plainly seen upon the back of his neck.

Search For Negro Goes To Montague

FORT WORTH, May 31 (AP)—Hunt for Tenola Moore, 23-year-old negro slayer of George Turner, bicycle policeman, extended into Montague county, a corner of Cooke county, and the Red River bottoms Thursday. The search took this turn when possemen became convinced that the negro probably has slipped through the lines spread around Decatur, Greenwood and Slidell in Wise county and has headed for Oklahoma. They believe there is a possibility that Moore may be hiding in the Red River bottoms. Officers north of Wise county have been requested to aid in the search.

Pledges Asked In Coleman For Meet

COLEMAN, May 31—Pledges from civic organizations in Coleman to assist in securing the 1929 Firemen's Convention for this city are being made daily. Recently the Kiwanis club board of directors passed a resolution favoring the convention and pledged themselves as individuals and as an organization to assist the executive committee in entertaining and housing the convention if secured for Coleman.

Although the housing problem here is still acute even with numerous new dwellings being completed each month, the general sentiment of the people is that the crowds of firemen expected if the convention comes here will be amply cared for in private homes and in two large new hotels one of which will be completed within 60 days and the other which has been occupied nearly one year.

WALL STREET TRADING

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—Heavy buying of the motor shares, presumably stimulated by announcement of the Chrysler-Dodge Bros. merger made on the market Tuesday, featured the opening of today's stock market. Initial gains of 1 to nearly 2 points were recorded by Mack Trucks, Studebaker, Packard, Nash and Hupp. One block of 10,800 shares of Briggs Manufacturing changed hands at 36, up 1 3-4 and a new high record. Radio opened 3 1-3 points higher at 210.

Dodge Bros. common reacted 2 points, the preference stock ran up 3 1-4 points to a new peak at 86, and Chrysler reacted 1 1-4 to 86 3-4, which brought the three issues into line with the terms of the merger, whereby one share of Chrysler is exchanged for each share of Dodge preference and one share of Chrysler for each five shares of Dodge Bros., class A common.

Speculative relief that other motor mergers are in prospect fanned the flames of speculation in that group. Studebaker quickly extended its gain to 21-4 and Stewart-Warner, Graham-Paige and Hudson each sold about 2 points higher.

Radio came back into the speculative spotlight by soaring 7 1-2 points to another new high record at 214 before the end of the first half hour. Case Threshing jumped more than 5 points to a new top at 307 3-4. Wright and Curtiss airplane issues each advanced about 4 points in the first flurry of buying and postum, American Smelting, American International, Missouri Pacific preferred and Pittsburgh & West Virginia advanced 2 points or so.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with sterling cables quoted around $4.88 3-8.

The closing was strong. Buying spread to the rest of the list after another violent upturn in selective shares. Radio reached 216, Adams Express jumped 17 points, and American International, Murray Corporation, Midland Steel Products preferred and U. S. Cast Iron pipe, 6 to 8. Total sales approximated 4,000,000 shares.

TWO STEAMERS ENTER SEARCH FOR DIRIGIBLE

PLANES AND DOG TEAMS SPEEDING NORTH TO HUNT FOR ITALIA

(By Associated Press)

OSLO, Norway, May 31.—The sealer Hobby today was steaming north with the first expedition to seek the missing dirigible Italia by air, while another vessel was being made ready to carry other airplanes into the north.

Steamer is Taken Over

The Norwegian government took over the steamer Ingefour, which is ordinarily engaged in the coal trade at Spitzbergen, to transport one or two navy airplanes. It is expected she will leave tomorrow for Spitzbergen. The Ingefour, 6,200 tons, is strongly built, and considered capable of forging her way through the ice. She will proceed along the coast acting as a mother ship to aviators who will make short scouting trips over the ice bound Arctic. The planes will be piloted by Captain Riiser-Larsen, who is in charge of rescue plans, and Lieutenant Leif Dietrichson, both of whom accompanied Roald Amundsen on his polar expedition in 1925.

Lieutenant Luetzow Holm, following plans drawn up by Captain Riiser-Larsen and the ministry of defense, will explore the northern section of Spitzbergen by plane. He is now aboard the Hobby with his airplane enroute to Spitzbergen.

Pick Up Dogs and Supplies

The Hobby will stop at Advent Bay and take abroad ten dogs, a sledge and supplies and two men, the leader named Tandberg and a hunter named Noeis. The Hobby will join the Citta Di Milano, which returned to Kings Bay after encountering strong winds, severe cold and impassable ice floes in an attempt to search for the Italia. The Hobby and Citta Di Milano will go north together and attempt to put the dog team and some men ashore to seek traces of the Italia to the east.

The general belief is that the Italia is no longer in the air, but explorers have found it hard to arrive at any definite conclusion as to where she might have come down.

LOCAL AIRPORT

Lubbock will designate a certain section of the vast plains close to the city where the company can land and take on passengers.

The physical characteristics of the land is such, he said, to require very little preparation, flatg though well drained land, can be found in almost any direction and close to the city. This should be kept with its sod unbroken and its tall growth cut to the ground.

Large Port Necessary

The size of the field will have to be considerably greater than if a like airport were being planned near the sea. The altitude of Lubbock is enough to make a change in the air density, and this difference though not readily felt by a person is great enough to affect the lifting power of the wings of a plane. Because of this, Mr. Cutter said, heavily laden ships will have to run a greater distance before sufficient air pressure is exerted to lift the plane from the ground.

An airport a mile square would give enough runway for planes to land and take off in any direction. Such a field could either be purchased or leased by the city.

Equipment for an airport would be simple. Lights at the present time would not be needed, though later, as night flying increases, flashing beacons and flood lights would have to be installed.

A hanger 60 by 80 feet, large enough to hold three average size planes could be constructed at a small expense. A small office in one corner with telephone connections could take care of considerable business for several years to come.

A filling station where airplane gas and oil could be purchased would be needed and the sale of this fuel and lubricant could be made to offset the expense of running the field.

Crash Victim To Be Buried At Milford

HOUSTON, May 31 (AP)—Captain B. V. Baucom, who was killed in an army airplane crash Wednesday near Douglas, Ariz., will be buried at Milford, Texas, where his mother resides. R. E. During the world war Baucom flew with Captain Bill Erwin of Dallas, who was lost in the Pacific ocean while seeking probable survivors in the Dole flight. Baucom was credited with bringing down five planes in the war while attached to the second division.

PROSPECTIVE WHITE HOUSE HOSTESSES

INTRODUCING MRS. GEORGE NORRIS

Mrs. Norris Puts Home Life Ahead Of Social Whirl

MRS. GEORGE W. NORRIS

EDITORS'S NOTE: This is the ninth of a series on prospective "First Ladies," by Allene Sumner, writer for The Journal and NEA Service. Today's article deals with Mrs. George W. Norris, wife of the senator from Nebraska, who is a Republican presidential aspirant.

BY ALLENE SUMNER
Staff Writer for The Journal and NEA Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—The other Senate ladies say without any evidence of envious jealousy that Mrs. George W. Norris of Nebraska is the smartest senatorial lady of the whole kaboodle.

Not that they put it just like that. They say—

"It's so stimulating to meet Mrs. Norris." Or,

"However, in the world does she manage to read so much and keep up on things the way she does?"

It's Really Simple

The answer as Mrs. Norris herself gives it makes it seem very simple.

"The official social life here is so commplicated," she says, "that one must face the situation and decide what is most worth while. One woman's choice, of course, would not be another's.

"For myself, I decided that time for reading, time with my children time in the home with my husband, and time for sessions in Congress meant more to me than formal calls, teas, bridge, dinners, and all the cycle of social life here.

"Besides, it take money to stay in the social swim. And we have never had any of that to spare above plain living expenses."

The Norises lives in a sample, small, but extremely attractive and cosy apartment in the Methodist Building, just across fram the Capitol. It isn't considered quite smart to live "on the hill," but there again capable Mrs. Norris takes the situation in hand and decides that convenience and a regard for the senator's health and strength are much more important than "a smart address."

The senator's health seems her main concern. She does not even have a full time housekeeper, preferring to do her own marketing and plan meals of foods which she knows the senator requires, sometimes even cooking them herself rather than leaving them to the maid who comes in.

There's an old-fashioned couch in the study where the senator lies down with his pipe after dinner every evening. Sometimes he reads. Sometimes he just rests while Mrs. Norris reads to him.

"We've just finished Dickens and Thackeray for the 'steenth time," smiled Mrs. Norris, telling of those evening reading fests. "We both love the old high school classics."

But Becky Sharp and Little Nell do not comprise the total book interests of the Norises. We talked of "Mother India," and with all the modern talk about the truth and lack of truth in this book, I have heard from no one, professional critic or layman, such a keen analysis of the book as this almost obscure senatorial lady gave.

Mrs. Norris laughs that she's going back to school some day and finish her college education. She was principal of the McCook, Nebraska, schools when she married Senator Norris, then a district judge.

"I loved teaching," she says, and I doubt if even marriage would have taken me from it if that marriage hadn't meant little children to be cared for."

For Senator Norris was a widower with three little girls, the youngest about 2, when he married Miss Ella Leonard, the school principal.

Mrs. Norris is a bit sensitive on any stepmother publicity, almost resentful of any remembrance that the children are not for her own.

"They are my own—my very own children," she declares. "And I am not speaking only theoretically, for I had two little boys of my own whom I lost, and I know that I never loved them a bit more than the three little girls. I hate admitting that they aren't my own. But it's the truth and there's nothing so important as truth."

The first and second Mrs. Norris were school girl friends. Miss Leonard, the second and present Mrs. Norris, taught the three little Norris girls in Sunday school and loved them long before she ever dreamed of becoming their mother.

Her devotion to the "little girls" now all grown and married and with children of their own, is even more intense than that of most "real mothers," which she insists she is. Children's welfare and education, their reading, their amusements, seem to her the most important interest of any woman's life.

Senator Norris shares her interest and devotion to "the children." She told of the time when the senator left the children in Nebraska while he was in Washington, and of his distress, when, returning home one time, one of the little girls didn't know him.

"That almost broke his heart," Mrs. Norris says, "and he said that if it cost every penny he made we'd have a home in Washington, right away."

An Attractive Woman

Mrs. Norris is one of the handsomest senatorial wome nin Washington, with her soft pink and white skin, white hair, brown eyes, and splendid carriage. She dresse extremely well and is so good a conversationalist, and companion that people "do wish the Norrises would go out more."

But books and home and quiet evenings together and time for the Senate gallery and the art galleries are Mrs. Norris' choice. She's the sort that makes and takes her choice.

One can imagine no woman in official Washington better fitted with poise and inteligence and firendliness for the "First Lady" job than Mrs. George Norris of Nebraska.

TOMORROW: Mrs. Jim Watson.

Thought For Today

Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.—I Cor. 10:12.

There is this paradox in pride—it makes some men ridiculous but prevents others from becoming so. —Colton.

Worry

Sometimes it does seem as if we blundering Americans just can't do anything right.

They are bguilding a beautiful memorial bride at the national cemetery, Arlington. At one end of the bridge is a bronze plaque with an American eagle in base relief. And now comes Lieut. Col. Thomas J. Dickson, retired army chaplain, to protest that it isn't an American eagle at all.

An American eagle, says this officer, always looks to the right. The eagle on the plaque looks to the left. It is therefore, of all things, a Mexican eagle—and Lieut. Col. Dickson insists that somebody ought to do something about it right quick.

Thus, in our inept way, we seem to have put the national foot in it again. The heart burnings this wry necked eagle will cause in patriotic breasts are better imagined than described.

Yet, for our comfort, we can recall an old bit of scripture: "The letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life." Which we might apply in this instance as meaning that there are better ways to honor our heroic dead than by being ultra-finicky about bronze eagles.

Arlington cemetery holds the bodies of many thousands of men who gave their lives for a noble ideal—an ideal that we symbolize by a starry striped flag. We can honor these men with bronze eagles, or we can honor them by seeing to it that this ideal for which they died becomes always a little more shining, a little more beautiful and lofty, for their children and those who come after.

We are too fond of raising monuments and then forgetting. We can build bridges and statues until the sun grows old, and embellish them with the most faithful copies of the true American eagle ever dreamed of, yet at the same time we can render eternal dishonor to our heroes if we forget the forces that moved them.

Every Teapot Dome episode is an insult to Arlington. So is every outburst of mass intolerance; every bit of Cossackism a tthe soft coal mines; every infringement on the freedom that is America's birthright; every Thompsonian waving of the flag to cover civic unrighteousness. These are matters far more serious than bronze eagles on marble bridges.

Forget the eagle anyway! It is a minor matter. If we are too particular about trifles we may forget the bigger things, and our heroes at Arlington will be dishonored in sober truth.

A Valuable Book

Not long ago a young American woman went to Germany to visit her uncle, a jeweler. He sold jewelry to many Americans and had a little book in which he marked down each sale—article, price, name and address of purchaser and date. He died, and the young woman took the book home with her.

Reaching America, she called on the customs men and showed them the book. They read with interest and began tracing the sales. Most of the purchasers, they found, had smuggled their jewels into the country—an act for which there is a heavy fine. Uncle Sam's coffers were vastly enriched.

And the young woman? The customs regulations give an informer 25 per cent of all fines collected. To date this young woman has realized just $200,000 on her little book; and the end is not yet.

We don't know just what the moral may be. Perhaps it is that in dealing with the customs men you must be very, very careful.

A veteran sword-swallower celebrated his ninetieth birthday recently. Save your old razor blades and remember the fellow with a little gift next year.

THE PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says many wives discover that with breakfast waiting on these spring mornings you can't get a good man up.

Lubbock's building permits for the month of May have shot past the $400,000 mark—something that the people of this city can not fail to overlook. There is nothing that indicates prosperity more certainly than building permits and for your information there are many good cities as large as Lubbock which have a hard time topping the $400,000 building mark in a year—much less approaching it in a month.

* * *

Despite the roseate appearance here, however, there are some pessimists wagging their heads and moaning that "Lubbock is overbuilding." They're the same people who would forecast a change in the monetary system if the skies suddenly began to rain dollars.

* * *

The Plainsman can see no indication of over-building in Lubbock and furthermore no chance of such a calamity as long as the city is building from its own will and accord. Boom towns often over-build and then pay for the folly after the boom has passed. Scores of residences are erected in a rush to care for transients who are willing to pay high rents and skyscrapers are erected in the press of dire need. But no such conditions exist in Lubbock. The transient population, as has always been the case here, is small—almost unbelievably small. The people who are building homes are building them to live in and in practically every case those who are erecting business structures have contracted for businesses to fill them long before the first brick is laid. New people, attracted by the growing country and the remarkable educational facilities offered here are coming in to take the houses vacated by those moving into new ones. New businesses in 90 per cent of the cases are filling up the old locations vacated by those established concerns which are following the new trend of the retail section. Lubbock, in this writer's opinion, is not over-building and shows no indication of so doing at the present time.

* * *

The Plainsman has cudgeled his brain and even studied the maps to try to find a city which has "over-built" under any other condition than brought about by an oil, real estate, mining or similar kind of boom. If the pessimists are right about it then this city is setting a new record for "overbuilding."

* * *

Now just to give the howlers more material upon which to base their moans, The Plainsman forecasts that 1928 is but the first of a series of years in which Lubbock and the entire South Plains section are to undergo an hither-to unprecedented era of progress. You may not have noticed it but outside capital is slowly but surely being attracted to our section—our area which even yet is under-estimated and unheard of by many business factors in the more thickly populated centers. A good crop year will put the South Plains and its capital on "easy street" and time will prove the story.

That Man on Avenue Q says the fellow who can never see good in anything is usually the one in whom no one else can see good.

Lubbock's airport committee, in the midst of its survey at the present time, will soon make its recommendation to the directorate of the Board of City Development. With a Texas commercial aviation company already knocking at our door, it behooves us to think seriously but not too long, upon the matter.

* * *

As a warning note, The Plainsman would call the city's attention to the fact that it never pays to do a thing half way well. The adage, of course, holds good in the selection of equipment of an airport. Care should be taken that the port, when selected, be large enough to care for future as well as present needs. Otherwise the next few years may see our original expenditure as money waster and may cause the job to be done over again.

* * *

That the people are becoming more and more "air minded" is an axiom of our present day life. That Lubbock must be just as "air minded" as the balance of cities in order to keep in the vanguard of progress, goes without saying. The time for action is now. We can't afford to side-step this important question any longer.

* * *

Ross McWhorter has asked The Plainsman to make public the announcement that he is NOT "That Man on Avenue Q."

* * *

The announcement that Rev. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, is to receive the degree of Doctor of Divinity comes as welcome news to members of his congregation and to his host of friends in other denominations throughout the city. The popularity of Rev. Mr. Lewis as one of his contemporary pastors told The Plainsman, is surpassed only by his ability and his earnestness of service. This writer has taken occasion to point out before that Lubbock is fortunate to have such a fine group of men at the head of its pastorates and is happy to see that others have realized the fact.

Senator George W. Norris Outlines What He Says Ought To Be The Principal Issues Of Presidential Campaign

By RODNEY DUTCHER,
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, was the only man found in a day's search of Capitol Hill who was willing to talk about presidential campaign issues.

"I don't know what the campaign issues will be," he said "but I can tell you what they ought to be."

The senator's political creed isn't popular with many people, but he is commonly regarded here as the biggest man in the senate today, so here goes:

"Everything depends on what happens at the conventions," he began. "The republicans can't evade the biggest issues if the democrats take them up. If the standpatters in both parties who have been denouncing the progressive element control both conventions we won't hear much about those issues from either party.

"Monopoly ought to be the main issue. We ought to have a candidate who would be willing to tackle the trusts, particularly the water power trust.

"That issue is linked with the conservation of our natural resources, particularly water power.

"Punishment of those who have violated the law, who have bribed and debauched the government, ought to be somewhat of an issue it seems to me.

"And railroad freight rates.

"The assumption of power by the executive has become a vitally important issue. Appointments of men to positions of public trust in which they are supposed to serve the people as whole ought not to come fro mthe fellows who believe implicitly that big business can do no wrong. That has brought about a very unsatisfactory situation.

"I suppose endorsement of the Coolidge policies will be an issue, but it involves all that sort of thing.

"I don't see how our foreign policy can help becoming an issue, after the war in Nicaragua during which we have killed so many natives.

"The parties and candidates ought either to endorse or condemn the lame duck amendment.

"That issue ought to be brought up in the campaign of every senator and representative who voted against it. Those who favor it ought to stress it in every campaign and the voters ought to demand how their representatives in congress voted on it—and why!

"There is another serious issue in the fact that the house of representatives is controlled by an oligarchy of five or six men. The reason is that it is so large that power has to be concentrated in the hands of a few to make the machine work. The real cure for that is to cut the membership down to about 200.

"I don't see how both parties can avoid prohibition enforcement as an issue. One can't if the other doesn't.

"The people ought to demand that the prohibition law be enforced in good faith.

"It never has been."

Senator Norris, of course, is the man who has fought for years, almost alone, to keep the great government property at Muscle Shoals, Ala., from being turned over to power companies for private exploitation.

He first became nationally prominent when he led the revolt of the house insurgents against the iron dictatorship of Speaker Joe Cannon. He has been an insurgent ever since and is probably the only real progressive leader in the country who is never accused of being demagogic or insincere. He is the only man now in the senate who voted against the declaration of war on Germany and probably the only one there who never plays partisan politics.

The lame duck amendment to which he refers is his own. It would end the lame duck, or short session, by bringing each new congress into office within a couple of months of its election instead of 13 months later, as now. Everyone admits that the present system is evil. The Norris amendment has passed the senate several times, but the house this year defeated it.

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING and down BROADWAY

NEW YORK, May 31.—This sinful city pays millions to its night clubs, its bootleggers and whatnot, but Manhattan still goes to church on Sunday, too.

And that ancient assertion that religion is dying out finds here ready enough denial, with no less than 10 new huge temples of worship rising skyward at a cost aggregating more than $60,000,000.

Most conspicious is the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. True, it has been building for several decades, but construction in the last few years, thanks to the zeal of Bishop Manning, has forged rapidly ahead. It's cost is but $30,000,000.

The Broadway Temple, at Broadway and 173d street, will be a skyscraper church, with offices, apartments, gymnasium, swimming pool and all that. At least three sky scraper churches besides the Broadway Temple are preparing to shove back the clouds—the Manhattan Congregational, at Broadway and 76th street; the interdenominational Church of Starngers, in West 57th street, and the Second Presbyterian church at Central Park West and 96 street.

The so-called Rockefeller-Fosdick church at Riverside Drive and 122nd street; the Church of the Heavenly Rest at Fifth avenue and 90th street, and a new synagog at Fifth avenue and 65th streets are going head rapidly. The synagog, to seat 2,500 persons, will be the third largest church in New York.

Well, New York can use them!

The heavens are all awry, if you look at them as represented on the ceiling of the Grand Central terminal. An official of the terminal told me that the man who arranged the great map of the skies forgot that it would be looked at upside down. Thus doth Manhattan reverse the skies.

Over in Greenwich Village a man set up a lunch wagon at Seventh avenue and Christopher street. One day workmen came and begain to dig. They told him he'd have to move along now, because a three-story building was to go up there. Move, he wouldn't. Tightly he held to his lease and bade them do their worst. They did. They built all around him. One way to surround yourself with a nice building!

Or how she maintains that schoolgirl complexion. . . . If the advertising writers don't get to that talking flea some way, it'll be just too bad.

BY JAMES L. DOW

CLAIMS "BOSSISM ELIMINATED

Governor Dan Moody deserves the praise of every Democrat in Texas for the generalship displayed at the Beaumont convention, according to Lynch Davidson, who asserts that through the statesmanship displayed by the youthful governor Texas was saved from the "bossism" of the Ferguson anti-prohibition element, and the equal menace of "bossism" on the part of the love following.

"The only mistake made by Dan Moody," Mr. Davidson asserts, "was to apologize to everybody for dong his duty as he saw it."

Moody went into the convention with the determination to secure a dry delegation to the Houston convention, and he attained his objective. The fact that he lost some close political friends and probably deepened the enmity of the Ferguson nfaction is more than offset by the number of friends he gained in the admiration expressed for the able leadership displayed in pilotting the convention safely through the stormy opposition.

Commenting upon the action of the Smith forces in the convention Mr. Davidson said: "An outstanding sacrifice in the convention, in line with the high courage of the governor, was that of John Boyle of San Antonio, Smith leader in Texas. Boyle saw that Ferguson was about to return to power in Texas with the domination of the Smith element in the convention. His own standing in the Smith ranks would have given him great power also. Boyle deliberately cast aside this opportunity for personal power and prestige and threw his support to the Moody forces in order to keep down a return of Fergusonism in Texas.

"When Ferguson nominated his candidate for temporary chairman, Boyle broke into the picture, denouncing Ferguson's effort to capture the leadership of the Smith forces in Texas and promptly seconded the nomination of Dean. For Boyle, an anti-prohibitionist by principle for many years, to vote his delegation for Dean, a prohibitionist and author of the Dean law, must have been a bitter pill, but Boyle swallowed it and kept Ferguson from putting himself at the head of the Smith forces in Texas."

Davidson expressed the view that for either Ferguson or Love to have attained control of the convention would have resulted in "bossism" of the worst character. Commenting on Moody's achievement he says: "At one convention he has made Texas safe for prohibition and eliminated both Ferguson and Love, the two men who best typify bossism in Texas. Without Dan Moody the convention would have been in the hands of one or the other of these men, and Texas would have been under boss rule. Under these circumstances the nomination of Smith would have made Ferguson a dominant character in Texas politicso dominant in fact he might have turned the state againes—t the nominee of the party as a protest against Fergusonism."—Brownsville Herald.

Governor Moody has been severely criticised by some people for having gone into the convention with his fighting clothes on, but we are of the opinion that had it not been for his leadership, and for his determined effort to stop the opposing forces that there would have been an altogether different condition existing in the Texas delegation at the convention at Houston. As it is Texas is standing as a unit for the enforcement of the 18th amendment, and for a dry candidate for the presidential nomination.

Dan Moody is sincere in his belief that the prohibition laws are good ones, and should be enforced, and Texas in th emajority is standing by him. There are a few who would undertake to block the way, but Governor Moody has so far been able to override all of the opposing forces and succeeded in getting over a strong delegation to represent Texas Democracy in the national convention.

TEN TOWNS ON PLAINS SIGN TO AID PUBLICITY

Ten towns of the South Plains have already signed up to participate in the representation of "The South Plains of Texas" in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention which will be held in Fort Worth in June, it was learned today at the chamber of commerce headquarters. Many more of the 37 towns in the territory are making plans to enter the agreement, it was said.

Instead of going singly into the convention, the entihe section will be represented as a unit in Fort Worth, according to the present plan. One big float will represent the section in the parade on which sponsors of the various towns will be searried. One headquarters will be maintained for the group also with each town having booths in it.

The towns who have signed for the plan are: Lubbock, Plainview, Slaton, Tahoka, Post, Ralls, Lamesa, O'Donnell, Lockney and Floydada.

Complete plans for additional features of the South Plains' part in the convention will be formulated in a meeting of the arrangements committee to be held in the near future.

STORMS BRING DEATH TO TWO IN AIR DERBY

ONE BALLOON OF THE 14 STARTERS STILL UP EARLY TODAY

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, May 31. — Two balloonists were killed by lightning in the national elimination race yesterday. Several others were injured.

All but one of the 14 starters were known today to have been forced to earth by a storm not long after the take offs.

The balloon unreported today was the Army No. 1, from Scott field, Belleville, Ill. It was in charge of Captain E. W. Ekepner as pilot, and Lieutenant W. Earekcson as aide.

Evert, Morton Killed

Those who met death were Lt. Paul Evert, pilot of Army No. 3, Langley field, Va., and Walter Morton of Akron, Ohio, aide to Ward T. Van Orman of Akron, pilot of the Goodyear V, and winner of the elimination for the last two years. Van Orman was in a hospital with a fractured leg, suffered when his balloon struck the ground with great force after being hit by lightning. Morton's skull was fractured at the same time.

Evert met death when struck by lightning as the Army No. 3 floated 1,000 feet in the air. The bolt also fired the big bag, which fell to the earth and was consumed. Evert's aide, Lieut. U. G. B. Ent of Northumberland, Pa., was unhurt.

Cooper Badly Burned

James F. Cooper, Akron, Ohio, aide on the City of Cleveland, was shocked and suffered burns when lightning pierced his balloon. He was in a Westmoreland hospital, where his condition was reported fair. Carl K. Wollam, Akron, Ohio, pilot of the Cleveland entry, escaped.

A number of the balloonists were slightly cut and bruised as their craft came to earth, sometimes voluntarily as the storm grew more and more severe and again as the baskets caught in trees or on wires as the bags were forced to the ground. All came down within the comparatively small area of two counties—Westmoreland and Fayette.

Last Balloon In Air Lands Today

PITTSBURGH, May 31 (AP).—The U. S. army balloon No. 1, the last of the bags entered in the national elimination balloon race to report, landed at Weems, Va., at 6:10 o'clock this morning, race headquarters was advised in a telegram from the pilot today.

Captain W. E. Kepner piloted the army No. 1 entry, from Scott Field, Belleville, Il. Lieutenant W. O. Eareckson was in the basket as aide. The balloon had been aloft for thirteen hours, the only one of the entries to make an extended flight, and apparently had won the race, althoug hrace headquarters here said the winner would not be declared officially until the flights of all the bags had been reported and considered.

Strong the Family Praise!

Miss Allen

Houston, Texas.—"I wish to say Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been a blessing to our family, especially in one daughter's case. She was in a serious condition with woman's weakness and just about past going when we decided to try one more remedy we had heard of — the 'Favorite Prescription.' Well, a few bottles of this helped her so she has never had any more trouble of the kind. So it is no wonder that we have depended wholly upon this one remedy ever since for all such ailments."—Mrs. Emma Allen, 313 Hogan St.
