ANOTHER DEADLOCK ARISES IN SESSION OF MEDIATORS

United States To Object To Any Plan That Carries Recognition Of The Huerta Regime

MOST SERIOUS OBSTRUCTION ENCOUNTERED

Mediators Would Give Dictator The Right To Name Men To Carry On Provisional Government

By Associated Press.

Niagara Falls, June 10.—A dangerous obstruction to progress on a vital point in the mediation proceeding has arisen which again threatens failure for the negotiations. The United States has said to the mediators in unequivocal terms that it cannot consent to any method of transition from the existing regime to the proposed new provisional government that can be construed as recognition of Huerta's administration.

The mediators are insisting that General Huerta be permitted to make the appointments of the men agreed upon here for provisional president. This the American government refuses to accept, not only because it is committed against recognition of Huerta but because it has been informed by constitutionalists that under no circumstances will they accept a peace plan which permits Huerta to exercise the constitutional function of naming his successor.

On this point, the mediators and American delegates are blocked. One side must give way before any advance is made.

Some of the principals have actually lost hope for a settlement, but there is a growing confidence that the mediators will devise some method of bridging the difficulty rather than allow mediation to founder on the rocks. The mediators were of the opinion that the United States should waive technicalities and consider that the end would justify the means.

It also was suggested that the United States need not extend its recognition until there had been some popular expression, such as the acceptance by the constitutionalists of the new president, when laid down their arms after his installation. Recognition could be accorded then with the idea that the popular will, in effect, had been registered.

The broad plan which has been virtually agreed upon by the mediators and the American and the Huerta delegates giving to the constitutionalists what amounts to a majority share in the new provisional government. They will have it in their power to insure the holding of a fair election, and if the constitutionalists cause is the popular one, they would experience no difficulty in electing their candidate for president.

It is because the constitutionalists have been given so large a part in the proposed provisional government that the mediators are insisting that Huerta should be allowed to retire with dignity.

SUFFRAGETTE QUOTES BIBLE AS HER CASE IS BEING TRIED

"I Came Not to Send Peace, But a Sword" Is Her Text In Court Room Harangue

By Associated Press. Birmingham, June 10.—Miss Bertha Ryland, the suffragette who yesterday destroyed with a butcher's cleaver, George Romney's "Portrait of a Boy" in the Birmingham art gallery, today was committed for trial. During the hearing, she shrieked without cessation and quoted Scripture.

"She used the text 'I came not to send peace but a sword,' as justification for her act and declared that the militants were 'working with divine guidance for purity and righteousness.'"

"No surrender" was her parting cry as she went to her cell.

NEW CITIZENS ARE BEING EXAMINED THIS AFTERNOON

Number of Applications for Naturalization Before District Court Are Heard

Special U. S. Examiner of Naturalization H. W. Anthony was here today conducting the examination of a number of applicants for naturalization. The first examination was Ernest Voght. Mr. Voght answered the questions properly and took the oath of allegiance.

DISPOSITION OF STEAMER ANTILLA IS NOT DECIDED

Secretary Bryan Refuses To Discuss Matter—Says Lind Went Home On Business

By Associated Press. Washington, June 10.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan conferred on the Mexican situation today. As the secretary was leaving the White House he was asked whether the liner Antilla will be used for arms and ammunition at Tampico.

"I cannot discuss the Antilla at this time," Mr. Bryan replied. When asked concerning John Lind's return last night to his home in Minnesota, Mr. Bryan said, "Mr. Lind has merely gone home on business. He will return later. He could be spared better at this time than hitherto and consequently has gone west on a short business trip."

Secretary Daniels said he had neither sent nor received any information of the Antilla. He said he expected to be advised if her cargo was landed.

WOMEN'S FEDERATION IS DISCUSSING SUFFRAGE TODAY

By Associated Press. Chicago, June 10.—Three points of view on the question of an endorsement of women's suffrage by the General Federation of Women's Clubs found expression here before a council of delegates today to outline the policy of the federation in its activities during the biennial convention. Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Suffrage Association, declared for the endorsement. The opposition's viewpoint was taken by Mrs. Fitzpatrick, president of the Georgia Federation.

PIERCE CORPORATION REFUSED ADMISSION

SUPREME COURT DENIES APPLICATION TO MANDAMUS SECRETARY OF STATE

OUSTED COMPANY'S SUCCESSOR

Justice Phillips Holds State Has a Right To Deny Permit to Outside Corporations

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, June 10.—The supreme court today denied the application for a writ of mandamus filed by the Pierce Oil corporation of Virginia against F. C. Weiner, secretary of state, to compel that official to issue a permit to the corporation to do business in Texas. This means the Virginia corporation is denied the right to enter the Texas field according to the opinion of the court, written by Associate Justice Nelson Phillips.

The supreme court denied the petition on the ground that the Pierce Oil corporation was one to which a defaulting corporation, convicted of the violation of the anti-trust laws of Texas, had transferred its business and property and that it was therefore brought within the terms of Article 7805 of the revised statutes of Texas. This is a statute which prohibits the successor of a corporation that has been ousted from the state for violating the anti-trust laws, from ever getting back into Texas.

It is pointed out that the Pierce Oil corporation, shortly after its incorporation in Virginia in 1912, took over by purchase the property of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, and assumed all its obligations and which business it now owns and operates. The court did not sustain the contention of the relator that it was not the intention of this statute to exclude from the state an independent corporation not a member of any such combination, which would stifle competition in its line.

The supreme court further points out the transaction by a foreign corporation within the state of other than interstate business is a privilege which the state may extend or withhold; that it is not a right which the corporation possesses.

"The state is free therefore," said Justice Phillips, "to prescribe the terms or conditions upon which it grants the authority."

EIGHT PERSONS LOSE LIVES IN TENEMENT FIRE TODAY

Five of Victims Are Women and Eight Other Occupants Are Seriously Injured

By Associated Press. New York, June 10.—Eight persons, five of them women, lost their lives and eight other occupants of the building were badly injured, in a fire that spread through an east side tenement early today. More than a score of persons were less seriously hurt.

LABOR FEDERATION OPPOSED PROHIBITION

TAKES ACTION ON QUESTION IN ITS CONVENTION AT EL PASO

LIVELY DEBATE ON SUBJECT

Throwing of Men Out of Work Is Chief Point—Time of Annual Meeting Is Changed

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, June 10.—Resolutions condemning prohibition were adopted this morning by the seventh annual convention of the Texas Federation of Labor. Prior to the adoption of the resolution spirited addresses were made declaring that the adoption of prohibition in a territory automatically threw many laborers out of work; not only those employed in the trades directly affected such as the brewery workers but in many other lines it was said.

Another resolution was adopted changing the date for the annual convention of the federation from the second Monday in June to the third Monday in April of each year. The question of amalgamation of negro unions with white unions was left to the action of individual unions but the convention gave endorsement to the forming of unions by negro workers.

A resolution to fix a permanent meeting place for the convention of the federation was unfavorably reported by the resolutions committee.

CONSERVATION TO HAVE RIGHT OF WAY

FIVE ADMINISTRATION BILLS TO BE TAKEN UP IN HOUSE AT ONCE

NATIONAL PROHIBITION PLAN

Hobson Resolution Likely To Be Voted On Soon With Opponents Claiming Victory

By Associated Press. Washington, June 10.—A special rule for consideration in the House of the administration conservation program, consisting of five bills, was voted out of the rules committee. A special rule for consideration of the Hobson prohibition amendment was unacted upon when the committee adjourned until later.

That the House will be forced to vote at an early date on a resolution providing for national prohibition through an amendment to the federal constitution practically has been assured. This was generally conceded as a result of the express willingness of Majority Leader Underwood to have the question brought before the House for a test.

The committee agreed to hear Representative Hobson and Rev. E. C. Dixon, legislative agent of the Anti-Saloon League before voting on the rule.

Anti-Claim Enough Votes. In committee there was no effort to force a vote. Anti-prohibitionists in the House declare the necessary two-thirds vote to pass the amendment could not be secured at this time. Majority Leader Underwood said if a vote were delayed now, it would probably not be reached during the present Congress.

The conservation program arranged in the special rule includes the Foster bill for leasing of coal lands in Alaska with six hours debate; the Foster radium bill with four hours debate; the bill extending payment period under reclamation projects, with two hours debate; the Ferris bill for conservation of water power sites on public lands with four hours debate; the Foster bill amending the mining laws with four hours debate.

All of the bills on the program have been approved by the administration.

He allowed himself nine cents for breakfast, twenty cents for lunch and fifteen cents for dinner. His total wealth may never be known as he apparently left no will.

BOOSTER SIGN HERE AND WILL BE INSTALLED SOON

Mammot Electric Display Sign Arrives and is to be Placed at Foot of Eighth Street

The sign recently ordered by the Chamber of Commerce from a Kalamazoo, Michigan, company has arrived and will be put up as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. The sign is forty-two feet long and thirty-three feet and three inches high. It will be placed on Eighth street leading up from the Union Station.

STRANGE LIFE OF MILLIONAIRE ENDS

FRANCIS A. OGDEN ECCENTRIC RECLUSE IS DEAD AT HOUSTON HOME

NO RECORDS OF HIS WEALTH

Began Accumulating Money Soon After Chicago Fire—Man of Many Peculiarities

By Associated Press. Chicago, June 10.—Safety deposit records were searched here today in an endeavor to find missing deeds to property owned by Francis A. Ogden, the eighty-four year old recluse and multimillionaire whose death in Houston, Texas, was made known here yesterday. Mr. Ogden was a nephew of William B. Ogden, first mayor of Chicago. He laid the foundation of his wealth by leasing and buying Chicago property immediately after the great fire of 1871. He never married.

"My brothers and sister invested in families and children. I invested in farms and real estate" was one of his favorite remarks. He was known to have held real estate of great value in Chicago and rich lands in other states. Mr. Ogden maintained quarters in a hotel he owned in Madison, Wisconsin, where he lived until a quarrel over litigation led him to abandon the city.

His room reflected his eccentricity. The walls were covered with advertising chromes, clippings from newspapers and calendars. For many years he lived on a self prescribed schedule of abstinence. He allowed himself nine cents for breakfast, twenty cents for lunch and fifteen cents for dinner. His total wealth may never be known as he apparently left no will.

ADMINISTRATORS OF ESTATE FIND THEIR TASK DIFFICULT

By Associated Press. Houston, Tex., June 10.—Temporary administrators of the estate of F. Ogden continued delving into his effects today and the deeper they went the more mystified they became.

Ogden came here over five years ago and became operating in real estate. He was little known here. His administrators reported finding deeds by the dozen among his effects some in trunks others between leaves of books and elsewhere, a large part of which has never been placed on record. In all his effects there is not one line to indicate a living relative nor has a will been found.

Administrators believe his fortune will amount to $10,000,000.

HUDSON IS RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF BARACAS

By Associated Press. Waco, Texas, June 10.—The National Baraca Volunteer union today re-elected Marshall Hudson of Syracuse, N. Y., as president. J. R. Jenkins of Waco, was elected vice president.

Arrangements have been made for some professional motorcycle racing at the lake race track on the Fourth of July. About fourteen will enter the race. Work will begin this week on the track to improve its condition.

UNVEIL MONUMENT IN NORTH CAROLINA

MEMORIAL TO WOMEN OF CONFEDERACY FROM THAT STATE IS DEDICATED

SECOND TRIBUTE OF ITS KIND

Is Made Possible Through Gift of $10,000 Left By Confederate Veteran For Purpose

By Associated Press. Raleigh, N. C., June 10.—A monument to the North Carolina Women of the Confederacy was unveiled here today. It is the second tribute of the South to its women of the Confederacy, a similar monument having been erected by the State of South Carolina. Members of the North Carolina division of the United Confederate Veterans and scores of prominent men and women from this and other states witnessed the ceremonies.

The memorial was made possible through the gift from the late Ashley Horne, who served as a Confederate soldier throughout the war between the states. As a member of the state legislature from Johnston county, he introduced a measure providing for the erection of a statue by the state. Failing to elicit the necessary support he gave $10,000, and accepted plans for the monument before his death in October, 1912. The monument stands on the south side of Capitol Square midway between Fayetteville and Salisbury streets. On the southern side, in a relief, is a grandmother in a sitting position, with a book in her lap. The woman is relating the story of the Civil War to her grandson, who grasps the hilt of his father's sword.

On the eastern side is a bas relief representing the Confederate soldier going to war. His return in an emaciated condition and ragged, but welcomed by the women of the Confederacy, is depicted on the western side. The monument is inscribed "To the North Carolina Women of the Confederacy."

J. A. Long, chairman of the monument committee, presided over today's ceremonies, which began in the local auditorium and were concluded at the site of the monument. The principal address of the occasion was delivered by Dr. Daniel Harvey Hill, a son of Col. D. H. Hill, who commanded the first North Carolina regiment in the battle of Bethel, 53 years ago today.

The court square where the unveiling took place, was crowded with members of the North Carolina division Confederate Veterans, commanded by General Julian S. Carr, of Durham, N. C., and other spectators. Ashley Horne, the young grandson of the donor of the monument, drew the veil from the statue after which an appropriate poem was read by Dr. Henry J. Stockard. Chairman Long formally presented the memorial to the state of North Carolina, in a short address, which was responded to by Gov. Locke Craig in behalf of the State.

UNITED STATES MAY BRING BALKAN PEACE

THIS COUNTRY'S GOOD OFFICES ARE SAID TO HAVE BEEN TENDERED

TO END ALBANIAN TROUBLE

Insurgents in That Country Refuse Allegiance To New Ruler Recently Installed

By Associated Press. London, June 10.—A newspaper dispatch from Vienna today says George Frell Williams, American minister to Greece, has sent a circular to the representatives of the European powers, informing them that the government of the United States is ready to offer its good offices for the restoration of peace in Albania.

The information was published by a newspaper in Athens.

The Moslem insurgents in Albania refused to recognize Prince William of Wied as their ruler and demand the nomination of a Moslem prince. Recently they came into armed conflict with the government forces, which they defeated, but afterwards were routed in the vicinity of Tirane, to the east of Durazzo, the Albanian capital.

NO SUCH INSTRUCTIONS SENT FROM WASHINGTON

By Associated Press. Washington, June 10.—At the state department it was announced today that no instructions had been given Minister Williams to circulate the European powers offering services of the United States as a mediator in Albania, and officials doubted that the minister had taken such action on his own account.

VOTE ON TOLL BILL IS EXPECTED TODAY

BELIEVED MEASURE WILL PASS SENATE WITH ONE CHANGE

AMENDMENT BY SUTHERLAND

Would Give Positive Right To United States To Discriminate In Favor Of Own Ships

By Associated Press. Washington, June 10.—The long historic debate over the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption was in its last stages today.

When the Senate resumed work with the prospect of final voting before adjournment today administration leaders claimed the repeal would pass with a safe majority.

First in order for voting came the amendment to the repeal bill as it passed the House. The principal amendment, a compromise between Senate democrats and republicans, qualifies the repeal with the reservation it shall be construed as a waiver of the rights of the United States to pass American coastwise shipping through the canal free of tolls. It generally was conceded that the amendment would pass the Senate and later be accepted by the House and finally accepted by President Wilson.

While it is said the president will approve the repeal bill with the amendment, he prefers that it be passed without one. Senator Sutherland, republican, proposed an amendment asserting positively the right of the United States to discriminate in favor of its own ships and sought the advantage of having it voted upon first. There were objections, however, and Senator Sutherland acting as presiding officer, ruled it out of order.

Senator Borah and Senator Simmons debated the amendment which democratic leaders support, and its variation from the Sutherland substitute.

Ashurst's Little Joke. "This amendment is one of reservation of right," said Senator Simmons. "It asserts no right of the United States in the canal but reserves any right we have in the premises. The Sutherland amendment asserts that the United States has a right to exempt its ships. That raises a square issue for us to decide."

Senator Ashurst, democrat, announced he would vote against the compromise measure.

"I do not know what it will be called in history, the Simmons amendment or the Norris amendment but I think it will be called the Simmons tango because it is one step forward, two steps backward and then a side step," he said.

HUNDREDS OF NEW HOMES BUILDING IN GALVESTON

By Associated Press. Galveston, Texas, June 10.—The rapid growth of Texas cities, which has been cropping up in statistical reports of the new directories recently, is evidenced in Galveston, by builders figures that at least one thousand new homes will have been constructed here by the end of the present year, if the rate of building maintained for the first six months is maintained.

Statistics on the building of new homes are not often given as evidence of city growth because they are not usually readily available. Yet they are the first evidence that the visitor sees, not only in Galveston but in every city of Texas and in the smaller places as well. Statisticians usually estimate a new dwelling as housing five persons. From such observations as are possible in the absence of a census of these new homes, it appears that five is a fair average to quote for both Galveston and other Texas cities.

ROOSEVELT-WILLARD CIVIL CEREMONY PERFORMED

Marriage Takes Place at Police Headquarters—Groom's Father Is In Attendance

By Associated Press. Madrid, Spain, June 10.—The civil marriage of Miss Belle Wyatt Willard, daughter of the American ambassador to Spain and Kermit Roosevelt, son of Theodore Roosevelt, was performed today. The marriage was performed at the residence of the chief of police by the magistrate of the Buena Vista district.

Police headquarters are located in a populous section of the city and the passage of the wedding party in five automobiles attracted considerable attention. Moving picture men were in force.

Col. Roosevelt and Ambassador Willard were among those present at the ceremony after which the wedding party left the city to spend the afternoon at Toledo.

3 DROWN IN LAKE WICHITA

SWIMMERS MEET DEATH LATE SATURDAY NIGHT AND SUNDAY AFTERNOON

RECOVER TWO BODIES

Two Oil Field Workers Meet Fate at Buggy Boat—Carpenter Drowns in Spillway Pool

JUNE FOREMAN, carpenter at Ball Brothers, drowned while swimming in spillway.

FRED SCOTT, driller, drowned while swimming in spillway.

D. J. MINNICK, tool-dresser, drowned while swimming in spillway.

Three lives were added to Lake Wichita's toll Saturday night and Sunday when the three men above named went to their deaths while in swimming.

Foreman was drowned about midnight Saturday night while in swimming in a small pool below the spillway. A dozen or more men, engaged in seeing, were nearby but did not realize that their companion was in danger until he suddenly disappeared and did not come up again. He was seized with cramps.

Scott met his death about 1:30 Sunday afternoon when he jumped from a rowboat, apparently excited because one of his companions seemed to be drowning. He was seen about 200 feet from the point and never came up.

Minnick died at the same time as Scott, both men jumping from the boat when it was being rocked by the waves. Minnick called for help before he sank but could not be reached.

Foreman's body was recovered within 35 minutes after he went down. Scott's body was found about four hours after he sank. Minnick's has not yet been recovered.

Didn't Realize Danger. In Foreman's case, lack of realization of his danger led to his death. With a party of other glass factory employees he was spending the night at the spillway and all were waiting for a seine which one of the party had gone for. Foreman was swimming around a small pool, probably not over ten yards wide and the others who were making merry on the bank were not paying much attention to him.

"Aren't you getting tired?" someone asked him.

"Yes, I'm getting pretty weak," Foreman said. A short time later the others missed him. It was thought at first that he had come out, but the party soon realized that he had gone down and a search was at once instituted. Within thirty-five minutes the body was found. He was completely exhausted when he was pulled out.

First aid measures were resorted to, but life was already extinct.

Foreman is survived by his widow, a bride of five months. They resided in the factory district. They resided at Ball Brothers, being a carpenter by trade. He was twenty-six years of age.

Scott and Minnick were of a party of six which had gone to the point to spend the afternoon. All six had tripped and were in swimming. Minnick and Scott were in one of the rowboats without their clothes.

Frightened By Another. Newt Roberts, one of the party, decided to swim out to the boat, which was probably 150 feet from the shore. He had almost reached it when Scott and Minnick, in fun, raised a craft further away to keep him from getting in. He tried to catch it, but the others playfully eluded him and presently Roberts was exhausted. He turned and started to swim to the shore but realized that his strength was failing.

J. H. McAndrews of Dallas, another of the party, saw that Roberts was in danger and swam out to him, bringing him safely to the point. When Scott and Minnick saw Roberts' danger it seemed to unnerve them and they made an excited effort to row the boat to the shore. A considerable wind and the boat was being rocked by the waves. Minnick jumped out and started to swim to shore, proceeded a few strokes, then sank, calling for help. Scott tried to hand him an oar and also tried to reach him with the boat's bow, but he was over him twice in his panic. Minnick sank out of sight and then Scott jumped from the other side of the boat. He sank silently and was seen no more.

Search Begins at Once. The others once rowed to the pavilion and told the tragedy. Grappling hooks were obtained and a large party went over to assist in the search. The grappling hooks were used as a forlorn hope, as the men had no clothes on for the hooks to catch and a seine was also used. Several good swimmers dived in repeatedly, the water being from ten to fifteen feet deep there, but without result.

Late in the evening one of the dragging parties felt something on the drag and pulled Scott's body to the surface. One of the boats had caught in a corner of the man's left eye giving sufficient purchase to hold it, although not disfiguring the face.

The search for Minnick's body continued all night and this morning.

Minnick's Brother Arrives. Minnick's brother came in from Burk Burnett's last night, having been notified of the incident. He was unable at first to get a boat and wanted to make the long trip around to the point in an auto, but was dissuaded. Later he was able to join the searching party and assist in the task.

Fate Intervened in behalf of Jack Elliott, another tool dresser in the party. While walking around in his

ORGANIZATIONS HOLD JOINT EXERCISES AT RECREATION TENT SUNDAY AFTERNOON

DR. CHARLES SCOVILLE SPEAKS

Man's Duty To Others Is Theme of Address by Evangelist—Much Religion in Lodges

From Monday's Daily.

"If the church had done its full duty there never would have been any lodges," declared Dr. Scoville in his memorial address to the Woodmen's organizations at the Tent theatre Sunday afternoon.

"Since I have joined the lodge I've got my eyes opened," he said "to see how much religion there is in the lodge; to see what an important part the Bible plays in the lodge ritual and practice."

The speaker took for his text the words "And Who is Thy Neighbor?" in olden days the speaker said, the king owned the people, now the people own the king, they own the president, they own the rulers, they own the mayor, they own the governor, they are individuals tied together for mutual protection, their officers are their servants; the lodge members are individuals tied together in brotherhood.

He especially commended the insurance feature of the Woodmen lodges, declaring that when a man dies and goes through the pearly gates and leaves his wife and children to go through the gates to the poor house, he did not believe that man had done a good thing.

People in the churches he said often sing "Rescue the Perishing, Care for the dying," "Weep for the erring one," "Lift up the fallen," but that singing about it was as far as they got. He declared that the man who went to church when the dying, the perishing, and other unfortunates were about and did not give them his aid was not doing the right thing.

"Sweet Now and Now" "It's all right," he said "to sing 'In the sweet by and by' but we ought to try to make a little sweet now and now. I like to sing about the 'heaven over there,' but I want a little of heaven over here."

The real brother, he said, was Jesus. He came into the world between oxen, died between thieves and swung open the gates of glory.

Dorcas' needle, Moses' staff, David's sling, the loaves and fishes of the land, he said, were as the ballot of the American voter in the hand of every brother. He exhorted his hearers to take the ballot and "drive out the saloons and make Wichita Falls free."

Robert had sustained a cut on one of his toes, which prevented his joining the two who went out in the boat.

Newt Roberts who was rescued by McAndrews, is employed at a local bank. Roberts was heart-broken over the affair and felt that it was largely his fault, as if he had not tried to swim to the boat, the others might not have gotten excited, as they did. The others, however, felt that no blame whatever attached to him.

Had No Families. Roberts probably owes his life to J. H. McAndrews, the Dallas man, who pulled him in after he started to swim back to the boat, as he was completely exhausted when McAndrews reached him and would probably have been unable to reach the shore.

So far as known, Scott has no family relatives in this section, and the body is being held pending advice from Statenville, West Virginia, where he formerly resided. Scott has worked in practically all the fields in the United States, having been in the Electric field for two years past. Minnick came from Pennsylvania. He has a brother at Burk Burnett, but no other relatives in this section. Like Scott, he has worked in a number of oil fields throughout the United States. Just what disposition will be made of his body when it is found, has not been determined.

Foreman's body was sent today to his former home in Coffeyville, Kansas, where it will be buried. Mrs. Foreman, the young widow, accompanied it.

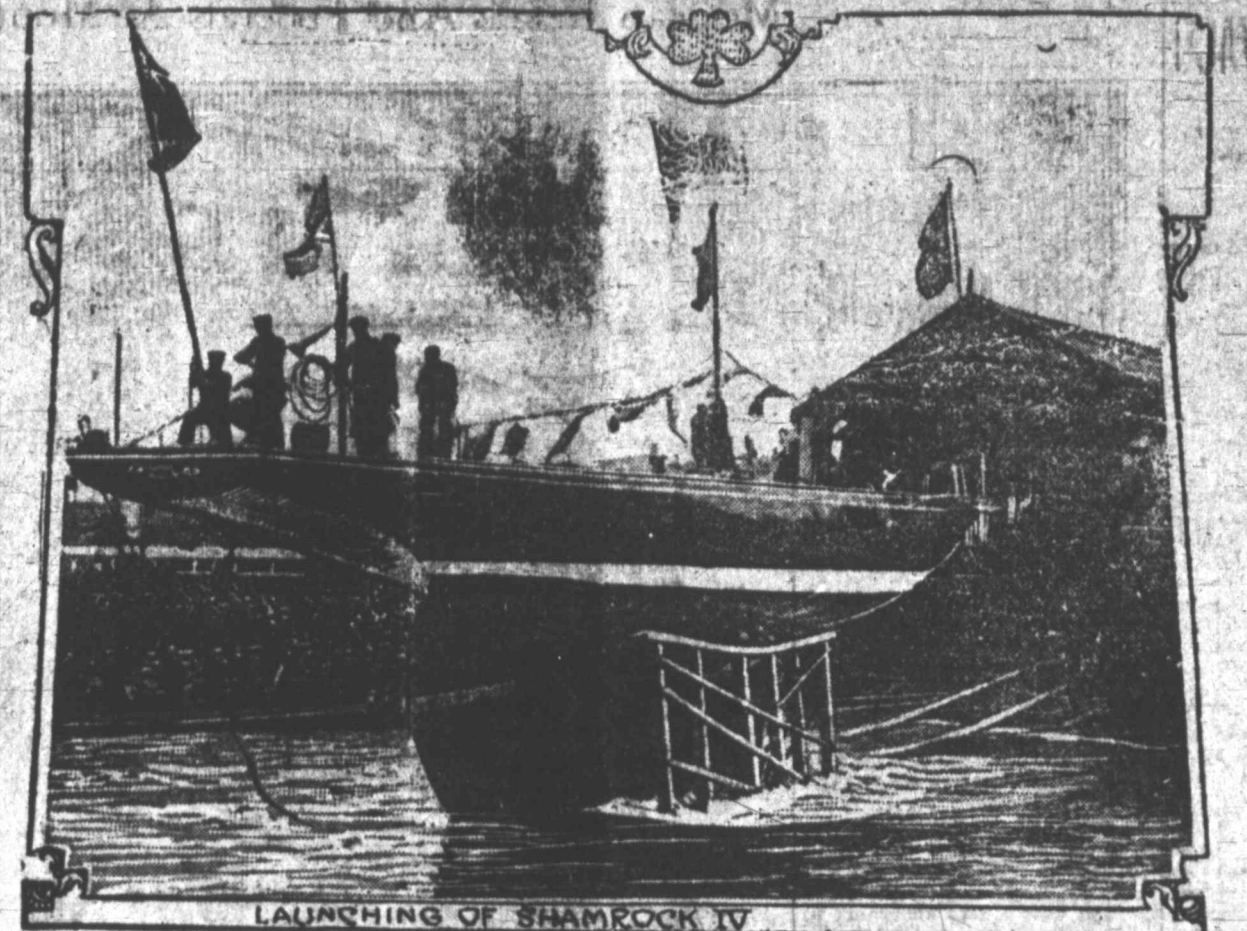

Fourteen To Date. This makes a total of fourteen deaths in Lake Wichita since the dam was completed, according to local records.

The boat occupied by Scott and Minnick drifted across the lake and lodged on the north side where it was found some hours later. Minnick and Scott did not join the others until the pier was reached, there McAndrews and Roberts and their party, seeing that Scott and Minnick were also going over to the point, asked them to join and the invitation was accepted.

A larger crowd than usual was at the lake yesterday afternoon and the news of the tragedy quickly spread. Several hundred stood on the landing pier until late in the evening, waiting for news from the searchers.

The bodies of Foreman and Scott were both taken in charge by E. G. Hill and prepared for shipment.

SHAMROCK IV., CUP CHALLENGER, SEEMS TO MAKE GOOD AT EARLY TRIALS AFTER HER LAUNCHING

LAUNCHING OF SHAMROCK IV.

Portsmouth, England, June 8.—Shamrock IV., Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's cup, recently launched, has made her first trial run, the ship accompanied by Shamrock III. and apparently is going to make good. The towered challenger would prove especially fast in the light to moderate winds. The mainmast of the challenger is enormous, with a tremendous hoist. The boom projects some fifteen feet over the taffall. The jack yarder is correspondingly big, with the yard projecting about eighteen feet above the truck.

older Shamrock. The tremendous size of the challenger's foremast astonished the spectators at first. The boat stands up well in the gusts and makes progress in the light air, which encourages those who have betted that the challenger would prove especially fast.

Special mention should also be made of the singing of Mrs. Herbert Perkins, whose rich, full voice has improved wonderfully under her efficient teacher, Mrs. John Chambers also sang with good tone and fine finish. The violin selections by Elizabeth Youngblood and Bernice Jackson were unusually good.

Two hundred and sixteen pupils were enrolled during the past year and the wonderful progress was shown to the public at these recitals. The school is a great asset to the town and community and the great good accomplished can scarcely be estimated. A number of out of town pupils have attended during the past year and have made excellent progress, among these is Miss Addie McCleary who contributed excellent numbers to the programs of both evenings. The concerts were largely attended. The program for Friday evening was as follows:

Chorus—College Glee Club. Piano Quartette—Misses Helen Stone, Ruby Moore, Miss Herron, Louise Latham.

Piano Solo—Miss Celia Stayton. Piano Solo—Eva Evertson. Piano Solo—Miss Edith Slater. Reading—Miss Annette Monroe. Piano Solo—Miss Annette Walsh. Viola Solo—Miss Bernice Jackson. Piano Duo—Misses Mildred Van Voe and Jewel Brown.

Piano Solo—Miss Addie McCleary. Vocal Solo—Mrs. Herbert Perkins. Piano Solo—Miss Gladys Herron. Reading—Miss Helen Jones. Vocal Solo—Mrs. John Chambers. Viola Solo—Miss Jackson. Piano Solo—Miss Elizabeth Youngblood.

Piano Solo—Miss Edna Mooneyham. Impromptu by Sherbert—Miss Theresa Smith. Violin Quartette—F. Malacord, P. Ford, G. Emmert and P. Hardesty. Awarding of scholarships and medals. Overture—College orchestra.

Announcement is Made. When it was announced that Edna Mooneyham had been chosen the theatre resounded with round after round of thunderous applause and the announcement that Miss Edith Slater was accorded second choice also caused great applause. The girl so honored is a most talented musician and has accomplished much through her own efforts in the study of music and with the excellent advantages which this scholarship provides will become a great credit to the College of Music and Art. The committee of judges was composed of Mrs. Fred Harrison, Miss Becker and Miss Brown. Henrietta, among the foremost musicians of the community and the decision was arrived at after a careful examination of the contestants. The three gold medals were awarded to Gertrude Baugh, Madeline Baskford and Eva Evertson and honorable mention was accorded Theresa Smith, Celia Stayton, Ruth Statton, Marie Berry, Minter Watts, George Sibert, Karma Yeager, Edaline King, Elizabeth Youngblood, Bernice Jackson, Fernand Malacord and Maurine Smith.

The program of Friday evening was unusually fine and from beginning to end and special mention should be made of Miss Eva Evertson, whose playing was marvelous, her phrasing and tone equalling that of an old player. Miss Evertson is to be regarded as a little short of a genius. Also deserving of mention is Theresa Smith and also Annette Walsh, both wonderfully gifted and good students. Miss Smith's technique is splendid and Miss Walsh has unusually good tone and artistic interpretation.

Many Enjoyable Numbers. Other enjoyable numbers on the program were the readings by Anita Monroe and Helen Allen, also the presentation of Sacred Cantata. On Commencement Night—Class and Alumnae Exercises.

From Sunday's Daily. This year's graduates from the Academy of Mary Immaculate are six in number, Misses Mary E. Gordon, Lena Gilbert, Gretchen Haier, Mattie Doss Hightower, Fannie Williamson and Anna Belle Yarbrough. Gretchen Haier is valedictorian, Lena Gilbert is salutatorian and Fannie Williamson class essayist. All three will take part in the commencement night exercises.

On Monday Alumnae Day will be observed at the Academy, Tuesday is Class Day and Wednesday night the commencement exercises will take place at the Wichita Theatre. The feature of the commencement night entertainment will be a sacred cantata, "Esther, the Beautiful Queen," with the following cast of characters: Esther—Miss M. Simpson. Ahasuerus—Miss L. Gilbert. Haman—Miss E. Gordon. Mordecai—Miss F. Oechener. Zorishah—Miss E. Jackson. Haman's Child—Miss E. Moran. Mordecai's Sister—Miss E. Katenman. Prophets—Miss F. Williamson. A Median Princess—Miss M. Order Will Aggregate 80 Carloads—Delivery Within Next Ninety Days.

From Sunday's Daily. An order to furnish 40,000 grain doors for the Katy railroad has been contracted by the Wichita Falls Sash and Door Company of this city, the deal being closed last week by the purchasing agent of the road at St. Louis.

This immense order, aggregating eighty carloads, will require a million feet of lumber to fill. The doors are required on account of the prospects for a bumper grain crop throughout the Katy's territory, the Katy placing the order so as to be ready to handle the grain when shipping starts.

The doors are to be delivered with in ninety days. That an order of this size should be given to a Wichita Falls concern, out of the numerous plants on the Katy's line is something of which Messrs. Moore and Richol are very proud.

FORM ORGANIZATION OF TRUCK GROWERS

ASSOCIATION IS PERFECTED AT MEETING HELD HERE SATURDAY MORNING

WILL MEET AGAIN THURSDAY

Plans For More Profitable Selling of Produce in This County Are Formulated

From Sunday's Daily.

Preliminary organization of a truck growers' association was perfected here yesterday morning when about twenty truck growers of this section met at the court house and elected the following officers: President, L. A. Wooten; vice presidents, J. B. Nicholson and M. L. Thompson; secretary, W. H. Downing. Another meeting has been called for Tuesday morning at 9 a. m. at the same place when an effort will be made to have all the truck growers and other interested in attendance.

At the meeting Saturday morning L. A. Wooten, E. L. Walsh, L. M. Monroe and P. A. Berry were appointed a committee to draw up a resolution to be presented at the meeting Tuesday morning. This resolution will outline the purpose and the scope of the organization.

May Employ Selling Agent. Every one who is interested in the sale of home raised products and the development of the truck growing industry in the Wichita county is urged to attend the meeting Tuesday.

At Saturday's meeting a proposal for the employment of a selling agent in Wichita Falls through whom all the produce would be sold was received with favor. This agent would be expected at all times to keep posted on the condition of the market, the supply and demand and other factors and rules would be adopted for the standardization of products. This agent would not only furnish the farmers and truck raisers with valuable information but could keep the merchants and wholesale dealers posted concerning the supply, etc.

OIL DEVELOPMENT IN OLNEY VICINITY

$100,000 COMPANY WILL PUT DOWN SEVERAL WELLS IN THAT SECTION

OLD WELLS MAKING FLOWS

Many Believe That Field Will Still Be Opened Up, in Spite of Previous Failures

Special to The Times.

Olney, Texas, June 8.—In the early part of the spring, S. M. J. Benson of this place set about to perfect the organization of an oil company for the purpose of developing the oil field near here that was abandoned some time ago by the Corsicans people, they then claimed this to be a dry field and to all intents and purposes it appeared to be a dry field.

Some months after they had quit the field the owner of one of the tracts of land leased to them noticed oil coming out of one of the wells they left capped and said it was dry. They returned to pull their casing and plug the well but the owner, Mat Andrews, would not let them pull the casing, paying them for the well.

It is reported that during the development of this field (the sinking of ten wells) by the Corsicans people that they used fuel from this well, pumping it every three or four days, operating three rigs at the time. The present owners have never had the well tested, but it is still flowing oil and has been for the past two years.

After numerous efforts to interest people in this field, Mr. Benson finally successful in securing Mr. Bland of San Antonio, to come here and organize a company for the purpose of developing this field. Mr. Bland has been successful in interesting capital in this enterprise and on Monday of this week the secretary of state notified him that the charter was recorded as filed for $100,000. The secretary of state approved this charter after viewing the property and when the well was turned on and the oil began flowing the secretary and attorney for the company who had never seen the well before, were both amazed at the results.

The company has 5,000 acres under lease and will sink ten wells this year and expect to develop one of the largest fields in Texas.

The thing greatly in favor of this field is the fact that pay oil is found at 920 feet, having a 16 foot pay sand. In all the wells sunk by the Corsicans people it is reported oil was found but none were developed. The peculiar features of their contract prevented them from trying to bring in a paying well. Some of the wells yet show evidence of oil. One of the wells two and a half miles southeast of the flowing well is nearly filled now with oil after having been thoroughly cemented, it was thought. A well 150 yards west of the present flowing well shows evidence of having been a producer one of the wells in the field, oil having covered the ground and run off in the creek below.

BALL REPLIES TO FERGUSON ATTACK

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR DE-VOTES MUCH TIME TO HIS OPPONENT

IS HEARD BY LARGE CROWD

Promises Program of Constructive Legislation in Governor's Office.
Defends His Record

"One year under the constructive legislation that I have outlined will do more toward making the 220,000 tenant farmers of Texas home owners than any other plan in a century," Col. Tom Ball of Houston told an audience that filled the first floor of the Wichita theatre and overflowed into the galleries last night.

Col. Ball devoted much attention to statements attributed to Mr. Ferguson which he refuted with a definiteness and a thoroughness that showed the Houston man as in deep earnest. The crowd which heard Col. Ball was estimated at more than 800 and contained many ladies and a number of farmers, some coming from Burkburnett and Iowa Park.

Judge Martin introduced the speaker. He was introduced by Judge P. A. Martin who referred to Col. Ball not as a self-made candidate but as a self-made man. He said Col. Ball had been pulled out of private life and unanimously endorsed by a large proportion of the people of Texas and made the leader of the moral forces of the state. He said Mr. Ball had been pulled out of his law office like Cincinnati's old had been pulled away from his plow and made a tribune of Rome.

"He's a great man and a big man," said Judge Martin, "and Texas is going to have a great big governor once more."

Col. Ball in opening his address said that he had not sought endorsement; it was not his desire to become a candidate but that when he came to him what he believed to be a substantial demand that he assume leadership of the moral forces of the state he had no option but to accept.

He said that he believed a candidate for governor ought to have some respect for the truth because a man who would not tell the truth about his opponent will not tell the truth to the people.

Charges by Ferguson He then took up in detail charges and statements of Ferguson refuting them with vigor and a show of feeling. When he began speaking he was hoarse from a cold which he contracted several days ago but he proceeded this disappeared. Referring to a charge that he had shared in $18,000 profits from the liquor business he said that if it could be shown that he had shared one dime he'd retire from the race.

"I state now," he declared "when I have my clubs, hotels and bar rooms will all quit selling liquor at the same time. When Mr. Ferguson has his way every precinct in this state will be selling liquor without restraint."

He repeated his refutation of the charge that he had helped attempt to howl down Governor Hogg and told of his work in Hogg's campaigns in 1888, 1889 and 1890 and said that he was one of Hogg's floor managers in 1892 "when the Ferguson bunch bolted the convention." He mentioned especially Jonathan Lane, Ferguson's campaign manager in Harris county, and Barry Miller, Ferguson's manager in Dallas county.

Reviews His Career The speaker reviewed his thirty years in private business and public life coming down to the nomination of Wilson at Baltimore. He said that while he was working with all his might for Wilson "Jim Ferguson was over in Bell county doing all he could to defeat him." He said there were over 3,000 members of Ball clubs in Bell county where Ferguson was born and predicted that he would carry that county over Ferguson. The latter, he said, had quit practicing law when he was fifty-seven years old when he got 3,000 acres of black land farms at the same time he got his good wife. Col. Ball said that Ferguson was not renting these farms on the third or fourth but was working them with hired hands, Mexicans and white men together. The speaker pledged himself to a business administration of Texas affairs.

"I intend to see that you get a dollar's worth for every dollar you pay in taxes," he said. He accused his opponent either of "reckless ignorance or monumental mendacity" in statements attributed to him in which he said Ferguson charged that the pros were responsible for the conditions at the blind asylum.

Not to Restore "Bat" The bat will not be restored in the penitentiaries, Col. Ball said, if he is elected governor, but promised that the convicts would be humanely treated and that the penitentiary system would be taken out of "politics and out of debt."

He declared himself in favor of universal education and the advancement of the country schools, the establishment of rural high schools and liberal support to all the higher institutions of learning. He favored the absolute separation of the A. and M. College and the State University.

One of the first laws he would ask for, he said, would be one requiring candidates to receive majority nominations. He would also prohibit liquor interests from contributing a cent to any campaign fund under penalty of losing license and going to jail.

Ferguson, he said, had advanced two issues in the campaign. "One promise he ought not to have made and can keep and the other he ought not to

STATE COMMITTEE IN SESSION AT WACO

GOVERNOR COLQUITT IN CITY, BUT WILL ATTEND MEETING OF MEMBERS

EL PASO IS CONVENTION CITY

Waco, Dallas, Austin and El Paso Are Contestants—Ball Forces Expected to Control

By Associated Press. Waco, Texas, June 8.—While Governor Colquitt has been here since yesterday afternoon, he does not, according to his own statement, expect to appear before the state democratic executive committee while in session here today. It has been made plain by the governor that he favors having the question of submission presented straight to the voters of Texas and will discuss the matter with those members of the committee who are his personal and political friends. It is generally conceded that submission will be placed on the ticket for the July primary.

Committee Are Named. Members of the committee who reported for the first session were: Walter Collins of Hillsboro, chairman; C. J. Kirk of Houston, secretary; Lloyd Lockridge of Austin, assistant secretary; William Bacon of Greenville, J. R. Warren of Gilmer, J. G. Simmons of Dallas, D. E. Decker of Quanah, J. K. Wells of Brownsville, P. Coon of San Antonio, O. A. McCracken of Floresville, E. J. Weaver of La Grange, H. H. Burke of Comanche, and J. L. Brunner of Taylor. Others were represented by proxy. The following committees were named by Chairman Walter Collins:

On submission—J. S. Williams of Paris, chairman; William Bacon of Greenville, B. Y. Cummings of Hillsboro, E. J. Weber of La Grange, T. N. Hill of Beaumont.

On convention—H. Burke of Comanche, chairman.

Resolutions and candidates—W. E. Speel of Waco, chairman.

Assessments of candidates—J. L. Brunner of Taylor.

Submission Petition. The convention committee will recommend to the executive committee that El Paso be selected as the place for holding the state convention in August. At the conclusion of the convention committee's sessions it was announced the western city would be urged. The full committee will take final action, but it is generally conceded the recommendation will be sustained.

Senator U. S. Lattimore of Fort Worth presented petitions said to have been signed by 43,000 qualified voters of the state, which he said was the required ten per cent as shown by the vote for governor, requesting to have the official ballot the question of submitting a constitutional amendment to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquor. The senator suggested that it would be preferable to those whom he represented to have the ballot read as in 1910 "for submission" and "against submission." On motion the petition was referred to the resolutions committee which will report this afternoon.

Whether Ball or Ferguson influences would control the committee was perhaps the first outstanding political feature. Forecasts have been that the Ball supporters would have a majority of the committee. Governor O. B. Colquitt had announced he would come here to appear before the committee. Beyond the fact that as governor he might be deeply interested in the actions of this important committee, no special purpose for sitting in any of the deliberations was announced by the governor. His support of the anti through Ferguson was pointed to, however, as one ground for his coming. Waco is after the state convention. Two years ago San Antonio had the convention, at that time winning it from Dallas and Fort Worth.

tion that he would veto all liquor legislation and his farm tenant plank. He ridiculed Ferguson's farm tenant plank as absurd, illegal and wholly impractical.

Col. Ball said that when he became governor he would urge the enactment of constructive legislation including the exemption of improvements on homesteads from taxation, an inheritance tax on landed estates above the homestead, the leasing of 1,000,000 of the state school funds annually to home buyers, and the organization of farm building and development associations to do for the farmer what the building and loan associations in the cities do for the working man. He favored rural credit, warehouses and better marketing legislation.

He said that if elected that the bar rooms would go out of business with or without submission but that if the people voted for submission the necessary legislation could be enacted within three days and the attention turned to the enactment of the constructive legislation he had outlined.

Other Candidates Speak Before Col. Ball was introduced Hon. J. J. Foss of Athens, candidate for associate justice of the court of criminal appeals and John W. Baker of Lubbock, candidate for state treasurer, spoke briefly in behalf of their candidates.

Seated on the stage with the speaker were:

Ed Howard, Edgar P. Hanes, C. H. Harbuck, D. E. Walecott, G. H. Carpenter, J. T. Montgomery, Rev. J. W. Hill, W. J. Bullock, Rev. Morgan, Rev. Miller, A. H. Cartigan, P. A. Martin, B. F. Crawford, C. W. Bonner of Bellevue, W. E. Forsy of Archer City, Hon.

COMMITTEE UNDECIDED ON IMPEACHMENT OF SPEER

No Resolution of Censure as Middle Ground Will Be Urged, It Is Announced Today.

By Associated Press. Washington, June 8.—Members of House Judiciary sub-committee in charge of the impeachment proceedings against Federal district Judge Emory Speer of Macon Georgia, declared today there could be only two propositions to put before the House; either that Judge Speer be impeached or that no further steps be taken.

"The sub-committee has reached no agreement yet," said Chairman Webb "but may reach an agreement in time to report the entire judiciary committee by next Thursday. The committee cannot recommend censure, there is no middle ground."

Trust Out.

By Associated Press. Washington, June 8.—The supreme court today affirmed the decree of the Missouri supreme court ousting the International Harvester company of America from the state and fixing it $25,000 for violation of the state's anti-trust law.

The court held the law was constitutional although it applies to restraint of combinations dealing in commodities and not combinations of labor.

ARGUMENT IS HEARD TODAY IN BURKBURNETT ELECTION

In the district court today Judge Scurry is hearing arguments on the petition of the saloon owners and others in the Burkburnett precinct to have the election, in which the district was voted dry, declared void on account of alleged irregularities in ordering the election and the canvass of the vote.

The petitioners are represented by Attorney Fred Weeks, while Mathis and Kay are representing the dry interests. Most of the morning session of the court was taken up with the case. It is expected the arguments will be completed this afternoon.

SPEND FOUR BITS, BECOME PROPERTY OWNERS, AND VOTE

Novel Scheme Is Resorted To At Iowa Park To Defeat Stock
Law At Election

In a stock law election held in the Iowa Park precinct recently, the stock law was defeated. This was a surprise to the leaders of the movement for the adoption of the law as they had made a careful canvass of the real estate owners, these alone being qualified to vote and had found a majority of them in favor of the adoption of the law.

At the election, however, a number of men voted whom it was not known owned any property in the precinct. These men took oath that they were real estate owners and duly qualified to vote. An investigation of the county clerk's records showed that they were right so far as owning real estate was concerned. A few days before the election a lot in Iowa Park was found to have been conveyed to about twenty men jointly.

These were the men who voted in the stock law election.

The cash consideration when the lot was bought was ten dollars or about fifty cents each for those taking part.

Fire chief J. L. McClure received a telephone message from Paris, Texas, this morning, saying that his brother, C. D. McClure, was seriously ill. His recovery is reported impossible. Mr. McClure is reported to be in the hospital at Paris, Texas.

BODY OF DROWNED MAN IS RECOVERED

COMES TO SURFACE OF WATER IN LAKE EARLY THIS MORNING

LONG SEARCH WITHOUT RESULT

Body Is Seen Monday When Dynamite Is Used, But Sinks Again and Is Found Today

Nearly forty-eight hours after D. J. Minick was drowned his body was recovered from the waters of Lake Wichita shortly after 7 o'clock this morning, near the spot where he sank to his death. While the searchers were dragging the lake nearby, the man's form rose to the surface and was quickly seized and pulled into a boat.

Dynamite was resorted to yesterday in an effort to bring the body to the surface and after two shots had been fired the body was seen floating on the water. Before those in the boat could row to the place it had disappeared again beneath the surface and could not again be located. More dynamite was used but without result.

A large number of men have been on duty at the point since the drowning, making every effort to find the body and every known means was resorted to in the attempt to locate it. The search continued day and night. E. Minick of Burkburnett, brother of the deceased was among the searchers; E. G. Hill, Judge C. H. Felder, Frankie Burns, O. T. Goreline, J. Blacklock, Dick Wheeler, Ben Savage, J. O. Rolling and a number of others were on duty this morning when the body was found.

The lake was patrolled carefully this morning, it being thought that perhaps the body had risen to the surface during the night.

Minick was drowned Sunday afternoon when he and Fred Scott were in swimming off Bug Point. Scott's body was found late Sunday evening. The body bore little evidence of its long stay in the water. Marks on the face indicated that the grappling hooks had passed over the body as it lay in the water.

GENEROSITY MARKS DRILLERS' LAST DAY

CLOSING CHAPTER IN LIFE OF FRED SCOTT, DROWNED, IS BEAUTIFUL ONE

HELPED THOSE OUT OF WORK

Gave Away Most of His Last Pay Check To Others Who Were Less Steadily Employed

Acts of friendship for the less fortunate brother workmen of Fred Scott marked the last day on earth of that driller before the waters of Lake Wichita engulfed him Sunday afternoon. With several weeks' pay on his person Saturday morning, Sunday morning found him with less than a third of it still in his possession. The rest he had given to other drillers and oil field workers who have not been as steadily employed as he was.

These facts came to light today, and they seem to show that a heart of gold throbbed beneath the rough exterior of Fred Scott. Saturday morning he cashed a check for $215. During that day he advanced practically all of it in amounts of five or ten dollars to other oil field workers whom he knew were up against it. Some of these had come to him in their necessity, to others he voluntarily offered the money. Soon less than ninety dollars remained and when an especially needy friend came to him, Scott gave practically all of that amount to him. Later the friend returned all but a few dollars finding that he would not need it. Scott had about ninety dollars when death came to him.

Like most of his class Scott was generous to a fault, ever ready to help a needy comrade, taking little thought of the morrow. He was one of the best drillers the Northwest Texas field ever had and every comrade for whom he worked spoke in highest terms of him; he was able to get work when other less expert workmen were unable to do so and this caused him to be prospering when others, out of work because of slack times in the field were feeling the pinch of poverty. Sympathy for his fellow man actuated Scott to come to the relief of the others. As one after another partook of his bounty there was not one who dreamed that twenty-four hours later would see him cold in death.

Scott's body will be sent to his old home in Sistrerville, West Virginia for burial. The body of D. J. Minick, the tool dresser who met death with Scott, was sent early today to Bradford, Pa., where relatives reside.

A photograph of Col. R. M. (Butler) Moore and the fish he says he caught in the Pacific off Long Beach, California, is on exhibit in the window of Bean and Gohke's office on Eighth street.

The fish is a monster sea bass said to have been the largest ever caught off Long Beach. It weighed 345 pounds and a few ounces. The fish in the picture is hoisted up with a block and tackle onto an improvised derrick and beside it stands the fisherman, Col. Moore smoking a pipe as calmly as if he caught this kind of a fish every day.

BISHOP LYNCH OF DALLAS IS WICHITA FALLS VISITOR

Making Annual Inspection—Goes to Rhinelander Community From Here This Afternoon

Bishop Lynch of the Dallas Diocese to which the Catholic parish here belongs, accompanied by Father Diamond, vicar general, arrived here late yesterday evening on his annual visitation to the churches of the diocese. Yesterday he visited the churches of Electra and Clara. He left this afternoon accompanied by Father Diamond for Rhinelander. He regretted very much that he could not stay for the graduation exercises of St. Mary's Academy but the appointment at Rhinelander prevented him from doing so.

Father Nolan, dean at Fort Worth, one of the best known Catholic clergymen of the state, will deliver the commencement address at the graduating exercises tonight. Father Frowen of Windthorst and Father O'Grady of Childress, are here to attend the exercises.

MILLION BARREL LAKE IS IN PROSPECT AT PETROLIA

A lake that will hold approximately one million barrels of water is practically completed by the Lone Star Gas Company near Petrolia. A. D. Terrell of Henrietta, who has had charge of a crew of men and teams building the dam for the lake was in the city today. The dam, he says is 100 feet long, is twenty-five feet high, twenty-five feet wide at the crown and at the base is from 100 to 125 feet wide.

The water is for use in the compressor. The gas will be made to pass through water to take out the gasoline and other matter which clogs the pipes and interferes with combustion. It is estimated that from 75 to 100 barrels of gasoline daily will be washed out of the gas in this manner. A large force of men have been at work making the lake for the past three or four weeks.

PEACE CONGRESS OPENS TODAY AT LIVERPOOL

Liverpool, June 9.—All kinds of political, social, religious, educational, labor, and co-operative organizations were represented by the 500 delegates who met at the Church Hall here this afternoon for the tenth National Peace Congress of Great Britain, under the Presidency of Lord Channing of Wellborough.

Particular interest attaches to the Congress this year on account of the preparations it is expected to make in connection with the forthcoming Third Hague Conference.

Among the special questions to be discussed are: immunity of private property in naval warfare, floating mines, rights of neutrals, the effect of armament expenditure on commerce and industry, the effect of militarism on wages, and the promotion of international peace through universities and schools. The congress will be in

We are right now in the midst of the greatest wheat harvest in the history of Wichita county and this county has produced some very fine wheat crops in the past.

Reports from the country say that the farmers are not so over-lusting hard up for harvest hands that they are willing to call upon the candidates for county office to help them out. In fact, they say that the candidates are not worth their keep as harvest hands.

The friends of Col. Ball say he is sure to carry Bell county, Ferguson's home, and the friends of Ferguson are predicting he will carry Harris county, the home of Ball. It is possible that both are correct.

Unless the progressive party endorses Roosevelt's river, we don't believe the Colonel will consent to run.
—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

If he don't, the river won't either.
Why man, Teddy has never quit running. Even if the Progressives don't nominate him for president, he can organize another in time for the election.

The glass factory at Wichita Falls has just installed two more blowing machines. We know of several of these machines in first-class working condition that ought to be installed—where they might do some good. Correspondence solicited.—Clarendon News.

Those property owners who object to cutting the weeds and grass from their premises, including the sidewalks, might find it to their advantage to use the "want ad" columns of the Times to secure live stock or pasture. It would save them the trouble of using a hoe or lawn mower, and might at the same time be a revenue producer.

The nomination of Frank Kell of Wichita Falls as one of the directors of the Texas Regional Reserve bank is an appreciated compliment to this section of the state. He is one of the great financiers of the south and a man who will bring credit to the administration. The Herald most heartily endorses the appointment of Mr. Kell and further states that it is our judgment no stronger or more satisfactory man could have been selected in all the southland.—Memphis Herald.

The land question, for the first time,
is an issue in the gubernatorial campaign in this state. It may not overshadow that of some other issues, but before the campaign closes it may.
There are entirely too many large land owners in Texas, and too few owners of small farms. One man alone owns nearly one half millions acres. There should be a way by which every man who is willing to work can have a home. Perhaps there is no way that this can be brought about by legislation, but there is nothing like trying. Perhaps the mere agitation of the land question will, if Col. Ball's project—that of loaning school money of the state at a low rate of interest to those who are anxious and willing to own their own homes can be done, then let's make a try for it. Texas has more tenants than home owners. That condition should be reversed. Col. Ball is a lawyer and a fine judge of law. Furthermore, he is not a demagogue, and he says that Texas can loan a portion of her school monies to those who wish to acquire farm homes. If it can be done legally, it is the proper thing to do. It is possible that he may be mistaken. At any rate, it will do no harm to have the matter tested out.
There is a sufficient amount of land in Texas to provide small farm homes for every man who has a desire to own a farm, and willing to work for it.

TO TEXAS EDITORS

If this falls under the eye of any Texas newspaper who has not already been invited to attend the Texas Press Association convention here next week,
he is to consider it sufficient authority and invitation to justify his presence.
The Times wants the Wichita Falls meeting of editors to be the biggest the association has ever seen, and Wichita Falls is getting ready for big things when the editors begin to arrive.

The convention comes at a time of the year when there isn't so much doing for the editors as there is at other times. It is a chance for them to get an opportunity to see Wichita Falls and we'll bet you've been thinking about it. To meet a host of your brothers of the press, and there'll be provided for you as rich an entertainment as Wichita Falls can put up, which is saying something.

The Times would appreciate it if newspapers throughout Texas will reproduce this notice so that it may reach every Texas editor. There can't come too many for Wichita Falls.
We fought hard to land this meeting and we're going to work hard to make it something for you to remember.

ONE ON FATHER

Cincinnati Enquirer.
Once upon a time daughter found an old love letter that father had written to mother when they were courting. Daughter copied the letter, signed a man's name to it and mailed it to herself. Then she showed it to father, and he nearly busted a lung denouncing the dog-washed, ding-busted, fat-headed idiot who would dare write such a mess of silly, sickly hogwash to any girl.

Tom Perkins of McKinney Courier-Gazette, has decided to make the race for Congress in that district. Bob Rayburn of Bonham, is the present incumbent, and wants to succeed himself, but here is hoping Tom leads this time. If he does, we feel quite sure he will send us the Congressional Record, and perhaps a few packages of garden seed occasionally even if we don't reside in his district.

Here is the list of candidates for congressman-at-large. Two are to be elected: Daniel E. Garrett, Houston, present incumbent of one of the positions; F. J. O'Donnell, Wichita Falls; Jeff McLamore, Houston; J. H. (Cyclone) Davis, Sulphur Springs; R. B.
Humphrey, Throckmorton; W. P.
Lane, Austin; Ed R. Kone, Austin; L.
L. Shields, Santa Anna; Will A. Harris, Dallas; James H. Lowery, Honey Grove. E. L. Dahoney, who was a candidate, has withdrawn, giving as his reason that there were eight pros in the race and only two anti.

"One thing sure—it will be either Ferguson or Ball." Wipe that smile from your face, man, and tell us how to place our small silver coin on the one sure thing.—San Antonio Express.
It's unlawful to bet, unless you have a clench. If you can figure out such a thing as between Ball and Ferguson at this stage of the campaign, you have us beaten. It's going to be, or rather, it is already, a very warm campaign. A month ago it looked very much like Ball to us, but a change has taken place, and as the election is more than six weeks off there may be another change. Elections are awfully uncertain things.

In his speech here Wednesday night
Col. Ball, after charging his opponent of willfully perverting facts in order to gain votes, said: "I have known a great many good presidents and governors, who have taken a drink, occasionally, but I have never known a great and good president or governor who would 'sell a willard life.' That's putting it up to Mr. Ferguson tolerably strong. If what he says about Col.
Ball is the truth, then Col. Ball is not the man most people have been led to believe he is, and he should not be elected governor. But Ball does not mince his words. He says plainly that Ferguson is lying. Mr. Ferguson says: 'I am willing to open up the private character of Tom Ball and myself from the cradle to the present hour and see if there is a degenerate in this race for governor, and if there is he ought to withdraw.'
Let's have the facts, gentlemen. We have been led to believe that both of you were far above the average, and that either would make this state a god chief executive, but the way you talk about each other in your speeches is shaking our confidence a little.

The Wichita Daily Times is looking ahead and issues a timely warning against the peanut politicians who yearly slip into places of responsibility through the inattention of the people.
Speaking in approval of some of the elimination that has been indulged in, the Times says: "Lots of eliminating business has been indulged in in Texas politics this year by the leaders of the two Democratic factions—that is to say, if we are permitted to use that word when referring to the anti and pro factions of the Democratic party of this State. It must be accused by all close observers that both sides made a most wonderful success at sorting out the 'scrubs' or bums in the gubernatorial race. Now it is up to the Democrats—both pro and anti—to place their stamp of disapproval on that class of peanut politicians who are ever ready and willing to serve as our lawmakers, and often it is the case they are so anxious to engage in the work of 'saving our country' they can hardly wait long enough to get on speaking terms with a poll tax receipt given from the county or district they wish to serve before the 'sawdust' for office. Texas has suffered more from electing that kind of officials than she has from all her drouths. Let's put a stop to it."—Denison Herald.

The Times notes that civil service examinations are to be held at a young man's home in the city. The fight for Wilson during the months of July and August to determine who are quali-such examinations can either write to Washington for the necessary blanks on which to make out their applications, or apply at the local postoffice for them. A great deal has been said for and against civil service. Under the Republican administrations, there were generally a sufficient number of Republican applicants to stand the test to fill all the jobs. Occasionally a Democrat would succeed in landing a job, but generally it was one of little value, and that had been turned down by a Republican. But civil service is all right. The Times happens to be in a position to know that if it were made to reach some first-class postoffices, first-class mail addressed to citizens of a city who are of sufficient prominence and standing in their respective communities as to be reasonably well known to at least one-half the population of their city would not be returned to the writer with the endorsement "unclaimed," even though the street address of the one whom the mail was intended for was omitted.

Yes, it is well to remember that you are to live here after the election and too much zeal in electing your man might make it unpleasant for you later on. It's all right to stick to your friends, but play the game fairly and be honest.—Mt. Vernon Optic-Herald.
Most excellent advice. The candidates after the election, whether defeated or elected, will cease to be interested in you to the extent that you were in them. Just play the game fairly. Your neighbor, in nine cases out of ten, even though he does not vote as you do, is by far a better friend to you than the candidate for public office who you may have voted for and supported, while your neighbor saw proper to vote for and support his opponent. This is a free country, and when you deny to your neighbor the same rights you exercise yourself, you do both yourself and him an injustice. Tell the truth, and let it go at that. A liar is an unsafe man to hold public office.

Col. Tom Ball, who spoke in the opera house last night to an appreciative crowd that packed the main auditorium to its capacity, is one of the truly big men of Texas. While he is the friend of Bailey, he has shown on more than one occasion that he has not allowed that close personal friendship to sway him in his official duties.
Bailey's way of thinking on public questions. He differed with Bailey on Wilson in 1912. Bailey at that time had not resigned his office, and was using all the influence at his command against the nomination of Wilson for president. Just before the presidential preferential primary conventions were held in Texas he visited the state on a speech-making tour, and it was very noticeable that in every county where he spoke (with one exception) that county sent a solid Wilson delegation to the Houston convention. The exception was Cooke county, the home of ex-Senator Bailey, and the contest was very close in that county that it was said the only thing that kept Wilson Democrats from winning the fight was that it could not be done except by humiliating Senator Bailey. During all this campaign—at times a very bitterly fought contest, Col. Tom Ball, the personal and political friend of Senator Bailey, was one of the big men of Texas who were at the head of the Wilson forces, and who succeeded in leading them to such a splendid victory throughout the state. At the National Convention at Baltimore both Col. Ball and Cone Johnson were much in evidence and again brought additional honor and glory to Texas. Had the Texas delegation wavered in the face of the pressure brought to bear on it, Wilson would have never been nominated.
But the Texas delegation—composed of both Bailey and anti-Bailey men, pros and anti, were not the kind of men who "duck" in the face of strong opposition. They were sent to Baltimore to bring about the nomination of Woodrow Wilson for president by all honorable means at their command, and it is an admitted fact that had not been for the firmness displayed by the Texas delegation at Baltimore, made up of forty of the best men this State can boast, Wilson would not have been made the Democratic presidential nominee, and in that case it is doubtful if there would have been a National Democratic victory to celbrate at the following November election. Wilson has made good. All Democrats, or nearly all, admit this,
and are endorsing his administration,
even though some of them fought him bitterly prior to the Democratic presidential primary conventions in this State. When Candidate Ferguson was here, he had nothing but praise for Wilson and his administration, though he was not for Wilson prior to the Baltimore convention, and it was very noticeable that such praise always brought forth generous applause from his audience. It was the same way with Col. Ball's audience at the opera house last night. They knew he was in the fight for Wilson in Texas, and in doing so was forced to part company with his friend Bal-

ley. Hal H. Sevier has started the Morning American at Austin. From all reports it is a real newspaper. While Sevier has made good as a newspaper writer, he is perhaps better known to the public as having married Miss Clara Driscoll of Austin.—Sherman Democrat.

IT PAYS TO TAKE CARE OF GOOD CATTLE

Our fellow townsman, Mr. W. M.
Coleman, whose ranch is about 12 miles south of Wichita Falls, has just sold on the market 35 head of steers that averaged in weight 1275 pounds an animal for $7.85 per hundred. After all freight and other expenses incident to shipping, these steers netted Mr. Coleman the handsome sum of $98.33 each. During the past winter
Mr. Coleman informed us that these steers were fed about $17.00 worth of feed per head, and, of course, they were looked after probably some better than the average ranch cattle.
Nevertheless it goes to prove that if our stock farmers pay a little more attention to the care and breeding of cattle it would be one of the most profitable results of the farm. The 35 head of cattle which he sold brought the sum of $3684.31. This alone would buy a fair sized farm at the present prices at which our lands are now selling. The average farmer in this vicinity each year has a steer yearling that is usually sold before maturity and it looks like it would be reasonable that those cattle could almost be matured on the stuff that actually goes to waste on the farm.

When Lawson wrote his Frenzied Finance story for Everybody's Magazine, most everybody read them. They were interesting. But few people believed that Lawson knew what he was writing about. They rather dubbed him the "singed cat" and let it go at that. Lawson had been in the high finance game himself. He had made fortunes out of nothing, and after he gotten gains and threw him overboard.

When he began to tell his story, they tried to make the public believe that "Frenzied Finance" was the product of a diseased brain; that Lawson was crazy, and their theory of the story was accepted as the truth, and of late years Lawson has been heard of but little. But the evidence given in by Mellen and others as to the New Haven scandal convinces one that Lawson did not quite do his subject justice.
Or, in other words, he let them off too light. They were more guilty of looking than the story as written by Lawson would lead one to suppose. Government ownership of railways, telegraph and telephone lines would put a sudden stop to such wholesale grafting and looting. The man who is opposed to government ownership of public utilities should read of these scandals, and he need not confine himself to that of the New Haven deal. The Pri-co scandal is quite as bad, and there are others.

The United States leads all other Nations in number of automobiles, as compared to population. According to statistics taken last November and just issued there is one automobile for every 99 people. France comes next with one automobile for every 400 of her population.

The jury occasionally returns a verdict in favor of the wronged husband, but the fact is, if the affections of a wife can be alienated they are not of monetary value.—Bartlesville Examiner.

That, perhaps, accounts for the fact that so few men seeking legal separation from their wives ever ask the court to do anything more than grant the divorce.
The Burk Burnett postmaster is deserving of a raise in salary or a medal.
He is the most accommodating postmaster this paper ever heard of, or ever expects to hear of. When the Northwestern abandoned the principal train which carries the mail to Burk Burnett, that postmaster got busy and secured permission from Washington to come to Wichita Falls, (a distance of fourteen miles) each day in his automobile to get the Burk Burnett mail in order that the patrons of his office may receive it in the usual time. Postmasters, as a rule, do not perform any more service than the government requires of them, and for which they are paid. The Burk Burnett postmaster is a notable exception. He deserves to be commended.

GOVERNOR HOGG

North Fort Worth Sunday News.
Speeches of the various candidates in the Texas campaign are likely to create the impression with outsiders that James Stephen Hogg is running for Governor.—Houston Chronicle.
All of this reverence shown for memory of the sainted Hogg reminds us of the manner in which he was so often criticized while in the gubernatorial chair and recalls the old couple which runs:

"Homer, living begged his bread,
But seven cities claimed him dead."

Candidates for county offices have only until June 13 to file their names with the county chairman in order to get on the official ballot to be voted at the primary election on July 25th.

George Fitch, the author, is writing some very interesting articles on the "Hyena." If he runs short of material and wants to study his subject at close range, he should come to Texas. This state was full of the varmints a few years ago, and all are not dead yet.

WHY DEMOCRACY IS BEST

"The late Mr. Morgan made me president. There were no negotiations. I did not even know what my salary was to be. Mr. Morgan simply told me I was to be president."
In this simple, trustful way Mellen tells us he went from a job out west to the helm of the New Haven. Always he obeyed the master's voice.
At that time, as at other times, "the late Mr. Morgan" himself owned very little New Haven stock. His sway over this, as over so many other big properties, was a sway of personality.
There was a myth in men's minds that Morgan was infallible. And because of that myth widows put their savings into his keeping, statesmen did his bidding, governments looked upon him as the power behind the throne.
It turned out, of course, as now we all see very plainly, that Morgan was just a human being like the rest of us—as easily fooled, as easily spoiled, as ready to take advantage of other men's weaknesses.

What's the lesson, you ask?
Why, we think it ought to be rather obvious.

Isn't it that we had better do less leaning on mythical "strong men" and learn to stand on our own legs?
They'll probably support us, in the end, if we give them enough exercise.
There was the same myth, once about Diaz, and you see what it has done to Mexico.
"Empires fall, but not empires not autocrats. For, as Brother Mellen could tell you, it's liable to be mighty uncomfortable after the autocrat dies."
—Austin Tribune.

Let's see, just where did Hon. John Lind go after he came back?—Dallas News.

And also, what has become of Mr.
O'Shaughnessy? It has been so long since we saw that name in print we've almost forgotten how to write it.
State of Kansas this law, during the first six months of its operation, brought a reduction of eighteen per cent in the number of divorces asked,
and a reduction of forty-six per cent in the number of divorces granted, compared with the two preceding years. The plan is said to be a good one, as in hundreds of cases, those who think they want to be divorced are reconciled. If the law is amended by the legislature so as to make it mandatory to give ninety days published notice of all intended marriages, it is believed that many divorce suits caused by hasty marriages will be prevented.

FERGUSON'S ATTACK ON BALL
In yesterday's Herald was reprinted an editorial from the Denison Herald, entitled "Unfair Criticism," which was one of the fairest and most ably written editorials we have thus far seen referring to the gubernatorial race. The Denison Herald is anti-prohibition paper from principle, and it has never been blinded by its prohibition views to the right to either side of the question. Therefore it may be assumed in the beginning that the Denison paper felt that it was only doing right and discharging the duty it owed the public in taking Mr. Ferguson to task for his personal references to Mr. Ball—references which Mr. Ferguson would hesitate to make to Mr.
Ball in his presence.

The Denison Herald has expressed a preference for neither candidate in this campaign, and probably will not do so, because it believes that neither of the issues made paramount by the two candidates are really paramount. But it could not tolerate the attacks made upon the Houston candidate by Mr. Ferguson because Mr. Ball is a member of a Houston social club which serves intoxicants. One would only have to proceed a step farther in this line of reasoning to assert that Mr. Ball should not be allowed to vote on the prohibition ticket because he is a citizen in good standing of Houston, which is an anti-prohibition city. Mr. Ball can not prohibit the social club of which he is a member at Houston from serving intoxicants; he is only one of the members of a body in which the majority rule prevails. We presume that intoxicants are served in the rooms of practically every men's social club in Houston.

Mr. Ferguson is treading on dangerous ground when he seeks to attack the prohibition record of Mr. Ball with such weapons as this. An ill-considered weapon of attack may act as a boomerang before the campaign is over, and Mr. Ferguson will shortly discover that he will have enough trouble for one man in barricading his pet land-tenantry doctrine against attack by those who know the question even better than he does.—Greenville Herald.

TRAVELS RAPIDLY

(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer)
They were leaning over the line fence, these ladylike neighbors, and they seemed to be having an argument.

"How do you know it is so?" asked one lady.

"I said it was so, didn't I?" the other came back coldly.

"Uh-huh, you did. And I suppose it's your idea that whatever you say goes?"

"Well, if I say it to you it does—it goes all over town."

The Mexican young man, Martinez, was hanged at Peoria Monday for the murder of Miss Emma Brown, a school teacher, in 1911. The murder was a most brutal one, the victim having been attacked while going home alone over a lonely road. She was shot, stabbed through the back and several times in the breast. An astonishing thing in connection with this whole case is the showing of leniency toward this scoundrel, criminal and the legal monkeying (no other word) that has been tolerated in his behalf. He has confessed to his crime in detail, and had related the story at divers times from his cell; and yet he has gone the round of the courts three years, and appeals have been made for him by both Mexico and Spain to the U. S. government. Another astonishing thing is that he was hanged. "The Law" seems to be wonderfully careful in its handling of human life but to have no sense at all as to who and when and how—and flaunts its coarse ignorance brazenly.—Henrietta Review.

The "confession" that the boy is said to have made, and which he later repudiated, was secured while a mob was howling for his life outside the Reeves county jail. He was railroaded through the form of a trial, with the merest circumstantial evidence against him, while rangers thronged the town to keep the population from satisfying its thirst for blood. Any trial under such circumstances must be a farce, and the dissenting opinion of Judge Davidson of the court of criminal appeals will furnish interesting reading to those who believe that in the hanging of this boy an act of justice was done. This is said to be the first time in the history of Texas criminal jurisprudence that a man was permitted to hang when the higher tribunal disagreed as to the legality of his trial. Again, there was grave doubt as to his age, and there was considerable evidence to show that he was not over seventeen years old. A governor with backbone would at least have commuted the sentence, under all these circumstances. It is deplorable that the chief executive of this State should have permitted this helpless boy, still in his teens, to go to the gallows. Oh, yes, the law "is wonderfully careful in its handling of human life," provided of course the defendant has friends with enough political pull. Many men have gone unchanged in this State that should have done their little turn on the gallows, beyond a doubt, but that doesn't justify the hanging of that Mexican boy.

WHAT WOODROW WILSON HAS ACCOMPLISHED

(By Mary Hull of Wichita Falls)

Woodrow Wilson, the first Democratic President since the time of Cleveland, was inaugurated March the 4th, 1913. In former years he was governor of New Jersey and president of Princeton University. The President shows statesmanship in his power to bring all his resources to bear upon his main policies. It has been the privilege of Mr. Wilson to re-establish responsible, representative government on the fundamental principles of his party. This is the great fruit of his leadership. He has not done it by bribery or patronage, nor by selling out one promise in order to buy the fulfillment of another promise, but by sheer intellectual and moral domination, the only kind of leadership which does not lead to disaster. The influence which he has over Congress and his party, is not the influence of a Chief Executive; but it is the influence of a trained and disciplined mind, backed by sincerity and honesty of purpose. This is the noblest form of leadership which a Democracy can produce.

Wilson regards the new Banking and Currency system as the most notable event of his incumbency. This reform takes precedence over downward revision of the tariff with the partial destruction of special privilege, and transfers the burden of taxation from the poor people to the wealthy ones. Also for the first time within fifty years the hand of Wall street has been removed from the United States government.

The new tariff bill was signed Friday, October the third, by President Wilson. This act comprises the reduction of duties on imported necessities, it is also calculated to lower the cost of living.

Two amendments to the Constitution have been adopted and become effective, which are the first adopted within forty-three years. One provides for the direct election of Senators by the people. The other authorizes the imposition of a tax on incomes. This tax transfers the burden of maintaining the government from the poor to the wealthy.

A return to popular government was encouraged when the President appeared in person and addressed the two Houses of Congress on his legislative propositions. In this way he sought to gain opinions by the aid of the people and not through private arrangements and secret conferences. The constitution of Peace presented by the President has gone far in the direction of breaking up interlocking directorates, which formed the backbone to trusts and monopolies. The two great transportation monopolies of the East and West were forced to dissolve. The Pennsylvania Railroad relinquished its holdings in the Baltimore and Ohio. The Southern and Union Pacific merger was cancelled.

Eight general arbitration treaties have been ratified. These treaties will enable the President to adjust numerous foreign disputes, and complications which now prove irritating. Among the treaties which were approved were those between the United States and Great Britain and Japan.

The postal system has been placed on a self-sustaining basis for the first time in the government's history. One of the greatest benefits is the parcels post system. It has been developed and enlarged to a remarkable degree. A special delivery has also been extended to the parcels post; by this, the Express Companies have made the cost of expressage lower; if they had not, the people would have sent their packages by the parcels post.

An eight-hour day for labor has been established in the District of Columbia, for the special protection of women and girls.

The pure food act was extended to include the inspection of all the different kind of meats. This law affords a protection to all of the American consumers.

In all of his work, Wilson did not forget the farmers. Over fifty million dollars were distributed to the farmers to assist in moving crops. The home life of the farmer was also given consideration by the Department of Agriculture. Encouragement of labor saving devices was contained in the sending out of over fifty thousand letters. The full protection of the law has also been given the Indian children.

Wilson says that the internal affairs of Mexico belong to the Mexicans. The United States has greater interest in the country south of Rio Grande than any other country, but there is no ground for intervening or interfering unless some wholly unexpected contingency arises. Our government cares about our citizens, their lawful rights, and interests in Mexico. Woodrow Wilson as leader of our government intends to provide the best means of protection possible. Efforts for the restoration of peace in Mexico without intervention or the employment of force will be continued. Although Wilson has not gained peace with Mexico, only one year of his administration has passed away, there are several years yet in which to gain peace. He is not a man of war. What he wants is peace, and he is going to have it without the shedding of innocent blood.

Woodrow Wilson's first year has been a year of achievement for which there are few, if any, parallels in the American history. The former President Taft said "It is a real satisfaction to one who knows the atmosphere of Washington to note the success of a strong character in dealing with the situation and improving the opportunities it offers." Woodrow Wilson is one of the greatest presidents we have ever had. It is said that he will even stand among our presidents along with Washington and Lincoln. Mr. Longfellow has truthfully said:

"The lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime
And departing leave behind us Footprints on the sands of time."

Governor Colquhoun's campaign expenses for the first time he succeeded in securing the nomination were about $20,000, and it is believed that they were nearly that much for the second term. Candidate Ferguson expects his campaign expenses to cost him individually at least $30,000. His friends and backers will probably be out that much more. Col. Ball has never said how much money he had to pay his campaign expenses with, but he isn't rated as a rich man, even though he is, or at least was a corporation lawyer at the time he became a candidate for governor. But, just for the sake of argument, suppose Candidate Ferguson and his friends should spend $50,000 or $60,000 as legitimate campaign expenses, and that Col. Ball and his friends spend an equal amount, that would be something in the neighborhood of $100,000 between them, without taking into calculation the expenses of the other two gubernatorial aspirants, Messrs. Morris and Robertson. The record is, however, that the candidate whose campaign expenses are the largest has always heretofore won the nomination, and at each succeeding campaign for the office of governor, the campaign expenses grow larger. All of which convinces the ordinary voter and citizen that it is useless for a poor man, or one who has not a host of friends to put up for him to become a candidate for governor, it matters not how able they might be, or how well qualified to fill the highest office within the gift of the people of this state. A law that would limit the campaign expenses of any aspirant for office to the amount of the salary of the office for one year would be a good law.

A few days ago there appeared an article in the Times in the form of a news item stating that the crossing at the spillway at Lake Wichita was now in fine shape. This is evidently a mistake, and the Times is sorry that it had been misled into giving publicity to any such statement. Mr. A. Bohn, who resides twelve miles south of the city, called at the Times office today and asked us to correct our statement. He says that on Wednesday morning, the 10th, while his wife and daughter-in-law were coming to the city in a buggy, that one of the horses stumbled and fell into a hole, but as luck would have it, regained its feet and came out all right. It might be different the next time. As the Times understands it, the owners of the lake have planned to build a concrete dam and crossing across the spillway sometime in the future, but until that is done the crossing at the spillway should be made safer than now, and if it is the duty of the county to keep the crossing in such condition as to be safe, the county commissioner should get busy and do it. On the other hand, if the owners of the Lake are under contract to keep the crossing at the spillway in proper shape, they should be required to do this with as little delay as possible. The farmers residing south of the spillway have been complaining for a long time, and not without just cause. There seems to be a doubt as to whether the county or the owners of the Lake shall keep the crossing in good condition, but it occurs to the Times that this will be an easy matter to determine.

It seems that each and every interest wants representation on the new reserve bank directorate. The commercial men, stockmen, railroads, oil interests, wheat growers, rice growers, and in fact every class of business has put in a recommendation for one of their number to be honored except the newspaper fraternity. So far we haven't noticed a demand for a newspaper man being placed on the directory of the reserve bank. This is an oversight. The newspapers have had more to say about these banks than any other interest. They have pointed out the mistakes and proclaimed the good points all along the line, and now that it is a law, justice demands that the fourth estate be recognized; and we therefore nominate Colonel Lee J. Rountree of the Georgetown Commercial for a position on the board. It is true he was nominated for governor some weeks ago, but we believe he had rather be a director in a bank than to be governor. Of course the colonel may not know very much about banking, his principal knowledge of the conduct of such institutions being gained by responses to urgent communications from officials to call around and lift his account out of the red. But that doesn't matter. The press is a power in the land and we protest against such discriminations being made. Besides the debtor class as well as the creditor class should be represented on the board, and where in all the world can a greater debtor be found than in the fourth estate.—Denison Herald.

Senator Bailey's espousal of Col. Ball will perhaps cut both ways, but we doubt if his thoughtful exposition of the reasons for his opposition to Mr. Ferguson's land policy will cut more than one way—and that unfavorable to Mr. Ferguson's candidacy. It seems queer, of course, to see Senator Bailey and Cone Johnson, R. M. Johnston and Cullen Thomas; Marcellus Foster and Clarence Ousley in the same bandwagon. But does it seem any queerer than to see Claude Hudspeth and R. V. Davidson; Jake Wolters and Gov. Colquhoun; E. C. Gaines and Quintus Watson following the same leader? 'Tis a queer lot of political bed-fellows that Texas is showing in these piping times of peace, and its queerness is being accentuated as the lines become closer drawn.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

BRYAN ON THE PLATFORM

It is announced that Mr. Bryan will take the lecture platform in a few days. What is speculation, wars, etc., as compared with the necessary coin for the winter's coal and the summer's grape juice supply?—Texarkana Four States Press.

Mr. Bryan has been mercilessly scored by harsh critics for his eagerness to make money out of public lectures while holding an important and dignified office in the government. But the criticisms have not moved him to abandon his profitable side line. And, notwithstanding there may be some thing about it worthy of criticism, it is doubtful if he deserves half the censure that has been hurled at him. The Chautauquus as at present organized are very democratic institutions, and Mr. Bryan is himself very democratic. In his lectures he comes in contact with the plain people, the men who do the voting and the types of electors who make and unmake Presidents and Cabinets and Senates. It is good that those who govern should know those who are governed. As long as there are associations between the men in office and the men who put them there the Government can not get very far away from first principles. It is all right to conceive of a Secretary of State as an austere and remote individual, heavy with a sense of his own importance, but to be a secluded chief does not imply that one is any more able, nor any more devoted to the interests of his constituents. Indeed, it implies the opposite—that the secluded one is obsessed by an exaggerated ego or distrustful of his ability to hold his own in the public eye. Mr. Bryan's willingness to meet his makers face to face indicates that he is confident not only of his position in their estimation but of his strength. Moreover, the money that Mr. Bryan makes by lecturing comes, half a dollar at a time, from the pockets of unimposing citizens who have no axe to grind. Maybe there is something undignified about it, but there is nothing dishonest. If there are any predecessors of Mr. Bryan who can show cleaner money than his, let him cast whatever stones should be cast at him.—State Press in Dallas News.

WITH VILLA'S REBELS AT SALTILLO; PREPARING TO PUSH AFTER FEDEALS

Barn-Stormers, Tank Towns, Revivals And Other Things In Actors Scrap Book

"Miles! Miles is the next stop!" The brakeman bawled it through the broken pane of the car door and fourteen hopeful passengers reached to ruber luggage. "Hopful" is the word for the Boston Ideal Dramatic Company, playing two night stands under canvas, looking forward to a sure turning of the lane at Miles in point of restored good fortune. We had just finished an overland tour of several weeks, making many inland towns by stage coach and barnstorming processes and had raked in barely enough money to pay for our hauling from one place to another. At San Angelo we had looked upon a locomotive engine for the first time in a bunch of moons and it was good to be again in "God's country" as the blond subterfuge put it as she choked Fido with a chocolate to keep him from barking at the iron horse at the depot.

We had not played San Angelo, for the reason that our manager had bucked it the previous season, had touched up an old college chum for a hundred or so and feared the said chum might attach the box office should we attempt to pitch the place again. In passing I will say that the manager's whims shot us into that city later on—and the schoolmate, sizing up our packed house, had serenely grabbed "his" leaving the company all but stranded with the beautiful snow gently oozing down our necks.

Good business at Miles would surely pull us out and set us again upon the street called Easy. Recce, the advance man, met us at the depot. Recce had been sitting on his trunk at the hotel at Miles for several days anxiously awaiting our coming, since the boss had not been able to finance him on to the stand ahead.

"Boss!" Recce hoarsely whispered as we stepped jauntily from the train. "Boss, you tramp! What's gnawin' you? How many souls are in this village?" "Souls?" snorted the old man, snuffing Recce's breath suspiciously. "Souls, you tramp! What's gnawin' you? Mean population?"

"I reckon it's the same thing, only the preacher speaks of everybody here as 'souls' and—"

"Preacher! What pre—say, son, put it over in English—just what do you mean, ah?"

"There's a protracted revival on here and everybody in the place goes to the big tabernacle at every meeting."

"Well, Oh, moumer!" And the perspiring boss set down hard on a trunk conveniently near. "What's up?" chorused the company, not fully sensing the conversation so abruptly ended.

"Up!" howled the boss. "Up!" it's all up with this outfit, that's what, unless, oh—er—and his voice trailed off in a burlesque, pig stuck, yodeling wail.

Recce proceeded to explain things and the stranded company promptly tried to express suitable opinions on the question at hand. The leading man struck a care attitude and came to the point.

tend the meeting and at the same time swell the show receipts. The road show at once recognizes a revival meeting as its strongest opposition—not that the troupe bear malice, but because they realize the superiority of the religious events, especially in small places. When spending the Sabbath in a town on our route, it was the invariable custom of most of the troupe with whom I was engaged to attend service and often our best voices assisted in the choir and heartily enjoyed the meeting.

I recall a little incident which occurred at Brownwood one night. Our hand had assembled in front of the opera house to play the usual snappy concert prior to opening the doors directly across the street—a Salvation Army corps was holding a meeting, the big drum and the tambourines doing lusty work. Our leader tooted his signal to begin playing. One of the bandmen called the leader's attention to the meeting over the way. He immediately crossed over to the Salvation Army corps and asked if he would grant us five minutes to play our opening, explaining that it was not our desire to disturb his meeting. The captain very graciously acquiesced, sat on his drum and applauded our music when we were finished.

Countless stories have been written and read of life "on the seamy side of the curtain," and were the truth known, more real pathos, comedy and grim tragedy have been unfolded beyond that painted screen than all the world's greatest authors have ever been able to simulate upon the glowing stage. And somewhere in the depths of the actor's heart is an indelible photograph of a pious mother and an inherent love for the church, the home and all that is beautiful and good.

The present arrangement between the famous revivalist and the management of a tent show in this city recalled to the writer many memories of the long ago hence this story.

FEDERATION OF LABOR NOW IN SESSION AT EL PASO

Several Hundred Delegates Are in Attendance at Annual Meeting. President Reads Report.

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, June 8.—With more than 300 delegates in attendance, the seventeenth annual convention of the Texas Federation of Labor began this morning here, this morning. The morning session was largely given over to addresses of welcome and preliminary work.

An annual report of President O'Connell was read by J. B. Johnson, who is expected that 500 delegates will be in attendance tomorrow. Washouts delayed the arrival of others.

The convention will continue for five days.

SHREVEPORT CASE DECIDED

TEXAS RAILROAD COMMISSION'S POWER SCUT BY SUPREME COURT FINDING.

SITUATION IS NOVEL

East Texas Roads Between Two Firms. Court Holds That Interstate Body Must Govern.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 8.—The supreme court today upheld the Interstate Commerce Commission's orders in the Shreveport rate case, thus placing interstate railroads more under the interstate commission and less under the authority of the state commissions.

Justice Hughes announced the court's decision. He spoke of the unrestricted power of the Interstate Commerce Commission over interstate commerce saying the commission was expressly created to prevent conflicting state legislation. The justice pointed out that Congress, and not the state, had the power to prevent the instruments of interstate commerce from being used so as to injure interstate commerce. He quoted the cases under the safety appliance law and liability law supporting the power of Congress to keep the channels of interstate commerce clear.

Referring to the Minnesota case Justice Hughes said that decision was expressly reserved in those cases as to what the outcome would have been had the interstate commission found that the Minnesota rates discriminated against interstate commerce.

The far-reaching effect of the decision lies, in the fact that rates which the interstate commission ordered increased to remove discrimination were prescribed by the Texas state commission. Under the interstate commission's order the only way the railroads may escape conflict with the Texas commission is to reduce the interstate rate so as to put Louisiana city on a competitive points with Texas jobbing centers.

Should the railroad elect to increase the Texas rate as the commerce court has declared they must, a new chapter in the novel situation would develop; the laws of Texas would make the railroads liable to a penalty of $10,000 to the state and $500 to each shipper on each shipment on which the low rate was disregarded.

Justice Hughes recognized the importance of the case, so stating as he concluded his opinion. "But it is essential," he added "that interstate commerce have one master, and not many."

The fight for better rates for Shreveport jobbers into Texas promised from the start to establish a precedent governing the future trade of cities along state boundaries. So important was the matter deemed to be that the Louisiana Railroad Commission itself initiated the contest before the Interstate Commerce Commission in behalf of the jobbers along the Louisiana-Texas border.

"Trade Wars" Is Alleged. The Louisiana commission complained to the Interstate Commerce Commission in March, 1911, that the class rates charged by the railroads for transportation in a westerly direction from Shreveport to points in Texas were unjustly discriminatory in that they were much greater than the rates contemporaneously charged for the transportation of like traffic from Dallas and Houston, in Texas, to the same points. They complained, in substance, that a trade war had been erected around Texas and that outside jobbers were not permitted to enter into the enclosed field.

The Houston, East and West Texas Railway Company and the Texas and Pacific Railway Company did not deny the discrimination, but answered that the Shreveport rates were reasonable in themselves, and that the Texas rates were not voluntary, but were prescribed by the Texas Railroad Commission. The Interstate Commerce Commission issued an order holding that an unjust discrimination existed and directed the railroads either to lower the interstate rate from Shreveport to Texas points or to increase the Texas rates from Dallas and Houston to other Texas points, so as to remove this discrimination. The railroads vainly endeavored to induce the Commerce court to enjoin the enforcement of this order.

Question of Jurisdiction. One of the principal points of contention in the case was whether this was a voluntary or an involuntary discrimination by the railroads against Shreveport. The railroads contended that it was involuntary, because they were directed by the Texas Railroad Commission to put into force the low Texas rates. For such higher rates charged, the railroads contended they would be liable under Texas law for a $5,000 penalty to the state, and from

EDITORS' WIVES WILL BE WELL ENTERTAINED

VISITING LADIES AT PRESS ASSOCIATION TO BE GUESTS AT SEVERAL AFFAIRS

COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED

United Clubs Will Be in Charge of Features—Preparations Are Now Under Way

From Sunday's Daily.

When the ladies of the Texas Press Association, both the newspapermen of the state in other wives of the editors arrive for the association meeting on June 18 they will find a hearty welcome awaiting them and something interesting planned for their entertainment throughout their stay here.

The United Clubs will be in charge of the entertainments and committees have been appointed by Mrs. J. A. Kemp to make all arrangements for that part of the convention.

A committee of ladies composed of Mesdames Howard, Culbertson, Ferguson, Addicks, Lee and Montgomery with Mrs. H. B. Patterson as chairman will meet the ladies on their arrival in this city Thursday. An informal reception will be held at the Elks Club Thursday afternoon and on that affair the following committees have been appointed:

Arrangements—Mesdames J. T. Montgomery, Carpenter, Blair, Langford, Greenwood, Beavers, Sanders, Gueff, Fleming, Stone Cullinan, W. N. Macer.

Refreshments—Mesdames Schuerer, Kell and Filgo.

To Have Lawn Party.

Thursday evening a lawn party will be held at the home of Mrs. Kemp. The arrangement committee consists of Mrs. R. O. Holt, chairman, assisted by Mesdames Goraline, Robertson, Hartsock, Duane, Borer, Barnard, Bayre, R. C. Smith, Adam, Burdette, McGee, Harrington, Corne and Sander. Mesdames Carrigan, Anderson and Kemp constitute the refreshment committee.

The committees will meet and decide on definite plans for the entertainments and perhaps additional arrangements will be arranged for every club member in the city. It is urged to remember that these functions will be given by the United Clubs and although, owing to the large number of the women in the city it was impossible to place all on committees, every one will be expected to attend and to offer their services, thus enabling the committees to plan an entertainment for the visiting ladies that will be a credit to this city.

BIGGEST WHEAT CROP IN NATION'S HISTORY

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE ESTIMATES YIELD ABOUT 800,000,000 BUSHELS.

CONDITION IS 93.7 PER CENT

Believed To Be 137,000 Bushels More Than Country Has Ever Raised Before.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 8.—Nine hundred million bushels of wheat, almost half of the world's average wheat production and a new record for the United States, is the prospective total yield of the farms of the country this year, the department of agriculture announced today in its June crop report. The enormity of the crop will be 137,000 bushels more than ever was grown before in the United States in any year. Excellent weather for the growing crop and increase of 6.4 percent in the acreage planted to wheat, are responsible.

There also will be large yields of oats and barley, probably second in size in the history of the nation. The report shows: Spring wheat—area, 11,990,000 acres; condition, 95.5. Indicated yield, 14.5 bushels per acre. Estimated production, 262,000,000. Winter wheat—area, 23,567,000 acres; condition, 92.7; yield, 18.1; production, 638,000,000.

All wheat—area, 55,577,000 acres; condition 93.7; yield, 16.3; production, 800,000,000 bushels.

Oats—area, 23,883,000 acres; condition, 89.5; yield, 31.7; production, 1,216,000,000 bushels.

Barley—condition 88.7.

coming for failing to obey an order or the state railroad commission. The government on the other hand contended that the Texas rates were voluntary because the railroads had not appealed to any court of commission to have the Texas rates aside. Another contention was whether the Interstate Commerce Commission laws as drafted as to confer upon the commission jurisdiction over interstate

OKLAHOMA IN NEED OF HARVEST HANDS

TWO TO THREE THOUSAND ARE WANTED ALONG LINE OF NORTHWESTERN

LABOR COMMISSIONER ACTIVE

Wires Here For Men To Supply Demand—Many Work Seekers Have Arrived Here

Between two and three thousand harvest hands are needed at points along the Wichita Falls & Northwestern, according to estimates compiled by General Freight Agent C. L. Fontaine this morning. Mr. Fontaine sent out a bulletin to all agents of the Wichita Falls Route this morning asking how many hands were needed at their stations, the scale of wages and whether fare would be advanced from Wichita Falls, Dallas and Fort Worth.

This activity followed the receipt of a telegram from the Oklahoma railroad labor commissioner, from Enid this morning asking whether Wichita Falls could send 300 hands to Woodward, Okla., at once. Mr. Fontaine advised that Wichita Falls could send from fifty to seventy-five provided fare was advanced.

The shortage of labor at Frederick was filled this morning when 300 men from various points arrived there last night and this morning.

The Northwestern agent at Duke has telegraphed that 150 men are needed there and the agent at Raton says that 300 can be used there.

New Arrivals Here.

Fifty men arrived here last night from South Texas points looking for work in the harvest fields. Most of these will go on to Oklahoma points but a number struck out into the country looking for jobs. While the farmers of this section are fairly well supplied it is believed the men who are actually hunting for work won't find any trouble in getting it.

While no open announcement has been made of the fact it is understood that conductors and brakemen on freight trains northward over the Northwestern will not be as vigilant as usual in looking for men stealing rides as this is the method that many workers will use in reaching the harvest fields.

WICHITA STATE DECLARES SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND

At a meeting of the directors of the Wichita State Bank held yesterday at the banking house of that establishment a semi-annual dividend was ordered paid to the stockholders. The board of directors found the condition of the bank in splendid shape and after transacting the usual amount of routine business complimented the officers and adjourned.

DALLAS NEWS EDITORIAL DEFENDS LEASE BY KATY

Calls Attention To Matters Overlooked in Recent Statement By Commissioner Williams

Further explanation and defense of the leasing of the Wichita Falls railway, when that road was first built to the Katy system, is contained in an editorial appearing in the Dallas News of Tuesday which criticized Railroad Commissioner Williams for failure to give all the facts in the case when he recently issued a statement as to the lease.

The leasing of this road to the Katy proved to be a very deciding factor in the upbuilding of Wichita Falls and Wichitans are interested in the outcome of the present controversy. The reply of Judge Hiram Glass to Commissioner Williams appeared in The Times of Tuesday. The News editorial under the caption, "Some facts overlooked by Commissioner Williams," follows:

"The News at least is willing to assume that Railroad Commissioner Williams had not acquainted himself with all the facts when, in a communication which we printed June 1, he so severely arraigned an unnamed railroad company for having leased seventeen miles of track from another railroad company at a price apparently so exorbitant. At all events it is made clear by a communication from Judge Glass which we printed yesterday that Mr. Williams omitted to state several facts and circumstances of record that put on that transaction an aspect radically different from that which he delineated."

It is made evident by the communication of Judge Glass that the case Mr. Williams had in mind was the Katy's lease of seventeen miles of track running between Henrietta and Wichita Falls, belonging to the Wichita Falls Railroad Company. By implication, rather than by categorical assertion, Mr. Williams sought to make it appear, first, that the Katy had, consciously and deliberately, engaged to pay a rental price that was exorbitant; and, second, that this contract so burdensome to the Katy still has some sixteen years to run. As to the last named assertion the fact is that this contract, instead of having some sixteen years to run, had been abrogated a month before Mr. Williams complained of it. It was superseded by a new and entirely reasonable agreement by the dismissal of the State's suit against the Katy, which dismissal had, among its other effects, the consolidation of the line for which the Katy had been paying so heavy a rental. Mr. Williams was opposed to that consolidation, so that he is in the rather unenviable attitude of having sought to defeat a measure which, among other things, had the effect of annulling the very contract which he denounced so loudly.

"While Mr. Williams did not formally charge it, one could not avoid inferring from the manner in which he presented this transaction, that the unnamed leasing road had agreed to pay annually as a rental for the use of the seventeen miles of leased track the fixed amount of $239,000 annually. This is emphatically not true. The facts are that the Katy agreed only to pay certain percentages of the revenue it derived from the use of this trackage. That agreement was made in 1894 at a time when the percentages agreed on yielded only a reasonable rental. Indeed, there were some who thought at that time that the rental which would result from the payment of these percentages would not yield the Wichita Falls company a fair remuneration for the use of its property. But the country served by that line grew more rapidly than perhaps the most prudent imagined it would. The discovery of oil and gas near Wichita Falls, which, at the time when the contract was made, no one could have dreamed of, contributed to the making of a traffic whose volume has exceeded what the most optimistic could have expected. And since the rental price increased as the traffic did, a payment which was modest in the beginning and for several years after the contract had been made became exorbitant.

"These seem to be the essential facts of the matter and facts which one will find nowhere in the indictment presented by Mr. Williams. He, wittingly or not, conveyed the idea that the Katy (although his was a kind of John Doe indictment) had knowingly entered into an agreement which wasted the earnings of that property to the profit of others than the stockholders of the Katy and, furthermore, that that agreement still had some sixteen years to run. That idea, Judge Glass shows to be contrary to the facts. The offending contract is not now in existence, and was not at the time Mr. Williams complained of it. Despite the fact that he assumed an attitude with respect to the Katy consolidation bill that tended to prevent the abrogation of it. Furthermore, the facts show that this contract does not lay an imputation on the motives of those who entered into it on behalf of the Katy, but at worst, only evidences that their visions did not reach very far into the future."

"It is desirable in discussing matters of this kind, that we should have not merely the truth but all of it."

PAN-AMERICAN TOUR IS PLANNED BY TRAVELING MEN

By Associated Press. Houston, Texas, June 8.—As if their profession does not give them travel enough, the National Travelers Protective Association, which meets here today, has planned to wind up their annual convention with a sixteen day Pan-American cruise. The convention here is from June 8 to 12 inclusive. Then the travelers will board the steamer Abanque at Galveston. Out of deference to Houston's waterway projects, the program announces this big trip to begin from Houston June 13 at 1 p. m. Havana will be the first stop, then Panama, Costa Rica and other central American republics. The return landing will be made at New Orleans.

ACADEMY STUDENTS CLASS DAY PROGRAM

INTERESTING EXERCISES HELD TUESDAY AFTERNOON AT WICHITA THEATRE

MUSIC IS PLEASING FEATURE

Graduates Read Class Chronicle, Prophecy, and Essay—To Receive Diplomas Tonight

The Class day exercises of the Academy of Mary Immaculate were held Tuesday afternoon at the Wichita Theatre and at this time the addresses of the honor students of the graduating class were given.

The program was opened by the welcome chorus by the academic students, and the welcome address was made by Miss Mary E. Gordon. Miss Mattie Doss Hightower had as her chosen subject "The Power and the Place of Woman" and the class prophecy was read by Miss Anna Belle Yarbrough. Miss Gretchen Halter, the valedictorian, gave the class chronicle and Miss Fannie Williamson had been selected for class essay, having for her subject, "Ad Astra Per Aspera."

The address to the class of 1915 was delivered by Miss Lena Gilbert, one of this year's graduates. The program was interspersed at intervals with musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental by students of the Academy. Several very pleasing choruses were contributed by the academic students with Mrs. Ben M. Bell as accompanist.

The exercises will close tonight with the presentation of the sacred cantata, "Bethel, the Beautiful Queen" and the announcement of awards.

GOVERNOR COLQUITT MIXES POLITICS AND PATRIOTISM

By Associated Press. Waco, Texas, June 8.—Governor O. B. Colquitt mixed politics and patriotism in his trip to Waco today. The politics was his visit to the leaders gathered here in connection with the state central committee meeting, and patriotism was his work toward securing the silver service for the battleship Texas. Only $2750 is needed to complete the purchase price of $15000 for this service. The Young Men's Business League of Waco, which has been the governor's chief assistant throughout the campaign for silver service, funds has a report ready today and hopes to lay the matter before the governor in such a way that he can soon advertise for bids for the service.

NO FIRES HERE IN SIXTY FIVE DAYS

OVER TWO MONTHS SINCE DEPARTMENT HAS HAD BLAZE TO FIGHT

REGULAR INSPECTIONS MADE

Better Conditions Prevail in Business District and Dangers Are Kept at Minimum

Sixty-five days without a fire in Wichita Falls record. During that period there have been several alarms but no fires that have caused enough damage to be called fires.

Those who are in a position to know say that considerable credit is due to Fire Chief and Marshal Joe McClure. Mr. McClure makes two or three visits a week through the business district to see that papers and other debris are not allowed to accumulate at back doors or elsewhere about building and has seen to it that other requirements are met.

In flagrant cases Mr. McClure makes reports to the state fire marshal and insurance policies held by the offenders are cancelled.

125 LIVES MAY BE LOST OFF COAST OF NEW BRUNSWICK

By Associated Press. Chatham, New Brunswick, June 10.—Conflicting reports made it impossible today to estimate how many fishing smacks and lives had been lost in the storm which swept the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Chaleur Bay and the Strait of Northumberland Friday.

One report received this afternoon placed the number of dead at 125. Advice from Caraquet said that nineteen lives were known to have been lost. One vessel was missing and nothing was known of the fate of two vessels reported ashore at Pokesuille Island. Captain Samuel Brou of the schooner Warren T., which arrived here last night, said that when he left Shippegan on Sunday he heard that more than 100 persons had perished, but he believed the number was exaggerated.

LOS ANGELES RATE RULING UPHOLD BY SUPREME COURT

By Associated Press. Washington, June 8.—The Interstate Commerce Commission's order forbidding railroads to discriminate against Los Angeles by charging for delivery of cars on industrial tracks there was upheld today by the Supreme Court. Several hundred other cities have similar free service.

RUSSIAN PAPER HAS STORMY EXISTENCE

LABOR ORGAN HAS MANY ISSUES CONFISCATED AND EDITORS IMPRISONED

ROUGH GOING FOR UNIONS

Are Forced To Hold Many of Their Meetings in Secret, But Remain Loyal Nevertheless

By Associated Press. St. Petersburg, June 10.—Russian trade unionists have been celebrating the second anniversary of the establishment of a labor press in the country. Notwithstanding the most elaborate precautions taken by the police, meetings have been held in almost all factories, collections made and resolutions adopted in support of the press. In many factories workmen have resolved to devote to the press fund a whole day's wages and to try their best to increase the number of subscribers.

Since it was established, Truth, the organ of the trades unions, has had thirty-six issues confiscated and it has had to change its name half a dozen times. Besides, fines totaling $4,000 have been paid; 15 of its editors have been imprisoned and their sentences totaled 47 months.

In fact, throughout Russia, labor organizations, through the interference of the police, are unable to exist openly. This, in the opinion of many of employers—is the cause of the frequent strikes and lack of understanding between them and their men. Should a dispute arise and the men appoint the delegates to meet the employers, those delegates are immediately arrested as the ring leaders of some imaginary revolution and as a consequence, the negotiations come to nothing. The organizations have been driven to hold their meetings in secret and are practically ruled by secret committees. No man dare disobey the orders of these committees.

The perfect control exercised is shown by an incident freely quoted here. It was intimated that no work would be permitted on a casting required for a certain battleship. The casting traveled from one dock yard to another and wherever it appeared the men refused to work on it. Finally the boycott was mysteriously removed and the work was speedily completed.

Chillicothe, O., June 9.—Mexican war veterans from all parts of the country gathered here today for the annual reunion of the state and national associations. At this reunion a committee will be appointed to place the association's records in the national capitol for safe-keeping. Captain John A. Fisher of this city, is president of the national association. John Conwell of Calver, is president of the state association.

GEORGE W. PERKINS OBJECT OF ATTACK

AMOS PINCHOT URGES PROGRESSIVE LEADERS TO OUST HIM AS CHAIRMAN

TRUST AND LABOR ATTITUDE

Letter Is Addressed to Roosevelt and Other Party Leaders Urging Immediate Action

By Associated Press. New York, June 10.—Amos Pinchot made public today the text of the confidential letter he recently addressed to Theodore Roosevelt, the members of the Progressive national committee and other leaders denouncing George W. Perkins, chairman of the national executive committee as a menace to the party principally because of his affiliation with the United States Steel corporation and the International Harvester Company "two great monopolies which have succeeded most completely in exploiting the public and crushing organized labor."

The letter, opened by declaring "that a situation exists in the Progressive party which must be terminated before it can gain general popular support," Mr. Pinchot declared:

"An element in our party leadership headed by George W. Perkins favors the protection of monopoly in American industries; Mr. Perkins is actively opposed to recognition of labor's right to organize and deal with capital through labor unions and has frequently gone on record to this effect."

In view of these facts, Mr. Pinchot says the rank and file and majority of the leaders of the party feel that the resignation of Mr. Perkins as chairman of the executive committee is necessary. Mr. Pinchot declares that he believes even Mr. Perkins will agree with him that the success of the party demands such action immediately.

WEATHER CONDITIONS IN SOUTH GOOD FOR CROPS

By Associated Press. Washington, June 9.—Better weather conditions for crop growth prevailed in the South during the week which ended yesterday, according to the National Weekly Weather Bulletin issued by the bureau today. It says:

"Warm and dry weather permitted replanting and cultivation in Texas and Oklahoma and conditions in those states are generally improved. In Arkansas cotton is reported as making slow growth on account of drought."

WORDS FROM HOME.

Statements That May Be Investigated.

Testimony of Wichita Falls Citizens.

When a Wichita Falls citizen comes to the city, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Wichita Falls resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

Mrs. G. A. Swope, carpenter, 612 Burnett Street, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "I had pains across the small of my back and in my sides and trouble with the kidney secretions. My ankles became swollen. A few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I seldom have occasion to use a kidney remedy now, but when I do, Doan's Kidney Pills always give fine results."

MISS ELEANOR ALLEN ENTERTAINS TAIN'S S. S. CLASS SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon Miss Eleanor Allen entertained the members of her Sunday school class and the teacher, Miss Tula Stokes very delightfully. The early part of the afternoon was spent in playing various outdoor games with the usual enthusiasm and jolly time resulting. Mrs. Allen then gave them the treat of the afternoon. Each one was given a plate of molasses candy to pull and this was the source of much merriment also the candy, when pulled proved to be most delicious. Late in the afternoon, Mrs. Wincy, a hospitable neighbor, drove by in her large touring car and as the crowning feature of the afternoon, took the entire party for an extended ride over the city. Those enjoying this truly delightful hospitality of Mrs. Allen and Miss Eleanor were: Misses Tula Stokes, the teacher and Mary Koonce, Bernice Gatlin, Gerene Craig, Ida Baggett, Louise Smith, Jessie Pearce, Fay Thompson, Edna Kay, Eula Mae Cook, Jewel Smith.

BOYS ENJOY TRIP TO OIL FIELDS SATURDAY

Saturday Mrs. J. W. Culbertson and Mrs. Porzath entertained the boys in their Sunday school class in a rather unique and very enjoyable manner. The party met at the Kemp and Kell building in the morning and the boys, accompanied by Dr. J. L. McKee all piled into a capacious truck, the bottom of which was filled with hay and the ladies of the party followed in an automobile. Arriving at Petrolia dinner was served at Mrs. Culbertson's home, the meal being a delicious one and substantially as well. After dinner a trip through the oil fields followed and all the sights of that section were shown. One of the largest gas wells in the field was opened by Mr. Culbertson to show the visitors how a large gas well looks when turned loose. Also a large pool of waste oil was burned for their edification and amusement. After the oil field had been completely viewed the boys went to the swimming tank and remained there until time to start back home. Coming back the boys gave vent to their feelings with a noisy but heartfelt three cheers for Mrs. Culbertson and Mrs. Porzath and the others who had showed them such a royal good time. Those in the party were: Mesdames Culbertson, Porzath, Coyne, Davidson, Pittsburg, McKee, Messrs. Culbertson, Hagler, Dr. McKee and Alex. McKee, Andrew Urban, Joe Meigs, George Ulrich, Ed McCullough, Earl Shapel, Charlie Toney, Wesley Waller, Dillard, Anderson, Leslie Howard, Lynn Campbell, John Nicholson, Howard Rogers and John McKee.

CIRCLE MEETINGS OF THE M. E. SOUTH MISSION SOCIETY

The Floral Heights Circle No. 3 of the M. E. South Mission Society of the M. E. Church, South, met Monday afternoon at the Floral Heights church, onville and carried out a most interesting program dealing with the temperance question. Six new members were added to the circle and two visitors were also present. The excellent program was very much appreciated by all present, each subject being discussed in a thoroughly exhaustive manner. The next monthly circle meeting will be held with Mrs. Jeff Waggoner.

Circle No. 2 met with Mrs. E. B. Gorsline and discussed for their lesson the closing chapters of Genesis, "Jacob's Blessing of the Tribes." Mrs. Gorsline led the lesson in a very able manner, responses to roll call being made from the chapters under consideration. A Question Box was also held, which proved very beneficial. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Rahl.

Circle No. 1 met at the church parlors with Mrs. E. M. Harris as leader. The following interesting program was carried out, each number being unusually good. "The Adolescent Boy and Girl" from the Teachers' Institute; Mrs. Hartsook; vocal solo, Mrs. John Chambers; "As I Have Loved You," Mrs. Harry Robertson; reading, Miss Tula Stokes; music, Mrs. Hartsook and Mrs. Johnson; paper, Mrs. Baker; Story, Miss Boone.

GUILD OF GOOD SHEPHERD MET MONDAY AFTERNOON

DIVISION MEETINGS OF B. W. A. MONDAY AFTERNOON

The Woman's Alliance of the First Baptist church met in division Monday afternoon. Several of the divisions met at the homes of members while the remainder of them met at the church. "Fitting" was the general subject for each division and the program was in charge of a leader. All report interesting meetings with good attendance and excellent programs.

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES ADJOURNS FOR SUMMER

The final session of the Ladies Aid of the First Presbyterian Church before adjournment for the summer, was held Monday afternoon in the church parlors. The usual short business meeting was held, various matters being discussed and the Aid then adjourned until some time in October.

M. E. SOUTH LEAGUE HOLDS CABINET MEETING MONDAY

The cabinet members of the Epworth League of the M. E. Church, South, met Monday evening at the home of the president, J. B. Stokes Jr. A business discussion occupied the early part of the evening, followed by an informal social hour during which time Victrola music was enjoyed and light refreshments of ice cream, cake and mints were served. The members of the cabinet present were: Mesdames Trimble, Bulard and Christine, Messrs. Durand, Waggoner, Eddleman and Stokes.

CRESCENT CIRCLE MEETING WITH MISS ALTHA FRIBERG

The Crescent Circle met Tuesday afternoon with Miss Altha Friberg as hostess and all spent a most delightful afternoon. The usual round of sewing and conversation was engaged in and the hostess served a delightful frozen marshmallow pudding with cake and grape juice at the conclusion of the afternoon. Mother Friberg and the hostess' mother, Mrs. G. E. Friberg were the guests and members present were: Mesdames Hunter, Jessie Roberts, Cora Scott, Ruby Bachman, Lillian Bachman and Mesdames Montfort and Dollard. The club meets next with Miss Hazel Hunter.

LITTLE SISTERS MEET WITH MISS GENEVIEVE CARVER

Miss Genevieve Carver was hostess to the regular meeting of the Little Sisters Tuesday afternoon. Sewing as usual formed the occupation of the afternoon with accompanying social conversation. Late in the afternoon a delicious salad course was served, followed by an ice course. The members present were: Mesdames Lillian McGregor, Beas Kell, Bertha Mae Kemp, Ann Freaser and the hostess.

WESLEY GIRLS ENJOY ANNUAL PICNIC AT LAKE TUESDAY

The Wesley Girls held their annual picnic at Lake Wichita Tuesday afternoon and as is customary with everything undertaken by these girls the affair proved to be more than a success. The class members went out in the afternoon and spent the time until supper in a number of ways. About 7 o'clock the husbands and other gentlemen of the party arrived and a most sumptuous repast was spread in the pavilion. The usual picnic menu of sandwiches, salads, olives, pickles, ice tea and cake was enjoyed. Following the supper a number of the party found diversion in the skating rink, while others sought different amusements. Those enjoying this totally delightful outing were: Mesdames Hazel Hobson, Marie Shelton, Morris Hickman, Alta Ruffner, Abney, Johnson, Frazier, Mrs. Clifford Robson, Messrs. and Mesdames Chambers, Rhea Howard, Lester Jones, Dr. and Mrs. Hartsook, Dr. Stripling, Messrs. MISS HERRON HOSTESS TO B. O. P.'S TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Tuesday afternoon Miss Gladys Herron entertained the B. O. P.'s in a very delightful session. A diversion from the usual routine of sewing was afforded by an advertising contest in which all took part. In this contest Miss Pauline Mears was successful, winning a dainty handkerchief. On the conclusion of the contest the remainder of the afternoon was spent with merry conversation and musical numbers were enjoyed. Miss Katharine Cook sang and Mesdames Cora Lee Waggoner and Cella Statton played, the hostess also favoring with an instrumental selection. Late in the afternoon delicious refreshments were served, consisting of ice cream with cherries, cake and mints. The members present were: Mrs. Kelly, Mesdames Carrie Roberts, Icie Stringer, Cora Lee Waggoner, Beryl Murph, Opal Shaver, Tula Stokes, Anna Belle King, Minnie McClellan, Lola Norris, Agnes Blaylock and the hostess. The guests of the afternoon were: Mesdames Cella Statton, Katharine Cook, Pauline Mears and the mother of the hostess, Mrs. W. H. Herron.

MRS. LARKIN HONORS GUEST FROM BEAUMONT AT BRIDGE

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. W. D. Larkin entertained at bridge, thus paying a very pretty compliment to her guest, Miss Stella Vinson of Beaumont. Five tables were arranged for the chosen game and the rooms in which the tables were placed were rendered attractive by a simple but effective arrangement of cut flowers a combination of varieties being used. The high score favor, a pair of satin bonnier slippers with hose to match, went to Mrs. Art, while the consolation, a deck of cards fell to Mrs. Walsh. The honoree's favor was a dainty hand painted fan. At the conclusion of the games an ice course was served, in which an attractive color scheme of green and white had been carried out. Those present included the honor guest, Miss Vinson, Mesdames Reisonberg of Sherman, Dent and Lowler.

Mesdames DuVal, Short, Cullinan, Benton, Waller, Waggoner, Taylor, Thraikill, Walsh, Straus, Jones, Harry Cravens, Griffin and Art.

PHILATHEA CLASS OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH AT PICNIC

Tuesday evening the Philathea Class of the Baptist Church enjoyed an outing at Lake Wichita. A swimming party had been planned but for several reasons the swimming pool was unavailable and they were forced to forego this pleasure. A bounteous lunch was spread at the pavilion and the different amusements offered by the lake were enjoyed by the party following the lunch. Those in the party were: Mesdames Cora Remfo, Theresa and Emma Smith, Della Stone, Cella Statton, Beryl Murph, Ann Freaser, Bess Maxwell, Katharine Rainer, Lou Ella Morgan, Johnson, Staley, Lawler, Robertson, Taylor, Messrs. and Mesdames W. A. Freaser and Wiley Robertson. Messrs. John Gould and Burton Statton.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Office of Comptroller of the Currency Washington, D. C., May 29, 1914.

Whereas, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that "The National Bank of Commerce of Wichita Falls" in the city of Wichita Falls, in the county of Wichita and State of Texas, has complied with all the provisions of the Statutes of the United States, required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of banking;

Now, therefore, I, John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "The National Bank of Commerce of Wichita Falls" in the city of Wichita Falls, in the county of Wichita and State of Texas, is authorized to commence the business of banking as provided in Section Fifty One, Hundred and Sixty Nine of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office, this Twentieth day of May, 1914.

TOLLS BILL TO PRESIDENT

HOUSE HAS AGREED TO SENATE AMENDMENT WITHOUT GOING TO COMMITTEE

PASSAGE BY SENATE

Final Enactment is Effected By Vote of Fifty to Thirty-five, Ending Long Fight

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 12.—Without the formality of a conference the House today by a vote of 216 to 71 accepted the Senate amendments to the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption and sent the bill to President Wilson. An attempt led by Representative Moss, Republican, of West Virginia, to substitute for the Senate amendment an affirmative declaration of the rights of the United States in favor of its own ships was defeated 174 to 108.

The Panama bill returned to the House today for action for the Norris-Simmons compromise amendment before going to President Wilson for signature.

Chairman Adams of the commerce committee, in charge of the bill, at once moved that the House concur in the amendment instead of sending it to conference.

"The Senate amendment," he said, "should be acceptable to all advocates of uniform tolls. It is exceedingly appropriate that the amendment contained in the amendment should be made and promulgated in connection with the repeal bill itself; it is nothing but the truth and substantially the same declaration has been made by us on the floor of the House and elsewhere many times."

Underwood in Opposition.
Representative Underwood's motion was not objected to and debate was limited by agreement to an hour and a half. Representative Underwood declared he believed the amendment would veto the bill as amended. Majority Leader Underwood, while he declared he would not oppose the amendment said that it was "negative and ineffective." He added that the reservation would have no effect in future negotiations.

"Our act in surrendering our rights will be the point that is weighed in the future and not an accompanying declaration of what we mean when we perform the act," he said, and added that Congress should never have legislated directly on the question but should have submitted the entire controversy to arbitration.

The vote in the Senate yesterday on final passage was 50 to 25.

History of Tolls Measure.

The question of making the Panama Canal free to American vessels was brought to the front when the House on May 22, 1913 incorporated in the act providing for the establishment of civil government in the canal zone, a provision authorizing the president to charge tolls to vessels using the canal, with a proviso exempting American coastwise vessels from such charges. President Taft, in a message to Congress, had urged the exemption. The bill had been reported to the House providing tolls for all vessels but the exemption provision was adopted as an amendment. This amendment was in the bill as it went to the Senate.

Before the bill passed the Senate, Great Britain on July 11, 1913, filed a formal protest against the proposed exemption. The note transmitted to the state department contained:

"The British government thinks that to allow American vessels to pass through the canal without the payment of tolls would be to violate the Hay-Pauncefote treaty whether the tolls are not collected, or whether if collected they are refunded. As to coastwise trade, the British government thinks it would be difficult to frame a provision which would not do injustice to their interests."

Treaty Provisions.
The Hay-Pauncefote treaty superseded the Clayton-Bulwer treaty under which Great Britain and the United States were jointly to build the canal. After providing rules for the regulation of the canal, based on the rules governing Suez canal traffic set forth:

"The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations observing the rules on terms of entire equality as that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation or its citizens or subjects in respect of the conditions or charges of traffic, or otherwise. Such conditions or charges of traffic shall be just and equitable."

The British note of protest started a lengthy diplomatic correspondence on the subject. Great Britain throughout claimed that the United States could not, under the terms of the treaty, make toll exemption of any vessels, whether its own or of other nations. Secretary Knox, who conducted the correspondence for the United States, in several lengthy notes contended that the exemption of American coastwise shipping was in no way a discrimination against other traffic using the canal. He said:

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD COMPLETED

PRESIDENT EXPECTED TO SEND NAMES OF MEMBERS TO SENATE MONDAY

HEADED BY CHICAGO LAWYER

Thomas B. Jones, Personal Friend of Governor, Will Probably Be Governor of Board

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 12.—Thomas B. Jones, a Chicago lawyer, former member of the Princeton University trustees, and a personal friend of President Wilson, has practically been selected for governor of the federal reserve board. It was unofficially announced today that his nomination would go to the Senate Monday. With the nomination of Mr. Jones the names of Paul M. Warburg of New York, W. P. G. Harding of Birmingham, A. C. Miller of San Francisco and E. C. Simmons of St. Louis, to be members of the board, are expected to go to the Senate.

Secretary McAdoo and Controller Williams of the currency bureau will be ex-officio members. It was definitely stated at the White House that the president formally would announce the personnel of the board Monday.

Money To Move Crops.
With the appointment and organization of the board, the work of actually organizing the country's new banking and currency system will get under way and officials hope to have it in operation for the crop moving period in the autumn. Treasury department officials were still of the opinion today that it will be possible to have the twelve federal reserve banks in operation by August 1, although they say that the demand for money in more crops has not been such as would suggest any great strain to be relieved by the reserve banks. Oklahoma and Kansas are now harvesting their wheat. Indications are that it will be a bumper crop, but the banks in the wheat section are not hard pressed for money and this condition is attributed by Secretary McAdoo to the passage of the federal reserve act, which will make it possible to rediscount commercial paper.

The organization committee has not made any call on members banks as yet for the initial one-sixth of their subscription to the capital stock of the reserve bank to which they wish to belong. Such a call hardly will be made until after the federal reserve board is confirmed by the Senate and takes up its work in Washington.

MAZATLAN GARRISON IS LOSING HEAVILY TO REBELS

By Associated Press.
On Board U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mexico, June 11, via wireless to San Diego, Cal., June 12.—The constitutional army under General Obregon today began its first concentrated general assault on the federal fortifications at Mazatlan, commanded by General Rodriguez. The battle raged all day and although the beleaguered garrison held its position, it lost heavily in killed and wounded.

ANTILLA DISCHARGES LOAD OF AMMUNITION AT TAMPICO

Knew Nothing of Plans For Stockade Until After Arriving At Mexican Port

By Associated Press.
Tampico, June 11, via Laredo, Texas, June 12.—The steamship Antilla from New York today discharged her cargo of ammunition for the constitutionalists. Sixteen hundred cases of ammunition and two aeroplanes were immediately dispatched north on a special train. Until after her arrival at the wharf the Antilla knew nothing of the projected blockade of the port or the presence of the federal gunboat outside the harbor. The Antilla will sail tomorrow for Tampico to recover the remains of Weston Burwell, the American reported murdered by federalists April 12.

His left hand becoming caught in the mixer of a concrete machine this morning, Sam Burchard employed by I. H. Roberts the cement contractor suffered the loss of three fingers of his left hand. They were mangled to the second joint. While the accident was a distressing one it is considered very fortunate that Mr. Burchard's entire hand was not mangled.

PIPE ORGAN ARRIVES FOR FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

The pipe organ ordered some time ago for the First M. E. Church, has arrived and will be installed in the church next week, probably in time for the services of June 21. The organ is one of the most up to date instruments in this section and will add materially to the effectiveness of the music in the church.

"Let Them Die" Cry Anti Suffragettes In London As Militants Begin Hunger Strikes

London, June 12.—"Let them die." That's the cry of a big majority of the people who are opposed to the militant suffragettes. They think the only cure for the outrages which have stirred all England is to let the suffragettes starve themselves in jail until they die if they so choose to continue their hunger strikes. The recent burnings and the attempts to see the king in Buckingham palace during his birthday celebration have incensed the populace. Many who favor giving women the vote are opposed to the militant methods. The present outbreak may gradually die out, like other recent outrages, but the militants say they will be heard from until they win even if they have to die.

CONVICTS REVOLT IN SPAIN MANY KILLED AND WOUNDED

Prisoners Seize Governor of Jail and Beat Him To Death—Battle With Guards Follows

By Associated Press.
Cerebre, France, June 12.—A full governor was slain and a large number of convicts killed or wounded as a result of a revolt yesterday in the Spanish prison of Figueras just over the frontier in Catalonia. The convicts took advantage of the absence of most of the prison guards whose attention had been attracted by a procession outside the jail in celebration of the religious festival of Corpus Christi. The prisoners seized the governor and beat him to death; they then broke into the store of arms and ammunition and attempted to escape. Detachments of troops and wardens fired upon the fleeing convicts who replied with volleys from the rifles they had seized. Fierce fighting ensued within the prison enclosure and buildings before the convicts were mastered and in the course of the affray many were shot down.

MILITANTS TRY TO BURN ANOTHER HISTORIC CHURCH

By Associated Press.
London, June 12.—Militant suffragettes early today attempted to burn the ancient church of St. Margaret at Chislehead, fourteen miles from London. Three fires fed by fire lights composed of squares of felt saturated with oil, were set by "the arson squad." The rector and the villagers extinguished the flames before much damage was done. The church dates from the twelfth century.

SUFFRAGETTES CAN'T LEARN OF ROOSEVELT'S MOVEMENTS

Itinerary of ex-President While in London Is Not to Be Made Public

By Associated Press.
London, June 12.—Fears of suffragette outrages have caused the withholding from publication in London of Col. Theodore Roosevelt's engagements during his approaching visit to England. It is known, however, that except for his lecture before the Royal Geographical Society, Colonel Roosevelt, at his own request, will take no part in public functions. An extensive list of private entertainments has been arranged, however, so that the colonel may have the opportunity of meeting prominent persons whom he desires to see.

LORIMER'S BANK IN CHICAGO IS CLOSED BY AUTHORITIES

Three Subsidiaries Also Suspend Business—State Bank Examiner in Charge

By Associated Press.
Chicago, June 12.—The La Salle Street Trust and Savings Bank, of which William Lorimer, former United States senator is president, was taken in charge today by the state bank examiner. The examiner reported that conditions were such as to warrant the closing of the bank. A mild run started on the bank two days ago, according to the secretary of the institution. In the last statement issued by the bank its capital stock was placed at $1,000,000, surplus $250,000 and undivided profits $93,631. Its stock was then held at par.

The statement gave the deposits as $5,053,536 and the loans $4,263,358. The state bank examiner announced that he had sent examiners to three banks in Chicago classed as subsidiaries of the LaSalle street institution. The examiners caused a suspension of business in the three; the Broadway state bank on the north side, the Ashland and Twelfth in the west side Chicago districts and the Illinois State Bank of Chicago in North Clarke street. The Broadway State and the Ashland and Twelfth street banks were organized within the year.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED BY LABOR FEDERATION

By Associated Press.
El Paso, Texas, June 12.—Edward Cunningham of Bridgeport, was re-elected president of the Texas Federation of Labor today by acclamation at the morning session of the convention here today. George H. Slater of Galveston was elected secretary and treasurer, defeating the present incumbent, John H. Spencer of Waco 200 to 155. A resolution commending President Wilson for sending troops into the Colorado strike district was also adopted.

GOVERNMENT PIPE LINE MAY NOT GO THROUGH TEXAS PORT

Louisiana Points Are Expected To Make Strong Fight To Bring It Their Way

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, June 12.—Doubts as to whether the proposed government pipe line from Oklahoma to the Gulf will run through Texas have been raised here. Those doubts are based on the fact that since Texas ports want the pipe line terminal; while Louisiana has entered the competition with her forces concentrated on one port, Baton Rouge on the Mississippi River. The spirit which helped win for Texas a regional reserve bank, namely "Texas First" regardless of rivalry between cities, is said not to have been strongly manifested in the oil pipe line hearings. In fact it is said numerous advocates of individual ports forgot to mention Texas at all, taking it for granted that any pipe line from Oklahoma necessarily had to pass into the Gulf through Texas. The Louisiana business men secured records of much of the Texas testimony and were read for the government investigators with data showing that the Gulf route was not only on deep water but was close to the great mid-continent oil fields.

Many Employees Will Be Required To Take Vacations Without Pay To Save Money

By Associated Press.
St. Louis, June 12.—The employees and officers from office boy to president of the St. Louis and Southwest era known as the Cotton Belt, with the exception of the employees of the transportation department will be forced to take a three days vacation without pay during June. This is due, Vice President Nelson announced, to poor business. Conservatively estimates figure the saving of the road of $12,000 during this month.

GREECE SHOWING TEETH TO TURKEY

ISSUES WARNING THAT IS LITTLE SHORT OF DECLARATION OF WAR

PREMIER IN FIRM ATTITUDE

Says Hostilities Will Follow If Persecution of Greek Citizens in Turkey Does Not Stop

MASSACRE OF GREEKS FEARED AT NITILENE

London, June 12.—An official dispatch from Nittlene, an island off the coast of Asia Minor, says that Turkish regulars with machine guns and a force of bashi-basouks today attacked the town of Alzalik on the coast of the mainland. As the town is inhabited by 25,000 Greeks a massacre is feared. Messages from Athens today state that one class of the Greek naval reserve has been called out ostensibly to participate in fleet maneuvers. Greek ship owners have telegraphed instructions to the commanders of their ships in the Black Sea to return immediately to Greek waters. A conference between the Russian and Roumanian ministers has been planned at Bucharest next week to endeavor to prevent war.

By Associated Press

Athens, Greece, June 12.—A warning to Turkey which fell little short of a formal declaration of hostilities was uttered today by Premier N. Venizelos of Greece in the Chamber of Deputies. He was speaking of the treatment of Greek subjects in Turkey. The Greek government today sent a vigorous note to Turkey demanding the cessation of the persecution of the Greeks in Turkey and the repair of the damage caused them and the interests of Deputies.

The premier's attitude showed that the tension between Greece and Turkey was near the breaking point and that the danger of war was imminent. M. Vassilos, who obviously found difficulty in restraining his language when he spoke of the way in which the Turks had treated his fellow countrymen said:

"I do not wish to allow to escape me words which cannot be recalled, but I should like in my duty if I did not inform the Chamber of Deputies that the situation has become grave, even very grave. If a step is not put to these conditions, the Hellenic government will be forced not to content itself with joining in the lamentations of unhappy refugees. Prolonged cheering greeted the statement of the premier who said that thousands of Greek refugees had already reached the homeland from Turkey while thousands more were only awaiting transportation facilities in order to escape from their persecutors. Such a situation, he concluded, could not be borne much longer. Public opinion in the Greek capital is greatly excited and demands are made that the government take immediate action in the matter."

FEDERATED CLUBS WILL CONSIDER WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE

Announcement to This Effect by President Today Greeted With Much Applause

By Associated Press.
Chicago, June 12.—The question of women's suffrage will receive the fullest consideration at the convention of the general federation of women's clubs. This announcement was made suddenly but very emphatically by Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of the federation at the opening of today's session. She was greeted with a storm of applause.

"The chair wishes to answer some seventeen questions which have been received with regard to the subject of women's suffrage," announced Mrs. Pennybacker, "the purport of these questions is, are we going to smother the suffrage question?"

The house became silent and the speaker paused dramatically. Then she resumed with an explosive "no" which she amplified:

"It is not the intention to smother this great question," she stated that the subject probably would come up this afternoon at the education conference.

"Special privilege to none, equal rights for all is the slogan of this convention," declared the chairman amid further applause. Then she continued:

"Now let's do something less exciting, we have the report on civil service reform."

FIRST STEP IS ACHIEVED

MEDIATORS AND DELEGATES READY TO APPROVE PROVISIONAL PROCEDURE

DEADLOCK IS BROKEN

Huerta Will Not Name Successors Carranza Is Not To Have Formal Representation

By Associated Press.

Niagara Falls, June 12.—The mediators will not officially admit to the conference here the representatives General Carranza has announced he will send to Niagara Falls. The South American diplomats said they could not recede from their original condition demanding an armistice. Mediation today had achieved its first important step. After nearly three weeks of parleying the mediators and the American and Huerta delegates were ready formally to approve in full conference the method by which the executive power in Mexico City shall be transferred from the Huerta administration to a new provisional government, the constitutional form of succession permitting General Huerta to appoint as minister of foreign affairs the man chosen here for the provisional presidency, having been abandoned.

Mexicans Finally Yield.

Instead, there will be an abrupt transfer of authority to the new provisional president. There was a deadlock for several days over the manner of transition from Huerta, but the Mexicans finally yielded on the ground that technicalities should not jeopardize the prospects for peace.

The work of the conference now is centered on the second point in the plan for the pacification of Mexico, which deals with the personnel of the new government. It is not at all improbable that the American delegates will ask the mediators to receive the constitutionalists, envoys or that they themselves will endeavor to obtain information from the new representatives.

To Hear Carranza Agents.

The mediators have said they will receive representatives of General Carranza to hear their arguments but that they can not give them formal representation in the conference except on their original basis of an armistice and a willingness to discuss internal as well as international phases of the Mexican question. The coming of constitutionalists delegates at a time when the proceedings have reached the critical stage where personnel is being discussed will not be surprising to the Americans and it is suggested in some quarters even the Huerta delegates, anxious for the end of the civil strife, will be glad to have the negotiations hurried by having all parties to the Mexican controversy represented.

PROBABLE PERSONNEL OF CARRANZA'S DELEGATION

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 12.—General Carranza's reply to the Mexican mediators announcing his intention of sending three delegates to the Niagara conference was received here early today and forwarded to Niagara Falls. No announcement of the contents of Carranza's reply was made here, but it was understood the note is silent on the subject of an armistice and does not give the names of the men who will be sent to represent the constitutionalists.

It is known, however, that Rafael Zubaran, minister of the interior in the Carranza cabinet and chief of the agency here, will not be among the delegates as Carranza considers Zubaran is needed to look after affairs here.

Two of the delegates are almost certain to be Luis Cabrera, a prominent figure in the constitutionalist movement and Jose Vasconcelos, a young lawyer. The name of the third man was not learned here.

President Wilson today authorized the announcement that he considers the progress of mediation at Niagara Falls as "very encouraging." It was said unofficially that he expects mediation to have a successful outcome within the next few days.

FUNSTON WANTS TO MOVE TROOPS FURTHER INLAND

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 12.—Brigadier General Funston's repeated recommendation for moving the American line further inland for Vera Cruz to better protect the city and the water and food supplies are being considered anew by officials here who are confronted however with the insistence of the state department that the present position be maintained during the Niagara mediation conference. No decision has been reached. The possibility of fighting between federalists and constitutionalists adds to the desirability from a military viewpoint of extending the line somewhat.

MATTER COMES UP FOR ATTENTION OF COUNCIL AT MEETING THURSDAY

FRANCHISE FOR MILL TRACKS

Adverse Action is Taken on Postponement of Bond Election—City to Buy Plant

Appointment of a food and milk inspector by the city council seems near. Following the receipt of a communication from Dr. R. T. Mott last night tendering his services for this position, the appointment was referred to the sanitary committee for a recommendation and a report is expected at the next meeting of the council.

The franchise ordinance to permit the Wichita Valley and the Wichita Falls Railway Company to lay two lines of track at the site of the Wichita Mill and Elevator Company's new plant was read for the third time and adopted. H. J. Bachman, a property owner near the site who had filed a formal protest withdrew the same before the third reading of the ordinance.

Refuse To Postpone Election

Adverse action was taken on the request for a postponement of the park and fire station bond election on account of the election falling on June 23rd, the opening day of the race meet. Read, Bradley and Richert voted against the postponement while Young and Gardner favored it.

Councilman Young also had been a director in the Searchlight Publishing Company reported that he had sold his stock in that corporation removing an obstacle to that company's holding the city's printing contract. The contract for the city's job printing also was awarded to that company.

Mayor Britton was authorized to purchase a flag to be hung on the flagstaff at the city hall.

Upon a vote the street committee was authorized to sprinkle the streets with oil wherever the citizens would furnish the oil.

TO DECORATE FOR EDITOR'S MEETING

MERCHANTS WILL BE ASKED TO ADORN THEIR STORES FOR OCCASION

TO REMAIN FOR RACE MEET

Will Also Be Allowed To Stay Until After July 4 According To Committee's Plan

At a committee meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Thursday afternoon it was decided to call upon all the business houses in the city to decorate their buildings in honor of the Texas Press Association next week. It was pointed out that the editors' meeting would be followed by the race meet and after that would come the Fourth of July so that the decorations that are put up next week can serve for three events.

It has been the custom in other cities where the press convention has been held for the merchants and others to decorate their buildings and it is urged that Wichita Falls cannot afford not to do all that any other city has done toward the entertainment of the editors.

DODSON'S GUARANTEE EXPLAINED BY DODSON

Read What Dodson Says About His Liver Tonic To You Who Suffer From Constipation

"Dodson's Liver Tonic takes the place of calomel. Instead of being dangerous, it is harmless and works easily and naturally, without any after effects. I have authorized my druggist to refund purchase price, 50c, to you instantly without question if you are in any way dissatisfied with it. If Dodson's Liver Tonic can't help you, I don't want your money."

That's how Dodson feels about this pleasant tasting vegetable liquid liver regulator and reliever of constipation and biliousness.

The lives of so many people have been brightened and bettered by this great remedy that leading druggists now recommend it and seven of America's most prominent physicians O. K.'d it after thorough analysis of its ingredients and effects.

It is generally known that calomel, being a poison, is a peril to many. It stays in the system and, while it may seem to give you a temporary relief, often knocks you out for several days. (Advt.)

CORPUS CHRISTI IS SEEKING 1915 EDITOR'S CONVENTION

Will Press Claim When Texas Press Association Convenes Here Next Week

The 1915 meeting of the Texas Press Association will be invited to Corpus Christi, that city having shed its hat into the ring as a candidate for the convention. Last year Corpus Christi was a candidate against Wichita Falls, but lost when the "thirty feet of telegrams" displayed by the South Texas city was overshadowed by the "fifty feet of human beings" that this city had at the convention. Members of the association have received the following:

"Corpus Christi wants the 1915 convention of the Texas Press Association. John W. Stayton will attend this year's convention at Wichita Falls as the official representative of the city of Corpus Christi and its Commercial Club and will extend the invitation. We believe we can help you make the 1915 convention the most enjoyable and successful gathering in the history of the press association. We will show you the time of your life. Won't you vote for Corpus Christi?"

Just what other cities will dispute Corpus Christi's claim has not been learned, but it is expected that Dallas, Beaumont and Austin will carry out their earlier intentions of asking for the meeting.

A Cheerful Toot from the Horn of Prosperity

WE'VE THE GLOOMS ON THE FUN FOR FAIR THIS TIME

Oh, to be sure we were in the dumps nearly all Spring, when the rain was pouring down every day and our trade was unable to buy clothing because work was slack, the prospects for harvesting the wheat crop that we had raised looked "slim," and things in general headed toward the "bow-wows."

To make it still harder on our business the excessive rains and floods in the East affected the special deliveries of the big merchant tailor houses and we have been compelled to take more clothing than usual in order to keep our contracts with them.

But prospects are brighter now. The wheat harvest is on and the crop is a bumper. The other later crops look promising also.

Good Times are Assured

Now in order to sell our stock down to normal size and get the money back in the strong box where we can have it ready to pay cash for the clothing we receive from the tailors.

We Begin a Sale To-Morrow to Last One Week Only

ANY SUIT YOUR CHOICE

$12.50 AND $15.00

This is a real bargain event because the clothing we have received this Spring is better than we have ever gotten before. The tailor's price on the entire stock averages about $35.00 per suit. Many suits are priced as high as $48.50 per suit.

If you appreciate fine hand tailored Clothes don't miss this opportunity. They cost you less than hand-me-downs.

Make this a "RED WING" Summer

I was just comparing notes the other day to see how much grape juice I was selling at the present time as compared with what was sold when grape juice was first produced on the market and I, myself was astonished at the very rapid increase in the sale of this summer beverage. With the introduction in this territory of Redwing Grape Juice I expected to see the sale climb faster and faster. Already I have added quite a number of new customers to my list, who have had trial bottles of this new brand and they are now ordering in case lots and they value its economy as well as its delicious quality. Here's the sizes of bottles I carry and the prices. I'll make a special price on case lots:

The Flag Goes By.
(Selected in view of the fact that Sunday, June 14 is Flag Day.)
Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a rattle of drums,
A flash of color beneath the sky:
Hats off!

The flag is passing by.
Blue and crimson and white it shines
Over the steel tipped, ordered lines.
Hats off!

The colors before us fly:
But more than the flag is passing by.
Sea-fights and land fights, grim and
And great,
Fought to make and save the state,
Weary marches and sinking ships;
Cheers of victory on dying lips.

Sign of a nation great and strong,
Toward her people from foreign wrong;
Pride and glory and honor all
Live in the colors to stand or fall.
Hats off!

Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a rattle of drums;
And loyal hearts are beating high:
Hats off!

The flag is passing by.

WICHITA FALLS RECIPE.

Recipe For Karo Fruit Ice or Punch.

(By Mrs. J. M. Pine)
One dozen lemons, one-half dozen oranges, one cup of pineapple juice, four cups of white Karo, one cup of cherries and pineapple, diced, one quart of water, two tablespoons corn starch and one cup of sugar. To the quart of boiling water add the corn starch, boil for five minutes, add sugar. When cold combine with fruit juices and Karo and place in a freezer. When it begins to freeze add the diced fruit and freeze hard.
For punch add one quart more of water. (Recipes are solicited. Phone 1671

LADIES OF ROWENA CIRCLE AND HUSBANDS ENTERTAINED

In response to rather unique invitations the ladies of the Rowena Circle No. 36 of B. of A. Y. and their husbands gathered at the home of Mrs. B. L. Richardson, Thursday evening at which time she and Mrs.
Lon Deatherage were joint hostesses.
There they partook of the enjoyment and pleasures that awaited them.
The spacious lawn was converted into a park of amusement with Japanese lanterns hung everywhere in conspicuous places, thus illuminating the whole lawn and presenting a very inviting appearance. To one side was stationed a tent which was occupied by a fascinating gypsy maiden, who possessed the gift of prophecy. Here many visitors were received, each one on leaving bearing the omen which led to the knowledge of their destiny. Various games were played with much merriment and laughter, every one so gladly taking part, not allowing even one dull moment to steal its way into the enjoyment of the evening, much to the delight of the hostesses. Late in the evening the generous baskets were all emptied, affording a most appetizing luncheon which was enjoyed by all and not until a late hour did the party leave.

Beautiful, Soft, Fluffy Hair An Aid To Beauty

Who does not love a head of pretty hair? Some women think it is a gift of nature and envy their more fortunate sisters. If your hair is not fluffy, soft and lustrous; if falling out, streaked, faded, brittle or full of dandruff and if the scalp itches, do not think it must always be that way, for pretty hair is only a matter of care and proper nourishment of the hair roots. Hair is something like a plant—if neglected, it soon withers and dies, while with a little attention it keeps fresh and beautiful.

Parian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies just the elements needed to invigorate the hair roots and stimulate the hair to grow long, thick, fluffy, soft and lustrous. It removes dandruff with one application and quickly stops itching head and falling hair. Foots and Lynch or any druggist can supply you with Parian Sage—it is inexpensive. You cannot be disappointed with this delightful and helpful hair tonic for the first few days' use will give the hair
the beauty and charm of youth.

DANCE AT LAKE WICHITA ENJOYED THURSDAY EVENING

A large number of young people enjoyed an informal dance at the Lake Wichita pavilion Thursday evening. About twenty couples at-pleasant evening was spent, the couples enjoying the breeze and mu-are to be held bi-weekly, possibly oftener during the summer.

SUMMER TIME ALMOST HERE MERCURY ABOVE 90 DEGREES

Afternoons Getting Warmer Each Day—Conditions Are Ideal For Wheat Harvest

Wichita Falls is getting a taste of sure enough summer time this week.
Monday the mercury climbed to 90, Tuesday to 91, Wednesday to 92 and yesterday to 93. It is just as hot at this time of the evening as it is at three the heat seeming to linger while the sun goes down. The weather is ideal for the wheat harvest, but city folks are not appreciating it so much.

Texas can get some comfort, however, from the fact that while the weather down here is warm, it is hot enough to cause prostrations and deaths in cities further north.

METHODS OF DEALING WITH SUFFRAGETTES DISCUSSED

English Home Secretary Does Not Favor "Let Them Die" Policy — Admits He Is Puzzled.

By Associated Press.

London, June 12.—Reginald Mc-Kenna, the home secretary announceed in the House of Commons, Thursday that he hoped the government has obtained sufficient evidence to enable it to bring suit against the subscribers to the funds of the millitant organization. He added the further hope that the government would be able to make the subscribers liable to the full extent of the damage done by arson, bombs, destroyers of mail and picture slashers.

Mr. McKenna pleaded in answer to bitter criticism that the government was faced with a situation without precedent. The number of women actually engaged in committing crimes in connection with the millitant movement is small, he said, but sympathizers are numerous. He admitted the crimes are increasing in seriousness.

In discussing various suggestions for dealing with militants the home secretary said he believed the "let them die" policy would act only as a greater incentive to militancy and would in due course lead to a reaction in public opinion. Deportation he considered impracticable. As to treating the women as lunatics Mr.
McKenna said he could not ask Parliament to sanction an act defining people as lunatics who had not been medically certified as such.

The last proposition said Mr. Mc-Kenna was to give women the vote
but he thought it could not be regionally considered as a remedy for existing conditions.

ED. HOWARD, Mgr.

How do our candidates for the legislature stand on the fee system? Are they in favor of the present system, or in favor of paying salaries instead of fees to all officers of the county? The fee system is a live question, and the voters should have an expression from the legislative candidates as to how they stand.

The following is the wording that will appear on the head of the Democratic ballot to be voted in the July primaries:

For the submission by the Thirty-fourth Legislature of the State of Texas of a constitutional amendment prohibiting within this State the manufacture, sale, exchange and intrastate shipment of intoxicating liquor except for medicinal purposes.

Against the submission by the Thirty-fourth Legislature of the State of Texas of a constitutional amendment prohibiting within this State the manufacture, sale, exchange and intrastate shipment of intoxicating liquor except for medicinal and sacramental purposes.

In five years the taxable values of Wichita Falls have jumped from $3,637,240 to $8,261,600. That's very nice for an increase in wealth. But while this has been going on the population of both Wichita Falls and Wichita county have more than doubled, which is probably the best record for increase in wealth and population of any city or county in the State. This is written just as a reminder to those who are regretting they did not invest in Wichita Falls property four or five years ago. Property is cheaper right now than it will be next year, and in another five years the population of Wichita Falls will double again. That will mean a city of at least 30,000 population. There is every good reason to justify a prediction like that.

The editor of the Nocona News, evidently, has been a visitor to Wichita Falls recently, and when he returned home was inspired to write the following:

Indiana named the city of Wichita Falls, and the rapids of Wichita River, a few miles above the city, furnished their inspiration.

Since its establishment in 1881, the city has witnessed a remarkable growth. A progressive citizenship has displaced the tribes of red men that once inhabited that section and blooded cattle have taken the place of the buffalo herds that at one time roamed the Wichita ranges. At one time Wichita Falls was the world's leading distributing center for ranch supplies and it still holds an important position in the livestock industry of the Lone Star state.

Wichita Falls now has a population estimated at 15,000; it has seven diverging railroad. Lake Wichita, from which the city gets its water supply, is one of the largest artificial lakes in the world and covers 3,000 acres. The lake's greatest width is seven miles.

In addition to an abundant water supply, Wichita Falls is located in the heart of the richest oil, gas and coal fields in the Southwest. Nature in planning this city evidently intended that it should become a factor in the nation's manufacturing industry, and the plentiful water supply and inexhaustible stock of fuels have attracted many new factories to this city in recent years, together with its unexcelled transportation facilities.

As a rule women and girls who work in factories do so from force of circumstances. There are, of course, exceptions to the rule. But when they work and are competent to perform the tasks set before them, they should receive honest pay. If they are not competent, then their employer should not accept their time. Any girl or woman who works eight hours a day for six days in the week should receive for her toil or labor at least a sufficient amount to pay her board at a fairly decent boarding house, and $5.50 per week is not sufficient for that in Wichita Falls or any other town of which the Times has knowledge. The writing of this was prompted by a visit of several working girls to the Times office yesterday and today. They were just honest working girls appealing for a square deal. From the story they told us, they were justified in quitting their jobs, and will be loath to go back to work for the same wages they were receiving. It's none of our affair. We don't want to be accused of meddling. We have troubles of our own. But when the time ever comes that the Times, in order to compete with others in its line, is forced to produce a product with labor for which it cannot pay at least a sufficient amount to provide the necessities of life to those who produce it, it will cease to do business at all.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS REFUSE TO SUPPRESS MILITANT NEWS

Do Not Accept Suggestion of Home Secretary As to Method of Dealing With Suffrage

By Associated Press.
London, June 12.—Home Secretary McKenna's appeal to the newspapers to suppress reports of outrages in order not to play into the hands of the militant suffragettes, has been met by a refusal to do so. The London morning papers which comment editorially in a tone of intense dissatisfaction at the inadequacy of Mr. McKenna's proposal regarding the suppression of militant point out the evils likely to follow an agreement among the newspapers to suppress news of any kind and argue further that such suppression would only serve to provoke the militants to offenses of still greater enormity.

The explosion of a bomb in Westminster Abbey has evoked the strongest editorial comment in which it is pointed out that there might have been loss of life.

Resolution of Respect
Fraternal Order of Eagles L. T. J. E. His virtues we will ever treasure, his faults we have forgotten. In memory of June G. Froman, who died June 9th, 1914. Once again the Supreme Ruler of the Universe hath summoned through death a brother Eagle from the labors of the Aerie here to the joys of the beautiful Aerie beyond.

He has completed his labors in helping his brethren to relieve the cries of the distressed, and to minister at the bedside of the sick. As a recompense for his service he has received the plaudit "Well Done," from the Great Father.

And Whereas, the All-wise and merciful Father hath called our beloved and respected brother home.

Resolved, That Wichita Falls Aerie No. 1889, P. O. E. of Wichita Falls, Texas, in testimony of our loss tender to the family of the deceased brother our sincere condolences and deep sympathy and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the family.

TROUBLE AT GLOVE FACTORY IS PROBED

AT REQUEST OF GIRLS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DIRECTORS CONSIDER MATTER

BOTH SIDES GIVEN HEARING

Girls Claim Wage Is Insufficient—Committee Is Appointed to Make Full Inquiry

The Chamber of Commerce this morning offered its good services in attempting to adjust the differences between the eleven girls who quit their machines at the Hilburn Brothers glove factory and the management of that institution. After hearing statements from the girls who quit and from Mr. Hilburn, the manager of the plant, the Chamber of Commerce appointed a committee of three comprising Messrs. Kemp, Noble and Hines to investigate more fully and see what could be done.

This committee was instructed to get scales of wages from factories engaged in similar work and to make whatever investigations might be necessary for a full understanding of the conditions. Mr. Hilburn offered to open his books to the committee and extend them all the information he could furnish.

Special Meeting Held.

A week or ten days will probably be required in the investigation. The girls who quit as well as the management of the plant will be invited to present their sides of the case in detail.

The special meeting of the board of directors called to hear the girls was well attended. The meeting was called upon the following petition: "Mr. H. E. Huff, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Dear Sir: We, the undersigned employees of the Hilburn Manufacturing Company would respectfully ask that you call a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce as we want to present to them the subject of our treatment by the Hilburn Manufacturing Company, as we understand that that body has encouraged the location of the plant here especially to give employment to our people and we do not think that you understand that the standard of wages fixed is such that the employees cannot live upon them. We do not know that you can help us, but we would like to have the matter investigated as Mr. Hilburn refuses to discuss the matter with us."

"NETTIE MAY FINE,"
"GERTIE ADAMS,"
"MYRTLE DANIEL,"
"MRS. A. A. HARE,"
"GEORGE ADAMS,"
"MRS. W. D. PERRY,"
"MRS. EVERSOLE,"
"MRS. A. W. AYERS,"
"MRS. L. F. KAYS,"
"LILLIAN BRYANT."

The petitioners were present when the meeting was called to order by President Huff. In making a statement of their grievances one of their number said that when they were paid the last time their checks were greatly reduced from the wages they had been receiving. She said that in her own case where she had been receiving from $12 to $14 for two weeks work, her last two weeks work had brought her only $9.40. Others who were paid smaller amounts declared they had found like reductions in their pay checks. They complained that even the most skilled workers in the shop could not earn more than 75 cents a day on the present rate of pay. They presented other grievances. Each of the girls was called upon to state the amount of her last pay check and the number of days work it represented. One said she received $3.55 for 13 days work, another $4.90 for 15 days work, a third $7 for 13 days work, one $1.25 for 6 days work, another $6.60 for 13 days work; another $9.40 for 13 days work; another $9.75 for 13 days work. One said she had worked six and a half days and that her pay check was $1.45.

Mr. Hilburn is heard. After the girls had presented their side Mr. Hilburn was invited to make a statement. He said that in the beginning all the girls had been paid more than they earned, under the piece rate as an encouragement. He said that whenever a girl advanced far enough where it was thought she could make more under the piece scale than she had been paid she was placed on the piece scale. He declared that the piece scale was as high as in other factories of a similar character and that girls in other factories were earning $1.50 per day and better. He said a bulletin had been posted in the factory setting forth the schedule of pay and that the girls had been told repeatedly that in the beginning the wages being paid were more than they were earning under the piece scale. He answered the questions of the directors truthfully and fully as he could.

He admitted that he had said he would not take the girls who had quit work back into his employ and declared that was the reason he had later modified this statement and indicated that he would take them back under conditions.

Mr. Huff apparently voiced the sentiment of the directors when he said: "If these girls can't be given wages that they can live on, I don't believe the people of Wichita Falls want to give support to the concern that employs them."

Mr. Kemp said: "If the girls can't make a living wage I don't believe we want them to go back to work." Mr. Hilburn declared that with the proper application the girls could earn their living wage.

He said that the girls who quit were paid in other factories and to show that in other factories girls were making $1.50 per day.

HUGO CLUB IS DROPPED FROM TEXAS OKLAHOMA CIRCUIT
The entrance of Hugo, Okla., into the Texas-Oklahoma League succeeding Wichita Falls, did not prove as auspicious a change as was thought last year when the transfer was made. Hugo has been forced to surrender the franchise on account of poor support and the Texas-Oklahoma League circuit has been reduced to six clubs, Ardmore going out with Hugo. Texarkana gets the first honors, but will probably have to take part in a play-off series at the close of the last part of the season. The dropping of Hugo puts a number of players well known in Wichita Falls out of positions, but it is expected that most of them will be picked up by other clubs. These include Nevitt, Brown, Workman, Nicholson and Kistler. The season will be finished with a six club circuit, including Texarkana, Paris, Denison, Sherman, Bonham and Durant.

sorted that the exemption was in the nature of a subsidy, paid, not by imposing the tolls for certain American vessels upon other ships passing through the canal, but by the American taxpayers themselves in paying for the maintenance of the canal.

Much Agitation Results.
The avoidance of possible friction," said the note, "has been one of the main objects of these methods of arbitration of which the United States has been for so long a foremost and consistent advocate."

Throughout the first year of President Wilson's administration there was a constant agitation to the repeal of the exemption clause. The president let it be known that he favored the repeal and on March 5, 1914 he delivered an address to Congress in joint session, earnestly urging the repeal. The exemption, he said, was a mistaken economic policy and was "in plain contravention of the treaty."

"The large thing to do," said the president, "is the only thing we can afford to do; a voluntary withdrawal from a position everywhere questioned and misunderstood. We ought to reverse our action without raising the question whether we were right or wrong and so once more deserve our reputation for generosity and the redemption of every obligation without quibble or hesitation."

"I ask this of you in support of the foreign policy of the administration. I shall not know how to deal with other matters of even greater delicacy and nearer consequence if you do not grant it to me in ungrudging measure."

Speaker Clark, Majority Leader Underwood and other Democratic leaders in the House opposed the president's demand for even greater delicacy and nearer consequence if you do not grant it to me in ungrudging measure."

In the Senate, the fight was prolonged and brought the leading debaters of that body to the front. Party lines were largely eliminated. Senator Root and Senator Lodge were prominent among the Republicans who supported President Wilson's position in debate and with their votes; the fight against the repeal was led from the Democratic ranks with Senators O'Gorman and Chamberlain leading the opposition to the president.

T. J. Taylor, Wiley Robertson and E. Liebowitz have been appointed jury commissioners to draw the petit jurors for the present term of court and the grand jurors for the fall term of the district court. These commissioners met this morning to draw jurors for seven weeks of the present term.

M. A. Bundy left today for San Antonio, where he was summoned as a witness in a damage suit against the railroad. The Ward Cattle Company is the plaintiff in the suit. It grows out of a claim for damages in connection with a shipment of cattle from Southwest Texas to Paducah.

TWO WAGON LOADS OF WHEAT ARRIVE

FIRST IS FROM F. M. KELLER FARM, SECOND IS FROM HENRY MUSGRAVE

GOOD QUALITY IS INDICATED

Tests 59 1/2 Pounds and Grains Number 2—Local Quotation, Eighty Cents a Bushel

Each testing 59 1/2 pounds to the bushel and grading No. 2, two wagon loads of wheat from farms separated by a distance of probably eight or ten miles and the first wheat of the 1914 crop threshed and marketed in this section today indicates that in quality at least the crop this season will be well above the average.

Not enough wheat had been threshed to give any indication as to the probable yield.

Bonus For First Load.
The first wagon load of wheat reaching the city was from the farm of F. M. Keller southeast of town. It was delivered to the J. C. Hunt Grain Company and brought on dollar per bushel, this price representing a bonus paid for the first load. The second load arrived shortly afterward and was from the farm of Henry Musgrave.

Both loads contained a number of wheat heads and it is believed if they had been well cleaned the wheat would have weighed between 60 and 61 pounds to the bushel. The quotation for wagon wheat in Wichita Falls today is 80 cents per bushel.

Is Drier Than Expected.

The two loads of wheat marketed here are much drier than had been expected and indicate that there need be no delay in starting threshing operations generally.

Reports today indicate that practically all wheat in the county will be in the shock by tomorrow night and threshing will be in full blast the early part of next week. Although men and teams are worn by the hard work of the past ten days they have stood the wheat cutting remarkably well and will start threshing in good shape.

The Wichita Mill and Elevator Co. received its first wagon wheat here this afternoon. The first load was delivered by F. M. Keller and tested 60 pounds and was good No. 2 wheat. Mr. Keller received a dollar a bushel for this load. The second load was delivered by Henry Musgrave. This tested 61 pounds and Mr. Musgrave was paid 90 cents a bushel. This price is above the market quotation, being in the nature of a bonus for the first wheat.

Some people fit glasses by guess work. We fit you correctly having all the latest instruments and also the machinery to grind the glasses with. You have no waiting when you come to me. A. S. Fonville, Mfg. Optician, phone 31. 708 Ohio. 26 cts

Chicago Futures.
By Associated Press.
Chicago, June 12.—Belief that after four days' decline a reaction was due helped bring about a rally in wheat today. The opening which was 1-8 off to 1-5 and 1-4 up was followed by a substantial advance all around. Corn weakened on account of general rains where needed; most of the loss, however, was recovered when wheat turned strong. After starting unchanged to 5-8 lower the market steadied close to last night's level. Notwithstanding that the breaking of the drought had some bearish influence on oats the effect was not of a lasting sort. Later selling out of a line held by a firm which suspended had considerable to do with causing a downturn in wheat. The Lorimer bank troubles too, were taken advantage of by the bear side. Close was steady. Corn closed, strong. Closing prices, wheat, July 83 7-8; Sept. 82 1/2; corn July 70 3-4; Sept. 67 5-8; oats, July 39 3-4; Sept. 38 1-8.

PENNINGTON'S POLICY AND PRICES PROMOTE PROSPERITY

The invariable policy of this store has always been to sell for cash and one price to all, and to give our customers the best for their money in merchandise and store service. It is readily conceded by everyone that the store selling for cash only can greatly undersell the store that sells charge accounts, many of which they never collect. Every man, woman or child, whether rich or poor, that pay their money for merchandise, is entitled to buy them at the same price that his neighbor bought them. You will readily see that our unchangeable rule of quoting one price to all is the only really fair way. Our merchandise, our service and our low prices are our best advertisements.

84 RESPONSES THIS WEEK AT REVIVAL

TOTAL OF 565 CONVERTED TO DATE IN SERVICES BY DR. SCOVILLE

MEETINGS END SUNDAY NIGHT

Forceful Sermon On "Sin" Is Delivered Thursday Night at Tent By Evangelist

Eighty-four converts in five days this week is the record at the Scoville tent meeting. Eleven went forward Thursday night bringing the total for the meetings up to 565.

At noon today the Scoville party held a meeting at the auto factory and tomorrow they will hold a meeting at the Denver shops. Sunday morning Murphy's band will again lead the Sunday school from the church to the tent. Sunday night the meetings will come to a close but on Monday night Dr. Scoville will give an illustrated lecture on the Passion Play at the tent theatre.

Rev. Sandy and wife left today for the Missouri town where the next campaign is to start next week.

Speaks On "Sin"

Dr. Scoville's address last night on "Sin" was one of the most powerful and effective he has yet delivered here and in it he declared his belief that it was the business of the church to help actively in the material as well as the spiritual welfare of man.

He said that there were two ways of dealing with sin. One was to deny its existence. The other was to say, "I have sinned, I want to quit; I want to get rid of it."

"You show me a man," he said, "who says he hasn't sinned and if he stops at my house all night I'll look up the chicken coop." Again he said:

"You show me a man in this crowd who says he hasn't sinned and I'll show you a man that lies."

He told about a man who told Sam Jones that if he would show him a perfect church he'd join it to which Jones answered, "You find a perfect church, don't you join it, you'll spoil it."

Can't Be Covered Up

Dr. Scoville said that his purpose was not to try to cover up sin but to try to deal with it. "The Gospel of Christ," he said, "wants to be put on two feet. The Gospel of Christ has got to be preached to broken hearts with bleeding hands. It's the churches business to help the laborer. I've felt the shame that the church ought to have a hand in the material welfare of men."

He said that if the people would put more of the brotherly love of

"Let's get away from professional Christianity and into the real Christian life," he exhorted. "Let's live the Christ life. Every man and every woman ought to be a kind of a savior to work in the difficult and hard places in life."

CONFIRM CLASS OF TEN AT EPISCOPAL CHURCH SUNDAY

Bishop D. E. Garrett of Dallas Will Officiate—Special Musical Program Is Planned

Bishop D. E. Garrett of the North Texas diocese of the Episcopal Church will be in Wichita Falls next Sunday and his visit here will be marked by the confirmation of a class of ten who are uniting with the Church of the Good Shepherd. A sermon by the bishop will follow this ceremony, which will be marked by a special musical program. There will be holy communion at 7 in the morning and the usual evening service at which the Rev. F. T. Datson will deliver the second lecture of his series on "China, the Land of Opportunity," illustrated with slides.

The class to be confirmed Sunday is the first since Mr. Datson became rector a few months ago and its size and personnel are a matter of much gratification to the members of the parish.

TOMORROW IS LAST DAY FOR CANDIDATES TO FILE NAMES

Aspirants For County Offices Must Send Announcements To Chairman By Then

If you are willing to serve the people of Wichita county in any capacity, tomorrow is the last day upon which you, if you are a democrat, can take the proper steps. The time for filing names of county candidates expires tomorrow night for the July primary, under the Terrell election law.

Candidates are numerous in the county this year and all who expect their names to go on the ballot have probably already filed their names with Judge A. H. Britain, county chairman. Tomorrow is the last day. Submitting next week, the county committee will probably be called to meet to prepare the ballot, levy the necessary expenses and make other arrangements for the voting in July.

Find Swift Relief From Allments of Stomach Remedy shows you right away. May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucous secretions and removes poisonous matter. It gives quick relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many say it has saved them from dangerous operations; many are sure it has saved their lives.

The wonderful success of this remedy has caused many imitations, so be cautious. Be sure it's May's. Probably your own neighbors know about the remedy. Go to Pooches and Lynch and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing among people they know—or write to Geo. H. May, M.D., Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist will tell you its wonderful effects.

The first dose of this remedy proves what it will do.

T. B. Goodpasture, 802 Sabine St., Houston, Texas, wrote: "I took treatment last spring. I don't think I will have to take any more—it completely cured me."

R. L. Randall, Laredo, Texas, wrote: "I have just finished my fifth bottle of your stomach treatment and passed several gall stones. Your preparation has worked simply wonderfully during my course of treatment."

These people know, because they took and proved it. May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy shows you right away.

TWO DAYS' PICNIC AT OLNEY JULY 23 AND 24

Olney, Texas, June 12.—At a mass meeting held here it was decided that Olney would pull off a two days' picnic on Thursday and Friday, July 23 and 24. The first day will be a basket picnic when dinner will be spread in the good old fashioned way. On the second day the town present schedule on July 4 and if the Twilight games are continued after that date, another nine will have to be organized. It is hoped to be able to continue playing through the summer and any team desirous of entering the league in July when a new schedule is to be started, is requested to notify the league president, John Gould at The Times office.

A great majority of the binders in this section were operated last Sunday as well as on every other day and some nights since the fields got dry enough to work in. The weather so far has been all that could have been desired and the Olney crowd cannot fail to save at least the greater part of the biggest grain crop in its history. Threshing will begin in a week or ten days.

The Katy's supply train ran an extra over the southern route, of Olney will furnish barbecue beef for everybody who comes. These are the two days immediately preceding the primary election and a good crowd and a fine time is confidently expected.

Our School Days Are Over

To keep abreast of the times requires constant study and the man or woman who gets too old to learn is "a dead one."
The school of experience is a thorough school but very expensive. It requires much money and time to graduate the experience way.
A little time spent in the Wichita Commercial school costs much less and you arrive at the big salary quicker.

Better Sight—Less Annoyance

Toric Lenses give a larger field of clear vision, and their curved shape makes them appear very much nearer than flat lenses. Your eyes will not touch them, nor will you find any rear reflections to confuse and annoy. Let us explain their many advantages to you.

YESTERDAY

Our advertisement had a large, ugly typographical error in the heading. You noticed it? Well that's what we wanted you to do. We want you to notice our advertisements. We are going to try to get you to notice them if we have to turn them bottom upside down. PALACE DRUG STORE advertising may be rotten but it's different. There's nobody on earth or elsewhere that is passing out anything like it.

The Wizard of the East plant is still making them just right every minute of the day and if he is not getting your soda water money you are playing a bitter joke on yourself.

Scotch-Tone Peroxide Face Cream

Greaseless and absolutely pure. A mild skin bleach and skin beautifier. Every time the skin is washed and especially when Soap is used, the skin should be gently massaged with Scotch-Tone Peroxide Cream. Before going out the Cream should be applied as it preserves and protects the skin from the harmful effects of the sun, wind and dust. No matter how rough the weather it will protect the skin and prevent redness or chapping. It is a splendid dressing Cream for every occasion and should be applied not only to the face but to the neck, bust, and arms, then the powder adheres smoothly to the skin. When Face Powder is applied on Scotch-Tone Peroxide Cream, the skin never has that scaly look, but a natural velvety smoothness that can be obtained in no other way. Really, if we charged a dollar instead of 25 cents for this excellent Cream we could not give a better one.
