STRAWN FLAYS NEW DEAL AT USCC MEET

CONGRESS IS ASKED TO STOP ENACTMENT OF HYSTERICAL BILLS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 3—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States heard today a call requesting President Roosevelt to "cease experimenting" and asking congress to stop enacting "hysterical legislation."

Silas Strawn, former chamber president and a leader of its conservative wing, asserted in an address that business men now wanted "more definite promises" in order to plan their future conduct.

Differs With Harriman

The Chicago lawyer ran directly counter in tenor to the generally approving remarks of Henry I. Harriman, present chamber president, concerning the new deal.

Strawn attacked what he called the abandonment of a scheme of government which has made "us happier and more prosperous than any other nation."

He called for a three-way action by Mr. Roosevelt:

Balancing of all governmental budgets; a definite announcement that there will be no more requests for emergency legislation and "no more tinkering with the dollar"; and a revision of the securities act and proposed stock exchange legislation.

Business men gathered at the annual convention listened to Strawn after hearing Hugh S. Johnson talk on criticism and the throwing of "pop bottles and dead cats" at last night's session.

"Shaped By Criticism"

The NRA chief said his organization had been shaped in part by criticism. Asked directly if the principles embodied in the recovery act were to be permanent, he replied:

"If there has been any good demonstrated by the recovery act, it will live and it ought to live; if there has been any bad it will die and it ought to die."

While not so outspoken, other speakers who followed Strawn also found room for criticism, mostly centering around the securities act.

Malcolm Muir, former NRA official and president of the McGraw-

British Will Curb Japanese Imports

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—Walter Runciman, president of the British board of trade, is expected in well-informed circles to inform Ambassador Tsueno Matsudaira of Japan, at a conference late today, that Great Britain has completed proposals to restrict the importation of Japanese goods into British colonies.

It was indicated that the interview was regarded as most serious in the face of world competition between Great Britain and Japan for trade markets.

"ON WITH THE DANCIN', ANSON"

PORT CARGOES UNTOUCHED

SHIPPING INDUSTRY IN TEXAS PARALYZED AS STRIKE CONTINUES

(By The Associated Press)

Cargoes remained untouched in Texas ports today as the shipping industry became seriously paralyzed through idleness of striking longshoremen—firmly demanding a settlement of their wage dispute with steamship operators.

Except for one minor disturbance, violence remained in the background, but ships either loitered in port or steamed away without their full cargo.

Interference Feared

At Beaumont the Italian steamer Ida Z. O. sailed at daybreak without attempting to load 2400 barrels of asphalt, its intended cargo. The British steamer Nyanza docked but no efforts were made to trundle its shipment up the plank. Both companies handling loading of the ships refused to attempt work because of fear of interference and intimidation by striking union dock hands.

Dock workers employed by the firm loading the Nyanza were warned by International Longshoremen association members not to attempt loading of the vessel.

Organized labor of the port of Corpus Christi threw its entire weight behind the strikers. The central trades union, embracing 23 local crafts with a membership of between 2,300 and 2,700 laborers, voted an unqualified endorsement of the walkout, stating they backed them "morally and financially." Shipping work stood still at that port city.

One Man Is Burned To Death In Hotel

KANSAS CITY, May 3. (AP)—One man burned to death and a woman was burned severely today in a fire that destroyed the top floor of the three-story Wright hotel, a rooming house.

The victim was William J. Dempsey, 30. Mrs. Katherine Stevenson, 43, Dempsey's stepmother, received severe burns on both feet and arms when she attempted to rescue 5-year-old Lawrence Oliver, who with his father and mother Mr. and Mrs. Chester Oliver, occupied a room next to Dempsey's.

Firemen who rescued the Oliyers and six others said the blaze started in Dempsey's room, apparently from a cigaret.

Pioneer Ranchman Claimed By Death

CLARENDON, May 3. (AP)—M. T. (Dock) Howard, who came to the Panhandle of Texas 52 years ago from Arkansas as a cowhand for the JA ranch, died last night.

After a time he settled 20 sections of land which later were surrounded by the JA ranch and owners of the latter tract tried unsuccessfully for 30 years to buy him out.

Howard was survived by his widow, two sons and two brothers.

GENERAL RAIN IS REPORTED IN SECTION

PRECIPITATION VARIES FROM ONE-EIGHTH TO TWO INCHES

Following on the heels of Tuesday night's rain and hail storm, a series of general rains fell over the South Plains territory late last night and early today.

Reports received by the Avalanche-Journal at noon today indicated a fall varying from one-eighth to two inches throughout most of the section.

Sudan, Anton and Shallowater reported the heaviest percipitation with rain there estimated at 2 inches. Littlefield reported an inch.

Inch At Brownfield

Brownfield in the southwest sector of the South Plains received an inch, adding needed moisture to farm lands. Ropesville and Meadow each had a half-inch.

Only .15 inches fell in Lubbock, according to the rain gauge at the state experiment station east of the city. The rain fell here for about 30 minutes shortly after midnight.

Considerable display of lightning was reported in the Seagraves section and around Littlefield and wires on the Fort Worth and Denver around Petersburg were out this morning, probably due to electrical disturbances there last night.

No Damage Reported

No damage was reported from the storm.

Other rain reports received were: Levelland, half-inch; Happy, and Tulia, three-fourths; Plainview to Abernathy, one inch; Lockney and Floydada, one-half inch; Muleshoe, inch; Ralls, one-fourth; Crosbyton, half inch; Slaton, thre-fourths; Post, half inch and Southland, one inch. Wilson and Tahoka each reported an inch of moisture.

KIDNAPED CHILD IS FEARED SLAIN

TUCSON, Ariz., May 3 (AP)—The unvoiced fear that little June Robles may never be found alive was felt by many here today—the eighth day since she was kidnaped.

If the family had reason for new hope of her return, the fact was not made known. There has been no public announcement of developments in the case for two days. The only definite facts are: the six-year-old child is still missing, and the ransom money—$15,000 in bills of $5, $10 and $20 denominations—is ready.

There has been no development to lend substance to the belief that the child may have been killed by her abductors, other than the continued silence of the kidnapers in the face of the family's readiness to meet terms of payment for June's return.

Political Leader Is Seriously Wounded

SAN ANTONIO, May 3 (AP)—R. Neil Campbell, former tax collector and justice of the peace, was critically wounded last night in an encounter with a robber which occurred as the veteran Bexar county political leader sat in his automobile watching a baseball game across the street on the San Pedro diamond.

One bullet from the man's gun struck Campbell in the back, and ranged downward.

Two Gunmen Trailed After Woman Caught

MAN FIRST BELIEVED TO BE CLYDE BARROW IS SOUGHT IN MISSOURI AFTER GUN BATTLE

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 3.—Two men who last night engaged in a gunfight with a state patrolman at Cabool were being trailed in a woods near there today by a large posse of officers and bloodhounds after a woman companion had been captured and the fugitives' car seized this morning. From the woman's description of the pair, officers were convinced they were not Clyde Barrow and a companion, as at first believed.

The woman told officers she is Florence Wilsie, 25, of Osceola, Ill. She said she was hitchhiking and was picked up by the pair early last night at Charleston, Mo.

Talking freely with officers, she said the two men called each other John and Bob. She said they had a shotgun and two pistols. She was taken to a Cabool doctor soon after her apprehension for treatment of a boil on her neck.

Two men and a woman exchanged shots with State Highway Patrolman Ben Graham in a wild chase through the main street of Cabool last night.

Graham said he thought two of them were Barrow and Bonnie Parker, his feminine companion.

The officer reported the trio took pot shots at curious residents of Mountain Grove, who stepped from their homes to watch the speeding machines. The patrolman said he chased the car more than 25 miles before losing it on a by-road.

Barrow's last reported appearnce was at Fort Scott, Kas., where he released Percy Boyd, chief of police at Commerce, Okla. The officer was kidnaped when Barrow and two companions shot and killed Constable Cal Campbell, near Commerce.

SPY-CATCHERS PUSH PROBE

FRENCH POLICE HUNT LEAKS IN GUARDED MILITARY SECRETS

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, May 3.—France's best spy-catchers worked feverishly in the historic citadel at Belfort today in an effort to trace the leaks in her closely-guarded military secrets.

They bent their efforts particularly toward following the trail of Stanislas Krauss, former Polish army officer, who was arrested yesterday as a German spy.

French Soldier Accused

At the same time, however, a force of detectives and secret police were investigating the activities at this fortified town near the Franco-German frontier of Captain Froge of the French army, accused of having been Krauss' accomplice.

The army officer's lawyers demanded an immediate hearing for Froge. They declared it was "suspicious" that a new witness had been aligned against him just when French operatives were on the point of concluding he was not involved in the asserted plot.

Says Secrets Sold

In announcing the arrest of the officer after they said Krauss had confessed Captain Froge sold him $6,500 worth of military secrets for Germany, police revealed they had been ready to exonerate Froge of charges previously lodged against him when the new accusations were raised.

Belfort, one of the spy centers of the World war, was the scene of a famous hoax General John J. Pershing pulled on the Germans.

General Pershing sent officers to Belfort to build up elaborate headquarters and "lose" their plans to convince the Germans an attack was planned at Belfort instead of at Argonne as actually was the case.

Notre Dame Prexy Is Critically Ill

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 3. (AP)—The condition of the Rev. Charles O'Donnell, C.S.C., president of the University of Notre Dame, was described early today as critical. The ravages of a throat and lung infection of more than a year's standing has paralyzed him from the waist down.

BRITAIN WILL PAY SILVER

TOKEN DEBT PAYMENT EXPECTED IN JUNE AS PRICES DROP

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, May 3.—Great Britain is prepared to make a silver token debt payment to the United States in June, it was reported in financial circles today, as a result of the recent drop in silver prices.

While official confirmation was lacking, it is believed probable the British government took advantage of the low price.

No Buying Reported

Although the day of reckoning is only a little more than a month away, there is still no official indication that Britain is making any kind of payment on her debts to the United States, but it is believed it will be another token payment.

Well-informed financial quarters said today there has been no evidence of purchases of silver on the open market by the British government.

But one prominent broker said:

"Silver was bought privately from the Indian government to make last December's payment and the British government probably is doing the same thing again."

Interest Killed

President Roosevelt's announced stand against any inflation, following the silver slump has killed interest here in the silver market and it is held likely that Britain took advantage of favorable conditions while they lasted.

Great Britain's war debt to the United States totals $4,636,157,358.

AUTHORITY EXPIRED

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP)—The authority granted President Roosevelt to accept silver in payment on war debts expired last October.

France May Extend Military Service

PARIS, May 3. —(AP) —France is considering lengthening military service in the face of the danger the government sees in the policies of Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, it was learned authoritatively today.

Premier Gaston Doumergue, reliable sources said, is backing a proposal by Marshal Henri Petain, war minister, to increase by stages the 12-months conscript service until eventually it reaches possibly two years.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 3 (AP)—A Mexican divorce parted Corinne Griffith and Walter Mitchell Morosco today, but the brunette screen actress said all was not over between them.

A few hours after the decree was obtained in Juarez, Mex., yesterday the actress said the action represented the only immediate solution of their problems, but "there is a very good chance for a reconciliation."

BURGLAR PREFERS KISS TO DIAMOND

FORT WORTH, May 3 (AP)—A romantic burglar who broke into a rooming house here early today valued a kiss more highly than a $75 diamond ring.

Mrs. Maud Flournoy, 27, roomer, was awakened by a hand on her forehead. She opened her eyes to look into the glare of a flashlight.

A man whispered:

"Be quiet and don't holler. I just want a kiss."

Mrs. Flournoy asked the burglar to turn on the lights.

"I may be crazy," he replied. "But I'm not that crazy. I don't want you to identify me. I've been in the penitentiary for 20 years and I'm not going back."

With that the burglar leaned over and kissed her on the lips. The young woman was not frightened until after he had gone, she said. Then she missed a diamond ring from her finger. Later she found it under the bed.

DRY CRUSADER WINS FIGHT IN CHURCH

NAME OF BISHOP PUT ON LIST SCHEDULED FOR REASSIGNMENT

(By The Associated Press)

JACKSON, Miss., May 3—Bishop James Cannon, jr., the militant dry crusader of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, today won his preliminary fight for continuance in office as a bishop when a test vote in the quadrennial general conference ordered his name added to the list of bishops recommended for effective reassignment.

The vote was 269 for reassignment and 170 against, or a majority of 99 votes for Bishop Cannon, which gave the bishop a pronounced victory over his opponents.

Wreathed In Smiles

Bishop Cannon was wreathed in smiles over the decision of the conference to retain him as an active member of the college of bishops.

After the vote was announced he said he had not statement to make, that the conference had spoken and it was their business. He occupied his accustomed seat on the rostrum among his fellow bishops during bitter debate over his proposed superannuation which came up suddenly and deferred the regular order of business.

The vote, a record one, was taken on an amendment made by Judge Nathan Nemby, of the Pacific conference, to place the Virginian on the reassignment list.

The committee on episcopacy, with Dr. J. W. Perry of Chattanooga as its head, passed favorably upon the character of all of the active bishops, including Cannon, but omitted his name from their

HUB JOHNSON IS GIVEN TWO YEARS

Case of Bun Herman, who had pleaded guilty of manufacture of whisky, went to a 99th district court jury late this morning. A verdict had not been returned at noon. He had asked a suspended sentence.

Earlier this morning, another jury in the same court, that of Judge Clark M. Mullican, returned a penalty of two years' imprisonment against Hub Johnson, charged with conspiracy to manufacture whisky. The case was an outgrowth of a raid on a distillery, which led also to two indictments each against Bun and Vernon Herman, brothers.

Prosecutors, District Attorney Daniel A. Blair and his assistant, Burton S. Burks, this morning abandoned a count of possession of whisky-making equipment against Bun Herman. He also faced an indictment charging transportation and possession of liquor.

Trial of Vernon Herman, older of the two, who faced like indictments, was deferred tentatively, as he had presented two doctor's certificates that he was ill.

Jury in the Johnson case received it about 6 p. m. Wednesday and went to bed without reaching a decision. Members of the district attorney's office said the case was the first of the kind in their tenure and possibly the first in the county's history.

NEW DRIVE ON DESPERADO LAUNCHED

MANHUNT RENEWED AS BLOOD-STAINED CAR FOUND IN CHICAGO

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 3—The government's ace man hunters and police marksmen massed forces in the Chicago area today in a new drive to get John Dillinger, "dead or alive."

The discovery of a blood stained automobile—one of two or more cars the Dillinger mobsters apparently used in their dash to liberty from the little Bohemia resort near Mercer, Wis., April 22, spurred the concentration.

Underworld Haunts Combed

Police Captain John Stege's special "Dillinger squad," comprising the best marksmen of the police force, was under orders to comb all of the city's underworld haunts for the elusive Indiana bad man. There are forty determined men in the squad.

The blood-stained automobile was found late yesterday, abandoned in a street on the north side. The stains gave rise again to the belief that one of the Dillinger gang had been badly hurt at one time or another after their flight from the resort near where a federal agent and a civilian were shot to death.

The car was stolen from Roy Francis of South St. Paul, Minn., on April 23—the day after the battle of Little Bohemia, after three men riding in a coupe and believed to be Dillinger gangsters, were sighted by deputy sheriffs at Hastings, Minn. A running gun fight between Hastings and St. Paul park officers ensued, but the trio escaped, abandoning the coupe near Invergrove, Min., where they held up Francis, his wife and baby, taking his sedan.

Flight Continued

The coupe was found later, abandoned and blood-stained, the trio continuing their wild flight, which apparently took them to Chicago, in Francis' car, presumably by way of Freeport, Ill., where it was equipped with stolen Illinois license plates and a doctor's insignia.

The rear window of Francis' machine had been knocked out, to give the gunmen free range in any machine gun battles they might have with the police—a common practice, the authorities said, of gangsters expecting trouble. In the machine were a pile of bandages, several boxes of paper matches from the Little Bohemia resort, and a copy of a Dubuque, Iowa, newspaper, with a headline:

"Dillinger on rampage."

CROSBY MAN HELD FOR POSSESSION OF BOGUS COINS

A complaint of possessing and attempting to pass counterfeit 50-cent pieces was filed against Rufus M. Todd, 53, of near Crosbyton before Victor H. Lindsey, United States commissioner here, this morning.

The complaint also gave "J. B. Todd" and "W. M. Taylor" as names of the accused man, who was arrested here Wednesday morning by police.

Two automobiles identified as having been stolen were recovered as a result of the arrest, police said. Solution of at least one other car theft was anticipated, police said this morning. Todd was to be charged in state court here and in Dallas county for automobile theft, police had said.

A federal agent was here this morning to investigate the counterfeit side of the case, and an automobile theft bureau man possibly was to come here in an attempt to delve deeper into the other angle.

Todd still was held in city jail at noon today.

Appeals Planned In Gilcrease Divorce

PAWHUSKA, Okla., May 3 (AP)—Appeals from the decision of Judge Jesse Worten in granting Thomas Gilcrease, wealthy oil operator, a divorce and in giving his wife, Mrs. Norma Smallwood Gilcrease, $72,000 alimony and $12,500 attorneys fees, are expected to be filed here within the next few days.

The plaintiff and the defendant both filed notice of appeal when the ruling of Judge Worten was handed down at the conclusion of the sensational case last night.

Baruch Says Farm Solution Is Vital

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch, financier and advisor to presidents, said today in one of his rare interviews that solution of the farm problem is the key to economic recovery.

Recently as a guest at the White House, the New Yorker indicated his belief that the farm problem will not be solved by cutting down production but by increasing consumption at home and abroad.

"The most important problem before the country," Baruch said, "is a just solution of the agricultural problem, as it has been for 20 years."

EARLY AMERICAN INDIANS LIVED IN "HOUSES," MOUND EXCAVATIONS SHOW

The skeleton of a pre-historic Indian brave, buried with knees bent and presumably killed by an enemy, is shown here being examined by an archeologist at "mound" excavations in Georgia.

★ ★ ★ ★

MACON, Ga., May 3 (AP)—Evidence that tribes of prehistoric American Indians may have lived in houses rather than the tepee of popular fancy has been found in excavations at Indian mounds near Macon.

Remains of log huts and stone fireplaces have been unearthed by 300 excavators employed by the Civil Works administration and supervised by archeologists of the Smithsonian Institution.

Corncob Fuel

Charred cogs found in some of the fireplaces lead to a belief, moreover, that the Indians, like the modern midwest farmer in the corn belt, used their corncobs for fuel.

Human skeletons, in positions indicating strange burial customs, along with bones of animals, pottery, cooking utensils and weapons also have been found.

The 25 mounds, large and small, are believed by Dr. Arthur R. Kelly, director of the excavations, to be the work of many generations of different tribes.

How long the mounds have stood is yet to be determined, although archeologists declare it obvious they were erected long before the advent of the white man.

Three different types of sepulchres have been found. In one mound skeletons were found with knees bent, indicating the dead had been buried in a squatting position.

In other graves the bones lay at full length. Signs of "bundle" burying, where only the large bones were tied together and buried after vultures had picked them clean, also were found.

Tribes Unidentified

There is only legendry to identify the tribes. One story is that the Hitchitis once occupied the territory. Then, according to legend, the Creeks appeared and either subjugated or assimilated their predecessors.

The largest of the mounds, known as the Great Ceremonial, rises 120 feet above the surrounding plain.

PLANET STORM IS STUDIED

VIOLENT DISTURBANCE SEEN ON SURFACE OF JUPITER

CLEVELAND, May 3. (AP)—Astronomers in many parts of the world last night trained powerful telescopes on the planet Jupiter to study a violent, storm-like disturbance that has been putting a mysterious blotch on the old man's complexion.

Roughly 400,000,000 miles from the earth, the disturbance has been churning the planet's layer of atmosphere over an area 2,000 miles wide and 20,000 miles long.

Jupiter's newest breaking-out was observed for the first time, at least in the United States, last Sunday night by Prof. J J. Nassau, director of the Warner & Swasey observatory in Cleveland, and professor of astronomy in the Case school of applied science.

The storm appeared like a "white spot" in the planet's south equatorial belt, Prof. Nassau said.

The following night, he was able to get only an unsatisfactory glimpse of the mysterious disturbance, but Tuesday night he saw it clearly again. In 48 hours it had twisted into a greatly changed shape and grown slightly smaller, he said.

Unlike sun spots, the phenomenon on Jupiter has no known effect upon the earth, Prof. Nassau asserted. Besides being a tremendous distance from the world, Jupiter, although having a diameter more than 10 times that of the earth, is one of the "deadest" of all the planets.

"It is believed there is a solid core inside, coated with a thick layer of ice with a surface temperature of about 300 degrees below zero on the Fahrenheit scale," Dr. Nassau said.

Wife Says Gilbert Arrogant, Violent

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 3. (AP)—John Gilbert's fourth marriage has found its way into the divorce courts where the other three marital ties of the one-time great lover of the screen have ended.

In filing a divorce action yesterday, Miss Virginia Bruce described the actor as "arrogant, violent and abusive." The actress said he was typical of her intelligence; refused to have her parents around and insisted she was extravagant. Miss Bruce asked $150 a month for the support of their infant daughter, and $92.31 a week for herself for three years.

Married in 1932, the screen couple separated several months ago at which time Miss Bruce said divorce appeared to be the only solution of their difficulties.

Like Miss Bruce, Gilbert's three divorced wives were actresses—Ina Claire, Leatrice Joy and Oliva Burnell.

NAZIS REVEAL JEWISH PLOT

DETAILS OF ALLEGED PLOT TO KILL ADOLF HITLER PUBLISHED

By WALTER BROCKMAN
Associated Press Foreign Staff

BERLIN, May 3. (AP)—Details of a "Jewish plot to murder Adolf Hitler" appeared today in an officially-countenanced special edition of the anti-semitic weekly, "The Stormer."

Twelve pages were devoted to discussion of "Jewish ritual murder," climaxed with the allegation that world Jewry is planning "the biggest, most gruesome ritual murder against Hitler and his followers ever witnessed by the world."

Asserting that Czar Nicholas was a victim of a similar plot, the paper said "the aryans of the world, the pick of humanity, are to be annihilated.

"That is the wish of all Jewdom and it has been resolved by the Jewish Kahal (Jewish secret world government)."

As chief evidence of the asserted plot, The Stormer cited what was presented as a Jewish New Year postcard, dated 1933, which was reproduced showing a sacrificial rooster, swastika-marked and bearing a picture of the head of Hitler.

"This demonic wish," the paper said in referring to the plan, "shall never reach fulfillment. The Jewish problem is nearing solution."

Then it gave instructions for rendering the "Jewish pest" impotent on a world-wide scale. Anti-semitic propaganda and tireless agitation were advocated.

The paper has a circulation of about 50,000, but 130,000 copies were printed in the current edition. It is published by Julius Streicher, Nazi chieftain for Franconia. It lays claim to being the "greatest anti-semitic newspaper in the world."

INDIAN RELICS GIVEN LIBRARY

DALHART, May 3 (AP)—From his collection, valued at more than $5,000, Roger S. Sterling has given a large number of Indian relics to the Dallam county free public library to expand its permanent exhibit of Indian lore.

Among the gifts is a chief's marriage sandals, worn only during the wedding and handed down from father to son, according to authorities on Indian traditions. Sterling's collection came from Sioux tribes in the pine ridge, (S. D.) country. Retained in his collection is a scalp jacket, one of three known to exist in recent years. One of the trio has been lost but the other is at Smithsonian institution, Washington. The jacket has numerous small tufts of hair drawn through it, each representing a human scalp.

CHEWING LAXATIVE CLEANSES BETTER

You can't get the laxative ingredients from Feen-a-mint without chewing—and chewing distributes the laxative uniformly throughout the intestines and supplies precious saliva juice that is needed. Clogged, dry waste matter becomes soft. Out it goes—leaving the walls of intestines cleansed of putrid matter. Delicious Feen-a-mint is the chewing gum laxative that enlists the aid of nature. It is a thorough cleansing laxative that acts promptly—naturally—and is free from all discomforts. Feen-a-mint banishes laxative dread. "Delay" is dangerous—chew Feen-a-mint for constipation. 15c and 25c at druggists everywhere.

GULF WINS MORE "HILL TESTS" THAN 32 GASOLINES COMBINED

A BORROWED FORD tests 12 competing gasolines on Muldrough Hill, near West Point, Ky., to see which gas can pull the car and 3500-lb. load farthest up hill in high gear.

Will your car have more power on any one gasoline? HERE'S YOUR ANSWER..

Gulf tested a total of 33 gasolines on famous American hills—12 hills in localities from Massachusetts to Georgia—and here is what they found...

The power of different gasolines varies widely! And of all 33 gasolines, Gulf is uniformly best. 7 out of 12 times, it propelled a car and load up mountain grades farther than any other gasoline tested!

It won more hill tests than 32 other gasolines combined! Prove it! Drive into a Gulf station, fill up, and test the power of That Good Gulf for yourself!

HOW 33 GASOLINES RANKED (IN ALL TESTS TO DATE)

All gasolines tested, except a few "third grade" brands, sold for approximately the same price as That Good Gulf. Each brand is denoted by a letter.

LIQUOR FORCE IS PLANNED

"TETOTALER" TO HEAD GROUP DESIGNED TO END BOOTLEGGING

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP)—A self-described "tetotaler" from Kansas arrived in the capital yesterday to organize a whisky detective force of 1,800 men for crushing repeal's bootleg trade.

Upon this new army which Arthur J. Mellott will direct, the administration apparently placed full reliance for choking the illicit liquor flow. At least a White House word ended talk of trying lower taxes and tariffs just now.

Cut In Profit Demanded

In the senate, too, Borah of Idaho, a veteran prohibition advocate, said "you can never cure bootlegging by reducing taxes" and demanded a cut in the profits of the liquor industry. Senator Walsh (D-Mass), a repealist, added that the country would not "stand for a return" to pre-prohibition conditions, and Sheppard (D-Tex), coauthor of the Eighteenth amendment, said the federal government again must take charge.

Mellott, who on May 10 becomes director of the treasury's alcohol tax unit of 3,600 men, meanwhile spoke confidently of securing "more public support than during prohibition" for driving out the illegal trade.

Mellott came from Kansas City to take charge of the alcohol tax unit which a presidential executive order next week will create by combining the justice department's alcoholic beverage unit and the treasury's industrial alcohol bureau. Between now and then he will busy himself with organization details.

Stirs Up Debate

His speech, saying drinks had been served to children in Chicago, drew from Senator Walsh (D-Mass), an anti-prohibitionist, a statement that the nation would not stand for a return to old conditions.

"Much worse than the saloon has returned and is here apparently to stay," Borah said. "As far as the enforcement of the code is concerned, as far as supervision of the liquor traffic is concerned, there seems to be no effort to prevent the kind of drinking which is going on in this country to a very marked degree in all the large cities."

Walsh said Borah's speech might some day be hailed as the first voice raised for restoration of national prohibition.

"I want to warn those who were opposed to prohibition that the religious people of the country will not permit the sale of liquor on Sunday and people reeling through the streets," he said.

"Too Big For States"

Sheppard said it was being realized by wets and drys that the liquor traffic was too big and too lawless to be handled by the states.

Asserting that in his view the only way to destroy the liquor traffic was to "put it under an eternal and unchanged ban," Sheppard said he hoped at least if the old inflexible law were not restored, at least the government would be given enough authority to "place debauchery at the lowet possible minimum."

Examinations For Librarians Slated

AUSTIN, May 3 (AP)—Examinations of applicants for county librarians' certificates will be held May 8 at Austin, El Paso, Houston and Waco by the state board of library examiners. Follies Of 1929 In Wallpaper!

This was the scene in the "million dollar room" of the Union League club in Chicago as workmen plastered its walls with now-worthless stocks, bonds, mortgages and other certificates of the 1929 boom era. The paper-hangers said the certificates made excellent wallpaper. (Associated Press Photo)

REVERSALS, PARDONS AND SUSPENDED SENTENCES ARE ASSAILED BY JUDGE

BRADY, May 3 (AP)—Reversing cases on "moss-covered technicalities" by the higher courts was condemned by District Judge J. E. Miller, in his charge to a McCulloch county grand jury as one of the three chief factors in creating disrespect for law and encouraging crime.

The abuse of the suspended sentence law and the indiscriminate granting of pardons and paroles were the other two factors, Judge Miller stated.

"25 Per Cent Reversed"

"I am conservative when I say that twenty-five to fifty per cent of all cases tried where a jury of twelve men say that the defendant is guilty, are reversed upon appeal to higher courts. Fifty per cent of the cases reversed are not reversed because the defendant did not get a fair trial or because of any bona fide question from the record as to guilt, or denial of any substantial rights, but because of some moss-covered technicality. You can find dozens of cases where every element of the offense is proved beyond question and the higher court reverses it and sends it back because one word is omitted from the indictment or other error of no practical consequence," the jurist declared.

In referring to the abuse of the pardon and parole law, Judge Miller said, "the officers, the prosecuting attorneys and the petit juries grant all consideration and sympathy, give the benefit of any reasonable doubt and the few that get to the penitentiary are turned loose on pardons. Paroles and otherwise before their cells get warm or before reaching prison.

Abuses Are Cited

"While the original intent of the suspended sentence law and its proper application makes it a commendable statute, the glaring abuses of this law during the past few years have been a deterrant to justice," Miller said. "The records of and courts will show that in the past five years more than half of all defendants that have been convicted have been given a suspended sentence.

"The result of the whole thing is that there is no incentive and no influence to cause respect for law," Miller said.

ONE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

SIGN PAINTER MEETS DEATH; LOCOMOTIVE HITS HIS HANDCAR

FORT WORTH, May 3. (AP)—J. R. Cox, 26, railway sign painter, was fatally injured while trying to avert a train wreck near Weatherford yesterday. His body was sent to Natchitoches, La. Funeral services will be held there.

Cox was riding on a handcar when he apparently heard the eastbound T.-P. passenger train No. 6, approaching behind him. He jumped from the handcar and, according to trainmen, was trying to pull his vehicle from the track evidently with the thought of preventing a wreck when the locomotive collided with it. Fragments of the handcar struck him.

The injured man was placed aboard the baggage car and brought here, but he died before reaching a hospital.

The train was an hour behind schedule and Cox, whose duty is the painting of track markers and signs, evidently thought it already had passed.

PONCE, PORTO RICO, April 25. (AP)—Black boys carry sacks of sugar and flour of 200-pound weight on their heads as they take it from the ship's dock into the warehouse. They race along as if they were bearing only a basket containing a small family's weekly washing. Ten hours of that work each day, and they all are small fellows too, none weighing more than 150 pounds.

That kind of unloading is much quicked than trucking. A ship's cargo of tons of commodities is disposed of in a short while.

Some familiar names are stamped on the flour sacks—one from Vernon, Texas, and another from Sherman, Texas.

Dive For Coins

As the ship comes into view and whistles for the pilot to guide her to port, black boys, rowing frantically come to meet her. Along side they cry to the passengers to toss dimes or nickles into the water so they can dive for them. They dived into deep waters for a nickle as readily as for a dime prize and each time came up with the money. A woman tossed a penny into the water near a boat but the diver was not deceived. He shot back a piece of his mind at the passenger for trying to deceive him.

The countries and cities of Haiti and Porto Rico are not unlike those in Mexico. Somewhat stranger, but the differences are not marked except possibly some cities of Mexico are more sanitary than those on the islands of the West Indies. Pretty palms and water fronts here. Much water to negotiate before you get to them. As much more to get home.

Woman Indicted On 5 Forgery Counts

DALLAS, May 3 (AP)—Mrs. Kate Johnston, 50, one-time candidate for governor of Texas, was in jail here Wednesday awaiting trial May 11 on five forgery indictments.

She protested to officers against the detention of her 27-year-old daughter, Evelyn, whom the grand jury no-billed in a forgery case yesterday.

"They have no right to hold my daughter," Mrs. Johnston asserted. "She has never been in any kind of trouble and the grand jury has exonerated her. Yet they continue to hold her in jail."

VANDERGRIFT, Pa.—It was not the hours but the time that caused a dispute at the Hicks coal mine and 500 coal diggers remained away from work.

Under daylight saving time, operators wanted the men to go to work at 5:30 a. m., instead of 6:30 to make railroad connections.

The miners didn't show up. Their leaders explained such a work schedule would rob them of an hour's sleep in the "cool morning hours."

PIRATES DOWN CUBS; GIANTS TAKE LEAD

PITTSBURGH SEEN AS THREAT TO EASTERN CLUBS OF LEAGUE

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON
Associated Press Sports Writer

As the eastern clubs of the National league move on the west for the opening of the first intersectional strife of the 1934 season a timely warning might be to look out for the Pittsburgh Pirates. It appears very much to the point as the Buccaneers clash with the league leading New York Giants in the first series.

So far the Cubs have held the spotlight more than any other western club but it was Pittsburgh, in third place with only a fair showing against Cincinnati and St. Louis, which knocked Chicago out of the lead. Following Tuesday's 4-1 triumph behind Ralph Birkofer the Pirates won 4-2 yesterday with Heinie Meine, veteran righthander on the hill.

Giants Pass Cubs

Chicago's defeat dropped the Cubs a half game behind the Giants who wobbled through to their third straight victory over Brooklyn, 6 to 5, when Frank O'Doul smashed a pinch homer with two aboard in the eighth and Hal Schumacher managed to pitch a complete game after being knocked out three times running.

The Cardinals won the other National league struggle 4 to 1 from Cincinnati, which had to get along without Jim Bottomley. Philadelphia and Boston were unscheduled.

The Cleveland Indians advanced to within a half game of first place in the American league lead without playing a game as both New York and Detroit suffered reverses. The Yanks bowed 6-2 to Washington when the Senators landed on Russell Van Atta in the first inning, collecting six hits and four runs before he retired with only one out, and finishing the job against Johnny Murphy in the same inning.

Browns Down Tigers

The St. Louis Browns handed the Tigers a 5-2 setback on a combination of home runs by Irving Burns and Ray Pepper that produced all the tallies and George Blaeholder's seven-hit hurling. Philadelphia's Athletics outslugged Boston 12-11 after spotting the Red Sox six runs in the first two innings. Bob Johnson's pinch homer in the seventh finally put the A's ahead.

Chicago was bracketed with Cleveland for an off day.

GARDEN UNDER OLD REGIME

FORMER ASSOCIATE OF TEX RICKARD TAKES OVER CONTROL

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—The house that Tex built, Madison Square Garden, was under the guidance of the old regime again today with one of Tex Rickard's former associates controlling the policies of the big sports arena on Eighth avenue.

Col. John S. Hammond, one of Rickard's associates in the original venture, has purchased the interests of Richard F. Hoyt and Hayden, Stone Co., the bankers who underwrote the venture nine years ago. Hammond made the formal announcement late yesterday, confirming reports that had been current for several days. A few minor legal details, he said, remained to be cared for. It is understood that Hammond purchased 78,000 shares of stock at $7 per share, slightly above the market value.

Reorganization Planned

Although Hammond indicated that he will go slowly about reorganizing the Garden management it was expected that the tall, white-haired West Point graduate would be the guiding spirit from now on and would stage a return to the policies followed by Rickard.

Hammond, who "sold" the idea of professional hockey to Rickard and brought to the Garden the best paying sport of the past few years, will return to the presidency of the corporation and no immediate changes are planned in the boxing management, now guided by Jimmy Johnston.

BASEBALL GAMES SET AT WOODROW

Two games will be played this afternoon to begin an annual Lubbock county interscholastic baseball tourney at Woodrow, 10 miles south of Lubbock. Harold A. Cooper, county athletic director, will supervise the tourney.

The tournament will continue through Saturday afternoon, when a nine-inning final will be played. Other games will be seven innings each unless shortened or lengthened by agreement.

Today's schedule is:

3:30 p. m.—Canyon vs. Acuff; 5 p. m. McClung vs. Woodrow.

HACK THE SMACK HITS FOR THE DAFFINESS BOYS

GOLFERS KEEP UP INTEREST

FAMOUS ST. ANDREWS KEYES UP MEMBERS OF U. S. TEAM

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 3 (AP)—The younger members of the American Walker cup team, who have yet to suffer from the almost fabulous terrors of the old St. Andrews golf club, appear at least to have found a course which can keep them keyed to a keen pitch day after day.

After a long and rather tiring tour of the ruins of St. Andrews cathedral, during which they visited the graves of Scotland's golfing great, a couple of them discovered late yesterday that the local tournament which had deprived them of their usual two practice rounds was over, and Johnny Goodman, Lawson Little and Jack Westland seized their clubs and hurried out to play around again.

"Crazy Over Course"

Their eagerness drew an approving comment from Captain Francis Ouimet, who has had more experience with the St. Andrews traps. "I never saw boys go so crazy over a course as these youngsters have over St. Andrews," he said. And he indicated that he considered this a good sign for the coming matches with Great Britain May 11 and 12.

Another good sign was found in Goodman's score of 74, his best so far despite a seven on the road hole. Little's 75 and Westland's 76.

SCOTT AND TONY CHAVEZ TO MEET

Howard Scott, San Angelo lightweight who claims the West Texas championship of that division, and Tony Chavez, Albuquerque's Rocky Mountain region featherweight titlist, will meet in the main event of a boxing card next Monday at the Auditorium, it was announced late Wednesday.

Scott has agreed to weigh in at 128 pounds and Chavez, who lost an hairline decision here Monday night to Bobby Calmes, probably will weigh within five or six pounds of Scott, a promotorial agent said. Scott knocked out Woody Windham here.

A four, a six, and an eight-round bout, in which heavy, light heavy, and middleweights probably will appear, will supplement the 10-round main event.

The Double-T association of Texas Technological college will sponsor the card, receiving a percentage of net receipts.

At Kansas City's convention hall they sold standing room and turned 500 customers away at a program of symphonic music.

HUSBAND-WIFE TOURNEY SET

COMBINED SCORES OF PAIRS TO DECIDE GOLF WINNER

Should there be any disturbing noises coming from the northeast part of Lubbock, it probably will be an argument between husband and wife as to who lost the match.

For starting today and continuing through Friday and Saturday, a husband-wife tournament will be held at Meadowbrook Golf club, the combined scores of each couple determining the winners. Eighteen holes will constitute the tournament and they may be played in one or more days. Play must be in foursomes.

Qualifying play in a two-month ladder tournament at Lubbock Country club began Monday and will continue through Sunday.

Linksmen who have not completed the required 36-hole round to qualify by Sunday night will not be eligible to enter the tourney, the directing committee, of which Ted Tipps is chairman, announced.

Meadowbrook ladder tourney standings were announced Tuesday. Fifty-nine players qualified in 36-hole play. Ties will be dissolved in 18-hole medal play.

BILLY HALLAS DEFEATED BY DON HILL

CALIFORNIA GRAPPLER TAKES TWO STRAIGHT FALLS FROM GREEK

The hades that was Hallas was subdued in straight falls by Don Hill in the main event of Sled Allen's wrestling program last night at the Auditorium.

Billy Hallas, former welterweight contender, injected plentiful roughhousing into the grappling before he was pinned by the long-muscled Californian.

The bale-bodied little El Pasoan, expected to be something in the nature of an easy chore for Hill, prolonged the first fall 34 minutes, and performed during the whole route in a manner apparently pleasing to some 1,100 of the thrill-thirsty.

Don took the first heat with a double toe-hold. Hill almost scored with a resounding salvo of body lifts and slams. Hallas squirmed loose, Don fell into the toe-hold, and the exhausted Greek had to pat the pad.

Opens Rough-Housing

Hallas had started off with a series of round-house slugs, head squeezes, and slams to harry Hill blindly about the mat. Hallas applied an arm pull and shoulder bump, but Don flailed his way free. Hill hit Billy with a lunging flying head scissors, and the two tin-ears went over the ropes and to the floor with Referee Dutch Mantell riding on top the load.

Don came back and got a leg split. Hallas bit Hill's thumb. Hill bit Hallas' finger. Hallas savagely dug his fangs in Don's femur to break the split hold.

Hill scored with a bruising reverse double wrist lock that had Hallas praying to Allah. Shortly after the half-hour mark, Don picked the Greek up with an inside crotch hold, body lift and slam, and then took the fall over the groggy Greek with the toe-hold.

Slugging Introductory

The second fall was inaugurated with a slugging bee. Hill tossed Hallas into the ropes, and entangled Billy between the top and second plush in a "grape-vine swing."

Hallas extracted himself from this ticklish spot, and used an arm stretch and shoulder bump. Hallas deftly swapped this hold for a head scissors. But Hill arose with Billy on his shoulders, and slammed the Greek with an airplane spin. Hill jarred Hallas with two anchored shoulder blocks, delivered two terrific body blocks and won the final fall with a body press in 10 minutes.

Kanthe Pins Cazzel

The Professor used a crunching full-nelson to triumph after 17 minutes of interesting mat-work.

Cazzel, much improved over previous displays, took Kanthe on his shoulders for a whirling airplane spin in the opening minutes of the match. The Professor however, failed to get billious, and emerged with a drop-toe hold that had Bill gibbering like a wounded ape.

Kanthe taxed Cazzel's strength and Referee Van Bebber's patience, delivering in rapid succession an eye-popping strangle clutch, an "eye ball chancery," and then a reverse arm lock and back fall.

Booted On Mouth

The Professor then slammed Bill thrice with resounding whams and pinned the limp Cazzel with the full nelson. As a final artistic touch, Kanthe booted his prone foe squarely in the mouth, as the referee held Kanthe's arm aloft.

Jittery Joe Bauer, the middleweight with the monkey mannerisms, fought to a twenty-minute draw with Don Carver, of Capitan, Mexico, in the preliminary.

"Darby" Or "Durby," Which One Is Right? Saturday Will Tell

By C. ROBERT KAY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3. (AP)—Saturday's Kentucky Derby may decide, for this year at least, whether it's pronounced "darby" or "durby". Three English-bred colts are among the prominent contenders for the $30,000 added stake, and the home-breds will have a hard time cutting them out of a share of the prize money.

The English-breds are Mrs. I. D. Sloane's Cavalcade, Mrs. Payne Whitney's Spy Hill and Col. E. R. Bradley's Bazaar. Cavalcade and Spy Hill were foaled in New Jersey and Bazaar was foaled in Kentucky, so they are native Americans in the final analysis, but merry England produced their sires and dams.

Have British Blood

Charles T. Fisher's Mata Hari, Joseph E. Widener's Peace Chance, Alex B. Gordon's Sir Thomas and Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Discovery are the home-breds conceded the best chances of scoring a clean sweep in the Derby finish, but most of these have English thoroughberds as fathers and grandfathers. For that matter, there are few thoroughbreds in America that do not have British blood in their ancestry.

The "darby" and "durby" argument has raged merrily since the early of Derby watched Gallant Fox triumph in the 1930 Derby, and asked interviewers why they didn't pronounce it "darby." Quite a few purists, principally radio announcers, have taken up the English pronunciation, greatly to the distress of the average Kentuckian who sticks to "durby" and won't have it any other way, since the Kentucky Derby is his race.

Experts Befuddled

With every leading candidate training up to expectations, Saturday's race over a mile and a quarter for three-year-olds have the experts more befuddled than ever in their attempts to pick a winner. The weather forecast is for probable showers Friday night, dimming the prospects for a fast track and record time for the test.

The probable Derby field, listing only the more certain starters and leaving out four or five outsiders likely to be entered, follows:

Horse	Owner	Jockey	Prob. Odds
x-Cavalcade	Mrs. I. D. Sloane	M. Garner	4-1
x-Time Clock	Mrs. I. D. Sloane	D. Bellizi	4-1

BUFFS HOP ON EXPORTERS FOR WIN

MIKE CVENGROS WINS FOURTH STRAIGHT; BUCS VICTORIOUS

(By The Associated Press)

Little Mike Cvengros, who tosses his curves from the wrong side, still has plenty of winning games left in his aging throwing arm. The craftly veteran whipped them across the corners in big style last night, to win his fourth straight as Houston's Buffaloes handed Beaumont a 3-1 licking.

It was a tough one for Jake Wade, elongated Exporter southpaw to lose. He allowed but three bingles and one earned run in the hot twilight duel.

Bucs Trim Missions

Galveston's Bucs, arousing their fans with their classy play, rang the bell again in trimming the San Antonio Missions, 9-1. A crowd of 2,175 cash customers saw the Bucs send Hal Wiltse, their nemesis, to the locker room with a seven-run outburst in the third and four more frames. Gibbs kept five bingles divided. The Bucs have played to more than 2,000 fans each day during their current home stand of five games, which has seen them take hold of the league pinnacle.

SCIENCE MEET ENDS HERE

DR. ROBBINS ELECTED PRESIDENT; SANTA FE AWARDED MEETING

Southwestern division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science elected Dr. Daniel S. Robbins of New Mexico State college at Las Cruces as its president Wednesday afternoon at Texas Technological college.

Santa Fe, N. M., was chosen as the 1935 and the Grand Canyon of Colorado as the 1936 meeting places.

Dr. Robbins' election was one of the high points of a business session, one of the closing events of the fourteenth annual gathering. Dr. Walter P. Taylor of the U. S. Biological survey stationed at Tucson, Ariz., was elected vice president and Dr. O. C. Lester, dean of the graduate school of the University of Colorado, Boulder, and retiring president, was named a member of the executive committee.

Carpenter Reelected

Dr. B. F. Carpenter of the University of Arizona continues as secretary-treasurer. Dr. Lester's term on the executive committee is for three years.

Dr. R. A. Studhalter was elevated to the chairmanship of the biological science section, Veon C. Kiech of the University of New Mexico, the physical science chairmanship and Dr. H. S. Colton of Arizona, chairman of the social science section.

Closing event of the convention was the annual dinner and address of the retiring president of the association at the Hilton last night. Dr. Lester talked on "Research: the Door to Tomorrow." Approximately 100 persons including many Lubbock citizens attended the affair.

Hospitality Praised

The hospitality of Lubbock and officials of Texas Technological college was praised in the only resolution passed by the association.

FDR WILL ASK NEW POWERS

PROGRAM OF BUILDING AND IMPROVING U. S. HOMES IS PLANNED

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP)—Authority to launch a governmentally directed program for building new homes and making old homes like new will be asked of congress by President Roosevelt.

The president's decision to request congress for power to inaugurate this program is the result of a three-months study by the administration of housing conditions.

Many Without Baths

The survey disclosed, among other things, that only half of the 54,300 home structures in a selected group of cities studied contained baths.

The reason for the plan is twofold. Its proponents say that in the first instance it will be better living conditions, and in the second will add to the work available both through the actual construction and by increasing the demand for the materials going into the houses.

The legislation which Mr. Roosevelt is expected to ask in the next two or three days would simply give him authority to carry out the program. It is understood that no appropriation would be needed, other than for administrative purposes.

Investment Field Planned

The financing of the program, under the plan contemplated would be strictly a private affair, with 30 or 40 billion dollars invested. The argument has been advanced that it would offer a good field for the investment of idle private capital.

In an already established phase of government help for home owners, the Home Owners Loan corporation reported that it had refinanced "distress" mortgages totalling $6,-823,000,000 at the close of business last Saturday.

A record high weekly figure was set by the corporation last week when loans amounting to $53,666,-514 were closed.

BIGGER AND BETTER NUDIST CULTS WILL GREET SUMMER AFTER LEADING MORE THAN BARE EXISTENCE IN WINTER

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 3—The nudist movement is doing very well. In fact, with a membership increase of about 400 per cent over last year, it is outstripping the expectations of nearly all its practitioners.

All its practitioners, that is, with the bare exceptions of such enthusiasts as the Rev. Ilsley Boone, Baptist minister, and the Rev. Henry Strong Huntington, Presbyterian minister, who are the high priests (without vestments) of what they call "nude culture."

These men have attained a degree of leadership among the unclothed by being managing editor and editor, respectively, of the official publication of the International Nudist Conference, coordinating organization of all the clubs and camps in America. Doctors Boone and Huntington also happen to be executives of the Conference, and the directors of a large nudist organization near Otis, Mass.

The Movement Grows

Last summer there were only about four clubs in New York with bona fide memberships, a schedule of indoor activities in the city, and rural camps where the woodbine and poison ivy intertwineth. At this writing there are eight New York clubs listed in the directory of the magazine, and two other groups which are not listed. The American League for Physical Culture, oldest of the nudist organizations, is not listed because it has all the members it wants, and because it does not desire any publicity. The Olympic League is not listed because its managing director and physical director are awaiting trial on a charge of violating the municipal code of decency.

It seems that one of the League's officials was indiscreet enough to admit a policeman and policewoman (clothed, you may be sure) to one of the regular meetings in a stuffy little basement gymnasium on upper Broadway. The visitors stood about and watched, with some amazement, while men and women members (unclothed) went through a series of strenuous calisthenics under the tutelage of muscular Frank Maniscalo. Pretty soon everybody dashed for the showers, huddled under them awhile, and then went swimming together in the pool. The officers admitted that they saw no vulgar action, heard no objectionable word. But the fact remained that the investigators had been admitted without question, upon payment of a dollar each, and thus the meeting was, technically, a sort of public show.

Unorthodox Nudism

The other New York nudist groups now in existence are the American Gymnosophical Association, the Highland, N. Y., Outdoor Club, The Indoor Club, New York Sunshine League, Nude Culture Club, Olympic Sun Ray League, The Sunbathers, and the Woodland Club. And there is, actually, a girls' club which calls itself The Modern Nudies. This is very unorthodox. Sincere nudists frown on any such frivolity of titling, and are downright shocked at the idea of sex segregation in nakedness. Everyone hopes that The Modern Nudies may be persuaded to merge with some established, "socially balanced" group.

Throughout the winter eight of the ten New York clubs have been holding regular weekly or bi-weekly meetings in city gymnasiums and pools. They admit that any form of indoor nudism is a poor substitute for nakedness out of doors in the sun and wind. And yet, without benefit of ultra-violet rays, some 300 men and 200 women continue to assemble, strip and exercise together. Except for the aforementioned Olympians, none of the groups has suffered police interference because the meetings are strictly private, attended only by members and thoroughly-investigated visitors interested in the movement.

Exclusive Quarters

Residents of the Park Vendome, a large and rather exclusive apartment development on the west side of mid-Manhattan, probably would be surprised, though, if they knew the gymnasium and swimming pool in the building were being leased for a couple of hours each evening to organizations of unclad faddists. Each of these meetings follows an almost identical program. Men and women undress in separate rooms, then gather in the gymnasium. Naked people stand about and chat unconcernedly; then take warming-up exercises with medicine balls and Indian clubs. When time comes for starting the group exercises, members space themselves as in any ordinary gymnasium class. The physical director (all of them are capable professionals), faces the class, nude, and directs the calisthenics calculated to tune up sagging muscles. Pretty soon a naked young woman takes her place at the piano and plays lilting tunes for the "rhythmic exercises"—a series of routine kicks and bends which doubtless are elemental in any course in classic dancing.

Dismissal of the class brings a rush for the showers (separate showers for each sex, in this building), and before you could say "Gymnosophical Association" there are pink bodies flashing in the big, tiled pool. Everyone knows how to swim, because the physical instructor gives lessons. But there do not seem to be any swimming or diving stars, and anyway the clubs frown on anything that in the least smacks of exhibitionism.

Nudist Camaraderie

Clad for the street, the members usually go to a restaurant together, and occasionally to a theater. Several of the clubs have given parties and dances during the winter—affairs at which all the proprieties of dress were observed.

Doctors Boone and Huntington calculate that there will be at least sixteen nudist camps in operation this summer within commuting distance of New York City. A few of the organizations will have two camps, for summer memberships are expected to number in the thousands instead of hundreds. As for the rest of the country, nudist organizations will be operating in seventeen states. Rhode Island, Nebraska and Colorado are states new to nudism, but last year there were clubs in Massachusetts, Virginia, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Maryland, California, South Carolina, Florida and Texas.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep ... Vigor ... Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out thru the bladder 3 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS ... a doctor's prescription ... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS ... the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster Milburn Co.

A dietician has come forward with the assertion that alfalfa is as good a food as spinach.

To which any 8-year-old boy will reply "It's better!"

NOT very often does The Plainsman lapse into the first person. It is his opinion that to do so is an admission of bad taste.

But every once in awhile (even if Dan Daniels doesn't think so) it is a good idea, because first person writing is the most forceful.

Hence, because first person writing get an idea over a little smoother than the other kind, your humble servant begs you to permit him to turn to first person cogitation and, in addition, to discuss a personal problem.

Here goes (and maybe you'll never again see the first person used in this column).

I have two boys.

One is two years and nine months old and, due to his tender age, is not much of a worry.

But the other, who is six years and three months old, already is becoming a problem.

"You're crazy", you retort. "He couldn't be!"

But he is—and he is because he is rapidly soaking up this crazy way we have of living.

YESTERDAY afternoon, late, I was standing in the back door watching my eldest punk, and a neighbor's kid, busily engaged at play.

My kid had a small sapling log suspended from his shoulder by a rope and the two were playing what looked like the old 'cowboy and Indian' business that you and I used to revel in. I listened, chawing on a radish, when I heard my kid say:

"All right. You're the police and I'm the gangster. Here I go with my machine gun!"

And with his mouth he imitated, much better than I could, the rat-tat-a-tat-tat of the 'tommy'.

"Where in the world could a six year old punkin catch on to anything like that?" I asked myself. "What are we coming to?"

Where he caught onto it, of course, was through listening to my wife and me talk, and to going to an occasional movie with the colored man who used to work for us and who is very much attached to him.

Now this business of what we are coming to is a little more complicated. It covers a multitude of angles.

But maybe you can guess the answer when you stop to consider that my six year old boy already knows about machine guns and—on top of that—knows what they sound like when they're fired.

ALL of which goes on to prove that we must be a stupid lot of people—we who live under the Star-Spangled Banner.

We not only let our criminals get ahold of machine guns but we let our kids find out about them and—at a tender age—find out how they work, to such an extent that the kids can imitate their firing sound.

Something ought to be done about our criminals, yes.

But what is more important, something ought to be done about us for letting our criminals go so far and so long that not only their actions, but the very implements they use become apart of the careless, natural play of our youngsters.

* * *

No doubt you will say I am to blame for my kid's knowing more about such things than he should.

And maybe you're right.

But the fact remains that the things my wife and I talk about—the Dillingers, the Barrows, the Hamiltons and the rest—are the things that you and your wife or husband talk about and that the occasional movies we let our kids see are merely mirrors of our present-day world.

How about it?

NATURALLY, I, like you, want to bring my kids up to be decent, law-abiding citizens.

No sissies, you understand, but never-the-less men who will have a place to fill and, no matter how humble, will fill it well.

But how am I going to do it?

And, what is more important to you, how are you going to do it with conditions as they are?

Throw away your cross-word puzzle and answer that one.

Of Course, There's Always A Few Big Ones That Get Away

Imagine Movie Lovers Just Rubbing Noses! But That Is Romance For Eskimos, Like Holding Hands In South Seas

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 3.—"Different expressions of feeling are employed, but fundamentally romance is the same the world over."

This statement comes from W. S. Van Dyke, who doesn't set himself up as a romantic expert by any means. But his journeys to the far corners of the earth to make motion pictures have given him an excellent opportunity to study love among the different races.

"The Eskimos rub noses," says Van Dyke. "The natives of Africa express their love with guttural grunts. In the South Seas, courtships consist largely of holding hands.

"There probably is less real romance in Africa than anywhere else on earth. An African picks his mate largely because she's strong and can do a lot of work. After he has picked her, he may tell her that he would like to have her as his wife, or he may not.

"He may simply tie a couple of goats outside her father's shack. That's all there is to the courtship.

More of "It" in Arctic

"Strangely enough, the Eskimos living inside the Arctic Circle have more warm-blooded romance than the natives in hottest Africa. When an Eskimo selects the girl he wants to marry, they have a short period of courtship, during which they sit on a secluded block of ice and rub noses.

"For part of the wedding ceremony, they have a dance and everyone exchanges gifts.

"The Polynesians in the few unspoiled islands of the South Seas also have a little ceremony in connection with their courtship. A man and his bride-to-be are permitted to spend quite a little time together before they are married.

"When the wedding takes place, there is dancing and feasting and the bridegroom always brings a gift to the bride's father.

Not for Hollywood

"Can you imagine trying to introduce any of those customs in Hollywood? The gang here would say it was child's play. Yet the people of those races really love each other just as much as any couple in this country—more, perhaps.

"You seldom hear of divorces among them. And they don't even know the meaning of immorality."

However, the director, who has made "Eskimo," "Trader Horn," "White Shadows of the South Seas," and others, admits a preference for the Hollywood method of love-making.

And he claims that theater-goers accept American love scenes far more readily than they do the native romances.

Champion Job Seeker

After 20 years of waiting, Tammany Young finally has a job with W. C. Fields. I'm not sure, but that must be some sort of a record for waiting for one job.

It was back in 1914 that Tammany tried to attach himself to Fields as a "stooge."

But Fields had another man, "Shorty," who wouldn't leave his boss for a minute, for fear Tammany would step in.

A few weeks ago "Shorty" died—those Fields jokes probably proving too much for him—and now Young has stepped into his shoes.

Cecil DeMille certainly should be convinced that it pays to make good pictures. The other day he received a royalty check for several thousand dollars from "King of Kings," made 'way back in the silent era. It's still being shown.

SPEAKING of famous columnists brings to mind, of course, the greatest of them all—Oscar Odd 'Whoa Whoa' McIntyre, who recently penned for the May number of the Cosmopolitan:

THE MEETING PLACE

Perhaps you have noticed—but perhaps you haven't—that Lubbock is host almost every week to some kind of a gathering of people.

Mayhap it is a beauty convocation which draws from 500 to 700 persons to the Hub of the Plains.

Perhaps it is a gathering of eminent scientists from four American states and two of Mexico's.

Maybe it is a convocation of farmers, who come to this, their regional capital, to talk over their problems with men who have traveled halfway across the continent to give theim their views.

Or it may be a civic club confab of some kind—or a market week.

Anyhow, Lubbock has won—and is holding—a place in the sun of recognition. It is a meeting place, a crossroads, a point at which to convene. Which is just another way of saying that it is the focal point of a broad territory.

Two or three years ago Lubbock was, outside of El Paso, Dallas and Houston, the most popular place in Texas for organizations to gather in session. It was one of the state's most popular convention centers, because the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, with everybody's help, stepped out and made it so.

But the wise-acres laughed.

"It can't last," they said. "It's not in the cards."

But they were wrong.

It has lasted and it is continuing to last, simply because this city has attractions equaled by any city in the state and equaled not at all by any metropolis in West Texas.

These gatherings send out the name and fame of Lubbock and its hospitality but what is more substantial, they bring in many and many a dollar's business.

Let Lubbock continue to be known as 'The Hospitality City' and to keep on being at 'the crossroads'.

We'll gain by it—ourselves, as well as our visitors.

I'd rather die on cherry pie than live on floating island.—Dr. Dudley Reed, Chicago University director of physical education.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 3 — Girls who cover Mrs. Roosevelt's press conferences brag that she becomes more radical and aggressive as the president seems more conservative and conciliatory.

They cite her spirited replies to Senator Schall, Dr. Wirt, and critics of her pet subsistence homestead projects, her implied attack on milk distributors who profiteer at the expense of farmers and city families, and her speech to the sometimes militaristic D. A. R. urging it to work for peace.

The newspaperwomen are proud of her, insisting that she has suffered more personal attacks than the president himself and that perhaps there won't be so many after her worsting of Senator Schall, who said her philanthropic furniture factory at Hyde Park was a profiteering enterprise.

The First Lady takes a vigorous, outspoken interest in social problems and sometimes can afford to be more informal and frank than her husband.

In her press conference "off the record" comments, her humanitarian slant is even more obvious than his.

Two Great Young Minds

The capital's current reading: "The Planless Roosevelt Revolution," by Lawrence Dennis, in the American Mercury, and Undersecretary of Agriculture Rexford G. Tugwell's speech, "The Return to Democracy."

I met Dennis in Senator Cutting's office — a tall, dark, handsome, youngish ex-diplomat and ex-Wall Street banking expert with a realistic, objective viewpoint.

His articles cite conflicts in the New Deal and insist it must have a definite, planned program. Personally, he believes the country is headed for Fascism — since it is bound to head in some direction.

Tugwell says he thinks Fascism can be avoided by reforms in the present system. He thinks the American people are too individualistic, too defiant of regimentation, to enter anything of the sort.

To which the Dennis answer was that human nature, under given compulsions, is the same on any continent. Tugwell thinks the depression is temporary; Dennis doesn't. But Tugwell isn't any too optimistic.

He remarked at a dinner table the other night that he didn't think the country yet really believed that every good American had a right to a job or even that we ought to abolish poverty. Anyway, those are random thoughts culled from a couple of brilliant, divergent minds which have inspired lots of heavy thinking here.

Just Natural Battlers

Little dramas of government life: A boy and girl were married, got to quarreling and separated. The boy lost his job, so both were looking for work. CWA brought them together, unwittingly in the office of a library cataloging project. Reconciliation? No, they started fighting again and had to be quelled so the rest of the force could work. Now they're both job-hunting again. . . . A brilliant young western congressman would have made a better record this session but for one weakness. Blazing with a yen for social justice, he becomes so overwrought over his favorite issues that he starts drinking to hold his nerves together—and takes too much. . . . An Interior Department girl was assigned to a night job. She had just married a man who works days and tried to have something done about it. The official who interceded for her was formally advised: "The shifts are rotated every 30 days, so the husband will have the benefit of his wife's society at least one month out of three." . . . Several years ago, a man who is now a "little cabinet" member, engaged in a corporate reorganization in his home state, discovered a crooked official in the company and had him fired. Last summer he helped the same man get a good emergency agency job here. Now the second man is engaged in an undercover campaign of slander against the "little cabinet" fellow. . . . A girl secretary in NRA smashed her automobile into another car and was convicted of reckless driving. She was asked to resign, with the explanation that she had been in a "similar" affair before. It seems she was in a party which once invaded a speakeasy with the alleged representation of one of the men that he was General Johnson. A newspaper report said Johnson himself had raucously demanded entrace—and Johnson obtained an abject apology. . . . Taxi drivers are still complaining to passengers about the D. A. R. convention. They say the members often piled into their cabs six at a time and insisted on driving all over town for 20 cents.

The ROMANTIC RUNAWAY

KATHARINE HAVILAND-TAYLOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PABLITO, a handsome youth accused of a murder he did not commit, escapes from Key West to Havana with two thieves, BEAU and LOTTIE. In Havana, under the name of "Juanito," he becomes celebrated as a boxer and he and Beau open a gymnasium.

PABLITO loves ESTELLE FIELD, daughter of rich JIM FIELD, and she loves him. They meet and plan to marry, but Field breaks up the affair, taking Estelle away. Two years later she becomes engaged to ALEC DAVIDS.

SIR AUBREY, titled Englishman and Pablito's father, has been searching for his son, employing BILLINGS, New York detective.

Believing Estelle faithless, Pablito asks Lottie to marry him.

Field loses his fortune and Davids breaks his engagement to Estelle. She and her father return to Havana. MARCIA TREADWAY, who knows Pablito is innocent of the murder charge, at last tells the truth, clearing him.

Estelle writes to Pablito. NORRIS NOYES, who befriended Pablito as a child, comes to see him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLVI

Pablito wrote Estelle, telling her bluntly that he was engaged to Lottie Hines, who had long been associated with him and Beau in their work. He would not add a word beyond the truth which stood out harshly on the page. After he had finished the letter he dropped his head for a little time to feel the cool paper against his hot cheek. Then, quite steadily, he sealed and addressed the envelope. As he sent it off he felt that part of his life was finished. "Life, an experiment," he remembered reading somewhere, "to which we are, by birth, committed."

He found things a little easier after he had mailed the letter. The door was shut and no longer swinging enticingly to tempt him to turn traitor.

He watched the progress of his new home with stolid disinterest. He and Noyes often went for long motor trips into the country. He sold some property at a profit and bought more, changed some bonds and lost a good sum thereby. Eating, sleeping, walking, driving, he was always striving with feverish eagerness to keep his waking hours filled to overflowing. This was the experiment to which he was committed; this was the experiment called life.

"Do you realize," Noyes said a month after Pablito had written the letter to Estelle, "that you can go anywhere you like now, since Miss Treadway made her statement to the police and Beau's running away has been accepted as a confession?"

Pablito smiled. Go where he liked? He was a prisoner in the experiment. He was still smiling as he said, "I can take trains and boats anywhere. I know that. I suppose," he added slowly, "that that is something."

* * *

Beau's wife disappeared soon after her husband. She went away with a pallid northerner who had been employed as a clerk in a cheap hotel. "I'm through with Beau," she said harshly, standing in the doorway with her traveling bag at her feet. "If you ever see him again," she went on, to Lottie, "tell him so and that I wish he was in hell."

"Sure," Lottie agreed. "I'll tell him. Maybe he'll return the compliment."

Lottie went into the big room where Noyes and Pablito were lounging and pretending to read the day's newspapers. "Lou's gone," she announced. "And, my God, she gimme a dirty look."

Then she repeated the conversation, detailing what she had said and what Lou had said. Noyes made no comment. He folded his newspaper carefully and laid it on a nearby table, avoiding looking either at Lottie or Pablito. Noyes was embarrassed, Lottie saw. Pablito was not embarrassed by her account of the combat because he did not feel anything lately. "He don't even seem to know what he eats half of the time," Lottie decided with wonder.

She perched on the arm of Pablito's chair and asked with an assumed air of jauntiness, "That wasn't so lady-like, was it?"

There was no answer. Pablito was reading and had not heard what she said.

"Damn it!" Lottie flung out, "I can be just as much a lady as anybody else if I want to!" Discs of color were burning on her cheeks. Noyes looked at her then, appraisingly, but with pity in his glance and her anger died, leaving her wilted and trembling.

She went to her own room and there wept bitterly. Even an astounding purple lounging suit, compounded of pajama trousers, a vest and flaring cape, could not console her. She sat, her tears partially dried, on the edge of the bed, the lounging suit crumbled about her. She sat whispering to herself, "'Isn't,' not 'ain't'. An' stop sayin' 'My God!' an' quit callin' Noyes an 'ole goat'."

But she knew, sitting there, that the most painstaking mastery of the rules of grammar could not smooth the way ahead for her. There was something else that was wrong. Dabbling her nose and mopping her eyes, Lottie wondered what it could be. That night she found out.

* * *

They had motored in to Havana for dinner—Lottie, Noyes and Pablito—without having decided where they would go and discussing the subject on the way. Turning down San Rafael, the car was held up by a congestion of traffic at a narrow corner ahead. As they waited Pablito looked into the eyes of a girl standing with an older man on the curb. She nodded coolly, without change of expression. Pablito's cheeks paled and then flushed violently. A moment later the car was on its way again.

"Who was that girl?" Lottie asked Noyes when she was alone with him at home later.

"I suppose it was Estelle Field," he answered without pretending to misunderstand.

"Oh," Lottie murmured. She went up to the roof ther into the dark for the stars and moon were muted by a mist. She understood now.

OTTON PLANS TO BE MADE

O SEEK TO PREVENT TENANT EVICTION FROM FARMS

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Sec- tary Wallace has called exten- on directors and officials of cot- n states to a conference in Wash- gton next week to devise plans for reventing eviction of tenants from uthern farms as the result of reage reduction under the 1934 tton contracts.

The group is expected to set up a mporary organization to direct in- estigations of specific complaints, heck compliance with reduction ntracts, and determine a policy to e followed for violators.

Complaints Received

Wallace said "the time has now me when it is the duty of the dministration to work a definite olicy of enforcement" of the con- act provisions.

"We have received a considerable umber of complaints of displace- ent of tenant farmers in violation the spirit of the contract," the ecretary said.

"The number so dispossessed is ot subject to precise determina- on. Available information indi- tes that great majority of the ndowners have complied thus far th the terms of the contract," by eping the same number of tenants. However, he added, a sufficient mber of complaints of eviction d misapplication of benefit pay- ents by landowners has been re- ived to make it necessary for the dministration to investigate and rrect any abuses.

Other Probes Planned

Similar investigations of compli- ce under contracts for other com- odities are contemplated, he added. Simultaneously with this an- uncement Wallace made public a iticism of the cotton program by lvin B. Hoover, professor of eco- mics at Duke university, who ted as an economic adviser to the dministration in making his study. Hoover reviewed the southern ag- cultural system and declared the reage reduction program has not en responsible for "all undesirable nditions" found but "various un- sirable effects and instances of rdships to individuals have oc- red in connection with the cot- n acreage reduction program."

In a number of cases, share ten- s and share croppers were not ditted with any part of the so- lled option payments of the 1933 ntracts" and often "whether the ant received anything at all of- depended upon the charitable- s of the landlord," Hoover as- ted.

BISHOP CANNON

port asking reassignment in pres- districts.

Stormy Debate Heard

Stormy debate then broke out in conference. His supporters arged that Bishop Cannon was ing "crucified" and that the urch was "surrendering" to the ret press" and the "Roman Cath- ics," if Cannon should be retired ter the church head's militant rohibition fight.

His opponents urged retirement or the good of the church" on the im that the bishop was infirm. The lead for Bishop Cannon was ken by the Rev. R. P. Shuler, the Pacific conference, who said s people in the west would wel- me Bishop Cannon for assign- ent in their section.

Urges Retirement

One of the leaders arguing in vor of retirement was Judge C. Ferguson, of the West Virginia nference.

"He has infirmities of mind based two specific grounds," declared dge Ferguson.

"The first," Judge Ferguson said, the habit he has formed in his e of money and his love of pow- ."

Judge Ferguson was interrupted the raising of a point of order at he was discussing character stead of the amendment, and he d not state his second reason.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 3. (AP)—Cotton opened quiet but steady today. Liverpool came in a shade better than due and first trades here showed gains of one to four points. October moved up a point additional after the call, but as there was little buying power in evidence and stocks were indifferent, cotton soon eased off gradually, July dropping to 10.90, and October to 11.04, off 3 to 4 points from the start and net unchanged compared with yesterday's close.

Cotton was rather quiet all morning. Prices improved some early in the second hour on fair buying and short covering, July rallying to 10.95, October to 11.10 and December to 11.20, or 4 to 5 points above yesterday's close. Later, the market eased off again on lack of sustained support, July declined to 10.86, October to 11.01 and December to 11.11, off 9 points from the early highs and 4 to 5 points under the previous close.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady, unchanged to 2 higher with trading quiet and no decided trend in evidence, operators awaiting new developments. May 10.75b; July 1.098; Oct. 11.12; Dec. 11.22; Jan. 11.28; March 11.38.

Business continued quiet after the call and prices fluctuated within a range of 5 or 6 points. Reports of another move toward securing silver legislation, and an opening advance in the metal failed to stimulate buying interest in cotton but there was enough demand to hold prices fairly steady during the first half hour with July selling around 10.98. Houses with Japanese connections bought and there was some buying here from Liverpool on the differences.

The market continued very quiet later in the morning with prices sensitive to comparatively small orders either way. Buying was less in evidence after the close of Liverpool, while some New Orleans local selling developed during the middle of the morning sending July off to 10.88 or about 12 points from the early high and 7 points net lower. This brought a little more buying and the market rallied partially, with July selling at 10.92 around midday. Active months generally were within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations. It is reported that a large percentage of the trade price fixing of late, has been for foreign account.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—The stock market showed signs of rejuvenation today although traders were still cautious and the activity restricted.

Commentators spoke of at least a technical rally of moderate proportions and buying in some of the groups was attributed partly to this hope. The short interest, however, was said to be relatively small and stimulation for recovery was being awaited from other sources.

Equities received no assistance from grains. The cereals were a trifle easy as further reports of showers in the drouth districts were received. Cotton and rubber were about even. Silver futures came back substantially, but the bar metal was only advanced 1-8 of a cent an ounce to 42 3-4 cents. Bonds were irregular, although U. S. government securities pushed up to new highs for the past year or longer. Dollar rates were fairly steady.

Shares of U. S. Smelting got up 3 points and American Smelting and Cerro de Pasco gained about 1 higher. Other gainers of fractions to a point or more included American Telephone, Western Union, U. S. Steel, Sears Roebuck, Columbian Carbon, Johns-Manville, Kelvinator, Chrysler, Auburn, General Motors, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Socony Vacuum, Allied Chemical, American Commercial Alcohol and National Distillers. Curtiss-Wright A and Sperry were active and lower.

A twenty-four-hour time system is to be tried in England.

Church May Expel Two Beer Sellers

DALLAS, May 3. (AP)—Two members of the First Baptist church of Oak Cliff today faced possible expulsion from the congregation because they sell 3.2 beer.

Unanimous action of the church body on a resolution strongly disapproving sale of 3.2 beer by its members was voted at a meeting. It threatened disciplinary action against those who failed to respond to warnings.

The resolution, passed on recommendation of the pastor, the Rev. Albert W. Luper, stated the "sale or use" of intoxicating liquors was against the church canon.

NO DEVELOPMENTS IN HOLDUP PROBE

Whether the trail of four gunmen who held up and robbed a Levelland bank last week had become cold or whether a seeming impasse in the investigation was the "quiet before the storm" was undetermined here today.

Peace officers here did not indicate whether active investigation was being continued. It had led through several South Plains counties and to one or more in eastern New Mexico.

Charles Mead won a second exoneration and release at Muleshoe Wednesday when officers failed to connect him with a car theft in Bailey county.

Listed as "C. D. Smith" on the jail record, Mead was kept in custody by police here Tuesday night. The record showed "Smith" was arrested at 8:30 p. m. on Main street.

John L. Croft and a special detective, working in the Levelland bank robbery case, brought Mead here from Levelland late Tuesday after witnesses there had cleared the man of complicity in the robbery. Night police denied the man was held here.

Sheriff Jim Cook of Muleshoe took custody of Mead, a former convict, here Wednesday morning and carried him to Muleshoe. Cook said he released Mead about 1 p. m. Mead voluntarily appeared at Levelland.

Two New Mexicans, arrested at Clovis, N. M., Tuesday, were carried to Levelland, viewed by robbery witnesses, and released Wednesday.

Hill Publishing company, praised the president, but hit the securities act, and urged that prospective reform measures have no part in a recovery program.

Strawn "Out Of Step"

Strawn said he had been unable to "get in step" with the present procession.

He said he preferred older ways than "adopting a daily portfolio of discordant experiments which seem impossible of being assembled into a new government machine."

"I trust," he said, "I shall not be regarded as unpatriotic when I express the opinion that confidence will not be restored until there is a cessation of experimental legislation. . . .

"Assuming that this legislation was conceived with the best of motives, there is no convincing evidence it is a part of general, well thought out and complete program.

"In other words, economically and financially we seem to be drifting about on an uncharted sea hoping that some unfavorable wind may spring up to carry us safely to port."

Oil Industry Ills Listed By Hunter

GILMER, May 3. (AP)—Tom Hunter, in a campaign speech here yesterday for the governorship, said there were three basic "ills" in the oil industry which affect all Texas citizens and are controllable within the state's jurisdiction.

He named holding company operation of subsidiaries, unrestricted pipe line charges and filling station or marketing system monopoly as these "ills."

He charged that as a result of alleged trust operations, Texas consumers of oil are being charged an excess of $80,000 daily.

Anti-trust legislation and an "anti-discrimination statute to prevent price manipulations aimed at independent competitors," were urged by the Wichita Falls candidate.

Hunter speaks tonight at McKinney and Friday night at Gainesville.

LAFFOON REFUSES MANSION GUARDS

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 3. (AP)—Adjt. Gen. H. H. Denhardt assigned state troopers to guard the executive mansion and the capitol because Gov. Ruby Laffoon has received threatening letters, but the governor won't have them around.

Overruling the adjutant-general, the chief executive said:

"There are no guards around the mansion and there won't be any."

The adjutant general was forced to yield. There were no guards at the mansion last night.

"If I get a few minutes notice before anyone starts shooting," the governor said, "I'll outrun any of them in spite of my game leg." Governor Laffoon is slightly lame.

One of the letters threatened the governor's life and a bombing of the mansion unless a pardon was issued within ten days for Neal Bowman, Ohio fugitive charged with two Kentucky murders who is confined in the state reformatory here.

Allred Ends Tour Of Lower Valley

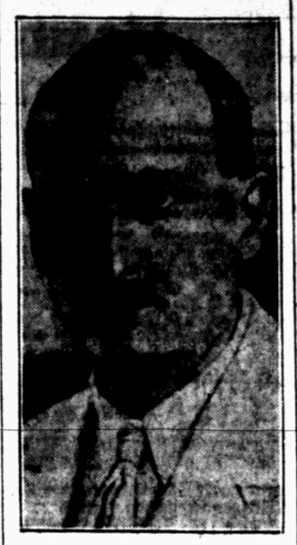

HARLINGEN, May 3. (AP)—James V. Allred ended his Rio Grande valley stumping last night with the pledge that if elected governor he would support enactment of a revised lobby law requiring state legislators to file affidavits naming their employers and interests represented.

The Texas attorney-general denounced "the corrupt practice of public utilities and major oil companies in subsidizing legislators."

"No one man can serve two masters," Allred said in directing attion to the refusal of the senate to pass a bill requiring members of list their affiliations. Reorganization of the state police system, placing the pardoning power solely with a pardon board to be appointed by the different departments of the state government were among other measures advocated.

The British dirigible R-34 was the first airship to cross the Atlantic in both directions.

GUNMAN'S HEART BIGGER THAN HIS DESIRE FOR LOOT

FORT WORTH, May 3. (AP)—This gunman's heart was bigger than his desire for "easy money."

A week ago a roughly dressed man, loitering at a street intersection, jumped on the running board of Mrs. Lena Pope's automobile as it stopped for a signal light.

He commanded her to hand over her money and "keep on driving."

Mrs. Pope—head of the Lena Pope home for indigent children—kept on driving because "I had to get home to feed the children." They passed the home, where scores of children playing in the yard recognized their "mother" and shouted and waved to her.

The man became interested and asked who she was. Mrs. Pope told him. The man ordered her to slow down, swung out of the car without his money and added:

"Well, you don't say anything about this and I won't."

Mrs. Pope didn't say anything about it—until yesterday. And then she revealed her experience at a luncheon.

Even as she spoke a local newspaper received a soiled letter, the address written in a scrawled hand. Its contents read:

"This is to let you know that all these bandits are not heartless. I'm sending a dollar for them kids at the home. I held up Mrs. Pope and took her for a ride, but when we drove past that home them children began waving and I realized she was the mother to them.

"If I can make a haul I'm going to buy the home for them babies. My boy may need it someday."

"Signed"

"One of them bandits."

G. O. P. TARIFF MEET CALLED

OPPOSITION CAMPAIGN TO BE DRAFTED AT FRIDAY CONFAB

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—A call for Republican senators to meet Friday to discuss the reciprocal tariff bill was issued by Senator McNary, of Oregon, the minority leader, after the senate finance committee had favorably reported the measure.

At the conference the Republicans, almost unanimous in their opposition to the proposal to give tariff treaty-making powers to the president, will draft their campaign of strategy.

Amendments Planned

McNary has said an attempt would be made to insert a number of amendments, one of which would prevent the lowering of duties on any agricultural product.

This would prevent, among other things, any reduction in the rate on sugar, a step planned by the administration to help Cuba.

Several farm organizations have joined industrialists in urging rejection of the tariff measure, or amendment to remove presidential authority to negotiate pacts without senate approval.

The finance committee approved the bill without extended discussions after a number of amendments were written in, one of which would provide for executive hearings before any alteration in tariff rates.

No Public Hearings

This was decided on after a conference of Senate Democrats Monday night. The hearings would not be public. The rules and regulations for them would be prepared by the president.

The authority conferred on the president would expire after three years, but some officials thought the language of the original measure would terminate the agreements themselves at the end of that period.

The time for senate consideration of the tariff measure was undetermined.

Democratic leaders say they have been assured the support of all but three or four party members and they expect support also from a few Republicans.

Europe's "Mystery Men"

They've grown rich because of their secret formula for unfreezing German credits, but Lieutenant Colonel Francis Norris (right), former financial adviser to the allied governments, and his partner Siegfred Wreszynski, denied there was any mystery when they arrived in New York "to help Americans holding German credits get ten per cent more" for them than is possible through other channels. Pictured above at their New York hotel, the financiers, called the mystery men of Europe, hope to do more than $200,000,000 business in the six months they plan to remain in America.

Lottie told herself, sitting shivering in the warmth. She had seen the letter Estelle had written Pablito. She had "found it" in his coat pocket and she remembered the gossip of years before that had hurt her so. After a while she went downstairs into the big room once more. Noyes had gone to bed and Pablito was reading.

"Put down your book," she ordered roughly. With a little lift she settled on the edge of the table where she sat swinging her feet and smiling down at him brightly.

"I had a letter from Beau this morning," she announced. Pablito was instantly alert.

"Is he all right?" he asked.

"Sure. Gettin' along grand. He's sellin' Florida real estate to South American millionaires."

Pablito smiled.

Lottie went on. "Pablito—"

"Yes, Lottie." Suddenly he felt a gentleness toward her that he had not known before.

"Pablito, I'm goin' to Beau. Him and me have worked together a long time, you know. He asked me in the letter I got today. I guess they ain't any use to pretend about it—you and me ain't suited."

He did not see her face then for he was looking down at his tightly gripped hands.

"I never meant to—have anything changed, Lottie," he made himself say.

"Well, kiss me goodby!" she invited with a splendid jauntiness. He kissed her with more love than he had ever before shown. For a moment she clung to him and he thought he heard her sob, but when she raised her face he saw that she was dry-eyed and smiling. Smiling rather fixedly, but smiling.

Noyes said next morning as Lottie was about to depart, "But, child, Beau is married!"

"Hell!" Lottie answered. "I never was so much for conventions!"

Until the bend of the road took them from sight she looked back at Pablito and Noyes. Then she stared ahead, seeing nothing but Pablito. She was weeping silently and without troubling to wipe the tears form her cheeks. "If he knowed," she thought, "he'd know I do love him!"

"Stop at La Merced," she told the driver, and in the church she knelt. "Well, God, it's all over," she said in her conversational prayer. "Make her make him happy and it'll be all right with me—"

Out in the sunshine again Lottie said, "The docks." Her tears dried on her cheeks as she rode in the heat of the day. She felt rested and yet dulled and heavy. "Anyhow," she thought, "I don't have to hope no more and I guess it was the thing to do—"

Sometimes, perhaps, the master weaver pauses to look at the tapestry that is made of lives; to pull a thread from the pattern that makes a color discord, to tie two other threads and then go on with the weaving. And sometimes there is a knot in the threads made of lives and a little pause and a little suspense while they are being untangled.

Wife Was Fat

No Longer Attractive

LOST HUSBAND'S LOVE

The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper in connection with a divorce trial. "She was a beautiful woman," one witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more."

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do.

Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for 30 days. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

Kruschen Salts are a blend of 6 mineral salts most helpful to body health. Best of all, a bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last you for 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Ask Mark Halsey Drug Store or any druggiest for a bottle and start to lose fat today.

It's the SAFE way to reduce but be sure you get Kruschen—your health comes first and remember this if you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.—Adv.

STORM OF DEBATE BREAKS OUT OVER SELECTION OF PULITZER PRIZE PLAY

NEW YORK, May 3. (AP)—A storm of debate broke in Broadway theatrical circles today over published reports that the drama jury had recommended Maxwell Anderson's "Mary of Scotland" as the 1933 Pulitzer prize play, but that the advisory board of the Columbia university school of journalism disagreed and chose Sidney Kingsley's "Men in White."

At Columbia university, it was pointed out that the awards would not be made public until the trustees appropriate the funds next Monday for the monetary prizes which accompany the Pulitzer awards.

Up To Advisory Board

The advisory board alone, under the provisions established by the late Joseph Pulitzer, publisher, who created the Pulitzer prizes and scholarships, has the authority to determine the winners. An official announcement is set for Tuesday morning papers.

Caroline Miller's "Lamb in his Bosom" was reported by the New York Post and the World Telegram to have been selected by the advisory board as the best novel by an American after the jury on letters had recommended another book.

The World Telegram quoted a statement from the university, as follows:

Drama Jury Explains

"Secretary Frank D. Fachenthaler wishes to make it known," at the request of the drama jury, composed of Mr. Walter Prichard Eaton, Mr. Clayton Hamilton and Mr. Austin Strong, that it always has been understood they were retained in an advisory capacity only and they do not question the right of the advisory board of the school of journalism to exercise its own judgment in making the award.

"But in justice to themselves, the three jurors desired the public to know that, in their report to the committee, they voted unanimously for 'Mary of Scotland,' by Maxwell Anderson."

Hamilton was quoted by both papers as calling the board's action "outrageous."

EX-CONVICT SAYS BONNIE PARKER HAS LIMP, RESULTING FROM BULLET WOUND

PALESTINE, May 3 (AP)—Bonnie Parker has a limp, resulting from a bullet in her knee, as an unpleasant souvenir of her long association with Clyde Barrow.

That information was obtained in the written statement made to District Attorney Ben Greenwood of Palestine, by James Mullen, former convict, who said that Barrow and the Parker woman helped him in the delivery of Raymond Hamilton, recently recaptured, from the Eastham prison farm.

Greenwood quoted Mullen as saying that Barrow had been shot through both legs but had recovered. The former convict expressed the opinion that the wounds of both Barrow and his "moll" were received in a skirmish with officers under Sheriff Smoot Schmid of Dallas when the sheriff set a trap for them.

Mullen told Greenwood that Barrow had never slept with his clothes off since his brother, Buck, was killed by officers near Dexter, Iowa, more than a year ago. Never do both Barrow and his woman companion sleep at the same time, and they always are within reach of high-powered guns, Mullen said. He added that they live in an automobile, one keeping guard while the other sleeps.

The Geneva convention of the International Red Cross adopted the Red Cross emblem in 1864.

Slash In National Guardsmen Ordered

LAMAR, Mo., May 3. (AP)—A reduction in the force of national guardsmen patrolling the Missouri border near here against a threatened march of idle southeastern Kansas deep shaft coal miners on operating strip pit mines was ordered yesterday by Adj. Gen. Harold W. Brown.

Quiet prevailed and strip pit shovels continued at work without interference in Kansas and Missouri, while operators and union representatives met in Kansas City in an effort to settle their controversy.

Meanwhile, Representative Harold McGugin (R- Kas) urged Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, to seek an immediate adjustment of the dispute so that 2,200 destitute miners in the Pittsburg, Kas., area may return to work.

CLAIM OLDEST PEARL
