Game To Get Under Way At 8 At Tulia Football Field

Olton's Mustangs will kick off the new football season this Friday night. The first game finds the Mustangs on the road as they travel to Tulia for the opener.

Game time is 8 p. m. The Tulia football field is located in the East part of town.

Head Coach at Tulia is Bill Bryant. Bryant is starting his second year at the helm of the Tulia Hornets. The Hornets dropped their opener last year to Olton 45 to 12. From there they lost nine more to go winless for the year.

Tulia is said to have had an excellent off-season program this year. They have looked real good in their scrimmages and are a quick, hard hitting team.

Don Payne is quarterbacking the Hornets. They will probably run out of a T formation offense. The line is about the same size as last year's only a lot quicker.

Not very much information is available about the team at this time since this is the first game of the year. But the word from Tulia is that the Hornets have a lot of scores to settle from last year and that they are going to have a very different season than last year.

In the Mustang camp this week things are still looking good. All the boys are looking real sharp and are ready for this week's game.

The Mustangs came through last week's scrimmage at Ralls in good shape. Coach Kinnison said that he was very pleased with the scrimmage. He added that everyone had worked real hard and did real good this past week.

Good news in the Mustang camp this week was that Randy McCoy will be back with the bunch real soon. McCoy has been out with an injury about two weeks. Max Moss will also be able to get back into the middle of things a little later. His injured arm is just about healed.

Probable offensive lineup for Fridays game will be Steve Stockdale, Marlos May, Keith Workman, DonDeBerry, Jimmy McCurry, Kurt Gregory, Steve Lewis, Robert Ahrens, Luis Jimenez, Randy McCoy and Tim Givens.

Defensive probables are Marlos May, Jimmy McCurry, Don DeBerry, Gale Long, Kurt Gregory, Luis Jimenez, Robert Ahrens, Kenny Spain, Favian Minjarez, Tim Givens and Colin Johnson.

Green Thumb Crew Due To Begin Work In County

Green Thumb is coming to Lamb County!

The Green Thumb State Office in Waco today announced that a Green Thumb Crew will be working in Lamb County beginning Tuesday, Sept. 7.

Green Thumb Crews from adjoining counties will be working in Lamb County on a rotating basis for the present, according to Mrs. C. L. Abernathy of Plainview, Regional Supervisor for Green Thumb.

Green Thumb is sponsored by the Texas Farmers Union in a twofold effort to revitalize rural areas and provide a decent living for retired rural citizens.

One of the most successful projects to aid low income citizens, the program spends over eighty-five percent of its budget in wages to the work participants.

To qualify for the program an individual must be over 55 years of age, live under a minimum income level established by the Department of Labor, and be physically able to work.

The average age of Green Thumb workers in Texas is 66 years. Most men come from rural backgrounds and have little or no retirement or social security income.

Green Thumb works for any local, state, or federal governmental unit as well as non-profit organizations which provide a service to the public.

For further information on the Green Thumb Program contact your County Judge, or Green Thumb, Inc., 800 Lake Air Drive, Waco, Texas 76710.

FM Road 168 Due Repairs

The Texas Highway Commission has approved the expenditure of $551,000 for highway Farm to Market Road improvement in Lamb County during 1972.

District Engineer Oscar L. Crain of Lubbock said that a total of 8.7 miles in Lamb County will be involved in the annual program.

Approved is reconstruction, grading, base and surfacing FM 168 from Castro County line south to Olton. Work will be under the supervision of Rhea E. Bradley, supervising resident engineer of Littlefield.

The work is part of the Highway commission's combined Farm to Market Road improvement and State Highway Safety and Betterment program for 1972.

Social Security Benefits Available For Students

More than 500,000 students are presently receiving benefits from social security each month under the child-student provisions of the law, John G. Hutton, district manager of the Lubbock office, reported.

Children, between the ages of 18 and 22 who are unmarried and full-time students in an accredited school, are entitled to these student benefits on the accounts of their insured parents, he explained.

Hutton stated that one out of every 12 students attending school is receiving assistance toward the advancement of his education as a result of these benefits. Students attending professional and business schools, as well as educational institutions, may qualify for these benefits.

Hutton said that many children eligible for student benefits, as well as routine children benefits (under age 18), may not be getting them because of a failure to understand amendments which were enacted in 1967.

Prior to February 1968, a child could qualify for benefits on his mother's account only if the mother was currently insured (work six quarters in the 13-quarter period prior to her death) or she was contributing more than one-half of the child's support when she died. The amendments allow a child to qualify on his mother's account if she was fully insured at the time of her death, the same provisions under which the child may qualify on his father's account.

Hutton emphasized that any student eligible for benefits on his mother's account and presently not receiving them should contact the nearest social security office by phone or in person to file the necessary application as soon as possible.

Care Of Teeth

"Pedodontics" is a big word with a simple meaning -- the care and treatment of children's teeth. A major part of pedodontics is preventive dentistry, and preventive dentistry for the very young is the one great hope for a realistic solution to our dental woes.

If a child's teeth are properly cared for up to age 15, a strong foundation has been laid for minimizing dental troubles in later years.

At about 6 months of age the four front teeth--two upper and two lower--begin to peek out. These front teeth are incisors, the cutting teeth. By age 7 to 11 months, four more teeth, upper and lower, start to come in. These are the lateral incisors at either side of the central teeth.

Then Mother Nature wisely skips a few spaces in order to properly shape the jaw. In 12 to 16 months, the back teeth or molars, come in. Then the cuspids show to fill in the space between. At about 24 months, the second molars come in.

Up to this point all teeth which have erupted are primary teeth, and although temporary they are vital. They help shape the face, help the youngster learn to speak distinctly, and help him nutritionally.

While all this has been going on, the permanent teeth are slowly developing in the jaw bone so they can come forth at the proper time.

The first permanent teeth to erupt are molars--sometimes called "six-year" molars simply because they emerge at about age 6. Because they do not replace the first teeth but come in just behind them, these molars tend to confuse parents who think they are also temporary teeth.

This error can lead to unfortunate consequences. Since the "six-year" molars are permanent teeth, they will not be replaced if lost.

Family dentists strongly emphasize the importance of watching for the six-year molars. They are important to the structure of the mouth. The manner in which they interlock with their opposite teeth will determine the eventual shape of the jaw, facial contour and regularity of alignment of other teeth.

Because of their importance, these first permanent teeth are often referred to as the "keystone of the dental arch."

The strength or weakness of adult dental health -- barring loss of teeth through accidents -- can invariably be traced to habits of preventive dentistry learned or left unlearned in childhood. And when it comes to preventive dentistry, the pedodontist is a child's best friend.

Judge Sides Named Chairman Food & Fiber Abundance Week

Lamb County Judge G. T. Sides has been named chairman of the local Texas Food and Fiber Abundance Week observance which will be Nov. 15-21, the week before Thanksgiving, according to C. G. Scruggs, Dallas, vice president and editor of The Progressive Farmer magazine and chairman of the board of the statewide council promoting the special event.

Judge Sides is expected to call on agricultural and business leaders in the county to work as a committee in promoting appreciation for the abundance of food and fiber from the state's farm and ranches.

Texas Governor Preston Smith and John C. White, state commissioner of agriculture, are honorary chairmen for the statewide observance. Leon Slaughter, Abilene, projects director for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is coordinator for the Texas Food and Fiber Abundance Council, a non-profit organization chartered in May, 1971, "to sponsor public relations programs designed to gain consumer appreciation for the abundance, quality and value of food and fiber."

In addition to Slaughter and Scruggs, the other charter directors of the council include Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture, Texas A&M University; Dr. Wayland Bennett, vice president for academic affairs, Texas Tech University; and Don Blacketer, Honey Grove farmer. The latter three serve as vice chairmen. James L. (Curly) Hays, Abilene, West Texas Utilities Co., is treasurer of the Council.

A large number of professional people in agriculture-related businesses, organizations, state and federal agencies, news media, and educational institutions working in the Council.

The first organizational meetings of the Council were held in February in Fort Worth and Austin. Task force committees met in April in Austin, and the finance committee held its first meeting June 29 in Houston. Money to finance news releases, films for television and tapes for radio will come from voluntary contributions.

In the letter naming Judge G. T. Sides as chairman of the county Food and Fiber observance, Scruggs pointed out that agriculture is today--and has been for many years--the number one industry in the State of Texas.

"In this day and age of confusion and confrontation, drugs, pollution, etc., all of us tend to forget that through the unparalleled efficiency of agriculture, America is the best-fed--and at the least cost--of any nation in the world,"

Scruggs said.

The council state chairman said that even though a large part of Texas' population is now found in urban areas, the food and fiber industry of Texas figures strongly in the daily economic life of every Texan.

"Over and above that," Scruggs added, "the bountiful array of food and natural fibers available to all is a blessing which no other nation enjoys."

To call attention to these facts, the week just before Thanksgiving -- Nov. 15-21--has been designated as "Texas Food and Fiber Abundance Week." County judges all across Texas are being asked to give leadership to the effort on the county level.

News media are being asked to contribute free time and space for publicizing the statewide celebration.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Good Witches?

When I was a boy, if anyone had said that he believed in witches people would have laughed at him. Witches were regarded as mythical old hags who rode through the sky on brooms at Hallowe'en time. Nobody believed in witches. We knew that people in bygone days had had some queer notions that there were actually such creatures, with supernatural power received from below, but that was all something that we, in our enlightened age, had outgrown. It was just preposterous.

But recently, on three very popular television shows which are seen nationally, I saw and heard women who very clearly and unequivocally said that they were witches.

Black and White

Articles on witchcraft have been appearing in major magazines such as Time, Life, and Look. Look magazine, dated August 24, this year, contains an article which says in a headline, "Witches are surfacing everywhere, practicing rituals once punishable by death."

There has been an effort to popularize the concept that witchcraft is divided into two sections -- black and white. Black witchcraft is supposed to be evil, while white witchcraft is said to be good.

One of the best-known witches now is Louise Huebner, of whom it has been said that she casts "only good spells." But in her book, "Power through Witchcraft," she tells about her "sexual seduction spell." And she has an LP record called, "Seduction through Witchcraft." This is good?

A young man in Vineland, N.J., studied witchcraft and -- it is reported -- came to the conclusion that he knew how to become a "captain of devils." Persuading two of his young friends to assist him, he went with them to a pond in a secluded area. After conducting a ritual service to Satan, he asked his friends to bind his hands and feet with adhesive tape and push him into the pond. They did, according to the report, and he sank out of sight. His body was recovered three days later.

The young man, his friends said, believed that he would return to earth as a "captain of devils" if killed in this way.

Truth

What is the truth? Is witchcraft real? Are there witches who actually have occult power? If this power exists, where does it come from?

The Bible has never indicated that witches were non-existent. Witchcraft is mentioned in the Scriptures as of evil origin and producing evil effects.

The people of Israel were cautioned by Moses, "Thou shalt not learn to do after the abominations of those nations. There shall not be found among you any one . . . that useth divination . . . or an enchanter, or a witch . . . for all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord."

God's command was "Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live."

The Bible does not cast doubt on the reality of the evil occult power of genuine witches.

There may, of course, be fakes among witches, who claim to possess powers that they do not have. So it is possible that there are some who call themselves witches who do not really have any extraordinary power to influence people or events.

But we should not be misled. There is no such person as a good witch.

Cloud Seeding Seminar Set For Oklahoma City

Texas municipal and agricultural groups interested in the possibilities of terminating drought by cloud seeding have been invited to attend a Southern Great Plains Weather Modification conference to be held in Oklahoma City Oct. 6.

Governor Hall has invited the governors of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Kansas to participate, along with a number of other leaders known to be interested in weather modification. The sessions will be open to the public, beginning at 9 a. m. Oct. 6 in the Hall of Mirrors in Oklahoma City's downtown Civic Center.

"Research clearly demonstrates that cloud seeding is an answer to ongoing drought," Governor Hall said. "In addition, the mechanics of weather modification must be available to head off dry cycles and to increase the general rainfall in arid areas."

Experimental cloud seeding projects have been conducted in Texas, Oklahoma and several other states, but the Oklahoma committee has expressed belief that large scale operations are needed. Instead of limited programs using airplanes, the committee has recommended a continuing project covering semi-arid sections of several states, utilizing lower-cost ground-based silver iodide generators.

A meeting of agricultural and municipal leaders held in Dallas several weeks ago revealed considerable interest among Texas groups in wider application of available knowledge in weather modification.

Breakfast Provides Body With 'Re-Fueling' Needs

A hearty, well-balanced breakfast will keep you alert and ready for work all morning, reports Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension marketing specialist.

After a long night's sleep, the body needs a chance to re-fuel from dinner the night before. Breakfast provides this refueling process, Mrs. Clyatt explains, and enables you to turn out more work in the late morning hours. Also, you won't tire as easily and your reactions will be quicker.

must be a basic breakfast, the specialist points out—one that provides from one-fourth to one-third of the day's nutrient requirements. Planning a nutritious breakfast can be easy if you follow a basic pattern, such as the one developed by food nutritionists. This pattern consists of fruit, cereal with milk and/or egg, bread and butter, and milk. The quantity of each can be adapted to the size and activity of the individual, but the types of foods needed are the same for all.

If breakfast menus at your house have fallen into a rut, Mrs. Clyatt suggests checking the pattern. Think of all the juices, fresh fruits and melons, ready-to-eat cereals and breads on the market; and how many different ways an egg can be prepared. Then surprise the family with a hearty morning meal that will spark them with new energy.

South Plains Fair To Feature Wildlife

An educational wildlife exhibit, featuring many of the animals, birds, snakes and fish found throughout Texas, will be one of the free attractions scheduled for the 54th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here Sept. 27-Oct. 2.

The exhibit is a feature of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Tom Abbott, 40, of Austin, supervises the popular display and Jack Acree, 42, of San Marcos is his assistant. Both will be here to maintain the exhibit.

The first continuing mobile show sponsored by the department, it has been in operation for more than two decades, traveling to fairs, sports shows and other events. The exhibit attracts more than a quarter million persons each year.

It spotlights live wildlife specimens representative of the various geographical sections of the state and furnishes accompanying educational data.

Among the animals due here are the ringtail, chachalaca (tree-nesting game bird of the southern brushlands and lower Rio Grande Valley), the porcupine, puma, badger, squirrels, raccoons, armadillo, foxes, a bobcat and others.

In addition, the roadrunner (a member of the cuckoo family), American bald eagle, ducks, geese, quail, dove and other various species of wild birds will be shown. Rough fish, including largemouth and spotted drum bass, carp, buffalo, drum, suckers, chad and gars, are to be shown.

Snakes, especially the poisonous ones, usually attract the most attention of the children, and they won't be forgotten at the fair either. Rattlesnakes, cottonmouths, copperheads and coral snakes will be on display.

This exhibit will be in addition to the popular Children's Barnyard, which once again will feature a host of animals and their young. Persons interested in loaning their animals to the fair for this display are urged to contact officials at 763-2833 as soon as possible.

The fair this year is returning Tennessee Ernie Ford for its three opening dates. The Celebration, a singing and dancing group, and comedian Glen Ash will round out the O'Pea Picker's show.

On Thursday, an all-star Mexican variety show headlined by singer Lucha Villa and recording star Jose Alfredo Jimenez, plus the Guadalajaras, a mariachi group, will take over the spotlight.

Country and western singer Merle Haggard, his wife, Bonnie Owens and The Strangers will close out the weeklong fair engagement Friday and Saturday.

Show will be presented at 5:30 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. daily. Tickets are priced at $2.50, $3.50 and $4.50. All seats are reserved. Tickets purchased prior to the fair opening will be accompanied by free gate admission passes.

Tickets may be obtained at Fair Park Coliseum box office from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday or at Luskey's Western Wear, Montgomery-Ward's, Sear's (downtown) and TG&Y Continental.

Another free attraction—the Sky Kings, daredevils of the 100-foot-long sway poles—will be presented daily through the fair.

School sure seems to be going slow. Maybe after the football games start it will seem to go faster. Our first pep rally is Friday afternoon. Let's give the boys all the backing we can. The cheerleaders have done two things in getting ready for the game this weekend. First they put up signs in the hall and second they attempted to paint the streets. Better luck next time girls—the signs in the hall sure look nice.

Last Friday night the Mighty Mustangs played in a scrimmage at Ralls. They came back with an over-powering victory. Special attention goes to Robert Ahrens who intercepted two passes and ran them back to make more scores on the score board.

Class officers were chosen this week with the outcome standing as follows:

COMMENTS FOR THIS WEEK:

Rex - I hear you wanted mufflers for breakfast.

Kelby - Rashes again?

Brenda - How did Saturday night go?

Howard - We like your new car.

Judy and Kay - What did you find in the school parking lot?

Shauna - Do you always fall

Baptist Association Sets Mission-Stewardship Meet

An added thrust to the new bold mission emphasis launched by Texas Baptists at their annual Convention last fall will be felt locally when the churches of the Staked Plains Baptist Association come together on the night of Sept. 14 for their Mission-Stewardship Conference.

The conference will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Seth Ward Baptist Church. The conference, one of more than 100 similar meetings being held across Texas, will feature leaders from the Missions and Stewardship Divisions of the 1.8 - million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas at its annual meeting last fall. Under the theme, "Missions Our Mission," the Convention called on its 4,400 churches to become personally committed through an enlarged Cooperative Program support and direct missions involvement.

The meeting will include an hour-long general session and individual stewardship and mission sessions. Pastors, deacons, church stewardship chairmen and chairmen of church missions committees will attend both sessions.

"The meeting is designed to help churches catch a vision of missions/stewardship possibilities locally and around the world. It could well be the most significant meeting of the year," said Dr. Cecil Ray, director of the BGCT Stewardship Division.

Dr. Ray said the conference will serve to launch locally the state-wide missions thrust projected by the 1.8-million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas at its annual meeting last fall. Under the theme, "Missions Our Mission," the Convention called on its 4,400 churches to become personally committed through an enlarged Cooperative Program support and direct missions involvement.

"In the mission conference," said Dr. Ray "new ways will be suggested for churches to become involved in missions. They are partnership, sponsorship and support. In the stewardship conference, materials and activities will be discussed which are designed to help make the dreams of mission involvement come true."

Under a new Cooperative Program mission support strategy called Channels of Compassion, Texas Baptists are dedicated to three immediate priorities," said Charles Lee Williamson, director of the BGCT Missions Division.

The priorities for 1971, said Williamson, are churches' in crises, metropolitan centers and youth. To help the churches carry out the work in these areas, the Convention voted more than $10 million of a record 1971 Cooperative Program budget exceeding $15 million.

COMMERCIAL ENERGY

Fred L. Hartley, president and chief executive officer of the Union Oil Company of California comments that America has long been the world's leader in the abundant use of large quantities of energy. Americans have, in fact, craved a highly material and comfort-oriented standard of living. With six percent of the world's population, our country consumes more than 33 percent of the world's commercial energy. This nation's total energy use, expressed in our common terms of crude oil, now exceeds the equivalent of 33 million barrels of oil everyday.

FINANCIAL DISASTER

"More and more Americans are heading for personal financial disaster," observes the Monongahela Power Company, "despite the fact that national income is at an all-time high. Approximately two of every three U. S. families are in debt, and last year, there were more personal bankruptcies, almost 200,000, than at anytime in our history. What has helped bring about this situation is the increasing ease with which one can obtain credit, installment buying, credit cards, bank loans. This year the total personal indebtedness of Americans is expected to reach almost $98 billion, about twice as much as it was a decade ago and ten times the personal indebtedness in 1945."

"Mobile homes are like popcorn in a whirlwind when a major storm such as a tornado, windstorm or hurricane strikes unless they are properly tied down," Tom B. Lee, general manager of the Texas Insurance Advisory Association (TIAA) said today in advising the owners of mobile homes to anchor their dwelling securely and take proper precautions prior to the storms.

Lee pointed to the 1970 census which shows a great and growing expansion in the purchase of mobile homes. He also stressed that when a storm such as occurred in both hurricane Celia and the Lubbock tornado hits a trailer court or park where the tie-down procedures have been less than adequate the effect is one of utter destruction.

"In hurricane Celia, which devastated Corpus Christi last year," Lee said, "eighty-five per cent of the estimated 7,000 to 9,000 mobile homes were damaged; half were total losses. The dollar loss was estimated at nearly $16 million."

Lee urged that all trailers be securely anchored by means of high strength cable which can be attached at a nominal cost without detriment to the appearance of the mobile home. He also indicated that, in addition to the cables, mobile homes can be anchored by a clamp on the I-beam under the unit which can be sunk into concrete trailer court foundation. "This kind of protection would be ideally provided by the trailer court owners and builders," Lee said, "if it is done while the concrete is being poured the cost is negligible."

Stressing the need for such undertakings on a major scale as soon as possible, Lee noted that some seven million Americans live in more than three million mobile homes and that an estimated 400,000 new units will be added this year. It is estimated that 95 per cent of today's new dwelling units constructed for less than $15,000 are mobile homes.

Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of the A&M College of Agriculture and acting director of the Experiment Station, said the grain sorghum story, as outlined in the publication, is a good example of what a land-grant university can do for an agricultural commodity.

He said the report is especially significant in view of the more than $300 million in cash receipts which Texas-grown grain sorghum has provided for the past four years. Receipts totaled more than $350 million in 1970.

About one in every $8 in cash receipts from all commodities marketed by Texas farmers has been from grain sorghum.

In 1970, 5.9 million acres of the crop were grown in the state with a yield of more than 330 million bushels, exceeding 40 percent of the entire U. S. crop.

Kunkel said a marked effect of the grain supply has been the growth of the livestock feeding industry. There were 3,138 million cattle finished and marketed from Texas feedlots last year. The state is now third in the nation in numbers of cattle on feed.

"Texas A&M University through its research and extension work with grain sorghum for more than 50 years, helped lay the foundation for this success," the dean said.

The publication's contents cover cultural practices, diseases and insects, chemical treatment residues, breeding seed production, handling, various uses of the grain, economics, and extension education in grain sorghum.

"Grain Sorghum Research in Texas--1970" is available from the Department of Agricultural Communications, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, 77843.

For Beauty Under The Sun - If the summer sun usually finds you basking under its rays every spare moment, why not do two things at once? Sunbathing is the perfect time for prettifying-up in other ways, too.

For instance, wash your hair with your special shampoo, conditioner or creme rinse before you hit your favorite chaise longue. If your hair is private and you still need rollers or clips, go ahead and put them in. But one word of caution: clips may get hot and burn your skin; scotch tape can leave funny sun tattoos.

So as soon as your hair is almost sundry, take it down. If you're lazing on a public beach, take along your setting lotion or gel right in your beach bag, and paste pretty flowers over your few needed clips. Brush or comb, and when all is dry, toss on a chic straw hat for protection.

Next, a manicure. While you're filing, then waiting for your cuticle cream to work, your back can be turning a lovely golden brown. Dunk hands in the water, dry on your beach towel, and you're ready for a clear base coat. But take a break in the shade for this and the rest of your polishing. Sun can thicken and cause it to dry unevenly on your nails, and sand can be ruinous to your manicure.

Regardless of your skin type, be lavish with suntan lotion or oil for moisturizing, and now you've given yourself a pretty tan and a beauty treatment all in one day!
